LEFTY SCHANTZ, DOUG EDER, RANDY STOWE awaited instructions near Chelsea tanker 605, to which Dexter's tanker 507 relayed water it was supplied by Manchester and Saline tankers during the tanker-shuttle operation at the fire-training exercise, Sunday, Nov. 27, headquartered at a state-owned property along Waterloo Rd. Pumping water and relaying it to the Manchester and Saline tankers, a tanker from the Northfield Township Fire Department was parked at the Mill Lake access site during Sunday's operation. Schantz and other communications specialists during the "Incident Command System" (ICS) training. Four fire departments in Washtenaw county have been hard at work to spread information concerning ICS procedures: Chelsea, Pittsfield, the City of Ann Arbor and Scio Charter Township Fire Departments are preparing to promote ICS implementation, county-wide. Under ICS procedure, no more than seven sectors are delegated tasks under a single incident commander. Six such sectors were utilized in Sunday's training exercise, Chelsea's assistant fire chief Dan Ellenwood reported. Ellenwood was the incident commander during the training exercise. Under his command, the six sectors included: the water supply sector, under the direction of Wil Dane, fire chief for the Scio Charter Township Fire Department; northeast interior sector, directed by Jim Payeur, Pittsfield Township Fire Department; south interior sector, co-ordinated by Eric Miller from the Sheridan-Albion Fire Department—he's working under Ellenwood toward certification as a fire-training instructor; staging sector, with Keith O'Neil from the Chelsea Fire Department directing operations; the tower sector, headed by Vic Cheverette, Pittsfield firefighter; fire sector, with Chelsea firefighter Doug Eder co-ordinating the action.

trained on the burning building during the fire training exercise in which 11 fire departments participated, Sunday, Nov. 27, on Waterloo Rd.

Planning Commission Discusses Proposed Tower Mart Addition

Chelsea Village Planning Commission barely had a quorum for its Nov. 22 meeting, discussed a lot of issues, but in the end took no action on anything.

A 3,650-square-foot addition to the Village, Dils To Meet in Court Over Easement

A preliminary hearing has been set for Wednesday, Dec. 28 as the first step in the village's attempt to seize land on N. Main St. for a sewer line easement.

Landowners Art and Ruth Dils say the land is worth more than the $2,500 offered by the village for the easement. The village commissioned an appraisal to arrive at the figure.

The village wants to build a force main through the land, which would continue through school district property to the new wastewater treatment plant. The village contends that any other route would be prohibitively expensive.

The new main would help service the southern end of the village, where Chelsea Shopping Center and Bridgetown Condominiums are placing greater demands on the sewer system.

The first step in the legal process is to determine the necessity of the project. Later the court would determine an amount the village would be required to pay for the easement, unless the matter is settled out of court.

Tower Mart building on N. Main St. was discussed at length, but action was tabled as planners wanted more information on parking and other issues.

A letter from Bud Slane, a N. Main St. resident adjacent to the building, accused Tom and Joan Eisele, the building owners, of breaking a "verbal agreement." Slane said when the couple originally sought to have the property re-zoned from industrial to commercial, they agreed that traffic would not be routed to the north side of the building next to his property. However, site plans for the addition call for traffic to be routed around the building, which will break that agreement.

"The verbal contract agreement which helped them obtain the rezoning now is being changed by them at our cost," the letter said. "We will be subjected to traffic, noise, and land change that was agreed not to happen."

Chelsea Downtown Development Authority also presented its first plans for the long-term parking lot planned for land behind the fire department on W. Middle St.

Plans call for 70 new spaces, including two handicap spaces, to be

Papo Pleads No Contest to Drug Charge

Chelsea Shopping Center developer Rene Papo has decided not to contest charges of possession of less than 25 grams of cocaine.

According to district court records, Papo pled nolo contendere on Friday, Nov. 18. He is scheduled to be sentenced on Friday, Dec. 16.

Papo was arrested in August after he allegedly received cocaine mailed from Colombia.

Three Area Young Men Charged With Taking Watches

Three Chelsea young men have been arraigned on embezzlement charges in connection with the theft of $1,173.36 worth of watches from Ames Department Store. The incident was reported Tuesday, Nov. 22 by store management.

Jason C. Picklesimer, 17, 16791 Winters Rd., Monte Kimball, 17, 16977 Winters Rd., and Terence A. Draper, 18, 418 McKinley St., have all been charged with embezzlement and could face up to 10 years in prison, according to Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall.

The three men were all employees of the store. According to McDougall, some of the watches have been recovered. He did not say what circumstances led management to believe the men were involved.

Chelsea Museum Opening Sunday

Chelsea's museum in the west end of the old depot will be officially open the week of Dec. 5 following the Sunday home tour.

Chelsea Area Historical Society members will be on hand to show off the toy display put together from generous loans from private collections of several area persons, and historical society members.

The toys displayed cover a period from near 1850 to the present. A few "hands-on" items are set up especially for children to enjoy. One is a replica of an old marble game, and one is a dancing man on a stick. Visiting children and adults are invited to sit down and try the antique pump organ recently given to the society by Mary Leeman.

A Victorian decorated tree is set up in the bay window, covered with handmade ornaments, and cut-out paper garlands, crafted by Chelsea Girl Scout Troops 144 and 689. Snowflakes in the windows were also made by the Girl Scouts.

Two mannequins are dressed with antique clothing from Gloria Mitchell's collection; and the display in the bay window is of early 1900's children's furniture, china, dolls and toys.

One rare old doll on display is a "rag doll" dressed in frontier clothing. The doll was made by Elizabeth, the wife of General Armstrong Custer, and was originally made for "Phoebe," a relative of Chelseaite Anita Scholtens. Phoebe's "Sunday White" dress is with the Victorian display.

Museum hours set for the first week are, Monday-Saturday, Dec. 5-10, 1-4 p.m.

The week of Dec. 12, museum hours will be Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, 1-4 p.m., or by appointment. A telephone number will be listed and published as soon as the phones are installed.

Anyone interested in joining the historical society, or working with future displays, may call 475-7047.

Developers Say Housing Projects in Good Shape

Work is in varying stages of completion for all three of Chelsea's major housing developments.

Bridgetown Condominiums, the 74-unit development on the south end of the village, is the first to have actually sold any units.

The first three units of the 38-unit Quiet Creek Condominium project on the north end of the village should be available for inspection by the middle of December.

And Belser Estates 74-home housing development off Freer Rd. on the east side of the village has finally received approval by the state plat board and lots can officially be sold.

Bridgetown Condominiums has 12 units already occupied, according to co-developer Jerry Bridges. Seven more units are available and three of those have been reserved, he said. Phase I consists of 37 units, and 18 have yet to be built. A six-unit building has been started as have eight walk-out ranch units, which Bridges calls "luxury units," in part because they overlook the nature area next to South school and have walk-out basements.

Starting price is $98,900, Bridges said, but there is nothing left at that price. The units are two or three bedrooms and range from 1½ to 2½ bathrooms.

"Interest has gotten a little spotty over the last couple of months, but over-all we're coming along real well," Bridges said.

Some initial work on roads, water, and sewer lines has been started on phase II. The village and developers are working on a development agreement to cover the second phase.

Developers were originally working with Thornton, Inc., to market the condos but have since hired their own sales staff. They are advertising in newspapers (although not locally), and on billboards and radio. They are even working with companies who are relocating to the Ann Arbor vicinity.

Bridges said the goal is for the entire project to be completed in two more years.

At Quiet Creek Condominiums, where prices start at $148,000, six units are nearly ready for occupancy. The first three, immediately adjacent to M-52, will be included in an open house in mid-January, according to developer Bob Daniels.

Daniels said some reservations have been taken, but that none of the units have been sold.

"We've had a tremendous amount of interest, but we really haven't promoted them," Daniels said.

"We wanted to wait until we were a little farther along."

Eight more units, which have yet to be built, will complete phase I. Phase I is a total of five buildings.

"We'd like to start the others before April, but that depends on the weather," Daniels said.

Daniels plans to install the old style street lighting that is common in the older part of the village.

In addition to the 38 condominiums, Daniels has five residential lots for sale in the area.

Treasury Reports Receipt of Over 10,000 M.E.T. Contracts
 State Treasurer Robert Bowman has reported that 10,310 contracts have been received for enrollment in the Michigan Education Trust (MET).

With two weeks remaining until the Nov. 30 enrollment deadline for those reserving a spot through an application process last summer, Bowman said this was a "surprisingly" large number of completed contracts at this date.

Bowman said treasury expects a rush of last-minute contracts during the final days prior to the deadline.

He noted that more than 600 savings institution branch offices, which are offering MET financing and contract processing, are reporting heavy traffic of participants with a large number of contracts being processed. During the Aug. 1-5 application period, 82,495 applied for the program that guarantees college tuition payments for Michigan students attending state four-and two-year institutions of higher education.

The program further provides payment of tuition allowances to private colleges in the state and refunds for those students to attend out-of-state public or private colleges or those who decide not to attend college.

To date, Bowman said, the 10,310 MET contracts total more than $70 million for investment to guarantee further tuition costs for the participants.

Farmers Qualify for Federal Relief Due to Rain-Damaged Crops

Gov. James J. Blanchard has announced that farmers suffering losses from recent heavy rains will be covered under the federal emergency drought relief program if they planted late because of the drought.

The problem of too much rain too late has delayed harvesting for many farmers, causing untold amounts of crop loss.

Agriculture officials report the amount of drought damage won't be known until farmers finish harvesting and applying for federal relief, but they added, the damage is considerably less than feared this summer.

Blanchard said farmers need to contact their local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office to find out whether or not they qualify for the disaster relief.

Ehlers to Introduce Computer Virus Legislation

Reacting to a computer "virus" that paralyzed systems throughout the U.S. earlier this month, Sen. Vern Ehlers (R-Grand Rapids) said he plans to introduce legislation that would create specific penalties for those who create and spread replicating programs that oftentimes have lethal results.

Although the bill is still being drafted, Ehlers has requested establishing felony penalties for anyone convicted of deliberately introducing a virus into a computer system, either directly or through a network.

"A computer virus has the potential to not only halt computer operations but destroy information stored within the computers," said Ehlers, who as a PhD physicist has over 30 years experience using and programming computers.

"Because this is a new type of crime, it is essential we address it directly with a law that deals with the unique nature of computers."

A computer virus is basically an information disorder. A virus carries in its instruction code the ability to make perfect copies of itself.

In a host computer, the typical virus takes temporary control of the computer's disk operating system.

Then, whenever the infected computer comes in contact with an uninfected piece of software, a fresh copy of the virus passes into the program.

Thus, the infection can be spread by unsuspecting users who either swap disks or send programs to one another over networks, and can then wipe out the memory of each computer it invades.

"The country recently saw how quickly a virus can spread through network users," Ehlers said. "The Defense Department and its contractors were extremely fortunate that the virus was relatively harmless."

Wage Reporting System To Save $10 Million

Department of Social Services Director C. Patrick Babcock announced a projected savings of over $10 million in 1987 from the Michigan Wage Reporting System.

The projection is based on preliminary sample data for the first full calendar year after the reporting system took effect.

The computerized wage match system between the Department of Social Services and the Michigan Employment Security Commission began operation in July, 1986.

Babcock said the department will continue to use the wage reporting system and plans to expand it to include additional sources of income.

Through the cross-check, savings to the state accrue in the form of direct payment avoidance, reduction of mispayments, recoupment of overpayments and court-ordered restitutions.

Tell Them You Read It in THE STANDARD

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle opened the session at the country store Saturday with a report where a federal grand jury in Charlotte, N. C., had indicted 65 people for cheating the food stamp program out of hundreds of thousands of dollars over the past year and a half. The clipping Ed had told how investigators found folks exchanging stamps for everything, including cocaine, gambling debts, televisions and guns.

It just goes to show, Ed told the fellers, that wherever you got a system you got people beating it, and we got a court system that everybody can beat if they got enough money, or if they can convince a jury they ain't got enough money and their cause is just. The food stamp and surplus food programs are meant to help feed hungry people, Ed said, but they are turned ever which way. For instance, a ring was uncovered recent in Chicago that had been paying 85¢ on the dollar for food stamps from folks that wanted cash. All the middleman had to do was take the stamps to banks and get a dollar on the dollar.

Practical speaking, Zeke Grubb allowed, we have a heap of gray and not much black and white in any public system. We got mothers hiding children from fathers because decent people that make laws can't accept the idea of a father abusing his children. We got juries that will award a woman millions of dollars because she says her boss man at a big company made passes at her, Zeke said. Then we got juries that will turn two men loose after they held guns on 20 people 10 hours in a North Carolina newspaper office.

The way the thinking goes, the big company has got the money, so why not. The terrorists don't have any money and they say they did it to call attention to the raw deal they're getting in life, so why not. If crazies commit the same crime in Iran or in an airplane we call out the Marines, Zeke said. Meanwhile, he added, them crooks in Charlotte probable already have a court order that makes sure they keep on getting food stamps.

General speaking, Clem Webster said, there was somepun to where Ed and Zeke stood, but not much. You got to expect parasites in a free society the same way you find ants at a picnic. They are a natural occurrence, Clem said, like briars and snakes, and you can't fault the system unless you got ways to make it better. The truth is, that's where politics comes in, Clem went on, we don't know a better way but we want one bad enough to believe the feller that stands up and says he does.

Actual, Clem said, we all want what dreamers call "co-operative effort." If we can agree that sports are big in this country because they show the sins and losses of life, Clem went on, then we can see where co-operative effort is a nice idee whose time ain't likely to come.

Clem had saw where a game called zen pong is played like Ping Pong except the aim is to keep the ball in play. The players co-operate with one another to keep the game going. Instead of hitting the ball where the other feller can't, you hit it where he can, and he does the same. This way, Clem said, everybody learns to trust and depend on the other feller and everybody wins.

You can use co-operative effort in all games in place of competition, Clem said, and go on to apply it to real life, and the chancet of it working on the long pull is the same as picnicking without ants.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Winter Survival To Be Studied at Botanical Gardens

The public is invited to explore Nature's methods for "Winter Survival" at U. of M.'s Matthaei Botanical Gardens during the free monthly trail walk on Sunday, Dec. 4 at 2 p.m.

Winter is a season when energy is expended without being replaced. Instead, life must subsist on food that was stored up during the green season. The cold, dry winds of winter can be as harsh as the hot winds of summer drought. Add to this the ice and snow and the problems of winter survival become worse. As daylight hours shorten and temperatures get lower, plants and animals prepare for winter. Come examine the various methods that are nature's way of plant protection. See how nature provides convenient food and shelter for the animals and learn how they use these provisions.

Have you ever wondered how some trees can stay green all year, while others must drop their leaves each fall? Many of the small plants appear to die each fall; yet, new plants will be seen there next spring. Were they all the result of seeds left from the previous year? These and other questions will be answered on the 1½-hour walk through the trails of the Gardens, which is open to all interested persons. Docents will meet the visitors at the steps in front of the Conservatory at 2 p.m. sharp.

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens is located at 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor, ¼ mile south of the Plymouth Rd. intersection on the east side.

50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY: Mary and Merton Teare of Chelsea celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Nov. 13 in Chelsea at the home of their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Teare. Their daughter, Mrs. Steven Jones of Royal Oak, and five grandchildren, Sarah, Jennifer and David Teare and Linda and Michael Jones, also hosted the celebration. Mr. Teare was a grade school and junior high school teacher in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti schools for 28 years. He was principal of Carpenter Elementary school in Ann Arbor for three years. Mrs. Teare is a homemaker who enjoys making hand-crafted items.

In 1897, American women's rights pioneer Charlotte Perkins Gilman wrote, "We have so arranged life that a man may have a house; a family, love, companionship, domesticity and fatherhood and yet remain an active citizen of age and country. We have so arranged life, on the other hand, that a woman must 'chase'; she must either live alone, unloved, unaccompanied, uncared for, homeless, childless, with her work in the world for sole consolation, or give up world service for the joys of love, motherhood, and domestic service." Gilman is quoted in a new U.S. Labor Department publication, "Opportunity 2000."

Magic of Giving, III, Show Is Big Success

Magicians and singers thrilled and delighted a crowd of several hundred at the Chelsea High Auditorium Saturday night as they demonstrated their skills.

The presentation, for the benefit of Faith in Action, is the idea of two local and well-known practitioners of the magicians trade, Jeff Boyer and Jim Fitzsimmons. They, together with Ben Barbor, Mark Bulick, Eric Detwiler, Lindsey Jansen and John Sterlini, were extremely generous with their time and talents as were the Contemporaries and Silhouettes from Chelsea High school.

Ticket sales were handled by the Chelsea High Students Against Drunk

Drivers and the show had as its sponsors many of the Chelsea businesses and companies.

Money raised by the show will be used to purchase food for those in our communities who are in need and to help finance Faith in Action's annual Christmas Dinner.

Faith in Action is a community supported organization which has during the past eight years assisted people in many ways from food and clothing to a free health clinic. Located on the Chelsea Community Hospital Campus, it is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. For assistance, call 475-3305.

Destination Chicago? Chelsea Seniors May Pick Up Train in Chelsea

Chelsea Seniors who are planning to take the Shop and Fun trip to Chicago Dec. 1-3 will be able to pick up the train at the Chelsea depot, said Ruth Smith. Previously Smith thought the seniors would have to take a bus to Ann Arbor to pick up the train.

The train leaves Chelsea Thursday morning and seniors need to be at the depot by 8:30 a.m. Seniors who wish to drive from their residences may park their cars at the Chelsea schools' bus garage from where they will be transported to the Chelsea depot.

"I need to know whether they'll meet me at the bus garage or the depot, so tell them to call me and let me know," said Smith, who added that it's now too late to make reservations for the trip. Smith may be reached at 475-8953.

It's not too late, however, for seniors who wish to attend the Turkeyville Dinner Theatre on Thursday, Dec. 8 to see the musical "An Old Fashioned Christmas." Cost for dinner, the play and transportation is $32. Smith said that she still has a few tickets left.

tend the meeting if they have suggestions.

Smith is also looking for additional volunteers to set the tables and take money at the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Mothers/Fathers dinners held at the high school.

Chamber Music vs. Neuroses for 14 Billion Chicks

There are still a few farms with clucking chickens and crowing roosters enjoying the freedom of barnyards. Most people, however—even farm families—now get their poultry in frozen packages from the market.

Chicken raising has become big, big business. For example, every ten weeks a convoy of trucks pulls up to a farm and delivers 81,000 baby roosters. This is Bob Smalley's place in Arkansas, as reported in a back issue of Business Week, but it could be on any American prairie. The chickens are the property of Tyson Foods Inc. and the delivery is accompanied by enough food and medicine to mature the birds to an average weight of 6 1/4 pounds. Eight weeks later another convoy arrives to reclaim Tyson's grown birds.

Smalley, who is but one of thousands of poultry feeders throughout the nation, is rewarded according to how well he has taken care of the immense flock. On the back trip to Tyson's enough trucks are now required to carry a half million pounds of live birds.

There was a time, marked by the granddaddy of all stock market crashes, when President Hoover talked hopefully of a prosperity that would reward the nation with "a chicken in every pot." In those bleak hours of the Depression, bread cost 5¢ a loaf and beef was selling for 12 1/2¢ a pound. But chicken, often reserved for company at Sunday dinner, then commanded $1 a pound at the butchers.

This year Grade A chicken has often been on sale around here for 39¢ and 49¢ a pound while beef has rarely sold for as little as a dollar. Seafoods, once scorned by many householders, now fetch as much as better cuts of beef. Jumbo shrimp cost $9.99 a pound.

Constantly falling prices of chicken during the past half century have been due to scientific breeding and feeding along with mass production methods of processing. Indeed chicken may someday rival hamburger as our most popular meat. Fried Kentucky-style chicken chains continue to prosper. Chicken meat is now being featured in TV ads by traditional burger outlets. And selections at the market now include quarter chickens, mixed parts, breasts, legs and wings plus frozen chicken dinners and even low calorie chicken franks.

Corporate chickens do not run around willy-nilly like barnyard poultry. They are more likely to be caged. In a typical factory operation, wire cages—22 inches long, 13 inches high and 13 inches wide—are stacked one upon another in long rows. Each cage holds five birds and, as they grow, there is barely room to move. Combat between the birds can go on for days while they establish a pecking order, and the necks of some are pink and bare of feathers from the unending attacks of cage mates. All suffer from stress.

A scientist who is equally conversant with human behavior and animal behavior observed sadly, "If children were raised in such an environment as these chickens, they would have a mental problem for the rest of their lives."

For years it has been the practice of commercial poultry feeders to debeak and declaw birds while they are still chickens. This has continued despite complaints from animal welfare groups about cruelty.

"We are very much against that," Michelle Creek, public relations director of the Huron Valley Humane Society, told me in a telephone interview. "The creatures are treated inhumanely and some die from stress and disease brought on by the crowded conditions. Chicks are debeaked with a hot iron; they feel the heat and there is blood on some beaks. It is a cruel practice in which no anesthetics are used."

An article in the October 21 Wall Street Journal did mention the debeaking and declawing also revealed the 22x13x13" dimensions of the cages cited above. This information caused me to head for the Ann Arbor Public Library where reference files contain years of issues of approximately 500 publications. Within the miracle of a few minutes their computer helped me search thousands of magazine issues from 1984 to 1988 that had references to the chicken industry. The search uncovered nothing about debeaking, declawing, crowding or inhumane treatment of birds.

The Wall Street Journal article which started me on the hunt was an account of a chicken research project at Cornell University. Among other things, it suggested that breeders are deeply concerned about the bird raising process, especially strategies that can increase productivity.

Gadi Gvoryahu, an Israeli animal physiologist, headed the project at Cornell. His interest in it was triggered by an accidental discovery made while he was a student at Hebrew University in Jerusalem. He was with a farmer who, in turn, was having trouble getting his chickens to go from one part of the barn to another. At the moment, Gvoryahu happened to pick up a radio from a windowsill which was playing music. Carrying it while the volume was still up he walked across the barn. A parade of chickens followed close behind, not missing a note.

This manifest appreciation of music by the chickens became part of a chicken research project at Cornell probing the subject of "environmental enrichment." The Department of Poultry and Avian Science wanted particularly to inquire into the response of birds to changes in a crowded environment. In his earlier experience with chickens and a radio, the birds were in an open barn. How would the birds behave in a caged environment? Gvoryahu provided music for some caged chickens and found out. Among various experiments he learned that the chickens responded happily to the 250 year old compositions of Vivaldi. Certain concertos made them jump and be playful. Others brought tranquility.

Research further revealed that in addition to the ambience of music, birds needed some objects of affection and amusement in the bare environment of the cage.

The first object which a chick beholds upon being born leaves a lasting imprint on its emotions. This is readily transferred to other objects which produce the same feelings. Gvoryahu found that his Cornell chickens were especially fond of soft red mittens hanging to the sides of their coop. They would each snuggle close to a mitten and rest in rapture.

Hierarchical jealousies about the pecking order, a central concern in every flock, sometimes results in injury or death to the weaker chickens. Surprisingly, the presence of balls and other toys in the coop disrupts this preoccupation with the pecking order. Self-importance and aggression are lost in the distractions of play. Small plastic toys, including little windmills, are favorites. So are pingpong balls, keychains with bells and large plastic balls. Gvoryahu notes that chickens prefer balls with faces drawn on them. Most beloved object of all is the red mitten, he explains, because it is soft and simulates the warm comfort of a mother.

While the Cornell researchers are willing to disclose some details of their experiments such as Vivaldi concertos, red mittens and faces on plastic toys, many other findings are closely guarded secrets. A complete description of the Cornell environmental package will remain under wraps until it obtains patent protection.

Sixty percent of the cost of raising chickens is for food and it takes two pounds of feed to add one pound of weight to a chicken. Any improvement at either end of this ratio is an eagerly sought goal. It has been said that a saving of as little as 2% in food energy can be worth $60 million to a major producer. The gain might be achieved through better nutrients, improved health care or genetic innovations.

Psychology is at the heart of the Cornell study. The aim is to take millions of nervous, miserably-unhappy chickens and convert their lives into one of contented tranquility. With prospects for such an outcome, the animal welfare people and the poultry corporations could find themselves on common ground.

A second crop: Arizona farmers are finding that raising fish in irrigation water is a profitable way to get the most out of a valuable resource. Not only does aquaculture produce a second cash crop from the water used, but fish wastes also provide a natural source of fertilizer. International Wildlife magazine reports that catfish and trout are popular among fish farmers, but tilapia is also becoming a favorite. This hearty fish tolerates extremely warm temperatures, which makes it ideally suited to Arizona's geothermal waters.

UKRAINIAN PROJECT: The seventh grade bloc class at Beach Middle school gathers around the results of a lesson on Ukrainian egg painting recently led by teachers Alice Leith and Jim Hoelt. The project was the culmination of the students' unit on the Soviet Union. At the stage pictured, the eggs still have to be wiped with mineral spirits to remove a layer of wax and sprayed with lacquer before they will glow with the characteristic bright red, yellow, black and orange colors of Ukrainian eggs. As part of the unit, the class heard a talk from Charles Leatham, grandfather of class member Chris Leatham, on his recent travels to the Soviet Union. They also made borscht, authentic rye bread and caviar.

Housing Projects in Good Shape

Belser Estates, which has suffered through numerous delays over the last year, is apparently ready to go full-tilt, according to Steve Easudes of Spear & Associates. About half of the first 29 lots have been reserved, he said. But as of Monday, the lots could be legally sold.

Belser Estates developers have had to work through drainage problems and have had to get approvals from the Department of Natural Resources and other agencies. All those approvals have apparently been obtained.

"People can go ahead and build right now," Easudes said.

"However, they'll have to get temporary power back to their sites."

Easudes said all utilities should be in this winter. Roads will initially be gravel, until they can be paved next spring.

"We've had a lot of interest," Easudes said.

"It's an upscale subdivision that's not in a popular price range."

Although Belser Builders is one of the major developers of the project, the company probably won't be building many homes there, even though they built two model homes on Freer Rd.

"They like to work on expensive homes, people's dream homes," Easudes said.

"If someone wants to build a home like that in the division, I'm sure they'll work with them. But right now they're not planning on building a lot of homes for sale in Belser Estates."

Man Injured When Driver Runs Light

A vehicle whose driver was headed southbound on Mast Rd., but did not observe the stop sign nor the red flashing light, continued through the intersection at North Territorial Rd. and struck a second vehicle which had the right of way, shortly before 12 noon on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 24, according to a report filed with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Deputies said Margaretha Marie Davis of Whitmore Lake was cited for disregarding a stop sign.

The driver of the second vehicle, Charles Martin Stillion of Chelsea, was injured in the crash and transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

Employers that have become involved in offering child care assistance as a benefit for their employees are reporting an improvement in turnover and productivity rates and a boost in company morale, according to "Opportunity 2000," a new publication by the U. S. Labor Department. Many of those firms are finding that child care benefits are a valuable recruiting tool.

Parking Lot Plans Given

created. Entry would be from the existing village parking lot next to the fire department.

A one-foot-deep detention pond would be placed at the north end of the lot.

Plans call for two rows of parking spaces, one 38 spaces and the other 32. No trees will be disturbed.

Site plan approval was delayed until a public hearing could be held.

DDA chairman Paul Frisinger said Monday that it's doubtful any work can be completed until spring. He said the village wants to include the lot in its paving program next spring, which would allow the DDA to get a better price on materials.

Other items tabled included a proposed definitions section for the village zoning ordinance, and a new ordinance governing condominiums.

Farmers Urged To Attend Underground Storage Tank Meetings

The Michigan State Police Fire Marshal Division is sponsoring a series of public information meetings on environmental rules for underground storage tanks. Michigan Farm Bureau Legislative Counsel Ron Nelson is encouraging farmers to attend the meetings because of increasing state and federal interest in preventing groundwater contamination from underground tanks.

"Agricultural and residential use is exempt up to 1,100 gallons," he said. "However, if there is a tank that leaks and if a well is contaminated, there's always a question of liability. It's just good business to make sure that tanks are doing the job of containing the fuel."

The public information meetings are scheduled for Novi and Lansing on Dec. 13 and Traverse City on Dec. 14.

Two-thirds of the people who will be at work in the year 2000 are already employed today. According to the U. S. Labor Department, the number of workers between the ages of 35 and 54 will increase by more than 25 million in the next 12 years, and the median age for employed Americans will rise to 39 years, up from 36 in 1987.

Humane Society Sponsors Holiday Pet Food Drive

Don't miss a perfect opportunity to remember the animals at the Humane Society of Huron Valley this holiday season! Participate in the 12th annual Holiday Pet Food Round-Up sponsored by the Humane Society of Huron Valley. All donations of pet food will help to feed the thousands of animals received at the shelter each year.

Beginning Dec. 1 and continuing through Dec. 22, look for donation "corrals" at the front of participating grocery and pet stores throughout Washtenaw county.

Shoppers are encouraged to purchase extra cans of pet food and deposit them in the corrals or to bring donations directly to the shelter at 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor. In 1987, enough food was donated to supplement the shelter animals' food supply for nearly one year.

Why not spread some holiday cheer this season to many homeless dogs and cats? The next time you do your shopping, please remember to pitch in for the animals of Washtenaw county.

The following area stores have graciously agreed to provide donation corrals for area shoppers:

- Chelsea—Polly's Market.

Substance Abuse Treatment, Recovery To Be Discussed

"Treatment and Recovery from Chemical Dependence" is the topic of Brighton Hospital's next Community Education Program on Tuesday evening, Dec. 6. The program will begin at 7 p.m. in the hospital's chapel.

Hardee Bethea, M.D., a medical consultant at the substance abuse treatment center, will be the featured speaker. Dr. Bethea will discuss how alcoholism and other types of drug abuse can be treated. He will also cover the role of Alcoholics Anonymous and Al-Anon in recovery.

According to Ellen Ayers, director of counseling services at Brighton Hospital, the Community Education Program is an important opportunity for people to learn about chemical dependence. "Many people who attend the series are concerned about the drinking or drug abuse of a family member or friend—especially during the holidays—but don't know about the help that's available," she says.

Brighton Hospital hosts the education series on the first Tuesday evening of each month. Reservations are not required for the free program. The hospital is located on E. Grand River in Brighton, just west of Kensington Rd.

For additional information, contact the Community Relations Department on weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at (313) 227-1211, ext. 276.

Developers Scrap Plans for Huge Grass Lake Project

Opposition has been organized in Grass Lake township to a huge community development that apparently won't even be built.

A company called Agee & Associates Inc., of Ann Arbor, has had discussions over procedural matters with Grass Lake township officials for a development that in scope would be similar to building another Village of Chelsea. The development called for 570 homes, a 200-unit condominium tower, 280 condominium townhouses, a 200-unit retirement tower, and a 240-unit apartment complex. In addition, the development would include medical and shopping needs, as well as schools and public services. All would have been located on 550 acres three miles south of I-94.

The company, which apparently has no office and no Ann Arbor telephone number, put together a tentative business plan for township officials to consider. However, someone obtained a copy of one of the plans and distributed numerous copies.

"For all intents and purposes, the project is shelved," said Manchester accountant Dick Kuntz, one of the principals of the company.

"We might do something down the line, but I don't know whether it would be near Grass Lake or somewhere else."

Kuntz said the company had talked to Grass Lake-area landowners about purchasing necessary land, but ran into problems. In addition, Kuntz said he was disappointed that the tentative plan got distributed so widely.

Kuntz said that few projects of this size have been attempted anywhere in the country.

The business plan indicates that "attracting new technologically oriented business to the area is hampered by the lack of affordable housing . . . the opportunity is ripe for a large housing development."

Grass Lake township supervisor Al Mollenkopf said residents opposed to the idea of the project showed up at the last township meeting.

"It's a little bit disturbing that people were organizing to stop something so conceptual," Mollenkopf said.

"There are rumors that the township board was secretly negotiating with the company. We had a couple of meetings with them on the legal process they'd have to go through. This is not unusual. So many things can go wrong. If it was Ford Motor Co. making the proposal I'd get a little more excited."

Mollenkopf admitted that the project would have made a significant change to the Grass Lake area.

Players Plan Telethon Thursday, Dec. 1 To Raise Funds for Storage Building

Chelsea Area Players are building a pole barn in conjunction with the athletic department of Chelsea High school on the east side of the high school football field. In order to raise money for the cost of the building the Players will be conducting a telethon on Thursday, Dec. 1 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., asking for donations.

The total cost of the building is in excess of $20,000 and the school district will be providing a small portion of the cost as they are donating the land and outside maintenance. The barn will be divided into two storage areas, one for the Chelsea Players and one for athletic equipment.

Over the last several years, the properties of the Players have become quite extensive with private donations of clothing and furniture and with the Players building durable reusable sets. Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunn, the Players have been using part of the third floor of the Clock Tower building for storage but with the renovation and leasing of that building, the C.A.P. board was informed that they would need to find other facilities and they decided that a more permanent structure was required.

The building is currently under construction and the Players are planning to add shelving and other interior structures on Saturday, Dec. 3 and move their properties from the clock tower on Saturday, Dec. 10.

Use of telephones for the telethon has been graciously donated by the Dunns. Any persons wishing to donate to the building fund should mail their tax deductible donations to Chelsea Area Players, Box 575, Chelsea 48118. Anyone wishing to help the Players with their telethon or help move their properties should call president Debbie Olson at 475-1977 for more information.

Bulldogs!

District Champs! Bulldogs Whip Tecumseh 50-34 To Advance to Region Tourney

Tough defense and a dominating inside game by junior center Allison Brown gave Chelsea a 50-34 victory over the Tecumseh Indians last Tuesday and their first-ever district basketball championship.

Chelsea was scheduled to play Southgate Aquinas (12-9) last night in the first round of the regional tournament at New Boston Huron.

Brown was simply too much for the Indians to handle inside, especially after Kim Kruzyniak, the Indians' best inside player, fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

Brown scored 23 points on eight field goals and 7-10 shooting from the line. In addition, she had four blocked shots and generally kept the Indians from getting the ball inside.

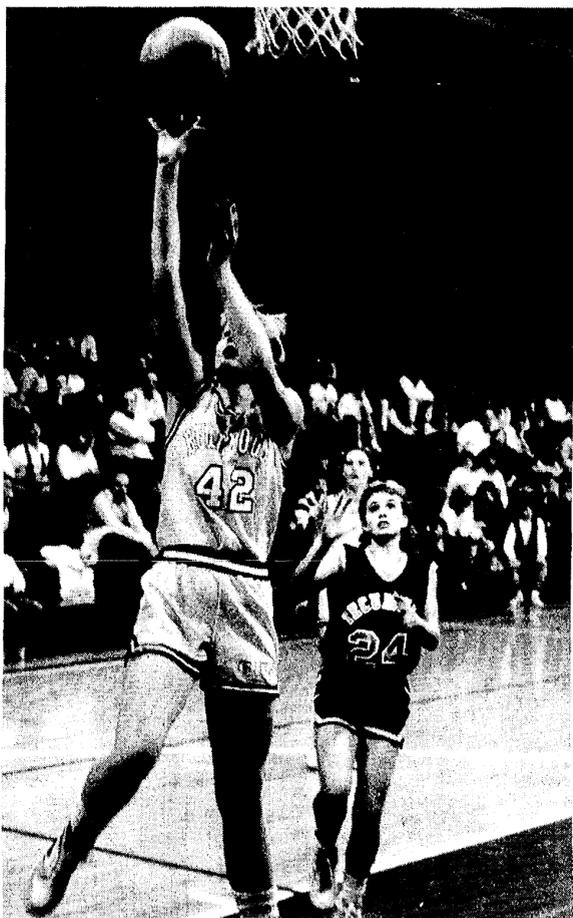

"I guess the Tecumseh coach paid Allison the greatest compliment after the game when he said, 'I want my all-league vote back,'" said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter. The All-Southeastern Conference team was picked after the SEC ended and Brown was named to the second team.

Rosentreter said the Bulldogs, overall, played one of their best games of the season. He said the girls adjusted well on defense as Tecumseh tried to penetrate from the wing and pass inside. In addition, the Bulldogs came out in the second half and made their free throws in clutch situations. In the second half they were 16-22 from the line, which accounted for all but 11 of their second-half points. Jenni Smith was 7-8 and Brown was 5-6 to lead the way.

"At half-time we said we were going to have to make our free throws to win the game," Rosentreter said.

Chelsea led for most of the game, although Tecumseh tied the game at nine early in the first half. However, the Dogs out-scored the Indians 14-8 in the second period to take a 23-15 half-time lead.

The Bulldogs increased their lead in the third quarter, but Tecumseh in one stretch scored six unanswered

IT WAS ICING ON THE CAKE when Allison Brown made this easy lay-up on a pass from Heather Neibauer late in the game against the Tecumseh Indians last Tuesday in the district finals. Chelsea opened play in the regional tournament last night at New Boston Huron High school.

Hunters Shoot Fewer Deer as Weather Keeps Marksmen Home

Due primarily to rainy weather, the deer kill in Washtenaw county during firearms season is down at least 20 percent from last year, according to conservation officer Craig Wales.

In fact, Wales said, the number killed since firearms season began Nov. 15 is apparently down state-wide. Last year, 257,270 deer were taken statewide during firearms season. State officials were predicting a kill of 400,000 this year.

In Washtenaw county, the lousy weather, along with a firearms season that began in the middle of the week, have teamed up to reduce the harvest considerably, Wales said.

"In Washtenaw county we have a little different type of hunter," Wales said, noting that many hunters come from the Detroit area.

"If they take time off to hunt, generally they go up north. If they want to go out on the week-end instead, and it's raining, usually they'll stay home. Opening in the middle of the week also has a big effect."

Wales said that although the number of deer taken during firearms season is down, it's too early to tell whether the over-all number taken will be down.

"The number of bow hunters has increased about 25 percent and there are quite a few more muzzle loaders. Bow hunters have done real well this year. They have fancier equipment which gives them better chance at success. If you told bow hunters they had to go with a weaker bow, you'd probably lose about 40 percent of them."

Last year bow hunters took 72,230 deer state-wide. Muzzle loaders got 8,360.

Bow season runs until the end of the year. Muzzle loading season is in December.

Wales said that although the number of "bonus areas" has been increased to allow hunters to take more antlerless deer in areas where crop damage and deer-car collisions are common, hunters are apparently not taking those extra does.

Wales said despite the lower hunter-turnout, the number of hunting violations, "is higher than it should be." He said many of them have involved hunters who sit in their vehicles or drive down the road hoping to see a deer they can jump out and shoot. The rainy weather has contributed to that sort of violation, he said.

The number of deer-car collisions in the county this year could top 900, he said. He said about 600 were reported last year and probably another 200 went unreported.

Wales said he has not heard of a single serious hunting accident in the county this season.

points to cut the lead to 10.
"We thought they'd probably make two runs on us in the second half," Rosentreter said.

"After that first run ended you could see the girls' confidence starting to build, and Tecumseh never really made a second run. It was an enjoyable type of game to be in because as the game went on the girls could see things were getting better and better and things we were afraid could happen didn't materialize."

Smith was the only other Bulldog in double figures, with 13 points. Heather Neibauer scored nine, Kelley Scott had three points on 3-4 shooting from the line, and Carrie Flintoft and Laura Unterbrink each scored a point.

The Bulldogs were 15-44 from the field and 20-35 from the line. In addition, they held a 35-20 rebound advantage as Smith had 10 and Neibauer grabbed eight.

"Everything from here on out is icing on the cake," Rosentreter said.

Before last night, Chelsea was 20-2 on the season and had won 14 straight games. Their last loss, ironically, was to the Indians in Tecumseh.

Two CHS Football Jobs Available

Anyone interested in coaching high school football at the freshman or junior varsity levels should contact Chelsea High school head coach Gene LaFave.

LaFave has one job open at each level. He says he's interested in talking to anyone who wants to coach. An extensive coaching background is not necessary.

"The big thing is they've got to be able to get off work at a certain time," LaFave said.

LaFave may be contacted at 475-9131, ext. 14.

Chelsea Seniors Invited To Join Bowling League

Chelsea seniors are encouraged to participate in the Senior Fun Time Bowling League which meets at the Chelsea Bowling Lanes Wednesdays at 1 p.m.

Reports the temporary contributing bowling reporter, Dorothy Lentz: "Please don't feel you have to know how to bowl, just come in and join us. You will form your own style of bowling (where you are comfortable to stand and your own style of bowling), whatever is best and most comfortable for you. Many of us never bowled until after retirement; we don't pretend to be professional bowlers; we just bowled at it, come and try, see for yourself."

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

I don't know whom the varsity girls basketball team will select as its most valuable player. But if I had to vote based on the four or five games I've seen at the end of the season, the choice would be easy—junior center Allison Brown.

Brown has done virtually everything coach Rahn Rosentreter could have wanted. She has carried the scoring load. She has rebounded. And she has played aggressive defense in the middle, making the opponents' inside game almost non-existent. She has taken charge at crucial times of these last few games. Like a champion, she wants the ball in tough situations.

Rosentreter has mentioned that although it might be a coincidence, Brown's play has blossomed ever since she removed a knee brace a while back.

It has been an interesting season for the Dogs. Early on, Jenni Smith was the dominant player, scoring and rebounding as well as anyone in the area. Although teams adjusted to her game, she still managed to get her 10 points and 10 rebounds per game fairly consistently. Heather Neibauer hasn't been the same scoring power this year as she was in previous seasons. But with Brown and Smith around, she didn't need to be.

Rosentreter is the first basketball coach at Chelsea to lead the boys and the girls to Southeastern Conference championships. The boys won it (actually tied with Saline) in 1987. He is also the first to have a girls team win the district tournament.

The last time any Chelsea basketball team won a district title was before some teachers in the Chelsea schools were even born. Can anyone name the players and coach of that team?

The girls were scheduled to play Southgate Aquinas last night in the first round of the region tourney. Chances are Southgate's 12-9 record is deceiving. They probably have much tougher opposition. A win last night would put the Dogs in the second round tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Chelsea, at 20-2, has not been ranked in the state polls all season long. Maybe Rosentreter doesn't know the right people. It's hard to be lucky and go 20-2. And think about it. One of those losses was to Tecumseh, a team they've beaten twice since then.

The boys open their season with a bang. Brooklyn Columbia Central comes to town Friday and Howell slides in Saturday.

BCC, which had a pretty decent team last year, was one of the three losers to Chelsea. That should provide plenty of motivation. For some reason, all I can remember about that game was Junior Morseau's jump shots.

Howell, coach Robin Raymond said, is the best team Chelsea will face all season. They have height, experience, and depth. Center Brian Burg will probably get bumped around a lot in a trial by fire.

Then, on Tuesday, the Dogs get to play Haslett, the team that beat them by about 70 points last year.

Chelsea is bound to win more than three games this year, even though as a whole the team is shorter than last year.

The boys have had a year to adjust to Raymond's style.

"We haven't had to do a lot of teaching so far," Raymond said.

"Last year we spent so much of the early part of the season on basic techniques. We're way ahead of where we were last year."

JV coach Jeff Dils and Raymond have as close to a Vulcan mind meld as two earthlings can have. Dils played for Raymond at good old Chelsea High and loves the style of play. Raymond said Dils may have been Chelsea's best player ever—pretty high praise.

For what it's worth, Dils understands perfectly what Kerry Plank is going through. Plank broke his arm recently, as I understand it, trying to slam dunk a tennis ball. He's one of the team's top players, and he'll be out a while.

Dils, before his senior season, broke his ankle fooling around with a car and a basketball goal, leaving the football team without a quarterback. However, Raymond did get him back for basketball season.

"I just about (lost it) when I saw what he did," Raymond recalls.

Another note about Dils. The kids I've talked to love playing for him. They can't say enough good things about him. And that sure has to make the job a lot easier for Raymond. Dils lays the groundwork while the kids have a blast.

Wrestling season gets underway next week. One wrestler I've talked to has already predicted Chelsea will make it to the state.

No doubt they will have an excellent team, maybe one of the best ever.

Inside Game, Defense Called Keys For Bulldog Boy Cage Season

Chelsea has to develop an inside game and has to play aggressive full-court pressing defense in order for the Bulldogs to have success during the 1988-89 varsity boys basketball season, according to coach Robin Raymond.

Raymond, in his second year of his second stint as boys varsity coach, hopes the year of experience with his system, and the "work ethic" developed last year will help the team improve from last year's 3-18 record.

"Last year's team worked as hard as any I've ever coached and that should carry over this year," Raymond said.

"Our biggest problem is the ball wouldn't go through the basket. We have experienced players back who are quick, intelligent, and can shoot the 15-foot jumper. Unfortunately, we don't have any tall kids. Brian Burg will have to play well in order for us to have a good season."

Burg, a 6-3 junior, is the tallest and strongest player on the team. He spent most of last year on the junior varsity, although he moved up to varsity at the end of the season and even led the team in scoring in at least one game.

Burg, at this point, is Chelsea's best inside player, a "banger" in Raymond's words. When sophomore Kerry Plank returns to the team after Christmas (he broke his arm) they'll likely become the Bulldogs' 1-2 punch inside.

"For a sophomore, Kerry can hold his own," Raymond said.

"When he gets back, I expect he'll step right in."

However, Burg is likely to get into foul trouble, especially early as he adapts to the varsity game. Raymond said he isn't sure what he'll do when Burg does have to sit other than have the defense sag a lot.

Junior co-captain Chad Starkey, Raymond's point guard, will be the Bulldogs' other main weapon. When he's hot, Starkey can shoot as well as anyone. But Raymond is counting on his ability to get the ball into Burg as much as his shooting.

"Chad handles the ball very well," Raymond said.

"He worked extremely hard last summer and he's stronger and he's matured a lot. He also has a lot more confidence in himself."

John Collins, the Bulldog senior co-captain, has been nursing a case of mononucleosis in the pre-season and Raymond is not sure when he'll have his strength back.

Collins will be a key in Raymond's press as well as his three or four-guard offense.

"He and John Cattell were excellent defensive players last year," Raymond said.

Other returning seniors include Larry Nix and Junior Morseau, both guards, and Jeff Marshall, a guard-forward.

Nix and Morseau, like Collins, will be counted on for their quickness and aggressive style of play.

"John, Larry, and Junior will be so important on our defense," Raymond said.

"We can't afford to get into a half-court game. We're going to run different kinds of traps out of the man-to-man defense, which I think we can do with this group."

Marshall, a 6-2, is one of the tallest players on the team. However, he plays more like a guard than a forward, which means he'll probably see considerable playing time at both positions.

Junior Kyle Plank should be one of the top eight players as well.

"Kyle has shown tremendous improvement," Raymond said.

"Coming in, I thought he'd be a step behind the other kids but every day he is moving closer to the group that will share most of the quality time when the game is on the line. By Christmas he should be right in there."

Other players, all up from the JV, include Chris Wilson, Phil Eassa, Sinisa Janicevic, Chad Raymond, and Brandon Murrell.

Raymond plans to keep all 13 kids, two more than last year.

ference, Raymond said.

"Pinckney is better than everyone else, but you never know what might happen," Raymond said.

"Dexter has a chance to be good, but I don't know how they'll do under a new coach. Tecumseh and Milan should be decent, too. Lincoln has lost a lot of players, and Saline could be the worst team in the league unless they have some players I don't know about."

"Our goal is to win the league and win the district, but realistically, we could finish anywhere from second to sixth in the league. The schedule favors us this year, so that by the time we get to Pinckney we should have a good idea if we can challenge for the conference."

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Nov. 21 were superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Williams, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, assistant principal Larson, athletic director Reed, curriculum director Bissell.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by president Anne Comeau. Board approved the minutes of the Nov. 7 meeting.

Entered as official communications were: (1) letter from Sue Bainton regarding the timing of the planned High School Band tour; (2) letter from Ann Schaffner regarding the need for an assistant track coach at the middle school; (3) letter from Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schneider expressing appreciation and pleasure with the district's band program.

The board discussed the State Model Communicable Disease Policy and some proposed changes recommended by the Washtenaw Intermediate School District. The suggested changes deal mainly with establishing responsibility for those students who are housed full-time in a school district other than their home district. The consensus of the board at this time is to incorporate some of those changes into the district's current policy.

Testing co-ordinator Sue Carter was present at the meeting to review with the board the results of the MEAP test.

The board approved implementation of an Exit Interview form, whereby resigning and retiring employees will be interviewed upon leaving the district. Data gathered from such an interview could be useful to the district in future planning.

The board approved the superintendent's participation in the 48th annual Superintendents Work Conference at Teachers College, Columbia University, in July, 1989. Recently the superintendent was nominated to attend the conference; only about 60 superintendents throughout the country will participate.

Upon recommendation of the Central Curriculum Committee, the board approved three teacher migrant applications: (1) Suzanne DeVries, South school teacher, $250, for materials to enrich the 4th grade math curriculum emphasizing problem-solving strategies and higher-level math; (2) Barbara Emmorey, North school teacher, $250, for storybooks and manipulatives for enriching the language and readiness skills of Young Fives students; and (3) Peggy Eckhauser, $375, for computer software to be used to teach medical terminology and metrics to students in the Health Occupations class. Ms. Eckhauser serves as health careers instructor at the Pleasant Lake vocational consortium center. The board also approved the recommendation of the Central Curriculum Committee to set a second date during the current school year to give teachers a second opportunity to submit proposals. Funds had been budgeted by the board for these migrants for the 1988-89 school year.

The board cancelled the Dec. 19 and Jan. 2 board meetings. The next two meetings will be held on Dec. 5 and Jan. 16.

Meeting adjourned at 9:55 p.m.

Designer's Cove Plans Open House in Expanded Facilities

An Open House at Designer's Cove, Sunday, Dec. 4, 1-4 p.m., will celebrate not only the recent expansion of the business establishment directed by John Simonds, but also the opening of a new business venture by interior designer Barbara Copi to complement the existing one.

John Simonds explained early this week that people from both the Dexter and Chelsea communities are particularly invited to attend the Open House and take advantage of the chance to "see what's new, practical and colorful" at Designer's Cove.

John and his wife, Jennifer, and the couple's sturdy young son, John Jeffrey Simonds, III, have pulled up stakes and moved from their former living quarters atop the main floor of the business at 3127 Baker Rd., Dexter, to a farm house they purchased on Donovan Rd. in Webster township.

"Our residential quarters have expanded a great deal, moving to the farm house," Simonds advised.

"A second result of the move (which actually may have helped prompt the move) is more space available for expanding the upholstery shop and other facets of the business.

"Scott Simonds is our shop manager, and we have two additional upholsterers, Mike Scharbat and Jack Ausmus," John added.

After the Simonds family moved into their Webster township home, the showroom space doubled at Designer's Cove.

The business, in which John's mother, Dorothy Simonds, is a partner, offers custom upholstery and a nearly unlimited variety of special window treatments for the home.

"We have more than 6,000 samples of drapery and upholstery material, and we're continuing to expand our fabric line," John advised.

"We recently hired a full-time secretary, Sally Heutteman, to assist other staff members at Designer's Cove, and we expect to hire at least one additional employee in the first months of 1989, to assist with pick-up, delivery and installation.

"We're very pleased at being so well-received by the community, our business future looks good and we hope to continue to serve people of the area for many years," Simonds added.

He admitted to 21 years experience in the upholstery trade in the Ann Arbor/Dexter area, noting that Scott's experience spanned a 15-year period, and explained his mother has been with him from their 1979 start in Ann Arbor.

Simonds explained that, in addition to the custom upholstery Designer's Cove undertakes, it also offers its customers related wallpaper and carpet accessories, and deals in new furniture pieces—fine furniture, for any room in the house.

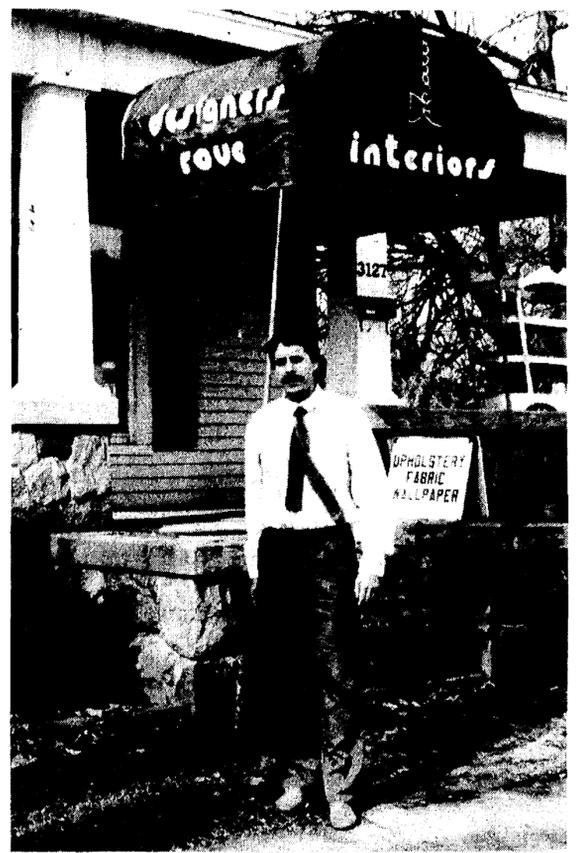

A very active member of the Dexter Jaycees during his years in Dexter, John Simonds served as the organization's charter president, later advanced to a position as state officer with the Michigan Jaycees.

Since his tenure as Dexter Jaycees president, his wife Jennifer served a term in the same office.

John was appointed to the Village of Dexter planning commission, but was recently forced to resign the position—when he and his family moved to Webster township.

He explained he's promised to assist members of the Downtown Dexter Development Authority when the time comes to complete the tasks expected of the DDA.

Between 1980 and the year 2000, the U. S. labor force is expected to increase more slowly than at any time since the 1930's. Labor Department statistics predict the workforce will grow at about 32 percent. By contrast, the labor force increased by 53 percent between 1960 and 1980.

JOHN SIMONDS ANNOUNCED AN OPEN HOUSE at Designer's Cove, 3127 Baker St., where he directs a recently expanded custom upholstery operation, with related wallpaper and carpet accessories also available for area customers interested in changing their home's decor. Interior designer Barbara Copi has opened a second business venture on the upper floor of the establishment which Simonds and his partner, Dorothy Simonds, have operated for nearly 10 years. The Open House event, planned Sunday, Dec. 4, 1-4 p.m., celebrates Copi's opening and the expanded facilities of Designer's Cove, where the showroom space has at least doubled in the past few weeks and the upholstery shop has been sizably expanded. The entire staff at the two-business location invite people from the community to stop for a visit during the Open House, Dec. 4.

Memorial 20

In Memory of Homer Allen
Precious Son, Brother and Uncle.

One morning, five years ago, God called you ever so softly and said He needed you to be with Him, and ever so gently you left us. As time passes we realize, Homer, just how much you taught us all. But oh the precious memories we have of you. You will not be forgotten. We shall see you in the flowers that bloom, hear you when the birds sing, and as the wind blows through the trees we shall feel your spirit near us, and some sunny day, we shall fancy we hear the tap-tap of your cane and your gentle footsteps coming up the walk towards home.

Sadly missed,
Mom and Dad,
Sister and Brother,
Nieces and Nephews.

INCIDENT COMMANDER DAN ELLENWOOD directed the fire-training exercise, Sunday, Nov. 27, in which 11 fire departments, the ARES and RACES communications groups and a crew from Huron Valley Ambulance participated. Chelsea's Kenny Bauer continues a support vigil beside Ellenwood. Headquartered on state-owned property along Waterloo Rd., the day-long exercise included smoke practice, search and rescue operations, in addition to training which emphasized fire suppression, ventilation, operating a tanker-shuttle, a drafting operation and hose training. Implementing the drafting operation, a fire truck from the Ann Arbor Township Fire Department was located at the far end of Long Lake, and 1,800 feet of four-inch diameter hose was laid to the Pittsfield water tower. To provide hose training for the participating firefighters, a monitor was utilized in front of the torched structure, so that large-diameter hose could be used to spray at least 1,000 gpm, explained Dan Ellenwood, incident commander for the entire operation. Pittsfield's water tower is capable of discharging 750 gpm, a lot of water, and at least 1,000 gpm was sprayed for a short time, using the monitor. Ellenwood, Chelsea Fire Department's assistant chief, said there were originally 32 buildings on the property, which was established as Camp Mahaia at the turn of the century, but sold more recently to the state. Only a few remain to be razed. Several fire departments have taken advantage of the site for training exercises.

Yuletide Promenade Visits 7 Area Homes

STEVE SCHLOSSER & MARILYN GUENTHER 204 Jefferson (5)

The Guenther-Schlosser family celebrates Christmas in just this way, surrounding their friends and families with treasures and memories accumulated over a lifetime.

At their centennial home the focal point of these memories are the Christmas tree decorated with ornaments from their childhood trees, and their travels, and cities lived in over the years.

The past glows brighter when the Christmas table is set with china and crystal that is used throughout the year. Family treasures develop a special poignance at this time: ornaments made by Marilyn's sister, the Santa who presided over Steve's mother's classroom, and paintings done by Marilyn's mother add to the memories.

All this combines to create a warm background appropriate to the emerging festivities. Joy is held close in the heart.

"May all the special memories of life become brighter at Christmas."

The Yuletide Promenade sponsored by the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary will be Sunday, Dec. 4. Seven area homes and the historic Chelsea Depot will be open to the public from 4 to 8 p.m. A map will be on the back of the tickets.

Tickets are $7 and will be available at Accent on Travel, Arbor Nook, Chelsea Pharmacy, Chelsea State Bank, and Lane Animal Hospital.

In Dexter tickets may be purchased at Hearts and Flowers, and Shirley's Family Fashions.

In Ann Arbor tickets are available at the office of Dr. F. Van Reesema.

Sunday, Dec. 4 tickets will be available at each stop.

Area homes to be visited are those of Mary Jane and David Tiedgen, Loraine and David Perkins, "The Beach Farm," Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schaible, Nancy and Jerry Benjamin, Mary Louise Fischbach, and Steve Schlosser and Marilyn Gunther.

Refreshments will be served by Auxiliary members at the Chelsea Depot.

Auxiliary members who have been working on this benefit are, co-chairmen Veretta Whitaker and Gloria Mitchell, Jeanene Riemenschneider, Marsy Doan, Leona Beeman, Mary Jane Leeman, Carol Van Reesema, Ann Kayser, Ruby Strieter, Madeleine Vallier, Donna Lane, Mary Alice Hafer, and Sue Starkey.

For more information call 475-1311.

MR. & MRS. PAUL SCHAIBLE 600 Washington (6)

This traditional home with country accents, undergoes a metamorphosis for the holidays.

Christmas is everywhere with the focal point being Mrs. Schaible's extensive angel collection which she began as a child and includes angels from many countries collected on their travels and received as gifts.

Also incorporated are brass bells, wreaths and many candles.

You will see yuletide colors of blues and greens which are already prevalent throughout the home.

"All hearts go home for Christmas for love is always there."

NANCY & JERRY BENJAMIN 13939 Trinkle Road (7)

The cozy elegance of the Benjamin home has an over-all traditional feeling, but at Christmas time it takes on a Victorian air. The ornaments on the tree have been collected for 25 years. Among the unique decorations are dolls from other countries, given to Nancy by her great-aunt who purchased them at the Brussels World's Fair. Another special collection is a village setting that fascinates children and adds to the "magic" of the season.

An especially meaningful table decoration is a set of carolers that is a duplicate of a set made for Nancy's parents before she was born. Her parents located the woman who made them and had them made for Nancy and Jerry's first Christmas together.

"Caring and Sharing... That's Christmas."

THE BEACH FARM 10410 Dexter-Chelsea Road (8)

The snowy countryside is an ideal setting for the holidays, surrounded by nature's winter beauty and warmth by the cozy cheerfulness of The Beach Farm. The stage is set for a gentle, peaceful Christmas.

Treasured collections are tucked amidst family memorabilia, a friendly flock of roving sheep graze on the limbs of a little tree—while other trees recapture the homey charm of Christmases past. A festive arrangement of shiny red apples in a favorite old crystal compote centers the old oak table in the dining room.

"Nothin says lovin' like something from the oven and that's where many gifts are made and sent loving on their way from "The Beach Farm." Merry Christmas.

"This is the season when the mind senses the wonder of simple things, when forgotten joys come back."

Section 202. It shall be unlawful to discharge to any natural outlet within the Village, or in any area under the jurisdiction of said Village, any wastewater or other polluted waters, except where suitable treatment has been provided in accordance with subsequent provisions of this Ordinance.

Section 203. Except as hereinafter provided it shall be unlawful to construct or maintain any privy, privy vault, septic tank, cesspool or other facility intended or used for the disposal of sewage.

Section 204. The owner of any house, building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose, within the Village and abutting on any street, alley, easement or right of way in which there is now located or may be in the future located a public sanitary sewer is hereby required at his expense to install suitable toilet facilities therein, and to connect such facilities directly with the public sewer in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance within 60 days after written notice by the Manager to do so.

ARTICLE III - PRIVATE SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Section 301. Where a public sanitary sewer is not available under the provisions of Section 204, the building sewer shall be connected to a private sewage disposal system complying with the provisions of the regulations of the Washtenaw County Environmental Health Department or its successors and all applicable statutes.

Section 305. The owner shall operate and maintain the private sewage disposal facilities in a sanitary manner at all times, at no expense to the Village.

ARTICLE IV - BUILDING SEWERS AND CONNECTIONS

Section 401. No person shall uncover, make any connections with or opening into, use, alter, repair or disturb any public sewer or appurtenance thereof or increase the number of dwelling units, or change the character or use of the occupancy of any building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose without first obtaining a written permit from the Manager, except duly authorized employees or agents of the Village.

Section 402. Application for building sewer permits shall be made on a form furnished by the Manager. The application shall be supplemented by such plans, specifications, or other information as required by resolution of the Council. The fee shall be collected as follows:

a. A permit fee shall be paid to the Village together with the application.
b. The owner of any house, building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose who shall obtain a permit to connect any building sewer to a public sewer, or to increase the number of building units or change the character or use of the occupancy of said house, building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose shall, before obtaining a Zoning Compliance Permit pursuant to Section 6.5 of Ordinance No. 79 (Zoning Ordinance), pay to the Village a connection fee as shall be determined from time to time by the Council.
c. All fees collected, pursuant to this ordinance, shall be deposited into funds as shall be determined by resolution of the Council from time to time and may be used from time to time to defray the project costs of construction, administration, and maintenance of public sanitary sewers.

Section 403. All costs and expense incident to the installation and connection of the building sewer shall be borne by the owner. The owner shall indemnify the Village from any loss or damage that may directly or indirectly be occasioned by the installation of the building sewer.

Section 404. A separate and independent building sewer shall be provided for every building; except where one building stands at the rear of another on an interior lot and no private sewer is available or can be constructed to the rear building through an adjoining alley, court, yard or driveway, the building sewer from the front building may be extended to the rear building and the whole considered as one building sewer; and with the further exception that two adjacent buildings may use a common building sewer within the limits of the public right-of-way. In the latter case, a separate permit shall be required for each building.

Section 405. Old building sewers may be used in connection with new buildings only when they are found by the Manager to meet all requirements of this Ordinance.

Section 406. All material used shall be new and of first quality. The building sewer shall be constructed of one of the following alternative materials: a) vitrified pipe, ASTM C700, with precast plastic or rubber gasket joints complying with ASTM C425; b) ABS plastic truss (composite) or solid wall pipe, ASTM D2680, with minimum wall thickness of 0.29 inches for solid wall pipe and with joints of the chemically welded type using a solid ABS coupling on the exterior of the joint; c) PVC plastic pipe, ASTM D3033 or ASTM D3034 (SDR-35), with elastomeric gasket joints of the integral bell type; d) asbestos-cement pipe, C428, with couplings of the sleeve type with pure rubber gaskets; or 3) cast-iron soil pipe, ASTM A74, with joints complying with applicable plumbing code requirements.

Section 407. Any sewer contractor, before laying pipe or making the connection to any wye, tee, riser or crossover, shall uncover said appurtenances to ascertain the condition. No sewer pipe shall be laid before the representative of the Manager is on the site. The sewer contractor shall determine the slope of the building sewer from the elevations of the existing public sewer connection and the connection at the building, with the minimum slope being in accordance with Section 408. Should there not be enough fall available to provide the minimum slope, the Manager shall be advised immediately. Sewer pipe laying shall start at the connection to the public sewer. The sewer contractor shall install a tee at the point of connection to the public sewer and shall provide adequate facilities to plug this tee and water test the completed building sewer with an equivalent of ten (10) feet of water head, in the presence of the Manager, or his authorized agent. Upon satisfactory completion of this test and approval by the Manager, or his authorized agent, the sewer contractor shall connect the sewer to the building drain. The sewer contractor shall install a joint adaptor, if necessary, to connect the building drain to the building sewer. Upon completion of the connection, the sewer contractor shall install the necessary riser pipe above the tee at the public sewer connection to an elevation two inches above proposed finished grade and shall install a plug, complying with the joint specifications of Section 406. In lieu of a water test on the building sewer, the Manager may permit or require a low pressure air test.

Section 408. The size and slope of the building sewer shall be subject to the approval of the Manager, but in no event shall the diameter be less than four inches. The slope of such 4-inch pipe shall be not less than 1/4 inch per foot. The slope of 6-inch pipe building sewers shall be not less than 1/8-inch per foot. Common services for more than one building and services for commercial or industrial uses shall be not less than six inches in diameter.

Section 409. Whenever possible, the building sewer shall be brought to the building at an elevation below the basement floor. The building sewer shall be laid parallel to and within three feet of any bearing wall, which might thereby be weakened. The depth shall be sufficient to afford protection from frost. The building sewer shall be laid at uniform grade and in straight alignment insofar as possible. Changes in direction shall be made only with properly curved pipe and fittings. Any public or private utility service structure or line shall be maintained at a minimum of five feet horizontal clearance between said building sewer and said utility, except for water lines which shall be maintained at a minimum of 10 feet horizontal clearance, unless that part of the building sewer that is located within 10 feet of a water line shall be constructed of cast iron soil pipe. No other utilities will be permitted in the same trench as the building sewer.

Section 410. In all buildings in which any building drain is too low to permit gravity flow to the public sewer, wastewater carried by such drain shall be lifted by approved artificial means and discharged to the building sewer.

Section 411. All excavations required for the installation of a building sewer shall be open trench work unless otherwise permitted or required by the Manager. Pipe laying and backfill shall be performed in accordance with ASTM Specification C12, except that no backfill shall be placed until the work has been inspected.

Section 412. All joints and connections shall be made gastight and watertight.

Section 413. The connection of the building sewer into the public sewer shall be made at a riser, tee or wye, if such outlet is available at a suitable location. Where no properly located riser, tee or wye is available in the public sewer, a neat hole shall be cut into the public sewer, at the owner's expense, to receive the building sewer, with entry in the downstream direction at an angle of about 45° and at the location specified by the Manager. The connection of the building sewer to the public sewer shall, in general, be above and near the spring line of the sewer, but never in the top of the public sewer. A 45° ell may be used to make such connection, with the spigot end cut so as not to extend past the inner surface of the public sewer. A smooth, neat joint shall be made, and the connection made secure and watertight by approved waterproof joint material before encasing in concrete. Concrete encasement shall not be considered waterproof. Special fittings may be used for the connection only when approved by the Manager. Any damage to the public sewer pipe during installation of the connection shall require replacement of the entire length of sewer pipe damaged, at the owner's expense.

Section 414. Holders of building sewer permits shall notify the Manager 48 hours before an inspection and connection to the public sewer is to be made. All notification of this kind shall include the permit number and the location. The connection shall be made under the supervision of the Manager, or his representative. The Manager or any person authorized by him, must be permitted at all times to inspect all work, materials and fixtures.

Section 415. All excavations for building sewer installation shall be adequately guarded with barricades and lights so as to protect the public from hazard. Streets, sidewalks, driveways, sewers, utilities and other public or private property disturbed in the course of the work shall be restored in a manner satisfactory to the Manager. No sewer contractor shall open any pavement on any public or private property without first receiving written permission from the Manager or proper authorities. At least 48 hours notice shall be given for this permission. Where the trench method is used through paved or unpaved streets, roads, driveways, alleys, etc., it will be necessary to use granular material, preferably sand or limestone screenings, for backfill. It shall be placed in layers of not more than six inches and tamped with a mechanical tamper or puddled in layers at the direction of the Manager. After the backfill is thoroughly compacted, it will be necessary to replace the pavement with the same type of materials as was removed, and in no case shall substitute paving materials be used without first securing the approval of the proper authority. All surplus excavation must be removed from the site to a location satisfactory to the Manager, leaving the berms and pavement in substantially the same condition as before construction started. All of the above mentioned work and material shall be performed in accordance with the standard specifications of the Michigan Department of Highways. At all locations where the building sewer passes under another sewer, drainage pipe, water main or other utility, the line passed under must be supported by 4" x 4" wood timbers brick or concrete masonry and extra precaution will be required in backfilling and tamping the trench in order to avoid any danger of a break, settlement or crack in the line passed under.

Section 416. A building sewer permit shall be required for all repair work performed by a sewer contractor, except cases where excavation is not necessary. In the case of stoppages, it shall be the responsibility of the owner or sewer contractor to uncover the wye, tee or riser, to determine the location of the stoppage. If the stoppage is found to be either in the public sewer or in the public crossover, the sewer contractor shall notify the Manager immediately, whose responsibility it shall be to repair same. The cost of the permit will then be returned to the sewer contractor. If the stoppage is located anywhere else in the line, it shall be the responsibility of the owner to repair same at his own cost and expense.

Section 417. If any sewer contractor or owner shall neglect or refuse to comply with the rules and regulations herein set forth, within 24 hours after receiving written notice from the Manager, the Village will proceed with the work and the cost involved will be charged to the owner. In cases where it is necessary for the Village to proceed with the work, no further permits will be granted to the sewer contractor or owner until they have satisfactorily complied with the orders of the Manager or completely reimbursed the Village for any cost involved. The owner and sewer contractor shall be required, for a period of one year after the completion of the work, to make all necessary repairs.

Section 418. In any case where the wastewater discharged may have an environmental impact, as defined under existing federal, state or local law, on the Village or surrounding communities, the following shall be filed with the application for a permit as required by Section 402:

a) A written statement indicating the nature of the business, the source and amount of water to be used, the amount of water to be discharged, along with its present or expected bacterial, physical, chemical, radio-active or other pertinent characteristics of quality.

b) A plan and/or map of the building, works or complex, with each natural outlet, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, watercourse or ground waters noted and the waste stream identified.

c) An agreement to sample, test and file reports with the Village and appropriate regulatory agencies relative to characteristics of wastes on a schedule, at locations and according to methods approved by the Village.

d) An agreement to place industrial waste treatment facilities, process facilities, pretreatment facilities, waste stream control and potential industrial waste problems under the specific supervision and control of a person or persons who have been certified by an appropriate state agency as properly qualified to supervise such facilities, when required by said state agency.

e) An agreement to provide reports on raw materials entering the process or support systems, intermediate materials, final products and waste by-products, as those factors may affect waste control.

f) An agreement to maintain records and file reports on the final disposal of specific liquids, solids, sludges, oils, radioactive materials, solvents or other wastes.

g) An agreement that, if any industrial process is to be altered so as to add or delete a process waste or potential waste, written notification shall be given to the Village in advance and approval of the Village and any necessary regulatory agency obtained.

Section 419. No sewer connection will be permitted unless there is capacity available in all downstream sewers, lift stations, force mains and the wastewater treatment plant, including capacity for treatment of BOD and suspended solids.

ARTICLE V - USE OF PUBLIC SEWERS AND CHARGES FOR SUCH USE

Section 501. Prohibition on Unpolluted Water. No person shall discharge or cause to be discharged any stormwater, surface water, groundwater, roof runoff, subsurface drainage, uncontaminated cooling water or unpolluted industrial process waters to any sanitary sewer. Any existing roof drain connections to sanitary sewers shall be connected into an available storm sewer or shall be disconnected above ground in the manner approved by the Manager.

The owner of any building situated within the Village of Chelsea shall be required, at his expense, to disconnect all existing roof drains from sanitary sewers in accordance with the provisions of this section within 90 days after the date of official notice to do so.

Section 502. Allowable Discharge of Unpolluted Water. Storm water and all other unpolluted drainage shall be discharged to such sewers as are specifically designated as storm sewers or to a natural outlet approved by the Manager and other regulatory agencies. Unpolluted industrial cooling water or process waters may be discharged to a storm sewer or natural outlet on approval by the Manager and other regulatory agencies.

Section 503. Substances Prohibited. No person shall discharge or cause to be discharged any of the following described waters or wastes to the wastewater treatment works:

a) Any gasoline, benzene, naphtha, fuel oil or other flammable or explosive liquid, solid or gas.

b) Any waters or wastes having a pH lower than 6.0 or having any other corrosive property capable of causing damage or hazard to structures, equipment or personnel of the wastewater treatment works.

c) Insoluble, solid or viscous substances in quantities or of such size capable of causing obstruction to the flow in sewers or other interferences with the proper operation of the wastewater treatment works, such as, but not limited to, ashes, bones, cinders, sand, mud, straw, shavings, metal, glass, rags, feathers, tar, plastics, wood, whole blood, paunch manure, hair and fleshings, entrails and paper dishes, cups, milk containers, etc., either whole or ground by garbage grinders. This prohibition shall include substances which solidify or become viscous at temperatures between 32°F and 150°F.

e) Any waters or wastes having a pH higher than 9.5.

f) Any wastewater containing toxic pollutants in sufficient quantity, either singly or by interaction with other pollutants, to injure or interfere with any wastewater treatment process, constitute a hazard to humans or animals, create a toxic effect in the receiving waters of the publicly owned treatment works, or exceed the limitation set forth in a Categorical Pretreatment Standard. This prohibition of toxic pollutants will conform to Section 307(a) of the Act.

g) Any substance which will cause the publicly owned treatment works to violate its NPDES Permit or the receiving water quality standards.

Section 504. Substances Limited. The following described substances, materials, waters or wastes shall be limited in discharges to the wastewater treatment works to concentrations or quantities which will not harm the wastewater treatment works, process or equipment, will not have an adverse effect on the receiving stream or will not otherwise endanger lives, limb or public property or constitute a nuisance. The Manager may set limitations more stringent than the limitations established herein if, in his opinion, such more stringent limitations are necessary to meet the above-mentioned objectives, provided he promulgates the limitations in writing and files them in the Village records for public inspection. Deliberate dilution with unpolluted water to meet the concentrations established in this Ordinance shall not be acceptable. In forming his opinion as to the acceptability, the Manager will give consideration to such facts as the quantity of subject waste in relation to flows and velocities in the sewers, materials of construction of the sewers, the wastewater treatment process employed, capacity of the wastewater treatment plant, degree of treatability of the waste in the wastewater treatment plant and other pertinent factors. The limitations or restrictions on materials or characteristics of waste or wastewater discharged to the wastewater treatment works which shall not be violated without approval of the Manager are as follows:

a) Wastewater having a temperature higher than 104°F.

b) Wastewater containing more than 50 milligrams per liter of petroleum oils, nonbiodegradable cutting oils, products of mineral oil origin or floatable oils, fat, wax or grease, whether emulsified or not.

c) Any garbage that has not been properly shredded. Garbage grinders may be connected to sanitary sewers from homes, hotels, institutions, restaurants, hospitals, catering establishments or similar places where garbage originates from the preparation of food in kitchens for the purpose of consumption on the premises or when served by caterers.

d) Except as may be permitted by the provisions of Section 505, no person shall discharge or cause to be discharged any of the following described waters or wastes to any public sewer:

BOD in excess of 290 milligrams per liter (mg/l);

COD in excess of 450 mg/l;

Chlorine demand in excess of 15 mg/l;

Suspended solids in excess of 340 mg/l;

Phosphorus in excess of 6 mg/l;

e) Any waters or wastes containing solids, liquids or gases in sufficient quantity, either singly or by interaction with other wastes, to injure or interfere with any wastewater treatment process, constitute a hazard to humans or animals, create a public nuisance or create any hazard in the receiving waters of the wastewater treatment plant, including, but not limited to, cyanides, hexavalent chromium, copper, zinc, cadmium, nickel and phenols in the wastes as discharged to the public sewer. The following concentrations shall not be exceeded in industrial wastes discharged to the public sewers:

Ag (silver) - 0.019 milligrams per liter (mg/l)

Cd (cadmium) - 0.003 mg/l

CN (total cyanide) - 0.13 mg/l

Cr + 6 (hexavalent chromium) - 1.0 mg/l

Cr (total chromium) - 1.00 mg/l

Polychlorinated Biphenyls - 8.83 X 10⁻⁸ mg/l

Zn (zinc) - 1.0 mg/l

*To be established by resolution of the Council.

These maximum concentrations may be changed as necessary, by resolution of the Council or state regulatory agencies, based on new information concerning inhibitory substances or to protect treatment plant processes. Industrial discharges covered by Federal pretreatment requirements shall meet those limitations specified under the effluent guidelines published pursuant to Sections 304 b) and 307 b) of the Federal Act, or the above concentrations, whichever are more stringent. Major contributing industries discharging incompatible pollutants into the public sewers shall be regulated, in addition, as provided in Section 505.

f) Any waters or wastes containing odor-producing substances exceeding limits which may be established by the Manager or any local or State regulatory agencies.

g) Any radioactive wastes or isotopes of such half-life or concentration as may exceed limits established by applicable State and/or Federal regulations.

h) Quantities of flow, concentrations or both which constitute a "slug" as defined herein.

i) Waters or wastes containing substances which are not amenable to treatment or reduction by the wastewater treatment processes employed, or are amenable only to such degree that the wastewater treatment plant effluent cannot meet the requirements of other agencies having jurisdiction over discharge to the receiving waters.

j) Any waters or wastes which, by interaction with other waters or wastes in the public sewer system, release obnoxious gases or form suspended solids which interfere with the collection system or create a condition deleterious to the wastewater treatment works.

k) Any waters or wastes containing color, such as, but not limited to, from dyes, inks or vegetable tanning solutions, shall be controlled to prevent light absorbancy which would interfere with wastewater treatment plant processes or prevent analytical determinations.

l) Inert suspended solids, such as, but not limited to, Fullers earth, lime slurries and lime residues, and dissolved solids, such as, but not limited to, sodium chloride and sodium sulfate, in unusual concentrations shall not be allowed.

Section 505. Authority for Control of Wastewater Discharges. If any waters or wastes are discharged, or are proposed to be discharged, to the public sewers which contain substances or possess characteristics enumerated in Sections 503 and 504, and which, in the judgment of the Village, may have a deleterious effect upon the wastewater treatment works, processes, equipment or receiving waters, including violation of applicable water quality standards, or which otherwise create a hazard to life or constitute a public nuisance, the Village shall require one or more of the following:

a) Reject the wastes;

b) Require pretreatment to an acceptable condition for discharge to the public sewers;

c) Require control over the quantities and rates of discharge; and/or

d) Require additional payment to cover the added cost of handling and treating the wastes.

All industrial wastes discharged to the public sewers by major contributing industries shall, as a minimum, meet the national pretreatment standards or best practical control technology currently available for incompatible pollutants, as published in Title 40 Code of Federal Regulations Part 403, unless the Village is committed, in its NPDES permit to remove a specified percentage of the incompatible pollutant. In the latter instance, the applicable pretreatment standards may be correspondingly reduced to levels determined by the Manager, or his duly authorized representative, or State regulatory agencies.

If the Village requires pretreatment or equalization of waste flows, the design and installation of plants and equipment shall be subject to the review and approval of the Manager and State regulatory agencies and to the requirements of all applicable codes, ordinances and laws.

Section 506. Grease and Oil Interceptors. Interceptors shall be provided for grease, oil and inorganic materials such as sand, grit, etc., when, in the opinion of the Manager, they are necessary for the proper handling of liquid wastes containing floatable grease in excessive amounts, as specified in Section 504 b), or any flammable wastes, sand or other harmful ingredients; except that such interceptors shall not be required for private living quarters or dwelling units. All interceptors shall be of type and capacity approved by the Manager and shall be located as to be readily and easily accessible for cleaning and inspection. In the maintaining of these interceptors, the owner shall be responsible for the proper removal and disposal by appropriate means of the captured material and shall maintain records of the dates and means of disposal, which shall be subject to review by the Manager. Any removal and hauling of the collected materials not performed by the owner's personnel shall be performed by currently licensed waste disposal firms.

Section 507. Operation of Pretreatment Facilities. Where pretreatment or flow-equalizing facilities are provided or required for any waters or wastes, they shall be maintained continuously in satisfactory and effective operation by the owner at his expense.

Section 508. Analyses. All measurements, tests and analyses of the characteristics of waters and wastes to which reference is made in this ordinance shall be determined in accordance with the latest edition of "Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Wastewater," published by the American Public Health Association, unless such standards conflict with 40 CFR 136 Standards of Testing, in which case, the regulations shall govern. Sampling methods, location, times, duration and frequencies shall be determined on an individual basis subject to approval by the Manager. All costs incident to sampling and analysis shall be borne by the owner. Such costs incurred by the Village shall be billed annually to the owner, based upon actual cost to the Village, plus reasonable overhead.

Section 509. Special Conditions. No statement in this article shall be construed as preventing any special agreement or arrangement between the Village and any industrial concern whereby an industrial waste of unusual strength or character may be accepted by the Village for treatment, subject to possible payment therefore by the industrial concern for subsequent treatment. Any industrial concern may appeal to the Village Council any determination made by the Manager in the enforcement of this ordinance.

Section 510. Charges. The Council shall establish just and equitable charges for the use of the Village's Wastewater Treatment Works by any person. The Council shall have the authority to establish differing rates for classes of users. Such classification shall be based upon the amount and type of wastewater discharged and other relevant factors as provided in Article X of this Ordinance.

Section 511. Enforcement. Charges which are not paid when due may be recovered as provided by Public Act 320 of 1927, as amended.

ARTICLE VI - CONTROL OF INDUSTRIAL WASTES

Section 601. Submission of Basic Data. Within 30 days after passage of this ordinance, each person whose operation entails the discharge of industrial wastes to a public sewer shall prepare and file with the Village such data and items as are contained in Section 418 of this ordinance. Within a reasonable time of receipt of such data, the Village shall make an order stating such minimum restrictions as, in the judgment of the Manager, may be necessary to adequately guard against unlawful uses of the Village's wastewater treatment works.

Section 602. Extension of Time. When it can be demonstrated that circumstances exist which would create an unreasonable burden on the person to comply with the time schedule imposed by Section 601, a request for extension of time may be presented for consideration of the Manager. All requests for extension of time shall be submitted in writing, stating the reasons for such request. Under no circumstances shall the extension of time exceed 30 days after approval of the extension by the Manager.

Section 603. Control Manholes. When required by the Manager an industry shall install one or more suitable structures, together with necessary meters and other appurtenances, in the building sewer(s) to facilitate observation, sampling and measurement of the wastes. Such structure(s), when required, shall be accessible and safely located and shall be constructed in accordance with plans approved by the Manager. The structure(s) shall be installed by the industry at its expense and shall be maintained by the industry so as to be safe and accessible at all times.

Section 604. Wastewater Volume Determination. The volume of industrial wastes discharged to the wastewater treatment works of the Village from industries shall be determined upon the basis of the volume of wastewater discharged from the industry to the wastewater treatment works. This volume shall be the same volume as that recorded on the meter or meters used to measure water from the water system of the Village, unless the industry is supplied with water from a source other than the water system of the Village and/or unless a substantial volume of water supplied to the industry is not discharged to the wastewater treatment works, in which cases, the volume of water discharged to the wastewater treatment works shall be determined by one or more meters installed to measure water flow and/or wastewater discharged, or by other means approved by the Village. Meters installed other than the meter or meters used to record consumption from the water system of the Village shall be approved by the Village and installed at the expense of the industry. Following approval, such meters shall not be removed without the consent of the Manager.

Section 605. Sampling and Monitoring. Industrial wastes discharged to the public sewers shall be subject to periodic inspection with a determination of character and concentration of said wastes. The determination shall be made as often as may be deemed necessary by the Manager, but in no case shall there be less than two 24-hour composite samples per month. The owner shall be responsible for the collection and testing of the aforementioned samples.

Samples shall be collected in such a manner as to be representative of the composition of the wastes. The sampling shall be accomplished by the use of automatic sampling equipment or other devices, capable of collecting composite samples. Every care shall be exercised in the collection of samples to insure their preservation in a state comparable to that at the time the sample was taken.

Section 606. Analyses. Laboratory procedures used in the examination of industrial wastes shall be as provided in Section 508. However, alternative methods for certain analyses of industrial wastes may be used, subject to mutual agreement between the Manager and the owner.

Determination of the character and concentration of the industrial wastes shall be made by the owner, or his qualified agent as approved by the Manager. The results of the analyses shall be reported to the Village on a monthly basis on forms provided by the Village. The Village shall make its own analyses on the wastes periodically. In case the analyses performed by the owner and the Village result in substantially different values, an effort shall be made by the owner to collect samples at the same time the Village collects samples. The results of the analyses on the samples collected by the Village and the owner shall be compared, using the same testing procedures as outlined in Section 508, and the differences negotiated. In the event the differences cannot be resolved, the determination performed by the Village shall be binding.

ARTICLE VII - POWER AND AUTHORITY OF INSPECTORS

Section 701. The Manager and other duly authorized employees of the Village shall have access to all properties for the purposes of inspection, observation, measurement, sampling and testing pertinent to discharge to the wastewater treatment works in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 702. The Manager and other duly authorized employees are authorized to obtain information concerning industrial processes which have a direct bearing on the kind and source of discharge to the wastewater treatment works.

ARTICLE VII - PROTECTION FROM DAMAGE

Section 801. No unauthorized person shall maliciously, willfully or negligently break, damage, destroy, uncover, deface or tamper with any structure, appurtenance or equipment which is a part of the wastewater treatment works.

ARTICLE IX - PENALTIES AND REMEDIES

Section 901. Upon finding a violation of this ordinance the Manager shall send a written notice by mail to the owner and party who caused the violation, if different than the owner, except for violations of Section 801. The notice shall, in all cases, set forth a time limit during which all noted violations shall cease and be abated, and appropriate corrective action taken. If, in the opinion of the Manager, the public health, safety or welfare would be irreversibly damaged or impaired by any delay in seeking compliance by written notice, then the Manager may immediately apply for the appropriate remedy as hereinafter provided.

Section 902. Any person who shall continue any violation beyond the time limit provided for in Section 901 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in an amount not exceeding $100.00 for such violation and/or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days. Each day in which any such violation shall continue shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 903. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall become liable to the Village for any expense, loss or damage occasioned by the Village by reason of such violation, notwithstanding whether said person may have been prosecuted for a violation of the terms of this ordinance.

Section 904. Any person violating State of Michigan and/or Federal regulations as a consequence of violating any provisions of this ordinance shall be subject to any penalties imposed by State and/or Federal regulations, irrespective of the provisions of the ordinance.

Section 905. Any violation of this ordinance is hereby declared to be a nuisance per se and the Manager is authorized on behalf of the Village to seek the appropriate remedy at law or in equity by filing a complaint with a court of competent jurisdiction to abate, enjoin or otherwise remove such violation together with any claim for damages.

Section 906. Any person or party affected by this Ordinance may file an appeal if he or she has reason to believe that any part or parts of the ordinance are not applicable toward a particular situation and place an undue financial (or other) burden on the grieved party or person. The person or party shall submit to the Council at a regularly scheduled meeting a written statement indicating the nature of the appeal and requesting the Council consider the issue determination on the validity of the appeal.

No more than 60 days following the appeal, the Village will respond in writing concerning determination as to the appeals validity, which shall be binding on the person or party instituting the appeal.

ARTICLE X - SEWER SERVICE CHARGES

Section 1001. Rates and charges for the use of the wastewater treatment works of the Village are hereby established. The rates for sewer service charges shall be established by resolution of the Village Council enacted as part of this ordinance, which are necessary to insure sufficiency of revenues for operation, maintenance and replacement costs.

Section 1002. The rates and charges for service shall be levied upon each lot or parcel of land, building or premises having any sewer connection with the sewer system of the Village or which may otherwise discharge sewage or industrial wastes either directly or indirectly into such system or any part thereof. Such charges shall be based upon the quantity of water used thereon or therein, as the same is measured or, in the absence thereof, by such equitable method as shall be determined by the Village, subject to the provisions of Section 604 hereof. Such charges shall be collected at the same time, and in the same manner as provided for the payment of charges for water used. Charges for all users obtaining all or part of their water supply from sources other than the Village water system may be determined by gauging or metering the actual sewage entering the system or by metering the water used in a manner acceptable to the Village.

Section 1003. Sewer service charges shall consist of the following components:

a) User Charge

b) Extra Strength Surcharge

The minimum sewer service charges shall be based upon a minimum consumption of 8,000 gallons per quarter.

The User Charge Rate for wastewater which do not exceed normal strength wastes shall be based upon the following values:

C_{T0} = Estimated total monies needed per year for the administration, billing, operation, maintenance and replacement expenses of the wastewater treatment works.

C_f = Estimated administration and other fixed, non-flow, BOD and Suspended Solids related expenses included in C_{T0} for the operation and maintenance of the wastewater treatment works.

C_s = Estimated revenue from extra strength surcharges.

Q_t = The total annual volume of billable sewage flow from all users of the sewerage system, in 1,000 gallons units.

S_u = Total equivalent residential customers tributary to the system.

$$\text{Sewer Use Rate} = \frac{C_{T0} - C_f - C_s}{Q_t} \text{ per 1,000 gallons, plus}$$

$$\text{Quarterly charge} = \frac{C_f}{S_u \times 4} \text{ per equivalent residential unit}$$

Section 1004. In addition to the base Charges applicable pursuant to Section 1003, users discharging pollutants to the wastewater treatment works, whose average concentration in one or more classifications exceeds in any month that concentration defined as normal in Section 121 for the corresponding classification, shall be subject to surcharges calculated as follows:

a) Surcharges for each billing period during a calendar year shall be based upon the following values for that calendar year: the estimated total operation and maintenance expenses as defined in Section 1003 (C_{T0}); the estimated total pounds of BOD received at the wastewater treatment plant (B_t); the estimated total pounds of Suspended Solids received at the plant (S_t); and the estimated total pounds of Phosphorus received at the plant (P_t). Data not available shall be estimated in the most practical manner possible.

b) Surcharge per pound of BOD in excess of normal equals: $\frac{C_{T0} \times 0.13}{B_t}$

c) Surcharge per pound of Suspended Solids in excess of normal equals: $\frac{C_{T0} \times 0.126}{S_t}$

d) Surcharge per pound of Phosphorus in excess of normal equals: $\frac{C_{T0} \times 0.054}{P_t}$

e) Pounds of BOD per billing period subject to surcharge equals: (Average concentration of BOD, determined pursuant to Sections 605 and 606, in milligrams per liter, minus 300 milligrams per liter) times the volume of wastewater discharged by the user to the wastewater treatment works per billing period, in 1,000 gallons, times .00834. If the average concentration of BOD is 290 milligrams per liter, or less, no surcharge for BOD shall apply.

f) Pounds of Suspended Solids per billing period subject to surcharge equals: (Average concentration of Suspended Solids, determined pursuant to Sections 605 and 606, in milligrams per liter, minus 350 milligrams per liter) times the volume of wastewater discharged by the user to the wastewater treatment works per billing period, in 1,000 gallons, times .00834. If the average concentration of Suspended Solids is 340 milligrams per liter, or less, no surcharge for Suspended Solids shall apply.

g) Pounds of Phosphorus per billing period subject to surcharge equals: (Average concentration of Phosphorus, determined pursuant to Sections 605 and 606, in milligrams per liter, minus 6 milligrams per liter) times the volume of wastewater discharged by the user to the wastewater treatment works per billing period, in 1,000 gallons, times .00834. If the average concentration of Phosphorus is 6 milligrams per liter, or less, no surcharge for Phosphorus shall apply.

h) Surcharge equals (the pounds of BOD calculated pursuant to Section 1004. e) times surcharge per pound calculated pursuant to Section 1004. b); plus (pounds of Suspended Solids calculated pursuant to Section 1004. f); times surcharge per pound calculated pursuant to Section 1004. c); plus (pounds of Phosphorus calculated pursuant to Section 1004. g); times surcharge per pound calculated pursuant to Section 1004. d).

i) Formulas as contained in Section 1004. b), and d) shall be subject to adjustment as necessary based upon annual audit of sewer revenue fund expenses.

Section 1005. The rates provided for herein are established to be sufficient to provide for the costs of operation, maintenance and replacement of the system, as are necessary to preserve the same in good repair and working order. Such rates shall be revised from time to time as may be necessary to satisfy this requirement. An annual audit shall be prepared. Based on said audit, rates shall be reviewed annually and revised as necessary to meet system expenses and to insure that all user classes pay their proportionate share of operation, maintenance and equipment replacement costs.

Section 1006. No free service shall be allowed for any user of the Village's wastewater system.

Section 1007. If payment is not received or satisfactory arrangements have not been made within 60 days of the due date of the bill, a shutoff notice will be sent by first class mail to inform the user that failure to respond will result in termination of said sewer services. If payment is not received or satisfactory arrangements have not been made within 60 days after the shutoff notice is sent to the user, the sewer service shall be shut off. No sewer service that has been discontinued due to nonpayment shall be restored until all past bills are paid or satisfactory arrangements for such payment are made.

Section 1008. Charges for sewerage service furnished to any premises within the service area shall be a lien against the premises. Enforcement of this lien shall be made pursuant to Village Code and/or statute. This lien remedy does not preclude any other remedy provided by law. Those premises outside the service area that are served by the Village's wastewater treatment works that have delinquent bills will be certified in their governmental units for collection as provided in the contract between the Village and the governmental unit.

Section 1009. User charge rates for normal strength domestic wastewater shall be uniform to all users in the service area regardless of political boundaries.

ARTICLE XI - DEBT SERVICE

Section 1101. The debt incurred for construction of the works will be paid from debt service revenue from an annual levy of ad valorem taxes on all taxable property within the Village. The debt service revenue will be deposited into a fund designated to pay the debt incurred for construction of the works pursuant to Council Resolution of October 6, 1987.

ARTICLE XII - ORDINANCE REPEALED

Section 1201. This Ordinance repeals Ordinance Number 81 and all amendments thereto as of the effective date of this Ordinance.

ARTICLE XIII - VALIDITY

Section 1301. Any sentence, section, paragraph or article of this Ordinance which is declared to be invalid shall be separated from the remaining language of the Ordinance, which shall then be enforced without the invalid part or parts.

ARTICLE XIV - EFFECTIVE DATE

Section 1401. This Ordinance shall become effective 20 days after passage and publication.

Renee Cotterman Pursues Career in Entertainment

Renee Cotterman, granddaughter of Virginia Cotterman of Chelsea and the late Harry Cotterman, as well as the niece of Donna Taylor, is very successfully pursuing a career in music composition and variety show performance while attending Oakland University as a music education major.

lege level. But if an opportunity to embark on a professional career, particularly on the production end, comes along, she says that she would take it.

Cotterman is a singer, composer, dancer and choreographer. She has written 18 songs, of which nine were copyrighted and seven professionally recorded. She also sings and dances in variety shows around the country. On week-ends, she performs in a group called On Stage Productions.

She is also a member of Meadow Brook Estate, an ensemble of five men and women who travel around the country performing various musicals. The group performed in Detroit during the Thanksgiving Day Parade.

The former resident of Genesee County said that ideas for songs come to her spontaneously. "I never sit down with a particular goal," she said. "Usually a melody will pop in my head, then I'll come up with a chorus and later the rest of the lyrics, using my own feelings."

Two Flee Crash Scene

The 19-year-old driver and his passenger, 17, threw beer and a cooler into a farm field and fled the accident scene, Saturday night, Nov. 26, according to a report of the incident filed with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

The accident occurred about 10:50 p.m. on Dexter Town Hall Rd. just north of Colby Rd.

Deputies noted driver Frank Herbst and a passenger, Jerod Burga, were travelling northbound on Dexter Town Hall Rd. at a high rate of speed.

The report indicated the driver had been drinking prior to the accident, came out of a curve, lost control, skidded sideways, and exited the roadway on two wheels, and struck the rear of a dump truck parked in a farmer's yard.

The impact moved the dump truck approximately 25 feet, the automobile continued back onto the roadway, travelling another 500 feet before coming to a stop against a tree, according to the accident report.

The driver and passenger fled the scene on foot, after throwing beer and a cooler into a farm field, the report read.

The semi-conscious driver was found under a tree, approximately 300 feet from the vehicle, and the passenger was found later, the report explained.

Thanksgiving Baskets Provided for Needy

This year, as it has during the past several years, Faith in Action, Inc., has sought out those people in our community who had special needs during the Thanksgiving Holiday and provided food baskets for them. These baskets which included turkey, potatoes, vegetables, bread, eggs, fruit, Jiffy Mixes and other food items were made possible by the generosity of many groups, businesses and citizens of the community. Faith in Action's president, the Rev. Dr. Jerrold Beaumont reported, "It would be very difficult to list all of those who have contributed so generously but a special note of thanks should go to the young people of Chelsea who worked long and hard to collect food stuffs so that others could enjoy a brighter holiday. The students of our schools, the Scouts and the Cubs all had their own projects with the result that we received over 3,500 cans and boxes of food."

Faith in Action volunteers prepared and distributed Thanksgiving baskets which provided food for nearly 150 people. Beaumont also stated that Faith in Action is preparing now for its annual Christmas basket distribution which will include food, items of clothing and toys for children. This will take place at Our Savior Lutheran church through the courtesy of its pastor, the Rev. Franklin Giebel and the members of the parish on Dec. 20. In addition there will be the annual Christmas dinner for people of our community who might either be without a dinner or would have to spend it alone. The people of Faith in Action, board and volunteers ask that you contact them by calling 475-3305 Monday through Friday with the names of anyone you know who needs a Christmas basket or should be invited to Christmas dinner.

TEETHING BABIES REQUIRE COMFORT AND PATIENCE

Q: What can I do to help my baby through a teething period?
A: When teeth are getting ready to break through, the gum tissue usually becomes tender and swollen. Excess drooling probably will occur and the baby may become irritable and restless. As teeth are attempting to erupt, you may notice a slight fever. Although teething is an unlikely cause of illness, parents often associate cold symptoms and diarrhea with the eruption of teeth. Naturally, teething can compound the discomfort during a cold or intestinal disorder. To help your baby through a teething period you can rub the gums with a clean teething ring or cold spoon. When infants are cutting teeth, they seem to find natural relief from sore gums by "gumming" anything available so be sure that there are no toxic substances like lead-based paints on any objects within reach of the baby. Also, make sure any object you give the baby cannot break and cause choking. Teething is a natural process which soon ends. When the tooth emerges, the symptoms vanish.

Car-Deer Crashes Increase in Area

Highway-killed deer continue to be a problem for motorists travelling roadways in the western portion of Washtenaw county, as elsewhere in the state.

Law enforcement officers report the number of car vs. deer incidents has increased, with no special time designated more dangerous than another.

Lawrence Archie Gonyea, 31-year-old Jackson Rd. resident, explained he was westbound on Waters Rd. about 8:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25, when a deer ran suddenly onto the road.

He said he changed lanes in an attempt to avoid striking the deer, and while doing so, lost control on the "washboard" surface.

His vehicle travelled off the road's south shoulder and struck a tree. A witness, following in another vehicle, reported seeing Gonyea's brake lights suddenly go on.

Rexal Junior Roberts of Pinckney told officers he was northbound on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. near the intersection with Wylie Rd., about 10:55 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25, and was unable to avoid striking and killing a deer which ran unexpectedly onto the road, causing damage to the left front section of his vehicle.

Dennis Wayne O'Neal of Chelsea told deputies he was westbound on Old US-12, just east of M-52, when he came to a stop because another vehicle had stopped, trying to avoid a deer which had been hit by a third vehicle.

While trying to avoid the halted vehicle, the original driver explained a fourth vehicle, driven by Raymond John Weiner, II, 7327 Lingane Rd., struck the rear of his automobile.

The incident occurred at approximately 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25. It was Marvin Howard Fischer of N. Lima Center Rd., who was eastbound on Old US-12, that struck the deer.

Frederick James Glassford of Chelsea reported he was unable to avoid striking a deer while driving along Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd. at 8:20 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25.

Along Interstate-94, just east of Kalmbach Rd., at 4:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25, Timothy Oren Douthitt of Florence, Ky., told deputies he was unable to avoid a deer which appeared on the road.

Brian Keith Ackley of Chelsea said he was northbound on M-52 near Werkner Rd. when a deer ran unexpectedly onto the road and he was unable to avoid the animal.

The deer fled the accident, but was found later and deputies were forced to destroy the animal because of the serious injuries resulting from the collision, which occurred just before 11 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 24.

At 3:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25, Grass Lake area resident Douglas Alan Schrader was driving on Jacob Rd., north of Below Rd., when one of approximately six deer ran suddenly onto the road, smashing into the side of his automobile.

The other animals apparently crossed the road successfully. Sharon Lee McDaniels of Chelsea was driving westbound on Old US-12, a short distance west of M-52, when a deer ran onto the roadway and she was unable to avoid striking it. The incident was reported at 4:20 p.m. Friday, Nov. 25.

Thanksgiving Dinner Cost Remains Stable Over Past Year

An American Farm Bureau survey on the cost of a traditional Thanksgiving dinner shows that despite the widespread drought, food prices have remained relatively stable over the past year. A dinner for 10 people cost $26.61 this year, higher than last year's $24.51, but lower than the $29.75 a comparable meal cost in 1986.

Among the items included on the menu were: turkey and dressing, sweet potatoes, peas, rolls, cranberries, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, a relish dish and beverages. Turkey and sweet potatoes led the list of higher prices this year.

"Americans have a lot to be thankful for," said Michigan Farm Bureau commodity specialist Kevin Kirk. "Most countries lack the resources needed to cope with a serious drought. Despite some major crop losses, our food supply is secure and prices remain very reasonable."

Kirk said the survey showed that stores are doing more each year to attract holiday meal shoppers with promotional prices covering more items. The widespread drought didn't have much effect on the number of turkeys produced in 1988. Turkey production increased by 2% in 1988, compared with an 18% spurt in 1987. U.S. cranberry production jumped 12% from 1987, while sweet potato acreage declined by 3%.

UNITED AUTO WORKERS and Chrysler Corp. have formed a joint program to bring computer training classes to Chelsea's Chrysler Proving Grounds. The program, designed to give basic instruction in the use of computers, is being taught by the University of Toledo. The on-going course is available to all 338 UAW employees. The idea, according to education and training counselor Naomi Sheffer, is to help employees learn the basics of computer use, which could help them not only at their jobs

WCC Extension Centers Bring College Home

WE'RE AT HOME IN THE WEST!

Washtenaw Community College has been offering classes in the western portion of Washtenaw County for many years. Now, we're establishing even deeper roots in this area.

We're opening a Regional Center in downtown Chelsea. This center will serve our programs in Chelsea, Dexter, Saline and now Manchester (Pleasant Lake Technical Center).

The new Regional Center is located at 134 West Middle Street near Main. It will be ready for business in December and will mark the beginning of a new era in WCC's history of service to local communities.

WE'RE AT HOME IN THE EAST!

By now you might have heard about our classes in Ypsilanti and Willow Run. Now, we're taking it a step further by establishing a Regional Center in Ypsilanti to improve our ability to bring courses and services into these neighborhoods.

The Center is not open yet but a location has been chosen: the former Sunrise Shopping Center on Holmes Road. This site will provide space for classes, offices and other services.

TALK TO US.

Washtenaw Community College wants your opinion. What classes do you need? What new programs should we offer in your area? Call Gary Dodge at 973-3408.

How much does it cost?

If you live in Washtenaw County you get WCC's lowest tuition rate available: $29 per credit hour. However, a recent change in our tuition structure means that you get this same low tuition if you live outside the county but work full-time in the county. Call our admissions office at 973-3544 for details about this policy.

Washtenaw County Residents.....$29 per credit

Out-of-county residents.....$46 per credit

Out-of-state residents.....$60 per credit

Some points to remember when you register for classes at your local extension center: you'll have to pay full tuition at the time you register, and we are unable to accept credit cards.

College Comes to Television

When we say we bring college home, we mean it. WCC telecourses are a convenient way to earn college credit. You view lectures, presentations, educational films and documentaries at home. These programs are aired on public television stations and cable networks. In your area, you can view WCC telecourses on WTVS/Channel 56, Detroit. You also may view telecourses on the Community Access Channel (Channel 8) if you subscribe to Columbia Cable in Washtenaw County.

Here's how it works: you attend an orientation session for each course at the start of the semester. After meeting your instructor and receiving the lesson plan, you view the programs in your home at various broadcast times. You'll attend periodic on-campus meetings with your instructor and take on-campus tests throughout the term. When it's all over, you'll be tested and graded, just like any other course.

Here is a look at telecourse offerings for the Winter 1989 Semester. This listing includes, from left to right, the course title, TV program title and course abbreviation/number:

- Introduction to Business: "The Business File" (BMG 140)
- Principles of Management: "Business Management" (BMG 208)
- Principles of Marketing: "Marketing" (BMG 250)
- Introduction to Computers: "The New Literacy" (CIS 100)
