Village Studies Options For Gene Dr. Upgrades

The village is trying to decide how to bring the Gene Dr. area up to village specifications for the road and water and sewer service.

Residences of Gene Dr., on the western edge of the village off Old US-12, have their own septic systems and wells. Gene Dr. is a dirt road and because it is not up to village specifications, it is not maintained by the village.

However, property owners pay all village taxes, which is a sore point for some of the residents. They believe they are not getting the services they should.

Both the village and the majority of the residents want some resolution to the problem, for a number of reasons. Various developments have been proposed for the area, but without a sewer system the amount of usable land drops dramatically. Residents have reported getting stuck in the mud on their own road. Others have said they feel like second-class citizens because they pay their taxes but don't have village water or sewer systems and have to rely on one of their own residents to plow the snow.

The problem is, the solution will be extremely expensive. Some residents don't believe they should pay for all the improvements since they've essentially gotten nothing for the portion of their taxes that are used for road maintenance.

The village, on the other hand, has to be careful how it handles the situation. If it pays for any portion of the project, it could open itself up for similar requests from developers.

"It's a sticky situation," said trustee Tom Dorer, a member of the committee studying the problem.

"We'd like to keep as many people happy as possible."

According to a preliminary report submitted to village council last Tuesday, the entire project, if contracted out, would cost about $417,225. That would include water, sewers, road improvements, two sidewalks, and streetlights.

Based on 20-year bonds sold at 6 percent interest, annual special assessments would range from $11,380 for 4.94 acres owned by Lawrence and Judy Farley to $622 for each of four quarter-acre parcels owned by Richard Machnik.

Other annual payments in excess of $1,000 would be owed by Robert and Marge Robbins ($1,198), Paul Simon ($1,474), Douglas and Linda Dault ($6,220), Jim Machnik ($4,561), and Harry Thurkow ($7,237).

The report says there are 15.79 usable acres. Payments are based on $2,304 per acre.

The report gives three other project options, all lesser in scope, and their costs. However, Dorer said he wants the improvements to be made according to village ordinance, which requires all the work, from sewers to sidewalks.

"The way I read the ordinance, we could just go in there, have the work done, and charge them for it," Dorer said.

"We won't do that, but we could."

The committee is investigating another less-costly option in which the village would do virtually all the work, with the exception of roadwork, which would be handled by contractors. The residents would still be charged for all labor, including village labor, and materials.

School Board Hears Proposed Budget Figures, Technology Presentation

The confusing school finance/property tax reform picture in the state will apparently force the Chelsea School District and others to create two ballots to deal with their local elections in June.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills outlined the problems facing the district as it tries to approve its budget for next school year.

Mills is projecting, based on a defeat of Proposal A on June 2, income of $14,272,986 and expenses of $14,255,483. Total millage needed to finance that budget is 35.62 mills, which means current millage could be rolled back 2.1 mills from 37.72 mills. Local SEV is projected to rise from $310 million to $350 million.

One ballot, which will be used if Proposal A is defeated, will ask voters for a partial millage renewal of 26.69 mills since the district's entire base millage expires this year. The remaining 8.93 mills is the allocated millage which is never subject to vote.

If Proposal A passes, raising the sales tax from 4 to 6 cents and rolling back property taxes to 18 mills, district voters will probably be asked, on a different ballot, to approve 5.63 additional mills to keep the current program in place (that figure has not yet been approved by the school board). Without approval of the additional millage, the board would be faced with cuts of $1.78 million. Most of the $1.78 million deficit would be due to a shift of some expenses, primarily social security and retirement payments, now paid by the state, to local districts.

Absentee voters who vote before June 2 will have to mark both ballots. Election officials will then choose the appropriate ballot after the June 2 election. Absentee ballots will be available May 26.

Mills said that he does not believe the board will approve a list of cuts that would be put in place should the 5.63 mill proposal fail.

"I'm not sure anyone wants to put the energy into generating a list three times as big as last year's considering the tenuous nature of the state proposal," Mills said.

In other business Monday night, the board heard a lengthy presentation of a 20-page report by the Technology Committee. The committee's proposal calls for the installation of an extensive computer and satellite communications system in the district, linking all classrooms and schools with each other and with outside information sources.

The program, estimated to cost $4.4 million, with installation over five years, would put up to six computers in each classroom, create teacher work stations, create a classroom and building network and a district network including a library data base, bulletin board, and electronic and voice mail system, put televisions in every classroom to hook up to educational and instructional programming, and include a new centralized telephone system, with a telephone in each classroom and office.

There would also be computer laboratories and media centers would become the center for instructional resources at each school.

The program would allow everything from automated homework hotlines to the ability to tap into numerous data bases and even the state library. Students might even be able to file their homework electronically.

The report contains suggestions for staff development and emphasizes that training should be gradual and systematic.

The report estimates that it would take at least two years just to install the wire, fiber-optics network, and hardware.

The report does not suggest how such a program should be financed. Some or all of it may be included in a new bond issue for a new elementary school and improvements at the other elementary schools.

Committee members included media specialists Laurel McDonald, Sue Beard, and Ruth Withey, computer teacher Ann O'Hagan, first grade teacher Beth Newman, curriculum director Laurie Bissell, software engineer John Gourlay, technology curriculum specialist Carol Flintoff, technology advisor Stewart Robinson, technology consultant Chris Scharrer, and board member Joe Redding.

In other business, the board granted tenure to South school teacher Tracy Heydlauff, Beach school counselor Patricia Compton, and Beach science teacher David Polley.

Second-year probation status was granted to Kathy Hintz-Ringrose, high school social studies, Mark Scheese, business and computers, Eric Swager, high school science, Kathy Terbrack, high school science, Tracey Waters, half-time kindergarten teacher, Andrea Maines and Jenine Soloko, Beach block teachers, and Carol Strahler, Beach Science teacher.

Waters was later laid off in anticipation that kindergarten enrollment may be down next year.

The board extended the contract of superintendent Joe Piasecki through the 1995-96 school year and all other administrative contracts through the 1994-95 year. Administrators affected include Mills, high school principal Ron Mead, middle school principal Darcy Stielstra, North principal Bill Wescott, South principal Lucy Stieber, curriculum director Bissell, special education director Henry

Area Volunteers To Work On Seven Local Homes For Christmas in April

More than 120 volunteers ranging in age from 14 to 70-plus will donate their time and energy this Saturday to clean-up and refurbish seven Chelsea-area homes in the second Christmas in April program.

The program, which is taking place in every community in the county, is designed to help elderly, handicapped, and low-income residents with house repairs. It is funded entirely by private contributions. Nearly 70 homes in the county will be repaired this week-end.

"Considering our low-key publicity this year, we've really gotten a good response in Chelsea," said local coordinator Dick Shaneyfelt.

Area houses in the program include one on Buchanan St., which has been adopted by the Chelsea Rotary Club, one on Grant St., one on Gene Dr., one on Brown Dr., one on Washington St. in Waterloo adopted by the Chelsea Lions Club, one on M-52, and another on North Territorial Rd.

Work ranges from a yard clean-up on Gene Dr. to roofing, siding, and insulation at the Waterloo house and major outside repairs at the home on Buchanan St.

"All in all, it's going to be quite a lot of work," Shaneyfelt said.

Skilled work is being supervised by experienced builders such as Chelsea resident Marvin Carlson and Egan Lipps, husband of Gina's Cafe owner Gina Pantely. Gina's Cafe is providing a buffet dinner for all volunteers at 4:30 p.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Parish on Congdon St.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the Chelsea 14th District Court staff have decided to retire at the end of the month. Betty Murphy, left, Janet Longworth, center, and Agnes Boylan, next to Judge Kenneth Bronson, have more than 60 years of service among them. Murphy was hired in 1970, Boylan in 1969, and Longworth in 1973. The women have seen plenty of changes here during their careers. They have worked for Judge Patrick D. Conlin, Judge Henry D. Arklison, Judge Karl Fink, and Bronson, who is in his second round here. The court, previously on the second floor of the village offices on E. Middle St., moved into the current building in 1970. "When they had a preliminary examination, we had to stop typing," Boylan recalls of the former quarters. In 1985 the first computer system was installed, and a significant computer upgrade is in the works for this year. In addition, beginning June 1, no more felony trials will be held here. Instead, the court will handle civil suits, small claims, and misdemeanors. An open house will be held at the courthouse for the three long-time employees next Friday, April 30 at 1 p.m.

Weekly Recycling To Start May 5

Curbside recycling service in the Village of Chelsea will change to weekly collection on Wednesdays starting May 5.

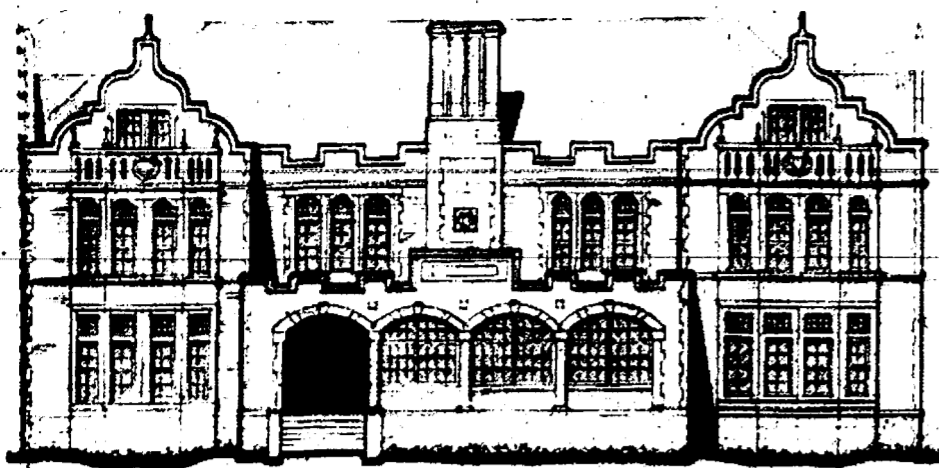

Materials are now collected twice per month.

According to Jerry Satterthwaite, interim director of the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority, there are simply too many materials to pick up every other week.

"We have almost 350 stops and we are collecting 47 to 50 yards of materials," Satterthwaite said.

The curbside program will collect glass, number-two plastic, cans, newspapers, and even small bundles of corrugated cardboard.

Curbside service in Manchester will remain on the first and third Tuesdays of every month.

Chelsea School District may soon join the growing number of districts to set up a special local and educational foundation. The foundation would help provide funds for special projects, equipment, or other items that are not likely to be funded in the district's general budget. Mini-grants for teachers, extra computer equipment, and travel by students or staff are just a few of the many projects the foundation could help fund.

A Chelsea-area man who wants to build a small housing project just west of Harper Dr. has been supported by Lima township's planning commission in his efforts to re-zone the land. The commission, after a public hearing, voted to recommend that the township board change the zoning of 24 acres of land off Old US-12, owned by John Bowdish, from agricultural to suburban residential use. The action came at the Tuesday, April 18 meeting.

Chelsea Village Council voted unanimously, April 18, to change the village residency requirement of new village manager Robert Stalker. Stalker's three-year contract initially had a clause that required him to find housing within the village limits by the end of the first year. However, council agreed to modify that requirement to residency within the Chelsea School District. The clause may be re-instated when the next contract is negotiated. Stalker, who has said he wants to buy a house rather than rent, told council that after two months of searching he was convinced he would not be able to find affordable housing for his family by the end of the first year. His first-year salary is $37,500.

A 3.83 millage increase is on the ballot for Monday's annual school election. Increased funds are needed to cover rising operational costs due to inflation, five more teachers, an enrollment increase of 100, two new school buses, blacktopping Mayer Dr. so it will become a village street, salary increases, paving the high school lot and improving the vocational building.

The school district is interested in ideas about what to do with the old junior high school at the corner of Park and East streets. The lowest demolition bid for the school which was condemned four years ago by the health department, was $19,000. remodeling estimates for the new gymnasium building begin at $50,000. Plans now call for leveling the building and using the lot for school bus parking.

Women of Chelsea revolted against all the time spent and fun their menfolk are having in Brothers of the Brush chapters. More than 400 women met at Chelsea High school Tuesday to form Chelsea Belles chapters after several women stormed anniversary headquarters last Saturday to demand their "rights." Symbol for the Belles will be a fancy bonnet and pin, not beads as had been rumored.

Apparently the photograph of the speed-painting of the 125th anniversary headquarters April 18 got on the world-wide wire. A Stockbridge man stationed in Japan sent his mother a clipping of the photograph from a Tokyo paper.

★ Taxing Savings Destroys Jobs . . .

By David L. Littmann
and Gerald L. Musgrave

At this moment the Congress is considering the Clinton economic package. The proposal includes a hike in marginal tax rates on high income families to increase national investment and create more and better-paying jobs. If the Congress adopts the plan, it will fail.

Nowhere in the debate are we hearing that the greatest savers and investors in the nation are the very people the president is targeting for heavier tax hits. In the face of these higher levies, they will simply reduce their saving, not their consumption.

One does not have to be an economist to understand that when you tax something, you get less of it—be it saving, investment, income or work effort. The President's economists forgot that individuals in the upper income brackets save a much larger portion of their total income each year than those in the middle or lower income brackets.

According to the latest Federal Reserve data, families with incomes at or above $50,000 hold an average of $41,500 in financial assets—quadruple the level held by the average American family. The average family with before-tax income of $30,000 saves 87.6 percent of the family's post-tax income annually, versus only 11.1 percent for families at the national average of $34,000 in pre-tax income.

Most significantly, out of each new dollar of income, those taxpayers in the $200,000 income category are likely to save .80 percent—what economists call the "marginal propensity to save."

Under the President's proposals, the 1.2 percent of Americans earning more than $180,000 per year will see their marginal tax rates rise to 36 percent from 31 percent. And, there will be an added 10 percent surtax on incomes over $250,000 a year.

Washington will be taxing upper income families an additional $31 billion in the first year. Using the marginal propensity to save derived from various consumer expenditure studies, we conclude that probably 80 percent, or $25 billion, would have been productively saved and invested.

By the administration's own estimates, the tax take from higher personal income tax rates over the next six years will be $126.3 billion. We estimate that at least $100 billion will come out of saving and investment. Furthermore, by lifting the corporate income tax rates to 36 percent from 34 percent, Washington hopes to derive another $30.6 billion in revenue.

But the average U. S. firm reinvests two-thirds of its total profits and pays out dividends to pension funds and private investors who tend to save and reinvest more than the average person—and certainly more than a profligate Congress and administration. The net reduction in investment will be at least $120 billion over six years.

With U. S. saving rates (personal savings as a percent of personal income) not only one of the lowest in the developed world and getting worse, one might think the President would want to change Washington's anti-savings policies and its chronic addition to $200-$300 billion deficits.

Despite his somewhat toned down "rich versus poor" rhetoric, it is still disconcerting to hear the President of the United States taunt one class against another, saying, "middle-class Americans should know: you're not going it alone any more." The fact is that between 1981 and 1988, the top one percent of income earners in the U.S. watched their share of total taxes paid to Washington climb from 17.9 to 27.6 percent. The top 5 percent of taxpayers saw their "fair" share grow from 35.4 to 45.6 percent. The latest proposals, if enacted, could raise these shares of personal income taxes paid by the top one and two percent of taxpayers to 30 and 50 percent, respectively.

Soak the rich and spend the wealth amounts to a scheme that works against the poor and those most in need of jobs. Each job in the private sector now requires a capital investment of at least $52,000. For jobs in retail and personal services, the sum is less than $20,000. The investment threshold in the motor vehicle industry is $46,256. For jobs in manufacturing in general, the needed capital requirement is $47,694, and new high-tech jobs often require two to four times that. Using the average capital investment required for job creation in the U. S. economy, the Clinton tax plan—in reducing private sector investment by $120 billion—will abort at least 2.3 million private sector jobs over the next six years!

The Clinton plan is based on the well-known redistributionist principle of "From those according to their private sector productivity to those according to their public sector influence." Expropriating savings from families and profits from business in the private sector and giving Washington's bureaucracy more economic power has the ultimate effect of reducing total U. S. productivity.

Furthermore, if the new taxes were to come mostly from consumption, that would harm employment the least; unfortunately, the administration's taxes are to come heavily from investment, which will do maximum harm to employment.

Make no mistakes about it. The administration's rhetoric to the contrary, taxes are not "contributions," government spending is not equivalent to private "investment," and taxing the savings of those who invest is not a prescription for job creation.

(David L. Littmann, chief economist for Comerica Bank, and Gerald L. Musgrave, president of the Ann Arbor-based consulting firm Economics America, are members of the Advisory Board of The Mackinac Center for Public Policy, a Midland-based research and educational organization.)

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I've heard it said that discussion is light without heat and argument is heat without light, and that discussion is exchange of ideas and argument is exchange of ignorance. The best I can figure, the session at the country store Saturday night was some of all of that, with a spotlight on ignorance.

For instant, Clem Webster was first on the agenda with a report on modern meanings of words. He told the fellows he final give up on the old gay and went along with the new gay for the simple reason that his case was hopeless because three letters are a heap easier to fit in a headline than 10. There is some hope of finding out how free gift is better than gift in the ads, Clem went on, but not much. Later, Clem said, he has been seeing funeral home ads that offer pre-planning, and he had been wondering how you plan before you plan.

Recent, Clem said, he got his answer from the paper in an item about a fellow in Alexandria, Va. that ought to give some thought to job skills before he planned to take up-stealing cars. If he had pre-planned he would of realized he didn't know how to shift gears, and he would of planned to steal only cars with automatic transmissions—or maybe go in another line of work. His first night on the job he broke into a car, but the owner heard him trying to get it started, and he run. The same night he got one running and backed it into a lightpole just as a police went by. He'll have plenty of time in the next few years to pre-plan his next career move, was Clem's words.

Furthermore, Clem went on, he has been wondering how far research can go in this country, and he has found out. He saw a report last week where two scientists have been studying pet language. They went about this by asking pet owners that speak different language to make sounds their pets make. They discovered that dogs bark the language of their owners, but cats meow the same everywhere. The next research project will be to see if people listen in the same language they speak, was Clem's words.

Speaking of research, Zeke Grubb wondered whatever come of the finding at the Auburn University Veterinary School that 20 milk cows burp enough gas every year to heat a house all winter, but they stopped short of a way to harness this energy. However, the researchers done their computing and said all the cows in the country burp 50 million tons of hydrocarbons in the air every year. Unless you are a cow worrying about losing the ozone layer, Zeke allowed, it's hard to see how that information can be used to return the investment in it.

General speaking, the fellows were agreed with Zeke that research and development go together like inspiration and perspiration, one don't amount to much without the other. Still, Ed Doolittle said he's having trouble putting a value on recent findings that lefthanded men die younger than righthanders, bald lefthanded men die even younger, and an unusual high percent die on their birthdays.

Actual, it ain't that he's a bald lefty that keeps having birthdays that bothers him. Ed said, or that he's already lived off the life expect chart for all men and wimmen. It's that if he started taking that kind of research serious he could worry himself to death.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Avoid Impulse Buying In Supermarket, Save Big Bucks

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

Supermarkets are designed to sell food. That's their business. And they may sell you more than you intend to buy if you go food shopping unprepared and unaware.

Supermarkets are filled with powerful sales techniques that entice us into making buying decisions. We are bombarded with attractive packaging, end-of-aisle and bulk displays, "new and improved" products, and wonderful bakery and deli aromas and displays.

Most shoppers make about two-thirds of their buying decisions in the store, rather than carefully planning ahead of time. Because of this, a weekly shopping trip can cost a lot more than it should. Preparing and sticking to a shopping list will help, but there are still a lot of decisions to make in the store.

The brands you choose have a big effect on the prices that you pay. Food companies spend millions of dollars advertising their products to win our brand loyalty. They offer cents-off coupons and refund coupons to get us to buy their products. They also spend even more to get retailers to handle and push particular products, including discounts to get new products stocked on store shelves and co-advertising with the retailer. These efforts pay off with impulse purchases of their products.

In 1988, Consumer's Union gave two shoppers identical lists of foods and some common household paper and cleaning products. One person was asked to shop impulsively, regardless of price. The other was asked to be careful and look for low prices. They both shopped in the same large New York supermarket. The impulse shopper spent $110 and the careful shopper spent $59.

Planning is a key for saving time and money because you:

- Make fewer shopping trips for forgotten items.
- Buy just what you need and avoid waste.
- Avoid impulse buying by using a grocery list.
- Take advantage of seasonal bargains.
- Can compare brands as you shop.

Unlike other adjustable rate mortgages, the 4Most can only jump so high.

15-Year 4Most Mortgage

4.5% 6.402%
rate APR

30-Year rate is 4.95% with 8.405% APR. Typical APR (annual percentage rate) includes interest on loan and other fees, and is based on a $100,000 loan with an 80% loan-to-value ratio. The APR may increase after closing. Interest rates and terms are subject to change at any time without notice.

While most ARMs can jump 6% over the life of the loan, our 4Most can jump by no more than 4%. Coupled with today's low interest rates, the 4Most is a smart choice for homebuyers who want to start with low monthly payments, and stay with them. The 4Most Mortgage. What it lacks in jumping ability, it makes up in sheer intelligence. Equal Housing Lender.

Michigan Leads Nation In Corneal Transplants

The month of March is nationally designated as Eye Donor Month and Washtenaw county has 107 very special reasons to celebrate. They include 21 of our county residents who received corneal transplants in 1992 and families of 86 other residents of our county who made the decisions last year to donate the corneas of their deceased loved ones. Donated eyes or corneas are used for transplantation. When that is not possible, the eyes are highly valued for research into the causes and treatment of blinding eye diseases.

It was tissue donated to the Michigan Eye-Bank that was, in turn, provided for the corneal transplants of our fellow residents of Washtenaw county. The Eye-Bank, with the assistance of a network of Lions-supported "substations" and dedicated staff at Michigan hospital, provides corneal tissue to patients throughout the state who are in need of transplants.

Corneal tissue is obtained when a member of the professional staff of a hospital or a local funeral director talks to family members about donation, following the death of their loved one. Often, the prospective donors have indicated that decision by signing the back of their driver's license or by signing a "Family Decision" pledge card provided by a local Lions Club.

Michigan is fortunate to have one of the nation's largest and most respected eye banks located within its borders. Last year alone, the Michigan Eye-Bank provided corneal tissue for transplant to more than 1,000 Michigan residents. In fact, the Michigan Eye-Bank ranked first in the nation for having donated tissue used in transplants for its home-state citizens.

For more information on becoming an eye donor or to find out how you can help the Michigan Eye-Bank continue to give the Gift of Sight, please call 1-800-247-7250.

"Nothing is impossible; there are ways that lead to everything and if we had sufficient will, we would always have sufficient means."
—La Rochefoucauld.

In this world, we have seen some excellent examples of "impossible" objectives achieved through determination and the willingness to use all necessary resources... the power of the atom and space probes, to name only two.

As individuals, the same concept prevails. There is no limit to what anyone can accomplish if he is willing to pay the price. Is the goal worth the effort? That is a question which each of us must answer for himself but, when the will is sufficient, the means will be found.

Our reputation for sympathetic, understanding service is based on the fact that we truly care about the families who have put their trust in us.

Christmas in April

The clean-up at 1200 Gene Dr. will serve a double purpose. Not only will it clean-up an eyesore but it may help the village resolve a legal dispute with its owner, Richard Machnik. More than a year ago the village took Machnik to court in order to force him to clean up his yard. A judge ruled in favor of the village. However, a year later the mess was still not cleaned up and Machnik was ordered to jail. Village council also voted to take the matter to circuit court to force the clean-up. That court date was set for this summer. A front-end loader will be required to clean up the yard.

Shaneyfelt said that the local program has received about $8,000 this year. Any excess funds will be used next year.

Browning-Ferris Industries, Inc. (BFI) has agreed to donate a 40-yard roll-off trash bin to handle all the debris that will result from the program. BFI will also donate landfill space for the refuse. The bin will be stationed at the village landfill on Werkner Rd. Last year the village donated space in the landfill, but now there is almost no room left.

Some of the major contributors to the program so far are the Plumbers and Pipefitters Local 190 of Ann Arbor, which has given $1,500 to each community, $1,200 from the Young Professional Association, a group of area physicians, and $600 from the Chelsea Rotary Club. Chelsea Lumber Co. also provides materials at a discount.

Gene Drive Study

That option, Dorer said, could cut 25 percent off the cost. He said it's likely the labor would be cheaper and the residents wouldn't be charged for mark-ups in materials.

"As far as I'm concerned, (the property owners) have to pay for it, but I feel a little sense of responsibility because the village didn't force the issue a long time ago," Dorer said.

The village has spent $2,500 on the initial report. That expense will become part of the over-all cost of the project if it proceeds. If not, the village will pay.

Modern development agreements are designed to avoid situations similar to Gene Dr. However, Dorer said there is no indication any agreement was ever reached for Gene Dr. The village agreed to annex the property, but the road was never built.

Between 1990 and 2005, total employment is projected to increase by 20 percent from 122.6 million to 147.2 million. Employment in jobs requiring a college degree is projected to increase by 39 percent—nearly double the rate of increase in total employment—although the rate of growth varies widely among the major occupational groups, according to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Printers Walk To Raise Funds for March of Dimes

On Sunday, April 25, printers from all over the Washtenaw county area will make the annual challenge to each other to raise the most money for the March of Dimes' WalkAmerica.

Nine area printing companies have already accepted the challenge, including Edwards Brothers, Inc., University Lithoprinters, BookCrafters, McNaughton & Gunn, Inc., Malloy Lithographing, Inc., Thomson-Shore, Inc., Cushing-Malloy, Inc., Braun-Brumfield, Inc., and the Ann Arbor News.

Dawn Bean, of BookCrafters, will be working extra hard to keep track of her company's team pledges. BookCrafters' team will actually walk in Jackson but will participate in the Washtenaw County Printer's Challenge.

The Printer's Challenge, also known as Step Out With the Printers, began in 1989 as the first challenge issued in the Ann Arbor area March of Dimes WalkAmerica. It is a challenge among printers to field teams, gather pledges and raise money for the March of Dimes campaign for healthier babies.

The printing team which collects the most money for March of Dimes wins possession of a traveling trophy. Since its inception, area printers have raised over $70,000. In 1992, McNaughton & Gunn stole the trophy away from Thomson-Shore. The competition will be even fiercer for 1993.

Step Out With the Printers is a fun way for employees of area companies in the printing industry to help prevent birth defects—the nation's number one child health problem. If your company is interested in fielding a team for the WalkAmerica, please call the March of Dimes at 761-6331.

Dexter Resident Dr. Hubert Joins McAuley Staff

Janet S. Hubert, M.D., has joined the Catherine McAuley System staff at the Packard Community Clinic in Ann Arbor.

Prior to joining the clinic, Hubert practiced at a community health center in Alpena for two years.

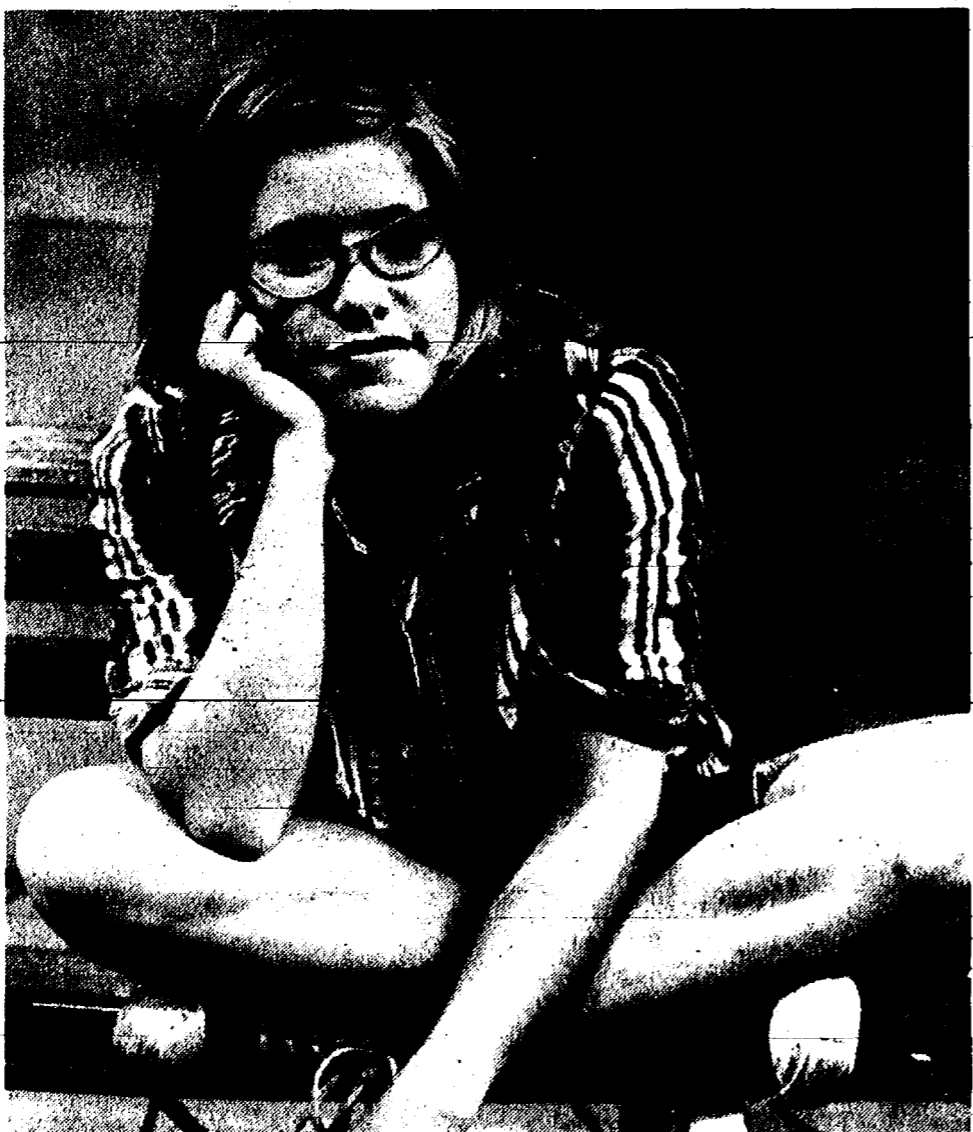

Hubert earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan and her medical degree from Michigan State University. She completed her residency in family practice at Brown University in Rhode Island.

Hubert and her husband Raymond Rion, M.D., and their three children currently reside in Dexter.

The Packard Community Clinic is located at 3174 Packard Rd. For more information, call (313) 971-1073.

CHRISTMAS IN APRIL will be held in Chelsea, Dexter, and all over Washtenaw county this Saturday. The program is designed for elderly, handicapped, and low-income residents who need house repairs or clean-up. Volunteers will spend all day working at area homes, completing everything from porch construction, to roofing, to painting. Funding comes from private donations. This year seven homes will be refurbished in the Chelsea area and six in Dexter. The house above is in Waterloo and was adopted by the Chelsea Lions Club.

KATE PECKHAM of Chelsea has the lead role in the Attic Theatre production of "The Good Times Are Killing Me," by Lynda Barry. The comedy is about coming of age in the early 1960's and is narrated by its 13-year-old heroine. The play remembers best friends, peer pressure, neighborhood toughs, crazy relatives, and the agony of younger siblings, all accompanied by songs of the era. Kate is the daughter of Carol and Tom Peckham of Chelsea. The play runs through June 27.

In the fall of 1933, President Franklin D. Roosevelt accepted a proposal for a forced draft-work-relief program, called the Civil Works Administration. As a result, four million people found work on secondary roads, schoolhouses, playgrounds and parks, according to "The American Worker," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

Everybody's Science

★ New Cayenne Pepper Is Hot Stuff...

If your taste buds favor a really hot pepper for home-made chilies and sauces, a new cayenne pepper may be the answer.

Charleston Hot "Is spicy and as hot as any cayenne pepper I've tasted," said Philip D. Dukes of the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Charleston, S.C. "It will be ideal for chili and other hot foods."

Among well-known chili peppers, "Charleston Hot is more than 20 times hotter than a jalapeno pepper and two to three times hotter than a tabasco pepper," said Dukes, a plant pathologist for USDA's Agricultural Research Service. He and plant geneticist Richard L. Fery developed Charleston Hot at the agency's U.S. Vegetable Laboratory in Charleston.

Dukes said Charleston Hot is ideal for home gardeners because it is compact, has high yields and is resistant to all four known types of southern root knot nematode and other species of that pest.

Nematodes damage plant roots, cutting yields by up to 50 percent and killing a plant under extreme conditions, Dukes said. Root knot nematodes avoid Charleston Hot—the pest's population around plant roots was reduced by 95 percent in field trials.

"Home gardeners also will like this new variety because it doesn't take up as much space as other cayenne pepper varieties," says Dukes. "It only grows about 18 inches high. It's colorful and produces excellent yields of about two pounds of fresh peppers per plant. We think it will also appeal to commercial growers."

Dukes said Charleston Hot has an unusual trait for a Cayenne pepper—it changes through a rainbow of colors as it ripens. The pepper starts out yellow-green—the color of the plant foliage—and changes to golden yellow, bright orange and then to deep red when it matures.

At maturity, a Charleston Hot pepper is about four inches long. One plant will produce about 150 pepper pods that collectively weigh about one-half pound when dried, he said.

Industrial production soared after the 1840s. In the space of five years, iron production increased by more than 300 percent, anthracite by 1,000 percent, and ship tonnage by about 250 percent, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bicentennial History of "The American Worker."

A Picture That Could Save Your Life

The best weapon against breast cancer is early detection, according to the American Cancer Society. A mammogram is a low-dose x-ray that helps your doctor "see" breast cancer before there's a lump—when the cure rates are near 100%. All women age 40 years and over should have a mammogram every other year, and every year after the age of 50, according to Nancy Maddox, acting program coordinator for Washtenaw County's women's cancer screen program (Title XV). Women who need free or low-cost mammograms and pap tests, should contact the Washtenaw County Public Health Division.

Rebecca Pryor To Live In France In Summer Program

Chelsea High school senior Rebecca Pryor has been selected to participate on the U.S. Experiment in International Living's France program this summer.

Pryor, daughter of Thomas and Sherill Pryor of Chelsea, and a group of high school students from around the U.S., will begin the summer with an orientation in Paris. From there she will go to live with a French family in a smaller community, where she will have the opportunity to learn the daily patterns of French life. After the homestay, she will join the group and tour southern France, visiting Nîmes, Avignon, Cannes, Nice, Monaco, and other areas.

The U.S. Experiment in International Living is a private, non-profit organization. It is the oldest organization of its kind in the country and invented the "homestay" concept of learning about the culture of another country.

The program is designed for highly-motivated young people.

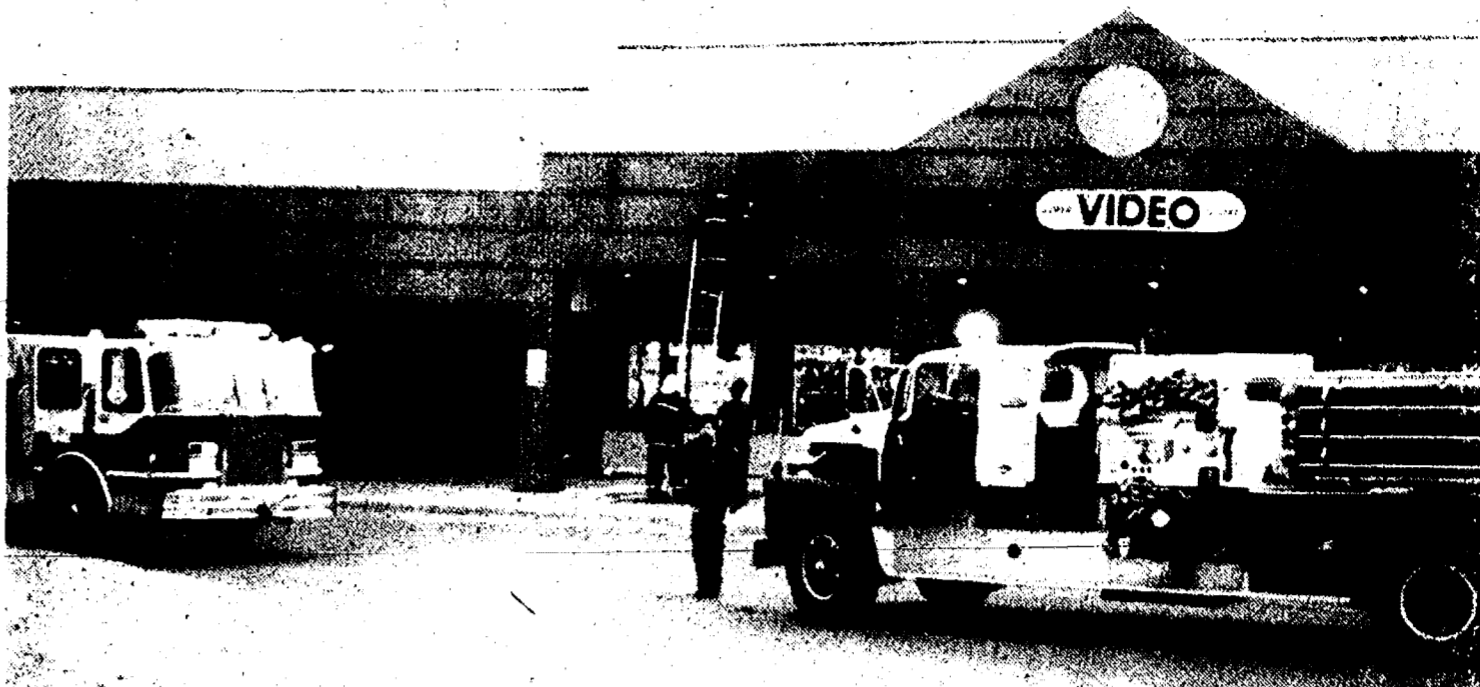

Food prices are sometimes perceived as measures of inflation because food is purchased more often than most other consumer goods. In 14 of the last 22 years, however, food prices rose more slowly than the over-all index of consumer prices.

Bulldogs Softball Team Opens Season with Split

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity softball team opened the season last week with a split of a double-header with Ann Arbor Pioneer on Thursday.

Saturday's Corunna Invitational was cancelled due to the weather.

Chelsea lost the first game, 8-2, but came back in the rain-shortened second game for a 7-4 victory.

In the first game, senior pitcher Erin Knott gave up six runs in the third inning on four hits, including a bases-loaded double, and a couple of errors.

The Bulldogs scored a single run in the third inning as Theresa Hurst singled home Nicki Piasecki, who also singled.

In the fourth inning, Nancy Pidd doubled, stole third, and scored on Piasecki's ground out.

Hurst had two of Chelsea's six hits.

In the second game, the Bulldogs held a 3-0 lead after four innings but fell behind, 4-3, in the top of the fifth.

However, a single by Carey Schiller, an error on a ground ball by Heather McConeghy, a hit batsman, a two-run error, a sacrifice fly by Liz Sager, and another error produced four runs for the Bulldogs in the bottom of the inning. That's when lightning came into the area and forced cancellation of the last two innings.

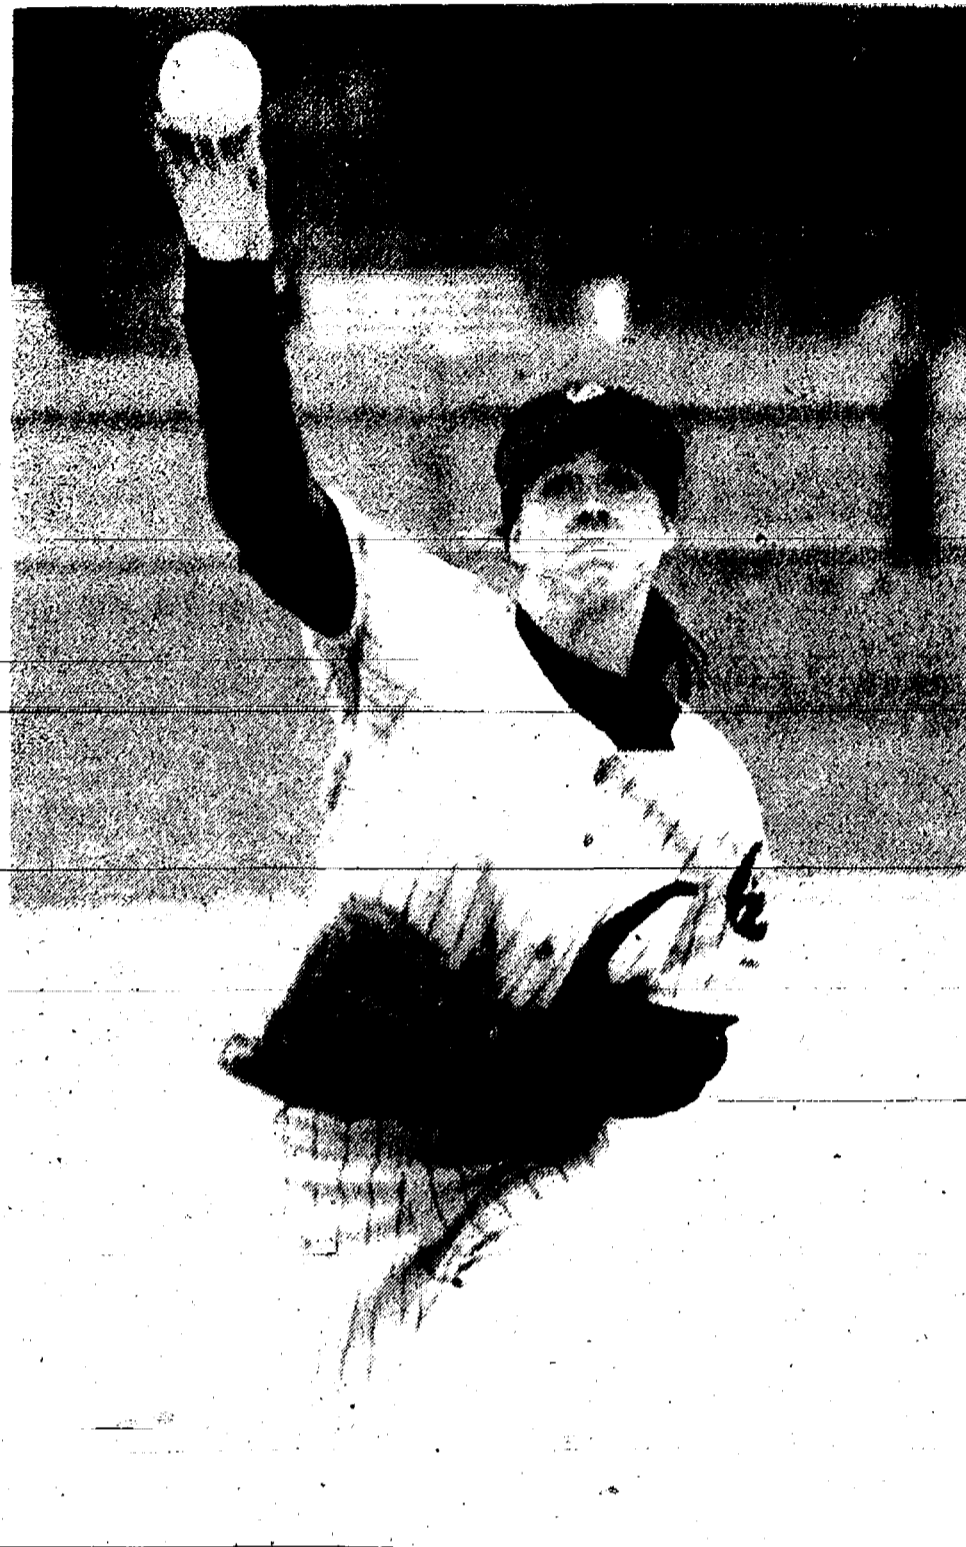

Chelsea had six hits in the second game. But unlike the first contest, when they struck out 10 times, no one fanned.

"I was real pleased with the way we came back," said Chelsea coach Joe Beard.

"Our mettle was tested right away. We had lost the first game, lost the lead in the second game, and were fighting the weather. We didn't hit as well as we would have liked but we started swinging the bat better late in the first game."

Schiller picked up her first varsity win on the mound as she gave up four hits and struck out five. She also hit a two-run double in the third inning.

The Bulldogs open Southeastern Conference play tomorrow at home against the Saline Hornets.

CHELSEA SHORTSTOP Gretchen Knutsen turns and throws to third base during last Thursday's home game against Pioneer. Chelsea lost the first game but won the second.

Chelsea Golfers Beat Ypsilanti

Chelsea Bulldogs girls golf team lost to Ann Arbor Huron last Thursday, April 15.

Scoring for Chelsea were Sarah Stolaski, Heather Wynn, Lisa Hughes, and Erin Armstrong.

On Monday, April 19 the Bulldogs defeated Ypsilanti, 291-305.

Chelsea scores were Wynn 59, Hughes 75, Stolaski 77, and Thayer 80.

Chelsea takes on Pinckney today and participates in the Monroe Jefferson Invitational on Friday.

Frosh Lose In Extra Innings

Chelsea Bulldogs' freshman baseball team lost to River Rouge in extra innings Friday, 13-11, in their season opener.

"I thought we played well for the first game of the season," said Chelsea coach Mark Scheese.

David Paton and Kent Young pitched for the Bulldogs.

Top Chelsea hitters included Ray Hatch, Young, and Mike Thayer, each with a double, and Josh Bernhard, who smacked a pair of triples. The Bulldogs had a total of eight hits.

Laura Unterbrink Pitching at BGSU

Former Chelsea High school softball pitcher Laura Unterbrink is pitching for Bowling Green State University this spring.

Unterbrink, a senior visual communication technology major, pitched in eight games last season, all in relief, and had a 1.31 earned run average.

According to the team's media guide, Unterbrink is battling with three other pitchers this spring for innings.

The U.S. has a mountain of surplus corn starch that could be used to produce more biodegradable bags and reduce petroleum imports. Incorporating starch into plastic saves money and can result in a product that's easier on the environment.

SENIOR LISA MONTI, the best distance runner in Chelsea Bulldogs history, has accepted a full scholarship to run cross country and track at the University of South Carolina in Columbia. Monti, who holds every Chelsea girls cross country record, as well as records in the 1600 (5:01) and 3200 (10:58), was recruited by dozens of schools from across the country. It all came down to South Carolina, she said, because "they were the nicest to me." South Carolina has recently entered the Southeastern Conference, which Chelsea assistant girls track coach Bert Kruse, above, called the best track conference in the country. She will probably run the 5,000 and 10,000 meter events, among others. Monti said she plans to major in criminal justice.

JV Baseball Team Drops Close Game to Airport

Chelsea Bulldogs' junior varsity baseball team scored plenty of runs in their season opener against Carleton Airport last Tuesday, but Airport was one run better, 11-10.

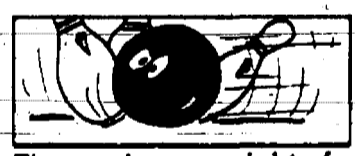

"We hit the ball quite well," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

"We will get better as the season progresses."

Chelsea held a 6-0 lead heading into the bottom of the third, but Airport got back in the game with five runs in the bottom of the inning, tied the contest in the fourth, and took a 9-6 lead in the fifth.

But the Bulldogs battled back with one run in the sixth and three more in the seventh for a 10-9 lead.

Chelsea scored three in the first on hits by Dirk Wales, Jeff Branch, and Ed Greenleaf; one in the second on a sacrifice fly; two in the third on a two-run single by Tom Payne; one in the sixth on a single by Wales; and three in the seventh on two walks and singles by Craig Leonard and Nick Brink.

The maximum weight of a bowling ball is 16 pounds.

Chelsea Avenges Loss In Victory Over Airport

Chelsea senior pitcher Colt White struck out nine and junior Matt Powell drove in four runs as the Bulldogs opened the season with a 7-3 victory over Carleton Airport last Tuesday at home.

"Airport beat us in the region tournament and have just about everyone back this year," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"It was a good way to start the season."

White, who should be the ace of the Bulldogs' pitching staff, allowed five hits and walked four while allowing only one earned run through six innings.

Chelsea took the early lead with four runs in the second inning. Ken Slane led off with a single; Pat Steele was hit by a pitch, and Colby Skelton walked to load the bases. Powell's single to center knocked in two runs, a wild pitch scored a third, and Tim Wescott's single plated the fourth run. In the bottom of the fifth, with the score 4-1, Chris Dunham singled, White walked, and Steve Grau singled in the fifth Chelsea run.

After singles by Steele and Skelton,

Powell's two-run double pushed the score to 7-1.

Airport picked up two unearned runs in the top of the seventh.

Powell and Wescott each had two of Chelsea's nine hits.

Saturday's Chelsea/Manchester Invitational was cancelled due to poor playing conditions.

"I rolled a ball across the infield and when one of the coaches picked it up there was ice all over it," Welton said.

"It didn't make any sense to have everyone wait around."

The Bulldogs open Southeastern Conference play at home tomorrow afternoon against the Saline Hornets.

Chelsea Netters Lose First Match

Chelsea Bulldogs tennis team lost to Haslett, 5-2, in their first match of the season last Tuesday.

"This was a new team for us and the match was a tough one," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

At first singles, Don Tippie of Chelsea defeated Ben Cousineau, 7-6, 6-2. Tippie won a tiebreaker in the first set, 7-5.

At second singles, freshman Dan Johnson of Chelsea lost to Matt Van Alstine, 0-6, 3-6. At third singles, Chelsea sophomore Kevin Coy lost to Jeremy Christians, 4-6, 6-7. He lost the tiebreaker, 3-7. At fourth singles, Chelsea's Jason Dunahoo was defeated by Ben Ducker, 1-6, 0-6.

At first doubles, Chelsea's Ryan Gerardi and Kevin Myers beat Craig Burns and Mike Grabmeyer, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4.

"This should be a very good team," Curtis said of her first doubles players.

At second doubles, Chelsea's Mike Bainton and Dan Koenigter were defeated by Matt Sederburg and Mike Grabmeyer, 2-6, 2-6.

At third doubles, Chelsea's Scott Dale and Ben O'Connor were defeated by Elton Beamish and Eric Palmer, 6-0, 6-3.

A match at Williamston on Thursday was rained out after being partially completed.

Tippie lost in three sets at first singles, 6-7, 0-6, 0-6; Johnson won at second singles in a three-hour match, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3; Matt Jachalke of Chelsea lost at third singles, 2-6, 2-6; Gerardi and Myers at first doubles lost 6-4, 0-6, 3-6; and Bainton and Koenigter were defeated at second singles, 0-6, 2-6. Other matches were incomplete.

"It was a great match for Dan (Johnson) and he had the discipline to win it," Curtis said.

Other members of the Chelsea team include Mike Diesing and Chris Giebel.

U.S. strawberry exports reached $130 million last year, making our country the world's second largest exporter of berries behind Europe. The primary market for U.S. fresh strawberries is Canada, which purchased 69 percent of U.S. exports in 1991. Demand from Mexico is also on the rise.

Chelsea Girls Track Team Whips Manchester Decisively at Home

Chelsea Bulldogs girls track team opened their season last week with a 110-18 victory over a young Manchester team on the Chelsea track.

The Bulldogs won every running event and two of four field events.

Junior Erin Schiller and sophomore Keri Kentala each had three firsts.

Schiller won the high jump at 5' and the 200 in :29.4. Kentala took the 100 hurdles in :17.5 and the 300 hurdles in :52. Each girl ran a leg of the winning 800 relay. Kentala also placed third in the long jump.

Senior Lisa Monti won the 1600 in 5:32.3 and the 3200 in 12:15.3.

Other Chelsea winners were Mara Smith in the discus at 90'4"; Theresa Royce in the 100 in :13.9; Laura Paton in the 400 in 1:03.2; and Beth Bell in the 800 in 2:35.4.

Bell, Robin Phelps, Val Bullock, and Sarah Henry combined to win the 3200 relay in 10:51.8, and Bell, Henry, Melissa Hand, and Andrea Ludwig won the 1600 relay in 4:34.

Paton, Schiller, Kentala, and Royce took the 800 relay in 1:54.3; and Megan McDonald, Monica Hansen, Laurie Schiller, and Sarah Schick won the 400 relay in :56.9.

In all, 22 runners scored for the Bulldogs.

"We had some good opening performances in less than ideal conditions of gusty winds and rain showers," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"Coach Bert Kruse and I were particularly pleased with Kentala's hurdle races, and Bell, Paton, and the 800 relay."

The Bulldogs host the Saline Hornets on Thursday and the annual Chelsea Invitational on Saturday.

Athletic Boosters Press Box May Require Expensive Elevator

A building code requirement may force the Chelsea Athletic Boosters to postpone the construction of a new press box.

Chelsea Trackmen Open Season With Victory Over Manchester

Chelsea Bulldogs boys track team won their first dual meet of the season last Thursday at home with an 85-52 victory over Manchester.

Chelsea won 10 of 17 events and swept two.

"This was a good opener for us," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"We are a very young team with 10 freshmen and 19 sophomores. Junior David Beeman had two fine throws and is obviously one of the best throwers in the state. Sophomore Scott Hawley had an excellent day, tying his best high jump, winning the 800, and running on two winning relays.

"Junior David Stimpson has worked hard and it showed as he recorded a lifetime best to win the high hurdles. Our newcomers Alex Selmanovic, Dan Wehrwein, and Jorge Rosario all had successful debuts. They will continue to improve. We are a little behind because of our late over-all start with our distance runners and our field events people, but this will improve since most of the distractions are over with."

Chelsea results follow.

Discus: 1. Beeman, 143' 9"; 2. Tom Poulter, 122' 10 1/4".

Shot put: Beeman, 53' 5 1/2"; 2. Poulter, 38' 5 5/8".

High jump: 3. Hawley, 5' 6".

Long jump: 1. Rob Frost, 18' 5 1/2".

Retirement Home Administrator Meets With Lawmakers

V. Gregory Hughes, administrator of the Chelsea Retirement Community, in Chelsea, met March 18, with representatives of Senator Carl Levin, Senator Don Riegler and Representative Bob Carr. Hughes was part of a four-person delegation from Michigan which was at the Capitol to discuss issues related to Long Term Care and Senior Housing.

"It was a valuable visit," Hughes said. "We discussed options for providing low-cost housing for Senior Citizens, as well as ways to bring Long Term Care services to many who are not now receiving them."

"Legislative staff were very responsive," he added. "We saw the effects of the Clinton administration's emphasis on Health Care reform. I'm confident that we are in the process of forging a stronger working relationship with our elected representatives."

Hughes met with Debbie Chang of Senator Don Riegler's office, Jackie Parker and Devon Anderson of Senator Carl Levin's office and Sharon Anderson of Representative Bob Carr's office. He met with them as a member of the Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association. MNPHA represents 164 Senior Living Facilities and over 23,000 older persons through leadership, advocacy and education.

Ag Spending To Rise While Programs for Farmers Decline

Total ag spending in the 1994 proposed federal budget is $43 billion, but well over half of that ($38 billion) is for direct consumer programs, such as school lunches, food stamps and other government feeding programs, according to an American Farm Bureau Federation analysis.

Consumer benefit items would rise about 7.2 percent while farm price and income supports would be cut by nearly 30 percent to $12 billion from $17 billion this year.

In the last several deficit reduction packages, agriculture has sustained disproportionately high cuts, said Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. "Yet, farm spending is one of the areas singled out for more cuts in the 1994 package," Almy said. "House and Senate committees must now map out specific tax increases and spending cuts to flesh out the president's budget blueprint already approved by both houses."

Two economists, James Schaub, of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and Daniel Sumner, of the University of California, write in Choices magazine that the full impact of President Clinton's vision for agriculture won't be visible until the 1995 farm bill takes effect. But even then, agriculture is a very small part of the problem, according to the economists. For example, if all farm program payments were eliminated, the savings would be less than one percent of the $1.52 trillion in government expenses.

Safe Food Handling Practices Will Help Prevent Most Illnesses

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

The recent E. coli 0157:H7 food-borne illness outbreak in the Pacific Northwest reminds us of the importance of safe food handling.

Foodborne illness is caused by consuming food-borne illness pathogens—microorganisms that can be bacteria, viruses or parasites. Food contaminated with these pathogens does not look, smell or taste different than uncontaminated foods. Because you can't detect these pathogens, the best way to avoid food-borne illness is to practice behaviors that prevent the growth of these pathogens in or on food.

Not all foods that we purchase are contaminated with pathogens at the time of purchase. In fact, one of the ways food becomes contaminated is from our handling it and transferring the pathogens on our hands to the food. Personal hygiene is a critical first step in safe food handling. It's important to wash your hands in hot, soapy water—and to lather for 20 seconds—before handling food or before eating.

Using safe food handling techniques (see "Tips") and practicing good personal hygiene can virtually eliminate our chances of contracting food-borne illness from food prepared at home.

Ground Beef

Many outbreaks of food-borne illness caused by contamination of ground beef with E. coli 0157:H7 occur because of the nature of E. coli contamination and the methods used to prepare ground beef. This particular pathogen grows in the intestines of warm-blooded animals, such as cattle. During slaughter, the carcass surface can become contaminated with fecal matter. In the grinding process, surface contamination can be transferred throughout the ground beef. The extensive handling of ground beef during manufacture also adds to its greater chance of contamination. Then, if the product is undercooked, bacteria in the center of the meat will not be killed.

Safety Tips

The following tips will help you reduce the risk of getting food-borne illness from improperly cooked ground beef—or any food.

—Cook meat to an internal temperature of 160 degrees F or until the center is light gray and the juices are clear. Cook poultry to 180 degrees F.

—Prevent cross contamination of raw or under-cooked food with other foods. Do not use the same dish and

High Blood Pressure Often Referred to As The Silent Killer

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist
High blood pressure has been called the silent killer because this deadly disease has no symptoms. The only way you can tell if you have high blood pressure is to have it measured. Uncontrolled high blood pressure can lead to strokes and other serious cardiovascular diseases.

Blood pressure is defined by the systolic pressure (the amount of pressure when your heart muscle contracts) and the diastolic pressure (the pressure when the heart muscle relaxes). Blood pressure is considered normal when the systolic pressure is less than 130 millimeters (mm) of mercury and the diastolic pressure is less than 90 mm of mercury.

According to the 1988-1991 National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANESIII), 50 million Americans may have high blood pressure. Despite this high number the situation is improving. The number of individuals who know of their condition has increased 51 percent in 1971-72 to 84 percent in 1988-1991.

African-American men are at particular risk from high blood pressure. The NHANESIII data suggest that there has been a 60 percent increase in the number of black men whose high blood pressure is under control.

The National Institutes of Health Joint National Committee on Detection, Evaluation and Treatment of High Blood Pressure has issued guidelines for treating elevated blood pressure. The guidelines are based on a classification system for the severity of high blood pressure. The recommended treatment begins with changing lifestyle factors, such as reducing weight, increasing exercise and limiting salt and alcohol intake. If this approach is not effective, the committee recommends that clinicians prescribe medication. The following table includes the classification system from the National High Blood Pressure Education Program:

Category	Systolic (mm mercury)	Diastolic (mm mercury)
Normal	less than 130	less than 85
High Normal	130-139	85-89
Hypertension Stage 1 (mild)	140-159	90-99
Stage 2 (moderate)	160-179	100-109
Stage 3 (severe)	180-209	110-119
Stage 4 (very severe)	greater than 210	greater than 120

If you are not sure whether you have high blood pressure or if you want more information on this classification system, consult with your family physician.

I AM FREE

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God laid for me
I took His hand when I heard Him call,
I turned my back and left it all
I could not stay another day,
To laugh, to love, to work or play,
Tasks left undone must stay that way,
I found that peace at the close of the day.
If my parting has left a void,
Then fill it with remembered joy.
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss,
Ah, these things I too will miss:
Be not burdened with time of sorrow,
I wish for you the sunshine of tomorrow.
My life's been full, I savored much.
Good friends, good times, a loved one touched.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief,
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free.

Ask Some Critical Questions Before Beginning A Diet

By Debbie Barrow, Extension Home Economist

If it's getting to be the time of year when shedding a few pounds becomes one of your goals, think twice about the method you choose. An estimated 50 million Americans will go on diets this year. Anyone who has been on a diet knows that the hardest part of losing weight is keeping it off. Only 5 percent of people who lose weight keep all of it off long-term.

Diets that sound too good to be true may be harmful and the results may not be long-lasting. Be skeptical of claims using words such as easy, effortless, guaranteed, miraculous, secret or exclusive. Don't contribute to the $30 billion a year weight-loss business unless you have asked and answered a few important questions:

1. Am I interested in losing weight permanently? If so, you will need to change exercise and eating habits.

2. What are the health risks? Are certain groups of foods eliminated completely from the diet? If so, be wary of the diet.

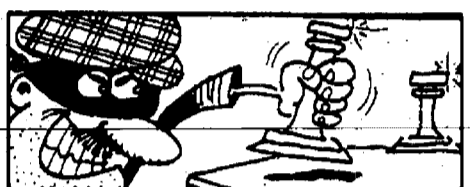

3. What data does a program or product have to show its long-term results?

4. What are the costs?

5. What are the credentials of the people offering the program?

6. Is the diet realistic and does it have long-term possibilities?

Before investing in programs or products, determine if you really want to lose a few pounds. There are risks associated with severe weight loss, including gallstones, cardiac and intestinal disorders, anemia and aching muscles. Perhaps toning muscles is your real goal. Positive changes in exercise and eating habits, such as beginning a walking program and reducing the amount of fat you eat, often have weight loss as a side effect.

DYSLEXIA

This is a condition that creates a great deal of confusion and anxiety. Parents frequently ask us if their child's eyes are the cause of their learning disability, and if there is anything we can do to improve their reading ability.

Dyslexia is a disorder of the brain in which "processing" of information is impaired. Usually the affected individual has difficulty recognizing written material, and may have trouble writing. More severely affected dyslexics may have difficulty understanding things said to them.

While the causes of dyslexia are not fully understood, we do know that it involves a brain defect, is not an eye problem, and that it may be hereditary. This brain defect does not affect intelligence, and the affected person may even be above normal in intelligence.

Symptoms of dyslexia include poor comprehension of reading material, poor performance on written testing despite adequate intelligence, slow reading or repeated reading of the same material, or reversing words or letters when writing. A child's inability to perform in school may lead to low self-esteem, which may result in withdrawal or rebellion.

If parents suspect their child has a learning disability, they should inform the teacher or principal, who will arrange diagnostic testing. Children or adults with dyslexia can be helped by specifically tailored education programs, and emotional support is needed to emphasize success in other areas.

Agriculture Census Data Needed from Nation's Farmers

If all farmers and ranchers are not counted in the Census of Agriculture, decisions on farm programs, agriculture trade, extension programs, and others will suffer. In the long run every farmer and rancher will be affected.

The data from the Census of Agriculture are essential in allocating billions in agriculture funds every year.

The distribution of extension program funds depends on the census.

The number of acres of cropland that can be put into the conservation reserve program in your county is based on the census.

Funds for farm disaster relief are tied to data from the census.

Farm loan money available to states and counties depend on the numbers in the census.

These are but a few examples of why an undercount in the Census of Agriculture could be detrimental to every farmer and rancher in this country.

In addition, the government's negotiators on agriculture commodity trade rely heavily on the census data. If the information is understated, then American producers may not get the best benefits possible from current trade negotiations.

According to George Pierce, assistant chief of the Census Bureau's Agriculture Division, "More than 75 percent of America's farmers and ranchers have completed and returned their Census of Agriculture report. Others have requested time extensions until they complete their tax returns. But there are still quite a few that we haven't heard from. Response in some states and counties is better than others." What does this mean? Those states and counties with the greatest undercount may not receive their share of the agriculture programs, funding, trade considerations, educational funds, and consideration in Congress.

Pierce said, "What we also think has happened is that a lot of people who are no longer actively farming pitched their forms in the trash. That's human nature. But we need to know who's not farming by sending the form back indicating their situation. Meanwhile, the slow returns from non-farmers combined with farmers and ranchers who haven't mailed back their forms keeps the returns below the level we need to publish complete and accurate data."

If someone needs help on questions or who should report or needs another form, call toll free at 1-800-233-6132. By completing and returning their 1992 Census of Agriculture forms they help "Make it Known... America Counts on Agriculture."

support of their many sight conservation projects. Major projects of the Lions of Michigan include: Leader Dogs for the Blind in Rochester; Michigan Eye Bank and Transplantation Center in Ann Arbor; and Welcome Home for the Blind (a home for the elderly blind) in Grand Rapids. The Lions also support many community projects with the funds they collect during White Cane Week. Funding for eye examinations and eyeglasses for the needy is an important service provided by many Lions Clubs.

The "White Cane Law" states that drivers of vehicles shall take all necessary precautions when approaching a crosswalk, or any other pedestrian crossing, to avoid accident or injury to a blind person carrying a cane or being led by a dog guide in harness.

Public Accommodation Laws require that all public facilities must permit a blind person being led by a dog guide in harness to enter and use such premises.

To symbolize and create awareness of their efforts, the Lions have chosen 18-year-old Ms. Mary Ann Topolewski of Clinton township as White Cane Queen for 1993.

Dog Walkathon Slated To Benefit Humane Society

Humane Society of Huron Valley (HSHV) is stretching its legs and gaining speed as preparation for the 14th annual Dog Walkathon gains momentum.

On Saturday, May 8, in celebration of "Be Kind to Animals Week," hundreds of Humane Society supporters—and just as many dogs—will spend a fitness-filled day mixing fun with exercise to raise money to feed and house Washtenaw county's thousands of homeless animals. "All animal lovers and walking enthusiasts are invited to join the fun beginning at 9 a.m. as walkers gather at the Shelter to head out on a scenic six-mile route on country roads."

This year HSHV hopes to draw at least 500 walkers in an attempt to raise $50,000. Last year walkers raised $43,000 for the animals.

To encourage those extra miles and pledges, this year's grand prize is a Sony Video 8 Handycam. Many other prizes will also be awarded to both individual and team walkers.

To obtain a pledge sheet or to make a pledge, call (313) 682-5585, ext. 113, or visit the Shelter at 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., Ann Arbor. The shelter is open Thursday through Tuesday, noon to 6 p.m. With or without a dog, take a walk with the Humane Society and benefit not only the animals but your health as well.

The Dec. 15 Space Shuttle flight will have some special flowering plants on board as scientific cargo. Astronauts hope to find out how weightlessness affects growth and reproduction of plants that could provide both oxygen and food for future space voyages to Mars.

MARY ANN TOPOLEWSKI
Michigan Lions White Cane Queen
Lions Choose 1993 White Cane Queen

Eighteen-year-old Mary Ann Topolewski of Clinton township has been selected the 1993 Lions of Michigan White Cane Queen. Mary Ann was blinded at birth by Laebers Congenital Amrosis. She will graduate this year from L'Anse au Lac High school. After graduation, she will attend Western Michigan University, where she will work toward a degree in business. She plans a career in advertising or retail marketing.

Mary Ann is a member of the National Honor Society. She has been "Student of the Month," and has won the "Best Vocalist" trophy three times at school talent shows. Her hobbies include singing, playing keyboards, composing music, and reading. She has written six songs and co-written two others.

Mary Ann will represent over 20,000 Michigan Lions as she travels throughout the state to attend various community events. She will act as a spokesperson for the visually impaired by making the public aware of the White Cane Law and Public Accommodation Laws.

The White Cane Law ensures safety to blind pedestrians by requiring motorists to take all necessary precautions when approaching a crosswalk. A blind pedestrian carrying a white cane or being led by a dog guide in harness has the right-of-way. Public Accommodation Laws state that a blind person with a dog guide in harness may not be refused entry to a public facility.

Governor John Engler has proclaimed April 23 through May 2 as "White Cane Week" in Michigan.

Record supplies of turkey at attractive retail prices are expected to cause record sales during the upcoming holiday season. But turkeys face strong competition from ample supplies of low-price pork.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
May 1st is Loyalty Day. I wonder how many are aware of the reason we observe May 1st.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars started the observance of Loyalty Day in the early 1930s when communist agitators in America held parades on May 1st in which they attacked our country and our way of life.

This Day received national recognition in 1958 when President Eisenhower signed Public Law 529.

Today, long after the disappearance of communism, Americans still observe Loyalty Day on which to reaffirm our loyalty to our country and allegiance to our country's flag.

Lois Speer, President
VFW Ladies Auxiliary No. 4076

Dear Editor,

We'd like to tell the people of Chelsea, if they want to see some great entertainment, with a touch of Chelsea, to go and see "Forever Plaid." It has been in Ferndale but will be moved to the Gem Theatre in Detroit, on April 16.

It is a wonderful musical comedy with lots of 50's sentimental music and style.

We saw it last night, with our own CHS grad, Michael Denham (Smith) playing the part of Frankie. Michael is an understudy for two different parts. He did a super job and makes us proud that he is from Chelsea. Don't miss it! Try to see it when Michael is playing one of the parts.

Finalists Selected For Asst. Principal

Three finalists have been selected from among 60 applicants for the position of assistant principal at Chelsea High school.

Manchester Man Receives Marines' Meritorious Mast

Marine Cpl. Allen R. Carson, son of Stephen A. and Hattie M. Carson of 5190 Happy Hollow Dr., Manchester, recently received a Meritorious Mast. Carson was cited for outstanding service while assigned with Headquarters, 10th Marines, 2nd Marine Division, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

A Meritorious Mast is an official recognition from a Marine's commanding officer for superior individual performance. It is issued in the form of a bulletin published throughout the command, and a copy is entered in the Marine's permanent service records.

The 1989 graduate of Manchester High school joined the Marine Corps in May, 1989.

The finalists include interim assistant principal Robin Raymond, who was appointed earlier this year after former assistant Joe Rossi resigned to take a position at Saline High school.

The other finalists include R. Scott Crafton, principal of AuGres-Sims Junior/Senior High school, and Marc Helms, a teacher and coach at Lakewood High school.

Raymond is not fully certified for the position, but principal Ron Mead believes Raymond can meet the requirements for next school year.

Mead said Raymond has "been doing a great job."

Most assistant principals don't keep the job for more than a few years as the position is usually a stepping stone to becoming a principal.

The Co-operative Extension Service warns that as many as 20 percent of adolescents are so dissatisfied with their body image that they use starvation diets and binge eating to achieve ultra thinness. Adults should be alert for the danger signs of poor eating habits in teens.

Farm Bureau Says Corn Program Will Help Farmers

This week's corn crop disaster payment announcement from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is very positive news for farmers, according to Michigan Farm Bureau (MFB) public affairs director Al Almy. "Michigan corn-producers experienced some severe losses, and this program should help offset those losses as farmers go into their 1993 planting season," said Almy.

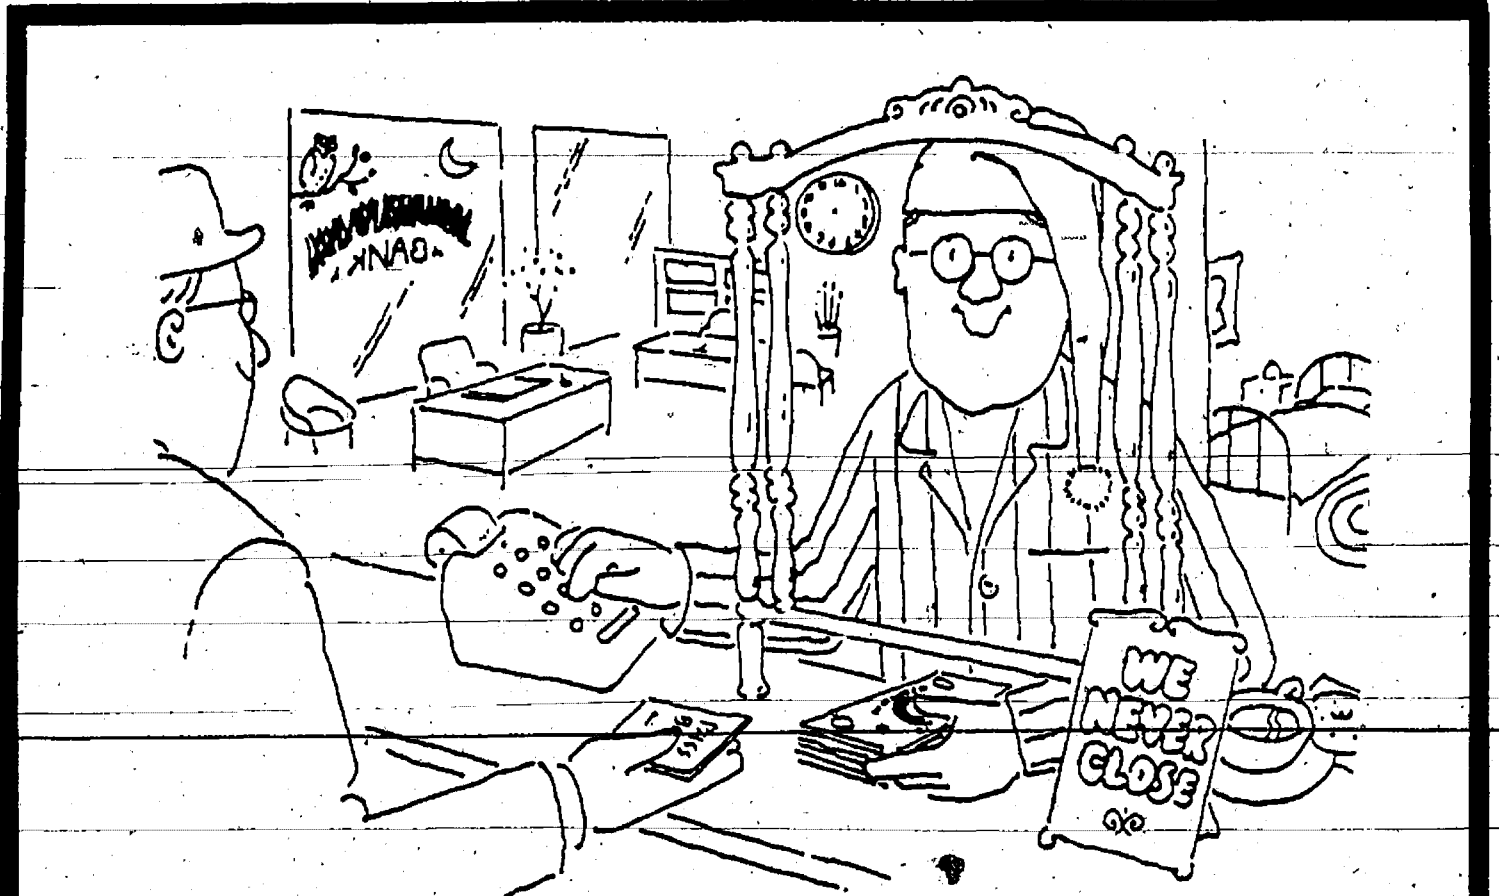

The announcement came after requests from MFB and Michigan congressmen to former USDA Secretary Ed Madigan and current Secretary Mike Espy to include quality considerations in addition to quantity criteria when making disaster payments available.

In a Dec. 17, 1992 letter to Madigan, MFB President Jack Laurie urged the secretary to exercise his discretionary authority to allow grade standards to be used as eligibility criteria for disaster assistance.

In a March 1993 letter to Espy, Laurie again encouraged USDA to reconsider the need for quality-based disaster criteria.

"We'd like to compliment Sen. Don Riegle and the entire Michigan congressional delegation for their efforts to work with the Secretary of Agriculture in documenting the losses and also providing the political support for a positive decision," Almy said.

By the year 2000, many companies with older workforces may find that their aging, higher-paid workers make them uncompetitive. This will be particularly true of companies in slowly growing industries or ones in which productivity is defined by production systems rather than by worker knowledge or skills, according to "Workforce 2000," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

Assistant Manager Applicants Have Diverse Backgrounds

Village of Chelsea's advertisements for an assistant village manager have drawn six applications from engineers who were born and educated outside the U.S.

Three applicants are from India, two from the former Soviet Union, and one from Israel. As of Monday, 41 applications had been received at the village offices.

Of the applicants from India, one was educated at the Guru Nanak Engineering College, a second attended Punjab State Board of Technical Education, and a third studied at Jabalpur University.

The former Soviets were educated at the Civil Engineering Institute in Kiev and the Institute of Building Engineers in Moscow.

The Israeli, who said he is fluent in English, French, and Hebrew, attended the Israel Institute of Technology.

Village manager Jack Myers said it was too early to tell whether any of the foreign-educated applicants would be called for an interview. The village is looking for a civil engineer for its next assistant manager.

Downtown Merchants Plan Sidewalk Days

Chelsea Downtown Merchants Association has plans underway for this year's 20th annual Sidewalk Sale Days and Craft Show scheduled for Friday, July 30 and Saturday, July 31.

As in the past all merchants will participate by offering fantastic sales for the two-day event.

Park Street once again will be blocked to allow a wide assortment of hand-crafted items to be sold at individual craft booths.

Entertainment and food vendors will again be set up on E. Middle St. offering ice cream, pizza, hot dogs, refreshments and more from local restaurants. In addition the DMA is asking all village residents to participate in a village-wide garage sale. The merchants will keep track of anyone holding a garage sale during the two days and offer maps that will list the sale locations. More information on the garage sale and who to contact to sign up will be offered later in the spring.

To celebrate this year's 20th sale any group or organization interested in getting involved in this community-wide event should contact DMA president Daleen Harper at Harper Shoes. Perhaps you have a group or organization interested in a fund-raising event such as a food booth or even holding your own event such as a chicken broil on your own property. This is a great time to get involved because advertising by the DMA is extensive. Groups who have benefited from their involvement in the past include Kiwanis, Music Boosters, Dexter Kiwanis, Chelsea Children's Co-op, Chelsea Boy Scouts, Chelsea Girl Scouts, Chelsea Fair Board, McKune Library, area churches and many more non-profit organizations. Please join the merchants this year by attending the event or getting involved yourself.

utensils you used with raw food with cooked food. Bacteria in raw food juices will contaminate the cooked product. Any surface coming into contact with raw products must be properly cleaned and sanitized to ensure it will not contaminate other foods.

—Keep cold foods cold—40 degrees F or less, and hot foods hot—higher than 140 degrees F. After purchasing perishable foods, quickly store them in the refrigerator or freezer. Do not thaw foods at room temperature.

—Wash hands thoroughly after using the bathroom and before preparing food. Some food-borne illness pathogens can be transmitted from hands to food. Hand washing is a simple practice, but it's what is often forgotten.

PLAYGROUND CONSTRUCTION BEGINS: The new Pierce Park playground is scheduled to be built this Thursday and Friday by village crews and installers from the playground company. Recently, probationers from Cassidy Lake Boot Camp have been preparing the grounds and increasing the safety of other equipment by adding 12" of wood chips. A walkway to permit wheelchair access to the new structure is being built. Bucket seats for toddlers and an older-child swing set will also be placed. Older equipment will be painted green, beige, and brown to match the new equipment. The structure will be available for use this week-end, assuming the weather allows construction to take place.
