Bott Urges Village, Townships To Devise Area Master Plan

Village Planning Commission vice-chairman Bill Bott has urged the village and surrounding townships to work together to develop a comprehensive area master plan for development.

"Growth is going to occur and it is essential that this growth fits into the area plan and its infrastructure," Bott wrote in a memorandum to planning commission chairman Marty Tobin.

"I suggest that the Chelsea Village Council direct the Chelsea Planning Commission to initiate discussions with representatives of (Sylvan, Lima, and Lyndon) townships leading to a proposal for putting together an Area Comprehensive Master Plan. The village president could also meet informally with the three township supervisors to enlist their support for this effort."

According to Bott's memo, Lyndon township's 12.3 percent growth from 1980 to 1988 is the highest in the area.

The township grew from 2,087 to 2,310 residents. Sylvan township increased from 2,128 to 2,366 for a 12.1 percent growth. Lima township grew from 2,124 people to 2,234, for an increase of 5.1 percent. The Village grew one percent, from 3,816 to 3,852.

"To develop an effective plan, all four governments need to be involved financially with their respective planning commissions," Bott wrote.

Bott suggested hiring a planning professional, "who has a long-standing working relationship to both village and township planning." He also said the village assistant manager, Tom Warster, "could be a valuable source for reports, guidance, and liaison work."

29 Homes Proposed For Gene Dr. Area

A 29-home subdivision on a cul-de-sac has been proposed for a five-acre parcel off Gene Dr. on the western edge of the village.

Chelsea resident Art Farley, co-owner of Chelsea Motorcycle Supply, is working on the project with his brother, Curt, a Kentucky resident.

The number of homes has been increased from the originally-planned 18 to 29 to cover development costs, Art Farley told village council last Tuesday.

The Farleys want to develop the whole parcel themselves rather than sell lots. The homes, designed to sell for less than $90,000, would range up to about 1,100 square feet. There are four basic designs, and all would be individually stick built on a slab, Farley said.

The homes would be built on 40' wide lots ranging from about 115 to 160 feet deep, which would leave little space between homes.

Planning commission member Warren McArthur told council that he lived in a similar area in the Detroit area and recently went back to visit.

Zoning Board Has Busy Year

A record may have been set in 1989 for the number of variances granted by the Village of Chelsea's Zoning Board of Appeals.

According to a tabulation by the zoning department, 21 variances were issued. Since 1981 the previous high has been 13, in 1987, followed by 11 in 1984. In 1988, six variances were granted.

Five variances had to do with signs and four had to do with parking, the two most common variances.

Blood Clinic Date Moved Up To March 2

Barbara Pate of the Southeastern Michigan region of the Red Cross met with area volunteers Wednesday, Feb. 7 at Our Savior Lutheran church. Those present were Cindy Bear, Don Cole, Joanne Fredal, Marion Kerns, Dorothy Mielke, Sandy Miller, Joyce Schneider, Nadine Shanayfelt and Nancy Tandy.

Barbara explained the critical need for blood at this time and the reason why the community drive was moved up. One of the big reasons was large automobile plant closings and slowdowns which also canceled their pre-scheduled blood drives. The need for blood is still there, however, and many elective surgeries have had to be canceled or postponed.

DDA Parking Plan Calls For Removal of Meters With Strict Enforcement

Village of Chelsea's penny parking meters are apparently on the way out, but how many and how soon have yet to be decided.

Members of Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority addressed village council last week about the parking situation in the downtown and proposed that meters be removed on Main St. but retained on the side streets.

The meterless spaces on Main St. would become spaces for two-hour parking, which would be enforced by chalking tires along with two-hour inspections.

DDA member Mark Heydlauff, who spoke on behalf of the group, said one of the main problems is that owners and employees of downtown businesses park in front of their own buildings.

"We're trying to stop business owners and employees from using spaces that are available for customers," Heydlauff said.

"We want to encourage people who need long-term parking to use the new lot behind the fire hall."

Heydlauff called enforcement of the two-hour limit the "key to the program. Without enforcement, it won't work."

Heydlauff called the concept of parking meters, "old, one that needs to be looked at." He cited the example of a customer who parks in front of a store for a few minutes and returns to find a parking ticket, only to become an "upset customer."

Village president Jerry Satterthwaite said if any of the meters are removed he'd like to see them all removed out of fairness. Trustee Dennis Hall agreed.

DDA chairman Sheridan Springer said the proposed removal of meters from Main St. only was a "compromise" among DDA members. He said some downtown merchants, such as Chelsea Cleaners owner Warren McArthur, want a quicker turnover than two hours because people tend to make quick visits to his store. At the other end of the spectrum, beauty shop owners like the idea of four-hour parking because some of their customers need that much time at their establishments.

"That's why we came up with the compromise," Springer said.

The parking meter suggestion was perhaps the key element in DDA's over-all parking strategy.

Among other suggestions, DDA wants to turn parts of several parking lots—the Municipal Parking Lot, the lot next to Heydlauff's, the depot parking lot, and the lot next to Harper Pontiac—into two-hour parking. The remainder of the lots would be long-term parking.

In addition, DDA wants to see the parking fine structure changed so that multiple tickets could be issued for one vehicle. For example, each vehicle that is ticketed for a violation could be ticketed again if it is not removed before the second two-hour period expires. That ticket, they suggested, should cost much more than the first one.

McArthur spoke against the proposal saying, "I'm not convinced that we're ready for this or that it's absolutely needed." He said the original parking program dealt with designating certain areas in lots for two-hour parking, and that "this is something in addition to that."

McArthur also said that "it's unfortunate, but we have met the enemy and he is us." He said he went to the new two-hour spaces in the municipal lot and counted seven business owners or employees parked there.

"Let's face it, they're going to ignore it unless it's enforced."

There was also discussion about how much the new program is likely to cost in terms of enforcement and how much revenue the village is likely to generate from tickets.

"If the idea of meters is revenue, you guys should have raised them to a quarter a long time ago," Heydlauff said.

Satterthwaite said he doubted whether the village could afford $10,000 per year for part-time parking enforcement but acknowledged, "we've got to try something."

"We're going to have to set a trial period. Nobody knows how often we're going to have to patrol, nobody knows how much money we're going to generate. If it doesn't work we'll have to try something else."

No action was taken on the DDA proposal. Satterthwaite asked DDA to come back to council with their ideas in resolution form.

In the meantime, DDA is scheduled to meet with members of the village administration to discuss the various ideas suggested last week.

Village Plans To Move Recycling Bins to Landfill As Costs, Mess Increase

Chelsea's ever-changing recycling program will once again make a big adjustment as the recycling bins at Polly's Market will be moved to the village landfill on Werkner Rd.

As of press time, no date had been set for the move, but it will be soon, according to village administrative assistant Barbara Fredette.

The current location has caused several problems, Fredette told council last week. Among them, the cost of emptying the bins is growing and there are concerns that area townships might opt out of the program. She said there's evidence that people from outside the immediate area are using the facility, which causes the bins to fill up faster, which requires more pick-ups by Recycle Ann Arbor at a cost of $45 per hour.

In addition, overflow at the bins often leaves the Polly's parking lot in a mess. Some recyclers stack their newspapers and cans outside the bins once the containers are full. In addition, Recycle Ann Arbor can't always empty the bins on a timely basis once they are notified the bins are full.

Once the bins are moved to the landfill, no newspapers will be accepted. However, Chelsea scouts will still apparently take newspapers at their two sheds, which will still be located at Polly's.

The price recycled newspaper commands, recently well under $10 per ton, is not worth the cost of having the recycling bins picked up more often.

The village plans to purchase magnetic signs, which will be placed on the bins to designate the current newspaper-section for cans.

The former bins for cans will be changed to create another bin for clear glass.

Flyers will be printed and distributed in the schools to notify families of the change.

Critics of the plan say the move will discourage recycling, which is a wrongheaded move. They say the landfill is too far off the beaten path, and the landfill is not open enough hours of the week. In the end, moving the bins may indeed be a test of area residents' commitment to recycling. The bins will only be available during landfill hours, which are Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday from noon to 4:30 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The bins will also be monitored more closely than they are now, and village workers may require users to furnish identification to establish that they live in the village or Sylvan,

Lima, Lyndon, or Dexter township.

The village and townships have shared the cost of the program equally so far. Individual shares have ranged from $138 in August to a high of $206 in November. Dexter township will continue to contribute equally until a total of $1,000 has been spent.

The cost per trip to empty the containers has stayed fairly constant, around $200, Fredette said. The total cost of the program varies by how many trips Recycle Ann Arbor makes, as well as the price each of the recycled goods commands.

Village manager Robert Stalker said he has included $14,000 in the village's tentative 1990-91 budget for the start-up of a more comprehensive local recycling plan.

CREW FOR MICHIGAN BELL installed underground telephone lines down Dexter-Chelsea Rd. last week, digging through several front yards, as well as this cornfield.

AN OPEN HOUSE was held at McKane Memorial Library last Saturday as a kick-off for this week's "Love Your Library Week." In which the community is invited to use, and get to know, Chelsea's McKane Memorial Library on S. Main St. From left are board member Dan Kaminsky, assistant director Shelley Weber, board president Anne Baker, board member Anne Merkell, Ben and Mary Lou Bower, friends of the library, and director JoAnn Walker. The library has about 1,000 people using the facility per week, and circulation is about 5,000 per month. The library is hoping to expand as it needs more room to keep up to date, as well as more room for patron use.

If you thought you had problems getting ready for tax day, in 1986 consider this: the total state-wide tax payments by Consumer Power Co. for 1985 were $106.8 million to 1,375 individual taxing authorities. In 1984, the utility paid $110.9 million in taxes. The lower figure for 1985 was primarily due to a decrease in the assessed value of the Midland facility, filed since July 1984.

Michigan Rehabilitation Services awarded a $100,000 grant to the Ann Arbor Center for Independent Living to implement a Personal Care Attendant Services Pilot Project. The pilot project was to target handicapped persons with physical disability characteristics who needed personal care attendant services in order to maintain or enter employment.

Michigan Backers Urge Creation of Federal Boot Camps

Supporters of Michigan's boot camp alternative incarceration program urged the federal government to consider implementing a similar nationwide program and promoted its low cost and effectiveness against regular prison incarceration.

Sen. Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo), who led the push for the Michigan program, said it has proven the alternatives available in the boot camp help rehabilitate the criminals sent there. Of the 632 admissions to Camp Sauble, 407 have graduated, and of that number, 90 percent have not been convicted of another crime.

"I believe the Michigan experience has proven that the boot camp is effective, cost-saving, reduces prison overcrowding, but most important, offers the best opportunity of turning young offenders away from a life of crime and into a life of honest productivity," Welborn said at a public hearing conducted by U.S. Sen. Carl Levin (D-Detroit).

"The program ranks as one of the best alternatives to incarceration that's available in Michigan to the young offender," he said.

Strongly touting the benefits of the program were three of its graduates, who said although it was not what they expected, they made more progress than they would have in jail.

"Being locked up, you ain't really doing nothing. You ain't really learning nothing. You learn bad habits in there," said Michael Smith, an 18-year-old graduate who said he had been in trouble with the law a number of times prior to going to Camp Sauble.

"I know what I am now. It's more like a challenge to yourself. You learn how to be a man."

"It takes a lot on your own behalf. It's up to you if you want to make it or not," added Michael Sullivan, who was sentenced to the camp after being found guilty of uttering and publishing.

Officials who work directly with the camp also had high praise for the alternative incarceration program.

"As tough as we are, when they go to prison, they're going to face something a lot tougher," said Bruce Curtis, assistant deputy warden at Camp Sauble.

John Staten, assistant deputy director at the Department of Corrections, admitted department officials were skeptical about the program when it was first implemented in 1983, but said they are now satisfied with the progress. "The results are good," he said.

Welborn, the department officials and the probationers all agreed the staff at the camp plays a significant role in the progress of participants.

Referring to employees as "tough as stones with hearts of gold," Donald Hengeah, DOC director of special alternative incarceration, said, "Staff are the key to making this work."

Levin, who chairs the Senate Oversight of Government Management subcommittee which will consider the boot camp concept, said alternatives to regular incarceration must be considered because "too often, prisons become graduate schools of crime for young offenders. Young offenders often learn how to be even more anti-social and violent in the prison system. We must break that cycle."

The cost of the Michigan facility, Camp Sauble, Welborn said, is $6,665 per person for the 90-day program, or somewhat more on an annual basis than the $22,500 cost of prison incarceration.

Participants in the program must be between the ages of 17 and 26 and though they have usually been convicted of previous offenses, many have not yet served time in prison.

Camp Sauble, located in Freesoil, is the only boot camp in Michigan. A second facility is being planned in Schoolcraft county, and a facility for women is also being considered.

Canvassers Okay Language For Death Penalty Petition

The Board of State Canvassers Friday okayed petition language that would repeal Michigan's constitutional prohibition of the death penalty. The language was approved 3-0.

Kathy Reid, a legislative specialist for Sen. Gil DiNello (D-Detroit), who is assisting the proponents of the petition, Michigan Citizens for Capital Punishment, said petitions may begin circulating as soon as next week.

The deadline for submitting petitions for the 1990 general election ballot is July 9, with 249,000 signatures required.

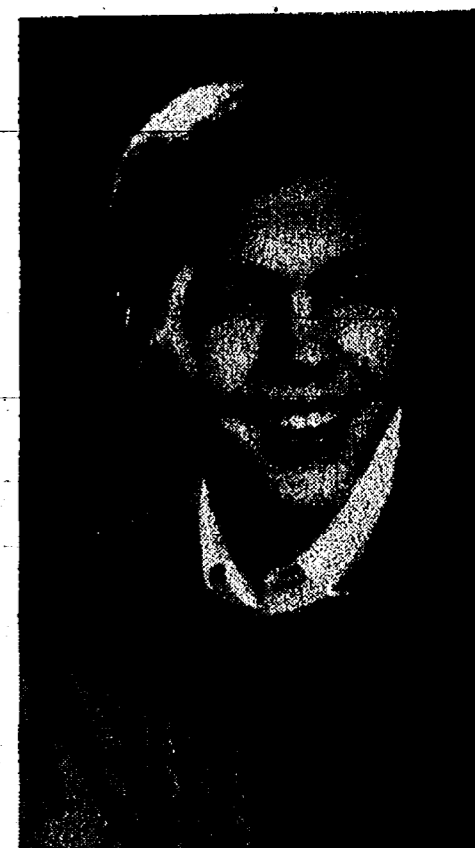

Reid, who said they are hoping to collect 300,000 to 325,000 signatures, noted that DiNello has been a long-time supporter of capital punishment. "This is an issue that he feels very, very strongly on," she said.

A referendum on the death penalty has never been held in Michigan, the first English-speaking jurisdiction to outlaw such punishment.

DiNello introduced a resolution last year (SJR "L"), but Reid said previous efforts have not proved successful in the Legislature. "It hasn't gone anywhere in the Legislature. He doesn't feel there is enough votes to get it through right now," she said.

The petition drive is successful and voters approve, it would be up to the Legislature to define what crimes upon conviction of capital murder would fall under the death penalty category.

The term "capital murder" was inserted because it is tailored after a Texas statute that has been upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court, Reid said.

TREVOR S. HARDING, the son of Susan and George Carter of North Lake, was honored recently at a reception hosted by U. S. Senator Donald W. Riegle in Warren. Trevor was nominated by Senator Riegle to the United States Air Force Academy. During the ceremony he received notification of his appointment by the U. S. Air Force Academy to the academy class of 1995.

Good Idea, But Bad Timing, Satterthwaite Says
Village trustee Richard Steele talked briefly at last week's council meeting about raising the pay of trustees and the village president.

President Jerry Satterthwaite said he supported the idea, calling it "long overdue," but hesitated to act on the idea now. He said if it was going to be enacted before the election it should have been before the petition deadline passed as it might have prompted more people to run for office.

The idea seemed to die for now after trustee Dennis Hall said, "I'm not in it for the money."

Public Hearing Set On Land Re-Zoning

A public hearing has been set for Tuesday, Feb. 20 on the re-zoning of 13.87 acres off Old US-12 that developer Rene Papo wants to use for an office complex.

The land was recently annexed by the village and is located south of Chelsea Community Hospital. It is zoned for agriculture and Papo wants it changed for office use.

Papo says he wants to build a 40,000-square-foot complex targeted for the hospital medical community.

In other Papo news, the village is working on a pre-annexation agreement for 42 acres adjacent to and east of the newly-annexed land mentioned above. Papo has told the village he wants to construct low-cost apartments, some of which will be dedicated for used by Chelsea senior citizens.

The agreement was discussed briefly at last Tuesday's village council meeting. Village manager Robert Stalker suggested making the agreement contingent upon payment of $15,000 that Papo owes the village for sewer work at Chelsea Shopping Center, which he developed. There were no public objections from council members.

Council Accepts Bid for Tractor from Chelsea Merchant

Chelsea Village Council accepted a bid of $5,999 from Johnson's How-To Store of Chelsea to provide a riding lawn tractor for the village.

Meabon's, of Chelsea, also submitted a bid, which was rejected partly because it did not meet bid specifications. It was also higher by $651. Dealers from Saline, Ypsilanti, and Napoleon also submitted bids ranging from $6,700 to $8,482.50.

Meabon, who was in the audience last Tuesday when council discussed the bids, attempted what amounted to a last-minute sales pitch, saying his tractor would give the village more capabilities even though it did not meet specifications.

When trustee Gary Bentley asked village administration whether the bid package was designed so that Sam Johnson's store would automatically get the bid, Meabon blurted out, "yes."

"I'VE HAD THE CATERERS on hold for three years waiting for Alan to get married." Mom (Connie Scott) says to Dad (Jerry Klein) in the Neil Simon comedy "Come Blow Your Horn," to be presented by Chelsea Area Players on Feb. 9-10-11 and Feb. 16-17 at Beach Middle school. Advance tickets are on sale at Casual Sports, 103 N. Main, Chelsea.

"BUT I'M NOT TOTALLY INEXPERIENCED—I played the part of a corpse in last year's summer theater murder mystery," Peggy (Lori Minnick) explains to Buddy (Ken Beauchamp) in the hilarious Neil Simon comedy, "Come Blow Your Horn," being presented by the Chelsea Area Players Friday and Saturday evening, Feb. 16 and 17, at 8 p.m. at Beach Middle school. Buddy Baker, just turned-21, has run away from home to his brother's apartment in Manhattan to escape Dad who owns the New York City wax fruit factory where Buddy and his man-about-town brother, Alan work. Alan has convinced Peggy, the girl upstairs, that Buddy is really Oscar Manheim, a youthfully brilliant, but fictitious, Hollywood movie producer who has come to town to interview her. Things really get complicated when Mom decides to run away from home and join Alan and Buddy.

Village Rejects Payment to Engineers on Sewage Plant

Chelsea Village Council rejected a request to pay an additional $10,100 for engineering services on the new wastewater treatment plant.

The firm, Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, of Toledo, O., told the village in a Jan. 8 letter that the "services... were needed for Chelsea to meet Michigan Department of Natural Resources requirements for one-year certification. These services were not included nor anticipated in establishing our engineering fees at the time the engineering agreement was signed."

Village president Jerry Satterthwaite said he was not in favor of paying anything, citing the company's $800,000 estimating error at the outset that forced a second bond issue for the project.

"If they can't make back their $10,000 on a $3 million project there's something wrong," Satterthwaite said.

Farm Bureau States Their Support for Milk Safety Efforts

The president of the state's largest farm organization said that farmers support continuing efforts by the Food and Drug Administration to assure the safety of the nation's milk supply. Jack Laurie, a dairy producer from Tuscola county and president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, said consumers can be comforted by the knowledge that milk processors in the state test raw milk to make sure it is safe from harmful drug residues.

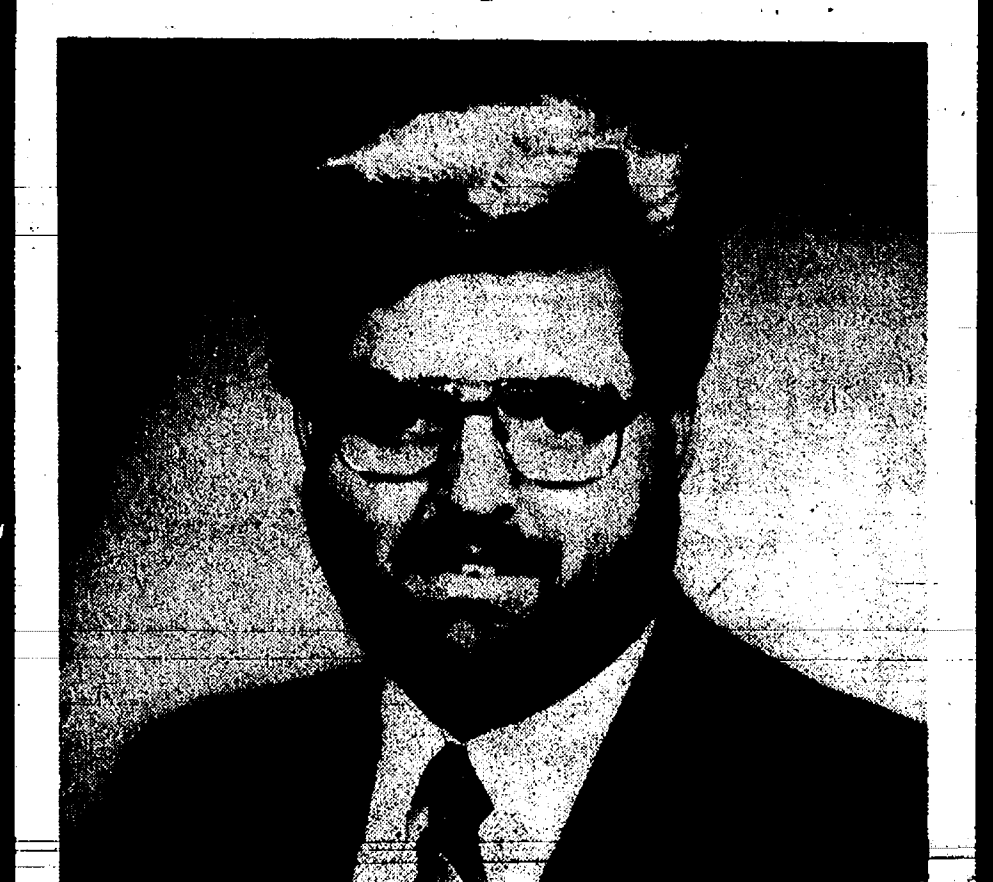

"If a residue is found, the shipment of milk is suspended and the processors impose economic penalties on the dairy producer," he said.

Laurie said the majority of dairy cattle are only given drugs for a short period during their lifetime.

"Most of these cattle get medication to treat specific illnesses," he said. "The use of drugs in treating food animals also provides a high degree of public health protection by reducing or eliminating disease organisms which could be transmitted to people."

The Food and Drug Administration this week said that follow-up tests found no drug residue contamination in milk samples from 14 cities.

"COME BLOW YOUR HORN"

Chelsea Area Players current comedic venture at the Beach Middle school, "Come Blow Your Horn," proved to be Neil Simon's first Broadway appearance as a playwright on Feb. 22, 1961 (currently 29 years and counting). The curtain rose at Broadway's Atkinson 877 times on Simon's first successful venture.

Chelsea's interpretation of a New York Jewish family moves in somewhat successful comedic spurts, but director Mary Reising falls the actors and the story in her somewhat amateurish interpretation of this well honed script of comedy.

Business entrepreneur Mr. Baker (Jerry Klein) manufactures and sells replicas of waxen fruit and apparently has been quite successful in his profit-making undertaking. However, son Alan (Dave Morris) has his bachelor apartment on the East 60's side of New York City which serves as a focal point for the action.

Alan is quite busy keeping his romantic attachments, physically represented by Peggy Evans (Lori Minnick) and Connie Dayton (Jan Baltzell) when Buddy Baker (Ken Beauchamp) arrives on the scene yelling for help. Buddy decides to fly the family coop presided over by Mrs. Baker (Connie Scott).

With Alan's tutelage and the favoritism of his mother, Buddy becomes an "Alan" and Alan suddenly turns into a carbon-copy of his father.

"I began 'Come Blow Your Horn' as an exercise," said Neil Simon. "It was eight weeks in the writing, three years in the rewriting, and it had at least eight producers before I ever saw it on stage... Had I known I'd go through all this, I probably never would have started writing plays."

But Simon did continue with 22 more successes with "Broadway Bound" perhaps receiving more clamor from the critics than any of his other productions.

Chelsea's cast attempts valiantly to capture the essence of Simon and the New York venue. Certainly a standout in this production is veteran Jerry Klein who captures both the verbal inuendoes required of a Jewish father and also the tenor of movement typical of New Yorkers. Another excellent portrayal comes forth with Ken Beauchamp's interpretation of the younger brother clod in the first act; followed by smoothy Alan II in the second act.

More direction would have made Connie Scott's Mrs. Baker more of a Jewish mother but her interpretation of the role was consistent from beginning to end and must be applauded. Why not have Jan Baltzell as Peggy Evans and Lori Minnick as Connie Dayton: seems the switch would have been much more fitting than as it was cast.

Daphne Hodder appears on stage with one line as Aunt Gusie... a role which will be filled each night in turn by Gail Bauer, Donna Palmer, Bev Slater, and June Warren.

The set by Brian Beyers and technical design by Newell Kring deserve commendation. Producer Jerri Cole set a warm welcome tone for a visitor to the evening, along with courteous, friendly ushers and amiable salesmen (hot dogs, cokes, edibles) plying their wares.

You will enjoy the final evenings of the Neil Simon comedy: "Come Blow Your Horn" at the Beach Middle school on Feb. 16 and 17 at 8 p.m.

USDA Budgets for Pesticide Use Survey, State Residue Testing

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has included in its 1991 budget proposal, a $25 million food safety initiative of which more than $22 million would be spent on residue testing and pesticide data collection. The proposal seeks $15.8 million to be channeled to the states for conducting statistically based pesticide residue sampling programs of commodities.

"The purpose is to develop a data base of pesticide residue data for various commodities and pesticides that will provide more accurate information on which to base risk assessment," said Ken Nye, director of Michigan Farm Bureau's Commodity

Activities and Research Division. "Currently, in the absence of actual data, EPA assumes that each commodity is treated with all pesticides registered for that crop at the maximum rate and number of applications. With that conservative risk assessment process, theoretical risk often overstates actual risk and leads to cancellation of the products."

The USDA is also proposing a $7 million program to survey farmers on pesticide usage for the purpose of assessing potential threats to groundwater or other environmental concerns.

Nye said Farm Bureau supports both the voluntary data collection and the residue testing proposals.

Chiropractic Health Care

Structure vs. Function

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman

This week we will talk about structure. Doctors of chiropractic often are said to have a structural approach to health care. But what does this mean and what does structure have to do with health anyway?

In order for the body to be healthy it must have the proper functions. In order for anything to function correctly it must have proper structure. When engineers and scientists want to do a job they first work out the specifics of the job. Then they build their device with a proper structure for that job or function.

If the structure of something is altered so is its function. A house with a foundation that's cracking may develop leaks in water or gas pipes. A car with a wheel misaligned may shake and wobble in the front end, and no one would want the structure of their airplane altered; especially in flight!

So it is with the body. If there are misalignments in the spine (subluxations) then the structure of the spine is altered and therefore its function. The type of function that's altered varies from patient to patient.

Some health problems that many people can relate to this concept are scoliosis and degenerative spinal arthritis. The change in structure from these conditions can severely affect the function and health of the person.

Please address questions or comments to: Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman, 138 East Middle Street, Chelsea, MI 48118; or call (313) 475-2088.

Humane Society Benefits By 5 1/8 Tons In Pet Food Drive

Humane Society of Huron Valley has reported that its 13th annual Holiday Pet Food Round-Up was a great success.

An astounding 5 1/8 tons of cat and dog food were collected during the month of December from 19 Washtenaw county pet and grocery stores.

Scores of shoppers pitched in this season depositing cans and bags of assorted pet foods into the donation "corrals" placed in each of the participating stores.

The thousands of homeless cats and dogs which will be received by the shelter this year will reap the benefits of the public's generosity. The substantial amount of food donated should supplement the shelter animals' food supply for a number of months to come. For example, canned dog food collected in last year's drive supplemented the shelter dogs' food for the entire year.

Watch for the Puppy and Kitten Food Drive in May to help feed the hungry young mouths which over-populate the Shelter in the spring and summer months.

Humane Society of Huron Valley is extremely grateful to all of the businesses who graciously placed "corrals" in their stores and to all of the individuals who generously deposited food into the "corrals." It is through your diligent effort and good-will that the Pet Food Round-Up continues to be a success from year to year.

DAR Good Citizens Named for Chelsea, Dexter High Schools

Two area high school seniors have been selected by their respective schools to receive Good Citizen Awards from the Sarah Caswell Angell Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The awards will be presented at a ceremony to be held at the Bentley Historical Library, 1150 Beal Ave., Ann Arbor at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Feb. 17. The Honorable John N. Kirkendall, Washtenaw county Probate Court, will speak about "Estates and Mental Health."

Students selected are Jennifer R. McAfee of Chelsea High school and Jill Stephenson of Dexter High school.

McAfee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McAfee, was the 1988-89 Chelsea Fair Queen and won the Talent Award (vocal solo) in the 1988 Chelsea Fair Queen Program. Miss McAfee is editor of the Key Club newsletter, a member of SADD, and a participant in the school musical. She has been vice-president and president of the Chelsea High School Choir and secretary of the National Honor Society.

This is Miss McAfee's second year in the girls select singing group known as The Contemporaries. She has received "excellent" ratings for two consecutive years and also a third year in the Assemblies of God Fine Arts Festival, female vocal soloist division. She teaches children's Sunday School, plays piano for the children's service, works in the nursery, and sings solos and duets for services.

Miss McAfee hopes to attend North Central Bible College in Minneapolis, Minn., and to attain a bachelor's degree in mass communication. Other goals include writing poetry, short stories, and song lyrics with which music will be combined to produce recordings and working in drama, journalism and people-related events.

Stephenson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ross Stephenson, has been president of the National Honor Society and a National Merit semi-finalist. She has received the Coach's Award for cross country and has had the leading parts of "Annie," "Esther in 'Two By Two,'" and "Crystal in 'Little Shop of Horrors.'" Miss Stephenson has been active in organizing activities for her church youth group and playing piano during services.

She has also participated in the Dexter Community Band and the Dexter Community Players. Miss Stephenson plans to eventually become a doctor because she "would acquire a skill with which to help people."

Because our youth hold the future in their hands, the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution established a Good Citizens Contest in high schools in 1934 to recognize and encourage outstanding young people in the pursuit of high ideals. The DAR Good Citizens Contest is open to boys and girls in the senior classes of accredited public and private high schools in good standing with the State Board of Education.

The student selected as the school's "DAR Good Citizen" must have the qualities of leadership, which includes personality, self-control, ability to assume responsibility; dependability, which includes truthfulness, loyalty, punctuality; service, which includes co-operation, courtesy, consideration of others; patriotism, which includes unselfish interest in family, school, community, and nation, to an outstanding degree.

The faculty selects three seniors having these qualifications and from the three, the senior class selects one to be the school's "DAR Good Citizen."

All award recipients may enter competition for the DAR of Michigan Good Citizen Award, to be presented in April in East Lansing. The Michigan Good Citizen Award is based on a written examination and essay submitted by the local Good Citizens.

Today's Investor

& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. I keep hearing about the large changes in Europe with the European Economic Community and, of course, the opening of the Eastern Bloc of nations. Is now a good time to be purchasing foreign stocks?

A. There is no question that the world is getting closer. Opportunities for investing seem to have no boundaries. That doesn't mean an investor can blindly purchase stocks just because they happen to be based in Europe or The Pacific Basin.

When you invest in foreign securities directly, there is always the added consideration of currency fluctuation. For example, if you invest in a West German company, how will the mark perform against the dollar? When financial reports are made, are they in dollars or the local currency? What kind of disclosure requirements are there in the foreign nation? Not every country has an organization like the Securities & Exchange Commission to look out for the investor.

If you had purchased any of a number of mutual funds which concentrate in foreign securities a year ago, the paper profit would have been substantial in just one year. I have a feeling that many of the stocks in which the funds invested are now a little high. That is because it's been a popular thing to do and the price of a stock is determined by supply and demand.

Another alternative to participating in Europe's economic growth is to study American-based corporations which have substantial operations in other countries. Many of the pharmaceuticals are in the position, like Merck and Pfizer. Auto companies such as Ford and General Motors have a large stake in Europe as do consumer product companies with Colgate-Palmolive, and Procter & Gamble and McDonald's immediately coming to mind.

Try not to become a "trend chaser" and buy stocks or funds just because they're popular. My experience is that those stocks may become bargains sooner than you think.

Foreign Investment In Farmland Can Have Mixed Impact

Bob Craig, agricultural economist with Michigan Farm Bureau, said American farmland has become a more attractive investment to foreign investors, thanks to the weaker dollar, lower real interest rates and higher returns on farmland.

"As to the impact on farmers, certainly we could see values of farmland increase, perhaps faster than what otherwise would happen," he said. "That would be good news for farmers in terms of seeing their current asset values on farm real estate increase."

On the other hand, Craig said, there could be more competition for farmers who want to purchase additional farmland to increase the size of their farm operation.

Dexter Fine Art Series Tickets Now Available

Season tickets will go on sale this month for the first annual Dexter Fine Arts Series. The series will be sponsored by the Music Committee of the Dexter United Methodist church as a benefit for music ministry of the church.

The series will offer three performances, including Ann Arbor's own "Chenille Sisters" and University of Michigan pianist William Albright. The third offering will be the moving play "The Diary of Ann Frank," performed by members of the Dexter church.

"The Chenille Sisters" will present their special brand of music and humor at Copeland School Auditorium on April 17. This trio of Ann Arbor natives has become well-known across the nation for their entertaining mix of old songs and new, light-hearted fun. They have sung at major events throughout the mid-west and have recently recorded another hit album.

"The Diary of Ann Frank" will be performed in the Lodge at Camp Newkirk on Friday and Saturday, April 27-28. The moving story of the Frank family takes place in Amsterdam during the Holocaust. The story of their years in hiding is captured in Ann's writings and has been published in book form, "The Diary of a Young Girl."

"William Albright" is a world-renowned pianist and musician from the School of Music at the University of Michigan. He will present a program called "Ragtime and All That Jazz." His performance will be at the Dexter United Methodist church on May 5.

Series tickets go on sale this month. The number of tickets is limited due to seating limitations. Series ticket holders will be guaranteed seating for all three events. Anyone interested in purchasing series tickets should call 426-8480 for information.

Chairperson for the series, Elai Sly, says, "We are really excited about bringing quality entertainment to Dexter. We feel this is a great opportunity for the whole community to share in these performances and to support the music ministry of the Dexter United Methodist church. All three performances are suitable to all ages, so we hope everyone, young and old, will join us for these events."

Bulldogs!

Dogs Win Third Straight District Wrestling Title, In Tough Region Tonight

Chelsea Bulldogs are scheduled to compete tonight in the regional team wrestling tournament in DeWitt, where they're likely to meet the state's top-ranked class B team, Eaton Rapids.

The Bulldogs reached the regional meet with a decisive win over the Saline Hornets in the finals of last Wednesday's district tournament at Chelsea, 53-23. It was the third consecutive district title for the Bulldogs.

Chelsea opens tonight against Jackson Northwest. If Chelsea wins that contest, they'll face the winner of the Eaton Rapids-Ovid Elsie match. The winner will go to the state tournament.

Kargel said the key to tonight's meet could well be the performance of the boys who failed to qualify for the individual regional tournament this Saturday in Linden.

"Sometimes it's tough to wrestle with intensity in a team meet if you've been eliminated from the individual meet," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"Hopefully those kids have the team concept in mind and will regroup."

Kargel said it will also be important for wrestlers to fight for every point they can and to keep from getting pinned if a match gets out of hand.

"If we don't give up more points than we have to, we stand a good chance," Kargel said.

Chelsea and Eaton Rapids met early in the season and wrestled to a draw. Should they meet tonight it will be a match-up of the number one and number three teams in class B.

In the team district tournament, Chelsea mowed down Brooklyn Columbia Central, 60-4, Dexter, 60-9, and Saline.

"I thought the finals would be really close," Kargel said.

"For Saline it all seemed to hinge on the match at 103 where they had a kid they thought could beat Karl Wikman. I guess when they lost that match, they figured they couldn't beat us."

That's when the Hornets started experimenting with their line-up, only to have it all cave in.

In the finals, Wikman beat Mark Gray, 11-2.

At 112 pounds, Andrew Parker lost a major decision to Tim Austin, 13-0. Pat Taylor won by default at 119 pounds.

Alan Hanna pinned Saline's Brian Burgess at 125 pounds in 1:44.

Eric Hanna pinned Kevin Betsalees in 1:11.

Chelsea's Rex Nye won by void at 135 pounds.

At 140 pounds, Jim Hassett won a 15-0 technical fall over Saline's Ben Hollis.

Chelsea's Doug Wingrove won an 18-2 technical fall over Brent Sheets at 145 pounds.

Adam Taylor, at 152 pounds, was pinned by Saline's Doug DeGrande in 3:41.

Matt Herter, at 160 pounds, stopped Saline's Dennis DeGrande, 8-2.

Chelsea's Neil Klink was pinned by Dan Wooley in 1:28 at 171 pounds.

Chelsea's Tim VanSchoick pinned Jason Dettler in 1:37 at 189 pounds.

And Saline's state-ranked heavyweight David Olson pinned Mike Terpstra in 3:19.

Against Columbia Central, the Bulldogs recorded seven pins and lost only two matches.

Pins were earned by Alan Hanna (1:52), Jim Hassett (1:24), Wingrove (1:46), Adam Taylor (2:54), Pat Hassett (:27), VanSchoick (:38), and Terpstra (:53).

Pat Taylor and Herter each won by forfeit.

Wikman won a 16-4 major decision, and Kelly Beard wrestled to a 9-9 draw at 130 pounds.

Parker was defeated 7-1 and Chuck Kovick lost a 5-3 decision at 135 pounds.

The Dexter match was something of a farce as the Dreadnaughts voided five weight classes.

Todd Watson at 103 and Wikman at 112 each won by forfeit. Then the Bulldogs recorded three straight pins by Pat Taylor (1:18), Alan Hanna (1:10), and Eric Hanna (:29).

In a battle of the McCallas, Chelsea's Kevin lost to his cousin, Jeff, for the second time this year, 2-1.

Then Jim Hassett (1:17) and Jason Szostak (1:44) won by pin.

Adam Taylor and Herter lost back-to-back decisions, 5-2 and 9-2, before the Dreadnaughts voided the final three weight classes to Klink, VanSchoick, and Terpstra.

HEAVYWEIGHT Mike Terpstra took fourth place Saturday to qualify for the regional tournament this Saturday in Linden. Here, Terpstra works on a pin. He and the Bulldogs compete tonight at the regional team tournament in DeWitt.

Freshman Cagers Lose Big On Road to Pinckney Pirates

Chelsea Bulldog freshman basketball team suffered its worst loss of the year last week as the Pinckney Pirates took an easy 59-27 victory on Thursday, Feb. 8 at home.

"The first quarter set the tone for the entire game," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"We were down 18-10 but missed four lay-ups and did not play our typical defense. When we broke their press, we didn't hit shots we usually make and defensively we didn't get back like we usually do."

Chelsea shot 11-38 from the field or 29 percent while the Pirates took 19 more shots and finished 24-37 for 51 percent. In addition, the Bulldogs had their troubles at the foul line where they were 5-14.

Nick McCalla led Chelsea with 10 points, followed by Colt White with eight, Chris Dunham with five, and Scott Larson and Brian Piasecki with two each.

Tom Poulter had six rebounds, high for the Dogs.

The freshman finish their season tomorrow at Lincoln. After last week they were 9-4 over-all and 6-3 in the Southeastern Conference.

Bulldogs Host Dexter Friday as SEC Title Battle Hits Homestretch

Dexter Dreadnaughts will be looking for an upset this Friday at they come to Chelsea to face the Bulldogs, who are still undefeated in the Southeastern Conference, at 9-0 and 15-1 over-all.

"At this point in the season, I'm just glad we're not playing at Dexter," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond, who acknowledged the Dreadnaughts have improved in the latter part of the season.

The Dexter game represents the re-heating of the SEC championship picture for Chelsea. After relatively easy victories over Saline, Milan, and Lincoln, the Bulldogs have to face the SEC's toughest schools in the last three weeks of the regular season. After Friday's Dexter game, they take on Tecumseh in Tecumseh next Friday in what promises to be the SEC showdown of the year and maybe the last several years. No matter what happens this Friday, next Friday's game will probably determine the SEC championship. The Indians have one league loss.

After a non-league contest with Jackson County Western, the Bulldogs finish the regular season at home against Pinckney, another tough opponent.

Last week the Bulldogs walked all over the Lincoln Railspitters on Tuesday at home, 87-71, before stopping South Lyon on the road on Friday, 74-58.

In the Lincoln contest, Chelsea jumped out to a 25-6 lead in the first quarter and a 50-24 half-time advantage in a game that was very similar to a blowout of Hartland a couple of weeks ago.

"We're really concentrating on the league games and we came out and played exceptionally well early," Raymond said.

"We had a good half both offensively and defensively and got a lot of points off our defense."

The Bulldogs had their fast break in high gear as they had 22 assists among their 34 field goals. Lincoln had trouble with Chelsea's press as they turned the ball over 27 times.

"The wings were getting down the court very quickly," Raymond said.

"I'll bet we had five long bounce passes from half court for lay-ups. Those passes are difficult to make and difficult to catch."

Raymond substituted liberally early in the third quarter, and the subs responded well, Raymond said.

Kerry Plank led Chelsea with 20 points. Other scorers included Brian Burg 16, Kyle Plank 15, Chad Starkey 11, Tucker Steele 8, Jon Royce 6, Jeremy Stephens 6, Chris Wilson 2, and Jude Quilter 2. Steele and Stephens has their season-best performances.

Chelsea made 34-67 from the field and 19-33 from the line, one of their worst free throw shooting efforts in recent weeks. They out-rebounded Lincoln, 44-32.

Friday's game at South Lyon, Chelsea's biggest enemy was their own sloppiness as the Bulldogs had no problem handling the Lions.

"Our passes were good, but they seemed to go off our fingertips," Raymond said.

"We didn't catch as many as we should have."

Chelsea again took a big early lead and held a 46-28 half-time advantage. The Bulldogs increased the lead to 22 points early in the third quarter. Again, Raymond emptied the bench

KARL WIKMAN was a district champion last Saturday at 103 pounds and will compete this Saturday as one of the top seeds in the regional individual tournament. In addition, his match against Saline last Wednesday proved to be pivotal in the Bulldogs' convincing team district championship.

Eight Chelsea Wrestlers Qualify for Regionals

Eight Chelsea wrestlers qualified for the individual regional wrestling tournament this Saturday at Linden as they finished in the top four at the district tournament last Saturday in Chelsea.

"We had the possibility of getting 10 out, but we lost one match in overtime, and had some bad luck," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

Chelsea had four district champions including Karl Wikman at 103, Pat Taylor at 119, Doug Wingrove at 145, and Tim VanSchoick at 189.

In addition, Jim Hassett finished second at 140, Pat Hassett was second at 171, Alan Hanna was third at 125, and Mike Terpstra was fourth at heavyweight.

Wikman started with a pin of Tim Hansen of Jackson Lumen Christi in 1:05. He went on to defeat Dan Moran of Mason, 12-4, Judd Pettito of Jackson County Western, 5-3, and Chris Morgan of Haslett, 9-5.

Taylor opened with a pin of Cliff Hart of Perry in :59, then defeated Andre Langston of Albion in overtime, 12-9. In the finals he stopped Phil Judge of Eaton Rapids, 9-5.

Wingrove had four relatively easy matches to take the 145 pound class. "Of all our wrestlers, I thought Doug was the most impressive," Kargel said.

"When you're beating kids by as much as he was, especially in the finals, you're having a good day."

Wingrove pinned Jim Kirk of Brooklyn Columbia Central in 1:01 to start. Next he earned a 17-4 decision over Matt McRoberts of Dexter, then a 17-0 technical fall over Eric Palmer

Allen of Tecumseh in 1:58, decided on Frederick of Jackson Lumen Christi, 11-1.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

This winter is shaping up to be the most successful and exciting Chelsea High school sports season since I've been here, and maybe ever. If any long-time residents can remember a better one, I'd love to hear about it.

Chelsea wrestlers go to DeWitt tonight to compete for the right to go to the state tournament as a team. It's likely the third-ranked Bulldogs, this week's Detroit Free Press Team of the Week, will have to beat top-ranked Eaton Rapids, assuming they win their opening round against Jackson North-west.

It's a formidable task, but it's certainly not out of the question. The teams tied in December. And for the most part the Bulldogs have been steadily improving since then.

Take the case of Pat Hassett at 171 pounds. Last Saturday he pinned his Eaton Rapids opponent at the district individual meet. It was the same kid who pinned him last December. In fact, a number of Chelsea wrestlers beat Eaton Rapids kids last Saturday.

Karl Wikman, Pat Taylor, Doug Wingrove, and Tim VanSchoick have all been just about unbeatable lately. Taylor, of course, is still undefeated.

The meet, however, will probably be won or lost by the guys who lose their matches, as strange as that sounds. I'll predict that Chelsea will beat Eaton Rapids if no Bulldogs get pinned. Each no-pin saves the Bulldogs from one to three points, a big boost in post-season competition.

The position the Bulldogs find themselves in reminds me of an awful lot of the position the girls cross country team was in this fall. They've been ranked all season, but never higher than third, even though the top three teams are probably just about equal in ability.

We all know what happened last fall. The team peaked at the end of the season and at the state meet virtually every Bulldog ran her season-best time. And now Chelsea wrestlers have a legitimate shot at a state title.

And you know what? It's almost unbelievable that two Chelsea teams in one year could even be in that position. Can you imagine two new signs at the Village limits?

GO BULLDOGS!

Then we swing over to the Bulldog basketball team, which has a very real shot at going undefeated in the Southeastern Conference. They're 9-0, with Dexter, Tecumseh, and Pinckney to close out the season. Who cares if, with the exception of Chelsea, they are the best teams in the SEC?

Raymond told me that an undefeated league season might be a first—not just for Chelsea, but the entire league. Unfortunately, there isn't a league historian, so it's kind of hard to know for sure. Maybe someone out there knows.

At any rate, it would be an astonishing achievement for the Bulldogs. This year's team has surpassed even Raymond's wildest dreams for the season. They are excelling in virtually every phase of the game. They've had very few close contests. They keep their cool and tend to lengthen their lead at the end of the tough ones, a sure sign of maturity and confidence.

In order for the Bulldogs to win their district tournament, they'll probably have to beat Tecumseh again. That means in order to win the league outright and district title, they'll probably have to beat the Indians three straight times, an extremely difficult task.

The girls pulled it off a couple of years ago. The boys can too. But it won't be easy.

GO BULLDOGS!

The play of junior Kerry Plank has been one of the big reasons for the basketball team's exceptional play this season.

Plank, who had a hard time scoring 10 points last year, has averaged more than 20 over the last four games.

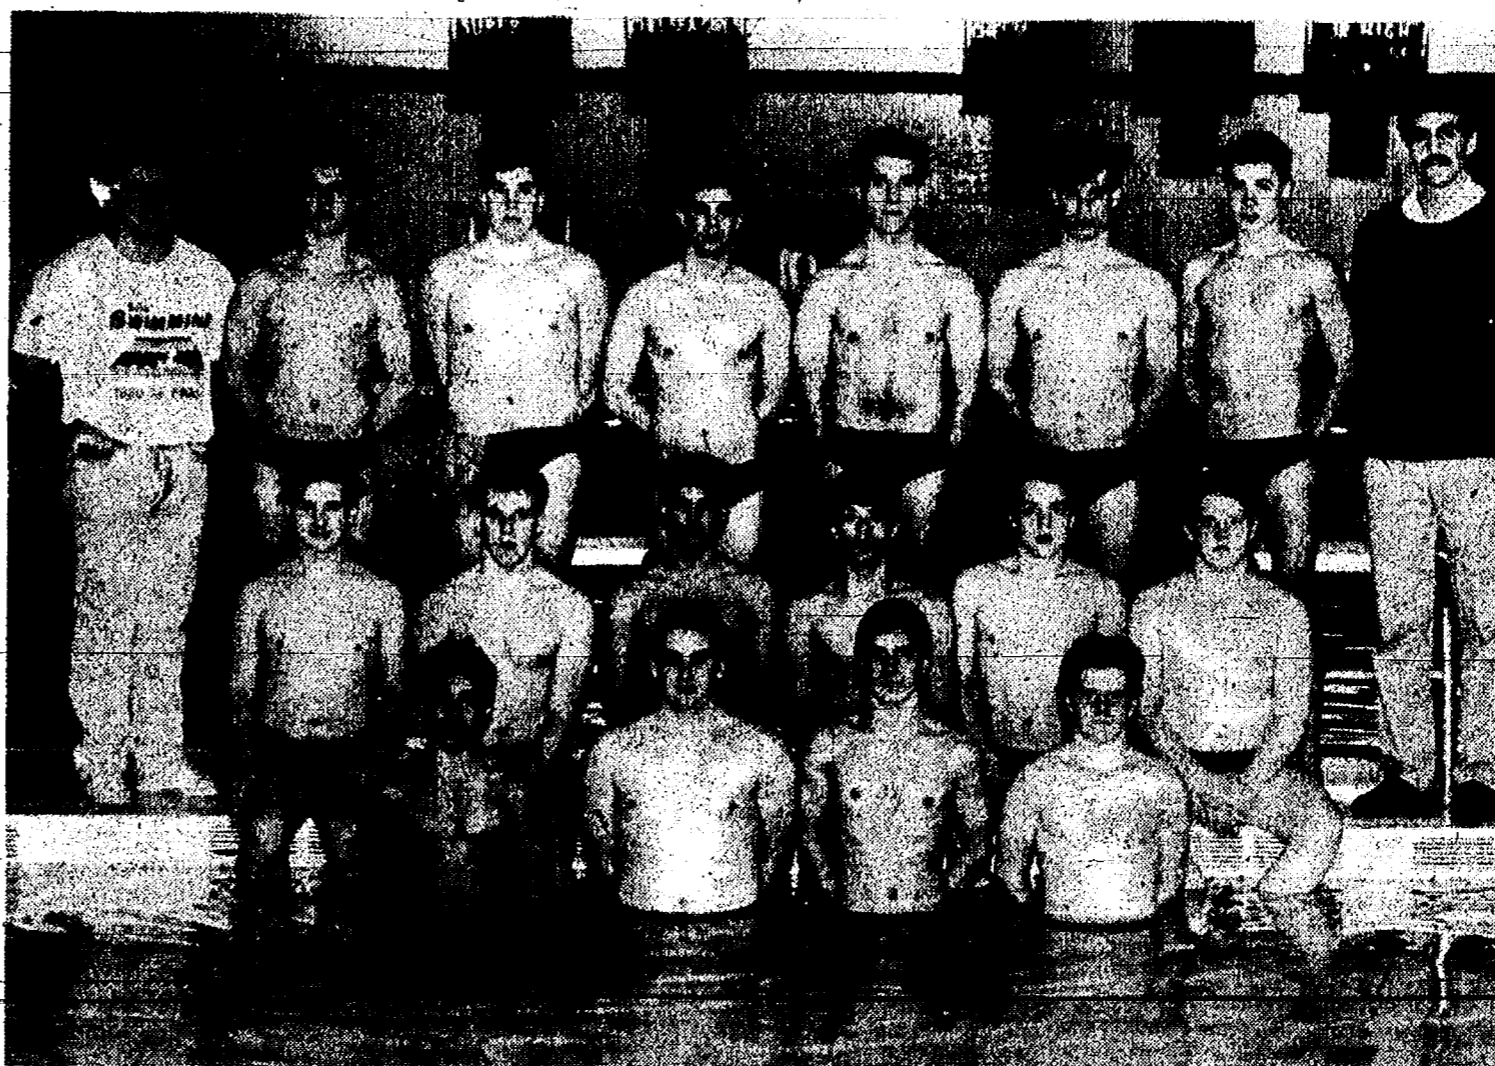

But more than that, he may be the most complete player in the SEC. Raymond would rank him among the best, if not the best, defensive player in the league.

Plank is also first on the team in free throw percentage, and second in just about every other category you can think of, from rebounds, to field goal percentage, to steals.

The funny thing is, Plank is so fluid with his moves that he almost looks like he's dogging it. There's not much flash, but his all-around game is as good as anyone's. He'll be the anchor of next year's squad, which has to make Raymond sleep a little easier considering how much talent he is going to lose.

It may come as no surprise to you that 10 of the 12 Chelsea varsity basketball players are also on the honor roll. That includes the starting team of Chad Starkey, Brian Burg, Chris Wilson, and Kerry and Kyle Plank.

It's no wonder they're playing intelligent basketball. They've also been smart enough to realize that a push for individual stats, which has to be tempting, especially for the seniors, has no place on a championship basketball team.

Chelsea Tankers Whip Adrian, Host Annual Invitational Thursday

Chelsea Bulldog swim team defeated Adrian last week, 94-77, but met its match against the Milan Big Reds and took a 101-71 defeat.

"We're finishing a most successful season, but we suffered a slight setback with the loss to Milan," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

"We had 11 season-best times and three career-best times, combined with six wins in 11 events. But that wasn't quite enough to beat Milan, which has too much depth for us."

In the 200 freestyle, Rob Totten swam a season-best time of 2:04.19.

In the 200 individual medley, Brett Paddock also had a season-best time of 2:09.85.

The 50 freestyle was dominated by the Bulldogs as Wally Schmid and Von Acker took 1-2 in :23.22 and :23.54, respectively.

Jamie Basso won the one-meter diving with a score of 168.45 points. Richard Barnes had a season-best performance of 126.45 points.

Acker qualified for the state meet in the 100 butterfly with a time of :57.12, his career-best time. Totten also swam a season-best time in the event at 1:00.98.

Schmid recorded his season-best time of :50.87 in the 100 freestyle and qualified for the state meet. Hooshman Nightengale also had a season-best time of 1:01.63 in the event.

Jolly said Brian Brock was very strong in the 100 backstroke as his time of 1:06.78 was a season-best.

In the Adrian meet, each Chelsea competitor swam in an event he doesn't normally swim in.

The meet began with the 200 medley relay team of Paddock, Garth Girard, Acker, and Schmid winning with a time of 1:47.01.

Paddock and Brian Brock combined for a 2-3 finish in the 200 freestyle as Paddock turned in a 1:58.12 and Brock's time was 2:04.48.

Acker swam the 200 individual medley, an event he hasn't competed in in years, and won handily in 2:16.17.

Beach Swimmers Top Adrian, Swim Well Against Milan

Beach Middle school swim team finished their dual meet season last week with a 99-55 victory over Adrian and a 79-74 loss to Milan.

"I'm happy with the team's performance," said Chelsea coach Dave Brinklow.

"They're improving every meet. Even though they lost at Milan, it was like a win because they swam so well."

In the Milan meet, the 200 medley relay team of Jason McVittie, Matt Montange, Matt Fischer, and Craig Vosters took second place with a season-best time of 2:02.09. Betsy Schmunk, Mike McEachern, Corey Brown, and Halley Orr finished fourth in 2:24.20 while the team of Bridgette Reinhardt, Ninete Vermeylen, Rob Maybaum, and Craig Gourley placed sixth in 2:54.43.

David Brock swam a personal best time of 2:12.38 in the 200 freestyle, which was good for second place. Erica Street placed fourth in 2:34.17 and Matt Dymond was sixth in 2:41.54.

In the 200 individual medley, Fischer edged his opponent for a victory in 1:07.62, with Kevin Kolodica not far behind in third place with 1:13.77. Maybaum took sixth in 1:31.64.

McVittie, Montange, and David Stimpson placed second, third, and sixth, respectively, in the 50 freestyle with times of :28.92, :28.16, and :32.51.

Tom Leach and Stimpson were second and third in diving with 88 and 77 points, respectively.

After diving, Milan led 42-33. Fischer won the 50 butterfly in :30.01, while Brown placed fourth in :37.79 and Maybaum was fifth in :40.48.

Brock, Vosters, and Dymond finished second, third, and sixth in the 100 freestyle with times of :59.74, 1:03.97, and 1:11.50.

McVittie swam a personal-best time in the 100 backstroke with a 1:13.71, good for second place. He was followed by Schmunk, fourth, in 1:17.18, and Street, sixth, in 1:23.84. Montange was second in the 100 breaststroke in 1:15.40. Kolodica placed third in 1:19.76, and McEachern swam a personal-best time of 1:21.31 for fourth place.

In the final event, the 400 freestyle relay, Brock, Schmunk, Vosters, and Kolodica won in 4:24.08. Brown, Dymond, McEachern, and Street were third in 4:59.61, and Vermeylen, Reinhardt, and Gourley were fifth in 5:39.38.

In the Adrian meet, the 200 medley relay team of McEachern, Schmunk, Fischer, and Orr placed second in 2:19.25. Street, Stimpson, Kolodica, and Vosters were third in 2:22.92, and Reinhardt, Vermeylen, Maybaum, and Gourley finished fifth in 2:58.07.

Fischer won the 200 freestyle in 2:20.48 while Dymond was third in 2:44.22 and Brown placed fourth in 2:59.61.

Chelsea swept the 100 individual medley as McVittie was first in 1:10.34, Montange placed second in 1:13.77, and Schmunk was third in 1:16.68.

Brock and Kolodica took 1-2 in the 50 freestyle in :27.24 and :28.45, respectively, while Gourley was fifth in :33.16.

In diving, McVittie was second with 90 points, Leach was fifth with 63 points, and Stimpson was sixth with 50 points. At that point, Chelsea led 46-32.

In the 50 butterfly, Brock was victorious in :32.75, Montange was third in :36.33, and Maybaum placed fourth in :42.20.

Vosters won the 100 freestyle in 1:03.98, Dymond was third in 1:09.61, and Street was fourth in 1:12.10.

Fischer won the 100 backstroke in 1:11.67 and Brown was third in 1:30.2. McEachern and Schmunk finished 1-2 in the 100 breaststroke in 1:23.48 and 1:26.27.

The 400 freestyle relay team of Montange, Street, Dymond, and Kolodica took first in 4:29.94. Brock, McEachern, Brown, and McVittie were second in 4:38.65, and Orr, Vermeylen, Reinhardt, and Gourley combined for fourth place in 5:31.92.

8th Grade Netters Defeat Milan

Beach Middle school eighth grade volleyball team defeated Milan but lost to Pinckney in action last week.

In the Pinckney contest on Tuesday, Feb. 6, the Bullpups suffered their second loss of the season in a four-game match, 10-12, 11-5, 9-11, and 6-11.

"It was frustrating to lose comfortable leads in both the first and third games," said Pup coach Ann Schaffner.

"Hopefully we can learn from that experience."

Gretchen Stahl, Beth Bell, Becca Flintoft, and Theresa Royce each served for five points, and Leslie Berg and Jodi Weiss each had four service points.

Defensively, Jenny Holzhausen, Traci Patrick, Jamie Collinsworth, Flintoft and Royce all played well, Schaffner said.

At Milan on Thursday, Feb. 8 the Pups won in three games, 11-0, 11-5, and 11-6.

Schaffner said improved serving was important to the win.

Flintoft led all servers with 13 points, and Bell had six. Traci Haas had "a flawless defensive effort," Schaffner said.

7th Grade Netters Win Two Matches

Beach Middle school seventh grade volleyball team beat Pinckney and Milan in action last week.

On Tuesday, Feb. 6 Chelsea defeated Pinckney at home in four games, 11-2, 1-11, 11-2, and 11-3.

Kori White led the serving with 12 points, Cindy Tripp had six points and Amy Petty had five points.

In the Thursday, Feb. 8 game at Milan, the Pups won in three games, 11-5, 11-0, and 11-3.

In the second game, Jessica Knight served all 11 points. Keri Kentala and Petty had five and four points, respectively, for the afternoon.

The team served with 98 percent efficiency.

The Pups are 4-1.

and everyone played for the second game in a row.
"We tried some different combinations in the second half and the bench did a good job," Raymond said.
The Bulldogs had no problem with South Lyon's press. In addition, they ran their half-court offense effectively and most of their shots came from the inside.

Kerry Plank scored a career-high 26 points to lead Chelsea. He shot 9-15 from the field and 8-9 from the free throw line. He also was high with 10 rebounds and four steals, and was second in assists with four. It was Plank's fourth game in a row with 20 or more points.

Starkey scored 14, Kyle Plank and Burg each had 14, Royce had four points, and Wilson and Steele each scored two.
As a team, Chelsea shot 46 percent from the field (26-56), 81 percent from the line (21-26), had 20 steals, 18 assists, 23 turnovers, and a 36-28 rebound advantage.

had some of the toughest competition of the tournament for Chelsea. He started off against Ernie Hobart of Jackson Northwest and won with a pin in :42. Then he pinned Milan's Dave Budd in 5:42, one of the area's top heavyweights. In his third match he ran into the state's top-ranked heavyweight, Colin Newberry of Haslett and was pinned in 1:32. Terpstra met Saline's David Olson in the consolation finals and was pinned in 1:13.

The top four finishers in each weight class this Saturday will advance to the state tournament in Battle Creek.

Valentine's Day Origins in Festival

Hugs and kisses, Cupid is near. It's the time of year for Valentine cheer. Feb. 14 is St. Valentine's Day, a day set aside as a lovers' festival.

The custom of Valentine's Day has no connection with the two legendary martyrs named St. Valentine whose lives are commemorated on Feb. 14. Popular theories connect the lovers' celebration with the Roman fertility festival of the Lupercalia on Feb. 15 or the mating season of birds.

One long-standing tradition associated with Valentine's Day is the sending of valentine cards. The paper valentine dates from the 16th century, and the valentine may have been the original greeting card.

Hearts are the popular symbol associated with Valentine's Day, but flowers and sweets are among the favorite gifts. This is the busiest day of the year for many florists and candy shops, with requests for red, yellow, white or chocolate roses at the top to the list.

St. Paul Church Begins Celebration Of 125th Anniversary

St. Paul United Church of Christ in Chelsea celebrated the first of three anniversary observances during 1990 on Sunday, Jan. 28.

The church was founded 125 years ago by the pioneer German missionary, the Rev. Friedrich Schmid, who came to the Chelsea area as early as 1864, and established more than 20 churches in Michigan. Among them are Bethlehem UCC and Zion Lutheran, Ann Arbor, Bethel and Emanuel UCC, Manchester, and St. James UCC, Saline.

Theme for the first celebration was "Yesterday," with the Historical Committee, headed by Arlene Larson, arranging pictorial displays throughout the church, including panel displays of confirmation classes dating back to 1892. Pictures of former pastors, women, men, and youth groups, and the former church building on Summit St., (now Immanuel Bible church) are also on display. A new Pictorial Church Directory contains a newly-written history of the congregation from its inception.

Among its 19 pastors over the past 125 years, the congregation remembered its longest-serving pastor, the Rev. Paul H. Grabowski (1922-1959), through a presentation by his granddaughter, Mrs. Laurie Lancaster Gravelyn, who, with members of her family, demonstrated "The Many Hats He Wore" during his long and fruitful pastorate.

The congregation also honored the 32 members who have been confirmed members 50 years or more, the oldest being Alfred Lindauer (98), now a resident of the Evangelical Home, Saline.

Speaker for the anniversary service was the Rev. Paul Schnake, pastor from 1959 to 1964, who was instrumental in inaugurating plans for the new church, located on Old US-12.

A banquet was held following worship for 150 people, with an "Old-Fashioned German Dinner" served (sauerkraut and pork, kniffler, knockwurst, home-made rolls and apple pie) by Betty Bust and her committee. Tables were set up and decorated by members of the Discovery Group. Paul Schaible served as master of ceremonies, and introduced the speakers: the Rev. Orval Willmann, pastor of Bethlehem UCC, who spoke on the Life and Times of Friedrich Schmid; the Rev. D. Douglas Schneider, son of the congregation and former missionary to India, and the Rev. Paul Schnake. George Knickerbocker is chair of the Anniversary Committee.

The next celebration will be held Sunday, April 29, with Dr. William Donald speaking at morning worship, and Dr. Warner Siebert speaking at the evening banquet. Both men served St. Paul as pastors.

Patients diagnosed with cancer use the highest percentage of blood transfused.

YOUR CHILD'S FIRST DENTAL VISIT

Q. When is the best time to bring in a child for his or her first visit to the dentist?

A. Earlier than you might think! A child's primary, or "baby," teeth begin erupting on the average at 7 months of age and continue to erupt until he is about 2½ years old. The American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry recommends that children have their first dental examination at about one year of age. This first examination is to check for any significant developmental abnormalities or dental problems and to review oral hygiene and diet instructions with the parents. A child is usually able to cooperate enough to have a complete prophylaxis or cleaning by age 3.

It's often a good idea to introduce a child to the dental office gradually. His first visit may be just to watch mom or dad having their teeth cleaned and examined. This allows the child to have a pleasant non-threatening experience while eliminating much of the aura of mystery surrounding a trip to the dentist. Parents' attitudes are very important in the child's perception of a trip to the dentist. It is very common for a parent to transfer his or her anxieties directly onto the child and this makes it all the more difficult to establish a bond of trust between the child and the dental "team." Watch what you say! A visit to the dental office may be viewed as a chance to show off a beautiful smile or how well the child has been brushing or even to show how "grown-up" the child is becoming as his permanent teeth begin erupting. These and other positive attitudes should be re-enforced daily at toothbrushing time.

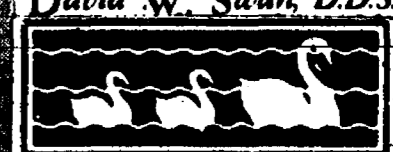

Since the advent of fluoride the incidence of tooth decay has fallen dramatically. It is not unusual anymore to see teenagers and young adults without a single filling or cavity! Why start bringing your child to the dentist so young then? First, your family dentist is not just a technician who drills and fills decayed teeth but a professional trained to recognize and treat a multitude of oral diseases and problems. A child's baby teeth play a critical role in the development and alignment of the permanent teeth. An abscessed primary tooth can harm the developing permanent tooth which was to replace it and early loss of a primary tooth without proper space maintenance may result in insufficient room for the permanent teeth.

With regular six month checkups starting early the child becomes comfortable visiting the dentist and problems can be better prevented or corrected in a more relaxed and non-traumatic fashion. One of the best ways to make a child a dental "phobic" for life is to go to the dentist only when he or she is in pain. One of the best ways to prevent such phobias and develop sound life-long dental habits is to start your child early.

February is National Children's Dental Health Month!

What is Death?

(part 2)

What is involved in the process of dying? What happens to me at death? Where are my loved ones right now? These are a few of the questions that you will, if you have not already, be faced with at some point in your life. When we experience the death of a friend or relative, it is only natural to wonder, "What are they experiencing right now?" In Psalms 146:4, David outlines the process of dying for us in simple terms as he says "1) His breath goeth forth, 2) he returneth to his earth; 3) In that very day his thoughts perish." David points out that when we die we stop breathing, this is what David meant by saying "his breath goeth forth." Next, David addresses the physical spectrum of death. It is interesting that David did not place man in heaven, but his understanding was that we return to the earth. Man is made of various components and elements that are found upon this earth, these elements alone are inanimate, but when God breathed life into this specific composition of elements which he fused together to make man, man became animate. (see Gen. 2:7) However, the curse of death was placed upon all of mankind when Adam sinned, a curse that sends man back to where he was before God gave him life: to mere elements. The thought is carried when we observe Adam's rebuke from God in Gen. 2:17, "... for out of it (the ground) wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust thou shalt return." It was this sentence of death that shows us our dependency on God, now through his Son Jesus, for life. Finally, it is at the time of death that all prayers, all worship, all thought, ceases until the return of Christ. Those who are dead are in the grave, and will remain there in a state of sleep until they are awakened by the call of Christ. This is why the dead are referred to as being "asleep in Christ," because all hope of them living again depends upon his seen return.

County Highway Engineer Retires

Fletcher W. Des Autels, P.E., county highway engineer at the Washtenaw County Road Commission, has announced his retirement from active employment on Feb. 1.

Des Autels has served Washtenaw county as highway engineer since November, 1978.

He actually started his public service career at the Washtenaw County Road Commission while an engineering student at the University of Michigan. After graduating, he worked as a design engineer for the Indiana State Highway Department, a consulting engineer with a private firm in Kalamazoo, then back to the Washtenaw County Road Commission from 1968 to 1984 as road engineer. He then served the Shiawassee County Road Commission as engineer-manager for 14 years before returning to Washtenaw county as highway engineer.

During his years with the Road Commission, Des Autels was responsible for over $15 million worth of federally funded road projects, some of the most recent of which included the Hewitt Rd. widening and extension, the Geddes Road Bridge reconstruction and Golfside Road extension.

Des Autels plans to maintain his residence in Saline while golfing, fishing and travelling. The Road Commission has announced that he is being succeeded by his assistant county highway engineer, Steven M. Puuri, P.E.

Puuri came to the Road Commission in February of 1987, after working as a project engineer in the northern counties of the lower peninsula for the U. S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service. A native of Utica, Puuri obtained his bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from Michigan State University in 1978 and his professional engineering registration in 1983. Puuri and his wife, Jamie, who is also an MSU graduate, reside in Scio township with their three children.

Farmland, Open Space Preservation Act To Be Explained

Washtenaw County Farm Bureau, in co-operation with the Co-operative Extension Service, has scheduled a meeting on Public Act. 118, the Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act. The meeting is open to the public and will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 20, at 7 p.m. at the Farm Council Grounds, located at the corner of Pleasant Lake and Saline-Ann Arbor Rds., midway between Ann Arbor and Saline.

Questions pertaining to Public Act. 118 are becoming more frequent as contracts expire and renewal and possible legislation is proposed. According to county Farm Bureau president Harold Trinkle, the speaker will be Dennis Conway, the Department of Natural Resources planning specialist in charge of the Farmland and Open Space Preservation program.

Misunderstandings about the purpose of P.A. 118 have led to confusion about the operation and benefits of the program. The time is right for an informative educational discussion on the program.

For more information contact the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau Office at 663-3141 or the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service at 971-0076.

Cosmetics Firm Halts Animal Use In Product Testing

Mary Kay Cosmetics president and chief operating officer Richard C. Bartlett has announced a company moratorium on the use of laboratory animals for consumer product safety testing.

"We will continue to provide consumers with products that meet the highest standards of safety and quality," said Bartlett. "Since 1981, we have actively participated in the development of alternative testing methods. Apparent advances in this methodology allow us now to pause and evaluate the potential of recently announced non-animal testing methods. And, we want to encourage our industry to continue to explore alternative, non-animal testing methods and share the results," said Bartlett.

The announcement was made at the Johns Hopkins Center for Alternatives to Animal Testing (CAAT) in Baltimore by Thomas J. Stephens, Ph.D., director of Product Safety at Mary Kay Cosmetics. Dr. Stephens and colleagues from Mary Kay Cosmetics were participating in a CAAT scientific workshop focusing on in vitro (non-animal) testing methods. The workshop was co-sponsored by Mary Kay Cosmetics, the Environmental Protection Agency, Procter and Gamble and Hoffman-LaRoche.

State Inheritance Tax Repeal Favored By Michigan Farmers

The House Taxation Committee in Lansing is still considering Senate Bill 1, which would repeal Michigan's inheritance tax. The measure is tied up in a debate over whether or not it would cost revenue to the state in what is expected to be a tight budget year. But Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson said that regardless of the revenue issue, repealing the state inheritance tax could be a cost effective move over the long run.

"The general concept is that the inheritance tax would be a function of federal government, which would then apportion an amount of the inheritance tax back to the state," he said. "So whatever the state got would be a net collection, versus the situation now where there's state administrative costs involved."

Nelson said repealing the state inheritance tax would help farmers transfer their business operation on to family members.

Nature from Your Backdoor

By Glenn R. Daddarar

When warm weather in January brought bats and snakes out of hibernation to horrify homeowners, we wrote here about bats and snakes. But by limiting our column to them, we left out another animal that was out and about under the influence of the mild weather: the opossum.

The opossum (or possum, as you'll more often hear it) is North America's only marsupial—it carries its young in a pouch as a kangaroo does. It's a southern mammal that's relatively new to most of Michigan. It became abundant in southern Michigan about a hundred years ago, and only in the past 50 years or so has it become common in northern Michigan.

To get through severe cold, it becomes inactive and sleeps a lot. It's not a true hibernator, like the groundhog—it just hibernates when the weather gets bad. Then, when a mild period comes along, the opossum leaves its hollow log or protected nook under a wooden deck or mobile home and scurries out to look for something to eat. The unseasonably mild weather in January and early February brought possums out in full force.

I received numerous calls about possums, usually from people who were alarmed at the sight of what looked like a big rat with a mouthful of needlelike teeth. They worried that it would harm their children or pets. I even saw a couple of possums as far north as Cheboygan county. The one that I'll remember for a long time, however, is the one I met "up close and personal" in my backyard on a mild January night.

Late one evening as I was about to turn out the lights, I noticed a possum cleaning up seed under a bird feeder close to a large picture window. When it saw me at the window, it struck a ferocious pose with head up, mouth open, saliva dripping from all 50 of its sharp teeth, and one paw upraised. Thinking that here was one possum that wasn't going to play dead, I went about my business. When I came back a few minutes later, it was still in that ferocious pose.

My previous experience with possums included some that played possum and a few that didn't, some that would bite if you tried to grab them and some that remained motionless no matter what happened to them. But I had never before seen one playing possum standing up.

Figuring that it was hungry, I took it a piece of bread. It held its fierce pose as I walked up to it and impaled the bread on its lower canine teeth. It still didn't move—it just stood there, with that ferocious look on its face and a piece of bread hanging from its mouth.

Finally, 17 minutes after it froze, it literally snapped out of its trance, as if it had been hit with a jolt of electric current. Its head snapped around and the jaws snapped shut on the bread, biting a piece out. Both pieces of bread fell and the possum whirled away and ran into the darkness.

Besides demonstrating that the possum is not one of our most fearsome mammals, this tale seems to back up the claim by physiologists that the possum does not have voluntary control over the state that it is in when it's playing possum. It is evidently locked in for a period of time until whatever physiological mechanism that sent it into that state releases it.

It's hard to imagine how this arrangement for faking death could have much survival value if the possums can't end the act at will. It may last only moments or hours. Or the game may become reality if, during that time when the possum is immobilized, some possum predator happens along and discovers an easy meal waiting for it.

All of our larger predators—bears, coyotes, foxes, bobcats, great horned owls, red-tail hawks—will eat possums when the opportunity arises. The possum has still managed to become increasingly abundant in our state, so playing possum must help it survive, or at least not be too detrimental. Playing possum in front of an oncoming Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth is obviously futile, but maybe no more so than trying to dodge out of the way.

The story of my backyard possum shows that animals just being themselves are often funnier than cartoonists can make them by turning them into little people. (Just think: if that possum hadn't had a firm base of support from three legs and a tail, he might have tipped over when he went into his act.) Dramatic, thought-provoking, amazing and funny—yes, humor, too, is part of nature from your backdoor.

Cutting Red Tape

SEND IN THOSE MISSING MESC REPORTS WITHIN 30 DAYS!

Q: I have just received my yearly Tax Rate Notice from the MESC. They have increased by rate to 10% because of a missing quarterly tax form. What can I do?

A: It is crucial that you immediately send the missing return accompanied with a letter to the MESC asking that the rate be redetermined! You are allowed only 30 days from the date of the notice to protest this rate and send in the missing return. After the allowed 30 days, your protest will be considered untimely and MESC will not adjust your contribution rate without proving MESC error.

It is very important for you to understand that it is the failure to file quarterly returns and NOT the failure to pay the tax due that results in the assignment of the 10% tax rate. So remember to always file the return even though you may not be able to pay the tax! If you have any trouble with this process, call us, toll-free, at 1-800-232-2727.

DO I NEED A BUSINESS LICENSE?

Q: I am licensed residential builder in Michigan and would like to start my own business. Do I need a business license?

A: The State of Michigan does not issue an over-all "business license." There are many different types of licensing requirements depending on the nature of the business. In your case, you have fulfilled the licensing obligation for your particular trade. It is important to realize that although you are licensed, you also need to choose a legal structure and register the business accordingly. There are three basic legal structures: sole proprietor, partnership, and corporation. All three require that the name of the business be registered.

Producer Dairy Prices To Dip

Dairy producers should see lower prices soon, according to Kevin Kirk, dairy specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau, but he doesn't believe they will drop as far as they did in 1988.

"The seasonal price decline is especially vivid in 1990" because drought-driven milk prices soared 25 percent last year, he said. "My advice to dairy farmers who are coping with the potential price drop is to be conservative in major expenditures in 1990."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture expects milk production to increase between one and three percent this year.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Anne Comeau.

The board presented certificates of appreciation to three persons who participated in the mentorship program last semester: Dr. Anthony Waas and Amir Khamseh of the University of Michigan, and Ms. Oakley Winter. Counselor Chris Dimanin and seniors Trevor Harding and Charity Strong were present at the meeting to briefly describe their mentorship projects.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills reported that, due to recent increases in the cost of milk to the district, the board will be asked to increase the price of a one-half pint of milk to $.25 at the time of the next increase in cost to the schools.

Board members were apprised of a request from the Chelsea Aquatic Club to offer swim lessons at the pool on Sundays. The Board Policy Committee will first consider this request prior to the next board meeting.

Laurie Bissell reviewed with the board some changes in the 1990-91 high school course offerings: (1) dropping Pre-Algebra and Pre-Calculus; (2) adding Algebra I-A and I-B, Discrete Mathematics; (3) dropping Drawing and Painting I and II, Crafts I and II, Commercial Art, Ceramics and Jewelry II; (4) adding Studio Art.

The board approved the hiring of Envirotherm, Inc., to work on a consultant basis to address an underground storage tank problem.

The board accepted the resignation of Patricia Pedersen, effective Jan. 28, 1990.

Meeting adjourned at 10:50 p.m.

Type of Mail Delivery To Belser Estates Undecided

Village of Chelsea and the U.S. Postal Service are trying to decide how mail will be delivered in Chelsea's newest and most exclusive subdivision, Belser Estates.

Village council voted against a proposal for centralized mail service, which would essentially put all mailboxes for the subdivision in one place. The post office wanted an easement for the cluster boxes, and council denied it, affirming a recommendation by the village planning commission.

Developer Charles Belser told council that realtors have told him he would lose sales of lots with centralized service.

However, it has not yet been decided whether the mail will come by curbside or sidewalk delivery. Individual delivery to the front door of each home is apparently not an option.

In addition, the post office will not deliver mail to the subdivision until half the lots have a house on them. The first phase of Belser Estates has 29 lots, which means at least 14 or 15 have to be improved. Currently, 11 lots have homes in various stages of completion.

A RULING PASSION, by Judith Michael. A Ruling Passion transports us into the high-stakes world of television broadcasting, where three lives are intertwined in a dangerous dance of love, intrigue, revenge, and murder. Shattered by her husband's death and the mysterious loss of her fortune, pampered socialite Valerie Sterling suddenly finds herself a will to make it on her own as an investigative reporter.

ROSEANNE: My Life As a Woman, by Roseanne Barr. From her childhood as a Jewish outcast in the strict Mormon society of Salt Lake City, U., to the pinnacle of success as television's newest and funniest star, Roseanne Barr's life story has been one of tremendous drama. Here you'll learn the truth about her horrifying, near-death experience as a teen-ager; her stay in a mental institution; and her escape from Utah.

THE IRON LADY, by Hugo Young. Margaret Thatcher is one of the most remarkable political phenomena of the 20th century. Not only is she the first woman to be the leader of a major democracy, she has also proven to be one of the most forceful and long-lasting of modern politicians. This book is by far the fullest account yet published of this extraordinary career.

GEORGIA O'KEEFE: A Life, by Roxana Robinson. Georgia O'Keeffe lived a life rich in intense relationships—with family and friends. As an artist, she came of age with American modernism. As a young painter, she lived in New York City at the center of the avant-garde during a time of turbulence and transformation following World War I. She established her own vision and remained in the forefront of American art through much of her life.
