Two Sex Abuse Charges Against Church Deacon Dropped in District Court

Former North Sharon Baptist Church Deacon Mark Foeller had two charges of first-degree criminal sexual conduct against him dropped last Wednesday in district court.

Assistant Washtenaw County Prosecutor Lynwood Noah said his department was not ready to proceed.

14A District Judge Thomas Shea dropped the charges.

Shea's action continues the trend set in recent sexual abuse cases against assistant pastor Timothy Leonard. Leonard, facing 12 first- and second-degree criminal sexual conduct charges, was set free Feb. 3 as one by one the charges were dropped before he ever went to trial. In most charges against him there were problems with the testimony of the alleged victims.

The charges dropped against Foeller allegedly involved a nine-year-old boy in the church last June. Foeller had been arraigned in January.

Foeller, 36, an engineer for the Chrysler Corp., is married and the father of three children. He still faces trial on two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and one count of second-degree criminal sexual conduct in Washtenaw county, and two counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct and one count of first-degree criminal sexual conduct in Jackson county.

A trial in Jackson county is set for April 12 on the first-degree criminal sexual conduct charge. A March 5 pre-trial has been scheduled on the two second-degree charges.

Foeller's attorney, Brian Thiede, has made a motion to consolidate all the charges in both counties. Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge Melinda Morris is scheduled to rule on the motion March 22.

Prosecutors have not ruled out the possibility of additional charges against either man.

All the alleged victims were members of the church's Sunday school bus ministry, in which children from out-lying, low-income areas were picked up by bus and taken to the church. Some of the incidents allegedly took place on the bus and others in the school.

Munith Man Charged With Attempted Murder

A 34-year-old Munith man was charged with attempted murder after he allegedly shot a 57-year-old Joslin Lake Rd. man and his 18-year-old son through the living room window of their home last Thursday night.

Larry Mead was arraigned on the charge at the Washtenaw County Jail before Magistrate George Parker on Friday afternoon.

The names of the victims were being withheld by Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department as of press time. According to WCSO Lt. R.J. Smith, a personal dispute apparently took Mead to the Joslin Lake home in Lyndon township early Thursday night. He said several shots were fired from outside the home through a curtained living room window. The man and his son were apparently in the living room at the time. Another woman, unrelated to the men, was also in the house but was not injured, Smith said. When the shooting ended, Smith said, the victims were able to identify their assailant as he fled.

One of the victims did not seek medical treatment. The other suffered facial and head wounds and was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital, where he was treated and released. Police were called to the scene at 9:07 p.m.

Mead was later apprehended at his home by the Jackson County Sheriff's Department.

Mead had apparently known at least one of the victims for at least a year and a half, Smith said. The dispute, Smith said, apparently did not involve drugs.

Village Considers New Budget of $1.89 Million

Chelsea Village Council was scheduled last night to consider a $1.89 million budget for the 1993-94 fiscal year following a required budget hearing.

The figure, if approved, would be slightly less than the previous year's approved budget of $2.19 million but more than the proposed amended 1992-93 budget of $1.84 million.

Village manager Jack Myers said Monday that he believes village millage will not have to be raised from 10.94 mills.

The proposed budget showed revenues of $980,000 from property taxes, $310,000 from state shared revenues, $170,000 from fire contracts with the townships, $125,000 from trash bag sticker sales, $145,767 from the electric fund in lieu of taxes, and $60,000 from the state's Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance (MUSTFA) fund as the major revenue items.

Major expenditures would include $407,126 for the police department, $345,887 for public works, $243,695 for fire protection, $254,850 for "other activities," $209,250 for insurance and fringe benefits, $138,350 for the executive branch, and $133,700 for the general services administration.

In "enterprise and other budgets," the village is planning to spend $125,400 on major streets (revenues $148,500), $2,346,954 in the electric department (rev. $2,509,787), $390,350 from the landfill fund (rev. $146,477), $289,950 from the water fund (rev. $362,000), $373,810 from the sewer fund (rev. $387,350), and $302,671 from the downtown development fund (rev. $273,701).

Workshop Set For Potential Bd. Candidates

A workshop will be held twice in March for prospective candidates for the Chelsea Board of Education.

The board seats of president Anne Comeau and vice-president Ron Satterthwaite expire June 30. They will conduct the seminars, one Wednesday, March 10 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., and the other on Monday, March 15 from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Both meetings will be held in the board of education room.

The public is invited to attend the free workshops and there is no obligation to run for office. However, reservations are required so enough information packets can be put together. To reserve a space call Miriam Klemmer at 475-9131 during school hours.

The workshops will cover board mechanics, roles and responsibilities of the board and the superintendent, laws and regulations governing board members, and interpretation of state mandates.

Blood Drive Slated March 5

The second Chelsea Community Blood Drive of the year will be held on Thursday, March 4 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran church on M-52.

People who are in good health, are more than 110 pounds, and are 18-years-old (17 with parental consent) are eligible to donate blood.

Free juice and cookies will be available for those who donate.

An appointment is not necessary, but one can be made by calling Christine at 971-6534.

Anyone who would like to volunteer to help at the drive is asked to call Bonnie at 475-7220.

Meet Your Candidates

Editor's Note: This is the second in a two-part series about candidates for village trustee. This week's installment focuses on the four candidates for three available two-year seats. Candidates were asked to fill out information forms.

Steven W. Daut, 41, of 16 Chestnut St., was born in Davenport, Ia., and moved to Chelsea in 1987 from Lake LeAnn, south of Jackson.

Daut, an environmental consultant and technical writer, holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Iowa. His wife, Rebecca, works at Chelsea Community Hospital. They have two sons, William, a student at Chelsea High school, and Lincoln, who attends Cornell College in Iowa.

Daut is a member of the Chelsea Lions Club and has worked as a volunteer for Foote Hospital and Aware Shelter in Jackson and the Jackson Salvation Army.

Daut, who has never held an elected office, says "I've always had an interest in policy and affairs and feel that Chelsea is at a critical point in its development. As a strong advocate of pro-active government at all levels, I feel that now is the time to get involved, before the issues demand short-sighted reaction."

Daut has been involved with governmental projects through work with the Iowa, Illinois, and Michigan Geological Surveys, as well as federal agencies. He says he's helped shape policy in Canada through the Government Liaison Committee of the Ontario-Petroleum Institute.

Stephanie "Sis" Kanten, 560 Chandler St., is a Chelsea native. She's taught school for 26 years and is a second grade teacher in Dexter.

Kanten is a 1964 graduate of Olivet College and has taken continuing education courses at Eastern Michigan University. She has served on council for 12 years, although not continuously.

She has a daughter, Kellie, who's enrolled at Eastern Michigan University. Her mother and brother also live and work in town.

Kanten said she's running again because she wants to "continue to serve the residents of Chelsea and to give back to the community which contains so much of my heritage."

She pointed out that her grandfather built many of the downtown buildings (current Day-spring and Merkel Home Furnishings building, among others). Her grandfather was village president when Main St. was paved, and her great-aunt, Catherine McKune, donated the home now used for McKune Memorial Library. Her mother, Katie Wagner, has also been involved with a number of civic affairs.

"I am committed, as well as proud to serve those whose heritage began

Tom Dorer, 41, of 777 N. Freer Rd., is a Chelsea native. He's a plumber for the John E. Green Co. of Ann Arbor. He and his wife, Carol, have a son, Robert, age nine.

Dorer was initially appointed to village council in 1990, and was first elected in 1991, when he ran unopposed.

During his three years in office he has served on a number of committees, including planning and ordinance review, farmers market, solid waste management, public utilities, industrial development, city study, and most recently, the Gene Dr. study committee.

Dorer's most valuable contribution to council, he says, was his involvement with the Chelsea Downtown Development Authority and the streetscape project.

Brian Cashman, 42, of 449 Railroad St., was born in Winthrop, Mass. and moved to Chelsea in March of 1989 from Ann Arbor. He and his wife, Peggy, have a daughter, Stephanie, age five.

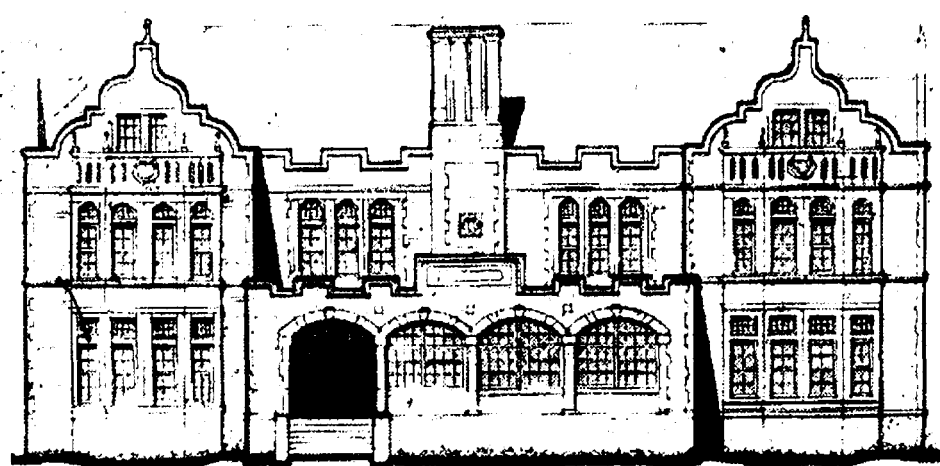

Cashman works in the Information Technology Division at the University of Michigan, where he manages the staff responsible for the campus data network. He has a bachelor's degree in computer science from Michigan.

Cashman was appointed to council last year to fill out the term of Allen Anderson, who moved away. He had run unsuccessfully for council in the March elections, finishing fifth among six candidates. He's never held another elected political office, although he served as an alternate on the village's Zoning Board of Appeals. As a council member, he serves on the Dexter, Sylvan, Lima and Lyndon townships have been asked to pay a combined $100,000 by March of 1990 toward the closure of the old village landfill and related engineering costs. In addition, the village would pay $152,976. The figures were discussed at a meeting of township supervisors and village officials last Thursday evening.

Developer Rene Papo asked the village to annex 10 acres near Pierce Park where he would build a 40,000-square-foot office complex, aimed largely at the medical community.

A tentative draft of the 1989-90 village budget by village manager Fritz Weber shows a $55,500 shortfall in the general fund budget. The tentative budget shows revenues of $1.4 million and expenditures of $1,455,500. "It's something we're going to have to deal with," village president Jerry Satterthwaite said.

Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home plans to use $12 million in bonds endorsed by the Chelsea Economic Development Corporation to complete its building projects. It will be the first major project in several years to be completed by EDC limited obligation revenue bonds. Chelsea Community Hospital and BookCrafters, Inc., are among other organizations to use EDC financing.

Chelsea's annual village election will be held Monday, March 12 at Sylvan Township Hall for the purpose of filling the expiring terms of village clerk, three village trustees, and two Library Board trustees. Six Independent party candidates will appear on the ballot, the result of nominations accepted during the nine-minute village caucus held on Feb. 12. The candidates are opposed but write-in candidates are possible.

Fontana-Taylor Ambulance Service of Ann Arbor is "looking fast and furiously" for a suitable ambulance substation in the Chelsea-Manchester area as its March 6 deadline passed unsuccessfully by. In the meantime, Fontana has and will have an ambulance "driving back and forth between Chelsea and Manchester day and night until we find the right place," according to Nancy Fontana, co-owner of the service.

Compliments flowed as eloquently as the music which had inspired them following the performances of Chelsea High school 9th grade band and symphony band on Saturday, March 3.

No more fire-permits will be issued in the county until grass fire season is over. A grass fire which started about 1 p.m. Saturday at Hadley Rd. burned over 100 acres and threatened several farms and homes. One started a half an hour later near Roepke Rd., when debris from paper burned in an uncovered container blew out and caught a nearby field on fire. That fire endangered homes on Ellsworth Lake and burned over several fields. Four local fire departments were needed for both fires.

St. Mary's parochial school will drop eighth grade for the next school year. Existing classroom space is not enough for an increasing enrollment, but an addition is too costly. The school, which has 235 students enrolled in grades 1-8, is supported by tuition and the parish treasury. The building was constructed for grades 1-12 in 1925, but the high school curriculum was dropped in 1934, again for a lack of space.

Donald Alber, an unopposed People's Party candidate, was elected to his third term as village president in Monday's election. The rest of the slate was filled by Independent party candidates.

A contest for designing the seal for Chelsea's 125th anniversary was announced this week. Details were to be worked out at last night's planning committee meeting.

A Sharon-township barn, estimated to weigh 80 tons, was moved 1 1/2 miles last week by the Heckman Co. of Napoleon. The 36x70-foot barn had been on the old Couch Dorr farm. While it was moved to Don Irwin's farm, it was supported by timbers 80-feet long and 15 inches square. Work was temporarily halted Saturday because of soft spots in the ground.

★ Washington Should Kick the Mandate Habit

By Michael LaFaive
Congress has a knack for starting new programs and dumping the costs on to the states. It's a bad habit that is imposing a staggering burden upon Michigan taxpayers.

These unfunded "federal mandates" have grown dramatically in number, from only 27 in all of the 1950s to more than 100 in the 1980s. Currently there are more than 400 mandates that tie up resources and dictate policy to the states. They all require states to provide services without helping them meet the expense.

If a state resists a mandate, Washington often threatens to cut off funds in other areas. For example, if states fail to meet federal standards in licensing and testing school bus drivers, they could lose five to ten percent of major federal highway grants.

One year ago, Representative Michael Nye (R-Litchfield) and legislators from 24 other states launched a drive to amend the U.S. Constitution to stop Congress from creating these obligations for state governments. The threat to cut off funding to states that do not comply, he says, "is nothing short of blackmail" and forcing the states "to sacrifice certain services just to satisfy the whims of Washington is ridiculous." He says that Washington needs a "Headlee Amendment," referring to that portion of the 1978 initiative that bars the state of Michigan from imposing unfunded mandates on local units of government.

Rep. Nye's effort to amend the federal constitution languished in a busy and highly-charged election year, as the problem itself showed no signs of easing. Since the beginning of 1991, members of Congress have proposed more than 200 new mandates. In one three-month period in 1992, 15 were proposed in health care alone. Mandates relating to the environment ran a close second.

Consider as one example, a list of nursing home mandates Congress passed in 1987. They included pre-admission screening, nurse aide training and competency programs, a nurse aide registry, resident assessment, review of mentally ill and mentally retarded residents, alternatives for persons requiring active treatment, etc. Regardless of their value (or whether they duplicated existing programs), the State of Michigan spent an estimated $40 million to comply with these requirements in 1990. By 1995, their cost is expected to rise to $137 million.

Congress especially loves to load the Medicaid program with obligations on the states. The Michigan Department of Management and Budget (DMB) estimates that between 1990 and 1993, the share of state Medicaid expenditures that goes just to pay federally-required expenditures rose from 3.2 percent to 6.4 percent. Federal Medicaid mandate costs are expected to grow at an annual rate of 89.1 percent in Michigan through fiscal year 1995, compared to the historical growth rate of the entire state general fund budget of only 5.5 percent.

The actual cost to Michigan of federal Medicaid mandates, according to fiscal year 1993 figures from the DMB, is a whopping $95.3 million—larger than the General Fund budgets of 11 of the 18 state departments. That's equivalent to 30 percent of state government's revenue growth this year!

The problem with federal mandates goes beyond their burdensome expense to strike at the very heart of the state-federal relationship. The concept of federalism, a pillar of the U.S. Constitution, left to the states a lion's share of government powers and responsibilities. The gradual shift in recent years toward greater involvement by Washington in nearly all areas of public policy flouts the federalist spirit and threatens to make vassals of the 50 states. In one area after another, it has produced inferior policy results as well.

In another sense, the states have only themselves to blame. They have come to depend upon Washington for billions in subsidies for a wide array of programs. About one-quarter of Michigan's gross state budget is paid by the federal government, for instance. Mandates can be seen as the "strings" attached to the goodies, proof of the old adage that "He who pays the piper will call the tune."

Though constitutional amendments and other legislative band-aids may help, the only long-term solution to this problem is for all units of government to stick to the tasks their respective constitutions prescribe. The states must tell Washington to mind its own business and be equally prepared to do the same.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher stopped by the country store early in the session Saturday night, and he must be decided to take his Sunday sermon on the road. The preacher said you don't have to follow the papers close to pick up the rotten egg smell of perfect hindsight that covers the country with every change in Washington Administrations.

The preacher said all the replaced appointed officials now are brim full of advice for their replacements. To soon out and to late smart right down the line. What really stinks, the preacher went on, is that all the replaced that don't manage to keep their head to the public trough become private consultants to the Government, write how-to books or else run around the country charging big speaking fees. They ought to be took every bit as serious as former drug addicts that find new careers fighting drug abuse, was the preacher's words.

He said he has thought this situation up one side and down the other, and he is full convinced that, like it or not, politics and religion mix as sure as humans and human nature do. We don't want to practice what we preach, he said, because we all want the gain without the pain.

In politics and religion we want to leave out the hard parts. A Congressman that knows 60 percent of interstate highway overpasses need to be replaced but won't run the risk of voting to raise taxes to do it is not a public servant, the preacher declared, and a church goer that says Jesus was a great teacher, but no more a child of God than the rest of us is not a Christian. Either Jesus is what he says, or he was a complete lunatic to make the claims he did, was the preacher's words.

After the preacher left, Zeke said he must be on his high horse because the deacons are bucking his idea to work with other churches and build a Habitat for Humanity home. Zeke said he and the rest of the deacons were of a mind there was to much need in the congregation to take on the project.

The fellows were general agreed that the preacher come on strong, but Bug-Hookum noted that it takes a 2 by 4 up side the head to get the attention of some of us old mules. What he learned for sure, Bug said, is that the world is full of yes-buts of all stripes, but Zeke's preacher comes down hard on one side and sticks. He wouldn't go far in politics, where compromise is a survival skill. After laying out his beliefs, Bug said, a politician worth the name would of said "them's my convictions, and if you don't like em I'll change em."

Bug said it's the yes-buts that make the lawyers rich. You name it, and fence straddlers will come up with high paid spokesmen that can argue all sides with equal conviction. If we outlaw guns, only outlaws will have guns. If we don't ban guns, people will keep killing people accidental and in the heat of the moment and spending the rest of their lives wishing they hadn't. If hunters don't kill, the animals will multiply until they starve. If killing is a sport, what are we saying about ourselves. If we set up state-run lotteries the poor will spend their last dollar gambling. If we don't have lotteries, which is the only form of voluntary taxation, the poor will suffer more because of higher taxes on everything they got to have.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Child Study Club Hears Program on Family Geneology

Chelsea Child Study Club began the New Year with a presentation on Family Trees. A program on Geneology was given by guest Nancy Van Blaricum. Members learned the techniques of tracing family history from the vast geneological libraries of Salt Lake City, U., to their own Michigan roots.

In keeping with the club's direction of "Always Growing" the February meeting focused on Community Awareness. Speaker Conrad Knutsen from the Chelsea Recreation Council gave a view to the future with the council's five-year plan.

"Spring Into Fashion" is the theme for the annual fund-raiser on March 23, at 7 p.m. Merkel's will provide the setting for an evening of fashion, fun and make-overs. Models will show the latest in the spring line from K. Tyson. Make-over stations will demonstrate new techniques on hair styles, nails and make-up.

Fund-raiser donations will help the club with their contributions to many areas of the community.

"I've operated a small business, working with budgets, projections, and balance sheets, and my environmental consulting work prepares me to deal with complex regulatory issues," Daut says.

Daut says the most serious problem or challenge facing Chelsea is significant growth and change, "especially as the economic recovery builds steam."

"In the next two to three years, Chelsea will be faced with the need for additional water storage and electrical capacity, a new municipal building, and a number of solid waste issues. Human services will face the need for growth, and public education is under increasing budget pressures. The solution is to recognize these growing problems and deal with them before they overwhelm us."

Other issues Daut sees as priorities are the establishment of a permanent solid waste transfer station, and "an incentive-based recycling system." He'd also like to see a push for home composting.

"I also believe the village must tackle the village/city issue as soon as possible, and it seems to me that the council should be actively involved in that issue."

Daut says he believes the change to a city would be "a positive step," from the standpoint of services and the ability to "control" development within the village. "The matter should be approached with the broader perspective that considers the needs of the surrounding townships as well. The village must recognize that it will be best served by being surrounded by strong townships, and the townships should recognize that a strong central economic unit can enhance the entire area. No one will be best served by narrow-focused bickering. Therefore, any changes should be approached by working together on these issues rather than allowing ourselves to become divided by them."

"I followed the DDA for some time before getting on 'Council,'" Dorer says.

"It all came together while I was on council and I'm proud to have been a part of it."

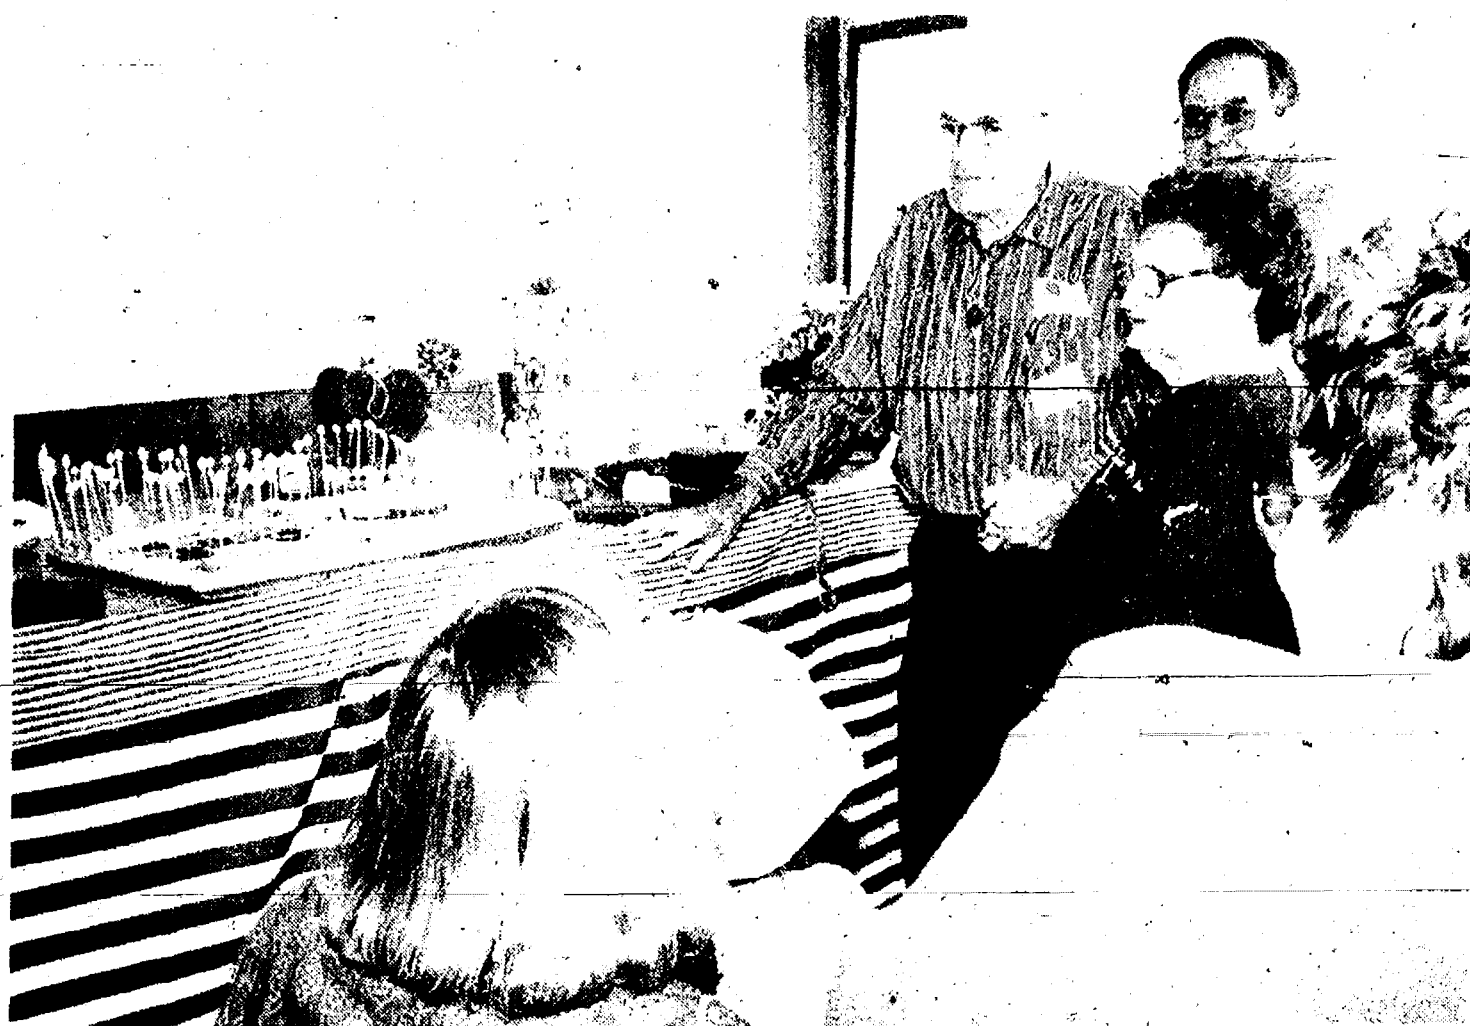

The reason Dorer says he is seeking re-election is "I feel the village is moving in the right direction and I'd like to be a part of that movement." He says there are many projects to be addressed, including improvements to the infrastructure, a new water tower, and a new waste transfer station, all of which are of a particular interest to him. He is also interested in the issue of growth in the village. He says the village needs to hire a new assistant manager.

"I've learned a lot since I've been on council," Dorer says.

"There's more to learn and a lot more to do."

Dorer, one of two village trustees on the Chelsea City Study Committee, supports the proposed change of the village to a home rule city. At the same time, he says, he wants Chelsea to maintain "close contact" with the townships and consider how city status would affect them.

Dorer was involved with last year's Christmas in April program.

Village To Seek Engineer As New Assistant Manager

The village apparently will change directions when it seeks a new assistant village manager.

Manager Jack Myers has drawn up a new job description for an advertisement seeking someone with a civil engineering degree. Previous assistant managers Deborah Kuehn and Tom Warstler had planning experience, although the first assistant, Lee Fahrner, was an engineer and is a partner in an Ann Arbor firm.

The village is looking for someone with three or more years of experience. The advertised pay range is $35,000 to $45,000.

Myers said he believes that having an engineer on staff would save the village money in the long run.

Brian Cashman

Chelsea Recreation Council and he's on the Downtown Development Authority board. He was also a council representative on the City Study Committee, and says work on that committee has been his most valuable contribution since his appointment to council. He's on the Gene Drive Study Committee.

"I like being involved in decisions that affect me," Cashman says of his reasons for seeking re-election.

"I feel there are unique aspects to Chelsea that drew my family and me here in the first place. I'd like to have some say in preserving those qualities."

As an incumbent, Cashman says, he has the benefit of understanding village structure and budget, as well as the problems facing the village. He believes his on-the-job work in budgeting and planning is also of value to the village.

Cashman sees the village's financial situation as the most serious challenge facing the village.

"The village will be faced with an increasingly difficult financial situation due to the pressure to lower taxes and keep SEV increases low combined with the expectation on the part of the state legislature that mandated programs must be locally funded. In addition, cost will likely continue to increase, possibly faster than revenues."

"There are two ways to deal with this situation: increase revenue some other way or cut costs. Both approaches have problems. The important point is to try to make decisions such as this with a long-term view. Too often there's an increase-revenue-at-any-cost mentality such as, in my opinion, in Ann Arbor, where poor policy allowed an increase in population density to increase the tax base without an assessment of the effect all the extra people would have on the quality of life there. It's council's job to deal with these problems."

Other projects of particular interest to Cashman include closure of the landfill and the building of a transfer station; construction of a new village hall; improvements to the electric and water facilities; and the replacement of the village's "outdated computer system."

Cashman supports the change of the village to a home rule city, primarily because he believes Chelsea would have more local control.

"As a General Law Village we are not a primary form of government. Only cities and townships are," Cashman says.

We are essentially under the control of the state legislature. As we face the pressures of decreasing finances and increasing population growth in the area, I'd prefer to take advantage of the opportunity to gain more control."

Cashman says he wants the village to continue to have "a good productive relationship with the Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships," as illustrated by recent landfill and transfer station discussions. He says he supports the creation of a regional planning commission since there is likely to be substantial population growth in the western part of the county.

Stephanie Kanten

and those whose heritage will begin in Chelsea."

During her years on council Kanten has worked on a variety of projects, including the Downtown Development Authority, recycling, and village management changes. She's now a member of the personnel committee and is the liaison with the Zoning Board of Appeals. She says her experience is one of her most valuable assets.

The most serious problems facing the village, Kanten says, are the landfill and solid waste issues, finding a new assistant village manager, the lack of affordable senior housing, and resolution to the Gene Dr. improvements project.

Other issues of interest to her include the formation of a regional planning commission, procuring land within the village for "future planning," more street repairs, investigating a new water tower, finishing the updating of the village's zoning ordinance, and possibly installing a fence around Vets Park due to increased traffic on M-52.

Kanten also supports the proposed change of the village to a home rule city because as a city Chelsea would allow more flexibility.

"The pros do outweigh the cons," she says.

"The General Law Village Act requires state legislation to make changes."

Kanten says she should be re-elected because she has "the perspective of one who has been here a long time and will continue to be part of the life of Chelsea."

"I believe I'll prove valuable in charting the long-term course" of the village, she says.

Between 1990 and 2005, an estimated seven million workers who enter the labor force will find jobs in manufacturing due to the need to replace those who leave the labor force or change jobs to enter the non-manufacturing industries, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Occupational Outlook Quarterly, Fall 1991.

QUOTES & NOTES

Friendship is a strong and habitual inclination in two persons to promote the good and happiness of one another.

—Eustace Budgell

Most of us have friends and consider ourselves to be the friend of certain other people, yet we might have trouble defining friendship.

—We think Budgell's definition is a good one. Friends should have a strong and willing desire... not feeling that it is a chore to promote each other's good and happiness. When these elements are lacking, the relationship is probably more of acquaintance rather than true friendship.

—We believe that a funeral service should be a source of beautiful memories, which will ease the adjustment to loss for the bereaved. Ask your friends who have come to us for help.

Spring Thaw. Heavy Rains Could Create Potential Flooding

Michigan experienced six flash floods and 17 other floods last year, causing over $5 million in damages.

A rapid winter thaw and heavy spring rains could lead to flooding in some areas of the state again this year, according to representatives of a state-wide coalition formed to encourage flood safety.

"In Michigan, there aren't too many areas free of flood danger," George Hoesek, a member of the Committee for Severe Weather Awareness, said. "It is wise to be prepared just in case mother nature doesn't co-operate."

To focus attention on flood safety planning, Governor John Engler declared Feb. 21-27 as Flood Safety Week in Michigan. Residents are encouraged to familiarize themselves with flood safety procedures.

Consumers should be aware that regular homeowners insurance policies do not pay for flood damage, coalition members representing the insurance industry said. Coverage is available through a federal program, however, only about 10 percent of structures subject to flooding are actually insured against the risk.

Currently there are approximately 670 communities eligible under the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) and 17,000 policies in force. To purchase flood insurance under the program, residents must live in one of those eligible areas. Coverage may be obtained through most licensed property/casualty insurance agents. To determine if flood insurance is available in a community, call the National Flood Insurance Program at 800-638-6620.

Plan Your Escape

Fire Can Happen Any Time!

And if it does, every second counts. Will you and your family know what to do?

- Practice an escape plan from each room in the house. Feel your way out with your eyes closed.
- Teach your family to stop, drop to the ground and roll if their clothes catch on fire.
- Keep the fire department's number by the phone. By your bed, have a flashlight to help you see and whistle to alert your family.
- Install smoke detectors on every level of your house. Test them monthly, and change the batteries at least once a year.

Remember, fire can happen
anytime, so make plans for a surprise visit.

A message from the U.S. Fire Administration

Russian Grain Trade Might Be Tied to Reducing Weapons

Russia's mounting debt problems signal the need for a new approach to supplying U.S. food and feed to that nation, American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF) President Dean Kleckner said in a letter to President Clinton.

The farm leader suggested that new ideas and approaches may mean tying grain shipments to the dismantling of nuclear weapons, or "simply recognizing the foreign policy and national security implications of these shipments" and funding them through the State or Defense Departments.

The AFBF proposal recognizes the new realities in grain trade with the Russians, according to Bob Boehm, commodity specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau. "Russia is $5 billion in debt and currently behind in their payments," he said.

"We need Russia as a major export market, especially this year with the 9.4 billion bushel corn crop. We're just exploring new ways of perhaps getting the trade going again with Russia to move some of this corn overseas as well as meet some other needs that we'd like to promote in that country," according to Boehm.

Kleckner said the issue goes beyond agricultural interests and involves questions of humanitarian assistance, foreign policy and national security. "We believe that an investment in Russian democracy today will pay enormous dividends to future American generations," Kleckner said. "Unlike so many of our current budget outlays, expenditures in this area may be repaid many times over by reductions in future defense budgets."

Farm Bureau Charges Sierra Club With 'Unfair' Attack

The Sierra Club continues to blatantly misrepresent the American Farm Bureau Federation's (AFBF) environmental positions in an effort to further its fund-raising goals, the farm organization has charged.

The farm leader cited charges contained in a Sierra Club fund-raising letter which accuses Farm Bureau and other groups of conducting a "massive and brutally destructive anti-environmental onslaught." The Sierra Club document cites Farm Bureau as a "major backer of the anti-environment movement (which) is supporting a wetlands destruction bill deceptively named the Private Property Rights Act."

"The Sierra Club has accused us of cynically trading on our nation's traditional beliefs. If protecting our property rights is 'anti-environment,' then we are in the company of our founding fathers," Laurie charged.

Staff Selected for CAP 20th Anniversary Show

Chelsea Area Players will be presenting their 40th production, "RE-CAP 1993" a 20th year anniversary show, on March 11, 12, and 13 at the George Prinzinger Auditorium in Chelsea High school. Each performance will begin at 8 p.m.

Musical song and dance selections from the 24 musicals that the Chelsea Area Players have presented over the past 20 years will be performed, including many by the original cast members.

Over 60 people from Chelsea and the surrounding areas were selected at auditions in January to perform the over 50 songs that will be presented in two acts.

Providing over-all artistic direction is Jan Koenigter, a Chelsea High school graduate and performer in the first Chelsea Area Players production, "The Sound of Music" in 1972. She also appeared in the CAP's first production of "The Music Man" and directed the second production of "The Music Man" in 1987.

Dill Murrell and Rich Alder will be providing musical direction. Dill was the orchestral director for "42nd Street" and Rich played in the orchestra pit for "Camelot." Dill has had extensive experience with many community theatre groups, including those in Saline, Manchester, and Ann Arbor. Rich, currently living in Westland, was a teacher and drama director at Dexter High school for five years and directed numerous shows for both Dexter High school and Dexter Community Players.

Producing the show are Shelly Wheaton and Cindy Gaken. Shelly has worked with the Chelsea Area Players for over 15 years in a variety of backstage jobs, including producing, stage crew, properties and assistant directing. Cindy has also worked on numerous shows over the last five years, including co-producing "A Chorus Line."

Tickets are available in advance at Chelsea Pharmacy or at the door.

For more information call 475-7412.

U.S. red meat and poultry farmers could set record production levels in 1993. Pork output will be up three percent, and broiler production will rise nearly four percent. But beef output will go up only one percent.

Two Chelsea Students Take Part In National Leaders Conference

Chelsea High school students Sara Smith and Michael Radant participated in the National Young Leaders Conference Feb. 2-7 in Washington, D.C.

Theme of the conference was "The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today." Throughout the conference, students met with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media, and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program included welcoming remarks from a member of congress on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives, and a panel discussion led by prominent journalists at a National Press Club breakfast. Students worked on public policy issues, met with their senators and representatives, were briefed on U.S. foreign policy at the State Department, visited embassies, and visited museums and Arlington National Cemetery, among other historic sites.

The conference culminated in a Mock Congress on Gun Control, during which the students assumed the roles of U.S. Representatives by debating, lobbying, and voting on proposed handgun legislation.

Fewer than two percent of students nationwide are eligible to participate. Students are nominated by their principal or directly by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council. The council is an independent, non-profit, educational organization with more than 350 members of the U.S. Senate and U.S. House of Representatives on its honorary bi-partisan board. It is not affiliated with any political party or the federal government.

Sara Smith is the daughter of William and Kathleen Smith, and Michael Radant is the son of Phil and Judy Radant.

EIGHTH GRADE Quiz Bowl champions at Beach Middle school are, from left, Glenn Wright, Dustin Williams, Aaron AtLee, Mark Milazzo, and Barney Culver. They beat out all other eighth grade teams for the right to represent the school at the Southeastern Conference tournament this month. Quiz Bowl, which takes the form of the old College Bowl, tests kids' knowledge of subjects they have studied throughout the year.

SIXTH GRADE Quiz Bowl winners at Beach Middle school will represent the school at the annual Southeastern Conference Quiz Bowl Championships in Saline. From left are Kate Fahrner, Lisa Zimmerman, Amy McCalla, Matt Johns, and Anthony Arnold. Quiz Bowl is like the old television show College Bowl in which students answer questions for points against other teams. The questions are taken from sixth grade study material.

Private Property Rights Threatened

Farm Bureau said a recent agreement requiring the federal government to protect an estimated 400 more species of plants and animals over the next four years poses a new danger to private property rights.

The Bush administration agreed in a legal settlement to change its method of designating plant and animal species as endangered or threatened. The move is expected to increase by 53 percent the number of species under federal safeguards.

"Property owners should be concerned that the Endangered Species Act, with its complete lack of human or economic considerations, will now cause land use policy to be implemented on a much broader and possibly more onerous scale," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"Farm Bureau has supported reforms to the Act that would balance the protection of plants and animals that are truly endangered with the needs of people and property rights. Farmers and ranchers throughout the United States have been subjected to harsh land-use regulations required by the Act," Almy said.

The Endangered Species Act, first passed in 1973, is up for reauthorization. Under the law, it is illegal to kill any animal designated as threatened or endangered even if it lives on private property. The protections are less stringent for plants.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Chelsea Snags Chance To Play for SEC Title, Hosts Tecumseh Friday

Friday's home varsity basketball game against the Tecumseh Indians will decide just how much of the Southeastern Conference title the Bulldogs will play for against the Pinckney Pirates on the final night of the regular season March 5.

The Bulldogs moved into a first-place tie with the Pirates last Friday with a 69-60 victory over the Dexter Dreadnaughts in Dexter. Chelsea and Pinckney are each 8-2 in the SEC with two games left, which sets up the championship showdown a week from Friday in Pinckney. The Pirates play Lincoln this Friday.

If Chelsea can make it two wins in a row over the Indians, the Bulldogs can take the title outright the final week. If they lose, they can still play for the outright title, but only if the Pirates lose to the Railsplitters.

Dexter proved to be a stubborn opponent for the Bulldogs. The Dreadnaughts fell behind by 14 points, 25-11, but managed to stage a comeback on the shooting of guard Ryan Hill to pull to within 32-28 at half-time.

However, the Bulldogs took control of the game early in the second half as they out-scored the Dreadnaughts 8-2 at the outset as Tom Poulter, Pat Steele, and Colby Skelton each hit a field goal, and Dana Schmunk sank two free throws. From there, the Bulldogs generally held a seven or eight-point lead until a Hill lay-up cut the Chelsea lead to five, 44-49, with 3:30 left.

The rest of the way it was a parade to the foul line for the Bulldogs, as the Dreadnaughts were forced to foul to stay in the game. Chelsea made 13 of 15 tries (15-20 for the quarter), including 4 of 5 by Cory Brown, 4 of 4 by Skelton, 3 of 4 by Chris Dunham, and 2 of 2 by Steele. The only field goal was a lay-up by Dunham.

"I thought we got the job done for 32 minutes," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

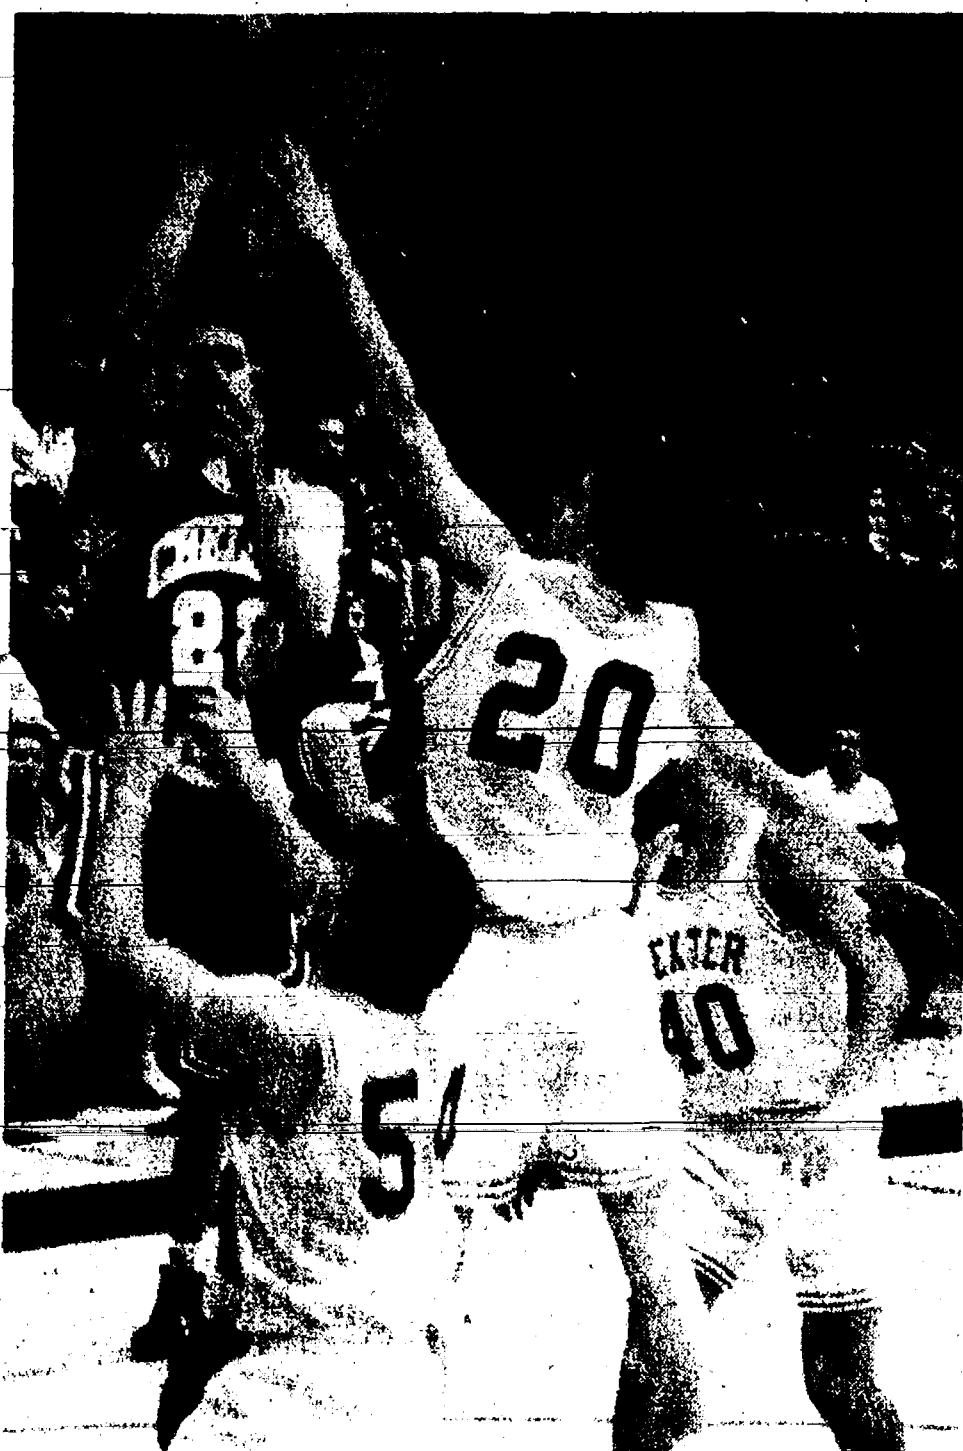

"It wasn't flashy but we were consistent throughout the game. I thought Dexter played well. They were a lot better team than the first time we played them."

Hill provided the primary defensive headache for Chelsea as he scored 25 points, including 10 in the second quarter.

The Bulldogs displayed a balanced offense, led by Poulter with 19 points, Dunham with 13, Skelton with 12, and Steele with 10. Other scorers included Brown 6, Schmunk 4, and Aleksander Selmanovic 4.

Poulter had a team-high 12 rebounds and four steals.

Each team had 22 field goals, but Chelsea was 24-31 from the line compared to 11-18 for Dexter. The Bulldogs out-rebounded Dexter, 37-31.

CHRIS DUNHAM of Chelsea takes a short jumper over the outstretched arm of Dexter's Andy O'Haver during last Friday night's game between the two Southeastern Conference rivals in Dexter. Dunham scored 13 in the 69-60 Chelsea win.

and had 12 fewer turnovers with 16.

Chelsea lost a non-conference game at Jackson Northwest on Tuesday, 80-74.

The Mounties proved to be a hot-shooting team as they hit 55 percent (24-44) from the floor, with three three-pointers, and 87 percent (29-34) from the foul line.

Chelsea also shot reasonably well, 53 percent (27-51) from the floor and 57 percent (16-28) from the line.

The game was tied at 60 after three quarters but it was one of the few times all year Chelsea was out-played in the fourth quarter.

Nick McCalla scored a season-high 20 points to lead the Bulldogs. Other scorers included Steele 17, Dunham 11, Skelton 6, Schmunk 6, Poulter 5, Selmanovic 5, Brown 2, and Ed Waller 2.

The scoring pattern reflects the fact that Northwest packed the zone defense, putting the scoring burden on McCalla and Steele, the team's two best perimeter shooters.

Chelsea was 13-4 over-all before last night's game at Jackson County Western.

CHELSEA SENIOR Tom Poulter has signed to play football at the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. Poulter, an all-state linebacker for the Bulldogs, also considered Holy Cross and the U.S. Air Force Academy. What swayed him to Navy is a desire to be a pilot. Poulter, who played running back and tight end, among other positions during his football career, has also been a standout on the Chelsea varsity basketball team this winter. Chelsea head football coach Gene LaFave said Poulter could play any of several positions in college.

KEVIN McCALLA of Chelsea placed third at 152 pounds at the individual district tournament last Saturday and will advance to the regionals this Saturday, along with teammate Ian Dyer.

McCalla, Dyer Continue To Region Tournament

Chelsea senior wrestlers Kevin McCalla and Ian Dyer will move on to the individual regional tournament this Saturday in Tecumseh as they finished among the top four at last Saturday's district tournament in Tecumseh.

McCalla placed third at 152 pounds to reach the regionals for the second straight year. Dyer placed fourth at 145.

"Both have a good chance to make it out to the state," said Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel.

"They have a couple of weak spots that we have to work on this week. They also need to be conditioned a little harder. When you get to this level, every kid is a tough athlete and sometimes that extra conditioning will make the difference in a close match. Their next two matches will be brutal, but they can do it."

It will probably be tougher for Dyer to make the state tournament, only because as the fourth seed he will have to face the number one seed from another district. McCalla gets a slight break, as he'll face the number two seed. Dyer's next opponent, from Riverview, has a 27-3 record, while McCalla's foe, from Trenton, is 25-6.

McCalla entered the district as the number one seed. He opened with a 16-0 win over Joe Slate of Brooklyn Columbia Central, then defeated Joe Landenberger of Jackson Northwest, 12-1. He lost his third match, 8-7, to David O'Mara of Hillsdale, in a controversial referee's decision. O'Mara was given two-point reversal in the last three seconds, although Kargel argued there was no control and O'Mara should have been awarded a one-point escape, forcing the match into sudden death.

"In the consolation finals, McCalla beat Dexter's Gerrard Visel by injury default."

Dyer opened with two straight pins, stopping Todd Oswald of Tecumseh in 56 and Tony Adams of Jackson Northwest in 2:30. In his third match he lost to eventual champion Quincy Rice of Jackson County Western, 11-1, and in the consolation finals lost to Jerry Ream of Eaton Rapids, 8-5.

The rest of the Chelsea line-up didn't fare so well, although most boys won their opening-round match. However, they drew five number-one seeds in the second round, which produced the early exits.

"It wasn't our lucky day," Kargel said.

At 103, Ray Hatch won by forfeit, then drew top seeded Jeff Wolf of Jackson County Western and lost an 11-4 decision.

At 112 pounds, Dan Alber opened with a 4-0 decision over Jeff Bishop of Coldwater before drawing top-seeded James Testerman of Fowlerville in a 14-0 loss.

Ryan Ludwig pinned Cory Doty of Coldwater in 1:33 at 119 pounds, before drawing number four seed Chris Miller of Mason. Ludwig lost 10-5.

After Chelsea forfeited at 125, Todd Watson opened at 130 with a 6-1 victory over Brian Van Blaricum of Jackson County Western, 6-1. Then he was pinned by eventual champion John Hartupe of Hillsdale in 3:55.

At 135, Mike Thayer drew top seed and eventual champion Dan Morah of Mason and was pinned in 2:14.

At 140, Andrew Parker opened with third-seeded Paul Albaugh of Eaton Rapids and lost 12-5.

John Bobo, at 160, pinned Brent Sheehan of Brooklyn Columbia Central in 4:52, but lost to fourth seed Greg DeGrand of Saline, 13-7.

At 171, Jason Szostak drew top seed Shannon Eifert of Eaton Rapids and lost a 4-1 decision.

At 189 pounds, Sam Morseau was

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

My one big question about the Chelsea Bulldogs basketball team will be answered over the next 10 days. It's not whether they can win the league or district title, because it's pretty obvious they are capable of both. What I wonder is, can they play three or more intense, emotional games in a row without suffering a mental letdown? That's the one thing they really haven't had to do all season, with the possible exception of the first three SEC games against Saline Milan, and Lincoln. Virtually every tough game has been followed by a non-conference game or an easier league opponent.

Now the situation is especially tense. Arch-rival Tecumseh comes to town this Friday. The Indians, a much better team than they were in December and January, gave the Bulldogs all they could handle in Tecumseh as Chelsea took a one-point win on a put-back by Tom Poulter at the buzzer. You can bet they'll want to return the favor. And Chelsea needs the win to remain in at least a tie for the league title with the Pinckney Pirates heading into the final game of the season. That's big game number one.

Big game number two, following an off-day on Tuesday, is next Friday at Pinckney when the teams will be playing for part or all of the SEC title. You can bet every Pirates fan and athlete remembers what happened at the end of the football season. Chelsea won the best high school football game of the year in double overtime as Pat Steele, Colby Skelton, Poulter and crew pulled off an almost unbelievable comeback. You can bet the Pirates will want to return the favor.

Big game number three comes the following Monday when the Bulldogs host the district tournament. State rules don't allow the Bulldogs to sit out the first round, and with Chelsea's luck they'll either draw Tecumseh or Dexter in the first round, the best of the rest in the field.

The Bulldogs will also have to play big games four and five if they hope to win the district tournament.

So now you see why coaches want their kids to focus on one game at a time. It's like dieting. Think about losing 50 pounds and it seems like a formidable task. Think about losing one pound this week and it doesn't seem so bad.

Based on the over-all intensity of the team and the way they play defense, my guess is every one of the next three games will either be a Chelsea win or a very close contest. One of the many attributes of this year's group is they have played well in the key games—for three of them, all the way back to the first football game of the season.

One thing you can count on, it will be the most exciting end to a basketball season we've had here in several years.

My guess is, if given the choice of playing Tecumseh and Pinckney, Chelsea coach Robin Raymond would probably take Pinckney simply because the match-ups are better.

Tecumseh poses a number of problems. They have more height than anyone in the league and talent to go with it. Coach Ed Oxley will probably have his big kids Brad Allen and Brian Puffer sit back in a zone and force the Bulldogs to shoot from the perimeter to win, which will also slow down the tempo of the game. If the Bulldogs can get the ball inside to Poulter, he may spend all night at the free throw line.

Chelsea will put extreme pressure on the Tecumseh guards, hoping to keep the ball out of the middle and force some turnovers.

It has the potential to be a foul-ridden game, especially if the officials call a tight one. Chelsea-Tecumseh clashes are always physical.

Tecumseh also comes here with nothing to lose and another top dog to bump off. Remember, they are the reason Chelsea and Pinckney are tied for the league lead. They beat the Pirates in Pinckney two weeks ago due mostly to their big height advantage.

The Bulldogs could use another huge crowd Friday night.

Sometimes, what was meant as a compliment doesn't quite come out that way.

Last week's column regarding the Chelsea wrestling team had an error of that kind. It should be noted that sophomore wrestler Ryan Ludwig was a replacement for Tim Wescott at 119 pounds because Wescott was injured. However, he was not a replacement in the sense of a spare part. He had been an integral part of the team all year at 125 pounds, and was a major factor on last year's squad at 103 pounds. He's a tough kid whom coach Kerry Kargel will be glad to have back next year.

BOYS who won championship medals at the state middle school swim meet last Saturday are, from left, Curt Street, Christian DeSarbo, Rob Frayer, and Chris Frayer.

Beach Swimmers Take Titles At State Meet Saturday

All eight Beach Middle school swimmers who competed at the Middle School State Championships last Saturday at Grand Valley State University came home as champions. Thirty-seven teams competed.

"I knew we had a chance to do well," said Chelsea coach Dave Brinklow.

"But I certainly didn't expect five winning performances. We had so many big time drops at the Erie-Mason Invitational two weeks ago that I thought we might have trouble coming back for another big performance. But the times managed to drop even more."

Beach boys and girls each had a winning relay and a second-place relay.

The girls won the 400 freestyle relay with Kim Grossman, Sarah Brosnar, Cara Heitman, and Erin Hack in 4:14.22. The same team was second in the 200 freestyle relay at 1:54.39.

The boys team of Curt Street, Rob Frayer, Chris Frayer, and Christian DeSarbo won the 200 freestyle relay and set a new school record with a time of 1:47.56. The previous record of 1:47.91 was set last year by DeSarbo, Chris Grossman, Mike Hushcke, and Peter Straub. The foursome also finished second in the 400 freestyle relay in 3:57.56.

Erin Hack was a double state champion as she won the 50 freestyle in 26.86 and the 100 freestyle in 59.70.

DeSarbo won the 100 freestyle for boys in 54.46 and was second in the 50 freestyle in 24.58.

Kim Grossman swam her best time of 1:00.47 in the 100 freestyle for second place. She also had a best time of 1:08.92 in the 100 individual medley for sixth place.

Curt Street also had two individual best times with a 28.12 in the 50 butterfly, for third place, and a 1:07.39 in the 100 backstroke, for fifth place.

Rob Frayer was seventh in the 100 individual medley with a best time of 1:10.35. He also had a best time of 1:08.90 in the 100 backstroke for eighth place.

Sarah Brosnar was ninth in both of her individual events. She had a best time of 1:05.18 in the 100 freestyle and went 2:22.26 in the 200 freestyle.

Chris Frayer placed 11th in the 50 butterfly at 32.24 and had a best time of 1:11.88 in the 100 backstroke.

Cara Heitman was 12th in the 100 backstroke with a time of 1:15.72.

Cody Johnson competed in diving and finished 15th.

"Chelsea is my hospital."

Virginia Michelson, seen

Dr. Evelyn Boring.

"As a hospital volunteer, I meet patients from all over Michigan and other states. They come for advanced treatment, and they leave with memories of a homelike, friendly hospital where people care. One woman from the Carolinas stayed with a local family while her husband was being treated for severe headaches. She says she'll never forget the friends she made here. I've been a patient at Chelsea, too, but looking through her eyes helped me see what a tremendous resource we have near home."

In the team district tournament last Wednesday, Chelsea was eliminated by the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 33-24, after whipping the Tecumseh Indians, 39-22. The Dreadnaughts went on to win their third district title in three years.

"We had a chance against Dexter," Kargel said.

Chelsea suffered one big upset and Kargel had to make one line-up change, which may have made the difference.

"The biggest problem is five of our seven seniors didn't win, and seniors carry your program," Kargel said.

"They just had a bad day."

JV Bulldogs Beat Dexter, Northwest

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team improved to 14-3 over-all and 7-3 in the Southeastern Conference with a 66-55 victory over the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Friday, and a 61-49 win over the Jackson Northwest Mounties on Tuesday. Both were on the road.

Chelsea led the Dexter game most of the way, but the Dreadnaughts tied it up at 32. From there, Chelsea went on a 14-3 run thanks in large part to its pressure defense.

Chad Brown had his best all-around game of the season with 26 points, four steals, and four assists. Case McCalla scored 16 points and had a team-high six rebounds.

Other scorers included Nick Brink 8, Dan Wehrwein 8, James Diesing 2, Scott Hawley 2, Bryndon Skelton 2, and Scott Colvin 2.

Chelsea shot 43 percent from the field and 67 percent from the line. Dexter hit 46 percent from the floor, but took 19 fewer shots, and 79 percent from the line.

The Northwest game was tied at 40 after three quarters and the Bulldogs pulled away at the end due to a tight half-court defense that caused turnovers late in the game.

"This was a satisfying win for the team because we did a number of things we had to do to be successful," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"We weren't successful with our full-court pressure so we went half-court and the kids really came through in the fourth quarter. We overcame a slow start and torrid 9 of 11 shooting by Northwest from the field in the third quarter."

Keys to the game, Quilter said, were Chad Brown's patience in running the offense against the Northwest zone defense; Brink's 15 points and 10 rebounds; McCalla's team-leading 13 rebounds and penetration of Northwest's zone; and Scott Colvin's defense and 10 points off the bench.

Other scorers included Brown 12, McCalla 8, Adam Beauchamp 6, Skelton 4, Diesing 2, Josh Inwood 2, and Dan Wehrwein 2.

Chelsea shot 45 percent from the floor and 67 percent from the line.

8th Grade Spikers Defeat Lincoln

Beach Middle school eighth grade volleyball team defeated Lincoln in four games last week, 11-3, 7-11, 11-0, and 11-12.

Michelle Lucas and Kasie Ruhlig led the Bullpups with seven service points each. Jesse Forshee had five points and Alicia Broughton had four.

"The team did a better job attacking the ball," said coach Ann Schaffner.

Monica Royce had four kills, and Forshee and Jenny Paddock each had two.

7th Grade Spikers Still Undefeated

Beach Middle school seventh grade volleyball team remained unbeaten last week as they defeated Lincoln 11-1, 11-2, 11-4.

Emily Arend led the scoring with eight points, Angie Carpenter had seven points, and Emily Sterling and Liz Alvarez each served four points.

Two Programs Slated on Week-end At Geology Center

"Hiking the Appalachian Trail with Grandma Soule" will be the subject of a program at the Eddy Geology Center this Saturday, Feb. 27 at 1 p.m.

A group of people all more than 60 years old spend a lot of their time each year hiking and climbing mountains. One of those people, Verna Soule of Jackson, will tell her stories of what it is like to hike the entire Appalachian Trail year after year.

On Sunday, Feb. 28, the film "Patterns in the Air" will be shown at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The film, the fourth in a PBS series, shows how the barren continents billions of years ago slowly transformed into the verdant forests and fertile prairies of today. It will also explain how the thin layer of ozone formed and began to absorb the deadly ultraviolet rays.

The programs are free of charge and open to the public. However, a motor vehicle sticker is required to enter the park.

County Deputies Arrest Drunk Drivers, Fugitives

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated a number of incidents between Feb. 8 and Feb. 17 in Dexter, Chelsea, Scio township and Webster township.

On Feb. 8, two 1952 collector bicycles worth $600 each were stolen in a breaking and entering in the 17000 block of North Territorial Rd., Chelsea. They were kept in a barn.

On Feb. 11, a suspicious incident was reported in the 100 block of Island Lake Rd., Chelsea. A 42-year-old resident said his daughter heard the family's dogs barking early in the morning. Later that day a deer hoof was found on their home's porch. The man believes someone deliberately put the hoof there. The deputy believes an animal may have put it there.

Gary D. Gillespie, 42, was arrested on a warrant in the 100 block of Island Lake Rd. He was turned over to the Chelsea Police Department for driving with a suspended license, which is a misdemeanor. Deputies arrested him after responding to a suspicious incident complaint at his home. They ran his name through the computer and a warrant came back for his arrest.

A mail tampering incident was reported in the 3500 block of River Pines Dr., Scio township. A neighbor found a resident's mail on his front lawn. A few letters were opened, but it appeared nothing had been taken. The victim says he will get a new mailbox with a lock on it.

A fire was reported in the 8700 block of Merrill Rd., Webster township. An area youth and his friends accidentally set fire to some weeds in a field. A neighbor called the Northfield Township Fire Department after the boys couldn't extinguish the fire which spread because of the wind.

A 28-year-old Dexter woman was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor and for having an unlawful blood/alcohol level. She was pulled over by a deputy on Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd. near Dan Hoey Rd., Dexter, after she did not make a complete stop at a stop sign and she swerved over the center line and drove 64 mph in a 50 mph zone. The woman showed signs of intoxication and failed all sobriety tests administered by the deputy. Her vehicle was impounded and she was taken to Washtenaw county jail.

On Feb. 12, an employee of a gasoline station on South Fletcher Rd. near I-94 reported $23.79 worth of gasoline stolen. He described the suspect as a 40-year-old man driving a silver Chevy Monte Carlo. He filled up some gas cans and put them in the vehicle's trunk. When he left without paying the employee wrote down his license plate number. The number came back to a different vehicle. Nevertheless, deputies spoke with the license plate's owner. He said he left the plate at his ex-girlfriend's home. Deputies went to her home and found the Monte Carlo in the garage with the ex-boyfriend's license plate on it. The woman claimed the car was inoperable. But, the deputy reported smelling gasoline in its trunk and he saw fresh tracks in the snow from the driveway into the garage.

Paul B. Brown, 36, of Palmyra was arrested on a warrant by Chelsea police. He was turned over to Washtenaw county deputies and transported to county jail.

On Feb. 13, malicious destruction of property was reported in the 8100 block of Huron River Dr., Webster township. A 16-year-old Ann Arbor youth said an 18-year-old Ann Arbor man and his friends kicked in his vehicle's tail lights after he refused to let them into a party. His 1989 Plymouth sustained $500 in damages. The suspect admitted to the damage and his father has agreed to make restitution.

Breaking and entering was reported in the 800 block of Lowery Rd., Chelsea. Someone broke into the home by breaking a window to gain entry. They left through the front door and the victim found it open when he arrived home. Nothing was found missing.

Lawrence Jenkins, 44, of Detroit and Gary A. Williamson, 50, of Detroit, were arrested on warrants after being stopped on west-bound I-94 near Zeeb Rd., Scio township. Jenkins' warrant was for driving with a suspended license. Williamson's was for driving with a suspended license and failure to display a driver's license. Both were transported to Washtenaw county jail. The 1990 Chevy Lumina they were riding in was impounded.

On Feb. 14, a 34-year-old Ann Arbor man was arrested on North Territorial Rd. near Jennings Rd., Webster township, for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor. A deputy was originally dispatched to the area for an auto accident report. A Huron-Clinton Parks ranger witnessed the Ann Arbor man driving erratically on east-bound North Territorial Rd. near Zeeb Rd. He followed him, witnessing the man reach speeds up to 75 mph. He also saw the man run off the road, hit a tree, and get back on the road to continue driving. The man finally pulled over at a gasoline station. He admitted to the ranger that he was drunk.

On Feb. 15, larceny of gasoline was reported in the 700 block of Baker Rd., Dexter. An employee of a gasoline station said a male, approximately 25-years-old, stole $5 in gasoline after he attempted to pay with a check. The clerk wouldn't allow the man to write a personal check. The man went back to his Chevy Chevette and drove off. The license plate number the clerk gave deputies did not match the vehicle description, so the case is closed due to insufficient evidence.

A 42-year-old Dexter man was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor and for having an unlawful blood/alcohol level. He was arrested after being involved in a traffic accident with a 24-year-old Jackson man. The Dexter man is accused of causing $6,000 in damages to the Jackson man's vehicle. The Jackson man also said the Dexter man offered him $3,000 not to call the police because he was drunk. The Dexter man claimed it was the other way around. The Dexter man was arrested, but was first taken to the hospital for a chemical test, after refusing one initially. A search warrant had to be obtained to authorize the action. He was taken to Washtenaw county jail.

On Feb. 16, a 17-year-old youth was arrested on a warrant in the 1600 block of Parker Rd., Scio township. The warrant was for a felony crime in Ann Arbor. He was arrested and taken to the Ann Arbor Police Department after he led deputies on a foot chase.

Timothy L. Rumsey, 33, of Jackson was arrested on a Jackson county civil writ warrant for child neglect. He was located in the 1000 block of Zeeb Rd., Scio township, by Washtenaw county deputies. They turned him over to Jackson county at the county line.

Adjustable Rate Mortgage

Rate

6.374%
APR

Our Adjustable Rate Mortgage allows you to enjoy this excellent mortgage rate for the first year of the loan. After the first year, your interest rate can only increase by 2% a year or by 6% over the life of the loan. And you have the option to convert to a fixed rate mortgage under certain conditions.

Typical APR (annual percentage rate) includes interest on loan and other fees, and is based on a $100,000 loan with an 80% loan-to-value ratio. The APR may increase after closing. Loan must be for construction or acquisition of borrower's single family owner-occupied primary residence. Interest rates and terms are subject to change at any time without notice. *Based on a 30-year loan. For 15-year loan, APR would be 6.359%.

IRS Walk-in Assistance Hours Reduced

"I want to remind Michigan taxpayers that, unfortunately, due to deep budget cuts, we have had to reduce the hours we provide walk-in taxpayer assistance in our Ann Arbor office," said IRS district director John Hummel. "In some offices around the state, we had to completely eliminate walk-in service."

"We are open and available to assist Washtenaw area taxpayers in our office at 2850 S. Industrial, Ste. 200, Ann Arbor, Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.," he said.

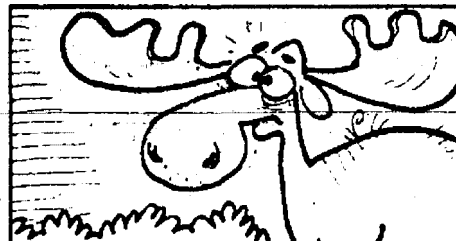

"I also want to urge taxpayers to remember that since the tax laws were not significantly changed from 1991 to 1992, they may well be able to prepare their own return this year, without outside assistance," Hummel added.

"Use our forms and instructions, and sit down with your 1991 tax return as a sample, or guide, in preparing your 1992 return. Just fill in the correct numbers for 1992, double check your math and all other entries to make sure they are correct, sign and date the return, and send it off to us. Taxpayers should also remember to use the peel-off label from the tax package, because it speeds up processing of the return and issuance of any refund," said Hummel.

Graduation Requirements Change Beginning with Class of 1994

This year's eighth graders, the high school Class of 1997, will be the first students in Michigan who will be required to take and pass a State Proficiency Assessment Test before they will be allowed to graduate from high school.

Proficiency exams will be developed in math, science, and reading and writing.

The Michigan Department of Education is consulting with the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Michigan Science Teachers Association, Michigan

Reading Association, and the Michigan Council of Teachers of English on the development of appropriate tests.

Goal of the proficiency tests is to provide world class standards for Michigan students by the year 2000.

The tests are scheduled to be developed this year, with pilot tests next school year. Beginning in the 1994-95 school year, students in the Class of 1997 will be able to take the test, and will continue to take it until their senior year or until they pass it.

Beginning with the Class of 1994, however, students have to pass one of three tests in order to receive a State Endorsed Diploma. This requirement will phase out with the Class of 1996.

To receive a State Endorsed Diploma, a student must not only meet local graduation requirements, but must pass at least one of the following: locally-developed, state approved test; the GED test; or the Michigan Education Assessment Program (MEAP) test. A student may be re-evaluated any time the district administers any of those tests.

Durable Power of Attorney

Most people have heard the story of 32-year-old Nancy Cruzan, who was left in a persistent vegetative state after a shocking car accident. Kept alive by a respirator, her parents battled the courts for years to allow their brain-dead daughter to die, but with no success.

Nancy had repeatedly told friends and family prior to the accident that she did not want to live if she was ever catastrophically injured. These wishes, however, were never written down, so the court concluded that no one could really say what Nancy would have wanted.

Being kept artificially alive without any means of communicating one's wishes could be counted among people's worst fears. Yet, it is a fear that can be addressed in Michigan through the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care form.

Letting others know your wishes when you are unable to express yourself is what the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care form (DPAHC) is all about. It allows a person to appoint another individual to make decisions about their care, custody and medical treatment in the event they are not able to make those decisions for themselves. The DPAHC is not the same as a living will, which is simply written instructions. The living will is not recognized under Michigan law, so there is no legal protection for physicians who follow instructions stated in a living will.

The Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care form, however, ensures that a patient's desire to accept or refuse medical treatment is honored. It is important that the wish is expressed in a clear and convincing manner and that the patient has acknowledged that death could result.

The DPAHC gives physicians legal protection for their actions. It applies in all situations in which the patient can't make decisions for themselves, not just when they are terminally ill.

There are, of course, limits to the DPAHC. For example, the patient advocate powers become effective only when a patient is unable to participate in medical decisions. Therefore, it is important to make arrangements prior to becoming ill or injured. A patient can revoke their Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care at any time.

Many individuals frightened by the prospect of a future on life support may have looked to physician-assisted suicide as an answer. Now that legislation has passed making physician-assisted suicide a felony it is more important than ever that patients let their doctors, families and friends know their wishes in advance by filling out the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care form.

Durable Power of Attorney Health Care forms are available at most hospitals and from many physicians. You may send $2 for two forms to: Patient Advocate, P.O. Box 950, East Lansing 48826.

An unlikely alliance is blossoming between Colorado farmers and ranchers and New York City, where a firm ships 100 tons of sludge a day from New York's sewage treatment system to be applied to wheat fields and rangeland in southeastern Colorado. The nutrient-rich organic material, which is treated and disinfected for harmful bacteria, is provided free to farmers who use special trucks to haul it from railcars and apply it to their fields.

Middle Street in Chelsea, Michigan at 7:30 p.m. at which hearing the applicant, the Assessor and representative of the affected taxing units were given written notice and were afforded an opportunity to be heard on said application; and

WHEREAS, the installation of new machinery and equipment had not begun earlier than six (6) months before October 29, 1992, the date of the acceptance of the application for the Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate; and

WHEREAS, completion of the facility is calculated to and will at the time of issuance of the certificate have the reasonable likelihood to retain, create or prevent the loss of employment in the Village of Chelsea; and

WHEREAS, the aggregate SEV of real and personal property exempt from ad valorem taxes within the Village of Chelsea, after granting this certificate, will not exceed 5% of an amount equal to the sum of the SEV of the unit, plus the SEV of personal and real property thus exempted.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE Village of Chelsea that:

1) The Village Council finds and determines that the granting of the Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate considered together with the aggregate amount of certificates previously granted and currently in force under Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 and Act No. 255 of the Public Acts of 1978, shall not have the effect of substantially impeding the operation of Chelsea Village Council, or impairing the financial soundness of a taxing unit which levies ad valorem property taxes in the Village of Chelsea.

2) The application of Hatch Stamping Company for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate with respect to new equipment and machinery to be acquired and installed on the following described parcel of real property situated within the Village of Chelsea Industrial Development District No. 5 to wit: Lots 10, 11, 12, 14, 15 and 16, Chelsea Industrial Park.

The Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate when issued shall be and remain in force and effect for a period of seven (7) years after completion.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Woodruff, to approve the above Resolution. All Ayes. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Village Manager Myers provided the Council with information on the Chelsea Landfill Groundwater Monitoring Plan. Basically there will be 11 wells exempt from quarterly monitoring which will save the Village approximately $3,000-$3,500.

LOCAL GOVERNING BODY RESOLUTION FOR GAMING LICENSES ISSUED BY THE BUREAU OF STATE LOTTERY (Authorized by MCL 432.101 et seq.)

At a Regular meeting of the Chelsea Village Council called to order by President Richard Steele on January 26, 1993 at 7:30 p.m. the following resolution was offered:

Motion by Hammer, and supported by Kanten, that the request from Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary, Chelsea, Michigan, County of Washtenaw, asking that they be recognized as a nonprofit organization operating in the community for the purpose of obtaining a gaming license be considered for approval.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Kanten, to approve the above Resolution. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Village Manager Myers brought before Council issues surrounding the Clear Air Act and proposed Ordinance No. 116—Establishing a Smoke Free Environment in all Village Owned Buildings.

Village Manager Myers noted that the EPA has recently stated that passive smoke is causing cancer. The Village has no current ordinance. The Municipal building has no ventilation and the Municipal building is considered a public building and smoking should be prohibited according to the current laws and the Village's Attorney. Considerable discussion regarding this topic took place.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to table passing Ordinance 16—Establishing a Smoke Free Environment in all Village Owned Buildings until a committee consisting of Village Employees and Village Manager Myers can investigate additional alternatives. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to take a 10 minute recess, until 8:15 p.m. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer to reconvene.

Trustee Kanten asked that Council reconsider the property for sale on South Main Street. Trustee Kanten feels this is a prime piece of real estate and the Village should consider it for future planning. She feels this piece of property is an essential piece of property for forthcoming general development—not necessarily for Village Office space.

President Steele asked Trustee Kanten if she would like the Ways and Means Committee to consider the issue. Kanten replied yes and that the Village should also consider the property next to the Country Rose.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Hammer, to ask the Ways and Means Committee to consider the South Main Street property, as well as the property next to the Country Rose, commonly known as 118 E. Middle Street.

Mr. Ben Marks, President of the Michigan Municipal League was present and asked for the Trustees involvement in matters that concern Home Rule authority in the legislature. He requested that the Council Members become more involved in what is happening in Lansing and provide the necessary leadership that is needed to help Home Rule Authorities. Mr. Marks feels each Council Member must be personally involved in the legislative laws and issues that affect Home Rule Authorities.

Mr. William Mathewson, Staff Attorney and Federal Affairs Coordinator for the Michigan Municipal League was also present. He answered questions regarding Chelsea becoming a City. Specifically regarding the Boundary Commission, necessary elections, Charter Commissions, and the petition process.

Motion by Kanten, supported by Dorer, to adjourn regular session. All Ayes. Motion carried. Meeting Adjourned—Time 9:01 p.m.

Suzanne C. Morrison, Village Clerk.

By JOSEPH WALKER

★ Haircuts, High Tops and Hum-able Music ★

Don't look now, but I think my generation gap is showing.

I got my first clue a few weeks ago when my 23-year-old son Joe came home from the barber shop . . . er, excuse me, hair stylist with a haircut that looked like someone had put a bowl on his head and cut around the edges. So of course I did what any self-respecting father of my generation would do under the circumstances.

I laughed.

"What's wrong with you?" Joe wanted to know.

"I'm sorry, son," I said, still chuckling. "I don't mean to be cruel. It's just that . . . well, your hair looks like someone put a bowl on your head and cut around the edges."

"Oh, yeah?" he asked. Then he smiled broadly. "Thanks!"

I was confused. When I was a teenager, accusing someone of having a bowl cut was usually a prelude to fistfights. But Joe seemed to be flattered by the charge.

"Thanks, honey," Anita whispered. "He was so afraid you wouldn't like it."

"I don't," I whispered back.

"You said it looks like someone put a bowl on his head and cut around the edges."

"That's right," I said. "It wasn't a compliment."

"Well, that's the way it's supposed to look. Besides, it only cost $8 . . ."

"Eight dollars?!" Suddenly my whisper was much more intense.

"What's the matter, didn't we have any bowls here at home?"

She gave me her most withering "get-a-life" look.

"OK, OK," I said. "But just tell me one thing: why is it that everything that is cool today was totally uncool when we were teenagers?"

"What's this 'we' stuff, old man?" Anita corrected. "Remember, you're the one who knows all the words to all the songs on the 'Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band' album and who still can't get used to the idea that 'Bonanza' isn't on TV Sunday nights."

She's right, of course. I should have known better than to fall in love with someone whose favorite Golden Oldies have a (shudder!) disco beat.

But the fact remains, the world of fad and fancy has turned around considerably since I was a teenager. Twenty years ago black high top tennis shoes were definitely uncool. So were baggy pants, baggy shirts and baggy anything else. The only guys who wore baseball hats were baseball players, and then only during a game.

Hair styles were long, underwear was worn underneath clothing and most of the popular songs of the day at least had a melody line with which you could hum along if you didn't know the words.

Ever try humming rap music? I did once. Nearly broke my hummer. I haven't been able to hum anything trickier than "Amazing Grace" ever since.

Of course, the minute I start talking like this, a big echo-chamber effect starts reverberating in my mind. It's surreal, like I've heard these words before. Seems they were just as puzzled by the things that appealed to my generation as I am by the things that appeal to Joe's. And while some of their concerns and reservations have proven to be sadly justified (such as the long-term implications of the drug counter-culture and "the sexual revolution"), for the most part we've muddled through. We've grown up, we've assumed adult responsibilities and we're starting to make significant contributions to the world in which we live.

Heck, one of us is even going to be taking up residence in the White House.

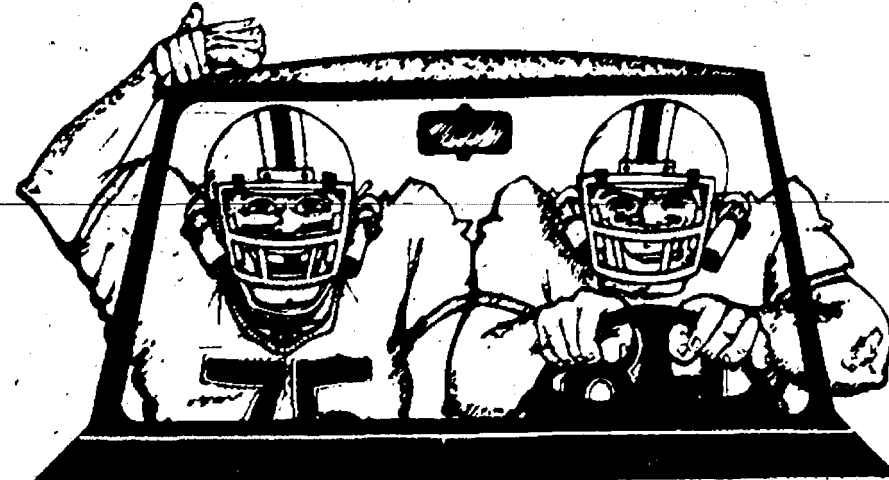

When I was in high school I was in a play called "An Overpraised Season." I don't remember much about the piece, but there was one line that has stayed with me through the years: "Lots of people are convinced that our generation is going to hell. And maybe we are. If we're not, we certainly should be. After all, younger generations have been going to hell for centuries, and there's no reason why we should be left out, is there?"

Joe's generation is entitled to the same privilege, I guess. Which is not to say that parents, teachers and neighbors should stand idly by while young people experiment with fads and fancies that could endanger their future, if not their lives. But we need to pick our battles carefully. If we don't like the way they chose to express themselves simply because it's different from our own, maybe we need to be patient and tolerant. Indeed, our teaching will be enhanced if we can do it from a platform of mutual respect and appreciation.

Haircuts, high tops and hum-able music notwithstanding . . .

Volunteers . . .

In Bonnie's work report we found that 85 workers gave 1,079 volunteer hours on the Holiday Fair. Many said they forgot to include this in their report. You can forget it, because we gotcha.

Lenten Dates . . .

Programs sponsored by Religious

Life Committee in Town Hall. These are on Wednesday nights at 6:30 to 7:30. Dates are Feb. 24, March 3, 10,

17, 24, 31. Maundy Thursday, April 8.

On Jan. 13 Alf Turner showed his slides of a trip to Alaska. A good crowd turned out in the Town Hall. As the show was mostly in daylight, the pictures were not as bright as they might have been at night. Thanks for telling us about the country, Alf.

Please make a note about Feb. 11.

The annual concert by the Chelsea

Senior Citizens Kitchen Band will take place in the main dining room, at 2:45 p.m. Everyone is invited.

The band is composed of local residents of the area. Sid White, a resident of the C.R.C., has been playing in the band for some time.

New band members are welcome. A musical background is not required.

Just a desire to bring some joy into the lives of other seniors, many who are less fortunate. Chelsea Woman's Club will serve refreshments.

Fred Maitland gave us a real nice program on Brazil in the Town Hall on Jan. 14. He showed a few slides of the work he and his wife had been engaged in when they were missionaries in Brazil. His talk about the years there in study and as active workers in the country was very interesting and the slides were very good. I am sure that the folks would be glad to have you serve up another program sometime for us.

For the benefit of those who missed it, we must tell you about a very unusual program we had in the living room on New Year's Eve. Four very talented ladies in a dulcimer band gave us a solid hour of beautiful music. For most of us it was the first time in our lives we had heard an entertainment with more than one dulcimer. They played about a minute or so of each of dozens of old favorites.

Our people were in a festive mood.

Some sang along with the numbers played by the band. We were very impressed with the quality of the music.

It showed the result of many long hours of practice. Being on their cues without errors was remarkable.

Because of a mixup in the previous announcements of the program, many did not get there. We were told it would start at nine o'clock, then at the last minute the time was given as seven. Refreshments were served at 8 o'clock, some stayed to play cards, but most were home when the new year arrived.

LORNA KOCH of Chelsea was given a "voodoo lily" bulb for Christmas and she planted it in January. In less than two months the plant has grown about four feet and it recently bloomed, showing a dramatic purple flower. However, Koch discovered that when the flower initially appears it has a somewhat disagreeable characteristic. "It smells like road-kill," she says. After a short time, the smell disappeared.

The destructive gypsy moth each year defoliates over four million acres of forests and shade trees. Scientists are trying to find new ways to prevent damage to the 287 million acres of U.S. forest land that are susceptible to the gypsy moth.

LORNA KOCH of Chelsea was given a "voodoo lily" bulb for Christmas and she planted it in January. In less than two months the plant has grown about four feet and it recently bloomed, showing a dramatic purple flower. However, Koch discovered that when the flower initially appears it has a somewhat disagreeable characteristic. "It smells like road-kill," she says. After a short time, the smell disappeared.

Parent-Teachers NAPCC Conferences Set

National Animal Poison Control Center

(217) 333-3611

Parent-teacher conferences will be held at both Beach Middle school and Chelsea High school on Thursday, Feb. 26 from 3:15 p.m. to 7:15 p.m.

At Beach school, conferences have been pre-scheduled in 15 minute time blocks based on parents' requests on a registration form sent home on Feb. 8.

Parents unable to attend the conferences at Beach may call their child's teacher(s) at 475-3717 to arrange a mutually convenient conference time.

Students will be sent home Friday, Feb. 26 at 11:10 a.m.

The conferences at the high school will be held in the main building. All teachers will be in either the cafeteria or classrooms so parents won't have to walk between buildings.

No appointments are necessary at the high school. Parents will move from teacher to teacher on a first-come, first-served basis.

Conferences will begin at 3:15 sharp. Conferences in the fall were not as crowded during the last hour as before the teacher's dinner break.

Parents should check in at the "fishbowl" area for maps and directions.

Teachers in math, science, business, foreign languages, computers, technology, and life skills will break for dinner from 4:30 to 5. Teachers in English, social studies, physical education, music, art, and special education will break from 5 to 5:30. Parents should budget their time around dinner breaks.

A typical conference should last about five minutes and no more than 10. Parents who need a more in-depth conference with any teachers should set up a separate time.

★ Treating Kids' Injuries—

The outcome of a child's injury depends not only on its severity, but also on the speed and appropriateness of treatment. Parents should be acquainted with the most common injury risks and know basic first aid techniques to better treat those injuries.

First things first: Don't panic. Whether the injury is a small cut or something potentially serious, you should stop and assess the situation for a moment.

Secondly, remember the four basic techniques of first aid: stop bleeding by direct pressure and elevation; immobilize the injured area by splinting; clean the area with soap and water; and give supportive, calming reassurance.

Here are some tips from pediatric specialists at the University of Michigan Medical Center for treating some common childhood injuries:

• Head injury. Again, try not to panic. Because the scalp often bleeds profusely, minor head injuries can appear more serious than they really are. But it is important to remember that the size of the bump does not indicate the severity of the head injury. A fall that has no external signs of head injury can be very serious, so close observation of the child during the first 24 hours—including every two or three hours during the night—is crucial.

Among the symptoms to look for are persistent nausea and vomiting; increasingly severe headache; progressive drowsiness or difficulty in waking from sleep; weakness or paralysis in the arms or legs; mental confusion or disorientation; unequal pupil dilation or pupils that don't react to light. If any of these symptoms appear, see a physician immediately; such signs could indicate concussion or more serious brain injury.

After a head injury, a common first aid response is to apply an ice pack to the area to reduce swelling, but that can be risky for an infant since it can dramatically lower body temperature.

• Nosebleeds. Children often are advised to lean back or lie down after a nosebleed. But this could cause the child to swallow blood, which can cause an upset stomach. It's best to have a child lean forward in a sitting position and pinch the nostrils together firmly. After the nostrils are pinched shut for about five minutes, the blood vessels should clot and bleeding should stop. If it doesn't stop within 20 minutes, see a doctor.
