Village Asks Townships For $100,000 Toward Major Landfill Expenses

Dexter, Sylvan, Lima, and Lyndon townships have been asked to pay a combined $100,000 by March of 1990 toward the closure of the old village landfill and related engineering costs.

In addition, the village would pay $152,976.

The figures were discussed at a meeting of township supervisors and village officials last Thursday evening.

According to a report by village consultant Lee Fahrner, the total cost of closing the old landfill along with studies related to determining the extent of pollution at the landfill is estimated to be $252,976. Engineering costs are $180,156. No estimate was available for any clean-up that might be needed.

In addition, the village did not propose how the costs might be split up among the townships. However, one suggestion focused on basing the charges on how much each township used the landfill over the years, in the same manner as the Chelsea Fire Department charges for its equipment fund. Those records have been kept by the village.

"We will probably have another meeting within a month," said village president Jerry Satterthwaite.

"Everyone is working on their budgets now and they need to know the numbers."

Satterthwaite said it might take two or three years for the townships to pay their share because their budgets are relatively small. For instance, according to Sylvan township supervisor Don Schoenberg, his township's entire revenues for 1988-89 amounted to $190,000. It's likely Sylvan township's share of the expenses could amount to 25 percent of its annual budget. In the case of Dexter township, which has probably been the biggest user of the landfill outside the village, the percentage of the annual budget is even higher.

"It depends on their budgets as to how it would be paid," Satterthwaite said.

"We don't want to force them into bankruptcy."

The townships and the village have each talked to their liability insurance companies. And each has been told its company will not pay.

"When we get specific amounts we'll all go to them again," Schoenberg said.

"We want them to clarify their position. Most of us were covered by the same company."

Schoenberg said the townships have little to gain if they don't co-operate because legal fees and court costs could also be high. In addition, the law says the townships are liable, he said.

"All the townships did sign a contract that we would use the dump," Schoenberg said.

"I think we're all aware that we're liable and that we want to pitch in and help. Sylvan township has no problem with helping as long as it's fair."

Industries within the village who used the landfill would be covered under the village's share of the costs. Whether the village will approach individual businesses for help is not known.

In addition, independent garbage haulers who brought in garbage from outside the village and townships may also be approached. Michigan Department of Natural Resources, which forced the clean-up issue, has also used the facility.

According to Fahrner's report, the landfill closure and engineering costs, may be small in comparison to [clean-up] costs, depending on the extent of groundwater contamination. Thus, a solid plan of action must be formulated to deal with the problem."

Fahrner said the village could elect to close the landfill, but would be faced with an additional cost of $40,000 per year to haul the garbage to some other site. He also said the DNR would probably force the completion of the engineering studies and old landfill closure through court action.

Fahrner also suggested that landfill tipping fees could be raised from $6 to $9 or $10 per yard to generate an additional $300,000 to $500,000 over the next two years. He said other landfills in the area are having the same problems and will probably be forced to raise their rates as well.

Fahrner suggested that there may be grants available to help defray costs.

Papo Changes Mind, Asks Village To Annex 10 Acres

Developer Rene Papo has asked the village to annex 10 acres of Sylvan township land adjacent to Pierce Park, where he would build a 40,000-square-foot office complex, aimed largely at the medical community.

Papo, developer of Chelsea Shopping Center, recently withdrew a petition to have 54 acres next to Pierce Park annexed. The 10-acre parcel is the western portion of the 54-acre parcel.

Papo told council last Tuesday night that he would eventually like to have the entire 54 acres annexed but that there are too many questions about the capacity of the new wastewater treatment plant to justify the expense of installing a major $200,000 sewer line to service the area. He has talked about building an apartment complex to the east of the offices.

"If the sewer plant can't handle it, we've got all that money in the ground," Papo told council.

Instead, Papo said, the office building sewer, which would send 4,000 gallons per day to the wastewater plant, would tie into a lift station owned by Chelsea Community Hospital just to the north of the property. He said the hospital has given its tentative approval. He said he has been told by village consultant Lee Fahrner that the plant could handle the office complex.

Papo also wants to take the unusual step of having the village consider site plans for the project before the land has been annexed as he is concerned about how long the process will take. In addition, the land is zoned for agricultural use. Once it is annexed, the village will have to change the zoning, another time consuming process.

"We're in kind of a time strain," Papo told council.

"We have several doctors who are interested and they're pushing me."

Papo mentioned Dr. Mary Westhoff, a pediatrician who has her practice at Beach Middle school, and

Stalker Office Question Settled

Robert Stalker of Tecumseh is scheduled to become Chelsea's new village manager this Monday, March 6.

Stalker will apparently put his office at the back of the main hall, where former assistant village manager Lee Fahrner had his office. It is the only office with windows.

Administrative assistant Barbara Fredette is working on the arrangements.

Dr. Steven Yarows, who has his practice in the Village Professional Center, as two possible tenants.

"The bottom line is, if this is going to take me six months, I rather do it in the township," Papo said.

Papo said he would have site plans ready for the March village planning commission meeting. He said he'd like to have the plans approved contingent on Fahrner giving his engineering approvals and finding an "affordable" way to tie into the sewer system.

Council will consider the annexation request at its March 7 meeting.

"I think [council] would rather have the land annexed than have it stay in the township," Satterthwaite said.

"But agreements will have to be drawn up."

First Draft of Village Budget Shows $55,500 Shortfall

A tentative draft of the 1989-90 village budget by village manager Fritz Weber shows a $55,500 shortfall in the general fund budget.

The tentative budget shows revenues of $1.4 million and expenditures of $1,455,500.

"It's something we're going to have to deal with," said village president Jerry Satterthwaite.

Council was scheduled to have a work session last night to consider the budget and hammer out a final version.

"Until we know what our state equalized value is, it's all a little guesswork. We've had Ames go in as well as some of Bridgetown Condominiums."

The $1.4 million in revenues is a rise of $64,700 over 1988-89. However, expenditures are expected to rise $120,200.

Anticipated revenues include $687,000 from property taxes, a rise of $33,000. State shared taxes are expected to rise from $287,000 to $323,000.

Other major sources of revenue include $93,000 from garbage collection, and $111,500 from fire protection contracts.

Anticipated amounts for major expenditures include $311,500 for police protection (up $26,100), $259,400 for public works (up $6,900), $192,000 for fire protection (up $23,100), $187,800 for other activities (down $3,200), $167,600 for insurance, bonds, and fringe benefits (up $29,100), and $100,200 for general services (up $20,700).

Tentative budget revenues and expenses for other funds include electric fund, $2,081,900; water fund, $260,000; sewer plant, $323,100; landfill fund, $378,100; vehicle and equipment fund, $225,000; parking meter fund, $49,700; major street and trunkline fund, $214,100; local street fund, $54,000; fire equipment fund, $90,200; debt service fund, $49,900; wastewater debt retirement fund, $410,000; capital improvement fund, $293,000; industrial park fund, $10,000; Downtown Development Authority fund, $93,700; Economic Development Corporation fund, $3,900.

Methodist Home Plans To Use EDC Bonds To Finance Project

Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home plans to use $12 million in bonds endorsed by the Chelsea Economic Development Corporation to complete its building projects.

It will be the first major project in several years to be completed by EDC limited obligation revenue bonds. Chelsea Community Hospital and BookCrafters, Inc. are among other organizations to use EDC financing.

By passing a resolution that the project is in the public interest, the Economic Development Corporation and village council will enable the United Methodist Retirement Homes to sell tax-exempt bonds to finance the project. Those bonds could sell for 2-3 percent below taxable bonds. Changes in the tax law in 1986 allowed only charitable organizations and manufacturing facilities to take advantage of tax-exempt bonds.

"It will make a significant difference to our residents over the next 20 years," said James Batten, president of United Methodist Retirement Homes.

"The cost of the organization will be lower, which will make the rates lower."

Before the bonds can be issued, a public hearing has to be held, scheduled for Tuesday, March 21.

The bonds will be used to refinance $6.1 million in construction already completed, and $5.9 million that will begin in July.

"This is a multi-phase, multi-year project and we initially decided to take out short-term borrowing until the end and wrap is all up in one package," Batten said.

The village has no financial obligation toward debt service on the bonds. Remodeling work has been completed to date. Work scheduled for July includes the demolition and replacement of the front three buildings. Those buildings will include independent apartments and common activity space for all residents. Batten said architects are trying to maintain the integrity of the historical architecture in the new building. He said some of the brick from the current building will be salvaged for the new project.

Eight new jobs are expected to be created by the project.

It was almost certain that the buck deer killed west of Dexter by Mark Ritchie set a state record for antler growth. The 11-point rack with huge beams, long tines and a spectacular circumference had been scored at 185 6/8, more than four points better than the previous Michigan record head of 181 4/8 for "typical" antlers.

Many Chelsea residents may have been a little bit confused on Feb. 25, for a strange event occurred in Chelsea. The village tower clock went berserk. It stopped ticking at noon and was sounding a preposterous 12 gongs even though it was 1:30 p.m.

Chelsea basketball player David Steinhauer was chosen to be on the all-county basketball team selected by the coaches of the 13 schools. Steinhauer at 5-10 was one of the smaller forwards around, but made up for this with his great skill and competitive fire.

South Carolina Gives Notice to Midwest States To End Waste Access
South Carolina officials, agreeing to continue taking low level radioactive wastes from Michigan on an interim basis, have given notice to bar wastes from all seven states in the midwest compact if procedures to establish a new site are not resumed.

Washington, the other state handling wastes from Michigan, also agreed to resume shipments pending further discussion by the various governors at the next National Governors' Association meeting of issues raised by Governor James J. Blanchard when he ordered site work halted on Jan. 31.

The governing board of the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control found Michigan not in compliance with the federal waste law, set a March 1 deadline to bar wastes from Michigan and an April 1 deadline to bar wastes from the other six states in the midwest compact.

The interim agreement to continue shipments does not resolve the basic dispute on national radioactive waste laws, which Blanchard demanded be changed to reduce the number of sites and put more emphasis on criteria that would make it unlikely Michigan would host one of the sites.

State officials have received a letter from Washington terminating the action which had rescinded the waste disposal agreement there.

James Cleary, a commissioner of the Low Level Radioactive Waste Authority, said the notice to the other compact states is a "positive" move because it puts additional pressure on them to respond to Blanchard's concerns.

He said the deadlines set by South Carolina "gives us a chance to sit down and talk about the whole thing."

At least two governors from other states had previously indicated a willingness to work with Blanchard, but want to be involved on exactly what changes are sought at the federal level.

The other midwest compact states are Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Cleary acknowledged the "odds are against" revising the federal law at this stage, but added, "The only way to find out is to give it a try. We are looking for ways to see if we can reach our goal of a reduced number of sites."

While the governor has not expressly declared Michigan should be off limits for one of those sites, Cleary said if the criteria is based on geographic location and less risk, the state would not be selected.

South Carolina Governor Carroll Campbell views the upcoming meeting at the NGA as a chance to get more information on Michigan's intent, but he is "not interested in supporting any course of action that would undermine the compact agreements," said his press secretary, Tucker Askew.

He said the governor is concerned about Michigan's course of action.

The board said Michigan could continue sending wastes to South Carolina if it reinstated the siting process and the other states could continue shipping their wastes if Michigan is out of compliance with federal law and they do not provide an acceptable alternative, identify a host state with authority to develop a site, make significant progress towards development of a siting process, or join another compact.

The board found the midwest compact is not complying with federal law because it does not have a host state that meets requirements for developing a site.

Warren Hardy, spokesman for the board, said the time delay and the conditions were an effort to "come up with a satisfactory resolution without an immediate ban."

Michigan officials maintain they have not yet violated any requirements of the act, and would not be in violation until this summer.

Cleary said the delay until the shutoff gives an opportunity for the governors to discuss the situation and

Chelsea Man Arrested in Trash Incident

An 18-year-old Chelsea man was fined for leaving a trailer full of paint cans on the ice at an area lake.

According to local conservation officer Craig Wales, Scott Salamin pleaded guilty to the charge on Tuesday, Feb. 14. He was fined $50, incurred a $40 dump charge, and had to pay a $160 towing bill.

Salamin was arrested after an account in The Standard tipped off a neighbor.

for those who generate wastes in Michigan to find alternatives for disposal if an agreement is not reached.

If the governors are unable to reach some understanding at the end of the month, he said one of Michigan's options is a lawsuit to maintain access to the dump sites.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb took note at the country store Saturday night that we still got honesty in advertising in spite of diet pills and health insurance come ons. Zeke said he laid around the house most of last week with a cold, and he come to realize cold remedy ads don't lie. Not a one he read promised anything but to ease symptoms. You can't beat that pitch, Zeke told the fellers, because if you take the stuff and you don't feel better you tell yourself how much worst you would feel if you hadn't took it.

The truth is, Zeke said, the world runs on hope. Everybody knows if you treat a cold it'll go away in seven days, and if you leave it alone it'll last a week. But everybody wants to feel better while they're waiting, so they keep buying help in hopes that doing somepun is better than nothing. It don't matter that by the time they wait in the doctor's office they catch everthing everybody else in the waiting room has got, Zeke said, the idee is, they make the effort to git better.

Zeke said he thought last week of that fake report of the 35-day survivor in Armenia. All the poor sick feller was hoping was that his lie would git him in a better hospital, and the rest of the world was hoping his story was true because it would give hope to so many more. This is some of the best of human nature, Zeke declared. It is why we want our myths about Daniel Boone and George Washington. We wanted the Shroud of Turin to be more than it was proved to be, and we don't want to believe our Pilgrims were worst religious persecutors than any they run from.

Clem Webster said Zeke had been doing some mighty heavy thinking fer a sick man, and he ask if Zeke had tried to ease his cold symptoms at a mind spa. Clem had saw where a chain of them was opening around the country, mostly clost to big universities. The idee, Clem said, is what they say about muscles, if you don't use em you lose em. These mind spas use sights, sounds and smells to stimulate thinking, Clem said, and they have somepun called a Psycho Soma Integrator, that works in total darkness to relax the brain and make better wave patterns.

Practical speaking, Bug Hookum declared, the market fer mind spas must be limited, but who's to say somebody under one of them brain wave machines won't come up with a cure fer the common cold. Fer sure, Bug said, we can use more thinking so there ought to be ways to encourage it.

Furthermore, Bug went on, who's to say life behind bars wouldn't be better if someone had listened to Adrian Lomax. He's the feller that tried to make a federal case out of television in Wisconsin prisons. He wanted all the TVs gone on grounds that convicts were so hooked on em they couldn't do anything that might turn em into useful people when they got out.

At last report, Bug said, Mr. Lomax was the only person connected in any way with the Wisconsin prison system willing to give up TV. The inmates couldn't tear themselves away from the soap oppys long enough to give the matter any thought, and the guards stood foursquare fer anything that kept the convicts calm and kept their minds off meanness.

Maybe, Bug said, Mr. Lomax would settle for some Mind Spa therapy. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Signs of Spring Looked for in Walk At Botanical Gardens

The official start of Spring may be only a few weeks away; still that is hard to believe as the cold weather persists. Docents at the U. of M. Matthaei Botanical Gardens invite all interested persons to join them on Sunday, March 5 and 2 p.m. for a free trail walk to discover some of the "Secret Signs of Spring!"

Search for the earliest of the wildflowers; observe new growth and swelling buds on some of the herbs, trees, and shrubs; watch sap dripping from broken branches; enjoy a refreshing walk and leave knowing, without a doubt, that spring is coming.

Plan to be outdoors for 1 1/2 hours; dress warmly and wear waterproof boots. Meet in the lobby of the Gardens' Conservatory.

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens is located at 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., approximately 1/2 mile from the Plymouth Rd. intersection, on the east side of the road.

URBANER-RODERICK: Barbara Urbaner, of Chelsea and Richard Urbaner of Canton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Debra Ann, to Alan Lee Roderick, son of Gary and Barbara Roderick of Chelsea. The future bridegroom is a 1984 graduate of Chelsea High school and a 1985 graduate of MoTech and is employed as a mechanic at Broderick Tower Shell. Debbi and Alan are planning a Nov. 25 wedding.

Satterthwaite Wants Recycling To Grow

The village is talking about radically changing the way it deals with its trash.

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite said he'd like to see the village head in a different direction this November when the current garbage hauling contract with BFI expires.

"My feeling is that we should raise the cost of garbage service high enough that it forces people to recycle," Satterthwaite said.

"We should have some sort of limit, then really sock people if they don't want to recycle."

Satterthwaite suggested that the village might buy equipment that automatically sorts recyclable garbage and put it at the landfill.

"I think it's mandatory that we go into recycling heavily," Satterthwaite said.

"I don't see many other choices. It would be wonderful just to break even on recycling."

Satterthwaite has also proposed that the village get into the trash hauling business, at least as far as hauling the village's trash away, preferably to the village landfill.

"We have to work on some alternatives."

Village council recently voted to get out of Washtenaw county's solid waste tipping fee program. The village, after contributing more than $14,000, felt it was getting little in return.

"At this point we'll probably stay out," Satterthwaite said.

"I think the state will be getting into the program."

With the beginning of milder weather, oil companies began sinking test wells in the Chelsea area. One of them was operating on the LaVerne Coy farm on Parker Rd. The only producing well in the area was on the Henry Niehaus farm on Fletcher Rd.

George Hafner, who had been an employee of Federal Screw Works for 38 years, was retired, under the company's pension plan.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
Recently at 6 a.m. on M-52 while driving my car, I was involved in an accident. I was in the ditch and my car was not driveable.

A man came along shortly after my accident and offered to help. He dropped me off at the Chelsea Police Station, thinking I could call for help from there.

I went inside and asked the person at the desk if there was a phone I could use. She said they didn't have a phone for public use but she "thought" there was a phone across the street. If not there, then up the road two blocks at the Hop-In store there would be one.

There is no phone across from the police station, so I walked up the very slippery sidewalk to the Hop-In store. Their pay phone had been vandalized so the whole receiver was gone from the phone. I went into the store, explained my problem, and asked the cashier if there was another phone in the area. She let me use the store phone.

My question is, why is there no phone available to the public at or near the police station? This seems to me a logical location, hopefully safe from vandals also. When people have a problem the police station should be a place where people can go and receive help.

QUESTION: What Kind Of People Go To Chiropractors?

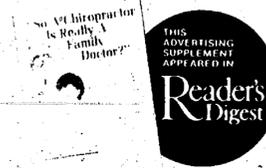

ANSWER: People Who Want To Get Well Without The Use Of Drugs Or Surgery.

Chiropractors treat people from all walks of life: older people—children; laborers—office workers; professional athletes—weekend sports enthusiasts; business people—and other health-care professionals go to chiropractors. The reason: chiropractic is an approach to health which utilizes the body's inherent and natural recuperative powers. And often, chiropractic has been successful where other treatment has failed.

You don't have to have a special kind of health problem to visit a chiropractor.

Hospital Children's Center Expanding

Chelsea Community Hospital's Children's Center, located at St. Paul United Church of Christ on Old US-12 in Chelsea, will expand to a second site. The expansion will permit the Children's Center to care for an additional 36 children. The Center serves children of hospital employees and the community.

School-age children attending the Center will be cared for at the new location, Our Savior Lutheran church on Main St., beginning this week. This program will expand the total number of school-age children cared for from 24 to 36.

The current infant/toddler program will split to form two separate programs; infants from two weeks to 20 months and toddlers from 20 months to 36 months. Each will accept 12 children and remain at the St. Paul site. The pre-school program will accept an additional five children. All expansion is expected to be completed by March 20.

"We are delighted to be able to offer the increased care to the hospital and the community. The Center has had a waiting list of families; we've been unable to serve for a long time. This expansion will provide some relief to those families," said Kathy Young, Children's Center director.

Stockbridge Man Completes Advanced Avionics Course

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Jeffrey J. Heikes, son of John R. Heikes and Geraldine L. Kemeter, both of Pinckney, has completed the Advanced First Term Avionics (aviation electronics) Course.

During the 26-week course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center Millington, Tenn., Heikes studied airborne communications, fire control systems and anti-submarine warfare systems. In addition to the technology of these systems, he studied mathematics, physics, electronic theory and the operating principles of digital and analog computers.

A 1987 graduate of Stockbridge High school, he joined the Navy in August 1987.

Established in 1977, the Children's Center is one of the oldest employer sponsored daycare centers in Washtenaw and the surrounding counties. This year the Center became one of only 22 child care programs in the State of Michigan to receive accreditation by the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs. "The accreditation helps to assure parents that the Center provides the highest-quality child care available," said Young.

The first proposal for a Department of Labor came from William Sylvius, a post-Civil War labor leader, according to "The Origin of the U.S. Department of Labor," a Labor Department publication. Sylvius protested that existing government departments threw their protecting arms around every enterprise fostering wealth, while no department had as its "sole object the care and protection of labor." He and his followers petitioned President Andrew Johnson for a Secretary of Labor, chosen from the ranks of workingmen.

"Experience is the best of schoolmasters, but the school fees are heavy."
—Carlyle

It has long been claimed that experience is the best teacher. There is no denying that knowledge gained from actual personal effort can be of great value to us, but it is worthless if it doesn't create lasting impressions to guide us in similar circumstances in the future.

All events are not pleasant in retrospect, but even unhappy and unrewarding experiences can serve to point the way to better and more effective handling of related efforts in the future.

You can make pre-arrangement plans now to anticipate future contingencies. Stop in and let us explain our various trust and insurance plans which are available.

Rosenberg's 'Poppy' Named Finalist in Poster Contest

Chelsea resident Mary Beth Koeze Rosenberg was named a finalist in the competition for the poster design of future exhibit at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Michigan artists were invited to design a poster, which will be featured at the museum's exhibit, "Art and Flowers: A Festival of Spring," scheduled for April 11-16.

More than 300 artists submitted works to the contest, which was sponsored by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Rosenberg's "Poppy" was one of the 24 original works showcased in the traveling exhibit which opened at the auto club headquarters in Dearborn in January.

This year's festival will focus on flower arrangements created by members of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan to complement more than 50 works of art from the DIA's permanent collection.

Government Gophers: Some furry hired hands are putting the latest in underground cables to a weekly tooth test. In tests at a Denver laboratory, each of 10 gophers is given its own hunk of cable to gnaw on for seven days. International Wildlife magazine reports the cable is then rated according to its gopher resistance. So far, only stainless steel has proved effective at stopping the toothsome creatures.

High Blood Pressure?

Only your doctor can tell. Like more than 10 million other Americans, you could have high blood pressure and not know it until it leads to stroke, heart or kidney failure. It has no special symptoms and often gives no warning. But your doctor can detect high blood pressure (he may call it hypertension) and usually control it. So see your doctor... and follow his orders.

Well Dad, it's finally here, The day that you have held so dear! No more getting up at five, No more hated roundtrip drive. Time to sleep in, laze in bed, Visions of TIAA checks in your head. No more bosses, or meetings, or grief, Time to turn over a brand new leaf. There'll be shopping, cleaning, cooking too, Plenty of things for you to do! And when you have some time to spare, There's a lock company for which you'll care. After Hours Lock Service, how it will grow, With a full-time locksmith on the go. So celebrate, party, have a drink for me... And praise the Lord, you're finally free!

Congratulations on your retirement from The University of Michigan!

1st Time Denture Wearers Don't Have To Go "Toothless"

Q: My teeth are in poor shape and I'm afraid that I'll need dentures soon. Is there some way to avoid going toothless in between the time my teeth are removed and my new dentures are made?

A: In times past it was customary to have one's teeth extracted then allow for a healing period of 6-8 weeks before having a set of dentures made. This is a very good way of ensuring a good fit since it allows time for the gum tissues to heal as well for the natural shrinkage of the supporting jaw bone which occurs after dental extractions.

Today, however, many people choose to wear a denture immediately after their teeth have been extracted, rather than waiting for the extraction sites to heal. The denture used in this instance is called an "immediate denture". Unfortunately, such dentures cannot be worn by all denture patients because of general health problems or specific oral conditions.

Because immediate dentures cover extraction sites, they protect these sensitive areas and help control bleeding. Although this protective aspect and the fact that you won't have to face the world without teeth may be appealing, keep in mind that a greater number of dental visits are needed for adjustments. According to the American Dental Association, as the mouth heals, tissues shrink, which can alter the relining. Once the tissues heal completely, the denture usually must be relined and remade within the first year to fit comfortably and securely. Also, immediate dentures are more expensive than conventional dentures because of the more complex procedures involved in the design, construction, and re-fitting of the denture and the additional office visits needed.

High School Musical 'Oklahoma' Opens Thursday Evening

"Oklahoma" is this year's Chelsea High school musical. Performances of the show will be March 2, 3, and 4 in the George Prinzing Auditorium at CHS. Tickets are available at the Chelsea Pharmacy.

Chelsea High school seniors Bill Coelius and Jennifer Bennett are cast as the leads.

Early in January, students of Chelsea High school began practicing Oscar Hammerstein's "Oklahoma." The musical was chosen by the show's director, Doug Beaumont. Beaumont was familiar with the show from having acted in it. This aided him in the blocking of the scenes.

Beaumont, however, had a great deal of help putting the show together. The musical director for the show is June Warren. Warren helped the students learn the songs and practiced with them. The show also has a rehearsal pianist, Steve Radant. The orchestra director is Jed Fritzeimer. With their help the show's musical will stand out.

The music and singing is accented by dancing, which was choreographed by Elisa Bauer. Bauer chose the movements for all the songs, including the well known, "Dream Ballet" and blocked out stage movements for other songs, such as "Kansas City," and "Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin'." Both Bauer and Beaumont worked hard on the show despite personal illnesses.

The technical part of the show was directed by Bart Bauer. Scott Westfall is assisting in this area. Mostly drops are being used this year, instead of sets made from flats. Also props are used more frequently. Costumes, which are being handled by Wendy Beaumont, are also an important part of this year's show.

All the people involved in this year's production have been working hard to make sure that excellent performances of "Oklahoma" are given on March 2, 3, and 4. Tickets for all performances are sold at the Chelsea Pharmacy. They may be reserved by phone, and many cast members are willing to run into town and reserve them for friends. Tickets will also be available at the door before the performance for the same price. There are tickets left, but the cast has hopes of performing to full house. And with only two days left, everyone involved is becoming very excited.

Despite No Frozen Lake, Carnival Has Big Turnout

Chelsea American Legion's annual Winter Carnival once again had a big turnout despite less than ideal weather conditions. It was the first time in 16 years that Cavanaugh Lake was not frozen over, which cancelled the ice fishing derby.

The indoor events, however, were unaffected.

The Euchre Tournament drew 120 people as Elmer Djuble won the most games.

Saturday's Monte Carlo Night entertained 179 people. More than 60 area merchants donated prizes. Jamie Bollinger won a pool-side night at Weber's Inn. The Legion and Chelsea Rod and Gun Club each made $839.43.

Raffle winners at Sunday's concert were Don Joseph, VCR; Basil Lance, radio; Alex Borkowski, dinner for two at Wolverine Food & Spirits.

Faith In Action's building fund received a $250 donation from the proceeds of the event.

Chelsea Student Is Business Manager Of College Newspaper

Albion College junior Katrina Heaton is the new business manager of the college's student-run newspaper, The Pleiad.

Heaton, a 1986 graduate of Chelsea High school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Heaton of 10320 Hadley Rd., Gregory.

Bulldogs!

Wrestlers Eliminated From State Tourney By Tough Caro High

One point is all that separated the Chelsea Bulldogs from being one of the top four wrestling teams in the state.

The Bulldogs lost in the state quarterfinals at Battle Creek last Wednesday to Caro High school, 29-28.

The meet went down to the final match. Behind 29-24, heavyweight Mike Taylor had to pin Richard Smith in order for Chelsea to win. Although a technical fall (a 15-point decision) would have tied the meet, Chelsea would have lost in the tie-breaking system as Caro had won more matches.

Taylor ended up with a four-point major decision, 19-9. The Caro wrestler was also one stalling warning away from a six-point disqualification.

"In my mind, the meet was a tie," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"Mike could have easily gotten a technical fall for five points. But that wouldn't have done us any good. He had to go for the pin."

Kargel said he had strong performances in the lower weights, and some disappointing performances in the upper weights, but that over-all his team "gave it a real good shot."

"At the state level, it's really better to lose by 10 points or get blown out if you're going to lose," Kargel said.

"When it's one point, there are so many 'if only's' that you can go crazy going down the line-up wondering what might have happened if you had done something just a little different. I can't blame anyone for us losing. There were so many places where we might have picked up a point or two."

Karl Wickman got the Bulldogs off to a good start at 103 pounds with a pin in 3:15 over Jarrett Gordon.

"That match gave us a lot of momentum," Kargel said.

"I thought we could win it but the extra three points with the pin was great. Some of these kids in the lower weights wrestled out of this world."

Kelly Beard wrestled at 112 pounds for Chelsea. Although he scored two near falls, he ended up losing an 18-10 major decision to Garrett Gordon.

Pat Taylor, who finished third in the state for the Bulldogs at 112, was bumped up to 119 to face Steve Hickey, who finished fourth in the state last year.

"Pat knew it would be a battle," Kargel said.

"Hickey took Pat down right away, which is unusual, but Pat came back for a 4-3 decision."

Rex Nye pulled another surprise for Kargel at 125 pounds, when he pinned Jeff Decker in 5:42 when the score was tied at 4-4.

At 130 pounds, Chelsea's Craig McCalla lost 7-0 to this year's state champ at 125 pounds, Mike Ellsworth.

"Even though Craig lost, it was a real plus for us because Ellsworth only scored three points," Kargel said.

"Craig did an excellent job for us."

Chelsea's Jim Hassett, at 135 pounds, ran into another 1988 state qualifier, Shane Marzullo. Marzullo won a 17-7 major decision.

One of the next turning points of the match was at 140 and 145 pounds. Doug Wingrove, who is normally light enough to wrestle both weights, could not make 140. That meant Kargel had to put Wingrove at 145 pounds, and Adam Taylor at 140 pounds.

Caro put an excellent wrestler, Bill Wright, in Wingrove's spot. Wright finished sixth in the state this year. He managed a 10-2 major decision over Wingrove.

Caro's Dennis Williams earned a five-point technical fall over Taylor at 140 pounds.

"Doug could probably have beaten Williams," Kargel said.

Chelsea's Dean Sutherland pinned Doug Botkins at 152 pounds in :52.

"Dean got taken down real quick, but he'd rather wrestle from the down position anyway," Kargel said.

Yet another turning point came at 160 pounds, where Chelsea's Matt Herter was pinned in 5:23 by Ron Ruppert. That gave Caro an extra two or three points.

At 171 pounds, Chelsea's Pat Hassett lost a 9-6 decision to Steve Lunstead.

Tim VanSchoick, at 189 pounds, took a 6-3 victory over Nick Kurish.

"The Caro wrestler was strong and he stalled the match out," Kargel said.

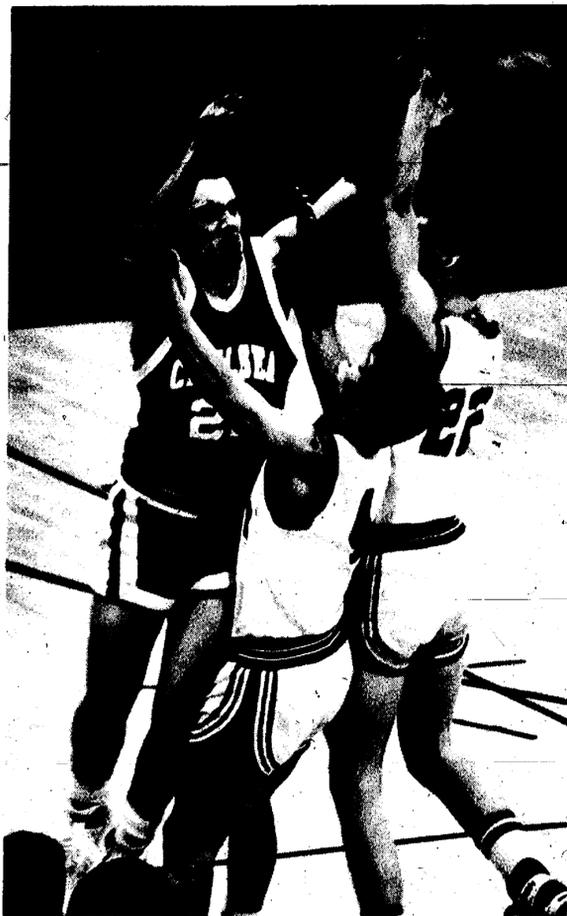

"If he had wrestled, I think Tim could have pinned him."

Chelsea ended up with a 21-3 record in dual-meets. Caro lost in the state finals to Mt. Clemens.

"We had a successful season, and the fan support was excellent, especially at the quarterfinals," Kargel said.

PINCKNEY FORWARD Kyle Bonesteel drives the baseline but is fouled by Chelsea guard John Collins. Bonesteel scored 11 points in the fourth quarter to pace the Pirates to an 86-77 victory.

SENIOR GUARD Junior Morseau tries to pass over two Pinckney defenders but is called for a charging foul in the process. Morseau scored 17 points in the first half and shared the scoring honors with Chad Starkey with 19 points.

All-Conference Team Honors

Chelsea junior center Brian Burg was named to the first All-Southeastern Conference basketball team.

Burg joined Pinckney's Kyle Bonesteel and Tom Reason, Tecumseh's Jeff Walters, and Dexter's David Schmidt. Schmidt, Walters, and Bonesteel were unanimous selections.

Junior Chad Starkey was named to the all-league second team, while senior Junior Morseau and junior Kyle Plank were honorable mention.

7th-Grade Spikers Still Undefeated

Beach Middle school seventh grade volleyball team remains unbeaten after recent action.

On Tuesday, Feb. 14 the Pups defeated Tecumseh 11-2, 11-3, 11-3.

Gretchen Stahl led the attack with eight service points. Maya Holleman and Casey White each had six points, and Lesley Berg had five.

The Pups hosted Saline on Thursday, Feb. 16 and won in three games, 11-3, 11-9, and 11-1.

Jodi Weiss served eight points, and Nicki Piasecki served four.

On Feb. 23 Lincoln fell to the host Pups, 11-5, 11-3, 11-8.

White was the leading server with six points. Holleman and Traci Patrick had five points each, and Becca Flintoft scored four points.

Children Runners To Hold Meeting

Chelsea children age 8 and over who are interested in running should meet on Friday, March 17 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the South school media center. For more information contact Vickie Ersten at 475-8096, evenings.

Dogs Lose to Pirates To End Regular Season, Face BCC Tomorrow

Hot-shooting forward Kyle Bonesteel propelled Pinckney to a share of the Southeastern Conference basketball title last Friday as the Pirates topped the Chelsea Bulldogs 86-77 in the final regular season game for both teams.

Bonesteel scored 11 points in the fourth quarter, 18 in the second half, and was 5-5 from three point range.

"Bonesteel was really the difference in the game," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"We played about as well as we can play for four quarters, even though we made a few mistakes. I don't think we could have beaten them."

The Bulldogs gave the Pirates as much as they could handle. Chelsea trailed at half-time, 42-38, and early in the fourth quarter closed to within 66-65. On two occasions the Pirates stretched the lead to eight points and threatened to turn the game into a rout before a packed house.

"It was a tough situation to play in," Raymond said.

"But the kids stuck their noses right in there. Pinckney could have blown us out, but we didn't let them."

Chad Starkey and Junior Morseau each had the hot hand for Chelsea as each scored 19 points. Morseau had 17 in the first half, including three, three-point field goals.

"That was probably the best half Junior has played all year," Raymond said.

Brian Burg, weakened by the flu, scored 15 points off the bench. Kyle

JV Cagers Beaten In Final Contests

Chelsea junior varsity basketball team ended their season with a 5-15 record last week after losing games to Jackson County Western and Pinckney.

On Tuesday, Feb. 21 at JCW, the Bulldogs were down 34-28 at half-time but scored just 14 points in the second half to take a 74-42 defeat.

Chelsea was 4-22 from the field in the second half.

"We played pretty well the first half but once again we didn't shoot well in the second half," said Chelsea coach Jeff Dils.

Jon Royce led the Bulldogs with 17 points and seven rebounds. Tucker Steele scored eight, Jude Quilter had six points, Erich Hammer and Matt Steinaway scored four each, and Jeremy Stephens had one point.

It didn't get much better for the Bulldogs at Pinckney last Friday, where Chelsea suffered a 69-42 defeat without top scorer Jon Royce, who had been promoted to varsity.

The game was relatively close for three quarters as Chelsea was down headed into the final period, 41-30.

"Pinckney scored a lot of points in the last three or four minutes," Dils said.

Chelsea again had shooting problems, as they made 11 of 46 shots from the field.

Quilter led Chelsea with 12 points, Steele scored nine, Stephens had eight, Dunn had five, Steinaway had three, and Hammer and Alex Hamerschmidt had two points each.

"I guess under normal circumstances if I thought I was going to coach a 5-15 team I'd be glad when the season is over," Dils said.

"But even though we haven't won a lot of games, we've had a lot of fun and I'm sorry to see the season end."

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

If you happen to be in Tecumseh this week, pick up a copy of the Tecumseh Herald.

On the front page, WOW, the front page, there is Chelsea High School Athletic Director Larry Reed, looking positively reverential. The combination of his attire and the print job, make him look as though he's wearing a preacher's white collar.

That's two front pages in two weeks, although we didn't have a photograph. Larry is standing next to what I think is the new Tecumseh pool, along with the Tecumseh school superintendent. But the best part is, the caption goes into great detail about his background, but there is no clue that he spent virtually the entire decade in Chelsea. Milan is mentioned, Eastern Michigan University is mentioned. Not Chelsea. Of course, they're talking about someone named Reid, anyway.

Meanwhile, the search for a new athletic director is unfolding. Assistant superintendent Fred Mills tells me that several people already employed by the school district in some capacity have at least made inquiries about the job. Plus there have been numerous phone calls from people outside.

I've talked to several other people about the situation as well. The consensus seems to be that Wayne Welton would make an excellent athletic director.

They're probably right. It's also possible Welton might consider it the perfect career move. But I hate to see a guy who's so good and influential with kids sink up to his neck in a quagmire of athletic details. Imagine Sparky Anderson deciding to hang up coaching in order to schedule the team's plane trips, hotel accommodations, and jock strap orders. And then fielding complaints when the jocks don't fit.

No matter who is picked, it will be superintendent Joe Pisecki's most visible decision to date, even though the school board will have the ultimate say. It may give us some indication of how he'll solve future dilemmas. He has to find an athletic director on very short notice or figure out some way for the job to be handled for the rest of the school year. This has been one fun school year for our new superintendent.

Sorry to see the Bulldog wrestling team eliminated from state competition by a single point. As coach Kerry Kargel said, it's better to get whalloped at state than lose such a close match. At least you don't lose any sleep wondering if there was a way you could have won.

The Bulldogs have had a splendid year. Some of the kids are already looking forward to next season. Reno Nye, Craig McCalla, Dean Sutherland and Mike Taylor are graduating, which leaves at least nine starters returning, including state placers Pat Taylor and Tim VanSchoick, and state qualifier Doug Wingrove. There should be a solid nucleus for next year.

The Bulldog basketball team heads into tournament action tomorrow night against Brooklyn Columbia Central at Siena Heights College.

Coach Robin Raymond said he was confident his team could handle BCC until he saw them play two games last week. He's still confident the Dogs can win, but handle them is another matter.

"They're playing well, and with confidence," Raymond said. Chelsea lost to BCC in overtime in the first game of the season. The Bulldogs had a big lead late but couldn't hang on after Chad Starkey sprained his ankle.

If Chelsea wins, it's likely the Dogs will play Tecumseh in the finals. The Indians have beaten Chelsea twice. The Bulldogs were in both games right up to the end. Tecumseh might not be able to do it three times in a row.

The Bulldogs have played eight or nine solid games in a row. With a break or two, Chelsea could well end up with its second basketball district championship of the year.

Pinkney was eliminated from post-season play Monday by basketball power Fowlerville. Must have been too much celebrating Friday night.

Several Bulldog Tankers Qualify for State Meet At Brighton Invitational

Chelsea Bulldog varsity medley relay team qualified for the state meet with their performance at last weekend's Brighton Invitational.

Although the team did not fare well in the standings, there were several outstanding individual performances, according to Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

The medley relay team of Brett Paddock, David Oesterle, Garth Girard, and Dirk Colby turned in a time of 1:46.26, a drop of more than two seconds, with two substitute swimmers.

"It was an outstanding swim," Jolly said.

"I am very proud of them. After losing two key swimmers, Girard and Colby had to pick up the pieces."

Oesterle also qualified for the state meet in the 100-yard breaststroke as he was nearly half a second under the qualifying time at 1:05.15.

"It was probably the best swim for Chelsea as far as drive and desire come in," Jolly said.

"David did what he had to by bulling his way through the water. I'm proud of him."

Paddock also qualified for state in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:06.9 in the finals. His time was almost three seconds better than the state qualifying time.

"Brett did everything perfect," Jolly said.

"It was an excellent swim."

In the 200-yard freestyle, Joe Huetteman and Girard qualified for the meet finals on Saturday. Huetteman bested his seed time by almost a second at 1:55.76 and Girard swam a 1:53.91 to cut almost two seconds off his seed time.

"Both young men keep improving and show promise to be excellent swimmers," Jolly said.

In the diving, Jamie Basso and Mark Luick finished sixth and 11th, respectively.

"More important than their places was their point total for 11 dives," Jolly said.

"Each diver will no doubt make it to the state meet and that will be a major accomplishment."

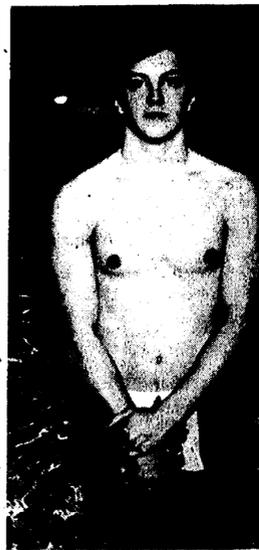

Girard and Huetteman took seventh and 11th place, respectively, in the 500-yard freestyle. Girard dropped two seconds to 5:05.57 and Huetteman dropped two seconds to 5:15.89.

Paddock lowered his time more than a second in the 100-yard backstroke to a 58.17.

"Brett has come a long way in one season and is going to improve again at the state meet," Jolly said.

"Brett is a big meet swimmer."

The state meet is two weeks away.

8th Grade Spikers Win Two Matches

Beach Middle school eighth grade volleyball team won two matches and lost one in recent action.

The team suffered its first loss of the season at Tecumseh.

The Pups lost the first two games, won the next two, but lost the last one. Scores were 9-11, 4-11, 11-2, 11-3, 6-11.

"The girls' effort was excellent," said Chelsea coach Ann Schaffner.

Emily Carty served for 13 points, Melissa Thiel had nine points, Monica Hansen had six, and Gretchen Knutsen five.

The Pups defeated Saline at home in three games, 11-7, 11-0, 11-0.

Leading servers were Thiel with nine points, Sarah McKeighan with six, Heather Wynn with four, and Julie Durst, Lisa Monti, and Carty with three each.

Hansen played well on defense, Schaffner said.

The Pups also defeated Saline 11-6, 11-9, 11-6.

"The girls continued to improve in their effort to attack the ball with accurate pass, set, and hit attempts," Schaffner said.

"We also had very fine serving."

Thiel served seven points, Shanti Vadlamudi, Sandy Schmid, and Knutsen had five each, and Wynn had four.

"Melissa Colvin and Knutsen were excellent on defense, and Hansen and Liz Sager were effective setters," Schaffner said.

Freshman Cagers End Season With Wins Over Lincoln, Milan

Chelsea Bulldog freshman cagers won their final two games of the season last week to finish with a 10-5 over-all record and 10-2 mark in the Southeastern Conference.

On Monday, Feb. 20 the Dogs eeked out a 60-57 win over the Lincoln Railsplitters.

"Both games we played against Lincoln this year were exciting," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"The team did a good job of beating two different presses Lincoln tried against us."

The Bulldogs were down at half-time, 26-24, but took the lead at the end of the third quarter, 44-40.

"Chris Wright tossed in 12 points in his best performance of the season," Quilter said.

"Ben Hurst hustled for a team-leading 10 rebounds. Adam Tillman hit three key three-point baskets and Dan Stahl and Jake Rindle continued their all-around good play."

Rindle finished with 14 points and nine rebounds to lead the Dogs. Dan Stahl scored 13; Wright had 12.

Tillman scored 10, Hurst had seven points, and Jason Allen and John Weinberg each scored two.

On Tuesday, Feb. 21 the Bulldogs took a 59-53 win at Milan.

Chelsea scored 22 points in the fourth quarter, paced by 10 from Hurst and eight from Allen. Allen hit seven of eight free throws down the stretch.

"Milan is a much improved team as they beat us in every statistic but free throw shooting," Quilter said.

"The kids were out-played but they found a way to win."

Stahl led Chelsea scorers with 18 points, many on lay-ups "due to great hustle and good team play," Quilter said.

Chelsea hit 21-31 shots from the foul line but shot 38 percent from the field. Rounding out the scoring were Hurst with 16 points, Rindle with 11, Allen with eight, and Tillman with six.

Bulldogs Open Districts vs. Brooklyn CC

Plank scored 12, John Collins had seven, and Kerry Plank had five.

The Bulldogs were 33-68 from the field and 8-12 from the line. They committed just 14 turnovers against a tenacious Pinckney press, a statistic Raymond called "exceptional." Chelsea even held a 41-35 rebound edge.

The game also featured the varsity debut of freshman Jon Royce. Royce failed to score, but took a charge and set a back-door pick.

"We hope Jon will be able to help us in the districts," Raymond said.

The Pirates tied the Tecumseh Indians for the league title as each team ended 11-1, having lost on the road to each other.

Chelsea finished tied for third with Milan with a 5-7 league mark. They were 8-12 over-all.

In non-conference action last Tuesday at Jackson County Western, the Bulldogs had their highest point total of the year in a 105-80 victory.

JCW fell behind 50-36 at half-time. By the start of the fourth quarter, JCW was so far behind they began to foul the Dogs on virtually every play.

The result was the Bulldogs went to the line 35 times in the fourth quarter and made 27 shots. For the game they were 45-58 for 79 percent. Chelsea scored just six points on field goals in the fourth period.

"They thought they could come back to win if we didn't make our free throws," Raymond said.

"But we've shot-free throws well all year."

Raymond argued that JCW was committing intentional fouls and the Bulldogs should be awarded the ball out after the shots. The referees didn't buy the argument, however.

"I hate to see it turn into a free throw shooting contest," Raymond said.

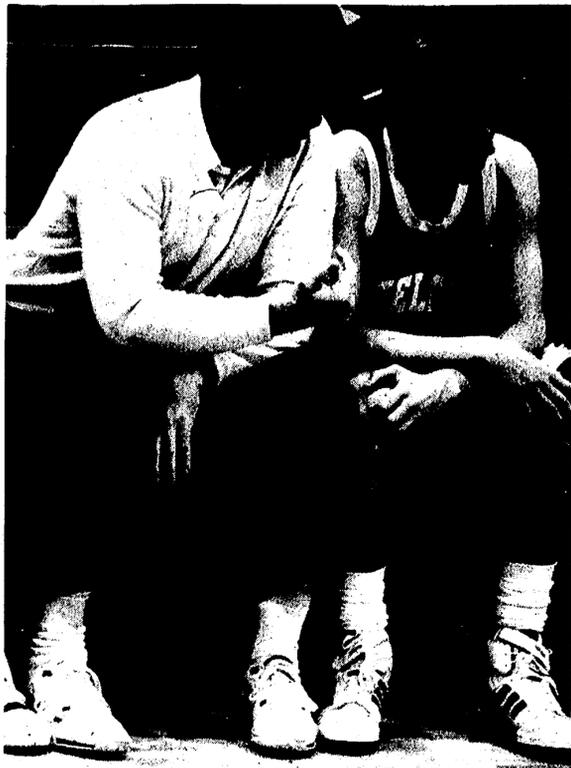

Chelsea, playing without Burg, played an excellent defensive game against a much taller team. All-state center candidate Dave DeGraaf scored 20 points but "was not much of a factor in the outcome," Raymond said. DeGraaf, at 6'6" was joined by teammates who are 6'5" and 6'3". They only out-rebounded Chelsea 38-36.

"Our tallest guy was about as big as their shortest guy," Raymond said.

"We put Kerry on DeGraaf and he did an excellent job."

Plank finished with 20 points, 10 rebounds, nine steals, and two assists. Starkey had a team-high 27 points. Rounding out the scoring were Kyle Plank with 17, Morseau with 15, Collins with 11, and Phil Eassa, Chris Wilson, and Sinisa Janicevic with two each.

Chelsea was 47 percent from the field (27-57). They also had a season-high 18 steals.

CHELSEA COACH ROBIN RAYMOND discusses strategy with point guard Chad Starkey during one of the junior's infrequent visits to the bench last Friday night. Starkey had 19 points in a losing cause at Pinckney.

BULLDOG CENTER BRIAN BURG works to clear out the lane last Friday night at Pinckney. Burg, still feeling some weakness from the flu, finished with 15 points.

Smelt Dippers Await Season

It happens every year about this time. They swarm to the mouths of the rivers and streams that flow into the Great Lakes—driven by some primordial urge to come together in great numbers and engage in their annual ritual—rolling the waters in the early hours of a Great Lakes late winter/early spring morning.

And then there are the fish. Their behavior isn't too much different from that of the men and women who come out with nets, waders, and refreshments to socialize and to "dip smelt" by the thousands.

Fishing is a year-round sport in Michigan. The state has a range of fish that few if any states can beat: some 146 varieties—ranging from tiny minnows to 200-pound lake sturgeon. Michigan offers an equally large variety of ways and places to catch fish—from spearing through the ice or cruising a river in a warm and comfortable charter boat in winter to battling 20- to 30-pound salmon from a Great Lakes charter or matching wits with a trout (are they really wily?) in a blue-ribbon trout stream, or angling for panfish on a quiet little lake on a warm summer day.

Michigan's 146 varieties of fish inhabit some 40,000 square miles of Great Lakes water, 36,000 miles of rivers and streams, and 11,000 inland lakes—and some of them are fair game during every month of the year.

Yet, there is something almost magical about two harbingers of spring: the opening of the smelt-dipping season south of highway M-72 (that is, south of Harrisville on the Lake Huron side and south of Empire on the Lake Michigan side) on March 1, and the state-wide trout season opening on the last Saturday of April, which falls on the 29th this year.

Smelt dipping (which opens north of M-72 on April 1 and closes May 31 state-wide) is probably less about fishing than it is about getting together with fellow anglers to do this offbeat thing: wading in the pre-dawn chill to net wiggling masses of tiny silvery fish and then trying to unload at least some of the catch on friends. (No one, however, has ever been known to turn down a mess of deep-fried smelt caught just this morning "up north.")

This dipping with hand nets of any size is permitted on the Great Lakes and their connecting waters and within one-half mile of the mouth of any Great Lakes tributary. It applies to sucker, carp, bowfin, and gar as well as to smelt.

The start of smelt season means the dedicated angler has two more weeks to fish for walleye, northern pike, and muskellunge in the inland waters of the lower peninsula and in both the inland and Great Lakes waters of the Upper Peninsula, which close on March 15. It also means: only one month left before the opening of the early trout season (April 1) on those streams designated as "Streams Open to Extended Trout and Salmon Fishing" and the opening of the spearing season for sucker, carp, bowfin, and gar on non-trout streams south of highway M-46 (Port Sanilac on Lake Huron and Muskegon on Lake Michigan). Two weeks later (April 15) the same fish are subject to spearing on non-trout streams between M-46 and M-72. It will be May 1 before the same season reaches the Upper Peninsula.

And then, on the same day that the state-wide trout season opens, it becomes legal again to take walleye, sauger, northern pike and muskellunge on inland waters of the lower peninsula. A day later the sturgeon season closes on the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

On May 1, the lake-trout season opens on lakes Michigan and Huron and their tributary streams, while the spearing season opens for carp, gar, and bowfin on inland non-trout waters state-wide. May 1-31 spearing season is open for sucker, carp, bowfin, and gar on non-trout streams in the U. P. and north of M-72 in the lower peninsula. And it keeps getting better as May rolls on: the season opens for walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge on inland and Great Lakes waters of the U. P. on the 15th, while the bass season opens state-wide on May 27 (except for Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair and Detroit rivers, where it opens in June).

While all this is going on, other Michiganians and visitors can enjoy the last of the spring skiing, hunt the legendary morel mushroom, and seek wild irises, orchids, mallows, and trilliums, in Michigan's 19 million acres of forest.

A good night's sleep isn't an impossible dream.

After a full day of activities, sleep is vital. But many people of all ages suffer from sleep disorders which deny them a good night's sleep.

In some cases, sleep disorders can be signs of more serious medical problems. Sleep apnea, a serious sleep disorder, can even cause life-threatening oxygen loss and heart irregularities.

If you often have difficulty falling asleep, staying asleep, or staying awake, you are probably suffering from a sleep disorder.

The two most common symptoms of sleep disorders:

- Daytime sleepiness
- Heavy snoring
- Other symptoms of sleep disorders include:
- Morning headaches

Excessive use of sleeping pills
Breathing irregularities during sleep
Leg movements during sleep
Personality changes
Irritability

If you are struggling with any type of sleep disorder, contact Chelsea Sleep Disorders Program at (313) 475-3963 for more information or to schedule an evaluation.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to Act 338 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1974, as amended, The Economic Development Corporation of the Village of Chelsea has submitted a project plan to the Village Council for its approval.

Said project plan deals with the construction and equipping of 76 one and two bedroom independent living units and a central social and recreational activity center, and the refinancing of construction of a 110 bed nursing center and remodeling and renovation of existing facilities, to be owned and operated by United Methodist Retirement Homes, Detroit Annual Conference, Inc., and to be located on a project area or site described as follows:

Cholesterol Tests Offered in Dexter

"Anyone, no matter what age, may participate in the cholesterol draw to be held at Wylie Middle school and Dexter High school, Wednesday, March 8," Dee Stamm advised this week.

Ms. Stamm is physical education instructor at Wylie school.

She explained the Dexter Community Schools, in conjunction with the University of Michigan's Fitness for Youth, will sponsor the cholesterol draw at the two Dexter school buildings, next week.

Purpose of the cholesterol draw is to determine the amount of cholesterol in the person's bloodstream.

"Everybody in the community is encouraged to participate in the worthwhile test," urged Ms. Stamm.

At Wylie school, the cholesterol draw will be held 7-11 a.m., while the same procedures will be conducted at Dexter High, 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m., March 8.

Researchers have found that traces of coronary build-up are occurring in people as early as 10 years of age.

Because overwhelming evidence that high cholesterol contributes to heart disease and stroke, everyone should be aware of his/her cholesterol level.

The majority of people tested can reduce their level by making simple adjustments in their diet, a small price to pay for good health.

Advance Medical and Research

Center, Inc., of Pontiac, will administer the tests.

The schools will be sending home permission slips with Dexter students.

In order to participate in the cholesterol draw, each student must have a signed permission slip.

People with questions about the cholesterol draw may call Wylie school for more information. Telephone 428-3993.

No advance appointment is necessary on the March 8 date.

No fasting is required for the five-dollar test, but two more comprehensive tests will be offered for $11 and for $21, both of which require fasting from food and drink for a 12-hour period preceding the test.

Q. I have read about the CPI—Consumers Price Index—for years, but I really don't know much about it. Would you describe it simply for me?

A. The Consumers Price Index is an effort to produce one number which represents the average individual's cost of living. It is brought up to date each month to show changes which are taking place in those costs. USA Today recently did a story that explained how it is put together. USA Today reports that the Index was established during World War I, when prices were changing rapidly, to provide a means of adjusting wages to the rising price level.

The Index is compiled once each month by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. There are 300 field representatives working in 85 market areas. Each one has part of a 100,000 list of items whose prices they check once a month. A major problem they have is to see that the prices they gather each month represent the same quality of an item each month. That can become very detailed. They have to make sure that the manufacturer hasn't changed the material in the item or in any other way produced a hidden price change.

A great effort is made to ensure that the list is representative of the cost of living. Prices are gathered from 85 different locations to cover regional variations. From other sources the Bureau comes up with estimates of how the average family spends its money. For instance, it estimates the average family spends 42% of its budget on housing. Consequently, of the 100,000 items priced each month, that list of items is constructed so that 42% of the dollars checked represent housing costs. Food is judged to be the next biggest item at 17.6% and food costs items to that percentage are included in the list of items checked. The next biggest item is transportation at 17.5%.

To put the CPI Index together each month, the Bureau mails out price sheets and lists to its field representatives the first of each month. These reps return their information within three weeks to Washington where it is checked for accuracy and consistency and compiled into the single figure. The index is important in many ways. It is used in many wage agreements to adjust wages. It is in effect the gauge of inflation. It affects Social Security payments; rent and many other items whose prices are tied to it.

LOYAL FOLLOWERS in the Dawg Pound, many basketball parents among them, were treated to an exciting varsity basketball game at Pinckney. However, their favorite team lost the game to the charged-up Pirates, who clinched a tie for the SEC championship.

McKUNE MEMORIAL LIBRARY NEW BOOK LIST

Smoke & Mirrors, by Barbara Michaels. When young Erin Hartsock joins the staff committed to electing Congresswoman Rosemary White Marshall senator from Virginia, she foresees nothing more than boring secretarial work for a slightly-more interesting-than-usual boss. Soon, however, the campaign flares up in more startling and sinister ways. Here is a no-holds barred look at the highstakes game played by the powers behind the power, where murder is the ultimate trump card.

A Season in Hell, by Jack Higgins. The time is 1983. A young Cambridge student enters a Paris cafe to ask a question. Later that night his body is discovered on the dark and brooding quays of the Seine... His stepmother, a young widow, Sarah Talbot, is determined to uncover the suspicious circumstances surrounding her beloved stepson's tragic death, but finds all official roads to justice blocked. With A Season in Hell, Jack Higgins confirms his supremacy as our reigning master of suspense and action.

Daddy, by Loup Durand. From the moment it first appeared in European bookstores, Daddy has become a literary phenomenon. It is an international best seller in the tradition of John le Carre. A frantic manhunt across Europe, with the Nazis in pursuit. An eleven-year-old great-grandson of a Jewish banker holds the secret to $350 million dollars stashed away in banks. When the banker kills himself in the midst of being tortured by the Gestapo, there is only one person alive who knows the complex codes. That person is Thomas, an eleven-year-old with the mind of a genius—a mind that must outwit an entire army to stay alive.

The First Salute, by Barbara Tuchman. From one of America's most distinguished and widely read historians comes a new book as Barbara Tuchman at last turns her sights homeward to give us a deeply insightful view of certain pivotal events of the American Revolution. Drawing on her broad knowledge of history, her grasp of both human nature and the workings of government, and her exceptional narrative gift, Tuchman appraises the political, emotional, and geographical imperatives at work for each of the warring forces during the long, ragged years of conflict.

Rivals, by Janet Dailey. A riveting story of a marvelously strong and passionate woman who is challenged by a mysterious inheritance and bitter family legacy she must struggle to overcome.

Super Joy, by Paul Pearsall, Ph.D. Super Joy goes far beyond happiness or contentment. It is the regular and enduring celebration of the delight of living, the savoring of the moments of our lives that are all too often missed. Do you think you must get the most out of everything you do? Do you thrive on stress? Do you think you must solve all of your problems in order to be happy? If you answered yes to any of these questions, then you must read Super Joy. Pearsall studies people who don't get sick—despite the stresses of modern lifestyles and applies their characteristics to daily living. While so many other books have described the psychochemical relationships between stress, depression, and disease, this is the first book to focus on the "up side" of that cycle—joy, a too often forgotten natural human response.

Tires, Rims Taken From Milling Co.

Nine spare tires and rims were stolen from trailers at Chelsea Milling Co. between 11:30 p.m. Feb. 22 and 3:42 a.m. Feb. 23. All the trailers were in a parking lot and the tires were secured underneath. Value of the theft was placed at $1,865, according to Chelsea police reports. Police found boot prints at the scene and are investigating.

New Yorkers began hailing "horseless" taxis in 1897 when electric cab service was initiated in the city, says the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

C&D LAUNDRY SERVICE is the third tenant in Chelsea's industrial park. Village council took steps last week to make sure it is not the last. The park was listed with local realtor Mark McKernan, who told council he will actively market the park for a 10 percent commission. Prices of lots at the park are going to rise 50 percent as well, from $15,000 per acre to $22,500. That will more than cover any commission.

Village Lists Industrial Park With Local Realty Company

Village of Chelsea has listed its industrial park land with McKernan Realty of Chelsea. McKernan recommended that the village raise land price from $15,000 to $22,500 per acre. The action came at the Tuesday, Feb. 21 council meeting. According to village president Jerry Satterthwaite, new village manager Robert Stalker agreed with the idea of listing the land with a realty company.

Mark McKernan told council he plans to advertise in Crain's Business Review, among other publications. He also plans to erect a sign in the park. McKernan recommended that the village raise land price from $15,000 to $22,500 per acre. According to village president Jerry Satterthwaite, new village manager Robert Stalker agreed with the idea of listing the land with a realty company.

World Day of Prayer Scheduled Friday

World Day of Prayer, on Friday, March 3, marks its 102nd observance as thousands of Christians join together in countries and regions of the world to pray as one body for each other and for peace in the world. This global circle of prayer acts each year as a powerful bond of hope to strengthen relationships between all people on this volatile planet. The theme of the 1989 World Day of Prayer is "Jesus, Teach Us To Pray." The prayers and worship resources were written by an ecumenical group of Christian women in Burma and then translated into hundreds of languages and dialects. This year's service brings to consciousness the struggles of the people of Burma, so ravaged by the terrors of war and economic oppression. It also invites a deeper understanding of the Lord's Prayer stressing the power of intercessory prayer and challenging those who pray to listen and respond to those in need, wherever they may be. Since its founding in 1941, Church Women United has been the official sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States and has assumed responsibility for the preparation and distribution of World Day of Prayer resources and materials in this country. Church Women United (CWU) is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service. It represents a broad spectrum of religious tradition, race, age, economic status and ethnic background and works through a national unit, 52 state units (including ones in Greater Washington, D.C. and Puerto Rico) and 1,750 local units. Unified by a common faith in Christ, the women of Church Women United work for the elimination of poverty of women and children (through Assignment: Poverty of Women) and issues of justice and peace. World Day of Prayer offerings make possible, in part, the mission of Church Women United including the Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international self-development and teaching project for women, as well as community services and disaster relief at home and abroad. World Day of Prayer at First Congregational Church of Chelsea, 121 E. Middle St., at 1:30. Refreshments will be served by church ladies. Black women made advances in many socioeconomic areas over the past decade, according to "Black Women in the Labor Force," a fact sheet from the Labor Department's Women's Bureau. Even so, black women are still more likely than white women to be unemployed, to be in low-paying jobs, and to account for a larger proportion of those living in poverty.

As part of its continuing commitment to meeting the growing demand for high quality health care, Chelsea Community Hospital has become the first community hospital in Washtenaw and the surrounding counties to add video endoscopy to its endoscopic diagnostic capabilities. "The Olympus EVIS represents the most advanced technology available in electronic endoscopy," states Kenneth G. Wilhelm, M.D., general surgeon. "The unit includes a state-of-the-art electronic video imaging system which allows the physician to watch a procedure in progress."

Endoscopy is the clinical examination of internal organs such as the stomach, intestines, or colon to determine the presence of an ulcer, tumor or other conditions. In the past, endoscopy was accomplished using equipment which required the physician to view the procedure directly rough the instrument. With the video imaging system, the procedure is viewed on a television screen. Using this system, the physician may record the procedure on a videotape for further study or take photographs of a particular view to aid in diagnosing a condition.

"This unit brings Chelsea Community Hospital into the forefront of medical facilities with this capability," concluded Wilhelm.

Many volunteers from the community man the registration, canteen, and bag table. So if you would like to give an hour to work at the drive, there are still some openings. To sign up, please call Marion Kerns at 475-7440.

A nursery is available from 9 a.m. to 12 noon to care for children of donors.
