ASTRO MANUFACTURING CO. on Lima Center Rd. Firefighters from Chelsea and Dexter battled the blaze lost a $900,000 manufacturing facility to fire Saturday until mid-morning on Sunday. Astro specializes in fiberglass caps for pick-up trucks. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Saturday Afternoon Fire Guts Astro Manufacturing

Fire swept through the Astro Manufacturing Co. on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. on Saturday afternoon, causing an estimated $900,000 in damage.

No one was injured. Black smoke from the fire could be seen as far away as Briarwood Mall in Ann Arbor.

According to the Chelsea Fire Chief Bud Hankerd, company employees reported hearing a loud pop near a furnace room shortly before the fire started. By the time they realized the building was on fire the blaze was so far along they didn't attempt to put it out.

"It was all they could do to get out of the building," Hankerd said.

A S. Lima Center Rd. resident reported the fire at 2:38 p.m.

The company, located adjacent to Honeggers, Inc., specializes in fiberglass caps for pick-up trucks. The portion that burned down was an 80' by 50' pole building that contained mostly manufacturing equipment. It also contained some resin that is used in fiberglass manufacturing.

Chelsea and Dexter Fire Departments battled the fire, while Manchester Fire Department was on call at the Chelsea department.

Hankerd said 26 Chelsea firefighters fought through the night. The last firefighter left by 10 a.m. Sunday.

"By the time we got there, the fire was way out of control," Hankerd said.

"We were trying to keep it from spreading."

Firefighters were aided by westerly winds, which minimized any threat to Honeggers.

More than 25,000 gallons of water had to be hauled from Chelsea.

Arson investigators were on the scene for much of Sunday. However, as of Monday a specific cause for the fire had not been determined.

Hankerd said there was at least one complaint about the smoke from a nearby resident. However, Hankerd said he was told by the Department of Natural Resources that due to weather conditions there was no threat of contamination from the smoke.

A MEMORIAL FUND has been set up in the name of Scott A. Cordell, the young man who was found dead at his home last week. The money will be used for suicide prevention. Contributions may be made c/o Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel.

Thieves Continuing To Hit Rural Homes

Looking for a candidate to name "nasty larcenist of the season?" A couple of prospects come to mind!

One might be the person or persons who maliciously attacked the Christmas figurines early this week along John Holmes Rd. in Scio township.

At least one "Wise Man" is missing, according to a report filed by Deputy Mike Oltersdorf of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Sunday, Dec. 11.

Another prospect for the "nasty" award would be the malicious destroyers of three sets of outdoor Christmas lights snatched off the trees in front of John and Mary Bouillon's home on Huron River Dr.

At first, the Bouillons thought the light cords might have been pulled off the trees by deer crossing in the area, but on a recent night, Mary and John were sitting on their porch and watched a small black vehicle slow in front of their house, just before someone reached out and grabbed the lights, yanking them off the trees.

"Imagine the nerve. If I hadn't been in my nightie, I really would have chased those buggers," Mary said.

Other suspects made off with an estimated $8,000 in aluminum from a

New Building Projects Will Likely Have To Wait For Sewer Plant Data

It's likely the village will not give a firm commitment to Rene Papo for his planned office/apartment development until late next spring.

Papo has asked the village to annex 52 acres between Chelsea Community Hospital and Old US-12 for the project. He also wants a guarantee that the zoning will be changed to allow the project.

However, Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, the village's consulting engineering firm, said in a letter to the village that it will be six to eight months before the village will know whether the new wastewater treatment plant can handle the development.

"We estimate the initial flow from the first office building will be approximately 4,000 gallons per day which can easily be handled by the western interceptor," the letter said.

"At this time, we cannot evaluate the impact of the entire site flow on the wastewater treatment plant until the plant has been in operation and flows can be evaluated. Therefore, we recommend this evaluation be performed in approximately six to eight months when we have substantial data on the flows to the wastewater treatment plant. The agreement for annexation should include a statement regarding service capability because of this."

At their regular meeting Dec. 6, village council took no action on the annexation request.

The letter also estimated an additional 700 feet of sewer line would be needed at a cost of $115,000.

Village president Jerry Satterthwaite told council that he is dismayed by the number of legal entanglements Papo apparently wants to get the village involved in. He went so far as to say, "maybe (the village) doesn't want him as a neighbor."

"Everytime we do something for him, he turns around and wants to sue us," he said.

Papo has had his attorneys send letters on two matters—one involving stormwater run off for Mike Kennedy's proposed Village Square (see related story in this issue) and a second on an old dumpsite behind Chelsea Shopping Center where a retention pond is located. On the second matter, Papo apparently wants to hold the village responsible for any contamination that might result as a result of the old dump.

However, Satterthwaite said the village administration can find no records that what is called the "Pritchard Dump," was ever an official dump of the village.

Despite his reservations about Papo's intentions, Satterthwaite said the village will more than likely annex the property.

"However, we do have some vacant property in town and I think we should try to reserve some (sewage plant) capacity for those landowners," Satterthwaite said.

Some of the additional capacity of the new plant has already been committed to adding Bridgetown Condominiums, Belser Estates, Quiet Creek Condominiums, Chelsea Shopping Center, and Village Mall.

In another matter that could affect the capacity of the plant, Chelsea resident Harold Allen says he wants to propose a new single-family housing development.

The project would be built where the previously-approved Chelsea Pines condominium project was to be located, west of Lincoln St. That land has been re-zoned for a planned unit development, the first zoning of its kind in Chelsea. However, the initial developers have apparently scrapped plans for the condominium project.

Allen said he'd like to build moderately priced homes because he believes that part of the market has not been addressed by newer housing developments in town.

As of Friday, Allen had not yet submitted site plans.

Work on New Mall Slated To Begin This Week

Site work was scheduled to begin this week on Chelsea's second shopping center, according to developer Mike Kennedy.

As of last week, the site, to the immediate south of Polly's Market on M-52, was staked off. Earth moving equipment was scheduled to be moved in this week.

"Village Square" is the name of the 45,000-square-foot project. AACO Hardware and Arbor Drugs are tentatively scheduled to be the largest tenants in the mall.

Meanwhile, attorneys for developer Rene Papo, and his father, Dr. Michael Papo, have written a letter to village attorney Peter Flintoff objecting to plans for stormwater run off from the project. They contend the water will all run onto the Papo property, which is adjacent to the mall site.

The letter was directed to Flintoff because the village has approved site plans for the project.

"If Polly's has the right of condemnation, let them undertake it, otherwise we shall insist they make other arrangements for the disposal of their run off," the letter says.

If anything, the letter further confuses an already confusing situation.

Rene Papo has submitted site plans for a "Village Square," a 32,000-square-foot mall. It would be located on property adjacent to Kennedy's project. In fact, it would fill in a pond that is used for stormwater run off from Polly's Market.

Village consultants have recommended that the village not approve site plans for the project until Papo comes up with a way to handle the development's stormwater.

Papo contends his land naturally drains into Pierce Lake behind Polly's Market.

Papo has also legally contested a Washtenaw county-approved drainage project for the area. The project would take stormwater from the east side of M-52 and direct it into Pierce Lake.

Kennedy says stormwater from his new mall would run into a retention pond on his property and the overflow would run into the new drain.

As of Friday, no court date had been set to consider the matter, according to drain commissioner C. Dolores Sigal.

Village officials and others who did not want to be identified have said they believe Papo's primary intention is simply to stop Kennedy's project as it would provide competition for both Village Square and his partially completed Chelsea Shopping Center across the street.

Papo could not be reached for comment.

Thieves Steal Christmas Displays

Chelsea police reported a rash of thefts of Christmas lights and displays on Dec. 6-7.

Strings of lights were taken from two homes on Van Buren St.

A home on McKinley St. lost two sets of lights and two wooden deer.

Lights were stolen from a home on Railroad St.

And an E. Summit St. resident said a four-foot Santa Claus was taken from in front of his home. That resident reported seeing two white males stealing the ornament at 3:27 a.m. on Dec. 7.

MARK KINDY tells Santa he wants a big truck during the old man's first visit to the area last Saturday afternoon at the VFW Hall downtown. Mark is the son of Mike and Claudette Kindy of Chelsea. Santa's visit is sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association. He'll be here again at 1 p.m. this Saturday.

AMANDA SMYTH, 6, of Gregory, told Santa Saturday that she had cleaned up her room that very morning and her mother, Brenda, confirmed that the room was spotless. Mr. Claus made his first appearance of the year last Saturday afternoon at the VFW Hall on N. Main St. He'll be there again this Saturday afternoon. Chelsea merchants are sponsoring his visit again this year.

D.N.R. Lists Priority Sites for Cleanup from Bond Proceeds

The Department of Natural Resources has released fiscal year 1989-90 proposed priority lists of environmental contamination sites as the department prepares to implement voter approval of the $660 million environmental cleanup bonding proposal (Proposal C).

The proposal includes $425 million to be apportioned during the next few fiscal years using environmental response act (PA 307, 1982) lists as a basis for site selection.

The proposed 1989-90 priority lists identifies an additional 288 sites—mostly due to leaking underground storage tanks—for assessment of environmental threat and cleanup action or other response activities, with 2,050 sites now identified.

DNR Director David Hales said the list will be used to determine what funding recommendations will be for site cleanup.

He said the department would continue to use all of its enforcement tools to identify and locate the sources of the pollution and hold those persons responsible so the bond funds can best be used on sites which "most deserve use of state funds." Twenty-six sites have been identified where interim response activities, site evaluation and the limited possibility of achieving federally or privately funded cleanups have indicated the need for state funded final site remedies.

The second list includes those sites requiring evaluation and interim response activities.

"These lists will provide the grist for deciding which sites will be recommended for cleanup," Hales said, adding that no final determination can be made until rules are promulgated to determine additional criteria for expenditure of Proposal C funds.

Dingell To Introduce Legislation To Require Asbestos Labeling

Sen. Chris Dingell (D-Trenton) announced he will introduce legislation to require the labeling of products made with asbestos. He said the labeling requirement will ensure that consumers can make informed decisions regarding the purchase and use of products containing asbestos.

Dingell said the legislation is modeled on a California law which requires products containing asbestos to carry a warning label.

He said the legislation would mainly affect the retail sector and would not cover government or school buildings which are currently covered by the federal Environmental Protection Agency rules that require inspection and asbestos removal.

The measure would also require the posting of notices in places where asbestos products are in use. Penalties include civil fines of up to $2,500 daily for each violation.

Kelley Rules Energy Speed Points Remain in Effect

Attorney General Frank Kelley has ruled driver license penalty energy points for exceeding 55 miles per hour remain in effect despite a 1987 law eliminating any reference to that speed limit.

Kelley noted the Senate had eliminated the language providing for the energy speed limit points, but it was reinserted in the House in a version that was given ultimate approval.

State law provides 1 point for driving at speeds of 60 mph to the maximum in effect before all highway speed limits were cut to 55 mph in 1974 as an energy saving measure; 2 points for exceeding the prior limit by up to 10 mph; 3 points for exceeding the prior limit by up to 15 mph; and 4 points for higher speeds.

Kelley also ruled the Department of State is not required to note on a driver's record of an out-of-state traffic violation if it is based upon a bond forfeiture.

loans, Ed said, and ever one expected the notices they got. We have got a long history of bad farm policy that does not discriminate on basis of political party, Ed said, and when the FmHA dropped another batch of the other shoes wouldn't of changed anybody's mind about who to vote for.

The fellers were divided on the issue, but Bug Hookum stood four-square for Ed. Bug said he had thought the speaking and shutting up question up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind that what is thought usual is far off what was meant. For instant, he went on, this new trade agreement with Canada is catching all kind of flak from both sides for different reasons and none of em have anything to do with the reason for the bill.

For their part, Bug said, some Canadians worry about being thought of as the 51st state. They point out they built their railroads east and west to serve Canada, not north and south to be a spur line of the United States. Mostly they think free trade will bring more of us in and they will become like us in spite of their selves. Down here, we see the Canadians gitting the best deal because we got the biggest market, Bug said.

Practical speaking, it's hard to see whose bull is gitting gored. We worry about Japan buying New Jersey and General Motors, and Japanese parents say our rock music is driving their children crazy.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

There's, verily, a time for sowing and reaping and for everything under Heaven. Clem Webster reminded the fellers at the country store Saturday night. There is, especial, a time to speak and a time to keep your mouth shut, Clem went on, and if you got any doubts all you need to do is glance at the papers.

Clem said some of his reading lately calls to mind the old feller in his church that was called on during a revival to speak what was heavy on his heart and clean his soul. The feller stood up and allowed that he loved the Lord and his feller man and he would like to confess. But he said he had took note that the grand jury was in session and he'd best keep his own counsel til the next revival.

What Clem read was where four high school football players in the city had been charged with breaking into houses and stealing radios, televisions, video cameras and VCRs and selling em to their buddies at a bargain. All the break-ins took place back in late summer, Clem said, and the police had been working on the case night and day. The paper said they final got evidence that led to the charges the day after the team the boys were on got beat in the playoffs. The grand jury might not of been in session, Clem declared, but you can bet the farm that the school alumni was active.

There allus is the chanct, Clem said, that the police didn't care a fig that them boys were the stars of the team. And there is a chanct, to, that the Bush people had no idee them 80,000 farmers might of voted different if they had knowed before the election that the Farmers Home Administration was calling in their loans. The FmHA worked on that mailing long and hard, but it just couldn't git the notices out til the week after the vote.

Republican Ed Doolittle said that, like usual, Democrat Clem was 180 degrees off target. Ever one of them farmers and ranchers knowed full well how they stood on their FmHA

Safe Reactors Will Help Thwart Greenhouse Effect

In April, 1986 the experimental reactor of the Argonne National Laboratory near Idaho Falls was operating at full power in a demonstration before American, British, French, German and Japanese observers. At a given moment, the power was shut off to all cooling systems—a sure prelude to disaster for any conventional reactor. But this time, nothing happened. The Argonne reactor shut itself down relying only on the laws of nature such as heat conduction, convection, radiation and gravity.

Later that day a second demonstration was given in which the Idaho reactor again shut itself down. It was accomplished with natural forces and no need for control rods, pumps or valves.

These benign outcomes of the two demonstrations occurred because the Argonne reactor had eliminated water as a coolant and introduced a liquid metal—sodium—in its place. The fuel which produces heat by atomic fission had also been changed to a new alloy of uranium, plutonium and zirconium.

Ordinary water-cooled reactors operate inside a superheated vessel similar to a pressure cooker, an unending source of danger. The pool of liquid sodium which surrounds the Argonne fuel core is under no pressure except that of the natural atmosphere in which we live. This is part of its inherently safe design.

What is more, this power plant is a breeder reactor which manufactures its own fuel as it goes along. Such a capability not only offers a major economy but it leads, as we shall presently see, to yet another safety problem of universal concern. The reactor is the invention of the staff at the Argonne National Laboratory, operated by the Department of Energy under a joint arrangement with the University of Chicago. The Argonne reactor is expected to go into full-scale testing early in the 1990s.

Scientists label it an integrated fast reactor (IFR). They say integrated because the entire system is designed, developed and tested simultaneously. They call it fast because of the relatively high energy of the neutrons in the fuel.

Plutonium, essential to the making of bombs, is a target for theft by terrorists. In an Argonne committee report, Chairman Max W. Carbon states, "The potential for theft or diversion of fissionable materials is significantly reduced in the IFR fuel cycle. Plutonium need never be shipped from the site. It will always exist as part of a mixture of highly radioactive materials, and much of it will be inside the reactor."

Oldies Loaded with Carcinogens

Water-cooled reactors in service throughout the world use only 1 percent of the energy in their fuel. Ninety-nine percent is unburned waste which must be taken to disposal sites where the radioactive material takes a million years to dissipate. This is a legitimate cause for international alarm because nobody, but nobody, wants this material loaded with carcinogens buried in their back yard, or their state, or even their country.

The Argonne plant consumes its own waste by recycling it. This new chemical process, known as electrorefining, is a substantial saver of money and conserves a mineral resource. Also, as we have noted, it eliminates the worst part of a disposal problem. Waste from a first generation reactor contains certain trace elements, including neptunium and americium, which carry the causes of cancer for tens of thousands of years. Run these villainous elements through a breeder reactor, however, and the isolation period is reduced to 200 years. Also the amount of such waste from a breeder reactor requires only a fraction of the land demanded for the burial of waste from older reactors.

Looking back, the early generation of reactors had a creditable record of performance aside from the unacceptable problem of million year wastes. They are today producing 20 percent of our nation's electric power. The only serious accident was at Three Mile Island. It resulted in a meltdown but the radioactivity was contained and there were no fatalities.

In a June address to a Pan-American conference, Lynn Wallis, a GE nuclear consultant, said, "Although the 'no nukes' activists would like us to believe they speak for the public, a poll taken in May 1988 shows that 81 percent of the American public believe that nuclear energy will be important in meeting U. S. energy needs in the years ahead."

Chernobyl's tragic accident blew the 1,000-ton lid off the reactor building and sent a poisonous cloud across western Europe. Thirty-one heroic firemen lost their lives to radiation burns and 116,000 people had to be evacuated from the region.

Mike Edwards, senior writer for National Geographic Magazine, went to Chernobyl for an editorial visit one year after the accident. Part of his May 1987 report documented operator blunders as the sole cause of the tragedy.

Warming the Earth Like a Greenhouse

The advent of a new atomic technology will serve to make such operator errors impossible. The new technology also comes just in time to cope with a grave and imminent problem of our global environment—the greenhouse effect.

Practically every source of power available for human use is loading the atmosphere with a layer of carbon dioxide (CO₂) as a result of burning fossil fuels. It comes from all the coal, oil, gas and wood which we use for heating, and for billions of internal combustion engines. Destruction of our tropical rain forests contributes additional CO₂ while destroying forever their ability to absorb unwanted carbon dioxide. During the past century we have increased the concentration of CO₂ in our atmosphere by almost 25 percent. As a result there is a blanket of this invisible gas trapping the sun's heat beneath the blanket and warming the continents. Within the next century it could lead to an average warming of the earth by three to nine degrees.

Changes in the weather could result in a permanent drought, creating a desert in the midwest, while lands in northern Canada and Russia could become verdant and arable. The polar caps could melt sufficiently to cause a six-foot rise of sea levels throughout the world. Low lying islands would be inundated and millions of seashore homes would become uninhabitable.

The great hope for coping with the greenhouse effect lies in the increased use of nuclear energy which creates no carbon dioxide. More than ever we must look to non-polluting electric automobiles, the warming of homes and buildings with heat pumps and the accelerated search for useful solar energy. More than ever there is the need to preserve remaining forests and to grow new ones to absorb CO₂ through photosynthesis. The greenhouse peril will give us yet another reason for better population control.

In an article in Fortune this August, "Taking the Fear Out of Nuclear Power," Eugene Faltermayer concluded by saying, "And new worries about the greenhouse effect are turning fossil-fuel plants into bad guys just when nuclear power is poking its head out of the doghouse."

This article described six versions of advanced reactors all of which provide much longer response times to a serious accident than reactors of yesteryear. One model employs helium as a coolant. The Argonne reactor was described but not named. No mention was made of its ability to recycle and decontaminate long-lived radioactive waste.

It seems remarkable that such a significant advance in the production of nuclear power could be so widely ignored for so long. This fall, however, the subject was opened wide at a conference of science writers in Boulder, home of the University of Colorado. The conferees were addressed by Charles E. Till, associate laboratory director of the Argonne program. The Department of Energy people are certainly interested in spreading the word now. I talked to Dr. Till in Idaho Falls by phone on a Friday afternoon and a press kit, used for the Boulder meeting, arrived by courier in Chelsea 20 hours later.

The Argonne reactor is a notable achievement. These government scientists deserve thanks for their efforts on behalf of Planet Earth.

A TIME CAPSULE was made by fourth graders in Suzanne DeVries class at South school recently. The project was worked on all fall. The capsule, made of a sealed plumber's pipe donated by Trevor Kiplmiller's father, included a message and objects of interest describing life in their fourth grade class. The capsule will be opened by next year's fourth graders. It was buried just before Thanksgiving with help from South school janitor Mary Poley. In front, from left, are Katie Rickerd, Bekah Knight, Jenny Ellison, Dusty White, and Blase Lipiec. In the back, from left, are Michael Tarrolli, Abby Brown, Chris Keezer, and Ashley Coy.

Sheriff Schebil Named to New State Corrections Committee

Three Michigan county sheriffs were recently appointed to a new Michigan Department of Corrections committee that will be responsible for the collection and co-ordination of jail data and information regarding community corrections alternative programs.

Clare county sheriff Howard Haskin, Calhoun county sheriff Jon Olson and Washtenaw county sheriff Ronald Schebil will serve on the Jail Data Center Management Committee, along with MSA deputy director, Dale E. Davis. Each was appointed by MSA president James McNutt.

Created by Public Act 324 of 1988, a major legislative effort that appropriated some $632,000,000 in corrections funds for fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1989, the committee became effective Dec. 1, 1988.

The management committee will establish the policies for co-ordinating the collection of data, generating standard and special reports, and for the release of jail and community alternative program data for special information requests and for policy analysis, according to language in the legislation.

The 13-member committee also consists of one chief of police; single representation of the Detroit Police Department; the Michigan Association of Counties; the Attorney General's Office; the Department of Management and Budget; the LEIN Policy Council; the general public; and two representatives of the Department of Corrections.

PROFESSIONAL BOWLER Harry Sullins visited Phil Bareis' team sports class at Chelsea Lanes last week to give a little expert guidance in the sport of 10 pins. Above he helps exchange student Tine Jensen with her approach. Tine is a senior exchange student from Breum, Denmark. Sullins, the brother of Chelsea High math teacher Ken Sullins, is from Roseville. He started bowling at three years old and continued bowling through college, where he studied bowling lanes management. He won numerous tournaments in college and around Michigan before joining the PBA tour in 1982 on a part-time basis. Since 1986 he's been a full-time pro. He made his first television championship round in 1985. Since then he's won titles in Indianapolis (1986) and Windsor (1987). In the last three years he's made five appearances on national television and won more than $140,000. He has six PBA sanctioned 300 games to his credit.

In the business category, Dayspring Gifts was the first place winner, Woodshed Eatery took second place, and Merkel's Home Furnishings was third. All those businesses won ribbons. Country Rose was named honorable mention.

Chelsea Lioness Club judged the contest.

Yoga Classes Scheduled for Senior Citizens

Lucille Lightstone-Brochu wants to remind Dexter and Chelsea area senior citizens that ageless Yoga classes on Thursday morning are on-going from 9 to 11 a.m. throughout the year, at the St. James parish hall, 3279 Broad St., Dexter, adjacent to the IGA store.

Lucille explained this week, "For the past four years, senior citizens have met each Thursday morning for Yoga instruction and practice—looking good and feeling great. In addition, evening classes have been offered by the Dexter Community Education program. Again, a group of enthusiastic people, both men and women, have developed an attitude of devotion to Yoga practice, for an hour and a half, each Wednesday evening. Sponsored by Washtenaw Community College, Yoga classes will be held, Jan. 19-March 23, which are free to women and men, 55 and older.

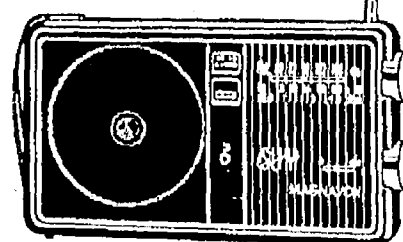

She advises interested people will need to wear loose-fitting garments—a jogging suit, shorts or footless leotards are suitable, and they should bring a mat for exercise practice, as well as two thick blankets.

To enroll in the Yoga classes scheduled by Dexter Community Education, 6-7:30 p.m., Jan. 25 to March 29, call 426-4008 to register or to inquire.

Faith in Action To Distribute Christmas Baskets Tues.

Faith in Action will distribute Christmas baskets at Our Savior Lutheran church on Tuesday, Dec. 20 between 12 noon and 4 p.m. The use of the Church Hall is made possible through the kindness of Pastor Franklin Giebel and the members of the congregation.

The Rev. Dr. Jerrold F. Beaumont, president of Faith in Action, Inc., reported that approximately 100 families will be provided for this year. To ensure that all those who could use a Christmas basket receive one, he asks the community to call Faith in Action if there is a known need.

Christmas baskets will include food for Christmas dinner and, where appropriate, articles of clothing and toys.

Volunteers of Faith in Action will begin assembling the baskets on Monday, Dec. 19 and will continue to do so through Tuesday as the need arises.

Of special interest to children, Santa Claus will be on hand to meet and talk with them.

The Rev. Beaumont also wanted to remind people that the third annual Faith in Action Christmas Dinner will be held at St. Mary's school on Christmas Day. He invites you to join with FIA volunteers and others to help, to enjoy a dinner, sing carols and be with the "Family." Purpose of the Christmas Dinner is so no one will have to be alone on Christmas Day.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

Dog Cagers Still Looking For First Victory as Injuries Still a Factor

Still burdened by injuries and illness, the Chelsea Bulldog basketball team lost two more games last week. In the Southeastern Conference opener on Friday in Saline, the Hornets pulled away in the fourth quarter to take a 70-62 victory.

Saline led 47-46 at the end of the third quarter and the lead changed hands several times until the middle of the fourth quarter. Chelsea led 60-59 but it was the last time they would be ahead.

"I thought, here's our chance," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"But they scored quickly, and scored again after a turnover to take a three-point lead. That hurt us. I felt that if we could get ahead by three or five points we'd win the game."

In several statistical categories, Chelsea played well enough to win most games. The Bulldogs had 14 turnovers compared to 34 for Saline, and shot 76 percent (19-25) from the free throw line.

However, the Hornets' inside game hurt Chelsea. They had 14 offensive rebounds and put the majority back in for baskets. In fact, only three of Saline's 28 baskets were from outside the key.

"We didn't box off the boards and we were watching the ball in the air," Raymond said.

"They were outlasting us inside although they were better inside than I thought they'd be."

Saline forward Keith Gladhill came off the bench to score 23 points and grab 14 rebounds.

With the exception of rebounding, Raymond said Chelsea's defensive game was "decent."

"The game was more suited to Saline's style," Raymond said.

"It was a slow game. We could never force the tempo to what we wanted to play."

Chelsea also didn't shoot particularly well from the field, making 21 of 63 shots.

Junior point guard Chad Starkey played but was noticeably slowed by his injured ankle. Jeff Marshall, the team's second leading rebounder, sat out the entire game with a twisted knee. Co-captain John Collins played a few minutes here and there but was still bothered by illness. Kerry Plank participated in warm-ups but his arm was still in a cast.

The only good news in the injury picture was the return of senior guard Larry Nix, who grabbed six rebounds and scored four points. However, by Saturday practice he was back in a back brace.

"If I've ever had a team that needs a vacation, this is it," Raymond said.

"It's hard to get the chemistry of the team going."

Brian Burg led Chelsea scorers Friday night with 22 points. He also led the team in rebounding with nine. Junior Morseau scored 11 points, Starkey had eight, Kyle Plank had seven, Jude Quilter scored six, and Collins and Phil Eassa each scored two.

The Bulldogs lost to Haslett at home on Tuesday, 84-68, in a game that was closer than the score indicates.

Chelsea led 55-54 at the end of the third period. And Haslett was up by only two points with three minutes left before Chelsea turnovers and fouls enabled Haslett to pull well ahead.

"I thought we really played a good game," Raymond said.

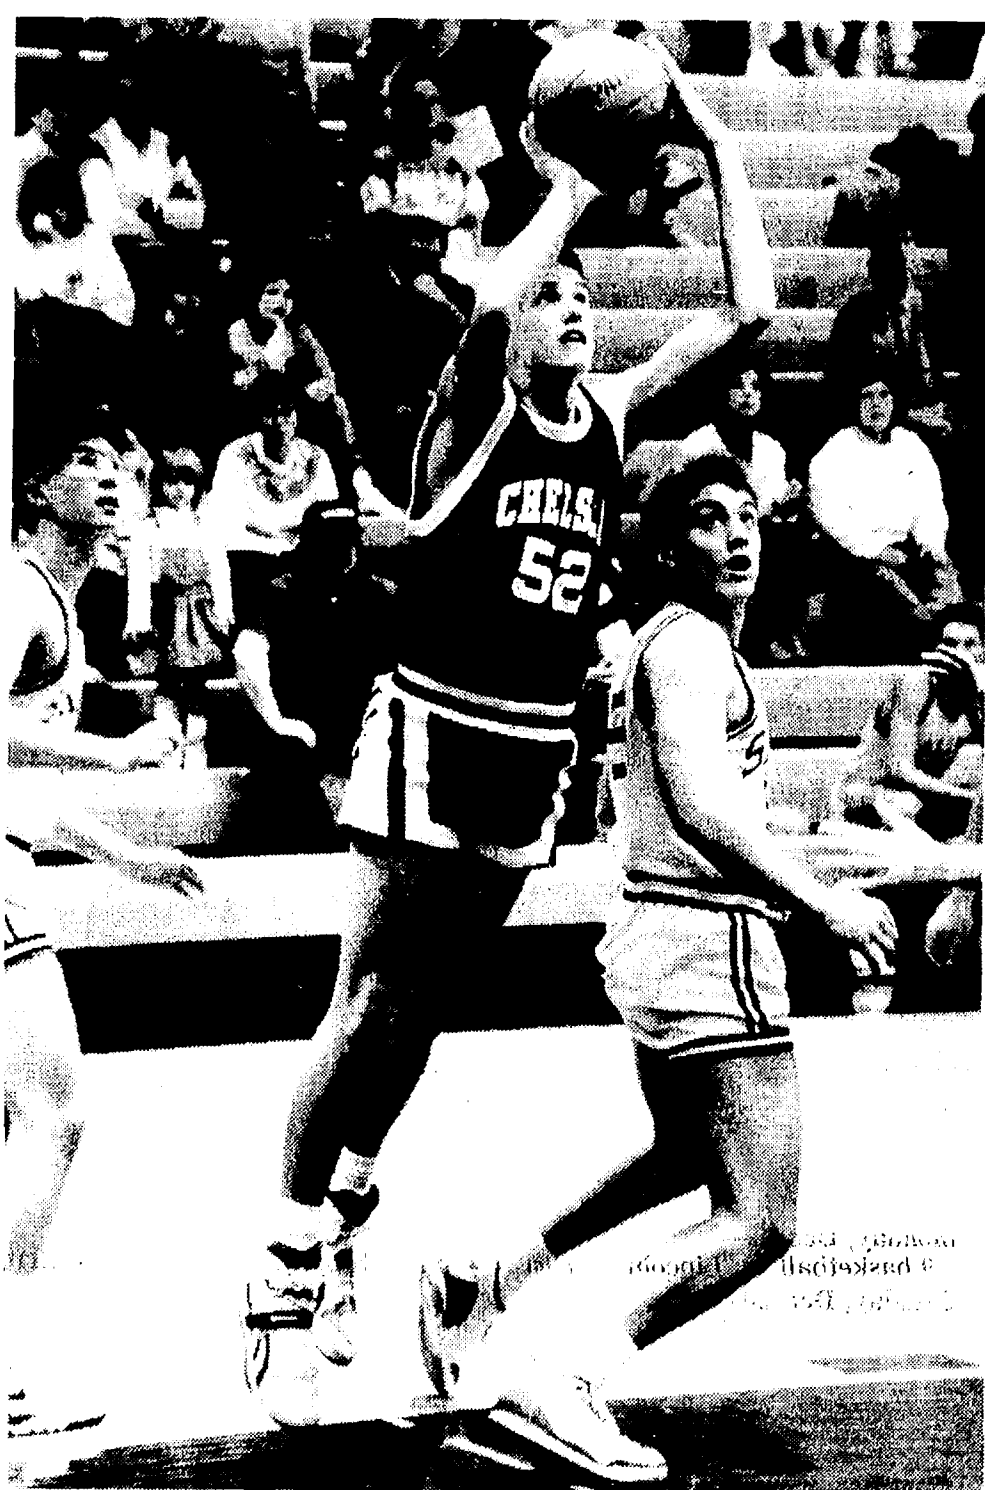

"For 3½ quarters we played an even game with a decent team."

Morseau led the Bulldogs with 21 points. Burg had 13 points and 13 rebounds, and Kyle Plank had 16 points. Other scorers included Marshall with eight, Sinisa Janicevic with five, Eassa with three, and Quilter with two.

Chelsea's final game before the holiday vacation is this Friday at home against Lincoln.

"We should be able to beat Lincoln," Raymond said.

BRIAN BURG led Chelsea in scoring with 22 points last Friday at Saline. He also led the team in rebounding. However, the Hornets took command late in the game for a 70-62 win. Here Burg takes a short jumper in first-half action.

Mistakes Haunt Dogs As JVs Lose a Pair

Turnovers proved costly for the Chelsea junior varsity basketball team last week as they played a major part in two losses.

On Tuesday, Dec. 6 the Bulldogs were mowed down by Haslett, 102-62, thanks in part to 41 turnovers. On Friday, Dec. 9 in Saline, Chelsea had 26 turnovers in a much closer game, 63-56.

In the Haslett contest at home, the Bulldogs had all kinds of trouble with the visitors' press, which caused numerous bad passes and muffs of good passes.

"We had lots of bad passes, we weren't catching the ball, and our shot selection was poor," said Chelsea coach Jeff Dils.

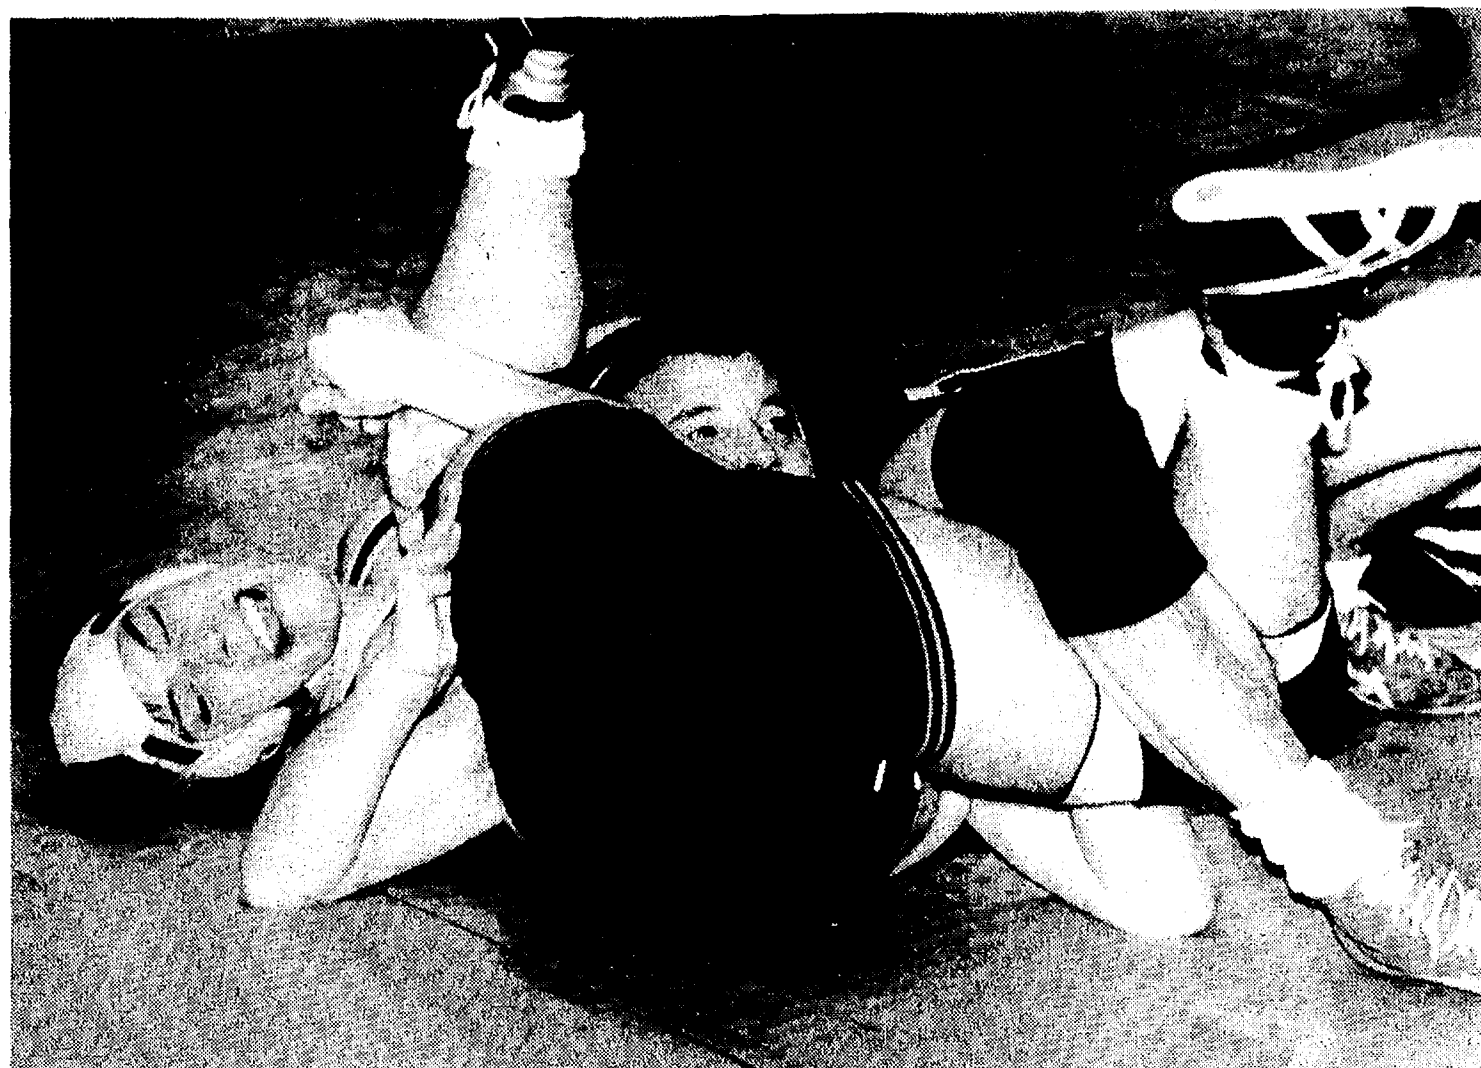

"They beat us in every phase of the game. The only positive thing is that everyone had a chance to play."

Haslett led the entire game. Chelsea was down 32-26 before the onslaught really started. Haslett had a 54-35 half-time lead and an 82-51 lead after three quarters.

"Defensively we've got to play with a lot more desire," Dils said.

Jon Royce scored 15 points and Tucker Steele had 14 to lead Chelsea. Rounding out the scoring were Jeremy Stephens with nine, Vince Dunn with five, Brian Bell, Chris White, Matt Steinaway, Garrett Kern, Keith Erickson, and Chris Haugen with two points each, and Erich Hammer and Alex Hammerschmidt with one point each.

MATCHING UP THE LEGS AND ARMS with the right upper edge on Tecumseh's Kevin Sherman. The senior co-captain went on to pin Sherman in :46 as the Bulldogs won the meet easily.

CHS Wrestlers Whip Tecumseh in Opener

Chelsea Bulldog wrestlers took a big step in their quest for a Southeastern Conference championship as they knocked off the Tecumseh Indians last Thursday in the first meet of the season, 48-17.

Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel had picked Tecumseh as one of the three strongest teams in the league.

"I was impressed by the kids' performance," Kargel said.

"We made a lot of mistakes, but Tecumseh is a good team. I didn't know what to expect this early in the season but our wrestlers showed me they have the mental toughness it takes to win. However, I do think the next time we wrestle Tecumseh it will be closer."

After starting with a loss at 103 pounds, where Eric Hanna dropped a 7-3 decision to Jeff Holderman, the Bulldogs won the next five straight matches.

"Starting off strong like that helps take the pressure off the guys at the upper weights," Kargel said.

"They don't have to worry so much and can just go out and wrestle."

Chelsea lost only four of 13 matches. Alan Hanna led off with Chelsea's first win at 112 pounds with a 12-1 decision over Gaylon Wilkins.

Pat Taylor followed with a 35 second pin of Paul Lorichon at 119 pounds.

Rex Nye, at 125 pounds, continued the string with an 8-6 decision over Phil Jiamas.

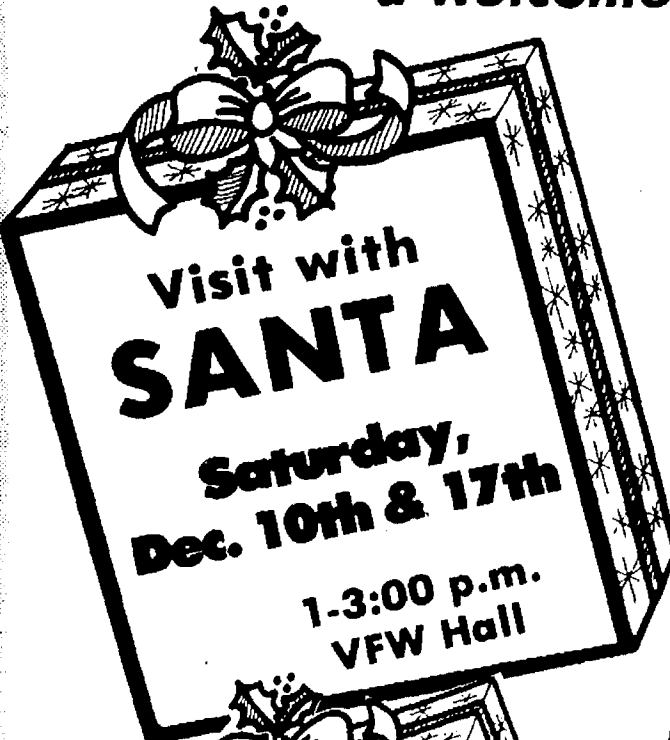

His brother, Reno, won an 18-2 decision over Kim Simpson at 130 pounds.

To finish off the streak, co-captain Craig McCalla pinned Kevin Sherman in :46.

Reno Nye and McCalla are interchangeable at their weights as each boy weighs 130 pounds. Kargel said (Continued on page 11)

"We had the time to get the baskets but we seemed to turn the ball over and Saline got the key rebounds down the stretch," Dils said.

Dils was again critical of the team's defensive play saying "we were standing around too much, we need to be more active."

Steele led the Dogs with 23 points and Royce scored 17. Haugen, Steinaway, Stephens, and Dunn each scored four.

After last week's play Chelsea was 1-3 on the season.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

The inevitable chorus of catcalls and squeals of "Junior" broke out in Saline last Friday night in what amounted to a heated effort to get on the back of Chelsea three-sport athlete Junior Morseau.

This has been going on for a while now, since at least the 1987 football season. During basketball season, though, it's so much more apparent due to the closed quarters of the average high school gym.

Friday night was a little uglier than most. Early in the game Morseau had a breakaway lay-up and was literally tackled under the basket by two Hornets who, from what I could tell, made no real attempt to go after the ball.

Then the Saline student section stood and applauded, the same way they'd cheer a good hit on the football field. Actually, it was more like the way a pro wrestling crowd would cheer when The Assassin smashes his opponent over the head with a folding chair.

Morseau jumped to his feet, and with one of those, the joke's-on-you smiles on his face, went to the foul line for his two shots.

Morseau's been dealing with this kind of stuff for quite a while. For all I know, he may enjoy it. Maybe it fires him up.

Some coaches say Morseau brings some of it on himself. He wears strange haircuts. He plays every game as though it'll be his last. He's always the most emotional (some say hot-headed) player on the court and he's not afraid to show it. And frankly, once a game starts, any game he's involved in, he looks as though he'd like to tear someone's head off. He does tend to get involved in his fair share of skirmishes. Kind of a shortened version of the Pistons' Bill Laimbeer.

Crowds even try to belittle his Native American heritage, which is stupid, racist behavior.

I'd be willing to bet he plays Monopoly with the same intensity, if he can sit still that long.

As many games as I've seen Morseau compete in, I can't say I've ever seen him involved in what I would call a premeditated dirty play, anything resembling what happened to him last Friday. He simply plays all-out, all the time, occasionally out of control. And when he fights, he's almost always reacting to something that happened to him, even though at times what happened may look pretty trivial to anyone watching the game.

Morseau also stands up for his teammates. He's completely loyal to his team and does what's necessary for his team to win.

Despite the flare-ups, I've never had a coach tell me they'd prefer that Morseau was involved in another sport. In fact, wrestling coach Kerry Kargel would love to have Morseau on his team.

"I see Junior as a tough competitor," Kargel said recently.

"I think he could be an outstanding wrestler. He absolutely hates to lose."

Personally, last Friday I thought we were in for a full-court brawl. If Morseau ever had a reason to be upset, that play was it. But there was no hint Morseau was ready to fight.

And coach Robin Raymond said he was proud of the way Morseau responded.

Is a little senior maturity setting in? Or was Morseau simply unaware of what had happened? I don't know.

But we can probably be sure of one thing. As long as Morseau keeps his competitiveness and intensity he's probably going to hear it from the crowds on the road.

And that will probably be forever.

Like every other Chelsea basketball fan, I'm anxiously awaiting the first victory. I know it's out there somewhere (perhaps last night).

The Bulldogs have had more bad luck than any high school team I've ever covered. Before the fourth game of the season had been played, Chad Storkey (ankle), Kerry Plank (arm), Larry Nix (back), and Jeff Marshall (knee) had all been injured, and John Collins was still battling back from illness. Five guys who could conceivably all be on the court at the same time. All the injuries, with the exception of Plank's broken arm, occurred during games.

The Bulldogs may well be lucky to be a .500 team this year considering what has happened. When all those guys are finally healthy, it's going to take a while for them to play like a team in game conditions. The Bulldogs aren't so deep that they can withstand two injuries, let alone five.

Last year's dismal season didn't help matters, either.

The Bulldogs desperately need a couple of wins, if for no other reason just to prove to themselves that they can do it. Going back to last season they had lost 12 straight times before last night.

Chelsea's best chance for a win before the break will be this Friday when Lincoln comes to town. A big home crowd would help a lot.

The wrestling team has gotten off to a great start by beating Tecumseh twice. The boys fully expect to have an outstanding season. Unless the basketball injury bug hits Kargel's team, they should be on their way to a fun year.

My thanks again to Bill Hanna for his excellent photographic help, which will help to make the season even more memorable.

Chelsea Tankers Have Rough Start As They Tie Ypsi, Lose to Okemos

Chelsea Bulldog swim team opened their season last Tuesday, Dec. 6 with an 86-86 tie with Ypsilanti.

In other action on Thursday, the tankers were beaten by Okemos, 90-82.

"Our team support was low and we just didn't get our hands on the wall first," Chelsea coach Dave Jolly said of the Ypsilanti meet.

"Our guys were the more talented squad, but we just did not participate totally as a team. Talent is not the only thing that wins swimming meets."

According to Jolly, several outstanding swims were performed by a number of Bulldogs in Tuesday's meet.

The medley relay team of Brett Paddock, David Oesterle, Von Acker and Wally Schmid swam a 1:49.13.

Garth Girard posted "excellent times," in both the 200 and 500-yard freestyle events with times of 1:57.34 and 5:21.95.

Schmid won the 50-yard freestyle in :23.61 and Oesterle won the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:09.92.

In the meet against Okemos, "the team really came back after Tuesday's disappointing tie," Jolly said.

"Our team pride and unity started to show itself."

Jolly said key performances were turned in by Girard and Joe Huettman in the 200-yard free style in 1:57.4 and 2:04.25, respectively. For Huettman it was a career-best time.

"Joe is a perfect example of what hard work can do," Jolly said.

"He is on his way to a great season."

Schmid and Acker finished 1-2 in the 50-yard freestyle in :23.49 and :23.59, respectively.

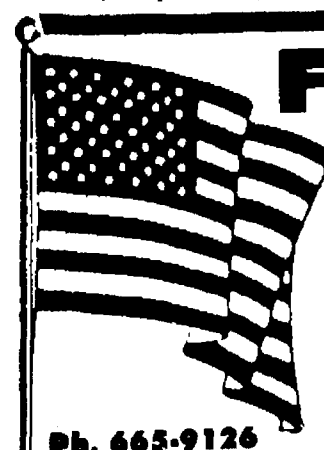

"Those are exceptional times this early in the season," Jolly said.

"If they train to their capability, there's no telling what they could do."

Other good swims, according to Jolly, were Brett Paddock's 1:03.41 in the 100-yard butterfly, Chris Birtles 1:08.01 in the 100-yard backstroke, and Brian Brock's 1:08.35 in the 100 backstroke.

"The two most impressive swims of the night were posted by Wally Schmid in the 100 freestyle and Garth Girard in the 500 freestyle," Jolly said. Their times were :52.02 and 5:16.84, respectively.

Scott Named MVP For Bulldog Cagers

Senior point guard Kelley Scott was named the Most Valuable Player on the Chelsea Bulldog girls basketball team.

Scott was selected in a vote of her teammates.

Junior center Allison Brown was named the Most Improved Player.

Most Productive Player went to senior forward Heather Neibauer.

Senior forward Jenni Smith won the Coach's Award from Rahn Rosentreter.

The honors were announced at Monday's banquet.

Scott scored 73 points and shot 66 percent from the free throw line.

"Her teammates, and other coaches, felt we could not have had the season we had without Kelley," Rosentreter said.

"She handled the pressure well and was the only player who could bring the ball down court consistently. She had the respect of her teammates and her quality leadership was a pleasant surprise. She worked hard all summer and was a very consistent performer. You look for a point guard who's an extension of the coach, and Kelley knew what to do on the court."

Brown, a second-team All-Southeastern Conference selection, led the team in offensive rebounds (75), rebounds (174), and blocked shots (47). She had a 47 percent field goal average, and shot 67 percent from the line. She finished with 284 points for an 11.8 average.

"She has improved 100 percent since her sophomore year," Rosentreter said.

Neibauer had 162 rebounds, including 104 defensive rebounds. She led the team in steals (84), assists (92), and points scored (303). She shot 33 percent from the field and 59 percent from the line.

"Heather could have accomplished more individual goals but she sacrificed for the team," Rosentreter said.

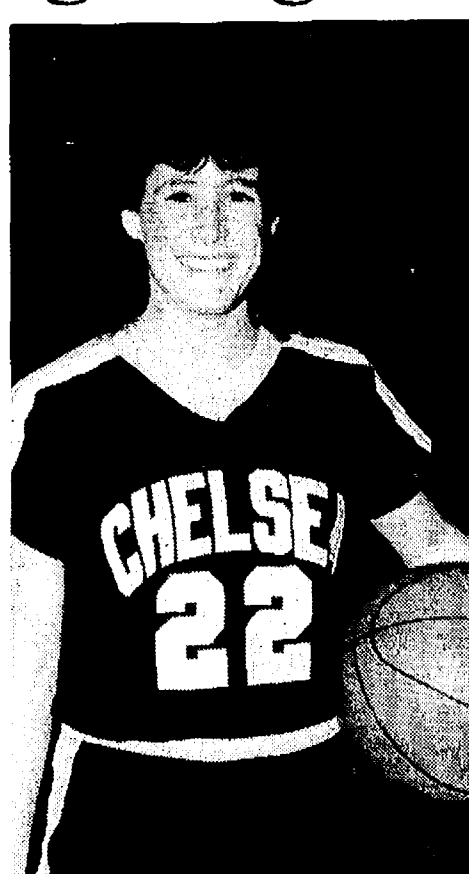

"An indication of that is that last year she had 40 assists and this year she had 92."

Smith was given her award for her leadership ability.

"A lot of people wondered if she would even go out this season," Rosentreter said.

"When she walked on the floor at the start of the season it was obvious she had made up her mind to play basketball. And she carried us at the beginning of the season."

Smith had 161 rebounds, scored 292 points, shot 48 percent from the field, and led the team at the line with a 73 percent average (88-121). In the district and regional play-off she was 20-25 from the line.

KELLEY SCOTT

"She knows how to concentrate," Rosentreter said.

The Bulldogs averaged 47.5 points while holding their opponents to 35 points.

"By the time the girls are juniors they have solid fundamentals," Rosentreter said.

"And that goes back to junior varsity coach Paul Terpstra and Jon and Ann Schaffner at Beach Middle School."

KYLE PLANK goes up for a shot in heavy Saline traffic during last Friday night's Southeastern Conference opener. Plank scored seven points but the Bulldogs lost the game, 70-62.

Freshman Cagers Whip Milan But Lose to County Western

Chelsea freshman basketball team was 1-1 after the first week of action as they beat Milan 57-30 but lost to Jackson County Western 57-49.

On Tuesday, Dec. 5 at JCW the Bulldogs were plagued by too many turnovers and Western hit a lot of easy shots, according to Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

The Bulldogs had 25 turnovers compared to 13 for Western.

"Positive signs for the first game were our rebounding and the fact that nine players scored," Quilter said.

Chelsea out-rebounded Western 46-43.

Adam Tillman was the leading Chelsea scorer with 14 points. Rounding out the scoring were Jake Rindle with eight, Mike Wolpoff with seven, Dan Stahl with six, Ben Hurst with five, Rob Coelius with three, and Jason Allen, Jason Gayeski and Chris White with two each.

Rindle had 13 rebounds to lead the team.

Chelsea shot 39 percent from the floor and 52 percent from the free throw line.

On Thursday, Dec. 8 at Beach Middle school, the Bulldogs used good team defense and 55 percent field goal shooting to knock off Milan.

"We were better in every phase of the game," Quilter said.

"We were able to play a lot of people for a lot of time because everybody that came in played hard. It was a good way to start the conference season."

Three Bulldogs scored in double figures as Rindle scored 19 points, Hurst had 17 and Stahl had 11.

Other scorers included Wolpoff, John Weinberg, Tillman, and Allen with two points each, and Coelius and White with one point each.

7th Grade Cagers Still Unbeaten

Beach Middle school seventh grade cagers ran their record to 4-0 last week with victories over Dexter and Pinckney.

In Tuesday's game at Dexter, the Bulpups had little problem as they won 41-14.

"We again got out to an early lead and were able to pull away throughout the game," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

Tallman said Colby Skelton and Pat Steele had key performances on offense while Cory Brown and Gabe Bernhard performed well on defense.

"Aggressive man-to-man defense and the ability to drive to the basket on offense are enabling us to control games," Tallman said.

Skelton led the team with 10 points. Steele scored nine, Paul Taylor had five, Bernhard scored four, Dave Seitz had three, and Brown, Nate Mackinder, Chris Gibson, and Matt Powell each scored two.

On Thursday, the Pups had to hold off a comeback by host Pinckney to take a 35-32 win.

Chelsea built a 32-23 lead after three quarters by out-scoring Pinckney in the third period, 16-6.

However, clutch free throw shooting late in the game gave Chelsea the win.

"Pinckney gave us our greatest challenge of the season so far," Tallman said.

"A great effort in the third quarter allowed us to build a lead Pinckney couldn't overcome."

Steele led the Pups with 13 points, Skelton had eight, Bernhard scored five, Powell and Gibson had four each, and Brown scored one.

BROWNIE TROOP 242—
Our first meeting was held Sept. 20. We have six new girls this year. We made brownies at one of our meetings, to serve at our investiture and rededication ceremony. We learned a new song this year. It was "Girl Scouts Together."

We now have patrols. Their names are Ponies, Sweetarts, Stinkbombs, and the Koalas.

We had a Halloween party and we made treat bags, decorated our faces, and danced and ate treats.

BROWNIE TROOP 242—
Our new patrols are, the Kittens, the Unicorns, the Sweetarts, and the Monsters. We are working on the world of people badge. For this badge we have played many games of different countries. Some of these games are: Mr. Bear from Sweden, Jan-Kenpon, from Japan; Rabbit without a house from Brazil. We have also sung many songs. Mrs. Burkel came and told about her stay in Japan as a child. She brought clothes, dolls and puppets. Mrs. Lefurge talked about Korea. She brought in two dolls, shoes, and a book all about Korea. We have learned how to say hello, good-bye, yes, no, thank-you, and please in different languages.

We also worked on our Christmas projects. We have had a lot of fun and learned a lot, doing our badge.

FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS last Friday evening featured lots of caroling and one of the convenient stops was the steps of the Chelsea post office. Carolers walked from the Christmas tree at the corner of M-52 and Old US-12 all the way to town along a corridor of luminaries. Organizers plan to repeat the festival again next year.

CAROLERS who participated in Friday's Festival of Lights enjoyed refreshments afterward at the Chelsea depot. The warm drinks were appreciated by those who braved the frigid weather.

TREE OF LIGHTS at M-52 and Old US-12 was the starting point of carolers during last Friday evening's Festival of Lights. A good crowd of carolers walked all the way to town, singing their favorite holiday songs.

Money Stolen from Purse in Cart

A Gregory woman told Chelsea police that someone took $280 from her purse while it was sitting in a shopping cart at Polly's Market on Monday, Dec. 5.

The woman told police she had left the store before she discovered she did not have her purse with her. When she returned to the store, she found the purse still in the cart. However, the money had been taken.

FACTS ABOUT BAD BREATH

Q: I have chronic bad breath and nothing I do seems to help. What causes bad breath anyway?

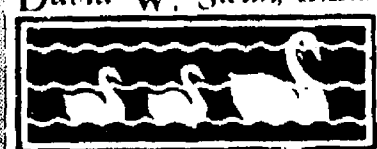

A: The same bacteria that cause decay and gum disease also cause bad breath. As most of us know, one of the best ways to avoid bad breath is to brush and floss regularly and thoroughly. Still, just about everybody suffers an occasional period of bad breath. Sometimes it's just a temporary condition—caused by smoking or eating strong smelling foods like onions or garlic. (Some food odors even get into your bloodstream and persist for a day or two after you've consumed the food.)

Each of us has a slightly different make-up of bacterial colonies in our mouth and these can produce varying degrees of "halitosis" or bad breath. Certain dental appliances and extensive crown and bridge work can increase plaque retention and bad breath. Another common problem is "morning mouth"—the stale odor and sour taste that build up overnight because of decreased salivation while we're asleep. Head colds and sinus infections can also cause stale-smelling breath, as can certain medications and periodontal disease. And, for those of us who diet often, "hunger" breath can be caused by stomach acids that affect the breath when no food is consumed for a longer than normal time period.

Most of these problems can be solved by good oral hygiene but chronic bad breath could be a sign of a systemic disorder such as diabetes. Certain toothpastes and mouth rinses are better than others at reducing plaque (bacteria) levels and your dentist may recommend one of these.

Flashing Red Lights on School Bus Mean 'STOP'

Chelsea Bus Drivers are experiencing an alarming increase in the number of vehicles that run our alternating red flashing lights while picking up and discharging children from the school bus.

It is impossible to describe the fear and frustration a school bus driver feels when a child's life is put in jeopardy by a motorist passing a stopped school bus with the alternating red flashing lights activated. Blowing the horn and flashing the head lights has very little, if any, effect on these motorists.

We have a uniform hand signal in the Chelsea School District that tells your child when it is safe and when it is not safe to cross the road. The children have been taught this hand signal, but there is always the chance that a child might forget, as children sometimes do.

We often wonder how some of these drivers would feel if this were their child's life being put into such unnecessary jeopardy.

These drivers can be ticketed and many are, but it is extremely difficult for the bus driver to get the necessary information when their greatest concern is the safety of the child or children who are preparing to cross the road.

Another problem is what we call the "creeper." They stop and then as the child is crossing the road they proceed slowly forward. To these motorists we ask, "What happens if for some unknown reason your foot slips or the vehicle malfunctions and lurches forward?" How do you explain this to the family of the child you have just struck down?

Every motorist who runs our activated alternating flashing red lights thinks he/she has a good excuse, but excuses will not save a child's life. We are asking you, the parents and public to help us let these drivers know we will not tolerate this serious threat to our children before an accident does occur.

If you see a vehicle violate the law by going past a stopped school bus with the alternating red flashing lights activated, you can help us in the following ways. 1. Identify the driver. 2. Obtain the vehicle license number. 3. Get a description of the vehicle. 4. Note the time and place of the incident. Call this information to the Chelsea School District Transportation Department at 475-7647, or bring the information to the Bus Garage on East Old US-12. Be willing to support the driver with this information if necessary.

The law concerning stopped school buses reads as follows: "The driver of a vehicle overtaking or meeting a school bus that has stopped and is displaying two alternating flashing red lights shall bring the vehicle to a full stop not less than 10 feet from the school bus and shall not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or the visual signs are no longer activated." Together we can let these drivers know we will not tolerate this disregard for the law and more importantly, their risking the lives of your children.

The Chelsea School District Bus Drivers

To the Editor,

Here's an idea for families in the Chelsea area who are looking for a project they can do together to share the joy of Christmas with someone less fortunate.

In 1984, my wife Diane and I started an organization called Friends of the Americas to reach out to children in Latin America and the Caribbean suffering from war, natural disasters or extreme poverty. Since then, we have founded a hospital, refugee center, five medical clinics and 25 self-help projects in 21 countries of this hemisphere. We help homeless children—refugees, disaster victims, street children, orphans and children living in the marginal areas of the big cities of Latin America.

Our most popular project is the Christmas Box Project which allows an American family to put together an individualized gift box for a needy child of a particular sex and age. Families send the boxes to us, and we process and ship them to our chairman in each country—usually the American ambassador or his wife. Each box must be personally handed to the needy child by the ambassador or another American citizen.

Friends' Christmas Box Action Kit provides instructions on how to prepare a box. Each box contains 30 new items, including clothing, school supplies, toys and a small American flag. Most important, it includes a letter and a photo from the family who prepared the box.

In the highlands of Guatemala, the slums of Mexico City, the San Blas Islands of Panama, La Mosquitia of Honduras and a thousand other places, Christmas boxes provide a chance for Americans to go where the need is greatest and share with children the joy of Christmas and the generosity of the American people.

Here in the states, preparation of the Christmas Box is a chance for families to express our love for the children of Latin America and spend family time together giving of ourselves.

Since 1984, Friends has delivered more than 200,000 Christmas Boxes to needy children, including many prepared by families in the Chelsea area. This year thousands of children in Latin America are hoping and praying that we will remember them. These are children who have never had a single toy or new piece of clothing. We invite you to prepare a Christmas Box this year.

To receive Christmas Box Action Kit, call (504) 926-5720 or write Friends, 912 N. Foster, Baton Rouge, La. 70806. Please mention The Chelsea Standard.

Rep. Louis (Woody) Jenkins Chairman.

Despite current labor shortages, the unemployment rate for blacks is more than twice as high as the rate for whites, according to "Opportunity 2000," a new publication by the U. S. Labor Department. Additionally, the number of minorities employed or looking for work has been steadily declining. Consequently, while 81.6 percent of all young black males were employed in 1965, that figure by 1984 had dropped to 58 percent.

Deer Harvest Sets Record Of 289,000

The 1988 firearm deer hunting season set a new harvest record of 289,000 deer, exceeding last year's take of 257,360. Poor weather during much of the season held the harvest below the expected take of 321,000 deer.

Tests conducted by the Michigan Department of Public Health at the highway deer biological stations showed no "Ixodes ticks" (lyme disease carrying ticks) were found on the 4,157 deer examined.

"This confirms our belief that there is little, if any, danger of contracting lyme disease during deer hunting season," said Dr. Stephen M. Schmitt, Department of Natural Resources

(DNR Wildlife Veterinarian).

Over-all, there were more firearm hunters this year, and hunter attitude was excellent despite the bad weather.

Deer were in excellent shape and will be entering the winter in a healthy condition, in spite of this year's severe drought.

"We are very pleased with the hunters' success," said Director David F. Hales, of the DNR. "The deer hunting season is far from over, and we are certain the economic benefit to local communities and to the State of Michigan will be significant."

Archery deer hunting season began again Dec. 1 and will end Jan. 1, and the muzzleloading season is Dec. 2 through 11 in the Upper Peninsula and from Dec. 9 through 18 in the Lower Peninsula. About 50,000 archers and 100,000 muzzleloaders are expected to participate in the December seasons.

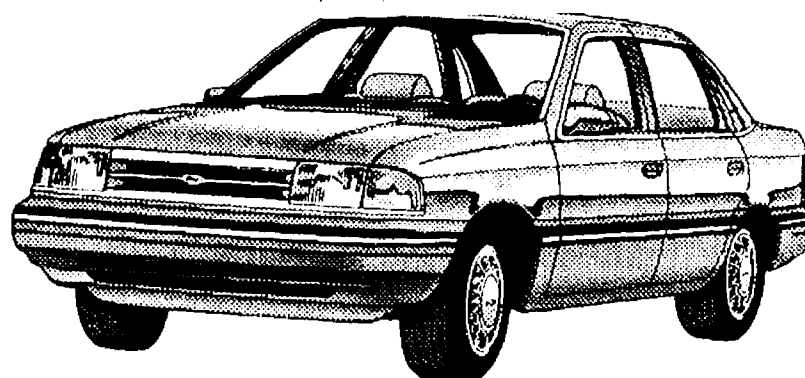

Hunting pressure was lighter during firearm season on public lands than last year, and about the same on private lands. Antler development was very good—many 1½-year-olds had six- and eight-point racks.

Thirty-six injuries, compared to 33 in 1987, occurred during the firearm deer hunting season; three additional accidents resulted in fatalities, down substantially from 6 in 1987.

Nancy Heller Earns Promotion At Comerica

Former Chelsea resident Nancy K. Heller has been appointed trust development officer for the Trust Division of Comerica Bank-Detroit.

Heller joined the company in 1985 as a loan analyst in the Corporate Banking Division.

Heller received her bachelor's degree in 1985 from Central Michigan University and her master's degree in business administration from the University of Detroit this year.

More than half of all new jobs created over the next 20 years will require some education beyond high school, and almost a third will be filled by college graduates, according to the U. S. Labor Department.
