CHELSEA INDUSTRIES EMPLOYEES celebrated last Friday after they overwhelmingly voted to join the United Auto Workers. Another election was authorized by the National Labor Relations Board after a protest by the union was upheld.

Chelsea Industries Employees Vote in UAW

Hourly employees at Chelsea Industries, Inc. overwhelmingly voted to join the United Auto Workers in an election last Friday.

The 75-34 vote in favor of union representation is a complete turnaround from a vote held last December in which workers narrowly rejected the union by four votes.

The union filed a protest concerning company tactics used shortly before the December vote, and the National Labor Relations Board ordered a new election.

The company can file a protest itself, which could delay the start of contract negotiations. Company officials did not return telephone calls from The Standard on Monday or Tuesday, so it was unclear what the company's course of action might be.

Workers rallied and celebrated at the UAW Local 437 hall on Main St. Friday after the election.

Union officials said the vote turnaround was due to a variety of factors since December. They said the company planned to begin random drug testing in January, had put some workers on voluntary lay-off, used workers from a temporary employment agency rather than pay regular workers over-time, and generally had a policy of favoritism, spelled out as "company discretion" in the company handbook. They also objected to the company's hiring of a human resources manager after telling workers they didn't have any money.

The officials also said much of the difference in the vote came from workers on the night shift, who this time generally voted for the union rather than against it.

"We all pulled together this time," said union chairman Harvey Morrell, who works at Dana Corporation.

Last Friday, many workers were wearing t-shirts with the message, "I Want a Grievance Procedure," which union officials said was a major complaint of workers. They also said they basically wanted a system that assures equal opportunity for everyone.

Other concerns, they said, were safety conditions and insurance benefits.

One former UAW official at another Chelsea company said, "frost will be out of the ground next spring before there's a contract."

Chelsea Industries makes wire components for the automotive industry.

UAW Local 437 represents workers at Dana Corporation and Federal Screw Works.

Grass Roots Property Tax Group Creates Mission Statement

Chelsea Citizens for Property Tax Reform, the group headed by Chelsea Lumber Co. owner Bob Daniels, has written a formal mission statement accompanied by a list of goals and objectives.

The group's mission statement reads as follows.

"Chelsea Citizens for Property Tax Reform" is an independent, grass-roots organization of people who seek tax reform in the Michigan

Legislature for the funding of public education.

"We believe that the property tax system is inherently flawed and unfair. Increasing tax assessments are a form of taxation without representation. Spiraling assessments tax homeowners for gains that can only be realized by the sale of their homes.

"We support the Legislature restructuring the tax system and finding alternative sources for equivalent funding of school operations."

The group's goals and objectives statement reads as follows.

•Excellence in education must be provided in every school district in Michigan.

•Property tax relief must be given. Other sources of revenue must be created or adjusted to assure educational excellence.

•The Legislature must come together in a productive, bipartisan spirit and meet the needs of its constituency, as it was elected to do. Michigan citizens want real solutions now, not rhetoric or future ballot proposals. The Legislature and Governor have the resources, research and data to act now. The issue is too broad and pressing to be diverted to referendums.

•The Michigan Legislature must address and solve this problem by the 1992-93 school year.

The group plans an active campaign and hopes their effort will catch on state-wide.

Committee To Review Videos

The regular meeting of the Chelsea School District Sex Education Advisory Committee is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 28, at 7 p.m. in the High School Media Center.

First, the committee will consider for adoption the proposed grades 5-high-school curriculum that the subcommittee has developed. Community members may pick up a copy of this document prior to Oct. 28 in the district offices.

Then, at approximately 9 p.m., time will be spent viewing new videos proposed for adoption by the subcommittee that has met throughout the summer.

Community members are encouraged to attend this meeting to become more fully informed of the changes proposed in the sex education curriculum.

Council Will Decide Whether, How To Fund Ann Arbor Bus Route

Chelsea Village Council is again faced with the decision of whether to keep bus service to Ann Arbor for area residents.

Ann Arbor Transportation Authority has asked the village for $5,081 to fund the bus route through September. Council tabled the request at their last meeting.

The requested amount is more than $400 lower than the $5,500 anticipated by AATA in June. AATA had predicted that anywhere from $5,500 to $7,000 would be needed.

At issue is whether the village will be willing to fund the whole amount or require assistance from area townships. About 60 percent of the ridership comes from outside the village.

Because the village did not include money for AATA in this year's budget, any expenditure would require a two-thirds vote of council. It is not clear whether there are enough votes to pass it.

Village trustee Allen Anderson spoke in favor of keeping the bus route, partly because the bus brings those riders to Chelsea, who are likely to shop here.

Trustee Jim Finch said he'd like to see financial support from the townships.

The townships may be willing to include some money for the route in their next budgets, trustee Frank Hammer, said. He also said $5,081 seemed like a reasonable amount to keep the service going.

Village manager Jack Myers said Monday he is in favor of keeping the route.

Riders have told council they use the bus primarily to go to work and that it would be an extreme hardship to find themselves without bus service.

In May, AATA raised fares on the route from $1 to $1.75 each way. According to AATA Executive Director Michael Bolton, "ridership has declined only slightly so far revenue has increased significantly."

Village president Richard Steele suggested the village might be able to pay AATA on a monthly basis, thereby deferring more than half of the $5,081 to next year, when it can be included in next year's budget.

Public Hearings Set On Area Recycling Fees

Chelsea and Manchester-area residents have been sent notification of a public hearing about a special assessment to fund the Western Washtenaw Recycling Consortium.

The notification, however, did not identify the consortium in particular, only the Washtenaw County Department of Public Works.

The consortium consists of the villages of Manchester and Chelsea, as well as the townships of Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima, Dexter, Manchester, Sharon Bridgewater, and Freedom.

The proposal is for households in those areas to be assessed once each year for at least five years to provide funds for a comprehensive recycling program. Households in each village would be assessed $30 to fund a curbside recycling program while each township household would pay $17 to fund a drop-off program. Bins will be located at remote sites in each township. They will be emptied at a recycling center to be built at the Chelsea village landfill. Materials to be collected include glass, cans, newspaper, and milk jugs. In addition, residents will be able to take cardboard to the landfill.

Assessments would appear on winter tax bills.

Money would be used for the 25 percent matching portion of a $330,000 state grant for the program. Grant money is to be used for equipment and building. In addition, assessment money would provide operating funds for the next five years.

The first public hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 22 at 7 p.m. at Manchester Township Hall. A second hearing is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 6 at Sylvan Town Hall.

The first hour of the first hearing will be devoted to proposed fees for the villages. The second hour, starting at 8 p.m., will be devoted to the townships.

A separate notice about the second hearing is scheduled to be mailed later.

Fallfest Called Success Despite Poor Weather

Organizers of the first Chelsea Fallfest will probably try for a second next year.

Perhaps the biggest obstacle the Oct. 5 event faced was some of the most miserable weather of the fall. The cold, windy, drizzly conditions produced low attendance at the downtown bicycle sprint races. It also made enjoyment of the afternoon concert in Pierce Park by the Sea Cruisers almost impossible.

The event, scheduled to coincide with the annual Country Craft and Folk Art Show (for the benefit of Chelsea Senior Citizens) at Chelsea High School, as well as the first Antique Market at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds, produced a record attendance at the craft show and a huge crowd for the antique show. Craft show attendance was about 3,200, a record by about 200 people.

A list of prize-drawing winners showed more than half of the 62 winners came from outside the Chelsea-area, so the goal of luring people from outside the immediate area was reasonably successful and advertising in such places as Tecumseh, Irish Hills, Stockbridge, and Grass Lake appears to have paid off. Merchandise was donated by Chelsea merchants.

Village president Richard Steele, who even participated in the bike races, called the event a "tremendous success" at last Tuesday's village council meeting.

Perhaps the biggest complaint about the day was the blocking of side streets to allow the bike races on Main St. from Van Buren St. to the railroad tracks. Many downtown merchants grumbled that business suffered substantially, although a couple of businesses, such as Casual Sports, had a big day due in part to a 30-percent-off sale. Much of the business came in during the morning before Main St. was closed.

"We were faced with inclement weather, unfinished street-scaping, and the railroad crossing being shut down," said organizer Neta Mills, owner of The Village Shoppe.

"Everyone connected with the project felt it was a good idea and should be continued, but with certain improvements or modifications."

It's likely Main St. won't be closed next year.

Two classes of bicycle races were held, one for licensed riders in the United States Cycling Federation, and the other for average, unlicensed riders.

In the USCF category, there were winners in four divisions.

In the junior division, for riders age 18 and younger, Dan White of Jackson

The student apparently climbed up on the roof of the school and for unknown reasons tried to fit himself in an 18" diameter chimney at the back of the home economics department. However, he lost his footing and fell, trapping himself near the bottom.

State Speed Limit Jeopardizes Up to $128 Million in Federal Funds

A Department of Transportation official recently reported there is a "distinct possibility" that Michigan may lose as much as $128 million in federal dollars—the total amount due in 1992—if the state does not lower the speed limit on some roads while waiting for Congress to extend a pilot project allowing the higher rate.

Michigan was one of 15 states authorized, under federal legislation approved around four years ago, to increase the speed limit to 65 miles per hour on 400-500 miles of non-interstate roads, from 55 miles per hour.

But the enabling legislation expired at midnight Monday, giving the U.S. Department of Transportation the authority to hold any state which does not immediately lower its speed limits out of compliance with requirements for getting federal dollars.

Michigan Department of transportation Chief Deputy Director Robert Adams, agreed $128 million—the total amount for which Michigan is eligible in 1992—could be in question, but added it is not clear what the sanctions might be if the routes are not re-posted.

Citing two options which have been considered, Adams said "one is a drop dead proposal: you don't get any more federal money until you do that, and the other is it (the sanction) would only apply to those routes (in question)."

Although he said the department is "concerned," Adams is still hoping the state will not have to spend the $200,000 it would take to change the signs, since the 1991 federal transportation act is expected to contain the same provisions. "We're going to hang in there and try to avoid any drastic penalties," Adams said. "They're talking now about having a 30- or 60-day extension of the current authorization but that's all up in the air in Congress right now. It's so confusing that you can't find anybody who can tell you what's going to happen," he said.

Engler, Auto Companies Announce Pollution Control Plan

The Department of Natural Resources, Chrysler, Ford and General Motors have reached an agreement on a plan to protect the Great Lakes from environmental pollution by identifying the eliminating toxic substances before they reach the Great Lakes Basin.

The announcement, made by Governor John Engler and Thomas Hanna, president and chief executive officer of the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association of the United States, said the plan involves "cooperation and mutual trust between representatives of government and industry."

"In contrast with the traditional regulatory approach, both sides are working together to identify those persistent toxics that significantly affect the Great Lakes and develop programs for their control," Hanna said. "Prevention will succeed where control cannot, because it can reduce production costs and help our companies be more competitive," Engler said. "Governments can promote prevention by working with—rather than against—industry."

Under the Auto Industry Pollution Prevention Project, the auto companies have agreed to list past efforts to reduce the use and generation of identified substances; implement pollution prevention activities targeted to the priority toxic substances within auto facilities, and advance pollution prevention within their organization, with their suppliers and with other industries.

The Auto Project will be supported by an Environmental Protection Agency grant to the Michigan Office of Waste Reduction Services, which is administered by the Departments of Natural Resources and Commerce.

The Auto Project is a response to initiatives outlined by the EPA and Council of Great Lakes Governors in their Great Lakes Pollution Prevention Action Plan. Participation in the plan is voluntary.

Engler also said the Departments of Public Health and Natural Resources will form a scientific task force to develop a state-wide mercury abatement strategy.

State Nabs Federal Funds To Reduce Tobacco Use

The Department of Public Health will receive $9 million in federal funds to escalate efforts to reduce tobacco use, director Vernice Davis-Anthony said Friday.

Michigan is one of 17 states chosen from 37 applicants to participate in the seven-year American Stop Smoking Intervention Study for Cancer Prevention funded by the National Cancer Institute.

"These funds will focus on the prevention of diseases caused by tobacco, and will save lives and health care dollars," Davis-Anthony said. Tobacco use is the leading preventable cause of death in our state. Nearly 16,000 Michigan residents die from this addiction every year."

The department will implement ASSIST with the Michigan division of the American Cancer Society in schools, health care settings, worksites, community networks and through mass media.

Detroit, Upper Peninsula and Genesee county efforts will be intensive through local health departments because of their diverse population groups with high smoking rates and urban/rural mix.

The program will target groups with relatively high use rates, such as blue collar workers and people without a high school diploma; groups with secondary risk factors, such as occupational exposure to asbestos; groups with limited access to information about smoking and cessation services such as uninsured families and ethnic and racial minorities; and youth, particularly teenagers at risk for starting to smoke, such as youths with parents who smoke.

Through the nation-wide program, about $115 million will be given to states and another $20 million will be used for national co-ordination and evaluation of the project.

Davis-Anthony said the goal in Michigan is to reduce smoking by more than 40 percent during the project and by 50 percent (to less than 15 percent of the adult population) by 2000.

The department and participating local agencies will contribute more than $2 million in cash, labor and other support by project end.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum come to the country store Saturday night with a clipping where the U.S. fergive Senegal a $42 million debt. Bug told the fellers he first thought Senegal was a defense contractor with a little cost overrun, and he wondered if this policy will be applied to the hundreds of millions in Government loans to college students that ain't been paid back.

When he found out Senegal is a country, Bug said he was quick to see how silly that question was. Being a citizen of this country is the last thing you want to be when it comes to welching on a Government loan. A big corporation gits caught billing the Pentagon 10 times for the same airplane and the General Accounting Office demands a public apology before the next contract is awarded. A plain citizen misses a payment and the Farmers Home Administration grabs his house and his farm and sells it to the highest bidder in a heart beat, was Bug's words.

Always, when borrowing from the U.S., Bug said, your best bet is to be a foreign country and the best one to be is Israel, where ever loan is a grant. Fer sure, Bug went on, if you can't be Israel be a country that sided with us on somepun. He read where President Bush wanted to clean up Senegal's charge card because it was a help in the Gulf war and it is about as clost to a democracy as Africa has got. Bug said he would think that ever state would qualify fer some fergiveness on that base.

The fellers give Bug's report mixed reviews. Zeke Grubb took note that news has been scarce about how many of the countries that promised to help pay fer the Gulf war have paid how much. At last count, all of em was holding back because the war was so short. The truth is, Zeke declared, the war support will be fergive like 90 percent of the money we use to try and buy friends all over the world.

Clem Webster was agreed with Zeke. Now that the Soviet Union has gone the way of Humpty Dumpty, Clem said, he had read where the big debate in the United Nations is how to keep America from running the world. This theme is even played by broken chunks of the Soviet Union that just joined the UN as new countries. It is fine to run to us fer help ever time a wolf growls at the door, but we're the bully if we tie any strings to the aid. Just give us the money and stay out of our way, they say.

Ed Doolittle called Clem's hand on the way the world sees us. Ed said he is full convinced that we have out-grown the Ugly American image nearly everywhere, and especial in Eastern Europe. Right now, Ed allowed, American business is the envy of ever country that was in the Soviet Union. They know free people have got to have a hand in running their economy, and they ain't got the foggiest notion how to go about it.

Ed had saw where American business advisors are doing a booming business teaching the break away countries how to do business. The hardest lesson, Ed said, is service with a smile. Fer so long their state run goods and services had a captive consumer and it was take it or leave it. Now that they are trying to give consumers choices they got to learn to take the consequences.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Workshop Slated on Knowledge of Indians About Wilderness

Patrick Munson, M.D., Emergency Room physician at Chelsea Community Hospital will lead a workshop on Native American philosophy and wilderness knowledge. Goals will include:

- How to not fall down in the winter time. (Like in the Parking Lot.)
- How to see more animals on the side of the road. (Before you hit them.)
- How to exercise your legs. (Without devoting any time.)
- How to walk on a deer trail.
- How to not get lost in the woods.
- Why is this important to the earth.

The awareness of modern man has been limited by his habits. We have become creatures of logical expectation and question whether humans even possess instinct. Yet we are animals first and regardless of our level of intellect, we remain creatures of the Earth and recipient of the gifts given to all animals. The Native American people knew this. This knowledge formed the basis for their method of survival.

The Native American method for solidifying the natural connection to instinct will be taught on Oct. 30 at 3 p.m. in the Woodlands Room and at 7 p.m. in the private dining rooms at Chelsea Community Hospital.

Robert and Angela Pratt

Angela Sager, Robert Pratt Marry June 29 in Chelsea

Angela Marie Sager of Chelsea and Robert Clare Pratt of Chelsea were married Saturday, June 29 at the Chelsea Free Methodist church.

The Rev. Mearl Bradley performed the ceremony uniting the daughter of Rodger and Geanie Sager of Chelsea and Robert and Jan Pratt of Chelsea. Pastor Harry Bonney assisted.

Carolyn Pratt sang "Endless Love," Lisa Stebelton sang "I'll Be There," and Larry Schultz sang "I Cannot Promise You."

The bride wore a white, floor-length gown with lace sleeves and bodice with flower appliques. She wore a flower headpiece with a waist-length veil and carried a bouquet of teal, mauve, and white silk flowers. Maid of honor was Elizabeth Ann Sager of Chelsea. She wore a teal satin dress with bouffant cap sleeves and carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Barb Scriven of Chelsea and Roxanne Goderis of South Lyon, friends of the bride, and Colleen Scharphorn of Chelsea and Christine Cadioux of Ottawa, Can., friends of the couple. Their dresses were the same as the maid of honor's.

Honorary bridesmaids were Juli Turner, Emily Pratt, Angela Pratt, and Carrie Pratt, all sisters of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a pink, long-sleeved linen suit with beaded yoke and sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore an off-white dress with long sleeves, full skirt, and pink accessories.

Ringbearer was Jackie Thatcher of Minnesota and flowergirls were Vanessa Stebelton of Chelsea and Alyssa Popp of Redford.

Best man was Guy Charles of Stamford, Conn. Ushers were Tom Korman, Ken Beauchamp and Ward Beauchamp, all friends of the bridegroom, and Rob Turner, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A cake and punch reception followed. A dinner for family and the wedding party was held at the Golly Wobler in Ann Arbor.

Juli Turner and Emily Pratt handled the guest book.

The couple took a one-week wedding trip to Pine Knot Resort in Beulah with side trips to Traverse City and Sleeping Bear Dunes.

The bride is a sophomore at Spring Arbor College and the bridegroom is a senior at Spring Arbor. They are living in Spring Arbor.

Cable TV 22 Developing News Bureau

Chelsea's cable channel 22 has announced the completion of its first phase of operation.

"The hardware is up and running and we have a good signal," said Alex Weddon, co-ordinator of the channel.

"The Lary Hafner Showcase program improves with every show and the Hometown News Bureau is developing as planned.

"The objective of the channel is to be interesting and useful; and based on the comments from merchants and residents, it appears to be heading in the right direction," says Weddon.

Weddon, a Beeman Rd. resident, first approached the village Council in June of this year with his plan to develop the channel. "Having worked in cable television and seeing a number of local channels, I felt that with a little creativity, a community could have a channel to be proud of."

The council agreed and gave Weddon the go ahead at the June 25 meeting. "Village president Steele and manager Jack Myers have been quite helpful," Adds Weddon, "And the folks at Clear Cablevision have shown a commitment to make the channel a success," he continued.

The next phase of operation will be focused on developing additional video programs, enlarging the information base of the Hometown News Bureau and funding.

For more information about Channel 22, call 475-9074.

Early Detection of Breast Cancer Is Critical to Treatment

One in nine women in the United States will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Of these women, one out of four will die from the cancer. These statistics are frightening. But, with early detection and diagnosis, 85 percent of breast cancer patients can be successfully treated.

A breast care program that combines breast self-examinations, regular checkups, and mammography is recommended. Women are advised to talk to their physicians regarding their personal breast care programs.

As part of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, McAuley Breast Care is offering a pamphlet providing additional information. For a copy of the pamphlet or more information, please call (313) 572-5555.

McAuley Breast Care, a service of Catherine McAuley Health System, has three convenient locations in Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, and Plymouth.

QUOTES

NOTES

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"Never bear more than one trouble at a time. Some people bear three kinds: All they ever had, all they have now and all they expect to have."

—Edward Everett Hale

The problems that ruin people's lives are usually not the ones that actually happen but the ones that they worry about happening in the future.

No amount of worry will change a trouble that is past. Most of the things of the future that we worry about will never happen. That leaves us free to bear only the trouble we now have. It should be a much lighter burden for us all.

Whatever faith, creed or fraternal order we serve, our ceremonies are always perfectly appropriate. Call on us for the counsel and guidance you would expect from your closest friends.

Patients Should Speak Up During Pharmacist Week

Consumers with questions about their prescription drugs don't have to worry about being able to get through to the doctor. Their best information resource is right behind the pharmacy counter.

The state's pharmacists are observing Michigan Pharmacist Week, Oct. 20-26, by urging the public to talk with their neighborhood pharmacist. Theme for the week is "Everyone Wins When You Talk: You & Your Pharmacist—Communicate for Good Health."

Michigan Pharmacist Week is being held in conjunction with the National Council on Patient Information and Education's "Talk About Prescriptions" month. Its purpose is to raise awareness of the health services that pharmacists can provide. Pharmacy technicians are also being recognized during this week. Pharmacy Technician Day, Thursday, Oct. 24, is to acknowledge their contributions to the pharmacy profession and the delivery of pharmaceutical care.

Professionally trained pharmacists at ChelseaCare (located inside Chelsea Community Hospital) and Chelsea Pharmacy provide counseling on the side effects of drugs and their possible reactions to food and other medications. They can also advise patients on selecting the most effective non-prescription medicines. These services can save money for the individual consumer and help lower the nation's health care bill by ensuring the proper and most effective use of medications.

When the patient keeps the pharmacist up-to-date on all prescription and non-prescription medicines being taken, the pharmacist can monitor the patient's therapy and help guarantee a healthy outcome. Remember, communication is the key to medication education!

One activity planned during Michigan Pharmacist Week is the presentation "What You Don't Know Can Hurt You," which will be given by a pharmacist from Chelsea Community Hospital. Included in the presentation are discussions about choosing a pharmacy, the difference between brand name and generic drugs, and questions patients should ask about their medications. The presentation will take place at the Senior Citizens Activity Center in Chelsea on Oct. 24, at 11 a.m. Anyone with questions about this program should call the Center at 475-9242.

Pharmacists from Chelsea Community Hospital are available to all community groups who would like to have a pharmacist speak about subjects concerning medication use. All interested parties can call the hospital's Department of Pharmacy at 475-4011.

This year, the court will recognize members of the community who have made extraordinary efforts on behalf of the children and families who are served by the court, according to Linda Edwards-Brown, organizer of the event.

The open house also provides a forum for public discussion of policies and concerns with the Juvenile Court Judge, Nancy Francis, and the staff of the court.

Melinda Morris Named Chief Judge Of Circuit Court

The Honorable Melinda Morris has been unanimously elected Chief Judge of the 22nd Judicial Circuit Court by her colleagues. She will begin the two-year term on Jan. 1, 1992. She succeeds the Honorable Patrick J. Conlin, who has been Chief Judge of the Circuit Court since 1980.

"THE ROCK" has again become a subject of controversy in the village as the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce is worried about the image the stone projects, as well as spillover painting of other objects in Pierce Park. Village council has not yet decided what to do with the Chelsea landmark.

Rock Rears Its Painted Head As Council Hears New Complaints

Is it an eyesore and nuisance or a valued part of Chelsea tradition?

That was the basic question raised at last Tuesday's village council meeting concerning "The Rock" in Pierce Park.

The Rock, moved several years ago from Schoolhouse Apartments on Park St. to Pierce Park on Main St., has long served as a spherical billboard for anyone with a can of spray paint. Generations of Chelsea residents have painted messages on it, ranging from birthday greetings and congratulatory messages, to obscenities. Schoolhouse Apartments used to be the site of Chelsea High school.

The Rock was moved from the apartments because the building's owners were concerned about sidewalks and other nearby objects being painted.

In general, Chelsea natives appeared to be more likely to favor keeping The Rock.

John Evans of BookCrafters, Inc., speaking on behalf of the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, told council the chamber is worried about the image the rock projects to visitors arriving from the south. He also said spray painting in the park is getting out of hand as other objects are being painted in Pierce Park and elsewhere.

"I'm not saying it should be gotten rid of," Evans said.

"I just don't think it should be the first thing people see when they come to town."

Trustee Stephanie Kanten, a Chelsea native and Dexter school teacher, spoke strongly in favor of keeping the rock because it "is a valued part of Chelsea's heritage." She also said that if the rock disappears that kids are likely to find something else to paint.

"We should count ourselves lucky if the worst things kids do is paint a rock," she said.

Trustee Allen Anderson, who moved to Chelsea about five years ago, said he could see "no aesthetic value" in keeping The Rock in Pierce Park.

Trustee Jim Finch said "I guess I don't have any feeling for the rock one way or the other. If the people want to keep it, that's fine, if they want to blow it up, that's fine. Maybe if it was blown up, everybody could have a piece."

A man in the audience who said he and his wife moved here two years ago, said "When we saw The Rock, we were impressed. We said, 'that's neat, it gives the kids someplace to paint.' They paint big messages on that rock. They paint 'happy birthday Joe, or welcome home Pete.' To us, that was a good thing."

Perhaps the most unusual suggestion for The Rock was offered by trustee Tom Dorer, also a Chelsea native, who suggested moving it to the wastewater treatment plant and dedicating it to long-time plant employee Cal Penix, who died earlier this year.

Finch suggested that council investigate costs of moving The Rock and other alternatives before making a final decision.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Whip Dexter To Even SEC Record, Face Tecumseh Friday

The only thing standing in the path of the Tecumseh Indians' first Southeastern Conference football title is the Chelsea Bulldogs, who travel to Tecumseh this Friday.

It may be a harder game than the Indians imagine.

The Bulldogs took their third straight victory and evened their record at 2-2 in the Southeastern Conference with a 27-0 victory over the Dexter Dreadnaughts at home last Friday.

It was the fourth straight solid defensive effort turned in by the Bulldogs, who intercepted two passes, recovered two fumbles and limited the Dreadnaughts to 117 total yards.

"We're a pretty sound defensive team," said Chelsea head coach Gene LaFave.

"We played very well against Dexter. They have some speed but we didn't give up the big play, which was one of the keys to the game."

Chelsea has given up one touchdown in its last three games, and has shut out two of its last three opponents. Although none of the three has exactly been a powerhouse (Lincoln, Jackson County Western, Dexter) the defensive effort has been consistent.

This week LaFave had high marks for defensive tackles Dan Clippert and Jeff Moore, who each recovered a fumble. He also liked the play of linebacker Adam Taylor, who intercepted a pass and led the team in tackles.

Chelsea's running offense was again in high gear as the trio of quarterback Colby Skelton and running backs Ben Hurst and Taylor combined for 260 yards and four touchdowns. Hurst rushed 18 times for 104 yards, Skelton carried eight times for 77 yards, and Taylor carried 22 times for 79 yards.

Skelton also completed three of four passes for 50 yards, his best effort of the season. One pass play to Hurst covered 22 yards.

"We didn't pass often but we passed very effectively," LaFave said.

Chelsea defense was never seriously threatened, primarily because the Dreadnaughts turned the ball over so many times. However, Dexter appeared to score a touchdown to tie the game early in the second quarter but it was called back on a clipping penalty.

Each of Chelsea's first two scores were set up by Dreadnaught turnovers. Clippert's fumble recovery at the Dexter 36 on the third play of the game set up Chelsea's first score. A pass to tight end Tom Poulter and several runs by Taylor moved the ball to the one, where Skelton ran up the middle for the score. Tim Wescott's extra point was good.

A Skelton interception at the Dexter

29 halted the Dreadnaughts' next drive. Three plays later, Skelton took the option to the left side, broke a tackle at the sidelines, and raced 65 yards for the score with 29 seconds left in the first quarter. Again, Wescott hit the extra point.

"Colby's run really set the tone for the rest of the game," LaFave said.

"From that point, Dexter had to do things they don't want to do."

Hurst added a third touchdown before half-time on a two-yard run. Wescott's kick was good.

The Dreadnaughts threatened to score late in the third quarter as they reached the Dexter 16. However, Chelsea's defense held and forced Dexter to turn the ball over on downs.

Chelsea promptly took the ball 71 yards for their final score. A 34-yard romp by Hurst and a 22-yard pass to Hurst were the big plays in the drive. Taylor scored from one yard.

The Bulldogs had nine penalties for 63 yards.

Hurst punted twice for a 32.5 average.

In Friday's game, the Bulldogs will play a team whose first defense has not allowed a touchdown in six games. Tecumseh is 6-0 and ranked in the state.

"What will determine this game is how well our offense performs against their defense," LaFave said.

"If we can't score against their first team, it will be tough for us. They put eight big, experienced people on the line. They run well and love to hit. They have it all. Coaches around the league are saying they have as good a defensive team as they've ever seen in the SEC."

A win for Tecumseh will clinch the SEC title for them, assuming they beat Dexter in the final league week.

ADAM TAYLOR tries to shake a Dexter tackler during Friday's homecoming game with the Dreadnaughts. Taylor scored a touchdown and intercepted a pass in one of his best efforts of the season.

Bulldog Golfers Sixth in Regional

Chelsea Bulldogs golf team placed sixth at the 20-team regional tournament at the University of Michigan last Friday.

Chelsea had a team score of 369, 36 strokes behind front-runner Saline with a 333. Southeastern Conference rival Tecumseh was second at 341, Dexter placed ninth at 378, Milan was 12th at 399, and Lincoln 15th at 418.

Saline's Kyle Dobbs was the medalist with a 76.

Chelsea scores include Nathan Oake and Aaron Tanner with a 90 each, Sean Graflund 93, and Chris White 96.

"I was quite pleased with our finish," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"It should establish a goal for the future."

Saline, Tecumseh, and third-place Dearborn Divine Child advance to the state tournament this week-end in Lansing.

In other action last week, the Bulldogs finished their regular season with matches at Saline and Pinckney.

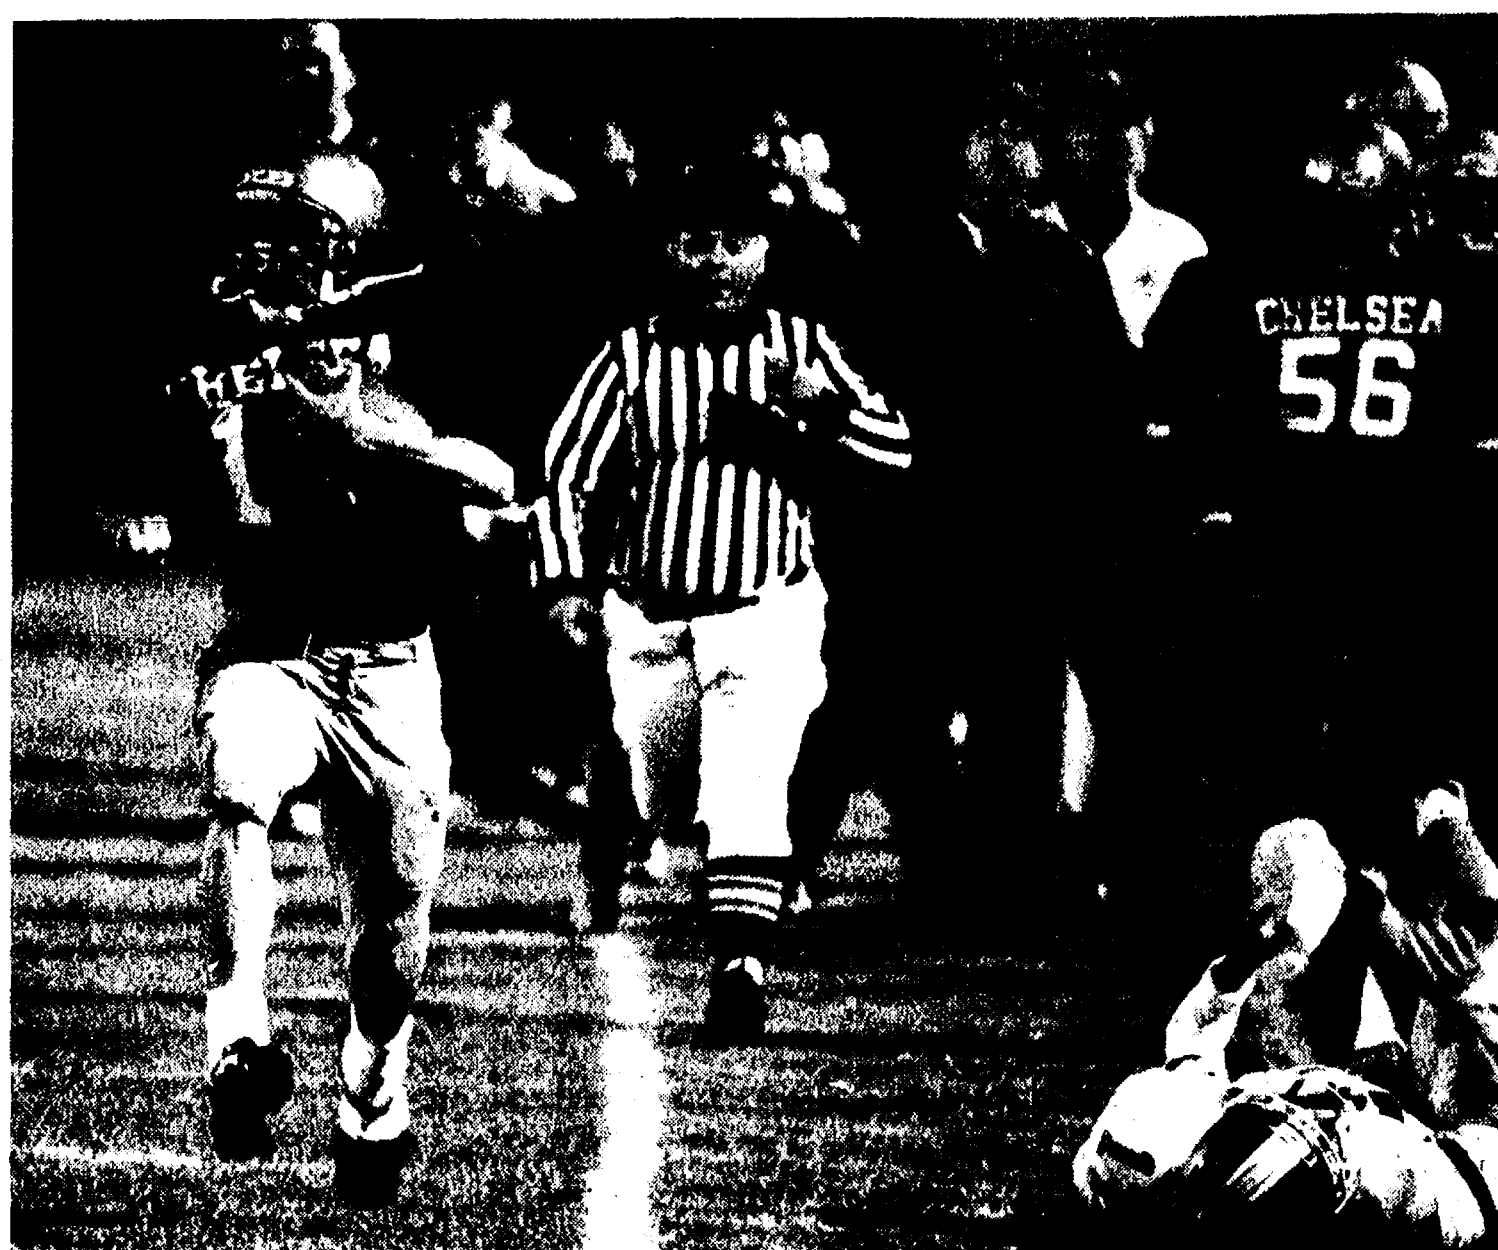

On Monday the Bulldogs lost to Saline, 152-180. Chelsea scorers were Oake 42, Tanner 43, Graflund 47, and White 48.

In the junior varsity match, Saline won 178-196. Chelsea scorers were Dave Seitz 48, Justin Navin and Scott Pacheco 49 each, and Jeff Branch 50.

In Wednesday's match at Pinckney, the Pirates won 178-187.

Chelsea scores were White 45, Oake and Graflund 47 each, and Tanner 48.

The Pinckney JV team edged the Bulldogs 190-191. Chelsea scorers were Jason McVittie 43, Adam Beauchamp 46, Dirk Wales 50, and Seitz 52.

COLBY SKELTON avoids a Dexter tackler and races Friday night's homecoming game. Chelsea went on to win down the sidelines for a 65-yard touchdown while the game, 27-0. Chelsea coaching staff watches from behind during last

Girl Runners Continue Streak As Dexter Is Latest Victim

Junior Lisa Monti set a home course record as the Chelsea Bulldogs cross country team beat the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 22-37, in one of the toughest meets of the year for the Bulldogs.

Monti set an Inverness Golf Course record of 18:59 to take first place overall.

"We ran very well," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We had to run well to beat a fine, undefeated Dexter team that will surprise someone this season."

Val Bullock, who placed second overall, set a personal record of 19:49.

The victory gives the girls a 4-0 mark in the Southeastern Conference.

Chelsea runners behind Bullock were 4. Beth Bell, 20:23; 7. Sarah Brosnan, 20:59; 8. Robin Phelps, 21:06; 9. Tracey Wales, 21:17; 10. Charity Allen, 21:40; 11. Jessica Holton, 22:12; 12. Bell, Phelps, Wales, and Allen all set personal records at Inverness.

At the Kiwanis Cross Country Invitational at Sturgis High school last Saturday, the Chelsea girls edged Jackson Lumen Christi, 68-72. Ten other teams were in the meet.

The win gives Chelsea a perfect 7-0 mark in invitational this season.

They won every one of them, for the first time ever.

"We ran very well," Clarke said.

"Robin Phelps set a personal record of 20:49 and beat the number five Lumen Christi runner by four places, which made the difference in the meet."

Monti finished first for Chelsea and third over-all with a time of 19:05.

CHELSEA BULLDOGS finished their 3-on-3 tournament season by taking second place at the Lansing Gus Macker Tournament Aug. 31-Sept. 1. The boys, who plan to play eighth grade basketball this fall at Beach Middle school, competed in several tournaments this summer. From left are Dave Paton, Rick Stahl, Nick Brink, Scott Colvin, and Josh Bernhard.

Both Beach Grid Teams Get Victories Over Saline

Beach Middle school A football team stopped Saline last Tuesday, 26-6, to remain unbeaten on the year and push their record to 3-0-1. It was a key game for the young Bulldogs as Saline came into the contest unbeaten.

After Chelsea forced Saline to punt to open the game, the Chelsea offense quickly drove the ball 65 yards for the first score of the day as Leroy Zepeda scored from one yard out. The conversion failed and Chelsea led 6-0.

On the Hornet's next possession, the Chelsea defense again held firm. "The defense played an excellent first half," said coach Phil Bareis. He commended the hard tackling of Rick Stahl from his halfback position, and Chris DeSarbo's play at inside linebacker.

The Chelsea offense responded with another quick drive behind the power running of Jordan Dyer and the outside speed of Jason Sprawka. Sprawka scored from 28 yards out as he continued to get outside on the Saline defense. The conversion failed and Chelsea led 12-0.

However, Saline came back strongly, executing a trick play, the flea-flicker, and scored from 60 yards, making the half-time score 12-6.

Chelsea took the second half kickoff and struck from long distance as Sprawka took the ball in from 45 yards. Scott Colvin ran the two-point conversion in to give Chelsea a 20-6 lead. The final Chelsea score came when Sam Morseau faked a punt and completed a 27-yard pass to Colvin. After completions to Stahl and Nick Brink, Colvin hit Stahl again for a four-yard touchdown pass.

In the B game, the much improved Bulldogs won 40-22.

They struck early as Jorge Rosario sprinted into the end zone from 38 yards to put Chelsea ahead 8-0 as Jason Goodin scored the two-point conversion.

After exchanging the ball with Saline the young Bulldogs struck again as Mike Thayer hammered at the middle of the Saline line and Rosario continued to run outside. Jeff Landrum and Justin Barbu led a strong performance by the Chelsea offensive line including Garth Hammer, Scott Stewart, Eric McDonald, and Ryan Lafferty. Rosario again scored, running the ball in from 25 yards. Goodin scored the two points to make the score 16-0.

Coach Mike Bohlender's defense continued to sparkle as Chelsea went into the half up 16-0. He cited John Beerman's defensive play as outstanding as well as the defensive end play of Jason Phelps.

In the second half Saline came storming back on two long scoring drives to tie the game at 16-16 at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Mike Thayer answered back, driving the ball deep into Saline territory where Rosario again took the ball in from 28 yards. Thayer picked up the conversion and Chelsea was back in front 24-16.

But the pace continued to quicken as Saline drove for an immediate score. However, the Chelsea defense toughened and stopped the conversion, leaving Chelsea with a narrow 24-22 lead.

Thayer, Goodin and Rosario pounded away on the next drive for big chunks of ground behind a Chelsea line that began to dominate, and Goodin took the ball in from 11 yards. Thayer ran the conversion in to make the score 32-22.

The defense rallied to stop Saline behind the strong play of Brenden Devine, Cameron Farmer, Karl Tremper, and David Payton, Bareis said.

The final Chelsea touchdown came as Chelsea was trying to run out the clock when Jorge Rosario broke lose for his fourth touchdown of the day behind the blocking of Aaron Gramitico and Garth Hammer. Jorge went 65 yards for the score, and Irwin took the ball in for the two-point conversion.

The B team picked up their first win of the season, giving them a 1-3 record for the year.

Sheriff's Dept. Reports Area Deer Hits, B&Es

Activities reported by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department during the past few days include several breaking and enterings, some crashes on the roads, and continued reports of car-deer incidents in the western part of the county.

Deputy Coggins took a report from Judith Lynn Welland, Gregory motorist, who explained a doe ran in front of the vehicle she drove along Parker Rd., north of Trinkle, at 3:50 a.m. Monday, Oct. 7.

She was unable to avoid hitting the animal.

At 8:16 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 8, Brian Jon Spinney of Ann Arbor was driving on Newport Rd., north of Bird, when a deer jumped in the path of his vehicle, causing the auto to go off the roadway and strike a tree.

Deputy Carrier filed the report.

At approximately 9 p.m. Monday, Oct. 7, truck driver Scott H. MacLennan of Kingston, Ontario, Canada, struck a tire in the westbound lane of Interstate-94, west of Parker Rd., and a fuel line on the truck ruptured.

Deputy Mark Mesko's report stated the truck driver continued about two miles before he realized the truck was spilling diesel fuel.

Approximately 80 gallons of fuel was spilled.

Dexter firefighters, at the request of the county drain commissioner and the Washtenaw County Road Commission, helped spread sand on that section of I-94.

Deputy Harry Valentine filed a report on a breaking and entering which occurred at a Lima township home on Trinkle Rd., Tuesday, Oct. 8. A 1988 black Harley-Davidson motorcycle valued at $5,000 was reported missing, and was apparently taken between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m. Tuesday.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 7, were Comeau, Satterthwaite, Eisenbeiser, Diesing, McCalla, Knutsen, Redding, superintendent Plasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Mead, Stielstra, Wescott, Stiebert, assistant principal Rossi, community education director Tracy, athletic director Welton, guests.

Prior to conducting the official meeting of the board, Senator Lana Pollack presented information to the board and the audience about the tax base sharing formula (the so-called "Robin Hood" legislation), whereby the wealth of affluent school districts would be shared with poor school districts. She also answered questions from the audience relative to alternative sources for school funding. Senator Pollack assured those in attendance that she would strive to seek a solution to the school-funding issue as it relates to property taxes.

Entered as an official communication was the annual audit prepared by the district's auditing firm.

Assistant superintendent Mills updated the board on the State-Aid Act. He will be meeting with the Board Finance Committee and subsequently recommend areas of the budget where reductions can be made in the amount of approximately $130,000. This action is necessary because of the effects of the "Robin Hood" legislation referred to above.

Superintendent Plasecki updated the board on the progress which has been made toward the 1991-92 board goals. In addition to those goals, the district will continue to work toward meeting facility needs and making the community aware of those needs.

In action items, the board: —approved the borrowing of $1,050,000 for operating expenses until taxes are collected

—approved a contract for Diane Ritter to fill a special education position at Beach Middle school

—approved a maternity leave of absence for Crystal Heydlauff (South school)

—approved the high school orchestra/choir Montreal trip.

Meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Cable TV Show Taping Moving to Faith in Action

Thanks to the many interested people in the Chelsea community the "Lary Hafner Showcase" has been overwhelmed with calls about being volunteers as well as guests and guest ideas for the show.

Along with the many new people who have been involved in the show the Faith in Action organization has offered the "Showcase" both a new office facility and a beautiful setting for the "Showcase" to do the live tapings from. Beginning Oct. 20 the "Lary Hafner Showcase" will be changing the taping location from the Chelsea Community Hospital to the Senior Citizens Center located in the Faith in Action building. Also, to make it more convenient for our audience members the taping time will take place beginning at 7 p.m. and will run till 8:30 p.m.

As usual the "Showcase" will air every Monday evening at 7 p.m. on cable channel 22. If you would like more information about the show you can find out by calling the

Village Continues Membership In Washtenaw Development Council

What used to be a controversial issue for village council caused barely a comment last Tuesday as the village decided to continue its membership in the Washtenaw Development Council.

WDC requested annual dues of $2,774 each year for the next five years to support its revamped program called "United for Progress." WDC is looking for financial support from governments, private business, and area universities. The organization works to keep current businesses in the county, as well as attract others to it.

Village trustee Allen Anderson, who attends WDC meetings as a village representative, supported WDC enthusiastically. The organization has also been supported by the village's industrial park broker.

Trustee Tom Dorer cast the only vote against continuing membership.

Methodist Church Offers Hartland Gospel Quartet

On Sunday, Oct. 20, at the First United Methodist Church of Chelsea, the Hartland Gospel Quartet from Hartland will be the featured musical program. Their songs will be a part of the church's semi-annual Lumberjack Chili Dinner, put on by the men of the church. The program is open to the public, and is for all ages: men, women, youth and children.

Festivities and the dinner begin in the Social Center of the church at 6 p.m.; the musical presentation will be held in the Sanctuary directly following the meal.

The Hartland Gospel Quartet has been together for seven years, and have sung for many Michigan churches and at folk festivals. Their music is a kind of blue Grass and Gospel style. The Rev. Mark Spaw of the United Methodist church in Hartland is one of the members of the group; the others are Brian Holmes, Keith Muir and Leif Alton.

There is no charge for the dinner or the program.

'Christmas in April' Meeting on Oct. 25

A national group that organizes a massive one-day home repairs program for citizens in need is hoping to get the program started in Washtenaw county next year.

"Christmas in April" plans an informational meeting on Friday, Oct. 25 at 2:30 p.m. at the Best Western-Regent Motel (the old Marriott) at US-23 and Plymouth Rd.

While the effort to repair run-down housing for people in need will be a county-wide program, each individual community, such as Chelsea and Dexter, organizes its own effort.

Warren McArthur, who has been a local spokesperson for the program, said 10 or more homes in the area could be repaired in the one-day program.

"You can't believe all the organization that goes into it," McArthur said. "You might have 40 or 50 people working on one house."

Anyone who wants to help out is welcome. Skill with hammer and nails is not a requirement.

The program would likely be organized locally by a committee consisting of representatives from service organizations and other groups.

McArthur said homes in the program often belong to senior citizens on fixed incomes who don't have money for repairs. Materials are donated by businesses and individuals.

McArthur said the local program is not likely to take place in April due to local weather conditions. He said Saginaw held "Christmas in July" this year.

Village Considers Ordinance Change To- Allow Beehives

Village of Chelsea is considering an amendment to a police ordinance to allow residents to keep beehives in certain areas of the village. It is illegal to keep bees anywhere within the village limits.

The issue came to light after village resident Vern Otto was cited for having one hive on his Wilkinson St. property. The hive was noticed by a village employee who was there on another matter. The hive has apparently been there for 20 years or more. The property is zoned for agriculture. The village is pursuing charges against him, but a court date was recently postponed.

The village is considering allowing beehives in areas zoned for agriculture, and there are several of those within the village limits, mostly on the village border. However, it's likely there would be setback requirements and other rules, as well as a limit to the number of hives allowed.

STEVE JASKOT of the Chelsea Fire Department shows how rescue workers cut out a windshield during a demonstration at last Sunday's annual fire department open house. Ideal weather drew a sizeable crowd throughout the afternoon to watch numerous demonstrations.

HOW TO PUT OUT A STOVE FIRE was one of the many demonstrations during Sunday's Chelsea Fire Department open house. Visitors learned, among other things, not to pick up a blazing pan because it's an easy way to spread the fire.

Chelsea Industries Offers Reward In Recent Bomb Threat Incident

Chelsea Industries, Inc. is offering a $2,500 reward for information leading to the conviction of the person who telephoned a bomb threat to the company last Tuesday.

"We have our suspicions of who it might be and have a couple of people in mind," plant manager Wayne Weston said last week.

Weston said the company has hired an outside security firm to protect employees for an indefinite period. The caller was apparently a woman. She called at 4:20 p.m. and said a bomb would explode in 20 minutes. A search by police after the building was evacuated turned up nothing.
