FAITH IN ACTION of Chelsea prepared holiday packages for 22 area families this holiday season thanks to the generosity of the community. In addition, about 75 holiday baskets will be distributed to area families. Families will receive turkeys, fresh fruit, canned goods, bread, eggs, as well as a poinsettia plant. The Senior/Faith in Action gift tree will provide Christmas gifts. From left are Nadine Shaneyfelt, 12-year-old volunteer, and Lucy Arnett and Helen Walz, Faith in Action volunteers.

Chelsea Civic Foundation Approves Three Grants

Civic Foundation of Chelsea had its final board meeting of the year last Wednesday. Bill Nuffer of the distribution committee presented the following grant proposals to the board which were subsequently approved.

A $1,000 grant to the Children's Group of the Chelsea Arbor Treatment center. Although the Children's Group is part of the Chelsea Arbor Treatment Center supported by the University of Michigan, funding for this program has a low priority with many needs unmet. Betsy Beckerman, co-ordinator for the Children's Group indicated that the money could be used to subsidize counseling and education for the children of substance abusers. If these children are reached early, it can reduce the risks of later substance abuse problems in themselves.

A $2,500 grant to the Solid Waste Committee of Chelsea. Frank Hammer, chairman of the Solid Waste Committee, presented an overview of the recycling program in Chelsea. A pending $350,000 grant application would be in jeopardy if the Village were to spend money to set up a storage facility or purchase a baler, collection containers or truck, all of which are needed for an effective program. Yet the grant money, if approved, would not be available until October, 1991. To keep the present recycling momentum going, there are alternatives to the Village outlaying funds at this time. Non-public monies can be used to establish the basics, i.e. building an addition to the present storage barn and leasing a baler. The grant from the Civic Foundation is to be used by the Solid Waste Committee for their barn remodeling.

A $1,500 grant to Chelsea schools to pay for special stage risers for the newly formed Washington Street Show Choir. This high school choir group will be performing for various community events. Start-up funds are being solicited, according to Clara Smith, since the school budget and music boosters budget have already been allocated.

Incoming Civic Foundation president David Swan remarked that "these three grants help demonstrate the diversity of unmet needs which the Civic Foundation helps to fill. It also gives us a concrete goal for fundraising during our annual membership drive." The board hopes that prospective donors to the Civic Foundation will be motivated by these new grants to contribute generously.

Treasurer Jeff Stommen again outlined the attractive tax benefits of giving to the Civic Foundation. Contributions to the Foundation are tax deductible as well as being eligible for a State of Michigan direct tax credit of 50%. "This means," said Stommen, "that a married couple in the 33% tax bracket making a $200 donation to the Civic Foundation would reduce their federal tax burden by $66 as well as receive a $100 tax credit from the State of Michigan. That means that a $200 donation really means an out of pocket expense of only $34!"

In other Foundation business outgoing president Will Johnson thanked retiring board members Ann Feeney, Bill Nuffer, and Dennis Doan for their generous service to the Foundation Board over the years. New faces on the board next year will include Pat Murphy, Mark Baily, Mark Staphish, Marilyn Guenther, and Dr. Tony Sensoli. The slate of officers for 1991 includes Dr. David Swan, president; Randy Musbach, vice-president; Jeff Stommen, treasurer; and Darla Bohlander, secretary. A date of Jan. 31 was set for the annual meeting of the Foundation which is open to the general membership.

Quick Printing Store To Open In Downtown

Dave Prohaska of Chelsea plans to open a new quick printing business downtown sometime in late winter or early spring.

Prohaska, who had asked for a variance in order to open the store in the Chelsea Lanes complex, has changed locations and now plans to use the current Secretary of State building at the corner of Main and W. Middle Sts.

When his business opens it depends in large part on when the Secretary of State office moves to Village Plaza.

In a related item, Village Plaza developer Mike Kennedy said last week he does not yet have a signed lease agreement with the Secretary of State, but doesn't anticipate any problems.

"I'm waiting for them to send me some plans," Kennedy said.

Council Changes Location For New DPW Building, May Include Village Hall

In an apparent reaction to complaints by parents, the village has decided not to construct its new public works building next to the wastewater treatment plant off McKinley St.

Village trustees Dennis Hall and Jack Myers said they had received telephone calls from residents with young children concerned about heavy equipment moving in and out on a regular basis near North Elementary school.

"I used to think it was a good idea, but I don't have children in the area and I can see their point," said trustee Joe Merkel.

Merkel also said he had "brainstormed" an idea in which the village would construct the building at the industrial park along with a new village hall. He also suggested the Chelsea Police Department could then expand in the current office building, plus there could be a drop-off area for utility bills. He said the village could sell off the two lots on Park St. it was reserving for a new office building.

Although no vote was taken, council seemed to agree the public works building should be moved away from the North school area, probably to the industrial park. The village owns no other property suitable for the complex, estimated to be 12,000 square feet.

There was not much discussion about Merkel's suggestion to build the new village hall at the park, although no one disagreed publicly with the idea.

Village manager Robert Stalker said preliminary estimates are a new steel public works building will cost about $250,000. The building will put all village utilities and storage in one building.

Stalker said the likely source of funds for the project would be the village's electrical fund.

It is unknown how much a new village office building would cost. However, the cost per square foot would be substantially higher than for the garage. There would be more walls, carpeting, and other items to raise the cost.

No matter what is built, Merkel said there are contractors in Chelsea who can handle the job and "I'd like to keep the money as close to Chelsea as we can," he said.

However, some council members seemed to favor a design-build package by one contractor.

One likely spot for the building at the park is on Sibley Rd. in front of the

Council said it would take some time to study the problem since construction on a new building probably couldn't begin before spring no matter what was decided.

The village was forced to build a new public works building after leaking underground gasoline storage tanks polluted dirt around and under the current building on North St. It was decided any attempt to clean up the contamination and save the building was too risky and might end up costing more than to demolish the building and clean up the site.

Stalker said the Department of Natural Resources wants the village to demolish the building as soon as possible.

C.I.I. Employees Defeat Unionization

Hourly workers at Chelsea Industries, Inc. narrowly defeated an attempt at unionization by the United Auto Workers in a vote taken Thursday at the company.

The vote was 62-58, confirmed by the National Labor Relations Board. Several ballots were challenged by both sides, which means virtually all of the company's 130 hourly employees cast their ballots.

What was hoped by some workers would be a victory celebration at UAW Local 437 Hall Thursday evening turned into a discussion of what the union might do next.

A union representative said charges would be filed against the company in relation to the tactics used by the company during its campaign to defeat the union.

"The workers did it to themselves," said one frustrated employee involved in the attempt to organize.

"We're back at square one."

Company owner Jack Dunn wrote in a press release, "Now it is time to close ranks and resolve the differences that have created this disruptive period. We need to join together and commit to a common goal of surviving in an industry hard hit by the current economic downturn. To do that we have to immediately begin making the internal adjustments and improvements that are necessary and to work together to insure our future as a world class supplier of formed wire components to the automotive industry."

Village Hires Specialist To Sell Industrial Park

Village of Chelsea has hired a specialist in commercial and industrial real estate from Brighton to market the village's industrial park on Sibley Rd.

Village council agreed to a one-year listing with Michael C. Scholtz, Inc. at their regular meeting last Tuesday night.

Chelsea realtor Mark McKernan had the most recent listing on the property. However, his listing expired. McKernan received the commissions on the sale of six lots to Hatch Stamp- ing Co.

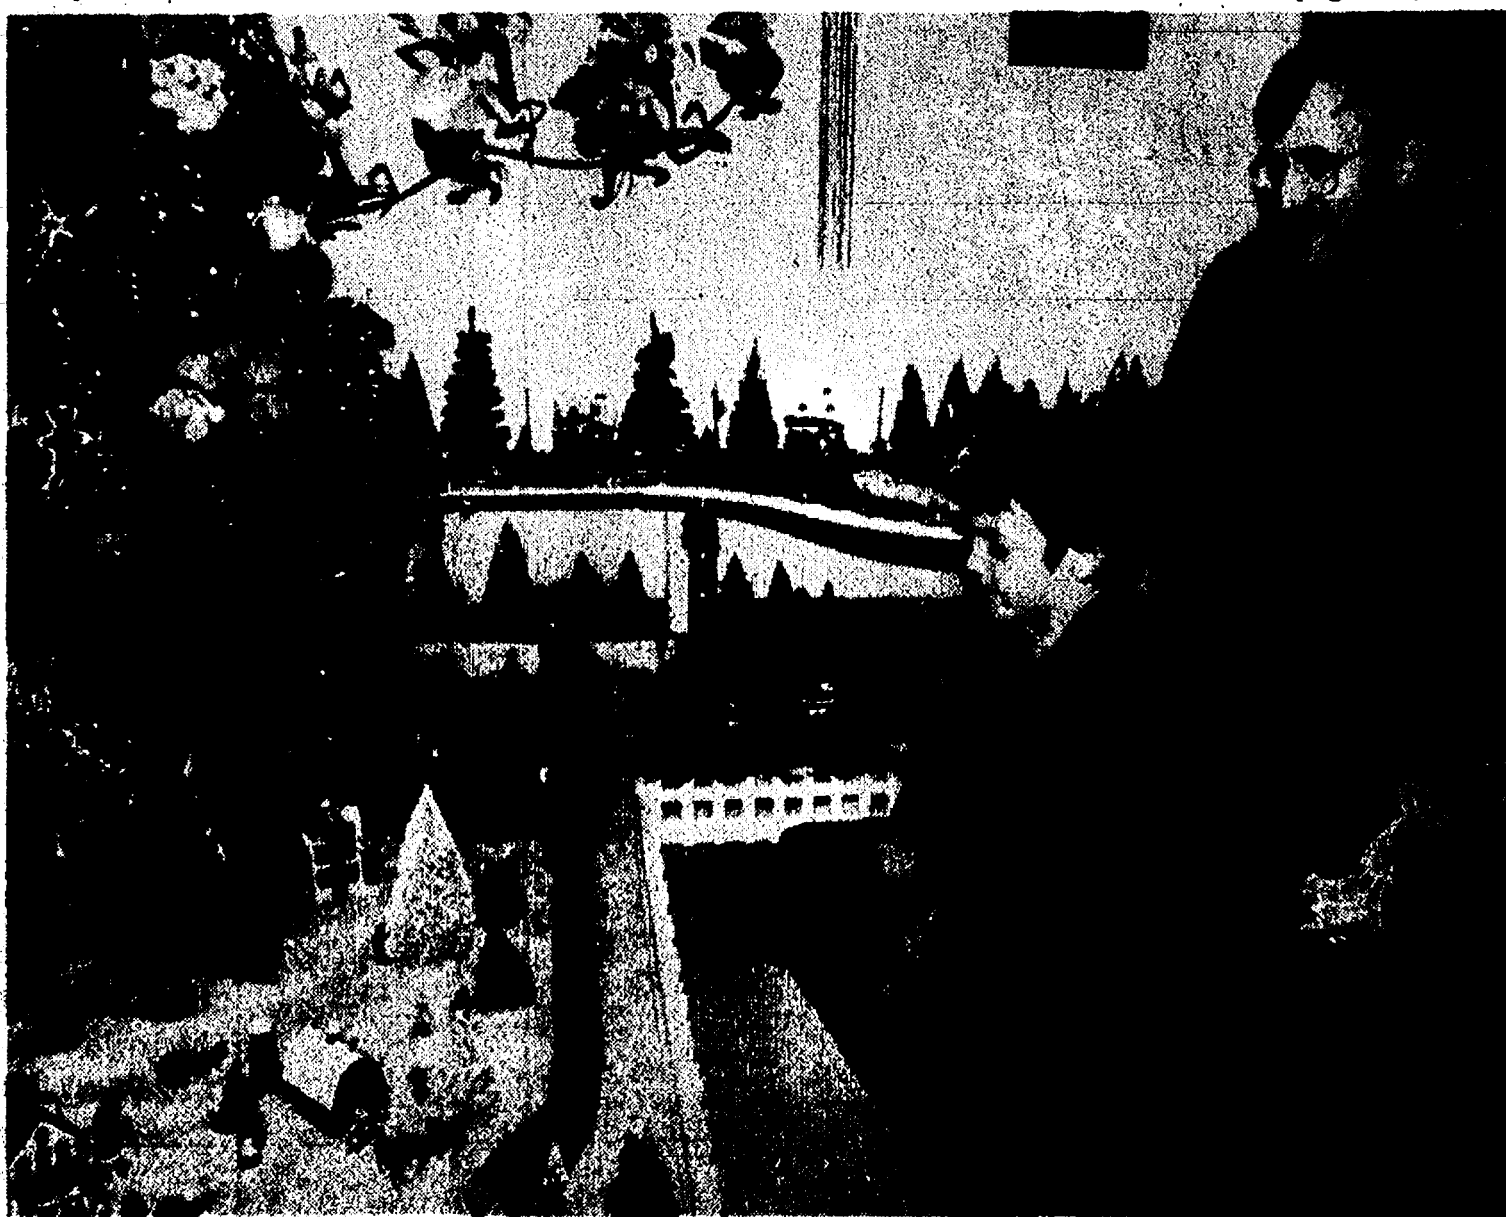

Scholtz, who several village officials noted bears a strong resemblance to late village manager Fritz Weber, gave his sales pitch last Tuesday.

Scholtz agreed to sell the property for a standard 10 percent commission on vacant land. He also agreed to bear the cost of all advertising and marketing materials. He indicated he plans to create brochures, take aerial photographs, and have custom signs made for the property. In addition, he said he regularly attends state and na-

FRIENDS Jenna Hall, left, and Aaron Gillikin, decided to gang up on Santa Claus last Saturday at the VFW Hall. Aaron, 9, a North school student, told Santa he wants a hovercraft for Christmas. Jenna, perhaps following in the footsteps of her father, Dennis, a village trustee, declined to comment. Jenna, 10, is also a North school student.

CHELSEA AREA RESIDENT Gary Klatka and his son, Zachary, admire the family's Christmas village, set up around a Christmas tree in the basement of their home. Gary has been collecting items for the village for nearly 30 years, a tradition started by his uncle. The village includes two trains with a tunnel, numerous houses, trees, churches and other structures, figures of people skiing, ice fishing, playing hockey, walking in the park, riding in sleighs and about any other winter outdoor activity you can think of. There's also a police station (Gary is an Ann Arbor policeman). The scene takes several days to set up, although Gary says he now has the assembly down to a science. In the center of the village is a large manger scene.

Chelsea School District once again scored well in Michigan Educational Assessment Tests taken annually by fourth, seventh and 10th graders, according to a report by Gus Carter, district testing co-ordinator and Chelsea High school co-ordinator.

The Chelsea Depot of the Michigan Central Railroad, built in 1881 is now listed in the State Register of Historic Places.

Six men walked away from Cassidy Lake Technical School, three on Christmas Eve and the other three on Christmas day.

A Detroit woman was apprehended by Chelsea police on a warrant arrest after she was caught talking to Cassidy Lake Technical School inmates under suspicious circumstances. Chelsea police reports said that the 20-year-old woman was talking to a couple of unidentified prisoners from her van on Waterloo Rd. when she was seen by camp police.

While Chelsea matmen failed to win their own tournament they did show they could wrestle with top-rated competition. Final standings in the eight-team invitational were, Huron, 117; Lake Fenton, 108; Tecumseh, 97; Belleville, 86; Chelsea, 83; Howell, 84; Southgate Aquinas, 51; and Albion, 28.

Dedicated Chelsea Social Services workers were highly appreciative of the special Christmas box delivery assistance they received from the CATS shuttle bus. Marvin Schiller, CATS bus driver, delivered some 25 holiday packages to needy households in the area.

Chelsea High debaters closed their season of league competition by collecting 15 trophies and placing in the top ranks of league standings in all three debate divisions.

Continuing their 20-year tradition, Chelsea Social Services began distribution of Christmas boxes to 50 needy households in the area.

A fire in debris at the site of house removal at the corner of Orchard and S. Main street, but no fire had apparently been set, but no one had been apprehended, according to Chelsea Volunteer Fire Department Chief James Gaken. The Village Council had denied a request from Paul Higgins for a burning permit at the house removal site. Higgins, operator of the House of Orient beauty salon, when contacted said, "Somebody did a good thing. It was supposed to have been burned and somebody must have seen the problem and started it."

A friendly red-and-white teddy bear sat in a doll's chair high on a shelf. A baseball glove was tucked between a voodoo game and a bunny rabbit on a table. Several dolls slept soundly in their cribs, while others danced on the table tops. Boxes full of food were topped with freshly baked Christmas cookies and hand-made dolls. That was part of the scene at the Sylvan Town Hall just before 30 boxes of food and hundred of toys were distributed by Chelsea Social Service. A large part of the community had in some way contributed to the collection of goods and goodies for the needy families of Chelsea.

Chelsea Junior High students wouldn't move into their new building on Freer Rd. for about a year, but some local citizens were already thinking about what may happen to

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Thoughts on Christmas Eve

By Philip C. Clarke

On this eve of Christmas, far from home but near a place they call the Holy Land, many thousands of American soldiers stand guard so that there again may be "peace on Earth and goodwill to men." To our soldiers in the Gulf, as to others who protect our God-given freedoms around the world, go our prayers and our thanksgiving. May their mission be successful and their homecoming be safe and soon.

Surely the star that guided the wise men to the birthplace of the one we know as the Prince of Peace will shine over them in that desert land. It is not too distant from the Sacred Place where it all began nearly two millennia ago. And though mankind has experienced countless wars and acts of barbarism through the centuries since, spiritual faith, like Christmas itself, has endured.

Thus, on this Christmas, what doubters thought never again would happen is happening. In the Ukraine and elsewhere in Russia, children lead processions of carolers through snow-covered streets. They carry aloft a colored star, the Star of Bethlehem. And throughout what once was tyranny's domain, places of worship are again alive with light and the ancient songs of season and devotion.

The struggle for freedom of religion, and for the other liberties we Americans have long known—and often taken for granted—is not yet over in many places on Earth.

There are those who say that the walls of oppression began to crumble when tyrants no longer could frighten or intimidate the defenders of freedom. As George Gilder, the respected author and philosopher, has said, "The message received by Gorbachev and his generals . . . was the recognition that a totalitarian government, no matter how many scientists, engineers and mathematicians it produces, and no matter how many five-year plans it devises, cannot keep pace with the fruits of freedom in an open society."

Perhaps Ronald Reagan said it best when, in the latter years of his presidency, he addressed students at Moscow State University. "Even as we explore the most advanced reaches of science," said Reagan, "we're returning to the age-old wisdom of our culture. As Genesis affirms, in the beginning was the spirit, and it was from this spirit that the material abundance of creation issued forth."

This spirit is also the spirit of Christmas. It is a spirit that lights even the darkness of deserts and gives new hope and courage to our fellow Americans who, in the vernacular of the times, stand "in harm's way." Speaking of a Christmas past, it was the late, great essayist, E. B. White, who penned these memorable lines:

"This week many will be reminded that
No explosion of atoms generates so hopeful
A light as the reflection of a star
Seen appreciatively on a pasture pond.
It is there we perceive Christmas—and the Sheep quiet and the world waiting."
May your Christmas be ever thus.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers were glad to get out of the house and in the calm around the stove in the back of the country store Saturday night. Most of em were in a meller mood. Sweetness and light and the brotherhood of man was so thick in the air till Ed Doolittle and Clem Webster held a quick summit and agreed to put a hold on political discussion until the new Congress sets.

Bug Hookum said he was reminded of the child that said he didn't like Be Kind to Animals Week because we ought to be kind to em ever week. He was of a mind that we can learn from that child any time of year and especial at this time. Farthermore, Bug went on, it's good that Christmas comes soon after elections so we can cool some of the ill will that runs hot-test when politics git in the short rows.

General speaking, Bug went on, what this country needs is another Will Rogers. Will once said he didn't belong to a organized political party, he was a Democrat, and he even got the Democrats to laugh at that one. Mark Russell comes clost, Bug said, but to much of his stuff is to high over the heads of to many of us. Will put the hay down where even the goats could git at it, was Bug's words.

Thinking of how most folks, especial wimmen, have been running around lately like chickens with their heads cut off, Ed said if ain't no wonder scrambling up the social ladder is called a rat race. After you catch a rat, what have you got, was Ed's question. In homes where there ain't but one parent, that one is working two shifts and still falling behind on the payments. When both parents are in the home, mama is working day shift, daddy is working night shift, and in all cases the children are shifting fer themselves. Nobody in the family has got the same friends, and they don't hardly know one another because they're never home at the same time or do the same things at the same time, was Ed's lament.

Clem said fer onct he was full agreed with Ed, but he noted that the military push in the Middle East has put parents and homes in a new light. The papers have been full of pictures of mama going off to war and daddy and the kids kissing her goodbye and keeping the home fires burning. Clem said the military comes a heap closer to balancing the men and wimmen scale than the rest of the country.

Clem had saw a study that shows married men are paid 30 percent more than single men doing the same jobs, fer the reason they're seen as more dependable. On the other hand, single wimmen are paid more than married wimmen fer the same reason.

Zeke Grubb said he would stand up and be counted as a male sexist pig, because he can't git away from the idee that a mama's place is in the home. He said his church has started a day care fer working mamas, and he was by the church early last week to help git ready fer a Christmas program.

A little feller that must of been three years old was setting on the floor sniffing and wiping his eyes with his shirt sleeve. He had fell and skinned his knee. His teacher had cleaned the place and put on a Bandaid, but all in the world the boy wanted was his mama to kiss it and make it well. Zeke said he didn't know, but it was a good bet mama was working in some office to make money so her little boy would git that latest Ningy Turtle toy he had saw on television.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Wednesday, Dec. 27, 1956—
The Washtenaw Sheriff's department mounted pose swung into action Friday night and Saturday in an attempt to apprehend a man who fled from the scene of an attempted burglary at the Chelsea Implement Company. Four outboard motors and a chain-saw were found on the north side of the building. They had apparently been moved to a point from which the intruder planned to load them into his car.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bycraft had the distinction of being the parents of the first baby born on Christmas Day, 1956, in Washtenaw county. Their baby, a daughter, was born at 12:38 a.m. at St. Joseph Mercy hospital. They named the new baby Diane Barbara.

The appointment of Mrs. M. S. DeWeese of Ann Arbor, as county chairman of the Red Cross Blood Program, was announced by Lawrence Outmet, chapter chairman. Chelsea firemen were called to the Edwin Ledwidge place when a small barn was destroyed by fire.

Students Ask Council To Support Construction of Area Bike Path

Student representatives of the Enrichment Triad Program at North and South Elementary schools made their pitch to village council last Tuesday for the construction of a bike path throughout various areas in the village.

Students Kyle Christensen and Adam Morse, representing the group of 10 and 11-year-old fifth graders who call themselves "Pathfinders," asked council to consider supporting the project financially. Their informal slogan seemed to be "healthy entertainment and safe transportation that is fun."

The youngsters used an overhead projector as well as other hand-made visual aids to describe their project. The bike path represents the first year of what the Triad program calls "community problem solving." The idea is for the youngsters, as a group, to tackle a project or solve a problem that would benefit the community.

Christensen and Morse described a project which would initially be carried out in the village but could later expand to link Chelsea with Manchester, Dexter, Stockbridge or Cavanaugh Lake. The students want to construct an asphalt path that would link various areas in the community. Primary points of interest would be all schools, Chelsea Community Hospital, Vet's Park, Pierce Park, the shopping centers, downtown, and the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home. The path, which would also be designed to be used by walkers, joggers, and roller skaters, people in wheelchairs, and anyone else who wants to go outside and move around, would also run along Letts Creek and other scenic areas.

The students also talked of constructing a walkway over Old US-12. Council was told the goal of the group was to make Chelsea the "bike capital of Michigan," a scaled-down goal from "the bike capital of the world." The boys said they'd like to see bike shops, a helmet manufacturer, and other related facilities here.

The youngsters learned quickly about one of the primary concerns of village government when trustee Dennis Hall asked, "how much money do you need?" Triad director Ruth Stielstra told council that grant money may be available through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. She said volunteers with experience in grant-writing are handling that part of the project. She said experience in other neighborhoods has shown that 85 percent of the cost of a bike path is in on-going maintenance. The goal of the students is to have the problem solved by the end of the school year, Stielstra said.

Parenting Workshop Series Offered By Extension Service

In a recent nation-wide poll young people were asked to choose from a list of things that would make their home life better, leading the list were: Talking openly with parents and getting along better with brothers and sisters.

A group workshop for parents, youth, leaders, teachers, and others known as: "How To Talk So Kids Will Listen" is based on the critically acclaimed book "How To Talk So Kids Will Listen and Listen So Kids Will Talk."

This workshop has been used successfully with over 15,000 groups across the nation—in schools, homes, churches and industry to open lines of communication with and between children.

Parents are on the firing line every day, confronted by problems. And yet if you're like most parents, you have had little or no preparation for the job you do. It seems somehow that the arrival of a child is automatically supposed to confer instant wisdom upon a mother and father. Every other occupation, from driving a truck to performing surgery requires months or years of intensive training.

Only for the job of parenting is there the unspoken expectation that love, instinct, and common sense will be enough. Sometimes it is. More often, the most well-intentioned parents find themselves frustrated, angry, bewildered, guilty and alone. Like members of any other professional group, you and your fellow parents should have the opportunity to get together to share your common problems and receive continuing training in the skills needed to do your jobs better.

In each workshop session, you will be introduced to proven skills that will help you to teach your child to understand, identify and communicate his or her feelings; to engage your child's willing co-operation; to discipline without hurting or alienating; to help your child develop a positive and realistic self image; to foster a family atmosphere of love and respect.

Goal of the workshop series is to help you and other members of the group communicate more effectively with children.

Group members will be provided materials and workbooks. As each new skill is presented people will have a chance to discuss their reactions with each other and to consolidate their learning through workbook exercises.

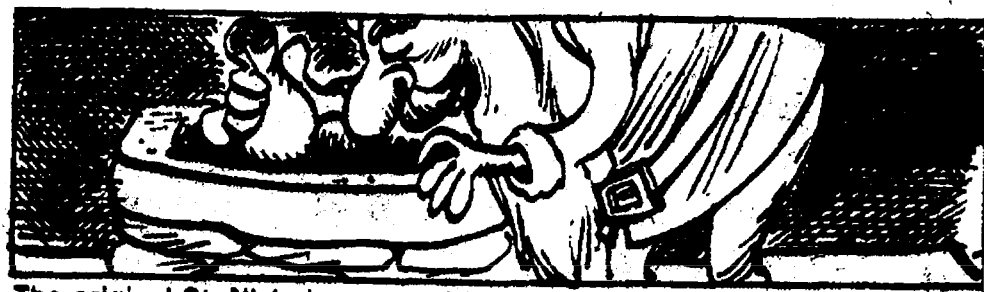

At no point is anyone urged to divulge anything personal. The format provides a warm relaxed and enjoyable way for all members of the group to learn and practice valuable communication skills.

Sessions will be held on Tuesday evenings on the following dates in the conference room of Personalized Nursing Service/Ann Arbor Hospice, Suite #150, 3800 Packard St., Ann Arbor: Jan 15-22-29, and Feb. 5-12-26. All sessions will begin at 7 p.m. and end approximately at 9 p.m.

The cost for the entire workshop is $15 per individual. For further information and a registration form call the Co-operative Extension Service at 971-0079. Registration deadline is Dec. 14.

The workshop is limited to 15 participants.

The original St. Nicholas was a 4th century Turkish bishop. According to legend he dropped a bag of gold coins down a chimney into a stocking a poor girl had hung up by the fireplace to dry.

QUOTES

Not what we give but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare.

—James Russell Lowell

In spite of all the efforts made to commercialize it, the Spirit of Christmas still shines undimmed. Even for non-Christians, this season provides a once-a-year opportunity to be guided by our better natures, to do nice things for others, to evidence Good Will to all.

It is important that we bestow our gifts in the best Spirit of Christmas . . . because we WANT to make someone happy. When we include a little of ourselves with every gift, we make ourselves happier, too.

Cole-Burghardt Funeral Chapel wishes everyone the very Merriest of Christmases!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Regarding the publication of 'Santa Claus, the Usurper' and Lavone Koerike's letter commenting on it, I would like to say this. You are both entitled to your opinions and beliefs without being judged by we other mortals and all I ask is that you treat my beliefs with the same respect.

You say that because I allow my children to believe in Santa Claus that I am a liar and un-Christian. I am neither and do feel some resentment for being called such.

We each have a right to celebrate the birth of Christ in the manner we choose. I have chosen to include Santa Claus because he represents, to me, a person who loves all children regardless of race, creed or circumstance. He is an example that my young children can relate to, he represents caring and sharing. He does not replace the Lord but is rather someone who tries to follow the teachings of the Lord, to love with no strings attached, without judgment.

In our home Santa gives gifts to celebrate Christ's birth and we in turn give gifts for the same reason.

Let's celebrate this religious holiday with understanding and acceptance of all peoples, cultures and beliefs.

Martha Clegio.

To the Editor,

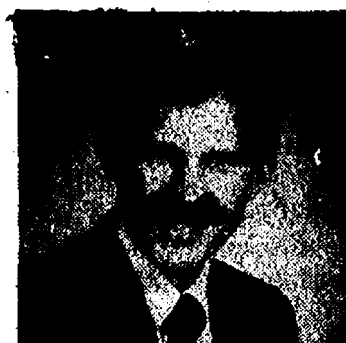

South Elementary third graders would like to thank the Chelsea Area Historical Society in assisting our most recent field trip.

Nearly 100 third graders from South Elementary school participated in a tour of the Chelsea Depot. The walking trip included various sites the children have been learning about in their Chelsea History unit, such as the George Glazier House, the street that was named after Elisha Congdon, the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, the site of the old sand hill, and the depot.

Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Hepburn shared some old-time stories of the depot and even allowed us to ring the loud bell from an old steam engine! The children enjoyed having their questions about the depot answered by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Hepburn, and are very excited to get busy in their "Chelsea Stories" coloring book they received from the depot.

Thank-you! Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. Doolittle, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Heydlauff and South School's third graders.

An executive order issued on March 31, 1840 by President Van Buren established a 10-hour day for federal employees on public works without a reduction in pay according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

STICKY'S CAROL

Greetings to the trees before us...

2. Searching through the teeming cities
Lost and frightened by the noise
The little angel sent from heaven
Flew away without its prize
Flew away without its prize
3. Betrayed by a Fabled Fauna
Of Direct-Me-Male by name
Took the angel sent from heaven
To a wizard down the lane
To a wizard down the lane
4. Wizard knew a tree was destined
Every year near Christmas Time
He took the faunas and the angel
Showed them Sticky in his prime
Showed them Sticky in his prime
5. But how to get their friends to heaven
For a happy Christmas Day,
Nasty belloved and the Good Winds
Blow them there that very day
They blow them there that very day
6. Oh, Sticky was that tree for heaven
Angel topped him off so grand
Soon they heard an earthly message
From the Wizard and their friends
From the Wizard and their friends
7. PEACE IN HEAVEN came the message
Shout GOOD WILL TO EVERYTHING
For in the will of all creation
EVERYTHING IS EVERYTHING
EVERYTHING IS EVERYTHING
8. All within a quite not now
On this Christmas Day we sing

SANTA CLAUS, THE USURPER

How Long Will People Dodge the Issue by Saying this Legend is a Harmless Tradition?

Who is this person whose jovial face greets us everywhere in our Christmas festivities, shops, schools, Sunday schools, and cards?

This is Santa Claus, the god of Christmas, the children's friend, who is so imbedded in our hearts that we still thrill to:

"'Twas the night before Christmas . . .

A charming legend, an innocent fantasy? But whose place has he taken in children's hearts?

If we strip him of his disguise we find a masterpiece of Satan's subtlety, for the harmless, fun-provoking Santa Claus has usurped the throne of childhood's heart and the charming legend has replaced "the sweetest story ever told."

This is the legend in brief that we recite and sing and picture to our children:

Away up in the ice and snow lives Santa Claus in a great house of many rooms filled with every delightful thing that children love. Santa Claus is all-seeing and all-knowing. He sees what the children do. He hears all they say. He keeps a "Book of Remembrance" in which he records their words and their actions.

Santa Claus comes down from the sky in a sleigh drawn by swift reindeer that "fly upon the wings of the wind and ride upon the clouds." It is filled with wonderful gifts. His coming is secret. When he comes he brings rewards to all good children and the gifts they have asked for.

What is the children's reaction to such a legend? "Santa Claus is our friend; he has all the good things we want, and he will give them to us if we are good."

Is it any wonder they open their hearts to Santa Claus, strive to please him, talk and dream about him, and wait and watch eagerly for him?

What about Jesus? he said, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me," but we have put before our children that awful thing against which Sinai thundered; we have put another god before Him!

We have opened our homes to a thief, and have stood by and offered no resistance while he stole the heart of childhood. We have raised no voice in protest as he corrupted the minds and hearts of our children with a false image and a living imagination.

Why have we not lifted the standard of Jesus, the true God and tender Friend of children, who is not willing that "one of these little ones should perish?" Why have we not feared lest we should "offend one of these little ones which believe" on Him?

The True Story

Christian mother, what has happened? You substitute the pagan legend of Santa Claus for the true story of God's love! How can you let Santa Claus take the place of Jesus in your child's heart? How can you encourage him to look to another for his joys rather than to Jesus, "the Giver of every good and perfect gift?"

The clouds of judgment hang heavy. Terrible things are happening. Let us hasten to enlighten Jesus in our homes and tell the matchless story of God's "Unfathomable Gift" to the world.

Instead of the vulgar Santa Claus, with his "nose like a cherry, and his little round belly that shakes . . . like a bowl full of jelly," let us captivate our children's imagination with the "altogether lovely" One, the "dear little Stranger, born in a manger." Let us delight their fancy with the story of the guiding star, with the Magi and their gifts for the new-born King. Let us inspire our children to give gifts to Him and in His name. Let us make Christmas "holy ground" in our homes this year.

"Whose Birthday Is It, Anyway?"

In the land of Puzzling Tales there lived an eight-year-old boy by the name of Jason. Now in this land and in the neighborhood where Jason lived, the unexpected always happened. Instead of football they played kneeball; instead of the children "going to school" the teachers were busy "going to homes".

NOEL

In the summer time it was not uncommon to see water and in the winter time leaves grew on trees. It was a funny, strange place.

One incident in the land of Puzzling Tales stands out. When it was time for Jason's ninth birthday, as usual, the unusual happened. Jason's grandparents came from their home across the state to help celebrate, but of course when they got to Jason's neighborhood they went immediately to the Brown's down the street and visited and stayed there. When Jason's mother baked the birthday cake she gave it to the letter carrier to eat. And when all the neighborhood kids heard it was Jason's birthday they exchanged gifts with one another and, of course, Jason got none. There was a blizzard of birthday cards. Of course, in the land of Puzzling Tales the expected was the unexpected and all the kids, the moms and dads, grandparents, even a couple of dogs and a parakeet got cards, while poor Jason got none.

Finally, in a fit of frustration and anger, Jason went out of his house, borrowed the school cheerleaders' megaphone, rode up and down the street on his unicycle and shouted at the top of his lungs, "WHOSE BIRTHDAY IS IT, ANYWAY?" And the night was so silent that all night long echoes bounced off the mountain sides. "Whose birthday is it, anyway?" "Whose birthday is it, anyway?"

The baby Jesus will be kidnapped again this year and held ransom for millions of dollars. This year Americans will surrender more than thirty billion dollars to stores to buy gifts to swap. But it is Jesus' birthday! Jesus ought to receive the gifts. Jesus said, "Inasmuch as you have done it to the least of these my brethren, you have done it to me."

We give to Jesus when we give to the poor, the weak, the hungry, the homeless, the refugees, the prisoners.

It will be a great birthday celebration when God's people begin in earnest to give once again to Jesus. For after all, it is His birthday, isn't it?

Rules Changed For Merchants At Chelsea Fair

Merchants exhibiting items at the Chelsea Community Fair will have to wait until Sunday of fair week to remove any items from the premises.

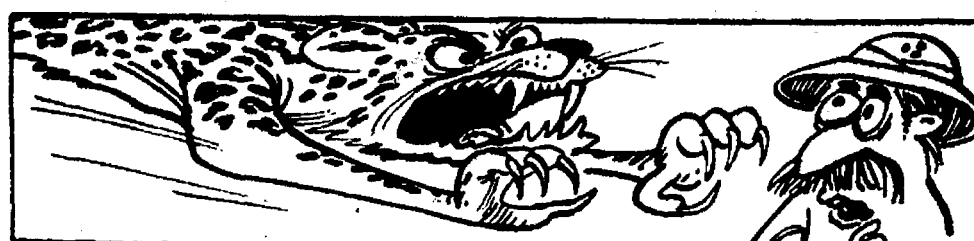

Chelsea Fair Board made the change at their Dec. 20 meeting. Members felt there is too much congestion on Saturday and safety is a factor.

Each fairground building will have a sign stating a little about its history, including when it was built and who built it.

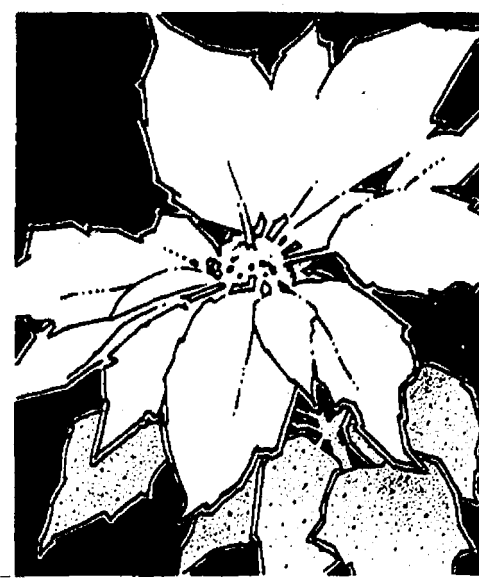

The board also discussed replacing some bleachers this year.

Holiday Travelers Ignore Price Hikes

An uncertain economy and higher fuel costs aren't keeping many state residents home to sip eggnog and munch cookies this holiday season.

AAA Michigan reports motorists are shrugging their shoulders over higher gas prices, up about 32 cents a gallon over the same period last year. For example, the 300-mile round trip between Grand Rapids and Traverse City that cost $13.93 in gasoline last year for an auto averaging 23 miles per gallon now costs $18, up $4.07.

Round trip gas costs between Detroit and Chicago, a 568-mile journey, ran motorists $28.37 last year, compared to $34.08 this holiday season, an increase of $7.71.

"We find that motorists do not change plans for a few dollars," said Peter Erickson, head of AAA Michigan's Touring department, which prepares TripTiks and routings.

Diane Willard, AAA Travel Agency vice-president, agrees.

"While we aren't seeing the three to five percent growth in travel we typically see during a holiday, there isn't a decrease either," Willard said. "About the same number of people are expected to get away during the holidays as last year, despite average increases in airline ticket costs ranging between 5 and 15 percent over the last year."

Careful shoppers can still find good airline bargains for winter travel, Willard added, noting that several recent fare promotions offered by carriers to spur travel have increased business to some destinations.

"Florida, Arizona and California continue to lure thousands of Michigan air travelers this holiday," she said.

Nationally, 23 million travelers are expected to fly between Wednesday, Dec. 19, through Friday, Jan. 4.

Congress Barks Up The Right Tree With Forestry Programs

Forestry producers got some special attention for the first time in federal farm legislation when the 1990 farm bill set up a package of programs to help forest land owners manage their wood resources, according to Michigan Farm Bureau public affairs director Al Almy. He said the farm bill contains a five-year plan that emphasizes multiple use of forest lands.

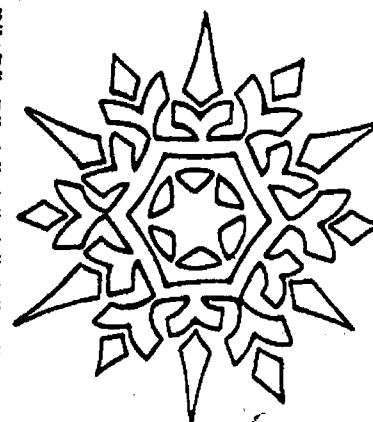

"Much of these programs focus on private land owners since they control the bulk of our nation's forests," Almy said. "Most federal programs have concentrated on wood products, but now there is a broader, multiple use orientation."

Almy said the objective of the provisions is to ensure long term production of lumber as well as the environmental benefits of healthy forests. He said the U. S. Department of Agriculture is also authorized to spend $30 million a year for an urban forestry program on education, research and tree planting in urban areas.

Farmers Say 'Da' to More Soviet Trade

Extension of agricultural export credits to the Soviet Union was overdue, but better late than never, according to Kevin Kirk, commodity specialist for the Michigan Farm Bureau. Kirk said the decision could break the trade logjam with the Soviets, and sales could actually exceed the credit guarantees now that some trade obstacles have been removed.

"But there is also the possibility that the export credits don't go far enough," Kirk said. "The Soviets will not take as many feedgrains, soybeans and soybean meal as earlier anticipated. In addition, this agreement will definitely have an impact on the livestock market because it does not look like we'll be able to send over any beef or pork."

Kirk said Farm Bureau is hoping now for a permanent waiver of the Jackson-Vanik amendment that prohibited favorable trade conditions until the Soviets changed their emigration policies.

THIS IS MOST OF THE KISTKA FAMILY'S Christmas village as shown on the front page. The village features a festive winter atmosphere complete with trains, buildings, trees, vehicles, people, and animals.

Figures come from sources as diverse as catalogs and bakeries. Christmas tree lights illuminate the small ceramic and plastic buildings. On the left is a ski slope, complete with ski lift.

Village Hires Consultant To Market Park

Schoitz also said he is forming a new real estate company with an industrial builder called UNITEC. The partnership would create a company that can not only broker real estate, but develop it as well. UNITEC is building the new Hatch Stamping Co. facility.

Schoitz told council that he believes he can market the park to high tech companies looking to locate in the Midwest. He said labor here is skilled and is willing to work for a "reasonable" wage. He said he's confident he can sell it at the village's asking price of $22,500 per acre.

The village will receive a regular report on marketing activities, Schoitz said. He told council that if the village is dissatisfied with his service after the first three months he will relinquish the listing and absorb all expenses he has incurred.

The park has four tenants: Hatch Stamping, C&D Laundry, BookCrafters, Inc., and Roberts Body Shop.

Council Adopts Fire Contract For Townships

Chelsea Village Council adopted a new three-year fire protection contract for the surrounding townships.

The new contract slashes total contributions to the Chelsea Fire Department truck fund from $80,000 to $45,000. Individual contributions to the fund will be based on each township's percent of operating costs for the previous year.

In the previous contract, the share was the average share over the last 22 years.

Operating costs are determined by the number of firefighter hours spent in each township.

Village Adopts Street Ordinance

Chelsea Village Council passed a new street ordinance at last Tuesday's regular meeting.

The ordinance was designed to deal with a number of situations that have occurred over the last several years with new developments. The village is primarily concerned with adequate access for emergency vehicles, as well as other services such as snow plowing.

The ordinance makes no distinction between public and private roads. All roads will be required to adhere to the same construction standards and general procedures, which means roads will be required to have curb and gutter, be paved, and meet size and utility requirements.

Street construction was a major issue for both Belser Estates and Bridgetown Condominiums.

However, the ordinance also has a provision that will allow variances from any part of the ordinance to be granted, based on hardship or practical difficulty, which are the bases of most variances from the zoning ordinance. That provision was included to deal with instances in which two or three homes might be built off a street and be just as well served by a driveway. Street construction can be prohibitively expensive for a small project.

In 1827 the Mechanics' Union of Trade Associations, made up of unions of skilled craftsmen in different trades, was formed in Philadelphia, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a U.S. Labor Department publication. It was the first central type of organization on record in American history.

Dr. Charles Ellis Named Associate Chair By U-M

Charles N. Ellis, M.D., has been named professor and associate chairman of the Department of Dermatology at the University of Michigan Medical Center. Ellis, 37, is the first associate chairman in the department's 100-year history.

CHARLES N. ELLIS, M.D.

Ellis, who resides in Ann Arbor, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon M. Ellis, formerly of Hillsdale and now of Ann Arbor. Ellis maintains a University-based practice of dermatology at University and Chelsea Community Hospitals. His twin brother, James, is associate professor and director of abdominal radiology, also at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Ellis is the author of over 100 research papers. His investigative activities have focused on the development of new therapies for numerous dermatologic conditions, including psoriasis, acne, and photaging of the skin. He has been particularly active in the development of retinoids, a class of medications related to vitamin A, which are now widely used in dermatology. He has also been a major investigator in the use of cyclosporine, a drug that inhibits the overly active immune system that occurs in many skin conditions.

The Dermatology Department at the University of Michigan is one of the largest in the United States. Over 50,000 outpatient visits annually occur at its main location at the University of Michigan Medical Center and its seven nearby offices. According to the department's chairman, John J.

Voorhes, M.D., Dr. Ellis will "have special responsibilities for our widespread clinical activities. Our department has grown substantially and we are fortunate to have the administrative and clinical skills of Dr. Ellis to ensure continued excellence in our clinical affairs."

Dermatology at the University of Michigan Medical Center was founded in 1890 and achieved departmental status in 1913. Only four chairmen have served as department heads since then.

Medical Society Urges Support for Living Wills

Michigan citizens who want to state their medical treatment wishes and to designate spokespersons to act on their behalf in advance of possible incapacitation should have their physician's active support. That's according to Howard A. Brody, M.D., chairman of the Michigan State Medical Society (MSMS) Committee on Bioethics.

Doctor Brody talks about these "advance directives" in the December issue of Michigan Medicine, the Society's official journal.

"An advance directive is a provision for allowing a person who is now rational and competent, and who can anticipate medical decisions which might have to be made later, to record those wishes so that they may be acted upon even if the person becomes incompetent," says Doctor Brody.

There generally are two approaches for an individual to state his or her wishes, Doctor Brody explains: a living will, which allows the patient to state those wishes in writing, and a durable power of attorney, which allows a patient to designate another person to make his or her medical decisions if the patient is unable to do so.

Public sentiment supports the use of these advance directives, he says. The Genesee County Medical Society has developed and distributed a combined version of the two documents which "has proven useful to both patients and physicians and no significant problems have been encountered with its use," according to Doctor Brody.

There also is growing legislative support for the use of advance directives. On Dec. 11, a 18-year effort by Rep. David C. Hollister (D-Lansing) to pass legislation allowing patients to designate a spokesperson to make their medical decisions ended with successful passage of HB 4016. The bill is now awaiting the governor's signature. MSMS has supported the bill since its inception.

"These measures represent a minimum which Michigan physicians ought to be prepared to promise their patients; to do less is to say that we are more wedded to our technology than to the rights and needs of our patients," says Doctor Brody.

ORIGINS OF RUDOLPH

One of the most beloved figures in modern Christmas lore, Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer, was born when a Montgomery Ward advertising copywriter named Robert L. May was told to create a booklet which could be given to children at Christmastime.

That was in 1939, and "Rudolph with his nose so bright," the nose which made him a laughingstock among the other reindeer, has charmed generations of children for over 50 years.

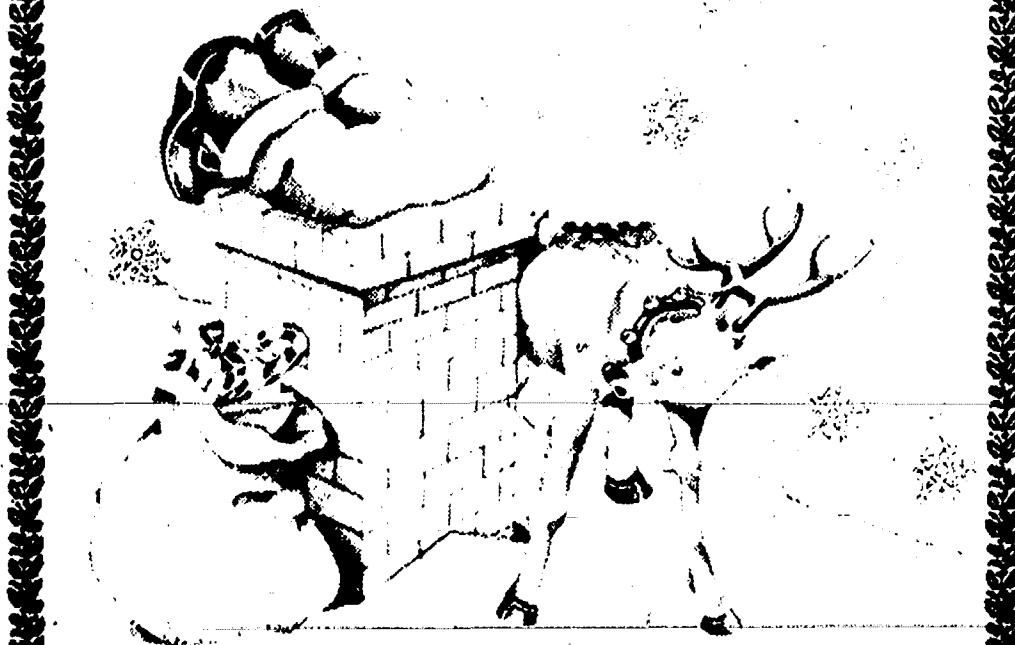

Interestingly enough, the words of the song, "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," were not included in the original booklet that told Rudolph's story, and were not written by May.

Rather, 10 years after May's original creation, his brother-in-law, composer Johnny Marks, put Rudolph's tale to music, and wrote the lyrics with which we are familiar today.

Cowboy-singer Gene Autry recorded the tune, which was released in the fall of 1949 and quickly became a smash hit.

Holiday Travelers Ignore Price Hikes

An uncertain economy and higher fuel costs aren't keeping many state residents home to sip eggnog and munch cookies this holiday season.

AAA Michigan reports motorists are shrugging their shoulders over higher gas prices, up about 32 cents a gallon over the same period last year. For example, the 300-mile round trip between Grand Rapids and Traverse City that cost $13.93 in gasoline last year for an auto averaging 23 miles per gallon now costs $18, up $4.07.

Round trip gas costs between Detroit and Chicago, a 568-mile journey, ran motorists $28.37 last year, compared to $34.08 this holiday season, an increase of $7.71.

"We find that motorists do not change plans for a few dollars," said Peter Erickson, head of AAA Michigan's Touring department, which prepares TripTiks and routings.

Diane Willard, AAA Travel Agency vice-president, agrees.

"While we aren't seeing the three to five percent growth in travel we typically see during a holiday, there isn't a decrease either," Willard said. "About the same number of people are expected to get away during the holidays as last year, despite average increases in airline ticket costs ranging between 5 and 15 percent over the last year."

Careful shoppers can still find good airline bargains for winter travel, Willard added, noting that several recent fare promotions offered by carriers to spur travel have increased business to some destinations.

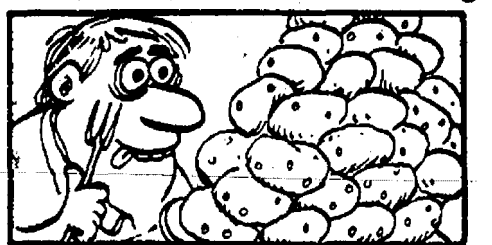

"Florida, Arizona and California continue to lure thousands of Michigan air travelers this holiday," she said.

Nationally, 23 million travelers are expected to fly between Wednesday, Dec. 19, through Friday, Jan. 4, according to the Air Transport Association. On peak travel days, passenger loads could reach 80 percent on flights, and up to 70 percent for the entire period.

To ensure a smooth flight this holiday season, air travelers should:

- Make flight reservation early for the best fares and travel date choices.
- Travel on off-peak dates to avoid congested flights and travel hassles.
- Phone for reservations during off-peak hours—at night or the early morning.
- Get to the airport two hours before flight departure to allow time for luggage check-in and security screening.
- Carry medicine, cash, jewelry and other valuables on board.
- Find a ride to the airport or use public transportation to avoid parking problems.

For motorists driving to holiday destinations, AAA Michigan reminds that avoiding alcohol and buckling

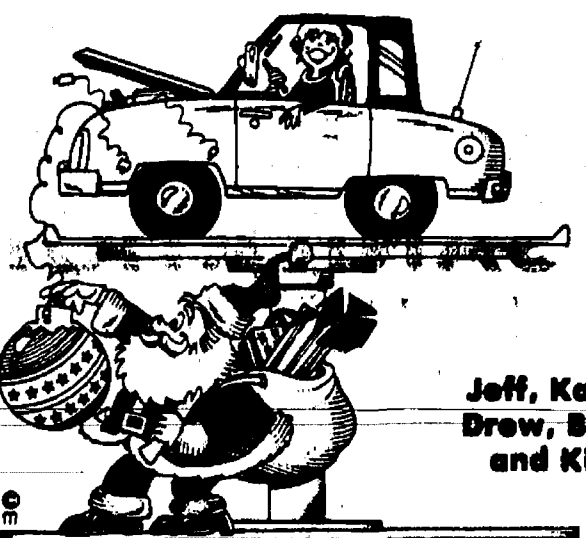

The average American eats about 60 pounds of fresh potatoes each year.

Craig Gow is BookCrafters Michigan Division's Employee of the Month for December. A veteran employee for the past 16 years, Craig is a dedicated material handler. His supervisor, Teri Mannor, recognizes his importance to her department. "Craig is a good worker. He knows where everything is and keeps the flow moving."

At his nomination, Craig's co-workers commented repeatedly regarding his dependability and his determination to get the job done.

Craig's interests outside work include model building and membership in an outdoors club. Craig and his wife Sandy live in Jackson.

Reflecting on BookCrafters, Craig stated, "I like the people and the sense of accomplishment I feel at the end of the day."

Watching Craig at work makes his co-workers understand why he deserves the recognition of Employee of the Month.

Chelsea Wrestlers Almost Upset Saline To Start SEC Dual Meet Season

Chelsea Bulldogs young wrestling team nearly defeated Southeastern Conference favorite Saline last Thursday.

Heavyweight Mike Terpatra's pin of Jack Lyons in :53 ended the meet and pulled Chelsea to within 32-30.

"It looks as though the league championship may come down to the league meet this year," Kargel said, optimistic his team will still be in the hunt late in the season.

"Dexter thinks they can beat Saline, and I think we can beat Dexter. Lincoln has a lot of good kids and they should be strong, too."

Chelsea freshman Tim Wescott opened with an 11-2 loss to senior Mark Gray, one of Saline's best wrestlers.

Senior Karl Wikman gave Chelsea its first win at 112 as he was easily beating Brian McCasey before McCasey came down with an injury and had to forfeit.

At 119, Bulldog sophomore Vince Stahl lost to Greg Shelton, 16-5.

Chelsea scored pins at 125 and 130. In the first match, sophomore John Heller beat Tom Reaw in 1:35. Then senior Kelly Beard pinned Brian Burgess in 1:28.

"John was wrestling with a lot of intensity," Kargel said. "He can wrestle very well when he gets fired up."

Chelsea sophomore Ian Dyer was decisively won by senior Jeff Jannausch at 135 pounds.

At 140 pounds, Chelsea sophomore Kevin McCalla lost a 6-1 decision to senior Lance Bebe.

Chelsea's next win came at 145 as senior Jim Hassett pinned Matt Johnson in 4:25.

At 152 pounds, sophomore Jason Szostak was defeated by another Saline senior, Paul Handy, 7-3.

Freshman Paul Taylor was pinned by Saline's Dennis DeGrand in 1:39 at 160 pounds.

Freshman John Bobo lost a 10-5 decision to Saline's Chad Lossing at 171 pounds.

Chelsea junior Jeff Holzhausen was pinned by Jim Brown in 1:09 at 189 pounds.

"These kinds of matches are always the most frustrating because you can always see where you could pick up an extra point or two," Kargel said.

"I have the feeling a lot of our matches will be decided by a couple of points. I'm not at all disappointed with our performance. I think we wrestled really well. The kids were in to it and it was exciting."

Saline dominated the junior varsity portion of the meet as they won 11 of the 14 matches.

Chelsea winners included Brian Piasecki at 119 pounds and Adam Sullivan at 125 pounds, who both pinned their opponents, and Aric Dougherty at 145 pounds, who took a major decision.

Others who wrestled for Chelsea included Dan Alber, Alex Roskowski, Ken Platt, Jason Knisely, Jason Lien, Jim Sarna, Nick Schumann, Chris Kargel, Mike Schumaker, and K.C. Harr.

"A lot of our kids were slick and quick," Kargel said.

"They'd get the takedown, but then they didn't know what to do with it. It's like they almost didn't believe what they had done."

The Bulldogs, 6-3 on the season, get back into action Jan. 5.

Chelsea Tankers Beat Haslett in Dual Meet

Chelsea Bulldogs swim team whipped Haslett High school last Tuesday, 96-83, to improve their season record to 3-0-1.

"The Bulldogs are a much different team than last year," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

"The squad is very young and fairly deep."

8th Grade Cagers Beat Milan in Final Contest

Beach Middle school eighth grade basketball team ended their season with a 42-21 victory over the Milan Big Reds at home last Monday, Dec. 17.

The victory gave the Bulpups an even 6-5 record.

"It was obvious from the opening tip that we were ready to play," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"Our forwards were able to penetrate their defense quite effectively as we led at the end of the first quarter, 8-4."

The Pups extended their lead to 21-8 at half-time and 33-12 at the end of three quarters. Kevin Kolodica, Brad Jedele, Jon Michael, and James Diesing provided the offense in the second quarter.

Tallman praised the forward play of Jim Tallman, Kolodica, and Case McCalla, and the fourth quarter guard play of Kevin Coy, who scored seven points.

Chelsea scorers included McCalla 9, Coy 7, Kolodica 6, Tallman 5, Michael 4, Diesing 4, Calvin Poe 3, Brad Jedele 2, Dirk Wales 1, and Nate Young 1.

Joe Huettman, David Brock, and Henry Alvarez finished 1-3-4 in the 200 freestyle, the first of several big swims for the Bulldogs, Jolly said.

Dirk Colbry paced himself to wins in the 50 and 100 freestyles.

"Dirk's times of :24.33 and :54.53 are way ahead of last year," Jolly said.

Mauricio Bara improved his time in the 100 butterfly to :56.70 to take second.

Matt Fisher also competed in the 100 butterfly and placed third.

Huettman won the 500 freestyle in 5:20.89, a time which puts him among the top swimmers in the area, Jolly said. Alvarez and Scott Long placed third and fifth, respectively.

Fisher and Steve Brock each swam a 1:07 in the 100 backstroke as Fisher placed second and Brock third.

Matt Montange and Geoff Ostling sealed the meet for the Bulldogs in the 100 breaststroke as they finished second and third.

"Geoff had the most impressive swim of the meet," Jolly said.

"He really proved himself."

The 400 freestyle relay team of Colbry, David Brock, Bara, and Huettman won with a time of 3:42.72.

Council, Stalker Still Negotiating Terms of Severance

Negotiations are continuing between village manager Robert Stalker and village council concerning his likely exodus from the job. Beyond that, no one is saying much of an official nature.

Stalker confirmed the situation and said he hopes it will all be resolved by the end of the year.

Council asked for Stalker's resignation during a closed council meeting in November. No official reasons have been given for the request.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

I know what a lot of sports fans want for Christmas. We want Ernie Harwell back for more than one year of broadcasting Detroit Tigers games.

What a fiasco. Hard to imagine that Bo Schembechler could dream up a more ill-conceived, unpopular idea. Think about it. What could he possibly do to top the firing of Harwell, even in his wildest imaginings? He's hit the low point of his career as Tigers president in just a year on the job. In fact, it will probably prove to be the low point of his entire career.

In response to the public outcry, Bo uttered the equivalent of Bart Simpson's line, "Don't have a cow, man."

Actually, Bo may now be more appropriately known as the Homer Simpson of baseball, except Homer has more humility.

I'm really curious as to what the X's and O's of his decision were.

"Well, we move this guy here, this guy over here, trap this guy, pull these two guys, open a big hole here, run Harwell here, and oops, he's on the sidelines. Not such a bad play after all."

Bo apparently asked Harwell to run to the sidelines. Reports have indicated that the Tigers wanted Harwell to resign, to make it appear it was Harwell's decision to quit. It sounds as though the organization knew there would be an outcry if the truth were known. It also makes Bo look less than honest as well as a schemer.

Could this "new direction" Bo talks about be a smokescreen for simple age discrimination?

The whole situation also makes Bo look like a raving hypocrite.

Remember a couple of years ago when Michigan basketball coach Bill Frieder announced he was going to leave? Remember all of Bo's lecturing about loyalty and how he didn't want Frieder to coach in the tournament because he was no longer a Michigan man?

Where is the loyalty Bo says he values so highly? He won't find a man more loyal to an organization or more representative of it than Harwell.

In some ways, I guess we ought to thank Bo for teaching us all a valuable lesson: loyalty doesn't really mean anything unless it runs two ways.

I also thank Bo for confirming what I have long thought about him. He was a decent football coach, and that's about it.

Does anyone out there really want one of those Sports Illustrated football telephones for Christmas. Seems like someone's idea of a joke, doesn't it. And I thought the sneaker phone was a bad idea.

Had a chance to see the Chelsea wrestling team in action last Thursday against Saline.

The youngsters surprised a lot of people with their performance. They nearly won, which probably surprised even their coach.

As coach Kerry Kargel said early on, the youngest wrestlers have a lot of promise if they stay with the program. Experience is their primary obstacle, and that will come with time.

There's certainly nothing wrong with their intensity, as they showed Thursday.

Having a state champ around like Karl Wikman has to help. They can see first hand what it takes to be a champion. Wikman is one of the most intense competitors in any sport I've ever seen. He gets that look in his eyes, a combination of extreme concentration, confidence, anticipation, and the feeling that he's ready to completely dismantle his opponent. By the time he hits the mat, most matches are a foregone conclusion.

KEVIN McCALLA works to escape from the grasp of Saline's Lance Bebe during last Thursday's SEC meet at home. McCalla, a sophomore, eventually lost a 6-1 decision to the senior, one of Saline's top wrestlers.

DDA Pursues Lot, Asks Council To Remove Meters

Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority was given approval by village council to continue pursuing the purchase/swap of parking lots with Sumner Oesterle of Harper Pontiac.

DDA wants the lot, owned by Oesterle, next to All Season Comfort on W. Middle St. In return it wants Oesterle to take the paved lot next to the Westside Gym/Total Fitness Outlet.

In other DDA news, DDA has asked council to remove all downtown parking meters and relocate some handicapped parking spots.

A public hearing has been set on the request for the Tuesday, Jan. 15 council meeting.

DDA wants to move handicapped spots from lots and have them put on major streets where they are more likely to be used.

Parking has been free on Main St. for several months. However, money is still required in the meters on the side streets. Parking meters are a source of revenues for the police department. How the loss of those revenues will be handled has not been discussed publicly.

Social Security Withholding Required For Farm Workers

Farm employers should remember that Social Security withholding is required for all farmworkers except those whose total annual wages are less than $150, according to Howard Kelly, labor expert with Michigan Farm Bureau. Kelly also noted that if a farmer's total payroll is over $2,500, then withholding must be made even if a farm worker's individual wages do not exceed $150.

"There were some people who believed that foreign workers were exempt from withholding, like the seasonal agricultural workers, the so-called SAW workers," Kelly said. "They are not exempt from this. The only workers that are not required to have withholding are the H-2A workers, which are foreign workers under contract. And to my knowledge there aren't any in Michigan."

Kelly urged farm employers "not to be misled" by what he called recent contradictory information being offered by the IRS and the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Don't buy potatoes that are green, due to exposure to natural or artificial light. The greening may have penetrated the flesh of the potatoe.

IMMANUEL: GOD WITH US

When death came to Wesley at the age of 88, his last words were, "The best of all is God is with us."

It seems the whole world is out of kilter and in trouble. There is bitterness, violence, hatred, tension, and strife (just as II Timothy 3 indicates there would be). There is great perplexity, agitation, and uncertainty on every hand. The earth is beset by worry and strife. Fear haunts it today—fear of the past and fear of the future, fear of weakness and fear of strength, fear of too much and fear of too little, fear of others and fear of ourselves, fear of life and fear of death.

The future promises to be disturbed, with perilous times filled with sorrow, according to men's predictions as well as Bible prophecy.

But into this seemingly dark and hopeless future came a holy Child, with sweetness and a heavenly remedy, to bring light and life, peace and joy, hope and deliverance, to all in this weary world, if only men would look unto Him and hear and heed His words.

Do we hear the glad tidings of great joy? "Fear not." Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given. His name is Jesus, Immanuel, God with us. Unto us is born a Saviour! That's what the world needs and wants: a Saviour, a Deliverer!

God sent His Son to be the Saviour of the world, "that the world through him might be saved" and thus be reconciled to God. There we have the answer to all our problems. For this Child was "the Word" spoken of in John 1:14, Christ, God "made flesh," who walked in Galilee in human form, the mighty God with Whom "all things are possible."

He left the ivory palaces of heaven to be born in a stable of an inn in Bethlehem, that He might die for us upon Calvary's rugged cross, to redeem us by His blood shed for us there. He "came . . . to give his life a ransom for many . . . to call . . . sinners to repentance." "I'm so glad that that includes me—and you." "God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself" (II Cor. 5:19).

How important it is to accept Him as Saviour and to be ready to meet Him without notice.

We do not forget the miracle of the virgin birth, of the moving star, and of the empty tomb. Christ made possible our salvation and deliverance from hell by His birth, and by His resurrection from the dead He sealed it for all time and eternity, leaving Satan a defeated foe. Oh, how we rejoice with the angels who proclaimed both events. As the Son of God with power, He arose and is seated on the right hand of God, there interceding for us as a Mediator between God and man.

Someone has reminded us, "There are stars in the sky as well as thunder and lightning." There may be atomic bombs, satellites, saucers, fire, and other things in the sky, and disease germs in the air, yet a believer in almighty God who wholly follows the Lord, trusting Him fully, will find Him true, and have peace passing understanding in his heart despite worry, fear, and strife in the world.

The special star that shone over the Judean hills to herald the coming of the Bright and Morning Star of hope and redemption still shines to light and guide our way if only we will look up, and read the Bible. The living Christ of God is still with us, and if God be for us and with us, what have we to fear?

He is the answer to all our needs for spirit, mind, and body, through His promises and prayer. Those promises outweigh everything and everyone else. He is the God of might and miracles, unchanging, unfailing, with undying love and concern for His children. He is our kind and watchful heavenly Father, in Whom we find joy unspeakable and full of glory, riches unsearchable, life more abundant. The blood has never lost its power to redeem, cover, and protect His trusting children.

He gives grace, strength, and courage to all who ask for it, to face the future, one day at a time. So we rest in Him free from fear.

The Lord could come any day for us if we are among His "born again" "jewels," and we'd be in heaven tomorrow, our future safe for all eternity.

"The Christ, Who came in lowly guise,
Shall come in 'glory' to surprise
His enemies with deep dismay
When He begins His kingly sway."

"Though bells peal out this Christmas time as gaily as before,
They greet a weary, restless world—bewildered, stricken, sore.
But a mighty name still rings above the conflict and the sin;

It breathes a calm through all the earth—it whispers peace within.
While nations surge like troubled seas, no words can ever tell How strangely sweet, this Christmas time, His name—Immanuel."

"We hear the Christmas angels the great glad tidings tell! And we pray,
O come to us; abide with us, our Lord,
Immanuel."

Picnic Horn Records Gives Local Bands a Chance in Hard Business

Picnic Horn Records, an independent label started here by 1983 Chelsea High school graduate Rodney Robeson, recently signed its fifth band.

Someday, perhaps, one of them will be famous and put Picnic Horn on the music industry map.

In the cut-throat music business, the odds are against it, no matter how good the bands are. However, for Robeson, the time will be well-spent no matter what happens.

"There's a need for alternative artists and they deserve as much chance to succeed as any other band," Robeson says.

"The bands we have may not be the most appealing to a commercial market, but every one of them is good enough for a major-label deal. They are all very good live bands. And there is money to be made in what we're doing here."

Picnic Horn has signed local bands The Holy Cows, The Opossums, and The Scapegoats. Also under contract are Anne Be Davis, and most recently, The Dushanes, of Newaygo. They all play original music, one of the primary requirements of any band signed by Picnic Horn.

Robeson says he refuses to sign a heavy metal band or a rap band because, "It would be like selling out."

Picnic Horn, because it has very little overhead compared to a major company, can make money by selling relatively few records.

"A major label needs to sell at least 200,000 records while we can make a great deal of money if we sell only 50,000," Robeson says.

The problem is, the major labels have the attention of commercial radio stations, which play a huge role in the financial success of an album or a band. And it's hard for a small label to break into the market. Robeson says there is still "payola," only it takes different forms than it used to. Connections also play a big part in the business.

So Picnic Horn has to resort to other methods to promote its artists. Most of the airplay The Holy Cows have gotten for their albums "Greener Sidewalks" and "To Be or Not To Be, That's What I'm Talkin' About" has been at non-commercial college stations. They've been heard in Columbus, O. and Chattanooga, Tenn.

The National Co-operative Association of Cordwainers, the first national labor union of a specific craft, was formed in 1898 in New York City, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a U.S. Labor Department publication. Other trades which formed national organizations in the next few years were the printers, comb makers, carpenters and hand-loom weavers.

To get that airplay, Robeson acts as a complete marketing agent. He schedules concerts and other appearances, distributes records to college radio stations, schedules production of records, and a host of other activities.

The latest marketing tool is the formation of the Wing Tip Shoe Club, essentially a Picnic Horn artists fan club. Three different membership packages are available. They all include a monthly newsletter, t-shirt, and automatic entry in a cash giveaway. Robeson is also producing cassettes, compact discs and videos that contain a couple of songs by each artist. They are available with membership, depending on which package is chosen. The most expensive membership includes a pair of wing tip shoes with the club logo.

For information write to P.O. Box 482, Chelsea 48118. The office is located in the clock tower building.

The Holy Cows, Opossums, and Scapegoats are all composed primarily of Chelsea-area residents.

The Holy Cows are Mike Feeney, John Popovich, Scott Salyer, and Mike Popovich.

The Opossums are Mark Neff, Marty Fletcher, Ton Dunham, and Todd Brown.

Farmers Frustrated Over Federal Budget Woes

The recent meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation resolutions committee left no doubt that farmers continue to be frustrated over the federal budget gridlock, according to Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie. "There's no doubt that there's a lot of disappointment in the agricultural community about the budget reconciliation act and the role that agriculture's been asked to play in it," he said.

Laurie serves on the resolutions committee, which is charged with preparing a slate of policy recommendations to be considered at the American Farm Bureau annual meeting, Jan. 6-10 in Phoenix, Ariz.

He said farmers also have questions about the impact of new assessments and service fees being charged to agriculture through the new farm bill, "questions that even go the extent of asking whether there's a role for federal farm programs if they're to be changed this dramatically."

Guard Against Holiday Food Contamination

There's an old story about an early 1800's logger named Cy Overlander who, to prevent several trips to the nearby creek, washed his hands each evening in the same water he had used to cook his potatoes. One day, another logger pointed out that this probably wasn't a good idea, to which Cy replied, "Well, I used to wash my hands in the water before I cooked the taters, but I didn't like the taste of the taters then."

As humorous as this story may seem, food safety and contamination of food sources are real concerns, especially at this time of the year.

"There are two times of the year when incidences of food poisoning tend to increase—Easter and Christmas," says Dr. Edward C. Heffron, director of the Food Division at the Michigan Department of Agriculture. "Most of the time, it's the result of how food is handled and prepared at home."

"During the holidays, we change the usual way we handle our foods. We're preparing different types of foods... foods which are rich and high in protein, low in acid. These kinds of foods are highly susceptible to poisoning organisms. Also, during the holidays, refrigerators which are already full cannot hold the quantities of food required for holiday meals. Or, once the additional food is crammed in, refrigerators are so full they can't cool the contents sufficiently."

In this type of environment, Salmonella, one of the most common bacteria, has a perfect breeding ground. "Foods that are allowed to remain at too warm a temperature for too long, or those that are not heated to a high enough temperature can harbor dangerous food-borne illnesses," adds Heffron. For these reasons, it is important to be extremely cautious in preparing foods throughout the year, but especially so during holidays when large meals result in less control.

To guard against possible food contamination during holiday food preparation, Heffron offers the following advice:

- Proper temperature control—The most common cause of food contamination in the home is a lack of proper temperature control. Foods need to be heated or cooled to the proper temperature to destroy any growing bacteria or halt continued growth.

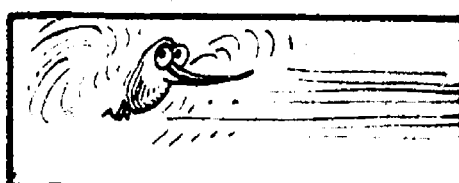

- Reduce the amount of handling—The more times a food is handled, the higher the risk of contamination. Keep sinks, cutting boards and anything else which comes in contact with food products clean.

- Maintain good personal hygiene—Washing hands between food handlings is important to prevent transferring bacteria from hands to food or from one food product to another. The kitchen dish towel can also be a harbinger of germs and bacteria and should be laundered frequently to prevent the spread of bacteria from hands to dishes or food.

- Select clean and undamaged food and agricultural products—Wash everything except commercially canned, bottled or frozen food products. Pre-packaged foods should always be heated and cooled correctly.

According to Heffron, common sense is a good rule of thumb to keep in mind during holiday food preparation.

A hummingbird can fly backwards, and even straight up and down.

By Thomas E. O'Hara

& Consulting Editor, Better Investing

Q. What would be your view of the Boeing company? I know the industry is booming, but if the prospects for world peace are as good as they seem to be, it would seem like their military business could evaporate and they would lose their favorable position.

A. The latest Standard & Poor's report that I have on Boeing shows that in 1988, 90% of their business was in military transportation, missiles and space. Twenty-two percent of the 30% was in military transport and the company lost $95 million on that business. The balance of 8% was in missiles and space and the company made $124 million on that part of its business. The military business, according to these figures, produced only $29 million out of $584 million of profits.

It is the commercial part of the business that is really booming for Boeing. In 1988, Boeing delivered 283 commercial jets. In just the first nine months of 1989, Boeing received orders for 738 jets and 68 commuter aircraft compared with 497 jets and 45 commuter aircraft during the same period a year earlier. Air transportation companies around the world are both replacing and enlarging their fleets. Boeing is the leading producer of commercial aircraft and is the principal beneficiary of this thriving market.

With their markets in eastern Europe and Russia opening up, it seems likely the already robust market for commercial aircraft could receive another boost. There is a Russian aircraft industry, but the fleets it supplies seem older and even more in need of replacement than those in the free world.

It would seem that no matter what happens in the defense area of its business, Boeing is likely to enjoy a high sales rate of commercial jet sales for several years and good profitability.

Standard & Poor's is estimating that Boeing's 1990 earnings per share will be $5.85 as compared with $3.40 for 1989. We do not know enough about the air transport industry to calculate how long the current surge in orders will last, but air transportation seems to be increasing all over the world. At times it seems like the skies over major American cities are almost saturated, but that problem will probably be solved and the industry will move on to greater volumes.

Boeing's management has been growth minded and probably will continue to come up with new ideas.

Parking Lot Woes Can Steal Christmas

Parking lots can be hazardous to your health: Yours and your car's.

This is true particularly during the holiday season when parking lots, possibly snow-covered and slippery, are jammed with cars, frenzied shoppers—and car thieves.

Too often, dents and dings turn up on your parked car's doors and fenders, compliments of a careless motorist in the next space.

Or, worse still, you return to find your car has been stolen, or broken in to with gifts missing, along with the radio and other valuables.

The National Automobile Theft Bureau estimates that more than 500,000 vehicles will be stolen or ransacked nationwide during the holiday season, at a cost of $1.2 billion.

AAA Michigan offers this list of do's and don'ts for parking safety.

DO:
• Deter car thieves by closing all windows and locking all doors. If you have an alarm, set it. Take your keys with you, and store gifts out of sight.
• Also, park in a well-lighted area. Park with front wheels turned sharply, use your parking brake and if you have a standard transmission, leave it in gear to make towing more difficult.

• Watch for pedestrians who walk between parked cars, their arms oftentimes loaded with packages and their vision blocked. Also, for pedestrians walking in the aisle behind your car when you're backing up. Remember, you become that pedestrian once you park your car.

• Park between new, compact four-door cars to help ward off dents and dings. They have shorter doors than two-door models. Also, new car owners tend to be more careful about opening car doors.

• Park in the middle of a spot parallel to the lines to get the most distance between cars on either side.

• Try to park in a spot where you'll drive forward to exit.

DON'T:
• Park at the end of a row near parking lot intersections where your car can be clipped by traffic or next to poles that can be sideswiped inadvertently.

• Park beside a van, truck or other large vehicle. They can block your view of oncoming traffic until you are well into the aisle when backing out of your space.

• Park in a space where shopping carts have been left that can roll into or be struck by your car.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING 1990 DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT BONDS
(General Obligation Limited Tax)

WHEREAS, pursuant to ordinances previously adopted (collectively, the "Ordinances"), this Village Council has approved a tax increment financing and development plan and certain amendments thereto (said plan including the amendments thereto hereinafter referred to as the "Plan") for the Downtown Development Area ("Development Area") as proposed by the Village of Chelsea Downtown Development Authority (the "DDA") pursuant to Act 197, Public Acts of Michigan, 1975, as amended (the "Act"); and

WHEREAS, the DDA has advised the Village of Chelsea (the "Village") that the DDA anticipates that it will have available the projected tax increment revenues set forth on Exhibit A attached hereto; and

WHEREAS, the DDA has requested the Village to issue its limited tax general obligation bonds to finance part of the cost of certain parking, entryway streetscape and infrastructure improvements and related site acquisition, consultant and engineering costs and expenses (the "Project");

AND WHEREAS, it is the determination of the Village Council that at this time limited tax general obligation bonds in the principal amount of not to exceed Ninety-Nine Thousand Dollars ($99,000) should be issued for the purpose of paying part of the project costs of the Project.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. The DDA has estimated in the Plan that the estimated tax increment revenue of the Development Area, commencing with the fiscal year beginning March 1, 1990, will be as shown on Exhibit A attached hereto and by this reference made a part hereof, which estimate is hereby approved and adopted by this Village Council.

2. Bonds of the Village of Chelsea, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan (the "Bonds"), designated 1990 DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT BONDS (GENERAL OBLIGATION LIMITED TAX) (the "Bonds"), are authorized to be issued in the aggregate principal sum of Ninety-Nine Thousand Dollars ($99,000) for the purpose of paying part of the costs of the Project, including the costs incidental to the issuance, sale and delivery of the Bonds. The issue shall consist of a Bond or Bonds in fully-registered form of the denomination of $1,000, or multiples thereof not exceeding for each maturity the maximum principal amount of that maturity number in order of registration, dated as of December 1, 1990, or such later date as shall be determined in the Purchase Agreement relating to the sale of the Bonds. The Bonds shall mature and be payable as set forth on Exhibit B hereto.

The Bonds shall bear interest at the rate or rates set forth on Exhibit B hereto, payable on April 1, 1991 and semi-annually thereafter. The bonds shall be sold at a price not less than 100% of the par value of the Bonds. Interest on the Bonds to April 1, 1991, shall be paid from proceeds of the Bonds.

The Bonds shall not be subject to prior redemption. Interest shall be payable to the registered owner of record as of the 15th day of the month preceding each interest payment date. The record date of determination of registered owner for purposes of payment of interest as provided in this paragraph may be changed by the Village to conform to market practice in the future. Interest shall be payable by check or draft drawn on the Transfer Agent (as hereinafter defined) mailed to the registered owner at the registered address, as shown on the registration books of the Village maintained by the Transfer Agent. The principal of the Bonds shall be payable upon presentation and surrender to the Transfer Agent.

The purchaser of the Bonds shall serve initially as bond registrar, paying agent and transfer agent (the "Transfer Agent") for this issue. The Village Treasurer or Village Manager is hereby authorized to execute one or more agreements with the Transfer Agent on behalf of the Village. The Village reserves the right to replace the Transfer Agent at any time upon written notice to the registered owners of record of the Bonds not less than sixty (60) days prior to an interest payment date.

3. The Bonds of this issue shall be executed in the name of the Village with the manual or facsimile signatures of the Village President and Village Clerk and shall have the seal of the Village, or a facsimile thereof, printed or impressed on the Bonds. No Bond shall be valid unless it has been executed with the manual signatures of the Village President and Village Clerk or if executed with facsimile signatures, it has been authenticated by an authorized officer or representative of the Transfer Agent. The Bonds shall be delivered to the Transfer Agent for authentication, if required, and delivered to the purchaser or other person upon payment of the purchase price for the Bonds.

4. The Transfer Agent shall keep the books of registration for this issue on behalf of the Village. The Bonds shall be transferable in whole only. The Bonds may be transferred upon such registration books by the registered owner of record, in person or by the registered owner's duly authorized attorney, upon surrender of the Bonds for cancellation, accompanied by delivery of a duly executed written instrument of transfer in a form approved by the Transfer Agent. Whenever the Bonds shall be surrendered for transfer, the Village shall execute and the Transfer Agent shall authenticate and deliver a new Bond or Bonds, for like aggregate principal amount. The Transfer Agent shall require the payment by the bondholder requesting the transfer of any tax or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to the transfer.

5. The Bonds shall be issued in anticipation of and payable in the first instance from payments required to be made by the DDA from tax increment revenues (the "Tax Increment Revenue Payments") pursuant to the Plan and a resolution to be adopted by the DDA (the "DDA Resolution"), which Tax Increment Revenue Payments are anticipated to be in amounts sufficient to pay principal of and interest on the Bonds. In addition, the Village hereby pledges its full faith and credit for the prompt payment of the Bonds. Should the Tax Increment Revenue Payments at any time be insufficient to pay principal of and interest on the Bonds as the same become due, then the Village shall advance as a first budget obligation from any funds available thereafter, or, if necessary, levy taxes upon all taxable property in the Village subject to applicable constitutional and statutory limitations, such sums as may be necessary to pay said principal and interest. The Village shall be reimbursed for any such advance by the DDA from tax increment revenues of the DDA as provided in the DDA Resolution. The Treasurer is authorized and directed to open a separate depository account with a bank or trust company designated by the Village Council to be known as 1990 DOWNTOWN DEVELOPMENT BONDS DEBT RETIREMENT FUND (the "Debt Retirement Fund"), the moneys to be deposited into the Debt Retirement Fund to be specifically earmarked and used solely for the purpose of paying principal of and interest on the Bonds as they mature. Into said fund there shall be placed the accrued interest and premium, if any, received at the time of delivery of the Bonds together with an amount of proceeds of the Bonds sufficient to pay interest on the Bonds to April 1, 1991. In addition, there shall be paid into the Debt Retirement Fund the Tax Increment Revenue Payments as received from the DDA each year until the amount on hand in the Debt Retirement Fund, together with any amounts on hand in the Debt Retirement Fund available for payment of current principal of and interest on the Bonds, is equal to all payments of principal and interest coming due on the Bonds through the next October 1.

6. The Treasurer shall deposit the accrued interest and premium, if any, received upon sale of the Bonds, together with an amount of proceeds of the Bonds sufficient to pay interest on the Bonds to April 1, 1991, in the Debt Retirement Fund and shall deposit the balance of the proceeds in a Construction Fund which shall be established by the Village for the Project. Money in the Construction Fund shall be used by the Village solely for payment of costs of the Project, or payment or redemption of the Bonds.

7. The Bonds shall be in substantially the following form: (See attachment)

8. The estimated period of usefulness of the proposed Project is hereby declared to be not less than twenty (20) years and its total cost is estimated to be not less than Ninety-Nine Thousand Dollars ($99,000).

9. The Bonds are designated as "qualified tax exempt obligations" for the purpose of deduction of interest expense by financial institutions.

10. The Village agrees, to the extent permitted by law, to take all actions within its control necessary to maintain the exclusion of the interest on the Bonds from gross income for federal income tax purposes under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, including but not limited to actions relating to the rebate of arbitrage earnings and the expenditure and investment of Bond proceeds and money deemed to be Bond proceeds.

11. The Village Manager is authorized to negotiate the terms of sale of the Bonds as authorized by law.

12. The bid of the Chelsea State Bank for the purchase of the Bonds on the terms and conditions set forth on Exhibit B hereto is hereby accepted. The Village Manager, the Village President and the Village Clerk are authorized to execute and deliver such documents as are necessary or convenient to the delivery of the Bonds to Chelsea State Bank.

13. All resolutions and parts of resolutions insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this resolution be and the same hereby are rescinded.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hall, to adopt the above Resolution. Motion carried.

AND WHEREAS, it is the determination of the Village Council that at this time limited tax general obligation bonds in the principal amount of not to exceed Nine Hundred Ninety-Five Thousand Dollars ($995,000) should be issued for the purpose of paying part of the project costs of the Project.

The issue shall consist of Bonds in fully-registered form of the denomination of $5,000, or multiples thereof not exceeding for each maturity the maximum principal amount of that maturity, numbered in order of registration, dated as of February 1, 1991, or such later date as the Village Council shall determine in the resolution approving the sale of the Bonds. Interest shall be payable by check or draft drawn on the Transfer Agent (as hereinafter defined) mailed to the registered owner at the registered address, as shown on the registration books of the Village maintained by the Transfer Agent. The principal of the Bonds shall be payable upon presentation and surrender to the Transfer Agent.

A bank or trust company located in Michigan and qualified to act as bond registrar, paying agent and transfer agent (the "Transfer Agent") for this issue. The Village Manager is hereby authorized to execute one or more agreements with the Transfer Agent on behalf of the Village. The Village Clerk is hereby authorized to insert the name of the Transfer Agent in the form of notice of sale set forth in Section 8 hereof before publication. The Village reserves the right to replace the Transfer Agent at any time upon written notice to the registered owners of record of the Bonds not less than sixty (60) days prior to an interest payment date.

3. The Bonds of this issue shall be executed in the name of the Village with the manual or facsimile signatures of the Village President and Village Clerk and shall have the seal of the Village, or a facsimile thereof, printed or impressed on the Bonds. The Transfer Agent shall require the payment by the bondholder requesting the transfer of any tax or other governmental charge required to be paid with respect to the transfer.

Such notice shall be dated and shall contain at a minimum the following information: original issue date; maturity dates; interest rates CUSIP numbers, if any; certificate numbers (and in the case of partial redemption, the called amounts of each certificate); and the place where bonds called for redemption are to be surrendered for payment; and that interest on bonds or portions thereof called for redemption shall cease to accrue from and after the redemption date.

In addition, further notice shall be given by the Transfer Agent in such manner as may be required or suggested by regulations or market practice at the applicable time, but no defect in such further notice nor any failure to give all or any portion of such further notice shall in any manner defeat the effectiveness of a call for redemption if notice thereof is given as prescribed herein.

5. The Bonds shall be issued in anticipation of and payable in the first instance from payments required to be made by the DDA from tax increment revenues (the "Tax Increment Revenue Payments") pursuant to the Plan and a resolution to be adopted by the DDA (the "DDA Resolution") which Tax In-

6. The Treasurer shall deposit the accrued interest and premium, if any, received sale of the Bonds, together with an amount of proceeds of the Bonds sufficient to pay interest on the Bonds to July 1, 1991, in the Debt Retirement Fund and shall deposit the balance of the proceeds in a Construction Fund which shall be established by the Village for the Project. Money in the Construction Fund shall be used by the Village solely for payment of costs of the Project, or payment or redemption of the Bonds.

Has Your Teen-Ager Become A Stranger?

Has your family dream of a home loaded with love, laughter, support, care, stability and warmth become a nightmare? Has the love become anxiety, laughter become silence, support become suspicion, care become anger?

This is the tragic pattern of thousands of American families touched by the terrible epidemic of adolescents using alcohol or drugs. Adolescent drug use is a disease, not a family failure. It is also very treatable! The family dream can still be realized!

You are not alone. The solution may be "Straight." Straight is a non-profit family oriented treatment program for drug-using young people and their families. It is a long term treatment program averaging in length from 11 to 13 months. It is non-discriminatory and centers on a self-help philosophy: youths helping youths and parents helping parents.

Don't lie awake another night fearing the ring of the telephone, call today for a confidential drug use assessment which will help identify and define the problem. Meet the professional staff, talk to the young people, talk to the parents. Experience their dreams coming true.

To obtain more information and arrange for an appointment, call (313) 453-2610. Don't give up on your child. Keep the Dream Alive.

Higher Costs To Squeeze Farm Net Income in 1991

Higher operating costs may mean less net income and tighter cash flow for the nation's farmers in 1991, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) recently-released agricultural income and financial outlook summary. Cash receipts to farmers may hit a record $170 to $175 billion, but higher prices for fuel and increases in other costs could trim 1991 net farm income below this year's expected $59 billion, the summary shows.

The USDA said even with the cut in net farm income, the nation's farmers will be better off in general than they were in the 1970s and early 1980s because of their improved debt picture.

Here's One Big Reason Why You Should Be In Church Next Week.

Dear children: Whatever their ages, there's so much they can learn from the principles that will serve them well throughout life. And help them to be better human beings. Because our church is a place where positive life values find expression. Where the enduring love of God is taught. Where the nature of life and the meaning of happiness are conveyed through simple yet profound Bible stories.

That's why we're inviting you to join us in worship. So that your children can experience the love that only God can give. So please come.

Whatever your age, there's hope that you might learn something too, because Jesus cares for you.

Here's Hope.
