Chelsea Forensics Team Places Third in State

Chelsea High school forensics team placed third in the state and senior Scott Leeman was a state champion in poetry at the Michigan Interscholastic Forensics Association Finals at Western Michigan University last Friday and Saturday.

Leeman, the second two-time state champion in school history, won with his rendition of "Tongues" by Sam Shepherd in the poetry division. Last year he took a state title with Rob Coelius, now a student at Eastern Michigan University, in the duo division. Coelius is the only other two-time state winner.

Ninety-eight schools from all classifications participated. In class B Chelsea finished behind Andover and Frankenmuth.

Other state competitors from Chelsea also fared well. Jessica Caulfield placed eighth in drama with "Painting Churches." Megan Stielstra tied for 14th in impromptu speaking. The multiple of Nate Gilliken, Sarah Stolaski, Maya Ponte, and Mark Carlson placed sixth with "Sure Thing." Becky Pryor tied for 19th in prose with "Death of a Dog and Other Disasters." David Seitz placed seventh in sales with "ACO Hardware." And Joanna Richison was eighth in storytelling.

Chelsea Landfill Changes To Solid Waste Facility

The Village of Chelsea Sanitary Landfill is history, or will be very shortly. But in its place is the Chelsea Solid Waste Facility.

The village decided last week to change the name of the facility to reflect its new character. No longer will there be an actual landfill in which to dump trash since it is filled to the brim. However, the facility will continue to handle trash just as it always has only now the garbage will be dumped into roll-off containers and hauled to another landfill.

Village residents will still use the bag-and-sticker system. Township residents will still be able to take their trash to the Solid Waste Facility.

Hours will remain the same: 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, and Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Village manager Jack Myers said hours may eventually be changed or even expanded.

The village now has to work on closing the landfill according to Department of Natural Resources specifications. It is supposed to have 90 days to complete the job, but Myers is still trying to find out just what the closure will entail. The village may be forced (Continued on page five)

School Board Approves Two Separate Ballots For District Election

Two separate ballots for the annual June 14 school elections were approved Monday night by the Chelsea Board of Education, but most Chelsea school district voters will only see one of them.

The two ballots were created to reflect what could happen to the June 2 state-wide referendum called Proposal A. In the state election, voters will be asked to approve a constitutional amendment which would authorize a two-cent increase in the sales tax to be dedicated to funding schools, in exchange for property tax relief. If approved, the measure would radically change the way Chelsea schools are funded.

If proposal A is approved, Chelsea operating millage would be rolled back from 37.7285 mills to 18 mills. The state would guarantee that Chelsea will get about $5,300 per student next year. However, primarily because the state will shove some social security and retirement costs off on to local districts, Chelsea will need about $1.8 million more in order to maintain its current program, according to assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

Consequently, if Proposal A passes, Chelsea voters will be asked to approve an additional 5.6377 mills, pushing the property tax levy to 23.6377 mills. That would also include .8692 mills dedicated to maintenance.

If proposal A fails, Chelsea voters will be asked, instead, to approve a base operating millage of 26.69 mills, which all expires this year. When the non-voted allocated millage is included, Chelsea's total operating millage would be rolled back from 37.7285 mills to 35.6285 mills, reflecting this year's large property assessment increases.

So either way, Chelsea-area residents will get some millage relief.

The only voters who will receive and vote on both ballots are absentee voters who cast their ballots before June 2. Absentee ballots are available May 25.

The Chelsea board has taken no formal position on Proposal A, but may do so at their May 17 meeting.

"The real problem I have with [Proposal A] is there is no provision for the cost of doing business," Piasecki said.

"Our costs in Chelsea are a lot different than they are in another district like Breckenridge," Piasecki said of his former district.

Piasecki said the majority of school districts would benefit substantially from the proposal, but Chelsea is "not one of them," because the district already spends more than the base guarantee of $4,800 per pupil. However, district property owners would have their property taxes rolled back by 14 mills.

In other board business, administrative salaries were approved for 1993-94, which reflect a 4.5 percent increase over last year, the same increase negotiated in last year's teacher contract for most other district employees.

The new salaries are as follows: Joe Piasecki, superintendent, $77,997; Fred Mills, assistant superintendent, $73,043; Henry DeYoung, special education director, $67,882; Laurie Bissell, curriculum director, $57,532; Wayne Welton, athletic director, $56,217; Jeff Rohrer, community education director, $56,176; Bill Wescott, North school principal, $60,898; Lucy Stieber, South school principal, $58,211; Darcy Stielstra, Beach school principal, $64,125; Ron Mead, high school principal, $69,518; Marcus Helms, assistant high school principal, $54,000.

The board discussed the school district's policy of reserving Wednesday as a day off from school extracurricular activities, a policy it would apparently like to continue. The board decided to allow two exceptions for next year.

The board authorized the district to borrow money in anticipation of tax revenues at 2.45 percent from the Michigan Municipal Bond Authority.

Lakewood Teacher Hired As Assistant Principal

A social studies teacher and head football coach at Lakewood Lake Odessa High school has been hired as the new assistant principal for Chelsea High school.

Marcus Helms, who brought his team here last fall to play the Bulldogs in the first round of the high school football playoffs, was approved for the position Monday night by the Chelsea Board of Education.

Helms, in his late 30's, has been a teacher in Lakewood since 1987. He previously taught in Oscoda. He earned his bachelor's degree at Eastern Michigan University and his master's degree in educational administration at Michigan State University in 1988. After completing his undergraduate degree he spent five years in the U.S. Army and was stationed at Ft. Dix and Ft. Benning.

"He had outstanding recommendations from every place he ever worked," said principal Ron Mead.

"We talked to administrators and teachers and in integrity issues he was considered to be outstanding."

Mead said that what set Helms apart from the other two finalists is that he has all his school work in order and that he has experience in school improvement issues. Helms, Mead said, will not coach football although he might help out informally on an occasional basis.

Helms was interviewed twice, the first time by teachers Barb Pruess, Jim Winter, and John Capper, school board member Jane Diesing, parent

Ellie Strong and student Becca Flin-toff. The second round included Diesing, Mead, and superintendent Joe Piasecki.

Piasecki said Helms may not have been a candidate here had he not brought his team to Chelsea last fall. Helms, he said, was impressed by the treatment he and his team received here by everyone from coaches, fans, and players to the team physicians.

As assistant principal, Helms will be responsible for discipline and attendance, student activities other than athletics, some teacher evaluation and supervision, and work on school improvement issues.

Helms is married and has three young sons.

Village Accepts Bid For Garage Clean-up

Demolition of a portion of the former village department of public works building on North St. is scheduled to begin later this month.

Village council accepted a bid of $205,971.50 from Inland Waters Pollution Control, Inc. to take down part of the building, excavate and remove contaminated soil, pump out the contaminated water, and replace curb and pavement.

Cost of the project is scheduled to be paid by the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance (MUSTFA) fund. The work has to be completed because old underground gasoline tanks leaked.

The most expensive single portion of the project is $127,750 to excavate and remove soil.

The only other bid, $247,658, came from the Chelsea firm of Davidson Sales & Maintenance.

According to The Traverse Group, a consulting firm hired by the village, the primary reason for the difference in bids is that Inland Waters has their own large fleet of trucks and equipment while Davidson Sales uses a number of subcontractors.

AN OPEN HOUSE for three retiring employees at the Chelsea 14th District Court was held last Friday in the courthouse. On hand to honor and say goodbye to Betty Murphy, Agnes Boylan, and Janet Longworth were all the judges who have served over the years in the Chelsea court. The women were given several gifts, including clocks from money donated by area attorneys. From left are retired Judge Henry Arkison, Judge Patrick Conlin, Murphy, Boylan, Longworth, Judge Karl Fink, and current Judge Kenneth Bronson. The women average more than 20 years of service each. Judge Bronson, reflecting on the county's offer of early retirement for some employees, said he never expected the women here to be affected. "I'm still stuck about it," he joked.

The Chelsea to Ann Arbor bus route apparently looks like it will continue for at least another year. Chris White, manager for service development for the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority, said last week that neither Chelsea or Dexter would be asked to contribute money to the program. He said money from the new Michigan Bus Services Grant, along with fares, would cover costs at least until next May.

The rock at the corner of East St. and Harrison St., which has been regularly painted by students, reunion groups, and others, is looking for a new home. Owners of the Schoolhouse Apartments want to get rid of the rock, citing vandalism and noise problems, among other nuisances. Apartment management approached village council last week to ask if the village would be interested in having it.

Owners of what is commonly known as the Schneider Estate off S. Main St. opposite Chelsea Community Hospital have approached the village about building a planned unit residential development as well as an office development.

★ Hyping the Head Start Program . . .

By John Hood

The Head Start program is, in the words of founder Edward Zigler, "America's most successful education experiment." Zigler is exactly right, if success is measured by good public relations.

Politicians from both major parties are fond of touting Head Start, the popular federal program that provides pre-school and health services to poor children. Social activists, educators and journalists love it (for the latter, the smiling faces of preschoolers make for excellent television). Even business leaders who are otherwise frustrated and disgruntled with "business as usual" in education policy support it. President Clinton wants to spend more on it.

What is it about this 30-year-old, $2.2 billion program that so many find attractive? Without a doubt, it is the widely-held belief that investing a public dollar now in Head Start will save many more dollars in the future. The program's advocates argue that if we can intervene early enough in poor children's lives, giving them a boost toward becoming good students and well-adjusted teens, then many of them will not grow up to be welfare mothers, deadbeats or criminals.

It's a nice thought, but there's a snag in the sales pitch: There is virtually no evidence that Head Start has any significant impact on children's lives in the long run. Zigler's praise would be much more accurate if he had described the programs as "America's most successfully over-sold education experiment."

Certainly, Head Start children tend to score better than their peers when they enter first grade. But after about two years of public school, the disadvantaged who attended Head Start tend to perform at about the same level as those who did not—that is, poorly. Two years is all it takes for the educational "gains" from Head Start to disappear.

A 1985 analysis by the Department of Health and Human Services found that ambitious claims for Head Start's long-term effects were exaggerated. "In the long run," the department's report noted, "cognitive and socio-emotional test scores of former Head Start students do not remain superior to those of disadvantaged children who did not attend Head Start." More recent research confirms this conclusion.

The source of all the hype about Head Start is really the experience of a few atypical, idiosyncratic preschool programs whose specific designs include a great deal of parental involvement, funding, and staff training. The most famous of these is located here in Michigan—at the Perry Pre-school in Ypsilanti.

In 1962, Perry selected 123 poor children to take part in an experiment. Half the group was given two years of pre-school instruction and services, two and a half hours a day, five days a week. The other half—the experiment's control group—took part in no pre-school program. The children were then tracked throughout their academic careers into adulthood.

The first group demonstrated not only significant short-term gains—higher IQ scores one year into the program, for example—but long-term gains as well. About two-thirds of them graduated from high school, compared to 50 percent of the control group. Similarly, whereas 51 percent of the control group had been arrested by age 19 for some crime, less than a third of the others had.

Studies of the long-term effects of the Perry program (many conducted by its operators) made a big splash when they were first published in the early 1980s. Advocates of Head Start, then a far less ambitious and costly effort than it is today, were ecstatic. Ever since, they've used the findings to argue for more federal money.

The problem is that studies of the Perry project don't tell policy makers very much about the effectiveness of Head Start. The performance of a Ford Escort is not judged by test-driving a Lincoln Continental. "These programs (such as Perry's) were conducted under ideal circumstances," writes Ron Haskins, a staff member of the U.S. House Ways and Means Committee, in an influential article in American Psychologist. It seems unwise to claim that the benefits produced by such exemplary programs would necessarily be produced by ordinary pre-school programs conducted in communities across the United States."

All this is not to question the immediate gains children make when they are cared for, stimulated, and well-fed. Indeed, the relevant research shows that it's the health and nutritional components of Head Start that provide the greatest benefits.

If we're all going to be good "public investors," we must examine the rate of return of the options that compete for our limited resources—Head Start vs. school vouchers, for example—and then set priorities. At a time when evidence overwhelmingly suggests that expanding choice for poor children to attend schools that work would yield major positive results, the $2.2 billion in the Head Start budget for 1992 could have funded $2,000 school vouchers for over one million kids.

That same $2.2 billion might also produce a higher return if it were invested in welfare reform that strengthens families. Wisconsin's Learnfare program, which puts pressure on welfare mothers to keep their kids in school, has significantly improved attendance for a third of the children in the program, an exceptionally good success rate.

Even returning the $2.2 billion to the taxpayers might be an option with more lasting benefit than Head Start, if the result is more jobs and less poverty in a healthier economy.

In any event, recognizing and employing more promising alternatives cannot happen if the hype and misconceptions about Head Start persist in preventing thoughtful analysis.

Woman Keeps Cats In Plenty of Litter

A Gene Dr. resident may be charged with health and safety violations for keeping two long rows of cat litter in her back yard.

According to police, a neighbor complained about the smell generated by two rows of cat litter approximately 20 feet long, 3 feet high, and 4 feet wide in the back yard. The resident reportedly buys 25 to 30, 25-pound bags of cat litter each month. The woman told police she doesn't know how to get rid of it.

Police chief Lenard McDougall said the woman "has one heck of a lot of cats."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum lamented at the country store Saturday night that the more he reads the more he is reminded that public servant and Government ethics top his list of sayings that contradict themselves. There is every bit as much ethics in Government as there is holy in war, was Bug's words.

Name somebody in an elected or appointed public job, Bug allowed, and you know he's for No. 1 and let the public be hanged. He told the fellows the Clinton Administration is having trouble with changes it made in job rules, especial the one about waiting five years instead of two after leaving the Government before hooking up with what is politely called special interests. From all the wailing and nashing of teeth, Bug said, you would think the whole idea of taking a high level Government job is to learn the right buttons to push so you can leave Government and get top dollar lobbying Government.

What's really scary, Bug went on, is that the Internal Revenue is having the worst time filling appointed slots. He took this to mean nobody wants to wait five years after leaving the IRS to get rich helping others beat the system. Actual, Bug pointed out, so many are so slick at tax cheating that the IRS said recent if they'll pay it won't prosecute, which is saying we know you're doing it but we can't catch you at it.

This is a bitter pill to swallow for honest Americans that saw May 3 was Tax Freedom Day this year. That means four months of their income will go to supporting all their Government, Bug said, in the certain knowledge that local tax increases to make up for loss of Federal support and more hikes wanted by the new Administration will push Freedom Day still later in the year.

For all that, Bug allowed, the rawest deal he's heard of is where a judge says the Federal Government has to pay Richard Nixon some millions for tapes and papers it took in 1974 and he wants back. Bug was of a mind that if the Government would bill Nixon for the cost of investigating Watergate it would come out way ahead.

The fellows were general agreed that elected office in this country always has been to the greedy what sugar is to the ant. Ed Doolittle noted that West Virginia Sen. Robert Byrd no sooner give up on creating seven jobs to build a $7 million atomic clock in his state than he orders a $5 million radio telescope to be made there. The Navy said it has two atomic clocks and doesn't need a third, Ed explained, and that the radio telescope price tag is seven times the cost of leasing all the telescope time it needs.

Practical speaking, declared Clem Webster, ethics in Government probable is equal to ethics in general. Clem said he was agreed with whoever said a reporter is to a politician what a barking dog is to a chicken thief. We read and hear more about politicians, Clem said, but larceny lurks in hearts everywhere. He read recent where a preacher in North Carolina resigned after 20 years as treasurer of the preachers retirement trust fund. Now the preacher and $500,000 of trust fund are missing.

Clem said William Aramony was fired after he hurt United Way with his wild spending as national president. Now he's showing that greed has no shame by suing for all kind of retirement benefits.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Historical Society Plans Meeting on 'Country School'

Chelsea Area Historical Society has scheduled their May meeting at the Chelsea Retirement Community on Monday, May 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the town hall.

The Rev. Ronald Brunger will present "History of a Country School." Brunger, a retired Methodist minister and archivist for the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church until 1991, will trace a country school from its log cabin beginnings in 1840 through its final brick quarters being used today.

The school, "South Onelda School District 3" is four miles south of Grand Ledge near Lansing. It is one of the few schools in Michigan still in use as a country school.

The Rev. Brunger was born in Newberry in the upper peninsula and grew up on the Brunger farm near Grand Ledge. He attended Albion College and the Boston University School of Theology. He and his wife, Florine, reside at the retirement community.

Refreshments will be served and there will be a display of country school artifacts.

Isn't the only building getting attention around here. Members of the Cavanaugh Lake Porcupines removed wall paper and cleaned the walls of McKune Memorial Library, Thursday.

That saying, "Don't take a wooden nickel," doesn't apply to Chelsea during the 125th anniversary. Wooden nickels will become legal tender in area businesses throughout the celebration and be redeemable at Chelsea State Bank. There will be three issues of the coin, all in different colors.

The Rev. Paul M. Schnake of Caseyville, Ill., has accepted a call to be pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church. He will replace the retiring Rev. P. H. Grabowski, who has served the church 37 years.

Pregnancy Loss Memorial Service Scheduled for May 17

Catherine McAuley Health System's (CMHS) Pregnancy Loss Program is sponsoring a memorial service Monday, May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital (SJMH) Chapel. The hospital is located on the CMHS E. Huron River Dr. campus.

The ecumenical service provides support for anyone who has experienced a pregnancy loss through miscarriage, ectopic pregnancy, stillbirth or newborn death.

"For some expectant parents, a pregnancy does not go as planned and their happiness and anticipation turns to sorrow when the baby dies," said Barbara Bailey, chaplain of SJMH Pastoral Ministry. "Meeting with others who have experienced a similar loss and sharing with them the healing process of prayer can help families and friends in their time of sadness."

Persons who plan to attend or who would like more information about the service or the Pregnancy Loss Program should contact Bailey at (313) 572-3804.

Active Learning Favored In Teacher Planning Sessions

Co-operative learning, continuing lessons until mastered and exhibiting what they have learned may be in the future of many Chelsea High school students. While CHS teachers have not yet adopted specific changes, these three were the most discussed Monday morning as teachers met to work on plans for enhancing student learning at the school.

All of the ideas being considered are aimed at increasing student-centered instruction. A survey of teachers showed that they would like to lessen the amount of lecture that takes place in classrooms in favor of more active, hands-on approaches.

With this in mind, teachers are looking at formats such as co-operative learning, where students work together to master their lessons. Unlike the old "group work" concept, each student on a co-operative team has a role, and all must share in the work. In one model of this type, students take responsibility for helping others understand concepts. This helps one student learn, while the other student reinforces what he has already learned.

Mastering a lesson before moving on to the next one embraces the idea that quantity is no good without quality. What good is it for a student to rush through 10 chapters if none of them are learned thoroughly? Students will be asked, instead, to continue working on a chapter or lesson until it is fully comprehended. When mastery learning is adopted in a classroom, the teacher will grade using a system called the J-curve to allow students the additional time to master concepts.

Teachers would also like to adopt more hands-on or exhibition work. For example a math teacher already using this concept has asked his students to look for math in everyday situations. The class has measured the surface of the school track and calculated its cost. For geometry they have measured the angle for a field goal. And in art class students found that math is necessary in jewelry design.

High school teachers will continue working with these and other ideas in the next three Monday sessions. Many would like to develop a system whereby teachers using some of these strategies demonstrate them for others on the staff. Teachers hope, in this context, to discuss creating opportunities for visiting each others' classes in order to observe good techniques in practice.

Teachers also plan to discuss teacher/student mentoring groups. In these, teachers would meet with a small number of students throughout their four years at the high school and get to know them and their individual needs.

With four sessions now completed, teachers will begin next Monday to develop ideas into solid planning that they hope may be implemented in the coming school year.

CHARACTERS from "Alice in Wonderland" were seen at Chelsea High school last Saturday night during the annual prom. John Leatham was a dapper Mad Hatter and his wife, Linda, made a regal Queen of Hearts as they mingled with the crowd of celebrating students. "Alice in Wonderland" was this year's theme.

PARENTS had as much fun as the kids at the annual Chelsea High school prom last Saturday night. "Alice in Wonderland" was the theme and Jan Raymond, right, as the Cheshire Cat, greeted kids on their way to Wonderland. Left is Kathy Gunderson.

HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY

May 9, 1993

"A man never sees all that his mother has been to him until it's too late to let her know that he sees it."
William Dean Howells

A mother's job is to teach and guide her child in the ways that will improve his chances for a satisfying life. This sometimes means saying "no" and exerting discipline... possibly even punishment for non-compliance.

It is not human nature for any child to realize that all of his mother's actions are being taken for his own good. Much later, after maturity, he will realize how difficult it was for her. He will understand that she always kept his best interests uppermost in her loving heart.

Everyone who can, should tell their mothers how much her loving care has meant to them. Mothers may be God's finest gift to mankind!

 to put a special membrane over the top, which could add about $180,000 to the over-all cost. However, Myers said he has not gotten a firm ruling from the Environmental Protection Agency.

Whether or not the membrane will be required, the village will have to cap the site with a layer of clay, which will have to be hauled in. That proved to be the major cost of closing the previous cell.

Myers said he hopes the village can rent a bulldozer to spread the dirt and save the cost of hiring someone else to do it.

Cost of closing the landfill will be paid only by the village.

★ Check on Your Credit History, Credit Report

Erroneous information in your credit history may tarnish your financial reputation among credit lenders and others who rely on the data contained in it, emphasizes the Michigan Association of CPAs. Here's what you should know about credit bureaus, credit reports, and your rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Credit bureaus have two primary functions: They collect information that demonstrates your ability and willingness to repay loans, and they ensure that this information is released only for legally permissible reasons established by the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

There are more than 2,000 credit bureaus (also known as credit reporting agencies) across the country. These reporting agencies keep computerized records of your payment habits based on data obtained from banks, retailers, financial services companies and other credit grantors. They also collect limited public record information about bankruptcies, as well as judgments and tax liens from the state and county court system.

What is included in your credit report?
 Your credit report contains information on your outstanding debts, including bank and retail credit card balances, automobile loans, government-backed student loans and small business loans. Most importantly, it shows how promptly you pay your bills. Your credit report may also contain past and present employment information on you and your spouse, including the number of years employed and salary history.

Negative information, such as a failure to repay certain debts, stays in your credit file for up to seven years, and bankruptcies are listed for a maximum of 10 years. However, positive information, such as an open credit card account, stays in your file indefinitely.

Keep in mind that credit reports do not contain information on checking and savings accounts, race, religion, sex or criminal records. Nor do they provide any kind of credit rating. Who can obtain your credit report? Anytime you complete a loan application, you are essentially allowing a potential credit grantor access to your credit history. Credit report inquiries are kept in your file for two years. Keep in mind that too many inquiries may cause some lenders to believe that you are overextending yourself on credit and result in a rejection of your loan application.

Current creditors may also request updated copies of your credit report for periodic reviews as outlined in your account contracts. For example, a credit card issuer may request a copy if it is considering increasing your credit line.

Potential employers can also request copies of your credit report to check the accuracy of your application and evaluate your financial responsibility. Insurance companies can review your report when underwriting insurance you may be considering for such things as your home, car or business. Potential landlords are also allowed to review your credit report before signing a rental agreement. Government agencies may also be permitted to review your report to determine your eligibility for certain government licenses.

How to obtain and correct your credit report
 If you have been denied credit based on a report from a credit bureau, the creditor must provide you with the name and address of the credit bureau from which it obtained the report. As long as you contact the bureau within 30 days from the time you were denied credit, you can obtain a free copy of your report. If you find that there is inaccurate information in your file, contact the credit bureau immediately.

Such is My Mother

Who is this woman who has shared my pain, Who has stood over me and sheltered my rain, When it seemed at times that I could do no right, Who lifted my spirits with her soft shimmering light.

Through all of the bad things I've done in my life, Who still offered her warmth in the cold depths of night, When problems would leave me with no way out, Who stuck beside me till all was worked out. Who plants the flowers that blossom and bloom, enlightening all life, belittling all gloom. Who is this woman with the grace of a dove.

Who is this woman who forever I will love. Who is this woman deserving of this fame, Such is my mother. Doris Hammel is her name.

Happy Mother's Day!

Area Residents Attending Topics At Symposium

A sampling of research topics ranging from a discussion of the themes of anxiety, rejection and depression in Charles Schulz's comic strip, "Peanuts," an analysis of feminism in children's literature; to a forecast for the U.S. economy and aircraft industry were presented by Eastern Michigan University undergraduate students at the 13th annual Undergraduate Research Symposium Friday, March 26.

Local students from Dexter, Chelsea, Pinckney, Manchester and Whitmore Lake participated.

Sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences, Symposium XIII: The Recognition of Excellence in Undergraduate Creativity and Research, showcased the outstanding work and research of nearly 100 EMU students.

Mentored by approximately 74 faculty sponsors, most of the student presenters were from the College of Arts and Sciences' 18 departments and programs, although several students from EMU's Colleges of Business, Education and Health and Human Services also participated.

Aron J. Gannon, son of John and Susan Gannon of Dexter, presented "Comparison of the Morphology of Adult and Larval Altica subsp. altica in Relation to Feeding Behavior." His research was sponsored by Associate Professor of biology Catherine Bach.

Robert Northrup, son of Sandra Northrup of Chelsea, presented "Psychiatric Help 5 cents," a study of the themes of anxiety, rejection and depression of Charles Schulz's comic strip "Peanuts." His research was sponsored by Assistant Professor of English language and literature Ian Wozniak-Andrews.

Kurt Lindemann, son of Judy Lindemann of Pinckney, presented "The Rhetorical Significance of Victim-Offender Mediations." His research was sponsored by communication and theatre arts lecturer Celeste LaCroix.

Robyn Plaim of Pinckney presented "Temporal Factors in Rat Autoshaping," an analysis of cyclical ratios. Her research was sponsored by psychology lecturer Elliot Bonem.

Michelle Kuhl, daughter of Greg and Diane Kuhl of Manchester, presented "Decent Exposure: Gender in the Multicultural Landscape of Cicely, Alaska." Her research was sponsored by communication and theatre arts Associate Professor Geoffrey Hammill.

Meg Stephenson of Whitmore Lake presented "Crime on Campus: Assault, Cheating, Prostitution—Which Do EMU Students Think is the Most Serious Crime?" Her research was sponsored by psychology Assistant Professor Silvia von Kluge.

Following the presentations, Dr. David Adamany, president and professor of law and political science at Wayne State University, spoke at a luncheon honoring the participating students and faculty.

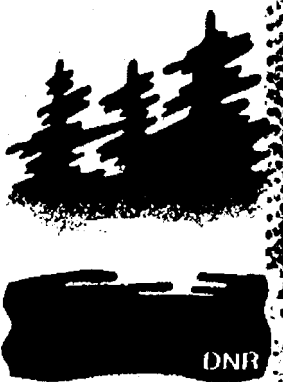

"EMU is a trailblazer in its emphasis on undergraduate research," Adamany said in his address. He also likened the research and teaching/presentation activities to that of customers at a bank.

"Before teaching, you must have knowledge. We teachers are like depositors at a bank. We put knowledge into the bank, but also withdraw knowledge, and no teacher can teach without first going to the common bank. Today, you are the depositors into the bank from which the rest of us will draw," he said.

Unlike other adjustable rate mortgages, the 4Most can only jump so high.

15-Year 4Most Mortgage

4.5% rate 6.402% APR

30-Year rate is 4.95% with 6.405% APR. Typical APR (annual percentage rate) includes interest on loan and other fees, and is based on a $100,000 loan with an 80% loan-to-value ratio. The APR may increase after closing. Interest rates and terms are subject to change at any time without notice.

While most ARMs can jump 6% over the life of the loan, our 4Most can jump by no more than 4%. Survey Puts MSU Ag College Among Top 10

The College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at Michigan State University is among the top 10 schools in the nation that stand out for their general excellence, according to a survey by Farm Futures magazine.

Results of the survey appeared in the mid-March edition of the national farm business magazine that has a circulation of more than 200,000.

The article notes that the past few years have been hard on the country's agricultural colleges, which have experienced budget cuts and enrollment fluctuations.

The best schools, according to the magazine, "are delivering an education that's every bit as thorough as in the past, but they're doing it with fewer resources."

The survey of ag deans across the nation indicated that the top schools offer programs with unusual breadth.

In citing MSU, the magazine said, "Michigan State, highly regarded for its teaching, research and Extension activities, specializes in livestock and subjects other than the traditional grain crops of many midwestern states."

"Blueberries, cherries, apples and other horticultural crops are among Michigan State's specialties, as are a diverse range of other crops, from Christmas trees to dry beans.

"With a strong international bent as well, the ag college is heavily involved with Third World development projects."

Other universities listed in the top 10 are North Carolina State, Minnesota, Texas A&M, Purdue, California-Davis, Wisconsin, Cornell, Illinois and Iowa State.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

CHELSEA BULLDOGS congratulate sophomore pitcher Carey Schiller, left, on her shutout of Plymouth-Canton, the state's second-ranked team in class A. The Bulldogs went on to beat the Dexter Dreadnaughts in the consolation finals.

Bulldogs Shut Out Tough Class A Plymouth-Canton

The tie-breaking system denied the Chelsea Bulldogs a place in the finals of their own Chelsea Invitational last Saturday.

But the day was still a ringing success to Chelsea coach Joe Beard.

The Bulldogs, behind the two-hit pitching of sophomore Carey Schiller, shut out Plymouth-Canton, second-ranked in class A, 1-0, in the second game of the tournament.

That victory came after a disappointing 5-4 loss to Gabriel Richard in the first game.

Chelsea went on to defeat Holt in the third game, 7-6, in nine innings, before demolishing the Dexter Dreadnaughts in the consolation finals, 19-6.

"I was really proud of the way the girls came back," Beard said.

"They knew after the first game that they would have to win their next two to have any shot at the finals. And they went out and did it. It felt real good to beat Plymouth-Canton. They were in the class A finals last year and there's every reason to think they'll be back there again this year."

However, Plymouth-Canton did not use their ace, Kelly Holmes, against Chelsea. However, she pitched all three other tournament games and accumulated 44 strikeouts.

The lone run of the game came in the sixth inning as Liz Sager walked, stole second, and scored on two passed balls.

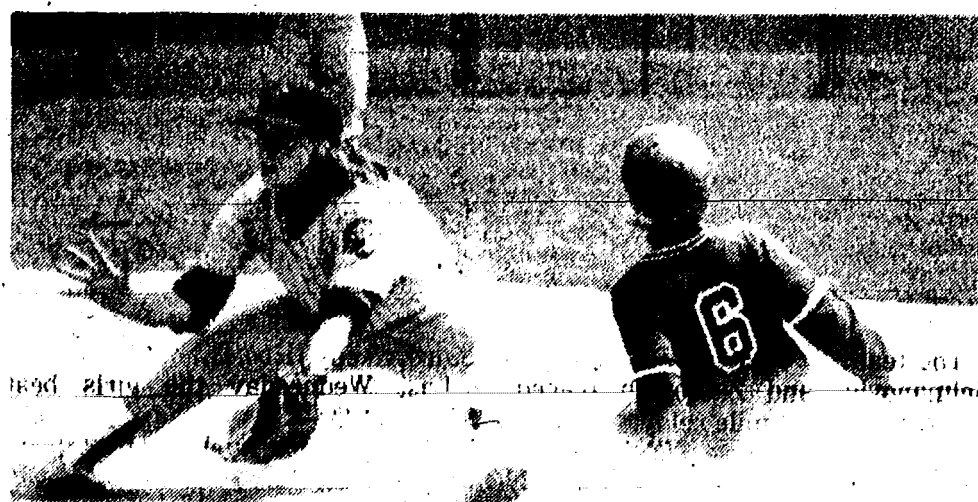

Schiller struck out seven and gave up two walks.

"Carey did an outstanding job," Beard said.

"It was by far the best game she's pitched. It was also the best game we've played defensively."

Schiller also started the third game against Holt but lasted just two innings as she gave up four runs in the first and one in the second.

"I think the previous game took all the steam out of Carey," Beard said. Lisa Beard came on in relief in the third with the bases loaded and no outs and the Bulldogs looking at a 5-0 deficit. She didn't allow a run to score that inning.

SHORTSTOP GRETCHEN KNUTSEN prepares to take the throw from catcher Liz Sager as a Plymouth-Canton player successfully steals second base during last Saturday's contest in the Chelsea Invitational. The steal didn't hurt as outstanding Chelsea defense and pitching won the game.

Down 6-1 in the fifth, the Bulldogs erupted for five runs as Jackie Crawford singled and stole second, Sandy Schmid singled, Heather McConeghy doubled, Lisa Beard singled, Theresa Hurst singled, and Erin Knott singled.

The game remained tied until the bottom of the ninth. With runners on second and third with one out, Sager popped up to first base. McConeghy tagged up at third but the first baseman made a wild throw to the plate to allow McConeghy to take home.

Beard struck out five in seven innings.

When pool play was over, Chelsea, Plymouth-Canton, and Gabriel Richard each had a 2-1 record. The first tie-breaker, head-to-head competition, failed to break the tie. So the second tie-breaker, runs allowed, put Plymouth into the finals against Jackson Northwest.

In the consolation finals, Schiller pitched an inning then was relieved by Lauren Zuehlke after the Bulldogs picked up three runs in the first.

Chelsea scored 19 runs on just five hits as Dexter pitchers had control problems and the Dexter defense had problems fielding.

In the first game against Richard, Lisa Beard pitched all seven innings and gave up just one earned run. She struck out eight.

The Bulldogs had the tying run on third two outs in the seventh inning but McConeghy hit a line drive to the third baseman to end the game.

Highlight of the Chelsea offense was a two-run homer in the fourth inning by Sager as the Richard outfielders ran into each other.

Chelsea swept a double-header against the Lincoln Railsplitters last Thursday, 13-3 and 15-0, to remain unbeaten in the league.

In the first game, Lisa Beard struck out eight and allowed six hits.

Chelsea scored in each of the five innings played.

The Bulldogs had 11 hits for the game including four by Hurst and two each by Crawford, Gretchen Knutsen, and Nancy Pidd. Hurst tripled and McConeghy doubled.

Zuehlke pitched the second game. She struck out three and allowed one hit.

McConeghy, Knott, Schumaker, and Knutsen each had two hits for Chelsea. Schmid tripled and McConeghy hit a three-run homer in the third.

Again, Chelsea scored in each of the five innings played, including three in each of the first three innings.

"If we play the way we're capable of playing we should be in real good shape in the league," Beard said.

The Bulldogs play at Dexter tomorrow.

Bulldog Baseball Team Splits with Railsplitters

Errors continued to plague the Chelsea Bulldogs baseball team last week as they split a double-header with the Lincoln Railsplitters at Lincoln on Thursday.

In the first game, the Bulldogs gave up six unearned runs in a 12-1 mercy-rule loss in five innings.

The Railsplitters scored three in the first inning on two hits and two Chelsea errors.

Chelsea got a run back in the fourth inning on a double by Pat Steele and single by Steve Grau.

But in the bottom of the fourth, Lincoln scored five times on three Chelsea errors and three hits, including a three-run homer.

Two hit batsmen, a walk, an error, and a home run produced four more Railsplitter runs in the fifth.

Junior Colby Skelton pitched 4 1/3 innings and Matt Powell finished the game.

Chelsea took a 1-4 victory in the second game, which was called in the top of the seventh inning due to darkness.

A walk to Chris Dunham, a steal, and a ground out by Steele tied the game, 1-1, in the third after the Railsplitters scored on a hit and two errors in the first.

Lincoln took a 3-1 lead in the bottom of the third on three Chelsea errors.

But the Bulldogs struck for four runs in the fourth on a walk to Powell, single by Jay Westcott, sacrifice bunt by Tim Wescott, ground out by Case McCalla, and doubles by Dunham, Steele, and Ken Slane.

Lincoln came right back to take a 6-5 lead in the bottom of the fourth on three hits and three Chelsea errors.

But an eight-run fifth inning put the game away for Chelsea. Singles by Wescott and Slane, a double by Dunham, and a grand slam by Powell highlighted the inning.

Jason McVittie pitched four innings and Slane pitched two.

Highlights for the afternoon, according to coach Wayne Welton, were the 5-5 performance by Dunham, four hits by Slane, and a pair of doubles by Steele.

"When we start playing some defense, we should be a pretty decent team," Welton said.

Chelsea fell to 2-3-1 in the Southeastern Conference.

The Bulldogs last Saturday put themselves in a position to win the Cliff Keene Baseball Tournament, which draws many of the high school teams in the county.

Chelsea whipped the Dexter Dreadnaughts 19-4 in the first game and Willow Run 13-5 in the second.

Grau picked up the win in the first game.

"I think we caught Dexter a little short of pitching," Welton said.

Chelsea opened with six runs in the first inning and never trailed.

White got the win in the second game.

For the day, Dunham went 5-6 with three walks, Steele had five hits and five RBI, and Slane had four hits and four RBI. Nick McCalla, Wescott and White each had three hits.

"We hit the ball as well as we ever have," Welton said.

"But we still had too many errors." He noted that of the 30 outs during the two five-inning games, only three came on ground outs.

Chelsea will face Pioneer High school next in the tournament.

CHS Tennis Team Loses Three Matches

Chelsea Bulldogs tennis team lost to Saline, Riverview, and Hartland last week, each time 0-7.

"We are having a tough season," said Chelsea coach Terri Curtis.

"We lost five seniors last year and have been unable to replace that experience. Half of our team is new to tennis this year even though we did get a player from Brighton and one from Saline. Scott Dale came back to tennis after a year lay-off and three of our players are only in their second year on the team. I knew we would be down this year but we are really suffering from a lack of experience—most having played only one season."

In the Saline match, Chelsea was overpowered and took only two games total.

The Riverview match was much better, Curtis said, but the Bulldogs were still outplayed.

In singles, Steve Peng (R) defeated Don Tippie (C), 6-2, 6-4; Jason Teal (R) defeated Dan Johnson (C) 6-3, 6-3; Dan Krause (R) defeated Matt

Jachalke (C), 6-0, 6-4; and Jeff Davis (R) defeated Kevin Coy, 6-2, 6-4.

In doubles, Dan Koenigter and Kevin Myers (C) lost 2-6, 6-7; Mike Bainton and James Dlesing (C) lost 6-4, 3-6, 3-6; and Ben O'Connor and Chris Giebel (C) lost 1-6, 4-6.

Chelsea was beaten by experience in the Hartland match, Curtis said. Nine of 12 Hartland players were seniors.

In singles, Troels Quist (H) beat Tippie (C), 6-3, 6-2; Jeff Sims (H) defeated Johnson (C), 6-0, 6-2; Jason Rowden (H) defeated Coy (C), 6-0, 6-3; and Chris Morgan (H) beat Matt Jachalke (C), 6-1, 6-0.

In doubles, Myers and Koenigter (C) lost 3-6, 1-6; Dale and Jason Dunahoo (C) lost 3-6, 3-6; and Bainton and Dlesing (C) lost 2-6, 2-6.

On Monday, April 26, Chelsea knocked off Milan, 20-8 and 15-1.

In the first game, Chelsea fell behind 4-3 after the first inning but rallied for 12 runs in the second to provide a big cushion.

"We had a rough first inning and I was a bit worried," said Chelsea coach Kim Eder.

"But after the first inning the girls took control."

Freshman pitcher Danielle Longe faced 25 batters in five innings and struck out seven and gave up six hits.

In the second game, Chelsea scored in each of the five innings. Charlotte Ziegler, Martha Merkel, and Nikki Lane each had two hits.

Chelsea sophomore pitcher Melissa Schulz allowed the only run, an unearned run, in the first. She faced only four more than the minimum number of hitters.

"Melissa pitched a smart game and the defense held tough behind her," Eder said.

Chelsea beat the Lincoln Rallsplitters, 14-8 and 6-5.

In the first game, the Bulldogs had a 6-4 lead after three innings, but scored two in the fourth and six in the sixth for the victory.

In the second game, Lincoln scored three runs in the fifth to tie the game, 5-5.

But in the bottom of the sixth, Tina Richardson hit a bases-loaded single up the middle for the game-winner. Earlier in the inning, Ziegler walked and Lincoln issued two walks.

As of last week the Bulldogs were 8-1 over-all and 6-0 in the Southeastern Conference.

Molly Griebel won the 3200 in 13:24, Melissa Williams was second and Erika Leiter third.

The team of Sarah Henry, Val Bullock, Beth Bell, and Griebel won the 3200 relay in 10:43.7.

Laura Paton, Erin Schiller, Spink, and Royce combined to take the 800 relay in 1:54.4.

Sarah Schick, Keri Kentala, Schiller and Hansen won the 400 relay in :56.2.

Melissa Hand, Lisa Monti, Bullock, and Spink won the 1600 relay in 4:27.2.

Other Bulldogs firsts came in the high jump from Erin Schiller at 4' 9"; Kentala in the 100 hurdles at :17.8 and 300 hurdles at :51.6; Royce in the 100 at :13.8; Lisa Monti in the 1600 at 5:30.3; Bell in the 400 at 1:04.4; and Hand in the 800 at 2:31.6.

In the Lincoln meet, Chelsea got off to a strong start in the field events. Smith had a career-best in the discus at 101' 5" for first place. Schiller tied a junior record in the high jump at 5' 3" to win. Spink and Hansen took second and third in the long jump. Smith was second in the shot put and Wendy Bristle third, while Flintoft was second in the discus.

Chelsea won the 3200 relay with Bullock, Phelps, Griebel, and Henry in 10:51.

Paton, Spink, Schiller, and Kentala took the 800 relay in 1:53.3.

Schiller, Kentala, Schick, and Hansen won the 400 relay in :54.3.

Kentala took the 100 hurdles in :17.8, Paton won the 400 in 1:02.1, and Spink won the 200 in :29.3.

Monti won the 1600 in 5:32.7 and Hand won the 800 in 2:33.4. Griebel won the 3200 in 13:19.5, Josie Romero was second in 13:33.1 and Williams placed third in 13:57.1, season-best times for all three.

"We are very pleased with where we are at this point in the season," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"We have had about 20 to 22 people scoring in every meet and have been able to move runners around a lot. This has helped us build good depth, and has given some of our young runners a chance to develop and contribute. We are a very solid team right now."

The Bulldogs won the Mason Kiwanis Invitational last Saturday with 119 points. Runner-up Okemos scored 107. There were eight teams.

The victory didn't come easy as Chelsea had to overcome a 48-point advantage that Okemos built by taking the first three places in both the shot put and discus. Rafaela Lopez-Knight, who starred at the Chelsea Relays last week, established the meet and field records in the shot and discus for Okemos.

But the Bulldogs answered with a 1-3 finish in the 110 hurdles, three other events, and points in 14 of 16 events to overtake Okemos.

MONICA HANSEN played a big part in Chelsea's victory at the Mason Invitational last Saturday.

The Bulldogs had two seconds in the field events, one from Royce in the long jump at 14' 6" and another from Schiller as she tied for second in the high jump at 5'.

Chelsea opened the running by winning the two-mile relay with the team of Bell, Bullock, Phelps, and Monti in 10:16.4. Monti ran a 2:22 in her 880 leg to pull out the win.

Hansen ran the best race of her career to win the 110 hurdles in :17.4. Kentala was third but had the same time.

Royce picked up a third in the 100 and combined with Schiller, Paton, and Spink to take third in the 880 relay in 1:53.4.

Monti followed with a win in the mile in 5:29.

The 400 relay team of Hansen, Schiller, Kentala, and Schick finished second in :54.7.

The Bulldogs didn't gain much ground as Okemos won both relays for an 82-45 advantage.

The Okemos lead was cut to seven points following a second from Paton in the 440 at 1:02.5 and a sixth from Henry at 1:04.1.

The Bulldogs struck again in the 330 hurdles as Kentala was second in :52 and Hansen was fourth in :53.2 to pull Chelsea within a point.

Chelsea followed with a 2-4 finish in the 880 as Bell was second in 2:31.5 and Hand fourth in 2:33.7.

Royce was fifth in the 220 at :27.5. Monti placed second in the two-mile at 12:26.1 to give Chelsea a 109-106 lead.

The mile relay team of Paton, Henry, Hand, and Bell wrapped up the meet with a first place in 4:17.9.

"This was a pleasant win because it may have been our first true test of the season," Bainton said.

"We were very pleased with our over-all performance," Bainton singled out Hansen and Kentala.

"The hurdles have been one of our strongest and deepest events all season. Monica and Keri contributed 32 points in three races and that was certainly a major factor in our victory."

JV Baseball Team Gets First Victory of Season

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity baseball team picked up their first victory of the season last week with a 16-12 win over the Lincoln Railsplitters in the first game of a scheduled double-header last Thursday. The Bulldogs were winning the second game when it was called due to darkness.

Chelsea took an 11-0 lead after three innings before the Railsplitters rallied for four runs in each the fifth and sixth innings. Chelsea scored five runs in the bottom of the sixth to take a 16-8 lead, but Lincoln scored four again in the seventh.

"Finally!" said coach Jim Ticknor. Chelsea had 13 hits for the game, including two each by Nick Brink, Dirk Wales, Ed Greenleaf, James Courdway, and Ryan Ludwig.

In the first inning, Sam Morseau and Ryan Wagner each had a sacrifice fly to help Chelsea to a 3-0 lead.

In the second inning, a walk, two errors, four steals, and singles by Morseau and Brink produced five runs.

A double by Greenleaf and single by Courdway contributed to the three-run third inning.

The Bulldogs finally put the game away in the sixth on hits by Wagner, Ludwig, Brink, and Greenleaf.

Morseau and Courdway combined for the victory on the mound.

On Monday, April 26 the Bulldogs were swept in a double-header by the Milan Big Reds, 11-9 and 9-6.

In the first game, Chelsea held a 5-3 lead in the fourth before the Big Reds scored seven runs in the bottom of the fourth to take the lead for good.

Wales had two hits and three RBI and Jeff Branch had three hits and three RBI.

Greenleaf cracked a two-run homer in Chelsea's three-run third inning.

Branch pitched for the Bulldogs.

In the second game, Chelsea again fell victim to a big fourth inning. This time Milan scored eight unearned runs on seven Chelsea errors.

Wales pitched for the Bulldogs.

Chelsea is 1-7 on the season.

State Farm Bureau Appointed to Drain Code Study Group

Michigan Farm Bureau has been appointed to a Michigan Drain Code Subcommittee of the natural Resources Management and Environmental Code Commission. The Commission was established by Gov. Engler and charged with recommending legislation designed to implement Michigan's entire natural resources management and environmental protection program.

The Drain Code Subcommittee will focus on identifying any possible changes that might require environmental considerations in administering the Michigan Drain Code, according to Michigan Farm Bureau legislative counsel Vicki Pontz. "One of the concerns of the subcommittee is going to be whether or not it's necessary to require, through the law, environmental protection when drains are being maintained and cleaned," she said. "As far as Farm Bureau policy is concerned, I think we'll be looking at the possibility of striking a balance between environmental protection and adequate drainage without adding unnecessary regulatory requirements."

The Subcommittee will be chaired by the Michigan Department of Agriculture and will include, in addition to Michigan Farm Bureau, representatives of the Michigan Association of County Drain Commissioners, the Department of Natural Resources, the Department of Transportation, the Michigan Environmental Council and the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. Pontz expects the subcommittee to complete its work by the end of June.

The percentage of employed women holding more than one job has increased significantly, from 2.2 percent in 1970 to 5.9 percent in 1989, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. In contrast, the percentage of men who moonlight has been steady at about 6 percent since 1975, although the rate inched up to 6.4 percent in 1989.

Founded in 1953, Pennington LP Gas is a family-owned and operated company based in Morenci. The Fenton office and propane distribution center will serve the area with residential, agricultural, commercial, and industrial propane service. In addition, Pennington's new showroom will feature gas grills, water heaters, space heaters, and other gas equipment. Propane gas for refilling grill tanks, R.V.'s and motor fuel will also be available.

Former manager for Pennington's Stockbridge location, Randy Hacker, will assume the managerial position at Fenton, while Todd Dapkus has been promoted to Stockbridge branch manager.

Home Landscaping Courses Offered In May at WCC

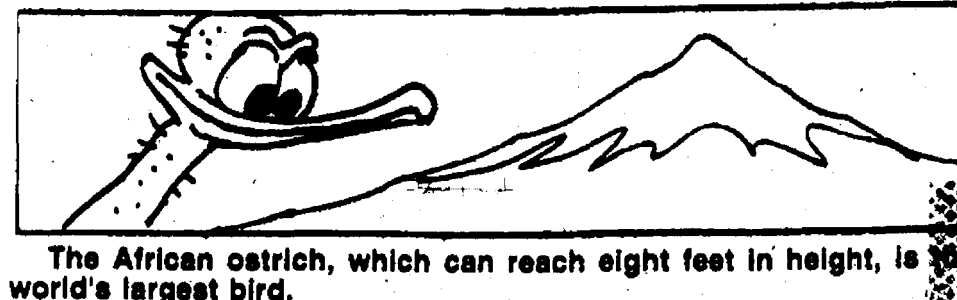

Families who want to create a professional landscaping look on a limited budget will benefit from two courses offered at Washtenaw Community College in May.

"Flower Gardening," a credit-free course, is offered on four consecutive Tuesdays beginning May 11, from 7 to 9 p.m. Course topics include garden design and annual and perennial varieties and their cultures.

"Basic Home Landscaping," a credit-free course, will be offered on five consecutive Wednesdays, beginning May 12, from 7 to 9 p.m. Topics will include evaluating and renovating lawns, selecting, planting and maintaining new trees and shrubs, and other topics.

For more information and fee charges, call Continuing Education Registration at (313) 973-3616.

In 1970, men made up 85 percent of all multiple jobholders, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Since then, women's share of the total has risen steadily, reaching 43 percent in 1989. Women who moonlight work fewer total hours than men, probably because this arrangement makes it easier to balance work and family responsibilities.

The African ostrich, which can reach eight feet in height, is world's largest bird.

Ducks Unlimited Fund-Raiser Banquet Slated May 14 in Dexter

Area wildlife artists will be guests at the upcoming Western Washtenaw Ducks Unlimited Banquet to be held May 14 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter.

Tom Ceo, Ken Drexler, Susan Falcone, Hal Horton, Tom McClanahan, Catherine McClung, Marti Naudi, Bob Perrish, and Jack and Sally Wilson have all created original works of art for the fund-raising auction.

Area chairman Dave Plawchan says that many species of wildlife will be the beneficiaries of the fund-raising effort to restore and preserve wetlands.

Livonia's Bob Perrish has distinguished himself as a world class carver as well as an accomplished painter. His work has consistently placed him at the top of state, national and international competitions. Bob's carvings have earned him more than 200 blue ribbons and nine best of shows. He has twice been named Ducks Unlimited "Carver of the Year."

For this year's banquet Bob has created a carved blue jay which will be auctioned along with his acrylic painting of blue jays.

Dexter artist Catherine McClung has created for the auction an original watercolor of a goldfinch with wild iris. She has also donated one of her latest limited edition prints, "Sunny Outlook." Last summer, Catherine was captivated by the giant sunflowers planted alongside the front porch of the Dexter Mill. She chose to paint the scene along with the clay pots and baskets on display. "The sunflower made a perfect perch for a colorful house finch," says Catherine.

Recent projects for Catherine include a neo-tropical migrating bird poster commissioned by the states of Missouri and Minnesota. Catherine has also completed six of the eight designs commissioned by Lenox China for a series of collector's plates. Lenox is also producing a China music box featuring Catherine's art.

Other original pieces to be featured at the annual banquet include an original bluebird painting by Marti Naudi, a stylized wood sculpture of a shorebird by Hal Horton and a blue bill duck carving by Dexter carver Ken Drexler. Once again, hand-carved duck calls have been created by carver Jack Wilson of Flushing.

Susan Falcone's watercolor features a great blue heron. Tom McClanahan allowed the Ducks Unlimited committee to choose from a wide variety of subjects he had photographed. The committee selected a majestic pose of a bald eagle.

For information about tickets and further details contact Peggy Plawchan at 426-2714 or Walt Brown at the Loft in Chelsea, 475-2726.

Researchers with the U.S. Department of Agriculture have discovered a hormone that sterilizes female mosquitoes and other blood-sucking insects. This is an important development for scientists who are looking for new ways to control harmful insects without using chemicals.

Card of Thanks 19

JULIUS REULE-

In loving memory of my dear husband who passed away two years ago, May 1, 1991. I do not need a special day to bring you to mind. The day I do not think of you is hard to find. Within my store of memories you will hold a place apart. For you, my dear beloved one, are precious to my heart. You were someone I could count on when I needed a helping hand. You were someone to advise me and also understand. You were someone I will think of more as years go by. It broke my heart to lose you but you did not go alone. For part of me went with you the day God called you home. Love you very much sweetie. Your wife, Lena and family.

THANK YOU

On the behalf of all parents in Chelsea who bring their children to Pierce Park, I would like to thank Lynn Swan for practically single-handedly putting together the Pierce Park Playground Project. When I stopped at the park last Wednesday night, the play structure had just been opened and there were at least 20 children playing on it. They were going down the slides, climbing up the chains, running across the bridge, and swinging from the poles. There are also new swings and they were in use. The kids were having the time of their lives. They now have a pleasant, safe place to play, thanks to Lynn and all her hard work, and also thanks to the community who donated the money to make this all possible.

Thank you all,
Anne Merkel.

"Chelsea is my hospital."

Karine Burke and daughter
Leah with family physician
John Zettellaier, MD.

"Dr. Zettellaier is the first family doctor I've had since I moved to Michigan from France two years ago. When we bought a home on Ann Arbor's west side this year, I thought, 'Why not get settled with a family doctor, too?' I'm so glad we did, because when my husband and I got sick this winter, we got in to see our doctor the same day we called. I'm also seeing Dr. Zettellaier for allergy treatment, one of his special areas of interest. My first impression of the office was a good one, and the staff has been just wonderful when I call with questions. I chose ArborScio because of its convenient location, and I've stayed here because of the great care. We made two good moves this year!"
