ONE HUNDRED-NINETEENTH YEAR—No. 22

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1989

28 Pages This Week 2 Supplements

WHEN THE EARTHQUAKE HIT the San Francisco area last Wednesday, amateur radio enthusiasts across the country were available to help with communications. Chelsea's civil defense director, Lefty Schantz, was one of the many ham operators in the area who spent many hours relaying messages to other radio operators in the bay area. Schantz sent messages from concerned relatives and friends in this area who were unable to reach their loved ones by telephone. Local communications in the bay area were still largely intact, and area radio operators would receive the messages and telephone people, telling them that their relatives were concerned and would appreciate a call.

Major Expenses Likely To Force Big Borrowing from Elect. Fund

Village of Chelsea may have to borrow more than $700,000 from its electric fund this year to pay for a variety of expected and unanticipated expenses.

According to rough estimates prepared by village manager Robert Stalker, the landfill fund will incur a deficit of about $385,000 for a variety of reasons (see related story this issue).

The village had already planned to borrow about $241,000 this year, including $47,000 for Downtown Development Authority projects and $194,000 for capital improvement projects.

However, the capital improvements budget is expected to run about $105,000 more than anticipated for several reasons. First not enough money was budgeted for engineering costs for a $224,000 sewer project. A $2,800 budget should have been closer to $28,000, Stalker said, or roughly 10 percent of the project's cost, which is fairly standard.

"I can only speculate about what happened," Stalker said. "A mistake was made."

The sewer project is serving the southern end of the village and includes the force main that was constructed across North Elementary school property and a lot owned by Art and Ruth Dils on N. Main St.

The Freer Rd. force main project, largely to serve Belser Estates but also to relieve problems on Washington St., will be completed this year. That $30,000 project was not budgeted.

In addition, what was thought to be a cash balance after fiscal year 1988 turned out to be a deficit during the village's annual audit, Stalker said.

The village has taken action to try to stem the tide of recent deficit spending. The village more than doubled its sewer rates and last week doubled its home garbage-collection rates. In addition, sewer and water connection fees were more than doubled recently.

Pierce Park Gazebo Moving To Realization

Rotary Club president Frederick van Reesema is heading the committee to plan, construct and finance a permanent structure in Pierce Park which will be used as a pavilion where summer concerts will be staged. The site is expected to be in the southeast section, but the exact spot has not been chosen.

Chuck Raeder of Baseline Constructors has helped the committee explore different options of size, style and materials. A tentative plan will be adopted at the Nov. 9 meeting. Rod & Gun Club members have volunteered to be the carpenters which will more than half the cost of construction.

Chelsea Recreation Council and Chamber of Commerce have already pledged their financial support. Bill Nuffer and Bill Nilan will chair the financial sub-committee with Bob Stalker, Ann Feeney, Brian Gunderson and H. K. Leonard in charge of choosing the exact location for the gazebo. Target date for completion is prior to the first in the Concert in the Park series of summer, 1990.

Although the concerts will utilize the building in place of rented staging for the summer series, it is expected there will be many uses such as play productions, family picnics, shelter from the rain and just any legitimate reason a visitor to the park might choose.

Most of the communities in the area have some sort of gazebo in their park areas and in each case it enhances the warmth of the small town atmosphere.

Garbage Pick-up Fees Doubled as Village Eyes Big Landfill Deficit

The village doubled its home garbage collection fees and raised most of its landfill fees by about 20 percent to try to offset a projected shortfall of about $385,000 in the landfill fund this fiscal year.

Last Tuesday, Oct. 17, village council raised home collection rates from $6 to $12 per month per household, effective Nov. 1. The new rate still leaves village residents in a better position for the most part than their neighbors in the townships, who pay at least $9 per quarter. Landfill operator Cecil Clouse said it's almost certain that township rates will go up again next year.

There was some talk about raising rates to as high as $15, but council did not bring it to a vote.

The new home collection rate should boost revenues for the village by about $122,000 per year.

After the 5-2 vote, trustee Phil Boham said the village needs to begin considering rates that encourage people to recycle. As it stands now, people who spend the time to sort out their bottles, cans, and newspapers will still pay the same rate as someone who doesn't.

"I understand that we have to deal with our financial problems, but the rates just don't seem fair," Boham said.

The landfill fund deficit has three primary factors to it, according to rough estimates submitted to council by village manager Robert Stalker.

The closure of the old landfill, for which nothing was budgeted this year, will cost about $325,000.

In addition, tipping fees are falling short of projections. At the half-way point in the year, the village had collected $108,000. If twice that amount is collected, $216,000, the village will be short of its projection of $255,000 by about $39,000.

The third factor is the village estimated it would collect about $70,000 from Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships to help with the closure and other expenses. However, due to delays in obtaining a new landfill license, Stalker said township monies could be closer to $25,000, or even as low as zero, this fiscal year.

Stalker said he anticipated the village would have to borrow from the electric fund to balance the landfill budget.

Other new landfill rates are as follows:

Non-Commercial Pick-ups
Level with box	$13.50
Above side, per foot	$6.25
Minimum	$6.25
Cars
Trunk, up to six bags	$6.25
Interior contents	$4.50
Station Wagons and Vans
Contents	$13.50
Minimum	$6.25
Trailers
Per yard	$6.25
Minimum	$6.25
Trailers and Commercial Vehicles
Per yard	$12.00
Appliances or White Goods
Each	$10

Junk Cars	$125.00
Farm Equipment
Each piece	$125.00
Tires (each)
Car	$6.25
Truck, tractor	$12.75
Stumps
Per foot, dia.	$6.75

Demolition (per yard) $15.00

In other landfill business, the village anticipated that it would have a decision about its new operating license by last Sunday, Oct. 22.

However, the Department of Natural Resources asked the village to apply for a 30-day extension because the DNR was running behind schedule in its review.

"I don't think it's a major problem," Stalker said.

The bromide tracer system was installed more quickly than the village had anticipated. The system had to be in place before a new license would be granted.

In other trash business, the village agreed to pay Marshall's Rubbish Service $15,000 more than the accepted bid price to cover higher than anticipated liability insurance costs. A company representative said the village's insurance requirements would cost him $17,000 extra. He agreed to pay $2,000 himself.

The village agreed to the hike primarily because the next highest bidder, Mr. Rubbish, was still nearly $10,000 higher, even with the increase.

Funeral Home Gets Variance For Parking Lot

Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel was granted one variance to allow expanded parking facilities at the corner of East St. and E. Middle St. but another variance may likely be required before the project can be completed.

Business owner Don Cole had a home moved from the property last year to make way for the lot.

Zoning Board of Appeals granted a variance last week that would allow less than the usual setback along the curb sides. Another setback problem was avoided when Cole agreed to move one outbuilding and attach it to (Continued on page A10)

Search Underway for Assistant Principal

Chelsea School District hopes to have an assistant high school principal on the job before Christmas break.

The job has been posted internally and there reportedly is at least one candidate who is now a teacher.

However, notices have also been posted at area universities that have education programs.

Application deadline is Friday, Nov. 3.

New principal Ronald Mead, who will be on the job Nov. 6, will be heavily involved in the decision, according to superintendent Joe Piasecki.

"We want to have someone who can complement Ron and is someone he feels comfortable working with," Piasecki said.

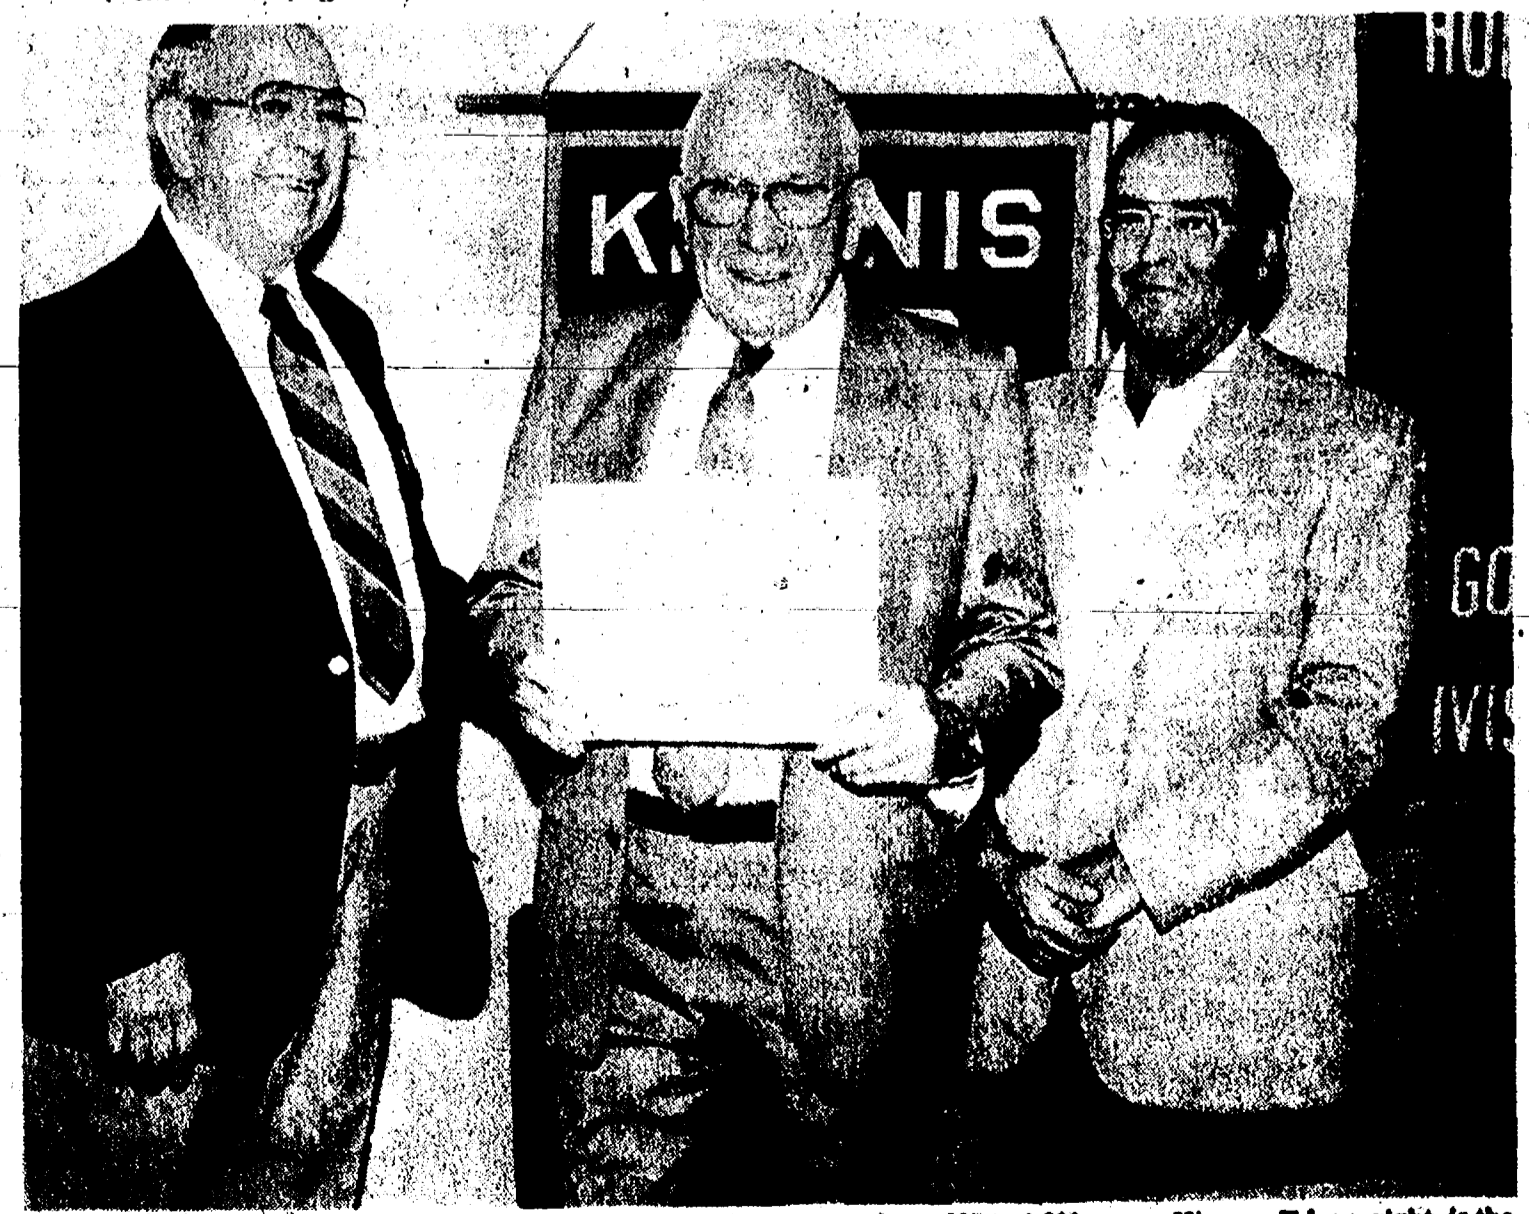

Chelsea, unlike many area districts, has a pure assistant principal position. Many districts combine it with the athletic director's job.

Here the assistant will be involved with discipline matters, driver education, student activities, teacher evaluation, and assisting the principal.

The new assistant, like Mead, will be required to live in the district, Piasecki said.

JOSH HOOVER, a North school second grader, can hardly believe it's snowing. The youngster made the most of last week's unusual fall weather and made snowballs during recess. Indeed, it's hard to believe it snowed last week as temperatures were predicted to reach 70 degrees this week.

DORR WHITTAKER, center, was presented with the Farmer of the Year Award by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea Monday evening. Whittaker represents the sixth generation to run the family farm west of Chelsea, which has grown from 295 to 1,300 acres. His son, Edson, right, is the seventh generation. The farm goes back to the early 19th century. Left is Herm Koehn, chairman of the farmers committee.

4 Years Ago ...

Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1985—

A touch of class is what Loren Winn's auto shop class at Chelsea High school had a chance to experience as they tinkered with a prototype 1984 Lincoln Continental. The automobile was recently donated to the school by the Ford Motor Co., with the help of school district resident Jim Evison. The prototype, with a 1984 body, was equipped with 1987 electronics. Although school officials declined to put an exact worth on the car, it's safe to say it's worth far more than an average Chelsea home. The auto is simply one-of-a-kind.

Chelsea firemen had to scramble to cover two separate fires that were reported almost simultaneously Monday morning. The first alarm, at approximately 6:09, concerned a garage fire. As fire fighters were leaving the station the second alarm sounded, for a fire at a summer cottage at Crooket Lake. The garage, owned by Herbert Craft, according to Chelsea fire officials, sustained about $6,000 worth of damage. The cause of the fire was unknown, and officials said it is not being investigated. The summer home apparently caught fire due to heat from a toaster. The damage was estimated at $1,000. Holes had to be cut in a wall in order for the fire fighters to reach the blaze.

Chelsea High school students who are new to the community this year have found the transition easier than they might have imagined thanks to a new program instituted by the counseling office. The program might be called a "big brother," or "big sister," project. Interested new students were given the opportunity to be adopted by another student who was familiar with the ins and outs of Chelsea. In some cases they have developed friendships from the relationships. In other cases the new students were just helped over some of the rough spots. In any case, they knew who to ask if they had problems.

14 Years Ago ...

Thursday, Oct. 23, 1975—

For young people who like to use their legs the Walk-a-Thon was just the thing. The 12-mile Walk-a-Thon around the village of Chelsea was a first in Chelsea and according to Mrs. Paul Closson who chaired the event for the UNICEF sponsors, Church Women United, the response was fantastic.

Fire destroyed another of the area's old red barns on the farm belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sweeny. According to reports, neighbors noticed the roof of the barn ablaze at approximately 3:40 p.m. and notified Chelsea firemen immediately. The Department arrived with three trucks and the assistance of the Dexter Fire Department to battle the blaze for nearly six hours.

Chelsea High school band students and Beach Middle school band students were slated to begin their annual fruit cake sale Oct. 24, taking door-to-door orders from area residents, according to Mrs. David Classon, chairman of the committee. Mrs. Classon remarked that the sales of the fruit cakes and the success of the project is important to both schools. Proceeds were used for various band improvements, such as uniform replacement and upkeep, band camp, instrument purchases, and other equipment.

24 Years Ago ...

Thursday, Oct. 25, 1965—

A dance routine performed to the "St. Louis Blues" and a drill routine was to highlight the Saline High school band half-time performance Friday night on the Chelsea field. The Saline band consisted of more than 80 instrumentalists under the baton of David Wolter. The group was consistently high quality according to the Bruce Galbraith, Chelsea High school band director.

Goods with a total value of more than $740 were taken in five thefts reported to Ann Arbor city police and the Sheriff's Department. The largest haul by thieves was in the break-in of a Dexter township cottage. The owner told the sheriff that a television set valued at $189, two rifles with a total value of $45, two electric blankets valued at $45, a coffee pot valued at $20 and a fishing reel costing $18 were taken from the cottage.

Task Force Begins Study of Child Care Options

A governor's task force on child care began a planned 90-day study recently, with a goal of fostering partnerships between government and employers to improve the availability and affordability of services for working parents.

Gov. James J. Blanchard said the 26-member group was appointed to deal with problems facing a workforce that increasingly includes two-income and single-parent households.

The task force, chaired by the governor and his wife Janet, is charged with developing recommendations to encourage partnerships between the governments and private employers for better child care.

Blanchard said he does not envision employers being required to provide or support child care, but believes voluntary methods will work.

"An overwhelming percentage of the people need a good standard of child care. If affects the ability of the employer to attract a high quality employee," the governor said. He noted mothers with children are the fastest-growing segment of the work force.

Rep. Debbie Stabenow (D-Lansing), a task force vice-chair who is chair of the Economic Development and Energy Committee, said she is looking at the issue as one of economic development.

The other vice-chair is Blue Cross Blue Shield chief Financial Officer Robert Naftaly, who is a former director of the Department of Management and Budget.

Janet Blanchard said 65 percent of the persons entering the workforce through the year 2000 are expected to be women, adding, "Increasingly, these parents will place child care, parental leave and maternal leave high on their list of employment benefits and priorities."

She expressed hope that her involvement in the task force is just the first in her role as First Lady.

A recent Department of Commerce survey showed 150 employers provide child care benefits, but Blanchard said, "I don't think anybody's doing a great job."

The governor acknowledged the state regulation of child care facilities is not as good as he would like, but said that is true of most areas regulated by the state.

Blanchard said he does not believe a tax increase is needed to help meet the demand for child care service, but said the state is promoting its child care tax credit.

New state law allows employees to set aside up to $5,000 in tax-exempt wages for child care, and the Department of Treasury is working on a similar benefit to employees of small businesses.

College Faculty Wants More Emphasis on Teaching

Improving the quality of instruction by having faculty return to teaching as a major responsibility ranks just behind the unsurprising choice of providing more money for universities, according to a faculty survey of Michigan's 16 public four-year institutions of higher education.

The survey, which was conducted earlier this year, has been released by Sen. William Sederburg (R-East Lansing), whose office conducted the survey.

Sederburg, who chairs the Senate Appropriations Higher Education Subcommittee, said he was surprised that faculty expressed such a strong desire to spend more time on teaching.

Instruction currently takes up 45 percent of their time, faculty indicated, followed by research (24 percent), administration (22 percent) and public service (9 percent).

"I think we're going to try to find ways to get back the emphasis on teaching," Sederburg said. An interest in economic development at higher education institutions, such as providing equipment for faculty, "has come at the expense of teaching," he said.

Funding more items such as the Teaching Excellence Fund, which received a $250,000 appropriation in this year's budget to reward 10 faculty members, will be pushed by Sederburg as a way to encourage more teaching.

Sederburg also wants to find a way to distribute higher education funds more evenly, and is interested in

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The column writers were like sharks in a feeding frenzy recent after Texas highway commissioners decided discretion was the better part of valor and dropped plans to put "The Friendship State" on car license tags. The commissioners didn't see the light so much as they felt the heat from folks that said the slogan fell far short of the image they have of themselves as big, rough, ready and use to having their way.

Bug Hookum brought up the tag slogan uproar early in the session at the country store Saturday night, and he said he still was seeing a item now and then about Texas trying to settle on a saying before the plate printing deadline. He said he would like to help out the commissioners, so he was suggesting they go with "Smaller than Alaska, hotter than hell." Bug figured that would give all sides somepun to kick around over the winter.

Meanwhile, Bug was wondering why the column writing sharks ain't jumped on Australia, where a 24-year-old girl recent was fired because her boss said she was so pritty the fellers on the construction job couldn't keep their minds on their work. What we got here, Bug said, is a situation where ugly is a asset and beauty a liability, which is what we might expect from a place we call Down Under and where the seasons and everything else are reversed.

If the girl had been working in this country with our laws agin discrimination of ever stripe, Bug allowed, her boss would of come up with a different reason. From what he read recent, Bug said, the boss might of told her she could be suffering from NBI and she ought to git tested to see if she could get disability benefits. Bug wrote down what NBI means. It is neurologically and behaviorally impaired, and it has been recognized, identified, set apart from all other human ailments and give its own name.

The simptoms are such as tripping over cracks in sidewalks, catching toes under lamp cords in library reading rooms, dropping collection plates in church, knocking over coffee cups in restaurants and hitting the brake pedal for the clutch when you drive the pickup instead of the automatic car. Jest as old age now is seen as a range of disorders, Bug said, clumsy has been give a much higher level of medical attention.

The fellers took more than usual interest in Bug's report. Josh Clodhopper, that usual limits himself to listening, said he saw NBI as the stuff national appeals are made of, because obvious more medical and scientific research is needed into this condition. First off, we'll have to pass laws protecting people with NBI and outlawing discrimination on account of it. You know that hotels trying to hold down breakage and lawsuits from accidents will turn away NBI support groups if they can, was Josh's words. Furthermore, he said, all efforts to set up a NBI Research Institute must avoid use of the word clumsy. Who, Josh wanted to know, will want to help wipe out clumsy in our lifetime.

As for discrimination, Zeke Grubb put the stopper in the jug. He had saw where the Florida Department of Correction read a ad for help. To qualify, the ad said "applicants must have been convicted of a felony in the state of Florida, and must have been confined to a state penal institution."

Them, Zeke said, are worst credentials than ugly.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Project Outreach
Volunteers Needed

Chelsea School District is still looking for about 30 volunteers to help with telephone interviews in Project Outreach, according to project coordinator Jackie Rogers.

Project Outreach is a telephone survey of registered voters that will take place the week of Nov. 13. A total of 60 volunteers are needed and about 40 have signed up.

The questionnaire is in its final stages of development, Rogers said. Seven groups of people met to discuss questions and one person from each group met again for fine tuning.

Each interview, consisting of about 60-70 questions, will take about 20 minutes.

Anyone who would like to volunteer should call the Community Education Office at 475-0630.

PARENTS

To avoid encouraging children to enter a stranger's house, never invite trick-or-treaters in to your home.

Give wrapped, homemade treats only to children you know, and wrapped commercial treats to others.

Be certain that your children are accompanied by an adult or a responsible teenager.

Know which friends your children will be with.

Do not leave your home unattended on Halloween Night.

Leave your porch light on, so children will know it's okay to visit your home.

Keep your pets inside (house, garage, or shed) on Halloween Night.

TREATS

Never eat anything until after you are home, and the treats have been examined.

Cut and wash fruit before eating.

Throw away anything unwrapped.

Check the wrappers of commercial treats for signs of tampering.

Notify the police if harmful items are found.

TRICK-OR-TREAT

A responsible adult, or teen, should accompany each group.

Try to limit the group size to four or five.

Trick-or-treating should be for small children only . . . if the child is too old to be accompanied, he is too old to go trick-or-treating.

Walk! Do not run while going trick-or-treating.

Stay in your own neighborhood, and only go to houses which have porch lights turned on.

Parents should know exactly what route their children are taking.

Never enter a stranger's house—even if invited.

Carry trick-or-treating bags that have handles, to keep your arms free.

Walkers Club Sets Winter Hours

The Washtenaw Walkers Club has announced their winter hours and location.

The club is comprised of people of all ages and walks of life, coming together for a healthy way to exercise as well as for some social time. The distance walked is up to each walker's ability and ambition, and miles are tallied for fun and interest.

The morning group meets Tuesdays and Thursdays at 9 a.m. at the Grand Court Fountain at Briarwood. There's a short warm-up stretching time before walkers strike out individually or as a group.

The evening groups meet at 6:45 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays at the same location. Brief warm-ups will be led at another mall location. Everyone is welcome.

If there are any further questions, please call Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission at 971-6337 and they will be glad to answer your questions.

Women's Health Lecture at Hospital Deals With Minimizing Stress

Holidays often create additional stress for today's busy woman. As the rush begins, take time for yourself to learn ways to make this a fulfilling holiday season and capture the enjoyment this special time should bring. Attend the "Women's Health Lecture Series - Minimizing Holiday Stress" on Wednesday, Nov. 1 in the Chelsea Community Hospital Dining Room. Registration/hors d'oeuvres is at 6:30 p.m. and the lecture begins at 7 p.m. Pre-registration is required by Oct. 25 by calling 475-3979.

Ongoing programs held at Chelsea Community Hospital include "Children Are People," a chemical dependency prevention program for children ages 5 to 12 years. This program is offered by the Substance Abuse Department and is held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:45 to 8:15 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Kresge House. For registration or additional information call Betsy Beckerman at 475-4100.

"Breathers Club," an educational presentation and a supportive atmosphere for sharing for all interested individuals who have chronic respiratory problems, is offered by the Cardio Pulmonary service. Sessions are held the third Saturday of every month from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Chelsea Community Hospital.

"Cardiac Rehabilitation - Outpatient" is designed to provide rehabilitation for people who are recovering from a heart attack or heart surgery. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling 475-3951.

"Speech and Language Therapy for Children - Outpatient Program" offers comprehensive, individualized evaluations and therapy programs for youngsters with delayed speech or language development. For more information, call 475-3982.

The "Chemical Dependency Lecture Series" is free and open to the public to provide awareness and education regarding various aspects of alcoholism and other chemical dependencies. Lectures are held every Thursday evening from 7 to 8 p.m. in Chelsea Community Hospital Dining Room.

The "Outpatient Diabetes Education" program is designed for people with diabetes and their families. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling Pat Parr, R.N., B.S.N. at 475-3935.

The weekly educational presentation and discussion, "Family Education Series - Department of Psychiatry," focuses on understanding emotional or mental difficulties that require psychiatric treatment such as depression or chronic mental illness. Presentations are held Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Partial Hospitalization, 955 W. Eisenhower Circle, Suite H, Ann Arbor. For further information call Partial Hospitalization, 996-1010.

"Diabetes Sharing Group" offers an opportunity for patients with diabetes and their families to meet together in an informal setting. The group meets the second Wednesday of each month from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Private Dining Rooms.

"Occupational Therapy for Infants and Children - Outpatient Program" offers comprehensive individualized evaluations and therapy programs for infants and children with delayed sensory-motor skills. Session are individually scheduled by calling 475-3751, ext. 3287.

With "Individual Nutrition Counseling" a registered dietitian will work with you to create a meal plan that is nutritionally adequate and easy to follow. When your physician has prescribed a special diet for you, contact your nutrition counseling service at 475-4028.

Pre-registration required for all classes. For further information call the Education Dept. at 475-3935.

coin Rallsplitters. The game was played in a continuous rain which at times made the field resemble a lake. The game gave Chelsea its fourth win of the season, but only two were conference wins. Two conference defeats were dealt the Bulldogs by Dundee and Dexter.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Oct. 27, 1955—While hunting Sunday, Danny Wahl, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wahl of Clear Lake road, came upon an abandoned still set up in the woods on the family farm approximately a mile from the farm buildings. Investigation by his father the next day was followed by reporting the find to the Jackson State Police Post and a trooper was sent out. It was not known how long ago the still had been operated but a full barrel of potent brew was found, along with quantities of cracked corn, empty sugar sacks, potato sacks and jugs. The barrel of brew left at the spot had evidently not turned out as well as expected or else the moonshiners were frightened away and were unable to take it with them.

An artificial lake, covering approximately 840 acres of land in Lyndon township, and to be known as the Winnewana Impoundment, was to become a reality following construction of a dam the following spring. According to announced plans the dam was to be located North of Waterloo road in the creek which connected Sugar Loaf Lake and Winnewana lake. The installation as to have a nine-foot head and would back up water to flood approximately 840 acres of marshy land extending East and West approximately two miles.

Mrs. Julius Reule found a small deflated balloon in the cornfield behind her home. Information on a card attached to the balloon had been released at Addison, Ill., 20 miles west of Chicago, by Malinda Kirsch. The balloon-releasing project was sponsored by the Lutheran Child Welfare Association and was one of approximately 1,000 sent up the same day.

Straight Talk

Q: How can I tell if the bite is off?

A: Normally, the lower teeth bite just inside the perimeter of the upper dental arch. If the lower teeth bite too far inside the upper teeth, an overjet is present and may require attention. On the other hand, if the lower teeth bite outside the upper arch, a crossbite is present and the bite is off.

Parents Groups Start Project To Recycle Plastic Milk Jugs

Parents groups at North and South Elementary schools are jointly sponsoring a project to recycle plastic jugs used for milk, cider and juices.

The project will involve all schools in the district. It was conceived and is being chaired by Mike Montpetit, a North school parent.

The project will not only remove a space-taking item from landfills, including the Chelsea landfill, but will help raise money for the schools.

The recycling of jugs is being practiced in many communities along the eastern seaboard where landfills are near capacity.

When enough containers have been collected, they will be baled and transported to a plastic molding company that will grind and re-use the material.

Anyone in the community interested in recycling the jugs should follow this procedure.

- As soon as the jug is empty, rinse it out so the residue will not have a chance to sour. Discard the cap.
- Crush and flatten the container and send it to school with your child.

Each classroom will have a collection box filled with grocery bags where containers may be stored. Each week a rotating award will be given at each school to the class collecting the most jugs.

Parent volunteers will collect the grocery bags filled with containers when they have been placed outside the classrooms. Collection days are Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. The bags will be transported to storage areas nearby.

The groups are urging as many people to participate and volunteer as possible.

Anyone with questions or comments or who would like to donate services contact Montpetit at 475-2843.

MILK JUG RECYCLING will be a project in the Chelsea School District this year and it is being sponsored by the PTN and PTS groups at North and South Elementary schools. The topic was introduced to children at the elementary schools on Monday in a skit presented by Carol Strahler. Here she shows how to flatten a plastic jug before recycling it.

Portage Baseline Lake Levels To Be Lowered on Nov. 13

The lake level at Portage Lake will be lowered approximately one foot beginning on Nov. 13, according to Janis A. Bobrin, Washtenaw county drain commissioner.

Bobrin said that each winter the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake. In the winter, homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes area are cautioned to prepare for the lowering of the lake level, which is co-ordinated with the closing of the boat launch facilities.

Kevin E. Sullivan, deputy drain commissioner, will answer inquiries and may be reached at (313) 994-2525.

WCC Reports on Chelsea, Manchester, Dexter Enrollments

Residents of Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester are continuing, this fall, to take advantage of Washtenaw Community College course offerings in their home town.

Enrollment figures for 25 courses show 382 students. This is an average of 15 students per class.

Of these 382 students, 251 of them are taking classes at three Chelsea locations: WCC's Western Regional Office, Chelsea High school or Chelsea Hospital. Other students, 77 in number, are enrolled in classes at Dexter High school. The rest of the students take classes at Manchester's Pleasant Lake Technical Center. There are 54 students enrolled there.

Some popular classes with high enrollment are Business Law, Math Lab and Principles of Accounting.

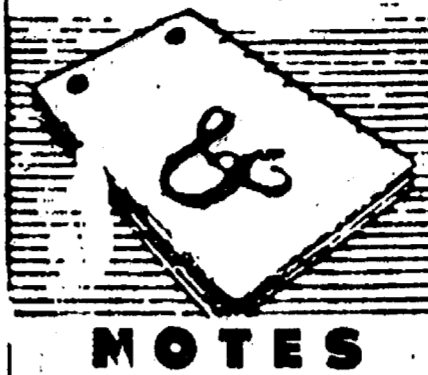

For your information about WCC classes or other services offered through the Western Regional Center, call (313) 475-5935.

QUOTES

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"Sometimes it is more important to discover what one cannot do than what one can do."

—Lin Yutang.

Each of us generally knows and accepts what we can do as individuals. We plan accordingly and go about our business. When we cannot do something that must be done, we make other arrangements to get it done.

There are some, however, that believe there is nothing they cannot do or any situation they cannot handle. Unfortunately, these people usually learn the hard way of the things they cannot do. We should all be willing to try unproven areas of our ability, but we also should be willing to accept our limitations.

We take pride in providing this community with an essential service in accordance with the highest ethical standards and traditions of our profession.

Publication Outlines Taxpayer's Rights

"Your Rights As a Taxpayer," our Publication 1, is a six-page overview, written in clear simple language, of all rights and responsibilities of taxpayers in dealing with the IRS," said John Hummel, IRS district director in Detroit.

"This publication not only informs Michigan taxpayers about those rights and responsibilities," Hummel said, "but it also includes telephone numbers and addresses for additional free information and help on tax matters."

"Existing, more detailed publications on examination, collection and appeal rights and procedures continue to be available," said Hummel, "but Publication 1 provides a good summary and overview of all taxpayer rights in one document."

Publication 1 is available at local IRS offices around the state or by calling the toll free forms order number, 1-800-424-3876.

Farmers Disappointed By Cargo Preference Action

In Washington the House Foreign Affairs Committee defeated an amendment to the Poland aid bill that would have exempted food aid shipments from cargo preference laws. Al Atmy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau, said this action means more of the aid money will be spent on shipping costs and less on food assistance.

"The cost of shipping food by U.S. flag ships is about 30 to 40 dollars per ton greater than by shipping it on a foreign flag vessel," he said. "This means there will be less food purchased to send to the needy folks in Poland."

Atmy said that because of the opposition by organized labor and U. S. shipping interests, the battle over cargo preference is probably over in the House. But he said farmers will need to continue to call attention to the impact that cargo preference has on the amount of food aid the U. S. can afford to send overseas.

FACTS ABOUT COLD SORES

During this time of year many people suffer from what are commonly called "cold sores." But what causes cold sores and what can be done to treat them?

Cold sores are caused by a virus called Herpes Simplex. This virus has received much attention in recent years as a venereal disease which can recur at any time in the infected person and is incurable. Unfortunately, this is also true of cold sores. The herpes virus, like other virus such as those which cause chicken pox, flu, the common cold, hepatitis, and AIDS, is very difficult to cure since antibiotics have no effect on it. The major defense against a virus is a person's own immune system. Cold sores are contagious. Open lesions contain many virus particles which may infect other individuals. The most common location for a cold sore is near or on the person's lip. Lesions usually recur at the same place every time since the virus actually lives within certain nerve tracts. During times of stress, fatigue, or illness the virus can become active and travel down the nerve tract to the skin causing a "fever blister." A tingling or burning sensation may be felt a day before the appearance of small blisters or vesicles. The blisters eventually rupture and the skin heals over in 10-14 days. Mucous membranes such as those found in the mouth, eye, and genital area, are very thin and easily penetrated by the virus. A person with an open lesion should be careful to avoid touching the sore with his/her hand and then touching other parts of the body since it is possible to have multiple infections. Kissing should be avoided during outbreaks and glasses and eating utensils should not be shared.

Many people become infected with the herpes virus and never get a cold sore! The initial infection may be present as a generalized sore mouth and the person may experience a fever and swollen lymph nodes. Treatment is for relief of symptoms since there is no cure. A medication called acyclovir may be prescribed to help speed the healing of a cold sore. Ask your dentist or physician.

WARREN McARTHUR, who along with his wife Judy, own and operate Chelsea Cleaners and Village Cleaners, has been re-elected a three-county Area Director for the Michigan Institute of Laundering and Drycleaning. McArthur is responsible for educational programs for area professionals and is a lecturer to consumers throughout Southeast Michigan on clothing care and purchasing. He recently moderated a program for members of the profession on customer relations and garment defects at that organization's state convention at Boyne Mountain. Pictured with the McArthurs is State Representative John Fridnia and his wife, Beth Ann. Rep. Fridnia addressed the convention on legislative matters affecting the clothing care industry.

Farm Bureau Insurance Adjusters Assigned to Hurricane Disaster Area

Six Farm Bureau Insurance adjusters from Michigan arrived in North Carolina Oct. 17 to help handle the deluge of claims resulting from Hurricane Hugo. They were assigned to assist the catastrophic claims team of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Insurance Co.

Ernie Bisanz of Belding, Carl Chaffee of Lansing, Mike Caputo of Haslett, Steve Newman of Clio, Bob Todd of Pontiac, and Jim Copeland of Gagetown were assigned to work in North Carolina's southern counties, along the border of South Carolina. They will be working in the hurricane disaster areas for about two weeks.

"We welcome this opportunity to help out a sister insurance company," said David Monroe, vice-president of claims for Farm Bureau Insurance of Michigan. "Our adjusters were eager to go. We're providing a service that will directly speed up the restoration of damaged communities."

EDUCATION RESEARCH

Prepared by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASPP), Reston, Va.

* "Must-Read" Books for School Children *

From "Dr. Seuss" to "Huckleberry Finn" to "Macbeth," many of the long-time favorites are still must reading for America's students.

That's the belief of more than 100 outstanding teachers and secondary school principals who participated in the fifth annual "In Honor of Excellence" program. Sponsored by Burger King Corp. in co-operation with the National Association of Secondary School Principals, and the Council of Chief State School Officers, the project recognizes and provides professional development for a top teacher and principal in each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and American Samoa.

The winners selected "must read" books for pre-schoolers, primary, elementary, junior high, and high school students during their national symposium.

Burger King Corp. plans to feature the "best book" lists on promotional material to be distributed throughout its restaurants nationwide.

The must read books include:

PRE-SCHOOL

"Dr. Seuss" Series, Dr. Seuss; "Mother Goose"; "The Little Engine That Could," Watty Piper; "Where the Wild Things Are," Maurice Sendak; "Make Way for Ducklings," Robert McCloskey.

PRIMARY SCHOOL (K-3)

"The Velveteen Rabbit," Margery Bianco; "Alexander and the Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day," Judith Viorst; "Ira Sleeps Over," Bernard Weber; "The Tale of Peter Rabbit," Beatrix Potter; "Winnie the Pooh," A. A. Milne; "Charlotte's Web," E. B. White; "Where the Wild Things Are," Maurice Sendak.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL (4-6)

"Charlotte's Web," E. B. White; "Tales of A Fourth Grade Nothing," Judy Blume; "Where the Red Fern Grows," Wilson Rawls; "The Laura Ingalls Wilder Collection," Laura Ingalls Wilder; "Little Women," Louisa May Alcott.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL (7-9)

"Where the Red Fern Grows," Wilson Rawls; "The Diary of a Young Girl," Anne Frank; "The Red Badge of Courage," Stephen Crane; "Call of the Wild," Jack London; "Huckleberry Finn," Mark Twain; "Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson; "The Outsiders," S. E. Hinton.

HIGH SCHOOL (10-12)

"The Grapes of Wrath," John Steinbeck; "To Kill a Mockingbird," Harper Lee; "Huckleberry Finn," Mark Twain; "The Scarlet Letter," Nathaniel Hawthorne; "A Tale of Two Cities," Charles Dickens; "Macbeth," William Shakespeare; "Catcher in the Rye," J. D. Salinger.

Over the centuries, some 7,000 varieties of apples have been named and recorded in horticultural journals.

NEWCOMERS WELCOME SERVICE of Ann Arbor has set up a Chelsea division, sponsored by the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce. The service provides a way for local businesses and organizations to let newcomers to the Chelsea area know how to find them and what kinds of goods and services they offer. Each welcome service packet is tailored to the needs of the family. Businesses and organizations that want to be included have to sign up and are charged. Sally Hell, center, who works for the Community Education Office, is co-ordinating the project. Left is Dan Murphy, of Chelsea Pharmacy, and right is Pat Kubany, of Chelsea Community Hospital, representing two of the organizations who are participating in the service.

They're out for blood.

At first, it was only once a week. Then three times. Now they're out for blood every night. And they're not alone. They're just two of the thousands of people all over the country who are finally starting to do something about the disease that kills almost 32,000 Americans every year—and afflicts another 38 million. It's high blood pressure. And once you know you've got it, you can usually control it. By following your doctor's advice on exercise, weight control, salt intake, and medication. Talk to your doctor today about getting started on a program that will keep you out for blood. And in the running.

DIVISION CHAMPIONS of the St. Mary's Religious Education Center/Chelsea Knights of Columbus spelling bee last week were Stephanie Weslowski, left, and Robin Phelps. They will go on to a district contest in November.

Now Through December Is Peak Time for Collisions With Deer

Nearly half of all deer-vehicle collisions take place from October through December, according to Ed Langenau, deer specialist from the Department of Natural Resources.

Last year, state-wide, there were 42,888 reported accidents and 1,758 people were injured and two people were killed. More than half of all accidents involving deer take place in southern Michigan, where there is more traffic.

According to Langenau, there are three reasons accidents are more common in the fall and early winter: human activity in the woods increases as hunting season begins; there is far more green grass near highways than there is in the forests and deer will eat as much as they can; and deer activity during the mating season changes.

In Washtenaw county alone last year there were 888 reported accidents, the sixth highest total in the state, and 58 people were injured. Most of those accidents occurred at night, when deer were hardest to see, according to the Farm Bureau Insurance Co.

The best way to avoid a serious accident is not to swerve if a collision is inevitable, Langenau said. Most serious accidents happen when a driver loses control of a vehicle and hits another car or drives off the road.

Deer warning devices, which mount to the front of a vehicle and are activated by rushing air, are also effective, Farm Bureau Insurance said. The company is offering the devices, which they claim are 80 percent effective, for $6 each.

This year's deer herd is estimated at more than 2 million. Hunters are expected to take nearly one-fourth of the animals.

Farmers Could Benefit From Freer Markets In Eastern Europe

Farmers have some good economic reasons for supporting the dramatic political and economic changes going on in Eastern Europe, according to Bob Craig, Michigan Farm Bureau economist.

"It's really in the best interest of not only American farmers but the whole world economy to have more countries growing and developing economically," Craig said.

"Freer markets in Communist countries can bring more prosperity to their people and boost the demand for U.S. farm exports," he said. "Research has shown that developing countries become customers for more grains, meat and processed food. We believe that American producers will get a good portion of that market growth."

Craig said one possible snag is a lack of trained people who can assist less developed countries in building the economic structures needed to succeed in the world of capitalism.

Farmers Have Chance For Cash Income By Harvesting Timber

The sound of sawing wood is music to the ears of woodlot owners. But many farmers are not branching out to tap the profit potential of their wood resources, according to the Michigan Farm Bureau Timber Advisory Committee.

"We have timber in downstate Michigan that should be harvested," said Kevin Kirk, Michigan Farm Bureau commodity specialist and assistant to the committee. "Mother Nature, in short order, will actually destroy standing timber through wind and lightning. If farmers selectively cut timber, it can provide some profit and also permit more space for the remaining timber to grow."

Farmers can get advice on managing their woodlots by consulting a Department of Natural Resources forestry specialist at their local DNR office.

Ballot Proposals Meeting Offered By Extension Service

Break-ins Reported

On Tuesday, Nov. 7, Michigan voters will have the opportunity to vote on two different proposals related to school finances. Each issue will ask for a yes or no response, and each will be decided by a majority vote of those voting on that question.

Both of these proposals were placed on the ballot by a two-thirds vote of the Michigan House and Senate, and both would amend Michigan's constitution.

If both ballot questions are approved by a majority of those voting on that question, the proposal receiving the higher number of votes will take effect.

School finance reform has been a controversial issue on the public agenda in Michigan for many years. The two proposals, and the alternative of keeping the system the way it is now, provide voters with some real choices. The issues are fairly complex and voters will have to consider each proposal carefully as they will be affected differently, based on their own situation.

To help citizens better understand their choices, the Washtenaw County co-operative Extension Service will sponsor an educational meeting on Thursday, Nov. 2. The session will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m., at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds, located at 8055 Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., Saline, (the corner of Saline-Ann Arbor and Pleasant Lake Rds.)

Beth Moore, Michigan State University Co-operative Extension specialist in Public Affairs Education, will explain the proposals and the consequences and alternatives connected with each. Her presentation will provide an opportunity to learn about the issues from an unbiased educational source. The program is open to all and there is no charge.

The Co-operative Extension Service also has available a free bulletin which explains the 1989 state-wide ballot proposals. The bulletin may be picked up at the meeting, or at the extension office located in the County Service Center, 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor; or requested by calling the Washtenaw County Extension office at 971-0079.

Sportmen, keep your eyes on the firearms in your homes.

A rash of breaking and enterings has been reported to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department recently, in which firearms seem to be part of the "pickin's."

A video camera was reported missing during the past few days from a home on Craig in Scio township.

A shotgun was filched from the back porch of a home in the western part of the county.

Unwelcome thieves seem inclined to kick in basement windows and/or doors, front and back, to gain entry.

Citizens are reminded to lock their buildings, and to be alert and report to authorities the presence of strangers and suspicious vehicles in their neighborhood.

Please notify law enforcement officials if you observe any unusual activities taking place, jotting down license numbers and vehicle descriptions, along with time, date and location.

In a survey conducted by the National Employer-Supported Child Care Project, published in 1984, 90 percent of the 178 companies responding said that the child care service their business offered had improved employee morale, 85 percent said their ability to recruit had been affected positively, and 85 percent noted more positive public relations, according to the U. S. Labor Department.

Halloween Film Festival Set By Key Club

On Saturday, Oct. 28, from 7 to approximately 11 p.m. in the CHS auditorium, Chelsea High school Key Club will sponsor a Halloween Film Festival.

The Film Festival will include old Halloween classics such as "Dracula," "Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy," "The Blob," and "The Bride of Frankenstein."

Feature film will be a Peter Cushing classic, "The House That Dripped Blood," from the author of "Psycho."

These films are an attempt to provide entertainment for older Chelsea residents who can truly enjoy this type of entertainment.

Refreshments will be available.

Parent Group for Learning Disabled Holding Youth Night

Dexter School District Parent Support Group for Learning Disabilities will hold their second "Youth Night" on Thursday, Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. in the Wylie Middle school cafeteria.

Come meet "The Cougars—Members Past and Present." The "Cougars" are an Ann Arbor social support group for young students in the learning disability program. Doris Sperling, their first adult leader, will give the group's history, present the video "I'm Not Stupid" and introduce the students who will share their experiences and successes.

Free pizza and pop will be served at the gathering for which there is no charge. The evening is for students, families, teachers, and anyone interested in helping someone overcome a learning disability.

For further information call 426-3813 or 426-8031.

Council on Aging Speaker Will Clarify Medicare Future

Barbara Zaret, assistant director of the Washtenaw County Council on Aging, will speak in Chelsea on "The Medicare Maze: Facts and Future" on Wednesday, Nov. 15. She will give an up-to-the-minute report on changes in Medicare and tips on how to use the system effectively.

Two sessions of the program are being offered. The first session is at the Chelsea Senior Center, 699 McKinley, at 10:45 a.m. The second is at the Middle Square Building, 134 W. Middle, at 1 p.m.

Call the Chelsea Senior Center at 475-9242 for more information and to reserve a space. There is no charge for either program.

Pinckney Takes SEC Title With Victory Over Dogs In Chelsea Home Finale

Pinckney Pirates secured a tie for the Southeastern Conference football championship with a 28-13 victory over the Chelsea Bulldogs last Friday at Niehaus Field.

The Pirates tied the Milan Big Reds. Each team finished 5-1 in the league.

A light snow fell during most of the game, which caused slick conditions on the field and rough going for Chelsea running back Jude Quilter, who was held to less than 100 yards rushing for the first time this season.

In fact, the Pirate defense held the Bulldogs to one of their lowest offensive totals of the season at 224 yards.

The Bulldogs also helped the Pinckney cause with two fumbles and an interception, as well as several crucial penalties, including a controversial fourth-down interference call.

Chelsea's defense, however, played a solid game against one of the area's best teams. Pinckney was held to 242 total yards, 140 by running back Shannon Frece. The Pirates completed just four passes all night.

"Defensively we played very well," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave.

"They had trouble throwing and running and they probably gained 60 or 70 yards in the last five minutes. I can't be disappointed with our defensive play. Our offense was also solid. Pinckney is a very good team. They came in with a good scheme and played well. They and Milan should do very well in the play-offs."

The Pirates had a big edge in the kicking game and that proved to be Chelsea's downfall. It wasn't so much how well Pinckney performed, but how poorly the Bulldogs played.

Take away the first two minutes and the teams were almost equal the rest of the way.

With a little more than a minute played, Chelsea was forced to punt from their goal line. A snap over punter Ben Hurst's head landed in the end zone and Hurst pounced on it for a safety.

The ensuing free kick was taken by Pinckney's Shannon Frece, who returned it 52 yards straight up field for a score. The kick was good and with less than two minutes gone Chelsea was down 9-0.

"Our kicking game has hurt us all year," LaFave said.

"It was a big factor in the Saline and Dexter games, too."

Chelsea fell behind 15-0 when Frece scored on a 12-yard run early in the second quarter.

However, the Bulldogs rallied to close the gap to 15-13 early in the second half.

Late in the second quarter, Rick Westcott scored from six yards out, capping a 12-play drive. The two-point pass failed.

On the Bulldogs' first drive of the second half, quarterback Kyle Plank (5-14, 130 yards) hit Quilter on a 59-yard touchdown pass play, and Ron Stacy's extra-point kick was good.

Just when the momentum appeared to be in Chelsea's favor, Frece took control of the game. He ran 32 yards to the Chelsea 28 as he bounced off several tacklers. A screen play to Frece moved the ball to the Chelsea 17. Another pass in the flat moved the ball to the Chelsea seven. Finally, quarterback Tom Reason hit Frece with a seven-yard scoring pass.

Chelsea's next drive ended when a long fourth-down screen play was called back due to an illegal receiver down field. A fumble ended the drive after that, and an interception by Pinckney's Eric Summers finished off the fourth drive of the half.

The interception was quickly converted to points as Frece scored from 17 yards at the 4:39 mark.

Chelsea's fifth drive of the half also ended with a fumble.

The Bulldogs conclude the season this Friday at Dearborn Heights Crestwood, a team, like the Bulldogs, with a 2-6 record.

LaFave said Crestwood is a young team, though big and physical.

Chelsea will probably be without the services of linebacker Mark Chasteen, Lineman Mike Terpstra, who played about half of the Pinckney game, will probably not be at full speed.

"It would be nice to end on a positive note," LaFave said.

JUDE QUILTER looks for running room as a Pinckney defender attempts to make the stop during last Friday's final Bulldog home game. Quilter was held to less than 100 yards rushing for the first time this season.

Bulldogs Knock Off Lincoln To Stay Unbeaten in Conference

For the third straight game, the Chelsea Bulldog varsity basketball team didn't play up to its ability, said coach Rahn Rosentreter, yet the team managed to take its ninth straight victory, 47-32 over the Lincoln Railsplitters last Tuesday, Oct. 17.

The Bulldogs were 8-0 in the Southeastern Conference going into last night's home game against Dexter, one of the key games of the season. They face Tecumseh on the road tomorrow.

"It was a real sloppy type of game," Rosentreter said.

"We had the chance to take complete control in the second quarter but we let it slip away. We knew at half-time Lincoln would be difficult to handle in the second half because it would be a physical type of game."

The Bulldogs jumped out to a 17-6 lead in the first quarter as they hit 8-9 shots, including a three-pointer by Colleen Scharphorn. But the teams played evenly the second half, and Chelsea led at half-time, 23-12.

Lincoln won the third quarter, 14-10, but the Bulldogs took charge again in the fourth quarter as they collected six steals with pressure defense.

Rosentreter again was dismayed with his team's free throw shooting as they made 6-18 shots.

"We have to make our free throws if we are going to beat Tecumseh and other good teams," Rosentreter said.

"I'm afraid that part of our game may be in trouble."

The Bulldogs out-rebounded Lincoln, 35-31, as Carrie Flintoft had eight rebounds, and Allison Brown and Mercedes Hammer each grabbed seven. Hammer had all five of Chelsea's blocked shots, and Shawn Losey had nine of the Bulldogs' 21 steals.

Scharphorn led the Bulldogs with 15 points, all on field goals. Flintoft had five field goals for 10 points. Other scorers included Scharme Petty and Brown with six points each, Losey with three, Kristin Bohlender, Tiffany Moore, and Hammer with two each, and Amy Thomson with one point.

Golfers Take Third in SEC

Chelsea Bulldog golfers finished fourth in the Southeastern Conference tournament last week, giving them a third place finish over-all. It was the final competition of the season.

Saline won the meet with a 333, Tecumseh was second at 351, Dexter took third at 355, Chelsea was fourth at 362, Pincinye was fifth at 365, Milan was sixth at 367, and Lincoln placed seventh at 420.

Chelsea senior Chad Starkey, who was named to the all-conference team, shot an 84. Other Chelsea scores included Steve Emmert 97, Doug Wingrove 93, Brandon Murrell 98, Chris White 96, Alex Hammerschmidt 108.

Sarah Franklin, 24th, 25:38.

At Thursday's final home meet, against Pinckney, the weather was the primary competition for the Bulldogs as two inches of snow slowed times down considerably. Chelsea took the meet, 18-45, by taking the top four places and five out of the top six. "Lisa Monti ran exceptionally well to win despite the fact that she did not wear spikes," Clarke said. "Sophomore Charity Allen ran one of her best races of the year."

Beach Middle school eighth grad basketball team defeated Saline, 27-2 last week, to avenge their first loss of the season.

The Pups dominated on the boards as they held a 52-35 rebound advantage. They also played excellent defense, said coach Jon Schaffner.

Mara Smith had 15 rebounds and Tracy Patrick and Jackie Crawford each had six.

Smith, Patrick, and Jamie Collinsworth each had six steals.

Smith led Chelsea with 10 points. Nicki Plasecki had five, and Li McLaughlin, Jenny Holzhausen, Crawford, Laura Carty, Collinsworth and Patrick each had two points.

The Pups also defeated Dexter last week, 22-15, after trailing at half-time by two points.

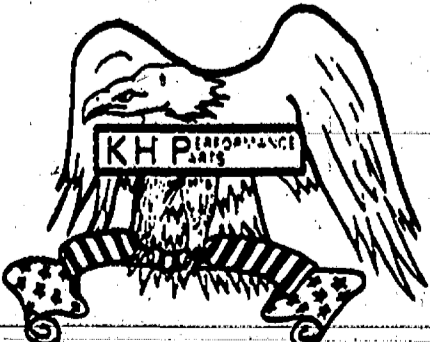

Dexter's pressure defense caused problems in the first half.

Collinsworth and Smith had nine points each, and Patrick and Johnson each scored two.

Smith, Holzhausen, and Johnson had five steals each, and Plasecki had four.

The Pups have a 7-2 record.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Again, the Chelsea Bulldog varsity football team lost a game they could have won. That's been the story all season long.

Make no mistake, the Pinckney Pirates, who should be going to the state play-offs, are a fine team. Shannon Frece, running back/linebacker/returner, is about as good as they come in the Southeastern Conference, or at least he was last Friday. The Pinckney defense has size and quickness.

Yet Chelsea could have knocked the Pirates out of their co-championship with Milan. Mistakes in the kicking game, turnovers, and key penalties seemed to decide the game more than Pinckney's play.

The weather, or rather the slick conditions on the field, was a factor as well. Chelsea's Jude Quilter, who's a cutting type of runner, could not execute his game as well as he would under other conditions. Passes were dropped. And the weather may even have played a part in the turnovers and the ill-fated punt snap.

Anyway, I'd like to see the two teams square off on a dry field. Perhaps Pinckney would trounce the Dogs. But I doubt it. My hunch is it would be a closer game.

We all know the truth. Chelsea is one of the best 2-6 teams in the state. If they could just eliminate those mistakes.

Akel Marshall, Chelsea's Mr. Athletic Volunteer, was the voice of the Bulldogs this year.

Marshall handled the public address system for games at all levels, and he admits he had a lot of fun. Even if AD Wayne Welton may have had to coax him a little bit to take the job. Welton says Marshall could be the voice of the Dogs "for a long, long time."

At any rate, his announcing, which struck me as pretty good, especially for a novice, is just another line in a long list of ways Marshall helps the athletic department.

He's Welton's right hand man in varsity baseball. He passes out frozen pops after games in other sports. Kids hang out at his house and he's like a big brother to some.

He does it all without pay. But probably more amazing to me is he didn't even go to school here. Manchester High is his alma mater. He's as dedicated as any alum could be.

Saturday is the regional cross country meet at Springport. Four of the state's top 10 girls teams, including the Bulldogs, will be there.

The girls have been improving steadily throughout the season. With no sickness or injury between now and then, another excellent performance, and a little luck, Chelsea could win it. They have the potential.

I don't know about you, but I'm starting to look forward to boys basketball season. Chelsea could have one of its best teams in many years, even better than the Mark Bareis-led Bulldogs who won the league three years ago.

Chad Starkey, Brian Burg, Kyle and Kerry Plank, and Jon Royce is not a bad nucleus for a team. The bench should be plenty strong, too. The team should have plenty of offense, decent quickness, and coach Robin Raymond's teams always play good defense. The only sore point may be the lack of a dominating inside player. Then again, how many Chelsea teams ever have a guy you can look at and instantly peg as a center?

A key to the season will be in the stands, however. An enthusiastic crowd can do more to inspire a team than anything a coach can shout.

However, if the yelling at home football games this year is any indication, I'd say the cheerleaders will have their jobs cut out for them. Chelsea's cheerleaders have been a wide margin, the quietest, cruelest in the league. Barely a cheer, the now-retired Rosenmeter. In fact, I wondered at times why the cheerleaders even bothered to show up. It's been scientifically proven within a shadow of a doubt that cheering is a two-way street.

I suppose it's particularly fitting that my two-year-old son couldn't care less about the Chelsea football games, but just loves the cheerleaders. He does, however, occasionally watch football on television. His primary response, other than to yell "bootball" is to say "ouch" after a tackle. Smart kid, I'd say.

WIDE RECEIVER Adam Taylor hauled in a pass from directly over his head on one of the finest offensive plays for the Chelsea Bulldogs last Friday night against Pinckney. Pinckney went on to win the game, 28-13.

7th Grade Cagers Win Two More

Beach Middle school seventh grade basketball team topped Saline, 34-28, and Dexter, 27-21, in action last week. The wins give the young Bulpups a 7-2 record.

In the Saline game, rebounding and defense keyed the win, said coach Ann Schaffner.

Martha Merkel scored seven points to lead the Pups. Other scorers included Jessica Flintoft 6, Nancy Pidd 6, Kate Steele 3, and Amy Petty 3.

Leading rebounders were Steele, Merkel, and Pidd with nine, eight, and seven, respectively.

The Pups played their best half of basketball this season when they jumped out to a 20-1 half-time lead over Dexter.

Chelsea shot 30 percent and combined that with excellent rebounding, passing, and defense, Schaffner said.

However, the Pups went cold in the second half, which allowed Dexter to get back into the game.

Chelsea scorers included Lori Ritter 6, Merkel 5, Petty 4, Steele 4, and Pidd 3. Ritter had eight rebounds and Steele had seven. Pidd and Merkel had six rebounds each.

Boy Runners Lose to Indians

Chelsea Bulldog boys ran two of the Southeastern Conference's best cross country teams last week and lost to the Tecumseh Indians, 35-22, and Pinckney Pirates, 45-16.

In the Tecumseh meet on Tuesday, Oct. 17, Brian Zangara ran his best time of the season at 17:02 to finish second. In addition, four of his Bulldog teammates also ran season-best times.

"It was a good meet for the boys but Tecumseh was just a better team," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

Holden Harris, Kelly Beard, Ben Vermeylen, and Joe Blough all had their best times of the year.

Chelsea places and times included: Harris, 4th, 17:13; Beard, 8th, 17:42; Vermeylen, 10th, 17:44; Jeff Latimer, 11th, 17:48; Blough, 12th, 17:52; Jim Hassett, 13th, 18:02; Shawn Castleberry, 14th, 18:04; Jason Allen, 15th, 18:08; Erich Hammer, 16th, 18:23; Rob Jaques, 18th, 18:33; Jake Rindie, 19th, 18:33; Justin White, 22nd, 18:47; Brian Andress, 26th, 19:54; Tobin Strong, 27th, 20:21; Andrew Parker, 28th, 20:28; J.J. Hanke, 31st, 22:18.

Pinckney's Gar Eddings easily beat the field in 17:20 last Thursday at Inverness Golf Course as the defending Southeastern Conference champions defeated the Bulldogs on a snow covered course.

"The boys ran well considering the conditions but Pinckney was too strong," Clarke said.

"Holden Harris seems back from his illness as he finished a strong second and Brian Zangara ran well to place fourth. Kelly Beard continued to improve and sophomore Jason Allen ran one of his best races of the year to take 10th."

Chelsea places and times included: Harris, 2nd, 17:54; Zangara, 4th, 18:00; Hassett, 8th, 18:42; Beard, 9th, 18:47; Allen, 10th, 18:54; Hammer, 11th, 19:01; Latimer, 13th, 19:08; Vermeylen, 15th, 19:11; Blough, 16th, 19:26; White, 18th, 19:35; Rindie, 19th, 19:54; Jaques, 20th, 20:13; Castleberry, 21st, 20:25; Andress, 23rd, 21:15; Dave Sayer, 25th, 21:37; Parker, 26th, 22:26; Strong, 27th, 22:41; Zatkovich, 28th, 22:48; Hanke, 30th, 23:51.

Chelsea finished with a 2-4 record in the Southeastern Conference. They were scheduled to run in the SEC Meet last night.

In a survey conducted by the National Employer-Supported Child Care Project, published in 1984, 90 percent of the 178 companies responding said that the child care service their business offered had improved employee morale, 85 percent said their ability to recruit had been affected positively, and 85 percent noted more positive public relations, according to the U. S. Labor Department.

JV Cagers Whip Lincoln

Chelsea junior varsity basketball team improved their record to 5-3 in the Southeastern Conference with a 33-24 victory over Lincoln last Tuesday, Oct. 17.

The game started out slowly as Chelsea held a 4-3 lead after the first quarter. However, the Bulldogs picked up the scoring pace in the second quarter to post a 16-6 lead at half-time.

Lincoln actually out-scored the Bulldogs, 19-17, in the second half.

"The keys to the game were that we were 7 of 8 from the free throw line and we out-rebounded them 38-22," said Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra.

Molly Dilworth had 10 rebounds.

Chelsea's leading scorer was Heather McConeghy with 10 points. Sarah DeVine had eight, Erin Knott scored seven off the bench, and Theresa Hurst and Dilworth each scored four points.

The Bulldogs improved their overall record to 6-8.

UNICEF Trick or Treating Set Sunday

Trick or Treating for UNICEF will be Sunday, Oct. 29 from 1 to 4 p.m., by the children of the First Congregational Church of Chelsea. The knocking at your door will not be for Halloween, money collected will go to UNICEF.

A GENTLE, BUT HEAVY, SNOWFALL added a touch of winter to Friday's final home football game against Pinckney. It was the first time in several years that snow has fallen during a football game in Chelsea.

Community Education Programs Offered at Community Hospital

Chelsea Community Hospital continues its fall education program with "Adult CPR." This course teaches artificial respiration, one rescuer CPR and first aid for obstructed airway (choking) for an adult victim. This will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 7, 6 to 10 p.m. in Woodland Room "A" at Chelsea Community Hospital.

Ongoing programs held at Chelsea Community Hospital include "Children Are People," a chemical dependency prevention program for children ages 5 to 12 years. This program is offered by the Substance Abuse Department and is held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:45 to 8:15 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Kresge House. For registration or additional information call Betsy Beckerman at 475-4100.

"Breathers Club," an educational presentation and a supportive atmosphere for sharing for all interested individuals who have chronic respiratory problems, is offered by the Cardio Pulmonary service. Sessions are held the third Saturday of every month from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital.

"Cardiac Rehabilitation - Outpatient" is designed to provide rehabilitation for people who are recovering from a heart attack or heart surgery. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling 475-3951.

"Speech and Language Therapy for Children - Outpatient Program" offers comprehensive, individualized evaluations and therapy programs for youngsters with delayed speech or language development. For more information, call 475-3962.

The "Chemical Dependency Lecture Series" is free and open to the public to provide awareness and education regarding various aspects of alcoholism and other chemical dependencies. Lectures are held every Thursday evening from 7 to 8 p.m. in Chelsea Community Hospital Dining Room.

The "Outpatient Diabetes Education" program is designed for people with diabetes and their families. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling Pat Parr, R.N., B.S.N. at 475-3935.

The weekly educational presentation and discussion, "Family Education Series - Department of Psychiatry," focuses on understanding emotional or mental difficulties that require psychiatric treatment such as depression or chronic mental illness. Presentations are held Thursday evenings from 7:15 to 9 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Partial Hospitalization, 955 W. Eisenhower Circle, Suite H, Ann Arbor. For further information call Partial Hospitalization, 995-1010.

"Diabetes Sharing Group" offers an opportunity for patients with diabetes and their families to meet together in an informal setting. The group meets the second Wednesday of each month from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital Private Dining Rooms.

"Occupational Therapy for Infants and Children - Outpatient Program" offers comprehensive individualized evaluations and therapy programs for infants and children with delayed sensory-motor skills. Sessions are individually scheduled by calling 475-3751, ext. 3287.

With "Individual Nutrition Counseling" a registered dietitian will work with you to create a meal plan that is nutritionally adequate and easy to follow. When your physician has prescribed a special diet for you, contact your nutrition counseling service at 475-4028.

Pre-registration required for all classes. For further information call the Education Department, 475-3935.

AMENDMENT TO THE LYNDON TOWNSHIP PRIVATE ROAD ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE NO. 5A

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE LYNDON TOWNSHIP PRIVATE ROAD ORDINANCE, ORDINANCE NO. 5, BY ADDING PROVISIONS AND STANDARDS FOR THE GRANTING OF VARIANCES

The Township of Lyndon Ordains:
Section 1—The Lyndon Township Private Road and Street Ordinance, Ordinance No. 5, effective January 17, 1978 is amended by the addition to Section 10, Compiled Ordinance Code 30.012, the following provision:

In addition to the above factors, the Township Board shall consider the following:

1. Whether there is a reasonable relationship between the ordinance regulation and the public health, safety and general welfare. The Township Board shall require an inspection and report by a registered civil engineer as to the ability of the applicant's proposed roadway and easement to serve the dwelling units or structures located or proposed on the subject parcel. The Township Board shall consider any limited use of the drive by the general public and whether or not the easement would be wide enough to accommodate emergency vehicles. The Township Board shall also obtain an inspection and report by the fire department servicing the subject premises.

2. The Township Board shall also determine whether enforcement of the ordinance would preclude the use of the property for any purpose to which it is reasonably adapted.

As part of the variance application, the applicant shall obtain the inspections, and pay the fees provided by Section 3 of the ordinance.

Section 2: Ratification of Ordinance, Conflicting Provisions—The Lyndon Township Private Road Ordinance effective January 17, 1978, is hereby ratified and reaffirmed. Any provisions of said ordinance or any other ordinance of the Township which are inconsistent with the provisions of this amendment are hereby repealed. The provisions of the within amendment are hereby declared to be severable in the invalidation of any one or more of the same by any judicial determination or statutory or constitutional provision shall not invalidate the remainder of the amendment, said provisions or said ordinance.

Section 3: Effective Date—The within Ordinance shall be effective thirty (30) days after publication.

Approved: October 17, 1989

Published: October 25, 1989

Effective: November 24, 1989

WITCH'S BREW: This ugly old witch (otherwise a beautiful, young Lionsess Club member) is busy these days preparing a brew to help young people celebrate Halloween. She and other Lionsess members will be operating their haunted house at the UAW 237 Hall on Main St. The spook house will be in operation Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27-28 from 7 to 10 p.m.

Kiwanis Halloween Party Slated Here Oct. 31

The annual Kiwanis Halloween Costume Party will be held Tuesday, Oct. 31 in the Municipal Parking Lot. The party begins at 6 p.m. after the traditional community trick or treat from 4-6 p.m.

The party will begin with costume judging promptly at 6.

Three "celebrity" judge teams from local Chelsea businesses will pick three winners in two categories in each of six differing age groups.

The judge teams will be assisted by Kiwanians as they choose the Most Original Costume and Best Looking Costume in each age group—3-and-under; 4-6, 6-7, 8-9, 10-11, and 12-and-over. The latter category has been known to attract occasional adults.

As well as three top placers, there will be several honorable mention winners. In addition, each child will receive a Participant Ribbon.

Immediately following the judging, the antique fire truck of Jim Gaken and the Beach Middle School Marching Band, under the direction of Warren Mayer, will lead the traditional parade around the block. After the parade, first, second, and third place winners will be introduced to the crowd by emcee Bill Rademacher, and photographs will be taken for The Standard.

Kiwanis Club will serve cider and doughnuts.

Time Changes Sunday Morning

We all get an extra hour for sleep or late-night play this week-end as Daylight Savings Time ends and we return to normal Eastern Standard Time.

The time changes officially at 2 a.m. Sunday, when it will suddenly become 1 a.m. Don't forget to set your clocks back.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Assoc. of Investors Corp.
& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. I have had a great need for more income. I decided to get it by buying a number of bonds which pay a high rate of interest. Recently, I have met a new broker and he tells me that I am in a very risky position. He says the bonds that I have bought are commonly referred to as junk bonds and that there is not much in the way of assets behind them. I thought I had done a good job by spreading my money over ten different issues but he says all of them are of the junk classification. What is your opinion of junk bonds? Should I sell them now?

A. I guess I have learned that there is a lot of truth in the old adage: "The higher the interest, the greater the risk." Your new broker sounds like a person with good judgment who has your interest at heart.
The reason the so-called junk bonds pay such a high rate of interest is that they were issued in transactions where values were stretched to the limit and the assets in back of them were greatly reduced from normal standards. In cases where the remaining business has been highly leveraged with debt, there is not much room for mistakes in running the business.
The record of junk bonds is not very good. In a recent article, Charles Allmon reported that Professor Paul Asquith of Harvard University had made a study of junk bonds that were sold in 1977 and 1978. He found that 34% had defaulted by 1988. In another study, Professor Edward Altman of New York University found that the junk bond default rate from 1976 to 1987 was 36%.

If you have a chance of losing 34% to 36% of your capital, it would not seem that you are making a sensible investment putting your money in such items. You may be lucky and put your money in junk bonds that work out, but I would prefer to skip that kind of investment completely.
There are some mutual funds that invest in junk bonds, and if you are determined to put your money in them, that might be the safest way to go. But with the high percentage of defaults, it seems likely that even the best fund would be caught with a loss on one or two junk bond issues.

In looking at junk bonds, remember that companies that are in very cyclical businesses may be the most likely to run into trouble if they are highly leveraged. High leverage suggests that in a business slowdown, they might find their income drying up. R.J.R.

In old Scotland it was believed if February 12-14th were stormy, there would be good weather the rest of the year.

Can I Use Common Sense As I Study The Bible?

As I have heard many variations on different theological concepts presented in God's word; the question quickly arises in my mind, and the mind of many other seekers of truth is: "How do I know who is right and who is wrong?" When hearing the well educated theologians debate their philosophical exposition on their ideologies of what they think the word of God means, I recall an aphorism an old hillbilly minister used to recite to me continually: "If it doesn't make sense, don't buy it!" I grow more and more appreciative of the simplicity of this man's reasoning. Common sense should be, even though it is not common practice, a practical part of understanding the scriptures. In Acts 17:2, Paul "reasoned with them out of the scriptures." Paul's teaching "made sense" to the Jews. Paul continues in Rom. 12:1-2 to instruct us "to give our bodies as a living sacrifice, which is our reasonable service." Giving our bodies as a living sacrifice simply "made sense." Common sense also tells us other things pertaining to the scriptures. 1) That a Son (Jesus Christ) can not be as old as his father (Jehova). No matter how many creeds state otherwise, it just does not make sense. 2) Common sense tells you that you can't be higher than the highest. Though many doctrines proclaim Jesus to be an equal co-existent being with Jehova, Jesus is referred to in scripture, Luke 1:32, as being the Son of the highest. Knowing that Jesus is the Son of Jehova this makes Jehova to be the highest. Even Jesus regarded this fact in John 14:28 when he said, "My father is greater than I." It does not make sense to say that someone is greater than you when you are equal in power to them. When trying to make sense of the mystical doctrines taught in the world, call to mind one simple aphorism that can really help you: "If it doesn't make sense don't buy it!"

Nature from Your Backdoor

By Glenn R. Dudders
With the increasing popularity of bird feeding, a lot of people are branching out from the more common seed-eating birds to feed other species, such as hummingbirds. Each year in October, I get more calls about when to bring in the hummingbird feeder. People are concerned that continuing to feed after early September will cause the hummingbirds to overstay the time they should have left Michigan to migrate south.

We know that bird migration is influenced by three things: day length, weather, and the availability of food and water. And we know that all three factors are interrelated. Decreasing day length means that birds will migrate after a certain period; weather determines the date within that time; and food and water supplies interact with weather to determine when, how far and how fast the birds travel.

For instance, waterfowl will linger much farther north than usual if the food and water are there. This poses a problem for the folks who manage waterfowl refuges. These refuges are supposed to be stepping stones down through the continent. They provide a rest and feeding stop for migrating waterfowl. The trick in managing these refuges is to provide enough food to provide for the birds' needs as they travel but not so much that we shortstop the birds. If we make the living too good there, they will tend to stay until the water freezes and food is locked in ice or snow. Then they depart.

Something similar seems to happen with hummingbirds. In September, the reduction in day length tells them it's time to leave, but if the feeder is still there and they can get lots of food from their favorite flowers, they may linger until the frost wipes out their feeding flowers. Then they head south.

They may not have to go too far. A flight of a couple of hundred miles can put them in an area where the flowers are still blooming. But if they have to, they can fly hundreds of miles without rest.

It appears that the only problem with leaving the hummingbird feeder out as long as there are hummingbirds around to use it is that encouraging them to linger might mean they'd be exposed to cold, rainy, windy weather that they might not have experienced if they'd gone south earlier. A long period of cold—it prevents them from migrating and also makes it difficult for them to feed.

So there's that argument for taking the feeder down. On the other side of the coin is the fact that the hummingbirds, like other birds that migrate, need to build up fat reserves to sustain them on their travels. The longer the hummingbirds can stay here and build up their fat supplies, to a point, the better equipped they will be to handle migration. Taking the feeder in early September may mean that the birds have two to three weeks less of easy access to an abundant, nutritious food source that would allow them to accumulate more fat reserves vital to them during migration.

I am reluctant to take my feeder down until the frost kills off the trumpet creepers around it. When that happens, the birds take off and the feeder comes down.

Because so many factors interact to determine when the hummingbirds start their migration, the best time for bringing in the feeder can vary from year to year. Using the trumpet creeper as a cue works in my situation. For other people, I suggest the time to take the feeder down is when they are ready. Chances are that the natural processes that regulate migration will probably continue to work for the majority of hummingbirds, regardless of what actions we humans take.

What is most important in the long run is understanding the process and enjoying the opportunity to observe and speculate about the effect of this factor or that one. That opportunity to watch and wonder is a big part of nature from your backdoor.

Michigan has 38,075 square miles of Great Lakes waters and 3,121 miles of Great Lakes shoreline—the longest freshwater shoreline in the U.S. There are 11,037 inland lakes which cover more than 1,194 square miles and 38,350 miles of rivers and streams, including 12,600 miles of trout waters—of which approximately 1,000 miles are considered Michigan's finest blue ribbon trout mainstems. Michigan's longest river (main branch) is the Grand River which extends 300 miles. The state's 10 largest lakes are: Houghton (20,044 acres), Torch, Charlevoix, Burt, Mullet, Gogebic, Manistique, Black, Crystal and Portage.

Eye Care

Cheryl Huey, M.D.
Ophthalmologist - Eye Physician and Surgeon
GLAUCOMA
Questions & Answers

Your vision is one of your most valuable possessions. None of us would purposely neglect eye care. However, there is one eye disease that has no symptoms, until it is far advanced. This disease is glaucoma. Glaucoma is a condition in which the pressure inside the eye is abnormally high. Slowly, over a long period of time, this pressure gradually damages the nerves in the eye, and causes blind areas in your peripheral, or side vision. You cannot feel this pressure, and the defects in the side vision are not noticed until they are far advanced. Once vision is lost from glaucoma, it cannot be recovered.

How can I tell if I have glaucoma? There is no way you can tell on your own. You cannot feel the pressure. You must have an examination by your eye doctor to detect glaucoma.

Does glaucoma affect only older people? No. Glaucoma can affect anyone from an infant to the elderly. It is more common in persons over 40 years old.

Is glaucoma hereditary? It tends to run in families. If there is glaucoma in your family, it is more likely that you could have glaucoma, but if it is not in your family, you can still have it.

Is there treatment for glaucoma? With modern methods, most cases of glaucoma can be controlled. This is usually done using eye drops. The laser can also be used for some cases of glaucoma.

WCC Special Needs Office Holding Open House Today

The Special Needs Office of Washtenaw Community College is extending an invitation to students, parents, staff, faculty and community agency representatives to attend the Special Needs Open House. During the Open House, information will be provided regarding the services available to special needs students on WCC's Campus.

Special needs refers to students who are handicapped; disadvantaged, economically and academically; limited in English proficiency; and enrolled in occupational classes or programs and receive support from the Special Needs Office in order to be successful.

Community agency representatives will also be present to answer questions about their respective services.

The Open House will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 25, from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. in the Special Needs Office located in Room 141 of the Student Center Building. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

For further information, call Marjorie Cash at 973-3342 or 973-3483.

The tall-mast sailship, "Malabar" is the only floating bed and breakfast in the state and it is docked at Traverse City.

Winter Means Ski Time in Michigan

Winter makes its mark on Michigan, but Michigan also makes its mark on winter, with more ski facilities than any other state, thousands of miles of cross-country ski and snowmobile trails, winter fishing contests and festivals, and snowmobile, dogsled, ski, and snowshoe races.

Every part of Michigan puts its own particular stamp on winter: the western Upper Peninsula with its 600-foot hills and 200-inch depths; the eastern Upper Peninsula and north-east Lower Peninsula with thousands of miles of ski and snowmobile trails; and southern lower Michigan, where a dozen downhill ski areas and miles and miles of cross-country ski trails put both sports within easy commute for hundreds of thousands of urban enthusiasts.

But the region that has captured the imagination and the fancy of Midwestern skiers is the northwest quadrant of the Lower Peninsula—an area dotted with nearly 20 ski facilities ranging from upscale resorts to community ski hills, and many of the charming resort towns of summer retain their charm all winter.

This is one of those areas in which the "lake effect" really takes effect. The prevailing northwest winds pick up moisture from Lake Michigan and dump it, in the form of snow, on the highlands of northwest lower Michigan.

The state's first major ski resorts sprang up in this area, and the nation's first snow-making machines were employed here to pick up where Mother Nature left off. As a result, northwest lower Michigan has been in the ski business in a big way for more than 40 years.

Today, nearly 20 resorts offer more than 200 ski runs, ranging from 180 feet to 615 feet in height (with many in the 400- to 500-foot range) and up to 7,920 feet in length.

A number of the ski resorts are the summer homes of Michigan's best-known "designer" golf courses: Arnold Palmer's "The Legend" at Shanty Creek-Schuss Mountain, Robert Trent Jones' courses and the Donald Ross Memorial at the Boyne resorts, and Arnold Palmer's "The Bear" at Grand Traverse Resort (which does not offer downhill skiing but has developed miles of cross-country ski trails).

One (The Homestead) offers a spectacular view of Lake Michigan stretching away, blue and sparkling, to the horizon. Each has its own character and flavor; many cater to families.

They include Boyne Mountain at Boyne Falls, Boyne Highlands at Harbor Springs, Cabersee at Cadillac, Crystal Mountain at Thompsonville, Hanson Hills and Skyline at Grayling, The Homestead in Glen Arbor, Michaywe at Gaylord, Missaukee Mountain at Lake City, Mt. McSaubia in Charlevoix, Nub's Nob in Harbor Springs, Petoskey Winter Sports Park, Shanty Creek-Schuss Mountain at Mancelona, Sugar Loaf at Cedar, and Treetops/Sylvan and Tyrolean resorts at Gaylord.

In addition, the area is laced with thousands of miles of cross-country ski trails, some at ski resorts, others in state and national forests, in locally maintained "quiet areas," and at Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore. Some almost literally pass by the back doors of charming bed and breakfast inns. The gourmet restaurants for which the area is noted remain open throughout the winter—as do many of the shops and art galleries in the many small towns of the northwest.

For information on skiing and the third annual "Let's Go Skiing Michigan" program, call the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-5432-YES, or write the bureau at P.O. Box 30226, Lansing 48933. The hearing impaired may call the bureau's TDD at 1-800-722-8191 (in Michigan only).

Beef Hormone Issue Should Be Settled In Trade Talks

Michigan Farm Bureau has raised some concerns over farmer efforts to produce special hormone-free beef for the European market. Kevin Kirk, livestock specialist for Farm Bureau, said bowing to European demands in this area could set a bad precedent.

"By being involved with providing beef to the European Community that's produced without any growth hormones, farmers could contribute to a tidal wave of demands for other products produced without chemicals," he said.

Grain Reserves Should Be Replaced With Buffer System

Farm Bureau has told a House Agriculture subcommittee in Washington that federal grain reserve policies which have tried to keep grain prices within a specifically defined range have hurt farmers and wasted taxpayers' money.

Bob Craig, economist with Michigan Farm Bureau, said that since 1985 the grain reserve has built up burdensome supplies and depressed prices. He said the reserve should be scrapped and replaced with a buffer stocks approach which would buffer market reactions rather than try to regulate market activity.

"What that would do would be to not only allow government response to crises of overproduction but also provide emergency food relief for lesser developed countries in times of need," he said.

Craig said a buffer program would let market forces set production and consumption decisions, with farm income supported through direct payments from the government rather than through government intrusion in the setting of prices.

Acknowledging that budget considerations will be important in the 1990 farm bill, Craig said that political or economic miscalculations in grain storage policy can lead to substantial budget outlays which can vary from year to year. "An emergency buffer stocks program can probably be run for less money and with less year-to-year variation in costs," he said. "A grain reserve program should not be asked to do jobs that are clearly the responsibility of other policy tools, like supporting income and encouraging participation in other programs."

Michigan Families Featured in 1990 Extension Calendar

Twelve Michigan families are featured in the 1990 calendar published by the Michigan State University Extension Home Economics Program.

The 12 families are the winners in the state-wide "Families in the '90's" photo contest conducted last spring. Each family represents an aspect of strong, viable family life in the '90's.

The winners are:

—January: The Lois and Norm Danielson family of Grand Rapids.

—February: Paul Danielson of Elkton.

—March: Kristopher Schuette and Roy Hubbard of Cedar River.

—April: Chuck and Michael Nelson and Pete and Christel Ries.

—May: Ed and Mary Robinson of Cass City.

—June: Brett Fidler

—July: McCord Tyler of Gowen.

—August: Richard Fish and Sydney Pettenger of Boyne City.

—September: Ben Richardson.

—October: The Nora and David Lopez family of Lansing.

—November: McKenzie and Charlie Cook of Lansing.

—December: C. Luther Washington and Christopher J. Washington of Flint.

The calendars are printed in full color on high quality glossy stock. Each calendar opens to a spread of 11x17 inches. Ample space next to the dates allows for noting of important family celebrations and daily events.

The calendars sell for $6 each. They are available through your county Extension office or from the MSU Bulletin Office, 10B Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48824-1039. Request FLM:88 "Families in the '90's" calendar.

Please enclose a check or money order for $6 per calendar made payable to Michigan State University.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We are being called to the polls on the 7th of November to vote on two proposals, A and B. I would strongly advise the people to vote NO on both proposals. My reasons for this advice are as follows:

Proposal A is calling for 1/2 cent increase in our sales tax which would make our sales tax 4 1/2%. This 1/2 cent increase is equal to a 12 1/4% increase in our sales tax, a very large increase. (How would you like a 12 1/4% increase in your salary?) The other part of proposal A is to guarantee that the proceeds of the lottery went into the Michigan school system. The proceeds of the lottery was supposed to go to the schools from day one of the lottery, that is how the lottery was passed into law. Now we find that it is not so, and we have to vote to make it so. My question is where has all this money (approximately $400 million per year) gone in the past 10 years?

Proposal B calls for a two-cent increase in our sales tax which is an enormous increase of 50%. Wow! Can we handle that? The other part of this proposal to sweeten it, is to reduce the millage rate across the state, to reduce real estate taxes. "Not really." The state has come up with a revision of the real property assessors' manual, which will be published in March of 1990. The revisions include an increase in the value of the square foot living area of your home, which will increase your SEV and more than swallow up the millage reduction as proposed in proposition B.

The only positive permanent and equitable way to fund our educational system is through an income tax. Then everyone would share equitably the responsibility of educating our children, as explained in my letter to The Chelsea Standard dated and published on the 9th of August, 1989. C.R. Pavitt.

To the Editor:

What: Misinformation.

Where: Pinckney Auditorium, Thursday evening, 10/19/89.

RE: Percentage of people who favor sewers.

Dexter Township Supervisor and Sewer Authority chairman, James Drolett said that 75% of the people responding to a survey were in favor of sewers. That sounds like a majority, like a good number of people.

ACTUAL FACTS: Of 1,269 proposed taps for the sewer system, only 720 homes were selected to receive questionnaires. Of those 720 homes, 48% responded. That's about 346 homes. If 75% of the respondents are in favor, as Mr. Drolett says they are, that's 260 homes. Now, in some people's thinking, 260 homes may be interpreted as 75%. In my book, 260 homes out of 1,269 potential home taps is 21%. That's only a fraction more than 1/5th of the proposed assessment district. And that's a darn long way from a "majority."

FACT NO. 2: The Sewer Authority would have citizens of Dexter and Putnam townships believe that the vote won't matter. They say they will simply find other financing. Yet, they feverishly work to convince the public to vote "yes." Obviously, the vote does matter. It matters a great deal. Please, vote "no!" This referendum proposal needs as many voters voting on it as any question ever has needed a public response. Go to the trouble. Go to the polls. Vote "no."

Gregg E. Magnuson.

To the Editor:

Mrs. Peabody recently wrote a letter to the editor of this paper and I quote "...so let's assume that the vote is against the current sewer plan and site location." She seems to have some misinformation on what the vote to be held on Nov. 7 concerns. It is not a vote on approval of the site location or plan, but is regarding if the townships should pledge their full faith and credit for financing of the project through the issuing of bonds.

To qualify for low interest rates on their bond sales, public works projects such as sewers and roads routinely acquire loan guarantees from government bodies that have the power to tax, in this case the four townships involved. But as a practical matter, the "insurance" would never have to be used because an individual property would be sold to pay any unpaid lien. The high market value of the lakes' properties guarantees payment by each assessed property, not other property owners in the township.

I do know that some of the opponents to the sewer project have been telling people in the townships that they will have to pay for the system and/or their taxes will be raised. This is incorrect and I urge people to check with their township officials on the facts. Only the people within the assessment district will have to pay for the sewer and its operation, which most of them are willing to do.

I find it very interesting that the residents of the other two townships (Hamburg and Webster) associated with the project are not voting on this issue. They are in favor of the sewer and have no problems with their township's pledging full faith and credit for the sale of bonds to finance the project. In fact, the four townships will make money on the collection of fees for the project.

I would also like this opportunity to address Mr. Magnuson's letter to the editor dated Wednesday, Sept. 27, 1989. He appears to miss the point about the letters from the Michigan State University professors that claim there may be problems with the project. The letters they wrote were not based on any scientific data; their statements are based solely on information supplied by a concerned citizen. It does not matter if they retract or not because their letters mean nothing other than they may have some concerns. They have not supplied the Portage and Base Lake Water and Sewer Authority (PBLWSA) or the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) with any official reports indicating any problems with the site based on scientific data.

Again, I point out that Scott Ross, chief of the Ground Water Permits Section, of the MDNR has seen the letters and has stated that the letters would not cause them to change their decision to issue the discharge permit.

Mr. Magnuson also states that they are concerned about the freezing of the north-facing slope which will cause the nutrient-laden water to go straight down. Again, I point out that Scott Ross had heard this concern and has stated that there is no technical reason why this site will not work as designed.

Mr. Magnuson thinks it's amusing about taking him to task about the McNamee, Porter and Seeley making a mistake in elevations. He claims not to be able to get any answers to this question at a meeting attended by Mr. Smit. My point is if he does not know the facts then he should not quote an Ann Arbor News article, and then imply that McNamee, Porter and Seeley are not a good engineering firm. He could have called McNamee, Porter and Seeley, as I did, and obtained the truth in this matter. Instead he decided to print what he thought the facts were to make the firm look bad, the project seem doomed, and turn people against this project. I am glad to see that at least he admits he did not have all the facts before writing the statement.

I quote from his Sept. 27 letter "...I don't by a long shot, claim to know everything about this situation." If someone does not know everything about a situation should they make claims that imply the firm is not qualified to work on this project? I question how many other statements Mr. Magnuson has made with the same amount of investigation.

The statement I quoted from an EPA article about wastewater treatment sites concludes "...there have been few documented cases of hazardous levels of constituents of sewage affecting well water supplies." Mr. Magnuson points out that EPA does not claim "There are NO cases, etc." My point, and I believe the point of the article, is that out of all the treatment sites throughout the United States, which may be in the hundreds or even thousands, very few have had any problems.

Yes, after the treatment site is in place, I would drink your water and feel very confident that the site does a better job of cleaning water than a standard septic tank system. You should be more concerned that you will not be connected to the treatment site and your own septic tank may contaminate your well.

The proponents believe the sewer system will keep the lakes and rivers clean for all people to use, now and in the future, and not harm the existing aquifer. All the reports and studies support this claim. The opponents believe it will harm the aquifer and pollute the lakes and rivers. However, to my knowledge, there are no official reports supporting the opponents' position. If there are, please inform me of the title of the report, the author, and where I may obtain these reports. As of this date I have not been able to obtain any such reports.

I do urge all the voters to get out and vote on this issue, but before they do I hope they have attended the sewer information meeting, contacted their township supervisor or asked their lawyer about the facts on how the sales of bonds affects them.

Again, I thank all the people that are working very hard to inform the people of the facts about this system and the financing of the project. I also thank The Dexter Leader for printing this letter.

Thaddeus J. Cieslak, Jr.

To the Editor,

I am deeply disturbed at the prospect of discontinuance of the bus to Ann Arbor, as well as all of us should be.

This is a privilege the village should not let slip through its hands! Many of us have enjoyed this carefree ride without having to worry about parking; also, the fact that transfers are available to the whole area.

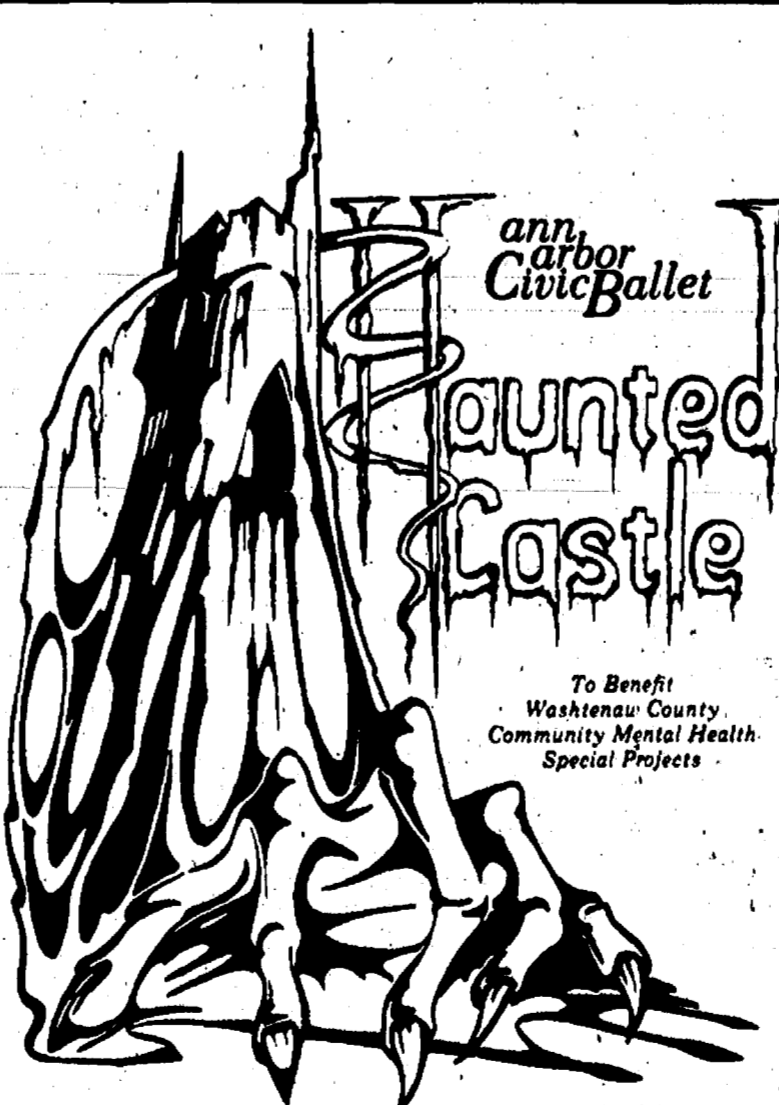

I am suggesting that all of us should inundate the village with letters expressing our opinions; also, that more citizens take advantage of this ride.

Sylvia Gilbert.

Everybody's Science

★ Guard Dogs Are Sheep's Best Friend . . .

By Howard Sherman

Picture a large, white, shaggy dog out for a late-night walk. It's not the usual stroll a dog takes down a city street or across suburban backyards. Zeus is on patrol.

In winter, Zeus guards the 2,500 sheep that graze Dee Blanchard's 480-acre ranch outside Chester, Ida. After the snow melts, he follows the sheep up the forested slopes of the Targhee National Forest to their summer pasture.

Acting on centuries-old instinct, Zeus and similar 100 to 120-pound guard dogs are winning new admiration from sheep ranchers. Their flocks are less prone to attack from coyotes, wild dogs and other predators. That has been documented by U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists living and working in sheep country.

About 10 years ago, USDA scientists in the Agricultural Research Service began studying livestock-guarding dogs at the U. S. Sheep Experiment Station in Dubois, Ida.

"At that time, the dogs were considered a novelty," says Jeffrey S. Green, a wildlife biologist at the station. "Livestock producers who used guard dogs were once thought to be foolish, brave, desperate or a combination of all three. Today, much of the skepticism is gone."

Green and colleagues mailed 1,000 questionnaires to ranchers and farmers who rely on the dogs to safeguard cattle and goats as well as sheep. That survey confirmed the value of dogs like Zeus in scaring off would-be attackers.

Over 80 percent of the 399 ranchers who reported back said a guard dog was well worth its initial cost of about $500, plus the dollar or two a day it takes to maintain them. At work on the ranches surveyed are several breeds of dogs, mostly Great Pyrenees from France and Spain, Komondors from Hungary and Akbash and Anatolian Shepherds from Turkey.

"I'd guess that in the last 10 years some 5,000 to 8,000 dogs have become guardians on as many as 4,000 ranches and farms in this country and Canada," the researcher says.

Still, these breeds face a big job. In Idaho alone, an estimated 18,000 sheep valued at $1.75 million were killed by predators in 1987. That year in Wyoming 48,100 sheep valued at $3.12 million were lost.

But, guard dogs are proving they are not what marauding coyotes want to see on a sheep ranch. At a Wyoming spread, for example, an Akbash named Bo and two other dogs cut a rancher's losses to coyotes from 450 down to 12 a year.

Cross Addiction: A Growing Danger

By Frederick Prezioso, M.A.,
Certified Addictions Counselor,
State of Michigan and Therapist,
Chelsea Hospital Chemical Dependency Unit

When examining drug abuse, one of the biggest problems we face is the tendency to minimize the dangers of alcohol and marijuana. The use of alcohol is socially acceptable and even glamorized in slick and seductive advertisements in the mass media. We don't think of alcohol as a drug, though it most certainly is. And smoking or possession of marijuana merely gets you a slap on the wrist in the form of a five dollar fine in some cities.

Other drugs, like crack cocaine, capture the headlines. They grab our attention, raise our anxieties and generate adverse public opinion. Such responses seem appropriate because a drug like crack cocaine is more closely linked with criminal activities. It is more quickly addicting and the impact on society seems more obvious and more devastating.

But alcohol and marijuana are more dangerous than we realize. Especially when, as is often the case, they are used in combination with other drugs. In fact, alcoholics today are more likely to be addicted to some other drug or drugs at the same time. This is called cross addiction.

One example of cross addiction is when drugs are used in combination, the effects of one drug counteracting the effects of another. For example, a person can consume greater quantities of alcohol when they are on a cocaine binge because the stimulating effect of the cocaine counteracts the depressant effect of the alcohol.

Another example of cross addiction is when one drug is substituted for another to achieve the same result. An alcoholic may swear off booze only to find himself smoking marijuana or using prescription tranquilizers to achieve the same calming effect. The opposite is also true. Someone addicted to sedative-type medications (Valium, Librium, Halcion, Xanax, Fiorinal, for example), or to marijuana, will sometimes use alcohol as a substitute.

When a person is addicted to any one of the sedative-type drugs, they can use any drug within the sedative "family" of drugs to satisfy their craving. This is called Sedativism and describes a type of addiction that suggests part of its own remedy. That is, successful recovery from addiction to any drug within the sedative "family" requires abstinence from every other drug within that "family." Recovering addicts/alcoholics are advised, therefore, to avoid tranquilizers and other sedative-type medications. Or such drugs should only be used under the watchful eye of a physician acquainted with the treatment of addiction, and then, only for a short period of time.

"Crossing over" is not restricted to drugs within the sedative "family," however. A person can go back and forth between families or classes of drugs. Addiction to any drug makes a person susceptible to abusing, or becoming addicted to, any mood-altering drug. The key factor seems to be the ability to alter one's mood with a drug, in an attempt to avoid painful feelings or situations.

Returning specifically to the abuse of sedatives, there are several other dangers deserving mention. The person under the influence of marijuana or a tranquilizer will not have the same kind of symptoms as one who is drunk. There is not the same flushness to the face, nor the erratic gait, nor the same dramatic acting out often associated with drunkenness. The absence of these familiar symptoms can lead a person to minimize just how much their functioning is impaired. And since one's judgment is adversely affected as well, they are more likely to rationalize the use of "harder" drugs at this time, like heroin, cocaine or PCP.

In addition, because the effects of marijuana or prescription tranquilizers are less dramatic and less obvious, the addiction can remain hidden for a longer period of time. As a result, the addiction gains a stronger foothold, its damaging effects are more widespread and its treatment much more difficult.

While tranquilizers have some appropriate uses, there are side effects and dangers that need to be considered. While these drugs are frequently prescribed by physicians, and are socially and medically acceptable in the treatment of pain and anxiety, they are best used sparingly. Recovering addicts should seek non-addicting substitutes.

Thus, addiction goes far beyond alcoholism to include the whole family of sedative/depressant-type drugs, whether these are prescribed or obtained illegally. One needs to be aware of how these drugs can be abused, either separately or in combination, and exercise reasonable caution in their use.

Is your health plan everything you bargained for?

You work hard. And you have a right to expect your health benefits plan to work just as hard as you do. It should be on the job when you're well, as well as when you're sick. And it should offer you the care of some of the best doctors in the area. That's why it should be Care Choices Health Plans, the health coverage plan that works.

Care Choices even works to save you money. Because with Care Choices HMO, you're covered for many kinds of preventive care, for only a small co-pay. That means your checkups are covered, and so are any immunizations, x-rays, or lab tests you or your family may need. And that adds up—to a lot of good care, and a lot of savings over traditional health plans.

Of course Care Choices isn't just working to meet your needs today. You can count on it in the future, too. Because Care Choices also covers emergency care anywhere and hospitalization at some of the best hospitals around.

So talk to your benefits representative to be sure Care Choices is offered where you work. Or call 800-852-9760 or 313-489-6200 for more information. After all, you should have the security of knowing you'll get what you bargained for: a health plan that works hard for you today...and tomorrow.
