EXTINGUISHING THE FLAMES CONSUMING a vehicle used during a "live fire demonstration" in front of the Dexter Fire Hall was just one of the varied activities planned Saturday afternoon, Oct. 14, as the Dexter Area

Fire Department played host at an Open House to which everyone in the community was invited. Lt. Loren Yates, center, oversees the efforts of firefighters Tim Raymor and Tom Claffey.

School Board Considers Changing Method of Recognizing Honor Grads

Dexter school board considered doing away with the honors of salutatorian and valedictorian, starting in 1992, after receiving a recommendation to do so from the High School Parent Advisory committee via principal David Messner.

The committee's recommendation included designating students with a 3.5 or better as graduating with honors; recognizing those between 3.75 and 3.899 with two asterisks on the graduation program; those with a 3.9, with three asterisks.

After reaching no consensus, the board moved to turn the issue back to the advisory committee for further analysis.

The committee also recommended maintaining the academic letter program, and having only one student speaker at graduation, who would be chosen by a student committee with the principal maintaining the power to veto the students' selection.

Board member Reuel Long argued for retaining the honors of salutatorian and valedictorian, saying that implementing the asterisk system was tantamount to tokenism. "It should be either one way or the other. Either we should honor everyone above a 3.5 or nothing. With the asterisks, we're back to the same old thing."

Superintendent John Hansen said he favored the new system because it would allow more students to be recognized for their achievements.

"I'm in favor of anything that gets us out of comparing kids based on the third decimal out (that determines their grade point average)," he said, meaning that hairline differences which determine who will be salutatorian or valedictorian are often fatuous.

The board also received a favorable report from Deloitte, Haskins & Sells, the auditing firm who completed an audit of Dexter schools at the end of their fiscal year, June 30. No "weaknesses in the financial systems internal controls or illegal acts were noted," said a firm spokesman. The firm made suggestions on how to improve financial operations on several minor "administrative and operational matters."

The board also moved to increase the salary range of the building and grounds supervisor from $18-$24,000 to $23-$29,812. The salary will not be immediately raised for the new building and grounds supervisor, Mike Jaroszyk. It was noted that day maintenance workers in the district earn $9.95 per hour, about $20,000 per year.

"It will be to our benefit in the future to not just be a training ground. ... It pays to get it done right (versus) saving a few thousand dollars," said board member Richard Lundy.

The board also received Paul Bishop's resignation from the Athletic Advisory Committee. They also voted to release Mrs. Mary McGuire, high school teacher of the emotionally impaired, from her contract as of Nov. 4 to take a job in Ann Arbor.

County Will Inspect Industrial Park Run-Off

Washtenaw county building department will do an inspection of the Dexter Industrial Park retention pond on Oct. 21 in response to complaints by residents of Baker Heights subdivision in Scio township that run-off from the 127 acres is flooding their property.

County Building Inspector Tom Miller said that a letter was sent to the village on Oct. 6, telling them that the site must comply with the soil permit specific to the site by Oct. 21. The penalty for not making the necessary corrections will be the shut down of industrial park construction, Miller said.

Baker Heights residents complained at the village council meeting of Oct. 10 that muddy water from the industrial park retention pond was accumulating for long periods of time in the swales (low ditches) on their property. The water is leaving slick deposits of clay silt, said resident Steve Bucher at the village meeting.

Miller said that it is within DNR regulations to divert the water through the residents' swales. What is not permitted by the DNR is the transmission of silt into homeowners' drainage systems.

"We'll make sure this is corrected. It's getting out of hand in terms of the number of calls I'm getting on it," Miller said.

The county drain commissioner's office said that they had also received a number of complaints about the flooding. But the county has jurisdiction over county drains only, and the system in question is in Scio township, the industrial park in Dexter. The office informed querying citizens about the petitioning process necessary to become a county drain.

One of the methods that the village will use to eliminate the silt leak is to replace the plastic mesh filter at the mouth of the retention pond. They will also mulch, fertilize and seed the denuded, eroding grounds, said village engineer Alan McComb. Vegetation growing on the site will help prevent silt from washing into the retention pond.

Fire Dept. Open House Saturday Afternoon

Dexter Area Fire Department conducted a smoke investigation at a residence in the 8000-block of Huron St. at 11:45 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 15, assistant chief Dennis Betz reported.

A burning complaint took firefighters to the 8000-block of Fifth St. at 5:10 p.m. the previous day.

At 4:01 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 14, Dexter Fire Rescue was dispatched to a home in the 7700-block of Wheeler Dr., off Webster Church Rd., north of North Territorial, where a medical emergency was reported.

Betz explained a male patient at the location was transported by Huron Valley Ambulance (HVA) to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Firefighters answered a rescue run call to the 7700-block of Fourth St. at 5:14 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Just minutes past midnight, Monday, Oct. 12, Dexter Fire Rescue workers were called to the 8300-block of Island Lake Rd. where a male patient reporting severe abdominal pains was transported to University of Michigan Hospital by HVA.

Firefighters assisted in the 3600-block of Cushing Ct., where a male patient was apparently suffering a diabetic reaction at 10:13 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 13.

The man was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital by HVA.

Earlier that date, firemen made a rescue run to the 7700-block of Ann Arbor St. at 12:37 p.m., when a female patient reported breathing difficulties.

She was transported by HVA to Chelsea Community Hospital.

After answering a report of "wires down" in the 8300-block of W. Huron River Dr. during the strong winds, Monday, Oct. 10, firefighters confirmed the wires were "hot," and stood by at the location until Detroit Edison Co. repair crews arrived.

An automobile collision involving two injured patients transported by Huron Valley Ambulance to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital occurred about 3:48 p.m. Monday, Oct. 10, on Scio Church Rd. near Parker Rd.

Saturday, Oct. 8, firefighters received an outdoor burning complaint and hurried to the 7900-block of Ann Arbor St. to investigate the situation.

Responding to a mutual-aid request from the Scio Charter Township Fire Department, firefighters assisted at the accident scene of a car-tree collision, which resulted in a Scio township fatality, brought Dexter Area Fire Department to Huron River Dr., not far from Zeeb Rd.

Wastewater Plant Effluent To Be Tested

Not many people would like to sample the effluent at the Dexter wastewater treatment plant. But the analysis that Ann Arbor engineering firm McNamee, Porter & Seeley will conduct during the last two weeks of October, in which hourly samples will be drawn, is necessary to get the plant back into compliance with DNR standards.

Superintendent of Public Utilities, Tom Desmond, said that the effluent will be tested for metals such as zinc, copper, cadmium, chromium and nickel, and substances including phosphorous and cyanide.

The theory is that metal plating firms, namely Alpha Metal Finishing Co. and Stahl Industries, have been discharging waste which kills off the biological agents on the rotating discs that treat the waste in the plant.

McNamee, Porter & Seeley will conduct those tests that the treatment plant staff is unable to perform.

Once fault is definitely and properly assigned to the industries, the village will take steps to make sure the problem doesn't recur. Most likely, the industries will be required to pre-treat their waste, Desmond said. As a last resort, they may be fined. They will also be billed for the cost of the McNamee, Porter & Seeley analysis. The village council has given authorization for up to $5,000 to be spent on the analysis.

Marching Band Earns Unanimous Excellent Rating

The Dexter High school "Dreadnaught" marching band received excellent ratings from all three judges in the District Marching Band Festival held in Southgate on Monday, Oct. 10.

This is the first time that the Marching Band has received First Division ratings from all judges, marking the highest achievement in the history of the band.

FIREFIGHTER DEREK WISELEY monitors the gauges on the fire truck during the "live fire demonstration" at the Dexter Fire Hall, Saturday, Oct. 15, when the Dexter Area Fire Department held Open House, inviting the community to a film showing of "Fire Power" prepared by the National Fire Protection Association, hands-on demonstrations of fire extinguishers, and a chance to observe firefighters use the "Jaws of Life" in a rescue effort, in addition to a chance to look over and try on fire equipment. Refreshments were served as an added attraction, not that any was needed to draw a large crowd of onlookers. The department had completed a vigorous station-cleaning prior to its observance of Fire Prevention Week.

PEACE PARK PROPOSED: People coming into the village of Dexter will be greeted with "peace" when the park around the Dexter water tower is renamed "Peace Park," planted with flowers and installed with a peace pole bearing the message "May Peace Prevail" in four different languages. All this is scheduled to take place sometime in 1990, according to the Dexter peace group, People For Peace, who drafted the idea in a proposal that the village will review on Oct. 24.

'Peace Park' Proposal Going to Village Council for Consideration

The area around the old Dexter water tower could soon find itself with a new name, Peace Park.

Dexter Parks and Recreation Commission will submit a recommendation to the village council on Oct. 24, drafted by the Dexter peace group, People for Peace, to rename the park. They will also recommend planting a 4' by 4' redwood peace pole inscribed with the words "May Peace Prevail" in four different languages.

The new park can be developed after the water tower is dismantled, which is expected to happen sometime in the next two years, noted Scott Strudgeon, chairman of the Parks Commission.

Gene Utke and Carolyn Pryor, representing People for Peace, recently made a presentation to the Parks Commission which was enthusiastically received.

People for Peace is composed of members of Dexter United Methodist,

St. Joseph Catholic and St. James Episcopal churches.

While examining old records, the commission discovered that the given name of the park that most Dexterites have simply designated "Water Tower Park" was "Piety Hill Park." The name probably harkens from a time a number of churches were located there, according to the Rev. John Harnish, pastor of the Dexter United Methodist church.

The proposed peace pole will be completely constructed by a company in East Jordan. The peace pole concept was originated by a group in Japan called "Society For Prayer For World Peace." About 60,000 poles nestle into the turf in Japan, while several hundred have been implanted into U.S. soil. Local places that sport poles are: Chelsea, Grand Circus Park and the Dexter Methodist church-owned Camp Newkirk, reports the Rev. Harnish.

The Rev. Harnish said the group isn't sure yet which four languages will be selected for the pole out of the 31 available, but he suspects German is a good candidate since Dexter has a German sister city.

The Parks Commission is hopeful that local groups, such as the Dexter Jaycees, will get their green thumbs into gear for some landscaping and flower-planting in the new park.

"It's the gateway to the village so it should be dressed up," Strudgeon said.

Stated Carolyn Pryor: "People for Peace's interest is peace on all levels, including development of this park. Our desire is to work harmoniously, in whatever role works best, with other community groups or individuals having an interest in the project. To that end, we hope people will attend the Village Council's Oct. 24 meeting at Wylie School Media Center."

State to Intervene in Suit Against Firm Accepting N. Y. Waste

Michigan has filed a request to intervene in a lawsuit against Bill Kettlewell Excavating in an attempt to stop plans to dispose at its Fort Gratiot Sanitary Landfill 5,000 tons of waste a day from New York.

The suit, filed in St. Clair County Circuit Court, seeks an injunction to prohibit Kettlewell from accepting any waste that originated outside of the county.

Kettlewell is being charged with violation of the Solid Waste Management Act.

Under the act, counties are required to adopt a 20-year plan for the disposal of solid waste, assuring that future wastes generated in the county can be disposed of properly in facilities which comply with environmental safeguards.

Once the county plans are approved by the Department of Natural Resources, they are combined into one state solid waste management plan.

The 1984 act restricts acceptance of solid waste into the county which is not included in the county plan.

Governor James Blanchard said allowing the practice of accepting outside wastes sets a dangerous precedent.

"It could prevent the county from properly managing its own waste and set a precedent allowing vastly increased shipment of out-of-state wastes into Michigan," he said.

Attorney General Frank Kelley said the additional waste would have a "devastating effect" on both the county and state plans, while DNR Director David Hales said Michigan is not responsible for assuming other states' problems. "Our tax-payers should not have to subsidize their lack of management," he said.

Sen. Dan DeGrow (R-Port Huron) and Rep. James Docherty (D-Port Huron) both praised the state for intervening, calling it a state-wide issue.

The company disputes the state estimate of the amount of waste which would be imported.

Previously, the House passed HB 5524 restricting the ability of counties to accept wastes from outside sources.

Poll Shows Michigan Best State For S.S.C., Governor Says

A nation-wide poll of high energy physicists shows Michigan has what the Superconducting Super Collider will need, Governor Blanchard told U. S. Department of Energy Secretary John Herrington.

The poll was released by the governor in Washington, as Michigan officials made the state's final case to be selected as the site for the $4.6 billion SSC.

The poll, conducted by the Gallup Organization, questioned 547 physicists about what they are looking for at an SSC laboratory, wherever it is located.

The poll did not ask where the SSC should be placed, but was an effort to determine what types of living arrangements and facilities the scientists will need once the SSC is in operation.

Three important areas of concern were highlighted by the survey: strong education systems, professional employment opportunities for the spouses of SSC employees, and a powerful computer network to link the SSC with other laboratories and universities.

"This poll confirms my belief that Michigan is on target as the best location for the SSC," the governor said.

"We have a long commitment to a quality education for our young people. Job opportunities in Michigan are growing every year, especially in the high-tech sectors of our economy. And Michigan, as headquarters for the National Science Foundation's super computer network, combined with our own extensive in-state network, has unsurpassed capabilities in this critical area."

Joining the governor at the meeting were U. S. Sens. Don Riegle (D-Flint) and Carl Levin (D-Southfield); U. S. Reps. John Dingell (D-Trenton), Bob Traxler (D-Bay City), Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) and Bob Carr (D-East Lansing); Michigan SSC Commission Chair David Adamany, president of Wayne State University; Commissioner William McCormick, chair and chief executive officer of CMS Energy Corp.; and other state officials involved in the project.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The feller that runs the country store told this fer the truth Saturday night. He said a woman come in late last week and picked up a copy of our newspaper off the stack by the door. She got a few other items and when she stopped by the cash register she allowed that we must have the dullest town in the world. She said she had got a local paper for the last three days and they all had the same news in em.

It turned out, the store feller said, that she and her family had bought a few acres and a house out our way and last week they moved from the city where she had been use to a different paper every day. The store feller said she looked like she was dead serious and in no mood fer advice so he jest took her money and said "yes, ma'am, thank you, ma'am."

It weren't so much that the fellers believed the report, as it was it give em a opening to add a item to the agender fer the session. It was Zeke Grubb that took note that all of politics and a heap of business is built on the idee that folks don't pay attention. This is why, Zeke said, that some folks are fooled all the time and all of em some of the time. As long as you can do that, he went on, you can come out way ahead, and never mind fooling all of em all the time.

Fer instant, Zeke said, you still see them ads in the papers about making big money at home in your spare time. You know them outfits wouldn't run the ads if they didn't pay. Last Sunday after church, Zeke said, a woman told him she had sent $45 in anser to a ad about reading manuscripts that have been sent to publishers. Fer her money, she got a list of addresses of book publishing companies and a form letter she could use in writing em about work. She told Zeke she wrote three and got pritty much the same form letter back. All said they hire very few part time readers and they never send manuscripts out of town because of the cost and the chanct of em being lost.

Bug Hookum was agreed with Zeke that there's room fer working ever angle. Bug had saw where a 66-year-old woman was suing faith healers in Greenville, S. C. After she had been healed of crippling arthritis the healers took her crutches and she fell on the stage and broke her neck and back. She went on to claim the healers wouldn't help her after she fell because she was supposed to help herself as part of the cure.

It was left fer Clem Webster to turn the talk to politics. When it comes to not paying attention his own Democratic Party takes the cake. Clem said he is sick of hearing the big-time analyzers and commentators harp on how the Republicans have got to keep votes of the Reagan Democrats to win in November. Any thinking Democrat knows that any Democrat voting fer any Republican ain't a Democrat, was Clem's words.

This country's great Government is built on parties, not people, Clem allowed, and folks that think they can hold to one party and vote another are the folks that keep the ads running from the companies that promise to make em rich working at home a few hours a week. A feller can no more be a Bush Democrat than he can be a Baptist Roman Catholic, was Clem's words.

Republican Ed Doolittle didn't git to the session, so it was left fer Zeke to call Clem down. Zeke said the only difference he sees in the parties is Republicans pull down their shades, and the Democrats ought to.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Flu Shot Clinic Set For Seniors

Dexter Senior Citizens have a chance to get flu shots, Thursday, Oct. 20, at the Senior Nutrition Site, 3250 Broad St., at a nominal $3 cost.

For seniors who have reached the age of 64, free vision screening will also be available from 9 a.m. until 12 noon, Thursday, at the center.

The seniors took a tour bus to Grand Ledge, Monday, Oct. 11, for what proved to be a chilly ride on the paddle boat "Princess Laura" down the Grand River.

The group of 46 seniors, many of whom wrapped in the blankets provided by the ship's crew, enjoyed the brilliant fall colors and feasted on Salisbury steak and filet of sole, accompanied by mashed potatoes, a fresh salad and peach cobbler.

The demand for hot coffee exceeded the supply, but the seniors reported a great trip.

Food Co-Op Members Have Fun, Save Money

The cheese alone is enough to make Laura Butler sing the praises of the Dexter Food Co-op.

"Feta cheese, cottage cheese, yellow mild cheddar, parmesan, mozzarella, baby gouda," Butler says, her voice volubly rising with each cheese named.

"Four or five kinds of swiss, Jarlsberg, sliced white American cheese without any dyes!"

"The assortment of cheeses alone is enough to knock your socks off," she says, in what is an understatement after her inspired reading of the catalogue of cheeses, a list that has to rival Melville's catalogue of whales.

But the statement is Butler's attempt to express her enthusiasm for the buying club that she's been a member of since its inception 10 years ago.

It isn't the only food co-op buying club in Dexter. There's also the Huron River Food Co-op. In Chelsea, there are two, Health Nuts and Village Food Club. Manchester has three such organizations, Manchester Co-op, Co-operatively Speaking, and T.C.M. For information about any of the clubs, call the Michigan Federation of Food Co-operatives, 761-4642.

This year, Butler's club is searching for new food enthusiasts to join its ranks. Holding steady at 10 members over the past year, the group has decided five to seven more members (each family is counted one member) are needed to expand the types of foods it can order.

The clubs get their food from the People's Warehouse in Ann Arbor in wholesale quantities. That means if a member of the club wants to order just one bottle of salad dressing, forget it. But if six or seven members want to buy two or three bottles each . . . well, the possibilities are endless.

So, it would seem, are the virtues of the Dexter Food Co-op. Who can improve on being able to buy a product and know that it's organic, that it hasn't been tainted with commercial pesticides, Butler says.

Seemingly endless, too, is the list of products the warehouse carries: natural flours, sugars, oils, canned soups, fruits and vegetables, spaghetti, raw nuts, roasted peanuts, sunflowers, pistachios, grains, coffee beans, herbal teas, 70 different kinds of fruit juices, taco sauce, dried fruits, and cereals, as well as many commercial brands.

It's a list that's continually growing. New items include biodegradable garbage bags, that Butler attests perform and are packaged just like Hefty garbage bags, called Bes-Pac Good Sense. They cost 70 cents more at the wholesale price per package than Hefty, but the bags decompose at the landfill.

Other new items are a line of oriental specialty foods, herbs and spices, dog food (canned and dry), toothpaste and shampoo.

Butler's children, ages eight, 11 and 17, are also great fans of the co-op food. Some of their favorites include: Mountain High Yogurt ("they love it"); natural peanut butter ("they love it"); Barbara's Cheese Puffs; and Bavarian nine grain pretzels ("pretzels that make a dog pretzel look soft.")

Compare these prices, Butler suggests. Progresso Split Pea soup costs $1.98 at the supermarket, $.98 from the co-op. Cocoa powder is $2.17 a half-pound at the grocery store, $2.35 a full pound from the co-op. "The only difference is it (the cocoa) comes in a plastic bag. Keep your old Hershey can and dump it in and no one will know!" Butler says.

Clancy's Fancy Hot Sauce 4 oz. jars: over $5 at the supermarket, just $2.75 from the co-op. "We get it for $2.75 and it's the same exact thing. Exactly the same thing!"

Newman's Own salad dressing: $2.98 at the grocery store. You pay only $2.36 from the food co-op.

Members meet once every six to eight weeks at Dexter High school to write up a group order. They don't meet more often because then it becomes too labor intensive. The meetings usually last one and a half hours. The following week, the club makes a trek to the warehouse in Ann Arbor.

After the goods are secured, they're divided up in the "huge basement" of Dexter resident Marie Doser in a one-and-a-half-hour-long bagging party.

"You meet many people you wouldn't otherwise, because we all have such different lives," Butler is a free lance artist. Others include an actor, some people in computers and a school administrator.

Butler estimates that she saves about $100 to $150 a month by purchasing non-perishables through the co-op.

"When I have to buy cheese anywhere else and have to pay twice as much it kills me. I hate it. I just hate it when that happens."

A bookkeeper keeps track of individual accounts. Members pay a $20 annual membership fee. They also have to pay the equivalent of how much they spend on average over a three-month period to the umbrella organization, the Michigan Federation of Food Co-operatives, which oversees the People's Warehouse.

"The only unfortunate part," Butler admits, briefly despondent, "is that the co-op (Michigan Federation of Food Co-operatives) makes the interest, not the individuals. But on the plus side, if you withdraw your membership, you could put that money into your last order." Even though you're no longer an official member minus the deposit? "No one would object to that," she says.

Village Will Have New Auditing Firm

Dexter will be employing a new firm to do its annual audit, said village manager Jim Palenick.

Elser and Briggs, an Ann Arbor company who has done the village's audit for the past 10 years, will no longer do municipal audits, Palenick said.

Theresa Briggs, of Elser and Briggs, said the firm has elected to focus on private individual and industrial clients. The many changes in state and federal tax laws over the past few years have made it difficult for firms who do not specialize in municipal law to stay current.

"We're a small firm and we want to concentrate on a few areas that we'll do well in," Briggs said.

At one time the firm did a number of municipal audits. Over the past three years, Dexter was their last municipal client.

The audit is done at the end of each fiscal year, Feb. 28.

Palenick said changing of the audit firm does not pose a problem because there is plenty of time to select a new auditor. However, an audit done by a new company, unfamiliar with the village, will take longer and cost more.

The village received a letter during the week of Oct. 3 saying the company would discontinue the service.

Hamburg Twp. Candidates Will Appear

Candidates for public office in Hamburg township will be questioned by the public in a "Meet the Candidates" evening on Monday, Oct. 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the township hall, organized by township resident Melissa Pettijohn.

Three candidates are running for supervisor: Susan Siedlaczek, Democrat; Thomas B. McNulty, Independent; Harry L. Bader, Republican. Democratic candidates for trustees are: Donald C. Coveny, David F. Harmon, Jerry Lindsay; Republicans: Michael L. Bitondo, Jim Hollenbeck, Linda A. Strang, Loren A. Winn; Independents: Dale Michael Duquet, Don W. Messacar.

Pettijohn will use a panel forum supplied by the League of Women Voters' Howell office. Citizens will be given paper to write their questions on when they get to the township hall. Pettijohn will then screen each question before reading it to the candidates, who will then each have a turn at answering it.

Deer Creating Hazards for Area Drivers

Beware the deer—they're increasingly plentiful on the roadways in western Washtenaw county, warn deputies at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Providing a real road hazard to the motorists, the deer are evident at all hours, recently.

Eric Walter Jorgenson of Milan told Deputy Troy Bevier a doe jumped on the roadway and the vehicle Jorgenson was driving struck it about 6:20 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 8.

The incident occurred on Dexter-Pinckney Rd., just south of Wylie Rd. Nancy Elizabeth Farrell explained she was travelling southeast along Island Lake Rd., about half a mile south of Dexter-Pinckney Rd. at 2:15 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 15, when a doe ran out from a field and struck the vehicle she drove.

There have been numerous other incidents in which drivers were unable to avoid colliding with deer which suddenly appeared on the roadway, and deputies advise motorists use extreme caution.

Such collisions may prove dangerous, not only to the deer but also to drivers and their vehicles.

JV Cagers Drop Two Last Week

Coach Dave Millar said it wasn't one of the better weeks for his girls junior varsity basketball team, reporting losses to both Ida and Tecumseh, last week.

In the third loss of the season, Dexter JV cagers fell, 35-31, to the hosting Ida team, with the Dreadnaught defense not performing at top efficiency, Thursday, Oct. 13.

The defense gave up 24 points during the second half.

Free throw efforts raised additional havoc, with Dexter only able to successfully net four of 15.

Katie Brown shot 20 points to qualify as the Dreadnaught high scorer for the night, and Brandy DeHetre, Amy Hiatt and Sherry Sobry contributed good defensive efforts, Millar said.

Dexter's First League Loss

In the first SEC loss of the basketball season, Dexter junior varsity players failed to play to their usual potential and were edged by Tecumseh, 31-28, Tuesday, Oct. 11, on the Dreadnaught home court.

Whitney Walsh scored 15 points in the game with the Indians.

Contributing to the loss, the Dreadnaughts sunk only four of 14 from the free-throw line, and Tecumseh outrebounded the Dexter players, Millar explained.

Dexter travelled to Brooklyn-Columbia Central, Tuesday, Oct. 18, and will play at Pinckney, Thursday, Oct. 20 (tomorrow night).

JV Basketball Team Loses to Tecumseh, Ida

The Dexter junior varsity girls basketball team seemed to lack bounce this week as they lost against both Tecumseh and Ida.

The score was Dexter 28, Tecumseh 31 on Oct. 11 in their first loss in league play. The basketball was pumped up, but the team was flat. Only four of their 14 free throws got through the hoop. Whitney Walsh came off respectably, making 15 points. Tecumseh outrebounded Dexter, said the coach.

Just two nights later, bad luck was still dogging Dexter. It was their third loss of the season: Dexter 31, Ida 35. The Dexter defense was too giving. They let go of 24 points in the game's second half. Free throws were still too free wheeling: only four of 15 attempts threaded through the hoop. Katie Brown earned 20 points and good defensive moves were made by Brandy DeHetre, Amy Hiatt and Sherry Sobry.

The first state legislation requiring factory safeguards was in 1877 in Massachusetts, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Dexter Defeats Chelsea For 24-33 Victory

It was a 24-33 victory for the Dreadnaught boys cross country team, running against Chelsea on the Hudson Mills Metropark course, Tuesday, Oct. 11, coach Lee Knapp reported.

Knapp said Mark Lauzon ran his best time ever in the midst of a rainstorm, with hail also pelting the runners.

Finishing the race in 17:01, Lauzon was second, Scott Brines placed third with a 17:53 time, and Greg Nowak was the fourth placer with a time of 18:06.

Bill Mayes finished sixth in 18:26, running his best ever race, Knapp said.

Paul Hegarty finished ninth, his time was 18:46.

David Schmidt filled the 10th-place niche, finishing in 18:56 for Dexter.

Andrew Pudduck completed the race in 18:58 for 11th place.

Adrian Slusser's time was 19:02, earning him the 12th place, Steve Knapp finished in 19:26 as a 15th placer, Gary Siebert was 18th, finishing the race in 20:12, Scott Mayes finished 22nd in 21:15.

Dexter's Dan Tomshany was 23rd with a 21:26 time, Aron Gannon's time was 21:29 for 24th place, Scott Hasselbach was 25th with a 21:44 time, and Chris Meloche's race time was 25:46 as the 27th finisher.

Coach Knapp named Mark Lauzon the "Runner of the Meet," and reported Bill Mayes was the "Most Improved Runner."

Girls Varsity Leads Saline Entire Game for 43-40 Win

Dreadnaught girls varsity basketball team led from the first minute of play through an exciting 43-40 finish when the team played at Saline, Thursday, Oct. 6.

Dexter jumped in early for a 10-9 first-quarter lead, continuing to a 25-17 advantage by half-time.

The Dreadnaughts scored the final eight points of the second quarter, and by the end of the third period, Dexter was ahead, 35-28.

In the final quarter, Dexter led by 12 points with three and a half minutes left in the game—eventually claiming the 43-40 win.

Amy Hill scored 18 points for Dexter, Suzie Kelsey had 10 for the night, Val Muck popped in six points for the team, Allison Millar, four, Nancy Farrell, three and Ali Breinig, two.

Tecumseh Edges Dexter, 37-34

Hopes for a cage victory were dashed when the Dreadnaught players hosted the Indians from Tecumseh, Tuesday, Oct. 11, and failed to connect on a critical last-second shot, advised coach Arbour.

Amy Hill topped the Dexter scorers with 17 for the night, Suzie Kelsey had seven and Sandy Frank, four.

Val Muck and Nancy Farrell each contributed three points to the team total.

The Dexter coach said the game was a hard-fought but low-scoring contest.

Dexter fell behind after the first quarter, 11-3, and at one time during the second period, trailed 23-7.

Arbour said the Dreadnaught players rallied to reduce the deficit to eight points for a 23-15 tally at half-time.

Behind a tremendous defensive effort and 10 points from Amy Hill during the second half, Dexter managed to narrow the Indian margin of advantage to three, with 10 seconds remaining to play.

The final shooting try failed for Dexter, and Tecumseh collected the win.

JILL SMITH IS UP WITH THE BASKETBALL and a Tecumseh defender is airborne as well during the varsity game at Dexter, when the Dreadnaughts were edged by the Indians, 37-34, after a final-second shot failed for the home team.

Girls Cross Country Team 4th at Gabriel Richard Invitational

Dexter girls cross country runners finished fourth of the five teams at the Gabriel Richard Invitational, held Saturday, Oct. 15, at Ann Arbor's Buhr Park.

Coach Jaworski called it a "good race" for his runners, as Sheila Hammons finished 10th, earning a medal with her 22:59 time.

Kathy Miller was the 17th runner to cross the finish line, her time was 23:46.

Jackie Bohl was the 20th placer, edging Lydia Fink who placed 21st.

Jill Stephenson was the 28th-place winner, with a 26:06, season best time.

Wendy Willis was unable to finish the race, due to illness.

Michelle Willis ran her second best time of the season, 32:07.

Dreadnaught runners Lea Riley and Stephanie Wheeler were out with injuries.

16-47 Loss to Chelsea

Dexter girls ran against Chelsea on the Hudson Mills Metropark course, Tuesday, Oct. 11, losing 16-47.

Sophomore Sheila Hammons was the first runner to cross the finish line for the Dreadnaughts, recording a personal best time of 22:29 for fifth place.

Coach Jim Jaworski explained Sheila has steadily improved through the cross country season, and the race with Chelsea was by far her best effort.

She lowered her personal best time by almost 30 seconds.

Senior Kathy Miller had an excellent day, running a season best time, 23:37, to place ninth.

Kathy's time represented an improvement of 22 seconds from last week's race, coach Jaworski confirmed.

Jackie Bohl placed 13th, finishing the race in 25:29, with Lydia Fink close on her heels, 25:30.

Dexter's scoring five included Jill Stephenson, who finished 16th with a 26:52 time.

Jennifer Rogers ran near a personal best, completing the course in 27:21 for 17th place.

Michelle Willis finished for Dexter in 33:53, placing 19th.

The girls cross country season record was 1-6, following the Chelsea meet.

Dexter ran at home against Saline, Tuesday, Oct. 18, travels to Tecumseh, Thursday, Oct. 20, for its final dual meet of the season.

The Southeastern Conference cross country competition is scheduled at Pinckney's Merrill Field, Tuesday, Oct. 25.

Swim & Dive Team Outclasses Ypsilanti

Dexter Dreadnaught girls swim and dive team scored a decisive 116-55 victory, Thursday, Oct. 13, taking firsts in 10 of the 11 events to outswim and outdive their Class A Ypsilanti hosts.

Dexter swimmers and divers swam 26 personal best times during the meet, and showed creditable depth, finishing with seven second places and six thirds, to add to the 10 first placers.

Coaches Jim Balcom, Dave Plawchan and John Lamb continued their praise this week for a strong and enthusiastic team.

"We're very pleased with the team's performance, and look forward to another strong performance against Chelsea," the coaches agreed, following the meet with Ypsilanti. "The team swam at Chelsea, Tuesday, Oct. 18."

"The girls' continue to train hard—give us their best," Balcom explained.

Three girls, Shelly Parsons, Melissa Kelber and Cindy Weir, swam personal best times in every event they entered.

During the 1988 season, Shelly Parsons has proved herself a versatile swimmer as well as an outstanding diver.

In the 200-yard medley relay race, Dexter's A relay, Nicole Balcom, Sarah Stephenson, Kristin Brown and Colleen Wilts, scored first with a time of 2:06.91.

The Dreadnaught B relay, Melissa Kelber, Lisa Benedict, Erin Mann and Shelly Parsons, took third place, finishing in 2:20.13.

Melissa Kelber swam a personal best time of 35:20 in the backstroke leg of the relay.

Shelly Parsons swam a personal best 28.83 time in the relay's freestyle leg.

C-relay team swimmers, Leah Lamb, Melissa Ervin, Molly McRoberts and Michelle Shepard, recorded a 2:30.0 time, outtouching the Ypsilanti B relay.

During the 200-yard freestyle race, Jennifer Pudduck swam a personal best time of 2:18.42 for first place.

Kindra Murphy swam 2:30.63, finishing third, and Cindy Weir swam a personal best time, 2:40.26, bettering her previous best time by five seconds to be the fifth placer.

Dreadnaughts swept the 200-yard individual medley race, finishing 1-2-3.

Nicole Balcom took first place with her 2:35.48 finish.

Sarah Stephenson swam a personal best time of 2:49.54, to shave three seconds from her previous time, good for second place, and Cindy Weir accomplished a new personal best time, 2:40.26, a five-second improvement on her previous best time.

All three Dreadnaught swimmers finished the 50-yard freestyle event with personal best times at the Ypsilanti pool.

Kristin Brown placed second with a 28.13 time, just .03 seconds behind Ypsilanti's Heidi Philipsen.

Colleen Wilts was third, taking one second from her previous best time to finish in 28.39, and Melissa Ervin placed fifth in 32.83, nipping a second from her previous best time.

Dreadnaught divers provided sterling performances during the meet at Ypsilanti, with Shelly Parsons scoring a personal best 224.85 for first place, and topping her previous high score by eight points.

41-25 Loss to Ida

"Dexter girls travelled to Ida, Thursday, Oct. 13, and fell behind early during the 41-25 loss, after the team failed to recover enough for the victory," coach Arbour explained.

Dexter played outstanding defense, with Val Muck, Jill Smith and Amy Hill leading the way.

Dexter had a cold shooting night, hitting only 11 field goals in 40 attempts.

Ida led, 6-4, after one quarter, and outscored the Dreadnaughts, 16-8, in the second period to lead, 22-12, at half-time.

During second-half action, Jill Smith scored four points in the third quarter and Ali Breinig added four more for the team during the final period, but it wasn't enough to foster a win.

Dreadnaught scorers included Jill Smith, six points; Allison Millar, Ali Breinig and Amy Hill, four each; Nancy Farrell, three; Val Muck and Mary Jo Stoddard, two apiece.

Dreadnaught Gridders Edged, 13-12, By Saline

Dexter Dreadnaught varsity gridders dropped to 4-3 on the season, losing a 13-12 heart-breaker to the SEC champion Saline Hornets, Friday, Oct. 14, on the Dreadnaught field.

In a game that featured two of the finest running backs in the conference, both teams were able to move the football, but the defense played tough, their backs to the wall, to keep the scoring down.

The game was deadlocked at 0-0, after one quarter of play.

Each team put together long drives. Dexter moved to the Saline 35-yard line to end a 38-yard drive and turn the ball over to Saline.

The Hornets drove 75 yards to the Dreadnaught 10, but two great defensive plays by senior linebacker Mike Visel and defensive tackle Craig Gallo, coupled with a penalty, allowed Dexter to take over on downs at the 25.

Four plays later, Saline intercepted a Dreadnaught pass and went to work from the Dexter 28-yard line.

The Hornets blasted over six plays later to take an early second-quarter lead, 7-0.

Dexter players snapped right back. Andy Walsh returned the kick-off to the Saline 49, and behind strong blocking from Chris Weaver, Darrin Pomo, Aaron Ward, Jason Stidham, Jim Gregory, Jeff Wisniewski, Travis Miller and Jason Sherrill, Andy Walsh, Adam Spiess and Marty Walsh moved the 49 yards into the end zone to put Dexter on the scoreboard.

Although the attempted run for extra points failed, Dexter had closed the gap to 7-6.

On the next Dexter possession from its own 10, the Hornets played tough, forcing a punt.

Saline mishandled the punt, Dexter recovered on the Hornet 37-yard line.

One play later, behind Stidham, Gregory and Weaver, Andy Walsh sprinted to the end zone to give the Dreadnaughts a 12-7 lead into halftime.

Second-half action saw Saline take the opening kick-off at their own 35-yard line, and within 10 plays, the Hornets had once more crossed into the Dexter end zone.

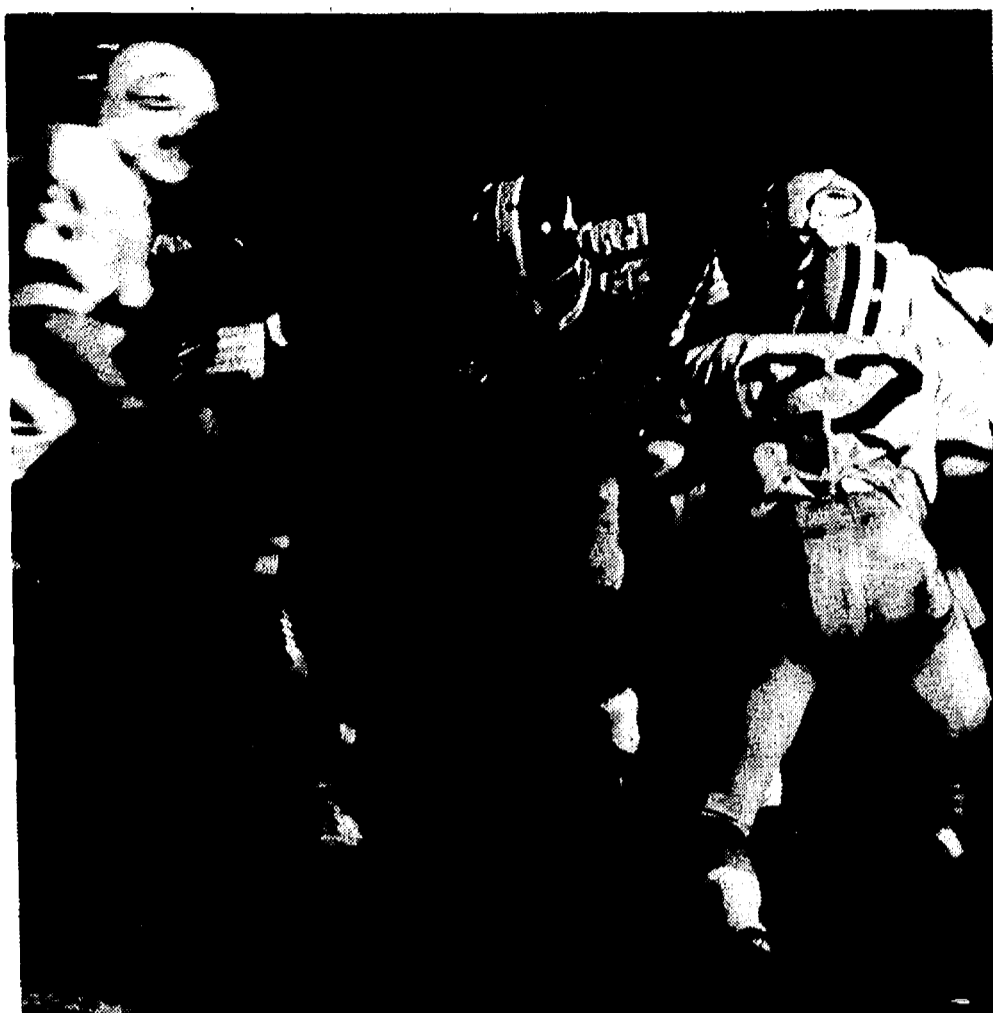

The conversion try failed, but Saline led, 13-12.

The defenses took control of the game from that point, with Dexter's senior co-captain Mike Visel, named WPZA defensive player of the week, teaming with linebacker Mark Piper to lead the Dreadnaught attack.

Adam Spiess, Jim Gregory, Craig Gallo, Jeff Wisniewski, Derrick Schmittling, Marty Walsh, Jeromy Avery and Vic Szabo combined with the linebackers to deny Saline any avenue to the Dreadnaught end zone.

Late in the contest, Dexter put together a 58-yard drive to the Hornet 10, keyed by Dexter's only pass completion for the night, Marty Walsh to Mike Atwell, and six carries by Andy Walsh to advance the football 28 yards.

On "fourth and two," Dexter set up for an apparent game-winning field goal, but a bad snap and a controversial spot left the Dreadnaughts empty, inches short of a first down.

ERIC COLLICA GRACIOUSLY AGREED to lend his football jersey to Andy Walsh, after Andy's "43" was shredded during the third play of the game with Saline at home, Friday, Oct. 14. He finished the contest wearing "42." Coach Rich Grannis commended Collica for his generosity. Walsh carried 31 times for 159 yards in Friday's game against Saline.

Saline escaped with its seventh win in seven tries.

"It was a very well-played game on both sides of the field," coach Rich Grannis reported.

"Dexter's blocking was consistent, the defense was strong—but we came up short. This one's hard for our kids to swallow. They know we should have won. We didn't," Grannis said.

"This team has a lot of character, however, so we'll bounce back to play tough against the next two teams to finish 6-3," the coach explained.

Grannis said Mike Visel led the Dreadnaught defense in Friday's game with 18 tackles and a fumble recovery.

Mark Piper played well on defense with 17 tackles, and Jeff Wisniewski did a good job as outside linebacker with eight tackles for the night.

The Dreadnaughts limited Saline's star running back, Brian Bozo, to less than 100 yards rushing, the only team to accomplish this feat during the 1988 season.

Offensively, Dexter's Andy Walsh carried 31 times for 159 yards, Adam Spiess advanced the football 28 yards on six carries and was the lead block for Walsh.

Dexter travels to Tecumseh, Friday, Oct. 21, to challenge the Indians.

It's a far ride and kick-off's at 7:30 p.m., so if you leave early, you'll be watching the whole game.

In the final game scheduled for the 1988 football season, Dexter plays Brooklyn-Columbia Central, Friday, Oct. 28.

JV Gridders Nudged Thursday By Saline, 19-12

"Saline was just a bit too strong for the Dexter JV's, the Hornets won, 19-12," coach Kirby Fisher explained, following the game, Thursday, Oct. 13.

Fisher said, "It was, for the most part, a well-played game by both teams."

Saline fumbled three times and threw one interception.

Dexter didn't fumble, but was intercepted on three occasions.

Saline opened the scoring by marching down the field with the opening kick-off.

Dreadnaught defense couldn't stop the powerful Hornet offense.

"Saline is well-coached," Fisher commented.

"Their line just flies off the ball, and to their credit, Saline players were able to move our defensive line. We'll be working to prevent that, next week," said Duane Clark, defensive coach for the Dreadnaught team.

Clark explained, "We need to get tougher on defense."

After one quarter of play, Saline held a 7-0 advantage, but Dexter came back strong in the second quarter, with a 78-yard TD run by tailback Jeff McCalla.

"On that play, Dexter caught the Hornet defense napping, and McCalla raced away from the Saline defenders," Clark added.

"Jeff McCalla played his best game of the season, offensively and defensively. He was a real force on defense—helped contain Saline's outside runs and the passing game. Offensively, he ran very well. Our line is learning to block better during the running game, and our backs are learning to read the blocks better, resulting in a much-improved offense," Fisher stated, as he discussed the over-all continued progress of the team.

Fisher admitted it was the second consecutive week the Dexter JV team has played well.

He noted, "The coaches are encouraged and the Dreadnaughts are beginning to realize they're decent football players."

"We all need to have a good practice week to beat Tecumseh. The Indians are always tough, but our football players are showing good improvement, each week. We'll be ready for them," agreed the JV coaches.

Dexter's Terence Erlenbach intercepted a pass during the second half for the second consecutive week.

Coach Fisher said Erlenbach halted a Saline drive, and Uly Curry-Polks almost ran another kick-off back to paydirt.

The Dreadnaught kick return unit is very good at opening things up for Uly.

He outran the opposition until a Saline defender caught him at the seven-yard line.

However, three plays later, Jeff McCalla powered over for the Dexter TD, narrowing the Hornet scoreboard advantage to 13-12.

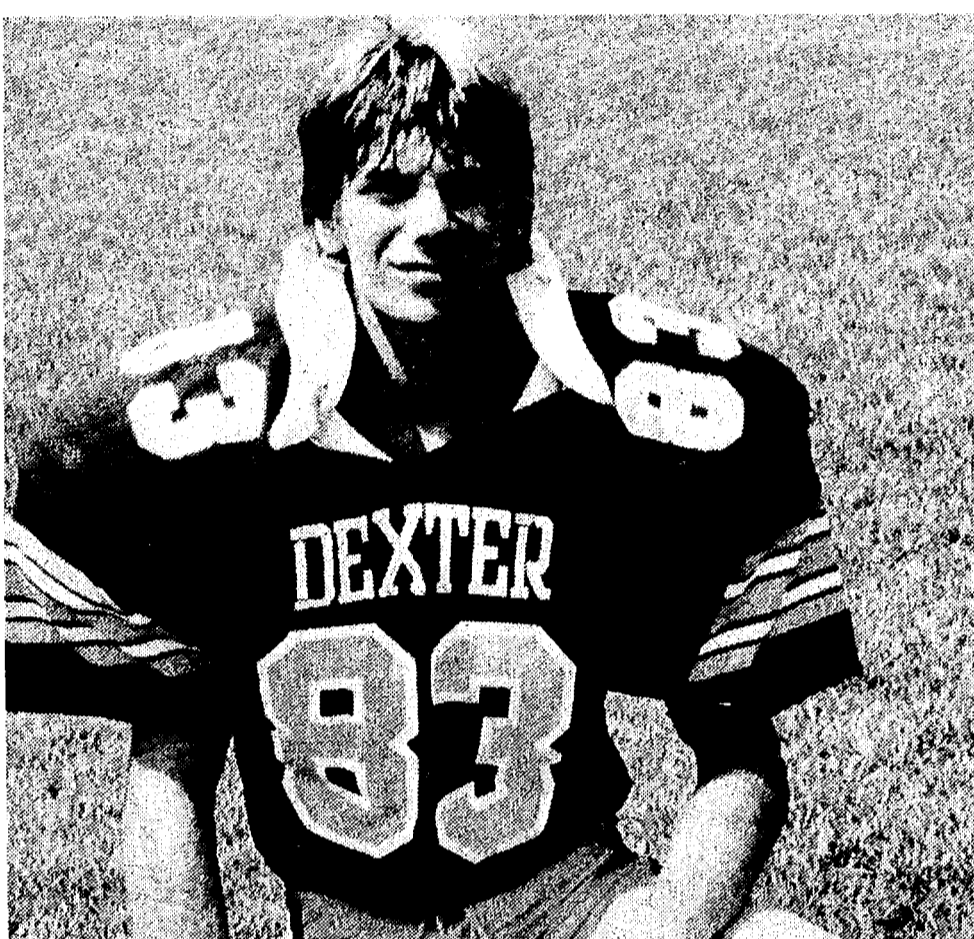

Saline was able to score once more—Dexter came close!

Thursday's was a crowd-pleasing game for both fan-camps, because it was so well-played.

Dexter hosts Tecumseh, Thursday, Oct. 20 (tomorrow), with kick-off at 7 p.m.

SENIOR CHRIS WEAVER is one of the Dreadnaught ends on the 1988 varsity football team. The son of Sue and Steve Weaver, he plays baseball for Dexter High and is a Science Olympiad participant. Skiing is another of his favorite outdoor activities. What does he like most about playing football? "I catch the ball!"

SPLIT END ERIC HOWARD helps form the senior contingent playing football this season for the Dreadnaughts. Eric's parents are Mike and Donna Howard. Special interests for him, once football season is finished, include downhill skiing, hunting and waterskiing. He explained one of the things he particularly enjoys about playing football is the "team atmosphere."

Food Co-op

An added boon for the local clubs is that the state headquarters for wholesale food co-operatives is located right next door, in that scion of civilization, Ann Arbor. The proximity of the warehouse signifies a two percent discount for the buying clubs, made possible by the elimination of delivery fees.

The warehouse's fleet of trucks delivers to 350 buying clubs all over Michigan, northern Ohio and Indiana, said Judith Cawhorn, consumer service manager for the People's Warehouse. The buying clubs make up 70 percent of their business. Retail food co-ops comprise the remaining 30 percent. The People's Warehouse had 425 clubs during its heyday in the 70's.

The warehouse, which started in the basement of an Ann Arbor food co-op in 1973, has been in its present 25,000 square foot building on W. Ellsworth since 1973, Cawhorn said.

Individuals may order from the warehouse without being part of a co-op, but the minimum purchase required each time is $250.

Butler says she compares her experience in the club to preparing a turkey dinner. "People come and go and there's a certain amount of hassle. It's like preparing a turkey dinner. You think you'll never get through it, but you get through it and you have a nice time, hopefully."

Winter Wheat Crop Insurance Deadline Date Is Oct. 31

The Disaster Assistance Act of 1988 requires that producers receiving disaster benefits based on losses exceeding 65 percent of a crop carry insurance on that crop for the 1989 crop year.

A producer who anticipates that he/she may need crop insurance in order to comply should make application for winter wheat. The closing sales date for 1989 winter wheat crop insurance is Oct. 31.

JEFF WISNIEWSKI, Dexter senior, is another varsity football player who enjoys the "team atmosphere." Jeff's parents are Sharon and Robert Wisniewski. His out-of-school hobbies include skiing.

DERRICK SCHMITTLING, one of the senior football players for Dexter, also runs track as a Dreadnaught. Asked what it is he likes most about playing football, Derrick replied, "This year has been 'great' because we're really pulling together as a team." His parents are Judy and Barry Schmittling. In addition to football and track, Derrick has an interest in weight-lifting, and enjoys downhill skiing.

Omnibus Trade Bill Good for Agriculture

Congressional passage of the omnibus will provide U. S. agriculture with the tools needed to combat unfair foreign trade practices, according to Michigan Farm Bureau's director of public affairs, Al Almy.

"The legislation has several positive features," Almy said. "It is not protectionist, it improves U. S. responses to unfair foreign trade practices, and it gives the president needed authority to negotiate a new General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. It provides important trade relief tools for agriculture, such as the right of representation for producers in trade disputes and fast relief in trade disputes involving perishable commodities."

Falling Steam Pipe Injures DHS Student

Dexter High school junior Jim Divine, Jr., received a cut that required three stitches last Wednesday after being hit a "glancing blow" to the base of the skull from a three-inch metal steam pipe that fell through an opening in the ceiling of Dexter High school.

Jim was standing at his locker at 1:45 p.m., during the change of class before sixth hour, when the pipe fell out of the ceiling. The 18-inch pipe fell as a result of work being done by a Miland Plumbing and Heating worker who was inside in the ceiling air duct above Jim's head. The company will pay Jim's medical bills for the accident.

The student's father, Jim Divine, Sr., took Jim to a doctor's office immediately after the accident occurred.

"He got to the school really fast," said DHS principal David Messner.

Elect NANCY C. FRANCIS Circuit Court Judge

WASHTENAW COUNTY NEEDS AN EXPERIENCED TRIAL ATTORNEY AS CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE.

Circuit Court is a trial court and the judge of that court should be an attorney who has extensive jury trial experience, who is schooled in the psychology of the courtroom—the interplay among attorneys, defendants, plaintiffs, witnesses, jurors and judges.

Nancy Francis is the only candidate for Circuit Court with extensive jury trial experience. She has handled civil and criminal trials in 24 state & federal courts.

"Overall, the WTLA membership felt that it was Nancy Francis' extensive trial experience, her knowledge of the trial process, her awareness of the problems facing the Circuit Court and her decisive willingness to deal with these problems that gave her the edge for the endorsement."

The three top-finishing teams qualified to participate in the State Golf Meet.

As the winning team, Saline had a 322 score and will advance to the state meet, along with Marshall, which totalled 324 for second place, and Tecumseh, with 327 for third.

Dreadnaught coaches Scott and Shirley Bitters reported their team finished 14 in a field of 19.

The Dexter golfers, listed with their scores, included Jeff Hiatt, 83; Pete Lundy, 89; Eric Buszka, 93; Mark Doyle, 98; Marc Fecker, 100.

The final golf meet on the regular Dreadnaught schedule was at Inverness Country Club, Tuesday, Oct.

In Southeastern Conference action for the season, Dexter was 4-8.

Scoring for the Dexter varsity team, Jeff Hiatt and Mark Doyle each shot a 41 for the team, Eric Buszka ended the night with a 42, and Pete Lundy shot a 46.

Junior varsity golfers and their scores were: Jeff Roberts, 44; P. J. Burke, 47; Mike Gill and John O'Rear, each with 48.

During the previous week, Pinckney varsity squeaked by Dexter, 168-170, when Dexter travelled to Lakelands Golf and Country Club, Monday, Oct. 3.

Dexter scores included Jeff Hiatt, 40; Mark Boyle, 41; Eric Buszka, 43, and Pete Lundy, 46.

Junior varsity golfers defeated the Little Pirates, 198-203.

Village Manager's Report

For the Village of Dexter, it has been a truly busy summer. We've raised a lot of dust and we know that the various intrusions, obstructions, and general states of concentrated activity have not always provided a welcome sight to some affected residents. However, the ambitious construction season of '88 is now drawing to a close, the frenzied activity is subsiding, and some very visible positive fruits to our collective labors are emerging.

Construction of the new water transmission main has been accomplished, with the final restoration of affected lands virtually complete.

The foundation of our new 500,000 gallon water tower, in the Industrial Park, is finished; construction of the steel tank itself should begin in late October, with completion expected near the end of December. Following interior painting in the spring, expect the tower to go on-line, servicing the entire community, sometime in May of 1989.

The sewer-line extension, from Baker Rd., near the high school then along Dan Hoey Rd. to the entrance of the Industrial Park, is also complete: only minor restoration remains.

The Industrial Park is no longer merely a set of plat maps, boundary surveys, and artists' renderings. Years of hard work have finally resulted in a fully-functional, contemporary and already successful center for industry and commerce rising from the erstwhile cornfields along Dan Hoey Rd. All the underground work, including water lines, sewer lines, and storm drainage is complete. Private utilities, including gas, electric, and telephone services are all either in place or being emplaced at this writing. Subgrade work in preparation of paving is nearly complete and curbs should begin to appear within the week. Expect all visible work on the Park's infrastructure to be completed by early November. Some final restoration may continue briefly after that or be completed in the early spring.

Most striking within the park, however, is suddenly very visible silhouettes of the 82,000 square-foot DAPCO Industries building and the 56,000 square-foot research lab. All three buildings should be completed by the end of the year, with a combined employment of some 350 workers beginning shortly thereafter. Before the year is out, expect the announcement that several other firms will be locating in the park as well.

The westerly one-half mile of Dan Hoey Rd., from the intersection of Baker to the entrance of the Industrial Park, is now well under construction. The old surface has been removed, all new underground storm sewers constructed, and grading preparation is underway. Expect final paving to be complete by Nov. 15 at which time the newly-constructed roadway and intersection will again open to through-traffic.

To accomplish all the aforementioned public infrastructure work, the Village has acquired some $913,000 in outright grants, and $800,000 in "no interest" long-term loans to be repaid exclusively from taxes generated by the Industrial Park. Additionally, private firms locating in the park have been assisted in acquiring $1,250,000 in loans, whose interest will be repaid to the Village for future development efforts.

It also remains the Village's intent to service the debt on the $1.1 million bond issue, passed in March, via the additional tax revenues generated by the Industrial Park.

I feel it is important to note that no other community of its size in the State of Michigan has ever acquired so many grant dollars for economic development or accomplished the number, size, and scope of projects in one single year, as has Dexter in 1988.

We, who work for the Village, have certainly needed your patience this year, and we may very well need it again. However, when all is said and done, this community has a great deal for which to be proud. For that, I applaud the entire community; for its patience, its commitment, its increasing level of reinvestment, and for its eternal vigilance in caring about what happens here. None of the accomplishments we are now witnessing could have happened were it not for a long-term, community-wide effort.

James M. Palenick,
Village Manager.

CONGRESSMAN CARL PURSELL'S representative, Cynthia Hudgins, fielded questions about issues in the 1988 political arena during a sparsely attended "Meet the Candidates" opportunity arranged for the Dexter community by Susanne Carey, shown at far left, and Marty Davis. Jim Fish was one of the interested citizens who accepted the invitation to meet and talk with 22nd Congressional District candidates and/or their staff, Sunday, Oct. 16.

MARK LAUZON, Dexter High school senior, Mark Lauzon, who has been a class officer since the third grade, topped a successful "life in politics" recently when he was named one of three county finalists in the United States Senate Youth Program.

Mark Lauzon Is Finalist In Scholarship Contest

Determination was necessary for Dexter senior Mark Lauzon just to get to the qualifying exam for the United States Senate Youth Program.

"His feet were wet and his legs were covered with burrs because he had to run through a couple of fields to get to the Intermediate school district building," said Sandy Trauzene, intermediate school district coordinator for the gifted and the talented.

"A house was being moved that day in Ann Arbor and a flatbed truck blocked the entrance. I don't know where he parked but it must have been quite a ways away."

But Lauzon was determined to be on time to take the test.

That same determination may have been the determining factor in his being picked as one of three finalists for the contest in the county.

Now Lauzon has a chance of being selected as one of the two state representatives, which would earn him a $2,000 college scholarship, made available through the William Randolph Hearst Foundation. The foundation has awarded two scholarships per state for the past 26 years.

To be picked as a finalist, Lauzon had to take a six-part, two-hour examination. An essay test was one of the parts. The students had the choice of four questions to write on: I. Explain why many persons do not vote and why they should; II. Explain the function and operation of the judicial branch of the American system of government; III. Assess and explain Ronald Reagan's presidential leadership; IV. What are the principal differences between the Senate and House of Representatives and explain the consequences of these differences. Lauzon chose the first question.

Lauzon, and the other eight applicants from area schools, were interviewed as a group for two hours on Oct. 12 by a panel of judges. The judges were: Diane Davis, social studies co-ordinator for Ann Arbor schools; Cynthia Hudgins, district coordinator for Carl Pursell; Jerry Schliecher, mayor pro-tem of Ann Arbor; Dr. Laurence Smith, vice-president of Eastern Michigan University; Herbert Wingo, president of Wingo & Associates of Ann Arbor.

Lauzon said that he felt he was a strong candidate because of his involvement in the school and community that goes back to when he was "young." He's been a student council member every year since the fifth grade. This year, he has the office of vice-president. He's also active in sports, community education, the school improvement committee and the Spanish club.

Lauzon's work for the contest is all over. The state judges will simply re-read finalists' essays and review notes the local judges took in order to determine the top two winners.

All of the finalists will be invited to a special luncheon at the Radison Hotel in Lansing on Tuesday, Nov. 29.

Free Shade Trees Offered By Arbor Day Foundation

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins the National Arbor Day Foundation during October 1988.

The free trees are part of the non-profit Foundation's efforts to encourage tree planting throughout America.

The 10 shade trees are Red Oak, Weeping Willow, Sugar Maple, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, River Birch, Tuliptree, Silver Maple, and Red Maple.

"These trees were selected to provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes, and fall colors," John Rosenow, the foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between Oct. 15 and Dec. 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to Shade Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, Neb. 68410, by Oct. 31.

Kiwanis Hears About Respiratory Diseases

Dexter Kiwanis Club heard from Julie Belote about the work of the Local TB and Emphysema Association at the Tuesday, Oct. 11, meeting, held in the parish hall of St. James Episcopal church.

The Local TB and Emphysema Association is a non-profit organization, dedicated to helping people with respiratory diseases, Ms. Belote explained.

The group loans gauges for both large and small oxygen tanks, in addition to other equipment, at no charge to the user.

The only requirement is the patient's written permission.

The organization also provides blood-pressure readings and breathing capacity tests, sending personnel to the patient's home, again without charge.

Each county has its own set-up, and donations are accepted to aid in the important work done in Washtenaw county, mailing contributions to: Local TB & Emphysema Association, P.O. Box 4419, Ann Arbor 48109.

All funds donated in Washtenaw county, stay here in the county, Julie told the Kiwanians.

In addition to providing equipment for patient use, the association does "No Smoking" presentations in the schools.

At one time, tuberculosis seemed to be pretty much eradicated in the United States, but the disease seems to be making a comeback," she informed her listeners.

With "aids" becoming more prevalent, the subsequent effect of weakening the immune system has contributed to the increase in TB incidence.

There's both bad news and good news to report about TB!

The bad news, "Tuberculosis is making definite inroads, popping up in the medical statistics."

The good news is, "It's treatable—with antibiotics."
