School Board Officially Opposes Proposal C, Gets Bus System Report

Chelsea Board of Education went on record Monday night in opposition to the property tax measure that will appear as Proposal C in the November elections.

Proposal C, supported by the governor's office, is commonly called "cut and cap," because it would cut school property taxes by 30 percent over five years and guarantee that assessments could not rise by more than the consumer price index each year.

The proposal says the state will make up the difference in lost revenue to school districts, but does not say how.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills put together a worst-case scenario for the next five years showing how the Chelsea School District could be affected, especially if the state does not make up the lost revenue. Mills said he doesn't see how the state can afford to make up the difference.

Under Mills' scenario, Chelsea could lose about $1.34 million in 1993-94, rising to $4.47 million in 1997-98. Even if the state makes up all the money it is supposed to under the formula, Chelsea would still lose about $235,000 next year, rising to about $700,000 in 1997-98.

Mills said he has not done a similar analysis for Proposal A, another property tax proposal, because he doesn't think it has a chance to pass.

In other business, the board also received a preliminary report on the advantages and disadvantages of changing to a two-tier bus system.

Under the current system, buses make one run in the morning and one in the afternoon. A transfer takes place at Beach Middle school so that every bus doesn't have to go to all four schools.

Under a two-tier system, there would be an initial run for junior high school and high school students, and a second run for elementary students.

"I still think we need some more information," superintendent Joe Piasecki said Tuesday morning.

"First we have to decide if it makes sense economically, and if it makes sense educationally, does it make sense educationally. Certainly if we can save some dollars they can be used for other parts of our program."

A consultant's report has indicated the district can save money, but it's not clear just how much, Piasecki said.

According to the report, other advantages of changing to a two-tier system include:

- All runs for elementary-age students would be in daylight, even in winter.
- Athletes would no longer be forced to miss class time for away games.
- Parents would no longer complain about the influence of older children on their elementary-aged children.
- The bus transfer at Beach school would be eliminated.

- Fewer buses would be needed because fewer runs would be made.

Disadvantage cited in the report include:

- May be more problems with supervision of children at home if younger students cannot go home with their older siblings, especially for families in which both parents work.
- The day would be longer for the supervisor and mechanics at the bus garage.
- Fewer drivers would be needed, which means some full-time drivers might have to become substitutes or used in different ways.
- Teacher committees, such as curriculum committees, could not meet during zero hour because schools would have different zero hours.
- Buses would be driven more miles.
- Children might have to walk farther to bus stops because there may be fewer stops in order to cut down route time.

Piasecki said any change in the bus system would not be held without public hearings.

A survey will be conducted to see what kind of service other area school systems provide.

The board discussed how it will formulate "belief statements" as part of its goal of creating a 3-10 year strategic plan this year.

The board approved the annual eighth grade trip to Washington, D.C., an inauguration trip organized by Piasecki to witness the presidential inauguration, the baseball team's spring trip to Florida, and a student government retreat to Fenton.

The board accepted a donation of $1,448 from the Chelsea Knights of Columbus to be used toward special education camp.

Blood Drive Collects Total Of 94 Pints

There was an encouraging response to the Chelsea Community Blood Drive last Thursday, Sept. 17, with just over 100 people coming to donate. 94 pints were collected by the American Red Cross. This generosity is appreciated at a particularly demanding time for the Red Cross.

Thank yous are passed on to all who came to donate and congratulations to those donors who reached a personal milestone of giving. Several red dots were added to the honor list because people had completed the giving of another gallon. The commitment of these regular donors is highly valued.

St. Mary's Parish Hall was the facility used for the day. Thanks to Rick Gauthier for making the building accessible. Ellen Batzdorfer, Kathleen Chapman, Bonnie Eisenbeiser, John Eisenbeiser, Ann Friday, Marilyn Haug, Ginger Haugen, Willie Liebeck, Judy Park, Arlene Shroen, Pat Spade, Joanne Swope, Sue Teare, Debbie Torbet, and Ann Wood all volunteered their time during the day to help make this event successful.

The next Chelsea Community Blood Drive will be Thursday, Dec. 10, at Our Savior Lutheran church on M-52, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Boy Stabbed During Fight at High School

A Chelsea High school freshman was stabbed in the leg during a fight with another freshman boy after school on Thursday, Sept. 17.

According to Chelsea police reports, a large group of students gathered in the parking lot after school as rumors of the impending fight spread during the afternoon.

The knifing victim, a Waterloo Rd. resident, suffered a cut about 1½" long on the back of his leg about 8" above the knee.

Police recovered a knife with a 3" blade from the coat of one of the boys.

Police identified 15 witnesses who were willing to give their accounts of the fight. There were conflicting reports about who threw the first punch.

One witness claimed he asked one of the boys why they were going to fight. The witness said he was told one of the boys stuck the hair of a troll doll in the other boy's ear.

It was not clear as of press time what action the Chelsea Board of Education might take regarding any long-term expulsion.

County Decides Not To Buy Golf Course After Protests in Lima

Reddeman Farms Golf Course in Lima township may still be sold, but not to Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Department.

Last Wednesday the county Board of Commissioners voted 8-0 to reverse a Sept. 2 resolution in favor of selling $2.4 million in bonds to buy the two-year-old golf course on Dancer Rd.

The vote came on the heels of a resolution passed 5-0 the night before by the Lima Township Board against the purchase by the county. The resolution was drafted by former township planning commission chair David Bacon, who was firmly opposed to the sale for a number of reasons.

Even before the township vote, township officials protested loudly to the county.

The parks department could still purchase the golf course, but director Fred Barkley, a village resident in Lima township, said Tuesday, "it's a dead issue. The parks commission has not told me officially to stop pursuing the project, but I have. We're not going to do something the board has asked us not to do."

Lima Township Supervisor Bill Van Riper was upset about the proposed transaction for several reasons. He said he does not want to lose the tax base, both for the township and the Chelsea School District.

"I can see that once it's fully assessed $70,000 would be generated for the school system alone," Van Riper said.

The golf course is assessed at about $900,000 (SEV about $450,000), which translates to about $450 for the township and $18,000 for the school district. The next assessment will be substantially higher because the clubhouse has been added.

Van Riper said he was equally perplexed that he was not even informed of the plans until the Sept. 2, 7-2 vote by the board of commissioners.

"The county spent a lot of money looking into something we don't want," Van Riper said.

Mike DuRussel, who represents Lima township on the board of commissioners, and Marty Straub, who will represent the township this fall once the districts are re-drawn, were both persuaded to change their votes.

"They came over and we sat around and talked about it one afternoon," Van Riper said.

"They were terrific and did an awful lot of work on our behalf."

Van Riper also said he wants to approach the township planning commission about amending the special use permit that applies to the golf course, due to the nature of the clubhouse. The restrictions will not let the clubhouse stay open during the winter, non-golf months. They also do not allow the clubhouse to be used for non-golf functions such as wedding receptions. The restaurant is also limited to the sale of beer and wine and cannot serve liquor.

"The way that place has built up, golf is almost an auxiliary use of the NORTH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL Bill Wescott celebrated his 40th birthday last Thursday with a gift of hundreds of Twinkies from his students. When Bill began his job as principal, legend has it he had to discipline a child on the first day of school. When the child began to cry, Wescott felt so bad he gave the child a Twinkie when he left the office. Word quickly spread that "when you go to the office, you get a Twinkie." Since then, Twinkies have held a special place in the heart of North school.

Patricia Stirling To Be Ordained at St. Paul UCC

Patricia Ann Stirling will be ordained into the Christian ministry on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 27, 4 p.m., at St. Paul United Church of Christ, 14800 Old US-12, Chelsea.

She was approved for ordained ministry at the Covenant Association Ecclesiastical Council on Aug. 27, at First Congregational UCC of Chelsea.

Speaker for the service will be the Rev. Dr. Warner Siebert of Owosso, former pastor of St. Paul UCC, Chelsea (1968-1974).

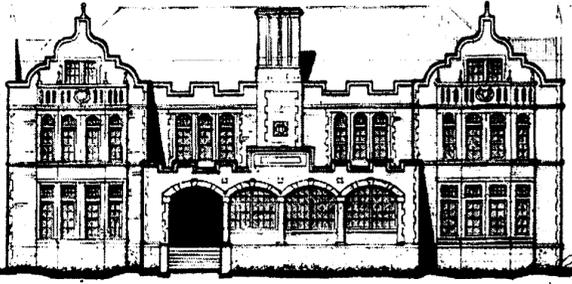

Both lay readers and pastors will participate in the service, with several former choir members joining present Chancel Choir members and instrumentalists providing special music.

Following the service, the congregation will enjoy a light supper in Fellowship Hall, served by the

Builders Claim New Stormwater Control Requirements Will Be Burdensome
 Homebuilders are already expressing concerns at state efforts to begin operating a massive new federal program regulating stormwater runoff, saying they fear the proposed changes will add costs and bring construction to a "screeching halt." The state faces an Oct. 1 deadline to develop its plan, but the changes most likely would not go into effect until the middle of that month.

The controversy covers both the Department of Natural Resources' proposed rules to implement the U.S. Clean Water Act and a proposed fee package on those who discharge stormwater in order to pay for the staff needed to oversee the program. But environmentalists, saying the changes will reduce the most prevalent form of surface water contamination, support the regulations, which include having water runoff experts on site during construction to ensure compliance with the federal requirements. Underground contractors and roadbuilders are also supporting the state rules.

The proposed rules break new ground with widespread use of a "permit by rule" process as well as use of a general permit for similar categories of discharges in order to handle the 10,000 industrial sites required to obtain permits every five years and some 1,600 construction sites that will need annual permits.

The Michigan Association of Homebuilders, like most other business groups, praised the more flexible permit approach but remained troubled with provisions for the on-site expert, state inspection authority, the potential of covering non-contiguous areas if they are considered a project equal to at least five acres, and imposing liability for compliance on the land owner.

"If the indications are that on Oct. 1, all permits will have to be individual with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, that's going to bring everything to a screeching halt," director Lynn Egbert said. "This is a monstrous program in scope. We can work out the differences, but it will take a co-partnership."

David Dempsey of Clean Water Action called the rules a "good compromise that most responsible people can support."

At least 50 percent of water pollution comes from runoff, rather than factories or sewer discharges, he said, and there are currently no rules on runoff. "It is something we have to have if we're going to make any progress in controlling pollution," he said.

George Graff of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce said some of his group's concerns about the rules have been met but more changes are needed.

"If there is any major concern, it's in the education and notification of members of the details required to implement the rules," Graff said. He also said companies have not had answers yet to concerns about how much compliance will cost.

"What we need to see continued is to move forward to see how we can have compliance with a minimum of large expense," Graff said.

Recognizing the problems voiced by industry, Gary Doersen, chief of the DNR's Commercial Permits Unit, said, "Industry is concerned and they have a right to be concerned. We are interested in protecting the environment. They are concerned that things are done in the most cost effective way."

Robert Patzer, executive director of the Associated Underground Contractors, said he believes complaints about the rules are relatively minor and should be quickly resolved in order to implement the permit by rule process, which he called absolutely necessary. "I know there are a lot of things ranking associations but I do not want to throw the baby out with the bathwater," he said.

Without a permit by rule, he said contractors would have to obtain separate stormwater permits which would hold up projects by 90 days. Sen. Fred Dillingham (R-Fowlerville), chair of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules, said he has his own concerns about the rules and the possible additional bureaucracy that will be created. "My first question is why are we even doing this, but I also understand the feds have already made that decision," he said. "I don't like what the feds created, but we've got to make it work."

The rules could be taken up at the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules meeting on Sept. 18. Although that creates no governmental administrative problems, it does open the possibility of a lawsuit against developers for not following federal requirements until the rules are effective.

State officials and critics complain the federal law imposes significant new requirements with no resources to help implement the program. And Egbert said the regulations will add costs to projects, including $330 for application fees and $230 for permits by rule.

Sen. Vern Ehlers (R-Grand Rapids), who is expected to sponsor the stormwater fee package, said he is still trying to work out an agreement with various groups but expects the final package will have lower fees than requested by the DNR. He said the department has not yet made an adequate case for adding all of its requested 47 persons to the staff at an annual cost of $2.6 million, and current discussions on the fee package would raise about $1.9 million.

Dempsey said the issue of funding still must be addressed. "Without fees, there is no program. That's an urgent priority," he said.

The department says even with the new permit procedures, the additional staff will be required to implement the program, in large measure to ensure proper monitoring. It now has 59 staff members to process 300 permits a year under the Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Act.

The responsibility for compliance is a major concern for homebuilders who contend it is more logical to have the contractor or other party more familiar with the project ensure water runoff requirements are followed.

But Doersen said the department continues to favor making the landowner responsible for the permit because developers "come and go very quickly."

A projected $139,000 deficit in the landfill fund has forced the village to raise most landfill fees by 50 percent beginning this Thursday, Sept. 22. Council voted to raise the rate at their regular meeting last Tuesday, Sept. 20. In addition, they agreed to review the rates again in three months to see if another raise is needed.

Saturday, Oct. 1, marks the date for Chelsea's fourth annual Country Craft & Folk Art Show. The show, which will be held at Chelsea High school, will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The gymnasium and the cafeteria of the high school will be full with talented artists and craftsmen selling their wares.

LaVonne Harris, local piano and organ instructor, has once again achieved special professional recognition by the Michigan Music Teachers' Association as a teacher of piano. Harris was recommended for this advanced professional standing on the basis of continued outstanding achievement and high professional standards in the field of music pedagogy.

The village intends to act quickly to find a replacement for assistant village manager Lee Fahrner, who resigned recently to accept a job in the private sector. Village president Jerry Satterthwaite said advertisements will soon be placed in local newspapers as well as the Michigan Municipal League publication.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

All the fellows that make up the research and development staff at the country store are long past their three score and 10, so when they discuss serious work it's all from memory that ain't what it use to be. Even in their prime they wouldn't of qualified as experts on the subject. None of em ever have been afraid of work, because they always could lay down beside it and go to sleep.

In fact, Bug Hookum admits that he was about work like his church was about preachers. Bug wanted a job with all the work cut out, and members of his church hired the laziest preacher they could find because what they wanted was no preacher at all.

For the past 25 years, Bug ain't hit a lick at a snake. But Saturday night he told the fellows he had done some reading on the subject and he would like to pass along some highlights. For instant, one magazine piece said work is an attitude. One fellow on a construction job says he's beating up rocks, and the fellow beside him doing the same work says he's helping build a bridge.

Practical speaking, Bug said, folks enjoy anything they don't have to do. A man will stand in hip-deep ice water half the day to catch a fish or shoot a duck, but he'd call in ever OSHA inspector in four states if that was his job.

Zeke Grubb said Bug was off base about how folks feel about work. The trick, Zeke said, is how folks feel about themselves. Zeke recalled the salesman that stopped at a cafe in town for lunch and struck up a conversation with a waitress who was working to help pay for college. The salesman ask why a educated and pretty girl like her was waiting tables. She smiled at the salesman and said "Why do you ask? Don't you think you deserve to be served by me?"

Actual, Zeke went on, our society runs on how we feel about ourselves, and how much we're willing to pay to feel good. Every spring, when schools and colleges let out, we get a run on "Who's Who" books put out by what the papers call the vanity press. These are aimed at the parents and grandparents of the students.

The books keep building as far as computer mailing lists can see. Zeke Grubb said his preacher gets selected all the time to appear in one collection of distinguished people or another. The preacher said the only difference in appearing in "Who's Who Among America's Clergy" and getting an honorary degree is about $500,000. For $27.50 your children get a book with your name in it. For the price of a library wing you get "Dr." in front of your name on paper suitable for framing, the preacher said.

Ed Doolittle was agreed that how we want to feel about ourselves drives business. This country runs on vanity that means making a show with other folks, Ed said, and it sells everthing. If ads for products work and they do or there wouldn't be any, we got to believe some people buy on the base of what they think other people will think of them. They choose clothes, cars, life insurance and credit cards to go in debt because important people are paid good money to say they should.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Senior Supper Club Set for Oct. 13 At Chelsea Hospital

Senior Health Connection of Chelsea Community Hospital has announced the Senior Supper Club for Tuesday, Oct. 13. Cards begin the afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in the hospital's main dining room and 4 p.m. Jim Peggs, M.D., presents "Sleep Disorders in Older Adults," with supper following at 5 p.m.

Calendars with large numerals are also offered to individuals with impaired sight. To order your calendar and to register for the October Senior Supper Club, call the Education Department, 475-3935. There is no Supper Club during November or December.

Chelsea Community Hospital is offering "I Can Cope!," a program for cancer patients and their families to learn new coping skills. Educational sessions deal with all aspects of cancer, including daily health problems, learning to express your feelings about cancer, living with limits, and using available community resources. This free, eight-week program starts Thursday, Oct. 1, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. To register, call the Social Work Department at 475-3952.

Chelsea Community Hospital is now forming "Children of Divorce" and "Parenting through Divorce" groups for children and parents from separated, divorced, and remarried households. The groups begin Monday, Oct. 5, and meet from 6:30 to 8 p.m. These groups will provide education and support to help normalize the feelings of children and parents who are experiencing family transitions. Children may attend without parents and vice versa. For more information and to register call the Outpatient Mental Health Services, 475-4030. Most major insurances are accepted.

"Healthy Eating Class," a three-week course providing tips and recipe suggestions on how to reduce fat and increase fiber in our meals while keeping them delicious meets Wednesday, Oct. 2, 9 and 16, at 10 a.m. in Chelsea Community Hospital's Woodland Room B. For more information and to register call the Education Department, 475-3935.

Chelsea Community Hospital will present a free substance abuse lecture in the hospital's main dining room on Thursday evening, Sept. 24 at 7:15 p.m., immediately followed by self-help meetings. Betty Bigger, BA, will continue her lecture with "Alcoholics Anonymous—Part II." This lecture emphasizes the infancy and adolescence of the growing AA program including how the 12 traditions were formed and written. For more information call the Chelsea Arbor Treatment Center, 475-4100.

Mark and Caroline Saunders

450 Witness Caroline Lane Wed Mark Saunders in Chelsea

Caroline Esther Lane of Toledo and Mark Daniel Saunders of Traverse City were married Saturday, July 11 at St. Paul United Church of Christ in Chelsea.

The Rev. Erwin R. Koch performed the ceremony uniting the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lane of Chelsea with the son of Susan Saunders and Dr. Daniel Saunders of Temperance.

Jennifer Johnson, cousin of the bridegroom, was the vocalist. She sang "Perhaps Love," "On Wings of Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's wedding gown was originally her mother's. It was restyled into a sheath with large puff sleeves of pure imported silk. The original bodice of delicate lace was overlaid with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The bride also wore her mother's fingertip veil and orange blossom tiara. She carried a bouquet of tulips, roses, freesias, and lilies.

Maid of honor was Karol Kampe of Toledo, friend of the bride. She wore an ivory two-piece tea-length suit with puff sleeves and bow accent. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies accented with freesias and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Cynthia (Bareis) Studrawa of Cincinnati and Susan Pawlowski of Port Huron, both friends of the bride, Mary Lynn Noah of Lansing, cousin of the bride, and Mindy and Beth Saunders of Columbus, O., sisters of the bridegroom. Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's and they carried bouquets of calla lilies and ivy.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece silk suit made of the same material as her daughter's dress. The suit was also accented with Alencon lace from the original wedding gown.

The bridegroom's mother wore a white, two-piece dress accented with pearls.

Flowergirl was Erica Sanko of Toledo, friend of the bride. Ringbearer was Ross Lingenfelder of Rossford, O., cousin of the bridegroom.

Best man was Eric Saunders of Columbus, brother of the bridegroom.

Groomsmen were Scott Saunders of Toledo, cousin of the bridegroom, Dr. Ellis List of Raleigh, N.C., friend of the bridegroom, W. Chandler Lane of Chelsea, David Lane of Monterey, Mex., and Jonathan Lane of St. Kitts, West Indies, brothers of the bride.

A reception for 450 guests was held at the childhood home of the bride in Chelsea.

Eric Saferin of Toledo, friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Hosts and hostesses for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Noah, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Bowers, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Tremper, and Judy Haudan.

The newlyweds took a two-week trip to the Caribbean.

The couple is living in Traverse City. The bride is a second grade teacher in Elk Rapids. The bridegroom is a dermatologist in Traverse City.

Texas is a big state, so its not surprising that it has the most farms in the nation: about 186,000. Michigan had around 54,000 farms.

Courses, Lectures Starting Soon at Chelsea Hospital

"As Parents Grow Older" is the subject of a six-session course to be offered at Chelsea Community Hospital. The informational course is designed to help adult children deal with concerns of aging parents or other relatives. The course will be held Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. beginning Oct. 1 and running through Nov. 5. Advance registration is required and class size is limited. Persons wishing to register or get further information should call the Social Work Department at Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-3952.

Chelsea Community Hospital is offering CPR for Infant/Child Victims on Tuesdays, Sept. 29 and Oct. 6, 7 to 9 p.m. in the Hospital's Woodland Room B. Students are taught artificial respiration, one rescuer CPR and first aid for obstructed airway (choking) for infant/child victim. Participants successfully completing the class will receive certification by American Heart Association. For more information and to register call the Education Department, 475-3935.

"History of Alcoholics Anonymous—Part I" is the topic for the Thursday evening substance abuse lecture held in the main dining room of Chelsea Community Hospital, Sept. 17. This 7:15 to 8:15 lecture is immediately followed by a self-help meeting and is free and open to the public. Betty Bigger, BA, will lecture on the history of Alcoholics Anonymous and will continue the next week with emphasis on the growing program and how the 12 traditions were formed and written. For more information call the Chelsea Arbor Treatment Center, 475-4100.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

The annual inspection meeting of the local VFW Ladies Auxiliary was held Saturday, Sept. 12, with the Sixth District president, Charlotte Kirby, present as the inspecting officer, accompanied by Marion Ogden of Auxiliary No. 6464.

A report of the patients party held at Whitmore Lake Convalescent Home on Aug. 16 was given by Lois Speer, a report of illness of several Auxiliary Post members was also given.

The Ladies Auxiliary is once again selling cancer pins, two choices to pick from, the proceeds go to cancer aid and research.

The Auxiliary at this meeting allowed department quotas in the amount of $144.30, the cancer quota of $158, and $19.50 to the National Home at Eaton Rapids. The Sixth District was holding a meeting in Adrian on Sunday, Sept. 13, with schools of instruction. Members were urged to attend. It was voted to send our only Gold Star Mother flowers on Sept. 27, which is designated for that date. Lynette Bowen will be the participant.

The Auxiliary decided to change meeting times from second Saturday morning to the second Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. This date will be effective in October.

Lena Benke was appointed to take charge of future patriotic events, such as parades, etc.

The Post and Auxiliary held a joint pot-luck supper in the evening of Sept. 12. The next Auxiliary meeting is set for Oct. 14, at 7:30 p.m.

CHS Students Attend All-State Arts Camp

This past July, four Chelsea High school students attended the Interlochen Academy for Arts for the All-State summer programs.

Brian Dufek, son of Frank and Linda Dufek, and Mark Kemner, son of Ray and Patsy Kemner, attend the All-State Orchestra program. Corrie Schoenberg, daughter of Doug and Beckie Schoenberg, and Rebecca Pryor, daughter of Thomas and Sherrill Pryor, attend the All-State Musical Theatre Workshop.

At the end of the two-week session the students performed in the 50th Anniversary Celebration Concert. The orchestra performed "The Planets" by Gustav Holst and Symphony No. 4 in F minor, Op. 38: Finale by Tchaikovsky. The orchestra was conducted by Larry J. Livingston a U. of M. alumnus who is presently dean of the School of Music at the University of Southern California.

restaurant rather the other way around," Van Ripper said.

"The place is too nice to close down during the winter. I worry that they won't be able to do enough business if they have to close down. Then what do we have?"

Van Ripper said most of the initial opposition to the golf course by residents in the area has apparently subsided. He said he has had no complaints since the clubhouse opened and Dancer Rd. has been kept in very good condition.

Meanwhile, Barkley said the parks department will continue to look at land in western Washtenaw to develop into a golf course. He said about 180 acres would be needed.

"A golf course is still a very important piece of the over-all park system," Barkley said.

"The important part is, if we have to build a course, we might not get any return on our investment for three or four years, whereas with an existing golf course we get an immediate return."

Home Weatherizing Workshop Slated

This is the time of year when we need to think about how to winterize our homes. Many ask, "Where do we start?" Well, this workshop is for you.

Skip McKee, a home maintenance specialist of Washtenaw County Community Service Agency will be the resource person for this program. Information will be shared on weather-proofing, caulking, weatherstripping, types of insulation and their values and hands-on opportunity to try a few tips.

This class will be held Thursday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the Co-operative Extension Service, 4133 Washtenaw, Ave., Ann Arbor.

The program is free and pre-registration is required by calling 971-0079.

Home Meal Service Started 20 Years Ago

Editor's Note: As a continuation of the series on Chelsea United Way member agencies, Home Meal Service of Chelsea and its impact on the Chelsea community is featured.

For nearly five years, Mary Erskine has acted as co-ordinator for Home Meal Service of Chelsea. This service, which arranges daily meals delivery to those who are home bound or qualify as senior citizens, was organized 20 years ago by Church Women United and the Chelsea Jaycettes. At that time a need was perceived in the community to provide a daily, well-balanced meal to assist those who found it difficult, because of age or circumstances, to do this for themselves.

Having the daily meal and visit has proved a good investment by local volunteer resources, as is demonstrated by the number of older folks who have been able to remain in their homes and independent much longer.

Mary, who is the scheduler and often the driver of the C.A.T.S. bus, has done an outstanding job of keeping things going and of recruiting additional drivers to accommodate the current demand for this daily service. From 1973 to 1983 there were always two separate routes. Then, for some reason, the numbers of those needing the meals dropped way down. This summer the numbers have fallen considerably, but since the drivers still deliver the meals prepared at the Senior Center, two drivers make the task more manageable.

Home Meal Service relies on United Way for operating funds and monies to subsidize the cost of meals, if someone is unable to pay the current ($2.00 to be higher) $2.65 cost. The service has received United Way funds since its inception and has been able to avoid the bureaucracy that becoming a part of the federally funded meal program would entail. There are no barriers to enrolling in this service; only that if one can afford to pay for the meals, she should, but if that is not possible, United Way provides help.

Chelsea Retirement Community kitchen has always prepared and packaged the meals for delivery. The food service management is more than willing to provide for special diets as well as likes and dislikes. This informal arrangement has worked well through many construction challenges at the Home, changes in administration, kitchen help and Home Meal leadership.

Persons who would like to inquire about the possibility of volunteering as a driver may call Mary Erskine at 475-9494, 475-2821, or Ann Feeney at 475-1145, 475-1493.

Do you know how safe your drinking water is?

The quality of drinking water for some Washtenaw County residents is no longer a sure thing. I am campaigning to clean up our water supply, one of the most critical environmental problems affecting our communities today. Clean-up of toxic substances, prevention of toxic waste facilities, control of soil erosion, and maintenance of county drains are other related concerns that must be resolved.

I would like to thank the thousands of voters -- Republicans and Democrats alike -- who supported me in the August primary as the Republican nominee for Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner.

As your Drain Commissioner, I will dedicate myself to managing the office in an efficient and responsible manner. I want to promptly improve levels of service to increase your satisfaction with work completed.

Your opportunity to make a difference is here. It will take your continued assistance throughout the fall campaign -- and your vote on November 3 -- to elect a Drain Commissioner with the experience, qualifications and integrity for the job.

Egg Myth Information

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist
Can you separate facts from the myths?

1. Hard-cooked eggs aren't perishable.

2. MYTH. After hard-cooking, eggs must be handled like any other perishable food. To prevent food-borne illness, keep them refrigerated. Hard-cooked eggs in their shells will stay safe and wholesome for a week in the refrigerator. Store peeled eggs for no more than two or three days in the refrigerator.

3. Eggs stored for more than a few weeks in the refrigerator should be discarded.

4. MYTH. Though egg whites thin during storage, eggs are still safe to eat for several weeks. For best results, keep eggs no longer than four to five weeks.

5. Soft-cooked and over-easy eggs are good choices for older adults.

6. MYTH. Like all foods of animal origin, eggs may pick up bacteria that live in the intestinal tract. These bacteria can cause illness but are destroyed when eggs are thoroughly cooked (160 degrees F). Older adults and people who are more susceptible to food-borne illness—pregnant women and young children—should avoid eating under-cooked eggs.

7. Recycled egg cartons should not be used for young children's craft projects.

8. MYTH. Though the carton may be contaminated with harmful bacteria from the egg or eggshell, cartons made from styrofoam (rather than compressed paper) can be made safe to use by thorough washing with hot soapy water, rinsing with clean water and dipping the carton in a sanitizing solution (2 T. bleach per gallon of water). Do not rinse. Let the carton dry.

9. Eggs can be included in a lower-cholesterol diet.

10. FACT. You can still eat eggs in moderation when you're watching your cholesterol. New analytical methods have revealed that one large egg has about 213 milligrams of cholesterol (about 20 percent less than previously reported). For a good, no-cholesterol source of protein, eat the egg white only. Caution: if you are on a low-cholesterol or fat-restricted diet, consult with your doctor or a registered dietitian before making any dietary changes.

11. Fertilized eggs have less cholesterol than unfertilized eggs.

12. MYTH. The size of the yolk determines how much cholesterol is in an egg, not whether the egg has been fertilized.

13. Eggs with colored shells are lower in cholesterol than white-shelled eggs.

14. MYTH. Brown or blue eggs have at least as much cholesterol as white-shelled eggs. Again, the size of the yolk is the key to cholesterol content.

15. Fresh eggs have less cholesterol than older eggs.

16. MYTH. The cholesterol content of eggs doesn't change during storage.

Volunteer Business Executives Offer Free Counseling

Wayne B. Middleton has been accepted as a volunteer business counselor with the Livingston-Washtenaw-Lenawee area Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE).

SCORE, sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration, offers free and confidential counseling to start up or existing small business at offices at the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce, Ypsilanti C. of C., Brighton C. of C., and Lenawee area C. of C. at Adrian.

Middleton was associated with Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for 39 years, retiring in 1963 as District Manager Administration and Personnel, Network Engineering Dept. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan College of Engineering and is a registered professional engineer. Currently, Middleton is president of the Ann Arbor club of the Telephone Pioneers of America and a member of the Board of Governors of the Ann Arbor University of Michigan Alumni Club.

President Bush Urged To Index Capital Gains

Farm Bureau has called upon President Bush to authorize indexing of capital gains and depreciation schedules to reflect inflation as part of his new tax reduction proposal.

"An economic policy move of this type would receive a highly positive response from both farmers, specifically, and financial markets, in general," according to Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. "It would signal the President's determination to do what is right for the American People by getting the economy back on a strong growth path."

Farm Bureau has long urged a maximum capital gains tax rate of 15 percent and indexing of capital gains for inflation. If the capital gains tax were indexed to inflation, a taxpayer would be taxed only on the portion of the gain above inflation.

"In the case of agriculture, we have many young farmers who want to buy farms from retiring parents who cannot afford to sell to them because of the huge capital gains tax penalty, much of which is traced to inflated gains," said Almy. "In international trade, none of our competitors treat capital formation as badly as we do. Indexing capital gains and depreciation schedules would tell our trading partners that the United States intends to give leadership to correcting these inequities by leveling the playing field." Almy said.

Rebecca Salyer, now 88, traveled from Swapton, Ky., (east of Salyersville) to Michigan in 1937, with her seven children following her husband's death. She joined her parents Buel and Louise Fletcher in Munith (where they had resided since 1928). Mrs. Salyer also resided in Dexter while employed by Vokar (a maker of springs) located on Huron River Dr., during the middle 1940s.

Beach Middle School Plans Open House Thursday Evening

Beach Middle school will hold its annual Open House this Thursday, Sept. 24 at 7 p.m.

Beach middle school parents, grandparents, and adult friends are welcome to attend.

Visitors will follow a capsule version of Beach students' academic programs and answer general questions, but will not hold individual parent-teacher conferences. Individual conferences will be held Nov. 12.

After classroom visits there will be a social gathering in the middle school cafeteria. School service groups and building activity representatives will be present to explain their respective programs—music boosters, athletic boosters, aquatic club, sixth grade camp, and "As Parents We Will" parent group, among others.

Those who attend are urged to arrive at 6:45 p.m. to make a nametag, pick up a copy of their child's class schedule, and find a seat in the cafeteria, where the program will begin.

Space restrictions in the classroom require that Beach students and their siblings not attend the event.

Parking is available in the school parking lots and around the circle drive.

Rep. Margaret O'Connor Helps Village Get Appeal Hearing

State Rep. Margaret O'Connor has intervened on behalf of the village in its attempt to appeal to the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assistance board.

Village president Jack Myers said a recent story in The Chelsea Standard about the clean-up of contamination at the former electric and water building on North St. caught O'Connor's attention.

The village would be faced with a $300,000 clean-up of the site, where gasoline leaked into the ground from underground storage tanks. Due to administrative problems nearly two years ago, the village was initially denied help by the MUSTFA board. Since Myers was hired last year the village has proceeded under guidelines established by the Department of Natural Resources. However, it has never been clear whether an appeal would be heard.

O'Connor has told the village it is almost assured of a hearing.

"Few things are harder to put up with than the annoyance of a good example . . ."

—Mark Twain

We all like to set our own standards, to be satisfied with what we do. But perhaps Mark Twain had a slightly different viewpoint.

Maybe in setting those standards we end up doing just the minimum possible . . . the very least to get by? But when someone else has set a good example to follow, how can we not strive to equal or exceed it? As an example as it may be, we will usually try to do as well or better. Now achieved, haven't we also set a good example . . . possibly to someone else's annoyance?

We realize that each service we conduct is unique in the life of a family. We make every effort to conduct the ceremony as a source of beautiful memories.

Sheriff's Deputies Investigate Charge of Fraud in Land Deal

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated a number of incidents from Sept. 2-17.

On Sept. 2, a case of fraud was investigated in the 4000 block of W. Liberty Rd., Scio township. A 78-year-old man claimed he had a legal agreement with an Ann Arbor man regarding two lots for sale in the Saginaw Hills subdivision. The 78-year-old victim said he gave the Ann Arbor man $10,000 to start a sales agreement for the lots. It was later discovered by the victim that the man didn't own either lot. The Ann Arbor man had filed bankruptcy along with Saginaw Hills and Liberty title owned one lot and a resident owned the other. The Ann Arbor man said he would not return the victim's money because their was no refund agreement. The case is open pending review by the prosecutor.

On Sept. 10, a 31-year-old Ann Arbor resident was involved in a personal injury accident with a Dexter resident. Upon arrival, deputies discovered the Ann Arbor man had been operating his vehicle under the influence of liquor. He had crossed the middle lane and struck the Dexter resident head-on. The Dexter resident's vehicle caught on fire but he was able to escape while the Ann Arbor man lay next to his vehicle with injuries. The Ann Arbor man was taken to the University of Michigan hospital and a blood test to determine alcohol blood level was taken via a warrant because the man refused to give his permission.

On Sept. 11, a warrant arrest of Harold E. Armbruster, 24, was made on Baker Rd. near Jackson Ave., Scio township. Armbruster was arrested after a traffic stop showed an outstanding warrant for his arrest regarding an expired license plate misdemeanor. He was released on his personal recognizance.

Also, a larceny occurred in the 8400 block of Marshall Rd., Scio township. An air compressor valued at $400 and a gas welding set valued at $650 were taken from an open pole barn.

On Sept. 12, a 15-year-old youth admitted to being involved in a previous larceny from a motor vehicle in Scio Farms Estates on Aug. 28. He talked with deputies during a traffic stop of a vehicle he was in. The youth said he may have committed 30 larcenies in the area, either throwing away or giving away the property he took.

Also, a malicious destruction of property occurred at the Speedway truckstop on Baker Rd. A urinal was damaged, costing $125 to repair.

Fireworks were also confiscated on Sept. 12. During a traffic stop on Huron River Dr. in Dexter, deputies discovered a box of fireworks while conducting a consent search. The vehicle was impounded because of improper plates.

A malicious destruction of property was also reported in the 20000 block of Waterloo Rd., Chelsea. Approximately $1,000 in damages occurred to the new house under construction.

On Sept. 14, two 15-year-olds admitted to the larceny of vehicles in the Scio Farms Estates. Deputies read the youths their miranda rights after consulting with their parents. Both stated they were happy because they got a radar detector from a 1985 Audi on Aug. 20. They also admitted to taking a multi-purpose knife and a tire pressure gauge. One of the youths produced the knife which had the owner's name engraved on it. In addition one admitted to another crime involving a stolen tool box from a 1986 Ford pickup. Both said they went out at night with the intent to break into cars. They said one was a look-out, while the other did the thefts, and vice versa. The youths said most of the radar detectors stolen had been sold and when they found them in the open cars they were happy because it meant money. The case is open pending review by the prosecutor.

Also, an air compressor and attachments were taken from the 8900 block of Trinkle Rd., Dexter. The items were valued at $875.

On Sept. 15, a larceny from an unoccupied dwelling was reported in the 17000 block of Waterloo Rd., Chelsea. The victim, a 74-year-old Chelsea resident said the incident could have happened Sept. 10. Jewelry and silver coins were taken, valued at $500. There were no signs of forced entry, deputies reported.

On Sept. 16, a fatal crash occurred near I-94 and Fletcher Rd. Teddy N. Paquin of Jackson died after suffering multiple trauma. Alcohol was involved in the rear-end accident which caused the Paquin vehicle to roll-over, ejecting him from it. Paquin's fatal crash is the 16th in Washtenaw county, for this year to date.

Also, a Detroit resident was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor on I-94 in Scio township. A deputy noticed the Detroit man's vehicle stuck in the mud, down in the median. The man didn't notice the deputy, who pulled up next to him, until the deputy got out of his car and hit the man's car roof. The deputy smelled intoxicants and the man's eyes were bloodshot. After several failed sobriety tests the man was transported to jail.

On Sept. 17, an attempted breaking and entering was reported in the 100 block of Cavanaugh Lake Rd., at a local store. Someone tried to break the glass of the front door, causing $300 in damages.

Instructional Skating Program Starts Soon

Session I of the Ann Arbor Department of Parks and Recreation Instructional Skate program will begin Sept. 28. Pre-schoolers, youths, and adults can take advantage of the four-week program which is held at the Veteran's Indoor Ice Arena. Classes are grouped by age and ability. Fees and times vary.

Purple Rose Theatre Presenting 'Possessed'

The Purple Rose Theatre Company will present the Midwest debut of Possessed - The Dracula Musical as the first production of the 1992-93 season. The original musical, with book by Robert Marasco and Jason Darrow, lyrics by Jason Darrow and music by Carter Cathcart, will run for eight weeks from Sept. 30 through Nov. 22.

Previews of Possessed - The Dracula Musical will be held Sept. 30 through Oct. 8, with the official opening night on Friday, Oct. 9. Performances will be held Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m. with Sunday shows at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. All performances are at the Purple Rose Theatre Company's Garage Theatre, 132 Park St., Chelsea.

Set in England around the turn of the century, Possessed - The Dracula Musical tells the tale of Count Dracula's quest for an eternal life filled with power and passion. Dracula's mysterious travels lead him to the estate of Seward Sanitarium, where he is captivated by the beauty of young Mina Seward. With the assistance of Renfield, an inmate of the Sanitarium, Dracula sets out to make Mina his eternal partner in the darkness of the night.

The cast of Possessed - The Dracula Musical includes Danile Guzman as Dracula, Miriam Shor as Mina Seward and Wayne David Parker as Renfield. Additional performances include Charles Sutherland as Dr. Seward, Joe Diederich as Professor Van Helsing, and Tom Daugherty as Jonathan, fiance of Mina Seward. Completing the cast are Annette DePetris and Chuck O'Connor as Dottie and Bloomsbury, servants of the Seward Sanitarium, and Lori Pelham as Lucy, a close friend of Mina and the first victim of Dracula's power.

Possessed - The Dracula Musical will be directed by Jim Posante, a guest director for the Purple Rose Theatre Company who has also been a guest artist at the University of Michigan, Oakland University, Performance Network and Ann Arbor Civic Theatre. Musical direction is by Steve DeDoe and James Christian Hissen. Lighting Design is by Dana White and costume design is by Edith Heavis Bookstein. The production concept and set design for Possessed - The Dracula Musical is by T. Newell King, artistic director of the Purple Rose Theatre Company.

According to Kring, "We were attracted to Possessed because this musical combined the classic tale of Dracula with underlying themes of seduction and power. The book, lyrics, and unique musical score display the seductive quality of the powers of darkness and the eternal fight not to succumb to these forces. The challenge of producing Possessed, the first musical by the Purple Rose Theatre Company, also fulfills the theatre company's goals of bringing original works to the state of Michigan."

Tickets of Possessed - The Dracula Musical vary in price from $10 to $25. Seven low-priced $10 previews will be held Wednesday, Sept. 30 through Thursday, Oct. 8. Tickets for the official opening night on Friday, Oct. 9 are $25. Ticket prices after opening night will be $18 for Friday and Saturday performances and $14 for Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday performances.

Reservations may be obtained by calling the Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office at (313)475-7902. Reservations are recommended due to the limited capacity. The Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office is open Monday through Friday from 12 noon to 6 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays of performances beginning one hour prior to curtain.

Immigrants will represent the largest share of increase in the population and the workforce since the first World War by the year 2000, according to "Workforce 2000," a U.S. Labor Department publication. Even with the new immigration law, approximately 600,000 legal and illegal immigrants are projected to enter the U.S. annually throughout the balance of the century.

COUNTY LAW ENFORCEMENT and corrections personnel took part in the Little Caesar's Michigan Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics. The relay run began at Rank Rd. at the western county line and ended at Little Caesar's restaurant near the University of Michigan's North Campus. State-wide goal was to raise $25,000 for special Olympics. At left is Chelsea resident Gary Kistka of the Ann Arbor Police Department.

Hepatitis B Vaccine Now Recommended for Babies

By Linda Warren, R.N.
U. of M. Family Practice Center
Hepatitis B vaccine is now recommended for all newborn infants in the United States.

The vaccine has been available for adults, and now is recommended for infants by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta, the American Academy of Pediatrics and the American Academy of Family Physicians because of recent increases in the number of reported cases.

At least 20 other countries now recommend this vaccine for all infants in hopes that the goal of universal immunization can be realized.

Hepatitis B virus affects the liver and symptoms include nausea, loss of appetite, fatigue, and weakness. Some people may develop chronic hepatitis or liver cancer, and some may die of the acute illness. The virus is transmitted by the blood or blood-contaminated fluids of an infected person through breaks in the skin or through the mucous membranes of a non-immune person. It is for this reason that the CDC proposes the universal immunization of all infants throughout the country. Immunization is the key to prevention.

The vaccine is generally well tolerated with no serious reactions seen in a study group. Occasionally soreness or redness at the injection site may occur. Adults receive the vaccine in the upper arm while infants and toddlers receive it in the thigh.

Most area hospitals give the vaccine while the baby is still in the newborn nursery. The second vaccine is given one to two months after the first dose and the final dose is given six to 18 months after the first dose. This schedule coincides with regularly scheduled physician visits and other routine vaccinations. As newer vaccines develop, these recommendations may be revised.

These immunizations should also be given to all high-risk infants, toddlers, and pre-adolescents such as those with hemophilia, household contacts of hepatitis carriers, and residents of institutions for the developmentally delayed.

Ask your health care provider about this vaccine for your infant.

CHELSEA AREA RESIDENT Maria Theresa Johnson, the daughter of Corinne and Floyd Miller of Chelsea and the granddaughter of the late James O. Johnson of Dexter will be competing for the title of Miss Michigan K&B on Sept. 27, at the Northfield Hilton in Troy. Maria is a senior at Chelsea High school, plays the flute for wind ensemble and was in the CHS production of "Grease" last year. She is a member of the Chelsea Area Players, where she performed in the 1992 production of "The Pajama Game." She also is a member of the Washington Street Show Choir. Maria has competed for the titles of Miss Perfect Teen 1991 (semi-finalist), also in '91 as Miss Teen Renaissance USA (4th runner-up), Miss Cover Girl Michigan SW 1992, winning the title, went to Florida in June of 1992 competing against girls from all over the United States. Maria will attend Eastern Michigan University.

Fall Color Show Comes Soon at Area Metroparks

Few of nature's annual events delight our senses and inspire our interest like the fall color extravaganza put on by the deciduous trees and shrubs.

The 13 Metroparks, containing extensive tracts of woodlands and fallow fields punctuated by lakes and rivers, offer some of the best displays of nature's colorful handiwork to be found in southeast Michigan. And, the annual sight show is close. The Metroparks stretch in an arc from Metro Beach on Lake St. Clair, along the Clinton and Huron rivers to Lake Erie Metropark near Gibraltar on Lake Erie, putting them within easy reach of the residents of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

You can enjoy the color spectacular at your Metroparks by car, bike, hike, or boat.

Paved bike/hike trails, ranging in length from 3-8 miles, are located at Metro Beach, Stony Creek, Indian Springs, Kensington, Hudson Mills, and Lower Huron.

Nature trails may be found at Metro

Beach, Wolcott Mill, Stony Creek, Indian Springs, Kensington, Hudson Mills, Lower Huron and Oakwoods.

Boats and/or canoes are available for rent, mainly on week-ends, at Stony Creek, Huron Meadows, and Hudson Mills, Dexter-Huron and Delhi (private rental from Skip's Canoe Livery available at last three parks).

The peak of the fall color season in southeast Michigan is generally the second or third week of October, although weather conditions can change the peak color dates considerably.

For details on the best places and times to see the "show," call 1-800-47-PARKS.

A vehicle entry permit is required at the Metroparks - Annual: $10 regular/$5 senior citizen, or Daily: $2.

In 1990, physicians in the East North Central region of the U.S., which includes Michigan, spent 3.5 hours per week providing free or reduced-fee care to patients. More than 87 percent of the physicians in this area provided charity care in any given week.

Country Craft, Folk Art Show Slated Oct. 3

On Saturday, Oct. 3, Chelsea High school will be the gathering place for more than 100 artists and craftspeople who will take part in the 8th annual Country Craft and Folk Art Show.

The craft show, which has gained an excellent reputation and extreme popularity, will host quality craftspeople from all over Michigan and northern Ohio. These craftspeople will be selling such things as country furniture, dolls, rag rugs, pottery, stained glass, hand-carved duck decoys, ceramics, candles, country paintings, and much more. Some of the exhibitors will demonstrate their craft at their booths.

The 8th annual Country Craft & Folk Art Show is being organized and promoted by Marcy Cavanaugh, a Chelsea resident, for the Chelsea Senior Citizens organization. Proceeds from the show benefit the non-profit organization. A raffle will take place for a hand-made quilt made by the seniors.

Hours of the Oct. 3 show are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Chelsea High school is located on Washington St. off Freer Rd., or from Main Street. Direction signs will be posted.

Nature Events Offered At Hudson Mills Park

Two nature events will be held this week-end at the Activity Center of Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter.

"Birdwatching for Beginners," including a discussion on bird identification, choice of binoculars and field guide, slides of common birds and a short bird walk, will be held Saturday, Sept. 26 at 9 a.m. Please bring binoculars and field guide.

"Learning About Leaves," identifying trees common to this area and making a leaf collection, will be held at Delhi Metropark located on East Delhi Rd. near Dexter on Saturday, Sept. 26 at 2 p.m. Participants should meet in the parking lot to the right after the toll-booth. Participants should bring notebook if making a leaf collection.

A vehicle entry permit is required (Annual: regular - $10, senior citizen - $5 or Daily - $2).

For more information/registration contact Hudson Mills Metropark at (313)426-8211.

Fall Tree Sale Will Close Sept. 30

Sept. 30 is the last day orders for tree seedlings will be accepted by the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District, for its Fall Tree Seedling Sale. Interested persons are encouraged to get their orders in prior to this date.

Seven tree species are being offered for conservation and reforestation purposes. They include: Austrian Pine, Red Pine, White Pine, Blue Spruce, Norway Spruce, White Spruce and Douglas Fir. Also available will be tree planting bars, and Deer Away repellent. All tree species are still available with a good supply of each.

Trees will be available for pick-up on either Wednesday, Oct. 7, or Thursday, Oct. 8, at the Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, 1/2 mile west of Zeeb Rd. Time for pick-up will be between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

For more information, contact the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District Office, 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor. Telephone: (313) 761-6721.

First Aid, CPR for Pets Class Offered

If your pet was choking, would you know what to do?

The Humane Society of Huron Valley is holding its popular class on First Aid and CPR for pets on Tuesday, Sept. 29 from 7 to 9 p.m., at Scarlett Middle school in Ann Arbor. HSHV's own veterinarian, Dr. Annette Walker, will lead this informative session covering emergency first aid of common pet injuries and CPR techniques for dogs and cats.

First aid brochures, pet care books, and free identification tags will be available to all participants. This class is for pet owners only, please do not bring your pets. A pre-registration fee of $7 is required. To pre-register, please call the Ann Arbor Public Schools Community Education and Recreation Department at 994-2300, ext 216, Monday through Friday.

The first federal legislation to set a minimum age for child labor was the National Industrial Recovery Act of 1933. It required a minimum of 16 for general work and 18 for hazardous jobs. In 1935, the law was declared unconstitutional, but the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 provided for minimum age requirements similar to the 1933 act, according to the Department of Labor's "Labor Firsts in America."

CHS Band Leader Bill Gourley Named District Director of Year

Chelsea High school band director Bill Gourley has been named District 12 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's Band Director of the Year for 1991-92.

Gourley was selected from band directors in Washtenaw, Wayne and Monroe counties.

This is the fourth time Gourley has received the award in the past six years.

Gourley has earned the reputation as an outstanding music educator through his teaching in Chelsea and Dundee. In Chelsea the band program has enjoyed increasing enrollment and is nearly three or four times larger than the average enrollment in schools of similar size.

Gourley says part of his success is due to focusing on the welfare of students as well as musical excellence.

"I tell prospective teachers they must focus on creating opportunities for students' success and the importance of being responsible members of a community—in this case the band," Gourley says.

"As educators we must find ways to help students gain knowledge through success, eliminating as many barriers to learning as possible. They must also understand their responsibility to the band. Their responsibility to practice, attend performances, and do what is expected of all in the group parallels what communities must have in their citizens. Responsibility is what being an adult is all about."

Gourley says he encourages students to pursue interests in addition to band.

"One of the benefits of Chelsea is a student has the opportunity to explore many extra-curricular interests rather than focusing on one area," he says.

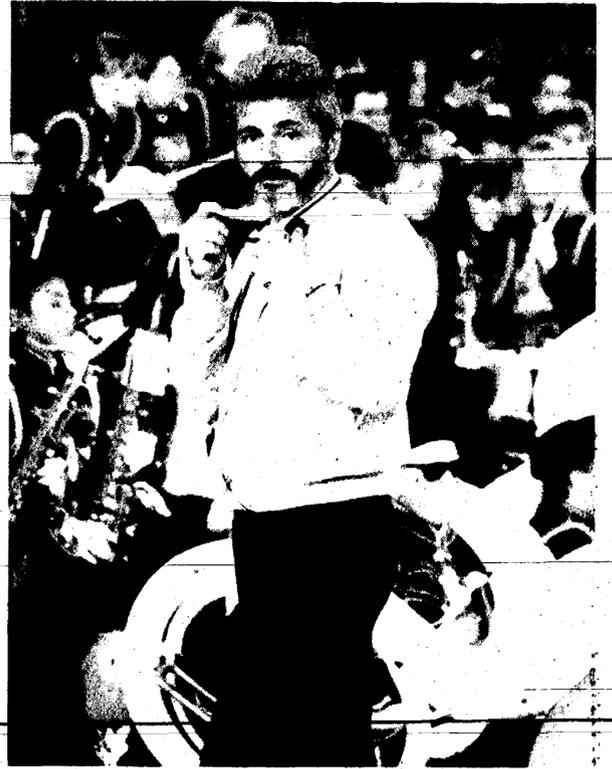

Gourley has also been involved in many professional organizations. He's held district and state offices and chaired committees for the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association. He is also a member of the American School Band Director's Association, one of the most prestigious music education associations in the country. He was awarded the association's Stanbury Award in 1986 as the most outstanding young director from Michigan. He is also a widely sought after adjudicator and clinician in the state.

"One of my great joys has been adjudicating bands of former students and student teachers I have known over the years," Gourley says.

"It's a bit frightening for them, but I enjoy their success."

The Chelsea band director has also been able to bring many groups to Chelsea from other countries. While on tour in Europe as the conductor of the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp International Band, Gourley met many conductors of music ensembles. The first group to perform here was the Youth Orchestra from the Hague, Netherlands, in 1987. Other groups have followed from England, Germany, Switzerland, and the U.S. The last group, a drum and fife corps from Germany performed for more than 400 people at the Chelsea Retirement Community in August.

Gourley conducts three bands at the high school and part of the sixth grade band program at Beach Middle school. He also teaches the marching band and jazz band at the high school. He co-ordinates the activities of the Chelsea music department, which includes more than 600 music students and 14 music ensembles at the high school and middle school.

"The growth of the music programs the past 12 years has been rewarding and daunting," Gourley says.

"Our size has put pressure on facilities, staff, and administration. Keeping all the plates spinning has been a challenge."

Gourley called his most recent award "quite an honor."

"Our band district is rich with fine band directors and to be chosen from them makes this an even greater honor," Gourley says.

"Still, I work with a great many dedicated classroom teachers in Chelsea and they don't enjoy the public eye as I do. They don't have the opportunity to be named Outstanding Science Teacher for a science association. I hope we can make an effort to recognize their accomplishments."

CHELSEA POLICE OFFICERS Paul Whelan, left, and David Ringe, represented the department in the Michigan Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics last Thursday. The Washtenaw run began at Rank Rd. at the western edge of the county and ended in Ann Arbor. Chelsea police raised $425 for the event. Chief Lenard McDougall rode a department bike along the route.

Construction Begins on New Recycling Facility at Landfill

Work has begun on the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority's materials recovery facility at the Chelsea landfill.

Concrete work began last week and steel for the building is scheduled to be delivered soon.

Authority co-chair Frank Hammer said the building and the entire program could be running by the middle of next month.

The trailer, the central piece of equipment in the building, is scheduled to be shipped before the end of the month.

The authority also plans to begin its education program soon.

Former village president Jerry Satterthwaite has been hired, initially on a part-time basis, to drive the recycling truck.

Fire Department Responds to Crash

Chelsea Fire Department responded to a roll-over car crash at the Crooked Lake access site at 10:22 Saturday night.

When firefighters arrived they found an overturned car and two boys, 6 and 17 years old, outside the car who were busy brushing their teeth. No further information was available as of press time.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Use Solid Defense, Running Attack To Dominate Big Reds

GOOD PURSUIT by the Chelsea defense last Friday helped propel the Bulldogs to a 12-0 victory over state-ranked Milan. Here, defensive back Jason Johnson makes the tackle while David Brock (50) and Matt Montange (40) close in on the play.

The offensive game plan was to run the ball right through the line between the tackles.

The defensive game plan was to keep Milan's stable of fleet-footed runners from getting outside and rolling up the yardage.

The Bulldogs executed both to perfection last Friday in an emotional 12-0 victory at Niehaus Field.

Milan, ranked number two in class B after winning their first two games easily, was dominated in virtually every phase of the game.

With the victory, Chelsea and Tecumseh top the Southeastern Conference with 2-0 records.

Chelsea coach Gene LaFave ranked the game as "one of the great ones" in Bulldogs history.

"It was an exciting, defensive-oriented, hard-hitting game," LaFave said.

"We came ready to play. (Defensive co-ordinator) Roger Cox did a great job of preparing the defense and the whole staff did a great job."

TOM POULTER runs through a big hole on the way to Chelsea's second touchdown last Friday against Milan.

The domination was complete. Milan had the ball only one time inside the Chelsea 20-yard line and could not make the big plays. The Big Reds turned the ball over five times, perhaps the big statistic of the game, including three interceptions, a fumble, and a botched on-sides kick, while Chelsea had one fumble. Junior Tim Wescott punted five times for a 39-yard average and no kick was returned for any significant yardage.

Although Milan actually had more total yardage, 215-205, the Big Reds had trouble sustaining their drives due to the turnovers, while the Bulldogs frequently had good field position.

Meanwhile, the Bulldogs ran right through the heart of the line for 190 yards, even using the quarterback sneak effectively on first down in the middle of the field. Junior Matt Montange gained 85 yards on 12 carries, senior Tom Poulter had 65 yards and one touchdown on 18 rushes, junior Colby Skelton had 22 yards on two carries, and junior quarterback Pat Steele rushed 11 times for 18 yards and a touchdown. Steele's rushing statistics were misleading because several sacks were figured into the total.

Steele completed 1-3 passes for 15 yards to senior tight end Gary White. Junior tackles Barry Antilla and Matt Seitz, guards senior Casey Schiller and junior Ed GreenLeaf, junior center David Brock, and tight ends White and senior Ken Slane all played very well, LaFave said.

LaFave used the inside offensive game simply because he thought Milan has superior team speed and could deal fairly easily with an outside game. He said he felt the Bulldogs could have been effective with the passing game, but he elected not to use it much.

"We wanted to put them in the position of having to play our blockers in the face, and it worked to perfection," LaFave said of the running strategy.

"They really struggled with us. We should have scored 25 or 35 points."

Milan took the opening kick-off and moved the ball to the Chelsea 19 before fumbling the ball away as Montange made the recovery.

Chelsea's first drive ended inches from the Milan goal. The Bulldogs reached the Milan two before a pair of illegal motion penalties set up a fourth-down-and-three situation. Poulter was stopped just short.

The Bulldogs got on the scoreboard at the 7:43 mark of the second quarter. Slane tipped a Ray Hoot pass, which bounced into Poulter's arms at the Milan eight. Three plays later, Steele sneaked in from three yards out. The extra-point kick was running straight up the middle, with 2:39 left in the game.

The 3-0 Bulldogs play the Lincoln Railsplitters on the road this Friday. Lincoln is 0-3.

"Lincoln has a lot of incentives," LaFave said.

"It's their first home game. Plus Roger Cox coached there and (assistant coach) Jeff Sloan played there."

Q: SO WHAT SHOULD YOU DO IN A RECESSION?

A: First, be brave and don't cut the ad budget.

Number Two Hornets No Match for Chelsea Girls

It was a match-up of the top two girls cross country teams in class B, but you'd never know it by the score. Chelsea Bulldogs took five of the top six places to rout the Saline Hornets at Swinners Golf Course last Tuesday, 17-38.

Chelsea swept the top three places, led by senior Lisa Monti, then took fifth and sixth to complete the scoring.

"We prevailed thanks to a magnificent effort by our top five runners," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We had some people sick, but our top five pulled us through. Saline won the large West Bloomfield Invitational last week and defeated defending state champion Lumen Christi, so we knew they'd be tough. Five of their top seven runners are four-year seniors.

Leiter, 25:20; 32. Emily Anderson, 25:57.

The Bulldogs are 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference.

Monti and Bullock took the top two places at the New Boston Huron Invitational last Saturday to lead the Bulldogs to an easy victory. Chelsea, with 27 points, led second-place Dexter by 52 points.

"The girls ran a fine race," Clarke said.

"We had six girls with the flu, so to win was a tribute to their determination."

Monti won the race by more than a minute at 19:40, while Bullock came in at 20:46. Other Chelsea placers included 4. Bell, 20:52; 8. Henry, 21:53; 12. Hand, 22:15; 14. Holton, 22:29; 15. Wales, 22:31.

Chelsea also won the junior varsity meet featuring 25 teams.

Chelsea places and times were 1. Beth Williams, 22:10; 2. Phelps, 22:32; 3. Spink, 23:25; 4. McKinnon, 23:40; 8. Ludwig, 24:20; 9. Leiter, 24:28; 26. Anderson, 26:01; 28. Paton, 26:15; 43. Shemansky, 27:15.

JV Gridders Nearly Pick Up First Victory

Monti led the pack with a 19:12 over the hot, humid course. Junior Beth Bell and sophomore Molly Griebe each recorded personal best times of 20:49 and 20:50, respectively, to place second and third.

Senior Jessica Holton placed fifth in 24:18 and junior Sarah Henry was sixth in 21:32.

"When we finally put it all together we should be really something," Clarke said.

"We hope to put it together when it counts—in the last meet."

Other Chelsea times and places included 13. Tracey Wales, 22:33; 14. Sarah Brosnan, 23:03; 15. Melissa Hand, 23:09; 16. Beth Williams, 23:13; 17. Mel Williams, 23:45; 19. Val Bullock, 24:04; 21. Robin Phelps, 24:29; 22. Kim Smith, 24:44; 23. Katie Spink, 24:59; 24. Jill McKinnon, 24:59; 28. Andrea Ludwig, 25:20; 29. Erika

Chelsea Bulldogs and Milan Big Reds junior varsity football teams played a seasaw game last Thursday but the Big Reds eventually prevailed, 24-20.

Chelsea had the last chance to score as the Bulldogs had the ball with two minutes left but couldn't manage a first down.

"It was our best effort by far," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"We played with hustle, determination, and intensity. We were a much better team this week than last."

Chelsea had the lead with about four minutes to go when a pass interference penalty gave Milan a first down inside the Chelsea 20. In seven plays the Big Reds scored on a five-yard run.

The teams traded touchdowns throughout the game. Chelsea opened the scoring on the third play of the game on a 67-yard sweep by Jorge Rosario. Sam Morseau's extra point was good.

Milan scored on their next two possessions on runs of nine and 20 yards to take a 12-7 lead.

On Chelsea's next drive Pat Lynch passed six yards to Jeremy Bradbury for the score. Morseau again kicked the extra point.

Just before the half, Milan cashed in on a 20-yard pass to take an 18-14 lead at the intermission.

The Bulldogs dominated the third quarter, taking the lead on a four-yard run by Rosario, set up by a 48-yard run by Morseau. The drive covered 80 yards. The conversion attempt failed and Chelsea held a 20-18 lead.

Rosario gained 134 yards, mostly to the outside, while Morseau gained 122 yards, mostly to the inside. Lynch played well at quarterback, Bainton said.

Mike Bainton and Dan Walton played well in the offensive line, helping Chelsea gain 323 total yards, Bainton said, while Jeremy Ziegler and Watson played well defensively.

Chelsea Boys Edge Saline, Win Big New Boston Meet

Chelsea Bulldogs boys cross country team edged the Saline Hornets last Tuesday at Inverness Golf Course, 25-30 to go to 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference.

The Bulldogs took the top three places, then held on to take the ninth and 10 places for the victory.

Two of the team's top runners, Dan Zatkovich and Chris Leatham were running sick.

"I told the team that someone had to step forward and they did just that," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Cory Brown, Ryan Schultz, and Chad Brown, better known as 'The Dream Team,' swept the top three spots to knock off the defending Southeastern Conference champions, Sophomore Scott Hawley and senior captain Tobin Strong both recorded personal records to finish out the scoring."

The junior varsity team placed second among 28 teams.

Chelsea times and places were 10. Hanke, 18:54; 11. Atlee, 18:56; 12. Kramer, 19:05; 17. Bergman, 19:26; 18. LeFurge, 19:34; 31. White, 19:52; 32. Coy, 19:54; 42. Metzler, 20:17; 48. The Bulldogs won the nine-team New Boston Huron Invitational last Saturday with 46 points, edging Dearborn Divine Child with 51.

"Once again the boys performed magnificently," Clarke said.

"We had four boys recovering from the flu, so our expectations were questionable. We beat three state-ranked teams."

Schultz and Cory Brown were 1-2 with times of 16:50 and 16:52. Other Chelsea runners and places were 10. Chad Brown, 17:30; 16. Zatkovich, 17:54; 17. Hawley, 17:57; 31. Strong, 18:38; 34. Leatham, 18:52.

Dog Tennis Team Wins Two Matches in Week

Chelsea Bulldogs tennis team beat Monroe Jefferson and Williamston but lost to Saline in matches last week.

In the Monroe match last Monday, Chelsea took a 5-2 victory.

In singles play, Katie Neal (C) defeated Terri Berns, 6-1, 6-1; Kristi Van Daele (M) beat Erin Boyle, 6-2, 6-1; Jill Jividen (M) beat Heather Wynn, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3; and Liz Holdsworth (C) beat Maria Nelkirk, 6-1, 6-1.

In doubles, Theresa Hurst and Monica Hansen (C) won 7-5, 6-2; Beca Flintoft and Tina Haas (C) won 7-5, 6-1; and Christine McLaughlin and Christine Koch (C) won 7-6, 6-1.

In the Saline match on Tuesday, the Bulldogs were shut out, 7-0.

In singles, Heidi Pearson (S) defeated Neal, 6-0, 6-0; Katie Lovejoy (S) stopped Boyle, 6-1, 6-0; Kay Foley (S) beat Wynn, 6-2, 6-2; and Althea Chaconas (S) beat Koch, 6-1, 6-1.

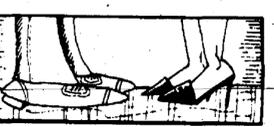

In doubles, Hurst and Hansen (C) lost 3-6, 6-4, 0-6; Flintoft and Haas (C) lost 2-6, 2-6; and McLaughlin and Jessica Knight (C) lost 2-6, 2-6.

"We played a very good match," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

Chelsea held on for a 4-3 victory over Williamston on Thursday.

In singles, Amy Viol (W) defeated Neal 6-3, 6-1; Heather Eld (W) beat Boyle, 6-0, 6-0; Wynn (C) beat Krista Lemmen, 6-1, 6-0; and Koch (C) beat Wendy Gaffner, 6-2, 6-3.

In doubles play, Hurst and Hansen (C) won 6-1, 4-6, 6-2; Flintoft and Haas (C) won 6-4, 6-1; and McLaughlin and Knight (C) lost 3-6, 1-6.

Linoleum was invented around the year 1860 by Frederick Walton of England. He found that linseed oil, when exposed to air, became a rubber-like material that could be used as a floor covering.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Like the Democrats, Chelsea football fans are hungry for another championship. They haven't been this close in years, even though the Southeastern Conference season, like the national campaign, is just starting to get cranked up. It's tempting to think the big prize is the Bulldogs' to lose, but the reality is, there's an awful long way to go, and a lot of mud to be slung in the trenches. A key injury here, a scandal there, and we could be looking at another also-ran.

Chelsea opponents, like the Republicans, have sputtered around all season. The only way they can hope to win is to hang on to the football and come up with more than an occasional sustained drive. Possible? Certainly. Likely? Don't bet your country club membership on it.

The most telling statistic of the first three games is the turnover differential. Chelsea opponents have lost the football 14 times to the Bulldogs' 2. That means, on average, Chelsea has gotten four more cracks on offense than the other guys. It also means that more often than not, Chelsea has had four more tries with good field position. It's no wonder Chelsea is 3-0 and leading the Southeastern Conference with defending champion Tecumseh.

And good news is the way the Chelsea defense is playing, Chelsea opponents may have as much chance as a second George Bush presidency.

Few of the opponents' blunders have been of the garden "potatoe" variety, the kind where they trip over their own two feet and drop the ball with no help from anyone else. Take last Friday. Lineman Ken Slane tips a pass, linebacker Tom Poulter catches it. Defensive back Colby Skelton runs a mile to catch a ball over his shoulder. Defensive back Tim Wescott perfectly anticipates a pass and catches a rocket that nearly knocks him over. Wescott kicks a perfect on-sides kick and the Bulldogs recover the ball after a vicious hit on the nearest Big Red. Every attack was handled cleanly, effectively.

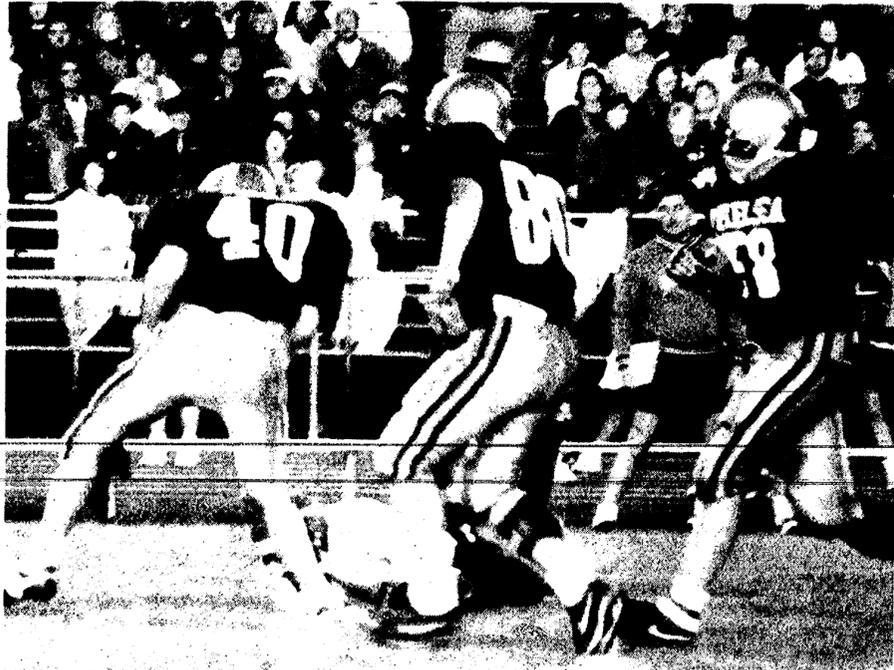

The Chelsea campaign delivered a tough message to the Big Reds, much as it did to Mason and Saline before them. We'll face you head-on with power football. If you want to wessel out of head-to-head competition with some sideways dippy-doodle maneuver, we won't bite, although we'd prefer that you at least show up for the game. And if we need something fancy, we've got the quarterback and receivers to do it. We're not going to beat ourselves. We don't have a single Dan Quayle on the roster.

As the football campaign continues and the word of Chelsea's strength spreads, you can count on the opposition to try more surprise plays to catch the Bulldogs off guard. If the Bulldogs keep their current course, I suspect those plays won't work either. There may be a change at the top this season.

Several other notes about Friday evening. Although I've been attending games for eight years, for some reason it really struck me just how inadequate, actually dismal, the Chelsea seating arrangement is. The stands were packed, as usual, and I don't think I've ever seen as many people standing on the hill on both sides of the bleachers. It's really an insult to ask people to pay admission and not give them a place to sit. Chelsea's stands can't even begin to accommodate an average size crowd. Unfortunately, voters probably aren't willing to pay for an upgrade.

It's unfortunate on two accounts. Obviously a football game is more enjoyable for fans on dry bleacher seats. But the only people who can even begin to appreciate the Chelsea Marching Band are the fans in the stands. The band is so big that it's just about impossible to get the full effect without sitting somewhere near the middle and up fairly high. Last Friday it was a whole lot easier to listen to the Milan band, which is about one-quarter the size and can be compressed into a much smaller area.

Finally, I can tell you I will not vote for Dick Chrysler for Congress this fall. Someone planted a Chrysler campaign sign at the foot of the driveway on Freer Rd. so that it was virtually certain to be seen by everyone exiting the football game. I don't object to his campaign signs, but I do strongly object to having them turn up on public property.

MATT MONTANGE (40) breaks loose for a good gain and Ed Greenleaf follow the play after making the during last Friday's victory over Milan. Gary White (80) blocks.

MILAN RUNNERS found the going tougher than usual in their game against Chelsea here last Friday. Chelsea effectively bottled up the Big Reds' rushing attack in the 12-0 win.

CHS Golfers Beat Richard

Chelsea Bulldogs golf team won a match and lost two in action last week.

Chelsea hosted Gabriel Richard last Monday and won 171-220. Chelsea coach Jim Tallman called it one of the most consistent team rounds this season.

The younger Jim Tallman was the team's medalist with a 42. Sean Graflund, Nathan Oake, and Adam Beauchamp each shot a 43.

On Tuesday, Chelsea shot equally well at Hudson Mills Golf Course but lost to the host Dexter Dreadnaught 168-171.

Graflund led Chelsea with a 40 to tie for low score on the day. Other Chelsea scores were Oake 42, Beauchamp 44, and Ryan Fisher 45.

Dexter also won the junior varsity match, 187-220.

Chelsea scores were Tom Payne 49, Jesse Hammett 51, James Diesing 54 and Craig Leonard 56.

On Thursday the Bulldogs lost to the Lincoln Railsplitters, 180-185.

Chelsea scores were Beauchamp 44, Oake 47, Fisher 47, and Dirk Wales 48.

The Bulldogs won the junior varsity match 197-231.

Chelsea scores were Jeff Branch, Diesing, and Kevin Holmes 49, and Drew Patterson 50.

The remaining portion of Chelsea's Southeastern Conference schedule is at home.

Chelsea is 3-4 on the season.

7th Grade Cagers Open with Victory

Beach Middle school seventh grade girls basketball team defeated the Saline Hornets, 18-15, in their first game of the season.

The Bullpups trailed at half-time but out-scored Saline 10-3 in the third quarter to take the lead for good.

Robyn Raymond scored eight points and Kelly Kentala, Cindy Richard, Sarah Pruss, Brea Wireman, and Jennifer Saarinen added two points each.

Wireman led in both rebounds and steals with six each. Raymond and Richard each had four rebounds. Emily Arend, Sabrina Flannery, and Richard each had three steals.

Varsity Cagers Lose To Tall Brighton

Brighton, one of the best girls basketball teams in the area, proved to be too much for the Chelsea Bulldogs last Tuesday in a 55-22 Brighton victory.

Brighton out-scored Chelsea 15-4 in the first quarter and took a 29-11 half-time advantage.

"Brighton is the best team we've seen this year," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller.

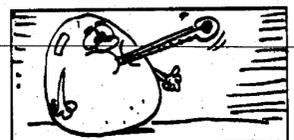

"They have seven seniors and three girls over 6' and another 5' 11". They didn't try to run the score up on us."

The Bulldogs shot just 20 percent and were led by Nicki Piasecki's six points on three straight baskets in the second quarter.

Other Chelsea scorers included Mara Smith 5, Erin Schiller 3, Kate Steele 2, Ginny Flannery 2, Laura Carty 2, Jessica Flintoft 1, and Heather McConeghy 1.

Waller said the Bulldogs cut down their number of turnovers but continued to shoot poorly, hitting only 20 percent of field goal attempts. Chelsea is winless on the season.

8th Grade Cagers Defeat Saline

Beach Middle school eighth grade girls basketball team beat Saline 21-16 to open the season.

The game was tied at half-time, 6-6, but Chelsea pulled away by the middle of the fourth quarter to lead by eight points. Foul shooting kept Saline in the game, while Chelsea made 1-12 from the line.

Chelsea scorers were Chrissy Hodgson 10, Kasie Ruhlig 4, Melissa Carty 2, Michelle Lucas 2, Hilary Szczygiel 2, and Sabrina Steinaway 1.

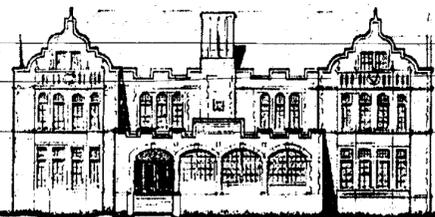

Leading rebounders were Hodgson 7, Carrie Ashendel 4, Ruhlig 3, and Lucas 2.

Lucas had a team-high four assists and five steals.

CATARACTS

Cataracts are one of the most common causes of loss of vision. They cause a gradual loss of vision, making it difficult to focus well, and often cause problems in bright light. They can occur at any age, but are more common the older we are. Many people think that a cataract is a film growing over the eye, but actually a cataract is a clouding of the natural, living human lens inside the eye. When the lens clouds over, we call it a cataract. No one knows for sure what causes a cataract, but they are more common with aging, and with years of exposure to the sun. They can also be seen after an injury. Fortunately, modern surgery enables us to safely remove a cataract, and replace it with an implant lens, to restore good vision in the great majority of cases. We no longer have to wait until a cataract is "ripe"; surgery can be done when vision is blurred for everyday activities such as reading or driving. Nowadays an overnight stay in the hospital is not required, and patients are back to their normal routine in a short time.

RICHELLE JONES

Richelle Jones Honored at Summer Color Guard Camp

Chelsea High school senior Richelle Jones was awarded the Most Outstanding Color Guard Person at the Fred Miller Color Guard Camp this summer.

The award is presented to the person who demonstrates the greatest skill with equipment and performance.

Jones attended the camp with co-captain Gretchen Knutsen, and drum majors Erin Knott and Justin Huschke. The camp teaches leadership and performance skills necessary to work with marching bands.

Judges noted Jones' skill as well as her dedication.

Jones and Knutsen, co-captains of the Chelsea Color Guard the past two years, are responsible for all choreography. They create the flag and tube work and teach the other 17 members of the guard. This summer they worked as instructors for the Paw Paw High School Band.

The Chelsea guard rehearses every morning from 7 a.m. to 8:15 a.m. After-school rehearsals last two to three hours, twice per week. Every home football Friday guard members spend the entire day at school. They rehearse on the football field from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Then they change into uniform, eat a quick dinner, and go through a final run-through.

During the first half of the game the guard runs through the fine points of performance on the practice field behind the press box.

The result is a color guard that performs routines more demanding than routines at many universities in the state. Many guard alumni have gone on to lead some of the university guards.

Jones is the daughter of Phil and Sherry Jones. Phil is the advisor to the Chelsea Color Guard.

 Saving for Your

Child's Education

With the cost of college education now running more than $10,000 per year, you should think about how to finance your children's education long before it's time for them to apply to colleges. According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, your savings strategy should depend on your age, the age of your child, and your income, as well as your financial resources.

Who Is Footing the Bill?

Although almost half of all undergraduates qualify for some form of financial aid, the major financial demands of a college education still fall squarely on the family. With college costs rising at an average of six to seven percent annually, a family now needs to set aside nearly $4,000 per year, earning an interest rate of seven to eight percent per year, to cover the full cost of a bachelor's degree for their newborn child.

Consider Your Child's Age

Your investment decisions should be guided, in part, by your child's age. If your children are under age 14, you can boost their college savings and minimize your taxes by shifting assets to them—thereby enabling each of them to generate as much as $1,200 in unearned income that will be taxed at a lower rate than your own. Under the kiddie tax rules, the first $600 of your child's unearned income—interest, dividends and other investment income—is tax free. The next $600 is taxed at the child's rate, usually 15 percent. Any unearned income over this amount is taxed at the parents' highest marginal rate.

If your child is age 14 or over, the kiddie tax does not apply. You can transfer cash, property and other assets to your child and the unearned income, like the child's earned income, will be taxed at the child's highest marginal rate.

Establishing Custodial Accounts The Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA), or the newer Uniform Transfer to Minors Act (UTMA), enables you to set up custodial accounts through which you can transfer stocks, bonds and other property to your child. Income from a custodial account is taxable to the child, subject to the kiddie tax mentioned above.

Playing It Safe With Bonds

United States Savings Bonds are especially well suited to college savings plans because they produce tax-deferred savings that compound interest until you cash them in. What's more, their maturity can be timed to when you expect to be making tuition payments.

If the proceeds from Series EE Bonds issued after Dec. 31, 1989, are used to pay for qualified higher education expenses, the interest these bonds earn may be tax-free for a married couple filing jointly with a combined adjusted gross income below $66,200. Part of the interest may be tax-free for a couple with a combined adjusted gross income between $66,200 and $96,200. The bond owner must be at least 24 years old at the time of the purchase. Additionally, the bond must be in the parent's name and be redeemed by the parent.

If you find your income is too high to qualify for the Series EE Bond tax break, consider purchasing College Savings Bonds, known as Baccalaureate bonds. Available in more than 28 states, these bonds can be purchased at a substantial discount and you collect the full face value at maturity. They are also free from both state and federal taxes.

Other Savings Vehicles

The College Sure CD offered by the College Savings Bank in Princeton, N.J., is another option to consider. A federally insured, variable-interest rate certificate of deposit, the College Sure pays an interest rate indexed at 1.5 percent less than the college tuition inflation rate. Maturities vary from one to 25 years, with stiff penalties imposed for early withdrawals. Interest is taxed annually as it is for other CDs.

Finally, you may want to consider guaranteed tuition plans now available in some states. To participate in these savings programs, you pay the state a lump sum for four years of future tuition at a public university or college in that state.

CPAs point out that regardless of the savings mechanism you select, it's important to make saving for your child's education an integral part of your personal financial plan.

The world's oldest trees are California's bristlecone pines and giant sequoias: some bristlecone pines have lived between 4,000 and 5,000 years; the oldest sequoias are about 3,500 years old.

ALSO, to vote on the following propositions:

PROPOSAL A
A PROPOSAL TO LIMIT ANNUAL INCREASES IN HOMESTEAD PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS AND PROVIDE SEPARATE TAX LIMITATIONS FOR DIFFERENT PROPERTY CLASSIFICATIONS

The proposed constitutional amendment would:
1) Limit for each homesteaded property (excluding new construction) the annual assessment increase to 5% or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, until the property is sold. Whenever property is sold, adjust assessment according to current market value of property.
2) Create separate millage rollback calculations for determining the maximum revenue increase allowable for two classes of property: residential/agricultural and all other property classifications.
3) Permit the use of the combined inflation rate for 1991 and 1992 to calculate millage rollbacks for determining the maximum property tax revenue increase allowable in 1993.

Should this proposal be adopted?
YES
NO

PROPOSAL B
A PROPOSAL TO RESTRICT/LIMIT THE NUMBER OF TIMES A PERSON CAN BE ELECTED TO CONGRESSIONAL, STATE EXECUTIVE AND STATE LEGISLATIVE OFFICES.

The proposed constitutional amendment would:
Restrict the number of times a person could be elected to certain offices as described below:

- 1) U.S. Senator: two times in any 24-year period.
 - 2) U.S. Representative: three times in any 12-year period.
 - 3) Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State or Attorney General: two times per office.
 - 4) State Senator: two times.
 - 5) State Representative: three times.
- Office terms beginning on or after January 1, 1993 would count toward the term restrictions. A person appointed or elected to an office vacancy for more than 1/2 of a term would be considered elected once in that office.

Should this proposal be adopted?
YES
NO

PROPOSAL C A PROPOSAL TO EXEMPT PROPERTY FROM A PORTION OF SCHOOL OPERATING PROPERTY TAXES AND LIMIT ANNUAL INCREASES IN ALL PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS

The proposed constitutional amendment would:
1) Exempt property from the following proportion of school operating property taxes: 10% in 1993; 15% in 1994; 20% in 1995; 25% in 1996; and 30% in following years.
2) Require the State to reimburse school districts for the property tax exemptions described in paragraph (1) above, up to the millage rate levied in 1991.
3) Limit for each parcel of property (excluding new construction) the annual assessment increase to 3% or the rate of inflation, whichever is less, until the property is sold. Whenever property is sold, adjust assessment according to current market value of property.

Should this proposal be adopted?
YES
NO

PROPOSAL D
A PROPOSAL TO AMEND MICHIGAN'S AUTO INSURANCE LAWS

The proposed legislative amendment would:
1) Reduce auto insurance rates by 20% (average) for policyholders accepting $250,000 in personal injury protection. (Extra coverage made available at additional cost.)
2) Permit profit refunds when underwriting profits exceed 5%.
3) Permit Insurance Commissioner to waive company's obligation to reduce rates or refund profits if too slow to assure fair rate of return.
4) Allow policyholders to waive residual liability insurance.
5) Limit fees paid to health care providers.
6) Allow rate reduction for five consecutive claim-free years.
7) Require coordination of benefits with health insurance.
8) Limit right to sue by setting higher standards for injuries and prevent drivers over 50% at fault from collecting damages.

Should this proposal be adopted?
YES
NO

PROPOSITION TO INCREASE THE TAX LIMITATION FOR PROVIDING THE FUNDS FOR ACQUIRING OR CONSTRUCTING, FURNISHING AND EQUIPPING A BUILDING AND APPLIANCES THEREFOR TO BE USED TO SHELTER VICTIMS OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE INCLUDING CHILDREN.

"Shall the tax limitation on the total amount of general ad valorem taxes which may be imposed each year for all purposes upon real and tangible personal property in Washtenaw County, Michigan, be increased as provided in Section 6, Article IX, of the Constitution of Michigan for a period of two (2) years, beginning with the December 31, 1993 tax levy, by one-quarter (1/4) of one mill, twenty-five cents (25¢) per One Thousand Dollars of the assessed valuation as finally equalized, for the purpose of providing the funds for acquiring or constructing, furnishing and equipping a building and appliances therefore to be used to shelter victims of domestic violence including children."

Should this proposal be adopted?
YES
NO

WASHTENAW COMMUNITY COLLEGE
TAX LIMITATION INCREASE PROPOSITION

Shall the tax limitation on the total amount of ad valorem taxes which may be assessed against all property in Washtenaw Community College District, Michigan, for the operation of the Washtenaw Community College be increased by one mill per dollar of State Equalized Valuation of all taxable property in the District for a period of twelve (12) years, the years 1993 to 2004, inclusive, to provide additional funds for general purposes including funds for educational programming, student and other services, instructional and other equipment, staff development, and repair and maintenance of facilities as designated by the Board of Trustees?

WASHTENAW COMMUNITY COLLEGE
BONDING PROPOSITION

Shall Washtenaw Community College, State of Michigan, borrow the principal amount of not to exceed Twenty Three Million Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($23,300,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefor for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of erecting, furnishing and equipping a library and classroom building, and a business education building, adding to and improving, renovating and reequipping existing buildings and developing the sites thereof?

DALE RICHARDSON, left, and Dave Nortley, center, machinest for Richardson Automotive Supply in Chelsea, recently completed the Master Machine Shop program offered by Dana Corp., supplier of quality NAPA engine parts to over 8,600 NAPA auto parts stores nationwide. The announcement was made by Steve Alexander, general sales manager, NAPA Engine Parts. Each shop must meet certain requirements before qualifying for the master program. A NAPA machine shop consultant visits the shop and rates the shop's interior and exterior, personnel, equipment and marketing plans to see if they meet Master Machine Shop program standards. The plaque was presented to Dale and Dave by John Gercak, NAPA engine parts representative for the Dana Corp.

Faith in Action Awards Donated Original Art Work

Local artists James Layton and Laura Lewis each donated an original work of art to Faith in Action to be displayed at the Chelsea Community Fair. Visitors to the FIA booth were able to place their names in a drawing for these pictures. Layton's work entitled "The Swing" depicts a swing hanging from one rope with a fieldstone country home in the background. Ms. Lewis' work entitled "Tiger" shows the animal stretched out with its face towards the viewer.

On Wednesday, Sept. 2, during the monthly FIA volunteers' pot-luck luncheon, Layton drew the names of the winners. Jennifer Nisbett of Manchester and Dan Schnaidt of Chelsea are the winners, both of whom have been notified.

Vince Meldrum, chairman of the Faith in Action Fair Committee said, "The Chelsea Fair gave a large number of people an opportunity to learn more about us and what we do in the communities we serve. The generosity of the artists and the display of their work caused fair goers to stop to look at the pictures, register to win one and to ask us questions about Faith in Action."

With all the bad publicity about the nation's banking system, you'd expect that agricultural banks would also be on the ropes. Not so. A new study shows farm banks had record earnings last year and are now considered the nation's top performing banks.

Full Gospel Church Plans Sunday Canvas Of Neighborhood

If someone rings your doorbell around noontime this Sunday, it's not necessarily an ambitious Avon lady or a door-to-door salesman. More likely it's a member of the Chelsea Full Gospel Church completing a neighborhood canvass to bring information about the church to Chelsea residents.

"We chose the unusual time for our canvass," comments Pastor John Grosser, "because we especially want to reach those people who currently don't attend a church." The canvass is a local modification of the national "Win Our City to Jesus" campaign conducted last Sunday by churches of all denominations throughout the country.

Church members will be wearing special identification tags and will have literature about the Chelsea Full Gospel Church with them for free distribution. The literature provides the church's beliefs and a schedule of its services. A map is included to help visitors find the church since services are currently held in two Chelsea locations.

Gelman, Ann Arbor Reach Compromise on Clean-Up

Ann Arbor City Council gave approval to a cleanup compromise which utilizes the city's sewer to dispose of small amounts of 1,4-dioxine disposed by Gelman Sciences near its Wagner Rd. plant in Scioto township.

The compromise, reached by the city, Gelman and interested environmental and neighborhood groups, was approved by the council Sept. 8. It calls for the sewer release of the contaminated water at a level of 30 parts per billion of dioxine, with higher amounts released in the first 90 days of the cleanup. The action allows the cleanup of the polluted plume, beneath the Evergreen subdivision near M-14 and Dexter Rd., to begin this month and the core cleanup, near Gelman's plant, within a year or so.

Last month an initial proposed compromise between the interested parties called for a 100-300 ppb of dioxine to be released into city sanitary sewers. The council rejected that proposal and approved the 30 ppb level.

During the council meeting, Sept. 8, councilman Robert Eckstein cited a chemistry journal study of dioxine levels indicated fried chicken contained roughly 200 ppb of dioxine and tomatoes contain 25 ppb.

In related issues the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has contracted with Ann Arbor Technical Service, Inc., for the sampling of residential drinking water in the affected areas and city water mains are being installed in the Evergreen subdivision.

The French originated tennis during the 1100s or 1200s. They called it Jeu de paume meaning game of the palm—at that time, the players batted the ball back and forth over a net with the palm of their hand.

Our commitment is to the Chelsea area community.

To our valued customers and members of our community: Among the many laws and regulations to which banks are subject is the Community Reinvestment Act (CRA). Passed in 1977, this law attempts to ensure equal access to credit in all communities in which a bank serves, consistent with the safe and sound operation of the bank.

In both the spirit and the letter of CRA, Chelsea State Bank has always strived to provide the products and services our local community needs to remain healthy and vital.

In 1989, CRA was amended by Congress to provide for public disclosure of our CRA rating, based on a regular examination by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. A copy of this report containing our "Satisfactory" rating and a brief written assessment is available for your review in our CRA Public File located in our main office at 305 S. Main, Chelsea, MI.

We at Chelsea State Bank want you to know that our commitment to serving the people of Chelsea and the surrounding area has never been greater. After all, it's our community too. If you have any concerns or suggestions that might help us better serve you, please do not hesitate to let us know. You may contact John Mann, Senior Vice President, Chelsea State Bank, P.O. Harvest Feast, Auction Benefits Ecology Center

Celebrate the harvest season with the Ecology Center of Ann Arbor's first annual Harvest Feast and Auction, to be held Saturday, Oct. 10 at the historic Cobblestone Farm. This benefit dinner will be held in the barn of the Cobblestone Farm complex and will feature a vegetarian feast of native, seasonal foods and Michigan wines.

The Harvest Feast will precede a live and silent benefit Auction in the barn loft. More than 100 items have been donated to the auction by local artists, craftspeople and merchants. Autographed sports and celebrity items from such notables as the Detroit Red Wings, the Grateful Dead, and Bonnie Raitt will be auctioned, as well.

Harvest Feast and Auction tickets are $50 each and are available in advance at the Ecology Center. Tickets to the Auction and Dessert only are $10 each and are available in advance and at the door. Doors will open at 6 p.m. for the dinner, and at 8 p.m. for those attending the Auction and Dessert only. The live auction begins at 8:30 p.m. and the silent auction will remain open until approximately 10 p.m. Cash, checks, Visa and MasterCard will be accepted.

The Ecology Center is a non-profit, membership-based organization committed to protecting and improving the local environment. Proceeds from the Harvest Feast and Auction will benefit environmental education, advocacy and information programs of the Ecology Center.

Cobblestone Farms located at 2781 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor. Dinner seating is limited. If you would like to make dinner reservations, request a catalog of auction items and/or auction tickets, or if you would like more information, please call the Ecology Center at 761-3186.

RICHELLE LYNN JONES, Chelsea area resident and daughter of Phil and Sherry Jones will be competing for the title of Miss Michigan K & B on Sept. 27 at the Northfield Hilton in Troy. Richelle is a senior at Chelsea High school, where she plays the french horn in the wind ensemble, and is captain of the Flag Corps during marching season. She performs with Washington Street Show Choir, was in the 1991 CHS production of Grease, and has competed in several baton competitions, receiving many titles and trophies. The Sept. 27 beauty pageant will be Richelle's first. She plans to attend college in the fall of 1993.

Webster Fall Festival Scheduled Saturday

Old-fashioned fun and old-fashioned prices are featured at the Webster Fall Festival on Sept. 28. The price of a roast pork dinner hasn't changed in four years at this annual autumn event.

Festival goers can experience the sights and sounds of "yesteryear" in a variety of ways. Hay rides, games and crafts for kids, antique cars and farm equipment and a blacksmith shop are just part of the many events and experiences offered.

A special feature of the festival this year will be the historic one-room school house, the Podunk school, which was recently moved to the site of the festival and is being restored by the Webster Township Historical Society.

The school was built about 1850 and was located on Walsh Rd., in Webster township. The historical society had the building moved to its property on Webster Church and Farrell Rds. It is being restored and will be a public museum. The addition of the school house at this site makes this corner of Webster township a rich historical place to learn about the life of our ancestors.

The Society has also restored a blacksmith/wheelwright shop which is next door to the school house.

Also on this corner is the Webster Community House, the Scadin farm and the Webster United Church of Christ (built in 1834 and is the oldest, continually operating church in Washtenaw county).

The festival takes place, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., at this historic corner. The WUCC and the Webster Township

Farm Bureau Says Federal Wetlands Testing Was Faulty

The federal government is expected to soon announce a 1992 wetlands proposal that is based on the findings of faulty and biased government field testing, according to Michigan Farm Bureau. And if reports are correct, the latest Bush administration proposal will backpedal on a number of key wetlands issues vital to farmers, said public affairs director Al Almy.

"Many of the common-sense, science-based changes in wetlands policy that would have been made by proposed revisions in the 1991 wetlands manual now could be totally disregarded," he said. "Many of the issues important to Michigan farmers, including protection of true wetlands and the recognition of private property rights, could be all washed away by a flood of misinformation that began with improper government field tests."

Despite those tests, Almy said that revisions made in 1991 still would have protected true wetlands which wetlands preservationists falsely said would be lost under new rules. "Backed by those results, groups supporting stronger wetlands regulations continually have misrepresented the impact of the 1991 wetlands revisions," Almy said.

"The proposed 1991 revisions recognized the scientific reality that wetlands should be reasonably saturated. Without that key indicator, many farmers will once again find themselves caught in the same old quagmire of overregulation the administration had promised to extricate us from," according to Almy.

On the average, over four trillion gallons of precipitation falls on the U.S. every day. People use about six percent of this.

We Can Solve Our Energy Problems

The Alliance to Save Energy estimates that by utilizing fully just four existing technologies, the U.S. could reduce energy consumption by 6% a year, saving $20 billion dollars annually and cutting carbon dioxide emissions by 10%.

By Philip C. Clarke

What are these "miracle technologies?" No miracle at all. They are: energy-efficient windows, compact fluorescent light bulbs, efficient oil burners, and industrial pipe insulation. The fact that even these simplest of measures are not yet in common use illustrates why there's no easy answer to the question: What is America's energy future?

What will be the role of oil? U.S. domestic production is now at its lowest level in 30 years, with nearly half our consumption of roughly 17 million barrels per day coming from foreign sources. Yet President Bush's call to open only 19 square miles of the Alaskan National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR) to exploration is facing an uphill battle in Congress. Opponents argue that, even at the best estimate of 9.2 billion barrels, the field would produce only six months worth of oil. The figures are correct, but out of context. The oil would flow over several decades, providing jobs and reducing our dependence on unstable markets. In fact, exploration of the ANWR territory cleared the Senate Energy Committee once before, in 1989. Eight days later, the infamous Exxon Valdez ran aground, and the Alaskan proposal died in the political backlash.

Of course, we'll eventually run out of oil together. But a nation that has come to depend on petroleum for more than 40% of all energy needs, simply must use the resources it has while alternative and renewable sources are being developed. To do otherwise would be like selling the family car when you live in a suburb with no public transportation to your job 15 miles away.

ANWR's uphill battle is just one example of the cost of modern life and its trade-offs. The nuclear industry may never recover from the not-in-my-backyard syndrome. The Shoreham nuclear plant on Long Island, for example, was completed in 1985, never allowed to operate, and now will be scrapped. On the other hand, notes the Christian Science Monitor, consumption of natural gas, a cleaner alternative to oil, is rising now that "disastrous" federal price controls and other regulations are being lifted. Cleaner coal and cleaner coal-burning plants are likewise coming on line. Energy efficiency is up in general, reports the Monitor, with the U.S. requiring 28% less energy per dollar of GNP than in 1973.

The renewable resources of wind, sun and water logically will be a good bet for the long run. Federal and state tax breaks in the early '80s fostered the wind-power industry's birth in California, which according to the Wall Street Journal now produces enough electricity with wind to power a city the size of San Francisco. Today, the tax breaks are gone, along with some of the more harebrained windmills. But the technology has continued to advance; and 16 states have wind potential equal to or greater than California's. The Journal reports that plans are now afoot in Iowa that could do for "wind farms" what Henry Ford did for cars.

The combination of resources will have to become more and more "renewable" if we are to continue to have enough energy. It will take increased effort, but it can be done. (Distributed by America's Future, Inc., Milford, Pa.)

THE GARDEN CORNER

Fall Like A Second Spring For Landscape Planting

Gardeners who didn't plant trees and shrubs in the spring get another chance this fall.

Given halfway normal weather, fall can be a nearly ideal planting time, says Mary McLellan, Master Gardener co-ordinator at Michigan State University. Adequate moisture and cool temperatures, combined with relatively warm soil, make for good root growth, she explains, and that helps plants get established before winter.

Most landscape ornamentals can be planted in early fall. Some—including some oaks, poplars, red maple, birch, magnolia, dogwood, hawthorn, hornbeam, tulip tree, sweet gum, yellowwood, golden rain tree and most fruit trees—are better planted in spring because of their susceptibility to winter injury.

Matching the right plant with the planting site and local growing conditions is the first key step, she points out. Site characteristics to consider include drainage (some trees and shrubs will tolerate soggy soil; most won't), exposure to sun and prevailing wind, and soil (clay or sand, compacted or not, fertile or not, etc.). Plant traits to consider are mature size and shape (this determines proper spacing from structures and other plants); susceptibility to pests, diseases and other problems (these relate to future maintenance needs); ornamental characteristics, such as the presence of flowers, fruit, interesting bark textures, multiple stems, etc.; and hardiness.

"The first issue with hardiness is survival," McLellan says. "Marginally hardy plants may survive a mild winter or a series of mild winters in a protected planting site but die when normal weather returns. The second issue is performance. An exotic plant that just barely survives year after year usually does less for the landscape than a common but better adapted plant that's thriving and growing well. Its maintenance needs are likely to be higher, too, because of winter injury and increased susceptibility to disease, insect and environmental problems due to stress."

At planting time, dig a hole twice as big as the plant's root ball, she advises. A hole barely big enough for the root ball to sit in doesn't give roots much room to grow. A big hole, on the other hand, backfilled with loose soil makes for easy root penetration and quick establishment.

Plant the tree or shrub at its original growing level. This may mean trying it in the hole and adjusting the planting depth, either by adding a little soil to the bottom or digging a little deeper.

Planting depth is important for root health, McLellan explains. Planting too deep may suffocate roots; roots too near the surface may dry out.

Before filling the hole, make sure that any non-biodegradable materials—plastic burlap, wire, plastic cord, etc.—are removed from the trunk and the rootball. Wire and other materials can girdle the trunk, she explains. And plastic around the roots will constrict their growth.

Fill the hole gently but firmly to eliminate air pockets around the roots, but don't tramp around the base of the plant, McLellan cautions. This can compact the soil and make it difficult for roots to grow. Settle the soil by watering, instead, and add more soil as needed until the tree is firmly anchored. Use extra soil to build a ridge of soil 2 to 4 inches high around the margin of the hole—outside the root area. This creates a reservoir for watering.

Planting time is the best time to stake and guy trees, if necessary. Whether a tree needs one, two or three stakes depends on its size—the bigger the tree, the more support it needs. To prevent damage to the tree trunk, use wide, soft strapping material or padded wire to fasten the tree to the stakes.

Mulching around the base of the tree helps conserve soil moisture and protects against alternate freezing and thawing of the soil, which can damage the roots and even heave some smaller plants right out of the ground, McLellan notes. Mulch will also help keep weeds down next year.

"When you mulch the root zone, do not pile wood chips, shredded bark or whatever up against the trunk," she cautions. "This makes a hiding place for mice, which can severely injure or kill young plants over the winter by gnawing on the bark."

Water regularly during dry weather to promote development of a sturdy root system. Soak the soil thoroughly once a week or so, but don't water so often that it remains waterlogged—roots need air as well as water, and overwatering will kill them.

Special Assistance For Veterans Now Available in Area

Through a unique arrangement with the Michigan Employment Security Commission in Ypsilanti, special services for veterans are now available in Ann Arbor. A veterans job service representative is conveniently located with the county's Human Services Center at 2140 E. Ellsworth Rd. in Ann Arbor on Tuesdays and Thursdays. A veterans benefits specialist is located at the site five days a week.

Veterans seeking job placement (permanent full-time, part-time, temporary or day labor) or employers seeking to fill positions may wish to take advantage of this special arrangement. Call 971-2182 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.; or between 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m., on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and ask for Gregg Weaver.

Veterans and their families seeking emergency financial aid, VA guaranteed home loans or assistance with other benefits may wish to contact the senior veterans benefits specialist at the same number. The benefits specialist is assigned to the site five days per week, but a call to confirm that an unexpected emergency hasn't necessitated his leaving is appreciated. Please ask for Mark Lindke.

If you have any questions regarding this program or benefit services in Washtenaw county, please call 484-6870.

Keep an Environmental Leader in the Office of County Drain Commissioner

RE-ELECT JANIS BOBRIN

Washtenaw County residents have a right to a healthy environment in which to live and raise their families. They should know that their water resources are protected.

Responsibility for water quality protection cannot be left to state or federal governments. That's why I am aggressively working at the County level to protect our water resources through stronger local standards and tougher enforcement of existing laws. And why I will continue to be a leader in the County's fight to stop construction of a proposed hazardous waste disposal complex in southeast Washtenaw County.

My qualifications include a master's degree in urban planning, and 17 years' experience as a professional environmental planner. I'm a member and newly elected Chair of southeast Michigan's Area-wide Water Quality Board, and board member and past President of the East Michigan Environmental Action Council.

I'm proud of my accomplishments as Drain Commissioner. I ask for your support on November 3.

Lima Township Board Proceedings

Regular Meeting September 14, 1992
The regular meeting of the Lima Township Board was called to order at 8:00 by Supervisor VanRiper and opened with the Pledge to the Flag. Present were Supervisor VanRiper, Clerk Bareis, Trustees Heller and Trinkle. Absent, Treasurer Messman; also present several guests and Zoning Inspector Jon Wolf. Approved motion to develop and sign a resolution opposing the purchase of Reddeman Farms Golf Course by Washtenaw County at a special meeting on Monday, September 14, at 7:30 p.m. Approved minutes of August 3 meeting. Zoning Inspector Wolf issued 9 permits. Approved motion to table Gillespie rezoning request to October meeting. Approved payment of bills as presented. Meeting adjourned at 10:55 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Arlene R. Bareis, Clerk.

Special Meeting September 14, 1992
A special meeting of the Lima Township Board was held Monday, September 14, 1992 at the Township Hall, and was opened with the Pledge to the Flag at 7:35 p.m. Present were Supervisor VanRiper, Clerk Bareis, Treasurer Messman, Trustees Heller and Trinkle. Also, approximately 35 guests. The following resolution was offered by Trustee Heller and seconded by Trustee Trinkle. All ayes. Resolution declared adopted.

RESOLUTION TO OPPOSE TAKING OF PRIVATELY OWNED, TAX-PAYING PROPERTY BY GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES
WHEREAS, the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission ("WCPRC") has initiated the purchase of Reddeman Farms Golf Course, Lima Township, MI; and WHEREAS, the usual role of government and its agencies is to provide services and meet needs that cannot or are not being provided or met by private entities; and WHEREAS, Reddeman Farms is an existing facility open to the public and WCPRC does not plan to substantially expand the facility, provide any service, or meet any need that is not presently available; and WHEREAS, Lima Township presently exerts local control of many aspects of the golf course operation by means of zoning regulations and special use conditions to ensure reasonable compatibility with our community; and WHEREAS, WCPRC claims exemption from any local zoning and special use permits; and WHEREAS, the existing golf course provides tax revenue to local government, schools, and the county; and WHEREAS, WCPRC is exempt from taxation; and WHEREAS, the creation of the existing golf course created new jobs, created additional recreation opportunity, and preserved open space, the purchase of an existing facility has none of the above advantages; and WHEREAS, all negotiations were conducted in closed session and no public announcement was made prior to the adoption of the enabling resolution September 2, 1992 by the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LIMA TOWNSHIP BOARD THAT:
1. The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners be requested to reverse and revoke their resolution of September 2, 1992 that approved plans, cost estimate, estimate of the period of usefulness, and lease contract for the purchase of Reddeman Farms Golf Course until there has been reasonable public disclosure, discussion and input so that an informed decision can be made.
2. The Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners be requested to adopt a policy that prohibits the purchase of viable taxpaying privately owned facilities serving the general public unless such acquisition will result in a substantial increase in benefits to the public.
Arlene R. Bareis, Clerk.

ORDER A CLASSIFIED! 475-1371

TOWNSHIP OF DEXTER ORDINANCE NO. 22A

AN ORDINANCE TO CONTROL AND REGULATE THE OPEN BURNING OF WASTE MATERIALS, REFUSE, TRASH, AND OTHER MATERIALS IN THE TOWNSHIP OF DEXTER AND TO PROVIDE/PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF ITS PROVISIONS.

SECTION 1 RUBBISH FIRES
No person shall start, kindle or maintain any open fire for the burning of garbage, animal carcasses, refuse, trash, animal waste, plastics, rubber or any other material which gives off a hazardous, toxic or foul smelling odor on or in any public street, alley, road, right-of-way or other public ground, or upon any private land.

SECTION 2 EXCEPTIONS
This ordinance shall permit attended fires such as, the burning of charcoal, or other suitable material for outdoor preparation of food, recreational campfires, or the burning of leaves, brush, dried vegetation, non-treated wood or construction materials composed of non-treated wood. All fires must be attended by a responsible person.

SECTION 3 PERMITS
A permit must be obtained for the burning of brush, dried vegetation, wood or wooden construction materials.

SECTION 4 VIOLATION
Any person, occupant of the dwelling, firm or corporation violating any provision of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment of not more than 90 days or both, and shall pay the costs of prosecution.

SECTION 5 REPEAL
The Ordinance No. 22 and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed upon the effective date of this ordinance.

SECTION 6 SEVERABILITY
Any section or provision of this Ordinance which is subsequently declared to be unconstitutional and unenforceable for any reason shall be considered separate and severable from this amending Ordinance, and the remaining provisions shall not be affected by such invalidity.

SECTION 7 EFFECTIVE DATE
This ordinance shall be in full force and effect 30 days after the date of its adoption.

Dated: September 15, 1992
Published: September 23, 1992
Effective: October 23, 1992

Senior NEWS
from the Chelsea Retirement Community
Compiled by M. C. Martin

What Is a Receptionist?
The picture that comes to mind, for most of us, is the gum chewing, novel reading, nail painting young lady in command of the outer office. In the movies, we see her as one with just enough education to press a button, speak to the boss, and tell the salesman to take a seat and wait a few minutes.

I may exaggerate but it's a mental picture like that. After you've seen our Charlene Day, and others, in the office just off the Kresge Lobby, you will change the real life picture. Charlene starts the day at 8 a.m. and continues full speed ahead (except for a break or two) until 4:15 p.m. And she does this five days a week. How did I ever go into this office hundreds of times before and not see a story for the Reporter, or The Standard? Bear with me a few lines. Charlene literally has her finger on the pulse of the community which we call home. She has to know a month ahead what activities are on, the scores of things going on, or which have been cancelled. Residents going outside the home to a dinner or some entertainment must register with her. All trips on the C.A.T.S. bus or the home bus must call her, including doctor appointments. Residents are supposed to tell her also if driving their own car and plan to be gone downtown awhile. Some don't. Maybe you have visitors, and nobody knows where you are.

She does lots of typing. Included are noon announcements, birthday lists and calendars. Some other responsibilities are: schedule resident and guest meals, write work orders, make announcements all day on the P.A. system, memo info on residents, make door plates, make employee name badges, schedule activities for Town Hall and many depend on her to provide change for the candy and food machines.

This has not been an attempt to tell you everything she works at. However, you can see that she and the others named below do not have much time to paint their nails, nor read a novel. You all have our thanks for doing a fine job, mornings, afternoons and evenings for seven days a week. Reception office staff: Lu Thornburn, Mon.-Fri., 4:15 to 9 p.m.; Carol Balliet and Shirley Schultz, Sat. and/or Sun., 8 a.m. to 3:15 or 3:15 to 9 p.m.; Cindy Adams, Mon.-Fri., 10 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.; Denise Yekulis, Mon.-Fri., 1 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.; Sue Collier, whenever needed; Cathy Hill, whenever needed on week-ends. Each one could be called a master of all trades.

M.C. Martin.
An Old Friend Is Gone
The big tulip tree, known to nearly all the older residents, is gone. I think this great tree, close to the bridge between the E and M building at the third floor level, was probably a good sized tree when ground was broken for the Methodist Home at the turn of the century. Limbs on the lower half had been dying for several years. It was a beautiful sight any time but when in blossom with its thousands of small tulips, it was magnificent. Towering above the five-story E building, it was straight enough to become the main mast on a world class sailing ship. It, and a large companion pine close by, stood as sentinels at the entrance to our beautiful court yard. We learned to love both trees while we had Sunday services on the glassed-in bridge while Dancy House route to our regular chapel was under construction. Many birds and squirrels also loved them. With no advance announcement, on Sept. 16 we heard the chain saws. Not allowed in the yard, as many residents as possible watched from windows from all buildings. A huge red truck with a giant finger carried a man into the sky with his chain saw. Every limb that fell hurt us a little bit. But when the trunk, cut into short lengths, came down we almost wiped a mist from our eyes. The final lower log came down and actually shook the earth. We valued this tree for its beauty, but actually Michigan was blessed with these for possible items of daily use. Indians used the large ones to make dug out canoes. Also the wood makes excellent book paper, and is sought after for carving. A huge stump marks the spot.

Chelsea Fair Winners
Three of our residents feel good after having worked many hours on their projects in the ceramics class. They exhibited in the Chelsea Community Fair and came away with first, second and third awards. First prize went to Pat Weimaster for her "Old World Santa"; a large group called "Thanksgiving Set" went to Florence Barber; and the third award called "Thanksgiving Basket" went to Martha Musson. We need to say "Thank You" to the ladies, and to say the work is now on display in the ceramic showcase in the Kresge Lobby.

A Reminder . . .
A reminder to everybody in the Chelsea area to circle Nov. 14 on your calendar. This is the day of the fabulous HOLIDAY FAIR here at the Chelsea Retirement Community. Open 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. This one day in the year event supports the Residents Council's many projects such as library newspapers, Upper Room, residence beautification, $1,000 for C.A.T.S., $1,000 for Christmas and many other benefits. There will be just about everything for sale at bargain prices. Bring the whole family. Keep this reminder. More details before the big day.

Old Hat Is Off to Nancy
Jig-saw puzzles are as old as the hills, I guess. There are small ones, that anyone can do before breakfast, to large ones three foot square almost that the most patient never do quite finish. Nancy Getz has just finished one of the big ones. She had it set up in the M-2 Lounge for a while. We would stop and try to fit just one little piece in. Impossible. But she kept at it. Some times hours at a time. The pieces were so small that you could hardly pick one up. And there might be a hundred the same color and the same shape that even an expert had trouble with them. So we say, well done Nancy. You deserve a gold medal, or at least a blue ribbon.

Important—Read On!
Elsie Bradshaw happened to talk at the door of the Fabric Room yesterday. Ladies may be overlooking some real bargains in this place. I looked in there and decided we would try to publicize this activity more. There all kinds of fabrics there that could be made into hundreds of things. Also there are yarns, cushions, lap robes and afghans. And lots, and lots more. Doesn't that sound like it would be worth a trip down there? Elsie has been going down to the store on appointment, but she has now decided it would be worth while to have a regular store hour each week, in addition to making appointments. Now save this notice. Store will be open every Wednesday p.m. from 3 to 4 o'clock. Or contact Elsie, phone 475-8473.

Old Stuff . . .
Why is it that so many of us collect (or save) old things? We get some old furniture in the wood shop, which needs some repair or refinishing, or both. I was talking to Jim Turner who does carpenter jobs for himself and others. He is good at making old furniture look good also. He was working on a rocking chair that had to be repaired, refinished and also recaned. Putting a new seat or back in any chair with the cane method is not only slow work, it needs experience and patience to do a good looking job. Over the years, Jim has developed those qualities. I asked him how he charged for those jobs. He said that he would give the resident an estimate, which they sometimes thought was too high. He asked one man to ask a Grand Rapids firm how much they would charge for a job, after Jim had estimated. The G.R. firm wanted twice what Jim wanted. Jim is not looking for work,

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers, Edwin and Ernest Horning.

Funeral services were held Monday, Sept. 21, at 1 p.m. from Zion Lutheran church with the Rev. Mark Weirauch, pastor of Zion Lutheran church officiating. Burial with full military honors provided by the Herbert J. McKune American Legion Post was in Zion Cemetery.

Arrangements were by the Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Correction

Last week's story about the Chelsea landfill contained incorrect information about the long-term cost sharing arrangement between the village and Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships. The village will pay 70 percent of long-term expenses and the townships will pay 30 percent.

The median age for a first marriage for men in 1990 was 26.1 years. For women it was 23.9 years.

NEWEST MEMBERS of the Chelsea Rotary Club are, Schliecher. They were inducted on Tuesday, Sept. 15, from left, Alex Weddon, Allen Cole and Gordon

Gene Dr. Residents Get Cost Estimates

Residents of Gene Dr. on the edge of the village were given the results of an engineering study to determine how much it would cost to extend water and sewer service to their road, as well as pave the road, install storm sewer, and bring the area up to village specifications.

Gene Dr., a private dirt road, is an anomaly. Residents pay all village taxes but have wells and septic fields. They also do not get their road plowed in the winter.

Midwestern Consulting estimated the total cost of the project to be $417,225, including $284,475 to bring the road up to specifications and $132,750 to extend water and sanitary sewer service.

The affected properties include eight single-family homes and four larger parcels of vacant land.

No determination has been made as to whether the project will proceed or how it would be financed. If the project were to be financed for 20 years and a loan paid back in equal installments, property owners would be faced with a yearly assessment of $1,330 per acre, plus interest.

In 1967, A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, became the first black vice-president of the AFL-CIO, according to the Department of Labor's "Labor Firsts in America."

The Rev. Richard Dake Is New Leader of United Methodist Church

The Rev. Richard Dake, a man who believes in encouraging growth of his congregation, is the new minister at the Chelsea First United Methodist church.

Dake, 37, a tall, athletic man with a friendly manner and a strong handshake, arrived in Chelsea with his wife, Laura, and daughters Emily 10, and Elizabeth, 8, at the end of August. He previously served St. Matthew's United Methodist church near Ypsilanti. His first services here were Sept. 13.

He takes the place of the Rev. Dr. Jerry Parker, who was re-appointed to Saline.

At St. Matthew's, where he served for 7 1/2 years, Dake led a 200-member congregation. Previous to St. Matthew's he served in Springville near Osted. There he saw his congregation grow from 80 to 135.

It's a big change for Dake in some respects. His congregation here has 500 members, more than twice the number of his previous church, and he says it has plenty of room to grow. St. Matthew's, a 30-year-old church, is also in the middle of a subdivision called Gault Village, an area similar to but several times the size of Lignewood subdivision in Chelsea.

"It was very much a baby boomer congregation," Dake says.

"It was a very unusual situation because the church had no clear identity with any community. We dealt primarily with issues of young families and children and their spiritual growth. We sought broader participation in youth groups and mission trips as well as fellowship activities."

Chelsea, Dake says, has a much broader age range in its congregation, but at the same time "is youthening rather than aging" over-all. He points to Sunday school enrollment last week of 214. He also notes that the Chelsea area will be one of the areas of population growth in the county through the end of the decade.

"Some of the needs are the same here," Dake says.

The new minister is also familiar with building projects. The Chelsea church plans a two-phase, $1.2 million building program. Ground-breaking is Sept. 27.

At St. Matthew's, the congregation completed a $120,000 addition to provide educational and meeting space, and handicap accessibility, much the same kind of project as Chelsea's.

"We have a very strong lay leadership here and they're doing a fine job of running the project," Dake says.

"My job is to make sure the congregation sees the project not just in dollars and cents but as an extension of the ministry."

Dake grew up in the small Michigan community of Montrose, near Flint. He earned his bachelor's degree at Adrian College in 1977 and earned a master of divinity degree at Duke University in 1980. His first church appointment was at Springville United Methodist church, and it lasted five years.

He has worked as a volunteer chaplain at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti. He's past-president of the Ypsilanti Ministerial Association. He coached fifth and sixth grade basketball and is active in Girl Scouts.

Dake met his wife in North Carolina. She's a native of Fayetteville, N.C. and is a professional dental assistant, although she's spent the last year working at home to be with her children. She has taught Sunday school, sung in the choir, and taught Vacation Bible School.

Dake is an admitted sports enthusiast with interests in golf, softball, and basketball.

"Two of the first questions they asked me, even before I got here, is 'what's your handicap,' and 'are you a left-handed power-hitter,'" he jokes.

"I'm definitely a right-handed singles hitter."

And he says he has about a 16 handicap.

Everybody's Science

A Tree That Fertilizes Itself...

Tired of fertilizing trees? How about a tree that fertilizes itself?

It may sound far-fetched, but certain trees can fix nitrogen on their own. They get help from special soil bacteria living on the roots, in the same way that legume plants like soybeans do.

A tree called Maackia amurensis, native to China, has this ability—meaning it could lower landscaping costs to homeowners. They wouldn't have to add nitrogen fertilizer to boost the tree's growth, say a U.S. Department of Agriculture scientist and a colleague formerly at the University of Maryland.

That's also good environmental news. Less fertilizer reduces chances that it could pollute water as it changes to nitrate in the soil, says Peter van Berkum, a plant microbiologist for USDA's Agricultural Research Service. He is based at the agency's Beltsville, Md., research center.

The tree, which has no common name, has been growing in this country in such locales as Buffalo, N.Y. and metropolitan Washington, D.C., and has a growing range from North Carolina to northern Minnesota. It can grow up to 60 feet high, but averages about 40 feet. Its bronze bark peels off—similar to the white birch tree's bark—and creamy, white flower clusters bloom in July, providing summer color.

According to van Berkum and co-researcher William Graves, it was not known that the tree, using soil bacteria called rhizobia, could fix its own nitrogen as fertilizer.

Nitrogen fixed by the tree is housed in tiny root nodules and delivered directly into the plant, so it doesn't escape into the soil, van Berkum says. These nodules are home to rhizobia bacteria that take nitrogen gas from the air and chemically convert it to a form the tree can use for growth.

Graves says the tree is ideal for urban landscapes because of the environmental and cost-saving advantages. A nursery on Maryland's Eastern Shore is interested in working with the scientists to develop production methods, such as how to inoculate the bacteria in potting soil. The bacteria then would move into the root nodules.

"Once we have developed and fine-tuned these procedures, the tree could be available for retail sale within several years," Graves says.

Salem Residents Win In 4-H Standardbred Horse Project Show

By Janet Nagels, 4-H Youth Agent

Results of the 1992 Michigan 4-H Standardbred Horse Production Project Show, which was held Aug. 29-30 at Lenawee County Fairgrounds in Adrian, resulted in Tiffany Wright of Salem township winning Reserve Champion Conformation Filly and Kristi Wright of Salem winning third place Showmanship. Tiffany and Kristi also won a trip to Lexington, Ky. to see the third leg of the Triple Crown in Standardbred racing for their outstanding job of record keeping.

Tiffany and Kristi raised their foal, Mischievous Cat, from a weanling to a yearling and trained her. After one year Mischievous Cat was then sold at the Michigan Classic Yearling Sale along with other top foals from around the state. Mischievous Cat was donated to the 4-H Standardbred Production Project by Shiawassee Farm in Durand.

Purpose of the program is to help young people learn responsibility, care of an animal, feeding, breeding management, health requirements and economics necessary for successful horse production. The program is sponsored by Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association, Michigan Standardbred Breeders Association and Michigan State University Extension.

Average 1989 weekly earnings of full-time health care workers in private hospitals ranged from $743 for pharmacists to $281 for nursing assistants, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Average weekly earnings for full-time registered nurses were $534; for medical technologists, $517. EKG technicians had average weekly earnings of $337.
