THIS IS HOW YOU DO IT: Chelsea High school senior Kevin Smith shows first grader Kyle Ruhlig how much fun it can be to play the violin during a program at North school Monday afternoon. Members of the high school's orchestra, led by teacher Peter Rosheger, performed for the students and let them have a chance to try out the instruments. The program was sponsored by the Enrichment Triad Program.

Village Trustees Back New Playground Project In Rec. Council's Plan

Chelsea Village Council has thrown its support to a new playground project that will be included in the Chelsea Recreation Council's grant proposal for funds from the Department of Natural Resources.

Dr. Lynn Swan, who recently completed the fundraising for a new playground that is scheduled to be built in Pierce Park this spring, plans to begin a new more ambitious fundraising project for another, much larger playground, that would be built on land donated by Dana Corporation for the entire recreation council project near Weber Fields on Sibley Rd.

Council voted 7-0 last Tuesday to guarantee the needed $50,000 for the playground. The guarantee will allow the recreation council to apply for a larger matching grant because DNR will consider the value of the playground, $50,000, plus the value of the Dana land donation, $41,050, to be the local share.

However, Swan and her group intend to raise the $50,000 needed for the project and not rely on money.

The recreation council is seeking a grant of approximately $190,000 to fund its entire five-year plan. If the grant is received, much of the plan can be completed by the end of the summer of 1994.

Included in the plan are a third softball diamond, a sand volleyball area, two basketball courts, a soccer field, bike path, parking lot, and the playground, along with all the needed utilities for water, sewer, and electrical lines for later lighting, bathrooms, and other facilities.

Recreation council, at the urging of its engineers, has decided to ask for less than a full 75 percent share from the DNR to increase the likelihood of obtaining the grant.

"Because this is the last year of the recreation bond, we feel they're going to try to spread the money around a little more," said council president Conrad Knutsen.

"We want to make sure we get the grant. The consultants feel that we have a good chance since we haven't gotten a grant here in 13 years."

The recreation council will need about $80,000 more to complete its entire project, even with the grant. It may settle for something less than a paved parking lot, Knutsen said. Field lighting, fencing, and other finishing touches may also have to wait.

Knutsen said the recreation council should know by December whether Chelsea will get the grant. Money would probably be available in January, and construction could start in the spring.

The new playground would be similar in scope to one built in Dexter a few years ago. It would be 100' by 100' and designed by Robert S. Leathers and Associates of Ithaca, N.Y. The company strongly encourages local volunteer participation, from design to construction, as a way to create a community project and cut the cost considerably.

Swan said she hopes to kick-off the new fundraising effort with a grand opening at the new Pierce Park playground, which is scheduled to arrive and be constructed in April. She said her group may incorporate in order to make contributions tax deductible.

Swan raised $16,000 for the Pierce project, not including a $3,000 donation from the village.

Overtaken Trucks Spill Asphalt, Chemicals, Cause Headaches for Motorists

Two trucks overturned on I-94 in separate incidents early last Wednesday morning and dumped potentially hazardous materials by the roadside. The crashes caused parts of I-94 to be closed for nearly 15 hours.

At 3:35 a.m. in the eastbound lanes just east of Kalmbach Rd., a tanker truck carrying 10,000 gallons of liquid asphalt ran through a guard rail and overturned, spilling 3,000 gallons into the median, which sloped downhill into a swampy area.

Chelsea firefighters created a dike to contain some of the spill, which eventually hardened. Some of the asphalt ran into the swamp. Liquid asphalt is carried at a high temperature.

The truck was owned by Thompson-McCully Co. of Whitmore Lake. The driver, Dennis Brown, was treated and released at Chelsea Community Hospital, as was a companion in the truck.

The eastbound lane was closed until about 9:30 a.m.

The second incident occurred at 8:25 in the westbound lanes just west of M-52, when the driver of an enclosed semi fell asleep and drove off the road.

The truck, driven by Norman Wibert, and owned by Associated Trucklines and Airfreight of Indiana, was carrying drums of phosphoric acid and sodium hydroxide, among other substances. Some of it spilled and may have mixed on the ground, which caused responding agencies to treat it as hazardous material.

Wibert suffered injuries and was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital. Three other people, including one medical first responder from the Chelsea Police Department, were taken to Chelsea hospital for possible exposure to hazardous materials.

The incident caused the shutdown of westbound I-94 until nearly 6 p.m. Due partly to radio advisories, a lot of traffic was detoured down Old US-12 from Fletcher to Pierce Rd. and added nearly an hour onto travelers' trips.

In addition to the usual police and fire agencies, workers from Washtenaw County Emergency Management, the Department of Natural Resources, Washtenaw County Road Commission, Washtenaw County Drain Commission, and Washtenaw County Environmental Health were all on the scene.

Last Travel Film In '93 Series Will Be Shown Saturday

"Europe's Small Wonders," a travel film of Andorra, Liechtenstein and Luxembourg, will be shown Saturday, April 3 at Chelsea High school.

This is the final film showing for the current season in a series of three sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea.

The program starts at 8 p.m. and tickets are available at the door.

Daylight Savings Time Starts Sunday

With your kids home for spring vacation, you may love to get an extra hour of sleep this week-end.

But forget it. Daylight Savings Time starts Sunday, April 4 which means you get an hour less sleep, assuming you wake up at the same time.

A good way to handle the change is to set your clocks ahead an hour before going to sleep Saturday night. The change takes place at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Truck Smashes Into House After Driver Falls Asleep Early Friday

A truck driver who fell asleep at the wheel drove his rig off eastbound I-94 and smashed into a home on Musbach Rd. early last Friday morning.

"We're still trying to assess the damage," said homeowner Darrell Farr, who had just arrived home from work at about 4:15 a.m. before the crash occurred.

The truck, driven by James Robinson, Jr., 37, for Central Transport Co. of Detroit, left the road about 1,500 feet east of the Farr residence, ran through a cornfield, over trees in the Farr yard, rammed a van in the Farr driveway, and went completely through the couple's bedroom, where Farr's wife had been sleeping about 10 minutes before.

"The only thing to stop him was two big trees out back or he might still be going," Farr said.

The truck destroyed two rooms, a bathroom, and the roof. Collapsed roof joists had Robinson pinned in the truck for some time.

Robinson, of Memphis, Tenn., was taken to University of Michigan Hospital and was released on Sunday. A passenger in the truck, David Heaney of Cleveland, O., who was asleep in the truck's sleeping quarters, was uninjured.

Neither of the Farris was injured. Investigators said if anyone had been in the bedroom he probably would have been killed.

Dead Body Found

Tuesday afternoon, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department was investigating a dead body found on Liebeck Rd. No further details were available as of press time.

New Chelsea Postmaster Has Strong Local Family Connections

Chelsea's new postmaster lives in Howell and most recently worked in Northville. But she's no stranger to Chelsea.

Deborah Wellnitz is married to Bart Wellnitz, grandson of long-time resident and Chelsea Community Fair Board member John Wellnitz, who died five years ago.

Bart Wellnitz is a member of the Chelsea High School Class of 1973. Deborah met Bart at the Northville Post Office, where Bart still works.

"Deborah comes to the Chelsea Post Office after 13 years in the postal service."

"I never imagined I'd get this office," Deborah says. Her middle management job was being eliminated due to a nation-wide reorganization within the postal service. "They asked me to make a list of where I wanted to go, and this is the only office I put down."

Deborah, a graduate of Livonia High school, began her career as a clerk in the main post office in Detroit. She spent four years as a carrier in Detroit (where she was "bitten three times by dogs" and harassed once by teenagers), and eventually became an acting supervisor in Detroit. Since then she has been a delivery supervisor in Lincoln Park, a delivery supervisor in Dearborn, and a superintendent of postal operations in Northville. The Northville office has nearly three times as many employees as the Chelsea office.

Deborah takes the place of Larry Williams, who retired late last year. Bill Brenner, who has been managing the office since then, is being moved to the Milan Post Office, where he will become postmaster. Brenner has spent 9½ years in Chelsea as a superintendent.

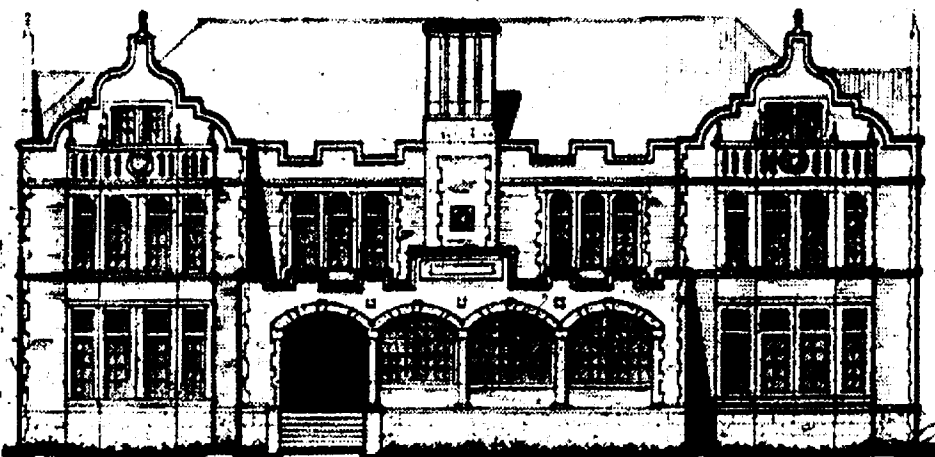

DEBORAH WELLNITZ takes over as the new Chelsea postmaster on Monday, while Chelsea postal superintendent Bill Brenner becomes postmaster in Milan.

FINANCIAL HELP for "Help Line," a crisis-intervention service is provided by Kiwanis club of Chelsea with their annual contribution to help fund the free service. Jeanne Thomson accepted a check Monday night from club president John Knox. Chelsea United Way and private donations also help fund the program which provides free counseling through a confidential telephone connection with the SOS Crisis Center.

Wednesday, April 5, 1989—Kusterer's, one of the village's oldest grocery stores, is closing for good this month. Owner Luther Kusterer, after more than 40 years in business, has decided it's time to retire. The business will not be passed on. He plans to sell the building and enjoy himself, perhaps play a little golf.

Chelsea School District voters will be asked to waive provisions of the Headlee Amendment in the June elections. Headlee Amendment requires a rollback in millage if the amount of additional tax revenue collected exceeds the rate of inflation. For 1989-90 the required rollback would be 1.28 mills. Monday night Chelsea Board of Education unanimously approved placing the language on the ballot.

Tuesday, March 28 was pay back day for Chuck and Pat Trinkle. The Trinkles had Easton Rd. resident Archie Bradbury arrested and jailed in the American Cancer Society's Great American Look-Up.

Chelsea High school graduate and Michigan State University senior Dan Pennington has been awarded an internship in communication with the Ford Motor Co.

Anita Eschelbach, who taught in three area one-room school houses in the 1920's, is to be honored at Covenant church, Sunday, April 9 at the 10:30 service. The church is honoring each of its octogenarians this spring by giving them a recognition day.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Why Economic Recovery Is So Slow

In finding one's way out of a bad situation, it's always useful to know just how one got into it. Such is the case with the recession, from which we seem now to be emerging.

By Philip C. Clarke

There's little doubt that the economic recession, which began in 1980, is giving way to better times. What puzzles many economists is why the recovery has been so slow. One expert highly qualified to answer this question is William C. Freund, chief economist emeritus of the New York Stock Exchange and professor of economics at Pace University's Graduate School of Business in New York City.

Addressing a conference on "Reshaping the U. S. Economic Agenda," sponsored by the Durrell Institute of Monetary Science in Washington, D. C., last September, Dr. Freund, cited five "new and unfamiliar impediments to a vigorous recovery." As excerpted in the Durrell Journal of Money and Banking, the five impediments, or "stumbling blocks," explain not only why the recession dragged on so long but suggest how such future downturns might be averted.

"In past recessions," said Freund, "layoffs were mostly temporary and confined largely to blue-collar workers. Unemployment was expected in autos, steel and construction. This time, however, thousands of companies have superimposed on blue-collar layoffs a long-term slimming down of the work force, concentrated to an unprecedented degree among white-collar workers. The press has called it downsizing, streamlining, restructuring—all efforts to slim down and become more efficient, more productive, more competitive."

"The second stumbling block to faster recovery," said Freund, "is the debt hangover of the 1980's which has consumers, corporations and the federal government struggling to cope with their respective debt burdens." It will take time to improve balance sheets and to infuse a new appetite for spending, he added, "but in time, financial positions will improve and fixed assets will have to be replaced... For example, the average age of automobiles is now close to eight years. At some point, the old clunker will have to go..." Freund said it was his guess that a significant recovery in consumer spending will occur "later in 1993 and in 1994."

Cited as the third stumbling block to faster recovery was the "overhang of empty office buildings and shopping centers constructed with artificial tax incentives in the 1980's." Freund predicted it will take a "few more years" before this excess of building space becomes fully absorbed and real estate demands respond to easier credit conditions. "The declining real estate market," he said, "has taken its toll among banks whose balance sheets have suffered from real estate write downs." This, too, he suggested, will take time to repair and heal.

"Superimposed on all these impediments," said Freund, "has been a fourth factor—the end of the Cold War and the cutbacks in defense. Some 15% of the layoffs since 1980 have been caused by the attrition in military spending. Further cuts are ahead."

As the fifth stumbling block to rapid recovery, the economist cited what he called "the paralysis of fiscal and monetary policies" caused in large part by the huge federal budget deficit. This, he said, had prevented the government from supplying much in the way of economic stimulus. At the same time, said Freund, "sharply lower interest rates tend to depress the value of the U. S. dollar in international exchange markets, as U. S. capital flows abroad in search of higher interest rates, especially to Germany, and as foreign capital is diverted from flowing here."

Dr. Freund sees only "tepid growth" continuing for much of this year but added "that does not mean

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows heard evidence at the country store Saturday night that some missions really are impossible. Bug Hookum opened with a report where the American Bar Association is paying a PR expert $175,000 a year to polish the image of lawyers. The next sound you hear, Bug said, will be lawyers suing to see some return on their investment.

When the ABA PR man starts feeling sorry for himself, Bug went on, he ought to talk to Environmental Protection Agencies that have been trying to get rid of leaking underground fuel tanks. The $125,000 a tank cost would put most of them out of business, and after they put in new tanks there's no way to clean up the mess from the old ones. The idea was to bring water polluted by the leaks up to Federal EPA standards, Bug said, but the states say the technology to do it does not exist. The best plan, the states say, is to wait for what they call "natural remediation."

It is unusual nowadays, Bug allowed, to hear that we don't have the technology to do something. He was of a mind that ability was way ahead of ambition everywhere. For instance, he had read recent where we could use space age material to build cars that cost less, last longer, are 10 times lighter so they get 100 miles to the gallon and are just as safe as steel ones. The impossible mission is to get the technology past the steel and oil companies and their unions, was Bug's words.

General speaking, the fellows were as surprised as Bug that we admit we got problems technology can't fix, and even more to hear somebody say the best course was to let nature take its course. Ed Doolittle said he just got back from visiting his daughter that works in the city, and after he watched her run a typewriter size computer in her house he decided the trouble with that technology is that it's moving so fast nobody can keep up. She was writing letters and turning out color charts by pushing a few buttons, and she said she was going to "upgrade her motherboard" with a new chip this spring. Ed said he picked up a computer magazine at her house and realized he could not understand a word in an ad that compared one brand of computer with another.

Practical speaking, declared Zeke Grubb, folks have to be ready to learn new skills to keep up with their jobs, but he was agreed that sometimes we outsmart ourselves, and it's time to stop and take stock. Zeke said his preacher touched on this recent when he said he had read where the United Pentecostal Church says its folks need to get back to old time religion, and for starters it called on them to give up television.

The preacher said he was reminded that the Amish explain why they dress plain by saying "where a pig goes through today, a hog will go through by and by." The preacher said this means if we give in to the little things we'll find it easy to give in to the big things.

Personal, I would say stopping the clock is as impossible as keeping up with it, but clothes do have a lot to do with behavior. You put a necktie on a fellow and he thinks he ought to behave himself, whether he's in church or at the Elk dance.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Woman's Club Enjoys Betty's Bake-Off

The program for the March 23 meeting of the Woman's Club of Chelsea was presented by Betty Bust. She demonstrated the preparation of special occasion breads which were baked and later served for delicious refreshments enjoyed by all, following the business meeting.

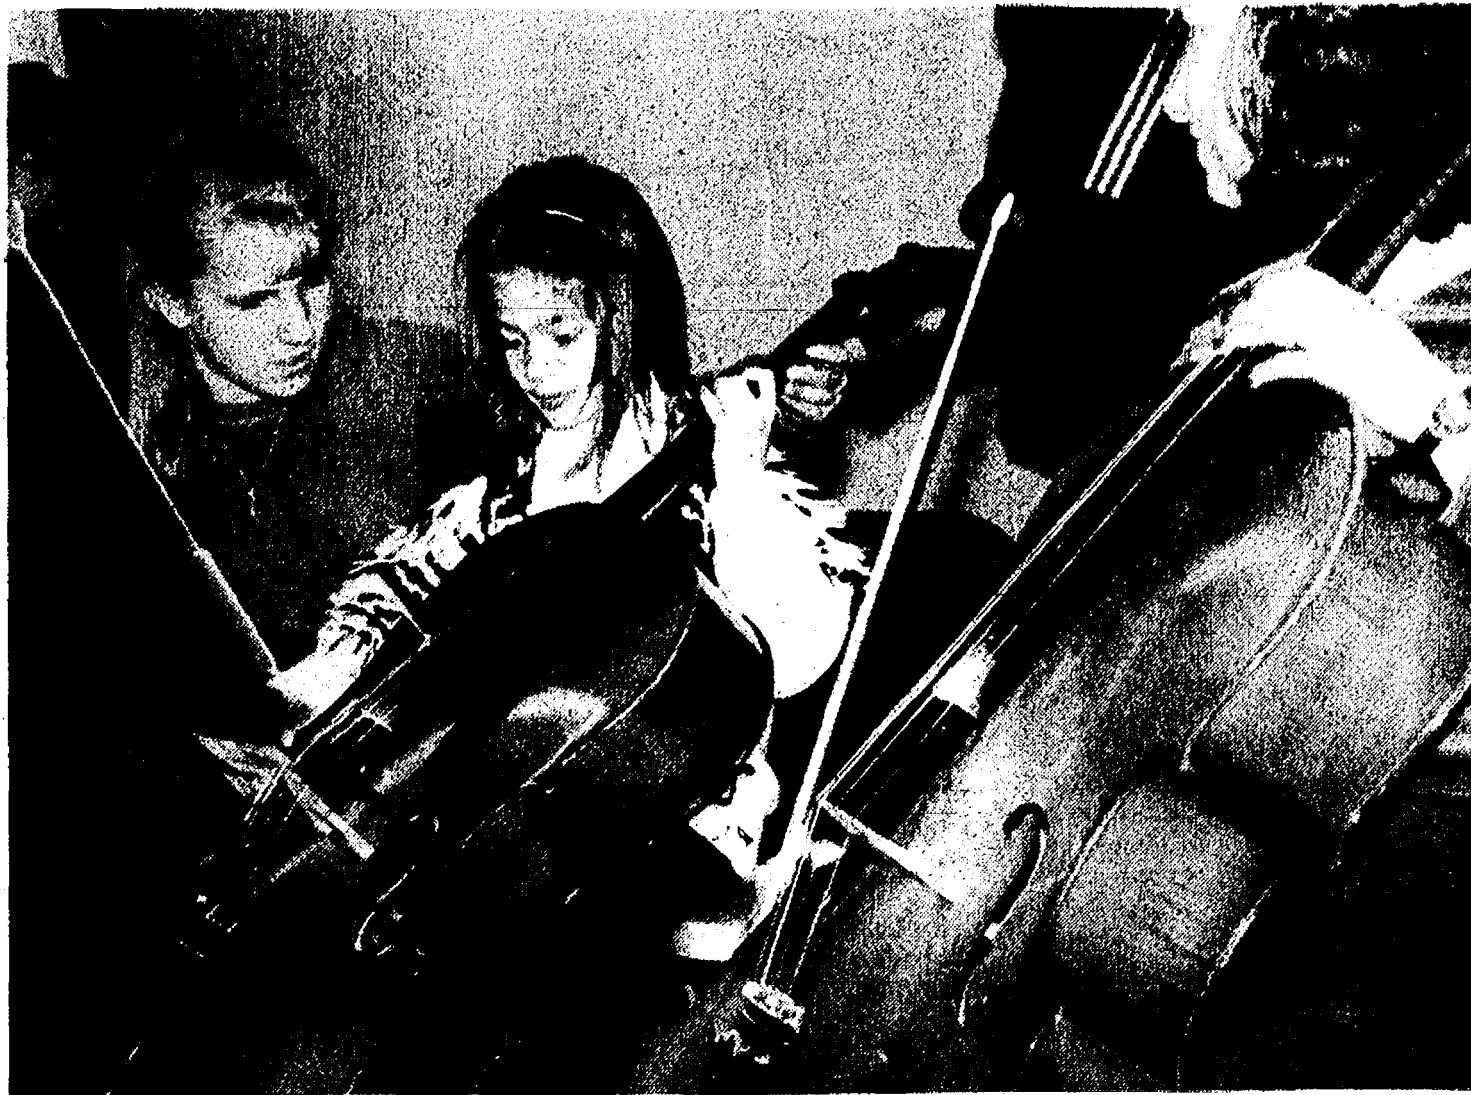

Also on the program agenda was an informative slide presentation by the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority.

Lois Moore, president, presided at the business meeting. Committee chairpersons were reminded to have annual reports ready to present at the Annual Business Meeting in April.

Rose Mary DeGrow and Katherine Wagner were hostesses for the March meeting. Elaine Knickerbocker was a guest for the meeting.

The Annual Business Meeting for members only will be held in the Club Room at McKune Memorial Library Tuesday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, intensely interested in conservation, created the Civilian Conservation Corps to put jobless youth to useful work and to restore the land. The Labor Department recruited the jobless men, who were from families on relief, were unmarried, and were between the ages of 16 and 25. Army reserve officers managed the camps, and the Forest Service and National Park Service planned the projects, according to "The American Worker," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL music student Nona Giebel gives a lesson on the cello to North school student Katie Titus as part of Monday's class about stringed instruments sponsored by the Enrichment Triad Program. Interested children were able to sign up for the demonstrations, organized by music teacher Peter Rosheger. The program took place earlier in the month at South school.

Farm exports for 1992 are expected to hit $41.5 billion, up $4 billion from last year. Gains are forecast for both bulk and high-value products like cereals and baby foods.

Plan Your Escape

Fire Can Happen Any Time!

And if it does, every second counts. Will you and your family know what to do?

- Practice an escape plan from each room in the house—Feel your way out with your eyes closed
- Teach your family to stop, drop to the ground and roll if their clothes catch on fire
- Keep the fire department's number by the phone. By your bed, have a flashlight to help you see and whistle to alert your family
- Install smoke detectors on every level of your house. Test them monthly, and change the batteries at least once a year.

Remember, fire can happen anytime, so make plans for a surprise visit.

Hospice To Hold Bereavement Program in April

Individualized Home Nursing Care and Hospice is offering a bereavement program for widowed women.

The group will meet on three sequential Sundays, beginning April 18 from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Faith in Action building, Chelsea.

There is a $10 registration fee, but financial assistance is available, if needed.

The program will be led by Rebecca Knorp, BSW, co-ordinator of bereavement services at Individualized Hospice and Louise Kazarnoff, MSW, a volunteer with the bereavement program.

For more information or to register contact Knorp at 971-0444.

Walkaways Caught Near Village Limits

Four escapists from Camp Waterloo were apprehended by Chelsea police early Monday morning.

The four men, who escaped together by climbing over the fence at the minimum security prison, were caught near the Village Mobil station near I-94 as one of the men tried to use the pay telephone.

Caught were Todd S. Mattox, 28, serving time for felonious assault; Robert L. Gray, Jr., 28, serving time for malicious destruction of property; Richard Whittingham, 23, serving time on weapons charges; and Rahsaan Zellner, 20, serving time for armed robbery.

Radar Detector Stolen from Car

A radar detector was stolen from a car parked on N. Main St. on Monday, March 22.

The victim, an employee of Chelsea Industries, Inc., said the theft took place between noon and 4:30 p.m. The car was parked in front of the building.

DRAMA STUDENTS at Michigan State University last Friday performed short selections from plays by William Shakespeare for Chelsea High school English students. Their performances explored various relationships between men and women. From left are Anna Wiese, Nathan Thomas, Cheryl Weaver (who was in "More Fun Than Bowling" at the Garage Theatre last year), and Don Downie.

A TRUCK CARRYING LIQUID ASPHALT overturned early last Wednesday morning in the median off eastbound I-94 near Kalmbach Rd. It was one of two similar crashes within three hours last Wednesday in thick fog that caused numerous headaches for motorists and made a long day for Chelsea rescue workers.

Three Convicted of Hunter Harassment

Three people were convicted last week in Chelsea 14A District Court of harassing deer hunters in the Pinckney Recreation Area last October at the beginning of bow season.

Joseph Taksel of Pittsburgh, Pa., Patricia Dodson of Auburn Hills, and Jodi Louth of Ann Arbor took part in a protest staged by the Fund for Animals. They were found guilty of two counts each of interfering with a hunt.

Department of Natural Resources officials said the anti-hunting activists followed hunters into the woods and tried to prevent them from killing deer by using various tactics.

Sentencing is scheduled for May 24 here. Each count carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and a fine of $500.

Five others have also been charged in the protest and face trial in April.

Brad Roberts To Become New Sewage Plant Superintendent

Brad Roberts of Manchester will become the new superintendent of the Chelsea Wastewater Treatment Plant when superintendent Mel Leach retires in May.

Roberts has worked at the Chelsea plant as a plant operator since July of 1991. He handles process control, industrial pre-treatment program, lab work, quality programs, state reports, and sludge disposal. He has previously worked at McNamee Advanced Technology, Inc., and the Village of Manchester. Village council made the appointment last Tuesday, March 23.

Congress passed the Civilian Conservation bill on March 31, 1933. By June 1,300 conservation camps were in operation. About 2.5 million men went through the Civilian Conservation Corps program, planting trees; digging reservoirs, fishponds and diversion ditches; building dams, bridges and fire-towers; fighting tree diseases; restoring historic battlefields, and clearing beaches and campgrounds, according to the "The American Worker," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

"Chelsea is my hospital."

"I got acquainted with Chelsea during my residency at the U-M Family Practice Center on the hospital campus. Ten years of private practice later, I still appreciate the same things about the hospital I did then—an emphasis on primary care, consultation with well-respected specialists, and a caring philosophy that's in tune with mine. It's important that the hospital works well with me and treats my patients well. Chelsea Community Hospital gets high marks on both counts."

Letters to the Editor

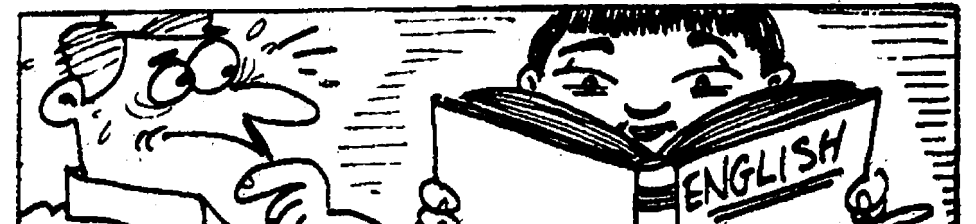

To the Editor,

As a resident of Scio Farms Estates Mobile Home Park, I wish to take issue with the following statement in your March 10 article, "Major Housing Project In Planning Stages": An 800-unit park would generate less than $20,000 (in taxes) annually...

While it is true that $3 per month per unit in taxes are paid with our monthly lot rental, the park itself is directly billed by the township for real and personal property taxes. Although our park owner, Steve Tracy, is a fine man, his business is not entirely philanthropic. Therefore, he passes this business "expense" on to his tenants by adding it to each lot's rental rate. Thus, we not only pay our share of property taxes, but also save the township the administrative costs of billing and collecting taxes from each lot's resident. I'm sure these taxes are more than would be collected on an empty lot and possibly as much or more than would be collected on subdivided property.

I would hope that any future articles on the subject of mobile home parks would be more fairly reported.

Little Caesars Opening Restaurant Thursday

Little Caesars Pizza, the world's largest carry-out pizza chain, will open its first restaurant in Chelsea with a V.I.P. reception on Thursday, April 1 from 5 to 7 p.m. The restaurant officially opens on Friday, April 2 at 10:30 a.m.

The new restaurant is located at 1121 S. Main in the Village Plaza.

Chelsea village president Richard Steele and local dignitaries will officiate over the opening ceremony. A ribbon-cutting will take place at 6 p.m.

In honor of the opening, Little Caesars will donate $300 to Faith in Action, a non-profit organization that provides services to those in need. Some of the organization's programs include support groups for parents of teen-age mothers and fathers; parenting skill workshops, matching the elderly with children, free health clinics and emergency assistance.

Little Caesar will be at the restaurant throughout the week to distribute Little Caesars painter's caps, rings, balloons and squeezers to children, while supplies last.

"We are very excited about the opening of our first restaurant in Chelsea," said Mike Matczak, Little Caesars market director. "We look forward to building a strong relationship with the residents of Chelsea, as well as providing them with a great meal at a great value."

Little Caesars Pizza, based in Detroit, has restaurants in all 50 states, Canada, England and Puerto Rico.

Survey of '92 High School Graduates Will Be Conducted

An annual phone survey of Chelsea High school graduates will be conducted during April 1993. The survey provides the school district with factual information on what graduates are doing nearly a year after graduation. The information to be gathered will include number of graduates employed, graduates continuing their education and where, graduates doing both, in military, etc. As example, recent data reports approximately one-third of graduates continuing education are at Washtenaw Community College in technical programs or taking "basic courses."

The survey is very brief but provides valuable information for improvement of programs and services.

The survey is conducted by the South and West Washtenaw Consortium.

For more information, contact survey co-ordinator, Bob Miller at 428-8327 or 662-9898.

Social Services Needs Foster Homes

Can you make time in your life for a child who needs you?

Washtenaw County Department of Social Services needs foster homes to provide care for children who have been removed from the home of their natural family because of abuse or neglect.

They need black and white homes for children of all ages. They especially need homes for brothers and sisters to be placed together and families who understand drug abuse and sexual abuse. They have a shortage of black families willing to do long-term care or adopt children of all ages. They also need homes who will work with children ages 12-18 and pregnant/parenting teens.

For those interested, they have a foster parent/adoption training program starting Monday, April 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Department of Social Services, 22 Center Street, Ypsilanti.

Please Call Tammie Rusch at 481-2002 to register or for more information.

Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants

*IRAs Can Still Pay Off

If you're unsure about the tax advantages of contributing to an individual retirement account (IRA), here's some information from the Michigan Association of CPAs that can help you determine whether IRAs should be part of your savings strategy.

Who gets a tax deduction?
Before tax reform, anyone under age 70½ who had earned income could put money into an IRA and take a tax deduction for the value of the contribution. Tax reform changed the ground rules and limited deductible IRA contributions to two categories of individuals. Those who do not participate in employer-sponsored retirement plans and those who do participate in a retirement plan but whose income falls below certain thresholds.

If neither you nor your spouse has an employer-sponsored retirement plan at work, each of you can deduct IRA contributions of up to $2,000 a year. If your spouse doesn't work, your deductible contribution is limited to $2,250 a year.

Your joint adjusted gross income determines how much of your IRA contribution is deductible if either you or your spouse is an active participant in a retirement plan at work. A married couple who files jointly and whose adjusted gross income is less than $40,000 gets a full deduction of up to $4,000 annually if both spouses work and each earns at least $2,000. A single person eligible for an employer-sponsored retirement plan must have adjusted gross income of no more than $25,000 to qualify for the full $2,000 deduction.

A partial deduction is allowed for married couples who file jointly and have adjusted gross incomes between $40,000 and $50,000, and for single taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes between $25,000 and $35,000. Married couples who file jointly and who have a company plan in which either spouse is an active participant lose the right to deduct any part of their IRA contributions when their adjusted gross incomes exceed $50,000; for single persons, the threshold is $35,000.

Should I make non-deductible contributions to an IRA?

Although tax law places restrictions on those who qualify for an IRA deduction, anyone under age 70½ with earned income from a job or self-employment can still make an IRA contribution and earn tax-deferred income.

CPAs point out, that the greatest tax-savings is not in the initial IRA contribution but in the tax-free compounding of earnings. When weighing the benefits of IRAs against other investment options, determine whether the accumulation of tax-deferred income in your IRA will give you a greater rate of return at withdrawal than other taxable or tax-free investments.

What about withdrawals?

Unless you become disabled, withdrawing money before age 59½ will result in a 10 percent penalty in addition to the ordinary income tax due. When you're between the ages of 59½ and 70½, you can withdraw as much or as little as you want from your IRA without penalty. However, distributions to an IRA owner must commence no later than April 1 following the calendar year in which the owner reaches age 70½.

If you have made both deductible and non-deductible contributions to an IRA, each time you make a withdrawal you must calculate what part of your withdrawal is taxable and what part is tax-free. Tax law requires you to prorate taxable and non-taxable withdrawals based on all your IRA assets. Total the amounts in all your IRA accounts to determine what percentage of your withdrawal is taxable.

What are the rules on IRA rollovers?
Generally, you need not pay any taxes on your IRA withdrawal if within 60 days, you roll it over into another IRA. You are allowed to roll over each IRA only once a year.

Caution: If the money is paid directly to you, you will be subject to a 20 percent withholding tax on the amount that is withdrawn. To avoid the withholding tax, the funds must be transferred directly from one trustee to another.

Before you invest in IRAs or withdraw funds from your IRA accounts, be sure you understand the tax implications of your actions. Failing to do so could cost you valuable tax dollars.

Dexter Township To Hold Meetings on Long-Range Plan

Dexter township will hold a series of meetings through the fall to update the township's General Development Plan.

On Thursday, April 1, the planning commission will meet at the town hall at 7:30 p.m. to review a "Build Out Analysis," and seek comments from the public. The analysis, based on the current zoning map, estimates what the population will be and how many homes can be built if all available land is developed, based on current lot sizes.

Additional meetings have been scheduled in April and May. The General Development Plan is scheduled for adoption in 1994. It is required by state law and is the basis for the township's zoning map and any changes that may be proposed to the map.

The township recently formed a planning commission. Their first task is to study the township's condition and chart a course for the future. The General Development Plan will consist of a map for the township's future development and a set of policy guidelines.

CHELSEA HIGH SCHOOL WIND ENSEMBLE earned two top honors at Musicfest Orlando, "Florida's Musical Showcase," during a trip to Florida March 17-20. The Chelsea ensemble earned a first-place in the AA class for their performance. They were also named champions of all performing bands. Twenty-five choirs and bands took part in the musicfest. A grand champion will be named after the 14 weeks of the competition. The ensemble played two pieces before an audience and a panel of judges. One of the judges presented a short clinic and critique and complimented the students and director Bill Gourley on their talent and hard work. The band also performed and marched in Epcot Center at Disney World, Universal Studios, and Courtney Springs Retirement Center.

Firm To Test Air in Village Office Building

Village council accepted a bid from Protech Environmental Services of Ann Arbor to find out whether the air in the village office building is fit to breathe.

Protech will test the air for a variety of contaminants for $1,750.

The issue of air quality surfaced when village council passed an ordinance banning all smoking in the building. Village manager Jack Myers said the building was not adequately ventilated to allow smoking, which prompted some of the smokers to question whether the building was ventilated well enough to get rid of other contaminants.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Cagers End Season With Loss in State Quarter-Finals

The most successful basketball season in Chelsea history came to an end last Wednesday at Willow Run when the Bulldogs lost to the St. Clair Shores Lake Shore Shorians, 69-38, in the quarter-finals of the state B tournament.

Shorians point guard Travis Conlan, a first-team all-state selection, proved to be too much for the Bulldogs as he scored 24 points to go with seven assists, seven steals, and four rebounds. He hit three three-pointers in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs led early, 9-2, as Pat Steele scored seven points. Lake Shore pulled ahead 18-12 at the end of the first quarter, but the Bulldogs battled back on a jumper by Nick McCalla and a drive by Colby Skelton to tie the game at 16.

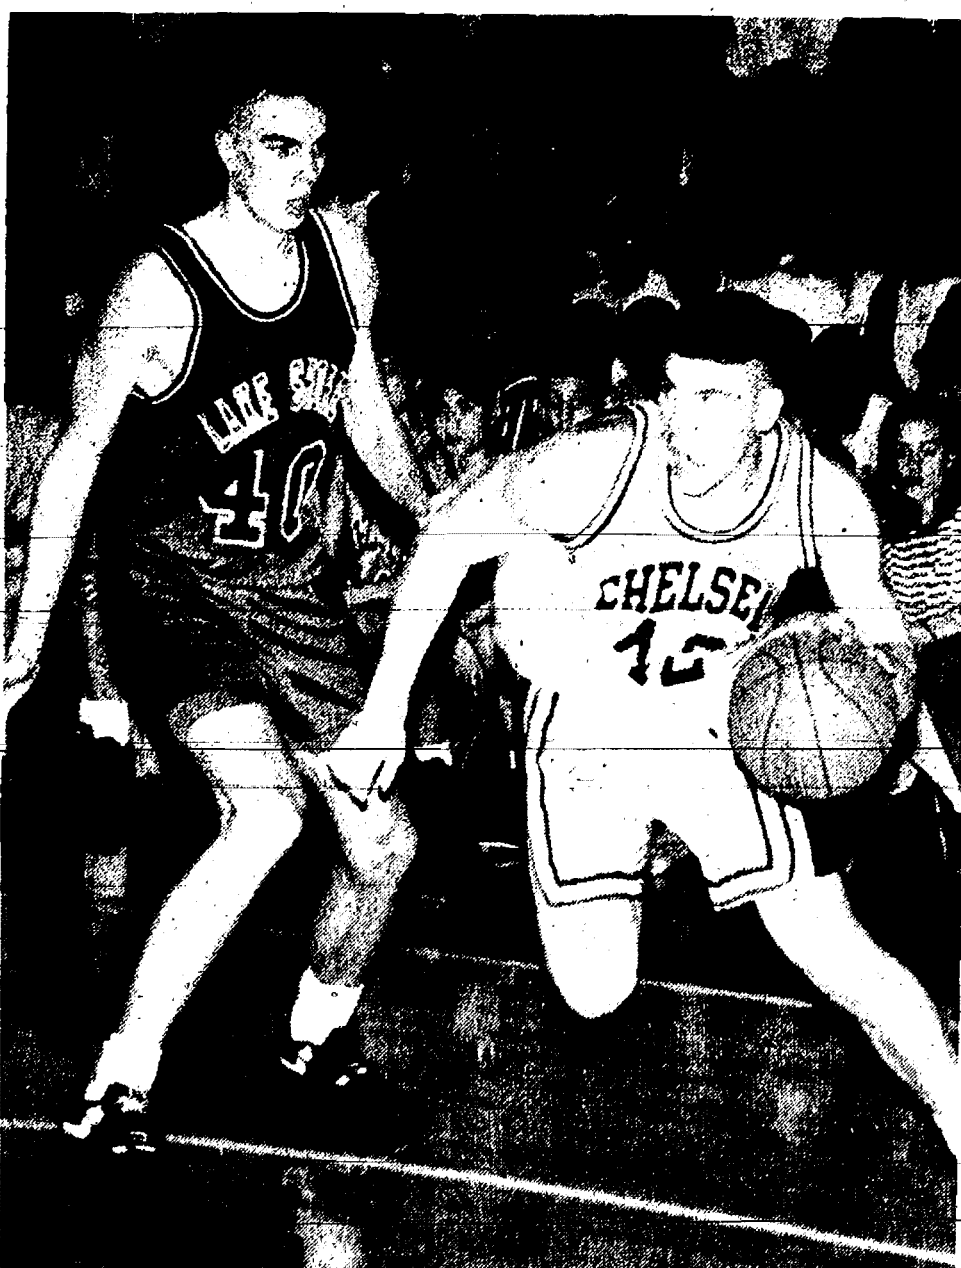

But with the game tied at 24, the dike broke for Chelsea. The Shorians went on a 12-2 run to finish out the half as the Bulldogs turned the ball over five times on a series of mistakes. The turnovers resulted in three fast-break opportunities led by Conlan and finished by guard Jeremy Collins, including one dazzling behind-the-back pass.

The Shorians scored the first six points of the second half to take a 42-26 lead and essentially put the game out of reach. Chelsea pulled to within 42-32. But the Shorians scored the next eight points.

The Chelsea offense also went cold in the second half, partly because the Lake Shore defense forced the Bulldogs to start their offense further from the basket than they would have liked. Chelsea coach Robin Raymond also said his team may have lost a little patience in the second half.

"Our intent was to stop the big kid inside and protect the basketball," Raymond said. The Bulldogs worked to stop Lake Shore's other first-team all-state, Jon Zajac, with double teams and occasional triple teams.

"But that left their outside shot open. I thought we did a good job in our half-court defense. But their defense was awfully good and their guards were very quick. They just had a lot of steals for fast breaks."

PAT STEELE drives around Lake Shore center Jon Zajac during last Wednesday's state quarter-final game at Willow Run. Steele led the Bulldogs with nine points.

Because the Bulldogs were so far behind to the state's number two-ranked team, Raymond decided to gamble and change his offense in the second half.

"We went to our point offense so they couldn't double-team us, but the bad part is when they get the steal there's nobody back," Raymond said.

"Obviously, we were worried about holding onto the ball, and that took concentration away from shooting the ball."

Seven Bulldogs scored, although none was in double figures. Steele had nine points, McCalla eight, Colby Skelton five, and Chris Dunham, Dana Schmunk, Tom Poulter, and Ed Waller each had four.

Chelsea shot 15-45 from the field and 7-16 from the line, while Lake Shore was 27-50 from the field and 10-17 from the line. The Bulldogs out-rebounded the taller Shorians, 36-27, but also had 26 turnovers to Lake Shore's 17.

"Even with the 31 point difference, our kids felt they could play with Lake Shore," Raymond said.

"They weren't 31 points better." Chelsea finished the season with a 20-6 record and their first appearance in the state tournament.

Lake Shore's season ended Friday afternoon when they lost to number-one-ranked Saginaw Buena Vista, 65-45. Conlan had four fouls early in the first half.

In the fall of 1933, President Franklin D. Roosevelt accepted a proposal for a forced draft work relief program, called the Civil Works Administration. As a result, four million people found work on secondary roads, schoolhouses, playgrounds and parks, according to "The American Worker," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

Defense, Hitting, Keys To Success of Chelsea Bulldogs Softball Team

Dominant pitching has always been a trademark of Chelsea Bulldogs softball teams. From Nanette Push to Jennifer Petty, Bulldogs pitchers have consistently blown away the opposition.

This year it's a little different story for second-year coach Joe Beard. He has plenty of potential on his staff, but, for now he plans to rely on one of Chelsea's strongest defenses in years as well as a solid offense.

"This year we're going to see if I can really coach," Beard jokes.

"I have a real good feeling about the season. I'm real pleased with the way the girls have responded. They're excited about the season and so am I. We should have some fun."

The "Five Amigas," as Beard calls his senior captains, make up most of his infield. Liz Sager anchors the plate, Erin Knott will play first when she isn't pitching. Heather McConeghy is at second, Gretchen Knutsen will play shortstop, and Theresa Hurst has the hot corner at third base.

Those girls have a list of impressive credentials from last year's district championship team.

Sager was first-team All-Southeastern Conference and honorable mention all-district; Knutsen was second-team All-SEC, first team all-district, and honorable mention all-region; McConeghy was honorable mention All-SEC, first-team all-district, and honorable mention all-region, as well as the team's most improved player, and Hurst was second-team All-SEC, first-team all-district, and honorable mention all-region.

Most of the younger girls in the starting line-up are in the outfield. Junior Jacki Crawford will patrol center. She played there last year when Petty was pitching. Junior Nicki Piasecki, another returning veteran, will play right. Sophomore Carey Schiller should get the call in left. When Knott is pitching, sophomore Nancy Pidd will play first.

Knott, who got little varsity mound time behind Petty and Kelly Cross last season, heads the pitching staff. Two other seniors on the staff, lefty Missy Schumann and Sandy Schmid, neither of whom played last year, are likely relievers. That will put sophomores Schiller and Lauren Zuehlke in starting roles.

"They all worked real hard in the off season and I expect they will be able to do a good job," Beard says.

"But our pitchers have very little varsity experience and that is the one question mark we have. Our defense should be real strong and we should be a very good-hitting team. They were strong with the bat and did a real good job last year. We will have the ball in play all the time."

DANA SCHMUNK hauls down a rebound during last Wednesday's state quarter-final game at Willow Run. Although the Shorians beat the Bulldogs decisively, Chelsea did out-rebound the taller Shorians.

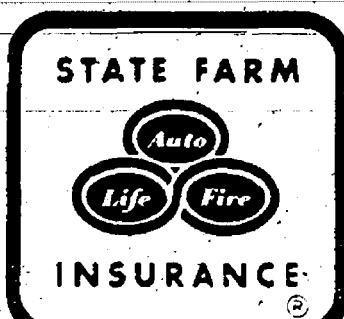

IT WAS A TOUGH NIGHT offensively for Chelsea's Tom Poulter in last Wednesday's state quarter-finals. Here, he is surrounded by Shorians as he tries to make a move to the basket.

Softball Team Looks Strong

Beard won't hesitate to have his girls swing away or lay down a bunt.

And once the girls get on base, Beard won't be conservative. He'll have them running.

"We want to force the game, force the other team to play defense," he says.

"We can't sit still, stay back, and wait for the power hit."

Other Bulldogs include junior Alicia Lafferty, who Beard says will be a "role player," and sophomore Charlotte Ziegler and freshman Lisa Beard, who will come up from the junior varsity for tournaments. Beard, the coach's daughter, may be called on to pitch if the staff runs into problems.

Volunteer assistant coaches include Joe's brother, Bill, Ty Anderson, Amy Poljan, and Cathy Sprawka. Parents have also been heavily involved, which Beard says has been enormously helpful.

Beard expects Chelsea to challenge Saline, Tecumseh, and Milan for the SEC title. All three teams have more experienced pitching.

TARGET PRACTICE for catchers has been part of the early-season workouts for the Chelsea Bulldogs. Here, Keri Lynch takes aim at a target on a wall. Defense may be the strongest part of Chelsea's game this year.

McCalla Named Wrestling MVP

Senior captain Kevin McCalla, who made his first appearance in the state tournament, was named the Chelsea Bulldogs' Most Valuable Wrestler at the team's awards banquet recently.

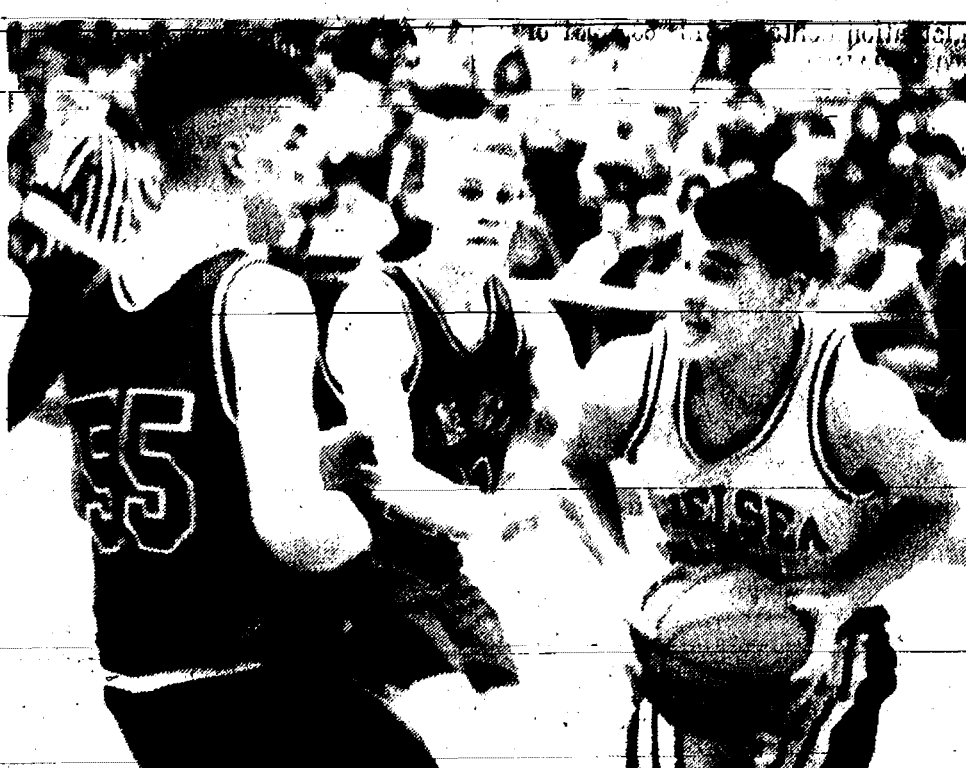

McCalla, who wrestled at 152 pounds, finished the season with a 33-8 record and a 108-39 mark over-all.

He also won the team awards for most victories and most pins at 19.

Senior Ian Dyer, who wrestled at 145 pounds, was named the team's Most Improved performer. He was a region qualifier and finished with a 27-7 record.

Quickest Pin honors went to 189-pound wrestler Chris Kargel at 9.8 seconds.

Andrew Parker, at 140 pounds, wrestled the most six-minute matches with 24.

COLBY SKELTON tries to drive against Lake Shore's Dan Doan during last Wednesday's state quarter-final game at Willow Run. Chelsea lost the game, 69-38.

Help for Michigan Corn Farmers May Be Coming

Washington—Congressman Bob Carr and other members of Michigan's congressional delegation met March 23 with U.S. Department of Agriculture Secretary Mike Espy and urged him to take quick action to aid Michigan corn farmers. Espy said he would dispatch USDA inspectors to Michigan "tomorrow" to determine if losses are widespread enough to provide disaster relief.

"I'm pleased that Secretary Espy has pledged quick action," Bob Carr said. "I met with mid-Michigan farmers just last week, and they made clear to me how important it is that some sort of relief come soon."

Michigan's 1992 corn crop was rendered unfit for market due to bad weather throughout the growing season. Espy said he would personally get involved in finding a source of financial relief for Michigan corn farmers, utilizing surplus funds from other disaster relief accounts. Carr urged a quick decision because Michigan corn farmers are less than one month from planting their 1993 crop and need to know if financial help is forthcoming.

The 1990 Farm Bill did not provide specific funds or authorization to help farmers whose crops were lost due to poor quality. Because of bad weather in the state, the vast majority of the 1992 Michigan corn crop was rated by USDA at sample grade, the lowest possible quality rating, and is not even fit for animal feed.

Espy also told Carr and other Michigan delegation members that ethanol would be exempt from President Clinton's BTU tax, and that the USDA was stopping all federal farm foreclosures until policies could be reviewed.

SPECIAL DISCOUNTS FOR SENIORS - TEACHERS - NON-SMOKERS

Sen. Pollack To Discuss School Funding With PTN

Responding to concerns about state support for public schools and continuation of important enrichment programs in the Chelsea School District, the North Elementary school parent-teacher organization—Parents and Teachers for North School, or PTN—has requested a personal meeting with Senator Lana Pollack. Senator Pollack has agreed to meet with PTN parents during a special evening session to be held at North school on April 12 at 7:30 p.m.

"This will be a very important meeting," states Melody Reifel, president of PTN. "State funding of public education has been a problem for several years now. It's been discussed a lot in the legislature, and now it's becoming a very serious problem for local districts who are trying to maintain the quality of their programs."

"In 1991, the State passed legislation that required that Chelsea and similar 'out-of-formula' districts give up portions of their commercial and industrial property tax funding, and that initially left the Chelsea District with almost a $130,000 budget deficit. "Just last June, we were all concerned about whether we would be able to get voter approval for adequate millage to let us maintain many of our school's services and programs—art, Triad, music and others. Now, the legislature is considering a number of alternative proposals for changing the State's K-12 funding formula, and some of these could have seriously negative effects on us. We need to find out from Senator Pollack what is likely to happen."

In the letter inviting Senator Pollack to meet with PTN parents, the session's objective is described as "to ensure that parents at our school are informed about upcoming changes so that we can better participate with our local school officials to maintain adequate funding for all of our school programs." Bill Thomas, who is arranging the Pollack meeting for the PTN, recently reviewed current legislative proposals with William Wescott, North school principal, and Fred Mills, assistant superintendent of the Chelsea District. "Apparently, it's a very dynamic situation in Lansing right now," Thomas reports. "There are at least four competing proposals. The Governor's new proposal, which appears to be the most likely one to pass, will lower property tax rates to 20 mills and increase the sales tax to 6%. Mills estimates that the net effect of this proposal on our district will be a $350,000 reduction in revenues."

Another concern of the PTN parents is the timing of the effective dates of proposed changes. The Governor's proposal hinges on voter approval of the sales tax increase. The vote on the sales tax won't occur until June, but June is the same month that the Chelsea School Board must submit its operating millage for approval to the district's voters.

"We don't want to let these issues go until the last minute," says Reifel. "We want to find out what we can do to influence these decisions and to avoid problems for our district next year. We believe Senator Pollack's presentation will be very helpful, and we are optimistic that we will have a good turnout of North school parents."

Free Camping Week-End Offered in Some Parks

The Department of Natural Resources will waive all camping fees, reservation fees and the Michigan State Parks Motor Vehicle permit fee for campers who stay at one of 11 designated state parks on Free Camping Week-end, May 21-22.

"This is the second year we have offered a Free Camping Week-end for state parks campers," DNR Director Roland Harmes said. "It gives them a chance to discover parks they haven't visited before, and it's an opportunity for first-time campers to try out this kind of outdoor recreation at no cost."

Interested campers are encouraged to make their reservations early to stay at one of the following participating state parks on Free Camping Week-end:

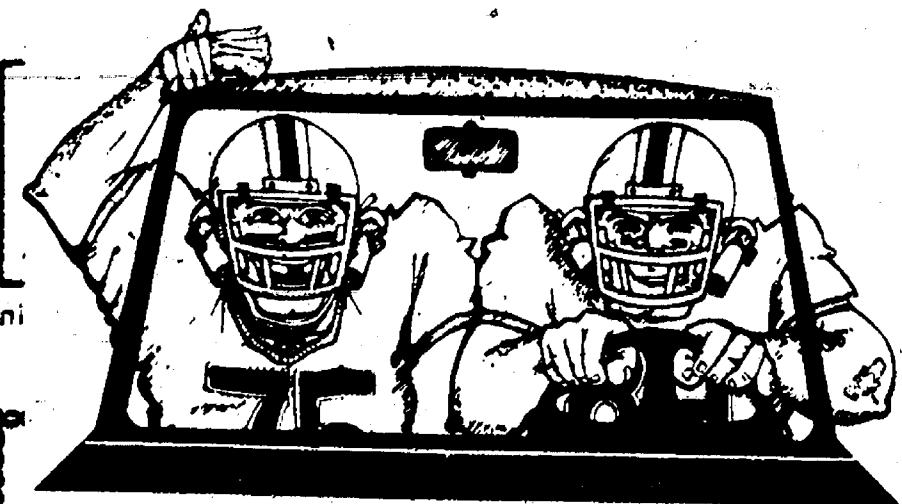

- In the Upper Peninsula—Baraga State Park (906-482-0278); Twin Lakes State Park near Toivola (906-482-0278); and Muskallonge State Park near Newberry (906-492-3415).
- In the northern Lower Peninsula—Clear Lake State Park near Atlanta (517-785-4388); Harrisville

State Park (517-362-5041); and Orchard Beach State Park near Manistee (616-843-8671).

- In the southern Lower Peninsula—Ionia Recreation Area (616-527-3750); Island Lake Recreation Area near Brighton (313-229-7067); Lake Hudson State Park near Onsted (517-647-7401); Pontiac Lake Recreation Area near Pontiac (313-666-1020); and Seven Lakes Recreation Area near Fenton (313-634-8811).

Campers who take advantage of the Free Camping Week-end offer and who complete a short questionnaire for the DNR Parks Division during their stay also will receive a $2 coupon to apply toward a future camping stay in any of the 11 participating parks.

They may also reserve additional nights with no reservation charge (but camping fees would be required) if the time period includes May 21-22. Camping reservation forms are available at all state parks and at DNR Parks Division, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing 48909; 517-373-1270.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Meeting.

Tuesday, February 23, 1993

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele. Present: President Steele, Clerk Morrison, Village Manager Myers. Trustees Present: Hammer, Dorer, Cashman, Kanten, Woodruff. Absent: Merkel.

The first order of business was public participation and there was none. Motion by Hammer, supported by Kanten, to approve the Consent Agenda. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

Trustee Kanten reported that she had spoken with eight to ten people that had complained about the snow removal in the downtown area. President Steele noted that Village Manager Myers was working on this problem.

Trustee Hammer reported that the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority would be meeting on February 24, 1993 in Manchester at the Manchester Village Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Trustee Hammer reported that next week the Solid Waste Committee would be meeting with all the surrounding townships and cities regarding the transfer station. The meeting time would be set at the February 24, 1993 Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority meeting.

Village Manager Myers reported on the Air Quality Survey of the Municipal Building. Four firms have requested an RFP. Proposals are due back on March 4, 1993. They will be opened during the next regularly scheduled meeting March 9, 1993.

Village Manager Myers noted that the budget had decreased from $2.1 million to $1.9 million.

President Steele opened the Public Hearing for discussion of the 1993/94 Fiscal Year Budget.

Village Manager Myers answered questions regarding the proposed budget from the audience. Particularly in the area of sewage, electric, payment in lieu of taxes and professional fees.

President Steele closed the Public Hearing on the 1993/94 Budget.

Village Manager Myers reported that he plans on beginning an investigation into a new municipal building on the Village property located on Park Street. Village Manager Myers will begin this process with a Request for Qualification letter submitted to the newspaper and prospective bidders. He will then review the qualifications and select prospective bidders for the Request for Proposal process.

RESOLUTION RE:

AMENDING LANDFILL FUND BUDGET

WHEREAS, the Chelsea Village Landfill is nearing capacity; and WHEREAS, the Ways and Means Committee has determined that an intermediate refuse handling procedure is needed; and

WHEREAS, the most economically viable alternative is the use of roll-off containers which would be filled by dumping the trash over the top side of said containers; and

WHEREAS, the construction of a retaining wall has been deemed to be the most logical approach; now

BE IT RESOLVED, that it is necessary to amend the Landfill Fund Budget to accommodate the expense of the construction of the retaining wall as follows:

Account No.	Description	Adopted Budget	To Amend	Change
571-000-651	Chgs. Svcs. - Tipping	$31,550.	$61,550.	$ + 30,000.
EXPENDITURE
Account No.	Description	Budget	To Read	Change
571-536-942	Equip. Rentals	$58,000.	$28,000.	$ - 30,000.
571-536-970	Capital Outlay	0.	30,000.	$ + 30,000.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this Village Council of the Village of Chelsea herein approves and authorizes the above Landfill Fund Budget amendments.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Hammer, to adopt the above resolution. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to accept the bid submitted by Adams Building Contractors, for a cost not to exceed $28,681 to construct a roll off wall of 110' at the Landfill. Roll call vote. Ayes: Dorer, Cashman, Rigg, Daut, Hammer, Steele. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried.

Mr. Joe Piasecki was present to explain the various Property Tax Reform/School Finance Reform plans. He summarized four plans for the audience: the Governor's Plan, the Team 14 Bipartisan Legislative Team (BLT) plan, the Olmstead/Kearney plan, and the Team 16 plan. Mr. Piasecki also distributed a table highlighting the plans and answered questions.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the bi-partisan plan (HBs 4277-86 and HJR G) dramatically reduces the over reliance of property taxes; and

WHEREAS, the bi-partisan plan (HBs 4277-86 and HJR G) identifies an adequate and reliable source to fund the reduction; and

WHEREAS, the bi-partisan plan (HBs 4277-86 and HJR G) will not reduce municipal revenues; and

WHEREAS, the bi-partisan plan (HBs 4277-86 and HJR G) protects tax increment financing in place before February 1, 1993, but this date needs to be extended; and

WHEREAS, the bi-partisan plan (HBs 4277-86 and HJR G) also addresses school finance reform; now

BE IT RESOLVED, that this Village Council of the Village of Chelsea strongly supports this bi-partisan plan (HBs 4277-86 and HJR G) and respectfully requests favorable legislative support for the BIPARTISAN PLAN.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Cashman, to approve the above resolution. Ayes: Daut, Hammer, Cashman, Dorer, Steele, Nay: Rigg. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. Resolution adopted.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS: The citizens of the Village represent a community of caring individuals;

AND WHEREAS: There is a need in the community to collect food to assist those in need within the Village and its surrounding areas;

AND WHEREAS: The Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers of the Village wish to serve the community in which they live;

AND WHEREAS: The Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers of the Village represent a large percentage of the Village's youth;

AND WHEREAS: The Boy Scouts of America will, on a national basis and as a collective group, go forth and collect food on the week-ends of April 17th and April 24th; Motion by Hammer, supported by Rigg, to adjourn regular session. All Ayes. Absent: Merkel. Motion carried. Meeting Adjourned—Time: 9:05 p.m. Suzanne C. Morrison, Village Clerk.

Amendments

Village of Chelsea Zoning Ordinance Car Washes in the C-4 District

1. Amend Section 4.4.4 (15.480) as follows.

A. In the introductory paragraph, delete the second sentence beginning with the words "Those commercial activities..."

B. In subsection B (15.482) Special Land Uses, add the following:

4. Car wash, but not including fuel dispensing, subject to the conditions in Section 5.34, herein.

2. Add a new Section 5.34, as follows.

Section 5.34 Car Wash Conditions

The following shall be the minimum conditions necessary for approval and operation of a car wash. Additional conditions may be required in order for a car wash to meet the standards in Section 5.5 herein, Special Land Uses.

A. Fuel dispensing shall not be permitted with car wash operations in the C-4 zoning district.

B. All services, except vacuuming, shall be provided within the car wash building. Vacuuming service may be located only in the rear of the site; it shall not be located in the front or side yards, and shall be screened from view from abutting streets.

C. Vehicles shall not be stored on the site overnight.

D. All wash water shall be recycled. Residual water shall be discharged into a sanitary sewer. All such water shall be passed through sediment and pollutant filters or similar devices, including at least an oil separator, before discharge into the sanitary sewer.

E. Driveways, parking spaces, and all other areas for maneuvering or standing of vehicles shall be paved. All remaining areas, except the building site, shall be landscaped. Concrete curbs shall be provided on all edges of pavement. The site shall provide only the pavement necessary for access, parking, and maneuvering and standing of vehicles. The remainder of the site shall be landscaped. Excess pavement shall not be permitted.

F. The building(s) shall have a gable, hip, or mansard style roof finished with shingles. The building(s) shall be finished with wood, aluminum, or vinyl siding, or brick or stone veneer, or a combination of these materials. The requirements in this paragraph may be modified at the discretion of the Planning Commission for car washes in the C-4 district that have more than one use of building on the property.

G. The rear part of the site shall be screened from abutting properties by streets by landscape materials consisting of coniferous trees and shrubs, berms, architectural walls, or a combination of these materials. Existing vegetation may be used for screening, but supplemental materials may be required. The minimum screening that will meet this condition shall be a double row of coniferous trees, at least six feet high at the time of planting, placed on staggered 15 foot centers or the equivalent. The Planning Commission may require screening in the side parts of the site if the Commission determines that such screening is needed for protection of adjacent properties.

H. The site shall provide at least one canopy tree for each 40 lineal feet of pavement perimeter. Canopy trees shall be placed to improve the appearance of the property and to shade pavement area to the maximum feasible extent.

I. The site shall also provide at least one canopy tree for each 40 lineal feet of street frontage as street trees.

J. Vehicles entering or leaving the site shall not create safety problems or unduly interfere with traffic flow on the access street. Driveways shall be designed so that entering traffic will not encroach into the exit lane of a driveway. Physical separation of entering and exiting lanes of driveways may be required. Driveways shall be designed so that right turn exiting traffic will be able to use the through traffic lane nearest the site and not encroach into other lanes of the access street. Restrictions may be placed on turning movements of exiting traffic. One-way traffic flow into and out of a site may be required.

K. Driveway design and placement shall be consistent with the circulation and parking layout of the site. The site shall provide sufficient on-site storage for vehicles awaiting entry to the car wash building so that no vehicle will be required to stand within 50 feet of the right of way line of the access street. The site shall provide a dry-off area sufficient in size and drainage to prevent build-up of surface water or ice on the exit driveway.

L. Parking shall not be permitted between the front face of the building and the right of way line of the access street. The requirement in this paragraph may be modified at the discretion of the Planning Commission for car washes in the C-4 district that have more than one use of building on the property.

M. On-site lights shall not exceed 10 feet in height for no cutoff luminaires and 20 feet for 90 degree cutoff luminaires. Illumination shall be directed away from abutting properties and shall not interfere with traffic flow on abutting streets.

SIXTH GRADE SCIENCE STUDENTS at Beach Middle school were challenged by their teachers, Chip Soloko, Carol Strahler, and Dave Polley to design their own musical instruments using non-musical materials as part of their unit on the study of sound. The requirement was that the students had to be able to play a recognizable tune on whatever instrument they devised. Above, Justin

GARDEN CORNER

East Lansing—There's nothing like a threat of spring to generate questions about flower and vegetable gardening, landscape plants and related topics. Michigan State University Extension specialists answer timely queries.

Q. What's the difference between determinate and indeterminate tomato varieties?

A. Determinate varieties are compact and well adapted to caging, though they can also be grown unsupported. Determinate varieties generally grow to maturity, flower and set fruit within a relatively short period, and all the fruits normally ripen at about the same time—within a few days, anyway. Indeterminate varieties, on the other hand, continue to grow all season and set fruit in clusters that ripen over a long period. Without support, the plants tend to sprawl.

Q. Are flower and vegetable seeds like bulbs, in that they have an up side and a down side? Or does it not matter which end is up when you plant them?

A. You don't have to worry about planting seeds upside-down. Unlike bulbs, which have to be oriented with the root end down, seeds will get their roots down and their tops up no matter how you plant them. More important is planting depth. Most seeds need a certain amount of light to germinate, so seeds planted too deep may not germinate. Timing is also important—large seeds of warm-weather crops such as snap beans and sweet corn may rot rather than germinate if planted too early, before the soil has warmed up.

Q. Do carpenter ants eat wood?

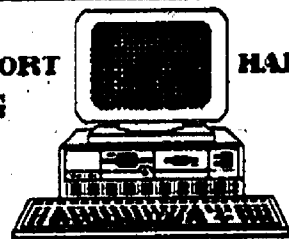

A. Both termites and carpenter ants nest in wood in structures, but only termites feed on wood—carpenter ants excavate wood for their nests. An infestation usually begins in moist, decaying wood. Once a colony gets established, it generates enough moisture to support decay fungi. Together, the ants and the fungi can leave wood riddled and weakened. Seeing carpenter ants indoors in the winter probably means they are nesting indoors. In warmer weather, ants from outdoor nests may come indoors to forage for food. In either case, control means finding and treating the nest with an appropriate insecticide.

Q. How does black plastic mulch discourage weed growth? Would clear plastic work the same way?

A. Black plastic stops weed growth by cutting off the light. Clear plastic lets light through, so weed seeds under it will germinate.

Weight Loss Mystery Baffles Scientists

WASHINGTON -- Scientists are baffled by a natural food ingredient that caused people to lose weight even though they were instructed not to alter normal eating patterns.

Although other scientists and studies may not agree, a study published in The British Journal of Nutrition found that the ingredient, a natural plant colloid, can cause significant weight loss. Several explanations for the weight loss are suggested, but the most likely according to scientists in a Finnish study, is that colloids seem to decrease the intestinal absorption of calories. However, universal acceptance of this theory will depend on further study.

National Dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to world-wide health problems, has successfully designed a unique food tablet that utilizes colloids. Called Food Source One, this unique tablet provides a scientifically designed method for weight loss. When used as directed, Food Source One replaces high calorie fats with lower calorie nutrients, thereby providing optimum nutrition with a minimum number of fat calories. According to a study in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, you do not need to restrict the amount of food you eat to lose weight, just the fat.

Food Source One is being hailed by health care professionals as a significant breakthrough in nutritional weight control and provides a natural, drug free alternative for confronting the problem of obesity.

Food Source One is available at:

Trip to Europe

A travelogue presented by M.C. and Winifred Martin in the chapel on Feb. 22 consisted of slides and story of a 30-day trip to many countries in Europe. The Martins were counselors of a group of 31 older high school students from central and eastern Michigan. Three groups, each including four adults were sponsored by the United Methodist Church. All left by plane and landed at Amsterdam Airport. Each group with its driver and leader traveled separately by bus down through many countries to Rome, then returning by a different route to Holland, then by boat to England and train to London.

I attended the program and took notes which I and M.C. have set down here to present some highlights. The whole program was not shown, but will be finished later, along with many other trips around the U.S. and also Barbados.

Holland's few windmills left, now being lived in; many canals, in and around Amsterdam; dykes; fishing villages; bus driver eating live herring; neat homes; wooden shoe factory; cheese factory; commercial flower auctions where whole plane loads are bought and shipped to New York and sold to florists the same day; people living year round in house boats. Of special interest in Holland is cleanliness. Beautiful church where we attended service. Quite large and no need for microphones. (We should see the architect, and build some here.)

Five hundred foot high twin towers of Cologne Cathedral. Several centuries old. Germany also has famous Rhine River. Took several hours trip by boat, with dinner on the open deck; famous castles for hundreds of miles on tops of mountains; grape farms on mountainside; students singing on bus, led by bus driver and leader; one student had guitar and harmonica; students and counselors sleeping as we rode along; snapping pictures at one two-hundred-and-fiftieth second at 50 miles an hour; some narrow roads and streets. Our bus and one we met—lost-side-view-mirrors—in-only-mishap. At old Heidelberg Castle we remember "The Student-Prince" opera.

Stopping for a refreshing dip in the Adriatic Sea (north side of Italy); sea of umbrellas in hot sun, some students wearing swim suits, others going in with clothes on, and a few counselors wading as far out as they could. In Florence, one of oldest and most important art centers we could have spent several days in the museum. The river overflowed a year or so before our trip and reached a depth of 17 feet on some old art museums; besides damage to buildings lots of famous paintings were covered with mud; people still cleaning them.

Venice: water, water everywhere. Main street about a mile long; buildings built on wood piles; some structures in danger at the present time as piling is giving way to rot. Of course, had to take romantic gondola ride at night with gondolier singing romantic songs; famous glass works with many buying glassware and having it shipped home. (I could buy the same thing at home for less.) This could be said for cheese. M.C. shipped some home. Also he bought a new suit in London, and found out he could have bought same suit at Hudson's for same price.

Dwight made more notes, but we must stop. Thank you all for coming.
Dwight Brown, Reporter.

Party

Typical of what we find almost any day around the lounges or sitting rooms was a small group in the M-2 lounge the other day. Your reporter was passing by and saw Lillian Sargeant and her daughter Sue, and a few residents from the K-1 and K-2 nursing floors. Sue invited me in to have punch and cookies.

I joined them. Had a talk with Marlowe McMellen, who has been over their about six months. She looks and feels much better. This little party is something that folks from the Health Care section always look forward to. Because of illness their social life is somewhat restricted. Sue wheeled the ladies back and forth herself, but usually volunteers to do this could be arranged for. Bonnie Haist might be able to find folks to help you.

Jan Westgate's Work With the Indians

The U.M.W. met March 16 in the library. Our speaker was Jan Westgate, who spent nine years with the Arizona Indians. She displayed some of their works and talked of her experiences.

Our next meeting will be April 20 in the Town Hall. The program is on the McCurdy School in New Mexico.

The Library Corner

Remember last spring when we were all invited to come up to Edie and Lou Scovill's apt. on 5th floor in Dancy House? A pair of robins had built a nest outside their window sill. For weeks, Edie or Lou would watch for new developments. Then Lou hurriedly brought their Camcorder to the scene to record a new activity that was an important part of the birds' establishment of a family: from the appearance of the eggs, the hatching, the feeding, and finally the nest-leaving of the little robinettes for a life on their own!

Meanwhile, we residents of C.R.C. could call and come in and enjoy a wonderful view of the bird family just a few feet away.

Well, now, come and see all that Lou and Edie saw during those several weeks. The Scovills will present their video Robins at Our Window in living color on the Library Adventure program on April 20, at 2:00 p.m. in the Exercise Room. We will then move to the Library for an exhibit of bird books you may not have seen in our collection. Refreshments will be served. We hope to see you all then.
Doris Haynes and Committee.

St. Patrick's Day

The day for the wearing of the green has come and gone, and we had lots of fun. Lots of us didn't have a green hat, but we enjoyed seeing the lassies running around wearing them, and a few had green shirts.

The simple act of going along with the tradition made everybody smile, and many of us acted better for one day. I did not hear a mean word spoken all day. Our folks in the dining room who serve us seemed extra kind. The diners with our usual aches and pains, I think, tried to be in a cheerful mood. I drank my cranberry juice as a toast to happy days for the future. And a four leaf clover to all you nurses, business folks, maintenance—oh heck, to all you hardy souls who braved the snow drifts to get here early to serve us.

Another Discovery

I am sure that you readers that are mechanically or historically inclined will be interested in this news! You see I found this old Nat. Geographic of Aug. 1927 in the third-floor library.

The story of the building and flight of the dirigible "Norge" from Italy over the top of the world to Alaska. Capt. Ronald Amundsen helped the designer Gen. Umberto Nobile and flew with him, stopping at several places in Europe and finally making the final leg of the trip over the pole. You will have several hours of reading the 38 pages and lots of good photos of the ship and the details of construction.

Also in another copy of the magazine, Sept. 1927, there is a fine account of the historic flight of Comm. Richard Byrd's plane, the "America" from the U.S. to France. Comm. Byrd had three other experienced flyers with him. By coincidence his plane was just ready to take off, as the news reached the U.S. of the safe flight of Charles Lindbergh to Paris. Hope you have fun reading these two stories.
M.C. Martin.

Uncle Lew...

This roving reporter reads his Chelsea Standard cover to cover every week. No one comments on Uncle Lew's piece that he has in every week.

I would like to know just where this country store is located. How far from the corner of Route 52 and Middle St. I would love to join Zeke Grubb and Ed Doolittle and the others some Saturday night. If I could sit in and listen, O.K., but it would be wonderful to put in my two cents worth also.

My first subject for discussion would be urging all grandfathers to check on their great-grandchildren. Coach them in using their hands in learning some kind of trade. Not to depend entirely on a computer to make a living. They are important, but don't grow up putting all your eggs in one basket. Teach them to raise some vegetables; know enough about carpentry to make something or maybe do a simple cement job.

How about Bug and Clem. Let's make sure that our school systems teach our kids something that they might be able to use if a recession comes into their lives.
M.C. Martin.

Michigan Leads Nation In Corneal Transplants

The month of March is nationally designated as Eye Donor Month and Washtenaw county has 107 very special reasons to celebrate. They include 21 of our county residents who received corneal transplants in 1992 and families of 86 other residents of our county who made the decisions last year to donate the corneas of their deceased loved ones. Donated eyes or corneas are used for transplantation. When that is not possible, the eyes are highly valued for research into the causes and treatment of blinding eye diseases.

It was tissue donated to the Michigan Eye-Bank that was, in turn, provided for the corneal transplants of our fellow residents of Washtenaw county. The Eye-Bank, with the assistance of a network of Lions-supported "substations" and dedicated staff at Michigan hospital, provides corneal tissue to patients throughout the state who are in need of transplants.

Corneal tissue is obtained when a member of the professional staff of a hospital or a local funeral director talks to family members about donation, following the death of their loved one. Often, the prospective donors have indicated that decision by signing the back of their driver's license or by signing a "Family Decision" pledge card provided by a local Lions Club.

Michigan is fortunate to have one of the nation's largest and most respected eye banks located within its borders. Last year alone, the Michigan Eye-Bank provided corneal tissue for transplant to more than 1,000 Michigan residents. In fact, the Michigan Eye-Bank ranked first in the nation for having donated tissue used in transplants for its home-state citizens.

For more information on becoming an eye donor or to find out how you can help the Michigan Eye-Bank continue to give the Gift of Sight, please call 1-800-247-7250.

Federal Screw Works Employees Want New Contract by May 1

Workers at Federal Screw Works, represented by UAW Local 437, have authorized a strike against the company if a new contract is not negotiated by May 1, when the current contract expires.

Union representative Bobby Brown said last week that contract talks have broken off and no time had been set for further negotiations. The strike authorization is a routine procedure when talks break off.

The union represents 127 employees; some hold skilled jobs and others are in entry-level positions. The company makes parts for Ford Motor Co. and General Motors transmissions.

The last contract, negotiated in 1990, gave workers a 25-cents per hour raise the first year and 10 cents in the second and third years.

"I don't know what we're going to do if we don't get a contract by May 1," Brown said.

"It's real risky for us to participate in a strike because the company can hire permanent replacements. One possibility is we could have a lockout. I don't know what we'll do." A lockout of employees would result from employee disruption.

Brown said the company has, for now, decided not to move any part of the company to Indiana, as was rumored in 1990.

Federal Screw Works employees have been UAW members since 1944.

Former Deacon Told To Stand Trial on Sex Abuse Charges

Former North Sharon Baptist church deacon Mark Foeller has been ordered to stand trial on charges that he sexually molested two boys during a camping trip in Napoleon township.

Foeller, 36, faces seven additional counts of criminal sexual conduct, five first-degree and two second-degree.

Last Thursday, the boys recalled the 1991 camping trip and how Foeller invited them to go with him. The nine-year-old testified that Foeller told him not to tell anyone about what happened during the trip because it was a secret. He also said Foeller threatened to kill him if he did.

Foeller, a Chrysler Corp. engineer in Highland Park, was scheduled to face arraignment yesterday in Jackson County Circuit Court before Judge Charles J. Falahee.

The boys, who live in Munnith, said Foeller took them and another boy on a camping trip as a reward for behaving well on a Sunday school bus.

The nine-year-old said that the four built a tree fort near the camp and swam in a nearby lake. However, he also said Foeller raped him while the two were swimming, and again in a tent. He said he told Foeller it hurt and to quit.

Foeller faces trial June 11 in Washtenaw county on six counts of criminal sexual conduct, three of which were originally filed in Jackson county. Previous cases in Jackson and Washtenaw counties were consolidated last month.

After last Thursday's hearing, Foeller's attorney, Brian Thiede, said he planned to seek to consolidate the new cases in Washtenaw county, a move Jackson County Prosecutor Dennis Hurst said he would fight.

Thiede says his client is the victim of poor police interviewing and said police have asked leading questions of the alleged victims.

Pizza Restaurant Employee Jumped By Upset Customer

A 32-year-old Chelsea man, upset that breadsticks failed to come with his pizza order, assaulted a counter attendant at Cottage Inn on Feb. 28.

According to Chelsea police reports, the customer called the restaurant after he realized the breadsticks were missing from his order. He later showed up at the restaurant and threatened to beat up the 22-year-old man he spoke with on the telephone. After the restaurant employee refunded the customer's money and gave him breadsticks, the customer walked behind the counter and pushed the employee to the floor.

There were several witnesses to the incident and police are waiting for charges to be authorized.

VCRs Stolen From Business

Four videocassette recorders were stolen from Village VCR on S. Main St. sometime during the night of Friday, March 26.

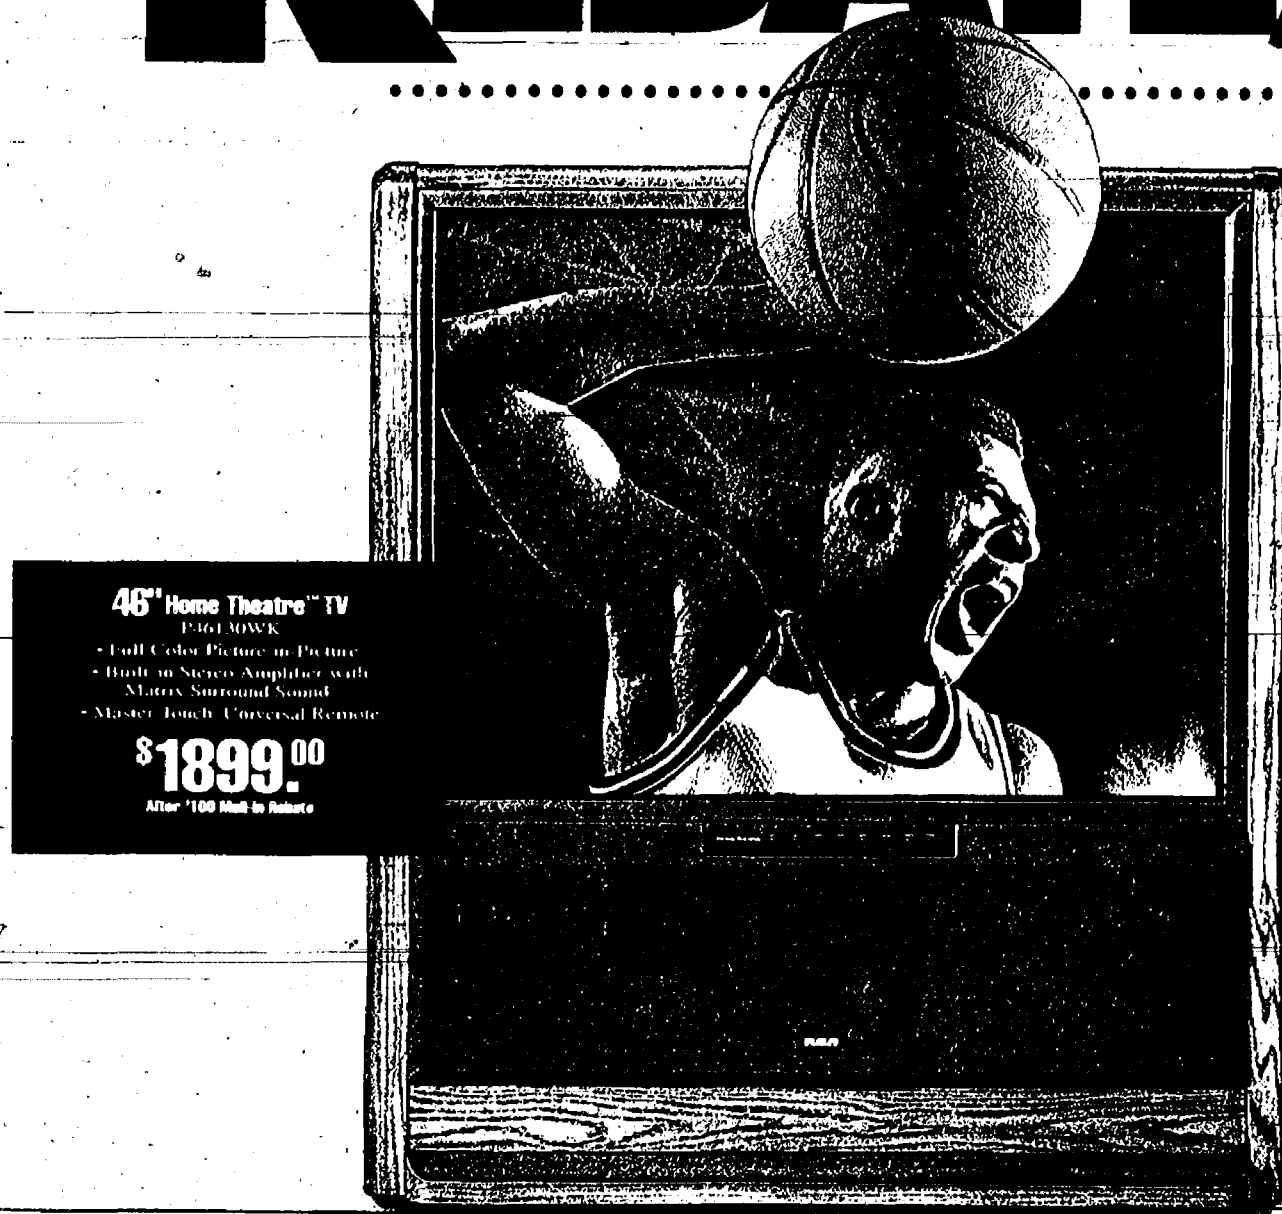

Police said there were no signs of forced entry. Police were trying to question a Jackson woman who earlier in the day wanted to purchase one of the machines that was eventually stolen.

MARCH IS READING MONTH continues this week at both South and North Elementary schools. Friday, March 19 was "Read-a-Button Day" and these children wore a total of 428 buttons with words or slogans on them for their classmates to read. Bottom center is Matt Hinderer, who had the most buttons with 61. In front, from left, are Lisa Parisho, Stephanie Gaul, Kansey Bauer, Danielle Patt, Tristan Patt, and Caitlin Power. In back, from left, are Brenda Newman, Jocelyn Elkins, Thomas Power, Dennis Watson, Kristopher Hammerberg, and principal Lucy Stieber.
