"Unless the DNR comes up with something else, that should be all they need to give us a license," Fahrner said.

DNR has said it will grant a new operating license once the tracing system has been approved. However, there is some question as to how long DNR's review process will take.

Residents Face Big Hike In Sewer System Charges

Village sewer system user rates will more than double if village council adopts a proposal by the administration.

The village anticipates that operating expenses for the new wastewater treatment plant will jump from an estimated $193,100 this year to $312,800 in 1989-90 to $326,300 in 1990-91.

The new plant is scheduled to come on line later this month.

"Expenses are up almost across the board," said assistant village manager Lee Fahrner.

"The three primary areas are it will take more power to operate the plant, more time will be spent operating it, and there are more DNR regulations about the monitoring the plant."

The village plans to hire another person to help run the plant, which is several times bigger than the old one. Salaries and wages are projected to rise $22,800 next fiscal year, which begins March 1.

The plant will require almost twice as much in public utilities to run it as well, as those costs are projected to rise from $59,000 to $106,000. And professional/contractual services for monitoring the plant are projected to rise from $24,900 to $52,800.

Work on New Mall Scheduled To Start By End of October

Work is scheduled to begin on the Village Mall project next to Polly's Market by the end of the month, according to developer Mike Kennedy.

Kennedy said he has tentative commitments from his two largest tenants, Arbor Drugs (10,220 square feet), and AACO Hardware (8,400 square feet).

O'Harrow Construction Co. of Jackson will be the general contractor, Kennedy said. The project should take about six months to complete, he said.

Up to eight more tenants will take up the remaining 23,210 square feet. Kennedy said he's had interested business people who want to open a hair cut salon, dance studio, jewelry store, gift and craft shop, shoe store, sporting goods store, variety clothing store, a florist and greenhouse, and a pet supplies store.

The main entrance to the mall will be from a new driveway to the south of Great Lakes Bancorp.

"We're going to have an old village design," Kennedy said.

"There will be a lot of greenscape, old style lighting, and a canopy over the sidewalk. The plans have turned out a lot prettier than we thought."

Time Changes

A Livonia development company is one step closer to building a 20-home subdivision in Lima township just east of Harper Dr.

The township planning commission voted unanimously to recommend to the township board that tentative preliminary site plans for Upland Hills subdivision be approved with the cluster housing designation sought by the developer, Harris Homes Development Co. The action came at the board's regular meeting Oct. 18. The matter now goes to the township board, presumably at the board's regular Nov. 6 meeting. If the board gives its approval, Harris Homes' road and lot layout will be good for one year.

Dr. Carol Steffenson, who has objected to the development on the grounds that there is potential for groundwater contamination due to the type of soil in the area, did not attend the meeting. However, others in the audience addressed her concerns.

"The planning commission was relatively satisfied that some of the graphic descriptions of the (potential pollution) problem were not warranted," said planning commission chairman David Bacon.

"A lot of the well logs from the area show the aquifier protected by a clay layer."

The 53 acres of the subdivision are either wetland or are called a groundwater recharge area by the county. That kind of ground provides natural conduits from the surface to the groundwater, giving an easier passage for chemicals, viruses, and other pollutants.

The board also discussed a report by Fred Barkley, a former professional planner hired by the township to make sure subdivision plans adhere to the township's zoning ordinance.

Barkley concluded that the developers had not met all the provisions of the cluster development designation at it pertains to open land.

"After discussion of Barkley's objections, we felt developers really had met the provisions of the ordinance," Bacon said.

"It just depends on how you calculate the open area. The developers showed various ways they could change the plat to meet the letter of the law, but they made for a less appropriate plan. The board, and myself, felt there was substantial compliance."

The subdivision has two separate zoned areas-one portion, about 32 acres, is rural residential, with a designation of one home per three acres, and the rest is suburban residential, or one home per acre.

Under township ordinance, developers can cluster homes together if the over-all density remains the same. If developers were to build 10 homes on 10 acres in a rural (Continued on page two)

The party begins at 6 p.m. after the traditional community trick or treat from 4-6 p.m.

The party will begin with costume judging promptly at 6.

Three "celebrity" judge teams from local Chelsea businesses will pick three winners in two categories in each of six different age groups.

The judges include Lisa and Theresa Broderick from Gemini Family Hair Care, Ann Currie and Mary Currie-Williams from Country Rose Gift Shop, and Dave and Jean Bust from Chelsea Pharmacy.

The judge teams will be assisted by Kiwanians as they choose the Most

As well as three top placers, there will be several honorable mention winners. In addition, each child will receive a Participant Ribbon.

Immediately following the judging, the antique fire truck of Jim Gaken and the Beach Middle School Marching Band, under the direction of Warren Mayer, will lead the children in the traditional parade around the block. After the parade, first, second, and third place winners will be introduced to the crowd by emcee Bill Rademacher, and photographs will be taken for The Standard.

Kiwanis Club will serve cider and doughnuts.

In the second quarter, quarterback Todd Orthring lofted a 38-yard touchdown pass to Howard Salyer. Ishmael Picklesimer was good for a successful kick to tie the score 14-14 by intermission.

With only six minutes remaining in the contest, a game-saving team of Ortbring and Jim Boyer joined together to put things away for the Bulldogs. A 23-yard TD pass from Ortbring to Boyer boosted Chelsea into the lead, 26-21; then the two paired up again for a two-point conversion play that yielded the final score, 28-21.

Thursday, Oct. 19, 1964-Civic leader J. Vincent Burg, I, Chelsea pharmacist and owner of what is now Chelsea Drug Store from 1924 until 1948, died suddenly while walking around the grounds at his Chelsea home. He was 74 years old. Mr. Burg's connection with the pharmacy profession dated back to when he was employed in the former Fenn & Vogel drug store for two years before entering Ferris College of Pharmacy where he graduated in 1909. Born in Ohio in 1890, he was a son of J. Louis and Mary Hare Burg. The family moved to Chelsea when he was four years old. He was married to Mary Spirnagle in 1913 by the Rev. Fr. William Considine at St. Mary's Catholic church. Announcement was made this week that M. W. "Mac" McClure, manager of the Chelsea office of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. would retire on Oct. 30. McClure was the first and only manager of the Chelsea branch. His wife, Hilda McClure, was also a parttime employee at the office. McClure was succeeded as manager of the Chelsea office by Fred W. Governor Calls for Regional Protection of Great Lakes

Gov. James J. Blanchard has called for co-ordinated regional action to fight illegal dumping of medical and other wastes into the Great Lakes and other waters.

Noting that an investigation has revealed Milwaukee, Wis. as the probable source of medical debris which washed up on Lake Michigan shoreline last month. Blanchard said co-operation between states is needed to solve pollution problems.

"It requires interstate, regional cooperation to fully protect the Great Lakes from the threat of medical and other waste," he said.

Blanchard has asked other Great Lakes governors to work collectively through the Council of Great Lakes Governors to develop a region-wide strategy, including uniform laws and penalties, to control waste.

A regional task force, to be chaired by Blanchard's environmental health advisor, J. D. Snyder, will meet Nov. 9 and 10 in Milwaukee to work on the strategy.

The task force was established by the eight-state Great Lakes Commission at Blanchard's request last month.

Blanchard also urged the state to enact legislation to serve as a model for other Great Lakes states.

The legislation, he said, must include a precise and careful definition of medical waste, elevate current voluntary guidelines for handling, treating and disposing of medical waste to statutory requirements, and establish record keeping requirements that enable the waste to be tracked to its source. * * *

Report Suggests Medical Waste Came from Wisconsin

A special report by a state strike force has suggested that medical waste which landed on the Lake Michigan shoreline last month originated in Wisconsin.

The report was less specific than week-end news reports stating the waste, which included four syringes containing cocaine residues, came from an unspecified hospital in southeastern Wisconsin.

The report said the items in the waste led investigators to believe it came from the Milwaukee area, but no source was identified.

The waste included caps from juice bottles from a company which bottles and retails in Milwaukee, pencils from the Kenosha area, various construction materials with markings of Milwaukee area companies, and paper shipping labels from the Milwaukee area.

Natural Resources spokesperson Sue Henry said no evidence has yet determined how the waste got into Lake Michigan, and said reports linking the waste to an unnamed hospital are incorrect.

She also said it was not clear what law would apply to waste discovered in Michigan but originating in Wisconsin.

Public Health Director Raj Wiener was quoted in the Detroit News as saying tests by a state task force indicated the waste was from a hospital in Wisconsin.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I have heard it said that great minds explore idees, average minds talk about things and small minds gossip. I ain't sure where the fellers at the country store fit on this scale, but it's allus a safe bet that when Zeke Grubb speaks in parables like he did Saturday night it's ever mind fer itself.

Zeke opened the session with the notion that the campains fer President are going like licker drinking. A feller never can git jest the right amount of licker in him to suit him, Zeke delcared, and he allus thinks he ain't got enough until he gits to much. Onct he gits to much, Zeke went on, he figgers to ease off by drinking more. It's bad enough, Zeke said, when the managers and writers of the canidates fer President offer em up like they're in a drinking contest. It's worst, he said, when the canidates git away from their scrips and say things their handlers have to spend the next three days explaining. As the days to election dwindle down to a thankful few, Zeke said, he has thought the situation up one side and down the other and he is full convinced the way to foller campains fer President is the way the U.S Forest Service fights fires. That is, leave em along and hope they burn theirselves out. The fellers never are sure where to jump in when Zeke gits on one of his jags, but Bug Hookum found a opening to say foks don't want to ignore politics in hopes it will go away. The truth is, Bug said, we all got a stake in politics and the trouble starts when we feel like we're being left out of the process. The reason we run this canidate down and build that one up, Bug went on, is that we want somebody to think what we think matters. Clem Webster was solid with Bug. He said the natural need to be took serious is the fuel fer all our television talk shows, telephone call-in shows and newspaper letters columns. He had saw where newspapers have come up with a way to combine the call ins and the letters. They put in telephone recording machines and invite readers to call. They print the telephone calls that cover ever topic readers can imagine.

Practical speaking, Clem said, we got to git more ordinary folks involved in what's going on in the country because to many of em never take the

$800,000 Bonds Will Take $2 Billion To Pay Back

Recently Margaret O'Connor, our district representative in Lansing, stood on the floor of the House and confronted her colleagues with a tough question. The members had intended, and still intend, to ask the voters for approval to borrow $800 million. The money is needed to clean up the environment of Michigan and carry out state-wide park improvements. Mrs. O'Connor's question to the legislators-and the Governor-was to the point: Why should we borrow money for these needs when we can afford to pay for them as we go along?

The Nov. 8 ballot will contain Proposal C asking $660 million for cleaning up hundreds of solid and toxic waste sites plus modernization of numerous wastewater treatment plants. Proposal D asks for $140 million to rebuild state parks and initiate local recreation programs. The two proposals, if passed, will add yet another $800 million to Michigan's present debt of $6 billion.

Representative O'Connor is 100 percent for the bi-partisan cleanup of our environment and for improving our parks. She is zero percent for bortowing the money to do it. She contends that we can and should pay for these needs as we go along.

"If we borrow $800 million for 20 years at 8%, the state will go into debt for an additional two billion dollars," she declared during an interview at Chelsea. "The taxpayers will pay $64 million interest each year for 20 years—a total of $1.28 billion. Then at the end of 20 years they, and their children (taxpayers by then) will have to pay back every cent of the original $800 million. As a result the total will amount to $2.08 billion. That doesn't make sense and the taxpayers, in self defense, should say NO to Proposals C and D on Nov. 8.'

No harm can come from turning down the bonding proposals, she added. The legislature has full authority to go ahead with every environmental improvement that is needed. They just won't have authority to borrow money to pay for it.

What can be offered as an alternative to more state borrowing? Margaret cited one of many available options. "Set aside $100 million a year in the state budget for eight years. That will pay for the environment and parks without borrowing a nickel." She is quick to ask, "Is $100 million too much to squeeze into an annual state budget of more than $16 billion? A hundred million dollars is less than one percent of such a yearly state budget. Has there ever been a time when we couldn't manage a one percent adjustment in our budget?"

Governor Blanchard, in an address to the Michigan Municipal League last month, described a program that would be spaced over decades. "Specifically, $150 million authorized by Proposal C will be used for grants and loans to communities and the private sector to reduce solid waste, help close 80 unsafe landfills, and provide alternatives to those landfills. This will enable the recycling of 25 percent of the current waste and the management of another 40 percent through waste-to-energy facilities by early in the next century. An additional $425 million will be used for cleaning up between 300 and 400 of the state's worst toxic sites in the next 10 to 20 years." (My italics.) So why the rush for aproval to borrow $800 million by selling bonds? It's pure pork barrel politics in the legislature and ballot box politics in the

"The flightly purpose never is o'ertook, unless the deed go with it . . . "

-William Shakespeare

It has been said that the road to Hell is paved with good intentions. It is true that nothing can happen unless someone makes plans, but unless the intention is put into action, the mere intention by itself is worthless.

We all know people who are forever planning great things that never come to pass. They would command more respect if they planned more carefully, were more realistic in their goals and more determined to stay with the project until their goal is reached.

Arrangements made prior to need can ensure that your wishes are carried out. May we provide more information without obligation of any kind?

Executive Office. There is only so much "disposable income" left in the state's annual budget after paying the day-to-day cost of running the government. After these built-in costs of government operation are met, every cent the legislators can lay their hands on is earmarked for the pork barrel. As you know, these are state funds that are reserved by representatives and senators in Lansing for spending on local projects. Hopefully such projects will win the gratitude of voters, reaping a harvest at the ballot box and return the legislators to office.

Each year Margaret O'Connor publishes an up-to-date list of pork barrel projects sought by her fellow legislators. The lawmakers desperately want these pork barrel goodies. The idea of diverting pork barrel funds into such things as the environment is bitterly resisted. They mutter under their breaths, "if the people want money for the environment or parks, let them agree to borrow it!'

Otherwise the barrel would be empty. Detroiters would have to pay $2,700,000 out of their own city treasury for the operation of Belle Isle Park. And ditto for $5,000,000 for the operation of Cobo Hall. The whole $7,700,000 might literally go down some formerly rat-infested sewers.

In the same way, all of $186,400 intended for a dome to cover the municipal pool in Warren could be lost forever to the cleanup of toxic waste sites. Other pork barrel favorites on the O'Connor list, doomed to go down the environmental drain, could include:

•$200,000 to restore a theater in Pontiac

- •$247,000 for a "riverfest" and rink in Flint
- •$139,000 to expand a zoo in Battle Creek
- •$350,000 to operate 8 antique trolleys in Detroit
- •$105,000 for the House Speaker's new conference room
- •$200,000 for marina improvements in Bay City
- •$100,000 to promote race track attendance
- •$ 50,000 for a floating fountain in Lansing

Mrs. O'Connor reasons logically that for awhile the politicians could forgo conventional pork barrel projects. Instead they could hope to gain the gratitude of local voters by coming home with sanitary sewers, spacious new landfills and unpoisoned groundwater.

But no. The legislators regard $800 million for any new civic necessity as a threat to their baronies. The lawmakers figure the safe way to handle such a money problem is to induce the public to consent to bond issues. "Once they have been suckered into approving a bonding proposal," they whisper, "then who's to blame for all the new public debt? The taxpayers themselves! Ho, ho, ho!'

Although the Governor admits that the environmental cleanup program will take 10 to 20 years to carry out-so that it could indeed lend itself to pay-as-you-go financing-he has private reasons for wanting the environmental spending to be derived from bond issues. As long as he charges it all to the public debt, he can manage the illusion of another "balanced budget" year for his administration.

Still other advocates of the $800 million bond scheme suggest that the state will pay both interest and capital on the borrowing as older bonds are paid off. The money once needed for retirement of the old bonds, you see, will then be available for the retirement of the environmental/park bonds. The flaw in this, of course, is that the state is already struggling up a $6 billion mountain of debt.

Bi-Partisan Support for the Environment

Cleaning up the environment of Michigan is an urgent, and serious responsibility of our state. Who wants to drink water tainted with arsenic? Or become the victims of unsuspected carcinogens? The environment is a non-partisan issue which has the active support of Governor Blanchard and former governor William Milliken. Margaret O'Connor is for it, too, but believes we can pay for it as we go. On those occasions when she addresses the House in Lansing, she stands alone on the floor of the legislative chamber, a handsome and determined woman, trying to reason with her colleagues. House membership numbers 110 and there are times when the vote for a spending bill tallies 109 to 1. Some members attempt to make light of her concerns for the taxpayers' money, but as she looks them in the eyes their smirks fade into abashed uneasiness.

whose property will be bought outright for the SSC project.

The equity payment, designed to compensate farmers for generally declining farm land values during the last decade, would be paid to the owners on top of the fair market price offered for property by the state, explained SSC executive director John Hanieski.

"The equity payment would be made for agricultural land," Hanieski said. "It is based on the appraised value of the property less improvements such as a home or barn." The equity bonus would not apply to very small rural parcels that are obviously homesteads, or country residences sometimes described as "hobby farms." Since the equity adjustment is based upon the appraised value of farm property, not a value established through condemnation, it would only be available in settlements that do not involve court proceedings. The 50-percent figure for the equity payments was derived from findings in a recent study of actual farm land sale prices in seven townships in Ingham and Jackson counties 1975 through 1987. The survey was conducted by the Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service (CES).

Nevertheless, Hanieski noted, the CES task force looked at 182 sales of farms in the immediate area that would be affected by the SSC ring and produced a recommendation based upon real data, not speculation.

"Our goal is to make sure that farmers in this predominantly rural area of the SSC site are not victims of declining agricultural land values when the particle accelerator is built near Stockbridge," Hanieski said. He added that a similar survey of residential and commercial property in the area showed no similar drop in value in recent years but, in fact, are currently at their highest value ever. Provision for the farm land equity payments was included in SSC property acquisition legislation that passed the Michigan Senate this week and will be considered in the state House soon.

A "Farm Equity Adjustment Fund" would be established by the legislature and the equity payments administered by the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Procedures for applying for the payment would be issued by the Agriculture Department.

Because of her very presence in the House, I am convinced that Margaret O'Connor has discouraged countless pork barrel raids on the Treasury and has saved the taxpayers millions of dollars.

When you go to the polls on election day, you can take pride in joining this distinguished woman in saying NO to Proposals C and D. We can take good care of our environment without pawning our future.

Q. It seems like every writer and broadcaster in the country is commenting on what has happened to investors in the past year. I know you have a lot of confidence in the stock market and I'd like to hear your view of what you think the prospects of stocks are at this time.

A. I have just finished writing an article in which we were pointing out the differences between the stock market today and a year ago. As I point out these differences, I think you will see why I am not afraid of another major break occurring, and why I think the market is more likely to move upwards. There is a big change in the way stocks are selling today. Before the break last year, a great many stocks were selling for 18 to 20 times earnings. Today stocks are more in the range of 13 to 15 times earnings. This year the earnings of a great many corporations are substantially higher. Earnings are justifying higher prices. A year ago the dollar was conprices. A year ago the dollar was con-tinuing to fall and we were all afraid it would go a lot lower. This year the dollar is more than holding steady. It is showing plenty of strength, but not enough to spoil our export advantage. A year ago we seemed to be on the verge of a major war in the mid-east and of escalating oil prices. At this time the threat of war has subsided and the price of oil is so reasonably priced it is being wasted again. A year ago the threat of inflation resurging seemed to be substantial. This year inflationary pressures have definitely subsided. Interest rates are actually lower than when the market fell apart last year. The federal budget deficit is still a major problem, but there does seem to be some hope that it will be held in check. This list suggests to me that we have a much better situation than we had a year ago. A number of investors who were new to the market in the year before the break saw the values of their stocks decline a lot and decided to sell. Those folks realized losses, but we have made a study of a group of investors who did not sell and who continued to make monthly investments of new money. On the average their stock holdings are back to within 10% of the peak they reached last September.

Sewer Charges To Increase

User rates are based on water use. For every 1,000 gallons used, residents and businesses are charged $1. The proposed rate for next year is $2.09 per unit, and $2.11 the following year.

"We would have had some increase in costs even without the new plant," Fahrner said.

The new sewer plant has become a fairly expensive proposition for village residents. Residents are paying an additional five mills in property taxes to retire the $3 million debt in construction costs.

As far as construction costs go, Fahrner said the project appears to be on budget and that none of the three percent contingency funds have been used.

34 Years Ago . . .

Washtenaw county voters were to vote on the question of transferring $110,000.00 from the county's general fund to a special fund for constructing and equipping a Juvenile Detention Home. In Sylvan township a proposal for "the sale of spirits in addition to beer and wine for consumption on the premises" was also submitted to electors.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D), sought his fourth term. Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant-governor were Donald S. Leonard and Clarence A. Reid.

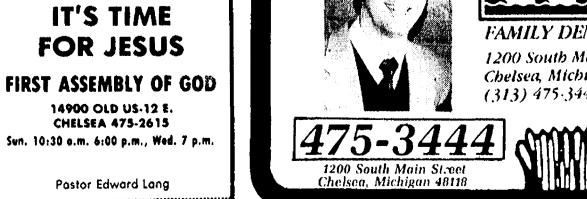

"Broadway Butterflies" and "butter-and-egg men" who took part in the American Legion's show, "You Can't Beat Fun," were: Wally Grossman, Arnold Lehman, Legion Commander William Blaess, Dudley Foster, Wendell Mitchell, Don Houle, Eldon Gorton, Charles Spencer, Elton Guenther, Ray Houle, Tom Tucci and Henry Orthring.

The world has not fallen apart as so many people were sure it would a year ago. It's never as good as you'd like to have it, but it's better now, in my opinion, than it was a year ago.

RE-ELECT SHERIFF RON SCHEBIL

The Sheriff's Department provides townships and villages 3% to 83% more law enforcement service than they pay for, according to a recent newspaper study of department records.

United Way Report

Chelsea United Way Campaign is well under way. "As of Oct. 22, $12,825 has been collected, which represents nearly 17% of our 1988 goal," reported Dave Prohaska, finance chairman. This includes residential, professional and commercial donations. Residential donations are at nearly 73% of this year's goal.

It is extremely important in reaching our goal that contributors. from Chelsea, who work outside Chelsea, remember that they may specify "Chelsea United Way" on their checks or donation cards. Monies not specified go automatically to Washtenaw United Way. Those who received mailings to their homes are reminded to send their donations also.

Professional donations are at 38% of their goal with $1,100 received.

Commercial donations are at 41% with $5,773 received.

Figures are not available yet for industry donations,

Various agencies who are recipients of Chelsea United Way allocated funds will be featured each week. The two featured agencies this week are Boy Scouts of America and the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Boy Scouts of America . . .

Boy Scouts of America continues to attract young people to its action filled program of building positive citizenship traits in young people. In Chelsea, as well as in neighboring Washtenaw county communities the attraction of the outdoors continues to draw boys' interest.

Scouting, along with all other aspects of the community, has to change with the times. Thus, while we continue to stress outdoor activities, character and citizenship development, and leadership skills, we also turn to the pressing issues of the '80's in our approach to young people. • "Scouting for Food"-In 1988 Scouts will be collecting food in Chelsea to help meet the needs of the hungry. This is part of a nation-wide effort to organize food collection and help local agencies with their distribution to the needy.

· "Drugs: A Deadly Game" was introduced in 1987 to provide education on the danger of drug misuse. The program is national in scope with information provided to every Cub Scout and Boy Scout in the nation as well as locally. Local leaders are trained in using the program with their boys using video tapes and literature.

 "Prepared for Today" is our ongoing program for the latch-key child. An information booklet is available for parents to use with their children from ages 5 to 12 which deals with time spent at home when no parental supervision is present.

• Child Abuse, a problem that will not go away, is a major concern of Scouting. Special training for adult leaders is offered on this subject as well as information for youngsters in all the Scout literature.

In Chelsea, the Boy Scout program is making great strides with over 294 Tigers, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers. There are 119 local adults who act as leaders for seven Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts.

Cystic Fibrosis Foundation . . .

Cystic fibrosis is the most common genetic killer in the United States today. It takes more lives than muscular dystrophy and juvenile diabetes combined. Twelve million Americans, one of every 20, carry the cystic fibrosis gene. Most people who have the CF gene don't know it and have no symptoms. Both parents must carry the gene to have a child with cystic fibrosis.

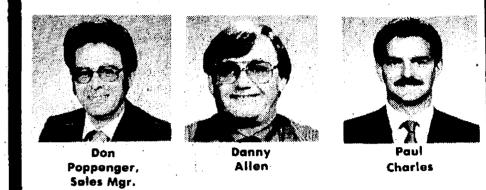

Each time two carriers conceive a child there is a 25 percent chance the child will inherit CF. Presently, there is no way to identify carriers in the general population until they have a child with the disease.

Cystic fibrosis primarily affects the lungs, pancreas and sweat glands. It causes the body to produce a thick, sticky mucus which clogs the lungs. The mucus build-up also impedes digestion. CF is sometimes confused with other childhood conditions such as pneumonia, asthma, or failure to thrive. The symptoms of cystic fibrosis include persistent coughing and wheezing, recurrent pneumonia, excessive appetite but poor weight gain, salty skin and sweat, and bulky, foul smelling stools. Keeping the lungs clear of mucus and preventing infection is a daily battle for people with CF. They are treated with postural drainage several times a day, as well as inhaling medication. CF patients also require antibiotics to help manage respiratory infections. The digestive problems are treated with pancreatic enzymes to help the body digest and absorb the nutrients in food. Children and young adults with this disease require very special care and treatment. In 1955, few children with CF lived long enough to start school. Today, more than half are living into their early twenties. The Washtenaw County Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is dedicated to finding a cure for CF through a comprehensive program of research, treatment and education. There is a network of more than 125 CF centers across the country. One of these centers is located at the University of Michigan. The Foundation, with funding from the Chelsea United Way, offers testing and treatment for CF patients at this center. The CF center offers both in-patient and out-patient services. It is in this highly specialized center that new knowledge about cystic fibrosis is translated into the best possible care for those with the disease.

Plastic Bags Made From Cornstarch?

Michigan Farm Bureau's senior legislative counsel, Robert E. Smith, says passage of a bill introduced by Senator John Glenn of Ohio would mean a new market for the nation's corn growers. Glenn's proposed legislation encourages the federal government to use biodegradable plastic bags made from cornstarch.

"It would create an entirely new market for corn and could be considered a long-term solution to our tal issue. Several European countries are already using biodegradable plastics."

The National Corn Growers estimate that more than 19 million bushels of corn per year could be used if cornstarch penetrated only 5% of the plastic packaging market.

Dogs Can't Hold On As Pinckney Rallies for 27-17 Win in SEC Finale

Southeastern Conference football season in fifth place with a 27-17 loss at Pinckney last Friday night in nasty, cold, conditions.

Chelsea jumped out to a 10-0 lead as the Bulldog defense constantly had the Pirates backed up deep in their own territory.

In addition, the Bulldog offense, particularly the running game, executed its game plan nearly perfectly in the early going and generally moved the ball effectively throughout the game.

But Chelsea couldn't hold on.

Five Chelsea turnovers and three big Pinckney plays essentially made the difference in the game.

"We cannot execute better on offense, particularly in the line, than we did against Pinckney," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave.

"We knocked them off the ball. The Saline coaching staff thinks Pinckney has the best offense in the league, but we just dominated them. Jude Quilter ran well, Jason Overdorf ran well, and the entire line played very well. But we turned the ball over. In the four games we've won this year, we've had one turnover. In the four games we've lost, we've had 13 turnovers."

LaFave said there were two critical points to the game-Pinckney's 70-yard drive at the end of the first half to close the gap to 10-7, and the Pirates' superior over-all team speed. "That drive at the end of the half was the key set of the game," LaFave said. "If we had stopped them and scored we could have just about put the game away."

Chelsea Bulldogs ended the up a one-yard score by Shannon Frece.

An interception by McWhinnie killed Chelsea's next drive at the Bulldog

The clincher of the game, however, was on a fourth down and 13 play at the Chelsea 30 with just over a minute to play. Reason faded back and rifled the ball to McWhinnie, who was all alone in the middle of the field and ran untouched into the end zone.

Chelsea opened the scoring with 10:27 left in the second quarter when Hans Staahl booted a 22-yard field goal.

The Bulldogs struck again on their next possession. Nix completed a fourth-down-and-24 play to Quilter at the two-yard line. On the next play, Quilter scored.

Quilter had another excellent night as he rushed for 149 yards on 26 carries and caught six passes for 78 yards. Overdorf, in his first full-time running assignment of the year, picked up 53 yards on 14 carries. Chelsea had 297 total yards to 303 for Pinckney. The Pirates had 197 yards in the air, including four passes to Black for 148 yards.

Crestwood will provide the opposition in Chelsea's final game of the season this Friday at Niehaus field. Crestwood is another big, physical team that will run the ball far more often than it passes. Until two weeks ago, Crestwood was in the hunt for a playoff spot. However, they've lost their last two games and are 5-3. "It will be a good challenge for us,"

Chelsea Bulldogs remained in a tie period, aided in part by 10 Chelsea were Brown with nine, Scott with six, Flintoft with four, and Petty and

Not only did the Bulldogs fail to keep the Pirates out of the end zone before the intermission, they turned the ball over on their first two possessions of the second half. A fumble halted the opening drive at the Pinckney 30, and an interception killed the second at the Pinckney 15. Two plays after the interception. Pirate quarterback Thomas Reason hit wide receiver Jim Black on an 83-yard pass-and-run play. Black was wide open on the right side of the field and simply outran the Chelsea secondary. The kick failed and Chelsea was suddenly down 13-10.

However, Chelsea came right back with a 74-yard drive of its own. Quarterback Larry Nix hit tight end David Zerkel on a 22-yard pass play to the 48. Three plays later Quilter ran to the Pinckney 35, and a piling on penalty took the ball to the 20. Quilter scored with 8:35 left in the game, giving the Dogs a 17-13 lead.

Pinckney didn't stay on the short end for long as they answered again on the next drive covering 70 yards. A 41-yard pass from Reason to Black set JUDE QUILTER had another fine all-around offensive performance for Chelsea as he accounted for more than 200 yards in offense last Friday at Pinckney. He also scored both Chelsea touchdowns in the 27-17 defeat.

Dog Boy Runners Finish Sixth in League Standings

Chelsea boys cross country team ended their dual meet season with a 20-36 loss to the undefeated Pinckney Pirates on Thursday, Oct. 20. Senior Paul Hedding was the top Chelsea runner, taking third place, three seconds out of second.

"The boys team ran fairly well, but Pinckney was just too much for us,' said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"It is encouraging to see some of the young junior varsity runners making steady progress. Maybe next year we will be able to compete a little better."

The boys finished with a 1-5 record in the Southeastern Conference, good for sixth place.

Hedding finished the race in 17:26. Bulldogs behind him included Brian Zangara, 6th, 18:22; Holden Harris, 7th, 18:30; Matt Riemenschneider. 9th, 18:57; Jeff Latimer, 11th, 19:05; Kelly Beard, 14th, 19:16; Jim Hassett, 15th, 19:26; Erich Hammer, 17th, 20:00: Jake Rindle, 18th, 20:19; Jason Allen, 19th, 20:24; Justin White, 21st, 20:38; Kirk Hedding, 25th, 21:45; and Brian Andress, 26th, 22:49.

and we went to the free throwsline and in lot," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"Unfortunately, we didn't make very many shots."

Milan's two best players fouled out early in the fourth quarter to give the Dogs a big advantage going down the stretch.

However, Chelsea made only 15 of 33 foul shots to make the game tighter than it should have been.

"Even though we won by quite a few points, we did not play very well," Rosentreter said.

"They had as many rebounds as we did and that's not good, we can't play that way. They also got a lot of inside shots, and we should not have let that happen."

Jenni Smith paced Chelsea with 22 points, Heather Neibauer scored 12, Allison Brown had seven, Kelley Scott scored six on two three-point field goals, Scharme Petty scored four and Shannon Losey had two.

Neibauer also had seven rebounds, seven steals and five assists.

In the Hartland game, Chelsea shut out their opponents in the first quarter, 21-0, and cruised to victory.

Everyone had the chance to play as Rosentreter took his starters out for the fourth quarter when the Bulldogs had a 20-point lead. Hartland closed the gap substantially in the final

SPORTS NOTES BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Once again the Chelsea Bulldog football team managed to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory.

Chelsea lost to the Pinckney Pirates, the Southeastern Conference's second place team, 27-17; on a wet, cold night that seemed to grow colder as the Pirates rallied.

Pinckney had everything to play for. It was homecoming (so young ladies were parading around in dresses made for summertime), parents night, and the team had a good chance to make the playoffs. The Pirates should have been more fired up than they've been all year.

However, Chelsea should have won something like 28-10. They dominated the Pirates in the first half and nearly led at half-time 10-0. Pinckney was constantly facing fourth down and very long situations. However, the Pirates scored with :24 left in the half to make it 10-7.

On the Bulldogs' first two drives of the second half they fumbled at the Pinckney 30 and had a pass picked off at the Pirate 15.

What's even more depressing is that despite turning the ball over five times, Chelsea still had a chance to win late in the game.

Down 20-17 with 1:32 left, Pinckney had a fourth down and 13 at the Chelsea 30. A stop would have given the Dogs good field position and a good shot to win. However, Pinckney guarterback Thomas Reason fired across the middle to Dave McWhinnie for a 30-yard TD, a play that caught Chelsea completely off guard. To his credit, Reason rifled the ball right on target-there was nothing cheap about it. It was one of the best plays I've seen all year.

That was the crowning touch. But there were at least two other big plays that burned Chelsea, one an 83-yard touchdown pass from the wishbone formation.

So Chelsea finished fifth in the SEC with a 2-4 record. The only teams they beat, Tecumseh and Lincoln, were the two teams that finished lower in the standings.

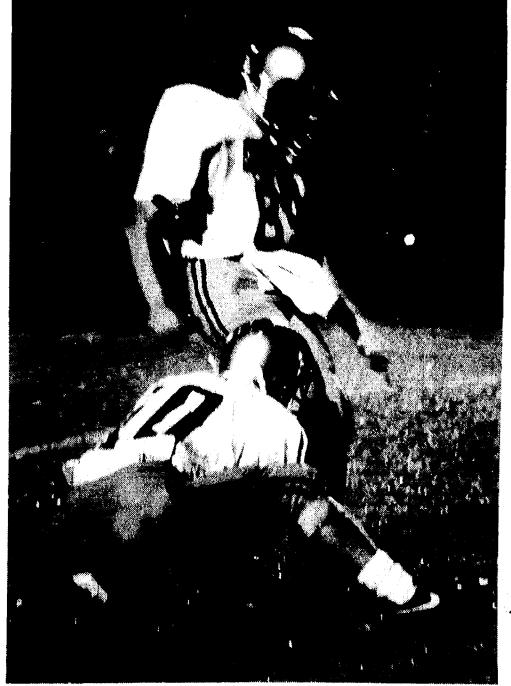

Looking back, the Bulldogs could have beaten Saline, Dexter, and Pinckney and shared or won the league title. They had talent enough to beat the opposition. But they lacked the concentration or some other intangible to overcome their own mistakes.

A win this week gives the Bulldogs a winning season at 5-4.

This has been the Year of the Suspension for Chelsea High school athletes. I can think of at least four JV and varsity football players, as well as two cross country runners, who have been suspended from school and/or teams for a variety of reasons.

Normally I don't pay much attention to these kinds of things as I've always thought hormones are the second most powerful substances on the planet. But I've had people (not necessarily parents) complain that this or that suspension was not fair considering what kind of punishment was handed down to other athletes for the crimes they committed. Appeals have been filed. It's been interesting to watch.

Through it all, though, at least two people have had kind words for new superintendent Joe Piasecki, whom they say is a fair man when he considers these situations.

Chelsea High school girls basketball is having one fine season.

The varsity team, as of last week, was tied for first place in the conference. And the JV team is pounding their opponents through the floor boards.

Through the first 12 games of the season, the JVs had almost exactly doubled their opponents in scoring, 672-338. And considering they've lost a game, that makes the victories even more lopsided.

What makes it all even more unlikely is the JVs have only eight girls on the team.

Success, however, is nothing new for the JV program. While some may have strong opinions about coach Paul Terpstra's methods, few doubt that he is an excellent coach.

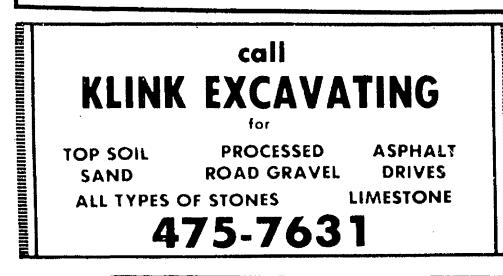

The varsity team, under Rahn Rosentreter, has a chance to have a long season. Even if they don't win the league, the Bulldogs should be formidable opponents during the playoffs. There's no reason they can't win the district tournament. They have the talent. Whether they have the composure, confidence, and other intangibles remains to be seen.

If co-captains Heather Neibauer and Jenni Smith, and guard Kelley Scott are playing at the peak of their game, Cheisea will be extremely difficult to beat. Allison Brown can add another dimension to the inside game.

Perhaps you noticed two familiar names in last week's Just Reminiscing column. Jeff Daniels and Wayne Welton were two of the winners of the local Punt, Pass, and Kick competition 24 years ago.

Welton, as you probably know, is THE Wayne Welton, the one who teaches and coaches at Chelsea High school.

Daniels, as you also probably know, is one of columnist Bob Talbert's best friends. He likes new houses, old stadiums, and lives in a small town in Michigan-but we're not letting on which one.

In the Hartland trouncing, Chelsea pulled ahead 17-1 in the first quarter. After taking a 31-11 half-time lead, lost its final Southeastern Conference Chelsea outscored Hartland in the third quarter, 27-4.

"We had 30 steals and they just couldn't handle the pressure," said time, but the Pirates exploded in the Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra.

"Colleen Scharphorn had a big night at she scored 31 points, a season high. Mercedes Hammer had 16, Kate Dilworth and Jennifer Petty scored four each, and Jennifer Bobo and Christine Burg scored two each.

Chelsea shot 38 percent from the field.

In the Milan contest, Chelsea jumped out to a 21-2 lead in the first quarter, then outscored the Big Reds the Bulldogs as he rushed for 156 23-7 in the third quarter to take a 55-21 lead going into the final quarter.

The Bulldogs used pressure defense to turn many of their 38 steals into easy lay-ups.

Chelsea won the Milan game 27-15. Against Dexter, Chelsea had to rally from a fourth quarter deficit. game of the season at home against Pinckney last Thursday.

Chelsea was down 14-13 at halfsecond half to take a 43-13 win.

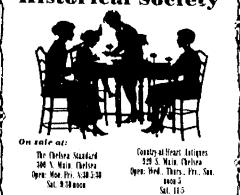

"Although we had some fine individual performances, we didn't play up to our potential as a team," said Chelsea coach Mike Bohlender.

Chelsea's T.J. Hackworth rushed for 65 yards on 13 carries and quarterback Tucker Steele picked up 60 yards on five rushes. Steele also completed eight passes for 79 yards.

Rick Westcott had the big day for yards on 24 carries.

Bohlender praised the play of strong safety Rob Clem and defensive tackle Joe Huetteman. Clem had two interceptions and five tackles, and Huetteman had four tackles.

Sigal said that each winter the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake. In the winter, homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes area are cautioned to prepare for the lowering of the lake level which coincides with the closing of the boat launch facilities.

Two Certified As Orthodontics Assistants (COA)

Rene A. Holt, R.D.A. and Bonnie A. Howard can now add the professional designation COA after their names. The letters denote their new status as Certified Orthodontic Assistants, which was awarded to them on Oct. 7, after they had passed a rigorous examination by the Dental Assisting National Board, Inc.

In addition to passing the test consisting of some 300 questions, a candidate must meet certain eligibility requirements of education and experience. The board offers certification not only for general chairside competence, but also for mastery of management skills, as well as advanced knowledge in orthodontic assisting.

As Certified Orthodontic Assistants, both Rene and Bonnie have demonstrated command of a number of subjects such as prevention of disease transmission, orthodontic materials, prevention and management of emergencies and radiation health and safety. They have also mastered the delivery of a variety of orthodontic procedures to assist Dr. Mary K. Barkley in providing patient Keep experience, leadership and integrity in the county's top law enforcement office. Vote for Bill Delhey.

Fermilab Study Shows Little Radiation Risk

celerator Laboratory (Fermilab) near Chicago.

The Radiation" report, which was revised April 5, 1988, states that the average yearly "site boundary dose for the past 10 years of Fermilab operations has been 3.3 millirems," far less than even the variance of background radiation doses received by people living in different parts of the country.

"To say it another way, if people were to stand shoulder-to-shoulder all around our site boundary 24 hours per day, and 365 days per year, then the highest dose that any of them would receive is represented by the 'site boundary dose'," the report said. "Obviously no person is at our fence line around the clock 365 days per year—so the actual dose received by any neighbor is less than the site boundary dose."

Background radiation in the United States from natural sources such as cosmic rays, water, food and soil ranges from about 100 millirems to about 250 millirems per year. A person living in Wyoming, for example, receives about 145 millirems more natural radiation than a person in Louisiana due to the higher altitude.

"Scientific studies have failed to show any correlation between increased background doses with increased cancer rates," the Fermilab report said.

The report compared the 3.3 millirem annual "boundary dose" at Fermilab with approximately 84 millirems radiation received from two bite wing dental x-rays, or 2,500 millirems from a single CAT scan medical procedure.

Fermilab retained 26 on-site, open farm wells for monitoring when the accelerator was built. It also monitors many off-site wells for possible radia-

There is virtually no radiation risk tion. According to the report, no to people living near a particle ac- radiation generated by Fermilab has celerator such as the proposed Super- ever been detected in any water well conducting Super Collider (SSC) ac- sample, lake, stream or animals. Aircording to a report issued by the safe- borne radiation has averaged about ty office at the Fermi National Ac- 0.025 millirem per year (one-tenth of one percent of the EPA limit), and all isotopes are very short-lived (the "Fermilab/SSC and longest half-life being about 90 minutes). The report said Fermilab's insurance carrier puts its employees in the lowest risk category.

The SSC, despite its greater size, would pose even less of a risk because it would collide two beams of moving protons rather than hit fixed targets with proton beams as does Fermilab, the SSC will be buried far underground while the Fermilab tunnel is at the surface, and the SSC would be creating proton-proton collisions while Fermilab produces antiprotons which releases radioactive gases, the report said.

The report also noted that soil samples taken four feet outside a beam absorber at Fermilab after 10 years of bombardment revealed only about 15 percent of the 4 millirem-peryear EPA limit for drinking water. By comparison, Lake Michigan water has radioactivity equivalent to about 20 percent of the EPA drinking water standards.

The depth of the SSC tunnel (an average of 140 feet below the surface at the Michigan Stockbridge site) will provide tremendous shielding.

"Every three feet deeper the accelerator is, results in 10 times less dose. Thus, 42 feet deep means accidental losses result in 10,000 times less dose (i.e., 0,001 millirem)," the report said. It concluded that environmental radiation sources are much higher than anything produced by a particle accelerator, and that the SSC will have no radiation impact on

Copies of the Fermilab/SSC radiation report are available from the Michigan SSC Office, 320 N. Washington Square, Suite 100, Lansing 48913, or by calling (517) 334-6407.

THIS CHELSEA DEFENDER got into the Pinckney backfield even before hand-off was completed last Friday at Pinckney. The Chelsea defense stifled the Pirate offense for most of the first half, but fell victim to the big play in the second half. The 27-17 loss gave Chelsea a fifth-place finish in the league.

The word road some experts think came from the Middle English word rode meaning "a mounted journey."

Clothing, ethnic costumes and bow ties worn to public events by Williams and his wife while Soapy served as governor, U. S. assistant secretary of State for African Affairs, and U.S. ambassador to the Philippines will be displayed when the spectacular new Michigan Historical Museum opens in Lansing this January.

In addition to two floors of permanent exhibits, a 5,000-square-foot temporary display entitled "Michigan Dresses Up" will open in January. "Michigan Dresses Up" features clothing worn by famous and private Michiganians since pioneer days, including formal dress, ethic clothing, military uniforms, work clothes and everyday wear.

Playing a significant role in the creation of the new museum is the Michigan Historial Commission, which celebrated the 75th anniversary of its existence this year. The commission or one of its forerunners has been preserving Michigan history since the 1870's, covering all but the first 30 years of Michigan statehood.

For various political reasons the goals and responsibilities of the original Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society were absorbed by the Michigan Historical Commission, a governmental department, in 1913.

The commission's responsibilities were later incorporated into the Bureau of History, Department of State, as a result of the 1961-62 Constitutional Convention. The Commission continues to serve the Bureau of History in active and advisory capacities.

RESOLUTION

MODIFICATIONS OF TWO (2) HOUR PARKING LOCATIONS AND FINE STRUCTURE

The Chelséa Downtown Development Authority (DDA) is undertaking parking improvements including the development of a new, long-term surface parking lot on the Chelsea Milling property located behind the Fire Station on Middle Street, the development of new parking spaces on the Village property on Park Street and the re-striping and landscaping of existing parking lots.

It is desirable that as part of this parking improvement program, shortterm parking spaces, as well as handicap spaces, be made available for general public use with these spaces being conveniently located to the businesses and services in the downtown area.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Village Council, that the following areas be designated as two (2) hour parking spaces and handicap spaces effective on the completion of the long-term parking lot construction north of the West Middle Fire Station:

Lot No. 1: East side of Main Street. Behind stores to wall left of East Middle Street entrance to stairway next to Springer Agency-two (2) hour limit plus two (2) handicap spaces. Approximately twenty-five (25) spaces.

Lot No. 2: Between Harper Pontiac and Chelsea Glass. Two (2) hour limit on one-half $(\frac{1}{2})$ of the lot and one (1) handicap space. Approximately ten (10)

Motion by Boham, supported by Kanten, to adopt the above resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

RESOLUTION

LOAN OF FUNDS TO THE DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY AND TRANSFER OF FUNDS FROM THE PARKING METER FUND

The Chelsea Downtown Development Authority (DDA) is undertaking parking improvements including the development of a new, long-term, surface parking lot on the Chelsea Milling property located behind the Fire Station on Middle Street, the development of new parking spaces on the Village property on Park Street and the re-striping and landscaping of existing lots.

It is desirable that this parking program be initiated as soon as possible so as to insure that downtown Chelsea remains a viable and vibrant economic and retail center.

The DDA has agreed to finance said parking improvement program out of its two (2) mill tax assessment as well as from its first tax increment financial bond issue. However, in order for the DDA to begin immediate construction, it is necessary that the Village of Chelsea provide short-term financing of the improvements.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea will loan to the Chelsea DDA from the Electric Fund a sum not to exceed Forty-Seven Thousand ($47,000.00) Dollars for a period not to exceed six (6) years at the current rate of interest.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea will participate in the costs of the improvements by expending the Twenty-Eight Thousand ($28,000.00) Dollars from the Parking Meter Fund that has previously been earmarked for downtown parking.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea will transfer, from time to time as the need arises, from the Parking Meter Fund to the Chelsea DDA Twenty-Eight Thousand ($28,000.00) Dollars.

BE IT STILL FURTHER RESOLVED, that the funds advanced to the DDA by the Village of Chelsea may only be used for the purposes for which they were provided; that is, the construction and development of additional long-term and short-term parking in the downtown area.

At the meeting Stephen Bartholomew, PA-C, a member of the hospital's medical staff, will discuss the effects of these two drugs on the body. Bartholomew will also discuss the treatment options that are available for both the substance abuser and his or her family.

Brighton Hospital hosts the monthly series to provide helpful information to the community about chemical dependence. According to Ellen Ayers, director of counseling services, most of the people who attend are concerned about the drinking or drug use of a family member or friend. Others are parents who want to learn about alcohol and other drugs so they can prevent problems from arising.

In a recent edition of your paper, the sports notes column had an interesting article about the coaches dilemma in our school district. This article brought up many interesting points, one in particular, coaches who are teachers and coaches who are not teachers.

It is disturbing to see so many teams with coaches who are not employed by the school district. It is disturbing to see so many teachers that are highly qualified to coach not coaching. The big question is "why?"

Last year our school was faced with teacher lay-offs. A small group of students were very concerned about the loss of two teachers and a coach. So concerned were these students, that they started two petition drives (one for students and one for parents and taxpayers). Upon completion of this signature drive, the students went through the proper channels to address the School Board and Administration. After addressing the School Board the petitions were given to the Board and somehow magically disappeared. These students were concerned with the loss of two teachers and their coach. As everyone knows, we only lost the teacher/coach.

The big mystery remains and the question of why still exists. If Mr. Piasecki, Mr. Reed, and their committee are sincere about keeping coaches and teacher/coach combinations there is a way to address the problem. They could start by rehiring Rahn Rosentretter, first as an educator, and second as a coach.

Jim Knott.

The soft white flow of window candles, the tiny sparkling lights that adorn the outside landscaping, boughs and roping all help to create a quiet, beautiful Christmas at one of the oldest homes (120 years) in the North Lake area.

The family's pride is the huge "field grown" tree that stands with all its majestic beauty in the front window. Its branches hold many memories and a 20-year accumulation of ornaments, including a hand-made angel from the Tiedgens' first Christmas.

Their Santa collection will be found throughout the house. A collection of Ducks is on a small tree in the family room, Christmas is everywhere.

The primitive country decor is the main theme throughout the three floors. Mr. Perkins quotes "Most of our furniture and accessories are Canadian Mennonite" of the early 19th century, much of it has been restored by Mr. Perkins.

Each nook and corner is filled with Christmas trimmings. Interwoven with the decorations is a "pre-war" toy collection. All adding to the season proclaiming Christmas is arriving.

Festival of Lights Committee Needs Volunteer Helpers

Volunteer organizations are needed to help make the first annual Chelsea "Festival of Lights" a success. A group which will agree to distribute, light and retrieve the candles on Friday, Dec. 9 is the first organization needed. Musical groups willing to perform short sets on that evening are also needed. Persons to set-up and take down any special effects would be welcome.

The first annual festival could become another Chelsea tradition, one which involves a great many Chelsea residents for one night of fun. The possibilities are limited only by the number of people able to participate.

SSC Construction Here Will Not Need Huge Labor Camp

Building the Superconducting Super project in under budget and ahead of Collider in Michigan will not create a huge worker camp, according to representatives of the construction industry and labor unions who spoke at the SSC public hearing in Stockbridge, Sept. 26.

Anne Boomer Milligen, treasurer of the Construction Association of Michigan, and Ken Case, secretary/treasurer of the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council, were among an estimated 90 persons who addressed the U.S Department of Energy (DOE) team at the Stockbridge High School gymnasium. The DOE representatives were taking oral testimony on the draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) for the particle accelerator project.

The EIS noted that the impact of construction workers who might need temporary or permanent housing near the site was less in Michigan than at any of the other six competing sites. However, the EIS counted 1,830 housing units needed at the Michigan schedule." He also offered a "nostrike" pledge for the SSC.

"Michigan is ready and eager to have the SSC located here," Case concluded. "We have the skilled craftsmen and contractors to begin the project tomorrow."

After the DOE announces its "preferred site" for the SSC in late November, another round of hearings to receive public comment will be held and a final EIS on the winning site will be prepared.

"I understand your concern about the possibility of uncontrolled growth in Stockbridge if the SSC is located here," Milligen told the DOE team. "However, I do not believe that such a situation is likely to occur as a result of building this project [here]. Michigan has a strong history of moving manpower and materials around the state to accomodate construction timetables.'

"Michigan's supplier industry has an abundance of resources to provide economical production and efficient delivery of quality products to the Stockbridge site without serious impact to the community," Milligen concluded.

Case, whose organization represents more than 100,000 members of the building trades, said construction camps would not be needed because most of the skilled workers required for the project live within daily driving distance of Stockbridge. "About 69,000 building trades workers live within a 75-mile radius, or one and one-half hours or less driving time, to the project," Case said. "Of those, about 11,000 workers live within a 50-mile radius, or a one-hour drive or less.

"Having skilled tradesmen in these numbers available within these distances will eliminate the need to import large numbers of workers from other areas and states," Case told the DOE panel.

Milligen, whose company supplies construction materials, noted in her remarks that Michigan is the fourthlargest cement producer in the United States, and that concrete production in this state last year equalled 22 times the amount needed for the SSC project. She also pointed out that only four companies in North America make the special tunneling equipment needed for the SSC, and two of them are located in Michigan.

Case, speaking for the trades unions, said apprentice and journeymen training programs in Michigan are among the best in the country and will provide "the calibre of workmanship that will bring this

Mark Cwiek will head the entertainment committee, which will arrange for both the tree-lighting and the Main St. areas to have caroling and other productions.

If the budget will allow, prizes will be awarded to the best decorated business and home on Main St. The committee will find out which local business will carry the long-burning candles which can be sold at cost to the homeowners who wish to line their walks as well.

Committee members expressed the wish that this event become a Chelsea tradition, building on this year's to make it succeedingly larger as the years go by.

Portage Lake Association To Sue Putnam Township

Despite the fact that the Putnam township board recently granted preliminary approval to Lawrence Baughn to plat the 50 acres near Portage Lake that he plans to put a subdivision on, Portage and Base Lake Whitewood Owners Association will persist in their lawsuit, which dates from 1968, to stop the development.

Putnam township will be named the third party in the Harold Early vs. Lawrence Baughn lawsuit, said PBLWO secretary Doug Smith.The association has also named the DNR as one of the defendants.

PBLWO association was formerly called Portage and Base Lake Owners' Association. The PBLWO was incorporated in mid-October after adding 200 new members by banding together with Gallagher Lake Association, White Lodge Association, Dunlavy Lane Association and Whitewood Owners Association. Altogether, the association has 600 members.

mit to finish the work. The lawsuit claims that Baughn violated the terms of the permit.

Baughn admits that he did not follow the specifications of the permit, which he applied for when the law was implemented in 1967, to the letter. "I went a little bit further than what the permit authorized. . . I went a few feet in length longer than the permit allowed but (I didn't go any further) in width (than the permit allowed.)"

The DNR approved what he did after their initial inspection in 1970, he said.

The case has been in and out of court over the years, Smith said. Last January, Judge William Fulkerson, the administrative law judge for the DNR's Lansing office, wrote in his decision that, "the project was completed in substantial compliance with the permit requirement."

"The hearing last January refuted

Baughn says that he wants to build the subdivision in order to "dispose of the property, part of a family inheritance."

When asked why he wants to dispose of it, he said, "If I have something and I want to get rid of it, do I have to have a reason."

As for the PBWO, Baughn said, "They are a group of selfish individuals trying to keep other people from enjoying the lake.

knowledgeable of the rules but they've been folding up and giving away the store," Smith said. "They never provided the finding of fact (ordered years ago by a court of appeals)," he said. As a result of their dissatisfaction with the department, the association will also sue the DNR.

Smith contends that Portage Lake has reached a saturation point because of heavy boat use.

"I don't bother to go out on Saturday or Sunday because there are so many boats, it's dangerous."

The subdivision Baughn proposes to build would be called Portage Highlands III. It would have 40 lots ranging from three-quarters of an acre to two acres in size. Portage Highlands I and II, and Camelot I, II and III are the other subdivisions Baughn developed in the Portage Lake area. At one time, his family owned most of the Portage Lake waterfront property. His family developed Baughn's Bluff, one of the oldest Portage Lake subdivisions.

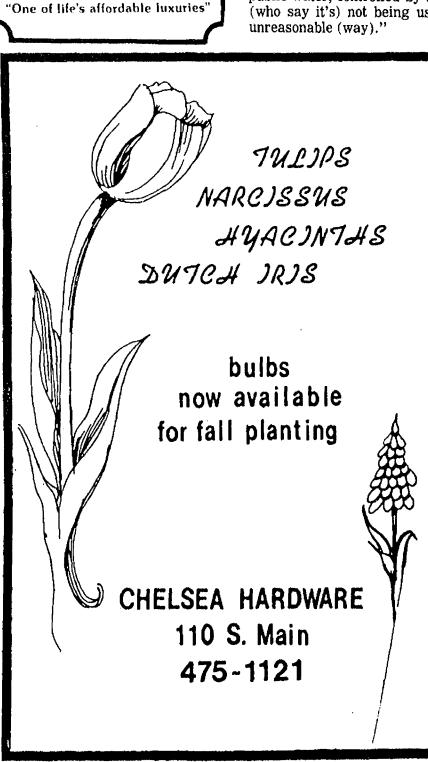

Baughn said he doesn't know if Portage Lake receives too much use.

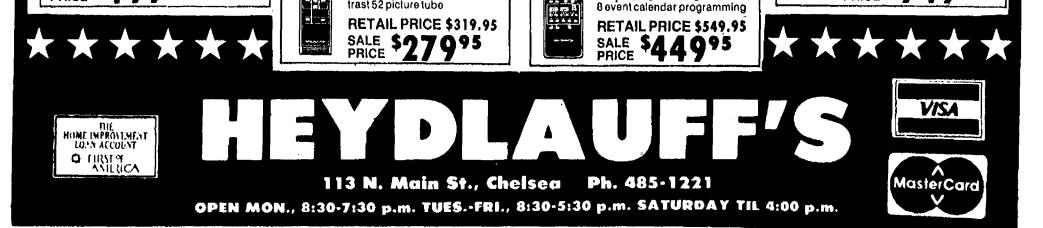

"I have never had any problem getting on it," he said. "Portage Lake is public water, controlled by the DNR, (who say it's) not being used in an
