PARKING LOT next to the Chelsea Depot was paved last week, as were Dewey St., W. Middle St., Jackson St., and the new long-term parking lot behind the village fire hall. The area from the depot west to the first island is reserved for customers and employees of Farmer's Supply and Longworth Plating. Those companies have a long-term lease on the property.

Domino's Gets Final OK From Village Planners On Revised Site Plans

Revised plans submitted by Domino's Pizza have been approved by the Chelsea Village Planning Commission, clearing the way for a store to be built at the corner of Lincoln and Main St. at the former site of Ralph Fletcher's Friendly Service.

The commission took the action at their regular June 27 meeting. Two months ago the commission denied approval of plans that would keep the existing curb cut on Main St. Planners objected to what they felt would be a hazardous traffic pattern created by Main St., Van Buren St., and Chelsea Community Hospital traffic. Store owner Becky Belknap disagreed, saying it would be hazardous to have cars backing out on Lincoln St.

Revised plans address both objections. Essentially, a U-shaped drive would be set up off Lincoln St. that would allow for traffic to flow through the parking lot without having to back out onto the street. Some spaces have been set up parallel to the drive for Domino's delivery vehicles. In addition, a handloap parking spot and other parking has been set up for walk-in business.

The Main St. curb cut will be completely closed so all traffic will enter the lot through Lincoln St. "We're real excited and real happy about this," Belknap said. "We're ready to go forward."

Construction on the store will begin as soon as all necessary permits have been obtained. In addition, Belknap has to line up all her contractors again. However, she's shooting for a September opening.

"We'd like to be open by fair time, although that's probably not realistic," she said.

The current building will be extensively remodeled, although no structures will be added to it.

Domino's will become the village's second new pizza-delivery business this year. Cottage Inn opened last week-end in Chelsea Shopping Center.

In other planning commission business, site plans for the new Faith In Action building on the campus of Chelsea Community Hospital were not approved as certain information was not supplied.

Consultant Lee Fahrner said storm-water drainage was a primary issue.

Site plans for a new building and two truck bays at Hatch Stamping Co. were approved.

School District Begins Summer Building Maintenance Program

Chelsea School District has begun its summer maintenance schedule and this year plans to spend $207,500 for work at all four schools.

Money spent this summer comes from the 1989-90 budget. The one-million earmarked for maintenance will bring the district $212,970, said assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

The work includes the following.

- $30,000 for asbestos removal.
- $17,000 for interior painting at all four schools.
- $10,000 for paving at South school.
- $17,000 for paving at North school. The project will probably include a circular drive, which would expand the paved area almost to the tennis courts. The intent is to keep children from darting from between cars that park along the side of the current driveway.
- $8,000 for drapes at all four schools.
- $11,000 for ceiling tile in the main building hallway at Chelsea High school.
- $7,500 for work on the public address system and bells at Beach Middle school.
- $7,000 to upgrade bathroom stalls at all four buildings, in some cases replacing equipment that's at least 25 years old.
- $5,000 for floor repairs.
- $35,000 for plumbing work at all schools.
- $80,000 for roofing work at the high school.
- About $5,000 of the maintenance millage money has not been committed.

School Board July Meeting Dates Changed

Chelsea School District Board of Education has scheduled its July meetings for July 6 and July 24. This change was effected due to the Fourth of July holiday period.

Meetings are held in the Board Room of the Administration Building on the high school campus and begin at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend board meetings.

DNR To Receive Landfill License Application, Village Faces Decision

The village may have to decide soon whether the Werkner Rd. landfill will have to close at least on a temporary basis.

Village consultants have taken two or three months longer than the village anticipated to compile information necessary to obtain a new operating license. According to consultant Lee Fahrner, several factors have contributed to the delay. Lab work has been slower than expected. And village consultants co-ordinated all testing with the Department of Natural Resources to be sure all methods were acceptable to DNR.

The village was required by DNR to show that it can detect any contaminants that may leak from the new landfill cell. The village had to come up with an adequate tracer system and there were a number of technical problems associated with development of the system, Fahrner said.

"It ended up being a lot more complicated than we thought," Fahrner said.

The tracer system proposal, along with a new license application, are scheduled to be submitted to the DNR this week, Fahrner said. As of Friday, the only missing piece of information was the consultant's report. All lab work has been completed. How long it will take the DNR to review the license information is not known. However, DNR can legally take up to 90 days for its review.

Landfill operator Cecil Clouse said Saturday that without taking unusual measures there is about three weeks worth of space remaining in what is called the type II area. He said one option is to move garbage into a small area that until now has been reserved for an access area into the new cell.

Village, DNR Disagree About Plans To Close Old Landfill

Village of Chelsea and the Department of Natural Resources apparently disagree on the extent of the work that will be needed to close out the old landfill.

As part of a consent order signed last year with the DNR, the village had to perform studies and come up with a detailed plan for putting a clay cap on the old landfill. The cap is supposed to keep water from infiltrating the landfill and carrying contaminants out.

Much of the landfill had been capped prior to the signing of the consent order.

Geology Center To Be Dedicated Next Wednesday

Gerald E. Eddy Geology Center in the Waterloo Recreation Area will be formally dedicated next Wednesday, July 12 at 10 a.m.

The dedication is open to the public. There will be various speakers and state and local officials plan to attend.

The center features a variety of geology exhibits as well as a nine-projector slide show, wildlife exhibits, a geology trail, and nature trails.

For more information call the geology center at 475-3170.

Utilities Request Denied by Village

Village of Chelsea has denied a request by a local man to have use of village utilities without having his property annexed into the village.

Dudley Holmes, Jr., said he would like the use of village water and sewer services for a home he plans to build just east of Lanewood Subdivision in Sylvan township.

However, village council refused to consider the request until the land is annexed into the village and subject to village taxes.

Holmes had offered the village a right-of-way across the property.

Village Council Meets Tonight

Chelsea Village Council's first regular meeting of July will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 in the council chambers.

The meeting time was changed from its regular day of Tuesday due to the Independence Day holiday.

Clouse said he does not favor closing the landfill to Lima, Sylvan, Lyndon and Dexter townships, which could cut down incoming garbage by up to 50 percent.

"Village council may have to close it off to everyone outside the village, but we're really hurting on the revenue side as it is," Clouse said. He said the garbage flow is about 50-60 percent of what it was a year or more ago, which has hurt revenues considerably. The landfill was set up to operate on a break-even basis.

The demolition area of the landfill, called the type III area, is also likely to close in about three weeks, and the village does not have plans to develop a new type III area, Clouse said. That will be an additional loss of revenue. "We're getting quite a bit of demolition from projects west of Ann Arbor," Clouse said.

On the bright side, if the village is granted a new license the new cell should last considerably longer than it would have several years ago thanks to the efforts of local businesses, Clouse said.

Chelsea Milling Co., which has contributed about 10,000 yards annually to the landfill in Jiffy Mix boxes and liners, is now recycling the material, Clouse said. Company workers separate the wax liners from the boxes, and the boxes are taken by a Monroe company.

Chelsea Lumber Co. also plans to use a grinder to chip up all its odds and ends of lumber and market the chips, Clouse said.

The mill and the lumber company have been two of the largest landfill customers.

"All in all, businesses are doing a lot about the solid waste problem and they deserve a lot of credit," Clouse said.

"But it's also good business for them. At $8.50 per yard, they can save quite a bit of money."

BookCrafters, Inc., which hauls about 40 yards per week to the landfill, will probably take over as the largest commercial contributor. Most of their garbage is paper.

Village council set up a recycling committee more than two months ago, but the committee's work has not been discussed at council meetings. Trustees Richard Steele and Dennis Hall are the members of the committee.

"Dennis and I have talked about how we'll operate and we've gotten information through (village manager) Bob Stalker about recycling projects in other towns," Steele said.

"We want to include civic leaders and private citizens in any policy-making. I'm sure there are people in the community who are very knowledgeable about recycling."

The village has also talked about purchasing a garbage truck and hauling its own trash, which Clouse thinks is a good idea. The truck can be purchased for about $90,000, but that is less than the cost of hiring someone else to haul the trash. And the truck will probably last about 10 years.

Clouse said Washtenaw county has also completed its solid waste plan, about a year later than scheduled. He said he has not read the report and does not know how Chelsea fits into it. A meeting has been set up July 13 to discuss it with the county's municipalities.

Whatever the county's report says, it will probably be many months before it is implemented. DNR has six months to review it.

"There are about six or seven issues we disagree about," said consultant Lee Fahrner.

According to Fahrner, the law says a specific soil type has to be used to close the landfill. It also allows for other soils to be used if their permeability characteristics are the same as the specified soil.

DNR apparently doesn't like the quality of some of the soil on the landfill.

"We have run tests and we think the soil is acceptable," Fahrner said, who characterized the current cap as a silty clay.

"We'd like to be given at least partial credit for what's there."

By law, in order to close out a landfill two feet of clay cover have to be in place. In some areas there are as much as 34 feet of the silty clay.

However, if the village is forced to re-cap the whole facility, it will become another expensive item in what is becoming a very expensive problem for the village. Fahrner said it will cost $7-$9 per cubic yard for clay to be hauled in. The village already anticipated needing 6-7,000 cubic yards, a figure that could be substantially increased depending on what agreement is reached with the DNR.

"We're trying to set up a meeting to go over their review," Fahrner said.

"It could be that there is no problem and all we need to do is get together and straighten it out."

According to Fahrner, the village has met every deadline in the consent order on time.

PATRICK GUSTINE was presented the A. A. Palmer Memorial Medical Scholarship by Madeleine Vallier of the Chelsea Painters organization. Gustine is a second-year pre-medical student in the University of Michigan's Inteflex Program. He is studying radiology. The scholarship is given annually by the Chelsea Painters.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY HOSPITAL AUXILIARY scholarships were presented by auxiliary member Sue Starkey, center, to Melinda McCalla, left, Patricia Clemons, right, and Kim Collins, not pictured. The young women are all nursing students. Melinda is a University of Michigan junior who plans to get her master's degree in midwifery. Patricia is a third-year student at Washtenaw Community College who plans to continue her education at the U of M or Eastern Michigan University.

Despite earlier announcement that the American Legion was dropping the production of the annual fireworks display, the "show would go on." The Chelsea Kiwanis Club had agreed to raise the money and assume the liability.

Chelsea's Kirk and Bill Hawks made a long bike trek across Michigan, starting Sunday morning from Holland. When the encampment headquartered at Dexter High school, family members of the Hawks sneaked home for "some of Mama's good home cookin'" and a fast but welcome shower.

The A. G. Kelly and Miller Bros. circus sponsored by the Lioness Club was at the Chelsea fairgrounds for two shows. The public was invited to attend the raising of the circus tent and the actual event promising three rings, trained animals, clowns, and exotic animals.

Everything looked fine for a good harvest of the principal agricultural field crops raised in west Washtenaw county—oats, wheat and corn. Some more timely rain was hoped for, since it was especially crucial to corn. Crops were growing ahead of schedule because of the unusually mild weather during May and June. Local growers of small fruits harvested them about two weeks ahead of normal.

Chelsea area eight-year-old Robert Herrst was injured in a farming accident. The boy's life was saved by the quick thinking and action of his cousins, John Birmingham, 17, and Joseph Birmingham, 15, of Brighton. Robert was driving the tractor when the steering mechanism gave way, and the vehicle ran into a pick-up truck, climbed up over the truck's bumper and then turned over, pinning the boy beneath it. The cousins used a tractor to lift the truck and pull Robert from beneath it while his 13-year-old brother Ronald ran to summon his father.

Leaving for Madrid were two Chelsea girls, Alyce Riemenschneider and Penny Eisenbeiser, and supervisor David Knisley. The group planned to spend six weeks attending the University of Madrid. While the girls studied the Spanish language in a program sponsored by the Foreign Language Institute they would also take in the historic highlights around one of the oldest capitals in Europe.

Newkirk Day Camp closed June 26 with an overnight "Under the Stars" for 71 Girl Scouts of the Huron Valley Council. The program consisted of individual unit activities and work on various badges including outdoor cook, gypsy, rambler and health aid badges.

Albert C. Johnsen, former superintendent of the Chelsea Public School district, had been named superintendent of the newly consolidated Benton Harbor school district. The appointment was for three years at a salary of $20,000 yearly.

Suing of Employers Among Liability Recommendations

Allowing employees to sue grossly negligent employers in cases involving product liability, as a way of discouraging dangerous practices, was among 13 recommendations made to Governor James J. Blanchard by a special counselor who was asked last year to review the state's product liability laws.

Aides expressed hope that many of the proposals can be taken up by the Legislature this fall.

Lawrence Mann, a law professor, said more than 50 percent of the dollars paid out in product liability relate to workplace accidents or injuries, and currently the employer is not liable. "There is no deterrent to unsafe conduct," he said.

Mann said although concerns are being voiced by all businesses regarding the products liability questions the problems are more crucial for smaller businesses.

"I think you've got to look at this in a stratified manner. You can't look at product liability globally. You have to look at who is getting hit," he said.

Other recommendations made by Mann covered three areas: the present insurance system, substantive law and the court system.

In the insurance area, Mann said the state's anti-trust exemptions should be repealed, requiring insurance companies to individually determine loss ratios and set policy rates.

While the Legislature is currently considering a package of bills which would deal with the anti-trust issue, Mann said he is uncertain whether the accusations that the industry is "goingung" the public are true.

"I think the dynamics inherent in the industry are at the root of the problem," he said.

Mann also said a Liability Insurance Task Force, charged with evaluating current laws regarding cancellation and non-renewal, should be appointed, and a periodic closed claims study should be conducted for products liability and other major tort claims. Also, the current 10-day notice of cancellation should be expanded to 45 days, he said.

In the area of substantive law, Mann suggested a standard jury instruction to "reasonably inform jurors of the consequences of the doctrine of joint and several liability" wherein a company with any degree of fault is potentially liable for the entire damage award.

Also under the substantive law Mann recommended the establishment of a reasonableness standard for damages for non-economic injury.

Recommendations in the court area included development of a reporting system for products liability filings, verdicts and settlements, which Mann said would enable judges throughout the state to use some sort of standard by which to make decisions.

He also suggested that major products liability cases and other complex personal injury cases be given specific trial dates, and that the current minimum of $10,000 used for circuit court cases be changed to $50,000.

Mann said the recommendations reflected limited information, because of 2,700 surveys sent to Michigan manufacturers, only 8 percent responded. "It doesn't lend itself to broad generalizations," he said.

The recommendations were reviewed by Blanchard and will most likely become his position on liability reform, said Commerce Director Doug Ross.

And those of the recommendations which will require statutory action will be considered this fall following a review with both the House and Senate leadership, he added.

Nursing Homes Sue State Over "Inadequate" Medicaid Payments

Plagued by what they believe is inadequate state funding and concerned about the potential deterioration in their quality of care, Michigan nursing homes announced a lawsuit against the state over "inadequate" Medicaid payments.

But while an aide to Rep. David Hollister (D-Lansing), chair of the House Social Services Subcommittee, called it a "positive" step, the lawsuit is opposed by the Department of Social Services and a key Republican senator.

The lawsuit was filed against the DSS in U. S. District Court in Kalamazoo by the Health Care Association of Michigan (HCAM) and the Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association (MNPFA), the state's two largest nursing home associations, in an attempt to force the state to increase Medicaid payments for nursing home care.

The plaintiffs maintain that the state has violated federal law through the establishment of unlawfully low Medicaid payment rates to nursing homes, and are seeking a preliminary injunction against continued payment of current rates.

Charles E. Harmon, executive vice-president of HCAM, said that nearly 70 percent of nursing homes in the state are not receiving the proper costs for caring for Medicaid patients.

"By federal law the state is required to cover the fair costs of nursing homes through the Medicaid system," he said, adding that the state has under-funded nursing homes by $13 million over the past five years and nursing homes received only a 0.25 percent increase in funding last year.

"We have no recourse but to sue," Harmon said. "It's a question of setting priorities. We cannot continue to function within a budget that will not address our basic costs. We ought to be given at least as good a shot as the prison system and the education system."

The lawsuit is based on a 1980 federal law that states Medicaid rates must be reasonable and adequate to meet the costs incurred by efficiently and economically operated facilities. In addition, the law prevents states from setting long-term care facility payment rates solely on the basis of budgetary constraints.

Kevin Seitz, director of the medical services administration to DSS, said he has not yet reviewed the filing, but said that DSS is not short-changing nursing homes. "Generally speaking, we believe we are operating the program within the parameters of the law," he said.

Sen. Robert Geake (R-Northville), chair of the Senate Social Services Subcommittee, said he is "very sympathetic with the cause of the nursing home industry. I definitely feel Medicaid payments in the past have not been adequate."

But, Geake said he did not view the lawsuit as "a very constructive approach. I believe the Legislature will provide as much money as we have available. The court is not likely to order any more."

The lawsuit, part of the so-called "Boren lawsuits" which were named after the sponsor of the amendment to the Social Security Act, have been filed in a number of states and have met with varying degrees of success. The two organizations filing the suit, HCAM and MNPFA, represent 330 nursing homes throughout Michigan which provide nursing home care to some 37,000 patients.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers were sitting around the country store Saturday night and wondering what folks reading our history 1,000 year from now will think of the way we celebrate our country's birthday. It could be, declared Bug Hookum, they will get us confused with them tribes that throwed people off cliffs and in fires to honor special days. We'll be the one that made the biggest sacrifice, was Bug's words.

Bug said he ain't give it much thought, but with the Fourth falling on a Tuesday, did it break up the week or make the weekend longer? Sooner, not later, he said, Congress will have to go back to calling it Independence Day and set it the first Monday in July. We have got to the place we don't know how to deal with holidays on other days.

Clem Webster was disagreed. He was of a mind that the American way of celebrating has two basic forms, hot and cold, no matter what day of the week. If it's cold we eat and drink inside and take our chances on the road between parties. In hot weather we take off all the clothes we can without getting arrested, and we eat and drink while we get second degree burns over 90 percent of our bodies. About the only choice we give ourselves these days, Clem went on, is whether to wreck our cars drunk or sober.

The way we are with cars and holidays, Clem declared, the gasoline shortage that was talked about and didn't happen would be a blessing if it got over in time for us to get back to work. It would of slowed us down, and that's somepun higher gas prices can't do, was Clem's words. We can't seem to live without our cars. Clem had saw where more states are thinking of denying driver's licenses to high school dropouts as the best way to keep em in school, and that lawyers are lining up to cry violation of civil rights. If driving a car is a civil right, what is education and job skills, Clem wanted to know. He said we are raising children that can swing between trash cans on the school parking lot on two wheels with one arm flopped out the window, but can't git a lawnmower across the yard without cutting up the garden hose.

Actual, Bug Hookum, said, adults tell children by work and deed that being grown up means driving, and adults are in such a hurry to git the kids grown they won't let them be children. He had saw this magazine piece where pregnant women play classical music for their unborn babies and start them on violin and ballet lessons at two. Daddies send their four-year-old sons to basketball camp and keep them at home a extra year so they will be bigger and stronger than the other boys on the high school football team. The sad truth is, Bug said, adults organize so much of children's lives they don't have time to be children.

Ed Doolittle was strong disagreed. He said Bug has been reading the wrong magazines. We still got young people that live on farms and ranches where life is not fun and games by adult rules. It is work by adult rules. They still have to do the chores and all the grown up work we older heads hated when we were young, and now think was the making of us.

The truth is, growing up is tough, but it still can be done alright under almost all conditions, Ed allowed. Having to much to soon can cause problems, he said, but no more than to little to late. It's a hard row to hoe for parents and children.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew,

WARDEN-COMSTOCK: Mr. and Mrs. James D. Warden of Dexter have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lynne Renee, to Dr. Christopher Paul Comstock, son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard C. Comstock of East Lansing. The future bride is a 1981 graduate of Dexter High school and a 1988 graduate of the University of Michigan College of Pharmacy with a Doctor of Pharmacy degree. She is completing a pharmacy residency at the University of Arizona and will be employed at Thomas Jefferson Hospital in Philadelphia as a clinical pharmacist and assistant professor at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. Her fiance is a 1980 graduate of East Lansing High school, a 1984 graduate of Michigan State University and a 1988 graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School. He recently completed an internship in Tucson and has been accepted for an Ophthalmology residency at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. An Aug. 19 wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rentschler

Glenn, Thelma Rentschler Mark 60th Wedding Anniversary

The 60th wedding anniversary of Glenn and Thelma Rentschler was quietly observed Monday, June 19 with their son and daughter-in-law Robert and Christine Rentschler.

Glenn P. Rentschler and Thelma Maurine Loveland were married on June 19, 1929 at Salem Grove United Methodist church on Notten Rd. Like in a story book the couple started building their home April 1, 1929, four months later in September Glenn moved his bride into their new home on Waterloo Rd., where they now reside.

Glenn joined the church 70 years ago. Glenn has held many offices such as treasurer and as member of the church board.

Across Waterloo Rd., from the Glenn Rentschler home lives their son Robert and wife Christine who will celebrate 23 years of marriage this July. They were married in the home of Robert's grandparents, George and Mary Rentschler.

The Rentschlers remarked how their wonderful neighbors and friends helped complete the building of the house.

Glenn had started in business in 1926 and built the "Waterloo Ford Service Station." For 22 years he was in his first garage. In 1948 he built the "Waterloo Garage" and operated it until he retired in 1967 after 41 years.

Thelma Maurine Loveland Rentschler was born and raised on Notten Rd., 5 miles south of Waterloo Village and attended the Riemenschneider school 1st to 8th grade. Hilda Riemenschneider McClure was her teacher and is still the best of friends. Hilda McClure now of Chelsea and her late husband, M. W. (Mac) McClure were the publishers of the Chelsea Standard until 1947. For nine years Thelma Rentschler taught in Washtenaw and Jackson rural schools.

Thelma and Glenn have been members of Salem Grove United Methodist church and have played an active part in the church activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frederick Newman

Beth Vogel, Robert Newman Married June 17 in Saline

Beth Ann Vogel of Chelsea and Robert Frederick Newman of Ann Arbor were married June 17 at Trinity Lutheran church in Saline.

The bride is the daughter of William and Dorothy Vogel of Saline and the bridegroom is the son of John and Diane Newman of Ann Arbor.

Pastor William Natsis performed the ceremony before 400 guests.

James Tice and Cynthia Natsis were vocalists.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress.

Matron of honor was Laurie Stegenga of Saline, sister of the bride.

Serving as bridesmaids were Debra Ellison of Manchester, sister of the bridegroom, Rachel and Julie Marlon of Saline, cousins of the bride, and Betsy Marl of Saline, Anne Foley of Saline, and Stephanie Seidl of Ypsilanti, all friends of the bride.

Ringbearer was David Ellison of Manchester, nephew of the bridegroom. Flower girls were Lindsay Ellison of Manchester, niece of the bridegroom, and Nicole Stegenga of Saline, niece of the bride.

Best man was John Newman of Ann Arbor, brother of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Ronald Ellison of Manchester, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Gerald Stegenga of Saline, brother-in-law of the bride, Richard Marion of Saline, cousin of the bride, and Scott Toth of Saline, Brad Jacobsen of Chicago, Ill., and Matthew Seidl of Ypsilanti, all friends of the bridegroom.

A reception hosted by James and Nancy Marion was held at Weber's Inn following the ceremony.

The couple took a one-week honeymoon trip to London, England. They are residing in Chelsea.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Saline High school and a 1987 graduate of Eastern Michigan University. She is a first grade teacher at North Elementary school in Chelsea and some of her students attended the wedding.

The bridegroom is also a 1983 graduate of Saline High school and a 1987 graduate of EMU. He is employed by De Maria.

'GEMINI' were the featured performers at last Thursday's first Concert in the Park in Pierce Park. The brothers, from Ann Arbor, played a combination of folk songs and sing-a-longs for the whole family.

CONCERT IN THE PARK Thursday drew a good crowd to Pierce Park, especially considering the Kelly Miller Circus was on at the same time. Chelsea's Kitchen Band and the folk-singing duo, Gemini, kicked off the third year of the series, sponsored by Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, Chelsea Recreation Department, Ames Department Store, and Chelsea Community Fair Board.

PRIMARY TEETH AFFECT PERMANENT TEETH

Q: IS IT TRUE THAT baby teeth are not important?

A: Absolutely not. It is terribly important for parents to realize that the primary, or baby, teeth are vital to a child's appearance, function, and maintenance of proper spacing for the ultimate eruption of the permanent teeth. These factors positively or negatively affect the development of the facial structure.

Children who have lost primary teeth early are much more likely to require orthodontic treatment later on. This is because space necessary for the eruption of the permanent teeth has been lost due to missing primary teeth. These problems can even alter the child's emotional development.

The primary molars and cuspids (the posterior teeth) are most critical in maintaining space for the permanent teeth. Early loss of a primary incisor such as from an injury will usually have little effect on the spacing of the permanent teeth. If a primary incisor tooth is lost early due to injury or decay your dentist will probably simply observe the child until the permanent tooth erupts (usually early). A missing front tooth causes much more anguish to the parents than it does to the child!

Primary molars, on the other hand, are VERY important in maintaining space. If decay involves the pulp or nerve of a primary molar and the tooth has not abscessed yet it can be saved by a procedure called a pulpotomy. The pulp of the tooth is removed similar to a root canal procedure and a permanent restoration is placed on the tooth. If the tooth is beyond repair and does need to be removed your dentist can use different types of space-maintaining devices to hold the space and prevent drifting of the other teeth until a permanent replacement tooth erupts.

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Brian Hamilton

I've heard a lot of different opinions about the financial problems facing the Chelsea School District, which really aren't too severe if you compare them to Pinckney, or worse yet, Detroit. In Pinckney, the district put a millage renewal and an increase in one package and the whole thing was voted down, leaving the district more than $2 million in the red. And in Detroit they're planning to lay off more custodians than there are teachers in the Chelsea district.

Nonetheless, the Chelsea district's proposed cuts are causing a lot of talk and I predict a heavier voter turnout for the special August election than the regular June election.

Quite a few people are decidedly upset because they think the district did not listen to the voters when the Headlee waiver was turned down in June. They almost consider it an underhanded move by the district to ask for additional millage to make up the $490,000 difference. They aren't impressed when administrators say the voters didn't understand the waiver, somehow implying they aren't too bright.

Many people think the schools already have too many programs, especially extra-curricular programs. They say a few cuts won't hurt.

And many people, especially people living in the village, are just plain tired of seeing their tax bills rise. Their vote is almost as much a vote against the village, county, and every other taxing entity. It's their one chance to express an opinion about taxes.

On the other side, there are plenty of people who were surprised the Headlee waiver didn't pass considering the history of successful millage requests here. I have the feeling a lot of people simply didn't vote because they thought there wouldn't be a problem.

I also have the feeling that a lot of people didn't vote, or voted against the waiver, because they didn't really understand what they stood to lose.

The district talked in terms of needing the $490,000 the Headlee amendment was going to take away, and voters rightfully translated that into money disappearing from their pockets, money that could be used for a new sofa, vacation, groceries, car repairs, or cat food. People dig in when their money is on the line. It became a personal issue.

Programs, however, are specific items that affect a wide array of people. Assistant superintendent Fred Mills was right when he said the district probably made a public relations error by not defining what would be cut, or, perhaps more positively, what the extra Headlee money would buy. By talking dollars rather than specific programs, the issue became a personal tax issue rather than a community-wide programs issue.

The district should have talked in terms of $75,000 worth of computers, all sports below the junior varsity level, the Enrichment Triad Program, or all new sports equipment. Most people who have any connection with the schools through their children, friends, or relatives know these programs are worth far more than the money spent on them because it's impossible to put a price on a child's education or emotional and physical development.

A price can be put on a computer but what is computer literacy worth today? A price can be put on a coach's or official's pay, but what is it worth for kids to have the fun of competition and participation in a sport?

It's also understandable why the district didn't talk in terms of programs. Proposed cuts always sound like a threat or scare tactics, and no one likes to be threatened, especially where money is concerned.

Unfortunately, that's the position the district finds itself in now. The list of cuts has been made public and many people see it as a threat. In addition, there might be a tinge of panic in some people directly associated with the schools as I've heard several stories about subtle pressures on kids to convince their parents to vote for the new millage this August.

The district needs a good public relations campaign this summer in which they discuss openly and honestly what the cuts will mean. What will be the likely impact of gutting the first year of computer modernization? What's likely to happen to the varsity sports programs down the road if there are no junior high and freshman sports for a year or two? How many kids work on the Beach yearbook, the high school newspaper, or become "experts" in a field in the Enrichment Triad Program? Why is it important for the entire community to keep these programs?

The district needs to express its opinion and explain the facts. It shouldn't sit back and merely hope the voters get the message before Aug. 14.

Lunch Hour Concerts Continue At Hospital

The lunch-hour concert series for Chelsea Community Hospital employees, patients, and visitors continues throughout the summer months. Enjoy a nutritious old fashioned box lunch, delightful entertainment and a relaxing outdoor atmosphere by the hospital fountain in the main courtyard.

The music is free and there is no registration. Just show up between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. on concert days to enjoy.

Standard box lunches will be available for $2.75. These will include choice of a sandwich, chips, can of juice, dessert, fruit and condiments. There will also be an option to create your own box lunch with items priced a la cart.

A variety of music styles will be presented throughout the concert series. On Thursday, July 6 "Skylark" will perform.

Everyone is invited to Chelsea Community Hospital summer concert series. Pull up a chair and kick off your shoes for a relaxing luncheon.

"There are three faithful friends: An old wife, an old dog and ready money . . ."

—Benjamin Franklin

We won't argue the validity of Franklin's three choices, though we do feel that whether faithful friends can be counted in three or a thousand and three categories is largely a reflection of one's worthiness in meriting friendship.

True friendship is certainly not a one-way street: it is difficult if not impossible . . . to cultivate and hold faithful friends unless one has the capacity within himself to be a faithful friend.

Families we have served tell us that our consideration for them was like that of an old and trusted friend. Nothing pleases us more, because this is our prime objective. We serve families of all faiths and creeds with dignity and good taste.

Great Lakes Paying Quarterly Dividend

Directors of Great Lakes Bancorp (NASDAQ-NMS: GLBC) have declared a dividend of 20 cents per share for the second quarter of 1989. The dividend will be paid July 14 to recordholders as of June 30, 1989. It will be Great Lakes' 18th consecutive dividend since the bank began paying dividends in April 1985. Great Lakes Bancorp operates 63 branches in Michigan and Indiana. Great Lakes also operates Great Lakes Mortgage Co., a mortgage banking subsidiary, and Great Lakes Leasecorp, a joint leasing venture specializing in business equipment leasing in a three-state area. With $3.7 billion in assets, Great Lakes is Michigan's second largest savings bank.

Baton Corps Performing in Florida

Under the direction of Rita Howard, members of the Chelsea Baton Corps, along with family members, departed last Friday for Orlando, Fla. The twirlers will be performing at Walt Disney World, Sea World, and the Mercado Shopping Village. On July 4th they were to enjoy the fireworks display at Epcot Center.

The show is an original production of "Baton on Broadway." It includes 15 songs along with elaborate props and costumes. The props and costumes were designed and made by parents who will also serve as the stage crew during the week in Florida. The twirlers have had to learn to sing and dance. In March a video tape recording was made and sent to Florida in order for the corps to be accepted to perform at Disney World.

Judging by the smiles on faces early last Friday all of their hard work has paid off.

The Baton Corps will return July 7. They will present a repeat performance of "Baton on Broadway" during Ladies Day at the Chelsea Community Fair.

Deer vs. Car Crashes Reported to Sheriff's Dept.

On a curve located on Huron River Dr., one-fourth mile south of Chalmers Rd., Ypsilanti resident Abayomi Alaba Famurewa was unable to stop, due to limited sight distance, he explained to Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSD) deputy Deacons, and therefore struck a second vehicle, driven by Tammy Lynn Tyree, also of Ypsilanti, who had halted her vehicle for an animal on the roadway.

Kathryn Marsy Moulton of Chelsea told WCSD Cpl. L. G. Thayer she swerved to avoid striking an animal in the road, lost control of the vehicle she was driving on Riker Rd., southeast of North Territorial Rd., and flipped the vehicle on its top, a few minutes after 7 p.m., Sunday, June 25.

Deputy Keith Dietrich recorded a car vs. deer report at 11:15 p.m. Sunday, June 25.

Robert W. Foster told Dietrich he was driving eastbound on Jackson Rd., 500 ft. east of the Zeeb Rd. intersection, when the deer suddenly ran into the path of his vehicle.

Cpl. Thayer took another report, this one received at 1:35 p.m. Monday, June 26, in which Mark Gordon Vukasovich of Ann Arbor said he was driving on Goodband Rd., one-fourth mile north of North Lake Rd., when he swerved to avoid striking an animal in the road, lost control of his vehicle, travelling off the road and coming to rest in six feet of swamp water.

Fortunately, Vukasovich reported no injuries. A two-vehicle crash with no injuries reported occurred at 2:01 p.m. Monday, June 26, on McClure Rd., just south of Bush Rd.

Thomas Michael Steele, Jr., of Chelsea lost control of his vehicle on a curve, crossed over the center line and struck a vehicle driven by another Chelsea man, Emanuel Paul Toribeaux, Jr., according to the report filed by Cpl. L. G. Thayer.

President Urged To Not Use Food
Embargo on China

All U. S. citizens are shocked by the turn of events in China, but an American grain embargo against that country is not the answer to the situation, according to Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie. The American Farm Bureau Federation, the nation's largest farm organization, has urged President Bush to stand firm in his opposition to the use of embargoes, Laurie said.

"We trust his view will not change despite the anger and frustration we all feel toward the appalling actions of the Chinese government against its own people," Laurie said. "The only people an embargo would hurt would be the Chinese people and American farmers."

"Food embargoes have been tried in the past and have proven to be failures as foreign policy weapons. Invariably the U. S. acts alone and other countries fill the void by supplying the same commodities. The immediate economic loss to American farmers is clear, but pales in comparison to the long-term damage of the U. S. being labeled as an unreliable supplier," he said.

The Export Administration Act of 1985 requires the president to consult with Congress and with the private sector before foreign policy embargoes are imposed.

"Furthermore, the president is obligated to explain how the embargoes are likely to achieve the foreign policy objective for which they are imposed and how the proposed embargo would impact on the long-term competitive position of the U. S. and its reputation as a reliable supplier," Laurie said.

"An embargo of food will not change the immediate situation in China. It will not further U. S. objectives in future U. S.-Chinese affairs, and it would not likely be supported by other food exporting countries," he said.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I was not surprised to see the great response to my ad in this newspaper, asking for interested parties to recall Dexter Township Supervisor, James L. Drolett. I want to thank you for calling.

It's good to know that there are concerned citizens in Dexter township that want good elected officials who listen to their concerns.

This is a Good U. S. A. that gave us the right to free speech and the right to govern ourselves. I am a World War II Veteran who fought for these rights and I would do it again.

Joe Boltach.

To the Editor,

It's unfortunate that The Chelsea Standard has missed the real issue in their coverage of the failed Headlee waiver and the misleading coverage on teacher's pay increases. The real issue is not whether the pay increases and over-all pay scales are appropriate, but rather what does it cost to attract quality educators and provide quality education.

Salaries, in any industry, are a function of supply and demand. Current hiring wars among fast food restaurants is a clear example of employers having to pay more to attract people.

McDonald's and Burger King would prefer to pay minimum wage—the reality is a wage in the $5.25-6.00 range—well over the minimum.

Nursing is another good example—hospitals compete feverishly for any nurse willing to work almost any shift in almost any specialty.

Why should the marketplace for school administrators and teachers be any different? It isn't! Chelsea competes with every other school system within 30 miles of Chelsea. Teachers and administrators are not different than other people in the workplace.

Chelsea schools are in a competitive situation when it comes to attracting and retaining workers. Does anyone really believe Chelsea schools could have continued to pay 10-20% less than other districts and still retain promising young teachers? In my view, the Chelsea school administration acted responsibly by putting Chelsea in a position to compete for quality people.

Now, voters are faced with another real issue—do the schools need the 2.1 mills or $490,579 they lost by the defeat of the Headlee waiver. It doesn't take too much research to justify the need.

How do we as a community meet the state mandated computer course without a computer lab? Our schools are currently operating with 10+ year old Commodore PETS. Any of the newer computers were provided by PTN, PTS and Federal Grants. Other districts like Pinckney and Dexter have brand new computer labs in place. Computers are a real issue and cost real money to solve.

Is it realistic to run a 6, 7, 8 science curriculum without textbooks? Science textbooks at the middle school level are either non-existent or over 10 years old. Do you want our kids to be in science classes without textbooks?

The Chelsea Standard did this community a great disservice by looking at one side of the Headlee/Millage issue. Percentages are a quick and nasty way to evoke an emotional response.

The issue is not what percentage a salary went up, but what salary does it take to hire and retain good people. The issue is not whether programs can be eliminated to balance the budget, but whether, after these cuts, a sound educational environment exists.

These are the issues that the Standard should be devoting its coverage to.

Alan Fischer.

To the Editor,

Your Sports Notes of 6/28/89 was enough to finally incite me to write to you.

You begin with an erroneous assumption about Midget Softball. This is a recreational and instructional league for 2nd, 3rd and 4th grade girls, not major league ball. The intention is to teach the girls how to throw, catch, hit, win and lose with grace and sportsmanship.

You mockingly mention a girl's "gutter performance" and compare it to Kirk Gibson. How "gutter" would you like our 8-year-olds to be? To expect that caliber of performance is as farcical as comparing Mr. Hamilton's column with Mitch Albom's.

Now that you've embarrassed Chelsea's 8-year-old girls, who's next? May I suggest orphans, then you won't have to deal with irate parents!

Couple Honored By Rotary Club For Renovation of Sylvan Building

The Vocational Service Committee of the Chelsea Rotary Club made their first annual award presentation for Outstanding Community Business Achievement. The award was presented at the club's meeting Tuesday noon, June 27 in the Woodland Room of the Chelsea Community Hospital.

John and Anne Daniels were selected because of their efforts to revitalize the Chelsea downtown area. The Sylvan Building renovation and expansion has become a focal point of community interest. The 10 businesses now established there are already a vital part of the Chelsea business community.

The Vocational Service Committee is comprised of Kay Heller, chairperson, Phyllis Lebel, Mark McKernan, Ralph McCalla and Chuck Raeder. The committee sets out to emphasize high ethical standards for business and vocations.

John and Anne Daniels expressed their appreciation for the award and spoke briefly about the adventure of rebuilding this historic edifice. Outgoing president Dr. Fred van Reesema made the presentation on behalf of the committee.

Committee member Chuck Raeder spoke briefly about the business climate of Chelsea and why he personally has recently based his statewide construction corporation here.

Scheduled as the speaker but canceled at the last minute, Chuck's impromptu remarks, however, were highly appropriate for the occasion, as he stressed the rationale for living and working with Chelsea as a home base.

BUILDING TRADES HOME in Belser Estates has been completed by students in Chelsea and Dexter High schools. It is the first home to be completed in the Chelsea area in quite some time. Students who worked on the home included Scott Brugh, Tony Byers, Jerry Crawford, Todd Ferry, Todd Gallagher, Jim Hadley, Shane Keezer,

THE BUILDING TRADES PROGRAM offered by the South and West Washtenaw Consortium of schools is successful because of the work of many people. From left are Dave Mieras, executive director, Steve Eausades of Spear & Associates Realtors, instructor Richard Lutz, Lang

Ramsay of Spear & Associates, and Bob Daniels, president of the student building program and owner of Chelsea Lumber Co. Spear & Associates is marketing the property and has waived its listing fee.

Summer Baseball Team Drops First Two Games in Ann Arbor

Chelsea Bulldog summer baseball team lost their first two games of the season, 17-2 to Cliff Keen Blues and 4-1 to Advanced Business Products in Ann Arbor league play.

Tuesday, June 27 was the opener against Cliff Keen, which ended after five innings due to the eight-run mercy rule.

After giving up single runs in the first two innings, the Dogs were roughed up in the third inning, when they allowed seven runs to score.

Chelsea scored in the bottom of the third as Craig Ferry picked up

Chelsea's only hit of the game, a run-scoring single. Ferry later scored on an error.

Rob Clem was Chelsea's starting pitcher, and Ferry and Ben Hurst pitched in relief.

"It's been a while since some of these guys have played and they looked a little rusty," said Chelsea coach Akel Marshall.

"We'll improve as we play and we'll be okay."

Chelsea faced Advanced Business Products on Thursday, June 29, with Doug Wingrove on the mound. Wingrove struck out four, walked three, and allowed three hits.

"We made three or four mistakes and they all cost us," Marshall said.

"We could have beaten them. Doug pitched a good game."

Jude Quilter, Steve Emmert, and Ferry each had a hit for Chelsea.

Chelsea tied the game in the third inning as Tucker Steele reached on an error and two singles brought him home.

Advanced Business pulled ahead 2-1 in the third and scored twice more in the fourth.

Next game for Chelsea is Thursday, July 6 at 6:15 p.m. at Vet's Park in Ann Arbor. They play the same place on Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Other team members include seniors Kyle Plank, Brandon Murrell, Lance Satterthwaite, Shawn Castleberry, and Bryan Talbot, junior Kerry Plank, Jeremy Stephens, Brian Bell, and Rick Westcott, and sophomores Rick Clouse, Jeff Gietzen, and Adam Taylor.

Chelsea Merchants Take Softball Split

Chelsea Merchants softball team earned a split in its second double-header of the season.

The Merchants were defeated in the opener by Glass City of Toledo, 15-6, but came back in the nightcap to take a 5-1 victory.

In the first game, Chelsea had trouble hanging onto the ball and pitcher Peggy Hammerschmidt had control problems as Toledo picked up three runs in the first inning and four in the second.

Nikole Reinhardt of Manchester relieved Hammerschmidt in the third inning and Crystal Lange of Stockbridge tossed the final two innings.

Chelsea scored three times in the first, and eventually picked up three more runs with its bunt-and-run attack but could not catch the strong-hitting Toledo team.

Jenni Smith pitched the second game and gave up just three hits in seven innings. She struck out nine batters and walked none.

Alisha Dorow led the attack with three singles, while Beth Kenny laid down two bunt singles and a sacrifice.

The Merchants scored one in the first and three in the second. In the second, Shannon Losey led off with a walk and four bunts later Chelsea had three runs.

In other action, the Merchants traveled to Canton on Friday, June 23 to take part in the International Compuware Tournament. There were 35 19-and-under teams in the tournament and more than 70 teams in total.

The Merchants opened the tournament short-handed as many of the players worked on Friday. However, Chelsea opened strong behind the excellent pitching of Laura Unterbrink who defeated Whitney Investment 8-2. Chelsea put Whitney away in the first inning as they scored four runs on five hits. Dorow led off with a slash-single and with two outs, Carrie Russel, Celia Murphy, Cori Kastel, and Laura Unterbrink all delivered key hits.

The Merchants then faced the Lansing Lasers and lost, 8-5. The early innings proved to be Chelsea's downfall as Lansing scored early while shutting out the Merchants. Chelsea came back strong in the sixth and seventh innings by scoring five runs but fell short and took their first loss of the season. Christy Petty pitched for the Merchants in her first start of the season.

Chelsea completed the first day of play by facing the Ohio Diamonds at 9:15 under the lights. The Diamonds, who won the pool, lived up to their reputation as being the strongest team the Merchants faced in the Tournament. They beat Chelsea 11-1. Smith started for Chelsea on the mound and pitched a strong game for three innings. Coach Charlie Waller said Smith's only mistake was the four walks she gave up. That, combined with the Diamond's speed, produced four runs, one earned, in those three innings.

Lisa Unterbrink pitched the fourth and fifth innings in relief and gave up just two unearned runs as the Merchants played a little "kick and boot" defense. Smith's only earned run came when the Diamond girl beat out a routine ball on pure speed. Chelsea trailed at that point, 6-1, and the coaches unloaded the bench so every one could play under the lights and get a chance to hit against great pitching. Chelsea gave up just one earned run.

The Merchants finished their pool play with a heart-breaking loss to Vlasic of Imlay City. With two outs in the fourth and Chelsea leading 1-0, Peggy Hammerschmidt was working

3 Aces Scored At Inverness

Three holes-in-one were recorded at Inverness Golf Course in June. Mike Sweet of Chelsea and Jerry Simon of Ann Arbor each aced the 141-yard number five hole. Sweet used a 7-iron on Wednesday, June 7. The ace was witnessed by Larry Hawker, Cal Summers, Jr., and Gary Bentley. Simon used a pitching wedge on Sunday, June 18 and his feat was witnessed by Ron Smith, Bernie Brier, David Brier, and Joe Bennett. Bud Delf used a 7-wood to ace the 160-yard number seven hole on June 21. Tom Ricklemann and Ted Curley were the witnesses.

Chelsea Merchants In Big Tourney

on a no-hitter. However, Vlasic put together a hit, a walk, a passed ball, another hit (Smith relieves Hamerschmidt), a hit, and a passed ball for three runs.

Chelsea rallied in the fifth and sixth innings but lost 3-2.

The Merchants played their final game on Sunday morning at 9:45. They were shutout of the single elimination play on Sunday, losing to Oshawa of Oshawa, Ontario, 2-1.

Chelsea scored first in a game that saw excellent play by both teams and took a 1-0 lead into the top of the seventh inning. Smith was on the mound for Chelsea and had given up just one hit in the first six innings. Smith hit the first batter and gave up a bloop single to left which resulted in placing runners on second and third and nobody out. Smith got the next girl on an infield pop-up, but gave up just the third hit of the game on a second Texas-league single to right field. Both runs scored and that was the end of the tournament.

Dorow led the Merchants' hitting with eight hits in the five games, featuring the slash-bunting technique from the left side of the plate. Jenny Pichlik once again led the Merchants in power hitting, collecting a double, triple and a total of six hits. Hamerschmidt chipped in four hits.

Something to sing about: Amid the bad news about declining numbers of songbirds in North America, ornithologists are finding a bright spot. According to National Wildlife magazine, more than 20 varieties of songbirds seem to be expanding their ranges in this country. Cardinals, house finches and American robins are among the birds whose home territory is growing. Researchers attribute the songbird spread to the dramatic increase in the number of Americans who put out bird feeders during the winter months.

KATE PECKHAM of Chelsea is one of 115 high school students participating in the Michigan State Board of Education Summer Institute for the Arts and Sciences at Olivet College through July 8. 16 BEACH MIDDLE SCHOOL STUDENTS were honored at an awards banquet hosted by the Southeastern Conference Middle School Principals Association at Saline High school last month. The students maintained the highest academic averages for their grade for the past school year. Certificates of Achievement were presented to the students by school board president Anne Comeau and superintendent Joe Piasecki. In front, from left, are Christine McLaughlin, Marie Kramer, Shanti Vadlamudi, Brooke Pitts, and Gretchen Hofing. In the second row, from left, are Molly Dilworth, Melissa Thiel, Megan Stielstra, Kevin McCalla, J.D. Alford, and Aaron Breter. In the back row, from left, are Ben Havens, Chris Davis, Jason Szostak, Tobin Strong, and principal Darcy Stielstra. Not pictured is Sam Maynard.

ELEPHANT RIDES were a big hit among the younger Community Fairgrounds. The event was held as a fund-set at the Kelly Miller Circus last Thursday at the Chelsea raising event for the Chelsea Lions Club.

Cub Scouts Take Part In Annual Fishing Derby

Cub Scouts from Chelsea's Pack 455 took part in the third annual Bike Hike and Fishing Derby this past Saturday, June 24.

Boys and their parents met at South school and after a discussion about bike safety ventured off on a bike ride to the Marl Pits at Four Mile Lake for a morning of fishing and family fun. Once the boys had buddied up they picked their favorite spots and threw a barrage of worms, hooks and fake frogs at their unsuspecting quarry.

The first fish of the day was caught by Chris Hatch who also caught the most fish. The best variety of fish was caught by Jamie Murphy and the catch of the day award was shared by Kiel Christensen who caught a plastic milk jug, and Sooner Dils who landed a seven-foot long weed (we heard that it put up quite a fight). The biggest fish of the day was pulled in by John Pobjewski and the smallest fish was skillfully hooked by J. P. Mouilleseaux. The wiggly worm award went to Matthew Kennedy who wiggled his worm so much that no matter how hard they tried, none of the fish were able to grab it. Better luck to our finned friends next time. The boys practiced the conservation technique of "catch and release" and returned most of the fish caught to grow and be caught again.

FLORIDA

By Matthew Shamansky - P.M. Kindergarten

I liked the jet airplane. I fell backward when the plane took off. I ate peanuts on the way.
My grandpa drove us to his house. He lives by the ocean, and we swam in the ocean. It was salt water and I got some in my mouth. I hate salt water.
I slept on the couch. It was very hard. I didn't sleep well.
We had strawberry shortcake!

MY CAT

By Cattie Dusler - A.M. Kindergarten

My cat's name is Russel. He is a kitten. I got him a ball of yarn that won't unravel for Christmas. He pushes it around with his paws. He likes to sleep on the bed with me, but he wakes me up, and then I'm too tired to come to school. I don't like to miss school. The first night he rubbed my back with his head. It felt good but I was tired in the morning.

I AM SPECIAL

By Mallory Wentz - Kindergarten

Because I am me. Because I play with my sister and help my dad do things down in the basement. I kind of measure things. Sometimes I help with the dishes. I help my mom go shopping for clothes.

THE LITTLE CAR

By Jeffery Heydlauff (Dictated to: Scott Kiel) - P.M. Kindergarten

There once was a car. It was driving to the grocery store to get some groceries. Then he went to a pet store to get a bunny and a dog and then he went home.

MY WEEKEND

By Sheldon Bowen - First Grade

I went to my grandma's house and had lots of fun playing a game. It was called "Sorry."

THE NIGHT MOM HAD ERIKA

By Cassi Palmer - First Grade

The best day ever was the night that Mommy had Erika. In the morning when we wake up Grandma told us that Mommy had a girl. When Mommy got home from the hospital all Erika did was eat and sleep. Of course that is all babies do.

WINTER FUN

By Kara Bunton - First Grade

On a snowy day I like to build a snowman and play in the snow and make an angel out of the snow.

I'M DONE

By Paul Hinchaw - Second grade

I am only done when something is easy. I hate work though, unless it is about women!

THE BEAUTIFUL SNOWFLAKE

By Tamara Smith - Second Grade

Once upon a time there was a beautiful snowflake and it was yellow and orange. It was very beautiful and it was the most beautiful snowflake I ever saw in my whole life. It was so beautiful it could break a window and a chair and a table, too. It was so beautiful I couldn't believe my eyes. It was the best snowflake I have ever seen in my whole life.

ALL ABOUT WHALES

By Rourke Skelton - Second Grade

Whales are big and they have a hump on the tops of their heads. Did you know that they breathe out of it? They have big tails and when they are angry or hungry they flip their tails up out of the water and then they smack their tails back in the water. It is loud. Did you know that some whales are brown, gray or black? Did you know that there are different kinds of whales? There are killer whales, and some whales are very, very big.

THE STICKY, CRUNCHY PEANUT BUTTER INVASION

By Don Rolly - Third Grade

One day I was coming home from school and a peanut butter sandwich hit me in the face.

At first I was scared. I tried to get it off my face but it was too sticky and I was such a mess. My eyes were covered with peanut butter, too.

I tried to ride my bike but two more peanut butter sandwiches came and stuck to my chain.

I was stuck! I tried to get off my bike but two more sandwiches came and hit my feet. Some kids laughed at me!

I said "Get off my bike now!" But they did not move. Now I was really getting worried but my mom was coming by. I tried to yell but the sandwich stuck right to me.

My mom saw me. She put me in the car and drove home and put me and my bike in the shower and turned the shower on hot. It did not work! I was so sad!

My mom said, "The dog will eat it," but that didn't work. She got some off though.

My mom took me to the dry cleaners. It worked! I was free at last from those peanut butter sandwiches.

BALLERINAS

By Megan Smith - Third Grade

I want to be a ballerina when I grow up, to be on my tippytoes and dance. I would soar around and around and up and down. Swaying in a light pink dress, in front of thousands of people. I would be proud to do that, wouldn't you?

ALL ABOUT PUPPIES

By Christine Winter - Third Grade

Puppies usually need lots of attention. You should feed them often and play with them and take them outside about every 30 minutes and give them a bath once in awhile to get them clean. Maybe they will stay that way for awhile. Dry them after their bath. My puppy can only eat cheese and puppy chow with warm water in it. She still goes to the bathroom in the house, then she can't come out of the kitchen for about an hour. When we are eating dinner, we put boxes by the kitchen and she scrapes at the boxes and cries. Sometimes she jumps in the box.

THE WALKING BANANA PEEL

By Leigha Young - Fourth Grade

Once upon a time long ago there was a boy who got up at night and ate bananas. So one night that boy ate a banana then threw the peel away. The same night at 12:00 the grandfather clock struck, bong, bong. The banana peel got himself out of the garbage can and dusted himself off, then started to walk around the garbage and the kitchen then he jumped back in the garbage because the little boy came in to get ready for school. When the boy came home from school he saw the banana peel walking around the house. The boy said, "Hi! The banana peel said, "Can I be your friend?" "Yes," said the boy and they lived happily ever after.

WHEN MY RABBIT DIED

By Lisa Engel - Fourth Grade

Once upon a time my family was sitting on our deck, but me and my two sisters were running around. We were going to feed our rabbit but he was sleeping so we decided to let him sleep. But he never woke up! So we had a funeral for Fattin', that was his name. We called him Fattin' because he's so fat. He was the best animal that will ever live. When he died my whole family cried and cried. It's hard to have something you love die.

THE HARVEST

By Kim Fletcher - Fifth Grade

The morning was the brightest morning I have ever seen. It was harvesting time—So that morning I had to get dressed and my breakfast, and I almost forgot my basket! I had to get dressed so fast and ran out the door without my basket. I could not do that. I really like to collect flowers on the way to our barn. You have to walk through a big field in back of my house to get to the barn, and the woods. I was walking in the woods when all of a sudden, I had to stop, for there was a big shiny, sparkly tree in front of me. I lost my breath for a minute. Then I turned around and ran to the barn. And when I got there I said, "Pa—Pa— I found four trees with money on them." So Pa and I ran to the woods. There in front of us was my basket and the four trees with the branches covered with sparkles, silver and gold. We also found how to grow more money but we did not tell anyone how to grow it. We became the richest people in the state of Alaska!

ANYMORE

By Sara Petty - Fifth Grade

I'm not playing basketball anymore.
For now I feel relaxed.
I'm not going to bed anymore.
For I'm just too much to ask.
I'm not going to school anymore.
For now I'm going to college.
I'm not going to run anymore.
Just because of the milage.
I'm not going to drink anymore.
because of too much milk.
I'm not going to plant anymore.
Just because of the silt.
I'm not going to believe anymore.
Just because of the lies.
I'm not going to see anymore.
Just because of my eyes.
I'm not going to hear anymore.
Just because of the noise.
I'm not going to talk anymore.
Just because of my voice.

A FRIEND

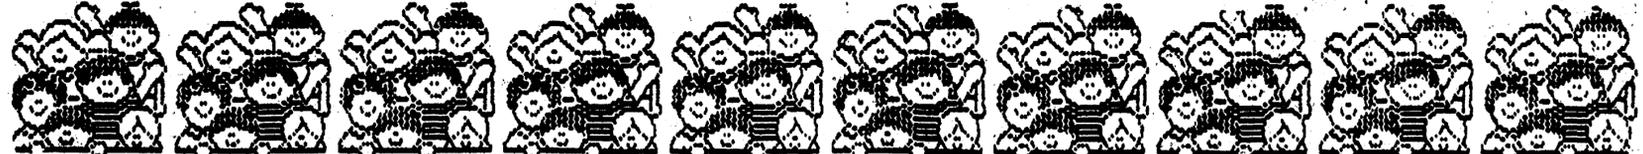

By Jeremy Seger - Fifth Grade

A friend is a person who you play with at recess or at home. You might walk home with him. A friend is a person you've known for a while. Sometimes you get in trouble with your friend and tell jokes. Sometimes you'll sit by him at lunch and get to go on field trips together. You go to birthday parties or spend the night at a friend's. A friend is someone to go hunting or exploring with.

WHAT TO DO ON CHRISTMAS

By Rachel Benjamin - Fifth Grade

Hi, my name is Rachel. I'm going to tell you about Christmas. Christmas is when you could have a Christmas tree, or you could have your family home for a nice home cooked meal. There are more things about Christmas that you and your family can do for Christmas like make some fudge or cookies or brownies. When you get your Christmas tree it is fun to decorate it—well, to me it is. You could sing songs by the fire. You could watch the snow flakes come down. Now, there are some tips on what you can do for Christmas.

Civil War Encampment Slated July 8-9 at Waterloo Farm Museum

Waterloo Historical Society will host a Civil War Encampment at their historical farm, 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd., three miles north of the Village of Waterloo. Visitors will be welcomed during regular museum hours, 1-4 p.m., on Saturday and Sunday, July 8 and 9. On those days, members of the 17th Michigan Regiment, Co. E, will pause to rest at the farm overnight, much as soldiers did during Civil War days, when marching from one place to another.

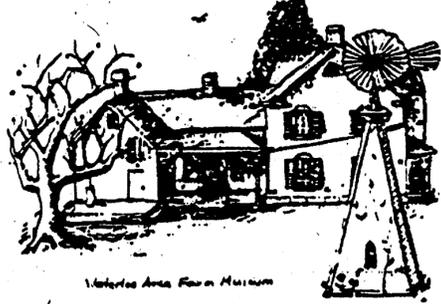

Roger Luckhardt, spokesman, from Manchester, reports that everything in their camp is reproduced as authentically as possible, including uniforms, equipment, camp life, and drill.

Soldiers will be sleeping in tents and visitors can see exactly how they coped with dampness, mosquitoes, and other hardships in the 1860's. The company cook, a private, will demonstrate meal preparation over an open fire. The sergeant will conduct drills. Soldiers will shoot blanks from their rifles.

Besides this military company street, visitors will view a civilian camp. Luckhardt's wife, Sue, and their children accompany the group, as do the families of several soldiers. They will portray the civilians who followed soldiers from place to place.

Vivian May, president of the historical society is expecting about 25 soldiers and their families. Members of the contemporary Company E come from Dearborn, Livonia, Detroit, and Manchester. Historically, they were recruited in Ypsilanti at the Normal College (now, Eastern Michigan University).

Recruits saw action at South Mountain, Md., Antietam, Fredricksburg, and Vicksburg. It was at South Mountain that the regiment got its nickname, the Stonewall Regiment. Green troops rushed a stone wall in full dress uniform, white gloves in belt; they drove the Confederates off the mountain.

Three days later, they took part in the bloodiest day in American history at the Battle of Antietam.

The regiment went on to fight some of the most awesome and bitter battles in both the eastern and western theaters of the war.

The 17th holds the record for the most Congressional Medals of Honor awarded to a single regiment.

Children of visitors will have something to take home, a remembrance of the afternoon. They will be taught how to make their choice of a pin cushion, a little purse, or a marble bag.

From Jackson or Ann Arbor, Waterloo Farm Museum may be reached by exiting at Exit 153 off I-94 and following Clear Lake Rd. to the village, where it joins Waterloo-Munith Rd. at the Mill Pond.

From Lansing or Brighton, follow M-52 south through Stockbridge to Territorial Rd. Turn right to Parks Rd. and left to Waterloo-Munith Rd. Continue south to the museum grounds.

The historic farm, as well as Dewey School Museum, is a memorial to the pioneer farmers of Michigan and offers a taste of family living in the 19th century. Tours are available and admission is charged. The farm is open every afternoon, except Monday, from 1-4 p.m.; last tour at 3:30. Dewey School is open Sundays and the 4th of July, only. For information, call 313-769-2219 or 313-488-2191.

DNR Commended For Crop Damage Deer Hunt Plans

A Michigan Department of Natural Resources plan to have an experimental crop damage deer hunt this fall has the support of the state's largest farm organization. According to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson, the DNR's idea to issue a block of permits at $3 each to farmers, who can then issue the permits to hunters for a fee during hunting season, has "a lot of merit."

The crop damage hunt would take place in three DNR management areas—number two near Crystal Falls, number nine near Grand Rapids and number 13 near Jackson.

"The problem of deer crop damage and increased number of deer car accidents is a mounting economic problem for all citizens of the state. This is a concept to attempt to target those areas where the greatest population of deer are generally found and I think the idea has a lot of merit," Nelson said.

"Obviously, we need to try it first and work out any bugs that may be in the system. I commend the department for implementing the idea in several areas to give it a fair trial. Maybe we need to go for a couple years rather than just one year to make sure it does work. It appears that about the only way we're going to address the deer herd problem is through hunting pressure," he said.

TEL-MED Offers Tapes On Suicide

Most people think about suicide at some point in their lives, but very few people actually kill themselves. Nevertheless, the suicidal crisis is a frightening and painful experience.

TEL-MED, a public service offering free taped health information over the phone, has two tapes dealing with suicide.

TEL-MED tape No. CL 491, "Suicidal Crisis," offers information on what may bring about thoughts of suicide, the feelings of a person in such a crisis and ways of dealing with suicidal thoughts.

TEL-MED tape No. CL 492, "Recognizing Suicidal Potential," discusses behavioral and verbal clues that may indicate suicidal thoughts. These include the seeking of a rescuer, saying such things as "Life is not worth living," or "I wish I'd never been born" or making abrupt changes in behavior.

To listen to these or any of the 296 TEL-MED tapes, call 668-1551 from the Ann Arbor/western Washtenaw county area, 434-6120 from the Ypsilanti/western Wayne county area or 548-2832 from Livingston county. Tapes may be requested by name or number. The phone call and the information are free.

TEL-MED is sponsored by Beyer Memorial Hospital, Brighton Hospital, Catherine McAuley Health Center, Chelsea Community Hospital, Chelsea United Way, Child and Family Service of Washtenaw.

Dexter Community Players Move Musical to Pinckney

The cast of "Drood" will begin rehearsal tonight at the Pinckney Community Complex. This is the second year the Dexter Community Players will be utilizing Pinckney's professional theater. Early rehearsals took place at the Players' traditional home, Copeland Elementary school.

Last year the regular Dexter audience didn't seem to mind the extra drive out of town to watch DCP's performance of "South Pacific" in the comfort of air conditioning. With "Drood," the audience will not only watch the proceedings, but have a say in the outcome. A vote at the end keeps the cast on its collective toes, dictating how the company should perform the solution to The Mystery of Edwin Drood.

"The last 40 minutes will be up for grabs every night," Richard Alder, the director, said. "The audience will vote on such things as who they want to be the murderer and what lovers should get together, and there are 1,200 possible endings. It will be like an elaborate puzzle—and it won't be rigged in any way."

The play, with music, book and lyrics by Rupert Holmes, who has three platinum records to his credit, will be presented as it would have been done in a 19th century English music hall. The actors will be playing not only the characters in the book but also music hall performers.

With Drood, Mr. Holmes became the sole recipient in Tony history of both Best Book and Best Score awards for a musical. Likewise, the New York Drama Desk gave Holmes the same honors, adding a third award for Best Orchestration. The Mystery Writers of America presented Holmes with their rarely presented Edgar for Best Play, the first Broadway musical to receive such an honor. Although his songs have been recorded by a diverse range of artists, including Barry Manilow, Dolly Parton, Dionne Warwick, Judy Collins, Rita Coolidge and (most notably and frequently) Barbara Streisand, Rupert Holmes was previously best known for his own "top 10" recordings of "Answering Machine," "Him," and "Escape" (The Fina Colada Song).

Tickets for the July 13, 14, and 15 show dates are available at Waggoner Real Estate in Dexter. Phone 426-8387 for further information.

The Pinckney Community Complex Stage is easily reached by going North on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. to M-36, turning right, 2 miles to Pinckney High school.

'Toledo War' To Be Re-enacted At Walker Tavern Historic Site

Join the debate over the "Toledo Strip" on Saturday and Sunday, July 15 and 16, at Walker Tavern Historic Site at Cambridge Junction in Lenawee county's Irish Hills.

The week-end festival and military encampment allows visitors to relive Michigan's fiery entrance into the Union more than 150 years ago. Lighthearted debates between Ohioans and Michiganians will settle once and for all—until next year, anyway—who should possess the Toledo Strip.

The dispute over Michigan's southern boundary line delayed its admission to the Union for two years until 1837, when Michigan reluctantly ceded the Toledo Strip in return for the western part of the Upper Peninsula.

After the debates, visitors can cast their votes on how the Toledo War should have been settled.

Other highlights of the week-end include a military encampment by Michigan and Toledo re-enactment troops, pioneer handicrafts, special dancers and 19th century music.

Saturday's events begin at 1 p.m. with a brief ceremony honoring volunteers who make Toledo War Days a reality, and a Michigan vs. Ohio Little League game of "rounders," the forerunner of baseball.

The Cobblestone Dancers Group from Ann Arbor will be performing from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

On both days visitors can view an authentic Indian tepee, films on pioneer life, and oxen demonstrations. Nearly two dozen craftsmen will be demonstrating their skills, which include basketweaving, woodcarving, storytelling, cornhusk dollmaking, tinsmithing and tin punching, quilting, frontier portrait painting, rifle-building, surveying, blacksmithing, chair caning, knife making, lace making and rug hooking.

Musical entertainment throughout the week-end includes a harmonica band from Rose City, a bagpiper and the Toledo Dulcimer Society. Refreshments will be available.

Walker Tavern was a major hub for pioneers traveling into Southern Michigan from 1832-1852. The structure fell into disrepair until restoration work by the departments of State and Natural Resources was begun in the 1970s. The Walker Tavern Historic Complex contains the original restored white frame salt-box inn and stagecoach shop (circa 1840s); a frontier-era barn and a visitors' center.

Walker Tavern is one of eight satellite museums operated by the Michigan Department of State's Bureau of History, whose flagship is the new Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing.

Walker Tavern is located in Cambridge State Park about 20 miles southeast of Jackson on Michigan Route 50, one-quarter mile before its intersection with U.S. Route 12. There is no admission charge to attend Toledo War Days or tour the Historic Complex, although the Department of Natural Resources charges a day rate for parking in the state park.

For additional information call the Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing at 517/373-3559. Or call Walker Tavern direct at 517/487-4414. The historic site is open seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Chelsea Airman Todd Koch With Security Police Unit in Panama

By Harry M. Thomas, III
Panama—Thinking becomes an unaffordable luxury when the alert siren blasts its eerie wail. Bodies react intuitively; jerking themselves from slumber, from mundane television programs, from all too infrequent family outings. The siren sang its ominous song for U.S. Air Force Senior Airman Todd G. Koch in May when the Panamanian government started to self-destruct.

When President Bush announced that 2,000 U.S. troops would deploy to Panama in response to the growing crisis in Panama, the alert drill became reality for Koch.

"I was pretty surprised to learn I was going to Panama because I had just returned from a 90-day tour to Panama two months prior. I guess they decided to send me because I had been here before and knew what to expect," said Koch, son of Larry K. and Nadine Koch, 601 S. Main St., Chelsea.

The troops are in Panama to help insure the safety of 52,000 Americans living in Panama from the tactics of Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega, whose handling of the Panamanian presidential election has upset the governments of the Organization of American States (OAS) and the world.

Howard Air Base is a tactical Air Command unit which supports the U.S. Southern Command. It is one of 10 military installations in Panama, and is the southernmost U.S. military air base in Central America.

Koch, 26, is a patrol and explosives working dog handler with the 636th Security Police Squadron, Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, Ariz.

"I feel it's very important for us to be here, because of the political situation here," said Koch. "The security of the base and personnel are very important, and I think that a strong show of force on our part helps to work as a deterrent against any kind of aggression by Noriega. Panama does have the potential for being a dangerous place, especially if the situation worsens, but I don't really foresee that happening."

The U.S. is working on evacuating dependents who desire to leave Panama. These citizens include family members of retirees and government employees, military and other Americans in the country. Flights leave Howard daily, transporting families back to the States, returning with cargo to supplement troop efforts there. Families living off base have been relocated on the 10 military bases in Panama, moving in with families already living in government quarters, sleeping on couches, cots and floors. Packers, brought in from the States, are packing 50 houses per day.

This activity, combined with the influx of new troops, has disrupted many of the normal activities of the U.S. forces stationed in Panama. American high schools have graduated students early, many social and recreational activities have been changed or cancelled, and travel within Panama is restricted to essential business.

Even the mail, which is traditionally the first priority for cargo space, took a back seat to the troops and evacuations. It was necessary to create a new postal outlet in Miami to handle the 70,000 pounds of mail that stacked up over the first two weeks of the deployment.

For the moment, all is calm in Panama. American troops and citizens are not being interfered with, which is a relief to the U.S. government and the families of troops deployed or stationed there.

"My family is worried about my being here, especially now that the media is putting a lot of focus on what is happening here. I reassure them not to worry, I'm fine and I'll be home soon," said Koch, a 1980 graduate of Chelsea High school.

Gard of Thanks 19

THANK YOU
It was a wonderful party! Hats off to our very special children: Paul and Joanne Wackenhut, Nola and Guy Freysinger, Janet and Dan Roberts, Sharman and Bill Pfau and Gail and Greg Kuhl, who decided to provide for a great celebration of our 40th wedding anniversary—and who succeeded in doing just that. Thanks to Mike Wackenhut for coming from so far away to surprise us with his presence. And thanks to all the dear friends and relatives who came to help us celebrate and in so many ways expressed their love. We measure our wealth by that love and our "cup runneth over."
Lorenz and Sonja Wackenhut

Chelsea Together Working Team Meets

A group of 48 people attended a meeting at the Chelsea Community Hospital on Monday, June 28, to volunteer their efforts to work on the various concerns expressed at the original "town" meeting of June 6.

The next meeting of the working team will be Monday, July 17 at Our Savior Lutheran church at 7 p.m. at which time the sub-groups are to report their progress and recommendations.

Following some introductory comments by the Rev. Dr. Jerrold F. Beaumont, Ruth Schantz, Joseph Piasecki and Mike Murphy, the group discussed ways by which smaller sub-groups could be formed in order to tackle specific concerns.

College graduates have the highest rate of labor force participation, according to the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Over-all 88 percent of all college graduates ages 25 to 64 were in the labor force in March 1988. The participation rate for persons with one to three years of college was 83 percent, compared with 77 percent for persons who ended their education with a high school diploma and 61 percent for persons who had not completed four years of high school.

The major categories decided upon are:
 Educational
 Medical/Mental Health
 Recreational
 Religion/Churches
 Parenting and Family
 Each of these major categories will be worked on by one of the sub-groups to research the needs, ask questions, seek resources and prepare concrete recommendations.
 Several young people participated

THREE PEOPLE WERE INJURED and transported by Huron Valley Ambulance to Chelsea Community Hospital, Wednesday, June 28, after a two-vehicle crash on McKinley Rd. The impact occurred just below McKinley Heights Dr., a few feet north of a major curve in the road. A 42-year-old Chelsea area resident, Donald Ralph Horn of McKinley Rd., was driving toward Chelsea in his van when a red TransAm, driven by Ann Arbor resident Ronald James Hafley, 20, who told deputy Mark Giffin, assigned to the traffic division, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, he was driving in the center of the road.

Hafley was travelling eastbound, then northbound as he rounded a curve on McKinley Rd. He explained to deputy Giffin he saw the second vehicle coming and attempted to get back in the right lane, but was unsuccessful, and struck the van, almost head-on. Deputy Giffin said Horn was unable to recall the crash. Measurements taken of tire prints at the scene confirmed Horn's van was in its correct lane. Both drivers, and Russell Brown, II, of Ann Arbor, a passenger in the Hafley car, were transported for medical treatment. Smith's Service removed the two vehicles from the crash scene.

Village To Buy Pick-up Truck

Village of Chelsea will purchase a half-ton pick-up truck from a Westland dealership. Red Holman GMC was the low bidder at $9,873 to supply the truck to the village. Palmer Ford of Chelsea was the only other bidder at $18,870. The village sought proposals from seven dealers. Village president Jerry Satterthwaite and trustee Gary Bentley said they thought the $1,200 price difference justified purchasing from an out-of-town dealer.

Pinckney Couple's Daughter Completes Air Force Course

Airman Clarissa M. Farrar recently completed the clinical training portion of the medical service specialist career field at Offutt Air Force Base, Neb. Students initially received a 16-week medical specialist fundamental course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., where they were taught the rudiments of hospital procedures, nursing care and emergency medical treatments. The clinical phase honed nursing techniques and provided instruction in communications and emergency vehicle operations. Farrar is the daughter of Barbara and Anthony Santoro of Pinckney. She is a 1988 graduate of Valley High school, Las Vegas, Nev.

Spaulding for Children Receives Herrick Grant

Spaulding for Children, a private child welfare agency serving children with special needs, has been named the recipient of a $100,000 grant by the Detroit-based Herrick Foundation for funding of the Spaulding Leadership Institute. The grant will be used to recruit, prepare, and support 50 new minority and women leaders in the field of special needs adoption.

"The primary goal of the Institute is to develop leaders who are effective in meeting needs of children awaiting adoption and sustaining families who have adopted," said Judith McKenzie, executive director of Spaulding for Children. "A generation of adoption leaders is moving on or retiring from the field. Minority leadership has been ignored or underdeveloped and women are under-represented in top management and policy decisions."

The Spaulding Leadership Institute is being developed in collaboration with the National Child Welfare Leadership Center (NCWLC) at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. Spaulding, a national leader in practice-based adoption training, and the NCWLC, share a commitment to the development of minority and women leaders in child welfare agencies.

The Herrick Foundation was founded in 1949 and makes grants with an emphasis on higher and secondary education, cultural programs, youth agencies, hospitals and health and welfare agencies. To date, the Spaulding Leadership Institute has received funding from the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation and The Pittway Corp. Charitable Trust toward the $400,000 targeted for foundation funding of this three-year project.

For more information, please contact Spaulding for Children at (313) 475-8693.

Police Seek Check Writer

Police are searching for an Ann Arbor man who wrote a fraudulent check as a deposit for a video camera on Saturday, June 23.

According to Chelsea police, the man wrote a check for $500 from a checkbook stolen from a Detroit woman. He also provided a false address. Police said the man is also being sought by Ann Arbor Police.

Faith Lutheran Plans Vacation Bible School

Faith Lutheran church, 6675 North Territorial Rd. (¼ mile west of Dexter-Pinckney Rd.), will hold Vacation Bible School July 24-28, from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.
There will be classes for children age 3 through those entering 8th grade. Children who do not have a church of their own are especially invited.
For more information please call Pastor or Carolyn Porinsky at 428-8442.

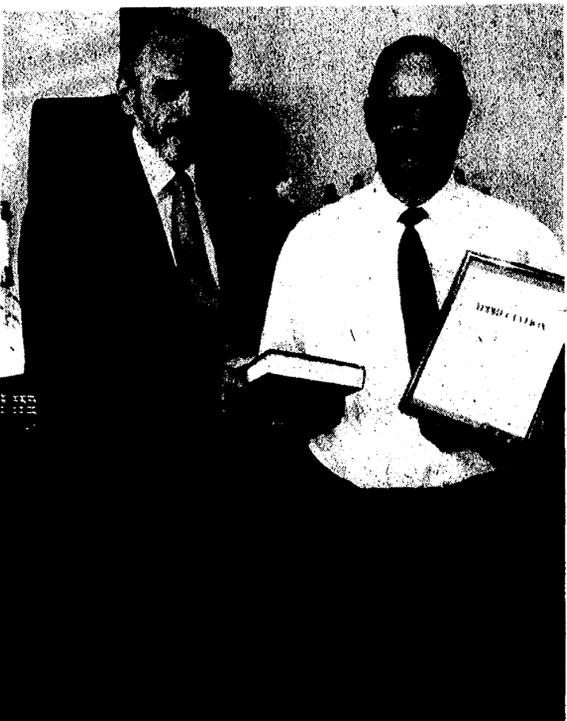

Free Crate Training Clinic Offered By Humane Society

All present and potential owners of our canine and feline friends are encouraged to attend a Crate Training Clinic sponsored by the Humane Society of Huron Valley. An array of information will be available to assist pet owners in the successful use of the crate in eliminating behavior problems.
The clinic will be held Sunday, July 9 from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club located at 1575 North Territorial Rd., just two miles east of US-23. Instructors will be on hand to give valuable tips on the uses of crates for housebreaking puppies and controlling undesirable behavior such as chewing, as well as loss of litterbox training in adult cats. There will be a question and answer period following the session to address specific problems or questions.
The clinic is free to the public; however, we must ask that you leave your pet at home. Relevant pet care literature will also be available at no cost.
For directions or more information, phone the Education Department at 662-5545.

Premium Books For Jackson Fair Now Available

Premium books for the Jackson County Fair and Flower Festival Aug. 6-12 are ready.
Four thousand were mailed Wednesday, June 21, to exhibitors on the fair's mailing list.
Other persons wanting a copy may pick up one after that at the fair office, 200 W. Ganson, Jackson.
The book offers premiums totaling $60,000. Last year's winners shared $63,000 in prize money.
Exhibit categories range from fine arts to antiques, photography to produce, baking and sewing to livestock, and many others. No entry fee is required for exhibits other than livestock.
The photography and fine arts shows are among the largest in the state, according to Fair Manager Herman Gumper.

ROBERT KOCH, right, was presented Covenant church's Layman of the Year award by Pastor Ron Smeenge at the June 25 service. Bob received the award for having served as Church Council president and taking the lead in promoting building expansion and development for the local congregation.

Covenant Church Names R. Koch Layman of Year

Robert Koch, 12225 Scio Church Rd., was honored at the church service June 25 as Covenant church's Outstanding Layman of the Year.
Bob has served as the president of the Church Council and has taken the lead in promoting building expansion and development for the local congregation.
Bob and Betty Koch are active charter members of Covenant. Betty received this award for her church work two years ago. The Kochs have two children, a son, Neil, and a daughter, Vickie Crupper who with her husband are also active in Covenant church.
Koch has retired from Chrysler Proving Grounds and devotes his time to his farm on Scio Church Rd. and the church at the corner of Old US-12 and Freer Rd.
Pastor Smeenge in making the award indicated there should be no question as to who would win the award this year, as Bob had taken an important lead in council work as well as building planning committee.
Smeenge presented a bible and appropriate plaque in the service.

Memorial contributions may be made to Anne Day Scholarship Fund, United Methodist church, United Methodist Home, American Lung Association—Michigan Chapter, or Detroit Area Council Boy Scouts of America.

RON LYTLE, who will play Cosmo Brown, and Dana Leahy, choreographer, work in preparation for the Chelsea Area Players' "Singin' in the Rain" to be performed July 14, 15, 21, and 22 at 8 p.m. and July 16 at 2 p.m. in Chelsea High school's George Prinzing auditorium.

'Singin' in the Rain' Showcases Local Talent

One of the many joys of community theatre is having the unique opportunity to see your friends, relatives and neighbors perform on stage. Being acquainted with a performing actor can make seeing a play more enjoyable and memorable.

Incidentally, the Chelsea Area Players' production of "Singin' in the Rain" will showcase the talents of many people you may already know and love.

Although they are not Chelsea residents, Joe Diederich and Ruth Kenny are no strangers to the Chelsea stage. You may remember them as Julian Marsh, the famous Broadway director, and Dorothy Brock, the aging stage star from CAP's "42nd Street," as well as many other performances. Ruth has also acted as the vocal director for many Chelsea Area Player productions including "Singin' in the Rain." This year they will tackle the roles of Don Lockwood and Lina Lamont, respectively.

Jerry Cole, who will become Zelda, the beautiful friend of Lina Lamont, is also a seasoned performer. You may recognize her from past CAP productions of "The Night of January 16th," "The Music Man," "Mame," and "Camelot."

Also featured will be John Williams, a long-time Chelsea resident and the principal at Chelsea High school. He will take on the role of R. F. Simpson, a famous Hollywood producer.

Sue Williams, a veteran of many CAP productions both on and offstage, will portray Dinsmore.

Be sure to watch for John and Sue's children, Rebecca and Melissa, who will appear in the chorus.

Carrying a dual role as the costumer for the production and also acting on stage as Dora Bailey will be Norma Graflund.

Marge Lewis, a long-time favorite from many Chelsea Area Player productions such as "Mame," "The Music Man," and "42nd Street," will be seen as a dancer and also in the chorus.

Other Chelsea performers included in "Singin' in the Rain" are Phoebe Strong, Sara Gegenheimer, Carol Palmer, and Susan Schmunk, who will appear as dangers and in the chorus, and Norman Weber, Clara Smith, Jennifer Bennett, Debbie Olson, Janet Travoll, Mary Lou Rigg, Don Gerstler, Don Paulsell, Carrie Schoenberg, and Melissa Smith.

Births

A son, Travis Joseph, Friday, June 23, to Joseph and Jeri Torrice of Jackson. Maternal grandparents are Vincent Hafner of Chelsea and Willetta Hafner of Chelsea. Paternal grandparents are Amedeo and Barbara Torrice of Chelsea. Travis' sisters are Jennel, 6, and Steffany, 3.

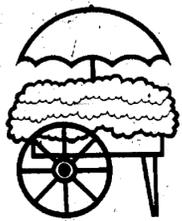

A son, Kyle Robert, Thursday, June 22, to Donald and Deborah Siedhoff of Stockbridge. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schantz of Chelsea, Mr. Jon Siedhoff of Livonia and Mrs. Marion Siedhoff of Jackson. Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Earl Schantz of Dexter and Mrs. John Hudson of Little Genesee, N. Y.

A son, Grant William, June 29 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, to Clyde and Mary Whitaker of Stockbridge. Grant has two brothers, Erin and Joshua, and one sister, Angie. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William McGinn of Chelsea. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Whitaker of Munith.

A daughter, Kaycie Gabrielle, June 20, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, to Will and Cheryl Susan of Chelsea. Kaycie has a brother, Nathaniel J., 4.

A son, Jeffrey Brian, Thursday, June 29, to Brian and LuAnn Koch. Maternal grandparents are Dave and Ruby Strieter of Chelsea and paternal grandparents are Carl Koch of Dexter and Jan Ano of Iowa.

Man Steals Beer, Drinks in Car

A Chelsea-area man may face shoplifting charges in connection with an incident at Polly's Market on Sunday, July 2.

According to Chelsea police, a 36-year-old Old US-12 resident took a 12-pack of beer from the store without paying for it.

Police said the man took the beer out to his car. When police arrived the man was allegedly drinking beer in his car.

The man told police he had paid for the beer.

Manchester Fair Will Open Tuesday

The 45th annual Manchester Community Fair will be held July 11-15. Theme for the fair is "Summertime Magic."

Starting off the fair is the parade at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 11, with the parade marshals, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stautz of Manchester. Follow the parade of floats, fire trucks, and decorated bikes to the fairgrounds located at the corner of Vernon and Wolverine.

As soon as the parade arrives on the Fairgrounds, a fair queen will be picked from the 12 contestants who were chosen earlier in the year and judged during the day.

On Wednesday, July 12, there will be a teen dance, with a disc jockey from D. & D. Enterprises of Chelsea, at the Entertainment Pavilion from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. The carnival, W. G. Wade Shows, Inc., offers a pay one price of $6 to ride all day on Wednesday.

Thursday, July 13, senior citizens, 62 and older, will be admitted free until 5 p.m.

The afternoon starts off at 1:30 p.m. with kids 14 and under bringing their pets for the pet judging contest.

At 6:30 p.m. there will be contests for children 10 to 16 years of age.

In the Entertainment Pavilion at 8 p.m. there will be a talent show, from auditions that were held in June.

Kids Day is Friday. At 1 p.m. the carnival rides will be at a reduced rate of one ticket less than regular number of tickets for each ride. At 5 p.m. there will be prizes given from W. G. Wade Show, Inc., and Manchester Community Fair.

Returning for her sixth year will be Tracey Lynne & The Mountain Express at 8 p.m.

Ladies Day activities will be from 10 a.m. until noon, on Saturday, July 15 with door prizes and refreshments. The horseshoe pitch is at 1:30 p.m. and a pedal pull for the children, with registration at 2:30 p.m. and the pull at 3. Tracey Lynne returns at 8:30 p.m.

Pulling contests: Wednesday,

A.T.V. pull at 7 p.m.; Thursday, compact tractor pull at 7 p.m.; Friday, antique tractor pull at 5 and the pony pull at 8:30 p.m. On Saturday the large tractor elimination will be at 10 a.m. and the pull at 7 p.m.

Club lambs will be judged at 6 p.m. on Wednesday and the Optimist steers at 8 p.m. The livestock auction for both clubs will take place Thursday at 8 p.m.

The fair will have nightly drawings with prizes from area merchants each evening at 10 p.m.

See you at the fair.

Chelsea Hospital To Offer Blood Pressure Screening

Chelsea Community Hospital will participate in Stockbridge Summerfest by offering blood pressure screenings. Blood Pressure screenings will be offered by hospital health professionals on Friday, July 14 from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday, July 15 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Health information will also be available.

For more information, contact the Education Department at Chelsea Community Hospital, (313) 475-3935.

Pursell Co-Sponsors Flag Amendment

Congressman Carl Pursell has joined in the call for an amendment to the U. S. Constitution which would prohibit the burning or desecration of the American flag.

The congressman co-sponsored a measure which would amend the Constitution making it a federal offense to desecrate the American flag.

"I cannot, in good conscience, agree that the burning of our flag is an act which deserves protection under our First Amendment right to freedom of expression.

"Desecration of the flag is an offensive act which I always considered illegal, and now will join in assuring it's made illegal," Pursell said.

CHelsea MEDICAL CENTER SCHOLARSHIPS were presented to three young Chelsea women. From left are Paula Colombo, a pre-med student at the University of Michigan, Cindy Kvarnberg, a junior nursing student at U of M, and Amy Wolfgang, an exercise and health science major at Alma College. She plans a career in corporate fitness and cardiac rehabilitation. Kvarnberg plans to pursue a master's degree in midwifery. Left is Rene Papo, representing the Chelsea Medical Center.

Thomson-Shore Contributes to WCC Capital Campaign

Once again the total of Washtenaw Community College's Capital Campaign is growing closer to its $1 million goal. A $10,000 pledge from Thomson-Shore Quality Book Manufacturing of Dexter boosted the campaign total to $852,000.

"We are proud to join the many other contributors to Washtenaw Community College," said George Metzner, treasurer of Thomson-Shore. "We wholeheartedly endorse WCC's continued efforts in helping students further their educational career in preparation of a happy and secure future."

WCC's Capital Campaign is privately funded and supports the college's construction and renovation project. This project includes a new building, The Job Skills/Campus Events Building, and additions to two existing buildings, a Computer and Electronic Facility and an Automotive Services Facility.
