CHRISTMAS IN APRIL volunteers remove a huge load of debris from a home on Old US-12 during last Saturday's first annual event in the area. About 150 volunteers worked on five area homes in need of repair.

Christmas in April Gets Huge Turnout Despite Lousy Weather

Chilly temperatures and light rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of more than 170 volunteers who worked in Chelsea last Saturday as part of the county-wide Christmas in April/Washtenaw program.

Five Chelsea-area homes were initially targeted for repairs by the program to rehabilitate houses for elderly, handicapped, and low-income owners. However, because there were nearly 30 more volunteers than local co-ordinator Dick Shaneyfelt had anticipated, two more houses were added at the last minute.

"The spirits were really up and the volunteers were just fantastic," Shaneyfelt said.

"They showed up on such a cold, rotten day and they worked hard. For the most part, I think most volunteers went home feeling good about their accomplishments, and they went home very tired. In talking to people in other parts of the county, I think our turnout was as good or better than most."

Work began as early as 8 a.m. House captains Tom Broughton, Earl Brown, John Kipfmiller, Marvin Carlson, Lucy Silverio, and Ralph Kingler organized crews at each site. Confirmation class at Chelsea First United Methodist church staffed a daycare center at St. Paul United Church of Christ for parents who wanted to participate in the program.

People from all walks of life participated, from church youth groups to school administrators. Tradespeople donated their time, skills, and knowledge to make the specialized jobs run more smoothly.

Bollinger Sanitation donated the use of two dump trucks to haul away debris, and, if anything, the work generated a lot of plain trash and junk. The village donated space at the landfill for all the accumulation, which Shaneyfelt called "a godsend."

At a house on South St., crews installed a kitchen floor, carpeted a bedroom, repaired a back and front porch, and painted virtually the entire interior.

At a house on Congdon St., new electrical service was installed, the garage was re-roofed, a back porch was added, front porch steps were added, and extensive yard-work was completed.

At a house on Old US-12, electricians re-wired the entire home and added new service, while other volunteers drywalled the living room ceiling, and a huge crew of about 40 people turned what was essentially a junk heap outside into a relatively attractive yard.

Another house on Old US-12 was rewired, had a front porch with handicap ramp installed, had a retaining wall and stairs to the basement installed, and an extensive exterior clean-up completed.

At yet a third house on Old US-12, a new water heater was installed, a shower stall and vanity were installed, and gutters and downspouts were cleaned and repaired.

A crew completed yardwork at a house on Freer Rd., and hauled an extensive amount of debris to the landfill.

"Finally, work at a house on Helm Rd. had to be delayed because it involved mostly exterior painting. All exterior painting is scheduled to be completed, weather permitting, on Saturday, May 9."

Thompson's Pizzeria, Domino's Pizza, and Cottage Inn provided lunch for the workers at St. Mary's Parish and Knights of Columbus Hall, while Polly's Market donated soft drinks.

Final bill for the project won't be known for a few days. House captains made numerous trips to Chelsea Lumber Co. to pick up needed materials. The lumber company not only made a donation to the program but agreed to provide materials, from shingles to wood, at a discount. That, (Continued on page six)

Recycling Authority To Consider Options Proposed by Haulers

For the third time since its inception, the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority finds itself trying to determine whether it can offer the cheapest and most efficient recycling program for residents in the western part of the county without help from private industry.

The authority, armed with a $330,000 matching state grant from the Department of Natural Resources, has put its program temporarily on hold until it can hear full presentations on the recycling capabilities of the two largest trash haulers in the area, Mr. Rubbish, Inc., and Browning Ferris Industries.

Company representatives gave their sales pitches to the authority last Wednesday, and the authority agreed to hold a special meeting at each company's facility this week. The authority has also set up a special meeting for Wednesday, May 6 at Sylvan Town Hall at 3 p.m. to make some final decisions on the program.

"It should be a pivotal meeting," said authority chair Ronald Mann of the May 6 meeting.

Mann said last week that he could easily envision a hybrid program combining the efforts of the authority and one or both of the rubbish haulers. However, the level and type of involvement of private industry was not known, and there are many questions to be answered before that kind of program could go forward. As it stands, the authority, consisting of the villages of Chelsea and Manchester, and the townships of Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, Dexter, Bridgewater, Sharon, and Manchester, plans to implement the program without private help. Freedom township recently voted to drop out of the authority due to cost considerations.

"The companies might be able to take some management and operational responsibilities yet allow us some control over the operation," Mann said.

Local control, Mann said, would be one of the keys to a joint program or one entirely managed by a private hauler.

"I wouldn't want to have a program that would have to be put out on bid every year," Mann said.

"Once we get something set up, we'd want some continuity to it. We'd want to have some say in the services our residents receive. We wouldn't want to be switching from a bag program to a drop-off program."

Mann also said the authority would want some sort of cost guarantees.

Many residents in the authority, Mann said, are likely to get their recycling for free after this year. That's because the county has signed a long-term contract with the Arbor Hills Landfill, owned by BFI, in which a portion of tipping fees collected would be re-distributed back to local municipalities to be used specifically for recycling programs. Mann said Freedom township stands to get back about $9,500 to $9,800, but residents are assessed a total of $9,100 through the authority's special assessment of $17 per household. The 10 units of government in the authority are expected to collect about $100,000 through the county contract, and that money would be used by the authority.

However, all those questions and more have to be answered fairly quickly. The authority wants to begin construction of its materials handling facility at the Chelsea landfill in May. In addition, four finalists have been interviewed for the manager's position. Equipment, some of it with a long lead time, has to be ordered.

Authority vice-chair Frank Hammer of Chelsea admitted he was upset by last week's meeting. He argues that by signing on with a private hauler, the authority stands to lose at least some control over the program. Local control was one of the major reasons the authority was formed in the first place. He also contends that if the authority can't operate the program economically, private industry can enter the picture at a later date. He says the reason the haulers are interested in the program is to make money, and that opportunity will be available later.

"There are people who think that private industry can always operate a program more economically than anything that smacks of government, but that just isn't the case," Hammer said.

Most of the equipment to be purchased by the authority will come from the state grant. The authority will have prison labor available to staff the program, which will come considerably cheaper than hired employees. The authority will also market its own products.

Methodist Church Plans $1.2 Million Expansion

Chelsea First United Methodist church on Park St. is planning a $1.2 million expansion beginning later this year.

Phase one, an estimated $450,000 project, would hook to the main sanctuary building and run parallel to Park St. to the east. The two-floor building would provide a main lobby area, handicap access bathrooms, and an elevator to connect to the sanctuary or below to the basement.

A drive-in area will be created where people can be dropped off. It will be especially useful for elderly and handicapped members of the congregation, many of whom come from the Chelsea Retirement Community.

Phase one will also contain an area where coats may be hung, two offices, a reception area, and a classroom. The exterior will be designed to be harmonious with the existing stone building.

Phase two, scheduled to begin in a few years, will connect phase one with the existing classroom area on the back of the property, creating a courtyard in the middle.

Phase two will include several classrooms, bathrooms with showers, a kitchen, and a large social hall designed for events such as wedding receptions.

Chelsea Downtown Development Authority has agreed to accommodate the plans in its general streetscape project with the appropriate brick work and lighting.

The project is in site plan review.

Firefighter's Wife Gets The Eye

The wife of a Chelsea firefighter told police that a white man driving a red car stood outside his car at a local gasoline station and stared at her while she pumped gasoline on Thursday, April 16.

Similar incidents have been reported by wives of other Chelsea firefighters apparently involving the same man. Up to now he has apparently done nothing more than stare. The man is about 5' 9" with gray hair and a mustache. The car also has sheepskin seatcovers.

Office Paper Project Halted Temporarily

Chelsea's office paper recycling program is being temporarily dropped.

The problem, according to a person connected to the program, is the paper wasn't being recycled but was being dumped in a landfill.

The Chelsea program was being operated with the co-operation of trash hauler Mr. Rubbish and had been established more than a year ago. It was designed to recycle all kinds of highly processed office paper such as computer paper.

The company periodically hauled a bin full of paper away and billed the program. Local volunteers, who coordinated the effort with businesses and government, assumed the material was being recycled since that was the intent of the program.

The company, said the recycling participant, has given conflicting information as to why the paper wasn't recycled. And local volunteers were discouraged to discover their efforts were wasted.

"Club Shanghai—Year of the Dragon" was the theme of Saturday's Chelsea High school Junior/Senior prom. Nearly 500 students were expected to attend the annual event. Students would enter the building in the "alum" area of town where beggars, fortune tellers and booths of many kinds would greet them. From there they would move into a China garden, modeled after a 1940s Shanghai club.

Work was continuing on bringing Chelsea into accordance with the EPA asbestos guidelines and the Washtenaw County Right to Know ordinance, according to assistant superintendent Fred Mills. Engler Says Cuts Minimize Pain
The $128.1 million in reduced spending proposals outlined by Governor John Engler will have minimal effect on state services and mean no new layoffs, officials said.

The rest of the governor's long-awaited solutions to the $785.5 million deficit would come from a variety of one-time changes in financing and using $150 million from the rainy day fund.

The plan embodied in three executive orders and a series of bills that need legislative approval would put 1991-1992 general fund spending at $7,650.1 million, or $54.7 million more than under the budget as it now stands. But with the state's existing tax structure producing just $7,057.5 million, officials acknowledge a substantial structural deficit still remains, albeit smaller than last year.

Engler said he crafted the solution with an eye toward winning rapid approval of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees, by taking more from the rainy day fund than he would have liked and softening actual cuts in services.

For instance, the Department of Social Services was spared any cuts, although the governor withdrew an earlier request for a $30 million supplemental. Engler said he generally avoided touching operating budgets because the cuts would be too deep this late in the fiscal year.

"I need and want the co-operation of the Appropriations Committees," Engler said. "This is even-handed and fair." He issued three orders in hopes the least controversial items that were supported by Democratic leaders last year could be quickly adopted.

Democrats were far more reserved in their criticism of the governor than they were during last year's budget fights, but did not give any immediate indications they would support the Engler plan.

State treasury officials were in New York on the same day the cuts were announced briefing rating agencies on the deficit-reduction plan, and Engler said the state's credit rating would likely suffer if an agreement is not reached soon.

"We tried to make this as painless as possible," he said. "It doesn't pick any fights unduly."

"While avoiding any general tax increases, the package presumes passage of a series of fee increases that were built into the budget bills passed last year but have since run into roadblocks in the House."

Those include 15 fee increases for such items as dry cleaning firms, X-ray machines, water testing, regulatory loans, consumer services and mortgage brokers that will pay for staffing services not covered by the general fund.

And while education is not cut directly, the governor proposed cutting school aid payments later this year if enrollments would mean a higher general fund payment than the $127 million supplemental now calculated.

Highlights of the plan include:

—$188.4 million by reducing reserves for school retirees health care. Another $188.1 million would be saved by eliminating this year's prepayment for future care and spreading over five years, rather than two, the calculation of payments into the school retirement plan.

—$50 million by changing accounting for inheritance taxes.

—$111.3 million by delaying revenue sharing payments to counties, municipalities and townships now due in August and September until October and November.

The governor expanded on a House-passed idea to delay just a portion of those payments while dropping his proposal to cut this year's payments by $34.4 million. The payments will still reach most local units within their same fiscal years, although it pushes the obligation for the state into the 1992-1993 year.

—$128 million in spending cuts, with $102.1 million of that from unallotted funds that departments say have been saved already this year and cuts in restricted fund programs to benefit the general fund. Spending cuts would hit 14 of the 18 departments, with Treasury suffering the biggest loss at 5 percent.

Mental Health could incur a cut of $5.8 million (.8 percent), the largest amounts hitting multi-cultural programs, severance pay, and the Lafayette Clinic in Detroit which the administration is scaling down.

About $4.5 million to be saved by implementing a 2 percent reduction for the Legislature, judiciary and state Library must be approved by the full Legislature. A variety of capital outlay projects would be cut $55.8 million and another $24.8 million would be saved by shifting some transportation programs to bonds.

Among restricted fund cuts to shore up the general fund, $9.6 million by draining a fund supported by boat fees that was intended to develop four harbors on the Great Lakes. That will delay their development for up to three years.

The $4.8 million in general fund cuts in Natural Resources include savings in hazardous waste programs which officials say are possible because of prior delays in hiring additional personnel and Mackinac Island State Park operations which will mean fewer summer workers, some of them working for a shorter season.

—$14.5 million in a general fund supplemental to partially restore some of the governor's vetoes and to meet increased needs. Transfers are to be used within DSS to handle those accounts which are short.

Recommended supplements from restricted funds include $1.8 million to give back half of the grants to cities with horse racetracks and $4.5 million for racing programs. The governor continues to oppose restoring funds to the Pontiac Silverdome.

Funding for the Wayne County indigent medical care program which is expected to be discontinued at the end of this month without legislation (HB 5228) releasing federal and restricted funds, is part of the governor's supplemental package.

Engler said the Legislature and administration are moving toward a solution on the program, but added if a deadlock holds up funding into May, the state will step in with a comparable program to ensure that citizens who need the care are not left "high and dry."

Withdrawal of $150 million from the rainy day fund would leave $45 million still in the account.

Woodworth said the entire balance could be withdrawn under current guidelines due to the depth of the recession, but said it is essential to maintain some reserve to meet unanticipated expenditures.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
Right up there with death and taxes on the certain list is annual reports on how far the Tower of Pizza leaned and how much more stuff was crammed in the Smithsonian Institution during the past year. Ed Doolittle came to the session at the country store Saturday night with a clip that said we added 407,000 items to "America's attic" in 1991.

Ed said these included a stagecoach that carried mail in Vermont 150 year ago and bits of a canoe used in Lewis and Clark exploring. Ed said what he has been expecting the Smithsonian to get but he was glad it didn't is the last pair of overalls wore by the last farmer to run his own farm in the United States of America.

Ed had a clip that said farms and ranches use about the same amount of land they did 100 year ago when 35 percent of the population lived on them. Now, two percent of us are farmers, and every year farmland is owned by fewer of us. He said folks that own fewer than 50 acres make up 30 percent of the owners but only two percent of the total acres. This means more and more land is in fewer and fewer hands, Ed noted, and that means what the USDA calls agribusiness is getting bigger and family farming is an endangered species.

Furthermore, Ed went on, agribusiness is making a mockery of Federal farm subsidies and research programs. The bigger they are the less they need Government assistance and the more they get because they can afford whole departments that do nothing but put in for grants.

For instant, Ed said among the USDA's pet projects this year are $1.7 million to breed better beef, $2.3 million to research new varieties of peaches, $1.8 million to work on better blueberries and another $1.7 million to work on potatoes that make better french fries. You got to know, Ed said, that this money went to big outfits because who else is set up to spend it.

The fact is, he went on, if there is any Federal program aimed at preserving the family farm and rural communities it is buried under the stack of agribusiness applications. And the claim that more productive methods and better products developed by the USDA grants trickle down to the little fellow is not backed up by the number of them that give up the ghost every year.

Actual, broke in Clem Webster, America's small farmers can get plenty of Government help for the asking. There still is a USDA pamphlet to cover every situation. Considering that small farms are getting smaller and fewer, he noted, there is "Living on a Few Acres." It must be good because what came in the mail was a card saying he could send $10 to the U.S. Government Printing Office for the pamphlet.

Actual, Clem went on, the card said the information was especial for city folks that think they buy a little place in the country, tend a garden, raise a few chickens and live happy ever after. This pamphlet is a needed service, Clem said, because these dreamers are going to need all the help they can get making their way down this highway to Heaven.

The sad truth is, anybody can live on a few acres, but nobody can live off a few acres, unless they are full of high rise office buildings in the middle of Manhattan. The only way to do it in the country is to live close enough to town that you can afford to drive back and forth to work, was Clem's words.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Citizen Group Starts Fund for Parks Playground Equipment

Safe, enjoyable playground equipment is needed in our village parks. Many children have been injured on the dated equipment which doesn't meet current U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission Guidelines. Nor do any of our parks meet standards for the American Disabilities Act of 1992 which requires at least a portion of equipment be suited to disabled children's needs.

A group of concerned Chelsea citizens has made a commitment to raise funds for new equipment with special attention to safety. A full 12-inch protective base with safe, exciting equipment is planned for ages pre-school through adult! A goal of $15,000 has been set to build Phase 1 of the Pierce Park Playground Project.

Pierce Park was chosen as the site because of the dearth of safe equipment at that location. It provides an "entrance to Chelsea." A well-used playground will contribute to the growing sense of community that is developing with the pavilion and summer concerts. The tree canopy can help protect children from the sun's increasingly damaging rays.

Surrounding blended equipment with safe slides, suspension bridge, climbing poles and decks is planned. Also included in Phase 1 is replacement of pre-school and older child swings. The previous swing set needed to be taken down because of deteriorating metal poles. The company chosen for the project is currently installing equipment at many Ann PROPOSED PLAYGROUND STRUCTURE: An example of the type of structure planned for Pierce Park, depending on funds raised.

Arbor schools and is known for their dependability and safety record. Equipment is durable and should provide decades of safe use for our children. A preliminary plan has been approved by the Village Manager and President if funds can be raised. The village will also allot a sizable pledge to be incorporated into the fund drive. The exciting five-year plan of the Chelsea Recreation Council includes no major allotment for new playground equipment thus we are seeking help from Chelsea citizens and service groups. Community ownership is stressed. A modest, one time effort from the majority of Chelsea families would build a safe, durable playground. As an example, if one targets the 1,225 children in the K-5 age range, just $12 per child contributed would attain our goal. This doesn't include many pre-school and older child families, grandparents, and other Chelsea residents who would like to contribute to a much needed project.

An account has been set up at Chelsea State Bank for contributions. Contributions should be mailed to "Pierce Park Playground Project," P.O. Box 475, Chelsea, 48118.

A rapid response will allow the playground to be built for use soon. All contributions will help obtain the goal. No direct mail drive will be used unless initial response is poor to defray costs of the drive.

Make a community commitment that is lasting and makes a difference! Questions may be directed to Lynn Swan, co-ordinator, Pierce Park Playground Project at 475-3828. Future articles will address the structure specifications, where to view the proposed plan, and how the goal is being met.

Radios Stolen From New Cars At Dealership

Radios were stolen from seven new vehicles at Faust-Morrow Buick, Olds, Chevrolet early Thursday, April 16.

According to Chelsea police, someone used a screw driver to shatter windows in the vehicles, which allowed them to get inside.

All radios stolen, valued at $550 each, were the same model. The radios were removed from new trucks, a van, and off-road vehicles.

Police said they found a "very large tennis shoe print" next to at least one of the vehicles.

Employment will increase by 24 million from 1990 to 2005, much less than the 35 million increase from 1975 to 1990, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Signup Period for Acreage Reduction Extended Until May 1

Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan has announced that farmers have until May 1 to sign up for 1992 annual commodity acreage reduction programs administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Today's announcement extends the signup period two weeks beyond the original deadline of April 17.

"Farmers in a variety of special circumstances have told us it would be helpful to have a little more time for signup," Madigan said. "This extension is consistent with the President's instructions to accommodate our programs to producers' needs whenever possible."

The extension will not delay receipt of advance deficiency payments, Madigan said.

Contact the local Washtenaw-Wayne ASCS Office today at 313-682-3900 for an appointment. The office is located at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103.

Bicycle Stolen From Residence

A South St. resident told Chelsea police that someone stole a black and white bicycle from his front yard on Wednesday, April 22.

Value of the bicycle was not known.

Library Porch Target of Vandal

Someone kicked out two concrete pillars from the front railing at McKune Memorial Library on April 20 or 21.

In addition, a wooden library sign was found off the premises.

Ladies Day Program To Honor 'Heroes'

Planning has started for the Ladies Day program at the 1992 Chelsea Community Fair.

This will be the 10th year of the program that has brought many speakers, performers, and prize winners to the fair. In celebration of the anniversary, the program will pay tribute to Ladies.

Organizer Kris Bergman is looking for local women heroes.

"You all know someone who had done so much in life and yet has never been recognized with awards or dinners," Bergman said.

"The mom who raised or is raising a large family, serving the community and caring for elderly parents, working in her church and all the while running marathons. Or how about the woman who hasn't had children but has served relentlessly in schools or hospitals. Maybe your hero is a quiet simple kind of lady who serves others in her own unique way. Whatever the kind of hero you have, I want to hear about her."

A few among those nominated will become at Ladies Day Queens for the 1992 fair. All nominations, with an explanation of the qualities of the nominee, should be sent to Kris Bergman, c/o Chelsea Community Fair, P.O. Box 248, Chelsea 48118. All entries will be reviewed by a panel of judges.

Selected queens will not be notified in advance. However, the nominators will, so it is important they sign their names and include contact information.

The queens will be announced on Ladies Day and will receive special awards and recognition. Nominations should be made by July 1 to allow enough time to make decisions as well as prepare the program. Women may even nominate themselves.

For more information about the event, or for information about serving on a Ladies Day committee, contact Bergman at 475-7923.

Chelsea Attorney Attends National Head Injury Seminar

Randy Musbach attended a three-day seminar in Washington, D. C., last week sponsored by the National Head Injury Foundation.

Lawyers from 47 states specializing in brain injury cases attended the seminar. Advanced trial techniques and the most recent medical advancements in diagnosing brain injuries were discussed by leading experts. Prior to the opening of the seminar Randy met with members of the American Trial Lawyers Association who are forming a traumatic brain injury litigation group to exchange information regarding brain injury cases.

James Brady, former White House press secretary, who sustained a brain injury during the assassination attempt on former President Ronald Reagan in 1981 was a special guest at the seminar.

'Grease' Moves Chelsea Audiences

The once-controversial Chelsea High School musical Grease played to sold-out standing ovations Friday and Saturday nights at the school auditorium. But for many students, parents and music boosters, the play's success was bittersweet.

"One of the very people involved in making this fabulous production possible has already been given his pink slip," said Norma Huschke, vice-president elect of the Chelsea High School Music Boosters. "Steve Hinz, the play's producer, won't be here next year if the new millage doesn't pass. And a lot of us are wondering what kind of forum will be available for all these kids who brought so much talent and energy to this play."

Proposed school funding cuts would eliminate not only Hinz's position, but likely scuttle the extensive music program he's developed in his three years at Chelsea, including the popular Washington Street Show Choir. Hinz's wife, Lisa Hinz-Johnson, an opera performer, was the artistic director for Grease. At the urging of parents and students, Hinz joined the cast on stage during the program's rousing finale.

The ambitious production initially created some concern in the school system because the play portrays 1950's high school students wrestling with adolescent problems such as drinking, delinquency and sex. Hinz and others lobbied for the play, contending it was relevant to the troubles faced by contemporary teen-agers, set in the entertaining structure of a musical comedy.

Following the formal presentation of Grease, the cast dramatically delivered the connection. As the spotlight moved from character to character, each offered a short monologue on the dangers of drinking, sex and drugs. As they spoke, the number of students at Chelsea high School who—based on national statistics—would be victimized by AIDS, pregnancy and alcohol abuse, was represented by more than three dozen students assembling in the background.

After the monologues, the cast came together for a rendition of "If You Were Standing Here," the theme song for SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving). The finale moved many audience members to tears.

Grease featured a cast of 17 main characters and a chorus of 23 students. The play's leads were, in order of appearance, Megan Stielstra, Joanna Richison, Gabriel S. White, Amy Mitchell, Courtney Gorton, Rebecca L. Pryor, Fredric Scott Leeman, Jeremy Scott Guenther, Rob Jaques III, Robert X. Coelius, Jessica Cauffiel, Corrie Schoenberg, Jeremy Sterling, Joe Zettelmaier, Andy Wetzell, Katie Flynn and Nathan Gillikin.

Before the performance, some actors served as auditorium ushers, seating playgoers as they remained in their 1950's "greaser" characters. The play also featured a rock pit band directed by Peter Rosheger, Chelsea School's director of orchestras. The play's high energy choreography was created by Kathy Marrero. Costume director was Jerri Cole. Make-up coordinator was Sue Williams.

Steve Hinz was hired three years ago as the director of vocal music for Chelsea schools and teaches music to students at the elementary through high school levels. His job is on a school board list of proposed cuts if additional millage of 1.95 mills is not approved in the coming June 8 election.

Last year, Hinz founded the popular Washington Street Show Choir, a singing and dancing troupe which has performed to kudos around the state. The group is supported by parents and ticket sales and uses no school funds. Hinz also serves on the planning team for the Teen Institute of Michigan, a leadership program that trains high school students to promote healthy life styles.

"Steve is more than just a young teacher with expertise," said Mrs. Huschke of the Music Boosters. "His dedication has inspired his students and changed the entire approach to not only vocal music, but the problems that face teens in Chelsea schools."

DONALD A. COLE, Director

"I believe that the rendering of useful service is the common duty of mankind and that only in the purifying fire of sacrifice is the dross of selfishness consumed and the greatness of the human soul set free."

—John D. Rockefeller

We seldom think of the founder of the original Standard Oil empire as a philosopher, but Rockefeller's observation contains a basic truth that merits reflection. We are all happier when we are rendering a useful service, no matter how routine.

When our work is done for the benefit of others . . . as in the case of most parents, for example . . . it almost always involves some sacrifice. We do many things we would not do if our own benefit was the sole criteria, and selfishness plays a very minor part, if any, in our daily lives.

Our experience and deep understanding of human need enables us to serve effectively.

NATIONAL HISTORY DAY recently challenged young people to explore a historical subject related to this year's theme of "Rights in History." Stephanie Wesolowski, left, wrote the top paper at Beach Middle school on the California Gold Rush. Dan McMurray, center, took second place on "Changing Food Crops." Jennifer Swope, right, placed third on "Tobacco." And fourth place went to Cooper Deerwester, not pictured, on "Crusades." With the students are teacher Judy Ward, who co-ordinated the local project.

"A lot of awfully good people spent a lot of time organizing and working on this project," Shaneyfelt said.

"I think this project, and what its been able to accomplish, are going to surprise a lot of people. Next year we might be able to do 10 or 15 homes in this area by ourselves. I think the funding will be there and there will be plenty of volunteers."

Quick action on the part of 11-year-old David "Butch" Winans prevented a possible disaster. THANK YOU . . .

We still cannot come to grips with the reality of the absence of our beloved husband and father, Jim Webb. He was always ready to mend whatever was broken—whether a car, building, or a heart. We want to thank the people of Chelsea for the outpouring of love and concern for our family. We want to especially thank Jim and Donna Gaunt; Jerry Parker; Mark and Pat Becker; Gloria, John, John, and Mike Mitchell; Tom and Shirley Goodman; Sharlene Eisenbeiser; and all the special friends in the church and community. We long shall hear the wonderful music as Jack Bittle sang the song Jim sang so many times. We hope some day we may repay your kindness.

Mary Sue, Doug and Debbie Webb

The average 18-month-old little girl will be just about twice as tall and five times as heavy at the age of 18.

THANK YOU

During National Volunteer Week, the Chelsea Retirement Community would like to recognize and express its deep appreciation to its many loyal volunteers who have helped in so many ways this past year.

Rural Education Days Set April 29-30

On April 29 and 30, the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service and the Farm Bureau Promotion and Education committees are sponsoring the second annual county Rural Education Days. The purpose of PROJECT R.E.D. is to educate third grade students about local agriculture and natural resources.

More than 1,200 students from 23 different schools throughout the county are registered to participate in Rural Education Days. All activities will be held at the Washtenaw County Farm Council Grounds, 5055 Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., Ann Arbor.

Many local agriculture and natural resources organizations, businesses, county offices and interested volunteers will be assisting with the program. Wildlife Rehabilitation Workshop Scheduled By Humane Society

In 1991, over 1,100 orphaned and injured wild birds and mammals were brought to the Humane Society of Huron Valley. Due to increasing loss of habitat, each year more of Washtenaw county's wildlife depend on community residents for their survival. Thanks to the dedicated volunteers of HSHV's Friends of Wildlife, many of these animals were able to be released back into the wild.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley is sponsoring a one-day introductory workshop for those interested in learning to raise and release orphaned and injured wild birds and mammals. Area wildlife experts holding State and Federal permits will cover proper feeding, care, housing, and release. This exciting program will be held on Saturday, May 2 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Washtenaw Community College. The cost of the workshop is $25.

To pre-register, or for more information, call (313) 662-5545 weekdays.

Sec. 17.0 Rates and Charges for Authority Services

17.1 The rates for total sewer service charges are to be established from time to time by resolution of the Authority, which may be enacted apart from the published ordinances as necessary to ensure sufficiency of revenues in meeting operation, maintenance and replacement costs, as well as debt service. Such charges shall be made against each premises which has a sewer connection to the sewer system, or which may otherwise discharge sewage for industrial waste, either directly or indirectly, into such system or any part thereof. Famous Wildlife Artists Give Art For Ducks Unlimited Fund-Raiser

Four area wildlife artists will be guests at the upcoming Western Washtenaw Ducks Unlimited Banquet to be held May 15 at the Knights of Columbus in Dexter.

Harry Antis, Catherine McClung, Hal Horton and Marti Naudi have all created original works of art for the fund-raising auction.

Many species of wildlife are the beneficiaries of this fund-raising effort to restore and preserve wetlands.

Ann Arbor's Harry Antis has donated an original oil painting of an autumn scene at a local lake. The painting, entitled "Four Mile Lake," features four mallards landing on the lake. Since the age of 13, Harry has known he wanted to paint wildlife as a profession. In 1970 Harry became one of the earliest artists to publish limited edition wildlife prints. Harry Antis' paintings and prints of big game and waterfowl are known throughout the country.

Catherine McClung has created an original watercolor vignette of an Indigo Bunting and apple blossoms, entitled "Harbinger of Spring." Catherine looks forward to the return of the spectacular indigo buntings that frequent her Dexter area woods each May. Indigos are a favorite subject for Catherine. The Michigan

State University Press commissioned a painting of Indigo and Wild Blackberries for the cover of the Michigan Breeding Bird Atlas published last year.

Catherine is currently creating a series of collector plates designed for the Lenox fine china company.

Carver Hall Horton is sculpting a pair of shore birds for this year's banquet. The pair of stylized birds have been carved from cherry wood and mounted on a base of mahogany. Many of Hal's pieces are not seen locally but shipped to a ready market in Florida.

Hal has been a long-time resident of Loch Alpine and now resides on Mud Lake near the Irish Hills.

Hal was inspired and encouraged to carve by friend Harry Wilshire.

This year's banquet has been dedicated to the memory of carver Harry Wilshire who with Bill Pierce helped found the Western Washtenaw Chapter of Ducks Unlimited 11 years ago.

Once again Marti Naudi has generously donated artwork for the local Ducks Unlimited Chapter. Marti's painting of Foxglove and Ruby-throated Hummingbird will be part of the live auction. Marti's exciting use of color has been award-winning at art shows. This year she will par-

STATE MATH COMPETITION: Four Beach Middle school students qualified for state mathematics competition sponsored by the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics by placing in the top 25 in regional competition April 11. "This is the largest group we've ever had to qualify for state," said teacher Pat Clarke. Others who made the cut were Kevin Bloomensaat (19th), left, sixth grade, Aaron Allee (7th), center, seventh grade, and, not pictured, Ken Gourlay (22nd), eighth grade. The state competition will be held May 16 at Central Michigan University.

SIXTH GRADE CAMP begins for Beach Middle school students next week at Mill Lake in the Waterloo Recreation Area. The annual camp, divided into two sessions, exposes children to a wide array of activities and teaches them how to work as a large team, with the help of an army of volunteer parents and teachers. These young ladies created the annual camp t-shirt. Amanda Warren, left, drew the logo, while Liz Alvarez, right came up with the slogan "We've Got Pollution, It's Getting Worse By The Hour, But We've Got A Solution, and Definitely The Power."

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Softball Team Remains Unbeaten in Conference

Senior Jennifer Petty picked up two more victories in a sweep of the Saline Hornets softball team last week, 2-1 in 13 innings and 7-3. The victories gave Chelsea a 3-0 record in the Southeastern Conference.

All other scheduled play was called off due to the weather. The Chelsea Invitational will not be re-scheduled. In the first game at Saline, Petty singled, stole second and third, and came home on Theresa Hurst's two-out, line drive single to left for the winning run.

Kelly Cross pitched the first six innings and left the mound with the game tied 1-1. She allowed one run on two hits. Petty pitched the final two innings and didn't allow a hit.

Saline took the early lead with a run in the first inning on two singles, a ground out, and a sacrifice.

However, the Bulldogs tied it in the fourth as Gretchen Knutsen singled home Cross, who had also singled.

Chelsea had nine singles for the game, including three by Cross.

Petty pitched all seven innings of the second game and gave up her first runs of the season. She struck out seven and allowed five hits and two walks.

Chelsea took a 2-1 lead in the second inning as a single and four walks plated two runs.

The Bulldogs scored three more times in the fourth inning, featuring a couple of Saline errors and an RBI single by Knutsen.

Chelsea scored single runs in the fifth and seventh innings, the latter on a single by Hurst, while Saline scored twice in the sixth.

Chelsea finished with eight hits, including three by Hurst and two by Knutsen.

At home Monday the Bulldogs split a double-header with Jackson Northwest, losing the first, 15-7, and winning the second, 7-5.

The first game was perhaps the worst game the 13-2 Bulldogs have played this season as they committed 13 errors while allowing 12 unearned runs.

Cross, who pitched the first six innings, also gave up an uncharacteristically high number of hits, 12.

Northwest was ahead 10-0 in the third inning before the Bulldogs scored in the bottom half.

"I have to take part of the responsibility," said Chelsea coach Joe Beard.

"I don't think I had the girls in the right mental attitude."

Chelsea's big inning was the fourth, when they scored four runs to narrow the deficit to 13-5.

The Bulldogs had 11 hits, including two each by Heather McConeghy and Hurst, and three by Jacki Crawford.

Petty pitched the second game and had a shutout going until the seventh inning when the Mounties scored all five of their runs.

Petty struck out 12, walked three, and gave up nine hits.

Chelsea held a 4-0 lead going into the sixth inning, where they scored three crucial runs on hits by Petty, Angie Riley, and a walk to Sager, an RBI-single by Hurst and a two-run single by Knutsen.

Hurst had two hits and three RBI to lead the Bulldogs.

PITCHER Kelly Cross makes the toss to first during the opening game against Jackson Northwest.

JV Softball Squad Has Successful Week

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity softball team beat the Milan Big Reds 16-8 and 19-4 last week.

In the first game, Chelsea scored 10 runs in the first inning to put the contest away early. Everyone in the lineup scored at least once in the first.

Carey Schiller doubled and Charlotte Ziegler singled for Chelsea's two hits in the game.

Melissa Schultz pitched all five innings, struck out three and allowed one hit. The Chelsea defense had just one error.

"I was very pleased with the aggressive baserunning of Jenny Holzhausen, Carey Schiller, and Amy Bowling.

In the second game, Chelsea scored in each of the first three innings and led 17-0.

Big hitters for the Bulldogs were Martha Merkel with two singles and a double, Lauren Zuehke with two singles, and Amy Bowling with a single and a double.

Holzhausen scored every time she was up to bat.

Zuehke and Schiller pitched. Zuehke struck out four of 10 batters she faced, walked two, and allowed no hits or runs.

The Bulldogs also swept a double-header with Saline last Wednesday at home, 12-4 and 21-16.

In the first game, Chelsea held a slim 4-3 lead after two innings before taking control of the contest with five runs in the third and fourth innings.

Schiller and Amy Petty split time on the mound and each girl allowed one hit.

"Our pitching was the key to our defense," Eder said.

Ziegler had two singles and Nancy Pidd had a triple with two RBI.

In the second game, Chelsea held a 12-11 lead going into the bottom of the fourth inning when they scored eight runs. For the game, Chelsea amassed 17 hits, including three each by Schiller, Petty, Zuehke, and Ritter, and two by Amy Bowling. Holzhausen had three RBI.

"Obviously, with 17 hits our offense was the key to our win," Eder said.

"Defensively we allowed too many runs to score and we will be focusing on this area during our upcoming practices."

SPORTS STORY OF THE WEEK was all the rain in the Chelsea area as every baseball game, all but two softball games, including the Chelsea Invitational, and the Mason Invitational track meet were all cancelled. Here, athletic director Wayne Welton takes a look at the varsity baseball field, which is partially under water.

Girls Track Team Whips Milan, Saline, To Keep Top Spot in SEC Race

Chelsea Bulldogs girls track team endured rain and thunderstorm delays twice last week as they defeated the Milan Big Reds on Tuesday, 86-42, and the Saline Hornets on Thursday, 85-43, to remain undefeated.

At Milan the teams matched points in the field events with Chelsea taking the shot put and discus and Milan winning the high jump and long jump.

Mara Smith was a double-winner for Chelsea with a toss of 28' 2 1/2" in the shot put and 88' 5 1/2" in the discus.

Lauren Sparaco added a second in the discus and Erin Garrigus was third in the shot.

Erin Schiller pushed her career-best to 5' 2" in the high jump, second to defending state champion Linda Stuck. Keri Kentala was third in the long jump at 14' 3".

The Bulldogs won the 3200 relay in 11:06.8 with the team of Robin Phelps, Sarah Brosnan, Val Bullock, and Christine Burg. Phelps and Burg later ran 1-2 in the 3200 as Phelps' winning time was 13:25.4.

Brosnan was second in the 800 and combined with Beth Bell, Lisa Monti, and Laura Paton to win the 1600 relay in 4:29.8.

Monti paced the Bulldogs sweep in the 1600, followed by Molly Griebel in second and Tracey Wales in third, who both posted season-best times. Monti also won the 800.

Bell figured in two of the closest races, edging Stuck in the final meters of the 400, 1:04.9 to 1:05. Chelsea's Sarah Henry placed third.

Bell also nipped teammate Theresa Royce in the 200, :27.9 to :28.

Royce had two other close races, coming from behind to win the 100 in :13.1 and helping the Bulldogs pull out the 800 relay with Paton, Charity Allen, and Kentala.

Monica Hansen placed second in the 400 hurdles in :17.3 and won the 300 hurdles in :52.7, both season-best times. Kentala was third in the 300 hurdles with her season-best of :53.8.

The Bulldogs were in control of the Saline meet all the way as the Hornets won only four events.

Chelsea picked up a win in the shot put as freshman Erin Garrigus tossed her season-best of 28' 9 1/2". Smith was third. Sparaco won the discus at 91' 9". Freshman Jessica Flintoft was third.

Schiller won the high jump at 5', with Courtney Thompson third. Kentala and Royce finished second and third in a rain-delayed long jump.

Chelsea won all four relays.

Monti, Val Bullock, Phelps, and Bell combined for a season-best of 10:10.1 in the 3200 relay, with Monti recording a 2:22 split.

The 800 relay of Paton, Kentala, Allen, and Royce won in 1:56.

The 400 relay of Megan McDonald, Hansen, Schiller, and Renae Skelly won in :57.0.

The 1600 relay of Flintoft, Kelly, Bullock, and Wales won in 4:52.

Hansen won the 100 hurdles in :17.9 and Kentala was second.

Royce and Sarah Schick finished 2-3 in the 100.

Monti won the 1600 in 5:25. Paton took the 400 in 1:04.4, with Sarah Henry third.

Allen won the 300 hurdles in :51.5, with Hansen second and Kentala third.

Bell took the 800 in 2:34.9. Schiller was second in the 200.

Burg ran her season-best in the 3200 at 13:06.3 to place second.

"We had two objectives at Saline," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"First was to win the meet and second was to give some people fewer races to prepare for Friday's invitational. We accomplished both and in the process got some very good performances."

The Mason Invitational, however, was rained out as the inside lanes on the track were underwater and the long jump area was unusable.

The Bulldogs take part in the Corona Relays this Friday, then have two pivotal Southeastern Conference meets next week against Dexter on Tuesday and Tecumseh on Thursday.

Get Rid of Old Man Winter

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Blame it all on Mt. Pinatubo.

So far the big local sports story of the spring is the lousy weather. Baseball games against Pioneer, Saline, Lincoln (twice) and the Rawlings Tournament have all been rained out. Others have been played in far less than ideal conditions. As of Friday, the freshman baseball team had played exactly one game. Five dates had been cancelled.

The varsity softball team has been a little luckier, mostly because they managed to re-schedule the Saline games for a day it didn't rain too hard, although it was shivering cold. However, Saturday's Chelsea Invitational was cancelled and won't be re-scheduled.

What a mess. We should be half way through the Southeastern Conference baseball season, but Chelsea has played 2 1/2 league games. I can't remember a time when the varsity baseball team went an entire week in the middle of the season without playing a game. But that just happened.

One meteorological report claimed it's all due to the millions of tons of soot tossed into the air by the volcano Mt. Pinatubo in the Philippines. I do know that the Chelsea varsity baseball and softball teams, two clubs with an abundance of talent, are waiting to erupt themselves. Both are capable of winning the league and putting together a fine post-season, especially since the district tournaments are here, weather permitting.

Even though Chelsea coach Wayne Welton was last year's class B Baseball Coach of the Year, my strategy this spring would be a little different than his. I would pitch all-star Jacob Rindle in the second game of every double header. Then, if the umpire wants to call the game due to darkness, I would argue that opposing batters can't see Rindle's fastball under the best of circumstances, and we'll take our chances with the other guy.

Rindle, who stands a good chance of being the first baseball player ever drafted from Chelsea High school, could be chosen either as a pitcher or a first baseman. He wears number 22, just like his idol Will Clark of the San Francisco Giants, a first baseman with one of the best swings in baseball. Clark, incidentally, called Rindle early this spring just to talk baseball.

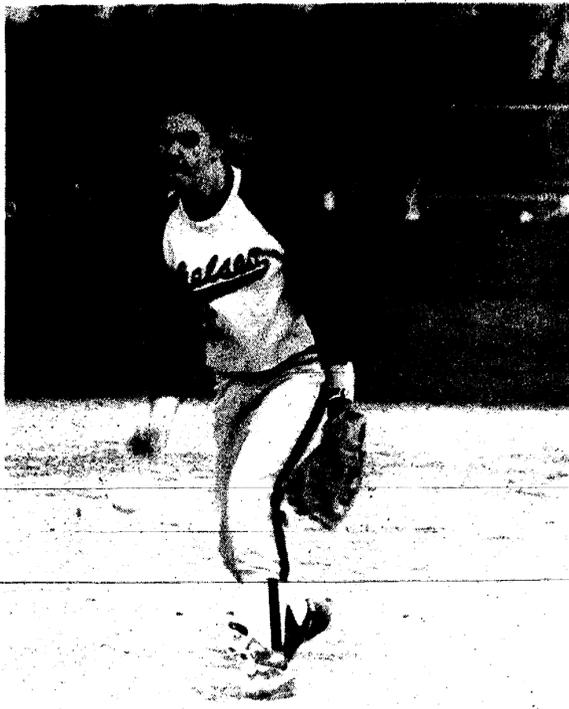

Maybe first base is his destiny. Slap a mustache on Rindle and he'd look a little like Sid Bream of the Atlanta Braves, another first baseman.

One final note on Rindle. As a basketball player he finished third all-time on coach Robin Raymond's plus-minus rating system. That's a formula which includes just about every category of play, from points to assists to turnovers to blocked shots and more. Only Kerry Plank and Jeff Dilis ranked ahead of him, and not by much. That's pretty good company. Raymond said it was Rindle's high number of assists that made the difference. Raymond has also admitted he was a little perturbed that Rindle was not given a higher honor than honorable mention by SEC coaches.

I wonder if Chelsea High school has ever had three male athletes in one class as gifted as Rindle, Jan Royce, and Mike Terpstra. Rindle will play baseball at Michigan State, unless he gets a pro offer he can't refuse. Royce is going to high jump at the University of Michigan. Terpstra had one state heavyweight wrestling title and nearly two, and was an all-state football lineman. He has had an assortment of schools, from the Ivy League to the MAC, interested in him as both an athlete and a top-notch student.

The dandelion blossom is actually a bouquet of about 150 to 200 tiny flowers set in a solid head on a stem.

KELLY CROSS put a little extra emphasis on this pitch during Monday night's contest with Jackson Northwest. The Bulldogs split a double header.

Tennis Team Tops Riverview Pirates

Chelsea Bulldogs tennis team won their match over the Riverview Pirates on Monday, April 13, 4-3.

"This match was as close as they come," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

Ben Manning came back after losing his first set at second singles to take his match. The second double team of Steve Harness and Ryan Girardi split sets then won the third set to give the Bulldogs the victory.

In singles matches, Steve Stuef (R) defeated Scott Pacheco (C), 6-3, 7-6; Manning (C) defeated Steve Peng (R), 3-6, 6-2, 6-1; Hooshmand Nightingale (C) beat Joe Goluban (R) 6-2, 7-5; and Jason Seal (R) defeated Matt Jachalke (C), 6-1, 6-0.

In doubles play, Jeff Gietzen and Tim Bowers (C) beat Bill Hasler and Brandon Hammonds (R), 6-2, 6-2; Harness and Girardi (C) defeated Mike Wright and Bob Wright (R), 6-6, 6-2, 6-3; and Sam Strok and Jeffrey Davis (R) defeated Dan Koengeter and Mike Bainton (C), 6-3, 6-2. Chris Giebel and Zack Peters (C) lost an exhibition match, 6-1, 6-1.

Chelsea lost to Howell on Tuesday, April 14, 7-0, although three matches went to three sets.

In singles, Jason Hicks (H) defeated Pacheco (C), 6-0, 6-0; Mike Miller (H) defeated Manning (C), 6-4, 4-6, 6-0; Noah Bloom (H) beat Nightingale (C), 6-3, 6-3; and Chris Minke (H) beat Matt Jachalke (C) 7-6, 4-6, 6-3.

In doubles, Sage Eastman and Aiden McLearn (H) beat Bowers and Gietzen (C), 7-6, 4-6, 7-6; Dan Baibak and Dave Baibak (H) beat Girardi and Harness (C), 6-0, 6-0; and Al Jacobs and Chris Haney (H) defeated Giebel and Bainton (C) 6-0, 6-1. Koengeter and Peters played an exhibition match.

Stephanie Good Wins Scholarship To Siena Heights

Chelsea High school senior Stephanie Good won the first place scholarship of $1,300 in the Child Development Scholarship Competition at Siena Heights College in Adrian.

Good plans to attend the college this fall.

The scholarship was awarded based on a portfolio of Good's work with children and a personal interview with the Child Development Program Director.

She is the daughter of Stanley Good of Livonia and Anne Williams of Chelsea.

JV Baseball Team Tops Milan at Home

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity baseball team beat the Milan Big Reds on Monday, April 20 at home, 11-8.

The Bulldogs fell behind 3-1 after two innings, but scored 10 runs over the next four innings, including five in the bottom of the sixth inning. They held off the Big Reds in the seventh, when they scored five runs.

"We started to hit the ball today but we need some consistent weather so we can continue to improve," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

Jay Westcott led the Chelsea attack with three hits, including a pair of doubles, and three runs scored. Matt Powell and Jason McVittie were each 2-3 with three RBI and a double. McVittie also homered.

The second game was called off after three innings with Chelsea ahead 7-5. Milan drew first blood with three runs in the first inning, but Chelsea scored seven runs over the next two innings.

The Bulldogs are 2-3 on the season.

TEENS Robin Phelps, left, and Lauren Sparaco, were two of many area people who worked on the local Christmas in April project last Saturday. Here they slog through the mud to clean up a front yard on Old US-12.

1992 White Cane Queen Chosen By Michigan Lions

Twenty-one-year-old Rhonda Selby of Lansing has been selected the 1992 Lions of Michigan White Cane Queen. Rhonda grew up in Dorr and was blinded at six months due to cancer. She graduated from Michigan School for the Blind in 1990. She auditioned to become a full-time music student at Lansing Community College, and was awarded the LCC Trustees Scholarship.

Rhonda is currently in her second year at LCC, where she is a commercial music major. She plans to earn a bachelor's degree and eventually teach vocal music. She enjoys singing, playing the guitar and piano, cooking, reading, crocheting, bead work, and needlepoint.

Rhonda will represent over 20,000 Michigan Lions as she travels throughout the state to attend various community events. She will act as a spokesperson for the visually impaired by making the public aware of the White Cane Law and Public Accommodation Laws.

The White Cane Law ensures safety to blind pedestrians by requiring motorists to take all necessary precautions when approaching a crosswalk. A blind pedestrian carrying a white cane or being led by a dog guide in harness has the right-of-way. Public Accommodation Laws state that a blind person with a dog guide in harness may not be refused entry to a public facility.

Governor John Engler has proclaimed April 24 through May 3 as "White Cane Week" in Michigan.

To the Editor,

As many of you did, I had the opportunity to attend the high school musical, "Grease," last week-end. It was a wonderful show! It was amazing to see so many kids from our community sing and dance so well. The characters were well-cast and each one was so enjoyable in his/her part that the total performance was nothing short of superb! The message and song at the end so well-illustrated all the values that we as a community want to reach our young people with and a fine group of performers trying to live those values.

At the same time, the performance was sad to see since it may be the last one at Chelsea High. I know I wasn't the only one with moist eyes as Steve Hinz sang the last song with the kids. In case anyone is unaware, Steve's position is one to be cut if the millage falls. It would be a tragic loss, not only to our educational system, but to all of the kids Steve has touched.

Steve has a rare and special gift in the way he relates to the kids. He is the type of person and teacher that a teen would approach if troubled. He is a friend to them without ever stepping out of his role as teacher. They work hard for him out of respect for him and I am yet to hear him raise his voice to anyone.

Even more importantly, he is clear and outspoken in his moral convictions. The message at the end of "Grease" is the same message that he has promoted in his Showchoir all year. He is very concerned with the Showchoir being a positive substance-free example to all students. (It is worth mentioning that he has given countless hours with this Showchoir over the last two years without receiving compensation for it.)

As a parent, I have considered it a privilege to have had my teen work with Steve Hinz. I have watched Jeremy grow and develop both musically and personally and Steve is in a large part responsible for the fine results. HOW CAN WE LOSE THIS PERSON?

We attempt to tell ourselves as we cut them that these programs are not necessary. First, for some like my son, vocal music will be a career choice. He is receiving vocational education that he will need to get a spot in a music school in college. In addition, each child from Showchoir or "Grease" would have been greatly shortchanged if not given the opportunity to develop life skills such as singing and dancing. How much is the confidence to perform and the ability to work with others worth?

Another of the positions being cut is that of Cheryl Davis, the substance abuse counselor. I saw her hand clearly in the message at the end of the play. I was also privileged to see her work with the Showchoir on living a substance-free life at a fall workshop. She does a good job presenting an important message to our young people. HOW IMPORTANT IS THAT MESSAGE TO US?

The bottom line is that, as parents and as a community, we can talk forever about what is wrong with our young people or we can do something to really address the problem of substance abuse in teens right here in our neighborhood. We can blame Governor Engler, the legislature, the school board or anyone else that we want but if we let these people and programs go, we have no one to blame but ourselves. It comes to the fact that we need to reach into our pockets and support programs that we feel are important to our children. Every family's budget stretches to pay for what we find important and I believe these programs are essential to our teens. As you vote in June, remember the message and young people of "Grease" and vote YES to continue support to these programs.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

What? You are asking me to vote for more money for the schools. No way, I can't afford my taxes now.

This is the reaction of many when they hear of the June 8th millage election, but I feel that we cannot afford to turn the schools down. Think about what we would be losing—art, music, sports, enrichment, substance abuse counselling. Do you really want to live in a community without these things?

When we read about the events in the rest of the world, we all should be extremely thankful for the privilege of living in such a special community as this. I personally feel that part of what makes ours such a caring and giving community is our appreciation and exposure to the arts. Our schools have had a long dedication to nurturing this appreciation. From our preschool programs up through the senior citizen level, there has always been an effort to expose our community to greater knowledge of the world around us and to encourage us to explore wider vistas. How can we truly appreciate the beauty of our world without first having an appreciation and understanding of the arts. This knowledge does not come naturally, it needs to be encouraged and cultivated. Our school system has done a wonderful job in this endeavor. They have hired dedicated and talented teachers and have encouraged and supported their activities and projects. These teachers are such an asset to our entire community, it would be a tragic loss for all of us to lose any one of them.

One that comes foremost to my mind is, of course, Steve Hinz. Steve, as any of you know who have had contact with any aspect of music in our schools, has done an outstanding job as Vocal Director. He has not only turned our vocal program around through his hard work (and also the many hours of assistance from his talented wife), but more importantly, he has given the students a sense of pride in themselves. One of the things that bothers me most is the message we are giving the next generation. The students have seen how hard Steve has worked, far over and above anything that was "required" of his job, he has set a fine example of what we would like our young people to aspire to, and now we are saying "for what." He has the respect of the students, the parents and the community, but he has no job. Are we saying to the next generation, talent and effort do not matter in our world?

Some of you may decide to vote "no" in the millage to "send a message to our legislators." But is this the kind of message they will really hear? I think not—their primary concern is not the Chelsea community, they do not live here, their primary concern is getting elected, and keeping their seats. Unless forced to do so, they will not make tough decisions such as school funding reform because no matter what they decide to do, they will encounter "No Voters," something they try not to do at all costs. It is safer for them to sit back and not take a stand, that way they cannot be attacked on their stand at the next election.

If you truly want to send a message, I would underscore what Clara Smith said last week. Do not try to send a message to our local schools. The Chelsea school board, our administrators and our students cannot do anything about the laws that are passed in Lansing, only you and I can do that. Immediately let your legislators know that if they do not take this opportunity to tackle this problem now, they will not have a chance to do so in the future, except as private citizens like the rest of us, and then only make sure and back up that stand by voting in the next election. This is the ONLY MESSAGE they are going to hear.

Janice Manning.

Dear Editor,

Again I ask "why"? Why is the School Board saying if we, the taxpayers of Chelsea School District, don't vote to pass the millage on June 8 our children will lose out? For instance, if we vote "no" they lose a high school and middle school newspaper, saving $3,500, or eliminating an English teacher, when some past graduates cannot even properly fill out a job application form, or lose our substance abuse counselor whom we needed so badly last year for our drug problems.

However, the system can spend an unknown sum of money for a legal process involving the firing of a bus driver. My legal fees have exceeded $7,000 and I am represented by only one lawyer, who is trying to get my job back, as I had a no "due process" and the transportation department has advertised for sub-drivers for almost the entire year. The school district, however, has involved two lawyers so far and is continuing to fight. Why?

Susan van der Waard

Dear Editor,

In regards to Clara Smith's letter, I can save stamps and writing paper. I have written to both Senator Pollack and Representative O'Connor. They wrote back saying they too thought the property taxes were too high but they had done all they could and that I should write the governor. I did write the governor but did not hear from him.

We had a chance a few years ago to do something about property taxes by voting in an increase in sales tax. First, we have to face reality in the fact the money has to come from somewhere to operate the schools.

In my opinion a few more cents on sales tax would be the least painful. Many states have higher sales tax than we do and on my visit to a few of these states I hardly noticed that I was contributing to their school system.

Dexter-Ann Arbor Runs Slated May 23

On Saturday, May 23, more than 4,000 runners from parts of the United States, Canada and several other countries will arrive in Ann Arbor to participate in the 19th annual Dexter-Ann Arbor runs.

The Ann Arbor Track Club and First of America Bank will be hosting the event which includes a Half-Marathon, a 10 Kilometer, and for the first time, a 5 Kilometer run. Each race is point to point. Therefore, participants must be bussed from the registration area in downtown Ann Arbor to the appropriate start point for their race.

The runs follow a scenic roadway through wooded parks and along the banks of the Huron River, eventually returning to a common finish line on Main St. in Ann Arbor.

Co-ordinating the bussing of thousands of runners to the proper start location is the greatest task facing the race organizers each year. However, the scenic beauty of the course more than justifies the additional effort staff members and volunteers must put in to handle this logistical problem.

This year, prize money totals over $6,000 and is divided among winners of the Half-Marathon and 10 Kilometer runs for both Open and Masters runners. Other awards include hand-made pottery by I. B. Remsen for the first five in each age group in all races.

For entries postmarked prior to May 13, the entry fee for each race is $9. For postmarks after May 15 and at in-person registration at the Holiday Inn West on May 22, the fee is $14. There is very limited race day registration in downtown Ann Arbor at $20. The Holiday Inn West, 2900 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, offers discounted rooms for participants. Special rates start at $49 per night.

The Ann Arbor Y will provide child care on race day. Be sure to contact the Y at 663-0536 before May 19 to make reservations. On Friday, May 22, Ann Arbor Track Club will host a Fitness Expo at the Holiday Inn West (10 a.m. to 10 p.m.) Race sponsors Running Fit, Tortoise & Hare Running Center, and many other running related organizations will have merchandise and information available.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

The Freedom Township Board of Trustees has voted to withdraw from the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority (WWRA). The board reviewed costs at its monthly meeting last Tuesday night (4/14) and determined that Mr. Rubbish, Inc., or BFI Waste Systems could provide the same or substantially better service to the township for one-third to one-fifth the cost (or less) than the WWRA "special assessment fee" of $17 per household. That special assessment fee is currently added to resident's property tax bills.

Presentations by officials from BFI and Mr. Rubbish showed the private services were superior and the costs were considerably lower with their plans—which is usually the case when private industry competes with government programs.

Specifically:
—A container placed by BFI at the Freedom Township Hall serviced exactly as WWRA had proposed would cost each household approximately $6.74 per year compared to $17 per year if placed by WWRA (based on once a month service). With service every other month, the cost would shrink to $3.37 annually per household... again compared to WWRA's $17 annual charge which is automatically added to property tax bills. BFI, which has a 25-year history of servicing Freedom township, shows more than an 80 percent savings over WWRA with an every-other-month pickup.

—The Mr. Rubbish plan, using special recycling bags, offers residents the choice of recycling or not. Only those who choose to recycle would pay... unlike the government's WWRA where residents pay regardless of whether or not they participate. Those who do participate would pay an estimated annual fee of $3.50 to $5.60 per household. That is one-fifth to one-third the price now being charged by WWRA. The Mr. Rubbish program features regularly scheduled weekly pickups at the township hall which eliminates odor and unsightly problems associated with large recycling containers. Mr. Rubbish has an eight-year performance servicing township residents.

The private industry plans are less costly because the taxpayers are not building facilities and buying equipment as is the case with the WWRA. Private industry's solid waste removal and recycling systems are already in place and operating. The residents realize a financial benefit (lower costs) from industry's years of experience and previous investment. The WWRA is a costly government duplication of services and is simply not necessary.

Currently, 31.8 percent of Freedom township households are contracting for private trash collection service with recycling available as an option from the private collector. The WWRA plan has and would continue to unfairly double-charge these families whether they use the government's WWRA facilities or not.

The township board retains complete control when contracting with private industry, and can make adjustments as necessary. Previously as a member of WWRA, the township had only one vote out of 10 to exercise control over its own program and as such was severely limited.

Clearly private industry came in first place for this recycling project with lower costs, fairer user fees, a proven track record, and retains flexible local control at the individual township level.

Trustees were reminded by audience members that recycling is free at Recycle Ann Arbor and at Town & Country Auto Recycling.

CARPENTER TOM BROUGHTON, center rear, led this team in the construction of a new deck and wheelchair ramp at a home on Old US-12 last Saturday as part of the local Christmas in April project. The program was part of Christmas in April*Washtenaw, a one-day blitz to repair homes of elderly, handicapped, and low-income families. Due to poor weather, some exterior work, such as painting, had to be delayed.

GEORGIA BEEMAN works on some interior painting at a house on South St. as part of last Saturday's Christmas in April project. Virtually the entire inside of the house was painted by volunteers.

Mary Merkel Fund Helps Students in Nursing Programs

A special fund has been created by the Merkel family of Chelsea to support students pursuing nursing education and living in the Chelsea community area.

The Mary Merkel Fund for Nursing Education has been established by the Merkel family in memory of Mrs. Mary Merkel. Mrs. Merkel received hospital care at Chelsea Community Hospital and Chelsea Methodist Home. The fund was developed in memory of her own interest and support of the nursing profession.

The scholarship fund is intended to benefit persons entering or currently enrolled in Associate's, Bachelor's, or Master's Degree nursing programs. Applicants must reside in the Chelsea community area. Applications are available through the Human Resources Department of Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-3998.

Completed applications for the 1992 scholarship must be returned to the hospital's Human Resources Department by May 22.

IT WAS HARD WORK moving packages of shingles for Margaret Murphy, left, and Bob Daniel, right, but they didn't seem to mind. They were two of many volunteers who worked at a house on Congdon St. in the village as part of the local Christmas in April project last Saturday. Members of the Chelsea Lions and Lioness Clubs are scheduled to paint the exterior of the house on Saturday, May 9. Cool, wet weather didn't allow some exterior work to be completed.

Legislation Proposed To Repeal State Inheritance Tax

The state Senate Finance Committee recently reported out a substitute to S.B. 1, legislation to repeal the Michigan Inheritance Tax.

"Farm Bureau supports this measure," said Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. "Twenty-nine other states have repealed their estate tax and rely on the federal inheritance tax which exempts estates up to $800,000."

Nelson said the substitute for S.B. 1 phases out the inheritance tax beginning Oct. 1, 1994, by exempting the first $100,000. On May 15, 1995, the exemption would increase to $200,000. Finally, on Jan. 1, 1996, the state inheritance tax would be eliminated and replaced by the federal pick-up tax.

"The gradual elimination of the estate tax would minimize the impact on state revenue to an estimated $120 million," said Nelson. "However, given the deterioration in the state budget, the House may be very reluctant to approve the bill because of this budget impact."

The declines in U.S. productivity in the 1970's and 1980's were particularly marked in the service industries, according to "Workforce 2000," a U.S. Labor Department publication. Between 1955 and 1970, output per worker in manufacturing grew at a compound rate of two percent per year. But in services, the output per worker fell, causing the over-all pattern of output per worker to slide from a 1.8 percent annual gain to only 0.5 percent.
