School District Adopts New Curriculum on Human Sexuality Study

A formal, revised sex education curriculum for grades 5-12 was adopted Monday night by the Chelsea Board of Education.

The curriculum, called a "Human Sexuality Course of Study," was the result of several months of study by the Sex Education Advisory Committee consisting of parents, teachers, clergy, and health professionals.

Curriculum Director Laurie Bissell called it a "middle-of-the road" program, which some will not consider conservative enough and others will find too conservative.

Unlike many other schools, the program was not based on any part of the controversial Michigan Model.

"The whole thing was our own creation," Bissell said.

"It was the best kind of program we could come up with in a limited time frame."

About one and a half weeks each year is donated to the study of human sexuality, Bissell said.

The 20-page report, outlining the course of study in each grade, is the first time sexuality education in Chelsea has been described in a formal document.

The biggest changes in the curriculum, Bissell said, will occur in grades 6-8, where "a lot of new materials" have been incorporated. She said videos were carefully screened and sometimes edited when it was felt information was inappropriate for a particular grade.

The high school curriculum will stay basically the same, Bissell said. However, at both the high school and middle school levels, more emphasis will be placed on "abstinence before marriage," which is called "the guiding principle of this curriculum."

The first time the words "premarital abstinence" are written in the outline are in the eighth grade overview.

The 10 student goals of the curriculum include the following:

- Understand the human reproductive system.
• Understand the broad physiological, psychological, and emotional changes that occur during the course of human development.
• Understand that responsible sexual behavior before marriage is abstinence.
• Learn skills for building healthy relationships based on mutual respect and self-discipline.
• Learn skills for healthy living.
• Recognize the media as a powerful social influence and learn skills to combat its negative impact.
• Understand that the family is the primary influence on values, attitudes, and behaviors.
• Understand the meaning of human sexuality.
• Learn skills for refusal techniques.
• Learn consequences of premarital sexual activity, including health risks such as sexually transmitted diseases and teen pregnancy.

Program goal is defined as "involve parents in communication with their children about the human sexuality program."

The curriculum includes a broad range of topics related to human sexuality. For example, fifth graders learn about physical and emotional changes, personal hygiene, and structures of the human reproductive system, among other topics. In high school students review reproductive anatomy, learn that sexuality encompasses values, morality and decision-making as well as reproductive biology, review health issues, learn about pregnancy and its responsibilities, and learn about abstinence and other methods of contraception.

At every level, the roles of family and religious values are emphasized.

Several guidelines for teachers regarding specific topics are also listed. The topics, including masturbation, homosexuality and bisexuality, contraception, surrogate motherhood, abortion, sexual harassment, and sexual perversions, "have ethical or moral implications and students should be directed to discuss these topics with their parents or religious leaders." Teachers are given statements about those topics which "are to be used as guidelines for answering students' questions." Sexual perversions (which are not defined in the document) is the only topic which "will not be discussed in class."

Bissell said that students with particular concerns are often directed to school counselors.

Parents will be notified which topics are being discussed when, partly as a way to get parents to talk to their children. Students will also be given the assignment to talk to their parents.

Parents, by law, have the option of holding their children out of class.

Council OKs Change To Short-Term Parking

Time limit for short-term parking downtown will be changed from two to three hours as soon as the new signs are installed.

The change was made at the request of the Downtown Development Authority.

"It looks like we're always going to have parking spots available," Mark Heydlauff told council.

"Our concern is that two hours is not long enough. Someone might come to town and spend an hour or so for lunch, then want to do some shopping. We're penalizing those people."

It was not clear at last Tuesday's council meeting whether the fine will be increased for violating the time limit.

In another DDA item, village council approved a $250,000 line of credit for the DDA. Money would be used to complete the DDA streetscape project and would be re-paid from tax revenues collected by the authority.

DDA consultant Franz Mogdis said the project is scheduled to be completed by June.

Council also approved the re-appointments of Sheridan Springer, Frank Renton, and Jeff Flintoft to the DDA, as well as the appointment of Ron Biedron to fill the term of Allen Anderson.

Ritter Questions, Complains as Season For Politics Starts

Former village president Charles Ritter may have begun his campaign for office.

Ritter, who has run for office about every other year over the last six or seven years, blasted village president Richard Steele and village council on a variety of topics last Tuesday.

Ritter questioned why council has spent more than $2,000 with accountant R.A. Steger of Chelsea at the rate of $75 per hour. He expressed his displeasure with the dismissal of Paul Newhouse as acting superintendent of the electric and water department, and questioned the qualifications of new acting superintendent Dan Rosentreter. He also questioned the use of village equipment in Manchester.

The money spent with Steger was for advice on budgetary matters for village manager Jack Myers. Trustee Stephanie Kanten defended the expenditure, equating it to spending money on legal and other expert advice, which the village routinely does.

There was no comment on the Newhouse situation, which may be headed for court. Newhouse has sued the village, charging discrimination.

Village recycling equipment has been used in Manchester, Myers said, with the understanding that the cost of labor and materials would be repaid through the Western Washtenaw Recycling Consortium. Manchester recently implemented its curbside recycling program.

Ritter, as usual, has not said for sure whether he will run or which office he may seek. Two years ago he was a few votes shy of being elected to council. When Steele recommended Ritter to fill the remaining year of his council seat, nobody made the motion. Ritter could go head-to-head with Steele, who has announced he will seek re-election to a second term.

Council Establishes New Drug Law Fund

Chelsea Village Council officially established a Drug Law Enforcement Fund last Tuesday, although the fund has actually been in existence for about a year.

Chelsea Police Chief Lenard McDougall said he opened the fund with the proceeds from a cash seizure in December of 1990. The fund initially had about $23,100 in it, but since then the department has purchased its two bicycles, three portable radios, and two pistols, McDougall said.

State forfeiture laws allow police departments to set up such funds from cash and property seized in drug busts, and the money must be used for drug law enforcement.

McDougall said he sent an officer to a state seminar about such funds in 1990. He said he followed all procedures based on what was presented at the seminar, and notified village president Richard Steele and then-village manager Robert Stalker that the fund was being established. However, he said he did not know the fund had to be set up by council resolution. The fund was discovered by a routine audit, he said, and the matter was brought to council's attention last week.

"When you think about it, that's the way it should be," McDougall said. "I'm glad it was discovered because it could have caused some problems down the road."

The money became department property after officer David Detling made a stop on I-94 after the report of a suspicious incident at Village Mobil station. A routine search of the vehicle turned up $21,500 in a baking soda box and another $1,600 in a bag.

Occupants of the vehicle said they were taking the money for their mother to their aunt in Ann Arbor. However, they could not produce a name or the address of their intended destination. The mother also denied any knowledge of the money.

The men failed to return to claim the money. McDougall said it was also discovered one of the same men had forfeited $5,000 in a similar situation in another part of the state.

"We probably could have taken their car, too," McDougall said.

Board Adopts Travel Policy

A new policy regarding field trips and athletic trips sponsored by the Chelsea School District was passed at Monday night's Board of Education meeting at South school.

One change involves international travel. The board had previously forbidden travel outside the country, except to Canada, due to the threat of terrorism. Now, for instance, the Spanish Club could consider a trip to Spain or Mexico.

A second change provides that all trips involving students have to be approved by the board. Traditional trips, such as those taken by the varsity softball and baseball teams over spring break, will now have to be approved. Trips taken during the summer will also have to be approved.

Board Passes Sunday Building Use Policy

School-sponsored activities are being discouraged on Sundays under a new policy adopted by the Board of Education Monday night.

The board will continue to allow community groups to use facilities on Sundays. However, any activities involving students have to be approved specifically by the school board.

Superintendent Joe Piasceki said the idea is to have at least one day in which school activities won't compete with family or other activities.

"The biggest problem we have is with the crowds."

MUCC Files Suit Against DNR Reorganization
 Michigan United Conservation Clubs has filed suit against Governor John Engler and Department of Natural Resources Director Roland Harmes to halt implementation of the governor's executive order (1991-31) eliminating 19 citizen boards and commissions and transferring their authority to the Natural Resources Commission and director.

relied on the citizen boards and commissions Engler has proposed eliminating.
 One major argument made by the organization is that its due process right to have a hearing before a significant policy change is made would be violated.
 Under the 1963 changes to the Michigan Constitution, Article 4, Secs. 50-52, the Legislature shall prescribe laws to protect energy, public health and natural resources. The statutes that created the current 19 boards and commissions to obtain public input were enacted under a constitutional mandate for the Legislature to protect the environment, Bambery said.

before the executive budget is presented Feb. 7 but he wants to assess public sentiment before endorsing a tax increase. "This is a classic trial balloon," Schornack said.
 Schornack added it is also critical to determine whether the Legislature would pass such a tax before the governor would campaign for it. House Speaker Lewis Dodak (D-Montrose) has indicated there would be opposition to the proposal in his chamber and said he personally cannot back a tax increase when the state still has money in its Budget Stabilization Fund.

valorem. That would double the per pack tax on cigarettes from the current 25 cent excise tax to 50 cents, and would place a new tax on other tobacco products.
 The actual tax on other tobacco products would be 53 cents per ounce of snuff, 9.4 cents for each cigar, 16 cents per ounce of chew and 42.5 cents per ounce of pipe products.
 The total tax increase proposal would raise $228.5 million more each year, most of which would come from doubling the cigarette tax, bringing total tobacco tax collections to $473.2 million, the coalition estimates.

The suit was filed in Ingham County Circuit Court by MUCC attorney M. Carol Bambery and Lansing-based constitutional specialist Tom Downs, who dispute the governor's constitutional authority to make such sweeping changes in the department.
 The group argues the order issued last November would involve the governor's office directly in the functioning of the NRC and weaken it by transferring its authority to the governor and his appointee.

Even if Harmes replaces some of the boards and commissions with similar bodies or decides to have hearings to substitute for those the Legislature had called for, the Engler administration would violate the constitution because it would be removing the Legislature's role in the process, Bambery said.
 "You can't read only one part of the constitution," Bambery said.

Lobbyists for the tobacco industry already sounded the alarm against likely administration support for a cigarette tax, resulting in 200 letters sent to the governor's office the past two weeks in opposition to the plan.
 Schornack and the Ad Hoc Tobacco Tax Coalition to Attack Michigan's Health Problems said now the governor wants to hear the other side's views.
 Michigan currently has 1.9 million adult smokers, 71,000 which would stop, proponents say, if the cigarette tax were doubled. That would save 18,000 lives over-all, said Public Health chief medical officer Ronald M. Davis.

While Davis-Anthony said she hopes the additional revenue will be targeted to health programs within her department, she acknowledged the state's budget has other holes to fill. Her first priority would be to stabilize some existing programs which are in jeopardy now because they rely on general funds, she said.
 Michigan currently ranks 25th among the states levying cigarette excise taxes. Tobacco-Free Michigan Action Coalition co-chair Carolyn Wingate-Keefe said she will be pleased to see Michigan rank No. 1 in tobacco taxes because it has the worst record in chronic disease deaths due to unhealthy behaviors.

MUCC has asked to have its suit consolidated with that of House Speaker Lewis Dodak (D-Montrose) which also challenges the governor's constitutional standing in reorganizing the department.
 That case argues the governor violated the separation of powers.
 "While we agree with the legislators, we want to raise issues that will not be covered in action brought by them," MUCC executive director Tom Washington said.

Coalition Forms to Push Ad Valorem Tobacco Tax
 A 23-member coalition of anti-smoking organizations, including the Department of Public Health, launched a campaign for a 48 percent ad valorem tax on all tobacco products.
 But Public Health Director Vernice Davis-Anthony said her participation in the effort does not represent a commitment from Governor John Engler that he supports the proposal. "We do not have assurances from the governor one way or the other," Davis-Anthony said.
 Dennis Schornack, senior policy advisor to the governor, said the public will have a decision from Engler

Under the proposal advocated by the coalition, all tobacco products, including cigarettes, cigars, pipes and smokeless, would have a base tax on 48 percent wholesale price, or ad

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 Clem Webster told the fellows at the country store Saturday night that he had thought the situation up one side and down the other and he is full convinced that it's good for us to get jolted back to reality now and again, and it's good that television that takes reality away can give it back. Clem said he watched some of the recent TV show where all the Democrats running for nomination for President took turns showing off. He said it made him realize candidates believe races are lost and won on TV.
 We have come so far we don't think anything is real unless we see it on TV. It ain't what the candidate stands for, Clem said, its how he looks and sounds when he stands for it. That's what that fellow told us 25 year ago when he said the medium is the message, Clem said.
 Practical speaking, Clem went on, there's hope for people that watch professional wrestlers and politicians perform on $2,000 televisions and believe they're real, but not much. Recent, Clem read where people were shocked to see and hear President Bush make a comment about wrong questions at a TV news conference. What happened, according to papers, was that a question was ask out of the prepared order and the answer the President give off his TV reader didn't make any sense. Then he spoke to a staff person at a microphone that was left on by mistake.
 The TV news conference is a rehearsed show, Clem said, and we can learn by watching it. Problems come up when we start thinking it's the real thing. Clem said he was reminded that President Herbert Hoover saw this coming shortly after he got in office. He said reporters that wanted to ask him questions would have to put them in writing in advance because "the President of the United States will not be questioned like a chicken thief by men whose names he does not know." Ever President since has run the show pritty much the same way, Clem said.

 Zeke Grubb disagreed with Clem. Zeke said it is no more fair to put all TV in the same class as to say ever newspaper handles the truth as reckless as the supermarket tabloids. Zeke reminded the fellows that television can be as real as a spacecraft explosion, and as true as that Civil War series. The papers can be as bad as the one in Florida that used an Arkansas woman's picture with a story it made up about a 98-year-old pregnant woman in Australia. When the woman sued, the paper said it thought she was dead and, besides, the story was so crazy nobody would believe it.
 As for news, Zeke went on, he keeps looking for more reports on that UFO that was spotted late last fall. The first he heard, Zeke said, it was headed at Earth and nobody could tell if it was a spacecraft or just a piece of rock that broke off somepun. The last he read was that whatever it is would miss Earth by 300,000 miles and keep on trucking.
 There was talk about it being part of a rocket shot from Earth for the moon that got into the same kind of sun orbit we're in, Zeke said, but it just as easy could be a visitor from some other galaxy.
 If it was an explorer, he'll have a tough time explaining that 300,000 mile navigation error when he gets back home.
 Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Cavanaugh Lake Store Robbed By Lone Gunman

A male intruder thought to be in his late teens entered the Cavanaugh Lake Store in Sylvan township about 7:45 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 18, and after walking toward the cooler at the back of the establishment, turned and produced a handgun while ordering store clerk Carolyn Parker to give him the money.

Before leaving, he asked for any money which might be in a safe, but was told there was no more.

As the suspect instructed her to "Hurry, hurry, hurry," and bid her place the funds in a bag, she told him the bags were under the counter, whereupon he seized the money and rushed out of the store to the west, where it's theorized a vehicle may have been waiting.

Using a special kit, law enforcement officials worked with Parker to produce a likeness of the suspect.

His description was listed as a white male, probably in his late teens, weighing approximately 130 pounds and having blond eyebrows (in spite of the black curly wig he apparently wore during the robbery), and gray eyes.

The wig was observed by the roadside on the following morning, and has now been turned over to investigating officers.

The suspect was wearing round, metal-rimmed eyeglasses, and was afflicted with facial acne.

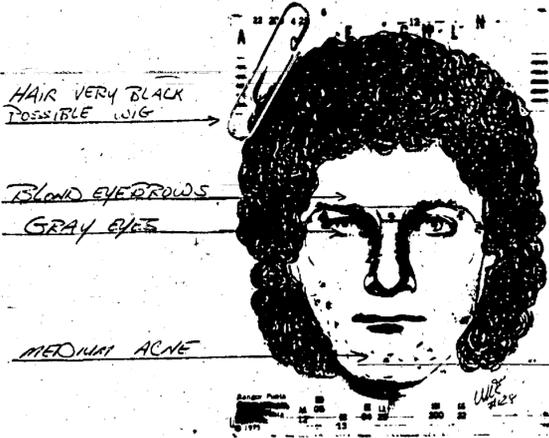

During the robbery, one of Mrs. Parker's youngsters returned after emptying the trash and was ordered to face the intruder and not move.

Mrs. Parker reported the armed robbery to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department within minutes of its occurrence, and deputy Angela Hunt was dispatched to investigate.

Anyone who may recognize the suspect, whose likeness is provided in this week's newspaper, is urged to contact WCSO officials.

The robbery investigation has been assigned to a WCSO detective.

Three garages on nearby Glazier Rd. were entered, and the automobiles inside them pilfered sometime between 12 midnight and 6 a.m. Monday, Jan. 20, according to reports filed by deputy Mariene Benedict of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

The garages were entered through unsecured doors, and contents of the automobiles' glove boxes were strewn on the front seats.

A small amount of cash was taken from two of the three vehicles, and a diamond wedding ring valued at $1,000 was reported missing from one of those two automobiles.

The third vehicle was entered, but nothing was reported missing by its owner.

A DEAD SHETLAND FONY was found along Conway Rd. outside the village late last week and area residents were extremely upset by the sight. A number of people called Lane Animal Hospital as well as the Humane Society, county road commission and other agencies. The pony remained on the road for at least two days before being taken away. Dr. Tremper of Lane Animal Hospital, who saw the animal, said it appeared the animal had starved to death and had received very little care by its owners. He also surmised the animal died outside of the area and was dumped on the roadside.

BILL OF RIGHTS 200th ANNIVERSARY: We Must Resolve To Continue Never-Ending Fight for Freedom

By Thomas H. Hay, President Michigan Trial Lawyers Assoc.

The passage of our nation's Bill of Rights 200 years ago laid the groundwork for the most unique nation in the history of the world. The Declaration of Independence and the colonists' victory in the Revolutionary War made an independent United States possible. The Constitution created a framework for a new government.

But it was the addition of the 10 amendments known as the Bill of Rights that established individual liberties and that would prove vital to later efforts by citizens to win important individual rights.

Each amendment in the Bill of Rights is rooted in the abuses experienced by the colonists under British rule. Those rights—among them, the right to worship without government interference, the right to think and speak what we choose, to print and publish without government censorship, the right to a jury trial, to bear arms, and the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment—were included in the Bill of Rights because of specific instances of violations of individual rights—violations that could just as easily and too often do—occur today.

The founders of our country knew that if freedom in the new nation was to be a reality, individuals needed protection from the heavy hand of government and the tyranny of the majority; the founders also knew that individuals needed a way to enforce those protections—easy access to an independent judiciary and to the courts system. With the Bill of Rights, the ultimate power to govern and the responsibility to keep freedom alive clearly rested with the people.

The Bill of Rights gave Americans an important gift: the tools to defend liberty and fight for individual rights. Tools that are as valuable today as they were 200 years ago.

But while we celebrate the ratification of the Bill of Rights 200 years ago, it is important to remember that it was not perfect. It reflected the leanings and viewpoints of the privileged male class that wrote the amendments. The Constitution recognized and condoned slavery. The Constitution and the Bill of Rights also clearly did not give to women the right to vote. And neither document protected citizens from actions by the states.

Our Constitution and Bill of Rights were not perfect—and as society moved forward, as individuals pressed forward in the courts and their desires for equal protection and equal rights—the imperfections became painfully clear, and the demands for change often reached a crescendo. Change did not come easily, or without pain. One time it took the violent upheaval of the Civil War. Other times it took the overwhelming insistence of public demonstrations to begin to achieve legal equality for women and minorities. Still other times it took the courage of a single individual pressing for his or her right—all the way to the United States Supreme Court.

When we celebrate the Bill of Rights, we must remember that we are not merely celebrating a document we inherited; we are celebrating the individuals who fought for their rights in the courts—and who gave us ours in the process.

They are the true heroes. Our Bill of Rights would be nothing more than a collection of fancy words and faded parchment paper—without the hundreds of courageous individuals throughout our country's history who have sacrificed life, limb and personal safety to advance justice and to advocate for individual rights. Throughout our nation's history, litigation has been, is, and will be the lifeblood of the Bill of Rights.

As we commemorate the 200th Anniversary of the Bill of Rights this holiday season, we must resolve to keep the spirit of the Bill of Rights alive within each of us. If the Bill of Rights is not to become yet another faded document, we need to remain wary of efforts to limit individual rights. We need to ensure access to the courts for all, no matter how powerful, influential or wealthy.

And, in celebrating our Bill of Rights, we must remember what has brought us this far in the fight for freedom—and our individual rights. For if we are to remain free, and free to pursue freedom, we—each one of us—must fight to keep that spirit and courage alive and to give it meaning today.

"Enthusiasm is the greatest asset in the world. It beats money and power and influence."

It seems probable that Chester has never tried to buy the necessities of life with enthusiasm when he was short of money, but a moment's thought may make his statement more acceptable.

In whatever we do, we can hope to translate boundless enthusiasm into money, or power, or influence. Anyone can develop a contagious enthusiasm and who can say where it might lead? It's worth a try . . . you might be surprised at the results!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
On 1-15-92, two people were killed in Emmet county by an escapee from a work detail at Camp Pelston. Several others were terrified and/or assaulted.

The Village of Chelsea has a crew of inmates working from Camp Waterloo. These men are felons with crimes ranging from drugs, robbery, to murder. Often the supervisor of these people is far away from them.

Is this wise? I think not.
Is it worth it? Ask the family of the people killed in Emmet county.

Maybe the people who contracted to turn the "wolves loose in the hen house" should re-think their position.

Jim Brantley.

Dear Editor:
Governor Engler is examining a proposal which would increase Michigan's tobacco user fee by 25 cents per pack. The plan would also place a user fee on smokeless tobacco products, like snuff and chew, which under current state law face no excise taxes at all.

Few would dispute, given the overwhelming scientific evidence, that the use of tobacco products have caused citizens of Michigan serious health problems. Information provided by the Michigan Department of Public Health (MDPH) states that tobacco kills 15,300 persons each year and costs Michigan $2.2 billion annually in illness care and lost productivity. Michigan's over-all chronic disease death rate is the worst in the nation.

A tobacco user fee increase would help fight these trends on three separate fronts. First MDPH estimates that the proposed increase would result in 71,000 fewer smokers due to the price increase. Approximately 18,000 lives would be saved. Second, our youth would be significantly deterred from taking up this deadly habit because they are the group most affected by price. Finally, significant new revenues would be generated to continue the battle against tobacco and the chronic diseases associated with smoking.

Polis indicate that the public is supportive of a tobacco user fee increase if new revenues are used for health related programs. Governor Engler and the State Legislature know about this data. They have also heard the tobacco lobby's complaints about increased user fees. Today they need to hear from you; the silent majority of Michigan citizens that know the dangers of smoking and who want to attack this serious problem head on.

Kiwanis International Marks 77th Anniversary

Chelsea Kiwanis Club members have announced Kiwanis International's 77th birthday during Kiwanis Anniversary week, Jan. 19-25, according to Duane Schiller, president of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea.

Kiwanis International celebrated by having a reception dinner on Saturday, Jan. 18, at the Northfield Hilton Hotel in Troy.

The first Kiwanis club was chartered Jan. 21, 1915, in Detroit. Today, Kiwanis has grown to number 8,700 clubs and 329,000 members in 70 nations around the world. Clubs sponsor community service projects and raise funds to meet local needs.

Local Kiwanis service projects include C.A.T.S. Bus, Chelsea Help Line, Chelsea Social Services, Seniors Tax Service, Boy and Girl Scouts, S.A.D.D., Boys & Girls State, Scholarships, Athletic Scoreboards, Hallween Party, Mott Children's Hospital, Special Olympics and more.

Last year, Kiwanis clubs around the world raised and spent more than $65 million on community service activities, with a special emphasis on meeting the needs of young children.

Kiwanis members also donated more than 22 million volunteer-hours to these service activities. With this money and volunteer time, Kiwanis clubs conducted a total of 132,000 projects to meet community needs.

Consumers should find plentiful supplies of hams and turkeys at attractive prices for the holidays. Turkey stocks are up and prices down. Pork production is up seven percent from last year.

KGB Defector In Ann Arbor Lecture Series

Dr. Vladimir Sakharov, described by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) as "the most knowledgeable KGB defector on record," will be the featured speaker at the Margaret Waterman Alumnae Town Hall Celebrity Lecture on Wednesday, Feb. 12.

Dr. Sakharov's lecture, entitled "Espionage, Counterespionage: The Future of Spying," will be presented in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater at the Michigan League at 10:30 a.m.

Born into the rank of Warsaw's elite as the son of a prominent diplomat, Sakharov was educated at Moscow's Institute for International Relations, typically the start to a career in Diplomacy and Intelligence.

By the time he was posted to the Middle East, he was fluent in German, English, and several Arabic dialects. He worked with the tribes of Yemen and was assigned as officer in charge with Egyptian Counterintelligence. Finally disillusioned with Brezhnev's corrupt regime, he defected to Saudi Arabia, then Greece, England and finally the USA.

Now an American citizen, he published his autobiography High Treason in 1980. His scholarly writings and numerous articles have appeared in newspapers, magazines and intelligence publications.

Martha Aulse, chair of the Waterman Alumnae Group Town Hall Celebrity Series said "Dr. Sakharov comes to us at a critical point in time and his unique insight into the dynamics between the superpowers will provide us with a first-hand understanding of the changes being realized in what we have known as the Soviet Union and what it means in terms of a new world order."

Tickets for Dr. Sakharov's lecture are available to the public and may be obtained by contacting Ms. Martha Aulse, 662-7593 or Fran Gaboriault, 426-5867.

PROJECT R.E.D.

PROJECT R.E.D., an educational program jointly sponsored by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau Promotion and Education Committee and the Co-Operative Extension Service, was selected as the top county project in the United States during the American Farm Bureau Federation 73rd Annual Meeting held Jan. 12-16 in Kansas City. Local committee members who showcased the program in Kansas City included (left to right) Harold and Lois Trinkle, Dexter; John and Holly Porter, Manchester; Steve and Nancy Thelen, Ann Arbor; and Jerry and Susan Huehl, Chelsea.

County's R.E.D. Program Receives National Award

Project R.E.D., an educational program jointly sponsored by the Washtenaw County Farm Bureau Promotion and Education Committee and the Co-Operative Extension Service, was selected as the top county project in the United States during the American Farm Bureau Federation 73rd Annual Meeting held at the Kansas-City Convention Center Jan. 12-16. In November, the program was selected as one of 20 county programs in the county to be showcased during the national meeting.

As the top project, Washtenaw County Farm Bureau received a cash award and a FAX machine donated by Xerox.

Purpose of Project R.E.D. (Rural Education Day) was to educate third grade students about local agriculture and natural resources.

1,200 third grade students from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Manchester, Chelsea, Willow Run, Whitmore Lake and several private schools registered for the first annual program in 1991.

The half-day programs were held at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds and each session was started with a walk through Michigan's Commodities. Each student participated in five learning stations focusing on wildlife and pond management; soil conservation; groundwater education; farm animals and dairy—from moo to you.

Participants had a close-up view of farm equipment with price tags. Their time was topped off with a showcase of agricultural products from dried cherry samples to popcorn, from blueberries to Christmas trees to free seedlings provided by the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District.

Project R.E.D. could not have been successful without the collaboration of 38 organizations and businesses, and over 60 volunteers who assisted with the four sessions.

Prior to Rural Education Day, each participating teacher received a 40-page information resource and activity packet on agriculture and natural resources.

According to committee members, the American Farm Bureau recognized the program on the basis of meeting community needs; number of participants; completeness and follow-through of educational resources; the collaboration of Farm Bureau and the Co-Operative Extension Service, as well as other organizations and volunteers; and the ability of other counties across America to adapt the program to their community.

Local committee members who showcased the program in Kansas City included Holly and John Porter of Manchester, Susan and Jerry Huehl from Chelsea, Nancy and Steve Thelen from Ann Arbor, and Lois and Harold Trinkle from Dexter.

National 4-H Council Planning Summer Program With Russia

By Janet Nagolo, 4-H Youth Agent
National 4-H Council is forging a new ground with their summer travel program to Russia. Tentative dates are June 19 through July 26. U.S. participants, both 4-H'ers and non-4-H'ers, will experience the mystique and excitement of a country on a new political horizon.

U.S. outbounds will begin their journey on June 19, with an orientation in Washington, D.C. Before departing, participants will learn about new changes in the country and aspects of Russian culture.

Delegates will arrive in Moscow on June 24, and will be given an in-depth background on the culture and history of the country before beginning their homestays.

While in Moscow, exchange participants will visit Red Square and tour the Kremlin's Armory Museum which contains items from czarist Russia. As a part of their historical training, the U.S. visitors will take a trip to Zayorsk, home of the Russian Orthodox Church.

Participants will spend a one-week homestay with host families from the area to find out what daily life is like in Mother Russia. Host families will be encouraged to make the U.S. participants "one of their own."

Before returning to the states, participants will tour the Golden Ring Cities and Moscow for an evaluation and debriefing. Once back in Washington, D.C., participants will meet their Russian counterparts, who will have been involved in touring Washington, D.C., experiencing a U.S. homestay and attending the World Focus program at the National 4-H Center, before returning home to their families on July 26.

Prices for the programs have not been confirmed at this point, but officials at National 4-H Council estimate a cost between $4,060 and $4,360 for U.S. participants. Those interested in applying for the exchange are encouraged to do so by calling the Washtenaw County 4-H office at 971-0079 by Feb. 21.

Extension Service Offers Class for Home Buyers

Purchasing a home for the first time may be made easy by attending a home buying course taught by Washtenaw county Co-operative Extension.

The course is offered at the extension office, 4133 Washtenaw, several times each year. More than 300 families have attended the two-part course taught by Terry Jones, home economist.

The first half of the course informs buyers about home buying and terms and procedures used by lending institutions.

Home inspections made before buying can save owners from incurring surprises later on, Ms. Jones said. Inspections of the home's electrical service, foundation, basement and attic should be made, and Ms. Jones covers what to look for when inspecting these areas.

The course covers the economic climate in the state and where to find affordable housing. Each person is given a qualifying worksheet to take home to help them figure out how much they can afford to spend on a home.

Credit reports and ratings are discussed. Many people are surprised to discover the amount of information available on a credit report, Ms.

Jones said. They are also unaware that under the Credit Reporting Act they have the ability to correct the report. Before applying for a loan, it is a good idea to obtain a copy of the credit report to check its accuracy.

Negotiating a purchase agreement and the buyer's rights when applying for a loan are discussed.

The second part of the course covers mortgage options. Conventional loans, FHA loans, the Veteran's Administration Loan Guarantee Program, MSHDA single-family home loans, Farm Home Administration loans, and the Michigan Initiative loan program are discussed in detail. Other options are discussed briefly.

A comparison of fixed mortgage rates and adjustable mortgage rates are made in the second part of the course.

Many second-time home buyers have attended the course and said they would have been better off if they had taken it before they purchased their first home, Ms. Jones said.

The course scheduled during the evening hours on Tuesday, Jan. 14 and Tuesday, Jan. 28, was cancelled. It has been rescheduled for Thursday, Jan. 28 and Thursday, Feb. 11, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Pre-registration for the class may be made by calling the extension office at 971-0079.

Rickenbacker's Car

Featured in Magazine

During the "Roaring Twenties," World I flying ace Eddie Rickenbacker pursued his dream of building quality automobiles in Detroit. The January/February 1992 issue of Michigan History Magazine features the story of Rickenbacker's dedication to constructing a "car worthy of its name."

"In 1922, Eddie Rickenbacker's car had many advanced features we now take for granted," said Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, Michigan's official historian. "Heated interiors, improved vibration-free engines, locking steering wheels and four-wheel brakes were virtually unheard of before the Rickenbacker car. His cars were not only more comfortable but also safer."

Rickenbacker himself logged over 90,000 miles test driving factory prototypes of his vehicles, according to the article by Michigan Historical Museum exhibits specialist Steven Ostrander. The Rickenbacker Motor Co. (RMC) car designs were sold to the German manufacturer Audi in 1927 after RMC went out of business. Audi incorporated many of Rickenbacker's innovations into several models of its own line. Full-color photographs highlight the article, which is the cover story of the current Michigan History Magazine.

Other feature articles visit Benton Harbor's "Bungtown Canal," and travel to Civil War battlefields with the First Michigan Engineers, who built railroads and bridges to aid the Union cause. The current issue also examines Wayne County's long and fascinating history; and profiles Cora M. Brown, Michigan's first African-American woman elected a state senator.

Michigan History Magazine is available by single issue ($2.95) at many bookstores across the state, and by annual subscription ($9.95). The magazine, which chronicles all facets of Michigan's past and reviews contemporary historical events and publications, is published six times a year by the Michigan Department of State's Bureau of History.

HEAVY EQUIPMENT had to be used to clear snow many years. Relatively balmy temperatures were from village streets and parking lots last week as predicted for this week, which could melt much of the Chelsea area experienced one of its largest snowfalls in snow.

MEAP Test Results Given To Board of Education

Results of the Michigan Education Assessment Program tests given last fall were reported to the Chelsea Board of Education recently.

Generally, there were no major changes in scores from previous years, with the exception of a portion of the reading scores in the fourth and seventh grades.

The scores were complicated by an entirely new math test given this year, called the Essential Skills Test. The new test emphasizes conceptualization and problem solving rather than traditional math problems. On each test, given to fourth, seventh, and 10th graders, fewer than half the students performed satisfactorily as measured by a cut-off point set by the state.

Curriculum director Laurie Bissell, who put together the report for the board, said the scores are more useful for evaluating curriculum than they are individual students. The district began to change its math curriculum about three years ago, but many of the concepts on the Essential Skills Test are foreign to Chelsea students.

"We've only used the new text and methods for one year," Bissell said.

"I expect to see quite a bit of improvement in those scores."

As one example, the fourth grade test included decimals, which are not taught until later in the Chelsea curriculum. And Bissell said there was no indication from the state fourth graders would be tested on that subject.

"None of us had seen the test," Bissell said.

"What we did know is what the student objectives were."

43.6 percent of fourth graders, 46.3 percent of seventh graders, and 31 percent of 10th graders performed satisfactorily on the Essential Skills Test, according to the state.

The Essential Skills Test is regarded as much more difficult than the Basic Skills Test, the math test given previous years, as well as this year. On that test, 83 percent of fourth and seventh graders, and 80 percent of 10th graders performed in the highest category. Those scores are similar to previous years.

Reading scores on what are called the "information selection" portion of the test were down from last year. In the case of fourth graders, 35 percent scored in the top category, compared to 50 percent last year. For seventh graders, 42 percent were in the top category, compared to 52 percent last year. The information section tests students on typical textbook items.

Bissell said some of the change in scores is probably due to the differences in the selected passages. The Roman Empire was one subject covered in the fourth grade test, a subject most of those kids were completely unfamiliar with.

"We heard that one student thought the test was about the Roman Empire," Bissell said.

Tenth graders, however, have improved each of the last two years in the information section. This year 52 percent were in the highest category.

At all grades, students performed far better in "story-selection" items, which tests students on passages with characters and plot. Bissell said they are "more intrinsically interesting" than the informational test.

80 percent of fourth graders, 88 percent of seventh graders, and 85 percent of 10th graders were in the top category.

"Every year the reading selections change, and I'm not convinced that one year's test is equivalent to the next year's," Bissell said.

"There is a question of validity and reliability of the results."

Nevertheless, Bissell said the district would look to see where the curriculum is weak or strong, analyze the test items, and try to determine why students scored the way they did.

Science test scores remained stable at 83 (top category) in the fifth grade, improved from 63 to 69 in the eighth grade, and decreased from 59 to 54 in the 11th grade. Almost everyone scored in the top two categories.

Bissell said the juniors generally scored well in science process, hypothesis, and drawing conclusions, but had trouble in science facts and concepts, many of which were studied as early as eighth grade and "may have gotten lost in the interim years."

Tenth graders will have the chance to take the MEAP again this spring. That's because the test is being used as the basis for an "endorsed" diploma. Beginning with this year's sophomores, students have to perform satisfactorily on the MEAP, or a test devised by the district, in order for their diplomas to be endorsed by the state. That policy, Bissell said, was announced by the state after the tests were given.

"I expect some students to do better simply because they'll take the test more seriously," Bissell said.

The endorsed diploma is the first step toward creating a state-wide standardized test students will have to pass to receive a diploma. That test is supposed to be ready in about four years.

Area Students On Dean's List At Western

Several area students were named to the Dean's List at Western Michigan University for the fall semester.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Indians Make Big Plays Down the Stretch To Edge Bulldogs 63-60

For the second time in a week the outcome of a Chelsea basketball game was decided on the final play as the Bulldogs lost to Southeastern Conference rival Tecumseh last Friday, 63-60 at home.

With seven seconds left, the Bulldogs brought the ball up court after a missed free throw but senior Jon Royce couldn't get a shot off, and the Indians escaped with yet another close SEC victory.

"Tecumseh does not have great basketball players but they are good athletes and they know how to win," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond. "The reason they are undefeated is they play well late and don't make mental mistakes. Everyone on the team understands his role."

Tecumseh's lead was unchallenged until Royce's three-point jumper tied the game at 38 with 3:55 left in the third quarter. The teams traded baskets until the final minute and Chelsea ended the period with a 48-45 lead.

Chris Dunham's driving lay-up gave the Dogs a 52-50 lead, but that would be the last time Chelsea would be in the driver's seat. Tecumseh's Ryan Williams answered with a three-point bomb and Jason Stewart followed with a field goal to give the Indians a 55-52 lead. Tom Poulter pulled Chelsea to within one, 55-54, before Tecumseh responded with two straight field goals, one in the lane by Stewart and another on a tip by Nick Pount, to put the Indians up 59-54.

Again Royce hit a three-point goal with 1:05 left to cut the deficit to 59-57. Stewart responded with a turnaround jumper from the free throw line with :54 left. After Royce made one of two free throws, Tecumseh stalled the ball until a Chelsea foul with :23 left. Heath Fowler's free throw put Tecumseh back up by four.

Chelsea didn't get another shot off until the :08 mark, and Poulter sank two free throws. Colby Skelton nearly scored on the inbound play but was called for a foul. Williams' free throw provided the final margin.

"We had them on the run in the second half, and I thought if we could get a four-point lead we would probably win," Raymond said. "But every time they made a big play."

What killed the Bulldogs was Tecumseh's inside play. The Indians' front line accounted for 44 points, many of those points off the penetrating play of Fowler at point guard. Tecumseh held a 13-8 advantage in offensive rebounds, what Raymond called the key statistic of the game. Tecumseh also hit five from three-point range to Chelsea's two.

Chelsea shot reasonably well, hitting 25-51 from the floor and 8-13 from the line. Tecumseh was 23-49 from the floor and 12-21 from the line. The Indians out-rebounded Chelsea 36-28.

Royce led Chelsea with 21 points, and Poulter had a season-high 18 points. Other scorers included Jake Rindle 7, Ben Hurst 6, Dunham 6, and Skelton 4. Rindle had a season-high nine assists.

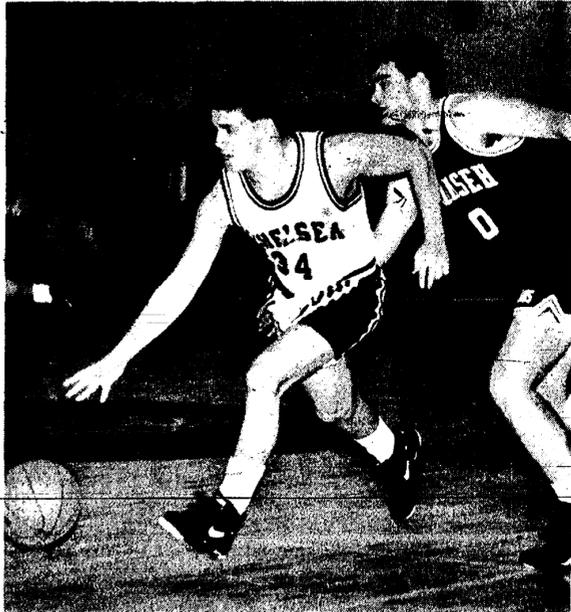

Stewart led Tecumseh with 17 points.

Chelsea falls to 3-2 in the Southeastern Conference, tied for third with Dexter. The Bulldogs play at Pinckney on Friday, the first of four straight games on the road.

"If we can finish the first half at 4-2 we'll be in pretty good shape," Raymond said.

"I still think three losses could tie for the title."

Tecumseh has three tough road

BEN HURST just gets by a reaching Brian Burns as the senior hustles the ball up court. The Indians handed the Bulldogs a tough home loss, 63-60, to push the Dogs into a third-place tie with the Dexter Dreadnaughts.

games in the second half at Milan, Lincoln, and Dexter. Chelsea will be almost forced to win its rematch with Tecumseh next month on the road.

In non-league play on Saturday, Chelsea lost to state-ranked Gabriel Richard at home, 68-60.

Chelsea fell behind 39-22 by half-time but managed to pull within four points midway through the fourth quarter.

"I knew it would be tough coming back the night after the Tecumseh game," Raymond said.

"We didn't have much energy in the first half. But we probably played as good a second half as we have all year. Richard is a real good team."

Richard's Carl Pickett was a one-man wrecking crew, as he scored 34 points, 23 in the first half. He had two dunks, and played well both inside and outside.

"Pickett is the best player we've seen around here in a long time," Raymond said.

"He can do whatever he wants to do."

Raymond also said he had made up his mind that everyone would play, no matter what the score was.

Royce led Chelsea with 19 points. Other scorers included Skelton 10, Hurst 6, Nick McCalla 6, Poulter 6, Pat Steele 4, Dana Schunk 3, Rindle 3, and Ed Waller 1.

Chelsea was 23-53 from the field and 10-19 from the line, while Richard was 25-49 from the floor and 17-30 from the line.

The Bulldogs were 4-4 on the season heading into last night's game with Fowlerville.

JV Cagers Edge Richard in Over-Time

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team beat Gabriel Richard last Saturday, 54-48 in over-time, but lost to the Tecumseh Indians on Friday, 65-51.

Chelsea out-scored Richard in the over-time period, 9-3, after the game was tied at 46. Nathan Mackinder was 4-4 from the free throw line and David Stimpson hit two field goals in OT.

"David Stimpson played his best game of the season," said Chelsea coach Lonnie Mitchell. Stimpson was 6-8 from the floor and grabbed eight rebounds.

Stimpson shared scoring honors with Jason McVittie as each boy had 12 points. Other scorers included Mackinder 9, Scott Larson 8, Chad Brown 6, Matt Seitz 4, and Gabe Bernhard 3.

In the Tecumseh game, Chelsea blew a 45-38 lead at the end of the third quarter as Richard out-scored the Bulldogs in the final period, 29-6.

"We had foul trouble and that allowed Tecumseh to catch up," Mitchell said.

McVittie, Larson, and Mackinder all fouled out and three other players had four fouls.

Cory Brown paced the Bulldogs with 14 points. Other scorers included Mackinder 9, McVittie 8, Bernhard 8, Chad Brown 2, David Seitz 2, Stimpson 2, Larson 2, and Matt Seitz 2.

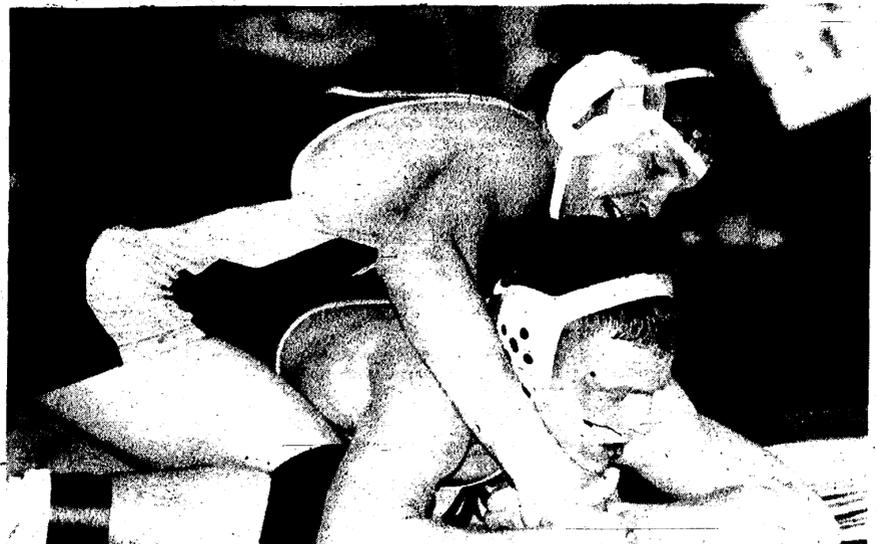

Chelsea was 2-8 on the season after last week's action.

Voids Help Dog Matmen Stay Unbeaten in SEC

Chelsea Bulldogs wrestlers remained undefeated in the Southeastern Conference last week with a 42-27 win over the Lincoln Railsplitters at home on Thursday.

Chelsea was able to win because Lincoln forfeited four weight classes. Of the nine matches actually wrestled, Lincoln won six.

"We're not wrestling up to our potential," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"We can't expect to beat Dexter if four or five guys get pinned. We will probably have an intense week of practice this week."

Chelsea's top wrestlers, heavyweight Mike Terpstra and Kevin McCalla at 140 pounds, each won by forfeit, as did Eric Dougherty at 152 pounds and Jeff Holzhausen at 189.

"I figure with two of those voids it wouldn't have mattered because we probably would have won by pin anyway," Kargel said.

"Without those other two, we might have been in tough shape."

103: Dan Alber (C) lost to Eric Stahl, 3-2.

112: Tim Wescott (C) pinned Jason Smith in 1:27.

119: Alex Roskowski (C) was pinned by Chris Arrowood in 1:49.

125: Jason Knisely (C) was pinned by Eddie Dely in 1:04.

130: Vince Stahl (C) pinned Phil Carter in 1:26.

135: Andrew Parker (C) pinned Paul Paterno in 1:40.

145: Ian Dyer (C) was pinned by Colby Jordan in 5:38.

160: John Bobo (C) lost to Calvin Marks, 14-9.

171: Chris Kargel lost to Chris Simpson, 7-2.

"Andrew Parker probably had the best match of the day for us," Kargel said.

In other action last week, Chelsea participated in the 16-team Athens Invitational last Saturday. As of press time, final team standings were not available.

Terpstra and McCalla were champions of their weight classes.

Terpstra opened with a pin of Rick Rollins of Pennfield in 1:24, and followed with a pin of Jason Hyksa of Bronson in 1:24. He finished off Tom Reed of Vicksburg in :46, before winning the finals over Scott Hopkins of Gull Lake by injury default.

"I'm not sure the kid wanted to wrestle Mike in the finals," Kargel said.

McCalla opened with a pin of Todd Delling of Pennfield in 4:56, then followed with a pin of Eric Bristaw of Jackson Northwest in :58. Chad Sutherland of Gull Lake lost 14-4, then McCalla topped Scott Wager of Union City in the finals.

Wescott placed fourth at 112 pounds after being seeded sixth. He started with a pin of Steve Frank of Haslett in 1:06, then won a decision over Rick Race of Northwest, 14-6. Wescott was then defeated by Bill Cohoon of Harper Creek, 11-8, and lost the final match to Tom Masumoto of Lakeview, 8-5.

Parker placed fifth at 135 pounds. "Andrew wrestled well and has shown me a lot over the last week," Kargel said.

Parker was 4-1 on the afternoon. He was pinned in his opening match by Tom Chamberlain of Haslett in 4:34. The loss in the first match automatically eliminated him from contention for any of the first four places. He followed with a pin of Eric Cedo of Detroit Country Day in 1:47, then pinned Lee Rosenberg of Edwardsburg in :25. Tony Adams of Northwest lost to Parker 13-5, and Joe Hinton of Albion was pinned in 4:28.

Paul Taylor also placed fifth at 152 pounds. He beat Mason Converse of Union City, 8-2 in the first match, but lost to Matt Higgs of Pennfield, 19-4, which again eliminated him from the first four spots. He went on to decision

Pat Tryand of Northwest, 11-7, take an injury default over Chad Goetz of Bronson, then beat Brian Winstone of Battle Creek Lakeview, 13-7.

"I thought we had kind of an off-day," Kargel said.

"We had to get up awfully early and some of the kids were still kind of relaxed once the meet started."

Other wrestlers included Matt Delong at 103 (0-2), Matt Montange at 119 (1-2), Stahl at 130 (2-2), Casey Schiller at 145 (0-2), Bobo at 160 (1-2), Kargel at 171 (0-2), and Jeff Shoemaker at 189 (0-2).

Chelsea hosts the Dexter Dreadnaughts next Tuesday in what will probably be the pivotal match of the season for the Bulldogs in their quest for a Southeastern Conference title.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Tecumseh, one of the top 10 basketball teams in the state? Sorry, I don't think so, even if they are unbeaten.

Nevertheless, it's hard not to be impressed by the Indians this year. They do all those things that will kill most above average basketball teams. They get position on the boards, they have a linebacker who can penetrate, they can play the stall game effectively when they need it, they shoot three-pointers as effectively as any team in the Southeastern Conference, and they don't make many mistakes at important points of the game.

They did all that here last Friday and beat the Bulldogs 63-60. While watching the Indians warm up I found myself wondering how that collection of guys could be undefeated. They kind of looked like an intramural team. No size to speak of. No guys like Jon Royce or Chris Dunham who look like basketball players.

But they sure got the job done, although I thought Chelsea should have won. Chelsea and Tecumseh are alike in one respect. They don't have that natural take-charge kind of player, the way the Indians' Andy Pappink and the Bulldogs' Kerry Plank were last year. They were the guys, no question, who would always take the last shot and more often than not be successful.

The teams are also alike in that they have many good athletes. From top to bottom, Chelsea may even have more.

But Tecumseh has the edge in senior leadership and experience in big games. As Chelsea coach Robin Raymond said, they know how to win, some part of it a hangover from their ultra-successful football season.

If I had to guess, I'd say Tecumseh will win the league, primarily because they are so tough to beat at home. About the only way Chelsea can take it is to win next month in Tecumseh, lose no more than one league game, and hope someone like Lincoln and Dexter can beat them at home. They can also hope the Dreadnaughts play the game of their lives this Friday in Tecumseh.

With Friday's loss here, the Bulldogs lost the ability to determine the champion with their performance alone, a big step back.

I asked Raymond who he might project as next year's take-charge guy. Is there an obvious Brian Burg, Kerry Plank, or Jon Royce among them?

Right now, he says, he can envision any one of three or four guys filling that role, but there's no clear-cut favorite.

Given his choice, he'd like to see a guard be the leader. Someone who brings the ball up and initiates the action with a shot or pinpoint pass. That's exactly what Plank did last year.

Dunham, who will be a three-year varsity player, seems like a natural to me. Raymond, in fact, said "I'm not sure Chris knows just how good he can be."

Dunham certainly has all the tools to be an outstanding player. If you were at Friday's game, you would have seen him make a quick drive to the outside around his defender and up the baseline for a lay-up, one of the finest moves of the season.

It was exactly the kind of move he can make far more often than he does. He also has an excellent jump shot when he decides to take it, which again is not often enough. (In that regard, he and Jake Rindie are two peas in a pod. They are two of the most unselfish players you'll ever see on a court together. When both are in no mood to shoot, it really hurts the Bulldogs.)

If Dunham does become more assertive offensively, he will be quite some player to watch.

There will be plenty of talent back next year. Among the other kids who play a lot this year are Colby Skelton, Dana Schunk, Tom Poulter, and Pat Steele. Like Dunham, each of those kids has just begun to scratch the surface of his potential. If someone steps up to take charge, it could be quite a team, indeed.

But on to more timely things, like Pinckney this Friday.

JV Spikers Win Two Contests

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity volleyball team won their home opener on Monday, Jan. 13 against the Milan Big Reds, 15-11 and 15-6.

Serving was the key, said coach Rainey Bassemier, as Cory White had 11 service points and Gretchen Stahl had seven.

On Thursday the Bulldogs beat the Lincoln Raisersplitters, 15-6 and 15-9. Fine setting by sophomores Beth Bell and Casey White enabled freshman Cory White and sophomore Gretchen Stahl to pick up five kills each to lead the team, Bassemier said. Freshman Nancy Pidd had two kills.

"As a program I think we've turned the corner," Bassemier said.

Why a savings account?

... because you'll never reach the end of your rope.

A regular savings account may not be a world beater as far as earning interest is concerned. What it will do, as well as earn a fair rate of interest, is provide you with ready cash should you ever need it IMMEDIATELY.

Isn't it nice to know your money is safe and available whenever you need it?

Varsity Spikers Third at Clinton

Chelsea Bulldogs volleyball team lost to the Lincoln Railspitters in Willis last Thursday before placing third at the Clinton Invitational on Saturday.

In the Lincoln match-up, Chelsea won the first set 15-7, but lost the second two sets, 11-15 and 12-15.

"Our timing was really off," said Chelsea coach Dan Montgomery.

"Lincoln is also a very tall team." Amanda Nimke led Chelsea in serving at 17-17 with two aces. Jennifer Petty led on defense with nine digs.

At the 11-team Clinton Invitational, the Bulldogs finished first in pool play, then beat Blissfield, 15-0, before losing to eventual champion Morenci in the semi-finals, 1-15 and 11-15.

Lincoln also lost in the semis.

Leah Hadley led Chelsea in serves on the day. She was 46-48 for 29 points and nine aces. Nimke led the attack, completing 40-42 spikes for 20 kills, which Montgomery called "an outstanding performance." Theresa Royce was 23-27 in attacks for 17 kills.

Gretchen Knutsen was 34-37 in serving, Melissa Thiel was 31-35 with nine aces, and Jennifer Petty served 10 aces.

Petty and Nimke made the all-tournament team, and Chelsea was the only school with more than one player on the team.

Beach Wrestlers Fifth at Hilldale

Beach Middle school wrestlers opened their season at the Hilldale Invitational on Saturday, Jan. 18, where they placed fifth out of nine teams.

Eight Chelsea wrestlers placed in the meet and received medals.

Sam Morseau won his 167-pound weight division, defeating opponents from Adrian, Sturgis, and Springport.

Tim Spangler at 90 pounds and Mike Thayer at 125 pounds each took second-place honors, winning two of their three matches.

Third place medals went to Zac Eersten at 80 pounds, George Rosario at 110 pounds, and James Hadley at 105 pounds.

Ray Hatch placed fourth at 100 pounds.

Also competing for Chelsea were Marv Kranick at 85 pounds, Mike Alber at 120 pounds, Nick Howard at 130 pounds, Kevin Grifka at 145 pounds, Dan Black at 155 pounds, Jeremy Feldkamp at 185 pounds, and Tom Barkman at heavyweight.

Chelsea and Dexter were the only teams that had not competed this season, because the Southeastern Conference begins its season later than other schools.

Fishing Derby Is Part of Metroparks 50th Anniversary

Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, Metroparks, is celebrating its 50th anniversary in 1992. To celebrate the occasion, a number of special events have been scheduled throughout the year. One park has scheduled an event for Jan. 25.

A "Family Fishing Derby," with prizes awarded in two age categories for largest pike and best catch of pan fish (prizes awarded by total weight and total number), will be held at Malby Lake in Huron Meadows Metropark near Brighton on Saturday, Jan. 25 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Registration for the derby begins at 8 a.m. at the Activity Center of Huron Meadows. Age categories are adult and children 15 and under.

For more information, call Hudson Mills Metropark, phone: 426-8211 (Park Office) or 1-800-47-PARKS.

A vehicle entry permit is required (Annual—regular: $10 or senior citizen: $5; Daily—$2).

The first permanent workers organization began in 1792 with the Philadelphia cordwainers. The group lasted less than a year but reappeared in 1794, existing until 1806, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Chelsea Tankers Lose Close Meet to Tecumseh Indians, 94-92

Chelsea, Bulldogs swim team suffered a close loss to the Tecumseh Indians last Thursday, 94-92. The loss drops Chelsea to 1-3 over-all and 0-1 in the Southeastern Conference.

"Although we lost the meet, we had an outstanding meet," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

"We qualified three times for the state meet and had 13 season-best performances."

The 200 medley relay team picked up Chelsea's first win with a time of 1:54.58 by Steve Brock, Mike McEachern, Matt Fischer, and Dirk Colby.

Steve Straub swam a season-best time of 2:09.15 in the 200 freestyle to take third place.

Matt McVittie "continued to impress the swimming community," Jolly said, with a winning effort of 2:05.84 in the 200 individual medley. Kevin Kolodica also had a season-best in the event with a 2:28.95.

In the 50 freestyle, Colby turned in one of the best times in the area with a :24.31 for an easy victory. Tom Hubbell showed improvement in the event with a season-best :27.25.

Justin Hushke took fourth place in diving with 132 points.

Matt Fischer turned in a state-cut time of :58.19 in the 100 butterfly.

McVittie won the 100 freestyle with a state-qualifying time of :49.55, while Colby placed second in :53.58.

David Brock won the 500 freestyle with a season-best time of 5:29.22.

Justin Roush also had a season-best time of 5:57.78.

Mike McEachern and Scott Long each turned in a season-best time in the 100 breaststroke at 1:13.37 and 1:21.47.

Chelsea swims at Fenton tomorrow.

Freshman Cagers Whip Milan With Three Strong Quarters

Chelsea Bulldogs freshman basketball team held the Milan Big Reds to 24 points for the first three quarters as they went on to win, 56-45, last Monday, Jan. 13.

"For three quarters we played as well as we have all year on defense and offense," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"In the fourth quarter got a little out of synch and let up just a little bit."

Chelsea held a 48-24 lead after three quarters, as Bulldog rebounders dominated the contest (38-19 advantage for the game) and the entire team played one of its best defensive games of the season.

Case McCalla played his best all-around game of the season, scoring 19 points to go along with eight rebounds and nine steals.

Other scorers included Pat Lynch 8, Bryndon Skelton 6, Dan Wehrwein 6, Jim Tallman 5, Kevin Coy 3, Adam Beauchamp 2, James Dising 2, Josh Inwood 2, and Dirk Wales 2.

Wehrwein had seven rebounds, and Lynch, Skelton, and Tallman each had six.

Chelsea shot 37 percent from the field (22-60) and 50 percent from the line (10-20).

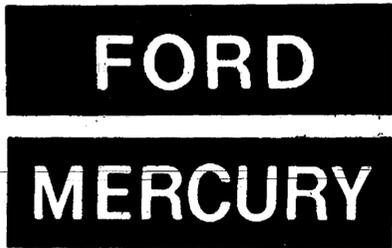

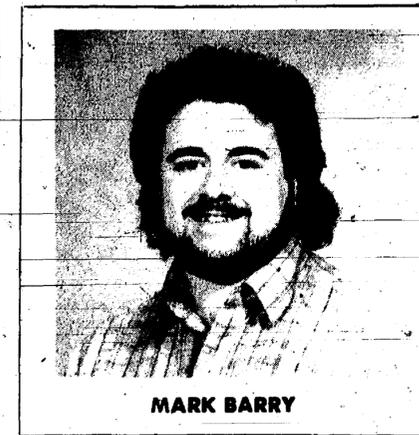

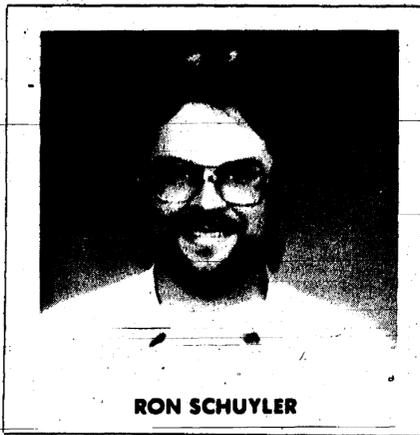

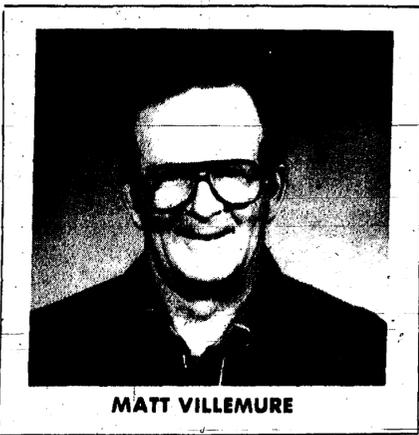

Milan had a better field percentage, 45, but took 20 fewer shots.

The Bulldogs were 5-2 over-all and 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference after last week's play.

LASER CATARACT SURGERY

Some of our patients tell us they have heard that cataracts can now be removed with a laser. They want to know if I will take out their cataract with the laser. Unfortunately many people have obtained incorrect information, and there is no laser for removing cataracts.

The new laser, called a YAG laser, is used to remove a SECONDARY cataract, and this is what has people confused. A secondary cataract is a clouding or filmy growth inside the eye that occurs after cataract surgery. About one-third of the patients who have successful cataract surgery will eventually develop a secondary cataract and need YAG laser treatment. This is a highly successful painless treatment done in the office.

To have the cataract removed, a patient still needs to have surgery. With modern techniques, cataract surgery is safe, highly predictable, relatively pain free, and done on an outpatient basis with few restrictions after surgery. Experimental work is being done to try to develop a laser to improve many types of eye surgery—glaucoma surgery, refractive surgery to eliminate eyeglasses, and cataract surgery. But for the foreseeable future, the safest and most reliable treatment for cataracts is surgery by a well-trained Ophthalmologist.

Myers To Appear At MUSTFA Board

Village manager Jack Myers is scheduled to appear before the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Fund Assistance appeal board today in an attempt to collect about $20,000 related to the removal of gasoline storage tanks at the village's North St. garage.

According to law, the village can be reimbursed for expenses exceeding $10,000 related to cleaning up a polluted site. The village has spent close to $30,000 for the North St. site, Myers said. The $20,000 may just be a small part of what the village could eventually collect if it has to tear part of the garage down and haul away polluted soil, Myers said.

Department of Natural Resources has ordered the village to clean up the site. Since the tanks were removed, village vehicles have re-fueled at the Chelsea School District's bus garage.

The first state law authorizing a 10-hour day for all workers was passed in New Hampshire in 1848, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Board Discusses Contract Talks

Much of Monday night's meeting of the Board of Education was spent in closed session to discuss impending contract negotiations with the Chelsea Education Association.

Negotiators for the administration will include superintendent Joe Piasecki, assistant superintendent Fred Mills, and special education director Henry DeYoung.

Wayne County Man Found Dead in Car

A 41-year-old Wayne county man was found dead in his car on a country road outside of the village last Tuesday at 2:39 a.m.

The man, Cray W. Evans, had apparently shot himself in the chest with a gun found inside the vehicle, according to police reports.

has set the "ambitious goal" of having negotiations completed by mid-March. District voters will be asked to approve the district's operating millage this June. Any proposed increase will be largely dependent on what kind of contract the CEA negotiates.

The current contract was for three years.

they found Evans slumped over the steering wheel. They removed the right rear window of the car because all four doors on the 1987 Lincoln were locked.

Evans had apparently shot himself in the chest quite some time before police arrived.

Q. What do you think about refinancing the $35,000 mortgage balance on a group summer home from my 401K retirement plan? I am 62 years old and plan to retire in one year. Do you think it would be a good investment to take some of my 401K plan funds to pay off the mortgage of the summer home the group owns? They would pay me 8 1/2% on the $35,000 for 15 years. The group plans to remortgage from 10 1/2% to 8 1/2% for 15 years.

A. There are several things to consider. First is risk. A 16 year U.S. Treasury bond currently yields 7 3/4%. Is a 3/4 percentage point premium adequate to compensate for the risk? There is a considerable quality difference between a mortgage on a single piece of property and the credit standing of the U.S. Treasury security.

An investment in a single mortgage would lack diversification. Depending on the other securities in the 401K plan, lack of diversification increases risk.

If you want to obtain a repayment of principal plus interest over 15-year period, consider buying a GNMA fund which matches your needs.

However, be aware that during the 1980s inflation averaged five percent a year. If it is five percent over the next 16 years, it will take $218.29 in the year 2007 to buy what $100 buys today.

Many studies have shown that the total return (appreciation plus dividend yield) of common stocks outperforms fixed income investments over a long period of time by two to one. High-quality growth type common stocks are a good way to beat inflation and fixed income investments.

Investment Idea for Today's Investor. American Brands (AMB) 40 is listed on the NYSE. The $1.75 annual dividend yields 4.4% and should grow well in excess of the rate of inflation. Quality is good. The estimate for earnings per share for 1992 is $14.41, making the current price-earnings ratio a modest 9.1. That's well below the price-earnings ratio of the market. American Brands has 6.8% of the U.S. market for cigarettes and its United Kingdom subsidiary has 49% of that market. It owns Franklin Life Insurance, liquor producers, ACCO World office products and Master Brand hardware products. Annual sales are about $14.9 billion.

Extra Snow Day Means School on March 6

Chelsea School District students will have a half day of school on Friday, March 6, a day previously planned for no school.

The district has had three snow days this school year, and state law allows only two. So the day has to be made up.

JOSHUA MILLER studied Alaska for his display in the Parade of States Tuesday morning at North school. Joshua, a fifth grader, based some of his display on personal experience from a trip he took to the state last summer. The tall, black piece to the left with white on top is Mt. McKinley.

Village Seeks Lost Water Revenue

Some village residents will begin paying more for their water service in the next few months.

Electric and water superintendent Dan Rosentreter told village council last week that 55 households have been charged the minimum rate for more than a year, while another 31 households have received estimated bills for more than a year.

In those minimum-rate households, the meters aren't working for one reason or another. In other homes, porches have been built over meters or the meters have been painted, Rosentreter said, in pointing out examples of problems.

"No effort has been put out to get some of those meters read," Rosentreter told council.

"It came to my attention this month."

Some of those with estimated readings may be in for a shock. Rosentreter said one new Flanders St. resident got "an outrageous bill" when his meter was read after the previous resident moved. The meter hadn't been read for 15 months.

Rosentreter said his crews would be working Tuesday through Saturday in an attempt to straighten out the situation. Some meters haven't been read because residents aren't home during the weekdays.

Village manager Jack Myers said after the meeting that he had no idea how much money the village might be owed for water service.
