A 17-YEAR-OLD CHELSEA BOY was killed while driving this car to deliver pizzas. Joseph Beaudoin, who would have been a Chelsea High school senior, apparently ran a stop sign at Fletcher and Scio Church Rds. and was hit by a westbound pick-up truck. The truck driver suffered minor injuries.

Chelsea Boy Dies Friday Following 2-Car Crash

A 17-year-old Chelsea boy, who ran a stop sign while making a pizza delivery for the new Cottage Inn, was killed last Friday afternoon in a two-car accident at Fletcher and Scio Church Rd.

According to police reports, Joseph Matthew Beaudoin, of Grass Lake, was southbound on Fletcher Rd. at 5:11 p.m. and failed to stop at Scio Church Rd. A westbound pickup truck driven by Robert Craig Vanderkarr, 33, of Napoleon smashed into the driver's side of the vehicle. Vanderkarr, who suffered minor injuries, told police that he slammed on his brakes and tried to swerve out of the way but could not avoid the collision.

Beaudoin was driving a family car with a Cottage Inn sign fastened to the top. The driver's side was smashed more than half way to the opposite side of the car. Beaudoin was taken by Huron Valley Ambulance to Chelsea Community Hospital and transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where he died at 8:10 p.m. of "multiple trauma."

The restaurant, which opened a little over two weeks ago, provides an initial six-hour driver training course, which Beaudoin did not attend, according to store manager Steve Duncan.

The restaurant guarantees delivery within 40 minutes.

Cottage Inn was closed Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

Beaudoin would have been a senior at Chelsea High school. He was a member of the varsity swimming team and the Art Club, and worked on the stage and lighting crew for the Chelsea Area Players. He was interested in pursuing a creative arts career and had worked on the team logos which decorate the high school gym.

Beaudoin is survived by his parents, Marilyn and Robert Beaudoin, and two brothers and a sister.

Fair Queen Deadline Is Sunday, July 30

The deadline for Chelsea and Dexter-area girls to enter the Chelsea Community Fair Queen Program is Sunday, July 30.

Any girl who will attend Chelsea or Dexter High school this fall is eligible to enter. Each girl must be sponsored by a class or community club or organization. In addition, each sponsor must provide a float for Saturday's Fair Parade and a conversation with store manager Steve Duncan. The restaurant guarantees delivery within 40 minutes.

Cottage Inn was closed Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

DNR Still Waiting For License Submittal

As of Monday, Michigan Department of Natural Resources still had not received a new landfill license application from the Village of Chelsea.

The application, along with results of all testing related to the landfill tracer system, were supposed to have gone to the DNR earlier this month.

DNR staff geologist Cynthia Noble said she expected a fairly quick review of the application once it is submitted, although DNR has, by law, 90 days for its review. She could not say how long the review might take because it is not her decision. Her supervisor, Lonnie Lee, was not available for comment.

The major outstanding issue is the tracer system and staff geologist Barb Vetort worked with the village on the development of the system.

"If things go well, it should be a fairly straightforward review," Vetort said.

Recycle Chelsea Program Already in Danger as County Funds Dry Up

Chelsea's recycling program, which began late last year, could be out of business by the end of the month unless local governmental agencies come to its rescue.

"Recycle Chelsea," the village's participation in the Washtenaw county-wide recycling program, apparently will need an infusion of money in order to survive. The county plans to stop picking up the recycling bin in Polly's Market, as well as in its other sites around the county, including Dexter and Manchester, at the end of the month unless someone other than the county pays the cost of picking it up. Grant money has run out, according to county public works director Jim Grau. In addition, he said grants are normally available only to get a program started, not keep one in business.

Other sources of money have dried up as well, Grau said. Two of those sources were 50 cents-per-yard tipping fees collected from the Ann Arbor and Chelsea Landfills. Both municipalities have stopped paying the fees, which would have contributed more than $215,000 to the recycling program.

Grau estimated that it would cost between $100-$200 each time the bin is picked up, depending on what materials are being hauled away and the distance from each station to Recycle Ann Arbor. Glass and cans have become the most profitable items as the state is staring at a newspaper glut, making newspaper worth almost nothing, which increases the cost of the program even more. However, the newspaper section of the bin is always the first to fill up and it would be hard to justify picking up a bin that is mostly full of worthless newspaper. He said it could cost up to $800 per month per site, based on two pick-ups per week.

"I think the reason (they quit contributing tipping fees) is because their landfills are in a crisis situation and they can't justify giving away money from tipping fees when their landfill budgets are operating at a deficit," Grau said.

"For example, the City of Ann Arbor is looking at a $1 million deficit. How can they justify giving away $200,000?"

Grau also said it wasn't an equitable situation for Ann Arbor and Chelsea to pay the bulk of the money to support recycling programs in other areas of the county.

"I'm a firm believer that those who benefit should pay," Grau said.

"It certainly should be at the local level and should be up to the local units of government. Look at it this way, if you were going to continue a recycling service with a big company, someone would have to pay for it. It's got to be paid for one way or another. And it could cost as much or more to get rid of garbage through recycling than the way we've always done it."

Village president Jerry Satterthwaite, who has strongly supported setting up a local, independent recycling program, said he'd like to see the county program continue locally but that the surrounding townships—Dexter, Sylvan, Lima, and Lyndon—would have to help out with the cost. Much of the material in the bins comes from outside the village. In addition, much of the material that would be recycled would go to the landfill, thereby taking more revenues from the village.

"It would have to be a group effort, not just us," Satterthwaite said.

Satterthwaite admitted that he hasn't had the time to push a local recycling effort as much as he'd like. A village council committee was formed to study the subject but has yet to make any recommendations.

"I know there are a lot of interested citizens who will work on the program," Satterthwaite said.

Chelsea, Saline Schools Have Similar Stories, Different Solutions

Chelsea and Saline school districts are in similar financial circumstances yet they are taking different approaches to solving their problems.

Voters in both districts turned down an override of the Headlee Amendment in the June elections. Each district has set a special election for Aug. 14. Each district stands to lose big without favorable results. Chelsea will lose $493,000 and Saline faces a loss of $456,000.

That's where the similarities end. Chelsea voters will be asked to approve 2.1 mills in new millage, while Saline voters will again be asked to override the Headlee Amendment.

Chelsea district's reasoning is that the Headlee override is a confusing issue and it's better to offer voters something they can understand.

According to Saline assistant superintendent Ellen Ewing, the Saline Board of Education considered asking for new millage but the district is within five or six mills of its constitutional limitation and it decided to save the extra mills for later.

By law, residents in the state cannot be taxed more than a total of 50 mills in operating millage by all unchartered taxing authorities. Millages of governmental bodies with a charter, such as a village, city, or some townships are exempt from the law. For example, Chelsea School District residents in Dexter township are taxed at the highest rate, 44.26 mills (as of last fall), of any township in the district. That total is the sum of the operating millages for the school district, Washtenaw county, Washtenaw Intermediate School District, Washtenaw Community College, and the township. Residents of the Village of Chelsea pay more tax, but because the village is chartered the millage does not count toward the 50 mills.

Ewing said the district "plans to do a better job" of explaining the Headlee override. A plan with a specific time frames has been put in place. Ewing admitted the job could be difficult as the override was defeated by about 200 votes the first time.

Each district has also announced its cuts that will go into effect if its millage proposal fails.

Chelsea has chosen to cut programs rather than people. Although some vacant teaching and custodial positions will not be filled, no one will be laid off. Capital outlay items totaling $135,000 will be chopped, and each of the four building principals will have to make big cuts in textbooks and supplies. In addition, many extra-curricular programs are being cut, including all Beach Middle school and freshman sports. Assistant superintendent Fred Mills said the idea was to cut across the board as evenly as possible.

Saline, however, has chosen to lay off as many as 15 employees to make up much of its deficit, Ewing said.

Papo Proposes New Version of Project

The Chelsea Pines housing project has apparently been revived by the area's most ambitious developer, Rene Papo, and property owner Marvin Salyer.

Chelsea Pines, first proposed as a condominium development by a group that included Norm Fahrner of Washtenaw Engineering Co., is now being proposed as a two-phase development of duplexes ranging in size from 842 to 1,713 square feet. The first phase would be built by Pine Knoll Builders off Wilkinson St. and run east toward Lincoln St.

The first phase would consist of eight buildings, a total of 16 units.

The area of the project was changed to planned unit development zoning to accommodate the initial proposal. As of press time it was not clear whether a change in zoning would be necessary for the new project. It was also not clear how many units would be constructed in total, or whether a condominium association would be established.

Site plans were scheduled to be considered by the village planning commission as their July 25 meeting although plans arrived at the village offices after the deadline for any action to be taken on them.

REP. MARGARET O'CONNOR was the guest of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea Monday night. Above she shows the contents of one of many bills before the state

Chelsea Area Players' production "Mame" opened at the Chelsea High school auditorium. Director Jan Koenigter, choreographer Mary Cole, and musical director Jon Krueger had been making the finishing touches on the lively musical comedy. Mary Ann Nemeth played the lead role as the charming, impulsive, and enthusiastic socialite Mame Dennis.

About 60 Consumers Power Co. electrical customers west and north of Chelsea were knocked out of service at 9:45 a.m. Monday when a lightning bolt opened a switch in a main line. Service was restored three hours later, according to Consumers spokesman Jim Storey.

"Chelsea has a remarkable potential for downtown improvements that will include architectural enhancement, convenience and economic benefits for the community," Steve Walters, city manager of Northville, said in an address to civic leaders during a meeting at the Chelsea Community Hospital. His optimistic outlook for Chelsea's future was based on the highly successful rebirth of Main Street in Northville—an effort which was begun in 1978 and completed in 1982.

An old milk jug served as Stockbridge's time capsule that had been buried 25 years earlier by Wilma Kaiser and Harold Lantis. The capsule was dug up on the second day of Stockbridge's Sesquicentennial Celebration, a week long affair. Inside the capsule were odds and ends from 1960 including newspapers, a bottle of beer, and a commemorative plate.

Robert Oesterle escaped injury and possibly death when he threw himself between railroad tracks in the vicinity of Jiffy Mix silos to prevent being run over by an oncoming westbound train. The accident termed "near fatal" by the village police, occurred when Oesterle's foot became lodged between the rail of a switch while crossing the tracks to deposit clothing in the Salvation Army collection box.

Plans to develop a racquet club in Chelsea had been tabled until 1976. According to Dr. Richard Dijkman, one of the principal members of the group who wanted to build the Chelsea

Donald Renz presented a recital of organ music on the recent Moller installation in Zion Lutheran church. The recital, in memory of Edna Burkhardt, featured works for trumpet and organ. Renz was assisted by David Kleckner, a trumpeter from Northville, who was a student at Wayne State University in Detroit.

In girls softball play, the Athletics defeated the Reds by a one-point lead, taking the game, 23-22. Penny Wood had four hits to lead the Athletics. Reds players Veronica Satterthwaite and Becky Robards played hard to keep their opponents from winning. Satterthwaite hit two homers for her team while teammate Robards had a solo blast.

A decision to take options on two land sites in the city for the proposed new junior high school was made at the meeting of the Chelsea School Board. The first was the Freeman site west of Wilkinson St., between Meadowlane and the old Detroit United Railway right-of-way. The second was a section containing 60 acres, the old Palmer farm. The site was located east of Madison St., between the road leading into the cemetery and the backs of the lots along Washington St.

North school playground was a lively place as children coaxed pets into co-operative behavior in the annual pet show which each summer was a highlight of the Summer Recreation program. According to playground supervisors Kathy Fuks and Lynn Visel, the entries weren't numerous but they were diverse. Dawn Marie Klobuchar, five, and her four-year-old brother Billie won with their entry, a pet dog, Torie. Torie distinguished herself with the title of best trained.

A special fact-finding committee appointed by the Chelsea School Board to determine the junior high school student population through the next 20 years predicted a 58 percent growth rate for a projected enrollment of 258 pupils.

Directors Deny Consumption of Lake Michigan Fish Is Dangerous

Directors of the Department of Natural Resources, Public Health and Agriculture, said a National Wildlife Federation study that claims the problem of toxic pollution of Lake Michigan sport fish is more serious than has previously been reported wrongly portrays the dangers of eating Lake Michigan fish.

They also reiterated support for the health department's current fish consumption advice.

Meanwhile, the report has spurred representatives of the fishing tackle industry, sport fishing groups and environmental organizations such as Michigan United Conservation Clubs to jointly call on the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Great Lakes states to adopt a new approach to stopping toxic pollution of the Great Lakes.

Those groups charge that current programs to control toxic pollution of the Great Lakes are inadequate.

The groups endorsed a four-point plan for cleaning up the Great Lakes, calling for: uniform water quality standards and pollution control requirements, an immediate "toxics freeze" on dumping of the most dangerous toxics into the Great Lakes, a timetable for reducing the total amount of toxic chemicals, and a comprehensive pollution prevention strategy to achieve a zero discharge goal.

DNR Director David Hales agreed with the NWF report that more must be done to control toxic pollution of the Great Lakes, but pointed out data that indicate levels of PCBs in Coho Salmon and Lake Trout declined by 68 and 80 percent, respectively, between the mid-1970s and 1988, while in the same period DDT levels in those fish fell by 82 and 80 percent.

The NWF report, the conclusion of a two-year study of the health effects of eating Lake Michigan sport fish, found that even one meal of fish from Lake Michigan presented a health risk.

The findings fly in the face of the health department's advisory of not more than one meal per week of Lake Trout 20 to 23 inches, Coho Salmon over 26 inches, Chinook Salmon 21 to 32 inches and Brown Trout up to 23 inches constitutes a risk.

Nursing mothers, pregnant women, women who intend to have children and children under 15 are advised not to eat any quantities of these fish.

"Protecting human health is the paramount concern of the Department of Public Health," acting director Raj Weiner said, "but we do not subscribe to the federation view that no Lake Michigan sport fish should be eaten."

She added that the department continues to "preach moderation" in consumption of those fish.

In a joint statement, the three directors said they welcome the public attention the NWF report will direct toward the need to clean up toxic chemicals in the Great Lakes, but they said the report fails to put into perspective possible health risks from eating Lake Michigan sport fish in comparison to risks from eating other common foods.

Risks estimated for consumption of Lake Michigan sport fish by the NWF are comparable to those estimated by risk assessment specialists for lifetime consumption of one diet soda per day, four tablespoons of peanut butter per day, a half-pound of charcoal broiled steak per week, or drinking one pint of milk per day. The directors also said the NWF estimates of health risks are based on an approach that is still under review by state and federal authorities.

Weiner said the NWF report illustrates the need to review the state's approach to estimating risks to humans. "We must be able to prepare advice which neither overestimates nor underestimates the probability of public health threats," she said.

Agriculture Director Paul Kindinger said his agency, which monitors contaminants in commercial fish, supports efforts to compare chemical levels in store-bought fish with those in fish caught by sport anglers, and is working with DNR, public health and other Lake Michigan states to get federal funding for such a project.

Environmental Group Takes State To Court Over Waste Siting

The environmental organization Don't Waste Michigan filed suit against the state in Hillsdale Circuit Court Thursday charging the Low Level Radioactive Waste Authority of withholding information about possible sites being considered for locating a waste dump in Michigan.

But state officials said the study has not been completed and likely will not be released before the end of July.

The lawsuit asks for the disclosure of the state-wide exclusionary screen, which shows the areas that do not meet the criteria necessary to house a radioactive waste dump. DWM representatives told reporters that the state has completed but refuses to release the exclusionary screen.

"We are here to tell Governor Blanchard to stop stalling," said DWM co-chair Ellen Beal at a press conference outside of the governor's second floor Capitol office.

Beal said the Low Level Radioactive Waste Authority "has conducted its business in an underhanded and deceptive manner," and the governor was "ultimately responsible" for the Authority's action.

However, James Cleary, Commissioner of the Low Level Radioactive Waste Authority, said he is "just as anxious to get to the point of identifying sites as anybody else."

He said an entire review of the state has yet to be completed and the Authority has had to go to "alternative sources" besides Michigan State University to collect data on larger areas of land.

Zolton Ferency, a DWM member and an announced candidate for the state Senate, said the public is "entitled to know where (the site) is likely to be put. I'm afraid the skids are greased."

He added that "hundreds of thousands of people are living on a time bomb" because they could be living near a potential site, which would cause their property values to plummet.

But Cleary denied the public is being harmed by the delay in announcing the exclusionary screen. "In my own mind and heart, the public is not being denied at this point. I'm not messing with people's lives," he said.

Cleary said that the "key thing" is that once the state announces three possible sites for the waste dump, which he hopes to do in January 1990, there will be a mandated 12- to 18-month process that includes review boards and opportunity for public input. "That process, regardless of when it begins, will be lengthy," he said.

Beal said that regardless of what the exclusionary screen shows, there is "no justification" to place a waste dump site in Michigan, because the Midwest Compact, of which Michigan is a member, generates only 7 percent of the nation's nuclear waste. Her group advocates storage of the wastes at each individual generator site.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

With all the trouble in China there's talk of stopping our student exchange with that country, part because we worry about the safety of our students there and part to show we don't like what's going on behind the bamboo curtain. Clem Webster told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that from what he reads the Chinese students in this country are solid in favor of stopping the exchange right where they are, and for the same reasons. They won't be safe back home because they don't like what's going on.

This is the time of year most students end their years and go home, Clem noted, and he's allus been interested in knowing what young people from other countries say about us. Natural, we want to think they leave feeling better about us, he said, but there ain't no way to put tags on people and make em stick. A boy from Switzerland that knows America from the movies will come expecting gangsters and cowboys, and a boy from Nebraska will go there looking fer mountains where everybody yodels and makes watches.

General speaking, Clem went on, the international student exchange is a healthy exercise in human relations. When you git to know people, Clem said, you look fer ways you are alike, and this is the big step in dealing with ways people and governments are different.

General speaking, the fellers were with Clem. Even Ed Doolittle spoke well of Clem fer his comment on person-to-person relations. Ed is as strong a Baptist as he is a Republican, and he said he has to work hard at dealing with folks of other religious and political flavors. Ed said he respects their beliefs and opinions, but he can't git past the idea that he's right and they're wrong til he knows em personal. Even after knowing Democrat Clem all these years, Ed said, he usual makes an exception in his case.

Actual, Zeke Grubb broke in, he gits along with Clem and Ed fer the same reason—he eats chocolate and vanilla ice cream. He likes people and he likes ice cream of all flavors. Speaking of food, Zeke went on to note where he had saw that peanut butter will be 100 year old in 1990, and folks are eating more of it in more ways than ever, creamy and crunchy, natural oily and homogenized, on crackers and cookies and bread, with jelly and without. Ever day, Zeke declared, somebody comes up with somepun new to mix with peanut butter. That's the way it is with people, Zeke went on, when you begin with a base of understanding you can build anything.

Practical speaking, Bug Hookum said, Ed is right about building the base. It ain't easy. Bug had saw where engineers fer Chicago and Illinois forgot to build their base before they dug their tunnel. They started on each side of a street and built a passage to connect city offices and state offices. They almost met in the middle, and at last report they can't agree if the state is nine inches low and eight inches left, or the city is nine inches high and eight inches right. The only thing sure, Bug said, is that taxpayers will come up with the $300,000 needed to make the connection.

Bug said if our best engineering minds are a foot off designing a tunnel under a street, what are we to make of the British and French working together on a tunnel connecting their countries under the English channel. Them fellers don't even speak the same language, was Bug's words.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Dr., Mrs. Joseph Fisher Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Fisher of Northport, (formerly of Chelsea) celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary the week of July 5. Present were their children: Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dewane (Barrie) of St. Joseph, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Thompson (Ellen) of Barrington, R.I., Dr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Fisher (Joe) of Westport, Conn., and Dr. and Mrs. George Bordage (Joanne) of Quebec, Canada and nine grandchildren.

Congratulations were received from President and Mrs. Bush and many friends. A highlight of the occasion was a dinner at the Park Place in Traverse City and presentation of the Genealogical Society's "Early Ancestral Certificate" to each of the children. (Mrs. Fisher's ancestors came to the Old Mission Peninsula in 1854.)

After the celebration at the Park Place the remainder of the week was spent enjoying the company of their children and grandchildren and visiting familiar sites in Leelanau county where the Fishers have summered for many years.

Lima Homemakers Tour Michigan Via Slide Show

Large panicles of white blossoms on the fuchsia plant, front door or back, greeted the Lima Extension Homemakers July 12, 10:30 a.m. at the home of Blanch Feldkamp.

Maps, brochures, and travel planners of Michigan were handed the 14 members and two guests as Olive Wiseman introduced the lesson on "Savor Michigan." Michigan's greatness came into view as slides took the group from the snow covered farm lands and ski slopes, to the sand dunes and sandy beaches of the Great Lakes. The Dutch Gardens on the West, across to the skyscrapers and alleys of Detroit. The Sault Locks; Mackinac Island; the many waterfalls, bridges, and lighthouses. Separate brochures cover them all.

Slides of the Ford Museums at Grand Rapids and Dearborn brought attention to the many museums in Michigan. The extensive beauty and entertainment of Michigan was brought to a close so time would allow the group to nominate Merle Coy as candidate for the Senior Citizen of the Year award. This award is sponsored by the Commission and Offices of Services to the Aging and the Michigan State Fair.

A breezy, cool, pot-luck luncheon was held on the Feldkamp's back porch as Mary Haselswerdt poured coffee and tea as co-hostess. While seated, two crafts were taught by the craft hostess and individually worked on as the business meeting continued. New officers were elected and the next meeting set for Sept. 13 at Lima Town Hall, 10:30 a.m. The program and hostess calendar for the new year will be planned with a 12:30 luncheon scheduled at the Pinckney Inn.

Hale Family Reunion Held July 8 in Indiana

The Hale Family Reunion was held this year on Saturday, July 8, in Winamac, Indiana State Park.

Those attending from Chelsea included Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hale, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hale; Mrs. Clyde Martin; Alan Hale and daughter Heather; the A. J. Hales, Jr., and his children, Cala and Austin, his fiancée, Vicki Hines; Linda and Rick Westcott, and sons Jay and Ricky; Anita Spears and daughter Jayma; Bill Ball, Shasey and daughter Andi; Doug Carpenter; Ted Bush; John Hale of Grass Lake; Mr. and Mrs. David Roberts and sons Ted, William and Andrew of Manchester.

About 100 people attended the reunion, and officers elected for next year were A. J. Hale, Jr., president; Alan Hale, vice-president; Dianna Roberts, secretary; Linda Wescott, treasurer; Anita Spears was voted vice-secretary.

Games were played and auctions held. In the evening, a hay ride was enjoyed by all.

Insect zappers: Researchers have discovered that many plants have insect-zapping capability. National Wildlife magazine reports members of the sunflower family, including daisies and marigolds, produce chemicals that are poisonous to insects. When these chemicals sop up sunlight they become highly toxic. But their poison loses its punch in the dark. One plant pesticide is more toxic to mosquito larvae than the outlawed chemical DDT.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

The regular monthly meeting of Ladies Auxiliary VFW No. 4076 was held Monday, July 10, with 10 members in attendance. Plans were made for auxiliary and post members to attend the annual Michigan Family Fun Festival at the national VFW Home in Eaton Rapids on July 18. Twenty dollars was allowed for fund-raising raffle project at the Home. This year's project is to refurbish the house parents cottage. The annual planning conference and council of administration meeting is set for July 20-27, at the Clarion Hotel in Lansing.

The national convention will be held Aug. 18-25 in Las Vegas, Nev. Schools of instruction will be held at the first District meeting, more details later.

The annual Pow-Wow (Fall conference) will be held at Boyne Mountain, Sept. 28-29-30 and Oct. 1.

Twenty-five dollars was allowed to Harold Allen, as the Auxiliary's contribution to the local fireworks display.

Virginia Boyer reported the VFW hall will be open as a comfort station on the Chelsea Sidewalk Sales days. Various booths will be set up in the hall with their displays.

The group decided to purchase 50 Key cancer pins for resale, this is a fund-raising project for cancer aid and research program.

Twenty-five dollars was allowed towards the Muscular Dystrophy research program.

Lucy Platt, hospital chairman, reported the picnic planned for Ann Arbor VA Hospital patients, had to be postponed and was later held in the VFW Hall, due to rainy weather last month.

Plans are being formed to serve Battle Creek hospital veterans, on their way home from a Tiger baseball game soon, more details later. The group was informed of needs at Camp Trotter and about medical records of children attending the camp.

Citations Chairman Eulalie Packard reported four citations were presented and three still to be presented to persons who fly the American flag daily. A special award was prepared and was to be given to Mrs. Packard, at the Department Convention last June for her Americanism work, she being unable to be there was disappointing to her and all concerned. The presentation will take place at the next district meeting.

Members not previously installed for 1989-90 took place at this meeting. The installing officer was Lois Speer. The next regular meeting will be Aug. 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

ANN ARBOR SUMMER SYMPHONY will play its second concert at Briarwood Mall on Sunday, July 23 at 2:30 p.m. The hour-long performance is being sponsored by the Briarwood Merchants Association.

Village Negotiating Deal With Consumers Power Co.

Village of Chelsea is negotiating with Consumers Power Co. for the purchase of some of its electrical power through 1996.

A study by Cummins and Barnard, Inc., recommended a contract with Consumers Power, saying the alternatives provide more risk, and possibly more expense. They said the utility is probably a more reliable source of future energy, and that Chelsea may still be able to join a pool later if it is to their advantage.

The village had participated in a study to consider whether members of the Michigan Public Power Agency should form a pool to provide energy. Cummins and Barnard said "the efforts required to form such a pool will be significant," and that it may cost up to $150,000 for the purchase of a substation, a cost that would not occur with Consumers Power. In addition, there could be transmission costs with an MPPA pool, the consultants said.

The consultants also said that "consideration should be given to the electrical rates that the Village of Chelsea chooses to charge its rate payers for the next five years. Rates have not been adjusted in several years and should be reviewed soon."

Village Sicks Collection Agency On All Delinquent Accounts

The village has decided to hire a collection agency to take care of more than 100 delinquent utility and landfill accounts.

Village council voted last Wednesday, July 5 to hire Ann Arbor Credit Bureau to take care of the past-due bills. The company charges a percentage of the money it actually collects.

Many of the accounts are customers who move out of the village and neglect to pay their electrical, water, and sewer bills, said administrative services co-ordinator Barbara Fredette.

The village plans to use the agency

Lillies Are Topic For July Meeting Of Garden Club

"Lillies" will be the topic of discussion at the next Chelsea Garden Club meeting on Wednesday, July 26. All varieties and their culture will be discussed.

In addition, the dividing and replanting of iris and day lillies will be demonstrated. July is the month to divide these in order for them to bloom next summer.

The June meeting covered rose care, preserving flowers for the fall craft-making meetings, and a video of the June Huron Valley Rose Award Show was played.

Anyone interested in gardening is welcome to join. There are no dues and meetings are every fourth Wednesday from 10 a.m. to noon and 8 p.m. to 8 p.m. at 509 Wellington St. For more information call 475-7107.

Beach School Ice Cream Social Becomes Fritzemeier Farewell

Jed Fritzemeier put down his baton for the last time in Chelsea after the Middle School Summer Orchestra's final concert on Tuesday, July 11. As usual, his warmth and humor permeated the show from beginning to end, and the applause which he and his wife, Nancy, received indicates the depth of feeling which parents and students have for this master musician, who has decided to take a position in Sioux Falls, S. D., his home town.

The concert began with the sixth graders, who have just begun to play their instruments. "Mr. Fritz," as the kids call him, went through their typical rehearsal routine with the audience, showing how they tune, warm up, and train the ear, the right hand, and the musical sense. The audience participated in the show, too, yelling "Yahoo!" and "Hail," when cued, and receiving either a "Good!" or "Pretty wimpy!" in return from the conductor. At one point, all the violinists and violists stood up and kicked their feet while the cellists and bass player twirled their instruments. In the short space of one month, he had not only taught them music fundamentals, but also how to have fun with their music.

The seventh grade orchestra showed remarkable progress in the one year they have been under Fritzemeier's baton. They played Beaugard's "March" and "Barnyard Bash," both country-type songs that Fritzemeier said followed the country theme of his summer, marked by his decision to return to "the country."

Fritzemeier said he would miss the members of the eighth grade orchestra, whom he has worked with since he came to Chelsea three years ago. They played fiddle tunes and light pops, including "Michelle" and "The Pink Panther," which featured a walking bass part.

Following the concert, students served ice cream and toppings and surprised the Fritzemeiers with a

"good-bye cake" and presents to help them remember their special friends here in Michigan. Jed expressed his sadness at leaving the string program here, and his belief that the orchestras would continue to grow strong, since they have such good support from the administration. He has talked with several of the people currently being considered to replace him, and said that they are "top-notch," high praise from one who has been called "The Pied Piper of Chelsea," due to his musical ability and his close relationship with his students.

Host Families Needed For Visiting German Band Members

Host families are needed for a guest band from Waldbrol, Germany, who will be arriving on Sunday, July 23.

The band, which is being hosted by the Chelsea Music Boosters, is from a private music school. They formed six years ago by a group interested in performing the Big Band sound of Glenn Miller and Herb Alpert, as well as modern rhythms and traditional jazz. The band has grown and developed to be a well-recognized group which has performed concert tours in Holland and England. Their repertoire includes such popular American songs as "Tiger Rag," "Sweet Georgia Brown," and "In The Mood."

The group will perform on Monday, July 24 at the 4-H Washtenaw County Fair in Saline. Tuesday they will go to Greenfield Village and join their host families in the evening for a swim party and picnic at the home of William and Greer Maybaum. On Wednesday they will perform at the Cascades in Jackson, preceded by a trip to the Jackson All-Star Dairy. They will leave Chelsea on Thursday for the remainder of their tour.

Host families are needed for some band members who range in age from 14-24. Anyone interested in hosting should contact Greer Maybaum at 475-2204.

THE WALKING BASS for "The Pink Panther" was provided by Matt Fisher, left, and Chris Gibson. They performed at the final summer middle school concert July 11.

JED FRITZEMEIER tunes sixth grade orchestra violins before the youngsters performed their summer concert on July 11.

"He who commences many things finishes but few..."
—H. G. Bohn

We agree with Bohn but wonder a little about cause and effect. Who hasn't started a project that turned out to be so difficult that it was either abandoned or simply replaced by an easier one?

Or, if we take on every interesting, worthwhile project urged on us, we'll find that there just isn't time for the completion of any! The solution seems to lie in greater selectivity in choosing the things we start. Our priorities should be clearly determined.

Through our connections with collaborating funeral directors, we can arrange for services anywhere in the country. Call us first and let us assist you in your time of need.

Special for this 1989 year will be a free performance of the Big Band Der Jugendmusikschule, a youth band visiting from Waldbrol, Germany. You can enjoy the big band sound and presentation of Monday, July 24 from 5 to 7 p.m.

For more information, or to pick up a complete schedule of events and a copy of the Youth Show Book stop by the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service, 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor (County Service Center) or call 971-0079.

Hazardous Waste Collection Scheduled

Disposal of household toxics will be easier with the special late hours for the next Washtenaw county household hazardous waste collection. Household hazardous wastes will be accepted from 2 to 7 p.m. on July 26. Appointments are required. Call 971-0079 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Washtenaw county residents can drop off their unwanted paint thinner and other solvents; pesticides including rat poison, weed killer, and insecticides; acids such as battery acid and some types of drain cleaner; and other items which cannot be recycled. Oil-based paints which can't be given away or used can also be dropped off.

Pesticides should be individually wrapped with a clear plastic bag over the original container. All containers will be collected with the hazardous material so don't bring a container that you want to keep. Containers larger than 5 gallons will not be accepted.

It costs nearly $2.50 per pound to dispose of hazardous household waste. Washtenaw County Household Hazardous Waste Collections are currently paid for through grants and county funds. They are sponsored by the Washtenaw Household Hazardous Waste Coalition, which includes Washtenaw County Environmental Health Department, Co-operative Extension Service, the City of Ann Arbor Solid Waste and Wastewater Treat-

Hospital To Offer Cholesterol Screening

Chelsea Community Hospital will offer cholesterol screenings during Chelsea Sidewalk Days.

Cholesterol screenings will be offered by hospital health professionals on Friday, July 28 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.; and 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Screenings will also be offered on Saturday, July 29 between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. There will be a $5 fee for the cholesterol screenings.

For more information, contact the Education Department at Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-3935.

Sheriff's Deputies Report Larcenys

A reported larceny from a building was investigated by deputies Dietrich and Chapman, Monday, July 10, after a Novi resident explained she left her purse by mistake at McDonald's-Zeeb

Rd. and returned in search of it a few minutes later, but was unable to locate either the purse or its contents.

Adrian motorist Andrew David Marks was driving westbound on Jackson Rd. about 11 a.m. Tuesday, July 11, and didn't observe the red light for east-west traffic and entered the intersection, striking a vehicle driven by Jacqueline Virginia Allan of Whitmore Lake.

Marks was cited for disregarding a traffic control device.

A "Men Working" sign was apparently used to deliberately damage an automobile parked near a Scio township residence, Monday, July 10.

After breaking the vehicle's windshield and inflicting a series of scratches and dents on the hood, the culprit left the sign on top of the car, where it was discovered at 7:15 a.m. the following morning.

A $2100 larceny was reported to deputies by the owner of a working horse farm on North Territorial near Maple Rd. in Webster township at 5:01 p.m. Friday, July 7.

ment Departments, the Hazardous Substance Panel, the Drain Commissioner's Office, Ecology Center, U.S. EPA Emissions Lab, Ypsilanti township, and the League of Women Voters.

Persons making an appointment will receive detailed instructions on what can and cannot be brought to the collections and how to safely transport their materials.

Free Dog Training Clinic Offered By Humane Society

All present and potential dog owners are invited to a Dog Training and Care Clinic sponsored by the Humane Society of Huron Valley. A vast array of useful information will be available to help sharpen your pet's manners and skills for the upcoming year.

The clinic will be held on Sunday, July 23 from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club located at 1575 E. North Territorial Rd., just two miles east of US-23.

Instructors from the Dog Training Club will be on hand to give valuable tips on topics such as health care, feeding, grooming, housebreaking, obedience training, and dog breed characteristics. There will also be demonstrations by the instructors followed by a question and answer period.

The clinic is free to the public; however, we must ask that you leave your pet at home.

Relevant pet care literature will also be available at no cost.

For directions or more information, phone the Education Department at 682-5545.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley is a private, non-profit organization serving all of Washtenaw county and dedicated to preventing cruelty to animals and promoting respect for all life.

A Chelsea man and several witnesses told Chelsea police that someone stole his motorcycle helmet while he was eating at McDonald's Restaurant on Wednesday, July 5.

Police said the man had left his black and red helmet in a Jeep owned by a friend. A couple on a Suzuki Intruder motorcycle pulled into the parking lot, a woman got off the back of the vehicle, took the helmet, and the couple rode away, apparently west on I-94.

The motorcycle driver was described as a man about 25-years-old wearing a black leather jacket, jeans, and a black helmet. The woman was described as about 20-years-old with black-hair. She was wearing a black helmet and red tank top.

Chelsea Merchants Take Third In State Softball Tournament

Chelsea Merchants softball team took third place in the 19-and-under American Softball Association State Tournament in Midland July 7-9.

With the third place finish, the Merchants should qualify for the Great Lakes Regional and a shot at the national tournament, according to coach Charlie Waller.

The Merchants competed in the "A" division and open against Midland Westown, whom they shut out 7-0 behind one-hit, 12-strikeout pitching of Jenni Smith.

Beth Kenney, Peggy Hammerschmidt, Jenny Pichlik, Ceia Murphy, and Laura Unterbrink each had two hits. Murphy had a triple.

Chelsea took a 13-1 victory over Mitchell of Midland in the second game. Hammerschmidt opened on the mound and Unterbrink pitched in relief. Murphy had two hits, including a triple. Alisha Dorow had three hits, and Sara Corwin of Manchester had a pair of hits.

The Midland Firefighters, the hometown favorite, was Chelsea's next victim. Smith took a 2-1 win as the Merchants picked up two runs in the first inning and hung on for the win. The Firefighters scored once in the seventh before Smith put them away.

The Genesee Travelers from Fenton moved the Merchants into the losers' bracket with a 1-0 win, despite the one-hit pitching of Unterbrink. The Travelers' one run was unearned and it came in the fourth inning.

"We hit the ball hard but our luck failed us as we hit the fall right at the Fenton players, who turned in a strong defensive game," Waller said.

The Merchants lost to the C&S Machine from Grand Rapids in their final game, 4-1.

Chelsea scored first, but couldn't hold on.

The Great Lakes Regional will be held in Ann Arbor the week-end of July 21-22.

SARA CORWIN of Manchester is playing with the Chelsea Merchants softball team this summer.

Summer Baseball Team Drops Three Games in Rough Week

Chelsea summer baseball team suffered through a rough week of action as they lost games to Saline, 8-3, Fox Marathon, 9-1, and Milan, 11-1.

On Tuesday, July 11 Chelsea took on their Southeastern Conference rivals Saline. Chelsea jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first as Kyle Plank walked and later scored on a Kerry Plank fly ball that was dropped for an error. Brandon Murrell's double scored Kerry Plank. Murrell was thrown out at third as he tried to stretch the hit to a triple.

The score stayed 2-0 until the third when Saline rallied for three runs on two hits, two walks, and two Chelsea errors.

Chelsea tied the game in the fourth on singles by Kerry Plank, Murrell, and Craig Ferry. Chelsea had runners on second and third with one out but a strikeout and a fly ball ended the inning.

Saline scored one run in the fourth, and two in the fifth and sixth.

Chelsea had just four hits in the game.

Ben Hurst started on the mound and "really pitched a good game," according to coach Akel Marshall. Kyle Plank relieved him in the fifth.

"Ben did a good job and if we make a couple of plays for him, it's a different story," Marshall said.

Chelsea played Fox Marathon on Thursday, July 13. Once again Chelsea took the early lead, 1-0 in the first inning, as Steve Emmert singled and scored on a double by Ferry.

Fox tied the game in their half of the first and scored two in the second to take a 3-1 lead.

Chelsea bats were silent the rest of the way while Fox scored five in the fourth and one in the fifth to take a mercy rule victory. Adam Taylor and Lance Satterthwaite also contributed hits in the contest.

Ferry pitched the first three innings and Taylor came on in relief.

"About the only good thing after the opening inning was a good diving catch by Emmert in right field," Marshall said.

On Friday, July 14 Chelsea took on Milan, who scored three times in the first and four runs in the second to put the game away early.

Chelsea managed to threaten a couple of times but couldn't come up with a timely hit. The shutout was avoided in the fourth when Murrell walked, went to third on Ferry's single, and scored on a throwing error.

Hurst had the only other hit for Chelsea.

Rob Clem was the starting Chelsea pitcher but had little defensive help. Shawn Castleberry relieved in the third and finished the game.

Chelsea dropped to 1-6 on the season.

Freedom on the River Rowing Program Set

Each Tuesday and Thursday from now through October from 5:30 until 8 p.m., and Sundays from 4 until 6 p.m., Argo Park Canoe Livery will be the site of the Freedom on the River Rowing Program.

Sponsored by the Ann Arbor Department of Parks and Recreation, this is a rowing program for the mobility impaired, utilizing specially modified craft. Specialized aides are available to assist rowers.

There is no fee for this program. Please call 682-9319 for more information.

FORMER Chelsea High school third baseman Kelly Stump is a member of coach Charlie Waller's Chelsea Merchants softball team. The young women are expected to compete in a regional tournament this week-end.

Morseau To Play Baseball At Ferris State College

Recent Chelsea High school graduate Junior Morseau has received a scholarship to play baseball at Ferris State College in Big Rapids.

Morseau, one of the best catchers in the state, led the Bulldogs to the Southeastern Conference championship this spring.

According to Chelsea coach Wayne Welton, Morseau's stock rose with his performance in the high school all-star game this spring. "After they saw him play, they upped the ante," Welton said.

"They did a good job recruiting him."

Ferris State, a member of the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, doesn't shy away from tough opponents. They play Big-10 schools as well as those from the Mid-American Conference.

Portage and Base Lakes Sewer Concerns

By James Drolett
Dexter Township Supervisor

There are many misconceptions being spread about the proposed sewer system at Portage and Base Lakes and I would like to address those and provide factual information to the readers of the newspaper.

1. What kind of sewage disposal system is being built and how does it work?

The proposed system of treatment is called a secondary treatment system with rapid infiltration basins which will produce tertiary effluent approaching drinking water quality.

What this means is the use of the basins create a water quality equal to third stage of treatment.

The system itself will consist of two 5-million gallon aerated lagoons. The raw wastewater will enter the lagoons where the microbic action will purify the wastewater, converting the objectionable parts of the wastewater to carbon dioxide, water and inert solids. The renovated water will then be dosed into three sand basins totaling 240,000 sq. ft. or 5.5 acres. As the water seeps through the sand of the basins, the phosphates as well as other microbic material are removed. The system is designed such that all renovated water will travel toward the swamp adjacent to Little Portage Lake. In fact, the water from the treatment facility will be many times cleaner than that which now flows into the lake from the Portage River.

It should also be remembered that currently there are approximately 1,000 septic tanks and drainfields of many sizes and varieties, which are located in the water table around the lakes and these eventually discharge into the lakes without proper treatment.

2. How long have we studied this system and site?

Dexter Township took an option to purchase the treatment site in May 1986 and the site has been studied, surveyed, poked, probed, drilled, soils analyzed, etc., ever since. A hydrogeologic study was conducted by McNamee, Porter & Seeley, an engineering firm from Ann Arbor that specializes in wastewater treatment. As a result of this study, a basic design of a treatment system was completed and a groundwater discharge permit was applied for from the Water Resources Commission through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. After much careful study and extra testing the Water Resources Commission, WRC and MDNR granted Dexter Township a discharge permit for 240,000 gallons of water per day.

3. How long will this system last?

The latest soil tests conducted by Michigan State University give a conservative estimate of 30 years for phosphorus absorption at the site.

This state of the art technology should serve the lakes very well even beyond the 30 years phosphorus capacity with minor changes in the treatment process.

4. Will this system have the capacity to service the areas around the lakes?

Yes. This system was designed for a maximum flow of 200 gallons per day (gpd) per household and 1,200 households which equals 240,000 gpd. Two hundred gpd per household is above the average daily water consumption for households and it should be noted that only 60 to 70 percent of the houses in the sewer district are year-round homes and that percentage may never exceed 70%. Also, many of the houses are small and are on small lots and will not lend themselves to expansion.

5. Why didn't we plan for more expansion?

Because the people around the lakes didn't want us to. They expressed fears of turning the lakes area into an urban lake-type area with condo developments and crowded conditions which would ruin the serenity of the area. They wanted a system which would take care of existing problems but allow for minimum growth within the ordinances of the four townships involved and that is what we gave them. We have listened to the property owners on the lake and have designed the system according to the direction provided by them.

6. Why didn't we examine alternative treatment sites?

First, there are no other treatment sites available. This land was made available to us by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. The property was declared surplus by HCMA, who made it available to us prior to releasing it to private development. Secondly, it cost $36,000 to evaluate this site and the results of the tests were that it was an ideal site with the proper size, slope, soils, isolation and location. Considering the above, the decision was made to go forward with this site.

7. Will this system work and will it have any negative impact on the surrounding homes?

First, let me say the system absolutely will work. Many critics of the system who have been getting much press coverage of late say the system won't work. They have even quoted professors from Michigan State University saying the system is bad. On investigating these critical letters by the "Professors" it was found that none of the 4 professors who signed letters have ever seen the hydrogeologic study, the engineering design, the ground water discharge permit or the soil test results.

One can only wonder what they used in forming the basis of their opinion to make such negative comments. In fact, one professor indicated, if we would send him the materials he'd be glad to study them and give us his opinion. Another professor said he never saw the letter that was written in his name and he never signed any letter.

One would think that if the critics of this project were that concerned, they would have taken all the materials which were available to them and let the professors review and comment on them. Maybe the critics are afraid of the answers and would rather wage a battle on fear rather than fact.

8. Why didn't we run the sewer line to Dexter Village?

This alternative was explored early in the project but was discounted for many reasons. The first and foremost was the cost. It could cost $3 to $4 million dollars extra to run the sewer line to Dexter. Next, the population of the Portage and Base Lakes area is almost three times that of Dexter Village and with their treatment plant operating at 30 to 40 percent capacity, it would mean expansion of the Village site. Not only could this cost additional millions but the physical size of the Village system's lot area most likely would prohibit expansion. Finally, if it could be expanded, the capacity would be there for expansion and growth, not only around Dexter, but also around the lakes, which would become uncontrollable. This again is not what our constituents wanted.

9. What is the cost of the sewer system and who will pay for it?

The estimated cost of the system is $8,900,000. However, we will not know the exact costs until the construction bids are received. Dexter township residents who do not live at Portage or Base Lakes will not pay anything for this system. This holds true for Hamburg, Webster and Putnam township residents as well.

All four of the townships have established special assessment districts around the lakes and those property owners within the district will pay for the sewer system in its entirety. Some critics of the system are currently circulating petitions throughout the township which are misleading. The petitioners would have you believe that all township residents will pay. This is not true. Yes, the townships will have to pledge their full faith and credit behind the sale of the bonds to pay for the construction of the project, but this is standard procedure for the construction of all waste water treatment systems for municipalities. Dexter township residents along with the rest of the county currently pledge the full faith and credit of Wastewater county for the construction of the Ann Arbor, YCUA and Milan Wastewater Treatment. The fact is, the projects are always paid for by the properties in the area to be served and this will happen here.

10. How much will this system cost the property owners in the Special Assessment district at Portage and Base Lakes?

The special assessment per dwelling unit or benefit has been set at $7,000 per household. If you have a duplex it's the same as 2 households and you are assessed 2 benefits or $14,000, the special assessment cannot be increased above the $7,000 figure without having more public hearings. The $7,000 assessment may be paid off over 15 years and 1/15 of the amount due on the principal plus interest owed will show up on the December tax bill if you are in the assessment district. Yes, it will cost more than $7,000 if it is paid over the 15 years, but this is not different than buying an automobile with an installment loan. The interest rate charged will be 1% above the rate of interest on the sale of the bonds. Anyone in the assessment district may pay the $7,000 assessment without interest on or before Aug. 1, 1989.

11. Are there any other costs to the property owners in the sewer district?

Yes. The other two costs associated with the sewer are the hook-up fee and the monthly operation and maintenance (O&M fee).

The sewer line in most instances will be constructed in the streets and a house connection will be branched off, which will extend to the private property lines. The costs of hooking the household to the line in the street will have to be paid by the property owner as the household hooks into the system. The cost will vary from house to house depending on the distance of the house from the road, the difficulty of each job, which means what kind of existing plumbing is in the house. Some estimates vary from $300 to $1,000. The hookups must be done by a licensed contractor or have prior approval of the sewer authority. Everyone must hook up to the sewer and there will be no need for the septic tank and drainfield.

Also, everyone hooked into the system must pay a monthly O&M charge. That amount has not been set and will be determined by the actual cost to operate the system. This has been estimated at $10 to $15 per month.

12. Why didn't the townships or sewer authority apply for a federal grant to help pay for the system?

Simply put, there is no federal money available and there hasn't been for quite some time. The U. S. Congress has discontinued the EPA construction grants program and has not been accepting new applications for several years.

Programs that are still in place are based on stimulating industrial development or low income housing developments.

13. Who determined that a sewer was needed?

The people of the lakes area came to Dexter township in 1986 and asked the township to assist them in putting in a sewer system. A task force was formed and many meetings were held at all four township halls as well as many mailings sent out to the residents of the Portage and Base Lakes area. The responses at all these meetings were enormously in favor of a sewer. Over the years the rules for on-site wells and septic have been changed and are stricter now than ever before. Residents and property owners when experiencing septic failures, have found it impossible to meet current on-site sewage disposal requirements. Some have had to sign 6-month deed restrictions, meaning they could occupy their house only 6 months out of the year. Others had to agree to expensive pump and haul permits while some have not been able to rebuild or remodel, thus maintaining their existing substandard building and resulting in reduced property values.

There are many failed or marginally usable systems and in a number of instances, the wells are polluted because of the small lots and close proximity of the septic system to the wells.

14. Why are sewer authority representatives trying to acquire private property easements and why are they only paying one-dollar?

In most cases the sewer lines and pumping stations are going to be placed in the public or private roads. However, the topography of the land around the lakes as well as existing public utilities and buildings has made it necessary to put the sewer pipe across private property in some instances. There are 248 cross-lot easements that must be obtained from private property owners and the sewer authority determined to pay one dollar for each easement. To make the transaction legal, something must be paid and a dollar is typical for this kind of transaction. Since every cost increase is paid for by the people in the sewer district themselves we seek to keep costs down. The more the authority pays, the more it costs the property owners.

15. What if there is a pumping station on or near my property?

Approximately 23 pumping stations will be located on private property and easements from property owners will be required. The authority will have a certified appraiser to appraise the value of the property needed and the authority will negotiate a price with the owner.

All pumping stations will be below ground except the very top which will be a manhole cover approximately six inches above the ground to keep the ground water out. They are quiet and do not produce odors. The stations will be located close to the road in areas where one cannot normally build any structures.

16. Should I or should I not sign a petition being circulated to hold a referendum vote township wide?

The circulators of the referendum petitions are using a perfectly legal mechanism in the law to call for a referendum vote of the people.

This vote will ask the registered voters of Dexter or any other township whether or not the township can or should sign a bond contract pledging the township's full-faith and credit to allow for the sale of the bonds. The hope of the circulators is to stop the sewer project by getting a referendum vote and then having the voters say no to the township entering a contract.

If the voters say no, the project will be delayed until alternate financing can be arranged through the county DPW or Drain Commissioner's Office. The residents of Dexter will be pledging the full faith and credit of the county instead of the township under these financing methods. All this will do is increase the cost to the users of the system due to the delay. The project will still have to move forward.

I'm sure many of you have already heard many of the half-truths, misquotes and outright fabrications by some of the critics of the sewer system, but I urge you not to be misled by someone who's sole purpose is to kill the project, not the welfare of the residents of the townships. If you have signed a referendum petition you can get your name taken off by calling the circulator of the petition and requesting it be stricken. You may also call the Dexter township clerk, William Eisenbeiser, and ask that your name be removed. If someone approaches you in the next few weeks to sign a petition, I urge you not to sign it.

In closing, I would like to thank you for taking the time to read this rather lengthy letter and I hope it has answered most of your questions.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

Chelsea schools' need for an additional 2.1 mills still seems to be misunderstood by a number of Chelsea voters. Some members of the community seem to believe that the need for the additional millage is to pay for "exorbitant teacher and administrative salaries." Furthermore, some people believe Chelsea's growth should have generated substantial budget surpluses. Neither of these statements are accurate or fair.

Chelsea schools' operating budget for fiscal year 1987-88 was $9,757,497. This budget exceeded tax collections by $180,000. Simply, the schools needed another .7 mills to balance their budget in 1987-88. Very few Chelsea residents will deny that it cost more to run their homes, fuel their cars and purchase repair services than it did last year. The schools face this same problem. Last year's budget will not buy the same goods and services this year. Gasoline for buses, heat and power are only a few of the items the schools purchase that are higher than a year ago. How, then, can the schools operate at the same level as last year without a millage increase? They can't!

Chelsea has grown and this growth has generated some additional tax revenues. Was it enough to keep pace with inflation or to cover the cost of educating the new children who moved into the district? No! Where does the money come from to educate 35-40 additional children who live in the homes that generated this extra tax revenue? On average, it costs $6,000 per year per child to educate children in Chelsea. This alone is an additional expense of over $200,000. Add a very nominal real inflation factor to last year's budget, say 5%, and you now have another shortfall of $500,000. With last year's budget deficit of $180,000, the schools would need at least $380,000 more than last year to run a balanced budget. Unfortunately, unlike the Federal Government, our school administrators cannot print money to pay the tab. The money they need can only come from one source—a millage increase.

It is difficult to define what is a fair wage and what is an "exorbitant fat cat" wage. Wage rates follow one of two courses—either supply and demand or local custom. For example, if there is a large supply of engineers and little demand for engineering talent, wages will tend to be lower than customary for that profession. Likewise, there would be little difference in the wages of an engineer at Chrysler as compared to an engineer at Ford or GM. It seems to me a fair wage is one that is paid for similar services in the same geographic area. Chelsea school's wages would have to be considered fair on this basis—they are at par with surrounding school districts—not higher, not lower.

"Fat Cat" wages are harder to define. The school administrators are paid on a par with surrounding districts, but the impression is that the administrative wages are "Fat Cat." If we compare our school system to a $11,000,000 business, the administrative wages are low by comparison. The president of this business would earn far more than the superintendent. The vice-president will earn more than the assistant superintendent. Our schools are a big business with big responsibilities that have to be run by people with excellent skills. We have those people. They need our support.

Alan Fischer.

Dear Editor:

Well the school board finally inspired me to pick up my pen in protest of our education dilemma. How can pay raises be given when the schools are faced with cut-backs and budgetary deficiency? I don't have any doubt that the raises are deserved but don't our children deserve quality education? Are they getting it? Why is there such a big deficit when Sylvan taxes have been raised annually? There must be a problem that is not being addressed.

There was a great hue and cry in Lansing when a state lottery was being promoted. Schools would have a real bonanza. Did they? I don't believe it helped much.

How about the Headlee Amendment which was to grant/guarantee a 41.6 percent pay back to local communities?

I believe in both cases our state officials are guilty of duplicity which gives lip service to education while quietly slipping the money out of school funding.

I should think that Chelsea's School Board would be thinking that there might be a problem when such a large percentage of school districts are having financial disaster facing them. There is a state organization which school administrators belong to, why hasn't pressure been put on our officials in Lansing to get the money for education back to local schools?

I have no doubt that the Headlee override will be defeated. How can we vote another increase in taxes after the terrific increases in evaluation which were levied in March? Taxing us out of our homes is not the answer. I certainly want our Chelsea children to have good educations.

I don't want the school day to be shortened for the sake of budget shortages or to allow participation in extra curricular activities.

I would like to have students who graduate capable of basic reading, writing and math skills in addition to various other enrichment programs. Is this an impossible goal? I surely hope not. I love the community and want to spend many more years here.

Come on Chelsea School Board. Show us some leadership. Address the real problems and we will all be behind you.

Patricia Stoll.

To the Editor,

How wonderful the fireworks were this year! It reminded me of the way they used to be in Ann Arbor before they were moved to the airport, diminished in impact and excitement. Chelsea can be very proud to have such a fine show.

It was with a feeling of alarm and disgust, then, that I read in The Standard that the man behind this wonderful event is deeply in debt due to the paucity of financial support. I think Harold Allen deserves better. Without him there is no show. Thousands of people from Chelsea and the outlying areas were in attendance and enjoyed themselves. Children especially love to watch fireworks. This is one of those rare family activities that not only can be enjoyed, but that remind us how lucky we are to live in a free and democratic society. There is a sense of community in the air.

People of the Chelsea area, please support the fireworks. Help Harold Allen with your time and your donations. Without your support, the best show Chelsea ever had may very well be the last.

Frank J. Kendrick.

Dear Editor,

I would like to address this letter to the young people of Chelsea, yes, and to some of the older ones too.

Several months ago, someone in our family tried to commit suicide. It didn't succeed as he had tried it several times before.

Please, do not let alcohol or drugs get you down. Talk to your parents, your friends, anyone, even me. Everyone loves you. Do not be afraid to accept failure, or mistakes. Parents, please teach your youngsters not to be afraid to lose. Think of your failures or mistakes the same as if you were on a sports team and lose once in awhile. If at first you do not succeed at what you do, try, try again.

Do not tuck your head, your arms or your legs in like a turtle about to cross the road blindly.

Hold up your head, reach out those arms and walk on those two feet which the Lord has given you and face squarely whatever your aim in life.

I am getting old but even I make mistakes. I talk too much and criticize and probably have many more faults. I have been trying to climb that "tree of life" which the Rev. Bowen speaks about for a long time. If I do not succeed, it won't be because I haven't tried. You, too may keep trying to climb that tree of life and you will succeed.

Worship the Master, stand on His promises, have faith and He will see you safely through anything.

Thanks for listening and God bless you at whatever you attempt to do in life.

Helen Harris.

Katie Flynn Competing In Miss Teen Michigan

Katie Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flynn of Chelsea, will be among the candidates competing for the title of Miss Teen of Michigan at the seventh annual state pageant this Thursday through Saturday, July 20-22.

The winner of the pageant will receive a $1,000 cash scholarship, a host of merchandise awards, and an expense-paid trip to the national pageant. Miss Teen of America will receive nearly $30,000 in awards and prizes, including a $10,000 scholarship to the school of her choice.

Each candidate will be scored in six areas, including achievement and service to school and community, personal development of talents and special interests, scholastic record, personality and poise in formal wear, and a judge's interview. In addition, each of the candidates will take a written test designed to measure their general awareness of the world around them.

The pageant finals will be held at 8:15 p.m. on July 22 at the Dow Center Auditorium on the Hope College Campus.

Flynn is being sponsored by Chelsea Lumber Co., Garnett's Flower Shop, and Schneider's Grocery.

Simon Earns Degree at Hillsdale

Joseph Patrick Simon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simon of Chelsea, received a bachelor's degree in biology from Hillsdale College on May 13.

Simon was active in orchestra and jazz band and a member of Beta Beta Beta, a national biological society, and Sigma Zeta, a national science honorary. He was also named to the Dean's List for the spring semester with a 4.0 average.

From the SUPERINTENDENT'S CORNER

By
JOSEPH K. PIASECKI

Questions are often asked by residents about the Chelsea schools that deserve a wide circulation. The Chelsea Standard has agreed to publish this column several times during the year to provide information to the residents of the Chelsea School District.

Many of the people who move to Chelsea do so because of the reputation of the school system. What makes the Chelsea school system so special? After being part of the district for this past year, I can identify several important aspects of the Chelsea schools.

1. The focus on curriculum and curriculum development is the highest priority to the district.
2. A commitment to all students in the district is evidenced by our strong Special Education program, special classes for students who need special help, an academically talented program, advanced placement classes, vocational classes, and a comprehensive curriculum that meets the needs of all students of the district.
3. A comprehensive athletic program is available for both male and female students grades 7-12.
4. A strong commitment to the arts provides a wealth of programs from elementary through high school: elementary art and music; middle school art, band, orchestra and choir; and high school art, band, orchestra and choir are all available to students.
5. An exceptional Community Education program provides activities for the very young to the very old and everyone in between.
6. A swimming program teaches students of all ages how to swim.
7. An exceptional Performing Arts program includes plays, musicals, debate, forensics, concerts, and a host of other activities.
8. Field trips give students an opportunity to learn outside the normal school setting.
9. Many clubs and after-school activities meet the individual needs of our students.
10. A caring and dedicated staff works hard in developing the students they work with on a daily basis.

I hope you agree that the Chelsea schools are a special place for our students. All of the employees of the district will work hard to keep the Chelsea schools special in the future.

Chelsea Churches Care About Youth

Our community has recently been made more aware of a growing crisis. Many of our young people, teens and children, are burdened with deep feelings of loneliness, worthlessness, and despair. Suicides and suicide attempts have resulted when people with such feelings have not known where to turn for help.

Help is available. A coalition of concerned youth, parents, educators, medical personnel, and religious leaders have decided to take action.

As one of the first steps, the churches of Chelsea have agreed that Sunday, July 23, shall be a day of community prayer and fasting. Churches have been asked to be open from 8 a.m. through 10 p.m. so anyone can come in to meditate and to pray. Worship services will emphasize Youth and Life Concerns. Church workers will be available to discuss spiritual concerns, and some churches will even have medical personnel on hand at least part of the day to discuss any health concerns of youth.

You will be welcomed without question in any of our area's churches. They are here to serve you and to demonstrate the love of God to everyone. There will be no charge for these services, though free-will offerings will likely be gathered during the regular worship service.

The average American eats over 18 lbs. of apples a year, while the average Dutchman consumes 100 lbs. per year and the average Italian consumes 56 lbs. per year.

"SINGIN' IN THE RAIN"

For a while the Chelsea Area Players musical production, "Singin' in the Rain" rambled at an extremely slow pace until a young man by the name of Ron Lytle lit theatrical skyrockets with his "Make 'em Laugh," the first show stopper of the evening in the Chelsea High School Auditorium last Saturday evening.

A silent movie star of the first caliber, Don (Joe Diederich) along with other celebrities including his silent film co-star, Lina (Ruth Kenny), are attending the world premiere of their latest film "The Royal Rascal." His long-time personal and professional friend, Cosmo (Ron Lytle) joins him to enter Grauman's Chinese Theatre to witness their latest hit and hoped-for success.

Don encounters Kathy Selden (Roxanne Kring) sitting on a park bench. Kathy immediately attracts him with her innocent and naive approach to life. He counters with "You Stepped Out of a Dream." Later at a party given at the Coconut Grove Restaurant, Don again sees Kathy and reprises "Dream."

Cosmo's viewpoint toward film is expressed in a song called "Make 'em Laugh." Kathy and Don continue their "I like you, you like me?" routine with "You Are My Lucky Star" sung by Kathy and countered with "You Were Meant for Me" sung by Don.

News arrives at the company headquarters about a talkie... a film in which people actually speak; a film entitled "The Jazz Singer." Scoffed at by R. F. Simpson (John Williams), head of the studio, and director Dexter (Tobin Alan Hisson), shooting continues for the next Don and Lina silent sequel to "The Royal Rascal."

"The Jazz Singer" is a huge success; silent movies are a phenomenon of the past. Simpson is faced with problems: His star Lina's speaking voice would crack a chandelier but she is still a hot property and his production of his next silent is all but in the finished can.

What to do? Cosmo comes up with the idea of having Kathy (who has a beautiful voice) dub the sound for fabulous star Lina, converting the silent movie to a "talkie."

Works out fine until Lina, jealous of Kathy and Don's relationship, along with her attorneys threaten to sue if they expose her voice. Kathy's current contract is for five years.

Cosmo, Don and Simpson, however, at the premiere of their first sound production, "Dueling Dancer" liberate their future young star in a happy musical sequence of events.

Favorite happenings in Chelsea's rambunctious musical converted from a movie starring Gene Kelly, Debbie Reynolds, and Donald O'Connor need special mention.

When Don sings "Singin' in the Rain" ending Act I, the torrents of rain falling on the Chelsea stage was an unbelievable sight, a happening. With Don dancing with umbrella and singing, the amazement of this recreation of rain on-stage was unbelievable, even to me.

Don Paulsell, supervisor of set construction, with a production crew of 24 admirable people, set up the "rain inside" the Chelsea High school auditorium. Indeed a miracle.

Joe Diederich as Don casts a believable and likeable picture of an older star falling in love with a younger romantic lady. His dancing and singing abilities are great.

Ron Lytle as Cosmo out O'Connored Donald O'Connor with his "Make 'em Laugh" but again pulled a show stopper with three likeable characters: Tobin Alan Hisson as Roscoe Dexter and John Williams as R. F. Simpson with a huge production number "Broadway Melody." Lytle's tapping feet and likeable personality combined to make his role a memorable one.

Hisson as the director has the ability to mesh with other actors in his various roles and bring out the best in them as well as himself. He continued this admirable trait in "Singin'." His ability to hatch comedic lines and situations apparently comes with ease, but he's also a quiet scene stealer of the first class.

But my favorite of all in "Singin'" because she built her character and maintained it throughout the production with a stupid shrill voice was that of Ruth Kenny as Lina. Combining the "dumb blonde" role and grating voice must have taken hours to develop for "Singin' in the Rain."

Conductor Newell Kring and his orchestra complemented the on-stage performers nicely rather than competing with them in the sound area.

Norma Graflund, costume designer and co-ordinator, and her staff of 14 assistants outdid themselves in the beautiful costumes in several of the production numbers of "Singin' in the Rain."

Other performers in the musical were Norma Graflund, as Dora; Sue Williams, Dinsmore/Simpson's wife; Jerri Cole, Zelda; Hal Wendelken, Rod/P.R. man; Tom Layher, Sid Phillips/sound engineer; Mark Lageski, production technician; Bob Laske, policeman; and John Arbogast, dictation coach.

Ensemble members included Anne Becker, Carol Holden, Marcia Westen, Susan Schmunk, Phoebe Strong, Marge Lewis, Karen Kidder, Clara Smith, Debbie Olson, Janet Taroli, Mary Lou Rigg, Don Gerstler, Don Paulsell, Tony Trotter, Rebecca Williams, Melissa Williams, Sarah Hurcomb-Gegenheimer, Melissa Smith, Norman Weber, Joanne Weber, Dale Cole, Carol Palmer, and Corrie Schoenberg.

The moving of sets constantly by the backstage crew took away some from the effectiveness of the play and the movement of the supporting ensemble also smacked directional amateurishness.

If you didn't see last week's performances, songs you will leave the theatre humming are "All I Do Is Dream of You," "Beautiful Girls," "Good Morning," "Would You," and "Lucky Star."

"Singin' in the Rain" continues performances this Friday and Saturday (July 21 and 22), 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the Chelsea High School Auditorium on nights of performance.

CHARLIE KOENN
Is Summer Intern
At Select Sires

Charlie Koenn of Chelsea has been selected for an internship at Select Sires in Plain City, O.

Koenn, the son of Charles Koenn and the late Margot Koenn, and the grandson of Herm and Louise Koenn, will intern in the marketing department at Select Sires. He will assist with the visitor tour program, compiling updated daughter information, photographing bulls and elite daughters, and constructing sire catalogs. With the completing of the internship, he will graduate from Michigan State University with a bachelor's degree in animal science.

At MSU, Koenn has been active in the MSU Dairy Club, which he served as president during his junior and senior years. He was also the 1988 Officer-At-Large for the Mid-West Regional American Dairy Science Association—Student Affiliate Division. He was a member of the 1987 MSU Judging Team, which was high team over-all at the North American Livestock Exposition, and the 1988 MSU team, which judged at the Pennsylvania All-American and the World Dairy Expo and was third over-all. Koenn was high individual in Holsteins. Koenn has also been a member of FarmHouse fraternity for four years.

The Koenn family operates a 750-acre, 80-cow Holstein farm.

Select Sires provides internships in both the marketing and information departments throughout the year in co-operation with colleges and universities across the country. It consists of 12 farmer-owned and controlled co-operatives and serves the largest number of co-op members in the country.

Canoe, Kayak Owners Will Get License Refund

The Michigan Secretary of State has begun processing automatic refunds for nearly 7,000 owners of canoes, kayaks and some small boats under a recent change in law (Public Act 133).

Refunds are being processed automatically for owners who have registered: 1) non-motorized canoes and kayaks used for pleasure, and 2) non-motorized craft between 12 and 16 feet in length which are used for pleasure. The refunds are the result of a bill signed into law June 29 by Governor James Blanchard, which rescinds the fees on these vessels.

Checks will be mailed to all individuals who registered their now-exempt craft between March 14, 1988 and June 29, 1989. The refund checks, which range in amounts from $4.50 to $6.75, will be mailed within approximately two months.

Under Public Act 56 of March 1988, canoes and kayaks were required to be registered for a fee of $4.50 per three years. The fee for non-motorized vessels 12 feet and longer was set at $6.75 per three years. The fees, collected by Secretary of State offices, were destined for three waterways-related programs administered by the Department of Natural Resources.

The new law rescinds portions of P.A. 56, exempting privately-owned canoes, kayaks, and non-motorized vessels between 12 and 16 feet from registration. Secretary of State branch offices will no longer have to collect these fees.

The older a displaced homemaker is, the less likely she is to be working, according to the U. S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau. About 75 percent of women aged 55-64 are not employed. Displaced homemakers have lost their primary source of income after their spouse died or became disabled or because they have been divorced or separated.

Livestock Killings Reported in Sharon

A July 5 livestock kill in Sharon township occurred sometime between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m., and was the second report within two days documented by deputy Strom, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department animal control officer.

Strom's report listed three dead sheep, in addition to an earlier report of six dead lambs with evidence of bite wounds from the teeth of a suspected predator, perhaps a large, stray dog.

The location in which the predator was operating is a site along Pleasant Lake Rd. near M-52.

Motorist Mark Gordon Bruce told deputy Keith Dietrich he was trying to swat a wasp and didn't see Robert Earl Breuninger driving a farm tractor with attached trailer headed southbound on Parker Rd., near Trinkle Rd., at 2:25 p.m. Monday, July 10.

Bruce collided with the tractor, but not before leaving approximately 20-25 feet of skid marks at the location.

Tammy L. Johnson told deputies Hartford and Stielow she hit bumps on Walsh Rd. near Merrill Rd., lost control of the vehicle, went off the road to the left, struck a tree, spun left, and hit another tree with the driver's side of the pick-up truck she was driving, before it bounced back onto the road.

The incident happened at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, July 9.

During the past few days, deputies reported, a 1986 Honda motorcycle was recovered from Brown Park in Birch Hollow.

In case the cycle is yours, contact the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department for further information.

A 1984 Ford pick-up truck, reported stolen from Van Buren township, was recovered by deputies at Lindley Rd. near Werkner Rd., after a tip from a citizen, according to a report filed by deputy S. Thayer.

Deputies report malicious destruction of a police car, discovered by deputy Mark Mesko at 6:21 a.m. Wednesday, July 12, in the "police only" parking area on Central St., across from sheriff's station 3, Dexter.

Deputy Mark Mesko noted the vehicle was intact when he checked, between 5 and 5:30 a.m., but at 6:21 a.m., the broken lens was spotted.

Most of the pieces from the blue lens were missing.

Independence Lake Biathlon Slated Aug. 19

Aug. 19 is the date for Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission's annual Independence Lake Biathlon.

The one mile lake swim will be followed by a 3.1 mile cross country run through this scenic park. Following the event, a complimentary breakfast will be served. Also the first 50 finishers will receive awards of recognition.

An early registration fee will be accepted until Aug. 4, with an increased fee after that and the day of the event.

The event will take place at Independence Lake County Park, 3200 Jennings Rd., near Whitmore Lake. Use the North Territorial Road exit off US-23 (north) and follow the signs to the park.

For a registration form or more information, please call the Washtenaw Parks and Recreation Commission administrative offices at 971-6337.

Dial-A-Garden Topics Listed

The following is a weekly schedule of Dial-A-Garden, the system of pre-recorded daily gardening tips sponsored by the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service. The system is in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Interested persons are invited to call 971-1129 at their convenience to listen to timely, up-to-date gardening information.

'Walk Michigan' Celebration Slated at County Farm Park

Saturday, Aug. 5 is the date set by Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission for its annual "Walk Michigan" celebration. To be held at County Farm Park in Ann Arbor, the event celebrates health, wellness, fitness and fun through walking. Walks are held in County Parks as well as many other Michigan locations.

For this event each walker's mileage will be celebrated with a pot-luck brunch, a drawing for prizes, awards to 25, 50, 75 and 100 "milers," as well as a special one-of-a-kind award to be made to the person with the most miles earned in the past year.

The walk will begin at 9 a.m. with easy warm-up exercises, followed by a 1 or 3.1 mile walk. The pot-luck brunch will follow. Please bring a dish to pass and your place setting. Beverages will be provided.

The park is located on Platt Rd., 1/8 of a mile south of Washtenaw in Ann Arbor. (From eastbound Washtenaw you must turn left at Huron Parkway and then turn right onto Platt Rd.)

There is no fee, and all persons interested in walking are invited.

If you have any further questions please call the administrative offices at 971-6337.

Manchester Chicken Broil Set Thursday

If it's summer in Manchester, the Chicken Broil must be right around the corner. Mark your calendars for Thursday, July 20 and plan to do no cooking that evening. Let the Manchester men do it for you.

Once again, the armies of the Chicken Broil will be out in force to cook up 14,000 or more chicken halves in the time-honored fashion. Radishes will roll, cabbage will transform itself into the famous secret slaw, and if all goes well, the skies will smile down on one of the biggest suppers in America.

On that day of the year, a stranger driving through Manchester can find out exactly what those signs at the village limits mean, the ones that say "Home of the Famous Chicken Broil." The deputies directing traffic and the clouds of smoke rolling from the athletic field are not signs of a major fire, and the horses pulling wagonloads of commuters from the high school are not evidence of a time warp. This dinner, big enough to feed Paul Bunyan, is Manchester's main event, and it is still going strong after 35 years.

So, you fans of chicken and tradition, plan to come out on July 20 for an annual treat. Serving starts at 4 p.m., and there will be the usual take-out line for those who want to eat at home. Profits will go to a worthwhile local project.

Tickets are available from Broil volunteers and many local businesses for $4.50 before the Broil, and $5 at the gate.

WISD Superintendent Elected Assoc. President

Dr. Michael O. Emlaw, superintendent of Washtenaw Intermediate School District (WISD), was recently elected president of the Michigan Association of School Administrators (MASA) for 1990-91.

MASA is a state-wide association of Michigan superintendents and assistant superintendents which promotes education legislation and sponsors administrator training. In 1989-90 Emlaw will serve as MASA's president-elect. He will assume the presidency in 1990-91.

Emlaw has been WISD's superintendent since 1986. He was formerly superintendent in Ludington and East Detroit. He resides in Ann Arbor with his family.

CHELSEA AREA PLAYERS completed the first week of the musical, "Singing in the Rain," to overwhelming response. The musical continues at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in Chelsea High's George Prinzing auditorium.

Technical Feats Highlight
CAP's 'Singin' in the Rain'

Chelsea Area Players have completed the first week of the musical, "Singin' in the Rain," to overwhelming response from local audiences.

The musical will continue this week-end with performances on Friday and Saturday evenings.

"Singin' in the Rain" features, besides outstanding stage performances, many technical feats.

Although the use of such can be disastrous to many community theatre groups, rain used in the title song's famous sequence is a highlight to Chelsea's production.

Elaborate lighting techniques are also featured, electrically wired set pieces, a motor-driven revolving stage, and a projection system used to show the filmed footage of the shows-within-the-show, "The Royal Rascal," and "The Dueling Cavalier," as well as numerous other sets and props.

Chelsea Area Players' technical department, headed by Don Paulsell, technical director, Shelly Wheaton, stage manager, Ken Beauchamp, lighting designer, and Betty Leeman, properties chairman, make the already outstanding musical visually fascinating.

The technical side of a performance is an often overlooked, but vital, portion of any production. The Players' technical crews consist of area volunteers who dedicate their time and efforts to put on a successful production.

The stage and technical crews for "Singin' in the Rain" include Jan Baltzell, Kim Friday, Diana Ipsen, Ward Beauchamp, Adam Beauchamp, Bob Wheaton, Mike Spade, Mercedes Hammer, Kathy Schneider, Scott Leeman, Beth Williams, Dana Schmunk, Chris Taylor, Jeremy Beauchamp, Rob Jacques and Scott Marsh.

Tickets are available for the Friday and Saturday performances of "Singin' in the Rain" at Casual Sports in Chelsea, and at the Michigan Theater in Ann Arbor, or by calling 475-4680.

BRASSWORKS will be appearing as featured artists at the Chelsea Sidewalk Festival on Friday, July 28 at 7 p.m. Their appearance is being sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association.

Brassworks Will Entertain
During Sidewalk Festival

The musical ensemble Brassworks will be appearing as featured artists at the annual Chelsea Sidewalk Festival, Friday, July 28, at 7 p.m.

The appearance is sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association, and is a part of the week-end activities happening in downtown Chelsea the last week-end of July. The concert is free and open to the public, and will take place on the stage at the corner of Middle St. and Main in downtown Chelsea.

Since 1984, Brassworks has been delighting audiences throughout southeastern Michigan and northern Ohio with its own brand of musical artistry and professional expertise. Specializing in a variety of styles of music, Brassworks will enlighten you with the classics, entertain you with upbeat popular songs, and enhance your evening with the perfect combination of creative music-making. Their program includes your favorite Sousa marches, dazzling Baroque trumpet fanfares, light American jazz, bouncy Renaissance dances; a sentimental ballad or two, and a host of other classical and popular music. Brassworks is a group of young, exuberant, professional musicians who live and work in the Detroit/Ann Arbor/Toledo area. Past appearances include performing for the Papal Visit of September, 1987 at the Pontiac Silverdome, appearances in 1988 for the Musical Arts Series in Detroit, for the Ann Arbor Winterfest in February of 1989, as well as concerts in 1988 for the Ann Arbor Salvation Army Adult Forum, St. Florian's Anniversary Celebration in Hamtramck, and the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Independence Day Festival.

NOTICE TO VILLAGE RESIDENTS

Lawn rakings, grass clippings, shrubbery trimmings and other debris should not be loosely placed in the streets or public right-of-ways.

Village residents who wish to dispose of these items must place them in plastic bags and set them at the curb for the regular Tuesday and Friday garbage and refuse collection. The total limit is three (3) bags per household for each collection date.

As in the past, Village Public Works crews will continue to pickup and dispose of tree trimmings. However, we do request that tree trimmings be cut in lengths not exceeding eight (8) feet and placed neatly near the curb.

Please keep in mind that the pickup is for tree trimmings only, not entire trees.

RESOLUTION

I, Allen L. Anderson, do hereby certify that I am the duly elected and qualified Clerk of the Village of Chelsea and the keeper of the records and corporate seal of The Village of Chelsea and that the following is a true and correct copy of a resolution duly adopted at a regular meeting of the Village Council of said Village of Chelsea, held on the 20th day of June, 1989.

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Chelsea State Bank be, and it is hereby, designated a depository of this Village and that funds so deposited may be withdrawn upon a check, draft, note or order of the village.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that all checks, drafts, notes or orders drawn against said account be signed by any of the following:

- 1) Village President
  - 2) Village Clerk
  - 3) Village Treasurer
  - 4) Village Manager
  - 5) Village Administrative Services Co-ordinator Assistant
- and that no checks, drafts, notes or orders drawn against said Bank shall be valid unless so signed.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that said Chelsea State Bank is hereby authorized and directed to honor and pay any checks, drafts, notes or orders so drawn, whether such checks, drafts, notes or orders be payable to the order of any such person signing and/or countersigning said checks, drafts, notes or orders, or any of such persons in their individual capacities or not, and whether such checks, drafts, notes or orders are deposited to the individual credit of the person so signing and/or countersigning said checks, drafts, notes or orders, or to the individual credit of any of the other officers or not. This resolution to continue in force until notice to the contrary in writing is duly served on said Bank.

I HERBY FURTHER CERTIFY that the following have been duly elected to the offices set opposite their respective names, and that they continue to hold these offices at the present time:

Jerry L. Satterthwaite, President
Kathleen Chapman, Treasurer
Allen L. Anderson, Clerk

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have herunto affixed my name as Village Clerk and have caused the corporate seal of said Corporation to be hereto affixed this 20th day of June, 1989.

Food Prices Increase One Percent in June

Consumer food prices rose by slightly more than one percent in June compared with the previous month, according to a retail food price survey conducted by the American Farm Bureau Federation. The Farm Bureau report is based on a 25-state survey, including Michigan, with monthly comparisons of 16 frequently purchased food items.

"The average market basket totaled $28.66 in June compared with $28.26 in May," said Michigan Farm Bureau economist Robert Craig. "Pork chops led the price increases, rising 21 cents per pound. Other items increasing in price included cereals, sirloin-tip beef roast, mayonnaise, cooking oils, flour, whole milk and potatoes."

Craig said the retail price for cheddar cheese dropped 7 cents per pound, leading those items decreasing in price. Other items registering lower prices included ground chuck, fryer chickens, eggs, apples and bread.

"The $28.66 market basket price for June compares with $28.36 recorded in January, a one percent over-all increase," Craig said. "Although the Farm Bureau check of retail prices does not represent an official price survey, the prices do reflect month-to-month changes in food prices recorded by food shoppers across the United States."

NEED Service Offers Help for Low Income Persons

The non-profit public organization called "The Network for Equal Economic Development Service" or the N.E.E.D. as it is more widely known throughout the Washtenaw county area is sponsoring seven educational classes for low-income citizens on ways to help oneself become more "economically independent."

These "Prosperity Partners Program" classes are to help low-income participants get money for college, start their own businesses or find better paying jobs.

Adults, young and old alike, are welcome to attend the seven classes held at the Ann Arbor "Y": 350 S. Fifth Ave., Ann Arbor, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., beginning July 18 through July 27.

For further information or to register for the classes, please call either the executive director Ms. Cabell-Khalid or Ann at (313) 994-2518 or 994-2519.

N.E.E.D. offices are located on the first floor of the Detroit Edison building, 425 S. Main St., Ann Arbor, Monday-Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Bed and Breakfast Publication Available

If you are considering converting your home into a bed and breakfast, you may want to first read "Starting A Bed and Breakfast in Michigan" recently released by the MSU Co-operative Extension Service. This bulletin discusses business concerns and options to consider before establishing a bed and breakfast.

In addition to the financial feasibility of this business venture, special attention must be given to the potential effects on you and your family, your home and neighborhood. Hospitality skills are imperative for a successful bed and breakfast.

"Popularity and interest in bed and breakfasts have increased dramatically in the past few years," noted Phil Alexander, co-author of the Extension bulletin. "A lot of people, after seeing an old Victorian home, think to themselves 'wouldn't that make a beautiful bed and breakfast?' I suggest they study their proposal very carefully and get as much information as possible."

One excellent source of information is talking to other bed and breakfast operators. Another source is the county Extension office which has research reports on the bed and breakfast industry.

Washtenaw County Extension office is located at the County Service Center, Hogback and Washtenaw, 971-0079.

Vacation Bible School
At Faith Lutheran
Next week, July 24-28, Faith Lutheran church will be conducting Vacation Bible School. Sessions will take place every morning from 9 until noon, and will be open to anyone age 3 through those entering 8th grade. There is no registration fee. Besides the daily Bible lessons under the theme, "Jesus Is," there will be craft projects, refreshments, a few games, and singing to the accompaniment of Pastor Porinsky's guitar. Members of Faith are especially eager to serve children who do not have a church of their own.

For more information call Pastor or Carolyn Porinsky at 428-8442. The church is located at 9575 North Territorial Rd., ¼ mile west of Dexter-Pinckney Rd.

WORK HAS BEGUN on the big addition to the Church building will provide classroom space as well as other of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints on Freer Rd. The room for expansion.

Pastors Address Chelsea Youth

A Letter to Chelsea Youth
Dear Editor:

I have attended both of the public meetings that have been held in Chelsea to deal with concerns about youth and suicide, and the church I serve will host a third meeting on Monday, July 17, at 7 p.m. Although I am usually identified as a pastor in these meetings, I also attend as a parent of five wonderful children.

Having stated my credentials, I would like to address a couple of issues that were raised in the question-and-answer phase of the first meeting.

First, what can a person do who needs to talk to someone but has no money and no transportation? Pastors are professionals who are usually paid by our churches to serve all people, even those who cannot afford a cent. We are not here to judge people but to help people deal with their problems, applying the wisdom and insights we have from God.

Most pastors have training in counseling, and most are also trained to know our own limitations and have access to other skilled professionals who will charge based on ability to pay.

Many of us have provided transportation for those who did not have it; many are available in an emergency any time of day or night; and we will meet people in our office, in your home, or in a public place such as a restaurant. Why? Because we care.

The second issue is more serious. The question expressed a concern about confidentiality, indicating a fear that something the youth wanted kept quiet was leaked out. Breaking confidences is unprofessional. Pastors as well as most other professionals operate under what is called the confidential seal. Sometimes we have even gone to jail rather than violate someone's trust. The most sacred vow is a confession of sin.

Of course, there sometimes are problems. Being professional doesn't make us perfect; perfection belongs only to God, and although we speak for Him, we also must be aware of our feet of clay. To pretend perfection would only make us worse frauds.

So sometimes leaks do happen in any profession. Small towns are hungry for gossip, and the clergy frequently and publicly speaks out against it. I wish I had the space and time to share some of the neat things Martin Luther had to say against the sin of gossip.

On the other hand, a counselor may urge a young person to tell their parents or doctor or teacher what is going on. This is not violating a confidence. Far too often the media (TV, movies) lead young people to believe that parents and other older people (especially authority figures) cannot be trusted. But if you can't trust authority figures, how can you trust the media? They may be exercising their artistic license and their constitutional freedom, but they are wrong—and may I say with sadness, dead wrong.

Most parents, pastors, and other authority figures really do care about you. Sometimes we don't know whether to spank you or hug you, but we do love you.

And what I am asking is that you give us the chance to prove it. Franklin H. Giebel, Pastor Our Savior Lutheran Church Phone: 475-7649 (Home) 475-1404 (Office)

God Doesn't Make Junk!

A few weeks ago, while shopping in Polly's, I saw a little boy wearing a T-shirt that said, "I am somebody, God doesn't make junk."

How true this statement is. Each of us is unique. As individuals, we each view life in a way no one else can. Our lives are shaped by those who love us and/or by those who don't. The key word is LOVE.

To some degree, all of us endure the agonies of loneliness, frustration, emotional and spiritual starvation. Most of these pains are due to failures in love. The sadness of such pain is that we focus all of our attention on ourselves, we become preoccupied with ourselves. Self-preoccupation is an obstacle to a life of love. Here again the key word is LOVE.

During the times of self-preoccupation I find solace in 1 John 4:7-11 where I find "LOVE" takes its origin in God, and in 1 Corinthians 13 (the Love chapter) that if I am without Love, I am nothing. With God's Love... "I am somebody, God doesn't make junk."

St. Mary's Catholic Church
Dick Shaneyfelt.

Life Is Sacred

Somewhere in the Talmud, it is written: "Whoever preserves one life, it is as though he has preserved the entire world." This is true not only because the value of a single human life is infinite, but also that when you sustain one life, especially the life of a young person, you sustain all the future lives implicit in it.

When one believes in the Creator God, one acknowledges that life is supremely sacred, even a life of pain and frustration. We need to learn not how to avoid pain by fleeing from life, but how to live with pain and cope with it. Any seemingly unsolvable problem in life involves pain, and pain almost always prompts us to respond in some way—sometimes in anger, sometimes in fear, sometimes by closing ourselves off from others. But our response can be constructive, and can build character and hope. In the midst of our pain, may we remember that God never lets us walk into a room without any doors. There is always a door that opens outward, into life—life that God makes sacred.

—Erwin R. Koch, Pastor St. Paul U.C.C., Chelsea.

Life Concerns

"Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? And not one of them will fall to the ground without your Father's will. Fear not, therefore, you are of more value than many sparrows!" Matthew 10.

Sometimes we "sell ourselves short" by not giving ourselves enough credit. We're not smart enough, not good looking, not enough money and things, not cool enough. We think we're not good enough. We are worthless.

We forget that we are important to others. People do value us just the way we are. God values us enough to create us and to give His own son to die for us. Parents and family do love and care for us. And there are others who care and consider us valuable who don't have to (God and family are supposed to care), friends, neighbors, clergy, doctors, nurses, and others do care because you are a valuable person.

Give them a chance! Give your family a chance, give God a chance! Give yourself a chance! You are of more value than many sparrows! Pastor Mark A. Weirauch Zion Lutheran Church, Chelsea.

Life Is A Sacred Trust

It is safe to say that most anyone whom you could ask would agree that (and not necessarily in these words) LIFE IS A SACRED TRUST. This means to me, at least, we have a need to convey this idea to all people—young or old—reinforcing it in every way we can conceive. It also means that the message of the tremendous worth of each individual soul is one which I cannot avoid. Each of us is unique and so we each have a unique role to play. It boils down to this, if any person is removed for any reason all of the contributions that could have been made are lost forever! So, we come back to that original thought, LIFE IS A SACRED TRUST, we dare not waste a single one.

The Rev. Dr. Jerrold F. Beaumont St. Barnabas Episcopal Church.

Use of Artificial Sweeteners Can Reduce Decay Rate
Q: What are some of the differences between different artificial sweeteners?
A: For the last 30 years or so Americans have been consuming artificial sweeteners in massive amounts, starting with the "one calorie cola," in an effort to prevent weight gain. Artificial sweeteners include saccharin, aspartame (Nutra-Sweet), sugar alcohols (xylitol and sorbitol), and cyclamates.
Saccharin has been in use longer than any of the other artificial sweeteners. It is a no-calorie additive that does not promote tooth decay and is often used instead of sugar in foods, beverages, chewable vitamins, and toothpastes, and mouthwashes.
Sugar alcohols like xylitol and sorbitol are found naturally in many foods. According to the Academy of General Dentistry, they are produced commercially for sweetening confections, such as chewing gums and candies. Some recent research found that xylitol users had a 90% decrease in cavities compared with those who used natural sugar. However, a small number of chronic sugarless gum chewers have developed plaque in their mouths that will produce decay in the presence of sugar alcohols. They also have the unpleasant side effect of causing increased gastro-intestinal gas in some people.
Cyclamate is a food additive that was used heavily in the 1960's. It is a no-calorie sweetener that does not cause tooth decay. The Food & Drug Administration removed it from the market in 1969 when it was implicated as a cancer causing agent.
Aspartame (Nutra-Sweet), is currently very popular as a "natural" sugar substitute that does not promote tooth decay. It is 180 times as sweet as sugar and is used in a wide variety of foods that previously were sweetened with sucrose (table sugar) or saccharin. It can be made to have a similar texture to table sugar but with far fewer calories due to its concentration.

Lunch Hour Concert Series Continues At Chelsea Hospital

The lunch-hour concert series for Chelsea Community Hospital employees, patients, and visitors continues throughout the summer months. Enjoy a nutritious old fashioned box lunch, delightful entertainment and a relaxing outdoor atmosphere by the hospital fountain in the main courtyard.

The music is free and there is no registration. Just show up between 11:30 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. on concert days to enjoy.

Standard box lunches will be available for $2.75. These will include a choice of a sandwich, chips, can of juice, dessert, fruit and condiments. There will also be an option to create your own box lunch with items priced a la carte.

The July 20 performance will have special appeal for children when the Ann Arbor Mime Troupe will perform.

Everyone is invited to Chelsea community Hospital summer concert series.

Stolen Car Found in Iowa

A car that had been stolen from the parking lot of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home in June was recovered last week in Davenport, Ia.

According to Chelsea police, Davenport police found the car on July 11. It is owned by a Howell man and had damage to the ignition and turn lever.

Planners OK Foundation Work For Faith In Action Building

Faith In Action has been given permission to proceed with grading and foundation work for its new building on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Chelsea Village Planning Commission, however, did not give final site plan approval at a special meeting last week as it determined that certain technical information was missing.

Farm Bureau Affiliate Introduces Degradable Cornstarch Based Bags

Michigan Agricultural Co-operative Marketing Association (MACMA), an affiliate of the Michigan Farm Bureau, will begin marketing cornstarch-based degradable rubbish bags in August. According to Jan Wilford, MACMA's direct marketing program co-ordinator, the bags contain 6 percent cornstarch and have been shown to begin degrading in 18 months.

"By selling the degradable bags, we are helping to improve the environment, and we are supporting agriculture by using a renewable resource, corn."

Wilford said the bags will be available from county Farm Bureau offices throughout the state, and will also be available for fund-raising groups this fall.

Delegates at last year's Michigan Farm Bureau annual meeting adopted policy calling for both "market expansion of agricultural products" and "aggressive action to reduce waste by using containers produced from starch-based packaging material."

The month of July, 1989, has been declared Michigan Recreation and Parks Month by Governor James J. Blanchard, to coincide with National Recreation and Parks Month.
