ONE HUNDRED-NINETEENTH YEAR—No. 43

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1990

22 Pages This Week

DONALD HENGESH, right, explains how Cassidy Lake Technical School will be operated once it makes the switch to a boot camp later this year. Hengesh is the director of the program called Special Alternative Incarceration.

Cassidy Lake Prison To Become Boot Camp For Young Offenders

Michigan Department of Corrections plans to convert Cassidy Lake Technical School into a boot-camp that youthful offenders could choose to attend instead of going to prison.

Called Special Alternative Incarceration, the 13-week program is designed to instill in volunteers 25 and under a sense of pride, accomplishment, and self-esteem, and teach responsibility, through the rigors of a military-style boot camp. The offenders in the program are volunteers. They have the choice of going to jail for an average of three years, or being placed on probation with participation in the program a condition of their probation. About 80 percent of the "quitters" end up in jail, officials said.

Cassidy Lake would become the second of three such facilities in the state. The first is Camp Sauble in Freesoil near Lake Michigan in Mason county. A third one is planned near Manistique. About 13 states have similar programs.

The Cassidy Lake program was explained last Friday at the prison to a gathering of community leaders that included Sylvan Township Supervisor Don Schoenberg, village manager Robert Stalker, school superintendent Joe Piasecki, and police chief Lenard McDougall. Also on hand were State Sen. Lana Pollack, who helped set the program here in motion and State Rep. Margaret O'Connor, and various prison officials. Donald Hengesh, director of Special Alternative Incarceration, and Bruce Curtis who runs Camp Sauble, conducted most of the presentation, which included a 20-minute videotape of life at Camp Sauble.

Pollack said she supports the program largely because she believes the Chelsea-area community will benefit from fewer escapes. The prison was fenced late last year to address the long-term problem of prison walkaways. Pollack said she had no idea then that the prison would change.

"There is no doubt in my mind that this will be easier on the community," Pollack told the group.

"I just hope it works." If you measure a program by the response of the officials in charge, I'm really optimistic."

Curtis said there have been 13 escapes in the two years of the program but none since last summer. He credits that to working out some of the operational details.

Pollack also said she felt a "certain sadness," because "we're going to try something very different," than trying to rehabilitate young offenders through an open atmosphere and education.

Cassidy Lake will technically be closed down, then re-opened as a different facility. All of the small cottages will be demolished, and a larger building will be gutted and remodeled. In addition, some boilers will be changed from oil to wood as the inmates will cut wood for fuel. The wood will come from northern Michigan.

Hengesh couldn't give specifics on when the changeover will take place, although he said it will probably be late this year.

In addition, he said the specifics of what will happen to existing Cassidy Lake employees have not been worked out. However, he said many corrections employees don't like the atmosphere or long hours created by such a camp.

Cassidy Lake, which essentially has a campus-like atmosphere enclosed by a tall chain-link fence with concertina wire, will undergo a complete change as far as the occupants are concerned.

Inmates will be subjected to intense discipline, supervision, and physical demands from the time they wake up at 5 a.m. for calisthenics to the time they go to bed at 10 p.m.

"Most of the kids are used to getting in at 5 a.m., not getting up at 5 a.m.," Hengesh said.

As in a boot-camp atmosphere, inspections are routine, courtesy is expected, (yes sir or yes ma'am), there are strict rules to follow that govern virtually everything from housekeeping to meals, and the daily routine is exhausting. There are corrections personnel who look and sound like demanding drill sergeants. And the probationers wear uniforms.

After an initial three-week break-in and evaluation period (which includes medical testing to see how much physical activity each participant can endure) the probationers go into the community on work-program details during much of the day to tackle heavy physical work that "nobody else wants to do," Hengesh said. Communities are charged $2.50 per person per day.

When they return in the late afternoon, they begin their physical training, which includes calisthenics and aerobic conditioning. In the evening they have two hours of classes and counseling on subjects ranging from substance abuse, to family and parenting skills, to resume writing.

"We want to show them they can work hard for 10 or 12 hours and then go to school at night," Curtis said.

"Those are the skills that will be necessary to work themselves out of the situations they came from. Nothing less than their best is accepted. But most of them don't know what their best effort is."

Certain types of criminals, such as murderers, arsonists, and those convicted of sex crimes, are automatically excluded.

Hengesh admitted that no reliable statistics exist to determine how well the program keeps the probationers from becoming repeat offenders. However, he said about 64 percent of the volunteers eventually finish the program and that responses from parents, probation officers, and others has been overwhelmingly positive. The other 36 percent are dismissed for a variety of reasons.

However, Curtis said the state spends an average of $22,000 each year for each youthful offender it puts in jail. On the other hand, it costs about $6,600 for each boot-camper. While the per capita cost is higher, the state hopes the savings will be realized by keeping the young offenders out of lengthy jail sentences.

The state plans to initiate an intensive 120-day after care program to

Program Gives Area Youths Place to Call For Safe Ride Home

A 1989 Chelsea High school graduate will receive an award later this month from the American Red Cross for his role in creating a Safe Rides program for Chelsea and Dexter-area youths.

After nearly two years of preparation, Dennis Fowler finally got the program off the ground last year. The idea is to provide a place for area youths to call for a ride home if they've had too much to drink or their companion-driver isn't capable of driving. It's completely confidential. Kids are not turned into their parents, police, school officials or anyone else.

Two years ago, Fowler wanted to start the program under the auspices of the Chelsea High school Students Against Driving Drunk chapter. However, he says the Board of Education was leery of liability problems and refused to allow the schools to sponsor the program. He has been allowed, however, to advertise the program at Chelsea High school on a very limited basis.

However, Fowler says, Dexter schools have given him far more leeway to advertise it there.

Fowler decided that even though the Chelsea schools wouldn't sponsor it, he would try to make the program work and modeled it after the national Safe Rides program started in Darien, Conn. in 1982. It took him two years to find volunteers, as well as a place to house the program.

The program is headquartered at Palmer Ford-Mercury Used Car Lot from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. on Friday and Saturday nights. Owner George Palmer donates the space, as well as a rental car.

"I went around asking anyone I could if they would help," Fowler said.

"Palmer was the only dealer who would listen. A couple other dealers laughed at me. George impressed me. Thanks to him, we don't have many operating expenses."

The program has not been used as much as Fowler would like. They've never had more than one call per week-end and several week-ends have gone by with no calls.

"I think (the kids) are afraid we're going to turn them in to their parents or the police," Fowler said.

"It takes a while before they trust us."

Fowler also said a lack of publicity has hurt the effort. However, he says other areas that have started a program have gone for months without even a single call.

"Compared to other places, we're doing pretty well," he says.

"Word of mouth is the best advertising for this kind of program, but it also hurts in a way because no one wants you to know they used the service."

A typical caller is a teenager who's been at a party and had too much to drink. However, there have been calls from babysitters who have discovered the people who hired them came home drunk. Insurance reasons won't allow them to help out drunk adults.

The telephone is generally staffed by one adult volunteer and two or three students volunteers. Adult volunteers include Warren McArthur, Diane Fowler, Dave Dascola, Dale Richardson, Laura Scriven, and Janet Burby. Student volunteers include Debby Webb, Tammy and Tiffany Browning, Sue Thompson, Lee Boyer, Scott Morrison, Grace Harden, Beth Kimball, Tim Vanderpool, Steve Kuhl, Tom Weeks, Stacy Carruthers, Mark Johanson, Ted Rider, and Fowler, who is there virtually every week-end.

The group is sponsored by the American Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, who help with insurance, and Palmer Ford-Mercury. Fowler says they could use more funding, mostly for advertising, and more volunteer help.

The Safe Rides number is 475-1800.

Area Man Charged In Attempted Rape

A Pleasant Lake Rd. man has been charged with criminal sexual conduct in connection with an incident involving an 88-year-old resident of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home on Jan. 23.

According to Chelsea police, the 29-year-old man entered the home between 10:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. to pick up his girlfriend, a home employee. The man, police said, had been drinking.

The man entered the elderly woman's room on the second floor of the home. She had just taken a sleeping pill. The man apparently tried to have sex with the woman, but was unsuccessful.

The woman reported the incident to the nursing staff. Police said several witnesses reported seeing the man in the home at the time of the incident.

Police said the man has at least one previous rape conviction.

The man has also been charged with breaking and entering with the intention of committing a felony. That occurred, police said, when he opened the woman's door.

ROBIN WRIGHT, left, was promoted to captain of the Chelsea Police Department Reserve Unit effective March 1. Police Chief Lenard McDougall recently pinned the new badge on Wright.

Local Officials Have Little To Say About Property Assessments

If you're upset about your new property tax assessments, you're not alone.

Assessments rose all over Washtenaw county and throughout most of the state.

In many cases, though, your assessor is probably just as unhappy about the rise as you are.

"Somebody has got to do something about it," said Sylvan Township Supervisor and Assessor Don Schoenberg.

"More and more I'm hearing from old people that they're being taxed out of their homes, and it's true. Unfortunately, there's nothing in the code that says I can allow for age. The rise this year is one of the highest I've seen since I've been here."

Schoenberg said assessment appeals in Sylvan township were up about 10 percent from last year, although there were fewer than he expected.

As far as residential assessments go, Sharon township just south of Chelsea was the hardest hit area of Washtenaw county. There the average rise was 22 percent.

Lima township residents were the second hardest hit in the Chelsea-Dexter area, and the third hardest hit in the county, with an average rise of 18.6 percent. Dexter township residents' assessments rose an average of 16.2 percent. Lyndon's residential assessments were up 13.7 percent, and Sylvan township's assessments rose 15.8 percent.

The starting point for the determination of residential (and others as well) assessments is a Sales Ratio Report issued by the county. Each assessor is given a computer printout of sales in the township over the last two years.

The township is essentially ordered to come up with a certain amount of additional total assessed value based on data from the sales report.

From there, the assessor has to sort those sales out by house classifications. Each house is rated according to its size, architecture, and other factors.

Then sales prices in each classification are compared to the most recent assessed values. For example, if there were 10 sales of homes in the "C" category, the 10 sales prices would be added together and divided in half to reach the ideal assessed value, which is supposed to be half of market value. Then the most recent assessed values are added together. The two numbers are compared to figure out how much the most recent assessed values fall short of half the actual market values. That difference is expressed as a percentage and is applied to most homes in the "C" category. So a sale of just a small fraction of the homes in any particular class can have a big effect on every other home in the class. And assessed values in each class of home will rise by different percentages.

In Sylvan township and others, homes are classified by type as well as location. That prevents, for example, sales at Cavanaugh Lake, the most explosive area in the township in Three Chelsea area family physicians were to occupy a new clinic housed on N. Territorial Rd., west of Dexter-Pinckney Rd. The three, Doctors Jerry Waldyke, M.D., Marguerite Shearer, M.D., and Michael Smith, M.D., had set April 1 as the target date for occupation of the Center. The two-story facility, still under construction, was to house four offices, 18 examining rooms, including minor surgery and x-ray facilities in the upper level. The lower level was to have a dental suite, a medical suite with one office, five examining rooms, two ophthalmology rooms and a laboratory.

The Chelsea High school Forensics team ran off with the championship title for the fourth consecutive year Saturday when the team attended the Brighton Invitational Tournament. The Forensics team posted 122 points to gain the title. Fifty-five CHS students attended the tournament, five of whom were awarded individual trophies.

A total of 325 Chelsea-area bowlers entered the week-long, Bowling for Burns Tournament for the benefit of the Institute for Burns Medicine in Ann Arbor. In the Men's High series Richard Hoeft took first place with handicap a score of 748. Andy Fletcher turned in a score of 733 to take second place.

Chelsea High school's choir, directed by Paul Schultz, the school's vocal music director, was given an over-all rating of II at the District Festival held at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. The II rating for the Chelsea singers was a good showing, it was pointed out, considering the fact that it was their first appearance in a festival—in fact, the first time in a number of years that a Chelsea school choir had participated.

Though descriptions varied, it was certain some kind of unidentified objects were sighted in the Dexter area again Sunday night between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Dexter Police Officer Robert Hunawill heard the report to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and rushed to the Frank Mannor residence near the end of McGinnis Rd. Since he had previously viewed the strange objects last week, Hunawill stopped by and picked-up his wife so she could also see them for herself. Hunawill described the objects as having red, white and blue lights, no motor noise, having an appearance of coral rock and one was either on the ground in the marsh near the Mannor home or hovering just above it. Approximately 14 persons reported to police having seen the strange objects.

Four Chelsea Future Farmers of America had been named to receive the State Farmer Degree which would be conferred at the 38th Annual FFA State Convention at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Prosecuting Attorney Edmond F. DeVine was repeating warnings he had given during the past, that contests and drawings for prizes even when no purchase was required, were considered lotteries and were illegal, according to his interpretation of the laws of the state. Police agencies of Washtenaw county were ordered during the past week to stop one nationally sponsored prize contest and other contests were reportedly being investigated.

A total of 482 people attended Washtenaw County's first dairy banquet which took place at Saline High school. Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the county's "dairy princess." Janet Wheeler of Dexter was awarded a prize of $25 and became eligible to enter the state contest in June. Nancy Court of Ann Arbor, was runner-up and received a prize of $15.

Mrs. George Blalock of Sylvan Road, sustained multiple bruises in addition to a deep gash on her forehead when the pick-up truck she was driving turned over after striking a patch of ice on Chelsea-Manchester road. The accident occurred as Mrs. Blalock was on her way to work at the Methodist home. Mrs. Blalock's truck was badly damaged in the mishap.

More Hood Ornaments Stolen

Two more hood ornaments were stolen last week by thieves that seem to prefer the rams on Dodge Ram pick-up trucks.

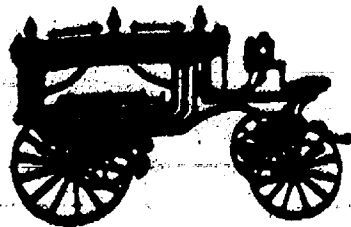

Police said someone took an ornament off a truck at 250 Wilkinson St. on Thursday, March 15. On Wednesday, March 14 a Waterloo Rd. resident had the ram ripped off his truck while it was parked next to Heydlauff's between 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Study Shows Increased Deaths With Higher Speed Limits

A University of Michigan Transportation Research Institute study released recently reported a significant increase in fatalities and injuries following posting higher speed limits from 55 miles per hour to 65 mph on rural interstate and rural non-interstate highways.

Alexander C. Wagenaar, Ph.D., author of the study, said results of time-series analyses (January, 1978 through December, 1988) revealed the number of deaths on freeways with the 65 mph speed limit increased 19.2 percent.

In addition, the study reported a 39.8 percent increase in serious accident related injuries and a 25.4 percent increase in moderate injuries on road segments with the 65 mph limit. The number of minor injuries did not change significantly; however, the number of vehicles involved in property-damage-only crashes increased 16.1 percent after the speed limit was increased.

The results of the study reflect increased morbidity, mortality and property damage attributable to the policy of raising the speed limit for two years. The increases began immediately after the signs for the higher speed limit were posted and, with notable exception of fatalities on limited-access highways that remained at 55 mph, the increases were found only on those specific road segments where the posted speed limit was changed.

The speed limit study also reported findings did not support the argument that the 65-mph limit has little effect on safety since 65 mph is closer to the design speed of freeways than 55 mph.

The report stated that available data did not permit conclusive analyses of the intervening role of speed variance in the state, but findings of substantially increased injuries and non-injury crashes following the higher limit reduce the plausibility of arguing, on the basis of safety, in favor of closing the gap between design speed and the posted limit by increasing the posted limit.

The Office of Highway Safety Planning, Department of State Police, which sponsored the study, factored in the increased number of miles being driven in Michigan and reported the death rate for fatal traffic crashes remained at 2.2 persons per hundred million miles traveled despite the increase in speed.

The national rate is 2.3 per hundred million miles traveled.

Major Lawrence E. Miller of the Uniform Services Bureau attributed the lower death rate to speed and safety belt enforcement, increased use of co-operative law enforcement programs and airspeed timing.

He encouraged the increased use of technology to aid law enforcement agencies in speed control, primary enforcement of the safety belt violations and a ban on "fuzzbusters."

An immediate response to the report came from the Michigan Association of Professional Insurance Agents by calling for a reduction in the speed limit and calling upon Ford and General Motors to join Chrysler in making driver side air bags standard equipment for all new automobiles.

The agents called for a reduction in the speed limit to 60 mph and criticized a recent decision by the Department of Transportation to expand an additional 100 miles of highway from 55 to 65 mph.

"We've got a law on the books that's killing people and our government is embracing it with open arms," said Gary Mitchell, spokesman for PIA.

Inspection of Highway Signs Turns Up Five With Faults

An inspection of the Department of Transportation's 1,200 cantilever signs on state highways has turned up only five signs which had to be removed because they were mechanically faulty, the department reported to the House Transportation Committee.

The inspection of the signs, which follows a Feb. 16 incident in which a driver was killed when a sign broke loose and fell onto her car, is expected to be completed within the next two days, William MacCreary, chief engineer for the department, said.

Five of the signs inspected were found to have faulty mechanics, including broken bolts, and were removed, he said.

"My first concern is with the public safety of our system. We intend to have no defective signs," MacCreary said. "Those signs were taken down immediately."

Although all the cantilever signs were inspected between 1983 and 1985 and determined to be sound, MacCreary said an analysis of the defective portions found during the inspections should shed light on the problem.

"We don't feel it's proper to answer that question (of what caused the defects) until we get an answer back from the analysis," MacCreary said.

The state, he added, will implement an inspection program to prevent such an incident occurring again.

"I really do want to stress we are doing everything possible to prevent this from happening again. We will have a continuing inspection program going," he said.

While MacCreary said the signs are installed by contractors, a variety of firms work with the state and there was no one firm which had worked on all the defective signs. Therefore, a problem could not be traced back to one individual company.

"They've been up there for a number of years. We could not in fact go back to the contractor in this case," he said, adding the state would be liable for the defects.

To mine the uranium needed to provide only one house with nuclear electricity, eight tons of dirt must be moved, leaving a residue of 1/3 of a ton of uranium mill tailings.

Most American households waste half the energy they consume, with the average home guzzling 1,233 gallons of oil a year at a cost of $1,123.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Progress is wonderful. Clem Webster told the fellers Saturday night at the country store, and it is surprising. The world might of struggled along without dancing artificial potted plants, and you got to wonder whether we were ready for sweat as art, Clem said, but you know electronic house arrest and cars that won't start if their drivers are drunk hit us right where we live.

Clem reminded that the plants showed up as gag gifts at Christmas. They would wiggle when music was played close to em. Their dance ended quick and they have gone the way of the Rubic cube, which could be just as well. The last report on artist Laurie Palmer's exhibit of sweaty T shirts in the Illinois State Museum was that folks still were trying to figure how it was different from sweaty T shirts in the bathroom hamper.

But with our prisons packed with everything from defrocked TV preachers to serial killers the idea of non-violent crooks serving time, at home at their own expense could be one that's come, Clem said. It is being tried in a number of states, and it is gitting high marks. Prisoners wear homing devices to be sure they stay where they're told, and if they break the rules they go back to the prisons with walls and guards.

Clem had a clipping that said North Carolina is the first to hook a breath checker to the car ignition. It is being used to give drunk drivers a chance to go back on the road. The convicted drunk drivers have to buy the gadgets and use em to git their license back. The computer even has a breath code that won't let somebody else start the car for the driver. Clem said the next thing to come along might be a car that calls the police if the driver stops at a bar.

Clem's reports got the fellers talking about computers taking over everything, and not doing all that good a job of some things. Bug Hookum had saw where Rhode Island used a computer to do a study of traffic accidents in the state. The electronic wizard found that the highest risk was in a snowstorm on a freeway between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. Fridays, and the safest driver in the state was a 70 year old woman crossing a rural road on a garden tractor in broad daylight. Now that Rhode Island has the answers, Bug said, all it's got to do is rework the questions.

On the positive side, Zeke Grubb had saw where the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services had done a computer study of Medicare patients that got second opinions from surgeons and found that in one of ever four cases the second disagreed with the first. This said elderly Americans are gitting operations they don't need, Zeke said, and it got a strong no comment stand from the American Medical Association that usual is more than glad to share its opinions on everthing.

As for opinions, Ed Doolittle put the stopper in the jug with his on the Infernal Revenue Service. Ever year at this time, Ed said, the IRS strikes fear in the hearts of Americans that know they are presumed guilty until they prove their innocence to the satisfaction of the IRS. If that ain't a bad enough corruption of the American system of justice, Ed went on, the latest word is that in full 48 percent of the time what the IRS tells taxpayers to do is the wrong thing to do.

It's downright scary, Ed said, to head for the April deadline knowing the IRS has give taxpayers a new meaning of damed if you do and damed if you don't.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Woman's Club Hears Program on Basket Weaving

Woman's Club of Chelsea met at the McKune Memorial Library Tuesday, March 13. The program on Basket Weaving was presented by Earlene Kennitz, Kennitz, a Chelsea resident, has been weaving baskets for several years and also teaches basket weaving. She demonstrated different stages in the weaving process and described various materials, methods and designs.

Kennitz displayed beautiful examples of baskets she has made. Members enjoyed learning of many different sizes, shapes and uses for the baskets, some of which were crafted for a specific purpose, such as an egg basket, feather basket, Shaker cheese basket, jelly basket, to mention only a few.

At a brief business meeting following the program, 21 members and one guest were present. Jean Schmidt and Cheryl Schoenberg were hostesses for refreshments using a St. Patrick's Day theme.

Linda Cole, program chairperson, announced that because of a schedule conflict the next meeting will be changed to Monday, March 26.

was held Monday, March 12, with 11 members attending. Geraldine Rushing was elected to membership and initiated at this meeting.

VFW National Home chairman Bessie Sharp explained guidelines for visiting cottages at the National Home, stating there is a population of 100 and more visitors are expected to register and see what the VFW posts and auxiliaries sponsor.

Americanism chairman Eulahlee Packard reported on presentation of 12 flags at Beach school on Feb. 21; also on the Ladies Auxiliaries of the Veteran of Foreign Wars of Michigan to be hosting a unique program at the State Capitol in Lansing on Wednesday, March 28.

Virginia Boyer, community service chairman reported on the sale of "Just Say No" pins on drug and alcohol abuse, proceeds of $50 was allotted to the Chelsea Police Department, for their use in presenting education programs locally on drug abuse.

Lucy Platt, hospital chairman, reported a party is planned for March 30, at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital. As cancer chairman she also reported on ideas to raise funds for the cancer program and work already done in the department. A special games program is planned locally for April 21, with proceeds going to the cancer program for aid and research.

Camp chairman Joan Craft reported the camp sessions will be for one week, July 1 to Aug. 12, children aged 7 to 12, cost $90 per week.

Twenty-five dollars was allowed to the Diabetes Association in memory of a post comrade.

The charter was draped for the next 30 days in memory of Martha Hill, a past department president, who passed away in February.

Election of District delegates for 1990 and 1991 was held. The following were elected as delegates: Eulahlee Packard, Lucy Platt, Bessie Sharp, Gertrude O'Dell, Eleanor Farley and Virginia Boyer; alternate delegates are Dorothy Lentz, Bertha White, Lynette Bowen, Joan Craft, Lorraine Fulcher, and Geraldine Rushing.

The next meeting will be April 9. Election of officers will take place at this time.

Lima Extension Homemakers Study Co-Dependency Topic

Sunshine, muddy roads and 70° temperatures were a pleasant treat to the 12 Lima Extension Homemakers who ventured out to Donna Bradbury's March 14. Missed by all was the co-hostess, Lois Bradbury, who had taken ill.

Busy fingers rustling tissue paper, were making flowers for the Tri-County "Workshop on the Move," as they listened to the lesson taught by Jane Schairer and Margaret Sias. Co-Dependency is not what County Extension groups expected to learn about on Feb. 22, when attending a lesson titled "Are We Women Who Make a Difference?" After considerable more study our researchers found that co-dependency is the topic today for TV, bookstores, and newspapers! Dictionaries have yet to define it!

All members stood, enjoying a special blessing given by the hostess for the day, before feasting on a pot-luck luncheon buffet with a look of pre-planning of foods.

The monthly business meeting covered in more detail the handout copied and highlighted by Mary Ann Burgess. Members were encouraged to send reservations and money to the County Extension treasurer long before the dates printed on the handout! Committee members highlighted Lima Extension's part in these oncoming events. Much of the busy work is being handled by new member Barb Wing.

Thursday, April 19, will be Guest Night at Lima Town Hall; 6:30, pot-luck. Guest speaker will be Dale Lesser with his talk and slides of his Agricultural Tour of five European countries. Members were asked to please RSVP to two of the evening hostesses: Barb Wing or Mary Ann Burgess.

Chelsea Garden Club Plans First Meeting for Year

Chelsea Facility Accredited By American College of Radiology

Chelsea Community Hospital's mammography facility has been accredited by the American College of Radiology (ACR).

The facility has met the necessary requirements, which include a peer review evaluation of the facility's staff qualifications, equipment, quality control and quality assurance programs, image quality and breast dose. The accreditation must be renewed every three years.

More than 1,000 facilities have been accredited nation-wide.

This program was started in response to two major concerns expressed by radiologists, other national medical organizations, and the public: (1) that qualified personnel perform and interpret mammograms and (2) that dedicated mammographic equipment be used to ensure that women receive optimum mammographic examinations with the lowest possible risk.

One in 10 women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Early detection is the key to survival. Mammography done in conjunction with breast physical examinations provides the most accurate diagnosis of early breast cancer.

The American College of Radiology, the American Cancer Society, the American Medical Association, and nine other major medical organizations, recommend the following guidelines for women without symptoms:

—Between ages 40-49, a mammogram should be done every 1-2 years, a physical breast exam every year.

—After age 50, a mammogram and physical breast exam should be done every year.

Tups. Hire Attorney For Landfill Problems

Sylvan, Lyndon, Dexter, and Lima townships have joined together and hired a Farmington Hills legal firm to help them in their dealings with the village about the landfill.

The village has asked the townships to help defray expenses of more than $500,000 related to the closing of the old landfill. The village assigned each township a share of the cost based on records of landfill use by each township's residents.

Sylvan Township Supervisor Don Schoenberg said his township is concerned most about making sure the split of costs is accurate.

"If it's accurate, I'm sure we'll pay it," Schoenberg said.

He said the township does not want the matter to go to court and "run the good working relationship we have with the village." Sylvan township's share is about $77,000.

If Sylvan's share is accurate, Schoenberg said, he doesn't know how the township will pay it. If payments can't be spread out over a few years, the township might be forced to forego road repairs for a couple of years, float a bond issue, or choose some other undesirable alternative, he said.

Schoenberg said he's also concerned about the long-term implications of the landfill clean-up of groundwater contamination ordered by the Department of Natural Resources.

"That could go on for a long, long time," he said.

Chelsea State Bank Elects 2 New Directors

John K. Mann and Scott S. Tanner were elected to the Board of Directors of the Chelsea State Bank at its annual shareholders meeting on March 13.

Paul E. Mann, who has been a member of the Board of Directors since 1952, retired as an officer and director under the bank's mandatory retirement policy. However, he plans to maintain an office in the bank and will be available on a part-time basis in an advisory capacity. Mann was president of the bank from 1962 until 1985 when Paul G. Schaible, Jr., was elected president and chief executive officer with Mann retaining his position as chairman.

John K. Mann joined the Chelsea State Bank in February, 1988 as vice-president. He had been a commercial loan officer at National Bank of Detroit since 1983 and was an assistant vice-president when he left to join the Chelsea State Bank. He is a graduate of Albion College with a BA degree and has an MBA degree from the Duke University Business School.

Scott S. Tanner has been with Chelsea State Bank since 1979 and has been its vice-president and cashier since 1985. He joined the bank as its assistant vice-president and auditor, coming from the Ypsilanti Savings Bank where he had been employed since 1967. He has a BA degree from Michigan State University.

Schaible also announced that all other officers were re-elected to their present positions.

Earlier School Day Prompts Much Discussion at Meeting

Next year's earlier school day was one of the focus points of Monday's meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education.

Parents of elementary school children for the most part spoke against the 20-minute change during the audience participation portion of the meeting.

In other board business, Chelsea residents Warren and Judy McArthur were recognized for making their business telephone available during the evening for a sixth grade homework hotline. All sixth grade homework assignments are recorded on an answering machine tape and

Cassidy Lake will eventually house up to 360 boot-campers. About 200 of them will be there for the break-in period, after which they will be shipped to another facility. About 80 will complete the whole program there, and another 80 will be shipped back from other facilities for their final few weeks. About 80 will be available for local work details.

Prisoners who are now sent to Cassidy Lake will be put in other institutions around the state. However, nearby Camp Waterloo apparently will not be one of them as officials said prisoners are already sleeping on the gym floor due to limited space.

Property Assessments

terms of prices, from affecting assessments in the Sorensen Subdivision on the western edge of the village.

Village property is classified differently from rural property. Each class of home will rise by a different percentage.

For example, assessments at Cavanaugh Lake rose an average of 18 percent, while homes in the B/C class in rural Sylvan township rose an average of 11 percent. Assessments of B/C houses in the village rose an average of 10 percent.

"I could have just multiplied everybody's assessment by 15 percent, but I don't feel that approach is justified by sales," Schoenberg said.

Area farmers also received a jolt this year. Assessed values rose 11.7 percent in Sylvan township, 9.3 percent in Sharon township, 13 percent in Lima township, and 8.3 percent in Dexter township. Values in Lyndon township rose by just 2.9 percent.

It should be noted that land that is zoned agricultural is not necessarily assessed as agricultural property. Many township homes outside the village are on agriculturally zoned land.

Also, some land that is being farmed is put into a "developmental" category if it is prime land for being developed. Otherwise, developers who pay huge prices for farmland could cause agricultural assessed values to skyrocket.

It should also be noted that the Headlee Amendment, which keeps tax rates from rising more than inflation, does not apply to individual assessments. That only comes into play when the taxing authorities set their millage rates.

Americans use approximately a billion gallons of motor oil every year and 350 million gallons of it end up in the environment. It is estimated that 40% of the pollution in American waterways is from used crankcase oil—about 2.1 million tons of it finds its way into our rivers and streams every year.

Chelsea Cribbage Tournney Ends Second Round

Chelsea Cribbage Tournament finished its second week of play with Everett Goss of Jackson still in the lead.

Dan Williams and Duane Boyer of Chelsea took over the fourth and fifth spots.

The biggest improvement was made by Rick Loomes, who jumped from 23rd to sixth place.

Williams also had a rare "28" hand, the odds of which are 1 in 11,398.

After the Winter . . . God Sends the Spring

Springtime is a season of HOPE and JOY and CHEER,
There's beauty all around us to see and touch and hear . . .
So, no matter how downhearted and discouraged we may be,
New Hope is born when we behold leaves budding on a tree . . .
Or when we see a timid flower push through the frozen sod
And open wide in glad surprise its petaled eyes to God . . .
For this is just God saying—
"Lift up your eyes to Me,
And the bleakness of your spirit,
like the budding springtime tree,
Will lose its wintry darkness and your heavy heart will sing"—
For God never sends THE WINTER without the JOY OF SPRING.

MCRC 24th Annual Meet Slated March 27

The 24th annual meeting of the Mill Creek Research Council is being planned for March 27 at 8 p.m. at the Lima Town Hall at Lima Center.

Evening activities will include the usual business meeting, election of a board of directors, and a review of recent happenings and potential problems ahead.

Board members have continued to attend most Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority meetings.

Elected to serve on the board on March 28, 1989 were the following persons: Charles Arnold, Dave Bacon, William Chandler, Barbara Eby, Wally Fusler, Janet McCalla, Betty Messman, Gerald Myers, Charles Powers, Margaret Sias, Arlys Wiseman, and Linda White.

William Chandler has served as treasurer of the MCRC since its organization during the spring of 1965 as a local response to the proposed U. S. Army Engineers Mill Creek Reservoir project. Local lands threatened by this proposal stretched east and west from near the new Chrysler Proving Grounds to beyond Baker Rd. and north and south from Island Lake Rd., to south of Scio Church Rd.

George Frisinger of Chelsea, who died December 5, 1989, was the MCRC's first chairman. George and wife, Eloise, very generously hosted the final steps of several tours of the proposed reservoir site.

The first tour was held in July of 1965 with Charlie Powers serving as tour guide. Among those present that day were Michigan Congressman, Wes Vivian, and State legislators, Gil Bursley, Tom Sharpe, and Charles Gray and many members of the County Board of Supervisors. After they left the bus, many local residents waiting at Frisinger's had an opportunity to talk with the special bus tour guests.

Mrs. Robert Koch (Betty Kay) of Scio Church Rd., who also died in 1989, was a MCRC board member for several years.

Without the involvement of Research Council members, such as Frisinger and Koch, the MCRC, dependent solely on volunteer efforts, would not be soon starting into its 25th year.

Dues are again payable to William Chandler, $10 for former members; $12 for first timers. New members are welcome.

According to Environmental Hazards Management, it has been estimated that in an average city of 100,000 residents, 3.75 tons of toilet bowl cleaner, 13.75 tons of liquid household cleaners, and 3.44 tons of motor oil are discharged into city drains each month.

Maple Sugar Festival Slated This Week-end

A Maple Sugar Festival will be held this Saturday and Sunday at the Gerald E. Eddy Geology Center in the Waterloo Recreation Area.

The festival will include several activities each day and lasts 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Each day a movie will be shown featuring an old farmer who philosophizes about the old ways of making maple syrup.

A history of maple sugaring will also be available showing how Native Americans and pioneers tapped, collected, and processed sap.

An evaporator that can easily be made at home will be on display. It takes between 40 and 60 gallons of sap to produce one gallon of syrup.

Finally, a naturalist will lead a walk along the Lowland Woods Trail where maple trees are tapped and sap is being collected.

Maple syrup and candy will be available for purchase at the center.

The Festival will take place on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

There is no admission charge.

For further information call the center at 475-3710.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Blacklisting the Grocery List

By Philip C. Clarke

The latest silliness from the political left comes in the form of a grocery list. Published by the Council on Economic Priorities, it's an annual guide entitled Shopping for A Better World. Subtitled A Quick and Easy Guide To Socially Responsible Supermarket Shopping, the guide rates companies whose products appear on grocery shelves according to their politics. The companies are judged by their charitable contributions and community involvement.

While some elements of the hand-book seem reasonable, most border on the bizarre. For example, all companies with Pentagon contracts are no-no's.

In the preface to their ratings, the Council on Economic Priorities, or CEP, hints at where it is coming from on this issue. "CEP and two prominent Soviet institutes will jointly examine the economic benefits (that) arms control agreements may bring." And listen to the advice the CEP offers consumers on how to achieve these benefits: "Let your (Congressional) representative know that progress should quickly be made towards agreements to reduce strategic nuclear and conventional weapons."

This disdain for defense is reflected most clearly when the CEP presents its so-called America's Corporate Conscience awards each year. The Dupont Co. and Morton Thiokol both received dishonorable mentions from the CEP.

Support for, use of or any constructive involvement with nuclear power are taboo. Shopping for A Better World also rates companies on such divisive issues as whether they have contracts with South Africa. While most Americans agree that apartheid, South Africa's radically-discriminating system is repugnant, two widely divergent views exist on how best to discourage the practice. A number of U. S. companies have felt obliged to pull out of South Africa. But there is evidence that such divestment, as it's called, hurts more than helps the black population by increasing unemployment and decreasing job opportunities. Nonetheless, the CEP uses divestment as a key indicator of corporate responsibility.

Among activists supporting the work of the CEP are representatives of "Economists Against the Arms

Margaret O'Connor Clarifies Record About Campaign Funds

A recent Gongwer News Service Report, stating State Representative Margaret O'Connor (R-Lodi Twp.) was the only legislator who had no leftover campaign money from the 1988 election, was misleading, said O'Connor today.

The Gongwer report, based on information received from Common Cause in Michigan, said all 110 members of the House of Representatives had an average of $14,200 in their campaign funds left from the 1988 election.

Common Cause is supporting legislation requiring candidate committees to "zero-out" their accounts after an election.

"My account has always been clear, because I do not accept any campaign contributions for election," said O'Connor. "The report should have said I was the only legislator to refuse campaign money in 1988."

Race" and "Nuclear Free America." Another political name on the CEP roster is retired Rear Admiral Gene LaRocque. LaRocque heads the Center for Defense Information, one of the most strident critics of Pentagon policies on Capitol Hill.

Shopping for A Better World also enjoys praise from such major media as Time and Newsweek magazines and the NBC Today Show. "A moral report card" is how Newsweek described Shopping for A Better World. "Consumers have become increasingly aggressive in taking corporations to task for misbehavior and irresponsibility," noted Time. "I like this guide," anchorman Bryant Gumbel said on NBC's Today show. Gumbel's former partner on the Today show, Jane Pauley, was among the presenters of CEP's annual Corporate Conscience Awards. Dr. Ruth Westheimer and Actress Joanne Woodward also did the honors in presenting awards.

The household products on supermarket shelves contain more than 55,000 chemicals and little testing has been done to assess their toxicity individually or in combination. Hazardous wastes often found in the home include paints and paint thinners, car batteries, oven and drain cleaners, mothballs, floor and furniture polish, brake or transmission fluid, antifreeze, rug and upholstery cleaners, pesticides, and furniture strippers. Even toilet cleaning products are considered hazardous.

Now, in our free country there's nothing wrong with people expressing their political and ideological likes and dislikes. And economic boycotts certainly are nothing new. But there are elements in the American character called fairness and common sense. We can only imagine the howls of outrage from the liberal community should conservatives call for the "blacklisting" of companies doing business with, say, the Soviet Union or Communist China.

The Chelsea Standard

Section 2

Chelsea, Michigan, Wednesday, March 21, 1990

Pages 9-22

DR. WILLIAM HAWKS is making his sixth trip to the Kingdom of Nepal this month to help fight vitamin A deficiencies among children, one of the leading causes of blindness in the country.

Chelsea Ophthalmologist Making Trip To Fight Blindness in Nepal

Chelsea ophthalmologist Dr. William Hawks is making his sixth trip to Nepal this month in his continuing effort to battle blindness in a country whose blindness rate is 20 times that of the United States.

Hawks will be accompanied by Dr. Allan Sugar as part of the University of Michigan's Vitamin A Child Survival Program. Hawks is also on the clinical faculty at U-M.

On past trips, Hawks has studied and treated blindness caused by cataracts. He has personally examined more than 6,700 people. This time he'll be spreading the word about vitamin A, the lack of which is a major cause of blindness.

Hawks wants to help establish a public information program about the value of nutrition, try to educate mothers about nutrition and vitamin A supplementation, and help those already blinded to deal with their blindness. The latter, in particular, is a major problem as there are virtually no services or schools offered for the blind. A blind person often becomes a major burden on his family, which is often having a hard enough time under the best of conditions.

"Boys seem to be affected about twice as much as girls," Hawks says.

"That's because the boys get all the meat, and the girls get all the leftovers, which is the green, leafy vegetables that contain vitamin A."

Hawks estimates that as many as two percent of the more than six million children in the country have vitamin A deficiencies and could be well on their way to a lifetime of blindness. The deficiency causes a scarring of the cornea, which cannot be treated except by corneal replacement.

Much of the two-week trip will be dedicated to supporting Nepal's ophthalmological effort, including setting up labs, developing an eye bank system, and training surgeons. That has been a focus on all of his trips.

"To me the thrill is witnessing the development of an eyecare system that used to be non-existent," Hawks said.

"It's a pleasure to watch an old friend develop from a general doctor to an ophthalmologic surgeon. In many ways, going back is a visit with old friends."

Hawks made his first trip to the kingdom northeast of India in 1981 and the trip gets easier as Nepal develops. He says in 1981 the capital city of Katmandu had electricity for just five hours a day, but now electricity is available 24 hours. Airplanes could not take off or land after dark. In addition, there was only one way to get to Katmandu, but now there are at least a dozen. He used to sleep in a sleeping bag on a river bank but now stays in a small, clean hotel. He also travels by Jeep, which takes the place of long hikes between mountain villages.

It's likely he'll continue to make these trips every year or two.

"My interest in blindness in Nepal comes partly from the fact that the country is so beautiful to see and at the same time so dangerous to travel in," Hawks says.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

'Pieces Are There' for Bulldogs To Defend SEC Baseball Title

Chelsea Bulldog baseball team will rely on strong pitching, a solid defense, and good team speed to help them compete for their second consecutive Southeastern Conference championship this spring.

"I think we have the pieces for a pretty good team, but it may take us to the middle of the season before they're all together," said Bulldog coach Wayne Welton.

"What remains to be seen about this team is if they can do the little things well, like moving up the runners. If they can do the little things, we should be very competitive."

Welton, as usual, should have a solid pitching staff led by seniors Doug Wingrove and Kyle Plank, and junior Rob Clem. Wingrove and Clem accounted for 14 of the Bulldogs' 24 victories last season. All three are right-handers.

"They could be as good a threesome as we've had here in a long time," Welton said.

"Right now I don't know the order they'll pitch in. I'm waiting for one of them to step to the forefront."

Welton also has six more boys he can call on in a pinch, including sophomores Ben Hurst, Jake Rindle, and Adam Taylor, juniors Jeremy Stephens and Craig Ferry and senior Shawn Castleberry.

Pitching depth will be even more important this year as the state has instituted a rule in which boys can pitch no more than 30 outs in a three-day period.

Welton hopes that Taylor will take over as starting catcher. Senior captain Steve Emmert and junior Tucker Steele may also see time behind the plate.

Defensively, the Bulldogs should be strong up the middle. Junior Jude Quilter returns at second base and junior Kerry Plank returns at shortstop. Hurst, one of the quickest Bulldogs, is the likely centerfielder.

Wingrove is the back-up at short when he isn't pitching or starting at third base.

Ferry and Stephens can play third base as well.

Kyle Plank will play first base when he isn't pitching. Ferry, Castleberry, and Rindle can substitute.

Emmert is the likely left fielder, and will be backed up by Clem and Steele.

Senior Kelly Beard can play virtually any infield position as well as left and right field.

Junior Rick Westcott is also a utility player.

On offense, the Bulldogs don't have power hitters in the mold of Junior Morseau and Jeff Prentice last year. However, they could end up scoring just as many runs. There's plenty of speed and most of the hitters are capable of hitting to the gaps, Welton said.

Quilter, who set a school record with 33 steals, will lead off. Welton said he wouldn't be surprised to see Quilter break his own record. Quilter draws a lot of walks and picks up a lot of infield hits.

Emmert, who handles the bat well and doesn't strike out often is the likely number two hitter. Kyle Plank, Wingrove, and Ferry should all hit in the middle of the order.

"Craig Ferry is really swinging the bat well, and I've really been impressed with his attitude," Welton said. Welton said the SEC should be balanced.

"It would be hard to pick a favorite," Welton said. "But I like our chances."

Welton's volunteer assistant coaching staff includes long-time assistant Akel Marshall and former Chelsea players Randy Brier and Todd Starkey.

Tree Seedling Inventory Being Rapidly Depleted

Several tree seedlings offered through the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District's annual tree and shrub seedling sale have been sold out. The district's inventory of White Ash, Butternut, White Flowering Dogwood tree seedlings and Silky Dogwood and Honeysuckle shrub seedlings have been depleted.

Orders for tree and shrub seedlings will be accepted until March 30, for the district's Spring Tree Sale.

The remaining hardwood species are moving fast, so anyone who is considering placing an order for tree seedlings should get it in soon, to have a better chance of getting what they want. Most evergreens species however, are still in good supply.

All seedlings are offered on a first-come, first-serve basis while supplies last.

All planting stock will be tentatively available for pick-up on Saturday, April 14, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon at the Washtenaw County Road Commission Garage on Zeeb Rd., Ann Arbor.

For more information on the tree sale, what species are still available and to obtain an order form, contact the Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Telephone (313) 761-6721.

SHIMBLESANKS, the Railway Cat, portrayed by Danny Rounds, top, is featured in a current presentation of CATS at the Masonic Temple in Detroit. CATS, first produced in London on May 11, 1981, has become the most successful theatrical production in history. Last week a group of 71 Chelsea students and parents attended the musical.

Chelsea Students Attend Performance of CATS

By Russ Ogden
Free Lance Critic
and EMU Professor
Detroit—CATS not only returned to the Masonic Temple in Detroit last week but 71 Chelsea students and parents were in the middle of their on-stage arrival! Sitting on the aisle (right), a block of Chelsea students had CATS touch them, whisker them, and closely walk by them as an energetic "CATS" troupe lived up to their previous expectations with a super dynamic show.

CATS is asemblage of poems by T.S. Elliott in which they are described from one emotion to the next, from one comparison of CATS to the next. In this stage purview, the finale is reached when "has been" Grizabella (Rosemary Loar) wins the "cat-go-to-heaven" award as selected by Old Deuteronomy (Francis Rulivivar), ascending by means of an elevating tire from a pile of garbage to "cat heaven... the upper layer" in an impressive finale.

This CATS has the same vigor as the initial Detroit arrival and the talent oozed loudly and quietly from the stage at the Masonic before an opening night house. CATS is a "total ensemble show" in which there are no stars; a singing, dancing fest of individual skits featured.

"CATS," originally produced in London where it opened on May 11, 1981, is still enjoying huge success. Opening on Broadway in 1982, "CATS" won seven Tony Awards including Best Musical and continues to play to capacity crowds.

The most successful theatrical production in history, "CATS" has played Canada, Australia, Sweden, Hungary, Finland, Norway, Germany, Holland, Japan, Austria and New Zealand.

CATS comes to a clawing end on Sunday evening, March 25, following a 2 p.m. matinee performance the same day. Evening performances are Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 8 p.m.; matinees, Saturday, at 2 p.m. Prices range from $19 through $29. Call 1-832-2232 for further information. Seats are available.

VDTs AND YOUR EYES

We are hearing an increasing number of complaints about eyestrain from working at computer stations. Many people are concerned that the VDTs (video display terminals) may give off radiation which could permanently damage their eyes.

Fortunately, these fears are groundless. VDTs do not emit harmful radiation, and they release less ultraviolet light than the fluorescent lights in your office.

Nevertheless, the eye fatigue, burning red, or watery eye, headaches and neckaches are real problems. Generally these problems can be attributed to the nearness of the VDT, its position, glare from other lights, or the amount of time spent in a relatively still position.

Ideally, the VDT is positioned at or below eye level, and other material is positioned near the screen for convenience. Overhead lighting should not reflect off the screen and should not be too bright. Many people will need to get special glasses focused at the working distance of the VDT, especially if they work for extended times, or if they already wear bifocals or trifocals. Special eyeglass tints have been recommended, depending on the color print of the VDT.

Occasional rest breaks are important to allow the eyes to relax their focusing mechanism.

If blurring, redness or other symptoms persist, an eye examination is in order.

FUTURE CHELSEA CHEERLEADERS had a chance to try out some routines last Saturday as part of Super Saturday activities at Beach Middle school. Older Chelsea cheerleaders taught the kids what to do.

Chiropractic Health Care

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffman

"Hope For The Future"

The health care system in America is in grave trouble. The last several columns have revealed federal court findings of A.M.A. (American Medical Association) sanctioned fraud, conspiracy, and monopoly. There are numerous government, medical, university, and private sector findings to substantiate all of this. And these findings are continuing to be reported. The well respected RAND Corporation just completed a study that revealed 32% of carotid endarterectomy (a delicate procedure surgeons perform to clear major neck arteries as a stroke prevention) are done without justification—nearly one third!

In spite of all this great changes are in the works. Patients are discovering chiropractic care all over the country. The number of chiropractic physicians has doubled in the last ten years. Patients find not only quality care at personable costs but greatly improved health.

The resurgence of homeopathy with its remarkable healing properties and absence of dangerous side effects as well as increased use of acupuncture, tells of better, healthier days coming.

The drug industry and its partner political medicine will fight all this tooth and claw. It's coming anyway!

Next week: Why will chiropractic care play such a large part in this health renaissance?

As always, if there are any questions or comments, please address them to Dr. J. Nicholas Koffman, 138 E. Middle St., Chelsea, MI 48118 or call (313) 475-2088.

DASA Meeting Slated For Thursday, March 22

Dexter Area Service Association will hold its Annual Report Meeting on Thursday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wylie Middle School Library.

All residents of the Dexter area are served by the organizations that receive allocations from the DASA are welcome to attend.

The DASA is a Community Affiliate of Wasthenaw United Way and distributes funds from WUY to nine groups, including the Dexter Family Service, Dexter Task Force on Adolescent Substance Abuse, Dexter Senior Citizens, Dexter Schools Child-Care Services, Community Education Recreation Program, Dexter Area Museum, Dexter District Library, Faith in Action and the Dexter Co-operative Nursery.

Representatives of each group will describe its activities in 1989 and plans for 1990 and answer any questions from the DASA board members or the public.

Members of the DASA board are chairman Donna Palmer, vice-chairman Terry Walters, secretary Marty Davis, treasurer Barbara Parker, Sarah Frank, Jack Grant and Alice Vencil.

One of the interesting features of the DASA report meeting is observing the interaction among the various reporting groups. For example, one subject to be discussed this year is a new project being made possible by DASA funds in which Faith in Action's Senior Chore Program will be extended into the Dexter area in consultation with Dexter Family Service and Dexter Senior Citizens. This program, initiated in Chelsea last year, provides repairs and routine yard work that make it possible for senior residents of the community to remain in their homes.

Radial tires improve gas mileage with steel-belted tires generally being the most efficient. If all cars in the U. S. were equipped with the most efficient tires possible, the fuel savings would equal 400,000 barrels of oil per day.

WORLD OF MAKE BELIEVE, an hour of stories and fun, was one of the activities for young children during Super Saturdays offered by the Chelsea School District.

Here, Chelsea resident Jill Taylor shares a story with the children.

ADDENDUM TO NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

ON THE PROJECT PLAN FOR A SANITARY SEWERAGE SYSTEM FOR THE PORTAGE-BASE LAKES WATER AND SEWER AUTHORITY

Notice is hereby given that the Portage-Base Lakes Water and Sewer Authority will hold a public hearing on the proposed Draft Project Plan for a Sanitary Sewerage System. The public hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 19, 1990, at the Dexter Township Hall, Dexter, Michigan.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive comments and views of interested persons on the Draft Project Plan and the environmental impacts of the proposed sanitary sewerage alternatives.

The principal alternatives include:

1. Treatment Using Aerated Lagoons Followed by Land Filtration.
2. Treatment Using Sequencing Batch Reactor Treatment Followed by Land Filtration.
3. Treatment at Other Nearby Municipalities.

The recommended plan includes Aerated Lagoons Followed by Land Filtration, and a system of sanitary sewers, pumping stations, and force mains.

A low interest loan may be available from the Michigan State Revolving Fund Loan Program to finance the project. The total estimated project cost is $10.1 million. The responsibility for local costs is with the property owners in established special assessment districts. The assessments have been set at $7,000 per household and monthly user charges are estimated at $15 per household.

Copies of the Draft Project Plan will be available for public review by March 19 at the office of

The Portage-Base Lakes Water and Sewer Authority
Dexter Township Hall
6880 Dexter-Pinckney Road
Dexter, MI 48130

Written comments may be sent to the Authority at the above address for inclusion into the public record no later than April 20, 1990.

Health-O-Rama Set Saturday at Chelsea Hospital

Project Health-O-Rama will be offered at Chelsea Community Hospital again this year. It will be held on Saturday, March 24, at the hospital from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

A variety of free health screenings will be available to adults age 18 and over. A number of health professionals from the hospital service area will be assisting in the screenings.

Screenings will include: height and weight, vision, blood pressure, hearing, pulmonary function testing, nutrition and medication counseling.

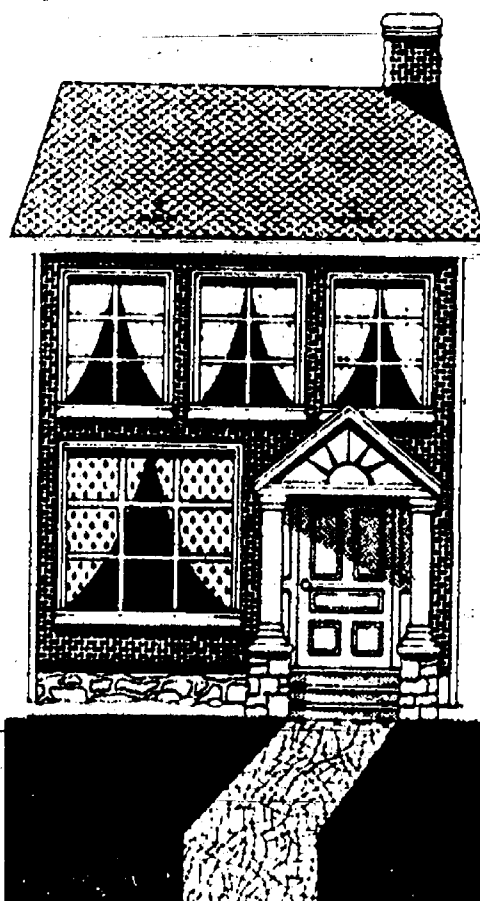

In addition, glaucoma screening will be offered by Drs. Cheryl Huey and Diane Jacob; oral/dental screening will be offered by Drs. Sally Stommen, David Swan, Clare Warren, Bruce Bates, Ray Howe, Mary Barkley, Gary Gochanour and Barb Wher; skin cancer testing will be offered by Dr. Charles Ellis. Colo-rectal screening kits will be available for $3.

A blood panel chemistry will be offered which includes screening for protein, cholesterol, calcium, diabetes, gout, kidney disease, liver disease and anemia for $10. Those interested in blood panel chemistry should fast for four hours before the test. Prostate and testicular examinations will be offered by Drs. Leonard Wolin and Howard Usitolo.

Health screening counseling and summary will be provided by University of Michigan Family Practice Center at Chelsea physicians and Drs. Doug Portz and Rebecca Patrias.

Project Health-O-Rama is sponsored by Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan, Channel 7 WXYZ-TV, and United Health Organization. People with abnormal test results are referred to their health care provider to receive further evaluation. Health screening is not meant to replace a physical examination by a health care provider. It is, however, good medicine to use a screening test so that if a condition is developing, there may be a chance to detect and treat it early.

No advance registration is required. Take advantage of this special event offered by Chelsea Community Hospital.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am protesting the 15% increase in my Dexter township tax assessment. We can attribute this as a major role played by James L. Drolett, Dexter township supervisor, in firing the former tax assessor, who felt that raising the assessments was not justified.

Wake up Dexter township citizens ... let's bring good government to the township. James L. Drolett and H. Douglas Smith are being recalled.

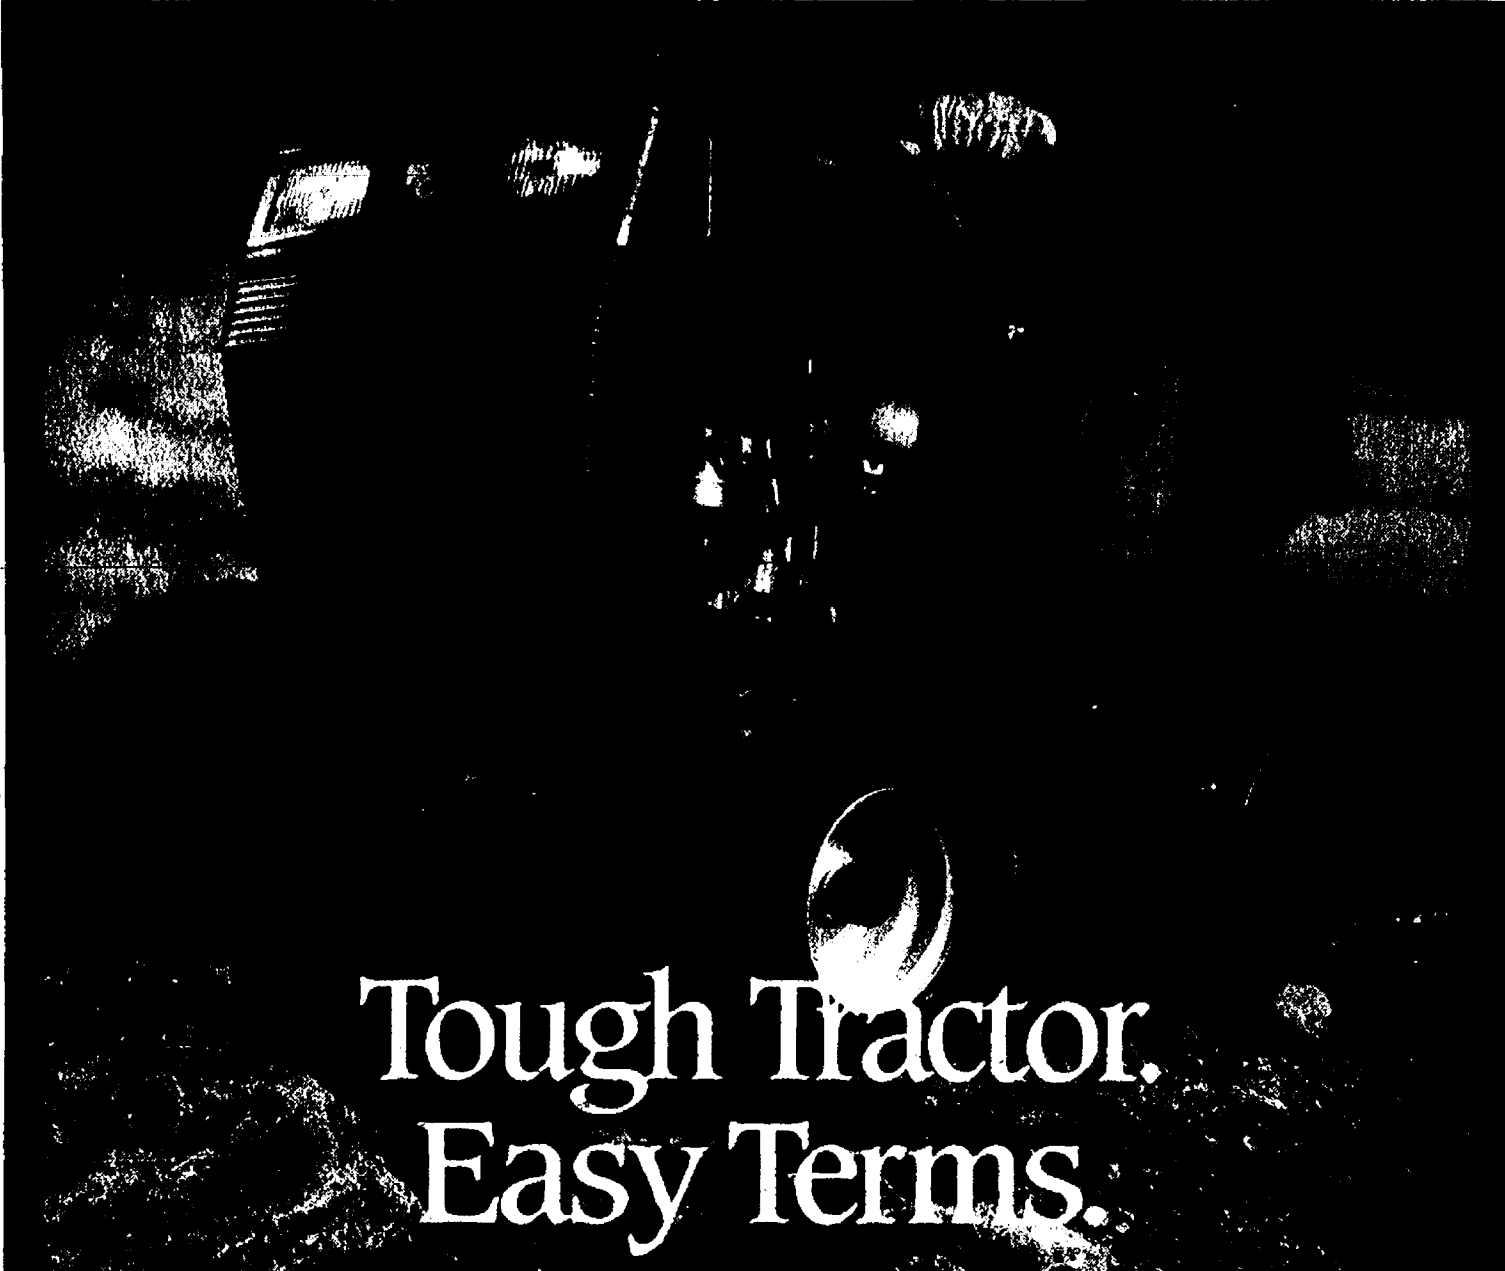

If you are interested in running for these offices, or if you can recommend someone, please call, or write to me and put their name in the hat.

If you are interested in signing the recall petition, or helping with recall, also please call, or write.

I take my hat off to all good citizens that have already done so. If you haven't done so, we will welcome you.
