

Fire Dept. Historical Notes from 1889 to 1989 Years

Part II, Historical Notes As Told by Retired Chelsea Fire Chief Jim Gaken

At the first meeting called to officially organize the fire department (which was operational, the previous year) in Chelsea, Fire Chief J. A. Palmer was named the first chief of the Chelsea Fire Department.

The meeting was held March 19, 1889.

Apparently, the department operated without official leadership, its first year.

First Equipment Purchase

The first equipment was purchased during 1889.

The years between 1889 and 1905, a span of 16 years, who filled the position of chief is not clear (from the records).

We know Chief Palmer was named in 1889, and at the meeting held Nov. 6, 1905, Howard Brooks was fire chief. He continued in that position through 1949.

Records showed Adam Epler as fire chief for perhaps a few months—a relatively short span, in any case.

The first mention of the fact was found in the minutes of a meeting held Jan. 16, 1906, which stated Epler called the meeting to order in the absence of president Brooks.

Again, in the minutes of April 2, 1906, Epler called the meeting to order in the absence of Brooks.

It was at that meeting, Chief Epler stated he couldn't attend to matters, and requested the firemen appoint another chief.

He suggested a petition be drawn up in favor of what man the fire department wanted.

A motion was made, supported and approved, that the secretary draw up the petition in favor of Howard Brooks.

From that time until March, 1949, Howard Brooks was fire chief.

Thomas Young was the fire chief from March, 1949, until Dec. 17, 1960, when he moved to Clinton and took over a hardware store.

Horner "Ted" Balmer served as fire chief for a 13-year period, Dec. 17, 1960, until March 11, 1963, before he retired as chief and left the department for health reasons.

Like Balmer, I (Jim Gaken) retired as fire chief, and left the department because of health reasons, but not before I had held the position for 18 years, March 11, 1963, until April, 1981.

After seven years service as fire chief of the Chelsea Fire Department, Paul "Bud" Hankerd continues to command the firefighters.

There is only one mention of assistant fire chief(s) in the two available minute-books.

The date of his starting is unknown, but Maynard Knickerbocker was an assistant chief.

From the record, on May 16, 1912, it was moved and supported that Milo Shaver be appointed assistant fire chief.

Those are the only two documented names designated assistant chief until the department was re-organized during May, 1949, after which there have been several assistant chiefs.

Thomas Young was the first, followed by Kenneth Schanz, both listed from memory.

If there has been an omission on my part, please forgive it, and do notify me, so that the record may be updated more fully.

After Ken Schanz, I (Jim Gaken) was assistant fire chief, after which Charles "Bud" Hanker served in that capacity.

Until his death, George Atkinson also served as assistant chief several years.

Mac Packard was elected to the assistant chief's position, and served until his retirement from the Chelsea Fire Department, and Paul "Bud" Hankerd was elected fire chief.

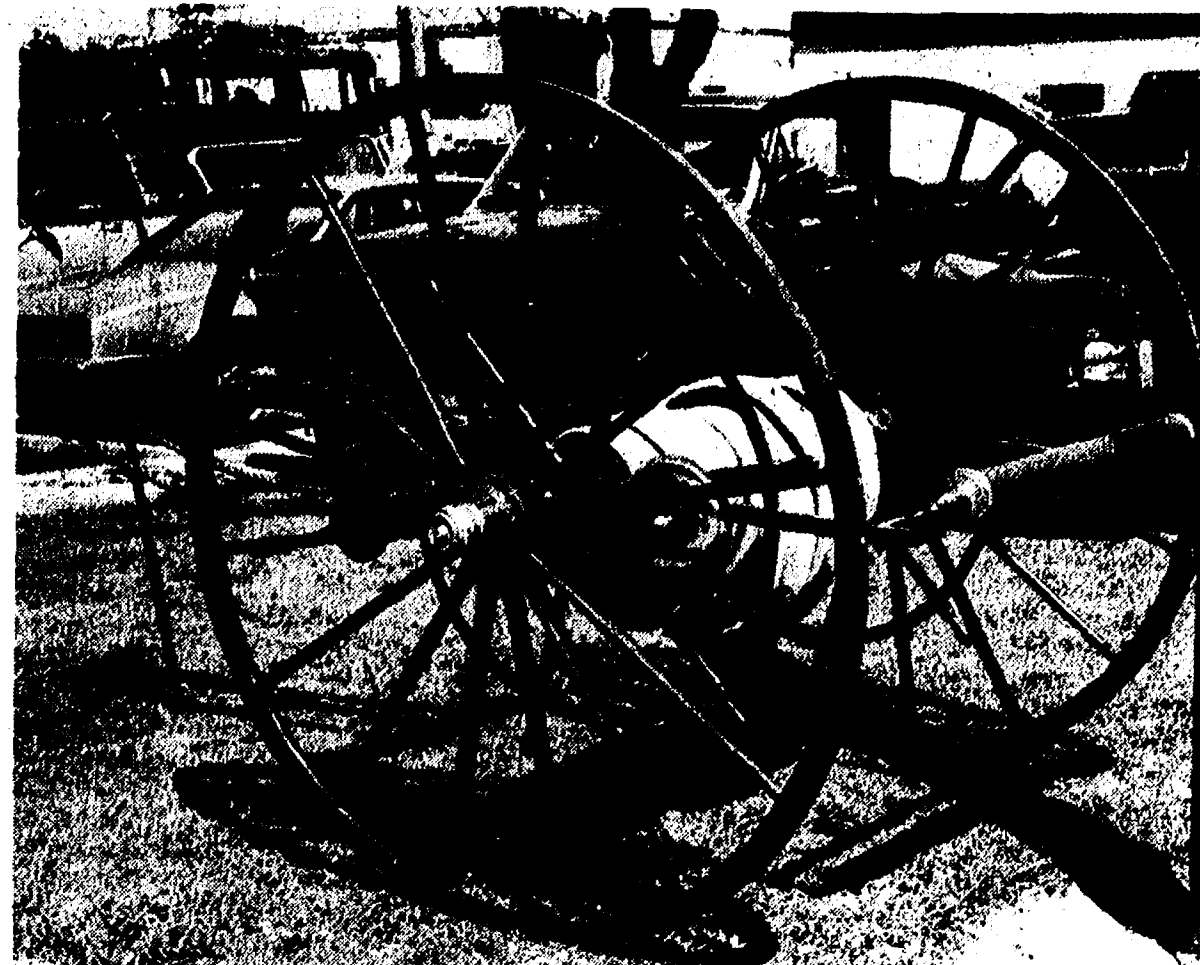

Then, Larry Koch was made assistant chief.

A few years ago, the chain of command was: chief, assistant chief, captain, 1st lieutenant, 2nd lieutenant, other firefighters.

The order was given that a chief or assistant chief must be at each and every fire, so the command rotation changed to: fire chief, 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th assistant chiefs.

As the Chelsea Fire Department celebrated its 100th year of operation, this week, Paul "Bud" Hankerd is fire chief, supported by Dan Ellenwood, assistant chief 1; Larry Koch, assistant chief 2; Jerry Kenney, assistant chief 3; Tom Osborne, assistant chief 4.

HOSE-CART 1, HOSE-CART 2, were each staffed in the early days of the Chelsea Fire Department with an assistant two hose-couplers, two nozzle-men, and two hydrant-men. The department celebrated 100 years of service, Saturday, Aug. 19.

Ken Larson Takes Job As Stockbridge Principal

Chelsea High school will have a completely new administration in November as assistant principal Ken Larson has accepted the principalship at Stockbridge High school, effective Nov. 13. His last day at CHS is Nov. 10.

Earlier this year, principal John Williams left for a job in Ingham county. His successor, Ronald Mead, will be here in early November.

Larson, a member of the CHS class of 1961, began his professional career in the district in 1968 as a mathematics teacher. He was also a coach. He made the switch to assistant principal in 1983.

"I have enjoyed my 21 years here and I can honestly say there was never a day when I wasn't excited about coming to work," Larson said.

"I'll miss working in the district, partly because I have a lot of deep roots here but now I have the chance to fulfill a lifelong dream."

Larson and his wife, Brenda, plan to continue to live in Chelsea at least until their youngest son, Scott, finishes high school, another four years. His contract does not have a residency clause so they may not move at all.

As assistant principal, Larson was heavily involved in discipline issues.

His new job will take him more into school programs, curriculum, and teacher evaluations.

"A neat part of the challenge is they are interested in implementing several extra-curricular programs such as forensics and debate," Larson said.

Larson will have a good model to follow as those programs at CHS have been successful for a number of years.

Stockbridge High school has an enrollment of 584 students, about 80 fewer than Chelsea.

Death of C. Cameron, Ex-Superintendent, Marks End of Educational Era

Former superintendent Charles S. Cameron, whose professional life was dedicated to the Chelsea School District, died Wednesday, Oct. 11 at his home following a battle with cancer.

Cameron, 74, known by some as a man who was almost too honest for his own good, spent his entire career in Chelsea. The man, remembered for his ever-present bow tie and pipe, started as a government teacher and athletic coach in 1937, became Chelsea High school principal in 1947, and superintendent in 1952, a position he held until his retirement in 1978.

When Cameron became superintendent, he followed through on the consolidation of the outlying schools into what is now known as the Chelsea School District, a job started by his predecessor, Albert Johnson.

Cameron supervised the longest sustained growth in the history of the school district. While he was superintendent, the district grew from 629 students to 2,575, a 409 percent increase. He was superintendent at the dedication of every school building now in use in Chelsea: South school, April 20, 1953, North school, May 6, 1955, Chelsea High school, Jan. 5, 1959, and Beach Middle school, Sept. 5, 1968. He was also responsible for the establishment of the bus garage, and the pool, named the Charles S. Cameron Pool at his retirement, was built during his tenure. In addition, the high school chapter of the National Honor Society is named in his honor.

It was also under Cameron that the Chelsea School District began to gain its state-wide reputation for excellence.

"Nobody in this community has been as instrumental to the quality of life as Charlie Cameron was," said former Cameron student Walt Zeeb, owner of Chelsea Greenhouse.

"He came here when all the school district was out in the country and he went through a dreadfully hard time. But he got everyone through it. There will never be another man like him. He was absolutely honest, didn't matter whether he liked you or not. You know, the truth isn't always popular."

Zeeb remembers Cameron as someone who taught him lessons that went far beyond his government class.

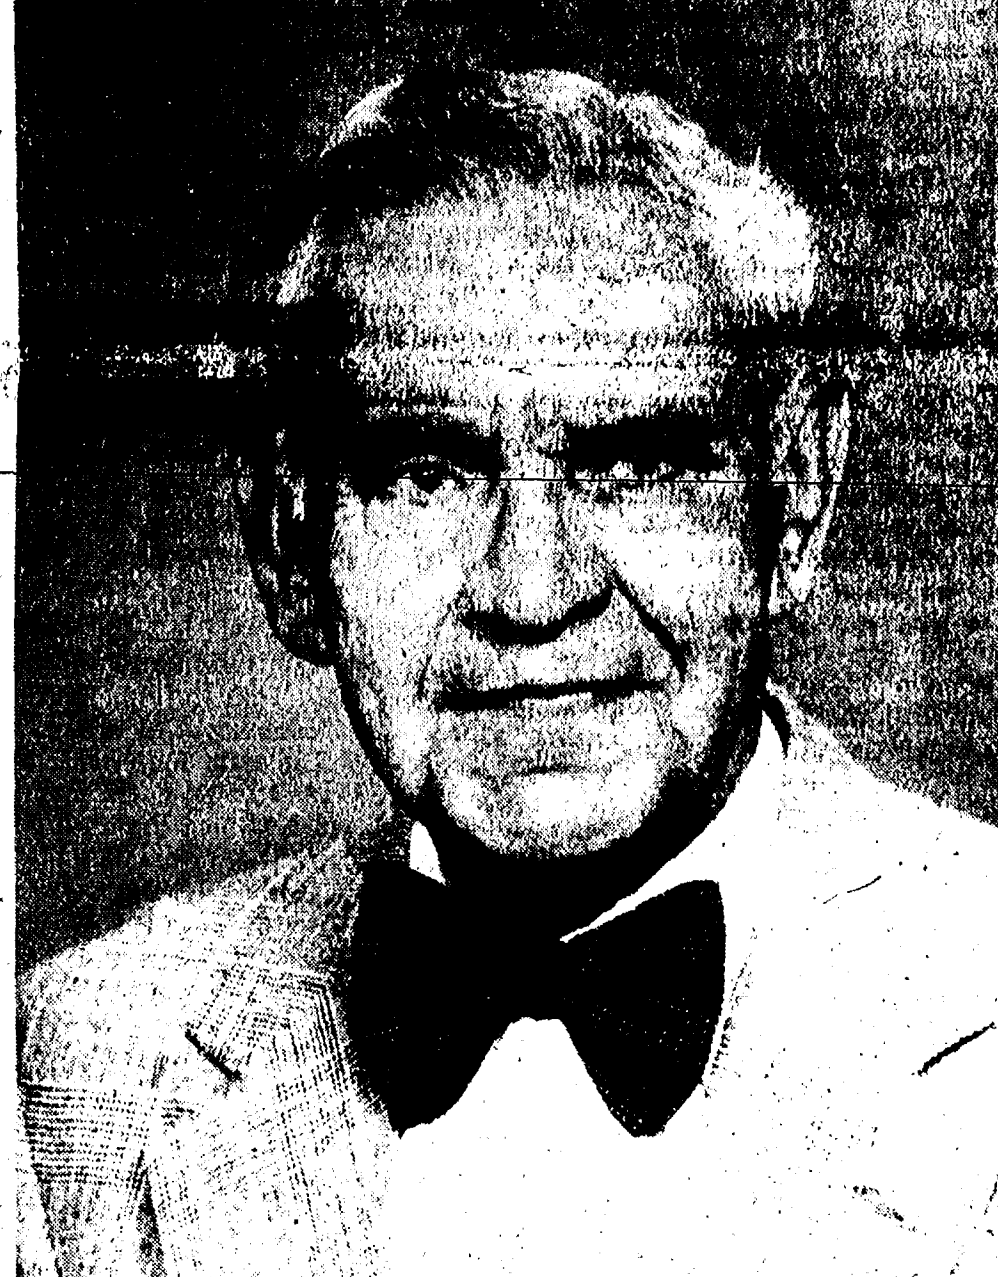

"He taught morality in his class, you couldn't escape that," Zeeb said.

"He taught moral character. He's probably influenced more people in this community than all the preachers combined."

Zeeb recalls Cameron as a fair and practical man. Zeeb, who had to get up early to milk the cows, as well as work at the greenhouse and the farm in the evening, said Cameron would let him sleep during first hour study hall rather than go to physical education class.

"He knew I was in good shape and that sleep was far more important to me," Zeeb said.

His reputation for pragmatism even lived on in the days after his death as his family decided to hold the funeral on Sunday so as not to conflict with the Michigan-Michigan State football game. "That's the way Charlie would have wanted it."

After his retirement, Cameron remained active in school events and regularly attended athletic events.

However, his public service didn't end with the school district. Cameron had more years of active service in the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea than any other member, and he served as president. He was a member of the First United Methodist church, the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club, Olive Lodge No. 156, and the Royal Arch Masons.

Cameron is survived by his widow, Ruth, whom he married in Kalamazoo in 1940. He is also survived by three sons and a daughter, Charles S. II, James K., George L., and Carol.

A huge crowd paid their final respects to Cameron on Sunday at the First United Methodist church. The service included a thunderous standing ovation in recognition of Cameron's service and commitment to the community.

Youths Injured in Accident Recovering at St. Joe's

Robert Bryant Beard, 18, who was critically injured in an automobile accident on July 29, is still in a coma but is showing some response to the presence of family members and friends, according to his father, Joe Beard.

Joe Beard, a passenger in the car that struck a tree head-on at the intersection of Grass Lake Rd. and M-52, has responded well to treatment and is expected to recover fully after extensive therapy. He and Beard are both still at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

An Ann Arbor girl was killed in the accident. Two other passengers have since been released from the hospital. Joe Beard also said that police have determined that his son, the driver, had not been drinking or using drugs prior to the accident. He said blood tests showed no alcohol or drugs in his blood.

"That was a great relief to us," Beard said.

"It was something we had talked about a lot."

Beard said his family was told the night of the accident that "Bry" would probably not survive. However, Bry has since improved a little bit each day and can now signal with two fingers and open his eyes. There are plans to move him to the rehabilitation floor to begin therapy and try to bring him out of the coma.

"The doctors are not making any predictions, they don't know what kind of recovery he might make," Beard said.

"But he's a tough kid and he's continuing to improve."

Bry had a summer painting job with his father at the time of the accident and was making plans to attend Washtenaw Community College with the goal of studying pharmacy at Ferris State College.

"Our family is very thankful for all the help the Chelsea community has offered," Beard said.

"You don't realize what a great community this is until you experience a tragedy."

CHS Marching Band Earns Top Rating at District Festival

Chelsea High School Marching Band received a superior first division rating at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's District 12 festival on Monday, Oct. 9.

Fifteen bands from southeastern Michigan performed at the festival, held in Southgate at the Downriver Community Center.

The bands were rated in marching, music, and over-all showmanship.

"All three adjudicators were impressed with the musicianship of the band and praised their maturity of sound and the excellent, full projected tone quality of the band," said director Bill Gourley.

The Chelsea band was awarded the highest music score of the 15 schools and was rated tops with Southgate and Anderson High school.

"The adjudicators also praised the band's over-all abilities," Gourley said.

"One adjudicator said their marching style and disciplined performance projected a powerful image that said 'watch us'."

The adjudicators also praised the Chelsea Color Guard, directed by Phil Jones, as an outstanding unit. Captain Laurie Honbaum and co-captain Kathy Schneider are responsible for the choreography.

The last performance of the marching band will take place Monday, Nov. 6 at the high school.

School Board Approves Revised Budget, Bans Styrofoam Products

Chelsea School District Board of Education approved a revised 1989-90 budget of $10,639,196 in revenues and $10,638,485 in expenses at their regular meeting Monday, Oct. 16.

In other board business, the district decided to ban all styrofoam products from the food service operation by Jan. 8.

Evidence was presented by Beach Middle school teacher Bev Yelsak showing how the use of styrofoam harms the environment.

Styrofoam products are currently used for nachos, soup, and hot drinks.

The board approved a resolution to borrow an additional $860,000 for operating expenses until winter taxes are collected. The district will seek bids on the loan package.

The Rev. Mark Weirauch was named interim chairperson of the Sex Education Advisory Committee.

The board also expressed an interest in a possible follow-up to a survey performed last year by high school student Sarah Schaeffer concerning drug use in the schools.

At the conclusion of the first full week of the 1985-86 Chelsea United Way fund drive, contributions and pledges totaled $7,595, according to Lang Ramsay and Dave Prohaska, co-chairmen of the year's drive. This represents nearly 12 percent of the $68,000 goal set by the board of directors.

Arthur Guy, P.E., and his wife, Ida Grace, who was dressed in a beautiful silk with gold trim sari, presented a program and filmstrip on India and the beautiful Taj Mahal. The Guys have lived in India periodically for a few years and have had many nice experiences with the people there and learned of their many customs. The Woman's Club was privileged to have three guests, Dorothy Montgomery, Sylvia Gilbert and Ellen Batzdorfer at their October meeting.

They stripped the paint off the bricks last summer. This spring they tore off the aluminum panels and recast the capital. They took an old thing of brick, wood and iron and gave it back its dignity. What was renewed was the old, the nostalgic, a facade dating back to the reign of Queen Victoria. Jack and Friedelle Winans, proprietors of Foster's and Vogel's set the idea in motion to restore their buildings to their former state. It is part of a vision they share to see Main St., Chelsea, restored to something of its former charm.

Scott Richardson spent time in "boot camp" this summer, and then nearly two months working near the jungles of South America. But it didn't have a thing to do with the military. If anything, it took him to the opposite extreme. Richardson, a senior at Chelsea High School, labored for Teen Missions International in Brazil this summer. Teen Mission is a non-denominational, Christian missionary organization that sends pre-college boys and girls to remote regions of the world. Richardson worked with a team of 35 to build a kitchen and meeting facility at Teen Missions camp in Sao Miguel, Brazil.

The total of personalized plates more than tripled the number of personalized plates sold the previous year.

Kathy Matthews Brubaker was named Co-ordinator of Nurse Education at Chelsea Community Hospital. Mrs. Brubaker's position encompassed continuing education for the nursing staff at the hospital as required by various agencies and included orientation of new nursing personnel to the hospital. Her role also involved education and counseling of patients with dysfunctions such as diabetes and hypertension. Mrs. Brubaker obtained her BS degree in nursing from Goshen College in Indiana in 1971.

John W. Comstock, Co-operative Extension director in Lenawee county since 1980, was named to the same position for Washtenaw county. His duties in Washtenaw county included providing leadership for the efforts of the Co-operative Extension Service program in agriculture and marketing, natural resources and public policy, 4-H youth programs, and family living education.

Production was set to begin within two weeks at Chelsea's newest industry, the Industrial Plastics Specialties Company. An industrial processor of plastic materials, the new plant was located in the former Tokheim building next to the Community Fairgrounds on Old US-12 west. The manufacturers were to specialize in the development and production of both flexible and rigid plastics, to be extended in both profile sections and sheet stock. Production of plastic pipe, tubing, shapes and forms for industrial uses by both small private operators and big industries was planned.

Outonagon, St. Clair, Lenawee Targeted for Waste Site Areas in Lenawee, St. Clair and Outonagon counties have been named as potential areas for regional dump site for low-level radioactive wastes.

James F. Cleary, commissioner of the state waste authority, said the three were the largest tracts within the 3 percent of the state's land area not excluded on the basis of environmental, population, historic and other factors.

Legislators representing the targeted areas raised immediate and expected objections, and some alleged political motivations in the process.

Cleary, denying politics was involved, said decisions involved only application of the criteria to select a site and keeping the number of areas to a minimum in order to effectively work with areas affected.

The areas chosen, each over 15,000 acres in size, topped a list of 10 areas of at least 10,000 acres which were not excluded in the screening process, for the planned 1,200-acre dump site.

A site selection process will then identify by spring 1990 three potential sites for the dump itself to receive low-level radioactive waste from seven states, site characterization work and hearings, and the final site recommended to the Legislature by 1991.

Cleary said he continues to oppose national policy which led the designation of a site in Michigan, saying too many regional dumps are being created, and said it is yet possible that the process will determine no area in the state will make a suitable site.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

But he called the process he is leading "the only game in town" and is committed to building a facility which is safe.

The target areas are:
—St. Clair county, within a space between Capac, Emmett and Yale, covering 18,750 acres.

—Southern Outonagon county near Ewen, covering 18,750 acres.

—Southeastern Lenawee county near Blissfield, covering 15,500 acres.

Cleary said he limited the candidate areas for what he called a "complex social, environmental and political issue" to avoid a countdown from a multitude of areas to the final site and to be able to effectively work with the areas involved.

Ellen Beal of Don't Waste Michigan, a group opposed to a site anywhere in the Great Lakes basin, said the candidate areas are "about what we expected." The group filed suit in June to force the information to be made public.

But she said it was "arbitrary" to limit consideration to only the three largest areas, noting the next largest in line included one site in Ingham county and another among the top 10 included one in Washtenaw county.

Beal said the larger land areas were designed to narrow public opposition. But she said she was not surprised with the selection of Lenawee and St. Clair counties because of their bedrock characteristics.

She said the group is investigating legal options to slow the process down.

While he expects opposition from any potential site areas, Cleary noted the host communities will be given a

$2 million annual benefit package to use as they wish. But he added, "I don't know if the communities will ever accept it."

Sen. Dan DeGrow (R-Port Huron) said he was surprised one of the areas was in St. Clair county because of its proximity to Lake Huron. "I thought it would be in the middle of the state and stay away from the water. I will never be convinced it should be in my district," he said.

But he said he would review the commission's material to try to at least satisfy himself the process was fair.

DeGrow said he may also support legislation to withdraw Michigan from the compact.

Rep. Tim Walberg (R-Tipton) said he was disappointed and frustrated with the selection of Lenawee as a possible site, and suggested "political overtones" guided the selection.

"I find it hard to believe that there are not others available and not near heavy population centers," he said. And, he said the area covers some of the best farmland in the state, a factor that was to be used to exclude potential sites from consideration.

Sen. Norm Shinkle (R-Lambert) objected to the Lenawee site because of its proximity to urban development in Ohio, and said, "The idea that a community will get a site whether it likes it or not, I hope we dispel that right now."

He did not rule out any area, including his, accepting the dump after negotiations, adding the $2 million in incentives should just be a starting bid.

William Lukens, executive director of the Michigan Coalition of Radioactive Material Users, said the action represents "an important step forward to handle the disposal of low-level radioactive materials in an environmentally safe and responsible manner."

He said the group, representing over 700 licensees of radioactive materials, will work with the state to ensure development of a safe facility.

Meanwhile, Public Health Director Raj Wiener, who said she is confident the state can operate a dump safely, announced steps to strengthen her department's regulatory control over all low-level radioactive waste, including the new dump site.

She said state regulation will assure better safeguards than could be gained under the federal regulations, who she said have no real commitment to low-level waste regulation.

"If we are the regulators, we can say it will either be a safe facility or we won't license it," Wiener said.

Others on the state Radioactive Waste Advisory Board suggested the threat to the public would be greater if health facilities using radioactive treatment and research devices were shut down because no site exists for disposal of wastes, than from siting a dump site in Michigan.

The department is increasing efforts to negotiate a formal agreement with the Nuclear Regulatory Commission over generation, handling, processing, transportation and disposal of low-level waste.

State law will have to be changed to strengthen the department's regulatory authority and clarify provisions under the seven-state compact

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster reminded the fellers at the country store Saturday night that truth has been called the place where folks stop looking. That may or may not be, Clem declared, but for sure truth is hard to find and harder to hold as self evidence in dealing with people and countries that can't agree on what it is. Clem said he has been following some of the United States' trade policies in the papers, and the more he reads the more added he gets.

For instant, he went on, he has noted that we are the good guy when we want to keep Colombian cocaine out of our country, but Great Britain is the bad guy when she wants to keep American snuff out of her country. We got plenty of legal tobacco to sell, and we figger we got a right to sell it where we want, even if the British don't want it for fear her young people will get hooked on stuff hazardous to their health. Colombia has plenty of cocaine, Clem said, and the truth as we know it is that nobody there thinks of cocaine as illegal except the Government that knows America is her best cocaine customer and her best chance of bringing in enough money to raise the living standard of her poor.

Furthermore, Clem went on, he has been trying to find the truth about us adopting Poland, and why we are so set on saving that country from a fate worse than Hungary that ain't doing at all bad by herself. Clem said the last time he checked Poland was on the other side and our Federal Government was $3 trillion in debt. Now we're falling all over ourselves to give Poland $100 million and we feel guilty because the labor leader we think runs this "non-Communist" country is upset because he ask for $10 billion.

Practical speaking, Clem declared, the way we look at international trade it ain't no wonder that when one Japanese trader come over here recent and bought 200 wooden bowties to take back home as gag gifts it was in all the papers. When the Japanese buy anything we make it's man bites dog news, Clem said, and our joy knows no bounds when the Japanese set up another plant here to train and work Americans to make somepun to sell to Americans.

Clem's speech got mixed reviews. Bug Hookum viewed with some alarm the idea of Clem putting snuff and cocaine on the same trade level. Bug said tobacco is traded open all over the world, and that trade among nations has to be based on products that nations agree are legal and agreements that are binding. It is true, Bug said, that America tried and failed to make alcohol illegal and that cocaine and marijuana prohibition ain't working all that good. And it is probable true that dope addicts only hurt others when they are trying to get illegal dope. But that's a far piece from opening our shores to ever drug dealer in the world, was Bug's words.

General Zeke Grubb said, our Federal Government sends mixed signals to us and to other countries because it is mixed up. In everything to do with finances, for instant, it tells us to do as it says do, not as it does. Zeke had saw the other day where the Federal Reserve said it wanted to get Americans to save more as a way of keeping up the strength of the dollar. In practice, Zeke said, the Government's saving habits remind us of nothing so much as the drunk trying to drink himself sober.

Like Mark Twain said, to do good is noble, but to advise others to do good is also noble and much less trouble.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Woman's Club Hears Interesting Talk on First Lady Fashions

Woman's Club of Chelsea met at the McKune Memorial Library club room Tuesday, Oct. 10 to hear Marjory Frank speak on the subject "All Dressed Up."

Frank brought her collection of doll-sized First Ladies. She described how the presence of some of her daughter's retired and idle dolls had given her the idea of dressing them in authentic replicas of the inaugural gowns of our country's first ladies.

The search for available fabrics and materials to reproduce authentic copies frequently resulted in the need to create materials scaled to size.

Beginning with Martha Washington and ending with Nancy Reagan, Frank described the individual gowns, their materials and styles, and the personalities of the ladies who wore them. Interesting anecdotes related the historical period represented by each lady.

Guests for the meeting and program were Glenna Bittle, Lois Moore and Billie Zenz.

Following the program, Ginny Johnson, president, conducted a brief business meeting. Program chairperson, Linda Cole, announced that Laurie Gravelyn will be the speaker at the next meeting Oct. 24 on "Shopping Tips." Cole also noted a change of date for the November meeting to Monday, Nov. 13.

Hostesses for the evening were Joyce Vogel and Maxine Newton.

All women in the community and surrounding area are cordially invited to attend a club meeting. For additional information, please call Sylvia Gilbert, membership chairperson, 475-8317.

HENNESSEY-NEWCOME: June Hennessey, of Detroit, was married to Ted R. Newcome, of Ann Arbor, formerly of Chelsea on Saturday, Oct. 7 at St. Veronica's church in East Detroit.

Chelsea High school Class of 1980 will hold a second organizational meeting for their 10th year reunion on Thursday, Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. at the Wolverine. Classmates interested in helping with preparations are urged to attend.

Some preliminary decisions were made at the first meeting, including the date and location of the reunion. It will be held Saturday, July 14, 1990 at the Holiday Inn in Ann Arbor. If there is enough interest, a picnic will be held the following day at an as yet undecided location.

Organizers hope to have more detailed information in the mail to all classmates by February, 1990. Anyone reading this article who has an address of an out-of-town or out-of-state classmate is asked to phone Debbie Honbaum Bourdon at 878-3274 or Jamie Atkinson Seyfried at 475-2002, evenings.

Those planning the reunion hope that all members of the Class of 1980 will be able to attend so the "Class with Class" can get together and have a terrific time.

Lima Extension Told About Storing Valuable Papers

Sunshine, fresh country breezes, and a whiff of chili in the air, greeted 14 Lima Extension Homemakers as they arrived at the home of Fran Coy, Oct. 11, at 10:30 a.m.

A scrapbook of 50 years of memories, well recorded by historian Elsa Ordway, was thumbled through and enjoyed as the stories of the "good old days" in Extension came forth. Many 50-year members reminisced the long days of canning and upholstering. The making of mattresses with material supplied by the Extension office was mentioned by Donna Bradbury. A very active member on these projects of yesteryear was Katherine Reddeman who joined the group this day to receive her 50-year pin.

Two remarkably different chilis along with many other home-made dishes and pies were enjoyed for lunch after all members were reminded of dues and the Dec. 2 bazaar and white elephant sale. Delicious rolls, coffee and tea were provided by co-hostesses Merle Coy and Mary Hasselwerdt.

Having our valuable family papers copied, recorded and stored in the right places was the lesson given by Charlotte Ingalls, with much enthusiasm and concern. A full page of items such as wills, funeral directions, certificates of many kinds, employment records, insurance, tax records, deeds, mortgages, credit cards, banking information, stocks, bonds, etc., were talked about as listed. A booklet titled "Record of Important Family Papers" is available for 50¢ at the County Extension Office. A booklet of records that all families should have.

"Christmas from Dayspring" was asked for again this year, Nov. 8 at 10:30 a.m. Alice Gardner and Adeline Stone will host at Lima Town Hall. Janet McCalla will bring the turkey and other members will bring a special Thanksgiving dinner dish for the luncheon. Guests or new possible members are welcome.

Your Pharmacist and You ... A Winning Combination

Pharmacy today is changing rapidly which requires the role of the pharmacist to change just as rapidly. New medications, side effects, the proper use of prescription and over-the-counter medication, and the changes in insurance policies and procedures are all issues on the consumer's mind. Along with these new issues arise consumer questions which the pharmacist is equipped to answer.

This year's Michigan Pharmacist Week, Oct. 15-21, is a reminder to consumers to utilize the services and information which can be provided by their local pharmacists, such as those at Chelsea Pharmacy or at ChelseaCare in Chelsea Community Hospital.

The goal of Michigan Pharmacist Week is to encourage consumers to ask their pharmacist about any questions or concerns they may have about their medication or other health care areas.

The pharmacist is a trained professional required to take continuing education classes every year to keep abreast of the latest pharmacy findings and issues of concern.

Questions about prescription or over the counter medications might include finding out: what the medication is supposed to do; what foods, beverages, or other medicine should be avoided while taking the medication; possible side effects; obtaining written information about the medication.

All it takes is the consumer to take the first step, and voice their inquiries so that the pharmacist can put his or her acquired knowledge and training to beneficial use.

As part of its Michigan Pharmacist Week observance, the pharmacists at Chelsea Community Hospital will provide a free, call-in "Ask the Pharmacist" program to area residents. On Friday, Oct. 20, the public is encouraged to phone in any questions about prescription and non-prescription medications, drug interactions, storage and labeling information, as well as any other health-related inquiries that they may have.

The "Ask the Pharmacist" line will be open to the public Friday, Oct. 20 and may be reached by calling 475-1196 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. Visitors are also invited to stop in at ChelseaCare, Chelsea Community Hospital's outpatient pharmacy that day from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. with their questions.

Consumers should feel comfortable asking questions and confiding in their pharmacist. Pharmacists are often the most accessible member of the health care team, and the consumer should take advantage of this, not only during Michigan Pharmacist Week but every week.

Visit your pharmacist during Michigan Pharmacist Week, and find out for yourself why your pharmacist and you truly are "a winning combination."

What They Don't Tell You About Proposals A and B

A year ago the state of Michigan was threatening to declare the Detroit school system bankrupt and take over its operation. The seizure never happened but it did occur in Jersey City. There the state disbanded the school board and fired the six top administrators. Investigators charged the city's political machine with patronage and corruption in handling the $180 million school budget.

About the same time, the Texas Supreme Court in a 9-0 decision declared the state's method of school financing unconstitutional. Great gaps between funding affluent and poor school districts violated the state constitution which requires "efficient" education. Their conclusion is that inequities in financing inevitably result in academic inequalities.

That's what we're up against in Michigan where on Nov. 7 we will have our choice at the polls between two wrong solutions.

Proposal A will increase our sales tax from 4¢ to 4½¢ and cost the taxpayers $400 million a year. Proposal B will increase our sales tax from 4¢ to 6¢ at a cost of $1.6 billion annually. If both proposals pass, the one getting the most votes becomes law.

The professed goals of these proposals are (1) to improve the quality of K-12 education well before the 21st century, (2) to establish and maintain equity in educational funding for each child in every school district and (3) to provide tax relief for overburdened property owners.

We have fallen behind in the use of our language and treasures of literature, in the wonders of new technologies and in the explosions of our sciences. The warnings of "a rising tide of mediocrity," issued in A Nation At Risk in 1983 by the U.S. Department of Education, are as meaningful as ever.

Here in Michigan, as in other industrial states, hundreds of thousands of 18-year-olds are rejected by employers as uneducated. Millions of dropouts can't read the letters on factory machines and walls that spell "danger" while others are unable to count change correctly in a transaction involving a $5 bill. Some high schools are sending graduates to college who must be given remedial lessons in English and math before being admitted to freshman classes.

School "Reform" Proposals

Along with the rest of the nation, we urgently need school reform but the need is essentially academic, and only partly financial. What is more, educational planning, programming and instruction belong in control of educators with ironclad protection from the blundering and venality of legislators.

Consider:

★ Both Proposals A and B begin with the same identically-worded paragraph—a left-handed mea culpa about the state lottery. Twice the lawmakers vow not to use lottery profits for non-educational purposes any more.

★ The legislators are so confused about what they will do with the money sought in Proposal B, that they promise to put the decision off for five years. Section 11 provides: "Beginning in 1995 and every 5 years thereafter the state board of education shall make recommendations to the state legislature regarding the revision of methods used for providing improved school financing, equity in school financing and providing quality programs . . ." By 1995 they will have collected $8 billion in extra sales taxes.

★ Some owners are promised property tax relief. They will get temporary relief in millage cuts averaging 17 percent in 1990 but there will be no cap on the over-inflating $100 state equalized valuation. Each year homes will continue to be worth more and taxed more . . . plus the 6¢ sales tax.

★ Our present 4¢ sales tax is enjoyed by the householders of Michigan far more than the householders of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin enjoy their 5¢ sales taxes. If we deliberately boost our sales tax to 6¢ we will be sacrificing a major advantage in competition for new industries and more jobs. Outstate industries seeking a Midwest location do not make the choice on the basis of sales tax alone, but it is definitely a factor in arriving at a site selection.

The Great Escape Clause

Robert LaBrant, vice-president of political affairs in the state chamber of commerce, invites voters to study the wording of Proposal B, warning that it is "filled with false promises and loopholes." He points to some of the shortcomings we have already observed and then notes, "Most important, we have discovered the proposed amendment contains a great escape clause Harry Houdini would be proud of."

The escape clause gives the legislature the right to provide for any changes in the promises of Proposal B by a simple vote of two-thirds of the legislature.

"This unprecedented loophole," Mr. LaBrant continues, "would be the only language in the Michigan Constitution that would allow the legislature to change certain requirements of the Constitution, without voter approval, proval, any time they're in session."

Yet another onerous provision of Proposal B is that it would wipe out great areas of local autonomy for district school boards and vest them in the state legislature. School boards will particularly lose control of policy-making.

Half Pennies

The appeal of Proposal A to some voters is that a ½¢ increase is much less expensive than the 2¢ hike provided by Proposal B. Actually, Proposal A is actually the age-old strategy of the camel getting its nose under the tent. The legislature will start with a seemingly-modest half-cent increase for education. After a year or so, there will be another half penny for education . . . or child welfare or old age assistance. And another and another until the legislators have saddled us after all with the whole 6¢ sales tax. Having gotten that far, they might tack on three more halfpence until we are paying a 7½¢ sales tax as the people of Connecticut do.

In the past 20 years our state and local school support has gone up from $2.0 billion to the $7.5 billion estimated for 1990. That averages out to an annual increase of almost 19 percent a year. Most of us would be in seventh heaven if our personal incomes soared at a rate like that.

During the 1986-87 school year, as reported in the current World Almanac, our Michigan school teachers averaged $31,500 a year. Among the 50 states, Michigan teachers were second only to Alaska. It's too bad to see the Michigan Education Association come out in favor of Proposal A when the $400 million annual increase in school funding is already more than that.

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce is opposed to both Proposals A and B because we have enough money in the treasury and enough state income to pay for school improvements and pupil equity. Our district representative, Margaret O'Connor is also opposed to proposals A and B. She is convinced we have sufficient in state funds if we can only induce our legislators to stop spending millions on local projects that fail to meet state-wide needs. Mrs. O'Connor's current list of pork barrel awards contains than 700 spending proposals. Most of these are community projects that do not merit state support. There are also costly state enterprises that are far less urgent than K-12 education. We're thinking of the Zilwaukee bridge fiasco which has cost $37 million so far, or restoration of the state capitol building at $45 million. We are mindful of the "Say Yes To Michigan" ad campaign at $10 million which may turn sour if a 6¢ sales tax is enacted.

All in all, Proposals A and B are badly conceived and seriously flawed. Most of all they are not needed. We will be well-rewarded for going to the polls Nov. 7 and defeating both of these tax proposals.

TOM STEPP of Chelsea shot this eight-point buck last Thursday, Oct. 12 shortly before 7 p.m. in the Waterloo area. It was Stepp's 50th buck in his hunting career, and his eighth with a bow. Stepp took the 154-pound animal from a tree stand in a swamp area. He also reported seeing a lot of "button bucks," or young bucks, which indicated plenty of good hunting ahead.

SPAULDING FOR CHILDREN received a check for $1,500 from the second annual Nicholas J. Kelsner Memorial Softball Tournament held in July at Weber Fields in Chelsea. The tournament was established by the Kelsner family in memory of Nick Kelsner, who died last year in a motorcycle accident. His love for softball and concern for children inspired the idea. Fifteen teams participated in the tournament and B-1 Bar of Jackson was the champion. Above, Nick's widow, Dawn, and brother, Ken, visit the Spaulding farmhouse on Waltrous Rd. to present the tournament proceeds.

Man Awakened From Stupor in Wolverine Lot

A 37-year-old patient at Chelsea Community Hospital's Kresge Center was found unconscious in the Wolverine Food & Spirits parking lot on Wednesday, Oct. 11, according to Chelsea police.

Police found the man passed out by the dumpsters. An officer eventually managed to wake the man up and asked him whether he had been drinking. "Too much," the man replied.

The concert, "Music of America," will feature music by American composers.

Patrice Pedersen will be making her debut as the schools' new vocal music instructor.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Women employees are twice as likely to stay home with a sick child (65 percent) as male employees (32 percent), according to the U.S. Labor Department.

"Common sense is instinct. Enough of it is genius . . ."

—George Bernard Shaw.

We all possess common sense to some degree, though a few among us seem determined to prove that the amount is not too large. Common sense refined a bit becomes "good judgment." When one has it in quantity, it is, as Shaw observed, a characteristic mark of genius.

Perhaps we might find that each of us possesses more native common sense than we suspect, if we would only follow its dictates. We should be prompted and guided less by whim, habit, prejudice and loyalties of dubious merit, and more by our common sense.

Fire Dept. Historical Notes from Past 100 Years

Tracing the first years of the department, they had a chief, and captains of the hose-carts and the hook-and-ladder.

Each captain of a hose-cart—there was hose-cart 1 and hose-cart 2—had an assistant, two nozzlemen, two hose couplers, and two hydrant-men.

The captains and assistants were elected, and the captains, with the department chief, picked their men. The same was true for the hook-and-ladder, although the men, except the assistant captain, had no titles.

The old minutes mentioned not having an assistant chief—when the captains would act in the absence of the fire chief.

Hook-and-Ladder Purchased

The first fire apparatus purchased for the Village of Chelsea was a hand-drawn hook-and-ladder wagon with 12 rubber buckets, purchased for $268 on July 20, 1888.

It was manufactured by Rumsey and Company, New York. This was later converted to a horse-drawn hook-and-ladder.

In 1969, during the Chelsea Sesqui-centennial (125th) Celebration, one of the firefighters located a hook-and-ladder very similar to the one the village purchased in 1888.

It didn't have the buckets, so regular round-bottomed metal fire pails had to be substituted.

The wagon was purchased by the Chelsea Firemen's Association, and will be on display during the Fire Prevention Week Open House.

The wagon had a rope that could be unwound, depending on the number of men available to pull.

Each fireman grabbed a rope, and they ran to the fire.

The wagon carried ladders, buckets, and pike poles, in addition to kerosene lanterns.

The vehicles next purchased were two chemical wagons, in May of 1889 for the sum of $1,108.45.

There isn't much about the chemical wagons I can remember being told.

They were a great step forward, an improvement of fire protection for the Village of Chelsea.

To my knowledge, there are no pictures available of the chemical wagons.

I imagine the wagons were hand-drawn and had what would amount to an oversized soda-acid fire extinguisher.

When they arrived at the scene of a fire, the extinguisher would be activated.

The bicarbonate of soda and sulfuric acid in the solution made it hazardous to use in the presence of some materials.

New Shoes, Jacket Ruined

I do remember my grandfather telling me that at the first fire he went to, he ruined a new pair of shoes and a leather jacket—and made 50 cents for the call.

Hose, Rolled and Carted

During that era, there were two hand-drawn hose-carts.

The fire hose was rolled on a large spool, and there was a nozzle and a hydrant wrench on the apparatus.

When the men arrived at the fire, the hose was attached to the fire hydrant, and the nozzle was attached to fight the fire.

There are accounts in the available minutes, where each year there were captains elected as well as assistants, who picked their men for nozzlemen, hose couplers, and hydrant men.

Also recorded in the council minutes was a mention of an old hose wagon, which sold for $20, June 3, 1918.

In 1959, when the Firemen's Association purchased the hook-and-ladder, they also purchased an old hose-cart, which was displayed during the 100th-year celebration, and again, Sunday, Oct. 15, during the Fire Prevention Week Open House.

On June 17, 1918, a committee was appointed to confer with the fire chief, to investigate purchasing a motor truck for the fire department, and to report at the next meeting.

On July 1, 1918, a motion was approved to contract with American LaFrance Engine Company, Syracuse, N. Y., for the new fire truck, as per the proposal and contract submitted by the company agent.

Model-T Fire Truck

The new truck was a one-ton, Model-T Ford chassis with a combination chemical and hose-cart mounted on it.

Its price was $2,000.

Graham-Paige Pumper

The next truck to be purchased was during 1928. The truck was a Graham-Paige pumper. It boasted two 50-gal. soda-acid extinguishers, in addition to a 500-gpm amidsiph pump.

There was a large hose bed for carrying hose on the truck.

It was paid for by the village, also by subscribers in the rural area.

When the new truck was delivered, some of the firemen drove the truck around the rural area, showing it to those who helped buy it.

They would drive up to the house with the siren blasting away—a hand-cranked siren.

Next day, however, stories persisted there were "some mighty sore arm muscles."

Another story told about the truck concerns recharging the soda-acid tanks.

It seems the acid was purchased in large quantities. After use at a fire, the tanks had to be recharged.

The soda and water solution was put into the tank, and the acid was put in a glass jar and inserted in the tank.

The person had filled the jar, and was going to the truck to install it.

Acid Spill

On the way, however, he accidentally broke the jar. The acid trickled down the front of him, started eating away his clothing.

He started running in a circle, shouting.

They finally succeeded in stopping him, so they could rinse him off.

He wasn't injured, but his clothing was destroyed.

The truck purchased during 1942, in the midst of World War II, had first to be issued a priority, as did all such vehicles ordered during wartime.

Manufacture of vehicles for the military took precedence over most civilian requests, so it had to be documented that the fire truck was necessary before the order could be processed.

It was a product of American Fire Apparatus, Battle Creek, and I believe the Chevrolet chassis was purchased from the local Chevrolet dealer.

The truck had a 500-gpm front-mount pump with two booster hose-reels, 150 ft. of hose for each.

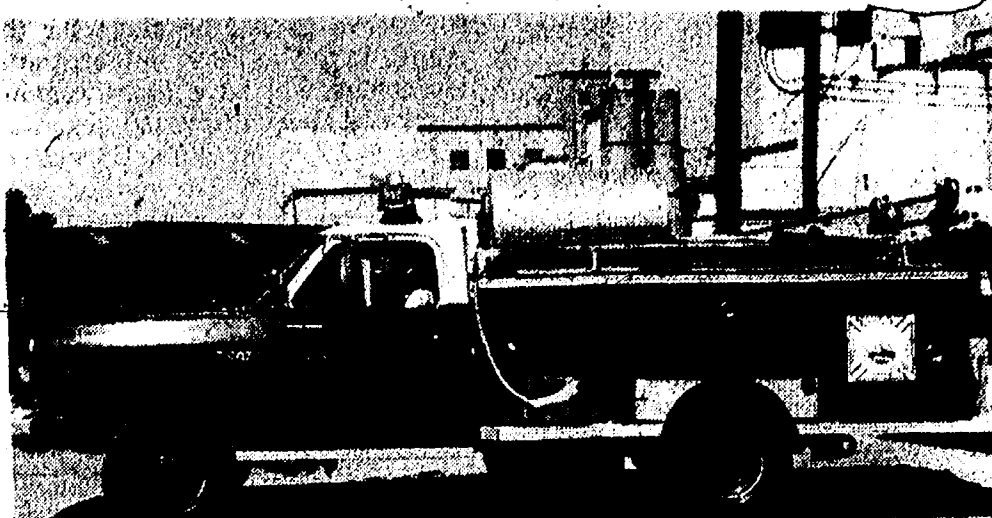

It was additionally equipped with a 500-gallon tank, so water could be taken to the rural fires.

On large fires in the rural area, the milk haulers would respond and fill their milk cans with water, usually by dipping them into a creek or lake.

They'd empty them in the opening provided in the back of the truck.

After the fire, they would have to clean and sanitize the milk cans before they could be used for the milk routes.

NOW DESIGNATED CFD'S BACK-UP RESCUE truck, a true utility vehicle, the truck was purchased by the village in 1983.

ONE OF CHIEF BUD HANKERD'S FAVORITES, the 1988 Dodge tanker carries 1,000 gallons of water, with a 750-gpm pump, Larry Gaken explained. The truck was purchased, a new vehicle, by the village, and is still in use. It's a veteran performer.

WITH DONATIONS TO HELP fund its purchase, CFD's Rescue 1 has been in service since approximately 1985. It was ordered by the village, and has been in continued use since its arrival.

PURCHASED DURING WORLD WAR II, a fire truck ordered from American Fire Apparatus in Battle Creek was built on a 1942 Chevrolet chassis. It utilized a 500-gpm front-mount pump with two booster hose-reels, 150 ft. of hose for each. Additionally, it was equipped with a 500-gallon tank, so water might be taken to fires in rural areas. Due to wartime restrictions, a priority had to be issued before the purchase could be completed. The 1942 truck was purchased from the village by the Chelsea Firemen's Association, and appears in local parades.

TWO CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL MUSICIANS have been nominated to the 1989 McDonald's All American High School Band. Jim Alford, son of James and Janet Alford, and Amy Doering, daughter of Ronald and Barbara Doering have been nominated by band director Bill Gourley based on their musical abilities. The All American band is made up of two musicians from each state and the District of Columbia, plus one member each from the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. Final selection will be announced this month.

Festival of Lights Scheduled for Dec. 1

The second annual Chelsea Festival of Lights is set for Friday evening, Dec. 1.

The Rotary Club will illuminate the Tree of Lights with a kick-off ceremony at the Chelsea State Bank branch office. Carolers will parade down the luminary-lined Main St. to the center of town where Santa will be waiting. The trip could culminate at the Depot where refreshments will be served while the organ plays and visitors view the old-fashioned Christmas tree.

Last year yellow plastic containers were distributed to area residents for use at their homes. This year the Chamber of Commerce will supplement its supply with gallon sized plastic milk bottles in the interest of the environment. The bottles will be used that evening, collected and stored for next year.

This will be a festive occasion which will serve to set the stage for the month-long holiday celebrations. Merchants will have their windows decorated and will have in stock many items suitable for gifts. Everyone's calendars should be marked with plans to see and hear what will be a great way to get into the holiday spirit.

The Chamber of Commerce encourages residents of the village, particularly, to collect their own milk bottles, cut off the tops, fill with sand and light with candles. The village could look like a postcard that evening and then the luminaries could be used again Christmas eve.

The Chamber of Commerce may ask residents to save a few bottles for them and bring them to the depot during early November. There will be another article giving the date, time, etc.

THE DEPARTMENT'S NEWEST PUMPER was purchased by the village in 1988, and carries 1,300 gallons of water to fires.

A 2,000-GALLON TANKER was added to the vehicle pool at the Chelsea Fire Department in 1975. It continues to serve a need.

Fire Department History

Although the truck was capable of drafting water itself, this method was better, since it provided no interruption while fighting the fire.

Due to wartime restrictions, no chrome plating was allowed on the grab rails, and after years of use, the Astonished firefighters discovered—lo and behold—the rails were chromed, then painted over!

The truck is now owned by the Chelsea Firemen's Association.

A very inexpensive group liability insurance was made available to 4-H leaders for 85 cents annually. The coverage was $50,000-$100,000 bodily injury and $5,000 property damage. This was considered to be over and above any other comprehensive Personal Liability policies.

The Dexter Dreadnaughts racked up another victory Friday night when they defeated the Chelsea Bulldogs, 7-0. It was Dexter's Homecoming game and left them with an undefeated record for the season. Chelsea fumbled on the first play from scrimmage and after three plays Dexter scored on a pass play from Mike McIntyre to Pat Gehring. They ran for the extra point, it was good.

Thursday, Oct. 20, 1955—

George Knickerbocker was elected Chairman of the Chelsea Recreation Council at the annual meeting Thursday evening in the Agriculture room at Chelsea High school. Alan Conklin was to be director of the program again next year and Mrs. Edmund Kayser had tentatively agreed to accept the position of playground supervisor another year.

Although a steady rain fell most of the day, and kept out-of-town people from driving around the color tours marked out in this area by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce, local people took advantage of the chance to buy their Sunday dinner at the chicken barbecue at Pierce Park, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jerome Burg, JCC president, in answer to queries about the success of the barbecue venture, said it was surprising how many Chelsea people turned out, in spite of the weather. He said it was a gratifying experience to have such fine support from people of the community.

A suspense-filled new drama "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners," was chosen by the senior play committee consisting of chairman Ed Walker, Jim Keezer, Lewellyn Lehman, Nancy Atkinson, Willadean Gullett, and Sharon Dancer. Many interesting character parts were contained in the cast of twenty-six.

Four Area Men Arrested After Police Seize Home-Grown Pot

Three Chelsea men and one Dexter man, who were allegedly caught processing four pounds of marijuana, face felony drug charges in what has turned out to be one of the biggest drug busts in the village in several years.

According to Chelsea police, Matthew J. Schwieger, 18, of 163 Orchard St., John E. Wilson, 24, of the same address, Donald J. Pickell, 20 of 4109 Sylvan Rd., and James R. Sparks, of 2913 Baker Rd., Dexter, were charged with intent to distribute a controlled substance after an incident at 128 Wilkinson St. on Sept. 21.

Police said they sent an officer to the Wilkinson St. apartment at 12:28 p.m. after they were alerted that a teen-age girl who had run away from home in Jackson county might be on the premises.

According to police, as an officer talked to Sparks at the back door, the officer saw the suspected marijuana on a dining room table a few feet from the door.

When the officer asked Sparks whether the runaway was in the apartment, Sparks said "no," police said. When the officer asked Sparks whether the girl was upstairs, Sparks invited the officer to go upstairs and look for himself.

The officer reported that when he entered the apartment, he noticed a strong smell of marijuana and saw some suspected marijuana nearby. The officer radioed for help and the men were arrested.

A 15-year-old Chelsea girl who was asleep on the couch was not charged.

Police seized a pile of suspected marijuana about two feet long and a foot wide. They also seized bowls full of stems and seeds, a garbage bag with marijuana, and rolling papers.

Police said the resident of the apartment was at work at the time of the incident. They said the man's daughter apparently invited the four men to come to the apartment, but she was not there at the time of the arrest.

Chief Leonard McDougall said it was likely the marijuana was grown on well-concealed private property north of the village. The landowners, whom police did not identify, had not been charged as of press time.

Prizes, food and fun will be available at the dance. Tickets may be obtained from any auxiliary member or at the door.

Child Behavior Topic of Talk By Sister Hawver

"Goals of Misbehavior," a lecture on the behavior of children, will be the subject of a talk on Wednesday, Oct. 25 from 7:30-9 p.m. in the Beach Middle School Media Center.

Sister Karen Hawver, principal for 11 years at St. Dennis school in Royal Oak, will be the feature speaker. She has also been a guidance counselor for 10 years and assistant principal for three years at Guardian Angels school in Detroit.

Sister Hawver has been a frequent lecturer for school groups. She says all behavior is goal-directed and a child misbehaves because he wants something that he feels he cannot get by behaving. Adults can learn how to help a child understand proper behavior.

The lecture is being sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital Children's Center, Preprimary Special Education, Chelsea Children's Co-operative, Inc., Chelsea School District Early Childhood, Little Friends Preschool Daycare, and The Children's Corner Learning Center.

To pre-register for the talk call the Community Education Office at 475-9830.

QUARTERBACK KYLE PLANK takes off on one of his several fine runs during last Friday's game at Tecumseh. The Bulldogs won the game, 20-6, for their second win of the season in the SEC.

Dogs Dominate Indians, Host Pinckney Friday In Final Home Contest

After a lost fumble on the opening kick-off, the Chelsea Bulldogs used a potent running game and a strong defense to stop the Tecumseh Indians, 20-6, last Friday night in Tecumseh.

Chelsea improved to 2-3 in the Southeastern Conference and 3-4 overall.

Chelsea sophomore defensive back Adam Taylor immediately negated the opening fumble with an interception on the Indians' first play from scrimmage.

With the exception of a fake punt, which eventually turned into an Indian touchdown in the second half, the Bulldogs dominated the game.

"We actually played pretty well," said Chelsea head coach Gene LaFave.

"We had a few errors that cost us a touchdown, but over-all we played well, especially on the defensive side. Offensively, we did what we had to do."

Chelsea's defense limited the Indian running game to 37 yards, although 18 of those yards came on the only Indian touchdown. Tecumseh completed 6-12 passes for 73 yards.

The Bulldogs were constantly in the Tecumseh backfield making life miserable for quarterback Jon Kuhman. Noseguard Tim VanSchoick ruled the line of scrimmage and linebackers Mark Chastee and Matt Herter were in on numerous tackles near the line or in the backfield.

Chelsea's biggest defensive error came on a fake punt in the third quarter when Ben Dykas passed to a wide open Brian Burns, who ran the ball to the Chelsea 18. The touchdown that followed narrowed Chelsea's lead to 14-6.

"He was being covered, but the coverage was too soft," LaFave said.

Again, the offensive story of the game was halfback Jude Quilter, who rushed for 15 yards and a touchdown. He also had two passes for 27 yards and intercepted a pass.

After Taylor's interception, the Bulldogs moved quickly down the field. Quarterback Kyle Plank hit tight end Craig Ferry with a fourth-down pass to extend the drive at the Chelsea 42-yard-line. Quilter eventually scored on a 42-yard run down the right sideline.

The Bulldogs never trailed and were never seriously threatened from then on.

On Chelsea's next series, a facemask penalty gave the Bulldogs the ball at the Tecumseh 44. Two Quilter runs, and a big gainer on the option by Plank, set up a 20-yard touchdown pass to Taylor on the left side.

The Bulldogs nearly gave a touchdown away at the end of the half. A Plank pass was picked off at the Chelsea 47 and run back to the 33 with 55 seconds left. An interference call moved the ball to the 18. However, the clock ran out before the Indians could get any closer.

After Tecumseh's score at the 8:44 mark of the third quarter, both teams were mistake prone. Tecumseh roughed Chelsea punter Ben Hurst to keep a Chelsea drive going. However, the Bulldogs were called for a personal foul on the same drive and were eventually stopped at the Indian three. The Bulldog offensive line was also without the services of 240-pound sophomore tackle Mike Terpstra, who aggravated an ankle sprain.

The Bulldogs' final scoring drive of the night was their most impressive. They moved 75 yards on 11 plays, with Plank contributing two big runs, including a 10-yard ramble over the right side for the score at the 4:16 mark.

Plank finished the night with 62 yards rushing on nine carries. He also completed 6 of 14 passes for 92 yards.

"Kyle has played well the last five games," LaFave said.

"He is very consistent." Rick Westcott carried four times for 15 yards and Sean DeSarbo had two runs for seven yards.

Taylor had two catches, and Ron Stacy and Ferry each had one catch.

The Bulldogs host Pinckney in the final Southeastern Conference game of the season this Friday.

The Indians can take home a share of the championship with a win. They would tie with Milan, assuming Milan stops Lincoln.

"Pinckney has the most skilled team we will see all year," LaFave said.

"They have an excellent quarterback in Tom Reason, who is a good passer, they have two excellent receivers, and their running back, Shannon Frece, is a big version of Jude. They have excellent people up front. They also have a good defense, but offensively is where they'll give us the most trouble. It'll be a challenge."

Chelsea Cagers Win Two More, Continue Hold on SEC Lead

Solid defense gave the Chelsea Bulldog varsity basketball team a 51-23 win at Hartland and a 51-28 victory at Milan in action last week.

The Bulldogs won their eighth straight game and maintained their unbeaten record in the Southeastern Conference. They are 10-3 over-all and 7-0 in the SEC.

"I have to hand it to the girls, they didn't allow either opponent to score in double figures in any quarter," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"That is one thing we've done well as a team."

In the Tuesday, Oct. 10 victory at Hartland, Chelsea's press caused numerous turnovers and led to easy baskets.

Chelsea led 28-11 at half-time and 42-16 at the end of the third quarter.

The Bulldogs' rebounding was another big key as they held a 40-21 advantage.

"Carrie Flintoft had 10 rebounds and played a good game from the weak side," Rosentreter said.

"She hasn't scored much lately but her defense has really come on and she may end up as our leading rebounder at the end of the season."

Allison Brown paced Chelsea with 17 points. Kristin Bohlender and Mercedes Hammer had eight points each, Tiffany Moore, Colleen Scharphorn, and Kate Dilworth each had four points. Scharme Petty scored three, Christine Burg had two, and Shannon Losey scored one.

Brown and Hammer had eight and seven rebounds, respectively.

The Bulldogs hit 20 of 54 shots from the field and 11-23 from the line.

In Thursday's game at Milan, Chelsea rolled to a 30-13 half-time lead as the Bulldogs had good execution on offense, Rosentreter said. They committed just 13 turnovers.

"We started the game more like we're capable of playing," Rosentreter said.

Brown played one of her best games of the year in the pivot, finishing with 22 points on six field goals and 10-11 shooting from the line. She was 7-8 from the line in the third quarter.

The Bulldogs hit 18-50 shots from the field and 15-22 shots from the line.

Brown also had 10 rebounds.

Hammer also had a fine all-around game as she scored nine points and grabbed seven rebounds.

"I really can't say enough about the way Mercedes is playing," Rosentreter said.

"She is contributing in all facets of the game."

Other Chelsea scorers included Bohlender with six points, Dilworth with four, Flintoft, Losey, Moore, and Scharphorn with two each, and Abby Thomson and Burg with one point each.

Dog Golfers Miss State Berth By Seven Strokes

Chelsea varsity golf team ended its dual meet season last Monday, Oct. 9 with a 168-173 victory over South Lyon.

The Bulldogs had one of their best rounds of the season as Chad Starkey, Brandon Murrell, and Doug Wingrove each finished with a 41, and Steve Emmert shot 46.

For the junior varsity, Rick Clouse shot a 50 and Aaron Tanner had a 51. Chelsea finished the regular season with a 7-6 dual meet record.

In the regional tournament last Friday at the University of Michigan, Chelsea finished seventh among 21 teams, but only the top three teams qualified for the state tournament.

Chelsea shot a 364, 40 strokes off the pace set by Jackson Lumen Christi. The Bulldogs were seven strokes short of qualifying for the state.

"It would have been nice to go to the state, but we just had a bad day," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

No individuals from Chelsea qualified for the state tournament.

Emmert led Chelsea with an 89, Starkey and sophomore Chris White each shot 90, Wingrove tallied a 95, and Murrell shot a 101.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Chelsea High school girls basketball coach Rahn Rosentreter has wanted the district play-offs at Chelsea ever since he has been coach. He thinks the Chelsea gym is a difficult place for visiting teams to play in, although I'm not quite sure why. Maybe it's the lighting. Maybe it's the relentless Barry Manilow music piped into the visitors' dressing room.

Whatever, Rosentreter gets his wish this year as Chelsea will host the post-season spectacular, thanks to the efforts of AD Wayne Walton.

However, the state changed some of the teams in Chelsea's district, which is not to the coach's liking. Saline, perhaps the weakest team in the Southeastern Conference and maybe one of the weakest in all of class B, has been shipped out to another district, and replaced by Jackson Lumen Christi, one of the state's top-ranked teams. Lumen Christi, like so many of the parochial schools, can recruit, although they might not call it that. Incidentally, Rosentreter likes the idea of separate play-offs for public and parochial schools, which probably makes too much sense to become reality.

In addition, Onsted, which hosted last year's tournament, has changed to class C and has been moved to an appropriate district. In their place is Jackson Northwest, another pretty decent team.

Also in the district are Tecumseh and Dexter, who are the other strong teams on the SEC this season.

So, no matter whom Chelsea is paired with in the opening round, it won't be an easy game. Unfortunately, the home team cannot draw a first-round bye.

On the positive side, if Chelsea can somehow win the district, they could be in pretty good shape for the regional tournament. But that's a long way off.

It's also interesting to note that if the Bulldogs are to win the SEC outright, and the district, there is a good chance they'll have to beat Tecumseh two more times, which would make it six straight wins over two years. Tecumseh has an excellent team.

The Bulldogs are showing signs that they may reach their peak at the end of the season, which could mean more post-season excitement. Senior Allison Brown, the only starting senior, is beginning to dominate in the low post. Rosentreter also has an excellent bench, featuring Mercedes Hammer and Colleen Schorpphorn/Kristin Bohlender. Carrie Flintoff has made the switch successfully from guard to forward, which is not an easy move to make, and has changed her game from offense to defense and rebounding.

The Bulldog girls provided probably more pure excitement last year than any other Chelsea team. No one would argue with a re-run.

Well, this week's final home game with Pinckney is indeed turning out to be one of the biggest games of the year in the SEC, at least for Pinckney and Milan, who will tie for the league championship if they both win this week. They can thank Dexter for knocking Saline out of the race last Friday, in Saline of all places. Breaks my heart.

Milan is almost sure to whip Lincoln. A Railsplitter win would rate as one of the biggest SEC upsets in this decade. However, the guy on the Saturday morning coaches show on WPZA called the Railsplitters one of the best 1-6 teams in the state. So what do I know, anyway.

The Pirates, however, could have their hands full with the Bulldogs, if the Bulldogs play to their potential.

Chelsea has moved the ball well on virtually every opponent, when they haven't killed themselves with penalties or other mistakes. If they play mistake-free offensive football (as in processed food, the word "free" means, well, maybe a teeny, tiny little bit) Chelsea stands an excellent chance to win. The defense will also have to play probably its best game of the year as the Pirates have one of the best defensive line and receiving corps in the league.

Chelsea will also have to play with emotion, as the Pirates should have no lack of it considering a championship is on the line.

Maybe the prospect of a winning season and being a spoiler is enough motivation.

Tecumseh had their homecoming Friday and had one of the best series of floots I've seen anywhere. And they all had a distinct Chelsea theme. One featured a huge Bulldog in a cage.

My favorite moment of the evening was early in the second half when the public address system played a fairly lengthy pre-recorded announcement from the Tecumseh head football coach about the evils of drug use and something about wearing red ribbons—while the game was in progress. The coach's gravelly voice boomed out over the field while the Indians were trying to run the ball from deep in their own territory. It was curious to hear the Tecumseh coaching staff yelling at the Indian players; often in rather colorful language, while a concerned-sounding coach lectured the kids with fatherly, and rather loud, advice.

A classic moment in the SEC.

TIM VANSCHOICK makes the sack from his noseguard position during Friday's varsity contest at Tecumseh. Vanschoick played an excellent game, according to the coaching staff, and the Bulldogs won their second league contest.

JV Cagers Whip Milan But Lose Big to Hartland

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity basketball team split two games last week to move their over-all record to 5-8.

On Tuesday, Oct. 10 the Dogs were beaten soundly by Hartland, 47-23.

The game was relatively close for three quarters as Hartland led 27-20 going into the fourth period. However, Hartland poured it on in the fourth quarter, 20-3.

"Hartland is a good team," said Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra.

"Our kids did a good job battling back. Our main problem was we lacked offensive consistency."

Chelsea shot 25 percent from the field and 30 percent from the line.

Hartland held a 42-31 rebound advantage, another key to the contest.

7th Grade Cagers Beat Milan, Lincoln

Beach Middle school seventh grade basketball team stretched their record to 6-2 with wins over Milan and Lincoln and losses to Tecumseh and Fowlerville.

The Pups took a 28-19 win at Milan. Milan had problems with the Chelsea press and the Pups improved their rebounding, which contributed to the win.

Chelsea scorers included Kate Steele 6, Amy Petty 6, Nancy Pidd 4, Charlotte Ziegler 2, Keri Kentala 2, Jessica Flintoff 2, and Martha Merkel 2.

Steele and Pidd each had eight rebounds, Petty had seven, and Merkel and Flintoff had six each.

Chelsea lost to Tecumseh 32-9 as the Pups made just three field goals, one each by Kentala, Flintoff, and Pidd. Jayma Spears and Merkel each had six rebounds.

The Pups won at Lincoln, 33-12 as every team member contributed.

Scorers included Petty 12, Ziegler 10, Audrey Brede 2, Steele 2, Spears 2, and Lori Ritter 2.

Merkel was 3-4 at the foul line and had nine steals and four rebounds. Lynne Kalmbach had three rebounds.

Fowlerville took a tight 26-23 victory in over-time in Chelsea. The game was close all the way as the Gladiators had a 12-11 half-time lead.

Pidd's two foul shots tied the game in regulation play, but Fowlerville scored all three points in the extra period.

Flintoff had 10 points and eight rebounds, Petty had four points and 11 steals, Steele had two points, eight rebounds, and five steals, and Pidd had four rebounds, five steals, and three points.

Sarah Schick and Cindy Tripp had three rebounds each.

Boy Harriers Drop Close Meet to Dexter Dreadnaughts

Chelsea boys cross country team was edged by Dexter in the Southeastern Conference dual meet last Tuesday, Oct. 10, 22-29.

The boys also took seventh place at the Sturgis Invitational last Saturday in a field of 23 teams.

Chelsea coach Pat Clarke was disappointed with his team's performance in general in the Dexter meet, although he praised the effort of Brian Zangara, Jeff Latimer, and Ben Vermeylen.

"It was a disappointing loss," Clarke said.

"We have about five runners in various stages of the flu."

Chelsea results in the Dexter meet included: Zangara, 2nd, 17:24; Latimer, 4th, 17:45; Vermeylen, 6th, 17:57; Kelly Beard, 8th, 18:04; Joe Blough, 9th, 18:07; Chris Wright, 10th, 18:12; Holden Harris, 11th, 18:20; Jim Hassett, 12th, 18:22; Jake Rindle, 13th, 18:24; Jason Allen, 15th, 18:30; Shawn Castleberry, 16th, 18:39; Rob Jaques, 17th, 18:52; Erich Hammer, 18th, 18:58; Justin White, 19th, 19:00; Tobin Strong, 23rd, 20:03; Dave Sayer, 24th, 20:03; Dan Zatkovich, 27th, 21:14; Andrew Parker, 28th, 21:21; Brian Andress, 29th, 21:35; J.J. Hanke, 30th, 22:05.

At Sturgis, Zangara finished 19th for the Bulldogs in 17:12 to lead the team.

"Brian ran an outstanding race despite being ill," Clarke said.

"We are currently so ill as a team that I doubt we could beat anyone."

Chelsea finishers behind Zangara were: Hassett, 47th, 17:59; Blough, 49th, 18:02; Vermeylen, 50th, 18:04; Beard, 55th, 18:09; Latimer, 74th, 18:34; Harris, 84th, 18:44.

Results of the junior varsity portion of the meet, in which Chelsea finished second, were: Allen, 8th, 18:46; Rindle, 8th, 18:48; Hammer, 10th, 18:53; Jaques, 14th, 18:58; White, 15th, 18:59; Strong, 39th, 20:30.

CHS Tennis Team Takes Seventh At Tough Regional Tournament

Chelsea Bulldog tennis team shut out Monroe Jefferson, 7-0, but lost to Ypsilanti, 5-2, in action last week.

The Bulldogs also took seventh place in Friday's regional tournament at Haslett.

In the Jefferson match, only one match went more than two sets as the Bulldogs dominated play.

In singles play, Piyada Piyamalas shut out Peggy Cone, 6-0, 6-0; Nicole Pontz beat Sam Brubaker, 6-1, 6-2; Amy Mitchell topped Heather Pio, 6-2, 6-3; and Marielle Ast whipped Melissa Manis, 6-0, 6-0.

In doubles action, Pontz and Lissa Hamrick stopped Caroline Sonnichsen and Heather Charette, 6-0, 6-1; Sarah Gegenheimer and Sara Musolf beat Maryann Oklejas and Becky Mason, 6-1, 6-4; and Julie Weiss and Becky Veteor defeated Cindy Hernerway and Wendy Tarjeft, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

In the Ypsilanti match, Ast was the only singles winner and Jane Pacheco and Hamrick won the only doubles match for the Bulldogs.

"This was the first time we have played Ypsi but it was a good match and we will probably do it again," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

Piyamalas lost 0-6, 0-6, to Patti Quisbon; Nicole Pontz lost 2-6, 4-6 to Laura Henlein; Amy Mitchell lost 4-6, 0-6 to Lisa Robb; Ast defeated Stefanie Hildebrandt 6-4, 6-0.

Pacheco and Hamrick defeated Kristi Bristol and Kelly Sylstra, 6-2, 6-4; Gegenheimer and Musolf lost to Melsha Tipton and Tara Willett 4-6, 1-6; and Weiss and Veteor lost to Michelle Blackmore and Liz Jones, 1-6, 0-6.

The Bulldogs ended the regular season with a 6-5 record.

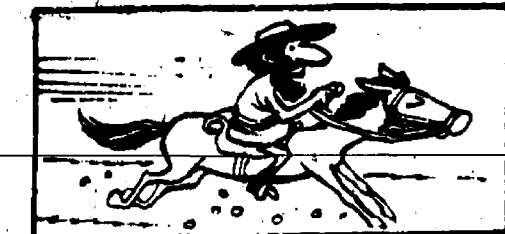

In the regional tournament, Chelsea scored five points against stiff competition.

Dukes Helps With Special Olympics

Julie Dukes, a 1988 Chelsea High school graduate, served as swimming co-ordinator for the Special Olympics Training Day held on the campus of Albion College.

Hundreds of Albion College student volunteers assisted special education students from surrounding areas. The special education students competed in track and field, soccer, gymnastics, and swimming.

Dukes is the daughter of Dr. Patricia Dukes of Chelsea.

America's first extensive hard-surface road was built in Pennsylvania. Completed in 1795, it was known as the Lancaster Turnpike and ran 62 miles.

Point-scorers for Chelsea were Piyamalas, who defeated Heather Lason of Brooklyn Columbia Central, 6-4, 6-1; Mitchell, who beat Missy Harkin of Lakewood, 6-2, 6-7, 6-1; Ast, who knocked off Jenny Cupp of Eaton Rapids, 6-2, 6-0; and Pacheco and Hamrick, who reached the quarter-finals by defeating Karyn Strand and Kelli Falls of Pinckney, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

and Jill Behrens and Libby Nosal of Lansing Catholic Central, 6-3, 6-4.

"We could have done a little better," Curtis said.

"I was counting on a win by everyone in the first round as we didn't run into any of the top seeds immediately. This would have put us in the top half, where I felt we belonged."

Bulldog Tankers Beat Ypsilanti As Ten Swimmers Lower Times

Chelsea Bulldog swim team improved their record to 4-1 with a victory over the Ypsilanti Braves last week.

"Although the team was tired from an extensive week of training, they did manage to look quite impressive," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

Chelsea won eight of 11 events and had 10 individual best times for the year.

Jennifer McEachern filled in for an ill Kelly Cross in the medley relay and joined Melissa Thiel, Shelly Hollo, and Erika Boughton for a winning time of 2:07.35.

Jill Nowatzke took second in the 200 freestyle with a season-best time of 2:19.07.

Thiel and Sara Nicola combined for a 1-3 finish in the 200 individual medley with season-best times of 2:25.85 and 2:41.53, respectively.

Boughton and McEachern finished 1-2 in the 50 freestyle in :28.92 and

:28.5, respectively. They were both season-best times.

Debby Webb and Sherry Dukes were Chelsea's top divers as Webb scored 177.45 points and Dukes had 146.15.

Jennifer Koch, swimming her first varsity event ever, won the 100 butterfly with her best time of 1:18.23. Sandy Schmid took fourth in the event with 1:29.89.

Boughton won her second event of the night as she took the 100 freestyle in :59.77.

Another season-best time was turned in by Lori Wetzel in the 500 freestyle in 6:55.04.

Thiel and Kristi Smith also swam their best times of the season in the 100 backstroke as they finished 1-3 in 1:09.89 and 1:24.52, respectively.

The 100 breaststroke was won by Shelly Hollo in 1:19.23.

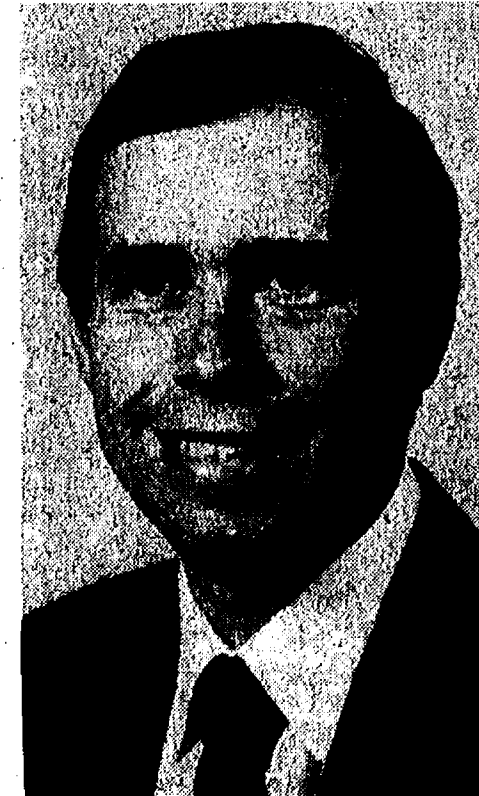

The last event was also a win for the Bulldogs as McEachern, Smith,

Nowatzke, and Nicola combined for a 4:21 in the 400 freestyle relay.

According to Jolly, a 10-1 season is not out of reach. The Bulldogs are entering the heart of the season.

"We have a quality team with some fine young ladies representing Chelsea swimming," Jolly said.

Chelsea takes on Adrian tomorrow.

The Denominational Game: Doctrinal Dodgeball

Of the many prophecies contained within the word of God, the saddest of these has already come to pass. It is the prophecy that Paul warned young Timothy about in 2 Tim. 4:3-4 "For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables." Of the many contributions denominations proclaim to give, the #1 contribution I see them giving their churches is the idea that Bible doctrine is of minimal importance in the church, and that we should simply be striving for love and unity with one another. THAT IS THE BIGGEST FABLE OF ALL! The unity that should bind Christians is not a denominational brotherhood, but according to the scriptures, the bond that unites is our faith. Eph. 4:13-14 instructs us to come into the "unity of faith," not denominational unity and "not to be tossed to and fro with every wind of doctrine." The leaders of many denominations have even adopted a new game which I term "doctrinal dodgeball." The rules include dodging as many doctrinal idealisms as possible without getting hit. The winner is the leader that can convince the most people that Bible doctrine no longer holds importance in the church. With every game there has to be a strategy, and as it is with this game: The secret to winning is to tell people that what ever you believe is acceptable, as long as you believe it sincerely. Sincerely, leaders say, draws sympathy from the heart of God, and will be justified in the eyes of God. The word of God opposes this fable in Josh. 24:14 saying "Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in truth!" It is required to serve God sincerely, but serving him in truth is just as important! Sorry leaders, you have been hit.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. I am trying to work out in my mind how much of my assets I should put in fixed dollar investments and how much I should put in equities. I like CD's and Treasuries because I know exactly how much they are worth and they give a higher return than stocks. They don't seem to have any risk attached to them. Yet over the past ten years, I have noted that a couple of friends who favor equities seem to be doing very well. Do you see any weaknesses in fixed dollar investments?

A. Every kind of investment has its own characteristics and its value to different individuals. CD's, Treasuries and similar fixed-dollar or fixed-income investments have a great deal of appeal to people who always want to know how many dollars they are going to have at any particular time. For quite a few years these investments have paid a fairly good rate of interest and a great many people feel they are practically riskless and provide such a good rate of return that they should be held instead of stocks.

There are three risks to these investments, however, that many individuals do not think about. One is inflation and the consequent loss in purchasing power. Our current rate of inflation is 5%. That means that in five years the purchasing power of the dollar drops 25%. If you have a five-year, $100,000 CD, you still get $100,000 in dollars in five years, but it will then only buy $75,000 in goods at today's values.

The second risk is the reinvestment risk. If you get 9% on your CD today and it matures in three years and interest rates are then 6%, your income will be down more than 30% if you chose to reinvest. Of course interest rates could go the other way, but the possibility of change is a risk.

A third risk is the loss of opportunity that might have resulted in being in an investment where the dollar value could go up.

Over this entire century it has been clear that people who have made good investments in stock have had superior results to those that have had their money in good grade fixed income items. The figures show they have done about three times as well. However, there is no question the risk in stock is greater. The individual who has had his money in General Motors stock for the past 30 years has not had much increase. The person who has had his money in McDonald's has seen it multiply by 15 times or more.

Successful investing in stock requires more knowledge, persistence and luck, but with the odds three to one in your favor, it's worth putting at least a part of your funds in stock.

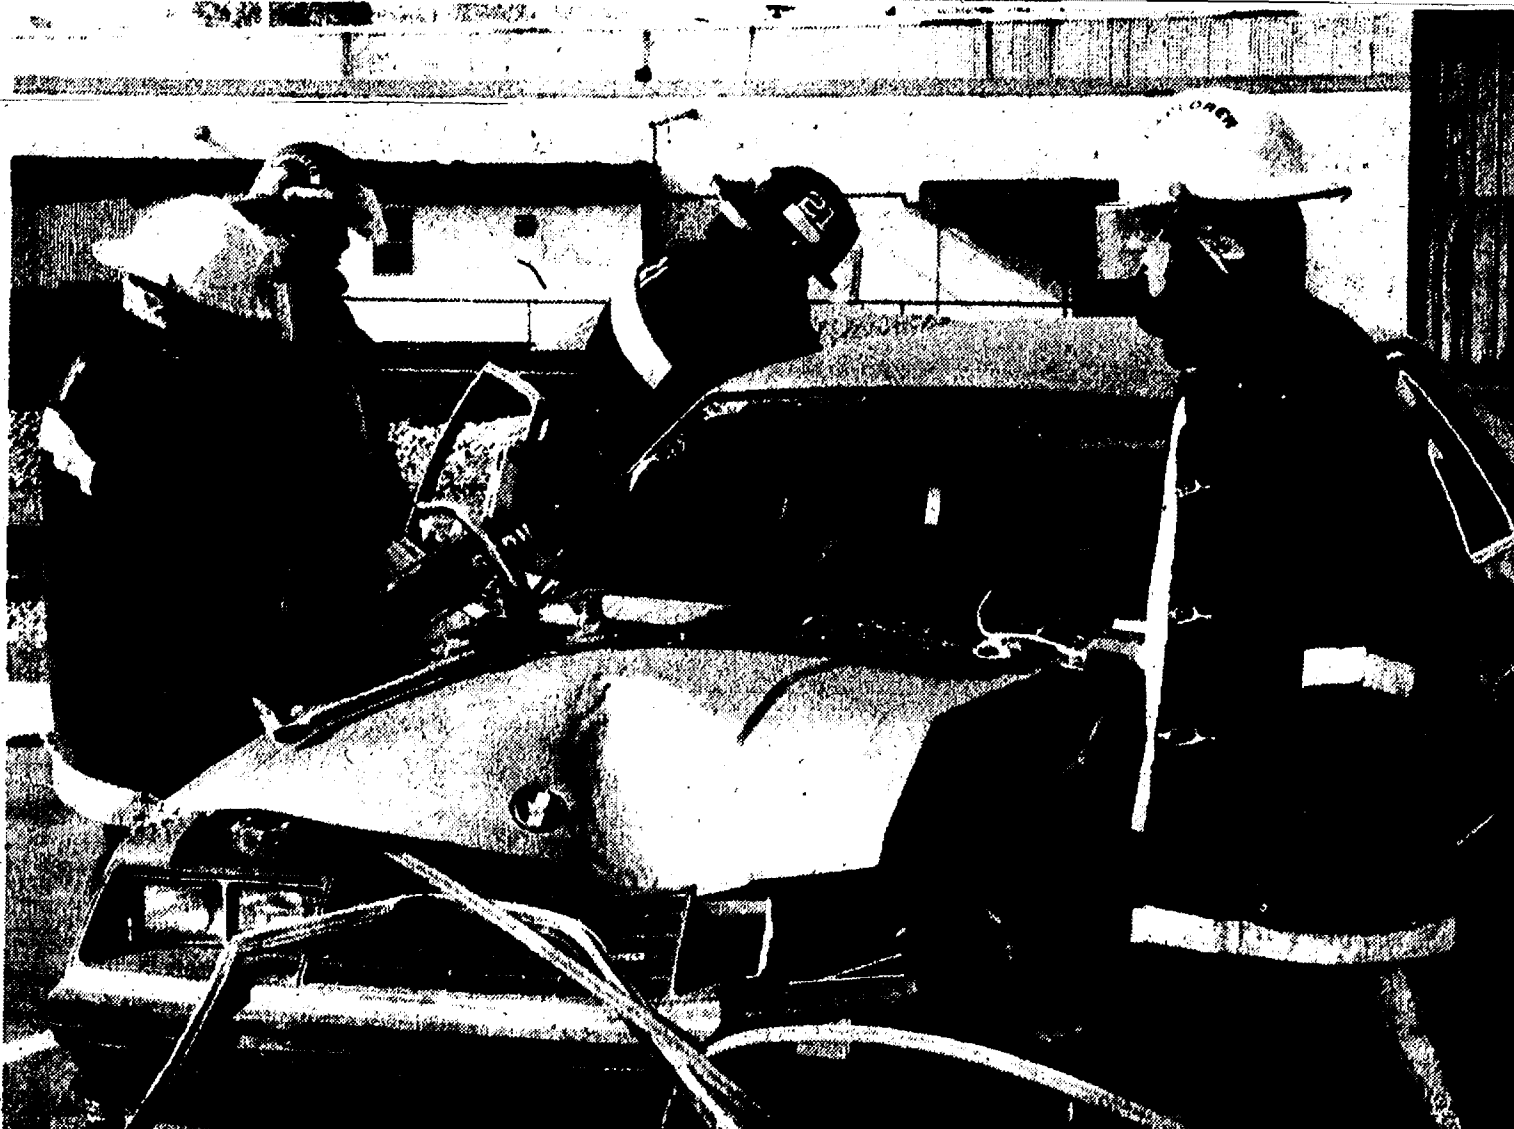

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions and comments but will answer them only through this column. THE NEWEST ACQUISITION of the Chelsea Fire Department, the overhead water cannon, was demonstrated at Sunday's open house. Water is pumped up through the ladder to the platform. A firefighter can then use a pivoting water gun to aim the water down on a fire, which is handy for battling blazes on tall buildings and homes.

THE ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE at the Chelsea Fire Department Sunday afternoon drew a large crowd as the event was blessed by perfect weather. More than 20 Chelsea firefighters organized and worked at the event, which featured a number of displays and participatory events, all aimed to educate the public about the department.

CHELSEA FIREFIGHTERS demonstrated the Jaws of Life, which is used to cut a car apart when an accident leaves an occupant pinned in the vehicle. The firefighters also demonstrated how they remove windshields and other parts of the car after an accident. It was all part of Sunday's fire department open house.

Two Automobiles Vandalized in Town

Two automobiles were vandalized in much the same fashion in different locations on Thursday, Oct. 12, Chelsea police reported.

An Oakdale St. resident told police that his vehicle was gouged by a sharp object in the rear quarter panel in the Chelsea High school parking lot. In addition, the vehicle had a flat tire.

A Michigan Center man said his car sustained a two-foot-long scratch on the passenger side, and a smaller scratch on the fender in the Federal Screw Works parking lot.

Both incidents happened during business hours.

YOUNG NICHOLAS KOCHMANSKI came all the way from Saline to Sunday's Chelsea Fire Department Open House. The youngster had the opportunity to try on headphones in the University of Michigan's Survival Flight helicopter, with a little help from pilot Bobby Crees. Survival Flight was one of the many displays at the annual event.

Of the five great lakes, only Lake Michigan is wholly in the U.S. The others are partly in Canada.

County, Topographical Maps Helpful to Hunter

Planning a hunting trip this fall? You're not alone.

More than one million Michigan hunters are preparing to take to the fields, woodlands and wildlife flooding areas over the next few months to hunt big and small game, upland game birds and waterfowl.

As more hunters than ever take to the outdoors in search of their quarry all of them will be looking for an edge—a tool or a technique to give them an advantage over their fellow hunters.

One of the best ways to ensure success in the field is to take along a supply of accurate, up-to-date county and topographical maps as part of your hunting gear.

The Michigan County Maps and Outdoor Guide, published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC), provides a handy, easy-to-use listing of natural and man-made features in all of the state's 83 counties. Bound into a convenient book that can be stored under a car seat or tucked into a duffel bag, the Michigan County Maps and Outdoor Guide features detailed maps of Michigan's counties arranged alphabetically for easy reference.

In addition to listing primary, secondary and gravel roads, rail crossings and city and township boundaries, the Michigan County Maps and Outdoor Guide pinpoints the location of lakes, rivers, streams and tributaries as well as state game and recreation areas, wildlife floodings and public access sites.

The book also includes useful information on fish and game species found in Michigan and a complete listing of recreation facilities at Michigan's state and national forests.

Once you have located a suitable hunting area with the Michigan County Map and Outdoor Guide, you can zero-in on the physical terrain of the area and pinpoint your hunting location with a topographical map prepared by the United States Geological Survey. Available from MUCC headquarters in Lansing, the topographical maps show the location of trails, campsites, river and stream crossing and contour elevations.

The "topo" maps not only can help you plan your next hunting trip into the back country, they can be especially helpful if you become lost or disoriented while pursuing game over rough terrain. MUCC stocks a large inventory of detailed topographical maps covering all areas of Michigan.

Copies of the Michigan County Maps and Outdoor Guide are available for $12.50 each, tax and postage included. They may be ordered by sending a check or money order to MUCC, P.O. Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

The complete selection of "topo" maps are listed in MUCC's Map Index. Copies of the Map Index are available by sending a No. 10 (business size) self-addressed envelope with 50-cents postage affixed to MUCC.

All proceeds from the sale of the county and topographical maps help support MUCC's extensive conservation education programs conducted in schools and nature centers across the state.

For more information and applications, interested persons should write to: Congressman Carl Pursell, 361 W. Eisenhower Parkway, Ann Arbor 48103.

Higher Fees For Visitors to State Parks

State park visitors will have to pay slightly higher fees to enjoy Michigan's outstanding natural resources next year, according to the Dept. of Natural Resources (DNR).

The Natural Resources Commission (NRC) at its regular monthly meeting held in Lansing on Sept. 7, recently approved camping and motor vehicle fee increases that take effect Jan. 1, 1990.

"The additional revenue from these increases will be put back into the state park system," said DNR Director David Hales, "and will help restore some of the services that were cut in the early 1980s because of budget constraints."

The money received as a result of the increases will also pay greater utility costs and assist in hiring seasonal employees to maintain the park system.

Recent action by the legislature raised the annual Motor Vehicle Permit from $10 to $15 and authorized the NRC to raise the daily fee to $3 for residents, $4 for non-residents at Warren Dunes State Park and $15 daily for commercial motor coaches or vans with a capacity of more than 12 passengers. The last increase was in 1981.

State park campers and day-users will see changes in the Rent-A-Tent Program, where fees will increase from $12 a night to $15; large cabin rentals (20 or more capacity), which will increase from $24 to $25.

Also increased by $1 are fees at the following: $5 per night at rustic campsites; $7 per night at semi-modern campsites; $9 per night at modern campsites; $10 per night at modern campsites in the following parks and recreation areas: Grand Haven, Hayes, Hoffmaster, Holland, Ludington, Mears, Mitchell, N. Higgins Lake, Proud Lake, Silver Lake, S. Higgins Lake, Traverse City, Warren Dunes and Wilderness.

Conference on Law & Aging Scheduled

Representative Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), chair of the House Judiciary Committee, is sponsoring the third annual Law & Aging conference, a state-wide event concerning the legal rights of older people. The 1989 conference, titled "Aging In The Future," again focuses on informing people of their rights and about legal resources that can assist them in exercising those rights.

Enthusiastically received last year, the conference is set for Saturday, Oct. 14, from 9 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. in the Student Activities Center at Washtenaw Community College. Topics will include guardianship, access to nursing home care, and age discrimination.

The program includes a free lunch and entertainment. Those wishing to attend should call (517) 373-2845 or leave a message at (313) 761-9543, or, if unable to call, should arrive at the conference site early to register. Space is limited to 400 people.

Psychologist Will Address Persons on Help With Diabetes

On Wednesday, Oct. 18, the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Diabetes Association will present "Living With Diabetes: Thriving, Not just Surviving."

This interactive meeting will be led by Dr. Robert Schaffer, a psychologist with Human Resources Associates of Grand Rapids. He will look at the aspects of diabetes that sometimes cause frustration and unhappiness to a person with this disease, and provide suggestions for getting around these road blocks.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Tappan school, 2251 E. Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor, and is free to the public.

Everybody's Science

★ Apple Disease Can Be Kept Out of the U. S.

By J. Kim Kaplan

A U. S. Department of Agriculture scientist is busy keeping the doctor away from the apple.

Ahmed Hadidi, a plant pathologist, is trying to help the American apple industry stay healthy by keeping a nasty disease out of this country. That disease—apple scar skin, also known as apple dapple—has rendered whole orchards useless in China and Japan.

Hadidi has created a test that, for the first time, will identify in just a few days which trees carry the viroid that causes the disease. A diagnosis has been taking years to complete.

No symptoms of apple scar skin are apparent until a tree begins producing fruit, three to five years after it is planted. Apples on infected trees quickly shrivel and crack.

"If apple scar skin slips into this country undetected, it could be very nasty," said Hadidi of USDA's Agricultural Research Service. He is based at the ARS National Plant Quarantine Laboratory in Beltsville, Md.

He said the disease-causing viroid, a virus-like organism, could have a severe impact on Red Delicious and other leading U. S. apple varieties.

Gaylor I. Mink, director of the Interregional Virus-Free Fruit Tree Repository at Prosser, Wash., said many northwest farmers are very interested in importing Asian apple varieties. He suspects some already have been brought into the country.

"Scar skin viroid can be in some Asian varieties without causing noticeable symptoms. That's why we're so concerned about the potential spread of it to American-grown varieties," Mink said.

Hadidi said the new test will make it possible to monitor and control the apple disease worldwide.

His test uses radioactive copies of the viroid which he first genetically engineered in 1988. These copies are matched to the viroid if it is present in fruit, seed, bark, leaves or roots. The test uses millions of the copies, which he synthesizes in his laboratory.

N.E.E.D. Service Offers Free Educational Classes

The non-profit county-wide agency called The Network for Equal Economic Development Service Corp. or The N.E.E.D. Service, Inc., as it is more widely known throughout Washtenaw county is sponsoring five free educational classes for low income citizens on ways to help oneself become more "economically independent."

These "Prosperity Partners Program" classes are to help low-income participants get money for college, start their own businesses or find better paying jobs.

Adult students and community persons young and old are welcome to attend! If you miss one, come to the next! No pre-registration is required.

The five free classes will be held at the Ann Arbor "Y", 350 S. Fifth Ave., Ann Arbor, beginning Nov. 7-11, 1989. Class days are: Tuesday and Wednesday, 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., Thursday and Friday, 5:30 to 8:30 p. m., and Saturday 11 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Additional free services are also available through The N.E.E.D. Service Inc. The office is located on the first floor of the Detroit Edison Building, open 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Record Net Farm Income Forecast

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says 1989 net farm income will set a new record of around $48 billion to $53 billion. Farm assets are also predicted to rise between 4% and 6% to a range of $780 billion to $790 billion.

Higher cash receipts which will likely be up $2 billion to $10 billion this year will more than offset the declines in government payments to farmers, the department said.

Hadidi already has received requests for the test from Canada, Great Britain, the Federal Republic of Germany, Greece and the People's Republic of Germany. (Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.)

Legislation Would Prohibit Schools From Competing In Material Sales

State-supported colleges and universities should not be selling glasses, hearing aids, computers and other items at substantially lower prices than retailers, announced State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Ann Arbor), who has introduced legislation to prohibit such sales.

House Bill 4546 would prevent public institutions of higher education from selling retail goods at prices significantly lower than the general market for similar goods in the areas where the colleges and universities are located.

"I have had many complaints from business people throughout the state who justifiably are upset that area universities are selling the same products to the public they sell, at prices the businesses cannot compete against," O'Connor said. "They include uniforms, signs, travel packages and cosmetics—items not directly related to the universities."

"If the complaints are correct, this is unfair competition because the universities use taxpayers' money to buy their goods and do not have to pay taxes on their products either. They also do not have the overhead costs of retailers, nor do they have to make a profit to stay in business," O'Connor said.

HB 4546 will be discussed in the House Colleges and Universities Committee Thursday, Oct. 26 at 1 p.m. in room 426 of the Capitol building.

"I hope everyone interested in my legislation will attend the meeting and express their opinions," O'Connor said. "I also hope people will write to committee Chair Rep. James Kosteva, State Capital, Lansing 48913, and urge the committee to report the bill to the full House for consideration."

"I don't care if universities sell retail products as long as they do not undercut private enterprise, which is what many of them appear to be doing. It is tough enough for small businesses in Michigan to compete without the added burden of unfair competition from state-supported institutions. My legislation will correct this inequity and help provide a level playing field," O'Connor concluded.

Oct. 19 Set As Pharmacy Technician Day

Do you know about the important role that pharmacy technicians play as part of your health care team? Pharmacy technicians perform many valuable and necessary duties in today's modern pharmacies.

Under the direction of a licensed pharmacist, pharmacy technicians fill prescriptions, prepare I.V.s and chemotherapy agents, handle stock maintenance, take care of customer relations and so much more. Pharmacies and pharmacists would be hard-pressed to deliver the kind of service you've come to expect without the help of highly trained and skilled pharmacy technicians.

During the week of Oct. 15-21, celebrate the 15th annual Michigan Pharmacist Week, "Your Pharmacist and You... A Winning Combination." And don't forget to honor those hard-working pharmacy technicians who are such a vital part of today's health care team. By legislative resolution, Oct. 19 has been declared Michigan Pharmacy Technician Day. Support your pharmacy technician as a valuable member of your health care team!

Manistique Man Repeats As Wildlife Artist of Year

A 41-year-old freelance artist from Indian Lake near Manistique is Michigan's Wildlife Artist of the Year for 1989.

In winning the top honors, Dietmar Krumrey became the second person in the 10-year history of the competition to win the title more than once. Krumrey was chosen Wildlife Artist of the Year in 1984. David Conklin of Port Huron received the honor in 1983, 1985, and 1988.

Krumrey's acrylic rendition of a wild turkey in a winter setting, entitled "Morning Call - Wild Turkey" was the top choice of the five-member panel of judges in the annual art competition conducted by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC). This year's competition featured 69 entries submitted by wildlife artists across the state.

Krumrey will receive a check for $2,000 from MUCC and will have his prize-winning painting reproduced on the cover of the December issue of Michigan Out-of-Doors, MUCC's monthly magazine. Krumrey's painting also will be reproduced on the cover of the 1991 Michigan Out-of-Doors Wildlife Art Calendar, which will be available from MUCC in October 1990.

MUCC will issue a limited edition of 750 prints of Krumrey's painting signed and numbered by the artist. The prints will be available from MUCC for $75 apiece plus $9 for tax and shipping. Orders for the prints should be sent to the MUCC, P.O. Box 30235, Lansing 48909. Proceeds from the sale of the prints help support MUCC's conservation and environmental education programs conducted across Michigan.

Born in Germany, Krumrey immigrated to the United States with his family at the age of three. After living in the Chicago area, they moved to Manistique in the Upper Peninsula where Dietmar developed a deep affection for wildlife—characteristics that are evident in his art. After training at the American Academy of Art in Chicago, he was employed as an artist for Hallmark in Kansas City before returning to Chicago as a commercial artist. Finding life in the big city not to his liking, he returned to Manistique and eventually established himself as an accomplished freelance wildlife artist.

Extensively known for his realistic approach, exactness for detail, and feeling for the actual essence of life, Krumrey spends many hours afield photographing and studying his wildlife subjects. He works in watercolor, oil, and acrylic.

Krumrey was the 1981 winner of the Michigan Duck Stamp Contest, the 1980-81 and 1984-85 Michigan Ducks Unlimited Artist of the Year, the 1985 New Jersey Ducks Unlimited Artist of the Year, and the 1985 Greater Kansas Ducks Unlimited Artist of the Year. In addition, Krumrey was the 1987 National Ducks Unlimited Sponsor Artist as well as the 1987 Michigan Ducks Unlimited Sponsor Artist. He was chosen to design the 1985-86 Watertown Habitat Print and Stamp for the Michigan Duck Hunters Association and was honored this year by winning the 1989 Michigan Duck Stamp contest, the second time he has won this honor.

Second place in MUCC's Wildlife Artist of the Year Competition went to Tom Phillips of Lansing for a painting of a bobcat; third place, Michael Todoroff of Garden City, great blue heron. This year's fourth place honors were shared by Rusty Frenthor of Ypsilanti, Canada goose, and Jon LaBeau of Grand Rapids, snow goose.

Outdoor Report

From DNR District Office in Jackson

Oct. 8

Fisheries . . .

The pond used to raise redear sunfish was drained and harvested last week. This fish rearing project was done in co-operation with the Union Lake (Branch county) Community Association at the Union Lake Rearing Pond in Union City. We harvested approximately 70,000 redear sunfish fingerlings and planted them in Rose Lake (Branch county), Lime Lake (Jackson county), Cub Lake (Hillsdale county) and Union Lake.

Our redear sunfish program which began in 1984 has been successful. We need to increase our evaluation survey effort, but we have taken redear sunfish in every stocked lake we have surveyed so far. Redears have been particularly successful in Big Portage Lake in Jackson county. We took over 200 seven-to-nine-inch redears in this lake earlier this year in a trap net survey.

The goal of the redear sunfish program is to provide a modest fishery for a "trophy" panfish. Redears are able to grow to large sizes even in lakes with heavy angling pressure. They also do not tend to "stunt" like bluegills often do in Southern Michigan lakes.

Wildlife . . .

Archery deer season opened on Oct. 1. Several deer have been checked at the District Office and in the field. Deer numbers are at an all-time high in much of District 13. Hunters are being encouraged to harvest antlerless deer this fall. Most of the hunting effort in our district occurs on privately owned farms. Bowhunters, like other hunters, need to remember the basic rules of courtesy and respect when using the lands of another.

Plans are being formulated to examine rooster pheasants killed in south Jackson and northern Hillsdale counties this season. The township hall in Liberty will serve as a check station for hunters who wish to cooperate. It will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 20 and Saturday, Oct. 21. Biologists want to measure the white neck ring, tail feather bars and wing feather coloration on all birds killed in south Jackson or north Hillsdale county in 1989. This information will give the Wildlife Division an indication of how recent introductions of Sichuan pheasants have influenced existing ringneck populations.

ENERGIZE, based in Spring Lake, is introducing Jennifer Colvin, left, as its newest member to the program. Jennifer, a long-time Chelsea resident and 1988 graduate of Chelsea High school, recently completed her Energize certification. She will be teaching classes on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 5:30 p.m. at Westside Gym. The program is taught by certified, knowledgeable and enthusiastic instructors trained in group motivation, individualized goal-setting and sound exercise principles, according to program director, Deb Spicer, R.N. Instructor Becky Allen, right, a member of the International Dance Exercise Association (IDEA), is also IDEA certified. She teaches Energize classes on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7:15 p.m. and on Saturday at 9 a.m.

Hunters Urged To Wear Gloves When Dressing Game

Hunters should pack a pair of latex surgical gloves along with their other paraphernalia when they head for the woods and fields during deer season.

They should wear the gloves when field dressing and processing deer carcasses as a precaution against contracting Lyme disease, even though chances of getting the disease are slim.

That's the recommendation of researchers at Michigan State University and an official at the Michigan Dept. of Public Health (MDPH).

Here's why. The Lyme disease bacterium (Borrelia burgdorferi) carried by the deer tick (Ixodes dammini) may exist in the blood of the deer long after the tick bit the deer. It is possible that the corkscrew-shaped spirochete bacterium could enter the human bloodstream from the blood of the deer.

"Other bacteria can cross a skin barrier, so it may be entirely possible that the spirochete that infects the deer tick can also penetrate unbroken skin," says Richard Merritt, MSU entomologist.

Ann Donahue, a parasitologist in the MSU Animal Health Diagnostic Laboratory, says that researchers do not know how long or when the spirochete is active in the animal's bloodstream. And they don't know how long the bacterium can survive as blood temperature declines.

"Though the risk of contracting Lyme disease when field dressing deer carcasses may not be high in this region (Michigan), individuals are placing themselves at risk for a variety of other infectious diseases, including Leptospira (another type of parasitic spirochete) and Taenia, a species of tapeworm," Donahue says.

Harry McGee, MDPH, says that human skin is designed to protect against infectious invasion, but the slightest break in the skin—dermatitis, a small abrasion, a hangnail—allows passage of pathogens.

"Therefore, when coming in contact with any body fluid, be it of human or wild game origin, it is prudent to create a barrier by wearing latex gloves," McGee says. "You should act as if all body fluids are potentially infectious and protect yourself accordingly."

The apple has been called the health fruit as it provides a lasting, nutritional source of quick energy.

Parent Group Forming at Beach School

A new parent group is forming at Beach Middle school. All parents of Beach school students are automatically in this group. Who will be active is the big question. Come join the next informal meeting and help decide on the direction this group should go.

Some ideas the group is working on are: getting better communication between parents, staff and administration at Beach school; information pertaining to school programs, information on better communication with your adolescent, and possible volunteer work for teachers. This group is not a fund-raising group, but an information and help exchange.

The next meeting is Thursday, Oct. 19, at 10 a.m. Check at the Beach school office for location. This meeting will be to decide on which direction this group should go. In. There is also a meeting on Thursday, Nov. 16 at 10 a.m. Hopefully there will be a speaker on that date.

Meetings will not always be during the day. After school or evening meetings are a possibility, depending on where the greatest interest lies. Meetings could rotate times. Please come help plan the direction. If you have questions, or ideas and cannot attend either of these meetings contact Arline Lynch, 475-3183, or the Beach School office.

Pleasure in working and the need for money are the two top reasons for working, according to the U.S. Labor Department. In a Gallup study for the American Association of Retired Persons, 75 percent of employees between the ages of 40 and 49 said they worked for the enjoyment, while 84 percent said they worked for the money. Eighty-percent of surveyed workers between the ages of 50 and 62 said they worked for the pleasure, while 76 percent said they worked because they needed the money.

Straight Talk

Q: What should I look for to see if my child has an orthodontic problem?

A: Probably the most common orthodontic condition is dental crowding. It is usually first noticed when the permanent teeth begin to erupt out of position or in an overlapping pattern. However, in some cases it may not be detected since spacing of the teeth may persist until the last few permanent teeth erupt.
