YOUNGSTERS in the Chelsea Children's Co-operative Pre-school had a chance to visit the Chelsea McDonald's restaurant last week for a guided tour. Heather Pulley, store activities representative, shows the children what the various McDonald's drinks look like in storage in the restaurant basement. She led the children through the kitchen and the storage area and presented balloons and cookies to them afterwards.

THE SECOND PART of the field trip for youngsters in the Chelsea Children's Co-operative Pre-school took them to the Chelsea Post Office, where Bill Brenner led the tour. Here he shows the children how postmarks are applied to the mail. The children even had a chance to cancel their own valentines sent to their parents. In the foreground is teacher Jane Brooks.

Final Charges Against Assistant Pastor Dropped

Two more charges against former North Sharon Baptist Church Assistant Pastor Timothy Leonard were dropped last Wednesday after an alleged victim was not ready to testify in court.

Leonard, who had been charged with 12 counts of first- and second-degree criminal sexual conduct in Washtenaw and Jackson counties, has seen all those charges dropped due to problems with the testimony or non-testimony of the alleged victims. In some cases the children were deemed to be too young to know right from wrong, in another a girl couldn't pin down which summer the alleged incidents happened.

The last charges dropped, in Washtenaw County District Court, were second-degree criminal sexual conduct charges allegedly involving a nine-year-old girl. She had told investigators that Leonard fondled her at the church.

The decision not to let the girl testify came from the prosecutor's office. Assistant prosecutor Julia Owdziej said the girl wasn't ready and she didn't want to put the girl through testifying if the case wouldn't get bound over.

However, Owdziej didn't rule out the possibility that the charges may be re-authorized.

Prosecutors have not said whether more charges may be brought against Leonard. Michael Stillwagon, Leonard's attorney, said he believes there will not be further charges because previous charges have been false allegations.

Exactly what will happen to Leonard in the church is not known. Pastor Bill Winger said it will be difficult for Leonard to rid himself of the stigma of the charges. He also said he has never seen any signs that Leonard would be capable of the charges that were leveled at him. The church's governing board of deacons will likely make the ultimate decision.

Village Prepares for Another Big Expense Once Landfill Closes

While the village and surrounding townships decide where and how to build a trash transfer station, the village has to make some quick decisions about how to pay for closing out the landfill.

The village is projecting that the landfill will be out of space by the end of the month. Once the last yard of garbage is dumped, the village will have 90 days to close the facility. That means, among other things, installing clay and topsoil caps to meet Department of Natural Resources specifications over the mound of trash.

And that means the village will have another enormous financial responsibility that it can't avoid.

Village manager Jack Myers said it may cost as much as $500,000 to close the landfill if the village is forced to use a special $180,000 membrane to cover the trash. The least it is likely to cost is $320,000. The village is trying to get a ruling from the Environmental Protection Agency about the membrane, Myers said.

But this time the village will have to bear the expense all by itself. The surrounding townships, which are paying 50 percent of closing the first cell, are not involved.

"We've just started talking about it with our bond counsel," Myers said. "We're trying to find out what all our options are."

Two of the options include bonding or a tax hike. The village can levy additional millage strictly for rubbish disposal, but Solid Waste Committee Chair Frank Hammer, also a member of the Ways and Means Committee, said "I don't think there's any interest in levying more taxes."

Another option that would have been used in past years—a loan from the Electric Fund—is not likely to be considered.

"We don't want to do that," Myers said.

The village and townships are not much closer to making a final decision on a transfer station than they were several weeks ago. Only Lima township was represented at a Feb. 4 meeting of the village's Solid Waste Committee. Another meeting is being scheduled.

Last night village council was scheduled to consider an interim solution to the area's trash problems once the landfill closes. Bids have been received to place roll-off containers at the landfill, which would allow the facility to operate just as it does now.

The village wants to build the station at the landfill on Werkner Rd. in Lyndon township, but alternate sites have been suggested further to the south. It is not known whether a private company would build the facility and operate it, or whether it would become a public project, similar to the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority.

The village is also considering hauling its own trash to either the Brown-Ferris Industries landfill in Salem township or a transfer station in Whitmore Lake operated by Mr. Rubbish if that proves to be an economical option. However, that solution would leave the townships holding the trash bag with nowhere to go. It's more likely the townships will be included in any temporary solution.

MEAP Scores Improve On Most Tests Given To Chelsea Students

Chelsea School District test scores improved on nearly every test administered in the Michigan Education Assessment Test program last fall, according to a report submitted to the board of education by curriculum director Laurie Bissell and counselor Sue Carter.

The standardized tests were given at various grade levels in reading, mathematics and science. In almost every test, a higher percentage of students placed in the top category than students who took the test last year. In many cases, the improvements were not large. The only decreases were in specific portions of the reading tests. However, all overall reading scores improved.

Comparisons of year-to-year performance have to be tempered by the fact that, for example, this year's eighth graders are being measured against last year's eighth graders.

State-wide results were not available when the report was put together.

The following is a summary of the report.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Reading, Grade 4

Students who had at least satisfactory performance on both parts of the test, as determined by the state, increased six percent (to 43 percent), but is still below the 1990 level (47 percent). Students scored far higher on the "story" part of the test than the "information" section (76 to 48 percent).

"We are disappointed that we have a test which lacks full reliability for making judgments about the progress of our students," the report stated.

"Nevertheless, as measured by this test, we are aware that our students need to improve ability to comprehend informational selections. We are working on this goal."

Math, Grade 4

48 percent scored in the highest category, up 4 percent. It was the second year of the Essential Skills Math Test.

Science, Grade 5
"Our scores are stable in science, with almost everyone scoring in the top two categories," the report stated. 86 percent were in the top category.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Reading, Grade 7

43 percent scored in the highest category on both tests (7 percent increase), while performance on the story section again outpaced performance on the information section. "Only 17 percent showed they had high knowledge about how to read [the information] selection," the report said.

Math, Grade 7

52 percent scored in the highest category, an increase of 6 percent.

Science, Grade 8

"Our students' scores are improving, with almost everyone scoring in the top two categories," the report said.

69 percent scored in the top category, no change from the previous year.

HIGH SCHOOL

Reading, Grade 10

53 percent scored in the top category on both tests, an increase of 1 percent. Students scoring in the top category on the information section increased 11 percent, from 54 to 65 percent.

Math, Grade 10
46 percent scored in the highest category, up 15 percent.

"This large increase is partially due to the fact that the new curriculum materials are taking effect," the report said.

Science, Grade 11
66 percent scored in the top category, up 12 percent.

"Our students' scores reflect a continued moderate need for improvement," the report said.

"However, more of our students are in the top two categories than in previous years, with more students moving to the top category."

Fight Erupts At Restaurant After Game

A fight involving a large number of teenagers from Chelsea and Stockbridge broke out at the Chelsea McDonald's restaurant last Tuesday night after the Chelsea-Stockbridge basketball game.

Chelsea police arrived after most of the participants in the short-lived melee had left the scene. There was no police report.

Someone described the scene as looking like a riot for a minute or two. There were reports of several minor injuries.

A Stockbridge bus driver reportedly took a bus full of students to the

The four sessions, led by Rosemarie Hester, an Ann Arbor playwright and theater director, covered writing and studying poetry and poetic

★ Let's Get Serious About Educational Choice

By Robert Wittmann

Should parents be allowed greater freedom to choose which schools their children attend? In the past few years, the idea of "educational choice" has received an astonishing level of political, popular and intellectual support.

Since 1989, 20 states have adopted some form of it, nine of which allow choice across public school district lines. The 1991 Michigan Education Poll conducted for the State Board of Education found that 61 percent of Michiganians favor choice at least within their local district, and 82 percent actually favored including private schools in a choice system.

Advocates for choice have argued that by introducing competition into education, choice can generate more learning at lower cost. And it can serve as an antidote to the excessive bureaucratization and lack of responsiveness that characterize the present government school monopoly.

Numerous studies indicate that when choice is coupled with greater school autonomy, it has pronounced and positive effects on teacher, administrators, and the environment in which they work. These include higher levels of job satisfaction, more opportunities for personal growth and diversity, and tangible progress in the classroom.

Against this backdrop in 1991, the Michigan Legislature directed each of the state's 563 school districts to draw up a plan to implement an in-district choice program for the 1992-93 school year. So, is it fair to assert that the positive effects of choice are now working wonders on Michigan education?

A new study from The Mackinac Center for Public Policy reveals the disappointing answer. It appears that the great majority of districts perceived the Legislature's mandate not as an opportunity for genuine innovation and experimentation, but rather as another burdensome requirement for which little or no funding was provided.

Most districts simply formalized existing (and often very limited) transfer policies with few changes. Virtually non-existent were new strategies to deal with the constraint of limited seating, and any plans for providing parents with meaningful indicators of a school's educational effectiveness. Most Michigan parents have no more choice of schools now than they had before the Legislature acted. Educational choice in Michigan, for the moment at least, has fizzled.

The biggest obstacle to choice is that public schools lack the kind of diversity that gives choice real meaning. That point was made clear in a remarkably candid brochure from the Alpena School District:

"Each elementary has a different building, a different teaching staff, and serves a different neighborhood. Beyond that, there are no substantive differences. Each runs on basically the same program, teaches the same curriculum, runs on the same schedule, offers the same basic dollars per pupil education. For Choice to be real, there must be a real difference among schools. Among Alpena Public's 10 elementaries, there is no real difference" (emphasis added).

Neither the Michigan Legislature nor most school districts attempted beforehand to identify and remove impediments to choice (such as limited space, inflexible labor contracts and centralized administration). The bottom line is that choice wasn't given a chance to work.

The Wyoming District in Kent county stands out as being among the very few places in Michigan where public school authorities not only embrace the choice concept, but are energetically employing diversity within their district to make it meaningful. The district is emphasizing decentralized site-based management, a wide array of curricular offerings, and creative opportunities for parental involvement. Clearly, however, choice needs a bigger boost than either current legislation or the good deeds of a very few innovators are providing.

A more promising, though radical, approach would be to reformulate state funding and tie it directly to the enrollment decisions of parents. In other words, let state aid automatically follow students to their schools of choice, including schools in neighboring districts. This one reform would do much to spur incentives for school improvement.

Additionally, the Legislature could expand the definition of a public school to include new school sponsors. It could encourage school boards to charter new schools in order to diversify a district's offerings and maximize the range of choices available. Teachers or even administrators could be empowered to set up such alternatives.

Ultimately, choice ought to embrace private schools as well. Changing the Michigan Constitution to permit parents to send their children to either public or private schools with their state aid "vouchers" would not only enhance healthy competition in the education business, but would probably generate a host of new schools too—creating the genuine diversity necessary for choice.

Employing all these options would require other measures to grant greater decision-making autonomy to public schools, assure access to education for the least advantaged, and prevent harmful state intrusions into affairs of private schools. But these are problems that pale in comparison to the ones arising from today's failed monopoly.

Choice didn't fizzle in Michigan because it was tried and found want-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I learned a long time ago there are two kind of people in this world. There's them that agree with my old lady, and there's all the rest of the misguided souls. When she states her case and quotes Scripture to back it up, I allus say I'll have another cup of coffee and round up scraps for the cat from whatever megl she is explaining the situation over.

So I didn't open my mouth the other night when she put aside her needlework and started thumbing through the new seed catalogs. I know that here in the dead of winter she has set out to prove again that the two of us can grow better and cheaper food than we can buy. Every year we spend more on the wore out tiller than we could get for what we raise. And ever year she says home grown is fresher than store bought and, besides, her joy is in doing the work.

The new Clinton Administration got on the agenda at the country store Saturday night, and I mentioned to the fellows that all the politics going on reminds me of nothing as much as my old lady and her positive thinking. Every time we got to believe it'll work this time, or the effort is wasted. Folks that take on vegetable gardening and Government bureaucracy are like the ram that keeps on butting the dam, they just won't run out of hope.

Zeke Grubb took up my notion. He said his old lady has been working on a patch quilt for the better part of a year. She will put it in the crafts and bake sale their church has ever spring, and somebody that has other items in the sale will buy it. Zeke said his old lady will come home from the sale with at least one cake and other crafts, which means she and the rest of the wimmen will pay double for their part in the project. It don't matter, Zeke said, that if all the wimmen took their crafts to the farmer's market in town and put the money in the collection plate the church would come ahead.

Clem Webster was agreed with the high hopes, and he went on to allow that problems this country is facing are even bigger than the bureaucracy, and they go beyond politics as usual. For instant, Clem said, our domestic situation has got to the place where any change will be an improvement, and the new president is taking steps that have got to be positive. General, Clem went on, the two party system is the best form of free Government, but sometime they pull in different directions until nobody knows where the country ought to be going.

Ed Doolittle was quick to call Clem's hand. Ed said Clinton started breaking his campaign promises even before he become President, and already the difference between "major commitments" and "changing circumstances" is the puzzlement of his Administration. The bureaucracy is big-and-elusmy, Ed went on, but change for the sake of change ain't the way to make it better.

Ed keeps a picture of Abe Lincoln in the back of his watch, and Clem says Ed's politics are stuck in Abe's time. Now, Clem said, most solutions are part of the problem. The Coast Guard says boats can't dump waste in inland lakes, and boat owners say their treated waste is nothing compared with raw waste that runs off pastures. Putting sewer pump out places on lakes and dippers on cows around em would make more problems.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Egg Taste Without All the Cholesterol Is Now Available

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

Egg lovers worried about heart health can have their yolks and eat them, too. Thanks to technology, a new egg product is being sold in supermarkets that offers all the benefits of whole eggs (protein, calcium, iron and vitamins) but with only 20 percent of the cholesterol.

Simply Eggs is all of the egg with the cholesterol drastically reduced. A whole egg from a shell contains 215 milligrams of cholesterol; the equivalent amount of Simply Eggs contains 45 milligrams.

The process sounds simple enough. Whole eggs are separated and a corn starch derivative is mixed with the egg yolks. The starch attaches itself to the cholesterol in the yolks and is removed with centrifugal force. The yolks are then recombined with whites and pasteurized. The high heat of pasteurization kills any disease-causing bacteria in the eggs.

Packed in eight-ounce cartons, Simply Eggs can be used in uncooked egg recipes such as Caesar salad dressing, refrigerator pie, homemade ice cream, mayonnaise and hollandaise sauces, as well as in any recipe that calls for beaten whole eggs or beaten egg yolk, including quiche, cheesecake and strata. In recipes, 1/4 cup of Simply Eggs substitutes for one whole egg.

Remember to handle the product carefully, as you would any pasteurized product, such as milk. Pasteurized products are subject to bacterial growth if mishandled.

The product is currently available in several Michigan grocery chains. Check with your local grocers to see if they plan to carry it.

Senate Approves Bill To Continue Storage Tank Cleanup

Farmers with registered underground storage tanks will be interested to know that the Michigan Senate approved SB 45, a measure that amends the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Assurance Act.
 The Act gives owners of registered underground storage tanks financial assistance in cleaning up leaking tanks, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Vicki Pontz.
 "What the bill does is extend the sunset for the Act so that the cleanup fund remains solvent," she said.
 Legislative approval of this measure would have important implications for agriculture, according to Pontz. "Those farmers who own registered tanks would continue to be able to access the financial assistance for either cleanup activities or low-interest loans for upgrading tanks to standards. There is also an interest by legislators and Farm Bureau in expanding the financial assistance fund to include coverage of any kind of leaking underground storage tank," said Pontz.
 Pontz expects the bill to move fairly quickly through the Michigan House.

They're Worth Our Environment

It is unfortunate that there are so many things that divide us. We try to be "independent," we fight over little things, we fail to see the other side of the situation. As humans, we are separated by circumstances, geographical distance, and even death. But religion and philosophy teach us that love can overcome all obstacles; all we must do is yield to its power.

As Valentine's day approaches, take a few minutes to think about those you love. Let us all strive to increase that love, and try to minimize those things that separate us from one another. We wish all of you a happy, and loving, Valentine's Day!

School Board Begins Discussions On What To Include in Bond Issue

Chelsea Board of Education met informally Monday night to discuss what building and renovation projects might be included in a new bond issue election, possibly this fall.

Superintendent Joe Piasecki said there was a lot of discussion about six major areas but no decisions were made about any of them.

The topics of discussion included:

- a new elementary school;
- what to do with the vacant high school locker building;
- what to do with the high school industrial arts area;
- how the high school science area should be remodeled;
- remodeling at North and South Elementary schools;
- what kind of computer and information technology might be incorporated into the district.

Piasecki characterized a new elementary school as a "high priority," but there are plenty of questions to be answered including what grades it will include and where it will be built.

The locker building could possibly become a new student services center that would house counseling and other areas. That idea was part of the most recent bond issue.

"As far as what to do and how to do it is up for discussion," Piasecki said.

"It's a prime piece of real estate and really needs to be part of the high school." He said a rumor that it could be used for a new pre-school area "should be squelched."

The industrial arts area—wood and metal shops—could be converted into six classrooms.

"We really need to do a cost analysis," Piasecki said.

"If we would spend the same amount on new space as on remodeling, we might want to use the area for storage."

Piasecki said the board appears to be in fairly solid agreement that the high school science areas should be updated.

"We need to bring in gas and water lines and make it more like a lab situation. It would be a major remodeling."

The last bond issue proposed substantial remodeling at the elementary schools, including major electrical and plumbing work. Whether a new proposal would be as extensive is not known.

A decision on technology would probably not be made until the district's Technology Committee, which has been meeting all year, makes its report to the board.

So far, additional athletic facilities do not appear to be part of the discussions.

"In some ways it's almost like starting over again," Piasecki said.

Piasecki said the earliest an election could be held would be September. Taxes approved after Oct. 1 cannot be collected until the following year.

"My guess is we're still several months away from a final proposal," Piasecki said.

At the board's next meeting Monday, architects from Greiner, Inc. are scheduled to propose a fee structure for their services on the new proposal.

Deputies Report Stolen Vehicles, Drunk Driving

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated a number of incidents in Dexter, Webster township, Scio township and Chelsea between Jan. 23 and Feb. 3.

On Jan. 23, an assault and battery occurred in the 8400 block of Jackson Rd., Scio township. A 34-year-old Dexter man claims he was the victim of an assault by a man his ex-wife is involved with. He said the man approached him in a local bar while he was signing some child custody papers for his wife. After a verbal confrontation the victim said he left the bar and the suspect followed him. When he arrived home and got out of his car, he claims the suspect assaulted him. The responding deputy said the man had no injuries and that one of the fending men have filed a number of complaints against each other over two years.

On Jan. 26, a 1978 Ford F-150 was stolen from a residence in Scio Farms Estates on Jackson Rd., Scio township. The victim, a 34-year-old woman, also reported a shot gun was in the vehicle when it was stolen. The vehicle was recovered that afternoon behind a car wash facility near Jackson and Zeeb Rds. The ignition had been "punched" and the shot gun was missing, according to a deputy's report.

A 49-year-old Chelsea man was arrested for driving a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor. He was pulled over by deputies on Jackson Rd. near Zeeb Rd., Scio township, after they observed the vehicle cross the center yellow line several times. The man admitted to drinking five beers. He failed the sobriety tests administered.

A 1978 Ford 150 Ranger was stolen from the 4100 block of Valentine Rd., Webster township. The owner suspects two men who answered an advertisement in the newspaper for a sale.

On Jan. 27, larceny of fuel was reported in the 100 block of Baker Rd., Scio township. The store's manager said a truck driver pumped $149 of gasoline in a white semi-truck and fled the scene.

On Jan. 28, a Chelsea man was issued a citation for open intoxication in a motor vehicle when he was pulled over on Knight Rd. near Liberty Rd., Scio township. An open bottle of liquor was found during a traffic stop. The man was driving a 1979 Ford van.

A 24-year-old Pleasant woman was arrested on Miller Rd. near Wagner Rd., Scio township for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor. She was involved in a car accident while driving her 1987 Pontiac Sunbird 5 mph on Miller Rd. According to a deputy's report, the woman did not signal to turn left and another driver attempted to pass her, colliding.

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 200 block of Zeeb Rd., Scio township. A large rock was used to smash the front door of a business, causing $300 in damages.

On Jan. 31, Daniel J. Lorenzo, 29, of Westland was arrested on Huron River Dr. near Zeeb Rd., Scio township. He had two warrants out for his arrest, one from the Mt. Clemens Police Department and the other from the Livonia Police Department.

Malicious destruction of property was reported in the 4000 block of E. Loch Alpine, Scio township. A man reported hearing noises outside of his home that night. The next morning he discovered eggs had been thrown on his garage door. The extent of damage is unknown.

An attempted breaking and entering was reported in the 7900 block of Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd., Dexter. It is suspected the door was pried open with a crow bar, but nothing was missing. Damage is estimated at $50.

On Feb. 1, malicious destruction of a lawn was reported in the 6800 block of Marshall Rd., Dexter. A semi-truck, attempting to turn around in a driveway, caused $800 in damages while dragging a rock across the lawn and driveway. A witness reported a license plate number from Indiana, but it came back as "no record" on the sheriff's department computer. The witness thinks the rock got caught underneath the semi-truck when it turned around.

A 53-year-old Pinckney woman reported a driver speeding past a school bus while it was picking up children on Dexter-Pinckney Rd. near Island Lake Rd., Dexter, at 8:35 a.m. The woman described the vehicle as a small, tan, foreign car. She could only remember a few numbers on the license plate. After running several combinations through the sheriff's department computer, none matched the description of the vehicle.

A Saline woman reported a camper top stolen after it flew off of her vehicle on I-94 near Baker Rd., Dexter. She said, even though it came off she continued to drive to work so she could get some assistance. When she returned it was gone. It is worth $250.

A 43-year-old Dexter man reported a larceny in the 3000 block of E. Delhi Rd., Scio township. An air compressor and shingles worth $1,425 were taken from a house under construction.

Michael L. Vail, 20, of Jackson was arrested on a warrant for failing to appear in court in Blackmon township. A home-made night stick was also confiscated by county sheriff's deputies during a search of the man's vehicle.

A natural death case was investigated by deputies in the 1200 block of Sugar Loaf Lake, Chelsea. A 62-year-old man died of heart failure after suffering with heart problems for 20 years. He was found by his 59-year-old wife, who called 911. A funeral home was called to take the body from the scene.

On Feb. 2, Scott B. Shiel, 34, of Ann Arbor was arrested on Zeeb Rd. near Miller Rd., Scio township. He was stopped for a traffic violation and his name came back through lein with a valid misdemeanor warrant for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor. He was transported to Washtenaw county jail.

On Feb. 3, a larceny was reported on Huron River Dr. near Central St., Dexter. A 54-year-old Pinckney man reported his Detroit Free Press newspaper box stolen. It is valued at $200.

In 1881 the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions, which later became the American Federation of Labor, was organized in Pittsburgh in November with 107 delegates present. Leaders of eight national unions attended, including Samuel Gompers, then president of the Cigar Makers' International Union, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's "Important Events in American Labor History."

County Forms AIDS Task Force

Thirty-four community members have been selected to serve on the Washtenaw County AIDS Task Force which held its first meeting on Friday, Jan. 9. The County Board of Commissioners approved a resolution to create the HIV/AIDS Task Force to review current efforts to control the epidemic and assess the current and future impact of HIV/AIDS.

Community members from various agencies, educators, counselors, professionals, business people, clergy and students comprise the membership of the AIDS Task Force. On Friday the task force reviewed the case load faced by the county, clarified goals, established a time-line and formed three working groups.

Scientists are trying to figure out to what extent age-related bone loss is due to heredity, and how much is related to lifestyle. Genetics plays a role in how much bone tissue is lost as the years go by, but part of the loss can be prevented by factors like diet and exercise.

* My Brother's Keeper *

It's starting to look like the old "Batman" television series has taken over the nightly news, you know what I mean? You tune in to your favorite talking head for your daily dose of reality and all of a sudden—WHAM!—he starts talking about something horrifying called "ethnic cleansing" in eastern Europe. And then—BAM!—we see pictures of starving children in Africa. And then—ZAP!—here comes Saddam Hussein, and boy, is he angry.

Where's the Batmobile? Where's Commissioner Gordon? And where, for Pete's sake, is Adam West and his baggy purple tights?

Of course, that's pretty much the way things have been throughout the course of human history. Just when you start feeling like the world is becoming kinder and gentler (oops—sorry—wrong Administration), someone somewhere strikes a match and the whole pot starts boiling again.

As nearly as I can tell, it started thousands of years ago when Cain decided he wasn't able to speak—to live with his brother. So he killed him. According to the Biblical account of the world's first murder, God came upon the crime scene soon after the deed had been done and asked Cain where Abel was (not unlike the parent who finds a child elbow deep in the cookie jar and still asks, "What are you doing?").

"I know not," Cain lied. Then he added sarcastically: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

It's an intriguing question—one that we need to give some thought to from time to time. Just who is our brother, and our sister? And what is our responsibility to them?

We live in an enlightened age when most people are willing to accept some sense of duty to our fellow travelers on this planet. We rally to the support of the hungry and homeless. We search for ways to ease the suffering of AIDS victims. And when we see the damage that we are thoughtlessly doing to our environment we make considerable effort to stop it—if not for our own benefit, for the benefit of generations yet unborn.

But what about those responsible for the dark side of the nightly news? Are they our brothers and sisters, too? Or do current hostilities allow us to write them off the pedigree chart—and the nations they represent right along with them?

Of course not. We may have some black sheep in the family at home and abroad, but they are still family, no matter how reprehensible we may find their actions. All who share time and space on the earth are bound by our commonality despite our differences. Indeed, what we have in common—the ability to love and be loved, the need for acceptance, the yearning for home and family—is far more significant than divisive (and, ultimately, superficial) issues like race, nationality and political persuasion.

It's important, then, to learn how to use the things we can agree upon to help us bridge the chasm created by the things we can't. Admittedly, this can be an overwhelming challenge at times—especially when we're being inundated by those Whams!, Bams! and Zaps! That's when we need to cling to a broader perspective of the world in which we live. Just as a loving parent occasionally has to discipline a disruptive child, so too do the nations of the world occasionally need to quell a disruptive force or circumstance. But there's a difference between "discipline" and "abuse," isn't there? No matter what else we have to do to bring peace to troubled times and places, we need to remember that those who are responsible for the horror we see around the world are still part of our human family. While they may need to be stopped, nothing good is accomplished through an outpouring of hatred and prejudice.

None of which makes any of the unrest in the world easier to bear. In fact, it may complicate things a little to think of armed conflict between people and nations as a family squabble. But when it comes right down to it, that's exactly what it is. And so we care about the outcome, and not just because it's Us against Them, or because it may have an impact on how much we'll pay for gasoline in the future, or because we don't like to see such unsettling things on the news.

We care simply because... well, because we care. Because we're all in this together. Because we're family.

And because we are, after all, our brother's keeper.

(Joseph Walker is a bishop in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.)

RECYCLING BINS are out in the townships, including Chelsea Rd. They will accept newspaper, glass, cans, and plastic jugs with the number 2 on the bottom.

Recycling Authority Adjusts Curbside Pick-up Dates in Villages

Dates for curbside pick-up of recyclable materials in the villages of Chelsea and Manchester have been adjusted by the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority.

Collection in Chelsea will take place the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month, while collection in Manchester will be on the first and third Mondays.

Several "unforeseen problems and an overwhelming response to weekly curbside collection," have made the changes necessary, according to an authority news release.

No changes are scheduled for the drop-off sites in the townships.

Both the curbside collection and the drop-off bins will continue to accept newspaper, plastic (with the number 2 on the bottom), glass, and cans as announced in a recent brochure mailed to area residents.

"We are pleased with the residents' response to our new recycling program and regret that we must change our original plans," said authority manager Jeff Bagocius.

"We will adjust the program as needed in the future, but residents will be notified when any additional changes are to occur."

Bagocius said the authority is already receiving a substantial quantity of materials at the drop-off sites, even though most have not been out very long.

"We haven't reached capacity at the materials recovery facility so we welcome and encourage more participation from residents," Bagocius said.

"The more materials we collect, the more efficient our operation is."

In other authority news, two slide presentations that describe the program are available to schools, churches, and civic organizations. One is geared toward elementary school children, the other to adults. Each runs about 10 minutes and includes a written script.

The presentations may be loaned to a group. In addition, a member of the authority's education committee or Bagocius can attend a group's meeting, give the presentation, and answer questions.

"We would like to encourage local organizations to request the slide show," said Sybil Kolon, chair of the education committee.

"The success of our recycling program depends on the education of the residents. We would like the assistance of local organizations in spreading the word about recycling."

To make arrangements for the presentation call Bagocius at 475-8655.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

COLBY SKELTON tries to drive around Stockbridge Lofgren during last Tuesday's match-up in Chelsea. Skelton led the Bulldogs with 13 points, but the first loss for the Bulldogs since the holiday break.

Late Free Throws Give Dogs Big Win Over Milan

Six straight clutch free throws by seniors Tom Poulter and Dana Schunk in the last 1:55 gave the Chelsea Bulldogs a thrilling 77-74 victory over the Milan Big Reds at home last Friday.

The victory put Chelsea in second place in the Southeastern Conference, one game behind Pinckney, heading into last night's key game at Lincoln.

Poulter hit both ends of a one-and-one to put Chelsea up 73-71, after a Milan player was called for going over his back on a rebound off a missed free throw.

After a Milan miss, Colby Skelton took a short jumper that bounced off the rim, but he tied up the Big Reds' E.J. Bates on the rebound.

The Bulldogs began to stall and Poulter was fouled again on the baseline. Again, he calmly made both ends of the one-and-one.

Milan missed their next shot, and Schunk was fouled on the rebound. He swished both ends of the one-and-one to put the Bulldogs up 77-71.

With :16 left, the Big Reds brought the ball quickly down court and Dave Bogan drilled a three-pointer from the top of the key.

With the miss, Milan called time out, but the clock continued to run to :06.8. Milan coaches claimed the shot was made with :13.2 left, but officials set the clock back to :10 to the chagrin of Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

After the inbound pass, Chelsea turned the ball over underneath the Milan basket on a bad pass, and the Big Reds missed the lay-up. Pat Steele was fouled on the rebound to end the Big Reds' hopes.

"I thought both teams played very well," Raymond said.

"The second half was as closely contested as any game we've had in a long time."

Chelsea held a 37-36 lead at half-time but fell behind 44-42 on a jam by Bates at the 5:57 mark. The Big Reds eventually took a 55-50 lead.

Then Skelton completed a three-point play after a basket inside, Steele followed with a three-point bomb from the corner, and Skelton finished an eight-point run with a drive from the right side.

Nick McCalla's three-point jumper from the wing as time expired put Chelsea up 63-59 at the end of the quarter.

However, the Big Reds opened the fourth quarter by out-scoring Chelsea 12-4 to take a 71-67 lead with less than three minutes left.

Chelsea tied the game with 2:23 left after Steele passed to Schunk for a short jumper, then nailed a long one of his own.

One big key to the game, Raymond said, was the play of senior point guard Chris Dunham.

"We had to keep their guards from penetrating and Chris played good defense," Raymond said.

"It was by far his best all-around game of the season."

Dunham also had 11 points, six steals, four assists and four rebounds.

Poulter had a season-high 21 points and a team-high six rebounds. Steele scored 15 and had a season-high six assists.

Other scorers included McCalla 9, Skelton 9, Schunk 8, and Aleksander Selmanovic 4.

Raymond primarily used seven players, the fewest he's played all season. McCalla and Aleksander Selmanovic were the primary reserves.

"When you're in a tight game against a good team that is shooting well, and you're not in foul trouble, it's tough to rotate more players in," Raymond said.

Statistically the Bulldogs won the game at the free throw line, where they made 17-21 shots compared to 11-18 for Milan. Chelsea shot 48 percent from the field (28-59), while Milan shot 47 percent (29-62).

Chelsea was out-rebounded, 41-34, and gave up 15 offensive rebounds.

Milan was led by Maurice Eaddy's 25 points.

In a home game last Tuesday, the Bulldogs struggled against the Stockbridge Panthers to suffer a 69-55 defeat. It was Chelsea's first loss since the holiday break.

The game was tied at 15 after the first quarter and Stockbridge held a 32-28 lead at half-time.

The Panthers out-scored Chelsea 16-10 in the third quarter to lead by 10.

"They went into their zone early in the third quarter and we didn't shoot well enough from the outside to make them come out of it," Raymond said.

"Stockbridge is a good team. They won't overwhelm you with talent but they have a lot of tough athletes. They just beat us up inside and they were awfully quick and aggressive. We didn't get any easy shots or loose balls that we normally get. They controlled the game because of their aggressiveness."

Schunk sat out the game with a sprained ankle, which compounded the Bulldogs' problems inside.

Chelsea battled back to within four points late in the game. However, a couple of turnovers turned into Stockbridge fast breaks. From there it was a Stockbridge parade to the foul line and the Panthers made their shots.

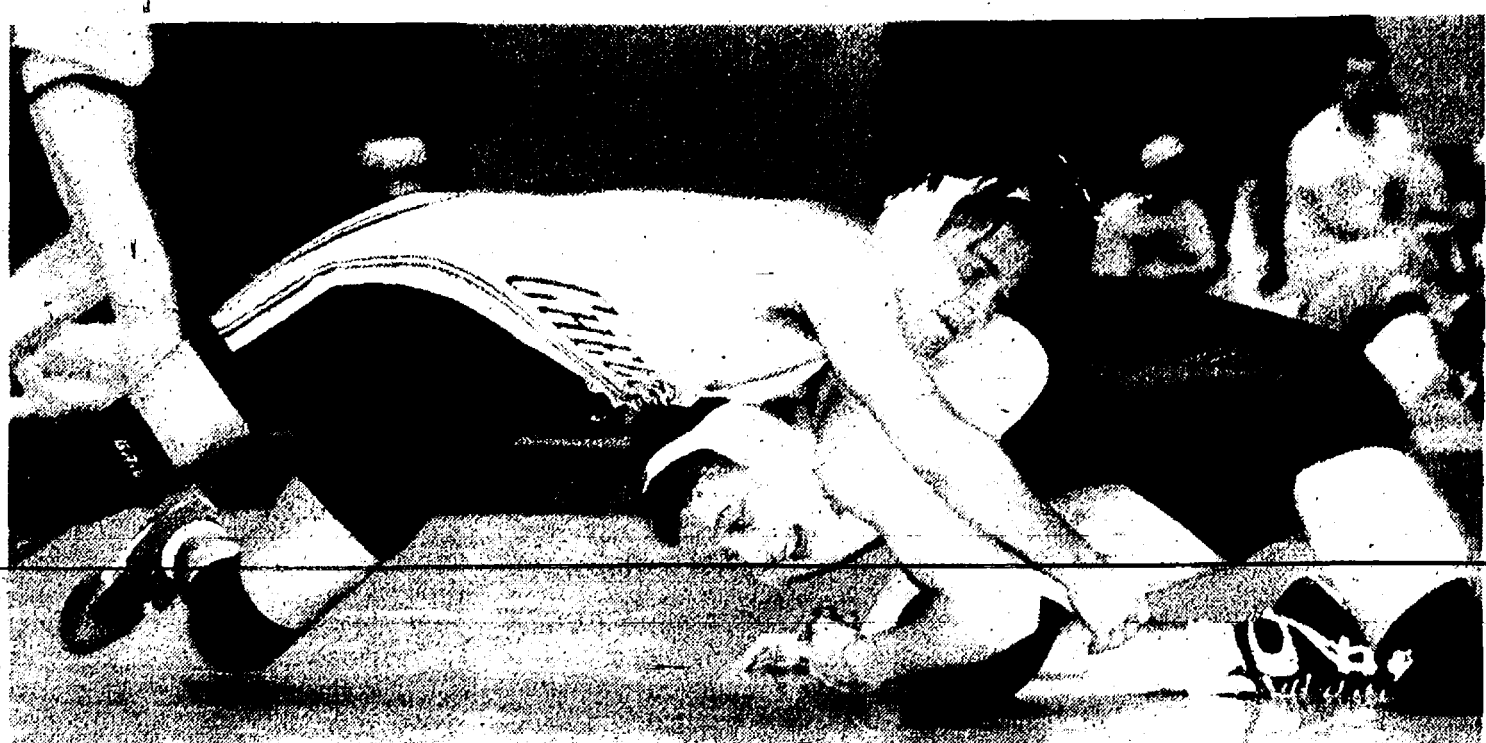

Bulldogs scorers included Skelton 13, Steele 12, McCalla 10, Dunham 8, Selmanovic 7, and Poulter 4. Steele had 10 rebounds and McCalla had five steals.

Chelsea shot just 38 percent from the field (21-56) and 47 percent (8-17) from the line. Stockbridge was 28-59 from the field and 13-22 from the line, for 59 percent from both areas.

The Bulldogs also had a season-high 28 turnovers.

After last week Chelsea was 10-3 over-all and 8-2 in the Southeastern Conference.

Wrestlers Whip Pirates, Shoot for Tourney Title

Chelsea Bulldogs wrestling team hopes to finish ahead of the Dexter Dreadnaughts this Saturday at the Southeastern Conference Tournament in Milan to win at least a piece of the SEC championship.

Dexter finished the regular season at 6-0, while the Bulldogs hold a 5-1 mark. The teams have 12 and 10 points, respectively. Winner of the tournament will earn 12 points, second place takes 10, and on down the line.

"If everyone wrestles they way they can, and everything goes well, I think we can place ahead of Dexter," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"But the real spoiler will probably be Pinckney. They have four or five kids who can make it into the finals and take points away from the other teams. They have a lot of tournament depth. The key will be to try to get all our wrestlers in the top four."

The Bulldogs won their final SEC dual meet over the Pirates last Tuesday, 32-18, on the strength of their middle weights and a couple of strong performances by kids who haven't had much time on the varsity.

Results of the Pinckney match follow.

DAN ALBER of Chelsea beat Jamie Sabin of Jackson Lumen Christi, 5-2, in his first match at the Chelsea Quad last Saturday.

In other action on Saturday, the Bulldogs won all three of their matches in the Chelsea Quad, knocking off Jackson Lumen Christi, Brooklyn Columbia Central, and Manchester.

Chelsea Tankers Edge Pirates, Aim for Second

Chelsea Bulldogs boys swimming team moved a step closer toward an outright second place in the Southeastern Conference with a 96-90 victory over the Pinckney Pirates last Thursday at home.

The Bulldogs are tied with Dexter for second place and could take second place by themselves with a win tomorrow night at Dexter.

Chelsea opened with a victory in the 200 medley relay as Steve Straub, Mike McEachern, David Brock, and Kevin Kolodica combined for a 1:51.13 to win by 3 seconds.

"We had to win this event to have a chance to win the meet," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

The B relay of Steve Brock, Peter Straub, Chris Grossman, and Jeremy Ziegler placed third to score more needed points.

In the 200 freestyle, Justin Rousch and Steve Thiel placed third and fifth, respectively, in 2:05.46 and 2:20.01.

In the 200 individual medley, Jim Bergman placed second in 2:22.50 and Peter Straub was fourth in 2:25.38.

Probably the most important event in the first half of the meet, Jolly said, was the 50 freestyle. David Brock won the event in :23.98 and Kolodica was second in :24.67. Ziegler placed fifth with a time of :26.05.

Jason Fox was third in diving with 145.6 points. Eric Frietas was fourth with 143.5, and Ryan Gerardi placed fifth with 141.95.

Steve Brock won the 100 butterfly in 1:01.86, while McEachern was third in 1:08.73 and Chris Grossman was fifth.

Steve Straub won the 100 freestyle in :54.32. Kolodica was third and Ziegler fifth.

David Brock won the 500 freestyle in 5:14.03, which Jolly called "a blazing time." Rousch was third in 5:34.17.

The 200 freestyle relay team of Straub, McEachern, Fuschke, and Ziegler placed second in 1:43.03.

A 1-2-3 Chelsea finish in the 100 backstroke nearly finished the Pirates. Steve Straub won in 1:02, while Steve Brock and Bergman, "rounded out the supreme effort by the Bulldogs," Jolly said.

JV Cagers Topple Stockbridge, Big Reds

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team recorded two easy victories last week to improve their record to 11-2 over-all and 6-2 in the Southeastern Conference.

On Friday the Bulldogs trounced the Milan Big Reds at home, 75-52.

Chelsea, leading by eight points at half-time, blew the game open with a 25-point third quarter to take a 58-37 lead.

"Milan played a good first half but our pressure defense wore them down in the third quarter," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

"Milan brought a varsity player down who was quick. Bryndon Skelton played great defense on him, with some help from Adam Beauchamp, and he got tired in the third and fourth quarter and sat down a lot."

Chelsea forced 24 turnovers while committing only 14. They also outrebounded the Big Reds, 46-33.

Case McCalla led the Bulldogs with a team-high 18 points and eight rebounds. Other scorers included Nick Brink 15, Skelton 8, Scott Colvin 8, Chad Brown 8, Beauchamp 5, Jamie Courtyard 4, James Dising 4, Dan Wehrwein 4, Scott Hawley 2, and Kevin Coy 1.

Wehrwein added seven rebounds, while Brown, Brink, Colvin and Hawley had five each.

McEachern was second in the 100 breaststroke at 1:09.25, while Peter Straub was third and Fuschke finished fourth.

The 400 freestyle relay team placed second in 3:40.27.

Chelsea has an over-all record of 6-4.

Volunteer Football Coaches Sought

Chelsea high school head football coach Gene LaFave is looking for volunteer assistant football coaches to help out at the freshman and junior varsity levels.

Anyone interested is asked to call LaFave at the high school at 475-9131.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

As of last week the Chelsea varsity basketball team and wrestling team were in much the same position. Both were in second place in the Southeastern Conference, although you could make a case that both are the best teams in the league. Both have a good chance to win their titles.

The one big difference is the wrestlers have only one more mile to go—the league tournament in Milan this Saturday.

Coach Kerry Kargel's boys, who lost only to the Dexter Dreadnaughts, and by a mere two points, just have to finish ahead of the Dreadnaughts to share the title with them. The best of all possibilities would be for the Bulldogs to take the tournament and have the Pinckney Pirates place second, which they are entirely capable of doing. That would give the title to the Bulldogs outright.

These tournaments are so unpredictable. It's probably a safe bet that a kid like Chelsea's Kevin McCalla, who has beaten everyone he's faced in the league this year, will end up in the finals at 152 pounds. What's not so certain is how the middle tier of wrestlers in each weight class will do, and that's probably where the meet will be decided. The entire tournament could hinge on a couple of kids who place third rather than fourth, or a fifth-seeded wrestler who picks off a second seed and forces him to drop down into a lower bracket.

This has been an unusual year for Kargel. His team may have as much potential as any team he's had, but youth and inexperience have kept many boys from winning consistently. With Tim Wescott out recently due to an injury, McCalla is about the only automatic win Kargel has had. Yet virtually every kid in the line-up, including Wescott's replacement, Ryan Ludwig, has had hot streaks this year and has beaten more than one outstanding wrestler. There are no pushovers.

It wouldn't be a terrible shock if five or six or more Bulldogs reached the finals Saturday, and it certainly wouldn't be surprising for all 13 to place in the top four, from freshman Ray Hatch at 103 to senior Rob Bergman at heavyweight.

The basketball team went a long way last Friday toward a league title with a three-point win over the Milan Big Reds. But there are still several major obstacles ahead, including Tecumseh and Pinckney and an improved Dexter team. The games with Dexter and Pinckney are on the road. And all this does not take into account last night's game at Lincoln because our deadline is well in advance of the game. A loss last night would probably create a three-way tie for second (Chelsea, Milan, and Lincoln), and a whole bunch of Pirates would be breathing a collective sigh of relief, although with a two-game lead they would still have Chelsea, Lincoln, and Tecumseh on their schedule.

From what I've seen, the Big Reds are the best team Chelsea has faced all season. Nobody I've seen has a one-two punch like Maurice Eaddy and E.J. Bates. Both can jump like kangaroos, shoot threes, and pass the ball.

Nevertheless, the Bulldogs showed why coach Robin Raymond will take a strong team game, especially a strong defense, over a couple of superstars anytime. Raymond put Colby Skelton and Pat Steele, his two best defensive players, on Bates and Eaddy, which created some unusual match-ups elsewhere on the court. Although Bates and Eaddy scored some points, they didn't dominate the game and they got few easy baskets. Guard Chris Dunham played outstanding defense as well. The Big Reds didn't get the ball inside very often and Dunham displayed his quickness with six steals.

The Bulldogs weren't all that spectacular on offense but they got the job done as five guys scored nine points or more. Anytime strongman Tom Paulter scores 21 points and leads the team you can bet there weren't many offensive fireworks. Virtually every shot he takes is within two feet, usually with about two guys trying to block his shot. Dunham jammed one, Steele and McCalla hit a few threes, and Skelton had a couple of twisting moves inside, but the best clutch play was at the free throw line.

If the Bulldogs continue to play the way they did Friday night, especially on defense, they should stay right in the hunt for the SEC title. I'm still hoping for a Chelsea-Pinckney game to decide it all.

In the 200 medley relay, the team of Rob Frayer, Matt Kolodica, Street and Chris Frayer was third in 2:05.77. The B team of Cara Heitman, Adam Wint, Beth Vogel, and Matt Adams placed 10th. Cody Johnson was the lone scoring diver for Chelsea as she placed fifth.

The 200 freestyle relay was Chelsea's highest scoring event. Besides the win by the A team, the B team of Chris Frayer, Adams, Crandell, and Broshar placed fourth at 1:58.82 to give Chelsea 54 points in the event. The C team of Jamie Roush, Wint, Daniel, and Lipiec also had a best time.

Heitman qualified for the state invitational with her eighth-place finish time of 1:13.59 in the 100 backstroke. Street was fifth at 1:09.73 and Robert Frayer was seventh at 1:10.14. Roush had the biggest individual time drop, 20 seconds.

Chelsea JV Spikers Take Second at Ypsilanti Tourney

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity volleyball team placed second in the Ypsilanti Invitational last week-end.

"We played extremely well in our pool," said coach Rainey Bassemier. "Our serving carried us most of the day."

Chelsea beat Gabriel Richard, 15-1, 15-4.

"Our passing was great against Richard," Bassemier said.

"It enabled our setters to get the ball to our hitters and when that happens we're hard to defend."

Chelsea went on to beat Ypsilanti, 15-13, 15-9.

Courtney Thompson and Danielle Longne neutralized Ypsi's big hitters in the middle.

In their third match, Chelsea beat Garden City, 15-13, 15-13.

"This was some of the best volleyball we've played all season," Bassemier said.

"I was very happy with our intensity."

In the semi-finals, Chelsea beat Wayne Memorial, 15-10, 15-11 to advance to the finals, where they lost to Monroe Jefferson, 15-12, 12-15, 10-15.

Carrie Buss led the way in serving with 32-32. Cindy Tripp was 46-52 and Longne was 43-50. Liz Holdsworth, Buss, Tracy Dufek, and Jessica Inwood set well all day, Bassemier said. Longne had 17 kills and three blocks.

Heidi Wehrwein had eight kills and four blocks, Thompson had 13 kills and nine blocks, Sara Petty had 12 kills and two blocks, and Cindy Tripp had nine kills and one block.

Chelsea is 11-9-2 on the season.

8th Grade Spikers Win First Three

Beach Middle school eighth grade volleyball team recorded victories over Lincoln, Saline, and Dexter in their first three matches.

Coach Ann Schaffner said the number of attacks has increased in each match.

In the Lincoln match, Kristi Cox served for nine points and Monica Royce, Sarah Metzler, and Amy Herrst each had four service points as the team won 11-2, 11-2, 11-8.

Chelsea beat Saline in four games, 11-9, 11-7, 7-11, and 11-6. Royce had 10 service points, Jenny Space had eight, and Cox and Jesse Forshee had six each.

Dexter fell in three games, 11-3, 11-6, and 13-11. Michelle Lucas led with six service points, and Space had five service points.

Schaffner said that Erin Montgomery, Cox, Herrst, Metzler, Alicia Vogel, and Kasie Ruhlig are becoming effective beginning setters. Royce, Space, Forshee, Melissa Carthy, Jessica Messner, and Erin Dougherty have been consistent back row players.

Other members of the team include Hillarie Szczygiel, Jenny Paddock, Leigha Young, Stacey Havens, and Alicia Broughton.

Computers and other high tech gadgets are helping researchers study the foraging habits of honey bees. USDA scientists are eavesdropping on the busy little bees in order to help beekeepers produce more honey and assist fruit farmers in finding more efficient ways to pollinate their crops.

Varsity Spikers Take Big Reds in Two Games

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity volleyball team made it three straight wins with a victory over the Milan Big Reds Thursday night before a home crowd. After sluggish starts in both games, the Bulldogs won the best two-of-three match, 15-8 and 15-5.

In the first game, with the score tied at 3, two Theresa Royce kills and a Melissa Thiel service ace put Chelsea up 6-3. Several Milan errors and a Kori White service ace gave Chelsea a 9-4 lead. After an Amy Petty stuff block, Royce served for six straight points, including three aces to end the game.

In the second game, kills by Petty,

Royce, and Thiel put Chelsea ahead 4-2. Milan narrowed the score to 7-5 before a Thiel kill and service aces by Royce and Petty took Chelsea to a 12-5 lead. The scoring was capped by Thiel aces and a Royce kill for the game.

"The team worked very hard on improving their serve reception this week and tonight we only made one error as a team," said Chelsea coach Dan Montgomery.

"I was a little concerned that we were unable to put points on the scoreboard early in the games. We may have been trying to play a bit too cautiously."

White and Gretchen Knutsen both served a perfect 8 of 8 attempts, while Royce went 13 of 14 with four aces. Thiel served 7 of 8 with two aces.

Defensively, White led the team with five blocks and Petty had three. Royce had 10 digs, Knutsen had nine, Petty eight, White 6, and Emily Carty 3.

On offense, Royce had seven kills, Thiel went 9-9 with six kills, while Petty and Knutsen each had one kill.

The Bulldogs are 11-10 over-all and 4-3 in the Southeastern Conference. They play the league-leading Dexter Dreadnaughts on Thursday in Dexter, then host Tecumseh on Monday for Parents' Night.

KEVIN McCALLA of Chelsea recorded three pins at last Saturday's Chelsea Invitational. The Bulldogs' captain wrestles at 152 pounds.

MESC Director Backs Unemployment Law Changes

F. Robert Edwards, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC), said he is urging the legislature to approve proposed changes to the unemployment insurance (UI) law that will control the over-all costs of unemployment benefits in the state for businesses.

"I fully support the newly introduced Senate Bill 2," Edwards said. "This legislation is critical if we are to be cost competitive with other states in attracting new and keeping existing businesses in Michigan."

The bill, introduced by Sen. Joanne G. Emmons, would take several actions to reduce the cost of jobless benefits. The Emmons bill would: (1) establish a non-compensable waiting week; (2) reduce and freeze the maximum weekly benefit amount at $283; (3) lower the after-tax earnings percentage used in determining weekly jobless benefits from 70 to 65 percent; (4) raise the earnings needed to qualify for benefits from $87 to $100.50 per week; and (5) eliminate the alternate earnings qualifier.

"These changes will have a positive effect on the solvency of Michigan's UI benefit trust fund," he added.

Where can you find financial solutions?

In 1992, Wayne/DPS manufactured, among other things, millions of "Chip Clips" for Guardsman Industries. This fast growing company has doubled its employees and its sales in less than two years.

To continue this rapid growth, Wayne/DPS had to buy new equipment and build inventory. They also needed cash relief. Society® found a way to increase the Company's line of credit and restructure their debt, without increasing their monthly payment.

So Wayne/DPS can keep right on clipping.

Where can you find financial solutions even if your business isn't in the chips?

Keith Smith of Wayne/DPS can fill you in on the details. Call him at 517-263-7166.

Friendship Club, a monthly Bible Class for mentally-impaired people will have a planning meeting Thursday, Feb. 11, 7 to 9 p.m. at the St. Louis school on Old US-12. This is part of a training series: Saturdays, Feb. 27, 10 a.m. and March 13, 10 a.m. at St. Louis school.

Sponsored by the Chelsea Ministerial Association, the club will meet once a month at the Faith in Action Building. It will include Bible stories, snacks, music and fellowship. People are needed who are willing to be a one-on-one teacher-friend to these students.

Please call Fr. Enzo Addari, 475-8430; the Rev. Richard Dake, 475-8119 or 475-8448; the Rev. Rebecca Foote, 475-4386 or 457-8199; Mrs. Sarah Groesser, 475-7379; the Rev. Wayne Hawley, 475-7569 or 475-9348.

The first investigation into the relationship between child labor and school attendance was in Massachusetts in 1825. This was also the first investigation into a labor problem, which contributed, in part, to passage of a child labor law in 1838, according to the Department of Labor's "Labor Firsts in America."

Hinz-Johnson Concert

Date Rescheduled

Because of the fact that there will be two district basketball games on Wednesday, March 10 at the high school, the second concert in the Fine Arts Series featuring mezzo-soprano Lisa Hinz-Johnson has been rescheduled for Saturday, March 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the George Pinzing Auditorium at Chelsea High School.

This decision was made after concerns were voiced that conditions would not be ideal, both for parking and crowd noise in the school areas surrounding the auditorium.

Tickets are on sale at Chelsea Pharmacy.

If this date change causes conflicts with patrons who have already purchased tickets, please call Clara Smith at 475-8713.

'Heat Within'

Subject of Program

At Eddy Center

"The Heat Within," the second part of the Miracle Planet series, will be the subject of a free program at the Eddy Geology Center this Saturday, Feb. 13 at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The film looks at one of the earth's most extraordinary features called plate tectonics. The venting of the heat within continues to break continents apart, create new lands, and lay down mineral deposits.

A state motor vehicle permit is required to enter the park.

This might be a good year to drink Michigan premium wines, instead of ones from California. An insect infestation is eating away at vineyards in California's Napa valley, and is expected to cut wine grape production by over a third. Total losses to California vineyard growers could add up to nearly a billion dollars.

His problem was, he couldn't hear."

"Zachary sometimes didn't answer me, especially when his back was turned. Then his teacher called to say he didn't seem to be paying attention in class.

When we saw the audiologist at Chelsea Community Hospital, testing showed that fluid in Zach's ear was the problem. Now it's corrected, and Zach understands us loud and clear... the only word he still has trouble with is bedtime."

Henry Ford Leads in Hiring Black Workers

When Henry Ford hired William Perry in 1888 to help him clear land in Dearborn, he didn't know that Perry, an African-American, would lead him to implement fair employment practices decades before equal employment opportunities arose for most black Americans.

University of Michigan professor David Lewis, a leading Ford historian, recounts how this story of friendship and fairness affected one of the nation's major automobile manufacturers in the January/February 1993 issue of Michigan History Magazine, now on sale.

The friendship, formed while the men worked both ends of a crosscut saw, continued for more than 50 years. In 1913 when Perry was forced by a heart ailment to leave his bricklaying job, Henry Ford hired him once again, making Perry the Ford Motor Company's first black employee.

"Ford knew a worker's potential was not determined by the color of his skin," said Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, Michigan's official historian. "William Perry was the forerunner of thousands of black Ford employees, including sports legends Joe Louis and Jesse Owens, and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young."

Before Perry was hired at the Ford plant most blacks of the early 1900s worked as sweat laborers and at other jobs white employees refused. In addition, most employers paid black employees less than their white employees even when they performed equal work.

Ford, however, continued placing African-Americans in virtually all of his company's hourly wage job classifications including the most skilled and prestigious of plant work, tool-and-die making. Ford began promoting blacks to supervisory positions in 1919 when he created another company "first" by hiring Eugene J. Collins for a white-collar position. By the late 1920s the percentage of blacks employed by Ford exceeded the percentage of blacks in Detroit's population.

Other feature articles in the January/February 1993 issue of Michigan History Magazine profile Jess Elster and his almost half-century career in West Michigan semi-professional baseball; provide color photographs highlighting "Buildings of Michigan," the first volume in the Society of Architectural Historians' unique "Buildings of the United States" series; and visit Perry, Michigan, where Baptist minister and inventor Isaac Wilcox Lamb operated a very successful glove and mitten factory in 1894.

Michigan History Magazine, the nation's most popular state history magazine, is available by single issue ($2.95) at many bookstores across the state and by annual subscription ($12.95/year). The magazine, which explores all facets of Michigan's past with a contemporary perspective, is published six times a year by the Michigan Department of State's Bureau of History.

Humane Society Receives 1,043 Purebred Dogs in '92

During 1992, 1,043 purebred dogs came to the Humane Society of Huron Valley. This number represents about 29 percent of the total number of dogs who came to the shelter for care.

Most of these animals were either picked up as strays or released for adoption by their owners. Some were puppies, but most were over six months of age. A few were elderly and/or ill pets brought to HSHV for euthanasia.

Do these numbers surprise you? Do you think of the dogs at an animal shelter as all mixed-breed "mutts"? If so, then it's time to switch gears. Many of the purebred pets brought to our facility are the result of irresponsible breeding and pet ownership. The highly popular breeds that are available in pet stores and for rock-bottom prices in the classifieds are the ones who visit us most frequently. Take a moment and scan the attached breakdown of our 1992 figures: 142 Beagles, 88 Cocker Spaniels, 103 Labrador Retrievers, 50 Poodles.

What can you do to help prevent this purebred tragedy in 1993?

- Adopt from a humane society or responsible breeder, never from a pet store. HSHV keeps request lists for every breed of purebred dog or cat, and can refer you to reputable breeders.
- Do not breed your pet just because he/she is a purebred. Only top-quality pets should be bred.

- Learn as much as you can about the different breeds before you select a pet. Call HSHV (313) 682-5585 for assistance.

Athletic Boosters To Open Fundraiser With Dinner Dance

Chelsea Athletic Boosters are undertaking the largest project in their history this year in an effort to raise funds for the construction of new concessions, restroom, and pressbox facilities at the high school.

Local sports fans who have endured a cold spring day at a ball game or track meet, or an even colder evening at a football game, will welcome the addition.

The club plans to raffle off a 1993 Ford Probe GT, and the drawing will be made at the first home football game on Sept. 3.

Raffle tickets will first be available at a kick-off dinner party at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds on Saturday, March 6. There will be a "pre-game warm-up" at 7 p.m., followed by a catered dinner at 8. Unveiling of the site plans for the project, as well as music and dancing will follow.

Dinner tickets are available at all home athletic contests. They are also being sold by some club members and at the branch office of Chelsea State Bank, Chelsea Lumber Co., and Chelsea Pharmacy.

Crop scientists have developed a portable oxygen monitor that uses optical fibers to light up plant roots and detect plants which regulate oxygen supplies to roots. The device is expected to help with research on breeding plants more resistant to drought and other stress.

SENIOR AIR BAND performed at last Friday's pep assembly at Chelsea High school, part of the annual Winter Carnival. Here, John Heller fronts a sitting back-up band of, from left, J.D. Alford, Rick Alvarez, and Jeremy Beauchamp. Their performance included both rap and bluegrass music.

GERALD PICKARD of Chelsea, center, was presented his 50-year membership pin in the Chelsea Olive Lodge No. 154 at his home on Feb. 3. Making the presentation were Worshipful Master Bob Schaeffer, left, and Chuck Stoner, chaplain and past master. Greetings were also extended from Most Worshipful Grand Master Leonard Noechel of the state of Michigan.

Test Scores Improve For CHS Juniors

Chelsea High school 11th graders continue to improve on the California Achievement Test (CAT), according to a report submitted to the board of education by testing co-ordinator Sue Carter.

CAT is given each year to second, fifth, eighth, and 11th grade students. As of last week, results for other grades had not been received.

The test measures the grade level at which each child is actually achieving.

Chelsea 11th graders scored above their grade level on every test given. 12.9 is the top score possible.

Chelsea students scored 12.9 in reading, spelling, math, "total battery," study skills, and science. They scored 12.1 in total language.

In 1990, 11th graders scored 11.7 in spelling, and in 1991 scored 12.3. In those same years, students scored 10.9 and 11.7 in total language.

According to a comparison against national figures, the average Chelsea student placed in the 86th percentile in reading, 54th percentile in spelling, 50th percentile in total language, 58th percentile in math, 57th percentile in total battery, 65th percentile in study skills, and 74th percentile in science.

The report also gave over-all results in the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) and the American College Test (ACT), which are taken primarily by students interested in attending college.

77 juniors took the PSAT and scores showed little change from previous years.

Scale of the test is 20 to 80. Chelsea's verbal mean (equal number above and below) was 41.3, and the math mean score was 45.4.

All 77 students said they plan to attend college. Careers most commonly selected by boys were engineering, social scientist and related professions, and health and medical professions. Most common careers for girls were social scientist and related professions, business and commerce, and health and medical professions.

Scale of the ACT test is 1 to 38. Chelsea's composite average for all students in the class of 1992 who took the test was 22.8. However, the score was 24.6 for those who took a college-recommended core curriculum.

CAP Presenting Membership Drive, Theatre Workshop

Chelsea Area Players will present a Membership Drive/Theatre Workshop, Saturday, Feb. 20, from 2 to 5 p.m. with a pot-luck immediately following in the Chelsea High Auditorium.

This will provide a unique opportunity to get involved at any level of the organization. Come spend an afternoon with CAP members to catch a first-hand glimpse of the inner workings of the group.

The afternoon will begin at 2 p.m. with a brief introduction to CAP and a small synopsis of events that take place, both on and off stage. Experienced theater personnel will be on hand all afternoon to walk you through many facets of a production and allow you to get some hands-on experience in areas such as costuming, set design and construction, props, makeup, and other essential areas of productions. Actual pre-production activity will be in progress for the upcoming 20th Anniversary Show (Re-Cap) in March.

Maybe you are already a member. Maybe you are thinking of joining, or quite possibly you're simply interested in seeing what takes place behind the scenes and are willing to lend a hand when available. In any event, come on down and spend a fun filled afternoon with the group... it's free.
