ONE HUNDRED TWENTIETH YEAR—No. 43

CHELSEA KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS plans to hold their annual Tootsie Roll Drive this week-end in the village. Proceeds from the drive benefit mentally impaired citizens. Supervisors Pessimistic About Prospects for Area Property Taxes

Chelsea area property tax boards of review were about as busy this year as they were last year, township supervisors say. New assessments were mailed March 1.

Sylvan Township Supervisor Don Schoenberg, who is also the township assessor, said protests numbered 118 this year, down from last year's 130. The township's average residential assessments leaped 12.4 percent, one of the highest increases in Washtenaw county, he said.

Lima Township Supervisor Bill Van Riper said the number of protests was about equal to last year's number, although the township's average residential increase of five percent was one of the lowest in the county.

So it appears that no matter how much taxes rise, people in the area don't like it.

The Standard has received more than one complaint from residents who have experienced rises of more than 60 percent. However, those seem to be isolated experiences. Others have complained that the country is in a recession and prices can't be rising.

Assessment increases are based primarily on the rise in sales prices in each township. Assessed value is supposed to be one half of market value, but in most cases it is somewhat less. And if early 1991 sales prices in the Chelsea School District are any indication, the worst may be yet to come.

According to the Ann Arbor Area Board of Realtors, the average sale price in the Chelsea district in 1990 was $126,249 for 108 sales. That is up from the average 1989 price of $117,255 for 130 sales. The median price (an equal number of sales above and below) in 1989 was $119,000 and last year was $115,000.

However, through February nine homes had been sold in the district for an average price of $157,430, the board said. In those two months, 240 homes had been sold county-wide for an average price of $119,831.

"It doesn't look a whole lot better down the road," Schoenberg said.

"The number of sales are down but prices are not down. When spring comes along, prices might be wide open again."

Lyndon Township Supervisor John Francis painted just as bleak a picture as Schoenberg.

"People seem to be willing to pay a lot more to come out to the country," Francis said.

"Homes that sold out here just a few years ago are being sold again for double the money. People come to the board and even though they are being taxed at slightly less than half of what they paid for their house, they're still upset. That's a line of reasoning I don't follow. I'm an attorney and I've sat in on a few closings. At the moment of sale the buyers are so excited that they don't seem to understand what it's going to cost them. The purchaser needs to be a little wiser."

Francis said lakefront property seems to be the hottest property in his township.

"I think people see it as a commodity that's going to disappear so they're going out right now and buying," Francis said.

Both Francis and Schoenberg say the only way for any permanent relief is for taxpayers to pressure their legislators for a change in tax laws.

"I would like to see some of the burden taken off property owners," Francis said.

"We have a lot of elderly people who now say their tax payments are higher than their house payments ever were. What can I tell them? It's a state law they voted in. I also can't fault a seller for trying to get his highest price."

Papo Considering New Mobile Home Project Near Hatch Stamping

Developer Rene Papo's next Chelsea project may be a 60-unit mobile home park on the western edge of the village.

Papo confirmed Monday that he has taken an option on a 16-acre parcel off Cavanaugh Lake Rd. near Hatch Stamping Co. for the proposed project. It is the only vacant piece of land in the village zoned for such use.

"The project has to be a certain size to justify the cost of extending the sewer system," Papo said.

"There is considerable wetland on the site so we don't know yet if the project is economically feasible."

Papo said sewer line would have to be extended about 1,000 feet from the main trunk line at somewhere around $50 to $70 per foot to service the site. "We should know in a couple of weeks whether we'll go ahead."

Mobile home owners would rent the sites from Papo's Arcus Corporation. He said the project would be similar to Scio Farms Estates on Jackson Rd. in Scio township, but considerably smaller.

Tenants at mobile home parks, by law, pay $3 per month in taxes. The parks also tend to house, per unit, more school-age children than any other type of housing.

No plans have been submitted to the village.

In other development news, Papo said he wants to start building model houses in his proposed project next to his under-construction Chelsea Office on Old US-12.

The homes would be part of a planned unit development that would eventually include low-cost housing for senior citizens, apartments, and single-family homes, as well as a daycare center.

Papo said he wants the houses to cost $100,000 to $120,000 and be about 1,200 to 1,500 square feet on 7,500-square-foot lots. He plans to build homes on contract and not sell individual lots.

The project calls for 72 homes and 112 apartments.

The application for low-cost financing for the senior project is being finalized, Papo said. He said he has no idea when it may be approved.

Papo is still working with the village on finalizing a development agreement. As with the mobile home project, a major consideration is the cost of extending sewer lines, which will hook in at Freer Rd.

"The higher the cost of the sewer the higher the cost of the houses," Papo said.

Money, Drugs Stolen in Chelsea Pharmacy Theft

Assorted prescription drugs and $730 in cash was stolen from Chelsea Pharmacy late Sunday night or early Monday morning.

According to Chelsea police, a hole 10½" by 21" was cut in the roof of the building at Chelsea Shopping Center to gain access to the inside. Once inside, thieves disabled the alarm system, and eventually left through the back door. If activated, the system rings directly into the Chelsea Police Department.

"I'd say they knew exactly what they were doing," said Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall.

As-of-press time, a complete inventory of drugs stolen had not been made available to police. But McDougall said it was likely they stole drugs that could be sold easily on the street.

"I don't think they would take too many antibiotics," McDougall said.

McDougall said it appeared thieves knew exactly what they wanted, entered, and left quickly. There was no reported vandalism. However, there was some water damage reported from the overnight rains.

McDougall said metal cutters were used to cut the metal and rubber roof toward the back of the store.

"I don't think you could have seen it from the front," McDougall said.

"I doubt if you could have even heard anything going on."

McDougall said one person could have pulled off the theft but he believes more than one person was involved. Fingerprints were taken.

Anyone who might have seen anything unusual near the store is urged to call McDougall or Det. Richard Foster.

"There's always somebody moving on the streets," McDougall said.

"It's possible someone might have seen something but not connected it with anything unusual."

School Board Changes Times for Meetings

Chelsea Board of Education voted to start their meetings a little earlier beginning in April.

Starting April 15, the board will meet at 7:30 p.m. rather than 8 p.m. Assistant superintendent Fred Mills said the change was made primarily so that meetings wouldn't run so late.

The meetings will still take place on the first and third Mondays of the month. The first April meeting will not be held due to spring vacation.

In other board business Monday night, the board was given statistics concerning building use throughout the district after the school day ends.

According to figures supplied by community education director Jackie

Rogers, 488 permits were processed for use of facilities from August through March. School-sponsored activities accounted for 150 permits, community education programs 137, individuals 85, civic organizations 60, and recreation programs 38. Permits can be for more than one-time use.

Throughout the district, gymnasiums were used for 6,231 hours, which includes 2,500 hours of home games and practices, classrooms were used for 6,249 hours, cafeterias for 1,880 hours, auditoriums for 1,245 hours, and miscellaneous facilities for 1,778 hours.

Rogers said Chelsea facilities are "definitely" used more than facilities in other districts due to the district's philosophy that "the facilities belong to the people."

"Chelsea has embraced the community education philosophy and has created the management system to make it work," Rogers said.

Another topic of discussion was a proposed high school soccer program.

About a dozen people spoke in support of a program, although no final decisions were made. Potential sites for soccer fields include the high school practice fields, North Elementary school playground, and the cornfield behind the baseball field.

State, Unions Differ on Pay Negotiations

Director of the Office of State Employer William Whitbeck said he has informally met with the state's six employee bargaining units to consider negotiating already approved contracts, but the director of one of those unions said there have been no discussions.

Following Department of Management and Budget Director Patricia Woodworth's executive recommendation that the Legislature reject the hike in order to save jobs, Whitbeck said even though the contracts have been approved, they can be renegotiated, or rejected.

"The governor is the governor. His recommendation to the Legislature, which he has every right to do, is that the pay raise be rejected in light of the fiscal situation," Whitbeck said.

He admitted there are "no concrete proposals" on the table right now, but said although he has not corresponded in writing, "I've met with every union."

But Fred Parks, executive director of Michigan Corrections Organization, said his union has not discussed the issue with Whitbeck.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

"We've had no meeting on the 4 percent either formally or even informally," Parks said. He added Whitbeck called him prior to the Civil Service Commission meeting when the raises were approved, and again before Engler's presentation of the budget.

But those calls, he said, were to outline the administration's position, not to open negotiations.

"We used to get a letter telling us what the situation was and asking us what we were willing to do," Parks said. "Maybe they're new at this game—but we have spoken long enough for them to know how the process goes and there are people in Whitbeck's office who have been there for 10 years."

The pay raises, which would cost the state an estimated $84 million in general fund dollars ($107 million total), were approved for some 65,000 employees by the Civil Service Commission at two separate meetings. Whitbeck, addressing commission members at their January 23 meeting, said the state cannot afford the hike and if it is not rejected, layoffs will be inevitable.

The rejection requires a 2/3 majority vote of both houses of the Legislature and must be done by May 6.

"We will abolish sufficient positions to assure that the net budgetary impact of such increases will be zero," Whitbeck told the commission.

In a letter given to House and Senate Appropriations members at the presentation of the budget, the governor said if the Legislature does not reject or reduce the increases, "the appointing authorities will eliminate full-time equivalency positions commensurate with the added costs of the increase."

The letter urged legislators to consider the significant number of layoffs which will result if the increase is not rejected: "We must treat these employees collectively as valuable assets . . . it is my sincere hope that the Legislature will take the very real human cost of eliminating an additional 2,900 positions into account when considering whether to reject or reduce compensation increases for state workers."

Parks argued that the rejection would be a wrong move on the part of the state.

"It's contractually illegal and morally and ethically wrong," he said. "It destroys the sanctity of collective bargaining," he said.

Parks said the union will explore its options of recourse if the Legislature goes along with the governor's recommendation but until then, plans to explain to legislators the time, energy and resources that have gone into the bargaining process and what has been sacrificed by employees already. He seemed hopeful legislators would "understand."

"The collective bargaining process has been successful for a decade," Parks said. "Now they are forcing employees to take cuts—they should be more progressive. On the streets they'd call it dirty pool."

Even if Whitbeck sent a letter to invite negotiations, at this point Parks said, the union would question its merit.

"It wouldn't be in good faith, but it would be proper procedure," Parks said. "Good faith would have been sitting down last Fall, not coming back to unions now . . . unless there were a different set of circumstances."

He added that the only budget estimates union members have seen have been in news stories about the governor's communications with the Legislature.

Other unions whose contracts have been negotiated include the UAW, Michigan State Employees Association, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Local 31-M (human services support), Michigan Professional Employment Society, United Technical Employees Association, and the Michigan State Police Troopers Association.

February Unemployment Rate Jumps to Five-Year High

The state's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate rose to a five-year high of 9.8 percent in February, according to Michigan Employment Security Commission Director F. Robert Edwards.

The last time unemployment reached 9.8 percent was May of 1986. The current February rate is the highest for the month since 11.7 percent in 1984.

Among the 11 largest states, Michigan's 9.8 percent unemployment was higher than Massachusetts' 9.3 and California's 7.4 percent. North Carolina had the lowest rate, at 5.3 percent.

According to Federal Bureau of Labor statistics, the number of Michigan unemployed workers grew to 450,000 in February, an increase of 122,000. In January, 328,000, or 7.2 percent, of the state workforce were unemployed. One year ago, Michigan's jobless rate was 7.7 percent with 354,000 out of work.

"Employment dropped in nearly every industry across the state last month," Edwards said. "Some of the largest declines occurred in the manufacturing, retail trade and construction industries, although auto industry employment remained fairly stable."

With 29,000 new workers, the state's labor force grew to 4,582,000. Employment dropped by 93,000 to 4,132,000. For the three months ending in February, the unemployment rate averaged 8.1 percent, up from 7.7 percent the same period last year and from 7.4 percent average September through November.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb and his preacher went to the city last week for a meeting on how churches could finance more foreign missions. Natural, he got a report of their trip on the agender Saturday night at the country store, and natural he got the floor early.

First off, he told the fellers, by the time they got back they were full convinced there's more than plenty of mission work to do at home. Zeke said they were kept awake ever night by police, fire and ambulance sirens, and ever morning the paper was full of everything folks can think of to do to one another. He recalled one item where a feller at a red light got out of his car, walked to the car behind him and shot a woman dead. He told police his old lady had kicked him out of the house, he had a hangover and the driver behind was following to clobber. He said he didn't know whether the person he killed was a man or a woman.

After that, Zeke said, he wasn't surprised when he read about the Roman Catholic priest in Hammond, Ind. hooking up with a crime syndicate in Florida to skim most of the profit off his church's bingo game that took in $2 million a year. Zeke said he and his preacher went to meetings across the street from the hotel, to a cafeteria down the block and stayed in their room the rest of the time.

They stared at the four walls and looked at television, Zeke said, and that's how they met C-Span. Zeke said this shows nothing but Congress doing nothing, and what it does best is remind folks that two things you never want to see made are laws and sausages. What he saw mostly on C-Span was Congressmen talking to the camera in empty rooms. Most of em are pretty good actors, Zeke said, and what they had to say was bound to look like the real thing in newsletters mailed free to everybody in their districts, and especial in the Congressional Record.

Zeke said he took an interest in this because he had saw recent where the Record is 118 year old, and he realized he never had give any more thought to its age than to the age of the moon. He said he subscribed to it for a few months 25 year ago, but he found he had to work harder to learn less than he could get from newspapers. If the Smithsonian Institution is America's attic, the Congressional Record has got to be America's scrapbook, was Zeke's words.

The piece Zeke had saw said the Congressional Record has about 10,000 paid subscribers, and half of them are libraries. This told him that most folks feel like he does about it, or that if more freeloaders outside of Congress than the Postal Service would let any country weekly get away with. The truth is, Zeke went on, nobody reads the Record but them it records, and they fill it with everything from their favorite recipes to clippings from the papers back home.

Clem Webster final caught Zeke on the inhale and allowed that efficient is not Congress' strong or long suit. Clem said somepun that allus hits him sideways about folks we send to Washington is that when they get there the first thing they do is leave a big office and high paid staff in a $300 million building to fly home free and preach economy in Government.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Woman's Club Speaker Tells About Older Person's Special Needs

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met March 12 at McKune Memorial Library.

Guest speaker for the evening's program was Sandy Schmunk, social services co-ordinator at the Chelsea Methodist Retirement Home.

Her informative talk stressed the need for aging persons to "know themselves" concerning the type of living conditions they would like if help is required. Keeping informed of community services such as meals-on-wheels, nursing care and even repair men is a great help for those who are able to live in their own homes.

She said those who prefer a more social and structured care should get on a nursing home inactive list which would insure a place there in the future. She described the many resources and the continual care provided at the Methodist Home.

She mentioned the wisdom of delegating the power of attorney to another to insure that one's medical decisions are followed. She said this is wise for adults of all ages. She also detailed an upcoming law called Medical Durable Power of Attorney. Marilyn Haug and Marian Kerns were the evening's hostesses.

The March 28 program will be held at the McKune Library. Barbara Zaret will present a program entitled "Be Wary—Be Wise," concerning insurance scams. Hostesses for that evening will be Rose Mary DeGrow and Fannie Shelton.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

Chelsea Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 4078 held their regular monthly session Monday, March 11, with 11 members in attendance. Hospital chairman Lucy Platt reported on upcoming holidays and preparation for Easter baskets on Ward 7 East, along with volunteer activities involved, credit for same, and where donations are needed as government cuts have curtailed many funds.

She also reported on the Hug-A-Heart program. Under cancer, she reported on the resale of cancer pins for fund-raising of cancer aid and research. She also stated the Department of Michigan has permitted 180 grants this past year.

Legislative chairman Lois Speer reported she is beginning to receive answers to her letters from our government officials, and along with the community service chairman, Virginia Boyer, gave a detailed report on the "welcoming parade and program" held Sunday, March 10, for Doug Inglis. Both remarked on how much patriotism is being shown in this community. They reported on packages, letters, and the local support group for which $100 was allowed and will be given to the local support group.

Americanism chairman Eulahlee Packard reported on the presentation of a flag to Boy Scout Troop No. 435 on March 5, she also reported on more flags flying and yellow ribbons being displayed, than there are of flag burnings, stating patriotism has been revived once more.

Under the citations program Mrs. Packard is seeking the names of any individuals or firms that fly the American flag daily year around, as she compiles a list and will present a citation to each one probably by Memorial Day.

Camps Chairman Joan Craft reported on the upcoming summer camp program of Camp Trotter. $10 was allowed towards this program.

Safety chairman Virginia Boyer read a long list of do's and don'ts for personal safety such as asking for identification, notifying authorities, etc.

A report on the post and auxiliary's participation in the Salvation Army's program before Christmas was received and read to the assembly.

The charter was draped in memory of past department president Dorothy Sterling and will remain so for 30 days. Plans were formulated for an Easter bake sale to be held in the VFW Hall on March 30.

$19.25 was allowed for the National Home's Health and Happiness Fund, and $50 for Easter baskets for the Ward of 7 East at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital by Easter. $100 was allowed for comfort items to be given out to patients at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital.

Election of delegates and alternate delegates to the State District took place and are as follows: Lucy Platt, Eulahlee Packard, Lorraine Fulcher, Bessie Sharp, Virginia Boyer and Gertrude O'Dell as delegates, alternate delegates are Joan Craft, Eleanor Farley, Lynnett Bowen, Dorothy Lentz, Geraldine Klink and Nina Matthews.

The next regular meeting is set for April 8. Election of officers for the local auxiliary will take place at that time.

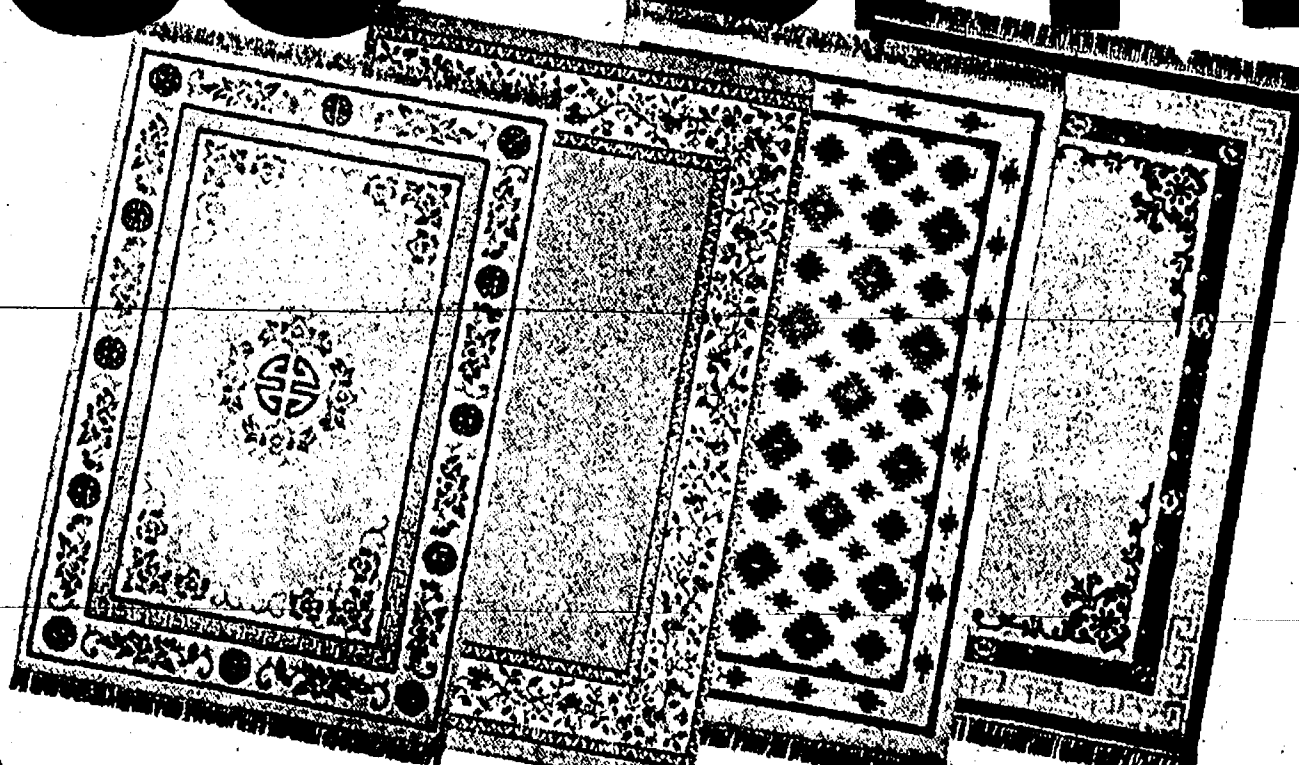

Papo Offices To Be Completed By Early Summer

Developer Rene Papo says he is waiting to finalize leases for his new Chelsea Officenter before continuing construction on the rest of the project.

The project, off Old US-12 behind the Chelsea Medical Center, has had some site work completed for several weeks.

Papo said he plans to have the project completed by June. Tenants, he said, would be in medical-related businesses, perhaps affiliated with the hospital.

Chlebek, new member Rukmini Rajagopalan, Lion Liaison Bob Daniel, new member Gail Carstens, and president Margaret Murphy.

Lioness Club Marks 11th Year Police Stop Man Driving Stolen Auto

On Monday evening, March 11, Chelsea Lioness celebrated their 11th year anniversary with a dinner and Chinese Auction at the Chelsea Hospital Dining Room. Teriaki shrimp, round of beef, amaretto mousse and chocolate carrot cake were enjoyed. Unusual, funny, wrapped "white elephant" gifts were auctioned off to benefit the Lioness administrative fund.

Guests for the dinner were region chair Ray Staib and 17-year-old Jason Lake. Chairman Staib told about the Lion District Conference in Jackson, March 15, 16 and 17. Several local Lionesses are attending. Jason Lake entertained members with his discussion of the Lions State Band. High school students come from all over the state to St. Johns to try out, practice, and then perform at events. Jason plays many instruments and is the drummer for the state band. He told us some of the benefits of belonging to the band such as discovering the extent of your abilities, making new friends, expanding your horizons by visiting new places, learning leadership and organizational skills and observing Lions and Lioness in community projects. He also told about some of the fund-raising the band does to supplement the money provided by Lions and Lioness Clubs. They are now fund-raising to go to the next International Lions convention in Australia. Some Chelsea students have been members of the band in the past.

New members Gail Carstens and Rukmini Rajagopalan were inducted into the club by Lion Liaison Bob Daniel. Lion Daniel encouraged the new members to reap the benefits of volunteering in community projects in the good company of fellow Lionesses. New member Gail Carstens lives in Ann Arbor and is employed by Terra Firma Landscaping Co. there. She has played many gruesome roles in past Lioness Haunted Houses. New member Rukmini Rajagopalan is our first international member as she was a Lioness in India. She is a biostatistician for Parke-Davis in Ann Arbor.

The next Lioness meeting is April 8 at Society Bank, 7:30 p.m.

Chelsea Garden Club Will Discuss Planting Indoors

Chelsea Garden Club will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, March 27.

Topics covered will be "Starting Seeds and Tender Tubers Indoors." Also, dried flowers made from the Osage orange.

Future meetings will cover many topics on gardening such as perennials, roses, shrubs, herbs, soil, fertilizers and drying flowers.

The club uses the gardens outdoors for demonstrations on dividing plants, pruning, etc. It also has its own library of books, magazines, and tapes on gardening.

Also available are 30 different varieties of flower seeds for anyone who wants them for spring planting.

The club's new motto: "There's always the garden," taken from "When the world wearies, and society ceases to satisfy, there's always the garden," by Minnie Aumonier.

Club meetings are 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. every fourth Wednesday each month, March through October, at 509 Wellington, Chelsea.

For information, call Doris Hammett, 478-7107. New members are welcome.

Police Stop Man Driving Stolen Auto

An Ohio man driving a stolen car was stopped by Chelsea police at 4:30 a.m. last Tuesday, March 12.

Chelsea police on routine patrol saw a red 1986 Chevrolet Nova pull out of the Society Bank parking lot on M-52 and drive south "very slowly," according to reports.

Police said the 38-year-old man driving the vehicle smelled as though he hadn't bathed in quite some time.

However, no charges were authorized against the man, who police said went by three different aliases. The car had been reported stolen from a Sylvania, O. rental company. The man told police he was supposed to have returned the car "two weeks ago."

seniors. The proficiency examinations involved prepared solos, scales and sight reading.

Chelsea High publications, "Accolade," and annual literary magazine, and "Bulldog Barks," the student newspaper, were honored by Columbia University Scholastic Press Association. "Accolade" won a first-place rating in the association's annual newspaper-magazine contest, and the newspaper won third-place honors. Both publications are the work of the high school journalism class.

Blaess Elevator Co. was the scene of a break-in over the week-end. Entry was apparently gained through a side door and a soft drink machine was forced open, sheriff's deputies said. The thieves escaped with between $5 and $8 in change.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, March 21, 1957—

Mystery surrounding the discovery of a 1950 model car sunk in Four Mile Lake after apparently dropping through thawing ice, was solved when Mrs. Robert Townshack of Belleville, notified authorities that the car belonged to her son. She said the car fell through the ice after the son had driven it there to go fishing. Conservation officials stated the vehicle must be removed soon or the owner would be liable for prosecution under a state statute which prohibited placing any obstructions in the waters of a lake.

Olive Ann Reddeman was chosen "dairy princess" of Washtenaw County at the second annual county dairy banquet. Another Chelsea area girl, Marjorie Bradbury was in second place for the honor, and Joan Hanson of Ann Arbor, was in third place. Cash awards were presented to the three girls. Miss Reddeman would represent Washtenaw county in the "State Princess" contest.

Fifty-one Legion members and guests were present for the 38th anniversary birthday dinner of Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, American Legion. The feature of the dinner was a three-tiered birthday cake, beautifully decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Edward Visel. The top tier of the cake was presented to George Walworth, the only member of the local post with a record of 38 years of continuous membership.

Village President Donald Alber and all newly-elected village officials were sworn into office. Leon Shutes, former assessor and the unsuccessful Independent party candidate for village president, was appointed a trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alber to accept the office of village president.

Recycled Jugs Sold by Village

Village of Chelsea recently sold approximately 6,500 pounds of recycled milk jugs collected since last October. The 28 bales were sold for 10 cents per pound, said Solid Waste Committee chair Frank Hammett.

Most of the jugs were collected at North and South Elementary schools. The bales translate to about 18 to 20 cubic yards of garbage that would otherwise have ended up in the village landfill.

Chelsea Area Players Present Comedy Hit

Give a

The Chelsea Standard!

TWO NEW CHEFS have been hired at Gina's Cafe this winter. Mark Miele, left, worked previously at the Hyatt-Regency in Dearborn. He is the evening chef and will also make many of the pastries. Right is Mike Weibrod, a European-trained chef who has worked at Ann Arbor Country Club, Travis Pointe Country Club, Campus Inn, and years ago was the original chef at Schnitzelbank in Stockbridge. "They work as a team," owner Gina Pantely says. "My philosophy is a good chef should be able to do it all, and Mark and Mike can." Gina's celebrated its first anniversary Feb. 28.

Chelsea Area Players produced another hit comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," on March 14-17 at Beach Middle School under the directorship of Ward Beauchamp, a drama student at Eastern Michigan University and resident of Chelsea. Although this was Beauchamp's first experience directing, he showed excellent grasp of the art, bringing his cast to a very high level of performance.

All the players were excellent, and showed the diligence of the many hours spent preparing the entertaining evening. Frank Dillon's voice and unassuming manner were perfect for Grandpa Vanderhof, laid-back patriarch of the family. Katie Flynn, who aptly played Essie, was delightful to watch and listen to. Norma Graflund, playing Inga the maid, displayed her happy and expansive spirit and brightened the stage each time she was on it, especially when sparking with her friend Donald, done well by Mike Long. Tom Layher was terrific as dancing teacher Boris Kolehov. Julie Vorus portrayed a flighty Penelope Sycamore very believably.

Carey Wallace's excellent performance as Alice, the main character and love interest around whom the story revolves, showed much promise in this new young actress. Ken Beauchamp, Alice's beau, did a fine job of portraying young love in its most hesitant and engaging form, almost a lost art.

Unless you knew it was the product of his good acting, one might almost believe that David Morris was as dull-witted as Ed, the character he presented. Jerry Martell did a fine job as Mr. DePinna, and newcomer Richard Wallace, Carey's father in real life, managed the role of her on-stage father aptly. Government officials Hal Wendelken, Rick Gill, Allen Anderson, and Sean Graflund were appropriately frustrating and fearsome. Connie Scott as the Grand Duchess and Debbie Olson as the drunk Gay Wellington were a treat to the audience. Tom Peckham and Jerri Cole gave fine performances as the stuffy Kirby parents.

The backstage was handled professionally by Jeremy Beauchamp as stage manager. Shana Burns, senior at Eastern Michigan, designed and produced a very impressive set. The many production details for a production like this were covered by Don Paulsell and Tom Peckham as co-producers.

There's Always a Springtime

After the Winter comes the Spring
To show us again that in everything
There's always renewal divinely planned,
Flawlessly perfect, the work of God's Hand . . .
And just like the seasons that come and go
When the flowers of Spring lay buried in snow,
God sends to the heart in its winter of sadness
A springtime awakening of new hope and gladness,
And loved ones who sleep in a season of death
Will, too, be awakened by God's life-giving breath.

Selwa Is Member Of Solar Car Team at Western

Mike Selwa of Chelsea is a member of the team that raced "Sunseeker," the Western Michigan University/Jordan College solar-powered car to second place in the Governor's Cup Solar Challenge in Phoenix, Ariz. on March 9.

Sunseeker passed California Polytechnic University/San Luis Obispo at the finish line, two minutes behind California State University of Los Angeles. Also competing were Stanford University, California Polytechnic Institute in Pomona, Stark Technical College, and Arizona State University.

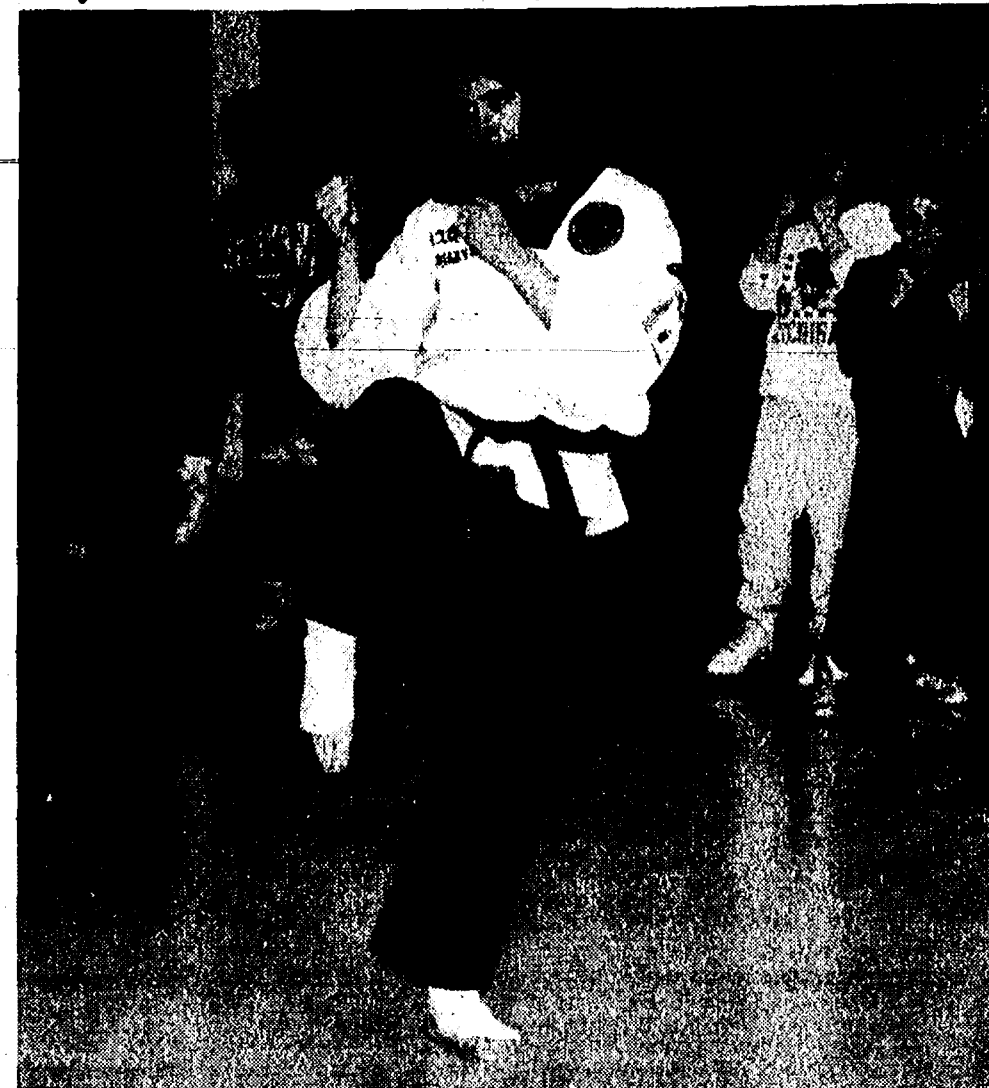

Sunseeker also took eighth place in the GM Sunrayce in 1990, an 1,800 mile race from Florida to Michigan last July.

The Arizona race was run on the Phoenix Grand Prix course through downtown Phoenix.

A crew of students and faculty modified the car to make it more competitive on the Phoenix course, which requires increased acceleration and braking demands.

Sunseeker will compete in the Solar and Electric 500 at Phoenix International Raceway April 5-7.

Selwa, a 1982 graduate of Chelsea High school, is the son of Barbara and Michael Selwa, 7680 Werkner Rd. He is scheduled to earn a bachelor's degree in manufacturing engineering technology in 1992.

CHELSEA RESIDENT LISA DEGRYSE, a black belt in Tae Kwon Do, recently gave a demonstration in martial arts to children at North and South Elementary schools. The talk was part of a series of guest speakers in the Enrichment Triad Program in the schools. Students from all grades attended the informal sessions in the cafeterias. DeGryse teaches a class after school through the community education department.

Poison Week Observed By Hospital Pharmacists

March 17-23 is the 30th observance of National Poison Prevention Week. The theme is "Children Act Fast... So Do Poisons!"

National Poison Prevention Week is an annual event which was established by an act of Congress and was signed into law on Sept. 26, 1961 by President Kennedy. Congress intended this event as a means for local communities to raise awareness of the dangers of accidental poisoning and to take preventive measures.

In observance of National Poison Prevention Week, Chelsea Community Hospital Pharmacy Department will be displaying educational materials outside the dining room during lunch hours and will be providing free syrup of ipecac. In addition, the pharmacists and technicians will be visiting the Children's Center and kindergarten classes at the Chelsea schools. The Educational program will include activities to teach the children the difference between edible foods and potentially toxic substances found in the home.

Some tips to reduce the risk of poisoning are:

1. Put your name, address and emergency numbers (including that of your poison center) on or near your telephone.
2. Have a bottle of syrup of ipecac on hand in case your local poison center or physician recommends its use to induce vomiting.
3. Keep household products and medicines out of reach and out of sight of children, preferably in a locked cabinet or closet. Even if you must leave the room for only an instant remove the container to a safe spot.

4. Store medicines separately from other household products and keep these items in their original containers—never in cups or soft-drink bottles.

5. Be sure that all products are properly labelled, and read the label before using.

6. Always turn the light on when giving or taking medicine.

7. Since children tend to imitate adults—never take medicine in front of them. Avoid drinking medicine from the bottle.

8. Never call medicine "candy."

9. Clean out your medicine cabinet periodically. Discard old medicines by flushing them down the toilet.

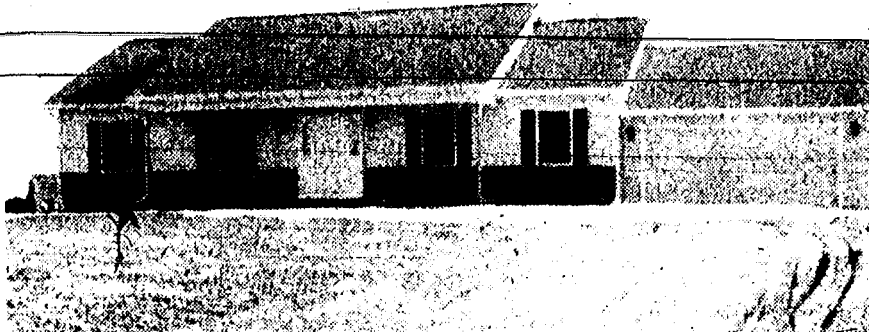

10. Ask for and use household substances which are available in child resistant packaging. Insist on safety packaging for prescription medicines. Resecure safety feature carefully after using. Safety packaging gives extra protection to your children.

The first use of federal troops during a strike was in 1834 when President Andrew Jackson dispatched troops to end a violent labor disturbance among Chesapeake and Ohio Canal workers, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Session.

Tuesday, February 19, 1991

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele.
Present: President Steele, Clerk Anderson, Assistant Village Manager Kuehn, Administrative Assistant Fredette.

Trustees Present: Merkel, Hall, Hammer, Dorer, Myers.

Trustee Absent: Kanten.

Others Present: Tom Osborne, Lois Speer, Bessie Sharp, David Pruess, Sarah Pruess, Suzanne C. Morrison, Carole Murphy, Tom Kennedy, Sally Pobjewski, Laura Christensen, Bill Parker, Leslee Parker, Mark Heydlauff, Dean Warren, L. McDougall, M. Wonderly, Dave Prohaska, Jerry Satterthwaite, David Cooper, B. Hamilton and Roy Reynolds.

The "Community Problem Solving Pathfinders" gave a presentation to the Village Council in support of their bike path. They had taken a survey from students & adults and received a very high percentage of response in favor of the bike path. Their goal is to receive a grant from the DNR to assist in the construction of their project. They have to have all of the data collected by April 1st in order to get the grant this year. The Pathfinders will hold a public meeting on the 28th of February at the Library at North School Elementary Building at 7:30 p.m.

Lois Speer, on behalf of the VFW, questioned why the flag pole was not yet erected at the Depot. Mechanic Mike Wonderly explained to Mrs. Speer that the Village had experienced problems obtaining all of the materials last fall and by the time the materials were acquired, weather hindered the setting of the pole. He assured Mrs. Speer that as soon as warmer weather arrived, the pole would be installed.

Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to approve the Consent Agenda. Motion carried.

Mike Wonderly reported to Council regarding a 1980 Ford Dump truck (garbage truck) which he had located in St. Johns, Michigan.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hall that the Village purchase a 1980 Dump Truck from W.K. Auto Sales and Salvage for a sum of $9,500. Motion carried. Trustee Hall asked that the Fireworks Committee Report be carried over to the March 5, 1991 Agenda.

A public hearing was held to consider Hatch Stamping request for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate. There were no oral or written comments.

RESOLUTION APPROVING APPLICATION OF HATCH STAMPING COMPANY FOR INDUSTRIAL FACILITIES EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE FOR A NEW FACILITY

WHEREAS, pursuant to P.A. 188 of 1974, M.C.L. 207.551 et seq., after a duly noticed public hearing held on December 8, 1983 this Chelsea Village Council by resolution established Industrial Development District No. 5, and

WHEREAS, Hatch Stamping Company has filed an application for an Industrial Facilities Exemption certificate with respect to a new facility to be acquired and installed within the Industrial Development District No. 5, and

WHEREAS, before acting on said application, the Village of Chelsea held a hearing on February 19, 1991, at the Chelsea Municipal Building in Chelsea Michigan at 7:30 p.m. at which hearing the applicant, the Assessor and representative of the affected taxing units were given written notice and were afforded an opportunity to be heard on said application; and

WHEREAS, construction of the facility and installation of new machinery and equipment had not begun earlier than six (6) months before January 17, 1991, the date of the acceptance of the application for the Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate; and

WHEREAS, completion of the facility is calculated to and will at the time of issuance of the certificate have the reasonable likelihood to retain, create or prevent the loss of employment in the Village of Chelsea; and

WHEREAS, the aggregate SEV of real and personal property exempt from ad valorem taxes within the Village of Chelsea, after granting this certificate, will not exceed 5% of an amount equal to the sum of the SEV of the unit, plus the SEV of personal and real property thus exempted.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE Village of Chelsea that:

- 1) The Village Council finds and determines that the granting of the Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate considered together with the aggregate amount of certificates previously granted and currently in force under Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 and Act No. 255 of the Public Acts of 1978, shall not have the effect of substantially impeding the operation of Chelsea Village Council, or impairing the financial soundness of a taxing unit which levies ad valorem property taxes in the Village of Chelsea.

- 2) The application of Hatch Stamping Company for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate with respect to a new facility to be acquired and installed on the following described parcel of real property situated within the Village of Chelsea Industrial Development District No. 5 to wit:

Lots 10, 11, 12, 14, 15 and 16, Chelsea Industrial Park

Motion by Hammer, supported by Myers, to adopt the above Resolution. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

A public hearing was held to consider the request of David Prohaska for the establishment of an Industrial Development District at 102 S. Main Street. Mr. Prohaska presented Council with the reasoning behind his request and asked for a favorable response.

Assistant Village Manager submitted a Memorandum to Council regarding the pros and cons of establishing said District and ultimately recommended that Council deny Mr. Prohaska's request for the establishment of an Industrial Development District at 102 S. Main Street.

Zoning Inspector Harook also recommended denial. Trustee Merkel asked that this matter be placed on the March 5th Agenda to allow further time to investigate several questions surrounding the issue.

Jerry Satterthwaite was present to inform Council of the ongoing problems he is still experiencing relative to accessing his property which lies between McKinley and Taylor Lane. No action was taken.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to authorize the Village President to sign the Property Purchase Agreement with Sumner G. and Joanne L. Oesterle. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Merkel to approve the Fuel Usage Agreement with the Chelsea School District. Motion carried.

Motion by Hall, supported by Merkel, to support a Proclamation declaring February "JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT MONTH" in the Village of Chelsea. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to appoint Deborah Kuehn as the interim representative to MMEA until a Manager is hired. Motion carried. It was the consensus of Council that we not appoint a representative to serve on the Washtenaw Development Council's Technical Committee.

A Purchase of Service Agreement was received from the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority for transit service from October 1, 1990 through September 30, 1991 at a cost to this Village of Chelsea of $9,053.00. Council asked that this matter be placed on the March 5, 1991 Agenda and also requested clarification on what the Village of Dexter's monetary share will be.

Motion by Myers, supported by Hammer, to increase the compensation pay for Village President to $200.00 a meeting and Village Trustees to $50.00 per meeting. Motion carried.

The current Village Manager Ordinance was discussed. Council asked that the Ordinance be amended as follows:

SECTION 3. APPOINTMENT OF ASSISTANT VILLAGE MANAGER
The Village Manager shall be responsible for acquiring applications and/or resumes to fill a vacant position of Assistant Village Manager. He will also be responsible for reviewing all applications and shall provide Council with the top five (5) applications. He may recommend his choice, however, the Village Council shall have final authority in deciding who will be appointed to fill the position of Assistant Village Manager.

Page 2, B (1) shall read:
To appoint, suspend or remove department heads, except the Police Chief and the Fire Chief, subject to Council approval. The Village Manager may suspend or remove department heads in the case of criminal action prior to obtaining Council approval. However, the Village President must receive immediate notification of said action and Council shall sanction the action as soon as possible.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Myers, to appoint Deborah Kuehn as Acting Village Manager until a permanent appointment is made as per Village Manager Ordinance. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to contract with Petroleum Funds, Inc. of Paris, TN. at a cost of $25.00 filing fee and a commission of 20% of any refund collected for overcharges of petroleum products. Motion carried.

A request was submitted to Council by Pastor Mearl L. Bradley, of the Chelsea Free Methodist Church, for authorization to conduct a "support rally", for our troops serving in the Middle East, on March 10, 1991 at 2:00 p.m. Assembly would begin on E. Middle Street and proceed to Pierce Park where the rally will take place. Council unanimously supported Pastor Bradley's request.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Myers, to approve the request of the Modern Shrine Temple to conduct their Hospital Fund Drive in the Village of Chelsea on the 7th and 8th of June, 1991 and also approve the Proclamation for same. Motion carried.

Keith Boylan, on behalf of the American Legion, submitted a letter to Council requesting the Village contribute $400.00 to Post 31 for the purchase of flags and flag holders for the graves of veterans. Council asked Administrative Assistant Fredette to contact Mr. Boylan for a copy of Act 83 of 1915 to be available for the March 5, 1991 meeting. A decision will be made at that time.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Hammer, to contract with Telcom Service Corporation in the amount of $3,612.00 for the update of the Village phone system. This to bring 911 in line as well as the phone system for the Village. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Myers, to authorize the expenditure of up to $1,000.00 to contract with the firm of Envirotherm for the submittal of the necessary forms to recover expenses incurred in the removal of underground tanks at the Public Works Garage and Landfill. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to enter into Executive Session for Attorney/Client discussion. Motion carried. Time 9:30 p.m.

Motion by Hall, supported by Merkel, to adjourn Executive Session. Motion carried. Time 9:45 p.m.

Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to authorize the Zoning Inspector to meet with the Village Attorney for the purpose of investigating the legality of the proposed Agreement submitted by Royalty Limousine Service. Motion carried.

Motion by Myers, supported by Dorer, to adjourn. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned.

Allen L. Anderson, Clerk.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

One of the things that strikes some of us, who were born in another country and have come to make America our home, is that you Americans tolerate far too much AMERICA-BASHING from within and without. The people of the U.S. are a marvelous, caring and generous people.

My first understanding of the kindness and generosity of the U.S. was hearing my mother say "Thank God for those Americans." We in Europe had suffered through World War II, sometimes having little to eat and the Marshall Plan provided us every so often with, amongst other things, a very large can of sausage meat, wrapped in the natural lard. My mother would carefully remove the lard to make scones and pastry—a rare treat—and use the rest for a layered casserole of potatoes and onions with the sausage.

Having lived here now for 30 years I can still say "Thank God for the Americans." Whenever disaster strikes, Americans send aid and resources to help the local people through, without any thought for a return of the favor.

With the recent surge of patriotism due to the Gulf War, Americans are again realizing they have a pretty wonderful country. Of course if you key-off "perfection" America falls short. If you key-off some of the repressive dictatorships, Americans have a great deal to be thankful for with all their freedoms, if they will not abuse these privileges. It seems amazing that so many citizens in the Eastern block countries seem to want what we have and are pulling the walls down, and demanding less government, while we tolerate more government control and interference in citizens lives.

With privileges of freedom come responsibilities to care for those less fortunate and those temporarily set back through circumstances beyond their control. We need to use this wave of patriotism to help those in our own midst who need a helping hand—not more government programs that keep bureaucrats busy and people dependent on the hand-outs. For instance, my sister collects and gives out clothing to poor people and yet too often those bureaucrats who are paid to help the poor tell her they don't want her around giving out anything.

How amazing to see the POW's from Iraq kissing our soldiers' hands when they were surrendering. At least in this country you are free to speak out if you want change and then work towards it without having your head disconnected from the rest of you. If you can't stand living under this system of government you are even free to leave to flee to your utopia.

Instead of worrying about changing the whole world, just begin to SERVE in the sphere you influence. For instance join a group like Habitat for Humanity who help poor people build houses for themselves.

People reaching out and caring about others is America at her best. Thank you to all of you who have cared and made America home for me.

Christine Crowner,
Saline.

The first strike in which the participants were assisted by a strike fund took place in 1786 in Philadelphia during a journeymen printers' strike for a dollar-a-day pay, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Dear Editor,

I would like to encourage the concerned parents, pastors, professionals and youth leaders of Chelsea to again attend the meeting of the Sex Education Advisory Committee to be held on Monday evening, March 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School Media Center.

Though it was quite frustrating and discouraging to the entire audience of nearly 70 people to have the last meeting so manipulated and controlled by our administration and our input and concerns so restricted and then so quickly eliminated and disregarded, we still have to keep in mind that these administrators and staff and this committee are making critical decisions for our children. So, I urge you to come to this meeting—just your presence is a statement of your concern. Also, come prepared, if possible, with prepared statements that can be submitted to the committee with your concerns.

Though it is being claimed that the current sex education programs in our schools are "abstinence based," we need to keep in mind that use of the term, "abstinence" in the classroom is quite different from actively teaching the whys and hows of premarital sexual abstinence as a virtue and a goal which a real abstinence-based program like "Sex Respect" does.

I just want to encourage your continued persistent involvement in this change-making process, taking our motivation from our long-term unconditional love we have for our children. None of us wants to see our children considering suicide or attempting to alleviate emotional pain and shame from premature, premarital sexual involvements by involving themselves in drugs, alcohol, and further sexual involvements. Add to that the critical emotional and physical dangers of sexually-transmitted diseases and society's remedy to pregnancy—abortion. We want a sex education program in our schools that is proving itself effective in reducing teen sexual activity. "Sex Respect" is doing this.

Kathy A. Ziegler.

To the Editor,

Senator Carl Levin claims he supports the troops. His noble gesture this past week-end (3/9/91) to pay tribute to a young man from Canton deserves a loud round of applause. But just how deep his support goes is highly questionable. This week (3/11/91) the U.S. Senate will take up a resolution to establish a Senate Select Committee on POW/MIA Affairs. As of Monday, March 11, the Senator has been unable to make a commitment to co-sponsor the resolution in spite of numerous phone calls by concerned citizens.

The overwhelming majority of Americans supported the troops in the Persian Gulf War. This support surely extends to our men and women who are still unaccounted for from this and previous conflicts.

Let's help Senator Levin make up his mind. Pick up the phone and call his office (202)224-6221. Tell his staff you want the Senator to co-sponsor the resolution and vote for it when it comes to a vote.

Our military personnel deserve to know they are fully supported and they will not be abandoned should they become a POW/MIA.

Chelsea Choirs Sing In Spring Concert

THE STANDARD

The Vocal Music Department of Chelsea High school and Beach Middle school mounted a memorable concert on March 12 at the Chelsea High School Auditorium.

The Middle School Choir, ably and enthusiastically conducted by June Warren, began the evening with several light pieces, including Berlin's "Play for Me A Simple Melody," which demonstrated the group's ability to sing opposite melodies for a pleasing effect. Their final rousing offering was the spiritual "This Little Light of Mine."

Steven Hinz directed the Concert Choir next in several acapella classical pieces by Brahms, demonstrating their ability to listen carefully to one another and balance expertly. The humorous "Banquet Fugue" by John Rutter combined modern lyrics about overeating with a contrapuntal baroque style and ended with a solo "burp" by Matt Carlson that brought down the house. Joe Zettemaier and Jeremy Sterling captured the spirit of the spiritual "There is A Balm in Gilead" beautifully in their solos within that piece.

This choir's final piece featured the quartet of Heather Hamilton, Carey Wallace, Howie Brooks, and Matt Carlson in a spirited and well-done "Life Keeps Moving" by Besig.

The Select Women's Chorus, even missing one member due to illness, gave a very fine performance. Especially notable was the Victoria Joanna McAfee's solo in "Carry My Love" was well presented and enjoyable. The entire group showed excellent spirit in "Ain't That Good News!"

The final piece, Whittaker's "I Am But A Small Voice," featured all three of the choirs, filling the stage with sound. The choir members responded to their obviously well-liked conductor, Steven Hinz, and sang nicely together.

How To Measure Crop Residue Cover

"How To Measure Crop Residue Cover, the Line Transect Method" is the title of a new slide program by the Soil Conservation Service and is now available on video tape at all the agency's field offices in Michigan.

"The Food Security Act has added meaning to conservation tillage," said Homer Hilner, state conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, East Lansing. "Thirty percent residue cover after planting is required to meet conservation tillage criteria for conservation compliance. The new program provides instruction for field determination of residue cover."

Farmers are asked to borrow a copy of the video tape and get related fact sheets at any of the Soil Conservation Service's 68 Michigan field offices. Farmers can also expect to be asked to view the program or visit the Soil Conservation Service office the next time they are in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office for program sign-up.

"Field determination of residue cover is needed at various stages of the tillage—planting process and experience making field determinations is needed to support visual estimate," said Jerry Grigar, conservation agronomist for the Soil Conservation Service.

"The seven-minute program provides specific 'how to' instructions for field measurement of residue cover. With a 50 or 100-foot measuring tape farmers can measure and know the percent cover they have in about five minutes," Grigar added.

The line-transect methods used by the Soil Conservation Service to measure residue cover is a simple procedure that provides accurate measurements immediately. Farmers are encouraged to use it to measure residue cover and guide timely decisions about their conservation tillage system.

Unless conservation plans specify a higher amount, 30% residue cover after planting is needed for mulch till conservation tillage and conservation compliance. Field measurement needs to become a routine practice like checking and adjusting machinery.

All programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on a non-discriminatory basis, without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, marital status or handicap.

Pursell Calls for Allies To Pay Share of Gulf War

Michigan Congressman Carl D. Pursell today offered an amendment to the Persian Gulf supplemental appropriation asking that the Allied Coalition share the financial burden.

The Pursell-Chapman amendment expresses the sense of Congress that the allies uphold their pledged financial assistance.

"Now that the war has been won, it's important that we remind our allies the bills have come due," said Pursell, a senior member of the House Appropriations Committee.

"We are told the cost of the war is about $70 billion. The Administration has received pledges totalling some $54.5 billion.

"My amendment simply puts Congress on record, and our allies on notice, that we are watching this situation and we expect these commitments to be honored," said Pursell.

The major commitments include:
—$16.8 billion from Saudi Arabia
—$16 billion from Kuwait
—$10.7 billion from Japan
—$8.6 billion from Germany
—$4 billion from the United Arab Emirates
—$385 million from Korea.

According to the Office of Management and Budget, only $16.9 billion of the total has reached the U.S. Treasury. The amendment sets April 15 as the deadline for allies to have fulfilled their pledges or made arrangements for payment.

"American citizens have to settle their tax payments by April 15, so it is only fitting that our allies make their payments by the same date.

"We will be watching to see that the burden is equally shared. The United States' commitment of manpower, equipment and technology, represented a significant expenditure of American resources," said Pursell.

"By no means should the American people shoulder the bulk of the financial burden for the freedom of Kuwait. My amendment serves as a reminder to our allies that the balance on their accounts has come due."

New Recycling Plant Opens at Whitmore Lake

Officials at Contractors Container Corporation, better known as Mister Rubbish, announced that they have received the final operating license from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for their recycling and solid waste processing facility. Full scale operation of the facility will begin this week.

The facility is designed and permitted under PA 641 (the Solid Waste Management Act) to accept both source separated recyclable material, and mixed solid waste which undergoes processing to remove recyclable materials. The reclaimed materials are further processed and shipped to brokers and/or manufacturers for eventual reuse or remanufacturing.

The facility processes corrugated cardboard, mixed office paper, HDPE No. 2 plastic containers, glass, tin, aluminum, scrap steel, and waste wood.

According to company officials it is anticipated that approximately 125 tons per week of material will be removed from the solid waste stream in the initial weeks of operation. Within six months the facility is expected to divert over 300 tons of recyclables per week from landfill disposal.

The $2.5 million facility is financed in part by a $790,000 low interest loan under Michigan's Quality of Life Bond Program, and a $250,000 Commerce Department grant.

MCRC Annual Meeting Scheduled March 26

Mill Creek Research Council's 1991 annual meeting has been scheduled for 8 p.m. on March 26 at the Lima Town Hall. Included on the evening's agenda will be a review of current concerns and related activities; also, election of board members for 1991-92.

Of some local concern is the selection of the Lima, Scio, Lodi, Freedom corner as one of several possible Michigan sites for a seven-state low-level radioactive waste disposal site.

Also, while there is apparently no current push for the proposed Lima township Huron-Clinton Metro Authority's Mill Creek park, it has never been removed from county's, H.C.M.A.'s or SEMCOG's plans!

It is expected that Charles Arnold, who was elected vice-president in March 1990, will preside on March 26, as 10-year board chairman. Wally Fusiler, has resigned from the board due to other responsibilities. His generous significant contributions over these years are very much appreciated.

1991-92 dues may be paid to treasurer, William Chandler.

Plans for this 1991, the 28th annual meeting were made by the board which met at Betty Messman's on Feb. 7. Board members present were Charles Arnold, David Bacon, William Chandler, Janet McCalla, Betty Messman, Margaret Sias, Arlys Spink, and Linda White. Absent were Barbara Eby, Gerald Myers, and Harold Powers.

IRS Says Electronic Filing Gains Popularity

Less than a month to go and you still haven't "gotten around to it," h-m-m? You know what we mean—filing your federal income tax return. Well if you're one of the two million or so Michigan taxpayers who still has to file, the IRS has some advice for you.

"Why wait six to eight weeks for your refund, when you can have it in about three?" said IRS district director John Hummel. "By filing electronically and electing to have your refund directly deposited into a checking or savings account, you'll have your money within three weeks, and maybe even more quickly," he said.

When filed electronically, tax return information is transmitted over telephone lines directly into IRS computers.

"Computers do much of the processing work and ensure that refunds go out more quickly," Hummel added. "Last year, about 137,000 Michigan taxpayers took advantage of electronic filing and already this year, nearly 200,000 have done the same. These taxpayers realize there are many benefits in the program, including a mathematically correct return, acknowledgment by the IRS of receipt of the return, and of course, that quick refund check," said Hummel.

Hummel added that even individuals who owe the IRS money can file electronically this year, and he encouraged all taxpayers who have not yet filed to take advantage of this easy, and virtually paperless, tax return filing method.

★ Baby Wild Animals ...

Even as the winter continues out of doors, wild animals are preparing for the spring breeding season in their nests and dens. Beginning in March, and lasting through the spring and summer, thousands of baby wild animals will make their peeping and chittering appearance in our forests, our wetlands, and our own backyards. Inevitably, some of these tiny birds and mammals will be discovered away from their nests by human beings.

How do you tell whether you should pick up a baby wild animal that you find? The most important thing to remember is that most young animals discovered by humans are not orphaned, but merely out on their first exploring trips. Therefore, the first rule is to leave young animals alone! They belong in the wild under the care of their parents. Their initial walks or flights are actually encouraged by the parent animals as they are necessary for the youngsters' growth and development. When we humans interfere and assume that a baby wild animal alone needs our help, it completely upsets the natural design. It is especially important for parents to impress this point upon children, as many animals are needlessly picked up by kids.

Occasionally, baby animals do need our help. Observe the animal in question consistently but unobtrusively for at least several hours, if not a whole day. If an adult animal visits the baby to feed or encourage it, then the baby is not an orphan. A true orphan, or an animal that has any kind of injury, should be put in a small warm box and taken to your nearest wildlife rehabilitation facility immediately. Minutes count for such tiny creatures! Do not attempt to feed a wild animal; the rehabilitators will have the proper type of food on hand.

In Washtenaw county, the Human Society of Huron Valley offers wildlife medical care and rehabilitation. The shelter is open seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. If you find a wild animal that needs care when the shelter is closed, or if you are unable to transport an animal to the shelter, HSHV also has a 24-hour emergency rescue vehicle which may be reached by calling (313)662-2374. Our services are free, but we depend on donations to keep the program going. In 1990, over 1,000 wild animals were treated, rehabilitated and later released back to the wild by humane society volunteers. For a free handout on baby wild animal care, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Wild Babies, c/o Linda Reider, HSHV, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor, MI 48106.

A Taxing Issue Facing Farmers

The property tax debate in Lansing is boiling down to a discussion over a tax shift versus a tax cut, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Ron Nelson.

"One concern is that if it is a tax cut, will those adversely affect agricultural programs?" he said. "On the other hand if we are considering a tax shift, which means increasing other taxes to finance property tax cuts, then we are talking about an entirely separate issue."

Nelson says Farm Bureau will be monitoring the tax cut debate and may take a position on specific tax reduction proposals in the future.

Orchestra Concert a Success

Chelsea orchestras again demonstrated their expertise on Thursday evening, March 7 at Chelsea High School Auditorium. The Seventh Grade Orchestra showed a full and well-coordinated sound on Haydn's "St. Anthony Chorale" and "Shores of Biscayne Bay" selections, and demonstrated their pizzicato prowess on "Variations on a Ground," a humorous parody of the baroque style.

The Eighth Grade Orchestra, which won straight first division ratings in the Festival in Saline on March 9, was most impressive. They played Handel's "March from Scipio" with a majestic and balanced sound far beyond most musicians of their age. In Nelhybel's "Bohemian Suite," they listened well to each other and achieved a bright yet full sound. The "Espresso Sostenuto" section of this piece was especially moving. Their rendition of the perennial favorite, "March from Carmen" by Bizet was spirited and energetic. The eighth graders gave an outstanding performance that speaks to the quality (and size!) of next year's high school orchestra.

The High School Orchestra also played very well, showing their mastery of the classical style with Mozart's "Dream of Scipione." The modern rhythms and harmonies of "Choreography" by Dello Joio were tricky, but the young players handled them expertly, with director Peter Rosheger almost dancing on the podium as he led them through it. The piece de resistance, however, was "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" by Luther. This piece demonstrated challenging rhythmic changes, well executed crescendo and decrescendos, and contrapuntal style, with an especially beautiful answering back and forth between woodwinds and strings that was memorable. The orchestra followed Rosheger beautifully, with precision entrances and an awe-inspiring, spine-tingling finish to the piece which drew a standing ovation from the appreciative audience.

Chelsea residents are very fortunate to be able to experience such excellent concerts, and Chelsea students are blessed with a fine conductor in Peter Rosheger.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated on Saturday

Annual Chelsea community Easter Egg Hunt is slated for this Saturday, March 23 at 11 a.m. at Chelsea High school.

The hunt, conducted in several age groups, features a two-minute dash for colored hard-boiled eggs, some of them marked for special prizes.

Harold Allen, owner of Lori's Boutique and a life-time Chelsea resident, is again organizing the event. Polly's Market has agreed to donate the 100 dozen eggs.

Kids should plan to arrive early because once Allen yells "go" it takes just a few seconds for all the eggs to disappear.

Children who win the special prizes will again have their photos taken for The Standard.

Recycling Group Discusses Rules

Western Washtenaw Recycling Consortium is close to finalizing its formal organization as a solid waste authority.

The consortium consists of the Villages of Chelsea and Manchester, as well as Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, Dexter, Manchester, Sharon, Freedom, and Bridgewater townships. It was formed to implement a pending $330,000 recycling grant from the state.

Representatives of the governments met last Thursday to discuss by-laws proposed by the group's attorney. No official action was taken but Chelsea representative Frank Hammer said he anticipates the by-laws will be adopted soon.

Once the organization becomes official, officers will be elected.

SPORTS

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Kerry Plank Named Cage MVP As Senior Leads Every Category

To the surprise of no one, senior guard Kerry Plank was voted MVP of the Chelsea Bulldogs varsity basketball team by his teammates.

Plank led the Bulldogs in virtually every statistical category.

Plank also broke a record in a performance measurement devised by coach Robin Raymond. Raymond instituted a plus-minus point system for judging players during his first tenure as coach. The formula is points scored, minus shots missed, plus rebounds, minus fouls, plus steals, plus blocked shots, plus charges taken, plus 2 x assists.

Plank's 528 points in the system broke the old single-season mark of 436 set by Jeff Dils.

Plank also led in points scored with 408, for a 19.4 average, free throw percentage (87-123) at 71 percent, rebounds with 194 for a 9.4 average, assists with 74, steals with 74, and fouls with 56.

Most Improved went to senior Chris Haugen, who didn't play at all last season but this year was fourth in the plus-minus system.

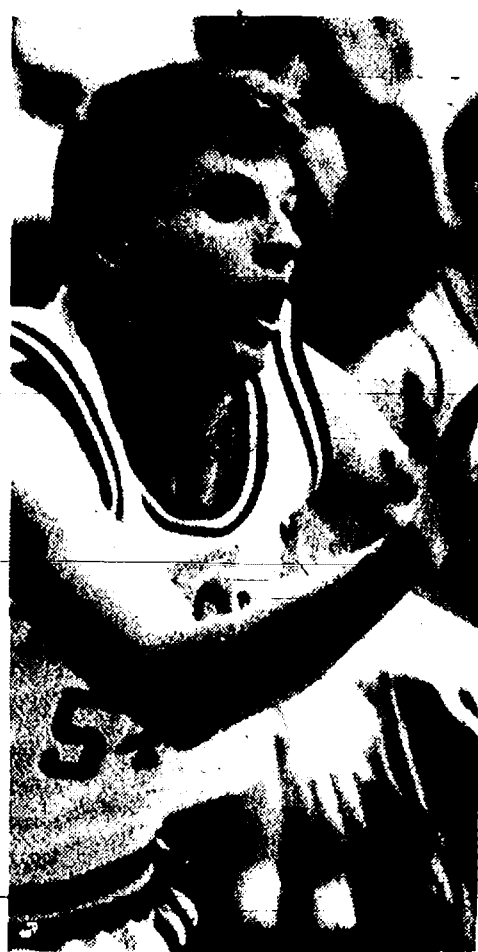

For the second year in a row the Oil Can Award for team spirit went to senior Jeremy Stephens.

Senior Jude Quilter led in charges taken with five.

Junior Jon Royce led in blocked shots with 14.

KERRY PLANK—MVP

CHRIS HAUGEN—Most Improved

Royce was elected next year's team captain.

As a team the Bulldogs shot 42 percent from the field (472-1,123) while opponents shot 45 percent (501-1,106). "Over-all I think we came close to playing at our capability," Raymond said.

"Going in I thought we could be about 500 or a little better on the season. We lost a few close games we could have won."

Karl Wikman, Mike Terpstra Named Chelsea Wrestling MVPs

Senior Karl Wikman and junior Mike Terpstra were named co-MVPs of the Chelsea Bulldogs varsity wrestling team.

Wikman, who wrestled 112 pounds and finished second in the state in class B, finished his career with a 105-18 record.

Terpstra, who won the state heavyweight title, finished the season at 39-4 and led the team in a number of categories.

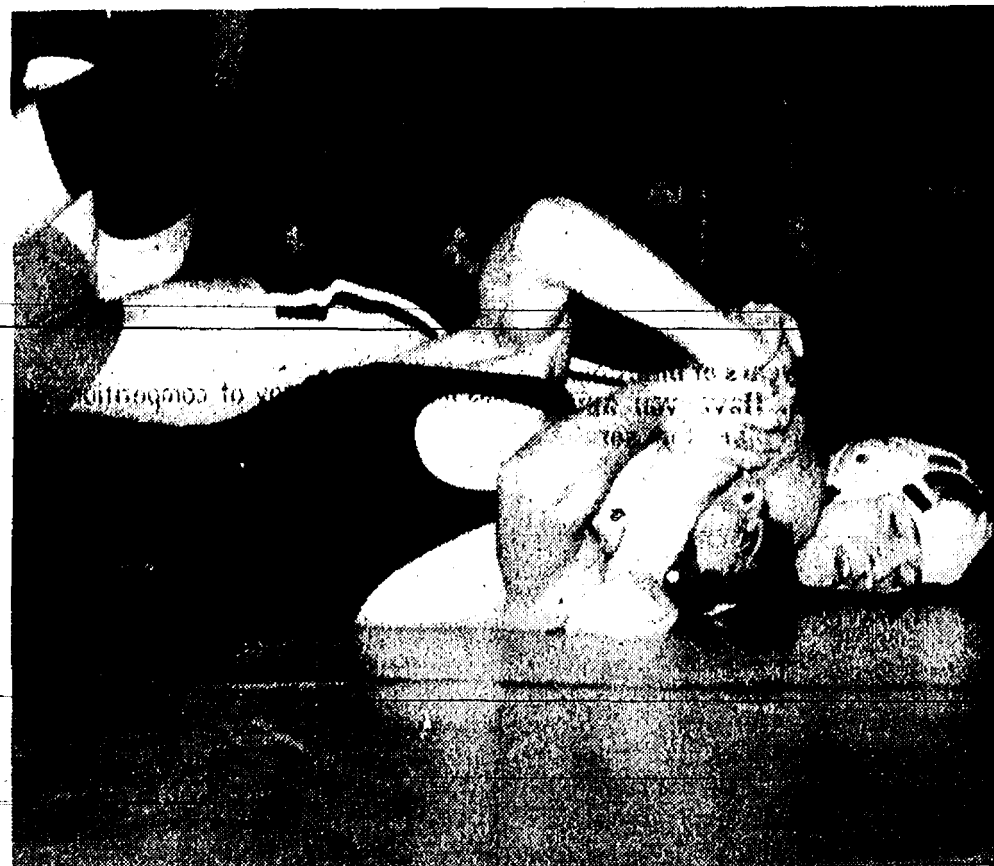

Most Improved award went to senior Kelly Beard. As a junior, Beard had a 4-5 record while this season he improved to 23-7.

Senior Jim Hassett won coach Kerry Kargel's Coach's Award. The award usually goes to a senior based on a number of criteria, including work attitude, grade point average, and involvement in other extracurricular activities.

Terpstra won medals for most pins (33), quickest pin (nine seconds), most wins (39), and most individual points (206).

Wikman won a medal for most team points (154). Sophomore Kevin McCalla won a medal for most six-minute matches (25), and Beard won a medal for most tied matches (2).

There were 21 letter winners.

KARL WIKMAN, above, and Mike Terpstra were named MVP's of the Chelsea varsity wrestling team this winter.

Pursell Calls for Repeal of Newspaper Preservation Act

Michigan Congressman Carl D. Pursell renewed his call for an end to the granting of newspaper Joint Operating Agreements (JOAs).

Pursell re-introduced legislation which calls for repeal of the Newspaper Preservation Act (NPA), under which JOAs are permitted. He introduced an identical bill last year.

"I remain convinced the NPA violates the First Amendment guarantee of a free press and creates questionable monopoly situations," said Pursell.

"The NPA is a bad law, and we should act promptly to put an end to the practice of allowing otherwise competitive newspapers to join business operations and thus circumvent free market forces," the congressman said.

The NPA provides a process for obtaining an exemption from anti-trust laws to create JOAs between competing newspapers when one is in danger of financial failure. Applications for JOAs are approved at the sole discretion of the U.S. Attorney General, with or without public hearings.

Pursell's proposed legislation would end the practice while allowing existing JOAs to continue.

"Since I introduced this legislation in the last session of Congress, we now are hearing rumors about a possible JOA between the New York Daily News and the New York Post.

"Given the ongoing labor strike at the Daily News, such a JOA would cast further dispersions on the credibility of the NPA," Pursell said. "Also, if a JOA is needed in the New York City market, common sense should tell us the NPA is not being used in exceptional cases but is being used as a means of creating sweetheart monopolies."

Although the NPA was designed to preserve dual editorial voices in markets which theoretically changed and could support but one newspaper,

Pursell said there is evidence to the contrary.

"Despite having JOAs in Miami and St. Louis, the failing newspapers closed their doors—while continuing to split profits," he said.

Pursell also believes the JOA process can have a chilling effect on news coverage and editorial comment.

"How can a newspaper, which is supposed to be free from government intervention under the First Amendment, fulfill its role as the watchdog of government when the government is party to the granting of the paper's monopoly status?"

Three newspaper groups also have endorsed the measure: the International Newspaper Guild, Citizens for an Independent Press and the Association of Alternative Newsweeklies. The Society of Professional Journalists has called for extensive hearings on the bill and its impact.

Walbridge Earns EMU Regents Scholarship

Hillary H. Walbridge, 2900 Mt. Hope Rd., Grass Lake, was recently awarded a Regents Scholarship from Eastern Michigan University.

Recipients of the scholarships, valued at $1,700 annually, must maintain a 3.5 grade point average at EMU to continue to receive the award each year.

Scholarship recipients must have earned a minimum 3.75 grade point average in high school and scored at least a 25 on the American College Test or a 1050 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

The first law limiting working hours of women to 10 hours a day was passed in Ohio in 1852, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank the many friends and neighbors for the many cards and flowers I received while in the hospital for hip surgery. I would also like to thank the many friends and neighbors for the cards and visits I received during my recovery at home. Harold Trinkle

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the recent death of our "mother." The prayers, visits, flowers, food and donations were greatly appreciated. A special thank you to the doctors and nurses at Saline Community Hospital for their great care and love they showed, not only to our mother but all our family and friends who sat with her in her last hours of need. To Pastor Ronald Baldman of St. Paul U.C.C. for his prayers, visits and comforting words at the funeral. To the Mitchells, of Staffan-Mitchell Funeral home of Chelsea, for all their help and friendship. And last but not least, there are some very special people who helped in many ways. A special thanks to each of you. God bless you all. The family of Dorothy D. Williams.

THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone who remembered Wilma during her stay at Lansing General Hospital and since her return home. Also Dr. Larry Porzot and the staff at Lansing General Hospital. All the visits, rides to the hospital, cards, phone calls, flowers, and food are much appreciated from the bowling team, Fun and Study Club, our dear friends and relatives. Wilma M. and Norm F. ANR Week Highlights Environmental Concerns

Most of the programs planned for Agriculture and Natural Resources (ANR) Week, March 17-23, will focus on environmental problems that affect many Michigan communities.

The week's events will provide individuals and association, organization and government leaders with guidelines for tackling community and state issues that could be substantially improved with citizen assistance. These range from cleaning up local surface water resources to trying to control the gypsy moth.

Important to Communities
Community leaders will find that a number of ANR Week programs may be of benefit to them and their local residents.

Some programs and the persons to contact for more information are:

• The Gypsy Moth in Michigan—March 20, 1-4 p.m., Kellogg Center. By the end of this decade, the gypsy moth may be defoliating trees in every Michigan county. During outbreak conditions (when the gypsy moth caterpillar population reaches upwards of 6.2 million per acre), living in an infested area can be intolerable. Experts will focus on gypsy moth biology and management, educational programs and steps property owners can take to reduce destruction by the insect. More information from David Smitley at MSU, 517-353-3890.

• Rediscovering the Grand River: Findings of Expedition '90—March 20, 9:30 a.m. to 2:45 p.m., Kellogg Center. Results and discussion of the 12-day Grand River Expedition last summer. Experts will focus on the river's water quality, value, history, future and attractions along its course. More information from Lois Wolfson at MSU, 517-353-3742.

• North American Waterfowl Plans—March 21, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wells Hall. A coalition—The Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, and the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation—offers communities and private property owners assistance in voluntary restoration or creation of wetlands for waterfowl and/or water quality improvement, including waters entering inland lakes. This is part of a plan to restore one-half million acres of wetland and waterfowl habitat in Michigan. For more information, call Glenn Dudderar at MSU, 517-353-1990.

• Management of Michigan Rivers: Headwaters—March 21, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Kellogg Center. The Michigan chapter of the American Fisheries Society will discuss with county officials and civic and association leaders the merits and methods of curtailing point-source and non-point contamination of lands in which streams and rivers (which ultimately flow into lakes) originate. For more information, call Glenn Dudderar at MSU, 517-353-1990.

• Great Lakes Fisheries: A Resource

Under Stress—March 21, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Kellogg Center. Regional and Canadian experts will discuss the effects of contaminants on the lakes' ecosystem, the history of lamprey control, fish diseases and the allocation of fisheries rights. More information from Lois Wolfson at MSU, 517-353-3742.

• Local Solid Waste Planning and Implementation Process—March 21, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Communication Arts Building. Experts will discuss the merits and mechanisms of regional recycling and the use of WastePlan, a micro-computer program that will enable communities to develop sensible solid waste management programs. The content of this program may be particularly useful to lake association managers. For more information, call George Rowan at MSU, 517-353-1740.

• Invasive Species and Michigan Surface Waters—March 22, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Several exotic species, including the zebra mussel, threaten many of Michigan's inland lakes. Researchers and water quality experts will discuss various methods to reduce the threat to Michigan's lakes. More information available from Lois Wolfson at MSU, 517-353-3742.

Greenway Advocacy
A highlight of the ANR Week events will be the presentation by Charles E. Little, author of "Greenways for America." Little will be the featured speaker for the Natural Resources Banquet March 21, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at Kellogg Center.

Little is a national authority on the greenways movement—the creation of recreation zones between or around metropolitan areas—in the United States. Greenways can contribute to the economic improvement of the local community, but more importantly, they provide paths or trails for recreation, preserve natural corridors for wildlife migration, and protect scenic and historic routes from commercial development.

Tickets for the banquet and reception are $15. Reservations are requested by March 15 and may be made by calling Debbie Bunch at 517-355-0118.

These events are among the 80 activities scheduled during ANR Week, which are intended to be the basis for community improvement.

Providing people with a benchmark for improvement has been the purpose of ANR Week since it began shortly after the founding of MSU.

The week is intended to provide citizens, community leaders and policy makers with a forum for discussion that would otherwise not be readily available to them.

All ANR Week programs are open to the public. More information about the week's events are listed in a free guidebook that is available from the local county MSU Co-operative Extension Service office.

Thieves Hit Construction Site

Miscellaneous tools were stolen from two storage trailers and a truck at the Hatch Stamping Co. building site in the Chelsea Industrial Park last week-end.

The trailers belong to an electrician and a carpenter at the site.

Thieves cut a padlock to enter one of the trailers and pried a door open on the other, according to Chelsea police reports. The truck had a broken vent window.

Asbury Brass Quintet Appearing Twice Friday

The second benefit concert of the Dexter Fine Arts Series will feature the Asbury Brass Quintet from Chicago, Ill., performing at Copeland Auditorium, Friday, evening, March 22.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Elsi Sly promised, "This group of five outstanding artists, produces sounds ranging from smooth and rich to brilliant and sassy."

She explained for the Fine Arts Series sponsors, "Fresh, innovative programming is the Asbury Brass Quintet's cache. The musicians are a tremendous inspiration for their listeners. Possessing technique to burn, these gentlemen tune in to the audience, and deliver a superb, articulated performance."

Choosing among classical compositions, as well as jazz standards, spirituals, rags, folk songs, marches or American musical theater, the Asbury Brass Quintet packs every performance with humor, virtuosic technique and musicality.

The young quintet captured first prize during Indiana's Fischhoff National Chamber Music Competition, and the prestigious Saunderson Award at the Coleman Chamber Music Competition to catapult to the top rank of brass ensembles in America.

As part of their performance in Dexter, they will be presenting an assembly at Dexter High, Friday afternoon, March 22.

Afterward, they will meet with students playing in the brass sections of the high school bands for a special "brass" clinic.

The quintet's appearance at the high school is sponsored by the Educational Foundation of Dexter.

The Dexter Fine Arts Series, sponsored annually by the Dexter United Methodist church, was created to offer a wide range in top-notch entertainment for the enjoyment of everyone in the community.

Proceeds will benefit the music ministry of the church.

Outdoor Oriented Programs Offered During ANR Week

Are you interested in gardening, growing herbs or nut trees, hunting mushrooms or turkeys, raising backyard poultry or gamebirds as a hobby, or visiting one of Michigan's national parks?

If so, you'll probably be interested in attending Agriculture and Natural Resources (ANR) Week, March 18-23 at Michigan State University.

Special programs for people who enjoy the out-of-doors are among the 80 activities that are open to the public during the week.

Growing Herbs

Sponsored by the Michigan Herb Associates, the program is Wednesday and Thursday, March 20-21, at Farrall and Anthony halls. The cost is $25 for both days or $15 for one day. The focus will be on growing herbs, using them in the home and selling herbs. More information may be obtained from Beverly Anderson at MSU by calling (517) 353-0862.

Meeting the Superintendents

This will be an informal discussion with national park service, forest service, and fisheries and wildlife superintendents in Michigan. It is an opportunity for hikers, campers and other visitors to learn more about the services that the parks and the agencies provide to the public and the attractions each park contains. The session will also give participants a chance to make suggestions for improving or adding to park activities during the year. The session is free and will run from 9 a.m. to noon, Thursday, March 21, in 101 Kellogg Center. For more information, call Louis Twardzik at MSU, (517) 353-5190.

Raising Gamebirds

Raising gamebirds, from quails to pheasants (some of which cost upwards of $4,000), is the focus of the Multi-State Gamebird Conference Thursday and Friday, March 21-22, at the Harley Hotel in Lansing (just south of the MSU campus). The program costs $45 and begins at 1 p.m. March 21. Most of the expected participants raise gamebirds as a hobby. The session is intended for the beginner as well as the experienced person. More information may be obtained from Cal Flegal at MSU, (517) 353-1394.

Turkey Hunting

Turkey hunters or wild bird observers who want to improve their skills will want to attend the wild turkey hunters' workshop from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, March 23, at Wells Hall.

The free program will cover the characteristics of the wild turkey, where it is located in Michigan, and techniques for hunting, photographing or observing turkeys. More information may be obtained from Glen Dudderar at MSU, (517) 353-1990.

A free booklet that outlines ANR Week programs is available from all MSU county Co-Operative Extension Services. Copies may also be obtained by writing to the MSU Bulletin Office, 10-B Agriculture Hall, MSU, East Lansing 48824.

Govt. Surplus Foods Will Be Distributed

THEATRE R.e.v.i.e.w

By RUSS OGDEN
Free Lance Drama Critic
& EMU Professor

"You Can't Take It With You"

Chuckles and guffaws could be heard outside Beach Middle school last week-end (Thursday through Sunday) as the pizza potpourri plus "You Can't Take It With You" offered community theatre enjoyment as the comedy reached its target.

How difficult it is to think that a Pulitzer Prize Comedy started way, way back, at the Booth Theatre in New York on Dec. 15, 1936. "You Can't Take It With You" is old enough this year to draw Social Security benefits, but community and legitimate theatres keep coming back to a fool-proof evening of absolute frivolity, with a few messages tossed in here and there.

The Sycamore household is a daily "upset the fruitbasket game" with each inhabitant involved in their various hobbies and interests, mostly avocations rather than a traditional job.

Grandpa Vanderhof (Frank Dillon) sages well with his philosophical attitude toward life: if you don't like your job, do something you do enjoy. Grandpa is surrounded by Penelope Sycamore (Julie Vorus)—never finishing a play of which she has a dozen, or finishing a painting, also unfinished "masterpieces." Her husband is Paul Sycamore (Richard Wallace), also a basement oriented hobby of constructing fireworks which daily provides an explosion.

Joining into the festivities are Essie (Katie Flynn), who is constantly performing her amateur ballet dances, and her husband Ed (Dave Morris) who plays the xylophone and composes music. A confused cook, Inga (Norma Graflund); Donald (Mike Long), Inga's boyfriend; Mr. DePinna (Jerry Martell) who delivered groceries to the residence but never left, and also flirts with fireworks; and the crazy revolutionist, Boris Kohlenkov (Tom Layher) who serves as a ballet taskmaster and general philosopher ... a family living in the Sycamore residence.

Alice (Carey Wallace), apparently the only working member of the household it seems, becomes enamored with Tony Kirby (Ken Beauchamp), son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby (Tom Peckham and Jerri Cole) who own the business. The senior Kirbys are traditional business people with their ulcers and upper social climbing.

Time evolves with the introducing of all of these characters with the pinnacle of excitement arriving with the formally attired Kirbys and their son, Tony. The social center for the family is the evening dinner table, and Mrs. Sycamore pulls together her organizational plans to get "hot dogs which end up as pig's feet" for the evening meal. The Kirbys see the carnival of life at the last-minute meal.

Mrs. Kirby suffers emotional shock and never recovers, but Mr. Kirby grabs on to Grandfather Vanderhof's philosophy and joins the pack with his son, Tony.

The Internal Revenue Service (Allen Anderson, John "Rick" Gill, Sean Graflund, and Hal Wendelken) are properly ignored by the non-taxpayer, Mr. Vanderhof, with Vanderhof winning his argument.

Other members of the cast include Grand Duchess Olga Katrina (Connie Scott)—the visiting Russian royalty who is also a cook; and Gay Wellington (Debbie Olson).

Director Ward Beauchamp's direction failed to avoid the uneven pattern of "You Can't Take It With You," sputtering from sheer brilliance to boring dullness at various stages. Part of this awkwardness, however, comes from some of the dated material included in the play which is not current and does not provide any historical significance. Comedies, I am convinced, are still the most difficult to do, but Chelsea Area Players always do a better than average rendering of plays when compared to other area amateur productions. They do this in "You Can't Take It With You!"

Making the successful venture of "You Can't Take It With You" succeed would have to include a superb performance by Frank Dillon as the lovable Grandpa Vanderhof; the lean, handsome Ken Beauchamp made Tony Kirby a believable role; and Jerri Cole as the unforgiving, socially oriented Mrs. Kirby offered an unforgettable character to us, and Julie Vorus as the mother in the family, was great in always trying to put things together. One of my favorites, although not having a great deal to say, but nevertheless constantly holding his role as Ed was Dave Morris.

The pizza and Pepsi party accompanying the evening of successful comedy was great. An unusual characteristic of any Chelsea Area Players event is the warmth and friendliness of the support staff not on the Beach Middle school stage.
