DANCER'S clothing store is going out of business after more than 25 years at their Main St. location. Owner Tom Ford cited a number of factors, including a soft economy and slow sales.

Economic Factors Forcing Dancer's Clothing Store To Go Out of Business

Dancer's clothing store, a fixture on S. Main St. for more than 25 years, is going out of business.

Dancer's will become the fifth downtown Main St. business to close in the last year. Kusterer's Market, Chelsea Hardware Co., Village Lawn & Garden, and Chelsea Pharmacy have all closed downtown stores recently, for a variety of reasons.

Owner Tom Ford, a Stockbridge resident, cited a list of reasons for his decision, including too much competition in the clothing business, his belief that a recession is around the corner, the parking situation, personal reasons, and the fact that sales have continued to drop since Chelsea Shopping Center opened.

Ford said last fall he had planned to eliminate the men's lines of clothing and specialize in women's clothing. However, the continued decrease in sales changed those plans.

Now the timing is right to liquidate the business, he said, because his lease expires this summer. In addition, the building, owned by Jack Merkel, is for sale.

"There are only so many dollars to go around," Ford said of the increased competition.

"All of (Chelsea Shopping Center's) business had to come from someone. Plus, everybody's property taxes are going up, which keeps that much more money out of the economy."

When an economic downturn hits, Ford said, clothing is one of the first things people stop buying. A soft economy, he said, is probably the biggest reason for closing up.

Ford also said the downtown is in a state of "evolution." He said when Chelsea Pharmacy left, the downtown suddenly ceased to be the place where a person could get virtually all the basic goods. And that, he said, has hurt his business.

Ford said he believes the downtown's most basic long-term problem is parking, and that the solution to the problem will require the expenditure of a lot of money. He said the downtown is still far more viable than many other small towns and that he believes eventually all the vacant business spaces will be filled.

"I have enjoyed Chelsea," Ford said.

"It's a nice community. Unfortunately, it's going through some growing pains."

Ford will continue to operate his other location in Stockbridge. Although all the Dancer's stores throughout Michigan got their start from the original store in Stockbridge, they are all owned by different people and operate independently.

A going out of business sale will begin Thursday, Ford said.

School Board Gives Tenure, Awards Asbestos Removal Contract

Two major agenda items at Monday's Chelsea Board of Education meeting were delayed as several board members didn't receive their agendas in the mail until Monday.

Those items included placing the curriculum director's position on a two-year continuing contract as is the case with other administrators in the system, and approving administrative salary increases.

However, the board did award a $22,457 asbestos removal contract to Arbor Asbestos Abatement, Inc. for work to be performed this summer at Chelsea High school, and North and South Elementary schools.

"A lot of school districts have been hit a lot harder than we have," said superintendent Joe Plasecki Tuesday morning.

"However, I'd still rather spend the money on the kids."

Tenure was awarded to district teachers at all levels.

North school teachers who received tenure included Janet Alford, David Brinklow, Barbara Brown, Jill Carlson, Marie Crouch, Charlotte Danborn, D'Ann Gietzen, Marsha Hansen, Susan Harris, Barbara Locks, Jean Meconi, Peggy Moore, Cindy Mortensen, Beth Newman, Bernice Packard, Beverly Peebles, Sherri Plank, Marcia Quilter, Janet Rossi, Sally Schluppe, Eric Smith, Berta Stein, Cheryl Vogel, Susan Walton, June Warren, and Mary Watson.

Hamilton, Timothy Hinkle, Sharon Hodgson, Laura Holdsworth, Lexa Knight, Gena Klink, Ronald Lacey, Laurel McDonald, Margaret Nance, Sally Peiter, Helen Prohaska, Patti Rogers, Denise Schiller, Janet Stevens, Ruth Stelstra, James Ticknor, Nancy Van Blaricum, Sue Yager, Sally Weber, William Wehrwein, Joann Williams, and Gail Wireman.

Nancy McKinnon, a first-year teacher at South, was also awarded tenure as she has had tenure status in other districts.

South teacher Karen Henry was placed on second-year probationary status.

Beach school teachers who were granted tenure include Mary Baker, Richard Bareis, Joe Beard, Sue Beard, Nola Borders, Pat Clarke, Susan Craig, Terry Curtis, Barbara Fisher, Kathy Gilbert, Tami Gillingham, William Gourley, Jim Hoff, Jim Hoffmeyer, Randall Johnson, David Knisely, Bert Kruse, Karen LaRue, Alice Leith, Jean Mann, Joanne Masters, Warren Mayer, Judy Parker, Ann Schaffner, Leonard Solomon, Alice Steinbach, Linda Turok, Pete Warburton, Judy Ward, Beverly Yelsik, and Don Young.

Debbie Butler, David Jolly, Marlon Krutty, and Sally Rendell, who have all completed their second year of probation at Beach, were also awarded tenure.

Beach teachers who received second-year probation status included Ann Meersma, Margene Rogers, and Peter Rosheger.

Chelsea High school teachers who were granted tenure included John Andrews, William Bainton, Helen Bareis, Phil Bareis, Jim Bechtelhelmer, Bruce Boughner, Vince Brumfiel, Alice Byrne, John Capper, Sue Carter, William Coelius, Nancy Cooper, Ann Crowley, Terry Curtis, Craig Demlow, Chris Dimanin, William Gourley, John Groesser, Hazel Hermsillo, L. ## DNR Likely To Approve Landfill Clean-up Plan

Michigan Department of Natural Resources is likely to approve the village's landfill remediation plan within the next two weeks, according to DNR staff geologist Barb Vetort.

The plan, mandated by the landfill consent orders signed some time ago by the village, details how the village wants to clean up groundwater pollution at the Werkner Rd. landfill. It was filed Feb. 5 by assistant village manager Tom Warstler.

Vetort said Monday that she is probably going to recommend that the plan be approved essentially as submitted by village consultants.

"It seems like an appropriate way to handle the problem," Vetort said.

"That's assuming their geology is right. Right now, I don't see any reason why the plan can't work."

Vetort said she hadn't seen any "flagrant flaws" in the plan. However, she said there are a few technical questions that she has to verify before she can make her final recommendation.

The plan calls for groundwater to be routed into an 850-foot drainage trench or buried drain, collected, and cleaned on-site through a filtering process. The water would then be put into the wetland adjacent to the landfill, where the groundwater flows naturally. The plan does not call for the clean-up of any soils, or the wetland itself.

Because the plan calls for discharging water into the wetlands, the village will need a permit from the state department of land and water management, Vetort said.

Cost of the village's remediation plan is not known, although it was considered by consultants to be the least costly clean-up method. The village could be forced to clean the groundwater for 30 years, according to DNR guidelines.

Cost of the clean-up, the plan indicated, will be determined primarily by the amount of contamination in the water.

SPENCER GALLAGHER donned his coonskin cap, grabbed an Easter basket, and got his parents to take him to Saturday's Easter Egg Hunt at Chelsea High school. Spencer, 3, picked up quite a few eggs. He is the son of Kevin and Judy Gallagher.

Young Girl Lifts Pair of Earrings

A young teen-age girl stole a pair of gold earrings from Dayspring Gifts on Thursday, April 5, according to Chelsea police.

The girl entered the store with several other young girls. Her companions went to the back of the store.

When the store clerk was distracted by a telephone call, the girl swapped the gold earrings with another pair she was wearing.

According to the clerk, the girl was about 13 years old, 5'1" tall, with dark brown hair, big eyes, a pug nose and was wearing a navy-colored shirt, and white shorts with blue, yellow, and red buttons.

The girl was also seen in Dancer's and Chelsea Office Supply.

Fund-Raising Starts To Complete Pierce Park Pavilion Project

A new addition to Chelsea's recreational and cultural facilities, to be erected in time for its first summer season, will be the Pierce Park Pavilion. The six-sided, sheltered structure will be the centerpiece for outdoor musical concerts and a variety of entertainment events. Audiences, seated on the grass of Pierce Park, perhaps with cushions or light chairs of their own, will enjoy day and night events by local and regional performers.

The project originated with the Rotary Club last fall and has generated wide community support.

A breakfast meeting of community leaders interested in the pavilion project was held Monday morning at Chelsea Community Hospital. Dr. Fred van Reesema convened the meeting and outlined its goals. First, there is fund-raising for the project which is already off to a good start. Second, are plans for construction of the pavilion which is scheduled to begin next month.

Organizations supporting the project, most of which were represented at the Monday breakfast, include Rotary and Lions, the Recreation Council, Community Education, Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Foundation of Chelsea, Chelsea Community Hospital and Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Also represented was the Village of Chelsea which will own the Pierce Park Pavilion and be responsible for its maintenance.

Contributions sufficient to start the project have already been received and sponsors of the Pavilion are confident of public support to see the job through to completion. The only need is cost of materials since members of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club are volunteering their labor for the carpentry and roofing.

In what some village officials saw as the death of the current village ordinance regulating signs for businesses, the Chelsea Village Council voted 3-2 last week to grant a variance to Taco Bell for the placement of a logo on the north side of the restaurant on M-52. The variance was granted after a long, and sometimes heated discussion about the topic at the regular April 15 council meeting. Voting for the variance were trustees Richard Steele, Joe Merkel and Gary Bentley. Phil Boham and Stephanie Kanten voted no. Herman Radloff was not present.

Chelsea school district was to ask for an additional 2.9 mills in operating millage for the next three school years in order to offset an anticipated $530,000 deficit. The school board decided on the figure at their regular meeting. The district was also to ask for a three-year renewal of the 2.9 mills in operating millage that was narrowly approved by the district voters in 1983. "The unfortunate thing is that the district will be asking for a significant increase and it will still be operating under less than desirable conditions," said assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

The Downtown Development Authority was awarded a grant of $3,000 to generate working plans for the beautification and pedestrian lighting of the Chelsea business district. The award was made by the trustees of the Civic Foundation of Chelsea following review and approval of preliminary plans by the CFC distribution committee. "The $3,000 fund is being invested in conceptual drawings by architects and professional planners," Mark Heydlauff, DDA chairman announced. "Significant attention," he added, "centers around the expansion of the downtown area as it moves north beyond the railroad tracks. Special consideration along the way will be given to landscaping in the area of our restored rail depot."

Chelsea police were investigating an armed robbery which occurred in the Village at the home of R. Helm on Main St. According to Helm the rob-

one ounce bags of marijuana. Helm told police that he and two friends were in the living room of his home when two men were admitted to the house to purchase marijuana. Helm said he didn't know the pair, but they were referred to him as customers by a friend. Conversation ensued and one of the subjects asked where the bathroom was. Helm told him it was upstairs. Momentarily, he returned and pulled out a pistol and demanded money and the marijuana.

Scoring their only run in the seventh inning of play, captured the game for the Chelsea Bulldogs as they met Lincoln on the opponents' diamond for their first conference game of the '76 season. According to varsity baseball coach Paul Terpstra, the winning run came on a bunt by John Toon. Toon stole second, went to third on an error and scored the run on an infield single by Mike Check. Don Morrison pitched the entire game for the Bulldogs, walking only one, striking out eight and giving up a mere three hits.

With the help of Chelsea School District, the Band and Orchestra Boosters, and MSBOA, the instrumental string program had the pleasure of a visit from Jacquelyn Dillon. Mrs. Dillon was a string clinician who traveled all over the United States to help string programs, especially new ones. She was raised in Kansas, taught in Oklahoma to build an outstanding string program and then resided in Virginia.

A dispute over whether or not a first grade teacher should be rehired involved the Chelsea Board of Education in a controversy which might have led to the recall of six of the seven members of the board. The imbroglio resulted from the decision of the School Board not to offer a contract renewal to Mrs. Barbara Segal, first grade teacher at South Elementary school. School board members stated that the decision not to offer the contract renewal was made upon recommendation by Elementary School Principal Sylvester Wojcicki, who made the recommendation to them after observation and evaluation of the teacher's performance.

Administration Notifies Hospitals, Nursing Homes of Rate Cuts

Hospitals and nursing homes were recently notified that their reimbursement rates for Medicaid services will be cut June 1 unless the Legislature completes action to repair a potential budget deficit in the current fiscal year.

The Senate left for a spring recess without addressing the issue and a bill passed by the House falls short of fixing a problem the administration acknowledges may have worsened since its call for action in February.

Payments to hospitals, which have already sued the state for inadequate reimbursement rates, would be cut 6 percent and nursing homes 4 percent according to the notices sent by Management and Budget Director Shelby Solomon.

Solomon, who said Senate Appropriations Chair Harry Gast (R-St. Joseph) has promised to deal with the budget immediately after the recess, said the notices are not intended as a club to pressure action.

He said federal requirements for a 60-day notice to cut rates meant the letters had to be sent now in case no legislative agreement is reached and the administration must eliminate the potential deficit on its own.

"For financial prudence, we had to begin the process," he said while adding he believes the Senate will act in good faith.

Gast said he is not upset about the notices, although he expects "it will generate a flock of mail. I think we'd be on the problem anyway."

He said he expects the Senate can complete its version of the budget changes a week to 10 days after session resumes and a conference agreement reached with the House and the administration by about the first week of May.

Governor James J. Blanchard had proposed a 2.5 percent cut across the board, exempting only education areas, to save $133 million, with that money and new appropriations used to increase spending in corrections, social services and three other areas by $188 million.

Solomon said the additional spending requirements may be even higher, meaning the across the board cuts will have to be somewhat deeper, with a quarterly report on major budget accounts due in several days.

The House-passed bill (HB 5278) cut spending by only $115 million as some areas were not subject to the 2.5 percent reduction. Solomon said the House "left a good chunk undone."

Controls Before Insurance Rate Reductions: Report Rates for auto insurance premiums

cannot be cut without new controls on costs for lawsuits, health care and auto accident repair, according to a report released by a Senate committee studying the issue.

But questions still remain whether any significant legislation can be passed this year, when the House has already approved a straight 30 percent rate cut and Senate Republicans have proposed a 26 percent cut in mandated coverages by making some benefits optional.

According to the Report on No-Fault Auto Insurance Reform in Michigan by the Senate Commerce and Technology Committee, "Michigan's no-fault auto insurance system is probably the best in America."

But committee chair Sen. Dick Posthumus (R-Lowell) said rate reductions can be achieved through a carefully-crafted package of bills.

He said, "The report and all the testimony indicated that (rate cuts) just can't come out of profits. To do it, we've got to go at what is causing costs to go up." That means reductions in litigation, medical expenses and repair costs, he added.

Utilization review, case management and payment schedules would help control increases in medical expenses, the report says. In addition, the report said that the no-fault system can achieve greater cost savings through safety.

"The law can do more to deter reckless and irresponsible driving and encourage the purchase of safe cars and safety devices," it said.

The report said stricter standards for bringing lawsuits, to make the system truer to the no-fault concept, has the potential to reduce costs. It suggested prohibiting payment of damages to drivers who are more than 50 percent at fault and allow extra damages for "pain and suffering" only for innocent accident victims.

The report said that further study is needed on the issue of collision and comprehensive costs, although it notes the "practical limitations" on enacting bills to hold down those costs due to "constitutional constraints" and potential antitrust problems if there are mandated private agreements between insurers and auto repair shops.

How much rates will be reduced is unknown, Posthumus said. "It depends on what we do. If we attack all three areas, we could cut rates significantly," he said.

Because there is widespread agreement on the factual information regarding insurance costs, Posthumus said he will meet with Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) and put together a bipartisan package "to attack those areas where costs can be controlled."

One way to reduce rates would be to provide optional benefits, as proposed in SB 712 and suggested in the report, Posthumus said. "But that is something that we don't know what we can do through (the Legislature) realistically. We need to determine what is politically possible in the Legislature that will give people a real cut and is not just a political answer."

Aside from praising the Michigan system, Posthumus said the committee hearings made two other points: "our benefits were among the best in the country for consumers and we returned more dollars per premium dollar paid than any other state."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The feller that runs the country store keeps the stove going in winter and the soda pop cold in summer, and he is careful after pumping gas in all seasons to wash his hands before cutting cheese. He usual goes about his business, and if one of the fellers is in the way he'll ask him to move. But he bothers not at all about keeping up with the session's agender.

There was a unusual lull in the store Saturday night, and the store feller took a break from stocking shelves to announce he had thought the situation up one side and down the other, and he was full convinced that he ought to change his place to a not sold in stores store.

From what he reads, hears on the radio and sees on the television, the store feller said, everything that ain't sold in stores is a bargain. You can call or write for a 70 percent discount, but if you go inside the store, you got to pay retail on top of wholesale so the store can clear enough to stay in business. He jiggers to hire some operators to stand by in booths outside, and to put in a circle drive so folks can order over the intercom. He can box up stuff fer folks that write in, and they can pick it up off the back steps the next time they're by.

A not sold in stores store can cut way back on lighting, cooling and heating, he said, and he won't have to worry about making displays and cleaning up. Farthermore, he went on, a sold in stores store has got to keep stamping new prices over old prices ever time the stock market hiccups and causes sneezes in inflation and lending rates.

The fellers turned thumbs down on the change, and Bug Hookum jumped on price stamping like a frog on a fly. Bug said the wholesale price don't go up on stuff on the shelves, so the store ought not to jack up the retail price. The store feller said he's got to make more off what he's got so he can pay more fer what he gets, but it was clear this line of reason was lost on Bug. The rest of the fellers egged Bug on, so Bug allowed there ought to be a law where stores could only use them printed on stripes fer pricing, so they couldn't be upgraded ever other day.

The store feller said it gits his goat fer folks to blame him fer being caught in the middle. Fer instant, he said he had to pay 20 percent more fer

Easter candy this year, so he's got to pass the increase on to the customers. That might be so on the chocklet that goes to the bad after a few months, Bug shot back, but new prices ought not to go on the same hard candy that shows up in the glass case ever year at this time.

Zeke Grubb was full agreed with Bug, and he told the store feller that taking the blame comes with the territory. In olden days, Zeke said, the Greeks killed messengers that bring bad news. Times have changed, but human nature ain't, he said. We can't see the Federal Reserve when we trade trucks, Zeke said, but we can reach out and touch the salesman that tells us what the interest rate will be. We can't pile all our troubles on the back of a goat and chase the critter in the desert, Zeke said, in this day and time we'd be hauled in to court fer cruelty to animals.

Personal, I can see where chopping off the heads of bearers of bad news would serious hinder honest reporting any day and time. But maybe the papers could work harder at accenting the positive, like they do when 150 folks ain't killed in a plane crash that killed only 75.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Putting on the Hits Slated Friday Evening

By Kim Roberts
Nine groups will be competing in the fifth annual Putting on the Hits lip sync contest on Friday, April 20. The Bleu Print fund-raiser will be held in the CHS auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Each lip sync team will be judged in three categories including originality (100 pts.), appearance (100 pts.), and the actual lip sync (100 pts.). The acts will last between two to four minutes in length and are required to have one CHS student in the group. Prizes of $100, $50, and $25 will be awarded to the three groups that receive the highest points.

The celebrity judge for the competition will be Chuck Cordell of WQB radio station. Returning for their fifth year judging are Dannie and Lubna Jones. Both are involved with the State and World finalist color guard Studio One, as show co-ordinator and choreographer.

Proceeds of Putting on the Hits support the Chelsea High School newspaper, The Bleu Print. The Bleu Print staff chose the lip sync competition over candy sales as a fund-raiser to provide entertainment for the community and is looking forward to a huge success.

A local band, the Scapegoats, will be performing for the audience between acts at the $3 event. Everyone is welcome to the fun.

QUOTES

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"I would rather be first in a little Iberia village than second in Rome . . ."

—Julius Caesar

Some people are natural born leaders. They cannot be content to follow or serve as anyone's lieutenant, no matter how much responsibility they might have in that position. Caesar was in this category. It was necessary for him to be first, wherever he was . . . if not in Rome, then in some smaller village.

Luckily for mankind, we do not all feel as Caesar. Many of us are more content when someone else assumes the headaches of leadership.

Thoughtful people often prefer to specify the details of their own funeral service. Financial aspects can also be pre-arranged. Come in and let our counselors explain the possible advantages to you. No obligation.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

A letter to the Editor two weeks ago from Steven A. Yarows, M.D. demands further attention. I'll take this letter point by point.

Dr. Yarows points out that the column is an advertisement. The column is paid for. I discussed a column on chiropractic health care with the editors of The Chelsea Standard. They stated it was their policy not to give such a column to any health care writer. In this way they protect their reputation for being unbiased. This is understandable; however, I considered the information in this column to be vitally important. Therefore, I see the column more as a public service.

This brings me to the next point. It is stated in his letter that I am unprofessional and my columns are nothing but personal opinions. I do not happen to believe it is unprofessional to speak out on the abuse, fraud, and dangers in American medicine today. Indeed many prominent medical doctors agree with what I've stated. As evidence I would encourage everyone to read Medicine on Trial written by a professor of medicine at Yale University and Dissent in Medicine by Henry Heimlich (creator of the Heimlich maneuver), Robert Mendelsohn.

As far as my "opinions," anyone who has been reading my column knows that I have continually used documented research studies to show the public how effective chiropractic care can be.

It is stated I dislike physicians and the A.M.A. I assume Yarows means I dislike medical physicians (there are other kinds—chiropractic, homeopathic, osteopathic, etc.). This simply is not true. I admire many medical people, they are, however, the people working for change. Dislike the A.M.A.? Absolutely! Am I expected to admire the A.M.A.? A corrupt, fraudulent, conspiracy-minded group of greedy power seekers? Listen to these words: "There are lingering effects of the conspiracy; the A.M.A. has never acknowledged the lawlessness of its past conduct; systematic, long-term wrong doing and intent to destroy the chiropractic profession; the A.M.A. could not be trusted beyond its next confrontation with the chiropractic profession." My opinion you ask? No, they are the words of Federal District Court Judge Susan Getzendanner. She was stating why an injunction against the A.M.A. was necessary after the court finding them guilty of fraud, monopoly, and conspiracy in trying to destroy a rival licensed health care discipline.

This opinion was reaffirmed by the federal court of appeals. So much for Dr. Yarows use of the word "allegedly."

He states I'm trying to destroy medicine and have people abandon all medicine and surgery. He then uses the old medical trick of pointing to extreme circumstances. In this case heart attack. This is of course where medical care is needed. Great things are also done with severs burns and badly broken bodies. But this is not the majority of daily health care. I'm not trying to destroy medicine; however, it needs to be pointed out to the public that chiropractic physicians are treating many types of headaches, allergies, asthma, digestive complaints.

This leads inevitably to the next point. Is it unsubstantiated (and in Yarows' opinion ludicrous) to attribute the loss of lives to a lack of chiropractic care? Consider: A study done by Jeffrey and Joel Saal, both medical doctors and surgeons, found that 50% of low back surgery was unnecessary. In an AV-MED H.M.O. study 12 disc cases that were slated for surgery were cured with chiropractic adjustments. Now, also consider these medical studies. A Yale-Newhaven study found that 2,000 people a week die from the side effects of medications. Still unsubstantiated and ludicrous; I'll let you judge.

As I finally finish up (and huge amounts more need to be understood by every health care consumer) I'd like to reflect on Yarows' contention that medical physicians and chiropractors have been working well together. This statement must have even given his medical colleagues a laugh. Note how he says "we have patients that use chiropractic services" (translation: we haven't been able to dissuade some patients from using chiropractic) and we have seen patients referred by other chiropractors for medical treatment. Exactly!

A Baton and Associates study found that over 90% of doctors of chiropractic referred patients to M.D.'s when necessary (myself included). Note that you see no mention of referrals to chiropractors from Dr. Yarows. No working in conjunction. No doctors of chiropractic on staff at the area hospitals. O.K., one more study. Per Freitag, M.D. reported his findings in the aforementioned antitrust trial against the A.M.A. He found that chiropractors on staff at a Chicago hospital reduced the time spent in the orthopedic ward 80%. This was at an average cost of $1,000 per day. Think about that the next time you pay your health insurance premium.

I have the documentation for all I've stated. The studies, copies of the federal courts' opinion and more. Further, I would be happy to publicly debate these points.

Girl Scouts Start Project To Keep Chelsea Beautiful

As part of Chelsea Girl Scout Troop's "Keep Chelsea Beautiful" project Brownie Troop No. 632 organized and participated in the painting of the boat at Veterans Park last Saturday. They were joined by Boy Scout Den No. 9 to begin the project. Another junior troop will join them next week to continue the work. Troop No. 632 came up with this idea because they all love "The Boat Park" and wanted to keep it in good shape. The girls were concerned last year when work was being done at the park and it looked like they were removing the boat. The village did some repair work to get it ready to paint and gave permission for the painting.

After the boat and other park displays are finished they are having a pizza party to celebrate. Also look for more "beautification" work to be done by all Chelsea Girl Scouts on April 28 at Chelsea Community Hospital, McKune Memorial Library, Pierce Park, and the new Senior Citizens Center.

Census Army Determined To Overcome Woes

Four and a half million census forms have proved undeliverable. Uncounted numbers of the government envelopes have been given the old leave-ho with junk mail. More millions have been received, opened and gone unanswered because the questions are difficult, intrusive, hard to understand. As a result, by last week the Census Bureau had received only 57 million returns instead of the 70 million they had expected. So government head hunters will have to visit some 12 million additional homes in person at an extra cost of $130 million.

Statisticians at the Census Bureau track the population of this country continuously, and many of the final results of the 1990 head count can be accurately predicted.

California, which adds new residents at the rate of one Chelsea every three days, will remain the most populous state in the union with 29.5 million people. The Golden State can also expect to claim seven additional seats in the House of Representatives. As though this weren't enough, during the 1980's California surpassed the population of all Canada.

Sad to say, Michigan has not yet overcome the Sun Belt drain of the past 10 years. The forecast shows that we still have a one percent loss of population hanging over from the last decade. Consequently, we are the only state in the nation with a net loss in population since 1980.

The Population Reference Bureau predicts that Michigan will lose two seats in Congress. If this proves to be so, boundaries of congressional districts will have to be redrawn, accompanied by much gerrymandering in Lansing. Nevertheless, Carl Pursell can be expected to seek his eighth term in Congress.

In addition to helping decide allocations of political power, census figures are used in determining where to locate highways and schools. Federal funds amounting to more than $30 billion are awarded to states and cities based on census counts. In the private sector, banks are guided by census numbers in choosing locations for new branches. Chains of restaurants and other franchise enterprises are eager to make early use of the 1990 figures.

250 Million Americans and Counting

Just as the Census effort was getting launched April 1, the estimated U. S. population reached 250 million. Our nation achieved this landmark with a daily delivery rate of 10,200 new babies and 6,400 people from foreign lands.

Counting a quarter billion people in a matter of days is demanding the efforts of 9,000 staff census employees plus 480,000 specially trained part-timers. This is the greatest mobilization of government forces short of war. About 200,000 of these workers are enumerators searching for what now appears to be 49 million citizens who have failed, one way or another, to reply to the Bureau.

In their midst will be homeless people, illegal aliens in hiding, illiterates who don't know what's going on, and invisible fathers of welfare families. Also to be reckoned will be an overcount among families who have more than one home.

For reasons such as these, the final count will not—cannot—be totally accurate. There will be local situations where the census count will result in lawsuits and bitterly contested congressional boundary fights. The Census Bureau faced 52 lawsuits as a result of the 1980 census.

Even George Washington had trouble with the census count. He was unhappy because the 1790 census reported a national population of 3.9 million. The president complained to Secretary of State Thomas Jefferson that the U. S. would look much better in the eyes of the world if the number was a solid 4 million. Surely, he argued, the head counters must have missed at least 100,000 somewhere. Tom sympathized with the viewpoint but couldn't let George tell a lie.

The Nosy Nose Counts

We know that two questionnaire forms were used in the 1990 census. Most of us received the short form consisting of seven population questions and seven about housing. One mail patron in six received the long form with 36 questions . . . including certain queries which some people considered intrusive. Individuals took particular exception to inquiries about their plumbing. This, of course, is a key indicator of the standard of living. Objectors to the 1990 questions would not have been much happier with census questions asked a century ago.

In 1880 when census workers came across a child who appeared to be homeless, the enumerators were required to ask, "Has the origin of this child been respectable? Is he (or she) an idiot?" Questions about a suicide in the home narrowed down to such specifics as "cutting-of-the-throat, hanging, drowning, shooting, poisoning by arsenic, opium, etc."

Census takers of 1880 also tried to classify black people in subgroups by shades of skin color. When visiting asylums the enumerators (or whatever they were called at the time) wanted to know if the inmates were physically restrained by "Strait-jacket, Strap or Bail-and-Chain?"

This year, bush pilots are airlifting enumerators from one rural village to another in Alaska to count Arctic natives. Equally determined head hunters in other states will call at million dollar mansions and shacks in farm labor camps. They will tramp miles through suburbs and villages as well as driving to rural homes in the townships. Past experience has found them knocking on the doors of brothels and, in the course of their rounds, coming upon robberies in progress. Our 1990 census workers will be treated to new experiences as they call upon denizens of crack houses.

To assist people who have problems with the English language, the bureau will provide interpreters skilled in many tongues including Yiddish and Serbo-Croatian. Census questionnaires have been published in Spanish and there is a toll-free number for Latinos—1-800-CUENTAN.

According to David Wessel, reporter for the Wall Street Journal, "The Census Bureau finds black men particularly elusive and has commissioned several researchers to figure out why. One conclusion is that when the bureau misses whites, it misses them because it didn't send a form or an enumerator to someone's home. When it misses blacks, however, it usually misses them because the person responding to the questionnaire fails to list someone."

Past studies suggest that one of many reasons the census misses so many black men is that black women on welfare won't list the men who live with them for fear of losing their benefits."

Census officials vow that they will not divulge any person's census information until the year 2062 when the 1990 census becomes part of the national archives.

A complete copy of 1990 census result, in printout form, will be available in two or three years for $100,000. A condensed version (900 to 1,000 pages) containing most of the real meat will appear in forthcoming issues of the Statistical Abstracts of the United States. These may be purchased from the U. S. Government Bookstore in Detroit, phone 226-7816.

Social Services Dept. Needs Foster Homes For Child Care

Can you make time in your life for a child who needs you? Washtenaw County Department of Social Services needs foster homes to provide care for children who have been removed from the home of their natural family because of abuse or neglect. They need black and white homes for children of all ages. They especially need homes for brothers and sisters to be placed together and families who understand drug abuse and sexual abuse. Interested? A foster parent/adoption training program will start Tuesday, April 24, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Department of Social Services, 2350 West Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor. Call Pat Ruby at 994-1694 to register or for more information.

Soil Conservation District Helps in Observing Soil, Water Stewardship Week

Emphasizing everyone's role in protecting soil and water resources for future generations, the Washtenaw County SCD is encouraging local churches, organizations and individuals to join the nation-wide observation of Soil and Water Stewardship Week, April 23-May 6. The local district, which works throughout the year on soil and water conservation measures, is providing literature that highlights man's responsibility to be active stewards of our nation's soil and water resources. William Fishbeck, chairman of the Washtenaw County SCD, said that everyone needs to learn about the impact of their actions and the actions of those around us. "Recognizing that, we can commit ourselves to individual and community action. By using good erosion prevention practices, conserving water or simply planting a tree, we'll each help make the world a better place for our children's children," said Fishbeck. Since 1955, the National Association of Conservation Districts has sponsored Soil and Water Stewardship Week, in co-operation with nearly 3,000 local districts nation-wide, as one way to emphasize the importance of good stewardship of basic soil and water resources. Materials especially designed to convey the 1990 theme, "Citizens of all Creation," are being distributed by the Washtenaw County SCD and may be obtained by calling or visiting the district office at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, phone (313)761-6721. The artwork and printed materials may also be helpful for Earth Day activities.

Beach Problem Solvers Invited To Participate in State Bowl

A team of Beach Middle school students has been invited to participate in the 10th annual Michigan Future Problem Solving Program State Bowl at the University of Michigan this Saturday and Sunday, April 21-22.

The team of Amy Brown, Christine Koch, Maya Ponte, and Sarah Stolaski and their coach, Mary Baker, will compete with 120 teams, which represent the top 15 percent of teams in the state.

The state bowl is the culmination of a year-long program where students are taught to seek, attack, and solve problems related to future issues. More than 14,000 students worked on three problems during the year; tropical forest destruction, the arms race, and poverty. Their solutions were critiqued by professional evaluators. Based on their approach to the poverty issue, the top 15 percent of Michigan teams from three age divisions, 4-6, 7-9, and 10-12, were invited to the state competition. While the teams know the general top of this year's bowl—medical advances—they will not know the specific nature of the problem they will attempt to solve until the bowl begins.

Solutions will be evaluated on clearly established criteria, and the top four teams from each division will receive trophies. State champions will also be invited to represent Michigan at the 1990 International Conference June 8-11 at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. In the past nine years, Michigan has won 17 championships at the international conference.

Washtenaw Carpet Moves To New Location in Former Video Store

Washtenaw Carpet Co. recently made its biggest change in the 11-year history of the company when it moved into the former Video Source building at the northeast corner of S. Main St. and Old US-12.

Owner Adam Hartman, who previously had the business in the clock tower building, put a lot of elbow grease and paint into the old Standard Oil gas station building and set up a bright, airy showroom for his carpeting, vinyl and wood flooring, and ceramic tile samples. He plans a formal grand opening April 28 and 29.

There's almost no hint of the former video store. A bank of windows on the south wall was cleaned and now lets in a generous amount of light. New carpet, of course, was installed. Old gas station ceiling tiles have been exposed and cleaned. And a small office has been set up.

"It was kind of a fluke that we got the building," Hartman said.

"I answered an advertisement and thought it was for another building. But since the realtor knew this was going to be available, we sealed the deal."

Hartman, who moved to the Ann Arbor area in 1979, grew up in Hamburg, Pa. He started the business in 1979 as a sideline to his primary occupation as a salesman and manager for the Nabisco Co. Initially it was a carpet-cleaning business, called Washtenaw Carpet Clean, which was operated out of his residence. But gradually he began to offer carpet sales and installation.

"Eventually I spent more time doing the carpeting than my other job, so I decided to go into it full-time," Hartman said.

He hired his first employee in 1988, and now has half a dozen full and part-time helpers.

The company offers about 20 different types of residential and commercial carpeting. In addition, it has vinyl floor covering, wood tile and strip flooring, and has just expanded into ceramic tile. Hartman can also order area rugs and custom rugs.

Bulldogs Get Victory as Baseball Season Opens (At Last!) Vs. Stockbridge

Chelsea baseball season finally got underway Monday afternoon against Stockbridge and the homestanding Bulldogs rallied for a 13-6 victory in the opener. The nightcap was called due to darkness after three innings with the Bulldogs leading 13-4 after three innings.

Chelsea fell behind, 6-1, thanks in part to opening-game jitters. None of the runs was earned. Coach Wayne Welton attributed some of the nervous play to the fact that the Bulldogs have waited more than a week to get the season started as their first three dates were cancelled due to the weather.

"I was disappointed in our sloppy play," Welton said.

"But by the end of the night it became obvious that we'll be able to do some things with this team. We hit well and none of the four hits we gave up were solid hits. After the edginess wore off, we played pretty well."

Before Stockbridge three-run outbursts in the first and third innings, Chelsea scored one run on a double by Brandon Murrell and single by Ben Hurst.

The Bulldogs moved to within 6-4 in the bottom of the third. After a Kyle Plank walk, Wingrove launched a two-run homer. The final run of the inning scored on a single by Craig Ferry, a wild pitch, a walk, a sacrifice by Rob Clem and two hit batsmen.

Chelsea scored eight runs in the fourth. A walk, hit batsman, and an error loaded the bases, before Clem stroked a two-run double. The other big hit of the inning was Kerry Plank's three-run homer.

Hurst's single in the fifth scored Murrell, who had doubled, for Chelsea's final run.

Clem started on the mound and was relieved by Wingrove with one out in the third. Wingrove lasted through the fifth, and Kyle Plank finished the game.

Kerry Plank, Murrell, and Hurst each had two of Chelsea's 13 hits.

In the second game, Chelsea scored nine runs in the first inning, which in a way kept them from winning the contest because the inning took so long.

Ferry, the clean-up hitter, smacked two doubles in the inning. Sophomore Jake Rindle had two hits, a single and a triple.

DOUG WINGROVE takes the throw at third base but the Stockbridge runner reached base. Wingrove later called due to darkness after three innings. Chelsea move to 1-0 on the season. The second game was called due to darkness after three innings.

Tootsie Roll Drive Proceeds Up 25 Percent Here

Chelsea Knights of Columbus Tootsie Roll Dr. held April 8-9 was a huge success, according to drive chairman Jerry Martell.

"Our goal this year was $5,000, compared with the $4,500 we collected last year," Martell said.

"Our collections this year totaled $5,802, an increase of 28 percent over last year. This never would have been possible without the generosity of the Chelsea business community and residents, some of whom donated on three or four different occasions, and the willing workers of the Knights of Columbus, Knights of Columbus Auxiliary, their families, and other interested individuals."

The drive workforce ranged from age 6 to 85.

Local beneficiaries of the money include St. Louis School and Chelsea School District special education programs.

Anyone who would still like to contribute to the drive may do so by sending money to the Knights of Columbus Tootsie Roll Drive, 3092 Council, 20750 Old US-12, Chelsea 48118.

Grange Week Proclaimed

Master of the National Grange, Robert E. Barrow, headquartered in Washington D.C., has proclaimed the week of April 22 to 28, 1990, Grange Week.

The Pittsfield Union Grange, located on Ann Arbor-Saline Rd., just south of the new Meijers store, will host a program featuring the Co-operative Extension Service in Washtenaw county. Speaker for the program will be Ray Gillispie, acting director of Co-operative Extension Services of Michigan State University.

Purpose of the Grange is to build programs of fellowship within a framework of fraternalism for its members through business meetings, legislative activities, member services, deaf awareness, youth projects, women's activities and community service.

Organized in 1887 as an organization of agricultural people, the Grange has since grown into an organization concerned about the needs of all people, rural and suburban.

Michigan Youth Corps Applications Available

More than 14,000 jobs will be available this year for an army of young men and women who will plant trees, refurbish parks and recreation areas and gain valuable work experience in a wide variety of jobs in the Michigan Youth Corps, Governor James J. Blanchard said today.

"The Michigan Youth Corps is the nation's largest summer employment program for young men and women," Gov. Blanchard said, announcing that applications are now available for the eighth year of the nation's largest summer employment program for young adults.

"The Youth Corps has delivered eight years of hard work, accomplishment and resume-building experience for thousands of young adults throughout Michigan," the Governor added, noting that each participant will receive mandatory employability skills training and career counseling.

This summer Corps members will be at work in parks, schools, hospitals, day care and senior citizen centers, state forests, campgrounds and county fairs. They will beautify towns and cities, restore historic buildings, plant thousands of trees, improve trout streams, promote tourism and help local arts groups.

By summer's end, more than 144,000 jobs will have been provided for young men and women through the Michigan Youth Corps, which was proposed by Gov. Blanchard and approved by the Legislature in 1983.

Any unemployed Michigan resident between the ages of 18 and 21 is eligible to apply for the Youth Corps. Applications are available at schools, colleges and universities, Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESCC) offices, Department of Social Services offices, and regional employment and training agencies.

Corps members work full time for eight to 10 weeks between June 1 and Sept. 30 and earn the minimum wage of $3.80 an hour. Youth Corps jobs are available in every county in the state. Participants work for federal, state, and local governments, and private non-profit organizations.

"When it comes to providing jobs for youth, Michigan has made a strong commitment through the Michigan Youth Corps," said Betty Howe, director of the Youth Corps and the Dept. of Labor. "The Corps has consistently and effectively helped our young people move to the world of work."

The Michigan Youth Corps is by far the nation's largest state summer youth employment program. The next largest program, Maryland's, employs less than 4 percent of Michigan's total.

Mandatory "employability skills training" sessions will be held again this year to give all Youth Corps applicants job search skills and career counseling. Thousands of young people will be placed directly into private sector employment through Youth Corps-sponsored job fairs.

(Phew) Finally!
A safe, easy way to eliminate urine-generated horse stall odors.

HOW IT WORKS: Sweet PDZ is an all-natural crystalline hydrated sodium aluminosilicate mined from the earth. Each granule of the product contains thousands of microscopic crystals that trap water and ammonia molecules through a chemical process called ionic bonding. Once trapped inside the crystalline structure, the ammonia and its associated odor are no longer present. Sweet PDZ does not cover up ammonia's odor with another odor—it completely eliminates the offending odor.

- Simple, easy to apply. No mess. No waste.
- Completely safe for horse and human. You can handle it safely with your bare hands.
- 100% all-natural product. No caustic chemicals. Nor irritating or harmful additives.
- Eliminates need to replace urine soaked earth. Reduces stall dampness and fly attracting odor.
- Extends bedding life up to twice as long and works with any type of bedding—shavings, straw or sand.

My Job.

My Story

By Pam Clay

Glacier Hills Nursing Assistant

I had worked for government for five years as a clerk-typist. I quit to have my children and stayed home with them.

Then I came to Glacier Hills one day to visit my sister who worked here as a cook. I thought, "This place doesn't look like a nursing home." She said they had an opening for a personal assistant, helping with residents. I've been a nursing assistant at Glacier Hills now for eight years.

My perception before I saw this nursing-home and residence was that they were drab, dingy, and smelly places, and that people weren't happy being in a nursing home. But Glacier Hills is beautifully decorated, and people seem to enjoy it and all the activities they have for them. It's not what I expected.

I basically work with residents, and the satisfying part is that I help keep them independent. They're concerned about you when you're not feeling well. They're appreciative of all your help. They say 'thank you.' I'm just a fun-loving person. The residents have a sense of humor. It's nice to be able to joke with them and they react to it and they enjoy it.

Everyone wants to better themselves. It's not just a nursing assistant job. It's being a professional. Nursing assistants are really important people.

Due to an expansion program, Glacier Hills has new opportunities for more people like Pam Clay. If you think you'd enjoy caring for our patients and residents, call us so we can tell you more.

You don't need previous experience as a nursing assistant. We provide an excellent, supportive training program so you can become a nursing assistant, and, like Pam Clay, perhaps find a job that will exceed your expectations.

Call today. Just dial (313) 769-6410 and ask for Judith Smith, RN, to learn more.

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of My Dear Wife, Anna F. Oesterle, who would have been 68 years old on April 14th if she were still living. I wish to present some of her religious writings.

WHAT IS WISDOM?

Wisdom is to search out the deep things of God and life. It reaches out to more intricate and unsearchable truths of life, with its weakness and failures. The bible says that it's more precious than rubies, gold or glittering stones. Wisdom will give more sorrow to a person because they are able to see things as they really are, without fantasies or hidden deceit. In other words its the revealer of many truths of which very few will be able to attain unto. Those who seek it will not be dull or have a lack of understanding concerning things of a higher level.

The bible says that the beginning of Wisdom is to fear God, and keep his statutes and commandments. The exalted in spirit shall never find it, but on the other hand the meek and humble shall inherit it. My prayer is, that many shall seek it and apply it to their heart and lives.

Anna O.

God weighs things in the balance and comes out with a just weight.

A. O.

When you once climb to the mountain top, you have the magnificent view of hidden treasures, far out to the distant horizon. You cannot see the beauty of these things, when you walk in the dark valley, so seek to climb the mountain path each new day.

A. O.

Be careful not to awaken the sleeping lions, lest they rise up and devour you.

A. Oesterle

They who have sown the wind shall reap the whirlwind. Hosea . . . chapt. 7 verse 7

When the testing time comes, put on the whole armour of God, lest you fall into the pit and never ascend out of it again. A. Oesterle.

If you have read the above it is quite obvious why I had such deep love, respect and reverence for this marvelous woman.

Yards shall be measured from the exterior faces of a structure to the nearest right-of-way line of any public or private street, driveway, or road, the nearest right-of-way line of any exclusive easement, or the nearest lot line, whichever is the shortest distance. Roof overhangs and cornices which project one (1) foot or less from the exterior face shall not be included in the yard measurements. Yards shall be measured from the outer roof of an overhang or cornice, if the roof overhang or cornice extends more than one (1) foot from the exterior face of the structure. Corner lots fronting upon public or private streets or road shall have two front yards and two side yards. All required yards shall be measured parallel to and lie adjacent to the nearest rights-of-way lines, exclusive easement right-of-way line, or lot lines. An exclusive easement means the grant to a person other than the owner of the subject lot or for the benefit of another lot of an above ground use or interest in, on, or over the subject lot. Easements which grant the right to construct above ground structures or for the purpose of vehicular ingress and egress, shall not be used or included in the computation of any required yard of the subject lot. Non-exclusive easements are those which allow the subject lot owner to build or construct above ground structures in the easement area or to retain exclusive use of the surface, except for repair and maintenance, such as, underground sewer and pipe line easements. Such non-exclusive easements may be used for required yards of the subject lot.

Portage-Base Lake Level Being Raised

The water level at Portage and Baseline Lakes began to rise on April 7, and is expected to reach its summer level on about May 1, according to Janis A. Bobrin, Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner. Bobrin said that the lake level is being raised slowly to prevent flooding.

Bobrin said that each winter, the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake. In the spring, homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes area are cautioned to prepare for the raising of the lake level which coincides with the opening of the DNR boat launch facilities.

Kevin Sullivan, Deputy Drain Commissioner, will answer inquiries and may be reached at (313) 994-2525.

Accidental Discovery May End Obesity

Suppresses calorie absorption
SWEDEN—Medical researchers at the University of Kuopio, in Finland, have discovered (accidentally) a new weight-loss formula. The new discovery appears to enable an overweight individual to lose pounds and fatty tissue without conventional dieting or exercise.

Scientists made the discovery while searching for a formula to lower cholesterol. In a controlled study of a test group of people, cholesterol levels remained unchanged but the doctors were astounded to find that every patient who used the formula lost weight. The published report of this study stated, "A highly significant decrease in body weight was seen" in patients who received the formula.

The formula was then tested at another prestigious European university hospital. Again, all patients lost weight even though they did not change their eating habits. The report detailing this study, published in the British Journal of Nutrition, stated, "Body weight was significantly reduced even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits". One patient in this study lost more than 30 pounds.

According to one informed source, the active ingredient comes from a 100% natural botanical source and contains no drugs or stimulants. When taken before mealtime it bonds with the food you eat and "ties up" calories, especially those from fats, suppressing their absorption.

A significant portion of the calories ingested therefore pass through the digestive system unabsorbed. The body has to get energy to replace the lost calories, so it starts to burn stored fat, which can result in rapid body weight loss. Clinical testing has verified the safety of this formula for long-term use.

The formula is marketed in capsule form in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000. A firm located in Tampa, Florida, has exclusive North American distribution rights. A review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

Cal-Ban 3000 is reasonably priced at $19.95 for a 3-week supply and $38.95 for a 6-week supply. Postage and handling is $3. VISA, M/C, AMEX and COD orders are accepted. To order call TOLL-FREE 1-800-537-3723 or purchase locally at Chelsea Pharmacy, 1050 S. Main St., Chelsea, MI.

Call today to begin the pleasant transformation from fat and flab to the slender firm body you want! If you fail to achieve a major weight loss you may return the empty bottle within 30 days for a 100% refund.

Lyndon Township Adopts Budget With Big Raise for Supervisor

Lyndon township approved a 1990-91 budget with estimated revenues of $235,096 and expenses at least that high, according to supervisor John Francis.

The figures were approved at the township's annual meeting April 10.

The budget included a big raise for the supervisor, and smaller raises for the clerk, treasurer, and trustees. It also had no money allocated for the township's share of expenses associated with the village landfill.

The supervisor's salary was raised from $5,520 annually to $8,985 annually after a motion from the floor, Francis said.

"They pointed out how ridiculously low the salary was compared to other townships," Francis said.

The clerk's salary was raised from $8,555 to $8,985 and the treasurer's salary was raised to the same level from $7,755.

Base pay of trustees was raised from $700 per year to $775. Additional meetings pay $35 each.

Francis said he would not discuss why the township did not allocate money toward the landfill closure because the matter has been referred to attorneys. However, he did say it's his impression most Lyndon township residents are unhappy with the way the village has approached the township about the matter.

"We have some strong questions about how they arrived at their share figures," Francis said.

"Also, a lot of people in this township were not even here when the old landfill was being used. They wonder why they should have to share the costs when they had no control."

The township plans to spend at least $19,500 on road repairs, and probably closer to $30,000 to $40,000, Francis said. Half of the $19,500 figure is from Washtenaw county matching funds. However, some of the projects have not been determined yet, Francis said. He said the county road commission wants to widen Meater Rd. and close off Lindley Rd. completely. The township wants to widen Roe Rd.

Fire protection will cost about $15,210 for equipment and $31,018 for 1989-90 runs. Fire protection is the biggest item in the budget.

Other anticipated expenditures included $1,400 for McKune Memorial Library, including last year's scheduled contribution of $600, and $1,800 for the village's area recycling program.

Crossing Lights OK'd for Main St.

Michigan Department of Transportation has decided to install pedestrian crossing lights at three major Main St. intersections in Chelsea.

Signals will be placed at Main St. and Middle St., Main St. and Park/South St., and Main St. and Old US-12.

In a letter dated April 11, the department said the paperwork had been started for the installation.

The approval for the signals comes a year after the village council passed a resolution asking the state for crossing upgrades at the two downtown intersections. The resolution was passed April 7, 1987 and then assistant village manager Lee Fahmer sent the official letter of request 10 days later, on April 17.

As of press time, it was not known when the actual installation might take place.

Beach Bowling Party Is Saturday

A bowling party for Beach Middle school students will be held at Chelsea lanes on Saturday, April 21 from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Chelsea Area Teens, the sponsoring organization, is planning a variety of entertainment including bowling, music, video games, and board games. Snacks and soft drinks will also be available.

Chelsea Lanes owner Ed GreenLeaf is donating the use of the lanes. Admission is free and all Beach Middle school teens are invited to attend.

The event is being held to help enlist support from both parents and teens for a Middle School Teen Group. Both teens and parents will have the opportunity to help get the group underway. Those interested can sign up at the door to Chelsea Lanes on Saturday.

More Engraved Bricks Ready for Depot Walkway

The Chelsea Depot Association has been taking orders for engraved bricks all winter. Committee chairpersons, Veretta Whitaker and Gloria Mitchell, are ready with an order of 50 additional bricks which they will take to Arnet's next week.

The walkway to Main Street from the depot contains hundreds of names of Chelsea residents, past and present. Purchasers contributed to the continuing renovation project at the Depot by paying $50 for each brick. After engraving and installation costs, $35 is banked to complete a process which began with the purchase of the depot and surrounding land, from AMTRAK.

Persons interested in contributing to this endeavor by the purchase of a brick may contact Veretta at 475-5942, Gloria at 475-3488 or leave a message at the Chamber of Commerce depot office, 475-1145. If orders are received quickly enough they can be submitted with this group of names to be engraved and installed in the near future.

Did Jesus Take The Thief to Paradise?

"And he (the thief suspended on the cross next to Jesus) said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom. And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise." Luke 23:42-43. This dialogue which took place between Jesus Christ and the malefactor, both of which were being crucified, is used often to advocate that the virtuous saints will ascend into heaven at the time of death to be with Jesus Christ; however, the Word of God points out some obvious circumstances that would discredit this implied understanding. Superficially, in reading the passage it would seem as though Jesus did indeed promise the thief that he would take him to paradise on that day, but examine the conversation Jesus had with Mary three days after his promise to the thief, and, consequently, on the morning of his resurrection. John 20:17 reads "Jesus saith unto her (Mary), Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: . . . Remember, Christ did not promise that the thief would go alone to paradise, but that the thief would accompany Jesus in paradise. However, three days later Jesus proclaimed that he had not yet ascended to heaven; therefore, Jesus must have been implying something other than going to heaven on the day of his death. In order to give us some insight on the actual meaning of this passage in Luke, let us examine the original translate of the Greek found in the "Septuagint". In v. 42, we find that the King James translators substituted the word "into" in place of the original word "in"; also, in v. 43 the King James translators altered the words of Jesus in saying "Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with me in paradise," rather than continuing with the original Greek which correctly phrases the words of Jesus by saying "Verily I say unto you this day, Thou shalt be with me in paradise." The original Greek places the comma AFTER "this day" or "today". This indicates that Jesus was not promising the thief that he would, on that very day, be in paradise, but differently, it indicates that he was assured on that day that he would be in paradise with Jesus at some later time. And we know, according to 2 Tim. 4:1, 6, that that time will be at the return of Christ, and that paradise will be upon this earth rather than in heaven.
