CHELSEA UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN reached 60 percent of its goal last Friday, Nov. 16 with the $2,310 corporate donation from Chrysler Proving Grounds. John Mann, president of Chelsea United Way, center, accepted the check from Paul Phelan and Donna Taylor of Chrysler. Chrysler employees also gave $4,246.38, for a grand total of $6,556.38 from the company and employees. The company also supports the Washtenaw and Manchester campaigns.

School Board Suspends Student in BB Shooting, Hears Bus Route Gripes

A Chelsea High school freshman who took a BB gun to school and shot another freshman was suspended by the Chelsea Board of Education for the remainder of the year.

The board took the action Monday night. A student was shot in the finger Nov. 1 and required stitches.

The boy who was suspended had apparently taken the gun to school to return it to another boy. The gun allegedly went off by accident in the locker room.

School officials were notified by Chelsea police of the incident after the victim went to Chelsea Community Hospital for treatment. The hospital reported the shooting to police.

The gun was powered by compressed carbon dioxide cartridge, which makes it more powerful than the average BB gun.

"We view this as an extremely serious offense," said superintendent Joe Piasecki.

"Weapons are not to be brought to school. The injury, fortunately, wasn't serious, but it could have been."

Piasecki said the district wanted to deal with the incident "firmly but fairly."

The student is free to attend another school, Piasecki said, "and we hope he will do that."

The case has been referred to juvenile court, according to Chelsea police. While it is not illegal to possess such a gun in the village, it is illegal to fire it.

Nineteen families signed a petition asking the district shorten the length of the bus ride for students on a route that serves Old US-12 west to Sylvan Center and beyond.

Due to problems with drivers breaking the new bus light laws, the district decided to change some routes so that students wouldn't have to cross a major road to get on the bus. That policy has caused a 25-minute longer bus ride for some children on the route.

The district has agreed to study the route and see if there are alternatives.

"We have looked into it and so far we haven't come up with any alternatives," Piasecki said.

Another problem with a bus route resulted in a student being forbidden to ride his bus for the remainder of the semester.

A student who wanted to get off his bus before his normal stop, and, consequently, cross a major road, was not allowed to get off the bus by the driver. It resulted in the student shoving the driver and breaking the rear view mirror, valued at about $20. The student was also required to pay for the mirror.

Attorneys for both sides were present, as well as a court reporter.

Piasecki said that even though the student had a note requesting the early exit, allowing the student to leave would have violated district policy.

"The real issue is that no matter what the policy is, a student cannot do something like that to a bus driver," Piasecki said.

The district has decided to begin to study how students are grouped academically in all grades. The board goal was initially suggested by student Amy Mitchell.

The district will first determine how students are grouped, from reading groups in elementary schools to the Enrichment Triad Program to other programs that tend to segregate students based on their abilities.

The second step, Piasecki said, will be to study the research "and see what we should be doing." Ultimately, suggestions for changes could be made next school year.

"Does it hurt a child throughout his school career to be put in a slower reading group?" Piasecki asked.

"Does participation in the Triad program have a long-lasting effect?" We really don't know and we don't know what we'll find out."

The first meeting on the subject will be held Thursday, Nov. 29.

Village, DNR Discuss Landfill Clean-Up Plan

Michigan Department of Natural Resources has agreed to consider the village's landfill clean-up plan after the village provides more technical information, according to village manager Robert Stalker.

The village and DNR met last week concerning the clean-up plan that was submitted in February in accordance with the consent agreement it signed last year. The meeting was a follow-up to a written DNR response.

"They seemed to believe the plan could work but they wanted more data to substantiate that it would be feasible," Stalker said.

The plan, covering the old landfill, involves the installation of a system of trenches to collect contaminated water flowing out of the landfill toward an adjoining wetland. The water would be collected, pumped to a charcoal filter for cleaning, and discharged into the wetlands so water levels in the wetlands are not altered.

Stalker said the village is considering the installation of a "pilot remediation system," a mimic of the full system, to test its effectiveness.

A workplan will be devised by consultants and submitted to village council for approval.

Stalker said he wants to have cost estimates for the remediation system in time to incorporate them into the village's 1992 budget.

In other landfill business, the village and Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima, and Dexter townships are still working on their cost-sharing agreement for expenses associated with closing the old landfill. Those costs are well over half a million dollars.

Stalker said attorneys for both sides are working on the agreement.

Daniel Houk Dies in Area Hunting Accident

Two hunters were reported shot, one fatally, the other suffering an arm wound, in western Washtenaw county on Friday, Nov. 17.

1st Lt. Craig Swenson from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department (WCSD) explained the Washtenaw central dispatch received a 6:29 p.m. report on Friday, Nov. 17, of a shooting in Lyndon township, off North Territorial Rd. west of Joalin Lake Rd., north of Chelsea.

Responding WCSD deputies discovered that Daniel Norman Houk, age 35, from Stockbridge, had been shot in the upper body by a 44-year-old Westland man.

Swenson reported, "Both men were deer hunting in the area, but did not know one another. The shooting occurred on private property. The deceased was the son of the property caretaker. The victim was wearing hunter's orange, and both men were properly licensed hunters."

The fire-rescue team from the Chelsea Fire Department was summoned to the disaster scene, from which Houk was transported to the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor, by Survival Flight.

He was pronounced dead at 8:13 p.m.

The hunter whose shot hit Houk was interviewed by WCSD detective William Kennon and released pending completion of the investigation and review by the Washtenaw county prosecuting attorney's office.

Friday's First Shooting
Lt. Swenson stated in his report, "The first shooting happened about 3 p.m. Friday, off Dancer Rd. in Lima township.

Dennis Michael Zlonkevics, 36, of Dexter, was struck in the arm by a shotgun slug when a deer ran past his position.

The person responsible for the discharge had not been identified when Swenson's report was released.

Zlonkevics was transported by Huron Valley Ambulance to Chelsea Community Hospital, then transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, where, on Saturday, he was reported in stable condition.

Apparently, Zlonkevics was at first unaware he had been shot.

He bagged the passing deer before he realized he had been wounded.

Fire-rescue workers from the Chelsea Fire Department assisted at the scene.

Riga Man Shoots Himself at Hospital

Chelsea police are trying to determine why a 50-year-old Riga, Mich. man apparently decided to shoot himself Sunday evening on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital.

Lawrence MacBeth was found dead of a shotgun wound at about 5:30 p.m. near the hospital's surgical entrance by a hospital maintenance worker. Police said an area resident reported hearing a gunshot shortly before police were called to the scene.

According to Sgt. Michael Foster, MacBeth's car was nearby and notes were found next to MacBeth's body.

Foster said that while evidence indicates a suicide, the incident is still under investigation. He said MacBeth was apparently not a hospital patient and it was not immediately clear why MacBeth decided to shoot himself at the hospital.

"There may be a tie-in, but we're still investigating," Foster said.

School Enrollment Projected To Rise 20 Percent by 1995

Chelsea School District student population is projected to grow by more than 20 percent by 1995, according to a study commissioned by the district.

The study projects enrollment will rise from the current 2,406 students to 2,936 by 1995. Enrollment in the elementary schools is projected to rise from 1,153 to 1,309, middle school enrollment is project to rise from 589 to 731, and high school enrollment is expected to jump from 664 to 886.

"I don't think the board was surprised by the numbers," said superintendent Joe Piasecki.

"We grew 100 students this year and Chelsea is a desirable place to live. The study did tell us that we need to get serious about this building program because we will get caught pretty quick if we don't."

The numbers will also be used to justify a facilities bond issue to the state, Piasecki said.

The study, Piasecki said, studied various patterns, such as birth rates and building developments, over the last 10 years. It also assigned a certain number of students per household; 75 students per single-family residence, .35 per con-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb opened the session at the country store Saturday night by remembering the old lady that was called on to give her witness during the revival. Her husband had died recent, one of her boys had wrecked the truck, and that very day the cow got out, run under the clothesline and dumped her week's wash in the mud. But she didn't dwell on that, she was thinking positive, especial of the covered dish dinner coming up right after church.

"Well," she said, "I ain't got but two teeth, but praise God they hit."

Fer all the griping and viewing with alarm during the sessions, Zeke said he didn't have to look far to count his blessings this Thanksgiving season, and the fellers were full agreed. They commenced with family, friends and branched off all over. Zeke took note that he was in extry good health fer a feller well past his three score and 10, and he was thankful that he still can eat what he wants when he wants. When you got the basics you can build what else you need, was Zeke's words.

It is right that Thanksgiving is an American holiday, Zeke went on, because we got so much more to be thankful fer than the rest of the world. He took note that he still can drink coffee without guilt, as long as he's setting down behaving himself. First, he said, coffee was bad fer the heart, then it wasn't, then nobody was sure, then it perked up the sex lives of old folks, and now it makes bones brittle and causes broke hips. Could be, Zeke said, then broke hips come from chasing wimmen after drinking coffee.

Bug Hookum, that ain't hit a lick at a snake in 25 year, reminded the fellers they allus are telling him that hard work never hurt anybody. He was thankful that he proved fer another year that you don't hear of anybody resting to death. Bug credits his health to his idee that it's a heap better to feel good in the back of the pack than to grind yourself up out front. It is true, Bug said, that if you ain't the lead dog the scenery never changes, but fer sure you git to look at it longer.

Ed Doolittle said he saw where the Planetary Society recent put in use a radio receiver that can pick up signals from all over the universe. Ed said he is thankful that so far we ain't discovered no other life and no other worlds in space because America is stretching herself pritty thin keeping up the one we got. He was grateful fer the Congress recot, noting that Congress in session can git the country in more trouble between changes of the moon than we can git out of between Haley's Comets.

Contrary, Clem Webster said he was thankful fer politicians of all flavors because it takes Democrats, Republicans, radicals, liberals and conservatives to deal with them that don't know what they are, they just know what they want somebody to give em right now. And Clem said he was glad he didn't raise corn or cattle again this year, because he'd be losing sleep over how to hold em til the price is right.

Final, Zeke got the floor agin to say he was glad he didn't try to kill hisself in the Philippines this year. He had saw where police there recent killed a feller to prevent him from committing suicide.

Personal, I'm thankful I'm alive in America, even if I can't afford gas to go anywhere and it soon will cost me 30 cent to git my two cents worth in the mail.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Exhaust Notices Issued as Feds Call State's Program Worst in Nation
Attorney General Frank Kelley has issued notices of intended action against an auto exhaust testing company and eight used car dealers. Having the state's auto exhaust testing (AET) program called the worst in the nation by the Environmental Protection Agency prompted the move.

The notices from Kelley follow an investigation by the office of Secretary of State Richard Austin that showed the company and the dealers, which hired the company to test their inventories, falsely certified that the vehicles had passed required emissions tests.

The notices were issued against Pit Stop Auto of Wyandotte, a mobile exhaust testing service, and Midwest Auto Auction and Service of Redford; City Auto Sales of Pontiac; Hallmark Motor Co., and Victory Auto Sales, both of Wayne; Motortown Auto Sales, Alpine Motors and K & L Sales of Detroit, and Mike & Louie's Auto Center of Taylor.

Kelley said the investigation of the firms in question found Pit Stop allegedly certified falsely that it had tested cars on dealers' lots when it had run one car through the tests several times, or in some cases, had run all the tests off its own company van.

The notices to the dealers allege that they certified to the Secretary of State that cars had been tested and passed when many of the cars had already been sold and delivered to buyers prior to the date of testing. It was later discovered that at least two of those cars were incapable of passing the emissions test. The businesses have been notified by Kelley that the practice must stop or legal action will be taken.

In its review of the Michigan program, the EPA said Michigan's system needs to be revamped and a single firm should be responsible for the tests. Those who are allowed to perform them now include about 1,400 locations licensed by the state.

Under state law, the dealers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties are required to have cars tested before a new registration can be issued to the buyer.

Substance Abuse Services

Sets 1990-91 Goals

Although releasing drug and alcohol prevention and treatment objectives that are general in nature — to prevent the onset of alcohol and other drug abuse — the Michigan Office of Substance Abuse Services released specific proposals to reach the announced objectives.

In the prevention area, the annual report listed that by Aug. 1, 1991, the office would fund and assist in the development of a manual and technical assistance plan for community volunteer prevention activities utilizing the office's Prevention Framework and Prevention network concepts. Prior to that date, however, the prevention plan includes development and funding of a model prevention program design for parents and pre-school and school-age children. The plan also includes development of recommendations for increased substance abuse information in the Michigan Model for Comprehensive Health Education curriculum for grades K-10.

On the treatment side of the ledger, the substance abuse services office reports a two-pronged approach. This includes programs to reduce the risk of consumption-related dependence, disabilities and impairments after the onset of consumption and to reduce the risk of damage to one's health, property and social and economic environments that occurs because of other individuals' consumption.

The report also lists specific dates by which specific programs are to be instituted including that by Sept. 30, 1991, there will be increased funding to assure 22 percent of community grant funding is devoted to women's treatment services and 8 percent is devoted to treatment services for children and youth.

Also, by Aug. 1, 1991, the office plans to develop and fund at least one family-focused treatment program, reflecting a full continuum of care for pregnant and drug-dependent women.

Waste Prevention Strategy Under Review

A state-wide waste prevention strategy developed by the Department of Natural Resources to reduce the amount of waste generated has been released for public review.

The strategy, developed with the Waste Prevention Strategy Advisory Group, will be submitted to the Natural Resources Commission after review. Copies are available from the Office of Waste Reduction Services and written comments will be accepted until Nov. 29.

"Waste prevention is the one thing among all the others which will have the greatest impact in cleaning up our air, water and preserving our land for production, not landfilling," said DNR Director David Hales. "There are literally a thousand changes each of us could make in our daily lives if we're serious about protecting our natural resources," he added.

By the year 2000, the strategy calls for a 50 percent reduction in discharges of persistent toxics to the Great Lakes from both point and non-point sources; 35 percent reduction in generation of hazardous waste from industry and manufacturing sources; 30 percent reduction in over-all solid waste generation; and 30 percent reduction in both energy and water use.

In three years under the plan, state government would manage a model for waste prevention and management, making maximum use of state procurement policies to promote waste prevention.

By 1994, active waste prevention programs would be in place for 75 percent of business and industrial establishments.

Hospital Auxiliary Holiday Dish Raffle Winners Announced

Chelsea Hospital Auxiliary has announced the winners of their Nov. 13 Cuthbertson Christmas Tree Holiday Dish Raffle. Raffle chairperson, Veretta Whitaker, congratulates Ron Walter of Chelsea, the winner of the five-piece, 12 place setting first prize, Mary Helen Davis of Manchester, who won the second prize cookie jar, and third-prize winner Keith Bradbury of Dexter, winner of an hors d'oeuvre plate.

4 Years Ago . . .

Wednesday, Nov. 26, 1986—

Charges were being sought against at least two and as many as four Chelsea people in connection with a near brawl involving Chelsea police and a citizen who came to their aid. According to police reports, three men and a woman, who had apparently been drinking, and three policemen were involved in the incident in the parking lot of Chelsea Lanes.

A Chelsea man nearly had his legs severed in a construction accident at Lane Animal Hospital. According to Chelsea police, a 6' by 5' slab of concrete pinned the lower legs and feet of Leon Koch against a new footing and cement wall. Police said Koch apparently slipped into a newly excavated area and the slab fell on him. Koch, an owner of Associated Builders of Chelsea, was taken to University of Michigan Hospital where he was in good condition Monday afternoon.

A cottage on Crooked Lake was gutted by fire and firemen say they don't know what caused the blaze. The home and its contents were almost completely destroyed by the fire that apparently started on the front porch. No one was home at the time the blaze was reported by Pat Steward.

A check by police of a loud automobile exhaust pipe resulted in a police complaint against a 21-year-old Chelsea man for furnishing alcohol to a minor. Chelsea police signaled a south-bound automobile to stop after they heard a loud exhaust. After police requested a driver's license, they noticed an obscured lump in the back seat of the car, which turned out to be a tapped quarter keg of beer sitting in a tub of ice. When police asked where they obtained the beer, the boys, one 19 and the other 16-years-old, said a black man, about 35-years-old who they did not know, bought it for them. After checking with Tower Mart employees, police determined the Chelsea man had bought the beer for the youths.

14 Years Ago . . .

Chelsea High's novice debaters opened their season with a successful verbal joust in the Ypsilanti Invitational, and joined varsity debate forces at Southfield Lathrup Invitational. The varsity debate squad completed the Southfield tournament with a 3-3 record, which was matched by an equally proficient novice finish.

After 28 years of military service in the U.S. Army, Sgt. Major William D. Schrader would retire to civilian life. The sergeant's friends and acquaintances were welcomed to share an evening of fellowship in honor of his distinguished career.

Chelsea Board of Education ratified the district's master teachers' contract for the 1976-77 school year following approval of a "Letter of Understanding" drafted by the teachers as an addition to the contract negotiated that fall.

A melodious cacophony of instrumental sound would fill the Chelsea High school gymnasium as some 250 Chelsea band students stage a Pop Music Concert for the community.

Charity Clemons, Keith Frank Marry in Ypsilanti Church

Charity H. Clemons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clemons of Chelsea, and Keith T. Frank, son of Alice Frank of Monroe and the late Thomas Frank, were married Oct. 13 at Ypsilanti Assembly of God church. The Rev. R.J. Pasquale of Ypsilanti and the Rev. John T. Gakenheimer of Monroe performed the ceremony.

Connie Hutchinson of Ypsilanti sang "All My Life," "Perfect Union," and "Honestly."

The bride wore a white, satin, floor-length gown accented with pearls and sequins. The gown had long lace sleeves and a full train with tiered ruffles.

Matron of honor was Tonya Short of Ann Arbor, sister of the bride. She wore an aqua mist floor-length gown of acetate with a sheer overlay.

Becky Tuttle and Vickie Hinderer of Chelsea, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Chris Gakenheimer of Monroe, sister of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. Their dresses were the same as the matron of honor's.

The bride's mother wore an off-white dress with an all-lace, long-sleeved bodice and fuchsia accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue, satin, tea-length dress. Rochelle Clemons, niece of the bride, was the flowergirl. Nathan Hinderer, nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Groomsmen were Chuck Clemons and Tom Clemons of Chelsea, brothers of the bride, and John Short of Ann Arbor, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Matthew Short, Mike Hinderer, and Steve Hinderer, all nephews of the bride.

A reception was held at Holiday Inn West in Ann Arbor for 150 guests. Phyllis Burger, cousin of the bride, cut the cake.

The newlyweds took a honeymoon trip to the Florida Keys. They are living in Ypsilanti.

The bride is 1982 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at Braun & Brumfield of Ann Arbor. The bridegroom is a graduate of Monroe High school and is employed at Boysville in Clinton.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

The Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post No. 4078 held their November meeting Monday, Nov. 12. One guest, Doris Falk of Geo. F. Falk Auxiliary No. 5977 of Milan was present.

Hospital chairman Lucy Platt gave a detailed report of the party held at Ypsilanti State Hospital on Oct. 24, serving 57 patients. She reported a party is set for Nov. 23, at Ann Arbor VA.

Americanism chairman Eulahlee Packard reported on a petition being circulated, and urged all to sign, regarding MIA servicemen.

National Home chairman Bessie Sharp reported on the National Home Christmas seals and the importance of the Auxiliary's support and of each Auxiliary member's participation in this project. $10 was allowed for the seals, by the Auxiliary.

The participating members who currently ring the bells for the Salvation Army will be doing so on Dec. 5, at the Kroger Store in Westgate from 5 to 9 p.m.

Reports were given on the yellow ribbon bows on the parking meters downtown, on the 250 individual packages collected through the Girl Scouts and the generosity of the local townspeople in the drop boxes. Through the generous gift of postage by an individual, special packages were allotted for the nine local servicemen, stationed in Saudi Arabia. Hopefully they will receive them. A detailed report was given by Auxiliary members helping to serve and participate in the Veterans Day Parade Nov. 11. This was a very successful and rewarding event to those involved. Mac Packard a local resident and Post member, along with his wife, Eulahlee, were honored in this event.

The assembly was reminded of the Auxiliary's bazaar being held Dec. 1 in the VFW Hall.

The Sixth District meeting is set for Dec. 2, at Auxiliary No. 3871 in Howell. Those wishing to attend, call the president, Lois Speer by Nov. 28. Pearl Harbor Day services are to be on the program at this meeting.

Santa Claus will make his visit to the Post and Auxiliary on Dec. 1, following the pot-luck supper at 6 p.m. Anyone bringing children is to notify Fremont Boyer prior to this date, giving ages and sex so a gift may be obtained for each.

The next Auxiliary meeting will be Dec. 10, 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

Lioness Members Hear Talk on Composting Benefits

Chelsea Lioness learned about composting at their monthly meeting Monday, evening, Nov. 12, at Society Bank. Nancy Butler from Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service was guest speaker and is quite an enthusiastic promoter of composting as both a gardening and recycling practice. She also answered questions about gardening, landscaping and pests.

The Lioness wish her luck with the raspberries she's planning to grow in her Whitmore Lake clay. With lots of compost, she can do it.

A business meeting followed her talk. The successful Haunted House was discussed. Pat Tabaka, chair of the Haunted House committee, received heartfelt thanks and congratulations for a job well done. Plans were made for Christmas decorating judging for the D.D.A.'s Festival of Lights.

The Lioness will next meet for their Christmas dinner at Weber's Inn, Dec. 8.

Handspinners Flock Holiday Fair Stated At Botanical Gardens

Holiday shoppers looking for a one-of-a-kind gift for a special person on their list will want to visit the Handspinner's Holiday Fair. The event scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 24 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. will be held at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens, 1800 N. Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor.

Members of the Spinner's Flock will be exhibiting and selling their unique designer fashions, including sweaters, mittens, gloves, socks, jewelry, and felted vests. Items for the home will also be available such as wall hangings, rugs, quilts, mattress pads, and pillows. A special area will be devoted to affordable novelty items such as ornaments, hand-made Santas, angels and sheep.

For further information call (313)475-7119 or (517)263-9279.

RUSSELL-MOORE: Guy and Patricia Russell of Chelsea have announced the engagement of their daughter, Christine, to Steven Moore, son of Robert and Maryann Moore of Dexter. The future bride is a 1986 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at Ann Arbor Machine Co. The future bridegroom is a 1986 graduate of Dexter High school and is also employed at Ann Arbor Machine. An April wedding is planned.

Lima Homemakers Extension Group Plans Holiday Lunch

Indian summer and hot cider added to the fun as 18 Lima Extension Homemakers gathered together Nov. 14, 10:30 a.m., at the home of Mary Ann Burgess. Mary Ann taught the lesson "What's 'Bugging' Our Food?" as co-hostess Alice Gardner greeted latecomers with a cup of cider. This lesson was most appropriate today because poultry is one of the most important meats needing safe handling and turkey with all the trimmings was our luncheon—dinner—for the day. We old-time cooks had a luncheon fit for kings!

Time, and the comfort of the Burgess living room, led to our November meeting before lunch. After roll call, minutes, and treasury report from Donna Bradbury, we discussed a $10 contribution for a gift to be purchased for our retiring County Extension Home Economist Marion Prince Holt.

Program co-ordinator Janet McCalla asked for a volunteer to take the March lesson entitled "Family of Origin." It is designed to learn about oneself by examining family history. There were no volunteers. She also mentioned that '91 meetings will be planned month-by-month because of so many spontaneous activities.

Dec. 12, 11:30 a.m. will be our Christmas luncheon provided by Janet at her home. Blyth Johnson will co-host. Members are to bring a $3-$4 gift and a baked good for a silent auction. Money will be donated to a needy group.

BICYCLE PATHS PROJECT: North and South Elementary schools Triad Talent Pool fifth grade CPS student teams, under the direction of teacher Ruth Stielstra, were interested in exploring a system of bike paths as their Community Problem Solving project. The problem statement was, "In what ways might we convince Chelsea Village officials that a bike path should be strongly considered so that everyone can experience healthy entertainment and safe transportation that is fun?"

Chelsea 1995 Committees Continue Planning for Future

The fall meeting of Chelsea 1995 took place Wednesday, Nov. 7 at the Village Council meeting room. Community members representing a variety of initiatives to promote Chelsea as a viable community and regional attraction were present.

Among the initiatives of Chelsea 1995 is the interest in seeing that Chelsea develops a system of walking, jogging, and biking paths in and around the village. Tim Merkel is spearheading this effort for Chelsea 1995.

Merkel learned that the North and South Elementary schools Triad Talent Pool fifth grade CPS student teams, under the direction of teacher Ruth Stielstra, were interested in exploring a system of bike paths as their Community Problem Solving project. The students attended the Chelsea 1995 meeting and gave a well-organized presentation which included a map of possible bike paths, a list of benefits for having paths, and the idea of making Chelsea the Bicycle Capital of Michigan. The group will be conducting a survey of elementary school students, parents, and organizations.

Activities for Chelsea area youth is another interest of Chelsea 1995. Jerri Cole has been investigating opportunities such as a place to do homework from 3 until 10 p.m. on weekdays and a meeting place for teens with a possible soda fountain, as well as a place for dances on Friday and Saturday evenings. Challenges exist in making any of these ideas a reality. Cole will form a committee of interested parents with children of all ages, including teens and young adults.

Chelsea 1995 project that is further along is the community-wide calendar of events, "Chelsea Dateline." Co-ordinated by Ann Feeney, the calendar was recently included in a mailing to more than 200 individuals and organizations, including all members of the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce. The calendar is also posted around the area, including the Chamber office at the Depot. Anyone planning an event should contact the Chamber, 475-1145, to check for conflicts with other events and have their event appear on the calendar.

Area residents can look forward to a new activity in the planning stages. The Fall Festival Committee is beginning plans for Oct. 28, 1991. Bill Holmes and Neta Mills are providing direction for this activity to include a bike marathon race, cider, a bake-off sponsored by Jiffy, and ethnic foods.

Bringing Fourth of July fireworks back to Chelsea is being investigated by Mark Baily. Baily is gathering information from area towns and Chelsea contacts on funding sources and organization of their fireworks.

Other Chelsea 1995 committees include Chelsea Marketing, Garage Theatre and Arts, Beautification, and Fireworks. All members of the community are invited to become active in Chelsea 1995. Call chairman Bob Thornton, 475-9183, or any of the committee chairs for more information.

Plans Develop for Festival of Lights

The 1990 Chelsea Festival of Lights to be held on Friday, Dec. 7 will be an evening the entire family can enjoy!

Beginning at the Chelsea Shopping Center with Santa's reception at 5 p.m. and moving over to Pierce Park for the Rotary's Tree of Lights illumination, then through the village for a Living Creche, downtown shopping and browsing, Santa's workshop, carolers, home and store decoration contest and ending with an all-community sing at the Depot.

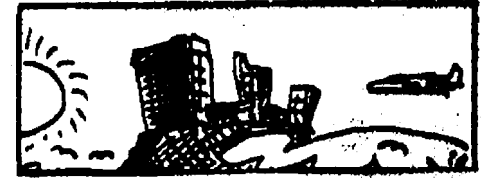

Many different organizations are helping to make the evening a success. Chelsea Kiwanis Club and Chelsea High School Key Club will assist the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce in setting out the luminaries for the celebration. The Recreation Council will be on hand to gather up the luminaries afterwards.

Chelsea Area Players will offer their talents during the evening, performing a "reading" for the public. And Mary Steele Picklesimer will be presenting winning home and store awards on behalf of the Chelsea Lioness Club.

Santa will also be downtown in his workshop to greet children and hear their holiday wishes. Santa's workshop will be sponsored by the Rotary Club of Chelsea. As a special treat, Dayspring Gifts will have a photographer take the children's pictures with Santa. Pictures may be picked up at the store the following week, compliments of Dayspring Gifts.

All activities are still in the planning stages and some changes in the schedule may occur. Community members should watch The Chelsea Standard for next week's advertisement on the Festival of Lights.

The highest city in the U.S. is Leadville, Colorado. It's nearly two miles above sea level in the Rocky Mountains.

"God has two dwellings: one in Heaven and the other in a meek and thankful heart . . ."

—Isaiah Walton

God loves not only a cheerful giver . . . He also loves those who receive thankfully, says Walton, for he dwells in their hearts.

At this season of the year we count our blessings and give thanks to God for them. Among other blessings we count the fact that we have a God to thank . . . a God who is concerned about us and who is pleased to accept our thanks.

We are also thankful for the opportunity to serve this community with an essential service, and for the many friends we have made while doing so.

TAKING CARE OF YOUR EYES

Laser surgery of the eye is a modern miracle that allows vision to be restored and blindness prevented. Simply stated, laser is a very powerful light used to alter eye tissue. Laser is used to treat diseases of the retina, glaucoma, and after cataract surgery.

Retinal laser surgery is most commonly used to treat diabetic retinopathy and macular degeneration. Here, the laser destroys abnormal blood vessels that can fill the eye with blood.

Laser surgery for glaucoma is helpful to both lower eye pressure and to prevent attacks of acute glaucoma.

After cataract surgery, a membrane can cloud-over and decrease vision. A Yag laser will dissolve this membrane and immediately improve vision.

Most laser surgery is virtually painless and is performed in the office or hospital outpatient facility.

EMU Accepting Applications For Scholarship Competition

Eastern Michigan University's Office of Financial Aid currently is accepting applications from high school seniors for its annual Presidential Scholarship competition.

The competition, which will result in the award of $935,000 in scholarships for incoming EMU students, is slated for Saturday, Dec. 15, at 8 a.m. in EMU's College of Business in downtown Ypsilanti.

At stake for the top five scorers on the competitive examination, are five full-ride, four-year Presidential Scholarships valued at $27,000 each. The next 100 highest scoring students will receive four-year Regents Scholarships valued at $7,400 each and those with scores ranked in the 101st to 200th spots will be offered scholarships of $1,000 each.

To be eligible for the competitive exam, students must have a high school grade point average of at least 3.5 and have earned a 25 on the American College Test or a 1050 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. For those students who have not yet taken either college entrance exam, EMU will be setting up a special test day.

Applications accompanied by a $15 fee for the Presidential Scholarship examination are due by the end of November.

The War on Wildlife

By The Human Society of the United States

There was a time when many Americans depended on the meat and hides of wild animals for a living. Today, only a tiny minority subsists by hunting. Hunting is now primarily a recreation activity, even for those hunters who actually use the meat of the animals they kill. Yet hunters, even though they constitute a minority of U.S. citizens, are responsible for what amounts to a war on wildlife resulting in more than sixty million animal casualties each year. The Humane Society of the United States opposes trophy and sport hunting that serves no purpose beyond the entertainment of the hunter. Further, we believe claims that hunting is necessary to control wildlife populations for their own good are based solely on a wildlife management scheme that creates the very overpopulation hunting is supposed to control.

A Fixed Game

As a "sport," hunting is truly a one-sided game, weighted heavily in favor of the hunter. This perversion is most obvious on shooting preserves, which sell the hunter the opportunity to shoot semi-tame or confined animals for a fee. There are over 3,000 preserves in the U.S., varying from lands stocked with game birds during hunting season to private estates raising exotic animals. In some preserves, trophies are guaranteed to the hunter, who pays an exorbitant fee and in return may be driven in a Jeep up to the where the unsuspecting animal is eating its daily handout. If he still can't hit the animal from that vantage point, the preserve employee will do the job for him. Off the preserve, animal versus high-powered rifle is still an uneven match. Even the art of stalking or tracking animals loses its challenge where government-supported wildlife programs overload the land with deer or pheasant.

The Unclean Kill

Hunters like to talk of the "clean kill"—an animal downed with one well-placed shot. While conscientious hunters may aim for this result, few are capable of achieving it. One or two weeks a year spent hunting are not enough to keep marksmanship at a high level.

One study, conducted by a government biologist, reported that 42% of bow hunters did not even know what part of the animal to aim at to achieve a clean kill. Some of the suffering caused by this misdirection could be mitigated if each hunter accepted the responsibility of tracking any animal he wounds and finishing the kill; instead, as many as 50% of wounded animals are left to die in the woods of slow bleeding, gangrene, or infection.

Animals that avoid being shot do not always escape the agony either. Hunters shooting over lakes and ponds drop lead shot that accumulates in marshes and shallow water. Each year, two or three million waterfowl die slowly and painfully from lead poisoning after swallowing the shot while feeding. How many more of these weakened birds fall easy prey to hunters?

We're told that Mother Nature is cruel, too, and that animals do not die pretty deaths in the claws of their natural predators. But how does this give us license to add to their peril for kicks? As humans we have the ability, through instinctual kill-or-be-killed cycle of nature and offer mercy, caring, and protection to creatures more helpless than ourselves. Shouldn't we do so?

Conservation?

The most common argument in defense of sport hunting is that it is a necessary management tool for population control. Think about it— which are the species that "must" be managed. Deer, bear, ducks? Game species, in other words. Animals with commercial or sport value. Game agencies claim that without hunting, many of these animals would starve to death because of overpopulation. Yet these same agencies are busy manipulating habitats to increase populations of game animals. If that's not enough, the land may be directly stocked with animated targets such as pheasants and quail, for the hunter's pleasure.

We believe sport hunting seriously harms, rather than benefits, wildlife. Unlike natural predators, which tend to select the weak, sick, and old animals, hunters generally select the healthiest, prime individuals, leaving the less fit animals as breeding stock. Trophy hunting, in which bucks are the targets, can disrupt social structure and breeding patterns, making animals more susceptible to predation and population decline. Game agencies work to keep waterfowl in such unnaturally crowded conditions that thousands may die in a single disease outbreak.

Hunters claim credit for the conservation of many areas threatened with destruction, particularly wetlands. However, these natural ecosystems, like many others, continue to be altered to favor a few species preferred by hunters. Nature does not consist merely of deer, pheasants, and waterfowl. The healthy functioning of natural systems depends on the delicate interactions among all members of plant and animal communities. Hunters argue that their efforts have increased populations of vanishing wildlife, but to whose benefit? The animals? Or the hunters? Can hunters truly call themselves protectors of wildlife? Are they not merely providing targets and protecting their own interests?

Have Gun, Will Shoot

Hunting can be almost as dangerous for people as for animals. Stories of careless or trigger-happy hunters letting fly at anything that moves in the woods are frequently heard, even though most hunters vigorously deny that they are anything less than cautious itself when totting a firearm. But people who live in the country will tell you that when "the season" opens, they'll keep their kids and dogs out of the woods, and call the cows up close to the house. They feel they have something to fear, though the fearless hunter has even more to watch out for, since most hunting accidents happen to the hunters themselves.

But humans can choose to stay out of the woods or to plunge in, while the animals' very homes are invaded annually by an army of pleasure-seekers leaving death and destruction in their wake.

What Can You Do?

There is hope — Americans are showing stronger and stronger support of non-consumptive wildlife activities, such as bird-watching, nature photography, or just hiking and camping in the woods. These activities provide challenge and exhilaration, and do not require the disruption of the natural environment nor the destruction of millions of animal lives. How arrogant it is to think that wildlife exists solely as a commodity for human exploitation.

Those of us who want to enjoy wildlife without killing it deserve consideration when wildlife programs are planned. In September, 1980, President Carter signed the Nongame Act, which provides federal funding in state fish and wildlife agencies for nongame conservation purposes. Some states also have their own programs for nongame wildlife. This is a good trend, and one we want to encourage.

Urge your congressman to support legislation for the funding of such programs in states where they do not already exist. Public tax dollars support these efforts. Find out what plans your state has for wildlife conservation in which the interests of the hunting community are not the most important consideration. It is time for non-hunters' concerns to play a greater role in the conservation of wildlife and the natural environment.

Use your local newspapers as an outlet to protest wildlife and habitat exploitation for the sport-hunting fraternity.

If you own wooded, rural property, post it No Hunting or Trapping. Ask friends or neighbors to do the same. Ask local police or game wardens to help you enforce your prohibition if hunters refuse to honor your signs.

When you discover evidence of wrong-doing or personally witness illegal behavior by hunters, such as whole deer carcasses left in the woods or hunters shooting animals from a vehicle on a public road, report your findings to the local game warden. This will at least help ensure the enforcement of regulations that do limit hunters.

The best hope for bringing about an end to sport or trophy hunting lies in educating children to respect life and appreciate animals and the environment on their own terms. The HSUS is very active in spreading humane education through Kind, our magazine for elementary-age children, and through The National Association for the Advancement of Humane Education, our education branch. Your contributions to HSUS help us greatly in our efforts to promote the concept of respect for all life.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Thanksgiving 1990: Let Us Be Thankful

By Philip C. Clarke

Whenever some new crisis interrupts the TV soap operas or otherwise makes itself known, an acquaintance of ours often asks her husband, "Should I worry?" Like a good many other Americans, the nice lady is just too busy to keep up with all the news these days. But the very fact that she finds it necessary to ask such a question speaks volumes about how relatively few things there are for most Americans to really worry about.

There is, of course, ample cause for concern over the economy and the Persian Gulf, to name but a few problems. A recent Time magazine cover showed the old-time Hollywood actor, Harold Lloyd, in a clip from one of his famous silent movies, hanging for dear life to the hands of a steeple clock. Time's headline read: "High Anxiety: Looming recession, government paralysis and the threat of war are giving Americans a case of the jitters." The magazine cited an October poll of 500 adult Americans in which only 42 percent said things were going "very well" or "fairly well." This, it said, was down from 52 percent in September and the lowest level of public confidence since the 1982 recession.

All things considered, however, if more than four out of 10 Americans believe life is O.K., it hardly indicates the country is falling apart, much less succumbing to the "jitters." But then our media have a natural penchant for negativism and crying alarm. A waggish critic once suggested that if, say, Dan Rather had been around when Thomas Edison invented the electric light bulb, the anchorman would lead off his evening news by proclaiming, "Disaster has struck the candle-making industry!"

Waggishness aside, on balance we Americans have a great deal more to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day than to complain about. First, unlike in most other countries of the world, we have the right to publicly criticize and condemn just about everything and everyone we wish to criticize and condemn. And to regularly go to a secret polling place where, along with millions of our fellow citizens, we can register our likes and dislikes to our heart's content.

Despite the periodic inability of our freely-elected government to get its act together, our democracy somehow has survived, even flourished, longer than any other system. To this day, millions of less fortunate peoples of the world still translate and study our Declaration of Independence and Constitution and seek to emulate their priceless freedoms. Over the years, millions of others have simply picked up and left for America, guided by the Statue of Liberty and the hope she offers for a better life.

Our society is far from perfect and much remains to be done before the "pursuit of happiness" is a reality for all Americans. Crime, corruption and drugs plague many cities and public education is, to many, a national disgrace. Our business and political communities often are beset by fraud and scandal and billions of taxpayer dollars are looted or wasted. But, most importantly, such evils are, for the most part, addressed and eventually corrected, or at least improved upon. After all, ours is still a government "of the people, by the people, for the people."

Compare, if you will, the state of our nation when, in 1863 amid our great Civil War, President Lincoln ordained that America set aside the fourth Thursday of November as "a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father." If we could withstand that terrible, wrenching conflict and other tragedies, great and small, that have engulfed our country from time to time, we most assuredly can surmount the crises we face today.

Tickets may be purchased by calling the Stockbridge Community Education Office, 617-551-8222.

Tae Kwon Do Club Members Advance After Test

Four members of Chelsea Tae Kwon Do were tested before a board of masters in Wayne on Friday, Oct. 12.

Three students received first-degree black belts. They are Victor Pitts, 11, of Chelsea, who's been studying four years; Scott Yates, 15, of Dexter, who's been studying 2½ years; and Tom Doberstein, 29, of Chelsea, who's been studying 3½ years. Francine Hugel, 44, of Manchester, who's been studying 5 years, moved to a second-degree black belt. Their teacher is Michael Pozson.

On Sunday, Oct. 14, Yates took third in sparring at the National Tae Kwon Do Chung Do Kwan Tournament.

HCMA 'Fish Float' in Thanksgiving Day Parade

For the third consecutive year, the Huron-Clinton Metroparks will participate in the Detroit Thanksgiving Day Parade to be held on Thursday, Nov. 22 in the City of Detroit.

This year the Huron-Clinton Metroparks Fish Float is number 18 in the parade, which will be featured on WDIV-TV (Channel 4) on Thanksgiving Day.

The Fish Float was designed by Ronald C. Wiley, of the HCMA Graphic Arts Department, and prepared with the assistance of the Carpenter Shop staff at Kensington Metropark near Milford.

There are 13 Huron-Clinton Metroparks serving the citizens of the counties of Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw.

Award-Winning Writer Starting Second Book From New Chelsea Home

By Brian Hamilton

In the early hours, when most of us are still lost in our dreams, Lowell Cauffiel is living his.

Cauffiel is an award-winning, long-time Detroit News reporter and former senior editor of Detroit Monthly magazine who moved from Grosse Ile to the lakes area north of Chelsea about a year ago with his wife, Debbie, and children, Jessica and John. He's pursuing a successful life as a writer of popular books. And on the side he plays blues guitar, plays golf, hunts, and has even found time to build a small log cabin.

Fresh off the success of his 1988 crime story Masquerade: A True Story of Seduction, Compulsion and Murder, Cauffiel has signed with Zebra Books of New York to write a book covering a series of murders in a Grand Rapids nursing home in 1987.

With the bulk of the research completed, Cauffiel has begun the tedious process of stringing the facts together to create a story that will read like a suspense novel. Tentatively titled Forever and Five Days, the book should be finished after about six months of writing that will begin some days as early as 4:30 a.m.

"I find it so difficult to write," says Cauffiel, perhaps a curious utterance from a man who has won four Detroit Press Club writing awards, and whose first book was a best-seller in Detroit and was reviewed in the New York Times.

"I have to write in the early morning when there's nothing else to do and I can't do anything else. If there's painting to do or something to fix, I'll do all those things before I'll write."

Every morning Cauffiel will make himself some coffee, walk from his log home to his small but well-equipped and comfortable log office, which he built himself, and work at his computer until 1,500 words have arranged themselves on the monitor. His family will know not to bother him "because I get that look on my face," he says.

"You really need a special kind of family to be able to do this," says Cauffiel.

"That is by far the most difficult part. If I weren't a writer and spending so much time probing other people's lives, I'd probably be a lot easier to live with. I feel extremely privileged to be able to do this for a living."

So why does he write if he finds it so laborious? Cauffiel, like the reporter and hunter that he is, leaves the impression that stalking the story is the primary satisfaction. The writing of the story, like the kill, gives him the freedom to start the process again.

Part of the hunt includes his natural curiously about motives and personalities.

"I'm curious about what it is that pushes people to [commit murder]," he says.

"When you get into it, you find it's often a series of small, insignificant events that overwhelm a person. I'm also interested in the sociopathic and psychopathic character, people who don't think twice about killing."

Cauffiel's new book has taken him to Grand Rapids more times than he can count. He has hundreds of hours of taped interviews, many of them with the murderer, coroners reports, and newspaper accounts. He has never paid for an interview, which he says is a common misconception about crime writers. However, he does admit to having his own tricks of the trade which help him loosen up a reluctant source. His strong suit has to be his ability to get his sources to talk and reveal themselves in detail. Otherwise he'd end up with a rehash of news accounts and court testimony.

"About 80 percent of the people want to tell their story because they want people to understand them," Cauffiel says.

"Another 15 percent have to be compelled to talk, to be convinced it is in

DAVE BULSON will have a freezer full of venison after shooting two bucks last week. He took the first one, a seven-pointer, on Thursday, Nov. 15, opening day, north of the village in a field. He took the second one, a 10-pointer, the following morning at 8:10 in a woods in the same general area. He was hunting both times with his dad.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Tecumseh Whips Dogs In District Finals with Strong Fourth Quarter

Tecumseh Indians clobbered the Chelsea Bulldogs in the finals of district girls basketball play last Friday in Tecumseh, 54-36.

The Bulldogs, who led 15-7 early in the second quarter, trailed 22-17 at half-time and couldn't stop the hot-shooting Indians down the stretch. Tecumseh outscored Chelsea in the fourth quarter, 18-4.

"Tecumseh is a very good team and we knew going in we had to do three things," said Chelsea coach Rahn Rosentreter.

"We had to rebound, we had to shoot well at the free throw line and we had to keep our poise. I don't think we did the last one very well."

Rosentreter said there were two key points in the game where the loss of poise hurt the Bulldogs severely.

"When we had the lead we didn't extend it and they got back in the game," Rosentreter said.

"We knew when they got the lead they'd be tough to beat. The other was early in the fourth quarter when we had the chance to cut their lead to four points. If we could have done that it would have probably been a dogfight the rest of the way."

Rosentreter also said no one stepped forward in the final period to take responsibility for the scoring.

"It seemed as though everyone wanted someone else to do it."

With less than a minute to go in the third quarter, Chelsea cut the lead to four points on a jumper by Carrie Flintoff. However, a jumper at the buzzer by Erin Schicker pushed the lead to six.

"That basket didn't help us any," Rosentreter said.

In the fourth quarter, Tecumseh's Amy Chase used her turn-around jumper effectively as she scored six points.

Flintoff and Christine Burg each finished with nine points. Colleen Scharphorn had six points, Mercedes Hammer and Kristin Bohlender each had five points, and Shawn Losey scored two.

Tecumseh out-rebounded the Bulldogs, 28-24. The Indians also had 15 offensive rebounds, many of them in the second quarter when they were able to turn the game around.

"I'm far from being disappointed about it," Rosentreter said.

"Granted Tecumseh beat us in the districts but over the long haul we proved we were the best team in the league. We probably had the third or fourth best talent in the league but the girls had a lot of desire to accomplish their goals and that made up for it. We were probably not as talented as teams in the past."

COLLEEN SCHARPHORN tries to drive toward the basket against a tough Tecumseh defense during last Friday night's district final game in Tecumseh. The Indians won, 54-36, and advanced to the region tournament.

In Wednesday's district semi-final against Dexter, the Bulldogs took a 48-32 victory.

"I'm not sure if we were 16 points better or if Dexter was ready to end their season," Rosentreter said.

"I don't think we played all that well. We hit a couple of quick baskets at the start of the second half and Dexter started firing up the three pointers just like the last time we played them. We out-scored them 13-4 in the third quarter and put them away."

Chelsea took a 14-8 lead in the first quarter, but Dexter trailed 21-17 at half-time.

Hammer led Chelsea with 15 points, Burg scored 14, Losey had five, Scharphorn and Flintoff scored four each, and Bohlender, Sarah Devine, and Heather McConaghy each scored two points.

Chelsea finished the season with an 18-4 record.

8th Grade Cagers Beat Saline But Lose to Dexter

Beach Middle school eighth grade basketball team beat the Saline Hornets, 40-29, and lost to the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 34-25, in their first week of action.

In the Saline game, Chelsea led after one quarter, 6-4, and gradually increased their lead thanks to a balanced scoring attack, said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

Tallman also praised the "pesky defense" of guards Chad Brown and Bryndon Skelton.

"It should be an interesting year with such team balance," Tallman said.

"The question is, at what level is that balance."

Chelsea scorers included Dan Wehrwein 8, Josh Inwood 5, Skelton 5, Jon Michael 4, Nate Young 4, Kevin Coy 3, Dirk Wales 2, Tom Hubbell 2, Kevin Kolodica 2, Case McCalla 2, Ryan Ludwig 2, and Brown 1.

In Thursday's game at Dexter, the Bulldogs failed to score in the first quarter and trailed at half-time 12-4.

"Dexter's big front line stopped us cold and did not allow us any second or third shots," Tallman said.

"We did manage to pull to within two points early in the fourth quarter but Dexter went to work on the boards and re-established their lead."

Jim Tallman, Jr. scored eight points in the third and fourth quarter and McCalla added seven points. They were the team's leading scorers. Other scorers included Wales 4, Wehrwein 2, Adam Beauchamp 2, Skelton 2.

Sweet potatoes were unknown in Europe until Columbus found them in the West Indies and took them back with him. They have turned into one of the world's cheapest food crops.

Bulldog Tankers Set Four School Records at State Swimming Meet

Chelsea Bulldog varsity swimmers broke four school records on their way to placing 15th at last week-end's state meet.

Zealand won the meet easily with 307 points, East Grand Rapids was second with 184 points and Milan was third with 137. Chelsea scored 19.

"It was an extremely competitive meet," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

"Our times this year would have placed us eighth last year. Zealand would have won the class A meet. The meet had several all-American times."

Chelsea started the meet on Friday as the 200 medley relay team of Melissa Thiel, Michele Hollo, Erika Boughton, and Kelly Cross dropped two seconds to 1:59.46 and ultimately placed 14th.

Boughton reached the finals in the 200 freestyle and set a school record of 2:03.52, eclipsing the previous record of 2:05.46 held by Susan Schmunk.

"Erika really reached down for the finals," Jolly said.

"Confidence is the key to success and her's is getting better."

Cross placed in two individual events. She broke her own school record in the 50 freestyle with a time of :25.45 in the preliminaries and finished eighth over-all.

Cross also reached the finals of the 100 backstroke and placed 10th with a 1:03.53. It's an event she doesn't usually swim.

Melissa Thiel broke the school record in the 100 breaststroke, previously held by Kelly Kuzon, with a time of 1:13.50. However, the time didn't qualify her for the finals and she finished 13th over-all.

In the 400 freestyle relay, Chelsea reached the finals with a time of 3:57.07. However, the team of Boughton, Jennifer McEachern, Thiel, and Cross dropped another seven seconds to 3:50.96 in the finals to set another school record by two-tenths of a second.

"Over-all we swam at or above expectations," Jolly said.

"We are so close to jumping into the top 10 with this team. With some quality summer training we will be back and faster than ever. It was a fine end to the season."

7th Grade Cagers Win First Two

Beach Middle school seventh grade basketball team won their first two games of the season as they edged Saline, 29-27, on Nov. 12 and beat Dexter, 47-33, on Nov. 15.

In the Saline game, Chelsea overcame a four-point half-time deficit with a 16-point third quarter thanks to a strong fast-break game, said coach Charlie Waller.

Scott Colvin led the Bullpups with nine points and seven rebounds. His defense also limited Saline's top scorer to six points.

Nick Brink scored eight points and was a key in the third quarter.

Sam Morseau had eight rebounds and played excellent defense, Waller said. He also scored four points, as did Dan Johnson. All of Johnson's scoring came in the fourth quarter.

Rich Stahl added two points. In the Dexter game, Brink and Josh Bernhard each scored 10 points and Colvin scored nine as the Pups ran away with the game in the third quarter. The game was tied at half-time at 17.

Bernhard had 12 rebounds and Matt Martin played a good defensive game, Waller said.

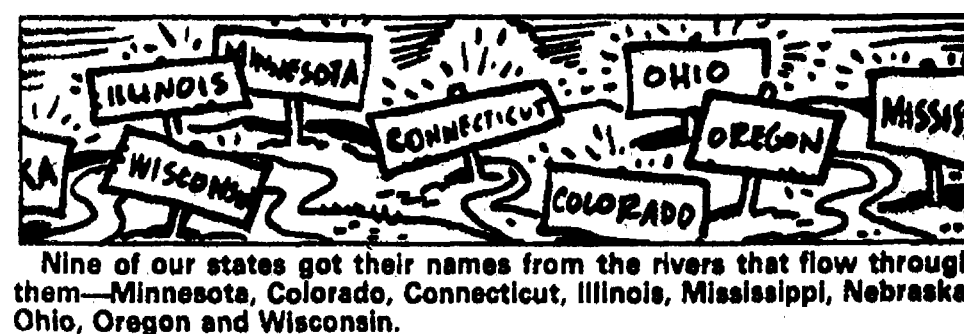

Other scorers included Morseau with six points, Johnson and Stahl with five points each, and Bob Hell and Dave Paton with two points each.

Hubcaps Stolen At Supermarket

A Chelsea woman told police that someone stole two hubcaps off her car while it was parked at Polly's Market on Wednesday, Nov. 14.

The car was a 1990 Cadillac and the theft was reported at 5:16 p.m.

Chiropractic Health Care

Performance
Enhancement (Without Steroids)

Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman

Over the last few weeks this column has dealt with the alarming increase in the use of anabolic steroids, especially among high school athletes.

This week I want to tell you about ways to increase athletic performance without the use of dangerous drugs.

First, drink 8 glasses of pure water a day, including a glass about 20 minutes before athletic work out.

Second, eat a diet that is whole, natural and that contains many raw vegetables. This should be about 60% complex carbohydrates (including whole grains—not white rice and wonder bread!) 20-25% protein from a wide variety of sources and 15-20% fats and oils (good quality—not Crisco, lard and margarine).

Third, don't over train. Find optimum intervals for the type of workout. Over training leads to fatigue and injury.

Forth, get your required amount of sleep. Your requirements may go down as you get in better shape athletically.

Lastly, see your doctor of chiropractic regularly and for treatment if injury does occur. Chiropractic adjustments speed healing, improve muscle function and co-ordination, and decrease the chance and severity of injury.

Please address questions and comments to Dr. J. Nicholas Koffeman, 138 E. Middle St., Chelsea, MI 48118. 313-475-2088.

The top 50 will receive scholarships ranging from $300 to $2,000. From left are Jude Quilter, Mike Terpstra, Carrie Flintoft, and Julie Warren.

Great Lakes Bancorp Acquiring Two Branches

Great Lakes Bancorp announced that it will acquire First Federal of Michigan's two Ann Arbor branch offices.

"This presents a great opportunity for Great Lakes to strengthen its service capabilities in Ann Arbor," said Dennis E. Pearsall, executive vice-president of banking services. "The Ann Arbor area has steadily been growing around us. The addition of these two branches will allow us to better serve those areas, and help us to continue building our leading position in the market."

The two First Federal branches are located at 1000 E. Stadium at S. Industrial and 4755 Washtenaw near Golfside. Great Lakes currently has 10 branches serving Washtenaw county.

Great Lakes will acquire approximately $16 million of deposits. The acquisition, expected to be completed by March 31, 1991, is subject to regulatory approval.

Great Lakes Bancorp has 52 branches in Michigan and operates Dollar Federal Savings Bank, a subsidiary with five branches in the north-Cincinnati area. Great Lakes also operates Great Lakes Mortgage Co., a mortgage banking subsidiary. Great Lakes Bancorp is Michigan's second largest savings bank.

BookCrafters Names Employee of Month

BookCrafters' Michigan Division recently honored Jerry Crawford as its November Employee of the Month.

For 22 years, Jerry has served as a dependable member of BookCrafters' team. A multi-skilled operator in the Perfect Bindery, Jerry sets an example for his co-workers. His expertise is both admired and respected as noted by the many complimentary comments made by his fellow workers.

Jerry and his wife, Carol, have lived in Chelsea for 21 years. They have two daughters and two sons as well as three grandchildren, Jason, 5; Brendon, 3; and Cory, 2. Jerry takes pride in his family as well as in the many friends he has developed through the years at BookCrafters.

Letters to the Editor

To Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce Gentlemen:

We drove through Chelsea yesterday (11-11-90). I was very happy to see the display of ribbons for the service people. I have a son in the Middle East. He is a surgical technician with the Air Force, deployed 8-10-90 from Shaw AFB, S.C.

I'm having a difficult time getting our businesses, etc., to hang ribbons on doors, etc. It really means a lot to us. Sincerely,

Marlene Cassabon
Oregon, O.

To the Editor,

Many times people are inclined to overlook the resources of their community and fail to realize the value of their local services. During a time when people wish to reduce taxes and services, Chelsea has been fortunate to maintain a library that has provided a local friendly environment for our residents.

We particularly wish to note the effort put forth by the McKune Library Staff for the 8th graders at Beach Middle school. For the past several years the librarians have worked closely with Beach staff members to acquire books from their library and other county and state libraries that students could use for research projects. Their books and ideas have aided the students in their work and their friendliness and organization have made our jobs more rewarding.

Judy Ward, Mary Baker,
Lu Kramer, Susan Beard,
Darcio M. Stielstra,
Barbara Fisher.

To the Editor:

The Nov. 14 front-page item concerning burning of leaf-burning at Oak Grove Cemetery, with resulting leaf-disposal problems, prompts me to write with the great solution we have found with 15 huge trees on our one-acre property. This year we purchased the new Toro Recycler lawn mower, which chews up the leaves and grass clippings (as my husband mows the lawn as usual) and deposits the fine leaf mulch among the blades of grass. Our lawn looks as though it has been thoroughly raked afterward, with the added bonus of improvement in the soil. No burning to foul the air, no raking, no bagging or hauling of leaves to a compost pile (or worse, to the land fill) and much satisfaction knowing we have found an environmentally sound solution! We are delighted, and highly recommend this method.

Virginia Bachman.

Converter Ignites Leaves and Fire Destroys Automobile

An automobile belonging to an Ann Arbor man was destroyed after being engulfed by flames on Van Buren St. last week.

According to police, the fire apparently started when the car was parked over a pile of leaves and the car's catalytic converter ignited the leaves.

RICHARD MURPHY, technical manager at Comshare in Ann Arbor, talked to students at South and North Elementary schools about computers last Friday and Monday. His talk let students pretend to be everything from a keyboard to a floppy disk as they learned the basics of how a computer works. The talk, sponsored by the Enrichment Triad Program, was available to any student in grades 3-5 who wanted to hear it.

YOU & YOUR PET

By Linda Reider
Director of Education
Humane Society of Huron Valley

★ Adopting from a Humane Society...

Last year in Washtenaw county, over 4,000 dogs and 5,000 cats were brought to the HSHV shelter. A large percentage of these were litters of kittens and puppies whose owners could not find homes for them. In the face of such an overwhelming pet population problem here and nation-wide, it only makes sense to help the situation by adopting your next pet from a humane society.

Of course, it is easier to pick up a free animal at the farmers' market or from a newspaper ad. But if you think about it, getting pets from these sources only encourages irresponsible breeding by giving the animals' owners the false impression that they can always find homes for whatever they let their pet produce. But for every free puppy or kitten they give away, another one dies at the animal shelter for want of a home.

So if I have convinced you to at least take a look, let me describe what you will find. Most shelters have adoption hours (HSHV is open from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.) and procedures. Some people do not like the idea that they must "qualify" to adopt a pet at a humane society. They feel that they will give the pet a good home and should therefore be taken at their word.

But peoples' ideas of what constitutes a good home vary widely. So most humane societies, including HSHV, set minimum requirements for all adopters. At our shelter, clients must be at least 18 years of age, be financially capable of caring for a pet, have their landlord's approval, and have their other pets current on vaccinations. These requirements help assure that the pet will be wanted and cared for its entire life.

Adoption fees are quite a bargain. AT HSHV, cats usually cost $45 to $55, while dogs are generally $50 to $70. The fee includes the animal's first distemper shot and worming, feline leukemia or heartworm test, collar and tag, leash or carrying box, spay or neuter surgery, free exam at a vet of choice after adoption, adoption packet and private consultation. These same services might cost double the amount if purchased individually for a "free" pet.

But perhaps the best part about adopting from a humane society is knowing that you've given an abandoned animal a second chance at life! Next Week: Purebred Pets.

Giant Gingerbread Castle Opening in Dearborn Hotel

The Hyatt Regency Dearborn will officially welcome the 1990 holiday season with the opening of the "World's Largest Gingerbread Castle," on Friday, Nov. 23. Co-sponsored by Betty Crocker Gingerbread Cake & Cookie Mix and built completely out of gingerbread and candy, the Castle and all of its trimmings will be presented for all to see at 11 a.m. sharp.

Santa Claus will have the honor of unveiling the "World's Largest Gingerbread Castle" which is erected in the main lobby of the hotel! On hand to assist Santa in the ribbon cutting ceremony will be Dearborn Mayor Michael A. Guido, celebrities, the Michigan Bach Festival Capolers singing some of their favorite Christmas tunes, Checkers the Clown, magicians, and lots more!

The Gingerbread Castle measures 36 feet x 16 feet and stands 14 feet high. It includes 3,500 pounds of gingerbread, over 3,600 pounds of icing, 2,500 pounds of assorted candy, and even comes complete with its very own Santa Express train! A Santa Claus sits at the base of it all!

Santa will be available in the Gingerbread Castle, for children and adults alike, for pictures, Nov. 23 through Dec. 23, between 11 a.m.-2 p.m. and 6-8 p.m., weekdays, and from 11 a.m.-4 p.m., week-ends. All proceeds from photos will be donated to the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan. The organization is dedicated to fulfilling the personal wishes of children suffering from life-threatening illnesses.

This year Santa also had the added help of some of his friends. During the weekends, personalities will be filling in as "Celebrity Santas."

The Gingerbread Castle takes approximately 200 hours to construct and decorate, with at least two people constantly working.

"It's an incredible undertaking, but an act of love," says Hyatt's executive chef Domenick Buffone.

Citizens Council Chairman Elected

Robert W. Carr, Ph.D., has been elected chairman of the Ann Arbor Citizens Council. The Citizens Council, founded in 1936, is made up of volunteer citizens who make an effort to keep current on matters of local interest including taxes, schools, and downtown development. The approximately 500-member Citizens Council publishes a monthly newsletter on these current issues, and sponsors forums on specific matters of community interest.

Dr. Carr is the executive director of the Chelsea Community Hospital Foundation for Community Care. He is a former administrator for the Ann Arbor Public Schools.

BLUE LIGHT

You may have recently seen advertisements about the wonderful effects of glasses to block out blue light, and how these fantastic spectacles will instantly make your eyes more comfortable and improve your vision. Is there any truth to this? What is blue light and why is it helpful to screen it out?

Of the wide range of radiation given off by the sun, our eye perceives only a narrow band of this energy, which we call light. The different wavelengths of energy in sunlight are seen by our eye as different colors. When the eye focuses sunlight on the retina, the shorter wavelengths are focused slightly more, resulting in a different focal point for each color. Since the eye can't focus all colors in sunlight at the same time, there is some natural blur induced, called "chromatic aberration."

Blue light is at one end of the spectrum of visible light, and when our eye tries to focus the blue part of sunlight, it partially "defocuses" the rest of the light. If we could prevent our eye from having to focus blue, the rest of the light could be focused sharper.

This is where blue blocking glasses come in. They filter out most of the blue light, letting some through so you can still see blue colors, but allowing increased comfort, better depth perception, and sharper contrast. Yes, they do work, but perhaps not as magically as some of the advertising suggests!

Turkey Price Higher But Our Thanksgiving Meal Still A Bargain

As surely as children will haggle over the lucky end of a turkey wishbone or ask for two dollops of whipped cream for their pumpkin pie, chances are their parents will pay more for this year's traditional Thanksgiving Day meal.

According to a national survey conducted by the American Farm Bureau Federation, this year's traditional meal for 10 people will cost $28.85. That's the national average; in Michigan, the cost will be $36.03.

The menu for the survey included turkey, stuffing, sweet potatoes, peas, rolls, cranberries, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, a relish dish and beverages.

At $2.89 a person, the cost is 42-cents-a-person higher than last year. Despite the increase, the traditional Thanksgiving Day meal for 10 remains a bargain. The meal's cost was higher in 1986 at $29.75. Other years include: $24.51 in 1987, $26.61 in 1988 and $24.70 in 1989.

A higher average price paid for the Thanksgiving turkey set the tone for the increase in this year's meal. Higher costs for many of the other meal items also contributed to the over-all price increase.

The over-all price for this year's meal was determined from results of a nation-wide survey of 80 Farm Bureau volunteer shoppers. Farm Bureau's Thanksgiving Day dinner included a 16-pound self-basting tom turkey, a 14 ounce package of herb-seasoned, cubed stuffing mix, a 30-ounce can of pumpkin pie mix, and a package of two, nine-inch frozen pie shells. Also included were: three pounds of fresh sweet potatoes, a 12-ounce package of brown-and-serve rolls, a one-pound package of frozen green peas, a half-pound each of fresh carrots, celery and yellow onions, a 12-ounce package of fresh cranberries, a gallon of whole milk, an ounce of coffee, and one-half pint of whipping cream.

The following is the average for the states surveyed: Arizona, $23.84; Arkansas, $24.54; California, $26.96; Florida, $28.98; Georgia, $24.99; Idaho, $28.58; Illinois, $28.61; Indiana, $28.28; Iowa, $28.50; Kansas, $27.94; Kentucky, $30.68; Maine, $28.02; Michigan, $36.03; Mississippi, $25.97; Missouri, $22.47; Montana, $31.23; Nebraska, $34.42; New Jersey, $24.28; New York, $30.44; North Dakota, $35.72; Ohio, $30.00; Pennsylvania, $29.56; South Carolina, $30.55; South Dakota, $26.42; Tennessee, $38.91; Texas, $32.22; Utah, $32.18; Washington, $32.06.

Hospital Patients May Have Guest For Thanksgiving

Chelsea Community Hospital will celebrate the holiday by sharing a Thanksgiving meal with patients in the hospital and with staff on duty on Nov. 22. While no one wants to be in the hospital on Thanksgiving, sharing a special meal can help to make the day more enjoyable.

All patients will be encouraged to invite a family member to join them in a noon or evening meal compliments of the hospital. The traditional Thanksgiving meal will include turkey, stuffing, potatoes, and all the fixings, and of course pumpkin pie.

All hospital staff working that day will also enjoy a delicious meal compliments of the hospital.

Members of the community wishing to enjoy a noon or evening meal at the hospital may do so between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., or 5:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Thanksgiving Feast High in Calories But Still Nutritional

Ypsilanti—A typical Thanksgiving turkey dinner may add up to a lot of calories, but it actually provides pretty good nutritional value.

Annette Peel, Eastern Michigan University assistant professor in the Human, Environmental and Consumer Resources Department, teaches several nutrition courses. A Thanksgiving dinner, she said, isn't all that bad, and besides, it's OK to pig out once in a while.

"Except for the gravy and pie crust, which are high in fat, a typical Thanksgiving meal is a very good, nutritious menu," she said. "People are going to splurge and one time in a long time is not going to do nutritional harm. They just need to lighten up (their eating) a few days ahead (of the holiday) and a few days afterward, and they usually do that naturally."

But what about those calories? What's the actual bottom line of a Thanksgiving meal? Do you really want to know? OK, 1,700 calories. And that's for "average" serving sizes. Yes, the same kind of average that tells you a can of Campbell's soup contains six servings and a carton of Cool Whip serves 10.

Here's the caloric breakdown (in approximate figures):

—Turkey, three ounces, (white) 150, (dark) 175

- Mashed potatoes, 1/2 cup, 95
- Dressing (called stuffing by some folks), 1/2 cup, 125
- Gravy, 1/4 cup, 101
- Candied sweet potatoes (some folks call these yams), 1/2 cup, 175
- Cranberry sauce (sugared), two tablespoons, 110
- Green beans (with butter), 1/2 cup, 71
- Tossed salad, one cup, 50; French dressing, two tablespoons, 130
- Roll with two teaspoons butter, 155
- Pumpkin pie, one piece, 275; whipped cream, two tablespoons, 180
- Wine, 3.5 ounces, 100

That gives a grand total of around 1,700 calories—for the first trip to the table. Don't despair, however, you can skip the green beans, tossed salad and cranberry sauce and save 361 calories. Thanksgiving is no time to be worrying about your fruit and vegetable intake. And hey, isn't pumpkin a vegetable or something like that, anyway?

Author Makes Home in Chelsea

their interest. Another five percent won't talk for reasons of privacy."

The story is about a nurses' aide, Gwendolyn G. Graham, 26, who was convicted of suffocating five Alpine Manor Nursing Home patients with washclothes. Catherine M. Wood, 27, another aide, testified against Graham and is in jail after pleading guilty as Graham's accomplice. The women were lovers.

Title of the book comes from court testimony. After each death, Graham and Wood supposedly reaffirmed their love based on the number of their victims. They ultimately wrote a poem that they would love each other "forever and five days."

As in his first book, Cauffiel's story will be a telling of the factual story as best as he can determine it through his research. A few names may have to be changed to protect vulnerable sources, but those changes are noted at the outset.

The settings of the nursing home and Grand Rapids, as well as the intertwining themes of love and murder, are what lured Cauffiel to the story.

"In a nursing home, people are absolutely vulnerable and need care and attention," Cauffiel says.

"One in two women and one in three men will end up in a nursing home at some point in their lives. Nobody wants to put a relative in a nursing home. The murder of those people has to be the ultimate nightmare for the surviving families."

"Plus Grand Rapids is so conservative and religious. They seemed to react more to the fact that the women were lesbians rather than the fact that they killed people."

Cauffiel, 39, a native of Temperance, was educated at Wayne State University, interned at The Toledo Blade newspaper, spent seven years as a general assignment reporter for the News, and eventually became associate editor of the News' Michigan Magazine.

From 1987 to 1989, when he was senior editor at Detroit Monthly, he had the chance to do a cover story on actor Jeff Daniels. That brought him to Chelsea more than once. When the Cauffiels decided to get away from the jaded lifestyle of Grosse Ile ("I heard my daughter talk about executives' salaries") and seek out a rural community, they initially considered Manchester—that is until Lowell drove Debbie through Chelsea and it was love at first sight.

Cauffiel and Daniels have since become friends and golfing buddies. In fact, Cauffiel's Progressive Blues Band recently performed a benefit concert for Daniels' Garage Theatre. Cauffiel is the lead guitarist and writes much of the group's original music, but, oddly, none of the lyrics. Cauffiel, who played violin early in his life, picked up a guitar after graduating from high school and has played the blues ever since. His band plays urban blues and was a smash at the local benefit.

"We really didn't know what to expect," Cauffiel says.

"We are a real urban band and the audience was mostly people of my parents' generation. But the place went crazy. There were people on their chairs. Chelsea seems to be a pretty sophisticated community."

Cauffiel says he likes "the sense of balance" he gets from living here, echoing what friend Daniels has often said about the acting business. He doesn't have to worry about making an impression or leading a power lifestyle. And that will probably keep him living his dream here for a long time.

Card of Thanks 19

CARD OF THANKS
We are sincerely grateful to friends, neighbors and relatives for their kind expressions of sympathy during our bereavement. Also the comforting messages by the Rev. Keph and Don Cole. We are deeply grateful.
The Alfred Lindauer Family.

CARD OF THANKS
Thank you to everyone for their cards, flowers, messages of sympathy during the illness and passing of our beloved husband, father and grandfather. To Rosie and Cathy for their care, Dr. Krause and Dr. Gravelyn, the Rev. Pennanen, Francisco Women's Fellowship for the dinner, John and Gloria Mitchell and John, Jr., and all who gave memorials to the Individualized Home Nursing Care.
The Harold Wahl families.

CARD OF THANKS
Thank you Lord for saving my soul, Thank you Lord for making me whole, Thank you Lord for giving to me, Thy great salvation so rich, so free.
J. F. Harris.

DO IT AND DIET!
If you're sour about going on a diet, here's a sweet solution: flavor your foods with a new high intensity sweetener that's actually sweeter than sugar, but has no calories.

Experts agree that switching from sugar to a high intensity sweetener in food preparation is a good way to reduce calories without sacrificing taste. Many people are sweet on a new table top sweetener called Sweet One. It contains Sunette brand sweetener, which is calorie-free, sodium-free and does not promote tooth decay.

You can use Sweet One as a substitute in many of your favorite dessert recipes—its temperature stability is excellent for cooking. It helps make life a little sweeter—and a lot lighter—for many people.

HOOPINGARTNER SISTERS, Diana, right, and Angel, placed in the top 30 in the Michigan Wildlife Art Contest sponsored by the Cranbrook Institute of Science. The contest was open to all Michigan students in grades 9-12, with a maximum of three entries per school. Their works are touring Michigan along with the other top entries. Diana's work, "Hawksbill Turtle," was published in "Progress" magazine by Consumers Power Co. Angel's work was "Cleaner Shrimp."

ROB LYERLA, a 1988 graduate of Chelsea High school, is now serving with the U.S. Navy in the Persian Gulf, just 150 miles off the coast of Kuwait. He is aboard the aircraft carrier USS Midway (CV-41) operating under operation Desert Shield. He is in Battle Group "alpha" of the Seventh Fleet. Rob joined the navy in July 1988 and has been stationed at Fort Yokasuka in Japan since April of 1989. He expects to be back in the states in March 1991 (110 days). Rob says "hello" to everyone and he is fine and looks forward to coming home. He would like friends to write.

Community Worship Scheduled Tonight

The annual Community Thanksgiving Eve Service will be held at St. Paul United Church of Christ tonight at 7:30. It is sponsored by the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship.

The Rev. Siegfried Johnson, pastor of the Covenant Community church of Chelsea will be the speaker. His topic is "Thanksgiving and the Act of Cheerful Giving."

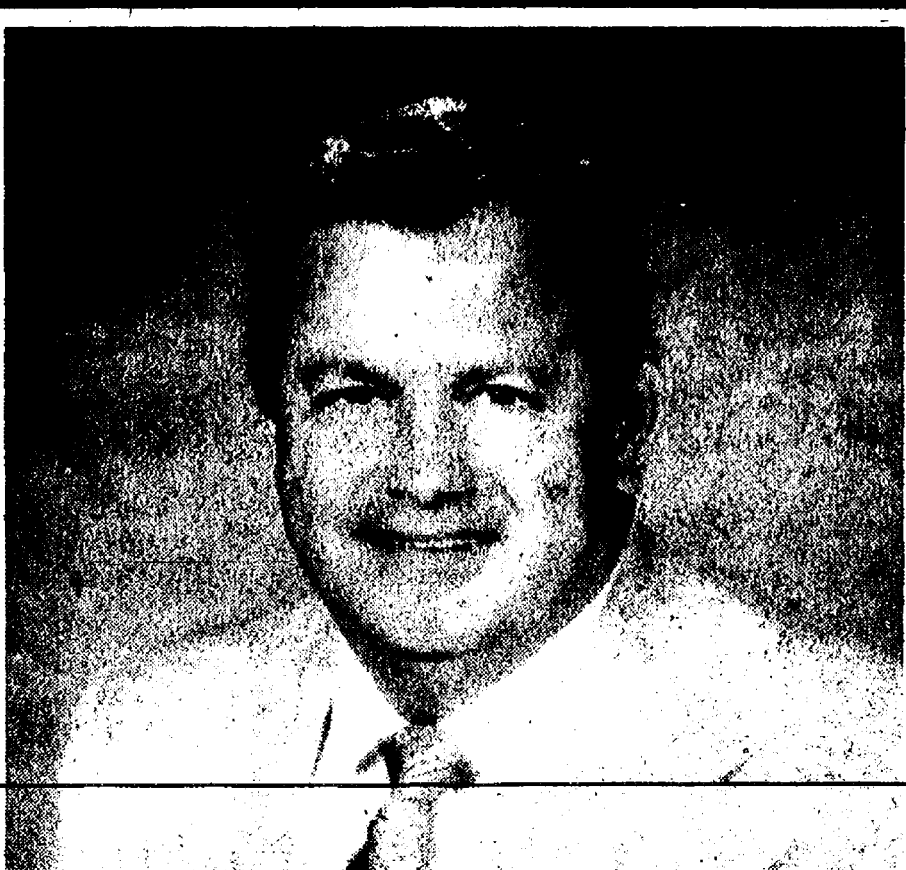

The Rev. Mark Weirauch will have the children's story. Other pastors taking part will be the Rev. Leland Booker, the Rev. Fr. Jerrold Beaumont, the Rev. Dr. Jerry Parker, the Rev. Ted Thodeson, and the Rev. Erwin Koch.

The Chancel Choir of St. Paul church will sing an anthem and members of the Women's Fellowship will serve coffee and cookies during the fellowship hour following the worship. Donations will be given to Faith in Action, Inc., the Chelsea-area community-service organization.

HAWKSBILL TURTLE, painted by Diana Hoopingartner of Chelsea, was published in Consumer Power Co.'s "Progress" magazine. It also placed in the top 30 in the Michigan Wildlife Art Contest sponsored by the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

HUGH ROBERTS

PALMER FORD-MERCURY

Is Proud To Announce the Appointment of
HUGH ROBERTS

As New Car Sales Manager

Hugh has been a resident of this area for 30 years and brings a wealth of excellence in both sales and management to the dealership. He and his lovely wife, Kathy, enjoy seven children and four grandchildren and are very active in the Stockbridge community.

Hugh believes that customer satisfaction is of primary importance in any new vehicle purchase. "Customer satisfaction has kept me in the car business for 25 years. The initial purchase is the beginning of a long-term relationship between dealer and customer. The reason I came to Palmer Ford-Mercury was their reputation for service before, during, and after the sale. And as sales manager, I promise to make your new and used vehicle purchases a most pleasant experience from beginning to end. I am looking forward to seeing my friends and old customers."

With Hugh's reputation for honesty and integrity, it is easy to see why Palmer Ford-Mercury is proud to have Hugh Roberts.

CHELSEA HOMES TOUR - Dec. 2

Sponsored By Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary

These are three of the eight homes on the tour. Others will follow in the coming weeks.

JOHN AND ANNA DUNN 6027 Tory Lane (1)

The freshly cut tree with handmade ornaments becomes the focal point for the Dunn's family Christmas. Wreaths, from greens brought from the Upper Peninsula, are traditionally handcrafted by Anna and her mother. The kitchen buzzes with activity and the air is filled with spicy scents during the holiday season, when the family gathers to bake and decorate cookies. The Duns cherish customs from childhood, borrow a few southwestern decorations and finally add their own personal touches to make their Christmases filled with joy.

MARV AND EILEEN SALYER 633 Flanders Street (5)

Family mementos and collectibles like the antique dolls and the Lionel train under the tree, evoke images of Christmases gone by and stir happy memories. Mrs. Salyer's collection of Royal Copenhagen Christmas plates are a permanent part of her kitchen decor. Throughout the house, there are many wonderful antiques in the grand tradition of yesteryear. At the heart of this beautiful and elegant home is a rich heritage of treasured traditions and family pride.

DALE AND NANCY SCHUMANN 760 Darwin Drive (6)

A gaily decorated Christmas tree in the magnificent living room window says "Merry Christmas" to all who approach the new home of Dale and Nancy Schumann. Holiday greenery adorns the stairway leading to the shimmering blue and silver tree in the upstairs hall. Amidst the traditional Christmas decor, a menorah and Chanukah lights in the dining room are a reminder of Nancy's heritage. The scent of Christmas spices celebrates the season and spreads the yuletide spirit throughout the house.

LEONARD RISNER took this 180-pound, 7-point buck from 50 yards in the Waterloo area at 7:55 a.m. last Thursday, Nov. 15, opening day. The animal weighed about 180 pounds. Risner has success every year.

ROBERT LONG of Chelsea shot this 8-point buck on private property west of Chelsea at about 10 a.m. on opening day last Thursday, Nov. 15. Long used a 12-gauge shotgun to bag the animal.

GARETT KERN of Chelsea shot this 7-point buck on the opening day of firearms season last Thursday at about 7:45 a.m. on the family farm on Fletcher Rd. He used a 12-gauge shotgun.

Matthew B. Koernke
Completes Navy
Avionics Course

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Matthew B. Koernke, son of William T. and Lavone M. Koernke of 10296 Jerusalem Rd., Chelsea, has completed the Advanced First Term Avionics (aviation electronics) course.

During the course, conducted at Naval Air Technical Training Center, Naval Air Station Memphis, Millington, Tenn., Koernke received instructions on airborne communications, fire control systems and anti-submarine warfare systems. In addition, he also studied mathematics, physics, electronic theory and the operating principles of digital and analog computers.

A 1989 graduate of Chelsea High school, he joined the Navy in August 1989.

WATERLOO RECREATION AREA was the former home of this eight-point buck taken by Wayne R. Weston last Thursday, Nov. 15, opening day. The animal weighed about 160 pounds.
