Landfill, Fire Protection Hit Twp. Budgets Hard

Area townships recently passed their budgets for the 1993-94 fiscal year. As usual, the cost of fire protection is one of the largest line items in each budget. And for the first time, each township has to budget payments for the closure of the old cell at the Chelsea Sanitary Landfill, which is putting a crimp in all four budgets.

"This could bust us very quickly," Lyndon Township Supervisor John Francis said of the landfill situation. "We don't know what the on-going costs are going to be."

Lyndon township, with about half the budget of Sylvan township, has the same $22,000 payment this year. The effect, in both of those townships, will be to hold road work to a minimum.

Lyndon township has budgeted $30,000 toward the landfill, with the extra to cover any unanticipated expenses.

Dexter township has $37,000 in its landfill budget, while Lima township has $20,886.

Sylvan township's over-all budget is particularly tight this year, according to supervisor Gerald Dresselhouse. A cost over-run of about $64,000 last year on the Bush Rd. construction project means the road probably won't get paved this year.

"We ran into unanticipated poor soils," Dresselhouse said.

"We began the year owing the road commission $64,000. There probably won't be sufficient funds for asphalt."

Dresselhouse said it will probably cost about $150,000 to pave the 1.2 miles.

The township also eliminated $22,000 from its road budget in order to pay for the landfill, which knocked the money available for roads down to $45,000. Take out another $17,000 for applications of brine on dirt roads and $28,000 remains.

Fire protection budget is $71,000 of the approved $438,461 over-all budget.

Township officials voted no raises for themselves, Dresselhouse said. Trustees will get $3,240, supervisor $21,600, treasurer $18,900, and the clerk $21,400. The township is looking for an assessor to take the place of the retired Don Schoenberg. Anticipated expense is more than last year's $17,000.

The budget anticipates local tax revenues of $172,000 and $118,000 from the state sales tax. The newly-enacted fire ordinance, designed to recoup the cost of crashes on I-94, is projected to raise $10,000.

One of Lima Township Supervisor Bill Van Riper's biggest concerns is his township's $92,000 budget for fire protection, which includes a payment to the department's vehicle fund. It is more than the township's entire revenue from local property taxes ($55,000).

"We've got to do something about it," he said.

"We'll get ate up with the bill."

He said he may soon propose a fire ordinance similar to Sylvan township's in order get back some money, primarily from crashes on I-94.

Other items in Lima's budget include $22,000 for the landfill, $10,000 for recycling (money from the county, which will be used, in part, for concrete pads under the recycling bins), $40,000 for roads, and $34,000 for planning.

Township officials will get five percent raises. Salaries are $11,840 for the supervisor, $14,300 for the assessor, $11,340 for each of the clerk and treasurer, and $1,560 for each trustee.

Van Riper said he does not know exactly what kind of road work will be done. Work may be done on Fletcher Rd., Trinkle Rd. and Steinbach Rd.

Dexter township has $37,000 budgeted for the landfill in its total $411,700 budget. Fire protection, from Chelsea, Dexter, and Pinckney fire departments is budgeted at $85,000. Police protection, a half-time patrolman from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, is $37,000.

The fire and police protection total of $122,000 is more than the township's projected local tax revenues of $97,350.

The road budget is $35,000.

Elected officials are getting a five percent increase in salary. Salaries are: supervisor, $20,500; clerk,

Former Church Deacon Has Pre-Trial Hearing Today in Chelsea Court

Former North Sharon Baptist church deacon Mark Foeller was scheduled for a preliminary examination this morning in Chelsea 14th District Court before Judge Kenneth Bronson on charges that he sexually abused a 9-year-old boy in the church last spring.

Washtenaw county prosecutor's office expects the boy to be a strong witness against the 36-year-old Grass Lake township man. Previous cases against both Foeller and the church's assistant pastor, Timothy Leonard, have been dismissed due to problems with the testimony of the younger, alleged victims. Judges ruled that some of the alleged victims were too young to testify. One case was dismissed after the alleged victim could not pin down the time.

The Jackson county boy has told investigators that he was fondled, forced to perform oral sex, and was sodomized by Foeller during Sunday school last April or May. County prosecutors say they have strong medical evidence to back up the boy's allegations.

Foeller was arraigned on two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct before 14th District Magistrate George Parker last week. Foeller is being held without bond in the Jackson County Jail.

Investigators were approached about two months ago by an attorney for the 9-year-old boy's family, who detailed the boy's charges. According to reports, assistant county prosecutor Julia Owdziej said it took a while before the boy felt safe enough to say anything to investigators.

Foeller already faces trial on June 21 in Washtenaw county on 13 charges of criminal sexual conduct. The charges, which allegedly occurred in both Washtenaw and Jackson counties, were combined into one trial over the objections of Washtenaw county prosecutors. The newest charges will apparently not be tried with the others.

In addition, Foeller faces trial in Jackson county on five counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and two counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct for allegedly molesting two boys at a Jackson county campground.

Foeller was part of a Sunday school bus ministry that recruited children from low-income neighborhoods. Foeller is alleged to have assaulted children both on the bus and in the church. Children were recruited from at least two counties.

Leonard, 32, has had all 12 counts of first- and second-degree criminal sexual conduct against him dropped by district court judges in Jackson and Washtenaw counties. He has since returned to the church as the music director.

The investigation of the allegations was originally announced last fall in a press conference in Chelsea conducted by the Michigan State Police.

First-degree criminal sexual conduct involves penetration and carries a maximum penalty of life in prison. Second-degree criminal sexual conduct, or fondling, carries a maximum 15-year sentence.

Chelsea Man Has Problems with Public Drunkenness

A Chelsea man who was accused of a passerby of urinating in public on April 20 was accused by another passerby on May 8 of public drunkenness.

The 36-year-old Chelsea man, who has been in trouble here on several occasions, was seen urinating near the corner of M-52 and Old US-12 at 6:23 p.m. A 60-year-old Chelsea woman said the man made no attempt to hide what he was doing. A breath test revealed a blood alcohol content of .20.

Last Saturday a woman told police that the man nearly fell into traffic near the same intersection. Police said a breath test revealed a blood alcohol content of .32, more than three times the legal limit for intoxication. The man was taken to Chelsea Community Hospital.

Wallace Smith's barn on his farm at 12845 Dexter-Chelsea Rd. was destroyed by fire May 17. Smith speculates the fire, which trapped 12 pigs and several laying hens inside the barn, started in faulty wiring to a heater for baby chicks. The Smiths were frustrated trying to report the fire, although they doubt it affected the outcome. They called the fire department three times to be told they had the wrong number. They finally drove to town to report it. Michigan Bell and the Chelsea Fire Department are investigating the telephone problem.

Chelsea's inadequate sewage treatment plant will no longer be tolerated, Wallace Benzie of the State Health Department told village council at its May 19 meeting. The plant, constructed in 1937, is inadequate because it is operating at double the capacity it was designed for. Some of the principal plant equipment is so old and worn-out, it is in danger of complete and sudden failure, and oil that is being put into the sewers is hindering the bacterial reactions necessary for proper sewage treatment.

The gigantic hayride Saturday night, with 59 tractor-driven wagons and more than 1,500 riders, may have been the world's largest and longest. The only casualties were a lost bonnet and shoe.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Soviet Report A Clue to MIA's

The first casualty in any war, it has been said, is the truth. In the Vietnam War and its aftermath, the truth about the fate of our 2,200 missing servicemen may never fully be known. Yet, we may at last have some clues with the discovery of a "smoking gun."

By Philip C. Clarke

The so-called smoking gun was in the form of a seven-page document marked top-secret. It was found in the dusty archives of the former Soviet Communist Party in Moscow early this year by a Harvard University researcher and made public in April. It appeared to be an authentic wartime report from a top North Vietnamese general to the Communist Party Politburo in Hanoi, dated Sept. 15, 1972, declaring that North Vietnam was holding more than three times as many American prisoners of war than it previously acknowledged.

Signed by General Tran Van Quang, then Deputy Chief of Staff of the North Vietnamese Army, the elaborately detailed report spelled out Hanoi's Big Lie in boastful terms. Wrote the General: "1,205 American prisoners of war located in 11 prisons of North Vietnam—this is a big number. Officially, until now, we published a list of only 368 POW's, the rest we have not revealed." The report continued: "The Government of the U.S.A. knows this well, but it does not know the exact number, and can only make guesses based on its losses. That is why we are keeping the number of prisoners of war secret, in accordance with the Politburo's instructions."

Six and a half months later, following the Paris Peace Agreement, North Vietnam released 591 American POW's, claiming there were no more. But this was less than half the 1,205 figure cited by General Quang only months before. And during these intervening months, an additional 170 U.S. servicemen are believed to have been taken prisoner. This raised to 764 the number of American prisoners of war known to be alive at the time, but unaccounted for.

This grim arithmetic can add up to only one thing: Communist North Vietnam has deliberately concealed the fate of more than 700 American prisoners of war for over 20 years. During that time, it has released only about 50 bodies of American servicemen, a few at a time, as "bargaining chips" in an obscure attempt to extract U.S. aid, trade and diplomatic recognition.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Manners got on the agenda at the country store Saturday night when Clem Webster checked in with a clipping where Vanderbilt University is studying a change in campus policy. Clem told the fellows that the school is thinking of making a rule against students and faculty saying anything that would hurt anybody's feelings.

Clem said the piece didn't say how serious this idea is being took, but he would guess not very, and that's to be bad. It probably won't get nearly the play in the papers as did the University of California student that went to class naked last fall until he flunked out.

A college campus is not the real world, Clem went on, and allowances need to be made to keep peace and calm in the interest of education. But as a practical matter, he went on, the same freedom of expression that let the boy go naked will kill the Vanderbilt manners code. The speak no evil ban will last until the first mention of Constitutional rights, and that will be long before the first Vanderbilt football fan stands up to yell at the other team.

Still, Clem declared, the notion of a university requiring people to be nice to one another makes us think about differences manners would make in real life. Eating at fast food places would be a heap more enjoyable if men took off their ball caps. Men could go back to tipping their hats to and opening doors for women without being sued for harassing them. We country folks could wave and speak to people in the cities where police now say it's dangerous to make eye contact on the street. They think you're staring at them, and your wave is an insult.

The fellows heard Clem's report with interest, but Zeke Grubb said he doesn't look for manners to make a

Not long ago, it gave U.S. officials hundreds of photographs, showing Americans who died in military action or were killed by their Vietnamese captors.

Hanoi also has allowed U.S. search teams to inspect a number of crash sites for possible remains. But until now, the mystery of the missing Americans—the League of POW/MIA Families puts the number at 2,200—has remained stubbornly unsolved. It can only be assumed that they were held hostage by the cunning and ruthless rulers in Hanoi.

As might be expected, Hanoi branded the 1972 "smoking gun" report of General Tran Van Quang, now retired, as a fake, aimed at torpedoing a proposed rapprochement between Hanoi and Washington. U.S. officials—many of who had accepted Hanoi's word that it held no more American POW's and had urged the White House to lift an 18-year economic embargo against Vietnam—called for additional proof before the 1972 document is accepted as valid.

But Stephen J. Morris, the 44-year-old Harvard researcher who discovered the secret report in the Communist Party archives in Moscow, is convinced of its authenticity. "This," he said, "is the biggest hostage-taking in the history of U.S. foreign policy and we still don't know where the hostages are, what happened to them, or if they are still alive."

After studying a translation, Zbigniew Brzezinski, who served as national security adviser in the Carter White House, also was satisfied the document is genuine. Interviewed by the New York Times, Brzezinski said that although he had no concrete evidence, in his words "the great likelihood is that the Vietnamese took hundreds of American officers out and shot them in cold blood, in a massacre like the one in Katyn woods." (It was in 1940, that Stalin's police slaughtered more than 4,500 Polish officers in Katyn forest near Smolensk in the Soviet Union. Not until 1990 did then President Mikhail Gorbachev admit Soviet responsibility for the atrocity.)

Whether or not the missing Americans met a similar fate at the hands of the Vietnamese communists may never be known. But the latest evidence of Hanoi's continuing deception, and one-time Soviet complicity, calls for a re-opening of Congressional investigations into the POW/MIA issue. At the very least, the United States should treat Communist Vietnam like the outlaw regime it is. To do otherwise would dishonor the 58,000 Americans who died or remain missing from their brave but aborted struggle on behalf of freedom in Southeast Asia.

Others who will be honored include Margaret Dow Towsley, an advocate of women's education, and Letty Wickliffe, a resident of Glacier Hills who has devoted her life to helping and teaching others.

Towsley has served on the Board of Directors for Planned Parenthood and the American Red Cross, among other organizations.

• for the 1993-94 school year, granted no more than two exceptions to the current policy of not scheduling school activities on Wednesdays.

The Board discussed possible parameters for the Strategic Planning Committee members in their development of a long-range plan.

Waterloo Historical Society Plans Program On American Revolution

Waterloo Area Historical Society will present Bruce Richard at its annual membership meeting on Monday, May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Waterloo Township Hall.

"Highlights of the American Revolution—The Stories Postage Stamps Tell" is a slide presentation developed by Richard originally for the Plymouth Historical Society. It has been enjoyed by members of the DAR, SAR, CAR, Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary Clubs, senior and school groups, as well as historical societies.

Richard, a philatelist, states that although the program was produced primarily for "historical entertainment," it "serves us well to reflect on the people and events of The American Revolution."

Guests will not want to miss the program finale—a stirring illustration of "America the Beautiful" by means of postage stamps.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

WHY BUY A BUDDY POPPY?
May 14 and 15 will be Poppy Days. These days are donated by VFW members and Auxiliary to serve our disabled veterans, their widows and orphans by selling poppies. The following poem can say it better than any other words. Hopefully it will hit your heart and you will be generous when someone asks you to buy a poppy on the 14th or 15th of May:
A man walked down the street the other day.

The ladies of the Auxiliary came his way.
He took a Poppy and gave them a dime.
He mumbled "Why do they take up my time?"

He put the Poppy in the buttonhole of his coat,
Next to some pencils and other notes.
When he got home he placed the Poppy on the table,
That red pretty flower with a little green label.

As he looked at the flower as if inspired,
He wondered, "Who put this flower on this wire?"

He's probably a man who once stood tall,
And for his Country he gave his all.

He might once have piloted a plane,
Now gives his all just to walk with a cane.

His strong hands were a sense of power,
Now he makes this little red flower.

In our world we are busy with money and power,
While this man's job is this little red flower.

He still takes pride in what he has to do;
Petal by petal he makes this flower for you.

Next year when it comes to Poppy Day,
I'll be glad to see the Auxiliary come my way.

I'll cheerfully give to them generously,
For the Veteran making this flower could have been me.

Theory of Austrian Philosopher Guides Spirit at Community Farm

At first glance the Community Farm, transplanted to Chelsea from Dexter this year, looks like a formerly-vital farm that has been left to die. Old plow parts sit rusting in the fields and the several out-buildings aren't in the best condition.

However, Community Farm, whose philosophy includes "working to heal the earth," is slowly changing the landscape of the old farm on Fletcher Rd. near Halst Rd., now owned by Isabelle Yingling.

Farmers Anne Elder and Paul Bantle of Ann Arbor, Karen Chalmers of Chelsea, and "apprentice" Jeff Mills of Ann Arbor, have constructed a miniature greenhouse and other smaller solar structures in which to begin seedlings. They've plowed several portions of the 12 acres and planted seeds and seedlings by hand. They have a flock of 20 chickens, used exclusively for egg-laying. In the guts of one of the disheveled-looking barns is an orderly office with pitchforks, shovels, hoes, and other implements arranged neatly on the walls.

And on the desk is a calendar, which details what kinds of crops should be planted or worked on each day of the year, each hour of the day. All according to the phases of the moon and alignment of the stars and planets.

This is not your average Chelsea farm.

Community Farm, started in 1988 in Ann Arbor, adheres as much as possible, to what the farmers call "biodynamic agriculture." The principle was first espoused by Austrian philosopher Rudolf Steiner in 1924. Steiner is the uniting soul of the farmers and at least some of its members as many of them have some connection to the Rudolf Steiner School of Ann Arbor.

Steiner's theory says essentially, that "food is not merely a chemical composition of matter, but also needs to contain forces gathered from the sun, moon, and stars which nourish not just our physical bodies but also our emotional and physical selves," according to the farm's brochure.

For example, the theory says that the forces of the moon influence how plants use water. Due to these unseen forces, some days are good for root crops, others are better for leaf crops and it's all duly noted on the calendar.

Kimberton Farm in Pennsylvania provides training in the biodynamic method, and creates the calendar.

Call it a step or two beyond organic farming.

"We want to grow food for people and heal the earth," says Elder, the only full-time grower.

"We want to encourage the creatures and make use of the plants that are growing around here. We gather as much information as we can from farmers. While we may not follow some of their ideas, they have such valuable knowledge."

The growers use no synthetic pesticides, herbicides, or fertilizers. Plants are sprayed with "teas" made of nettles, compost, and other materials, which the growers say provide nutrients.

The Community Farm eventually wants to create its own biodynamic ecosystem, in which animals and land support each other without outside intervention. They eventually want to have a permanent site in the county on 50 acres.

For now, however, the farmers have to settle for several large vegetable patches and a few animals.

While the unorthodox approach to farming is the Community Farm's primary reason for the farm's existence is to provide an alternate way to feed its members.

Families sign up for membership and split the cost of running the farm equally in return for equal shares of food. The farm has an operating budget this year of $35,000, which covers everything from manure to Elder's housing expenses. The growers are looking for 100 families to pay $350 each.

What the families will get in return is everything from basil to watermelon, a total of 33 different items, enough to feed two adults and small children. Some vegetables are pre-picked and others are u-pick.

The families will also get the chance to participate in farming. The farm thrives on the volunteer labor if its members although work is not required.

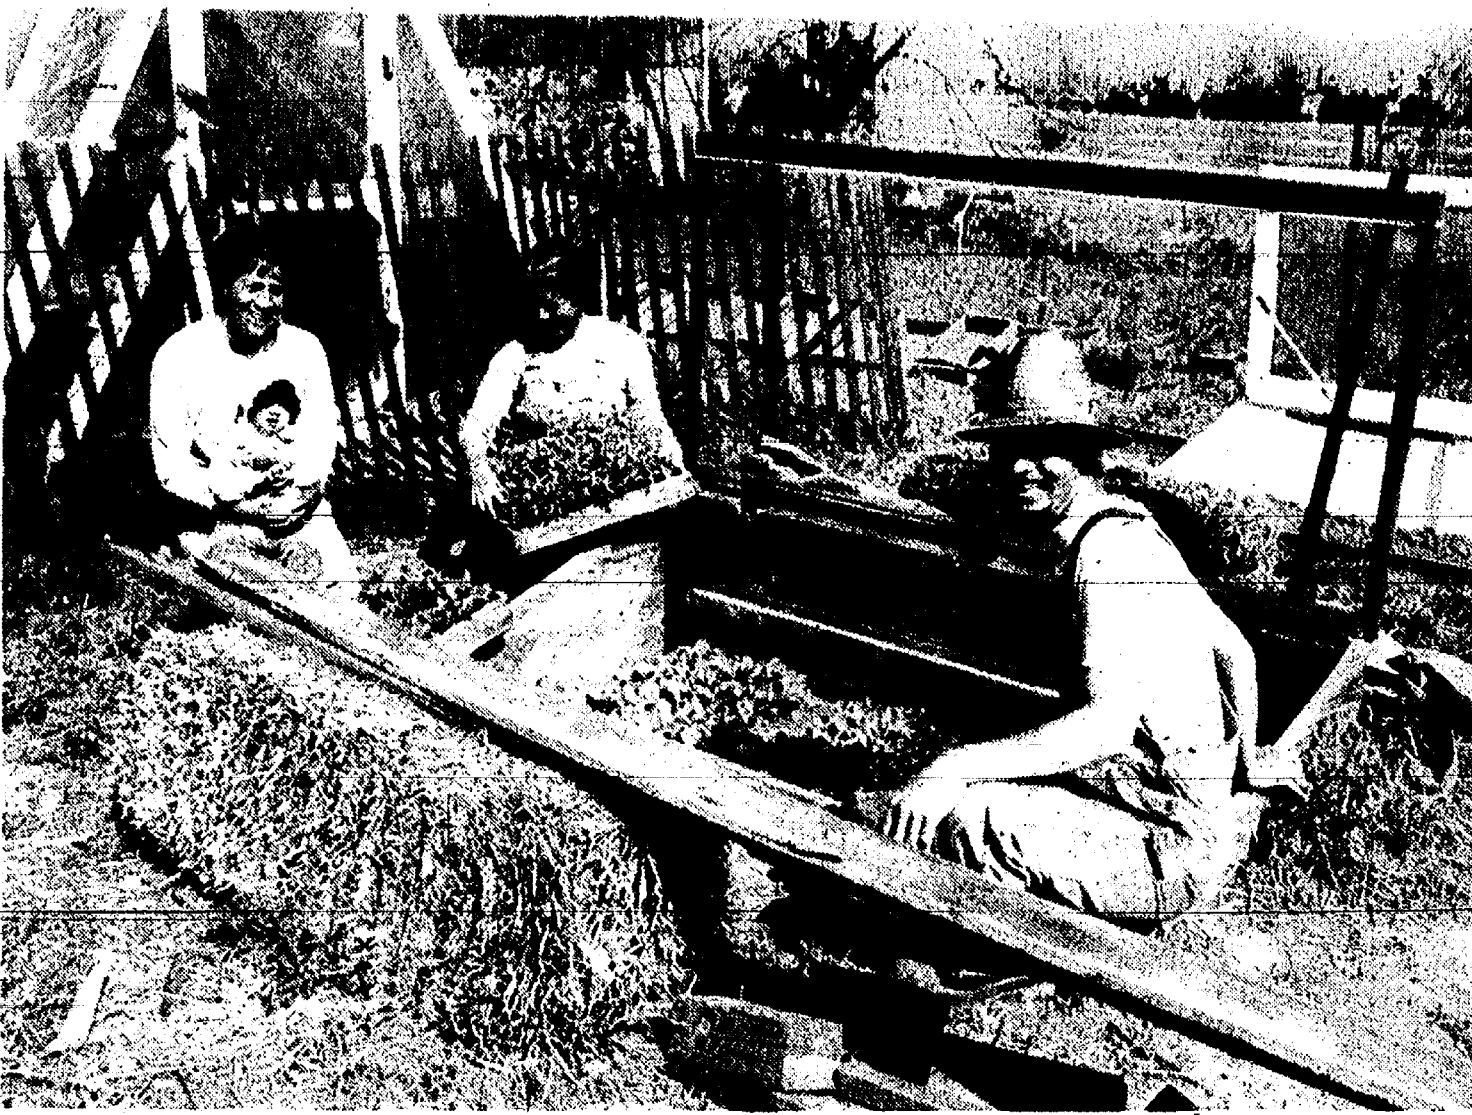

The farm has an open house scheduled Saturday, May 22, the day following the next full moon, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., 1525 S. Fletcher Rd.

"It's nice to have local people as members," Chalmers says.

"The idea is for local people to support the local farm so they know how their produce is grown."

THE NATIONAL KIDNEY FOUNDATION, INC.

\ REMEMBER TO SIGN AN ORGAN DONOR CARD AND TELL YOUR FAMILY OR LOVED ONES!*

SEEDLINGS are ready for planting at the Community Farm. The farm sells share memberships to families, which entitles the families to shares of the food produced.

An open house is planned May 22. From left are Karen Chalmers of Chelsea, and Anne Elder and Paul Bantle of Ann Arbor.

COMMUNITY FARM workers uncover lettuce and other early-season crops they have planted at the Fletcher Rd. farm. The farm uses what are known as "biodynamic" principles of agriculture.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Bulldogs Clinch SEC Regular-Season Title

Chelsea Bulldogs softball team clinched the regular-season Southeastern Conference championship with double-header victories over the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Thursday and the Tecumseh Indians on Monday.

The Bulldogs have a 10-0 record in league play. Dexter and Tecumseh each had three losses after last week. The Bulldogs have yet to play the Pinckney Pirates.

Chelsea had an easy time of it against Dexter, taking 12-4 and 23-0 wins in Dexter.

Carey Schiller improved her record to 8-1 in the first game as she struck out five and allowed six hits.

Chelsea held a 4-0 lead going into the bottom of the fourth inning. Liz Sager and Erin Knott each doubled in the three-run first-inning and Sager walked with the bases loaded in the fourth.

The big outburst came in the fifth as the Bulldogs scored seven runs. Jacki Crawford singled and Schiller doubled in the inning but the Dreadnaughts contributed with numerous walks and errors.

Sandy Schmid's triple in the sixth produced the final run.

Dexter scored single runs in each of the fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh innings.

Heather McConeghy and Schiller each had two hits. McConeghy had a two-out triple.

In the second game, freshman Lisa Beard improved her record to 6-1 as Dexter pitchers struggled from the outset and gave up 16 walks. Chelsea had just eight hits in the worst rout of the season.

Beard struck out three, walked one and gave up one hit through four innings. Sophomore Lauren Zuehlke pitched the fifth inning.

Chelsea scored six runs in the first, eight in the second, and nine in the fourth. Chelsea had just eight hits, but seven drove in runs. Erin Knott had two hits to drive in runs, Alicia Lafferty drove in two with a double. Hurst drove in two with a single, and Crawford, Sager, and Sandy Schmid each singled for a run.

"I have to give the credit to our senior infielders and our young pitchers," coach Joe Beard said of his team's second consecutive SEC regular-season title.

"Our defense has been outstanding and our pitchers have performed better than we thought. We're coming together as a team and we're at the point where we feel we should start to peak."

In non-conference games last Monday against Gabriel Richard, the Bulldogs won, 17-4, in five innings and 5-4 in the second game. Richard had beaten the Bulldogs two weeks ago in the Chelsea Invitational, which knocked them out of the championship game.

Schiller pitched the first game. McConeghy, Hurst, Sager, Knott, and Schiller each picked up two hits.

Beard pitched the second game and Crawford and McConeghy each had two hits.

The Bulldogs are 18-4 on the season.

Monday night the Bulldogs took two mercy-rule wins over the Tecumseh Indians to run their league record to 10-0.

Schiller pitched Chelsea to a 15-5 victory in the opener as she allowed four hits and four earned runs. Her record improved to 9-1.

Chelsea fell behind, 3-0, in the top of the first but rallied for runs in the bottom of the inning and never trailed. A 10-run third-inning blew the game open.

The Bulldogs scored four runs on just one hit in the first inning. In the third, Schiller's triple drove home three runs, singles by Sager and Hurst each drove in a run, and Knott's single scored two runs.

McConeghy, Sager, Knutson, and Schiller each had two hits in Chelsea's 12-hit attack.

In the second game, Lisa Beard ran her record to 7-1 with an 18-4 victory.

Like her teammate, Beard sur-

The Bulldogs scored six runs in the first, four in the second, five in the third, and three in the fourth.

Schiller's second triple of the day drove in two runs in the first. Crawford and Nicki Piasecki also had an RBI in the inning.

Knutson had three RBI for the game, two on sacrifices in the second and fourth innings.

McConeghy, Lisa Beard, Sager, and Knott each had two hits. Again the Bulldogs had 12 hits as a team.

Beard said his team's next goal is to finish the SEC season undefeated, then win the league tournament at home next week-end.

COLT WHITE of Chelsea makes a play on a swinging bunt against the Dexter Dreadnaughts last Thursday. White pitched all eight innings of Chelsea's 7-5 victory.

Dogs Split with Dexter In Conference Baseball

Steve Grau was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded in the top of the eighth inning to force home Ken Slane with the go-ahead run as the Chelsea Bulldogs edged the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 7-5, in the first game of a double-header last Thursday.

In the nightcap, the Dreadnaughts took a 7-2 victory to salvage the split.

After surviving a major Dexter threat in the bottom of the seventh inning of the first game, Slane doubled, Colt White walked, and Matt Powell singled to load the bases. After Grau was hit by the pitch, McCalla drove home an insurance run on a fielder's choice.

Early on it looked as though the Bulldogs might have an easy game. They took a 3-0 lead in the top of the first on an error, walk to White, a triple by Powell, and three straight walks.

A walk to Pat Steele and a double by Slane gave Chelsea a 4-1 lead in the top of the fourth.

In the bottom of the fourth, Dexter struck for three runs on four hits off Chelsea senior pitcher Colt White.

The Bulldogs pulled ahead, 5-4, in the top of the fifth on a single by McCalla, sacrifice bunt by Jason McVittie, and a double by Chris Dunham. But Dexter tied the game in the sixth on two hits and a ground-out.

White gave up nine hits for the game, struck out three and walked one.

Slane and Powell each had two hits for the game.

The second contest was knotted at 2-2 in the fourth inning. Scott Colvin's single drove home a run in the second and Tim Wescott's double scored Colvin in the fourth.

Dexter put together a five-run fifth inning. An error, steal, intentional walk, single, and another walk gave Dexter a 3-2 lead with the bases loaded. An error on a ground ball put the Dreadnaughts up 5-2, and a two-run single capped the scoring.

The Bulldogs gave up five unearned runs. Grau struck out three and walked three in a game coach Wayne Welton said the Bulldogs could easily have won.

"We made some nice plays out there behind Colt, but we also blew a couple of basic, routine plays in the second game which really hurt," Welton said.

Colvin was 3-3 in the second game. Slane had three doubles on the day.

Chelsea suffered two losses Saturday in the final day of the Cliff Keen Tournament in Ann Arbor.

Pioneer, the eventual champion, beat the Bulldogs 8-2. McVittie pitched four innings and Powell three.

The Bulldogs were down, 6-0, before scoring a single run in the fourth on a single by Scott Colvin. Down 8-1, doubles by Steele and White scored the final run in the seventh.

Pioneer jumped on top with four runs in the first inning.

Dunham, White, Steele, Nick McCalla, and Colvin each had hits.

The Bulldogs were blanked, 8-0, in the second game by Clinton as Welton decided to use many of his second stringers.

The game was scoreless through two innings before Clinton scored five runs in the third and two in the fourth.

Beach Boys Track Team Compete in Northwest Relays, Against Tecumseh

Chelsea boys junior high track team had a busy week competing in the Jackson Northwest Relays and going up against the Indians of Tecumseh.

At Jackson, the Bulpups started the afternoon with a 12th-place finish in the distance relay. Jake Hurst (800m), Jay Schick (400m), Charles Christma (1200m), and Tim Lawrence (1600m) combined for a final time of 12:49.63.

In the next event, the 4x800 hurdle shuttle relay, Paul Bragalone, Dusty White, Austin Williams and Lance Ching combined their efforts to stop the clock in (1:12.96) and placed 11th.

The big event for the team was turned in by the sprint medley relay. Jay Schick (100m), Bryan Bloomsaat (100m), Jason Fletcher (200m), Jake Hurst (400m), combined their talents to finish in third place with a quality time of 1:56.9.

In a new event for most, Paul

Bragalone, Tim Lawrence, Mike Alber and Dusty White pooled their efforts to post a time of 1:57.81 which was most impressive considering none of them had run that distance in a race performance this year.

The last running event for the team was in the 400m relay. Robert Bullock led the way as Chris Frazer, Lance Ching and Mark Milazzo rounded out the squad. Their time of :57.61 was good enough for 13th place.

High Jump—Jake Hurst/Charlie Christmas, combined 9'6".
Shot Put—Jason Fletcher/Jay Schick, combined 61'3".
Pole Vault—Mike Alber/Tom Holdsworth, combined 8'.
Long Jump—Tim Lawrence/Bryan Bloomsaat, combined 25'1".

In a meet with Tecumseh the Bulpups scored 40 against Tecumseh's 92.

Top finishers for Chelsea included the following:

Pole Vault—Mike Alber, 3rd, 7'.
Shot Put—Schick, 1st, 38'7".
Long Jump—Lawrence, 3rd, 14'9".
3200m Run—Tim Lawrence, 1st, 12:06; Chris Keezer, 3rd, 12:39.
55m Hurdles—Paul Bragalone, 1st, 9:53.
1600m Run—Charles Christmas, 2nd, 5:41.20.
100m Dash—Jay Schick, 2nd, 13.46; Brian Bloomsaat, 3rd, 13.57.
400m Run—Mark Vachine, 3rd, 1:08.
100m Hurdles—Paul Bragalone, 2nd, 15.71.
70m Dash—Chris Glowicki, 1st, 9.42; Mike Alber 3rd, 10.06.

Over-all the Bulpups improved but still struggled to put a win on the board. With three dual meets left, rest and recovery is in store for the team.

Chuck Wilson Gets Ace at Inverness

JV Baseball Team Turns The Corner

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity baseball team turned their season around in a big way last week with five straight victories. They improved their season record to 6-7.

On Monday, May 3, the Bulldogs shut out River Rouge twice at River Rouge, 10-0 and 12-0.

In the first game, Chelsea scored twice in the second and six times in the third to take control.

Sam Morseau and Ryan Ludwig had key hits in the second. Dirk Wales and Ryan Wagner doubled and Ed GreenLeaf hit a two-run homer in the third.

Wagner was 3-3 and Ludwig was 2-3. Morseau struck out 13 batters over six innings and GreenLeaf struck out two in the seventh.

Chelsea scored in each of the five innings of the second game. Jeff Branch went the distance on the mound and struck out 10.

Ludwig, Matt Foley, Greg Rickerd, Nick Brink, and GreenLeaf each had at least one RBI.

"We pitched and fielded extremely well," said Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor.

On Tuesday, May 4 the Bulldogs edge the Willow Run Flyers, 3-2.

Chelsea was down 2-1 after four innings. In the fifth, Morseau drove in Branch with a single. A second run scored on a passed ball.

"We took advantage of some mistakes and won a tight game," Ticknor said.

Craig Leonard had two of Chelsea's five hits.

Jamie Courdway and Jay Westcott limited the Flyers to three hits.

On Thursday, May 6, the Bulldogs knocked off the Dexter Dreadnaughts, 8-7 and 10-2.

Courdway singled home Morseau with the game-winning hit in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Chelsea led 3-2 after two innings but fell behind, 5-3 in the fourth. The Bulldogs came back with four runs in the bottom of the fourth for a 7-5 lead, but Dexter tied the game in the top of the sixth.

Morseau and Courdway each had two hits, Ludwig, Leonard and Brink each doubled, and Morseau tripled.

Morseau, GreenLeaf, Wales, and Branch all pitched.

"We didn't play very well, but we won in exciting fashion," Ticknor said.

In the second game, the Bulldogs scored eight runs in the bottom of the first and were never seriously challenged.

Wagner's double and Ludwig's single each drove in three runs in the first. Ludwig had four RBI for the game.

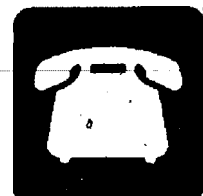

Branch pitched all five innings.

Chelsea Student Wins Scholarship, Position in New Youth Orchestra

After several days of auditions, Rebecca Flintoft of Chelsea High and 19 other gifted musicians from area high schools have been selected for a new youth pops orchestra that will make its debut this fall.

In recognition of their achievement, Flintoft and the other students will each receive a $1,000 scholarship. Flintoft, who plays the cello, is a senior at Chelsea High.

The students, selected after a two-month talent hunt, will form the Briarwood Youth Pops Orchestra. The ensemble, which includes four singers, has been created to celebrate the shopping center's 20th anniversary in October and encourage the musical promise of young people in the community.

Briarwood is awarding the students a total of $20,000 in scholarships toward their studies after high school. After extensive rehearsals, the pops orchestra will present several concerts at Briarwood the first two weekends in October, including an Oct. 1 benefit performance for the music programs at the students' schools.

Flintoft started playing the cello at the age of four in a Suzuki program and has been playing the instrument for 13 years. She performs with the Chelsea High chamber orchestra and also with the Michigan Youth Symphony.

Flintoft is not the only musically talented member of the family. Her sister also plays the cello.

All the students bring impressive credentials to the new orchestra. Most already perform in a variety of school ensembles and outside bands. Some have been performing since they were young children, and several have played with the Michigan Youth Symphony. Others have attended the prestigious summer music camp at Interlochen.

As members of the Briarwood Youth Pops Orchestra, the students will get valuable experience and help raise funds for their schools' musical programs, while enjoying the advantage of working closely with accomplished musicians.

To develop and prepare the orchestra for its debut, Briarwood has called on two widely-experienced musical figures: Dick Bright of San Francisco and Michael Grace of Ann Arbor.

Bright, the orchestras' musical director, is a well-known band leader who has performed all over the country. For five years he was band leader at the famed Venetian Room in San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel. His exuberant, witty style has made him a popular radio and television personality in San Francisco.

He has already helped form two successful youth orchestras, one at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi.

Grace, who directs the extensive jazz program at Community High, is a widely respected educator, an accomplished bass player and a teacher with a fervent following among young musicians in the Ann Arbor region. Grace has authored numerous articles on jazz education and performance and is writing a new book on jazz education.

The producer of the Briarwood orchestra performances will be Phil Caston of Denver, whose company produces major musical events around the country. Caston has worked with Bright to develop the two previous youth orchestras.

The other students and their positions are:

Roehm Inducted Into Honor Society

Tracy Roehm of Chelsea, a student at Siena Heights College, was inducted into Lambda Iota Tau, the international honor society for students of literature.

The induction was held at the college's honor convocation on April 23.

Steven Jones of Quinn-Evans architecture firm which helped renovate the capitol will show slides of that project. Professor Ted Ligibel of the Eastern Michigan University Restoration Program will show slides about WCHS's museum house at 500 N. Main in Ann Arbor.

It will be held at the Cobblestone Farm barn, 2781 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor. The meeting will begin with a pot-luck supper at 6:15 p.m. Guests are welcome. Those coming to eat are asked to bring a dish to pass.

Boychoir Concluding 1992-93 Season

Boychoir of Ann Arbor concludes their 1992-93 season with a concert featuring masses by Schubert and Haydn. Set for Sunday, May 23 at 4 p.m., the concert will take place in St. Andrew's Episcopal church, N. Division at Catherine, Ann Arbor.

The concert will feature renowned soloists from the Southeast Michigan region, including soprano Maria Cimarelli, and a string orchestra with trumpets and organ.

Schubert's Mass in G is probably his best known Mass. Accessible and tuneful, it is deservedly popular with audiences, and is full of fire and passion, as well as gentled passages in the Agnus Dei and Kyrie.

Haydn's Lord Nelson Mass is a favorite with boys as it is challenging, yet rewarding for the high treble voices. Written in 1798 for the court of Prince Nicholas II Esterhazy, this Mass includes a most beautiful setting of the "Incarnatus" and a stunning close to the "Benedictus."

The Boychoir of Ann Arbor was founded in 1986 by Dr. Thomas Strode, its present director. The 38 boys will be joined by 14 professional men singing the lower parts of the Masses.

Ticket information is available from members of the choir, or by calling the Boychoir at 485-1534.

Teen-age Boys Admit Drinking Vodka in Auto

Five young Chelsea teen-age boys in a car were stopped by Chelsea police near Trinkle and Freer Rd. after their behavior raised the suspicions of a patrolman.

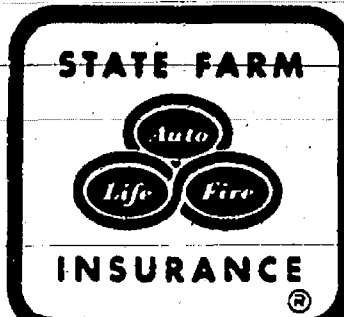

Upon a search of the vehicle, police found a bottle of vodka, about one-third full, under the passenger side seat. The four passengers admitted to drinking the alcohol.

None of the boys was older than 16. Police made the stop shortly before midnight after seeing one of the boys hanging out the window of the moving car.

Free Fishing Weekend Set

Michigan's Free Fishing Weekend, an annual event to promote, an annual event to promote the enjoyment of fishing for youngsters and adults who haven't tried the sport, will be celebrated June 12-13 this year.

"Free Fishing Weekend has become one of the most popular weekends of the summer season," Department of Natural Resources Director Roland Harnes said. "It provides the perfect opportunity for families to take youngsters and friends fishing for the first time, and is a good time for those who have not fished for awhile to get back into enjoying the sport."

Conservation and fishing clubs, civic groups, chambers of commerce, bait and tackle shops and other businesses are already making plans to schedule "how to fish" clinics and other special activities around Free Fishing Weekend in their communities. Experienced anglers are encouraged to participate as volunteers and help pass on the fishing tradition to the next generation. Thousands of youths and first-time anglers have attended these events throughout the state during the past seven years.

Michigan's Free Fishing Weekend for residents and out-of-state visitors alike is held each June in conjunction with National Fishing Week, which is June 7-13 this year. Free fishing days were held in 39 states and the District of Columbia last year to promote year-around recreational fishing as a healthy, participation sport.

Groups that want their Free Fishing Weekend special events publicized in a state-wide DNR news release should contact the DNR Fisheries Division at 517-373-1280 no later than May 20. Fishing information packets for those sponsoring Free Fishing Weekend activities are also available at the same number.

Baton Corps Members Compete At Miss Majorette of Michigan

Eleven members of the Chelsea Baton Corps competed at the National Baton Twirling Association's Miss Majorette of Michigan competition on May 1 held in Temperance.

The Miss Majorette competition is one of the largest and most prestigious baton contests of the year and consists of scoring in modeling, interview, fancy strut, and solo twirling.

Michigan Miss Majorette winners qualify to compete in the national Miss Majorette competition held during the American Youth on Parade festivities at Notre Dame in July.

Members of the Chelsea Baton Corps who placed at the May 1 contest were:

Basic Skills Pageant (solo twirl, basic marching, modeling)—Stephanie Mitchell of Dexter, 2nd place over-all, Juvenile Division; Miss Majorette of Michigan Pageant—Sarah Skyles of Chelsea, 5th place over-all, Pre-teen/Beginner Division;

Erica Bloomsaat of Chelsea, 10th place, Interview;

Kori White of Chelsea, 3rd place over-all—Junior/Advanced Division; Hillary Wiedmayer of Manchester, 3rd place, Solo Twirl, Junior/Intermediate Division;

Melony Owens of Ypsilanti, 2nd place over-all, Teenage/Intermediate Division.

Former members of the Chelsea Baton Corps who won top honors and qualified for competition at the national Miss Majorette pageant were:

Stacy Leatherberry, formerly of Stockbridge, who won Pre-Teen/Advanced Miss Majorette of Michigan;

Kristie Hatch of Chelsea, who won Juvenile/Intermediate Miss Majorette of Michigan.

The first known American political cartoon, printed in 1747, showed a wagon stuck in the mud and the wagoner praying for help. Ignoring him is a Quaker-like Hercules leaning on his club up in the clouds. The cartoon's message: Heaven helps only those who help themselves. The cartoonist: Benjamin Franklin, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bicentennial History of "The American Worker."

Pinckney Area Man Returns from Duty In Western Pacific

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Brian R. Opalek, son of Pat R. and Sue R. Opalek of 526 S. Howell, Pinckney, recently returned aboard the amphibious transport dock USS Juneau, homeported in San Diego, Calif., from a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific as part of the USS Tripoli Amphibious Ready Group.

While deployed, USS Juneau participated in Operation Restore Hope, the largest humanitarian relief effort ever. Opalek spent 56 days off the coast of Somalia and was among the first U.S. military units in the area.

Additionally, the ship conducted amphibious training exercises in Kuwait and participated in Operation Southern Watch, enforcing the U.N. sanctioned "no-fly" zone in Southern Iraq.

USS Juneau is an Austin Class amphibious transport dock designed to land Marines, their equipment and supplies. The 570-foot ship is manned by 425 ship's company personnel and can embark up to 900 Marines.

The 1989 graduate of Pinckney High school joined the Navy in August, 1989.

Unlike other adjustable rate mortgages, the 4Most can only jump so high.

15-Year 4Most Mortgage

4.5% 6.402%
rate APR

30-Year rate is 4.95% with 6.405% APR. Typical APR (annual percentage rate) includes interest on loan and other fees, and is based on a $100,000 loan with an 80% loan-to-value ratio. The APR may increase after closing. Interest rates and terms are subject to change at any time without notice.

While most ARMs can jump 6% over the life of the loan, our 4Most can jump by no more than 4%. Coupled with today's low interest rates, the 4Most is a smart choice for homebuyers who want to start with low monthly payments, and stay with them. The 4Most Mortgage: What it looks in jumping ability, it makes up in sheer intelligence. Equal Housing Lender.

Cancer Care Center Dedicated at SJMH

The Robert H. and Judy Dow Alexander Cancer Care Center, an outpatient facility funded totally through contributions, was dedicated April 29 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. The center is the focal point of a comprehensive cancer care program at the hospital that places patients at the center of services in a warm and caring environment.

More than $10 million was raised from 18,000 individuals and companies through the McAuley Cancer Care Campaign to build the facility and support other cancer care needs. The new 30,000-square-foot facility is named for the couple who chaired the McAuley Cancer Care Campaign Steering Committee. Robert Alexander died of cancer in 1992 before the campaign was completed.

"We designed the new center so that patients would not have to waste time and energy going back and forth between the many different medical and assistance areas required to treat cancers. Our services are now centralized to ensure easy access to all aspects of cancer care," said Philip Stella, M.D., director of Medical Oncology.

The Robert H. and Judy Dow Alexander Cancer Care Center houses treatment areas, a laboratory and pharmacy, physicians' offices and other support services. It is located adjacent to the hospital's radiation oncology facility and a 20-bed inpatient unit.

"The new center has been built to create a soothing, caring atmosphere," said Stella. "Furnishings, color schemes and artwork were chosen to promote a relaxed, home-like setting. We want patients to be as comfortable as possible when receiving treatment for their cancer."

Resident Reports N. Main Break-In

A N. Main St. resident told Chelsea police that someone used a 2 by 4 to try to break in a door at his house on Friday, May 7, between 5:30 p.m. and 11 p.m.

There was no evidence, however, that anything was stolen. The resident said a dog which was downstairs may have frightened the intruder.

Celebrate Live! Scheduled At North, South Schools

The annual year-end event for children in the Enrichment Triad Program at North and South Elementary schools, known as Chelsea's Children, Celebrate Live! will be held Thursday, May 13 at South school and Tuesday, May 18 at North school, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Children in grades 3-5 in the triad programs have studied a topic of special interest to them throughout the year. They produce a "commercial" about their topics and "interest center," and present the commercial to the audience.

After the commercials, parents, relatives, and friends of the students tour the interest centers set up in the cafeteria.

Students study everything from baseball to elevators. They write letters to companies and experts and try to conduct interviews, among many other study techniques. The interest centers are designed to present the knowledge the children have accumulated during the year.
