THE BIGGEST SNOW STORM in three years hit the Chelsea area last Thursday night and early Friday, leaving up to six inches in some places. In addition, high winds caused many problems with drifting snow. This truck driver had to dig a path for his rig in a parking lot opposite Chelsea Industries.

Chelsea Students Outpace Students State-Wide on Annual Assessment Tests

Chelsea School District students continue to perform better than students state-wide on the Michigan Educational Assessment Tests.

Testing co-ordinator presented the information at Monday night's regular meeting of the Board of Education.

In all areas but one, there were more Chelsea students in the top achievement category than the state-wide average. In fourth grade mathematics, 85.7 percent of Chelsea students were in the top category while 88 percent of students state-wide were.

Below is a listing of the various tests and the percent of students in the top achievement category in Chelsea and the state.

7th grade math: Chelsea 76.3, state 73.8.
10th grade math: Chelsea 77.4, state 70.8.
5th grade science: Chelsea 82.5, state 87.3.

In other board business Monday, a fuel usage agreement was approved with the Village of Chelsea that will allow village vehicles to fuel up at the district bus garage on Old US-12.

The village had approached the district about using the facility after leaking village underground storage tanks had to be dug up last year.

Under the agreement, village employees will use a card system to obtain gasoline and will pay a portion of the cost of the maintenance of the pumping equipment.

The district and village will also share the costs of dealing with any gasoline spills, including legal fees and clean-up.

The agreement can be cancelled at any time.

The board approved Chelsea's participation in a new Central 8 Golf League for girls, which will begin play this spring. Chelsea is interested in the league, in part, because not enough Southeastern Conference schools have teams.

Two men were honored for their participation in Chelsea High school's Mentorship Program.

Dr. Guy Meadows worked with student Amy Koenigter on an oceanography project at the University of Michigan. Frank Williams, Sr. worked with student Sarah Gegenheimer on a University of Michigan Economic Impact Study. Students receive credit for the semester-long project.

Young 'Pathfinders' Give Results of Chelsea Survey

Chelsea's "Pathfinders," a group of 24 determined fifth graders at North and South Elementary schools interested in having a bike/hiking path constructed in the village, presented the results of a survey they conducted recently to the Chelsea 1995 organization.

Pathfinders originated from a new Enrichment Triad Program project called community problem-solving. The youngsters, through a lengthy process, decided the village needed a path that could be used for bikers, hikers, runners, walkers, and anyone else interested in a safe outdoor trail through all parts of the village. They felt a bike path was the best solution to their problem—Chelsea does not have enough family entertainment that is safe and healthy.

This year's goal for the Pathfinders was to convince Chelsea village officials that the project would be a good idea.

Since then the children have gotten wide support from a number of organizations and individuals. They have made presentations to virtually every local service organization and governmental agency.

The survey was designed to determine the extent of support in the community at large.

The children surveyed 704 adults and 685 students.

Among both groups, 95 percent said they believed the path would be beneficial to Chelsea-area residents.

Children also asked how respondents might use such a facility. 78 percent of students and 75 percent of adults said "biking," 50 percent of students and 78 percent of adults said "walking," 32 percent of students and 27 percent of adults said "jogging," 22 percent of students and 26 percent of adults said "cross-country skiing," 9 percent of students and 10 percent of adults said "recovering from an illness," and 28 percent of students and 10 percent of adults said "getting to school or work."

Both students and adults (86 and 78 percent) said they'd like to see recycled park benches along the path. Drinking fountains (66 and 60 percent) were the next most popular items. Bike racks (37 and 24 percent) and "vendors when the weather is nice" (45 and 20 percent) were the other items respondents could choose.

77 percent of adults and 50 percent of students said they would be willing to support, through money or work, the project.

The survey asked respondents how they might be willing to support the project. Students and adults had almost the same levels of enthusiasm for each item offered, with one notable exception—monetary support. Adults (37 percent), who generally have more money than students, were more likely than students (23 percent) to give money.

Other response rates were: help with a fundraiser/bike event, students 22 percent, adults 19 percent; help with grants, students 9 percent, adults 10 percent; help clear brush, pull weeds, students 34 percent, adults 34 percent; help landscape, students 38 percent, adults 30 percent; and help maintain the path, students 26 percent, adults 22 percent.

Perhaps the biggest obstacle the project faces is funding. That is also being addressed.

The students, with the help of adult assistants who have been dubbed "Pathfinders," plan to apply for two grants. One is through the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund, which would give a 75 percent matching grant for the acquisition of land and buildings such as restrooms and warming stations. The second is through the Federal Land/Water Conservation Fund, which would provide a 50 percent matching grant.

Chelsea Recreation Council has agreed to help by providing a Five Year Chelsea Recreation Plan, which would include the bike paths. The plan will be included with the grant proposals.

Adults who have agreed to help with the grant writing include Mike Muha, Stu Robinovitz, Tom Tuttle, Tim Merkel, Dave Cooper, Chris Woodruff, Jackie Rogers, and Conrad Knutsen. Fifth grade representatives will also work with the grant committee.

Education Foundation Outlines Projects at Brunch Fundraiser

Three initial projects have been proposed by the newly-formed Chelsea Education Foundation.

The projects were outlined during a Valentine's Brunch fundraiser Feb. 10 at Chelsea Community Hospital. In addition, Chelsea-area resident William Rosenberg, author of the recently-adopted Clean Air Bill, addressed the group.

Proposed projects are a scholarship fund designated for adult education graduates, a national speakers bureau, and an on-going summer environmental awareness program for kindergarten through 12th grade students.

Dr. Emily Jessup, an instructor at the University of Michigan who introduced the idea of an ecology project to the foundation, discussed what is being called the Waterloo Recreation Area Project, or WRAP.

Jessup said the program will give participants an opportunity to study the unique geology, ecology, and biology of the area, as well as help identify their uses and the reasons for preserving them.

The program is scheduled to run July 22-26 for about 80 students at the Eddy Geology Center. Interested community members, resident experts, and additional resources will be sought as the project develops. Long-range plans include expanding the scope of the project and the number of participants for future sessions.

Rosenberg discussed the global impact of the Clean Air Bill, how citizens will be affected, and the importance of localized programs like recycling and WRAP in promoting environmental awareness.

For more information about the foundation, write to P. O. Box 296, Chelsea 48118.

Season's First Robins Reported Tuesday

Michael Schubring of Tory Lane has the honor of reporting the first robin of the season.

Michael not only saw the first robin—he saw the first 15—about noon Tuesday.

After the frigid weather of the past week, combined with the season's heaviest snowfall, the robin clan may have emerged to enjoy Tuesday's comparatively warm (45 degrees) weather.

Civic Foundation Grants Used for Three Programs

A choir, a substance abuse program, and the village's recycling program all recently received grants from the Civic Foundation of Chelsea.

The foundation approved the expenditures at its December board meeting.

The newly-formed Washington Street Show Choir will use $1,500 from the foundation for special risers needed by the group for its performances. The choir, directed by Steven Hinz, will give concerts and cabaret shows, private performances, and will help with fund-raisers. The group is expected to aid high school students in professional growth in music.

Chelsea Arbor Treatment Center has received a check for $1,000 for its Children's Prevention Group. The center, a new combined venture of Chelsea Community Hospital and the University of Michigan Medical Center, provides residential and outpatient services for people with substance abuse problems.

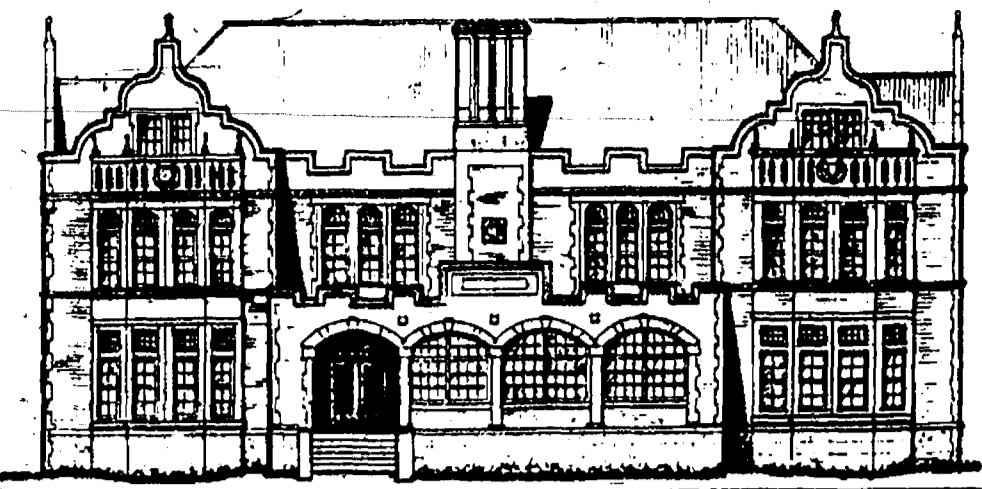

The children's group provides counseling and education for children of substance abusers. The money will provide tuition and scholarships for some children as well as training of additional therapists. Equipment and supplies to be purchased include videos, workbooks, and therapeutic toys and games.

The children's group is traditionally under-funded and in need of external aid.

CIVIC FOUNDATION OF CHELSEA gave $2,500 to the village's Solid Waste Committee for use in the village's recycling program. Frank Hammer, chair of the committee, left, accepted the money from foundation president David Swan.

Someone apparently tried to steal the large American flag on the south end of the village at the Palmer Ford used car lot. Chelsea police reported that someone cut the nylon rope on the flag pole. Police said the potential thieves were probably scared away before they could complete the job. The first flag on the lot was stolen a year before and never recovered. This was the first theft attempt since the first flag was stolen.

Young-Ho Shin was a brave little boy. The six-year-old from Seoul, South Korea, came to Michigan without knowing the first word of English to stay with a family he had never met in a completely unfamiliar culture in order to receive open heart surgery for a congenital heart defect. Young-Ho's bravery and general good nature was a blessing to the Robert and Dona Baird family of Chelsea. The Bairds hosted Young-Ho under the Heal The Children program, a young and expanding non-profit national program designed to provide needed medical help for underprivileged children overseas.

A Belleville woman was stopped on I-94 after reports from citizens band radios indicated a driver was swerving all over the road, "and might kill somebody." Chelsea police assisted the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department in stopping the woman, whose car was veering from lane to lane. Reports indicated that Chelsea Officer David Dettling had to swerve his police cruiser into the median to avoid being hit.

Beach Middle school swim team made an excellent showing at the Middle School Swimming and Diving State Championships at Hill High School in Lansing. The meet included

20 teams from all over the state. Leading the way for Chelsea was eighth grader Von Acker, whose 50-yard freestyle and 50 butterfly made him a double-state champion. "I was very proud of Von and everyone else we had swimming today," said Chelsea coach Dave Brinklow. "After swimming so well last week, I thought we might have trouble repeating those performances, but in most cases we improved. Eighth grader Joe Huetteman and seventh grader Erika Boughton did especially well."

Mrs. Joe Scott unceremoniously found herself in the role of a good samaritan when she rescued a kitten from winter's icy grip. She was crossing a field when she discovered the calico kitten feebly struggling, but unable to move because the end of its tail had been frozen into the snow. According to a neighborhood boy, the kitten had been pinned in the same location for nearly two days. Mrs. Scott noticed some dogs approach the kitten, but it failed to move. She then freed the kitten's tail and took the animal home. There the kitten spent two days thawing out, sleeping most of the time. "I've never seen anything happen like that before," Mrs. Scott said. "The kitten fully recovered and was adopted by a neighbor as a household pet."

Built 110 years ago, the Old Zion Lutheran church was subject of a preservation campaign to keep the historic building in good repair for the cultural enhancement of future generations. Without the necessary funds to preserve the church, the structure would eventually be demolished. Zion Lutheran church congregation members were asking for community support to keep the structure intact.

More than 160 striking hourly workers at Chelsea's Rockwell International plant returned to work following tentative agreement on a new national three-year pact by negotiators in the contract dispute. The striking workers, members of the UAW Amalgamated Local 437, had been out for 14 days.

State Urges Congress To Pay Unemployment Insurance

Business and labor leaders, Democrats and Republicans have joined forces in urging the U.S. Congress and President Bush to stop underfunding administration of the federal unemployment insurance program and secure a long-term solution to the problem.

As the House and Senate passed identical resolutions (HR 14, SR 23) to approve $10 million in emergency supplemental appropriations for unemployment insurance, Michigan took the lead in what organizers hope will be a national effort to provide adequate funding to compensate the unemployed. About four other states have been organizing support for similar resolutions.

Rep. Ray Murphy (D-Detroit), House Labor Committee chair, said the resolutions also request establishment of an adequate federal reserve fund to handle unanticipated increases in unemployment, modeled after the state's budget stabilization fund.

"By drawing down funds based on actual unemployment workload, we would eliminate the need for yearly emergency supplementals," Murphy said.

The state currently receives about 75 cents for every $1 it is supposed to through the federal UI program. For the week ending Jan. 19, 198,000 idled Michigan workers were eligible for unemployment compensation.

Since then, the number has risen by about 10,000 a week and with each ad-

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

ditional applicant, the state becomes more under-funded.

As a result, the program is understaffed by 325-350 people and typical workers who used to receive their first checks about two weeks after being laid off are now waiting an average of one month and up to nine weeks, said Sen. John Cherry (D-Clio), a member of the Labor Committee.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission staff level has dropped from 6,200 in 1980 to 2,400.

Though computer delays have stopped plaguing the program, business and labor leaders said they expect the under-staffing to create further delays and reduce accuracy in issuing employer tax bills, processing collections and crediting the correct accounts.

The ad hoc group on UI administration suspected under-funding as early as last November, said Sen. Fred Dillingham (R-Fowlerville), a former chair of the Senate labor committee and now assistant majority leader. The same problem occurred last year but the state was eventually fully funded, he said.

Dillingham said the state used $3.5 million from its contingency fund last year to cover federal under-funding but it does not have the same option this year. "We don't have the funds available to make up the difference," he said. "The problem is we have reserves to stop minor cuts but not to stop an amputation."

The U.S. Department of Labor has said it is under-funding the national UI program by $201 million. Michigan's share of the shortfall is disproportionately high at $10 million. "I don't know if we're being unfairly singled out," State Chamber of Commerce President Jim Barrett said.

Criticizing the federal government for collecting $5 billion a year in taxes from employers to administer the employment security system and using $2 billion of it to help offset the federal deficit, Sen. David Bonior (R-West Bloomfield) accused Congress of using an "accounting gimmick" and warned the funds are earmarked and will eventually have to be given to the states.

"Employers are greatly concerned about the administrative funding shortfall," Barrett said. "We strongly object to shortchanging the operations of state UI agencies so that these surplus employer taxes can be used to balance the budget."

Though the resolutions may not require any action from Congress, Dillingham said the nation-wide support of similar resolutions last year forced Congress to fully compensate the states.

House Plan Would Offer Security, Support for Desert Storm Troops
Michigan's 5,000 troops serving in the Middle East war would receive support and financial security, including cash bonuses and free college education opportunities, under a package of bills offered by a number of House Democrats.

The officials said they had no idea how much the proposals would cost.

House Speaker Lewis Dodak (D-Montrose), a Vietnam combat veteran, said while the concepts need considerable exploring in order to determine their costs, they more importantly indicate strong support from the homefront.

"They know if they are being supported or not. I know how important it is to have the support of the people back home," said Dodak. "We didn't have that in Vietnam."

Rep. Lynn Owen (D-Maybee), also a Vietnam combat veteran, agreed with Dodak that the support is essential. "I do think it's very important right now that we on the homefront show 100 percent support," he said.

Owen's bill would create a bonus program in which veterans would receive a cash amount from the state. Following their service in Vietnam, Owen said, he and Dodak each received $800. Those who served but were not in combat received $400, they said.

Although the bills have been introduced by Democrats, Dodak said the issue is not a partisan one and he expects Republicans will offer their suggestions during their consideration, or even introduce their own legislation.

While no time frames have yet been established for the benefits being offered under the proposals, one bill would provide tuition free education at Michigan public colleges and universities for dependents of active duty military personnel serving in a combat zone.

Other provisions in the package include the following:

—require the state to make up the difference between the regular salary and the military pay of any state government employee who is called into active National Guard or armed services reserves duty.

—exempt any person who is called into active National Guard or armed services reserves duty or who serves in the combat zone from state income taxes during the duty period and permit local governments to exempt them from local income and property taxes.

—exempt the dependents of active duty military personnel from Michigan income taxes on any job taken after the service person was called to duty and for the duration of the duty.

—allow sales and use tax exemptions for dependents of active duty military personnel serving in combat zones.

—waive certain state license fees, such as those for automobile license plates and hunting and fishing, for active duty military personnel serving in a combat zone and their dependents.

—provide single business tax deductions for employers who continue to pay full salaries to employees called into active National Guard or armed services reserves duty.

—automatically include the dependents of active duty military personnel in free school breakfast and lunch programs.

—establish in law that military personnel serving in a combat zone and or called into active National Guard or armed services reserves duty will have an additional 120 days following their return to Michigan to file their state income tax return. Governor John Engler has already called for this provision through an executive order.

—establish in law that active duty military personnel serving in a combat zone are exempted from all property foreclosure, forfeiture and repossession proceedings for 180 days after their return to their civilian jobs.

—extend Medicaid benefits to dependents of military personnel serving in a combat zone and or called into active National Guard or armed services reserves duty whose household incomes are 200 percent of the poverty level or lower, for up to 12 months after the completion of service.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I've heard it said that the good Lord give dogs fleas so they worry about fleas instead of worrying about being dogs. The longer I live the surer I am that the Lord give us Congress to hold down our worrying about aggravations of life as it is actual lived. I mentioned to the fellers at the country store Saturday night that Congress has been so caught up taking credit and placing blame for the war it has clear forgot there's a Government to run. I took note that the only domestic matter to come out of Washington in the past month is higher mail rates.

My lament got the fellers worrying about worrying. Bug Hookum had read where we gained or lost a second last year and he wondered which, and what difference it made. He had saw where a scientist that works with atomic clocks says the earth now is running 42 seconds behind, and Bug ask behind what. Actual, Bug said, he was worrying because he can't understand time. Fer instance, he still worries how airplanes can leave Paris and git to New York before they left Paris.

Until recent, Zeke Grubb noted, we have been warned that radon gas will git us late if asbestos don't git us soon. Now the worry is that removing asbestos from pipes is worse than not removing it, because we can't git rid of it safe, and the radon risk is so low we'd do better helping folks git housing than git rid of the gas in houses we got.

If that ain't enough, Zeke went on, here comes word that chewing gum is hazardous to health because it's got hydrocarbons that has been banned from all food. Take away the bubblegum and you might as well take away the kids, Zeke declared, because we won't be able to live around em. The best thing we can hope fer, he said, is that people that worry about such matters will remember it's time to take another stab at whether coffee is good or bad, and by the time they git back to chewing gum it'll be good again.

General speaking, Ed Doolittle said, Zeke was on the right track. What's good and bad usual depends on the feller making the ruling. Fer instance, Ed said, a doctor looks at a alcoholic and sees a patient, so the poor devil has a disease. The Veterans Administration looks at the same alcoholic and sees a drunk that has give up his right to VA benefits. Ed said he and his old lady moved four times the first year they was married. He worried about tearing up their furniture by hauling it around, but his old lady saw the chance to collect a supply of curtains to fit ever size window.

It all depends on who's buying and who's selling, Ed said. He has seen fancy whisky bottles sell empty at flea markets fer twice what they cost full. Magazines poke fun at television fer running all the ads, but Ed said he thumbed through his old lady's Family Living the other day and he couldn't find anything to read. It even listed ads where reglar magazines list stories.

As fer how we see things, I recall the feller that saw a accident and was called to be a witness in court. After he told what happened, the young lawyer fer the other side doubted his account and ask how far his old eyes could see.

"Well, I can see the moon," he said. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Historical Society Meets for Annual Founders' Dinner

Chelsea Area Historical Society held their 17th annual Founders' Dinner in the depot community room on Monday, Feb. 11. It was the first time the group has used the room for the dinner. Lynda and Chris Collins decorated the tables with festive valentine place mats and heart-shaped balloons as centerpieces.

Twenty-two members and guests were present to enjoy the dinner and an oral history by John Keusch reminiscing about his childhood in Chelsea.

During the business meeting, Hazel Dittmar detailed the plans for a train trip to Chicago on April 13-14. Details will be published so that interested persons may contact Hazel Dittmar if they want to join the travelers to Chicago.

Woman's Club Enjoys Program On Rug Hooking

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met Feb. 12 at the Crippen House at the Chelsea United Methodist Home.

Joan Dietle, a Chelsea resident, presented a program on colonial rug hooking. She displayed several lovely rugs she has made. Joan demonstrated the art of hooking and the machine she uses for cutting strips of material. Much of the material is from old wool clothing given to her by friends or what she buys at rummage sales. She gave hints on the cleaning and storage of the rugs. It was a delightful program. Dorothy Mielke and Marge Travis were the evening's hostesses.

On Feb. 14 the Club entertained the Methodist Retirement Home residents with their annual Valentine Party. Many delicious cookies were enjoyed while the Kitchen Band played.

The March 12 program will be held at the McKune Library. Sandy Schunk, social services co-ordinator at the Methodist Home will present the program.

Marilyn Haug and Marian Kerns will be the hostesses.

The first strike by federal government workers was in 1835 by navy yard workers in Washington, D.C., according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Lioness Hear Update on Methodist Home Activities

Chelsea Lioness received an update on activities at the Chelsea Methodist Home at their general membership meeting Monday evening, Feb. 11 at Society Bank.

Guest speakers were Connie Amick, assistant administrator at the Home, and their volunteer co-ordinator, Bonnie Haist.

The Home is undergoing many changes with the addition of more apartments and rooms in the retirement section but the great need for volunteers remains the same. People are still needed to help transport and visit with residents as well as do special projects with them. The rewards are great and the Home is very flexible in scheduling volunteer time.

The Methodist Home has planned an Open House to celebrate the completion of their addition on Sunday, Oct. 20 at 3 p.m. Those attending will see how the architectural features of the previous building have been maintained. Red brick is used, a sloped, not flat, roof and some of the same white pillars that graced the old front porch will be in the lobby. The previous building dated from 1906 and had far too many defects and inconveniences to make remodeling it worthwhile for the population it served.

In the business meeting that followed the speakers, two Grass Lake Lionesses informed members of special plans for the District 11-B-1 Lions' convention to be held in Jackson, March 15, 16 and 17. Nancy Sharp and Jo Savoy, president and treasurer, respectively, of Grass Lake Lionesses, told of special convention activities planned by and for Lionesses, including a fashion show with members as models.

In other business, upcoming service projects were discussed as well as ways to pay for them. The Chelsea Lions and Lionesses will again sponsor the circus on June 28. The McKune Library tea held Saturday, Feb. 9, was reported a success and a very enjoyable project. Plans were finalized for the 11th anniversary dinner to be held March 11 at the Chelsea Hospital Dining Room.

A meaningful end to the meeting was the election of Margaret Murphy as Chelsea Lioness of the Year. She is current president of the club, has served as president in previous years, has held many offices in the club as well as performed many other duties. She does all this with a positive, friendly attitude, she's a lot of fun, and the Chelsea Lionesses are proud to have her represent them.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON—A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named product Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143, I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 15 days on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One is available through physicians and pharmacies without a prescription because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients already known to be safe. Copies of the referenced study are available free from National Dietary Research, Suite 553, 1377 K St., Washington, DC 20005, however, please include $2 postage & handling for each request.

Food Source One is available in chocolate, vanilla or strawberry. A 100 tablet supply only $24.98. Food Source One is available at:

'Once Upon A Mattress' Tickets Now Available

Where will one be able to find a castle complete with court ladies and knights, a queen, king, prince, princess, and wizard? The answer is at the Chelsea High School Auditorium on Feb. 28, March 1, and March 2. A cast made up of talented students will present "Once Upon A Mattress."

The musical was written by Jay Thompson, Marshall Barer, Dean Fuller, and Mary Rodgers. The show first appeared on stage in 1959 and boasted a cast that included Carol Burnett.

Now the show comes to the CHS stage to tell the story of the princess and the pea. The kingdom is ruled over by an overbearing queen (Becky Pryor) and a mute king (Justin White). A court law proclaims that, "Throughout the land no one may wed, 'till Dauntless (the prince) to the altar's led." However, the queen makes this task as hard as possible by giving each princess a "royalty test" that is always impossible to pass.

Needing to marry his pregnant fiancée Lady Larken (Laurie Honbaum) in the near future, Sir Harry (Matt Carlson) sets out to find a princess for Prince Dauntless (Brett Salamin). He returns with what most find and unusual sort of princess—Winnifred the Woebegone (Megan Stielstra). However, desperate for Dauntless to be wed, the kingdom quickly grows fond of Winnifred.

Not all, however, approve of Winnifred. The queen and her slimy accomplice, the wizard (Joe Zetelmaier), attempt to find a test impossible for the princess to pass. Meanwhile the minstrel (Jeremy Sterling) and the jester (Howie Brooks) try to defeat the queen's treacherous schemes.

"Once Upon A Mattress" will be an enjoyable musical comedy for the whole family. Tickets are now on sale at the Chelsea Pharmacy.

QUOTES

NOTES

DONALD A. COLE
Director

"There is no season such delight can bring, as summer, autumn, winter and spring . . ."

—Old Saying

There is much to appreciate about each of the seasons. Youngsters do this more easily than do adults, who may have grown so accustomed to the changing of the seasons that they are no longer thrilled by the process.

Whoever heard of youngsters dreading the heat of summer or the chill of winter? Adults should borrow some of the enthusiastic optimism that is so evident in youth, and enjoy the delights that are to be found in each of the seasons.

Arrangements made in advance can relieve a bereaved family of a great burden at time of need. We invite you to ask us to outline the advantages for you.

Thursday, Feb. 23, 1967—

Christine Lindauer received a Good Citizen Award presented by the Sarah Caswell Angell Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Awards were presented to eight Washtenaw county high school girls in a ceremony at the Woman's City Club, Ann Arbor. Since 1935, the DAR has made an annual award to one high school senior girl from each of the area public schools. The girls are selected by fellow students and teachers on the basis of leadership, service, dependability and patriotism.

One of the first steps in a complex and lengthy moving process was taken when Spicer power take-off units were first assembled at Dana Corporation's new plant. At a later date the Spicer assembly line would be moved to the older Chelsea plant where it would be integrated with the Chelsea power take-off assembly. The move into the new plant began at the end of January and was expected to continue until at least late April.

"America is a place of simple people," said George Scrivener in addressing the Chelsea Kiwanis club. He described Americans as "delightfully straight-forward, cheerfully plain." Scrivener taught at North school while Robert Benedict from Chelsea taught in Tuxted in Scrivener's place. His gratitude to and affection for Chelsea were evident. He said, "I love this place, it's home to me."

The board of the Washtenaw, Chelsea Local of Michigan Animal Breeders Corp. was honored as the Outstanding MABC District Local board for 1986. Members of the honored board were Herman Koehn of Chelsea, president; Robert Mast of Dexter, vice-president; Wesley Amsdill of Dexter, secretary; Robert Breuninger, Harold Gross, Raymond Shairer, all of Dexter; Walter Wolfgang of Chelsea.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Feb. 21, 1957—

A two-car collision on US-12 near M-52 resulted in various head, leg and face injuries to six young people, ranging from 15 to 23 years of age. Four of the young people were from Ann Arbor, one from Portage Lake and the other from Dexter, Judy Lantis.

Girls of Brownie Troop 51 visited Chelsea Milling Co. and saw how Jiffy mixes are made. Each girl received some of the Jiffy cake mixes as a gift. They were also served chocolate milk and cookies and reported having "a wonderful time."

The Village Council abolished the rank and salary of chief of police and reduced the present chief to the rank of "patrolman A." As a result of the action of the Council in abolishing the post of chief of police, John Carman, who served in that capacity the past three years, verbally tendered his resignation to become effective the next morning. With abolishment of the post of police chief the police department would be under the direction of the village president and the Village Council police committee.

Chelsea Manufacturing Corporation would expand and extend its operations, according to an announcement made by L. M. Benkert, president. Benkert fully believed that the new models to be introduced would offer a new approach to both industrial and personal transportation.

Chelsea 1995 is one of the major supporters of the project. The group had independently decided a bike path would be good for the community before they were approached by the community problem solving program.

It's likely the bike path will continue as the community problem-solving project for next year's fifth graders in the Enrichment Triad Program.

The village plans to use its $2,500 in grant money to put a concrete floor in its storage barn, which is used to store recycled materials until they can be shipped to buyers. The barn has a dirt floor, which creates problems with the storage of the jugs, as well as the future storage of cardboard.

The village, along with nine other units of government in western Washtenaw county, is scheduled to benefit from a $330,000 recycling grant from the state this fall. Until then, however, money is scarce.

DAR 'Good Citizen' Awards Presented to Outstanding Seniors

Two area high school seniors have been selected by their respective schools to receive Good Citizen Awards from the Sarah Caswell Angell Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The awards were presented at a ceremony at the Ann Arbor Women's City Club, 1830 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, on Saturday, Feb. 16. Professor Gerald Moran, University of Michigan at Dearborn, spoke on "Women in Colonial Times."

Students selected are Sarah Gegenheimer of Chelsea High school and Susan Davis of Dexter High school.

Gegenheimer is the daughter of Jennifer Gegenheimer-Holmes of Chelsea and Robert Hurcomb of Clawson. Miss Gegenheimer is president of the Student Council of Chelsea High school and is editor-in-chief of the student newspaper. She is currently participating in a mentorship program through the University of Michigan. She is the 1990 Junior-Senior Prom co-chairperson and is an honor student. She is a member of the forensic team and varsity tennis team. Miss Gegenheimer is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students and was chosen the 1990 Outstanding Junior English Student. She is a varsity letter winner and was a delegate to Girls State. Miss Gegenheimer plans to attend college to pursue a career in marketing research.

Susan L. Davis is the daughter of Richard and Vivian Davis of Ann Arbor. She is a member of the National Honor Society of Dexter High school and has served as treasurer-historian. She was chosen to attend Michigan Summer Institute for the Arts and Sciences and has participated in the Michigan Science Olympiad. She is a member of the Drama Club, German Club, and Prom Committee. Miss Davis has received a varsity letter for academics. She will attend college but is undecided about her field of study.

Because our youth hold the future in their hands, the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution established a Good Citizens Contest in high schools in 1934 to recognize and encourage outstanding young people in the pursuit of high ideals. The DAR Good Citizens Contest is open to boys and girls in the senior classes of accredited public and private high schools in good standing with the State Board of Education. The student selected as the school's "DAR Good Citizen" must have the qualities of LEADERSHIP, which includes...personality, self-control, ability to assume responsibility; DEPENDABILITY, which includes truthfulness, loyalty, punctuality; SERVICE, which includes cooperation, courtesy, consideration of others; PATRIOTISM, which includes unselfish interest in family, school, community, and nation, to an outstanding degree. The faculty selects three seniors having these qualifications and from the three, the senior class selects one to be the school's "DAR Good Citizen." All award recipients may enter competition for the DAR of Michigan Good Citizen Award, to be presented in April in East Lansing. The Michigan Good Citizen Award is based on personal accomplishments and an essay submitted by the local Good Citizens.

YOU & YOUR PET

By Linda Rolder
Director of Education
Humane Society of Huron Valley

* Pet Overpopulation

After having worked at humane societies for over five years, and personally euthanizing over 2,000 cats, dogs, and other small pets, I am convinced that most people are unaware of the huge surplus of pets here in our county and nation-wide. Just to give you an idea of the extent of the problem in our area, the Humane Society of Huron Valley (HSHV) receives over 10,000 animals annually, or about 200 stray and unwanted cats, dogs, rodents, and wild animals every week.

About half of the animals coming to the shelter are ones people no longer can keep, the rest are strays. Litters of puppies and kittens, sometimes with the mother animals, are dropped off in boxes and crates. What were these owners thinking of when they got the female dog or cat in the first place? Did they believe that their animal would never get pregnant, or that they could easily find homes for all the babies?

Owners of male pets do not have to deal with the consequences of their pets' breeding, and frequently fail to neuter the animals. Yet when the male dog jumps the fence and goes for a jaunt, he is many times breeding a female. The same goes for unneutered male cats allowed to roam the neighborhoods.

Pets in our society are cheap and easily-obtained by people regardless of whether they are prepared for pet ownership. Local papers list ad after "free to good home" ad. People that have a litter or even just one pet to give away are frequently not careful about screening the potential new owner to determine if they have the monetary means and proper knowledge to care for the animals. Pet stores that sell dogs and cats don't screen purchasers either.

And it is just these animals that later come by the hundreds and thousands to last-resort shelters such as HSHV. "He got too big for the apartment," "It's too expensive to get her spayed," "He's chewing everything in sight," "We just don't have the time to take care of her." These and a hundred other reasons are given as the animals are passed over the counter at the shelter.

If only those ex-owners could be present when the shelter technicians carry out the saddest and most difficult part of their job. If only the people who thoughtlessly allowed their pet to breed could watch the tiny creatures as they receive their final hug and injection of their short lives.

As one of the people who has euthanized abandoned pets day after day, I ask you to please think carefully before getting an animal. Make sure you have the financial and time resources to care for him or her properly, and that you spay or neuter your pet at or before age six months.

Next Week: "Spaying and Neutering."

Bill Introduced To Cut School Taxes For Senior Citizens

Senior citizens with incomes below $73,650 would be exempt from all school taxes by 1993 under legislation introduced in the Michigan House, announced state Rep. Margaret O'Connor, R-Lodi township.

O'Connor is co-sponsor of House Bill 4242, one of the key proposals of a comprehensive property tax relief package sponsored in the House and Senate. The bills implement Gov. Engler's property tax cut plan.

The 12-bill package would reduce assessments against school operating taxes by 20 percent during the next three years.

"Michigan's burdensome property taxes have hurt family budgets and damaged our state's ability to stay competitive," O'Connor said. "One of the hardest hit groups are senior citizens who must endure on fixed incomes."

Under the O'Connor bill, seniors with an income below $73,650 would be granted a 50 percent exemption in calendar year 1991, followed in 1992 by a 75 percent break and a 100 percent exemption in 1993.

The entire package will result in a gross tax cut of $776 million in 1991 alone, O'Connor explained. By 1994, that savings will reach $2.3 billion.

"This plan addresses the needs of homeowners, families and senior citizens, and lays a foundation for Michigan's economic growth," O'Connor said.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
I for one was not sickened by the article, "Red, White & Blue" which appeared in the Feb. 6 issue of The Dexter Leader.

The writer seemed more concerned for Iraq, than for peace or lives of those civilians and babies in Kuwait that Saddam Hussein murdered while taking over that country. Apparently this person only watched the news for one day since August because our country did not make the decision to attack Iraq, the United Nations did. As far as civilian targets being bombed because the United Nations suspect military hardware is hidden there may be true. But I believe those installations are placed in civilian areas on purpose. I also believe the civilians are detained there by Saddam's army knowing that the United Nations Forces will not deliberately bomb these areas. This man has no value of life or he would not be killing his own military personnel or civilians who disobey his orders. His only goal is to save face and remain in control at any cost to the lives of persons who do not believe in him or his goals.

I further believe that the writer of "Red, White & Blue" was only showing their support of all the troops taking part in this war. Being a free country, we all have the right to express our views no matter what the subject.

I have a son in Saudi Arabia, along with 15 to 20 other military persons from the Dexter area who are friends or acquaintances of ours. I not only pray for peace, but I also pray for the safety of all persons affected by this war whether they are military or civilian, United States or foreign. Let's all be patriotic and not call this a football game.

Dear Editor:

At a time when the men and women in our armed forces are facing their greatest test, we at home are facing a test as well. Our test is to maintain our unity and resolve, as our troops are doing in the Persian Gulf.

We don't want Saddam Hussein to take this country's tolerance for anti-war demonstrators as a signal he should wait out our resolve in a long and bloody war.

I'm outraged at the brutal treatment of our POW's. And I'm saddened to see the media give so much attention to the small number of anti-war protesters who have sprung into action. It seems that every time a few protesters pick up their signs, the cameras swarm around them, and they end up on the news.

Our soldiers have said they have a job to do and are going to get it done. I feel I have a job to do, too. And that's to stand up in strong support of our troops.

I want them to know that I and the American people are very proud of them. We are all inspired by their bravery.

I hope that you'll print my letter, and others like it, in the days ahead.

Thousands of local American newspapers are reaching our men and women in uniform every day. Your newspaper may be one of them. I want the troops to know that we hold them in our thoughts and prayers every day.

'Yellow Ribbon' Has Long History in Songs

The "Yellow Ribbons" story, which Cheryl Williams researched, and The Herald-Palladium, the newspaper for which she is the Stevensville correspondent, published recently, will probably prove very interesting to the readers of The Dexter Leader and The Chelsea Standard.

She wrote, "It all seemed harmless enough—suggesting that someone at the paper do a story on how the yellow ribbon tradition started."

"After all, a piece on the tradition's origin would lend a historical perspective to the many articles on the yellow ribbons as a show of support for our troops overseas."

"Little did I know that I would get a call a couple days later, 'Great, why don't you go ahead?'"

"So, after a couple tips from the editors about where to start, I began my adventure. Based on past experience, I felt sure that if I asked enough people, there would be an answer."

"Of course, I was familiar with the song, 'Tie a Yellow Ribbon Round the Old Oak Tree,' sung by Tony Orlando and Dawn, but I thought that the tradition went further back."

"Figuring to tap into history-types, I called my children's junior high and high school history teachers at Lakeshore."

"At the junior high, Ted Anderson checked with the other teachers, and the consensus was that perhaps it did originate with Tony Orlando."

"Jack Greenonner at the high school said he and the librarian, Jerry Stelling, were working on that very question."

"Stelling was trying to get some information via computer from a national database. So far, they had come up with a John Wayne movie and the peace symbolism of the color."

"Thinking the tradition went back to the Civil War, I called Jim Brady, an attorney and Civil War expert in Kalamazoo.

"Brady said he had no idea where the tradition originated, but that he knew the ribbons were popular during the Iran hostage crisis."

"He suggested that I call the State Department's Public Affairs office."

"I was beginning to think that Tony Orlando was personally responsible for launching what has now become a rallying point for Americans."

"Later, I went to the Lincoln Township Library, where librarian Pat Steenbergh immediately told me of the John Wayne movie, 'She Wore a Yellow Ribbon,' and led me to The Motion Picture Guide."

"The movie was it, she said. I made a photocopy of the synopsis, and was on my way."

"My next step was to watch the movie because the synopsis said nothing about the ribbon in the title."

"As I called eight video rental stores before locating the film, I began to panic. I finally found it at Meijer's."

"Watching the film that night, I was riveted to the part where Joanne Dru appears wearing a yellow ribbon in her hair, and John Wayne asks her, 'You know what that means in the cavalry?'"

"She says, 'No,' and he answers, 'A sweetheart.'"

"Bingo! In the early morning, I watched parts of it again, and wrote down the words to the song sung by the soldiers."

"Round her neck, she wore a yellow ribbon. She wore it in the winter, and the merry month of May. When they asked her why the yellow ribbon, she said it's for my lover who is in the cavalry."

"The setting for the movie was soon after Custer's last stand, June 24, 1876."

"Now—was the song about a real tradition, or was it just poetic license?"

"Through a call to Andrews University Library, I located Richard Schwarz, retired chairman of the history department, now a volunteer at the Berrien Springs Public Library."

"When I spoke with Schwarz, he said he would look into it when he got to the library, that afternoon."

"Meanwhile, I called the U. S. Department of Public Affairs office and talked with a Steve McCourtie."

"Asking him the question, 'Do you remember the Tony Orlando song? That's as far back as I can remember it.'"

"But, when asked about the John Wayne movie, he recited the first two lines of the song, 'In her hair...'"

"Late that afternoon, my journey brought me to the St. Joseph Public Library, where Anne Vandermolen and Barbara Troost were also very helpful."

"In a book titled 'American Popular Songs' (from the Revolutionary to the Present), I learned that the song, 'Round Her Neck, She Wore a Yellow Ribbon' was dated 1917."

"It was described as 'a favorite of community songs' and its ancestry was traced back to the song, 'All Around My Hat,' which was written and arranged in 1838."

"The Great Song Thesaurus listed 'She Wore a Yellow Ribbon' as one of the notable songs of 1838."

"A book of soldier songs titled 'Sound Off' said that the song originated before World War I, and dated back to the days when the blue uniforms were piped with yellow for the cavalry."

"In this book, I also learned that through the first World War, there were song leaders in the Army, and that up until 1917 and 1918, there was mass singing by the troops."

"Upon my return home, I found that Schwarz had called. He told me that Carol Grandholm, the director of the Berrien Springs Library, had been in touch with the Waukegan Public Library in Illinois."

"Grandholm had learned that the tradition of the yellow ribbons went back to the song, 'Round Her Neck...' which was popular with the cavalry in the West during the 19th century."

"Now, I could breathe easier. Yellow seems to be everyone's color, these days, with yellow ribbons springing up all over—an old and universal symbol of affection and support for our men and women in the Middle East."

Village Asks Milk Jug Recyclers To Rinse Containers

The village is asking area residents who participate in the milk jug recycling program to be sure to rinse out the jugs before sending them with their kids to school.

Frank Hammer, chair of the Solid Waste Committee, said dried milk solids, which cling to the jugs, can easily contaminate an entire bale during processing. Hammer advised rinsing the jugs and then turning them over to drain and dry.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

CHELSEA WRESTLERS who qualified for this Saturday's state tournament in Battle Creek are, from left, heavyweight Mike Terpstra, 112-pounder Karl Wikman, and 145-pounder Jim Hassett. Wikman was second and Terpstra and Hassett were each third.

Three Bulldogs Place In Regional Wrestling To Qualify for State

Three Chelsea wrestlers qualified for this Saturday's class B state meet by finishing among the top four in their weight classes at last Saturday's regional meet in Hastings.

Seniors Karl Wikman (112) and Jim Hassett (145), and junior heavyweight Mike Terpstra will all make the trip to Battle Creek.

Sophomore Kevin McCalla (140) also participated in the regional meet but didn't place.

Wikman placed second and Hassett and Terpstra each placed third. "It was a good day for us," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"As usual, there were a lot of tough wrestlers."

Wikman began with a 15-0 technical fall over Tony Lockwood of Three Rivers. In his second match he defeated Steve Arnold of Jackson Lumen Christi, 8-3.

However, in the finals he lost to Richie Collins of Jackson Northwest, 7-3. Wikman beat Collins twice last year at 103 pounds.

"The top four kids in our district at Karl's weight were the top four placers in the regional," Kargel said. "They just finished in a different order."

Wikman, last year's state champion at 103 pounds, will attempt to win his second title at 112.

"Karl will have to wrestle extremely well to take a second straight title," Kargel said.

"It's very difficult to win titles in two different weight classes."

Hassett wrestled in what Kargel said was probably the toughest weight class at the tournament, 145 pounds. In the consolation finals he beat Matt Doolittle of Allegan, 3-2, on a takedown and an escape. Doolittle has been ranked in the state all season.

"Jim wrestled with a lot of intensity," Kargel said.

"Last year he went to the state meet as a tourist but this year I hope he means business. I'd like to see him place."

Hassett opened with a 14-4 win over Bill Dollaway of Delton. In his second match he met Mark Mackey of Lakeshore and lost 11-10. Mackey was fourth in the state last year.

"Jim was controlling the match until the third period," Kargel said.

"He chose down in the third period as we always do and got an escape but Mackey caught him in a cradle for a three-point move. He should have won."

Hassett's third match was an 11-2 win over Jason Balcorn of Dexter.

Terpstra had an unusual day as he was pinned in :44 in his opening match with Todd Candelaria of Marshall. It was the second time Marshall has pinned Terpstra this season. It was also a quirk that the two squared off in the first match. Candelaria, due to an injury, finished fourth in his district, which meant he was seeded lower than he probably would have been.

"That put probably the two best heavyweights in the first match," Kargel said.

"After that match I was really worried about Mike."

Terpstra came back for a pin of Tim Parker of Harper Creek in 1:13 and a pin of Rick Chandler of Coloma in :55. In the consolation finals he earned a 5-2 decision over Chris Porter of Fowlerville.

McCalla wrestled with a pulled muscle and was hampered throughout the day. He lost 11-6 to Brett Bittenbender of Lakeshore, "a bonafide tough kid," Kargel said, then lost to Danny Kaneschiro of Marshall, 6-0.

"Kaneschiro pinned Kevin earlier in the year so I saw some improvement there," Kargel said.

Aquatic Club Swims Pinckney

Chelsea Aquatic Club lost to Pinckney, 364-276, in a meet on Thursday, Feb. 7.

The following swimmers placed first in their events.

Girls 8-and-under 100 medley relay of Deb Adams, Heidi Layher, Jocelyn Temple, and Autumn Koch, 1:41.72.

Boys 9-10 200 medley relay of Robby Frayer, Adam Wint, Christopher Frayer, and Josh Hack, 2:25.97.

Boys 11-12 200 medley relay and 200 freestyle relay of Curt Street, Matt Adams, Nick Woods, and Aaron Heaven, 2:49.53 and 2:28.98.

Girls 8-and-under 25 freestyle, Jocelyn Temple, :18.21.

Boys 9-10 50 freestyle and 100 freestyle, Robby Frayer, :32.06 and 1:12.31.

Girls 11-12 50 freestyle and 100 freestyle, Stephanie Wesolowski, :31 and 1:09.

Girls 8-and-under 100 freestyle relay of Autumn Koch, Elena Street, Meredith Davis, and Heidi Layher, 1:37.54.

Boys 9-10 200 freestyle relay of Josh Hack, Steven Cowan, Dan Koosterman, and Adam Wint, 2:58.94.

Dogs Take Their Lumps In More Ways Than One Against Ypsi, Dexter

It was a week of extremes for the Chelsea Bulldogs varsity basketball team as they suffered one of their worst losses ever, 91-39 to the Ypsilanti Braves on Tuesday, but rebounded to whallop the Dexter Dreadnaughts on Friday, 73-50. Both games were at home.

Friday's victory gave Chelsea a 6-4 record in the Southeastern Conference and assures them of finishing no worse than .500 in the league.

The Dexter game was marred by several incidents in which tempers flared and players had to be pulled apart. By the end of the game, one Dexter player was ejected for intentionally throwing an elbow, another Dreadnaught was called for an intentional foul, and a technical foul was assessed on Dexter. There were other incidents of rough play that were not called.

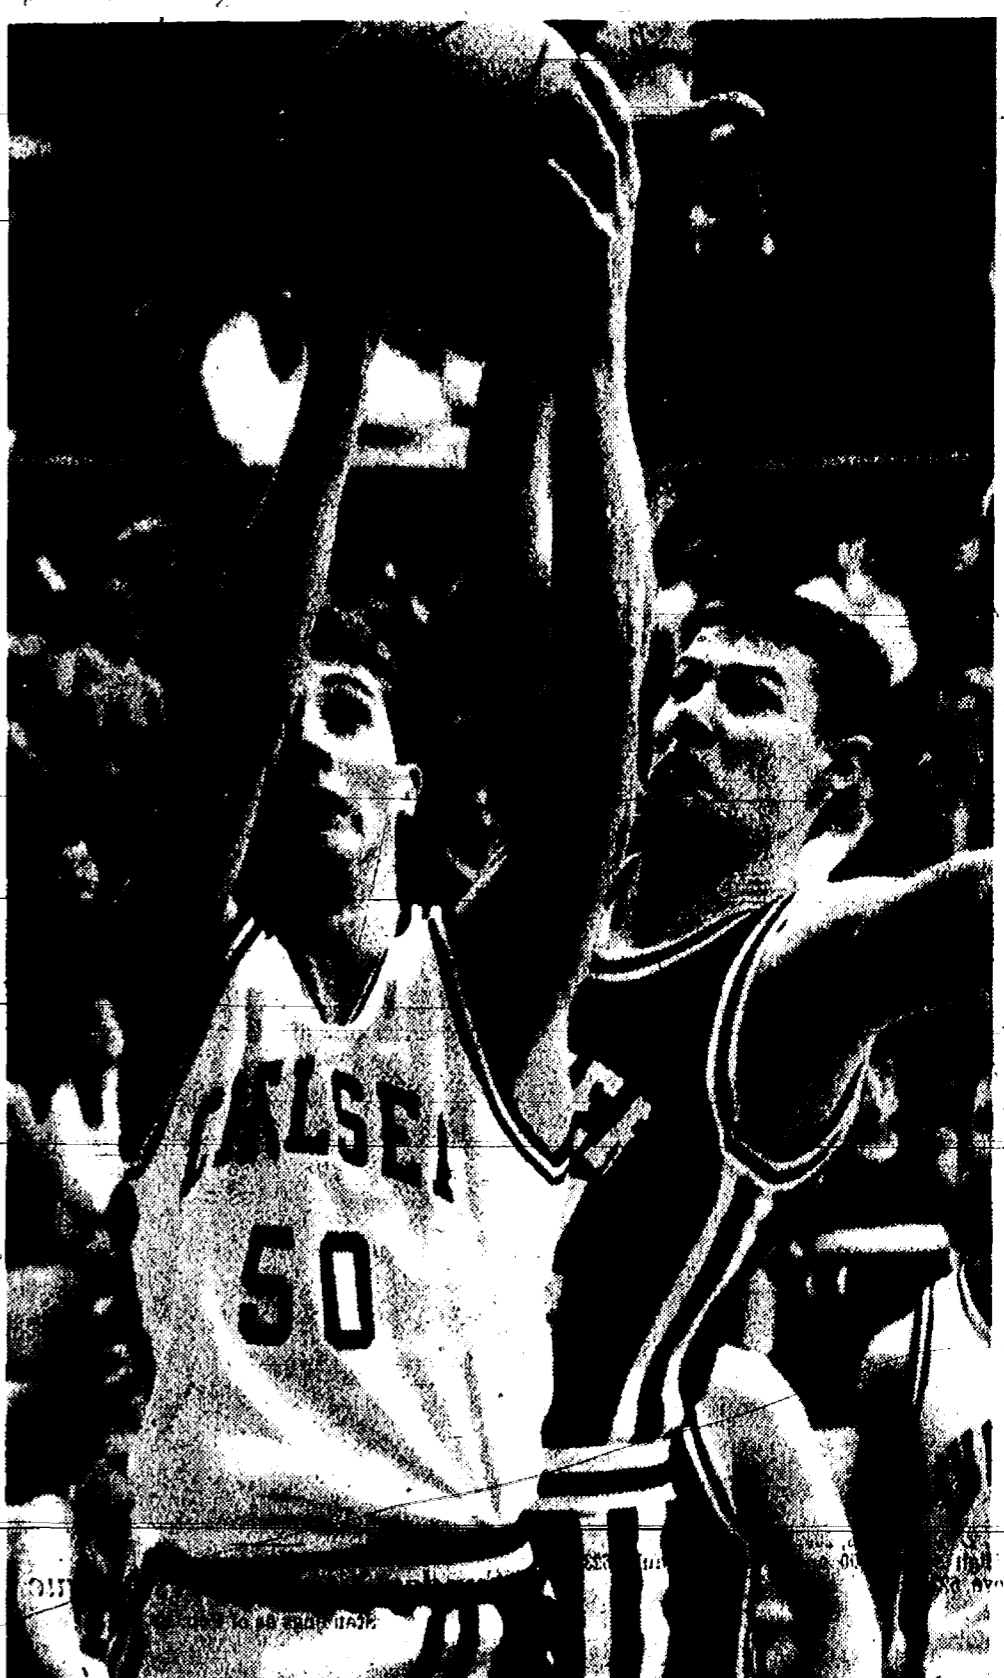

"I was pleased about how we reacted," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"I thought we kept our poise pretty well. We talked about it at half-time and we knew the officials were concerned. We wanted to stay aggressive but we didn't want to be hooked into a confrontation. Over-all, I thought we played pretty well under some unusual circumstances. We were aggressive from the beginning and were on the floor for loose balls more than we have been."

Chelsea took an early 16-9 lead by the end of the first quarter and eventually expanded their advantage to 31 points by early in the fourth quarter. Raymond began to substitute early in the final period and everyone eventually played.

Senior captain Kerry Plank had a team-high 15 points, Jon Royce scored 14, and Tucker Steele had a season-high 12 points on 10 of 10 shooting from the free throw line. Other scorers include Chris Dunham 8, Jake Rindie 8, Jeremy Stephens 5, Chris Haugen 4, Ben Hurst 2, Adam Tillman 2, and Dan Stahl 2.

Chelsea hit 39 percent (24-61) from

DEXTER'S JOHN WIEDMAN attempts to block a shot by Chelsea's Kerry Plank during last Friday's contest in Chelsea. The Bulldogs won 73-50 in one of the most physical contests of the season.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Bring on Detroit Country Day. Let's put Detroit Southwestern on the schedule.

Last Tuesday the Chelsea Bulldogs had the chance to play a good basketball team, the Ypsilanti Braves. The Braves were easily the best high school basketball team to play in the Chelsea gym in many years.

For the Bulldogs, it had to be a humbling experience, and not just because they lost by 52 points, 91 to 39. The score really didn't matter. It was clear after the first two minutes the Bulldogs didn't have a chance.

No, it was humbling because the Bulldogs, and their fans, had the chance to see what good basketball is all about. Every week we watch a guy like senior Kerry Plank, who is about as fine an all-around player as we ever see in Chelsea, and we think he's pretty special. Then Ypsi comes to town and we realize, that, yes, Plank is pretty good in comparison to the other SEC players, but there are teams out there that have two or three players who are at yet another level. An entire team of Planks couldn't have kept pace. It's a different brand of high school basketball.

And, boy, Ypsi junior Shannon-Williams is probably a couple of levels above his teammates. Early in the game, Williams, a skinny, 6-7 center, snagged an offensive rebound in one hand and jammed it back through the rim on his way down. That's the kind of stuff you see at the major college level.

But that play was nothing compared to another one just a few minutes later. He got the ball at about mid-court, about half-way between the sidelines and the jump circle. He dribbled straight for the basket as a Bulldog came down the middle of the court to cut him off. Toward the end he took a running leap at full speed, spun 180 degrees, jammed the ball backwards and ended by hanging on the rim to break his fall. I've seen few dunks at any level that were more spectacular.

The few Ypsi fans stood and cheered while Chelsea fans were either dumbfounded or sat shaking their heads.

All night long it was one giant mismatch—witness Tucker Steele, at about 6-1 and 180 pounds, guarding a 6-8, 280 pounder, their second string center. David and Goliath in the point.

All of the Braves could jump so high that it completely threw off the Bulldogs' timing. Shots Chelsea can normally get off with no problem were suddenly getting blocked.

Ypsi also had a quickness and speed advantage.

It's hard to believe the Braves have lost five games.

The Bulldogs can learn a few things from a game like that. One is a guy can practice forever but a large part of basketball skill has to do with his gene pool. Another is every other game they play this season will seem easy by comparison.

While I don't particularly enjoy seeing Chelsea get pummeled into the ground, this was one time I didn't mind so much. As a basketball fan, it was fun to see that kind of talent come to the Chelsea gym and remind us there's a whole different kind of high school basketball out there.

I'd like to see a team of that caliber on the schedule every year.

As a side note, Chelsea's JV's nearly won their game, another indication of good news for the future.

Now that Ypsi's out of the way, Chelsea gets to deal once again with Andy Poppink and the Tecumseh Indians, who come to town this Friday for the Bulldogs' final home game of the season.

(Can you believe basketball season's just about over?)

I'll bet this time it's a close game. In Tecumseh Chelsea lost by 21.

Last meeting, Tecumseh put the 6-7 Poppink at the point, which caused numerous problems. Indians were wide open for the passes and they had a field day from three-point range.

A win this week assures Chelsea of finishing above .500 in the league. They'd be 7-4 with only Pinckney left on the schedule. A win would also give the Dogs a good shot at finishing 8-4. Chelsea lost the last Pinckney game in over-time.

A couple of years ago I took a lot of heat and heard a lot of praise for suggesting that Dexter's basketball program was in the dumps. Has much really changed?

This year the Dreadnaughts are 1-15 and winless in the league. They have a new coach, Duane Clark, who incidentally is a highly-respected baseball coach who every spring seems to field a competitive, disciplined team. He is the school's second coach in three years.

Dexter seems to have much better than 1-15 talent. There's plenty of height and speed in the backcourt.

The Bulldogs whipped the Dreadnaughts last Friday by 23 points in a game that wasn't that close. It was a brutal game. Dexter had one kid tossed for throwing an intentional elbow, another earned a technical foul for slapping the backboard, and still another was called for an intentional foul. There were a couple of near-fights involving Bulldogs who usually don't get rattled very easily. Every flagrant penalty in the game went against the Dreadnaughts and it was not a case of home-court officiating.

I have never seen a Chelsea basketball team, or any other team in the league for that matter, play the kind of game Dexter did last Friday. Sure, some of it was probably pure frustration, some of it the rivalry. But an awful lot was just a plain bad attitude.

My guess is that has been the Dreadnaughts' problem much of this season.

JV Cagers Beat Dexter Dreadnaughts

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team beat the Dexter Dreadnaughts but lost to the Ypsilanti Braves at home last week.

On Friday, Chelsea broke open a close game in the fourth quarter to take a 57-46 win over the Dreadnaughts.

Chelsea played without Colby Skelton, who twisted his ankle 15 seconds into the game.

"We had to make a lot of position changes," said Chelsea coach Lonnie Mitchell.

"We finally adjusted to the changes well and took over in the fourth quarter. Pat Steele did a good job at the guard position, which he played for the first time."

Chelsea's inside players, Tom Poulter and Dana Schmunk, led the team with 15 and 13 points, and 10 and nine rebounds, respectively.

Other Chelsea scorers included Pat Steele 11, Colt White 6, Erik Brown 6, and Nick McCalla 4.

On Tuesday, the Bulldogs played the Ypsilanti Braves in a non-conference game and lost in the closing seconds, 74-68.

Chelsea had a 66-65 lead with 1:30 left.

"We had to adjust to their physical ability and speed," Mitchell said.

"Their full-court press hurt in the first quarter but we adjusted to their speed at half-time."

McCalla paced Chelsea with 25 points and Steele scored 18. Other scorers included Skelton 10, Poulter 8, Schmunk 5, and White 2.

Chelsea is 14-2 over-all and 9-1 in the Southeastern Conference.

Freshman Cagers Drop Games To Tecumseh and Pinckney

Chelsea Bulldogs freshman basketball team lost games to Tecumseh and Pinckney last week.

In a Monday, Feb. 11 game in Tecumseh, Chelsea rallied from 13 points down at the end of three quarters to tie the game at the end of regulation, but lost in over-time, 67-63.

The Bulldogs scored 21 points in the fourth quarter, including two three-point goals in the last three minutes.

"We played hard and never gave up," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"We gave a good team all they wanted on their floor. We should have won the game in regulation but missed some easy lay-ups."

Chelsea had three players in double figures, including Matt Powell 19, Gabe Bernhard 17, and Cory Brown 15. Other scorers included Jason McVittie 8 and Nathan Mackinder 4. Mackinder had 11 of Chelsea's 38 rebounds.

The Bulldogs shot 33 percent from the floor and 61 percent from the free throw line.

In other action, the Bulldogs were beaten at home by Pinckney on Thursday, Feb. 14, 55-43.

Pinckney dominated the game early and held a 20-1 lead at the end of the first quarter.

"Pinckney had total control of the first quarter," Quilter said.

"They dominated all aspects of the game, while we were intimidated and were unable to do anything right. We used a half-court zone trap later and got back in the game somewhat but we had a long way to come back."

Chelsea scorers included Brown 9, David Stimpson 8, Bernhard 8, Powell 8, Paul Lopez 4, David Seitz 3, McVittie 2, and Cory Weid 1.

Stimpson had a team-high six rebounds.

Chelsea shot 35 percent from the floor and 42 percent from the line.

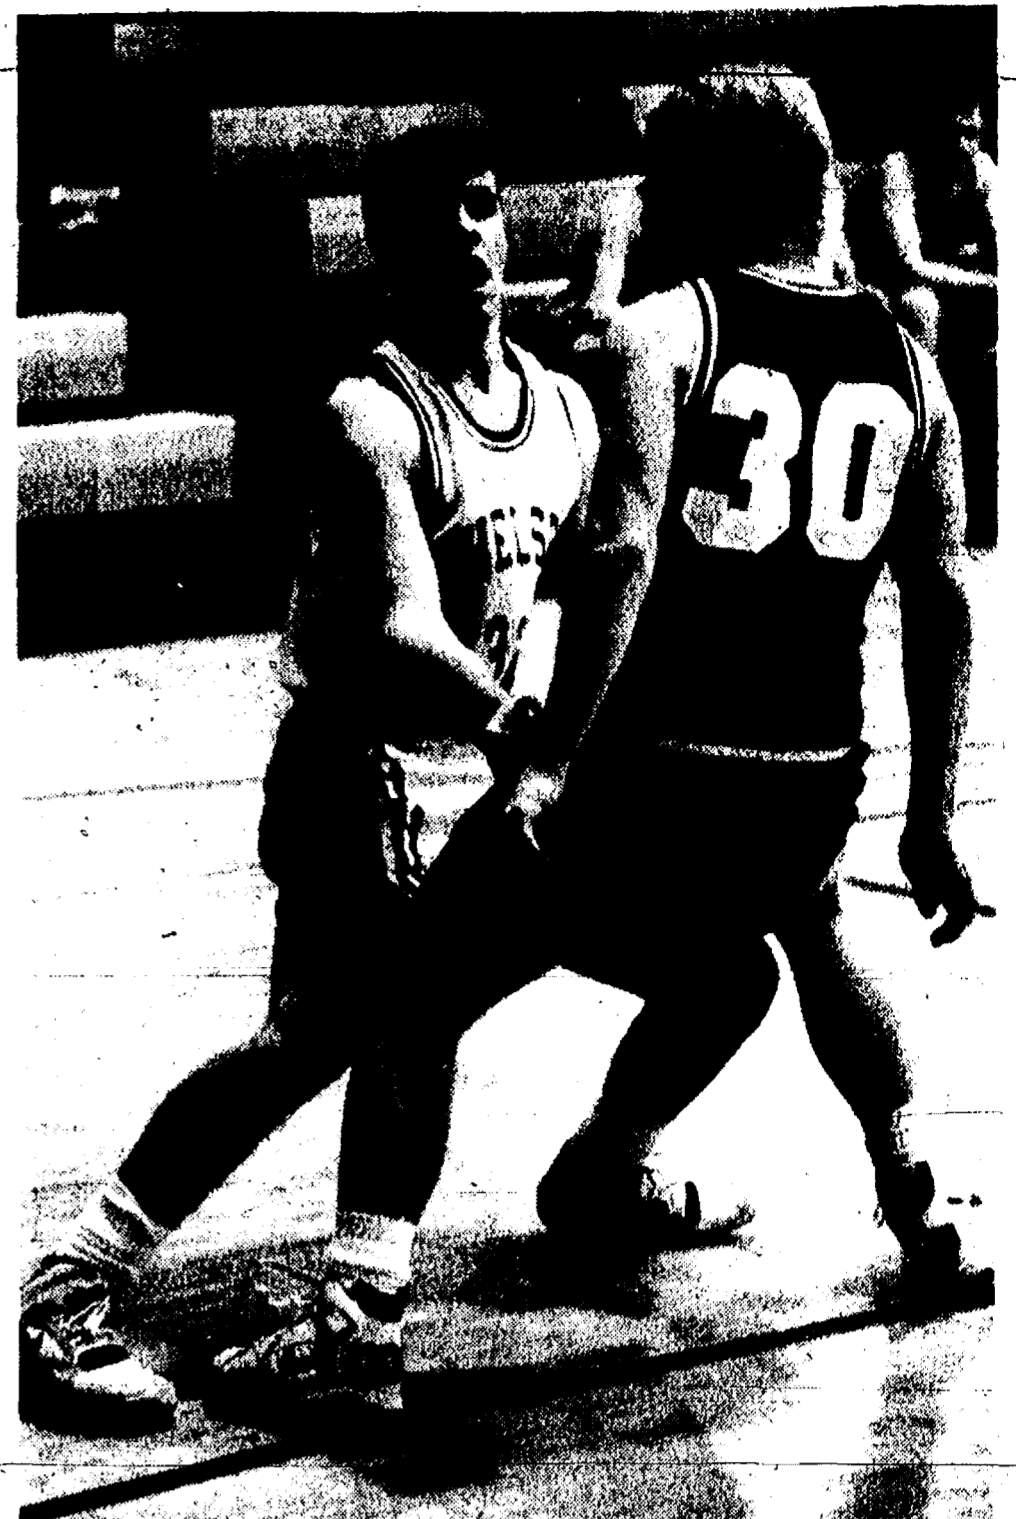

The Bulldogs dropped to 5-11 on the season.

CHELSEA'S TUCKER STEELE makes the pass around Dexter's Brent Bell during the first half of last Friday night's game in Chelsea. Steele and Bell had other close confrontations in the game, which helped Steele go to the free throw line, where he was 10 for 10. Steele scored a season-high 12 points.

Beach Swimmers Take Part In MISCA State Competition

Eight members of the Beach Middle school swimming and diving team participated in last Saturday's MISCA State Invitational in Lansing.

Coach Dave Brinklow said he was pleased with the team's performance. "It's always hard to swim two big meets in a row," Brinklow said.

"I was impressed that many of the swimmers today were so fast after our excellent meet at the Erie Mason Invitational."

Brinklow said he was particularly pleased with swimmers by eighth grade co-captain Betsy Schmunk.

"Betsy had a great day with four out of four personal-best times," Brinklow said.

"She was finally able to swim like I knew she was capable of."

The first event for Chelsea was the girls 200 yard medley relay. Christie Lonskey swam backstroke, Schmunk breaststroke, Kelly Bowers butterfly, and Stephanie Wesolowski freestyle. Their time of 2:17.37 took 10th place.

The boys medley relay consisted of Jim Bergman backstroke, Kevin Kolodica breaststroke, Chris Grossman butterfly, and Steve Straub freestyle. Their time was 2:07.63.

Bowers and Bergman each swam the 100 individual medley with times of 1:14.95 and 1:10.00, respectively.

Kolodica placed 10th in the 50 freestyle in 26.46.

Lonskey placed 14th in diving.

Bowers swam the 50 butterfly in 33.64.

The same relay teams as the medley relay also competed in the 200 freestyle relay. Each team finished eighth with times of 2:00.37 and 1:53.82, respectively.

Schmunk swam a 1:13.68 in the 100 backstroke for sixth place.

Bergman and Kolodica each competed in the 100 breaststroke. Bergman's time was 1:20.84 and Kolodica's was 1:11.59, good for sixth place.

The Rev. Rich Scherber Missionary to Africa Is Guest Speaker at Christian Fellowship

Despite the fact that many Blacks violently oppose White rule in South Africa, White missionaries are openly received," says the Rev. Rich Scherber, Assemblies of God missionary to South Africa.

The Rev. Scherber will be guest speaker at a mission's convention Feb. 22, 23 at 7 p.m. and Sunday Feb. 24 in the morning service at Chelsea Christian Fellowship, 337 Wilkinson, Chelsea. The Rev. Bill Matthews has announced.

During the past four years the Scherbbers have done extensive missionary work throughout hundreds of South Africa's Black townships. He has conducted 13-month long tent crusades which have attracted Black audiences of thousands.

In spite of the fact that Whites are almost never seen in Black townships especially during evening hours, the Rev. Scherber has managed to nightly conduct crusades without any major confrontations. The Scherbbers have also been active in building nine churches during the past four years.

The Rev. Scherber has a B.A. in Bible Literature from Northwest Bible College and a M.A. in psychology from the University of Wisconsin. Mrs. Scherber completed a bachelor of music and the M.S.T. degrees from the University of Wisconsin.

The first strike by journeymen occurred in New York City in 1768 as 20 journeymen printers refused to work unless they received "three shillings and six pence per day with diet," according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

World Day of Prayer Set Friday, March 1

World Day of Prayer, Friday, March 1, is an international worship event that bonds Christian women of all major denominations and faiths into a simultaneous day of prayer for peace and justice. This global chain of informed prayer and prayerful action, which began in the United States 104 years ago, has spread to 170 countries and regions of the world. Today its words of hope and challenge, translated into hundreds of languages and dialects, touches untold thousands of persons of faith worldwide.

This year's service was written by women of Kenya, West Africa. Its theme, "On the Journey Together," inspired the authors to travel extensively throughout their country talking and listening to their Kenyan sisters share the stories of their lives. The global service of worship they created has woven the joys, pain, concerns, and sorrows of these women into an experience that reflects what Kenyans call "Harambee," or a spirit of togetherness. It is a call for women to be caring of others as they "journey" together and work for political, economic and social progress in their lives.

Church Women United, since its founding in 1941, has been the official sponsor of World Day of Prayer in the United States.

Church Women United (CWU) is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women together into one community of prayer, advocacy and service. It represents a broad spectrum of religious traditions, race, age, economic status and ethnic background and works through a national unit, 52 state units (including those in greater Washington, D.C. and Puerto Rico) and 1,750 local units.

Unified by a common faith in Christ, the women of Church Women United work for the elimination of poverty of women and children (through Assignment: Poverty of Women) and issues of justice and peace.

In Chelsea, World Day of Prayer observances will be held in the First Congregational United Church of Christ.

Child care will be provided, call 475-7716.

Slippery Roads Cause Numerous Accidents

Deputies from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department have been busy investigating crashes on both rural roads and the I-94 expressway in the past couple of weeks, as snow and ice provided continued slippery conditions for motorists.

At 5:20 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 14, Sgt. Roger Stielow investigated a crash which occurred on North Territorial Rd., east of Scully.

Brian Keith Boonstra of Grand Rapids was traveling east when his vehicle began to fishtail and he overcorrected, sliding into some trees, and finally rolling over.

Fred Raymond Norton backed from a driveway on Grand St. into an unattended parked automobile about 3:45 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 12, and deputy Skip Davis was dispatched to investigate the incident.

A two-car crash occurred at approximately 4:40 a.m. Friday, Feb. 15, on Island Lake Rd., east of Dexter-Pinckney Rd.

Deputy Tom Reed filed a report on the crash, stating Pinckney motorist James William Ehnis failed to stop at the stop sign on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. at Island Lake Rd., the vehicle he drove slid into the westbound lane and struck one which Mark Ryan Mulder of Ann Arbor drove.

Reed noted the road at the location was icy and snow-covered.

Sharleen Elaine Dettling of Dexter was backed up on Dan Hoeve Rd., east of Baker Rd. when her vehicle went out of control, off the roadway and collided with a tree before returning to the road.

Deputy Skip Davis was summoned to the crash scene.

Davis was also dispatched about 9:50 a.m., Thursday, Feb. 14, to Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd., just west of Dan-Hoeve, where Ronald William Harris of Chelsea lost control of the vehicle he drove, resulting in the vehicle going into the ditch and rolling over.

Deputy Paul Manczak took the report of a car-deer crash at 11:50 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 13, on Mast Rd., north of Daly.

In that incident, Charles Donald Reisinger of Chamberlin Rd. was unable to avoid hitting a deer which tried to cross from the east.

About 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 13, Dale Lloyd Maurer of Chelsea was backing from a downtown Dexter parking location, but backed into another vehicle, which Bridget Rene Nicodemus of Dexter was driving.

Deputy Mike King was sent to investigate a three-vehicle crash in which one driver, Catherine Marie Byrd of Dexter-Pinckney Rd. was injured and transported to the University of Michigan Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

The crash was reported at 5:35 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 13, on Dexter-Pinckney Rd.

According to King's report, Dexter motorist Robert Paul O'Brien had slowed to make a turn. Ms. Byrd also slowed, but the vehicle she drove was struck in the rear by a third vehicle driven by Mark A. Walker of Detroit. The impact caused Ms. Byrd's vehicle to push into the automobile which O'Brien drove.

Sometime between 10:30 p.m. on Feb. 12 and 5:30 a.m. Feb. 13, an unknown person unlawfully drove away a vehicle from a Dexter township location on Huron River Dr. near Bell Rd.

The vehicle, a 1988 Chevrolet Silverado pick-up truck, contained several hundred dollars worth of tools at the time it was taken.

Chad Arthur Sweet of Saline and a passenger in the vehicle he was driving on Baker Rd., west of Hudson, were injured in a crash at that location, reported at 7:50 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 12.

The injured were transported by Huron Valley Ambulance to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, according to a report filed by deputy Skip Davis.

The report indicated William Thomas Hoshaw of Ypsilanti had stopped for a vehicle ahead, and Sweet, traveling behind him, was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the Hoshaw vehicle.

A 1988 Ford pick-up truck, which had been reported stolen a day earlier, was recovered recently on North Territorial Rd., west of Madden Rd.

The truck's steering column and door locks had been damaged.

In a crash reported at 3:05 p.m. Friday, Feb. 15, William Edward Van Blaricum of Pinckney was injured after he lost control of the vehicle he drove, it went off the road and struck a tree before returning to the road, deputy Skip Davis related in his report.

The driver elected to seek his own medical treatment, Davis noted.

Roads in the Dexter area were very icy, Friday, as temperatures dipped below the point where salt was effective on the roadways.

Driver James Allen Luckey of Pinckney was traveling south on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. when he lost control of his vehicle, slid sideways into the northbound lane, and was struck broadside by a second vehicle driven by Ruth Ann Ekman of Pinckney, deputy Matt Manczak explained in his report of the incident, which occurred about 4:40 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 15, and was apparently the third crash investigated at the location within an hour.

State's Farmers Help Feed U.S. Troops

Michigan farmers are doing their part providing food to U.S. troops in the Persian gulf, according to Michigan Farm Bureau.

"We definitely believe that a number of the meat products, whether beef or pork, would most likely be provided by farmers here in Michigan," said Bob Craig, commodity specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"We think our farmers are also responsible for a number of the bean products," he said, "as well as the dehydrated or the wet pack fruit that is coming in a number of different variations."

Craig says some of the special products developed for the troops, such as the evaporated milk shake, could find their way to the consumer market after the war is over.

RESOLUTION
RE: PARKING METER REMOVAL AND HANDICAP SPACE RELOCATION

WHEREAS, the Chelsea Downtown Development Authority (DDA), has undertaken and continues to pursue a parking lot improvement, expansion and modification program, and;

WHEREAS, the Village Council adopted a resolution on February 20, 1990 which provided for certain amendments and modifications to the Village of Chelsea parking system, and;

WHEREAS, since said resolution was adopted and parking system changes effected representatives of the Downtown Development Authority and in the Village of Chelsea have met several times to discuss and monitor the effect of such changes, and;

WHEREAS, the Downtown Development Authority has recommended additional changes and modifications to the parking system which it believes will improve upon those changes originally outlined in the resolution of February 20, 1990.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that all parking meters in the central business district shall be covered and identified as being limited to two hour parking inclusive of the parking meters on Main Street which have already been covered in anticipation of removing all parking meters from the central business district in conjunction with the Downtown Development Authority Street Scape Improvement Project, and;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that singular handicapped spaces be located on East and West Middle Street, Park and South Streets, near the McKune Memorial Library and in one other location to be determined by the Downtown Development Authority parking committee and the Chief of Police based upon necessity as determined after creation of the aforementioned spaces, and;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the two spaces currently designated for handicapped use in the lot behind the Municipal Building should be designated for use by Village vehicles and that the two handicapped spaces behind the Fire Station shall be eliminated.

Motion by Myers, supported by Merkel, to adopt the above Resolution. In conjunction with said Resolution, Council requested that the DDA and Chief of Police review proposed "loading zone" sites in the downtown area. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

A letter was received from Michigan Sane/Freeze stating their organization's intentions to canvass in the Village of Chelsea beginning March 4, 1991 and ending March 22, 1991 between the hours of 4:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

A request was received from Craig's Inc. to transfer 1986 twelve month class C Resort and SDM licenses with Sunday Sales and Food Permits from 1850 E. Twelve Mile, Madison Heights, Michigan 48071, Oakland County, presently held by E.Z.A. Inc. to 112 S. Main Street, Chelsea, Michigan, 48118, Washtenaw County.

Terry Conlin, an attorney from Ann Arbor representing business owners in Chelsea currently holding a Class C license, addressed the Council regarding some objections and concerns said business owners have to the issuance of an additional Class C license in the Village.

Ed GreenLeaf, owner of Chelsea Lanes, stated his concerns regarding the approval of this transfer and questioned whether or not Mr. Craig Common (Stockholder-Craig's Inc.) has investigated the businesses currently for sale in the Village which already have Class C licenses in effect. Mr. GreenLeaf also questioned whether Craig's Inc. was owned by an individual or a group and additionally, should this restaurant locate at 112 S. Main Street, what parking requirements would have to be met to serve the establishment?

Chelsea Spikers Lose To Indians, Pirates

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity volleyball team lost to the state-ranked Tecumseh Indians in two games 5-15 and 8-15 on Thursday, Feb. 11.

Chelsea coach Dan Montgomery said the Bulldogs played a strong defensive game against Tecumseh's strong hitters but couldn't score the necessary points.

Top servers for Chelsea were junior Amanda Nimke with four points.

Top attackers were juniors Jennifer Petty, Tara Roehm, and Nimke.

Montgomery said good defensive performances were turned in by juniors Amy Mitchell, Brandi Kenney, Petty, and Nimke, and sophomores Melissa Thiel and Monica Hansen.

In junior varsity action, the Bulldogs lost to the Indians in three games, 6-15, 15-10, and 5-15.

Freshmen Katie Harr and Casey White each served for 10 points.

In other action, the Bulldogs lost to Pinckney in three games last Thursday, Feb. 14, 7-15, 15-7, and 2-14.

Chelsea lost the first game, Montgomery said, due mostly to inconsistent serving as just 87 percent were put in play.

The Bulldogs served 21 of 26 in the second game.

Pinckney serving and attacks made the difference in the third game.

Top offensive players for Chelsea were Mitchell, who was 17 of 18 serving for 12 points and five aces; Petty, who was 12 of 12 attacking with six kills; Amy Koenig, who was 6 of 6 attacking with four kills; and Nimke, who blocked and attacked for four kills.

Montgomery said top defensive players were Petty and Leah Hadley, who each had 12 digs, and Monica Hansen, who had five digs.

In junior varsity action, Chelsea lost to Pinckney in two games.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing to urge the parents and clergy of Chelsea who are concerned about the moral issues involved in the teaching of sex education in the Chelsea schools to attend the special meeting of the Sex Education Advisory Committee which has been called to review and make decisions on the four films which have been used in the 8th grade sex education programs. This meeting is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 25 at 6:30 p.m. in the high school board room. These films have been described by myself in a Jan. 18 letter to the Editor of The Chelsea Standard and also by Pastor Gelbel in a Feb. 6 letter to the Editor.

On Jan. 28 a proposal was presented to the Sex Education Advisory Committee and subsequently signed by five area pastors and one area doctor and 35 parents—41 of the 46 people in the audience that evening. This proposal requested that an abstinence-based curriculum be offered as an option to our children whenever sex education is taught. It also requested a change in the manner that parents are informed about course content so that all parents would be fully informed by letter as to what each of these two courses would be teaching. All of us who signed the proposal presented on Jan. 18 want to see the responsibility of choice placed on the parents, where it belongs. The only way to offer a choice is to present two programs.

There are two philosophies from which sex education stems. Abstinence-based sex education stems from the belief that there is an absolute, unchanging standard of right and wrong. It holds to the fact that pre-marital sexual involvement is wrong and teaches young people how to resist internal urges and external pressure toward pre-marital sexual involvement. The facts presented are accurate and complete concerning the physical, emotional and mental dangers of pre-marital sexual involvement. In short, it gives young people good direction on how to develop the emotionally intimate relationships that they really want and avoid the physical involvements that they are not ready for and are so dangerous and harmful to them, both in short and long term at this age.

If you are not using an abstinence-based curriculum, you are dealing with a course which terms itself, "value free and morally neutral." The underlying philosophy here is moral relativism, which believes that there are no eternal truths to guide our lives and choices. What is right is decided on the basis of public opinion and/or what you want to accomplish. In other words, what seems right is right—you make up the rules as you go along. "Morally neutral" means anything is OK, all opinions are presented.

"Values clarification" is an active attempt to teach the child to make his own decisions based on whatever information is presented, separating him or her from the parents' value system. As soon as that child makes a decision to act and think separately from his or her parents' values, a wedge has been driven, directly separating that young person from the parents and their values. "Value Free and Morally Neutral" sex education courses are designed to reduce guilt and inhibitions, weaken family and faith, and drive wedges between the child and his or her parents and their values (whether or not our teachers are aware of this).

What our children are now receiving in their sex education courses is not an abstinence-based curriculum. All of us who signed the proposal presented on Jan. 28 want to see the responsibility for this important choice placed on the parents, where it belongs. The only way to do this is to offer two programs. Abstinence-based programs are having a very positive effect in communities that are using them. Teen pregnancies and promiscuity are dramatically reduced. Self esteem and grade-point averages increase, and related "risk-taking" behaviors (substance abuse) are also reduced. If choice rested in the hands of the parents, we would have the option of seeing that our children were getting the best education available in this important area.

If this problem is of concern to you, you can help to begin the change-making process by coming to this Sex Education Advisory Committee meeting on Feb. 25, at 6:30 p.m. in the High School Administration Board Room.

Kathy A. Zeigler.

Dear Editor,

Faith in Action, this it is. I have been unemployed a couple different times. I have seen FIA at work in their little house and in their newly shared building.

There can be problems anywhere with staffing. FIA has an all volunteer staff. New to their work, sometimes, errors without malice are made.

Recently I saw a similar situation. A single woman, children, empty cupboards and requesting food. This was her first time. It was handled smoothly.

On this particular day the all volunteer staff was short one volunteer. True the "manager" is VISTA.

The young lady soon left with groceries in arm.

Another side of the Coin Economically Disadvantaged.
