Special Council Meeting Addresses Landfill Space

Chelsea Village Council held a special meeting last night to decide how to handle dwindling space in the village landfill.

The matter became urgent recently when the village was informed it might not have an opinion about its new landfill license until late in June. An administrative hearing was originally scheduled for May 2, but it did not take place.

The village was granted a new landfill operating license for its new cell by the Department of Natural Resources some time ago. However, the license contained a $600,000 bonding stipulation which the village considers unreasonable and has been fighting ever since. Village attorneys have said that if the village begins filling the new cell before the bonding matter is resolved, it will essentially have accepted the bonding through its actions.

According to village manager Robert Stalker, the village had two options. The first was to shut off the landfill to everyone but village residents. Stalker said that approach could extend existing space until about July 1. Under current conditions, the landfill will be completely filled by the end of the month, Stalker said.

The second, and more likely solution, Stalker said, was to have the current village garbage hauler take village trash to another landfill, probably the Granger Landfill near Lansing. That will add about 300 additional hauling miles per week for Marshall Rubbish and would require some adjustment to the terms of the contract. The village disposes of about 70 yards of garbage per week.

The political consequences of shutting off the landfill to the townships, even for just a month, might be high. The village has asked the townships to help defray the costs of closing out the old landfill, and will probably ask for more money as the landfill clean-up program gets underway.

Stalker said any lay-offs of landfill employees would probably be "a last resort." The landfill, which operates on a self-sustaining basis, would lose the majority of its revenues if tipping fees dry up due to a complete closure.

Downtown Beautification Project Shifts into High Gear With Council Vote

A capacity crowd in the village council chambers cheered and applauded village council's decision last Tuesday, May 1 to approve the financing method for the Downtown Development Authority's proposed beautification project.

The 5-0 vote to approve the concept of tax increment financing for the project came after a presentation by landscape architect Howard Deardorff, whose design team will head up the project.

Most major Chelsea merchants were in the audience, including at least a couple whose businesses aren't in the downtown area. Before the meeting, one businessman called the meeting "the future of Chelsea." Another called it the most important vote council would ever make for the downtown.

Although the slide presentation didn't contain many details of what will happen in Chelsea, it did show examples of projects in other Michigan towns. Included were examples of signs and town logos that have developed.

Deardorff also included aerial slides of the village, plus views of what a motorist sees when entering the village on the north and the south. He highlighted areas that could use some improvement, such as the southern entrance, as well as problems in the middle of town, such as the abandoned Hop-In store next to McKays Memorial Library.

A comprehensive sign program will apparently be one of the cornerstones of the project. Deardorff said not only is it hard to find parking lots in I-94 either don't know the village exists or don't know there is an historic downtown after they get off the highway and see the typical fast-food restaurants.

He referred to the sign system as an information system that tells people "how to use the downtown."

"There's things downtown that people just don't know about when they pass on I-94," Deardorff said.

"It's just not a well-told story."

Deardorff also said his team relies heavily on information from the Chelsea community.

"It's important to get the merchants, the people of the community involved in the improvement that's proposed," Deardorff said.

"What we like to do is stage a workshop where we identify the opportunities and constraints in the downtown. One of the things we have to do is identify the limits of the project. That's an important step."

"We'll generate alternatives, different ways of solving problems. We're not going to ram something down your throat. We're going to come back to you in a workshop format where you feel comfortable in participating and you can critique and say 'I like this, I don't like that.'"

Usually the solution comes about by combining alternatives."

Deardorff detailed a five-phase project, the first of which is the "public involvement workshop." That could begin as early as this month.

In the public workshop, various "streetscape elements" will be discussed such as plants, street furniture such as benches, kiosks, parking meters, plant containers, and trash receptacles, informational and directional signs and a village logo design, lighting, and pavement treatments such as paver blocks.

The other phases include developing a concept plan, developing a schematic plan and cost estimate, design development, and developing contract documents and construction.

Construction would begin next spring.

Under tax increment financing, DDA will collect all additional tax revenues that come from the rise in property values in the downtown business district since 1987. In other words, additional tax money that would have gone to the Chelsea School District, Village of Chelsea, Washtenaw county, and other taxing entities will go to DDA.

Deardorff's written proposal said his firm will use a project budget of $900,000 as a guideline, with about $90,000 allocated to his team's consulting fees over the life of the project.

DDA financial consultant Franz Mogdis told the audience that downtown SEV had risen $1.8 million but his figures showed $2.8 million. He also said DDA would have collected about $130,000 last year.

Retired merchant Luther Kusterer later in the meeting publicly expressed his displeasure about Mogdis' presentation, and Mogdis' involvement with the DDA, and accused Mogdis of misstating the facts.

Village manager Robert Stalker later clarified the numbers and said $1.8 million was the accurate figure.

Stalker said Monday that the village's bond counsel had given its approval of the project but recommended two separate bond issues rather than a single one next spring.

The first bond issue would be used, in part, for consulting fees.

Public Invited To Meet School Board Candidates

Chelsea School District is sponsoring a "Meet The Candidates Night" next Tuesday, May 15 at 7 p.m. at Beach Middle school. All 11 candidates for the two available school board seats in the June 11 elections have been invited to take part and state their platforms to the public.

The event will follow a specific format. Each candidate will give up to two minutes of opening comments. Each candidate will also be given up to one minute to answer each question asked. And each candidate will be given up to one minute for closing comments.

Chelsea High school teacher Bill Coelius will moderate the event in a style similar to a television talk show. He will take a microphone into the audience to let audience members ask questions.

The 11 candidates are Dona Baird, 615 N. Freer Rd.; A. Marie Colombo, 18550 Cavanaugh Lake Rd.; Jane Dising, 14359 Forest Ct.; Roger Dymond, 3097 Chisholm Tr.; Jason Eyster, 1025 N. Fletcher Rd.; Ellen G. Gutierrez, 2000 South Lake; Conrad Knutsen, 211 E. Middle St.; Richard McCalla, 209 Jefferson St.; Roderick Powers, 12630 Scio Church Rd.; Janet M. Roberts, 11506 Jackson Rd.; and Mary K. Weber, 233 Adams St.

Village May Soon Be into Tire Recycling

The village may soon add old tires to the list of materials area residents can recycle.

The village charges $8.25 per car tire and $12.75 per truck tire it buries in the landfill.

An Ann Arbor company called Zero Waste Recycling, Inc. is willing to take the old tires for $1.50 for small tires and $4 for larger tires, without rims. The largest tires, those 20 inches or larger, would command a charge of $10 without rims and $15 with rims.

The village may add $.50 or $1 for handling.

The company would pick the tires up at the landfill after a minimum of 25 have accumulated.

In other recycling news, the village council's Waste Management Committee, formerly called the Recycling Committee, plans to present a suggested recycling program at the next village council meeting Tuesday, May 15, committee chair Frank Hammer told council last week.

First Draft of Annexation Policy Given to Council

Village administration has devised a first draft of a formal annexation policy which leans heavily toward favoring commercial and industrial property.

Village manager Robert Stalker submitted the draft to village council last week.

The village is worried, in part, about retaining enough wastewater treatment plant capacity for undeveloped village lands, such as the industrial park. Because sewage plant capacity is limited, Stalker has proposed the village would be best served by limiting annexations to projects that will boost the tax base significantly and provide jobs.

"Annexation of residential properties are disfavored for the reason that residential properties, by their nature do not provide for the greater public good under most circumstances," the draft reads.

All the vacant land annexed in the last several years, with the exception of a parcel on Old US-12 for an office complex, has been for housing. In addition, Henry and Martin Merkel have asked the village to annex 156 acres east of the wastewater treatment plant. That land would also be used for housing.

"Only annexations which significantly enhance the tax base and employment opportunities without over burdening the village's infrastructure and/or services shall be considered for approval," the draft reads.

School District Administrators Get Raises at Board Meeting

Chelsea School District administrators received salary increases "consistent with the increases given to the teaching staff" at Monday night's school board meeting.

Exact salaries were unavailable as of press time.

Other provisions of the proposed policy include that the developer will pay for just about everything regarding road and utilities construction and that no fee waivers will be permitted; that lands to be annexed should help square off existing borders; that discharges into the sewer system will meet village specifications; and that developments will not create traffic problems.

Curriculum director Laurie Bissell's position was placed on a two-year continuing contract similar to other administrators in the district.

The board accepted, with regret, the resignation of Kathleen Arnett, who has been a secretary in the district for more than 16 years.

KING AND QUEEN of the 1990 Chelsea High School Prom were seniors Chad Starkey and Nicole Potts. The annual event was held last Saturday in the high school gym.

Village Wants To Adopt New Nepotism Policy

The Village of Chelsea is trying to formulate a written nepotism policy pertaining to new and current village employees.

An initial draft, submitted by the village's labor attorney, was considered too restrictive by village council. The primary area of contention was a requirement that would force one employee to quit his or her job after marrying another employee. If neither employee offered to quit, the village would determine which would leave via a "random process."

Village manager Robert Stalker said he is anxious to have a formal policy adopted because there are some positions that will be filled in the near future.

Tom Dorer Gets Council Appointment

Village resident Tom Dorer was officially appointed last week to fill out the remaining year of the vacant seat on village council.

The seat became available when former trustee Richard Steele was elected village president. The appointment was unanimous.

BILL COELIUS IV, a 1988 Chelsea High school graduate, won a national collegiate forensics championship at the National Forensics Association National Competition in Mankato, Minn. April 29-30. Bill, a freshman at Eastern Michigan University, competed with partner Carolyn West, an EMU senior, in duo interpretation as part of the EMU forensics team. They performed the contemporary play, "First Night" by Jack Neary and took top honors. More than 250 college teams, featuring about 5,000 students, took part in the event and EMU finished second as a team. Bill also placed in the quarter-finals in poetry. He's the son of CBS forensics teacher Bill Coelius.

A 25-year old Jackson man was suspected in the early morning arson of three buildings and a trash receptacle in downtown Chelsea. Extensive damage was done to a storage building at Lincoln and Congdon St., and to the back stairway and entrance at the D&C Variety Store, police said. Relatively minor damage was inflicted on the back porch of McKune Memorial Library. A trash bin at the Hop-In, next to McKune library, was not damaged.

National Honor Society of Chelsea High school raised a record $1,004 to benefit the Chelsea Scholarship Committee at its Tag Day Drive in downtown Chelsea. The total was $254 more than the previous year's total. Sam Vogel was the scholarship committee chairman, and Miriam Klemmer was the secretary. "We are grateful for the support," Vogel said. Ajax Paving of Jackson was the low bidder to re-pave the part of W. Middle street torn up by the construction of the storm sewer. Ajax's bid was $67,758. The bid was accepted at the village council's regular meeting. "This just about depletes the major streets fund," Village Administrator Fritz Weber told the council. The first phase of the over-all project, the replacement of the storm sewer, was to be finished within the week.

Chelsea's varsity baseball team earned its fourth consecutive SEC victory in Dexter with an exciting come-from-behind 10-9 game. The Bulldogs utilized a six-run seventh inning to overcome a 9-4 deficit, chalking up the decision in their favor. The Dreadnaughts jumped off to a 6-0 lead in the bottom of the third inning on five hits and three walks by Bulldog pitcher John Adams. Chelsea was able to mark up one run in the fourth inning on hits by Tim Reed and Mike Check, coupled with a Dexter throwing error. The Chelsea team continued to chip away at Dexter's lead, taking three more runs in the fifth inning, narrowing the scoring gap. The Bulldogs capitalized on walks and defensive lapses to trail only 6-4. However, in the bottom of the sixth the Dreadnaughts added three more runs to make the score 9-4.

Nancy Porath received notice that her class' newspaper, a weekly called "The 204 Classroom Enterprize," had won $20 from The New Readers Press of Syracuse, N.Y. The paper was produced, written, dittoed, and typed completely by the students in her special education class.

The McKune Memorial Library and the North Lake United Methodist church were the only sites where people could purchase tickets for the Chelsea Area Historical Society "Once Upon A Time" house tour. The library was among the eight homes to be featured in the tour. McKune Library, a large Victorian house was built by Elisha Congdon in 1860. Through the portals of the new red brick house passed the most eminent people of the area to socialize, ponder and shape the future of Chelsea and Sylvan township.

Riley Backs Unified Trial Court Concept

Returning to the Legislature for the first State of the Judiciary in two years, Supreme Court Chief Justice Dorothy Comstock Riley abstained from making major new demands, but supported the idea of a "unified trial court" system she hopes will be studied by a new commission charged with proposing fundamental judicial reforms.

However, congratulating legislators for renovating their chambers, Riley did seek support for a new court building.

Riley said commissions in other states similar to the new Michigan group have made a unified trial court "the bedrock upon which meaningful judicial reform has been built."

She said unification "has enabled these states to make optimum use of human and technological resources and thus assure their citizens equal access to their courts."

A unified court system would streamline current operations which include 243 trial courts by establishing a circuit court with various divisions handling cases now originating in district and probate courts. It would mean at most 83 trial courts at one per county.

The 21st Century Commission on the Courts, established by legislative resolution three weeks ago, includes legislators and members appointed by the Legislature, the governor, the Supreme Court and the State Bar.

Riley said the commission, which she recommended in her last State of the Judiciary in 1988, will develop a blueprint for the future of the court system. She indicated it would address the urgency of the needs of the system as it tackles higher caseloads while dealing with local governments which argue they cannot bear the full cost of operations.

Riley expressed hope the commission could help deal with a perennial court complaint regarding inadequate and inequitable funding of the courts. Chief justices have for years called for full state-wide funding of courts at all trial levels, but only the first phase of supporting courts in Wayne county has been implemented.

House Judiciary Chair Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) said the commission "has the promise of developing good proposals." He welcomed the discussion of a unified trial court, which he said would result in a better use of judicial resources.

Bullard said, however, that costly reform of the judicial system, including full state funding, will not move to the top of the priority list.

Senate Appropriations Chair Harry Gast (R-St. Joseph) doused expectations of substantial funding improvements for courts. "They have to prioritize. I do not see (a tax increase) to fund a court system," he said. "It would take one hell of a lot of money." He noted education remains a higher priority in state government.

The 21-member commission would be the second to study the judiciary since the constitution was adopted in 1963.

A 1971 group developed a series of proposed deep reforms, including direct appointment of Supreme Court justices and abolition of the probate court, but few were adopted.

Riley also hailed a legislative agreement to create the department by 1995 as "a beginning and a strong signal of our collective will (to protect) the innocence of our children." The agreement calls for establishing the Office of Children and Youth Services as an autonomous agency, an interim step to creation of the department.

Rep. Teola Hunter (D-Detroit), who helped forge the agreement on the children's agency and who introduced legislation Thursday establishing pilot programs in seven counties, said everything is still on track to create the department in five years. She said she hopes the House will act on the bill before summer recess with the Senate completing action this fall.

Riley was interrupted a single time with applause, led by her court colleagues and appellate court judges, when she called upon legislators to build a "Hall of Justice" for court operations in the Capital.

The Supreme Court sits in a building it shares with the attorney general and other agencies, the Court of Appeals has quarters in another commercial building in Lansing and support staff is housed in other buildings around town.

Gast supported the need to build a Hall of Justice, but offered no answers on the source of money or if it would be located on the site of the Lansing Civic Center, which treasurer Robert Bowman has offered to buy with pension funds.

Riley told legislators courts have made "dramatic strides" in cutting case backlogs, noting a 52 percent reduction since 1987 in the number of cases still pending in circuit court two years after filing.

Civil case filings increased 8 percent in circuit court and 1 percent in district court from 1988 to 1989. Criminal felony cases in circuit court increased by 9 percent over the same period, with the proportion of cases involving drug convictions increasing to 25 percent of all cases from 19 percent.

She blamed increasing caseloads on additional civil suits brought on in large part by continuing economic growth and a criminal docket jammed with drug and drug-related offenses.

"All available indicators warn that drug activity, once thought to be only an epidemic, is now virtually out of control," Riley said, noting the problem is not confined to large cities.

The first address in the renovated House Chambers to a joint convention of the Legislature was attended by 145 judges from the various court levels.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Blanchard
Kim Rathburn, Jeff Blanchard
Recite Vows in Chelsea Church

Kimberly Ann Rathburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Thompson of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rathburn of Marietta, Ga., and Jeffrey F. Blanchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blanchard of Chelsea, were married Oct. 14 at the First United Methodist church of Chelsea.

The Rev. Dr. Jerry Parker performed the ceremony.
The bride wore a white dress with pearls, sequins, and lace, and a long train. Her headpiece, with a fingertip-length veil, matched the dress. She carried pink roses with white carnations.

Maid of honor was Denise Kolarov of Saline. She wore a long maroon dress with bow accents on the shoulders. Her flowers were maroon-tipped white miniature roses with white carnations and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Cheri Norris of Chelsea, sister of the bridegroom, Shelley Hiltz of Napoleon, friend of the bride, Nora Morseau of Chelsea, cousin of the bride, and Robin Guenther of Saline and Dawn Schaefer of Ann Arbor, friends of the bride. Their dresses and flowers were similar to the maid of honor's.

The bride's mother wore a light pink taffeta cocktail-length dress with pink lace bodice.
The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue cocktail-length chiffon over taffeta dress.

Flowergirl was Amanda Norris, the bridegroom's niece. She carried a white basket of pink miniature roses and white carnations.

Ringbearer was Robert Gervais, cousin of the bride.
Best man was Brian O'Toole of Chelsea.

Groomsmen were Jack Rathburn, Jr., of Ann Arbor, the bride's brother, and Shad Hiltz of Napoleon, Mark O'Toole of Chelsea, Rick Herrst of Ypsilanti, and Jeff Schaefer of Ann Arbor, all friends of the bridegroom.

Serving as ushers were Eric Meyers and Dan Smiley, both friends of the bridegroom from Chelsea.

A reception for 200 guests followed at UAW Local 1284 Hall in Sylvan township.

The couple is living in Jackson. The newlyweds were taken from the church to the reception hall by a horse and carriage.

The bride is a graduate of Saline High school and attended Eastern Michigan University in business management. She works at ADP-ACS as a customer service representative.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Chelsea High school and Mott Community College. He works with D and S Building Contractors as a mason tender.

Chiropractic Health Care

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman

Last week's column began the subject of clinical ecology. We said that clinical ecology was the area of health care that dealt with the environmental causes (including man-made) of illness.

Clinical Ecology is being expanded in health care by a small and much persecuted group of health care workers. One of the people considered to be an authority in the subject is Theron Randolph, M.D. He and a tiny group of like minded medical doctors have done some fantastic work in this field.

But while some practitioners specialize in clinical ecology, making it a field of endeavour, it has a place in virtually every type of health care practice.

I believe it is a must in the wholistic oriented chiropractic practice of today. Since chemical distress to the body is one cause of spinal misalignments (subluxations) if they can be identified and reduced or eliminated, that is one more step improving the health of the patient.

This approach is easily seen to be needed by any health care practitioner. In essence it's being used by any doctor who tells his patient to quit smoking or wear protective masks when painting!

As always, please address questions or comments to Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman, D.C., 138 E. Middle St., Chelsea, MI 48118. (313) 475-2088.

24 Years Ago...

and the Chelsea Board of Education negotiation committees reached an agreement on a three-year master contract governing teacher's salaries and employment conditions for the Chelsea faculty. It was expected that the Chelsea Education Association would submit the agreement to their members in the immediate future for ratification. If ratified by the Association the contract would take effect on June 30.

34 Years Ago...

Wednesday, May 10, 1956—
Nine rural communities were to install voting machines in time for the August primary. County Clerk Luella Smith revealed. A number of others were to allow for the increased number of registered voters by rezoning to additional precincts. Townships to inaugurate machine voting included Ann Arbor township, Augusta, Northfield, Pittsfield, Salem, Scio, Superior, Sylvan and Ypsilanti Township. Since the law allowed 1,400 registered voters to a machine precinct, the installation of machines in many cases removed the necessity to re-zone. A non-machine precinct could have only 800.

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"An ounce of mother is worth a pound of clergy..."

—Spanish Proverb

This Spanish truism points out another of mother's many duties... shaping the character and moral fiber of her children. Any church has a near-impossible job in influencing the behavior of anyone whose mother did not start him properly on the right path.

Our mothers do so much for us, starting at birth and never stopping as long as they are able to help, that it seems they should be given special recognition every day, not just one day a year.

Our reputation for outstanding service is founded on the fact that we truly care about the families we serve.

The Krugers Show Here Will Benefit St. Barnabas

The Krugers, Verlen and Valerie, paddled solo, home-made canoes from the Arctic Ocean to Cape Horn to observe and document the land, the peoples, the waterways, and the water quality of the western hemisphere.

Michigan Governor James Blanchard appointed the Krugers, citizen ambassadors.

They recently completed the Two-Continent Canoe Expedition, and Saturday evening, May 26, will be at Chelsea High school to present a 7 p.m. slide show bearing the same name, accompanied by a particularly exciting narrative of the 33-month adventure.

The Krugers discovered adventure aplenty during the 21,000-mile voyage.

Their presentation of thrilling episodes during the trip will provide the audience a lively program, but the Krugers will also provide stories with historical significance, as well as those featuring geographical aspects, cultural diversity and global concerns of the western world, including the results of their acid rain study for General Motors Environmental Research Laboratory, and water quality tests for Michigan State University Water Institute.

From spring ice-out of the Arctic rivers, the Krugers followed the voyageur route across Canada, the Boundary Waters and the Great Lakes.

They paddled through the United States, island-hopped the Caribbean to enter the South American frontier and the tropical rain forest, a 5,000-mile, seven-month portion of the expedition route to the windwept shores of Patagonia, and the triumph of Cape Horn.

Proceeds of the May 26 show at high school will benefit St. Barnabas church, Chelsea.

The six-dollar donation for individual tickets is tax deductible.

Programs given in recent months at Brighton and in Howell have been exceptionally well-received.

Historical Banking Exhibit on Display at Great Lakes Bancorp

One hundred years of Michigan history will be on display in Dexter, compliments of Great Lakes Bancorp.

To celebrate its centennial, the company has created an audiovisual exhibit of history and memorabilia, which will be featured in most of the more than 60 Great Lakes Bancorp branch offices during 1990.

"The exhibit offers a glimpse into the history of economic and cultural development in Michigan, as it parallels the growth of Great Lakes Bancorp," said Mary Pniewski, branch manager. The exhibit is a combination of photo reproductions and artifacts from the company's archives and other sources.

"A special feature of the display is samples from our extensive collection of personal savings banks," said Pniewski. The banks, ranging in size from two to 12 inches tall and wide, are made of all types of materials; some include moving parts. Some were promotional items given to Bancorp customers over the years, while others have been obtained from private collections.

Two videotaped presentations are also featured in the exhibit, focusing on the company's history and prospects for the future growth.

The Great Lakes Bancorp exhibit will be on display May 7-15 at the branch, located at 8081 Main St. It is open for public viewing during regular business hours.

The first savings association was formed in Pennsylvania in 1831 as a means for its members to build their own homes. Each member contributed an initial investment of $5, then $3 per month thereafter.

When $500 was collected, it was auctioned off to the highest bidding member, who used it to build a home. When each founding member had built his home, the association was dissolved. Most operated for only about 30 years.

Great Lakes Bancorp operates 62 branches in Michigan and Indiana. Great Lakes also operates Great Lakes Mortgage Co., a mortgage banking subsidiary, and Ervin Leasing Co., a joint leasing venture specializing in business equipment specializing in a three-state area. With $3.5 billion in assets, Great Lakes Bancorp is Michigan's second largest savings bank.

Great Lakes Bancorp was founded late in 1890 as the Huron Valley Building and Savings Association.

U. S.-Mexico Free Trade Pact Likely

Upcoming negotiations between Mexico and the United States could lead to another free trade agreement, similar to the one we have now with Canada, according to Michigan Farm Bureau economist Bob Craig.

"It's part of a worldwide trend toward less restrictive trade policies," Craig said.

"I think it's going to be a double edged sword for Michigan agriculture. Certainly it does provide us with additional export opportunities and there's no question that both Canada and Mexico are among the top four countries that the U.S. currently does quite a bit of trade with. On the other hand, we also have to realize that there will be additional competition for some Michigan farmers."

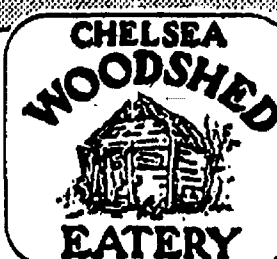

Craig thinks that free trade agreements over-all will boost trade in processed and other high value farm products and slow down the less profitable grain trade.

Dr. Yarows Receives Sheriff's 'Saved By the Belt' Award

"Safety Belts Save Lives," a well-documented phrase promoted by Sergeant Harley S. Rider, who currently supervises the Village of Dexter's law enforcement activities, in addition to maintaining his status as director of the Traffic Safety Division within the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

People who have any direct contact with Sgt. Rider are well aware of his dedication to safety belt use by motorists, both drivers and passengers, of all ages.

In the four complete years immediately PRECEDING the "Safety Belt Law," there were 188 traffic fatalities in Washtenaw county.

During the four complete years SINCE the law was enacted, Washtenaw county has recorded 184 traffic fatalities.

A significant portion of this reduction can be attributed to the increased use of safety belts, according to information provided by the Michigan Coalition for Safety Belt Use.

At the request of the coalition, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the Ann Arbor City Police will co-ordinate a community effort to significantly increase safety belt use.

Since the mandatory safety belt use law was enacted in Michigan during 1985, safety belt use throughout the state has increased from 15 to 47 percent.

Studies by the University of Michigan Transportation Research Institute indicate the increase in safety belt use has resulted in 31,710 fewer deaths and injuries, state-wide.

According to information recently released by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, the cost of the 13,256 traffic crashes which occurred in Washtenaw county during 1988 was more than $101 million.

Almost $39 million of that resulted from fatal crashes.

A 15 percent increase in safety belt use in the county could save the citizens of the county literally millions of dollars each year, not to mention the reduction in grief and suffering of family and friends.

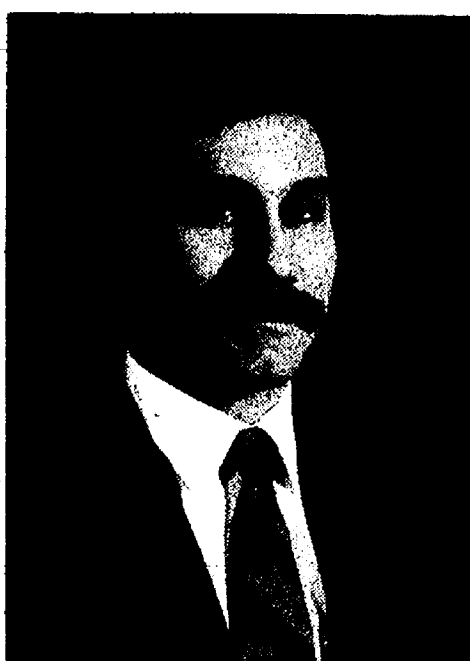

Sgt. Rider explained a community project, "Washtenaw County Buckles Up," will be conducted during May, 1990, in co-operation with the Michigan Coalition for Safety Belt Use.

Sgt. Rider explained the area specifically targeted for attention during the "Washtenaw County Buckles Up" project is Ann Arbor, where Mayor Gerald D. Jernigan issued an April 26 proclamation which contained four "whereas" clauses and declared May, "Buckle Up Ann Arbor Month."

Staff Sergeant Norm Melby of the Ann Arbor Police Department will be working with Sgt. Rider to promote "Washtenaw County Buckles Up."

A safety week-end will be included among the community activities planned during the month of May.

People will be introduced to Vince and Larry, the crash-test dummies, during the safety week-end.

DR. STEVEN A. YAROWS

A corporate challenge will be led by the Big Three auto makers in Washtenaw county, in addition to the presentation of safety information by the media.

Sgt. Rider advised, "Although the Michigan Safety Belt Use law can only be enforced as a secondary violation (motorists cannot be stopped JUST for not using their safety belt), officers are being instructed to consider issuing safety belt violations to unbelted motorists, even though the officers may choose to issue only a warning for the primary violation."

During a special ceremony conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday, May 1, at the Ann Arbor City Hall, two individual citizens and a family of three were recipients of "Saved by the Belt" awards.

Individual awards were presented Dexter resident, Dr. Steven A. Yarows, and Christine Ann Gailbreath, Ann Arbor, by Washtenaw County Sheriff Ronald J. Schebl and Ann Arbor Police Chief William J. Corbett, respectively.

The three-person family awarded "Saved by the Belt" recognition by Sheriff Schebl included Milan's Gerald and Shirley Straits and the couple's four-month-old son, Michael.

Baker Rd. Crash
Dr. Yarows was driving north on Baker Rd., south of Dexter, on Friday, Sept. 8, 1989, at approximately 2:40 p.m.

The weather was cloudy, but the road was dry.
At the same time, a 1989 Mustang was southbound on Baker Rd., operated by a 20-year-old Dexter resident.

The Mustang, traveling at a very high rate of speed, was passing other vehicles in a no-passing zone, and as the driver of the Mustang approached the auto driven by Dr. Yarows, the Mustang's driver attempted to re-enter his own lane, but lost control of the Mustang and struck Dr. Yarows' car, head-on, demolishing the Yarows vehicle.

The Mustang's driver was thrown from his car and survived the crash to be prosecuted and convicted on a felonious driving charge.

Making the "Saved by the Belt" presentation, Sheriff Schebl explained, "Dr. Yarows was seriously injured and transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, but, thanks to his safety belt, he is alive and with us today to receive this 'Saved by the Belt' award."

York Township Crash
Shirley Straits was driving north on Saline-Milan Rd. in York township, Tuesday, Jan. 9, 1990, with her husband Gerald riding with her in the front seat.

Their four-month-old son Michael was in an infant carrier in the back seat.

They had just passed a patrol car and tow truck attending to a collision, which was slowing traffic in the opposite lane.

A 1983 Plymouth was approaching from the north, operated by a 27-year-old Saline man, who applied his brakes as he approached the slowing traffic, lost control on the roadway which was slippery from morning ice.

The Plymouth crossed the road and struck the Straits vehicle almost head-on, sending the larger Mercury into a deep ditch, where it rolled completely over on a large steel culvert.

The Straits were injured, and were transported by Huron Valley Ambulance to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, but their lives were saved, and their injuries were minimized, by the proper use of safety belts and an infant carrier.

Police Chief William J. Corbett presented Christine Ann Gailbreath a "Saved by the Belt" award.

Ms. Gailbreath's Camaro slid on the ice, crossed the center line of the road and was struck by a southbound van, about 7:30 a.m. Friday, Oct. 23, 1987, when she was northbound on Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., within the City of Ann Arbor.

The weather was clear, but unknown to Ms. Gailbreath, the bridge deck over I-94 was icy.

While the van driver suffered minor injuries, Ms. Gailbreath was severely injured, and had an extended convalescence.

Use of her safety belt was the reason she was able to receive her "Saved by the Belt" award.

How You Can Help
Anyone wondering how he/she can help limit deaths and serious injuries on the highway may want to initiate an individual campaign to urge friends and family members to "buckle up for safety."

"Since May has been designated the month when 'Washtenaw County Buckles Up,' today would be a fine day on which to launch the individual campaign to save lives—safety belt use is one way to do this, statistics confirm it.

If just one life is saved because "you" reminded a family member or friend to "buckle up," it will be worth it.

Sgt. Rider says he'll continue to urge proper use of safety belts.

He asks, "In addition to providing a safer atmosphere for all the motorists on the road, The most important reason for 'buckling up' is to preserve a very important person—YOU!

Trees properly planted around your home can cut your energy bills and use of electricity 10-50% during the summer.

Quilt Registry Being Offered at Dexter Museum

Quilting has gone through many phases as the popularity of this age old art has waxed and waned throughout the centuries. Where quilting originated is anyone's guess. It has been used for centuries by the Chinese and Japanese to add warmth to their clothing. The knights of old wore quilted garments to protect their skin from their metal armor.

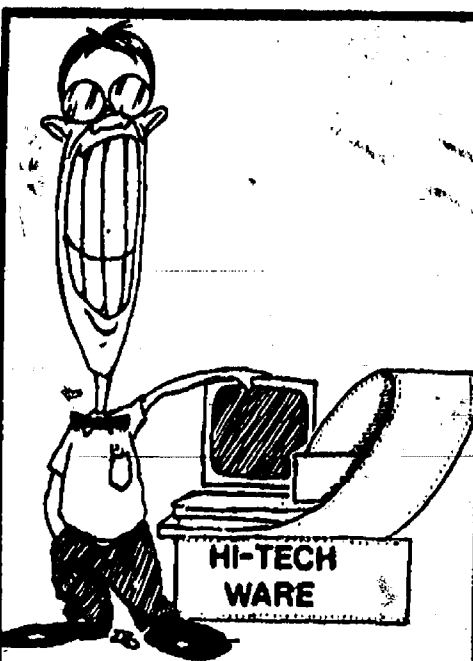

Before you finish that spring quilting, pull out the quilts you have stored away and bring them to the Dexter Area Museum on either Friday, May 11, or Saturday, May 12. The Museum will be holding a quilt registry from 1 to 3 p.m. on Friday and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. For a donation of $5 for each quilt you will receive a written appraisal. Appraisal will be done by Sarah Deasey, a well known, nationally certified appraiser. Another small donation will bring you a verbal appraisal. For a donation of $1 for each quilt, the owner will receive a Polaroid picture for your files.

Why should you bother to register your quilt? Quilts are increasing in value every day and an appraisal and picture could be a very valuable insurance tool if something should happen to your quilt/quilts.

Sarah Deasey is not only an appraiser; she is also a well known teacher of quilting. Deasey's work has been accepted for competition at the quilt show which is held in Paducah, Ky., each year. Deasey has resided in this area for many years and has participated in many quilt shows as well as the Dexter Area Pioneer Craft Show.

Why is the Museum conducting this registry? The Museum wishes to have a history of local quilts as they are a part of the regional history. Also, new patterns turn up from time to time and it is good to have a record of them. This will also be a record of quilts that may be available for future shows. Condition of the quilt is not important.

The Dexter Area Museum is located at 3443 Inverness, just north of the water tower on Main St. New steps have been added to the back entry for easier access. There will be a quilt display in the lower section of the museum for you to enjoy. There will also be a quilt set up in the frame to demonstrate how quilts were assembled prior to the actual quilting.

Kent Dairy Refresher

A fresh approach to dry cow feeding

Top milk production starts long before lactation. How you feed during the dry period can make a difference in your milk checks. New Kent Dairy Refresher Supplement can help you during this important time of rebuilding.

Dairy Refresher is a fortified dry cow supplement designed to be fed with non-legume hay. It can also be fed during a lactation stress period.

Helps prevent milk fever

Too much calcium can lead to milk fever. Dry cows should get little calcium before calving to stimulate natural body calcium metabolism (which in turn helps prevent milk fever). That's why Kent researchers formulated Dairy Refresher with no added calcium. No salt is added to aid in prevention of udder edema.

Highly fortified for better health

High levels of Vitamin E help lower somatic cell count and improve overall reproductive health. Selenium helps prevent white muscle disease and other reproductive problems. Dairy Refresher is fortified with 90,000 IU/lb Vitamin A, and 45,000 IU/lb Vitamin D.

Kent Money-Back Guarantee

You must be satisfied with your last purchase of up to 6 tons, or your money will be refunded.

Chelsea Community Hospital Receives AAA Michigan Grant

A $25,000 grant from AAA Michigan will help Chelsea Community Hospital buy a life-saving cardiac monitoring system for its Emergency Services department.

"The new centralized system will improve medical care by allowing emergency personnel to quickly detect abnormal heartbeats and provide necessary treatment," said Lawrence Lindemer, a member of AAA Michigan's board of directors.

The new equipment allows continuous monitoring of multiple patients and has more capabilities than the current system.

"The timing of this grant is excellent," said Dr. Barry Nemon, medical director of Emergency Services. "The hospital is in the process of updating its entire cardiac monitoring system and the emergency room component is essential to this effort."

"Upon completion of the entire project in July, Chelsea Community Hospital will have one of the area's most up-to-date emergency rooms," he added.

The hospital's Emergency Services department has recorded steady growth in recent years. The number of emergency room patients treated has increased almost 40 percent since 1985 and now totals approximately 12,000 a year.

The contribution comes from the Michigan Hospitals Fund, created by AAA Michigan in 1987 to help finance hospital emergency care projects.

Bulldogs!

Dogs Victims of Errors
In Losses at Tecumseh

Chelsea Bulldog baseball team suffered their first two losses of the season in a critical double-header at Tecumseh Monday night.

The 10-9 and 7-4 losses knocked the Bulldogs out of first place in the Southeastern Conference with two games left. Tecumseh, with one league loss, moved to the top spot.

Chelsea literally threw the first game away as they committed eight errors.

"We got good enough pitching to win the game if we play defense," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"We also hit the ball well against some of the best high school pitching we've seen in a while. We just couldn't overcome the errors.

Chelsea fell behind 6-1 in the fourth inning. However, the Bulldogs rallied for two runs in the fifth on a walk and doubles by Steve Emmert and Kerry Plank. They scored six more in the sixth on three walks, singles by Ben Hurst and Emmert, and a double by Jeremy Stephens.

Tecumseh scored three times in the sixth with just two hits as errors hurt the Dogs. The Indians won the game in the seventh on a fielding mistake, a stolen base, and a sacrifice fly.

In the second game, Chelsea rallied from a 5-2 deficit in the fifth inning. Kerry Plank's single scored two runs. However, with runners on second and third and no one out, and the heart of the order at the plate, two strikeouts and a pop-up ended the comeback.

"That kind of broke our back," Welton said.

Tecumseh scored two more times in the sixth inning on what Welton called a "series of blunders."

Lead-off batter Jude Quilter walked seven times in the two games. Emmert, Hurst, and Kerry Plank each had four hits for the day, and Stephens had three hits.

Chelsea is 12-2-2 over-all and 6-2-2 in the SEC. Tecumseh is 16-1 over-all and 8-1 in the SEC.

Tecumseh plays Dexter Thursday while the Bulldogs play Pinckney.

In other action last week, the Bulldogs shut out Dexter on Thursday, 2-0, before the second game ended in a 3-3 tie after seven innings.

Steve Wingrove tossed a five-hitter in the opener and struck out nine.

In the first inning, Stephens' sacrifice scored Emmert, who had singled, from third.

In the second inning, Brandon Murrell doubled and scored on a single by Rob Clem.

Bulldog Golfers
Lose Close Match

Chelsea Bulldog golfers lost a close match to Brooklyn Columbia Central last Thursday, May 3 at Heart of the Lakes Golf Course, 212-214.

"We should have beaten them," said Chelsea coach Loren Winn.

"But they had a very good day."

Chelsea was led by Melissa Johnson's 50. Barb Scriven shot a 52, Nicole Pontz and Chris McLaughlin each had a 56, Sarah Devine shot a 61, and Jennifer Payne shot a 62.

STEVE EMMERT slides in safely on a sacrifice fly by Jeremy Stephens during the Chelsea Bulldogs' first game with Dexter last Thursday at home. Chelsea won the game, 2-0, but tied the nightcap.

Emmert and Clem each had two hits.

Chelsea had the second game in the bag but a fielding error allowed Dexter's tying run to score in the top of the seventh.

Clem allowed four hits and struck out 13 although Welton said his junior hurler had a tough time getting his rhythm.

Chelsea scored in the first on a walk to Quilter, whole stole second and

Dog Tennis Team
Drops Two Matches

Chelsea varsity tennis team was beaten in two matches last week by Jackson Lumen Christi and Howell.

The Bulldogs lost to Lumen Christi on Tuesday, May 1, 7-0.

"We were contenders against a very strong Lumen Christi team and could just as easily have clinched three matches with a little more luck," said Chelsea coach John Capper.

"The one-sidedness of the results fails to demonstrate how many deuces were played and critical game points lost and how narrow the margin between victory and defeat."

At first singles, Chris Wilson lost 1-6, 6-0, 2-6; at second singles, Scott Pacheco lost 1-6, 1-6; at third singles, Shaun Capper lost 1-6, 1-6; and at fourth singles, Ben Manning lost 4-6, 6-4, 5-7.

In doubles, Chris Haugen and Taka Adachi lost 2-6, 6-4, 2-6; at second singles, Rob Coelius and Rich Mason lost 2-6, 2-6; and at third doubles, Scott Leeman and Jeff Peterson lost 1-6, 1-6. Shaun Daigle and Scott Dale lost their JV match.

On Thursday, May 3 the Bulldogs played a closer match but lost 4-3.

"This is the fourth time the team has been defeated by this score and injuries have contributed to the failure to clinch victory," Capper said.

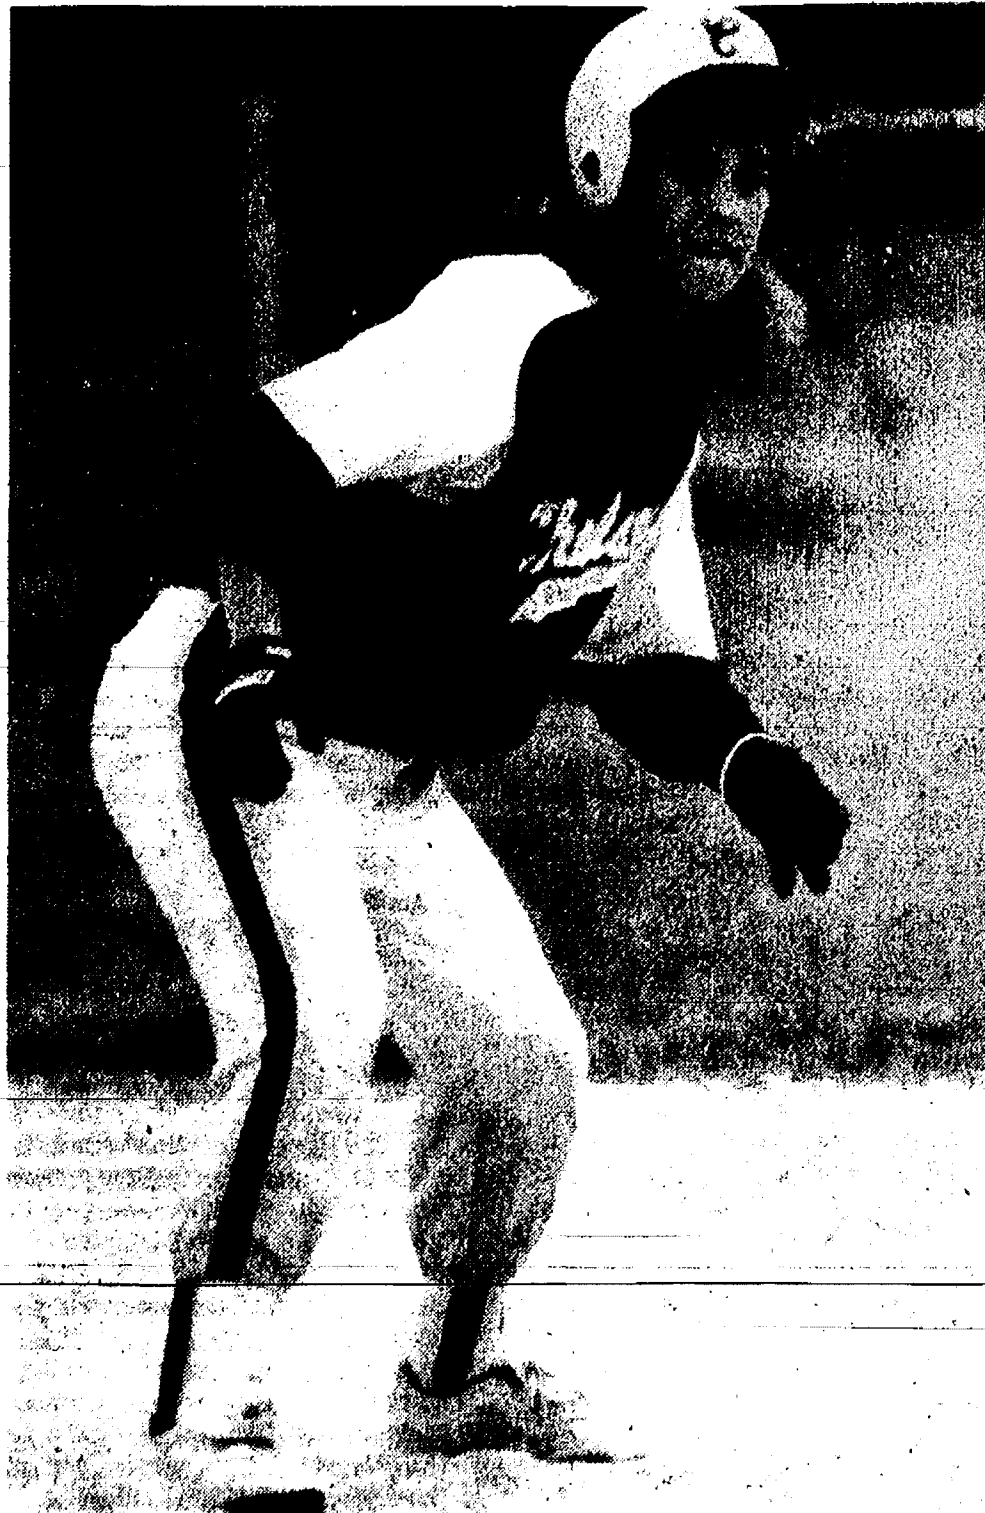

"An outstanding performance was evident by Chris Wilson's win against an undefeated opponent. Strong performances were also evident from John Rigg and Ben Manning."

Rigg won at first singles, 6-0, 6-4; Wilson took second singles, 6-4, 6-4; Pacheco lost at third singles, 2-6, 5-7; and Manning lost at fourth singles, 3-6, 1-6.

In doubles, Haugen and Adachi lost 5-7, 1-6; Mason and Coelius lost at second doubles, 3-6, 4-6; and Leeman and Peterson lost at third doubles, 0-6, 0-6.

Chelsea is 3-5 on the season.

The first regional labor organization was the New England Association of Farmers, Mechanics and other Workmen formed in 1831, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U. S. Labor Department publication. It was also the first major labor organization to include factory workers.

KELLY BELLUS waits for the right moment to break from second to third during the Bulldogs' double-header with Dexter last Thursday. Chelsea won both games.

Bulldogs Sweep Dexter
In Conference Softball

Scharme Petty and Colleen Scharphorn turned in strong pitching performances as the Chelsea Bulldog varsity softball team swept the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Thursday, 11-2 and 5-2.

"We played with confidence and consistency and are continuing to improve," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

Petty pitched the first game and limited the Dreadnaughts to two hits while striking out 11.

Chelsea scored four times in each the second and fourth innings, and three times in the sixth.

Petty led the team with three hits, while Christine Burg, Shawn Losey, and Carrie Flintoft each had two hits.

In the second inning, a bases-loaded walk to Sarah Musolf gave Chelsea its first run. A two-run single by Christine Burg, and a sacrifice by Kelly Bellus scored three more runs.

The fourth inning featured a two-run double by Flintoft, and run-scoring singles by Petty and Kelly Cross.

Two errors and an RBI double by Losey accounted for the three-run sixth inning.

The second game was closer as the teams were tied 2-2 going into the bottom of the fifth, when the Bulldogs scored three times. Singles by Scharphorn and Amy Thomson, a two-run triple by Petty, and a passed ball gave Chelsea its margin of victory.

"Scharme's triple was the big hit," Clarke said.

"Colleen was also 3-4 at the plate and continued to pitch well."

Scharphorn struck out seven and walked none.

In other action last week, the Bulldogs beat out Jackson Lumen Christi on Tuesday, May 1, 10-0 and 18-0.

Scharphorn tossed a one-hitter in the five-inning opener.

Chelsea scored four times in the second inning and three times in each the third and fifth innings.

Flintoft's three-run triple in the second inning was the big blow.

Four walks, two errors, and a sacrifice accounted for the three-run third.

Cross and Burg each had an RBI single in the fifth inning.

Losey and Cross each had two hits. The Bulldogs continued to score

JV Baseball Team Wins Three Games in a Row

Chelsea Bulldog junior varsity baseball team beat Dexter once and Webberville twice in action last week. In their Thursday, May 3 game with Dexter, Chelsea rallied for six runs in the top of the seventh inning to win 17-14.

"It was a wild JV game," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

"It was one of those games that looked like the last team to bat would win. We didn't bat last, but Mike Eder pitched well and closed the door."

The lead changed hands several times. In the seventh inning, three walks and singles by Lee Skyles, Eder, Jeff Gletzen, a wild pitch, and a two-run double by Rob Jaques scored the runs. Jaques finished with three hits and four RBI. Skyles, Matt Gaken, Jason Adams, Jeremy Guenther, and Gletzen each had two hits.

The second game was incomplete. Chelsea took 3-1 and 13-1 wins over Webberville on Tuesday, May 1.

In the first game, Chris White pitched a five-inning no hitter and struck out nine.

"It was a well-pitched JV game," Ticknor said.

"When our pitchers don't give up walks, we can play with almost anyone."

Chelsea had four hits, including an RBI-double by Skyles in the first. An error in the second and an error in the fifth, after a Brian Bell double, accounted for the final Chelsea runs. The Bulldogs scored six runs in the first inning of the second game, highlighted by run-scoring singles by Gaken, White, Dennis Clark, and Guenther.

Gaken's run-scoring triple in the second was the highlight of the two-run inning. Gaken finished 3-4 with two RBI. Mike Kelley also hit a two-run double in the fifth.

Eder pitched and allowed one hit and struck out eight.

"The kids feel good about winning three in a row," Ticknor said.

Bulldog Girls Beat Fowlerville
Columbia Central in 3-Way Meet

Chelsea Bulldog girls track team won three of four relays and had strong performances from their six seniors as they won a triangular meet with Fowlerville and Columbia Central last week. The Bulldogs had 100 points, Fowlerville 37 and Columbia Central 28.

Chelsea's 3200 relay of Vicki Bullock, Carmen Smith, Tracey Wales and Sara Brosnan took their race in 11:21.0.

The 800 relay was won by the team of Charity Allen, Laura Paton, Leisa Schiller and Anne Steffenson in 1:55.8.

Allen and Schiller combined with Jessica Holton and Tiffany Moore to take the 1600 relay in 4:30.6. The Bulldogs also were second in the 400 relay with a team of Monica Hansen, Christine Mignano, Moore and Paton.

The seniors on the team accounted for 36 of the Bulldogs points, and every senior scored, paced by Anne Steffenson who won the 100 meter dash in 13.5 seconds in her first competition ever in the event, and the 200 in 28.5.

"Anne's one of our most versatile and talented runners," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"She is one of the best in the area at any distance from 100 to 800 meters and shows her leadership and team spirit in her willingness to run any of those races."

Moore had one of her best days ever. In addition to her relay performances, Moore won the discus with a career best of 93'7" and was second in the shot put.

"Tiffany has become a consistent and dependable performer in the throws and runs," Bainton said.

"She is having her best season for us this year."

Tammy Browning won the shot and Marti Daggett was second in the discus.

"Browning, Daggett, and Moore have made the throws one of our strengths this season," Bainton said. Vicki Bullock added a first in the 800 in 2:38.5.

"Vicki is running very well now," Bainton said.

"She's our only senior distance runner so we depend on her a lot."

Senior Marielle Ast, an exchange student, scored her first points by taking fourth in the 400.

Allen continued to shine in the hurdles, winning both the 100 and 300 races. Hansen was second in both races, with a season best of :18.4 in the 100 hurdles.

Erika Boughton took the high jump at 4'9".

Lisa Monti won the 1600 and Val Bullock ran her season-best 12:54 to win the 3200. Carmen Smith was second in the 3200 also with a season-best of 13:27.6.

Schiller was second in the long jump and 400, and Brosnan was second in the 800 for the Bulldogs.

Sparaco in the 1600 and Jessica Holton in the 400 added thirds and Becky Erskine contributed a fourth in the 300 hurdles as did Laura Paton in 100, Joni Thrush in the 1600 and Beth Williams in the 800.

"Triangulars are good meets because four places score," Bainton said.

"We were pleased to have 23 people contribute to our scoring in this meet."

Be Kind to Animals Week Being Observed By HSHV

Grab those walking shoes and the nearest bag of puppy chow, because plans for the 76th annual celebration of "Be Kind To Animals Week," held May 6-12, are well underway at the Humane Society of Huron Valley.

Ms. Doris Dixon of the Fund for Animals has agreed to act as this year's honorary chairperson for this special week. Ms. Dixon shares her home in Ann Arbor with her four cats or "fur children," Bobbi II, Pinto, Sing Song, and Tawny, as well as one son, who also embraces his mother's concern for animals.

Ms. Dixon brings with her an impressive background of over 20 years with Cleveland Amory's Fund for Animals, serving as director of the organization's Michigan Office, as well as the national field agent and coordinator. Her experience with the Fund for Animals has affiliated her with numerous humane groups nationwide and led her to active involvement in many issues concerning the humane treatment of animals. She has served on the boards of the Detroit Audubon Society and the Humane Society of Huron Valley; been instrumental in helping the successful passage of the law in Michigan which made dog fighting a felony; kept dog racing out of the Great Lakes State; served as the co-director for the Interfaith Council for the Protection of Animals and Nature; and serves as an instructor of seminars for Continuing Education at Washtenaw Community College in "Animal Rights/A Perspective for the 90's." These activities, however, are only the tip of the iceberg. Her main concern is dealing with the everyday problems facing animals and those who care about them in today's world.

Much of her time is devoted to fighting cruelty towards animals and convincing others to take a similar stand. As the honorary chairperson for BKA Week, she feels especially motivated to urge Washtenaw county residents to also take a stand. She has long been a supporter of the Humane Society of Huron Valley and feels strongly about community support of the society's efforts. "The number of people in our county who are contributing in any way is much too small considering the immensity of the work done by HSHV. Everyone benefits by the work, and at one time or another in one's life, they are likely to find a need for HSHV's services."

The Humane Society is kicking off Be Kind to Animals Week this year with a Puppy and Kitten Food Drive which will run through May 13. With a large influx of young animals flooding into the Shelter in the spring, HSHV asks that shoppers show their kindness towards animals by donating food for the "youngsters" who are already filling the puppy pen and kitten cages. Participating businesses include all area Kroger stores, the Dexter Walco, Busch's Valh Land in Saline, Foodtown in Milan, and both Huron Feed and Pet Supply locations (Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti). Food may also be brought directly out to the HSHV Shelter located at 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor.

HSHV will end BKA Week this year with the 11th annual Dog Walkathon on Saturday, May 12. An open invitation is extended to all animal lovers and walking enthusiasts alike to join the fun beginning at 9 a.m. and ending at 4 p.m. at the Shelter. Participants can walk the six-mile route along scenic country roads with or without their dogs (and as many times as their feet/paws can stand) to raise money for the Society's Cruelty Investigation and Emergency Rescue Programs. As this year's honorary chairperson states, these programs are "second to none, lacking only in funds to do more." In celebration of a new decade of walking, HSHV plans to break all records by drawing at least 500 walkers to raise a total of $50,000 in pledges.

Also in store for Saturday, May 12, is the grand opening of Whiskers Gift Shop. From 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., visitors will have the opportunity to browse through HSHV's newly renovated gift shop. Whiskers will offer an array of animal-related merchandise from specialty pet dishes and paw-printed frisbees to individualized pet portraits. All proceeds from Whiskers Gift Shop will directly benefit the animals sheltered at the society who so desperately need the support of their human friends. Regular business hours will be Friday through Monday, from 12 to 5 p.m.

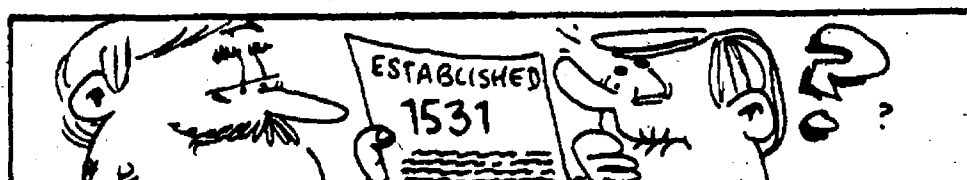

"Every day being kind to animals should be a priority," says Ms. Dixon. "This week is celebrated to focus attention on the need. If it were compulsory (and I wish it were), everyone should spend a day or two at the Shelter to become acquainted with the needs." Please join HSHV in celebration of "Be Kind To Animals Week." Visit the society on May 12, cheer on the walkers, drop off a donation of pet food, and pick out a gift for a special friend.

The Shelter will be closed for regular business the day of the Walkathon; however, stray animals will still be taken in, and 24-hour emergency rescue services will be available.

For more information about the Puppy and Kitten Food Drive or the Dog Walkathon, please call (313) 662-5545.

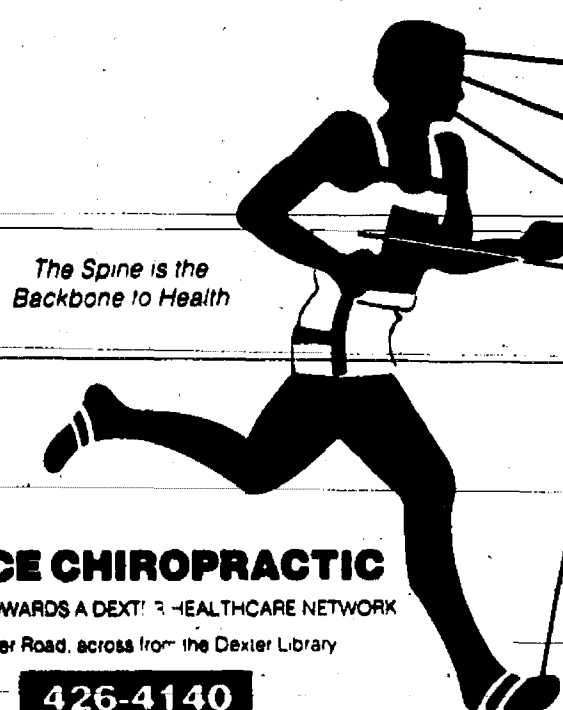

DEXTER CATCHER Marty Walsh takes a shot from Chelsea's Brandon Murrell, who was trying to reach the plate. Murrell was safe and Chelsea went on to win the game, 2-0. The teams tied their second contest.

Q. In 1985 I bought a stock called Paul Harris Stores that was reputed to be a real growth stock. It acted like one for a while. Right after I bought it at $10 a share it split 2 for 1 and went up to $10 a share and then split 3 for 2. When the big market drop came at the end of 1987, it went down to 5 and has stayed in that area. Do you rate this company as a growth company and see any prospects of its getting back to 19?

A. Paul Harris Stores has been a growth company as far as sales is concerned, but so far it hasn't been able to translate growing sales into growing profits. The year you bought your shares, the company had sales of $11 million. Five years later sales grew to about twice that figure, so it meets our sales growth test. However, in 1985 it earned 51 cents a share and in 1989 it has a deficit of 62 cents.

The price rise to 19 was pure speculation and not justified by the facts. At that time earnings per share were only 43 cents and the stock was selling at 44 times earnings. You may recall that back then another women's wear company, Liz Claiborne, was having a great success and its stock was hitting new peaks. I would guess the speculation that took Paul Harris Stores to 19 was just a rub-off from Liz.

The company was operating 389 stores at the beginning of 1990. The principal part of the company is 272 stores which operate under the Paul Harris name and sell fashion clothing to career women in the 25-35 age range. These stores are located in shopping malls in 36 different states. Another 78 stores are called Pasta Stores and they concentrate on active and leisure wear. More than half of the clothing sold by these two chains is sportswear. The balance is suits, dresses and accessories. There are 39 stores which used to operate under the name Clothes Out Junction and are now called 353101520 Place. The company has its headquarters and warehouse in Indianapolis from where all the goods are distributed.

Paul Harris has been increasing its number of outlets and for a while had an excellent rate of earnings on invested capital. It is difficult to tell if its management has the skill to return to those good ratios. It is true that the last three years have been rough for the stylish women's wear stores and Paul Harris hasn't been alone in the poor performance. On the other hand, I wouldn't count on any exceptional performance in the future.

Dog Walkathon May 12
Raises Funds for HSHV

On Saturday, May 12, in celebration of "Be Kind to Animals Week," hundreds of Humane Society supporters, and just as many dogs, will spend an exciting fitness-filled day mixing fun with exercise in the 11th annual Dog Walkathon as they raise money for HSHV's Emergency Rescue and Cruelty Investigation Programs.

HSHV is extending an open invitation to all animal lovers and walking enthusiasts alike to join the fun which will begin at 9 a.m. as walkers gather at the shelter anxious to head out on a scenic six-mile route on rural roads.

Expectations for this year's Walkathon are high as it marks the beginning of a second decade of walking to raise funds for the homeless animals of Washtenaw county. Once again HSHV plans to break all records by drawing at least 500 walkers to raise a total of $50,000. This would break last year's record total of $46,444 in pledges.

All interested walkers are urged to get a head start and begin collecting pledges now to ensure a successful walk. To obtain a Walkathon brochure and pledge sheet or to make a pledge, call 662-5545 or make a visit to the Humane Society of Huron Valley located at 3100 Cherry Hill, Ann Arbor.

McAuley Health Center Opens MRI/CT Facility

The control room looks like a set from Star Trek. In the darkened atmosphere, computer and video screens blip with numbers and bright images. Through the large plate glass windows, technologists work with patients who are placed in the tube-shaped machines. Adjacent to the control room, in a climate-controlled environment, the large computers that run the equipment hum and whirl.

The scene is not from a science fiction movie, but from the new MRI-CT Imaging Facility at Catherine McAuley Health Center in Ann Arbor. The installation of the magnetic resonance imaging machine (MRI), and the computerized tomography machine (CT) in the new facility has been completed and they are now in operation.

The facility is phase one of a two-phase $8.1 million project which will include future construction of an addition to the facility to house a second MRI.

Construction on the 5,400 square foot building was begun in December, 1989. The cost of phase one of the project was $3 million. Approximately one fourth of the cost of the project will come from community philanthropy.

MRI technology was first used for medical applications in the 1980's and has emerged as the single most important diagnostic tool for studying diseases of the central nervous system, including the brain and spinal cord.

Gary Augustyn, M.D., medical director of magnetic resonance imaging at the Health Center, said MRI uses a strong magnetic field and radio waves to allow physicians to explore the inner workings of the body.

"The pictures produced by this new technology can help physicians detect and define the difference between healthy and diseased tissue,"

Augustyn said. "Conditions that a few years ago might have been undetectable, now may be clearly seen, giving doctors more time and better information to determine the most appropriate treatment."

The MRI can see through bone to reveal soft tissue. It produces precise detailed images and can distinguish among water, fat and other kinds of tissue.

Augustyn said the benefit of MRI is that it reduces the need for invasive tests, or for exploratory surgery. "MRI can be effective in the detection of tiny brain tumors, spinal cord inflammations, stroke damage, congenital heart disease and cancer."

The procedure causes the patient no discomfort, and unlike X-rays, there is no ionizing radiation involved, he said.

There are 32 MRI machines in Michigan, but the CMHC machine is one of only two of this type in the state. The CMHC MRI will greatly reduce the time patients must wait for scans.

Tests of the new equipment have been completed and the equipment is now being used by local physicians.

EDUCATION RESEARCH

Prepared by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP), Reston, Va.

*Nobody Can Replace Parents in Child's Life...

Reston, Va.—As American society is getting hooked on running to specialists to fix their every woe, one of the most demanding responsibilities continues to demand the talents of a generalist.

"It's tough to be a generalist in a world of specialists," wrote Scott Thomson, executive director, National Association of Secondary School Principals, in a recent newsletter to members. "That's what makes it difficult to be a parent today. Nobody does everything anymore except a parent."

Thomson's advice to parents: "Parents must remain generalists to do the job right. A 'Dr. Mom' or 'Mr. Fixit Dad' provides services that cannot be bought. The love and quality time required of parenthood are unavailable from specialists, whatever the price."

"Nobody can take the place of parents who go to a school basketball game or band concert and give their son or daughter the special feeling of having Mom and Dad in the stands."

Specialists are not available, nor are they adequate, for these kinds of jobs.

"Neither are specialists available to offer support, or encouragement, or a dry handkerchief at the critical time; only parents can do these things and do them fully. Only parents possess the insight to know when to correct a teen-ager and when to look the other way. Only parents understand when best to issue challenges or when best to surprise with a reward."

"Parents serve as job counselors, and college advisers, and nutrition consultants, and experts on conventional wisdom. They mend everything from empty billfolds to damaged egos."

"Yes, parents are the last generalists in our modern world. Parenthood cannot be segmented like other services upon which we Americans have come to depend."

"Parenthood is simply too important to be left to the experts."

Milk Production Down in State

Dairy herds in Michigan produced 447 million pounds of milk during March, down one percent from a year ago, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Statistics Service.

Milk per cow averaged 1,300 pounds, just 5 pounds less than last March. The Michigan dairy herd, estimated at 344,000 head, is 1,000 less than the previous year but unchanged from February. Grain and other concentrates fed to milk cows averaged 17 pounds daily. Value of the concentrates was $6.60 per hundredweight (cwt).

The preliminary value of milk sold averaged $14.20 per cwt. during March; $9.90 less the previous month. March mid-month slaughter cow prices averaged $53.50 per cwt., $6.60 more than March 1989.

Milk in the 21 major states during March totaled 11 billion pounds, 2 percent more than production in these same states last March. Production per cow averaged 1,291 pounds for March, 23 pounds more than a year ago. Nationally milk cow numbers averaged 8.61 million head, 21,000 head less than February and 27,000 head less than a year ago. Twelve states showed increases in production with the remaining states showing a decline or no change from a year earlier.

Dairy manufacturing plants in Michigan produced 1.3 million pounds of butter during February, less than half last February's production. American cheese production, at 1.1 million pounds, was less than a third of a year ago's level and 17 percent less than January's production. Ice cream output totaled 2 million gallons, eight percent below the previous year and one percent below January.

Waterloo Historical Society Presents
Hat Collection

Imagine a room whose walls are adorned with hats—feathered, flowered, beaded and ribboned—reflecting the tastes, moods and decorum of the 1800s through the 1920s, 30s and 40s.

Mrs. Beverly Caskey has such a room and will be sharing her lovingly assembled collection with the public on Monday, May 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian church Education
Building at the corner of M-106 and Water St. in Stockbridge.

Mrs. Caskey has been collecting hats and antique clothing for quite some time and has been collecting seriously for the last few years. Mrs.
Caskey will be providing six models with four complete ensembles as well as displaying a portion of her 300-hat collection as a backdrop. She will also provide her audience with narrative relating to the costumes.

The Waterloo Historical Society invites everyone to attend this colorful and nostalgic evening of entertainment.

The business meeting of the Waterloo Historical Society will be held after the presentation.

A projected 16,400 lung cancer deaths in 1989 will be attributable to inhalation of carcinogens in industry.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

A million words of praise and admiration have been uttered and written since motherhood became a household word and awesome vocation.

The calendar shows May 13th as the day set aside to honor the dignity of motherhood and the sanctity of life. All mothers through natural birth and the extraordinary mothers through adoption are remembered.

"Thank Heaven for Little Girls," a song from the musical titled, "Gigi." As a girl child it is instinctive to play house, and mother a doll, or many, many dolls. God created woman with that exceptional gift. That from our mother's womb and arms we learn the meaning of mothering.

Everyday is "Mother's Day" and the greatest unexpected gift you can give a mom is simply a kiss with "I love you, Mom." Or, "Thanks, Mom." These magic words melt away all else and touch her heart.

In this day and age of modernism and materialism, momma can be found in the business world helping to secure the home lifestyle. Some are "single" moms striving to keep the word family "alive and well." This society we walk in causes all sorts of problems for growing children and parents alike. It is sad but true as statistics reveal that we deal with alcoholism and drugs, even amongst a number of mothers. These drug misuses are crutches for particular moms as a means to "cope" with frustrations, anxiety, boredom, and reality. What is lacking here is knowledge of an exemplar person to sort of image oneself after. Oh let me share "The Promised Woman" with you.

A mere child of 15 when she was to become a very extraordinary mother. At the birth of her Son only the animals were witness. She had no sterile hospital room for his birth. Yet her Son would be the cause of the rise and fall of many. This mother was one who shared self, and love, time and concern with others. She kept a simple home and watched her Son grow in grace and stature for 33 years, until His infamous death upon the cross one Good Friday.

This special mother was standing at the foot of her son's cross as was John, an apostle, when this crucified Son looked down upon the two at His feet and said, "Mother behold your Son. Son, behold your mother." From that moment on Mary, the mother of Jesus, became the mother of us all. Christ's gift to the human family he loves so dearly.

In this day and age we can look upon Mary, our mother, and through prayer to her find answers as she takes our hand in hers and leads us ever closer to her Son, Jesus. This mother can help each mother get through the day without "crutches" if we but ask her help. "Oh, I do not know her, this mother, Mary you speak of," you say. That's OK. Mary plays no favorites. You want to know a secret? Mary, the mother of Jesus, already knows you by name. You need not even be a professed Christian. Yet you will always find a friend in your heavenly mother who is only a thought and prayer away. Reach out with your heart and touch her. Just call her name, "Mary, help me to be a mother more like you."

Just like every loving mother, she will not refuse you. She awaits your call to her as one mother to another. Just as you are. Who you are. Where you are in your lifetime. Her open invitation is always there, just for you.

This writing is dedicated to moms everywhere, and especially to Mary the mother of Jesus, our Brother. Happy Mother's Day to us all. Every-day!

Millie Warner.

To the Editor,

I live in the country, but am very much Chelsea-oriented, and feel strongly that efforts must be made to create pedestrian traffic in the downtown by attracting businesses that will create this traffic.

In my opinion, Chelsea could use a bakery of its own (not one where food comes here from other towns); secondly, I believe the population would support a health food store; a frozen yogurt store; and, why not a soda fountain for where the drug store was located? Also, a farmer's market in the east end of the depot parking lot once a week. Also, I believe we could use a show again. Keep plugging—we don't want a ghost town!

Sylvia Gilbert.

Dear Editors,

Typical of the misinformation campaign Joe Boltach has used in his campaign against the sewer project at Portage Lake in his May 2nd letter in this newspaper.

No Joe, Jim Drolett does not make $40,000 per year as our township supervisor. As you should remember from the budget meeting at the annual township meeting, which you attended, his salary is set at $18,800 per year, and his countless hours in meetings to respond to you and your cronies who are trying to wreck our sewer project, as well as his political future, make it a bargain hourly rate.

And your allegation toward John Tandy is libelous, Joe. When John Tandy retired from service as supervisor, it was because he declined to run for re-election. He never lost an election during his distinguished public career that included 10 years as our supervisor, and to have been involved in scandal regarding low property taxes is not John Tandy. A total lie, Joe. A figment of your imagination.

I hope the public now begins to see and understand the way they have been misled by Joe Boltach in the sewer bond issue election last year and now in his campaign to recall Jim Drolett and Doug Smith.

I am writing in support of the Citizens of Sharon Township Committee. We do have some of the most beautiful rolling hills, as well as clean air and water, in southeast Michigan.

Now that Barrett Paving and other companies want to buy the hills and take them down to manufacture asphalt, all the residents of Washtenaw county stand to lose what is unique to our environment. Once these hills are turned into gravel/asphalt, the hills are gone forever. There is no way to reclaim a hill, no matter how many reclamation clauses are written down on paper.

In 1820 the family of George S. Peckins moved to Michigan, settling first in Freedom township and later in Sharon, on the old Kennedy Place, which is now for sale.

These beautiful hills and trees reminded the Peckins family of home—Pennsylvania, New York—in the Finger Lakes region. Here is where they and others after them chose to live and farm for over 150 years. These hills were plowed and planted by hand, using teams of horses. The adjoining swamp, covered with beautiful tamaracks, long gone, still serves as an important water recharge area, which is in evidence each spring during flooding.

This is, indeed, a landmark region! It is now up to the Sharon Township Planning Commission and Board to make a "landmark" decision and say NO to mining these hills and NO to manufacturing asphalt on this site.

We, the residents, are depending upon them to do just that.

Mary Leeman
Sharon Township.

Americans throw away 18 billion disposable diapers every year, enough to go to the moon and back 7 times. About 1% of all of America's landfill space is occupied by disposable diapers which can take up to 500 years to decompose. Manufacturers recommend that disposable diapers be washed out before discarding them, but only 5% do. This means that every year up to three million tons of untreated feces and urine end up in landfills rather than in the sewage system every year.

EARLY REMOVAL OF WISDOM TEETH IS EASIEST

Q: Do you recommend that everyone have their wisdom teeth removed? What is the best age at which to have them out?

A: It is not necessary for everyone to have their wisdom teeth extracted but in most cases it is recommended. Ancient man had a larger jaw than modern human beings which allowed plenty of space for 32 teeth. The large jawbone of prehistoric man was well adapted for chewing a course diet of raw food. As man evolved from hunter to farmer he experienced a gradual reduction in the size and density of the jaw, although there was no corresponding reduction in the number of teeth. Most people's mouth today cannot comfortably accommodate more than 28 teeth. These extra 4 teeth or "third molars" are commonly referred to as wisdom teeth.

Most people have wisdom teeth although not everyone is so "lucky". When wisdom teeth grow under the gum and become impacted they can cause infections, cysts and tumors, destruction of the jawbone surrounding the adjacent permanent molar, and misalignment or crowding of the other permanent teeth. Even when they are not impacted and erupt into the mouth they often are in poor alignment and provide little or no function. Because of their shape and position wisdom teeth are more difficult to clean and often suffer from decay and periodontal disease.

Wisdom teeth usually erupt between the ages of 17 and 21. Removal is much easier in younger patients when the roots of the teeth are not fully formed and the surrounding bone is less dense. A less difficult removal leads to a faster recovery.

Are There Not Many Mansions in Heaven?

By Christ's picturesque illustration of his father's house being filled with bounteous mansions, was Christ giving us an invitation to dwell in the spacious estates of heaven—estates that will always have vacancy for righteousness? In the corresponding reference, John 14:2-3, Jesus says "In my Father's house are many mansions: If it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." Even if we were to interpret this passage as indicating Christ's ascension into heaven, our hope of inhabiting the Kingdom of God still rests upon the return of Jesus Christ to the earth, not our ascension into heaven. Granted, Jesus said "I will go and prepare a place for you," but he also tells us that he will receive us "when he comes again." No one will enter the Kingdom of God prior to its descension and establishment upon the earth, for Jesus makes it clear that his desire to dwell with us can only be possible WHEN HE RETURNS TO RECEIVE US. Accordingly, the place that Jesus was speaking of going to prepare a place for us was not heaven to begin with. It was the cross. We often overlook the fact that it was the crucifixion of our Jesus, being inclusive of his resurrection and ascension, that gives us a hope of eternal life, not his mere ascent to the right hand of Jehovah. What Christ was signifying in John 14:2-3 was that, through his death: all, be it Jew, Gentile, Greek, etc., who accept and believe in his birth, life, commandments, death and resurrection could have a place in the spiritual house of God today, and a hope to live in the literal Kingdom that is to be upon the earth at his return. 1 Pet. 2:13 affirms this in saying "Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, and holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ." We are accepted into a house, adopted as the very children of God without regard to racial or ethnic boundaries if we accept God's gift of love: his Son Jesus Christ. There is plenty of room (many mansions) in the house of God for all who are willing to abide by his word. "But Christ was faithful over God's house as a son. And we are his house if we hold fast our confidence and pride in our hope," from Heb. 3:6. (RSV)

Council Approves Re-Zoning of Land For Housing Project

Village resident Marvin Salyer plans to install streets and utilities on a parcel of land east of Wilkinson St. and south of Chandler St. on the west side of the village.

Village council agreed to a zoning change for the land, from Planned Unit Development Condominiums to RS-2, single family residential, at their meeting last Tuesday, May 1. The zoning change had been recommended by the village planning commission.

The change returns the land to its original zoning.

Salyer said the property will be developed for single family homes as the market for condominiums appears to have dried up.

Salyer also said the price range of the houses to be built has not been determined. However, he said he wants to begin site work as soon as possible.

The land is the site of the previously-proposed Chelsea Pines Condominium Project.

Two Annual Spring Blood Drives Become One May 16

Chelsea's two annual spring blood drives have been combined into one this year to help cut down the number of trips by the American Red Cross bloodmobile.

Usually in May there is one drive at Chelsea High school sponsored by the National Honor Society and one for the community at large at another site.

This year, high school students will be shuttled to the Covenant church at Freer Rd. and Old US-12, the donor site for the Wednesday, May 16 blood drive.

"I think it's a great idea," said Marion Kerns, the Chelsea community drive co-ordinator, who has been in contact with honor society representative Debbi Gerstler.

Students will be shuttled every hour during school hours and some students will be able to assist as volunteers. The Red Cross staff will also be increased.

Anyone who would like to give blood is advised to make an appointment with the school, church, or community recruiter by this Friday, May 11, or call the Red Cross at 971-6634. The community may also call 475-2041 after 3 p.m.

Hours of the drive are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

MODERN MOTHERS STUDY CLUB, represented by finance chair Anita McDonald, center, gave a $200 contribution to the Chelsea High school chapter of Students Against Driving Drunk, represented by Chris Craig, right.

The club also gave $150 to McKune Memorial Library, represented by Jo Ann Walters, left. Funds were raised at the club's annual Christmas Auction last November.

Marathon Bridge Group Raises Funds For Hospital

Couples Marathon Bridge Group of the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary held its annual May Event at the hospital on Sunday evening, May 6.

This year, 20 couples participated in bridge play for the benefit of the hospital, raising over $750. Pat Becker announced results for bridge played at members' homes from September through April. A brief business meeting was followed by an evening of party bridge.

High score of the year for a couple was achieved by Dick and Shirley Casterline of Chelsea, followed by Bill and Shar Eisenbeiser in second place and Larry and Marge Arnet in third place. Dick Casterline also had the high individual score for the year. Honors for second and third place individual scores for the year went to Shirley Casterline and Bill Eisenbeiser, respectively.

Jim Webb was recognized for the most constant play throughout the year, and Scott Aeschliman, Jim Adams, Bill Eisenbeiser, Dick Casterline, Ernie Laetz, Dieter Roth, and Steve Dotson had monthly high scores during the year.
