New Wastewater Treatment Plant Operating

Project Finished Within Budget, Ahead of Schedule

AN AERIAL VIEW of Chelsea's new wastewater treatment plant, shot by local photographer Dale Fisher, shows how enormous the plant is compared to the old one. The old plant is outlined on the top portion of the photo. The new $8.4 million plant was started up last week. Extensive testing will eventually tell the village how much additional growth it can accommodate. The project represents the largest public project in the history of the village.

Chelsea's new $8.4 million wastewater treatment plant, a project that has spanned two decades, was turned on last Monday, Oct. 31, well ahead of a Jan. 15 deadline imposed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The plant itself represents the largest public works project in the history of the village. However, the significance of the plant goes far beyond its cost.

Without the plant, virtually none of the current commercial and residential developments would be taking place as they all relied on expanded sewage capacity. That list of developments is substantial—Chelsea Shopping Center, Bridgetown Condominiums, Belser Estates, Quiet Creek Condominiums. Several other developments have also been proposed, including Village Mall next to Poly's Market, Chelsea Pines Condominiums near South school, and an office center and apartment complex off Old US-12. Another smaller residential development could be built off Gene Dr.

The rapid expansion, in turn, has caught the village off-guard in other ways. Developers have pointed out how woefully out of date the village's zoning ordinance is. The village has begun the process of overhauling the ordinance as a new set of definitions has been proposed. Another ordinance has been proposed outlining the differences between public and private roads, an issue that has come up in both the Bridgetown and Belser projects.

In addition, the village may act to change the way it does business with developers. At the Nov. 1 council meeting, village manager Fritz Weber said the village needs to find a way to recoup legal fees and consulting costs associated with various projects. If the village decides to charge developers for those costs, many long-winded arguments that have characterized both planning commission and village council meetings are likely to be avoided.

The development has allowed the village to expand its borders, with the biggest example being Belser Estates, where 40 acres were annexed. The office center/apartment complex would add 53 acres.

And with the development comes an expanded tax base for both the village and the Chelsea School District.

The commercial development has also played a big part in the activities of the Downtown Development Authority. Merchants want to make sure they can continue to compete with the Chelsea Shopping Center and other planned developments.

The plant has also begun to take its toll on village residents, who are just beginning to pay for the project. Taxes have been increased by nearly five mills to pay for construction. And village administration has proposed that user rates double next year as costs will rise substantially for electricity and natural gas to run the plant. In addition, another person is going to be hired.

The plant, as shown in the aerial photo in this issue, is huge compared to the old plant. It sits on 8.8 acres next to the old plant across McKinley St. from North school. The land, purchased from Henry and Martin Merkel, cost $39,800.

And it's really smaller than the DNR wanted as the village's engineering firm of Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout was able to talk the DNR out of another oxidation ditch, the big round portion of the plant.

The old plant will be used primarily for run-off when exceptionally rainy weather causes the primary plant to go over capacity.

By the end of the year the village will have a pretty good idea how much additional development the village will be able to handle without going over the plant's capacity. Not only has the plant added capacity, but work on the village's sewer system, part of the EPA grant, has helped as well. However, until the plant has been on for a couple months, all the predicted additional capacity is guesswork.

A projection in 1987 predicted the village could grow about 50 percent, to about 5,400 people, and still be served adequately. However, when the plant was first designed, Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout said a population of 4,600 could be served. The population now is about 3,600.

The plant, according to engineers, is designed so that it can be easily expanded.

Construction began almost exactly a year ago. The only major delay so far was caused by a fire that destroyed the plant's electrical control panel this summer. Still, the plant is on schedule and on budget, according to the village.

The wastewater plant project began, in essence, with the passage of the federal Clean Water Act in 1972. The village knew it was having problems with phosphorous emissions into Letts Creek. The writing was on the wall.

In 1977 the DNR issued a Final Order of Determination and forced the village to upgrade its wastewater treatment. An interim discharge permit was issued.

In the early 1970s, village council declared a moratorium on extending sewer lines for development. The moratorium was lifted in 1982 after the village went through a two-year period when no building permits were issued here. No significant development began until late last year.

In the early 1970s, the village first applied for an EPA matching grant to build the plant. The village was low on the priority list, and didn't get notification of the grant until September of 1985. In the meantime, the amount EPA would spend on the project decreased from 75 percent to 55 percent.

Village voters approved a $2 million bond issue on March 10 by a vote of 444-164.

Initial construction estimates were $4.7 million for the total plant. However, the village's engineering (Continued on page three)

Council Seeks Financial Expert As New Assistant Village Administrator

The village is seeking someone with a strong financial background to take the place of former assistant village manager Lee Fahrner, according to village president Jerry Satterthwaite.

Fahrner is an engineer by training. He recently left to take a consulting job with Midwestern Consulting Co.

The new person will, in all likelihood, take the place of village manager Fritz Weber when Weber retires, which could be as early as next year depending on his health.

According to Satterthwaite, the village is not likely to hire another engineer in the near future simply because that work can be contracted out to consultants. However, if the workload warrants it, Satterthwaite said an engineer could be hired next summer.

Satterthwaite said the village has already received a few resumes. He said he expects quite a few more when an advertisement appears in the next Michigan Municipal League publication.

"I think we'd like to interview as many as 10 people," Satterthwaite said.

"I want the whole council to consider all the candidates. This is too tough a decision to leave the job entirely to the personnel committee."

Satterthwaite said the new person wouldn't necessarily have to "have 20 years of college." However, if the new person does take Weber's place, he or she would be required to move into the village within six months to a year.

In the meantime, office manager Barbara Fredette has been promoted to administrative assistant and has received a raise of $4,000 to $26,000. Council approved the promotion at their regular Nov. 1 meeting. She is acting as a liaison among Weber, Fahrner, who will remain a consultant for a while, and anyone who needs the assistance of the village administration. Although the promotion was officially a temporary one, Satterthwaite said she would probably retain the title after any changes in administration.

"I imagine Lee will follow through on all the projects he started," Satterthwaite said. Some of those include Chelsea Shopping Center, Village Mall, Belser Estates, the wastewater treatment plant, and the landfill situation.

Fahrner's new company has proposed an hourly rate of $75 to $85 for Fahrner's time, depending on the job.

Kristin Roberts Killed In Early Sunday Crash

A 1988 Chelsea High school graduate was killed Sunday morning when she lost control of her car in Lenawee county on a slippery US-223 and hit a pick-up truck that was traveling in the opposite direction, according to the Lenawee County Sheriff's Department.

Killed immediately was Kristen S. Roberts, 18, of 19693 Old US-12, who was driving a 1977 Corvette. The driver of the truck, G.B. Hoffman, 66, of Addison, was pronounced dead at Addison Hospital.

Michelle Horn, 18, of Chelsea, and Thomas Lemaire of Manitou Beach, were passengers in the Corvette. Police said Horn was straddling the console between the seats and Lemaire was in the passenger seat. None of the three was wearing a seatbelt.

Horn suffered a broken arm. Lemaire was treated and released from Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

Police said the road was slick with spots of slush and ice and apparently Roberts lost control of the vehicle due to road conditions. They said the car began to slide sideways. The impact of the crash was on the driver's side.

The accident occurred 12 miles west of Adrian.

Roberts is the daughter of Gerald Roberts of Chelsea, and Sharon Roberts, also of Chelsea. She was employed in the Physical Therapy Department of Chelsea Hospital.

New Minister To Be Installed

Members of the First Congregational Church of Chelsea, located at 121 E. Middle St., will be installing their new minister, the Rev. Leland E. Booker, on Sunday, Nov. 13 at 3:30 p.m. A reception following the service will be held in the downstairs dining room.

Dils, Village Will Meet in Court Thursday About Easement Dispute

A court date has been set for tomorrow, Thursday, Nov. 10 to consider the village's condemnation of property owned by Art and Ruth Dils.

Village attorney Peter Flinto informed the council last Tuesday, Nov. 1.

The village began condemnation proceedings against the Dilses last month after they refused to accept $2,500 for an easement for a sewer line across their N. Main St. property. Art Dils maintains the easement should be worth at least $10,000, because the vacant lot will lose that much in value.

The case will be heard in circuit court before Judge Ross Campbell.

In other easement news, Richard Machnik has apparently decided to accept the village's offer of no money for an easement across his Gene Dr. property. An appraiser commissioned by the village determined that the property would increase in value by the presence of a sewer line.

Machnik had threatened to take the matter to court.

With the Machnik situation apparently straightened out, the Dils easement is the only obstacle to the village finishing its sewer line project. That project will service the south end of the village.

In other village council news, the council agreed to have a development agreement drawn up regarding phase two of Bridgetown Condominiums.

The new agreement would allow Bridges to receive final site plan approval without having to wait for Washtenaw county to complete its drainage project. The original agreement calls for the improvements to be in place.

The new agreement will apparently follow closely the language of the old agreement.

Village manager Fritz Weber suggested that the village devise a plan to charge developers for legal and consulting fees paid by the village. He said developers of Bridgetown Condominiums would have paid $4,000 in review fees for the project if it had (Continued on page six)

Five seniors and four juniors were the first to win the new academic varsity letters for their outstanding academic performance last year. The letters resemble athletic letters (a large "C"), but feature the lamp of knowledge). Senior letter winners were Marcia Keezer, Jason Pierson, Joseph Simon, Joshua Smith, Kelly Thayer; juniors were Kimberly Collins, Cindy Kvarnberg, Jill Schaffner, and Jennifer Swearingen.

Last year, farmers raved about high quality, low moisture corn crop yields of up to 100 bushels per acre. Where most of the crop in this area had been harvested at this time in 1973, many fields remained standing in 1974, primarily due to the high moisture level in the ears and not in the field themselves, said county extension director Don Johnson.

Report Documents Vulnerability Of Michigan's Children

Growing numbers of Michigan's children are at serious economical, medical, emotional and educational risk and as a result may not be able to successfully compete in Michigan's economy as young adults, a state-wide citizens organization warned in a recently released report.

A report by the Michigan League for Human Services compiled data from each of Michigan's 83 counties which shows that "increasing numbers of the state's families are experiencing severe economic distress, resulting in more children being raised in poverty and forced to rely on a human services system which often fails to meet their basic need for food, clothing, shelter, medical care and education.

League Executive Director Beverly McDonald said that the future productivity and prosperity of the state's children could be severely limited as a result of experiencing prolonged childhood stress.

"We view this report as a first step in a public education effort designed to encourage greater investment in the state's children by the public and private sectors, and specifically in prevention and basic support programs," McDonald said.

Indicators of economic hardship and family disintegration highlighted in the report include:

—Over 444,000 children, or one of every six in Michigan, lived in families receiving cash public assistance at 60 percent of the poverty line in 1987. Lake county had the highest rate at 30.4 percent.

—Of families with children headed by women, 122,000 of them lived below 125 percent of the poverty line. In all counties, at least one in three of such families were subsisting at this level. Of those with children under 6 years old, two of three were in this position.

Baraga county was first, as all of its 46 female-headed families were living 125 percent below the poverty line.

—Although six small rural counties reported no infant deaths, the state had an over-all infant mortality rate of 11.4 deaths per 1,000 live births. In Lake county, the infant mortality rate was 26.3 percent.

—Over 16,000 children were victims of abuse and/or neglect and approximately one-quarter of those children were removed from their homes and placed in foster care or institutional care. Charlevoix county had the highest out-of-home placement of children at 13.2 percent.

—Of students in grades 9 through 12, 5.8 percent dropped out. But 12 percent of all black students and 10.9 percent of all Hispanic students left school. Also, the teen-age birth rate was 12 percent in 1985. Luce county had the highest rate at 25.6 percent.

The report urged the state to "pursue an aggressive support and prevention strategy" in order to reduce these numbers.

Programs such as prenatal care, preventive health care through age 18, Head Start, and four years of college were all cited in the report as good preventive programs.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The Russians must be convinced that confession is good for American wheat imports and gitting the upper hand in nuclear weapons, not to mention the soul, Bug Hookum said at the country store Saturday night, and they are trying to make up fer 70 year of baldface lying as Government policy. Bug had saw by the papers where the USSR said it has been making bad maps since WWII, better to confuse spies in and out of the country.

They said they have been putting streets, rivers, military bases and hole towns in wrong places. Trouble is, Bug reported, the Russian people have been using the same maps the spies use, so it ain't no wonder they've had the devil's own time gitting what little food they can grow to folks in the cities that stand in lines half a day to buy bread and meat. They've had accurate maps all along, Bug went on, but they've been top secret, which means the average Joesky couldn't see em either.

Zeke Grubb was quick to note that Bug's idee was jest what Russia wanted. You admit one lie and you want folks to believe you've wiped the slate clean. More likely, Zeke said, the Russians are lying about lying about the maps so spies and regular Russians trying to cross any border they can find won't be able to trust any maps. About all you can draw from the report, Bug said, is that the Russian Government keeps the Russian people so mixed up it ain't no wonder they drink more vodka than water.

General speaking, broke in Clem Webster, Americans git more information than they can absorb, and a heap more than the Government would like fer us to have. Fer instant, Clem had saw where the Veterans Administration spent more than $60,000 to send doctors in its hospitals to Disney World, where they help their patients by learning to relate to people the way Mickey and his pals do.

If you believe that, Clem said, you'll be pleased to read where Congress is planning to raise its minimum wage to $135,000 a year. The idee is, Congressmen can't live in the manner the American people expect on what they've been making. The part Congress didn't mention, Clem added, is that pensions fer Congressmen is based on their pay, so if we vote em out after they raise their wages we'll keep paying em.

Practical speaking, Clem went on, it's never easy to take in all the angles at first reading. He had saw a headline recent that said "Most White House Intruders Harmless." Clem said if he was in the White House being intruded on that report would be small comfort. Most people walking around loose are non-violent sane, Clem said, most drivers you meet on the road are cold sober and all most folks on airplanes want to do it git where they want to go safe.

It's the few crazies that mess up the statics, Clem said. One jetliner passenger with a bomb and a death wish can spoil the hole trip fer everybody and make all the front pages, Clem allowed, so he sees no cause in the report to relax Presidential security.

Final, Ed Doolittle, that has been a bit under the weather lately, noted that when it comes to news we come pritty clost in this country to being fed the hole bale. There is some secrets, Ed said, and there is some censoring that the papers call editing, but, general, it's up to us to sort the wheat from the chaff.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

showered a monthly average of 951,000 families received some form of welfare in Michigan during fiscal year 1988, down from 978,000 last year.

"During fiscal year 1988, the state's average welfare caseload was the lowest it has been in this decade. Almost 26,000 public assistance cases obtained employment and left welfare in the last year," Social Services Director Patrick Babcock said.

He said he was especially encouraged by drops in the General Assistance and ADC-U caseloads by an average of 6,900 cases per month from the previous year. He said historically, those caseloads have been most susceptible to changes in economic conditions.

The Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) caseload decreased by 3,645 cases (1.7 percent) during the July-September quarter and now stands at 210,098, the lowest level since December 1979. ADC-U, for unemployed parents and their families decreased 1,962 cases (7.5 percent) and is now at 24,354.

The General Assistance (GA) caseload dropped by 4,214 cases (4.1 percent) to 97,425 cases during the quarter. The food stamp caseload is now 4,106 households (1.1 percent) lower at 356,665.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane David Luick

Tina Williams, Duane Luick Wed at First United Methodist

Tina Dale Williams and Duane David Luick, both of Chelsea, were married at 3 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 3 at the First United Methodist Church in Chelsea. The Rev. Jerry Parker officiated. Vocalist Dale E. Heydlauff of Annandale, Va., sang "Simple Gifts" and the "Lord's Prayer." Eric Smith of Ann Arbor performed "Trumpet Voluntary" and "Trumpet Sonata" accompanied by Fayola Ash on the organ.

The bride is employed at Bell Northern Research, Ann Arbor and is owner of Sandhill Farm. The bridegroom is owner of Luick Construction and Main Street Flower Shop, Chelsea.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dale of Acton, Mass. The bridegroom's mother is Mrs. James F. Hoffmeyer of Chelsea.

The bride wore an ivory tea-length dress with crocheted lace inserts on the bodice and sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white and pink roses with white carnations and freesia. Wedding flowers were arranged by Mary Ellen Tieman and Robert Schafer of Normandie Flowers, Ann Arbor, friends of the bride.

Matron of honor was Lucy Dale Helstowski of Kennett Square, Pa., sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Wendy Dale McBride of Somersworth, N.H., and Heidi Sidwell of Ashland, N.H., both sisters of the bride, and Diane Luick Keyes of San Diego, Calif., sister of the bridegroom. They wore teal tea-length dresses and carried bouquets of white and pink roses with white miniature carnations and freesia. Junior bridesmaid was Shelley M. Williams of Chelsea, daughter of the bride.

Best man was Dale E. Heydlauff of Annandale Va., friend of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Brian A. Keyes of San Diego, Calif., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Daniel L. Heydlauff of Colorado Springs, Colo., and David Stoll of Chelsea, both friends of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise brocade tea-length dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a peach two-piece, tea-length dress.

A reception for family and friends was held at Romanoff's in Ann Arbor following the ceremony. The Saline Big Band, that the bridegroom is a member of, provided the music.

A honeymoon to Hawaii is planned for January.

Homemakers Club Learns About Matting, Framing

Homemakers Club met Thursday, Oct. 27, at the home of Martha Luick, with Pat Flinn as co-hostess. Twelve members were present, dressed in their Halloween costumes which were enjoyed by all.

Guest speaker was Jan Koons from Jan Art Studios. She shared many ideas on matting and framing. Many samples were passed around for everyone to see.

The business meeting followed, at which time the club's bus trip to Ohio in December was discussed.

Following adjournment, donuts, cider and/or coffee were enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Arlene Bareis. It will be craft night and each member will be doing a counted cross-stitch Christmas ornament.

Diabetes Sharing Group Meets Today

A diabetic sharing group meets the second Wednesday of each month at 3:30 p.m. at the Chelsea Hospital in Private Dining Room B. Individuals with diabetes and their family are invited to attend. Goal is to give support and help with educating about diabetes.

The next meeting will be Nov. 9. Carol Bingel, dietician at the Chelsea Hospital, will be guest speaker. Carol's topic will be "Holiday Cooking for the Person With Diabetes."

For additional information, please call Mary Brehob, 475-3223.

50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY: Carl and Dorothy Lentz will be honored with an open house at the home of their daughter on Nov. 12, from 4 to 8 p.m. The affair will be hosted by Nadine and Larry Koch, 601 S. Main, Chelsea, along with the Kochs' daughters, Jeanette Blough, Julie Heydlauff, and Jill Koch. The couple have another daughter, Helen (Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kain), who resides in Merrimack, N. H., six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The Lentzs were married Nov. 12, 1938 in Ida, and have resided in Chelsea since October 1941. They enjoy their retirement, bowling, and doing things with and for the Chelsea Senior Citizens and the Center.

Stress Management Update Offered By Community Hospital

A new program, "Stress Management Update," will be sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital on Wednesday, Nov. 30 from 7 to 9 p.m. Instructors will be Barb Colmery, RN, BSN, and Maggie Szymke, RN, MS.

This special program has been developed for people who have completed a stress management series either at Chelsea Community Hospital or another facility. New material will be provided as well as an opportunity for participants to share techniques that have been successful.

Pre-registration is required by Nov. 21.

For more information and to register, call 475-3935.

firm underestimated the cost and the village's share ballooned from $2 million to $2.88 million. A tax collection problem also added to the project.

The village was fined $5,000 by the DNR because it could not meet a July 1988 EPA deadline for having the wastewater problems solved. Village council, on Sept. 1, 1987, voted to pay the fine rather than risk losing the grant. However, there were bitter feelings on the council as trustees felt it was primarily delays by the DNR in review of plans that would cause the village to miss the deadline.

Bids were opened July 28, 1987. Clark Construction Co. won the construction contract with a bid of $5,031,000. Service Group of Brighton won the sewer line rehabilitation bid at $85,699. And Sargent-Welch won the right to provide equipment with a bid of $14,882.

Bonds totaling $2.88 million were sold for the village on Oct. 28, 1987. Interest rates were 8.15 percent for the $2 million issue and 8.4 percent for the $880,000 issue.

Scouts To Take Part in Nation-Wide Food Drive

There is a definite need within our community for foods to help fill the cupboards of our neighbors. In a country such as ours, no one should have to go hungry. People may fall upon hard times, lose a job, or face winter heating bills that make it almost impossible to put a balanced meal on the table. When this happens, more often than not, the children suffer. How can you help?

On Nov. 12 and 19 "Be Prepared" for a visit from Chelsea's finest Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers as they take part in "Scouting's Good Turn—Scouting for Food."

Cub Scouts from Pack 455, Boy Scouts from Troop 425 and 476, and Explorers from the Chelsea Fire Dept. post will attempt to reach every home within the Village of Chelsea on Nov. 12. They will personally deliver to you a card which tells about scouting for food and what kinds of foods are needed. These same Scouts will return on the following Saturday, Nov. 19, to pick up the foods that you choose to donate. If you would like, you may simply leave your bag of food on your front porch with the card provided for easier pickup.

All foodstuffs will be counted, sorted, and distributed to Faith in Action and Chelsea Social Services so that people from our surrounding area may draw upon them as needed. The total number of items collected will be turned in to the National Council who will tally the total number of foods collected nation-wide.

We need your help to make this work. Please fill your bag what you can (and all that you can) for pick-up on the 19th, or drop it off at your local store where you see the "Scouting for Food" basket.

For further information call 475-3617.

Vocal Music Dept. Concert Set Thursday

The first Vocal Department Concert of the year will be held on Thursday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in George Prinzing Auditorium at Chelsea High school.

This event will feature all the vocal groups of both the high school and Beach school including the Beach School Choir, the High School Concert Choir, the girls select group, the Contemporaries, and the boys select group, the Silhouettes.

The Concert Choir will do a few fancy moves as they perform "The Soft Shoe Song."

This year's Silhouettes including Eric Maybaum, Tim Mayer, Adam McArthur, Justin White, Howie Brooks, Don Gerstler, Mike Steinaway, and Matt Carlson will introduce their new "Duke of Earl" as well as combining with the Contemporaries for two numbers.

The Contemporaries sing several favorites as well as dance to "Why Do Pools Fall in Love?"

Contemporaries this year are Jen Bennett, Debi Gerstler, Debi Koenn, Beth Kimble, Anna Flintoft, Judy Bareis, Sherry Dukes, Lori Wetzel, Mary Kemp, Dana Durst, Sonya Osinski, and Kellie Kanten.

The Beach School Choir will be singing several selections as well as performing the popular "We're On Top."

NEW EXTERIOR LIGHTS have been installed at the Chelsea depot as part of the ongoing restoration of the building. The outside fixtures were purchased with money given by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Maroney of Columbia City, Ind. They are former Chelsea residents.

Chelsea Historic Depot Has New Interior, Exterior Lights

The historic Chelsea Depot took on a more finished look last week with the installation of the east end, inside school house globes and the outside light fixtures.

The dark green outside fixtures were purchased with money from a fund given to the Chelsea Area Historical Society by former Chelsea residents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Maroney of Columbia City, Ind. They have an ongoing interest in the society and the depot restoration. It is their way of honoring Paul and Roxie Maroney, his parents, and the family's Chelsea roots.

Paul Maroney, now deceased, had fond memories of working for the Michigan Central Railroad in his youth. The following excerpts are taken from a short story of his life which he authored.

"A few days after graduation from high school, a neighbor, Roy Harris who was employed by the Michigan Central Railroad as a signalman, hired me as his helper. I was given a three-wheeled vehicle, two wheels on the main part and one wheel on the other rail. The power to make it run was by pumping a type of a stick. My duties were to take a five-gallon can of lard oil, some clean rags, a few new wicks, glass chimneys, and matches, pump my way to Francisco one day and to Dexter the next day, stopping at each signal light or switch light and make certain that each was clean and burning brightly.

"I had only been on that job a short time when one day, John McConnell, the roadmaster for the MCRP took me to Grass Lake to be a time-keeper for a gang of Italian work crewmen. They repaired and replaced any needed railroad ties and rails. I was then taken to Battle Creek with the same gang and same type of railroad repair. That position was held from about August 1913 until Dec. 10. My pay, $75 per month. I lived in a rented room in Battle Creek, room was $3 per week, and as for meals, a good breakfast for 15¢ or 20¢.

"The noon meal was at a restaurant, family style, all one could eat, roast pork or roast beef, potatoes and some type of vegetable, choice of milk, tea or coffee as a drink, 40¢ per meal.

"For the evening meal I went to another restaurant, had hamburger, the size of a dinner plate, fried potatoes, bread and butter and a large glass of milk. The cost, 25¢. To put it clearly, my three meals per day cost about 75¢ and room, 50¢. I really could save money while holding that job.

"Too, my foreman was the finest gentleman I ever knew, Thomas Slowey, whose home was in Albion. Week-ends he would give me his railroad pass and I could travel to Chelsea on Saturday, back to Battle Creek on Sunday, and all for free.

"I must mention that the Italian workers lived in box cars, each did his own cooking and his supplies were gotten from another Italian who operated a store in a box car. He was supplied by another Italian in Detroit. Each day there was fresh bread. The store carried such items as milk, tea, coffee, pickles, ripe olives (those came in a barrel—and did I love those). The storekeeper, Jimmie Ferrant, would let me eat all I wanted for free. There was also cheese, spaghetti, macaroni and many other Italian types of groceries.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Halloween is a lot of fun in Chelsea. The costume judging and parade downtown top it all off. Now, I'm all for promptness but, when we arrived at the costume judging at 6:03, it was all over! I found the judges in the 4-and 5-yr.-old groups and they said they were sorry but they were finished. The ribbons had been given out already. I was able to get a participant's ribbon for my 4-yr.-old.

My husband was awaiting judging with our 7-yr.-old. They had already finished also. The man with the clipboard informed me it was all over, he was just doing the follow up. I couldn't even find a judge in this group to get a participant's ribbon. My 7-yr.-old went without.

At 6:10, as if to add insult to injury, the emcee announced all children should be with their age groups, costume judging would be going on until 6:30. Get together on this! I realize this is a big undertaking and we need to be prompt, but judging in five minutes or less? Come on!

My girls were crushed, they just wanted a chance to be a part of it. Technically, trick or treat doesn't even end until 6:00. We ended the evening at 6:15 by putting two heartbroken and crying girls into our car and heading home.

Thanks for letting me sound off.
Lynn Haas.

Dear Editor:

I think it is extremely important that we recognize the often "unsung" efforts of the young people of our community.

Too frequently all we read, see or hear emphasizes the negative aspects of schools and students.

The president, members of the Student Council and the students of Beach Middle school rightfully deserve our highest appreciation. This year, as in years past, they have collected food and money, donating to Faith In Action so that others are able to receive the assistance they require.

So, on behalf of all of us at Faith In Action and those whom we will serve in your name - thanks, well done and you are, indeed, a credit to Chelsea.

Wheel Cover Vandalized

A Spring Arbor woman told Chelsea police that someone damaged a wheel cover on her car on Monday, Oct. 31.

The incident occurred while the woman's car was parked on Garfield St. between 5:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Value of the damage was placed at $100.

QUESTION:

What Kind Of People Go To Chiropractors?

ANSWER:

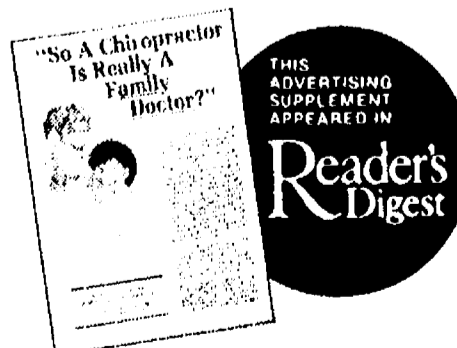

People Who Want To Get Well Without The Use Of Drugs Or Surgery.

Chiropractors treat people from all walks of life: older people—children; laborers—office workers; professional athletes—weekend sports enthusiasts; business people—and other health-care professionals go to chiropractors. The reason: chiropractic is an approach to health which utilizes the body's inherent and natural recuperative powers. And often, chiropractic has been successful where other treatment has failed.

You don't have to have a special kind of health problem to visit a chiropractor.

Dear Editor,

I would like to address Mary Calamungi's letter to the editor of Nov. 2 regarding the shopping center developer, Mr. Papo, who recently was arrested on drug charges. She is negligently assuming his guilt and wrongly accusing Chelsea village planners of misjudgment.

I happen to know that Mr. Papo, an extremely successful, innovative businessman, is not guilty but was set up as many victims are by larger drug rings.

Obviously, Ms. Calamungi's knowledge of drug trafficking and drug enforcement procedures is quite limited. If she intends to "boycott" Chelsea's future shopping center, which is being developed with legitimate funding, Ms. Calamungi is downright stupid. I'll bet I know which presidential candidate she's voting for!

Political Signs Must Be Removed

Dexter township zoning inspector Robert Burns said that, per township ordinance, all campaign signs must be removed three days after the election day.

"The signs have sprung up all over, especially on Dexter-Pinckney Rd.," said Burns.

"After the last election year, a couple dozen of the signs were left up and some of them until I picked them up."

The road commission will not remove the signs unless they are blocking drivers' vision.

Burns added that temporary signs of any kind, such as "for sale" signs and "yard sale" signs, must be posted only on the owners' property.

The water level of Portage and Base lakes will be lowered by the township today. The boat launching site will be closed Sunday night, Burns said.

NEW STORAGE BUILDING: Chelsea Area Players and the Chelsea School District broke ground last week on their 40' x 80' x 12' storage barn next to the CHS football field. CAP and CHS will share the space for storage of theatrical, athletic and maintenance equipment. Virgil Clark's crew, Don Harris, Richard Clark, Dave Hutting, and Randy Blanchard, is shown here preparing to put up the roof headers on Monday. CAP will move in on Nov. 19.

Chelsea Players Seek Funds To Construct Storage Building

Construction began last Thursday on a pole barn storage facility which will house the sets, props and costumes of the theatrical group and Chelsea High school's athletic and maintenance equipment. Located near the high school football field, the 40'x80'x12' barn will be the property of the school district, with CAP entitled to free use of half of the building.

CAP has created a special fund-raising committee chaired by Hal Wendelken to obtain the $20,000 needed for the project. Contributions may be sent to CAP, P.O. Box 57, Chelsea 48118.

For the last several years, Chelsea Industries has generously donated storage space to the players in the Clock Tower building. Potential commercial development of the Clock Tower space prompted CAP to consider a more permanent solution to their storage needs.

Don Paulsell, chairman of CAP's Building Committee said, "This project will benefit the community for many years by providing improved access for both CAP and the school district."

Because CAP's major summer production is performed in the high school auditorium, it was felt that a nearby location would be ideal. Since the Athletic Department had similar storage needs, a joint building project on high school property was seen to benefit both groups. In addition, the school district's dramatics departments frequently use CAP sets, props, and costumes. Thus proximity to the school was even more advantageous. The boards of both CAP and the school district approved the plan last month.

Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Edge Tecumseh, Dexter, To Take Charge Of SEC Basketball Race

Chelsea Bulldogs put themselves in position to win the Southeastern Conference championship last Friday with a 38-33 home victory over the Tecumseh Indians.

The Bulldogs, 9-1 in the SEC and 14-2 over-all, got revenge for their only previous league loss.

Going into last night's game at Pinckney the Dogs were in first place all by themselves. However, Pinckney and Tecumseh were tied for second place. A defeat last night would create at least a two-way tie, and possibly a three-way tie for second.

The Bulldogs face the Saline Hornets, possibly the worst team in the league, in the final league game this Friday. A loss to the Hornets would be probably the biggest upset of the season anywhere in the state.

Friday night's game began as an extremely low-scoring affair as Chelsea led at the end of the first quarter, 3-2.

However, the Bulldogs pulled away in the second quarter, but early in the third quarter Tecumseh tied the game at 17. However, Chelsea managed 11 unanswered points and the Indians never got closer than six points until the closing minutes. In addition, the Indians got into serious foul trouble late in the game. Plus, playmaker Jill Kennedy went out with a hip injury.

"We really didn't play all that well," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"But I give the kids a lot of credit. They hung tough and didn't crack when they could have, especially when Tecumseh made the run in the third quarter. Surprisingly enough, Laura Unterbrink's only basket of the night might have been the biggest basket of the night."

In the fourth quarter, Tecumseh began to make a run at the Dogs, but Unterbrink rebounded a missed Chelsea free throw and turned it into a field goal. That put Chelsea's lead back to eight points, rather than giving Tecumseh the chance to cut the lead to four.

Chelsea's 1-2 defense effectively stopped Tecumseh's outside games, which beat the Dogs in their first meeting.

"We've been working on that defense ever since the last game, just to prepare for this game," Rosentreter said.

"We'd practice it for a few minutes several times a week. During some games we'd look around to see if anyone was scouting us, and if they weren't we'd put it in for five or six minutes. We didn't want to show the defense until this game. And I think the defense made the difference."

Chelsea point guard Kelley Scott pushed the Tecumseh offense out past its effective range. Allison Brown and Jenni Smith were able to deal with the Tecumseh inside game. The result was the Indians were 3-19 in the first half and Chelsea led 17-9 at half-time.

Meanwhile, the Bulldogs had their own offensive problems in the first half as a number of shots inside were blocked.

"You can go as far back as the Lincoln game and see that we haven't scored many points recently in the first quarter," Rosentreter said.

"We were concerned that we wouldn't get out of the blocks quickly. All we wanted to do was keep it close early. By the end of the first quarter the girls began to get their confidence."

"One of the things we talked about at half-time was that we had to be more patient in our offense. In the second half we only shot 11 times, but we made seven of them. I think that's something that helped."

Brown, who Rosentreter said, "played the best game of her life," keyed the Bulldogs second half spurt as she scored six points, and finished the game with a team-high 15.

Heather Neibauer scored seven points, Smith and Carrie Flintoft scored five each, Scott had four points, and Unterbrink had two. Smith was 5-6 at the line as she was fouled repeatedly as she tried to take the ball inside.

Neibauer led the team in rebounds with nine, Smith had seven and Brown had six.

Chelsea was 12-33 from the floor, and 14-27 from the line.

In other action at Dexter on Tuesday, the Bulldogs won another low scoring contest, 28-23.

The game started slowly and Chelsea took a 10-8 lead by half-time.

However, the Bulldogs outscored the Dreadnaughts 12-6 in the third quarter behind eight points by Smith on 4-6 shooting from the inside.

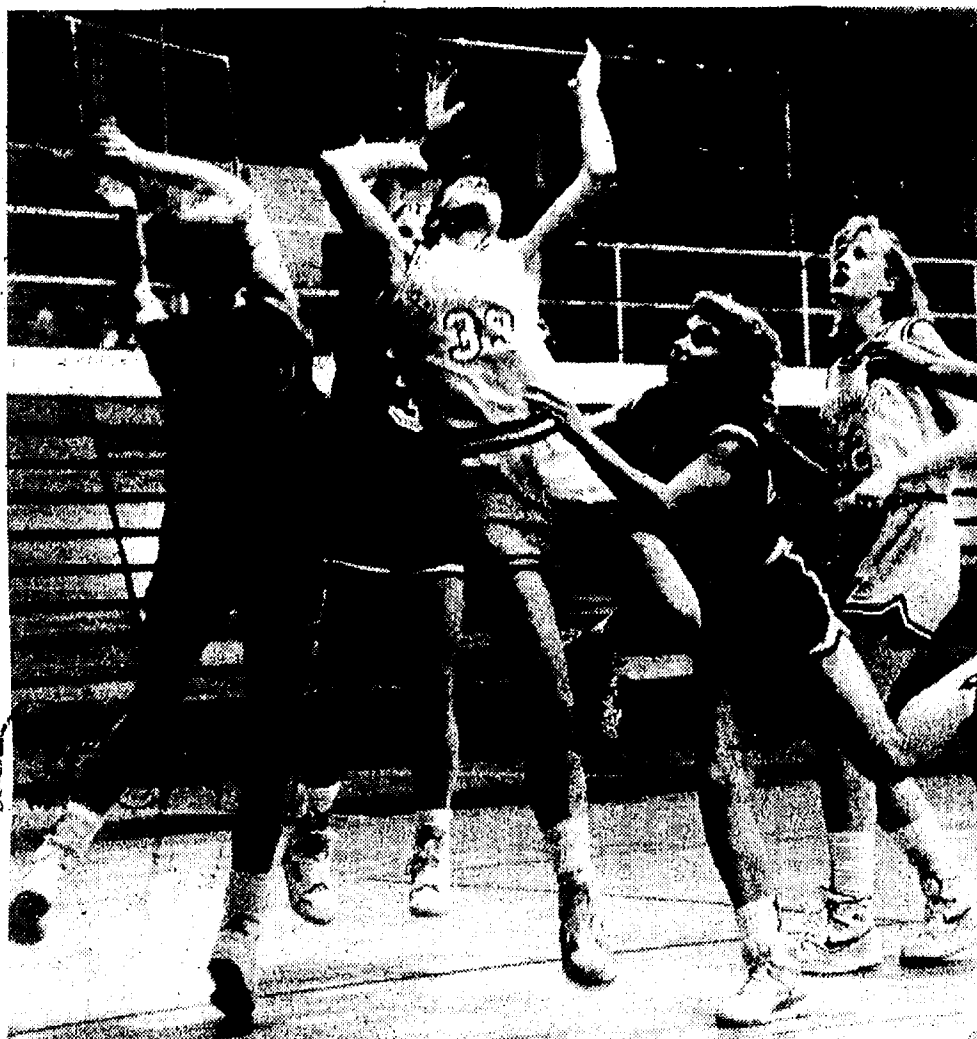

"Jenni's play in the third quarter was the difference in the game," Rosentreter said.

"She was outstanding."

The Dogs scored all six of their fourth-quarter points on free throws.

Smith's 10 points was high for Chelsea. Brown scored nine, Neibauer had six, and Scott scored three.

Chelsea held a 23-21 edge in rebounds.

TECUMSEH played tough, physical defense against the Bulldogs last Friday and above Heather Neibauer takes a shot after a shot. Chelsea finishes the regular league season this Friday at home against Saline.

Bulldog JV Cagers Whip Dexter, Indians

Chelsea junior varsity basketball team took over the Southeastern Conference lead after last week's action with wins over Dexter and Tecumseh. Chelsea is 9-1 in the league and 15-1 over-all.

Tuesday night the Dogs knocked off Dexter 39-29 as they managed to hold off a fourth-quarter Dexter rally.

"We came out and played with more intensity against a good team that we have all year," said Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra.

"The kids did a good job on defense. They got into the passing lanes and blocked out on the boards. Dexter also pressed us and we only had 13 turnovers."

Chelsea led by 12 points most of the way, but the Dreadnaughts cut the lead to six in the fourth quarter.

Colleen Scharphorn had 11 points and 11 rebounds to lead the Dogs. Christine Burg scored 10 points and eight rebounds in one of her best performances of the season. Mercedes Hammer had eight points, Shannon Losey scored six, and Kristin Bohlender had four.

Chelsea shot 34 percent from the field and 48 percent from the free throw line.

Friday night before a large home crowd, Chelsea downed the Indians 42-27 in a game closer than the score indicated.

The Indians cut the Chelsea lead to one point in the second half as the Dogs had turnover problems and didn't shoot the ball well.

"We had a lot of good shots, there was no problem with shot selection, but they didn't go in," Terpstra said.

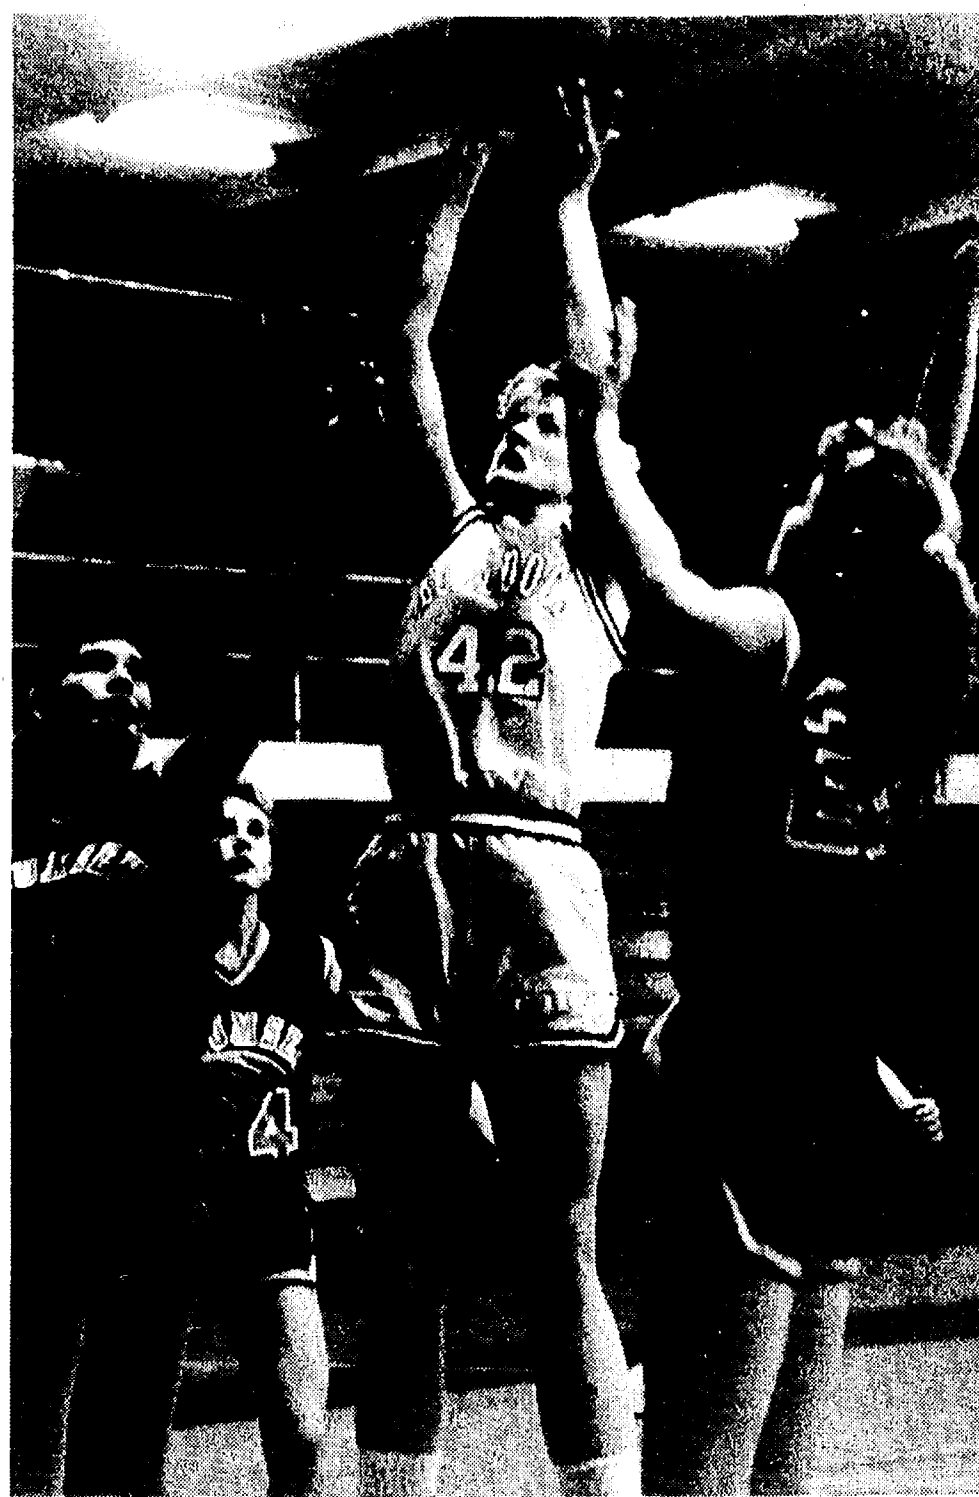

"But again I give the kids a lot of credit. They played hard defensively."

Chelsea had one of its worst shooting nights of the year as they were only 12-62 from the floor. In addition, they had 33 turnovers.

"I think some of the kids are trying to do too much by themselves," Terpstra said.

Scharphorn led Chelsea with 23 points as she made 9-12 shots from the line. Hammer scored seven, Bohlender had five, Dilworth scored four, Losey had two, and Jenny Bobo scored one.

Dilworth and Scharphorn each had eight rebounds to lead the Dogs. Losey and Burg had seven steals each.

ALLISON BROWN goes up strong for two key points during last Friday night's game with the Tecumseh Indians. Brown's game under the boards during the third quarter gave the Bulldogs the edge.

Zerkel Named To All-SEC First Team

Chelsea senior defensive end David Zerkel was named to the All-Southeastern Conference first team in a balloting of the coaches.

Zerkel was the only first team selection among the Bulldogs. Zerkel was also named to the second team as a receiver.

Senior offensive guard Luman Strong was named to the second team.

Honorable mention honors went to running back Jude Quilter, offensive guard Dean Sutherland, offensive tackle Chris Keck, and offensive tackle Lance Satterthwaite.

8th Grade Cagers Finish at 7-4

Chelsea 8th grade cagers were defeated by Saline 34-18 in their last game of the season.

A tough Saline zone defense made the difference in the game, according to coach Jon Schaffner.

The Bullpups played Saline even in the second half but were too far behind.

Chelsea statistics were Molly Dilworth, 9 rebounds, 6 points, 3 blocked shots; Shelly Beeman, 5 rebounds, 5 steals, 2 points; Heather McConeghy, 6 rebounds, 3 points; Tina Hassett, 3 rebounds, 4 steals; Tina Blackford, 2 rebounds, 1 point; Theresa Hurst, 2 steals, 2 points; Julie Durst, 2 points; Liz Lundquist, 2 points; Michelle Barksdale, 1 rebound. Brooke Pitts had a broken toe and could not play the final game.

Chelsea finished with a 7-4 record.

Bulldog Tankers Beat Jackson, Lincoln in Final Dual Meets

Chelsea Bulldog swimmers team ended the dual meet season on a high note winning their last two meets and finishing the season 6-4-1.

"I'm awfully proud of the girls and their accomplishments," said coach Dave Jolly.

The Bulldogs will finish the season with their invitational, Thursday, Nov. 17, and the Brighton invitational, Nov. 18-19.

Last Tuesday, Nov. 1, Chelsea took on Jackson High school at Jackson. It was an excellent meet for the Bulldogs as Chelsea won every event and had numerous second and third places.

Chelsea got the meet rolling with a 1-3 finish in the medley relay. Jennie Anderson, Michele Hollo, Jennifer Koch and Jennifer McEachern combined for the first place with a time of 2:12.08.

The Bulldogs came right back in the 200 freestyle and finished 1-2-3. Kelly Cross, Jennie Anderson, and Maria Kattula led the way, respectively, in the event.

Sara, Nicola followed the 200 freestylers' lead by finishing first in the 200 individual medley.

Then Bulldogs' Erika Boughton won the 50 free style in :27.86, Debbie Webb won the diving, and Boughton won the 100 fly.

Chelsea earned a 1-2-3 sweep by Jennifer McEachern, Lisa Taylor and Melissa Johnson in the 100 freestyle, and a 1-2 finish by Kattula and Tricia Colby in the 500 freestyle. Colby had an all-time personal best time as she continued to improve. Cross won the 100 backstroke. A 1-2 finish by Christine Young and Michele Hollo in the 100 breaststroke finished out the individual events.

The highlight of the meet came in the last event where Jolly's "super freshmen" class won and set a new record in the freshman 400 freestyle relay. Boughton, Nicola, Kristine Smith and Cross swam the relay in 4:17.11, four seconds faster than the previous record.

On Thursday, Nov. 8, the Bulldogs swam tough against Lincoln. Chelsea won all but two events.

"I'm sorry to see the dual meet season end," Jolly said.

"The young ladies were really starting to come on. Some of the teams we swam and lost to earlier this year would have another thing coming if they were to swim us now. I believe the ladies now realize the commitment and hard work it takes to be great."

The biggest event of the night was the 200 medley relay of all freshmen as they set a new record. Cross, Jennifer Koch, Boughton and Nicola combined for a 2:11.80 clocking, beating the previous record by almost three seconds. Other good swims were posted by Anderson with a first-place finish in the 200, and Kelly Cross with a first in the 50 freestyle.

Webb had a first place and highest score of the year in diving of 191.05.

Boughton was first in the 100 fly. Kattula and Colby were 1-2 in the 500 freestyle. Cross and Anderson were 1-2 in the 100 backstroke. Hollo and Young were 1-2 in the 100 breaststroke.

LOOKING FOR A PASSING LANE is sophomore guard Carrie Flintoff during last Friday night's home contest against Tecumseh. Chelsea beat the Indians, who had been tied with the Bulldogs for the conference lead.

CHelsea BULLDOG GOLF TEAM finished one of its best seasons ever this year in what will probably be coach Loren Winn's last season. Senior Matt Forner, right, was named to the eight-member All-Southeastern Conference team. That honor is based on scores during the season and in the league tournament. He averaged 41.8 strokes for nine holes, was 8th at the Pinckney Invitational, and was team captain. His average score has improved by five strokes since his freshman season. Junior Chad Starkey, center, finished 10th in the state tournament at Michigan State University, where he shot a 77 on a windy day. He also shot a 77 at the regional tournament at Marshall Country Club, where he finished in a four-way tie for first place. Chad was the team's Most Valuable Player, was also named to the all-league team, was sixth in the Pinckney Invitational, fourth in the Tecumseh Invitational, and third in the SEC tournament. Junior Steve Emmert, left, shot the best round of his life in the SEC tournament, where he finished first with a 79. He was also the team's Most Improved Player.

Vicki Bullock Finishes 21st At State Cross Country Meet

Junior Vicki Bullock finished 21st at last Saturday's state class B cross country meet at New Boston Huron. "It was miserable," coach Pat Clarke said about the weather. "It was the worst conditions I've seen in several years." Bullock was in about 40th place after the first half mile but gradually moved up, Clarke said. Junior Sara Grau, who ran sick, finished 70th in 23:10. "I was proud of her," Clarke said. "She gave it a try even though she felt so bad." In the boys race, senior Paul Hedding finished 67th in 18:47.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

So I finally got a chance to see why everyone is so excited about Rahm Rosentreter's girls varsity basketball team.

Chelsea beat the Tecumseh Indians last Friday night 38-33 for what should be at least a share of the Southeastern Conference title. In fact, by the time this appears in your mailbox Chelsea may have already won a share of the championship. Friday's game at home against Saline could give them the outright title.

Athletic Director Larry Reed said the crowd for Friday's game may have been the biggest ever for a home girls sporting event, with the exception of a couple of swim meets. A team on the verge of a championship needs that kind of support.

During half-time I kept thinking the team seemed awfully familiar, even though I hadn't seen them play all season. Then it hit me. Swap out sexes and you have a team that is almost identical to the 1986-87 boys team that tied Saline for the title.

Point guard Kelley Scott runs the Bulldogs in the same aggressive way Todd Starkey did two years ago. Kelley doesn't score many points, and neither did Todd. Defense is Kelley's strong point, just as it was for Todd.

Center Allison Brown, like Marty Poljan, is usually good, but can be exceptional when she gets that fire in her eyes.

Forward Heather Neibauer is the same offensive threat Mark Boreis was two years ago. She has the fluid moves, hits the outside jump shot, and is an excellent passer. She's the kind of player who can dominate a game when she's on.

Jenni Smith is the worker on the boards, much like Jeff Harvey was before he fractured his foot late in the season. She gets good rebounding position, drives to the basket, and shoots well from the line.

One difference is that Carrie Flintoff has become Rosentreter's starting shooting guard. Two years ago, Jon Lane and Greg Haist shared a lot of time and were of about equal ability.

Rosentreter employs the same style he did then, too. It's a slow down game sure to put you to sleep if you like to see a lot of shooting. He also stresses the same kind of zone defensive play. Over the last two games, Chelsea has scored a total of 66 points, compared to 56 for their opponents.

Like two years ago, Rosentreter doesn't use many players on his bench unless it's a blowout. Fortunately, there have been more of those this year than two years ago.

And finally, like two years ago, the Bulldogs appeared to have the title wrapped up several games before the end of the season. However, if Friday night had been two years ago, Chelsea would probably have lost the game.

This year's team has a chance to win their district, although there are a couple of other good teams involved, including Tecumseh. One of the big keys will be whether or not they can avoid injuries to their starters. The bench players haven't had a lot of experience, let alone experience in a pressure situation.

It's too bad Saturday's state cross country meet had to be run in a downpour. The course must have been in miserable shape.

Vicki Bullock finished 21st, just out of the running for all-state honors. That's quite an accomplishment after taking the year off, sportswise, in Panama last year. She and Sara Grau will be a good nucleus for next year's team.

Former Chelsea shortstop Alisha Dorow showed up at Friday's game and informed me she made the Penn State University softball team as a walk-on. I don't think she was pulling my leg, but with Alisha, you can never be sure.

I have already started thinking about boys' basketball season for 1989-90, that is.

Not that I don't have any hope for this season—far from it. But at half-time Friday I watched a freshman, 6'2" Jon Royce, try to slam dunk the ball. If Reed hadn't run him off the court, he probably would have done it.

Not only can he jump (remember, he went 6' in the high jump as an 8th grader), but he has the co-ordination that is often missing in a kid that age. Coach Robin Raymond's up-tempo style of play could turn Royce into a sensational player by the time he's a senior.

Then I started thinking about putting Royce on the same team with Brian Burg, Chad Starkey, Kerry and Kyle Plank, Jude Quilter, and Tucker Steele. Those are seven quality athletes, not to mention anyone I've left out.

If those kids can meld together as a team, and play to their potential, it's almost frightening to think how good they could be. There'll be guys on the bench good enough to start anywhere else.

This year's team has the potential to be a sleeper in the league, although it's doubtful if anyone will be good enough to wrest the title from Pinckney.

There's a lot of experience returning in seniors John Collins, Junior Morseau, Larry Nix, and Jeff Marshall, and juniors Starkey and Burg. The Plank boys are almost certain to make the team. Beyond them, I don't want to guess.

The season gets underway Dec. 2. As I said last year, no matter what happens, the Bulldogs will be fun to watch.

After seeing the results of the New York Marathon, I decided to try an experiment.

The men's winner finished in a little over two hours, averaging somewhere between 12 and 13 miles per hour.

I got on the treadmill at the gym and cranked it all the way up, to 10 miles per hour. At that speed, I lasted about two minutes until I thought I'd land on my face and be flattened against the wall.

I came to the horrifying realization that I probably can't even run 13 miles per hour, let alone do it for any length of time.

Those marathoners are amazing athletes.

7th Grade Cagers End Season with 9-1 SEC Record

Beach Middle school seventh grade Bullpup basketball team finished the season in a first place tie with Tecumseh in the Southeastern Conference at 9-1. The Pups were 10-2 over-all.

To maintain the tie, the Pups had to come from behind to beat Saline 16-15 last Monday, Oct. 31.

Chelsea was behind by five points in the fourth quarter as they had problems making their shots, according to coach Ann Schaffner.

"I credit the team with not giving up on themselves or their teammates," Schaffner said.

"They continued to work hard and got the baskets in the end."

Chelsea statistics included Liz Wright, 6 points, 6 rebounds, 3 steals; Amy Bowling, 4 points, 7 rebounds, 5 steals; Nicki Piasecki, 3 points, 3 steals; Jami Collinsworth, 2 points; Mara Smith, 1 point, 6 rebounds; Sara Henry, 7 rebounds; Jenny Holzhausen and Traci Patrick, 4 rebounds each.

"This team has natural quickness and a real desire to be winners," Schaffner said.

"I look forward to their continued involvement with the girls basketball program."

Speedy star: Scientists recently discovered the fastest stars yet found in the universe. According to International Wildlife magazine, these two speedy celestial bodies orbit a neutron star at a blazing 750 miles per second. At that speed you could travel from the earth to the sun and back in about 40 minutes.

Zerkel, Quilter Named MVPs Of Bulldog Football Squad

Senior David Zerkel and sophomore Jude Quilter were named co-winners of the Most Valuable Player award for the 1988 Chelsea Bulldog football team.

The team awards banquet was held last Thursday.

Senior offensive guard Dean Sutherland was named Most Improved Player.

Quilter won the Best Back award, and Luman Strong, an offensive guard and defensive end, was the Best Lineman.

In addition, senior Tim Parkkila was named Player of the Week for the final game, partly due to an inspirational poem he wrote for that game and others during the season.

Quilter gained 924 yards on 173 carries for a 5.3 average. He also caught 19 passes for 226 yards and ran back 15 kick-offs for 267 yards. He led the team with nine touchdowns. He rushed for more than 100 yards in each of his last five games. He fumbled only once all year.

"It's not often a sophomore wins an award like this," said assistant coach Wayne Welton.

"Our season took a big turn when we realized he could run the ball and stand up to the pounding."

Zerkel, the big tight end, caught 12 passes for 177 yards and five touchdowns. He was also responsible for creating a lot of the daylight that allowed Quilter to gain so much yardage.

Welton said Zerkel was the team's best defensive player.

"It's tough for a guy to sit out a year, like David did last year, and come back and be good enough to be one of the team's best players," Welton said.

Welton said that Sutherland became the team's most effective trap blocker. Although Sutherland didn't sit out last year, he didn't play much, either.

"We was a consistent player and was very coachable," Welton said.

Strong, who played running back last year, was the team's most consistent lineman, Welton said.

"To become a lineman in one year and do the kind of job he did required a lot of dedication," Welton said.

Welton also singled out the play of seniors Junior Morseau and Larry Nix.

"I don't think I've ever coached a player who worked harder than Junior," Welton said.

"He goes hard all the time. He also did some unselfish things for the good of the team this year by making position changes. He had to sacrifice some personal glory for the good of the team."

Morseau, who finished the season as a linebacker, led the team with 54 tackles.

Nix completed 86 of 166 passes for 1,141 yards and nine touchdowns.

"Larry put some good numbers on the board," Welton said.

Other statistical leaders included Junior Andy Dehring, who rushed for 209 yards on 40 carries. Jason Overdorf, a linebacker, was second on the team in tackles with 40. Mike Taylor, Zerkel, Strong, and Eric Frisinger each had 36 tackles.

Complete Sheet Metal Fabrication Service

PHIL KNIGHT, vice-president of marketing at BookCrafters, Inc., right, presents a $6,000 check to United Way representative John Mann as the company's annual donation to the charity. "This very generous corporate contribution brings United Way much closer to its goal of $77,000, but similar support is needed to take it to the top," Mann said.

McDonald's Site Of Kidnapping

Three Muppets dolls were kidnapped from the Chelsea McDonald's Restaurant at 6:42 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 1.

According to police, "three young people," one of which who was apparently old enough to drive, walked into the restaurant, nabbed the promotional dolls in their display, ran out the door, and threw the display in the bushes.

The kidnapers were last seen driving off in a red Ford. Witnesses took down license plate numbers and police are investigating.

Kidnapers had not contacted police as of press time.

Correction

In last week's general election story, we mistakenly said that Washtenaw Community College was asking for a one mill increase. In fact, the institution was seeking an extension of a one mill levy.

Man Arrested On Prior Charges

A Clear Lake Rd. man was arrested on three outstanding warrants after he and two acquaintances began an argument at the man's former place of employment.
Ernest Lee Wright, 35, of 1100 Clear Lake Rd., was arrested on two outstanding warrants for writing bad checks and one warrant for child neglect after an incident at Chelsea Industries on Sunday, Nov. 6.
Police were called to the scene to remove Wright, who allegedly began an argument with one of the employees.

DEATHS

Zita Foster Stewart

417 Glazier Rd.
Chelsea

Zita Foster Stewart, 417 Glazier Rd., Chelsea, age 96, died Monday morning, Nov. 7, 1988 at the Chelsea United Methodist Home. She was born May 16, 1892 in Grass Lake, the daughter of E. J. and Amelia (Staffan) Foster. On May 30, 1935 she married William G. Stewart who preceded her in death on Feb. 22, 1978.

Mrs. Stewart had been a partner in the E. J. Foster Furniture Store, retiring in 1972.

Mrs. Stewart was very fond of traveling abroad, making her first trip upon graduation from high school in 1910 and she continued all of her life to travel abroad on extended annual trips.

In addition she was the granddaughter of Frank Staffan who founded the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home in 1853. She was also a devoted member of St. Mary's Catholic church of Chelsea.

Surviving are two sisters, Ruth Foster of Grass Lake, Ann Margaret Surbrook of Warren, one brother Hugh Foster of Jackson; a sister-in-law, Margaret Foster of Jackson; one nephew, two nieces and several grand-nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by three brothers, Edward, Elba, and Clarence Foster.

Mass of the resurrection was held Wednesday at 11 a.m. from St. Mary's Catholic church with the Rev. Fr. Francis Maliszewski officiating. The rosary was recited Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home. Burial followed in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Chelsea.

Arrangements were by Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Kristen S. Roberts

19693 Old US-12
Chelsea

Kristen S. Roberts, age 18, 19693 Old US-12, Chelsea, died Sunday, Nov. 6, 1988, in an automobile accident in Lenawee county.

She was born Jan. 8, 1970, in Ann Arbor, the daughter of Gerald Roberts and Sharon (Titus) Roberts.

She was employed at the Physical Therapy Department of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Kristen is survived by her parents, maternal grandmother, Bernita Titus of Munith; one brother, Kurt Roberts of Ypsilanti; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Funeral services were held, Wednesday, Nov. 9 at 11 a.m. at St. Paul United Church of Christ, Chelsea, with the Rev. Edwin R. Koch officiating.

Burial followed in Oak Grove East Cemetery, Chelsea.

Memorials may be made to the St. Paul United Church of Christ, Chelsea.

Arrangements were by the Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Phone-A-Thon Tonight Seeks Funds for Walk

As contributors and visitors to the Chelsea Depot know, a project to construct a commemorative brick walk next to the depot in early spring, is well underway. The brick walk will eventually reach from N. Main St. to East St., and will encompass the area where a state historic marker will be permanently installed.

This week to boost the brick project, Chelsea Depot Association trustees are holding a "Phone-A-Thon" from the offices of Chelsea Milling Co., to offer everyone who holds a donor certificate an opportunity to purchase a commemorative brick. To date, $5,000 has been donated toward the brick walk.

The entire project is intended to provide funds for both building the walk, and finishing the interior of the large "Michigan Central" meeting room. The "Museum Room" and Chamber of Commerce office are complete and ready for occupancy. A Christmas display is being prepared by the Chelsea Area Historical Society and Chelsea Girl Scout Troops 144 and 689, as part of the Chelsea Hospital Auxiliary home tour on Dec. 4.

The Phone-A-Thon will take place this evening, Wednesday, Nov. 9, and a few calls will be made throughout the remainder of this week. Trustees contacting citizens by telephone include president Lee Fahrner, Gloria Mitchell, Veretta Whitaker, Dudley Holmes, Jr., Elmer Kiel, Clara Smith, Marge Hepburn, Walter Berjeski, Greg Raye, Lynda Collins, and Kathy Clark. Calls will be placed between 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Anyone who is interested in this project, and does not receive a personal call, may contact any member of the Chelsea Depot Association, or visit the two displays currently set up at Chelsea Big Boy and Heydlauff's Appliance. The displays include a poster, sample engraved brick, and subscription order forms. Also, a subscription blank for readers of The Standard appears on page 7 of this issue. Gift certificates are available from any trustee, or by calling 475-7047.

School Board Approves Trip To Inauguration

A group of 8-10 Chelsea High school students will accompany superintendent Joe Piasecki to the presidential inauguration in Washington, D.C. in January.

Chelsea Board of Education approved the trip at their regular Monday meeting.

The students will pay for the trip themselves.

Piasecki has taken students from his previous school districts to the inauguration.

The trip will last four days.

They're out for blood.

At first, it was only once a week. Then three times. Now they're out for blood every night. And they're not alone. They're just two of the thousands of people all over the country who are finally starting to do something about the disease that kills almost 32,000 Americans every year—and afflicts another 38 million. It's high blood pressure. And once you know you've got it, you can usually control it. By following your doctor's advice on exercise, weight control, salt intake, and medication. Talk to your doctor today about getting started on a program that will keep you out for blood. And in the running.

Young Fenton Woman Dies in Crash on M-52

A fatal accident, reported at 12:52 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 2, occurred on M-52, three-tenths mile north of the intersection with Pleasant Lake Rd., and claimed the life of Helen Marie Spuehler, a young Fenton woman.

In their report of the accident, Deputies Stan Yates and Mark Giffin from the traffic division of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department said the woman was taken to University of Michigan Hospital by Survival Flight.

They explained she was driving northbound on M-52, and two other vehicles were southbound on the road, the tail vehicles in a group of four.

For no apparent reason, the woman drove left of the center line, into the path of the four southbound vehicles.

Drivers of the first two vehicles were able to avoid contact by swerving to the southbound shoulder of the road, the report states.

Driver William Patrick Lewis of Pontiac indicated he was unable to avoid a collision with the Spuehler vehicle as it continued to travel further into his lane.

A head-on collision took place in the southbound lane, Spuehler's vehicle rotated counter-clockwise and came to rest, facing south, on the road's north shoulder.

The vehicle driven by Lewis rotated counter-clockwise and was sideways in the road when it was struck by a third vehicle, driven by Joseph Glad-den Mace of Pontiac.

Deputies Yates and Giffin said the Lewis vehicle slid across the south-bound shoulder, continued onto the grass and struck a tree with its left rear, after which it experienced a clockwise rotation and continued south, coming to rest against a second tree.

Mace's vehicle continued to slide, eventually coming to rest in the south-bound lane, the accident report ex-plaines.

Med Flight transported the injured

Lewis, 21, to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, and Huron Valley Ambulance took Mace, also 21, to Chelsea Community Hospital from the acci-dent scene.

AATA Officials Optimistic That Local Bus Route Will Continue

Ridership on the Chelsea-Dexter-Ann Arbor bus route is up 36 percent over the same time last year, according to Ann Arbor Transportation Authority officials.

"The route is doing well in peak hours," said AATA's Chris White. "It's not doing so well in the middle of the day and on Saturday."

White said the round-trip routes leaving Chelsea at 7 a.m. and Ann Arbor at 5:20 p.m. are relatively full, while the rest of the trips average about three riders.

Average ridership for the day is four passengers per hour, White said. He'd like to see a minimum of six.

"We've got quite a few people who use it regularly for commuting so while we're averaging four riders per hour, many of the passengers are riding it twice a day. Some people are using it for shopping, but not that many. We're disappointed that more kids aren't using it on Saturday. One of the things we've also found is that ridership is high on days it snows."

The route will be re-evaluated next spring prior to the beginning of the third year of the state grant in May, White said.

In May, state funding drops from 100 percent to 75 percent. Fares and funding from Chelsea and Dexter would be used to make up the difference. Annual costs are now about $135,000, White said.

As far as White's concerned, current levels of ridership are enough to keep the route going. However, he said, the ultimate decision would probably be made by Chelsea and Dexter village governments.

"At most I think we'd need about $10,000 from Chelsea and Dexter combined next May. However, we could reduce the amount to almost nothing if we eliminate some of unproductive service times."

Since the route began, fare price has been dropped from $1.50 to $1 each way. In addition, the route stops at Maple Village Shopping Center.

"We can't attribute the increase in ridership to the reduction in fare alone," White said.

"But it has increased a lot since then." White said a similar route has recently started between Saline and Ann Arbor and is experiencing the same kinds of difficulties.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Consulting Editor, Better Investing Magazine

Q. I have been looking at the Upjohn Company as an investment. A friend recommended it to me and when I asked a broker what he thought he said it was great. He said it was the only company with a drug that was guaranteed to grow hair and it should have a tremendous future. Do you think it would be a good investment?

A. Upjohn has been a very well managed company for many years, and with the same management in place should continue to do well. The company has received a great deal of publicity because of its anti-baldness drug, Rogaine. Rogaine is the first prescription drug for baldness. Value Line reports it has already been approved for sale in 44 countries. When it goes on sale in the United States, it is believed the annual market may be as much as $400,000,000. Value Line believes this drug will add 50 cents a share to Upjohn's earnings in 1989.

Upjohn, of course, is much more than one drug. It is a company with a long record of successful growth. There was an interruption in its growth rate in 1982, but since then sales growth has been about 11% a year and earnings per share have exceeded 15% compounded annually. The company's pretax profit margins and earnings on invested capital are consistent and excellent, indicating the company is competing well and that management has things under control. Upjohn has a good record of developing new drugs and introducing them successfully. Steroids and anti-inflammatory drugs provide 25% of sales, and antibiotics represent 18%. Central nervous system drugs represent another 26%. This year sales of central nervous system items are up 40% and have helped overcome declines in some of its older drugs like Motrin for arthritis and the Cleocin line of antibiotics.

While 82% of the company's sales are for human health care, the company also has a good business in animal and agricultural products. Any deterioration in the agricultural economy could affect that part of the business. Foreign operations have been benefitting from the dollar's weakness. In 1987 foreign sales provided 34% of the business and 20% of the profit according to Standard and Poor's. The company earned $1.63 a share in 1987. S & P estimates $2 for 1988 and Value Line projects $2.05. For the 1991-93 projection, Value Line estimates $4.50 per share. If the company continues to sell at a price-earnings ratio of 15, it would command a price of $67. When you consider the recent price has been $31, the prospects seem pretty good.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Session. October 18, 1988
The meeting was called to order at 7:42 p.m. by President Pro-Tem Merkel.

Present: President Pro-Tem Merkel and Assistant Manager Fahrner.
Trustees Present: Hall, Boham, Kanten and Steele.
Absent: Village Manager Weber and Clerk Anderson.
Others Present: Ron Walter, Richard Machnik, Dave Bulson, Peter Flinto, and Ronald Lentz.

Motion by Boham, supported by Hall, to approve the minutes of the regular session of September 20, 1988 as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.
Motion by Kanten, supported by Boham, to set November 15, 1988 as the date for a public hearing on the setback variance hearing as requested by Mt. Olivet Cemetery. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

A letter was received from Mr. and Mrs. William Briston of Jackson Street requesting curb replacement. Council asked Superintendent Bulson to report at next meeting about how many such places in town require curbing. Council directed the Zoning Inspector to respond to the letter stating that it will likely be next spring before any work can be done.

Ron Lentz spoke regarding drainage and truck traffic concerns on N. East Street.

Richard Machnik spoke in regards to the October 3, 1988 proposal from the Village regarding the acquisition of a sewer easement over his Gene Drive property. Mr. Machnik stated he did not agree with the appraisal and wanted four sewer taps in consideration of the easement.

Motion by Boham, supported by Hall, that the Village should proceed with business in regard to the Machnik easement in conformity with procedures used in handling the other easement acquisitions. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Kiwanis Travel Film Saturday Is on Japan

On Saturday evening, Nov. 12, the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea will present its second program of the current Travel and Adventure Film Series at 8 p.m. in the George Prinzing Auditorium of Chelsea High school.

JAPAN—fascinating, beautiful, and enigmatic, occupies a crescent shaped arc of islands off the Pacific Coast of Asia.

Check into the luxurious Imperial Hotel of Tokyo and prepare to see the fabulous sights. Shop in the famous Ginza district. Tour a Nikon factory. Learn about Japanese recreation from calisthenics to Karate. Watch Sumo wrestling and classical Kabuki theatre. Visit Tokyo's Disney World, a genuine entertainment extravaganza.

In the countryside, savor the peace and harmony of the Gardens of Lake Hakone. The town of Okitsu is a perfect place to stay in a Japanese inn.

Nagoya, famous for its Noritake chinaware factory, is also the location of the Inaba Cloisonne Works. Experience the result of tradition, talent and craftsmanship in beautiful art objects.

Learn about everyday Japanese customs while spending a delightful evening at home with the hospitable Nogi family. Cormorant fishing presents a startling and unfamiliar sight to Western eyes. Fishing is done at night by the light of hanging bonfire baskets.

Visit the ancient capital of Kyoto and explore the Imperial Palace, Nijo Castle and the Iris Garden of Heian Shrine.

Experience the shores and islands of the Inland Sea, especially Mikimoto Island. Pearl diving is the major occupation here and bushels of shimmering pearls of many colors tempt the consumer.
