A HOUSE on Hadley Rd., about half a mile from North Territorial burned last Tuesday. Chelsea Fire Department said the fire started in a bedroom, but the cause was undetermined. No one was hurt although a dog and a cat died in the blaze. The house belongs to Bethel church in Ann Arbor.

Satterthwaite Plans To Challenge Steele For Village President

Former village president Jerry Satterthwaite said Monday he is "99 percent sure" he'll attempt to oust village president Richard Steele in the March 9 elections.

Satterthwaite said he has his petition filled out and plans to turn it in by next Monday's deadline. He also said he has persuaded former village trustee Gary Bentley to seek re-election to council.

"At this point, I'm pretty committed," Satterthwaite said.

Satterthwaite said he believes he has support from the business community in his bid for re-election. Two years ago Steele beat Satterthwaite, 279-198, after Satterthwaite announced he would not seek a fourth term then changed his mind a few days later.

"I can't say that it didn't hurt when I lost, but I needed to get away from it," Satterthwaite said.

Satterthwaite said his primary motivation to run is his dissatisfaction with Steele's job as president. To a lesser extent, he said, he is also dissatisfied with some members of council.

He also admitted the Charles Ritter factor may have also influenced his decision. Former village president Ritter has hinted he might run for office, possibly president, although as of Monday morning he had not turned in a nominating petition. Satterthwaite said he is concerned that if Steele faces Ritter, Steele would lose, due both to voter dissatisfaction as well as recent allegations in a lawsuit against the village involving an electrical department employee demotion.

Steele announced his intention to seek re-election several months ago.

In other election developments, zoning inspector Rosemary Harook said she has decided not to run for council, saying she believed she would not get the necessary respect from other members of council.

Others who have reportedly picked up nominating petitions are incumbent trustees Joe Merkel and Frank Hammer, zoning board member Harry Thurkow, and resident Brian Cashman.

Incumbent trustee Jim Finch has said he will not seek re-election due to other commitments.

As of Monday, the only person who had returned a completed petition to the village was incumbent treasurer Kathleen Chapman.

Deadline for petitions is Monday, Feb. 3 at 4 p.m.

Board To Consider Permanent Budget Cuts

Chelsea Board of Education has asked the district administration to devise a plan for permanent budget cuts for school district's budget.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills said the amount was unspecified but indicated the plan would probably include cuts totaling about $200,000. He said he and superintendent Joe Piasecki would probably present a plan to the board by early March.

"I think the board is saying that taxpayers are making adjustments in their own budgets and (the board) wants to look at reducing the school budget," Mills said.

Mills said that, in the end, the proposed cuts may "not be palatable" to the board and might not be adopted. He emphasized the board at this point only wants to see whether the cuts are feasible.

The cuts, Mills said, would be implemented before the June general election. In other words, the operating millage request would be made with those cuts already included.

Mills did not say what form the proposed cuts might take. The district's past approach of cuts across the board would probably not be used, he said, which means it's likely entire programs or positions would be eliminated.

In August of 1989 the board asked for a 2.1 mill increase in operating funds to avoid $493,500 in cuts. Some of those proposed cuts included middle school and ninth grade sports and the Enrichment Triad Program at North and South schools. Whether any of those programs would be in jeopardy has not been determined.

Cuts totaling $200,000 equal approximately .75 mills in tax levy, Mills said.

Lawsuit Against Village Awaits Official Response

The village has until Monday, Feb. 3 to respond to a law suit filed by electric department employee Paul Newhouse.

A copy of the suit, filed in Washtenaw County Circuit Court, was delivered to the village offices on Monday, Jan. 13, about two weeks after it was filed. Village labor attorney Dave Kempner said he was surprised it took so long for the papers to be delivered.

Newhouse, former acting-superintendent of the electric and water department, contends he was demoted due to an incident at village president Richard Steele's house. Newhouse allegedly asked Washtenaw county whether a permit had been issued for electrical work at Steele's house on Lincoln St. The inquiry resulted in a fine of $80 for Steele, double the permit fee. The work was being performed by a Chelsea electrical contractor.

The suit contends a violation of the Whistleblower's Act occurred.

Newhouse had been named acting-superintendent following the retirement of superintendent Bud Hafner.

Since Newhouse's demotion, Dan Rosentreter, a public works employee, has been moved into the position. That appointment has come under public criticism.

Kempner said the suit could be settled quickly or could drag on for months or years depending on how he decides to proceed. He said many village officials are upset by the suit because they believe it questions their character.

Dedication To Honor Memory of Cameron

For the past two years, local artist Ben Bower has been at work on a mural depicting the growth of the educational system in the Chelsea School District. This mural, hanging in the Board Room at the Chelsea High School Administration Building, will be dedicated in memory of Charles S. Cameron, who made his life's work the betterment of the educational system here. Cameron died in 1989.

The mural, which includes written history, pictures, and names, covers the period 1834 through 1978—the year Cameron retired. There are plans to continue the mural into the next century as time will allow.

The medium used on the mural is water-color pencil on 140-lb. rag content paper, and is protected by both glass and ultra violet-proof plexiglass.

The dedication is set for Sunday, Feb. 9, at 3 p.m. The Board Room will also be open for the public to view the mural on Saturday, Feb. 8, from 2 to 4 p.m. Ben and some members of the Cameron family will be there on both days to greet the public and to answer questions.

Winter Carnival Slated This Week-End at Lake

The 19th Annual Winter Carnival sponsored by the Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of the American Legion will be held this Friday through Sunday at the post home at Cavanaugh Lake. Doors open at 6 p.m. Friday.

New to the carnival will be the Cavanaugh Lake Chili Cook-off. Competition will begin at noon on Saturday with judging between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. Judges will include Gina Pantaly and Helen Panos from Gina's Cafe, Craig Common from the Common Grill, Pat Cleary from Cleary's Pub, Lenard McDougall, Chelsea police chief and American Legion commander, and Larry Doll, Tim Collins, and Steve Jones from the cook-off committee.

It will be a "renegade" cook-off, which means cooks can add beans and other fillers along with different varieties of chilis. Samples will be available to the public for a small fee. Anyone who would still like to enter may call Larry Doll on weekdays at 662-3213.

Activities for the week-end begin at 7:30 p.m. on Friday with a Euchre Tournament. Euchre master John Popovich will begin the competition. Entry fee is $3 and there will be cash prizes.

The annual two-day Ice Fishing Derby begins Saturday at 7 a.m. Fishing will be on Cavanaugh Lake only. First through third place prizes will be awarded in three categories. (Continued on page five)

Recycling Group Revises Estimates on Collections

Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority is predicting it will recycle about 4,000 tons of materials annually once the program gets running later this year.

That's about 50 percent more than original estimates put together for the authority's $330,000 state grant, said vice-chair Frank Hammer.

The authority estimates it will collect about 3,000 tons from residences and about 1,100 tons from businesses. Residential recyclables will include glass, cans, newspaper, and milk jugs, while most of the business material will consist of corrugated cardboard.

In other authority business, Hammer said the authority may be able to pick up a used $75,000 recycling truck by the end of the month. The authority found the truck last year, but the purchase has been on hold until grant money became available.

The authority has applied to Lyndon township for a special use permit for its proposed materials processing center at the village landfill on Werkner Rd.

The authority is also working on preliminary cost estimates for finishing site work for the materials center, as well as construction of the actual building. It is also trying to determine the final size of the boiler needed for the facility. The boiler, one of the key pieces of equipment, compresses and bundles materials for shipment.

Hammer said he hoped the authority would be able to order the boiler soon.

Attorneys for the authority are also reviewing contracts to be signed with the Department of Natural Resources as well as Washtenaw county. Although the county is not operating the program, the county will manage reimbursements to the authority from the state grant.

The grant will reimburse 75 percent of capital expenditures for the authority, to a total of $330,000. The authority has sold $500,000 in notes through the county to provide start-up money.

Residents of Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, Dexter, Manchester, Freedom and Bridgewater townships are being assessed $17 per year for five years to run the program, while households in Chelsea and Manchester villages are being assessed $30 annually for curbside programs. Sharon township is paying for its residents' special assessment out of its general fund this year, but next year plans to switch to the assessment.

Village's MUSTFA Appeal Cancelled by State

Village of Chelsea's appeal to the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Fund Assurance board last Wednesday was cancelled at the last minute by the state, according to village manager Jack Myers.

Myers said he was given no reason for the cancellation and the appeal has not been re-scheduled.

At issue is about $20,000 the village has spent to remove underground gasoline storage tanks at its electric and water department building on North St. Soil pollution was detected around the site, and the Department of Natural Resources ordered the tanks removed.

MUSTFA will reimburse costs over $10,000 for the removal of the tanks, as well as testing and cleaning up the site. So far the village has spent about $30,000, Myers said. The village has hired a company approved by the DNR to test soil at the site and make recommendations on how to proceed with the clean-up. Part of the building may have to be torn down. It's also possible a vapor extraction system may be recommended, which would spare the building from demolition.

Chelsea Fire Department has expressed an interest in storing antique fire trucks in the building.

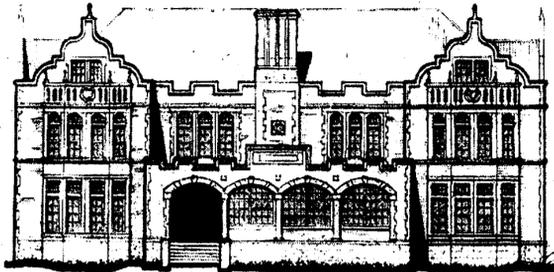

Myers said tests show the gasoline (Continued on page two)

Items taken from the files of The Chelsea Standard

4 Years Ago . . .

Wednesday, Feb. 3, 1988—

Chelsea School Board adopted new graduation requirements effective for the class of 1992. Adoption of this measure meant that Chelsea would meet the suggested state requirements. Chelsea High school students would now have to take two years of science and math and a computer literacy course.

Two Chelsea general partners planned to build a 40-50 unit motel off M-52 close to I-94 in the southern end of the village. Bill Weber and Jim Nye purchased nearly four acres of land behind Broderick Shell station from Chuck Broderick and planned to build the hotel the next summer.

The developer of Chelsea's first shopping mall was given final-site plan approval by the village planning commission. Site preparation would begin in March and construction in April. Construction was anticipated to take six months on the site prior to Chelsea Community Fair grounds.

United Way awards were presented at the Woodland Room at the Chelsea Community Hospital. The purpose of the awards, according to awards committee chair John Detling, was "to recognize and show appreciation to the many unselfish people and businesses of Chelsea."

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Feb. 2, 1978—

Mail deliveries in and around Chelsea were halted for three days following a howling blizzard that paralyzed the area. Area shoppers who managed to battle their way through the snow drifts to the grocery store were confronted by a shortage of bread, milk, meat and snacks as suppliers were also unable to make deliveries.

This week-end marked the fifth annual Herbert J. McKune Post 4076 American Legion Winter Carnival and the abundance of snow made for fine skiing—and snowmobiling weather.

Scott Price was this week's featured cager. As a junior, Price marked his first year on the varsity squad.

The SCAT band would present a free concert at the American Legion Home during the final day of the Winter Carnival.

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Feb. 1, 1968—

The March of Dimes dance held at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club raised $351.50 for the March of Dimes' fight against birth defects.

At the regular meeting of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, Sylvan Township Supervisor Maurice Hoffman spoke on the coming lower court reorganization which called for the abolishment of justice courts.

Chelsea Fire Chief James Gaken released the fire department's statistics for 1967, revealing that area losses totalled $85,590.

Larry Dann of W. Summit St. won the top prize of a wristwatch in the March of Dimes bowling tournament county roll-off in Milan. He bowled a three-game total of 632.

34 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Jan. 30, 1958—

Stanley Plicht and Louis Birch purchased the business operated by John Panarites as "John's" on N. Main St. for more than 30 years. Another business that "changed hands" was Osborne's Department Store on N. Main St. which was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morgan.

Chelsea Rod and Gun Club members and Detroit and Jackson area hunters who participated in the club's fourth annual fox hunt numbered 115.

The Sylvan Township Zoning Board approved the application of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit for a conditional use permit to use the Franklin Van Valkenburg farm for a private school for boys.

The Rev. and Mrs. Philip Rusten were honored at a reception held at the Congregational church.

Federal Agency Finds DNR Changes Acceptable

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has given the Engler administration the "green light" on broad executive order changes to the Department of Natural Resources, saying it will not interfere with administration of the federal environmental protection acts, Governor John Engler reported.

"There do not appear to be any obstacles to a smooth transition of continued implementation of the Federal Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, and Resource Conservation and Recovery Act programs in Michigan," said EPA regional administrator Val Adamkus.

The EPA requested additional information regarding how the state will meet federal public participation and conflict of interest requirements before it will give final approval to the department's changes, however.

The administration will have to provide the agency with a program statement and information on staff and funding levels also, although the federal officials say the request is largely procedural.

Opponents to the department's restructuring responded that even with the agency's nod the orders have serious political, constitutional and administrative problems.

Rick Jameson, from Michigan United Conservation Clubs, said the significant differences between public access to the decision makers now and that under the executive orders should warrant renegotiation of administrative agreements with the EPA.

The National Wildlife Federation and MUCC had asked the agency in early December to investigate possible violations of federal law by the reorganization by no longer complying with conflict-of-interest and public participation provisions.

Three individual suits, filed by House Speaker Lewis Dodak (D-Montrose, Michigan United Conservation Clubs and Michigan Environmental Protection Fund on behalf of four other environmental organizations and seven individuals, challenge the constitutional merits of the proposed changes.

The orders eliminate 19 citizen boards and commissions and transfer their decision-making authority to the department director.

They also create a Michigan Environmental Science Board that would play a direct role in policy decisions without being subject to the Open Meetings or Freedom of Information Acts.

Opponents have charged these changes violate their right to make their views known to the decision makers, to have an open, accessible and accountable government.

Marcia McBrien, attorney for Michigan Environmental Protection Fund said the EPA's response does not answer a lot of vital questions and the legal challenges will continue regardless of the federal agency's position on the orders.

But Engler applauded the agency's announcement. "My reorganization of the DNR will make the department more accessible and accountable," he said adding, "It's time we moved forward to manage our resources, reduce backlogs and clean up toxic sites. The EPA's green light puts the DNR further down the road to achieving our goals."

Tobacco Tax Gains Bipartisan Legislative Support

A tax increase on all tobacco products pushed by an anti-smoking coalition led by the Department of Public Health gained bipartisan support in the House as Reps. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) and William Bryant (R-Grosse Pointe) said they will introduce implementing legislation.

The legislators estimate their proposal would raise more than $220 million in new revenue, with most earmarked to supplement underfunded prenatal and infant health care, substance abuse and tobacco cessation programs, respiratory health care and programs targeting children in grades one through three at risk of failing to complete high school.

The current tax on cigarettes would be doubled to 50 cents per pack under the legislation, and other tobacco products would be covered by a 48 percent tax.

"The number one preventable cause of health problems in our country is tobacco," Bullard said. "Increasing the cigarette tax and placing a tax on other tobacco products will cause some users to cut back or quit, and will deter many, particularly children, from taking up this killer habit in the first place."

Under the legislation, almost $213 million would be earmarked, with 10 percent for Bryant's Respiratory Health Account, a new account with Treasury to fund education, research, prevention and treatment of respiratory illnesses; 20 percent for substance abuse programs, including those to help quit smoking; 20 percent for prenatal and infant health care and 41 percent for children at risk.

The rest would be apportioned to the general fund, school aid fund and the existing health/safety fund. "We currently waste $2 billion each year on smoking-related health care and productivity costs," Bullard said.

Bryant added the tax will require bipartisan legislative support and Governor John Engler's co-operation. "I am hopeful we can end up with a tobacco tax package which can secure both," he said.

Engler is expected to announce his position on the cigarette tax proposal in the near future.

Contamination

pollution is well away from the village wells and that underground water flows away from the wells. He said the company, Traverse Group, plans to take one more set of soil samples.

In the meantime, the new electric and water building at the village industrial park should be ready for occupation by early spring, Myers said.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Everthing runs in cycles, and education made the rule that says everthing that goes around comes around. School administrators that have nothing to do but justify their jobs jump on ever fad that comes down the pike.

Ed Doolittle read from a clipping at the country store Saturday night that schools are discovering geography. Ed told the fellers that's the good news: The bad news is that two cycles of students have gone through public schools without ever seeing a geography book. Schools decided 25 years back that this was not a subject by itself, and they dumped it in the pot of Irish stew called social studies.

Now schools have found out that one out of seven high school graduates under 35 year old can't point to the United States on a world map, only one in four know where the Pacific Ocean is, and full 90 percent can't find Vietnam. Ed said it's to bad geography got lost in the shuffle like Latin, but now is the best possible time to put it back at the head of the class.

With the way the world map has changed in the past two year, Ed said, the best news is that students won't have to unlearn the old map of Europe before they learn the new one. And from the way ever limb off the Soviet tree is getting set up as a country it's a good time fer folks of all ages to take a refresher course in geography.

The fellers were general agreed that news and education is like styles in wimmen's clothes. One season the lenth of skirts is all you hear about, Bug Hookum noted, and the next time you look the gals don't care whther the skirts are long or short, as long as they're all wearing the same layers and colors and lace up leather shoes that was high fashion in their great-grandma's day.

For a solid month, Bug went on, all you read about is the homeless. Then the spotlight lingers on wimmen's rights before moving on to ruining the world agin by paving all the wetlands and logging all the rain forests. Bug was of a mind that national news works like one of them computer viruses. Onct it gits in the system it infects everthing in it until a stronger virus happens along to push it aside, was Bug's words.

Onct in a blue moon, Bug went on, the news chain letter breaks. Fer instant, we don't git the usual run on how holiday traffic accidents compares with them fer the same holiday last year. The auto club that was keeping the statics relized they made no sense because accidents during holidays are no worse than at other times. The next change might be that we don't need to name ever storm because onct you've seen one you've seen em all. Besides, we got weather all the time and it's all a matter of degree anyway.

Personal, I didn't git in the discussion but the more I thought of Bug's lament the less I thought of it. What he's saying is that nothing is news because everthing is olds. This can't be right because ever tick of the clock is a new one if we accept the idee of the passing of time. If time passes more time has to take its place and everthing that comes takes the place of everthing that went.

It might be, like Ed said, that you news people git in a rut instead of a groove and start digging out old stories, changing the names and numbers and offering em as fresh, but new news is out there all the time. Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

ENGAGED: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lebedeff of Westland have announced the engagement of their daughter, Janice Marie, to Todd Edgar Ortring, son of Mrs. Patricia Bennett of Chelsea and the late Lester Bennett, and the late Henry Ortring. Janice graduated from Livonia Franklin High school in 1987 and the Center for Creative Studies, Detroit, in 1991. Todd is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school and a 1979 graduate of Ferris State University. Both are employed at S.B.&A. Advertising in Ann-Arbor. A 1940's style outdoor wedding is planned for April 25.

Mark and Kendra Manduzzi

Kendra Neibauer Marries Mark Manduzzi in Chelsea

Kendra D. Neibauer, daughter of Michael and Emma Neibauer of Chelsea, and Mark K. Manduzzi, son of Al and Helen Manduzzi of Vermillion, O., were married Nov. 16 at St. Mary's Catholic church.

The Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis performed the ceremony before 225 guests.

Solist was Donna Neibauer, sister-in-law of the bride. LaVonne Harris was the pianist and Ron Harris played the trumpet.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with lace. The gown had a fitted waist and a high collar accented throughout with sequins, beads, and pearls. The sleeves had a slight puff and a heart applique. The train was chapel-length and trimmed with lace, sequins, and pearls. The bride wore a crowned headpiece with veil and carried a bouquet of white orchids and pink roses.

Maid of honor was Heather Neibauer, sister of the bride. She wore a sapphire blue tea-length dress with a lace top and carried a bouquet of orchids.

Bridemaids were Beth Overbo of Anchorage, Alaska, friend of the bride, Nancy Dwyer of Northville, sister of the bridegroom, Pam Przywara of Westland, cousin of the bride, Deb Hadley of Tecumseh, Ontario, Can., sister of the bridegroom, and Carrie Neibauer of Chelsea, sister-in-law of the bride. Their dresses were the same as the maid of honor's.

The bride's mother wore a light blue suit with a sequined and pearl collar. The bridegroom's mother wore a light dusty-rose suit.

Flowergirl was Kourtney Neibauer, niece of the bride.

Best man was Dave Karasiewicz, friend of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Greg Wease, friend of the bridegroom, Al Manduzzi, cousin of the bridegroom, Michael Neibauer, brother of the bride, Jim Manduzzi, brother of the bridegroom, and Keith Neibauer, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at Roma Hall in Livonia. Guest book was kept by Jamie and Diana Ferriss, cousins of the bride.

The couple took a two-week honeymoon trip to Hawaii. They are living in Vermillion.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Chelsea High school and earned a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering at Ohio Northern University in 1989. She is employed at Ford Motor Co. in Lorain, O.

The bridegroom is a 1980 graduate of Southfield High school. He earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering at Lawrence Tech in 1985. He is also employed at Ford in Lorain.

Sharon Mills Winery Wins Bronze Medals for Two Wines

Sharon Mills Winery of Manchester recently won two awards in the 1991 American Wine Society's Commercial Wine Competition.

The winery won bronze medals for its 1983 Chardonnay Sparkling Wine and its 1988 Riesling Sparkling Wine.

The 1988 Riesling also won a bronze medal at the American Wine Competition/Beverage Testing Institute, published in the December issue of Wine & Spirits Magazine.

The winery just released its 1989 "Rose of Sharon," a Michigan champagne described as a full-flavored light pink sparkling wine, a blend of "Old Mission Peninsula Chardonnay and Pinot Noir."

The winery is open every Saturday and Sunday from noon until 5 p.m. for sales and complimentary samples.

For more information call Michael Hawker at 426-3270.

Area Students On GVSU List

Three area students made the Dean's List at Grand Valley State University for the fall semester.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
Concerning the front page article of the Jan. 23, 1992 Chelsea Standard "School District Adopts New Curriculum on Human Sexuality Study": I think that it's important that parents understand that though the entire 5th through High School Sex Education program has been re-worked, and we all do appreciate the time and effort of those who served on the summer sex ed sub-committee, what we have in the new programs is really a revision, an up-date, of the old ones.

The forces that prevailed in giving us the old 5th-High School Sex Ed courses again prevailed in giving us the same "type" of program in the "new" ones approved and adopted by our School Board on Jan. 20, 1992. Therefore, those who liked the old programs will like the new ones. Those who were concerned about the old program's content and ineffectiveness in achieving a goal of fostering healthy and wholesome choices where our children's sexual decisions are concerned will still need to be concerned about the new ones.

Out of a concern for the messages being given through the Sex Education courses, a group of concerned parents and clergy in January of 1991 asked the Sex Education Advisory Committee to provide parents with a choice of program "types." We wanted, as an optional choice for our children, an "abstinence based" program which does not contradict and undermine value-based teaching and training in the home. Though there were a number of ways that this choice could have been offered at minimal or no cost to the school district, our superintendent Mr. Plasecki and our curriculum director Laurie Bissell (according to her) independently decided that we would not be allowed this option. This was not a committee or board decision.

What resulted through the Sex Ed Advisory Committee and the summer sub-committee of this committee was a re-working of the old program. Values Clarification and our "new-old program" teaches our children that they are autonomous decision makers, then supplies our children with biased and limited "facts" with which to make their "personal choices" and from which to form their "personal values." Though Ms. Bissell states that the program is not based in any way on the "controversial" Michigan Model, (another program brought into our school district through her), it is another vehicle for applying the decision-making (via peer-pressure and outside-the-home influence) skills that our children have been carefully groomed in since kindergarten through the "controversial" Michigan Model.

The statements of "Goals and Objectives" for the 5th-High School programs look and really are very good. Drawing them up was a praise-worthy effort and achievement. However, the "Values and Choices" curriculum being used in the classrooms (which interestingly, none of the parents on the sub-committee know who introduced this material, and Dr. Bissell refuses to tell me who brought it in for consideration) and some of the other films, booklets, and demonstrations used in the classrooms that constitute this "middle of the road" program do need to be carefully reviewed by parents, keeping in mind that the only real values to be taught in the area of "sexual health and decision-making" now, as in the past, will only be taught in your home, and if you are fortunate enough, in your church.

With continuing concern,
Kathy A. Zeigler.

To the Editor,
I would like to thank Ron Escott of the Washtenaw County Road Commission for coming to check the street, N. Main, the same day I called him. It was so bad I couldn't get in my driveway with holes in the pavement. He fixed it some. Hope he does more in the spring. I have complained for the last four or five years about this street. It has been a nightmare and a thorn in my side. Also the village did some work, but they kept saying they thought the state was supposed to take care of it and never did anything about it.

Mildred Fields.

Dear Editor,
A direct quote made by Mr. Kargel, Chelsea wrestling coach in last week's paper has me very concerned.

In sports our coaches should be setting an example for the students. Teaching team concept, sportsmanship, encouraging, supporting, empathy, and safety.

A default by injury should not be a reason for Mr. Kargel to say, "I'm not sure the kid wanted to wrestle Mike in the finals." Apparently this young man was good enough to make it to the finals. His coach must have felt his safety was a concern. I commend the wrestler and his coach for putting safety first and not the win. It must have been hard to stop the match.

Our coaches must remember that they are teaching everytime they are with the students. Our school administration puts safety of our students first, as all schools must do.

Mr. Kargel should be very careful of the things he says. If a serious injury, should happen to one of his team members, the parents may think that he pushed her or his child too hard without thinking of the student's safety. What a terrible thought and I am sure Mr. Kargel would not do this nor would any good coach.

Playing all sports should be a learning experience. The coaches should never forget that they are teaching while coaching. Safety must always be first before the win.

K. Anderson.

To the Editor,
Hello. My name is A. J. Hale, Jr. I am a recovering alcoholic. But today I am sober, due to a program I went to right here in Chelsea. This program did not show me how to stop drinking, but gave me the tools on how to live my life sober and how to handle my disease. Today I have a second chance on life and a new one thanks to this program.

The place I went to was Chelsea Arbor (Kresge House) at the Community Hospital. The staff showed me things I never thought I was doing in my life. Boy was I wrong! For today my life has turned around. I am finding new friends, I am meeting my family for the first time. Because when I was drugging and drinking I saw them different than today.

We all must look at alcohol as a drug. Talk to your children and families, tell them the truth about drugs and alcohol for they are the same in many ways. Don't wait until you're in my shoes and find out on your own. Stop in at Kresge House and talk to their staff. I thank them so much for my new life. I also would like to thank family members too, and staff at Kresge for without their support and help I might not be here today. This letter is solely written by myself, my own comments, no one from Kresge or staff asked me to do this. Please talk to your children and family, for alcohol is a drug!! Thank you very much.

A. J. Hale, Jr.

Police Insulted After Incident

An Indiana man swore at Chelsea police late Sunday night after they incorrectly suspected he was stealing a travel trailer from Lloyd Bridges Traveland.

At 11:29 p.m. police saw a vehicle backing up in the traveland lot and noted the pavement where the vehicle would have been was dry.

When police questioned the man, he said he was dropping off the vehicle and planned to hitchhike home. He said he is from Indiana, lives in Illinois, and has a Texas driver's license.

Police detained the man while they checked out his story. The dealership told police they didn't expect the vehicle back until Tuesday. Based on that information they released their suspect.

That's when the man began his verbal tirade.

QUOTES

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"A good example is the best sermon . . ."

—Franklin

Rare is the individual who enjoys being lectured about his own shortcomings. For young people especially, it is difficult to listen to or profit from, the sermons of their elders.

Franklin proposes a better way . . . more difficult to be sure, but more certain of success . . . set a good example. This requires patience, self-discipline and tolerance but is much more likely to be effective. And, we should all improve considerably in our own behavior while we set the good examples for those we hope to influence.

We believe that a funeral service should be a beautiful experience. It should gently confirm the reality of death, thus helping the bereaved in their first step toward adjustment to their loss.

perch, panfish, and pike. There will also be a contest for children under age 12. Participants must register at the post home before going out on the lake. The derby resumes Sunday at 8 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m., with prizes awarded at 5:30.

Monte Carlo Night, one of the highlights of the carnival, begins at 7 p.m. on Saturday. Last year a record crowd of more than 300 competed for fortunes at blackjack, craps, roulette, and other games. A $5 entry fee is charged, which entitles a participant to $1 million in playing money. At 11 p.m., players use their currency bidding at auction for valuable prizes.

Breakfast will be served Saturday and Sunday mornings beginning at 7. Cooks include Momie Rush, Dee Fouty, Erlene Figg, and Larry Doll. The kitchen will be open throughout the week-end with light lunches.

The post home will be open for skiers and snowmobilers to get ready or warm up afterward.

After a two-year hiatus, the official band of the winter carnival returns. Dennis Ruby and the Persuaders begin playing at 2 p.m. Sunday. There is no charge for the music, which will be easy-going with families in mind. Proceeds benefit the American Legion.

Farmers Control
Their Own Destiny in
Animal Rights Battle
 Farmers have to educate the public that agricultural animals are humanely treated, according to a speaker at a conference on animal welfare held at the American Farm Bureau Federation's (AFBF) annual meeting in Kansas City.
 Ann Banville, a Washington D.C. public relations consultant who follows the animal rights movement for various commodity organizations, said the animal rights movement is experiencing some fall-off in funding because of the recession. This signals the beginning of a new phase for the movement, she said, and the issue will be approached differently in the next five to 10 years.
 At the core of the issue is whether or not animals should be used as food. "If you think it's okay to use animals for food, the concern becomes the well-being of animals," said Banville.
 The animal rights movement is a proxy for vegetarianism, she said. Activists do not publicly acknowledge this; instead, they make it an environmental or cruelty issue, according to Banville.
 Thanks to farmer involvement, animal rights legislation has failed in Massachusetts, California and New York. If continues, however, to be a mainstream issue, and is one of the top three movements flooding Congress with mail, she said.

Changes Needed in Training of Rural
Family Physicians
 Medical schools need to change how and where they train family doctors if they are to meet the need for primary care physicians in rural America. At the same time, rural Americans need to appreciate the role mid-level medical practitioners can play in meeting their health care needs, two physicians told the American Farm Bureau Federation's rural health care conference at the organizer's annual meeting in Kansas City.
 Training family physicians in a high-technology, inner-city environment while hoping they will choose a rural practice is analogous to training farmers in a climate-controlled city classroom and hoping they'll be successful in agriculture, said Dr. Paul Williams of the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Medicine. Students trained in a high-technology environment learn a different kind of medicine than is needed in rural areas, he said.
 Rural people need to understand the training and scope of responsibility of mid-level health professionals like physicians' assistants, nurse practitioners and nurse midwives, said Dr. Harvey Estes, Jr., director of the North Carolina Medical Society Foundation's Kate B. Reynolds Community Practitioner Program.

Chelsea Hospital Names Fund Drive Chairpersons

Patricia B. Harris of Grass Lake and Paul E. Mann of Chelsea will serve as co-chairpersons of the campaign to support the expanded Diagnostic and Surgery Center at Chelsea Community Hospital, it was recently announced by John R.C. Wheeler, chairman of the hospital's Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Harris is chair of the Foundation for Community Care and on the Board of Trustees of the Jackson Foundation. She is a former trustee of Chelsea Community Hospital. Mann is a trustee of the Foundation for Community Care and former chair of the hospital's Board of Trustees. He is currently chairman emeritus of the board of Chelsea State Bank.

"We are very pleased that Patricia Harris and Paul Mann will be leading this campaign," Wheeler said. "They bring enthusiasm and expertise to the project, which incorporates a host of improvements for patients and physicians."

The Diagnostic and Surgery Center is a $3,750,000 project that will expand and renovate the surgery department, enlarge the diagnostic imaging service, and relocate the clinical laboratory in the main hospital building. In addition, the Specialty Clinic will be expanded by more than 7,000 square feet to accommodate new examination, specialty and waiting rooms, and the intensive care unit will be renovated to improve the delivery of care and centralize monitoring activities.

Construction of the Center is scheduled to begin in early February, with completion slated for the summer of 1993.

Pinckney Area Man Completes Training

Marine Pvt. Jeffrey W. Dawson, son of William G. and Martha M. Dawson of 8549 Rushview Dr., Pinckney, recently completed recruit training.

During the training cycle at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif., recruits are taught the basics of battle field survival, introduced to typical military daily routine, and personal and professional standards.

All recruits participate in an active physical conditioning program and gain proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close-order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline are emphasized throughout the cycle.

The 1991 graduate of Pinckney High school joined the Marine Corps in October 1991.

Annual Shrub, Tree Seedling Sale Underway

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District has announced its annual tree and shrub seedling sale for 1992. Orders for planting stock will be accepted until March 31, on a first-come, first-serve basis while supplies last. Some species have limited supplies, so order early.

Seedlings will tentatively be distributed on Saturday, April 11, 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. at the Washtenaw County Road Commission Garage.

Planting stock available this spring includes: Austrian Pine, Red Pine, White Pine, Blue Spruce, Norway Spruce, White Spruce, Douglas Fir, White Cedar, European Larch, White Ash, Butternut, Black Cherry, White Flowering Dogwood, Shagbark Hickory, Sugar Maple, Red Oak, White Oak, Black Walnut, Imperial Carolina Hybrid Poplar, Tulip Tree, and American Chestnut Trees; Sargent Crab, Highbush Cranberry, Silky Dogwood, Russian Olive and Serviceberry shrubs. A Hardwood Packet containing 20 trees of 10 different species is also being offered.

Wildlife Packets, with 20 vines, shrubs and trees; Crownvetch ground cover seed, Wildflower Seed Packets, Tree Planting Bars, Tree Shelters and Deer Away-Big Game Repellent, will also be available. Prices are reasonable for all tree and shrub seedlings which are one to three years old and range in size from 5 to 12 inches.

Purpose of the District's tree program is to assist landowners in obtaining planting stock at low cost for reforestation, windbreaks, erosion control and wildlife habitat improvement.

Order forms containing information on trees available, site preference, uses and prices may be obtained by contacting the Soil Conservation District at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103, telephone (313) 761-6721.

PARTS PEDDLER-DEXTER auto supply store has been sold by Dick Kolander, left, to Denny Hubbard. Hubbard is a long-time employee of the Parts Peddler and has a record of 27 years in the auto parts business.

Parts Peddler Auto Supply of Dexter Has New Owners

Dick and Marty Kolander of Chelsea have sold the Parts Peddler-Dexter auto supply store to Denny and Mary Hubbard of Chelsea.

Denny is a long-time employee of the Parts Peddler and has been involved in the auto parts business for over 27 years.

Denny plans to keep the business concept of the Parts Peddler pretty much the same. He plans to expand some lines of inventory and accessories and will offer delivery service in the Parts Peddler-Dexter trade area in an effort to assist many new small companies in the area and generate new business.

The sale of this store basically ends the 37-year auto parts career of Dick Kolander. He plans to use his time to explore other business interests in sales and real estate. The Kolanders also plan to spend some time traveling and pursuing other interests.

To Vote in March Primary, Register Party Preference

Anyone who wants to vote in the March 17 Michigan presidential primary has until Tuesday, Feb. 18 to declare a party preference with his or her township clerk, the county clerk or the Secretary of State.

In 1988 the legislature decided to change the way Michigan voters select their political party's presidential candidates. Any registered Michigan voter can participate as long as a party preference is declared at least one month prior to the primary.

On March 17, only those who have selected either the Democratic or Republican parties will be permitted to vote. Those indicating no party preference will not be eligible to vote.

Dexter Man Aboard Aircraft Carrier in Persian Gulf Area

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Scott J. Carpenter, son of Joyce M. Carpenter of Dexter, is in the Persian Gulf aboard the aircraft carrier USS Dwight D. Eisenhower, homeported in Norfolk, Va., and is mid-way through a six-month deployment.

In November, Carpenter participated in exercise "Eager Mace," a 10-day, joint amphibious landing exercise in Kuwait. The operation is designed to help increase the readiness of combined forces in the Middle East.

USS Eisenhower and her crew continued training with exercise "Sandstorm" with the U.S. Air Force. This exercise included simulated air strikes, and tested the carrier's ability to retaliate against air attacks.

Carpenter recently visited the city of Dubai, in the United Arab Emirates.

He joined the Navy in October 1982.

Cardiologists To See Out-Patients At Chelsea Hospital

Frank A. Smith, M.D. and Benjamin D. McCallister, Jr., M.D. recently began out-patient cardiology consultative services at Chelsea Community Hospital's Specialty Clinic. Both physicians are associated with Ann Arbor Cardiology Consultants, P.C., which has been providing state-of-the-art cardiovascular services since 1982.

In addition to his responsibilities with Ann Arbor Cardiology Consultants, Dr. Smith is the director of the Michigan Heart Institute. Dr. McCallister recently joined the Ann Arbor practice from Mayo Clinic where he had post-graduate cardiology training.

The provision of these services at the hospital will enhance its existing cardiac program and provide a convenient site for those cardiac patients living near Chelsea. Chelsea area physicians and other physicians who have patients living in the Chelsea area may refer patients to Dr. Smith or Dr. McCallister by calling their office at 313-434-4833.

THEATRE R.e.v.i.e.w

By Russell L. Ogden
 Free Lance Drama Critic
 & Professor Emeritus
 Eastern Michigan University

Bart Bauer, scenic designer

Standing just under six feet, red headed Bart Bauer appears as a handsome model for an outdoor, back-to-nature magazine. Upon first meeting, his sparkling eyes seem to perceive the totality of a given situation even though nothing has been verbally communicated. A naturalness unfolds when talking to Bart and as time unfolds it seems that you have known "each other forever."

Your initial perception at the official opening night this Friday of "More Fun Than Bowling" depends upon Bauer's role as scenic designer. His mental transfer from the drawing board taken from descriptive reading to the drafting on paper, will construe the completed setting from his meticulously planned thoughts and ideas awaiting action of the cast.

In order to rely upon his native intuition and the script's description within the play, Bauer discusses with the director's perception of the locale of events from scene to scene. Then with the script, the feelings of the director, and his mental imagery, Bauer contextually constructs the actual staging.

When you enter the theatre you will see vertical posts, 2 to 3 feet high, surrounding portions of the stage. From this a road or pathway is developed with a plotted area located toward the left rear of the stage. Outdoors, verified by living plants of various sizes on stage, is depicted with the actor seeking both near and far perceptions, to be physically acted or verbally expressed to the attending audience.

The set for this show certainly explains where we are.

How did Bauer become interested in stage design? Currently he works for a lumber company in Chelsea and with approved "leaves-of-absence" provides his unique talents in various productions of The Purple Rose Theatre of which he is very proud. According to the information obtained by me, Bauer's input upon the initial construction of The Purple Rose Theatre proved most valuable.

Bauer does not feel a scenic designer should do back-to-back productions, but take a break between different productions. He did "Kuru" and that single piece certainly demanded a vivid imagination. Living shrubbery, as with the current one also, appeared on stage. And how to transform that to inside from outside is a task demanding knowledge of plant life.

While at Chelsea High school, Bart's surge toward an appreciation for the theatre came from Ms. Diane L'Roy, then the director of the choir and high school musicals. So in high school his eventual love for scenic design unfolded with each production, prior to his 1979 graduation.

In 1974 Bauer became interested in Chelsea's community theatre and has been a member of the backstage staff for many productions. Formally, the Michigan School of Arts designed a three-year program at Jackson Community College. Bart enrolled, majoring in humanities there. After finishing the three-year program at Jackson, Bart transferred to Eastern Michigan University. At the Ypsilanti campus his professional scope in theatre, especially in the area of different designs and styles came from the teachings of professors—Dr. James Gousseff and Dr. George Bird.

He has always been able to sketch since his younger days and has become fully acclimated toward art in its totality. Working at The Purple Rose Theatre, however, presents a physical time frame in which everything must be completed "overnight." Resurrection time for the scenery for "More Fun Than Bowling" was 12 days. Another challenge provided is the intimacy provided by the size of the theatre, so with the closeness of the audience to observe and the compactness of space, both provide unique challenges.

Bart's family comes first and his love for his wife Alisa, and the glowing affection for his nine-month-old infant seemingly knows no bounds. He's much concerned about America and the somewhat selfish attitude of today's youth compared to the giving attitude of societal members in earlier years.

Chelsea has become one of my favorite places in Michigan for many reasons. But another facet in Chelsea's small town beauty must be such a solid and admirable young man as Bart Bauer and his family. Perhaps if you attend opening night, you will see the super energetic red-headed marvel amongst the theatre's dignitaries. If you meet him, I hope you savor his all-American quality as much as I did.

And a personal charge to Mr. Bauer: finish those two or three courses at Eastern. We'd like to have another "degreed" citizen in the Chelsea community.

ELEVEN SNOWMOBILES are being hauled today to Sault Ste. Marie, where they will be used on a 1,100-mile trip that includes several snowmobile enthusiasts. The tow vehicles will then become chase vehicles and will meet up with the snowmobilers every four hours or so.

LOCAL SNOWMOBILERS begin an 1,100-mile trip across Canada today beginning at Sault Ste. Marie. From left are Doug Hansen, Gus Hansch, Ron Kiel, Jerry Roberts, Bill Olson and Sam Jenkins. They will be joined by five other men.

Ambitious Local Snowmobilers Begin 1,100-Mile Canadian Trip

Members of Hansen's Formula Club will begin their most ambitious snowmobiling trip tomorrow when they leave on an 1,100-mile trip from Sault Ste. Marie to Montreal.

The club, led by Gus Hansen, owner of Hansen's Sport Shop, a snowmobiling store near Grass Lake, will ride from 150 to 190 miles each day for six days across wild Canadian countryside. That's 8-10 hours a day on their machines.

Gus Hansen will be joined by his son, Doug, Jerry Roberts and Ron Kiel of Chelsea, Jim Connors and Sam Jenkins of Grass Lake, Bill Olson of Saline, Gerard Munier of Albion, Bob Bernstein of Clark Lake, Ray Milliken of Rives Junction, and Bob Wissinger of Rockland.

The trip is scheduled to end in the town of Valcourt next Tuesday, just east of Montreal. The group plans to spend several days at the International Winter Festival, where world snowmobiling championships will be held. They also plan to take a trip of the Ski-Doo snowmobile factory nearby.

The trip, Hansen said, will be taken completely on approved Canadian snowmobiling trails, where top speed allowed is 37 miles per hour. At times they will be well away from any town. They will have two support vehicles, which they plan to meet up with about every four hours at various spots along the course.

Hansen said he doesn't really know what to expect. He's never been on the trail. Temperatures could be below zero. There's always the unpredictability of machinery. If a snowmobile breaks down, it may have to be towed.

The group plans to stay in motels, although they are taking sleeping bags just in case. They also plan to eat in restaurants.

What they will take are plenty of warm clothes, toiletries, a first aid kit, various tools, maps, a compass, hatchet and space blanket, cameras and film, as well as various spare parts for the snowmobiles.

"It has really taken a lot of planning," Gus said.

Help Available for Some Medicare Beneficiaries

QMB is short for "Qualified Medicare Beneficiary." It is important because it can save low-income Medicare beneficiaries at least $381.80 per year. If you are 65 or over, eligible for Medicare and have limited income and resources you may qualify for help from the QMB program. This program is run by the Health Care Finance Administration but administered locally by the Michigan Department of Social Services.

If your monthly income is less than $572 a month for one person or $760 for a family of two and your resources are $4,000 for one person, $6,000 for a family of two, you may qualify for help from the QMB program. If you work your income could be higher and you still might qualify.

If you meet the requirements the state will pay your Medicare premium which means you would save $31.80 per month. The state will also pay the Medicare deductibles and co-insurance which can mean additional savings. The medical insurance deductible in 1992 is $100 and your hospital insurance deductibles is $682. Hospital co-insurance saving can range from $163 to $326 per day. The medical co-insurance is usually 20 percent.

If you think the QMB program can help you the Washtenaw County Council on Aging at 685-3625 or the Neighborhood Senior services at 572-7775 are available to assist you in completing the application or you may contact the Department of Social Service to file an application.

Dogs Dig Hole, Pirates Bomb Away as Chelsea Suffers Tough SEC Loss

For basketball fans it was another thrilling high school game but for Chelsea fans it was another heart-breaking Southeastern Conference defeat last Friday night at Pinckney.

Pirates guard Jayson Shore, perhaps the shortest varsity player in the SEC, hit three consecutive three-pointers with just under four minutes to play, then sank two free throws with :27 left to give the Pirates a 87-65 victory. It was one of the finest clutch performances against the Bulldogs in many years.

Shore finished with 24 points, including six three-point goals.

"They called his number three times in a row and he made the big-time plays," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"But I was proud of our kids because they kept coming right back. We had a chance to win right down to the end."

While the Pirates regained the lead with Shore's performance, they won the game on 6-6 free throw shooting in the final 1:30.

Shore's onslaught began seconds after Chelsea took its first lead at 53-52 on a short jumper by Dana Schmunck with 4:16 left.

The first two times Shore bombed one in, the Bulldogs responded with a two-point goal. On his third shot, he was hammered by Jake Rindle but couldn't convert the four-point play. Chelsea missed next time down the court, then Christian Pleuss made two free throws to give the Pirates a 63-57 lead with just under a minute to play.

Jon Royce responded with a three-pointer from the wing, before Shore sank his final free throws.

On the next trip down, Ben Hurst nailed a three-pointer to cut the Pirate lead to 65-63.

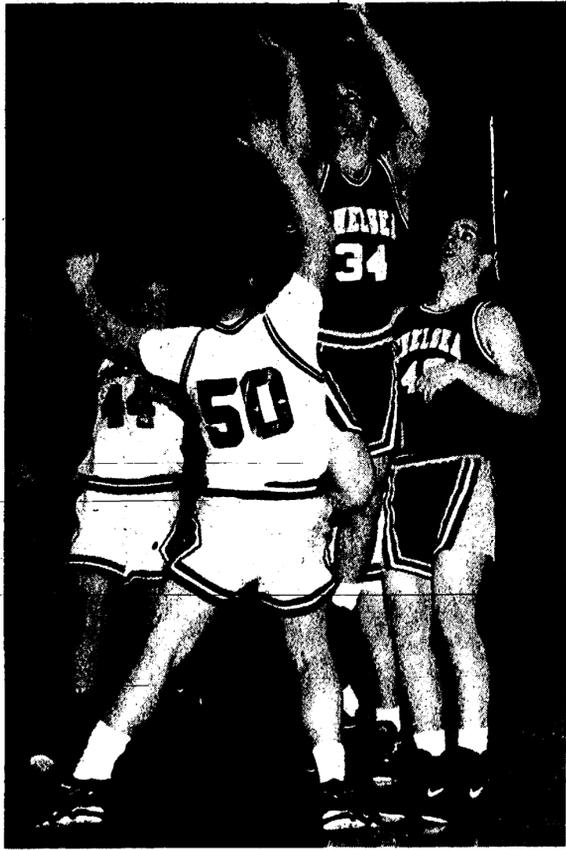

Pleuss made two more free throws with :08 left, before Colby Skelton sank the final Chelsea field goal with :02 left. Chelsea tried to draw a charge off the final in-bounds play, but Pinckney threw a three-quarters court pass to end the game.

While the Bulldogs played well, in Raymond's estimation, throughout the second half, it was the third straight SEC contest in which the Bulldogs have fallen behind in the early going, only to play catch-up the rest of the game. They managed to win the Dexter contest in the last minute, but couldn't hold on against Tecumseh. Friday they were behind 24-11 at the end of the first quarter and 37-27 at half-time.

"I wish I knew why that happens," Raymond said.

"Since Christmas we have talked and talked about that. We have changed our approach to the game and have done just about everything but change our first seven or eight kids. It may just be the personality of this team."

The Pirates also didn't miss much the first quarter, hitting 9-12 shots from the field, including three three-

BEN HURST goes up in traffic for a short jumper during last Friday night's game at Pinckney. Chelsea put themselves in a hole early in the game, went ahead briefly, but couldn't hold on. The loss drops the Bulldogs into a three-way tie in the SEC with Pinckney and Dexter.

The second half of the season begins Friday at Saline. Although the Hornets have won just two games, Raymond expects a tough game, partly because of the rivalry.

In non-league action last Tuesday at home, the Bulldogs beat the Fowlerville Gladiators 75-69 in overtime. Rindle hit two free throws with :08 left in regulation to tie the game before the Gladiators missed a three-pointer at the buzzer.

In the over-time, Chelsea scored the last six points, including a three-point play by Royce and a pair of free throws by Poulter.

Chelsea had the lead, 35-31, at half-time but suffered through a sluggish third quarter and fell behind 54-47 by the start of the fourth quarter.

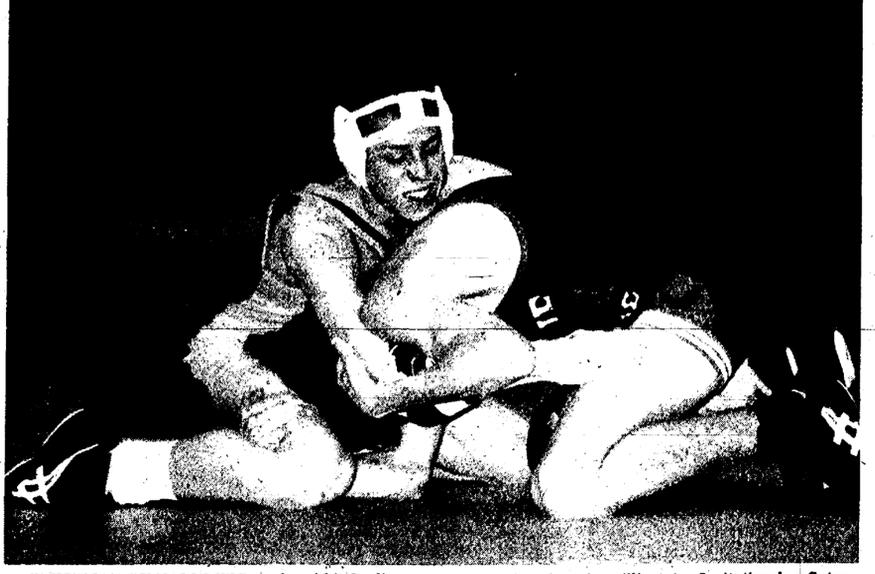

"I thought we played well late in the game," Raymond said.

Each team shot 45 percent from the field but Chelsea had five more (30) field goals, Chelsea led in rebounds, 38-35, and had 15 turnovers to 19 for the Gladiators. Royce led Chelsea with 19 points, while Poulter and Rindle each scored 16 and Dunham scored 10. Rounding out the scoring were Skelton 6, Pat Steele 4, Hurst 2, and Schmunck 2.

"I think we're getting better in every ball game," Raymond said.

"We just need to get better in a couple of areas. Except for digging holes for ourself, we're still an awfully good team."

Chelsea is 5-5 on the season.

FRESHMAN RYAN LUDWIG works on his Leslie opponent during last Thursday's match at Stockbridge. Ludwig placed sixth at the Williamston Invitational on Saturday, one of two Chelsea placers on the day.

Chelsea Wrestlers Whip Stockbridge and Leslie

Chelsea Bulldogs wrestlers beat Stockbridge and Leslie in a double-dual meet last Thursday, then finished 14th out of 19 teams in the Williamston Classic on Saturday.

Both Stockbridge and Leslie handed Chelsea several voids as the Bulldogs topped the Panthers 60-12 and Leslie, 48-18.

140: Kevin McCalla (C) pinned Jason Fletcher in 1:13.
145: Casey Schuller (C) won by forfeit.

152: Paul Taylor (C) won by forfeit.
160: Jay Westcott (C) won by forfeit.

171: Chris Kargel (C) lost to James Craft, 7-0.
189: Jeff Shoemaker (C) was pinned by Andy Armit in 1:28.

Heavyweight: Rob Bergman (C) pinned Kim Baker in 1:20.
For Bergman, a sophomore, it was his first varsity win.

Results of the Leslie matches follow.

103: Ryan Ludwig (C) lost to Keith Shoemaker, 9-7.

112: Tim Wescott (C) won by technical fall over Rob Base, 18-1.
119: Eric Montange (C) was pinned by Bill Darling in 1:52.

125: Jason Knisely (C) was pinned by Roger Brown in 2:43.
130: Vince Stahl (C) pinned Mike Dexter in 2:24.

135: Andrew Parker (C) lost to Joe Barnett, 12-4.
140: Kevin McCalla (C) pinned Chris Poling in 1:11.

145: Casey Schuller (C) defeated Jared Baiten, 14-2.
152: Aric Dougherty (C) defeated Dave Schultz, 6-4.

160: Jay Westcott (C) won by forfeit.
171: Chris Kargel (C) won by forfeit.

189: Jeff Shoemaker (C) won by forfeit.
Heavyweight: Mike Terpstra pinned Dave Pratt in :23.

Terpstra, at heavyweight, was Chelsea's lone champion at the Williamston Classic.

Freshman Ryan Ludwig placed sixth, the first time he has placed in a varsity tournament.

The meet was won by Addison, the state's top ranked class C team.

"There were a lot of ranked teams, plus some good class A teams," Kargel said.

"It was almost like a miniature state meet. It seemed like everyone who reached the finals was a state qualifier or state champion last year."

Terpstra, the number one seed, opened with a pin of Mike Flaherty of Monroe Jefferson in :42. He followed with a pin of Keith Zimmerman of Dewitt in 2:45. In the finals he won an 8-5 decision over Jason Green of Mason. Terpstra is still unbeaten this season.

Ludwig opened with a 17-2 victory over Shane Sprague of Shepard. In his second match, however, he met the number one seed, Todd Birchmeier of New Lothrop, and lost 15-0. Ludwig pinned Tim McMillen of Jackson County Western in 1:44 in his third match. In the battle for fifth place he was pinned by Nick Fowler of Eaton Rapids in 5:38.

"Ryan was dominating his final match but made a mistake and got caught in a cradle," Kargel said.

"It was a good learning experience for him."

Others who wrestled Saturday included Wescott at 112 (1-2), Alex Roskowski at 119 (0-2), Knisely at 125 (0-2), Parker at 135 (2-2), McCalla at 140 (1-2), Dougherty at 152 (1-2), Westcott at 160 (0-2), and Shoemaker at 189 (0-2).

Chelsea was scheduled to host the Dexter Dreadnaughts last night in what could well decide the Southeastern Conference championship.

Volleyball Team Battles To Semi-Finals in Tourney

Someone might think that the Bulldogs varsity volleyball team might be down in spirits after two defeats last week in very close matches to Pinckney and the defending Class D State Champion Gabriel Richard.

At Pinckney last Monday, Pinckney took the first game of the best 2-of-3 match, 15-6. Chelsea came right back and won the second game 15-9, setting the stage for the nail-biter that was to follow.

In a game characterized by excellent defense and very long rallies of a dozen or more times over the net each, the score went to 14-14 before Pinckney finally edged out Chelsea 16-14, an hour and twenty minutes after the first game began.

Senior captain Jennifer Petty came up with 41 defensive digs for the night, followed by junior Melissa Thiel with 23. Senior Amanda Nimke led in attacks going 24 of 29 for 10 kills. Melissa Thiel also led in the serving department going a perfect 18 of 16 with 4 aces.

Last Thursday, Chelsea hosted Gabriel Richard and faced a style of play that the Bulldogs had never encountered: "We heard right before the match that the Irish attacked a lot using the soft tip shot to open areas of the floor rather than the hard-driven spikes," commented Chelsea coach Dan Montgomery, "but I was impressed with how very effective they were using this technique. We had been working on a new defense for only two days, so I didn't want to try a new system for fear of confusion out on the court."

After falling behind 11-0 in the first game, we decided to give it a try and try to iron out the wrinkles as we went along." The Bulldogs lost the first game 15-6, but neutralized the attacks by the Irish in the second game to the jump out to a 7-0 lead before going on to win 15-9.

The third game was a hard-fought, see-saw battle with the Irish stopping the Bulldogs 15-9, to win the match. "We made 16 attacking errors on offense the last two games. That means we just gave away 16 rallies to the other team. We're going to work hard to eliminate those unforced errors," said coach Montgomery.

Senior Leah Hadley served for a perfect 20-of-20 and 12 points for the night, while seniors Jennifer Petty and Amanda Nimke had 7 kills and 8 kills on offense.

What might have really been expected to crush the spirits of the Chelsea team was the bitter news that at Saturday's Ypsilanti Invitational Tournament, junior setter Gretchen Knutsen would be out of the lineup for the day due to a severe foot injury prior to the first match. "We decided to move Jennifer Petty from middle hitter to assume half of the setting duties opposite our other starting setter Leah Hadley, which resulted in Jennifer becoming a right-side hitter on offense," explained coach Montgomery. "That left the middle hitter position to be filled, so we shifted outside hitter Amanda Nimke to the middle, at times switching off with outside Miller Melissa Thiel. To tell you the truth I was nervous about the possible confusion on the court with half of the team shifted to new positions." If the Bulldogs were supposed to roll over and play dead, someone apparently forgot to tell them.

In their opening match of the day against Ann Arbor Huron, Chelsea took revenge on the River Rats for edging them out in the semi-finals at the Chelsea Invitational earlier in the month. The Bulldogs won two straight games 15-7, 16-4.

Chelsea then faced a strong Adrian team who were last year's champions. The Bulldogs pulled out to a 14-11 lead in the first game, but were unable to finish it off before falling 14-18, then 8-15 in the second game.

Next in pool play was Belleville, who the Bulldogs defeated handily 15-6, 15-1. The final match in pool play saw Chelsea facing Airport. Chelsea needed one win to clinch a place in the semi-finals, and rose to the occasion, winning 15-12, 15-12.

Advancing to the semi-final round of the 10-team tournament saw Chelsea facing Ypsilanti, who Chelsea had defeated in the opening match of the season. "Ypsilanti had looked powerful all day in pool play," said coach Montgomery. "We told ourselves that we had to go out strong the first game and win it to have a chance." The Bulldogs jumped out to an impressive 13-4 lead in the first game, but stalled out and fell 14-18. The second game was a very tough battle before Chelsea fell 11-15. Ypsilanti went on to defeat Pinckney in the finals for the championship.

"It was a combination of things. We were a little short-handed and I think fatigue set in a little. We were battling against Ypsi's huge height advantage and the girls just got worn out. The crowd noise was also a factor. Ypsi's crowd is always loud and it made it tough to hear our calls for the offensive plays. Ypsilanti played strongly all day and earned their victory against us," commented coach Montgomery after the game.

"In our post-game huddle, I told our players just how hard they had played all day and how proud I was of them. I got a little choked up. This is a terrific group of athletes."

Freshman Amy Petty led Chelsea for the day in serving with 47 good of 51 attempts, including 8 aces. Melissa Thiel was 46 of 49. On offense, Jennifer Petty led the way in attacks with 50 of 56 for 18 kills. Amanda Nimke and sophomore Theresa Royce each had 13 kills for the day, while senior Tara Roehm had 9.

Chelsea's record is now 9-7-4 over-all and 1-2 in SEC matches.

Chelsea faces Tecumseh at home on Thursday, Jan. 30 and Saline at home Monday, Feb. 3. JV matches begin at 8:30 p.m. followed by the varsity match.

In other competition on Monday, the Bulldogs lost to the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 15-9, 11-15, 11-15.

"We played all right the first game but kind of fell apart the last two games," Montgomery said.

Chelsea was down 10-0 in the third game before Roehm served seven straight points.

Chelsea servers were 62-83 on the day with eight aces, led by Roehm's 19-19 performance with five aces. Petty and Nimke had four kills each.

"We had to play again without Gretchen Knutsen at setter and the shifting around seemed to confuse us," Montgomery said.

Chelsea is 1-3 in the SEC and 9-8-4 over-all.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

The prospects for an SEC basketball title dimmed a little more for the Chelsea Bulldogs last Friday night at Pinckney as the Pirates won by two points in one of the most thrilling games of the season.

The Pirates led for all but about 30 seconds. They pulled way ahead early, 24-11, then little Jayson Shore took the game into his own hands at the end with three consecutive three-point goals, just as the Bulldogs took the lead.

I can't recall a finer clutch performance against the Bulldogs. For about two minutes, Shore was in a groove that most basketball players can only dream about. It's hard enough to make three-pointers completely unguarded, but Shore hit them moving off picks, and on the third one he was knocked to the floor by 6-4 Jake Rindie. I could imagine two out of three, but three in a row was unbelievable. I had to chuckle when Shore went to the free throw line with a chance for a four-point play and missed badly. How can you figure that kind of shooting? If he had missed even one of those shots, Chelsea probably would have won as the Bulldogs were dominating the boards and were scoring on almost every possession down the stretch.

Shore is not a likely-looking hero. He looks about 13 years old and would probably stand eyeball-to-chest with Rindie. But he may be the quickest player the Bulldogs have seen all year and he's an extremely co-ordinated kid.

Anyway, while Shore made the difference in the closing minutes, the story of the game was in the first quarter when the Bulldogs fell behind, 24-11. Chelsea won't beat many decent teams, especially on the road, when they fall that far behind simply because they aren't a scoring machine.

Pinckney shot 75 percent in the first quarter and hit three three-pointers, two by Shore, as their over-all quickness made Chelsea look a step slow.

This tendency to fall behind early has been a disturbing trend lately. They managed to overcome a deficit to beat the Dexter Dreadnaughts on the road, but couldn't do the same against the Tecumseh Indians. A win over the Indians would have turned the season around and put the league up for grabs. Chelsea also fell way behind against Gabriel Richard.

I don't know what a team can do to stop it. They remind me of a starting pitcher who has trouble the first couple of innings but settles down to toss a fine game. Some fine pitchers almost always struggle early and if they don't give up too many runs will manage to win. They find their rhythm, but sometimes it's too late.

The Bulldogs have generally settled down after the first quarter and played pretty well, certainly well enough to win most games. They could easily be, and in fact probably should be, 5-1 in the league instead of 3-3, right on the heels of the Indians. In terms of raw talent, I still don't think there's a better team in the SEC.

Chelsea should have a chance to win every league game from here on, especially if they can break their recent trend.

Nevertheless, the Bulldogs will be hard-pressed to win the league now. They can't afford another loss, and they need a lot of help from the rest of the league. I can't believe Tecumseh will lose three games, but I suppose anything is possible.

A couple of nice notes from the game. Junior forward Dana Schmunk played an outstanding game in the paint as he scored 22 points. He has shown a fine touch inside both on his shots and passes. He has a chance to be one of the finest players in the league next year with a little more experience and success.

Junior point guard Chris Dunham dished out 10 assists, and had a couple of passes underneath dropped in a fine performance.

And senior guard Ben Hurst is coming into his own. He's starting to become an offensive threat. He hit a key three-pointer Friday late to keep the Bulldogs close and generally looks comfortable taking the shots, which I can't say was the case last year.

Senior Chelsea heavyweight Mike Terpstra continues to dominate the wrestling world. He's still undefeated and it's almost becoming a fluke when he doesn't win his opponent. According to the Detroit Free Press, Terpstra is the second best heavyweight in the state, regardless of class.

I asked coach Kerry Kargel what makes Terpstra so special. "Strength, determination, and he has a couple of excellent moves," Kargel said. Intelligence doesn't hurt either.

Dog Tankers Show Improvement In Meets Against Lincoln, Fenton

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity swimming team beat Lincoln, 106-91, but lost to Fenton, 98-88 in action last week.

Chelsea coach Dave Jolly said there were many highlights during the week turned in by a host of Bulldogs.

Among those highlights were the following.

- Matt McVittie swam a 1:52.08 in the 200 freestyle while Steve Straub continued to improve with a time of 2:08.57.
- Matt Fischer recorded a 2:12.73 in the 200 individual medley.
- Dirk Colby broke 24 seconds in the 50 freestyle with a :23.94.

Justin Huschke improved in diving with scores in the 130s.

McVittie's time of :57.50 in the 100 butterfly qualified for the state meet. His only event he hasn't qualified in is the 100 breaststroke.

Kevin Kolodica and Adam McArthur had season-best times of 1:06.26 and 1:18, respectively, in the 100 butterfly.

Colby improved to :52.56 in the 100 freestyle, while David Brock had a career-best of :54.52 and Tom Hubbell improved to 1:04.11.

In the 500 freestyle, Justin Rousch and Steve Straub each swam a 5:57, which Jolly said "gives us much hope for the conference meet."

Fischer swam a 1:01.39 in the 100 backstroke. Matt Montange had a season-best time of 1:12.94.

"We're continuing to improve as we move closer to the conference meet," Jolly said.

"Look for a real dogfight between Dexter, Tecumseh, and Chelsea for second place. Milan is the favorite to take the whole thing."

Chelsea hosts Milan Thursday at 7 p.m.

Freshman Cagers Beat Pirates, Manchester in Successful Week

Chelsea Bulldogs freshman basketball team beat the Pinckney Pirates, 45-43, and Manchester Dutchmen, 44-35, in action last week.

In the Pinckney contest, an unusual play helped clinch the victory. A Pirate rebounded a missed Chelsea free throw, and apparently forgetting where he was, put the ball up and in for two Chelsea points. That gave the Bulldogs a 45-40 lead with just over a minute left.

Chelsea led the entire game. "For the second game in a row we only gave up 24 points through three quarters then let up on defense and let the other team back in the game," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

With seven seconds left Pinckney rebounded a missed free throw by us and the kids played very strong defense not allowing a final shot."

Quilter said Josh Inwood played his best game of the year and Adam Beauchamp played strong off the bench.

Case McCalla led Chelsea scorers with 14 points. Other scorers included Inwood 7, Bryndon Skelton 6, Beauchamp 6, Dan Wehrwein 3, Jim Bergman 2, James Dising 2, Kevin Coy 2, Pat Lynch 2, and Scott Hawley 1.

Inwood had a team-high nine rebounds and McCalla had six.

Chelsea made 28 percent from the field (16-57) and 42 percent (13-31) from the line. The Bulldogs also had 20 steals.

In the Manchester game, Chelsea again led throughout on the strength of good defense, Quilter said.

"Bryndon Skelton and Kevin Coy played their best game of the season at point guard and Case McCalla had his usual all-around good game," Quilter said.

Quilter said strong rebounding, fewer turnovers, and good passing made the difference.

McCalla again led the scoring with 16 points. Other scorers were Skelton 9, Coy 5, Inwood 4, Beauchamp 4, Wehrwein 4, and Jim Tallman 2.

Chelsea shot 50 percent from the line (10-20) and 24 percent (17-72) from the floor. The Bulldogs held a 40-36 rebounding edge.

Manchester is coached by former Chelsea standout Mark Bareis.

Beach Wrestlers Edge Lincoln

Beach Middle school wrestlers beat Lincoln 54-45 last Tuesday, Jan. 21 in their first dual meet of the season.

Lincoln was able to provide opponents for 19 of Chelsea's 39 wrestlers, and the Bullpups won 11 of the matches.

Chelsea wrestlers who won by pins were Tom Irwin at 100 pounds, Brian Hall at 115; Mike Alber at 120; Mike Thayer at 130, Sam Morseau at 167, Jeremy Feldkamp at 185, and Bill Carmack at heavyweight.

Chelsea wrestlers who won decisions were Bob Bullock at 75, Mike Klink at 70, Tim Spangler at 95, and Nick Howard at 125.

Other Bullpup competitors were Marv Kranick, Zac Eresten, Pat Flynn, Jorge Rosario, Jim Irwin, Richard Polzin, and Trevor Hoffmiller.

The young Chelsea wrestlers host Dexter on Thursday.

JV Spikers Win Tourney, Other Matches

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity volleyball team had a successful week, defeating Pinckney, Gabriel Richard, and winning the 15-team Clinton Invitational.

Chelsea topped Pinckney 15-13, 12-15, and 15-9 on Monday, then stopped Richard 15-7 and 15-10 on Thursday.

"We played poorly against Pinckney—and won then we put a good Gabriel Richard team away rather easily," said Chelsea coach Rainey Bassemier.

In Saturday's tournament, Chelsea came out of their pool undefeated with victories over Manchester, Deerfield, Adrian, and Vandereook Lake.

In the quarter-finals, the Bulldogs beat Manchester 14-16, 15-11, and 15-4. In the semi-finals they defeated Pinckney 10-15, 15-13, and 15-13, before beating Brooklyn Columbia Central for the championship, 15-10, 15-6.

"It was great for Chelsea volleyball," Bassemier said.

"Days like this have been few for this program. We left at 7 a.m. and returned at 10 p.m. The girls are in such good shape I think we could have played a few more matches."

Bassemier said hitters Kori White, Leslie Berg, Gretchen Stahl, Katie Harr, and Tracy Patrick led the team with setting from Casey White and Beth Bell.

Chelsea is 21-5 over-all and is undefeated in the Southeastern Conference.

8th Grade Spikers Win First Match

Beach Middle school eighth grade volleyball team got their season off to a good start with a three-game victory over Lincoln, 11-5, 11-3, and 11-6.

"Despite limited practice time due to snow days and scheduling, I felt their first game effort was promising," said Paps coach Ann Schaffner.

Heidi Kemnitz scored 10 points in perfect serving, and had two kills.

Erin Baird scored on seven serves, Jessica Inwood and Carrie Buss each had four service points, and Sara Petty had three points. Anne Frederick went 7-7 receiving serves and had one kill.

Other members of the team include Tracy Dufek, Annie Terpstra, Amy Oake, Amanda Kivi, Tina Richardson, Heidi Wehrwein, Lisa Beard, Liz Holdsworth, Jill McKinnon, Danielle Longe, Nikki Fite, and Jeanine Moulleux.

Fly Control: Take special care to close screeen doors and cover organic wastes. Use a swatter or a spray bottle filled with rubbing alcohol to control those already inside.

Beach Tankers In Double Dual Meet at Milan

Beach Middle school swimming and diving team started their season with one win and one loss in a double dual meet at Milan last Thursday. They beat Brighton 89-80 but lost to Milan 105-65.

The 200 medley relay team of Chris Grossman, Peter Straub, Kelly Bowers, and Christian DeSarbo was first in both meets, while Curt Street, Mike Huschke, Erin Hack, and Cody Johnson were third in the Brighton meet.

In the 200 freestyle, Stephanie Wesolowski, was second in the Brighton meet and fourth in the Milan meet, while Cooper Deerwester was third and fifth, and Michelle Dymond was fifth and sixth.

Straub placed first in both meets in the 100 individual medley and his time qualified him for the state invitational. Bowers was third and second and her time also qualified for the invitational.

DeSarbo also qualified for the invitational with his first place in both meets in the 50 freestyle. Street was third and fifth, and Hack was fifth in the Brighton meet.

In diving, Aaron Grammatico, Brooke McArthur, and Hilary Kress were second, third, and fourth in the Brighton meet, and third, fourth, and fifth in the Milan meet.

Grossman and Bowers were second and third in both meets in the 50 butterfly as Bowers' time qualified for the invitational.

DeSarbo was first and second in the 100 freestyle, with another qualifying time. Wesolowski was fourth and fifth, and Deerwester was fifth in the Brighton meet.

The 200 freestyle relay team of Straub, Hack, Bowers, and Deerwester was second and third. Huschke, Steven Thiel, Andrea Gordenier, and Wesolowski were third in the Brighton meet.

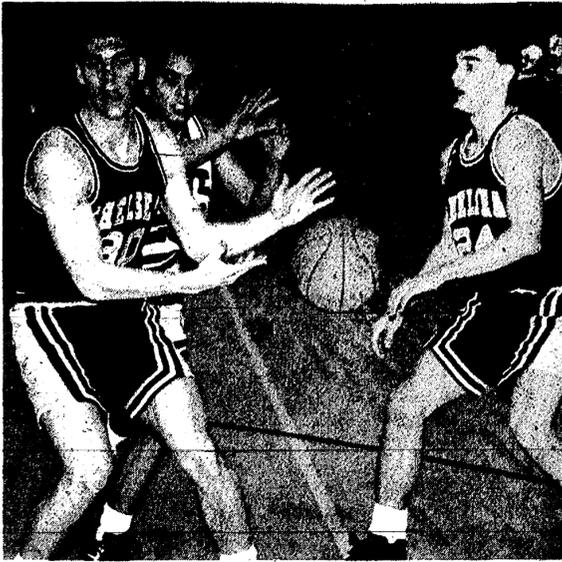

In the 100 backstroke, Grossman, Street, and Gordenier finished, third, fourth, and fifth in both meets.

Straub qualified for the invitational in his second event with a win in both meets in the 100 breaststroke. Hack was fourth and fifth, and Cara Heitman was fifth in the Brighton meet.

The 400 freestyle relay team of Deerwester, Grossman, Wesolowski, and DeSarbo was second in both meets. Jamie Roush, Heitman, Nathan Taylor, and Street were third in the Brighton meet.

Other participants were Rachel Lindmeier, David Luckhart, Hilary Smith, Michelle McDonald, Beth Vogel, Genny Humenay, Erin Armstrong, Ana Morrell-Samuels, and Heather Pratt.

PAT STEELE makes a no-look pass during Chelsea's two-point loss to the Pinckney Pirates last Friday night in Pinckney. Right is Colby Skelton.

Bulldog JV Cagers Topple Pirates, 50-45

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team beat the Pinckney Pirates, 50-45, but lost to the Fowlerville Gladiators, 59-58, on a last second shot.

Chad Brown's fourth quarter play, which included two three-point field goals among four baskets, preserved the victory over Pinckney.

"Chad played his best game of the year," said Chelsea coach Lonnie Mitchell.

"He also led the team in assists and rebounding."

Neither team led by more than a few points throughout the game.

Brown finished with 13 points to lead the team: Other scorers included Jason McVittie 12; Nathan Mackinder 8, Cory Brown 6, Matt Powell 3, Scott Larson 3, Gabe Bernhard 2, Matt Seitz 1, David Stimpson 1, and David Seitz 1.

The game against Fowlerville ended in an unusual fashion. Chelsea held a 58-57 lead with five seconds left as the Gladiators brought the ball down court. One referee blew his whistle and play stopped, but he didn't call anything. The Fowlerville player took an uncontested shot for the game winner.

"The inadvertent whistle beat us," Mitchell said.

Chelsea led most of the way.

Mackinder led Chelsea with 13 points, Cory Brown scored 12, and Larson had 11. Other scorers were McVittie 6, Chad Brown 4, Seitz 4, Stimpson 3, Bernhard 3, and Seitz 2.

Engler Pledges Road, Bridge Improvements Without Gas Tax Hike

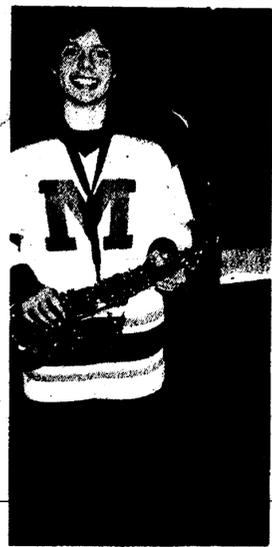

Farmers are awaiting details of a transportation plan outlined in Gov. Engler's State of the State address, according to a Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel who monitors tax and budget issues.

"The governor in his address indicated very clearly that it is not a plan to raise the state fuel tax," said Ron Nelson. "But he said he would unveil a comprehensive transportation strategy to rebuild and expand Michigan's transportation network."

Nelson said it is important to Michigan's rural transportation system that the state find some way to take advantage of the matching funds being made available in the new federal transportation package.

"Farm Bureau's concern lies with the local road system, because you have major problems if you can't transport products to and from the farm," he said.

Reduce your ironing by hanging your wrinkled clothes in the bathroom during a shower. This works especially well for lighter clothes.

JAMIE HALL

Jamie Hall With U. of M. Marching Band at Rose Bowl

Jamie Hall of Manchester was with the University of Michigan Marching Band when it played under the direction of Gary Lewis in the Tournament of Roses Parade, and later at the Rose Bowl.

The band received a standing ovation for its half-time show, and did its best to play and cheer the Wolverine football team at the game.

The band also played at the pep rally, and at the Big Ten Alumni banquet in California, where Bob Hope was the featured entertainer.

In addition, Jamie and his musician colleagues in the Michigan Marching Band traveled to Disneyland, where they presented a concert and enjoyed the activities.

Jamie was graduated from Manchester High, and is a sophomore in the University of Michigan school of engineering.

This is his second year with the band.

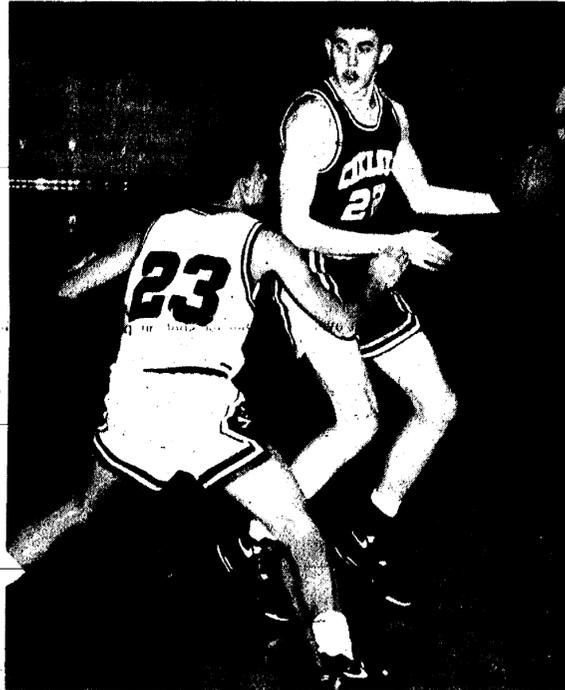

He is the son of Sheryl Ernst Purof of Manchester and John Hall of Ann Arbor.

Boating Course Will Start Feb. 5

Ann Arbor Power Squadron will offer a Boating Course beginning Wednesday, Feb. 5, at Clague Intermediate school, 2816 Nixon Rd., Ann Arbor.

Registration will be from 7 to 7:30 p.m. and the class will run for seven weeks from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on successive Wednesdays. There is a charge for registration and course materials.

For information: call 996-9323; For registration: call 994-2300.

CHRIS DUNHAM looks to make a pass inside for one of his 10 assists on the night during last Friday's game at Pinckney. Chelsea lost the game by two-point. Guarding Dunham is Jayson Shore, whose torrid shooting down the stretch made the difference.

U-M Gospel Choral In Concert Feb. 7 at Honey Creek Church

University of Michigan Gospel Choral will present a concert Friday, Feb. 7 at Honey Creek Church of the Nazarene under the direction of Stephen Michael Newby. Honey Creek Church of the Nazarene is located at 5700 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor.

A love offering will be received at the concert. Reservations may be made by contacting the church office at 761-5941 because of limited seating capacity.

Use a clothesline to dry your clothes. Electric dryers use about 1,000 kilowatt-hours of energy per year; that could be as much as your refrigerator uses.

JIM AND PEGGY PAIGE of Chelsea are known to their congregations as the Rev. Jim Paige and the Rev. Peggy Paige. Jim recently became pastor at Salem Grove United Methodist church, while Peggy has the same duties at Sharon Valley United Methodist church. The couple most recently served three Methodist churches in the Glennie area near Oscoda. They are now living in Manchester. The couple met while attending Methuen, a Methodist theological school near Columbus, O., where they studied for master of divinity degrees. Jim completed his undergraduate work at Adrian College, moving to Michigan from Upton, Mass. Peggy, originally from Akron, O., earned undergraduate degrees in math and physics, but got the calling to the ministry in her senior year. They were the first co-pastors in the Detroit Methodist Conference.

Farmers Control Their Own Destiny in Animal Rights Battle

Farmers have to educate the public that agricultural animals are humanely treated, according to a speaker at a conference on animal welfare held at the American Farm Bureau Federation's (AFBF) annual meeting in Kansas City. Ann Banville, a Washington D.C. public relations consultant who follows the animal rights movement for various commodity organizations, said the animal rights movement is experiencing some fall-off in funding because of the recession. This signals the beginning of a new phase for the movement, she said, and the issue will be approached differently in the next five to 10 years.

At the core of the issue is whether or not animals should be used as food. "If you think it's okay to use animals for food, the concern becomes the well-being of animals," said Banville. The animal rights movement is a "very vocal, very organized group of activists who do not publicly acknowledge this; instead, they make it an environmental or cruelty issue, according to Banville.

Changes Needed in Training of Rural Family Physicians

Medical schools need to change how and where they train family doctors if they are to meet the need for primary care physicians in rural America. At the same time, rural Americans need to appreciate the role mid-level medical practitioners can play in meeting their health care needs, two physicians told the American Farm Bureau Federation's rural health care conference at the organization's annual meeting in Kansas City.

Training family physicians in a high-technology, inner-city environment while hoping they will choose a rural practice is analogous to training farmers in a climate-controlled city classroom and hoping they'll be successful in agriculture, said Dr. Paul Williams of the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Medicine. Students trained in a high-technology environment learn a different kind of medicine than is needed in rural areas, he said.

Rural people need to understand the training and scope of responsibility of mid-level health professionals like physicians' assistants, nurse practitioners and nurse midwives, said Dr. Harvey Estes, Jr., director of the North Carolina Medical Society Foundation's Kate B. Reynolds Community Practitioner Program. Mid-level practitioners can perform approximately two-thirds of the work performed by physicians at half the salary, he said.

Use of phosphates in laundry detergents ultimately leads to sulfocation of waterways, because disposed phosphates promote uncontrolled algae growth.

Your washing machine and dryer can account for more than 20% of household energy use, and that doesn't even count the demands of laundry on your water heater.

Red Cross Desperate for More Blood

Washtenaw United Way and the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross, a Washtenaw United Way funded agency, urge the people of our community to donate blood. Washtenaw county and the entire Southeastern Michigan area is now in the midst of a blood crisis. "The blood supply is critically low," according to Tom Hastie, operations manager at the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Hastie says this shortage has forced the American Red Cross to dip into its emergency supply. He says a major reason for the shortage was the recent winter storm that hit the area. "On a normal day between 800 to 1,000 people in Southeastern Michigan donate blood, but on the day of the storm that number dropped to just over 200."

To donate blood you are encouraged to make an appointment with the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross at 971-1500. The Red Cross is especially in need of O-Positive and O-Negative blood.

Many people are surprised to learn that an activity as innocent as washing our clothes can have significant environmental impacts. But when you look at water use, energy use, and the pollutants that are generated by laundry machines, it is clear that there is room for improvement in the way we do the wash.

Washington Street Show Choir, Jazz Band Presenting Show

On Feb. 4, the auditorium of Chelsea High school will rock and roll during the second annual Washington Street Show Choir and Jazz Band festival of music. The performance starts at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday night and the price of admission is $3 for adults or $2 for senior citizens and children under 12. The presentation is designed to appeal to all ages and the public is welcomed. It provides excellent family entertainment and is timed to be approximately 60 minutes in length with a short midpoint intermission.

Bill Gourley directs 14 high school-age musicians through such high energy pop and commercial selections as "Can't Buy Me Love," "Rainbow Connection," and "Summer Samba," along with other songs calculated to set toes tapping and raise winter-worn spirits. Gourley explains that the thrust of the concert is to present spirited selections at a professional pace. The performance is "short and sweet and leaves the audience wanting more." The experience offers young musicians "an opportunity to explore other kinds of music for a well rounded program."

Although both Gourley and Steven Hinz, who directs the Show Choir, are music teachers in the Chelsea school system, both groups are independent and not connected to the schools. The music directors donate their time to the young performers and last year that meant a total of 547 hours for Hinz. When asked why he would offer so much personal time, Hinz immediately responded by saying that show choir is "an exciting medium to perform. It touches young people on their own level and they can relate to it. And the audience responds so well." During one recent rehearsal, his face gave even more insight as he watched the practice, reflecting a mixture of sincere pride and admiration. He completely enjoys what he is doing.

The Show Choir is in its second year and consists of 39 local high school-age students who audition in spring. For most of the performers, this is their first experience with stage singing and dancing. The routines are crisp, rapid-paced, and hard driving and performers are often left breathless and exhausted during rehearsals. However, after a few moments they are back on their feet and working toward improvement.

With a mixture of patience, kindness, respect, and discipline, Hinz encourages members to "make the audience want to jump up and dance with you." And indeed, at past performances the standing ovations that these young people have received attest to achieving this goal.

Participation in the choir is not all work, since practices are occasionally punctuated by gales of laughter as the performers mix positive socialization and co-operation. Hinz is able to fuse the high energy and excitement of the members with a sense of personal responsibility and pride in accomplishment. The result is a sharp, professional stage production that infects the audience with its joy and energy.

The presentation opens with a routine based on a popular '80's rock group named the Nylons. It then goes to an impressive high-impact medley of rock tunes from the 1950's through the 1980's called "The Beat Goes On." Professional musician and vocalist, Lisa Hinz-Johnson, accompanies on the piano and is joined by teens on drums and guitars. The dance routines have been expertly choreographed by Roxie Kring and Kathy Marrero.

Since the group does not receive outside funds, the PSG (parent support group) is essential to its existence. This equally energetic group of adults plan, raise funds, sew costumes, make props, organize retreats, print tickets and programs, gather equipment, and get members to rehearsals. Hinz credits their impressive outpouring of support and willingness to do "whatever is needed" for a great share of the show choir's success.

In a future performance, on Feb. 29, the Chelsea group will be joined by two other Show Choirs from Southfield and Sterling Heights in a second presentation to be held in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Detergents, by definition, are made from synthetic materials, usually petroleum-based, while soaps are made from completely organic materials. The breakdown of detergents leaves synthetic materials that pollute waterways with toxic chemicals.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY:

Mysteries Top Latest McKune Additions

McKune Memorial Library of Chelsea has one of the most extensive and diverse collections of mystery novels in Washtenaw county. Recent additions to the collection include the following.

"Blindsight" by Robin Cook—This state-of-the-art best-selling, medical-thriller, reminiscent of "Coma," will make you think twice about visits to your doctor or your hospital. With disturbing, electrifying detail, "Blindsight" tells of Manhattan forensic pathologist Dr. Laurie Montgomery's battle to foil a plot of unimaginable evil.

"Comeback" by Dick Francis—In Francis' 30th thoroughbred thriller a globe-hopping diplomat comes face to face with a case of fatal corruption. Following a Tokyo assignment British First Secretary Peter Darwin decides to holiday in England before his next assignment. During a stopover in Miami he is accidentally caught in a scuffle that leads him unexpectedly into a veterinary surgeon's racehorse-related nightmare.

"The Manson Curse" by Dell Shannon—This previously unpublished novel discovered by Shannon's heirs is an English Gothic mystery in the tradition of "The Turn of the Screw" and "Moonstone." American journalist John Harkness is reassigned to his paper's London office and quickly becomes embroiled in a bizarre tale involving an ancient family curse.

"Hour of the Hunter" by J. A. Jance—In this novel written by the celebrated author of the detective J. P. Beaumont series, Jance turns her eye for realism and authenticity to her home state of Arizona, in a tale of heart stopping suspense and Native American myth. A ruthless killer stalks Diana Ladd and her young son. Her son's beloved Nana is a Papago wise woman with powerful resources of her own. Along with a mysterious blind prophet and a local police detective, the two women prepare to meet the approaching menace.

"The Melting Clock" by Stuart M. Kaminsky—Toby Peter is a private investigator with a bad back, ghastly taste in clothes, a non-existent palate, a regrettable selection of acquaintances, a habit of stumbling across dead bodies—and a reputation for getting the job done. He's been involved in a number of unusual cases over the years, but this time he's hired by Salvador Dali, the surrealist painter and self promoter par excellence, to find three paintings stolen from his retreat in Carmel.

ENERGY BILLS A PROBLEM?

If you can't pay your energy bills, cold winter weather can be frightening. But help may be as close as your telephone. (If you do not have a telephone, contact the telephone company for information about the Lifeline Program and help in getting a telephone.) Through local utility companies, state government has developed programs to provide protection against winter shutoff for low income and senior citizens. If you think you won't be able to pay, call your utility company early to prevent a problem. Help may be available.

Legal Notice 21

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by ALFRED L. BROWN and DELLA L. BROWN, husband and wife, and SANDRA F. BAILEY to HOUSEHOLD FINANCE CORPORATION III, Mortgagee, Dated June 8, 1989, and recorded in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, on February 13, 1992, in Liber 1428, on Page 708, of Washtenaw County Records, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Twenty-six Thousand Three Hundred Six and 90/100 Dollars ($26,306.90).
And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises, or some part of them, at public vendue, at the main lobby of the Washtenaw Court House, Huron St., entrance, on Thursday, February 24, 1992, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., Local Time, on February 24, 1992.

Said premises are situated in the Township of Saline, Washtenaw County, Michigan, and are described as follows:
Tax ID: 18-19-300-007
Commencing at the South 1/4 Corner, Section 19, Town 4 South, Range 5 East, Saline Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan; thence North 88 degrees 35'00" West 82.88 feet along the South line of said section and the centerline of Willow Road for a PLACE OF BEGINNING; thence continuing along said line North 85 degrees 35'30" West 463.36 feet; thence North 27 degrees 50'00" West 433.79 feet; thence North 49 degrees 50'00" East 463.37 feet along the centerline of US-12; thence South 24 degrees 10'30" East 780.15 feet to the PLACE OF BEGINNING, being a part of the Southwest 1/4 of said Section 19, and being subject to the rights of the public over the Northwest 1/4 of said Section 19, Town 4 South, Range 5 East, Saline Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

During the six months immediately following the sale, the property may be redeemed. If not so redeemed, the property is determined to be abandoned pursuant to MCLA 600.324(a), the property may be redeemed during the 30 days immediately following the sale. Dated: Kalamazoo, Michigan, November 8, 1991.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Session Tuesday, December 10, 1991
The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele. Present: President Steele, Clerk Morrison, Village Manager Myers, Assistant Village Manager Kuehn. Trustees Present: Steele, Hammer, Finch, Kanten, Dorer, Anderson, Merkel. Others Present: L. McDougall, H. Thurkow, B. Hamilton, T. Osborne. The first order of business was public participation and there was none. Motion by Dorer, supported by Finch, to approve the Consent Agenda. All Ayes. Motion carried. Leonard E. McDougall, Chief of Police, distributed his monthly report for November 1991. Council members inquired as to the procedure used in handling false 911 calls. Chief McDougall was present and explained the procedure to Council. Chief Paul E. Hankerd, Chelsea Fire Department, distributed his monthly report for November 1991. Chief Hankerd asked the Council's permission to send out specifications for a new jeep with customization. The customized jeep would be used for grass fires, etc. President Steele asked Chief Hankerd to send out specifications and report back to Council. Trustee Hammer reported that the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority is still waiting for the Governor to sign the budget and they have a meeting next week. Trustee Anderson asked Council if another tax abatement came before them what their feelings would be and how they would handle a request for a tax abatement. President Steele indicated that any abatements would be looked at on a case by case basis—as they are now. Tom Osborne, representing the Fire Department Building Fund Report presented to Council that he had heard from three townships. The Council felt due to the response received that priority will be given to the current Village Fire Hall updates and remodeling at this time. Assistant Village Manager Kuehn, per the request of the Council presented a proposed Amendment to Ordinance 56 (Impounding and Disposal of Dogs), to include a statement that makes it unlawful to allow any dog to discharge its feces on property other than that of its owner unless the owner immediately removes such feces. President Steele informed Council that this matter will be on the agenda for the first meeting in January, in order to give residents an opportunity to let their feelings known to Trustees in the meantime. Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to bid out the Audit Agreement for auditing services for the fiscal year ending in February 1992. All Ayes. Motion carried. Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to have President Steele and Village Manager Myers act on behalf of the Village and Council as to whether or not the Village should be enlisting the services of the Michigan Public Power Agency ("MPPA"). All Ayes. Motion carried. Motion by Anderson, supported by Merkel, to approve the appointment of Alice Rhodes to the Chelsea Recreation Council for a term expiring 8-31-92. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Farm Bureau Urges Curb on Possible Local Pesticide Restrictions

Calling for state senators to "keep common sense and scientific analysis in pesticide regulation," Michigan Farm Bureau testified in favor of Senate Bill 643.

The measure, approved recently by the Senate Agriculture, Forestry and Wildlife Committee, would amend the Michigan Pesticide Control Act to preempt local ordinances seeking to control the use of pesticides.

Michigan farmers have been very concerned about the potential shift in the control of pesticide use from federal and state regulations to local units of government ever since a U.S. Supreme Court decision to permit a Wisconsin town to write its own pesticide rules, according to Vicki Pontz, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"We strongly believe it is in the nation's best interest to have a partnership of federal and state governments vested with the authority to make and carry out pesticide regulations," she told senators.

"Local regulation will create a patchwork of regulation that will often make it impossible for farmers operating in more than one jurisdiction to comply. Local regulation would replace sound scientific analysis with emotional 'chemophobia,'" she said.

Like Boston, New Jersey had a "tea party" during the mounting friction between the colonies and Great Britain. At Greenwich, near Delaware Bay, young men in Indian costume burned a shipload of tea from England in 1774.

GRASS LAKE DEPOT has undergone an amazing restoration over the last year or so as area workers have donated their time to turn the burned-out shell into one of the classic structures in the area. Renovation is still continuing on the inside. Money for the restoration has come from a state grant, township donation, and fundraisers, among other sources. It will eventually be used as a facility for many community functions.

Chelsea Facade Loan Program Introduced By Society Bank

Society Bank has introduced a Chelsea Facade Loan Program, designed to stimulate reinvestment in Chelsea's downtown buildings.

"We have been impressed with the progress of Chelsea's downtown rejuvenation project," noted George Cress, chairman, president, and CEO of Society Bank, Michigan. "We recognize that, in order for the DDA to reach its ultimate goal, it needs the active support of the Chelsea business community. We hope that the Chelsea Facade Loan Program will encourage business and real estate owners to reinvest in downtown Chelsea." Cress added.

"Society Bank has earmarked a $500,000 pool of funds which will be made available to qualifying Chelsea businesses and downtown real estate owners from January, 1992 through June, 1993. Applicants must own of occupy commercial real estate that is located in Chelsea's Central Business District. Tenants would have to submit a letter of approval from the landlord.

Loans from $5,000 to $50,000 will be available with terms of up to 10 years. Special rates have been set for both fixed and variable rate loans.

Interested parties may receive more information about the Chelsea Facade Loan Program by contacting Mark Baily or David Baker at Society Bank, 475-9154.

★ Cat-to-Cat Aggression—Part II

Last week we explored a few of the reasons behind feline aggression in a multiple cat household. Specifically, we discussed male interfighting, territorial problems, and aggression caused by accidental frightening occurrences. We'll conclude by looking at redirected aggression, and aggression that results from introducing a new cat to the household.

Redirected aggression: An angry cat is unsafe to approach, even if she is your own pet. Perhaps she was just involved in a cat fight or was severely frightened by another animal, either inside the house or viewed through a window. Cats generally do not redirect their aggression unless approached or touched by an animal or person. Therefore, simply wait until your cat has calmed down before attempting to handle her. You can tell that she is calmer when she has switched to another behavior (grooming, eating, playing) other than the defensive one. In an emergency, such as when your cat must be removed from the angry situation to prevent injury or loss of life, throw a heavy blanket over the cat, bundling her securely, and then pick her up.

New cat in the house: Whether a kitten or a full-grown adult, a new cat in a house will almost always cause tension. The existing feline feels her territory invaded while the new cat must establish a dominance rank in the household. You can minimize the stress for all parties and reduce the amount of fighting by introducing the newcomer over a period of days. Begin by confining the new cat in a cat-proof room that is closed off from the other cats in the house. Spend time with the new arrival, in the room only, for the first few days. It is an excellent time for her to gradually adjust to your routine and the house smells. At the same time you can watch for any signs of health problems that may not have been apparent upon adoption. Make sure she has her own litterbox!

Your other felines will know that there is a new cat in the house, but won't be losing more than one room of their territory during the first crucial days. They will get used to the smell of the other cat by sniffing at the door and by smelling your hands and clothes when you come out of the room. Be sure to lavish extra attention on them at this time.

After a few days, at a time when the house will be relatively quiet and you can be home, introduce the cats face-to-face. Open the door to the new cat's room, and then seat yourself nearby to watch developments, armed with a heavy blanket and a squirt gun in case of serious fighting that must be stopped. Expect a certain amount of growling, hissing, raised backs, sniffing, hiding, approaching, and even swatting. The cats will have to sort things out among them and this is how they do so. If things get too rough, use the blanket or the water.

The aggression should calm down gradually, but you may need to confine the newcomer in the room again and continue the introduction after tensions have calmed. It often takes days, weeks, even a month or more for the new cat to be accepted into the household by the other felines. But once that has happened, you can again sit back and enjoy the rewards of multiple cat ownership!

Manchester Man Completes Marine Intelligence Course

Marine Pfc. Jonathan C. Woodard, son of Karen V. Woodard of 800 E. Duncan St., Manchester, recently graduated from the Marine Air-Ground Task Force Intelligence Specialist Course.

During the course of Marine Corps Administrative Detachment, Navy and Marine Corps Intelligence Training Center, Dam Neck, Virginia Beach, Va., students receive instruction on operational and combat intelligence tasks required of members in related military occupational specialties. ## Lt. Col. Donald Atkinson Promoted To Colonel in Air Force Reserve

Air Force Reserve Lt. Col. Donald G. Atkinson of Pittsboro, Ind., was recently promoted to colonel. He is the son of Mrs. G.W. Atkinson of Chelsea.

Atkinson was selected for promotion by members of the USAF Colonel Selection Promotion Board. He will assume his new rank later this year.

Atkinson is commander of the 434th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron based at Grison. He has been a member of the unit since 1981 and has more than 24 years of military service.

As commander of the 434th CAMS, he is responsible for the over-all maintenance effort for all KC-135 Stratotanker aircraft assigned to the 434th Air Refueling Wing.

Atkinson began his Air Force career in 1967 after completing Officer Training School. He served on active duty for the next four years and joined the Air Force Reserve in 1972.

Geoff M. Ostling Completes Navy Recruit Training

Navy Fireman Recruit Geoff M. Ostling, son of Daniel J. and Julie A. Ostling of 13405 Old US-12, Chelsea, recently completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, San Diego, Calif.

During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies include seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid. He is a 1991 graduate of Chelsea High school.

He assumed his present position in 1988.

He served tours of duty in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia during both Operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm. He was the maintenance superintendent for the 1709th Air Refueling Wing, which consisted of active duty, Reserve and National Guard aircraft. It was the largest tanker task force ever assembled. During the Gulf War, the unit flew more than 7,000 refueling missions.

Atkinson's military awards and decorations include the Air Force Commendation Medal, the National Defense Service Medal, Armed Forces Reserve Medal, Air Force Outstanding Unit Medal, Air Force Longevity Award, Small Arms Expert Ribbon, and the Air Force Training Ribbon.

In his civilian occupation he is the superintendent of industrial engineering for Allison Transmission in Indianapolis.
