ONE HUNDRED-NINETEENTH YEAR—No. 9

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1989

22 Pages This Week

A CRASH early Saturday morning at M-52 and Grass Lake Rd. killed Kacee Cronk of Ann Arbor and left the driver, Robert Bryant Beard, and passenger Joe Eassa, both of Chelsea, in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital as of press time Tuesday. Beard apparently drove through a stop sign at the intersection and hit a tree.

One-Car Crash Kills Young Woman, Critically Injures Two Chelsea Men

A young Ann Arbor woman was killed and two young Chelsea men were critically injured early last Saturday morning in a one-car crash at Grass Lake Rd. and M-52 in Sharon township.

Kacee Cronk, 18, of Ann Arbor, was killed when the car in which she was riding collided head-on with a tree on the east side of M-52 at 12:55 a.m.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Robert Bryant Beard, 18, of Chelsea was driving a 1982 Camaro east on Grass Lake Rd. Beard failed to stop the car at a stop sign at M-52, and the car hit a tree on the opposite side of M-52. Police said the use of alcohol probably contributed to the wreck. Empty wine cooler bottles were found in the vehicle. None of the passengers was wearing a seat belt, police said. Police also said the vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed. Nearly 90 feet of skid marks were found at the scene.

Beard was taken by survival flight to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where he was on life support systems as of press time. Another Chelsea-area passenger, Joseph Eassa, 20, was also in critical condition at St. Joseph's as of press time.

Former Chelsea resident Steven Favers, 19, of Ann Arbor, was listed in good condition, as was Carrie Coleman, 17, of Ann Arbor. They were backseat passengers with Eassa.

Beard is a 1988 Chelsea High School graduate. Eassa is a 1987 CHS grad, and Favers is a 1988 CHS graduate.

County 4-H Youth Show Entries Hit All-Time High

Did you take in the 1989 Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show staged at the Farm Council Grounds, July 24-28?

If you did, you witnessed some of the finest showmanship, and a wide variety of handsome and finely groomed animals, as well.

This year's theme was, "You Can Reach Your Destination."

"Participation was way up," most 4-H leaders agreed. The youth show was a continuous series of attractions, with interesting events scheduled each of the days and evenings.

With more than 500 exhibits in the block house, they kept many of the visitors occupied for a good deal of time, as they wandered from place to place, within the block house.

Many of the activities centered at the horse ring drew record crowds, people who never tired of watching the riders and their handsome steeds.

In the barns, visitors stopped to chat with dozens of young people who brought the animals they raised to the youth show to be judged among some fine stock.

Some people arrived at the Farm Council Grounds just to observe this year's crop of healthy youngsters and animals, stopped off at the concession stand to pick up a hot dog or hamburger, a cup of coffee, or maybe one of the red, white and blue popicles, then wandered on to watch the night's events.

Rain ripped through the show ring at least one of the nights, and the sudden appearance of the storm sent people scurrying for cover, but overall, the youth show was an overwhelming success.

A lot of the credit for the show must be directed to the 4-H youth agents, John Evert, Janet Nagele, Mary Houghton and Patrick McFarlane, in addition to 4-H program assistant Jean Flegel and Diane Nash from the 4-H clerical staff.

Club leaders and many parent volunteers lent their efforts to help everything run smoothly, but it was the kids who stood out—a hard-working, bright-eyed bunch of kids!

No one has to describe them to you, if you were there. They were great!

Results of the horse competitions were not yet available at press time, but that information will be printed next week.

Village Officials Upset, Frustrated After Meeting With DNR About Landfill

By Brian Hamilton

What Chelsea village officials had hoped would be a meeting that would mark the beginning of the end of the landfill license squabble with the Department of Natural Resources turned out, instead, to leave the village even more exasperated.

Village president Jerry Satterthwaite, village manager Robert Stalker, landfill operator Cecil Clouse, and village consultants and legal counsel met with DNR geologists Barb Vetort and Cynthia Noble and their supervisor, Lonnie Lee, last Friday in the village council chambers. Afterward they took a tour of the landfill.

Village officials had hoped they might get a temporary license, or at least an indication of when a license would be forthcoming.

However, in the DNR's view there are still several issues that have to be resolved before a license will be granted.

The village turned in its license application nearly two weeks ago, along with information about its proposed bromide tracer system that would detect if the new landfill is leaking.

Because the tracer system has not been approved by the DNR, Lee said, the license application is still "administratively incomplete," the same designation other village applications have been given.

"Because it features a tracer system, the logical thing to do would have been to give us information about the tracer system first and wait for our review," Lee said.

"We have given (the tracer system) a cursory review and some information is still needed. Legally we have 15 days to determine whether the application is incomplete. The village can either withdraw the application, or send the rest of the information within 15 days so we can complete our review."

Part of the problem, Lee said, is the village has to show that if there is a leak, the DNR will be able to detect it within the two-year life of the license.

However, according to consultant Lee Fahrner, the two-year requirement is a new regulation that he was told was adopted within the last two weeks.

"That is a very basic concept that should have been brought in right from the start," Fahrner said.

"We thought all along that all we'd have to do is demonstrate that the bromide is the most mobile chemical in the leachate."

DNR is also questioning the integrity of one monitoring well.

Another problem is the DNR and village disagree as to whether the village has complied with the Landfill Consent Agreement signed last year. The agreement outlines how the village will study and deal with any groundwater pollution that might come from the old landfill. Lee says the village has not complied, Fahrner says the village has complied every step of the way.

Lee said the village has to comply with the consent order by the end of the 90-day application review process or he will recommend that the license be denied.

"We can't issue a license if the landfill is not in compliance with (the law) and the whole idea of the consent agreement is to bring the landfill in compliance," Lee said.

One area of disagreement is that according to the consent agreement, the village was supposed to provide a landfill clean-up plan by July. Fahrner admits the plan was not completed by then, but he also says the village requested a DNR review of a particular study before it devised the plan. DNR did not review it.

"How can we provide a solution unless we know if they agree with us about the problem," Fahrner said.

"We're spending real dollars here. It doesn't make sense to spend all that money to come up with a plan that could be rejected because they don't see the problem the same way we do."

Lee says DNR is not obligated by law to provide such a review but, at the meeting, agreed to do it.

Other bones of contention include bonding for the old landfill site, and whether or not the village has overfilled in some areas of the current site.

Fahrner said the landfill may not have as much as six months of space remaining.

Area Building Dept. Put on Hold for Now

An attempt to establish a building inspection department in the Chelsea area has been put on hold for a few months while the performance of the Washtenaw County Building Inspection Department is monitored by a group of concerned citizens.

A meeting was held last Wednesday, July 26 in Sylvan Town Hall that included Duane Evou, head of the county's building inspection department, township supervisors, and representatives of the village. Sylvan Township Supervisor Don Schoenberg ran the meeting.

Area residents and contractors, according to Schoenberg, are upset with the attitude displayed by county trade inspectors when they deal with homeowners, in particular the county electrical inspector. In addition, some are upset about the length of time the county takes to inspect prints.

"Our biggest concern is the way they are treating residents of the township, especially when the homeowner tries to do some of his own work," Schoenberg said.

"But we felt that if the department continues to improve as it has over the last two years, we'd continue with the county. Duane really seems to be trying to do the job."

Evou said he was shocked that anyone would even consider an attempt to set up a building department, mainly due to the amount of liability involved. He also questioned whether service would improve by having a local department. Washtenaw county, he said, under most circumstances has 24-hour service.

"I don't think they want to go back to the old days with a part-time building department," Evou said.

Police Seek Shoplifting Charge

Chelsea police are seeking shoplifting charges against a 21-year-old Cavanaugh Lake Rd. man in connection with an incident at Polly's Market on Saturday, July 15.

According to police, the man left the store without paying for a $2.83 bottle of Visine. Store detectives apprehended the man at 11:02 p.m.

"When you look at the growth in the Chelsea area, the plan review that's needed, and the things that need to be done to have decent buildings, I don't think they want a part-time department."

Evou said his department makes 15,000 inspections a year and is entirely supported by inspection fees.

"When you make that many inspections, sure there are going to be some problems," Evou said.

"But I've never had a complaint in writing."

Details of how a local department would be set up have not been determined, Schoenberg said. He said the Chelsea School District would rent the department some space at its bus garage. He said he hoped that once the department got off the ground that it could be self-supporting.

"That was our next step, to work out the financial details," Schoenberg said.

Inspectors have to be certified by the state and must take continuing education to maintain their certification, Evou said.

OCTOGENARIAN PARTY: Monday evening was a yearly highlight in activities of the Kiwanis Club as they entertained the 23 "young people" shown above. Those men, all 80 or older, who attended included, front row, left to right, W. Earl Taylor, 84, Joe T. Merkel, 90, W. H. Palthorp, 83, Gladwyn Maynard, 87, James Turner, 85, George W. Martin, 90, George Bauer, 85; second row, from left, Lavelle Smith, 85, Howard McDonald, 85, Kurt Nuemann, 81, Martin Steinbach, 82, Arthur Kuhl, 83, Glenn Rentschler, 86, George Jones, 82, George Atkinson, 84; third row, from left, Dor

Whitaker, 81, Marvin Jewell, 85, M. C. Martin, 85, William "Bill" Collins, 81, Bill Wetzel, 85, Jim Stirling, 84, L. D. Guinan, 84, and Will Connelly, 80. Anyone who knows of some area man who will be 80, or more, before the next annual party is urged to contact Walt Zeeb, chairman, or any Kiwanis Club member to assure that every eligible man will receive an invitation before the event. Many of these gentlemen are so spry and active that few can imagine they have reached that plateau and hence may be overlooked. Your help will be appreciated.

Charles S. (Chip) Winans, II, resigned as assistant village administrator to accept a position on the staff of the Washtenaw County Equalization Department. Winans had worked in various part-time and full-time jobs as a village employee since 1968. His position as assistant administrator Frederick Weber was established in 1977.

For the first time in the 20-year history of America's Youth on Parade held at Notre Dame University in South Bend, Ind., four twirlers from the same corps took top honors in the nation from four different categories. Christine Dunlap, 12-year-old drum majorette for the Chelsea Charms, won a landslide victory for the National Drum Majorette. Cor the second consecutive year, Laurie Honbaum, a Chelsea Charm, won the top modeling award—"The All American Girl." Eight-year-old Kori White won the novice two-baton title, and Winston Howard took the Men's National Tiny Tot championship.

Ground was broken for the new Roberts Paint and Body Shop in Chelsea's Sibley Rd. industrial park. Construction of the 70 by 100-foot prefabricated one-story metal building would start within a few days, with a Dec. 1 target date for occupancy.

It was not yet official and would not be for a few days, but it was all but certain that Larry Reed would be the Chelsea school district's new athletic director. The appointment likely would be made at the next meeting of the Board of Education.

The girls softball league wound up their 1975 season. However, a play-off remained to determine the championship. The competing teams were the Reds and the Mets.

Those who forecasted 1975 to be a record year for wheat crops were probably biting their tongues. As the wheat harvest drew to a close, all who know the business, such as Bill Ames, the county agricultural agent, had labeled the year's crop "poor." However, Ames did say that the crop varied from low to high yields in different areas.

A paper napkin and chicken wire whale, the creation of children in the Recreation Council's ELP program, had been destroyed according to Recreation Council Director Tom Balistrere. The whale and accompanying banner, "We Had a Whale of a Time in Earn Learn and Play," was to have been the program's entry in the Chelsea Fair Parade. As the ELP program had ended the group had no plans to build another float.

A long desired project was finally completed on July 23 with the unveiling of the Past Commanders pictures from the Local VFW Post No. 4076. Mac Packard had made all arrangements for this, and the photos of all 16 men would be placed accordingly in the meeting room, at 105B N. Main St.

A handsome new coming events display board had been added to the grounds at Chelsea High school. The board and an indoor display case which would hang in the lobby, were the gift of the Class of 1965. Don Hinderer, as president of the class, made the presentation to Principal Charles Lane.

It was announced by William Marsh, general manager, that the Mechanical Spring Division of Rockwell-Standard, at Chelsea would publish a four-page monthly newsletter starting in September. It was hoped that the newsletter would aid in keeping employees and their families more fully informed of the activities at the division.

Chelsea Chapter of the Future Farmers of America was cited for outstanding chapter activities over the past year. Top awards in both over-all achievement and in supervised agricultural experience programs were taken by the group. Chapter officers: Bill Wenk, secretary; Don Hinderer, president; Bob Kushmaul, president-elect; and Dick McCalla, vice-president along with advisor Gary Jackson were the proud recipients of the certificate and plaque.

Traveling by school buses, 108 students in the Senior Chelsea High school band attended the Fort Street Presbyterian church camp at Clear Lake. Money for the group camp session, which would provide a week of extensive band training under ideal conditions, had been partly contributed by the Chelsea Band Boosters.

State Board Adopt Corporal Punishment Alternatives

Alternatives to the use of corporal punishment, which is prohibited by a new state law approved last year, were adopted by the State Board of Education.

The board's document provides examples of alternatives to corporal punishment and suggests methods to prevent and control disruptive behavior. The document will be provided to local and intermediate school districts at their request.

The document lists nine examples that can be used as alternatives to corporal punishment. The examples, which the document says should be "viewed as last resort options," include:

- Deny participation in special school activities.
- Assign before or after school detention and provide 24-hour notice to parents.
- Establish communication and require conferences with parents.
- Assign out-of-school detention, or in-school suspension that is supervised by a responsible adult with curricula-related activities to be performed by the student.

—Establish contractual agreements with disruptive students and their parents to commit students to self-controlling behavior.

—Refer students with repeated problems to a counselor, social worker and/or psychologist on the local or intermediate level and co-ordinate services with other units of state government, such as Public Health, Social Services, and Mental Health and seek assistance from private institutions or agencies with appropriate services.

—Evaluate and arrange proper placement of students who need academic acceleration, special education, alternative education and services for achieving English proficiency.

—Consider and take appropriate action, in accordance with due process of law, when disruptive behavior warrants the suspension or expulsion of a student.

The new law (PA 521 of 1988) defines corporal punishment as the act of deliberately inflicting physical pain by any means upon the whole or any part of a student's body as a penalty or punishment for offensive behavior.

In addition to prohibiting the use of corporal punishment, the law mandates that local and intermediate boards of education develop alternatives to the use of corporal punishment and that the Department of Education provide technical assistance on request.

Fereny Promotes Radically Restructured Legislature

A proposal to radically restructure the Legislature, permitting several persons to win election in each district enlarged to coincide with Congressional districts, has been proposed by East Lansing attorney Zolton Fereny.

Fereny, a candidate for the Senate in the seat now held by Sen. William Sederburg (R-East Lansing) said he hopes to help lead a petition drive to put the proposed constitutional amendment before voters.

The restructured Legislature would consist of just one chamber, with members elected for two-year terms (just as occurs now in the House; the Senate members have four year terms).

Within the Congressional-sized districts, all candidates with at least 5 percent of the vote would be elected and their votes in the Legislature would be weighted in proportion of their vote to the total vote state-wide. Sessions would begin in January and be required to adjourn by June 30 each year.

Fereny said it is likely each district would have at least one elected legislator from each of the two major parties, with the unicameral Legislature apt to consist of 50 members.

Fereny said the proposal would produce a more pure form of democracy, raise voter interest, create more competition between candidates, and reduce the temptation of lawmakers to write unnecessary laws by limiting their time in session.

He said the revised representation would also eliminate the deadlock every 10 years over reapportionment, which has been handled by courts instead.

Fereny said he hopes to attract the support of leaders of past ballot issues to cut taxes and provide a part-time Legislature.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle come to the country store Saturday night with a handful of USDA pamphlets. He goes by the farm agent's office ever now and agin and checks the publishing index for up-dated advice, and he orders a batch of free booklets. He reads em, but he never has done anything any of em suggest.

He told the fellers one pamphlet was a sum of the 1987 Census of Agriculture that shows a loss of 153,219 farms since the 1982 count. At the end of '87, Ed reported, there was 2,087,759 farms and ranches taking up 964,470,625 acres of land. The average farm is getting bigger, he went on, but in them five year another 22.3 million acres were took out of agriculture use. What of that didn't go fer landfills and highway intersections probable was paved over fer parking lots, Ed figured.

None of the fellers hit a lick at a snake now, but some actual scratched a living from the land, and they never miss a chance to lament the decline of family farms. They thought at the time it was hard-scrabble ever day from see to can't see, but later they read of all the basic values they were building. So now they talk from memories that have gone soft with years, like the soldiers and their war stories.

Zeke Grubb picked up on Ed's remark about landfills to note that fer sure the country is running out of gullies. Use to, Zeke allowed, ever farm family had a gully to throw everthing from household trash to wore out hay balers. Nowadays, he went on, city folks are tired of seeing what they breathe and are trying to find the good life. They pay good money fer timbers out of falling down barns to build houses with a view of them gullies, and they haul all their trash to the edge of town to be burned or buried with everybody else's.

Furthermore, Zeke said, we are learning to recycle more of the stuff we used to throw away. Fer instant, he had saw where newspapers are being shredded and put down in barns fer bedding fer hogs and cattle in place of straw. The paper is cheaper, cleaner and lasts longer, Zeke said, and he had saw where some farmers in Virginia rigged up newspaper shredders because of back orders at the recycling plants.

Some of the reusing ideas work, declared Bug Hookum, and some don't. He recalled a few years back where a agriculture reserch center in Maryland announced newspapers could be ground up, mixed with molasses and supplements and fed to cows. Bug said he never heard of anything coming of that project, and he was of a mind the cows found all that news hard to digest.

Clem Webster was full agreed with Bug that some recycling is more trouble than it's worth. Clem said glassfart must of went the way of the cows devouring the news. The idea, Clem said, was to melt down glass and use it fer filler in road paving, but energy used fer the melting put the price of the material out of the picture. Fer sure, Clem said, folks are as interested in real trash as they are trash on TV. He had saw where a magazine called "Garbage" is coming out next month to deal with ways to mend our ways as the throwaway society.

As fer air pollution, Ed got the floor to note where this feller told a column writer he never married and worked alone at his house building trade. Fer lunch, the feller broke out a sardine and onion sandwich, which probable explains his social and work habits.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory John Studrawa

Cynthia Bareis, Gregory Studrawa Are Wed in Bowling Green, O.

Cynthia Marie Bareis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bareis of Chelsea, and Gregory John Studrawa, son of Irene Studrawa of Tiffin, O., were married Friday, July 21 at St. Thomas More Parish in Bowling Green, O.

The Rev. Fr. Herb Weber performed the ceremony before 200 guests.

Judy Bareis of Chelsea was the vocalist.

The bride wore a San Martin creation with a Queen Anne collar and open back with draped pearls, trimmed in sequins and pearls. The semi-cathedral train was accented by deep net embroidered laces. She carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Maid of honor was Adelia Hostetler, of Hanover, Ind. She wore a light blue jacquard print, and carried a bouquet of white roses and blue silk roses.

The bridesmaids were Jan Kazmer, friend of the bride, of Sandusky, O., Caroline Lane, friend of the bride, of Toledo, O., Marcia Studrawa, sister of the bridegroom, of Toledo, O., and Cheryl Bareis, cousin of the bride, of Dexter.

The bride's mother wore a dress consisting of a pink lace top over a pink pleated skirt. She wore a corsage of pink and white roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale green silk dress, accented by a wrist corsage of roses.

Best man was Thomas Baker, friend of the bridegroom, of Fostoria, O.

Ushers were Geoffrey Studrawa, brother of the bridegroom, of Fostoria, Jeffrey Burns, friend of the bridegroom, of Fostoria, and Michael Bareis of Albion and Mark Bareis of Chelsea, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held at Kaufman's Atrium Room in Bowling Green. Arlene Bareis and Carolyn Schuster, aunts of the bride, cut the wedding cake. The reception was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Stan Starkey.

The couple is residing at 339 Terrace St., Apt. 7, Cincinnati, O.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school, Central Michigan University, and holds a master's degree from Miami of Ohio. She is employed at Sports Care of Cincinnati. The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Wendelin High school in Fostoria, and Bowling Green State University. He is a graduate assistant in football at the University of Cincinnati.

Katherine Kay Kelley, of Dexter, and Timothy Alan Brown, of Grass Lake, were married June 10 at St. Paul United Church of Christ in Chelsea.

The bride is the daughter of Michael and Barbara Kelley, of Dexter, and the bridegroom is the son of Beverly Ziegler and James Brown, of Jackson.

The Rev. Erwin Koch performed the ceremony before 100 guests.

Henry Crawford was the organist. The maid of honor was Jackie Kelley, sister of the bride. Serving as bridesmaids were Cindy Salla, Shelly Williams, LeAnn Welch, and Kim Clouse, all friends of the bride.

Best man was Donald Marshall. Groomsmen were Duke Brown, Scott Dault, Andy Fletcher, and Jimmy Roberts.

A reception hosted by the bride's parents was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to Mackinac Island before returning to Grass Lake, where they are making their home.

In the last half of the 19th century, the movement for a national labor department was concentrated on the state level, according to the U.S. Labor Department. Massachusetts created the first bureau of labor statistics in the world in 1869 and immediately became embroiled in a dispute over purpose. Was the bureau to be a voice of labor or was it to be impartial? It began as a tool of labor reformers, but in 1873, the Governor of Massachusetts, in refusing to abolish the bureau, appointed as its director Carroll Davidson Wright. Wright was determined to be impartial. A friend attributed to him the saying, "Figures won't lie, but liars will figure." He built a foundation of objectivity, and by 1883, 12 states had followed Massachusetts' example.

AIDS AND DENTISTRY: FACTS ABOUT INFECTION CONTROL

Since the first case of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) was reported in this country in 1981 the infection has spread with alarming swiftness. It is currently estimated that one out of every 500 to 1,000 persons is currently infected with the virus and the vast majority of these people are not even aware of it. For this reason it is important for dentists and other health care providers to maintain strict infection control between patients since it is impossible to know who is and isn't infected. Although our knowledge about AIDS changes daily it is critical that we understand the facts and not react out of blind and ignorant panic.

In a recent article Dr. Nathaniel Rowe, an oral pathologist at the University of Michigan, outlined the following facts about AIDS. Although the AIDS virus is thought to be virtually 100% lethal it is NOT very infectious or virulent compared with other infectious agents. Although the AIDS virus does occur sporadically in the saliva of patients with the disease the amount of the virus is small and evidence of infection has NOT occurred in cases in which AIDS patients have bitten health care workers. AIDS transmission requires high concentrations of infected cells and/or frequent exposure as opposed to the hepatitis B virus which is extremely virulent. Ten years ago the American Dental Association recommended that all dentists use masks, gloves, and eyeglasses for all dental procedures in light of what was known about hepatitis B. In addition, specific sterilization and disinfection techniques were recommended for dental instruments and equipment. The dental profession as a whole was slow to respond to these suggestions but recently, in light of the AIDS scare, the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta re-enforced these recommendations as protection against infection with AIDS.

These techniques are now well accepted by both dentists and their patients as the responsible and caring way to practice dentistry.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wesley Hamm

Constance Bollinger, James Hamm Exchange Vows in Methodist Church

Constance Elsa Bollinger, daughter of Jean Bollinger of Chelsea and the late Oscar Bollinger, and James Wesley Hamm, son of Salvatore and Jean Patane of Milton, Fla., were married May 6 at the First United Methodist church of Chelsea.

The Rev. Dr. Jerry Parker performed the ceremony before 110 guests.

Vocalists were Tammy Barbret, of Caro, Gayla Bauer, of Chelsea, Paula Haist, of Greenville, and Laurie Heller, of Ann Arbor, all former Chelsea High school Contemporaries with the bride.

The bride wore a gown of white summer satin. The V neckline in front and back was edged in scalloped, beaded lace. The long leg-o-mutton sleeves were satin at the top with illusion and beaded embroidered organza lace fitted to the wrist. The full skirt flowed from the basque waist to the full cathedral train with embroidered lace throughout. She carried a bouquet of cascading white roses and stephenotis.

Maid of honor was Debbie Morris of Chelsea. She wore a dress of royal blue satin jacquard. The sabrina neckline and fitted bodice were completed by short puffed sleeves and a full, gathered tea-length skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white roses.

Bridesmaid was Kelly Karnes of Fostoria, O., the bride's college roommate and sorority sister. Her dress was the same as the maid of honor's.

The bride's mother wore a street-length royal blue silk dress.

The bridegroom's mother wore a street-length light blue silk dress.

Carol Warren, of Rochester, Minn., read scripture. Grant Bollinger, cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer. Kevin Bollinger, the bride's cousin, was the acolyte.

Best man was Fred Bollinger, brother of the bride, of California. James Bollinger, of Chelsea, was the usher.

A buffet reception, with dancing, was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The couple is planning a honeymoon cruise for November. They are residing at 2544 Cove Pt. Place, Virginia Beach, Va., 23454.

The bride is a 1988 graduate of Hillsdale College, where she was an active member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and Psi Chi honorary.

The bridegroom is a 1987 graduate of Milton High school and is an operations specialist in the U.S. Navy aboard the USS T.S. Gates.

25TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED: David and Donna Gibson of Dexter celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary July 1 at a surprise dinner party at Weber's Inn. The event was hosted by their daughter and son, Shelli and Doug Gibson, and attended by 90 guests. The Gibsons were married July 18, 1964 in Ann Arbor. They have lived in the Dexter area since 1971. They are owners of the Gibson Water Co., and active in the Dexter community. The Gibsons enjoy traveling and have just returned from an anniversary cruise of the Abaco Islands.

THE DOWNTOWN AREA was crowded with shoppers looking for a few good deals last Saturday as the annual Sidewalk Festival was in full swing. The weather co-operated for the many people who turned out for the annual event.

Chelsea Chapter of Future Farmers of America, under the leadership of Philip Smith, vocational agriculture instructor and FFA advisor at Chelsea High school, was having a corn-growing contest. Dual purpose of the contest was to raise money for the chapter and to experiment in methods of corn growing for the area. Winners would be determined by comparing yields at harvest time.

M. J. Anderson, chairman of Children's Day events at the Community Fair announced a special entertainment feature in the evening: the appearance in person, of the popular television star, Dave Mitchell. Well-known because of his "Little Rascals" program, he entertained with magic and other features.

KRICHBAUM-STAEBLER: The engagement of Robyn LuAnn Krichbaum and Jeffrey Robert Staebler has been announced by their parents, James and Barbara Krichbaum of Waltrous Rd., Chelsea, and David and Judy Staebler of Clark Lake, Chelsea. Robyn was graduated from Chelsea High school and the Huron Valley Beauty Academy in Ann Arbor and is currently working at Encore Studio in Kerrytown, Ann Arbor. Jeffery is a 1986 graduate of Chelsea High school and is currently working for R. D. Holley Construction Co. Their wedding date is set for May 18, 1991.

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1928, which had 24 members, held their 61st reunion last Saturday afternoon, July 29 at Schumm's Restaurant in Chelsea. Eight members, and their spouses attended. From left are Katherine (Nicolai) Seitz, Marian (Craft) Chadsey, Evelyn (Bohnet) Lipphart, Alberta (Winans) Park, Nadene (Dancer) Leja, Marie (Finkbeiner) Oeschger, Lorena (Seitz) Stierle, and Leon Butler. Class members who were not present were Lorena (Coe) Clark, of New Jersey; Agnes (Dancer) Trafford, of New Mexico; Dorothy (Graybill) DeFoe, of Florida; Ruth (Clark) Apel, of Toledo, O.; Ruth (Freeman) Mobley, of Louisiana; Ruth (Vogel) Dunstone, of New Mexico; Irwin Young, of Chelsea; and Roy Ives, of Arizona. Deceased members of the class include Doris (Coe) Anderson, Norman Mayer, Huron McManus, Edgeworth Patts, Walter Sondek, Oleta (Seitz) Mayer, and Dorothea (Koch) Kalmbach. Guests who attended included Irene Seitz, of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kalmbach, of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leonard, of Cavanaugh Lake.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, July 24 were Comeau, Satterthwaite, Feeney, Cherem, Eisenbeiser, superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principal Williams, assistant principal Larson, athletic director Welton, community education director Rogers, guests.

Prior to the meeting, a public work session was conducted on the subject of potential exemptions of students from portions of the Michigan Model For Comprehensive School Health curriculum. Guests present at the meeting had an opportunity to express their views on areas of the program which they believe to be an invasion of their privacy or in conflict with their family or religious values. Due to the fact that two board members were not present at the meeting, official action was not taken on this issue; a decision is expected to be announced at the next board meeting.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Anne Comeau. The board approved the minutes of the July 6, 1989 meeting.

Entered as an official communication was a letter from the State Department of Education requesting assistance in establishing pilot sites for the Office of Sex Equity in Education.

Superintendent Piasecki thanked the board for the opportunity to attend the Superintendents Work Conference at Columbia University. Fifty-one educators attended the Conference, three of whom were from Michigan. Piasecki indicated that it was a very enlightening, professionally rewarding experience.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills reported on the areas at North, South Beach and the High school which will be undergoing asbestos-abatement work. The contract calls for work to begin July 24 and end no later than Aug. 18.

The board approved a contract for Margene Rogers-Modjeski, who will serve as Learning Disabilities teacher at Beach Middle school. She will replace Joanne Masters, who will transfer to a general education position.

The board approved participation of the Chelsea School District in the National School Lunch Program, and authorized assistant superintendent Mills to file the necessary forms.

Fred Mills briefly discussed the upcoming millage request and how new construction (and the Headlee Amendment) affects the amount of money realized by the school district. He compared the gross new tax income from SEV increases ($752,318) to net new income ($363,162), because of reductions in other local, state, and federal income.

The board convened in executive session at 8:50 p.m. to discuss personnel matters; reconvened in public session at 10:11 p.m., and adjourned the meeting at 10:12 p.m.

Recycling Program Still Alive As Village, Tups. Work Out Plan

Village of Chelsea has decided to continue Washtenaw county's recycling program if it can get financial support from Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships.

Village officials met with township officials last week and decided to continue the program as it is with one major exception—newspapers will no longer be accepted. The newspaper section of the bin tends to fill up much more quickly than the sections for glass and cans. In addition, newspaper is becoming an almost worthless commodity. Recycle Ann Arbor, which ships its newspaper to Chicago, has sold it for $20 per ton recently.

As of press time, the village and townships had to take official action on the matter. But village president Jerry Satterthwaite said he believed local governments would approve the plan.

Each of the townships and the village would pay one-fifth of the cost of picking up the recycling container, Satterthwaite said. It was not known how often the bin would have to be emptied or how much each pick-up would cost.

It was also not known how people would be stopped from dropping newspapers into the bin. Chelsea Boy Scouts have set up a small shed for newspaper collections at Polly's Market next to the county's recycling bin, and at Chelsea Glass Co. on W. Middle St.

Administrative assistant Barbara Fredette was credited by Satterthwaite with doing the legwork to keep the recycling program alive in Chelsea.

Civil War Buff Jim Rapai to Speak At Kiwanis Club

The Aug. 7 Kiwanis Club program will feature Jim Rapai, a local Chelsea resident and family man in "A year in the life of a Civil War soldier." Jim will wear the uniform and carry the rifle typical of a foot soldier of 1864.

Jim has been involved in many Civil War living history events and is extremely knowledgeable about the activities, responsibilities and fears and hopes of the Civil War soldier. Jim's presentation promises to be both informative and entertaining.

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"Cultivate consideration for the feelings of other people if you would not have your own injured. Those who complain most of ill-usage are those who abuse others the oftenest."

—J.P. Richter

Richter is expressing his contention that some people's enormous consideration for others extends to excusing abuse from them thus their own feelings are immune to injury. Few of us can hope to be so saintly.

We must agree with Richter concerning those whose feelings are too easily hurt... they often earn no better treatment by virtue of how they treat others.

A funeral should provide beautiful memories while preparing the survivors for their adjustment to loss. We conduct our services with this in mind.

More than 100 years after the first Labor Day observance, there is still some doubt about who proposed the workers' holiday, according to the U.S. Department of Labor. Some believe it was Peter McGuire, general secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and co-founder of the American Federation of Labor. Recent research, however, seems to support the contention that Matthew Maguire, machinist and secretary of Local 344 of the International Association of Machinists in Paterson, N.J., proposed the holiday in 1882.

Everybody's Science

★ A Little Anemia Could Cure What Ails Crops

By Jim De Quattro

If People don't get enough iron in their diets, they can become anemic. They lose their get-up-and-go.

Plant chemist Jeffrey Buyer actually wants to cause anemia—but only in certain micro-organisms that live on and around plant roots. That could mean healthier plants on farms and in gardens.

Making pesky microbes anemic could sap their ability to snuggle up to roots and infect plants with disease, says Buyer of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Healthy, iron-rich microbes cause roughly $4 billion in crop losses to U.S. farmers each year—about half the total crop loss to diseases and other pests.

Buyer, who works for USDA's Agricultural Research Service, hopes farmers and gardeners could someday bolster the soil with iron-greedy bacteria. These would outcompete bad microbes for iron in the soil—while not robbing iron from crop plants.

Before this can happen, though, scientists must uncover and exploit new knowledge about intriguing iron-hoarding compounds called siderophores. Buyer says "virtually all" bacteria and fungi good and bad alike—produce the compounds to meet their iron needs.

"Right now," he says, "we have no good methods to study the compounds in their natural state or determine why they sometimes do and sometimes don't help control disease organisms."

As a step to understanding these baffling compounds, Buyer and two ARS colleagues in Beltsville, Md., have produced and tested the first monoclonal antibody—a custom-built protein—that will seek out and bind to siderophores. That way, they can be measured in a lab dish.

He and other ARS scientists plan to see if the test can detect siderophores on roots of barley seedlings grown in a greenhouse at the Soil Microbial Systems Laboratory in Beltsville.

They will also test a beneficial bacterium, Pseudomonas putida B10 that has shown promise as a natural control for take-all, a fungal disease in wheat. Siderophores are the mechanism by which the bacterium suppresses the disease.

The fungus cause lesions in the roots, then invades to shut down the plant's nutrient transport system. An effective biocontrol could save North-western wheat farmers as much as $38 million annually in crop losses.

A strain of a different bacterium Pseudomonas fluorescens, developed by ARS researchers in Washington state, is now being tested as a potential commercial biocontrol. But it appears to attack the fungus primarily with an antibiotic rather than by starving it of iron.

Buyer emphasizes that more research and an effective delivery system—such as coating seed with beneficial bacteria—would be needed before growers could protect their crops with siderophores.

"Siderophores vary widely," he says. "We know they have a low molecular weight, that they're not proteins. About the only other thing they have in common is that microbes make them to take up iron from soil." (Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture)

There will be 66 million women in the labor force in 2000, comprising 47 percent of the nation's workers, according to the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Virtually all of the expected 13 million growth in women's labor force participation will be among those ages 35 to 54. The labor force of women ages 35-44 will grow by 51 percent and for those ages 45-54 by 84 percent.

Double A Alumni Plan Family Picnic Aug. 12

Double A Products Co. in Manchester must have been a good place to work because its former employees have started a Double A Alumni organization.

The first meeting for Double A Alumni and their families is a picnic at Carr Park in Manchester, Saturday, Aug. 12, starting at 12 noon. Lunch will be served at 1 p.m. with a short meeting at 2:30 p.m.

The organizing committee is asking all alumni to bring food, beverage and table service for themselves and their family for this first meeting. A couple of grills and charcoal will be furnished for those wishing to grill hamburgers and hotdogs.

Double A was a long-time employer in Manchester, employing as many as 400 people. As a subsidiary of Brown & Sharpe, Double A became a leader in the fluid power industry with distributors world-wide. In 1985 Double A was purchased by Vickers Inc., a Trinova company. Double A was closed in 1987.

Double A Alumni organization was originated through the Community Resource Center (CRC) in Manchester. The CRS is an outgrowth of the Double A closing and is dedicated to assessing the needs of Manchester and co-ordinating educational, recreational, housing, and other activities.

Double A Alumni includes people who at some time in their life received a Double A paycheck and husbands/wives of deceased alumni. Since Double A employees are scattered throughout the country, the news of this first meeting will have to be spread mostly through word of mouth.

For all those interested, the Manchester Street Fair is also scheduled for this day from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

If you are or know a former Double A employee, spread the word. If you have any questions, you may contact Joyce Gougherty or Dianne Schwab at CRC headquarters, (313) 428-7722. The spirit lives on.

... that 88% of the farms in Michigan were operated by individuals or families as sole proprietorships? Partnerships accounted for 9%.

... that women operated 2,714 farms or 5% of the state's total, while 292 farms were operated by minorities?

... that the average age of all Michigan farm operators was 51 years? About 45% were 35 to 54 years old.

... that 74% of the state's agricultural operators with sales of $10,000 or more considered farming to be their principal occupation? Of the 10,425 agricultural operators with sales of $10,000 or more reporting off-farm work, 58% said they did such work 200 days or more.

... that the 51,172 Michigan farms counted in 1987 were 13% fewer than in 1982, when the last agriculture census was taken?

... that production expenditures for the state's agricultural operations came to $2.2 billion? Ag operators paid 20% less for commercial fertilizers, 5% more for ag chemicals, and 30% more for hired farm labor than they did in 1982.

VOTED THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE of nearly 100 entries in the Classic Car Parade during Chelsea's Sidewalk Festival, Saturday, July 29, the spotless 1926 green and tan Willys-Knight roadster arrived with an inviting rum-

1985 Farm Bill Requires Conservation Compliance

By Gary Rindenberger,
District Conservationist

The Conservation Compliance provision of the Farm Bill has the most potential to affect farmers who participate in USDA commodity and loan programs. As opposed to the Swampbuster and Sodbuster provisions which took effect on Dec. 23, 1985, the Conservation Compliance requires highly erodible land that was planted to annual crops at least once between 1981 and 1985 to have a conservation plan by Jan. 1, 1990.

The conservation plan must be actively applied during 1990 and be fully operational by 1995 to maintain USDA eligibility for commodity and loan programs.

What is high erodible land? Those soils as identified by SCS that have a potential to erode at least eight times faster than natural processes can rebuild them. For example soils with tolerable erosion rates of tons per acre annually will be considered highly erodible under this provision if they remained without cover all year and, if not protected by conservation practices, could erode at a rate of 24 tons per acre annually.

All conservation plans must be approved by the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District in consultations with the ASC County Committee. With this responsibility, the conservation district will become the key to ensuring that highly erodible lands are protected.

If a farmer wants to farm highly erodible land, he must have and follow a locally approved conservation plan to remain eligible for USDA programs. That is, the farmer will not be able to participate in any of the covered USDA programs if he does not comply, even if the highly erodible lands make up only a small percentage of the operation. If he has more than one farm, he will be ineligible on all of them, even if he is not in compliance on only one of them.

The implications to participating farmers require that farmers as managers begin to look into the future and decide what type of changes in their management they are willing to make. In 1989, 330 farmers on 126,000 acres participate in Washtenaw county. There is a reasonable chance that each participant will need to address management changes if they continue to participate in USDA programs.

The Soil Conservation Service is responsible to outline conservation alternatives to farmers. The farmers will make choices that fit their management. For example if a soil is high erodible, SCS Soil Conservationists may list choices of crop rotation, tillage systems, strip cropping, cover crops, vegetative barriers, or other conservation practices to solve the erosion problems. It may take more than one practice. The goal is to reduce erosion with a system of conservation practices that is within the farmer's management. The system also must be farmable and fit the farm's operation. The Soil Conservation Service will attempt to meet this goal.

Jan. 1, 1990 is only a few months away. Keeping in mind that most farms will need to make some management changes, now is the time to plan and progress towards acceptable solutions. The Soil Conservation Service is available to assist with conservation planning.

FOR 66 YEARS OF SERVICE to Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service, Jay and Donna Bradbury were recognized at the conclusion of festivities, Friday night, July 28, at the Farm Council Grounds, where the Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show was held, July 24-28. Jay and Donna were presented to the audience by Nancy Duible Thelen, Washtenaw county Extension director, who reviewed their 66 years service. Jay began his 4-H career in 1923. His mother, Nettle Ayres had written about the Extension Service in a speech for high school graduation in Iowa. Nettle was honored as one of its early organizers. During a presentation marking the 25th anniversary of the Extension Service, Jay and Donna received a commemorative paperweight. Each of the couple's children has been involved in 4-H work, and now, Archie and Cindy Bradbury are active leaders for the Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club. Their son and daughter, Jason and Ellen, are members of the club.

Ann Arbor Summer Symphony Plans Final Concert Aug. 3

The final concert of its 1989 season of free concerts will be performed by the Ann Arbor Summer Symphony on Thursday evening, Aug. 3, at 8 p.m. in the Power Center for the Performing Arts on the U. of M. campus in Ann Arbor.

Directed by guest conductor Robert Pazur, the concert opens with Beethoven's "Egmont" overture, followed by "Symphony No. 97" by Haydn. The program continues with Bizet's "Carmen Suite No. 1," "Pavane" by Faure, and Sibelius' "Finlandia."

Funding for season of the Summer Symphony was provided by a gift from the Briarwood Merchants' Association.

A holder of graduate degrees in music from the U. of M., Robert Pazur has conducted opera, symphonies and musicals in the Ann Arbor area. Following his appearance with the Summer Symphony, he will join the staff of an opera company in West Germany.

Future Varsity Softball Players Win Ann Arbor Fast Pitch League

Next year's Chelsea High school varsity softball prospects won the Ann Arbor 18-and-Under Fast Pitch League with a perfect 12-0 mark this summer.

The team, known as Chelsea I, wrapped up the league last Friday with a 9-1 victory over Brighton.

Scharme Petty was the winning pitcher as she gave up four hits and struck out six. She also had a key RBI hit in the third inning when Chelsea scored five runs.

Amy Thomson caught the entire game and had a two-run hit in the third.

"This team has progressed a long way this summer," coach Pat Clarke said of his young team.

"They played as a team and formed a bond that will hopefully carry them through next year. They are very young, with five sophomores, four juniors, and four seniors. I was surprised at how well they played this summer. I'm proud of their efforts and accomplishments."

Other team members included Heidi Boyer, Heather Bro, Colleen Scharphorn, Sarah Musolf, Kelly Bellus, Shawn Losey, Christine Burg, Heather Pulley, Amy Mitchell, Jennifer Teare, and Jenny Bobo.

The season included wins over Ann Arbor Becket, 18-0; Ann Arbor Western Kiwanis, 19-3 and 6-2; Ypsilanti, 10-3 and 3-0; Dexter, 12-4; Northville, 7-0; Ann Arbor O'Neil Construction, 11-2 and 10-1; Ann Arbor Cliff Keen, 11-3; Chelsea II (next year's junior varsity), 28-0; and Brighton, 9-1.

In other action, the team also finished seventh in the ASA 18-and-under tournament at Midland in mid-July. There the team had a 1-2 mark, defeating Gladwin, 19-1, and losing to an all-star team from Imlay City, 8-0, and another all-star team from Saginaw, 8-3.

Petty had a pitching record of 7-2, including two no-hitters, Scharphorn was 5-0 with one no-hitter, and two one-hitters; and Musolf was 2-0 with a no-hitter and a one-hitter.

Only Chelsea I and Brighton had winning records in the league, as Brighton finished 10-2. Chelsea II was third at 6-6.

Chelsea Merchants Whip Cliff Keen

Chelsea Merchants softball team swept a double-header against Cliff Keen of Ann Arbor last Thursday, July 27.

In the opener, Chelsea scored in the first inning and went on to take an 8-3 victory behind the pitching of Lisa Unterbrink. Unterbrink went the distance as she gave up seven hits, struck out four batters, and didn't issue a walk.

Ceia Murphy hit a triple and Alisha Dorow had three hits.

Chelsea took an 11-0 win in five innings in the second contest. Jenni Smith started on the mound, and Laura Unterbrink pitched the last two innings.

Sara Corwin of Manchester had the big hit as she tripled with the bases loaded in the first inning. Dorow and Chris Kennedy each had three hits, while Peggy Hammerschmidt and Beth Kenney each had two.

Several Chelsea youngsters competed in the Ann Arbor Invitational Youth Track and Field Meet at the University of Michigan on Saturday, July 8.

Zac Ersten was fourth in the 80m hurdles, third in the 1,300m run in 5:35, and third in the 800m run in 2:43. Stacy Ersten placed second in the shot put.

Anna Daigle was first in both the 100m and 200m dash.

Tom Irwin was sixth in the 100m dash in 14.6 and participated in the long jump.

Jim Irwin was third in the long jump and the 200m dash.

Matt Tuttle placed sixth in the 400m run and second in the 80m hurdles.

Mark Hand participated in the long jump.

The 400m relay team of Tom and Jim Irwin, Tuttle, and Hand placed first.

Little League Baseball Results

Week of July 24

Orioles 4, Good Guys 2-

Nick Brink pitched a one-hitter for the Orioles, with the help of good team defense. He also struck out 10 batters. Leading hitters for the Orioles were Dan Johnson, Lance Ching, and Mark Hand. Lance Ching made the play of the game by snagging a line drive. For the Guys, Damon McLaughlin pitched two innings and struck out three batters, and David Paton struck out seven batters in three innings. Ashley Coy was the leading hitter for the Guys. Jason Sprawka and David Paton played excellent defense. The game was a battle for first place as the Orioles led the guys by half a game going into the contest. The Orioles finished with 10 wins and the Guys had eight.

Young Chelsea Bowlers Win Awards in State Tournament

Several young Chelsea bowlers were honored on Sunday, July 23 for their performances in the State Bowling Tournament last winter in Grand Rapids. The 7th Annual Awards Banquet of Champions was held at the Kellogg Center at Michigan State University.

Tricia Wurster, daughter of Vicky and Ray Wurster of Manchester, won a $1,000 scholarship award in the All Events category for scoring most pins over average. She was 474 pins over average. She also received awards for taking first place in the All Events with 2,265; High Game (226) in the team event, which was 120 pins over her average; and High Series Actual (548) in the team event.

The team of Wurster, Carrie Vargo, Holly Koscielniak, and Annette Wurster took second place in the division C team event with a handicap score of 2,755.

Other receiving awards include Eddie Greenleaf and Chris White, who took first place in the B division doubles with a pinfall of 1,476. Greenleaf also took a plaque for second place in the B division All Events with a 2,181.

Vargo and Koscielniak received plaques for second place in the C division doubles.

Jim Finch's Venison Meatballs Included in Game Cookbook

Chelsea resident Jim Finch's recipe for venison meatballs has been included in "Fred Trost's Fish and Wild Game Classics 1989" cookbook.

Finch received a free copy of the cookbook. The recipe, although it may sound a little unusual, is well worth trying. For anyone who doesn't have easy access to venison, the recipe will work well with beef, Finch said.

The recipe follows.
3 lbs. ground venison
1 1/2 t lemon juice
1 T minced onion

1/2 t black pepper
1 T garlic salt
1/2 C corn flakes
1/2 C milk

2 12 oz bottles of chili sauce
2 8 oz jars of jalapeno jelly (available at Schneider's Grocery)
Mix all ingredients except sauce and jelly and form into meatballs. Brown the meatballs and put them in a crock pot with sauce and jelly.

Who Gets Your Food Dollar?

U.S. farmers received only 25 cents out of every dollar consumers spent on food at the supermarket or in restaurants in 1988. The remaining 75 cents covered other marketing costs from packaging to profit. That's according to a "Who Gets Your Food Dollar?" brochure prepared by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Other components of the food dollar included a 34.5 cents that was devoted to labor required in processing, marketing and serving; 8 cents in packaging; 7.5 cents in rent and depreciation; 4.5 cents in transportation; 4.5 cents in advertising; 3.5 cents in energy costs; 3 cents in before-tax profits; 2 cents for interest charges; 1.5 cents for repairs and 6 cents in other miscellaneous items such as insurance, property taxes, debt losses and accounting.

The farm share of the food dollar varies greatly from one product to another. Eight cents of every dollar spent on bread goes to the wheat grower while 58 cents out of every dollar spent on beef goes to the producer.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Recently you published two letters from Gregg E. Magnuson regarding his displeasure with the proposed sewer system.

I would like equal time to debate some of the so called "facts" that Mr. Magnuson believes to be the viewpoints of all Portage and Baseline Lake residents.

In the letter printed July 12, 1989 he states that there are 1,300 possible taps to the new sewer and that the Portage Base Lake Owner's Association (P.B.L.O.A.) has about 350 households as members. Because of this, he states that they only represent "a little over 30% of the lake owners." He failed to mention the townships that circulated petitions in favor of the proposed sewer system. I do not have the facts on how many people that signed the petitions were P.B.L.O.A. members or not, but I know for a fact that some of the people that signed my petitions were not P.B.L.O.A. members. In his second letter (published July 19, 1989) he claims to have contacted 85 people opposed to the sewer. Where do these people live, and what information have they been giving to make this decision? Are they included in the sewer district or people within the township with information supplied by Mr. Magnuson?

Mr. Magnuson also states "We believe our study and research over the last four-plus months..." continuing on to state some "facts." Who is "We," where is the data, and what is the background or expertise of the people performing this "study"? Has any one from the DNR, EPA, or an engineering firm specializing in this type of work looked at your data to verify "your conclusions"? Or, as I believe, are you stating these "facts" as another scare tactic designed to hide the truth. Mr. Magnuson then goes on to state "We believe that our drinking water is at considerable risk." Where are the facts proving or disproving this conclusion? And again "We believe this is not a safe and adequate system for the proposed sewer district." Any facts showing this to be true?

I also find it very interesting that you previously condemned the P.B.L.O.A. for claiming that they represent the majority of the lake owners. Yet you seem to be making claims that your beliefs are the majority. How many people does your organization represent? Is it less than the 350 households (possible approximately 700 people) that are represented by the P.B.L.O.A.?

My favorite line from this letter is the following: "Many of the people opposed to this project believe a sewer system is needed—just not THIS system." Well Mr. Magnuson, since you did all these supposed studies, what system do you recommend? Not once have any of the people opposed to this system been able to propose a better system. Also isn't it interesting that this statement acknowledges the fact MOST PEOPLE BELIEVE (those opposed and those in favor) that a sewer system is needed.

Now to continue with statements from your second letter published July 19, 1989. I know you want the sewage to go to Dexter, because your "facts" ($1.7 to $1.9 million EXTRA) show it to be less expensive than stated by Mr. Drolett ($3 to $5 million EXTRA). I believe that when you attended that last Sewer Authority meeting, Mr. Drolett agreed that your claim of $50 to $60 per foot of pipe laid is probably accurate. But you failed to mention (conveniently) that he also explained that the Dexter Site would have to be expanded to take on the increased load from the Portage and Baseline Lakes area. Have you included this in your "study"? I believe that is where the difference in your price and his price comes from. He also reminded you that one of the reasons we do not want it to go to Dexter is because of the loss of control over the amount of taps. This could greatly increase the growth in the area and we could become another Walled Lake. Mr. Drolett also stated that the Sewer Authority felt that this increased cost would not be approved by the people within the sewer district.

I assume your next claims also come from your research. Again, I am sure that the Sewer Authority would like to see the data that shows that the proposed sewer will threaten the Stinchfield Wood aquifer, that little Portage will be polluted, the air will be polluted from open sewage pits and the pristine wilderness will be wrecked. If you could bring that material to the Sewer Authority meeting or supply them with that information I am sure they would welcome it.

You also make the claim that the proposed system could fail and pump raw sewage into the lakes, similar to the incident July 11 in Strawberry Lake. Again you failed (conveniently) to mention that Ray Smit told you at the Sewer Authority meeting that this system was not similar to the Strawberry Lake system whatsoever. He also went into detail explaining the back-up generators and other system designs to eliminate the possible polluting of the environment. You also make some claim about "O-rings" being designed by experts. Are we to assume that you are an expert in this area and you are telling us that in your "expert" opinion this is a bad system? Or are you suffering from a case of the NIMBY's "NOT IN MY BACK YARD."

Another letter printed in The Dexter Leader on July 19 by Ruth Peabody claims that the privately owned septic tanks are mostly working and few have problems. She must be a member of the same study and research team as Mr. Magnuson. I find it interesting that she printed a post office box, supposedly for use to reply to. Is she also a resident of the Stinchfield Woods area and also a NIMBY? Does she have data to show how many septic systems there are and in what condition they are? If so I encourage her to supply the Sewer Authority with this information.

Furthermore the "facts" from the Sewer Authority that I have seen, and the support of all four township boards and the P.B.L.O.A. members, lead me to believe that this system will provide an adequate means of disposing of waste, keeping the lakes and drinking water clean and keeping growth of the area under control. Mr. Magnuson forgets that one of the reasons for not going to Dexter is to maintain control over the growth associated with the availability of a sewage system. If this proposed system goes to a vote on the bond issue and fails it does not mean that there will not be a sewer. What it does mean is that the financing will have to come from somewhere else, which could mean loss of control on who can use the sewer system, thus allowing for expanded and possible rapid growth to the area. Will you, Mr. Magnuson, be there to fight against this with the same effort, or because it may not affect you, let it pass you by? I find it very interesting that you claim that if it was located elsewhere people would complain. You may be right, but at least I would hope they would get the facts from the officials before waging a complaint against it.

I believe that the Sewer Authority members, and in particular Mr. Jim Drolett, are doing a great job in protecting my interests and the interests of the community. I encourage all residents to let their viewpoints be known, if not, people like Mr. Magnuson may try to include you in his viewpoint with letters claiming "We" or "Our." I also encourage people to call the numbers listed in Mr. Drolett's article (printed July 19, 1989 in The Dexter Leader) to get the facts first-hand, and not to accept information told by someone who may try to persuade you that they have the facts.

I thank The Dexter Leader for allowing me to voice my opposing point of view.

Thaddeus J. Cieslak, Jr.
Portage Lake Resident and P.B.L.O.A. Member.

To the Editor,

Several letters have appeared in this space regarding the upcoming school millage vote. Many of the letters have merely confused the issue with factual errors and irrelevant information.

The central issue for each individual voter is whether he or she wishes to spend more money for improvements in the educational system or not.

The issue is not greed. Certainly, our teachers and administrators are not greedy. They are paid less than people in similar positions in other local school districts.

The issue is not administrative competence. My impression is that the Chelsea school system has been managed in a conservative and businesslike manner.

If you disagree, you should work toward a change in board representation and administration, rather than a reduction in funds for educational programs.

Focusing on alleged greed and incompetence are excuses for voting no, rather than reasons for voting no.

The fact is that additional money for schools will improve the educational experience and lives of the children. Vote no if you do not want to spend money to do that. Vote yes if you do.

Finally, in calculating the cost of the additional millage, remember to account for the effect of the Michigan state property tax rebate system. This system returns $60 to the taxpayer for every $100 in additional property taxes paid. Therefore, if the millage increases your tax bill by $100, you will pay a net tax increase of only $40.

I intend to vote yes because an investment in the education of a child pays large returns which are enjoyed by all members of the community.

John Wheeler.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to offer thoughts regarding the choice of voters to support or not to support the upcoming school election. It seems to me that the majority of people that turned out to vote had in mind to save a small amount at a great expense.

Value received for the dollar spent is a hard formula to see when the values often don't mature for several years. The investment in our children and students may offer some instant enthusiasm and perhaps accomplishment, but the real reward comes in the form of attitudes, ethics and skills that form the fabric of our community in the next decade and on.

I have had the pleasure to be in school districts in 47 states and nine countries within the last seven years as part of my work at the University of Michigan. It doesn't take long to note quality or the lack of quality in any district.

Pursuit of excellence involving multiple routes has an effect on all students that is seen in their manner, choices and accomplishments. All it takes is to read any issue of The Chelsea Standard to note the multiple accomplishments of our students.

When we moved here 12 years ago, Chelsea was our choice because of the quality of the schools, the breadth of the program and the attitude of professional mission that we noted in conversations with school personnel.

Since then, we have come to note an even greater pride as represented in the incredible volunteer spirit in our town toward the school program. Nowhere, have I found an equal to this combination.

The decision to save a few dollars by cutting the Triad Program, the performances of the Music Program, the selected parts of the Athletic Program and the other actions mentioned is hard to understand.

These are the very programs that train our brightest students to think independently and with creativity, that give the confidence of performance to the students that have chosen to express themselves in the arts and that give all students an opportunity to discover life-long endeavors through athletics that serve to keep them alert and healthy all their lives.

It seems to me that these values are worth supporting several times over because they are so fundamental. To have them removed is a tragedy.

Our community will regret this action if it is not reversed in the coming election Aug. 14. All conscientious people need to support the schools whether they have school-age children or not. We all live in the community.

To the Editor:

In reference to the article of July 26, 1989, in The Chelsea Standard, entitled, "Clerk/Register Office Struggles With Increasing Work Load."

I must commend the writer of this article for stating so clearly as to how fortunate we are to have Robert M. Harrison undertaking the operating of Clerk/Register's Office. I am in complete agreement with this article and I hope the Washtenaw county officials and residents realize how fortunate they are to have these dedicated citizens.

Imagine trying to operate this mammoth and demanding undertaking with inconsiderate politicians and other local officials harassing you... and, being under staffed, please.

Robert M. Harrison, please stay with us... we need you. I voted for you and I'll vote for you again. Sincerely,

Joseph P. Boltach

To the Editor:

With the millage election so close now, we need to separate the issues to make the best decision.

The issue is not teacher and administration salaries.

The issue is not sex/aids education or the Michigan model controversy.

The issue is not how we finance our state's education system or even the recent assessment increases.

The issue is quality education that will take our children and society into the 21st century. Our children are our most valuable renewable resource. Providing them with the most current computer education, materials, texts, and the highest quality teachers and administrators will keep them competitive in our rapidly changing world. Over the last ten years I have had faith and trust that when millage was requested it was needed. My "yes" vote on election day will reaffirm that trust.

Glenn R. Miller.

Cub Scout Day Camp Held at Bruin Lake

A total of 23 boys from Cub Scout Packs 448 and 477 took advantage of the chance to attend the Wolverine Council's Cub Scout Day Camp last week at Camp Munhake, Bruin Lake.

Cub Scouts from Pack 435 and Pack 455, Chelsea, and from Pack 312, Plinkney, also spent the week at Day Camp.

Anyone counting heads, last week, would have observed nearly 125 boys at day camp, with another contingent of 150 expected at Camp Munhake, this week.

Dexter's Dave Kluck, who serves as cubmaster for Pack 448, is the 1989 Day Camp program director, and District Scout Executive Jim Bellmer's camp director.

The boys were organized as five Indian tribes, Blackfeet, Iroquois, Ottawa, Cherokee and Winnebago, to fit the Pioneers theme for the summer.

Activities included nature hikes, studying live animals (which abound on the grassy fields and in the woods), lots of outdoor games, archery and B-B gun instruction, assorted crafts, fishing from the dock, and a chance to shop at the Trading Post, each day.

One of the best-liked locations at day camp was a great waterfront, with sandy beach of cooling lake waters.

Each of the five tribes was able to take part in the waterfront activities daily.

Dexter boys had a special interest at the waterfront, in addition to the fun shared at the waterfront by each of the day-campers.

Guess who volunteered to supervise waterfront safety, this summer?

It was Daisy Bender's daughter, Sue Shell, a very capable certified Water Safety Instructor (WSI), who volunteered her services through the American Red Cross.

Observing the waterfront activity, it was difficult to determine whether the boys or Sue had more fun, working and playing in Bruin Lake.

In fact, the same type enthusiasm was evident in each of the adults, who had volunteered to assist at camp.

Dave Kluck and Jim Bellmer said they were really grateful for such a fine staff, and thanked their lucky stars for the Explorer Scouts, who were on hand to help with dozens of tasks during day camp.

The Explorers are sponsored by the Chelsea Police Department, and provided of great value during the weeks at camp.

Delores Kingston from Saline's Pack 464 provided the boys a whole lot of information on butterflies and insects during their stay at Camp Munhake.

Delores has been granted a federal license to keep certain interesting species of animals, mounted fish and/or stuffed birds, which she allowed the Cub Scouts to observe.

She introduced the boys to many species of waterfowl found in Michigan, and explained a number of DNR regulations.

On Tuesday, many of the boys completed a four-inch high wooden model of a covered wagon, which measured 6-7 inches long.

Wednesday, hand-dipped candles were produced during craft sessions, and the Cub Scouts did copper-tooling, finishing some handsome horse-heads or Indians on chunks of stained pine blocks.

During their first craft session at day camp, the boys each decorated a totem for the beads they earned for participation and/or accomplishment in the daily activities.

Using plastic seven-ounce cups and pieces of wet sponge, the boys fashioned wild-turkey calls, and pheasant calls, then put them to use.

Archery instruction, with ample bales of straw placed in the sunny fields of Camp Munhake, proved as popular as ever.

The boys were offered archery instruction, Tuesday and Thursday, with B-B instruction, also a favorite activity, given the remaining three days.

Jerry Evans, who heads the Marine Safety Unit for the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, visited the day camp to present a class on small-boat safety and water rescue.

Another craft item was the stick-dice, which the Cub Scouts made, painting Indian designs on wooden tongue depressors.

Michigan United Conservation Club (MUCC) provided materials for the brief session on mosquito-breeding and habits.

Although mosquitoes were noticed in great numbers, and a few seemed unusually hungry, the boys were able to ignore them for the most part, and it sure was fun to see so many varieties of wildflowers and trees, to watch the hundreds of colorful birds flying in and out of the woody area, and to breathe the marvelous country air under the clear blue skies which provided nature's own roof for Camp Munhake.

What a treat to sample the cold, well water from the pump by the Trading Post, and to climb on the stump of the giant tree nearby—it must surely measure 4-5 feet in diameter.

At the outdoor circle near the historic dining hall at Munhake (formerly Bruin Lake Scout Camp), the flagpole is still center-stage, where hundreds of boys gather each year to show their respect for the American flag, a red-white-and-blue reminder of the freedoms their ancestors secured for the vigorous, eager-eyed youth in what is still the world's finest nation, America!

In five action-packed days, the Cub Scouts stored enough memories at Wolverine Council's 1989 Day Camp to last them many years.

CHELSEA FIRE DEPARTMENT'S LADDER 1 was placed in service during May, 1989, according to the brass plaque affixed to the driver's side of the truck. The plaque carries a poignant message, "This truck, to help protect the people and property of the Chelsea area, was made possible by the hard work and generosity of the following: Abrasive Finishing, Inc., Ames Department Store, BookCrafters, Inc., Chelsea Cleaners, Chelsea Civic Foundation, Chelsea Glass, Chelsea Greenhouse, Chelsea Grinding Co., Chelsea Community Hospital, Chelsea Industries, Inc., Chelsea Lumber Co., Chelsea Milling, Douglas Eder, Dan Ellenwood, Larry Gaken, Hatch Stamping Co., Heller Electric & Supplies, Steve Jaskot, J & A Enterprise, Klink Excavating, Lewis Publishers, Inc., Longworth Plating Service, Liz & Flo Longworth, MacDee, Inc., Lyle Olson, Tom Osborne, Roberts Paint & Body, Inc., Rowe Insurance Service, Stillion Industries, Inc., and Porath Apartments.

Michigan Blueberries in Season Until September

What's small, round, full of vitamins and iron, low in calories and lots of fun to eat? Fresh Michigan blueberries—and they're in season until September.

These small fruits have only been cultivated for a century and are harvested almost exclusively in the United States. With their extraordinary taste and appeal, blueberries are the most versatile of the bushberry group.

For more information on u-pick operations and farm markets featuring blueberries in your area, call 1-800-877-PICK or write to the Center for Agricultural Innovation and Development, Michigan Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 30017, Lansing 48909.

Extension To File Income Tax Form Expires Aug. 15

"A taxpayer who applied for an automatic extension of time to file the 1988 federal tax Form 1040 or 1040A must file the completed return and pay any remaining tax due by midnight, Aug. 15, 1989," said IRS district director John Hummel. "If further time is still needed, a taxpayer may request up to an additional two months (until Oct. 15) by filing Form 2688, Application for Additional Extension of Time to File, before Aug. 15," Hummel added. "However, the Form 2688 does not grant an automatic extension. The additional time must be approved by the IRS and if it is not, the taxpayer will generally be granted a 10-day grace period to file the completed Form 1040," he said.

For additional information concerning extension of time to file, taxpayers may call the IRS toll free information number, 1-800-424-1040, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

The IRS said that taxpayers who need any federal tax forms to complete their returns may request them by calling the toll free forms order number, 1-800-424-3678, Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Lively Bidding Develops At 4-H Livestock Auction

At the Livestock Auction, Thursday night, bidding under the canvas was lively.

Rabbits

The grand champion rabbit raised by Kristen Wehr of Whitmore Lake, a member of Tens-N-Teens, sold to Braun & Helmer, and Lutheran Brotherhood placed the top bid for the reserve grand champion rabbit, brought by Townline Workers' Mike Masters of Ann Arbor.

Lisa Gustafson of Saline, and Chris Masters from Ann Arbor produced the third- and fourth-place rabbits, which sold to Hansen Explosives of Saline, and Paul Zahn for Zahn's Trucking.

Poultry

Braun & Helmer spoke up with a successful bid for the grand champion meat pen, raised by Peter Bukis of Village Kids 4-H Club in Belleville, and Jason Cousino of Townline Workers, Manchester, sold the reserve grand champion meat pen to Atlas Feed & Grain of Clinton.

Dairy

Farm Credit Services on Jackson Rd. placed a $700 bid for the champion dairy animal, raised by Lisa Lozier of Manchester.

The reserve champion dairy cow, brought from Manchester by Greg Weidmayer, and was purchased for $575 by Atlas Feed & Grain, Clinton.

Goat

Grover Colby of Dexter's Colby Farms made a successful $80 bid for the grand champion goat, raised by Kevin Blades of Grass Lake.

Beef

Tom Michals entered Meijer's winning bid, $1.50/pound, for the 1315-pound grand champion steer raised by Julie Nixon of Blue Ribbon Livestock 4-H Club.

It was a Meijer's double-take at Thursday's auction, as the fortunate buyer also fell heir to the reserve grand champion steer, paying Aaron Van Natter a bargain $1.175/pound for his 1340-pound steer.

Sarah Heller sold her grand champion 1295-pound market heifer, judged champion in rate-of-gain, as well, to Provoco of Chelsea for $.95/pound.

Representative Margaret O'Connor placed a successful $.90/pound bid to purchase Robyn Gillen's 1050-pound reserve grand champion market heifer.

The 1st high middleweight steer, weighing in at 1240 pounds, was raised by Julie Nixon, Blue Ribbon Livestock

4-H Club, and sold at $.90/pound to Braun Agribusiness/Propane.

Dunbar Meat Packing, Milan, was the top bidder to purchase the 1170-pound 1st middleweight steer sold by Julie Daniels of Dexter.

Jennifer Bailey of the Jolly Farmerettes 4-H Club sold her 1st low middleweight steer to Scott Powers for $.85/pound.

John and Nancy Bihlmeyer of Greengo Dairy Farm placed a successful $.875/pound bid for the 1st lightweight steer sold by Dan Bihlmeyer of Townline Workers 4-H Club.

Bains Packing Co. of Howell paid $.775/pound for the 2nd high middleweight steer raised by Julie Daniels from Blue Ribbon Livestock 4-H Club.

Dexter's Brian Trinkle of Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club sold his 1150-pound 2nd middleweight steer for $.825/pound to Bob Schneider for S & S Masonry.

Luckhardt Plumbing of Saline was the top bidder, at $.85/pound, for Amy Trinkle's 2nd low middleweight steer.

Lisa Lozier of Grass Lake accepted $.875/pound from G. E. Wacker, Inc., Manchester, for her 1020-pound 2nd lightweight steer.

Washtenaw Farmers Oil offered $.85/pound for the 1140-pound 2nd heavyweight market heifer, raised by Jamie McFarlane of Blue Ribbon Livestock 4-H Club.

Christina Schaible's 2nd lightweight market heifer sold for $.92/pound to Provoco of Chelsea.

Jennifer Bailey sold her 3rd high 1235-pound middleweight steer for $.825/pound to Fel-Kran Plumbing & Heating.

Julie Eder & Son paid $.86/pound for a 1165-pound 3rd middleweight steer, brought to the auction by Dan Roehm of the Saline 4-H Farmers.

Armstrong Kountry Kraits purchased the 3rd lightweight market heifer, weighing 995 pounds, for $.85/pound from Mike Masters of Townline Workers.

JULIE NIXON OF DEXTER was the proud owner of the 1989 grand champion steer. Several of her other animals earned honors at the Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show, July 24-28, at the Farm Council Grounds.

Sheep

John and Mary Hammer of Milan purchased David Armstrong's grand champion individual lamb, 129 pounds at $.44/pound.

Chelsea's John Heller of Rogers Corners Herdsmen 4-H Club sold his 121-pound reserve grand champion individual lamb to Mark McKernan, Chelsea, for $.44/pound.

Tom Michals placed a successful bid for Meijer's (Ypsilanti) to buy the grand champion lamb pair, raised by David Armstrong of Plymouth.

Michigan Livestock in Manchester purchased the reserve grand champion pair of lambs, raised by John Heller of Chelsea, for $1.25/pound.

Swine

Washtenaw Farmers Oil paid $2.90/pound for the 235-pound grand champion hog raised by Josh Kohler of Saline 4-H Farmers.

Ed Gall's reserve champion hog sold to NBD-Ann Arbor for $1.80/pound. Ed is also a member of Saline 4-H Farmers.

Amy Feldkamp of Clinton, another member of the Saline 4-H Farmers, sold her grand champion pair in the swine competition to Jacob Haas of Dexter for $1.40/pound, a total of 492 pounds at 24¢ each.

Michelle Jedele's reserve champion swine pair were purchased for $1.25/pound by Ron McCalla, Dexter.

Sorry, time constraints dictated a postponement of some 4-H Youth Show news.

Watch for results of the horse judging events, and the finish of the action in the livestock auction in next week's edition.

CELESTE BYCRAFT AND HER SISTER MELISSA of Chelsea were two of the young people from the Rogers Corners Herdsmen who showed the animals they raised at the Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show, held July 24-28 at the Farm Council Grounds.

Sheriff's Dept. Reports Area Thefts, Crashes

Huron River Drive resident Leslie Bud Graham told deputy Harry Valentine from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department he left his 12-foot aluminum Sea Nymph boat secured by a chain to the stern of the boat, with the chain fastened to a tree by padlock at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, July 23, and when he checked the site approximately 24 hours later, he found the chain still fastened to the tree, with the stern handle broken off.

Marks at the scene indicated the boat had been turned over, dragged to the river, and floated off.

The craft was valued at $800.

Cpl. L. G. Thayer investigated a 3-car crash at 8:15 a.m. Monday, July 24, on Jackson Rd., near Wagner Rd., in which one of the drivers, Nancy Jean Geer of Dexter, was injured and transported to Chelsea Community Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

The report of the crash said Ms. Geer was cited for disregarding a red light, and her vehicle struck another, driven by Joseph Leroy Anderson of Dexter-Chelsea Rd., before colliding with a third car, with Victor Matthew Joffe of W. Delhi Rd. driving.

Deputy Valentine was dispatched about 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 24, to investigate a retail fraud complaint at the Portage Lake Trading Post on McGregor Rd.

Anna Katherine Wolfe received a violation for improper passing, following a two-car crash on Parker Rd., just south of Interstate-94.

Deputy Keith Dietrich investigated the crash, reported at 7:40 p.m. Sunday, July 23.

Ms. Wolfe explained she thought a second vehicle, driven by Timothy Mark Cottenham of Jackson Rd., was going to pull off the road, so she began to pass, but struck the Cottenham car as she pulled back into her lane.

In addition to Ms. Wolfe, Lisa Marie Cottenham, a passenger in the second car, was injured in the crash, but both injured parties opted to seek medical treatment on their own, the report noted.

Pamela Lou Greenleaf, an Ann Arbor motorcyclist, was injured when the Harley-Davidson cycle she was riding went down, after she turned to look at a motorcyclist riding behind her, Friday, July 21, at 5:22 p.m. on Pleasant Lake Rd. near Steinbach Rd. She was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

In their report, deputies Valentine and Friel noted Ms. Greenleaf had completed the S curves along Pleasant Lake Rd. and was on the straightway, when she turned to see the other cyclist.

Two sisters from Dearborn ended up in Glen Haussler's cornfield on Austin Rd., at 4:25 p.m. Friday, July 21.

Deputy Keith Dietrich reported both girls were injured and transported by HVA to Saline, following the incident.

Dietrich said Jennifer Ann Madsen explained she had told her sister, Susan Elizabeth Madsen, a passenger, that the steering seemed touchy, at which point, Susan grabbed the steering wheel, causing the vehicle to swerve to the right.

The driver over-corrected, the vehicle crossed the center line of the road, and eventually came to rest in the cornfield on the south side of the road.

Dennis Wayne Collins was injured when he tried to miss striking a deer on Austin Rd. at 11:45 p.m. Thursday, July 20, but his vehicle rolled over into a ditch at the location.

Deputies Marsh and White, who investigated the incident, said Collins was driving east on Austin Rd., west of Dell Rd. when the deer appeared.

Collins drove to the Saline Community Hospital for medical treatment.

A friend who noticed the front door standing open called Tammy Sweeney, at work, Wednesday afternoon, July 19, to alert her to the fact her home on Old US-12, near Freer Rd. in Lima township, had been broken into.

Missing in the break-in were a Texas Instruments desktop printing calculator, estimated value $150, a 35-mm Canon camera with at least two lenses, an $80 ladies yellow-gold ring with pearl setting, and a coin collection, valued at $300.

Pinckney Man Decorated for Help With Alaskan Oil Spill

Coast Guard Fireman James F. Baughn, son of Beverly A. Baughn of 2353 Swarthout Rd., Pinckney, recently received the Special Operations Service Ribbon while serving with the Federal on Scene Co-ordinator, Valdez, Alaska.

He received the ribbon in recognition of his participation in the Exxon Valdez Oil Spill Cleanup Operation.

A 1987 graduate of Pinckney High school, Pinckney, he joined the Coast Guard in September 1987.

The first governmental recognitions of Labor Day came from municipal ordinances passed during 1885 and 1886, according to the U.S. Labor Department. Oregon passed the first state legislation marking the holiday in February, 1887. In 1894, Congress passed without discussion an act making the first Monday in September as Labor Day.

Give Anhydrous Ammonia The Respect It Deserves

Anhydrous ammonia can knock a person flat in a matter of seconds and may cause permanent disability.

"It is something that absolutely no one should ever try to second-guess," says Howard J. Doss, Michigan State University Extension agricultural safety specialist.

Ammonia has a great affinity for moisture. That's what makes it combine with soil moisture and become available as nitrogen. That affinity for moisture also makes a person's eyes, nasal passages, throat and lungs a ready target unless they are properly protected from the gas.

Doss likens the result of exposure to anhydrous ammonia to a freezer burn. If inhaled, anhydrous ammonia can cause immediate and sometimes severe respiratory damage.

"Even if a person survives inhalation of anhydrous ammonia, there is a substantial risk of permanent health damage," Doss says. "I know of at least one case in Michigan where a farmer must depend on a wheelchair and an oxygen tank because he took a chance with anhydrous ammonia and lost."

Doss says that a person should wear at minimum rubber gloves and goggles specifically approved for use when handling anhydrous ammonia. But he prefers that a person wear the gloves and an anhydrous ammonia respirator to help prevent injury if a spill occurs.

If the farmer wears goggles rather than the mask, the goggles should be tight fitting and specially vented. Turning the cuffs of the gloves back towards the hands will keep any liquid ammonia from running down the user's sleeve. Reduce the chance that the gas will directly hit the skin by wearing long pants and long-sleeved shirts, he advises.

Always keep five gallons of fresh water available at the tractor and on the ammonia tank for washing skin in case of an ammonia spill. A small plastic eyewash bottle filled with water and carried in a shirt pocket will provide immediate access to water and could save a person's eyesight if a blast of ammonia strikes the face.

If ammonia gets on skin or in the eyes, rinse the affected area for at least 15 minutes with fresh water. That is essential to minimize the damage—actually a chemical burn—caused by anhydrous ammonia.

Anyone attempting to rescue someone caught in a cloud of ammonia gas must use an anhydrous ammonia respirator to avoid becoming another victim of the gas. Avoid this type of accident by working upwind of the ammonia cloud, so the gas drifts away from workers.

It is essential for victims of anhydrous ammonia accidents to seek immediate medical attention. That will help minimize the effects of the burn and possible prevent permanent disability.

The law creating the U.S. Department of Labor was signed by President William Howard Taft on March 4, 1913, according to the U.S. Labor Department. That was Inauguration Day for Taft's successor, Woodrow Wilson. Taft had mixed feelings about the bill and faced a difficult choice. He could sign it into law, veto it, or take no action and let the bill die when his term of office ran out. During the last few hours of his presidency, Taft chose to sign the bill, and the Labor Department was formed.

Miguel Bonilla Attends U.S. Space Camp

Miguel Bonilla of Chelsea explored the future of space travel and experienced astronaut training activities at U.S. Space Camp.

The space camp is open to youngsters in grades four through seven and introduces trainees to the history of space exploration during tours of the Space and Rocket Center and NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center.

Children also see into the future of the space program by visiting NASA's space station as it is being developed.

The highlight of the five-day program is a simulated mission using space shuttle and mission control mockups built specially for the camp. Trainees take roles in the orbiter and in mission control through the mission, from launch through experiments in orbit, to landing. The pilot and commander use computers to fly the orbiter and communicate with trainees in mission control to solve problems that arise during the flight. Other trainees put on space-suit mockups for simulated space walks in the orbiter's payload bay.

Space camp is designed to encourage young people to study math, science, and high technology by giving them a hands-on introduction to related fields in space science.

Another highlight of the week puts youngsters in the role of astronauts

CHELSEA SHOPPING CENTER held its Grand Opening last Thursday afternoon and the ribbon cutting was performed by Alex Papo, the young son of developer Rene

Papo. Papo thanked a number of people, including village officials, for making the project, "a success."

FACTS & FIGURES

Ninety-five percent of all diving accidents in pools occur in five feet of water or less. Diving should take place in the deep end of the pool and never across the narrow end where there is not a clear dive path of at least 25 feet, say experts at the National Spa & Pool Institute (NSPI). Do not let anyone dive off the side of a diving board, slide or any other pool equipment. Never try to dive through an inner tube.

Gregory

Walter E. French, Jr., 14075 North Territorial Rd., North Lake, Gregory, age 73, died Saturday morning, July 29, 1989 at Chelsea Community Hospital.

He was born Dec. 25, 1915 in Chicago, Ill., the son of Water E. and Gertrude (Andrews) French, Sr. Mr. French was a resident of North Lake for 48 years and worked in road construction most of his life. He was a veteran of WW II, serving in the U. S. Army.

On July 7, 1940 he married Velma Edick and she survives as does his daughter and son-in-law, Mary and Gary Erskine of Chelsea; three grandchildren, David, Shari, and Johnny Erskine, all of Chelsea; two sisters, Anitra DeSmythers of Chelsea and Lucia Collings of Stockbridge; two brothers, Milton French of Gregory and the Rev. Coyne Holiday of Dexter; his mother-in-law, Victoria Buku of Gregory and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents and a sister, Anna Oesterle.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Aug. 1, at 11 a.m. from the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home with the Rev. Coyne Holiday officiating. Burial followed in Mount Hope Cemetery, Waterloo.

A SEWER FORCE MAIN had to run under Letts Creek on the north end of the village, and this is how workers managed to get the water out of the way to install the pipe. The pipe carried the water while workers concentrated their efforts underneath. Pumps got rid of any water that seeped into the work area.

BETSY BECKERMAN'S DULCIMER BAND Sidewalk Festival Activities last Saturday afternoon. The delighted a small but enthusiastic crowd during the group played a variety of selections.

& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. I am hearing a lot of talk about Junk Bonds. Many of my friends who have been successful seem to be buying them. They don't usually buy junk. Would you give me a little information about them.

A. The June issue of Better Investing carries a story on Junk Bonds by Leonard Reiser which you would find interesting. Reiser defines those bonds as risky bonds which pay a high interest rate. They are usually issued by companies whose credit ratings are below investment grade. For your information, that is a very large number of corporations since less than four percent of all U.S. corporations have investment grade credit ratings.

The default rate of less than investment grade corporations is not large. It has been only 1.2 percent to 1.5 percent. However, in recent years the number of these bonds has risen explosively. In 1948, there were only $2 billion of these bonds; in 1986, the total was $180 billion. Such bonds are now estimated to be as much as 25 percent of the debt issued by about 1,000 corporations.

A large amount of these bonds have been issued in connection with corporate takeovers and restructurings. The extra risk comes from at least two areas. One is the less-than-investment-grade quality of the issuer. The second is the fact that in most cases they represent a sizable increase in the debt of the issuing corporation. The volume of debt makes the corporation much more subject to getting into trouble if there is a slight downturn in business. It is not likely every corporation that has issued this kind of debt will get in trouble, but our concern as investors is not to be the owner of those that have trouble. When LTV went into bankruptcy in 1986 and stopped payment on $2.1 billion of its junk bonds, the owners of those bonds became acutely aware of the risk.

It is interesting to see who owns all this junk. Mutual funds own about 30 percent of all junk bonds, insurance companies own another 30 percent, pension funds own 15 percent, savings and loan associations have 8 percent, individuals and foreign investors each have 5 percent, other corporations 3 percent and securities dealers 1 percent.

In recent years the mutual funds, specializing in these bonds have been star performers. Their high return is difficult to match with other investments, and as long as the day of reckoning can be postponed, the ride is great. In the mid 1980s, these bonds will start to come due. It will be interesting at that time to see how many holders will receive cash, and how many will be asked to take another piece of paper.

AL TOWNSEND, former first trombonist in the Gene Krupa Band, brought his Ambassadors to town last Thursday for the third Concert in the Park in Pierce Park. His Big Band sound was greatly appreciated by a large and older audience. The concert was sponsored by the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, Chelsea Recreation Council, Ames Department Store, and Chelsea Community Fair.

THE DIPLOMATS provided the group vocals for last Thursday's Concert in the Park by Al Townsend and the Ambassadors.
