ONE HUNDRED-TWENTIETH YEAR—No. 47

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1991

22 Pages This Week Plus Supplement

AIR BAGS WERE PLACED BENEATH Reuben Lesser's tractor tires before inflating the bags to demonstrate the tremendous lifting power available. Chelsea firefighters Larry Koch and Randy Stowe are kneeling during the demonstration at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, Saturday, April 13, when 96 people represented fire, police and medical personnel from nine Michigan counties at the Agricultural Rescue Program (AARP) sponsored by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau. Demonstrators advised the entire tractor front could have been lifted with no difficulty by the air bags, had they been further inflated.

Property Tax Freeze Could Put Big Squeeze On School District

Chelsea School District could face a financial crisis if the state legislature passes a two-year freeze on property taxes, which cleared the senate last week.

A measure to keep property taxes at 1990 levels for the next two years passed the senate unanimously and is scheduled to be considered by the house this week.

Property taxes account for the vast majority of the money collected by the Chelsea district as well as other "out-of-formula" districts.

If the measure passes, and assistant superintendent Fred Mills is confident it will, Chelsea will not be able to collect $787,000 it would have otherwise received from the increase in State Equalized Valuation. The tentative budget for next school year is $12,396,899.

The bill, as passed by the senate, would allow the SEV to rise this year but would force the district to roll back its millage so the district would not collect more money for the 1991-92 school year than it did in 1990-91. In the second year, SEV would be frozen, but the district could collect on new construction, which would provide the only increase in funds.

If the bill passes in its form as of Monday, millage would have to be rolled back to reflect any new construction as well. In Chelsea's case, next year the district could collect on $12 million in new construction, most of it the result of Chelsea Shopping Center.

"It's total insanity," Mills said Monday.

"There is no provision anywhere to make up the money for the schools. All they tell us is we have the option of going back to the voters for more millage."

The bill has several implications for Chelsea.

First, it's likely the district will either have to make severe cuts in "programs and people," as Mills said, or ask voters to approve 2 1/2 mills to make up the difference. Sports programs and other extra-curricular activities could take a severe blow. Two years ago the district threatened to make up a $490,000 shortfall, in part, by eliminating all middle school and freshman sports. Mills said he has already cut almost as much discretionary spending from next year's budget as he can. It's likely lay-offs would be included.

Mills said he would recommend the district ask voters to approve the additional millage in the regular June elections.

Second, the district does not want to be in the position of asking voters to approve additional operational millage in June and a $23 million bond issue in September for construction and renovation.

The district and the Chelsea Education Association, the teachers union, are scheduled to negotiate a new contract next year. The prospect of no additional tax money coming into the district could severely limit the union's bargaining position.

Mills said that he and financial officers in other out-of-formula districts worry most that the state may decide in-formula, or less prosperous districts, will not lose any money from the freeze. They theorize the state may simply reduce state aid to districts like Chelsea and give it to less prosperous ones. Last year the state decided it wouldn't automatically pay social security taxes for each district as it has in the past. Those funds are now eligible to be "recaptured" by the state, Mills said.

Mills said the state will reap "a heck of a windfall" under the new bill because the state aid formula is tied partially to millage rates. If districts are forced to roll back their millage, the state will pay them less.

"It looks like the state is attempting to balance its budget on the back of education," Mills said.

Mills said the district has tried unsuccessfully to discuss the bill with both state Sen. Lana Pollack and Rep. Margaret O'Connor.

The bill would also affect every other taxing unit, from the county to the local units.

Chelsea Downtown Development Authority's revitalization plan does not appear to be in jeopardy. The difference in SEV between this year and DDA's base year of 1988 is enough to pay off its bond issue.

Latimer Tells Experience Of Persian Gulf War

It was the last thing Jeff Latimer expected when he enlisted in the U.S. Army after graduating from Chelsea High school last spring. He wanted to earn money for college tuition. He ended up getting a lesson he'll never forget.

Latimer returned Friday for a happy, tearful reunion with his family after spending nearly 2 1/2 months in the Persian Gulf with the 211th Military Police Co. during Operation Desert Storm. He got the call Feb. 1, the day he graduated from military police school, after the bombing started and before the ground war began. The company landed in Saudi Arabia and gradually moved into Kuwait and Iraq.

While Latimer's company didn't come under fire, or really even witness any hostilities, they did experience one of the most dramatic aspects of the war—the hoards of Iraqi soldiers who gave up when the ground war began. His unit was charged with protecting up to 3,500 Iraqi prisoners.

"We had to search and tag every prisoner for the records," Latimer said.

"We had to mark their unit, age and birthday."

Latimer said many of the prisoners were well-educated and some even spoke English. And virtually all of them were glad to be captured once they got over the initial terror.

"One time we had a prisoner in the prone position and were searching him," Latimer recalled.

"He was shaking uncontrollably. Through a translator we were able to find out that he was so afraid because Saddam had told the troops we were all butchers. During their war with Iran it was common for prisoners to have fingers chopped off. A lot of the prisoners were missing several fingers. They kept asking us why we were being so good to them. For us it was like keeping a lot of children happy. Many of them wanted to talk a lot. They basically just sat and waited for their food."

The prisoners gave up so readily, Latimer said, because they were forced to go to battle and didn't want to fight. They just wanted to go home. He said the Iraqi soldiers that were killed were the ones "who didn't put down their guns fast enough."

Latimer said some of the prisoners were injured but many more of them found something wrong when allied medics showed up because of all the special attention they received.

Latimer experienced a variety of living conditions. One time he was camped in a junk yard, another time in an area like Briarwood Mall. Much of the time he slept in or on his vehicle. Cool, rainy weather was common. Running water was a rarity and "Pepsi kept us going."

He spent most of his time in his suit designed to withstand a chemical attack. The charcoal liner kept his skin constantly black. When he was able to sponge bathe (called a "whore bath" by the troops), his skin turned black as soon as he put the suit back on.

"It really takes something like that to make you appreciate little things like running water and hot food," Latimer said.

"One time we were able to have dinner with an American family living in Saudi Arabia. We had ice in our drinks."

Village Plans Budget Of $1.8 Million

Village council has scheduled a public hearing April 23 on what will probably be the largest village budget in history.

Council plans to pass a $1,805,745 budget, up from last year's $1.57 million.

The budget process has been somewhat delayed due to the departure of village manager Robert Stalker. Village council had to finish much of the work that would normally have been completed by the village manager.

As usual, the largest item in the budget is $381,100 for police protection. Other major outlays include $213,000 for fire protection, much of which will be charged back to the townships, $276,800 for public works, $252,375 for "other activities," $188,750 for insurance and fringe benefits, $135,000 for general services administration, $108,000 for refuse collection, $112,000 for executive expenses such as administrative salaries, $49,000 for planning and zoning, $36,000 for recycling, and $33,300 for parks and recreation.

The budget anticipates $820,000 in tax revenues, $355,000 from the state, and $320,000 in charge backs for services ranging from refuse collection to fire contracts. There is also a beginning fund balance of $204,145. No other revenue source totals more than $25,000.

Target of Vandalism

A large window at Hatch Stamping Co. was vandalized on Thursday, April 11, according to Chelsea police. Police said the window, 34 1/2" by 80" was apparently broken by thrown rocks sometime around 7:30 p.m.

Stockbridge Woman Named New Principal At South Elementary

Lucille A. Stieber of Stockbridge will become the new principal at South Elementary school this summer.

Stieber, principal and special services director at Howlett Elementary school in Gregory, was officially offered a contract Monday night at the Chelsea Board of Education meeting.

"We had three good candidates but after all the interviews [Stieber] just seemed like the best fit," said Chelsea superintendent Joe Piasecki.

"She is an experienced principal, is very professional, and is a delightful person. While experience wasn't a requirement when we began our search, Mrs. Stieber has an excellent background."

Stieber has been part of the Stockbridge district since 1979. A native of New York, Stieber began as a teacher in New York in 1987, then taught five years in Howell and spent three years as a teacher consultant in Webberville. She has a bachelor's degree in special education/sociology from Syracuse University, and master's degrees in special education and education administration from Michigan State University.

In her current position, Stieber is responsible for planning and implementing the curriculum of Howlett school. She has co-ordinated the curriculum of the entire Stockbridge district, and implemented new programs ranging from K-12 computers to gifted and talented education. She has also been active in increasing parental involvement.

Stieber has also been responsible for the district special education staff and has implemented a staff evaluation process and goal system.

"The reason I wanted to leave Stockbridge is I wanted to be a full-time principal in a larger elementary school," Stieber said.

"There are also a lot of activities in the Chelsea School District that I'd like to be involved in such as self-esteem programs and parental involvement programs. The administrative staff seems like it has a strong team concept, which is also very appealing."

Stieber has a husband, Arnold, and a son, David, age nine. Her contract calls for her to move into the district within a year.

CHS Class of '76 Planning Reunion

Chelsea High School class of '76 graduates will be holding a planning meeting Friday, April 19. If you're a 1976 graduate of Chelsea High, plan to be at The Wolverine at 7 p.m.

NEW SOUTH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL will be Lucille Stieber of Stockbridge, currently principal at Howlett school in Gregory. She was chosen from among three finalists and her contract was approved Monday by the Chelsea Board of Education.

Annual Heart & Sole Run-Walk Scheduled

Saturday, June 1, is the date set for the second annual Heart & Sole 10K and 2 Mile Run/Walk. This already popular event which is co-sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital and Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, will start at 8 a.m. on the campus of the hospital. The route will meander in and out of the Village, depending upon the length of the run or walk, and end up back at the hospital.

David Parham, who is chairing the event, indicates that there will be age division awards, participant ribbons and a drawing for a framed sketch by Cathy Muha. Runners will be given refreshments to restore their energy, while those there to cheer them on are entertained.

Race planners are emphasizing the family aspect of the run in hopes that having a single fee for a family of four will encourage everyone to participate. This year Burns Computer Service will compute the results immediately to speed up the awards ceremony. This company has a "900" number if runners wish to know results but cannot stay for the awards.

Since pasta has been determined to be the right food to prepare for athletic competition, a Pre-Race Spaghetti Dinner is set for Friday evening, May 31, in the main hospital dining room. In-person registration and race packet pick-up may be handled at that same time.

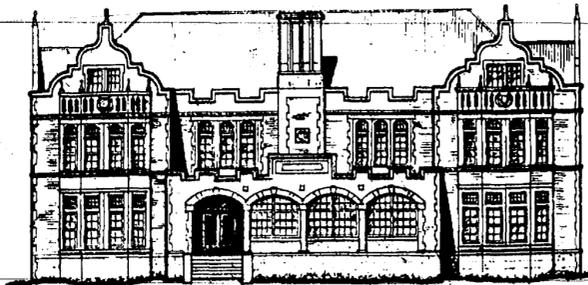

This will be a TAC certified and sanctioned race, an excellent follow-up for the Dexter-Ann Arbor race held the previous week.

For further details, call 475-4063.

Govt. Surplus Foods Will Be Distributed

Chelsea Faith in Action will distribute United States government surplus foods on Thursday, April 18, 2 to 4 p.m. at Faith in Action Building. To receive government surplus foods, you must be a Chelsea area resident. Vegetarian beans, butter, flour and canned pork or beef will be available.

 Ike and Margarete Kozminski, of Chelsea, and their son, John, won a new trial after a federal court set aside their convictions on charges that they forced two mentally retarded workers into involuntary servitude and conspired to deprive them of their constitutional rights. The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said the prosecution should not have been allowed to present the testimony of psychologist Harley Stock whose testimony was key to the case. He testified the Kozminskis had brainwashed Robert Fulmer and Louis Molitoris into serving them. Jamey Ketner designed a display on alcohol for the science fair in the Chelsea High school media center. She, and the other students in the fair, were students in Barb Pruess' biology classes. Jamey's work showed the effects alcohol has on plants and humans, and detailed the steps to human dependence.

Construction May Be Slowed By Cuts in DNR Permit Staff
 The state is heading toward a construction season that may be slowed by budget cuts in the Department of Natural Resources permits program, although business officials and the Engler administration charge the anticipated delays are an attempt by the DNR to force higher spending.

Environmental groups are also concerned about the cuts, saying they will mean less protection of wetlands. Business has not yet seen the impact of the layoffs from the cuts, which were effective last week, but Dennis Hall, chief of the Land and Water Management Division, said the reduced staff may mean it will take over six months to process applications for permits to build on sites involving both land and water.

Hall said it will likely require almost the full 90-day period allowed by law—companies may consider their application complies if no decision is rendered in that time—to process permits involving wetlands.

But he said other permits may take twice as long. And that would be in addition to the 30-60 days he said it will take to review applications to determine if they are complete.

"If you haven't applied by now, you may not see your permit for this construction season," he said. Last year, Hall said decisions on permits took 70-75 days, including 7-10 days it took to review the application.

Michigan State Chamber of Commerce president James Barrett accused the department of deliberately targeting the permitting process to build a case for a tax increase and greater funding.

"It's a question of priorities, and economic development ought to have the highest priority," he said. "It requires a reallocation of resources. We will be communicating our concerns very directly."

The permitting staff would not have been cut under either an alternative plan to 9.2 percent across the board cuts that the House Appropriations Committee rejected or the supplemental budget bill (SB 51) where Governor John Engler vetoed $190,000 for the program.

However, the governor's budget proposal for 1991-92 would restore the positions.

John Truscott, spokesman for Governor Engler, said the funds were vetoed in hopes of getting an over-all DNR budget, and blamed the department's leadership for shortchanging the permit process.

"There has not been adequate leadership at the top in terms of prioritizing where the money is spent," he said.

Barrett said the cuts show why department director David Hales—who has already announced his intention to leave—needs to be replaced.

Dennis Adams, chief budget officer for the department, said DNR officials had little discretion once this 9.2 percent across the board cut in general fund spending was ordered to take effect.

He said the permitting staff was hard hit because it already had so many vacancies and, compared to other DNR operations, it relies much more heavily on money from the general fund.

Adams also said prospects are dim that the positions will be restored. "What's done is done," he said.

Rick Newberry, director of the West Michigan Environmental Action Council, said the cuts have taken away some of the best people in the department, leaving neither environmental nor business groups happy.

He said aside from delays, the department is dealing with problems "at a crisis level" instead of helping business avoid violations of state controls, and environmental groups are not happy that a stretched staff is making errors by not "crossing the t's and dotting the i's."

Truscott said with the money available in the department, it can still handle permits on a timely basis and accomplish what has to be done.

He added the administration hopes to set well-defined and strict standards for the permitting process so builders, the department and interested parties can work more efficiently and shorten the process.

The division oversees wetlands and several other state permitting programs as well as the federal Clean Water Act. It handles 6,500-7,000 applications, valued at over $100 million, a year, with about 2,000 of those dealing with wetlands.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 Bug Hookum told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that he general don't spend much time on the sports pages, but he was reading everything the other night on account his old lady was in a sewing mood. When she sews she talks, Bug said, and she allus runs out of someone to say long before she quits saying it.

So it was, Bug said, that he saw this piece about the kind of money baseball players are making. It seems there's a contest on to see which lawyer can convince which team to pay which player the most millions over the longest time. It ain't no wonder, declared Bug, that the wild notion got in Jim Palmer's head that he could still pitch when he saw the numbers being tossed around.

Bug nicked a nerve since all the fellers played cow pasture ball in their day, and most of em still know how to read a boxscore when they can find one in big enough type. Zeke Grubb was of a mind that when you think of the odds a young feller is facing between the bottom and the top of baseball, and when you see what it takes to stay at the top it's no wonder the players want to get all they can while they can. For so long the team owners run the show, Zeke said, and now it's good to see the players have some say.

Practical speaking, Clem Webster allowed, Zeke was on the right track. At the level where baseball stops being a game and starts being a business we got to deal with labor and management and realize they got to work together to keep their place in the market. The plain truth is, Clem went on, the baseball consumer picks up the tab, and the trick is to keep this as painless as possible. This is done like it's allus done in business, with tax break anesthesia.

Clem said he was amazed a few years back during one of Congress' tax reform fits to read where a Senate committee was told that not letting big companies write off the cost of tickets would destroy Major League baseball. The witness said 60 percent of big league tickets are sold before the season starts to companies that use them to reward salesmen, to treat customers and otherwise promote their companies. And when you realize the big TV contracts that pump money in baseball is the cost of doing business you know that professional sports is subsidized as surely as the poor child's breakfast at school.

General speaking, Ed Doolittle said, he stood foursquare for a day's pay for a day's work. If a prize fighter generates $200 million in business and makes $20 million beating somebody senseless in 30 seconds that's a good deal all around except for the feller on the floor, was Ed's words.

Bug stopped short of agreeing with Ed that good business is everthing that traffic will bear. He said we got to have some values that ain't measured in dollar signs. For instant, he read where many of the country's private non-profit hospitals are cheating on their promise to provide charity care in exchange for tax breaks. At the same time, Bug said, more manufacturers are hiding their air and water pollution instead of investing what they need to clean up their operations.

Final, Zeke said the same rules don't apply to a baseball fan's $15 ticket that we need to deal with a poor sick man turned away from a hospital.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Woman's Club Hears About Astrology For April Meeting

Mary Maddalena entertained 19 members and one guest during the April 9 meeting of the Woman's Club of Chelsea. Ms. Maddalena's presentation, in the McKune Memorial Library, was entitled "A Night of Astrology."
 Ms. Maddalena began by saying that astrology is the science of awareness and not a religion, and decisions are up to the individual. The Sun signs are determined from birth-dates. She continued by going through the 12 signs of the zodiac, so that those born under a specific sign could learn some of the characteristics. She concluded by sharing where the planets are positioned at this time, and how this affects certain signs and for what duration.

Following the program, president Jinny Johnson conducted the business meeting. The annual business meeting will be April 23 in the clubroom. Other coming events include the Annual Banquet, celebrating the 60th anniversary of the club, on May 14, and the May 16 Marathon Bridge Dinner.

Mary K. Becker was introduced as a guest. Hostesses for the evening were Marjorie Hepburn and Jean Schmidt.

All area women are invited to attend meetings. For more information, please contact Jinny Johnson, Lois Moore, or Marilyn Haug at 475-8270, 475-8743, or 475-9798, respectively.

Lioness Join Adopt-A-Highway Clean-Up Program

Chelsea Lioness voted to join Michigan Department of Transportation's Adopt-A-Highway Program at their general membership meeting Monday evening, April 8 at Society Bank. M.D.O.T. representative Bob Parsons explained the program to members.

Participating organizations agree to pick up trash along a minimum two-mile stretch of highway four times a year for two years. Two signs are placed along the stretch of the highway with the organizations' name.

This volunteer program has been very successful. The program is barely a year old and already one-third of Michigan's eligible highways are being cleaned up by 1,300 various organizations.

M.D.O.T. has been spending $2 1/2 to $3 million a year picking up highway trash. Not only will the program save taxpayers money but it is hoped to affect an attitude change. If the general public is involved in the trash clean-up, perhaps there will be less littering.

The Lioness will do their first clean-up along M-32 on June 1 which is "National Trash-Out Day" and "Pick-Up Michigan Day."

An additional guest at Monday night's meeting was Terry Jones from Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service. She explained the various services offered and the many free newsletters and publications. They cover 1) Agriculture and Horticulture, 2) 4-H Youth Groups, 3) Home Economics, including Human Relations and child development and 4) Natural Resources and Public Policy. They answer questions regarding such issues as stain removal, food preservation, plant and insect identification and soil analysis. They have programs to teach gardening, to teach nutrition to low income and food stamp recipients and an innovative program of horseback riding for handicapped individuals which builds their self-esteem, helps with muscle co-ordination and allows them to have fun.

The Extension Service is in the phone book for people who wish to call them. They are funded by the federal, state and county governments. Our county has a very active co-op extension service with a very helpful staff.

The next Lioness activity is providing hors d'oeuvres for the Senior Citizen Prom to be held Saturday, May 4 at Beach Middle school.

Lima Extension Tours Germany With Coys' Video

Dishes of sauerkraut, spatzel, stirim, along with a barking dog and background music, was the atmosphere April 9 for the Lima Extension Women's Guest Night.

Fran and Ed Coy graciously greeted and seated 17 members and guests about 7:30 p.m. Many "old timers," back from the south, arrived with delicious German food and special dishes to be enjoyed prior to viewing Coys' trip to Germany.

Fun it was to hear Paul Seitz and his version of storing sauerkraut in big crocks while LeRoy Feldkamp was reminiscing that stirim was what they ate on Monday, "washday." Barb Wing added that stirim in her family was made for breakfast and served with applesauce. Then a third comment, that stirim is just scrambled eggs stuffed with flour!

Dinner conversation continued while viewing T.V. Seats were taken and we readied for an hour's drive through the narrow streets of Germany and Poland. Dexter's sister city was part of the Coys' travel.

Fran Coy and Janet McCailla passed out material pertaining to up-coming events. May 1, $13 is due to Lenaway County for May 15, Tri-County Day. May 10, $5.75 should be in to Barb Edict for Spring Round-Up which is May 20. May 8, 10:30, Lima Town Hall, "Foods and People-Ireland." Diane Horning will present Lima Extension, Webster Extension, and the Congenial Dex-C's, her trip to Ireland in 1986. Call 475-2886 for Irish dish for luncheon.

Law Day Open House Set By Circuit Court

The 22nd Judicial Circuit Court of Washtenaw county, in co-operation with the Washtenaw County Bar Association, has announced a Law Day Open House on Wednesday, May 1, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Law Day was established by President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958. In 1961 the first day of May was set aside by joint resolution of Congress as a "special day of celebration by the American people in appreciation of their liberties and the reaffirmation of their loyalty to the United States of America," and as an occasion for "rededication to the ideals of equality and justice under laws."

The purpose of Law Day is to call the attention of every American citizen to both the principles and the practice of American law and justice. Accommodations will be made for area school classes and citizen or civic groups to visit the courthouse to view court proceedings and participate in a presentation from local judges and court staff.

Interested persons should make arrangements by April 15, by contacting James E. Inloes, court administrator, at 994-2550.

Tammy Browning Appearing on TV

Tammy Browning, a voice performance student at Oberlin Conservatory, Ohio, will be on TV Channels 8-11-19-57 during the 8 p.m. and 11 p.m. evening news, Tuesday, April 23.

 NEW PATIENTS WELCOME

Jeff Latimer Welcomed Home

and we thought that was really something."

Many of the small towns Latimer passed through were poor, with garbage and filth everywhere, he said. However, it was the opposite situation in some of the large cities that "looked like they had just been built, and were clean and modern. Kobar was probably the cleanest city I've ever seen." He even had the chance to eat at a McDonald's restaurant.

"It wasn't like the McDonald's we knew at home, though," he said.

"Their Big Macs were this big," he said, showing room for three sandwiches between his hands.

"And they just piled the french fries on a plate."

When they entered the cities, they were often surrounded by children who wanted to clean the military vehicles in exchange for chemical safety lights that glow in the dark.

"Many of the children would yell 'Saddam' and stomp on the ground," Latimer said.

The closest to actual military confrontation Latimer experienced was when his company was escorted through Kuwait by M-1 and Bradley tanks.

"Whenever we came to an Iraqi tank that looked as though it would still run, they blew it up," Latimer said.

Latimer's company moved through

Kuwait on what was called the "Highway of Death." There were corpses all over and virtually every vehicle, military or civilian, had been blown up. He saw the black smoke of oil wells burning in Kuwait.

In all, it was a jolting experience for a young man who, until joining the military, had never been away from home for longer than an Easter break. Latimer's father, Steve, said he was somewhat surprised and concerned that the country would send a "green recruit" into a war zone.

The rest of Latimer's two-year enlistment will probably be spent at his relatively tame home base of Ft. Stewart in Savannah, Ga.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

Chelsea Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post No. 4076 held their regular monthly meeting Monday, April 9, with election of officers. The following slate of officers were elected: president, Lois Speer; senior vice-president, Virginia Boyer; junior vice-president, Bessie Sharp; treasurer, Lynnett Bowen; chaplain, Gertrude O'Dell; conductress, Eulahlee Packard; guard, Joan Craft. Trustees are Lucy Platt, Norma Seyfried and Velma French. Appointments by the president will be announced at the next meeting in May, with the exception of the secretary, Dorothy Lentz, who was immediately appointed.

Reports were given of the March 30 bake sale, and the party held at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital on March 27 by hospital chairman, Lucy Platt, stating 85 patients were served. She also reported on a bingo party on March 22 held at the VA Hospital, reporting on volunteers and the serving of 17 patients on 7-East wing with Easter baskets on March 29.

VFW National Home chairman Bessie Sharp read an article from and about the children at the home on their thoughts and fears of the Desert Storm in Saudi Arabia and their positive reactions, such as placing yellow ribbons at each cottage. In Mrs. Sharp's possession she revealed a beautiful citation the local auxiliary has been presented for paying all quotas and fulfilling the auxiliary's obligation of support. She also reported on changes of administration at the home.

Legislative chairman Lois Speer reported on the servicemen's pay raise which should have come through and didn't.

Americanism chairman Eulahlee Packard read the auxiliary's invitation to a Loyalty Day program for April 9, in Lansing. She also reported on cards being sent to a terminally ill small boy in England. She also read poems and prayers in relation to service personnel serving and returning from Saudi Arabia.

Cancer chairman Lucy Platt reported the cancer pin sale went well but she still has 25. Proceeds are used for cancer aid and research.

Emblematic flags were ordered and will be placed on the graves of deceased members by the auxiliary chaplain before Memorial Day.

It was announced the annual Poppy Days are to be May 16-17-18.

Elected to attend the Department convention in June in Lansing were Eulahlee Packard, Lucy Platt, Bessie Sharp; alternate delegates are Gertrude O'Dell, Nina Matthews, and Eleanor Farley. The president also attends in her capacity as president.

It was announced the Sixth District meeting will be held in Erie, on May 5 with reservations to Lois Speer by April 29.

Annual reports of Auxiliary chairpersons are to be completed by April 22, at the VFW Hall in the evening.

In closing, the patriotic instructor read a poem on flag dedication, which has some time past been printed in The Chelsea Standard.

The next meeting is set for May 12 and installation of officers will be in May, date to be announced later.

Low-flying insects are said to be a sign of impending bad weather.

Informational Meet—
Slated on Commercial Driver's License Rules

On Thursday, April 25, 8 p.m., at the Farm Bureau Office, 5195 Saline Rd., an informational meeting on CDL will be offered by Washtenaw County Farm Bureau.

The Commercial Driver's License (CDL) is a law which every truck driver must be aware of. The federal government mandated that all states adopt and implement a more uniform Commercial Driver's License by April 1992. The Michigan Legislature has implemented the federal mandates and the law is in effect in Michigan.

The information meeting will provide an opportunity for questions and answers on the CDL as it impacts farmers. Resources will include Lt. Billy Mohr, Motor Carrier Division, Michigan State Police; and Ron Nelson, Legislative Counsel, Michigan Farm Bureau.

The evening program will provide background information and attempt to answer questions about your requirements on the CDL.

Farmers have some exemptions if they are operating a truck for the farmer's own farming operation within 150 miles of the farm. The definition of "farmer" includes the farmer, family and hired hands while operating a motor vehicle in connection with the farming operation, but not for hire.

The informational meeting will address these types of issues and other questions from the audience to provide farmers with information for legal operation on Michigan roads.

Thursday, April 20, 1967—
Several tourists were seen taking pictures of what they thought was impressive tornado damage to the Dairy Queen building at the corner of M-52 and Old US-12 and to the livestock building on the fairgrounds. Actual tornado damage from the storm which hit Chelsea was hard to find. Detroit Weather Bureau investigators who inspected the damage, interviewed witnesses and studied pictures taken of the radar scope while the storms were in progress, concluded that "a tornado momentarily touched the ground at Chelsea." Chelsea was the only spot in southeast Michigan where a funnel cloud was known to have touched ground, although several other funnels were sighted. According to the report: "The tornado hit the southwest side of Chelsea at 8:40 p.m. It destroyed one garage and damaged several houses. The track on the ground was less than one half mile long and only a few dozen feet wide.

Robert Benedict who was in England as an exchange teacher, was appointed principal of Chelsea's North Elementary school. At that time, North and South Elementary schools shared one principal, Sylvester Wojcicki. North school never had a principal of its own.

The centennial choir of Rogers Corners Zion Lutheran church gathered in the church to prepare for a Centennial Choir Festival. The festival would be the first in a series of events planned to celebrate the church's 100th anniversary.

Both Staffan Funeral Home and Burghardt Funeral Home would end their ambulance service. The move, announced to the Village Council was part of a plan by nearly all Washtenaw county funeral directors to discontinue ambulance service. A primary reason for ending the service was legislation, both functional and pending, which required extensive first aid training for helpers and persons driving ambulances.

More than 600 Washtenaw county 4-H Club members participated in the county 4-H Spring Achievement Show which was held at Ann Arbor High School. Three 4-H members exhibited the projects which they had been working on for the past six months. Marlene Kuhl, in a maroon tweed sheath dress and black accessories and Karen Girbach in a royal blue suit with a pink hat and blouse, won top honors in the 4-H Dress Revue at the 4-H Achievement Day program. Girls who competed in the show must have made the clothes they modeled.

Miss Mary E. Friskey, who was crippled as a result of an automobile accident was presented with a "walker" by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Making the presentation was Herbert O. Benz, vice-president of the society. The society also furnished handicapped persons with wheelchairs, hearing aids, and pays the expense of crippled children going to camp.

At the Village Council meeting a budget of $141,478.00 was approved for the year from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1957. Items included in that figure were $12,000 for administration; $19,700 for police and $6,800 for fire protection; $25,000 for street maintenance; $5,000 for sidewalks; and $4,000 for sewer repair and construction.

Crowns: A way to save broken down teeth

Q: My dentist recently suggested that some of my teeth would need to have crowns done on them in the near future. Crowns are very expensive—why won't a silver filling do the job?

At Crowns (or "caps" as some people call them) are the treatment of choice to restore and protect teeth which have become so broken down that a silver amalgam or composite filling would be impossible or ill-advised. Amalgam (silver) fillings depend on mechanical retention within the tooth to hold them in place. The dentist provides small undercut areas for retention of the filling when he or she drills out the cavity. Sometimes when there is not as much tooth structure as he would like, your dentist may use special pins which are like tiny little screws to help hold a filling in place.

A crown, on the other hand, does not usually depend on retention within the tooth but rather strengthens the tooth by encompassing it and helping to hold it together. Part of the cost of a crown lies in the materials and labor needed to make it. Some crowns are made of gold or another precious metal, some crowns are made of porcelain-like materials, and other crowns are made of a combination of porcelain and metal. Crowns also take much more of your dentist's time to prepare and fit than other dental restorations, usually two appointments. At the first appointment your dentist will shape the tooth so that there will be room for the crown to fit over it. He will then make an impression or mold of the prepared tooth from which a model is made. This model is an exact duplicate and is used to make a crown which will fit precisely on your natural tooth. It may take a few weeks for the permanent crown to be made in the laboratory, so in the mean-time your dentist will fit you with a temporary crown to wear until the permanent one is ready. At a separate appointment your dentist will remove the temporary crown and replace it with the permanent one.

Other indications for crowns include teeth which have had root canals (to prevent fracture), malformed or poorly positioned teeth (for better esthetics and function), or for teeth which are being used to anchor a fixed bridge or a removable partial denture.

Although crowns are more expensive than other types of dental restorations you are getting true value for your money when you consider that they are designed to withstand years and years of tough daily use. When was the last time you bought an automobile that had a reasonable chance of lasting 20 years or more?

YOU & YOUR PET

* Traveling with a Pet ...

If you're planning a vacation that will include your cat or dog, then these tips should help make the trip pleasant for you and your pet. While many pets are wonderful travelers, some merely endure trips and a few find them very upsetting. Don't wait until the day you leave to find out how your cat or dog feels. Instead, take a few short practice drives around the neighborhood first. If your pet seems extremely unhappy, then consider leaving him or her in the care of a qualified pet sitter or boarding kennel while you travel.

A visit to the veterinarian before your trip will ensure that your pet is in good health. A current rabies shot is necessary when crossing state or international borders. Tranquilizers and motion sickness pills may also be prescribed.

Travel by Car: The safest way for dogs and cats to ride in an automobile is inside a pet crate. Special harness-type "seatbelts" also available for medium to large dogs. Both crates and seatbelts will restrict your pet's movement inside the vehicle, help protect the animal in case of an accident, and may be purchased at area pet supply stores. Never let your dog ride with his or her head hanging out of the window, as serious eye infections may result. Similarly, never drive with an unrestrained pet in the back of an open pickup truck, as the animal can be easily thrown out of the vehicle during sudden turns or stops. Never leave an animal in a parked vehicle! Theft and death from heat prostration are all too common.

Take along a travel kit for your pet that includes a water bowl and feeding dish, fresh water and food (preferably dry), any prescribed medications, a leash, health records and certificates, bedding, grooming aids, familiar toys, a scoop and plastic bags for a dog, a litter pan and litter for a cat, and plenty of paper towels. Of course, your pet should be wearing a sturdy collar with identification tags attached.

Make reservations in advance with hotels enroute. Many allow pets in the rooms, especially if they are crated. In case of an escaped pet on a trip, take along a good color photo and complete written description of your animal. Contact the local humane society or animal control officer if such a tragedy occurs.

Travel by Air: Follow all regulations set by the airline as to minimum age, crate specifications, vaccinations, and health certification. Try to book a direct midweek flight. Pick up the animal promptly once you've arrived.

For a free pamphlet with complete details for traveling with your pet, send a self-addressed stamped legal envelope to: Traveling Pet, c/o L. Reider, HSHV, 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor 48105.

Next Week: "Pet Sitters/Kennels."

Enhanced 9-1-1 System Starts Operations April 22

Not until Monday, April 22, will all of Washtenaw county be operating with the "ENHANCED 9-1-1" system. Beginning on that April 22 date, the Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester communities will join the remainder of Washtenaw county, all of which will be serviced by the "ENHANCED 9-1-1" system.

"ENHANCED 9-1-1" has been designed to reduce or eliminate most of the jurisdictional boundary problems experienced with the "BASIC 9-1-1" used by the majority of systems in the United States, today.

Through the use of the following four major features, "ENHANCED 9-1-1" better serves the needs of a community: selective routing, selective transfer, automatic number identification (ANI), and automatic location identification (ALI).

Selective Routing
Selective routing automatically routes the call to the appropriate public safety answering point (PSAP), greatly reducing the number of out-of-jurisdiction calls.

Selective Transfer
Selective transfer allows call receivers at a PSAP to transfer an incoming call to another agency by depressing a single button.

Automatic Number Identification
Automatic number identification provides a visual display of the calling number at the 9-1-1 call receiver's position.

Automatic Location Identification
Automatic location identification provides a visual display of the name and address associated with the calling telephone number along with the identification of the emergency police, fire and medical response agencies.

BASIC 9-1-1, the Other System
The majority of systems in the United States, today, are "BASIC 9-1-1".

This is NOT the system Washtenaw County has chosen!

While the "BASIC 9-1-1" system works very well in most communities, there are shortcomings which can render it nearly unworkable in large multi-jurisdictional areas.

For example, BASIC 9-1-1 allows for only one public safety answering point (PSAP) per telephone company wire center.

Because there is a lack of conformity between political jurisdictional and wire center boundaries, it is possible for one wire center to cover areas in two or more political jurisdictions (two or more PSAP's).

To compound the problem, boundaries of political jurisdictions, themselves, frequently don't conform.

For instance, a rural fire district and a city fire department may each be responsible for part of an incorporated area, while the city police department covers the entire area.

Using the "BASIC 9-1-1" system, calls cannot be transferred from police to fire until the correct agency is identified.

"BASIC 9-1-1" also allows no means of determining the exact location of the emergency without questioning the caller. This can be a particular problem when the caller is incoherent, seriously injured, under the influence of drugs, or otherwise incapacitated.

Associated Costs
While each system is unique in its design and costs, general pricing has been developed to aid planners in estimating total costs. Michigan Bell charges fall into three categories: service feature, PSAP equipment, and miscellaneous.

Service Feature Charges
Service feature charges for establishment and maintenance of the "ENHANCED 9-1-1" data base, features, switching, and network trunking required to process 9-1-1 calls.

PSAP Equipment
PSAP equipment charges for items unique to each "ENHANCED 9-1-1" system. Each PSAP has its own size requirements.

These are detailed in the system design. Other required items are standard types of equipment billed from established tariffs.

Miscellaneous
Miscellaneous moves, changes, rearrangements or additions of components of the service to meet special needs are identified on an individual case basis as they occur.

Network
For maximum reliability, trunking throughout the system is established at a level that ensures no more than one percent of calls during the average busy hour to encounter a busy condition.

Trunk quantities will be adjusted to accommodate sustained changes in traffic flow.

PSAP Equipment
PSAP equipment includes automatic number identification controllers, display and transfer units, automatic location identification controllers and display units, necessary support equipment, in addition to cabling and power converters.

The equipment has been designed to be compatible with standard key telephone systems.

If another type of system is used, a special interface may have to be developed.

Modems, telephone sets and printers may be provided separately since they are not unique to "ENHANCED 9-1-1" system requirements.

Telephone and printer decisions may be finalized during implementation.

Security/Redundancy
Recognizing the critical nature of 9-1-1 calls, top priority has been given to providing securing and/or redundancy, wherever possible.

Michigan Bell buildings are secured to prevent unauthorized persons from entering, transmission paths are redundant, and processors and magnetic media have various back-ups.

Optimistic Outlook for Animal Ag Initiative

Michigan Farm Bureau President Jack Laurie has given an optimistic report on the progress of the Animal Agriculture Initiative, saying that the project is moving along faster than anticipated.

Laurie told farmers attending the Michigan Farm Bureau State-wide Commodity Conference on March 27 in Lansing that the Animal Ag Initiative is benefiting from strong industry support across the state.

"With that industry support, we obviously gained the support of the governor, we've gained support in the Legislature, we've got Michigan State University behind us, and the Department of Agriculture is supporting this program."

Laurie chairs the steering committee for the Revitalization of Animal Agriculture project. The $67 million project is designed to finance animal agriculture teaching and research programs and facilities at Michigan State University.

School Board Close To Final Package for Buildings, Renovations

Chelsea School District is contemplating a $23.5 million package of renovations and new construction for its final building proposal.

Chelsea Board of Education received three proposals from its architect last Wednesday, ranging in price from $19.8 million to $25.2 million. Superintendent Joe Piasecki characterized them as "still pretty rough."

A final decision about the scope of the project will probably be made later this month or by the first board meeting in May.

Piasecki said the board appears to be aiming for a package that can be financed with no more than two mills in taxes over the life of the bond issue. In traditional bond issues, millage rates start out higher and gradually diminish.

"The reality is, because of the amount of mills we would need to come up with, we have to look seriously at the flat method," Piasecki said.

"We're working with financial people to put together a package that will cost no more than two mills so that it won't be an exorbitant cost to the public."

The first proposal, for $19.8 million, includes a new elementary school, called an early childhood center (pre-school through first grade) for $6 million, renovations at North and South school for $2.75 million; renovations at Beach Middle school for $1 million, renovations and new building at Chelsea High school totaling $10.5 million, and technology additions at the high school totaling $1.3 million.

The second proposal, for $21.8

The third proposal, for $25.2 million, includes a new performing gym, rather than an auxiliary gym, as well as additional technology at Beach school.

All three options include outside renovations such as new football bleachers and soccer field, four ball fields, and a press box. The ball fields would all be built in one location, probably in the cornfields behind the current high school baseball field.

The district also wants to spend about $250,000 (included in the $1 million designated for Beach school) to bring Mayer Dr. up to village specifications so it can be turned over to the village for ongoing maintenance.

"We have no intention of keeping ownership of Mayer Dr.," Piasecki said.

Tentative plans for the high school include the construction of what would become a main building. It would be located directly behind the administration building and run all the way from the media center to the science building. The building would essentially connect all the various smaller buildings, with the exception of the cafeteria, auditorium, and gym complex. The current locker building would be removed.

The new construction would include 11 new classrooms, five departmental workrooms, and an administration and guidance area.

A new orchestra room would be constructed at the east end of the current orchestra classrooms.

And the new gym would be constructed on the south side of the current gym in what is the varsity softball field.

The difference in cost between a full gym and an auxiliary gym is about $1.8 million. The full gym would be 21,000 square feet and would contain $848,000 worth of new lockers, for a total of about $2.7 million. The auxiliary gym would be 10,000 square feet, with no lockers, and would cost $995,000.

The full gym would contain three full practice basketball courts and 1,500 seats.

The current high school gym and locker-areas would be renovated for about $780,000 and a weight room would be added for $190,000 under the second and third options.

Renovations at North and South schools are projected to cost from $10 to $25 per square foot, depending on the kind of room involved.

Under "education technology" in the report, the high school would get 44 "voice, data, and video systems," and 62 computers, while North and South Elementary schools would get 20 computers each, the new elementary school would get 23 computers, and Beach school would get 35.

No decision has been made about where to build the new school, Piasecki said.

"Just trying to make the decisions we have to make at this point is hard enough," Piasecki said.

"After that we'll decide where to put it. We may not use those 33 acres [by the bus garage]. We may want to look at other possibilities."

The facilities committee plans to meet on Monday, April 22 at 7:30 p.m. and the full board will meet on the 29th at the same time.

"If we can get our motions and approvals made by May 6, I'll be real pleased," Piasecki said.

Piasecki said that once the board comes up with a final package, anyone with any questions about it can set up a meeting.

"We want this to be very visible to the public," Piasecki said.

School Board Approves Outdoor Graduation Exercises This Spring

For the first time in many years, Chelsea High school may hold graduation exercises outdoors.

Seniors Julie Warren, Lucy Eisenbeiser, and Angie Nagel presented a petition to the school board Monday night in support of the new format. Approximately 94 percent of seniors had signed it.

Superintendent Joe Piasecki said the board apparently had no problem with an outdoor graduation, scheduled for the football field. However, indoor arrangements will also have to be made in case of inclement weather. Graduation announcements have already been printed indicating the ceremony will be conducted inside.

In other board news, assistant superintendent Fred Mills discussed pending state legislation on a two-year property tax freeze that could cause the district to lose the equivalent of 2.75 mills in revenues (see related story this issue).

"The implications are that 535 districts in the state will be without money they thought they would have next year," Piasecki said.

"I think what may happen is they will have to write another bill to go along with it."

Other board action included the acceptance of the resignations of Beach Middle school science teacher Donald Young and Beach school block teacher Marion Krutty. Young is retiring after 29 years and Krutty 48 expecting a child this fall.

Roger Cox will continue to fill Krutty's position. Young's position will be advertised.

Tenure was granted to teachers at all four schools, based on recommendations from the principals.

Rifle Stolen From Pick-Up At Supermarket

A Glazier Rd. man told Chelsea police that someone stole a 22-caliber rifle from his truck while it was parked in Polly's Market on Saturday, April 13.

The gun was apparently stolen from an unlocked pick-up truck. The owner said it was worth about $450.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Rindle's Single Gives Bulldogs Victory Over Pioneer in 10 Innings

A single by junior Jake Rindle in the bottom of the 10th inning gave the Chelsea Bulldogs a victory over Ann Arbor Pioneer in their first game of the season last Tuesday, April 9, 7-6.

In other action, the Bulldogs shut out the Stockbridge Panthers twice on Thursday, 11-0 and 13-0. The Chelsea-Manchester Invitational, scheduled for Saturday, was rained out and is scheduled to be played this Saturday. Pioneer took the early lead, 1-0, in the first inning and increased their lead to 4-0 in the second on a three-run homer.

Chelsea scored twice in the fifth inning on singles by Rindle and Craig Ferry. Adam Taylor's single plated a run in the sixth.

After Pioneer scored once in the seventh, Chelsea loaded the bases and scored twice on an error to tie. The Bulldogs had a chance to win in regulation but a Bulldog got caught in a rundown between first and second.

Both teams had chances to score in the eighth and ninth innings.

In the 10th, the Pioneers hit a run-scoring blooper over a drawn-in Chelsea infield.

In the bottom of the inning, Taylor walked, moved to second on Kelly Beard's third sacrifice of the game, Kerry Plank singled and stole second, and Rindle knocked in the game-winner on a high hopper.

Chelsea had a 10-hit attack, all singles. Plank had four hits and Rindle had two with two RBI.

Rob Clem pitched the first seven innings and Rindle picked up the win in relief.

The second game was called after two innings when Chelsea had a 3-0 lead.

The Stockbridge games were both five-inning contests.

Ferry tossed a four-hitter in the opener. He struck out six and walked none. In the second game, Chris White threw a two hitter and struck out six.

Ferry had six hits in the double-header and Taylor hit a solo home run.

"The highlight of the day is we only had one error in the two games," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

KELLY CROSS fires the ball to first base from her knees in action last week against Pioneer High school. Chelsea won the first game and was winning the second game when the game was mistakenly called after six innings.

Softball Team Ends Successful First Week

Chelsea Bulldogs ended the first week of softball play with a 4-1 record. In the first game of the season, Jennifer Petty pitched the Bulldogs to a 4-3 victory over Ann Arbor Pioneer. She allowed six hits and struck out six.

Chelsea fell behind 2-0 before tying the game in the fourth and took the lead in the bottom of the sixth with another pair of runs.

Sara Musolf and Colleen Scharphorn each had two hits for the Bulldogs. Scharphorn and Kelly Cross knocked in two runs each.

The second Pioneer game ended with Chelsea leading 4-3. Chelsea thought they had the game won. However, as it turned out, before anyone discovered only six innings had been played, the umpires had gone home. So it's officially a suspended game that will probably not be finished.

Cross and Scharphorn combined on the mound.

"We ran the bases well," said Chelsea coach Amy Poljan. Petty had two RBI.

The Bulldogs won a double-header at Jackson Lumen Christi on Thursday, April 11.

Sara Musolf picked up a 12-1 win in the opener as the Bulldogs had eight hits, three by Christine Burg.

Scharphorn and Burg each scored three times and Cross had three RBI. Musolf tossed a one-hitter and struck out six.

Chelsea took a 2-0 lead and extended the lead to 6-1 after three innings.

In the second game, Scharphorn struck out five and allowed two hits in an 11-1 Chelsea win.

Chelsea took a 9-0 lead after two innings and ended with a 14-hit attack. Scharphorn, Theresa Hurst, and Burg each had two hits and Shawn Losey had two RBI. Musolf had three hits, including a double.

"Once our battery settled down they had control of the game," Poljan said. In two games last Saturday,

Chelsea lost the first 11-5 but won the second contest, 5-4.

Poljan said the opener was the worst game of the season for the Bulldogs.

Chelsea fell behind 6-0 after the first two innings.

Kelly Bellus hit a two-run homer. Cross and Scharphorn each had two hits. The Bulldogs had six errors.

In the second game, Hurst's single scored the winning run in the bottom of the seventh to give Petty her second win of the season.

Scharphorn hit three singles and knocked in three runs, Bellus had two hits, and Cross scored twice.

Petty struck out seven on the mound.

JV Softball Team Opens With Win Over Christi

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity softball team got off to a strong start last week as they beat Jackson Lumen Christi, 16-5, on Thursday, April 11.

After falling behind 2-0 in the top of the first, the Bulldogs scored four times in the bottom of the first and 10 times in the second to take a 14-2 lead.

Sandy Schmid pitched all four innings, struck out eight and gave up three hits.

"The girls did a great job waiting on the pitch and putting the ball in play," said Chelsea coach Ken Sullins.

"We only had two strikeouts. The youngsters also learned something about the expectations of the program and the intensity surprised some of them."

Eight of 11 Chelsea batters hit safely. In the 10-run second inning, the Bulldogs got doubles from Gretchen Knutsen, Liz Sager, and Jackie Crawford, and a homer from Michelle Beeman.

Top hitters for the game included Beeman, Knutsen, and Sager, who each had two hits.

JON ROYCE has no trouble clearing 6' in the high jump on his way to winning the event against Manchester last week.

Bulldogs Tie Dutch In First Boys Meet

Chelsea Bulldogs boys track team tied Manchester 66-66 in their first meet of the season last Thursday at home.

Chelsea dominated the field events and won four running events.

"We were very disappointed we didn't win," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We made too many basic mistakes, but the oversights will be corrected. Our team attitude is improving and so will our performances. This was one of the meets we could have won."

Junior Jon Royce had a big day for the Bulldogs as he won the high jump (6'), 110 high hurdles (:16.91), 300 intermediate hurdles (:44.1), and 200 dash (:23.9).

"Jon was outstanding in every respect and continues to improve," Clarke said.

Junior Mike Terpstra and freshman David Beeman flip-flopped places in the shot put and discus. Terpstra won the shot at 48' and took second in the discus at 104' 2 1/2". Beeman won the discus at 112' 9" and placed second in the shot at 40' 1 1/2".

Freshman Matt Dymond was third in both the shot and discus at 33' 8" and 70' 1".

Chelsea took 1-3 in the long jump as senior Raduane Far was first at 16' 6 1/2" and junior Ty Darden was third at 14' 11".

Senior Jim Hassett was second in the pole vault at 9'.

In other running events, Martin Cheng was third in the high hurdles at :19.5.

Girls Track Team Whips Manchester in Opener

Chelsea Bulldogs girls track team opened their season Thursday with a 105-23 win over Manchester at home.

The Bulldogs won all but two events but only swept one race, the 800 run.

Senior co-captains Jeanene Rossi and Leisa Schiller set the pace for Chelsea. Rossi won the high jump at 5', the 100 in :13.5 and led off the winning 400 relay. Schiller took a second in the long jump but contributed to three firsts in the 400, 800 and 1600 relays.

The Bulldogs also won the 3200 relay. Manchester's fine hurdler, Amy Lannom, was the only other girl to win two individual events, taking the 100 hurdles in :17.7 and the 300 hurdles in :52.7.

Nine different girls won events for Chelsea. Freshman Mara Smith and Theresa Royce got their careers off to a good start. Smith took the shot put at 28'3" and Royce ran on two relays and won the 200 in :28.2.

Royce took a fall just after finishing the 200 but her only injuries seemed to be some scrapes and a slightly bruised knee.

Deanna Richardson won the long jump at 15'9", Wendy Bristle took the discus with a 78'7" toss, and Val Bullock won the 1600 in 6:13.2.

Laura Paton won the 400 in 1:03.6 and was just edged by Royce in the 200. Paton was timed in :28.3. Tracy Wales won the 800 in 2:46.7 and Lisa Monti took the 3200 in 12:20.2.

Another noteworthy performance, according to coach Bill Bainton, by Lauren Sparaco, who took a second in her first ever discus competition and added a second in the 3200.

Amanda Nimke, in her first varsity track meet, placed second in the shot put and 300 hurdles and third in the 100 hurdles.

Sophomore Monica Hansen, recovering from a leg injury, was second in the 200 hurdles with a time of :18.0.

Also scoring for the Bulldogs were Sara Brosnan in the 3200 relay and 800 run, Beth Williams in the 1600, Erin Schiller in the high jump, Beth Bell and Sarah Henry in the 3200 and 1600 relays, Renae Skelley in the 100, Linda Schaffer in the 800, Jessica Holton in the 400 and 1600 relay and Becky Erskine in the 400 relay and 300 hurdles.

It was a good way for the Bulldogs to open as they have 23 girls in their first or second season and 12 of these were competing in their first high school track meet, Bainton said.

MARA SMITH won the shot put for Chelsea in the Bulldogs' opening meet with Manchester.

'Magicians' Will Appear In Chelsea on April 27

When Marques Haynes and the Magicians basketball team enter onto the court to perform Saturday, April 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High Gym, one of the finest rookies the Magicians have ever had will be there in person... it will be Dwayne Ephram who hails from Greenville, Ill.

At 6'6", Dwayne brings to the Magicians a lot of strength underneath the boards along with a great amount of rebounding help to go along with his hometown, Paul Merrifield.

Dwayne admits that this year, his first, with the Magicians, is going to be rewarding in being able to play and strengthening his game which will enable him to have a better shot at making one of the NBA teams. He states the fact that his shooting ability is above average, especially from the three-point range.

On the court with Dwayne will be much more experienced players such as 6'8" Scott Stafford, Captain Valentino Willis, "Dunk Shot Artist" James Sterns, Paul Merrifield, and the world's greatest dribbler, Marques Haynes.

Last season, the Magicians had another undefeated year to add onto the 20-plus undefeated years already accomplished and from the strength of this season's team, the future years look even more promising for a continuance of going with all wins.

After graduating from high school, Dwayne attended Wabash College for two years, then to Cincinnati University where he was a standout performer.

The Magicians' appearance is being sponsored by Chelsea Athletic Boosters. Tickets are on sale and may be purchased in advance at the Athletic Dept., Chelsea Bank or Chelsea Lumber.

MARQUES HAYNES 'World's Greatest Dribbler'

Lyndon Township Budget Is $182,797

Lyndon township passed a $182,797 budget at their annual meeting on Saturday, April 6.

Much of the budget is in limbo, due to the ongoing problems with the Village of Chelsea landfill, said supervisor John Francis. No specific amount has been budgeted.

The largest chunk of the budget, $50,210, will go for police and fire protection.

The supervisor, clerk, and treasurer will each receive $9,650, which includes a 7.65 percent hike to cover the cost of social security tax, which the township has not had to pay before. The assessor will be paid $11,000 and the zoning inspector will earn $5,000 plus a percent of each permit issued.

Francis said the township had planned to spend $30,000 on road projects but decided against it due to the landfill problems.

The township has budgeted $2,000 to pay for participation in the Western Washtenaw Recycling Consortium.

Brine will be put on the roads this summer for dust control at a cost of about $5,000.

The township anticipates receiving about $38,000 in property tax revenues.

Last year's actual budget was $145,253.59.

THE SIGHTS AND SOUNDS OF FRANCE was the title of a talk given by Vicki Tyrrell on Friday and Monday to interested students at North and South Elementary schools. Above, second grader Tara Niedermeyer has a chance to see what it might feel like to be an artist along the Seine river. The talk was part of a series sponsored by the Enrichment Triad Program.

Realtor Gives Upbeat Report on Prospects for Industrial Park

As many as five businesses may be interested in locating in the village's industrial park on Sibley Rd.

All of the businesses, according to realtor Michael C. Scholtz, president of Commercial Real Estates Concepts of Ann Arbor, would be new to the area. The industrial park has had a history of providing space for current local businesses to expand.

Although Scholtz would not name the businesses specifically, he said they include an auto body shop in Ann Arbor, a company that has developed a revolutionary corrosion-prevention system for industrial parts, a photo supply company, and a regional trucking company. He also said another company has shown an interest in purchasing the current Hatch Stamping Co. facility, which will move into new quarters in the industrial park this summer.

Scholtz said the companies he is talking to need to make a decision relatively soon. He said he plans to update council again in May.

Scholtz was hired by the village last November. His company is the design-build firm working on the Hatch Stamping project.

Current tenants in the park include Roberts Paint & Body, C&D Laundry, BookCrafters, Inc., and Hatch Stamping Co. Pat and Jack Merkel of Chelsea have a two-year option on a lot and plan to build a facility for a yet-to-be-identified company.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:
First, I want to apologize for any mistakes in grammar or spelling, you see I went to Chelsea High when I had to earn my own books, clothing and way to school, so as that I missed as many days as I was there, so it is a little hard to blame anyone else.
The thing is I got a little hot over the problem of a new gym, but then when I was growing up I didn't have much time to play anyway. After thinking it over I begin to see how much easier my life is then someone at school, I only have to decide whether to have boiled potatoes or carrots for dinner. After they get through, I won't even have to worry about cooking them as I will not be able to pay the light bill, therefore I can eat them raw. Life gets easier all the time. Soon I won't have to pay any taxes, or even worry about the tent blowing away, as I won't be able to afford one anyway. Maybe they'll be kind enough to dig a hole somewhere and throw me in when I die instead of leaving me for the dogs. Gee wouldn't it be nice if we all had our own little money tree.
Sincerely
A Chelsea Taxpayer.

with a dozen strangers invading her privacy every day. Our best wishes to you for a speedy recovery.
With God's grace and the help of those at Chelsea Community Hospital, what should have been the happiest day of my life was exactly that. Many, many thanks.
Rhonda & John Granet and the Davis Family.

Rev. R. Hernandez Is Guest Speaker at St. Paul Church

The Rev. Ramon R. Hernandez will be the guest speaker at St. Paul United Church of Christ, Chelsea, on Sunday, April 21, at the 10:30 a.m. service. He is currently serving as director, Ann Arbor Public Libraries, and is active in the United Church of Christ on various levels. He was formerly on the Wisconsin Conference UCC Staff, working in the areas of youth and camping, and has held a number of leadership positions in Wisconsin and Michigan Libraries Associations and Historical Societies and Boards of Supervisors. He is a member of the United Church Board for World Ministries, and is the UCC representative to East German churches.

Chelsea K. of C. Council Sponsoring Prayer Service
As part of an international "Marian Hour of Prayer" program, Knights of Columbus Council 3092 in Chelsea will sponsor a public prayer service on Monday, April 22. The service will be held at St. Mary's church beginning at 7:30 p.m.
The prayer service will honor the Blessed Virgin Mary under her title "Our Lady of the Assumption," and will center on an icon depicting Mary as she is assumed body and soul into heaven. Thousands of services will be conducted this year by Knights of Columbus councils in the United States, Canada, Mexico and The Philippines.
Grand Knight Kenneth Unterbrink, head of the local council, expressed his support of this international campaign. "Through this program, the people of Chelsea can add their voices in prayer to those from around the world."
The tribute to Our Lady of the Assumption is the sixth year-long Marian Hour of Prayer program to be sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic, family, fraternal, service organization with 1.5 million members world-wide.

Ecology Day Set for April 20 in Manchester

Where can you go to find out how clean the water is in your lake or stream? How about quick and easy information on testing for radon in your home? Or how to take care of your lawn organically?

The Manchester Area Resource Conservation Coalition (MARCC) will help citizens get those answers and more conveniently, and for a great price—absolutely free!

April 20, from noon to 4 p.m., MARCC is sponsoring Ecology Day at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 106 Madison St., in Manchester.

Businesses, organizations and government leaders have been invited to present products and information which promote a safe healthy environment.

But the day should be fun, too! The Mommas and the Puppets will present an original puppet show with an environmental message for kids.

Brownie Troop No. 728 from Manchester will help kids recycle newspaper out of old in a fun paper-making project.

Seventh grader Liviya Wilson from Slauson Middle school in Ann Arbor will demonstrate classroom recycling techniques she developed.

Miss Cellanous, a sort of recycled robot, is also scheduled to attend.

In addition, State House Representative Margaret O'Connor will preside over a question and answer period on legislation regulating less-than-conscientious landfill operators. A representative from Lana Pollack's office will be on hand to answer questions about the Polluter Pay law.

And that's only part of the wide variety of things to see, do and learn. Recycled and organically produced products for sale and fund-raising via sweatshirts, buttons, etc., by non-profit groups will be encouraged.

Portage Lake Man Dies in Auto Crash

Deputy Mark Giffin, assigned to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department traffic services unit, reported a Dexter township fatal crash, in which 32-year-old Daniel Edward Harsh of Algonquin Dr. was killed, occurred at 1:02 a.m. Wednesday, April 10, on Dexter-Pinckney Rd., just north of Huron Creek Dr.

Harsh was apparently traveling north on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. when he failed to negotiate a slight right-hand curve in the road, and his vehicle continued straight.

The vehicle drove off the left side of the road, and struck an arrow sign, then a large tree, before a fire broke out in the engine compartment and the flames spread to the passenger compartment, Giffin noted in his report.

Dexter Area fire-rescue workers were summoned to the scene, but were unable to save Harsh from the burning vehicle.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by medical examiner Donald Riker, M. D., and his body was taken to University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor, by Huron Valley Ambulance.

SIMULATING A RESCUE for a victim trapped in a corn-picker, participants in the Agricultural Accident Rescue Program (AARP) inflated air bags to open the equipment and free the victim. The program was sponsored by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau's promotion and education committee, and conducted at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, Saturday, April 13. A total of 98 people attended from nine Michigan counties. CFD's Dan Ellenwood is shown at left, with three area firefighters exercising the victim.

Farm Accident Rescue Training Given Saturday

A total of 98 people from nine Michigan counties attended the Agricultural Accident Rescue Program (AARP) sponsored by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau promotion and education committee at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, 20501 Old US-12, Saturday, April 13.

Each emergency agency chief in southeastern Michigan was sent a letter in early March by Steve Thelen, Washtenaw County Farm Bureau AARP co-ordinator, advising the various departments the program would be conducted at Chelsea, and inviting emergency personnel to participate.

Thelen explained, "Agriculture is an industry that is considered by many to be very hazardous. Indeed, statistics kept, and studies initiated over the years, substantiate that agriculture is one of the most hazardous occupations in the nation.

"To make agriculture a safer industry, various government agencies and private associations have joined colleges and universities to research and promote safe farm practices."

Thelen's message continued, "Unfortunately, agriculture accidents will always occur, even with the best of safety awareness promotions.

"Agriculture accidents in many cases do not prescribe themselves to 'routine' accident rescue techniques and procedures.

"Many additional hazards are usually found at the scene of agricultural accidents. The presence of these additional hazards not only puts the victim in additional peril, it also puts the people who attempt to rescue him/her in danger.

"Most times, the rescuer is not fully aware of the additional dangers present, and the victim is not fully able to warn the rescuer."

The Washtenaw County Farm Bureau promotion and education committee sponsors the Agricultural Accident Rescue program so that agricultural accidents do not develop in "rescue accidents."

The purpose of the program was to inform emergency rescue personnel about the potential "hidden dangers" that may exist in an agricultural accident situation, and to provide instruction about techniques that may be used when dealing with agricultural accident situations.

The Washtenaw County Farm Bureau promotion and education committee invited emergency personnel from the various agencies so that they would better understand the unique features of an agricultural accident.

The program was part of the Emergency Medical Service (EMS) continuing education program for all EMS personnel.

The Michigan Firefighters Training Council issued participation certificates, and a class list was provided the council for posting to individual firefighters' training records.

After consulting the registration lists, Thelen explained participants in Saturday's training session included 19 Chelsea firefighters, 14 members of the Howell Fire Department, 10 from Ann Arbor Township Fire Department, in addition to firefighters from the Dexter Area Fire Department, the Scio Township Fire Department, and representatives from fire departments in Putnam township, Hamburg, Adrian township, Augusta township, Dewitt township, Columbia township, Fowlerville, Green Oak township, South Lyon, Hanover, Jonesville, Liberty, Madison township, Marshall, Milan, Onsted, Superior township and Ypsilanti Charter township.

Troopers from the Ypsilanti post, Michigan State Police, also participated in the training, as did representatives from the Canton Department of Public Safety.

Washtenaw County Farm Bureau members who helped with Saturday's program included Jay Hopkins, John Porter, Reuben Lesser, Dan Grau, Dan Schaible, Howard Sias, Harold and Lois Trinkle, Doug Welshaus, Holly Porter, and Mark Stajish from Kaiser Estech.

Jerry and Sue Huehl served as Washtenaw county's co-chairpersons for the promotion and education committee.

Jeff Van Riper Wins Competition In Broadcasting

Former Chelsea student Jeff Van Riper recently won first place in commercial announcement at the Annual Great Lakes Radio Conference/Michigan Association of Broadcasters Competition.

Van Riper, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Van Riper, is a graduate of Spaulding School of Broadcast Arts.

The competition was held Saturday, April 6 at Central Michigan University.

IT WAS AN HISTORIC yet subdued occasion last Tuesday when Chelsea village council held its first meeting in Sylvan Town Hall. Council decided to move its meetings to the hall due to concerns about handicap access and lack of a fire escape. From left are trustees Jack Myers, Tom Dorer, and Joe Merkel, clerk Suzanne Morrison, president Richard Steele, acting village manager Deborah Kuehn, and trustees Stephanie Kanten, Frank Hammer, and Allen Anderson.

Service Cuts, Fare Hike May Help Chelsea Bus Route Survive

It will probably take a combination of a fare increase and a cut in service at the minimum for the Chelsea-to-Ann Arbor bus route to survive.

Michael Bolton, executive director for the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority, outlined a grim financial picture for the route at village council's regular meeting last Tuesday.

State grant money for the route ran out in March. The village has been asked to contribute $9,053 to maintain the service through September.

Council did not vote on the matter. It has indicated it is not interested in funding the entire amount, since a portion of the ridership lives outside the village.

Sylvan township supervisor Don Schoenberg said last week that his township does not have enough information to make a decision about funding.

Lima township supervisor Bill Van Riper said recently that an informal survey of ridership shows no one from the township is using the service.

According to Bolton, ridership on the route has risen from 42 daily passengers in 1987 when the route started to 85 this year. He said 40 to 45 percent of the riders come from Chelsea.

Bolton's share formula has Chelsea and Ann Arbor each contributing 8 percent, Dexter 2 percent, with the remaining cost subsidized by the state and federal governments, and rider fares.

Bolton said that after September the local share would be about $20,000 per year, reflecting increased insurance and fuel costs. That could be dropped to $8,347 by cutting Saturday service as well as three week-day trips, and raising fares from $1 to $1.50. He said it's crucial to keep the morning and afternoon schedules to accommodate commuters. The bus leaves nine times daily from each end of the route Monday through Friday and seven times on Saturday. AATA is also trying to route the bus down the Jackson Rd. business corridor, where it believes there would be substantial ridership. However, so far Scio township has not shown interest in having bus service, Bolton said. Without the local Chelsea share, the route may become a Dexter-to-Ann Arbor route. It will not come to Chelsea.

Fast Track Battle Intensifies in Congress

Lobbying efforts are intensifying in Congress on both sides of the fast-track trade negotiating issue, according to Michigan Farm Bureau Director of Public Affairs Al Almy. President Bush has requested a two-year extension of the fast track authority, which would permit him to negotiate trade agreements with assurance that they would not be tinkered with by Congress.

"We believe giving Congress negotiating power would create a long political battle that would result in losses of opportunities to open and develop new markets for American farmers," he said. "A very large percentage of U.S. commodities are exported, and our over-all trade surplus in competitive agricultural products is now $23 billion."

Mich. Technology Council Sponsoring Career Fair

The Michigan Technology Council and its Science and Technology Quest program, in recognition of National Science and Technology week, April 21-27, is sponsoring a career fair on Saturday, April 27, from 12 noon until 4 p.m. to be held at Salline High school, 7190 N. Maple St., in Salline.

The career fair is being held in conjunction with the Michigan Industrial and Technology Education Society (MITES), Region 3 (Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw counties) Project Fair.

The career fair will expose students, parents and educators to area technologies.

Local industries representing various areas of technology will be present at the fair to talk about future career choices. This will be an opportunity for students to see what potential employment opportunities lie ahead of them, what skills are necessary to get there, and for educators to see what industry is looking for in potential employees. This will also be an opportunity for industry to see the potential of the future work force.

"It is very important for students to make a direct connection between their studies in school and the fact that these skills are necessary for future employment," said Gae Miller, executive director of the Michigan Technology Council. "Very few students worry about earning a living after graduation. We want to bring them face-to-face with their future and the opportunities which lie ahead."

The project fair is to encourage and recognize fine craftsmanship in the field of Industrial, Technological and Vocational Education in the State of Michigan. The program is aimed at stimulating the interest and progress of students by inviting them to enter projects in regional fairs. Winners at the regional level may then enter their projects in the state level competition.

We encourage anyone to attend who is interested in the technologies of today and tomorrow.

DDA Looks To Raise $500,000 For Project from Private Sector

Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority is in the final phase of its private fundraising campaign. DDA has been working to raise about $500,000 from the private sector to help finance its $1.6 million downtown revitalization plan, scheduled to start in May. Downtown merchants have pledged more than $250,000 to date. DDA has also planned a dinner fundraiser May 11 in the Chelsea Community Hospital dining room. The dinner, scheduled about a week before actual construction is supposed to start, is designed to be an expression of appreciation to all those who made the project go from its beginning, according to DDA fundraising consultant Bill Bott. In addition, the dinner will be one of the few opportunities area residents will have to contribute to the project, Bott said. The dinner will include financial and construction updates, as well as an artist's rendering of the "library plaza" at the corner of Main and Orchard Sts. DDA is attempting to get U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell to speak. Private contributions are being used to fund items such as light fixtures, trees, planters, benches, as well as the entire library plaza. Those who donate will have their name inscribed on a plaque in the library plaza. Contributors may earmark their donations for particular items. Many downtown merchants have pledged sizeable amounts of money to the project, a couple as much as $40,000. Other businesses outside of the downtown have also made pledges in recognition that a viable downtown is good for the entire area, Bott said. "This is far and away the largest participation by the private sector that I've ever seen on a project like this," said DDA financial consultant Franz Mogdis. He said an outgrowth of the project might be that downtown merchants, especially those on the west side of Main St., will renovate their rear entrances as a way to draw shoppers from the yet-to-be-constructed parking lot behind them. Tickets for the fundraiser may be purchased through Sam Johnson of Johnson's How-To, Mark Heydlauff of Heydlauff's, Inc., or any other DDA member. In other DDA news, final project bid packages are scheduled to be ready this week, a week later than planned. New downtown directional signs should be installed late this month. DDA closes on the Easudes home behind the Chelsea 14th District Courthouse on May 1. The house is likely to be moved to a vacant, village-owned lot on W. Middle St. beginning in the middle of the month. DDA has received two bids to move the house, one for less than $10,000. DDA and Harper Pontiac will swap parking lots on W. Middle St. about May 1 and it's likely the paved lot next to Total Fitness Outlet/ Westside Gym will become a private lot for the dealership shortly thereafter.

Man Takes 12-Pack of Beer Without Paying

A Chelsea man faces charges for walking out of a local convenience store without paying for a 12-pack of beer. According to Chelsea police, Robert Stoddard, 34, walked out of Tower Mart at 1:58 p.m. on Thursday, April 4 with the beer, despite the attempts of a store employee to stop him. Police found Stoddard walking down Buchanan St. after an employee called police. A police report indicated Stoddard "smelled strongly of intoxicants." After he was taken to a holding cell, he became belligerent and apparently tried to knee chief Lenard McDougall, the reports said.
