CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1993

20 Pages This Week 3 Supplements

FOOTINGS HAVE BEEN POURED for the new concrete pads and walls that will hold roll-off bins for trash at the village landfill. The village hopes to have the new system in operation in about three weeks. The landfill itself may not last that long as there is little remaining space. The new system of roll-off bins may be used as long as two years, said village solid waste committee chair Frank Hammer. The facility will be used by the village and residents of Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships.

Five Candidates File For School Board Seats

Five candidates, but no incumbents, have filed nominating petitions for the two seats on the Chelsea Board of Education that will be available in the annual school elections on Monday, June 14.

The candidates are Dr. John Deikis, 45, 780 N. Freer Rd.; Sandra I. Merkel, 49, 282 Shoreview Dr.; Janet M. Roberts, 37, 11506 Jackson Rd.; Anne Williams, 34, 13354 Oakridge Ln.; and Dayle K. Wright, 43, 126 South St.

None has served on the board. However, Roberts ran unsuccessfully two years ago.

Deikis, a two-year village resident, works in the substance abuse program at the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Battle Creek.

Merkel has lived in the area for 21 years.

Roberts has long been active in local educational programs, including the Chelsea Education Foundation.

Wright has lived in the area for 15 years. She is a former president of the PTS organization at South Elementary school.

Further information about Williams was not available as of press time.

The available four-year seats are held by board president Anne Comeau and vice-president Ron Satterthwaite. Both Comeau, who has served for 12 years, including five years as president, and Satterthwaite, who has served for eight years, said they believe it is time for someone new to serve on the board.

Charges Dismissed in Hunter Harassment Case

Five men and women charged with hunter harassment had all charges against them dismissed in Chelsea 14A District Court last Tuesday.

The charges revolved around an incident in the Pinckney Recreation Area last fall when the activists entered the park and disrupted deer hunters at the start of bow season.

Judge Kenneth Bronson dismissed the charges after park workers couldn't agree on whether the hunters were hunting illegally because they were in the park before it opened at sunrise.

The five charged, all members of the Fund for Animals, a New York-based anti-hunting group, were Heidi Prescott of Maryland; Cecilia Lash of Mason; Karen Elwert of Plymouth; Michael Chiado of Plymouth; and Charles Ogar. They could have faced up to 90 days in prison and a $1,000 fine for each of the 23 charges.

The group tried to disrupt hunting by following hunters around, taking their photographs, and talking to them.

However, some park staff testified that the park was not open before sunrise. Hunters were in the park while it was still dark.

Other park staff and Department of Natural Resources officials said the part of the park where the hunters were located was open at the time the hunters were in it.

Bronson said he believed the jury could not come to a unanimous conclusion that the hunters were hunting legally.

Bronson told park officials and the DNR to eliminate any contradictions in park use policies so that there will be no further dismissals if similar cases occur this fall.

The five cannot be re-tried.

Attorney Cynthia Bostwick plans to appeal the recent convictions of three other protesters who were also involved in the case, based on the new information. Joseph Taskel of Pennsylvania, Patricia Dodson of Auburn Hills, and Jodi Louth of Ann Arbor face sentencing May 24 unless a new trial is allowed.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF CHELSEA recently made a contribution to the Chelsea Christmas in April program. Linda Cole, chair of community services for the club made the presentation to program co-ordinator Dick Shaneyfelt.

Chelsea Schools have traditionally arranged Elementary attendance areas for maximum student safety. This has meant that students living north of the railroad tracks would attend North Elementary and those south of the tracks would attend South Elementary.

Special requests are considered to switch buildings off an individual basis.

Factors to be considered in providing for requests are special student needs, class size, elementary siblings in school, child care, history of student concerns in the building, and parental concerns.

Two key points needed to be emphasized:

1. Both North and South Elementaries have the same curriculum and services;
2. It is in the best interest of the children to remain in one school through their elementary years.

Request forms to change buildings will be available in the Elementary School offices starting April 15. Requests will be accepted until May 3.

Please contact Bill Wescott at North Elementary (475-3713) or Lucy Stieber at South Elementary (475-3715) if you have any questions.

Sen. Pollack Discusses New School Aid Proposal, Labels It 'Regressive'

State Sen. Lana Pollack told a group of 50 Chelsea parents, school board members, board candidates and administrators Monday night that she prefers the current system of school financing over the proposal that will face voters in a special election in June.

Pollack, who voted against the proposal, spoke at the invitation of the PTN organization at North Elementary school. Initially the meeting was scheduled to clarify the various major property tax/school finance proposals that had been discussed throughout the winter. However, after Pollack accepted the invitation, the state legislature voted to place on the ballot a two-cent hike in the sales tax in exchange for property tax relief. Her talk, instead, focused on the ballot issue.

"This (proposal) is fundamentally unfair," Pollack told the group.

"It is a regressive tax and regressive taxes are wrong."

Pollack said the proposal promises tax relief for those in upper income brackets who own homes. It will also provide substantial relief to businesses. However, renters and some senior citizens stand to see net tax increases once all the ramifications are figured in.

Pollack said she prefers an income tax increase, because it is fairer, does not require a constitutional amendment, and allows for write-offs on federal tax returns. However, she also said she believes that will never happen as long as John Engler is governor.

Two Democratic state senators were recalled over a previous income tax hike proposal. Their replacements, two Republicans, enabled Republicans to take control of the senate, with Engler as the majority leader.

"(School financing) is too terrifying for the legislature to take responsibility for, so we give it to you," Pollack said.

Chelsea superintendent Joe Piasecki also said he would prefer an income tax increase.

"So far we haven't had much success tinkering with the sales tax," he said.

The evening also served to illustrate just how complex the proposal is and how many unanswered questions remain.

Basics of the proposal are as follows.

- The state would guarantee a minimum of $4,800 per student. The minimum would be phased in over three years. The largest increase any district would receive next year is 10 percent.

- The sales tax would be increased from 4 cents to 6 cents, and the increase would all go to school aid.

- For most districts, operating millage rates would be rolled back to 18 mills.

- Property tax assessment increases, per parcel, would be capped at 3 percent for 1993. After that assessments could not rise more than 5 percent.

- Districts could levy up to 9 additional mills, with voter approval, but no district could ever levy more than 27 mills.

- All state lottery revenues would be deposited into the state school aid fund.

Pollack presented four examples of how the proposal would affect various households. All involved village residences in Lima township and assumed that Chelsea would levy 21.9

mills to maintain its current income. Current millage is 37.72.

The first example, involving a family of four with a house worth $200,000 and an income of $100,000, showed the family would save $806. The family would have a net sales tax increase of $480, a federal tax increase of $487, and a property tax cut of $1,574.

A senior couple, with an income of $25,000 and a home worth $60,000, would see a net tax increase of $210. While their property taxes would be reduced by $472, they would also lose the homestead credit of $472, essentially raising their over-all taxes by the sales tax hike of $210.

A family of four, with household income of $40,000 and a $100,000 house, would see a net tax hike of $24, and a renter, with an income of $20,000 would see a net tax hike of $171.

The second and fourth examples may not be relevant here since virtually every home in the village in Lima township is worth more than $80,000, and there is very little rental property available.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, a household with a $20,000 income spends 42.3 percent of its income on items subject to sales tax, while a household with a $100,000 income spends 24.5 percent of its income on items subject to the tax. Pollack said the discrepancy comes, in part, because higher income residents spend a greater percentage of their income on services, which are not subject to the tax.

Some specific information about the proposal changes almost weekly. The initial indication was that Chelsea would be guaranteed about $5,182 per student but that figure has since changed to $5,327 per student, Piasecki said. That, in turn, will, without additional millage, produce a deficit of about $300,000 rather than $685,000.

The deficit is caused mostly by the fact that under the proposal the state will require local districts to pick up retirement and social security payments, both of which the state has paid.

"The proposal maintains the income, but it does not maintain the program," said assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

Piasecki said the schools don't have much control over many costs, such as insurance and utility expenses, many of which rise far more than five percent annually.

Mills raised questions about the effect on properties with 50 percent tax abatements and on tax increment finance authorities. No solid answers were offered.

He also questioned a handshake agreement in the legislature that the state would pick up 50 percent of the annual increase in retirement costs. It is not part of the formal proposal.

Don't count on it, Pollack said.

Piasecki also said the timing of the proposal is causing a number of problems.

The state election, June 2, is so close to the school district election, June 14, that the district cannot change the ballot language to reflect what happens June 2.

Chelsea's entire base millage, 27 mills, is up for renewal this year. In the unlikely event that voters reject it, the district would get no money from the state because the proposal requires a district to levy at least 18 mills to receive state aid.

"That makes the election absolutely crucial," Piasecki said.

In addition, school officials don't know how the district will be able to apply the results from the June 14 election to the results of the June 2 election, assuming the state proposal passes.

Under the proposal, Chelsea would need at least 21.9 mills to maintain its current income. However, what happens if voters approve a base of 27 mills on June 14? It's not clear whether the millage could be simply rolled back or whether a special election would be needed. In order to

Edward Lewis Inducted Into Ball State U. Journalism Hall of Fame

The late Edward E. Lewis of Chelsea was inducted posthumously into the Ball State University Journalism Hall of Fame at Muncie, Ind., on April 1.

A long and broad career in journalism eventually led Edward E. Lewis to found two publishing companies including Lewis Publishers, the largest scientific environmental book publisher in the world.

While attending Ball State near the end of World War II, Lewis was a reporter for The Muncie Star and over the next few years worked for other newspapers in Oregon, Indiana, and Michigan. His career then led him to company publications with Chrysler Corp., Wyandotte Chemicals, and Brunswick Corp., before managing advertising and public relations for Gelman Instrument Co. from 1961 to 1966. Along the way he completed his bachelor's degree at Ball State in 1959.

In 1966, he founded Ann Arbor Science Publishers, Inc., as a Gelman Subsidiary and he purchased the company from Gelman in 1971. He sold the publishing house in 1980, then founded Lewis Publishers in 1984. In 1990 he sold that firm to Times-Mirror but was retained as a consultant.

His interests beyond journalism and publishing were extensive, including American Veterans of World War II, education, civic clubs, public relations, and, especially, environmental issues. A direct mailing marketing enthusiast, he raised his church's entire budget in 1964 through a direct mail campaign.

Lewis, who died in February 1992, was a life-long supporter of Ball State University and served as a member of the Alumni Council from January 1963 to December 1985.

Ball State University takes pride in inducting Edward E. Lewis as a member of the Ball State Journalism Hall of Fame on April 1, 1993.

The award was accepted by his wife, Jean, and son, Brian, at a luncheon at Cardinal Hall in the BSU Student Center.

There was a lot of discussion but not much was decided at a meeting concerning the future development of Lima township last Thursday, April 13. Lima Township Hall was packed with area residents who heard a presentation by planner Don Pennington. Pennington talked, in general, about the over-all growth in the western part of Washtenaw county. "He stressed that the only way to keep the township relatively rural is for us to really review our goals," said Lima supervisor Leila Bauer.

The grievance filed by Chelsea teachers union in connection with a recent movement of teachers at Chelsea High school and Beach Middle school has been dropped. Chelsea Board of Education was informed of the Chelsea Education Association's decision at Monday night's meeting. According to CEA president Janet Rossi, the grievance was dropped because the movement of staff is regarded by the school district administration as a temporary move. The people involved are expected to go back to their original positions at the end of the year.

Four Beach Middle school students have been invited to attend the 10th annual Michigan Future-Problem Solving State Bowl at the University of Michigan April 22-23. Jessica Holton, Erin Knott, Christine McLaughlin and Becky Pryor, along with their coach, Mary Baker, will compete with 120 teams representing the top 15 percent of teams from throughout Michigan.

About 100 people are expected to attend Chelsea Kiwanis Club's 65th anniversary celebration at the Holiday Inn West, Ann Arbor, Friday evening, May 5. Awards presented will honor both special achievements and perfect attendance by various members.

Voters in the Washtenaw Community College District will be presented a bond proposal requiring no tax increase at an election April 2. The proposal is an authorization to issue bonds for construction of an occupational education building and a family education center.

Martin Tobin, president of Chelsea Board of Education, has decided not to seek re-election. Consequently there is one vacancy for a four-year term running from July 1, 1979 to June 30, 1983.

Four boys from Chelsea High school have been selected to participate in a week-long program intended to stimulate interest in government. The four selected are Kent Bollinger, Brad Flanigan, John LaBarbara and Dave Waldyke. Steve Kvarnberg was chosen as an alternate.

Chelsea United way is donating a check for $1,000 to the Chelsea Area Transportation Service (CATS), as emergency funding. Inflation has pushed CATS' cost of operation beyond its budget and $1,000 in assistance has been urgently needed.

After nearly a five-month wait for the winter weather to pass, construction has begun on an addition to Chelsea Community Hospital. The two-level structure first announced in May 1978, is designed to expand outpatient facilities.

24 Years Ago...

Thursday, April 24, 1969—

About 200 adults, mostly parents, came to the school board meeting Monday to both defend and criticize the district's disciplinary policies. That was the highest meeting attendance since a millage discussion, three years ago. Some parents felt their children were discriminated against on the basis of non-conformity in dress (long hair, for example) and ideas, and their social status. One man said his daughter was very happy at the high school and he was "100 percent behind the faculty and administration." A father of 12 said his children had "come a long way" since they moved into the district.

Chelsea area Girls Scouts are now delivering a record total of 6,781 boxes of cookies per household. Cookie orders began two months ago.

Recent rains have temporarily stopped the rash of grass fires plaguing Chelsea and southern Michigan. Chelsea Fire Department made only two calls last week, compared to an average of 10 to 15 per week in the past month.

Rick Slane broke the school long jump record of 20'8" set by Don Sexton in 1962 with a leap of 20'9½" at last week's meet with Dundee which the Bulldogs won, 76-22.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

America Must Halt Moral Decline

Judging by the headlines, America seems to be in moral decline with violent crime, drugs and depravity running rampant. But where are the expressions of concern or calls for remedy by the nation's leaders?

By Philip C. Clarke
William E. Simon, the former Treasury Secretary and respected spokesman of conservatism, is alarmed and angry. "Where," he asks, "is any debate, let alone recognition, that the bedrock, pro-faith and family values upon which America's future rests are under frightful assault, and that, day-by-day, this nation is distancing itself from its Judeo-Christian roots?" Writing in the National Review, Simon says all the talk about the nation's economic problems will matter little "if the hull beneath continues to rot and the ship itself has lost its way."

"To me," he adds, "this is the missing issue—it is the real issue; I would even say it is the pre-eminent issue of the Nineties."

Such is the case, declares Simon—when crime among children has reached epidemic levels and living anywhere in America today is like living in Dodge City; when a person committing a serious offense can expect to spend, on average, only eight days in prison;

when one in four black males is in jail, on probation, or free on bail, and two-thirds of black babies, and one-quarter of white babies are born illegitimate;

when 50 years ago the top problems cited in our public schools were talking out of turn, chewing gum, running in halls, cutting in line, dress code infraction, and littering; today they are drug and alcohol abuse, pregnancy, suicide, rape and robbery;

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Use to, Bug Hookum mentioned at the country store Saturday night, you could tell someone about the economy by watching wimmen, which was as good of an excuse as any. Hems went up in good times and down in bad, which made the good better and the bad worse. Bug said fashions he's been seeing in the papers lately can be taken as a sign that clothes designers are as befuddled as economists.

In a recent show, Bug saw high hems, low hems and no hems. He saw frontless skirts, backless skirts and skirts made of strips of material like them in the car wash. Then he read about the fad on the West Coast where young people in style wear the most grubbier outfits they can find. Bug was of a mind that the everthing goes fashion trends go along with the economic confusion of record low interest on loans to buy record high houses, of record homeless in cities with record high apartment vacancy, of folks quitting jobs to go on welfare so they can get enough to pay for child care so they can go out and look for work, of folks that make unemployment stats look better because they run out of benefits and quit looking for work.

Without the usual signs, Bug said it was with some relief that he read about another way to judge how folks are faring. We can watch what we eat. Bug said motsu is back on menus and supper tables in Japan, which it took to mean the recession there will get worse before it gets better.

The piece Bug saw explained that motsu is to beef what chitlins are to pork, and folks eat both for some of the same reasons. Hog guts here and cow guts there were traditional dishes in the bad old days when just about everybody lived hand to mouth and eat everything but the squeal and the moo. Bug said, but as times got better folks moved to more expensive body parts. Until the economic slowdown in Japan, he said, people were paying $60 a pound for American beef they washed down with drinks, chilled by $40 a pound Alaska glazier ice that is froze so hard it melts five times slower than regular ice.

The fellows heard Bug's report with interest, but they were not agreed that

"and when the New York City public school system tried, albeit failed, to ram down the throats of first-graders the overtly homosexual, Children of the Rainbow Curriculum (Heather Has Two Mommies and Daddy's Roommate) along with materials to other students describing the joys of masturbation and other sexual explicit topics."

"Just as rapidly and rabidly as we embrace sex in its lowliest forms," continues Simon, "we are turning away from the sanctity of life... Who would have foreseen American schools where the dispensing of condoms, where sexual deviation is embraced and God is expelled."

"So, this is America, 1993," summarizes Simon. "How did we reach such a state—in this land, where, for generations, mothers and fathers bravely risked their lives and came streaming to these shores to give their children the freedom to worship God without fear or favor? How can there be such cowardice and silence in the face of this outrageous trashing of America's most treasured traditions? Where are the voices of the Catholic Church, the Protestant mainline churches, and leaders of the Jewish community? Where are the leaders of the Republican and Democratic Parties?"

"It is one thing to promise to preserve and defend the Constitution," says Simon. "But who will preserve and defend the values which are the foundation of our greatness? If it is no longer politically correct to revere and defend our most basic rights, perhaps we might recall the words of an American giant whose quiet, lonely, heroic courage personified the true meaning of leadership." That great leader—Abraham Lincoln—in the depths of America's Civil War admonished the people against becoming "too proud to pray..."

Interestingly, Simon, whose many activities include serving as a Heritage Foundation expert on economics and government spending and taxation, offered his essay initially to the New York Times, which turned it down. Apparently, it was considered too controversial for the Op-Ed pages of that prestigious liberal publication. William F. Buckley's National Review, to its credit, published the essay in full.

William Simon's words are controversial and provocative. But they ring with timely urgency in a nation desperately in need of awakening. As Simon concludes: "Vital as they are, sound policies—less government, low tax rates, and strong defenses—are not enough. America will never be healed and never be truly strong, until we acknowledge, once again, the pre-eminent importance of our values, until we are willing to humble ourselves, and until we are not too proud to pray."

Disaster Aid Should Be Quality Based, Available to All

The president of the state's largest farm organization, in a letter sent to U.S. Department of Agriculture Secretary Mike Espy, said that any quality-based disaster program developed should be available to producers of all affected Michigan crops.

"In addition, special consideration should be given to assure fair and equitable treatment of livestock producers who suffered reduced feed efficiency due to the poor quality of the feed that they produced," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. "The program should also recognize farmer-to-farmer sales of reduced quality crops."

Michigan Farm Bureau late last year urged the USDA to consider quality, rather than just quantity, in the declaration of any disaster assistance for 1992. Farm Bureau estimated that adverse weather last year resulted in significant problems for the state's corn crop, including high moisture levels, low test weight, additional handling and dockage charges, low feed value and poor storability. These problems caused corn producers to suffer an out-of-pocket loss in excess of $100 million, according to Farm Bureau, with other farm commodities being similarly affected by weather-reduced quality.

"A large number of Michigan producers are suffering financial difficulties due to the widespread nature of this quality related problem," he said. "We ask you to consider quality, not just quantity, as a determination of eligibility for disaster assistance."

Kyte, Christensen To Receive Awards

Diane K. Kyte and Laura Christensen, will be honored by the Friends of McKune Memorial Library at the second annual Volunteer Recognition Tea, Saturday, April 17, from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Kyte, past president of the Friends of McKune Memorial Library, will receive the Allyn Seltz Friend of the Year Award. She was nominated for the award because of her many contributions to the success of the Friends of McKune. Some current activities established under Kyte's leadership include: Love Your Library Week; the Library Fair Parade float; the annual geranium sale, folk art raffle, and the used book and bake sales.

Kyte and her husband Ray have two children, Marcie and Drew.

Christensen was nominated for the Ben and Mary Lou Bowen Volunteer of the Year Award by librarian Shelley Weber, because "she has given a significant number of volunteer hours to the Library, and because she serves as a goodwill ambassador and library advocate in the community."

"Laura is a long-time library volunteer," said Jo Ann Walter, library director. "We can always count on her thoroughness and dependability, especially during long term, time consuming projects. The many hours she has spent covering and relabeling children's books lengthened the life of volumes in the children's collection."

Christensen and her husband Dar-ryl have two children, Ty and Kyle.

The Bower Award was established in recognition of Chelsea residents, and well-known community volunteers Ben and Mary Lou Bower, who have contributed so freely of their time to the success of the Library.

The Seltz Award was established to recognize the important role of Allyn Seltz in the development of Friends of McKune Memorial Library.

The Bower and Seltz Awards program will begin at 1:30 p.m. at the Library. The Volunteer Tea will follow the "Love Your Library Week" Open House, which is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Both events are free and open to the public.

Chelsea Breathers Club Cancels April Meeting

Chelsea Breathers Club will not meet during the month of April, but will meet again at their regularly scheduled time in May. Details will follow.

Breathers Clubs are free educational and social support groups for persons with breathing difficulties caused by chronic lung diseases such as asthma, allergies, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, and lung cancer. They are sponsored by the American Lung Association of Michigan and made possible through the generous support of many volunteers.

Chelsea Breathers Club meets the third Saturday of each month, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital, Dining Room A/B, 775 S. Main in Chelsea. This group does not meet during the summer months.

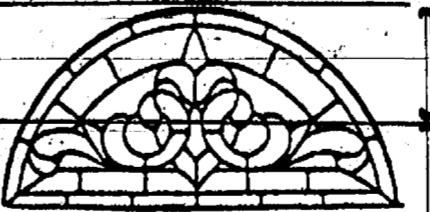

For more information about Breathers Clubs in other areas, please call the American Lung Association of Michigan at (313) 995-1030, or 1(800)678-LUNG.

Parkinson's Support Group Meets April 18

Recycling Authority Changes Directors

Chelsea resident Jerry Satterthwaite has been appointed interim director of the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority.

Former director Jeff Bagocius resigned last month after less than a year on the job. Authority chair Ronald Mann of Manchester township would only say that Bagocius left to pursue other opportunities. Both Mann and vice-chair Frank Hammer said they didn't know what those opportunities were. Neither would say whether Bagocius was forced out. Satterthwaite was hired as Bagocius' assistant last year after initially applying for the director's job. Mann said it has not been determined when the authority will seek a new manager. He said Satterthwaite has agreed to serve as interim manager for up to six months.

Heart Health Screening Offered

A Heart Health Screening will be conducted by the Washtenaw County Public Health Division on Tuesday, April 27 from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Participants will receive blood pressure and cholesterol testing, individual consultation about their results, and information on how to decrease their risk of heart disease. ## Scouts Begin Food Drive To Help Needy Scouting for Food has been a Chelsea tradition for several years. We all remember to give to those in need during the holidays. However, by this time of year our supplies of food for the needy in the community are running low. The food we collect in Chelsea, remains in Chelsea and is distributed by Faith in Action. The community support for this project has always been tremendous. Last year, over 4,000 items were collected.

For the first time, Scouting for Food will be done co-operatively by both the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts.

On Saturday morning, April 17, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and their families will fan out all over town. Their goal is to leave collection bags at every house. Please let them know that you will be glad to help.

The next Saturday, April 24, bright and early beginning at 9 a.m., Daisies, Brownies, Girl Scouts, and their families will again cover Chelsea.

Tax Proposal

maintain the current program. Mills said, the district will need about 22.9 mills.

"This is going to cause a lot of confusion among voters," Piasecki said. The district, Piasecki said, will be forced to assume the state measure will not pass so the district will be adequately protected.

Pollack concluded that the legislative process that led to the proposal "stunk," partly because the house vote was taken at 3 a.m. She also said it probably will not pass, although she does not anticipate a well-organized and financed opposition.

Red Cross Volunteer Recognition Scheduled

Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross will host its annual Volunteer Appreciation Celebration on Sunday, April 18, at 2 p.m. "Hats Off to Volunteers" will be held at the Brothers Cafe in the 777 Building, 777 E. Eisenhower in Ann Arbor.

Outstanding volunteers will be honored for their services to the Red Cross. The ceremony is open to the public. Admission is free.

For more information, call 971-5300.

CPR Class Series For Child Victims Will Begin May 3

CPR for Infant/Child Victims class is offered through Chelsea Community Hospital on May 3 and 10, 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Hospital's Woodland Room B. Students are taught artificial respiration, one rescuer CPR and first aid for obstructed airway (choking) for infant/child victim.

Participants successfully completing the class will receive certification by American Heart Association.

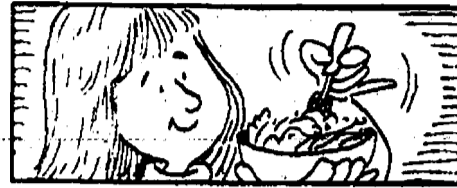

For further information and to register call the Education Department, 475-3935.

Jim Bechtelheimer Attends Seminar At University

Chelsea High school social studies teacher Jim Bechtelheimer was among more than 55 teachers from Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana who recently attended a day-long University of Michigan seminar on Russia and Eastern Europe.

"Whether the 'New World Order' in Eastern Europe and the Former Soviet Union?" focused on challenges facing countries of the former Soviet Union in the post-communist era.

The seminar, sponsored by the U. of M. Center for Russian and East European Studies, was taught by university faculty and associates.

Bonnie Spicher Joins Spear As Co-Owner

Bonnie G. Spicher, formerly a vice-president with the Michigan Group Realtors, Inc., has become co-owner of Spear & Associates Inc. Realtors with offices in Ann Arbor, Saline, Chelsea and Dexter. Spicher is the chief executive officer.

Spicher and Spear both said that ownership adjustment does not mean that Spear is taking a less active role in the business he founded 22 years ago. In fact they will be working side by side to build a stronger company. "We're ready to grow," Spicher said, noting plans to add new agents. There are no plans to close offices but rather for each office to aggressively compete for a larger share of the real estate market. Spear & Associates now has 79 real estate agents working out of four offices.

Spear said he sought Spicher out because of her management and people skills and her history in the real estate business.

Spicher, of Brighton, brings a wealth of cross-county experience with her. She started her real estate career with Real Estate One and then spent 8½ years with the Michigan Group. Starting at the Michigan Group's Brighton Office, she went on to manage the company's West Bloomfield office from 1987-88 and moved to Ann Arbor in January 1989. She built the Ann Arbor office from 33 agents to 70 agents and increased sales by $50 million.

Michigan Historical License Plates Expire

All Michigan Historical License Plates issued before Jan. 1, 1988, will expire this April 15 and owners of antique vehicles or motorcycles should obtain new plates before driving their vehicles again, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin announced today.

"After issuing Michigan Historical License Plates for more than 35 years, the time has come for us to place them on a regular renewal cycle," Secretary Austin said. "This allows us to keep more up-to-date computerized records, to streamline processing and improve our assistance to law enforcement officers."

"Since 1958, Historical License Plates have been non-expiring, until the Legislature changed the law in 1987," Secretary Austin said. "Any historical plate issued between 1958 and 1988 will expire April 15, 1993."

The revised Historical License Plate program improves convenience by allowing customers to submit Historical License Plate applications and pay registration fees in Secretary of State branch offices. The actual license plate is mailed from Lansing and is not issued by the local office.

Renewal by mail also continues to be an option.

The new Historical License Plate will be identical in color to the current plate, with a navy blue background and yellow lettering. The new Historical Plate bears a year tab, indicating it expires April 15 the fifth year after renewal. The cost for an Historical License Plate is $15 for a five-year registration period.

Michigan also allows owners of historical vehicles to register an authentic Historical License Plate, if the owner holds such a plate. An authentic license plate must be a Michigan plate issued the same year as the historical vehicle was manufactured. Many car club enthusiasts collect and swap authentic plates, which must be registered with the Secretary of State's office by mail if used on a vehicle.

To qualify as a Michigan Historical Vehicle, a motor vehicle or motorcycle must be at least 25 years old; owned solely as a collector's item; and used only for historical club activities, parades, car shows and other limited special events. It may not be used for routine transportation.

When registering an historical vehicle, a motorist must present proof of ownership, preferably a title; proof of Michigan No-Fault Insurance; a completed application; and the $15 fee. If applying for an authentic license plate, a photocopy of the actual plate must also be enclosed.

A single Historical License Plate, year tab and proof of registration will be mailed from Lansing to the registration address with two weeks after the application is received in Lansing. Authentic Historical License Plate applicants will receive proof of registration and year tab only. Secretary of State branch offices may not issue temporary registrations, so vehicle owners should plan well ahead of special events.

The new "Application for the Michigan Historical License Plate" is available in all 180 Secretary of State branch offices. Applications or additional information may also be obtained by telephoning the Direct Mail Unit in Lansing at (517) 322-1473.

In contrast, the 15.6 million new jobs not requiring a degree represent growth of only 15.7 percent. Of the 24.6 million new jobs projected, 9 million are expected to require a college degree, raising college-level employment from 23.2 million to 32.3 million, according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

34 Years Ago . .

Thursday, April 30, 1959—Ray Zor, a six-foot model of a safety razor, was buried Saturday on the grounds of McKune Memorial Library, part of the village's 125th anniversary celebration. The funeral procession from the Municipal Building, where he lay in state Monday, was led by six riflemen. Charles Cameron, Jr., played "Taps." In his eulogy, Chandler Rogers said, "When things were really lathered up, he was at his best. He was really a sharp fellow at times. With his death we will lose more and more face."

Guderman Co., which employs about 100 persons to make electrolytic capacitors for radios and televisions will close its Chelsea plant within 30 days to consolidate capacitor operations with its Terryville, Conn. plant. The plant has been in Chelsea for 34 years and employs mostly women.

Walter Trinkle excavated a 25-inch parsnip in his garden recently. It was sufficient for a meal; and in spite of its size, was tender and tasty.

Last week Chelsea Milling Co. employees moved into the company's new 6,500-square-foot office building, which is east of other company buildings.

An annual employment increase of only 602,000 is projected in occupations that usually require college for the 1990-2005 period, compared to an average increase of 767,000 a year between 1984 and 1990. In contrast, the need to replace workers who leave college-level jobs will be greater in the 1990-2005 period than it was in the 1984-90 period, according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 242 visited the Ronald McDonald House in Ann Arbor on Feb. 9. They were taken on a tour by a volunteer who explained that family members of U. of M. patients are able to stay at the house for a nominal fee. All residents have to share in the housework and are responsible for keeping their own rooms clean and cooking their own meals. The troop used one of their meetings to make sloppy joes for the house guests to share with

Computer Literacy For Mature Adults Course Offered

Washtenaw Community College will offer a course this May designed for mature adults, with no prior computer knowledge, who wish to enter the computer age.

"Computer Literacy for Mature Adults," a credit-free course, will be offered two days per week for two consecutive weeks. Classes begin Tuesday, May 11, and meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 4 to 6 p.m. The fee is $45, however, there will be no fee for persons 60 years or older.

"Computer Literacy for Mature Adults" is designed for people who feel out of touch with the computer age. Students will be taught the basics of computers and be guided through word processing and spreadsheet software packages. The course will provide plenty of hands-on computer time and individual instruction.

For more information, call Continuing Registration at (313) 973-3616.

Jenni Smith Honored for Accomplishments at Wayne State

Former Chelsea High school student Jenni Smith was honored April 7 for her academic and extracurricular achievements at Wayne State University.

Smith, a 1989 CHS graduate, was one of 30 students honored by the Michigan Association of Governing Boards of State Universities. She will graduate from Wayne State this spring with a degree in criminal justice. She plans to attend law school in the fall.

Smith has been a top pitcher on the Tartars softball team as well.

She is the daughter of Beckie White of Chelsea and Bill Smith of Ypsilanti.

Jim Bradbury Granted National Service Award

Jim Bradbury, Dexter, was recently recognized at the Washtenaw County MABC-Select Sires' Local Meeting for his years of service to the artificial insemination (A.I.) industry.

Bradbury, an A.I. technician for MABC-Select Sires Co-operative, East Lansing, received the Quarter Century Award from the National Association of Animal Breeders (NAAB). NAAB recognized him with this award for his dedication to the A.I. industry and to the dairy and beef producers of Washtenaw county.

For nearly 30 years, Bradbury has been providing professional A.I. technician service to over 230 farmers in the Washtenaw county area.

MABC-Select Sires' technician service began in the area in 1947, when a group of Chelsea dairymen asked Bradbury to take an A.I. training course and become the MABC A.I. technician for the area. Bradbury took the course and began his area with about 25 farmers. In 1948, Bradbury turned his sales area over to his father, so he could work on the family farm. However, he returned to be the technician in the area in 1983.

During the past 30 years, Bradbury has recorded over 70,000 first services. (A first service means it is the first time a cow has been bred.) 1974 was his best year for first services, with a total of 5,547. Due to the changing agricultural environment in the county, today Bradbury averages about 1,400 first services a year. Although his area is quickly declining in cow numbers and farmers, Bradbury continues to maintain a high sales penetration.

While Bradbury supplies A.I. service to area farmers, he is also very active in the community; particularly with the youth. Each year, Bradbury provides one free arm service and a discount on one unit of semen to young boys and girls enrolled in 4-H. Providing this free service encourages young people to breed for better cattle through the use of A.I. In addition, Bradbury assists at the Washtenaw County 4-H Fair, handing out ribbons to the best MABC-Select Sires' bred animal in each class.

Bradbury is a member of St. Andrew's United Church of Christ, Dexter, and volunteered his time for many years as a 4-H leader in the Chelsea area.

MABC-Select Sires Inc. is a farmer owned A.I. co-operative serving the genetic improvement needs of dairy and beef breeders throughout Michigan, Indiana and northern Wisconsin. Founded by a group of dairymen in 1944, MABC-Select Sires is one of the oldest A.I. co-operatives in business today.

MARIA TERESA JOHNSON, Chelsea area resident and daughter of Corinne Miller and granddaughter of the late James O. Johnson of Dexter, will be competing for the title of "Miss Michigan Teen U.S.A." on Sunday, April 25, at 4 p.m., at the Holiday Inn Crown Royal in Romulus. The public is invited. Maria is a 17-year-old senior at Chelsea High, she currently holds two beauty queen titles this year, "Miss Michigan K&B" and "America's Sweetheart." If Maria is to win the title, in September she will go to Biloxi, Miss., to compete against girls from across the United States for the title of "Miss Teen U.S.A.," which will be televised live on CBS in September. Maria recently placed second in the District forensics championship for her poetry presentation of "Emotions" which qualifies her to compete at regionals on Saturday, April 17. She also will be performing in the Chelsea High school musical, "Man of La Mancha," which is being presented April 22, 23 and 24. Maria is college-bound in September, and will be attending Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

ABWA Fashion Show Scheduled Saturday

American Business Women's Association Fashion Show will be held Saturday, April 17, at St. Andrew's Church of Christ in Dexter beginning with a luncheon at 1 p.m.

Fashions will be presented by Shirley's Fashions of Dexter and modeled by members of the Dexter-Chelsea Chapter.

Tickets are available from members or at Shirley's Fashions, Chelsea Office Supply and Dexter Card and Gift.

This event is the primary fundraiser for the chapter's Scholarship Fund. Scholarships are awarded to high school seniors as well as adult women returning to school.

Applications may be obtained from Robin Meloche (426-2908) or Linda Warren (449-0111). The deadline to submit applications for consideration this year is April 15. Recipients will be awarded checks at the May business meeting.

MARK WALTERS portrayed President Harry S. Truman during Character Day presentations April 2 at South school. Mrs. Stevens' fifth grade class researched, wrote speeches and dressed as their chosen historical people. They gave presentations for parents and schoolmates.

KRIS HAMMERBERG portrayed Robert E. Lee in Mrs. Stevens' 5th grade, South school Character Day presentation April 2. Kris borrowed some authentic clothing from Gloria Mitchell of the Chelsea Historical Society to give an interesting speech.

THOMAS POWER as the proud and defiant Apache Indian chief Geronimo in Mrs. Stevens' 5th grade class, South school Character Day presentation April 2. In his speech, Thomas gave many facts about his life and explained how the killing of his family by white men caused him to defy the U.S. government's attempts to dominate his people.

MRS. STEVENS' 5th grade class gave a Character Day presentation at South school on April 2. Liz Kaminsky portrayed Abigail Adams and told what it was like to be the wife of the second U.S. president and mother of the sixth U.S. president. She wore a pioneer apron sewn by South school parent Donna Johns to give an authentic presentation. Joscelyn Temple, as Florence Nightengale, and other historical characters look on.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Dog Trackmen Should Be Competitive in SEC

Coach Pat Clarke believes his Chelsea Bulldogs boys track team can finish in the upper half of the Southeastern Conference this season.

"We're much more solid from top to bottom than any time in the last 10 or 12 years," Clarke says.

"We should be competitive in the middle of the league. Nobody is going to beat Lincoln. They could probably beat the rest of the league combined."

The Bulldogs return three seniors and two juniors who should provide much of the scoring.

Senior Tom Poulter has thrown better than 126 feet in the discus and 40 feet in the shot put. He should also crack 18 feet in the long jump.

Senior Dan Zatkovich is a top distance runner and senior Mike Kennedy is a veteran hurdler.

Junior David Beeman is the top returning class B shot putter in the state as he has reached nearly 53 feet. He's also thrown the discus 148 feet.

Junior Cory Brown "can run anything from 100 meters to the 3200," Clarke says. He can run a 54-second 400 and has long jumped more than 19 feet. He may also be the team's top 1600 runner.

Aleksander Selmanovic is the only other senior on the team. He's never run track before but Clarke believes he'll provide some depth in the 400, 800, and high jump.

The team is dominated by sophomores and juniors, who make up 35 of the team's 50 members.

Other juniors and their events include Adam Bragg, shot put and discus; David Brock, distance runs and discus; Matt Dymond, discus and shot put; Rob Frost, shot put and long jump; Steve Harness, 400; Chris Leatham, distance runs; David Stimpson, hurdles; Chris Taylor, 400, 200; Tony Trotter, 400, 200; Matt Seitz, shot put, 400; and Brian Koch, 400.

Sophomores and their events include Brian Atlee, distance runs; Chad Brown, pole vault, distance runs; Scott Hawley, distance runs, high jump; Josh Inwood, sprints and long jump; Garry Klink, shot put; Kevin Kolodica, sprints, long jump; Nick Kramer, distance runs; Eric LeFurge, distance runs; Karsten Lipiec, distance runs; Mike Long, hurdles; Joe Lussier, sprints, long jump; Josh Metzler, distance runs; Bryndon Skelton, pole vault, hurdles;

Adam Skyles, shot put, discus; Steve Straub, sprints, long jump; Jason Valchine, hurdles; Dan Wehrwein, sprints, hurdles, high jump; and Jeremy Ziegler, hurdles.

Clarke also has 10 freshmen. They are Tom Barkman, shot put; Jim Irwin, sprints and pole vault; Tom Irwin, sprints and pole vault; Mike Koernke, shot put; Jorge Rosario, sprints; Jason Seibor, 400, high jump; Peter Straub, long jump, 400; Tim Wesner, 800, 400; Chris Trotter, distance runs; and David Tracy, pole vault.

"We are a very young team, although our freshman and sophomores are very good," Clarke says.

"Coach (Roger) Cox and I are very excited about the young talent on this team."

Clarke picks Tecumseh, Saline, and Pinckney to finish immediately behind the Lincoln Railsplitters, although not necessarily in that order. The Bulldogs should provide a good challenge for all three and could crack the top four.

Chelsea finished 3-7 in dual meets and placed sixth at the SEC meet.

Chelsea Aquatic Club Takes Fifth At Winter Championships in Dexter

Chelsea Aquatic Club finished fifth in the Winter Championships held Saturday, March 27 in Dexter. The 11-and-over championships were held the following day in Plymouth.

"Our team performed great," said Chelsea coach Kara Klabough.

"Out of 64 swimmers who participated in championships, 75 swam at least one best time. I am extremely proud of our club."

Chelsea results follow.

MATT FISCHER of Chelsea swims in the 100 backstroke at the National Short Course Swimming and Diving Championships at the International Swimming Hall of Fame. Matt McVittie of Chelsea also competed in the meet.

McVittie, Fischer in National Meet

Two Chelsea boys competed at the annual National Short Course Swimming and Diving Championships from April 5-8 at the International Swimming Hall of Fame.

Matt McVittie and Matt Fischer were among more than 1,800 swimmers at the meet in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

McVittie swam in the 200 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 50 freestyle, 200 and 400 medley relays, and the 400 and 800 freestyle relays.

Fischer swam in the 100 backstroke, 200 butterfly, 200 backstroke, and the 200 and 400 medley relays.

Both boys had career-best times. The meet is open to any YMCA swimmer over age 12 who is able to meet the national qualifying standards and is one of the two premier national age group competitions.

Swimmers may compete in a maximum of three individual events plus relays.

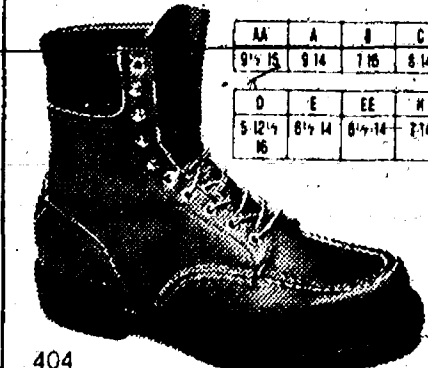

Both McVittie and Fischer were part of the 16-member team that qualified for the nationals from the Ann Arbor Swim Club Y.

Steffenson Runs 400-Meter Dash At Kenyon Track Meet

Anne Steffenson, a graduate of Chelsea High school, took a third-place showing in the 400-meter dash in 1:02.4, missing second place by a tenth of a second, during a track meet held at Kenyon College in Gambier, O. Steffenson is a sophomore at the college. This was the college's first home track meet in six years and several runners took advantage of the familiar turf.

Industrial production soared after the 1940s. In the space of five years, iron production increased by more than 300 percent, anthracite by 1,000 percent, and ship tonnage by about 250 percent, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bicentennial History of "The American Worker."

James Drolett Elected to MTA Board of Directors

Dexter township supervisor James L. Drolett has been elected to the Michigan Townships Association's board of directors for 1993-97. He is profiled in the March 1993 issue of the Michigan Township News.

Drolett was elected to the board at the association's district caucus held in Detroit on Jan. 21. The caucus was part of MTA's 40th annual Educational Convention held Jan. 19-22 at The Westin Hotel in Detroit.

Drolett will serve as MTA District 18 director, representing township officials from Livingston, Monroe, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Drolett became Dexter township supervisor in 1984. Prior to that, he served as a trustee for two years. He is currently chairman of the Washtenaw County 9-1-1 Task Force and is a member of the Washtenaw County Emergency Medical Service Commission, Central Dispatch Authority, Dexter Township Zoning Board of Appeals, Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority, Michigan Association of District Court Probation Officers, Wayne-Washtenaw County Alcohol Highway Safety Education Board and MTA's Washtenaw County Chapter.

JAMES L. DROLETT

During 1993, Drolett will serve on MTA's Convention and Sergeant-at-Arms Committees.

The Michigan Townships Association is a coalition of 1,234 townships united to provide a single voice for townships on the state level.

★ Tax Tales Offer Valuable Tax Lessons

To avoid being an April fool this tax season, the Michigan Association of CPAs urges you to take note of these tax stories. You may just learn some valuable lessons that can save you tax dollars and prevent you from running into trouble with the IRS.

IRS doesn't pay for housekeeping
The pressures of working and raising children doesn't allow you to claim a tax deduction for hiring someone to clean your home. Brian and Suzanne Knutson, who both work full-time, learned this during appearances before the Tax Court.

Brian, an accountant, and Suzanne, a teacher, have three children. They contracted with a cleaning service to have their home cleaned on a weekly basis and included their payments to the cleaning service in computing the child care credit on their tax return.

The IRS disallowed the credit to the extent that it was based on payments to the cleaning service. That's because qualified child care expenses are limited to those that enable parents to be gainfully employed. Although Brian testified that he and his wife were too busy with the children, their jobs and household improvement projects to clean the house, the Tax Court sided with the IRS. The housekeeping expenses did not enable these taxpayers to be gainfully employed, but merely made their lives easier. (Brian Knutson, TC Memo 1990-440)

Recordkeeping helps cocktail waitress ward off IRS

Suspecting that staff at an Atlantic City casino were not reporting tip income, the IRS watched cocktail servers from 1980 through 1990 and developed statistics on average tip income. It then used these statistics to pursue possible tax evaders. One person the IRS tried to ensnare was Judith Krause, a cocktail waitress who reported $6,473 in tips for one tax year. Using its statistics as a guide, the IRS claimed that she failed to report $5,852 of additional tip income.

Krause fought the IRS. Her defense? A daily log of tips that she regularly submitted to her employer. The Tax Court ruled that her records more accurately reflected her income than the IRS statistics and the IRS claim against her was dismissed. (Krause, TC Memo, 1992-270)

To claim head of household status, keep spouse out
Even if you are separated and maintain the principal home for your children, you may not be able to claim head of household status if you allow your spouse to spend the night during the last six months of the year. Laura Hopkins, a divorced mother of two, found this out during a tax audit.

Although Ms. Hopkins and her husband were not living together in June of 1987, she allowed him to occasionally spend the night while he was looking for an apartment. Despite the fact that she was the sole support for her children, the IRS and Tax Court denied her the head of household status on the premise that her husband lived with her during part of the year. (Hopkins, TC Memo 1992-328)

When it pays to fight the IRS
Even if you have been found guilty of tax deficiencies, it doesn't mean you owe the IRS's penalty payments—or that you must pay for unnecessary legal fees. Take the case of Dennis and Kathleen Heasley. Although they did not challenge the IRS's contention that they owed over $10,000 in tax shelter deductions and a $20,000 investment credit claim, they felt the IRS was unjustified in charging them penalties totaling $7,420. They had limited education and investment experience and had relied on the advice of a financial consultant.

The Fifth Circuit Court agreed with them and said the penalties were not justified or should have been waived by the IRS. What's more, the Circuit Court enabled them to recover more than $7,000 of court costs and attorney fees which the Heasleys incurred while disputing the IRS penalties. (Heasley, CA-5 7/20/92)

LEGAL ANSWERS

By Ronald Sharp, J.D.

HOW TO AVOID PROBATE

"Probate" is the court procedure used to transfer property to a deceased person's heirs. The court procedure is often very expensive and it may take months or years before the heirs receive their inheritance. Having a will does not in itself avoid probate.

Joint ownership and pre-death transfers will avoid probate but may have devastating tax consequences to the heirs. In addition control of the property is surrendered prematurely.

The safest and most effective method is the Living Trust, which in combination with other documents avoids probate as well as minimizing or eliminating costly attorney fees and court costs. A properly drawn trust allows immediate transfer of the assets without court intervention. A trust attorney can prepare a complete estate plan for much less than the cost of probate.

My practice is limited to Wills, Probate, Death Cases and Trusts. Call for an appointment 426-0420. 8099 Main Street, Dexter.

L. Bullen, L. Pelton Named Merit Scholarship Winners From Dexter, Grass Lake

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation has named Laura K. Bullen of Dexter and Lydia J. Pelton of Grass Lake Merit Scholarship winners.

Bullen and Pelton are among 6,500 distinguished high school seniors in the 1993 competition to receive some $26 million in scholarships.

They were chosen among students who reached the finalist level in this year's Merit Program and who have qualifications of particular interest to the corporations, company foundations and other business organizations supporting the awards. Nearly 400 corporate organizations annually underwrite awards through the Merit Program for children of their employees or members, residents of communities the company serves or finalists who have career interests the grantor wishes to encourage.

Bullen, a Dexter High School senior, received the Warner-Lambert Merit Scholarship. As part of its continuing program of support for the nation's educational institutions, Warner-Lambert company funds Merit Scholarships every year for children of employees of the company.

Bullen has stated her career field as biology/chemistry. She is a valedictorian; has served four years on Student Council, two years on the National Honor Society; has participated in the Science Olympiad, varsity swimming, quiz bowl and community band. She has also been a member of the drama and German clubs, as well as a hospital volunteer.

Pelton, a Grass Lake senior, received the Tenneco Merit Scholarship. She has stated her career field as business. She has participated in varsity basketball, varsity volleyball and varsity softball. She has served on the National Honor Society, Student Council, Homecoming court and Jackson City Student Leadership Forum Planning Committee.

Students in over 19,000 high schools across the United States entered the 1993 Merit Program by taking the 1991 PSAT/NMSQT, which served as an initial screen of about 1.1 million participants. In the fall of 1992, approximately 50,000 academically able secondary school students were recognized for their very high performances, and some 15,000 of the top scorers were distinguished semi-finalists.

Only semi-finalists, representing about half of one percent of graduating seniors in every state, had an opportunity to advance to finalist standing and compete for Merit Scholarships. In order to become a finalist, a semi-finalist had to meet extremely high academic standards, be endorsed and recommended by the school principal, confirm the earlier test performance on a second test, and provide information about activities, interests and goals. About 14,000 semi-finalists qualified as finalists, and all Merit Scholarship winners are chosen from the finalists group on the basis of their abilities, accomplishments and potential for success in rigorous college studies.

The majority of corporate-sponsored Merit Scholarships are renewable for up to four years of college undergraduate study and provide an average stipend payment of $1,700 per year. Some, however, are nonrenewable awards that provide a single payment of $2,000 when winners enter college.

High School Teachers Discuss Quality Issues

What does meaningful work mean? What are outcomes, or goals, for students in a classroom today? Are they quality outcomes? How does each teacher define quality in his or her classroom?

As students had the opportunity to recoup the hour of rest lost in the last week's time change, teachers at Chelsea High school grappled with these questions.

High school teachers met for the first of seven Monday mornings to discuss how more meaningful learning can take place in classrooms.

During the meeting teachers said meaningful work is useful, important and of high quality. It involves thought processing and imagination, increases knowledge, promotes thinking, can be built upon, has potential to impact the present and future and broadens the individual's perspective.

Qualities teachers hope to see in students are responsibility, creativity and problem solving. Teachers want to see students have good basic skills, but they should also be able to apply their skills in the world, to work and communicate well with others, to assume leadership roles and to be involved in life-long learning.

Chelsea's schools do not have some of the problems many schools face—test scores are high, attendance is good and drop-out percentages are low. Will these good points be enough to address the growing expectations of employers and society? Will our students be able to function in a global economy? Teachers are struggling to keep what's good while improving the educational system.

Teachers would like input from both students and the community in the coming week. They plan to survey students about what they expect to get from high school. Math teacher Bill Bainton said of the survey, "We all need to see if we're all on the same page before going further."

Community members who want to address the questions dealing with meaningful work and quality in our schools should write to the School Improvement Team at the high school by April 26.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says consumers will enjoy stable food prices for the remainder of the year and that the average food price increase, based on the consumer price index, will be only one percent for the year. Prices of meals eaten outside the home will rise only two percent for the year, the lowest increase since the mid-1960s.

ROB FROST was one of several Chelsea High school students who entertained the youngsters in the speaker series at the conclusion of March is Reading Month. Other students who entertained the youngsters included J.D. Alford, Jeremy Beauchamp, Becca Flintoft, Randy Hurst, Courtney Gorton, Jody Shaw, Jessica Holton, and JoAnna Richison.

Library Celebration Features Speaker Series

A speaker series organized around the theme "Libraries Change Lives: Stop By—For a Change!" will highlight "Love Your Library Week." Friends of McKune Memorial Library's annual celebration of the importance of McKune Memorial Library in the educational, cultural, economic, and social life of the community.

This year's "Love Your Library Week" celebration is being held from April 17 to April 24.

Bring your brown bag lunch to the Library on Monday, April 19, when a video and slide presentation titled, "Traveling and Learning in Retirement" will be given by Lew and Mary Green. Their presentation will focus on Elderhostel and the four Elderhostel programs they recently attended in Minnesota, Oregon, Texas and Arizona. Elderhostel programs are offered in the United States, Canada and in more than 40 countries overseas.

"The Elderhostel program provides low-cost, short-term, informal educational experiences for older adults," said Lew Green. "At the programs we attended, we took from one to three especially-designed one-week courses, and participated in a variety of field trips and cultural events."

"Since we are both retired educators we were glad to find out that no one takes attendance, and there are no prerequisites or exams," added Mary. "It was an opportunity for a really enjoyable learning experience related to parts of the U.S. we wanted to know more about."

On Monday evening, April 19, at 7:30 p.m., Dr. Larry Ogden, professor emeritus of geography and geology, Eastern Michigan University, will take his audience from the rim to the river in "Hiking the Grand Canyon."

"When I retired from teaching I gave my slides to my department, but I kept this set because I liked them," says Ogden. "They are a series of a one-day trip from the south rim to the river along the South Kaibab Trail, returning to the south rim via the Bright Angel Trail," he explained. "The slides show views of the trails and Canyon on a day when the weather was extremely variable."

On Tuesday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m., Joe Piasecki, superintendent of the Chelsea Schools, will share part of his extensive collection of political paraphernalia in his presentation titled, "Presidential Memorabilia."

Piasecki's love of buttons and bumper stickers is well known. He has buttons from every presidential race, since 1896, when buttons first appeared on the political scene. He began his collection in 1970 when he was a high school government teacher in Rochester.

For his presentations he brings his button collection and some of his other paraphernalia, such as masks, ties, trading cards and engraved invitations to past elections.

"Kids are real interested in this and they're real interested in collecting in general," Piasecki says. "The public library is a real source of information for kids who want to get started."

On Wednesday, April 21 at 7:30 p.m. Walt Zeeb, owner of the Chelsea Greenhouse, will talk about the "Books That Made A Difference in My Life," on Wednesday, April 21 at 7:30 p.m. Zeeb, a well known community leader, is an avid reader who encourages others to read and discuss ideas.

"Prehistoric Rock Art of the Great Lakes" is the topic of a slide and lecture presentation, Thursday, April 22, at 7:30 p.m. by writer and photographer Doug Hagley.

Hagley became interested in Great Lakes rock art in the 1970's when he was an archeologist for the State of Michigan. He has a B.A. in anthropology and zoology and a master of fine arts in photography, from the University of Michigan.

His research on rock art was supported by a grant from the Rackham School of Graduate Studies, and his writing and photographs on the subject have appeared in Michigan Natural Resources and other magazines.

The speaker series will be held upstairs at the McKune Library and all of the events are free and open to the public.

For further information call the Library at 475-8732.

Parents Warned About '900' Phone Service Call Charges

Michigan Public Service Commission is warning Michigan consumers to "be aware and take care" with children and 900 service calls. Many parents have faced shocking phone bills totaling into the hundreds of dollars due to 900 calls.

Telephone 900 services are a growing industry and information and entertainment is available for consumers on everything from income taxes to horoscopes, psychics and sex. Protecting yourself from "telephone bill" shock will require keeping these few simple guidelines in mind when using 900 service lines.

• Make sure you know up front what the charge is for the 900 service. The service provider must state the cost for the call at the start.

• The free "blocking" of 900 services is available from most telephone companies. Blocking prevents 900 service calls from being made from your phone without changing or interrupting any other long distance service.

• Know that providers of 900 services for adults are required to screen out calls from minors. However, if your child makes calls without your knowledge and you feel you were inappropriately charged, send a brief letter of explanation and a copy of the bill to the Federal Communications Commission. The Commission will investigate your complaint.

For more information contact the Federal Communications Commission, 1919 M Street, N.W. Washington, D.C. 20554 at (202) 632-7553 or call the Michigan Public Service Commission toll free at 1-800-292-9555.

EDUCATION RESEARCH

★ Middle School Youngsters

'Aren't Normal'...

Reston, Va.—Middle school students are not normal if "normal" means predictable and understandable. Their physical, social, emotional and intellectual characteristics develop at such varying speeds that a prototype model does not exist.

That's the advice in the October issue of Schools in the Middle, a quarterly magazine published by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASPP). That advice is useful to parents raising fifth through eighth graders.

"Early adolescents can be trying to parents, but this period can also be rewarding as they watch their youngsters progress toward adulthood," commented Laurel Kanthak, NASPP director of middle level education. "The key is to understand the dramatic changes they are experiencing and be as supportive as possible."

The average middle level classroom contains students of all shapes and sizes because growth patterns differ more in grades five through eight than at any other time.

"A quick glance inside almost any middle school classroom reveals both muscular, physically mature boys, and boys who appear to have been smuggled out of the fourth grade," wrote Samuel H. Campbell, the author of the article and principal of Andover West Middle School in Massachusetts.

"To the chagrin of school principals and nervous parents, many girls look like high school seniors. These physical changes send the average child to the closest mirror to lament whatever is out of proportion, admire what seems in place, and assure themselves that nobody else in the world has the same problem(s)."

Growth spurts are also energy draining. Middle level students can't sit still for long periods of time, and Campbell acknowledges "their minds are racing and the result is a battle for attention between teachers and everything else."

Relatively-shallow thinking powers and short attention spans are two prominent intellectual characteristics of middle level students. They think in terms of short-term goals, are generally disorganized and forgetful, and "magnify the general difficulty of teaching and learning."

According to Campbell, friends take precedence with the middle level students because being accepted is the key to their happiness.

"These students will do almost anything to get, and keep, a friend. Group membership is a strong social need, and students go to great lengths to acquire it... suffice to say the middle school students must belong, for it is in belonging that their well-being is enhanced."

The negative side of group membership is peer pressure, and "all my friends were doing it" is often an excuse to avoid responsibility for actions.

Emotionally fragile and highly stressed, an adolescent's self-esteem runs the valleys and peaks of a wicked roller coaster. It's a dangerous setting for experimentation with sex, drugs, and alcohol, which are often mistaken for mature practices.

"Early adolescents search for sophistication, but the result often borders on the ludicrous or tragic," explains Campbell.

Changes facing middle-school students would challenge the most stable adults. "Listen, believe and love your middle level child unconditionally," Kanthak suggested. "They need limits and support in spite of their growing independence, and parents should concentrate on how to subtly loosen and tighten supervision as the setting demands."

Campbell agrees that parents have a key role to play during these years. "Monitor successes and setbacks and be available for the one-to-one contact they need. An intimate sharing between parent and child may either diminish or disappear, but while your attention may be annoying, most youth are relieved to be saved from themselves."

"Celebrities" Promote Importance of Reading

Chelsea "stars" will share their love of reading by reading aloud from favorite books to local children during the American Library Association's National Library Week, and "Love Your Library Week," Chelsea's annual celebration of the importance of the McKune Memorial Library in the community.

On Tuesday, April 20, from 1:30 to 2:05 p.m., and Thursday, April 22, from 10 to 10:35 p.m., special guests will read to children enrolled in McKune Library's regular preschool story time program, and to a small group of five- and six-year-olds who have been invited to the special program at the library.

"The Great Chelsea Celebrity Read-a-Loud is designed to focus attention on literacy, McKune Memorial Library, and the pleasures of reading aloud," said Mary Green, president of the Friends of McKune.

"We hope this event highlights the importance of parents and children reading together," added Celebrity

Read-a-Loud co-chairperson, Mary Lou Bower.

Some of the well known "celebrities" who will kick-off this annual event include Ann Belser, president of the McKune Memorial Library Board of Trustees; Ann Comeau, president of the Chelsea Board of Education and member of the Washtenaw Association of School Boards; the Rev. Richard Dake, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Chelsea; and downtown business woman, Laurel Gravelyn, owner of Dayspring Gifts.

"Love Your Library Week," April 17 through April 24, is sponsored by Friends of McKune Memorial Library.

The U.S. House is debating legislation that would help prevent animal terrorist activities, like those that occurred at the Michigan State University milk research facility. The bill would toughen penalties for vandalism and break-ins.

Earl Horning Dairy Herd Cited By Michigan DIHA

Several Michigan dairy families were cited for their outstanding management abilities during the Dairy Herd Improvement Association (DHIA) annual meeting March 24 in Lansing.

Awards were presented to HWR Wood Farms, of Marlette; Earl and Diane Horning, Manchester; and Webster Farms, Elsie.

The DHIA Progressive Dairyman Award and the 1992 Highest Dollar Value Herd Award were presented to Earl and Diane Horning, and their daughter Katie and son Jeff, their wife, Lynda.

The Hornings manage a herd of 78 Holsteins that produced an average 28,146 pounds of milk, 1,005 pounds of butterfat and 852 pounds of protein per cow during 1992, qualifying them for DHIA's high dollar value award.

The family received the Progressive Dairyman Award for boosting the herd dollar value by $1,388 per cow and milk production by an average of 10,094 pounds per cow during the past five years.

The family was also cited for the excellent care they give their animals, for their outstanding herd health maintenance program and for their comprehensive approach to farm business management.

Harold, Wayne and Randy Wood, HWR Wood Farms managers, received the Dairy Farmer of the Year award presented each year by the Michigan State University Department of Animal Science.

Harold Wood began farming in 1936 with nine dairy cows. The operation today consists of 275 milking cows, 220 head of young stock and 1,250 acres for the production of corn, soybeans, wheat and alfalfa. As of September, the herd was producing an average of 20,853 pounds of milk, 727 pounds of butterfat and 634 pounds of protein per cow per year.

The family serves the dairy industry and their community in many capacities at the national, state and local levels.

Harold has been extensively involved with the Michigan Milk Producers Association, the National Milk Producers Federation, the Michigan Animal Breeders Co-operative, Michigan Farm Bureau and many other national and state dairy production and marketing activities.

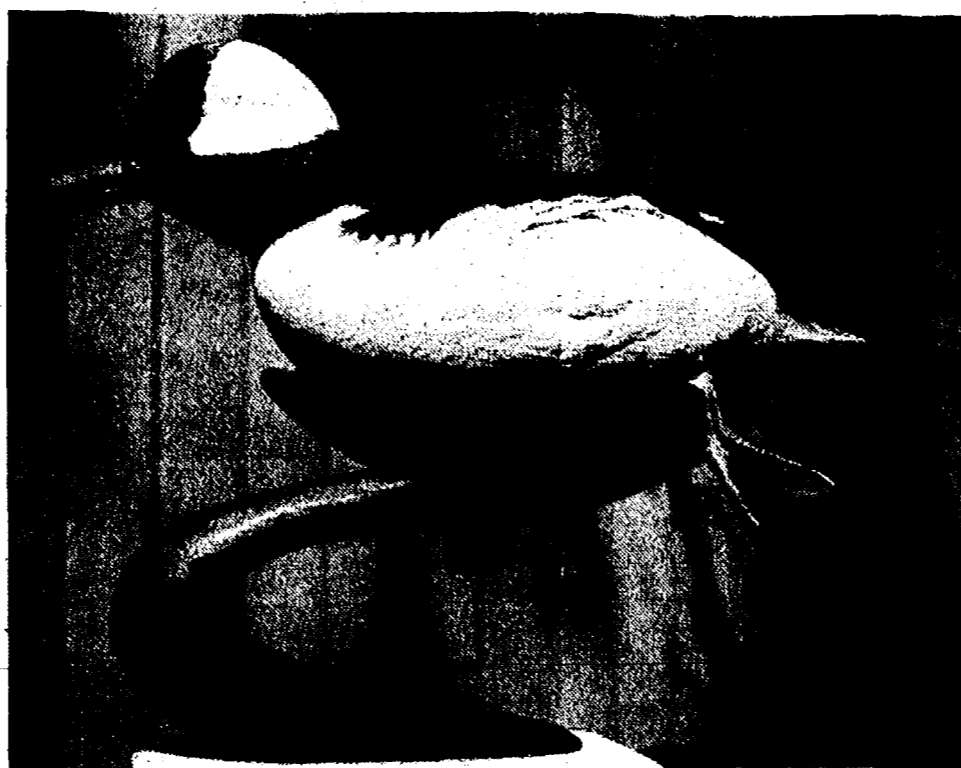

Wayne is a vice-president of Michigan Farm Bureau and has held many positions within the organization since the early 1970s. He is also active in the American Farm Bureau, the Michigan Milk Producers Association, DHIA and the MSU Co-operative Extension Service, and he has been a member of several national and state task forces related to agriculture.

Randy is involved at the county and regional levels with DHIA, Michigan Farm Bureau, the MSU Co-operative Extension Service and the Cass Valley Milk Hauling Co-operative.

The award was presented by Maynard Hogberg, chairperson of the MSU Department of Animal Science. A portrait of the three will be on permanent display in the department.

Larry and Wayne Webster, of Elsie, were given DHIA's Highest Individual Cow award for their 90-month-old Holstein that produced 37,858 pounds of milk, 2,013 pounds of butterfat and 1,123 pounds of protein during her 1992 lactation.

The Websters' herd of 291 cows is currently producing an average of 25,368 pounds of milk, 1,046 pounds of butterfat and 812 pounds of protein per cow per year.

Area Ducks Unlimited Chapter Plans May Banquet in Dexter

Western Washtenaw chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold its 12th annual banquet at the Dexter Knights of Columbus Hall on Friday, May 14.

The banquet, with a country hoe-down theme, will feature fundraising raffles, door prizes, and silent and live auctions. Braun & Helmer will auction the original art, limited edition prints, decoy carvings, trips, and sporting goods.

Funds raised by the chapter are used for wetland conservation projects, which make certain there is water available for waterfowl, songbirds, and mammals.

A number of area artists are donating their work to the banquet auction.

Tom Ceo of North Lake has had a life-long love of ducks and is recognized as one of the nation's top wood-carvers. He is donating a swimming buffhead, which has won numerous awards, including Best of Show at the Northern National in Minneapolis, Minn.

Ceo's carving of a harlequin duck was selected as the Best of Species and Best of Category at the World Championships. His current project for world competition is an Old Squaw decoy.

Ceo is a past-chairman of the local Ducks Unlimited chapter.

Also featured at this year's banquet is the work of the husband and wife team of Thomas McClanahan and

Day Care Homes Association To Meet

Day Care Homes Association of Washtenaw County will have a general meeting at Carpenter Elementary school, 4250 Central Blvd., Ann Arbor, on Monday, April 19, at 7:30 p.m. Topic: "Issues Surrounding Child Abuse," with Child Protective Services and Yael King. Also: Update on proposed DSS licensing changes.

All day care providers and other child care professionals are urged to attend.

For further information call Nina at 475-9848.

Also, Thursday, April 29, 6:45-9:45 p.m., tour selected DCHA members' child care homes, as part of the Annual Day Care Homes Association Homes Tour. For more information call Ann at 769-1498.

Susan Falcone. McClanahan specializes in wildlife photography while Falcone creates watercolors of nature.

Most of McClanahan's work are portraits of birds and mammals. Falcone's award-winning works are created using a technique called glazing. For the auction she has painted a great blue heron in the early morning mist.

For more information about making a donation or purchasing tickets call Peggy Plawchan at 426-2714 or Walt Brown at 475-2726.

Sheriff Has Not OK'd Any Telephone Funds Solicitation

Washtenaw County Sheriff Department and Sheriff Ron Schebil have received numerous calls from citizens complaining about a telephone solicitation that is apparently occurring in the area under the pretense that it is endorsed by the sheriff and the department.

Sheriff Schebil would like to let citizens know that he has not approved any solicitation on behalf of the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department, and that he has endorsed: "Project Hang Up," launched Monday, April 5, by the Michigan State Police Troopers Association. He is directing citizens to call the State Attorney General's office toll-free number 1(800)769-4515, to check on the status of public safety organizations and/or report questionable telephone solicitations.

Sheriff Schebil encourages all Washtenaw county citizens to extensively question solicitors who claim to represent law enforcement agencies or, if the citizen feels uneasy, "just hang up!"

U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists have discovered a gene that may help peach trees defend themselves against frost damage. The gene was discovered in evergreen peach trees in New Mexico. A cross between these trees and deciduous trees was the first step in developing peach trees less vulnerable to early fall or late spring freezes.

Chelsea Hospital Benefit Auction Slated April 24

Chelsea Community Hospital's Spring Celebration Benefit Auction will take place in the Hospital's Main Dining Room on Saturday, April 24 beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Auctioneers Lloyd Braun and Jerry Helmer will entertain and encourage supporters attending the event that evening.

Funds raised will help support the Patient Assistance Fund, a fund which helps patients who have no or inadequate insurance to meet their obligations.

Auction Committee chairs, Bob and Jeanene Riemenschneider and co-chairs, Sandy and Tom O'Brien, M.D., have been working with past chairs Walt and Peg Hamilton; art chair Madeleine Vallier; regional gift chairs Ray Howe, D.D.S., Micky Howe, Ph.D., Andrea Tupper, Allyson Lyons, Sally Stommen, D.D.S., Jeff Stommen, Russ and Mary Mason, Rosanne Bloomer, and members Barb Branch, Ann Feeney, John and Mary Alice Hafer, Elizabeth Sensoli and Tony Sensoli, M.D. in preparation for the event.

Merchants, businesses, and individuals from throughout the area have generously given auction items and cash donations toward this cause. The evening will include a raffle auction, silent auction and live auction. Master of ceremonies will be Jim Botsford.

Elton A. Wigle

South Lyon
(Formerly of Chelsea)
Elton Artemus (Art) Wigle died March 11, 1993, at his home in South Lyon from cancer and kidney complications at the age of 92 years and 10 months.

He was born in Essex county, Kingsville, Ontario, May 30, 1900. He moved to Detroit as a young man, becoming a naturalized citizen on May 4, 1931.

He married Hazel Smith in 1923. She preceded him in death in 1946.

His second wife, Annabelle (McGill) Wigle preceded him in death Jan. 2, 1958.

Art, as he was known, was a carpenter, contractor, and builder in Detroit and surrounding areas for many years, later moving to the Chelsea area where he purchased and developed an 80-acre farm called Noah Heights. He also built other homes in the Chelsea area.

Survivors include his wife, Helen; son, Ralph and daughter-in-law, Jane; two granddaughters, Patricia Fleming of Novi and Susan Wigle of Livonia, and a great-grandson, Mark Andrew Fleming of Novi. Two brothers, Garth and Harold preceded him in death.

A memorial service will be held at Grace Chapel Evangelical Presbyterian church, 27996 Halstead Rd., Farmington Hills, on Sunday, May 2, at 3:30 p.m.

Memorial contributions may be made in memory of Art Wigle to the Grace Chapel Evangelical Presbyterian Organ Fund, or to a charity of your choice.

Maye B. Wallace

Chelsea
Maye B. Wallace of Chelsea, age 92, died Thursday, April 8, 1993 at the Chelsea Community Hospital. She was born Sept. 4, 1900 in Cushing, Ia., the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nels and Thora (Paulson) Bondhus. She attended Knox College and was a graduate of Morningside College with a music major. She was a music teacher for 24 years.

Mrs. Wallace was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Birmingham, the church organist for many years, and very active in church organizations and clubs.

She was a member of the Eastern Star, Sigma Alpha Iota and Alpha Delta Kappa.

On July 3, 1924 in Iowa, she married Leslie M. Wallace and he survives. Also surviving are one granddaughter, Linda Maye Wallace Cagle of Tucson, Ariz.; two great-grandchildren, Eric and Laura Cagle, also of Tucson; one nephew, Dr. Nelson Bondhus; three nieces, Dr. Frances Bondhus Beriner, Phillis Woodford, Diana Bortolin.

She was preceded in death by her son, Leslie Wallace, in 1978.

A Service of Remembrance will be held Thursday, April 15, at 3 p.m. at the Chelsea Retirement Community. Entombment was at the White Chapel Memorial Mausoleum in Troy, with the Rev. Gordon R. Schleicher, chaplain, officiating.

Memorial tributes may be sent to the First United Methodist church of Birmingham, 1589 W. Maple, Birmingham 48009.

Arrangements were by Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home.

Ruth A. Apel

Jackson
(Formerly of Chelsea)
Ruth A. Apel, of Jackson, formerly of Chelsea and Toledo, O., died in Jackson Tuesday, April 6, 1993. Mrs. Apel was born in Sylvan township March 31, 1910 to George and Mary Clark.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Lawrence (Mike) Apel in 1989.

Ruth is survived by a daughter, Patricia Thurston of Jackson; grandchildren Craig (Lori) Suomala and Jeffrey Thurston of Jackson, Kimberly (William) Kander of Florida, and Gerald (Connie) Thurston of Colorado; six great-grandchildren; a brother, Stephen (Beatrice) Clark of Jackson; a niece and several nephews.

According to her wishes Mrs. Apel has been cremated and her remains are interred at Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Chelsea.

Arrangements were by the Chas. J. Burden & Son Funeral Home, Jackson.

Vaughn O. Shiver

Tecumseh
(Formerly of Chelsea)
Vaughn Oakley Shiver of Tecumseh, formerly of Chelsea, age 73, died Thursday, April 8, 1993 at his home in Tecumseh. He was born July 19, 1919 in Geneva county, Alabama, the son of Mark Lafayette and Leola (Merritt) Shiver.

Mr. Shiver moved to Tecumseh in 1987, coming from the Chelsea area, where he had resided since 1985.

He married Ruth (Showler) Wohlgemuth in Angola, Ind., on Feb. 18, 1956 and she survives.

He retired from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources on Jan. 1, 1981, following 24 years of service.

Besides his wife, he is survived by his son, Charles Shiver of Chelsea; three step-children, Diana Leyh of Indiana, Jennifer Wahl of California, and Robert Wahl; and one step-grandson, Gary Lee Cole.

Memorial services will be held Thursday, April 15, 10 a.m. at the Cole Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Richard Dake officiating.

Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of your choice.

Donald M. Hunker

Coldwater
Donald M. Hunker, age 74, of Coldwater, died Monday, April 12 at the Community Health Center of Branch county in Coldwater.

He was born April 21, 1918 in Pittsford township, the son of Martin L. and Lula (Snyder) Hunker. On June 1, 1941 he married D. Carlene Dunbrook, and she survives.

Other survivors include a son, Carl, of Coldwater; two daughters, Shirley Vaughan of Coldwater and Lori (David) Ruhl of Dexter; and four grandchildren.

Mr. Hunker was a self-employed farmer. He was also a bus driver and custodian for Coldwater Community Schools and Branch Intermediate Schools. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Branch County Farm Bureau, AARP, MARSF, and was a volunteer for the Branch County Commission on Aging.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, April 15 at 11 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Coldwater, with Pastor Mark J. Hill officiating. Visitation will be today, Wednesday, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Gillespie Funeral Home, Coldwater.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Two Area Dairy Farmers Honored by Milk Producers

Two Chelsea-area farmers were honored for their 35 years of membership in the Michigan Milk Producers Association at the association's 77th State Annual Meeting March 16 in Lansing.

LeRoy Buss of Chelsea and Clare E. Wahl of Grass Lake were among the 34 members so honored.

"Holding membership with MMPA for 35 years indicates not only the dedication these individuals have to dairy farming but their dedication to the co-operative movement and MMPA," said MMPA President Elwood Kirkpatrick.

Guest speakers at the meeting included Bill Schuette, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, and Dr. Fred Poston, dean and vice-provost of the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at Michigan State University.

MMPA is the largest milk-marketing co-operative in Michigan, owned and controlled by more than 3,800 dairy farmers.

Mainstream consumer interest in organic produce seems to have declined recently. Food experts say it looks like people already committed to organic produce, for environmental or health reasons are expanding their purchases but only a limited number of new consumers are trying organic foods.

Grace Shackman To Present Slide Show At Historical Society

County Commissioner Grace Shackman will present a slide show on the history of Ann Arbor's Old West Side, starting with the first German settlers, at the Washtenaw County Historical Society meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 18, at the Ann Arbor Public Library.

Mrs. Shackman has been a resident of the Old West Side neighborhood since 1973. She formerly edited the Old West Side News, was a reporter for The Dexter Leader, and now writes on local history in the Ann Arbor Observer.

The entire neighborhood was entered in the National Register of Historic Places in 1972. It is considered typical of 19th century Midwestern architecture.

The meeting is open to the public free of charge.

In 1882 the First Labor Day celebration was held in New York City in September, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's "Important Events in American Labor History."

Selecting A Beverage Should Mean Getting Benefits Beyond Water

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

When we think about nutrition, we tend to think about food and forget about water. Not only is water an essential nutrient, but we require no other nutrient in greater quantities than water.

We consume water in its pure form or as part of foods. Water is also a byproduct of our body's food metabolism.

There is much debate regarding how much water we need to consume daily. A moderately active adult needs to consume about 1 to 1½ quarts of water for every 1,000 calories expended. Therefore, a woman who burns 2,000 calories should consume 2 to 3 quarts of water each day.

Some foods are very high in water. For example, iceberg lettuce is 96 percent water. Other foods are not high in water. A saltine cracker, for instance, is only 4 percent water. Beverages also vary in their water content. Skim milk is 91 percent water; grape juice is 84 percent.

More Choices Than Ever Before

It's not your imagination that there are more beverage choices now than ever before. Quenching thirst is big business. We've seen an explosion of the bottled water market and rapid increase in the number of juice and fruit drinks offered at the same time that the carbonated beverage market has remained strong. Plain water doesn't sound as tempting as it used to, even though it remains the least expensive and best replacement for lost body fluids.

What we choose is changing. In 1992, carbonated beverage sales exceeded those of milk. Because beverages contain nutrients other than water, beverage selection has become challenging.

Besides taste, we have to consider the calories, fat, sugar, caffeine and alcohol contents of our choices. Nutrient density—the amount of vitamins and minerals per calorie—is also an important consideration in selecting a beverage.

Calories can add up fast, so it's important to know what our beverages offer in addition to taste and thirst-quenching ability.

Milk is an excellent source of calcium, potassium, riboflavin and other nutrients. The calorie content of milk can vary greatly, depending on its fat content. Whole milk has 149 calories per cup, while skim milk has only 85.

Juices can be excellent sources of vitamins A and C and potassium. To be called a juice, a product must be 100 percent pure juice. Beverages containing juice, other liquids and sugar must be labeled as such.

Not all juices are the same. The nutrients found in a particular juice will depend on the fruit or vegetable source. Grapefruit juice, for instance, is an excellent source of vitamin C. Sugar-sweetened soft drinks provide calories from fructose, glucose and/or sucrose but few minerals or vitamins. Artificially sweetened soft drinks typically have very few or no calories.

Alcoholic beverages and those containing caffeine are poor health replacers. Alcohol and caffeine are diuretics, which cause water loss.

Milk production in 1993 is expected to remain near last year's level of 152 billion pounds. Farm Bureau dairy experts say the average price farmers get for their milk will likely decline three to five percent.
