DANCY HOUSE at the Chelsea Retirement Community was consecrated last Sunday in formal ceremonies. The day also included an open house in the apartment building for independent living. The building contains one and two-bedroom apartments, as well as numerous shops and other conveniences. Dancy House residents are automatically admitted to other parts of the community as their need for skilled care increases.

A RIBBON CUTTING was held after the formal consecration of the Dancy House at the Chelsea Retirement Community last Sunday. Dancy House is the new apartment building for independent living on the campus. From right are Bishop Judith Craig, who conducted the consecration ceremonies, Seneca Foote, president of the homes association, Stanley Jones, board chairman, and Mrs. Fred Godard, daughter of Russell and Opal Dancy, for whom the building is named.

Village, Townships Now Closer to Agreement on Landfill Cost Sharing

Village officials and township supervisors met for more than three hours last Wednesday to hammer out an agreement on how to share more than $700,000 in landfill expenses.

Village president Richard Steele, manager Jack Myers, and township supervisors Don Schoenberg of Sylvan, Bill Van Riper of Lima, John Francis of Lyndon, and James Drolett of Dexter and their attorneys did not come to a final agreement.

Landfill supervisor Cecil Clouse and village consultant and former assistant village manager Lee Fahrner were also on hand to provide information.

The village opened the meeting with a 45-minute presentation on the history of the landfill and associated costs. Afterward, the townships made an offer and the village followed with a counter-offer.

"The ball is in their court," Myers said.

Myers said both he and Steele believed the meeting was productive. Details of the offer and counter-offer have not been made public.

The agreement, which will specify what percentage of the costs each of the townships and village will pay, will extend to future landfill costs, Myers said. He said the gaps between the offer and counter offer "wasn't a small percentage, but it wasn't that large, either." He expects more talks will take place but no date has been set.

The $700,000 in expenses incurred by the village are for closure of the first landfill cell and continued monitoring for soil and groundwater pollution.

Future expenses will include monitoring, as well as costs for any clean-up imposed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The village has submitted a clean-up plan to DNR, but DNR had not yet ruled whether it is acceptable. The Jackson office has had a complete turnover in personnel since the landfill dispute began about four years ago, so some key DNR employees have had to start from the beginning. DNR has, however, requested a schedule for the final closing of the first cell. Topsoil and grass seed have yet to be applied. That schedule was expected to be submitted this week, Myers said.

School Board Approves Budget Cuts, Discusses Survey on Bond Issue

Chelsea Board of Education approved $70,000 in budget cuts for the current year as part of the district's way of coping with new state legislation that will take $195,883 from the district this year.

So-called "Robin Hood" legislation, formally known as tax base sharing, is designed to take property tax money from out-of-formula school districts and re-distribute it to poorer in-formula districts. The money, technically, comes from the growth in commercial and industrial property tax values. Practically, however, it comes from the district's general budget.

The board approved $30,000 in cuts in teaching supplies, textbooks, and capital outlay items such as furniture. Exactly what will be cut from each of the four schools in the district will be largely decided by building principals. The cuts represent about 10 percent of the budget for those items.

Other cuts include conference and travel ($3,000), special education ($1,000), media centers ($2,000), curriculum ($1,000), administration ($2,000), community education ($3,000), custodial/maintenance ($18,000, most of which will come from not filling a staff vacancy), and transportation ($10,000 from field trips and other activities).

Another $80,285 will come from fund equity, commonly known as the district's savings account. It amounts to an 11 1/2 percent withdrawal from the district's savings.

The final $65,598 will come from excess revenue for the year. Assistant superintendent Fred Mills budgeted $401,612 in anticipation of problems with state funds.

In a related item, the board approved a revised 1991-92 budget, with in-

Chelsea Industries Files Election Appeal

As expected by local union officials, Chelsea Industries, Inc., has appealed the outcome of the Oct. 11 union election in which hourly employees voted 75-34 to join United Auto Workers Local 437.

According to a written company statement, Chelsea Industries is asking the National Labor Relations Board to make sure there was no union misconduct during the union's campaign.

"Because the outcome of the election will dramatically affect the future of our employees, we want to be certain that union conduct will be closely examined by the NLRB," the statement read.

"We have grave concern that the high standards established by the NLRB to guarantee voting employees free choice may have been violated."

Plant manager Wayne Weston declined comment on any specific company allegations. However, he did say that union misconduct may have been responsible for the huge voter turnout. Last December workers rejected the union by four votes.

If the NLRB believes there was union misconduct, a third election will be ordered. Examination of the election will initially be conducted by the Detroit office of the NLRB.

Second Public Hearing Slated On Western Washtenaw Recycling

Residents in the villages of Chelsea and Manchester and townships of Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima, Dexter, Bridgewater, Manchester, Sharon, and Freedom townships will begin to pay for a comprehensive area recycling program beginning with this winter's tax bills.

The newly-formed Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority plans the second of two public hearings on Wednesday, Nov. 6 at Sylvan Town Hall. It will be held in two sessions. From 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. programs in the two villages will be explained, and from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. township programs will be explained. The first hearing was scheduled for last night in Manchester Township Hall.

WWRA has proposed annual fees for the next five years of $17 for each township residence and $30 for each village residence, the difference reflecting the higher costs of curbside programs in each village. Money will be used to pay the $110,000 matching portion of a $330,000 state grant, as well as provide operating funds for the next five years. Fees could not be raised during the five years without another round of public hearings, according to terms of the grant.

The consortium may be the most unusual recycling effort of its kind in the country, primarily because 10 separate units of government are involved. Each unit has a delegate and alternate to the authority and each unit has one vote.

The consortium of governments was formed initially to apply for the state grant. Once the grant was approved, the authority was formed to administer the grant and operate the recycling program.

The grant will allow the units of government to implement a program that would be far too costly for any of them alone. However, the grant only covers capital expenditures for equipment. Operating costs have to be covered locally.

The program is designed to include two convenient drop-off sites in each township, curbside programs in each village, and the construction of a recycling center at the Chelsea village landfill. Glass, metal cans, newspaper, and plastic milk jugs, as well as cardboard, are now all accepted at the landfill.

The authority also provides a cohesive way for the entire western portion of Washtenaw county to deal with its long-range solid waste problems, which will only worsen over the next few years as the Chelsea landfill closes by 1994. The landfill serves the village of Chelsea as well as Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima, and Dexter townships.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION has told Franz Mogdis of Chelsea's Downtown Development Authority that the M-52 railroad crossing is likely to be open by the end of this week, weather permitting. The crossing has been closed for several weeks for repairs.

Auto Insurers Push Cost-Containment to Lower Rates

Automobile insurers are working to rally public support to convince legislators to pass legal and medical cost-containment measures on the state's no-fault law.

The Automobile Club of Michigan and Michigan Insurance Federation said they both favor limitations that would lower their costs and are coming closer on a political strategy to win support as legislators near the Dec. 31 deadline to reauthorize the law.

To give legislators a boost in the "right" direction, AAA Michigan president Robert A. Alkema and his staff presented to each legislator a list of 140,000 voters from the 148 districts who sent back AAA's questionnaire supporting the insurer's cost-containment plan.

MIF president Doug Cruce said after months of public hearings and legislative drafting, four of the six no-fault conference committee members are ready to approve moderate to heavy cost-containment legislation.

But House Democratic conferees Mary Brown of Kalamazoo and Alma Stallworth of Detroit have concerns about what has been proposed, which could block the initiatives. At least two House and two Senate conferees have to agree to move the legislation out of conference.

Brown, the lead House conferee, said she thinks at least one Senate conferee as well remains concerned about reducing medical benefits as has been proposed by the insurance industry. She said the conferees do not have an agreement yet but "something could break" in the next few weeks.

The major obstacle to an agreement

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association is trying to balance consumer and industry concerns, she said, which requires determining which cost-containment measures are appropriate and which ones just reduce benefits.

Alkema said to reduce rates, AAA has cut its own costs, such as operating expenses. But the company's medical costs have risen by 91 percent since 1985 and its legal costs by 117 percent, compared to a rise in the consumer price index of 23 percent. "AAA Michigan strongly supports the elimination of tort from our no-fault system, except for the most serious and egregious injuries," Alkema said. "The concept of a no-fault system is to promptly return benefits for medical care and economic loss directly to policyholders without lengthy and expensive court proceedings."

But a complete elimination of tort from no-fault as proposed by the insurance commissioner recently would create public backlash, Cruce said, adding the insurance industry is coming closer to an agreement with the Engler administration as well as the Legislature.

Alkema reaffirmed his company's call for limiting charges for medical care and controlling the number of lawsuits filed after accidents as the best way to reduce rates.

Under AAA's proposal, he said, AAA members would save $73 million a year, or $50-$60 each off their annual total bill, a savings of almost 10 percent. Members would save 21.2 percent off their mandatory coverages, such as medical, work loss, survivors loss, property protection and liability.

The current no-fault's requirement that automobile insurers pay "reasonable and necessary" charges for medical treatment, with no limit on total payments, has forced auto insurers to subsidize Medicare, Medicaid and private health insurers, Alkema said. "Due to this reasonable and necessary language, Michigan auto insurers pay 70 percent more to medical providers than these same providers bill the Medicaid system for identical procedures," he said.

Brown agreed that the legislation should ensure that the same medical treatment paid for by insurers cost the same as that paid for by Blue Cross/Blue Shield or another health care insurer.

The proposed savings include:

- $27 million by reversing a 1986 Supreme Court decision giving juries authority to set awards for pain and suffering, and leave that in the hands of judges instead. (In a recent position paper on no-fault, MIF called for the same thing with a more clear definition of "reasonable and necessary.")

- The Michigan Trial Lawyers Association has opposed eliminating jury determination of the legal threshold under which lawsuits could be filed for automobile injuries and has generally objected to insurance industry proposals as reducing rights, not rates.

- And Brown said she sees no reason to reverse the court decision because Michigan already has the tightest threshold for accident-related litigation and the lowest transaction cost in the country.

- $10 million by preventing persons more than 50 percent at fault in an accident from suing.

- $22 million by establishing a medical fee schedule to pay a fixed rate for specific services similar to the workers compensation and health insurance systems.

- $14 million by eliminating duplicate payments and legally defining benefits.

Cruce praised AAA's work in inserting the public into the process and said the two insurance groups have generally agreed on no-fault reform with differences of opinion over what should be emphasized. The federation represents 30 auto insurance companies, 24 of which are Michigan-based.

The MIF has recommended maintaining territorial rating and eliminating the Dec. 31 sunset of the "essential Insurance Act reforms."

If the reforms are allowed to expire and the Legislature fails to reach an agreement to replace those provisions, the MIF has predicted a return to a system which forced insurers to decide whether they would write insurance in high-cost areas or low-cost areas and made it difficult to offer policies in both areas.

Last year, House Democrats proposed a 30-percent roll-back in insurance rates tied to some cost-containment stipulations, but it was shelved in a pre-election agreement with Senate Republicans to postpone a vote on a property tax cut. The year before, the House passed a 20-percent cut that was not tied to any cost-cutting measures.

Alkema said he has not heard demands from members for a mandatory rate reduction. Cruce said legislators are not pushing as hard for that, recognizing legitimate costs insurers face.

The voter-approved 20-percent rate reduction in California has been a disaster for insurers, Cruce said. "The public has to recognize we are No. 22 in the country," Cruce said. "We are below the national average (in automobile insurance rates)."

But Brown said she expects some type of roll-back or guarantee in the final conference report so consumers realize a rate reduction and not just the benefit reductions called for by the industry. "AAA wants us to lower benefits first and then they'll lower rates," she said.

Tax Group Plans Meeting On Strategy

Chelsea Citizens for Property Tax Reform will meet this Thursday, Oct. 24 in the Chelsea High School Media Center at 7 p.m.

At the meeting, organizer Bob Daniels will explain how the grass roots group plans to spread its property tax reform message through a saturation mail campaign. Private contributions are funding the effort.

The group is pushing for legislative reform of property tax laws. It does not endorse any particular tax changes, but it does not want the issue to be decided by referendum.

The public is invited to attend.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

By the time Clem Webster got through his opening remarks at the country store Saturday night, he had convinced himself that he had convinced all the fellers that some of the strongest good and bad thinking in this country goes on in the advertising business. Clem had saw a report where some of the big agencies are talking about doing away with movie stars, ball players and other famous people in ads because folks pay too much attention to em. The ad experts say folks are supposed to think about buying the product, not about the person pushing the product, but what happens is that readers and viewers remember the seller and forget what he's selling.

For instant, Clem said, everybody knows retired baseball pitcher Jim Palmer sells underwear, but half of em don't know what brand. Another case mentioned in the piece Clem read is where a actor plugs a motel on television and viewers never notice the motel name because they're trying to remember the actor's name and what shows they saw him in.

Furthermore, Clem went on, the experts want to stop putting doctor's jackets on actors to sell over the counter medicine on TV. They're worried that the better the actor the more viewers will believe he's a real doctor and they could be nailed for false advertising.

One or two fellers nodded their heads, but Bug Hookum wasn't buying what Clem was selling. Bug said all studies about using household names and faces to sell stuff shows they do. The big problem is that the actors get tied to the product in the public mind and can't get other work. Bug said he saw in a paper last fall where a TV actor was coming to town to be the big draw in the Christmas parade, and the most important thing the paper could say about this famous person was that he was seen in national TV ads for a headache remedy. You know how big a star that feller felt like when he saw that, was Bug's words.

Practical speaking, Zeke Grubb allowed, the first rule on Madison Avenue is create the desire for the product and then create the product. He recalled how some of the most successful ads ever been don't show the product and don't show anybody promoting it. They tell the reader how much happier or how much more accepted by everybody he's going to be by buying the product. For instant, Zeke said, you don't see a famous feller selling the scalp shave that grows hair, you are told to believe that when you use the stuff you'll draw wimmen like ants to a picnic.

General speaking, Zeke said, the very idea of ethics in advertising is one of them oxymorons, like honest lawyer and holy war. Where there is ethics there is very little advertising, was Zeke's words. The hole idea of selling is accent the positive and do away with the negative altogether, and there goes honesty out the window.

If advertising got infested with ethics we wouldn't have anything to put between the news in the papers or between the programs on TV. Furthermore, Zeke allowed, we would have instant one-term politics. The only reason to elect would be to fill the seats, and running from office the way Democrats are from President this time around would be standard at all levels of Government.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

County Extension Leaders Attend State Convention

Fran Coy toured the State Capitol building during a state convention of the Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers, held Oct. 15 through Oct. 17.

Ms. Coy was thrilled to see the Capitol building under restoration.

"Usually in this country we tear everything down and build new," she said.

After first viewing a video of the old, run down Capitol building and stages of its restoration, she and others went to the Capitol building and saw recent restoration.

"The Senate and House side are both finished, they are restoring a section at a time."

"They hope to have a week-long celebration in June when it will be finished."

Coy is president of Washtenaw Extension Council and member of Lima extension study group. She attended the state convention held in the Radisson Hotel in downtown Lansing with Washtenaw county members Terry Jones, home economist, and Lois Foyle of Model Homemakers.

Workshops for building leadership skill were held for 147 delegates from 46 Michigan counties.

Ms. Coy attended a speech given by Dr. Loren Crane of Western Michigan University, who has written a book about communication.

"Crane said in schools of today, we need smaller classes and more money for teachers. Students should be speaking and writing in school, there should be no multiple choice, they can guess at multiple choice questions."

"There were very good workshops to attend but the highlight for me was the visit to the State Capitol Building."

A shower of needles was the result of a cyclone striking a factory that made knitting needles.

DeBUSK-BURGESS: Maryhelen DeBusk and Robert C. Burgess of Phoenix, Ariz. have announced their engagement. The future bride is the daughter of Robert and Patricia DeBusk of Phoenix. The future bridegroom is the son of Charles and Mary Ann Burgess of Chelsea. He is a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school and a 1981 graduate of the University of Michigan. He is a mechanical engineer with Brown and Caldwell Consultants. A May wedding in Phoenix is planned.

Train Slams Into Car At Pierce Rd. Crossing

CHELSEA SENIOR HOUSING TASK FORCE has been working on ways to bring low-cost housing for senior citizens to Chelsea. The group visited a housing project as part of its research. Not pictured are Katie Chapman, Frank Renton, Jan Tolf, Duane Schiller, Jackie Tracy, and Don Schoenberg.

Senior Housing Board Sees Progress on Project

Affordable Senior Housing in Chelsea has been the object of discussion, planning and dreaming for a long period of time.

The process for acquiring that housing is also a long, complex and tedious process. A recent conversation with Rene Papo, developer, provided a review of that process and "where we currently stand."

A group of interested community residents resumed meeting and discussing the project about 2½ years ago. They elected co-chairs, Treva Winans and Katie Chapman and renewed a search for available/suitable land. Many lending institutions have complicated restrictions related to land. Dana Corp. offered a five-acre parcel of land for the project. The lending agency review of the land revealed that it could not be used for funding because of its non-residential location.

The group continued to meet for the purpose of planning, education and brainstorming. In late 1990 Rene Papo offered to donate a parcel of land for the project. Rene came on board as the developer and solicited input for the design and management of the project.

The group visited several housing developments and selected the designs and amenities which they would like to have in Chelsea senior housing.

Rene hired an architect and plans were designed according to the group's recommendations. A lengthy application for financing is near completion and will be submitted to Farmers Home Administration.

Those who have offered support and interest can certainly attest to the extensive background and preparatory work that goes on behind the scenes to achieve this goal. Rene has expressed his appreciation for the continued time and effort of members of the non-profit membership board. The members have been identified and the necessary paper work relative to the board is being completed. The architectural plans are also near completion and the delays, created by "unanticipated" road-blocks are currently being handled.

Pheasant Hunting Should Be Best in Recent Years

Pheasant hunting in Michigan this fall is expected to be one of the best seasons since the mid-1970s. Based on Department of Natural Resources (DNR) spring pheasant surveys the number of birds entering the breeding season is the highest since 1975. Harvest data for the 1990 season showed an increase of 10-15 percent over the 1989 harvest of 151,000 roosters.

The spring nesting season was nearly perfect and resulted in excellent hatching success for both pheasants and quail. Good to excellent hunting is predicted, especially in Livingston, Genesee, Sanilac, Lapeer, Shiawassee, Ingham, Eaton, Washtenaw, St. Clair, Hillsdale, Lenawee, Calhoun, Kalamazoo, Gratiot, Barry, Ionia, Huron, Tuscola, Clinton, Ottawa, St. Clair, Montcalm and Jackson counties.

Nearly 110,000 hunters, the highest number in 10 years, pursued the wily ringneck in 1990.

Eight previous pheasant hunting areas will be closed this year to protect the newly introduced Sichuan pheasants. Two other areas in Ottawa county and portions of Ingham, Washtenaw and Livingston counties will have restricted daily bag limits of one male pheasant per day. Hunters should consult the hunting digest for details and other pertinent changes before going afield.

Hunters returning to the sport after several years absence will find a welcome addition of hunting opportunities in southern Michigan farm country. Since the late 1970s, the DNR has been leasing private lands in southern Michigan for hunting access. These lands provide a wide range of hunting cover for those who want to hunt during the fall season. Approximately 135,000 acres located in 30 counties are available for hunting.

Before hunting on these lands, hunters must obtain permission from the landowners. A complete listing of hunter access farms is available from all license dealers in the southern portion of the state.

Pheasant hunters are advised to search for prospective hunting areas early in the season and to be aware of the following regulations for the 1991 season:

- The 1991 season dates for pheasant hunting are Oct. 10-20 in the Upper Peninsula and Oct. 20-Nov. 11 in the Lower Peninsula;

- The pheasant season bag limit will return to eight roosters per season;

- The previous 10 a.m. opening day shooting time has been eliminated and hunters may begin at the regular time of one-half hour before (official) sunrise;

- Eight areas of the state will be closed to the hunting of pheasants (see hunting digest);

- Note that opening day of the season in the Lower Peninsula is a Sunday. Many counties have Sunday hunting closures. Hunters should check local county regulations listed in the hunting digest before venturing afield.

Grass Lake Man Completes ROTC Field Training

Jason L. Musser has completed a U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The summer curriculum consists of orientation on jet aircraft, career opportunities, human relations education, and equal opportunity training. Physical fitness and survival training is also emphasized. The field training is normally attended by cadets between their second and third year of college.

The cadet is a student at Norwich University, Northfield, Vt.

Musser is the son of Dennis L. and Linda C. Musser of 13700 E. Mich. Ave., Grass Lake.

He is a 1989 graduate of Grass Lake High school.

IT'S UNUSUAL to see a complete beehive constructed on the outside of a tree, but that's what these honeybees did on a willow tree behind village manager Jack Myers' house this summer. The bees made eight bright yellow combs and honey is easily visible. The hive is about 30 feet overhead, so its really not causing any problems for people on the ground. Bees generally build their combs in a covered area, such as the hollow of a tree.

Deer Surprises Patrons In Local Restaurant

Some patrons made a hasty departure from Gina's Cafe Monday evening after a deer jumped through a picture window, ran to the back of the restaurant, and was wrestled to the floor by a waiter.

"They were all tripping, flipping out," waiter Christopher Bledsoe said of customers in the packed restaurant.

Bledsoe, a Chelsea resident and youth pastor at Chelsea Christian Fellowship church, was in the back of the restaurant when a young buck jumped through the window over a booth vacated just moments before. The deer ran immediately to the back of the restaurant where Bledsoe, a former Ranger in the U.S. Army, jumped on its back and wrestled it to the carpet. Employees Todd and Steve Adams helped Bledsoe hog tie the animal.

Bledsoe suffered a minor cut, as well as bruises and carpet burns. He was treated and released at Chelsea Community Hospital.

The buck was apparently one of four deer that ran through the Chelsea Shopping Center parking lot from a wooded area across Old US-12, according to Chelsea police chief Lenard McDougall. Another deer that tried to jump through a window at Chelsea Pharmacy was also wrestled down and hog tied. Both animals, with the help of police officers Norm Paton and Paul Whelan, were later released in a nearby field.

When the incident was over, the restaurant had to close immediately to clean up broken glass and blood. It re-opened later in the evening, and by Tuesday morning the window had been replaced.

McDougall said he wouldn't advise anyone to try what Bledsoe did.

"He's a lucky man," McDougall said.

"I've seen a deer lay a person wide open. Their hooves are like razor blades."

The authority also has its roots in a ruling by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources forcing each county to develop a solid waste disposal plan, with a mandatory 35 percent reduction in flow of refuse to all landfills by 1995. The Washtenaw County Board of Public Works formed a Solid Waste Management Consortium to prepare a 20-year plan for dealing with solid waste.

Recycling was deemed as the best solution dealing with the solid waste problem, for a variety of reasons.

It's highly unlikely that a new landfill will be built in western Washtenaw after the Chelsea landfill reaches capacity. Landfill supervisor Cecil Clouse said a new landfill would cost about $1 million per acre to develop. In addition, liability issues have become a major headache for landfill operators.

Once the landfill is closed, trash will be hauled to the nearest available site, which now is in Salem township. That could change if the Ann Arbor landfill overcomes its licensing problems with the DNR.

Clouse said disposal costs could at least double. The more recyclables taken out of the waste stream, the less there is to haul away.

Recycling programs administered in other communities by large commercial haulers cost up to $50 per household, substantially more than the proposed local fees.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

This is in support of a letter written by Henri Vander Waard and in response to the firing of Sue Vander Waard. As a school bus driver of 16 years, I find it hard to believe that she was fired for $18.50 (Union dues). If the real reason for the action taken against her was known to the public, it would/should make people very angry. Since when in America can't a person speak his/her own mind? Since when can't a person ask a question and not expect a truthful answer, instead of a response like "because that's the way it is..." or "because we said so..."?

I realize that the "Committee" is saying that Sue didn't pay her union dues, but since when don't you have a grace period to pay a bill? Furthermore, why was her check sent back when she made the effort to pay the late dues? Is this how school employees are treated after 16 years of good service? Maybe the School Board should take a closer look at how things are being handled in their Transportation Department? Maybe the Transportation Department should have to answer the outrage of the public and tell us all... what is the real reason Sue was fired?

Emily Blackman
A Former School Department
Employee of 14 years.

To the Editor,

Incredibly, I see in the papers the Chelsea School Board is thinking about squandering $5,000 of taxpayer money to determine why the unrealistic $23 million bond issue was defeated, all the while considering a $29,000 cut in teaching supplies.

We taxpayers have just told why for nothing! The well is dry. The money-tree has been plucked clean. We will no longer increase millage or pass bond issues in these times for any reason. We cannot, we will not tax ourselves out of house and home.

The taxpayer revolt in Michigan is well underway.

QUOTES

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"The thing most people want is genuine understanding. If you can understand the feelings and moods of another person, you have something fine to offer..."

—Paul Brock

In these days of "generation gap" and "credibility gap" there seems to be a universal lack of genuine understanding. Probably all of us, at one time or another, feel that we are misunderstood.

We may not fully understand ourselves. And, in some cases, we are perhaps understood too well, but not as we would wish to be understood. If you would offer someone something really fine, Brock suggests, make an effort to understand him.

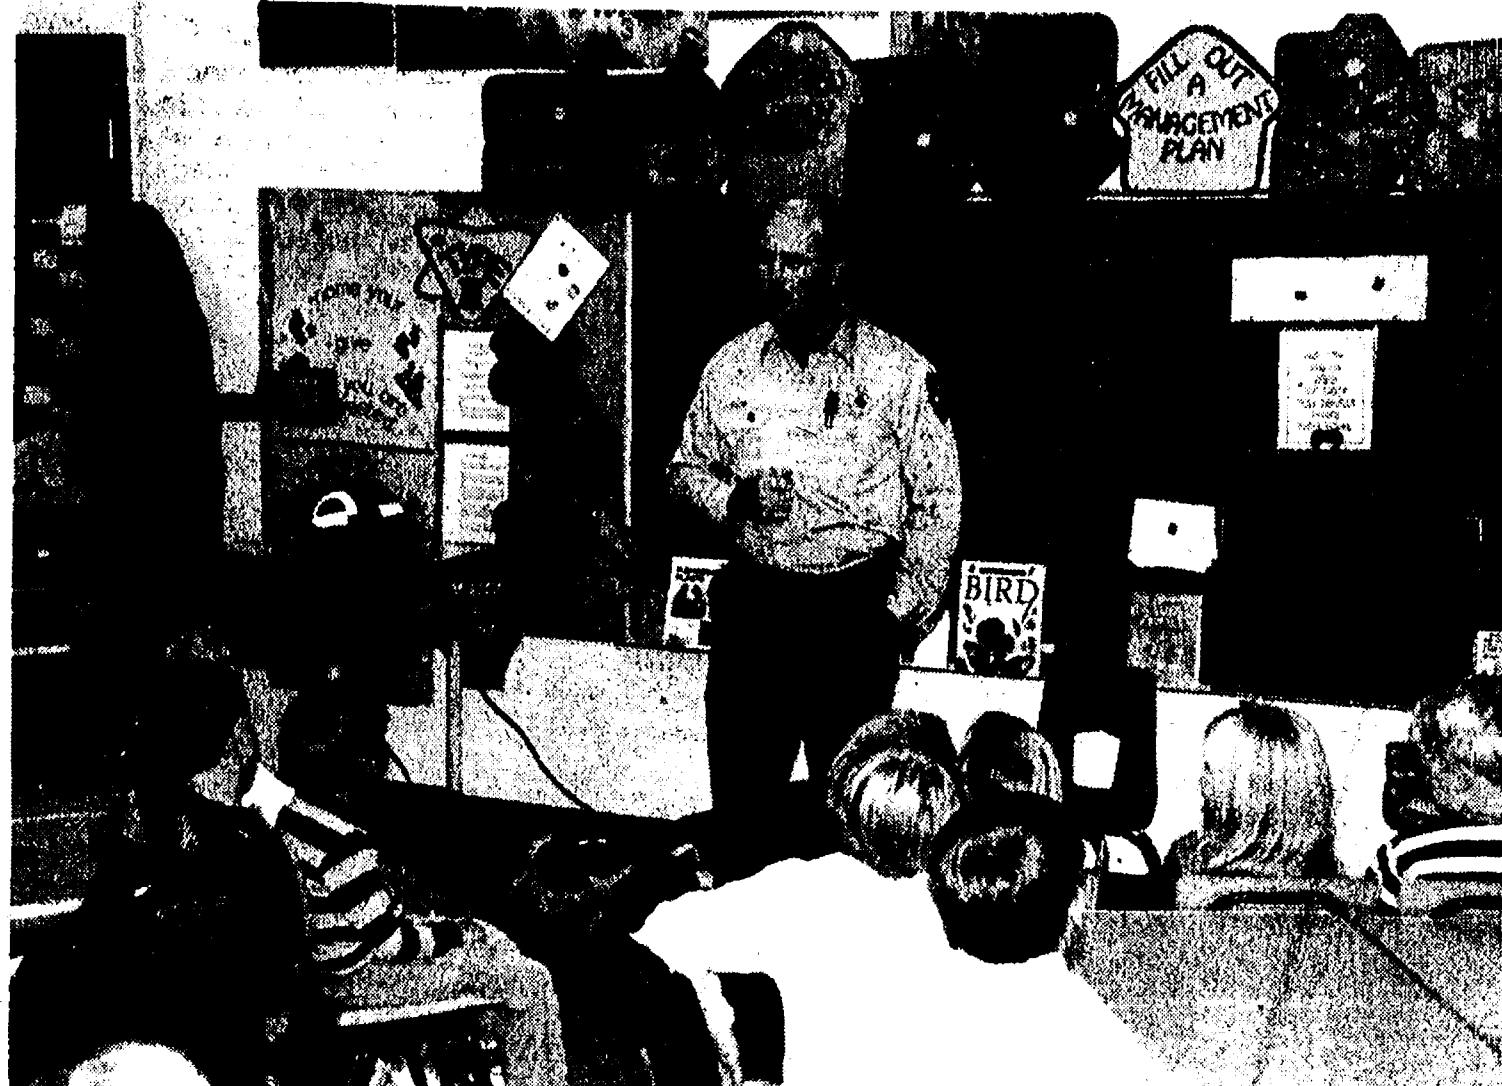

Our funeral services are planned to provide beautiful memories and to ease the first steps toward adjustment to loss.

Chelsea Band Program Stands Apart From The Crowd

Chelsea High school marching band brought home top honors from the Marching Band Festival held Monday, Oct. 7, on the Eastern Michigan University campus. A total of 15 high school bands from Washtenaw, Monroe, and Wayne counties participated in the annual event. Each band offered a 15 minute presentation before three judges, an enthusiastic audience of parents, and peers.

Similar to a football half-time routine, performances are judged on music presentation, difficulty of marching, showmanship and general effect. Judges award a rating in each category and these three ratings are combined to produce the final ranking. Awarded on a scale of 1 through 5, Chelsea's number 1 ranking represents an outstanding performance.

This was the high school's 11th year of competition and the band has succeeded in bringing home number 1 rankings each time. Not one to stand on past laurels, band director Bill Gourley explains that members of the band challenge themselves by constantly increasing the difficulty levels of music and formation drills. At this year's competition, among the several groups performing for Chelsea, none had received a ranking above number 2. An excited cheer arose from the crowd of Chelsea supporters, estimated at more than 50 people, as parents, friends, and alumni were informed of the number 1 ranking.

Gourley is in the unusual position of seeing the performance levels of many Michigan school music groups. He is a state judge for marching bands in the fall and orchestra and symphony bands during later competitions. His pride goes beyond the high school band's quality performances. Because of the music department's emphasis on developing personal responsibility and leadership in each student, Chelsea had the only band among the 15 in which the director does not participate during competition performances.

Drum major, Jeremy Guenther organizes, inspects, and oversees warm-ups not only on regular Friday practices, but during performances. Success is heavily dependent on his leadership ability, and on the personal sense of responsibility of each band member to co-operate in an effort to produce a quality presentation.

Gourley credits the high level of talent to the dedication and unity of the four teachers who make up the academic music department in Chelsea's middle and high schools. These four teachers oversee the instrumental and vocal education of one-third of the students in high school (235 students) and 60 percent of the students at Beach Middle school (402 students). This school year a total of 637 students participate in the two schools and the numbers increase dramatically each year.

Currently 24 sections (classes) of music are taught at both schools. The four teachers prepare for, practice with, and instruct one orchestra (next year there will be two), one choir, and three bands at the high school. At Beach there are two bands, two orchestras and one choir for seventh and eighth graders as well as 14 sections in general music, orchestral, and band instruction for the sixth grade students. These students participate in more than 100 performances a year, according to Gourley, which consists of festivals, parades, concerts, solo and ensemble groups, and competitions. Students on all skill levels have equal opportunity and encouragement to participate. There are also 4 extracurricular vocal and instrumental music groups offered by these teachers.

The four teachers of the school music department say the intensity of this program is both exciting and exhausting. The Chelsea School District manages without the assistants and a co-ordinator that other local school districts take for granted. Parents and alumni volunteers provide some support, but the bulk of the responsibility for maintaining and improving the existing high level of learning and performance falls on these teachers, the commitment of the students, and the support of their families. Gourley says that this comprehensive program in academic music is offered by no other school district of this size and that his claim is supported by statistics at the Michigan Department of Education.

Competition is keen for music students from Chelsea's orchestra and band programs and their many awards over the years have placed them in high esteem among peers and instructors. Despite the level of accomplishment, citizens in the Chelsea area are only just beginning to realize the tremendous scope of the program and add their support to the district's music classes.

Another important aspect in the Chelsea marching band presentation is the Color Guard. Gretchen Knutsen and Richelle Jones co-captain the group. Their duties include development of choreography, giving instructions, and over-seeing frequent practices under the supervision of Phil Jones. Matching the level of performance produced by the band, the color guard exhibits routines described by Gourley as being "way beyond university productions." Using ballet, jazz, and modern dance elements, the group routinely dazzles audiences with difficult, precision movements incorporating flags, banners, tubes and other props coordinated exactly to the music. Critical attention is given to the color guard during competition judging and Gourley sees this Chelsea group as an indispensable enhancement to the total presentation.

Throughout the postwar era, U.S. manufacturing productivity has been growing more slowly than that of its chief trading competitors, according to the U.S. Labor Department publication, "Workforce 2000." Between 1950 and 1983, output per hour of U.S. Workers increased by 129 percent. Canadian workers' productivity rose by 215 percent during the same period; France and West German output increased by 458 and 508 percent, while Japanese workers increased their output per hour by 1,824 percent.

FACTS ABOUT BAD BREATH

Q: I have chronic bad breath and nothing I do seems to help. What causes bad breath anyway?

A: The same bacteria that cause decay and gum disease also cause bad breath! As most of us know, one of the best ways to avoid bad breath is to brush and floss regularly and thoroughly. Still, just about everybody suffers an occasional period of bad breath. Sometimes it's just a temporary condition—caused by smoking or eating strong smelling foods like onions or garlic. (Some food odors even get into your bloodstream and persist for a day or two after you've consumed the food.)

Each of us has a slightly different make-up of bacterial colonies in our mouth and these can produce varying degrees of "halitosis" or bad breath. Certain dental appliances and extensive crown and bridge work can increase plaque retention and bad breath. Another common problem is "morning breath"—the stale odor and sour taste that builds up overnight because of decreased salivation while we're asleep. Head colds and sinus infections can also cause stale-smelling breath, as can certain medications and periodontal disease. And, for those of us who diet often "hunger" breath can be caused by stomach acids that affect the breath when no food is consumed for a longer than normal time period.

Most of these problems can be solved by good oral hygiene but chronic bad breath could be a sign of a systemic disorder such as diabetes. Certain toothpastes and mouthrinses are better than others at reducing plaque... (bacteria) levels and your dentist may recommend one of these.

In other news, the board has tentatively approved conducting a telephone survey to find out what kind of bond issue voters are willing to support.

The district's recent $23.75 million bond proposal for building and renovations district-wide was overwhelmingly rejected by voters in September.

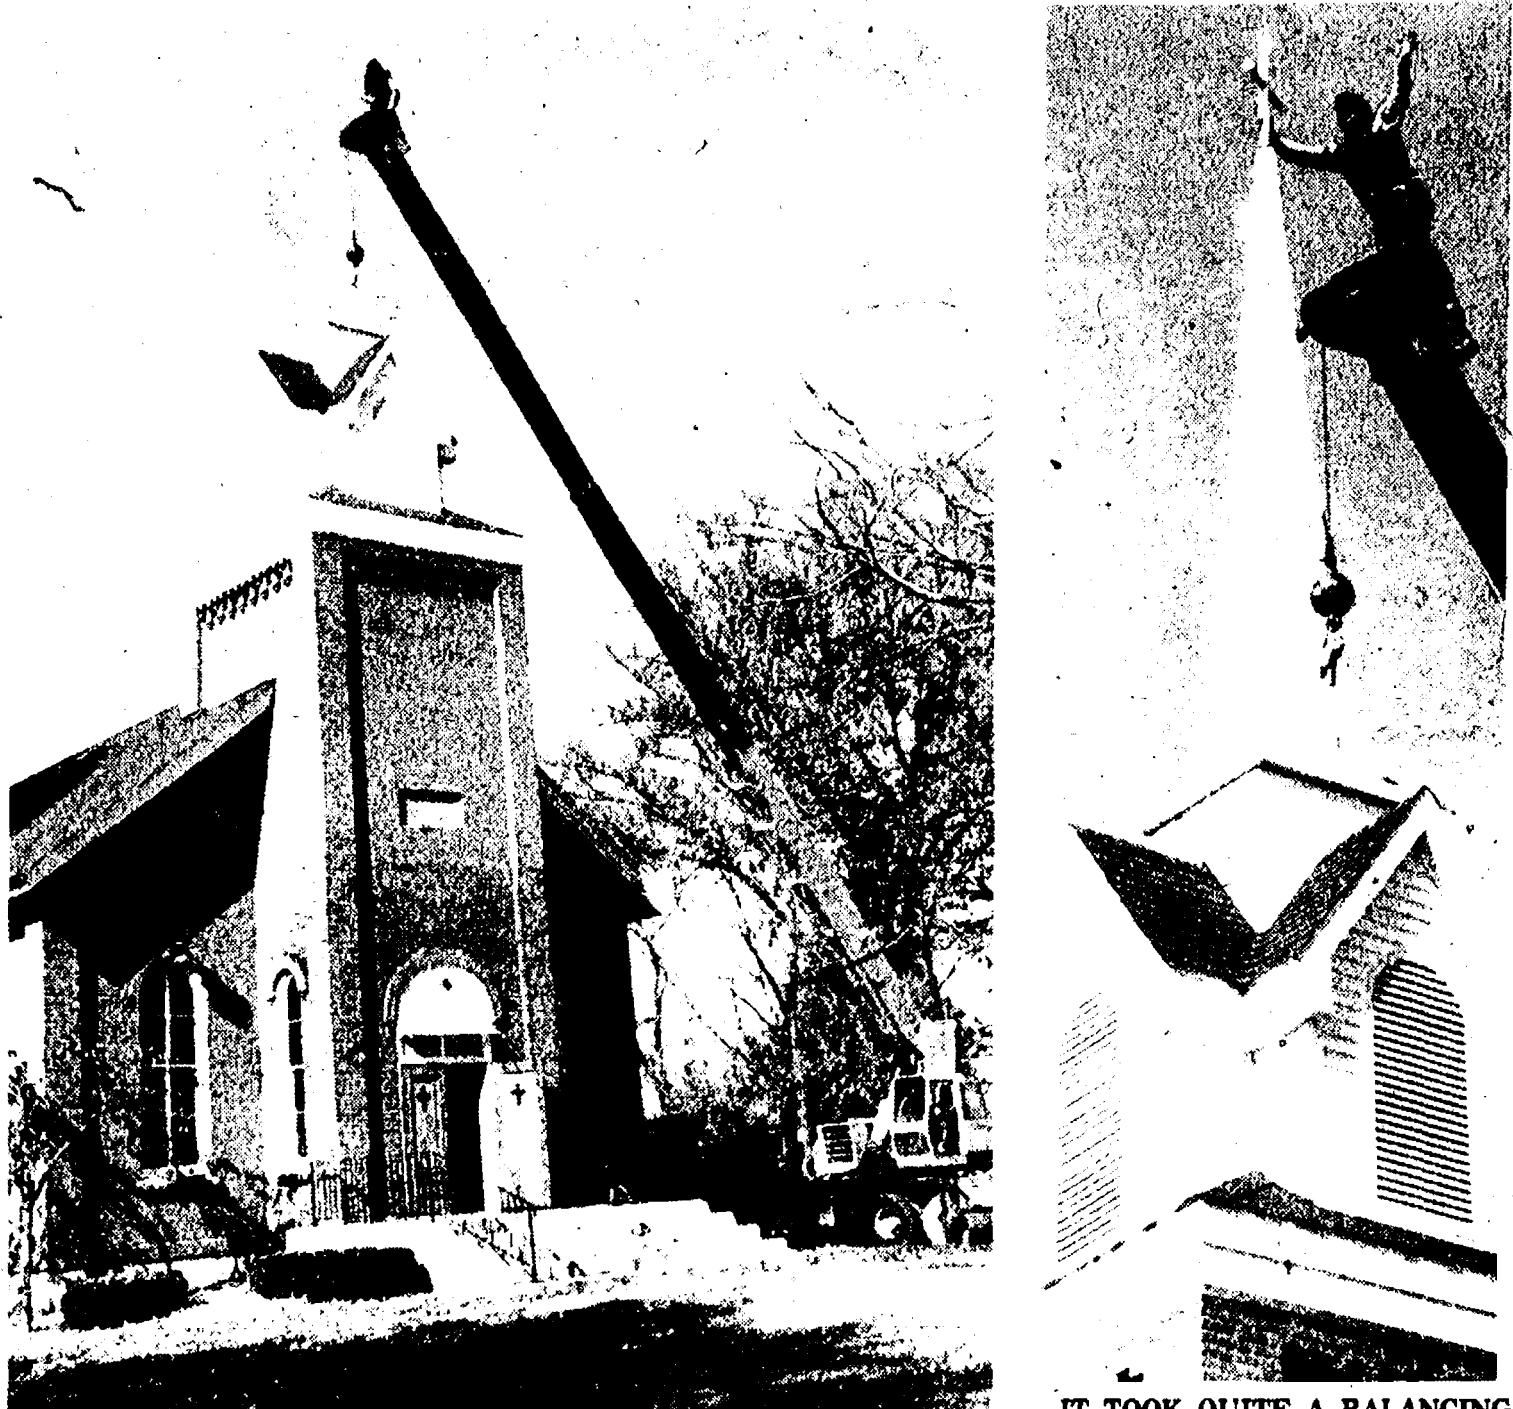

Survey questions would be designed by Jackie Tracy, director of community education, Henry DeYoung, director of special education, and Laurie Bissell, curriculum director.

The actual survey, to about 200 people who voted in the recent election, would be conducted by school district personnel. Results would be tabulated on district computers.

Manchester Man Promoted in Marines

Marine Pfc. Jonathan C. Woodard, son of Karen V. Woodard of 600 E. Duncan St., Manchester, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at Navy and Marine Corps Intelligence Training Center, Dam Neck, Virginia Beach, Va.

The 1990 graduate of Manchester High school joined the Marine Corps in March 1991.

STEEPLE was replaced at the Waterloo Village United Methodist church last Wednesday. The old steeple was struck by lightning and burned earlier this year.

CHS Color Guard Wins EMU Flag Competition

Chelsea's Marching Band Color Guard participated in the eighth annual Eastern Michigan Flag competition held on Oct. 11. The competition is sponsored by EMU in conjunction with their Band Day activities.

Traditionally, thirty-plus bands attend the band day activities and many of the bands' flag corps compete for honor of performing at the band day half-time show.

Chelsea's Color Guard, led by Richelle Jones and Gretchen Knutsen, captured the first-place title for the fifth time in the eight-year history of the competition. The other three years Chelsea placed second. In fact, the Chelsea-Flag Corps is the most consistent top placing corps at the competition.

Members of the guard have been busy rehearsing every morning at 7, under the watchful eye of Phil Jones. The routines are completely choreographed and taught by juniors Gretchen and Richelle. They incorporate many dance steps and a wide variety of extra equipment worked in their routines. It is not unusual for a flag member to operate not only a flag but a small swing flag, and a baton-like tube in the course of a routine. Chelsea's flags have led the innovation in this field. No other corps has incorporated the many equipment changes and dance. These compound the difficulty of exact performance that is required to win these events.

While performing their routine, the Chelsea girls were cheered on many times by the excited participants as they watched Chelsea. The performance concluded with a standing ovation by the other competing guards, for the Chelsea guard. The words "awesome" and "great" were used by other groups to describe Chelsea's performance.

During the half-time massed band performance, the Chelsea Flags were named winners of the competition. They rushed forward to perform their routine to "Gimme Some Lovin'" as the bands played.

IT TOOK QUITE A BALANCING act for a worker to screw a cross into the top of a new steeple at the Waterloo Village Methodist church last week. The man was lifted on the boom truck to the top of the steeple where he screwed the cross on by hand.

Deer-Car Crashes Increasing in Fall

Motorists, beware! Since the opening of the bow-and-arrow season, deer are appearing on roadways in western Washtenaw county in ever-increasing numbers, and their appearances seem irrespective of times, according to the multitude of reports given deputies at the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Gary Alan Wonders of Chelsea told deputy Skidmore he was traveling southbound on Werkner Rd., south of Waterloo Rd., about 8 p.m. Oct. 5, when a deer ran suddenly across the road.

He was unable to avoid striking the animal.

Deputy Carl Strom filed a "live-stock kill" report after Dexter area farmer Carl Lesser explained he discovered a dead breeding ewe and one dead feeder lamb in his fields, and thought attacks on the sheep took place between Oct. 12 and Oct. 15.

Strom explained both animals sustained bites to the face and chest areas.

About 9:45 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15, Karen Marie Dixon, a resident of N. Lima Center Rd., was driving on Trinkle Rd., west of the Fletcher Rd. intersection, when a deer ran in front of her automobile.

According to a report filed by deputy Harry Valentine, she was unable to avoid hitting and killing the deer.

Deputy Jack Carrier filed a report on a crash resulting from a deer's sudden appearance on Zeeb Rd., south of W. Liberty, at 11:15 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15.

The deer ran into the front of a vehicle driven by James Ray Phillips, causing him to lose control and go off the road, striking a Michigan Bell pole.

resulted in serious injury to a passenger in the auto driven by George Vollrath Lemay of Jackson Rd.

According to a report filed by deputy Skidmore, the Lemay auto and a large truck driven by an Indiana resident were both traveling westbound on the highway.

The truck driver apparently attempted to change lanes, struck the left rear of the passenger car, which then spun around, across the median, and flipped onto its top.

The car's driver was reported with injuries, but his passenger, Sylvia Lemay, evidently sustained more serious injuries in the crash.

The injured were transported from the scene to University of Michigan Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

The truck driver was issued a citation for failing to use due care and caution.

Freer Rd. Crash

Five victims were transported from the site of a three-vehicle crash reported on Freer Rd., north of Old US-12, at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 9.

Deputy Skidmore was dispatched to investigate the crash.

Two of the three vehicles had stopped for a stop sign, but one driven by Chelsea area motorist Jason Alan Schwartzberger failed to stop and hit one of the other two, which in turn, crashed into the third car.

Injured were Ann Arbor motorist Dana Lynn Harden, driver of the middle vehicle, and three passengers who rode with her, Wendy Allan, Cathryn Ann McAlister and Melissa Leah Zirkle.

Erin Michael Hodge was the fifth injured person.

He was a passenger in the front vehicle of the three-car line-up.

The injured were taken to Chelsea Community Hospital by Huron Valley Ambulance.

COUNTRY EXPRESSIONS 4-H GROUP sponsored a mini-fair at Westgate Shopping Center on Friday, Oct. 4, designed to promote 4-H activities in the city and the country.

VISITORS to the Country Expressions 4-H mini-fair at Westgate Shopping Center check over displays inside the 30' by 60' tent.

4-H Group Sponsors Mini-Fair Promotion

Country Expressions, a Washtenaw county 4-H group held its monthly meeting Monday, Oct. 14. The main focus of the meeting was a recap of its very successful 4-H promotional event held on Oct. 4 in Ann Arbor.

Country Expressions, a recently formed local club, boasts a membership of 70 young people. In an effort to promote 4-H during National 4-H Week and demonstrate that 4-H belongs in the city as well as the country, the club sponsored a mini-fair, replete with animals from both the city and country, and a display of completed projects and crafts made by club members.

Visitors to the 30x60 foot tent were able to participate in craft-making events, watch demonstrations by club members, spin the wheel of fortune, participate in a drawing of craft items made by club members, or eat caramel apples prepared by club members. Along with apples and cider, there was the cupcake walk and face painting.

Approximately 450 people visited during the six-hour event, and they left with a better knowledge and understanding of 4-H and an appreciation of the benefits that can be derived by young people active in 4-H.

Country Expressions meeting adjourned, but not before a hayride date was set and plans made for winter projects. (Look for us again next year?)

P.A. 116 Funding Bill Waiting for Governor's Signature

Legislation to fund the Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act (P.A. 116) has passed the state House and Senate and is awaiting Gov. Engler's signature, according to Ron Nelson, Legislative Counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. The bill funds the administration of P.A. 116 from landowner paid-back portions of credits received during the past seven years of the program.

Nelson said that in a very tight budget year, using the credits for administrative funding of P.A. 116 frees up general fund dollars for other programs. "The legislation has several important safeguards to protect the credit fund and the P.A. 116 program," he said, "including a $2 million floor, a four-year sunset provision and a $600,000 cap on annual withdrawals. If the fund should be drawn down to $2 million, then the funding for the program would revert back to the general fund."

Substantial Growth Forecast for Chelsea Area

Chelsea-area population will grow steadily and substantially through the year 2010, according to a development forecast by the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments and the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission.

According to the report, Village of Chelsea will grow to about 3,912 residents by 2010, a rise of 196 people, or 5.3 percent, over the 1990 U.S. Census Bureau count.

That projected growth, however, is minuscule compared to projected growth in Sylvan, Lyndon, Lima and Dexter townships.

The report says Dexter township will gain 1,584 residents to a total of 5,888, a rise of 35.9 percent; Lima township will grow by 1,166 residents to a total of 3,402, an increase of 52.1 percent; Lyndon township will grow by 808 residents to a total of 2,656, a 43.7 percent rise; and Sylvan township will grow by 579 residents to a total of 2,773 or a 28.4 percent increase.

That's an over-all population growth of 4,107 people or 28 percent. Area population would rise to 18,435.

If forecast predictions come true, the expansion over the next 18 years would be a dramatic change from the 1980-90 decade. During that decade, the area grew by only 243 residents over-all as the village lost 100 residents and Lyndon township lost 209 residents.

The report indicates this area will grow faster than the county in general, which is projected to grow 23.1 percent or 65,619 people.

Slightly more than half the local growth here will occur by the end of the century, when the population is projected to be 16,392, or a rise of 2,064 people.

The report also indicates that the number of households in each area will rise faster than the population, which means the size of each household will shrink.

The size of the average household will drop anywhere from 9.5 percent to 14.1 percent, depending on the area.

Job growth is also projected for the area, ranging from five percent in Sylvan township to 48.1 percent in Dexter township. The forecast says that 763 jobs will be created in the village and four townships by 2010.

The report contained no information as to how the statistics were formulated.

Manchester Man Killed in Crash

An 18-year-old Manchester man was killed early Thursday morning in a one-car crash on Austin Rd.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Eric Scott Fillyaw, 9719 Queens Dr., was west-bound on Austin Rd. at 2:45 a.m. at a high rate of speed when he failed to negotiate a right-hand curve in the road. The vehicle left the road, spun clockwise, and hit a utility pole broadside, tearing the 1991 Ford Mustang in half. The front half went airborne and came to rest on the south side of the road, while the rear half went back across the road.

Fillyaw was dead at the scene, still strapped into his seat, police said.

Police said Fillyaw was apparently going home from a meeting he attended at Eastern Michigan University.

The crash is still under investigation.

Kiwanis Club Halloween Party Slated

On Thursday, Oct. 31, the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea will hold their annual Halloween Party in the Municipal Parking Lot. Costume judging will begin at 6:10 p.m., following the community trick or treat period.

Six age groups will be judged. They are 0-3, 4-5, 6-7, 8-9, 10-11, and 12 and older. Judges will be selecting 1st, 2nd, 3rd place and Honorable Mention winners for both "Most Original" and "Best Looking" categories. Winners will receive ribbons and have their pictures taken by The Chelsea Standard. Each participant will receive a participation ribbon. Apple cider and donuts will be served by the Kiwanis Club.

STREETSCAPE WORK began on the west side of Main St. last week, the final major area that has yet to turn up and replaced by paver blocks. Here, workers lay forms in front of the Chelsea 14th District Courthouse.

WORKERS FOUND an unanticipated storm sewer pipe down the east side of Main St. when Merkel's Home Furnishings had its flooding problems a couple of weeks ago. The sewer line didn't show up on any village maps. Early this week, workers installed a manhole at Main St. and E. Middle St. to gain access to the sewer line.

Poljan Profiled In Softball Magazine

Chelsea High school teacher and softball coach Amy Poljan is profiled in the September edition of Women's Fast Pitch Magazine in a column called "Mom's Corner" by Bonnie Redmer.

The highly complimentary column recounts Poljan's softball career as Amy Unterbrink, both here and at Indiana University, where she was an All-American. It also details how she juggles a career, marriage, child, and coaching responsibilities, with a heavy emphasis on her life as a coach and how she approaches it.

"Softball has been a positive influence on my life," Poljan says in the story.

"One of the things that I always got out of softball was that it was the way I wanted to live my life. My objective is to help build and encourage the players to be good people."

Department of Agriculture chemists have whipped up their own brand of pasta to kill weeds and fungi. The scientists use semolina flour to make a granular dough. The dough entraps natural pest controls like nematodes so they can be effectively applied to fields.

Indians Manhandle Dogs In Second Half To Win Share of League Title

Chelsea Bulldogs held a hard-fought 3-0 half-time advantage over the Southeastern Conference leading Tecumseh Indians in Tecumseh last Friday.

However, the rest of the game amounted to a Tecumseh stampede for the goal line as the Indians continued their league domination with a 29-3 victory. The win earned the Indians a share of the Southeastern Conference title. A win this week over Dexter would clinch the school's first-ever SEC football championship.

Tim Wescott's 27-yard field goal on the last play of the first half gave Chelsea their short-lived lead. Tom Poulter's interception at midfield, followed by a nine-yard pass to running back Ben Hurst and a 29-yard strike from quarterback Colby Skelton to Poulter set up a field goal try from the nine.

Neither team could muster much of an offense during the first half as each team's defense dominated. Each team had six possessions and, other than the field goal drive, the closest either team came to scoring was Chelsea's penetration to the Tecumseh 28, where they were stopped on fourth down by a few inches.

The Indians took the second-half kick-off and that's where any thoughts of an even game vanished.

Tecumseh drove 69 yards on eight running plays and scored on Jason Tuberville's 19-yard scamper down the left sidelines. A fake extra point turned into a two-point pass to give the Indians an 8-3 lead.

The Indians went on to score on each of their next three possessions. By the 9:35 mark of the fourth quarter, their scoring was done.

"It was a combination of their personnel being a factor over us in the long run and the fact they turned up their level of play about two notches," said assistant head coach Roger Cox of Tecumseh's second-half turnaround.

"It was a case of an undefeated team playing with the intensity of a team trying to stay on top. There were a lot of mismatches physically. We were proud of the way we overcame those mismatches in the first half, but were disappointed in the second half."

After the first Tecumseh touchdown, the Chelsea offense couldn't come up with a first down on each of their next two possessions.

It took the Indians four plays to drive 44 yards for their second touchdown, a four-yard run by Tuberville. After Hurst's second punt of the half, the Indians drove 63 yards on eight plays and scored on Jason Kambas' 18-yard run.

An interception deep in Chelsea territory set up the final score of the evening, a 21-yard run by Kambas.

Chelsea accumulated 142 yards total offense, 90 on the ground and 52 on three passes by Skelton. Hurst gained 58 yards on 16 plays, Adam Taylor picked up 13 yards on six carries, and Skelton gained 19 yards on 13 carries.

Two passes went to Poulter for 43 yards, and the other went to Hurst.

"The strength of Tecumseh is their defense and they close on the ball extremely quickly, which is the sign of a good defensive team," Cox said.

On the other hand, Tecumseh ran for 240 yards and passed for 73 more. Chelsea had five first downs to Tecumseh's 13.

The Bulldogs are 4-3 over-all and 2-3 in the SEC.

Chelsea hosts the Pinckney Pirates in the final home game and final conference game of the season this Friday.

The winner finishes the league 3-3 and the loser ends 2-4.

Two of Pinckney's losses were to Fowlerville and Woodhaven, both undefeated at the time.

"It should be a good, tight game," Cox said.

"Both teams will play with a sense of urgency not to finish 2-4 in the league."

Dogs Cagers Take Two on the Chin

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity basketball team dropped games to Pinckney and Saline last week to close out the first half of Southeastern Conference action.

The Bulldogs lost Tuesday at Pinckney, 52-18.

"Pinckney is a very good team, but we helped them out quite a bit," said Chelsea coach Dave Wojcik.

Chelsea had 30 turnovers for the game and hit no field goals in the first half.

Wojcik credited a tough Pinckney man-to-man defense, as well as his team's failure to execute its offense, as the two primary factors in the game.

Chelsea scorers included Heather McConeghy 9, Kate Steele 4, Christine Burg 2, Nicki Piasecki 1, Jackie Crawford 1, and Jessica Flintoft 1.

Although Saline had no problem with the Bulldogs in their 62-39 victory, Wojcik said he was much happier with his team's performance.

"I thought we played real well," he said.

"We handled their press and played pretty well offensively."

Chelsea was outscored in three of the four periods.

Bulldogs scorers were Burg 20, Ginny Flannery 9, McConeghy 5, Piasecki 3, and Steele 2.

Chelsea is 3-11 over-all and 1-5 in the SEC.

JV Cagers Lose to Pirates But Edge Saline in SEC

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team lost to the Pinckney Pirates 33-31 but beat the Saline Hornets 34-31 in action last week.

In Tuesday's contest against the Pirates, Chelsea was ahead 18-12 at half-time and 25-23 at the end of the third quarter but couldn't hold on. The Bulldogs missed a 15-foot jumper with 12 seconds left to tie.

Coach Paul Terpstra and 30 turnovers, as well as problems handling the Pirates' zone press in the second half, caused most of the problems.

Erin Schiller led Chelsea with 10 points. Other scorers included Charlotte Ziegler 5, Laura Carty 4, Elizabeth McLaughlin 4, Laura Hodgson 2, Lindsay Johnson 2, Tracy Patrick 2, and Lori Ritter 2.

In Thursday's home game with Saline, Chelsea jumped out to an 11-4 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 21-13 half-time lead. Saline edged close in the fourth quarter as the Bulldogs missed their shots from the field and the free throw line. Eventually Saline tied the game at 31, before Schiller hit a basket and Ritter sank a free throw.

Schiller had 16 points and 10 rebounds to lead Chelsea. Other scorers included Ziegler 7, Johnson 6, Carty 4, and Ritter 1.

Chelsea has a 6-7 over-all record and 3-3 mark in the Southeastern Conference.

White Named MVP Golfer

Chris White was named the Most Valuable Player on the Chelsea Bulldogs golf team this fall.

Other honors at last Tuesday night's awards dinner at Inverness Country Club went to David Seitz, most improved, Sean Graflund, most dedicated golfer, Adam Beauchamp, most valuable freshman, and Matt Jachalke, coach's award.

A CHELSEA DEFENDER breaks up this pass on a nice play during Friday's Southeastern Conference game with Tecumseh. The Chelsea defense played an outstanding first half, but couldn't handle the Indians in the second half.

7th Grade Cagers Rally By Dexter

Beach Middle school seventh grade basketball team defeated Dexter 25-16 but lost to Saline 14-10 in action last week.

The Dexter game was tied at 14-14 after three quarters. In the fourth quarter, Jamelle Pierson and Melissa Carty each hit two outside shots to open up a Chelsea lead.

Bekah Knight, and Carrie Williams had their best efforts of the season, said coach Ann Schaffner. Michelle Lucas, Chrissy Hodgson, and Carrie Ashendel combined for 24 rebounds, and Pierson contributed 16 steals and four points.

Other scorers included Melissa Carty 6, Lucas 4, Knight 3, Jamie Roush 2, Williams 2, Hodgson 2, and Ashendel 2.

In the loss to Saline, Chelsea had just three field goals for the game.

"Our defense has improved greatly since our season opener with Saline, but this time we simply could not score," Schaffner said.

Roush, Kasie Ruhlig, and Hodgson each had three points. Amy Redding hit a free throw. Lucas had a team-high 10 rebounds. Hodgson had four blocked shots.

Girl Runners Finish SEC Season at 6-0

Chelsea Bulldogs girls cross country team completed an undefeated Southeastern Conference dual meet season with victories over Tecumseh and Pinckney last week.

The girls were scheduled to run last night in the Southeastern Conference meet to determine the final champion.

It was the third consecutive undefeated dual-meet season for the Bulldogs and their 22nd consecutive SEC victory.

Junior Lisa Monti set a Tecumseh course record last Tuesday as she took first place in 18:58, breaking the old mark of 19:32 by 34 seconds. Tecumseh's Nicole Randolph also broke the old record while placing second in 19:26.

Monti and Randolph kept a close pace for about two miles before Monti started to pull away.

Tecumseh, the state's 14th-ranked team, was no match for Chelsea, however, as the Bulldogs won 21-38.

"It was a cold, windy day but we came up with a fine effort to defeat a strong Tecumseh team," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

Senior Charity Allen ran her season-best race at 20:57 and is improving daily as she normally does this time of year, Clarke said. Robin Phelps had another personal record at 20:46 to finish as Chelsea's fifth runner.

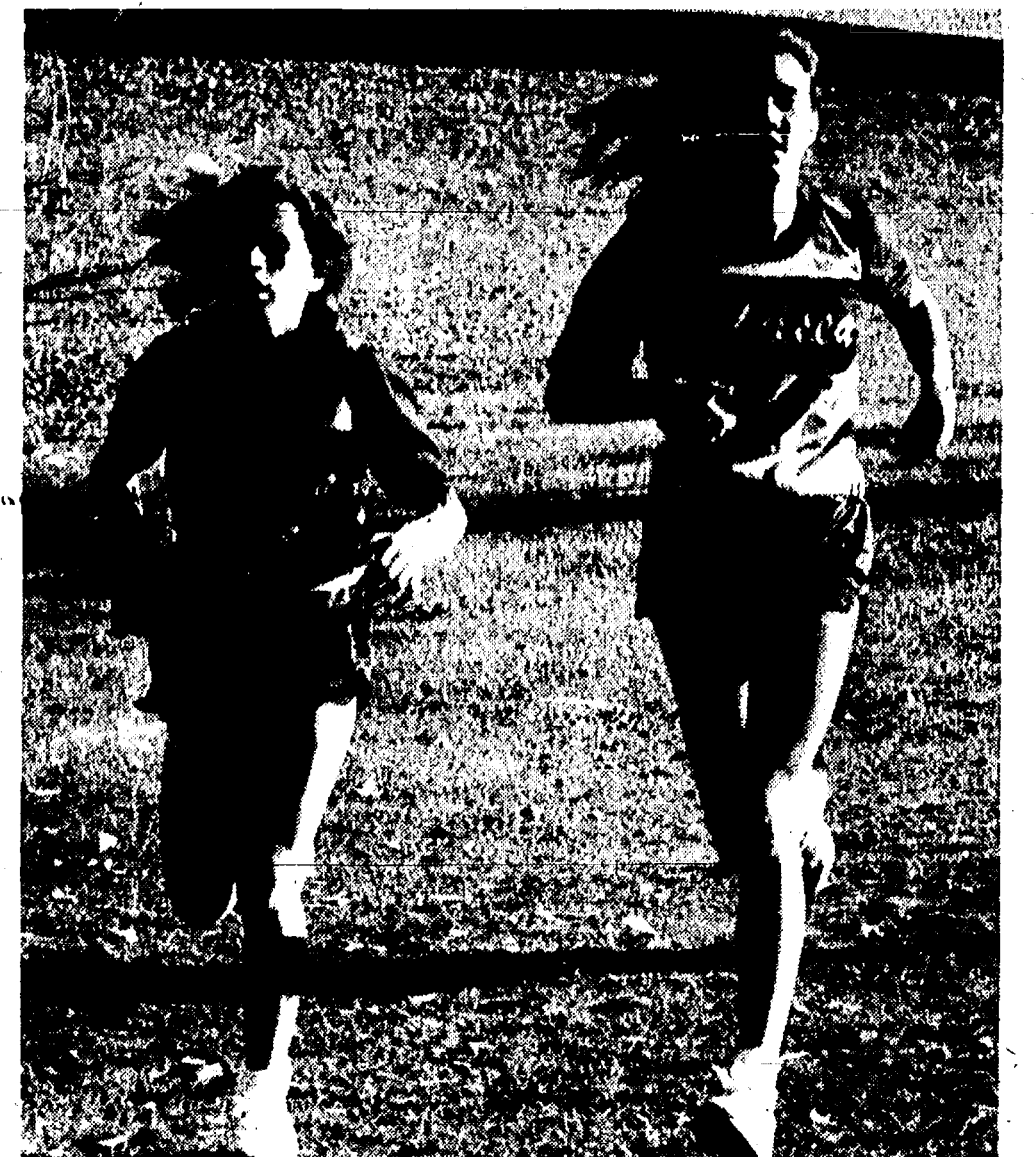

Chelsea runners behind Monti were 3. Beth Bell, 20:31; 4. Val Bullock, 20:35; 6. Sarah Brosnan, 20:46; 7. Phelps, 20:46; 9. Allen, 20:57; 10. Beth Williams, 21:18; 11. Tracey Wales, 21:34; 12. Molly Griebel, 22:01; 13. Jessica Holton, 22:20; 15. Carmen Smith, 22:40; 16. Lauren Sparaco, 22:43; 17. Sarah Henry, 23:02; 19. Laura Paton, 23:35; 20. Erika Leiter, 24:01; 22. Linda Schaffer, 24:17; 23. Keri Kentala, 24:49; 25. Emily Anderson, 25:20.

Chelsea won Thursday's run at Inverness Golf Course against the Indians, 15-50. Only four Indian runners turned out and their highest finish was 13th place.

"Our goal was to run together easily and still win," Clarke said.

"Now we look forward to the regional meet next week-end."

Chelsea results included 1. Monti, 19:50; 2. Bell, 20:33; 3. Phelps, 21:06; 4. Brosnan, 21:13; 5. Wales, 21:22; 6. Williams, 22:13; 7. Holton, 22:21; 8. Griebel, 22:21; 9. Bullock, 22:41; 10. Henry, 22:44; 11. Smith, 22:53; 12. Allen, 22:56; 14. Paton, 23:40; 15. Sparaco, 23:48; 16. Leiter, 24:13; 17. Anderson, 24:15; 18. Schaffer, 24:39.

JUNIORS Val Bullock, left, and Lisa Monti set the early tempo for Chelsea in the final Southeastern Conference meet with Pinckney last Thursday at Inverness Golf Course. It was an easy win for Chelsea, who took the top 13 places. Monti and Bullock will be two of Chelsea's top runners in the regional meet this Saturday in Battle Creek.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

In the best of circumstances, Chelsea sophomore Tim Wescott looks out of place on a varsity football field. Last Friday at Tecumseh, he was just plain hard to find.

That's no slight to our local defensive back, who pound for pound may be the toughest hitter and have more guts than any football player in the area. Those Tecumseh boys were huge, quick and powerful. And as the game wore on, they got even bigger, meaner, and more aggressive, the way the plant Audrey II did in The Little Shop of Horrors. "Feed me, feed me," the Tecumseh defense said, seeming to feast on what little offensive success the Bulldogs had at the end of the first half. Eventually there was no escape.

It's been that way all season for the Indians, who are undefeated and could have some fun in the post-season. While their offense is more than adequate, their defense is frightening. Virtually no weaknesses, although a mobile quarterback with a strong arm—say Rodney Peete—could cause problems, assuming he has some receivers.

I can't recall a team in the SEC that has impressed me as much as the Indians, even though Chelsea was actually ahead at half-time, 3-0, thanks to a 25-yard field goal by Wescott. They may not have been the best SEC team I've seen in seven seasons. But their domination of the Bulldogs in the second half was so complete, it looked like a varsity team playing a JV squad. Or maybe Michigan versus Northwestern.

Make no mistake, Chelsea has a pretty decent team. It sounds almost ridiculous to write this, but even though the Bulldogs may end up near the bottom in the league standings, I believe they are the second best team in the league. They would beat Saline and Milan if they could play them again.

But they could play Tecumseh 10 times and would probably lose 10 times. Maybe it was the Indians who looked out of place Friday night. They should be playing in a class A league.

This is the week the real fun starts for cross country teams. The regionals are this Saturday in Battle Creek. Next week the state meet will be held in Big Rapids.

Chelsea's girls stand an excellent chance at winning their second state title in three years. Every girl is faster this year than she was last year when the Bulldogs finished fifth. And several members of the state championship team two years ago wouldn't even make the top seven of this year's squad. Coach Pat Clarke's team has talent and unbelievable depth. The only questions are whether they have the dedication and drive (I have no doubt they do), and can stay healthy.

This week may be the toughest test of all for the girls, who will have several of the top five in their regional, including number two Jackson Lumen Christi. Top three teams in the regionals go to the state. It's very possible the number two or even number three finisher in this regional could wind up the state champ.

For us long-suffering Atlanta Braves fans, this has been a season of dreams, even though by the time this appears in your mailbox they may be eliminated from the World Series. As far as I'm concerned, though, the series is anticlimactic compared to the final week of the regular season when the Braves overtook those pesky Los Angeles Dodgers for the division title.

Being a long-time Braves fan, though, I am a little embarrassed by their fans' behavior, although CBS commentator Jack Buck called it the "most refreshing sight" in baseball. Every home game looks like Halloween, with all the feathers and warpaint. The fans wave thousands of tomahawks in unison as they chant. Owner Ted Turner and his girlfriend Jane Fonda, as well as former President Jimmy Carter have been caught in the act.

And the network has virtually ignored the protests by Native Americans, who claim it's all so demeaning to their proud heritage. It's an extension of the Eastern Michigan University logo controversy.

Whether you agree with the protests or not, take this little test then see what you think.

Take Tecumseh (Indians), Atlanta (Braves), Washington (Redskins), drop off the nickname and replace it with the name of any other ethnic group, but preferably not the socially correct one. How does Atlanta Negroes sound, for instance? Strange, if not insulting? Then imagine 50,000 fans wearing grass skirts, carrying spears, and wearing their hair rolled in bones.

Now what do you think?

Boy Runners Finish SEC Season With Best Record Since 1987

Chelsea Bulldogs boys cross country team lost to the Tecumseh Indians last Tuesday before beating the Pinckney Pirates at home on Thursday. They finished the Southeastern Conference dual-meet season at 3-3 and were scheduled to run in last night's SEC meet to determine the final champion. Their SEC mark was their best since 1987.

Chelsea had to run both meets without top runner Ryan Schultz, who was out with a badly-sprained ankle.

Schultz's absence possibly made the difference in the Tecumseh meet as he likely would have finished near the top.

"Tecumseh ran their best race of the season," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"If we had had Ryan it would have been very close, but Tecumseh did run exceptionally well."

Score was Tecumseh 23, Chelsea 32.

Dan Zatkovich finished first for Chelsea and third over-all in 17:26. Chelsea runners behind him were 5. Chad Brown, 17:37; 7. Tobin Strong, 18:01; 8. Mike Reese, 18:11; 9. Scott Hawley, 18:15; 11. J.J. Hanke, 18:46; 12. Chris Leatham, 18:59; 13. Brian Atlee, 19:24; 14. Rob Jaques, 19:32; 15. Hans Kemnitz, 19:37; 16. Jim Bennett, 19:50; 17. Jim Bergman, 19:51; 20. David Sayer, 20:08; 21. Josh Metzler, 20:16; 22. Nick Kramer, 20:19; 23. Mike Kennedy, 20:23; 24. Kevin Kolodica, 20:42; 25. Gabe White, 20:54; 28. Dan Alber, 24:58; 29. Mike Peterson, 25:02.

"Tobin Strong ran one of his best races," Clarke said. "He is improving daily which should help us tremendously in the post-season. Scott Hawley also ran a fine race and J.J. Hanke, Chris Leatham, and Jim Bennett all set personal records. We are so young yet we have come so far that it is encouraging, even though we may lose."

The Bulldogs topped Pinckney 23-36 as Brown and Zatkovich finished 1-2 and set personal records.

Chelsea results included 1. Brown, 17:13; 2. Zatkovich, 17:28; 5. Reese, 17:44; 7. Strong, 18:17; 8. Hawley, 18:18; 9. Jaques, 18:29; 10. Hanke, 18:34; 13. Leatham, 19:07; 14. Bergman, 19:17; 16. Kolodica, 19:34; 17. Kemnitz, 19:35; 19. White, 19:41; 22. Bennett, 20:18; 23. Metzler, 20:19; 24. Atlee, 20:21; 25. Kennedy, 20:35; 26. Kramer, 21:13; 28. Schiller, 21:41; 29. Alber, 22:27; 32. Peterson, 25:11. Clarke said Reese, Strong, and Bits of teak wood more than 2,000 years old have been found in Indian caves.

Dog Golfers Third In SEC Tourney

Chelsea Bulldogs golf team finished their season last week with a third-place finish in the Southeastern Conference Tournament at the University of Michigan.

"The successes we had the previous Friday seemed to give us the confidence we needed to shoot well again," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"Our finish allowed us to move ahead of Dexter in the final league standings."

Chelsea finished fourth over-all in the SEC, behind state-ranked Saline, Tecumseh, and Pinckney, while Dexter, Milan, and Lincoln finished behind the Bulldogs.

Chelsea scores included Sean Grafiund 83, Nathan Oake 93, Nick McCalla 93, and Aaron Tanner 94.

"I was real proud of our team's effort in our important year-end tournaments," Tallman said.

"It has given us the confidence that hard work in the off-season will make us even stronger contenders next season."

JV Gridders Lose to Indians

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity football team lost to Tecumseh 6-0 last Thursday at home.

"Over-all it was our best defensive effort of the year," said Chelsea coach Lonnie Mitchell.

On the first drive of the game, Chelsea took the ball to the Tecumseh 10, when starting quarterback Dan Wehrwein suffered a knee injury. The Bulldogs couldn't score and the sequence set the tone for the game.

Tecumseh scored their lone touchdown on a five-yard interception return.

Chelsea's only other scoring drive late in the game was stopped on downs.

The Bulldogs are 4-2-1 over-all.

GREAT LAKES BANCORP

TERESA RUDNICKI posed beside a highway sign marking the town in Poland from which her grandfather immigrated to the United States some time between World War I and II.

Teresa Rudnicki Reports On Recent Tour of Poland

"LOOKING BACK ON MY TRAVELS IN POLAND"
By Teresa L. Rudnicki

Editor's Note: Teresa graduated from Chelsea High School in 1988. She is working toward a Bachelor of Science degree at Michigan State University. Her article first appeared in the Fowlerville Review.

Walking through the barns and letting the young calves suckle on my fingers, reminded me of past summers and times spent on my grandparents' farms in Livingston County. Grandpa Klein had a dairy farm on Fowlerville Rd., and Grandpa Maxwell had a family farm on Gannon Rd. These were the two summer vacation retreats for me as a kid.

Oh, I used to get in all kinds of trouble—like playing in the hay barn, chasing wild kittens and building forts. Then having to sit still while Grandma Klein patiently brushed out the dry bits of hay and straw tangled in my long, fine hair. Or, when I drove Grandpa Maxwell's tractor through the corn field, hitting the barbed-wire fence along the way.

Yet, these were also the places where my interest to study agriculture was first cultivated.

This summer, although the sites and sounds were very similar, I was six time zones away and could not understand a word the farmers had to say without the translation by our interpreter. With a group of students and professors from Michigan State University, I traveled to Poland to study international agriculture and food production systems.

We traveled close to 3,000 miles around Poland and our bus stopped at private farms, extension services, state farms, processing plants, and research institutes. During the month-long trip, we also found time to tour many cities, cultural and historic sites, and scenic areas.

The Polish people were very hospitable and friendly. We talked with them about their country's problems and strengths, and they asked us about the United States. At one hotel where we stayed, we met some children who were there for their holiday. Polish children go on holiday like American children go to camp in the summer.

One of my fellow students from Illinois gave some boys Illinois baseball caps (we never saw the boys take them off except at dinner time). To thank us they asked us to a party they were having with the rest of their group. At the party we talked to the children and their counselors. Then a few of the girls started singing "Old MacDonald" and other American songs in English. In turn we asked them to teach us some Polish songs. It was hard, but between their limited English, our almost non-existent Polish vocabulary, and a lot of hand signals we were able to learn quite a bit about each other.

On other occasions we talked to many extension agents and farmers. We were surprised at the amount of technical knowledge the Polish farmers have acquired from the West. This was especially apparent in orchards, which had many western varieties of apples, such as Spartan and McIntosh.

One private grower we visited was experimenting with different varieties of fruit and different methods of production. He was also equipped with an irrigation system and atmosphere controlled storage. However, there is a wide range in the amount of technology used on farms, about 10 percent of the farms in Poland are still worked by hand (without mechanized farm equipment).

Poland is a bit smaller than the state of New Mexico, enabling us to tour almost half of the country throughout the north, south and east. Much of the countryside is scenic, there are hills and flat lands scattered with farms and small villages similar to Michigan. One region which we visited was very different from the rest.

The Tatra mountain region in southern Poland had steep slopes and low valleys. One family we talked to in this area was a sheep herding family. The mother lived in a one-room house, with no chimney, where she smoked cheeses. Her sons and husband slept in the fields at night with their dogs, to protect the sheep from wolves. The family had lost a sheep the previous night to a wolf, but they were very generous and wanted us to try some goat's milk and gave us some cheese.

Besides sheep and goats for meat, milk, and cheese, the other main food produced in the Tatra region is wheat. This is unusual for Poland. In other regions, large amounts of potatoes and rye are produced, growing better in Poland's predominantly sandy soils which comprise 60 percent of the arable land. In fact at each meal we were served either rye bread or potatoes to accompany the pork cutlets, coldcuts, and sausages, which are also a large part of the Polish diet.

Although studying agriculture was the main reason I ventured to Poland, I was also interested in learning more about my family's history. My Grandfather Rudnicki was born in Poland, and it just so happened that our bus was passing through the town in which he was born. Tarnograd, the name of the town, is situated between the two historic cities of Zamosc and Krakow. Although I was able to stop and take pictures, I did not have much time to look around in the town. However, I learned that between World War I and World War II, the time period in which my Great-Grandfather brought his family to America, the region had a shortage of land and employment. As did many Polish immigrants, my Polish ancestors probably came to America to find employment and a home for their young families.

Today, Poland is again facing problems of unemployment. As the Polish people rid themselves of the imposed communist government and have launched into the free-market system, Polish people and businesses are having to change. Businesses and state farms, in striving to become more efficient, are cutting back employees. Also other businesses which were controlled and/or subsidized by the government are closing, causing more unemployment.

Although many of the people did not know the extent of problems and hard times they would face, they do not regret the change. When we asked them if they regretted opening their market, many laughed and/or strongly denied any regret. Also, most people were optimistic about the future of Poland.

Many of the farmers were venturing into new methods of production and marketing. For instance, we visited a seed farmer who was importing and selling western products, as well as increasing his own production. And, although these farmers were less common than the small farmer simply "riding out" the market and trying to survive, this is the new generation of farmers which will help to turn the Polish economy around.

It was with mixed feelings of sadness and homesickness that I left Poland. I was sad that I would leave behind many of the people, places and experiences which I had encountered. At the same time, I was missing my family and ready to share with them what I had learned and experienced.

I was also sad knowing that the Polish farmers have many challenges ahead of them before they achieve better living conditions. However, the Polish people reassured me with the optimism they held in their eyes and smiles when they thought about their future.

Q. How can I find a good reputable mutual fund newsletter that specializes in penny stocks?

A. The statement "penny stocks" usually is associated with highly speculative issues. I don't know of any mutual fund newsletter that specializes in penny stocks. It is very difficult to determine if there is any real value in the stocks so often referred to as penny stocks.

Some people look at a very low priced stock, say one selling for 50 cents. If it goes to a dollar they will have doubled their money. While that increase is a very small dollar amount and sounds easy to obtain, it is a big percentage amount. A stock is unlikely to go up unless it has value, so the most important thing to look at is earnings, not price. If a stock selling at 50 cents a share is earning one cent a share, it is priced very high. It is selling at 50 times earnings (50 divided 01=50). If it is earning 10 cents a share, it is selling at 5 times earnings which is a bargain.

I would advise you to put your money in one of the many mutual funds that puts its funds in good quality stocks. A reputable letter on mutual funds is published by Hulbert Financial Digest, 316 Commerce St., Alexandria, VA. 22314. I suggest that you pick one from his listing that has had a superior record for at least the past five years.

Investment Idea for Today's Investor
Community Psychiatric Centers is known as an efficient provider of psychiatric treatment. Its cost cutting has reduced the average length of stay at psychiatric hospitals to 21 days from 28 days five years ago, and has slashed per-day billings. It is an efficient operation.

Annual revenues of Community Psychiatric Centers is $415 million. Earnings predictability is good. Its fiscal year ends in August.

At the recent price of 26 1/2, the P/E ratio is 11.4 times fiscal 1992 EPS of $2.34 ($28.75 divided by 2.34=11.4). This is 71% of the historical average P/E ratio of 16.0 which means the price is reasonable.

The 52 week price range on this NYSE stock is 40 to 22. Quality is average and earnings are growing at 15% a year. The $0.36 dividend yields only 1.4%.

In 1989 the company spun off its kidney dialysis operations as not meeting its profit objectives. The company owns and operates 43 psychiatric hospitals in 17 states. It recently agreed to purchase two financially troubled concerns for $77 million, which will introduce it to the Austin, Tex. area. With its past record, it should be able to turn them into profitable operations.

We expect price appreciation from a combination of 16% annual earnings growth and a P/E ration expansion.

NEW ELECTRIC AND WATER BUILDING for the village is under construction at the village industrial park on Sibley Rd. Structural steel began appearing a couple of weeks ago. The village will move most of its operations from its North St. facility.

Golf Driving Range Proposed Opposite Proving Grounds on M-52

Chelsea-area residents Earl Heller and Bob Redding want to build a golf driving range on 20 acres opposite Chrysler Proving Grounds on M-52.

Heller, proprietor of Heller Electric Co., owns the land and Redding is a sod farmer, which makes the partnership ideal for a development that will be mostly grass.

"Bob came to me and said 'have you ever thought about a driving range for that property'," Heller said.

"At first I thought he was crazy. Then the wheat crop wasn't too good, so it seemed like a better idea."

The property is 700 feet wide, which means the range might have somewhere between 30 and 50 tees. Heller and Redding have obtained a special use permit from the Sylvan Township Planning Commission. Golf courses are a special use in agricultural districts.

The next step is for site plans to be submitted to the township, which probably won't happen until December, Heller said.

Heller said eventually he'd also like to have a miniature golf course on the site. However, the township zoning ordinance only allows those enterprises in highway-commercial districts.

"There's been a lot of interest in this driving range," Heller said. "A lot of people have spoken real positively about it. We hope to do it up real nice."

Heller said he has visited several other driving ranges and talked to the owners. All of them, Heller said, thought a driving range here would be popular.

Lioness Club Visited By Lions Members

Chelsea Lioness Club was visited by guests Lion Don Kiel, regional chairman, and Lion Dave Prohaska at the October meeting. Lion Prohaska is running for District 11-B-1 Governor for 1992-93. If elected, he will stress leadership development and membership retention.

Lionesses Margaret Murphy and Rukmini Rajagopalan handed out informational materials and gave a brief presentation describing the Chelsea Lioness Club at the Women's Groups in Washtenaw County open house held at the Ann Arbor Regency on Oct. 9.

During the month of October the Lionesses completed their first year with the M-Dot Clean Up Program. In the spring they adopted a two-mile stretch of M-52 from Sibley Rd., to Waterloo Rd., and four times a year cleaned the north- and south-bound sides of the road. Other community service included providing cupcakes for the Senior Citizen's Birthday Party held at Faith in Action.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11 at the Society Bank. The scheduled program is "Crime Wise," by Connie Lechrone.

The first federal equal pay legislation was the Equal Pay Act passed in 1963, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

WASHTENAW COUNTY SHERIFF Ron Schebil, left, discussed the new 911 emergency system, and other police matters during Monday night's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. With him is long-time club member Walt Zeeb.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Oct. 7, were Comeau, Satterthwaite, Eisenbeiser, Diesing, McCalla, Knutsen, Redding, superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Mead, Stielstra, Wescott, Stieber, assistant principal Rossi, community education director Tracy, athletic director Welton, guests.

Meeting called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Anne Comeau.

Prior to conducting the official meeting of the Board, Senator Lana Pollack presented information to the Board and the audience about the tax base sharing formula (the so-called "Robin Hood" legislation), whereby the wealth of affluent school districts would be shared with poor school districts. She also answered questions from the audience relative to alternative sources for school funding. Senator Pollack assured those in attendance that she would strive to seek a solution to the school-funding issue as it relates to property taxes.

Motion by Satterthwaite, supported by McCalla, to approve the minutes of the Sept. 23 meeting with the following correction: on page 2 under "Board of Education Information Reports," fourth line, the word "action" should read "inaction." All ayes.

Entered as an official communication was the annual audit prepared by the district's auditing firm. Assistant Superintendent Mills reported that the auditing firm made no recommendations for changes in the district's accounting or control procedures.

President Comeau indicated that Board members had received invitations to the Freedom Fund Banquet sponsored by the Willow Run-Ypsilanti Branch of the NAACP.

Assistant superintendent Mills updated the board on the State-Aid Act. He will be meeting with the Board Finance Committee and subsequently recommend areas of the budget where reductions can be made in the amount of approximately $130,000. This action is necessary because of the effects of the "Robin Hood" legislation referred to above.

Superintendent Piasecki updated the board on the progress which has been made toward the 1991-92 board goals. In addition to working on goals involving student outcomes and school improvement, the district will continue to work toward meeting facility needs and making the community aware of those needs.

Superintendent Piasecki spoke briefly about the bond-issue election results and the need for board and community input on how to meet the district's facility requirements.

Motion by Satterthwaite, supported by McCalla, to approve the borrowing of $1,050,000 for operating expenses until taxes are collected, and authorize the president and secretary to sign necessary papers and direct assistant superintendent Mills to file the necessary papers on behalf of the district. All ayes.

Motion by Diesing, supported by McCalla, to approve the hiring of Diane Ritter to fill the special education vacancy at Beach Middle school. All ayes.

Motion by Knutsen, supported by McCalla, to approve a leave of absence as requested by Crystal Heydlauff, South school teacher. All ayes.

Motion by McCalla, supported by Satterthwaite, to approve the Montreal trip of the high school orchestra/choir. All ayes.

Treasurer Jane Diesing reported on the recent Conference held in Detroit which she attended with president Comeau and trustee Knutsen.

Principal Stieber reported on student and school improvement activities at South school as well as the MEAP testing.

Principal Mead reported on testing at the high school.

Assistant Principal Rossi reported on upcoming Homecoming activities.

Principal Stielstra reported on school improvements activities and upcoming Pep Week.

Special education director DeYoung reported that, with the hiring of Diane Ritter, his staff is now totally complete.

Principal Wescott reported on (1) administering of the MEAP test and (2) school improvement activities.

Athletic director Welton invited board members to Homecoming activities and reported that some sports are now "winding down."

Community Education director Tracy reported (1) the Song Sisters had performed in a very successful program for 780 pre-schoolers, kindergartners and parents, (2) the upcoming largest-ever crafts/arts show which will be held in the high school cafeteria, (3) after-school enrichment activities at the elementary level.

Fred Mills reported that former Superintendent Van Meer underwent surgery on Oct. 2 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Superintendent Piasecki reminded board members that the next meeting (Oct. 21) will be held in the Beach School Media Center. At the Nov. 4 meeting, Richard Funk of MASA will be present to review the analysis report on board policies.

Meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

'Showcase' Now Airs Mondays and Thursdays

The "Lary Hafner Showcase" was taped before a standing room only audience Sunday evening and the interest from the public continues to grow. The facility at the Faith in Action building has become the new home of the "Showcase." Through the co-operation of both the Rev. Beaumont and Ruth Smith everything is going quite smoothly. Faith in Action is now also housing the show's executive office.

Every Sunday evening the show is taped before a live audience beginning at 7 p.m. in the Faith in Action building. The show airs on Cable Channel 22 every Monday and now Thursday evenings, too, both evenings from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. "We added the Thursday nights to our airing schedule due to popular demand. Some people weren't able to see the show on Mondays so we added Thursday."

Much has been taking place under the "Showcase Big Top"! The production crew is being slowly made up of professionals in the field of television production. Melody Reifle, who was associate producer for PM Magazine in Detroit, has volunteered her technical expertise and is now the showcase producer. Also on our staff is Tom Raines, who comes to the show with years of television audio experience.

Beginning this past Sunday evening the "Showcase" has added the most ambitious group of young people around the Chelsea area. This group of Chelsea High school students are now known as the Showcase Band. They have been rehearsing for the past few weeks and did their first television appearance. They are going to be the permanent house band for the show much like the Doc Severson band from the "Tonight Show." They are: trumpets, Jeremy Guenther and Mark Carlson; alto and soprano saxophone, Kirk Hedding; tenor sax, Jason Schwartenberger; string bass, Mark Kemmer; rhythm guitar, Jeremy Sterling; drums, Lee Hafner; percussion, Kevin Kendrick; keyboards, Andy Wetzel; trombones, Robin Strong and Shaun Graflund. They are looking for an ambitious clarinet player to finish and round out the band.

The "Showcase" invites everyone to attend these tapings to see what really goes on behind the scenes during a television production. In many cases people watch TV and never have the chance to actually see one made. Now, Chelsea has the opportunity to experience a new and innovative form of "home-grown" family entertainment.

If you would like to be on the show or know someone who should be on the show please call 475-9911 or write to:

The show is also still looking for volunteers. Also, if you have a pet that loves to do tricks they would like to hear from you, or if you have a funny home video you would like to share with the community let them know.

This week's "Showcase" guests are hot air balloonist Bruce Comstock, Mrs. Tandy and Webelo Pack 435, seven-year-old ballerina Rachel Sturtevant, "Showcase" gourmet cook, Sherry Sundling, 12-year-old Jeanette McDougall and her dwarf rabbits. This week's special guest is Marlene Clark from the Merry-Go Round Farm with some of her unusual pets.

Echo Farms Dairy Co. of New York introduced the milk bottle in 1879.

A DEMONSTRATION in the martial art Tae Kwon Do was given by Chelsea resident Lisa DeGryse on Friday and Monday at South and North Elementary schools. DeGryse, a second-degree blackbelt, gave the demonstration as part of a series of speakers in the Enrichment Triad Program at the schools.

Faith in Action Accepting Winter Clothing Donations

With the change of seasons each year, Faith in Action calls for a brief time out in order to make the transition from one season to another. This year they will be closed on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 24-25 to enable them to clear out summer clothes, clean the clothing room thoroughly and to organize and hang winter clothing on their racks.

They will also take that time to make some minor changes in their storage and handling of clothing, changes which will improve methods and provide for better distribution.

It is now time for them to request persons to hold back any spring or summer clothing until next spring. While this may inconvenience some, it is necessary to accept only winter clothing for the next several months. Storage space is limited to a small amount of off-season clothing, so please help by bringing in only winter clothes.

The people of Chelsea, Dexter and our neighboring communities are extremely generous in donating to Faith in Action throughout the entire year making it possible for them to provide a very high level of assistance to those in need.

As winter approaches, coupled with the recent and anticipated future cutbacks in state aid for those in need, Faith in Action expects at least a 25% increase in requests for help. With your continued support, these needs will be met.

IRS Begins Annual Document Matching

"As many as 165,000 Michigan taxpayers may soon be hearing from us," said IRS district director John Hummel. "That's because this is the time of year when we conduct our document matching program, also known as the Under-reporter Program. This Program identifies taxpayers who may have filed incorrect returns, or who may not have reported all their income on past years' federal tax returns," Hummel said.

According to the IRS, information such as wages, interest, dividends, gambling winnings and real estate transactions are submitted on magnetic media and "matched" against the information on the return. "Right now, we are matching information we received with what taxpayers reported on their 1989 tax returns. If a discrepancy is found, we send a notice, called a CP-2000, and ask the taxpayer to clarify, correct or explain the difference. If a taxpayer can explain the discrepancy, no additional tax will be assessed. However, if we do not hear from the taxpayer, we will increase the tax and send a bill. That's why it is very important for taxpayers who receive an under-reporter notice to contact us, either by letter or by phone, at the address listed on the notice," said Hummel.

"If taxpayers are unclear about any bill or notice they receive from us, they should call our toll-free information line at 1-800-829-1040," he added.

* Housetraining That Works

Nothing is more frustrating than housetraining a puppy or adult dog using "old-fashioned" methods. Soggy newspapers on the floor, a rolled up newspaper on the hind end and "rubbing his nose in it" are seldom effective and often inhumane. The method of choice today for housetraining a new dog with minimal time and mess is crate-training.

Crates work for housetraining because they approximate dens, safe secure places for dogs since their days in the wild. Crates made of wire or molded plastic are available for sale or rental locally. Contact your veterinarian or humane society for referrals. For housetraining, you need a crate in which your pet can turn around and lie down comfortably. Measure your puppy from the tip of his nose to the base (not tip) of his tail. The housetraining crate should be close to this length, never shorter.

Crates work on the principle that dogs do not like to lay in their excrement. A properly-sized crate will encourage your pet to hold his bladder and bowels. A crate that is too large will allow your pet to eliminate in one end and sleep in the other until your return. As a puppy grows, he will need gradually larger crates, or you can use a movable divider in an adult-size crate.

Once you've rented or purchased the proper crate, set it up for use. If it is made of wire, cover the back half with a blanket to make it feel more den-like. Line the floor of the crate with layers of newspaper or old towels. Put a sturdy dish of water and a safe nylon or rubber chew toy inside. Finally, locate the crate in a relatively quiet spot where your puppy will still feel part of the family, such as the kitchen or family room. At night it may be helpful to move a very young puppy's crate to be beside your bed so that you will wake up when he needs to be taken outside.

Introduce the crate to your pet by feeding him in it. Always put your dog in the crate with a treat, his meal, a special toy, and/or lots of praise. Some people say "Crate!" every time they close their dog inside so that their pet learns what the word means. Never use the crate as punishment! Your dog needs to have good associations with it in order to be house-trained successfully.

Puppies 8 to 16 weeks of age usually adapt quickly to being crated for reasonable lengths of time (up to four hours). Adult dogs should be introduced more gradually to the crate. Close them inside for short (15 minute) periods while you are at home, so that they can see you and you can calm them if necessary. Gradually increase the time periods. If your pet barks excessively in the crate or bites at the wires at first, and a firm "Quiet!" doesn't calm him, a little squirt of lemon juice/water mixture in his open mouth helps deter this behavior.

Next week we'll look at how to use a crate for effective housetraining and touch on a few housetraining problems. The month of October is national Adopt-a-Dog month. The Humane Society of Huron Valley (662-5585) has special adoption packets all month, and many homeless puppies and dogs are waiting at the shelter for a second chance. If you have room in your heart and home for a new pet, visit the shelter Wednesday through Monday between noon and 5:30 p.m.

Next week: "Housetraining—Part II."

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Session Tuesday, September 24, 1991

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele.
Present: President Steele, Clerk Morrison, Village Manager Myers, Assistant Village Manager Kuehn.
Trustees Present: Steele, Hammer, Anderson, Finch, Kanten, Dorer, Merkel.

Others Present: A. Gochanour, P. Newhouse, L. McDougall, C. Clouse, S. Wilkinson, M. Heydlauff, C. Ritter, K. Luckhardt, W. Bader, B. Hamilton, M. McCall, K. Chapman, J. VanOrman, T. Osborne, C. Danborn, L. Parsons.

The first order of business was public participation. Mrs. Rosemary Harook, Zoning Inspector for the Village of Chelsea, informed Council of a day care center operated by Mrs. Kenneth Barner which is in violation of the Home Occupation Ordinance since she is hiring part-time help, as well as, the Day Care Ordinance, which would require a Special Land Use Permit costing $200.00. Mrs. Harook did point out to Council that Mrs. Barner is in compliance with the necessary State rules and regulations. Mrs. Barner explained to Council that she has been licensed for over 9 years and that the State told her that she was allowed to hire part-time people. Mrs. Barner did not feel that she should be required to pay the $200.00 fee.

Council discussed the possibility of re-working the fee structure to more closely match the business and also asked for Mrs. Harook's opinion. Mrs. Harook felt that the Special Land Uses are like variances and recommended that the Council compromise and charge $75.00.

Motion by Anderson, supported by Kanten, to waive the $200.00 Special Land Use fee for Mrs. Barner and charge $75.00. In addition, there will be a grace period for all other non-conforming businesses to pay $75.00 instead of the $200.00 fee until December 31, 1991. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Several residents from Taylor Street were present to discuss with Council their recent meeting with the Chelsea Village Planning Commission. The residents have asked the Planning Commission to revise their Master Plan which calls for a through street at Taylor Street. Mr. J. Eder and Mrs. W. Eder were present. The property that would be directly affected would be that of Mrs. W. Eder. Mr. Eder explained to Council that they were not opposed to development of the area but were opposed to the matter of a through street.

President Steele verified that Mrs. Eder has a deed and legal description/abstract that indicates the property belongs to her. Therefore, the Village is not interested in condemning property and the Eders will need to deal with the developer if they are interested in selling the property. Mr. Eder indicated that they would continue to work with the developers.

A concerned resident requested Council consider letting her use a trash can with loose trash versus her having to purchase garbage bags. The resident is not in favor of purchasing "trash" to put her trash in. Trustee Hammer explained that the Recycling Authority put a great deal of thought into this issue. The use of garbage bags with stickers on them is the best alternative for pick-up services at the present time.

Village resident C. Ritter asked Council what effect the Charter Township would have on Chelsea. Mr. Myers, Village Manager, explained that Sylvan Township has no desire to become a Charter Township, therefore it has no effect.

Village resident C. Ritter notified Council he felt it was not appropriate to hold a Zoning Board of Appeals meeting at 5 p.m. in the afternoon. Mr. Ritter requested a copy of the Act that established the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Trustee Anderson questioned a $300.00 payment to the current Clerk. It was explained the services being performed were updating the backlog of Master Files, Deceased Files, Inactive Files and the like.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Kanten, to approve the Consent Agenda. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Chief McDougall requested additional Crossing Guard coverage for the Dewey to McKinley crossing. There are 12 kindergarten students that cross this intersection at noon and with the increase of traffic due to construction, this has become a hazardous situation.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Dorer, to authorize additional Crossing Guard coverage as a result of the railroad track construction for the crossing at Dewey/McKinley streets. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Mr. Tom Osborne and Mr. Myers, Village Manager, reported on their progress to date on a planning study for Chelsea Fire State 2. Mr. Osborne mentioned that he had additional information from another architect. President Steele asked that Mr. Osborne have all information together by the next regular meeting of Council.

RESOLUTION RE: TRASH COLLECTION SYSTEM

WHEREAS, the current trash collection contract expires November 10, 1991; and

WHEREAS, the current charging procedures for refuse pickup are not equitable to our citizens who are supportive of recycling efforts;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Village of Chelsea shall institute a trash collection system based on a "bag and tag" procedure using Village generated identification stickers for each unit of trash collected. A unit of trash shall consist of no larger than a thirty (30) gallon garbage bag which shall be closed and tied for pickup. Said bags may be placed in cans; however, loose garbage in cans will not be acceptable for pickup. There shall be no limit to the number of garbage bags picked up as long as a sticker is affixed to each bag.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the purchase price for each sticker shall be $1.50. Stickers may be purchased in groups of ten (10) or more. The unit price of $1.50 may be changed by the Village Council within thirty (30) days either side of the anniversary date of this Resolution. For the convenience of the citizens, the Council may, at its discretion, allow local area businesses to purchase the stickers at a nominal discount to be resold to local citizens at the then current Village specified price.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea shall, from time to time, provide pickup service for appliances, large furniture and tires at the curb. The Village shall sell an identification system for each of these items which shall be affixed to each unit prior to collection. The fee for pickup of appliances and large furniture shall be $15.00 per item. The fee for tires will remain the same as is currently charged at the village landfill for disposal. The charges for this service shall be set by the Village Council at the same time the sticker charge for trash is established.

BE IT STILL FURTHER RESOLVED, that trash collections shall occur on Tuesday, except in the case of holidays. All restrictions, both State and Local, to trash content, e.g. no yard waste, shall apply to this trash collection system.

Motion by Anderson, supported by Hammer, to adopt the above Resolution. All Ayes. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Village Manager Myers, reported that Mr. John Mitchell has sent out flyers to Park Street residents notifying them of the Antique Car Show to be held October 5, 1991 and that he has received no complaints.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Finch, to sell the used parking meters removed from the Village streets without poles for $20.00 per meter. All meters will be sold as is without keys, but unlocked so that locks can be replaced. In addition, Council authorized an advertisement in The Chelsea Standard notifying residents of a 30 day sale at which time the remainder will be sold to interested parties who have already contacted the Police Chief regarding purchase and to donate a meter to the Chelsea Historical Society. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Merkel, to authorize transfer of funds from the General Fund to the Vehicle & Equipment Fund and the Landfill Fund to the Vehicle & Equipment Fund as follows:

From the General Fund to the Vehicle & Equipment Fund:
101-170-880 Administrative Vehicles $ 1,200.
101-301-942 Police Vehicles $30,000.
101-441-942.001 Public Work Vehicles (Gen.) $25,000.
101-751-942 Parks & Recreation $ 1,000.

TOTAL DUE VEHICLE & EQUIP FUND (688-000-689) $57,200
From the Landfill Fund to the Vehicle & Equipment Fund:
571-536-942.000 $28,500.

TOTAL DUE VEHICLE & EQUIPMENT FUND (688-000-689) $28,500.
(Said Expenditures were allocated in the various departmental budgets for vehicle and equipment rental. Said rental fees help finance the Vehicle and Equipment Fund by covering maintenance and capital expenditures.) All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hammer, to authorize a transfer of $99,125.00 from the General Fund (Account No. 101-895-990) to the Limited Debt Retirement Fund (Account No. 304-000-699.101). The purpose of this transfer is to provide sufficient funds to enable the bond payment which is due October 1, 1991. This is a budgeted expenditure. All Ayes. Motion carried.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSIONER TO THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC POWER AGENCY

BE IT RESOLVED, AND IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, that this Village Council of the Village of Chelsea does hereby appoint Jack Myers to act as commissioner on the Michigan Public Power Agency to represent the Village of Chelsea in said Power Agency pursuant to Section 2.1 of the By-Laws of the Michigan Public Power Agency.

Motion by Anderson, supported by Finch, to adopt the above Resolution. All Ayes. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, H. L. (Jack) Myers was appointed Village Manager of the Village of Chelsea by its Council on May 28, 1991; and

WHEREAS, H. L. (Jack) Myers assumed the position and consequent duties of duties of Village Manager on June 10, 1991; and

BE IT RESOLVED, that this Village Council does hereby appoint H. L. (Jack) Myers as delegate to the Michigan Municipal Electric Association to represent the Village of Chelsea.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Hammer, to adopt the above Resolution. All Ayes. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Ms. Joan VanOrman from the Quiet Creek Condominium Association asked the Village to accept Quiet Creek Circle as a public street. Deborah Kuehn, Assistant Village Manager, explained that the width of the pavement is only 30 feet. The standard for all streets, public and private, is 33 feet. Ms. VanOrman explained she had measured several streets and several did not meet the 33 foot requirement. Ms. Kuehn explained a street ordinance was recently adopted to hold all public and private street to the same construction and design standards to guarantee a level of protection and services.

President Steele recommended that the Council stay with the 1989 standards unless there is a motion to do otherwise. There was no motion.

The Chelsea Shopping Center requested Council to regulate skateboarding in the shopping center area. Deborah Kuehn, Assistant Village Manager, contacted the Village Attorney and there is no "duty" to enforce/regulate this type of activity, only the portion of the Motor Vehicle Code which regulates reckless driving and driving under the influence. No action was taken on this matter.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to authorize the following amendment transactions to support the September 10, 1991 Council authorization to purchase a Ford truck to be utilized for refuse pickup in the Village:

General Fund a/c	Description	Current Budget	+/-	Amended Budget
101-523-818	Garb & Ref-Contractual	90,000	(22,700)	67,300

All Ayes. Motion carried.

Village Manager Myers reported that site cleanup must be performed at the Village Garage as soon as possible. Matt Zimmerman (Varnum, Ridderling, Schmidt & Howlett) released bid documents to four (4) MUSTFA approved contractors. It was the recommendation of Mr. Zimmerman and Lee Fahrner to award the bid to Traverse Group, Inc., of Ann Arbor.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Merkel, to select Traverse Group, Inc., as the contractor for the Village garage site cleanup. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Finch, supported by Dorer, to sign a Conditional Assignment of Lease with Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Daniels, the Garage Theatre Foundation of Chelsea and the Purple Rose Theatre Company. All Ayes. Motion carried. (Conditional Assignment of Lease attached as Appendix A.)

Village Manager Myers reported that he has received a memo from the Michigan Municipal League Re: Revenue Sharing Cuts. The revenue sharing could be cut 4% or $9,500 for the Village of Chelsea.

Village Manager Myers reported that the Village and Townships are still in litigation regarding the landfill. The Townships rejected the Village's last offer and have requested a meeting to be set up. Mr. Myers is working on this and is targeting September 30, 1991 for the closed session.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Dorer, to adjourn Regular Session. All Ayes. Motion carried. Time: 9:10 p.m.

Suzanne C. Morrison, Village Clerk.

Ypsilanti—Despite Chelsea's Paul John Taylor's religious advice as the Bishop aboard Cole Porter's joyous musical "Anything Goes," Eastern Michigan University's version had rough sailing Sunday afternoon in Quirk Theatre.

Eastern Michigan's "Anything Goes" would have shipwrecked on Sunday afternoon if three passengers had not so excelled in their respective roles that the glorious voyage of mischevious music was not totally lost.

Perhaps the crew and passengers of "Anything Goes" were recovering from the week-end happening called homecoming, but a rather unimpressive cast failed to add much in the way of celebration to Cole Porter's 100th birthday.

Three true stage charmers, however, made the afternoon worthwhile in the persons of Kelly Bruner, a natural in the role of Reno Sweeney; Michael McCafferty shone brilliantly both in song and burlesque humor in Sunday's lackadaisical production; and Scott Screws, strutting his English accent and commendable singing voice to become Sir Evelyn Oakleigh. All three "should be decorated for acting valor!"

Top notch song renditions in this production were delivered by Billy (Matthew Frazier), Reno (Kelly Bruner), and Moonface Martin (Michael McCafferty) with a rousing "Friendship."

Another piece of stage excitement was "Let's Misbehave," extremely well performed by Bruner and Scott Screws (Reno and Sir Evelyn).

The ensemble's best musical number was "Blow, Gabriel, Blow" when they outdid Reno (Bruner) with their in-tune healthy support. An especially delicious rendition of stupidity by Moonface (McCafferty) was the hilarious "Be Like the Bluebird."

Amongst many musical cinders and stiff actors, the costuming for a college production was unbelievable. There must have been at least 50 costumes. Not only were the costumes attractive but in fashion for the late 20's, early 30's. Especially delightfully draped was Sweeney with a flashy, red sequined evening gown!

Alexander B. Tecoma needs to take a bow for this brilliant effort in his first collegiate production.

The set for the production appeared as a clumsy intrusion rather than something that abets the performance of the individuals and the stairs leading from top deck of the ship was rarely used. Colors of the ship were deplorable.

Neither did the orchestra add much to the festivities. Perhaps two pet peeves of mine are added announcements (pieces of paper slid in to the legitimate program) and the absence of small bios of the actors on stage. Can't we include them in the regular program?

Celebrating Cole Porter's 100th birthday was a nice and wonderful thing to do. Porter located us on a ship which found us moving from gangsters hiding under false clothing; two tarnished romances setting on the wrong couples; a crew of sailors who had too much homecoming but fitted into the plot nicely; a drunken businessman who was always firing somebody; and two gambling Chinamen, amongst other sinners.

Many familiar songs come from this Porter musical celebration: "You're the Top," "It's Delovely," "I Get a Kick Out of You," "Let's Step Out," "All Through the Night," and "Take Me Back to Manhattan."

Performances continue this week-end at The Quirk Theatre on the Ypsilanti campus starting with Wednesday, Oct. 23, through Saturday, Oct. 26. Seats are available for all 8 p.m. performances.

The Energy Battle

By Phillip C. Clarke

It's a first-round victory for U.S. energy independence. In late May, the Senate Energy Committee voted 17 to 3 for the administration's National Energy Strategy which, among other things, would remove obstacles to the construction of nuclear power plants and open a small but vital portion of Alaska's arctic wildlife refuge to oil and gas drilling. But powerful environmental activists are battling to prevent full Congressional approval.

The confrontation once again pits environmentalists vs. the advocates of economic progress and human needs. Last spring, the nature lovers' lobby won a round when the Interior Department declared 12 million acres of the Pacific Northwest's ancient forests off limits to logging in order to protect the habitat of the spotted owl. But as Washington correspondent Chris Warden points out, Congress is coming to realize that there's another side to the environmental story.

Recently there was a compromise between the spotted owl and another "endangered species," the American logger. Now, once again, it's the issue of oil. On one hand, environmentalists make several arguments against oil. For instance, they say oil and its by-product gasoline, as fossil fuels, pollute the air. So, environmentalists contend, we need to curtail the use of oil. We should pass laws, they say, to require more fuel-efficient cars. We should increase the gas tax to make it more expensive to drive, thus cutting back on the use of oil and therefore pollution. And if we curtail the use of oil, we don't have to go out and find more. In fact, exploring and drilling for oil can be damaging to the environment, as well. Environmentalists make all these arguments against oil in pursuit of a cleaner planet.

But there is another side to this story. For example, a recent study by the Environmental Protection Agency showed that air pollution has become less of a problem than it was even 10 years ago. Concentrations of lead, sulfur dioxide, and other air pollutants all are considerably lower today than in 1980. As for the argument in favor of more fuel-efficient cars, there's another side to that story as well. When Congress mandated the so-called CAFE standards (for Corporate Average Fuel Efficiency) back in the late 70's, Detroit's Big Three automakers complied with the standards by building smaller cars. But studies from the Department of Transportation, the National Highway and Traffic Safety Administration, and the prestigious Brookings Institute all show that smaller cars are less safe and more people have died on the highway as a result of the fuel efficiency standards. Of proposals to increase those standards from the current 27 miles per gallon average to 40 miles per gallon, Robert Crandall of Brookings says 8,000 more Americans a year could die on the highways as a result.

With regard to calls for a higher tax on gasoline, consider the other side. Western European countries—Germany, France, Sweden to name a few—have all had a very high tax on gasoline for years. To the point where motorists there pay the equivalent of three to four dollars a gallon. This makes driving a privilege only the well-off can afford. It also has been a significant drag on the economies of these countries. And what about the argument against exploring and drilling for more oil? Right now, America must import almost half of its oil from foreign sources, including the Persian Gulf, a very unstable region, as Operation Desert Storm demonstrated so forcibly. In addition, by remaining so dependent on foreign oil, this country continues to run a hefty trade deficit, which can only hinder U.S. competitiveness abroad.

This energy dependence is even more questionable when you consider that as much as 15 billion barrels of economically recoverable oil may be awaiting discovery in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge in Alaska. But current law forbids exploration in the refuge, all in the name of environment—including unwarranted concern for native herds of caribou. While a cleaner environment is vital, it's also important to recognize that there's another side to the story—the practical side.

Breast Cancer Information Month Slated for October

During October, National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the Cancer Information Service of Michigan (CIS) urges all women age 40 and over to have regular mammograms to detect breast cancer early, when it is most treatable.

William Stengle, co-ordinator of the CIS, said information specialists staffing the 1-800-4-CANCER number are prepared to answer questions about early detection of breast cancer and send callers a free brochure on mammography, as well as give refer-als to local qualified mammography facilities. Mammography, an x-ray of the breast, can detect breast cancer in its earliest stages.

"Breast cancer is the most common form of cancer in American women," reports Dr. Vainutis Vaitkevicius, noted breast cancer specialist and president of Michigan Cancer Foundation. "One in nine women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. In 1991 in the U.S., over 175,000 new cases are projected, and 44,000 women will die of the disease.
