Industrial Park Has Two Good Prospects, Development Council Says

The village may be on the verge of signing two new tenants for the industrial park. No one will say for the record just what the businesses are, although one of them is believed to be a local company that wants to expand. Washtenaw Development Council Executive Director Gretchen Waters discussed the possible new clients during last Tuesday's village council meeting as part of an attempt to get the village to re-join the organization. The village dropped out of WDC earlier this year, although the vote was 4-3 to retain membership. However, because it involved an unbudgeted expense, a 5-2 vote was required. WDC was set up to lure businesses to Washtenaw county, as well as retain current companies. Some members of village council have said the village hasn't gotten its money's worth from its $2,100 annual dues. They point to no new customers in the industrial park, and to other potential customers that seemed to go elsewhere at the last minute. Some have questioned Detroit Edison's involvement with the WDC since the utility has a vested interest in keeping businesses out of Chelsea, which operates its own electrical utility. However, sentiment on council may be changing. Village president Richard Steele, who cast one of the three "no" votes along with trustee Dennis Hall and former trustee Gary Bentley, said Friday that if he had to vote now, "I'd vote for it." However, he said he planned to do some checking to substantiate WDC's claims. Steele's apparent change is due to the fact that business may suddenly be booming in the park. And Waters said that over the next several years more businesses should look Chelsea's way as business expansion moves further away from Ann Arbor. Village manager Robert Stalker and assistant village manager Tom Warstler both spoke favorably of the WDC's effort on behalf of the village. Stalker said he thinks that in light of the new activity that it would be poor timing not to be a member. And, in one of the most startling revelations of the evening, trustee Joe Merkel said it wasn't WDC's fault that the industrial park hasn't found any new tenants because "(late village manager Fritz) Weber and (former village president Jerry) Satterthwaite didn't want it sold." Waters said that it looks good for the new businesses, but cautioned that there is still a lot of work to do before the sales are completed. Many of the uncertainties deal with grants and financing, two areas out of the village's hands, but two areas well within WDC's area of services. A 5-2 vote will be required again.

Steele To Nominate Ritter for Council Seat

Chelsea Village President Richard Steele faces one of his first major tests of support from village council next Tuesday as he plans to nominate former village president Charles Ritter for the vacant village council seat. The seat became available when Steele, a former trustee, was elected president. A year remains in the term. Steele confirmed Saturday that he intends to nominate Ritter. The nomination would have to be approved by a simple majority of village council. Ritter fell eight votes short of being elected to council in the March 12 elections. Steele said Ritter informed him that he would accept the appointment. "I just think it's the fairest way," Steele said. "He could just as easily have been elected as Mr. (Harry) Myers was." Ritter was eight votes behind Myers. Steele said he informed council members of his plans, but did not know how they might vote. Steele also said that should Ritter not be approved, he would not nominate John McKenzie, who finished well behind Ritter in the balloting. "If they won't go with the fourth highest finisher, I won't bring the fifth highest finisher into it." Steele's nomination would bring an ironic twist to the recent elections. Steele's opponent, incumbent Jerry Satterthwaite, ran for office largely because he wanted to keep Ritter off the council, even though he ran for a different seat. He also said several times that he worried Steele might not be strong enough to control Ritter's outspoken ways. Ritter served as president in 1980-81. He has been an outspoken opponent of the village's monetary policies over the years.

DEMOLITION HAS STARTED at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. The historic front section of the complex, originally a full-time nursing home, will be replaced by 76 independent living apartments. The new building is scheduled to look very similar to the old one and the tentative completion date is August of next year.

Village To Establish Separate Zoning Board

Village of Chelsea will have a separate Zoning Board of Appeals later this year if the village council has its way. Council voted last Tuesday to amend the village's zoning ordinance to set up the separate board. Village council currently doubles as the zoning board. The change was formally recommended by assistant village manager Tom Warstler, although it has been discussed informally for several years. Warstler said most municipalities have separate zoning boards. "Ever since I started on council, I've thought there should be a separate zoning board," trustee Dennis Hall said. Zoning inspector Rosemary Harook also enthusiastically supported the change. "As zoning inspector, I can say we are granting too many variances, especially when there are other alternatives," Harook said. "You people are elected officials and sometimes it puts you in a bad situation. If you don't vote for the variance, you lose their votes." Warstler said he also supported the change because he thinks it's disruptive. Time Changes This Week-End This is the week-end that you can be absolutely certain that nothing of importance will happen between 2 a.m. and 3 a.m. on Sunday. That's because we're returning to Daylight Savings Time. We officially lose an hour as the time will jump ahead at 2 a.m. The best way to avoid missing early Sunday church services is to set your clock ahead one hour before you turn in Saturday night. tive for village council to repeatedly have to recess their council meeting to go into a zoning board meeting. Village Planning Commission would be charged with the task of proposing the appropriate changes and would hold a public hearing. Warstler said a zoning board is usually made up of at least five volunteers, all of whom are appointed by village council. He also said it's possible one council member and one planning commission member could be on the board. By separating the village council, which passes laws, and the zoning board, which interprets them, the village would essentially be separating a legislative function from a "quasi-judicial" one, Warstler told council. Council, in its capacity as the zoning board, has been involved in at least two lawsuits over the last several years related to zoning disputes.

Hospital, U-M Plan Alcohol, Drug Abuse Treatment Facility

A 29,000-square-foot center for the treatment of alcohol and drug abuse by adults is scheduled to be built on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital starting next year. The project, a joint venture of the University of Michigan and Chelsea Community Hospital, will allow the hospital to expand the services it already provides through its 24-bed Kresge House. In addition, Kresge House will be converted to a research center into substance abuse for the U-M Department of Psychiatry. Students and staff in the U-M Alcohol Program, as well as other areas, will be able to take part in research and training opportunities. The project was approved last week by the Michigan Board of Regents. It was expected to be approved last night by the Chelsea Community Hospital Board of Directors. "The physical setting is attractive, plus the facility can use existing support services and access to medical care and consultation," said village executive vice-president Kathleen Griffiths of U-M's interest in locating the program here. The new facility will have 36 beds and provide three levels of service for adult patients; outpatient treatment, partial hospitalization, and full hospitalization, depending on an individual's needs. Treatment will not be available for youths. U-M will shut down its nine-bed alcohol unit. "We're excited about the new program because it will give us a number of opportunities to enhance what we've been doing for a number of years," Griffiths said. "One of the central concepts will be (Continued on page five)

THE SPRING AUCTION at Chelsea Community Hospital received an advance donation from the hospital auxiliary last week, which will be used for cardiac monitoring equipment. Carol Spike of the auxiliary, left, made the presentation to auction chairs Jeffrey and Sally Stommen of Grass Lake. The auction is scheduled for Saturday, April 21 at the hospital.

Area Man Killed In One-Car Crash

A 37-year-old Chelsea-area man was killed Wednesday, March 21 in a one-car crash on US-23 at Warren Rd. north of Ann Arbor. According to Michigan State Police Trooper Paul Metiva, Thomas Laws, 298 Island Lake Rd., was northbound in the left lane when he apparently fell asleep at about 7:45 p.m. At a point where the road narrowed from three to two lanes, Laws' 1986 El Camino went into the median. The car continued 330 feet before it struck a drain culvert, flew 60 feet in the air, and struck the Warren Rd. bridge abutment about 10 feet off the ground. A witness estimated Laws was traveling 70 to 75 miles per hour at the time of the crash. Metiva said the use of alcohol was a factor. There was no indication Laws had tried to stop the vehicle or avoid a crash, Metiva said. Ann Arbor Township firefighters used the Jaws of Life to remove Laws from the vehicle. He was taken by survival flight to University of Michigan Hospital, where he was pronounced dead at 9:32 p.m. Laws is survived by his wife, Claudia, and daughter, Veronica.

Village Residents Biggest Users Of Recycling Bins at Landfill

In the eight days prior to Tuesday, March 20, 104 people had taken part in the village's recycling program at the village landfill. Landfill operator Cecil Clouse told village council that virtually all the users came from the village and Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima, and Dexter townships. Thirty-four village residents used the facility, while 21 Lyndon township residents dropped off their glass and cans. Sylvan had 16 users, Lima township had 13, and Dexter township had 12. The remaining eight came from Waterloo and Stockbridge. Clouse also reported that makers of a tow-behind recycling bin were scheduled to have one in Chelsea for village inspection on Tuesday, April 3. The village is interested in buying a bin to tow behind a pick-up truck, the beginnings of a curbside recycling program.

Dexter township's annual meeting was held with a total of 24 attending that year, including members of the township board. Prior to the opening of the annual meeting, public hearings were held on the township budget, as well as on federal revenue sharing funds. The township board proposed repeating their past practice of allocating funds from federal revenue sharing for road construction. The electorate agreed with the decision, and during the annual meeting, the idea was approved, although no contract had yet been signed with the Washtenaw County Road Commission.

McKune Memorial Library trustees announced the closing of the library for approximately a week to allow for the first phase of a remodeling project. An additional closure period was necessary sometime in April for phase two of the project. Remodeling included removal of the existing hot water boiler system and installation of two new forced-air heating plants. In addition, central air conditioning was to be installed. The project was expected to save the library significant expense in maintenance and operation over the existing system. It was also to provide greater comfort for the patrons during the winter heating and summer cooling seasons.

Chelsea police sharpshooters took part in the annual Wyandotte Practical Police Pistol course competition. Officer Frank Kornel, was first place in the Marksman category, while Officer David Dettling and dispatcher Scott Sumner took third place in team shooting. The more than 300 participants shot standing, kneeling and prone, both right-handed and left-handed.

Farmland covering 180 acres, a white home built in two sections, grapevines close to 100 years old that still produced a fine sweet wine, out-buildings and an irreplaceable red barn dominated the property at 475 Fletcher Rd. Owned by Emma Seitz the property was designated as a Centennial Farm by the Division of Michigan History. The farm, located in Lima township, was in the possession of the Seitz family since February 1875 when Phillip Seitz, father-in-law of the present owner purchased it from Charles and Rachel Easton. The original parcel included 68½ acres and sold for $14.50 an acre.

Construction of the swimming pool at Beach Middle school was on schedule following the bankruptcy of the mechanical contractor and the hiring of a new mechanical firm. The Ohio Casualty Insurance Co., bonding company for the mechanical contractor, had contracted with Boone & Darr, Inc., of Ann Arbor, to complete the mechanical work. They also contacted all suppliers and subcontractors to pay any unpaid bills incurred by the original contractor.

At the 1976 State Future Farmer's of America convention, four senior members of the Chelsea FFA were to receive the State Farmer Degree. The four members were Nelson Bollinger, Doug Welshans, Jerry Huehl and Dave Frame. To receive the degree the FFA'ers had to meet some basic requirements. Among those were: Earn at least $500 by a supervised project; demonstrate leadership ability; participate in local FFA activities and be in the top three percent of all the Michigan FFA'ers.

The ground for the new six-room addition on the South Elementary school was broken. Included in the annex was to be a library, a small reading room and classrooms. The addition was being added to the south wing of the present structure. The same construction company, Goodrich and Hazen of Adrian, also started the earthmoving and rough grading for the high school annex foundation. A 10-classroom wing, which was to include a special education room, a language laboratory and two commercial arts rooms, was being constructed on the north side of the present building between the administration building and the street.

Stars, spaceships, or saucers? The question mark remained following nearly three weeks of sighting of UFO's through the area. An investigation by the Air Force expert on unidentified objects brought forth the explanation that two of the sightings over marshes were "swamp gas." His explanation brought forth a storm of controversy. Marsh or swamp gas is produced by rotting vegetation. Dr. Hynek explained that this gas can be trapped by ice and winter conditions and may be released in some quantity when a spring thaw occurs. No heat is felt and the lights do not burn or char the ground. Numerous recent reports of UFO's occurred away from swamp areas, however, and Dr. Hynek made no attempt to explain those sightings.

Community Corrections Program Could Save Millions, Republicans Say

A proposal to expand county detention facilities to free up jail space to house prisoners from the state's corrections program could save the state several million dollars a year and allow counties to profit as well, two Republican senators announced recently.

Under a plan introduced by Senate Appropriations Corrections subcommittee chair Sen. Nick Smith (R-Addison) and Sen. Jack Welborn (R-Kalamazoo), chair of the Senate Criminal Justice and Urban Affairs Committee, the state would fund the construction of 15 community corrections complexes to be run by the counties that would eventually house 5,000 minimum security prisoners currently in county jails.

That would free up room for the state to lease excess maximum security jail space from counties to help ease the state's prison bed crunch.

The program would save the state $64 million next fiscal year if every complex were built by Oct. 1, Welborn said, while counties would gain $16.4 million by leasing expanded jail space.

He called it a "win-win-win" situation for the state, counties and local communities.

Senate Majority Leader John Engler (R-Mt. Pleasant) also gave it his stamp of approval. "I think this is a solid plan that recognizes that the end of prison construction is at hand," he said.

Smith said the state would save money because it costs $62 per day to house prisoners, while under this plan counties would be paid $20 to $45 a day to keep prisoners. And noting that the prison system is currently 4,000 prisoners over capacity, he added: "The state is simply running out of room."

Under the proposal, prisoners with sentences of 0-12 months would first be diverted to county jails, then those with 13-24 month sentences. Felons with sentences exceeding 24 months could also be diverted if excess maximum security jail beds are available for rent.

State reimbursement would be $20 per day for prisoners with 0-12 month sentences, $40 for 13-24 months and $45 for those with sentences over 24 months.

Of the 4,800 minimum security beds created through the program (15 320-bed complexes), 2,640 would be for minimum security work camps, 720 for special alternative incarceration, and 1,440 for a probation residential program.

In the complexes, 55 percent of the beds would be available for county programs such as minimum security work camp, while the remainder of the bed space would be used for several programs, including space to help boot camp participants mainstream back into society.

Other space would be used for office space for the electronic tether program and facilities for counseling and education.

Smith said the state would pick up the entire cost of the program for 1990-91, with that number declining to 50 percent in 1991-92 and no state construction assistance in 1992-93.

He said the $11.2 million the governor placed in the corrections budget for state and local partnership programs could help get the program started, with more money possibly coming from Capital Outlay and bonding programs.

"The point is, if we take the money out of cash flow, the state can still end up making money," he said.

The total cost of the program will be $90 million, Smith said, but the state would enter into 15- to 20-year agreements with counties to maintain and operate the new facilities.

The state would provide direct funding for the construction cost or annual debt reimbursement payments to counties. For counties that do not have access to municipal bonding authorities, the state would provide direct funding not to exceed $6 million per facility.

Dale Davis, deputy director of the Michigan Sheriff's Association, said his organization is holding off endorsement of this proposal and one offered by the governor until more is known about both. "We haven't had a good enough opportunity to sit down and put the two together," he said.

"Somewhere between Gov. Blanchard's proposal and (this), we're going to end up with a very fine piece of new state policy that will hopefully control the county jail problem," Davis said. But he said questions over liability and medical costs remain.

"They haven't had the scrutiny they need. That's a significant change from what we're doing," he said.

Governor Proposes "User Fee" For Drug Users

Gov. James J. Blanchard has proposed "user fees" of up to $500 to penalize casual drug users, saying the market for illegal drugs must be eliminated if the efforts to stem drug trafficking are to be successful.

The fees would be imposed in addition to any other fines, jail or prison penalties that may apply to the offense and community service and drug treatment may be instituted in lieu of the fees if the drug user cannot pay.

Proceeds from the proposed new penalties will be used to create a Drug Enforcement and Demand Reduction Fund, which will finance new drug prevention and treatment programs, the governor said.

Rep. Ken DeBeaussaret (D-New Baltimore), who will introduce legislation to impose the user fees, said funds generated from the proposed legislation would assist communities in furthering an all-out assault on the drug problems.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb don't know nothing about budgets and less about economics. The first and only time he tried to make a budget was when his old lady got interested in typing and rented a typewriter. The typewriter had a red and black ribbon, and he got her to run it fingers on what his farming operation took in and paid out. The red collum fer outgo was so much longer and bigger than the black income collum that Zeke saw the two would never balance and he give up the budget idee.

So when Zeke brung up the new Bush budget during the session at the country store Saturday night, the fellows took that to mean nothing more than Zeke exposing more of his ignorance. They were suprised when he started talking about using the Social Security Trust Fund to make the black collum look better and pulling the post office out of the budget to make the red look better. If nothing else, they figgered Zeke had done some homework.

Farthermore, Zeke said, the reading he has done behind the Federal budget shows that the peace dividend everybody's been talking about is just that, talk. The Bush Administration says it will cut defense spending, and this turns out to be a two percent nick in $300 billion. On the other hand, Zeke went on, the Administration's claim of putting more money into education is just that, a claim. Overall spending is up two percent, but the bottom line still is far short of what was lost through the Reagan years.

What it all means, Zeke allowed, is that the $63.1 billion left over in the red collum after the black collum is gone is, like beauty, in the eye of the beholder. And you got to know, Zeke went on, that when all is said and done in Congress, a heap will be said and not much will be done to drop the level of red ink. What members of Congress will say and what they will do is as far apart as economic reality and political rhetoric, was Zeke's words.

Democrat Clem Webster was quick to claim the floor. He recalled when candidate and Vice President Bush made campaign hay with his charge that candidate and Gov. Dukakis was letting Boston Harbor turn into a "open sewer and a national disgrace." One item Clem said he picked up in the new Bush budget is where the Administration cut out any Federal environment funds that would help Massachusetts clean up the harbor.

Republican Ed Doolittle took the bait. He said whatever George Bush does to the economics of the country it won't compare to the Massachusetts miracle that has turned into a nightmare during Dukakis' watch. If Dukakis had been allowed to do for America what he has done for his state, Ed said, we'd be copying Brazil, where inflation is running 3,000 percent a year.

Practical speaking, Ed went on, you got to see how far we've come since the Democrats were talking about Federal budget deficits, tax cuts and Federal revenue sharing all in the same breath. Anybody that reads the papers knows President Bush is trying to git Americans to see they can't have it both ways forever, was Ed's words.

Final, Ed noted that folks need to remind themselves how politicians git in office. When they keep spending fer no better reason than they got the power to spend, Ed said, Americans that claim to see the economic light ought to kick em out fer no better reason than we got the power to kick.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Wednesday, March 29, 1956— Sheriff's department cars began escorting milk trucks on county roads in this area in an effort to avoid incidents. The vigilance program was undertaken after a Detroit area group known as the Fair Share Bargaining Association planned picketing action to boost milk prices. The association reportedly asked its members to pour raw milk into the gutter in support of the strike action. Three empty milk trucks owned by Tom Merkel, returning from Detroit, were escorted to the Washtenaw County line by Wayne County sheriff's patrol cars when two cars were observed following the trucks.

Train traffic on the Chicago-Detroit route was blocked for more than four hours when 25 New York Central freight cars were derailed on the north side of Ann Arbor. The accident occurred at 10:40 p.m. Location of the pile-up was near the Economy Baler company where the tracks paralleled North Main street. Contents of the derailed cars appeared to be unharmed but the eastbound tracks were badly torn up and the westbound tracks less seriously damaged.

Among items of business transacted at the March meeting of the Washtenaw county Board of Supervisors was acceptance of the county's new $110,000 Juvenile Home, located on County Infirmity property at Platt and Washtenaw roads. Acceptance was based on recommendation of the Board of Supervisors' probate court and juvenile affairs committee, although the building lacked sidewalks on the outside and minor installations inside. An open house was to be held for a public showing of the facility.

Girl Scouts and Brownies of Chelsea delivered a total of 2,760 boxes of cookies. Net profit on each box of cookies was 17 1/2 cents, making the total credited toward the Girl Scouts' annual quota for the Washtenaw county Girl Scout Council, $483.

Chiropractic Health Care

Chiropractors: The Physicians for the 21st Century

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman

The last several weeks have dealt with the crisis in health care in the U. S. We talked of the abuse, fraud, monopoly, and dangers of the present system. There was lengthy discussion of the federal courts finding the A.M.A. (American Medical Association) responsible for many of these problems.

Today's column will deal with why chiropractic care will be at the forefront of future health care.

First, chiropractic care is very safe. Unlike drugs with their many side effects and surgery with its many complications, chiropractic care is natural and well accepted by the body. To substantiate this I would point to actuarial statistics which place malpractice rates as much as forty times higher for medical doctors than doctors of chiropractic.

Second, the public is seeing the wisdom of getting to the cause of health problems instead of masking the body's warning signals with chemicals. This also helps to decrease future health problems that are due to ill conceived therapies.

Third, the people are seeing high profile, high performance individuals flocking to chiropractic care. Thirty-five members of the San Francisco Forty-Niners receive chiropractic care. They readily credit chiropractic care for much of the reason they stormed through the NFL last year on the way to destroying the Denver Broncos in the Super Bowl! The Coors' cycling team reports the same thing with regard to their success. Olympic diver Greg Luganus, who struck his head on the diving board, received chiropractic care and came back the next day to win the gold medal. He also credits chiropractic care for much of his success.

The population understands how much these people depend on their bodies. They want peak performance and that's what chiropractic care is truly about.

Next week: Some facts and figures to back all this up.

Please address questions or comments to Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman, 138 E. Middle St., Chelsea, MI 48118 or call (313) 475-2088.

Debra Gerstler Chosen for Youth Seminar

Debra Gerstler, Chelsea High school senior has been chosen to represent the First United Methodist church of Chelsea to attend the 34th annual New York-Washington D.C. Youth Seminar March 24-31.

The theme for this year's seminar is "The Problem of Hunger." Debra and her parents attended an orientation session on March 17, in Flint. The students will be spending Sunday through Wednesday in Washington D.C. There they will work in a soup kitchen, attend a congressional session, meet with Senator Riegle to discuss what the government is doing to help alleviate hunger as well as doing some sightseeing. The students will then be traveling to New York where they will be attending seminars to learn what they can do about the problems of hunger as well as visiting the United Nations along with additional sightseeing.

Debra was chosen to attend the seminar based on her contributions to the church programs and her concern about hunger, especially its effects on children. Debra is in the church choir and bells and is active in the youth fellowship. She is also a member of the Contemporaries, was in the school musical and is on the forensic team at the high school. She plans to attend Central Michigan University next year, majoring in elementary education.

The majority of funding for the trip was made possible by the Gadbery Memorial Scholarship Fund and is awarded annually to a worthy senior.

The amount of garbage a typical American will throw away in a lifetime will equal at least 600 times their adult weight. The average American family produces about 100 pounds of trash every week.

 Under the agreement, Griffiths said, U-M will pay for 60 percent of the building costs and Chelsea hospital will pay 40 percent plus give the 10,000-square-foot Kresge House to the anticipated $4.5 million project. U-M and the hospital will each own 50 percent of the venture, which will operate under a separate corporation.

Village Wants Commitment From Townships on Landfill

Village of Chelsea wants to know by June 1 just how much financial help area townships are willing to provide regarding the closing of the old landfill. The village recently asked Sylvania, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships to share in $550,000 in accumulated expenses. A formula was devised from records of past usage. The village would pay 40 percent. The remaining 60 percent was divided up among the townships, and Dexter township's share was the largest.
 The June 1 deadline was set by village council at their March 20 meeting.

The townships have hired a Farmington Hills law firm. Village manager Robert Stalker suggested the deadline due to the village's precarious financial position. He said he was worried that the situation could be studied by attorneys for an extended period and that the village could be spending even more money during that time.

Jamie Loy Gets Praise for Role In Army Maneuvers

Former Chelsea resident Jamie Loy was recently commended for his role in U.S. Army exercises in West Germany.
 Loy, who attended South school through the third grade and is the son of Dianne Spear Loy-Rose of Murray, Ky. and Dale Loy of Ann Arbor, participated in the exercise called REFORGER, or Return of U.S. Forces to Germany. More than 50,000 U.S. and NATO troops participated in the large-scale maneuver designed to show the Warsaw Pact the commitment NATO has invested in Western Europe.
 According to a letter of commendation, Loy did an "outstanding job under harsh, demanding winter conditions."
 Loy, who enlisted in 1986 after graduating from Tecumseh High school, is stationed in Bamberg, West Germany.
 Throughout his high school years, which included 3 1/2 in Murray, Loy served in the Junior ROTC. Since enlisting, Loy has received several merit citations, including the Sojourners Award for academic, Americanism, and leadership ability.
 Loy's grandparents are Byford and Lois Spear of Chelsea.

Susan Schmunk Will Present Voice Recital on April 8

Miss Susan Dawn Schmunk will present a voice recital Sunday, April 8, at 3 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Chelsea First United Methodist church, 128 Park St.

Susan is the daughter of Charles and Sandy Schmunk and granddaughter of the late Arthur and Alice Schmunk. She is a 1987 graduate of Chelsea High school and is presently a junior at Eastern Michigan University. Susan has studied voice for the past three years under Dr. Oscar Henry, a professor in Eastern's School of Music. Her recital program will include pieces by Bach, Handel, Mascagni, Faure, and Verdi. On a lighter side, she will end with songs from "West Side Story," "Yentl," "Les Miserables" and "Phantom of the Opera."

Susan has been involved in a dozen musicals with Chelsea High school and the Chelsea Area Players. In 1987 she played the Part of "Marian the Librarian" in CAP's production of "The Music Man." She was a member of the Contemporaries singing group at Chelsea High school for two years, and sang in the Methodist church choir since second grade under Mrs. June Warren and Jack Bittle.

Miss Schmunk was the 1986 Chelsea Fair Queen, sponsored by CAP. Many Chelsea youngsters know Susan best as their summer swimming instructor since 1984 at the Charles S. Cameron Pool.

The Chelsea community is invited to attend the recital on April 8.

FINE ARTS SERIES KICK-OFF: The Chenille Sisters will appear at Copeland Auditorium on Tuesday, April 17. The concert is the first in a three-part series to benefit the Music Committee of the First United Methodist church of Dexter.

Chenille Sisters Concert Will Open Dexter Fine Arts Series

The Chenille Sisters, vocal comedy trio and William Albright, ragtime and jazz pianist are the guest artists for the Dexter Fine Arts Series this spring.

The play, "The Diary of Anne Frank," rounds out the three-part Benefit Series sponsored by the Music Committee of the United Methodist church.

A full house is anticipated for the Chenille Sisters Concert on Tuesday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Copeland Auditorium.

The Chenilles will kick off the series with their wacky, wonderful vocal routine, bringing with them rave reviews from across the nation as well as from an enthusiastic local following.

The trio, Grace Morand, Cheryl Dawdy and Connie Huber, all Ann Arbor natives, will perform their special blend of comedy and song to the Dexter audience with two 45-minute sets. Tight harmonies intact and coy humor in tow, they have bowled over capacity crowds from Charleston to San Francisco.

Their most recent concert locally saw them team up with the Ann Arbor Symphony to play a Pops Concert to a sold-out Michigan Theatre. Their tapes and latest recordings will be available at the concert.

William Albright, internationally known jazz pianist and composer, will take his place at the grand piano on Saturday, May 5, 8 p.m. at the Dexter United Methodist church. Albright will present a stimulating and entertaining evening of music entitled "Ragtime and All That Jazz."

Albright, a spectacular musician, is an engaging, exciting performer. He plays with strength, humor and leaves his audience "wowed."

He is one of the few serious musicians able to reach the funnybone as well as the head and heart. A press quote from the Toronto Star says "The audience had nothing to do but sit and listen, and be overwhelmed."

Albright is a distinguished organist as well as pianist, known for his performances of contemporary music, as well as for his interpretations of classic ragtime and traditional jazz piano styles.

He has received many awards including the Guggenheim and Fulbright Fellowships. He lives in Ann Arbor and is professor of composition at the University of Michigan. The Albright concert promises to be an exciting event.

The "Diary of Anne Frank" is the moving story of the Otto Frank family who went into hiding in Amsterdam during the Nazi holocaust. The story was recorded in her personal writings, the best-seller, "The Diary of a Young Girl."

The play, directed by Dianne Stephenson, will be performed by members of the Dexter UMC at the Camp Newkirk Lodge on April 27 and 28 at 7:30 p.m.

Wylie student Sarah Redmond, 14, makes her acting debut as Anne Frank who was 14 at the time the diary was being written. The Rev. Jack Harnish portrays her father, Otto Frank. The Rev. Harnish, a multi-talented actor, starred in the Dexter Community production of "Guys and Dolls" as Sky Masterson. The cast of 10 is in rehearsal for the presentation at the newly renovated Newkirk Lodge, a beautiful setting for an enduring drama.

Tickets are available at Waggoner Real Estate in Dexter, Kings Keyboard in Ann Arbor or call the church office at 426-8480. All proceeds

IRS Offers Tips on Filing Tax Return

"The best way to ensure a speedy tax refund is to file now and to file an accurate income tax return," said IRS district director John Hummel. "I have several tips that may help taxpayers to prepare an error-free return," he added.

"First of all, use the peel off label and the envelope in the tax package. This will speed up the processing of the return and the issuance of the refund. Next, check and double check math. After the return is prepared, put it aside for a day and go back and check it again. Many errors are caught that way—and the most common error is still one of addition or subtraction—simple arithmetic," Hummel said.

"Also, double check other entries, such as social security numbers and address, to ensure they are correct. It's also a good idea to round off figures to the nearest dollar. Adding and subtracting is easier and errors are prevented by rounding off," added Hummel.

"Taxpayers who use the long Form 1040 need to be sure that all schedules (such as the Schedule A for itemizing) are attached. And all taxpayers need to be sure that all Forms S-2 (wage statements from employers) are attached," Hummel said.

"Be sure the return is signed and dated (both spouses must sign a joint return); and finally, don't wait until the last minute to file—do it now!" Hummel concluded.

Hummel also said that taxpayers who need assistance in preparing returns can visit one of 22 IRS offices around the state, or may call the prerecorded TELETAX system on 1-800-554-4477. TELETAX provides recorded information on over 150 tax topics.

Measles Booster Shot May Be Needed For Children

There have been many news reports about measles in the past year. Although there have been no confirmed cases in this area so far, the recommendation of the American Academy of Pediatrics is that children receive a measles booster shot at 12 years of age and earlier if the child was immunized before 15 months of age or before 1980.

For adults born after 1967, it is recommended that their measles immunity status be determined or that they be revaccinated. If you need the vaccination, contact your physician or the local Health Department.

Unless there is a confirmed outbreak of measles close by, children less than 15 months of age should not receive the vaccine.

Let's Go

Bulldogs!

Youngest Softball Team Will Also Be Fastest In Bulldog History

Coach Pat Clarke will check in with the youngest varsity softball team in Chelsea High school history when the season begins at Webberville on Monday, April 7.

Clarke has just two seniors, Scharme Petty and Amy Thomson. Fortunately he has the senior experience and leadership where he needs it. Petty is the team's number one pitcher and Thomson is the likely starting catcher.

Only one other player, junior Kelly Bellus, has any significant varsity experience. Everybody else is up from the junior varsity.

"This is the youngest varsity team we've had in Chelsea, period," Clarke says.

"The girls have tremendous athletic ability, but the catch is they're young. They might blow out a real good team one day and lose to a mediocre team the next day. But they could be very good."

One of the primary reasons the Bulldogs have the potential is they are fast, fast, fast, what Clarke calls, perhaps to the dismay of girls track coach Bill Bainton, "a good track team." There at least six girls as fast as last year's Bulldog speedster, Heather Nelbauer.

And Clarke plans to use that speed to the utmost. Everyone in his starting line-up is an accomplished bunter, as is usually the case here. However, what makes this team so unusual is everyone can, and will, bunt from the left side. He may not have a right-handed batter in the line-up.

"We're going to be a very interesting team to watch," Clarke says.

"The other team will have to pick up the ball and make the play to beat us. Our kind of game will frustrate a lot of teams."

If all goes as planned, the Bulldogs will get a lot of infield hits and force a pile of throwing and fielding errors. In addition, they'll cause a lot of problems once they get on base. An opposing team with an inexperienced or average catcher may not have a chance.

However, there are two or three girls who are strong enough to fake a bunt and slap the ball into the outfield, which may cause drawn-in defenses some tense moments.

But speed will be the name of the game.

Sophomore Christine Burg is probably the quickest player.

"She's one of Chelsea's fastest athletes in any sport," Clarke says.

"She has beautiful floating speed and just may be our lead-off hitter."

Musolf, though, "could probably lead off for any other team in the state," Clarke says.

"She's our best base runner and can hit hard for her size."

Thomson, Petty, juniors Colleen Scharphorn and Dana Durst, and sophomores Jennifer Feare and Leah Hadley are all likely to steal a base or two, or three.

"Hadley is the most explosive runner I've ever seen," Clarke says.

"And she runs with reckless abandon."

This year's pitching corps, while probably not as overpowering as Jenni Smith and Laura Unterbrink were a year ago, should be able to get the job done.

Petty is number one, but juniors Sara Musolf and Colleen Scharphorn will each get plenty of work.

"Musolf has come a long way and has shown excellent control," Clarke says.

"Scharphorn is potentially one of the finest talents we've ever had. She can do whatever she puts her mind to."

Not surprisingly, Clarke's top three pitchers are all capable of playing other positions, and they will.

Petty, who has played every position during her career, will start at second when she isn't pitching. Second base, in the Chelsea scheme of things, usually goes to one of the team's best athletes.

Musolf will also play second base and will split time with Petty there.

First base will go to junior Carrie Flintoff, who Clarke calls one of his best clutch hitters.

"She missed playing last summer and she'll probably take a while to round into shape, but she'll probably bat fifth," Clarke says.

Bellus should get the nod at third base, while Burg will run down balls at shortstop.

Scharphorn will anchor the outfield in center and be backed up by Hadley. Junior Shawn Losey is the team's second catcher and will probably start in right field.

Thomson will probably see some time in left field as well as first base. Feare is also a left fielder.

Heather Pulley, a girl who hits with "great authority," is an outfielder as well.

Durst will give Clarke more depth at second base and in the outfield.

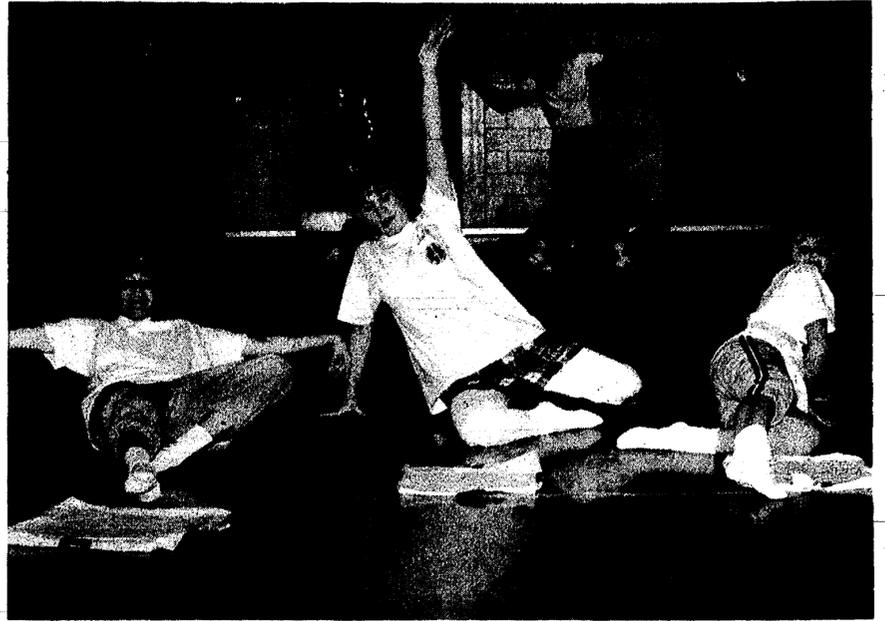

Clarke likes his team's defensive ability and said, "we should be as good as last year, or better."

Clarke says Tecumseh should be the team to beat in the Southeastern Conference. The defending SEC champs lost only two players, although they were their number one pitcher and catcher.

"They have five all-league players back, so they should be pretty good," Clarke says.

"They could be state-ranked in the pre-season."

The rest of the league is a question mark. Dexter, Pinckney, and Milan each lost from seven to 10 seniors. Lincoln, a so-so team last year, has its whole squad back.

Chelsea's Pat Taylor Named Bulldogs' Most Valuable Wrestler

Chelsea senior Pat Taylor was named the Bulldogs' Most Valuable Wrestler for the 1989-90 season.

Taylor, who finished second in the state at 119 pounds, had a 43-3 record despite wrestling at the end of the season with an injured thumb.

In three varsity seasons, Taylor had a 127-23 record.

Junior Karl Wikman, state champion at 112 pounds, was named Most Improved. Wikman finished with a 44-2 record for the season and has a career record of 79-12 over two years.

Senior Pat Hassett, who wrestled at 172 pounds, was given the Best Attitude and Help Award, a new award given by coach Kerry Kargel.

Other wrestlers who were recognized included senior Tim VanSchoick (189 pounds) who set a school career win record with 139 victories. He finished his four-year career with a record of 139-43. This year he went 42-5 and finished fourth in the state.

VanSchoick also had the most pins this season with 32, and scored the most team points with 450.

Taylor had the quickest pin of the season at 17 seconds.

Senior Doug Wingrove (145 pounds), VanSchoick, and junior Jim Hassett (152 pounds) each wrestled a team-high 47 matches. Wingrove finished at 42-5.

Jim Hassett had the most six-minute matches with 34, and scored the most individual points with 321.

Someone DOES Care...

Let Us Help
Call: 475-0111
(SOS Will Help You)

Chelsea Together
in Cooperation with SOS

Call 475-0111 for Help

Chelsea Help Line has been established to assist members of the community in times of need or distress. Calling 475-0111 links the caller with SOS Community Crisis Center. This service is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, toll free, and offers anonymous assistance for problems dealing with suicide, substance abuse, homelessness, hunger, personal and family conflicts, and economic and emotional needs.

Help Line was started as part of the Chelsea Together organization and is a United Way agency. "We feel that there is a real need for some type of service to help people in times of crisis. Everyone has problems, and sometimes you don't have anyone to talk to about them. This offers a listening friend who can help put things in perspective or offer advice on how to handle their situation," replied Board Member Blake Thomson. "This idea came about out of concern over the tragedies our community has faced within the last few years. We wanted to do something positive in response."

At the end of this week, students at Beach Middle and Chelsea High schools will receive pocket calendars with the Help Line number on the back. "We are trying to set up a way for the cards to be distributed throughout the community such as through area merchants and employers, the hospital, and ministerial council," remarked Thomson.

Chelsea Help Line is hooked into the SOS Community Crisis Center, located in Ypsilanti. Approximately 70 volunteers are trained to handle the calls. The organization has been in service for 20 years. "We evaluated whether to train local community members and do it on our own, but found that SOS already had the resources all in place, which meant that we could immediately implement the Help Line," commented Thomson.

DENTAL SEALANTS - EXCELLENCE IN PREVENTION

Q: When I took my son in for his last checkup the dentist suggested he have sealants placed on some of his teeth. What are sealants and what are they for?

A: Sealants are used to prevent decay in the biting surfaces of permanent back teeth. They are made of a material very closely related to that used in cosmetic bonding of teeth.

Tooth decay can be classified into several types. Interproximal decay occurs between the teeth where they contact each other. Decay can also occur at the gumline or on the exposed root surface of a tooth. All these kinds of decay can be reduced by proper brushing, flossing, and diet. The most common area for decay to occur, however, is in the deep grooves on the biting surface of the tooth—this is termed occlusal decay.

Fluoride does a wonderful job of hardening tooth enamel and making it less susceptible to decay but occlusal decay is still fairly common because it is impossible for a toothbrush to clean all of the food and bacteria (plaque) from the deep grooves on the teeth. Sealants are designed to prevent occlusal decay by filling in these deep grooves and forming a smooth surface which is more easily cleaned. Not everyone needs sealants and not everyone will benefit from them. Your family dentist is best qualified to decide if your child would be a good candidate for this procedure.

Sealants are not too difficult to place and don't require any anesthesia or drilling but they do take some time to do properly. As with most dental restorations, most sealants will require repair or replacement as time goes by and they become worn. Unfortunately most dental insurance plans do not provide coverage for the preventive placement of sealants. That situation will hopefully change in the future since sealants have proven to be a valuable and effective component of a total preventive dental care regimen.

March Is Reading Month in Both Elementary Schools

Students at both elementary schools are vigorously reading books during March. Each school has recorded well over 3,000 books in just three weeks of reading. Bob Benedict, South school principal, and Bill Wescott, North school principal, are adding pieces of a football uniform for each class as they attain their class goals. By the last day of the March Is Reading Month contest, both principals will be fully equipped to play ball! To culminate the March Is Reading Month activities teachers at both schools will put on a play based on a story chosen from those turned in. North school's teachers will be putting on a play written by fourth grader Emily Arend. South school teachers will be putting on three plays; one written by fourth grader Grant Willis, another by third grader Erik Strahler, and the third based on a library book.

A Problem Most Men Are Familiar With

Enlargement of the prostate gland is something most men experience as they age. An estimated 350,000 operations will be performed this year to relieve the symptoms of this disorder. Newer methods are being developed to treat prostatic enlargement, including more limited surgical procedures and drugs. For more information about benign prostatic enlargement, contact the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan at 1-800-482-1455.

Heaven: Not the Home of The Righteous (part 1)

"Do you mean to tell me that the righteous do not go to heaven when they die?" That's right! Contrary to traditional doctrine, the Word of God reveals with great clarity that the righteous will, at the Second Coming of Jesus, put on immortality and dwell upon the earth. Notice the words of Jesus in Matt 5:15 "Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth." There was never any mention of a heavenly dwelling; instead we see the earth as our inheritance. At this moment, Jehovah, Jesus Christ and the heavenly angels are the only inhabitants in heaven. The plan of salvation never included our existence in heaven. Psalms 115:16 supports this by saying "The heavens, even the heavens, are the Lord's; but the earth hath he given to the children of men." If we were to consider heaven as the place of reward, our hope of salvation would be very restricted. Neither Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, Joshua or any of the faithful servants of God found in the Old Testament ever went to heaven, for Jesus says in John 3:13, long after the death of any of these great men of God, "And no man hath ascended up to heaven . . ." Varied religions argue that one could only ascend to heaven after the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ; however, in reading Peter's sermon at Pentecost, heaven, even after the death and resurrection of Christ, is still inaccessible to mankind. Acts 2:29, 34, accordingly cites "Men and brethren let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day. For David is not ascended into the heavens: . . ." In addition, let me stress the fact that, as found in Acts 13:21-22, God considered David to be a man after his own heart. If a man who: 1) was after God's own heart, 2) fulfilled ALL of God's will, and 3) was as close to God as David was didn't make it to heaven, what is the likelihood that we will? Clearly, our hope is upon the earth.

Accidental Discovery May End Obesity

Suppresses calorie absorption
SWEDEN—Medical researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, have discovered (accidentally) a new weight-loss formula. The new discovery appears to enable an overweight individual to lose pounds and fatty tissue without conventional dieting or exercise.

Scientists made the discovery while searching for a formula to lower cholesterol. In a controlled study of a test group of people, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but the doctors were astounded to find that every patient who used the formula lost weight. The published report of this study stated, "A highly significant decrease in body weight was seen" in patients who received the formula.

The formula was then tested at another prestigious European university hospital. Again, all patients lost weight even though they did not change their eating habits. The report detailing this study, published in the British Journal of Nutrition, stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits." One patient in this study lost more than 30 pounds.

According to one informed source, the active ingredient comes from a 100% natural botanical source and contains no drugs or stimulants. When taken before mealtime it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, especially those from fats, suppressing their absorption.

A significant portion of the calories ingested therefore pass through the digestive system unabsorbed. The body has to get energy to replace the lost calories, so it starts to burn stored fat, which can result in rapid body weight loss. Clinical testing has verified the safety of this formula for long-term use.

The formula is marketed in capsule form in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000. A firm located in Tampa, Florida, has exclusive North American distribution rights. A review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

Cal-Ban 3000 is reasonably priced at $19.95 for a 3-week supply and $38.95 for a 6-week supply. Postage and handling is $3. VISA, M/C, AMEX and COD orders are accepted. To order call TOLL-FREE 1-800-537-3723 or purchase locally at Chelsea Pharmacy, 1050 S. Main St., Chelsea, MI.

Call today to begin the pleasant transformation from fat and flab to the slender firm body you want! If you fail to achieve a major weight loss you may return the empty bottle within 30 days for a 100% refund.

RALPH GUENTHER of Chelsea took advantage of blood screening tests at Chelsea Community Hospital's Health-O-Rama last Saturday morning. Shelly Robbins took a sample of Guenther's blood for analysis. A sizeable crowd took part in the event, designed to alert people to potential health problems.

Village Snow Ordinance Prompts Responses from Angry Residents

Several angry residents who were charged $1 per foot after village crews shoveled their sidewalks this winter took their cases directly to village council last Tuesday.

The village agreed to review the snow ordinance and decide whether it needs to be revised.

The village billed 46 residents a total of $4,750 for snow removal this winter. The ordinance has been in effect for several years. However, it wasn't until last year that the $1-per-foot charge was implemented.

The ordinance requires that residents shovel their sidewalks within 48 hours after a snowfall.

John Capper, a Freer Rd. resident, called the ordinance "harsh," and raised several questions, including whether the ordinance was enforced consistently. He also suggested that residents in violation of the ordinance be given a ticket and a warning to shovel their walks.

Wynn Schumann, a Washington St. resident, complained that no one notified her that her walk was going to be shoveled. In fact, she said Capper often cleans her sidewalk and when she received the village's bill, she couldn't be sure Capper hadn't cleaned it rather than the village.

Other residents questioned how the village arrived at the amount of footage. One woman said that the footage she was charged for would have meant the village shoveled all the way to the middle of her neighbor's driveway.

Others commented that they, in fact, shoveled their walks, but high winds caused snow to drift back over. Someone else complained that a village snow plow shoveled snow onto the sidewalk.

A senior citizen said she doesn't have the money to pay her $108 bill.

Village manager Robert Stalker admitted after the meeting that he went out with village snow plowing crews once and that "we got a lot of dirty looks."

Trustee Joe Merkel said it appeared "mistakes had been made," on the village's part. Council agreed that no one would be fined for late payment. Stalker admitted that snow ordinances are "hard to deal with" and that Chelsea's ordinance does not allow the administration to take into account why a sidewalk does not get shoveled. However, Stalker said that anyone who can show he was over-billed will have his bill adjusted.

EDUCATION RESEARCH

Prepared by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP), Reston, Va.

★ Apathetic Parents Are No. 1 Problem . . .

Reston, Va.—Apathetic parents are the number one problem facing students in the 1990s, according to a group of the nation's best teachers and secondary school principals. That response sharply contrasts with the 1989 Gallup Poll on educational issues in which the public cited drugs as the most serious problem facing American schools.

This reaction comes from 106 teachers and secondary school principals attending Burger King Corporation's "In Honor of Excellence" 1989 Symposium.

Fifty percent of the educators compared to only six percent of the public, cited lack of parental interest as a major obstacle to learning. However, 25 percent of the principals and teachers did see drugs as the biggest problem.

Some of the educators felt teachers and schools are continually blamed for the problems in education today. They call for parents to take a more active role in their children's education and help prepare them to learn.

"We must deal with the problems found at home in order to solve those at school. The home was once our biggest supporter and is now our largest obstacle," said Oklahoma's 1989 Teacher of the Year Paul Michael Adkins, who teaches sociology and American history at Westmore High School in Moore, Okla.

Educators and the public also differ on the issue of parental choice of schools. More than half of the educators oppose choice, compared to one-third of Americans. Giving parents a choice, say the educators, will hurt many schools in low income areas and even force them to close.

"Many students would not be able to take advantage of 'choice.' What about them? Their schools would only become worse," said Byron Moore, principal of Natrona County High School in Casper, Wyo., 1989 Wyoming Principal of the Year. "Choice is too simplistic for a very complicated problem."

The educators were also polled on a number of other key issues, such as AIDS and teen-age pregnancy. An overwhelming 83 percent favor including students suffering from AIDS in the mainstream classroom environment. Fifty-seven percent oppose laws such as those in effect in West Virginia and Florida which revoke dropouts' drivers licenses. Pregnant students should be permitted to continue their studies through graduation in a normal school environment, say 70 percent of the teachers and principals. In a related question, 63 percent assert that schools should provide day care for students with children.

The most positive finding of the principal and teacher poll was that in spite of the hardships, criticism and heavy responsibility borne by educators today, 96 percent said that if they had it to do over again, they would. "No other calling gives life as much meaning. Teaching is my way of living deeply and richly—to have it make some difference that I lived at all!" said Linda Lentini of North Miami Elementary school in North Miami, Fla., 1989 Florida Teacher of the Year.

The poll was conducted at the sixth annual symposium co-sponsored by Burger King Corporation, the Council of Chief State School Officers and the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Homeowners Urged To Review Home Security

As homeowners spring clean their yards and spruce up building exteriors, they should also take some time to protect homes against break-ins, which occur every six minutes state-wide, AAA Michigan advises.

"The best way to prevent a burglary is to keep your home looking occupied, and reinforce deadbolt lock

McAuley Completes Maternity Unit Renovation

McAuley Family Birth Place at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital (SJM), Ann Arbor, has recently completed a two-year renovation project featuring nine Labor Delivery Recovery (LDR) rooms and eight Labor Delivery Recovery Postpartum (LDRP) rooms that reflect the latest thinking in modern childbirth practices. The renovation also included construction of a new newborn nursery and a special care nursery for more intensive newborn care.

A record number of babies, 4,218, were born at SJM last year, making it the leading maternity center in Washtenaw county and one of the top in Michigan. The hospital draws many patients from western Wayne and Livingston counties. The renovation makes it the most extensive single room maternity care unit in Michigan.

"The creation of LDRs and LDRPs and the move from semi-private to private rooms means a woman isn't being moved around from room to room as her labor progresses," said Sally Bailey, clinical nurse manager for Labor and Delivery. "Because everything takes place in one room, our staff can work more efficiently."

She added, "In an LDR or LDRP room, a woman can labor, deliver and recover in the same home-like setting. After the birth, she can keep her baby with her as long as she wants."

Each LDR room is spacious, attractively decorated and comes equipped with a birthing bed, recliner, fetal monitor, baby crib, color television with remote control, carpeting, wallpaper and artwork. Each room has its own large private bathroom with hand held shower massage or jacuzzi bath.

"We always had a family-centered approach to childbirth. The new facilities help make the experience even more positive for mothers and families."

McAuley Family Birth Place patients may now choose the LDRP room option if they would like to go home with their new baby 24 hours after giving birth. The LDRP philosophy promotes family independence through participation in self and infant care. Prenatal education classes provide information that enables the parents to safely and confidently care for the newborn and the new mother upon returning home, Bailey explained.

LDRPs are designed for families that anticipate an uncomplicated stay following the birth of their baby. New mothers must want to return home within 24 hours following delivery of their baby in order to choose this option. Expectant parents who choose this option are encouraged to attend the LDRP prenatal education classes.

To register for LDRP classes or for more information on the McAuley Family Birth Place, call Ask-A-Nurse at 572-5500 or 1-800-526-3726.

To celebrate the opening of the McAuley Family Birth Place there were tours and a seminar on March 24, entitled "Is It Time To Have A Baby?" Call 572-5946 for more information or to register for the program.

strikeplates and window sash locks with longer screws to make them more difficult to open," said Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan community safety services manager.

Although some people spend thousands of dollars on high-tech security systems, making a few cost-free or inexpensive improvements may be sufficient to deter intruders, he said.

Cullen suggests:
 —Keep windows and doors closed and locked. Statistics show that 25 percent of all burglaries occur in unlocked homes. Never leave keys under a doormat or in a mailbox.

—Exterior lighting—Installing a 150-watt exterior light near entrances can discourage potential burglars, who don't want to be seen by neighbors. Also, a photoelectric cell can automatically turn on floodlights at dusk.

—Windows—Polycarbonate sheets, a tough, glass-like material, and glass block are stronger than glass and can discourage an attempted entry through a window.

—Deadbolt locks—Firmly secures a door to the frame, making it difficult for a burglar to kick in.

—Steel-clad doors—Resists break-ins better than core wood doors. Also provides better heat insulation.

—Cam-operated locks—A circular-shaped lock that snugs window frames tightly, making windows more secure, because they can't be pried open with a pocket knife.

Homeowners can reap savings on property insurance when they improve home security. Many insurance companies offer discounts of 5 to 15 percent for policyholders who install protective devices in their homes.

Better Labels Could Juice-Up Apple Sales

Michigan apple growers are working for changes in fruit juice labeling laws that they hope will encourage consumers to buy Michigan grown apple juice.

Growers are hoping for regulations that would require blended juice drinks to list country of origin and the percentage of juice contained in the beverage.

"A lot of these juices that are being presented to the public are made up of juice that's imported from countries all over the world," said Tom Butler, manager of the Michigan Processing Apple Growers Division of the Michigan Agricultural Co-operative Marketing Association. "Going along with the consumer's right to know, we feel that a consumer ought to have a choice whether to buy domestic product or buy one that's made from juices from any one of 26 or 30 countries around the world."

Butler said Michigan apple growers hope that if consumers have an opportunity to make an informed choice, they'll buy Michigan grown apple juice.
