SPIELLEUTENGRUPPE, a fife and drum corp from Hochsauerland region of Germany, will give an outdoor performance at the Chelsea Retirement Community today (Wednesday) at 7 p.m. Members of the group (above is a small portion of it) have been staying at the homes of Chelsea Music Boosters. Monday they met at the Chelsea High school band room.

Chelsea Community Fair Opens for 55th Season Next Tuesday Afternoon

The 55th Annual Chelsea Community Fair gets underway next Tuesday, Aug. 25 with the traditional Children's Parade and concludes on Saturday with another traditional event, the annual Livestock Raffle Drawing.

In between, there's something for fair lovers of all ages.

For the most part, it will be business as usual. All of the most popular events, from the Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby to the Fair Queen Program, will be back. Pugh Shows, which won an award for having the safest midway program in the country, according to fair board member Jeff Layher, will again provide the rides, carnival games, side shows and usual fair menu during the afternoons and evenings.

Price of admission remains the same.

Bob and Ginny Wheaton are operating the fair kitchen once again in the Fair Service Center.

There will be plenty of free items, sales pitches, and displays available in the Merchants Barn.

Various non-profit groups, ranging from the Chelsea Athletic Boosters to the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea, have their biggest fundraisers of the year at the fair.

Livestock of various species will be on display throughout the week, as will the entries in all the hobby, agriculture, floriculture, and other classes.

However, there will be no bungee jumping despite at least two requests from bungee operators to be included.

While the Children's Parade at 5:30 is the traditional opening event, there is plenty of activity beforehand.

On Sunday, Aug. 23, home economics exhibits may be entered from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

On Monday, Aug. 24 exhibits may be entered in floriculture and home economics from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Judging will take place on Monday. The same day, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. exhibits may be entered in agriculture, antiques, and hobbies. From 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Roadside Stand Class exhibits will be accepted. All horses stabled in the horse barn must be entered between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Also on Monday, a big step is taken toward determining who will be the 1992 Chelsea Community Fair Queen. Pre-judging of the talent competition takes place at the Chelsea High school George Prinzing Auditorium at 7 p.m.

Tuesday morning from 8 to noon, baked goods and cut flowers may be entered, along with exhibits in the Roadside Stand Class.

Judging of poultry takes place at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

The Children's Parade starts at 5:30 p.m. Participants should note that the route and starting point have been changed. This year children will gather in the new parking lot behind the courthouse. The parade will move down W. Middle St. to Wilkinson St. and onto the fairgrounds, thereby avoiding Main St. completely.

Participants in the Children's Parade will be judged for originality in decorating themselves, tricycles, bikes, and wagons. The rules have also been changed slightly. Each age class is limited to a maximum of three participants per group. In other words, no more than three kids can enter together. Age groups are 3-5, 6-8, 9-12, and mixed ages. Winners will receive ride tickets. After the judging, children will be placed into the parade along with the bands. No horses or motorized vehicles will be allowed in the parade.

After the parade, the Chelsea Children's Co-op will sponsor its annual Tricycle Pull at the main arena for children age 3-5.

Kids' Day events will also be held after the parade at the main arena. Children age 4-10 may participate in activities that include a penny hunt, three-legged race, and sack races. Ride tickets will be awarded.

Also on Tuesday is the first night of the Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby at the main arena. There will be three heats and a feature event.

Drivers use modified American-made cars to batter their opponents. Last driver with a running car is the winner and is eligible to return for the final feature heat, along with the runner-up. There are a host of rules involving both the cars and the drivers. For example, each car is allowed to catch fire only once. All windshields and windows must be removed. No use of drugs or alcohol is permitted prior or during the event. Cars may not have obscenities painted on them.

Other Tuesday events include the judging of rabbits at 1 p.m. and the judging of sheep at 7 p.m.

Wednesday is a big day for horse lovers as a Halter and Showmanship competition begins at 9 a.m. and an English Performance competition starts at 1 p.m.

Also on Wednesday, beef will be judged at 1 p.m., the second annual Small Livestock Auction will be held at 6 p.m., the judging of swine will start at 7 p.m., the demolition derby will get underway at 7:30 p.m. and a Fly Ball Dog Show will be held at 9 p.m. in the multi-purpose arena.

Wednesday's demolition derby features the Powder Puff Heat for women only. The name of the heat is misleading because winners often go on to win or place in the feature that night, proving that the women are just as tough as men when it comes to crunching cars.

Rest of the schedule for the week is as follows.

THURSDAY, AUG. 27

9 a.m.: Western Performance Horse Show; antique tractor pulling. 10 a.m.: Judging of dairy cattle.

School District Teachers Get 4.2 Percent Raises In Two-Year Contract

Chelsea School District teachers will receive a 4.2 percent raise this year and a 4.5 percent increase in 1993-94 as part of a new two-year contract approved Monday night by the Chelsea Board of Education.

Chelsea Education Association overwhelmingly ratified the contract last week.

"You could have counted the no votes on one hand," said CEA president Joe Beard.

The contract also changed membership on the Central Curriculum Committee, set up the possibility that the district could prohibit smoking entirely in school buildings, increased the number of sick days a teacher can accumulate, and increased life insurance benefits.

Some teacher concerns about language in the contract were discussed in negotiations but not addressed in the contract. The union is concerned about the inability in many cases of teachers to take posted jobs for which they are qualified.

Superintendent Joe Piasecki said the first-year raise was based on the inflation factor determined by the Michigan Tax Commission for Headlee rollback calculations.

Beard said the use of the inflation factor was "really a compromise."

"I think the contract is good for employees and good for the community as a whole," Beard said.

"People are satisfied and feel they've been treated fairly, but we didn't break the bank and the district is on solid ground."

Several area districts, including

Dexter, Milan, Willow Run, and Brighton have yet to settle contracts for the coming year. However, Saline teachers will receive a base five percent raise plus one-half percent for three extra staff days, for a total of 6.5 percent each of the next three years. Lincoln teachers settled for five percent.

The raises were across the board. Pay ranges are $27,830 to $41,953 for teachers with bachelor's degrees, $30,339 to $46,185 for teachers with master's degrees, and $32,384 to $51,796 for teachers with doctorates. Each category has 10 steps representing years of service. The majority of Chelsea teachers have bachelor's or master's degrees and are at the top of their pay scales.

In a related issue Monday night, the board approved pay raises of the same percentages for employees, excluding bus drivers, not covered in the contract. Those employees include administrators, secretarial, custodial, and maintenance staff, and cafeteria workers. Bus drivers have their own contract.

The settlement will not require changes in the adopted 1992-93 budget, Piasecki said.

The contract gives teachers four more sick days they can accumulate, to a total of 184. That coincides with the number of staff days in the school year.

The contract also includes an increase in life insurance benefits from $10,000 to $25,000.

The Central Curriculum Committee will have eight additional members. Two parents will be added, as will representatives from counseling, special education, media centers, art

Chinese Restaurant Planned for Plaza

A Chinese restaurant tentatively called "Chinese Tonight" is scheduled to open late this year at Village Plaza. In addition, two other businesses may also open in the plaza, which would take all the remaining vacant space, said developer Mike Kennedy.

Jack Wang, a chef at a Chinese restaurant in Ann Arbor and owner of two Chinese restaurants in Indiana, will take about 2,000 square feet in the mall. The restaurant will seat about 80 people, Wang said.

Wang said he will be the main chef and will have help from his father. Most popular Cantonese and Szechuan dishes will be served, plus some unusual meals from his native home which are not typically found on Chinese menus here.

Chelsea was chosen as a site for the new venture partly because several of his friends spoke highly of the village and he believes "it is a good place to raise a family."

Wang came to the U.S. when he was 14 years old and has worked in several Chinese restaurants since, including Forbidden City in Saginaw.

Wang said he is in the process of working with the Washtenaw County Health Department to obtain the necessary permits.

Other businesses likely to open in the mall include a health foods store and a hair salon.

Appeals Court Strikes Down DNR Reorganization

The Court of Appeals rejected two of Governor John Engler's reorganization orders for the Department of Natural Resources in an opinion released recently.

The 2-1 majority agreed with the contention by legislators and environmental groups that the governor does not have authority to create a new department as he did when abolishing the old department structure and its 19 citizen boards and commissions.

However, reorganization of the department remains a live issue with administration officials discussing options to draw up new executive orders or appeal the decision and legislators initiating talks on proposals to restructure the department by law.

While the governor may reallocate functions, the constitution does not expressly authorize the executive to create a new principal department, the court said.

It found the governor has authority under the Executive Organization Act to abolish existing boards or commissions and to assign their functions to the principal departments, but not those eliminated under E.O. 1991-31 which allow citizens to voice their opinion through public hearings, the majority said.

"Defendants have failed to set forth any credible evidence establishing that the functions would be preserved under the new DNR," the court said. They ask, as a leap of faith, that we believe the new DNR director and staff would have time and resources to perform the functions of 18 boards and commissions."

Specifically, the court (in Dodak v. Engler, etc., docket No. 148677) did the following:

- Held that the governor may not abolish the function of existing boards and commissions to hold public hearings.
- Affirmed the circuit court's finding that governmental functions transferred by the governor must be supervised by the head of the department receiving them, and therefore the governor wrongly delegated to the director, who is not the head of the new DNR, the authority to supervise and administer the transferred functions.
- Rejected implementation of Executive Order 1991-33, which created an Environmental Science Board to advise the governor on environmental issues, because it relied on implementation of E.O. 1991-31 that was ruled unconstitutional.

• Held the governor does not have constitutional authority to transfer appointment of the chairperson of the Natural Resources Commission from NRC members to himself.

House Speaker Lewis Dodak (D-Montrose), who led the legislative challenge to the orders on the basis that they violate separation of powers, said he is delighted with a clear decision on limitations of the governor's authority.

"This ruling ensures that the public will not be shut out of decisions that have the greatest impact on them. It also preserves the integrity of the legislative process in our state by upholding the principle of separation of powers," he said.

But aides to Engler said the court went beyond its authority in questioning whether it was possible for the executive branch to carry out the reorganization plan.

And John Truscott, the governor's press secretary, said it "certainly has a serious impact" on the authority of future governors to reorganize government.

tempting to micromanage the department by considering in its decision whether the department can implement the changes proposed by the governor.

"I think we'd be a better judge of our time than the court," Harnes said.

Until the issue is resolved, Harnes said the department will continue under the current structure and pursue ways to improve public input and protect natural resources. The department has established a public calendar for tracking specific issues and actions and a 10-person internal committee has been assigned to look at ways to improve the department's efficiency and effectiveness, Harnes said.

Judges Marilyn Kelly and Myron H. Wahls formed the majority opinion, while Judge Maureen Pulte Reilly wrote a decision that concurred in part and dissented in part.

Reilly, urging the orders be upheld, dissented from the panel's conclusion that the governor violated the separation of powers doctrine and exceeded his authority when he issued the executive orders.

"The Legislature's remedy, if it does not approve (the executive orders), is to exercise its veto power," she said.

In her dissent, Reilly said she would also reverse the trial court's ruling that the governor lacked authority to appoint the new NRC chair and to abolish commissions and boards whose functions include holding public hearings.

She noted the order (E.O. 1991-31) transfers the boards' functions, including holding public hearings, to the director, and added, "There can be no right to a public hearing where the requirement of the hearing is established by rules or regulations of an individual agency because the agency has the discretion to amend, restrict, modify or suspend its own rules."

Wednesday, Aug. 24, 1988—Chelsea Shopping Center developer Rene Papo has submitted tentative site plans to the village for a 32,000-square-foot retail center next to the planned Village Mall on S. Main St. The drawings apparently show that Papo plans to use a pond which has already been approved as a storm water retention site for the Village Mall, planned by Kennedy Realty, owner of Polly's Market.

By the end of the year, the Village of Chelsea and surrounding townships will have to decide whether or not they want to be included in a county-wide enhanced 911 emergency service. The service would allow a resident to dial or push-button 911 on a telephone and have the appropriate emergency service respond, even if the resident is unable to talk. Automatically printed on a screen at a central dispatching point would be the telephone number and address from which the call came and the police and fire agencies serving the home.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher picked up a pint of ice cream at the country store Saturday night, and it just about melted while he made some brief remarks. He said a friend in Chicago had sent him a clipping from a paper there where a column writer complained about air conditioning. She said she was reminded when some of the city lost power during the recent flooding that under what Chicago folks think are normal conditions summer is cold indoors.

The column writer, Barbara Brotman, said once upon a time people in Chicago knew it was summer when they felt warm inside. Now they wear sweaters in their homes and offices, and warm themselves with hot drinks. If God had wanted people to wear heavy coats in summer he would of made summer cold, Brotman wrote, so Chicago has sinned by making winter last all year.

The preacher said bringing God in the discussion reminded him that once upon a time summer was when tent revivals come to town. After a hot day people would go to church outside at night where it was cool because it was still hot inside. Evangelists now make sure the hall is air conditioned before they set their services. He said the first thing a new family asks when he invites them to church is whether the sanctuary, nursery and fellowship hall are air-conditioned.

The preacher said people don't want ups and downs in their lives, just ups. For all the Chicago column writer's problems it's plain that people don't want cold and hot, they just want comfortable, so he's thinking of changing from Baptist to Air Conditioned. It has made the preacher's job of disturbing the comfortable a bit harder, but it makes him a heap more comfortable trying to comfort the disturbed during summer home visits.

As for the comfortable and disturbed, the preacher said one of his Easter and Christmas members that ask him why he quit coming to the games. The preacher told him that every time he went they wanted money, the seats were to hard, the coach never shook his hand or come to visit, the umpires said a heap of things he didn't agree with, and every now and again they'd go to extra innings and he'd be late for supper. Besides, the preacher went on, his Ma and Pa had took him to games regular when he was growing up, and now he could decide fer himself.

The fellows always are glad to see the preacher. Clem Webster said he always will see some kind of shiny lining in a cloud and point it out to you. He might issue a friendly citation about some mistake in your driving, but he never leaves without making you feel better about making the trip.

Ed Doolittle allowed that Clem had took to speaking in parables like the preacher. But Ed was agreed that it's good for folks to think about the trip they're taking. On his last doctor's visit, Ed was told his cholesterol was to high and he was put on pills that cost $2 apiece. Two weeks later he got a card from the doctor telling him to come in for a check on wuther the pills were damaging his liver.

Ed said he give that tradeoff some thought and quit the pills. What lower cholesterol added to his life would be at the end when his liver wouldn't let him enjoy it, so he's save $8 a day on pills and having a few extra slices of pie now.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Govt. Surplus Foods Will Be Distributed

Government Surplus Commodities will be distributed Thursday, Aug. 20, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Faith in Action House, 775 S. Main (at the north driveway to Chelsea Community Hospital). Butter, corn, flour and peanut butter will be available.

"What's ironic is that a lot of things the court said we couldn't do, such as abolish boards that hold public hearings and create a new department, we've done with Corrections," he said. "And nobody challenged that."

House Conservation, Recreation and Environment Chair Tom Alley (D-West Branch), who called the decision "a victory for the process of open government," agreed changes are needed. But he said they can be achieved through legislation with input from the governor and the public.

"The right of citizens to be heard in open forums on controversial issues once again has been upheld by the court," said Michigan United Conservation Clubs director Tom Washington, who had initiated one of the three lawsuits resulting in the court ruling. "This latest decision lends added significance to the principle that public participation has become an integral part of government."

And saying the Engler moves unnecessarily delayed reform, he said, "Isn't it time for all interested parties to decipher in an orderly way what is wrong with the DNR?"

"We hope the governor takes heed of the strong message this decision carries—in Michigan the public has a constitutional right to a voice in decisions that affect our environment," said Anna W. Winters, executive director of Sierra Club Michigan Chapter, another party in the suit.

"Natural Resources director Roland Harnes said since reorganization was proposed he has sensed a tremendous fear that lack of public input might result. But he added the court is at-

The afternoon culminated in the annual Bacci Ball tournament around the pond. This year's champions were the team of Gregg Burg and Mike Weir, newcomers to the game.

Next year's cards will be sent out by Jerry Nitoski of Highland Park notifying of the event after plans have been completed.

Do You Store Your Medicines in the Best Place?

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

Where do you store your medicines at home? When traveling, do you put all your pills in one container for convenience?

The three most common mistakes in storing medicines are:

- Keeping our medications in the bathroom.
- Putting medications on windowsills.
- Putting medications in small unlabeled containers or mixing medicines together in one container when traveling.

Improper storage can cause medicines to lose their strength, disintegrate or even become dangerous over time because of chemical changes.

The bathroom medicine cabinet is the one of the worst places to store medicines because of the heat and moisture generated by the bath and shower.

As a general rule, light, humidity and heat can speed the breakdown of medications. Therefore, medicine should not be stored on windowsills, in the bathroom, in the glove compartment of the car, or near heat-producing appliances or surfaces, such as the oven or the top of the television set.

Here's what you can do to increase safety:

- Store medicines in a cool, dry and dark place. Unless otherwise specified, most medicines should be kept at temperatures between 50 and 80 degrees F. Do not store medicines in a refrigerator unless instructed to do so. Auxiliary labels tell you if refrigeration or other special storage is required.

- Keep medicines in their original, properly labeled containers. Medicines are dispensed in containers to protect them. For example, brown containers are used for light-sensitive medicines and glass containers are used for medicines that can be absorbed by plastic. Keeping the labels intact ensures that you know which medicine is in which container and that, in an emergency, someone else can quickly identify your medicine.

- Keep medicine containers tightly closed. Caps on medicine containers are designed to protect against moisture.

- Store medicines out of reach of children and pets. A major cause of accidental poisoning in young children is taking a parent's or grandparent's medicine.

Candlelight Vigil Slated For Homeless Animals

In 1991, approximately 17 million dogs and cats were killed in shelters across the country. These animals were killed because they were homeless—abandoned, cast off by their owners, or were lost.

Over 7,500 animals were euthanized at Humane Society of Huron Valley alone last year. Many of these animals were healthy, young, and perfectly suitable to be life-long friends and companions to someone.

Each of these animals bear testament to the enormity of human apathy and the urgent need by those of us that care to shed light on the oldest animal abuse that we know of today—pet overpopulation.

HSHV takes in over 220 animals every week of the year. Gary Tuscorria, executive director of the Michigan Humane Society in Detroit states that enough animals die in shelters every day to fill each seat in Tiger Stadium. For every person born, 15 dogs and 45 cats are also born. One cat can produce 8,000 kittens in just seven years. Four out of five pets are abandoned at some point in their lives. 2,500 kittens and puppies are born every hour in the U.S. alone. If we spayed 92% of the animals that can breed, the remaining 8% would still supply us with too many animals. And so on, and so on, and so on.

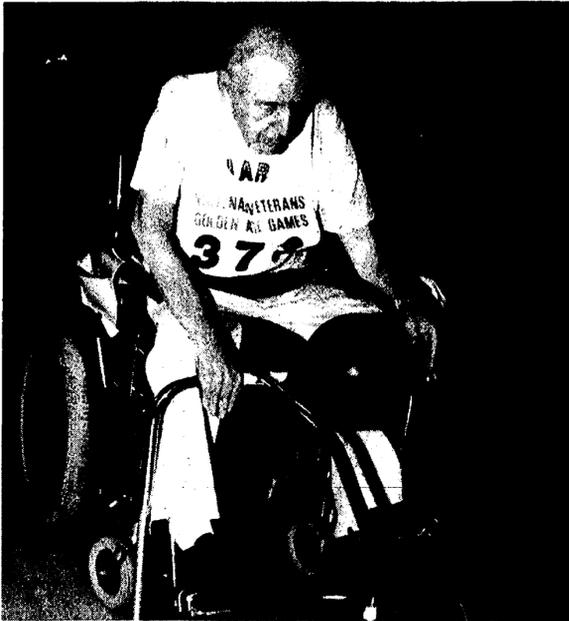

On Saturday, Aug. 22, over 230 animal shelters across the country will be holding candlelight vigils in honor of "Homeless Animals' Day." The Humane Society of Huron Valley invites the public and all HSHV "alumni" to come to the shelter on 3100 Cherry Hill Rd. at 9 p.m. to join with lighted candles to remember the animals, and to show respect for the caring people that work in animal shelters across the country.

J.P. Collins and WAMX-FM 107.1 will broadcast live at the shelter from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m. on Aug. 22. At 7:45 p.m., a moment of silence will be felt on their airwaves. At 9 p.m., local songwriter/singer Lisa Wolf will perform a musical tribute with a song she has written about the homeless animal tragedy. Three speakers will follow, including executive director Virginia Gates, HSHV veterinarian Dr. Annette Walker, and Robin Weirauch from the Humane Society of the United States. Solutions will be presented at the vigil so that individuals will know what they can do tomorrow to help the dogs and cats of Washtenaw county.

Each participant will receive (for a $1 donation) a candle inscribed with the name of an animal that died at the shelter in 1991. The lighting of the candles will be at 9:30 p.m. Each of these lives deserves validation, remembrance, and—more importantly, commitment on our part to solve the crisis which took their lives. Susan Regan, national vigil co-ordinator states, "May the light from the candles burn so brightly that no one can remain in the dark about the tragedy of pet overpopulation."

STANLEY MONTANGE, a Marine Corps veteran from Chelsea, participated in the Detroit area Sixth National Veterans Golden Age Games. Montange, 71, is one of over 350 veterans from across the United States who competed in such sports as bicycling, tennis, swimming, billiards, bowling, table tennis, horseshoes, croquet, and shuffleboard. All athletes are military veterans over the age of 55, who are currently receiving care from the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). The Golden Age Games, sponsored by the VA along with a host of corporations and organizations, is a showcase for how the VA improves the quality of life for thousands of veterans on a daily basis. Many athletes came to the games directly from VA domiciliary and nursing homes. These Games offer participants a chance to stay active through sports competition, renew old friendships, and continue to feel that they are a valuable part of our society. Hosted this year by the VA Medical Center in Ann Arbor, events took place last week on the campuses of Eastern Michigan University, in Ypsilanti, and the University of Michigan, in Ann Arbor.

Please join the Humane Society of Huron Valley in honoring the millions of homeless animals in shelters across the country with a candlelight vigil on

NATIONAL HOMELESS ANIMAL DAY

AUGUST 22nd
9:00 PM

Come join us at our shelter on 3100 Cherry Hill Road and pay tribute to the countless homeless animals in shelters across the country. Light a candle, hear our speakers, and listen to the musical tribute for those animals that never found a loving home. May the light from all of our candles make it so that no person can remain in the dark about the tragedy of pet overpopulation.

Michigan Cities Lead Nation in Child Poverty

Michigan cities led the nation in the increase in child poverty rates over the last decade as well as the percentage of children in poverty, according to a study released today by KIDS COUNT in Michigan and the Children's Defense Fund (CDF) in Washington, D.C.

Child poverty in Flint increased by 83 percent since 1980, the highest percentage increase experienced by any of the nation's largest cities. In addition, a higher percentage of Detroit children live in poverty in 1989 than in any other city in the country, according to the study which cited a 46.6 percent child poverty rate for Michigan's largest city (a 47 percent increase since 1979). Flint ranked fourth in the nation in over-all child poverty, with a child poverty rate of 44.6 percent, according to the CDF study which analyzed rates for the 168 largest U.S. cities.

An analysis of Michigan's 60 largest cities by KIDS COUNT in Michigan shows that more than one out of every three children lives in poverty in Highland Park (54%), Detroit (46%), Saginaw (45%), Flint (44%), Hamtramck (44%), Muskegon (41%), Pontiac (39%), Jackson (36%), Kalamazoo (33%) and Inkster (33%).

U.S. Plumbing Assoc. Training Program Underway at WCC

United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the United States and Canada (U.A.) are holding their 39th annual Instructor Training Program at Washtenaw Community College, Aug. 15-21.

More than 1,200 instructors, representing over 440 union locals, are participating in the week-long program. The U.A. Instructor Training Program, under the guidance of General President Marvin Boede, is recognized as the best in the construction industry.

In 1990, the program was held in Washtenaw county for the first time. The event provided a real boost to the local economy as an estimated $3 million was spent in area hotels, restaurants and places of entertainment. This year's program promises to and perhaps surpass that mark.

The U.A. Instructor Training Program is a comprehensive program designed to increase instructors' proficiency in training techniques and use of instructional materials, to acquaint them with the philosophy and principles of education, to provide applicable knowledge skills (math, science, welding and drawing), and to broaden and deepen their understanding of the technical aspects of their crafts, including state-of-the-art methods and materials technologies.

Last year, records were set when 1,275 instructors were involved in the training, over 130 instructors were graduated from the five-year, 200-hour program, and 246 participated for the first time. Those records are not expected to survive past this year's program.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I've just returned to my home in Texas after having spent four days in Chelsea attending the 25-year reunion of the class of 1967. Although I knew there was work being done to the downtown area, I was not at all prepared for what I found. Chelsea has become an enchanting village. It's obvious that a lot of planning and hard work went into every facet of the construction. All of those involved need to be commended for a job well done. The pride in the business district seems to be rubbing off on everyone in town. I didn't remember so many nicely painted, well scrubbed, beautifully landscaped homes being there when I was growing up. You all have a lot to be proud of!

Sherry and "committee" did a terrific job on the reunion. We sure had a lot of fun! Of course, no one had changed a bit. It's funny how middle-aged eyes don't see extra pounds, bifocals, grey (or no) hair. The only disappointment was the number of local members of the class that couldn't make it to the reunion. There were a lot of people I sure would have liked to have seen. Maybe next time.

★ Teaching Children Money Management Skills . . .

There's one vital subject that's usually not part of a grade school curriculum: money management. This responsibility falls on parents. The Michigan Association of CPAs points out that teaching children how to manage their money is necessary if you want them to develop the discipline and skills they will need to manage their finances effectively as adults.

The Benefits of Allowances

One of the best ways to teach children about money is to give them money of their own to manage. Providing children with a fixed allowance on a regular basis is the best way to develop their money management skills and can be a very effective educational experience for children as young as age six.

Children should clearly understand the purpose of the allowance and the consequences of their spending habits. The child should be aware that if he decides to spend the money on comic books during the week, he may not be able to go to the movies on Saturday.

Designate an allowance day. Selecting a day in the middle of the week as allowance day teaches children to make their funds last through the week-end, a time when they are apt to spend the most money.

Keep in mind that associating an allowance with household chores may not be advisable. A child should feel a sense of responsibility to the house as a family member, and should not view his or her domestic contributions as employment.

Teaching Children Savings Habits
Another way to actively involve children in managing money is by opening a savings account in their name. Parents should discuss the reasons and benefits of depositing money into an account and explain how money can grow by earning interest. To teach your children the importance of setting their own financial goals, let them make the decisions about their savings and the use of their money.

Setting The Example

What you say about money and how you and your spouse communicate about it also affects your child's perception of money. If possible, involve your child in the financial management of the household by discussing how your family budget works. Then encourage your child to develop his or her own savings goal.

Northwest Opens Bulk Propane Plant

Northwest Propane, Inc. has opened a bulk service plant off Brown Dr. in Sylvan township opposite Chelsea Self Storage.

The plant, which now consists of one large storage tank, becomes the sixth area plant for the company, but its first in Chelsea. Other plants are located in Holly, Oxford, Brighton, Fowlerville, and Mayville.

Northwest has arranged with a local company to service its area customers.

say, for example, a raft to take on vacation or extra money for water-skiing lessons.

Finally, CPAs caution parents against giving money to children who continually deplete their own resources. Later in life, it will be difficult for these children to find someone to bail them out when they have not managed their money effectively. Instead of lending children money and teaching them about debt, encourage your children to save for a specific purpose—even if you decide to meet them halfway by funding part of the item. This will better prepare them for the financial challenges they will face in adulthood when they are managing their own incomes and expenses.

"Kindness is the golden chain by which society is bound together . . ."

—Johann Goethe

Language and customs may vary greatly between peoples, but kindness is a universal communication. Throughout history, there have been certain groups that have looked upon kind acts or consideration for others as weaknesses. Such attitudes have prompted riots, strife, even wars . . . but never anything good.

We like to think that a philosophy of kindness towards others . . . of adherence to the Golden Rule . . . is becoming more the rule than the exception and is inspiring kindness in return, at all levels of society.

We invite you to visit and discuss any aspect of funeral services which may be of interest to you. We will answer your questions and offer our advice without obligation of any kind.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Meeting Tuesday, July 28, 1992

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele.
Present: President Steele, Clerk Morrison, Village Manager Myers, Assistant Village Manager Kuahn.
Trustees Present: Hammer, Dorer, Bentley, Kanten, Merkel, Cashman.
Others Present: M. Swartz, J. Tallman, C. Clouse, P. Flintoft, B. Hamilton, M. Heydlauff.

The first order of business was public participation and there was none. Trustee Bentley asked for clarification of several miscellaneous line items in the payable report.
Motion by Bentley, supported by Hammer, to approve the Consent Agenda. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Village Manager Myers reported that Chelsea will be hosting a meeting Thursday, July 30, 1992 at 5:00 p.m. at the Sylvan Town Hall with the delegate of the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority and BFI to discuss the transfer station.

Geoffrey Greenisen from Farban/Stein and Company, Real Estate, provided Council with a marketing proposal for the Chelsea Industrial Park. Trustee Merkel mentioned that Mr. Robert Thornton is also interested in marketing the Chelsea Industrial Park.

Village Manager Myers reported that the report on Site Investigation and Corrective Action Plan dated July 1, 1992, for the Department of Public Works Building, 440 W. North Street has been reviewed and accepted. The DNR will submit a letter on behalf of the Village to the MUSTFA Appeal Board. August 25, 1992 the Traverse Group will be present during the Council meeting to discuss the plan.

Michael Swartz and Jennifer Tallman, from Plants & Moran provided Council with an overview of the financial statements prepared for the Village of Chelsea for the year ending February 29, 1992. In addition, Mr. Swartz provided a list of recommendations for Council's consideration outlined in the management letter.

Motion by Bentley, supported by Dorer, to accept the audit provided by Plants & Moran for the year ending February 29, 1992. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Village Manager Myers informed Council that Section 606 of the Clean Air Act requires the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to develop regulations that limit emissions of ozone-depleting compounds during their use and disposal to the "lowest achievable level" and that maximize recycling. The Act also prohibits releasing refrigerant into the atmosphere during the maintenance, servicing and disposal of refrigeration and air conditioning equipment as of July 1, 1992.

Village Manager Myers informed Council that currently the Landfill is just not accepting refrigeration or air conditioning equipment. The Council discussed the Recycling Authority's role in disposal of this type of material, also various alternatives were discussed. At this time there are a few private firms that appropriately dispose of the items. Trustee Hammer feels we should consider letting the residents bring the items to the landfill, contact a private firm for disposal and charge the resident for appropriate disposal.

President Steele asked Cecil Clouse, Landfill Supervisor, to put together a list of providers and their prices and bring it to the next Council meeting.

Mr. Peter Flintoft requested a variance from the Chelsea Private Road Ordinance for road access at the end of Taylor Street.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Kanten, to hold a Public Hearing on August 25, 1992 regarding the variance from the Chelsea Private Road Ordinance for a road access at the end of Taylor Street. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to appoint President Steele and Village Manager Myers as delegates to the Michigan Municipal League Annual Meeting, September 24-26, 1992 on Mackinac Island. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to enter into Closed Session for the purpose of discussing the purchase of property. All Ayes. Motion carried. Time: 8:49 p.m.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Bentley, to adjourn Closed Session. All Ayes. Motion carried. Time: 9:05 p.m.

District, Teachers Sign Contract and music, business and technology, and health and physical education.

The contract also opened the possibility for the board to designate all school buildings as no-smoking areas. In the last contract, the district was required to provide a smoking area for staff.

"I think as an educational institution we should say something strong about smoking," Piasecki said.

The sides also agreed to study the pay given to teachers for extracurricular activities to determine whether adjustments need to be made. That includes roles such as yearbook advisor but does not include coaches. In addition, the sides agreed to create a statement on the inclusion program (in which impaired students are placed in regular classrooms).

"We don't have any guidelines covering the program," Beard said.

From 1990 to 2005, employment in retail trade will increase by 5.1 million, about 22% of the total job growth, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Occupational Outlook Quarterly, Fall 1991.

Michigan Farmers Ponder Impact of Free Trade Pact

Michigan Farm Bureau president Jack Laurie said his organization has a "wait and see" attitude about the recently completed North American Free Trade Agreement between the U.S., Canada and Mexico.

"Obviously we're going to be looking very closely at the impact that the Agreement will have on some of the labor-intensive and climate-sensitive crops that we produce here in Michigan," Laurie said. "A lot of our growers have concerns about this free trade agreement, and certainly we'll be examining it very carefully before we endorse it or criticize it."

Laurie thinks that, on balance, farmers will eventually benefit from freer trade. "There's no question in my mind that free trade between our three countries in the long term is beneficial to farmers," he said. "The challenge is how we get to that long term position from where we are today."

A study released last fall by the American Farm Bureau Research Foundation indicated that much, but not all, of U.S. agriculture would benefit from a free trade agreement. The study's findings pointed to increased U.S. exports to Mexico in areas such as dairy products, grains and oilseeds, fed-cattle and hogs, seasonal fresh vegetables, and fruits such as apples and pears. Removal of trade barriers and an expected boost in income growth for Mexican citizens are the main reasons for expected increases in Mexican imports of U.S. farm products.

New EPA Policy Uses Pesticide Labels To Boost Water Quality

Farmers across the Midwest are concerned about a new Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) plan on pesticide usage and water quality, according to Vicki Pontz, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. Pontz, attending an annual gathering of Midwest Farm Bureau legislative staff in Madison, Wis., said the EPA has decided to protect groundwater through the labeling of pesticides.

"The way this will work is that pesticide labels will begin to read 'for use in states only with EPA-approved management plans,'" she said. "That means those states that don't already have groundwater protection legislation or some similar strategy for the protection of groundwater would not be allowed to make those chemicals available."

As a result, said Pontz, Michigan and many other Midwestern states are working toward completion of a state-wide management plan for the protection of groundwater from pesticides. Farm Bureau is addressing the EPA campaign by assisting farmers with ongoing environmental stewardship plans and educational efforts, and by making sure that whatever groundwater management plan is developed by the state is feasible and scientifically driven, she said.

Cool Summer Still Doesn't Beat 'The Year Without A Summer'

Ypsilanti—So over-all it's been a cool and rainy summer and most of us have voiced our share of complaints, but according to Dr. Carl Ojala, Eastern Michigan University meteorologist, we actually could be thanking our lucky stars if we compare this summer to that of 1818, a.k.a. The Year Without A Summer.

Ojala, professor in EMU's Geography and Geology Department, said volcanic eruptions, as is the case now, were to blame for one of the coldest U.S. summers on record.

"Historical data shows that 1812 through 1817 were unusually cold years all around the world," he said, citing three separate volcanic eruptions as the culprits: Mount Soufriere on the island of St. Vincent in the Lesser Antilles, in 1812, Mount Mayon in the Philippines in 1814 and Mount Tambora in Indonesia in 1815.

"Tambora was the biggest one, spewing out 50 to 100 cubic miles of pyroclastic material," Ojala said. "Comparatively, the recent Mount St. Helens eruption was responsible for one cubic mile of pyroclastics, so that gives you some idea of the magnitude of that volcano. Anyway, those three were responsible for an unprecedented series of cold spells in May through September 1818, making that The Year Without A Summer."

Keeping in mind that most of the U.S. population lived in the Northeast United States in the early 1800s, it was that area which, according to Ojala, recorded frost in New York in June, July and August; one-inch-thick ice on standing water and lakes throughout the Northeast; and nearly two feet of snow in Vermont in June.

Chauncey Jerome of Plymouth, Conn., writing in 1860, recalled: "I well remember the 7th of June (1816) ... dressed through with thick woolen clothes and an overcoat on. My hands got so cold that I was obliged to lay down my tools and put on a pair of mittens ... On the 10th of June, my wife brought in some clothes that had been spread on the ground the night before, which were frozen stiff as in winter."

The Danville Vermont North Star, in June 1816, reported: "Melancholy Weather ... On the night of the 7th and morning of the 8th a kind of sleet or exceedingly cold snow fell, attended by high wind, and measured in places where it drifted 18 to 20 inches in depth. Saturday morning (8th) the weather was more severe than it generally is during the ... winter. It was indeed a gloomy and tedious period."

This year's cool and rainy summer is being blamed on the June 1991 eruption of Mount Pinatubo in the Philippines. Ojala said debris from the Pinatubo eruption was blown into the stratosphere and in the year following that eruption, the average temperature around the world decreased one degree.

"That doesn't sound like much, but for the atmospheric world temperature to go down one degree in one year is unbelievably fast, and that essentially, temporarily wiped out all the global warming that's gone on over the last hundred years," he said. "It's been predicted that this cooling will end in three to five years, then we'll go back to normal."

"Last fall, an el nino—which is a warming in the Pacific Ocean, started and the effects of el nino and Pinatubo have been at loggerheads and are fighting one another," Ojala added. "El nino, which messes up the circulation in the upper atmosphere, controlled last winter and made winter warmer, but now Pinatubo is starting to take over."

As recorded by Ojala at EMU's weather station, January, February and March were warmer than normal; April was below normal and May was normal. The first two weeks of June looked like that month was going to be normal until the 14th or 15th, when a cold front came through.

"And from that point on, the last two weeks in June were unbelievably below normal, which brought the whole month of June down to six degrees below normal. That's a humongous difference. Now, July (through the 19th) was two degrees below normal," Ojala said.

What does Ojala predict for the rest of the summer? "It seems to me it's going to be on the cool side," he said, quickly adding, "but, there's no way to predict weather more than two days in advance!"

Chelsea Fair Queen Contestants

Nine Chelsea and Dexter-area girls have entered the Chelsea Fair Queen Program this year.

The public portion of the program will be held Friday, Aug. 28 in the covered arena at the fairgrounds. However, the girls will be involved in a variety of activities through the fair week, beginning with Tuesday's Children's Parade right through Saturday's Chelsea Fair Parade.

They attend the Livestock Auction, Ladies Day, and other events.

This year, for the first time, all contestants are required to sign a contract so there will be no misunderstandings about the obligations of the contestants and the eventual queen, particularly during the year of her reign.

Girls will be judged on talent, poise, and an interview with the judges. Each girl is being sponsored by a school or community organization or business.

Chelsea and Dexter girls of high school age are eligible to enter. Below are profiles of three girls who have entered the contest. The other six contestants will be featured over the next two weeks.

LINDA SCHAFFER, age 16, is being sponsored by Farmers Supply Co. of Chelsea. She is the daughter of David and Darlene Schaffer. She has two brothers, Richie, 11, and Donnie, 18. Linda has attended "Women in Technology" camp on a scholarship and Blue Lake Music Camp. She's won numerous honors as a baton twirler including 1989 Intermediate Miss Majorette of Michigan; 1989 National Champion Drill Team; State Intermediate Twirl Champion 1989; and Chelsea Baton Corps Drum Major 1989. Since 1987 she has won 22 national awards in which she placed in the top 10. At school she was named an Outstanding Student and earned a Brass Pass last year. At school she is a featured twirler for the Chelsea High School Marching Band; plays clarinet; earned a letter in track and participated in cross country; was part of the technical crew for two school musicals; and assisted with prom construction. She's equally active in the community. She has earned a United Methodist Youth Fellowship; is an ACTS Student Leader; is a Youth Haven Ranch volunteer; a Cass Corridor Soup Kitchen volunteer; CROP Walk participant; participates in the Hand Bell Choir; and has been a featured performer at the Disney World Twirl Show. She has taken part in the Chelsea Fair Parade for the last 10 years and has participated in hobbies, floriculture; food preparation, machine sewing, needlework, gift wrapping, and junior homemaker programs. Her hobbies include hot air ballooning, running, hiking, twirling, music, reading, chocolate chip cookies, spending time with friends, and her scrapbook. Members of her court will be Tina Hassett and Felicia Hermosillo.

JENNIPHER HOLZHAUSEN, age 16, is being sponsored by the Chelsea High School Junior Class. She is the daughter of Don and Sandra Holzhausen of Chelsea. She is the sister of Jeff, 18, and Jamie, 13. At the high school, Jennipher is active in band and in the flag corps. She's a student council member, a varsity cheerleader, and plays softball. Hospital, Burn Institute Plan 'Chelsea Challenge' Biking Event

The Chelsea Challenge, not the school district's newsletter but a bike ride, will be held Saturday, Sept. 12.

The National Institute for Burn Medicine and Chelsea Community Hospital are sponsoring the challenge; actually four separate events: a 10-mile loop around Chelsea; a 30-mile loop through Waterloo; a 60-mile loop past Nell; and a 25-mile mountain-bike-only loop.

The challenge will begin at 9 a.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital. Entry fees are $12 for individuals or $30 for families. All registered bikers will receive a t-shirt, route snacks, and food afterwards. A raffle and award presentation will follow the ride.

Businesses are encouraged to enter a team of three or more riders to compete against other businesses. Prizes will be awarded.

For more information and an official entry form, call the burn institute at 789-9000 or Chelsea Community Hospital at 475-4063.

Dana Chelsea Plant's Human Resource Director Leaving For Corporate Position

Dana Corp. of Chelsea, has been a long-time supporter of Faith in Action, Inc., a human services organization serving the Chelsea area. Its participation in the life of the various communities where their facilities are located gives a strong testimony of how industry can challenge itself to help address the problems facing all communities.

The Rev. Dr. Jerrold F. Beaumont, founder and director of Faith in Action, stated Dana's contributions brought about primarily through the efforts and concern of Clyde Hogan were important to FIA's work in the community.

Beaumont recently learned that Hogan is going to take up new responsibilities as the Corporate Director of Human Resources and will be leaving shortly for Corporate Headquarters in Toledo, O. His understanding of the needs of the community have made him a valuable friend of both Faith in Action and Stockbridge Community Outreach. He will be missed, Beaumont added.

Michigan Agricultural Statistics Service expects the state's blueberry crop to be down compared to last year. Some blueberry fields had 80 percent of their buds frozen this spring.

Ladies Day at Fair Observing 10th Year

Ladies Day celebrating its 10th anniversary on Friday, Aug. 28, will be "A Day of Honors."

Ten years ago Ladies Day was introduced to the Chelsea Fair and for the past decade area women from 18 to 80 have enjoyed speakers, demonstrations, games, entertainment, fashion shows and winning prizes. This year will prove to be just as enjoyable as the past.

On Aug. 28 as early as 7:30 a.m., ladies will start lining up for the morning's activities. Registration will begin at 8:30 and the program at 9 a.m.

This year's program features the Gorton Family Band. The native Chelsea family of eight will sing and perform a program that they are presenting at the 1992 Minnesota State Fair. Lary and Gayle Gorton and their six children grew up in the Chelsea area with travels to various parts of the U.S., and now have returned to settle in Chelsea. They are members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints where they have performed at several activities. Other performances include weddings, parties, a Washington Street Show Choir Concert, and the Minnesota State Fair.

A special Master of Ceremonies, Jeff Van Riper will be on hand for our own version of an old television game show, "Queen for a Day." Jeff performed as Master of Ceremonies recently during the Chelsea Chamber of Commerce sixth annual series of musical concerts in the Park. In addition to Ladies Day at the fair, you can

The encampment will be located at Camp Munhake, the Ann Arbor Council's 130-acre camp at 20120 Bartell Rd., Gregory.

Farm Product Display Category Added at Fair

An educational farm product display category for youths has been added in the home economics department of the Chelsea Community Fair.

In this category, youngsters will make three-sided display boards, similar to those used in social studies and in the Enrichment Triad Program at the schools. The boards should include an article on the farm product and contain as many samples of the product as people use. Samples may be artistic reproductions, empty containers, or other items depicting the product.

V - Vitamins

Vitamins can be as confusing as alphabet soup. We hear about Vitamins A, B, C, D, E, K... What happened to F, G, H, I, and J? What are Niacin and Riboflavin? Why must some vitamins be taken daily and others not? Understanding a few basics will help you through the vitamin maze.

Vitamins are one of the five nutrients that our bodies require in order to function properly. (Carbohydrates, protein, fats, and minerals are the others.) Vitamins are organic substances made by plants and animals. For the most part, human bodies cannot manufacture their own vitamins, but rather get them from food.

Vitamins come in very small quantities. One hundred fifty pounds of dry food may have only one ounce of vitamins. Similarly, the amount required by the body is quite small—a fraction of an ounce a day for most vitamins.

Nonetheless, deficiencies in vitamins can result in serious health problems, functional disabilities, poor appearance, and prolonged recovery from surgery or illness. Conditions occurring due to not enough vitamins include impaired vision, loss of hair, cracked and dry skin, anemia, bleeding, nausea, diarrhea, and mental confusion.

Vitamins in themselves are not sources of energy; they do not contain calories. However, vitamins are catalysts that ensure that food is properly converted to energy. They are essential to the functioning of major body systems, including the immune, respiratory, nervous, and digestive systems.

A diet that contains ample quantities of the four basic food groups (grains, meats, dairy products, fruits and vegetables) will provide sufficient quantities of vitamins and minerals.

There are six principal vitamins.

These are A, B complex, C, D, E and K. More than 15 vitamins have been discovered, but not all are equally important to the body. At first, vitamins were named alphabetically in the order that they were discovered. A few were discovered independently, and thus have other names. Vitamins discovered now are given chemical, rather than alphabetic, names. The B complex includes many of the vitamins with other names, such as Niacin, Riboflavin, and Folic Acid. Betacarotene is a provitamin which may be converted to Vitamin A.

Vitamins are needed by the body daily. Two vitamins, C and D, are water-soluble and excess amounts are excreted from the body. They must be replenished every day. The other vitamins are fat-soluble, the extra amounts are stored in the body's fat cells for use as needed. These vitamins do not need to be taken daily, but a sufficient amount must be consumed over time.

The best source of vitamins is food. A balanced daily diet consisting of lean meat or poultry, dairy products, fruits and vegetables, and whole grains provides the amount of vitamins needed by most people. For those who do not eat balanced meals or who need extra amounts for other reasons, vitamin supplements are available as pills, powders or liquids. Too much of some vitamins may be as harmful as too little. Supplements should be used only upon a doctor's advice.

Cooking decreases the amount of vitamins found in food. Raw vegetables are good sources of many vitamins. But, these vitamins are often lost in cooking. To keep the maximum amount of vitamins, steam rather than boil vegetables. Cook the least amount of time possible. Cut vegetables into small pieces so that less time is needed. Cover the pan to minimize evaporation. Use a microwave oven.

Several factors affect vitamin use by the body. In general, as one ages, the body is less effective in processing food and nutrients, so more vitamins must be consumed in order to get the minimum amount required. Many medications, over-the-counter as well

Meat Inspection Policies Co-Ordinated Between U.S., Canada

U.S. and Canadian agriculture officials have agreed on a plan to make each country's meat import inspection system similar. Michigan Farm Bureau commodity specialist Kevin Kirk said the plan helps level the playing field in the meat trade. "One of the key areas of improvement is that U.S. inspectors will now actually determine the samples that they want to inspect, rather than have the Canadians select the samples and hand them over," said Kirk. "Secondly, the frequency of reinspection of meat imported into the United States or Canada will be set at equivalent levels."

Kirk said the new approach should help move the countries closer toward Farm Bureau's goal of having meat inspection procedures that are totally consistent on both sides of the border. "Our position is that an open border can be possible only if we are absolutely certain that Canadian inspection procedures are totally consistent with our own," he said.

Centofantis Sell A & W Store To Chelsea's Robert Houle Family

Robert Houle family of Chelsea has purchased the Chelsea A & W Restaurant from Len and Marian Centofanti for an undisclosed price.

The Centofantis have owned the franchise for 17 years. They will help for about three months with the transition.

The restaurant will be run by Lynn Houle, one of Robert's six sons. Lynn is a life-long Chelsea resident and a 1972 Chelsea High school graduate. Lynn's wife, the former Annette Gaken, is head teller at the Chelsea State Bank branch office and a 1977 Chelsea High school graduate. His mother, Colleen, also works for Chelsea State Bank. Robert Houle is retired from Rockwell International. Lynn and Colleen have two children, Andrew, 10, and Ryan, 7, and they live on Wellington St.

"Both [the Houle and Gaken] families are really excited about this," Lynn said last week.

"It will be a family-run operation," Lynn Houle said he and Colleen looked at various fast-food franchises in the Ann Arbor-Brighton area before finding out the A & W was for sale. It seemed like a perfect fit. Lynn said his family wants to stay here because they all grew up here and they like the town and the schools. He also said the Centofantis wanted a local family to buy the business.

"This is really a long-time dream of mine," Lynn said.

Lynn said he plans for A & W to be involved heavily in community promotions and activities, although he is still studying the options. He likes the idea of establishing a Kids Club as well as other programs aimed at children and senior citizens. A & W headquarters does not lack for ideas.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Chelsea Girls Cross Country Squad Is Pre-Season Number One Team

The 27-member Chelsea Bulldogs girls cross country team, the pre-season number one team in the state, is ready for the long run, according to coach Pat Clarke.

"They want to make their last race this year their best and let the chips fall where they may," Clarke said.

The girls were ranked number one most of last year, and won every meet until the state meet, where they placed second.

With everyone back, the girls "want to end the season with a win this year," Clarke said.

"They're pacing themselves to peak at the end of the year and stay healthy," Clarke concluded.

At the top of the list of returnees are senior all-stars Lisa Monti and Valerie Bullock, captains of the squad.

Two other senior captains are Beth Williams (all-SEC in 1991) and Tracey Wales. Seniors Sarah Brosnan, Jessica Holton (all-SEC in 1990), Laura Paton, and Linda Schaffer will round out what should be an outstanding senior class.

Beth Bell, an all-SEC and all-region runner, heads the group of returning juniors. Other juniors include letter-winners Sarah Henry and Emily Anderson.

Robin Phelps, an all-league and all-region runner, leads the sophomore class. Other sophomores include Molly Griebel, Erika Leiter, Laura Tidwell, Josey Romero, Shannon Shemansky, and Maya Ponte.

Nine "talented" freshman are also out, Clarke said. They are Angie Bell, Melissa Hand, Andrea Ludwig, Jill McKinnon, Kim Smith, Katie Spink, Sara Walters, Melissa Williams, and Jennifer Wood.

Over-all, it's the largest girls team Clarke has ever had.

Chelsea will be favored to win their fourth straight Southeastern Conference title and eighth in the last 10 years.

Saline Hornets return a senior-dominated team that was ranked fifth in the state last year.

Dexter will return most of a team ranked in the top 20 last year, led by all-state Jennifer McCalla.

Tecumseh will also be strong again, led by state champion Nicole Randolph. Milan, Lincoln, and Pinckney should fight it out for the middle of the pack.

"We need to keep our focus and to continue to improve if we are to be successful this fall," Clarke said.

Cyr Gets Ace At Hudson Mills

Jerry Cyr of Gregory shot a hole-in-one on the number eight hole at Hudson Mills Golf Course on Sunday, Aug. 9. It was his first ace in 12 years of playing the game.

Cyr used an eight iron on the 127-yard hole. He finished with a total score of 86.

JUNIOR QUARTERBACK Pat Steele keeps the ball during the first half of last Saturday's Chelsea intrasquad game. He led his Blue team to victory with a strong second half.

CHS Golfers Open Season At Tournament

Chelsea High school boys golf team opened its season with a 19th-place finish at the Jackson County Western Invitational Tournament at Burr Oak Golf Course in Parma.

Chelsea had a team score of 360. Individual scores were Sean Graflund and Nathan Oake 86, Adam Beauchamp 93, and Dirk Wales and Ryan Fisher 95.

Coldwater won the tournament at 313. Other area team finishes included Saline, fourth, 323, and Tecumseh at 357.

"Our finish represents only a one-stroke improvement over last year's performance," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

"However, given the youth and inexperience of this year's team I'm not all that displeased."

Oake is the team's senior captain. Other members of the team who should see varsity action are Jesse Hammett, Jim Tallman, and Dirk Wales. Sophomores who will lead the junior varsity team include James Diesing, Jason Dunahoo, Tom Payne, and Jeff Branch. Freshman attempting to secure a JV position are Josh Bernhard, Kevin Cross, Kevin Holmes, Scott Hurst, Drew Patterson, Rick Stahl, and Dan Johnson.

Vegetable production in the United States was up slightly in 1991. Reduced production of fresh vegetables and sweet potatoes was offset by higher potato and dry bean use. Per capita consumption of vegetables and melons was nearly 400 pounds last year.

Everybody's Science

Neutralizing the Nematode
By Jim DeQuatro

Fungi and sexual frustration could ruin another summer of microscopic worms trying to pester soybeans in Susan Meyer's research plots.

If all goes as hoped, most of the worms, known as soybean cyst nematodes, won't be getting together to mate. And if they do manage a tryat, most of their offspring will never experience the joys of sidling up to a soybean root and sucking out the vital juices.

That's because Meyer, a plant pathologist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and colleagues are expanding their outdoor tests of a promising new double-whammy weapon.

The strategy, being patented by the scientists, could spell relief for soybean farmers if it passes all hurdles. Last year, the nematodes cost growers in 27 states an estimated quarter-billion dollars in lost yields. One female nematode can lay 300 to 500 eggs, she notes.

To put a stop to that, Meyer is testing special, lab-altered strains of a natural fungus, along with chemical cousins of the female nematode's own perfume.

"Compounds that mimic the female nematode's sex attractant, or pheromone, confuse the male so he can't find a female. And if they do mate, the fungus destroys many of the eggs," says Meyer who is with USDA's Agricultural Research Service in Beltsville, Md. Last summer, the fungus-pheromone duo reduced nematode populations by as much as 86 percent in small test plots, she adds.

"The benefit, five to 10 years from now," Meyer says, "could be new, safer alternatives to conventional pesticides for the soybean cyst nematode." Some chemical controls have been taken off the market because of concern over groundwater pollution, she notes.

For the field tests, the fungi and pheromone compounds are mixed into pellets, which are placed in the soil with soybean seed.

Meyer says the new strategy might also work with other nematodes that are parasites of many field and orchard crops. In pesticides and yield loss, soybean cyst and other parasitic nematodes run up staggering bills, estimated at $5.8 billion in the U.S. and $77.7 billion world-wide. (Agricultural Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture)

Employment in the health services industry will grow by 3.9 million jobs between 1990 and 2005, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Occupational Outlook Quarterly, Fall 1991.

YOU & YOUR PET

By Linda Reider

★ Naming a New Pet

By Linda Reider

You just brought your new dog or cat or rabbit home from the humane society or the breeder. The first person you meet says, "What a darling pet! What's her name?" And there you're faced with a major dilemma. What do you name this animal?

Since a dog or cat will learn to respond to his or her name, and since the pet will, with luck, live for at least 12 or 14 years, choosing the pet's name is an important issue. You can choose a name that describes your pet's personality or physical appearance. Perhaps you want an exotic name for a pet of foreign ancestry, or one that has a special meaning in a different language. Your pet's name could say something about you, his owner, such as a receptionist's pet named Typo. Or you could choose a name from something in which you have an interest, like sports, the zodiac, the Old West, mythology, literature, music, or even a favorite comic strip or film. Listed below are a few suggestions to get you thinking in a creative direction. If you need more ideas, check out a book on naming your pet at the local library.

Traditional favorites: For those of use who like plain vanilla there are Fido, Muffin, Puff, Tabby, Callie, Bowser, Taffy, Brandy, Peanuts, Penny, Lady, Gypsy, Angus, Benji, Greta, Snoopy, Lad, Ruff, Wolf, Nipper, Trooper, Butch, Buttons, Mitten, and Fifi.

Famous names: Perhaps you want your pet to be named Napoleon, Columbus, Brutus, Sampson, Bambi, Scarlett, Chiquita, Beethoven, Tarzan, Bonnie, Clyde, Tallulah, George Bush, Byron, Keats, Flopsy, or Madeleine.

Colors: Depending on her coat, you might consider Marigold, Zebra, Tawny, Rouge, Pepper, Crystal, Ebony, Blaza, Speckles, Bianca, Blondie, Sable, Cocoa, Hershey, Mocha, Moonshine, Malze, Sunbeam, Moonglow, Luna.

Personality: Is your pet a Boomer, King Tut, Happy, Sparky, Nimble, Prancer, Merry, Allegra, Mischief, Scrappy, Frolic, Mousse, Magic, Vixen, Busybody or Caper?

Foreign Names: The name could have a foreign flavor as with Debutante, Danta, Iseult, Hsu, Ketti, Loosa, Cadette, Amiga, Gilli, Jupiter, Adonis, Juno, Adobe, Caprice, Mousse, Mari, Kisi, Kiku, Buna, Thames.

Crazy Names: Use your imagination and select Banana, Modern, Crocus, Escalator, Jabba, Quasar, Quark, Hominy, Red Bean Pie, Allmony, Jambalaya, Tyrant, Sweet Potato, Claved, Catatonic, or Anonymous.

Finally, a couple of warnings. Choose a name that you can say or at least shorten to a nickname for everyday use. And please avoid derogatory names out of respect for the animal, who will never get the joke.

Coming Events: Do you have a special oldster in your house? Ann Arbor Community Education is offering an evening seminar on "Caring for your Elderly Pet." The three-hour class will be held on Thursday, May 14. Call 994-2300 ext. 218 for registration information. And if a new pet is in your future, ask about their "Choosing the Perfect Pet" class on April 23.

MSMS NEWS OF MEDICINE

By Thomas C. Payne, MD, President
Michigan State Medical Society

★ Domestic Violence—Recognition and Treatment Crucial

An x-ray showed a rib fracture on the month-old infant. Was this a case of child abuse, I wondered? After talking with the mother, a nursing student, it seemed child abuse could not be the cause. Her pediatrician agreed. Several years later, however, the pediatrician told me the baby was brought into the hospital emergency room dead on arrival, 18 months after the rib fracture.

That is not the only case that has haunted me over the years. One day I walked into my office and found the police wanting to see the x-rays of an 18-month-old baby who had suffered 16 fractures over a four-week period. It seems the baby's father enjoyed breaking the baby's joints and bones. The mother finally called the police and the father fled the country. I saw the baby several months later and, physically, he had recovered completely. But what about the deep-seated mental scarring?

Although these cases have troubled me greatly over the years, it is just recently that I feel that I am in a position to do something about it. I have dedicated my year as president of the Michigan State Medical Society (MSMS) to help get the word out to Michigan physicians about recognizing and treating child abuse, child sexual abuse, domestic abuse and elder abuse.

The efforts of MSMS will dovetail with the American Association (AMA) program which is developing detailed diagnostic and treatment guidelines on these areas of abuse. The AMA is also publicizing the need for greater physician accountability in recognizing and treating abuse victims.

To help gather information on domestic abuse, MSMS, in conjunction with the MSMS Auxiliary, will call together a coalition of concerned community groups on Aug. 19, at MSMS Headquarters in East Lansing. We plan to discuss what resources are currently available, what information is needed and how we will get it to physicians. One item we want to develop is a state-wide directory of organizations that offer shelter, legal services, social services and support groups for victims of abuse.

To further help inform physicians about how to recognize and treat domestic violence, the September issue of Michigan Medicine will be dedicated to the topic. Three half-day seminars on child, spouse and elder abuse also will be held at the MSMS Annual Scientific Meeting in November.

Domestic violence has implications for the health and well being of the community. Michigan physicians are being encouraged to help the victims of this social illness.

Sheriff's Deputies Busy With Larcenies, Break-ins

Washtenaw County Sheriff deputies investigated a number of incidents between Aug. 1 and Aug. 18.

On Aug. 1, deputies investigated a disturbance complaint in the 800 block of Huron St. in Dexter. After making a lein check on the suspect a bench warrant from Ann Arbor turned up. Eric M. Krull, 20, was arrested on that warrant. He was transported to Ann Arbor for processing.

On Aug. 3, a larceny of signs occurred in the 800 block of Baker Rd. in Dexter. The incident happened between 4:30 p.m. on July 28 and 7 a.m., Aug. 3. Signs reading "private property," "no fishing or swimming" and "no U-turn" were taken. There are no suspects or leads in the incident.

Also, larceny of wood logs occurred in the 1000 block of North Territorial Rd. in Dexter township. The logs are valued at $1,000 and there are no suspects or leads.

On Aug. 4, a suspicious incident occurred in the 9000 block of McGregor Rd. in Dexter township. The victim said a light was left on in the livingroom of the house and it was turned off when he returned. Nothing was taken or moved.

Also, larceny of gas occurred at Mugg & Bopps on Baker Rd. in Dexter. A customer pre-paid for $3 of gas, pumped $5 and left. A clerk reported the incident and said the car was a light blue Chevy Camero. It was discovered that the owner of the vehicle left it sitting at his sister's residence with a "For Sale" sign on it. He suspects his niece took the car for a joy ride. Mugg & Bopps agreed not to prosecute if restitution is made.

A dog bite was reported on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. in Dexter township. A boy was bitten on his right hip by a shepherd. The mother said it was a minor bite and no medical attention was needed.

On Aug. 7, a larceny from a motor vehicle was reported. A cellular phone and a micro cassette recorder were taken from a 1993 silver Lincoln parked in the 5100 block of Hensley Dr. in Scio township. The alarm on the car was not activated and no signs of forced entry were found.

Also, another larceny from a motor vehicle occurred in the 2900 block of Parkridge Rd. in Scio township. An unlocked mini van, parked in front of the owner's residence, was missing a $200 cellular phone. The incident happened between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m., Aug. 6 and 7.

On Aug. 8, an operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor occurred on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. in Dexter township. The suspects were involved in a personal injury accident and open bottles of beer were found in their vehicle. One of the suspects, a 33-year-old Dearborn Heights man, refused a blood test. Dexter Fire Department, Huron Valley Ambulance and Washtenaw County Sheriff Department personnel were on the scene.

Also, a larceny from a motor vehicle occurred in the 5700 block of Wagner Rd. in Scio township. The owner of a 1981 Honda left the car's door unlocked and cassette tapes were stolen.

On Aug. 9, retail fraud was reported by Big Oak Party Store on Zeeb Rd. The clerk reported two cases of beer were stolen. He gave a vehicle description and license plate number to deputies. The suspect is a 21-year-old Ann Arbor resident. The vehicle is registered to his mother.

On Aug. 10, an attempted breaking and entering was reported in the 4800 block of Whitman Circle in Scio township. While the victims were on vacation, their screen door was cut and their garage door was pried open. No entry was gained to the residence, but a hair pin was found inside the garage door lock. Deputies suspect someone tried to pick the lock.

Also, malicious destruction of vehicles were reported near North Territorial and Dexter Town Hall Rd. in Dexter. Six vehicle owners reported damaged vehicles with scratches and dents from kicking. They think the damage occurred in the early evening hours. No one was seen doing the damage.

A larceny of bicycles was also reported in the 9900 block of Horseshoe Dr. in Dexter township. Two mountain bikes, estimated to cost $1,300, were taken from an unlocked garage.

The A & W on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. received minor damage when a 31-year-old man's van struck the awning of the restaurant. No signs stating the height of the awning are posted.

An accidental car fire also occurred Aug. 10. The incident occurred in the 7200 block of Jackson Rd. in Scio township. The 19-year-old victim said he left a hand held spotlight on the seat of the vehicle. The spotlight malfunctioned and started fire to his 1988 Chevy, causing $500 in damages.

On Aug. 11, unlawful driving away of an automobile occurred at Varsity Ford. The victim, a salesman, was approached by a man who wanted to test drive a 1992 Ford Mustang. After filling out the paperwork, both drove off in the vehicle. The suspect, driving the car, complained of chest pains and pulled over. As the salesman got out of the car and was approaching the driver's side to take-over driving, the suspect pulled out a gun. The suspect ordered the salesman to turn and head toward the weeds on the side of the road. The salesman called sheriff deputies from a nearby residence. Deputies discovered the information the suspect filled out at the dealership was false.

Also, an assault and battery was reported in the 2800 block of N. Zeeb Rd. in Scio township. The victim, a West Bloomfield man said the suspect owed him $1,500. After the victim demanded money, the suspect and his son pushed him out of the building.

Also, a larceny of a building occurred in the 3500 block of Jackson Rd. in Scio township. Two Dexter residents stopped by the bar for a couple of beers after work. They both got up and left $20 and some drinks on the bar. They said they saw a man take the money and leave for the Clark gas station across the street. When deputies arrived they found the 30-year-old suspect sitting on the curb, outside the gas station, consuming pop and candy. They questioned the suspect and he denied the incident.

On Aug. 12, a breaking and entering was reported at an office in the 3600 block of Jackson Rd. in Scio township. The incident was reported by a 36-year-old Dexter resident. Approximately $300 in damages was reported and nothing appeared to be missing.

Also, deputies investigated an incident of open intoxication in a vehicle and possession of marijuana. After making a traffic stop on Loveland Rd. near Cavanaugh Lake Rd. in Chelsea, deputies discovered malt liquor and a bag of marijuana inside the vehicle. The driver and passenger admitted to possessing and smoking the marijuana. Both were taken to the Washtenaw county jail and later released pending authorization of criminal charges.

On Aug. 13, larceny of gasoline was reported by a clerk at the Clark gas station on Jackson Rd. in Scio township. The clerk reported a beige Ford, driven by a man, sped off after taking $10 of gasoline. After investigating, deputies discovered it was a woman and she had paid. The clerk said he was busy and might have forgotten to clear the pump.

Also, a cellular telephone, a car speaker and radar detector were stolen from a vehicle parked in the 3100 block of Wagner Rd. in Scio township. The driver's side window was smashed and the victim was home at the time of the incident. She reported a black hatch-back car leaving her driveway at the time of the incident.

On Aug. 14, possession of stolen property was discovered by deputies after making a traffic stop on Fletcher Rd. near I-94 in Lima township. The driver of the vehicle said it belonged to his brother and he didn't know the license plate was stolen. The vehicle was impounded and the driver and three passengers were transported to a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department station for guardian notification. Three were petitioned for curfew violations and the other was in violation of house detention.

Also, a larceny was reported at Huron Valley Garden Center on Jackson Ave. The victim advised UPS to drop off a package at the center because she wouldn't be home. An acquaintance of the victim signed for the package and put it on the stairs of the business. It was later discovered missing.

A malicious destruction of property was reported in the 5000 block of Parkgrove Rd. in Scio township. A rock broke the window of a residence. The victim reported a lawn care company was cutting the grass that day. Deputies suspect it might have been accidental and advised the victim to talk with the company.

An attempted unlawful driving away of an automobile was reported on M-52 near I-94 in Chelsea. A Mobil gas station clerk reported the incident. Chelsea police discovered two suspects fleeing into the woods. It was discovered that three vehicles were entered and their steering columns were broken. The suspects, two juveniles from Southgate, were caught and taken to jail. They both admitted to attempting to steal the cars.

On Aug. 16, a Chevy Cavalier was taken without permission in the 1600 block of Walker Rd. in Grass Lake. Washtenaw County Sheriff deputies called the victim to notify her that her car was involved in an accident. She said she didn't know her car was gone. The suspect, her roommate, must have taken the car without her permission, she said. Her roommate states he did have permission and he has taken it in the past.

Vitamins and Their Sources Are Important

as prescription, change metabolism and make it difficult for the body to absorb adequate amounts of some vitamins. Alcohol also affects absorption. Persons who are ill may need extra vitamins to help them regain strength and recover quickly.

Vitamins also interact with each other and with minerals. If the proper combinations are not available, a vitamin may be ingested but not be used fully by the body.

As noted, the daily amount of vitamins required is extremely small. The federal government has established a "Recommended Daily Allowance" or R.D.A. for most vitamins. These are given in several units. International Units, milligrams, and micrograms. The R.D.A. is an average for healthy adults who eat balanced diets and are getting proper amounts of all other nutrients. The factors noted above, as well as others, may change the amount needed by a specific individual.

The accompanying chart is a sample guide to the R.D.A. for each vitamin and good food sources. Certain foods recommended for their vitamin content should be avoided by some persons for other reasons, such as efforts to reduce cholesterol or lose weight. Be sure to check with your doctor if you have any special condition that might affect how your body processes vitamins or how you should modify your diet to ensure proper vitamin content.

Most local bookstores carry books that give a detailed count of the amount of each type of vitamin found in various foods. Package labels also frequently show the food's nutrient contents. Use these as guides, but remember, the easiest way to ensure adequate vitamin intake is not to count one-by-one, but eat a well balanced healthy diet each day.

Vitamin	R.D.A.*	Good Food Sources	Major Functions
A	5,000 IU/day	Liver, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, winter squash, spinach, carrots, milk, broccoli, apricots, cantaloupe	Healthy skin, good night vision, growth of hair, eyes, teeth, respiratory and immune systems

Boy on Bicycle Fears Man in Car

A 13-year-old boy told Chelsea police that a man in a car pursued him while he rode his bike last Monday, Aug. 10.

The boy was riding at Chelsea Shopping Center when the man, driving a car with North Carolina license plate, motioned to the boy to come to his car. The boy decided to flee the area.

A short time later the boy noticed the man had followed him to the Wolverine Food & Spirits parking lot, and again the man motioned to him to come to the car.

The boy continued on his bike and rode to a friend's house, where he called police.

The boy told police the man made no attempt to talk to him.

Cellular Telephone Stolen from Car

A S. Freer Rd. resident reported to police that a cellular telephone was stolen from his car on Saturday, Aug. 15.

The man told police the theft apparently occurred between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. The car was unlocked.

Chelsea Woman's Son Completes Coast Guard Recruit Training
 Coast Guard Seaman Apprentice Jason F. Dembny, son of Susan Wozniak of 16425 Lowery, Chelsea, recently graduated from Coast Guard Recruit Training Center.

During the training cycle at Coast Guard Recruit Training Center, Cape May, N.J., students are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training leading toward qualification in one of the Coast Guard's 26 occupational fields. Studies also include first aid, seamanship, Coast Guard history and regulations, close order drill and damage control. The 1990 graduate of Plymouth Canton High school, Canton, joined the Coast Guard Reserves in May 1992.

INTERESTING EYE FACTS
 Humans are not the only living creatures having color vision. All primates such as chimpanzees and gorillas have excellent color vision, but other mammals have no color vision - the honeybee is attracted to ultraviolet colors given off by many flowers, colors not visible to the human eye.
 Our eye has a blind spot, which corresponds to the point in the back of our eye where the optic nerve leaves the eye. The small blind spot is just to the side of the center of vision. When both eyes are open, however, each eye "covers" for the blind spot of the other eye.
 About one million cataract operations were performed in the United States last year, making it one of the most common and safest of surgeries.
 Some animals, such as the cat, have excellent night vision. They have a reflecting layer, called the tapetum lucidum, behind the retina. What little light does enter the eye at night is bounced off this mirror-like layer and the animal's eye seems to "glow in the dark" when illuminated by the headlights of your car.

Chelsea Attorney Attends National Law Conference

Chelsea attorney Randy Musbach attended the American Bar Association's annual convention in San Francisco last week. He is president of the 800 member Washtenaw County Bar Association and attended the convention as the organization's official representative.

Last year's convention featured Vice-President Dan Quayle as a keynote speaker while this year's convention featured as keynote speakers Hillary R. Clinton, a lawyer herself and the wife of Presidential candidate Bill Clinton; and Anita Hill, a law professor who was involved as a key witness in the hearings for U.S. Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas.

Local Authors Featured In McKune Library Series

If you have a passion for true crime murder and bedlam, mystery and intrigue in exotic tropical settings, a craving for information access in your library that only the most cutting edge technology can deliver, and eagerly await the holidays so you can shop 'til you drop in every book store to find perfect gifts for family and friends, then Grapevine, McKune Memorial Library's new author and expert series is designed just for you.

Grapevine, a new series with a presentation-discussion format that will feature local literary stars and experts, is being co-sponsored by Friends of McKune Memorial Library and Serendipity Paperback Book Exchange.

Chelsea true crime author Lowell Cauffiel will kick off the series of monthly programs on Wednesday, Sept. 9, at 7 p.m. in the meeting room at the Depot.

In 1989, Cauffiel's book Masquerade, the story of a Grosse Pointe psychiatrist who lived a double life, made the New York Times best-seller list and brought him national attention. He also wrote Forever and Five Days, the chilling and true account of the serial killings that took place at the Alpine Manor nursing home in Grand Rapids. Cauffiel just completed his first novel, First Degree, a thriller set at Metro airport during the Thanksgiving week-end.

Mark Brown, author, businessman, former University of Michigan M-Club president, family man and avid golfer will talk about Hawaii and mystery writing at McKune Library on Thursday, Oct. 15. Brown will discuss his highly successful series of novels about Ben McMillen. The McMillen series combines the exotic setting of Hawaii and a resourceful Kona detective (Ben McMillen) with the customs, folklore and mythology of the Hawaiian people.

On Friday, Nov. 20, Grapevine will wind down I-94 to the Zeeb Rd. exit

Area Boy Scouts Plan Giant Camporee At Bruin Lake

Plans are now being finalized for Boy Scout troops from southern Michigan, Canada, and Ohio to take part in an area-wide camporee to be held by the Wolverine Council - Boy Scouts of America, Oct. 16-18.

More than 1,000 Scouts are expected for the 500 Year Rendezvous-The Link Between the Ages 1492-1992. The program and activities will celebrate and span the year from the Columbus landing to space flights.

The encampment will be located at Camp Munhake, the Ann Arbor Council's 130-acre camp at 20120 Bartell Rd., Gregory.

where a tour of University Microfilm International (UMI) is planned at 6:15 p.m. The tour will give participants an opportunity to see a demonstration of the latest in on-line data base technology, and other advances of the information age important to library services in the 1990s.

On Monday, Dec. 7, Cindy Osborne, assistant manager of Ann Arbor's Little Professor Book Store will suggest solutions to last-minute holiday gift dilemmas. Osborne will bring samples of a wide range of the best gift volumes the season has to offer in a presentation especially crafted for her Grapevine audience titled, "Books for Holiday Giving."

The Sept. 9, Oct. 15 and Dec. 7 programs are free and open to the public. For further information call the McKune Memorial Library at 475-8732.

They're out for blood.

At first, it was only once a week. Then three times. Now they're out for blood every night. And they're not alone. They're just two of the thousands of people all over the country who are finally starting to do something about the disease that kills almost 32,000 Americans every year—and afflicts another 38 million. It's high blood pressure. And once you know you've got it, you can usually control it. By following your doctor's advice on exercise, weight control, salt intake, and medication. Talk to your doctor today about getting started on a program that will keep you out for blood. And in the running.

CHELSEA SCHOOL DISTRICT BUS TRANSPORTATION SCHEDULE

The Transportation Department of Chelsea School District operates with 22 regular bus routes and 8 Special Education routes. There are seven Kindergarten routes that transport these students home from the morning Kindergarten classes or into the elementary schools for afternoon classes.

The buses are equipped with two-way radios which provide communication between the buses and the bus garage. We are always informed when a bus is having mechanical difficulty, or is delayed. If the bus your child rides is late, you can call the bus garage and we are able to let you know approximately when your child will arrive home. In case of mechanical problems, a substitute bus may be used and will be on the route immediately. In any event, the entire route will be completed. The two-way radio has been very helpful in providing a means to locate a student who could possibly have boarded the wrong bus. If you are concerned about your child please call the bus garage and we can help you with your questions.

The Chelsea Transportation Department follows the laws of the State of Michigan, and policies of the Board of Education. The bus drivers conduct evacuation drills three times during the school year. The drivers attend inservices during the school year. They receive on the road training by a certified trainer and attend 16 hours of classroom education. Prior to the four year expiration, each driver receives a "refresher training". The transportation staff is certified in CPR and First Aid. The Supervisor and bus mechanics are updated on changing laws and policies and also attend frequent inservices to assure our procedures are up to date. The safety and well-being of your child is our number one concern. Each family will receive a copy of the bus rules during the first week of school. It is important that these rules are followed to assure a safe bus ride for our students. Please sign and return the bottom portion of the rule sheet to the bus driver. This enables us to contact you if we have a question about your child. The bus fleet is in operation at times when the office staff at the schools are not available (before 8:00 a.m. and after 4:00 p.m.) and there are times when we can not reach anyone at the student's home.

We encourage and welcome new families that move into the rural areas of Chelsea School District to call the bus garage for information about transportation. The telephone number is 475-7647.

Sally Proctor, Supervisor
Transportation Department

Farm Truckers Find New Emphasis on Bumper Regulations

Farmers should be aware that law enforcement agencies are beginning to pay closer attention to whether or not farm trucks have legal bumpers, according to Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"The requirements of Michigan law are very specific," Nelson said. "The law requires that if the bed of the truck is 30 inches or more above the roadway, and if it extends 36 inches or more from the rear axle, then a rear bumper is required. And that rear bumper must extend to within 22 inches of the ground."

Nelson said there are some ongoing discussions underway with law enforcement agencies to deal with the conflict between the bumper regulations and the unique structural needs of farm trucks. "The safety of the motoring public is first and foremost, but the bumper regulations can potentially cause some problems for farm truckers," he said. "For instance, agricultural trucks traditionally back up to or over a grain hopper and need all the clearance they can get. The trucks were constructed so they could unload in the most efficient and effective way."

A swing-away rear bumper is available as a possible retrofit option for trucks that are found in violation of the law, according to Nelson.

New Community Ed. Director Adjusts To Step Up in Career

Once Jeff Rohrer gets over the housing sticker shock in Chelsea, the new community education director should settle in nicely to his new position.

Rohrer, 35, was recently named the Chelsea School District's second community education director, replacing Jackie Tracy. He and his wife, Pat, and children Joshua and Jessica are in the process of buying a house in the village, after a temporary stopover in Dexter. Their previous home was in Carson City near Alma, where Rohrer was community education director in Carson City-Crystal Area Schools. He was somewhat familiar with Chelsea (the late Ralph McCalla was his uncle) but he was not quite prepared for what he found when he went house-hunting.

"The house we're buying is comparable to the house we had, but we're paying 2 1/2 times as much," Rohrer says.

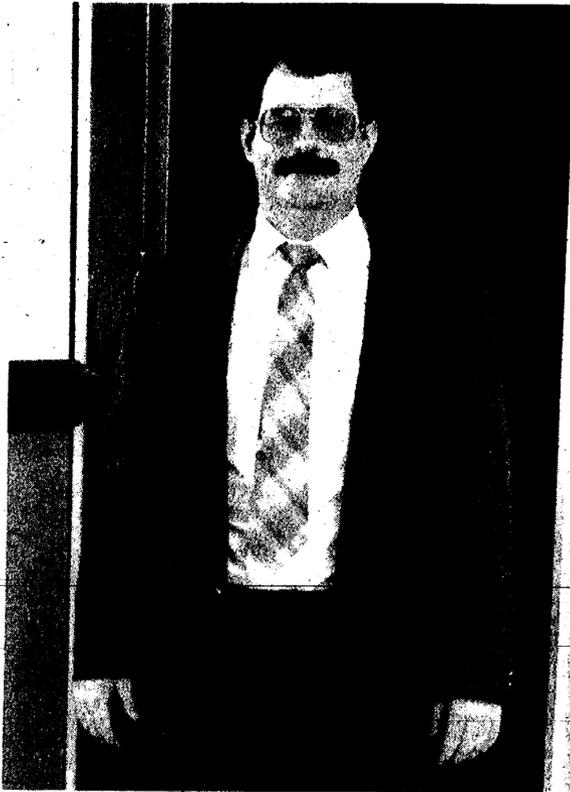

Like the housing market, Rohrer's new job is a step or three above what he's used to. He built the Carson City/Crystal Area Schools program from scratch, but it served a smaller, more depressed area, had a different emphasis than the Chelsea program.

Adult education high school completion program, the first community education program he instituted, had nearly 100 students last year, about five times as many as the Chelsea program. He also began an alternative high school program for 20 students who had problems learning in a traditional high school due to discipline, motivation, or attendance problems. Community education also included a recreation program (elementary volleyball and basketball, men's basketball, and co-ed volleyball, etc.), an enrichment program, and a pre-school program. There was a senior citizens advisory board that arranged trips, dances, and other activities. All that served three very small towns.

Here he has a senior citizens group with its own center that has all kinds of activities ranging from fundraisers to birthday parties. He has a pre-school program more than twice the size, a prison program at Cassidy Lake Alternative Incarceration Program, a huge enrichment program, a before-and-after school care program, and is responsible for scheduling all after-hours use of district facilities. And its all, with the exception of the Cassidy Lake program, all within one village.

"This is really a Cadillac-type of program," Rohrer says.

Jackie left the program in very good shape and she put together an excellent staff. The community here understands the philosophy of community education and supports it."

JEFF ROHRER is getting used to his new surroundings as the Chelsea School District's second director of community education.

Rohrer is trying to get to know the people he'll be working with on a regular basis. As of last week he still hadn't met everyone. And, he admits, he's still learning how all the various pieces of the community education puzzle fit together.

Among his projects this year are expansion of the Cassidy Lake program and finding a new home for the pre-school program as increased population at the high school may force the pre-school out next year.

He doesn't have big ideas for new programs because he doesn't have a good handle on additional needs of the community.

"Community education isn't really a specific thing," Rohrer says.

"It's a philosophy of educating people. You need to see what the needs of the community are and see what resources are available."

Rohrer first got the bug for community education as a high school student in Alma. There he helped run a tennis program and a summer camp program.

He graduated from Central Michigan University in 1980 with a major in recreation and minors in physical education and psychology. While at CMU, he helped run a recreation program in the small town of Weidman.

He went on to teach environmental education to seventh and eighth graders, and math to seventh graders, in Gaylord. He eventually took a job as assistant community education director in Swartz Creek near Flint, which he held for two years. There he became familiar with pre-school, adult education, and alternative high school programs.

Help Line, A Chelsea United Way Agency

As part of a continuing series, Chelsea United Way member agencies, and the ways they affect the Chelsea community, will be featured. One important local agency, Chelsea Help Line, a crisis intervention hotline, was begun a few years ago by concerned individuals in response to a number of local tragedies.

Here are some answers to questions you may have about the Chelsea Help Line.

Q. WHO can call for help?
A. Anyone, from young children to senior citizens.

Q. WHEN can I call?
A. Anytime—24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Q. HOW will my call be handled?
A. You may call anonymously and your call will be kept confidential.

Q. WHY should I call?
A. Sometimes when people are having problems, they feel helpless and alone. Having an opportunity to talk to a concerned objective person can provide the support and focus necessary toward solving these problems.

Q. WHAT HELP can I get?
A. You will receive assistance and support from a trained volunteer crisis counselor for working through anything that is troubling you. Typical calls involve concerns about personal and family conflicts, depression and suicide, substance abuse, sex and relationships, emergency food and shelter. These services are provided free of charge.

Q. WHERE is Chelsea Help Line located?

A. The Chelsea Help Line is a local phone number answered by the SOS Community Crisis Center, located in Ypsilanti. This organization has been providing crisis intervention services to residents of Washtenaw county for over 20 years.

In 1992 the Help Line has received over 50 calls per month.

Thanks to the generosity of the Chelsea Community to the Chelsea United Way, the Chelsea Help Line is starting its fourth year of availability to the whole community.
