THE WAITING BEGINS: The bromide tracer system was installed at the village landfill much more quickly than anticipated, and now the village will wait to see whether a new license is forthcoming from the Department of Natural Resources. The village was told that a recommendation to either accept or reject the license application would be made by late this month. Above is a close-up of one of the pipes that extends down to the liner. Bromides will be dumped into the pipe and will spread out next to the landfill liner. If the bromide shows up in the monitoring wells, DNR will know the landfill is leaking. Below is a portion of the new landfill cell, waiting to be filled. Work on capping the old landfill, not pictured, has also begun.

Village Upset That Developers Put in Utilities Without Agreement

Some underground utilities have been installed in the second phase of Belser Estates subdivision without a development agreement in place and without financial guarantee that the utilities will be completed, village manager Robert Stalker told village council last Tuesday, Oct. 3.

"It's a cause for concern," Stalker told council.

"They're going to come to us and ask us to dedicate the utilities and all these other things and I think it's only fair that they live up to their end of the bargain."

Phase one of the subdivision was governed by a development agreement. It forced developers to, among other things, provide a letter of credit worth several hundred thousand dollars that would allow the village to finish the utilities in case the developers go bankrupt or the project is completed incorrectly.

An agreement for phase two is still being negotiated, Stalker said. He said while there were initially significant differences of opinion as to what should be included, most of the issues have been ironed out. In addition, he said, the developers have changed engineers, which was not agreed to in writing.

"I don't know what Charles Belser's attorney is telling him, and he could have a good reason for going ahead," Stalker said.

"I guess we're taking a wait-and-see attitude, but if he doesn't do something soon we'll have to make a decision. There are a lot of things we could do."

One of the most drastic actions would be to not allow phase two to hook into the sewer system, Stalker said.

BookCrafters Wins State's 'Building the Future' Award

Larry L. Meyer, Michigan's newest Commerce Department director, today presented nine area businesses with the Governor's Building the Future award.

Three of the nine are located in the Dexter-Chelsea area.

Nematron Corporation, a Scio township firm, was selected for the pioneering of high technology in the operation of its distribution facilities.

Dexter Fastener Technologies, one of the newest firms establishing its plant in the recently-opened Dexter Business and Research Park, was cited for new manufacturing technologies, and for product lines designed to enhance economic growth in the community.

BookCrafters, a Chelsea firm, was selected for its state-of-the-art distribution, marketing, and customer service.

In making the announcement, Meyer said, "Michigan's future will be based on brain power, not brawn. The recipients of our Building the Future awards are helping to diversify our economy and enhance Michigan's position as a global high-tech center."

Michigan has been shedding its dependence on manufacturing as the sole base of its economy.

During March, Governor James Blanchard participated in ceremonies at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn dedicating a special exhibit which commemorated the passage of the manufacturing economy to one that's more diversified, and increasingly high-tech and information based.

"The nine companies recognized with Governor Blanchard's Building the Future award are:

Fire Department Plans Open House Sunday

Chelsea Fire Department is hosting its annual open house this Sunday, Oct. 15 from noon until 4 p.m. at the fire hall on W. Middle St.

The event is free to the public and children of all ages are especially urged to attend.

The department's complete line of equipment, including its scoping ladder truck that reaches more than 70 feet into the air, will be on display. In addition, there will be live fire demonstrations, as well as demonstrations by Huron Valley Ambulance, Survival Flight Helicopter, and Consumers Power Co. In the past, children have had the chance to try out a fire hose.

The event is being held in conjunction with national Fire Prevention Week.

BookCrafters Dumping Too Much Silver into Wastewater, Village Says

BookCrafters, Inc., one of the village's largest employers, has been dumping more than its legally-allowed limit of silver into the village's wastewater system for more than a year, according to a "Schedule of Compliance," passed by the Chelsea Village Council last Tuesday.

The document, similar to the consent order the village was forced to sign by the Department of Natural Resources about the landfill clean-up, details a specific course of action the company must follow to address the problem.

Wastewater treatment plant technician Jan Shackelford told council that water samples taken show silver concentrations from two to more than 140 times higher than the specified limit in the company's pre-treatment permit as outlined by the village's pre-treatment ordinance.

The silver is a by-product of the photographic process used in book construction.

According to village manager Robert Stalker, the high concentrations of silver could jeopardize the village's sludge program. When wastewater is treated, the sludge is hauled away and applied to a field as fertilizer. Silver cannot be separated out. If the silver concentration is too high, the sludge may not be usable as fertilizer and would have to be disposed of in a far more costly way.

"I'm not sure what would happen to it," Stalker said.

"It may have to go to a landfill."

According to the compliance schedule, the silver content in BookCrafters wastewater has also been too high for more than 45 days since the company was notified of violations on April 3.

Shackelford told council that BookCrafters is "aware of the problem, and they're trying," Stalker said, although the problem predates his start as manager. "I'm under the impression they're acting in good faith."

However, BookCrafters president Bill Nuffer said Monday the compliance schedule was new to him and he was under the impression that BookCrafters' wastewater met legal standards. He also said he'd look into the matter.

"We have silver recovery systems here," Nuffer said.

Village trustee Phil Boham asked Shackelford whether BookCrafters is taking the same course of action other book manufacturers use to pre-treat their wastewater.

Shackelford said how companies deal with the problem is dictated by a number of local factors and can't be compared from community to community.

The compliance schedule says BookCrafters must submit a written plan by Nov. 3 detailing how they'll deal with the problem, complete with any planned construction or purchase of new equipment.

Adjustments to the plan are scheduled to be completed by Dec. 3. Final compliance with the ordinance is required by March 3, 1990.

The document also says that failure to comply with the ordinance may prompt the village to cut off access to the wastewater treatment system.

Village Changes Trash Haulers, Considering Various Rate Hikes

Village of Chelsea will apparently change garbage collection companies this November when the village's contract with Browning-Ferris Industries expires.

The village plans to sign a one-year contract with Marshall's Rubbish Removal, of Dansville, for $72,000, virtually the same cost as last year, according to village manager Robert Stalker. In addition, there will be an option for an extension at a renegotiated price, Stalker said.

Mister Rubbish and BFI also bid for the contract but their bids were substantially higher. Mister Rubbish bid $98,363, and BFI bid $118,460.

Each company submitted 12 different proposals based on varying conditions. Marshall's will use the village landfill to dispose of the garbage, assuming the village obtains a new landfill license.

Village pick-up will still be twice per week on Tuesday and Friday, and there will be a limit of three bags each day. Extra bags with Marshall's name imprinted will be available for $75 each.

The village had considered having Marshall's haul the rubbish to another landfill, and raising prices at the village landfill, which would then be open to other haulers.

According to Stalker, the one-year contract will give the village time to determine how it wants to handle its rubbish pick-up in the years ahead. The village is strongly considering purchasing its own trash truck and handling the pick-up with village labor. That, however, apparently won't become reality for at least another year.

In addition, the village is studying how it wants to pursue recycling, which is likely to become a far more prominent issue in years ahead.

The village may also raise its landfill rates this year. In addition, the village may also increase home trash collection rates from $6 to $12 per month; which would still be less than area residents outside the village limits are paying.

Clerical Error May Force Papo To Re-Annex Land

Due to a clerical error, developer Rene Papo may have to repeat the entire annexation procedure for 13 acres between Old US-12 and Chelsea Community Hospital.

Papo said there was a one-numeral error in the legal description of the property, which is scheduled to become the site of a 40,000-square-foot office complex.

According to legal counsel for Washtenaw county, the procedure has to start again, which includes public hearings, a resolution by the village, and consideration by the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners. The process takes several months.

However, Papo said his attorneys were discussing the matter with the county to see whether an alternative could be worked out.

The property had been annexed and Papo was on the verge of having the property re-zoned, which would allow him to submit final site plans to the village for consideration. Construction could have started early next spring.

However, if the entire process is repeated, Papo may not be able to submit site plans until spring, which could delay the project substantially.

School District Enrollment Rises

Enrollment in the Chelsea School District is up slightly from last year, based on the annual count of students on the fourth Friday in September.

Total unofficial enrollment was 2,306 students, up from 2,282 a year ago.

Chelsea High school has 20 fewer students with a total of 666, North Elementary school has 14 fewer students at 524, South school has 10 additional students at 554, and Beach Middle school is up 42 students at 562.

PEOPLE COME FROM ALL OVER MICHIGAN to attend the annual Pioneer Days at the Waterloo Farm Museum. This year's event was held last Sunday afternoon. Above, Thomas Jones, 4, of Grand Rapids, left, and Gus Syrov, 5, of Stockbridge, work on candle-dipping while Melissa Roth, of Ann Arbor, right, looks on.

All of a sudden, building is booming in the Chelsea area. According to Zoning Inspector Rosemary Harook, Taco Bell is moving to town. The new facility received preliminary approval to begin building on vacant property between Schumm's Restaurant and Chelsea Big Boy. The owner will be Bill Davis of Ann Arbor, the current owner of Arbor Springs Water Co. Davis has a few minor hurdles to clear with the Washtenaw County Building Department. The restaurant should be up in time for a Christmas taco.

Chelsea High school held a dance after the football game with the Dexter Dreadnaughts and students from visiting Dexter High school were invited to attend. The dance was chaperoned by teachers from both schools. Unlike other dances, school alumni were not allowed to attend. "We just want to continue to build good relationships between the schools," principal John Williams said.

Three inmates who walked away from Camp Waterloo on Tuesday turned themselves in two days later to the Muskegon County Sheriff's Dept., according to prison officials. Thomas Longway, 27, was serving four to seven years for receiving stolen property. Bruce Shepard, 25, was serving three to five years for larceny. Vince Corrin, 22, was serving four to 15 years for breaking and entering.

Teaching children about handicaps was the purpose of a puppet show by the Washtenaw Intermediate School District at South Elementary school. The show, entitled, kids on the block, was given to area pre-schoolers and their parents. Children asked questions about the disabilities and were encouraged to touch the puppets.

Chelsea police recovered a stolen auto while on routine patrol and arrested two St. Johns youths on the charges. Arrested were Mark Henry Rudy and Mike Wayne Ressegulie. According to police reports, officers were notified by the Ann Arbor police department that a 1967 Oldsmobile Cutlass belonging to an Ann Arbor resident had been stolen.

The Chelsea Area Recreation Council completed a 35-page document entitled "A Recreation Plan for Chelsea, Michigan" and submitted it to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation in Lansing. This plan is the first step in the council's attempt to obtain a federal grant for Chelsea area recreation from Land and Water Conservation funds.

The Chelsea Kiwanis Club purchased learning equipment for use in the learning disabilities at both North and South school. Both pieces of equipment, a balance beam and the balancing board, are to assist the children in the development of good motor coordination. A happy teacher, Mrs. Miller said, "This is the first year we have had our own materials. Prior to this year we borrowed them from the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

The Chelsea Blood Bank Clinic was one of the most successful in Chelsea's history, according to Mrs. Dudley Holmes, local Blood Clinic chairman. She reported that 159 donors came to the Congregational church basement and that only 14 were rejected. She said this was a very low percentage of rejections compared to previous years. One hundred and forty-five pints of all types of blood were collected, making the clinic one of the most successful in recent years.

Christine Doll, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Doll, was presented a certificate of recognition Tuesday by Governor George Romney at his Lansing office for her "Outstanding act of bravery in saving the life of Cynthia Nelson." The incident occurred at Crooked Lake while Christine was a week-end guest of Cynthia Nelson and her parents. According to reports of the happening in The Standard at the time the two girls decided to go ice skating Sunday morning. As they approached a sunken ice fishing shanty the Nelson girl fell through the ice into the frigid water, approximately seven feet deep at that point. Christine threw herself down on a solid section, and digging the points of her figure skates in the ice, she stretched out her hands to her friend.

Bush's Drug Program Could Cost State $8 Million

President Bush's $7.9 billion National Drug Control Strategy could force Michigan to add another $8 million to the State Police Budget in order to receive $8 million in federal narcotic control funds, according to a Senate Fiscal Agency report.

The SFA report estimates that no other budgets would be affected by the president's program, but the overall impact of the proposal will depend on the final agreement worked out between Bush and Congress.

Under the president's proposal, the state would need to add the money under 50-50 state-federal match requirements associated with the State and Local Narcotics Control funding, which was not been appropriated in the 1989-90 State Police budget. The match would require passage of a supplemental bill or redirection of current funds.

"Current state appropriations of federal funds in the departments of education, public health, mental health and corrections appear to be generally on target with the current proposal of the president," the report said.

Management and Budget Director Shelby Solomon said he has not seen the report but said: "It doesn't surprise me," adding that federal drug czar William Bennett estimated the president's plan could cost states as much as $10 billion.

"We're concerned about those kinds of proposals. That's why we hope to see the president's plan reworked by Congress."

Solomon said trying to come up with $8 million for a federal match in the State Police budget could be difficult. "Any money at this point is pretty tough. We don't show a balance to do that. We've pretty much exhausted our resources," he said.

Provisions in the president's plan which could result in increased state or local expenditures include mandatory minimum sentences for serious drug crimes, alternative sentencing laws such as boot camps or community service, suspension of drivers' licenses of persons caught using even small amounts of drugs, and mandatory drug testing of all prisoners, the SFA report said.

Michigan currently tests inmates for drugs, but the practice is not uniform at the local level.

Due to a lack of current date, the SFA could not estimate the cost such mandatory testing would have on Michigan, but noted each drug test administered by the state costs $7.

Over-all, the SFA, based on estimates from the Federal Funds Information for States, said Michigan is in line to receive $7.8 million in federal funds if the president's proposal is enacted.

Blanchard Gives High Marks

To Education Summit

The education summit between President Bush and the nation's governors provided an encouraging basis for school improvement and restructuring systems to increase flexibility and accountability at both the state and local levels, Governor James Blanchard said after completion of the meeting.

The governor said the agreement reached at the summit was more specific than he expected, adding he was "very, very pleased with the result."

Blanchard said Michigan, which has already undertaken some steps that would meet the goals set at the summit, can go a long way to leading the country in that regard by passing the Proposal "A" school tax issue on the November ballot, and approving measures such as schools of choice and his Schools of Tomorrow package.

He said he will later have more proposals regarding restructuring schools in Michigan.

The governor said he gave the President an "A" grade for assembling the summit, getting all cabinet members there, his intent, and his speech, and gave the governors from both parties the same grade for the ideas they expressed.

Blanchard said governors, while focusing on flexibility in ways such as letting states use the same personnel in migrant and bilingual education programs where the same pupils are served, did "hold out the tin cup" in asking for financial incentives to meet goals.

The governors will set more specific goals in their annual Washington meeting in February, where they will also get a "chance to assess the spirit of Charlottesville" (Virginia, where the summit was held).

The agreement by the governors and President included proposed legislation next year to increase flexibility among states and local governments in use of federal funds, that the President will oppose new federal mandates that require higher spending by states in programs other than those affecting students, and priority be given for funding increases for students at an early age, including increases in the Head Start program.

The agreement includes national performance goals by early next year; annual report cards on progress; and making teachers, principals and administrators more accountable for poor performances.

Women Nabbed Rolling Joint In Vet's Park

Two young area women may face drug charges in connection with an incident in Veteran's Park in Chelsea on Friday, Oct. 6.

According to police, a 20-year-old Grass Lake Rd. woman and an 18-year-old Mester Rd. woman were sitting in a parked car in the park at 3:40 p.m. A plain clothes officer in the park saw the women with a white piece of paper rolling a green, leafy substance.

The officer approached the car. A search of the vehicle also turned up an Ouija board.

The women told police they hardly ever used the substance and were practicing rolling the cigarettes for a friend.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum had say by the paper recent where shopping by fax is coming on like the next improvement over shopping by plain phone. He told the fellers at the country store that at first the fax was used for big items where buyer and seller needed written records. But now it has got to where grocery stores are taking fax orders and filling em, and all customers have got to do is stop by and pick em up.

If progress keeps on, Bug said, pretty soon we'll be back where we started with store-bought groceries, when the store come to our door on wheels. Before there was a car and a pickup in ever garage, he said, even before there was one chicken in ever pot, there was the grocery wagon. The big store in town loaded the wagon with some of everything and sent it on a different route ever day ever week. This way, folks could walk out to the road and do their shopping once a week.

After the wagon come the truck, Bug went on, and with the telephone come the home delivery. And then come the supermarket where the customer waited on hisself and got everything added up on the way out. The idea of letting the customer do the work was one whose time had come for the stores, Bug allowed, so all the rest went the way of doctor house calls and neighborhood blacksmith shops.

Practical speaking, went on Bug, all we go to do is start delivering the fax food orders and we'll be back where we come in. Furthermore, when you figger in retail orders of all kind that are phoned in out of catalogs you can see all we're doing is re-inventing America's shop at home habits. He had saw where mailed in and toll-free called in catalog orders will make up nearly 20 percent of all the retail sales in this country this year.

The feller that runs the store said his retailing system ain't broke so he ain't planning to fix it. You come to my place, he said, you tell me what you want, if I got it you git it, you pay me and we got a deal. No trading stamps, no pennies off coupons, no credit cards, everything down and nothing to pay the rest of your life. It may be a crazy way to do business, the store feller said, but he's sticking with it.

He says he's been to them chain stores where the parking lot is full of wire carts and signs asking folks to bring in one when they come to hold down costs. He said that's the same kind of thinking that gits people to put the trash and trays in their proper place when they eat at McDonald's. The more work the customers do the more they hold down the store's cost and build up the store's profit.

The fellers was general agreed with Bug. Zeke Grubb said he went to one of them discount chains recent to git a bowl fer his old lady's mixer. He looked fer mixers til another shopper told him to ask at the service desk up front. Zeke said a woman told him they had mixers with bowls in boxes, but they didn't sell jest bowls.

Zeke said the mixer was fine, but the bowl was broke. The woman said the store could special order the bowl from the company, but the paper work and shipping would cost about the same as a new mixer and bowl. Zeke said while he was working on that, she ask which of the store's pay plans he would use. He said he would use cash, and she said she wasn't sure the central computer could handle that.

Zeke said his old lady still has a good mixer and a broke bowl.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

County Historical Society Features Talk On Forgotten Figure

The October meeting of the Washtenaw County Historical Society on Sunday, Oct. 15, will feature retired dean of the School of Library Science, Russell Bidlack, who will speak on "Andrew Ten Brook, Forgotten Figure in Ann Arbor History."

Ignored today, Andrew Ten Brook held prominent positions during the early years of the University and the city. His multi-faceted career included years spent as professor of philosophy, eminent librarian, Ann Arbor historian, and Baptist preacher.

Return to Ann Arbor of the 1840's where, as Ten Brook's life and career illustrate, life was not kinder and gentler.

Sunday, Oct. 15, 2 p. m., Bentley Historical Library, 1150 Beal, North Campus. The public is invited. Free admission.

Alice Chandler Thierman Honored on 100th Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle J. Haselswerdt just returned from Sarasota, Fla., where they attended a celebration for Mrs. Haselswerdt's sister, Alice Chandler Thierman's 100th birthday on Sept. 20.

Alice tells of an active childhood, sandwiched between two brothers—she had to compete. There was horseback riding. Alice fondly remembers caring for her own horse. Later on there was bowling. This remained a pastime for much of her adult life. All this was in her native Michigan. Alice was born on Park St., across from the old high school in Chelsea.

Alice worked in the Chelsea Post Office for four years and she met a man by the name of Henry Thierman who was an engineer building the old Cement Plant at Four Mile Lake. They were married two years later. They established their home in Columbus, O., and had three children John, Barbara and Martha. The family still has a great loyalty to Ohio State University—the children's Alma Mater.

Following these active years were years of travel and winter vacations, which finally led to residence on the East Coast of Florida. After 23 years at the ocean, Alice was persuaded to move to Lakehouse West at Sarasota, Fla., to be near her daughters. Both Barbara and Martha have homes in Englewood and are frequent visitors. Alice says her sons-in-law are the best.

Alice participates in many LHW activities. She plays an excellent game of bridge, frequently having top score. She doesn't miss a Saturday Night Bingo, where she is a consistent winner. Afternoons are spent watching sports events. Alice has her favorite golfers, baseball and football heroes. Oh yes, on the side she does the daily crossword puzzle.

One of Alice's wishes was to see Alaska. This dream came true this summer when her daughters and daughter-in-law took her on a memorable trip. She did everything on the cruise and loved it.

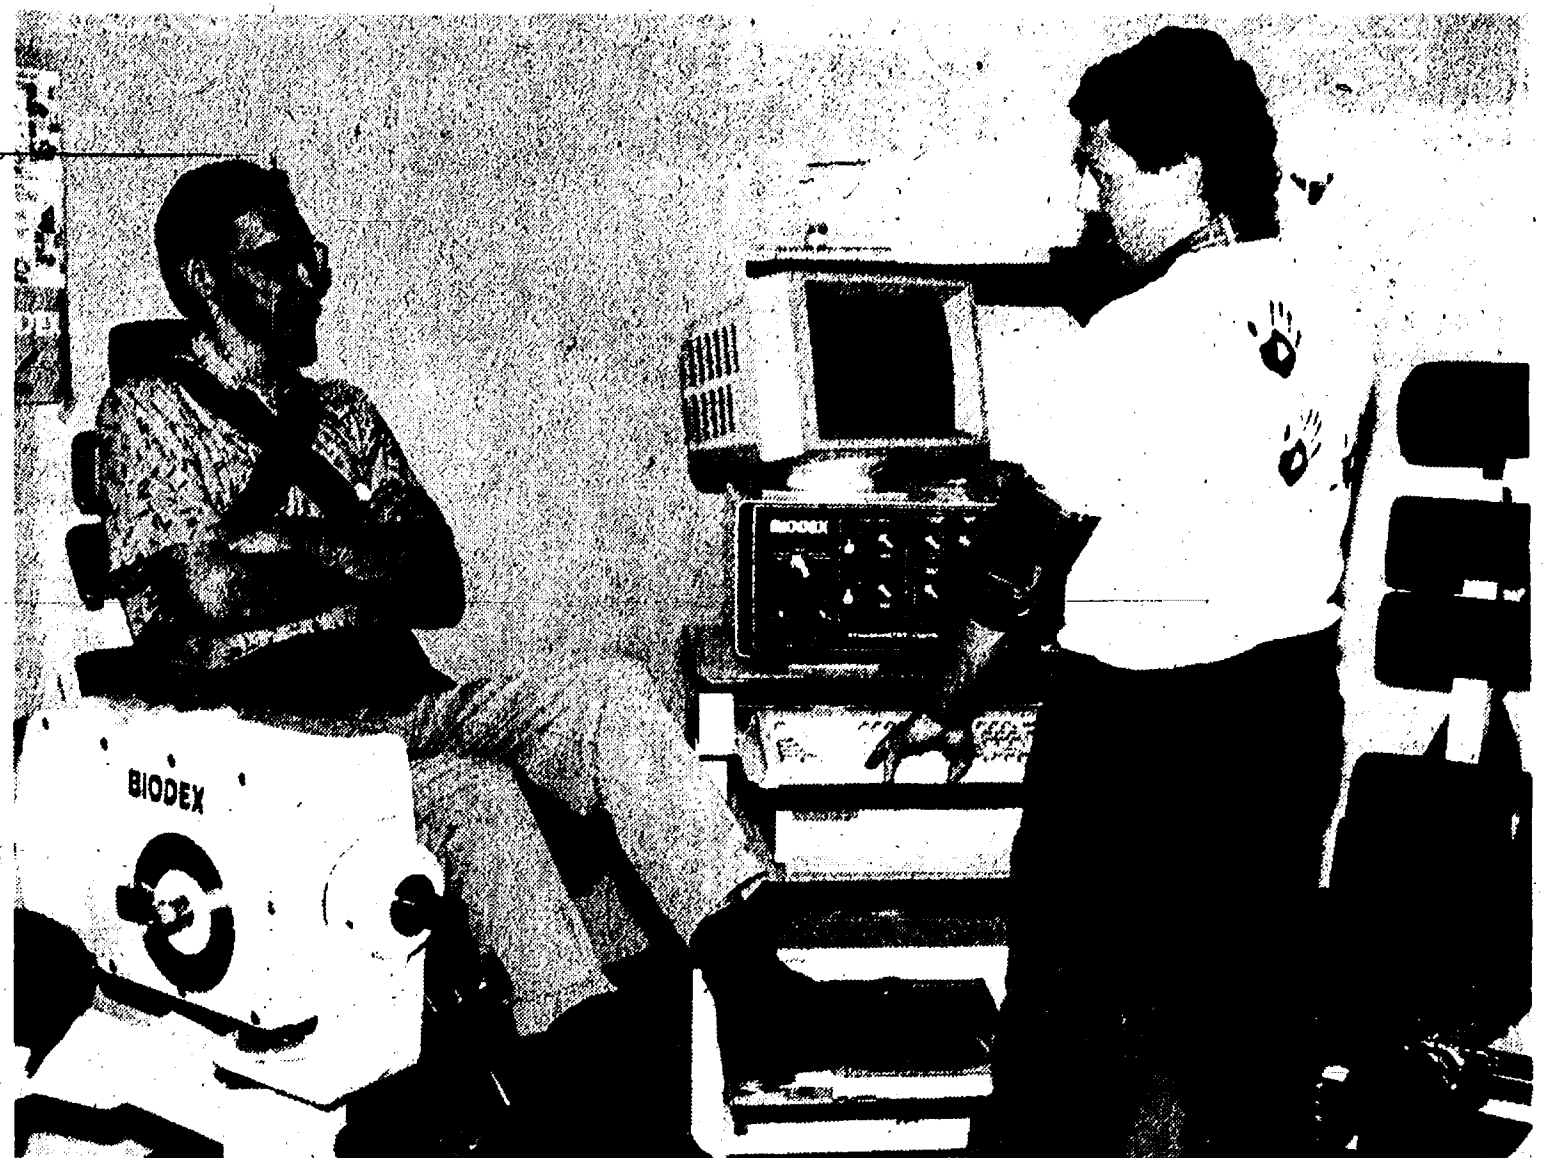

More recently, Alice went to a family reunion to celebrate her younger sister's 50th wedding anniversary. She was so happy to return to the Michigan scenes of her early days. Alice's delight was surprising her sister, Dora, who didn't know she was coming to the celebration.

Sparks from a fireplace caused a fire at Camp Crile Friday. The fire occurred in the log cabin used for arts and crafts. No one was in the room when a downdraft apparently caused the fire to spread from the fireplace, according to Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, wife of the camp manager. Lloyd Thompson, III, son of the camp manager, discovered the fire. The Chelsea Fire Department received the alarm at 1:16 p.m. and dispatched three trucks.

Leva Norris of Chelsea took the lead in the first round of play in the Hell Cribbage League with six wins and one loss. Moe Darrow of Pinckney and Hazel and Ralph McCulloch of Lakeland are tied for second place.

Thursday, Oct. 13, 1955—Forty-five members of the Chelsea High School band, together with 35 members of the Bellaire High School band who were to be overnight guests of Chelsea band members, Friday, boarded buses to go to Ann Arbor to participate in the University Band Day program. More than 189 bands with an estimated 11,500 members were to take part in the spectacular band event during the half-time at the Michigan-Northwestern football game.

Washtenaw county was looking forward to receiving their mobile x-ray unit. The unit was to be in Chelsea for the first of three days of free chest x-rays. All people of the community 16 years and older were urged to plan to avail themselves of the convenient way to have a chest examination for early signs of tuberculosis.

David Mohrlock, school crossing guard at South Main and Pierce street, and a "helper," John Lixey, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lixey, were in charge of patrol duties on that corner. Mohrlock was stationed at the corner from 8 until 8:45 a.m.; 11:10 until 12:30 p.m.; and 3:10 until 3:45 p.m., each school day. He said he had counted an average of about 20 cars every five minutes at the intersection, and approximately 40 children from South Elementary school cross the street at that point. Mohrlock had been on the job there for the past two weeks since his appointment as a special police officer. His helper was a kindergarten pupil at South Elementary school in the section taught by Mrs. Susanne Pollard.

ABWA Offers Members Chance for Personal Growth

Mission of the American Business Women's Association is to bring together businesswomen of diverse backgrounds and to provide opportunities for them to help themselves and others grow personally and professionally through leadership, education, networking support and national recognition.

ABWA offers many benefits to members on the national level, but those who belong to ABWA chapters receive the most fulfilling membership. Chapter activities provide opportunities for members to develop leadership skills, form life-long friendships, help area women through educational aid, receive recognition for personal and professional achievements, network with other businesswomen, and prepare for advancement in today's fast-paced business world.

Most ABWA chapters meet monthly. Members conduct chapter business as well as exchange career information and ideas. Meetings are highlighted by special programming and informative speakers. Annually, ABWA chapters provide more than $3 million in scholarship assistance to women.

Your business and career concerns extend far beyond city limits or state lines. ABWA membership opens up a channel of information and advice that extends from coast to coast.

For further information about ABWA, please contact Cindy Bear at 475-2041.

CHELSEA SENIOR CITIZENS sold numerous hand-crafted items, from wreaths to needlepoint, at the Country Craft and Folk Art Show at Chelsea High school last Saturday. Busy at the table were Willie Liebeck and Ella Heller. The event was held to benefit the seniors.

Community Ed. Programs Offered at Chelsea Hospital

Discover how to reduce cholesterol, fat, sodium, and sugar in your diet. Learn to analyze foods to determine healthy choices and save money. Come to the "Supermarket Tour" led by a registered dietitian and held at Polly's Supermarket, 1101 M-52, Chelsea. The tours will be Friday, Oct. 20 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and Tuesday, Nov. 7, 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Ongoing programs held at Chelsea Community Hospital include "Children Are People," a chemical dependency prevention program for children ages 5 to 12 years. This program is offered by the Substance Abuse Department and is held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:45 to 8:15 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Kresge House. For registration or additional information call Betsy Beckerman at 475-4100.

"Breathers Club," an educational presentation and a supportive atmosphere for sharing for all interested individuals who have chronic respiratory problems, is offered by the Cardio Pulmonary service. Sessions are held the third Saturday of every month from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital.

"Cardiac Rehabilitation Outpatient" is designed to provide rehabilitation for people who are recovering from heart attack or heart surgery. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling 475-3951.

"Speech and Language Therapy for Children - Outpatient Program" offers comprehensive, individualized evaluations and therapy programs for youngsters with delayed speech or language development. For more information, call 475-3962.

The "Chemical Dependency Lecture Series" is free and open to the public to provide awareness and education regarding various aspects of alcoholism and other chemical dependencies. Lectures are held every Thursday evening from 7 to 8 p.m. in Chelsea Community Hospital Dining Room.

The "Outpatient Diabetes Education" program is designed for people with diabetes and their families. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling Pat Barr, R.N., B.S.N. at 475-3935.

The weekly educational presentation and discussion, "Family Education Series - Department of Psychiatry," focuses on understanding emotional or mental difficulties that require psychiatric treatment such as depression or chronic mental illness. Presentations are held Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Partial Hospitalization, 955 W. Eisenhower Circle, Suite H, Ann Arbor. For further information call Partial Hospitalization, (313) 996-1010.

"Diabetes Sharing Group" offers an opportunity for patients with diabetes and their families to meet together in an informal setting. The group meets the second Wednesday of each month from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Private Dining Rooms.

"Occupational Therapy for Infants and Children - Outpatient Program" offers comprehensive individualized evaluations and therapy programs for infants and children with delayed sensory-motor skills. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling 475-3751, ext. 3287.

With "Individual Nutrition Counseling" a registered dietitian will work with you to create a meal plan that is nutritionally adequate and easy to follow. When your physician has prescribed a special diet for you, contact your nutrition counseling service at 475-4026.

Pre-registration is required for all classes. For further information call the Education Department (313) 475-3935.

Modern Mothers Study Club Holds Auction Workshop

Modern Mothers Study Club met Tuesday night, Sept. 26, for the first of three auction workshops. A variety of crafts were made to be sold at the annual craft auction Nov. 15.

Refreshments were provided by Lisa Gadbury and Lori Schmidt. The next meeting was to be Tuesday, Oct. 10 at the Chelsea High School Media Center.

State Award

(Continued from page one) the Future awards are taking Michigan into the next century with the inherent challenges they're facing today. They're the trail-blazers, others will follow," noted director Meyer of Michigan's Department of Commerce.

Community and business leaders assisted Washtenaw Development Council in the selection process. The nine companies were nominated for their use of technology, marketing, state-of-the-art production, and business strategy.

The six not mentioned above include Phillips Display Components Co., Ann Arbor; NSK Corporation, Bearing Division, Pittsfield township; McNaughton & Gunn, Inc., Saline; Catherine McAuley Health Center, Superior township; Aisin Seiki Co., Ltd., which invested in a new R & D facility in Ann Arbor township, and Airport Industrial Center, Ypsilanti township.

Village Council Approves Warstler as Assistant Manager

Chelsea Village Council confirmed the appointment of Thomas P. Warstler as the new assistant village manager at their regular meeting last Tuesday, Oct. 3.

Council voted unanimously to approve manager Robert Stalker's recommendation. Warstler will be paid $32,500 in his first year.

Warstler, 38, a St. Johns resident, is currently manager of emergency services for Clinton county. He has also been a planner for the county. Warstler is scheduled to begin work at the end of the month.

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"Better to be alone than in poor company."

—Oliver Goldsmith.

Being of a naturally sociable nature, the human animal is prone to seek out companionship. However, there are instances where one is better off to be alone than with undesirable company.

When one is alone he may be less particular, less demanding in the companions he accepts. All too often, the person who accepts poor company... sometimes any company... to meet the pressing needs of the moment, finds himself later identified with that caliber of person. Whether deserved or not, he becomes a victim of the "birds of a feather" label, and thereafter finds himself at a disadvantage in attracting more acceptable companions.

Kindness and understanding are qualities you can expect from your experienced personnel who are accustomed to anticipating your needs.

4-H CLUBS

CRITTERS & CRAFTS—

Critters and Crafts, a new 4-H club in Chelsea will meet on Sunday, Oct. 15 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Clegio residence.

Alicia Kay Maxwell of Belleville will be there to teach the parents and youth about the different breeds of rabbits, how to care for them and what is involved in showing them at the Washtenaw County 4-H Fair. Ms. Maxwell will also discuss breeding, what to look for when purchasing a rabbit and the associated costs.

Members who have rabbits, or potential members that own rabbits are encouraged to bring their animals to the meeting. Ms. Maxwell will examine them and explain each animal's strong and weak points.

If you are considering acquiring rabbits, this is an excellent opportunity to learn what is involved in owning them.

For more information please call
Martha Clegio at 475-7655 evenings.

Chelsea Painters Make A Splash

With their "watermedia" paintings, members of the Chelsea Painters took three awards at the 38th annual exhibition of the Ann Arbor Women Painters Shows.

Deiores Boos of Unadilla won a merit award for her poured ink and water media painting "It's in a Tangle." Honorable mentions went to Nancy Feldkamp of Manchester for her water color "Relic in Shadow," and Joyce Sysol of Unadilla for her acrylic of "Harvest Moon."

Also accepted from the Chelsea Painters were Mary Sue Compton, Ada Crispin, Susan Falcone, Lucia Hardy, Jane Higgins, Maureen Lucas, Barbara MacKeller, Jo Sauter and Madeleine Vallier.

The group meets on Tuesdays at the Chelsea Fairgrounds and have discussion groups, critiques and paint together.

Knowing your cholesterol level could save your life.

Your cholesterol level is a major indicator of the development of heart disease, so it's important to know what your level is and to take steps to keep it in the normal range.

Now you can conveniently have your cholesterol level tested, thanks to a special offer of the University of Michigan M-CARE Health Centers, MedSport and M-Labs.

It only takes a few minutes, and results are available while you wait. Medical professionals will be available to make recommendations on how to lower your cholesterol.

No fasting is required and no appointment is necessary. Just come to the location nearest you at the dates and times listed below. $5 fee payable at the door.

Rural Highway Safety Important

Having a slow moving vehicle (SMV) sign on your farm equipment is not only a good idea—it's the law.

According to Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau, Michigan law requires the SMV sign on equipment that can't travel any faster than 25 miles per hour.

"Secondly, the law requires that after dark, not only is the SMV sign required, but lights are required," he said. "Those lights can either be supplied upon the implement, such as on the newer combines, or the implement must be followed by a motor vehicle with the proper lights."

Nelson reminded farmers that tourists driving in rural areas are unaccustomed to the slow speeds of farm equipment on roads.

The average age of retirement for U.S. male workers has been steadily declining, according to the U.S. Labor Department. In 1960, 33 percent of males 65 and older remained in the workforce; in 1980, the percentage had dropped to 19 percent, and by the year 2000, only 10 percent of men 65 and older are expected to be working.

Farm Bureau Starts 'Project Heart' For Hugo Victims

Michigan Farm Bureau has established a fund to help farmers in South Carolina, North Carolina and Puerto Rico who suffered astronomical losses as a result of Hurricane Hugo. The organization is seeking donations from its members and others to Project HEART, "Hugo Emergency-Agriculture Rebuilding Together."

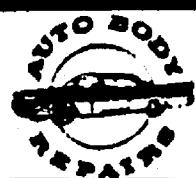

"Their greatest need is for building supplies," said Mike Kovacic, director of information and public relations. "Many lost their outbuildings, grain storage facilities and livestock housing. Hurricane Hugo caused over $1 billion losses in timber and it's estimated that it will take from 25 to 50 years to overcome that damage. So there's a real shortage of timber for farmers to rebuild and that's where we will focus our efforts to help."

Kovacic said other state Farm Bureaus have also responded to the agricultural disaster with fundraising efforts. Contributions should be made payable to Project HEART and sent to P. O. Box 80890, Lansing 48908-0890.

Everybody's Science

★ Light Meter Tells When Melons Are Sweet ...

By Hank Becker

Some people squeeze, others sniff. A few will say they are sure the melon is ripe and others will be left guessing. That could change.

U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists are using infrared light penetrating a cantaloupe, honeydew or watermelon to tell whether the melon will taste as good as it looks and smells.

"Near-infrared light, sent through special filters, is 85 percent accurate in measuring the sugar and ripeness in melons," said chemist Gerald G. Dull of USDA's Agricultural Research Service. A breadbox-size meter transmits the light through the fruit.

"The amount of light absorbed by the fruit is a measure of its sugar content," he said. "The more infrared absorbed, the sweeter the fruit."

Dull sees the new device possibly being used by the melon industry so growers no longer mistakenly harvest unripe melons.

Unripe melons that contain only six percent sugar can sweeten on the vine in just a few days to an ideal sugar content of 11 percent or more, he said. "Until now farmers have had to rely on the looks and the size of fruit to judge when this ripeness occurs."

Dull said consumers could look forward to "knowing they are buying sweet cantaloupes and not being disappointed." He is perfecting the meter at the ARS horticultural crops research laboratory in Athens, Ga.

He tested the meter this summer for several weeks near Tifton, Ga. In a field laboratory, several hundred melons of many varieties and stages of ripeness were monitored for sweetness, he said. "We can do this without cutting into a melon."

Next, he added, the meter's accuracy will be thoroughly evaluated by comparing actual chemical measurement against the meter's reading for sugar.

"We believe light meters can be developed and adapted to objectively rate the sweetness of various fruits and vegetables," he said. All these ratings would take into account the commodity's composition, including dry matter and sugar.

So far, tests with the light meter "have worked as expected" on onions and papayas, Dull said. Peaches and plums are next.

Dull said his goal is to develop a portable, miniaturized light meter that could be set to distinguish sweet from sour for most fruits and vegetables. (Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.)

Straight Talk

Q: What is a crossbite and why is early correction so important?

A: A dental crossbite is present when one or more teeth of one dental arch bite too far outside or inside the perimeter of the opposing dental arch. Early correction is very important. Otherwise, the resulting sideshift of the lower jaw may become permanent and lead to tooth wear, cheek biting, jaw joint disorders and an asymmetrical facial appearance.

Chapman questioned suggested approval of invoices submitted by a person hired to secure easements for the Sewer Authority. The invoices were apparently somewhat confusing, since the Authority chose to change its payment procedures during the easement-acquisition process.

Family Style 'Gina's Cafe' To Open in November

A 140-seat family style restaurant called Gina's Cafe is scheduled to open in Chelsea Shopping Center in mid-November.

Gina Pantely, owner of the former Olympic Restaurant (which later became Bell's Cafe) in Ann Arbor is the proprietor of the new venture, which will be located next to Cottage Inn. Pantely sold the Olympic eight years ago and has been out of the restaurant business since then.

The restaurant will be open for lunch and dinner and will not serve alcohol.

"We're going to use all fresh food," Pantely said.

"We'll have lunch and dinner specials. This will be a restaurant the people of Chelsea can be proud of," Pantely said she'll be extremely picky about ingredients and that every meal will have generous servings. There will be no salad bar, "but with the size of the portions we're serving, people won't need one."

The atmosphere will be informal. The decor is being completed by her husband, whose company, Phoenix Group, was responsible for the renovation of Chelsea's 14th district courthouse.

Pantely said her head chef is a Chelsea person, but declined to name him for now. She also wants to hire as many local people as she can for her kitchen and wait staff.

Pantely said she'd like to make the restaurant good enough that people from Ann Arbor would be glad to make the trip.

N.E.E.D. Service Offers Free Educational Classes

The non-profit county-wide agency called The Network for Equal Economic Development Service Corp. or The N.E.E.D. Service, Inc., as it is more widely known throughout Washtenaw county is sponsoring five free educational classes for low income citizens on ways to help oneself become more "economically independent."

These "Prosperity Partners Program" classes are to help low-income participants get money for college, start their own businesses or find better paying jobs.

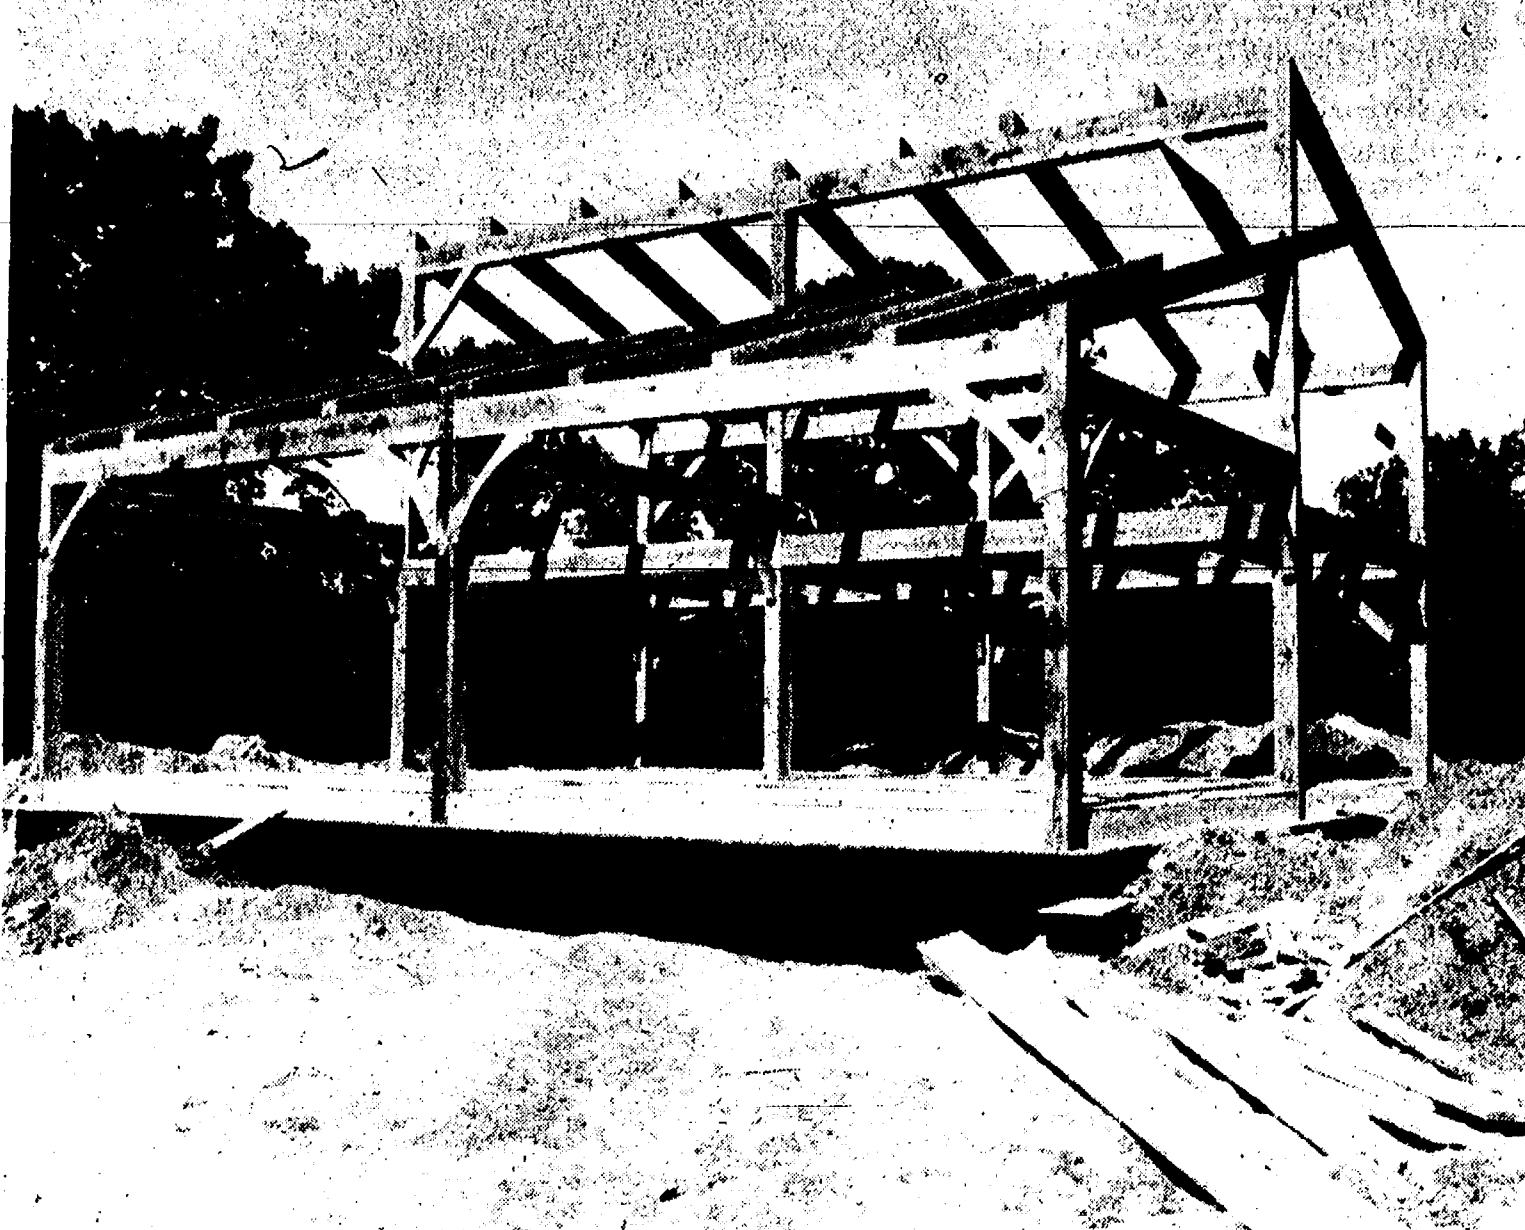

Adult students and community persons young and old are welcome to attend! If you miss one, come to the next! No pre-registration is required.

The five free classes will be held at the Ann Arbor "Y", 350 S. Fifth Ave., Ann Arbor, beginning Nov. 7-11, 1989. Class days are: Tuesday and Wednesday, 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., Thursday and Friday, 5:30 to 8:30 p. m., and Saturday 11 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Additional free services are also available through The N.E.E.D. Service Inc. The office is located on the first floor of the Detroit Edison Building, open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Bridge Repairs on I-94 At Jackson Will Close Westbound Lanes

Repairs to the I-94 bridge over the Grand River in Jackson will require closing one of the freeway's two westbound lanes for five days beginning Monday, Oct. 9, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) said today.

Workers will replace expansion joints and improve the deck of the bridge, which is one-quarter mile west of the M-106 (Cooper St.) interchange. The work will require 24-hour closures.

Dale Conger Accepts Post With Stockbridge Schools

Dale Conger, a Dexter area man, is the new principal at the Stockbridge Middle School.

Conger earned a master of science degree in secondary education from Indiana University, and is completing work toward a specialist degree in secondary administration at the University of Michigan.

He comes to Stockbridge from the Ypsilanti Public Schools, where he spent one year as a science teacher, nine years as assistant principal at the middle school, and eight years serving as assistant principal at Ypsilanti High.

Conger and his wife Maggie, an elementary and middle school counselor for the Dexter Community Schools, live in Webster township.

They have three children, Kelly, a freshman, David, in the sixth grade,

Dexter Township Stays in Recycling

Dexter township has decided to participate in Chelsea's recycling program, thereby reversing an earlier decision.

Chelsea's program, which is actually part of a county-wide program, recently ran into financial problems when Washtenaw county decided to cut off funding for picking up the recycling bins at Polly's Market.

The village and Lyndon, Lima, and Sylvan townships all agreed to continue their participation and share the cost equally. Dexter declined.

However, in a Sept. 20 letter to village council, Dexter township said it could continue in the program but could not spend more than $1,000 this year as the township is also participating in the Village of Dexter's program.

"The township is willing to consider full funding in next year's budget if the program can be continued but in a more efficient form," the township said.

"Dexter township would also like to have the cost shared on a usage basis."

The $1,000 pledge by the township is likely to be less than a one-fifth share, which the village had sought.

Vehicle Locks Broken in Lot

A Lima Center Rd. resident told Chelsea police that someone broke the locks on both of his car doors while the vehicle was parked at Chelsea High school on Sunday, Sept. 29.

The resident was unable to open either door on the vehicle.

Dog Training Clinic Slated Sunday By Humane Society

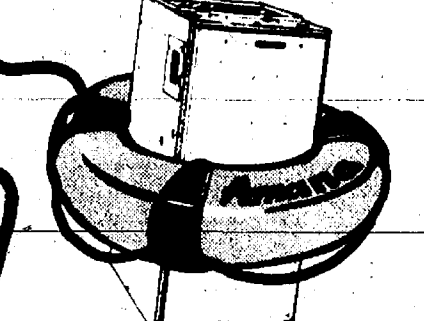

All present and potential dog owners are invited to a Puppy and Dog Training and Care Clinic sponsored by the Humane Society of Huron Valley. A vast array of useful information will be available to help sharpen up your pet's manners and skills for the upcoming year.

The clinic will be held on Sunday, Oct. 15 from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club located at 1575 E. North Territorial Rd., just two miles east of US-23. Instructors from the Dog Training Club will be on hand to give valuable tips on topics such as health care, feeding, grooming, housebreaking, obedience training, and dog breed characteristics. There will also be demonstrations by the instructors, followed by a question and answer period.

The clinic is free to the public; however it is asked that you leave your pet at home. Relevant pet care literature will also be available at no cost; but, donations will be gratefully accepted. For directions or more information, phone the Education Department at 682-5545.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley is a private, non-profit organization serving all of the Washtenaw county and dedicated to preventing cruelty to animals and promoting respect for life.

JUDE QUILTER looks for running room, while Dexter defensive back Ted Brockman tries to grab hold during last Friday's game at Niehaus Field. Quilter gained 101 yards on 32 carries as the Dreadnaughts had him bottled up all night long.

Bulldog Mistakes Give Dreadnaughts Big Win

A strong Chelsea defensive effort was not enough to offset a spotty offensive performance plus several key mistakes as the Bulldogs were defeated by the Dexter Dreadnaughts at home, 21-7 last Friday evening.

The Bulldogs limited Dexter to a total of 199 yards, all on the ground, and six first downs. Quarterback Marty Walsh was 0-3 in the air and ran for 98 yards, mostly on ad lib kinds of plays. It was a performance good enough to win most games.

However, one mistake buried the Dogs. With 3:55 left and Chelsea trailing 14-7, Dexter was forced to punt the ball away from about mid-field. The punt took an end-over-end bounce over returner Jude Quilter's head and Quilter touched the ball as it went by. Dexter's Jeremy Avery recovered the ball in the end zone for the touchdown. Had Quilter recovered the kick, the ball would have been Chelsea's at the 20-yard-line as the play would have been considered a muff.

However, Chelsea had their chances earlier in the game to take control. An apparent touchdown pass was dropped in the end zone in the third quarter which could have tied the game. Another fourth down pass was dropped at the Dexter 23 early in the second quarter.

And, according to head coach Gene LaFave, there were many missed assignments and poor execution in general.

"On offense we broke down in a number of ways," LaFave said.

"We dropped passes, we broke down on fourth down and one, and we missed key blocks. It all added up to a win for Dexter."

Dexter's defensive strategy was to stop running back Quilter at all costs and make the rest of the Chelsea offense execute. Every time Quilter carried the ball, there were several white shirts to greet him near the line of scrimmage. Quilter gained 101 yards on 32 carries, but had few runs for more than 10 yards. He had a hard time turning the corner on the sweep. In addition, the screen pass to Quilter was stopped effectively.

Quarterback Kyle Plank had one of his best nights although not a lot to show for it. He completed 12 of 22 passes for 117 yards, as split end Adam Taylor had six catches for 63 yards and tight end Ron Stacy had four catches for 57 yards. Stacy had several key catches on third-and-long situations. However, several passes were dropped in key situations.

Plank was also an effective runner in the option.

Walsh was most of the offense for Dexter, but he had a habit of making the Bulldogs pay for their aggressive defense. Several times he was seemingly caught in the backfield but managed good gains as he side-stepped Chelsea tacklers. He had three runs of more than 20 yards and was exceptional running the option.

Dexter drew first blood early in the second quarter after a long Chelsea drive ended with a missed 32-yard field goal try. With a second down and eight at the Chelsea 28, Walsh eluded a tackler and scrambled right to the Chelsea three. Darrin Pomo took the ball in for the touchdown on the next play. The kick was blocked and Dexter had a 6-0 lead with 10:49 left in the half.

Dexter's next drive ended at the Chelsea 30 as the Bulldog defense stopped the Dreadnaughts on fourth down and one.

Chelsea drove the ball down field, highlighted by two key passes to Stacy and one to Taylor. With :15 left in the half, Quilter swept right to the Dexter two. Quilter scored with no time remaining in the half. The kick was good and Chelsea had a 7-6 lead.

The Dreadnaughts took the lead on their second possession of the second half as they drove 54 yards. Walsh ran to the 31, then again to the 18. Running back Ted Brockman scored on the option from the 18 with 5:28 left in the third period.

Chelsea again had an excellent chance to score on their next possession. On a third and 12 play, Quilter threw what appeared to be a perfect strike to Quilter, but at the last second Dexter's Aaron Ward dove and tipped the ball away. There were no other defenders between Quilter and the goal line.

LaFave had high praise for the play of linebacker Mark Chasteen, defensive ends Rick Westcott and Stacy, strong safety Taylor, and noseguard

Tim VanSchoick. VanSchoick led the team with eight tackles and Chasteen had seven.

This week it's the battle for sole possession of fifth place in the Southeastern Conference as the Bulldogs travel to Tecumseh. Both teams are 1-3 in the league.

"Every game seems to be a challenge and we'll have to play well to win," LaFave said.

"They have an average passing team but play power football, the same as they always do."

Cagers Whip Saline, Pinckney To Stay Unbeaten in Conference

Chelsea Bulldogs ended the first half of the Southeastern Conference basketball season in sole possession of first place with wins over Pinckney (38-31) and Saline (60-32) last week.

However, Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter said the Bulldogs didn't play close to their potential in either game.

"We were horrible," Rosentreter said.

"We seemed to play to the level of our competition."

In Tuesday's game at Pinckney, the Bulldogs started by missing their first three shots and fell behind at half-time, 17-14, to a team they figured to beat handily.

The Bulldogs managed to battle back and eventually took a 10-point lead during the fourth quarter before the Pirates closed the gap in the closing minutes.

"The girls weren't ready to play," Rosentreter said.

"I guess we expected a little let-down after the Tecumseh game, but the girls came out and they weren't listening. They were going through the motions."

Chelsea shot 32 percent from the field and 53 percent from the free throw line. They also lost the rebound battle 24-21.

Colleen Scharphorn paced the Dogs with 14 points. Allison Brown scored 10, Mercedes Hammer had six, Shawn Losey had three, Carrie Flintoft scored two, and Tiffany Moore had one.

Thursday's game at home against Saline turned into a 28-point victory for Chelsea despite 27 Bulldog turnovers and 12 Saline steals.

"They'd press us, but we wouldn't run the play we designed to break it, then we'd throw the ball away because we'd be out of position," Rosentreter said.

"It seemed to go on and on like that. It was kind of sad."

Even with all their problems, the Bulldogs led throughout the contest and by half-time had only given up eight points. Everyone played and almost everyone scored.

Hammer and Scharphorn led the Bulldogs with 11 points each. Scharme Petty scored nine, Bohlender had eight, Amy Thomson and Christine Burg each scored six, Brown had four points, Moore scored three, and Losey had two.

The Bulldogs finished last week with an 8-3 record over-all and 6-0 mark in the SEC.

THREE 1988 CHELSEA BULLDOGS were inducted into the Chelsea Football Hall of Fame last Friday night at half-time. From left are David Zerkel, tight end/defensive end, head coach Gene LaFave, Luman Strong, offensive guard, and Junior Morseau, running back/defensive back. All three were all-Southeastern Conference performers. Zerkel attends the University of Michigan, Strong attends Cedarville College, and Morseau has a baseball scholarship at Ferris State College.

Lisa Monti Sets Record as Dogs Win Mason Cross Country Meet

Chelsea Bulldog girls cross country team won the nine-team Mason Invitational last Thursday, Oct. 5 as each of coach Pat Clarke's runners either equaled or surpassed her season's best time.

Freshman Lisa Monti, who finished second over-all, crushed Kasey Anderson's freshman record by 40 seconds with a time of 19:33.

"We ran our best race of the year so far and Lisa Monti was just excellent," Clarke said.

"Our upperclass girls are finally starting to make a determined drive to get where they want to be by season's end. Senior co-captains Kim Roberts, Sarah Grau, and Vicki Bullock all gave very determined performances."

Chelsea won the meet with 49 points while second-place DeWitt had 67. Other team scores included Fowlerville 81, Williamston 107, Olivet 108, Leslie 146, Lansing Catholic Central 174, Portland 189, and Lakewood 231.

Other Chelsea places and times included: Val Bullock, 5th, 20:32; Roberts, 12th, 21:08; Grau, 14th, 21:21; Christine Mignano, 16th, 21:29; Carmen Smith, 17th, 21:39; Lauren Sparaco, 18th, 21:44.

The Bulldogs also took first place in the junior varsity portion of the meet as they dominated nearly 70 other runners from 23 schools.

JV results included: Vicki Bullock,

1st, 21:35; Teddi Hauck, 2nd, 22:17; Beth Williams, 3rd, 22:33; Jessica Holton, 5th, 22:47; Charity Allen, 6th, 22:48; Stephanie Wagner, 9th, 23:07; Tracy Franklin, 11th, 23:11; Sarah Franklin, 27th, 25:18.

Chelsea took second place at the 19-team Ypsilanti Invitational as all seven top Bulldog runners were medalists. Dearborn Edsel Ford was the winner.

"We continue to run well as a team," Clarke said.

"We were the smallest school by far in this competition. Lisa Monti and Val Bullock ran outstanding times on a slow course. And senior Kim Roberts is running very well."

Chelsea varsity places and times included: Monti, 2nd, 20:12; Val Bullock, 7th, 21:02; Roberts, 17th, 21:50; Vicki Bullock, 25th, 22:17; Mignano, 26th, 22:19; Smith, 27th, 22:21; Grau, 30th, 22:23.

The JV girls took second place over-all. Chelsea times and places were: Sparaco, 1st, 22:08; Hauck, 5th, 22:39; Williams, 9th, 23:01; Wales, 10th, 23:09; Wagner, 14th, 23:49; Allen, 24th, 25:55.

KIM ROBERTS continues to improve for the Chelsea Bulldogs and ran two strong races last week.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Boy, did I have the Chelsea-Dexter football game sized up all wrong last week.

I turned out to be right when I wrote that Chelsea would have a chance to win if they held Dexter to under 20 points. The Dreadnaughts scored 21 and won.

However, I never thought Dexter could contain junior running back Jude Quilter the way they did. I figured he'd score three or four touchdowns and run for a couple hundred yards. But everywhere he went it seemed there were half a dozen Dreadnaughts. Didn't matter what the play was, either. Sweep, screen play, you name it.

Dexter gambled on defense by keying almost everyone on Quilter and hoping the rest of Chelsea's offense couldn't get the job done. It turned out to be the perfect strategy, but I'll bet it wouldn't work two games in a row. Chelsea had plenty of chances but couldn't execute.

Chelsea receivers dropped key passes, including one right in the old breadbasket that would have scored a crucial touchdown late. A defensive back dove and tipped a pass away from Quilter that would have almost surely been a score, in what may have been the key defensive play of the game.

The Bulldogs had too many penalties again.

Dexter-Chelsea games also always seem to have the strangest game-breaking plays, and this was no exception. Two years ago a questionable personal foul was called on the Dexter bench late in the game that essentially decided the outcome. This year Quilter accidentally touched the ball as a Dexter punt bounced over his head and into the end zone. Dexter recovered and essentially ended Chelsea's hopes.

And if that wasn't enough, on the following kick-off, Dexter kicked a ground-level line drive that was kicked by a Chelsea player. The ball bounced straight back behind the charging Dexter players, who turned around and recovered the ball at about their 30-yard line. It was the weirdest looking play I've ever seen in a high school game, and it capped a most improbable turn of events.

Even with Quilter held at bay, Chelsea should have won the game. The defense played perhaps its best game of the year. Marty Walsh, the elusive Dexter quarterback, gained most of the yardage, much of it after he was seemingly trapped in the backfield. Walsh didn't complete a pass all night long.

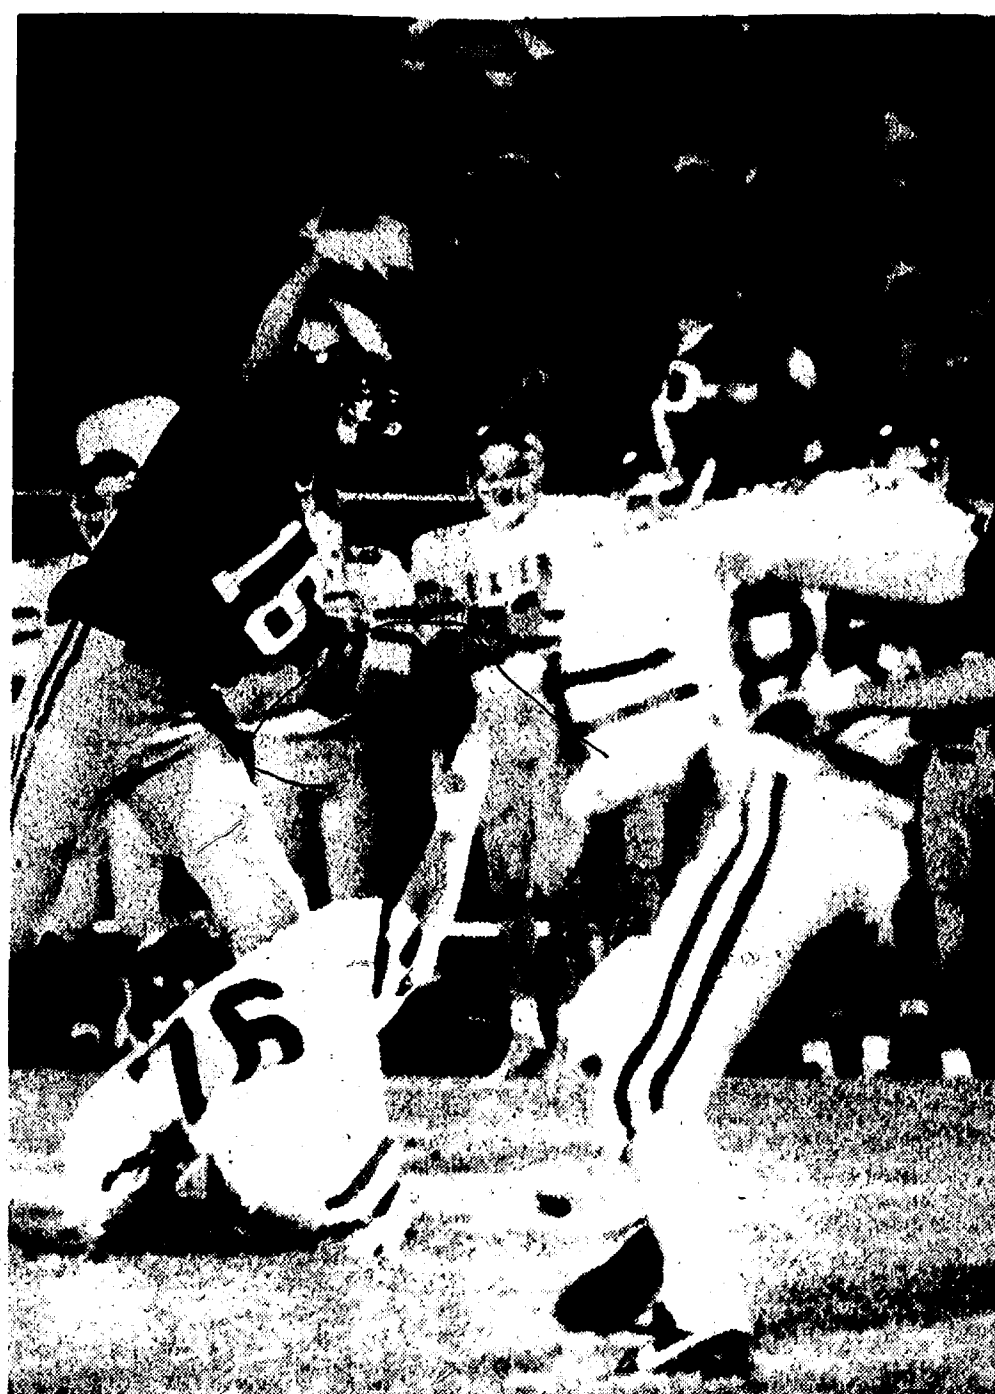

And the Bulldogs moved the ball fairly well. Kyle Plank played an excellent quarterback and is improving every week. For the most part he was right on target with his passes and he hit tight end Ron Stacy on several key third down plays. He also connected with sophomore split end Adam Taylor, who is turning into one fine receiver, and ran the option extremely well.

However, as has happened so many times this season, the Bulldogs were their own worst enemy. Chelsea could easily be 4-2 rather than 2-4 and perhaps even 5-1 if they hadn't self-destructed at Milan in the last few minutes. The comment of the week, and possibly the season, I heard on the sidelines.

"Oops," he said.

Now the most the Bulldogs can hope for is a winning season, and with Pinckney still on the schedule, that will be a tough job.

Chelsea can get back on track this week at Tecumseh, a team that has improved recently. The Bulldogs should win the game. But, well, we'll see.

CHELSEA'S KYLE PLANK gets the pass off and completes it to Adam Taylor during last Friday night's Bulldog home game. Plank completed 12 passes on the night, his high for the season, but the Bulldogs lost to the Dreadnaughts, 21-7.

Boy Runners Take Second at Mason

Chelsea's top seven runners all ran their best races ever as the Bulldog boys finished second by a point at the Mason Invitational last Thursday, Oct. 5.

Williamston, the number four rated team in class C, was the winner with 64 points, and Chelsea, competing without top runner Holden Harris, finished with 65 points.

"The boys ran extremely well," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Brian Zangara and Jeff Latimer really extended themselves to take up the slack left when Holden Harris was unable to compete because of illness. Newcomer Chris Wright also cut 40 seconds off his previous time to take 10th place with a blazing 17:15."

The first six Chelsea runners all cracked the 18 minute mark.

Behind Chelsea were Lansing Catholic Central, 75; Portland, 80; Leslie 146, DeWitt 148, Lakewood 157, Oliver 193, Fowlerville 198.

Zangara was Chelsea's lead runner, taking fifth place over-all in 17:06. Other Chelsea places and times included: Hassett, 13th, 17:26; Latimer, 15th, 17:31; Ben Vermeulen, 22nd, 17:44; Joe Blough, 27th, 17:59; Jason Allen, 33rd, 18:16.

The Bulldogs also took second place in the junior varsity meet as three Bulldogs placed in the top 10. There were 160 runners.

Chelsea's JV results were: Shawn Castleberry, 5th, 18:28; Kelly Beard, 6th, 18:31; Jake Rindle, 8th, 18:33; Erich Hammer, 12th, 18:44; Rob Jacques, 17th, 19:02; Justin White, 21st, 19:06; David Sayer, 50th, 20:05; Brian Andress, 57th, 20:13; Tobin Strong, 66th, 20:32; Dan Zatkovich, 76th, 21:00; Andrew Parker, 93rd, 21:26; J.J. Hanke, 102nd, 22:23.

"The JVs ran extremely well," Clarke said.

"Shawn Castleberry, Kelly Beard, and Jake Rindle all recorded personal best times."

The Bulldogs took fifth place in the 18-team Ypsilanti Invitational last Saturday.

Zangara and Hassett were medalists for Chelsea.

The race featured mostly class A teams, and the Bulldogs were running without Wright, their number two runner, and Latimer was ill but ran.

"Despite the slight inconveniences, we ran an average race and still placed a respectable sixth," Clarke said.

BRIAN ZANGARA has been one of coach Pat Clarke's most consistent runners this season.

Chelsea places and times included: Zangara, 18th, 17:46; Hassett, 25th, 18:01; Vermeulen, 41st, 18:32; Blough, 57th, 18:46; Allen, 63rd, 18:58; Harris, 67th, 19:06; Latimer, 87th, 19:43.

In the JV race, the Bulldogs took third. Chelsea times and places were: Rindle, 7th, 18:38; Hammer, 12th, 18:52; White, 19:25; Jacques, 19:25; Beard, 19:40; Strong, 20:42; Zatkovich, 20:54; Andress, 21:49; Parker, 21:59; Hanke, 22:08.

Marine Lance Cpl. Scott A. Glassford, a 1987 graduate of Pinckney High school has been promoted to his present rank while serving at Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

He joined the Marine Corps in April 1988.

Bulldog Netters Defeat Central

Chelsea Bulldog tennis team beat Brooklyn Columbia Central, 5-2, but lost to Pinckney, 4-3, in action last week.

In the Columbia Central match on Wednesday, Oct. 4, Chelsea split sets at second singles and first and second doubles.

"We needed just one more point to clinch the match and it could have come from any one of those spots, but Chelsea took all three," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

Nicole Pontz had lost the first set of her match, 0-6, but rallied for convincing victories in the final two sets, 6-1, 6-2 over Kristy Walby.

The first doubles team of Jane Pacheco and Lissa Hamrick won their first set against Katie Gulliver and Val Allmon, 6-1, lost the second set, 4-6, but won the third set, 6-2.

The closest match of the day was played by Sarah Gegenheimer and Sarah Musolf at second doubles. They won the first set, 6-4, lost the second 1-6, and tied the third at 6-6. However they lost a tie-breaker 5-7 to Kristine McCove and Julie Zaski.

In other matches, Plyada Piyamalmas defeated Heather Lawson, 6-1, 6-3; Marielle Ast defeated Julie Horthrup 6-1, 6-3; Amy Mitchell lost to Shari Force, 1-6, 3-6; and Julie Weiss and Becky Vctor lost to Julie Jemenez and Karla Hard, 2-6, 0-6.

In the Pinckney match on Tuesday, Oct. 3, the Bulldogs "weren't up for the match," Curtis said.

In singles play, Piyamalmas defeated Amy Adair, 6-2, 6-0; Pontz lost to Renee Mortensen, 4-6, 4-6; Mitchell lost to Kristin Visel, 6-4, 6-7, 0-6; Ast defeated Joey Barker, 6-0, 6-1.

In doubles play, Pacheco and Hamrick lost to Karyn Strand and Kelli Falls, 5-7, 3-6; Gegenheimer and Musolf defeated Diane Linton and Gina Burton, 6-1, 6-3; and Weiss and Vctor lost to Beth Sulogar and Jenni Skover, 4-6, 5-7.

The Bulldogs were 5-4 after last week's play.

JV Cagers Split Two League Games

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity basketball team easily defeated Saline last Thursday, 62-17, but lost to Pinckney on Tuesday, 30-21.

In Thursday's Saline game at the Chelsea gym, everyone played and everyone scored as the Bulldogs were never threatened.

Chelsea held a 30-17 half-time advantage then outscored the Hornets 26-0 in the third quarter.

Bulldog rebounders held a 49-29 advantage, one of the keys to the game.

Molly Dilworth scored 12 points to lead the team, while a trio of Bulldogs, Sarah DeVine, Michelle Beeman, and Heather McConeghy each had 10 points. Other scorers included Ginny Flannery 7, Angie Riley 4, Erin Knott 4, Theresa Hurst 3, and Tina Hassett 2.

In Tuesday's Pinckney game, the Bulldogs weren't mentally ready to play, according to coach Paul Terpstra.

"We didn't have any spark," Terpstra said.

"We let them get ahead, and they gained more confidence as they went along. We also had a number of shots go in and out."

Chelsea shot 25 percent from the floor but a dismal 3-22 from the free-throw line, which made the difference in the game.

Chelsea scoring included McConeghy 6, DeVine 5, Flannery 4, Dilworth 2, Hassett 2.

The Bulldogs moved to 4-7 on the season and 3-3 in the Southeastern Conference.

If you don't want your children taking drugs, maybe you should be setting a good example. When people see a chiropractor for the first time, they are often surprised that we don't prescribe medication of any type. There's a very important reason for this approach. We regard pain as a warning signal our body sends out to indicate that something is wrong. Recognizing the human body as a very complicated organism, we advocate a conservative approach to drug usage. Drug usage is often given a prominent role in health care, when actually, our own natural healing abilities are a far more viable way to achieve good health. And the Department of Substance Abuse couldn't agree more. Can we teach our children that drugs are dangerous when we have a medicine cabinet full of them? If we are going to explain that drugs are dangerous, then we must realize ourselves that no drug ever solved any problem. No drug ever corrects the cause. Health doesn't come from drugs. Health comes from the optimum functioning of the nervous system. Our own example speaks infinitely louder than words.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 2 were Comeau, Satterthwaite, Redding, Wales, Feeney, Cherem, Eisenbeiser, superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Conklin, Stielstra, Benedict, Wescott, athletic director Welton, guests.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by president Anne Comeau.

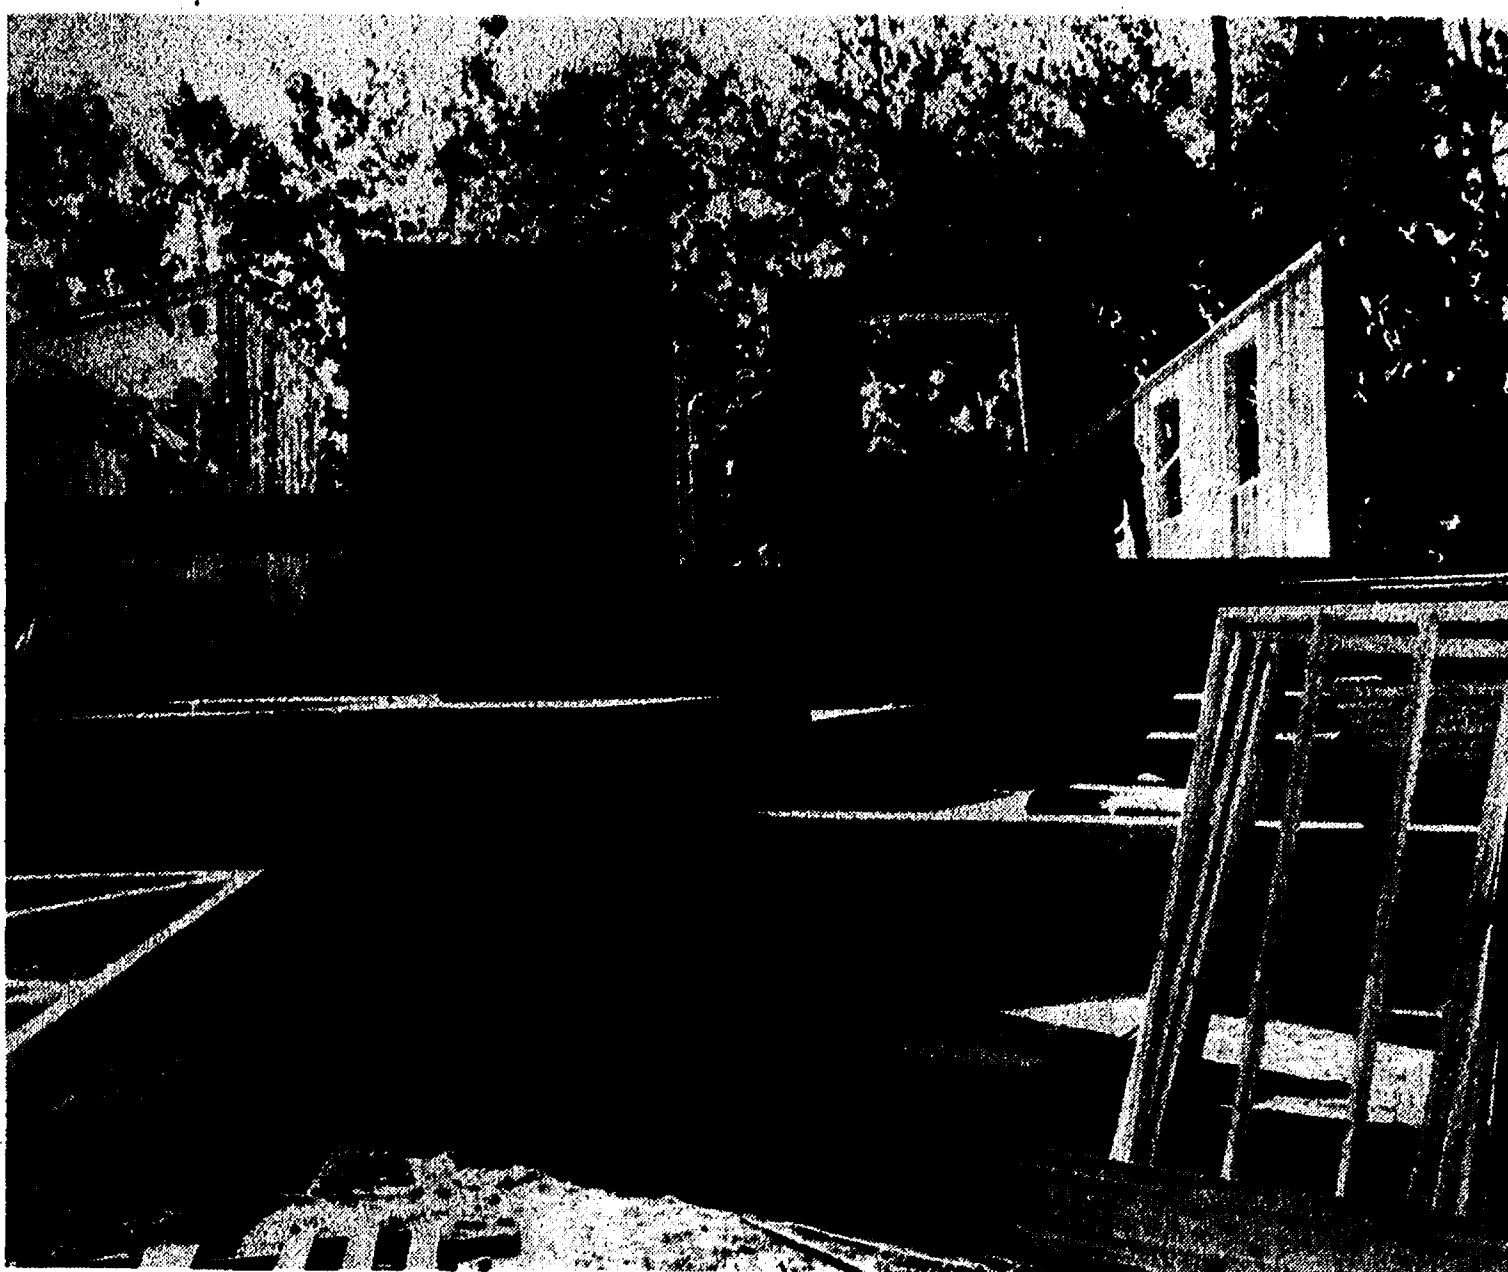

Entered as official communications were (1) information on January, 1990, changes in the Michigan Public School Employee Retirement program; (2) Open House invitation from Chelsea Community Hospital; (3) memorandum concerning the start-up of a resource team for the current school year; (4) letter from a parent expressing concerns about the practice of parents selecting certain teachers for their children; (5) letters from several parents concerning the girls junior varsity basketball team.

A board-level grievance hearing was conducted. Following an executive session, the grievance was denied.

The board approved the appointment of Chris Woodruff to the Chelsea Recreation Council.

Meeting adjourned at 11:42 p.m.

The New Directions grants provide "seed money" to help organizations develop programs to educate employees and employers on workplace hazards and ways to eliminate them. Funds come from the U.S. Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

CONSTRUCTION IS MOVING ALONG quickly on the new home for Faith in Action and the Chelsea Senior Citizens Center on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital. The home is being constructed in pre-built panels. Builder Tom Dunlap said the building should be ready for move-in by Christmas, assuming all electrical components can be installed in time.

Cash Stolen From Vehicle

Two 18-year-old area residents told Chelsea police that someone stole $155 in cash from their purses, which were in the back seat of a car parked on Orchard St. on Monday, Sept. 16.

The theft took place in front of 163 Orchard St. between midnight and 12:40 a.m., the women told police. One purse contained $120 in cash and the other contained $35.

Eighth Grade Bullpup Gridders Shut Out Lincoln 28-0

The Beach Middle school Bullpup football teams finished the third week of the season "with a mixed bag of results," according to head coach Charlie Waller.

The A team continued their undefeated season with a 28-0 win over Lincoln last Tuesday, Oct. 3 while the B team dropped to 0-2-1 with a 52-0 loss.

The A team used a tough pass defense to set up excellent field position for the offense. The secondary picked off four passes, led by Colby Skelton with two interceptions. Aric Dougherty had an interception and did a fine job of rushing the passer from his defensive end position as he recorded three sacks, Waller said.

Quarterback Pat Steele threw two touchdown passes after the interceptions, hitting Skelton and tight end Chris Gibson, which gave the Pups a 22-0 half-time lead. Chelsea scored again in the third quarter after another interception.

"David Brock, Matt Dymond, and Gabe Bernhardt turned in excellent performances on defense," Waller said.

The B team's offense collapsed after its fine performance the week before over Milan, which ended in a 14-14 tie, Waller said.

The young Pups had problems with fumbles and penalties, which constantly gave Lincoln good field position.

"Chris Seitz, Tom Hubbell, and Jim Sarna all played well on offense, despite the final outcome," Waller said.

"And Casey McCalla and Paul Lopez both turned in fine defensive performances."

Seventh grader Jeremy Bradbury got his first start at quarterback.

ADAM TAYLOR makes the grab while in the grip of a Dexter defensive back during last Friday night's home game. Chelsea lost 21-7, but Taylor had one of his best games of the season.

It has become necessary to revise the schedule of the immunization clinic to be conducted by the Washtenaw County Health Department on Thursday, Oct. 12, at Chelsea High school.

Parents should take note of the following changes in hours and location: vaccines will be administered from 9:00-11:00 a.m. in the Board Room of the Administration Building. The original schedule published in last week's Standard listed the hours of 8:30-12:00 in the Home Ec Conference Room.

Students who have not yet received all the vaccines required by the State of Michigan (4DPT [Diphtheria, Pertussis, Tetanus]; 3 Polio; Mumps, Measles, Rubella) can obtain consent form(s) and an immunization checklist at their school. These must be signed by parent or guardian if immunizations are to be given to persons under 18 years of age. Children who have not yet begun school may also be seen in the clinic provided they are accompanied by a parent or guardian.

The State of Michigan requires that all new public and private school students be adequately immunized against diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, polio, measles, mumps and rubella. In compliance with this State law, the Chelsea School District will exclude from school attendance as of Monday, Oct. 30, 1989, all students who are new to the district who have not presented evidence of required immunization.

Further information may be obtained by calling the office of the appropriate school.

DISCOVERY MAY END OBESITY

National Dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to worldwide health problems, reported in a Washington, D. C. press release, "Obesity may be controlled naturally with a new type of pill, discovered by accident. In studies with potential cholesterol lowering agents, scientists noted an unusual side effect. Patients receiving an ingredient in what is now being called FS-1, all lost weight in spite of being instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, while body weight in control groups remained constant." Scientists say the mechanism behind the weight reduction is partially due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calorie rich dietary fats.

In a comparative study by NDR whose research topics have been the subject of articles published in recent Medical and Nutritional Journals, FS-1 was found to be most effective for weight loss and most acceptable to patients. Because FOOD-SOURCE-ONE contains only natural ingredients recognized as safe, it is available to the public immediately!

FS-1 is currently available in CHOCOLATE, VANILLA or STRAWBERRY flavors, from select pharmacies for $24.98 for 100 tablets with instructions for proper use and optimum results. Also available by mail, add $2.00 ship/handling to Nutra Health Company, 41630 Garfield Suite 567, Mt. Clemens, MI 48044.

H&R BLOCK INCOME TAX COURSE BEGINS OCTOBER 16

Save time and money when you take the H&R Block Income Tax Course.

Thousands of people enjoy part-time employment and earn money each year as income tax preparers. Many received their training in income tax courses taught by H&R Block.

The 75-hour basic course introduced students to income tax preparation. They will receive hands-on experience in preparing individual tax returns, working with increasingly complex tax situations as the term progresses. It is ideal for homemakers, retirees, teachers or anyone else wanting to increase his or her tax knowledge.

Qualified graduates of the course may be offered job interviews with H&R Block but are under no obligation to accept employment. Registration forms and brochures can be obtained by contacting H&R Block.

School Lunch Program Celebrates 43rd Birthday

On Oct. 8-14, schools across the nation will celebrate National School Lunch Week. Enacted by Congress in 1946, the National School Lunch Program has made it possible for the nation's children to enjoy nutritious, well-balanced, low-cost lunches for 43 years. This year's theme "School Lunch: What A Way To Grow," reaffirms the important role the National School Lunch Program plays.

Designed as a program "to safeguard the health and well-being of the nation's children and to encourage the domestic consumption of nutritious agricultural commodities and other food" the National School Lunch Program has done just that. For over four decades, the program has met the needs of school children across this land, while constantly changing to reflect new trends in food preferences and a greater nutrition awareness.

Today, cafeterias in some 90,000 schools across the nation combine to serve more than 24 million customers daily. School lunch is big business. In fact, it is one of the largest food service programs in the country.

The National School Lunch Program, administered at the federal level by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) Food and Nutrition Service, provides some $3.8 billion annually (up 20% from 1980) in cash and commodities to participating schools. In return, schools that choose to participate must provide lunches to eligible children. Nation-wide, almost half (48 percent) of the lunches are served free or at a reduced price.

While the majority of the food used in the National School Lunch Program is purchased by schools on the local level, a variety of over 80 different kinds of USDA commodity foods make up about 20 percent of the food used in the program. Commodity foods are under constant review, and over the years significant progress has been made to reduce the amount of sugar, salt, and fat contained in commodity items. Most commodity ground beef is now at least 76 percent lean, canned fruits are packed in light syrup or fruit juice, and more poultry and fish are being purchased. While the final selection of commodity items is based upon availability and market conditions, the USDA solicits input and feedback from local schools through the commodity preference survey completed annually.

Measles Outbreak May Change Vaccination Schedules

Because of limited vaccine supplies, the Public Health Division will give measles immunizations only to children not previously immunized.

While there have been no confirmed cases of measles in Washtenaw county this year, recent statistics from the Centers for Disease Control (C.D.C.) indicate 10,000 cases were reported nationally, according to Dr. Dennis Chernin, interim medical director of the Washtenaw County Public Health Division, Human Services Department. This is three times the number reported last year.

In response to the national outbreak, the American Academy of Pediatrics and the C.D.C. are considering revising and expanding recommendations for immunization. The Health Division and the Michigan Department of Public Health will consider following new guidelines if and when the C.D.C. officially recommends changes and when vaccine supplies are available locally.

Among the options currently being considered are to follow-up the Measles, Mumps and Rubella vaccination given at 15 months of age with a second given at the entrance to middle or junior high school. In addition, in the case of school outbreaks, possible recommendations are to revaccinate all students born after 1957, who have not already received two doses.

Measles (Rubeola) is also called hard or red measles. It is different from Rubella or German Measles which is a much less serious illness and usually cause problems only when a pregnant woman contracts it.

Measles symptoms include early fever, eye infection (conjunctivitis), nasal discharge, cough, and white spots in the inner cheeks (koplik spots). A red blotchy rash appears on the third to seventh day, beginning on the face and then spreading all over the body. The rash lasts 4-7 days and sometimes ends in peeling.

BONDING ATTORNEY JOHN AXE VISITED Dexter Township Hall, Wednesday, Oct. 4, to discuss a proposal by which Washtenaw and Livingston counties may act as a unit, pledging the full faith and credit of both counties, in addition to the townships involved adding theirs, to provide the basis for bond sales to finance the lakes sewer system project. "When the proposed sewer system was first being investigated, we thought we faced some tough co-ordination in trying to get the two counties to work with us on the project, but both DPW director Jack Durbin and drain commissioner Jim Murray resigned their positions with Washtenaw county to go with Wayne county, and we think the possibility is there, now. Pictured during last week's Sewer Authority meeting, from left, are Webster township supervisor Don Zeeb, Bev Bater, manager for the project, John Axe, Hamburg township clerk Martha Parish, and Drolett. A special information session has been announced for Thursday, Oct. 19, in the auditorium of the Pinckney Community Schools Complex. Chairman of the Sewer Authority James Drolett explained the public will be invited to ask questions and/or express its concerns about any or all phases of the design, financing and construction of the sewer system, as proposed, and its ramifications. Following a Sewer Authority meeting, Oct. 4, during which Barry Johnson, director of environmental health for Washtenaw county, answered questions from concerned citizens, Drolett said both Dexter and Putnam townships have opted to go along with the referendum issue, placed on the ballots at the Nov. 7 election for voters in Putnam and Dexter townships. "We hope they'll vote 'yes,' on the issue," Drolett added.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. What is your opinion of the U.S. auto stocks at this time and what do you think would happen to them if we had a recession?

A. The U.S. automobile stocks have always been known as being very cyclical and I don't think that has changed. But, that is the nature of the business. It is possible to have a very good investment experience in a cyclical industry, you just must be careful when you buy and not pay too much for them.

It is my belief at this time that the big three auto companies are all very well managed and will continue to be so indefinitely. My guess is that the greatest investment opportunity at this time is probably in General Motors. Up to this time the stock has not shown any great advance in keeping with the fundamental changes that have been made in the company and which seem likely to substantially increase its profitability. Both Ford and Chrysler have already seen substantial movements in their stock in recognition of their progress.

I don't mean to imply that those two stocks won't show more increase, I just believe that at this time greater increases are likely to be shown by General Motors than by the other two.

We have now had several good years in a row and by all normal expectations a bad year should be near at hand. While GM has been tending to run production ahead of sales and that could give them trouble if sales slowed quickly, my guess is that all three companies will get production down quickly if sales decline.

They all have had substantial profits and should be able to manage their cash position in case of a depression so as to keep themselves in good financial condition.

There is a lot of talk that with the number of Japanese plants in this country there is an excess of production capacity and any depression will result in cut-throat competition. What will happen remains to be seen, but I would have no fear in keeping some money in the stocks of the big three.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments but will answer them only through this column. Readers who send in questions on a general investment subject or on a corporation with broad investor interest and whose questions are used, will receive a complimentary one-year's subscription to the investment magazine Better Investing.

A NEW STORE for rock and mineral enthusiasts, Rockefeller, opened yesterday in the red brick house adjacent to the I-94 eastbound entrance ramp at Fletcher Rd. in Lima township. Virginia Webb, above, has opened the store with partner Judith Wright as an outgrowth of their hobby. They have an extensive collection of polished and unpolished stones, from copper to geodes to Potosky stones to fossils, that come from all over the world. In addition they have stone carvings, tools for rock hunters, and some jewelry. Additional stock is still in Charleston, S.C., a casualty of hurricane Hugo. The store opens at 10 a.m. Webb and Wright are also in business as real estate consultants.

Detroit Musical Group Will Appear At Immanuel Bible

"SonLife," an inspirational 15-member group from Detroit Youth for Christ will be presenting a musical concert at Immanuel Bible church, 145 E. Summit, on Sunday, Oct. 15 at 11 a.m.

Under the direction of Rich Kifer, Detroit Youth for Christ music team co-ordinator, "SonLife" is rapidly being recognized as an outstanding musical ensemble of superb quality and sensitivity.

All of the members of the group are well experienced in sharing, musically, coming from a rich background of quality high school, college and church music exposure, in addition to private instruction.

"SonLife" is made up of senior high and college age young people from around the Detroit Metropolitan area. Their contemporary and traditional sounds, smooth blend, and featured solos all combine to make their presentation of the Gospel in music uplifting, challenging and inspiring. Rich Kifer brings to the ministry of SonLife, the experience of serving as a church music director for 12 years, leading major teen chorale tours, and singing as a member of the "Spurrows."

The public is invited to attend this musical presentation and enjoy the contagiously enthusiastic members of "SonLife!"

What Bible Doctrin Is All About

As I was addressing a group at a church meeting, I noticed after my sermon that a great many of them were dismayed, even seeming provoked over what I had spoken on. It was not until later that I discovered that what was so objectionable to the congregation was my continued use of the word DOCTRINE. There are indeed many misconceptions of the word doctrine, but I believe we will find that its practical application in the church and in our lives is very much scriptural. The word "doctrine" itself comes from the Latin word "doctrina", which means "teaching or instruction". When we speak of Bible doctrine, we speak of just that: That which is taught through the inspired word of God. It is simple to define the term "false doctrine" then, understanding that it is such that is taught, but contradicts the word of God in some manner. The greatest weakness of the church today is its failure to recognize and address false doctrine and those who teach it. Just because: 1) Someone comes in the name of religion; 2) speaks religious language; 3) wears religious clothing; 4) is recognized by the majority as being a religious leader; or 5) uses the name of Christ, does not mean that we are to accept everything they say as being true Bible doctrine. If Corinthians 11:13-14 states, "For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light." If these workers are so deceiving, how are we to come to a conclusion as to whether what is being taught true or false doctrine? Speaking of the Bereans in Acts 17:11, "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily to see whether those things were so." We must receive things with an open mind when giving exhortation to God's word, but one only has to go as far as the study of God's word to determine if those things are so.

TEEN SUBSTANCE ABUSE capabilities received a big boost with the opening of Brighton Hospital's new Teen-Age Substance Abuse Treatment facility. Brighton's 20-beds increase the state's capacity by nearly 60%.

Brighton Hospital Opens Center for Teen-Age Substance Abuse Treatment

Each year, more than four million teen-agers in the United States fall victim to the devastating disease of chemical dependency. Of that number, 63,000 who live in southeast Michigan are considered problem drinkers/drug users. 18,000 need some type of formal treatment, and 3,000 need intensive in-patient treatment.

However, according to Ivan Harner, president of Brighton Hospital, "Substance abuse is treatable. With careful therapy, teen-agers can pull through it and resume a normal, productive lifestyle. And, families can begin to function the way healthy families do."

In response to this problem in Michigan, Brighton Hospital has just opened the Adolescent Treatment Center, designed to provide substance abuse treatment for 20 adolescents at a time, ages 13 through 17. Michigan previously had only 34 beds available for adolescent in-patient treatment. Brighton's 20 beds increases that capability by almost 60%. Brighton has a 40-year history of treating adult chemical dependency, having provided support and therapy to more than 40,000 adults from all over southeastern Michigan, including the Chelsea area.

According to Brad Casemore, Adolescent Center Program Administrator, "The 42-day adolescent program includes intensive assessment followed by individualized counseling and group therapy. We also focus on the basic and practical skills of everyday living that many chemically dependent adolescents lack."

The only facility of its kind in the Midwest, the Adolescent Center includes a residential wing, educational, therapy and conference areas, exercise and recreation facilities and a chapel.

To cover all bases, the Adolescent Center provides a multi-disciplinary treatment team including physicians, registered nurses, psychologists, consulting psychiatrists, addiction therapists, counselor technicians, teachers, family therapists, activities therapist, and a chaplain.

Two full-time teachers help each patient continue or improve his or her educational standing through individual tutoring and contact with the patient's teachers by phone. According to Harner, "This helps ensure the teen-ager a smooth transition back to school after treatment is completed."

An on-campus residential Family Center provides overnight accommodations for families who live beyond commuting distance.

Because teen-age chemical dependency affects the entire household, Casemore emphasizes, "Family participation is a necessary part of the treatment. Experienced family therapists help the family understand the nature of the disease and how to cope with the many ways the disease impacts the family unit. We feel fortunate to be able to offer a Family Center so families can stay on campus, if necessary, during the family participation portion of treatment."

Through years of experience, Brighton has learned the value of the aftercare portion of treatment. A strong program including Alcoholics Anonymous and/or Narcotics Anonymous helps recovery continue in the months following primary treatment.

Adolescent patients are admitted by a parent or other legal guardian. Referrals are accepted from other hospitals and treatment centers, physicians, clergy, attorneys, counselors and student assistance professionals.

"We are pleased to see that more and more people are recognizing the need for adolescent treatment and taking action to get these teen-agers help when they need it. Treatment can mean the difference between surviving and not surviving in many cases."

Brighton Hospital is fully licensed by the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Office of Substance Abuse Services. The Adolescent Center is also licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services. The hospital is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Health Care Organizations, a national standard-setting agency.

For information about the Adolescent Center, contact Brad Casemore, program administrator, at Brighton Hospital, 227-1211.

Artist Ben Bower, who resides in the Chelsea area, but whom lots of Dextertites consider their own, presented a program entitled, "Interpretation of Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County History."

Refreshments were furnished by Liz Kleinschmidt and Marge Smyth.

Farmers Recognize Need for Good Migrant Housing

Farmers recognize the need for good migrant worker housing and strongly support the state's housing grant program, according to Howard Kelly, agricultural labor specialist for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

"The program is doing a fine job and getting good returns for the workers, the growers and the state," Kelly said. "With the matching funds requirements unique to the Michigan program and new funding from FmHA, significant improvement in migrant housing is a realistic goal."

Kelly serves as a member of the Governor's Interagency Committee on Migrant Affairs.

"Providing good facilities is starting to be a matter of competition in this state. Growers need the migrant laborers and those growers with the good housing will find it easier to meet their seasonal labor needs," he said.

The committee recently toured migrant labor housing and health care facilities along the west side of the state. Two of the farm operations on the tour had recently finished construction of new housing for their laborers and were presented with a check from the state's share of the migrant housing grant program.

Dexter Area Man Completes Artillery Cannoneer Course

Pvt. Charles A. Graham has completed the basic field artillery cannoneer course at Fort Sill, Okla.

During the course, students were taught the duties of a howitzer or gun section crewman. They also received instruction in communications, maintenance and the handling of ammunition and explosives.

He is the son of Theodore E. Graham of 9072 W. Delhi, Ann Arbor, and Linda A. Graham of 7990 Gregory, Dexter.

The private is a 1988 graduate of Dexter High School.

Card of Thanks 19

THANK YOU
 Many thanks to the Chelsea Hospital Emergency crew, the Huron Valley Ambulance girls for a safe trip to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Dr. Marcus and his aides and the nurses for their care. Thanks too to LeRoy and Dolores Buss, Rusty LeFurge for chauffeuring my husband, Dolores for bringing me home, and to my niece, Janet, for food and all the get-well-wishes from family, relatives and friends. A special thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. Wimmeler for their prayers and concerns.
 Lodema Buss.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to express a sincere thank you to everyone who sent flowers, cards, or memorials when we recently lost our father, Merle Bissland. And to our many friends who supported us when we needed them, your care and concern will never be forgotten.
 Beverly and John Yelsik.

Memorial 20

DONALD WALZ
 In loving memory of our father, Donald Walz, who passed away 15 years ago Oct. 16. Memories are treasures no one can steal. Death is a heartache no one can heal. We won't forget though you are gone, but always remember, no matter how long. We love and miss you.
 Diane and Tylene

MARTIN SLANE
 In loving memory of my husband, Martin Slane, who passed away 8 years ago Oct. 9th. Your memory to me is a keepsake which I will never forget. Though God has you in his keeping, I'll always have you in my heart.
 Your wife,
 Edith Slane.

Farm Bureau Praises Agencies for Response To Latest Food Scare
 The prompt response of three federal agencies to the recent Consumer Pesticide Project effort to pressure food retailers to stop selling foods grown with pesticides, received praise from the Michigan Farm Bureau.
 "The immediate response by the Food and Drug Administration, the Environmental Protection Agency, and the Agriculture Department to reassure consumers helped prevent another unwarranted public panic such as we saw with the Alar issue," said Mike Kovacic, director of Michigan Farm Bureau's Information and Public Relations Division and member of the Michigan Safe Food Task Force. The three agencies charged the group with ignoring the evidence that many pesticides guard the food supply from plant diseases which could have a serious impact on over-all consumer health.

"Our food supply is the safest in the world, and we're working to make it even safer. Attempts such as the Consumer Pesticide Project unnecessarily scare the public and unfairly cast suspicion on our food chain and on the agencies charged with ensuring a safe food supply," Kovacic said. "Such misguided efforts are not in the best interests of the American public."

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

September 19, 1989

Regular Session.

The meeting was called to order at 7:35 p.m. by President Satterthwaite. Present: President Satterthwaite, Village Manager Stalker and Administrative Services Co-ordinator Fredette. Absent: Clerk Anderson. Trustees Present: Steele, Merkel, Kanten and Hall. Trustees Absent: Boham and Bentley. Others Present: Police Chief McDougall, Public Works Superintendent Bulson, Brian Hamilton, Lee Fahrner, Matt Zimmerman and Gary Evans. Motion by Kanten, supported by Hall, to approve the minutes of September 5, 1989 as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Eight (8) bids were released for landfill closure work. Of the eight (8) released, three (3) were returned as follows:

Chie Excavating	$322,181.00
Bailey Excavating	$328,872.50
Earthwork Engineers	$424,605.00

The above bidders submitted three(3) separate proposals for this work. The figures above represent Proposal I which was recommended for acceptance by our consultant, Midwestern Consulting.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Steele, to accept the low bid submitted by Chie Excavating for the sum of $322,181.00 for landfill closure work. Roll call: Ayes - Steele, Merkel, Kanten and Hall. Nays - None. Motion carried.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Kanten, to authorize funding for the installation of the bromide injection system, by Village personnel, at the landfill site contingent upon Michigan Department of Natural Resources approval of all other Village proposals necessary to obtain a license for the new call. Roll call: Ayes - Steele, Merkel, Kanten and Hall. Nays - None. Motion carried.

Village Manager Stalker read aloud a letter submitted by Lloyd Bridges which addressed Mr. Bridges' concerns relative to the proposed water and sewer tap connection fees. (Copy of letter attached to these minutes as Appendix A.)

Motion by Steele, supported by Hall, to approve the August Financial Report as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Regular meeting adjourned to the Zoning Board of Appeals at 7:50 p.m. Regular meeting reconvened at 7:55 p.m.

Trustee Kanten recommended that Council consider placing a moratorium on future annexation requests until a sewer capacity study can be completed.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, it has become apparent to this Village Council of the Village of Chelsea that due to the many development projects ongoing in the Village at the present time, that this will have an impact on our present utilities capacity; and

WHEREAS, there have been many annexation requests approved in the past few years; and

WHEREAS, said annexations pose an additional burden on village utilities; now

THEREFORE, it is the consensus of this Village Council that a moratorium be placed upon any further annexation of property into the Village for a minimum of six (6) months or until a study is completed regarding existing and estimated future sewage flows to the wastewater treatment plant.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hall, to adopt the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

RESOLUTION RE:

WATER AND SANITARY SEWER CONNECTION FEES

WHEREAS, Chelsea Village Ordinance No. 104, Compiled Ordinance General Code No. 25117, as amended, provides that connection fees be paid by the owner of any house, building or property used for human occupancy, employment, recreation or other purpose who shall obtain a permit to connect any building sewer to a public sewer, or to increase the number of building units or change the character or use of the house, building, or property; and

WHEREAS, the above mentioned Chelsea Village Ordinance No. 104, as amended, further provides that the Chelsea Village Council shall determine, by resolution, from time to time, connection fees as above mentioned, that are just and reasonable, and based upon engineering study; and

WHEREAS, Chelsea Village Ordinance No. 56-1, Compiled Ordinance General Code No. 25,054, as amended, provides that the Chelsea Village Council is authorized and empowered to make by Resolution all Regulations as it deems necessary for the efficient operation of the Village Water Supply System; and

WHEREAS, an engineering study has been submitted by the Village's Consulting Engineer, recommending the following connection fees:

Water and Sanitary Sewer Connection Fee Charge

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

September 19, 1989

Minutes.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Satterthwaite at 7:50 p.m. Present: Chairman Satterthwaite, Village Manager Stalker and Administrative Services Co-ordinator Fredette.

Absent: Secretary Anderson.

Members Present: Steele, Merkel, Kanten and Hall.

Members Absent: Boham and Bentley.

Others Present: Police Chief McDougall, Superintendent of Public Works Bulson, Brian Hamilton, Lee Fahrner, Matt Zimmerman and Gary Evans.

Motion by Hall, supported by Kanten, to approve the minutes of the September 5, 1989 meeting as submitted. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

A public hearing was held on the variance request of Chelsea United Methodist Home. There were no oral or written comments.

RESOLUTION

RE: VARIANCE NO. 89-12

WHEREAS, Application No. 89-12 has been filed by the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, 805 W. Middle Street, for a variance from the requirements of Section 5.19 - 15.716 of Ordinance No. 79 (Zoning Ordinance)—height of buildings or structures on said property described as follows:

Commencing at the E 1/4 corner of Section 11, T2S, R3E, Sylvan Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan; thence due south along the east line of said Section 917.54 feet to the south right-of-way line of Middle Street; thence along said right-of-way line S 70°30'00" W 35.01 feet to a point of beginning; thence due south 8.00 feet; thence S 70°30'00" W 85.00 feet; thence due south 384.64 feet to a point on the former north right-of-way line of the Detroit, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Jackson Interurban Railroad right-of-way; thence S 63°39'50" W 663.84 feet along said right-of-way; thence due north 489.20 feet to the south line of the Penn Central Railroad right-of-way; thence W 70°29'00" E 995.91 feet along said south right-of-way; thence due south 825.58 feet along the west right-of-way line of Cavanaugh Lake Road; to the point of beginning, being part of the S.E. 1/4 of said Section and containing 12.3152 acres of land, more or less.

WHEREAS, this Zoning Board of Appeals has held a hearing, pursuant to Section 7.5-E, with no objections from area property owners and/or occupants of property; now

BE IT RESOLVED, that this Zoning Board of Appeals grant unto Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home a variance from the requirements of Section 5.19 - 15.716 of the Zoning Ordinance to allow construction of an independent living apartment building to exceed the height limitation of thirty-five (35) feet. Total building height, to top of ridge is 49'3" and 61'7 1/2" respectively. This Zoning Board of Appeals grants said variance on the finding that the replacement structure was established in 1905 and if variance is denied, the new concept would not blend with the integrity of the original building.

Motion by Hall, supported by Kanten, to adopt the above Resolution as read. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Motion by Steele, supported by Hall, to set the date of October 17, 1989 for a public hearing date to consider the variance requests submitted by Don Cole and Faith In Action. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hall, to adjourn. Roll call: Ayes all. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Jerry J. Satterthwaite, Chairman.
Barbara J. Fredette, Deputy Secretary.

VILLAGE OF CHELSEA VILLAGE MANAGER ORDINANCE Ordinance No. 105

An ordinance establishing the office of Village Manager; providing for the appointment, compensation and discharge of such official; specifying the branches of the Village Government and activities under the management and control and defining and limiting the rights, powers and liabilities of the Village Manager.

THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA ORDINANCES:

Sec. 1 Establishment of Office. In accordance with the authority for the appointment of such village officers as the council shall deem necessary for the execution of the powers granted to the village contained in Section 2 of Chapter II and Section 8 of Chapter V of Act. No. 3, P.A. of 1895, as amended, which is the charter of the Village, there is hereby established the office of Village Manager.

Sec. 2 Appointment of Village Manager. The President shall, with the concurrence of four or more Trustees, appoint a Village Manager for an indefinite term and the Council may, by contract, enter into such other terms and conditions as the Manager and council deem appropriate. The Manager shall serve at the pleasure of the Council and may be removed by the affirmative vote of four or more Trustees, but only after a hearing before the Council. The Council may suspend the manager with full pay until the hearing. The action of the Council in removing the Manager shall be final.

The Manager shall be selected solely on the basis of administrative and executive abilities with special reference to training and experience.

The Manager need not be a resident of the Village at the time of the appointment but shall become a resident within a period of time specified by the Council. Extensions of the specified period of time may be permitted upon approval of the Council. The Manager shall reside in the Village during the term of office following relocation.

Sec. 3 Acting Village Manager. The President, with the concurrence of four or more Trustees, shall appoint or designate an acting Manager during a vacancy in the office of Village Manager and shall make a permanent appointment within 180 days from the effective date of the vacancy.

Sec. 4 Compensation. The Village Manager shall receive such compensation as the Council shall determine annually by resolution or contract.

Sec. 5 Duties. The Village Manager shall be Chief Administrative Officer of the Village and shall be responsible to the Village Council for the efficient administration of all affairs of the Village and shall exercise management supervision over all departments except Police and Fire and over all public property belonging to the Village.

The Manager shall have the following functions and duties:

A. Attend all meetings of the Village Council and committees thereof and take part therein but without a vote;

B. Be responsible for personnel management and shall issue, subject to council approval, personnel rules applicable to all Village employees. The Manager shall have the following responsibilities:

(1) To appoint, suspend or remove all appointed administrative officers and department heads, except the Police Chief and the Fire Chief, subject to Council approval. The Manager shall recommend to the Council the salary or wages to be paid each such official.

(2) To appoint, suspend or remove all other employees of the Village except those employed by the Police and Fire Departments. All such actions shall be based on merit and taken pursuant to personnel rules approved by the Council. The Manager shall fix the salaries or wages of all such employees.

C. Exercise supervisory control over all departments specifically excluding the Police and Fire Departments and including the Department of Public Works; and the Street Commissioner shall be subject to the direction of the Manager.

D. Exercise supervisory responsibility over the accounting, budgeting, personnel, purchasing and related management functions of the village clerk and village treasurer.

E. Shall be authorized to attend all meetings of village boards and commissions including the Village Planning Commission with the right to take part therein but without a vote.

F. Prepare and administer the budget as provided for in the Uniform Budgeting and Accounting Act, Act. No. 2, P.A. of 1968, as amended.

G. Be the purchasing agent of the Village.

H. Prepare and maintain an administrative code defining the duties and functions of the several officers and departments of the Village, subject to approval by the Council.

I. Investigate all complaints concerning the administration of the Village, and shall have authority at all times to inspect the books, records and papers of any agent, employee or officer of the Village.

J. Make recommendations to the Council for the adoption of such measures as may be deemed necessary or expedient for the improvement or betterment of the Village; and

K. Perform other duties required from time to time by the Village Council.

Sec. 6 Purchasing Responsibilities. The Village Manager shall act as purchasing agent for all Village offices and departments except the Police and Fire Departments. The Manager may delegate some or all of the duties as purchasing agent to another officer or employee provided that such delegation shall not relieve the Manager of the responsibility for the proper conduct of those duties.

The Village Manager shall have the authority to purchase any product or service the cost of which does not exceed $5,000 provided that the funds have been appropriated. The cost of the product or service shall not exceed the unencumbered balance of the appropriation for that account unless approval is granted by the Village Council. Except as hereinafter provided, the Village Manager shall not purchase any product or service the cost of which exceeds the above dollar amount without prior approval of the Village Council. The Village Manager may promulgate rules governing the purchase of products or services.

The Village Manager shall have the authority to purchase any product or service regardless of its cost when such purchase is necessitated by an emergency condition. "Emergency condition" is defined to mean any event which presents an imminent threat to the public health or safety or any event which would result in the disruption of a Village service which is essential to the public health or safety.

Sec. 7 Dealing with Employees. Neither the Council nor the Village President shall attempt to influence the employment of any person by the Village Manager or in any way interfere in the management of departments under the jurisdiction of the Manager. Except for purpose of inquiry the President and Council and its members shall deal with departments under the jurisdiction of the Village Manager through the Manager.

Sec. 8 Severability. If any portion of the ordinance, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be found to be an invalid by a court, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining portions or application, provided that such remaining portions or applications are not determined by said Court to be inoperable, and to this end, this ordinance is declared to be severable.

Sec. 9 This ordinance shall become effective 45 days after the date of adoption. If a petition, signed by not less than 10 percent of the registered electors of the village, is filed by the Village Clerk within the 45-day period, this ordinance shall not become effective until after the ordinance is approved at an election held on the question as provided by law.

Dated: October 6, 1989.
Allen L. Anderson,
Village Clerk.

NOTICE OF DELAYED EFFECT OF VILLAGE MANAGER ORDINANCE AND RIGHT OF PETITION To the Electors of the Village of Chelsea:

Ordinance No. 105, the Village Manager Ordinance, has been adopted by the Village Council on Tuesday, Oct. 3, 1989, under the provisions of Section 8 of Chapter V, Act No. 3 of the Public Acts of 1895, as amended, providing for the assignment of responsibilities to a Village Manager. The assignment of responsibilities under the Ordinance shall not take effect for 45 days after the date of adoption by the Village Council. If a petition signed by not less than 10% of the registered electors of the village is filed with the Village Clerk within the 45-day period, the Ordinance shall not become effective until after the ordinance is approved at an election held on the question.

Signed:
Allen L. Anderson,
Village Clerk.

Addictive Life Style

boundaries become blurred.

This is the broad picture we look at today when treating chemical dependency. The particular drug or compulsive behavior is important and needs to stop for recovery to begin.

But the whole compulsive system and addictive life style needs to be examined and changed if recovery is to be long lasting.

A family systems approach is one of the most effective ways to treat addiction. The approach will involve as many family members as possible, but certainly all who are living under the same roof or in close proximity to one another.

A comprehensive and detailed family history will be essential to the success of treatment. And numerous family sessions over a period of some time will allow opportunities for patterns of interaction to emerge. Feelings, long buried, can be gently explored and given appropriate expression. Desired changes can be identified, and gradually introduced to create a new and healthier family system.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing on behalf of my daughter, Kelly Balze, who on June 30 underwent the Ilizarov surgery in Baltimore, Md. The Ilizarov procedure is an external fixation device that will alter the position of one's bones.

I feel this type of surgery should get more publication because of the wonderful medical corrections it can accomplish. This is a fairly new procedure in the United States and is becoming more popular as time goes by.

As seen on the Phil Donahue show July 27, this procedure is not just for dwarfism, but for bone deformities and accident victims. As in my daughter's case, a congenital deformity known as fibular hemimelia, which was a right leg that never grew at the same rate as her left leg, leaving a 9-cm. difference. She has worn lifts on her shoes for nine out of 11 years. Not only is the Ilizarov surgery lengthening the tibia in her lower leg, correcting a rocker bottom foot deformity, but also widening her calf to conform to her left leg.

I am sure this would be a fantastic story to follow up on, not only now but a year from now to see the lasting outcome.

These kids that undergo this procedure should be praised and recognized highly due to the pain, frustration, and inconvenience that they must endure for the duration of this procedure.

Speaking for my daughter, Kelly, and all that she is going through, a little recognition would help tremendously in getting her through this very trying but promising time in her life.

Hopefully this story is worthy of publication to help others learn of the marvelous Ilizarov procedure.

Please contact me at (313) 634-5834 or 7285 Milford Rd. Holly 48442.

Mrs. Mary Jo Balze.

To the Editor:

I was in attendance at the Chelsea School Board meeting of Oct. 2, when Bill Gourley, a CHS band director, appealed to the school board to remove a letter of reprimand from his file and to be given back the day's pay that had been deducted from his paycheck.

The letter of reprimand and loss of pay occurred because he was not present for Teacher's Day (a 3-hr. session on administrative matters which was videotaped), Aug. 25. Instead, he was directing the CHS band at a scheduled and administration approved performance at Cedar Point that day.

It is the position of the board that he was insubordinate in not being present for Teacher's Day. They, and Superintendent Piasecki believed that the performance, could have been rescheduled or cancelled and that it was acceptable and expected that the 110 band members should travel to Cedar Point and perform without its director, but with parental chaperones instead.

In fact, rescheduling for performance would have been very difficult, if not impossible as the Cedar Point performances are sought after by many school music departments. As for cancelling, not only would that have deprived the students of the first performance of the school year, but Mr. Gourley is not empowered to make that decision. Only the superintendent or the school board can cancel a date after it has been approved and made a part of the school calendar, which this had been.

But the real concern here is to all parents of students at Chelsea Public Schools, not just music supporters. A potentially dangerous precedent is being set that would allow field trips to be taken without a faculty member present. I don't believe the majority of parents in this community would support the board or the superintendent in this decision, nor should they. The board's own Administrative Regulations governing excursions specifies that a responsible faculty member must be present on all field trips. To have expected the band to travel out-of-state with only parental chaperones is disregarding their own procedure and worse, showing disregard for the safety and educational concerns of the students.

Bill Gourley did the right thing in being present at his students' performance. If the school board and superintendent are interested in the safety and well-being of our children, they should have followed their prescribed Administrative Regulations and therefore must rescind their punitive actions against Bill Gourley.

The issue of concern for parents goes beyond this specific incident. If the school board wished to change its Administrative Regulations to allow field trips without faculty supervision, they should make all parents aware of this before we are asked to sign permission slips.

If this kind of policy change concerns you, as it should, please make your school board and superintendent's office aware of your feelings by calling or writing.

Norma Huscke.

The two great Renaissance artists Michelangelo and Leonardo Da Vinci were both left-handed.

To the Editor,

I have been a resident in Chelsea for the past five years and just attended my first school board meeting. I was very distressed with the actions of the school board in handling the problem brought forth by Bill Gourley, the CHS band director. The problem was caused by a schedule conflict between the first day of school for the teachers and the CHS band trip to Cedar Point. Bill Gourley was given a reprimand and docked a day's pay for fulfilling his role as the CHS band director.

During the discussion of this problem at the school board meeting Oct. 2 several key issues were surfaced that I feel were key to Bill Gourley's decision to accompany the band. Two of the issues that were raised centered around the school calendar and the proper authority for changing scheduled activities.

The band camp which culminates in the trip to Cedar Point was scheduled in January 1989; this is the first performance for the band. This must occur at the end of band camp to have the intended benefit. The school calendar was finalized in late June after the contract with the teachers was signed. The school was closed for the summer. There are 110 members in the band this year and reaching the students and parents to change their schedules is an extreme request to make to satisfy the superintendent and is unreasonable.

When these issues were discussed the school board's position was that Bill Gourley was solely responsible for the conflict. It was interesting that the board and superintendent did not deny that they have sole authority for making changes to an approved school calendar.

In my opinion the entire discussion was done in an adversarial manner rather than an open discussion of the best action to have taken for the welfare and benefit of the students and parents of the Chelsea school system.

Bill Gourley had attempted to reach superintendent Piasecki to resolve the situation and the superintendent's response was that Bill should not go and that the trip could be handled by a group of parents. This comment was followed by the observation that a professional teacher would be in their assigned place in the school and not with the students they are responsible for supervising.

I take extreme exception to this position as a parent I expect that the responsible teacher be with my children when they are on school approved functions and activities. If the school board and the superintendent support the kind of irresponsible action I am certain that the community will not accept this display of indifference to our children's well being.

I strongly urge the school board to reconsider the action taken in this matter as they are not acting on my behalf and I feel that other concerned parents should advise the board of their feeling in having their children sent on unsupervised field trips.

Bill Maybaum.

Lima Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting

Oct. 2, 1989

The regular meeting of the Lima Township Board was called to order at 8:17 on October 2, by Trustee Heller.

Present were Clark Barels, Supervisor Bauer, Treasurer Messman, Trustees Heller and Trinkle, and several residents.

The zoning inspector's report was received.

Approved motion to pay $75.00 per month payable in December and March, for the remainder of fiscal 1989-90, to the Village of Dexter recycle center.

Approved tabling the resolution regarding the Class C Liquor License request by Reddeman Lounge until further recommendation and discussion between the Lima Township Planning Commission and the property owners takes place.

Supervisor Bauer reported that tax tribunal appeals by Charles Pavitt and Charlotte Ingls were affirmed to township values. Tax tribunal appeal by David Blough was changed for 1988 from $49,400 to $47,789 and for 1989 from $52,800 to $47,789.

Approved application for P.A. 116 for Rod and Kathy Powers.

Approved payment of bills as presented.

YOUNG SOUTH SCHOOL MUSICIANS got their first taste of playing stringed instruments last Friday during an introductory class given by University of Michigan music students, their teacher, Bob Culver, and the Chelsea School District's new string orchestra director Peter Rosheger. The occasion was the first in a series of speakers sponsored by the Enrichment Triad Program. The program was repeated Monday afternoon at North Elementary school. South school musicians in the front row, from left, are Brett Putman, Leif Mangelsen, Casey Wescott, Kate Heil (playing cello, not pictured), Kasele Ruhl, Amanda Snay, Jeanette McDougall, Jessica Messner, and Sooner Brooks-Heath. Students and teachers, in the back, from left, are Fina Graginski, James McCleod, Carolyn Mexilavoce, Cheryl Burchill, Brooks Barnes, Peter Rosheger, Scott Pendelton, Peter Deveen, Bob Culver, Connie Hoffman, and Mike LaTuba.

Lioness Again Sponsoring Halloween Haunted House

This year the Chelsea Lioness will again have local celebrities appearing in the crowd-pleasing haunted house.

The haunted house will feature teachers Nancy Cooper and Ruth Stielstra; school principals Bob Benedict, Bill Wescott and Darcy Stielstra; former high school principal John Williams; school superintendent Joe Piasecki; and police chief McDougall.

Chelsea Lioness, Lions and area monsters will ensure scary but good-natured fun for both school-age children and adults. Groups will be escorted through a maze filled with haunting scenes and atmosphere, all in the spirit of Halloween fun.

For those brave enough to try this cathartic experience, it will be at the UAW Hall on Main St., next to the Chelsea post office, Friday and Saturday nights, Oct. 27-28, from 7 to 10 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Proceeds from past years have been used for SADD, Chelsea Fireworks, Chelsea Scholarship, Chelsea Children's Co-op, Faith in Action, Girl Scouts, and Special Olympics.
