ONE HUNDRED-NINETEENTH YEAR—No. 49

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1990

24 Pages This Week Plus 2 Supplements

TAKING INVENTORY of perceived Chelsea community assets and liabilities was the project underway by this group of local residents and business operators. Those attending the futuring workshop Monday were divided into four such groups for the brainstorming session which resulted in a listing of what's good, what's bad, and what they would like to see in Chelsea in the next five years. Facilitators for this particular group were, standing, John Daniels and Mark Bailey. Others seated around the table include Helen Lancaster, Sam Vogel, Mary Currie-Williams, Bob Stalker, Mark Heydlauff and Ruth Leach.

First Eagle Scout Named For 6-Year-Old Troop 454

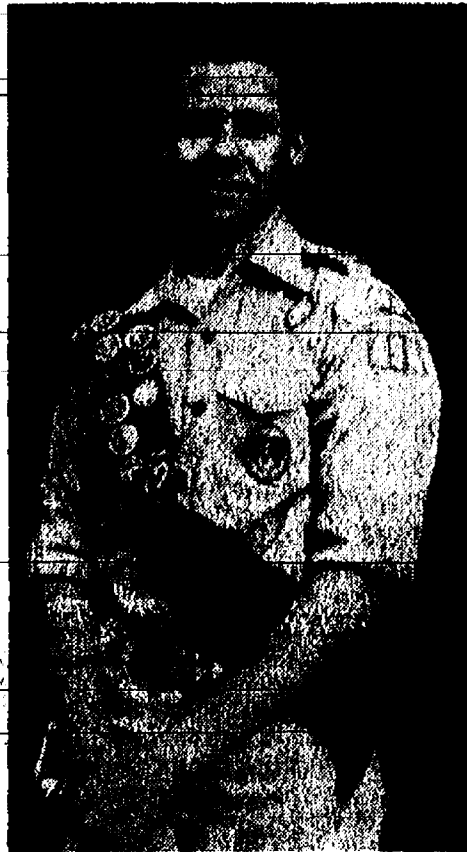

John E. Donnellon received his Eagle Scout Award on April 17 (which happened to be his 17th birthday).

John is the first Scout to earn this award in Chelsea Troop 454, since its inception on June 1, 1988.

John is the son of Matt and Kathy Donnellon of 306 Beaufort St., Manchester. He is presently a junior at Manchester High School and is employed at Chelsea Big Boy. John's interests are remote control cars, golf and auto mechanics. He is the assistant to the president of the Priest's Quorum at the Chelsea Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

John has been in scouting since 1981. While a Cub Scout with Pack 421, Manchester, he advanced through the ranks of Wolf, Bear, Webelos and earned the Arrow of Light Award.

John spent the first year of Boy Scouts with Troop 428 under Scoutmaster Frank Cousins, then a year with Troop 100 under Wayne Madsen. He was with Troop 454 under his father, Matt, for two years. He was captain of varsity team 454 under Jesse Jorgensen for a year during which he completed all of the requirements for his Eagle. He has been a member of an Explorer Post at Ford's-Rawsonville for about a year.

JOHN E. DONNELLON

John has been to week-long summer camp five times. He has completed a 50-mile canoe trip and also a 50-mile bike hike. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Drowning Victim Identified

The man who drowned in Cavanaugh Lake last week while trying to rescue his three-year-old son was identified as 28-year-old Glenn J. Campbell of Detroit.

Campbell's body was found late last Tuesday morning by divers.

Campbell's son, Michael, was taken to Mot Children's Hospital, where he has slowly recovered.

Glenn Campbell and his son were fishing from a float boat belonging to Ernest Reinhardt, 809 Glazier Rd., on Monday, April 23 at 7 p.m. when Michael, who was not wearing a life preserver, fell overboard.

Campbell dove into the 47 degree water after his son and managed to hold on until witnesses could retrieve his son. However, he disappeared into the water, apparently overcome by the chilly water.

Digital Thermometer Taken from Center

A digital electronic thermometer valued at $350 was reported missing from the Chelsea Family Practice Center on Wednesday, April 25.

The equipment was noticed missing by employees on April 9.

DDA Readies To Start Comprehensive Plan for Downtown Beautification

After many years of talking and planning, Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority appears poised to begin its beautification program for the downtown.

Last night DDA was scheduled to ask village council, in essence, to approve the concept of tax increment bonding. DDA wants to hire three consultants who would work as a team to design a comprehensive plan for the improvements. And without the bonding, DDA doesn't have enough money to pay them.

Tax increment financing would allow DDA to capture the additional tax revenue generated by rising property values in the downtown district, which was established legally several years ago. Those monies, which are normally divided among several taxing authorities, such as the Chelsea School District and the Village of Chelsea, would be diverted to the DDA.

The consultants, Deardorff Design, Jackson-Design, and Corbin Design, would come up with the plan, which will focus mostly on cosmetic changes to the downtown, said DDA chairman Sheridan Springer.

Improvements will include a comprehensive sign program; removing overhead wiring, changing the street lights, and beautification of the alleys, among other projects.

The sign program will be designed, in part, to combat the perception that the downtown has a parking problem. Part of the parking problem is that many people don't know how and where to park easily, especially people who don't shop downtown often, Springer said.

"If you're not from here, it's hard for someone to know where the Municipal Parking Lot is and how to get to it," Springer said.

"Personally, I don't feel we have a parking problem at this time except that many people don't know where the parking spots are."

DDA may also consider placing a sign advertising downtown Chelsea along I-94.

"We'd like to let people know there's something on M-52 beyond McDonald's and A&W," Springer said.

The idea of planting trees downtown that was proposed several years ago is apparently out the window, Springer said.

A major thrust of the plan will be to create, or simply define, the downtown's identity based on its strong points and history.

Assistant village manager Tom Warstler said the changes would probably be fairly subtle on the surface but "significant on the whole."

An estimate for the cost of the project is $750,000 including about $90,000 to the consultants.

Unlike the tentative plan submitted a few years ago, DDA wants to complete the project all at once, rather than in several phases. That may require DDA to modify its agreement with the Chelsea School District, which will be the biggest monetary contributor through tax increment financing. The district agreed to tax increment financing up to a certain limit. However, DDA does not have a similar agreement with other taxing authorities, such as Washtenaw County and the townships.

Without any agreements, DDA could collect about $150,000 this year, said DDA financial consultant Franz Mogdis. More than $80,000 of that would be school district money. Downtown property values have risen $1,860,000.

DDA will also have access to about $17,000 generated from the special two-mill downtown assessment.

Mogdis said the design consultants should have the complete package ready by July or August. The sign program would begin as quickly as possible and any actual construction would start next spring, shortly after the bidding of the bonds.

Any action taken by council last night would be contingent on approval by the village's bond counsel after their review of pertinent documents, said village manager Robert Stalker.

Owners Want To Build Subdivision on Land

More than 100 acres of farmland will become Chelsea's next major subdivision if the landowners have their way.

Martin and Henry Merkel have asked the village to annex 156 acres they own east of the village's wastewater treatment plant. Some of the land fronts on Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

The village agreed years ago to annex the property in exchange for easements. Now the owners have decided the time is right to have it annexed, while there is adequate sewer capacity.

Martin Merkel said last week that he'd like to see a development of "affordable homes" in the $100,000 to $125,000 range. However, he said he is still exploring his options and any building is at least a year or two away.

"We're still probing at this stage," Martin Merkel said. "It's nothing we're rushing into. But we want to do something with the property."

There's no money in farming. And it's kind of hard to get a developer interested in the property until it's annexed and zoned.

The land is being farmed by Bill Pidd of Stockbridge. Merkel said the rent payments essentially pay the taxes on the property and little else.

Merkel said most of the land is buildable and there is little wetlands. He said he anticipates that any building would take place in a series of phases, at probably 25-30 homes per year. No plans have been drawn up, so it's unknown how many homes the land could eventually support.

Chelsea School District Assistant Superintendent Fred Mills said Monday he is concerned about the impact such a development could have on the school district.

"You might get an entire elementary school full of children out of that kind of development," he said. The village has indicated it wants a pre-annexation agreement drawn up with the owners. That would detail who would pay for what improvements, among other concerns.

In other annexation news, Rene Papo's land for apartments and senior housing off Old US-12 has been officially annexed by the village.

Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners approved the move at their regular April meeting.

Tools Taken From Meth. Home

Chelsea United Methodist Home officials told Chelsea police that an assortment of tools valued at more than $1,400 has been removed from the facility over the past year.

Officials also told police that employees have been free to borrow the tools. However, some of the tools have apparently not been returned.

A tentative agreement was reached between the Chelsea School District and teachers and staff after 10 hours of bargaining on April 29. No details of the agreement were available although assistant superintendent Fred Mills said he thought the agreement was good on both sides. The agreement was scheduled to be voted upon before the school board's regular meeting. According to Jim Bechtelheimer, spokesman for the teacher/staff negotiating team, teachers and staff were to initially meet at their individual buildings to have the details of the contract explained.

Amy Weir of Chelsea took two bronze medals in the annual Ann Arbor Springtime Invitational Competition. Amy, who was a member of the Ann Arbor Figure Skating Club, placed third in High Beginner Ladies Compulsories and third in Beginner Ladies Freestyle. The competition, hosted by the A.A. Figure Skating Club and sanctioned by the U. S. Figure Skating Association, was held at Veterans Arena in Ann Arbor. More than 150 skaters from Michigan, Indiana and Ohio competed in compulsory and free-style events for the beginning competitor in basic skills and low level.

Shawn Quilter and Susan Overdorf took a fourth place trophy for their performance of "Sybil," at the State Forensics Tournament at Eastern Michigan University. As a team, Chelsea finished in sixth place, competing against schools of all sizes. Laura Guderis finished in ninth place with her subject, "Abuse to the Elderly." Jeff Mason finished in 10th place in the humorous category with his version of the radio news.

Comfortable, was probably the best adjective to describe South school's multi-age classroom, entering the final months of its first year in operation. There were no desks lined up in perfect rows, the room lacked a central focal point, nor were eyes directed toward the teacher and a chalkboard filled with explanations and assignments. Instead when one entered the classroom one was greeted by an arrangement of small tables and chairs in groups, a side room for messy activities, and sometimes a most necessary hide-away, a library for small group skill work, private reading or research, a counter which lined the ever changing interest centers, vast wall space and cupboard doors decorated with only the children's work. "The appearance and arrangement of our classroom," said one of the teachers, Mrs. Diane Richardson, "is geared specifically to the children's needs. Everything there represents the children's interest."

With summer in mind the Chelsea Recreation Council announced that it would offer tennis classes for the intermediate and advance player. The classes were scheduled for Thursday nights.

A dramatic announcement that Mrs. Barbara Segal had resigned her South Elementary first grade teaching position, effective immediately, and that the movement to recall six of the seven members on the Chelsea Board of Education would be stopped, climaxed a Chelsea school controversy which had spread through the community. The announcement came at the Thursday evening public meeting sponsored by the Committee for Barbara Segal at Sylvan Township Hall.

Cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new St. Mary's Catholic Church being constructed on a 16-acre site on Old US-12 took place on April 24. The ceremonies began with the blessing of the area where the main altar was to be when the church was completed and the blessing and setting into place of the cornerstone by Monsignor Warren Peek of Ann Arbor. The Rev. Father Henry Villaret of Detroit and the Rev. Father Francis Maliszewski, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church assisted Peek in the ceremonies.

Handcuffed by the one-hit pitching by Gary Acree of Saline, Chelsea lost its second conference game by the score of 3-2. Chelsea scored one run in the fourth inning on an error and a double final run in the sixth when Neil Packard reached first on an error and then stole the remaining bases, including home. Saline scored two of their runs in the fourth inning on three singles and three stolen bases. Their winning run was scored when Dave Farrell was hit by a pitch, stole second, reached third on a wild throw by the catcher and continued on to home on the same throwing error.

Group Sets Goal of Cutting Pollution in Half by 2000

A goal of reducing pollution by 50 percent over the next decade, a lower level of toxic pollution, and additional fees on those benefiting from natural resources to pay for protection and study programs was recommended in a new report on the State of the Environment.

The report by the Council on Environmental Quality did not, however, lay out in detailed form, such as how to raise money for some of the programs that are envisioned, how the goals and recommendations would be achieved.

Elizabeth Harris, director of the East Michigan Environmental Action Council and chair of the CEQ, said, "Using rigid terms would not improve the likelihood of getting things done."

Harris said the report is intended to serve as a document acknowledging common ground among the members of the broadly-based CEQ.

"What needs to be done will get done not because it is forced but because of a greater realization of the need," she said. But tough enforcement and tough environmental statutes will still be required, she added.

The report said the most serious problems continue to be in the loss of wildlife habitat, persistent toxic compounds in Great Lakes fish, spills and effects of pollution on human health.

"Michigan should reduce toxic releases, protect the health of our most sensitive populations from pollution and increase attention to land use and energy issues in the years ahead," Harris said.

Natural Resources Director David Hales said elimination of toxic pollution is "the only responsible goal" for the state. Harris said the failure to demand that and only means the council does not know when the goal can be achieved.

The 53 recommendations by the Council on Environmental Quality include trying for maximum toxic pollution reduction in Lake Superior through interstate negotiations that would lead to its designation as a water reserve and development of goals for determining the best uses of land beginning by the year 2000 with a prime object being preservation of open and sensitive areas.

The State of the Environment report puts less onus on new government mandates to improve the environment than on private activities, but says government policies will be crucial in fostering an ethic of environmental responsibility by individuals and businesses.

Its recommendations for new funds and research stopped short of proposing specific new or increased fees.

It proposed creation of a Great Lakes Fisheries and Wildlife Trust Fund, which would begin with support of research on how to sustain sport fishery.

Harris said some potential sources for the fund would be fees for cross country skiers and other users of public areas. "We need to look for new ways to commit funds for natural resources protection and one way is to look at those who are benefiting," she said. She also said a greater effort is required to boost federal funds for that purpose and to look at raising discharge permits.

The report suggested consideration of a domestic water use fee to pay for the large-scale investments needed over the next decade to eliminate the discharge of untreated and poorly treated sewage from overflows into surface waters.

Other recommendations include: —creation of an Endowment for Environmental Health, most likely with corporate sponsors, to assure sustained funding for long-range epidemiological studies of the effects of pollution exposures on human health, with a concentration of research on sensitive populations including children.

—creation of a state energy policy that promotes energy efficiency and renewable sources.

—establishment of a state-wide environmental education curriculum.

—development of agricultural practices that reduce releases of chemicals and ensure long-range productivity of land.

—development of leading environmental indicators to serve as the basis for annual assessments on the quality of air, water, land and other resources.

The report was presented to Governor Blanchard, who is now responsible for implementing its provisions.

Harris said she hopes it will "become a focal point" in legislative discussions. We hope it will encourage the whole effort of waste reduction and improve the manufacturing process."

The report noted that massive spending for wastewater treatment and air pollution control projects have cut phosphorus levels in key rivers by up to 83 percent and sulfur dioxide in air by 60 percent since the early 1970s.

Wiener Unveils Environmental Health Initiative

Public Health Director Raj Wiener has unveiled a five-point environmental health initiative for the 1990s, with an emphasis on protecting children from harmful pollutants.

In charging participants at the Governor's Conference on the Environment in Battle Creek, where she made her speech, to "rise to the challenge of making Michigan an environmental health leader," Wiener suggested that revenues be set aside to investigate health effects of exposure to pollutants.

Michigan's public health community "will need to be bold and imaginative in protecting the interests of the state's children," she said. "We will work to understand the exposure children face from pollutants in drinking water, food, air and other sources."

In calling for the establishment of a Comprehensive Childhood Lead Abatement program designed to identify homes contaminated with lead, Wiener said: "Kids, our most sensitive and important human resource, deserve the chance to grow in an environment that does not permanently impair their potential."

Components of the other four initiatives are:

—Creation of an Endowment for Environmental Health to assure stable revenues to investigate human health effects of exposure to pollutants such as PCBs and PBB.

—Development of an environmental health protection strategy for Michigan cities that would identify and work to curb health risks from toxic air pollutants, abandoned industrial sites, indoor air and toxic substances in sports fields.

—Launching of a Health Choices program to provide information to prevent human health risks from pollution.

—Initiation of an Environmental Health Opportunity program to look at how pollutants in the environment affect children.

"My vision contains one final element, people," Wiener said. "We cannot afford to divide the resources on which we depend from our own health and happiness. I see an environmental quality that includes an informed, educated, active public, working to understand and avoid exposure to environmental risks."

Lung disease, including lung cancer, kill more Americans each year than cocaine, heroin, alcohol abuse, auto accidents, suicide, and homicide combined.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher stopped by the store Saturday night for some pipe tobacco, and he gave the fellows a preview of his Sunday sermon. He said he was taking his text from Hamlet, where we are told to be true to ourselves and we won't be false to anybody. After he took time to tell Bug Hookum that Hamlet is not a book of the Old Testament, he went on to allow that he is worried about Christians being ashamed of their name.

The preacher has saw where small colleges with Christian in their names are thinking of taking it out because it is a hold back in recruiting students, especial athletes. With all the bad press some preachers and churches have been getting in recent years, the colleges say, the public perception of a Christian school scares off young people. They think a Christian school is where students keep watch on one another to make sure nobody is enjoying himself, was the preacher's words. The preacher hit hard on perception, which he said was like watching television news. What we get is a quick look at real, but not enough to see reality. He said his Sunday message would be that Christians have got to be real all the time and let perception look after itself. Instead of changing to suit perception, he said, we need to change perception to reality.

After the preacher left, the tellers kept his sermon on the agenda. Bug said he reckoned that big colleges don't have trouble with their names. He had read where Texas Christian University was in trouble for athletes recruiting violations. One case was where a football player was put up in a hotel room and arrangement was made for a lady of the evening to come by and entertain him. When one graduate strong fer football heard about it, he said it was awful. Always before, he said, the sports boosters used amateurs.

General, declared Zeke, the world runs on perception. It is used to sell and it is used to buy, he noted, and that covers a lot of ground, including religion. For instance, he recalled when General Motors final figured out why nobody would buy the Nova in Mexico. Nova in Spanish means no go, and that's not a good perception of cars. And Zeke took note that Domino's trades on a promise of delivering in 30 minutes, and folks that call up don't mind that the average delivery time for all pizza places is 28 minutes.

Like the fellow that come out with no-colesterol beer, Zeke added, you give folks a speck of real, and there's no need tell 'em that all beer is cholesterol free. The Postal Service is pushing its rate hike by comparing 1978 and 1990 prices of stamps, food, cars and mail in other countries. It don't bother to mention planned delays in delivery times, bonuses to high ups and more than $6 million spent last year on travel, room and board at meetings.

Actual, Ed Doolittle said, perception is the lifeblood of politics, and the worse case he's read of is where people in office are finding that confusing sins real and imagined is making them more popular with the voters they serve. There's a epidemic in Massachusetts, where a contest is on to tell who was the wildest the longest time ago. They started with marywanna smoking and took off in all directions.

Next, Ed said, when did you quit beating your wife questions will be welcome at press conferences.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

"It is better to build children than to repair men." That is the motto of Youth Haven Ranch in Rives Junction. Mark Kring spoke to the Chelsea Charter Chapter of American Business Women Association on Tuesday evening. He presented a film showing the Ranch and the children who attend. 95 percent of the children, ages 6 to 13, come from broken homes. At the age of 13, they become helpers to the many counselors who show love and honest concern for the children. Isaiah Thomas was a former child at this ranch. There is also a ranch in Arizona.

Caring Clowns is a part of Youth Haven Ranch who entertain in hospitals. Children are placed there by social service agencies and they receive no state or federal support.

Deer Vandalizes Main St. Home

Chelsea police were searching for a deer that broke into, and then out of, a S. Main St. home on Saturday, April 21.

According to police, the deer gained access to the home by breaking through a bedroom window using a blunt instrument, probably its head or hooves.

After running through the house and damaging a stool, the deer broke through a living room window and ran down the street.

The deer was last seen running westbound on W. Summit St.

Police said nothing was taken from the home.

Everybody's Science

★ Patents Put USDA Research in Marketplace

By Bruce Kinzel

Someday you may reach into your grocer's dairy case for a can of frozen concentrated milk.

Frozen concentrated orange juice and lemonade command that space now. But a new beverage developed by a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist could make milk part of the frozen concentrated family.

George Bookwalter, a food technologist for USDA's Agricultural Research Service in Peoria, Ill., worked on the milk concentrate. A consumer can blend it immediately as a beverage or freeze it for later use. A company is currently test marketing ARS samples.

Frozen concentrated milk is one of 35 inventions patented last year by USDA's chief research agency. Other patents include new and higher quality products, prevention of diseases in plants and animals and natural control of pests that harm our environment and food supply.

ARS patented research also has played a role in medicine and nutrition, according to R. Dean Plowman, ARS administrator.

Alice Christen, a research geneticist in New Orleans, developed a way to essentially mass-produce taxol, a drug used in clinical trials of cancer patients. And, consumers looking for a strong protein and calcium source can take advantage of an ARS patented yogurt-like pudding invented by Ranjit S. Kadan, a research food technologist in New Orleans. It is made from non-fat dry milk, sugar, rice flour, gums and other additives.

To the consumer, the payoff of this research is in higher quality foods and fabrics and a safer, more convenient food supply, said Plowman.

In 1989, ARS filed more than 60 patent applications on inventions stemming from this and other agency research. Some ARS inventions have been licensed by private industry and others will be available in the future.

"We have had 418 patents granted over the last 10 years," Plowman said. He said 21 royalty-bearing licenses, granted in 1989, increased income from licensed agency-patented inventions to nearly $400,000 in 1989, compared to $7,300 in 1981. Royalties reward scientists, pay patent and licensing fees and return money to research programs where the patent originated.

Although it is often said that nothing is impossible, it might be more accurate to state that virtually nothing is impossible if the proper skills are brought into play.

Skill and dedication to the task at hand are a formidable combination. The events of the past few years which have witnessed astounding advances in previously unattainable areas indicate the fantastic potential of what can be accomplished by the proper mixture of diligence and skill.

motorists had been driving around the lowered gates at the Main Street crossing of the New York Central Railroad and warned that the practice was more dangerous than ever since the new Aerotrains had started its regular Detroit-Chicago runs through Chelsea. The train traveled at very high speeds. Chief Carman pointed out that the railroad signals were set to give adequate warning of oncoming trains and motorists should respect the safety measure indicated by lowered gates.

Police and Fire Department telephones as well as the telephone in the Standard office were kept busy for a few minutes with calls of area residents who wanted to know if the extra long blast of the fire siren was meant as a tornado warning. A shorted wire caused by the heavy rain which fell was given as the reason for the shrill 10-minute blast. The siren became stuck on the highest pitch when the operator undertook to sound the customary noon whistle.

SCORE Gives Helping Hand To Small Business

SCORE, Service Corps of Retired Executives, is an activity sponsored by the Small Business Administration.

The Washtenaw-Livingston County chapter of SCORE is located at the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce Innovative Center, 912 N. Main, Ann Arbor.

SCORE provides general business counseling to the local business community and to those desiring to start a new business. The SCORE operation is staffed by experienced retirees from the business world and others who are still active in business. These volunteers serve without pay, enabling SCORE to provide counseling services without charge or obligation, to the client.

The value of SCORE services to existing small businesses having problems and those persons starting a new business is well-documented. However, SCORE also has much to offer the small businessperson who does not appear to have difficulties.

Every businessperson has a need for an impartial, objective, empathetic, and experienced listener/responder from time to time. SCORE counselors offer clients the opportunity to think out loud in complete confidence. Tentative plans can be reviewed and experienced insights can be obtained.

An appointment with a SCORE counselor can be arranged by calling 313-862-0550. The counseling session(s) can be at the SCORE office or at the business site and can be for a single time or on a continuing basis.

KIWANIS CLUB helps with funding for Chelsea special education students to participate in the Michigan Special Olympics. Rock Group Rare Earth To Play At 11th Great Chili Cook-Off

After a day of hot chili taste-testing, Rare Earth will bring the mood of the 11th Annual Great Chili Cook-Off to the boiling point with their good old steam rock, which was once called beat and soul.

Rare Earth, the only successful white band on the Motown label, will rock audiences at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds in Saline, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., May 6, with many of their classics, including "Get Ready," "Hey Big Brother," "Losing You," "Born To Wander," and "I Just Want To Celebrate."

Their thirst for performing live reunited Rare Earth in 1987 with three original members (Gill Bridges, Ray Monette and Ed Guzman) and four newcomers (Wayne Baraka, Randy Burghoff, Rick Warner and Dean Boucher). This blend of musicians ignites their audience with a re-newed Motown sound and powerful dose of rock.

Rare Earth's track record features two double platinum albums ("Get Ready" and "Rare Earth in Concert"), more than 3,000 concerts, performances on the Ed Sullivan Show, Dick Clark's American Bandstand and the premiere of Midnight Special, where they set the precedent for performing live rather than lip synchronizing to a record.

Rare Earth's concert will wrap up the chili cooking competitions, chili taste-testing, the Great Midwestern Egg Drop Competition sponsored by WQBF-FM, the Dawn Chili Scruboff sponsored by Dawn Dishwashing Liquid, country concerts sponsored by

Ann Arbor Concert Band Presenting Free Concert

The Ann Arbor Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. William D. Revelli, will present a free concert on Sunday, May 6, at 3 p.m. in Schreiber Auditorium at Pioneer High School, Ann Arbor.

This concert will feature the premiere of a new concert march, "Paladin," composed by John Stout. Mr. Stout, a bassoonist in the band, received his bachelor and masters degrees in music composition and conducting from the University of Michigan. He has received numerous grants and commissions, including a commission performed by the Boston Pops Orchestra. As music arranger for the U-M Marching Band, his work has included the half-times of seven Rose Bowls; but his experience extends through all musical styles. His compositions include those for chamber ensemble, symphonic orchestra, concert band, and jazz band, as well as film and television scores.

The concert will also feature trumpet soloists Daniel Wagner and Phillip Rhodes in Vivaldi's "Concerto in B-flat" for two trumpets and band. Other music on the program includes Holst's "First Suite in E-flat," Reed's "La Fiesta Mexicana," Grofe's "Mississippi Suite," and Respighi's "Pines of the Appian Way," from "The Pines of Rome."

The Concert Band is made up entirely of volunteers, including its conductor. Most of the musicians are employed full-time in other fields, and play just for the love of music. Dr. Revelli, director emeritus of the University of Michigan Bands, is renowned world-wide for his high standards and musical excellence. This is the last opportunity during the 1989-90 season to hear this group of dedicated musicians in concert.

Quilt Registry Set at Dexter Area Museum

Is there a quilt or two languishing in your closet or cedar chest? Would you like to learn the name of the pattern of the quilt? How about the value of that quilt?

There is an opportunity for you to learn these things. The Dexter Area Museum will hold a quilt registry Friday, May 11 and Saturday, May 12. Hours of the registry will be from 1 to 3 p.m. on Friday and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. The museum is located at 3443 Inverness, just north of the water tower.

Come and join in the fun, learn a little more about your quilt, and have a record of your quilt. Sarah Deasey, well-known quilter and a certified appraiser will be on hand during the Saturday hours to tell you about your quilt. For a donation of $5 per quilt, you will receive a written appraisal of your quilt. Another donation to cover the cost of a Polaroid picture will be appreciated, if you wish a picture.

Please do not wash or dry clean your quilt before bringing it to the museum. The history of the quilt is the important part of this project.

U-M Names Regents-Alumni Scholars

Jennifer Ann Middlebrook and Mike Timms from Grass Lake High School, in addition to Tim Haskins and Demian Dana Rose from Pinckney High, were among the 508 top high school seniors from 375 schools throughout Michigan selected by the University of Michigan to receive Regents-Alumni Scholar Merit Awards for "outstanding academic achievement, scholarly promise, and potential contribution to the university community."

A total of 1,287 students were nominated for the merit award, for which financial need is not a consideration.

The award is based on student grades, class ranking and test scores. Nominees were interviewed by University of Michigan alumni representatives in their hometown areas, with final decisions determined by the University Regents-Alumni Award committee.

Students selected as Regents-Alumni Scholars will receive a $1,000 non-renewable scholarship when they enroll at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, in the fall of 1990.

In addition, recognition certificates have been provided the recipients' high schools for presentation at spring awards convocations.

Approximately 500 University of Michigan alumni participated in the Regents-Alumni Scholars Program, this year.

The program is administered by the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, in co-operation with the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

AIDS 'Attitudes' Subject of Display At U-M Hospital

The AIDS epidemic crosses all race, class and gender boundaries. And while the purported "risk" groups have been defined as homosexuals, IV drug users and prostitutes, it's important to focus on individual risk behavior.

One local artist believes that all people are "carriers" of AIDS attitudes that need to be reshaped to help focus on the problem and retard its progress. To that end, Kathy Constantine has created "Transmission: Moving People," an exhibit to "encourage the use of clear, factual information that will help us all share the work of slowing and hopefully eradicating the disease."

The Ann Arbor resident consulted with AIDS experts in metropolitan Detroit before creating a comfortable domestic setting that "welcomes viewers while establishing the presence of the epidemic in our 'private' lives, and pointing to positive attitude changes." Visitors can enter and find current informational materials about AIDS and a vending machine for condoms.

The exhibit, which will run from April 23 to May 12 at the University of Michigan Medical Center, will coincide with several AIDS conferences and events at the Medical Center.

MICHIGAN'S OLDEST

PALMER FORD MERCURY

(In Washtenaw Co. Since April 19, 1912)

KATHY KENTALA, left, is one of three new area co-ordinators for the Healing The Children/Michigan program. Right is Donna Baird, area co-ordinator for the last 3 1/2 years.

Healing The Children Program Gets New Area Co-ordinators

Chelsea residents Tammi Houle, Kathy Kentala, and Pat Koch have become the new area co-ordinators for the Healing The Children/Michigan Program, which is part of a national program.

Donna Baird, another Chelsea resident, has held the position for the last three-and-a-half years. She has also been on the state board of directors.

The program, which is run entirely on donations of money and services, brings foreign children to this country for medical attention they cannot receive at home. Their stay here ranges from a few weeks up to a year.

During Baird's term, more than 40 children from 17 different countries, with conditions ranging from heart to sight problems, have come here. All medical services have been performed free of charge.

She has often asked for help from families, doctors, merchants, and the Chelsea School District, all of which have "opened their hearts," Baird said.

"Just to say thank you will never be enough," Baird said.

"You have held the children when they were scared and homesick and you have comforted them when they were in pain."

Chelsea merchants have helped out during fundraising and have packed bags of "survival supplies" for their trips home.

The school district has welcomed the children into the classroom and local children and the visitors have often had the chance to learn from each other.

Anyone interested in helping out with the program may contact Kentala at 475-7781 or Houle at 475-1231.

Marine Safety Officers Preparing for Summer

Randy Layher, a native of Chelsea who helps enforce the regulations and provide assistance as a member of the Marine Safety Division, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, is readying his skills for the season change, winter to summer.

Layher is a divermaster, and a certified American Red Cross CPR instructor.

His week-end summer duties include policing the Dexter-Pinckney lakes area as a member of the team supervised by Sergeant Jerry Evans of the WCSD Marine Safety Division.

That task begins officially on Memorial Day week-end.

He is employed at DAPCO in Dexter.

Just prior to the Christmas holidays, Deputy Layher visited Country Elementary school in Pinckney to discuss "ice safety" with more than 550 boys and girls.

He also showed the kids a video which he prepared on "ice safety" during the presentation.

The Dexter, Hamburg and Pinckney area is surrounded by many lakes, and lots of youngsters use the lakes for recreational activities.

Deputy Layher stressed safety on the ice and respect for the water.

If another person fell through the ice, he suggested a few things the young people might do to help.

He told the boys and girls to look for a boat on shore which might be used, or to find a sturdy piece of brush or lumber which they could push toward someone trapped in the ice.

"Don't go too close to the hole in the ice, because you might fall through," he warned.

One suggestion was to remove their ice skates and slide them to the person who's caught in the ice, so they could use the skate blades to "claw" a path to freedom.

Smart Bicyclists Don Helmets To Avoid Head Injuries

This spring, smart young bicyclists are "taking cover" to avoid serious head injury and death by wearing a protective helmet while riding, AAA Michigan reports.

Thirty-two bicyclists were killed in Michigan last year, including 12 persons ages 8-11.

Half of all fatal bicycling accidents nationally involved children under age 14, and nearly 50,000 youngsters suffer serious head injuries each year.

"Parents should insist that children wear safety helmets, even on short trips, since most serious injuries are sustained close to home," said Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager.

"Wearing a safety helmet can reduce the risk of a serious head injury by as much as 75 percent," Cullen said. "If a bicyclist falls head first on pavement without a helmet while traveling at 20 mph, it will likely lead to serious injury or death."

Helmets made of a hard plastic outer shell, styrofoam lining and equipped with an adjustable chin strap offer maximum protection against injury, Cullen said. Helmets of soft materials or padded strips provide less protection. A quality, protective helmet can be purchased for as little as $20, compared to the average estimated lifetime care cost of $1.9 million for a severely brain-injured youth.

Parents can set a good example by wearing a helmet when they bicycle, he added.

To ensure a safe, enjoyable riding season, young bicyclists should follow these safety rules:

- Obey traffic laws, signs and signals.
- Walk your bike across the street at corners. Don't dart out from a driveway or between parked cars, where many bicycle accidents occur.

- Stop and look for oncoming traffic before entering the street from a sidewalk or driveway.

- Avoid riding after dark or in inclement weather.

- Give the right-of-way to cars and pedestrians.

- Ride single file, one bike length apart.

- Avoid broken pavement, loose gravel or other objects that could cause loss of steering control.

- Avoid riding in the street. If absolutely necessary, ride single-file on the right side.

- Use hand signals when turning.

A CELEBRATION OF THE CORNERSTONE for the Opal L. and Russell V. Dancy House at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home was held April 27 in the home chapel. The cornerstone is for the new independent living apartments that are being constructed at the front of the home complex. The Dancys are major home benefactors. Speakers at the ceremony included V. Gregory Hughes, home administrator, left, and James Batten, president, right.

LYNN ALTWATER, a fourth grader at North school, was one of the many Chelsea children who took advantage of last week's summertime weather to try out most of the school's playground equipment. April was a month of record temperatures, both highs and lows.

LARRY AND DEBORAH RUSINSKY of Chelsea show off some of their favorite sets of salt and pepper shakers among the more than 350 sets they have collected over the last 10 years.

'Goofier the Better' for These Salt-and-Pepper Shaker Collectors

In the world of truly tacky souvenirs, flying saucer salt and pepper shakers rank right up there with Niagara Falls ash trays.

However, Chelsea residents Larry and Deborah Rusinsky love their salt and pepper shakers, including their flying saucer, all 354 sets as of this writing. They're even planning to attend the annual meeting of the Novelty Salt and Pepper Shaker Club in Memphis this summer, partly because they want a set of, what else, Elvis Presley shakers. If you could see the Rusinsky's collection, you'd quickly realize that a set of Elvis Presley shakers has all sorts of possibilities, from the ridiculous to the obscene.

"We know some of them are bad, ugly, but that's why we like them," Larry says, who admits he's the one who got Deborah hooked.

"The goofier the better."

The Rusinskys have been collecting the shakers since 1980 in what started out as a garage-sale hobby. It has also become a relaxing diversion for Deborah, who plays English horn and oboe in the Toledo Symphony. Now their collection is tracked on a data base set up on their home computer. When they pull up a screenful of information they can see a host of information, including where, and for how much, they purchased each item, what the collectors' books say they're worth, what the shakers are made of, what color they are, and who manufactured them. It was a natural for Larry, who works in the computer business.

They have two cupboard shelves filled with "dog" shakers, and a cabinet full of advertising shakers, containing, for instance, a set of Mr. Peanut. They also have a section of "risque" shakers. If you consider all the things that come in sets of two, you can imagine what's in that section.

However, most of the shakers wouldn't fit into any category. Their oldest set is from the 1930's, commemorating a radio show called "Bride and Groom." Many of them you would never guess were shakers, such as two musical notes over a piano, a small ceramic mixer in which the beaters are removable, a flying saucer with an alien sitting on top, two ceramic fried eggs in which the yolks are removable, and a ceramic cake in which a piece is removable.

THIS IS JUST PART of the collection of salt and pepper shakers belonging to Larry and Deborah Rusinsky of Chelsea. The collection numbers 354 and information about each set is included in a computer data base.

"When we got to the point we had 100 sets we thought, hey, we've got a major collection here," Deborah says.

"Then we got to 200, 300 and realized we couldn't stop. As far as I know, there's no Salt-and-Pepper Shakers Anonymous."

They also realized, however, when they visited a couple in Coldwater, that their collection was second-rate.

"They had 12,000 sets that covered their whole basement," Larry says. "It was a humbling experience, but I hope we never get that way."

The couple likes the hobby, primarily because adding to the collection doesn't usually cost more than a few dollars at a time.

And what set do they use? None of them. The Rusinsky's don't include salt in their diet, and little pepper.

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL members of the Southeastern Conference All-Academic Team will be honored at a banquet at Weber's Inn. Students were chosen based on their grade point average and their scores on the ACT college entrance test. From left are Trevor Harding, Jim Alford, Melissa Danforth, Wendy Welch, and Charity Strong. Alford, Danforth, and Welch all plan to attend the University of Michigan, while Strong plans to go to Calvin College, and Harding will attend the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Finch Enters Chili Cook-Off

One-hundred-and-twenty cooks will compete in the 11th annual Great Chili Cook-Off May 5 and 6 at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds near Saline.

James Finch of Chelsea is one of the cooks vying for the first place title in the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan's Official North Central Chili Cook-Off, which follows the rules of the International Chili Society, Saturday, May 5.

This is Finch's first time to compete in a chili cook-off. His chili is named Rough Cut after the lumberjack theme they plan to use to decorate their cooking booth. He claims jalapeno jelly and red raspberry vinegar are the special ingredients that make his chili great.

This year's number one true chili cook will win $500 and a chance to compete in the International Chili Society World Championship Cook-Off in California this fall. True chili is defined by the International Chili Society as any kind of meat, or combination of meats, cooked with chili peppers, various other spices and ingredients with the exception of thickening agents such as beans, spaghetti, etc.

The 11th annual Great Chili Cook-Off will feature two days of chili cooking competitions, chili taste-testing, a concert by Rare Earth, the Great Midwestern Egg Drop Competition sponsored by WQBF-FM, the Dawn Chili Scruboff sponsored by Dawn Dishwashing Liquid, country bands sponsored by WWW-FM, a rock band and cooking team featuring morning personality Ken Calvert from WRIF-FM, a horse show, a petting farm, country cloggers and a craft show. Contributing sponsors include Coors, BFI Waste Systems, Gordon Food Services, Inc. and Action Rental.

All proceeds from the Great Chili Cook-Off will support the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan's state-wide patient services, research and educational programs for kidney patients.

For more information about this fund-raising event and other cooks participating in the 11th annual Great Chili Cook-Off, please contact the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan toll free by calling 1-800-482-1455.

Bulldog Baseball Team Leads SEC, Wins Two In Rawlings Tourney

Chelsea Bulldog baseball team swept the Lincoln Railsplitters in a double-header at home last Thursday to remain undefeated in the Southeastern Conference.

In action in the Rawlings Classic last Saturday, the Bulldogs beat Whitmore Lake and Ann Arbor Huron and will play Saline and Gabriel Richard in the final day of the tournament this Friday. Chelsea junior hurler Rob Clem's perfect game against Whitmore Lake was the highlight of the tournament.

Lincoln provided little competition for the Bulldogs, 5-0-1 in the SEC, as Chelsea took 8-1 and 17-5 victories.

In the first game, Kyle Plank tossed a four hitter and gave up his only run in the first inning.

Kerry Plank had three run-scoring sacrifices.

The Bulldogs had six hits, two by Brandon Murrell.

Chelsea's big inning was the fifth when they scored three times.

The second game was a giveaway on Lincoln's part as they walked 12 batters in the first two innings. Chelsea scored eight times on just two hits.

Jude Quilter walked five times in the five innings played.

Jake Rindle was the starting pitcher and gave up five hits.

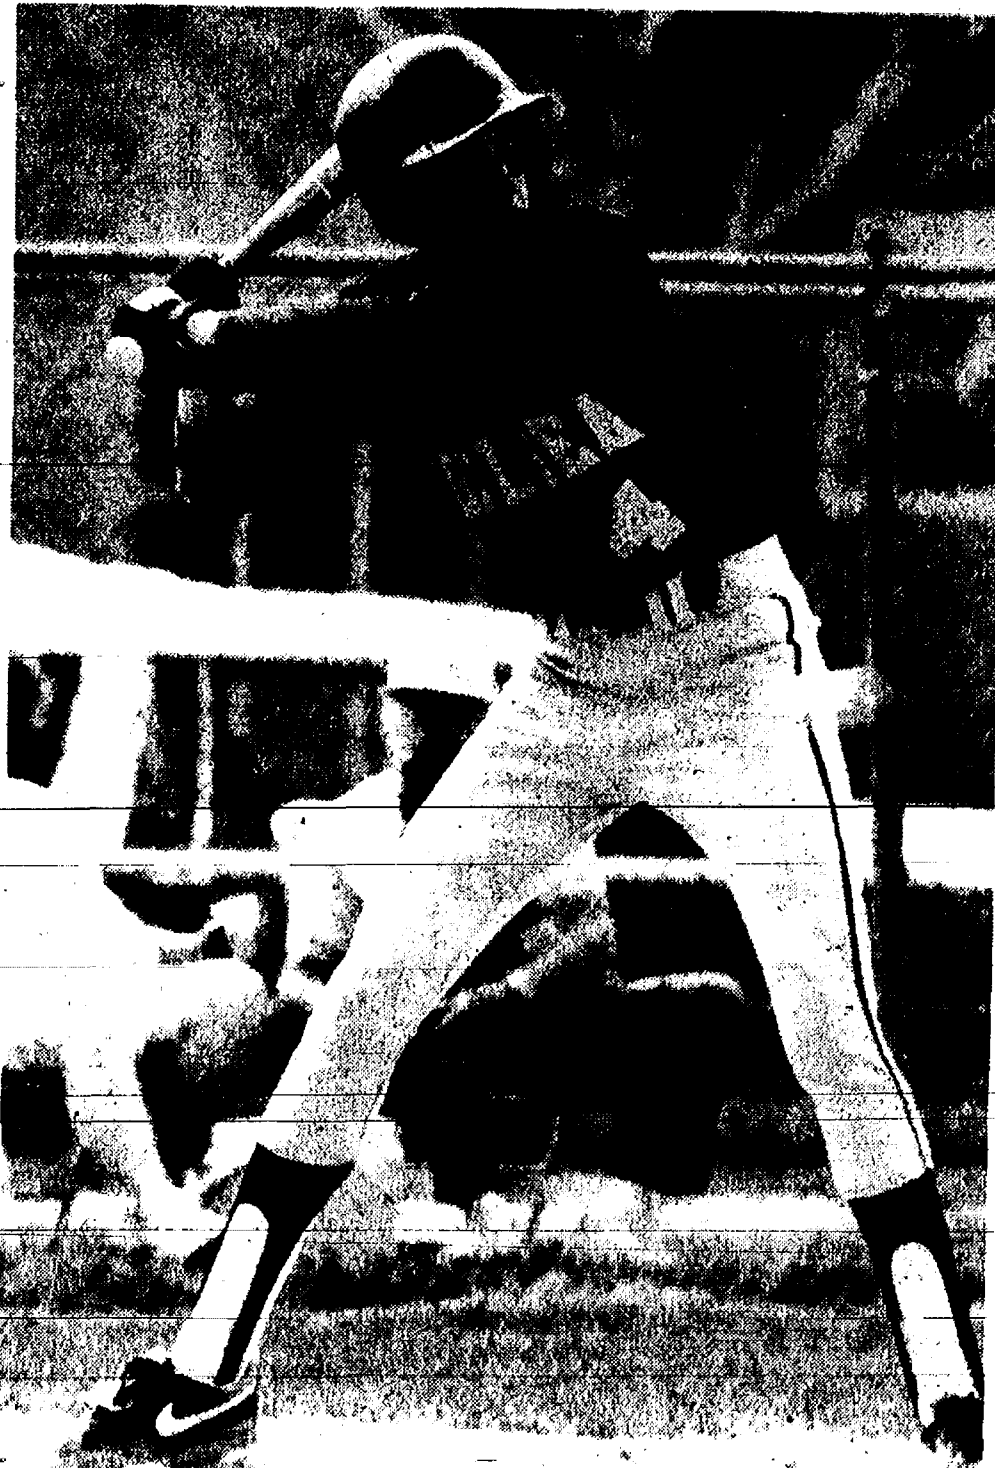

The Bulldogs, tied with Tecumseh, will probably get their biggest SEC test to date tomorrow when they host the Dexter Dreadnaughts.

Clem's perfect game, the first since Wayne Welton has been coach, was the high point for the Bulldogs as Huron and Whitmore Lake were easy opponents.

Chelsea beat Whitmore Lake 9-0 as Clem struck out 13 of the 15 batters he faced in the shortened mercy-rule game. He also fanned the last 10 in a row.

Jeremy Stephens and Kerry Plank each had a double in the contest, and Kerry Plank and Doug Wingrove each had two hits.

The Bulldogs beat Huron, 9-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Wingrove, who improved his record to 4-0. Wingrove gave up a lead-off homer, his first earned run of the season, then settled down and dominated the game.

Chelsea scored three times in each the second and sixth innings. Wingrove and Clem each had two hits.

Chelsea, at 11-0-1 over-all, faces Saline on Saturday at 9 a.m., followed by a game with Gabriel Richard at Washtenaw Community College at 11:30.

Sam Morseau Wins State Title

Chelsea sixth grader Sam Morseau won a state championship at the State Freestyle Wrestling Finals last Saturday in East Kentwood.

Morseau won four straight matches.

"I'm extremely proud of Sam," said his coach, Howard McCalla.

"It was only his first year competing in freestyle wrestling."

Chelsea had seven other wrestlers compete at the state tournament as well.

Brent Young placed fourth in the 11-12 age group, and Tim Wescott and John Bobo each placed fifth in the 13-14 age group.

Also competing were Dan Alber, Jeremy Feldkamp, Kevin McCalla, and Andrew Parker.

"The competition at the state level was extremely tough, and I'm proud of all our wrestlers," McCalla said.

COACH PAT CLARKE discusses offensive strategy with one of his batters during Saturday's Chelsea Invitational. The Bulldogs reached the semi-finals, but were defeated by Jackson Northwest.

Lincoln Stuns Bulldogs With Sweep in Chelsea

Chelsea Bulldog softball team suffered a rare double-header loss to a Southeastern Conference opponent last Thursday when the visiting Lincoln Railsplitters won 7-2 and 9-4.

"Lincoln was experienced, strong, and played errorless ball," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We are young, inexperienced, and we will get better. With a young team the season will have peaks and valleys. The Lincoln games were very deep valleys, but we will try to dig our way out."

The first game was well within Chelsea's grasp as the Railsplitters held a 2-1 lead through five innings. However, a five-run fifth inning gave the visitors a 7-1 lead. The only offense the Bulldogs could put together from there on was a long solo homerun to left field by Colleen Scharphorn in the bottom of the seventh.

Amy Thomson singled in the only other run in the second inning. She led the Bulldogs with two of the team's six hits.

Pitcher Scharme Petty suffered her first loss of the season as she gave up 10 hits, struck out three and walked three.

Sarah Musolf got the start in the second game and was roughed up for five runs in the second inning as the Railsplitters took a 5-0 lead. By the fourth inning Lincoln held a 9-0 lead. Scharphorn pitched in relief. Five of Lincoln's nine runs were earned.

Chelsea scored three times in the bottom of the fourth and once in the seventh.

Three walks, a passed ball, and a two-run single by Heather Pulley accounted for Chelsea's three-run fourth inning. Thomson singled in the final run.

The Bulldogs are now 4-2 in the SEC after last week's action.

The Bulldogs reached the semi-finals of the Chelsea Invitational Softball Tournament last Saturday but were eliminated by eventual champion Jackson Northwest, 4-3.

Northwest scored two runs in the top of the seventh inning.

"We played a fine game, but we failed to execute our defense in the seventh inning and allowed Northwest to come back and win," Clarke said.

"We will continue to improve and will win these games eventually. Northwest is ranked fifth in the state."

In the semi-final, Northwest scored in the first inning, but the Bulldogs took a 2-1 lead in the second. Two errors, a single by Petty, and a sacrifice bunt scored the runs.

Northwest tied the game in the fifth, and Chelsea pulled ahead, 3-2 in the bottom of the sixth as Scharphorn singled, Carrie Flintoft executed a sacrifice bunt, and Petty singled.

Petty evened her record at 3-3 as she gave up seven hits and two walks, and recorded a strikeout. She also had two hits for the game.

Softball Team Has Tough Time With Northwest

Chelsea opened the tournament with a 2-1 loss to state-ranked Comstock.

The Bulldogs fell behind 2-0 after three innings. They scored their only run in the fourth on singles by Scharphorn and Shawn Losey and a passed ball.

Petty tossed a three hitter and struck out nine. Petty, Kelly Bellus, and Scharphorn each had three hits. "We played a fine defensive game and Bellus was outstanding at third base," Clarke said.

"We had many offensive opportunities to win but just couldn't seem to get the big hit."

In the second round, the Bulldogs whipped Holt in five innings, 17-0.

Kelly Cross led the Dogs at the plate with three hits and five RBI. Jennifer Teare, Losey, and Christine Burg each had two hits.

Scharphorn ran her record to 2-0 with a two-hitter in a "strong effort," Clarke said.

Chelsea scored seven runs in each the third and fourth innings.

In the game that put the Bulldogs in the semi-finals, Chelsea beat Ypsilanti 12-2 behind the seven-hit pitching of Jennifer Petty, up from the junior varsity.

The Bulldogs scored in all but two innings, taking a 9-0 lead after three innings. Musolf, Burg, Scharphorn, and Flintoft each had two hits. Cross hit a triple and Burg hit a double.

In late action Monday night, the Bulldogs lost and tied two games in a double-header with Jackson Northwest.

The Bulldogs lost the first contest, 9-1, as Scharphorn got the starting assignment on the mound.

The second game was stopped after nine innings with the score tied at 6-6. Chelsea was down 4-0 before rallying in the fifth inning for five runs, the big hit a two-run triple by Losey.

Northwest tied the game in the seventh.

"It was kind of a moral victory for us because they used their number one pitcher in the second game," Clarke said.

Northwest is ranked in the top 10.

Bulldog Girls Top Milan, Lincoln Finish 3rd at Mason Invitational

Chelsea-Bulldog-girls-track-team topped its Southeastern Conference record to 3-0 by defeating Milan, 82-46, and Lincoln, 91-36, last week.

Depth was the key to the Milan meet as the Bulldogs took two places in every event including sweeps of the shot put, 200 and 400 and a 1-2 in the discus.

Chelsea got off to a 26-9 lead in the field events and continued to build on it. Tiffany Moore won the shot with a 30'33" throw with Tammy Browning second and Marti Daggett third.

In the discus, Daggett was first in 95'8" and Moore second in 90'5", both season's bests.

Leisa Schiller also had the first of her three wins on the day taking the long jump. She also led the 200 sweep in :28.7 with Laura Paton second and Erika Boughton third, and picked up her third win in combination with Moore, Paton, and Anne Steffenson in the 800 relay.

Steffenson won the 400 in 1:04.1 followed by Martina Street and Jessica Holton.

Lisa Monti was also a double winner for the Bulldogs taking the 1600 and 3200 runs.

Other highlights were Charity Allen winning the 100 hurdles then coming right back to take second in the 100 in a Bulldog season-best of :13.6, and freshman Monica Hansen winning the 300 hurdles with Becky Erskine third.

The Bulldogs dominated the Lincoln meet taking all but three firsts, sweeping two events and going 1-2 in five others. Chelsea had a 4-27 lead after the first six events.

Lauren Sparaco led a sweep of the 1600 with Joni Thrush second and Carmen Smith third. In the 3200, Monti lowered the freshman record to 11:50.0 with Val Bullock second and Tracey Wales third.

Other meet highlights were Brownie winning the shot at 31'3/4" with Moore second at 30'7/8", both season bests.

Jeanene Rossi cleared five feet to win the high jump.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Rahn Rosentreter is back, which has to please a lot of young ladies in town who play basketball.

Rosentreter, the coach who has led the varsity girls team to two consecutive Southeastern Conference titles, gets part of his old classroom job back this fall. He had said all along that he would not coach if he was not back on staff.

The school district has also said all along that it wants more on-staff coaches. A committee was put together to study the problem. A lot of ex-coaches were called in to testify, everyone agreed it was a tough problem to solve, and we still have most of the same coaches we had two years ago, which, I guess, indeed shows it's a tough problem to solve.

So, Rosentreter's return looks like an ideal arrangement. He becomes one less off-staff coach and one less laid-off teacher.

As far as on-staff coaches go, the district is making some headway. Lonnie Mitchell took over for Jeff Dills as JV basketball coach, and John Copper is now boys tennis coach.

The biggest problem is still the assistant football staff, but now, more than likely, the entire football staff. We all know what fun head coach Gene LaFave had last year breaking in a bunch of young, Saline ex-jocks as his assistants. Well, right now, Mitchell is still the only on-staff assistant coach, which is likely to prompt LaFave to quit coaching.

Where will a new head coach come from? Who knows. There's a sixth grade teaching job open, and a five-sevenths high school science job open. Might be kind of tough.

My solution is for superintendent Joe Piasecki to become head coach, with high school principal Ron Mead and assistant superintendent Fred Mills as his able assistants. Maybe even call in former superintendent Ray Van Meer for a little help upstairs on game days. They have all been successful football coaches before. And besides, what do these guys have to do that's more important than football?

Junior Rob Clem pitched a perfect game Saturday against Whitmore Lake, which both Clem and coach Wayne Welton would probably say is not the best team they've seen this season.

Still, it's a heck of an accomplishment.

Clem struck out 13 of the 15 batters he faced, including the last 10. Most of them struck out swinging, too, which shows he must have had good location or movement on the ball. No varsity team could swing at that many pitches offered by an average pitcher and not at least put the ball in play.

The Whitmore Lake coach must have felt the same way Jim Winter did a few years ago when he was still the girls basketball coach. One game Winter's team made about five field goals in about 60 shots and Winter said, "You'd think we'd make more than that by accident."

Anyway, it was an impressive achievement by Clem. Ten years from now the Whitmore Lake players will all be remembered as all-stars.

Tennis Team Tops Richard But Loses Two Other Matches

Chelsea Bulldog tennis team beat Gabriel Richard Monday night to even their record at 3-3.

Chelsea won the match, 3-2. In first singles, John Rigg lost 6-2, 2-0; Chris Wilson was defeated 6-1, 6-2 at second singles; Scott Pacheco won at third singles, 5-7, 5-7.

At first doubles, Chris Haugen and Taka Adachi won 6-0, 6-2; Shaun Capper and Rob Coelius won 6-0, 6-2 at second doubles; and the third doubles team did not play due to a lack of Richard players.

In other action last week, Chelsea lost to Pinckney on April 26 and Saline on April 24.

In the Pinckney match, Rigg won 6-4, 6-2; Wilson won 6-1, 6-3; Pacheco lost 2-6, 4-6; Ben Manning lost in three sets, 3-6, 6-6 (7-2 tie-breaker), and 5-7; Adachi and Haugen won 6-4, 6-2; Scott Leeman and Rich Mason lost 3-6, 3-6; and Jeff Peterson and Scott Dozle lost 0-6, 4-6.

Saline, one of the best teams in the state, was too much for Chelsea and shut out the Dogs.

Rigg lost 0-6, 1-6; Wilson lost 1-6, 0-6; Pacheco lost 0-6, 0-6; Manning lost 0-6, 2-6; Haugen and Capper lost 3-6, 1-6; Adachi and Mason lost 3-6, 1-6; and Coelius and Leeman lost 0-6, 1-6.

Golf Team Takes Third At Invitational

Chelsea Bulldog girls golf team placed third at the 10-team Monroe Invitational last Friday.

Chelsea shot a 453, Winner Grossette shot 426 and Stevenson was second at 436.

Barb Scriven led Chelsea with a 99. Other Chelsea scores included Melissa Johnson 109, Jennifer Payne 116, Nicole Pontz 129, Sara Devine 136, and Chris McLaughlin 162.

"The girls are coming around faster than I thought they would," said Chelsea coach Loren Winn.

Lung cancer remains the leading cancer killer in the U.S.

CHELSEA'S Jon Royce just misses clearing 6'7" during the Lincoln meet last Thursday.

Boys Track Team Almost Beats Milan

Chelsea Bulldog boys track team lost a close meet to Milan last Tuesday, April 24, 70-64.

The margin of victory came in an unusual place as Brian Zangara and Holden Harris were 1-2 in the pole vault. Their combined eight points were the first scored in the event this season.

Chelsea dominated the other field events as well, with the exception of the long jump, where Jon Royce placed second.

Mike Terpstra and Lucky Beeman were 1-2 in the shot put, with Terpstra's winning toss at 46'3". The duo reversed their positions in the discus, which Beeman won at 138'10".

Jim Hassett won the high jump and Jon Royce was second.

In the running events, Joe Blough took the 1600 run in 4:53.

Zangara picked up his second win of the day in the 300 hurdles in 49.9.

Blough and Harris were 1-2 in the 800 run at 2:11 and 2:12, respectively.

Chelsea's 1600 relay team won the event.

Brian Burg To Play At Siena Heights

Chelsea's basketball's two-time Most Valuable Player Brian Burg has decided to take his talents to Siena Heights College next year.

Burg, a 6'4" center-forward for the Bulldogs, goes to a school that has to replace four starters, including its entire front line. Siena Heights was 29-7 last season and took its second consecutive NAIA District No. 23 Championship.

Burg averaged 19.9 points and 10.4 rebounds while leading Chelsea to an 18-3 record last season. He was First Team All-Southeastern Conference, First Team All-County, First Team All-Region, and Honorable Mention All-State.

"We are pleased to have Brian join our program," said Siena Heights Head Coach Fred Smith.

"He is a hard-worker who was well taught by coach Robin Raymond. He knows how to win and should make a great impact on the Saints' program the next four years."

Raymond was also enthusiastic about Burg's potential.

"Brian's quickness and ability to run the floor will fit right into Siena Heights' style of play," Raymond said.

"He was a pleasure to coach."

JV Softball Team Extends Unbeaten Mark to 6-0

Chelsea junior varsity softball team improved to 6-0 on the season last week with victories over Lincoln and Milan.

Led by the pitching of Kelly Cross, the Dogs won the first game over Lincoln last Thursday, April 26, 16-6. Cross pitched a seven-hitter and struck out six. She also snagged two line drives.

"It was Kelly's best game on the mound," said Chelsea coach Ken Sullins.

Chelsea's big inning was the second as seven Bulldogs crossed the plate. The big blows were a run-scoring double by Liz Sager, a two-run triple by Theresa Hurst, and a two-run single by Gretchen Knutsen.

Chelsea led 10-1 after three innings. Hurst was 4-5 and Angie Riley and Jenny Bobo were each 3-3. The Bulldogs had 20 hits.

"We attacked the ball quite well, as we had 20 hits and only three strikeouts," Sullins said.

"Our defense got a little lax in the fourth and fifth, but we made the plays when we had to."

The Bulldogs won the second game, 19-5, as Jennifer Petty picked up the win with a three-hit, nine-strikeout performance.

Chelsea scored four runs in each of the first and third innings, and eight times in the fourth.

Sager, Riley, and Bobo each had two hits.

"Petty pitched a good game and worked the corners well," Sullins said.

The Bulldogs whalloped the Milan Big Reds last Monday, April 23, 24-2 and 18-3.

Petty struck out 10 batters, including the first five, and pitched a one-hitter in the opener.

Chelsea scored nine runs in the first inning and 15 more over the next three.

Knutsen and Cross each tripled, Heather McConeghy hit a home run, and Knutsen and Sandy Schmid each doubled as the Bulldogs pounded out 16 hits.

"It might have been the ultimate game for us," Sullins said.

"Everything was clicking."

In the second game, Cross pitched a three-hitter and got some good defense from her teammates, especially in the third inning when Carrie Vargo's throw from right field nailed a runner at the plate for the third out.

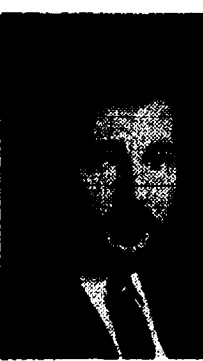

Girls Track Wins

Monti took the two-mile for Chelsea but Northwest also scored and the two teams went into the final race tied for second. Steffenson ran a fine anchor leg of the mile relay but Northwest had a little too much of a lead to make up. The Mounties were third in 4:20.7, Chelsea fourth in 4:22.6 and Northwest had the runner-up trophy over Chelsea for the second invitational in a row.

"We ran very well," said Bainton. "Our balance and top performances were key factors in this meet."

Chiropractic Health Care

Clinical Ecology

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman

This week's column begins on a discussion of Clinical Ecology.

Basically clinical ecology is the art and science of finding environmental causes for people's illnesses.

The field is growing more important because we are not just talking about Earthborn illness (such as mold allergy) but also about the ever-growing man-made environmental factors.

Toxic chemicals are an increasing cause of human ailments.

If you read my first few columns you may recall that one of the causes of spinal misalignments (subluxations) is chemical distress to the body.

With the excellent focus the environment is getting due to Earth Day, now is a good time to reflect on the toxic nature of our world.

You'll learn more in subsequent columns and next week we'll discuss the Doctor of Chiropractic's place in this expanding field.

Please address questions or comments to Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman, 138 E. Middle Street, Chelsea, MI 48118 or call (313) 475-2088.

The Bulldogs had nine hits and Milan pitching issued more than a dozen walks.

"We had more very good fielding and we got the hits when we needed them," Sullins said.

JV Baseball Team Has Tough Week

Chelsea junior varsity baseball team lost all three games it played last week.

Lincoln battered the Bulldogs, 27-17, in the first game of a scheduled double-header last Thursday. The second game was incomplete.

"Everything that could go wrong defensively, did," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

"However, we did hit the ball quite well."

Chelsea was ahead 12-7 going into the bottom of the fourth inning, when Lincoln scored 12 runs.

Lee Skyles, Rick Clouse, and Jason Adams each had two hits, and Adams and Clouse each hit a triple.

Chris White, Jason Garrigus, and Clouse pitched for Chelsea.

Friday the Bulldogs hosted Howell and lost 10-6 and 5-1.

"We played a good JV team solidly all day," Ticknor said.

Chelsea had four hits. Brian Bell had an RBI double and plated another run with a walk.

Bell pitched the entire game.

In the second game, Garrigus' single in the third scored Chelsea's only run of the game.

Garrigus and Mike Eder each had two hits.

Skyles and Dennis Clark were the Chelsea pitchers.

Chelsea lost to Milan, 11-3, in the first game of a scheduled double-header last Monday, April 23. The second game was called in the fourth inning due to darkness with the Bulldogs trailing 4-3.

In the first game, Chelsea took a 2-0 lead in the first inning, led through the first three innings, and tied the game in the fourth, 3-3, before the Big Reds scored four times in the fourth.

Bell hit a run-scoring double and Lee Skyles hit an RBI triple in the first inning. In the fourth inning, Jeff Gietzen reached first and scored on a fielder's choice.

Skyles was 3-3 at the plate.

Chelsea pitchers White, Eder, and Clouse gave up a total of seven hits.

"We are getting better in certain areas and not in others," Ticknor said.

CHELSEA OUTFIELDERS performed a little posterior bump immediately before Comstock came to bat in one of the late innings of last Saturday's first game in the Chelsea Invitational. Chelsea reached the semi-finals before being eliminated by Jackson Northwest.

Rosentreter Gets Part-time Position

After two years on the bench, Chelsea High school girls basketball coach Rahn Rosentreter will make a return to the classroom this fall.

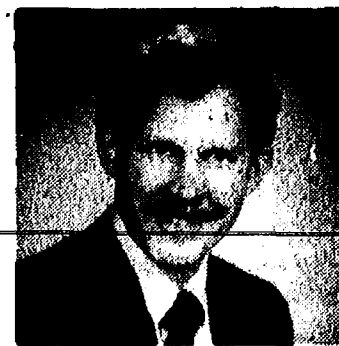

Rosentreter, a social studies teacher until his lay-off two years ago, will initially be a part-time teacher, with technically a 4/7 position. He hopes that will quickly work into a full-time position.

Rosentreter's lay-off triggered a dispute between the Chelsea School District administration and the Chelsea Education Association teachers' union. A grievance was filed, but was later denied by an arbiter. The union was upset about the shuffling of personnel that resulted in the lay-off.

During his lay-off, Rosentreter has continued as varsity girls basketball coach and has guided the team to two consecutive Southeastern Conference titles. He says he plans to coach again this fall.

CHELSEA BUS DRIVER SUE BAINTON was one of the people who listened to Bette Cotxin and Judy Marks discuss safe lifting and carrying procedures in a school bus. The topic was one covered during the day-long program held at Dexter and planned for the fourth annual Special Education Bus Driver and Monitor Institute, attended by drivers from the 10 school districts within Washtenaw county, Saturday, April 28.

Area School Bus Drivers Participate in Hands-On Safety Training Exercise

The fourth annual Special Education Bus Driver and Monitor Institute was conducted Saturday, April 28, at Dexter High school, with transportation supervisors and bus drivers participating from each of the 10 school districts within Washtenaw county.

Jan McCulloch, director of transportation for the Dexter Community Schools, co-ordinated the day-long program, hosted by Dexter, but to which people from each of the 10 districts contributed their expertise, and costs were shared by the districts.

Purpose of the 1990 in-service program included providing the bus drivers "hands-on" safety experiences with fuses, fire extinguishers, and emergency evacuation considerations, in addition to familiarizing the drivers with movement through an overturned school bus.

The event began with 7:30 a.m. registration, during which a light breakfast was served.

After the get-acquainted period, the participants were rotated through six stations, four of which were located in the Dexter High south parking lot, with the remaining two held in the gym and cafeteria of the school.

At the first station, after adequate instruction, drivers had a chance to personally light and extinguish a fuse, and to set up reflective triangles.

Dexter Area Fire Department personnel and trucks visited the high school parking lot, Saturday, to supervise the fire-extinguisher lighting and use demonstration available at the second station.

To the rear of the parking lot, an overturned school bus provided drivers the opportunity to experience the disorientation of "being in an overturned bus," and to successfully and safely navigate a path through the overturned bus, from back window to the front of the bus.

Giant wreckers from Dexter Welding assisted in setting up the "overturned bus" station, a very realistic situation, utilizing a Dexter bus retired from service.

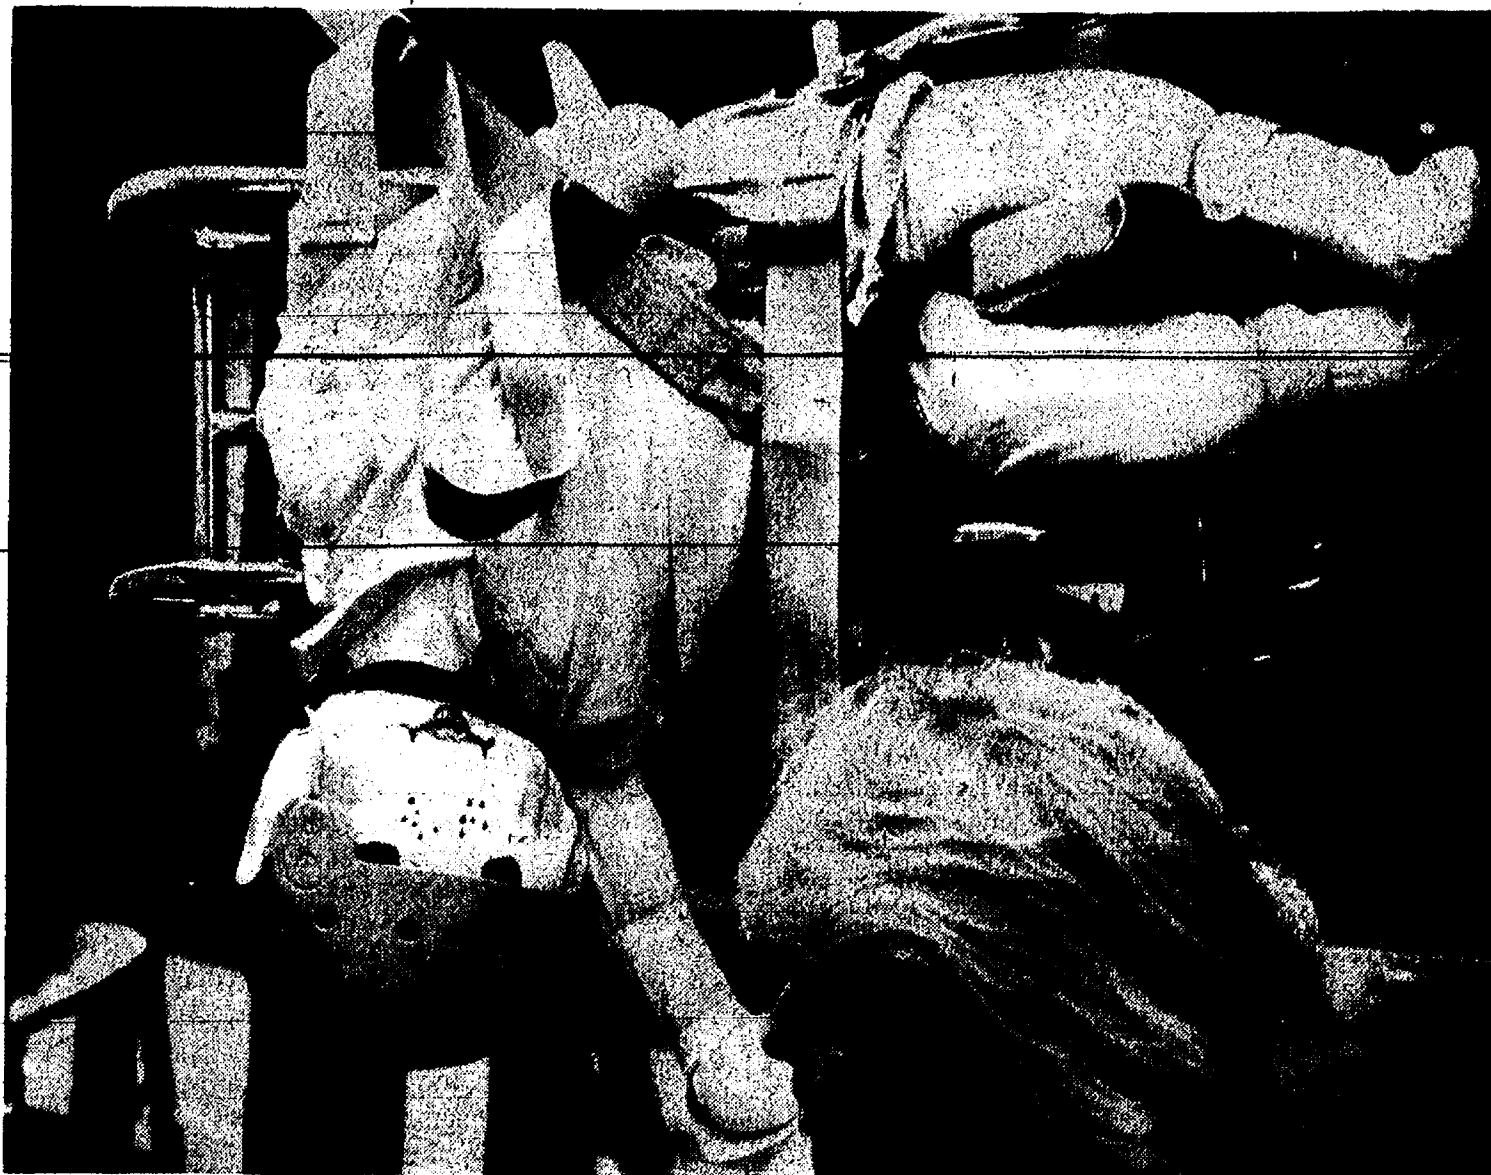

Planning for a safe evacuation, the fourth station was set up to allow bus drivers to become familiar with the use of a school-bus roof hatch, to learn an effective procedure for breaking out the vehicle's windshield, and to become aware of route locations that are safer for evacuating students with handicaps.

Inside the building, the instructors reviewed cutting straps, with first-hand experience provided using cutters on seatbelt webbing, and reviewed suggested contents for first-aid kits.

Another demonstration conducted inside the building involved practicing safe lifting and carrying procedures.

Dozens of drivers took advantage of the opportunity to expand their knowledge of safe practices and recommended evacuation procedures.

Bus drivers attended from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake, Ypsilanti-Lincoln, Willow Run, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti school districts.

DIANE KHUMAVVIS DEMONSTRATED the most effective method, consistent with safety, for evacuating handicapped students from an overturned school bus during the fourth annual Special Education Bus Driver and Monitor Institute, conducted Saturday, April 28, at Dexter High.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Having watched the Earth Day Special on television this past weekend, I feel compelled to write and express some concerns.

First that we must all do our part—every little bit we do individually can and will have an impact on our environment for good or bad. For example, we must do what we can to conserve one of our most precious resources, water, by being conservative in its use and watchful of waste. (I know of someone in our community who runs their lawn sprinkler day and night, rain or shine, from April to October).

2. There are those of us who would welcome the opportunity to recycle without being inconvenienced by a long out-of-the-way drive (a waste of fossil fuels). I am not aware of all the reasons why the recycling station at Polly's was moved, but now, attempting to recycle becomes a major problem.

3. We must accept the fact that we live on a planet with limited resources. God created man with the intent that he be steward over the rest of His creation. Our care and concern for the environment will attain the proper perspective when we realize that the condition of planet Earth is a reflection of the condition of the heart of man. When our heart is right, not only will the environment be in better condition, but issues of greater importance such as abortion (save the trees, but kill a baby) will also be given proper priority.

Chuck Clemens.

To the Editor,

So Joe Boltach wants to recall our Township Supervisor and Trustee. He charges that they displayed contempt.

Having witnessed Joe's performance at several public meetings, I would say he is the one guilty of contempt. Contempt for citizens and officials alike with his boisterous interruptions of public discussion, his catcalls from the rear of the room, his rude interruptions of citizens who aren't saying what he wants to hear, his slanderous accusations of public officials. That is what is truly contemptuous.

And as for the charge that questions were not answered completely and honestly, never have I known of a group of public officials being so harassed because they weren't giving the answers he wanted to hear. Over and over the same question would be asked, with forthright responses of our officials, but not what he wanted to hear.

Before we talk about recalling officials, more citizens should come out to public meetings and learn the truth for themselves.

Nancy Dhue

Dear Editor,

I think the people in the Sewer Assessment District who favor the sewer project (a positive 3:1 in Dexter, Webster, Putnam and Hamburg townships) should gather forces and enter a lawsuit against the people who are delaying the project.

Do you realize that our sewer main could have been in the ground and we could be six months from project completion? Do you think the construction costs will be the same in 6 to 9 months as it would have been a year ago? Who will pay for this extra cost? I think the Greg Magnusons, the Joe Boltachs, the Mary Ann Hitecocks and the Bill Gajewskis should be forced to pay these escalated costs. They are so anxious to delay the project, to hire attorneys to file suits against the townships and Sewer Authority and harass our public officials with recall petitions, maybe we should retaliate with a suit of our own.

When you limit the flushes in your home this spring and trudge to the laundromat, think about WHO is responsible. It certainly isn't our township officials and Sewer Authority Board!

Frank Braun
Portage Lake Resident.

To the Editor:

I have read the seven items listed in Mr. Boltach's recall petition of Mr. Drolett, Dexter township supervisor, and Mr. Smith, Dexter township trustee. How ludicrous can Mr. Boltach get? I cannot believe that he has the nerve to file it, considering his own actions at township and sewer meetings. During some meetings Mr. Boltach has been so rude that even the opponents to the sewer project unsuccessfully attempted to quiet him down. Mr. Boltach would continually blurt out anything he felt like saying, no matter who had the floor. During Mr. Boltach's disruptions, Mr. Drolett would politely ask him to wait his turn. But it did no good. Mr. Boltach continued to yell out whenever he wanted, disrupting the proceedings. If his actions were allowed to continue no one would ever get to speak and there would be total chaos. Any attending the meetings can verify that Mr. Boltach was rude; thus he deserved what he got, which was a stern but polite "keep quiet until you're called on." I personally thought Mr. Drolett should have thrown Mr. Boltach out of the hall after the third or fourth warning. The meetings would have been much more productive without him. The other attendees did not act that way and should not have to put up with that type of action. We would not allow our children to act rudely, why should Mr. Boltach be allowed to?

Mr. Boltach is so misinformed that he still thinks that the waste water treatment site is a septic system. I guess I should be known he would think that, since he has followed the opponents down the dead-end road of lies and misinformation. The treatment site is not a septic system. For one thing, septic systems do not use aerobic bacteria to treat the effluent (like the one designed for Portage Lake). At least one Dexter township resident does not seem knowledgeable enough to vote on issues intelligently; guess who? Mr. Boltach, you know that Mr. Drolett and Mr. Smith never claimed that the voters were not knowledgeable enough to vote intelligently. They did say that the residents were not getting the truth from sewer opponents, thus they probably would not vote correctly on the bond issue.

Mr. Boltach is so badly misinformed that he claims the sewer project would financially devastate Dexter township residents. How many times do we have to show you the facts before you get it, Mr. Boltach? Only the Portage Lake residents will pay for the sewer system. The residents of Portage Lake want and are willing to pay for their waste water treatment. We have made our first payment, and no one outside the assessment area has paid one dime for this project. Maybe if Mr. Boltach would quit disrupting the meetings and listen, he would learn something.

Mr. Boltach, you finally got something right. Mr. Drolett and Mr. Smith have continued to support the Portage Lake Sewer System, which is exactly what the people around Portage Lake have asked them to do. Even with the opponents' threats of recall (see Mr. Magnuson's previous letters to the Editor of this paper), Mr. Drolett and Mr. Smith continue to do the right thing and seek financing to complete this very important project. Two surveys confirm that 74% of the lake residents want this sewer, and we will get it.

Attempting to recall Mr. Drolett and Mr. Smith, the two people who have followed the request of the lake residents, is outrageous. If anything, we should recall those officials who have not shown support for the sewer and have been more hindrance than help. Let's discuss that as an option and really get the good government that Mr. Boltach claims to want.

This letter was given to the Portage Base Lakes Area Water and Sewer Authority on April 19.

Dear Persons:

As a citizen and a professional in the field of environmental and industrial health, I wish to document my reservations about the waste water treatment facility proposed for Stinchfield Woods.

It is my opinion, and that of many others, that the process being followed is neither sound nor democratic. I have not seen or heard that alternate sites have been looked for or considered. Siting such a facility should begin with the development of criteria which address specific concerns such as protection of human health, environment, aesthetic beauty, ground water, surface water, wetlands, flora and fauna. Additional criteria, such as cost, should be developed.

Following this, the Authority should search for several potential sites, not just one because its price is right. Each of these sites can then be evaluated against the list of criteria. One site should arise which has the least environmental and health impact. The public is more likely to accept this process than the very poor procedure you have been following. As our Authority, you must ensure that the decision-making process is accomplished carefully, thoroughly, and in a manner open and accessible to all of us concerned.

Another concern has to do with the basic design of wastewater treatment plants. There is a large number of reports of serious environmental contamination from such facilities. A case in point is the contamination of surface waters with untreated sewage after heavy rains caused equipment failures and consequent sewage spills as near as Ann Arbor. No one controls the material which could be disposed of in toilets. Therefore, no one can control the material which flows into such facilities. I can envision people using their toilets to dispose of unwanted arsenic garden sprays, other pesticides, gasoline, oil and other noxious and carcinogenic agents. In turn, some of this discarded material will appear in the gaseous and liquid outflow from the treatment plant. Obviously, ground and surface waters will be at risk of contamination. The wetlands will suffer, the lakes will be polluted, and perhaps people will suffer also.

My recent communication with Dr. Kirby Fannin has alerted me to yet another concern. This has to do with the gaseous effluents associated with such sewage treatment facilities. Dr. Fannin has detected a variety of pathogenic organisms considerable distances downwind from sewage treatment plants. Included in the measurements were a variety of airborne bacteria and virus particles. A number of law suits which address the toxic nature of gaseous wastes from similar facilities are underway at the moment. I'm sure Dr. Fannin is available for consultation on the relative safety of these facilities.

Statistically, between 16 and 17 percent of us will die of cancer. It is becoming quite clear that most of these cancers are caused by chemical, biological and physical agents in our environment (for example, arsenic, viruses, and radiation). Exposure to some of these agents is under our control, for example, indoor radon, tobacco smoke and alcohol. Other agents in our environment are imposed upon us by faulty, poorly planned facilities such as the one you have designed. The best approach to cancer control is to take charge of our own environments.

I understand that we have a problem in need of a solution. However, the recent referendum illustrates majority public opinion against the route you persist in following. I urge you to change your direction and follow a legitimate, logical plan which holds more promise of finding the best site. Following that selection, only the best state-of-the-art facility should be built with capacity to handle not only present but future sewage volumes. It should also be built to minimize air, soil and water pollution. Let's not forget that we should leave a relatively clean environment for the children who will follow us.

On April 18, an exchange student from Germany will ask Governor Blanchard "what measures will be taken by the state to protect our water from contaminants?" Why are you not asking the same question?

Dear Editor,

I moved to Chelsea two years ago. I was raised in Milan all my life. I have noticed that Chelsea has a transportation system (C.A.T.S.) limited only to the elderly and handicapped. I believe this is a good service provided by Chelsea.

Milan provides the same service. They began about five years ago, and have a successful program. The only difference is that Milan does not limit this service to elderly and handicap people. For $1 you can call them and they pick you up at your door and they will take you anywhere in the city limits. They require that you are a resident. I would appreciate it if C.A.T.S. would contact Milan transportation and learn more about providing the community with this service. There are many people who cannot drive or own a car (including myself) who could make good use of this type of public service. Please check into it. Thank you.

To the Editor,

Imagine the intelligence Thaddeus J. Cieślak, Jr. must have. He runs around like a Pit Bull trying to bite everybody who does not agree with him. For a time he tried to attack Gregg Magnuson with misinformation and now he is trying to attack me. He does not live in Dexter township...

...yet he is trying to tell us how to run our township. If he would learn how to read... he would have found out that Chichi Lu Jacobson was the one that filed the recall petitions for James L. Drolett and H. Douglas Smith.

Maybe James L. Drolett is giving him this misinformation as H. Douglas Smith is doing in the Portage Lake and Base Lake Association's Newsletter.

John Tandy is another who spread misinformation with the letter he sent to the Dexter township voters. When he was in office, I remember the scandal at the time. John Tandy was the supervisor that was ousted because he had the lowest property taxes.

I don't care what they say about me... I am helping Chichi Lu because I want to bring back GOOD GOVERNMENT to Dexter township by removing Drolett and Smith. We are getting good candidates to run for these offices that can straighten out the mess these two have got us into. If you want to run, or if you know someone interested, please contact me. Getting $40,000 in salary and expenses isn't bad for a PART TIME JOB? Can you afford not to run?

WCC's Motorcycle Safety Program Begins in May

Washtenaw Community College's 1990 Motorcycle Safety Program begins this May with courses offered in three skill levels.

These courses, all taught by instructors who are certified by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation, are designed to provide information on cycles, proper riding gear and road-handling tips. Upon successful completion, the student will become certified by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation and WCC.

The regular skill level is designed for students who have little or no experience riding a motorcycle on public roads. It focuses on riding techniques such as emergency braking, counter steering and quick maneuvers.

There are five separate regular sessions offered. The first session begins on May 11 from 5:30 to 9 p.m. All other meeting dates are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on May 12, 13, 19 and 20. The second session has its first meeting on June 1 from 5:30 to 9 p.m., and all other meetings from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on June 2, 3, 9 and 10. The third possible session for enrollment meets for the first time on June 22 from 5:30 to 9 p.m. All other meetings for this session are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on June 23, 24, 29 and 30. The fourth and fifth sessions meet in August. The fourth session has its first meeting on Aug. 3 from 5:30 to 9 p.m. and all other meetings on Aug. 4, 5, 11 and 12 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The final session meets on Aug. 17 from 5:30 to 9 p.m. and then from 8 to 4:30 p.m. on Aug. 18, 19, 25 and 26.

WCC also is offering a slower paced session. This is designed for the beginner who is a bit fearful of riding motorcycles. It will proceed at a slow pace, focusing on learning how to ride and gain confidence before moving on to difficult maneuvers. There are two sessions of this course. The first meets from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. on June 11, 12, 13, 14 and then the next week on June 18, 20, 25 and 26. The second session meets in July from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. on July 9-12 and 16-19.

The final skill level is the Accelerated session. This is for students who have already been riding on the street, have mastered the basic maneuvers and need to pass a motorcycle course by law. To enter this class, each student must pass a riding and written test. There are two sessions of this course. The first has its initial meeting on May 4 from 5:30 to 9 p.m., with its following meetings from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on May 5 and 6. The second session holds its first meeting on July 27 from 5:30 to 9 p.m. and its following meetings from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on July 28 and 29.

Any licensed driver 16 years or older is eligible to enroll, but individuals under 18 must have written parental consent. Certification by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation enables students under 18 to apply for a Michigan motorcycle license.

Students enrolling in any skill level, must provide the following: helmet, gloves, over-the-ankle boots or shoes, jacket, pants (preferably denim), a valid Michigan driver's license and proof of medical insurance.

Motorcycles used in this program are provided by WCC through grant funds from the Michigan Department of Education.

ELAINE HARRIS, BOB EVANS, USED fire extinguishers to quench a blaze, then properly discarded the extinguishers during an instruction session staffed by members of the Dexter Area Fire Department at the fourth annual Special Education Bus Driver and Monitor Institute, hosted by Dexter, Saturday, April 28. Rusty LeFurge of Manchester "punched their tickets," to verify they completed the requirements at Station 2: Fire Extinguishers. Personnel from the 10 school districts within Washtenaw county contributed their expertise, and the cost was shared by the participating districts.

'Organic' Foods May Not Be Healthier Than Others

The recent uproar over the use of the growth regulator Alar on apples revealed, among other things, that American consumers tend to believe that "natural" or "organic" foods—which they define as foods that are free of synthetic ingredients or man-made chemicals—are somehow more healthful than foods produced using chemical pesticides or fertilizers.

The basic assumption seems to be that everything that occurs naturally in foods is healthful and anything added along the way is potentially harmful.

In truth, nature produces substances far more toxic than anything we use in crop production, and most food products contain one or more known naturally occurring carcinogenic or toxic substances.

The common potato, for instance, contains some 150 chemicals, including such toxins as arsenic, solanine, and cyanide. Vitamin A, which we need for good health, can be toxic in large doses—20 to 100 times the recommended daily intake. The caffeine in 100 cups of coffee—only about 20 times what many people consume daily—would be lethal if consumed in one dose.

Many of the natural toxins in fruits and vegetables are natural pesticides, chemicals that plants produce to defend themselves against insects and diseases. When plants are under stress from drought or other environmental conditions, or when the onslaught by insects or disease organisms intensifies, plants boost their chemical defenses. Scientific studies of some of these substances have shown them to be about as likely as man-made pesticides to be capable of causing cancer and having other harmful effects.

"Fortunately, the human body has a variety of ways to cope with these natural poisons in the usual amounts in which we consume them," says Sandra Andrews, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University.

"As long as people consume a wide variety of foods, it's highly unlikely that they'll overload their defenses with a surplus of any one hazardous substance."

Fortunately for food producers and consumers alike, university researchers are exploring cultural alternatives to pesticide use that reduce the impact of pests on crops, as well as the quantities of chemical pesticides and fertilizers used. MSU agronomist Bernard Knezek points out that choices in tillage, the use of biological controls such as predators and diseases of pests, and crop rotation, for instance, combined with better timing of pesticide applications and fertilizers when chemicals are needed, can greatly reduce the extent of pest problems and plants' need for natural defenses or chemical protection, without sacrificing either yield or quality.

"Research on cultural alternatives is important to develop and refine these practices so that they become convenient and economical," he says. "Then more and more growers will adopt them and chemical use will naturally decline because there will be no economic benefit in maintaining chemical use at high levels."

Until the day that minimal chemical use is the rule rather than the exception, the consumer who thinks that "organic" produce is more healthful because it's produced without chemical pesticides or fertilizers may be right—or she may simply be paying a higher price for her produce.

"Making consumer decision-making even more iffy is the fact that there's no guarantee that foods labeled 'natural' or 'organically grown' really were produced without synthetic pesticides or fertilizers," Andrews points out.

"There is no legal definition of 'organic,' and no way to prove or disprove claims that a product was organically grown. The 'organic' lettuce at the health food store may be no different from the lettuce at the local supermarket except in price—it probably costs two or three times as much."

"If you looked at the cost of 'organically grown' foods, you might expect them to be more nutritious, to account for the higher prices," Andrews says.

"But research has shown no nutritional advantage in crops grown without synthetic chemicals."

May Fellowship Day Slated At St. Mary's Parish Center

May Fellowship Day with Church Women United of Chelsea will be observed on Friday, May 4, at St. Mary's Parish Center, Summit and Congdon Sts. at 10 a.m.

This year's ecumenical service, written by Christian women from Hartford, Conn., is entitled "Justice With All Your Might," and focuses on economic justice. The play on words reflects both the widow's mite, and other biblical and historical women who gave their "whole living" as it challenges us to use the "might" we have as consumers and participants in an affluent society to make our economic system more just.

May Fellowship Day '90 gives visibility and content to CWU's imperative, Assignment: Poverty of Women—a five-year commitment to work for elimination of the root causes of poverty of women and children. Economic inequities and injustices in our society are some of those root causes.

We hope that all who can will join in this year's May Fellowship Day celebration. We also hope all who sup-

Guest Minister Serving North Lake Church During May

North Lake United Methodist church, 14111 North Territorial Rd., will be having a guest minister during the month of May. The Rev. Fred Maitland, a retired United Methodist minister from Ann Arbor, will be filling the pulpit and handling pastoral calls.

The Rev. Maitland was a missionary to Brazil and then a pastor in the Central Brazil Conference from 1952 to 1970. He was an associate pastor at Ann Arbor First United Methodist until he retired in 1983.

The Rev. Maitland's wife, Lois, is known to residents in the Chelsea School District as an elementary school teacher for many years.

The congregation at North Lake invites any interested residents of the Chelsea area or old friends of the Maitlands to stop by during May services and say "hello." Morning worship is at 10:30 a.m.

Faith Lutheran Elementary Plans Kindergarten Round-Up

Faith Lutheran is located at 9575 North Territorial Rd., just west of Dexter-Pinckney Rd.

Livestock Exports To Rise in '90s

Livestock products are expected to be an increasing share of U.S. farm exports in the 1990's.

Farm Bureau livestock specialist Kevin Kirk said livestock products face less competition overseas and offer more opportunities to develop specialty markets and brands.

"It will assist the Michigan livestock producer by helping to stabilize the price or increase it somewhat and give us an opportunity to expand our livestock production within the state," he said.

Kirk notes that compared to bulk commodities, each dollar of high value exports like livestock products returns about 55 percent more income to the U.S. economy.

The youngest actor to win an Oscar was Tatum O'Neal at age ten for her role in Paper Moon.

Romans 10:17—"Faith comes by hearing and hearing by the Word of God."

Do you wish you had more faith? Does God seem distant and unconcerned with your problems? If so, now is the time to change all that.

Romans 12:3 tells us that, "God has dealt to every man the measure of faith." If you have made Jesus Christ your personal Saviour, all the faith you need is already available. What you must do is act on it to release its power. Speak God's Word aloud; believe His promises; pray to receive guidance in carrying out His plan for your life.

If you have not given your life to Jesus yet, don't wait. Call to him now, and He will answer you. Receive the faith God wants to pour into you, and release that faith by believing God's Word and acting on it. Something wonderful will happen!

Jesus is Lord and Saviour!

Are There Not Many Mansions in Heaven?

By Christ's picturesque illustration of his father's house being filled with bounteous mansions, was Christ giving us an invitation to dwell in the spacious estates of heaven—estates that will always have vacancy for righteousness? In the corresponding reference, John 14:2-3, Jesus says "In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." Even if we were to interpret this passage as indicating Christ's ascension into heaven, our hope of inhabiting the Kingdom of God still rests upon the return of Jesus Christ to the earth, not our ascension into heaven. Granted, Jesus said "I will go and prepare a place for you," but he also tells us that he will receive us "when he comes again." No one will enter the Kingdom of God prior to his ascension and establishment upon the earth, for Jesus makes it clear that his desire to dwell with us can only be possible WHEN HE RETURNS TO RECEIVE US. Accordingly, the place that Jesus was speaking of going to prepare a place for us was not heaven to begin with, it was the cross. We often overlook the fact that it was the crucifixion of our Jesus, being inclusive of his resurrection and ascension, that gives us a hope of eternal life, not his mere ascent to the right hand of Jehovah. What Christ was signifying in John 14:2-3 was that, through his death: all, be it Jew, Gentile, Greek, etc., who accept and believe in his birth, life, commandments, death and resurrection could have a place in the spiritual house of God today, and a hope to live in the literal Kingdom that is to be upon the earth at his return. 1 Pet. 2:15 affirms this in saying "Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, and holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ." We are accepted into a house, adopted as the very children of God without regard to racial or ethnic boundaries if we accept God's gift of love: his Son Jesus Christ. There is plenty of room (many mansions) in the house of God for all who are willing to abide by his word. "But Christ was faithful over God's house as a son. And we are his house if we hold fast our confidence and pride in our hope," from Heb. 3:6. (RSV)

Michigan Farm Leader Calls President's Crop Insurance Proposal 'Ill-Advised Ploy'

The Bush administration proposal to eliminate the crop insurance program in the 1990 farm bill is an "ill-advised ploy that would force agriculture to rely on the political uncertainty of case-by-case disaster relief," according to Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. Laurie is a member of the Commission for the Improvement of Crop Insurance, which met in Washington, D. C. this week.

"In its study of the federal crop insurance program, the commission found that farmers have a number of concerns—the perceived high cost of coverage, the complexity of enrollment procedures, the actuarial soundness of the program, and the inability to insure many of the specialty crops grown in our state," Laurie said.

"The commission concluded that despite these problems, a revitalized program can serve agriculture well, provided that a number of recommendations are implemented for reforming the system. However, for some inexplicable reason, Congress and the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation have been dragging their feet on effecting the needed changes. A reformed crop insurance program would be more beneficial for agriculture than congressionally mandated relief," he said.

Laurie said a restructured crop insurance plan should provide coverage based on dollars per acre. Each participant could assess the liability and purchase the amount necessary to provide desired coverage.

"A deductible should be included to reduce premium costs and stop nance claims. The program would then be simpler to administer and participation would be encouraged," he said.

Farm Bureau policy states that when the federal crop insurance system is made "equitable and workable," disaster programs should be abolished.

"I believe that Congress is the problem and should stay out of the disaster business in order to let the crop insurance program work," Laurie concluded.
