ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-SECOND YEAR—No. 25

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1992

20 Pages This Week

IN ANTICIPATION of a huge crowd for last Friday's home Chelsea football play-off game, football parents and others helped haul additional bleachers from other Chelsea schools and the Chelsea fairgrounds to the high school football field. By game time, all the stands were filled. It was Chelsea's last home football game of the season.

Village, Townships Study Transfer Site

The village and area townships are still trying to decide how they will handle their garbage disposal problems once the village landfill on Werkner Rd. closes sometime next year.

The village anticipates the landfill will run out of space sometime next spring.

Lately the governments have been studying the construction of a transfer station, perhaps at the landfill. The station would be a place for trash haulers, residents, or businesses to bring their trash. From there the trash would be "transferred" to a landfill, more than likely a landfill owned by Browning Ferris Industries (BFI) in Salem township.

Most of the interest in such a facility has been shown by the village and Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships, although representatives of the Village of Manchester and Manchester township attended a meeting on the subject last week.

Also at the meeting was a representative of BFI. The company has offered to build and operate a station, although it wouldn't come cheap.

Chelsea village manager Jack Myers said the facility proposed by BFI would cost about $500,000 to build, as well as $15,000 per month to operate in the first year, rising to about $18,000 in the third year. On top of that, it would cost $300 to haul away each 100-cubic-yard bin and another $9.95 per yard for landfill tipping fees.

Charges to haulers at the transfer station would offset some of the cost.

The governments could buy the facility from BFI after five years for $250,000.

Myers said the group interested in the station wants updated information on how much garbage might come into the facility to see whether a smaller station could be built or if a station is even feasible. In addition, it is considering other sites further south, partly because Lyndon township is concerned about truck traffic.

It's also possible the governments could form an authority similar to the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority and apply for a grant to construct the station. That process, however, would take considerably longer.

It's not likely the station will be built before the landfill runs out of space, which means the village will have to haul its trash to the BFI facility.

Festival of Lights To Open Holiday Season

Chelsea Festival of Lights will be held Friday, Dec. 4.

The Festival of Lights is an annual event that officially begins the holiday season in Chelsea.

The evening begins at Pierce Park at 8 p.m. with the lighting of the Chelsea Rotary Club Tree of Lights. Rotary Club president Dave Mathis will host speakers John Keusch and Dudley K. Holmes, Jr. Members of the Chelsea High School Band and Choir will lead carols. Chelsea Fair Queen Betsy Sorocosh will throw the switch to illuminate the Tree of Lights, and Santa Claus will make his first appearance of the season!

Santa will then be taken to his workshop at the UAW Hall, 218 S. Main St. Chelsea Modern Mothers Club has decorated Santa's workshop with holiday finery. Children can tell Santa their fondest wishes from 8:45 to 9 p.m. Dayspring Gifts will take a complimentary photo of each child with Santa.

The Chelsea Ministerial Society will sponsor the Living Creche on Main St., near McKune Library. The nativity scene (with live animals) will be portrayed by members of area churches. Choir members from Chelsea area churches will lead carols.

A Hospitality Center with complimentary refreshments will be sponsored by the Chelsea Downtown Merchants Association at the VFW Hall, 105 N. Main St., from 8 to 9 p.m. Chelsea stores will host open houses for shopping, browsing, and sharing holiday treats. Free hay rides, courtesy of Rod Powers, will be given in the downtown area. Carolers from area churches will burst into song on downtown street corners.

The festive evening will close with the traditional All-Community Sing at the Chelsea Train Depot, directed by B.J. & Chris Hohnke. The Lioness Club will present its annual award for the best holiday decoration. The Depot Association and Chamber of Commerce, represented by Veretta Whittaker and Ann Feeney, will provide light refreshments.

Local Voters Prefer Status Quo in Elections, Lose Republican Voice

Although voters nation-wide elected the first Democratic president in 16 years, the first black woman U.S. senator, and the first Native American Indian U.S. congressman, voters in western Washtenaw county generally preferred the status quo last Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Voters west of Scio township preferred President George Bush to Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton, with the exception of Sylvan township, where Clinton won by 61 votes out of 3,132 votes cast.

Independent candidate Ross Perot generally fared much better here than he did nationally, where he drew 19 percent of the vote. In Lima township he drew 23 percent, in Dexter and Lyndon townships 26 percent, and in Bridgewater township 29 percent. In Sylvan township he drew just under 20 percent.

In all local elections where incumbents were challenged, incumbents were returned to office.

In Dexter township the entire independent slate of candidates was defeated by the incumbents and one Republican who won the summer primary.

Supervisor James Drolet (R) beat Barry Marshall (Ind.), 1,148 to 953, clerk William Eisenbeiser (D) defeated Mark Wojno (Ind.), 1,181 to 756, treasurer Julie A. Knight (R) defeated Anne Bonine (Ind.), 1,287 to 761, and Harley Rider (D), the newcomer, and Earl Doletzky (R) defeated Carol Kempf with 1,206, 1,097, and 897 votes, respectively.

In the only other contest election in the area, Freedom township supervisor Robert Little (R) defeated Stanley Tschiltz (Ind.), 454 to 164.

In other elections of local interest, incumbent U.S. Congressman Bob Carr (D) defeated Dick Chrysler (R), 134,219 to 130,350. Even though Carr is an incumbent, he was not for western Washtenaw voters. Voters here are represented by Carl Pursell (R), but the district was redrawn and Pursell decided to retire.

Western Washtenaw voters also lost their Republican voice in the statehouse, again partially due to a re-drawing of the districts. Long-time representative Margaret O'Connor decided to run for U.S. Congress after the 52nd district was changed but she was defeated by Chrysler in the primaries. Mark Oulmet (R) was then defeated last Tuesday by Mary Schroer (D), partly because the new district includes more of Ann Arbor, which tends to have more Democratic voters.

In one surprise involving a Chelsea resident, county treasurer Michael Stimpson (R) was defeated by Nancy Davis (D), 64,345 to 49,892.

All other county incumbents were returned to office. Clerk-register of deeds Peggy Haines (R) defeated Pam Fromm (D), 59,811 to 54,731; drain commissioner Janis Bobrin (D) beat Steve Olmsted (R), 68,375 to 47,572; and sheriff Ron Schebl (R) defeated Charles Stewart (D), 64,841 to 54,100; Democrat Brian Mackey defeated Chelsea resident and Republican Lynwood Noah for prosecuting attorney, 89,892 to 47,953.

Three of four state proposals failed. Proposals A and C, both property tax proposals, were handily defeated. Proposal A, which would have limited assessment increases, was rejected 2,127,054 to 1,276,451. Proposal C, so-called "Cut and Cap," roundly criticized by school groups and others, was defeated 2,046,974 to 1,397,616. It would have capped assessments and cut school property taxes by 30 percent.

Proposal D, the complex auto insurance reform proposal, also lost big, 2,133,629 to 1,317,398.

Only proposal B, the term limits proposal, was passed. Similar measures also passed in 13 other states, indicating current frustration with the political process. Under the proposal, state House members will be limited to three two-year terms; state Senate members to two four-year terms; the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and secretary of state to two, four-year terms; Michigan members of the U.S. House to three, two-year terms in a 12-year period; and Michigan members of the U.S. Senate to two six-year terms in a 24-year period.

In county proposals, voters approved a one-time millage to build a shelter for victims of domestic violence. Taxpayers will pay one-quarter mill for two years. The county will sell bonds for the project, and lease the building to the Domestic Violence Project. After the two years of funding, the project plans to begin an endowment campaign.

Both proposals for Washtenaw Community College failed. A one-mill increase for operations was rejected 82,221 to 46,823. A $23.3 million bond issue for building expansion failed 56,523 to 50,863.

In the race for Washtenaw County Circuit Judge, Kurtis Wilder topped Jerome D. Farmer, 48,746 to 39,770.

Bus Route Gets Support From Sylvan Township

Bus service between Chelsea and Ann Arbor should continue for at least another year due, in part, to contributions to the service by Sylvan and Lima townships.

Chelsea Village Council was scheduled last night to decide whether to renew the village's contract with Ann Arbor Transportation Authority. Cost is $4,830.

Last Thursday the Sylvan township board voted to contribute $1,000 toward the contract. The previous Monday, Lima township board voted to contribute $500.

Village council indicated a year ago that it would not continue the contract without outside support.

Village president Richard Steele said last month that even without Sylvan township's support, he would recommend that the contract be approved.

Sylvan township's contribution is contingent on the village remaining a village, said outgoing supervisor Don Schoenberg. By the end of the year a committee is scheduled to recommend whether the village should pursue city status.

"If Chelsea changes to a city, Sylvan township won't have any riders," Schoenberg said. If the village changes to a city, all former Sylvan township property within the former village would fall under jurisdiction of the city. Those property owners would pay no township taxes. Ridership statistics show that all Sylvan township riders live in the village.

Lima township's contribution hinges on AATA changing the route to provide stops within the township, probably on Jackson Rd., and that would be a fairly significant change. Now there are no stops between Dex-

Girl Jumps from Overpass, Listed in Serious Condition

A Chelsea High school girl was seriously injured Monday afternoon after she apparently jumped off an I-94 overpass.

The senior, a member of the varsity cross country and track teams, was listed in serious condition Tuesday morning at University of Michigan Hospital.

According to police, the girl went to the Freer Rd. overpass near the school. A passerby saw what was happening and tried to talk her out of jumping.

The girl, who landed in the right westbound lane, was not struck by any passing vehicles. A trucker stopped his truck and blocked the road to prevent other vehicles from hitting the girl.

Chelsea High school counselors were available Tuesday for students who needed help and emotional support.

from downtown restaurants. Women, from left, are Daleen Harper, who helped organize the event, and Clara Smith and Norma Huschke of the music boosters. Music boosters staffed the food booths and high school musicians played during the day.

Lima Township Board approved preliminary site plans and the concept of cluster development for a 20-home project just east of Harper Dr. In a 3-1 vote with one abstention, the board approved plans by Harris Home Development Corp. for the 53-acre development between Trinkle Rd. and Old US-12, tentatively called Upland Hills.

The remainder of Chelsea Shopping Center is scheduled to be completed by Jan. 15, according to developer Rene Papo. Footings and foundations have been completed. Structural work was to have started last Thursday but high winds delayed the work, Papo said.

The village is still hopeful the Department of Natural Resources will issue a new landfill operating license once the monitoring system has been approved. DNR has told the village that a system to monitor the new landfill cell has to be approved before a new license will be issued.

A citizens group in Grass Lake has begun an ambitious $250,000 project to restore the burned-out railroad depot. Whistle Stop Park Association, a nonprofit group formed this summer, has purchased the depot land from Napoleon builder Mike McKay, according to association member Rebecca Pavy.

Chelsea varsity football team will play fewer conference games and more non-league games next year as a result of three Southeastern Conference teams leaving the SEC league next year.

As in the past few years, Chelsea's students scored extremely well on both math and reading sections of the state assessment test. For the first time, besides the test being given at the 4th and 7th grade levels, it was administered on a volunteer basis at the 10th grade.

Chelsea High school varsity girls swimmers obliterated their competition in the second annual Chelsea Invitational last Thursday, Nov. 16. Bulldogs' total score of 363 points was 79 points ahead of runner-up Dundee.

The sixth annual Nickel Carnival will be held Saturday at the high school. Proceeds from the booths and games will go to the student council's annual gift to the school, a stereo tape system this year. Those competing for Nickel Carnival queen are Kathy Powers, Caryl Thornton, Debi Stoker and Cheryl Wilkerson. The carnival used to be named Penny Carnival, but inflation changed the name.

Charles Smith of Lingane Rd. reported the first deer taken in firearm season. He shot his six-pointer at 8:10 a.m. Nov. 15 in an undisclosed wooded area north of Chelsea. He usually hunts near Cadillac, so this was his first local deer in 23 years.

Mrs. Kathleen Chapman of 629 N. Main also got a trophy, but a different kind. On a Bermuda vacation with other Ann Arbor city employees, she hauled in a 10-pound barracuda.

Returning lettermen Mike Schnaidt and Doug Weatherwax were elected co-captains of the Bulldogs varsity basketball team, which will have its first game Dec. 6.

Supreme Court To Hear Sobriety Checklane Case Next Year

Six months after the state's Court of Appeals ruled them unconstitutional, the Supreme Court said it will consider the issue of the legality of sobriety checklanes in Michigan. In issuing the order last week, the high court also granted a motion to allow Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) and other interested groups or persons the opportunity to file briefs in the case.

The court is expected to hear arguments on the case early next year. The lower court, earlier this year in a 2-1 decision, found that the Michigan law "still requires some facts constituting the basis for a particularized suspicion to justify a stop."

The U.S. Supreme Court, however, found two years ago that under the country's constitution, the checklanes were a reasonable seizure protected by the Fourth Amendment. MADD Director Bethany Goodman, who said the group has been following the sobriety checklanes issue since the enabling legislation was signed in law in 1986, said she was pleased the request to file a brief had been granted. She said over the years, and in particular this past summer, information has been collected which shows the checklanes are in fact a deterrent to drunk driving.

Goodman said also that in comparing the Michigan and U.S. constitutions, she is hopeful the similarities will provide for a ruling which will allow the checklanes as being legal.

"With the same evidence, we're just hoping they (the state Supreme Court) will interpret it the same way," she said.

The appeal was filed by Attorney General Frank Kelley on behalf of the Michigan State Police, the defendant in the case brought by then state Rep. Rick Sitz, a Taylor Democrat (Sitz v. State Police, Docket No. 93851). Sitz filed the case after the state's first checklane was implemented in Saginaw. Resulting in only one arrest in one hour of operation before being halted through court action, the implementation of the law has been suspended until cases regarding its constitutionality are resolved by the courts.

State Overissues $133 Million In Welfare Benefits

State officials said last week budget figures show that as of the end of 1990-91, the Department of Social Services overpaid $133 million to Michigan clients receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children, General Assistance and food stamps. The findings, reported by Auditor General Thomas McTavish, showed 140,910 overissuances during the year.

That number has grown steadily over the last several years, with 81,728 overissuances in 1987-88 costing $79.8 million.

During the 1990-91 fiscal year, the Family Services Administration responsible for managing the overissuances recovery process collected $9.4 million in cash from clients, reduction of current benefits and attachments to state income tax refunds. But McTavish's report concluded that the administration did not maximize the recovery of program benefits.

In a preliminary response to the audit, which had covered Oct. 1, 1989, through Sept. 30, 1991, the department acknowledged the opportunity to strengthen the recovery process and placed recoupment specialist staff in selected local offices to maximize recovery under revised efforts that emphasize prevention of overpayment.

Although overpayments were into the millions of dollars, following federal adjustments, the estimated overissuances were considered within the tolerable error rate for 1989-90 and 1990-91. As a result, the state was able to escape federal sanctions on the programs involved.

Man Gives Beer To Three Minors

A 23-year-old Chelsea man may face charges for supplying alcohol to three minors last Thursday, Nov. 5.

Police found four cans of beer remaining from two 12-packs after they were called to break up a fight at a local fast food restaurant.

The man apparently picked up two teen-age boys and a 20-year-old girl and the four drove around drinking beer. They admitted to throwing several of the cans out the car window.

South School Book Fair Starts Today

South school's annual book fair is coming Nov. 11, 12, and 13. The books for this year's fair are being provided by a future Chelsea bookstore.

Books will be sold before and during school on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The fair will also be open during conferences (3 to 7:15 p.m.) on Thursday night.

Proceeds from this fair will be used towards the purchase of a computer for the Media Center.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb told the fellows at the country store Saturday night that a piece he saw in the paper early in the week set him to thinking of two facts of American human nature. One is, we can't bear to be told what to do, and the other is that we don't want downs in our lives, just ups. Zeke read a feature on air pollution that noted this country's 196 million cars and trucks are the biggest threat to the air we breathe, for all the laws aimed at cleaning up exhaust and conserving fuel.

You fit them pieces of our national nature together, Zeke said, and you come up with another fact. A law is only as good as the enforcing of it. As long as we can find lead in gasoline we'll buy it, and the catalytic converter be hanged. If it won't be, we'll punch holes in the thing until it dies. It just don't suit us to car pool or ride buses and trains to work. We want to drive direct wherever we want, so we'll leave the environment stuff to the other fellow.

As for them 196 million vehicles, Zeke went on, at any given time owners of 18 million of em are riding around looking for parking places. We are paving over pastures as hard as we can, but we can't keep up. Gasoline tax will keep folks out of their cars exactly the way liquor taxes keep them out of bars, Zeke said, so all Governments look on both as the goose with the golden eggs.

Recent, Zeke reported, he read where the City Council of Albany, Ga. called a public hearing on how to come up with more downtown parking. The public didn't come because nobody could find a place to park within walking distance of the meeting.

Farthermore, Zeke said, it's the same way with roads, Zeke allowed. We can't fix em as fast we tear em up. And the reasons are the same. Folks want parts and goods delivered to their factories and stores. They don't want to go to the freight depot after em. So every truck that says it pays $5,000 a year in road taxes keeps rolling and keeps busting up $50,000 worth of highways.

The fellows were agreed with Zeke that Americans' hot love affair with cars shows no sign of cooling, and all the ad agencies know they are as likely to give up their cars as they are their cocktails, because they are hooked on both. But Bug Hookum took note that the economy is as strong behind both of them as it is tobacco, and for the same reasons. For every sermon you hear on health hazards of cigarettes, Bug said, you hear two on how much tobacco helps jobs, tax revenues and farm exports. The next sound we hear may be America lawyers arguing cases for families of dead smokers in Africa and Asia on a percent base, was Bug's words.

Practical speaking, Clem Webster allowed, Zeke was right about cars. Zeke said we ain't that crowded yet out here in the country, but we are getting a taste of city traffic. Use to, Clem went on, a fellow could live by the side of the road and be a friend of man. Now all he gets at the side of the road is the squeel of tires and the roar of trucks.

Actual, Clem said, traffic is another sign that the country is filling up and the Good Lord ain't making no more land. The good news is, for all of what the developers call progress he saw recent where USDA figures show 70 percent of the Americans live on one percent of the land.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

AATA's Chris White said if more than 25 percent of the route (passengers or miles) is affected by a change, AATA is required to hold a public hearing.

Alzheimer's Caregiver Education Program Set

South Central Michigan Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association sponsors a monthly educational program for caregivers of persons with Alzheimer's disease. On the second Thursday of each month, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., an expert will provide practical information on some aspect of caregiving, planning issues (such as housing, legal and financial concerns) or research.

For the month of November, the program will be held on Thursday, Nov. 12, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the conference room at Society Bank - St. Francis branch, located at 2300 E. Stadium, Ann Arbor. The topic will be "Financial Considerations for Caregivers."

Barbara Zaret, from the Washtenaw County Council on Aging, will provide an overview of financial and health insurance issues which have particular importance for caregivers, as well as discuss specific steps caregivers can take to better prepare for the long term expenditures which they will face in the future.

Additionally, Ms. Zaret will discuss the specifics of qualifying for and benefits available through Medicare, Medicaid, and other public programs.

There also will be an opportunity for questions and answers.

All are welcome and the program is free. Future topics include "Reducing Caregiver Stress," "Improving Home Safety," "Perceptual Changes Associated with Alzheimer's Disease," "Nursing Home Issues—Placement and Emotional Impact on Caregivers," "Update on Alzheimer's Research" and the "Late Stages of Alzheimer's Disease."

For additional information on this and other upcoming programs, call the Alzheimer's Association at 313/741-8200 or 1-800/782-6110.

Lima Extension Study Group Installs New Officers

Friendly plastic was being cut, heated and shaped into Michigan state convention name tags as 17 ladies were seated and prepared for Merkel's decorating lesson.

Peggy Gould and her crafty fingers guided the name tag project. Fran Coy gave the lesson on floor coverings and window treatments. The lesson was videotaped when Merkel's presented it on the county level.

This group of ladies, meeting this day, Oct. 21, at Fran Coy's, always has an exciting array of luncheon dishes. Many were heard asking Lois Bradbury just how she made her delicious cherry pie! Barb Wing was serving coffee or tea as co-hostess.

This October meeting was started with the installation of officers: president, Mary Ann Burgess; vice-president and program coordinators, Barb Wing and Fran Coy. Fran is the county delegate and also county extension chairperson. Secretary-treasurer is Alice Gardener. Recreation co-ordinator is Barb Edict. Publicity is Janet McCalla. Calling committee is Barb Edict and Olive Wiseman.

It was announced that Fran Coy, Janet McCalla, and Mary Ann Burgess were the only persons representing Washtenaw county at the state convention in Boyne Mountain Oct. 27-29. It is unfortunate that more people are not going to take advantage of the many interesting and informative lessons that are offered.

It was voted to invite Laurie Gavelin from Dayspring Gifts to come to the Nov. 18 meeting with her many exciting, interesting store items. Laurie will join the group at the home of Mary Ann Burgess at 10:30 a.m., Nov. 18. Alice Gardener will be co-hostess.

ENGAGED: Hal and Terry Losey of Dexter, parents of Shawn Losey, have announced the engagement of their daughter to Rick Westcott, son of Rick and Linda Westcott of Dexter. Shawn and Rick are 1991 Chelsea High school graduates. Shawn is employed by Boersma Travel and Rick is employed by Michigan Technology. Their wedding date is Sept. 11, 1993.

Substance Abuse Lecture Being Offered

Chelsea Community Hospital is presenting a free substance abuse lecture Thursday evening, Nov. 12 from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m., followed by a self-help meeting.

Betty Bigger, B.A., will be the lecturer on "Self Esteem and Chemical Dependency."

This will be a comprehensive look at how self esteem develops in the individual members in a chemically dependent family system and how each member can increase their self esteem through individual and family recovery.

ty or a transfer station operated by Mr. Rubbish in Whitmore Lake.

The absence of either a landfill or a transfer site will probably be most difficult on township residents who now haul their own trash to the landfill a few times a year because they don't generate enough trash to justify hiring a trash hauling service.

EMU Expert Offers Advice On Leaving Kids Home Alone

Ypsilanti—When is a child old enough to be left home alone?

Watching the adventures of McAuley Caulkin in "Home Alone," many parents may say, "Never!"

However, Dr. Esther "Lindy" Buch, director of EMU's Children's Institute, says knowing when it's OK for both child and parent depends on a lot of factors.

"If a child is in a daycare or an after school program, at some point, a child may feel uncomfortable in the program because being in a group setting all-day is a lot to handle," Buch said.

"So parents may come to the conclusion that the group program isn't quite meeting the child's needs, yet they are uncomfortable about the child being on his or her own."

There are many decisions and transitions that need to be made, Buch said, in order to decide when the appropriate time may be to leave children on their own at home.

Buch said, there are no rigid guidelines to follow, but there are ways to make the transition easier for both child and parent.

"The first thing to look for is the child's desire to stay home and the child's responsibility level in terms of a 'latch-key,' a key to the house and taking care of it," she said, adding the safety of the neighborhood and the child's ability to get home also are considerations.

Parents also need to know if a child can handle the household if there is an emergency or who will be able to check on the child should something go wrong, she said.

"What will the back-up system be? Who will know if the child doesn't make it home or if he comes in late?" she asked. "Can she handle what might go on inside the house? If the toilet breaks or a light burns out?"

Buch advises parents to find out how long the child can stay at home alone or when there is more than one child, if they can all get along for a prolonged period of time.

"I've personally found that if there is more than one child, sometimes it's good and sometimes it isn't depending on how they get along, their responsibility (level) and the age difference between them," she said.

Buch explained that sometimes a child may be ready to stay at home alone, but might not be responsible enough to care for younger siblings.

"If one child has to actually do some caregiving for the other child, it is a lot of pressure for a 10- or 11-year-old to handle," she said.

Buch suggests that making the child feel less alone also can be helpful.

"A dog or cat, or even a caged animal, will make a child feel like someone is there," she said. "You could also leave a snack with a note so the child feels that part of you is actually there."

Chelsea Child Study Club Follows Fall Theme of "Always Growing"

Chelsea Child Study Club reports a very active schedule this fall season. Following its theme for the year, "Always Growing," the club continues its involvement in Chelsea for 1992-93.

"Always Growing in the Community" provided the basis for the September meeting. Lynwood Noah gave a very informative and historical tour of the Chelsea District Court House. Members and guests were told many details of the classic building's restoration and its past and present role in Chelsea's history.

"Always Growing in the Arts" led the club members to the Purple Rose Theater for the October meeting. An evening performance of the musical "Possessed" provided the perfect entertainment with front row seats, right here in Chelsea.

"Always Growing in Childhood Education" became the focus of club members when they provided the beautiful table setting at the National Honor Society Induction Ceremony, Nov. 2.

A lovely Fall floral centerpiece and cookies and punch welcomed the current and new honor students and parents at the reception following the ceremony.

The Child Study Club looks forward to this each year and very much enjoys honoring these deserving students.

The next meeting will be Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m., with hostess Nancy Grau opening her home for a craft program on Holiday Galeric Baskets. Anyone wanting more information on Chelsea Child Study Club may call Louise Likavec, 475-1791. Guests and new members are always welcome.

Hay List Being Compiled For Buyers, Sellers

Producers who have hay to sell or want to buy hay can obtain the information they need in a listing that will be available by late November.

The listing is being compiled by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Osceola county and the Michigan Hay and Forage Council.

"There was a wide disparity in hay yield across the state, with much of central and southern Michigan having ample moisture during the growing season while northern areas of the state were quite dry," says Gerald Lindquist, MSU Extension director for Osceola county.

"The list we are compiling will help producers in northern Michigan who are in need of hay," he says. "Last year, the majority of the hay on the list was sold by March."

Hay sellers can mail information to the Osceola Extension office or call. There will be no charge for listing hay or for a copy of the listing.

The address is MSU Extension Service, Osceola County Courthouse, Box 208, Reed City 49877. The phone number is (616) 832-6139.

To be included in the list, growers should provide the following:

—Name, address, phone number best time of day to be reached and county.

—Number of bales or tonnage, type of bale (round or square), weight of bale, and which cutting—first, second or third.

—Type of hay (alfalfa, alfalfa mix, grass, etc.); hay test results, if tested; whether trucking is available, and the asking price (optional). People interested in obtaining a copy of the hay listing should write to or call the Osceola Extension office.

Submerging a lemon in hot water for fifteen minutes before squeezing it will yield much more juice.

Personalized License Plates Make Good Gifts

Michigan motorists can send innovative holiday gifts at Christmas or any other time of the year with personalized license plates. Secretary of State Richard H. Austin reminded motorists today.

More than 30,000 Michigan drivers use up to seven digits to put a cryptic message, favorite slogan, nickname, occupation or passion on their vehicles. Personalized license plate owners have found their plates a fun, attention-grabbing, easy-to-remember addition to their "CAROO!" or "OL TRUCK."

The Secretary of State's office has recently modified the procedure for purchasing personalized license plates so the gift may remain "SECRET" until the plates arrive in the recipient's mail. The cost for a personalized Michigan license plate is a $25 service fee plus the annual vehicle registration fee, both of which may be pro-rated depending on the expiration date (the owner's birthdate).

To be received by "Xmas" or "Hanuka," applications for personalized license plates must be received in Lansing by Nov. 13. St. Valentine's Day, birthdays, anniversaries, job promotions and other special occasions may also be commemorated on a personalized license plate. Allow five to six weeks for processing.

To begin the six-week application process, customers must obtain a personalized license plate application form at any of the 180 Secretary of State branch offices, and mail it to Lansing. Applicants may list a first, second and third choice; and must provide the vehicle's current license plate and the owner's driver license number.

The plate's message field may include from one to seven letters or numbers; blank spaces must be counted; hyphens and other punctuation marks are not allowed.

All messages must be approved by the Department of State, which screens them for obscenity and profanity, in the community interest. Once an application is received and approved, the applicant (gift-giver) is billed for the special plate and must present proof of insurance and AET certificate, if needed (Wayne, Oakland, Macomb County residents only). A pair of personalized license plates is mailed to the vehicle owner approximately four weeks after payment is received.

Extension Service Offers Workshops for Potential Home Buyers

By Terry Jones, Extension Home Economist
If you thought owning a home was beyond your dreams, think again! If your family income is under $51,175 per year, you may qualify for a home mortgage under the Michigan Initiative Program.

Washtenaw County Extension Service is offering workshops which will help you qualify for a Michigan Initiative mortgage, as well as provide basic information you need to effectively shop for and finance a home.

The goal of the workshops, according to Terry Jones, Washtenaw County Extension Home Economist, is to provide potential homeowners with information on all aspects of home ownership and to help them decide if home ownership at this time is feasible.

The next workshop will be offered on Tuesdays, Nov. 10 and 17, at 7:30 p.m., at the Extension Service building, 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor.

Topics to be covered include, house hunting—how to evaluate a house, inside and out; qualifying for a home loan—understanding the criteria lenders use when deciding whether to make a loan; financing a home, including monthly costs and mortgage options, and the closing—understanding the closing costs involved in purchasing a home.

The Michigan Initiative helps prospective home buyers by providing education about purchasing a home, cutting the normal down payment requirement to 5 percent, and offering more flexible qualifying criteria than conventional mortgages.

Jones emphasizes that the workshop series is open to all potential homeowners, whether they are interested in Michigan Initiative or not. To enroll or get more information call 971-0078. This is a free workshop.

School Board Notes

Present at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Nov. 2, were Comeau, Redding, Diesing, McCalla, Knutsen, Eisenbeiser, superintendent Piasecki, assistant superintendent Mills, principals Mead, Wescott, Stieber, assistant principal Rossi, athletic director Welton, curriculum director Bissell, community education director Rohrer, guests.

Meeting called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Comeau.

The meeting was held at South Elementary School, with representatives of PTS and school improvement staff members in attendance.

The board approved the minutes of the Oct. 19 meeting and the minutes of the executive session of the same date.

Entered as official communications were (1) letters to the board from students of the Basic Writing class. The writing of these letters is a team-taught class activity directed toward development of writing skills; (2) invitation to board members to the annual Senior Citizens' Thanksgiving Dinner on Nov. 13, (3) letter from the WISD Superintendent addressing the need for a special education millage election.

South school teacher Sandy Hamilton updated the board on the focus of school improvement activities in the building. Principal Stieber and several South parents involved in school improvement were present to update the board on their progress in the areas of academic standards, behavior standards, and child safety.

PTS president Pat Kaminsky was present and briefed the board on the many, varied volunteer activities in which South school parents participate, including fund-raisers for equipment, ice cream socials, physical fitness incentives for students, teacher appreciation meals, building/grounds improvement, assistance to teachers, etc. The board expressed appreciation for the ongoing enthusiastic support of the PTS members.

President Comeau indicated that the Intermediate School District, in addressing the need for special education millage, will need the active, involved support of all districts in the county. Such support might entail presentations by board members to service organizations and business firms.

For purposes of refining the board beliefs, members discussed the list which had been "brainstormed" at a previous meeting. Consensus was reached on several of those beliefs.

The board convened in executive session at 9:45 p.m. to discuss personnel matters, reconvened in public session at 10:34 p.m., and adjourned the meeting at 10:35 p.m.

Deadline Extended For Disaster Claims

Farmers have until Feb. 12, 1993 to file disaster claims for fall-seeded program crops planted in 1991 and harvested in 1992, according to Susan DeVoe of the Washtenaw-Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The original deadline was Oct. 2.

"This extension will give producers adequate time to file their claims," DeVoe said.

DeVoe said a 50.04 percent payment rate will be used to determine disaster payments for crop losses approved under the emergency agricultural disaster program announced recently by President Bush. "This is the same rate that was used under the 1990-1991 disaster program."

The ASCS official said disaster claims will be processed and checks mailed to eligible producers as soon as possible.

Our Chinese Teacher Cleared By Officials

By Mary Ellen Mynning
Oct. 28, 1992

Dear Friends,
I am pleased to be writing to you with full approval of all the officials in Beijing and Tianjin. They have apparently decided that I am not a secret agent or a subversive element bent on undermining the socialist system; instead, I believe, they have decided (after studying my articles) that nobody could possibly be interested in the trivia I send out. "Trivia" being a word that Foreign Affairs used to describe my work. Humpf.

Well, as you may have heard from my mother, I am teaching in the port city of Tianjin, the third largest city in China. I am also only two hours from Beijing. Two hours and 18 minutes to be exact. I know because I have been making the trip fairly regularly. Tianjin is a wonderful city but it lacks Western products. For example, one of the teachers here had a problem with piles. Now in Beijing you can buy Preparation H, not a perfect solution, but it does help. However, in Tianjin, when he went to our local doctor they prescribed these medicinal cigarettes called Kezhiling (which means 'very effective in the treatment of piles'). He was told if he smoked several packs of Kezhiling he would be cured. The doctor went on to tell him that with just one cigarette he would be able to feel more comfortable and with two he could sit comfortably. Amazing. AND, the doctor cited an article in the China Daily which stated that one woman who used the cigarettes not only had her piles cured but it cured a recurring cough that had bothered her for a long period of time. And to think that Foreign Affairs thinks I write about only trivia. Humpf.

Now about Tianjin. It has been occupied by Germans, Italians and the French. Therefore the architecture is a glorious mix that causes you to constantly think you are in a magical part of Europe. The Haihe River flows through the heart of the city and from Tianjin you can see to Dalian or Shanghai. The streets are incredibly narrow and twist and turn and only the bravest of heart charge down the streets competing with honking taxis, shrieking children, draft horses pulling wagons of bricks, and wheezing buses. The part I find truly astounding is that none of the bikes have reflectors. At night, these daredevils whiz about with no lights, no reflectors, and yet the death toll is very low. Those Chinese eyeglasses must really be something!

Well I'll sign off for now. I want to thank all of you who have written me. I have appreciated each and every letter. I just wish I had the time to answer (and the strong fingers, typing on my old trusty manual is anything but a pleasure). By the way, in Tianjin there are no maple trees with flaming red leaves, no cider, no doughnuts, no Indian corn, and no bitersweet. So enjoy them for me, there is no place more perfect than Dexter and Chelsea in the autumn!

Hand-Made Dolls on Display in Jackson

Ella Sharp Museum's exhibit entitled "Dolls: Folk to Fantasy" began Nov. 8 and runs throughout the holiday season in Jackson. Sixteen participating artists, all from Michigan, will exhibit 51 original, hand-made dolls ranging from the traditional to the whimsical in scope. Local artist Catherine Peterson is among those participating.

Ranging from primitive, often haunting icons used in religious ceremonies centuries ago, to the ultra-contemporary doll figures of today complete with clock or sunflower heads, this exhibit offers something for everyone.

"Dolls: Folk to Fantasy" incorporates all the historic elements and usages of dolls as we know them today. In a state show curated by Karen Strunk, each doll represents the artist's interpretation of the form, function and fantasy of the doll world. "The show provides a true sampling of the tremendous variety of materials and techniques in use by artists today," said Strunk.

Historically, some of the earliest dolls were not dolls as we know them today, but rather objects with religious or mystical meaning. According to Alice Cerniglia, director of education, "their use and purpose has evolved dramatically throughout history."

In conjunction with the show, the Emmet Gallery is host to a selection of dolls from the Museum's permanent collection. This portion of the exhibit represents a variety of dolls popular during the late 19th through the early 20th century, one of which Ella Sharp herself brought back from Germany on a trip abroad.

A hands-on component of the exhibit actually invites children, and adults inclined to touch, to do just that. A portion of the Hurst Gallery is devoted to touchable dolls of all types and sizes.

"Designing Dolls," a two day workshop featuring Jennifer Gould-Traylor, noted national artist and Michigan League of Hand Weavers award winner, will take place Nov. 13-14, from 9 to 4 p.m. The workshop offers inspiration for doll making, using different types of fabric, embellishments and patterns.

A lecture Nov. 12, 7:30 p.m. featuring Jennifer Gould-Traylor will focus on doll makers in Michigan, illustrating techniques and styles in the textile medium. Cost is $5/members, $7/non-members. For reservations for both the workshop and lecture, please call the museum at 787-2320.

Chelsea Hospital Board Approves Pinckney Site

The Board of Trustees of Chelsea Community Hospital approved on Tuesday a recommendation of its Planning and Finance Committee to establish a Primary Care/Urgent Care Center in Pinckney.

Funds for the purchase of a site located on M-38 just east of the community had been approved by the board at a meeting earlier in the year.

"It is planned that the Center will be open 5 1/2 days per week in the first year, expanding to six full days as demand for the services increases, said Ruth E. Shantz, assistant administrator at the hospital. "We are very pleased that the Board of Trustees has concurred with our conclusion that a primary and urgent care medical facility is needed for Pinckney, Hamburg, Gregory, Lakeland, Stockbridge and the surrounding communities. We look forward to serving the medical needs of the people of this developing area."

It is anticipated that the facility will be in operation by the summer of 1993. Physicians and other personnel who will staff the Center will be announced at a later date, Shantz indicated.

In Appreciation for those who have served, Remember Veteran's Day November 11th

Police Agencies Start Program To Thwart Teen Drunk Driving

Chelsea Police Department is one of several county law enforcement agencies that will participate for at least the next year in a federal pilot project aimed at reducing youth impaired driving.

The Community-Wide Youth Impaired Driving Program will be funded by a $95,848 grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation and will run through September. Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department anticipates funding will be available for two additional years.

The program, according to Det. Jon Scicluna of the sheriff's department, will feature a two-pronged program of enforcement and education aimed at people under age 21, with much of the emphasis on high school and college students.

The enforcement component will give police, such as Chelsea police, more flexibility to deal with problems outside their jurisdictions. Money will be available for Chelsea police, for example, if they are called to break up a keg party out in a township.

In addition, specific events such as high school and college homecoming activities, graduation celebrations, proms, and other events will be targeted for special enforcement programs.

Police will also conduct sting operations on party stores which may be selling to minors.

"The police work is the easy part," Scicluna said.

Education programs will target high schools, perhaps through driver education programs, and colleges, perhaps through fraternities and sororities and health courses.

"It's really not clear yet who or what will make up the educational component," Scicluna said.

"There is a lot of planning to do."

Goal of the program is to reduce by 10 percent the number of crashes involving people under 21 who had been drinking or using drugs prior to the crash.

Cancer Society American Smokeout Slated Nov. 19

Eight days to the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout!

The American Cancer Society will be hosting its 16th annual Great American Smokeout on Nov. 19. Get a jump on quitting smoking and reducing your risk of lung and other smoking-related cancers.

The Society estimates there will be 188,000 new cases of lung cancer and 148,000 cancer deaths in 1992. Cigarette smoking is responsible for 90% of lung cancer cases among men and 79% among women. The five-year relative survival rate for lung cancer is only 13% in all patients regardless of stage at diagnosis. This is dramatically lower than the five-year survival rate for all cancers, which has risen to 51% in the 1990's.

Smoking has also been implicated in cancers of the mouth, pharynx, larynx, esophagus, pancreas, cervix, kidney and bladder. Smoking accounts for about 30% of all cancer deaths. At age 65, you are at a significantly higher risk of dying if you smoke than if you don't smoke.

For more information on the Great American Smokeout or local Smokeout activities, contact your local county Unit of the American Cancer Society or call 1-800-ACS-2345.

The American Cancer Society is the nation-wide community-based voluntary health organization dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives from cancer, and diminishing suffering from cancer through research, education and service.

Deer Check Stations Set

Highway check stations for successful firearm deer hunters will be open at three locations in the Lower Peninsula and the Department of Natural Resources will expand opportunities for Upper Peninsula hunters to get information and have their deer checked this season.

A deer check station will be open 1-6 p.m. at the rest area south of Shepherd, US-27, on the season opener, Nov. 15; and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Nov. 16-18. The deer check station at the rest area south of Big Rapids, US-131, will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Nov. 15-17. Deer will also be examined at a DNR check station at the Birch Run weigh station on southbound I-75 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Nov. 16-18 and Nov. 21-22.

DNR wildlife biologists at the check stations will gather data on the location where the deer was taken, its sex, age, and total antler points, and the antler beam diameter on all bucks, to evaluate the status of the deer herd and make future management plans. A successful deer hunter patch will be awarded to each hunter who stops at a DNR check station to have a deer examined by DNR personnel.

Hunters are encouraged to have their deer in an accessible location on the vehicle so DNR officials can easily examine teeth and measure antler diameters.

Most offices of the DNR will be open to provide deer hunting information across the U.P. on Nov. 12-14. Deer aging services will be available for successful hunters beginning Nov. 15 at many DNR Upper Peninsula offices.

Deer may be examined at all DNR regional and district offices and some field offices throughout the state through Jan. 3. Due to restricted office hours at some locations, hunters are strongly advised to telephone ahead to confirm locations and hours. If the deer has already been processed, hunters need to provide only the head of the animal for inspection.

"We want to make sure the DNR information and deer checking services are convenient for all of the 780,000 hunters expected in the field during the firearm deer season and that they have a high quality hunting experience this year," said DNR Director Roland Harmes.

CHELSEA HIGH SOFTBALL TEAM has a dugout for the first time. On Sunday, Nov. 8 the Chelsea Women's Fast Pitch Softball Club began to build wooden dugouts at the high school field. Some materials were purchased and some were donated. The Chelsea softball program, the most consistently successful program in the Southeastern Conference, is one of the last to have dugouts. The design incorporates storage under the players' benches. Plans for the high school field also include the installation of an outfield fence. Above, Rich Schiller and Lloyd Lafferty begin construction.

BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL FIELDS belonging to the Chelsea School District were recently re-surfaced in a co-operative effort of the school district and the Chelsea Recreation Council. On Saturday, Oct. 31, lime and gravel were spread on the field at Chelsea High school, Beach middle school, and South Elementary school with equipment and time donated by Ed Greenleaf and Joe Merkel. The school district and recreation council split the cost.

Deer Hunter Information Stations Set Up By DNR

Deer Hunter Information Stations will be set up again this year at the Clare MDOT Welcome Center on US-27 on Nov. 13-14 and at the St. Ignace Welcome Center on I-75, Nov. 12-14, for hunters heading north for the Nov. 15 firearm deer season opener.

A third hunter information station will be located for the first time at the new Carl T. Johnson Hunting and Fishing Center at Mitchell State Park, just west of Cadillac on M-115, from 10 a.m.-8 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 13 and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 14, as part of a special hunters open house. Parks officials will encourage the hunters to stay at the center long enough to enjoy its exhibits and programs, as well as refreshments.

"More than 4,000 deer hunters visited the hunter information stations last year," DNR Director Roland Harmes said. "They provide an excellent opportunity for us to meet and talk with hunters one-on-one."

Conservation officers and Department of Natural Resources wildlife biologists will be at all three locations to provide hunters with deer hunting literature and answer questions about deer concentrations, hunting prospects, regulations and places to hunt and camp.

Dates and hours the information stations will be open at Clare and St. Ignace are as follows:

Clare Welcome Center—Friday, Nov. 13, 9 a.m.-6 p.m., and Saturday, Nov. 14, 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

St. Ignace Welcome Center—Thursday, Nov. 12, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Friday, Nov. 13, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., and Saturday, Nov. 14, 8 a.m.-noon.

An estimated 780,000 hunters are expected to harvest 274,000 deer.

Big-Play Bulldogs Top Lake Odessa, Get Shot At Lumen Christi Next

Chelsea Bulldogs will get the chance to play the team many regard as the best high school team in the state this Saturday afternoon in the second round of the state play-offs.

The Bulldogs roughed up the tough Lakewood Lake Odessa Vikings last Friday night at Niehaus Field, 27-17, to earn the right to play the Jackson Lumen Christi Titans at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Wittington Stadium in Jackson. Both the Bulldogs and Titans are undefeated.

Lumen Christi players, according to Chelsea coaches, are not overly big or overwhelmingly fast. However, the team is extremely deep (one two-way player versus six for Chelsea), has good blocking schemes, plays excellent defense and special teams, has a multitude of outstanding athletes, and has perhaps the best quarterback in the state.

"Any team can be beaten," said Chelsea coach Gene LaFave.

"We have to play a great game. Our team has responded to every challenge so far and this will be a monumental challenge. But I just believe there are some things about our game that could give them some problems."

Lumen Christi qualified for the region finals with a 48-0 victory over Mason on Saturday night. The Bulldogs beat Mason by two points in the first game of the season.

Saturday's game, on the Lumen Christi home field, will also be the first time Chelsea has played on artificial turf. LaFave was trying to arrange some practice time at the University of Michigan so his players could get used to the conditions.

"Everything seems to happen so much faster on the artificial surface," said athletic director Wayne Welton.

The largest home Chelsea football crowd in many years watched the Bulldogs take a 7-0 lead with 11 left in the first quarter and never let go in their victory last Friday over Lake Odessa.

The Vikings fell behind 14-3 but eventually pulled to within 20-17 before the Bulldogs put the game away on a 73-yard pass play from quarterback Pat Steele to split end Colby Skelton down the left sideline.

"We played great defense," LaFave said.

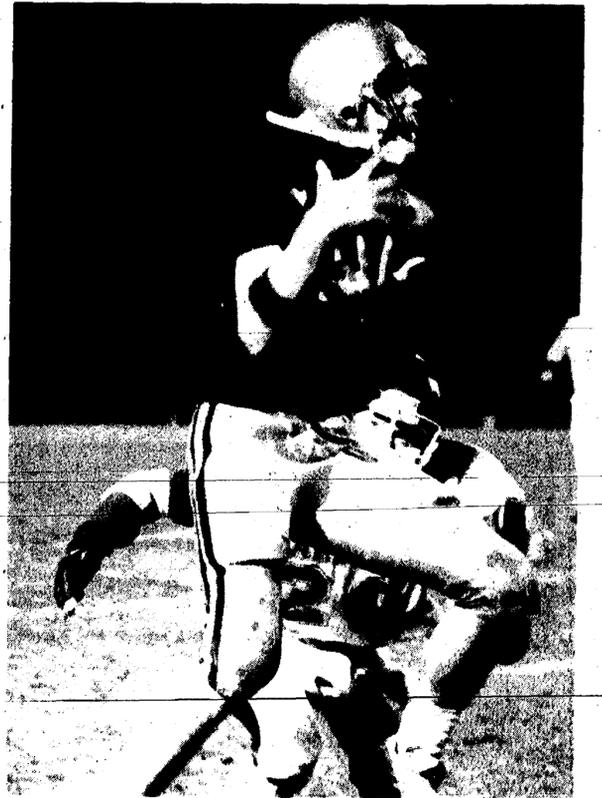

"We exchanged films, and (defensive co-ordinator) Roger Cox made some great adjustments and incorporated some different schemes, which the kids adapted to very well. Lake Odessa threw more than we thought and I was impressed that they could go to their second option as well as they did."

The defense, LaFave said, was led by tackle David Brock, lineman Casey Schiller, linebackers Tom Poulter and Matt Montagne, and defensive back Colby Skelton, who had two interceptions.

"The whole group played well," LaFave said.

"In a game like that they have to. It looked as though the Bulldogs would take the lead at the 7:00 mark of the first quarter.

After an interception by Poulter at the Vikings 40, the Bulldogs took four plays to move to the Lake Odessa 11. Two plays later Steele passed to Skelton, who was hit hard from behind just short of the goal line, and the ball popped out and rolled through the back of the end zone for a touchback. The next Lakewood series also ended SPLIT END Colby Skelton had another big night for Chelsea as he caught five passes, scored three touchdowns, and picked off two Lake Odessa passes. Chelsea won the game, 27-17, and earned the right to play Jackson Lumen Christi this Saturday in the region finals.

Monti Is Class B Champ, Dogs Are Fourth at State

It didn't go as either coach Pat Clarke or his girls had hoped last Saturday at the class B state meet at Grand Rapids Golf Course.

The Bulldogs, ranked first in the state for most of the season, placed fourth over-all behind Big Rapids, Caledonia, and Gaylord. Chelsea had 120 points, while Big Rapids had 101, Caledonia 114, and Gaylord 115.

Clarke said in the excitement of the meet, several of his top runners simply ran too fast at the opening of the race and didn't have enough at the end.

"I know the girls were disappointed not to win, but at the state meet there is very little margin for error," Clarke said.

"Our senior girls ended their careers with four top-five finishes at state (first, fifth, second, and fourth), four straight regional titles, four straight league titles, 28 first-place team trophies from invitational and a dual meet record of 24-0. This year's team broke every individual girls cross country record we have."

Lisa Monti was the overall winner of the race at 19:14, which gave her all-state honors for the fourth straight year.

"Lisa ran a tremendous race," Clarke said.

"She wanted to end as state champion and she did. Lisa went undefeated through all 16 races this season and set a school record of 18:17 in the process.

"Senior Jessica Holton ran a great race to finish 40th as our fifth girl."

Other Chelsea places and times included: 21. Beth Bell, 20:34; 22. Val Bullock, 20:35; 38. Molly Griebel, 20:56; 40. Jessica Holton, 21:06; 65. Robin Phelps, 21:43; 79. Sarah Brosnan, 22:05.

This year's senior team members are Monti, Bullock, Brosnan, Holton, Laura Paton, Beth Williams, and Tracey Wales.

LISA MONTI earned all-state honors for the fourth consecutive year at the class B state cross country finals. She finished her Chelsea career as state champion by 14 seconds.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Carpe Diem!

In what has become a classic Chelsea football season it's only appropriate the boys should learn a couple of words of Latin this year.

The Bulldogs seized their 10th straight victory (11th going back to last season), but more importantly their first play-off victory last Friday night as they eliminated the Lakewood Lake Odessa Vikings, 27-17. They take on a most formidable opponent in Jackson Lumen Christi this Saturday in Jackson for the region title. Knowledgeable observers say it will just about take the Roman Legions to bring them down, too.

(Christi, Vici, Baldi!) Translation later.

In their first play-off game ever last Friday, the Bulldogs played like it was old news. You'd never guess by their performance that they'd never been in the post-season. They were plenty excited all right, but they never got intimidated, made few mistakes, and executed well, especially on defense when one let-down could have turned the game around. It's all even more amazing because the team is dominated by juniors. I would guess that virtually every other team in the play-offs counts mostly on its seniors.

There were several instances when a lesser team could have wilted under the pressure. Twice the Vikings drove deep into Chelsea territory, but settled for a total of three points. Tim Wescott made the most of a bad snap on a punt—got the ball away and drew a roughing penalty. A hard Vikings hit turned what appeared to be a sure Chelsea touchdown in the early going into a touchdown.

And Lake Odessa, with an 8-1 record, was a good team. They had the size, quickness, and weapons to take control of the game at any point. But as with the Pinckney Pirates and Milan Big Reds before them, what could have been, just wasn't to be.

Again, Chelsea used the big play effectively all night long. And, as usual, junior Colby Skelton seemed to be right in the middle of most of them. He caught five Pat Steele passes, two for touchdowns, picked off two passes, and ran a kick-off back 86 yards for a score. However, running back Tom Poulter, tight end Gary White, running back Jay Westcott, and receiver Don Poppenger all caught passes, which helped loosen things up for everyone. The offensive line had another stellar night.

So Chelsea is among the top eight class 8B teams in the state, which in any year is a great achievement.

I also have to give the kids credit for pulling for Lumen Christi to beat Mason last Saturday. They want the challenge. They want to find out how good they really are, which is another sign of a championship team.

(Christi, Vici, Baldi!) Roughly translated from Latin: If Christi gets conquered, I'm bald!

On paper, Chelsea should have almost no chance to beat Lumen Christi this Saturday. The Titans have only one two-way player on their entire squad. They have a coach-to-player ratio of about 2 to 1. Their program says the kids choose to play football at Christi—we all know it's a fact that they didn't get drafted. The game's on their home field, which just happens to have artificial turf, a big advantage is you're used to playing on it and your opponent isn't.

So that's why I'll make this promise that only J. P. McCarthy and Eddie Greenleaf can truly appreciate: if Chelsea wins Saturday I'll shave my head. Actually, I won't do it personally because I'm not fond of scar tissue. But if Chelsea wins, my hair comes off. And assistant coach Roger Cox can paint Carpe Diem on my head. If by some miracle this does come about, I'd like the football team to participate under the guidance of a hair professional. And I'd like to raise a little money for a local charity to benefit kids. Say two or three bucks per lock.

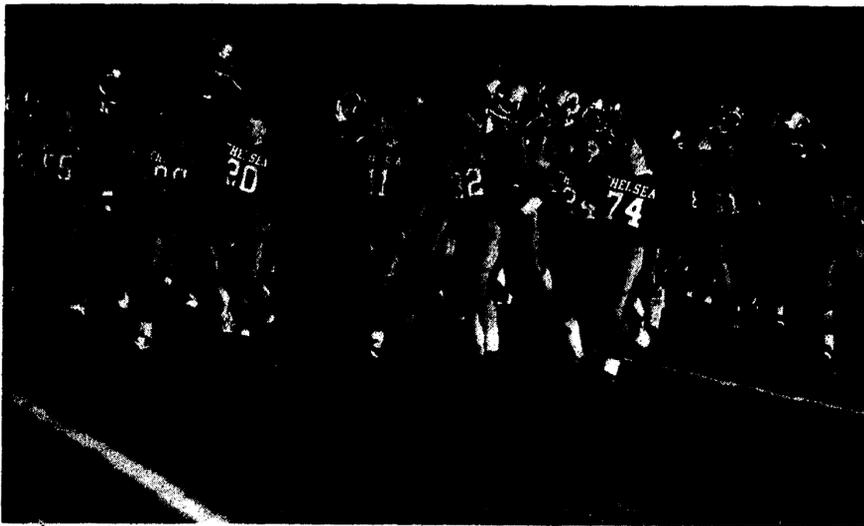

No sweat. Or is it?

What can win this game for Chelsea is if Steele and his myriad of receivers have the game of their lives. I'd say it's highly unlikely that Lumen Christi has played any team that can throw the ball as effectively. The defense, too, will have to play its best game. The Bulldogs can't afford any mistakes, especially turnovers and penalties.

My prediction is this. If Chelsea doesn't fall too far behind, early, or if they can take an early lead, they will have a good chance for an upset. The Bulldogs are a confident team, but staying close in the first half could be a huge confidence builder. On the other hand, if Lumen Christi hasn't taken charge by half-time and has a game on their hands, they might begin to panic a little. A break here, a gamble there, and my head could be shining.

For all you Chelsea fans who plan to make the trip. You'd do well to follow my old Latin teacher's advice when it comes to weather like we've had lately. "Semper ubi, sub ubi."

Congratulations to senior Lisa Monti and sophomore Ryan Schultz who made all-state at the state cross country meet in Grand Rapids last Saturday. Monti was sensational as usual to win the race and Schultz finished 13th.

IT WAS ANOTHER BIG CELEBRATION for the Vikings at Niehaus Field, 27-17. They will take on Jackson Chelsea Bulldogs last Friday after they won their opening Lumen Christi this Saturday afternoon in Jackson. round play-off game against the Lakewood Lake Odessa

Carey Schiller qualified for the state meet in the 50 freestyle with her best time of :26.55, good for second place. Christie Lonskey was 11th in :28.30. Also turning in best times were Erin Armstrong, :31.59, 22nd place, and Hillary Smith, :35.92, 41st place.

In diving, Lonskey was fourth with 321.20 points, Jennifer Schulz was 10th with 227.45, and Hilary Kress was 12th with 163.85.

Bowers was seventh in the 100 butterfly at 1:11.14 and Schmid was 11th at 1:19.59. Wilson was 15th in 1:26.60, Kristi Ostling was 23rd with a personal best of 1:32.15, and Hinshaw had a personal best of 1:32.87, good for 24th place.

Schiller placed fourth in the 100 freestyle with a time of :59.76. Baird was fifth in 1:00.85, and Erica Street was 14th in 1:06.28.

The 500 freestyle was a big event for Chelsea. In addition to Schmunck's win, Cooper Deerwester dropped 11 seconds from the preliminaries to take seventh place in 6:07.88. Wesolowski dropped 14 seconds to 6:18.18 and 10th place. Dymond was 13th in 6:37.10 and Carrie Smith placed 15th in 6:49.55.

The 200 freestyle relay team of Thiel, Schiller, Baird, and Schmunck had a season-best time of 1:47.5 to place second.

Armstrong had a personal best in the 100 backstroke at 1:13.30 to take 8th. Street was 12th at 1:16.30 and Ostling had a best time of 1:33.53 for 22nd place.

In the 100 breaststroke, Thiel had a season best of 1:12.42 for second place, while Deerwester was 12th in 1:26.58, Giebel was 13th in 1:26.65, and Hillary Smith had a personal best time of 1:35.48.

The 400 freestyle relay team of Baird, Wesolowski, Bowers, and Deerwester set a freshman record in the preliminaries with a 4:11.76. The old record of 4:14.34 was set in 1988 by Kelly Cross, Sara Nicola, Kristi Smith, and Erika Boughton.

The next meet is the state meet at the University of Michigan on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 20-21.

Bulldogs representatives will be Schmunck in the 200 and 500 freestyle, Thiel in the 200 individual medley and 100 breaststroke, Schiller in the 50 freestyle, and Schmunck, Thiel, Schiller and Baird in the 200 medley relay and 200 freestyle relay.

Play-off Victory

hemmed in. However, he managed to cut to the outside and across the field to the goal line for a touchdown. At 11:34 left Chelsea held a 20-10 lead.

Each team was forced to punt on next possession and on the exchange the Vikings had the ball at the Chelsea 33.

On the first play, running back Scott Partridge broke through the middle and raced 33 yards for the touchdown to push the score to 20-17.

Again the Bulldogs' offense responded with the big play. On second down from the Chelsea 27, Steele fired a quick, looping pass to Skelton on the left sideline. Skelton leapt high for the pass, sidestepped his defender, and out-sprinted everyone into the end zone. With 3:53 left, Chelsea had a 27-17 lead.

Statistics for the teams were nearly even. Chelsea finished with 336 total yards and Lakewood had 338 and each team had 14 first downs. Chelsea punted four times while the Vikings punted twice and tried two field goals. Each team was penalized four times.

The big difference was turnovers, as Chelsea had just one to the Vikings' three.

For the night, Steele completed 10 of 17 passes for 200 yards and two touchdowns. Skelton had five receptions for 112 yards, Poulter caught two passes for 45 yards, and Jay Westcott, White, and Don Poppenger each caught a pass.

Poulter gained 59 yards on 14 carries and Westcott ran nine times for 47 yards.

Tickets for Saturday's game may be purchased at the Chelsea High school athletic office on Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Friday from 9 a.m. to noon. Tickets will also be available at the gate.

To drive to Withington Stadium, take I-94 west to 127 north. Turn left and go back over I-94, where the road becomes West Ave. At Wildwood St. turn left and drive one-half mile. The stadium will be on the left.

Humane Society Gift Shop Moves to Arborland for Holidays

Humane Society of Huron Valley (HSHV) has announced the relocation of Whiskers Gift Shop from the HSHV Shelter to Arborland Consumer Mall on Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, for the holidays. From now through Dec. 31, animal lovers can help support the thousands of homeless dogs, cats, rodents, and wildlife that come to the shelter each year. Shopping hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Whiskers Gift Shop offers an array of animal-related merchandise from holiday ornaments, cards, sweat shirts, t-shirts, and stocking stuffers for pets and kids, to jewelry, books, and individualized pet portraits of your favorite furry or feathered friends. Proceeds from Whiskers will go toward the care and housing of the animals sheltered at HSHV. Merchandise is geared toward pet owners, animal enthusiasts, and the discriminating shopper who will gain satisfaction from the knowledge that their purchase will directly benefit Washtenaw county's homeless and abused animals who desperately need the support of their human friends. Volunteers are still needed to staff the gift shop; so if you have a few hours a week to spare for the animals, please call (313) 662-5585, ext. 113.

WOLF KNIGHT of Chelsea took part in the National Poetry Slam in Boston as part of a team from Ann Arbor.

CHS Grads Compete in National Poetry Slam

Chelsea High school graduates Wolf Knight and Anne Marie Stoll recently represented Ann Arbor at the National Poetry Slam held in Boston.

A poetry slam involves the performing of original poetry before a team of judges.

"Poets cannot use props of any type. They're essentially limited to using the movements of a mime.

Judges are often novices. Before a slam they are picked from the audience.

The Ann Arbor team took third place.

Knight, a 1988 Chelsea High graduate and Vietnam veteran, has been writing poetry for seven years and has performed it publicly for four years.

"These slams are like performing extremely condensed, one-act plays," Knight says.

"My poems tend to be historical and they're often out in left field. I'm into reincarnation, too."

Slam poetry tends to be direct and easily understood. It can't take a dozen readings to sink in because of the nature of the event.

Knight, a machine shop worker for King Engineering, notes that he was the only blue collar member of the Ann Arbor team.

About 900 spectators were on hand for the national slam. In the preliminaries, the Ann Arbor team lost to a Sioux Indian team called United First Nation. Afterward they went on to defeat teams from Phoenix, Milwaukee, and Asheville, N.C.

"I never expected we would finish as high as third," Knight said.

He notes that Stoll, a trained actress, is the best performer on the team.

"Once"

By Wolf Knight

We were comrades once
In the Franco-Prussian War
Young happy peasants
In the first modern army
I just can't recall which
It was the something-or-other empire
I'm certain of that
Hope our side won
Though I guess it doesn't matter
Whose colors we saluted
The other guy's trench
Had the same kind of mud
I've been a soldier
In a hundred lifetimes
I can't remember why
How strange it is
To make a body out of Molecules and magic
And let it be destroyed
I won't be back
If you want me
I will be between the trenches
Kicking this mud goodbye
When the bugle blows
I'll wave my hand at the stars

U.S. Postal Service To Collect, Process Mail on Vets Day

The U.S. Postal Service will collect and process mail on a regular schedule on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, although Post Offices will be closed and there will be no regular mail delivery.

This new level of service for all collection points in Southeastern Michigan, ZIP Codes 480, 481, 482 and 483, will be in effect because most businesses remain open during this national holiday.

"We are pleased to announce this new level of service and hope all mailing customers will deposit their mail as usual," said John Talick, plant manager, processing and distribution. "Historically postal customers were required to hold their mail until the next business day following national holidays such as Veterans Day which are not widely observed."

Talick said that this new level of collection and mail processing is designed to meet the needs of customers who have outgoing mail ready. The new schedule will help the Postal Service also. "Traditionally Postal Service mail processing is overloaded after such a holiday," Talick said.

Mailing services available on a round-the-clock basis will continue at self-service postal convenience centers located throughout the Detroit metropolitan area.

CHELSEA'S FIRST travel soccer team for boys and girls under age 14 recently completed their first season in the Southeastern Michigan Soccer Association. Chelsea played two teams from Tecumseh, two teams from Adrian, and one team from Clinton. They finished with a 2-8 record against some experienced teams. In front, from left, are Emily Arend, Nate Cooper, Tim Lawrence, Rourke Skelton, Tom Holdsworth, Sean Paul, and Robbie

Card of Thanks 19
THANK YOU
Chelsea Social Service has recently merged with Faith in Action in order to serve our community better. Chelsea Social Service, established in 1966, has served the Chelsea School District for the past 38 years. We would like to thank the countless individuals and organizations, the Chelsea churches and board members who have supported us throughout the years. We would not have been able to continue our work without the help of The Chelsea Standard, Chelsea United Way, Chelsea Kiwanis Club, the Chelsea Woman's Club, Jiffy Mix and the Boy Scout food drives. A special thanks goes to Jacqueline Riethmiller who worked in various areas of Chelsea Social Service for 25 years. Because of the caring support of all in the community in the past Chelsea is definitely a better place to live!

Card of Thanks
Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent a floral piece, if so we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words as my friend could say. Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you so much whatever the part.
Mrs. Mary F. Hepburn

It was back in 1981 that I lost my job, through no fault of my own. I ended up on the unemployment line but I thought that I deserved better. I had the will to work. I had a master's and PhD, but no full-time jobs were available...

The "Friends of The Home" organization has been helping to put on programs such as this for many years. Members from a large number of churches around the state provide such services as Christmas bags, birthday cards, flowers for birthday dinners, refreshments on some occasions and in general let our residents know that there is a caring group thinking of us throughout the year...

Chelsea Retirement Community News

Gordon Schleicher, our new chaplain, preached on the subject "Joy" at chapel services on Sunday, Sept. 27. Scripture John 15:11, "These things I have spoken to you that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full..."

To make this story short, Gordon gave us a 45-minute introduction to the book. The following Sunday at our chapel service he came down from the pulpit and directed us in a couple of hymns. It sounded pretty good, but of course we know there were many blue notes, or a few we missed. However, the organ and congregation's voices drowned out what ever happened and the result was generally considered a success...

Since this happened we have settled down on a weekly rehearsal to hone our skills a little finer. We have about a dozen players and they have been quite dedicated to this form of worship for the past year. The point we make in this story is that our new chaplain is quite brave in trying to take these struggling would-be musicians, and give them confidence that they may have a definite part in serving the Lord.

Joanna Falkowska can be seen quite often out on the golf course. There are others sometimes, but she still gets the award for most hours out there. Outside of just walking, this is a very good way to get fresh air and exercise.

The dining room at noon and evening. There is lots of visiting and laughter before we eat, which is good. As an observer, maybe we might improve some on our attention when the announcer starts talking. Throughout our lives we have tried to be courteous. Let's not stop now.

Saturday morning, Oct. 17, some of us were visiting in the Kresge Lobby, when a nurse came rushing through from K-1 carrying something in her hands. Out through the magic doors she went into the rain. Returning in a few minutes she paused and said that she had just evicted three warty toads. Now that's news. I had not heard of the home being visited by toads before. Deer, dogs, rabbits, cats and lots of squirrels, but no toads. They are found in gardens where they eat bugs and insects. They like to be around people and are so slow in hopping that you sometimes have to be careful not to strike them when you are cultivating or hoeing. One will stay several years in one garden. The mystery: How did they get into our home?

Charles Cookingham gave a travelogue program on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 17, in the gym. He had a nice selection of slides from many different countries including Switzerland, Germany, England and others and finished with some from our western parks. The excellence of the pictures indicated that Charles takes much longer to take a picture, than others who might not have enough time, or have gotten into the habit of snapping a picture and hurrying on to see how many they can get that day. This reporter thinks "I'll do better next time."

Seems to me that we have discovered the best place to show slides, at least in the daytime. Also there is plenty of room so everybody can see the screen.

Annual Open House

"Friends of The Home" hosted the annual open house of our Chelsea Retirement Community on Oct. 11. Friends and relatives of the residents and others out in the state began arriving before 2 p.m. Soon the main dining room was a bee hive of conversation and laughter. Residents from all parts of our little community came and enjoyed a couple hours with each other and with visitors. Some came in wheel chairs. Soft piano music was enjoyed during the afternoon.

The "Friends of The Home" organization has been helping to put on programs such as this for many years. Members from a large number of churches around the state provide such services as Christmas bags, birthday cards, flowers for birthday dinners, refreshments on some occasions and in general let our residents know that there is a caring group thinking of us throughout the year. Lots of thanks ladies, we sure appreciate you.

European Pictures

Charles Cookingham gave a travelogue program on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 17, in the gym. He had a nice selection of slides from many different countries including Switzerland, Germany, England and others and finished with some from our western parks. The excellence of the pictures indicated that Charles takes much longer to take a picture, than others who might not have enough time, or have gotten into the habit of snapping a picture and hurrying on to see how many they can get that day. This reporter thinks "I'll do better next time."

Seems to me that we have discovered the best place to show slides, at least in the daytime. Also there is plenty of room so everybody can see the screen.

'Girls in Science' Draws Area Children

Chelsea Education Foundation, in collaboration with the University of Michigan Department of Aerospace Engineering, recently sponsored a three-day, hands-on program designed to encourage young girls in math and science.

"Girls in Science" involved 30 fourth and fifth grade girls in the Chelsea School District. They attended a rocketry program to study the physical properties of force and acceleration and as part of the project built their own rockets.

Girls held a launch outside the aerospace center, assisted by three graduate students of aerospace engineering and physics, performed experiments dealing with splitting light and the relationship between pressure and temperature.

An orientation was held for parents before the series began. Cinda Sue Davis, director of Women in Science at U-M, discussed the importance of young girls identifying with careers in science.

Future programs for both boys and girls of all ages will be sponsored by the education foundation. The programs are free to all children in the school district. The foundation also sponsors the week-long summer environmental program called the Waterloo Recreation Area Project.

TOM MCKERNAN
Tom McKernan
Accepts Position With Boots Pharmaceutical

Tom McKernan of Chelsea has accepted an exciting new position with Boots Pharmaceutical in Shreveport, La., effective Nov. 16.

Tom's official title will be manager of clinical supplies and with that title comes the direct responsibility of developing the group. This development process will include but is not limited to the addition of new people, new equipment and implementation of new systems not already in place.

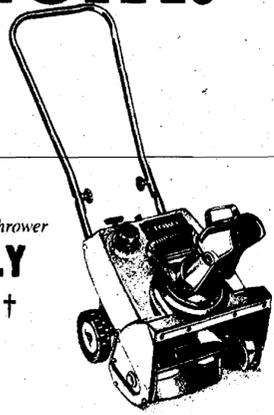

The company, Boots Pharmaceutical, is a company with major expansion plans for their U.S. operations. This coupled with the fact that this is the first move for the McKernan family, makes for extra excitement.

Tom laid the groundwork for this opportunity back when he began his work with Chelsea Pharmacy as a pharmacy intern right out of high school. After high school Tom received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Michigan in pharmacy. He took that a step further, receiving his Doctor of Pharmacy from Wayne State in 1982. He then developed his skills through positions at Chelsea Community Hospital, Drug Therapy Consultants, Inc., and Catherine McAuley Health Center before landing firmly in industry when he joined Parke-Davis in July of 1986, as a senior scientist and supervisor. In June of 1991 he was moved up to research associate and manager in Clinical Pharmaceutical Operations.

Among 1990 high school graduates, the college enrollment rate for women (62 percent) exceeded that for men (58 percent).
