100th Year

Historical Notes As Told By Jim Gaken, Retired Fire Chief
Information in Chelsea Village and Chelsea Fire Department histories indicate 1989 marks the 100th anniversary year for the Chelsea Fire Department.
With the help of my daughter, Linda Gaken Gray, we've tried to document the story of the Chelsea Fire Department (CFD) with information which is both factual and entertaining.

A Bit of Introduction
The first building or station was built May 4, 1888, in back of the town hall.
A hand-drawn hook-and-ladder truck, equipped with several buckets, was purchased July 20, 1888.

Information is from historical fire department accounts and from two old books of minutes from the Chelsea Firemen's Association, and the association which succeeded it, following the 1948 re-organization.

Some of the stories are from conversations between firemen, told when I was a child at home.

As far as I know, they are true stories.

A great core on which to build was the strength of a combined 109-year family experience on which to draw, with many of the stories and events occurring during the 34 years (1947-1981) I'm proud to say I actively served with the department, 18 of those as fire chief.

My grandfather, Ed Gentner, who joined the department March 2, 1907, and served for 35 years, was the source for many of the older stories.

Floyd Gentner, my uncle, was with the department for 30 years, and my son, Larry Gaken, has been a firefighter for 10 years.

My account will include information on: 1) the various fire-station locations during the 100-year span; 2) methods of summoning the men when there was a fire; 3) the equipment, from the hand-drawn carts of the 1800's to the modern trucks, one of which has just been ordered by CFD; 4) equipment worn by the men, then and now; 5) communications over the years; 6) other equipment used over the years for fighting fires.

Chelsea Fire Stations
The fire structure to be used as a fire station was built in back of the Sylvan Township Hall on W. Middle St.
The 20-ft. by 40-ft. building was covered by corrugated sheet metal.

Cost of the building was $344.65, which included $4 for painting.

The second building, which the department occupied the year preceding 1917, was behind the site where Merkel Furniture Store is now located.

It was a wooden frame building, and equipment was stored there until motorized equipment was purchased.
My grandfather told me this building addressed the fact that by the time it was in use, the original hook-and-ladder truck had been converted to a horse-drawn apparatus.

Operating procedure at the time dictated the person who hitched his team of horses to the hook-and-ladder was to be paid, I believe 50, or 75, cents for the fire call.

One day, the alarm was sounded, my grandfather responded to the fire station, and on his arrival, saw a team of horses tied to the hitching post provided downtown.
Thinking he knew the team's owner, he hitched the team to the hook-and-ladder, and was off to the fire.

Returning to the station, he was amazed to learn the team was not his friend's, but actually belonged to a stranger.

However, the gentleman advised him it was all right to use his team for the fire—and should the occasion arise again, go ahead and use his team.

That, my dear readers, is how close my grandfather came to being hung as a horse thief, for the fire department.

The shelter next used by the Chelsea Fire Department was Palmer's Garage, and the equipment was eventually updated to motorized equipment.

The rent paid each month to Palmer's was seven dollars.

Several stories persist about trouble with the early motorized equipment.

There were times when there was no gasoline in the vehicle, because of the time between runs, during which the gas would evaporate, and considerable trouble with the battery not being charged.

In 1948, the village bought and remodeled the present municipal building.

A fire station was included in the building plans.
Room was provided for three trucks, and a room in which to hold the monthly meetings.

Usually, one truck was pulled out of the building during the monthly meetings, as the meeting-room barely accommodated the firemen.

Over the years, the trucks became larger and heavier, with the floor joists inadequate to hold the weight.
They started cracking, and a support wall started to crumble. It was repaired, and more and larger floor joists were installed, in addition to more floors jacks.

Another drawback to the new station was the single door. If the truck directly in front of the door failed to start, it had to be pushed out of the way by manpower, in order to make use of the other two trucks.

The next move was to the station at 200 W. Middle St., which houses the Chelsea Fire Department during its 100th year.

The move to this station was completed Nov. 2, 1963, with formal dedication on Feb. 23, 1964.

The new station had four bays for apparatus.
Firemen had, over the years, held various fund-raisers, carnivals, car washes. Once, they even sponsored a wrestling match!

Money from these functions was put into a building fund.
When the building was completed, some of the inside partitions and a few other things were left out—to meet the $34,000-budget set aside for the new fire station.

The firemen had accumulated a total of $1,242 in the building fund.

With volunteer labor donated by the firemen, the $1,242 enabled them to put up the partition between the meeting room and the area for the apparatus, to tile the floors throughout, to install the office ceiling, as well as purchase and install a stove, sink, cabinets and refrigerator.

RETIRED FIRE CHIEF JIM GAKEN, with help from his daughter, Linda Gaken Gray, compiled a lot of very interesting and entertaining information about the Chelsea Fire Department, which celebrated its 100th year of operation, Saturday, Aug. 19. The legendary account will be published in four parts, the first of which appears in this week's issue of The Chelsea Standard. Gaken and his son, Larry, continued the family's long service (totaling 109 years to date) to the CFD.

Water, Sewer Tap Fees May Be Sharply Hiked

Village of Chelsea may more than double its sewer and water tap and connection fees in order to finance new construction and pay back a big loan to the Capital Improvement Fund from the Electric Fund.

The village charges a total of $1,300 for those items, which is reportedly less than half of what Dexter ($2,850) and Saline ($3,000) charge.

A study by Midwestern Consulting suggested a total increase of $400 to $1,700, but village council recently discussed fees in the $2,700 to $3,500 range.
The additional increase, the village argues, is needed to pay back a $274,900 loan from the Electric Fund to the Capital Improvement Fund. The Capital Improvement Fund, Stalker said, has operated at a deficit for two years.

"I do not believe our fee structure is adequate to finance repayment of the existing loan and future needs of the utility system," Stalker said in his report to village council.

School Starts Next Monday

Classes begin in the Chelsea School District next Monday, Aug. 28.

It will be a full, normal day of school, with one exception. Each school will start the day with an assembly.

Students are scheduled to be at school at 8:50 a.m. at North and South Elementary schools and Beach Middle school. Students report at 8:45 a.m. at Chelsea High school.

Buses are scheduled to run as normal and each school will be serving its typical hot lunch.

Students and staff at Chelsea High school can attend a back-to-school breakfast at 8:15 a.m., sponsored by the Key Club.

"This fund has been earmarked to finance major utility improvements and is intended to receive revenues primarily through tap and connection fees."

Midwestern's report also detailed nearly $1 million worth of near and long-term projects that should also be completed, including the installation of another water tower.

Trustees Richard Steele and Stephanie Kanten said at last Tuesday's council meeting that they are opposed to fees totaling more than $3,000. Steele said he'd like to see the number around $2,700.

Stalker suggested raising the fees so they are comparable with Saline and Dexter.

Stalker said he plans to work on a recommendation for council to consider.

In other news dealing with the sewer system, the village plans to spend about $30,000 to install a sanitary force main sewer on Freer Rd. this fall.

Although the village had planned to finish the project eventually, the project became higher priority when the developers of Belser Estates approached the village about starting the second phase of their project.

Stalker said that although an engineering report says the current system is adequate, he'd like to see the project completed because of heavy flows and recent back-up problems.

Schools' Public Hearing Not To Increase Taxes Again

Chelsea School District's advertisement in last week's edition of The Standard for a public hearing on increasing property taxes was not a hearing for more millage than has already been approved by the voters.

The hearing is one that is required by law in order for the district to collect the recently approved 2.1 mills, as well as an allowance for inflation as prescribed in the Headlee Amendment.

The formulas for figuring the allowable millages are confusing.

Anyone who wants a detailed explanation should contact assistant superintendent Fred Mills at 475-9131.

Without the hearing, the district could not levy the 1.79 mills that represents inflation, or the Consumer Price Index. It also could not levy the 2.1 mills approved by voters Aug. 14.

After the hearing the total operating millage for the district will be 38.51 mills, which is still 2.1 mills short of the millage approved by the voters. The difference represents the effect of compounded Headlee rollbacks.

STEVE NARDELLA of Ann Arbor will bring his rock and roll show to the Chelsea Community Fair this Saturday at 7 p.m. Nardella is a popular performer in Ann Arbor and usually packs the house wherever he plays. Also scheduled to appear is Zeemo The Magnificent, a multi-talented juggler and comedian. The show is being sponsored by the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce and the Chelsea Community Fair, two of the groups who brought the Concert in the Park series to town.

Wednesday, Aug. 21, 1985—

Flames engulfed the Sylvan Hotel in a fire destroying most of its interior. The adjoining businesses, Winans Optical and Gambles, sustained relatively minor smoke damage. The fire itself did not spread beyond the hotel. Firemen from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester and Pittsfield township battled the blaze.

Manchester was converted to the mythical town of Sleepy Rock as shooting began on the horror movie, "The Carrier." False store fronts were built, as well as a church, and street signs were altered. The movie, produced by Ann Arbor's Nathan White was about a mysterious disease that disintegrates any person who touches a contaminated surface. Manchester's Kim Lee has the starring role.

Peaches are hard to grow in this part of the country because of winter-kill, disease and insect problems, but a tree at the home of Rudolph Ottoman came up with a real dandy. The huge peach measured a full four inches each way, just slightly smaller than a softball. Unfortunately, Ottoman could not save his prize peach long enough to enter it in the Chelsea Community Fair or any other exhibition, where it certainly would have won high honors.

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Aug. 21, 1975—

More than 50 firemen battled the blaze that left a former three-level grade school in Pinckney in ruins. The old elevator, a landmark in the area, had been used as a storage facility by various businesses in recent years. The Pinckney Fire Department was assisted by the Hamburg, Gregory, Howell and Brighton Fire Departments. Cause of the fire had not been determined.

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary was at the Red Ball Booth in the Merchants building at the Chelsea Fair. The Red Ball program was free and supported by the Chelsea Fire Department. It involved marking the front doors of homes in which children, invalids or the elderly reside. The adhesive sticker, a red ball four inches in diameter, was also placed on the window of each room that a child or infant sleeps in.

The 1975 Chelsea High school Marching Band attended Band Camp

at Camp Nahelu in Ortonville, for seven days. Conductor of Bands Myles A. Mazur reported that 136 bandmen and 16 staff members made the trip. While at camp, the members rehearsed six hours daily developing the fundamentals "so necessary to an outstanding marching band," said Mazur.

Chelsea fairgoers were pleased to see the addition of 500 seats to the fairground arena. Total seating capacity was boosted to 1,100, according to Fair Board President Paul Frisinger. Frisinger said that the grandstands were assembled in an evening's work, thanks to some 40 volunteers who donated their time and energy to the project.

Fourteen happy boys were the participants in the annual pig scramble at the Chelsea Community Fair. The pig scramble project was sponsored by Chelsea business and professional men who contributed the animals for the first pig scramble several years earlier. The boy who caught a pig in the scramble got to keep it and agree to furnish a pig from that pig's litter, or obtain one elsewhere, for the next year's scramble.

A horse pulling contest offered a surprise feature when the national champion team, the 5,000-pound Fowler Brothers team of Montgomery, appeared to take part in and to win first prize by pulling a 3,200 pound load the full distance. The first prize was $50. Next in line was Lawrence Gier's 4,470-pound team from Osseo, which won second prize for pulling the 3,200 pounds 24 feet 2 inches.

The average egg storage on Michigan farms isn't cool enough. That's what Larry Dawson, a Michigan State University poultry marketing researcher said. He found in a survey that the average egg holding room had a temperature of 73 degrees F. That is 13 degrees higher than the thermometer should be, according to Dawson.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce float won top honors in the Community Fair parade, competing for prize against a number of well-decorated entries. Selecting as their theme, "Community Builders," the JCC featured three of their principal projects of 1955—the outstanding Chelsea area farmer award, represented by a model barn and tractor; the teen-age rodeo represented on the float by a model car; and the Cub Scouts with Tommy Tuttle appearing in full dress uniform.

639 Million Pounds of Toxic Materials
Released in 1987

A report released by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs recently said the top 100 polluters in the state discharged more than 639 million pounds of toxic and hazardous materials into Michigan's air, land, water and landfills in 1987.

Officials releasing the report said they hoped the information would be used to develop programs to reduce the amount of toxics released.

The report, produced by the National Wildlife Federation, was compiled from information in the Toxic Release Inventory Report, based on information submitted to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

According to EPA statistics, the 758 Michigan companies that submitted chemical release data reported discharging more than 742 million pounds of chemicals into the environment in 1987.

Of that amount, more than 72 percent of the discharged chemicals were shipped to off-site disposal facilities, including landfills. The top 100 dischargers produced more than 639 million pounds of the chemicals.

"The figures in this report raise some very disconcerting questions about the staggering amount of chemicals we're spewing into our environment and the impact that it is having on the health and vitality of our state's environment," said Thomas Washington, MUCC executive director.

The report also indicated the largest release in Michigan, which ranked first in the nation in the use of off-site facilities for the disposal of toxic chemicals, was at National Steel Corporation's Great Lakes Steel Division plant located in Ecorse.

Records indicated the plant produced more than 423 million pounds of toxic chemicals, 420 million of which was shipped to landfills. Of the remainder, 2 million pounds were released into the air and nearly 300,000 pounds were released into surface water.

Washington also noted only 25 percent of the state's 3,000 manufacturing facilities met the July 1 deadline imposed by the new chemical release reporting law.

Under that law, officials designated by the governor are empowered to gather information from companies and make it available to local residents.

"In the hands of responsible citizens, industry leaders and government officials, this information will give us the incentive to improve the quality of our environment through systematic reductions in the generation and use of toxic chemicals," Washington said.

Don Stypula, public affairs director for MUCC, said the report is being distributed to show people the volume of material being released.

"We're proving it. This represents only 25 percent of the companies that should have complied with the law. So if we're getting 742 million pounds of toxic chemicals . . . you can only imagine what it would be if it had 100 percent reporting," he said.

Stypula also said he is hopeful people will take advantage of the information being available to them. "We've never had that type of a right to know procedure in place in the nation before," he said.

Bond Money to Help Speed Up
Cleanup, DNR Says

The $425 million set aside for environmental cleanup in the $800 million Quality of Life bond will help Michigan speed its cleanup of environmentally contaminated sites, an official with the Department of Natural Resources reported.

The DNR has identified 2,019 contaminated sites in the state for priority cleanup, compared with 1,762 sites identified last year.

Andy Hogarth, assistant chief of the DNR's Environmental Response Division, said the DNR plans to ask the Legislature for $30-$40 million in bond money for cleanup of sites during the 1989-90 fiscal year.

The Legislature appropriated $23 million for cleanup from the bond in the supplemental for this year, and the DNR received $6.7 million for the Act 307 program.

Hogarth said the DNR is projecting it will be able to use money from the bond for 8-10 years, which will allow the department to move identified sites from requiring evaluation and interim response activities to clean up.

"More and more sites are moving toward final remedy," he said. "The bond money should enable us to move ahead."

The bond money will provide for full cleanup at 64 sites, Hogarth said.

Four sites that were on the list last year were removed, but because of the bond money he said there should be many more removed from the list next year.

Hogarth said the emergency rules originally put in place earlier this year regarding the spending of Act 307 money have been extended until Feb. 10, 1990 because there will be "extensive changes" in the permanent rules as a result of state-wide public hearings.

The revised rules will be available by Sept. 30, and a public hearing will begin Oct. 30. The DNR hopes to have permanent rules ready for the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules by late November.

Camp Waterloo
Inmate Escapes

Police are searching for a Camp Waterloo inmate who was reported missing from the prison on Sunday, Aug. 20 at 9:30 p.m.

According to police reports, John David Cyphens, of Jackson, was serving 3-15 years on his fourth offense of resisting an officer. He is believed to have left in a van. He is described as black, 5'9", 170 pounds, with a tattoo on his right arm.

for the second year in a row is Story Chemical Co. in Muskegon county.

The facility, which is out of business but ready for final remedy, manufactured chemical products. Lagoons and barrels on the site accounted for contamination to surface water, groundwater, air and soil.

The next worst site is Plainfield Township Wells in Kent county, where industrial chemicals contaminated the groundwater, a municipal well and a residential well.

The worst state site is at the State Prison of Southern Michigan in Jackson county, where chemicals have entered the ground and caused contamination to the groundwater, soil, wetlands, and a supply well.

Hogarth said that extensive groundwater contamination is a common problem at sites that need major cleanup activity.

Another growing contamination problem is resulting from leaking underground storage tanks, which if they are out of service must be removed and checked to see if they are leaking.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery Sysol

Karen Schramm, Jeffery Sysol Marry in Michigan Center

Karen S. Schramm, daughter of Paul and Fran Schramm, of Grass Lake, and Jeffery D. Sysol, son of Joe and Joyce Sysol, of Gregory, were married July 22 at Our Lady of Fatima church in Michigan Center.

Fr. Andrew Dunne performed the ceremony. Betty Jo Deforest, cousin of the bride, sang "Never Be The Same Again," "Love's Grown Deep," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride wore a white satin dress with large satin bows on double puffed sleeves and sweetheart neckline. ## Jill Grainger, Jay W. Eibler Wed in Frankenmuth Church

Jill Marie Grainger and Jay William Eibler exchanged marriage vows on Saturday, Aug. 5 before the Rev. Fr. William Taylor, and family and friends, at Blessed Trinity Catholic church in Frankenmuth.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Steven Grainger, Frankenmuth, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John Eibler of Gregory.

Lectors at the two o'clock double-ring ceremony were Jeff Grainger, brother of the bride, and Janice Derdowski, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Organist and soloist was Kevin Bourassa.

Serving as maid of honor for her friend was Sherry Fabbro. Bridesmaids were Pam Sturm, Diane Gibson, Tracie Wright, all friends of the bride; Janice Derdowski; and Patricia Buchholz, friend of the couple.

Best man was Paul Dudley, friend of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Jeff Grainger, Jeff Eibler, brother of the bridegroom; Travis Rudd and Terry Van Wormer, friend of the bridegroom and cousin of the bride, respectively; and Jeff Buchholz, friend of the couple. Ushers were Tobey Van Wormer, cousin of the bride, and Jack Eibler, brother of the bridegroom.

Jill, presented at the altar by her father, was attired in luminous ivory satin. The gown was designed with an off-shoulder neckline on a fitted bodice embellished with alencon lace, seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Short puffed sleeves, with shoulder bows, were accented with detachable lace-embroidered gauntlets. Her cathedral train, with embroidered lace window appliques, was highlighted with a large bow. The bride's cathedral-length veil was held secure by an ivory satin rose headpiece with pearl sprays, iridescents and ivory streamers. She carried a cascade arrangement of silk ivory roses and carnations, with baby's breath and trailing English ivy, and teal colored chickweed and satin ribbons.

The bridal attendants wore crystal teal-colored satin T-length gowns with a bubble hemline and puffed sleeves, accented with an open back and crossover bow. Each carried a fresh-flower bouquet of ivory-colored carnations, daisies, springer fern and baby's breath, accented with silk teal chickweed and satin ribbons. Altar flowers complemented the teal and ivory color theme.

Mrs. Grainger chose an aqua satin brocade T-length dress with peplum jacket and wore pearl accessories. Mrs. Eibler wore a two-piece blue knit dress with pleated skirt and matching accessories.

Cocktails on the terrace of the Bavarian Inn Motor Lodge, followed by dinner in the River Rooms, were served to 250 guests. Hostesses were Jo Ann Van Wormer, Marilyn MacKay and Diane Suppes, sisters of the mother of the bride. The newlyweds honeymooned in Hawaii and are living in Sterling Heights.

Teen Dance Reported As Huge Success

The Teen Dance offered by Chelsea Together and held at the Wolverine Sunday, Aug. 13 was reported to be a rousing success. The dance was attended by an estimated 200 to 300 Chelsea teens.

Teens danced to the B-Band and to songs played by disc jockey Jerry Martell almost non-stop from 7 to 11 p.m.

Several expressions of "This is great!" and "This is the best thing ever to happen in Chelsea!" (for teens) were heard throughout the evening.

Expressions of gratitude were also given to Joe and Judy Merkel proprietors of the Wolverine, who, along with Frontier Mechanical, Inc., Milliken Interiors, Inc., Chelsea Plumbing and Vogel's Party Store assumed the entire cost of the event.

Several parents acted as waiters/waitresses/chaperones. Everyone, including the sponsors and parents, had a great time.

Many teens and parents hoped that this will only be the beginning.

The Recreation Group of Chelsea Together is working towards a permanent series of events organized by and for the teens of the Chelsea area. Critical first steps will be the establishment of a Teen Group organized by and directed by Chelsea teens, and finding a more permanent site in which similar events may take place regularly. Activity in these areas will begin soon after school begins.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 4076 was held Monday, Aug. 14. One guest was present, Carolyn Smith of Howell, immediate past sixth district president. Her visit was for the purpose of presenting the local Auxiliary Americanism chairperson, Eulahlee Packard, with honors of achievement for her work in Americanism and patriotism. Mrs. Packard was awarded two beautiful engraved plaques and a citation for chairman's participation in Americanism.

Other awards Ms. Smith presented were citations to the auxiliary for community service, youth activities, Americanism, cancer program, and camps. Special citations were presented to Lucy Platt for special hospital project, participation in wheel chair games at Ann Arbor Medical Center from Department Hospital Division, one for loyal and valuable volunteer service given to disabled veterans at Michigan Veterans Facilities. Also, certificate in recognition of having fulfilled the suggested cancer program.

Mrs. Packard was to have attended the department convention to receive her special awards from the department president but was unable to be present. She requested Ms. Smith to receive them for her, and has now been the recipient two months late. Mrs. Packard has done an outstanding job for 26 years in Americanism work, making sure all classrooms, libraries, gyms, scouting troops, court rooms, Fire Department, Police Department, church classrooms, etc., have an American flag.

Under legislative work the local Auxiliary president, Lois Speer, has been active in contacting Senate and House members on the subject of flag burning and urges all to write to congressmen and our president on the subject of veterans health care and budget cuts. She reported the local Auxiliary's flag and banner was taken to the National Home on July 16, for Michigan. Auxiliary members attending were Lois Speer, Marien Johnson, Gertrude O'Dell, Eulahlee Packard, Virginia Boyer, Sally Heldt, six post members and three other guests.

A report was given on Chelsea Sidewalk Days on the presentation of the American and Michigan flags given to the probate court room set up at Chelsea Community Hospital by the VFW Post and Auxiliary.

Lucy Platt, hospital chairman, reported on serving a luncheon to 25 Battle Creek hospital patients and eight volunteers on their return from attending a Tiger ball game on July 19.

Memorials were allowed in the amount of $25 and one $20 to the National Home library fund. Three dollars was allowed towards the national president's gift when she visits Boyne Mt. Sept. 28-30. Fifteen dollars was allowed towards the grand opening of the auditorium at Ann Arbor VA Hospital. $154 was allowed to the cancer program in the Department of Michigan and 25 Americanism citations were ordered to be awarded at a later date.

ALTA PIERCE celebrated her 90th birthday on Aug. 21. She was born on a farm on Freer Rd. and is the great-granddaughter of Nathan Pierce, a Chelsea pioneer. She has a pioneer family certificate for having family in the area for 150 years. She worked on the family farm and enjoyed her outdoor work with animals and poultry. She also worked at Federal Screw Works from 1941 until her retirement. Her family celebrated her birthday with her on Aug. 20 with cake and punch.

Home Meal Service Needs Drivers Again

Because our school teacher is returning to classes and long-time driver, Steve Worden, no longer works afternoons, Home Meals is again pleading for drivers.

The route consists of approximately 16 meals which are made at the Methodist Home and six others which are delivered for the Senior Nutrition Program at North school.

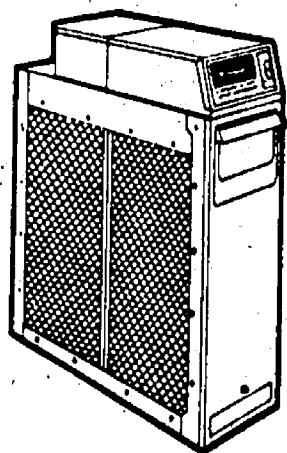

For the past several months, the "Home Meals" route has been divided in two, allowing the drivers to spend a few extra minutes with each recipient and still finish delivering in less than one hour. With the loss of Joe Brosnan and Steve, there is need to appeal to some non-working Chelseans or those on second shift. Retirees who drive meet many old friends who are seniors in need of a good, well-balanced, hot meal but find it difficult to prepare these meals every single day because of the shopping it entails or because cooking for one is just no fun!

Co-ordinator Mary Erskine or treasurer Ann Feeney would be happy to hear from anyone who might be interested even though it may be for only a few months. Mary: 475-9494, 475-2821 or Ann: 475-1493, 475-1145.

Chelsea Fire Department Observing 100th Year

Firemen painted the inside of the building, the village purchased the paint.

One of the firemen bought and installed the original flag pole.

When the department moved into its new station, there were three trucks. More trucks were added to the department over the next few years, so they were running out of space.

An addition to the station was awarded in April, 1974, at which time the building was expanded to the rear, making three of the bays larger and providing space to work on equipment, room for a storage cupboard, work bench and hose dryer.

A shower room was added, and a room which could be used, in the event personnel had to spend the night.

A large tank was buried under the floor, with a wide opening to allow space to work on trucks during the cold winter months.

In 1945, the village bought and remodeled the present municipal building.

A fire station was included in the building plans.

Room was provided for three trucks, and a room in which to hold the monthly meetings.

Usually, one truck was pulled out of the building during the monthly meetings, as the meeting-room barely accommodated the firemen.

Over the years, the trucks became larger and heavier, with the floor joists inadequate to hold the weight.

They started cracking, and a support wall started to crumble. It was repaired, and more and larger floor joists were installed, in addition to more floors jacks.

Another drawback to the new station was the single door. If the truck directly in front of the door failed to start, it had to be pushed out of the way by manpower, in order to make use of the other two trucks.

The next move was to the station at 200 W. Middle St., which houses the Chelsea Fire Department during its 100th year.

The move to this station was completed Nov. 2, 1963, with formal dedication on Feb. 23, 1964.

The new station had four bays for apparatus.

Firemen had, over the years, held various fund-raisers, carnivals, car washes. Once, they even sponsored a wrestling match!

Money from these functions was put into a building fund.

When the building was completed, some of the inside partitions and a few other things were left out—to meet the $4,000-budget set aside for the new fire station.

The firemen had accumulated a total of $1,242 in the building fund.

With volunteer labor donated by the firemen, the $1,242 enabled them to put up the partition between the meeting room and the area for the apparatus, to tile the floors throughout, to install the office ceiling, as well as purchase and install a stove, sink, cabinets and refrigerator.

An addition to the station was awarded in April, 1974, at which time the building was expanded to the rear, making three of the bays larger and providing space to work on equipment, room for a storage cupboard, work bench and hose dryer.

A shower room was added, and a room which could be used, in the event personnel had to spend the night.

A large tank was buried under the floor, with a wide opening to allow space to work on trucks during the cold winter months.

Fire! How the Call Went Out!

There were a number of ways a "fire" alert was transmitted.

As far as is known, the early method of getting help when a fire was discovered was ringing the bell in the belfry over the door of the town hall on W. Middle St.

During 1898, the village purchased the electric light and waterworks plant from the Glaziers. Sometime after the purchase, the steam whistle became the method of summoning the fire department, in case of fire.

In both the methods addressed above, I have no idea who was responsible, if anyone was, to activate the bell or whistle.

The method which came next for the calling fire department members was a fire whistle, or siren, mounted atop the belfry of the town hall.

This was activated by the person on the telephone switchboard.

The person who answered the fire phone would blow the fire whistle.

I remember the procedure followed at home, especially at night, when I was a boy. If the whistle blew, my grandmother would call "central" to get the fire location.

My job was get the red fire-coat and rubber boots and be at the front door.

My grandfather would grab them and put them on, before going to the fire station.

The whistle also blew what was known as "wards," so the firemen knew in which part of the village the fire was located.

Dividing lines were Main St., north and south, with Park St. and South St. forming the east-west dividing line. South St. continued to Grant, then jogged to Chandler St. to complete the west division.

This put Schneider's store in ward one, Merkel's store in ward two, the United States Post Office in ward three, and the courthouse in ward four.

OLD-TIME FIRE APPARATUS was inspected with interest by visitors who attended the 100th-year celebration at the Chelsea Fire Department, Saturday, Aug. 18. Jim Gaken and his son, Larry, were co-chairmen for the event, with fire chief Bud Hankerd and his entire complement of Chelsea firefighters on hand to share the festivities with visiting citizens. Tara Hill, 18 months old, is flanked by Kyle Braun, 9, and Chelsea firefighter Don Eder, wearing the original So'wester hat used by firemen of the late 1800's. The hand-drawn hook-and-ladder picture in the background is very similar to the first piece of apparatus purchased by the Chelsea Fire Department. The rubber hats and fire buckets hung from hooks on the main wagon. Ropes were attached by which the firemen pulled the apparatus to the fire. When Chelsea firemen located the antique fire wagon, it was sans buckets, so galvanized pails were painted red and hung in place of the original rubber ones. Identical hats show on the far rack of the fire wagon.

The whistle blew five blasts for a fire in ward four, the first notified the men there was a fire, the next four blasts informed them of the ward, or section of town.

Country fires, after motorized equipment was added to the department, brought two blasts.

After the telephones were equipped with automation, dial phones and the "central" operator were no longer needed. Phones were placed in private residences, where the occupants were paid to answer the phones.

After remodeling the municipal building, the police office and the fire dispatcher station at the police office was expanded.

Eventually, the whistle on the town hall was moved to the roof of the Municipal Building.

A lot of firemen had storm windows and better insulation than previously, and sometimes the whistle couldn't be heard as well, so another whistle was installed on S. Main St., behind the 76 station.

Even then, it seemed hard to hear, so the wives started a phone system, calling to help alert the men when there was an alarm.

The whistle was blown twice for all fires, and the ward-system was abandoned.

During March, 1971, a new alerting system was purchased and put into operation.

Each member of the department was issued a small radio, which could be set to monitor only the calls to the Chelsea Fire Department, or could be set to monitor all the radio traffic on the fire frequency.

The radio was equipped with a flashing light, activated only by the Chelsea Fire Department transmitter. The light would flash for a long period of time, so the members would know of the call.

At first, the whistle was used during the day, 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., in conjunction with the radios.

Due to the advances in electronics, the radios were phased out, pagers replaced them.

The pager is a lot smaller than the original radio. It's about the size of a pack of cigarettes and can be carried very easily.

As with the radio, there's a way for the dispatcher to "tone off" from the Whistle controls are located at both facilities.

The whistle was discontinued when

Although the whistle is still available for emergencies, it is now used only for tornado warnings.

There is a tendency among some people to be concerned solely with where THEY are and where THEY are going, with little or no interest in the course of others. In limiting our horizons to strictly personal considerations we lose sight of the vast opportunities that lie beyond our narrow scope . . . opportunities born of a communication of ideas and customs.

By branching out, we find that we can be helpful to our neighbors, and in return we can gain much from their experiences. It is only through reaching beyond our own small world that we are able to live a rich and abundant life.

lems on Washington St. The line would serve Belser Estates as well as Washington St.

"I believe that we need to make a commitment to complete the force main before any further development is authorized in Belser Estates," Stalker wrote in his report to council.

Village consultants estimated the cost of the project to be $65,000 if completed by outside contractors. Village crews will do the work for less than half the money.

The village, Stalker said, does not have the project budgeted in its capital improvement fund.

The first Labor Day was on Tuesday, Sept. 5, 1882, in New York City, according to the U. S. Labor Department. It was organized by the Central Labor Union, which held the second workers' holiday on Sept. 5, 1883. In 1884 the first Monday in September was selected as the holiday. The idea spread, and in 1885, Labor Day was celebrated in many U. S. industrial centers.

Happy 40th Birthday JEFF EMMERT

He keeps a diary of his favorite jokes
Tho they are not funny to other folks.
But at a chicken joke he will really howl
While all his buddies think they are foul.
Organizes the kitchen in the middle of the night
Now everyone knows that this isn't right.
Labels in his closets where he wants his clothes
Thought once to be normal—now everyone knows.
His golfing with Steve has taken its toll
'Cuz he usually is beaten by the fifth hole.
So blow your trumpet Spanky, tap your feet
Soon it will be Lois you can't beat.
When she wins you'll really be shook
She'll write the date in your little black book.
Your time management book you keep so true
Will read "Happy Birthday Spanky, at forty you're through."

Farmers of Tomorrow Will Be More Innovative

The farmers of tomorrow will be innovators, relying more on the conversion of waste products and the use of sophisticated electronic equipment to help them farm more efficiently, according to Bob Craig, agricultural economist for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

"Energy is an important and expensive farm input, forcing farmers to examine supplemental sources," Craig said. "I think in the future, farmers will increase their use of our so-called 'throw-away' resources to create or supplement their power needs. Dry stalks and sawdust are just two of the many largely unused power sources available in rural America."

"Some farmers are heating buildings with methane gas from manure. Others use reflective energy from the sun to heat a rock-filled pit, or well that is the working core for a hot water power system," he said.

Craig said computers and related devices will become commonplace on the farm. "We haven't begun to see a third of the possible applications of the computer and its related devices that will eventually be common in agriculture."

I think farmers will be using electronic monitoring devices to analyze plant conditions, moisture and soil conditions, to report disease, predators and insects, and even to supervise animal birth," he said.

"Farmers are ready to expand into sensing devices of every kind, much as hospitals now use electronic monitoring devices to follow the progress of a patient. Farmers will use electronic devices to run constant checks for food and water contaminants, to monitor markets and to monitor the economic health of the farm operation."

Craig also predicted that the farmers of the future will be supported by a "very complex, expensive and relatively accurate" local weather forecasting center.

Susan Buck To Host Program For Selecting 1989 Fair Queen

Once again, Susan Buck will be the mistress of ceremonies for the 1989 Chelsea Community Fair Queen Program.

Buck is the founder of the Dance Arts Academy of Chelsea.

The program begins on Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the covered arena.

There are seven candidates for the title and all are being sponsored by a Chelsea High school class or community organization.

The judges for the program have also been selected.

John Simpkins is president and owner of Group Four Realty of Ann Arbor. He is a graduate of Cleary Business College. He was state Realtor of the Year in 1976, is past-president of the Ypsilanti Board of Realtors, and is state president of the Farm and Land Brokers. He is also vice-president of the Darlington Lutheran church and is a former member of the Kiwanis Club.

Lonna Simpkins, who is married to John, is vice-president of Group Four Realty. She is past-president of the Ypsilanti Jaycees Auxiliary and is a Lutheran Girls Pioneer Leader.

The Simpkins have four children.

The third judge is Jan Soper of Superior township, owner of the White Lace Bridal Shop in Ann Arbor.

Each girl will perform or display a particular talent. Past years have featured everything from singing and dancing, to baton twirling to musical.

Jennifer McAfee, the 1988 fair queen, will be on hand to perform, as well as crown the 1989 queen.

Each girl will also introduce members of her family.

Perhaps the most nerve-racking part of the program is when each girl answers a question designed specifically for her by the judges.

As has become a tradition, the fair queen from 25 years ago will be on hand to tell what has become of her. This year that honor falls to Cindy.

The talent portion of the program promises as much variety as any year ever.

Wetzel will sing "Nothing" from the play "A Chorus Line"; Durst will perform a dance routine to "Welcome to the Pleasure Dome," by Frankie Goes to Hollywood; Johnson will give a fine arts presentation of her own work; Gerstler will present an acting/singing combination to "The Simple Joys of Maidenhood," from "Camelot"; Koscielniak will give the monologue "The Tramp Story," by Will Carleton; Browning will sing "Love in Any Language," which also incorporates sign language; and Knutsen will dance to "Batdance" by Prince, from the soundtrack of the movie "Batman."

The original class, totaling 48 students, was well represented by the attendance of 22 class members and their significant others.

Class members included Jim Bauer, Arlene (Loeffler) Bareis, Harold Owings, Merritt Honbaum, Jeanette (Berke) Harker, Mary Ann (Titus) Burgess, George Gilligan, Lorraine (Paxton) Romine, Lloyd Grau, Marge (Robards) Plumb, Janette (Otte) Tobin, Leah (Wahl) Herrick, Duane Satterthwaite, Lynwood Noah, Cynthia (Paul) Bear, Clyde Myers, Mary Kay Stapish, Doris (Haist) Crocker, Dave Luck, Shirley (Marsh) Schneider, Donald Schneider and Nancy (VanRiper) Sweeny.

Special guests were Alan and Lillian Conklin (teachers of sports and home economics).

Committee members for the event were George Gilligan, Duane Satterthwaite and Cynthia Bear.

The program consisted of remembering special moments in memories from kindergarten through senior high, along with "good ol fashioned visiting with classmates and renewing old friendships."

The committee for the 1994 class reunion is Janette Tobin, Lynwood Noah, Marge Plumb, Lorraine Romine and Lloyd Grau.

Windbreaks Provide Wildlife Habitat, Prevent Wind Erosion

Nearly all windbreaks consist of trees and shrubs and provide habitat for wildlife, particularly birds. Windbreaks, regardless of their size, are valuable to birds and animals, especially in areas of intensive agriculture. These "woodland islands" are sufficiently heterogeneous to permit the coexistence of several nesting species at reasonably high densities.

The single most important factor influencing the use of windbreaks by birds is area. The larger windbreaks are used by a greater number of birds. Birds and animals diversities may be greater and more stable if a windbreak is relatively long and narrow.

Well developed (tall and dense) rows of shrubs adjacent to taller trees in a windbreak with a grassy understory will increase wildlife use.
Wildlife benefits in windbreaks can be strengthened by considering fruiting characteristics, density and height of plant species. Fruit-producing shrubs such as autumn olive, tatarian honeysuckle, silky dogwood, gray dogwood, and crabapple planted with appropriate hardwood and conifer trees will provide food as well as nesting, winter and escape cover for various species of wildlife.

Windbreaks do more than reduce wind erosion, trap blowing snow, conserve moisture and protect crops.
They are excellent homes of birds and other types of wildlife. Windbreaks for erosion control become more acceptable when they are designed to provide wildlife, aesthetic and other attributes.

The Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District will accept conifer orders from the end of August through the end of September. Stop in and plan your wildlife-windbreak with one of the conservationists in the Ann Arbor
Field Office. They are located at 6101
Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor. Telephone:
(313) 761-6721.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

It sure seems strange to see Wayne Welton watching a football game from somewhere other than the 50-yard-line.

Welton was up in the press box during last Friday's blue/gold game. I'll bet he can't remember the last time he saw the back sides of 30 Chelsea varsity football players during a game.

Chelsea's new athletic director had been directly involved with Chelsea football for probably 15 years as both a player and a coach.

As a player, Welton is a charter member of the Chelsea Football Hall of Fame. He was an all-state quarterback his senior year and one of the best all-around athletes in the school's history.

He was head coach Gene LaFave's sidekick as long as LaFave has been around. It was always a pleasure to listen to the two men argue about play selection during the heat of a game.

No more. Now Welton gets to worry about the fun things, like keeping the lights on for a full game.

It has to hurt him to watch. Memories of game-day adrenalin can be as wrenching to a former coach as memories of a cocaine high are to a recovering addict. Especially to someone who gave as much of himself to the sport as Welton did to Bulldog football. If the school board would let him coach, he'd be back on the field in a second.

Practice isn't the same anymore, either.

It used to be that LaFave was the loudest, meanest guy on the field, while Welton's low-key, this-is-how-you-do-it style maintained a balance.

No more. I've seen parts of two practices, and let me tell you, LaFave has at least two new assistants who make him look positively timid. The new guys have a little different approach—imagine Sam Kinison at boot camp and you have sort of a rough idea.

I walked off the field practice laughing, partly because I can remember being yelled at like that in high school and partly because the tough-guy style seemed so out of place.

"You're a bunch of sissies!" "You make me sick!" As many Chelsea High school practices as I've seen, I can't ever remember hearing so many loud insults. I've seen it many other places, but never here.

So with Welton gone, the mood of Chelsea football seems to have changed. It's hard to say what effect it will have on the team.

The Bulldogs played an enjoyable but mistake-filled intrasquad game last Friday. A couple of penalties were so flagrant they had players, ex-players, and officials chuckling. That's what these games are for, though.

Running back Jude Quilter looked magnificent, as expected. If he can get a little blocking, the Bulldogs should have no trouble moving the ball.

Last year's speedster Andy Dehring has changed schools, but several young Bulldogs showed they can run. Ben Hurst took the opening kickoff all the way for a touchdown, although he's likely to be a receiver. Ricky Westcott proved to be quick and elusive running for Steele's white team. Shawn DeSarbo is a power type fullback the Bulldogs have lacked the last couple of seasons.

The running might be a little tougher for Quilter this season, partly because other teams realize he was almost the Bulldogs' entire attack last year. And that might create opportunities for Westcott and DeSarbo.

It sure looked to me as though senior Kyle Plank and junior Tucker Steele executed about equally well at quarterback, although Steele might have a stronger arm. Put another way, I couldn't see a significant difference between the two. LaFave has been known to favor seniors, so for that reason Plank probably has the edge as the starter.

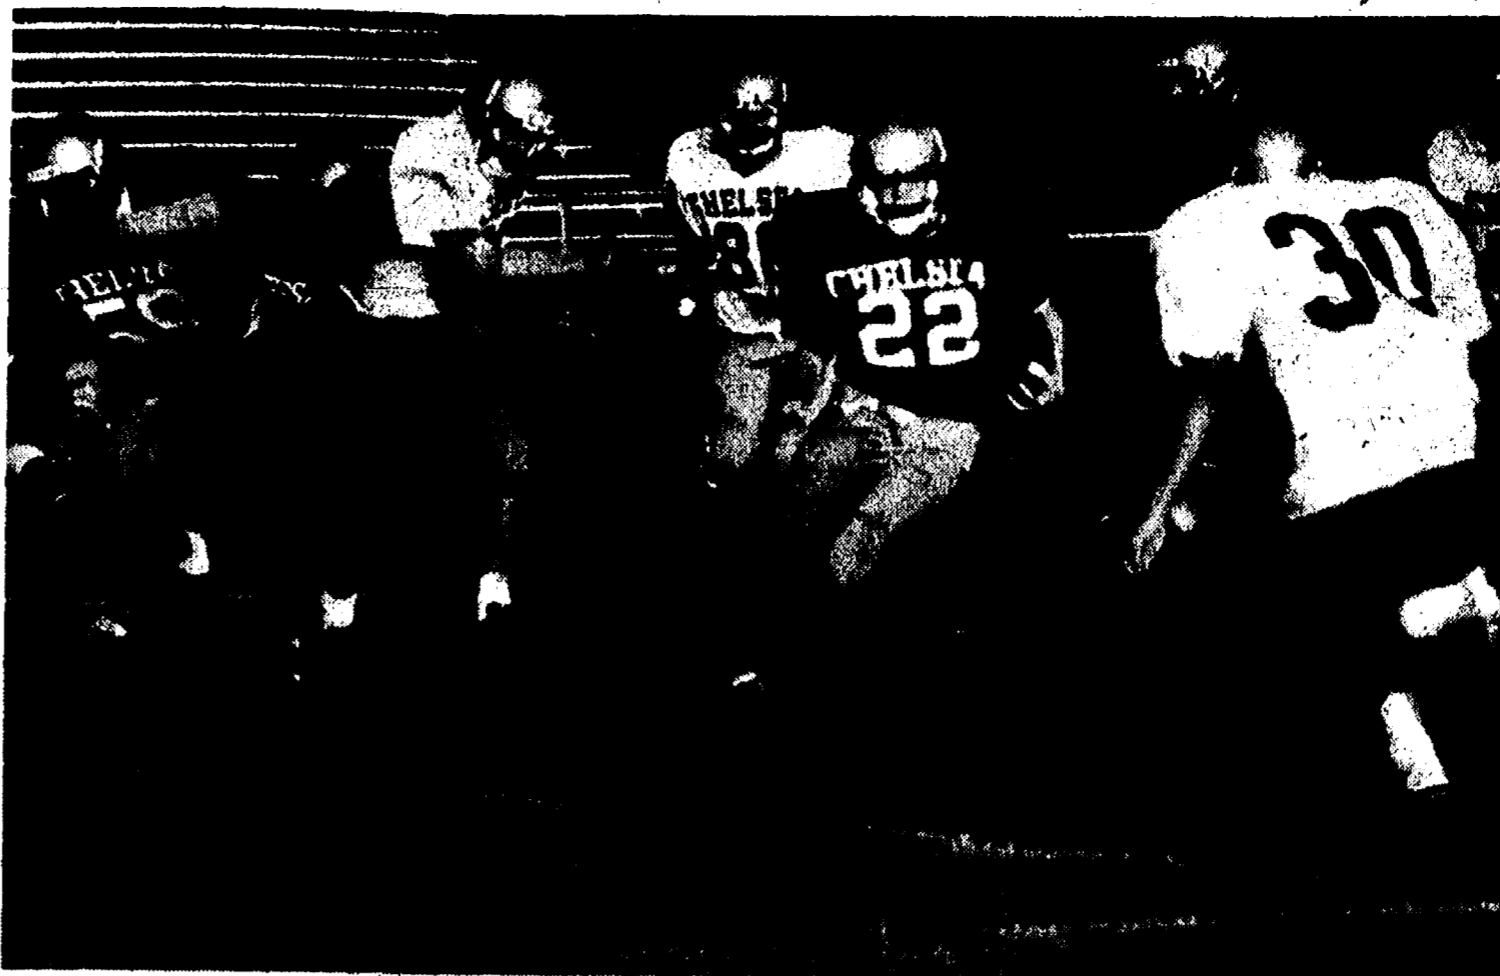

Plank took a couple of solid hits and didn't break in two as some had feared. But I couldn't blame basketball coach Robin Raymond if he stayed away. Plank will be one of the key players in what should be a pretty good hoop team this winter. An injury to Plank would be a big blow.

The fun begins in earnest in less than two weeks.

Dona Fields will be renamed in honor of former village manager Fritz Weber. It is a most fitting tribute.

Anyone who knew Weber knows how he felt about softball. His daughters all played and he followed their games intensely. He was extremely proud of the village's facility on Sibley Rd.

Weber hated talking about village business with reporters. It was just his nature. But I learned quickly that I could always loosen him up by starting a conversation about softball. Didn't matter what time of year, there could be two feet of snow on the ground. He was always ready to talk softball.

JUDE QUILTER finds a little running room before the white team converges on him during last Friday night's intrasquad contest at the high school. Quilter should be one of the Southeastern Conference's premier running backs this fall.

Kanten's Motion for Study Denied With 3-3 Vote

Village Trustee Stephanie Kanten wants the village to buy the former Hop-In/Pump 'N Pantry property on S. Main St. but so far support from her colleagues hasn't been overwhelming.

Kanten's motion last Tuesday for the village to pay for a study to determine the number of parking spaces the property would hold was denied when council voted 3-3. Trustee Phil Boham, who was not present, stands to cast the tie-breaking vote if the study is proposed again. Trustees Richard Steele, Gary Bentley, and Dennis Hall voted against the motion, while trustee Joe Merkel and village president Jerry Satterthwaite voted in favor.

Satterthwaite said he opposes taking the property off the tax rolls but supported the study.

Bentley said he objected to spending any money on a piece of property the village had no plans to use.

McKUNE MEMORIAL LIBRARY NEW BOOK LIST

"The Negotiator," by Fredrick Forsythe. A misty English morning. A deserted country road outside Oxford. A young man on a training run. Then the silence is shattered. Explosively. In a single, stunning moment a deadly game has begun.

President John McCornac is about to sign the most sweeping U.S.-Soviet disarmament treaty ever envisioned. Therefore, the president must be stopped.

"Night Magic," by Charlotte Vale Allen. A beautiful, sensitive young girl falls in love with a brilliant older man who is so profoundly scarred both physically and emotionally that he literally cannot face the light of day. Despite his deep apprehensions, he allows her to enter his world of darkness, where they communicate their love for each other through music.

"Morning Glory," by LaVyrle Spencer. Set in the sleepy Southern town of Whitney, Ga., on the eve of World War II, "Morning Glory" tells of a man and a woman, drawn together by fortune kept together by necessity; finally the unlikely winners at a rich, surprising passion. Rarely have two less likely soulmates come together with such joyously rewarding consequences. Elly, widowed at 26 with a toddler and an infant, can't manage the farm by herself. Will, a lanky and laconic drifter whose only possessions are a battered Stetson, jeans and a pair of worn-through cowboy boots walks across her shabby yard, into her heart and the hearts of her children.

"Cary Grant," by Charles Higham. The consummate actor with classic good looks, surrounded by the rich and famous, adored by beautiful women, and possessed of a multimillion-dollar fortune—lived a life the world envied. But beyond the glamorous facade was a lonely, tormented, unstable man who fought agonizing problems, often with the aid of drugs.

"Billy Bathgate," by E. L. Doctorow. Open this book and enter through his own words the perilous, thrilling world of Billy Bathgate, the brazen boy who has insinuated himself into the inner circle of the notorious Dutch Schultz gang to become good-luck charm, apprentice, and finally protege to one of the great murdering gangsters of his time. In a prose that astonishes with its lyric intensity, Billy makes us intimates of his fateful adventures within the world of Dutch Schultz.

"We Are Still Married," by Garrison Keillor. There's new news from Lake Wobegon. Keillor tells us about the perils of fame, death, the subway, and of traveling with teen-age children; of the dire fate awaiting America's smokers; of the moral qualities of orchestral instruments. Now, at last, he gives us a second, richer collection bringing together "in one neat pile some stories, poems, and letters, written at the time of Ronald Reagan, the President who never told bad news to the American people."

ROTARIANS recently previewed a puppet show presented by Todd Gale of Jackson. Gale and the puppets present a message against drug abuse which will be given in the Chelsea schools.

Rotary Club Previews Show on Drug Abuse

"Rotarians get to see a puppet show." Not just any puppet show... but a professional performance by entertainer Todd Gale from Jackson.

This entertainment, however, has a message. "Double Talk" is a message to young school age children about drug abuse. Rotarians are sponsoring this program in the local school system and took this meeting recently to hear about it first-hand.

Todd Gale has discovered a medium for his message of taking care of your body and "saying no to drugs." Better put, in the words of one of the puppets, "No Way Jose."

Shown here in the picture is "A. D. the Alligator" who seems delighted to meet Paul Marshall, who was responsible for getting this program into Chelsea. Other puppets include a lovable bear, a vulture and several others who did not have time to get out of the suitcase.

Rotarians agreed that the message packs a wallop and should be a delightful experience for grade schoolers. They were impressed with the fact that Todd brings the endorsement of South Central Michigan Substance Abuse Commission. He is also licensed by the state office and attorney general. Gale is a member of the North American Association of Ventriloquists.

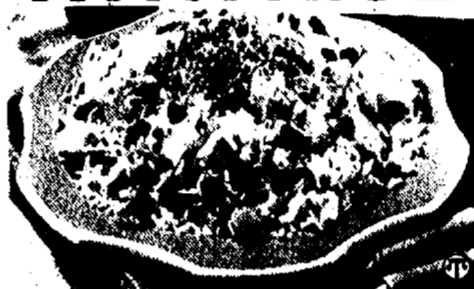

Present at the preview meeting were Rotarians Joe Piasecki, superintendent of schools, John Williams, high school principal, and grade school principals Bill Wescott and Bob Benedict. Ted Wilson was also a guest of the club.

Sheriff's Deputies Report Conrail Signal Bombing

Deputy Cairnes was dispatched to investigate a reported bombing which caused at least $200 damage to a railroad signal box and blower fan, sometime between 8:25 and 11:15 p.m. Monday, Aug. 14, at a site on the Conrail railroad tracks along Huron River Dr., near Zeeb Rd., in Scio township.

A Conrail signal maintainer reported the incident.

Linda Joyce Benson of Whitmore Lake and her young daughter, Jessica, were seriously injured after the pick-up truck in which they rode collided with a tree on the north shoulder of westbound Strawberry Lake Rd., approximately one-half mile east of Huron River Dr. in Webster township. Jessica died of injuries Monday afternoon at Mott Children's Hospital.

The crash was reported to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department at 4:55 p.m. Friday, Aug. 18, with Cpl. J. M. Russell, and deputy Stan Yates from the WCSD's traffic services unit, assigned to do the investigation at the scene.

The young woman swerved to avoid hitting a deer which suddenly appeared at the site, lost control, and the car left the roadway after rotating first in one direction, then reversing twice, traveling along the grass, and finally hitting the tree.

Unidentified pillagers removed a roll bar and foglights from a 1978 Chevrolet pick-up truck parked at the Tiro Chevrolet dealership in Manchester, last week.

The loss was reported to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSO) at 4:59 p.m. Monday, Aug. 14, when it was discovered the items were missing.

The vehicle was parked at the dealership on Saturday.

Cpl. J. M. Russell took the report. Any information concerning the incident, or the missing equipment, which people wish to relay to WCSO deputies will be appreciated.

A hit-and-run occurrence on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. was reported to deputy Mike King at 9:35 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15, by Owen G. Haig of Base Lake Dr. Malicious destruction of property in the 5600-block of North Territorial Rd., Webster township, was reported at 9:09 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15, by William Harvey Coleman.

He advised Cpl. J. M. Russell, four tires on his boat trailer had been slashed, and a 22-ft. sailboat spray-painted on one side.

Total damage was estimated at $360.

Dawn Louise Tafelski pulled out in traffic and was struck by a second vehicle on Dexter-Pinckney Rd., near Island Lake Rd., about 12:39 p.m. Monday, Aug. 14, according to a report filed by WCSO deputy Thayer, who investigated the crash.

The second vehicle was driven by Gerald Graves of Riker Rd., who told Thayer he tried to avoid the crash, but was unable to.

Four dead lambs were reported by Ron Kuhl of Pleasant Lake Rd. at 1:38 p.m. Monday, Aug. 14.

It was the second report of dead lambs, found this time in his north pasture with their bellies ripped open. Stray dogs or coyotes are suspected in this and other recent incidents of the same nature.

Someone pushed in a screen on the front door of a Portage Lake Ave. residence and helped themselves to a brass display mug containing at least $5 in United States coins during the past few days, the owner explained to investigating deputies.

Anne Ferris Brockman of Wylie Rd. was attempting to pull onto Dexter-Pinckney Rd. from Dexter-Chelsea Rd., but had stopped for heavy traffic at 6:55 a.m. Friday, Aug. 18, when Robert Louis Spiess of Munith, who was also trying to merge onto Dexter-Pinckney Rd., thought she had pulled away, and moved forward at the intersection, colliding with the Brockman vehicle.

Spiess was issued a violation for failing to stop in a clear distance, WCSO deputy Petschke's report indicated.

Joyce Ann Grob hopes someone will return Frosty, her 12-pound blue fox, which was taken from a cage in her backyard, Saturday night or Sunday morning.

Ms. Grob explained the little blue fox, whose coat resembles a dark grey, has a separated jaw and needs to have special food.

A photo of the fox may be seen in a separate notice in this week's issue of The Chelsea Standard.

Anyone with information on the whereabouts of the small animal, please phone Joyce at 426-5040, and urge whoever has the pet fox to return it, as soon as possible.

At 12:05 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 19, Jennifer Rebecca Salisbury of Ann Arbor was transported by HVA to University of Michigan Hospital with injuries resulting from a crash on Miller Rd., east of E. Delhi Rd.

She told WCSO deputy Dave Miley she was driving on westbound Miller Rd. when an eastbound black vehicle appeared, traveling across the center line, which caused her to take evasive action.

Huron Valley Ambulance transported the injured driver to University of Michigan Hospital from the crash site.

Deputy Keith Dietrich explained in his report that four vehicles were involved in a multi-vehicle crash while traveling on I-94 in a construction zone, Saturday, Aug. 19.

Fortunately no one was injured in the crash which involved drivers from Pleasant Lake, Ind., Rochester, Sebastopol, Calif., and Jackson.

Traffic back-ups in the construction zone seemed to trigger the chain-reaction crash, but a fifth vehicle which was originally between two of the others apparently departed the scene, unscathed.

A lot of scrapes, scratches and dents resulted for the vehicles, with chunks of plastic and metal littering the pavement, but the four drivers and their passengers were uninjured.

Deputy Dietrich investigated a larceny from a vehicle, reported by a woman at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 18, in the 5400-block of Jackson Rd., near Zeeb Rd., in Scio township.

A Sony AM/FM radio cassette was removed from her parked vehicle at that location, while she was working. Estimated loss was $150, Dietrich noted.

Jeffrey Frank Mason of Chelsea was driving westbound on Island Lake Rd. at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 19, when he entered a curve too fast, lost control of the vehicle, struck an embankment on the south side, crossed over the road, partially climbed an embankment, before the vehicle rolled over.

Deputy Dave Miley was dispatched to investigate the crash.

Deputy Mike King was assigned by a 2:50 p.m. call, Tuesday, Aug. 15, to check an M-14 crash site.

King learned a vehicle driven by Louis John Przywara of Redford struck a second vehicle, which Michael John Sumner of Novi was driving on eastbound M-14, just north of US-23.

The resulting impact apparently pushed the second vehicle into a third, driven by Lottie Lee Kusch of Farmington Hills, who was trying to merge with existing traffic on the highway, but had to stop for a fourth vehicle, which continued eastbound on M-14, leaving the scene of the three-car crash.

Mercilessly braving the sunny days, film-flam artists are invading Washtenaw county, and people are urged to carefully check information from telephone callers or those who may knock at your door.

It's the time of year when the con artists try their nasty tricks on the trusting public.

Should a man or woman call to tell you there's been a mistake involving your bank account, please refrain from providing any information to them.

DON'T TELL who's authorized to sign for withdrawals (or deposits) on your account.

Secondly, for your personal safety, DON'T TELL HOW MUCH money is in your bank account, or what bank it's in.

Listen to what the con artist has to say, hang up, and notify a law enforcement agency, immediately.

If possible, try to jot a few notes as the con artist questions you, or suggests a plan to remedy the mistake(s) involving your bank account.

Do not agree to meet anyone, anywhere, to discuss the matter, and don't waste any time before notifying the authorities. Do so, quickly!

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT CHELSEA SCHOOL DISTRICT

Superintendent Joseph K. Piasecki today announced its policy for free and reduced-price meals or free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals or milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast or Commodity School Programs. The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility.

TOTAL FAMILY SIZE	A. SCALE FOR FREE MEALS OR FREE MILK			B. SCALE FOR REDUCED PRICED MEALS
	YEAR	MONTH	WEEK	YEAR	MONTH	WEEK
1	7,774	648	150	11,063	922	213
2	10,426	869	201	14,837	1,237	286
3	13,078	1,090	252	18,611	1,551	358
4	15,730	1,311	303	22,385	1,866	431
5	18,382	1,532	354	26,159	2,180	504
6	21,034	1,753	405	29,933	2,495	576
7	23,686	1,974	456	33,707	2,809	649
8	26,338	2,195	507	37,481	3,124	721
Each additional family member	+2,652	+221	+51	+3,774	+315	+73

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free and reduced-price meals or free milk.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced-priced meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all questions on the form. An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) the total household income AND the amount and source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR the household's food stamp case or AFDC number if the household is on food stamps or receives AFDC; (2) names of all household members; (3) social security numbers of all household members 21 years of age or older, or the word "none" for any adult household member who does not have a social security number; and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

FOOD STAMPS/AFDC HOUSEHOLDS: If you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for your child, you only have to list your child's name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number, print your name and sign the application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Application may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced-price meal or free milk benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In most cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced-price meals or milk for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy the building principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: Fred A. Mills, Assistant Superintendent, Chelsea School District, E. Washington St., Chelsea, Michigan 48118. Ph. (313) 475-9131. Each school and the Central Office have a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

In the operation of the child feeding programs no child will be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Q. With the world shrinking, I keep hearing about foreign investments and potential growth of other nations. When I asked my broker about investing in some stocks, he said one of the best approaches would be through ADRs. Could you explain what they are?

A. Investing in ADRs can be a much easier way to purchase foreign stocks than having your broker deal with exchanges in other countries. ADR is the abbreviation for American Depositary Receipt. It is basically a receipt that indicates shares of a foreign company are held by a depository bank in the United States. The ADR can represent one or up to 10 shares of a company.

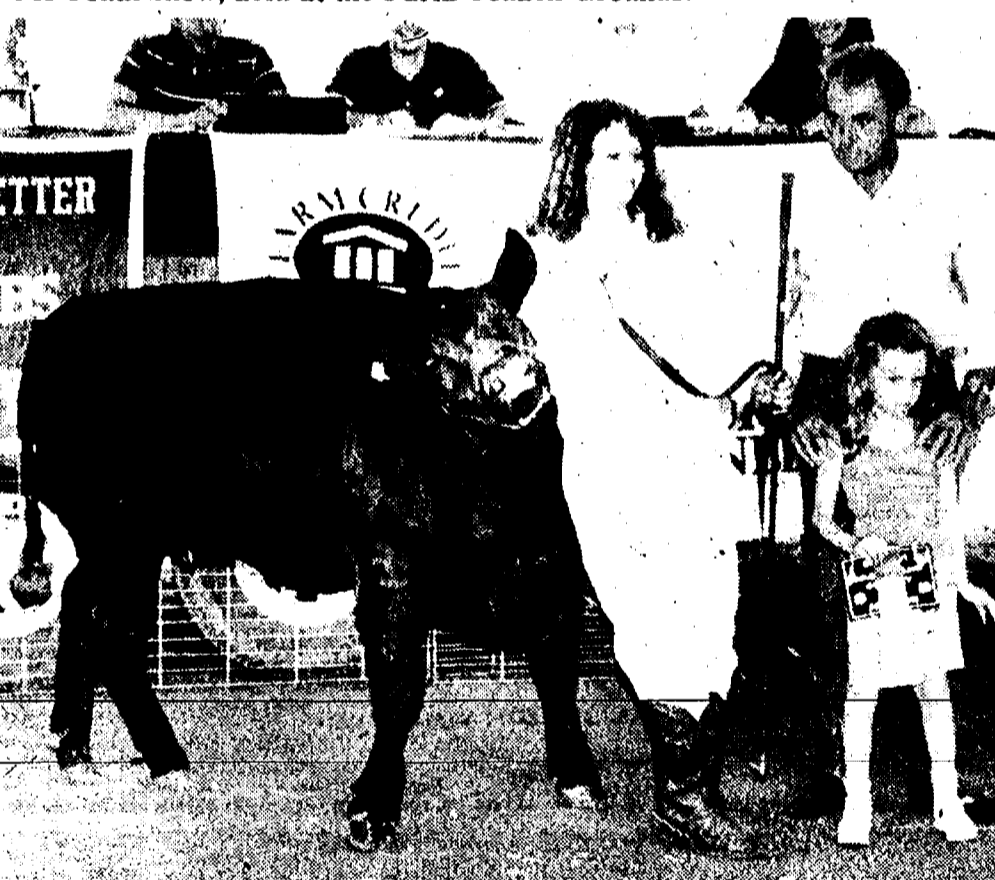

An ADR may be listed on a stock exchange or traded over-the-counter just like shares of U.S. companies. The commission structure for buying and selling ADRs is the same. When a dividend is paid, it is received by the depository bank, converted to U.S. dollars and then paid to holders of the ADRs.

Remember that there is an extra element to investing in ADRs—currency fluctuations. The underlying stock trades in the home currency. If that currency is weak versus the dollar, chances are the ADR would decline in value and the dividend received would be less. Of course, the opposite is also true.

EARL HELLER OF CHELSEA purchased David Armstrong's 129-pound grand champion individual lamb for Heller Electric at $4/pound during the Livestock Auction, Thursday, July 27, at the Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show, held at the Farm Council Grounds.

ROBYN GILLEN'S RESERVE CHAMPION HEIFER was purchased for $90/pound by Representative Margaret O'Connor at the 1989 Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show's Livestock Auction, Thursday, July 27. Since Representative O'Connor was tied up with legislative proceedings in Lansing, Thursday night, Dr. Gerald O'Connor and the couple's granddaughter, Emily Hayden, 5, helped her by placing the bid.

Why Religious Confusion?

One would suppose that, in this day of rapidly increasing knowledge which is disseminated by institutions of learning all over the world, that the religious vein would be at the height of illuminating the questions which have darkened our understanding of the Word of God for many years. With the technological advances which have optimized our ability to assimilate information, our capability to solve ambiguous inquiries has never been better, but the religious sect has failed to feel the aptitudes of technology. Now more than ever before there is an encompassing veil of confusion. In I Corinthians 14:33, it is stated, "For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all the churches of the saints." It is easy to see that confusion in the churches was not the intent God had in mind. The word of God is a harmonious book of statements written by men, under the inspiration of God, and the most important concept that can be used in the study of God's word is this: No where, from Genesis to Revelation, does the word of God contradict itself! The Word was written for our understanding, not our confusion. Confusion in the church enters in when, according to Colossians 2:8, we are "spoiled through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ." It is not the word of God that manifests itself to be confusing, but moreover the philosophies that man has implemented into the church. In your studies, look for the origin of the much debated religious issues of today and I am sure you will find that much of what is believed in the churches of today is begotten of men, not of God. I warn you to try not to dwell too much on these philosophies, for you will only get confused.

FLOATERS

Have you ever noticed spots dancing before your eyes? Many of us have, and it's not all "in your head," they are in your eyes! Often when looking against a light background, such as the sky or a sheet of paper, we will see irregular grayish spots or lines which seem to "float" in space, and sway back and forth as our eyes move. Some people don't notice these at all, but others are affected to varying degrees, and sometimes the floaters are so dense they may obscure vision until they float out of the way. These floaters are tiny particles of tissue suspended in the jelly-like fluid inside our eyes. Floaters are so common that they can be considered normal, just a nuisance, but they are not always harmless. If floaters have suddenly shown up or seem to be very dense, an eye examination is indicated to rule out problems which might require treatment. In some cases, floaters can be a sign of beginning retinal detachment, or of hemorrhages within the eye.

More than half — 56 percent — of women with children under age six are in the labor force, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Most women who bear children during their careers return to work soon after their babies are born; more than half of all married women are back at work by the time their children are a year old.

Anthony D. Huyck Signs in Air Force For Delayed Entry

Anthony D. Huyck, son of Gregory D. Huyck of 2775 Deake Ave., Ann Arbor, has entered the United States Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to Staff Sergeant Janice Edmond, the Air Force recruiter in Ann Arbor, Huyck's entry into the DEP allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area.

Huyck is a 1985 graduate of Chelsea High school and will enter the Regular Air Force on Dec. 4.

Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., he will receive technical training as a computer systems operator and be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Farmers Should Expect Lower Livestock Prices

The recent sharp drop in grain prices will reduce the cost of feeding livestock. That means lower livestock prices are on the way, according to Kevin Kirk, livestock specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau, because a drop in feed costs will encourage livestock producers to expand their output.

"Livestock producers, if they want to maintain profits when coming into a low in prices, should be cautious about how much they pay for feeder cattle and feeder replacements," he said. "They also need to be cautious about their livestock expansion plans."

Kirk says it could be a year to a year-and-a-half before the livestock cycle turns and prices begin another upswing.

Dana Fields Will Be Re-Named for Former Manager

The softball fields at Dana Park will be re-named to honor the man most responsible for their development—former village manager Fritz Weber.

One of Weber's closest friends, Sam Johnson, enlisted the help of Fred Barkley and Bill Ackley for the project. Ackley approached Dana Corp., who donated the land, and asked about having the diamonds re-named.

Last Tuesday, the trio reported to village council that Dana had agreed to the idea, thanks to the efforts of plant manager Tom Huettnerman.

A plaque, with the following inscription, will be placed at the fields: "Weber Field—Dedicated to the memory of Frederick "Fritz" Weber for his outstanding years of service to the Village of Chelsea."

The plaque will be financed by private donations and the village has agreed to provide the labor to erect it.

Ackley told council that they talked about several ways to honor Weber, "but we kept coming back to those fields. He took a lot of pride in them."

Ideas that had been discussed around town had included naming a street or the new wastewater treatment plant after Weber.

"The diamonds are the ideal thing," said village president Jerry Satterthwaite.

Sodbuster Provision In 1985 Farm Bill

By Gary Rinkenberger
District Conservationist

Basically the Sodbuster provision applies to highly erodible lands that were not used for crop production between Dec. 31, 1981 and Dec. 23, 1985. If these lands are cultivated, then they must be farmed, using acceptable conservation practices so that the farmer can maintain USDA program eligibility.

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District will be responsible to approve conservation plans that the farmer and Soil Conservationist develop.

The provision is intended to reduce soil erosion and improve environmental quality. In the past by allowing farmers to include crops produced on highly erodible lands and newly converted wetlands as part of their base acreage for various farm support programs, the government has in effect encouraged increased soil erosion and loss of wetlands. This situation also has contributed to commodity surpluses and depressed farm prices.

All USDA programs related to commodity production are affected by the legislation. In Washtenaw county, programs covered by regulations are the USDA price and income supports, disaster payments, crop insurance, Farmers Home Administration loans, Commodity Credit Corp. Storage payments and farm storage facility loans.

Before now, a farmer's decision to become a district co-operator and apply oil and water conservation measures to his or her land was strictly a voluntary decision. Likewise, if a farmer chose not to become a district co-operator and not to carry out a conservation plan, this carried no penalties.

Today, farmers can still convert highly erodible land to cropland. They can still sell their products on the free market. However, farmers who decline to develop and carry out conservation plans will not be eligible to participate in most USDA programs. Many may see this as a substantial penalty for breaking out highly erodible land or failing to practice conservation on existing cropland.

The key element to this provision is to apply an acceptable conservation plan into farm management. The Soil Conservation Service and the Soil Conservation District have the responsibility to assist farmers to develop acceptable conservation plans to assure compliance with the Security Act provisions. Contact the Soil Conservation Field Office for conservation planning assistance.

CHAD TANNER'S READY TO DOUSE the flames in the window of a wall-model staged by Chelsea Fire Department, Saturday, Aug. 18, to allow kids the chance to "put out the fire" with buckets of water. A lot of visitors stopped by the fire station, Saturday, as the Chelsea Fire Department celebrated its 100th year of operation. A pull-rope on the wall-model blanked out the flame panel if the force of the water was great enough. Sometimes, it required a second bucket to quench the simulated flames.

"Labor Day differs in every essential from the other holidays of the year in any country," said Samuel Gompers, founder and longtime president of the American Federation of Labor. "All other holidays are in a more or less degree connected with conflicts and battles of man's prowess over man, of strife and discord for greed and power, of glories achieved by one nation over another. Labor Day... is devoted to no man, living or dead, to no sect, race, or nation."

HONESTY PAID OFF, literally, last Thursday for these three girls at a yard sale on East St. As Maxine Corser left the sale in her car, money started flying out the window. The girls picked up the bills, a fairly sizeable sum of money, as well as a bank receipt, and gave it to Barbara Hanna May, who was holding the sale. Through the clues on the receipt, she tracked down Maxine Corser, who returned to claim the money. In the process, Corser rewarded the girls with a $10 bill. From left are Cortney Hanna, 5, Danielle Hanna, 7, and Jenifer Spaulding, 10.

Former Polly's Market Worker Accused of Retail Fraud

A former Polly's Market employee is suspected of trying to bilk the store of money by ringing up a false bottle receipt when no one was around to watch.

The 20-year-old ex-employee was aided by a 16-year-old Chelsea girl who tried to cash the receipt.

According to a store employee, the former employee entered the store about 1 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 17 and cashed a $10 bottle receipt. When no one was looking, the woman then allegedly rang up another bottle receipt. A store employee saw her leaving the store after she heard the register being operated.

A short time later the girl tried to cash another $10 bottle receipt.

ICN DID YOU KNOW?

By Ann C. Grandjean, Ed.D.
Director of The International Center For Sports Nutrition

• Approximately 15 percent of the calories of the average American diet comes from protein. 12% is the recommended allowance level. What may be surprising to some is that proteins are not the most efficient source of energy.

• Only proper training increases the size of a muscle. An athlete may need to slightly increase protein intake if he or she is large enough and the training is intense enough to add one pound of pure muscle a week.

★ Anti-Tick Defense May Come from African Plant

By Vince Mazzola

Working, walking or just roaming outdoors may become a little safer against ticks carrying Lyme and other diseases if further research on a possible repellent works out.

An anti-tick defense could come from the syrupy oil derived from the thick gum of the Commiphora erythraea plant.

That oil repelled the adults of the Lone Star, American dog and Lyme-carrying deer ticks, said a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist. Adult ticks don't care for chemicals in the oil, but it's not known which chemicals do the job.

Younger ticks face a deadly ending. In laboratory studies, the chemicals killed larvae of the Lone Star and American dog ticks within 24 hours, according to John F. Carroll, and entomologist with USDA's Agricultural Research Service in Beltsville, Md.

Laboratory results raise the possibility the chemicals could be used in animal tick collars and in tick repellents for humans, said Carroll at the agency's Livestock Insects Laboratory in Beltsville, Md.

Dave Warthen, a co-researcher, said "before this can happen we need to identify and purify the oil's tick-repelling or killing chemicals so that we can evaluate their potential for practical use." Warthen is a chemist in the Insect Chemical Ecology Laboratory at Beltsville.

As blood-sucking parasites, ticks often carry diseases dangerous to people and animals. American dog ticks carry Rocky Mountain spotted fever that, like the deer tick's Lyme disease, afflicts humans. Lone Star ticks are a pest of both livestock and humans in the southern states.

A. Maradufu, a researcher at the Tropical Pesticides Research Institute in Tanzania, found earlier studies that C. erythraea oil contains three chemicals, called furanoses-quitepenoids, that are toxic to larvae of the African brown ear tick. Maradufu, a Fulbright scholar, co-operated in the Beltsville study.

"But we're not certain that these particular chemicals are active against the American dog, deer and Lone Star ticks," Warthen said.

In Africa, C. erythraea oil is rubbed on cattle to repel ticks and insects and soothe cuts, bruises and scabies, he said. It is also used as perfume because of its pleasant odor. The plant is closely related to myrrh, known for its biblical reference as a gift of one of the three wise men. (Agricultural Research Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture)

WILLARD AND GALE JOHNSON have been named honorary co-chairs of the 1989 Chelsea United Way Campaign. Willard Johnson is president of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Chintz cloth, originally imported from India, is so named from the Hindu chint meaning "variegated."

Finish EPA Endangered Species Studies First

Farm Bureau has called on the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to not proceed with its endangered species protection program until studies on the impact of the program are completed as required by law.

The program as originally proposed could impose pesticide use restrictions on nearly a thousand counties across the country, including many in Michigan. Al Almy, director of public affairs of Michigan Farm Bureau, said before the program goes into effect, the EPA should finish a joint study to be conducted with the departments of Agriculture and Interior.

"We strongly believe that the contents of the final report, including any economic assessment of the costs of the program, will be extremely important to agency decision making," he said.

The first Labor Days in the 1880's were marked with parades followed by festivals for the recreation and amusement of workers and their families, according to the U. S. Labor Department. That became the pattern for the celebration of Labor Day. Addresses by prominent men were introduced later. In 1909, the Sunday preceding Labor Day was adopted as Labor Sunday and dedicated to the spiritual and educational aspects of the labor movement.
