Presidential Race Heads Lengthy Ballot As Voters Go to the Polls Tuesday

Voters go to the polls next Tuesday, Nov. 8 to elect a new president as incumbent Ronald Reagan will leave office next January after eight years.

In addition, local voters will face a lengthy ballot of offices and state and local proposals.

Vice-President George Bush and his running mate Dan Quayle are favored in national polls to beat the Democratic ticket of Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis and his running mate Lloyd Bentsen. Bush and Quayle are likely to take western Washtenaw county by a wide margin as virtually no one runs for any office in Sylvan, Lima, Dexter, Lyndon, Webster, Freedom, or Sharon townships as a Democrat.

One of the most heated races involves state senator Lana Pollack, a Democrat, who is trying to unseat incumbent Carl Pursell for a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives, 2nd district. Both have had sizeable advertising budgets and the tone of their campaigns has been similar to that between the two presidential candidates.

Among state elections, incumbent Margaret O'Connor faces Democratic challenger Mary Schroer in the race for 52nd district representative.

Candidates for 22nd district representative are Republican Richard Reed and Democrat Kirk Profit.

The ballot also includes four state proposals, two county proposals, and a Washtenaw Community College millage renewal proposition.

State proposal A asks voters if they want to restrict the use of tax funds for abortions for women receiving public assistance. Proposal A has been the subject of numerous television commercials.

Proposal B deals with including crime victims' rights in the state constitution.

Proposal C seeks authorization for bonds for environmental protection programs.

Proposal D seeks authorization for bonds for state and local recreation projects.

County proposal 1 seeks a tax increase of .25 mills to be used for parks and recreation purposes.

County proposal 2 seeks a tax increase of .84 mills for facilities for county courts and other county functions.

Washtenaw Community College is asking voters to raise its tax base by one mill for 10 years, from 2.95 to 3.95 mills.

Among county offices up for grabs, incumbent sheriff Ron Schewing squares off against Harold J. Owings.

A new drain commissioner will be chosen as Republican Phil Bondie and Democrat Janis Bobrin are on the ballot.

Democrat Terrence J. O'Hagan and Republican William F. Delhey are running for prosecuting attorney.

Democrat Jan BenDor and Republican incumbent Michael Stimpson are the candidates for treasurer.

All candidates in Freedom, Dexter, Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, Sharon, Scio, and Webster townships are running unopposed. The only Democrat in the bunch is William Eisenbeiser of Dexter township, candidate for clerk.

Unless a substantial write-in candidacy is mounted, the following will be the slate of officers in each township after the election.

Dexter Township
 James Drolett, supervisor; Eisenbeiser, clerk; Julie Knight, treasurer; and Earl Doletzky and H. Douglas Smith, trustees.

Freedom Township
 Robert Little, supervisor; Julie

Schaible, clerk; Walter Heire, treasurer; Dale Weidmayer and William Uphaus, trustees.

Lima Township
 Leila Bauer, supervisor; Arlene Bareis, clerk; Betty Messman, treasurer; Charles Trinkle and Robert Heller, trustees; Glen Wiseman, constable.

Lyndon Township
 John Francis, supervisor; Linda Wade, clerk; Janis Knieper, treasurer; Barbara Roderick and L. Duane Noah, trustees; Kathryn Sprawka and Paul Wade, constables.

Scio Township
 Richard DeLong, supervisor; Gay Konschuh, clerk; Donna Palmer, treasurer; Charles Ream, Kathi Boyle, Janet Gerson, and Robert Tickle, trustees.

Sharon Township
 John Francis, supervisor; Duane Haselschwert, clerk; Shirley Neigbauer, treasurer; Willard Blumenauer and Donald Irwin, trustees.

Sylvan Township
 Don Schoenberg, supervisor; Mary Harris, clerk; Fred Pearsall, treasurer; Earl Heller and Reuben Lesser, Jr., trustees.

Webster Township
 Don Zeeb, supervisor; Wana Baldus, clerk; Janis Keogh, treasurer; Hugh Moser and Paul Kleinschmidt, trustees.

In other county elections of local interest, commissioners of Prall and Martin Straub are running unopposed.

Other elections are being held for the State Board of Education, University of Michigan Regents, Michigan State University Trustee, Wayne State University Governors, justice of the state Supreme Court, Washtenaw Community College trustee, and judges for circuit court, district court, and the court of appeals.

DNR Fields Questions About Village Landfill, Many Can't Be Answered

Last Thursday night about 40 area residents listened to officials from the Department of Natural Resources, Village of Chelsea, and Washtenaw County Health Department describe what is being done to address groundwater pollution problems around village landfill on Werkner Rd.

The occasion was a public hearing set up by the DNR.

The two-hour public hearing, most of it a question-and-answer session, dealt with a variety of topics concerning the landfill, including licensing and history. However, little new information came to light.

In addition, village and DNR officials appeared to go out of their way not to accuse each other of foot-dragging and other charges that have been discussed in other public forums.

Former assistant village manager Lee Fahrner spoke on behalf of the village, with help from Gary Evans, a consultant with Soils and Materials Engineers. Lonnie Lee, head of the DNR's waste management division, and DNR geologists Synthia Noble and Barb Vetort were on hand.

Village Trustee Richard Steele was in the audience. No other council members attended. Former trustee Jim Finch attended, as did landfill operator Cecil Clouse.

Many people who attended live near the landfill. And their main concern was groundwater pollution spreading to their wells. Some were concerned that publicity about the site had lowered their property values.

Tests of wells on Wildflower Ridge, a road adjacent to the landfill, have shown varying levels of arsenic in the drinking water. However, DNR officials said they are confident the arsenic is not coming from the landfill as tests of groundwater around the landfill site show, if anything, only trace amounts of arsenic.

Steve Manville of the county health department said the arsenic is probably coming from a shale formation into which most of the Wildflower Ridge wells are dug. At least one resident said her family has been drinking bottled water for most of the year. Manville also said the well tests showed no sign of any organic con-

Well Tests Available for Less Than $100

Residents near the village landfill who are concerned about the quality of their drinking water can have their wells tested for about 70 potential contaminants for less than $100.

Wallace Fusilier, a water scientist living in Dexter, has kits available free of charge that are used to take water samples. Those samples are then sent to a laboratory for screening. The tests detect both organic chemicals and arsenic, among other potential pollutants.

Fusilier said the quality control of the lab appears to be excellent. Fusilier may be reached at 426-8972.

taminants that have been found near the landfill. He said the Wildflower Ridge area appears to be protected by a 30-foot layer of clay, which would make it difficult for contaminants to reach their wells.

Both DNR and the village agreed that landfill groundwater testing is in its preliminary stages and that no one knows the extent of the pollution problem.

"We've got to start somewhere," Fahrner said.

Lee confirmed that once a tracer system is fully developed by the village consultant and approved by the DNR that a new license would be issued "in an expeditious manner." However, he did not indicate how long that process might take. It was also not clear whether the license is likely to be granted before a 60-day administrative appeal period ends in early December. That could force the village to shut down the facility, at least temporarily. The village has run out of license extensions.

Evans said tests of water flowing into the landfill should be completed by this week. That will allow consultants to figure out which tracing chemical to use.

The proximity of the old, unlined landfill and the newer lined landfill is apparently at least partially responsible for the licensing hang-up. Two monitoring wells were dug between the landfills. One has never shown any pollution, Fahrner said, and the other has shown trace amounts of an

A STORMWATER DRAINAGE PROJECT has been approved for this low-lying area just north of Bridgetown Condominiums. Last Wednesday Washtenaw county held a public hearing and board of determination on the matter. The board voted unanimously that the project, petitioned for by the village, is needed. Many area residents attended the meeting and expressed their concerns. Most of the cost of the project will be paid for by the developer, Lloyd Bridges. When the project is completed, there will be 80 condominiums.

Bridgetown Drain Project Approved by County

A stormwater drainage district, primarily to benefit the Bridgetown Condominium project, was approved unanimously by a Board of Determination after a public hearing last Wednesday evening in the village council chambers.

The entire project, which is estimated to cost about $50,535, will move forward if no one takes legal action within 10 days of the approval.

A number of area residents whose property will conceivably benefit by the project were on hand. Several of them said they didn't think the village gave them adequate warning of the project. About 40 parcels of property are affected, according to Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner C. Delores Sigal.

All three members of the board were given a guided tour of the area by Kevin Sullivan, the deputy drain commissioner.

Bridgetown Condominiums has already spent $34,560 on the project, leaving about $15,975 to be assessed to the properties involved, as well as the Village of Chelsea, which petitioned for the district. The petitioner automatically pays for a certain percentage of the cost.

An open ditch drain will be dug 850' north from the condominium site. At that point, an existing 12" storm sewer will be replaced by an 18" pipe for 650', where it will connect with an existing 24" pipe, which heads west into the Wilkinson St. drain.

Each year the county can spend up to two percent of the total cost of the project to maintain the drain.

It's not likely construction will start before winter, Sullivan said.

In the meantime, developer Lloyd Bridges wants the village to approve site plans for phase II of the project. However, his development agreement with the village says the drainage problems must be taken care of first.

Bridges is likely to ask village council to amend the agreement so site plans can be approved more quickly.

In other drainage district news, a court date had not been set as of press time to consider developer Rene Papo's objections to the Pierce Lake district, which has also been approved by the county.

The district would start on the south side of Chelsea Lanes, go under M-52 through an existing (although now plugged) culvert, proceed around an existing pond, and then southeast to the lake, straight through property owned by Papo.

The pond will also be drained by the project.

Papo has submitted site plans for a Village Square shopping mall that would fill in the pond and essentially force the drain to be re-routed.

Much of the $43,000 project would be assessed to Papo.

Papo could not be reached for comment. He was scheduled to appear in court this morning for a preliminary examination on cocaine possession and conspiracy charges.

The drain is scheduled to be an open ditch drain ranging from 4'-10' wide.

Wilkinson St. drain project, which was approved at the same time as the Pierce Lake project, will begin at Chelsea State Meabon and M-52, run south past Meabon's and Chelsea Lanes, then west behind Chelsea Shopping Center, through Chelsea Fairgrounds, then north to Old US-12 and Wilkinson St.

The pipe will progress from 12" to 18" to 24" to 30" diameter. Part of the Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1984— Officials of Chelsea Milling Co. reported all of the 47 employees who were checked at Chelsea Community Hospital on Oct. 23 for possible high levels of carbon monoxide, were released free of health complications. Follow-up investigations revealed that four fork-lift trucks operating in the warehousing and packaging portions of the Jiffy Mix plant were found to have engines in need of tune-ups. The heating system in the buildings were also checked for emissions.

Thursday, Nov. 5, 1964— President Lyndon B. Johnson was returned to office for his first full four-year term by an overwhelming majority of the voters. A Democratic landslide swept the country. On the contrary, Michigan Republican Governor George Romney was re-elected by a wide majority.

Chelsea was the center of fire-fighter training for members of several area fire departments. Firefighters learned safe and effective use of airpats and ladders. Phase IV training included instruction on fire hoses and fire streams, smoke drill training and cutting vents in roof tops. The O'Connor farmhouse on Rowe Rd. was set ablaze for the exercises. Dan Ellenwood was an instructor, and Jerry Kenney counted the firefighters as they entered the smoke-filled farmhouse.

An unexpected development in the County Sheriff's contest put 32-year-old Ypsilantian Douglas J. Harvey into office. He defeated incumbent Republican George Peterson who had held the office for six years.

Thursday, Oct. 31, 1974— Chelsea's harriers topped off their 3-5 league dual meet record with a third-place finish in the Southeastern Conference League Meet at Cass Benton Park in Northville. Team members coached by Pat Clarke were: Dan Shitilla, Dave Dawson, John Storey, Mark Shippey, Dave Frame, Jeff Sweet, Bill Rademacher, Mark Bucholz, Randy Harris, Mark Kern, Rick Robbins, Matt Heydlauff, Morris Johnson, Dean Thompson, and Phil Frame.

A large flag and flagpole were placed at the north end of the Chelsea High school athletic field. The flagpole had stood for many years in front of the building owned by the company and now The Chelsea Standard office and printing shop. During World War II, the flagpole held the Navy "E" banner awarded to "excellence" in manufacturing vital war supplies while Federal Screw Works occupied the building.

A new parsonage for North Lake United Methodist church was built a few hundred feet from the church and is perched atop land in a new development that was part of the old Eisenbeiser farm. The four-bedroom house is located across the street from another new structure, Chelsea High school's building trades house being constructed under the supervision of Curt Farley.

Richard "Bud" Ringe presented the 8x10-foot flag to the school as a joint gift from the Jaycees and Central Fibre Products Co. Lyle Chriswell, superintendent Charles Cameron, and Robert Adams were on hand for the installation.

Individual speaker trophies were brought home by Brad Glazier and

Governor Launches Michigan Air Service Council

In an effort to boost the quality of air service in Michigan, Governor James J. Blanchard announced the formation of the Michigan Air Service Council.

The action results from a recommendation by the Governor's Air Service Task Force, which was established in 1986 to find ways to achieve reliable, quality air service throughout the state.

As a result of the task force's involvement, airlines such as Continental Airlines, Southwest Airlines, Great Lakes Aviation, Midway Airlines and Iowa Airways have improved services to various locations in Michigan.

Earlier this year, the task force received a $3.2 million appropriation from the Legislature to prepare a program for air service marketing.

The purpose of the three-year program is: market opportunities in Michigan to air carriers; stimulate expanded and new service; promote awareness of air service and improve air carrier performance levels and fares.

The new 12-member council, created by an Executive Order, will conduct research, make proposals to the governor on new initiatives and assist in implementing the recommendations of the Air Service Task Force.

Study Suggests Companies Can Control Compensation Costs

A study of workers' compensation claims in Michigan has shown that companies have more control over their workers' compensation claims than previously thought and that some employers may have gained a competitive advantage by controlling costs.

Edward M. Welch, director of the Department of Labor's Bureau of Workers' Disability Compensation, said the study showed that employers with the lowest frequency of claims had the most aggressive safety and accident prevention programs, actively supported policies for the management of employee disabilities, and used an "open" management process.

As a result of the study, the department is expected to announce an expanded education and outreach program to assist high-frequency employers in cutting claims through improved work site safety, labor-management relations, and disability management programs.

Welch said there are approximately 90,000 workers' compensation claims filed each year in Michigan, and of those, only about 25 percent are contested.

Since 1981, the number of contested claims has been reduced by more than one half, dropping from more than 44,000 in 1981 to 21,000 in 1987.

The $100,000 study was conducted by the W. E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research in Kalamazoo. It examined 1986 workers' compensation claims for more than 5,500 Michigan firms in 29 industries.

The Department of Education reported the traditional "fourth Friday" student enrollment count showed a preliminary, non-audited enrollment of 1,659,333 students in the state's 524 public K-12 and 57 intermediate school districts.

Free Events Calendar Offered By Area Tourist Association

Want to get out and truly enjoy our exhilarating Fall weather? Don't know where to go? Write for Southeast Michigan's new Calendar of Events. It's free for the asking.

"This Fall and Winter, if you're sitting around bored, it's because you want to be," says Sid Baker, president of the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association.

Baker points out there are nearly 1,300 events scheduled to occur in the 11-county region between October and the end of March, "including a rewarding wintertime of fun for every age group."

The Fall/Winter Calendar may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped, business-sized envelope to "Calendar," Travel & Tourist Association 3150 Livernois Rd., P.O. Box 1590, Troy 48069—or pick one up at their office.

The number showed a continued decline since it peaked at 2,212,523 students in the fall of 1971.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Donald Bemis said the estimated "headcount" of students in September is 14,284 students fewer than last year.

He noted that indications show that there is a slight increase in elementary grades' enrollment, although grade-by-grade figures will not be available until January.

Bemis said total K-6 enrollment should show an increase over 1980 figures by next year or by 1990. He added the decrease in enrollment in the middle school/junior high and high school grades appears to be continuing this year.

The secondary school enrollment decline exceeds any slight increase in the elementary school levels, thus producing an over-all K-12 student enrollment loss.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

After pooling their ignorance at the country store Saturday night, the fellers were full agreed that anything that can be imagined can be. Ed Doolittle come to the session with his usual run of clippings, and he pritty much run the agender.

First off, Ed had saw where a feller in Seattle has gone to court in hopes of getting some of the profit doctors made from selling cells they took from his spleen 10 years ago. It turned out doctors got a patent on his rare cells and sold rights to a biotechnology research firm for $3 million. One court dismissed the man's claim, Ed reported, but an appeals court said a person's parts are that person's property and he ought to share in the profit from selling em.

The case probable will go to the U. S. Supreme Court, Ed said. Meanwhile, Ed had a clipping where a chemistry professor at Davidson College has a $44,000 grant to invent a sunburn meter. Through photochemical research he will work on a way to let people know when they've been out in the sun too long. Before you say users of this product will be limited to people that don't have sense to come in out of the rain either, Ed said, think how much help it could be to measure dangerous ultraviolet in space. Usual, space resersee is used on earth, so this project could work in reverse, he said.

Beyond scientific reserch, Zeke Grubb declared, is developments in automatic all hours service. Around the clock banking has been with us fer years, Zeke said, but now we're getting machines that accept and return dry cleaning, sell fish bait, and rent video movies. One company says its about ready to offer a machine that takes film and returns the pictures, and another that can figure airline flights and issue tickets. All of these services say most of their market is at night, but they will be offered all the time.

Per sure, Clem Webster declared, where you got services you'll git franchises. If one of somepun is good, a bunch will be wonderful is the watchword of business, was Clem's words. If one little lab does a brisk business in small body parts like spleen cells, bulk buying and central distribution will make fer better quality control. And you got to know, Clem went on, that the corporation that's first with a sunburn meter vending machine on ever beach will be selling rights to all the territories.

For a while, went on Clem, the Federal Government worried about franchises because they led to conglomerates that are bad to git locks on a market and squeeze out the little competition. But the Government has learned from all its deregulation mistakes. The companies have got to be big before they can be saved by the Government, Clem explained. One hamburger stand can't expect help, but a chain of 4,000 can ask and receive. All the local owned savings and loans can go belly up without making a ripple in Washington, but when the biggest bank in Texas cries out in pain, Dr. Bailout gallops to the rescue, was Clem's words.

Actual, broke in Zeke Grubb, franchises can be a cure instead of a disease. He had saw where a typical franchise holder in this country puts $25,000 in the business and works 12 hours day to make it go. On the other hand, we see ever day where a drugstore closes because the owner won't put in pets, toys and camping equipment like all the chains in town.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

On Oct. 25, a regular meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Likavec. Ann Arbor attorney Melinda Morris spoke to the group about the work of the circuit court. Guests attending were Jane Diesing, Marie Colombo, Libby Carlson and Linda Laetham.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 8, at the home of MaryLouise Fischbach.

Fruits of Season To Be Observed on Nature Trail Walk

The University of Michigan Matthaei Botanical Gardens invites the public to come along on a search for the fruits of the season. "Nuts, Berries, and Seeds" is the focus of a free, monthly trail walk on Sunday, Nov. 6 at 2 p.m.

Participants will have the opportunity to look at many of the fruits and discover the dispersal mechanisms, to figure out which are popular foods for wildlife and which are starvation foods, and to learn of human inventions which were patterned after some fruits.

Families and nature enthusiasts are welcome to join in this 1½ hour walk along the trails, which wind through the natural areas of the Gardens. Docents will meet visitors at the front steps of the Conservatory at 2 p.m. sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard James Eder

Kimberly Forner, Richard Eder Say Vows at Zion Lutheran Church

Kimberly Ann Forner of Chelsea and Richard James Eder, also of Chelsea, were married before 250 guests Saturday, Sept. 3 at 4:30 p.m. at Zion Lutheran church, Ann Arbor. Zion Lutheran church pastor, the Rev. Fred Harms, officiated. Marsha Chartrand of Manchester and Larry Koch of Chelsea sang, "We've Only Just Begun," "Love Story," and "Choral Benediction." Koch performed a guitar solo, "The Wedding Song." Chartrand also performed a solo, "One Heart, One Hand." Tim Eder, the bridegroom's brother, presented the Bible readings. Vows were written by David Murphy, step-father of the bridegroom. A candle, set in the middle of flowers on the altar, was lit in memory of the bride's and bridegroom's fathers.

The bride is a summa cum laude graduate of Chelsea High school. She has an associate's degree in commercial design from Ferris State College. She works as an account executive for BookCrafters book manufacturer in Chelsea.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of Chelsea High school. He received a bachelor's degree in marketing sales from Ferris State College. He works as a sales representative at W. A. Thomas, an automotive parts manufacturer located in Chelsea.

Parents of the bride are Ruth and Neil Horning of Chelsea. The bride's father is the late Donald Forner. The bridegroom's parents are David and Betty Murphy, also of Chelsea. The bridegroom's father is the late Roland Eder.

The bride wore a long, white satin gown with a full train featuring sculptured lace and satin bow accents. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline with a dropped back decorated with pearls and white sequins. The bride wore a fingertip-length, crown-style veil sprinkled with small pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses, white veiling and pearl spray.

The mother of the bride wore a silver-grey, street-length suit-dress of lace over satin.

The bridegroom's mother wore a triple-tiered, street-length periwinkle blue, chiffon dress.

Maid of honor was Julie Hunn, friend of the bride and bridegroom. Bridesmaids included Lou Ann Eder, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Other bridesmaids were friends of the couple: Venus Roberts of Grand Rapids, formerly of Chelsea; Kathy Seber of Milwaukee, Wis.; Joanne Peters of Novi; and Jane Verwey of Stockbridge, formerly of Chelsea. They wore long-sleeved, red, lace-over-satin dresses and carried bouquets of red roses accented with pale pink veiling, red ribbons and rhinestone sprays.

Best man was Ken Nadeau of Chelsea, friend of the bridegroom. Ushers included Jeff Eder of Chelsea, brother of the bridegroom; and Matt Forner of Chelsea, brother of the bride. Other ushers were friends of the couple: Chris Seitz of Chelsea; Jim Hill of Stockbridge, formerly of Dexter; Phil Powers of New York City, formerly of Chelsea. They wore black tuxedos with red bow ties and cummerbunds.

A buffet-style dinner reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Dexter. Janet and Paul Prentice, aunt and uncle of the bride, served as hostess and host. Mrs. Ardis Bradbury, aunt of the bridegroom, cut the wedding cake.

The couple took a 10-day honeymoon in Palm Springs, Calif., before returning to their home in Chelsea.

Kozminski Slavery Case Ends With Plea Bargain Arrangement

Five years after being charged with holding two workers in involuntary servitude, Ike and Magarethe Kozminski and their son, John, have pleaded guilty in a plea bargain arrangement to keeping inadequate employment records, according to reports.

The Kozminskis, in 1984, were found guilty by a federal court of holding Robert Fulmer and Louis Molitoris in involuntary servitude for more than 10 years on their dairy farm in Lima township. They were sentenced to two years' probation. In addition, Ike and Magarethe Kozminski were fined $20,000 each and John Kozminski was fined $10,000. The conviction was later overturned.

The U.S. Supreme Court reviewed the case earlier this year and found sufficient evidence of physical coercion to retry the case under a narrow legal definition of slavery.

Last Thursday, Oct. 27 the Kozminskis pleaded guilty to a charge that they violated the Fair Labor Standards Act by failing to maintain correct records, according to reports.

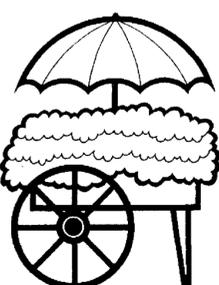

By pleading guilty, the Kozminskis agreed to pay Fulmer and Molitoris $34,000 in restitution. John Kozminski will be subject to a six-month probation, reports said.

Jan. 12 is the sentencing date, and the maximum penalty for violation of the act is a $10,000 fine. Ike and Magarethe Kozminski have each agreed to pay a $3,000 fine, reports said.

The U.S. Attorney's Office reportedly agreed to the arrangement because of concerns of the effect of another trial on Molitoris and Fulmer.

DNR Answers Landfill Questions

organic contaminant. Evans said groundwater is probably flowing east, from the new landfill to the old.

Because pollution was detected in one of the wells, it raises the possibility that the newer lined portion of the landfill is leaking, although Evans said that scenario is unlikely. He said the theory is that if the new landfill is leaking, the tracer chemical will eventually show up in the monitoring well.

Responses to questions also revealed a number of facts about the landfill.

- DNR admitted that the village had probably met the DNR's minimum guidelines when the old landfill was built. However, Vetort said, "We know now that those standards were inadequate."

- DNR could not say how long the PVC lining used to line the new landfill would last. Lee said "I wish we had a manufacturer's representative here to answer that question."

- DNR could not say whether groundwater testing would go beyond the immediate area of the landfill.

- The new landfill cell, if licensed, has a minimum life expectancy of two years. Fahrner said he would advise the village to get out of the landfill business once the cell is filled.

- The village operates the landfill as a non-profit governmental service.

- Evans said most of the contamination appears to be in an upper aquifer no more than 30 feet deep. He also said most of the pollution appears to be on the northern part of the site.

- Split samples of water from monitoring wells have been tested by both the DNR and village consultants. Most of the time DNR results have shown higher contamination levels.

- Much of the pollution could be coming from common solvents.

- The village will have to address the pollution problems even if it closes down the landfill.

- There is no provision in the law for DNR to calculate whether the benefit of cleaning up a landfill site would outweigh the cost of the clean-up.

- There is a controversy within the DNR regarding, "how clean is clean," Lee said. DNR's position now is to "clean up to background," meaning water flowing from the landfill should be as clean as water flowing into it.

- Manville said Friday that as a result of the experience of Wildflower Ridge residents, the county will begin to routinely test for arsenic when well logs show the shale formation present.

- DNR offered to hold another informational meeting in as little as six months.

United Way Campaign Progressing Well

Chelsea United Way Campaign is progressing well. A total of $33,293 has been collected so far, which is 43% of the 1988 campaign goal.

The residential contributions are at 82.3% of this year's goal with $5,599 already received. Professional and commercial contributions are each at 45% of their goals and the area organizations have contributed 40% of their goal so far.

Industrial contribution figures so far are at 20% of goal.

As part of a continuing series during the 1988 campaign, various agencies will be featured each week. This week includes the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Citizens and Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County.

Washtenaw Association For Retarded Citizens . . .

Washtenaw Association for Retarded Citizens is a human service organization dedicated to promoting the general welfare of persons with developmental disabilities. As a charitable, volunteer, membership organization, they are available without discrimination and without fee, to all individuals with developmental disabilities, their families and other supportive persons and groups, focusing efforts on Washtenaw county citizens.

The Association, through its members, board, executive director and staff shall advocate for the rights of those they serve, promote maximum opportunity for their participation in the community, and assure the provision of needed services.

Catholic Social Services . . .

Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County provides outreach service to Chelsea residents. Adults over 60 years of age are helped in obtaining food stamps, hot meals, transportation, housing, fuel assistance and other community services.

An outreach worker visits older adults, often isolated and handicapped, in their homes.

If you are in need of help or know a friend, a relative or neighbor in need, call Nancy Hall at Catholic Social Services (662-4534).

Services are provided to all residents regardless of religious beliefs, race, handicap, sex or income level.

Catholic Social Services Older Adult

Outreach program is paid for by the Area Agency on Aging and your United Way. The service is free to individuals.

New Report Card For High School

As usual, students at Chelsea High school will receive their report cards on Friday, Nov. 4, a week after the end of the first marking period. What is unusual, is the format for report cards this year.

According to John Williams, principal at Chelsea High school, the report cards will look different this year because the high school is now using the new computer system which the school district has installed.

It was necessary for Chelsea schools to purchase their own computers and software programs after the Washtenaw Intermediate School District announced that it was eliminating its data processing office.

The report cards, will of course, contain information about the courses the student is taking and the grade given in that course. A new feature is the ability of the teacher to select from more than 30 different comments about the student's work.

A Comment Code Committee consisting of teachers and administrators at the high school has been in operation to select the most appropriate comments for the report card.

Another change is that the report cards will now indicate a grade of either A, B, C, D, or F. The student records program uses an "F" instead of an "E" to indicate a failing grade.

In the future, it will be possible to indicate period-by-period attendance on the report card, but not for this first marking period. Principal Williams said "This is the first time through for anyone, not only in the Chelsea schools, but in the county for this combination of hardware and computer program."

Since we've only recently had all the equipment in operation, we are not totally familiar with some of the reports that will be generated. We do know that we should be able to hold to our traditional time schedule of issuing report cards within a week of the end of the marking period.

"We also have the flexibility to indicate which comments are appropriate for the Chelsea schools and we will be able to record attendance more accurately than we have in the past."

The report cards this marking period will not compute GPA earned this year but will show the over-all grade point up to this point.

Humane Society Starts Holiday Greeting Card Sale

Happy Holidays! It's not too early to be thinking of that special card you'll be sending this holiday season. Why not make the most of your selection? Invest in Holiday Greeting Cards from the Humane Society of Huron Valley, and you'll provide valuable benefits to many homeless animals at the same time.

This year, HSHV has added an exciting new design to its collection—"Happy Howlidays" by Vienna Szabo. A menagerie of pets give voice to their holiday cheer amid an array of yuletide gifts. Still available are last year's favorites—Catherine McClung's "Autumn Dogwood," Jan Wahl's "Ice Capers," and Nancy Green's "Companions." All four of these cards are on sale now in several area businesses with prices ranging from $5.50 to $7.50 per package of 10 cards with matching envelopes. Limited quantities of previous designs are also available.

All proceeds from the sale of these cards will go towards helping the animals at HSHV.

To receive your Holiday Greeting Cards, simply stop in at HSHV (3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor 48105), send us your request through mail, or call 662-5545 to place a phone order.

The following area stores are showing their support for the animals at the shelter by generously agreeing to carry HSHV Holiday Cards and make them more accessible to you.

Veterans Day Parade Slated Sunday in Dexter

The 1988 Veterans Day Parade will be held in Dexter, Sunday, Nov. 6, and veterans of all ages are particularly invited to participate.

The Washtenaw County Council of Veterans, which includes representatives of many veterans organizations, joins Dexter American Post 557 and Chelsea American Legion Post 31, as well as Chelsea Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4076, in encouraging veterans to take part in this year's parade.

Dexter veteran Ivan Richardson, has been appointed parade marshal for the 1988 Veterans Day Parade, according to information received from the Washtenaw County Council of Veterans.

Well-known to people of the Dexter area, Ivan is a veteran of World War I, having entered the military, July 23, 1918.

Ivan says within three months of leaving home, he was transferred to

Although he served primarily in Luxembourg, he was also in France and Germany with the 33rd Division of the 131st Infantry.

He is currently commander of World War I Veterans Barracks No. 2150, and is an active Post 557 Legionnaire.

In addition, he has provided public service as the World War I representative on the Washtenaw County Soldiers Relief Commission.

He and his wife, Florence, are members of the Dexter Senior Citizens and often lead the blessing before noon-time meals served at the Dexter Senior Nutrition Site.

Ivan is an expert bee-keeper, having tended the hives for 39 years, and admits he has frequently been able to make gifts of some of the fresh honey the bees produce.

Because the Washtenaw County

Council of Veterans includes representatives from the various veterans organizations in the county, the annual Veterans Day Parade rotates among the communities, with each community hosting the parade approximately every seven years.

A fly-over has been arranged, and good weather is anticipated.

As parade chairman for Dexter American Legion Post 557, Glen Mast encourages the Dexter community to attend this year's parade to honor the veterans of Dexter and the remainder of Washtenaw county.

Marching units will include representatives of several veterans organizations.

Other organizations throughout the county are invited to take part in the parade, which honors veterans who served in the various branches of the nation's military, in war and in peace.

Marching units, including musical groups, individuals and organizations, are invited to enter the parade.

Floats are also welcome in the 1988 Veterans Day Parade.

From the traffic division of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Dexter's Sgt. Harley Rider explained parade participants will have a motorcycle unit escort, provided the weather man co-operates.

Riders from the Dexter High Equestrian Team will participate in the parade, Sunday.

The team has just completed activities for the fall season, and includes a number of very accomplished young equestrians under the coaching of Bob and Cathy Kibbie.

Although few veterans from the Civil War remain today, there are many men and women veterans who served in World War I, World War II, the Korean War and in Vietnam, in addition to the many who gave their lives to the service of their nation in those conflicts.

Our nation is now blessed with peace, and many of the younger generation have never experienced the sadness, the loneliness and the tragedies associated with wartime.

Pray, they may never have to experience such a situation, but do join in honoring the veterans of Washtenaw county at the 1988 Veterans Day Parade, held this year in Dexter.

The parade will stage in the parking lot of Wylie Middle school, and participating units are asked to be there by 1:30 p.m. as the parade starting time will be 2 p.m.

From Wylie school, the parade route will follow Inverness St. north to Ann Arbor St., where it will head downhill from Water Tower Park, past the reviewing stand in Monument Park, and continue to the American Legion Home on Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

Immediately following the parade, all participants in the parade are invited to the Legion Home for refreshments.

Reading Council Presenting Book, Media Exhibit

Washtenaw Reading Council in collaboration with the Washtenaw Intermediate School District and the Language Arts Office/Ann Arbor Staff Development presents the annual Book and Media Exhibit and speaker Dr. Elaine Weber, reading specialist for the State of Michigan Department of Education, on Wednesday, Nov. 2 at Clague Intermediate school, 2616 Nixon Rd., Ann Arbor.

The exhibit will be from 4 to 6:30 p.m. and Dr. Elaine Weber will speak on the topic "Stepping in the Right Direction-Toward Literacy" at 6:30 p.m.

The Book and Media Exhibit will focus on supplemental and reinforcing support materials. Textbooks, including literature sets and kits, independent reading books, writing materials, computer software and audio-visual materials for all grade levels will be displayed.

The speaker, Dr. Elaine Weber, a former college professor, has been the reading specialist for the State of Michigan, Department of Education for the past 10 years. She has had many articles published in periodicals such as The Michigan Reading Journal, and has recently co-authored two books.

VICTOR PITTS as Roger Rabbit took first place in the 8-9 best looking age group. Rianne Jones as a California ween party sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Raisin was second and Alicia Vogel as a witch took third.

JEFF KOLODICA as a space man was the first place winner in the best looking category for ages 6-7. Second place went to Leslie and Michael Sharp as two dragons. Tina Batsakis as a panda was third.

Prompt Attention Can Save Injured Teeth!

Q: If an injury results in a tooth being knocked out is there any way to save it?
A: In many cases the answer is yes, but prompt attention is the key to success. A tooth which has been "avulsed," or knocked out completely, needs to be replanted as soon as possible. Such injuries occur most commonly when playing contact sports but nearly any blow to the mouth for whatever reason may dislodge a tooth. Studies have shown that time is the most critical factor in the success of a replanted tooth. If the tooth is allowed to stay out of the mouth longer than one hour, then the prognosis is very poor indeed. If you, or someone you know, should have a permanent adult tooth knocked out, the following steps should be taken:

- 1) Recover the tooth. If the tooth has gotten dirty then it should be gently rinsed under plain tap water or sterile saline. NEVER scrub the tooth or use soap or detergent since this will harm the delicate cells which are still alive and attached to the root surface of the tooth.
- 2) Gently reseat the tooth back into the socket. This may be very uncomfortable and in the case of severe facial injury or a child who is very upset and uncooperative, this may not be possible without anesthesia. The tooth should be held in the socket while the patient is being transported to the dental office.
- 3) If unable to reseat the tooth into the socket the next best thing is to hold the tooth in the patient's mouth (be sure not to swallow it) while being transported to the dental office. If there is a danger of swallowing the tooth, such as in a young child or someone who is medically impaired from the injury, then the tooth should be placed in a glass of milk or water or held in a damp towel until dental care can be accomplished. It is very important not to let the tooth dehydrate.

Once a tooth is replanted it usually needs to be splinted in place for 7-10 days while the patient is placed on a soft diet. In most cases the nerve within the tooth will have become devital so a root canal procedure will need to be done later on to prevent infection. Also if the tooth had gotten dirty, the patient may require a tetanus shot.

drain through the fairground was scheduled to be an open ditch. However, the fair board has offered to enclose it at their expense in order to make their land more usable.

The project is estimated at $50,000. Papo's Arcus Corporation, developer of the mall, will be assessed for much of the cost.

IT WAS FATHER AND CHILD pumpkin-carving day for South school kindergarten classes last Friday. Above A.J. Hale, who donated all 100 pumpkins for the program, works on a masterpiece with his daughter, Cala. The two picked all the pumpkins and put them in their truck.

JOHN BOLLINGER got a little help from his dad, Nelson, during father and child pumpkin carving last Friday at South school. All kindergarten sections participated in the program. The children were studying the letter "p" and pumpkins fit the season perfectly. Children also had a pajama party as part of their studies.

Portage-Baseline Lake Level To Be Lowered

The lake level at Portage and Baseline Lakes will be lowered approximately 12 to 15 inches on Nov. 9, according to C. Dolores Sigal, Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner.

Sigal said that each winter the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake. In the winter, homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes area are cautioned to prepare for the lowering of the lake level which coincides with the closing of the boat launch facilities.

Michael J. Stagg, senior drain inspector, will answer inquiries and may be reached at (313) 994-2525.

GOBLINS, CRITTERS, AND CHARACTERS of all sorts lined Pierce St. in front of South school as the elementary school children went on their annual parade through the neighborhood Monday afternoon. It was sunny, yet fairly chilly, for the parade.

Loch Alpine Craft Fair Slated At Webster Community Hall

In memory of Peter Spurr, the 10th annual Loch Alpine Craft Fair will feature a prize drawing to benefit the Washtenaw County Therapeutic Riding Program for the Handicapped.

Scheduled Saturday, Nov. 5, at Webster Community House, corner of Webster Church and Farrell Rds., the event will open at 9:30 a.m. and continue until 4:30 p.m.

A total of 25 participating artists and craft people have donated items to the drawing, with proceeds of the drawing to be used by the special riding program.

Peter Spurr had been involved in the craft fair for several years, helping his mother, Margaret, in her wreath business—growing the flowers and helping to construct the wreaths.

In his mother's booth, Peter was a familiar face at the Loch Alpine Craft Fair.

He found great enjoyment being a part of the riding program, which was started by volunteers almost six years ago.

A non-profit organization, the program has been supported by contributions from service clubs such as the Lions, Kiwanians, Civitans and Optimists, in addition to many local business people.

Donated funds are used to hire a physical therapist and two instructors, certified by Cheff Center for the Handicapped.

Monies are also used for insurance through NARA's North American Riding for the Handicapped.

Horses are loaned to the group for the summer by private individuals.

The program pays for feeding, worming and shoeing the animals.

Always seeking volunteers, both people and horses, the Washtenaw County Therapeutic Riding Program for the Handicapped advises all handicapped persons in Washtenaw county are eligible to participate in the riding program.

For further information, phone the 4-H office, housed within the Washtenaw County Extension Service.

Jan Sing advised this week, the prize drawings at the Loch Alpine Craft Fair will begin at 4 p.m. at the Webster Community House.

Jan has charge of the prize drawing booth, and is happy to announce there will be "wonderful" items for the drawing winners.

Gloria Brigham and her daughter, Laurie, will bring their stencilling talent to the craft fair and have donated an item to be awarded at the prize drawing.

Neither Gloria nor her daughter need an introduction to craft-fair patrons.

Their stencilling skills are greatly appreciated by people throughout Washtenaw county.

From Manchester, potter Bonnie Greenwald will bring a collection of attractive lamps, and has donated one of the lamps to the prize drawing.

Dexter area people will have a chance to visit with Hal Horton, former Loch Alpine resident, who returns from his home in Brooklyn with many of his unusual woodcarvings, many of which feature wildlife motifs.

He has agreed to provide a woodcarving for the prize drawing booth at the craft fair.

Kathy Rockol comes from Ann Arbor with her vintage cloth treasures, among them a delightful fabric treetop angel donated as a prize-drawing item.

Kathy's other items include pillows, dolls, a collection of doll-size furniture, and Christmas ornaments.

To tempt your taste buds, Joanne

McMahon has promised to add a basket of German cookies, accompanied by old-fashioned chocolate candies, to the prize drawing.

Sandy Troiz will bring her varied collection of herb and spice craft items to the fair, and has donated one of her individualized herb wreaths to the prize drawing booth.

David Walsh of Loch Alpine is producing wooden rocking horses, inspired by Catherine McClung's now famous artistry piece.

He will be one of the 25 artists and craft people displaying wares at the Loch Alpine Craft Fair, and has finished one of his intriguing wooden wagons for the prize drawing.

Guess what? David's mother is providing an adorable cloth bunny to accompany his wagon.

Jan Sing will be very busy supervising the prize drawing booth, even though Margaret Spurr, who has donated a dried-flower wreath, has agreed to assist her, so she begged off as a 1988 craft fair artist, but she will be donating one of her darling dolls to the prize drawing.

Which one? Well, at press time, Jan just couldn't decide.

It might be the peasant doll with a carrot in her pocket, characteristic babushka, tiny felt boots and wonderfully soft curly hair furnished by Snowball, a Mohair goat in Webster township.

Or perhaps, she will decide on one of her "period" dolls, Martha, who reminded Jan of Martha Washington with her black velveteen shoes and a majestic lined and hooded cape, which may be shed if her new owner prefers a tiny mop cap.

Lili (pronounced Lee-Lee) Rahbari, originally from Iran, will bring colorful decorations which may be hung in doorways, from mantels, or on the walls, to the 10th annual Loch Alpine Craft Fair.

She has donated a spectacular angel to the prize-drawing booth.

Reminding craft fair patrons of the products produced by knitting needles in Germany, Ruth Khorram will show a fine collection of knitted items, among them a unique blue-on-white knitted baby suit with matching booties targeted for the prize-drawing booth.

Margaret Spurr's sister, artist Anne Moray, has added a rag rug to the prize drawing.

Jan Sing provided information on just a few of the artists and craft people who will attend this year's Loch Alpine Craft Fair.

To meet the others, be at the Webster Community House, Saturday, Nov. 5.

Doors open at 9:30 a.m. and the craft fair continues until 4:30 p.m., but remember, the prize drawing begins at 4 p.m.

ABWA Chapter Holds Annual Fall Enrollment Event

On Oct. 25, the Chelsea Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held their annual Fall Enrollment Event at the Woodlands Room of the Chelsea Community Hospital.

Guests were welcomed by membership chairman Cindy Bear and treated to a program that highlighted an inspiring video on ABWA that was provided by ABWA national headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., and another video which featured the chapter's highly successful Sept. 10 joint meeting which was attended by 175 members of approximately 15 other local chapters.

Martha Powers, program chairman, announced a "Mystery Program" for the Nov. 22 meeting which will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Woodlands Room of the Chelsea Hospital. Martha would not disclose the subject of the program, but promised that members would all enjoy the speaker and subject.

Tentative plans were also made for a progressive holiday dinner to take place in both Dexter and Chelsea early in December.

Chelsea Chapter of ABWA would welcome any employed woman who would like to join the group or would just like to attend a meeting and see what ABWA is all about.

Substance Abuse Series Continues at Brighton Hospital

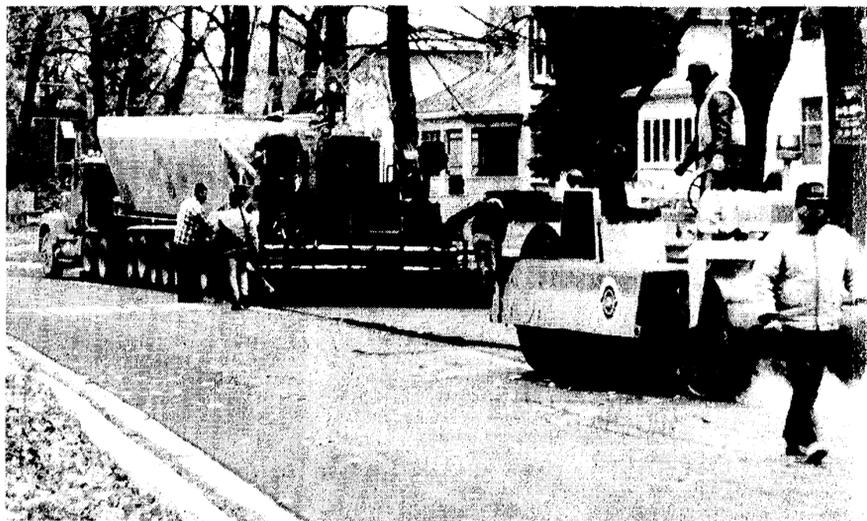

Brighton Hospital's series of programs on substance abuse prevention and treatment continues on Tuesday, Nov. 15 with a discussion on how family members, friends, and employers can confront and help a chemically dependent person.

The title of the free program is: "Intervention: The Direct Approach to Treatment and Recovery." Brian Duguay, an intervention specialist at the hospital, is the featured speaker. The program begins at 7 p.m. in the Brighton Hospital chapel. Reservations are not required.

According to Duguay, the family and friends of someone who is abusing alcohol and other drugs realize that they need to take some action but are not sure how to begin. In an intervention the group confronts the individual with the reality of his or her drinking or drug use in a factual, concerned, and non-judgmental manner.

In most cases, the person intervened upon will seek treatment, says Duguay. Another important result is that the individual's family and friends have begun to help themselves by taking some action toward resolving the problem.

For additional information, contact Brighton Hospital's Community Relations Department weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION residents in the area have objected to the way the state is replacing their driveways, saying the driveway openings are too small and are creating a traffic hazard. The village has written a letter of protest to the state, but so far there has been no response.

Village Planners Recommend Annexation of Land Near Hospital

Chelsea Village Planning Commission voted 5-3 to recommend that the village annex 52 acres of land off Old

US-12 that would eventually be used for an office center and an apartment complex.

Planners took the action at their regular Oct. 25 meeting. The matter now goes to the village council.

Chelsea Shopping Center developer Rene Papo has proposed an office building for land next to Chelsea Community Hospital. The apartment complex would be constructed to the east of the center as a planned unit development. A zoning change is also necessary as the land is zoned for medium-density single-family housing.

The commission also considered two other items related to Papo developments.

The commission voted against allowing truck traffic to enter Chelsea Shopping Center from Old Manchester Rd. Site plans were approved for an entrance for emergency vehicles from the road.

Washtenaw county would like the village to take over maintenance of the road. However, the village apparently wants nothing to do with the idea.

In addition, the commission took no action on preliminary site plans for Village Square, a 32,000-square-foot mall proposed by Papo between Polly's Market and Village Motors.

A review by former assistant village manager Lee Fahrner, now a village consultant, indicated that the plans were missing too much information for a complete review. In addition, he recommended that Papo provide details on how stormwater problems would be handled. Papo has filed suit to stop the Pierce Lake drain project, which would have handled stormwater run-off in the area.

In other commission business, site plans for an addition to Mt. Olivet Cemetery were approved subject to a variance. Plans show several hundred new burial plots to be developed in a field between the current cemetery and the railroad tracks.

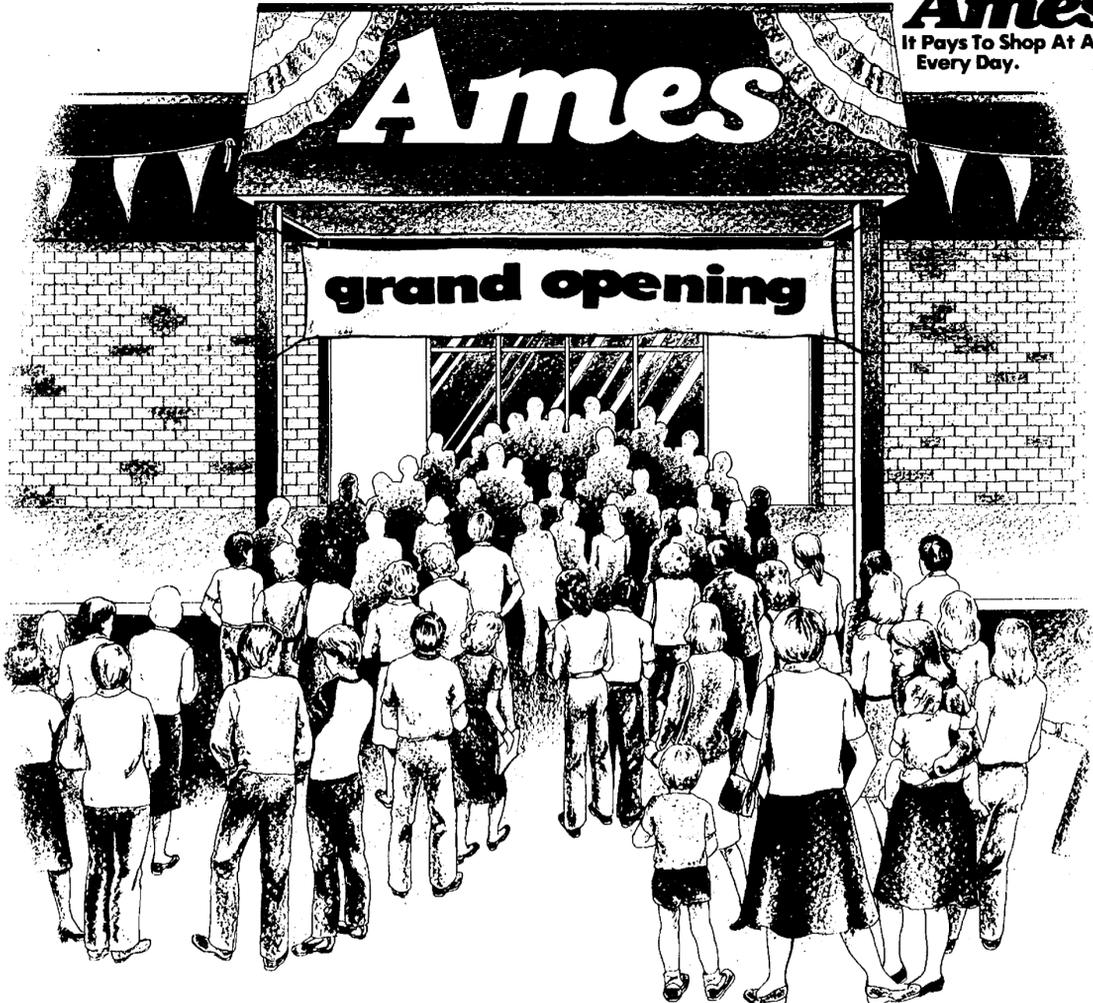

A variance for the addition is required as some of the burial sites would infringe on the Freer Rd. right of way.

Finally, commission members were given copies of a set of new definitions proposed for the village's zoning ordinance. They were written by village attorney Peter Flintoft. However, no action was taken.

A Real Crowd Pleaser

We have been working on this one for over 30 years. That's why it's no secret to us-how to please a crowd. We have had a lot of time to study and prepare. First we determine what kind of products you look for. Then we plan a first rate store with all the departments you're looking for such as apparel, housewares, furniture, electronics, toys, stationery, hardware and more. Then we bring in the quality brand name merchandise at the lowest possible discount prices. We provide a friendly well-trained staff and all the shopping conveniences that you like. Then we deliver our Grand Opening Sale which is our way of saying hello. So join the fun and savings at Ames. See you there.

Botched Punt Gives Dogs Last Second Victory In Season's Final Game

By Brian Hamilton

A bungled punt attempt by the Crestwood Chargers was turned into a Chelsea touchdown in the closing seconds as the Bulldogs rallied for a stunning 21-16 victory in the final game of the season.

Chelsea finished the season with a 5-4 record.

It was the only score by either team in the second half as the Bulldogs blew several opportunities late in the game to take the lead. With 4:37 remaining, Chelsea fumbled the ball at the Crestwood 23. They forced the Chargers to punt with 1:50 remaining, but promptly had the ball intercepted.

However, after stopping the Chargers on four downs again with 0:29 left, the Bulldogs rushed everyone to block the punt, and the snap was mishandled. Chelsea pounced on the ball at the six-yard line with 0:16 remaining.

With the Chargers in a goal line defense, quarterback Larry Nix found tight end David Zerkel in the end zone for the score.

"If the pass wasn't there, Larry was told to throw it to the track," said assistant coach Wayne Welton.

That would have set up a short field goal attempt for Robert Staal, who has shown an accurate foot throughout the season.

"It was a good way to end the season," said Chelsea Head Coach Gene LaFave.

"They gave us quite a few chances. We had two golden opportunities and weren't able to take advantage of them. But the kids played real hard and when you play that way, good things happen."

As has been the case most of the year, the Bulldogs were able to move the ball fairly well despite being quite a bit smaller than their opponents. The Charger defensive line outweighed Chelsea about 20 pounds per player, yet Quilter was able to run for 103 yards on 17 carries. In addition, Nix passed for 177 yards (14-23).

"Crestwood had probably the best defense we saw all year," LaFave said.

"They're big, physical, and are a senior dominated team, although they kind of fell apart the last few weeks."

Crestwood had been on course to go to the playoff. However, three consecutive losses eliminated them.

Chelsea opened the scoring on an 82-yard drive to open the game. On a third down and seven at the Crestwood 17, Nix passed to Zerkel over the middle, the big senior briefly bobbled the ball, but held on and ran into the end zone untouched.

Staal's kick made it 7-0 with 8:03 left in the first quarter.

Crestwood came right back with a 76-yard drive of their own, capped by a 28-yard run by Billy Stoyanovich. His kick tied the game.

Stoyanovich put Crestwood ahead with 7:05 left in the half with a 35-yard field goal. His boot was set up when Chelsea misplayed a punt, the ball bounced off Junior Morseaux, and Crestwood recovered.

A Crestwood fumble at the Charger 37 set up Chelsea's next score. The Bulldogs used the sleeper play effective-

THE CRESTWOOD DEFENSE was big and physical and they gave Chelsea running back Jude Quilter a good shot on this play. Head coach Gene LaFave said it was the best defensive team the Bulldogs have played all year, yet the Dogs managed to move the ball fairly easily.

Three Bulldog Runners Qualify For State Cross Country Meet

Three Chelsea Bulldog runners qualified for this Saturday's class B state cross country meet with their performances last Saturday at the regional meet in Charlotte.

Vicki Bullock, Sarah Grau, and Paul Hedding will all run in the portion of the meet for individual runners at New Boston Huron. The girls as a team finished fourth, one place away from qualifying. Jackson Lumen Christi won with 64 points, followed by Jackson Northwest with 91 and Coldwater with 123.

The boys finished seventh among 20 teams with 260 points. Lumen Christi won with 61 points, followed by Pinckney with 114.

"This was an extremely tough regional," Chelsea coach Pat Clarke said of the girls meet.

"There were at least seven teams that had been ranked in the top 10 at some time during the season. Our girls ran as well as they could. Five of the seven ran personal bests for the season. We beat Fowlerville and Jackson County Western, who had both beaten us earlier. But Coldwater snuck in on us. Vicki and Sarah both made all-region.

"Hedding ran his best race of the year to place fourth. He beat several all-staters and he also beat this year's league champion Gar Eddings of Pinckney. For the team, it was quite a turnaround from our league meet performance the week before."

Bullock and Grau finished 10th and 12th, respectively, turning in times of 20:55 and 20:59. Behind them were Debi Koenn, 29th, 21:30; Christine Mignano, 44th, 21:59; Carmen Smith, 54th, 22:09; Kim Roberts, 67th, 22:47; and Angie Nagel, 84th, 23:32.

"Koenn closed out her senior year by running her best time despite being ill," Clarke said.

"Sophomore Christine Mignano ran under 22 minutes for the first time ever. Freshman Carmen Smith cut 20 seconds off her previous best time. And junior Kim Roberts returned to the line-up after being ill all season to

Tankers Take Willow Run

Chelsea Bulldog swimmers took on Willow Run last Tuesday, Oct. 25 and picked up a "much needed win," according to coach David Jolly.

"It wasn't a real eventful meet mainly because of the tough Dexter meet the week before," Jolly said. "The girls came in a little flat and didn't swim up to their capabilities but our diving team kept us out of hot water."

Jolly said Chelsea highlights of the meet included the following.

- A time of 2:04.98 by the medley relay team.
- The times of Jennifer McEachern and Jill Nowatzke in the 50 freestyle. They were :29.46 and :29.41, respectively.

- Kelly Cross's 100 freestyle time of :59.5.

• The times of Erika Boughton and Jennie Anderson in the 200 individual medley—2:34.76 and 2:38.78, respectively.

• The 400 freestyle relay time of 4:23.23. Team members are Jennie Anderson, Maria Kattula, Sara Nicola, and Jill Nowatzke.

- A 1-3 finish in diving by Danica Disbro, Debbie Webb, and Heather Bro.

"The girls team has arrived as a force to be reckoned with," Jolly said.

7th Grade Cagers Beat Tecumseh

Chelsea seventh grade basketball team revenged an earlier loss to the Tecumseh Indians with a 17-12 victory at home last Monday.

"It was a satisfying victory," said coach Ann Schaffner.

"They had beaten us soundly earlier this season. An aggressive pressing defense was greatly responsible for our win. The girls were alert and opportunistic."

Nicki Piasecki led Chelsea scorers with 5 points, and she added 5 steals. Other statistics included Liz Wright, 3 points, 5 rebounds; Amy Bowling, 3 points, 7 rebounds, 5 steals; Laura Carty and Liz McLaughlin, 2 points each; Lesley Burg, 6 steals, 1 point; Tracy Patrick, 4 steals, 1 point; Jenny Holzhausen, 4 rebounds.

Chelsea has a 9-2 record.

An itchy dish: Anyone who spends time outdoors knows to steer clear of poison ivy. A brush with this plant can keep you scratching for days. But International Wildlife magazine reports that for many animals, poison ivy is not an irritant but a nutrient. Dozens of birds like pheasant and grouse feast on the seed clusters. Bears, muskrats and cottontail rabbits prefer the plant's foliage and buds.

Bulldog Cagers Maintain SEC Lead As Flintoft's Shot Nips Railsplitters

Chelsea varsity cagers remained in a tie for the Southeastern Conference lead last week with a heartstopping 46-44 victory over the Lincoln Railsplitters.

It took a 17-foot jumper by guard Carrie Flintoft at the buzzer for the Bulldogs to walk away with the win.

"I have to give Carrie a lot of credit," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"She only shot twice all night and she made the most important shot of the game."

Lincoln was down by five points with :40 remaining and hit a three-point shot. Chelsea turned the ball over on their next possession.

The Railsplitters tied the game with :11 to go.

Chelsea called time out and devised a plan to get the ball inside to Heather Neibauer. Neibauer got the ball but didn't have the shot, and passed to Flintoft near the foul line.

Rosentreter admitted the game shouldn't have been as close as it was. After falling behind early, Chelsea held a 37-25 lead after three quarters. However, seven turnovers in the fourth quarter let Lincoln get back into the game.

Although Flintoft's shot at the end of the game, Chelsea's big advantage at the free throw line made the difference. Lincoln, attempting to play a physical game, committed 21 fouls and sent the Bulldogs to the foul line 31 times, where they made 20 shots. The Railsplitters were 7-10.

Allison Brown took the Chelsea scoring honors with 16 points. Neibauer had 14, Jenni Smith scored 12, and Flintoft and Laura Unterbrink each scored two points.

In non-conference action on Thursday, Chelsea knocked off Jackson Northwest 41-26.

"It was a real sleeper of a game," Rosentreter said.

"We missed a number of inside shots early."

Northwest had a tough time matching up with the Bulldogs as Chelsea had a considerable height advantage. That allowed Brown and Neibauer to combine for 13 points in the second quarter when the Bulldogs began to pull away.

Brown again led the Dogs with 15 points, Neibauer had 12, Smith scored nine, and Flintoft had five.

Rosentreter said that although Kelley Scott didn't score, she played perhaps her best game of the season. The senior point guard had seven steals, one blocked shot, three rebounds, and committed only two turnovers. In addition, she was able to penetrate.

Chelsea moves to 7-1 in the league and 12-2 over-all.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Bulldog fans couldn't have asked for a more exciting end to the football season. The two best games of the year turned out to be the first and the last. The bad-luck Bulldogs had something good right for a change and it made the difference between a winning season and a losing one.

I admit, I nearly left Niehaus Field with a couple of minutes to go, as many Chelsea fans did. I had lost all feeling in my toes and fingers by half-time. In fact, only a few frost-bitten people, about half of them cheerleaders, were on hand to see the finish.

It was the only time the Bulldogs managed to win a game despite turning the ball over so many times. The reason I almost left is Chelsea was driving deep in Crestwood territory with a couple of minutes to go, and the Bulldogs fumbled the ball—a familiar scene in the landscape of the 1988 season.

But the Chargers, as it turned out, had one basic problem. Their punting game was about as smooth as Gene Drive. One time the ball was snopped over the punter's head, another time the punter took about six steps before kicking the ball and nearly had the kick blocked.

And Chelsea, down 16-14, stopped the Chargers at the Crestwood 24 with 0:29 remaining. The Bulldogs rushed the punter and, surprised, he mishandled the snap, giving Chelsea the ball at the six-yard-line with 0:16 to go.

Robert Staal warmed his leg up on the sideline, but it didn't matter as Larry Nix passed to David Zerkel for the score.

As exciting as the finish was, privately I was hoping that Staal, an exchange student, would have a chance to kick the winning points.

Jude Quilter intercepted the Crestwood desperation pass and that was it. Chelsea players hopped off the field with their index fingers raised, as winning football players are prone to do. And a couple of Crestwood players pounded their helmets into the ground (with their heads still in them), as though they'd never know love again.

Curiously enough, Chelsea's kicking game was one of the highlights for the Bulldogs. Junior Morseau was booming the ball downfield. He had punts of 57, 47, and 45 yards, and they were not wind-aided.

Chelsea used the old strategy play not once, but twice. A Bulldog receiver, seemingly standing on the sidelines, races under a Nix pass for a long gainer. Those kinds of plays work against a team you've never played before. They were the only two times the play was run all season long.

Nix played well at quarterback in his final game. He passed for a lot of yardage and had two or three passes dropped. He also passed for two TDs, and Zerkel was on the receiving end both times.

Quilter rushed for more than yards and fell just short of 1,000 for the season, quite an accomplishment for a sophomore.

The Bulldog team will lose a boatload of seniors who become pretty good over the last half of the season. Gene LaFave and staff will have to do a lot of scrambling next year to replace them. Most of the offensive and defensive lines will be gone, as well as the linebackers, defensive backs and the quarterback. The lines will likely be the big question marks as the JVs weren't exactly dominant this year. LaFave says the hardest slots to fill will be the linebackers and defensive backs.

Quilter and Andy Dehring will be back to anchor the running game, and Rick Westcott has shown a lot of talent on the JV level this season. Kerry and Kyle Plank will be back as receivers. Tucker Steele will almost certainly be the starting quarterback, but he could get a push from freshman Ben Hurst and even senior Kyle Plank.

A couple more notes about the season, and then Chelsea football retires from this column until 1989.

It will be interesting to see who win the award for Most Valuable Player this season.

Who will replace Mr. Morseau, Mr. Frisinger and others who faithfully hauled their video cameras to the top of the stands for each game this season?

Friday night would not be the same without Dennis Petsch yelling, "and it's good for a Chelsea first doooooowwwwwn." However, I'd personally like to see a high school student become the public address announcer next year, not only for football, but for basketball and any other sport that requires an announcer.

High school is supposed to be at least partially an educational experience. Certainly there is someone from CHS's award-winning forensics program who'd like to give announcing a try. Maybe there's even more than one. Heck, I'd put up with a few mistakes to give five, six, or even a dozen kids a chance at the microphone if they're interested. In fact, if you think about it, student announcers could be downright entertaining.

Finally, I'd like to see the asphalt by the benches removed. Someday a player will be hurt badly when he's slammed into it. Perhaps the same material that's used on the track could replace it.

Good luck to Sarah Grau, Vicki Bullock, and Paul Hedding at the state cross country meet this Saturday at New Boston Huron. The three appear to be peaking at just the right time.

JUNIOR MORSEAU turns up field after catching a pass in first half action last Friday against Crestwood. The senior had four catches on the night and had an exceptional punting game.

tively as Nix passed to a wide open Kerry Plank down the left sidelines to the Crestwood six. Andy Dehring got the call and scored with 4:05 left in the half.

Crestwood answered again before the half on a 74-yard drive, capped by a 16-yard run by Stoyanovich. The two-point conversion failed.

Early in the second half, Stoyanovich tried a 55-yard field goal that fell about 10 yards short.

"Stoyanovich will kick for a big time school somewhere," Welton said. His brother plays for Indiana University.

Although Stoyanovich kicked a long field goal, Morseau punted five times for a 46-yard average, including a long punt of 57 yards. His kicking was one of the highlights for the Bulldogs.

The teams were almost dead even statistically. Crestwood led in total yardage, 280-274. Chelsea had 13 first downs to Crestwood's 11, each team lost three fumbles and had one pass intercepted.

Morseau and Zerkel each caught four passes, Plank caught three, David White had two receptions and Jude Quilter caught one pass.

As a footnote to the game, Chelsea beat all three of their non-conference opponents this year after losing six straight non-conference games over the last two years.

"It's probably been six or seven years since we've won them all," LaFave said.

"We try not to play any cupcakes in non-conference games as good competition makes us a better team."

received a very respectable time. Sophomore Angie Nagel ran a fine time despite having a bad cold and being unable to breath properly. I was extremely proud of the girls' efforts and I look forward to returning almost all of them next year."

Hedding finished fourth in 16:46. Bulldogs behind him were Brian Zangara, 55th, 18:09; Holden Harris, 59th, 18:12; Jeff Latimer, 63rd, 18:15; Matt Riemenschneider, 79th, 18:37; Kelly Beard, 91st, 18:54; and Jim Hasset, 118th, 19:25.

"Latimer ran his best race of the season to pace a group of Bulldog runners who were only 28 seconds apart," Clarke said.

"Sophomore Kelly Beard had another fine race as he ran under 19 minutes for the third time this season. This was a nice way for the boys team to end a season that has contained more than its share of disappointments. Their goal was to finish among the top 10 teams at the regional. There is a lot of work to do before next season, but the change in attitude was something to build on for next year."

Girl Runners Place Second in SEC Meet

Chelsea girls cross country team placed second at the Southeastern Conference meet on Tuesday, Oct. 26, well behind the winning Milan Big Reds.

The boys, however, weren't so fortunate as they finished in last place. For the girls, Sarah Grau took second over-all in 20:59 to lead the Bulldogs.

"The girls ran very well and second place was as good as we were going to do," Clarke said.

"Sarah Grau and Vicki Bulldog both ran super races to make all-league. Freshman Carmen Smith passed five girls in the last mile to give us our five point margin over Saline. And I was very proud of the way senior Debi Koenn and sophomore Christine Mignano ran in spite of being ill."

Individual statistics for the girls were Bullock, 6th, 21:20; Koenn, 13th, 22:16; Smith, 16th, 22:31; Mignano, 21st, 22:56; Sheila Haab, 25th, 23:33; and Angie Nagel, 29th, 24:06.

Clarke said he was terribly disappointed in the boys performance. They had 164 points, well behind sixth place Tecumseh with 105.

Brian Zangara was the top finisher for Chelsea, taking 24th over-all in 18:40. Bulldogs behind him were Matt

Riemenschneider, 28th, 18:47; Jeff Latimer, 34th, 18:57; Holden Harris, 38th, 19:13; Jim Hassett, 40th, 19:25; Kelly Beard, 41st, 19:35; and Erich Hammer, 44th, 19:56.

Tecumseh Nips 8th Grade Cagers

Tecumseh Indians edged the Chelsea Bullpup eighth grade basketball team 27-26 last Monday, Oct. 24.

Tecumseh made a foul shot with 11 seconds left for the win.

"The Chelsea girls continued to show improvement as Tecumseh had beaten them easily early in the season," said Chelsea coach Jon Schaffner.

Chelsea statistics included Molly Dilworth, 10 rebounds, 6 blocked shots, 6 points; Shelly Beeman, 6 steals, 5 rebounds, 2 points; Theresa Hurst, 5 points; Liz Lundquist, 3 rebounds, 2 points; Tina Blackford, 2 points; Heather McConeghy, 9 points.

Chelsea has a 7-3 record.

Ski Program Repeats on Jan. 20

For the second year in a row, learning to ski in Michigan is free, if you are willing to wait for the right day.

Participating Michigan ski facilities will offer free beginner ski lessons and free beginner-area lift and trail tickets to anyone who signs up in advance for the special Learn to Ski Free Day, Friday, Jan. 20, 1989.

Called "Let's Go Skiing, Michigan!" it is part of the national "Let's Go Skiing, America" program. It is designed to encourage non-skiers to spend a free day learning the skills needed to enjoy the sport. Free beginner downhill and cross-country lessons will be offered at more than 50 participating facilities that day. More downhill and cross-country facilities are signing up for the program every day, said Michigan Travel Bureau Director John Savich.

"Last year, when 42 downhill facilities took part in the program, more than 8,000 novices learned to ski in Michigan—compared with a nationwide total of 24,000," he said. "In other words, Michigan attracted one-third of the first-time skiers in the nation that day."

In addition to free beginner lessons, lift tickets, and cross-country trail passes, many facilities will also provide free use of rental equipment.

Prospective skiers must call the facility of their choice before Jan. 20 to make reservations. Because many facilities will be making reservations on a first-come, first-served basis, reservations should be made as early as possible.

A brochure explaining the "Let's Go Skiing, Michigan!" program and listing the participating resorts and facilities will be available in November from the Michigan Travel Bureau.

To request a copy of the brochure call the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432-YES. The hearing impaired may call the TDD (Michigan only) at 1-800-722-8191.

LARRY NIX heaves the ball downfield for one of his 14 completions during last Friday night's season finale against Crestwood. The senior quarterback had two touchdown passes and the Bulldogs rallied to win the game in the closing seconds.

JV Cagers Continue String With Wins Over Lincoln, JNW

Chelsea junior varsity basketball team continued its string of lopsided victories last week with a 74-21 pounding of Lincoln on Tuesday at home and a 76-25 victory over Jackson Northwest on Thursday on the road.

It was the same old story as Chelsea dominated both opponents in the first and third quarters.

In each game the Bulldog defense gave Chelsea numerous opportunities to shoot as they got off 81 shots against Lincoln and 82 against Northwest.

In the Lincoln game, Colleen Scharphorn had a big night as she scored 28 points on 11-24 shooting from the field and 6-7 shooting from the line. She also had 10 rebounds and four steals.

Other Bulldog scorers included

Mercedes Hammer with 14 points, Christine Burg with 12, Kate Dilworth with 12, Jennifer Petty with six, and Jennifer Bobo, Shawn Losey and Kristin Bohlender each had two.

Chelsea was 29-81 from the field and 16-23 from the free throw line.

In the Northwest game, the first and third quarters were the best Chelsea has played all year, according to coach Paul Terpstra.

Chelsea hammered Northwest 22-2 in the first and 28-8 in the third.

"We played with a lot of intensity and got a lot of loose balls," Terpstra said.

Dilworth led Chelsea with 21 points on 10-16 shooting from the field and 1-1 shooting from the line. She also had seven rebounds and three of the team's 26 steals.

Scharphorn scored 19, Hammer had 14, Burg scored eight, Bobo and Petty each scored six, and Bohlender had two.

Chelsea was 35-82 from the field and 6-12 from the line.

After last week's play Chelsea was still in first place in the Southeastern Conference with a 7-1 record. They were 13-1 over-all.

End Tax-Funded Abortions

KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT TAX-FUNDED ABORTION

IT'S A FACT... In 1977, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled the states are not required to pay for elective Medicaid abortions with tax dollars. 36 states have decided to get out of the abortion business, and not one has gone back to paying for abortions.

IT'S A FACT... Ending tax-funded abortions does not cause an increase in welfare cost according to a study reported in the Wall Street Journal. Welfare costs have remained stable in Colorado, which ended funding in 1985, and have dropped in Pennsylvania, which ended funding in 1984.

IT'S A FACT... Elective Medicaid abortions are big business in Michigan, making a few abortionists rich. In 1985, one abortionist received more than $453,440.00 of our tax dollars for performing abortions, and six more each made over $100,000.00.

IT'S A FACT... Free abortions mean more abortions. Tax-paid abortion has become an expensive form of birth control in Michigan, with the abortion rate three times higher among Medicaid recipients compared to the overall population.

IT'S A FACT... National studies show that pregnancy from forcible rape or assault is very rare. In fact, studies show no pregnancies from rape during a 9-year period in Chicago or a 30-year period in New York. For a woman who chooses an abortion, private funds are available for these rare cases.

IT'S A FACT... Studies by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control have found no rise in illegal, unsafe abortions in states without tax funding.

KNOW THE FACTS, THEN... VOTE "YES" ON PROPOSAL A
END TAX-FUNDED ABORTIONS

THE WEATHER wasn't exactly balmy for the final football game of the season last Friday and cheerleader Judy Bareis gets out of the traditional cheerleading attire in favor of sweatpants. The girls went on to cheer on the home crowd and the Bulldogs rallied in the final seconds to win the game.

DAVID ZERKEL made a sliding catch during last Friday's home game against Crestwood. The senior right end also caught two touchdown passes as the Bulldogs rallied to win 21-16.

Now elect... JOHN STANOWSKI
14th DISTRICT JUDGE

Highest rated candidate for 14th district court by Washtenaw County Bar Association poll.

'Kid Pix' To Be Made By Kiwanians

"Kid Pix," a public service to aid in the recovery of missing children, will be offered by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea on Saturday Nov. 5 and Saturday, Nov. 12 at Beach Middle school from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Kid Pix is a laminated photo identification card containing key information about a child. Each card will contain a color photo, along with height, weight, eye and hair color, important physical characteristics, and date of birth. It will not contain the child's name for security purposes.

Kid Pix is designed to provide an identification card for parents or guardians to have available in case an emergency occurs. Multiple copies of the card are available for families who need them.

No records or copies of the card will be kept by the club or any other organization.

There are no age restrictions, but parents of children from pre-school through middle school would be most likely to use the service.

There is no charge for the service, although the club will ask for a $1 donation to help offset costs.

For more information contact John Knox at 475-9363 or Blake Thomson at 475-9173.

MOST ORIGINAL winners in the 3 and under category were from left (1-3) Kirsty Marris as a nun, Lindsay Wentz as a Viking, and Antoinette Bogdanski as a bumblebee. The contest was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea.

Portable Radio Stolen from Car

A Chelsea school district teacher told Chelsea police that a portable radio/cassette player was stolen from her car while it was parked at the district's bus garage on Old US-12.

The teacher said she suspected that someone from a work detail from Camp Waterloo was responsible for the theft. However, as of press time Chelsea police had no evidence to link the theft to a prisoner.

The theft took place on Friday, Oct. 21 between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

HAROLD OWINGS ASKS WHY?

1. Why are fatal accidents up 70% over last year?
2. Why are there law suits pending for unfair labor practice?
3. Why are there law suits pending for sex discrimination?
4. Why does it take 1½-2 hours for a sheriff's car to respond to a call for service?
5. Why was medical treatment denied to a female inmate who later died in custody?
6. Why is the closure rate for serious crimes only 12% (same as the city of Detroit)?
7. With 82 sworn positions in the law enforcement division why do we need 27 command officers?
8. With 13 top command (1 sheriff-1 undersheriff-3 commanders-8 lieutenants) why are there no females, no blacks, no minorities?
9. Why did the tax payers spend $1.5 million dollars for a new radio system that does not work?
10. Why does the sheriff wash your car for $3 and send the patrol cars to a commercial car wash?

Don't you really think it is time for a change?

Papo-Allen Housing Project Cancelled

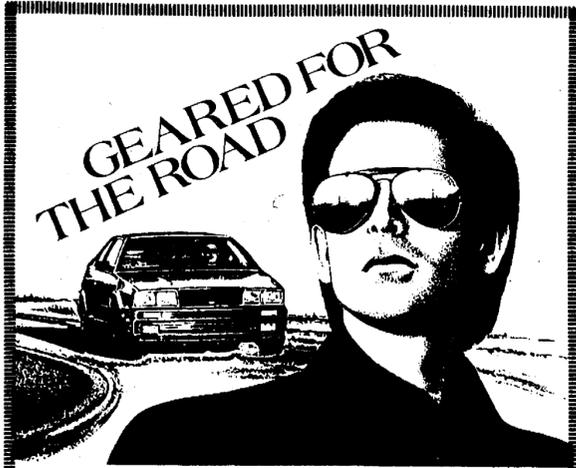

Rene Papo and Harold Allen have withdrawn their petition to change the zoning of property off Gene Dr. for a single-family housing development. Allen says he has decided to break business ties with Papo.

The withdrawal of the petition could jeopardize a similar development planned by Curt Farley in the Gene

Dr. area. Farley had planned to split the cost of road development into the area with Papo and Allen.

Papo and Allen had sought to have 13 acres re-zoned to allow medium density single family housing. It is now zoned for agriculture.

WORK HAS BEEN FAST AND FURIOUS as Ames Department Store, the first and main tenant in Chelsea Shopping Center, plans its grand opening this Friday.

Workers were scrambling to pour blacktop. The cars parked in the photo all belong to store employees.

Nation's 5th Largest Discount Retailer Opening Chelsea Store

Ames Department Stores, Inc., with 362 stores located throughout 18 north-east, midwest and mid-Atlantic states, has announced the Grand Opening of their newest store in Chelsea.

The new Chelsea Ames, located at 1040 S. Main St., will open on Friday, Nov. 4 at 8 a.m. and will celebrate with seven days of Grand Opening values throughout the store.

Chelsea Ames will feature carpeting in selected departments, wide aisles, a newly designed layaway area and customer service/information center. These features, along with attractive merchandise displays, new and improved store layout, and the latest decor, combine to offer Ames customers shopping ease, efficient customer service, and fast check-out, all in an attractive, contemporary shopping environment.

Throughout its 31-year history, Ames has established a tradition of community support, and that community involvement will continue in Chelsea. The Chelsea Volunteer Fire Department and Ambulance Service, McKune Memorial Library, Chelsea Recreation Department and Senior Citizens of Chelsea will each receive donations during the Grand Opening ribbon cutting ceremony. In addition, two infant car seats will be donated to the Chelsea Community Hospital.

As a further show of Ames' commitment to the community, the new Chelsea Ames extends an open invitation to non-profit civic groups in the area to hold bake sales, car washes, rummage sales and other fundraisers at their store.

In the 57,000-square-foot Chelsea Ames store, shoppers will find more than 70,000 items, including apparel for the entire family, domestics and housewares, toys, sporting goods, hardware, small appliances, electronics, jewelry, and health and beauty aids.

Ames is committed to staying consistently stocked on basic items that customers buy year round, and having everyday low prices on many items throughout its 87 departments.

Dan Jaquess, Ames store manager, sums it up best—"An attractive and exciting shopping environment, combined with excellent selection, style, service, and low prices make shopping at Ames a rewarding experience."

For the convenience of its customers, the Chelsea Ames will be open Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

McKUNE MEMORIAL LIBRARY NEW BOOK LIST

NEW BOOK LIST

"MISSING BEAUTY" by Teresa Carpenter. Pulitzer Prize-winner Teresa Carpenter brilliantly reconstructs one of the most fascinating murder investigations in years. A distraught father walks into the newsroom of the Boston Herald asking for help in locating his missing daughter. The publication of her photograph sets in motion a murder investigation that leads to the arrest of one of her former lovers. But nothing is as it seems. Robin Benedict is actually a high-paid prostitute in Boston's Combat Zone. The suspect is the eminent anatomist Dr. William Douglas.

led by this woman, he realizes the situation is much more serious than he suspected. . . .

"WILLIE" by Willie Nelson. Legendary "outlaw" of country music, Willie Nelson is more than just a star—he is also an authentic folk hero of our times. His life is more than a rags-to-riches story, it is a story of hardship, love, courage, friendship, and wisdom. His childhood in the depression; his stormy marriages, his wild experiences with drugs; his impoverished early years; his life as a country-music star.

"FINAL FLIGHT" by Stephen Coonts. After a particularly long cruise, the USS United States is in port in Naples and her crew is enjoying its first liberty in months. But something's not right. Several crew members have not reported back from their leave and a beautiful American reporter who boarded the ship in Tangiers may not be a reporter, or even an American. When one of the men, in a hotel in Naples, witnesses an assassination attempt "A LAND OF MIRRORS" by Alfred Coppel. At the foot of the crowded Spanish Steps in Rome, a young American girl is kidnapped in broad daylight. In a Swiss village, a professional killer expunges the life of a retired intelligence agent. And in the dark of a San Francisco night, Megan Wells is awakened by the persistent ring of her telephone. The caller claims to be her husband, a French journalist declared dead in Vietnam 17 years earlier. Thus begins an intricate and absorbing tale.

Home Equity Credit Lines May Be Helpful

Maybe Junior wants to go to college, or you really would like to buy a new car. Where can you get the money to pay for big ticket items like these?

If you're a homeowner, you may be thinking about a home equity credit line. With this type of loan, you borrow a certain amount of money from the equity you've built up in your home, and then pay it back in monthly installments.

Sound like a solution to your financial woes? Before you sign on the dotted line you should know that there are many different kinds of home equity lines, with different stipulations attached. Only by comparing those offered by different financial institutions can you find the best one for you. Before you go out "bank shopping" though, you may have all kinds of questions about how home equity lines of credit work. You can find the answers in simple, compact terms in Home Equity Credit Lines, from the Federal Trade Commission. This three-page fact sheet also includes a checklist which can be used to compare loan packages from a variety of lenders. For your copy, send $5 to Department 456T, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Before you apply for a home equity credit line, make sure it is the best kind of loan for you. Remember that you will be using your home as collateral, so you put your home at risk if you cannot make your monthly payments. If you do not like using your home as collateral, you might want to explore other options for borrowing money such as credit lines available with your credit cards or with unsecured lines of credit from lending institutions that let you write checks as you need the credit.

You might also want to explore the possibility of a second mortgage loan. Second mortgages differ from home equity credit lines in that the money in a second mortgage is loaned to you in a lump sum, rather than in a series of advances. Second mortgages usually have fixed interest rates and fixed payment amounts, whereas home equity credit lines may not.

You are probably wondering how much money you can borrow under a home equity credit line. Depending on your "creditworthiness," that is your income, credit rating, etc., lenders may let you borrow up to 75 to 80% of the current market value of your home minus the amount you still owe on your first mortgage. The current market value includes what you originally paid for your home, how much it has appreciated, and the cost of any home improvements.

Since interest rates vary from lender to lender, you will want to check with several for comparison. You need to decide if you prefer a fixed rate loan, or one with a variable interest rate. Fixed interest rates, though sometimes higher than variable ones, can offer unchanging monthly payments. Variable rates may offer smaller monthly payments initially, followed by payments that might change during the repayment period.

You may wonder what kind of tax deductions you'll be able to take with a home equity credit line. The tax laws governing these loans have just been changed. Basically, the new law limits interest deductions for most taxpayers to $100,000 of home equity borrowing, but the loan, then, can be used for any purpose. If you use the loan for buying, building or improving a home there is no limit on interest deductions. For further information, consult your tax advisor, or call the IRS.

If you plan carefully and ask the right questions, a home equity credit line could be a way of making some of your dreams, even the expensive ones, come true. For more facts on this type of loan, send for your copy of Home Equity Credit Lines today. You will also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the U. S. General Services Administration and lists more than 200 free and reasonably priced booklets on a wide variety of subjects.

St. Johns UCC To Observe Mission Sunday, Nov. 6

St. John's United Church of Christ at Rogers Corners, Waters Rd., Chelsea, will celebrate Mission Sunday on Nov. 6 at their 10:30 a.m. worship service.

Guest speaker is the Rev. Ramon R. Hernandez, director of the Ann Arbor Public Library, and a United Church of Christ clergyman. He received his BA degree from Elmhurst College and his theology degree from Eden Seminary in St. Louis, Mo. He also has a masters degree in library science from the University of Wisconsin. From 1960-64 he was co-pastor of St. Stephen UCC, Merrill, Wis. (his wife's home church). From 1964-1970, he was director of youth work and camps and conferences for the Wisconsin Church Conference of the UCC. Since 1970 he has been engaged full-time in public library administration.

A native of Chicago, and ordained at Bethany UCC in 1962, Hernandez and his wife, Fern, have been married for 26 years and have two children: Rob, a senior at the University of Wisconsin, and Mary a sophomore at EMU.

Hernandez has been very active in the UCC German church program. He was a UCC representative for several weeks in each of three visits to East German Evangelische Church—1977, 1984, and 1988. In addition, he led the church choir, to which his wife and he belonged, on a church choir concert tour of West German churches in 1981, and has hosted East and West German church visitors in his home and community on six occasions. He is a member of the United Church Board for World Ministries and the UCC German Church National Committee.

His sermon for the occasion is entitled "Our Church in Communist East Germany." This will be followed with the Sacrament of Holy Communion. At noon a carry-in fellowship dinner will be served by the church. The public is invited.

★ It's Flu Shot Time

While we're enjoying the final days of summer and setting agendas for fall activities, it's important to remember that sometime between now and Christmas Michigan's influenza season will begin. Since flu shots are not fully effective until about two weeks after they're given, now is the time to schedule immunizations.

Immunizations are especially important for certain groups of people. Here at the Michigan Department of Public Health we suggest that persons over age 65 and anyone with chronic heart, lung, or kidney disease, as well as diabetics, should get the shots. We also urge persons working in hospitals or nursing homes, or having regular contact with older or chronically ill patients, to get them.

The federal Centers for Disease Control predict that the influenza strains expected to attack Americans this winter will be the same three reported last year. Symptoms of flu include fever, headache, muscle ache, and subsequent cold symptoms. Treatment usually includes bed rest, drinking plenty of liquids, and taking medications for the cold symptoms.

Even if you were vaccinated last year, if you are at high risk, you need to be reimmunized this year. Some people get confused because many vaccines are not annual, but flu shots must be renewed each year.

During a mild to moderate flu season, as many as 250,000 Michigan residents may become ill and approximately 500 may die. While most people recover with no serious effects, for some high risk individuals a bout with the bug can become a life-threatening crisis. That's why the vaccinations are so important.

A small percentage of children who have the flu can develop a potentially deadly condition known as Reye's Syndrome. Most Reye's cases are reported among school age children. Symptoms include vomiting, severe headaches, and unusual behavior as the child recovers from the flu. If such symptoms occur, contact your physician or take the child to a hospital emergency room.

Experts tell us that vaccination is the single most important measure you can take to prevent getting the flu. If you are at high risk, or work closely with persons who are, make an appointment for an immunization. As we say at the Health Department, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Chelsea Seniors Plan Seasonal Outings

The Chelsea Seniors have two Christmasy events planned for December: shopping in Chicago and an evening at a dinner theatre.

The Seniors will go on a Shop and Fun trip to Chicago Dec. 1-3. They will be transported from the bus garage to catch the 8:28 a.m. train in Ann Arbor on Thursday, Dec. 1, arriving in Chicago at 12:35 p.m. A sack lunch is recommended due to the one-hour time difference.

Seniors will board a bus, tour Chicago, see the Sears Tower, and the production, "Here's Chicago." The next stop will be Palmer House where they will stay for the night. Seniors will have free time until 1 p.m. on Saturday. They will then be transported back to Union Station to catch the train home. It will arrive in Ann Arbor at 8:10 p.m. Maps and restaurants close to Palmer House will be provided.

Cost is $226 for a single; $154 per double occupancy. A $50 deposit is due by Nov. 4 with the balance due Nov. 18.

The next scheduled activity is a trip to the Turkeyville Dinner Theatre on Thursday, Dec. 8 to see the musical "An Old Fashioned Christmas." The Seniors will leave Chelsea at 9:30 a.m. and be back in town at 5:30 p.m. Cost is $32. It includes dinner, the play and bus fare. Money and reservation is due by Nov. 3 because of the non-refundable nature of the theatre tickets. A minimum of 30 people is needed; maximum is 45.

Church Women To Celebrate World Community Day Nov. 4

World Community Day, observed on Friday, Nov. 4, and sponsored by Church Women United, is an annual event that unites Protestant, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women in a common worship experience that this year affirms the ministry of everywoman in the church.

This year's ecumenical service, entitled "Everywoman's Ministry," recognizes the many and varied ministries women perform, within and outside of the organized church, that touch families, friends and neighbors... the sick, elderly, hungry and destitute.

The celebration was designed as a challenge to women to recognize and share the gifts of their own individual ministries and to encourage one another to utilize their gifts and talents to the fullest.

In Chelsea, World Community Day will be Friday, Nov. 4 at 1 p.m. at St. Paul United Church of Christ, on Old US-12. Refreshments will be hosted by Chelsea Church Women United board members, followed by the service.

It is the group's hope that all who can will join in this celebration, and they also hope all who support women's ministries of love and service will make generous offerings. For it is these World Community Day offerings that make possible, in part, the mission of Church Women United and support its national commitment to eliminate the poverty of women and children in this country and build a world of peace and justice.

GROWING UP IS TOO IMPORTANT TO BE LEFT TO THE KIDS.

Turn Your Heart Toward Home
 Dr. James C. Dobson knows it's difficult for today's parents to keep their priorities straight. In "Turn Your Heart Toward Home," Dr. Dobson alerts parents to the threats kids face, and urges them to take a stand for their families, and turn to the values that make homes strong.

In this provocative six-part film series, Dr. Dobson speaks openly about the issues. His front-line perspective inspires, compels, and motivates. Plan now to see all six films.

This 6-part film series begins on Sunday evening, November 6th at 6:00 p.m., and runs consecutively the next 5 Sunday evenings at the IMMANUEL BIBLE CHURCH, 145 E. Summit Street, just off the Main Street.

The public is invited to attend. A nursery will be provided. Please call 475-8936 for further details.

SOUTH SCHOOL HALLOWEEN PARADE delegation was led by a football player, Freddy Kruger, Alf, and someone not quite so dressed up. Children paraded around the block near South school Monday afternoon to show off their costumes.

Huron Farm Supply Moves to New Site

After 26 years at a location whose name is hyphenated, the Dexter-Chelsea Rd., Huron Farm Supply is pulling up its lawn and garden tractors and moving across town to another street whose name has a hyphen in it, the Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd.

The occasion? None other than that the long-time owner, Richard Wiseley, is passing the baton to his two children, Lisa and Mark; in other words, retiring.

After 30 years operating the business (for the first four it was located in downtown Dexter), finally Wiseley will get a chance to use that "old junky cabin" as he calls it, up on Lake Huron, for a little well-earned relaxation.

Fittingly, another family is moving their business into the old Huron Farm Supply store. Brothers Dan and Tim Tomshany, as well as their father, Paul, bought the building two months ago. In mid-October, they started setting up an auto parts and repair service there, T & T Master Mechanics. Already several cars, which could be seen jacked high up in the air on their hoists, have come in for repair. The shop, whose mechanics include Pat Gregory of Dexter, Dave Cowhy of Ann Arbor and Dan Tomshany, will do repairs on any cars but foreign ones. The shop won't do body work. Although they are ready for customers (Tim Tomshany wanted to mention that the phone number is 426-3535), their official opening, to be announced in a forthcoming issue of The Dexter Leader, won't be for at least a few months.

Wiseley's son Mark remarked that few changes in stock are planned for the future at the Huron Farm Supply's new location, which is just adjacent to Frank Grohs Chevrolet. That is, other than the usual item updates that the parent company, John Deere, comes out with each year. This spring, Mark Wiseley said, the company is expected to bring out some new riding mowers and home care mowers.

"We'll be continuing the store the way it was," he said, to the extent that if there are sufficient funds some day, the Wiseleys will build a new store on the land between the old store and the A & W. They still own just under an acre of property there.

The main change that the business went through over the years was evolving from an agricultural to a "consumer's products" (lawn and garden) retailer, Richard Wiseley said. As the number of small farms around Dexter winnowed out and hard times hit farmers in the late 70's through the early 80's, the store made the shift in products. Another change was that early on, the most powerful tractor available was 60 horse power whereas today the company has come out with the 250 horse power tractor.

"You have to remember that we were replacing horses back in those days," Wiseley said.

After 26 years at the same place, Richard Wiseley said he feels a little melancholy at leaving the old store. It's the store that his son, Mark, used to stop at on his way home from school in Dexter, and that his daughter, Lisa, has worked at since she was a sophomore in high school.

Looking out over the railroad tracks from his erstwhile office, Wiseley remarked that when he first moved into the business, about 25 trains per day passed by on the busy tracks. Now only two or three trains go by per day, usually Amtrak commuters. Does he miss the trains?

"No, they were noisy."

Party Preference Must Be Stated To Participate In Presidential Primary

The Michigan State Legislature has taken action to reinstate presidential primary elections in Michigan. This action will once again allow Michigan voters to have a voice in the presidential nominating process. The first presidential primary to be held under the new law is scheduled for March 17, 1992.

A voter who wishes to cast a ballot at the 1992 presidential primary must declare a preference for a political party participating in the primary. The voter's political party preference must be stated in writing no later than Feb. 17, 1992.

Voters who go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 8, 1988 will be handed a postcard which gives them the opportunity to state a political party preference for the presidential primary. The postcard can be completed and given to the precinct inspectors working at the polls, taken from the polls and completed at a later date, or rejected.

Voters do not have an obligation to declare a political party preference unless they wish to participate in the 1992 presidential primary. The political party preference declarations submitted by voters will only be used to administer the presidential primary; the political party preference declarations will not be used to administer any other partisan primaries held in the state.

It was necessary to design the presidential primary as a "closed" primary as the results of "open" presidential primaries are not fully recognized by political parties on the national level.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
I must admit that I was not surprised to read that water, and sewer rates will be going up. It did, however, generate a couple of questions. If operating expenses are expected to increase 62%, why are user rates increasing 109% the first year? Is this "good fiscal management?" I know that this windfall will not go to village employees, but rather to out-of-town "consultants."
My second question is, how do I get on the Village consultant payroll? I need the money to pay for my water and sewer.
Donald T. Osborne.

An Open Letter to the Village of Chelsea:
I have read and heard criticism of the Village Officials for their attempt to enter the world of big business via the "Industrial Park" route. I am not about to add my voice to that song, and as a non-resident (20 feet outside the village limits) I have no right to do so. However, if I had some property that I wanted to sell, I surely would not front it with a large pile of two year old - one year old - and now this year's crop of fallen leaves. The area abounds with mold and mildew and is just plain ugly.
If I were managing the Industrial Park of Chelsea, I would do some beautification along Sibley Rd. This is not an application for the job. I am sure the Village of Chelsea has codes which must be approved and adhered to by any company proposing to buy and build in the Park. Any prospective buyer who would propose to do what the Village has done would be denied a permit to do so. Come on Chelsea—you want to be all grown up and modern with your very own Industrial Park, but are not putting forward a very professional face!
Sincerely,
Jim Gaunt.

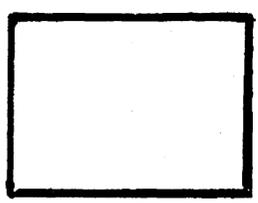

To the Editor:
I would like to address the news item in the Oct. 26, 1988 Chelsea Standard regarding the shopping center Developer arrested on drug charges. Was this person under investigation for drug trafficking while proposing his development plans to the village of Chelsea? How do we know that drug monies did not finance the construction of the mall south of town?
If this is the case then I question the judgment of our Village planners. Will there now be an investigation into the source of the monies this developer has procured for his land development? I will personally boycott the mall in protest that we can not turn our heads for the sake of the almighty dollar when it concerns drugs and drug dealing.

- I pledge to work as Drain Commissioner for the people of Washtenaw County... to fight for the future of our land, our water, and our children.
- I oppose the planned hazardous waste facility in Augusta Township, an ecological nightmare where massive amounts of toxic waste would be dumped.
- I support local governmental control over decisions affecting the health and welfare of our population. My opponent was instrumental in stripping away local control of hazardous waste site selection.

New Geological Data Reveals Better SSC Site

Michigan has already made the final round, but new information gleaned from recent borings shows that Michigan's proposed Stockbridge site for the Superconducting Super Collider (SSC) is better than originally thought.

According to Jim Heinzman, associate director of the Michigan SSC Commission and a Department of Natural Resources geologist, material brought up for analysis from new test drillings for January and February revealed solid bedrock for virtually the entire length of the 53-mile SSC tunnel location.

"This means that, if the SSC is built here, the cost of boring the tunnel will be significantly lower than we originally figured, and the problems we thought we might have with water in the tunnel area will be much smaller—perhaps insignificant," Heinzman said.

"Our site, therefore, should be even more attractive to the Department of Energy when it decides where it wants to build the SSC."

The geology of south-central Lower Michigan includes several layers of bedrock covered by deposits of loosely compacted rock fragments and debris left by the advance and retreat of Ice Age glaciers. The bedrock foundation in the Stockbridge area, through which the SSC tunnel would be built, is composed primarily of sandstone and shale—rock that is fairly easy to tunnel through yet solid enough to provide stable walls, floors and ceilings.

The initial geologic survey of the Stockbridge SSC site was done quickly in order to meet the Sept. 2, 1987, deadline for submitting proposals to DOE, Heinzman explained. Only 12 test borings were made to relatively shallow depths, and other information was collected from records turned in by water and oil well drillers in recent years in the vicinity.

On the basis of this early and sketchy data, it appeared that the tunnel path would run into at least four buried, subterranean valleys filled with glacial deposits that—if they existed—would create "weak spots" and allow water to enter and collect in the tunnel. These potential problems were noted by the National Academy of Sciences and National Academy of Engineering (NAS/NAE) in its report to the DOE last December. In spite of this apparent drawback, however, the Michigan site was still included in the NAS/NAE "best qualified list" of potential SSC sites.

Since then, Heinzman said, Michigan has gathered a lot of new information about the geology of the Stockbridge site through 18 more test wells (some drilled to far greater depths), analysis of core material brought up from these borings, and other sophisticated survey techniques. As a result, geologists found that three of the suspected underground valleys did not exist and the fourth only dipped close to the top of the proposed tunnel, presenting a much smaller potential problem to the SSC.

A detailed report of the new geological findings is being completed and will be sent to the DOE soon as an amendment to Michigan's original site proposal.

Michigan Gift Guide Available From C. of C. Office

Flights of fancy—from hot air balloon rides to reproductions of a 1930's biplane—along with more than 200 other Michigan-made products are featured in the fourth annual Michigan Gift Guide.

Published by the Office of Michigan Products Promotion in time for holiday gift-giving, the guide includes 73 new companies, offering such specialty items as designer log homes and elaborately styled yachts.

"The guide was designed to showcase the high level of quality and diversity of Michigan-made products," said Commerce Department Director Doug Ross. "It also promotes the fastest growing sector of Michigan's economy—the small business entrepreneur—which has been a leading force behind our success in diversifying our economy."

The guide is distributed at no charge to consumers and a variety of organizations including the top 100 Michigan companies, trade associations and chambers of commerce across the state. It may be obtained by calling the Office of Michigan Products Promotion at 1-800-MIPRODS or by writing to the Michigan Department of Commerce, Office of Michigan Products Promotion, P.O. Box 30004, Lansing 48909.

Common Science

By Joe Jeffers, PhD

★ Taste . . .

We have all heard the old saying "your taste is all in your mouth," implying, of course, that the person to whom this insult is directed has no taste when it comes to culture or style. It is true that we think of the mouth, especially the tongue, when we think of tasting food. Yet there is much more to taste than the tongue. All of the subtleties of taste other than sweet, sour, salty and bitter come from smell and from the feeling of food in the mouth—texture, fizzyness, tartness, etc. Without the nose 80 percent of our ability to distinguish the subtleties of flavor is lost.

Let's begin with the basics. The tongue can distinguish sweet, sour, salty and bitter. It contains taste buds, some 7,000 of them at birth, distributed at its tip, back and sides. Each taste bud is made up of 50 to 150 cells. The bud contains a taste receptor. When a food molecule of the correct shape encounters the taste receptor, a lock-and-key type fit is made and a signal is passed down nerve cells in the taste receptor to the brain. Depending on the kind of receptor stimulated, the brain receives one of the four basic sensations of taste.

These taste receptors are grouped on the tongue. Sweet and salty taste buds are at the tip of the tongue; sour receptors are at the sides; and bitter ones are at the back. The flavor molecules also drift into the nose where other more varied receptors reside.

Taste is an important function biologically since it causes the flow of saliva, increases the amounts of digestive enzymes being released and triggers the release of insulin. Our appetites depend in part on a favorable response from taste. It also serves to control our eating too much. The eating of fats and proteins causes the body to produce a hormone which decreases the tastiness of food. Some persons lose their appetites because all food begins to taste like garbage. Many of the cases have been traced to a zinc deficiency. When adequate zinc is added back to the diet, the problem disappears. The zinc deficiency is especially prevalent among older persons. When that is coupled with the loss in the number of taste buds that occur with age, down to only 1,000-2,000 by late adulthood, it is no surprise that many elderly persons lose their appetites and become undernourished.

A closer look at taste receptors leaves us with some puzzling situations. Sugar, saccharin and aspartame (Nutrasweet) all have the proper shape to fit the sweet receptor. Yet each of these sweeteners leads to a slightly different sensation. The reasons for this are not known. Furthermore, a given flavor molecule, aspartame for example, may stimulate taste receptors for bitter as well as sweet. Since many different receptors for bitter exist, some persons are sensitive to a particular bitter taste, others are not. For that reason a soft drink sweetened with aspartame may taste perfectly sweet to one person, but leave a bitter after-taste for another. Obviously, this poses a problem for the soft drink industry as they would prefer not to lose customers who have this bitter sensitivity.

Other studies are indicating that heredity plays an important part in taste. Just because you like a food and think it tastes great, you cannot assume that when your friend tastes that food that he will experience the same taste. Taste sensations seem to vary considerably from one person to another.

Another factor that affects taste is the effect of previously eaten foods. Water is often reported to have a sweet taste when it is drunk immediately after eating asparagus and to have a sour or bitter taste when it follows salt. The berries of a West African bush (Synsepalum dulcificum) have very little taste themselves. But other foods eaten after them taste sweet. Even lemons taste sweet instead of sour. Discovering the reasons for these shifts in taste and determining how the knowledge can enhance the packaging of foods certainly has the food industry excited.

The Need for a Joint City/County Courthouse

- Washtenaw County Proposal 2
- Ann Arbor City Charter Amendment
Authorizing Tax for City Buildings

November 8th Election, 1988

The Need

Our courts require more space.

■ Today's

Overcrowded Conditions

Space is immediately needed to meet modern operational standards.

- 125% more District Court space
- 75% more Circuit Court space
- 120% more Probate Court space
- 80% more space for public services

■ Tomorrow's Need For Space

As Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County grow, so will court caseloads.

- 85% increase in District Court caseload over the next 25 years will require an additional 45% increase in court space.
- 45% increase in Circuit Court caseloads will require an additional 30% increase in space.

■ Experts Find Functional and Security Problems

Four independent studies find significant problems with present facilities.

- Lack of dignified judicial settings
- Inadequate space to conduct daily business
- Deficient security systems
- Prisoners in public areas

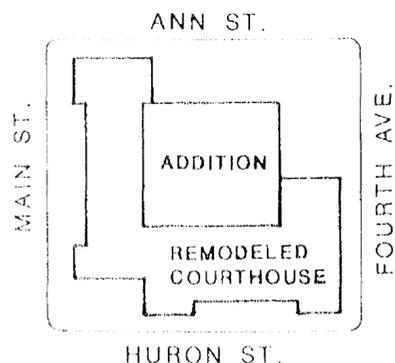

The Project

A shared facility meets the public need.

Improvements to the Washtenaw County Courthouse will centrally locate the County's Circuit and Probate Courts with the City of Ann Arbor's District Court:

■ Seven Story Addition

Modern court facilities to meet current needs and future expansion.

■ Remodeled Courthouse

Increased space for public services.

■ Convenient Public Parking

Additional parking for 250 cars.

The Benefits

A joint facility best serves the public.

■ Saving Taxpayer Dollars

A Joint Facility costs less to build and operate than if Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County build separate facilities.

■ Making Courts Easier to Use

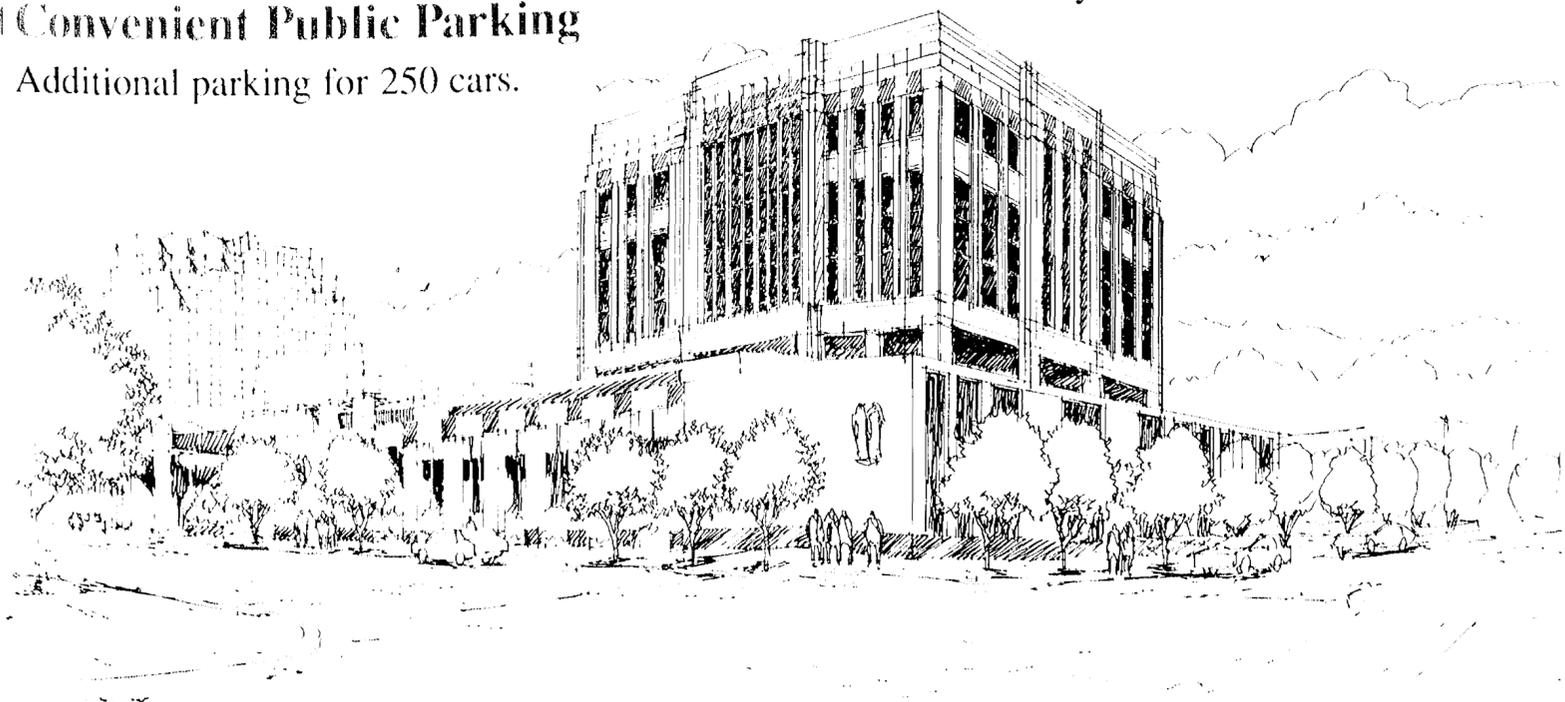

One building conveniently houses both City and County courts.

■ Planning for the Next 50 Years

Built-in expansion potential will meet future court needs.

■ Providing Efficient Legal Proceedings

A shared court building allows for greater flexibility for future needs.

The Cost

Funding the Joint Courthouse

■ What is the Project Cost?

- Washtenaw County's share for Circuit and Probate Courts and improved public services:$23.8 Million

- City of Ann Arbor's share for District Court:$ 4.9 Million

Total Cost$28.7 Million

■ What will the Project Cost Me?

For the owner of an $80,000 home:

- Washtenaw County residents will pay a property tax increase of:

.....$ 33.60

(to fund the County's portion of the project)

- In addition to the County property tax, City of Ann Arbor residents will also pay a City property tax increase of:

.....$ 20.00

(to fund the City's portion of the project)

Amounts shown are maximums for a 20 year period. Actual property tax amounts may decline each year.
