KERRY PLANK was the winner of a free lunch for two at the Woodshed Eatery with his guess as to how many hardbound books are in the Chelsea High school media center. The contest was part of Reading Month activities in March. With Kerry is his guest, Erin Allen. Kerry's guess of 7,060 was the closest to the actual number, 7,317, without going over. Proceeds from the promotion will be used to purchase books for the library's paperback collection. The couple arrived at the restaurant after touring Chelsea in a limousine, courtesy of Fred Peterson's Golden Chains Limousine Service.

Landfill Tests Complete, Results Going to DNR

The village plans to have all technical information regarding studies at the landfill into the Department of Natural Resources by Friday, April 28.

According to consulting engineer Lee Fahrner, all lab work on water and soil samples has been completed. Those reports have to be studied and put in form for the DNR.

The tracer system studies and the hydrogeological studies should be to the DNR by April 24, while the soils study should be ready April 28, Fahrner said.

Fahrner said the village may also submit another landfill license application at the same time.

"I want to discuss that with our attorney," Fahrner said.

Previous applications have been sent back to the village as "administratively incomplete," because the study results were not completed.

DNR has said it won't act on the license request until the village can prove it can adequately monitor the new landfill cell for any leakage.

Assuming DNR geologists quickly approve the village's proposed tracing system, it will probably still be several weeks before a new license is issued.

That could push the village's annual spring pick-up into the summer as the village has no place to put the year's accumulation of junk.

"Once they get all the information, we don't know how fast they'll act on it," Fahrner said.

In a related issue, village council refused to act on a request by the City of Ann Arbor to support its attempts to secure a Clean Michigan Community grant to set up a large recycling center at the city landfill.

As has been the case in several issues involving Washtenaw county, several council members appear to be skeptical that Chelsea would gain any advantage by showing its support.

The village agreed more than a year ago to join a county-wide recycling effort, which apparently has been turned over to Ann Arbor, village president Jerry Satterthwaite told council.

Ypsilanti City Council did pass the resolution.

However, trustees Richard Steele and Dennis Hall volunteered to serve on a recycling committee to study how Chelsea might begin to implement its own extensive project at the village landfill.

Satterthwaite said he had been to Recycle Ann Arbor and was reassured the organization could process material recycled here.

Cassidy Lake Fence Project Slated for Completion in Summer

Bids are due by Wednesday, April 28 on the project to fence Cassidy Lake Technical School on Waterloo Rd.

"The drawings for the fence are done and the specifications will be completed this week," State Sen. Lana Pollack said last week.

The decision to fence Cassidy Lake, the state's only unfenced prison, was announced by Pollack and Bob Brown, director of the Department of Corrections, earlier this year.

The job was advertised for bids beginning last Saturday, April 8. A walk-through of the premises is required of all prospective contractors.

The project is planned for completion by early August.

Between January and mid-December of last year, 45 prisoners walked away from the prison despite hourly head counts.

"A fence will not completely eliminate escapes, but it will cut down on their number," Pollack said.

Not only will the facility be more secure, but the townspeople will also feel more secure knowing that escapes will be more difficult and less likely to occur.

The initial work to prepare for the construction is already underway, Pollack said. Three of the 10 cabins to be demolished are down.

"I am pleased with the rapid progress of this project," Pollack said.

"The people of Chelsea have tolerated escapes for far too long, and now they can look forward to some relief in the very near future."

Sylvan Township Adopts Budget For 1989-90 at April Meeting

Sylvan township passed a 1989-90 budget of $319,614 at their regular April meeting last Tuesday.

The township elected not to have an annual meeting this year. Two people attended the regular meeting about matters unrelated to the budget, according to supervisor Don Schoenberg.

The budget is down from $358,101 in 1988-89, although the township's equalized value rose $16 million to $124 million.

The biggest difference between last year's budget and this year's is the township is carrying over $90,000, down from $147,000 a year ago.

The budget item that was cut the most was for road maintenance and upgrading. Last year the township's budget was $113,000 while this year it is down to $70,000.

"That's all we could afford," Schoenberg said.

Last year the township spent a lot of money preparing Musbach Rd. to be paved.

This year the township plans to begin engineering work on a Bush Rd. paving project, which will end up as the township's next big road project. In addition, there will be some work on McKinley Rd. in a co-operative effort with Lima township (the centerline divides the townships), and work to correct water problems at Ridge and Lowery Rds. at Cavanaugh Lake.

Another major budget item includes $55,000 for fire protection, part of which will go to pay off the township's share of a new Chelsea Fire Department truck.

The supervisor and assessor were the only officials to receive raises. The $1,000 raise for the supervisor takes the salary to $14,000 per year. The assessor received a $1,400 raise to $15,000. Schoenberg holds both of those jobs.

Treasurer and clerk each remained at $13,000 per year, and the trustees will make $60 per meeting, the same as last year.

The problems with the Village of Chelsea landfill prompted some discussion. The township decided to use its contingency fund to pay off any share of landfill clean-up study expenses rather than set up a special fund.

"We hope to work the landfill out like we did the fire truck fund," Schoenberg said.

The village spread the cost of the truck over several years based on the township's use of the department over 20 years.

Schoenberg said he expects Sylvan's share of the landfill study to be about $25,000.

"The village still hasn't come to us with a solid proposal," Schoenberg said.

Three Candidates File for Two Seats on Chelsea School Board

Three candidates have filed for two school board seats that will be up for election in the Chelsea School District June 12.

Challenger John Ruhlig will look to unseat one of two incumbents, Anne Comeau or Ron Satterthwaite, for election to a four-year term on the board.

Ruhlig, 249 Park St., is seeking office for the first time. Comeau, 5480 Conway, has served two four-year terms and Satterthwaite, 10500 Scio Church Rd., has served one term.

Deadline to file for election was Monday at 4 p.m.

Three other items will be on the June ballot. The school district wants voters to approve an override to the Headlee Amendment, which would translate into an additional $292,000 for the district. The override would allow the district to collect the total millage that has been authorized in previous elections.

Voters will also be asked to approve a renewal of a 5.8 mills for operating purposes.

Finally, Washtenaw Intermediate School District will seek approval of a bond issue. The numbers involved were not available at press time.

Lima Township Plans Meeting Tomorrow on Development

Lima township will hold a special public meeting Thursday, April 13 at 8 p.m. to discuss growth and development in the township.

The public is encouraged to attend and participate.

Planning consultant Don Pennington will be the moderator of the discussion.

Some items open for discussion will include where development should take place, and what soil and water conditions are. Recommendations by the special ad hoc committee will also be discussed. Some of those recommendations dealt with saving wetlands and changing growth patterns.

ASTRO MANUFACTURING CO. of N. Lima Center Rd. has begun to rebuild its final assembly plant. The original plant burned down last Dec. 10 in a fire of undetermined cause. Owner Chuck Rogers said the blaze forced the lay-off of several employees and forced the company to shift some of its functions to other plants. The new steel 75 by 125 building is about half the size of the old plant. Eventually the company will build another structure and get back to its original capacity. "I lost a bunch of money," Rogers said. "I can't do it all at once." The company manufactures caps for pick-up trucks.

Benefit Auction Set April 22 At Hospital

Chelsea Community Hospital's Spring Benefit Auction is only two weeks away. On April 22, Lloyd Braun and Jerry Helmer of Braun & Helmer Auction Service will conduct this gala event at the Hospital. Trips, tickets to sporting events, art, and entertainment items will be among those auctioned that evening. Braun & Helmer provide the fun and entertainment.

Proceeds from the auction will go towards the purchase of a Modular Vascular Laboratory.

Auction chairs, Archie and Cindy Bradbury, and co-chairs, Jeffrey and Sally Stommen, DDS, have been working with many community volunteers to make the event a success.

Gift donations have come from businesses, industry, and individuals throughout Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Grass Lake, Stockbridge, Ann Arbor, and Jackson. More than 100 items will be auctioned off!

For ticket information, call 475-3914.

A DONATION from Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary will be used toward the purchase of a modular vascular laboratory. The hospital is planning its Benefit Auction for Saturday, April 22 and Cindy Bradbury, left, is a co-chair of the event, along with her husband, Archie. Money from the auction will also be used to purchase the modular vascular lab. Right is auxiliary president Nettie Severn.

Leonard Soloman, Beach school teacher, invented a small, electrical, two-piece plug called the LDEC which he claimed would not only help parents wean their children from their television viewing habits but would prevent them from turning on dangerous or expensive equipment. The plug enabled a person to interrupt the electricity to an appliance by turning a lock.

One student activity during the week-long school dismissal for Spring break was enjoyed by approximately 80 members of the Chelsea High School Symphonic Band. The band left April 9 for a concert tour culminating in Washington, D.C. The busy five-day trip was led by director William Gourley and six chaperones.

Beach Middle school took first place in the junior division relays of the Special Olympics swim meet held in the Cameron pool at Beach Middle school. Participating in the meet were a total of 172 athletes from area schools. The Beach relay team, was composed of Kevin Viery, Steven Viery, Shawn Finley and Ed Krieger. The village planned to spend up to $1,500 for a used radio tower for village communications for the police, fire and utilities departments and use by the Chelsea Communications Club, which is instrumental in monitoring severe weather.

The state's largest conservation organization, the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, launched a Michigan Acid Rain Watch Program. It would regularly report on levels of acid rain falling on Michigan and its environmental and economic effects on the state.

The "Paint Spin" at the Key Club booth promised a beautiful abstract painting from a piece of cardboard and a revolving topped table that spun paint around leaving lines and blobs as bright and interesting as a French painter could make. The event was profitable for everyone including Tina Lindauer, a sophomore, who was chosen queen for the day.

Gary Jackson, vocational Agriculture teacher at Chelsea High school, was selected as one of 20 persons in Michigan to attend a leadership conference for vocational education administrators from June 28 to Aug. 18 during the summer at the University of Michigan.

The Rev. Warner H. Seibert accepted the call of St. Paul's church after a unanimous vote had been cast at a congregational meeting. He planned to take over his duties in late July.

Edge Legislation Favors Michigan Business

Legislation which would create jobs for Michigan residents and ultimately boost the state's economy through the bidding process for government purchases will be introduced in the State House of Representatives.

Under the "Michigan Edge" bill, sponsored by Rep. Nick Ciaramitaro (D-Roseville), companies bidding on state purchases would be allowed to indicate how much of their bid price is to be used to compensate Michigan workers.

The total bid would then be reduced by that amount for ranking purposes only, based on the assumption that 5 percent would come back to the state in the form of taxes and over-all spending.

Other factors considered in the bid process, including quality and time to complete a project, would still be considered, so there would be no guarantee that the company with more going to Michigan employees would get the bid, Ciaramitaro said.

"It's a fine line we are walking, but I think one that is necessary. It isn't an absolute that a Michigan company gets the bid, but it gives them an edge," said Rep. Debbie Stabenow (D-Lansing), whose Economic Development and Energy Committee is expected to address the bill.

Last year, Stabenow said, the state spent $250-$300 million on contracted goods and services, with 85 percent of that going to Michigan-based companies.

Under existing law, the Department of Management and Budget is required to award contracts on a competitive basis, regardless of whether the company employs Michigan residents.

Ciaramitaro and Stabenow said it is not not feasible to require all state purchases be made from Michigan vendors because retaliatory efforts could be made by other states, which would then exclude Michigan from their purchasing base.

This "edge" method, Ciaramitaro added, should not generate the retaliatory action because it is available to any company, not just those which are based in Michigan.

For example, he said, an Ohio company might be the low bidder on a construction project and receive the contract by employing Michigan persons to do the on-site work. "It encourages all businesses to use Michigan employees," he said.

Bidders would be required to provide the compensation information to the state with their bids, and those who gave false or deceptive information would be disqualified from the process and face civil penalties.

Federal Cuts Could Undermine Bonding Issue, Hales Says

Natural Resources Director David Hales said recently that proposed funding reductions by President Bush could undermine the wastewater treatment portion of the Quality of Life bond issue and severely impact the state's water pollution control projects.

The 50 percent reduction which has been proposed, he said, is not acceptable because the bond request approved in November by Michigan voters was based on projections of a $2.4 billion authorization this year from Congress, and a $10.8 billion appropriation through 1994.

The $80 million portion of the bond issue for a state revolving fund is to be used to match federal funds which have been pledged through 1994 by Congress.

The total dollars available to Michigan, under full funding, would be $365 million.

"The money raised by the bond issue was to match those federal funds, leveraging Michigan's ability to address massive sewer and wastewater treatment plant construction needs," Hales said.

"The $365 million would be used to make low interest loans to communities for sewage construction projects. We designed this program because the federal dollars are scheduled to end in total in 1994."

Blanchard Says More Must Be Done on Drugs, Crime

A State Police report earlier this week indicating serious crime in Michigan decreased by nearly 6 percent in 1988 is welcome, but Governor Blanchard said more needs to be done to fight organized crime and drug trafficking.

"We've worked hard to turn the corner on crime by ending the early release of dangerous felons, by building more prison cells, with drug strike teams blanketing the state," the governor said.

"But there is much more we can do, particularly to strike at the heart of organized crime and drug trafficking."

Blanchard listed items he mentioned in his State of the State address, such as multi-county grand juries, court-supervised wiretapping, greater authority to seize the profits made by criminals and life sentence without parole for those who commit heinous crimes, as necessary to fight crime.

"We must have these tools to fight crime. We must level the playing field for our police and prosecutors... to keep dangerous criminals off the streets," he said.

Earlier, the governor named Donald Riesig as a drug agencies director to co-ordinate programs.

The State Police reported serious criminal offenses—murder, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, arson, larceny and auto theft—declined by 5.7 percent in 1988.

The lone exception was rape, which increased 3.7 percent. All crime reports decreased by 3 percent from 1987 to 1988.

TEETH HAVE SPECIALIZED FUNCTIONS

Teeth vary in shape, size, and their location in the jaw. According to the American Dental Association, the differences between teeth enable them to work together to perform three basic functions:

- they help your face keep its shape and form.
- they help you to speak clearly.
- they help you chew and digest food.

The upper and lower teeth of the same shape work together to perform their special jobs. The incisors are located in the front of the mouth. They have sharp biting edges that cut food and they are curved to help guide food into the mouth. The canines (cusps) are located at the corners of the mouth. They have the longest root of any tooth and one sharp cusp to grasp and tear food. Just behind the cusps are the premolars (bicuspids). They have two or three cusps and one or two roots and their function is to crush and tear food. Finally come the molars. They are located in the back of the mouth and are much larger than the premolars having several cusps and two or three roots. Molars are used to grind and chew food.

As food moves from the front to the back of the mouth it is sequentially processed into finer and finer pieces until it is easily swallowed. In effect, the digestive process begins the moment food enters your mouth!

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"Don't make excuses make good"

—Old Adage

Whatever our endeavor, "making good" is apt to be quite an accomplishment. Making good is likely to call for new efforts and determination, plus other qualities including a certain amount of skill in the line we tackle.

Determination by itself is a long step towards success. It is often the drive that encourages us to try again when success fails to come easily. It encourages us to seek out and try new, more effective methods which eventually will carry us to our goals.

Our goal is to be available to serve you, with sympathy and understanding, whenever you need us. For complete details on our pre-need arrangement plans, drop in or phone for an appointment in our office or in your own home, if you prefer.

Women are maintaining an increasing proportion of all families (16.6 percent in 1987), according to the U. S. Labor Department. In white families, women maintained 13 percent; in black families, 43 percent; and in Hispanic families, 23 percent. Slightly more than two-fifths (42 percent) of the 3.8 million increase in family households between 1980 and 1986 was attributable to families maintained by women. In contrast, between 1940 and 1960, families maintained by women accounted for only 8 percent of the increase in the number of families. The majority of these lone parent women are in the labor force.

Consumer Food Prices Increase 2% in March

Consumer food prices rose slightly more than 2% in March, according to a retail food price survey conducted by the American Farm Bureau Federation. The increase follows a 2% drop in food prices recorded in February.

The Farm Bureau report was based on a 20-state survey, including Michigan, with monthly comparisons of 18 frequently purchased food items. The average market basket totaled $28.44 in March, compared with $27.83 in February.

Foods rising in price in March included ground chuck, sirloin roast, bacon, chicken, eggs, whole milk, potatoes, cereal, flour, bread, vegetable oil and mayonnaise. Pork chops, cheddar cheese, apples and soybean-based cooking oil dropped in price.

Whole fryers, eggs, ground beef and sirloin roast recorded the sharpest increases, reflecting smaller supplies, according to Farm Bureau.

Iver Schmidt Seeks State Veterans Post

The Military Order of the Purple Heart, Washtenaw County Chapter 459, will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Emil Jacobs American Legion Post 117, Manchester, Thursday, April 13 (tomorrow night).

All Purple Heart recipients are invited to the meeting, an important one for Chapter 459, since the group will elect new officers to guide the organization through the coming year.

Chapter 459 is supporting Iver Schmidt as a candidate for Department of Michigan senior vice-commander for the year ahead, and past Department of Michigan commander Gene Brown will be the upcoming national commander.

Schmidt explained current national commander Frank Athanasos was quoted in an article which expressed his feelings, "Stop keeping the secret!"

"As the Military Order of the Purple Heart, we certainly lack recognition—not only for who we are, but also for all the truly magnificent deeds performed daily by our membership and the Ladies Auxiliary," Schmidt said.

He suggested, "Greater effort must be put forth to contact the thousands of Purple Heart recipients who have yet to hear of our order."

In the last line of his article, Athanasos noted, "If we work together, no goal is too ambitious for us to accomplish."

Schmidt reminded, "We must work together now to help all the veterans who need our help."

"As most of us know, we have a newly established cabinet post, Secretary of Veterans Organizations. We worked hard to achieve this," Schmidt explained.

"Commander Athanasos said the word veteran was not once used in President George Bush's State of the Union address. 'It will be a year or so before we'll be able to see what the results will be, one way or another, of having the new Secretary of Veterans Organizations. Meanwhile, we must offer our support,'" he advised.

"With the advent of this new status for the Veterans Administration, it's an ideal time for a long-range plan to help guide the Veterans Affairs for the next 20 or 30 years. We need strong leadership in our new secretary. Everything depends on our support, and one of the greatest supports is members. We need all of you to provide sufficient support. More can be said, but the best is, 'Come, join us, and express your ideas.' We need you in Washtenaw County Chapter 459 of the Military Order of the Purple Heart. Remember, the meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday (tomorrow), April 13, at 203 Adrian St., Manchester," Schmidt concluded.

Byron Pearson Will Present Trumpet Recital

Byron Pearson will present a trumpet recital in Ann Arbor, at the Kerrytown Concert House, 415 N. 4th Ave., on Friday, April 14, at 8 p.m.

Byron grew up in Chelsea and is a 1966 graduate of Chelsea High School. He also holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan.

That evening he will be performing music by J. W. Moller, Folke Rabe, William Kraft, and Jean Francaix. Tickets are $8 each and may be reserved by calling 769-2999.

Presently Pearson is professor of trumpet and director of the Brass Guild at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. He is active as a soloist and recitalist throughout the United States, with recent performances in Tucson, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, and other cities across Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Arizona. Two Crystal Records albums feature Pearson in performances of music for trumpet and organ.

Pearson has held the positions of associate first trumpet with the New Orleans Philharmonic, assistant principal trumpet with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, featured soloist with the United States Marine Band in Washington, D. C., and has performed with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra on many occasions.

In the greater Cleveland area Pearson is a frequent performer in many capacities: as a member of the Ohio Chamber Orchestra, the Cleveland Ballet, the Metropolitan Brass Quintet, as well as numerous engagements as a commercial and jazz trumpeter.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY HOSPITAL AUXILIARY recently donated money to the hospital, which will be used in occupational therapy, surgery recovery room, intensive care unit, children's center, and the headache unit. Appliance Store Owner Upset with Zoning Inspector Appliance store owner Leon Meabon was cited by village zoning inspector Rosemary Harook for leaving old appliances outside by the side of his building.

Harook, who tagged the S. Main St. business, with help from Chelsea police, apparently made Meabon angry. According to police reports, Meabon was hostile and yelled various obscenities at Harook, who admitted to being surprised by Meabon's choice of words.

Harook said she initially acted on a complaint by Chelsea resident Harold Allen, who is opening a laundromat in the adjoining Chelsea Shopping Center.

Meabon, according to reports, told Harook that the person who was hired to haul the old appliances away hadn't shown up.

Can Breaks Out Window

A Chestnut St. woman told Chelsea police that someone threw a whipped cream can through her front door sidelight on Saturday, April 8 at about 11:30 p.m.

The woman said the hurler appeared to leave the scene in a dark Firebird automobile.

Rebuilding I-94 in Jackson Area May Cause Slowdowns

Rebuilding I-94 in Jackson resumed Saturday, April 8 the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) has said.

There will be occasional traffic slowdowns during the day due to one-lane traffic along a three-mile stretch of the freeway. The project runs from east of Airport Rd. to west of Elm Rd. All lanes will reopen at night.

In late April when paving operations begin, traffic will be reduced to one lane in each direction. Department engineers expect the project to be fully open to traffic in late June.

It is the second stage of a seven-mile, $2.7 million project which began last summer. The contractor is Ajax Construction, Inc., of Madison Heights.

MDOT urges motorists to comply with the 45 mph speed limit through construction zones.

Chelsea Players Hire Famed Director for 'Singing in the Rain'

Chelsea Area Players are off and running again with the 1989 summer production of "Singing in the Rain" under the direction of critically acclaimed Newell Krings.

Krings, a member of the Society of Stage Directors and Choreographers, is a highly diversified theater professional. His Off Broadway production of "Brandy Before Breakfast" was described as "a fast paced show ... full of surprises and amazing wisdom." His direction of "Wait Until Dark" was described as "taut as high-tension wires." While his direction of "It's Only a Play" was acclaimed as "glorious fun" and "paced like a chain reaction."

Krings, an accomplished musician, conducted for the Flint Opera Company's European tour of "Porgy and Bess" and has directed over two dozen musicals in New York and across the country.

Krings also enjoys the challenges inherent in such plays as Tennessee Williams' "Sweet Bird of Youth" and Tom Lehrer's "Tom Foolery."

Other directing credits include two premieres, "The Twilight Trade" and "Rocky Flats: A Nuclear Musical" plus "Biloxi Blues," "A Christmas Carol," "The Music Man," "Under the Yum-Yum Tree," "Roshomon," "The Red Shoes," "Dandy Yankee Trilogy" and "When Are You coming Back Red Rider."

As if this weren't enough, Krings founded and continues to run Newplay Development Services, a consulting service for new playwrights. He is also currently directing "Sherlock's Last Case," at Flint Community Theater.

When asked about his philosophy of directing, Krings replied that he sees himself as an artist "leading artists in a collaboration of artists." He is looking forward to working with CAP.

Krings has decided to keep his permanent residence in this area and is looking forward to working with this community.

"Singing in the Rain" pre-audition screening for vocal and dance is scheduled for May 4-7 at Chelsea High school. Technical and casting auditions will be held May 15 and 16. Watch this paper for more information or call Steve Leeman at 475-9386.

Bulldogs!

Softball Team Opens With Losses to No. 1 Northwest

Chelsea Bulldog softball team lost a double-header to Jackson Northwest, the state's top-ranked class B team, as they opened the season on the road last Thursday.

However, they came back on Saturday to win three straight games at Webberville.

In Thursday's opener, two of the state's best pitchers faced each other and Northwest took a 4-0 win.

"It was a well-played game by both teams," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We had our chances but we just couldn't score."

Chelsea hurler Jenni Smith gave up four hits, walked three, and struck out eight.

The only run scored in the second inning on a triple and a ground out.

Laura Unterbrink took the loss in the second game as Northwest collected seven runs in the fifth-inning on their way to an 8-1 win.

Northwest had four straight hits off Unterbrink to start the inning and relief pitcher Christy Petty couldn't find the plate.

Chelsea's only run scored in the seventh as Shannon Losey singled home Laura Unterbrink, who had walked.

"Offensively we were non-existent," Clarke said.

"Defensively we were somewhat better, but very frustrated."

Chelsea won all three games at Webberville in convincing fashion.

In the opener, Smith tossed a one-hitter as the Bulldogs blasted Webberville 15-1.

"I wondered when we would break out of our slump and we sure did it in fine style in this game," Clarke said.

"And Jenni Smith pitched a fine game."

Chelsea fell behind 1-0 after two innings but exploded for eight runs in the third.

After three straight walks, Kim Easton singled in a run. Smith was safe on an error for another run, and Laura Unterbrink rapped a three-run triple down the third base line. Christy Petty singled in Unterbrink for the sixth run. Later in the inning, Amy Thomson singled in a run and Heather Neibauer hit a run-scoring double.

Scharme Petty's bases-loaded single in the fourth inning scored two more runs.

Chelsea's final five runs came in the fifth, highlighted by Laura Unterbrink's two-run double. She finished the game with two hits and five RBI.

In the second game, Chelsea scored six runs in the third inning and went on to take a 10-6 victory over Schwartz Creek.

Laura Unterbrink went the distance on the mound. She gave up 10 hits but struck out 11 and walked two.

"She pitched around a very good-hitting team," Clarke said.

Schwartz Creek is a big class A team that hits well.

In the third, Neibauer and Losey reached on bunt singles and Easton singled to load the bases.

Smith dropped a suicide squeeze bunt for a run, Laura Unterbrink walked for another run, and Christy Petty grounded out for another run. The final runs were scored on a walk and a single by Scharme Petty.

Chelsea picked up single runs in each the fourth and fifth innings to take an 8-4 lead after five innings.

In the fourth, Easton singled, moved to second on a pass ball, stole third, and scored on a bunt single by Smith.

In the fifth, Neibauer hit a run-scoring single.

Chelsea scored their final two runs in the sixth on a walk and singles by Kelly Bellus, Kelly Dale, and Scharme Petty.

Easton ended the game as Chelsea's big hitter with a 3-4 performance.

Chelsea won the final game over Portland, the state's 10th ranked team, 9-0.

Two big innings gave Smith her second victory of the season.

"We played a fine game in less than good weather conditions," Clarke said of the snowy weather.

"We are starting to mold into a team, but we still have a long way to go before our league season begins."

Smith tossed a two-hitter. She struck out eight and walked one.

In the five-run second inning, Smith singled, Laura Unterbrink singled, Christy Petty walked, Scharme Petty singled in a run and Dale tripled in three runs. Losey singled in the final run.

In the fifth inning, Losey, Easton, and Smith all singled to start. A bunt by Laura Unterbrink and sacrifices by Christy Petty and Scharme Petty produced the final three runs.

Chelsea was 3-2 on the season after last week's action.

COLLEEN SCHARPHORN pitched the first game of the season for the Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity softball team.

Baseball Team Drops Cold Opener

Chelsea Bulldog varsity baseball team was shut out by Pioneer High school in the opening game of the season last Saturday at home.

Pioneer won the game, 3-0, but the primary opponent of each team might have been the weather. The game was delayed three times due to a combination of rain, sleet, and driving snow and ended after five innings of play.

"It's hard to evaluate a team under those conditions," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"I was real encouraged by the way Junior (Morseau) pitched. He threw very well under the circumstances."

Morseau gave up two infield hits, but none of them led to a run.

Pioneer scored all three runs in the fifth inning on two walks, a wild pitch, two errors, and a pass ball.

"Some of it was due to the weather but we didn't play real sharp, either."

Tom Mesnard's double was the only hit for the Bulldogs.

Chelsea hosts the Chelsea-Manchester Invitational this weekend.

CHRISTINE BURG takes a swat at the ball during the home last Thursday. The JVs had a rough time with Chelsea junior varsity softball team's season opener at Jackson Northwest and lost both games.

JV Bulldogs Drop Two to Northwest

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity softball team opened the season with a double-header loss to Jackson Northwest, 14-9 and 14-0, last Thursday, April 6 in cold, windy weather.

"We had a lot of first game nerves," said Chelsea coach Ken Sullins.

"We're young, we'll make a lot of mistakes. The key to our season will be how well we learn from our mistakes."

Colleen Scharphorn pitched the first game and appeared in good shape as her teammates gave her a 5-0 lead in the top of the first and increased the lead to 7-0 in the second.

However, Northwest came back for 10 runs in the second, third, and fourth innings and held the Bulldogs scoreless until the seventh. Scharphorn walked 14 batters and gave up five hits for the game.

Chelsea's five-run first inning was highlighted by singles by Christine Burg, Kelly Bellus, and Kathy Issel, and a double by Carrie Flintoft.

A walk, Scharphorn's double, and another single by Issel scored the two runs in the second.

Chelsea's final two runs scored on singles by Jennifer Petty and Burg, and a triple by Sara Musolf.

Chelsea was held hitless in the second game, while the Bulldog defense also committed seven errors. Flintoft suffered the five-inning loss, although she pitched fairly well, according to Sullins.

Northwest had eight hits and played nearly flawless defense.

Saline Track Meet Rescheduled

Chelsea High school track meet with Saline, originally scheduled for Thursday, April 20, has been changed to Monday, April 17 at 4:30 p.m. at the Chelsea track.

Chelsea sought the change because of the large number of runners involved in the band trip to California April 18-23.

Because of the large number of teams involved, the Chelsea Relays, also scheduled during that time, has not been changed. The annual event will be held on Saturday, April 22 at 10 a.m.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
As a female athlete I am particularly sensitive to women's coverage in the media. As a result of the women's rights movement women looked inward to see themselves as women, not as objects for men. However, many women have not altered their role in part due to the male-dominated advertising industry. Take for instance the Sports Illustrated Swimsuit Issue.

As a predominantly male-oriented magazine the swimsuit issue, and all the hype that accompanies it, is Sports Illustrated's largest circulating issue each year. This is the one major issue that features women. Yet, instead of portraying women as athletes, the swimsuit issue exploits women. This issue depicts women as objects rather than as athletes.

Women are encouraged by society and the advertising industry to cultivate beauty and sex-appeal. Hence, women attempt to make themselves look like the model image portrayed by the advertising techniques illustrated in newspapers, magazines, billboards, and television. The Sports Illustrated Swimsuit Issue marks the beginning of the "getting into shape for the summer" season forcing women into a pattern of dieting and rigorous physical exercise—all in preparation for the competition at the beach. So while Sports Illustrated promotes men competing in sports, it also promotes women competing with each other.

Alisha Dorow,
Freshman, Penn State.

Dear Sir,
The proposed Healthcare Rights Amendment 27 to The Constitution of the United States reads as follows:

"Section 1. The Congress shall make no law which restricts any individual's right to choose and to practice the type of health care they shall elect for themselves or their children for the prevention or treatment of any disease, injury, illness or ailment of the body or the mind."

"Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this Article."

"Section 3. The amendment shall take effect immediately after the date of ratification."

Section 2 should be stricken from the proposed 27th Amendment. Why give those money hungry demagogues the power to modify, limit and selectively enforce rights (Life, Liberty and Pursuit of Happiness) guaranteed by the creator?

Raymond Coulter.

Dear Sir:
I would like to thank the people of this area for their support of our children as they sold candy bars outside of Polly's Supermarket for our school. I was touched by the tenderheartedness of the people as they responded to my children's sales efforts. I appreciate, too, a store like Polly's which allows charitable organizations to raise money on their premises. I'm thankful to live in an area like this!

Paul Kleinschmidts Display Miniature Farm Implements

At the April 3 meeting of the Chelsea Area Historical Society, Paul Kleinschmidt and his wife, Liz, of Dexter, presented a program on the changes in farming and farm tools using Paul's hand-carved miniature farm implement collection for props.

Each winter since 1982, Paul has gathered pine wood and paint to create what he now calls his "memory toys." It all began when Liz asked what a "gravel wagon" was. He built a small replica and demonstrated to Liz how it was used.

Paul's farm life spanned an era of great change, between 1923 and 1982 when he lived with his parents, Frank and Emma, on their farm on Northfield Church Rd.

His wind-up telephone, three-hole outhouse, horse and wagon, one-bottom plow, one-horse sleigh, and wood hauling sleigh brought back the earliest memories of new inventions, electricity, farming with horses and stocking ice blocks and wood for the winter. Paul saw the last of the clearing of the land of timber and rocks, and he demonstrated his "stone boat" and "log boat" used for clearing. He further explained that his parents had a saw mill on their property, and that the ice was gathered from Independence Lake. Two farmers would share an ice house. He remembered a lot of crates were made at their saw mill.

Roads were bad with ruts, and in order for the milk wagon to get through to each farm and pick up the milk, the ruts were filled with stones. The poor conditions of country roads brought up the purpose of gravel wagons. Farmers gathered in the spring at a local gravel pit, loaded up all their wagons, and spread the gravel on roads in front of their farms by lifting out slats to let it fall out one side, then the other. A county road master controlled where it was spread, and farmers used to get a tax break for helping to gravel the roads in the early 1920's.

A hay wagon with one man standing up front included levers to lower platforms. All Paul's miniatures had ropes, belts, pulleys, gears and were accurate in every detail. Paul said they unloaded hay into the barn by hand, then "got smart" and put a track in the top of the barn hooked up with pulleys and ropes to a team of horses which hauled the hay into the mow.

Implements to process wheat, oats, barley and corn, such as a hay loader, grain binder, thresher, corn binder, and finally his own International 1530 tractor were demonstrated one by one. Glen Wiseman, a local Chelsea area farmer, asked if that was a "three-plow job." It was run by gas, and a few farmers in the audience did remember earlier steam tractors which operated on wood or coal and spewed sparks all over.

'MEMORY TOYS,' Paul Kleinschmidt's collection of hand-made miniature farm implements were shown and described by him and his wife, Liz, at the April meeting of Chelsea Area Historical Society.

Of course the ladies recalled harvest time. "Back-in those days farmers worked together," all agreed. One farm wife remembered feeding all the help each morning, noon, and night, and all the wash basins set out with water to warm in the sun where before meals the neighbors helping could clean up a bit with some soap and water.

Paul's last two miniatures were a cream separator, which he described in detail how it operated, and a tiny corn binder with tiny stalks of corn, used to bind drying corn stalks in the field very tightly.

For less than an hour the CAHS audience in the Chelsea Depot took a colorful memory trip back to the old days of a disappearing era of farming.

The use of the carefully fashioned items from the Kleinschmidt farm made the trip even more eventful. However, promptly at 9 p.m., most had to hurry home to the University of Michigan championship basketball game!

The May historical society meeting will be held at the Chelsea Methodist Home, with a date and program to be announced.

Women are still heavily concentrated in low-paying jobs, according to the U.S. Labor Department. The average woman earns 65 cents for every dollar earned by the average man when both work year round, full time. According to 1987 median weekly earnings data, the five most lucrative occupations for women are: lawyers, physicians, engineers, personnel and labor relations managers, and computer systems analysts and scientists.

Children's Center Plans Open House, Pot-Luck

Chelsea Community Hospital Children's Center is planning two events for all interested members of the community to attend.

On Tuesday, April 18, Open Houses are planned for both of the Children's Center sites: St. Paul United Church of Christ, 14600 Old US-12, between 4 p.m. and 5:30 p.m., and Our Savior Lutheran church, 1515 S. Main, between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

The Center's St. Paul site offers child care to children ages 2½ weeks to 5 years in infant, toddler, and preschool programs. School-age children, ages 5 to 12, are cared for at the Our Savior site.

The Open Houses will offer hospital employees, church and community members an opportunity to tour the sites, meet the staff, and receive additional information about the program.

In celebration of April as the "Month of the Young Child" the Children's Center will sponsor a family pot-luck. It will be held in the Fellowship Hall of St. Paul United Church of Christ at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, April 25. Families should bring their own table service and a dish to pass.

For more information about either of these events or the Children's Center, contact Kathy Young, director, 475-3922.

Memoriam 20In Loving Memory of SCOTT CORDELL

The few months you've been gone have been very trying times. I wait for you to walk through the door, but it never happens. For a time I was filled with guilt, anger and bitterness. But now I've come to realize you're better off in God's hands. You no longer have to endure the pain of people's cruel words or the broken promises of this world. Though I will always miss your smile and your caring ways, I wouldn't wish you back to endure the pain you so hated. The door to heaven is open for all of us, too, and when our time comes we'll join you there. You really aren't gone, you just had a new beginning and so did those left without you. Love always,

A Friend.

Federal Reserve Policy Frustrates Nations' Farmers

The current Federal Reserve policy of increasing interest rates has a direct impact on production agriculture by increasing the cost of carrying debt and slowing the worldwide growth in demand for farm products, according to Michigan Farm Bureau economist Bob Craig. Representatives from Farm Bureau and several agricultural commodity organizations met with Federal Reserve Board chairman Alan Greenspan last week to discuss those concerns.

"Farmers suffered the results of excessive federal reserve tightening in 1982 and 1984 so they're very sensitive," Craig said. "They are frustrated because they don't know what the Federal Reserve is doing and why. They believe Federal Reserve policy should receive as much public debate and discussion as federal taxing and spending policies do."

Craig said the farm leaders urged Greenspan to put monetary policy on even-keel and to end the stop-and-go monetary policies that have dominated economic activity for the past 20 years.

Drug Counseling Expert Will Provide Local Help

As an educator, Bill Manning is a natural. People say he knows kids. They also say he knows teachers and has the leadership ability to motivate individuals to assume responsibilities in education, to accomplish tasks in learning.

At least two communities in Washtenaw county have invited the nationally-known expert who's working to limit alcohol and other substance abuse, and to focus the attention of entire communities on helping its youth address the really important decisions of their lives, to share at least several hours in their midst.

Manchester and Dexter are urging their citizens to join in the valuable opportunity, to get a handle on how best to "beat the substance-abuse problems" which have surfaced across the nation during the past few years.

Bill Manning probably understands the demands of education a lot more than the average person.

His grass roots experiences are drawn from nearly every level in the field of education—teacher, coach, assistant principal, athletic director, high school principal and school board member.

Four years of coaching duties included that of head wrestling coach, with other coaching assignments in track and football.

He served with the United States Air Force Reserve from September, 1943, until November the following year, at which time he went on active duty for the next two years, with assignments in Japan and Korea, in addition to those in the continental United States.

Manning wasn't just locked in to his education career.

He served as justice of the peace for three years, constable for a year, and is a past president of the Wayzata Lions Club.

He was one of the steering committee members during the Centennial Celebration for the City of Wayzata, served on the Wayzata Charter Commission, chaired the Wayzata, Minn., Parks and Recreation Commission for four years, worked on three school district bond issues, and was active in Boy Scout work within his community.

His current publications include "Harmfully Involved" and "Harmfully Involved, Updated."

Should anyone doubt his qualifications as a trainer and consultant in alcohol and drug abuse, as well as a wise consultant in school, family and community affairs, Manning's training in the field of chemical dependency included work at the Johnson Institute in Minneapolis, a general three-week instruction and a one-week internship, with additional work in intervention training, group-skills and family-illness counseling.

Here's a guy who has pretty well been exposed to the realities of the world, and stood up to those realities.

Since he earned his high school diploma in 1944 at West Waterloo, Ia., he's been working in 42 states and three Canadian provinces.

Far and near, the big cities and tiny little burbs—he's visited so many communities on his consulting and counseling circuit, it's not possible to list them all.

He's worked with the very young, and the not-so-very young, meeting the needs of each.

As anyone might imagine, his honors and awards would fill two or three scrapbooks, but his special field of dedication at this time of his life is as private consultant and trainer to schools, families, and communities in the alcohol and drug field.

He's also interested in dysfunctional families, problem-solving and decision-making.

Manning and his wife, Bettie, have four grown children, Steve, 38, Linda, 35, Pat (Bucky), 31, and Tom, 28.

If there's a question you've been saving to ask just the right person, Manning's probably that person.

Get involved yourself by "asking." Thursday's community meeting is a most appropriate place to ask your question, because it's likely a dozen more people wonder about the same question—they'll be tickled you asked it, you can bet.

Here's a guy who's been through it all, in terms of training, exposure and experience.

He'll be right here in the Dexter and Manchester communities to meet with citizens of all ages.

Give yourself a break, and attend at least one of the sessions scheduled with Bill Manning.

Chances are, you'll want to return to chat with him again before he leaves.

WILLIAM O. MANNING

Dexter Itinerary

Manning's itinerary during his time in Dexter will begin Thursday, April 13, with a scheduled 5:30 p.m. dinner at the parish hall of St. James Episcopal church on Broad St.

The event will be catered by Dexter's own Paul and Pat Cousins, officially Cousins Heritage Inn.

Invitations have been issued to many churches, civic groups, law enforcement and local government officials and other organizations, asking each to send a representative to attend the dinner and meet the renowned substance abuse counselor, who has agreed to try and help both Manchester and Dexter overcome some of the obstacles to achieving drug-free communities in which to raise their young people.

Some of the topics which may be discussed during the welcoming dinner include "Why Do We Need To Be Concerned?" and "Encouraging Community Involvement."

Following the dinner, the entire community is invited to meet at the Wylie school cafeteria, where Bill Manning will share ideas on how to recognize substance abuse problems, and what people can do if they want to learn more—or find help.

Sgt. Joseph Yekulis, who has helped co-ordinate this week's events in both Dexter and Manchester, will be introduced during the meeting at Wylie school.

Yekulis, as an officer with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, has worked with concerned citizens in both Manchester and Dexter to promote programs designed to curb substance abuse, as have his colleagues in the law enforcement community.

Shirley Bitters and Linda Chapman, both of whom have been working actively with students in the Dexter Community Schools, and their parents, will also be introduced during the Thursday evening meeting.

Brochures will be available from Alcoholics Anonymous (AA), Alanon, and the hospitals at Brighton and Chelsea, offering specific information on their work in preventing and treating substance abuse.

Teachers and school administrators will return to Wylie school Friday for a 7 a.m. meeting with Manning in the school library.

They will discuss "Dysfunctional Families, The Impact on Learning" and "Creating a Learning Environment for Students from Dysfunctional Families," while coffee, juice and rolls are served.

Moving on to the Bates Elementary school, Manning will discuss more information on the same two subjects with the faculty and administrators, beginning at 8 a.m.

A 10 a.m. meeting is scheduled in the superintendent's conference room at Dexter High school, where school administrators and members of the Board of Education will hear Manning's ideas on "What We Can Do To Address The Issues" and "How We Can Give More Support to Our Staff."

Manning will join the school's substance abuse co-ordinator Shirley Bitters for lunch in the high school cafeteria at 11:30 a.m., and at 12:45 p.m., the high school gym will provide a meeting place for the assembly with Dexter High students.

Suggested topics during the assembly include "Reasons Not To Use," "Where To Find Help," and "How To Spot, If Our Peer or Family Is In Trouble."

At 2 p.m., sixth-, seventh- and eighth-grade students will gather in the Wylie gym for an assembly with Manning, who will talk with them about "Peer Pressure: Good and Bad" and "Feeling Good About Yourself."

Parents are invited to the assemblies at both Dexter High and Wylie Middle school, Friday afternoon.

Bill Manning will be available for approximately 30 minutes, beginning at 3 p.m. in the Wylie library, to answer questions from teachers and students.

A 3:30 p.m. de-briefing session is planned with the core members of the Dexter Community Adolescent Substance Abuse Task Force, to provide Manning and that particular group time to determine insight gained during his two-day visit, and suggestions which may help accomplish the targeted goal of the Task Force—a drug-free Dexter for its youth.

Manchester Itinerary

Hayden Carruth conducted the March 20 meeting of the Substance Abuse Awareness Committee in Manchester, Kay Silkworth and Bill Kindt reviewed the schedule for Bill Manning's visit to the Manchester community.

The updated schedule will include a 7:45 a.m. breakfast Wednesday morning, April 12 (today), with the Chamber of Commerce, Optimists Club and Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSD), after which a 9 a.m. meeting with WCSD personnel will be held, just prior to a meeting at 10:30 a.m. with Manchester Schools bus drivers and support staff.

At 11:45 a.m., a luncheon is scheduled with Manchester area clergy at the Emanuel United Church of Christ, 324 W. Main St.

Student meetings will be held with youngsters in grades 1-4, beginning at 1:45 p.m., and a meeting is scheduled for Manning with the coaches at 3:15 p.m.

Wednesday evening (tonight), a 7 p.m. community meeting will be held at Manchester High school, to which people of the entire Manchester area are invited.

Thursday morning, April 13, Manning will share many of his ideas with members of the Manchester schools staff, after which fifth and sixth graders will meet with him at 8:50 a.m. and seventh- and eighth-grade students will join the nationally-known substance abuse advisor at a 9:45 a.m. meeting.

Manning will be joining Manchester Senior Citizens for a 12 noon luncheon, he will be speak at 12:30 p.m. with the seniors.

Manchester High students will meet with him at 1:30 p.m., at 2:25 p.m.

members of the Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) will share nearly an hour with Manning, before he returns to the Community Resource Center to speak with drop-in visitors, from 3:15 to 5 p.m.

Chuck Silkworth and Hayden Carruth will be available to serve as community ushers during Manning's visit.

Vicky Wurster has volunteered as hostess for Tuesday evening's 7:30 p.m. Open House, at 344 Lafayette St. Vicky will provide the refreshments at the Open House.

On Wednesday night, Charlene Miller and the SADD group will set up refreshments outside the high school library for the 7 p.m. community meeting.

SADD, SAAC and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department will provide handouts for a table display at the community meeting.

Ann Arbor Printing Co. is donating publicity posters for Manning's visit.

The posters arrived for distribution, Tuesday, April 4, at the Community Resource Center.

Roger Boyce prepared a grocery-bag stuffer.

It was decided at the March 20 meeting, the Substance Abuse Awareness Committee would cover the cost of the Wednesday breakfast for all members of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

More women are choosing to be entrepreneurs—starting their own businesses, according to the U.S. Labor Department. The number of women-owned businesses in the U.S. rose from 1.9 million in 1977 to 3.3 million in 1983. Women's share of all non-farm sole proprietorships rose from nearly 23 percent in 1977 to 28 percent in 1983.

QUESTION:

What Kind Of People Go To Chiropractors?

ANSWER:

People Who Want To Get Well Without The Use Of Drugs Or Surgery.

Chiropractors treat people from all walks of life: older people—children; laborers—office workers; professional athletes—weekend sports enthusiasts; business people—and other health-care professionals go to chiropractors. The reason: chiropractic is an approach to health which utilizes the body's inherent and natural recuperative powers. And often, chiropractic has been successful where other treatment has failed.

You don't have to have a special kind of health problem to visit a chiropractor.

Executive Session Fails To Settle Easement Question

Chelsea Village Council met in executive session with village attorney Peter Flintoft last Tuesday, April 4 to discuss how to deal with payment for a sewer easement across land owned by Art and Ruth Dils on N. Main St.

The village has the easement. However, the price of the easement has yet to be decided. A court date has been scheduled to determine the matter.

However, some members of council questioned whether the village should pursue the legal expense of going to court rather than settling out of court.

No action was taken after the discussion. Village manager Robert Stalker said it was his impression the village would not make a quick decision on which alternative to pursue.

EDITH SLANE

Edith Slane Day At Covenant Church

A life-long resident of the area, Edith Slane, will be "Queen for A Day" at Covenant church April 16.

The church has been honoring each of their octogenarians at the 10:30 worship service. Family and friends help make it a memorable day by attending the service with her—and taking her out to dinner afterward.

One of Edith's highlights is receiving a letter from President John Kennedy. She had written and published a song about early schooldays and had sent him a copy. He responded with a letter of appreciation! Efforts are being made to have that song used as a part of the Recognition Service.

Edith was born to John and Emma Bruestle of Sharon township in 1908. She and her twin sister, Ethel, have been active in church and community affairs and are well known.

Active as a girl in the Sharon church where her mother was organist, she joined Emmanuel church in Manchester, then St. Paul's in Chelsea and later became a charter member of Covenant. She recalls early experiences of gathering around the old pump organ with her family as her mother played and the family sang the songs of the church.

A worker all of her life, she invested years at Federal Screw Works and Rockwell. Later she kept busy delivering flowers for a local florist. Edith married Martin Slane who died in 1961. She has two daughters, Mary Lou Bauer in West Virginia and Shirley Flint in Manchester. Edith counts seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Several of them will be at the special service. A grandson, Robert Bentley, was raised by Martin and Edith. He was killed in an accident in 1984.

There is a little dog called "Marty," at her home of 36 years, 113 Grant. The dog is a constant companion as she keeps herself busy with household chores and errands around town.

Edith chauffeurs people to church who do not have transportation and gets involved in the church suppers at every opportunity. People consider her sense of humor and ready smile a source of great inspiration. She loves people with an exuberance and is loved in return.

Farm Bureau Says Proposed Minimum Wage Is Anti-Agriculture

The minimum wage increase bill (H.R. 2), passed by the U.S. House of Representatives recently, is an anti-agriculture proposal, according to Michigan Farm Bureau Public Affairs Director Al Almay. The bill raises the federal minimum wage from the current $3.35 per hour to $4.55 per hour by 1991. It provides a modified training wage proposal permitting employers to pay $3.35 per hour to first-time employees for the first 60 days of employment.

"Farm Bureau opposes any increase in the minimum wage, especially any bill which does not include a training wage provision," Almay said. "While H.R. 2 contains a version of a training wage, it is essentially meaningless for most employers, especially agricultural employers."

The training wage provision of the House-passed bill is limited only to persons who have never worked before. It sunsets after 1992.

"Except for a handful of 16-year-olds, this training wage does nothing to protect the vast majority of low-skilled, entry-level workers," Almay said. "Worst of all, agricultural employers are specifically prohibited from offering or paying the training wage to any agricultural employee."

"The Oct. 1, 1989 effective date for the first 50% increase will have an immediate negative effect upon seasonal industries which hire large numbers of temporary or part-time workers at year end, such as late season harvest crews," he said.

Almay said Farm Bureau will urge defeat of the bill by the Senate. The bill was expected to be on the floor of the Senate as early as the week of April 10.

L. Estleman Has New Book In Hardcover

Houghton Mifflin Co. of Boston has announced the publication in hardcover of "Silent Thunder," the ninth book in the popular Amos Walker detective series by Dexter area writer Loren D. Estleman.

The trail leads Walker from the small-time merchants who sell Saturday night specials on the street to the international arms dealers who trade in nuclear weapons overseas.

Fawcett Books of New York has also announced the paperback publication of "Downriver," the most recent novel in the Amos Walker series before "Silent Thunder." Both books are available in area bookstores.

Free Soil Test Samples Available

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District's Michigan Energy Conservation Program (MECP) is offering up to five free soil samples to county farmers. The MECP will pay for analysis of the soil samples through the Michigan State University Soil Testing Lab.

Purpose of the free soil sample program is to assist farmers in managing their fertilizer use and show them where they can save money and improve profitability by following soil test recommendations for their crops.

Farmers who want to receive the free soil samples will be provided information on how to take proper soil samples and will have to complete a worksheet on their normal fertilizing practices. When the soil test results are returned, a computer program will be used to compare normal fertilizer practices versus Michigan State University fertilizer recommendations to show where farmers can save money on their fertilizer bill.

Participation in the MECP free soil sample program is limited. Interested persons should contact MECP technician, Dennis Rice at the Soil Conservation District office, at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor. Telephone: (313) 761-6721.
