VOLUNTEERS who are conducting the Project Outreach Survey for the Chelsea School District were trained Monday by Ned Hubbell of the Michigan Department of Education. Hubbell guided the volunteers through the survey and gave them tips about asking questions. He also told survey co-ordinator Jackie Rogers that about 40 percent of the school district's registered voters are no longer in the area as they've either moved or died. The survey is being conducted through Thursday. The 69 questions on the poll are designed to give the district information about the attitudes of its residents.

Judge Refuses To Dismiss Navin Suit Against Village

A circuit court judge refused to dismiss a lawsuit against the Village of Chelsea last month after the village attorney argued that the court did not have the power to force the village to tear down a resident's fence.

The suit filed by Wilkinson St. residents Betty and George Navin against the village and their neighbor Leonard French has been scheduled for a non-jury trial in the court of Judge Ross Campbell on Jan. 16.

What seemed to have begun as an argument between neighbors will now apparently be settled in court.

The Navins claim that the village has not enforced its zoning ordinance in three instances. First, they claim that a six-foot-high chain link fence between the yards is a commercial type of fence, and not ornamental as the village's zoning ordinance requires. Second, they say a smaller chain fence extends into the front yard, which is also prohibited in the ordinance.

Finally, they say French is operating a commercial enterprise out of his home, which is also against the ordinance.

The Navins are asking for a "writ of mandamus," which would compel the village to enforce the ordinance.

"The judge said he didn't see why the village shouldn't have to enforce its ordinance," said the Navins' attorney, Thomas Manchester.

The Navins also say concrete for the posts of the chain-link fence are actually encroaching on their property.

"The chain link part of the fence is actually right on the property line, but the cement base isn't," Manchester said.

"That may not seem like much, but if they try to sell the property or go for a mortgage, a survey will show the encroachment."

Village attorney Peter Flintoft called the idea that the village could be forced to tear down a resident's fence, "horrendous."

The Navins also claim French operates a business from his home, which occasionally brings semi-trucks to the residence.

Manchester said his clients offered to settle out of court for $13,000, (the approximate amount of legal expenses incurred, Manchester said) plus correction of the problems. So far the issue has not come to a vote of village council.

Historical Society Elects New Officers

At the regular business meeting Monday, Nov. 13, the Chelsea Area Historical Society elected their 1990 officers: Kathleen Clark, president; Hazel Dittmar, vice-president; David Pastor, treasurer; and Arline Lynch, secretary.

Rose Reinhardt was elected to a three-year term on the board of directors.

New December hours were established for the museum, which will be open Thursdays, 1-3 p.m., and Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Currently, a harvest theme is on display with antique farm tools, kitchen items; and the miniature farm machinery and tool collection hand-crafted by Paul Kleinschmidt of Dexter.

A Christmas tree-trimming gathering is planned for Monday, Nov. 27.

A Victorian tree and toy display will be set up. A display of candy, cards and ornaments will be on sale during the holidays, reported display chairman Mary Fite.

David Pastor will be able to restore the old penny scale recently acquired from Floyd Balmer.

A Dec. 3 trip is being planned by Marge Hepburn, for all members and guests interested in visiting the Grosvenor House where Lt. Gov. Ebenezer Grosvenor lived. He was involved in Michigan's government in 1864 and 1868. The house is located in Jonesville and is decorated for Christmas.

Variance Granted To Allow Educational Recycling Sign

Chelsea Village Council granted a variance to allow a sign to promote recycling to be displayed on the McKune Memorial Library lawn until the end of the school year.

The sign, which will say "Fantastic Plastic," is designed to promote the recycling of plastic milk jugs, a project in the Chelsea School District this year.

Community Blood Drive Set for Dec. 7

School Proposals Fail By Big Margins Locally, Portage Sewer Rejected

Chelsea and Dexter-area voters overwhelmingly voted against both school finance reform proposals in a special election last Tuesday, Nov. 7.

The measures failed by a wide margin state-wide.

According to county election officials, the measures passed in nine of 63 precincts in Ann Arbor and in one ward in the City of Ypsilanti, but otherwise failed throughout the county.

Adoption of Proposal A would have raised the state sales tax by 1/2 cent on the dollar. Adoption of Proposal B would have increased state sales tax by two cents on the dollar and rolled back property taxes an average of 38 percent.

Dexter Community Schools supported both measures while Chelsea School District endorsed B.

Unofficial area township voting results follow.

PROPOSAL A
Dexter, yes-218, no-873; Freedom, yes-68, no-288; Lima, yes-80, no-512; Lyndon, yes-81, no-387; Scio, yes-492, no-1,576; Sharon, yes-53, no-289; Sylvan, yes-220, no-957; Webster, yes-132, no-583.

PROPOSAL B
Dexter, yes-178, no-1,003; Freedom, yes-64, no-298; Lima, yes-70, no-512; Lyndon, yes-56, no-383; Scio, yes-308, no-1,737; Sharon, yes-63, no-278; Sylvan, yes-183, no-970; Webster, yes-121, no-558.

The Portage-Base Lakes sewer proposal, which would have let Dexter and Putnam townships pledge their credit behind bonds for the project, failed 1,568 to 1,059. Dexter township residents rejected the proposal 675 to 498.

Residents of the Sewer Assessment District would have paid for the bonds and each resident would have been assessed about $7,000 over 15 years. The proposed $9 million sewer system would have served about 1,200 lots along Portage, Baseline, and Tamarack lakes. The waste would have been piped to a lagoon system located on 120 acres owned by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

The townships will now have to decide whether to seek an alternate form of financing.

If You Can't Find The Plumber He May Be Out Deer Hunting

The 16-day firearms deer season starts today and state officials are predicting a record-kill by hunters.

The Michigan deer population is up about 10 percent to nearly two million animals, despite last year's record take of 383,790 deer by hunters.

"If the weather is good, we should have another record," said Ed Langenau, deer specialist for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Last year's record was below DNR expectations due to rain early in the season, which kept many hunters at home. If Michigan and visiting hunters reach last year's goal of 450,000 deer killed, Michigan will rank second to only Texas in the number of animals taken.

About 700,000 hunters are expected to participate in the firearms deer hunt this year, about the same number as last year, according to DNR officials. However, if the weather is good from start to finish, they could well surpass last year's 34 percent success rate state-wide. Last year marksmen shot 294,310 deer, according to records. However, it's also likely poachers shot quite a few that, of course, went unreported.

DNR expects about 200,000 bucks and 155,000 does to be shot this season. Muzzle-loading season, which begins in early December, should account for another 20,000 shot.

Officials also hope that archers will take about 75,000 deer. Their season began Oct. 1.

As many as 150,000 deer could be killed through starvation if the season falls well short of expectations, DNR said.

Hunters are allowed to take one buck, with three-inch minimum antlers, on their first license. They can purchase a second license good for another buck.

With so many hunters in the field, it's not surprising that many people miss work during the two weeks, especially the first week.

About 25 percent of the men employed at Chelsea Milling Co. are gone during the first week, according to the company's personnel office.

Dana Corp. also reports that "a lot" of people miss work that first week.

However, at Chelsea Community

Hospital, the village's largest employer, the season barely makes any difference because about 93 percent of the hospital's employees are women, according to Phil Boham, vice-president of human resources.

"And we have many people we can call to fill in," Boham said.

Anywhere from a dozen to two dozen Chelsea students miss school during the period to hunt, said assistant superintendent Fred Mills. Students may ask for special permission to leave provided they work ahead to cover any assignments they will miss, he said.

Balloon Launch Prompts Reply From Child in Middle East

It wasn't exactly the sort of response a girl expects when she lets a helium-filled balloon go with a message attached to it.

But it couldn't have been more perfect or appropriate.

Joanna Lang, who was among 15 children in the First Assembly of God church who launched helium-filled balloons on Wednesday, Oct. 4, received a letter from Jerusalem, Israel. The letter-writer, 15-year-old Shlomit Siran, said the balloon landed in a tree in his/her back yard, about 6,000 miles from its launch point.

In broken English, the letter read, "I think it is a miracle that your small letter crossed the big sea and landed near my home. I think your letter really wanted to come to the Holy Land and God helped it with this wonderful miracle. When my family saw this letter they didn't believe it at the beginning but now they believe so please write back with a picture of you in the U.S."

Before launching the balloons, which each carried a card enclosed in a plastic baggie, the group prayed that the each balloon would reach someone to whom it would bring a blessing.

Joanna is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Lang of the First Assembly of God church.

Another child, Jenifer Spaulding, received a reply from Amanda Shearer, of Jeromesville, O. The letter began, "How are you? I'm fine!" Amanda, in her one-page letter, discussed her preacher's family and her church.

Jenifer is the daughter of Monica Spaulding of Chelsea.

STUDENT COUNCIL at Beach Middle school donated $165 in proceeds from a Halloween Dance as well as canned goods collected in the sixth grade food drive to Faith In Action recently. The food will be distributed by Faith In Action over the holidays. From left are sixth grader Tina Richardson, Steve Harness, student council vice-president, sixth grader Bob Hell, Cory Brown, student council president, sixth grader Matt Martin, and Colby Skelton and Laura Hodgson, student council members.

A very healthy pledge by Chelsea Community Hospital employees, coupled with a last-minute increase in employee pledges at Chelsea Milling Co. brought the 1985-86 Chelsea United Way drive within 1.6% of its goal, according to Dave Prohaska, co-chairman of the year's campaign.

The National Railroad Passenger Corp. known as AMTRAK, delivered a proposed agreement of sale for the Chelsea rail depot. It arrived by express courier to the home of Will Connelly, president pro-tem of the Chelsea Depot Association, Inc. arriving about nine months after the same agreement had been worked out by phone in conversation with Connelly and Dudley Holmes, Jr. Attorney Peter Flintoft reviewed the AMTRAK depot sales agreement and felt that it was acceptable.

Chelsea area motorists were passing stopped school busses with flashing lights at more than twice the rate of last year, according to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. According to Deputy Les Collier, the department wrote 16 citations in all of 1984-85, but has already written 10 this year. The majority of the violations were occurring on major roads such as Old US-12 and Cavanaugh Lake Rd., Collier said.

Chelsea High school's hockey team suffered defeat in their opening game against Hanover-Horton, 7-1. The lopsided score indicated to Coach Jerry Ringe that much work needed to be done to improve the team for the long season ahead. Even in defeat, Coach Ringe and the team felt the many fans at the game, supported the team enthusiastically and will continue to do so.

As part of the year long bicentennial celebration planned by Chelsea High school's faculty and staff, Senior Citizens Club members were to be dinner guests of the high school. "A traditional Thanksgiving turkey dinner has been part of the school lunch program for many years now and since this is our 30th anniversary as well as our bicentennial year, we felt it was appropriate to bring young and old together," explained Mrs. Elsie Weiss, director of the school lunch program and originator of the idea.

Motorists driving by the construction on Baker Rd. at the I-94 freeway were wondering what was going on there. Union Oil Co. was building an auto-truck stop on 28 acres of the 32-acre site. ## Report Recommends Higher Guardrails, Wind Monitors for Bridge

The Mackinac Bridge should have a higher, inward-curving guardrail and be equipped with wind monitors and digital monitors recommending appropriate speed for motorists, according to a report released by the State Affairs, Tourism and Transportation Committee.

The report, which includes four recommendations for the bridge, is the result of testimony from a committee hearing last month.

Meanwhile, the State Police released the results of its investigation into the fatal accident of Sept. 22 when a woman drove her car over the Mackinac Bridge. The investigation concluded that the vehicle, driven by a Royal Oak woman, was traveling too fast for conditions.

In the report, committee chair Sen. Richard Fessler (R-West Bloomfield), applauded the Mackinac Bridge Authority for its "remarkable record of safety and maintenance" since the bridge opened 35 years ago. "I feel, however, that with the circumstances surrounding the . . . accident, and the advent of fall and winter, this interim report needs to be presented to insure the safety of all those who travel across the Mackinac Bridge," Fessler said.

Walter North, administrator of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said he did not want to make a comment on the committee's recommendations until he had seen the reports from the committee and the State Police.

"Until we have the report, it's pretty hard to make a response to a recommendation. It's hard to evaluate something unless you have the criteria to evaluate it," he said.

Robert Morris, legislative liaison for the Department of Transportation, also declined comment until viewing the report. "We're looking forward to seeing that report and one by the House subcommittee (which is investigating the bridge)," he said. "I feel confident we'll be able to work on many of the recommendations."

The committee's recommendations are as follows:

—The Mackinac Bridge Authority should adopt a written manual which details the procedures to be followed by bridge officials during inclement weather conditions. This manual should contain criteria for the restriction of travel on, or the closure of the bridge.

—There should be no less than five wind monitors located on the bridge. These monitors should be placed at both approaches and above, below and even with the road surface at the center span of the bridge.

—There should be a least three digital read-out monitors located at the approaches and center of the bridge. These digital monitors should display the wind velocity and an appropriate speed recommendation for traffic. These recommendations should be broken down into two categories: all vehicles and subcompacts.

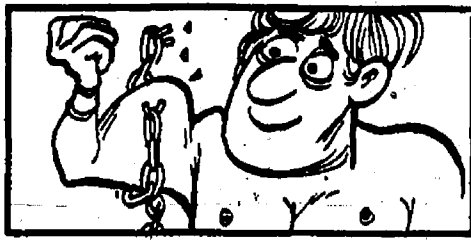

—The current 36-inch outer railing should be replaced by an inward-curving railing no less than 48 inches high. A lightweight median barrier to prevent lane crossover should also be installed.

The State Police investigation into the accident indicated that the victim was operating her 1987 Yugo at an estimated speed of between 55 and 63 mph. The posted speed limit on the bridge is 45 mph.

According to investigators, the vehicle was traveling northbound on the bridge when the vehicle's left side tires jumped the four-foot high barrier which separates the north and southbound lanes.

The vehicle returned to the northbound lanes, rotated clockwise across the two lanes, then struck the lower guardrail with the right front portion of the car.

The vehicle continued in a north easterly direction over the lower guardrail, then climbed a second, high guardrail. The front of the vehicle went over the second guardrail and struck a support girder below the railing. The vehicle struck the top railing once again before falling into the water.

Houdini was as much an athlete as a magician. He accomplished many of his feats by superb muscle control.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster took the floor at the bell for round one at the country store Saturday night, and he reported on going with his old lady to a flea market the early part of last week. Usual, he said, his old lady goes with a carload of wimmen from the church and they make half a day venture out of it. He told the fellers he had made two trips to the flea market, his first and his last.

The places and the people were fine, Clem said, and the food is like the fair. The trick is to know what you want when you go, otherwise you'll wear yourself to a frazzle wandering around. If they don't sell fleas it's a wonder, Clem allowed, because they got everything else. Looking around them stalls, Clem said he told himself he'd be a rich man today if he'd of saved all the horse collars, garden tools and canning jars he'd broke and left to rot and rust.

Actual, Clem went on, his old lady has her flea market shopping down to a science. She went to find three serving pieces for a set of dishes her Ma left her, and she knew where to look. She didn't have any luck, Clem said, but while she was looking he went into a stall where a feller gives new life to old parking meters. He makes em into floor and table lamps. He even has one piggybank model that won't come on till you feed it a coin.

Clem said seeing them no arm bandits set him to thinking. Fer sure, parking meters fer cars is a endangered species, with the hole world being paved over fer free lots at shopping centers. But buying time is with us always, he said, and he could see where the timing lamp would work right in. Fer instant, if the salesman says he wants jest five minutes of your time, tell him to crank a penny in the lamp and talk till the light goes out.

Furthermore, Clem said, a lawyer could use the parking lamp system. Like Abe Lincoln said, his time is all he's got to sell, but the lamps would have to be rigged to take bills or your couldn't buy enuff time to git his office seat warm. And Clem could see mounting meters at the end of pews and rigging em so the red flag goes up inside of a hour unless they are fed at least $5.

General, the fellers weren't buying any. Zeke Grubb said the feller that runs the store got ahold of the idee he'd ring the stove with meters and post notices that everybody has to buy somepun ever 30 minutes or pay a nickel fer parking. Besides, Zeke went on, the new day of parking meters may be dawning. He said high schools and colleges in this country are missing a sure bet by not using em. If folks can give their kids cars to drive they can pay fer em to park, was Zeke's words. He said big football colleges could make enuff off stadium parking to pay the players a decent wage and keep em out of trouble with alumni paying under the table.

Bug Hookum was agreed with Zeke that kids in parked and moving cars take up a heap of room in this country that could be put to better use. Bug had saw where one Illinois college found that campus streets were clogged because it had 2,000 parking spaces fer 8,000 cars, so two thirds of the owners alius were riding around looking fer a place to park.

Personal, we still got room out here in the country fer a feller to live by the side of the road and be a friend to man. But, truth be told, the louder the trucks in the dead of night the less friendly we're apt to be.

GERTRUND VAN NES of the Netherlands, right, spoke to Linda Turok's home economics class at Beach school recently about life in Holland. She is visiting this country on an International 4-H Youth Exchange program as a "goodwill ambassador." Turok took part in the program in 1978, and that's how she met Gertrund. Gertrund's family was one of Turok's six host families during her stay, which took her to the cities of Dronen, Goes, and Makkinga. It had been seven years since the women last saw each other. Turok and her new husband spent their honeymoon in the Netherlands in 1982.

Affordable Senior Housing Is Promising

Housing for senior citizens, based on income (not assets) may soon be a reality in our area. This means the apartment rentals could be as little as $250 per month for some and will be proportionately higher for others.

The location for this housing is expected to be behind and between St. Paul's and St. Mary's churches on land currently owned by Rene Papo.

The Task Force for affordable senior housing is extremely pleased with the very early plans they have seen. The complex, although it will be priced affordably, will have the class and aesthetics of the more luxurious apartments which Papo has planned on adjacent property.

Once established, the housing complex and the land it occupies will be transferred to and managed by a local non-profit group. Numbers of units finally built will be determined by various studies to be completed but is now expected to be about 25.

A task force made up of senior citizens and various interested persons from the community has worked for several months exploring all potential avenues for available land and financial resources to accomplish the goal of affordable senior housing. "It has been often discouraging," said Trevan Winans, co-chair for the task force. "But it looks like our dream will finally happen. We were hopeful and deeply appreciative of land offers by Dana Corp. and by private citizens, but we couldn't match availability with requirements of finance institutions. We will be actively working with Papo in any way we can to be helpful in the realization of this goal."

Task force members are Katie Chapman, Treva Winans, Cecile Bernath, Frank Renton, Jan Toff, Margaret Kuhl, Carolyn Hastings, Don Cole, Duane Schiller, Jackie Rogers, Don Schoenberg, and H. K. Leonard.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Board of Education passed the rewriting of its Field Trips and Excursions Policy at its last meeting (Monday, Nov. 6, 1989.) The policy was to clarify procedures regarding travel and supervision in the future for our children. Basically I agree with the need for this policy (especially after Mr. Gourley had to decide whether to go with his students or attend Opening Day).

One statement in this policy regards "newly" restricted international travel. It is still difficult for me to believe the Chelsea School Board has decided to limit our students' educational enrichment opportunities by eliminating international travel for all of its students. By making it POLICY it eliminates the possibility for further consideration.

The two reasons for restriction of international travel were (1) risk of terrorists and (2) financial burdens for Chelsea families. Now that this policy has been established, the board no longer need ever listen to a presentation for international travel, because the policy states clearly, "Overnight trips will be approved only for travel in the United States and Canada." Whether you would want your child to travel or not is no longer your choice or the staff's choice, or the student's choice. There is no longer a choice, because there will no longer be a consideration for such travel.

The risk of terrorists is a fear we all have wherever we travel (even domestically). The State Department is always willing to work with any group wanting to travel internationally, as they did in 1988 when the Chelsea French Club questioned their planned trip to France. There was a great deal of European unrest and terrorist activities in Europe at that time. Parents had the final authority, and a few families decided the risk was too much for their children. The trip was NOT canceled (erroneously stated by president Anne Comeau as fact) and the children went to France and returned safely, enriched by their experiences. No international trip planned by Chelsea personnel has ever been canceled for reasons of "risk."

Most expensive trips also have fund raisers as part of the planning, so the total financial burden isn't on the family. There are few trips available as financially reasonable as some of the international trips the students have taken in the past. In most cases there is financial help available to families who simply cannot afford to pay the total fee. For many students, this may be the only time he/she ever has an opportunity for international travel. No student is ever forced to go on such a trip. And ALWAYS, the parents have the final decision regarding their own children.

Unfortunately once policy is made, it can take many years before it is changed to again reflect a philosophy that is open to considering creative, innovative enrichment through travel for our children, as has been effective in the past. I am not asking for a carte blanche attitude for any trip proposed, but it would seem reasonable to expect a careful consideration by our elected Board of Education for all trips proposed, including international travel.

As long as the policy stands most teachers will not come forth with proposed trip "exceptions," (as suggested by the board.) If the board listens and grants some exceptions to its own policy, the Board begins to function "politically" for some and not for others. I question if the School Board members, with their restrictive and limiting decision (even when questioned by parents in attendance) are voting reflectively of their constituency regarding this issue. I don't believe there would be a unanimous vote from the community to support this policy.

Nancy T. Dymond.

To the Editor:

I have been attending the Chelsea School Board meetings this fall and I am becoming increasingly concerned about the operation of this school board. In the last meeting the board passed a policy alleged to protect the Chelsea students from terrorism by banning travel on school activities to all countries except Canada. This action is precisely what the terrorist groups would like to have happen. I know that the parents, students and teachers of Chelsea would not make travel plans without reasonable care and risk assessment. The records to date show that there is in fact greater risk of accident in traveling to school on the school bus than from terrorist activity on international travel.

In taking this significant action it is interesting to note that the board did not attempt to inform the public of their planned action. This board appears to want to operate without input from the people that elected them. The board would not modify the policy to consider travel on a case by case basis but insisted that exceptions would be considered. Operating on an exception to policy basis is operating on a no policy basis.

I feel that the position of the board is similar to the isolationists of the mid 30's and about as useful. We are living in the world not just in the Chelsea school district and to artificially restrict educational opportunities for the students is unnecessary.

William Maybaum.

To the Editor:

Thank you.

Thank you very much citizens of Dexter and Putnam townships for believing in us and voting NO! on the sewer referendum.

Equally as important: Thank you Walt Leonard.

Of the Ann Arbor News, Livingston County Press, and Dexter Leader/Chelsea Standard, you air, were the one editor willing to print all the information regarding this conflict. You printed Mr. Drolett's letters and comments. You printed Mr. Cieslak's letters. You printed our information in opposition to the proposed system. You also had reporters contribute feature articles throughout these many months. You had the courage to stand for the fundamental basic principle of any responsible free press, i.e., you printed all sides of the question. In so doing, you allowed voters to make decisions on as much information as possible throughout this long controversy. We are grateful and we sincerely appreciate you. Thank you again, very much.

On accepting financial liability for the system as proposed:

In Putnam Township, 61% voted NO!

In Dexter Township 57.5% voted NO!

In both townships, it must be noted that it was the sewer assessment district precincts themselves that voted overwhelmingly NO! The conclusion must be drawn then, that the majority of the lakes residents themselves in these two townships clearly do not want this sewer system AS IT IS PROPOSED.

We are thankful for the vote. We feel relief at it, but we do not revel in it, since we fought only to maintain what we ALREADY HAVE on Stinchfield Woods Rd., and we know that this situation is costing many people money. Our battle was to acquire nothing. There was no personal gain motivating the opposition. The people of the two townships have at last been polled and have stated their opinions on this issue.

For the proponents of this sewer question now, our hope is as it has always been over these many months. First, either find a new, safer treatment plant site or go to Dexter Village. Then second, and only second, after having changed the site, acquire alternate financing and proceed with the sewers. If the first is done, the major opposition to this system will cease. If the first is not done, proceeding with the second, in total disregard of the decisive results of the sewer referendum, can only result in a drive to remove certain township officials. This government is still a democracy, and we expect to make sure it stays a democracy. We think the people of this electorate have spoken. The big question now is, "Will the people presently in authority hear them?"

Gregg E. Magnuson.

With the addition of Dr. Jacobi, Chelsea Eye Care will now be able to provide more comprehensive eye care services to patients.

Physicians Buy Klumpp Home

Chelsea Pediatric Center has purchased what was known as the Klumpp house on M-42 next to Our Savior Lutheran church.

The center, currently located at Beach Middle school, is the combined practice of Dr. Mary Westhoff and Dr. Brian Kennedy.

Chelsea School District had asked the physicians to leave the building by the end of the school year. Space at the middle school is at a premium.

Two additional classrooms, or about 1,600 square feet, will be available for school use.

Westhoff and Kennedy have submitted site plans for the property to the Chelsea Village Planning Commission. The plans will be considered at this month's meeting.

Plans show additional parking at the back of the building and a possible addition of 273 square feet.

CHelsea CHILDREN'S CO-OP NURSERY school four year olds recently visited Jan and Jerry Dresselhouse's pumpkin patch in Chelsea. That's Jerry on the tractor. Some of the children's comments included, "I

Area Man Arrested in Theft Of Paint Guns, Knives

Chelsea police arrested a Cedar Lake man in connection with the theft of $4,683.50 in paint guns, accessories, and knives, among other items.

Leon Martin Walsh, 17, of 60 Cedar Lake Rd., was arrested for breaking and entering at his home last Thursday, Nov. 9.

According to police, Walsh apparently broke in to an East St. home between Oct. 1-3 and stole the paint guns, which police chief Lenard McDougall called "splat guns" because they shoot pellets of paint, which are designed to mark a hit.

They are also often used to vandalize cars and buildings.

The East St. resident was apparently beginning a business in the items, police said.

A box of knives, valued at $1,113, was also stolen.

Police said the resident of the home provided police with their first solid lead, but they declined to elaborate. Walsh apparently entered the home through an old coal chute, police said.

The incident is still under investigation and at least one more person may be charged, McDougall said.

Moore Life

By Barbara Moore

*Pets Are for Loving

I used to be a cat-hater. That was before Their Royal Highnesses Ace and Priscilla moved in.

I'm not sure why two lazy, ever eating, not particularly affectionate, continually shedding creatures hold a place of honor in our house. I forget how and why they came to live here. I can't even think of a reason to like them. But I do. I like them well enough to never allow them outdoors.

Some argue that it's cruel to keep cats inside all the time. At our house we do it because we love them. We don't want them to be hit by a car, or become diseased or get injured or killed by another animal.

Pets need to be confined for their own protection and also out of consideration for others. It's not pleasant to clean up after my own pets, but I get especially aggravated when I have to remove from my yard the delightful presents left by foreign critters doing a scenic tour of the neighborhood.

This is all brought to mind because the other day we had two uninvited guests. A pair of absolutely stunning Golden Retrievers who had apparently wandered from their own yard stopped to visit a while.

My daughter and friend were batting a tennis ball back and forth when our new friends wandered through. The dogs decided immediately that this was the local chapter of an international health spa for roving retrievers.

They took it upon themselves to retrieve all balls, dance merrily with them in their mouths, then flop and rest a while. The neighbors came over and we all marveled at the beauty of those creatures.

We finally called the dogs to the side of the yard so the girls could continue their athletic endeavors. The dogs came immediately, tails wagging. We told them to sit. They sat. We told them to stay. They stayed. The children of American should behave so well!

It boggles my mind to consider the tremendous amount of money and time invested in those two dogs. So why were they running free?

Fire or flood at their household? Memories of TV dog heroes of yesteryear rushed into my brain. Had the dogs narrowly escaped through an upper story window while dragging a small child to safety?

"I think they're trying to tell us something. They want us to follow them!" I announced.

My daughter, who doesn't remember Lassie and Rin Tin Tin, rolled her eyes and said "Sure, Mom." The neighbors said they doubted it since they had seen the dogs several times before.

We had to leave shortly for one of those kid soccer games around which we schedule our lives. The good neighbors confined the dogs for us and called the phone number on the dogs' tags.

When we returned, the dogs were gone. I can't get them out of my mind though.

Those two magnificent animals were show quality, friendly, and obviously worth a lot of money. They were so obedient and trusting that they could have been stolen very easily.

Now that I've loudly aired my grievance, I'd best make sure that nothing happens to those two cats of ours. How would I ever replace them? Where would I get two more who would make such lofty claims to nobility with so little cause?

Priscilla divides her time between supersonic racing through the house and heavy-duty napping. Ace's goal is to become a front entrance lion statue. He spends hours practicing. We know it's strenuous for him because he quite often falls asleep with his face in the food dish.

I'd say they're worthless, but we love them, and that makes them pretty valuable.

34 Years Ago . . .

Wednesday, Nov. 17, 1955—

An announcement was made by Dr. Otto K. Engelke that children aged 1 through 14 years and pregnant women are now eligible to receive Salk polio vaccine which was purchased by federal and state funds. The vaccine was to be administered by private physicians for a nominal fee. No clinics were scheduled.

All street lights except those in the downtown section of the village were put out of commission Sunday night when lightning blew out a fuse holder and burned out a transformer at the sub-station on Van Buren Street. Because it would have taken several hours to repair the damage and it would have been almost daylight by that time it was decided to wait until morning to begin work.

The climax of the year for many Michigan 4-H Club members came with the Detroit Junior Livestock Show. Market beef steers, fat lambs and hogs came from 32 counties in the Wolverine State to make the show the largest in its 26 years, said Maurice Hill, assistant State 4-H Club leader at Michigan State University.

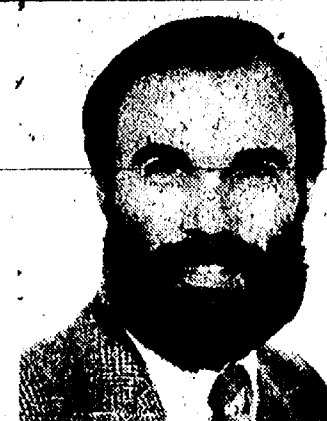

New carpets for the aisles of the nave of the Methodist church and for the League room or narthex were laid. The project was started a year ago with funds being raised jointly by the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Finance Commission. The Lenten offering this year was also applied to this fund.

FmHA Emergency Loans Available

Farmers Home Administration emergency loan assistance will be available for damaged fruit and vegetable crops in four Second District counties, Congressman Carl Pursell announced today.

The FmHA loan assistance is being made available to 17 Michigan counties which have been determined by the Secretary of Agriculture to have suffered natural disasters.

"The state's request for assistance was based on excessive rainfall, high winds and hail occurring between May 30 and Aug. 12 of this year," Pursell said.

The four Second District counties include: Jackson, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Eligible family farmers engaged in fruit and vegetable production may qualify for FmHA emergency loan assistance. Emergency loan applications will be approved on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration the extent of losses, security availability, repayment ability and eligibility requirements.

The first permanent federal mediation service was established by the Erdman Act, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U. S. Labor Department publication. Pertaining only to railroad labor disputes, this legislation offered the first federal sanction to unionization and collective bargaining since it prohibited employers from requiring workers to refrain from joining unions as a condition for employment. This provision, however, was declared unconstitutional.

County Historical Society Will Hear About Lighthouses

The November meeting of the Washtenaw County Historical Society on Sunday, Nov. 19, will feature Richard L. Moehl, a member of the Great Lakes Lighthouse Keepers Association, who will speak on the "History of the Great Lakes Lighthouses."

A little known fact is that Michigan has had more lighthouses than any other state with one approximately every 22 miles.

In 1982 the Association was organized for the preservation of the lighthouses and of the history of the people who kept them.

Come listen to the lore of the lighthouses and their keepers. Sunday, Nov. 19, 2 p.m., Bentley Historical Library, 1150 Beal, North Campus. The public is invited. Free admission.

The basketball dribble was first used professionally by Bert Loomis in 1896.

Speed Limit Going Up On 160 Freeway Miles

Speed limits on more than 160 additional miles of rural freeways in Michigan will be raised to 65 mph by early next year, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) reports.

MDOT safety engineers said changes in the way federal highway authorities define an urban area will allow them to raise the speed limits.

"The new definition allows for more orderly, contiguous speed zones that motorists will find more logical and easier to comply with," said William Lebel, MDOT traffic operations engineer.

Freeways that skirt the edge of metropolitan areas but are rural in nature are most likely to see an increase in speed limit, he said. Most of the routes affected will be on the Interstate system. Some are US- and M-numbered freeways.

"The new interpretation of the 65/55 mph zones allows us more latitude as to where the speed changes occur," said Lebel. "Along with additional speed limit signs installed in recent months, the new zones should eliminate much of the confusion associated with 65 and 55 mph speed limits."

The new speed limit will not go into effect until the signs are up. Most signs should be in place by the end of the year or early next year, Lebel said.

The transportation department will be evaluating the safety of the newly designated 65 mph zones by continuing to monitor traffic volumes and accident data and working with State Police to ensure needed enforcement. MDOT emphasized that adjustments to the speed limits will be made in any area where studies warrant them.

Approximately 1,175 miles of freeway in Michigan now operate under the 65 mph limit, including 750 miles of rural interstates and 425 miles of rural US-numbered freeways. The impending changes increase the 65 mph mileage by almost 15 percent to about 1,335 miles.

The Michigan Legislature, following action by Congress, authorized increasing the rural interstate freeway speed limit on Nov. 30, 1987. On Jan. 31, 1988, the speed limit on other rural freeways was increased to 65 mph.

CHELSEA METHODIST HOME sold off furniture, clothes, doors, fixtures and many other items last Saturday as it prepares the old nursing part of the home for demolition this winter. The home was packed with browsers, who could find everything from paintings and hats at modest prices. This front entrance will be replaced by a completely new building when construction begins next year.

MIKE BIELBY of Ann Arbor was one of several people who were interested in more than just the merchandise on display at the Chelsea Methodist Home sale last Saturday. Bielby removed old brass hardware from the doors for his own building restoration business. Virtually everything was for sale in the old nursing wing of the home.

Free Ski Events Brochures Offered By Travel Bureau

Michigan Travel Bureau and scores of Michigan ski facilities are conducting three special free ski events this winter:

—"Cross-Country Day," Jan. 6;
—"Learn to Ski Free (downhill)," Jan. 10; and —"Silver Streak Week" (for those 55 and over), Jan. 29-Feb. 2.

Saturday, Jan. 6, is Michigan's first "Cross-Country Day." On that day, 35 ski facilities across the state will offer free trail passes and technique clinics to those who pre-register with the individual facilities.

On "Learn to Ski Free" day, Friday, Jan. 10, 31 downhill facilities will provide free beginner lift tickets and free beginner lessons to those who pre-register. Last year, more than 8,000 novices were introduced to the sport in Michigan through this program.

During "Silver Streak Week," Jan. 29-Feb. 2, 40 cross-country and downhill facilities will offer free skiing to anyone who provides proof that he or she is 55 years of age or older.

Free brochures describing each of the programs and listing participating facilities may be obtained by calling the Michigan Travel Bureau at 1-800-543-YES, or by writing the bureau at P.O. Box 30226, Lansing 48909.

The first federal legislation permitting federal employees to unionize and lobby Congress was the Lloyd-LaFollette Act passed in 1912, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U. S. Labor Department publication.

MARION PRINCE, left, Washtenaw county extension home economist, has received the Distinguished Service Award of the National Association of Extension Home Economists (NAEHE). Marge Nielock, extension home economist for Iosco and Ogenaw counties, made the presentations. This award is annually presented for leadership and implementation of well planned programs with documented results and accomplishments. Prince has provided sound and effective nutrition education programs for Washtenaw county residents. One of her programs is "Take Heart in the Kitchen," which is designed to help people lower the amount of saturated fat in their diets. Low income, disabled people and teens at risk have benefited from "Eating Right Is Basic," "Basic Kitchen" and "Cooking Skills" — all a hands-on experiences that provide information on basic nutrition, shopping skills and use of commodity foods. Prince also developed "Living Alone Creatively," a course designed to help people make a successful transition to the single life. The award was presented in September at the NAEHE national meeting in Hawaii. She was recognized Oct. 23 by the Michigan Association of Extension Home Economists at its annual meeting in Lansing.

Deer Accident Count Up on State Roads

You can bag a deer during the legal hunting season, or if you're one of many unfortunate Michigan drivers, you may bag one with your front fender. Last year, motorists were involved in more than 42,000 deer-related accidents on state roads and highways.

Safety engineers at the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) are especially concerned heading into late autumn, when animals are more active due to breeding patterns of both does and bucks. Deer are often seen at the side of roadways because the vegetation is lush. The green grass may be the only grass available in the area.

Last year, about half of the accidents involving deer occurred in October, November and December.

More than half of the accidents were in southern Michigan counties, including Kent county, the highest at 1,407; Calhoun, 1,334; Montcalm, 1,179; and Jackson, 1,103. Washtenaw county reported 886 accidents with 58 persons being injured.

Safety engineers offer this advice to motorists:

—Wear seatbelts—they save lives.
—Lower your driving speed in areas where deer are common.

—Scan the road, especially when driving within two hours after sunset or early in the morning. These are the times when deer are most active.

—If you do hit a deer, don't try to swerve to avoid it, just hit it straight on. Your first priority should be to maintain control of your car.

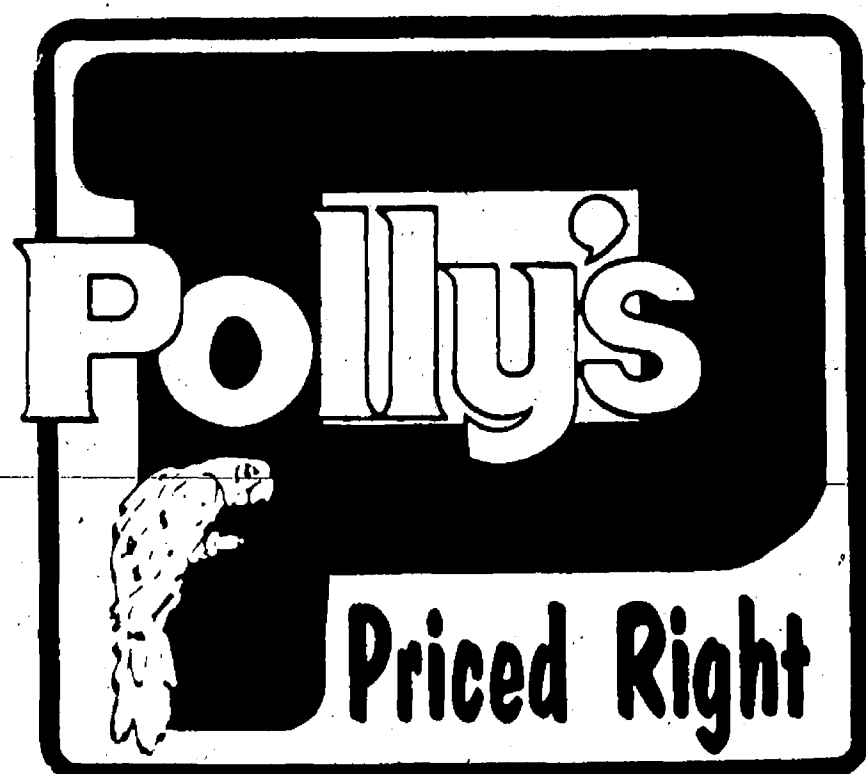

Transportation officials say the increasing number of miles driven by motorists is a key factor in the fast rising number of car/deer accidents. There were 1,758 people injured and two killed in 42,888 accidents last year. In 1985, there were 28,988 accidents, 1,255 injuries and five deaths.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Whip Northwest, Play Tecumseh Tonight

Chelsea Bulldogs will square off against the Tecumseh Indians tonight in the semi-finals of the district basketball play-offs.

Chelsea reached the second round by knocking off Jackson Northwest, 44-31, on Monday night. Earlier in the evening, Jackson Lumen Christi defeated Brooklyn Columbia Central, 55-34.

The Bulldogs fell behind at half-time, 17-14, before holding Northwest to just four field goals in the second half. Chelsea led 10-4 in the early going, but Northwest hit a couple of jump shots, including a three-pointer, to get right back in the game.

"My comment at half-time was that it seemed like everyone on the team was fighting everyone else, even me," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"We were not getting into our offense at all and I couldn't seem to find a combination that worked. In the second half we turned up our intensity and even though we made a lot of little mistakes, we were able to play a decent half of basketball. We turned the ball over at key times and we didn't convert our free throws at key times. It was one of those games that you win by 13 points but when it's all over you can't figure out how you did it."

Chelsea took control at the start of the second half with tough defense and forced a couple of turnovers early, which gave the Bulldogs the lead.

Rosentreter said the play of Scharme Petty was probably the brightest spot of the night.

"Scharme didn't score much, but she played good, hard defense and probably had the best game of anyone," Rosentreter said.

Chelsea again had problems at the foul line, hitting 10 of 19 shots.

Center Allison Brown scored 23 points, high for both teams. Colleen Scharphorn scored 10, Mercedes Hammer had seven, and Shawn Losey and Petty each scored two points.

The Bulldogs out-rebounded Northwest, 30-22, and Brown grabbed seven.

Dogs End Regular Season With Two Easy Victories

Chelsea Bulldogs ended their regular-season basketball schedule with victories over non-conference opponents Brooklyn Columbia Central and Jackson Northwest last week.

On Tuesday at home, senior center Allison Brown poured in 27 points to lead Chelsea to a 56-33 victory over Columbia Central.

"It took a while for us to get going, as usual, but we were able to get the ball inside to Allison," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"Allison shot the ball well, and when she didn't score she got fouled and went to the foul line."

Brown scored nine field goals and was 9-12 at the foul line. She also had four blocked shots, four steals, and eight rebounds.

It was the perfect kind of game for parents night—everyone had the chance to play as the Bulldogs led 44-25 at the end of the third quarter.

Chelsea dominated every phase of the game. They out-rebounded Central 34-26, and had 19 steals. The Bulldogs' poorest statistic was probably their 33 percent shooting from the field.

Other Chelsea scorers included Colleen Scharphorn and Mercedes Hammer with nine points each, Kristin Bohlender with six, Carrie Flintoft and Shawn Losey with two each, and Scharme Petty and Kate Dilworth with one each.

On Friday night on the road the Bulldogs whipped Northwest 44-32 in their final regular season game. The two teams were also scheduled to meet in the first round of the district play-offs Monday night.

Again, Rosentreter had the chance to substitute freely as his Bulldogs were ahead 30-16 after three quarters.

"It was a real slow-moving game but even though we were only ahead by seven points at half-time, I felt we were in control of the game," Rosentreter said.

The game could have been more lopsided but the Bulldogs shot poorly at the free throw line, hitting 10-23. In addition, they missed a lot of easy shots from the field, Rosentreter said.

Brown scored 12 points to lead the Bulldogs. Scharphorn scored 11 and Hammer had 10 to provide most of the offense. Bohlender scored five points, and Flintoft, Losey, and Petty each chipped in with two points.

Chelsea finished the regular season at 16-4 and champions of the Southeastern Conference.

COLLEEN SCHARPHORN makes her move around a Jackson Northwest defender Monday night on her way to a lay-up. Chelsea overcame a sluggish first half to win easily at the end, 44-31.

Dog Tankers Take Third At Chelsea Invitational

Chelsea Bulldog swim team finished the season with a third-place in the competitive Chelsea Invitational last Thursday, Nov. 9.

Milan was the champion with 375 points, Dexter followed with 290, Chelsea had 245, Pinckney scored 136, Monroe St. Mary was fifth with 100, and Ypsilanti-Lincoln had 87 points.

"Over-all it was a great meet with some exceptional swimming turned in by all participating teams," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

For Chelsea, out of 27 swimmers, the Bulldogs had 17 personal-best times, Jolly said.

The "B" 200-medley relay team of Kristi Smith, Sandy Schmid, Jennifer Koch, and Lori Wetzel dropped 3.5 seconds as they swan a 2:21.9, good for eighth place. The "A" team of Melissa Thiel, Shelly Hollo, Erika Boughton, and Kelly Cross had their second fastest time.

"Considering they were not fully rested, it was an exceptional effort and it sets them up nicely for the state meet this Friday," Jolly said of his A team.

Jolly said there were several great individual efforts as well.

Jill Nowatzke improved her times in the 200 and 500 freestyles. In the 200, she dropped three seconds, and in the 500 she broke six minutes, recording a 5:59.02.

Sara Nicola and Melissa Thiel had season-best times in the 200 individual medley. Nicola cut seven seconds off her best time to finish in 2:32.75 and Thiel cut her state-meet qualifying time to 2:23.37.

Melissa Johnson, Jennifer McEachern, and Cross all scored in the 50 freestyle. Johnson had her best time of :28.87.

"Probably the most impressive swim was turned in by Lori Wetzel in the 100 butterfly," Jolly said.

"She had an unbelievable 11 second drop to 1:17.54. She wowed the crowd by finishing way out in front of all other swimmers in her heat."

Nicola and Boughton also participated in the 100 butterfly and had season-best times of 1:12.79 and 1:11.10, respectively.

Smith, Johnson, McEachern, and Cross scored in the 100 freestyle as Smith and McEachern had season-best times of 1:05.2 and 1:00.56, respectively.

Wetzel dropped almost two seconds in the 500 freestyle with a time of 6:41.34. Shana Vosters also had her best time of 6:32.48.

In the 100 backstroke, Smith was 10th as she dropped three seconds for a time of 1:19.74.

"Smith showed vast improvement and will be looked upon next year as a key in the event," Jolly said.

District Hoop Tourney Continues Tonight in Chelsea

District basketball play continues at the Chelsea gym tonight as Dexter battles Jackson Lumen Christi at 8 p.m. and Chelsea meets Southeastern Conference rival Tecumseh at 8.

Dexter and Tecumseh drew first-round byes.

Lumen Christi beat Brooklyn Columbia Central in the first game Monday, 65-34, as Andrea Kimball scored 24 points.

Chelsea beat Jackson Northwest, 44-31, behind Allison Brown's 23 points.

"I'd imagine the Tecumseh coach went home Monday night wishing they could have played us that night," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

District finals are scheduled for Friday at 7 p.m.

Athletic Boosters To Meet Thursday

Chelsea Athletic Boosters will hold their November meeting Thursday, Nov. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school media center.

Athletic trainer Craig McLaughlin is the featured speaker. He'll discuss various aspects of sports medicine. The public is invited to attend.

JUST FISHING AROUND... CONSERVATION ETHICS

By John W. Robinson
Chief, Fishing Division, Michigan DNR

Those of us who are active anglers would be apt to agree that sport fishing can be really great fun. We'd probably all agree as well that few things in life beat landing a trophy-sized walleye, black bass or Chinook salmon for sheer excitement. An exception to that rule just might be the three-inch perch or bluegill caught while fishing for the first time when you were but six years old.

However, it's also true that sport fishing can be so much more than simple "fun." Perhaps more so than any other outdoor activity, angling grants us all a keen insight into what has come to be called the "conservation ethic." By participating in the sport, the attuned angler not only gains respect for both the resource and fellow anglers, but also learns to take responsibility for his or her own outdoor actions and, in the process, comes to grow in self-respect.

The angler who ascribes to the conservation ethic learns first-hand the importance of our state's natural resources and the need for their proper protection. The outgrowth of that recognition is a demand for good stewardship of those precious natural resources—truly our society's most prized possessions. As a part of the "community" of anglers, one gains in understanding of, and appreciation for, a number of things all too often taken for granted—things like the need for clean air and water, the need for habitat protection and restoration, the important role played by wetlands, the need to halt pollution and erosion, and the need for proper disposal of society's wastes as well as the need to respect our fellow humans.

Those who fish are in a particularly unique position to pass on the conservation ethic to our younger generation. The close interrelationship between humans and their environment has long been appreciated by the knowledgeable angler. As such, experienced anglers who acknowledge the link between mankind and nature are among the very best teachers of that ethic around.

A key element of the conservation ethic is the recruitment of still others into that "community" of anglers mentioned before. The 1988 Leisure Audit, conducted nation-wide by the Gallup Poll, found sport fishing to be the second most popular outdoor activity among American adults. Closer to home, a 1988 study by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and Michigan State University found that state anglers credited their decision of whether or not to fish on the opportunities for relaxation and the enjoyment of nature that angling offered.

Each spring during the past four years, Michigan has held a Free Fishing Week-end to encourage introduction to the art of angling. Conveying that art to future generations is stressed with angling workshops, seminars and fishing derbies. The past spring in particular, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the state Natural Resources Commission placed special emphasis on the importance of the conservation ethic to society—for today and tomorrow.

As sport anglers, each of us has an obligation to pass to future generations the rich natural resource legacy we ourselves inherited. It's our duty to properly care for that legacy and to instill in today's youth an appreciation for the heritage they too will one day inherit.

Sure, sport fishing is great fun. Let's make no mistake about that. But, as you may agree, it can be ever so much more too.

VFW Post, Auxiliary Donate Flags to Schools

VFW Post No. 4076 and its auxiliary have been busy donating flags and teaching the proper way to address it. On Wednesday, Oct. 4, auxiliary chairman Eulalie Packard, president Lois Speer, Gertie O'Dell, Gini Boyer, and Mac Packard presented 12 new flags and brackets at Beach Middle school that were to be placed in 12 classrooms. Pledge of Allegiance cards were also given to the 205 sixth graders. On Oct. 20, VFW presented six new flags to South Elementary school. Three were replacement flags and one each went to a kindergarten class, young 5s, and a second grade class. Pledge cards were also distributed. On Nov. 1, Speer and Eulalie Packard went to Our Savior Lutheran church to talk to new den No. 7 of Pack 435. The nine scouts were instructed in the proper way to hold, carry, and salute the flag. Anyone who knows of a group that needs a flag should contact the VFW.

The earliest known zoo belonged to Queen Hatshepsut of Egypt about 1500 BC.

Chelsea Baton Corps Marks 10th Year in Area

This fall marked the 10th year for baton twirling for the Chelsea Baton Corps. Barbara Sullivan is the director of the corps this year, replacing Rita Howard who served as the director and instructor since the inception of the Chelsea Baton Corps. Rita retired as director of the corps; however, she continues to coach corps twirlers privately.

Baton classes began this fall with an overwhelming interest and the largest beginner class ever is being taught by Christine Dunlap and Laurie Honbaum. Chris and Laurie are instructing 30 new twirlers weekly. In addition to the beginner classes, Chris and Laurie are teaching intermediate, advanced and dance twirl classes to current members.

Free Tree-Pruning Guide Booklet From Arbor Day Foundation

During winter dormancy is a popular time to prune trees, and a free booklet is available from the National Arbor Day Foundation to show you how.

The illustrated, easy-to-follow guide called "How To Prune Young Shade Trees" has been prepared for homeowners.

How a tree is pruned in its first few years of life will affect its shape, its strength, and even its life span.

The How to Prune guide includes step-by-step illustrations showing how proper pruning in the early years of a tree's life can save money in the long run and result in safer, more beautiful, healthy, easy-to-maintain trees.

The booklet is filled with illustrations showing you how to make a pruning cut... how to prune for desired form... how to maintain the tree's health by removing trouble spots... when to leave temporary lower branches, and when to cut them.

The booklet even shows how to hold a pair of pruning shears and how to make pruning cuts at the proper angle.

You'll learn how to shape and guide a shade tree when it's young so that it's tall, straight, strong, and healthy when it's old.

The design of the booklet makes it easy to browse through to pick up tips. You'll discover why tree paint isn't necessary, even on large cuts... how to select and care for pruning tools... how to prune according to the tree's function.

To obtain your free copy of this valuable booklet, send your name and address to: How To Prune, National Arbor Day Foundation, Nebraska City, Neb. 68410.

WHO IS GOD? (part 3)

Who has entered the treasures of snow, or the treasures of hail? Who has caused a dividing of water, or a way for the thunder and the lightning? Out of whose womb did come the ice and the hoary frost of heaven? Who knows the ordinances of heaven, or can set dominion over the earth? JEHOVAH ALONE! This small passage, taken from the 38th chapter of Job, shows only but a sample of the omnipotence of the Father of heaven and earth: Jehovah. When we speak of the attributes of Jehovah, one can't deny that he is The Almighty. We are encompassed by the evidence of his power just by looking around; as said in Psalms 19:1 "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork." There is no one or nothing in the expanse of the universe that can equal the power of Jehovah, for as we see in Luke 1:35 his power is of the highest. Jehovah has always tried to relay the message of his omnipotence to the children of the earth, and to try to let man understand just who it is that he serves. In Isaiah 40:25 Jehovah challenges the Israelites by relaying the message of his power and by saying "To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One." The answer, as we find all throughout the scriptures, can be found again in Isaiah 44:8 "Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and declared it? ye are even my witnesses, is there a God beside me? yea, there is no God; I know not any." Even Jesus declared in John 14:28 "I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater than I." As we live, in what seems to be, a vain and hopeless society; it is hard to imagine the day when the earth will be made new, and all that dwell in his Kingdom, set upon the earth, will be righteous, but with the recognition of the power of the highest there is comfort. Some day the earth will be made pure again, "For with God nothing shall be impossible." Luke 1:37.

I Peter 2:2 - "Like newborn babies, crave pure spiritual milk, so that by it you may grow up in your salvation."

Are you a new Christian? Or maybe you're a Christian who hasn't progressed spiritually since your re-birth many years ago. Just as your body needs nourishment to grow physically, you require spiritual food to grow up into a mature Christian. If you expect to grow spiritually, you must partake of the "sincere milk of the Word"—God's Word—daily. Spend time reading the Bible and then choose one or two verses to meditate on throughout the day. Meditating is repeating the verse over and over to yourself. As you do, ask Jesus to reveal Himself to you and to give you wisdom on how to walk in His ways. God and His Word always agree. If you want to know God's will, open your Bible.

Jesus is Lord and Savior!

KEN LARSON, now former assistant principal at Chelsea High school, spent his last day on the job last Friday, Nov. 10 and received the royal treatment from staff and students. Contrary to rumor, Larson did not cover his car himself in an attempt to disguise it. Rather, crafty staff members, among others, worked feverishly all morning Friday to give Ken an appropriate send-off. In addition, many students brought Larson baked goods and cards as they wished him well in his new job as principal at Stockbridge High school.

Area Demolition To Be Hauled By Jackson Co.

Village of Chelsea plans to have demolition materials hauled away by a Jackson company, assuming the village obtains a new landfill operating license.

Area residents would be able to haul wood, concrete, drywall, and basically any kind of trash generated from building or remodeling to the village landfill on Werker Rd. Residents would be charged for the service.

The material would be placed in a dumpster, which would be hauled away for a fee by Dunnigan Brothers of Jackson.

Last Tuesday night, council approved the arrangement contingent on receiving a new landfill license.

Play-Reading Session Scheduled

Chelsea Area Players are holding a read-through of their upcoming winter show "Come Blow Your Horn" by Neil Simon on Tuesday, Nov. 28, 7:30 p.m. at the Chelsea High School stage. This will be very informal and it is not an audition. It is a chance for anyone to read parts from the play. For those interested in getting involved in the winter production, it is an opportunity to find out more about this show.

"Come Blow Your Horn" is the story of two brothers. Alan, the older brother, is a man-about-town, confident, and barely has time for his job in Dad's wax fruit company. Dad thinks he's a bum, especially since he's not married. There's Peggy, the aspiring actress, who lives upstairs and thinks Alan really will introduce her to a big-time producer. The fun begins when Buddy, the responsible, shy brother, runs away from home to Alan's bachelor apartment. Connie, a singer who works on the road for industrial conferences, complicates the action with an ultimatum for Alan. But then Mom, happiest when she's unhappy, runs away to Alan's apartment too. It's a busy place.

The read-through is open to anyone interested in participating.

For more information, call 475-2577.

There are about 100 varieties of commercially grown Michigan apples with a dozen accounting for 90 percent of production.
