Dramatic, Conflicting Testimony Highlights Deacon's Pre-Trial Exam

After two days of testimony, the pre-trial hearing for former North Sharon Baptist church deacon Mark Foeller was adjourned until next Thursday, May 27.

The hearing, which began last Wednesday in Chelsea 14th District Court before Judge Kenneth Bronson, featured dramatic, graphic testimony from the alleged victim of sexual abuse by Foeller—a nine-year-old Jackson county boy—a parade of witnesses by the defense, and an occasional terse remark from Bronson directed at defense attorney Brian Thiede.

Foeller, 38, is accused of first-degree criminal sexual conduct with the boy in a church basement restroom in April or May of last year.

The boy, whose head barely reached the microphone, told the court that Foeller pushed him to the floor of the church bathroom in a stall, forced him to perform oral sex, engaged in anal sex, and took a photograph of him. He said Foeller told him that he would kill his parents and his brother if he told about the incident.

The boy said the attack "felt like a needle" and caused him to bleed from the rectum.

After the boy's testimony, and testimony from his mother, Thiede attempted to discredit both the boy's testimony and his family by calling a total of 16 witnesses. It was called a risky strategy by Assistant Washtenaw County Prosecutor Julia Owdziej because Thiede is revealing his entire case.

"It's rare to present such an extensive case at a preliminary exam," Owdziej said.

"Obviously he hopes it won't get bound over."

Thiede tried to link foreclosure papers on the family's home to a fire that destroyed the house a few days later. He said he believes the family is pursuing the case in order to win civil damages from the church.

Owdziej called the implications "appalling," but that "with this case, nothing surprises me."

Thiede also called several church employees and volunteers to the stand to testify that they either would have seen Foeller near the bathroom at the time of the alleged attack or that he was elsewhere on church grounds.

A nine-year-old cousin of the alleged victim testified that he sat next to the boy during Sunday school and never saw him get up to use the bathroom.

Sunday school teacher Ella Forner said she does not remember ever seeing the boy at the church and that she does not usually allow children to use the restroom during classes, when the alleged assault occurred. She also said she has never seen Foeller in the church basement during Sunday school classes.

Another defense witness, Sunday school bus driver Kenneth Merklinger, contradicted the boy's claims that Foeller was on the bus several times when the boy took the bus from his aunt's home, where he often visited for the week-end after the fire, to the church.

Testimony by Merklinger's wife, Lori, also revealed that a copy of the bus ministry's record on the child is missing and that copy would most accurately detail when the boy took the bus.

Owdziej said she believes the testimony of church officials is biased, which she will have to show at a trial.

The adjournment will allow prosecutors to arrange testimony from the Michigan State University physician who examined the boy. The doctor will allegedly testify that the boy was sexually molested.

Foeller is charged with two counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and one count of second-degree criminal sexual conduct. When the pre-trial hearing is concluded, Bronson will decide whether there is enough evidence to warrant a trial.

In another case, Foeller faces a June 21 trial in Washtenaw county on three counts each of first-degree and second-degree criminal sexual conduct. The assaults allegedly occurred in both Jackson and Washtenaw counties, but the charges were consolidated into one trial.

In addition, Foeller faces trial in Jackson county on five counts of first-degree and two counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct allegedly involving two boys, age nine and 10, at a Jackson county campground. Those trials are set for August.

School Board Remains Neutral on Proposal A

Chelsea Board of Education has decided not to give its formal blessing to Proposal A, the June 2 proposition to change to way schools are funded.

Under Proposal A, school operating millages would be rolled back to 18 mills in exchange for a two-cent increase in the state sales tax. SEV increases would be capped.

Board president Anne Comeau said the lack of endorsement does not necessarily mean the board believes Proposal A is a bad idea.

"There are so many unanswered questions," Comeau said.

"There are so many concerns that have not been answered to our satisfaction that we felt very uneasy recommending it."

One of the board's major concerns is that under the proposal the local school operating millage will be rolled back to 18 mills. That will force the district to ask for an additional 5.67 mills in order to maintain its current program.

"If [voters approve the extra millage] then Proposal A could be very good," Comeau said.

"If they don't, we are looking at severe budget cuts."

Another concern is "what happens year from now."

"There are caps on everything and we don't know exactly what will happen."

Monday night the board again considered the recently-completed Technology Report, which outlined a $4.4 million plan for installation of computers, telephones, and a sophisticated fiber optics communications network.

The board has asked curriculum director Laurie Bissell to prioritize the many items in the plan and decide what should come first.

"We don't have the $4.4 million to give over but we want to know what we can do with the money we have," Comeau said.

"If we start at the elementary level, how do we do it? What should go first?"

Some or all of the plan could become part of the district's next bond issue for school improvements. The district has not decided when that bond issue election might be held or what will be included.

The board accepted the gift of a new high school sign from the Chelsea High School Student Council. The sign would replace the current sign on Washington St. It would have an area for messages detailing the day's events at the school.

Village May Need Water Tower Soon

The village may soon have to decide whether to install a new water tower.

The village recently had the familiar tower off Main St. cleaned and inspected. Results of the inspection were not available as of press time.

However, a 1979 letter to the village from a consulting engineering firm indicated that the "tank is more than 50 years old and is not in a structurally sound condition." The engineers also concluded that the tank (100,000 gallons) is "grossly inadequate to meet the fire conditions, as well as the demand conditions on a maximum day."

In addition, the engineers noted, due to the location of the tower and the pumping station, the storage tank "is not coming on line very often, resulting in stagnation of water in the tank. The present arrangement is also resulting in high power consumption."

The report suggested that a new tower be installed on the southern end of the village.

It is just one of several major expenses the village may face soon.

Meet Candidates Night Planned

Chelsea School District will sponsor a Meet the Candidates Night on Tuesday, June 1 at 7 p.m. in the board room at Chelsea High school.

Audience members will have the chance to ask questions of the five candidates—Jan Roberts, John Deikis, Anne Williams, Sandra Merkel, and Dayle Wright.

Each candidate will be permitted an opening and closing statement.

Village Millage Rates To Decrease Slightly

Village of Chelsea's general operating millage will likely be rolled back to 10.38 mills from 10.95 mills after a public hearing scheduled for Tuesday, May 25.

Under Truth in Taxation, otherwise known as the Headlee Amendment, the village is forced to roll back its millage due to high property assessment increases. The 10.38 mills is the highest allowable millage without a Headlee override vote. The millage, under the Headlee Amendment, could be rolled back to 10.08 mills. By having a public hearing, the village can levy 10.38 mills.

The rollback will probably mean little, if any, tax relief for most homeowners, depending on the size of their assessment increases. For most, it may result in a slight increase. Village manager Jack Myers said that with the rollback the village will collect about $29,000 in additional tax money. The village operating budget is $1.89 million.

Over-all village tax bills, however, should decrease slightly. A 1973 sanitary sewer bond issue has been paid in full, which means property owners will not pay .6 mills in debt retirement.

Total SEV in the village has increased about nine percent this year, from $88.7 million to $96.9 million, Myers said.

Village real and personal property taxes are expected to generate about $960,000 for the village's general fund.

Bus Driver Chosen As School District Transportation Chief

Chelsea bus driver Robin Melton was named the new Chelsea School District transportation supervisor Monday night by the Chelsea Board of Education.

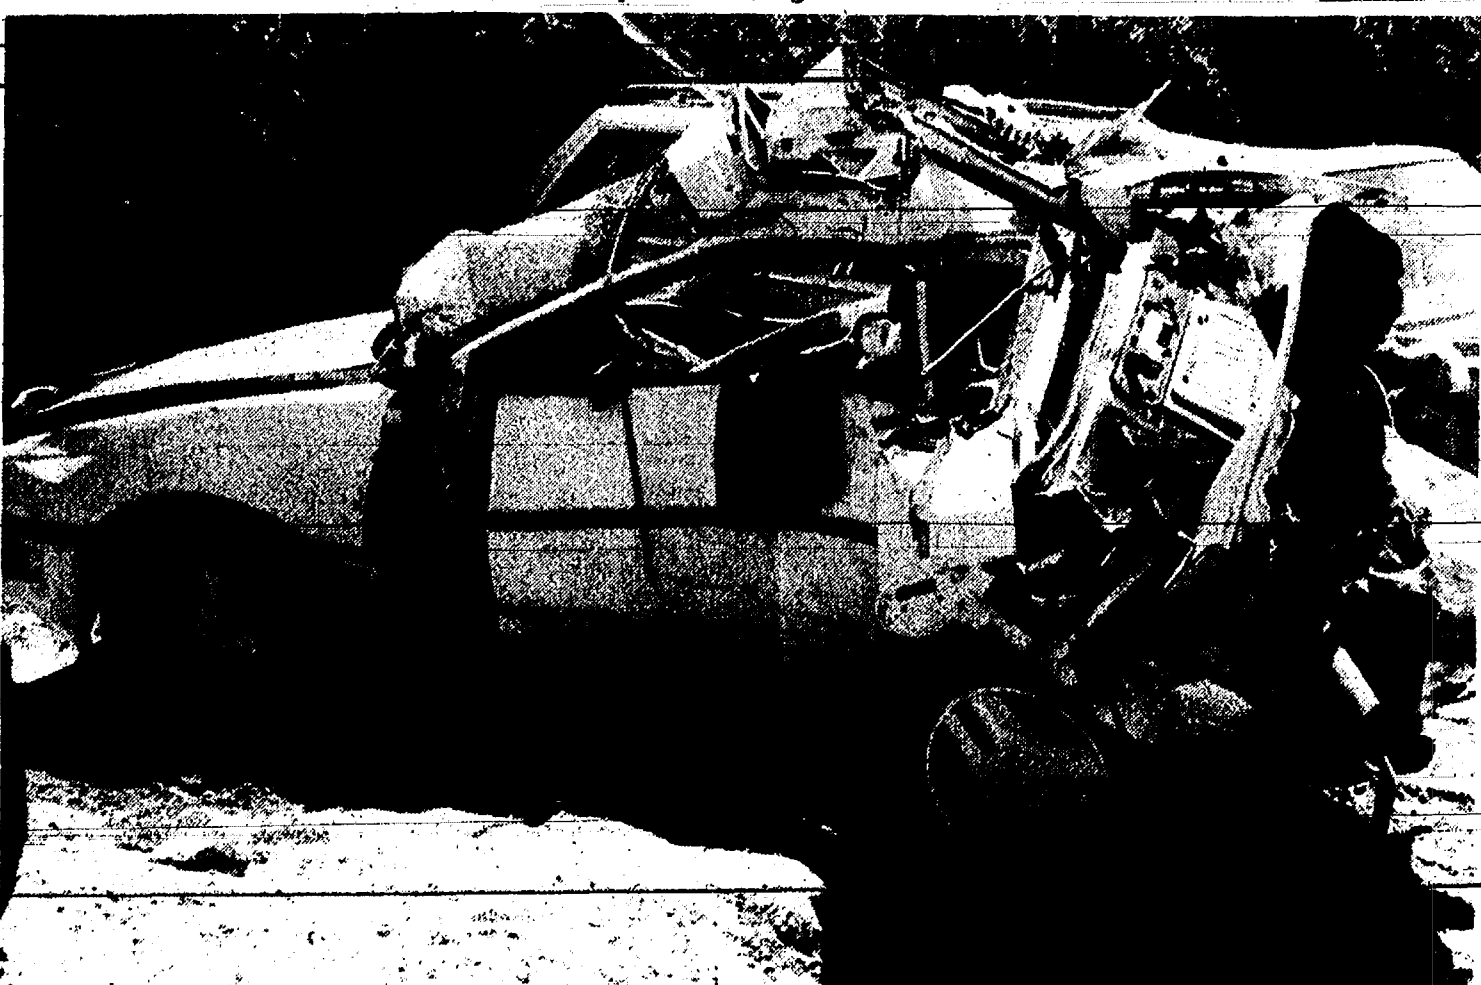

Melton, who will take the place of the retiring Sally Proctor, has worked as a driver here since 1987. In addition, she has done some secretarial work at the bus garage. She will take over at a time when the district is performing an exhaustive study of its bus routes and scheduling.

Melton, "knows the system well," according to superintendent Joe Piasecki.

Melton completed a bachelor's degree in business administration at Eastern Michigan University in 1979. From 1968 to 1977 she worked as a secretary in the University of Michigan Medical Center. She also worked at the medical center from 1984-86. From 1980 to 1987 she was a financial planner for First Investors of Ann Arbor.

Melton and her husband, Robert, have two girls in Chelsea schools. They live on Rank Rd.

A MANCHESTER WOMAN, Denise Marek, was killed when her car left the road and struck two trees and a utility pole in a one-car crash early Monday morning. The crash took place south of Chelsea village near Jerusalem Rd.

Crash Kills Area Woman

A Manchester woman was killed in a one-car crash early Monday morning near the Chrysler Proving Grounds.

Denise Marek, 40, was dead at the scene after she lost control of her compact car.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, preliminary reports indicate the crash was alcohol-related.

Police said Marek was driving southbound on M-52 at a high rate of speed when she lost control of her Ford Probe on a curve just south of Jerusalem Rd. Evidence at the scene indicated the car left the west side of the road, came back on the road, then left the east side of the road and proceeded to hit two trees and a utility pole on the driver's side before coming to rest in the front yard of a home.

Police said Marek was wearing a shoulder harness. However, it could not protect her in the side collision.

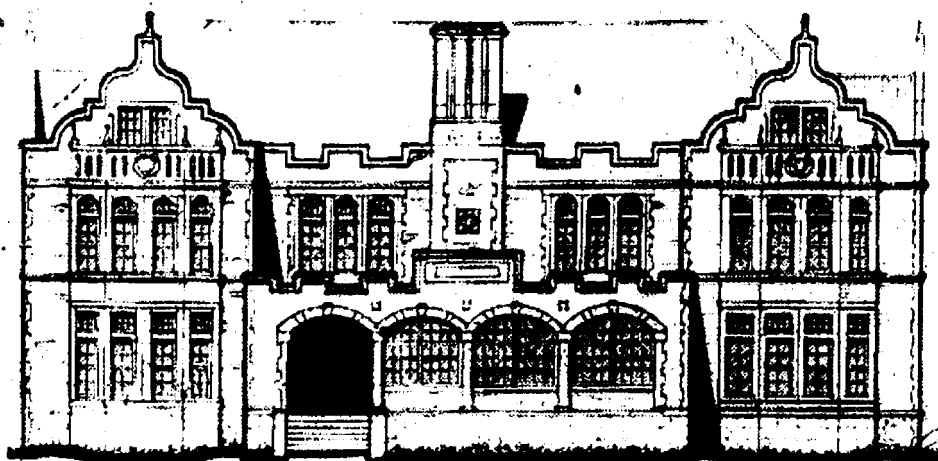

No one else was in the car and no other vehicles were involved.

Chelsea Fire Department and Huron Valley Ambulance went to the scene. Marek was taken by HVA to the University of Michigan morgue.

MEGHAN BEER, a third grader at South school, created a coloring book based on her study of flowers for the Enrichment Triad Program this year. Her "interest center" on flowers was on display at the Chelsea's Children, Celebrate Live! program at the school last Thursday. The event is designed to show what the children have learned about subjects of particular interest to them.

Chelsea High school seniors appear to be drinking and smoking more, but using marijuana and other drugs less than they were three years ago. Those are some of the statistics to be gleaned from a survey conducted by Chelsea High school senior Sarah Schaefer for the school's Focus Program.

Village of Chelsea taxpayers should see their millage rates drop, although not necessarily their taxes, with summer tax bills. Village manager Robert Stalker told council last Tuesday that millage rates should drop 1.02 mills over 1988, thanks to a combination of an 11 percent rise in the equalized valuation of property within the district and the complete pay-off of 1989 debt service.

Chelsea School District will spend $19,900 on the first phase of an asbestos removal program in the district's four schools. The Board of Education approved the expenditure at their regular meeting Monday, May 15.

The rock has been saved. Chelsea Village Council voted last Tuesday to have the rock at the corner of East St. and Harrison St. moved to Pierce Park. The rock has been a traditional target for local graffiti enthusiasts for decades. Names, words, slogans, poems, and pictures have been painted on it.

Village of Chelsea may retain an attorney outside the village for at least some of its routine legal services to avoid potential conflicts of interest.

Historic Flag Display Will Open

Chelsea's Historic American Flag Display has completed its initial financing and will be open for its first public viewing on the afternoon of Monday, May 31, Memorial Day.

Final touches are being completed by American Legionnaires Pat Merkel and William Coltre so that everything is well ahead of schedule. The display is centered in 18 four-foot square metal frames mounted on the north and east walls of the Large Group Instruction Room of the Chelsea Middle school. Nine replica flags dating from 1776 to the present are exhibited along with historic pictures and large 1/2-inch captions.

People and institutions who have given a total of $8,343 to the display are assured that their gifts will be tax-free because it is a non-profit activity under the control of Community Education in the Chelsea School District.

Jeff Rohrer, successor to Jackie Rogers Tracy, is director of Community Education and manager of administration for the Flag Display.

Index of Leading Cultural Indicators

We've all heard of the Index of Leading Economic Indicators by which the Census Bureau since the early 1960's has periodically measured the nation's commerce and industry in 11 major categories. Now comes the "Index of Leading Cultural Indicators."

By Philip C. Clarke

The brain-child of William J. Bennett, the former Education Secretary, the cultural index draws a statistical portrait of the moral and social ups and downs of U.S. society from 1960 to the present. "What is shocking," says Bennett, "is just how precipitously American life has declined in the past 30 years, despite the enormous governmental effort to improve it."

Based on data from governmental and private sources, the index is divided into eight "cultural indicators" ranging from the violent crime rate (up 560%) to an increase in average daily TV viewing—from just over 5 hours in 1960 to 7 hours and 4 minutes in 1992. When compared to the growth of government and the economy, the contrast is striking.

"Since 1960," says Bennett in a Wall Street Journal article, "the U.S.

population has increased 41%; the gross domestic product has nearly tripled; and total social spending by all levels of government (measured in constant 1960 dollars) has risen to $787 billion—more than a fivefold increase. Meantime, inflation-adjusted spending on welfare has increased by 699% and spending on education by 225%."

But during the same 30-year period, the cultural indicators have shown a steady regression. For example, the rate of violent crime has soared from 16.1 per 100,000 population in 1960 to 75.8 per 100,000 in 1991. At the same time, the median prison sentence for serious crime has fallen from 22.5 days in 1954 to only 3 days in 1990.

Other comparisons are equally alarming. Between 1960 and 1990, the percentage of births that are illegitimate grew from 5.3% to 26.2%—an increase of 419%—while divorce rates have quadrupled. The number of children living in single-parent homes has risen from 8% in 1960 to 22% in 1990; nearly 300% increase, and the rate of teenage suicides has nearly tripled, from 3.6% in 1960 to 11.3 in 1990.

And although governmental spending on education has risen to an all-time high, there has been a drop of almost 80 points in SAT, or Scholastic Aptitude Test, scores—from a combined verbal and written 975 in 1960 to 899 last year.

Bennett suggests that "America's cultural decline reflects a radical shift in public attitudes and beliefs."

Moral values and the family no longer are as important as in years past. He quotes Alexander Solzhenitsyn's diagnosis in a speech earlier this year: "The spiritual axis of life has grown dim." Author John Updike put it this way: "The fact that compared to the inhabitants of Africa and Russia, we still live well, cannot ease the pain of feeling we no longer live nobly."

"The good news," says Bennett, "is that what has been self-inflicted can be self-corrected." To encourage cultural renewal, he suggests the enactment of "morally defensible social legislation," including a "more tough-minded criminal justice system . . . a radical reform of education through national standards and school choice; a system of child-support collection whereby fathers would be made to take responsibility for their children; a rescinding of no-fault divorce laws for parents with children; radical reform of the welfare system," and the removal of

"destructive incentives" of welfare itself.

Above all, says the conservative educator and public-policy spokesman, "We should temper our expectations of what government can do. A greater hope lies elsewhere."

"Not surprisingly, William Bennett's remarks and cultural index—compiled with the help of the Heritage Foundation and Empower America, a new political organization of which he is co-director—provoked a vigorous and voluminous response, pro and con. Many letterwriters criticized his failure to address the decline of leadership and ethics in the business community. On balance, however, there are now encouraging signs that Americans are concerned about our cultural decline and want to do something about it."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Republican Ed Doolittle opened the session at the country store Saturday night with what he called a parable. He said this businessman that usual flew on the airlines had to rent a one-engine airplane at night to get to a company meeting on time. He was riding along in the dark and he asked the pilot what he would do if the engine quit. The pilot said he would glide low to the ground and turn on his landing lights. If he liked what he saw he would land, and if he didn't like what he saw he would turn off the lights.

We are five months into the new Administration, Ed allowed, and we're about ready to cut out the lights. The new President is having nearly as much trouble with his fellow Democrats as he is with Republicans over his stimulus plan, jobs bill and Russia bailout. Ed allowed, and his own people are catching so much heat over the valued added tax they are getting gun shy about new ways to squeeze the taxpayers. The picture is not pretty, Ed said, so the rest of us might as well shut our eyes and hope for the best.

Clem Webster didn't have to remind the fellows he's been a Democrat thorough the New Deal, all the other deals and what he calls the Republican doubledeals since. He said Ed has got it exact backward, as usual. While the country glided along in the dark, Clem said, the Republicans plunged it from $1 trillion to $4 trillion in debt, and now the Clinton Administration has opened our eyes so we can restart the engine and pull out of the dive.

Furthermore, went on Clem, the Democrats are flying their true colors. Will Rogers pegged them when he said he didn't belong to an organized political party, he was Democrat. They break ranks and fight skirmishes among themselves, Clem said, but when the dust settles they have forged a solid program. Right now they are going through the in-fighting that is part of their strength and that Republicans always see as a weakness.

General, Bug Hookum allowed, for all the noise coming out of Congress this is a slack time for national politicians. The elected and re-elected are settling into new terms, retired members of Congress are counting campaign funds they took home with them, and the defeated are sulking before they get around to getting their ducks in a row for another run at the public trough. The busiest right now, Bug said, are the old appointeds looking for work and the new appointeds figuring out what they're supposed to do.

So, Bug went on, what we're reading mostly is findings of them outfits that tell us everything we can think to ask about ourselves. We recent got a survey on our sex lives billed as the most complete in 20 year. Basic, it found we lie a lot about our sex lives. But we keep reading the polls in hopes of finding a second human being on the face of the earth that agrees George Steinbrenner ought to be back in baseball.

Zeke Grubb said we follow polls to see if we're typical, like we know the typical farmer feeds himself and 43 other people. Zeke saw a report recent of a home robbery where $13 was took from the housewife and $575 from the plumber working on the sink. Were these your typical housewife and plumber?

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

JORGENSEN-IWAMASA: David and Judith Anne Jorgensen of Chelsea have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn, to Jonathan Iwamasa of Midland, son of Robert and Ruby Iwamasa of Midland. An Aug. 14 wedding is planned. The future bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school. She is working on her master's degree in environmental engineering at Michigan State University and is employed at G.R. Kunkle & Associates of Brighton. The future bridegroom is working on his master's degree in mechanical engineering at Michigan State.

Child Development Class Needs Infants for Hands-on Experience

After completing an eight-week study on the physical, emotional, intellectual and social development of children under the age of five, the students of the Child Development class from Chelsea High school are in need of infants and toddlers for observation and interaction.

Fifteen infants (birth to one year) are needed on Tuesday, May 25 and 15 toddlers (ages one to three years) on Friday, May 28. The class meets from 10:25 to 11:20 in the morning and a parent needs to be present with the child.

If you are willing to help the students with this "hands-on" experience please call the high school office at 475-9131 to speak with secretary Sandra Wilkinson at extension 39 to sign up. The students are looking forward to putting their knowledge to use and appreciate any assistance the community can provide for them.

In 1884 a Bureau of Labor was established in the Department of Interior. It later became independent as a Department of Labor without cabinet rank. In 1903 it was absorbed into a new Department of Commerce and Labor, where it remained until the present Department of Labor was established in 1913, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's "Important Events in American Labor History."

Woman's Club Installs Officers

Woman's Club of Chelsea met May 11 at the Brandywine Restaurant in Jackson for the annual May Dinner.

The tables were tastefully decorated with flowering begonias for each member to take home.

Officers for the 1993-94 season were installed by Janet Fuls, chairperson of membership and calling. The officers are: president, Lois Moore; vice-president, Margaret Boehm; secretary, Shirley Smith; treasurer, Betty Oesterle; and parliamentarian, Lucille Finkbeiner.

This year's president, Lois Moore, was presented with a gift of appreciation. Other officers received thanks and gifts from the president. Two members, Virginia Johnson and Joyce Vogel, were made honorary members, recognizing completion of 20 years of active membership.

A summary of the many activities of each was given by Betty Oesterle. Lois Palmer, celebrating her birthday in May and over 60 years as a member of the club, was presented with a gift of affection and appreciation. She shared some interesting reminiscences of the early years of club history. Members were pleased that Marge Travis, honorary member and past president, returned from her new home in Holland, Mich. to share this annual occasion. Dorothy Dawson of Jackson and Elaine Knickerbocker were guests.

The program was provided by the talented Gorton family. This local group: father, mother and six children, ranging in age from 8 to 19, presented an enjoyable program of songs and musical skits. Everyone sings.

The Marathon Bridge Awards Dinner was hosted by the Woman's Club May 13. These two activities conclude the 1992-93 club year.

Meetings will resume in September. Guests are welcome at the meetings and membership is open to women in the area.

Washington St. Show Choir Scores Hit Again

Washington Street Show Choir ended their 1992-93 season by performing "Cabaret '93" to sold-out audiences on Friday and Saturday evening.

The choir is directed and was founded by Chelsea Schools vocal music director Steven P. Hinz. It is a high-energy song and dance group made up of 43 on-stage performers, all Chelsea High school students whose rehearsals require approximately six to eight after-school hours each week. And judging by the audience's enthusiastic response, all those hours spent developing and perfecting the vocals and intricate dance steps were certainly appreciated. The choir has been very well received by Chelsea audiences since its beginning three years ago.

Director Steven Hinz has avoided the temptation to rest on his laurels. This year's improvements include a six-member technical crew, students Jim Bergman, Scott Graflund, Ana Morrel-Samuels, Maya Ponte, Chris Trotter and Tony Trotter, directed by Brian Myers. Myers is an accomplished technical director having several CAP shows to his credit. The sound system, lighting, fog and even fireworks added greatly to the show.

The back-up band, made up of students Boone Gegenheimer, Mark Kemner, Scott Leeman, and Jake Zettelmair was directed by author and former professional musician Lowell Cauffiel. They, along with Lisa Hinz-Johnson accompanying on piano, provided the wonderful sound.

Responsible for all that "fancy footwork" were the choreographers Roxy Kring, Kathy Marrero and Michael Pilon who spent many hours working with the students.

The week-end performances included many solo numbers by the talented students and a guest appearance by the A.D. Mayer Show Choir. The 44-member Beach Middle school group met for five rehearsals to prepare their number, "Rockin' Robin."

Satellite Link With MSU Will Report State Issues

By Nancy Thelen, County Extension Director

Michigan State University's latest initiative to pave the way to electronic learning will reach out to counties across Michigan on May 13. A satellite downlink, installed at the Washtenaw County MSU Extension Office, will be making it easier for Washtenaw county residents to access educational opportunities from Michigan State University.

This new resource is part of a state-wide telecommunications network linking each county with the university. The aim is to enhance access to MSU's learning resources.

The project is a partnership between the university and county government. A W.K. Kellogg Foundation life-long education grant purchased the downlink technology for each county. The kick-off for the satellite system is scheduled for Thursday, May 13 from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Locally, this state-wide event will be held at the Washtenaw County MSU Extension Office, located in the County Service Center, 4133 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor.

The state-wide teleconference on May 13 will report on the state-wide issues identification process and its findings.

For the past six months, residents in each county have been working with Extension staff identifying major areas of concern. The teleconference will not only report on priority issues identified by citizens but explore partnerships for action.

Pre-registration for the teleconference is requested. Contact the Extension Office at 971-0079 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Saline Valley Fertilizer Receives Respect Award

Saline Valley Fertilizer Inc., of Saline, has been named a state winner in the Environmental Respect Awards program, honoring environmental stewardship among U.S. agricultural chemical/fertilizer retailers. The business is one of only 30 from across the country receiving the awards in 1993.

Hundreds of retail farm supply businesses were evaluated in the competition. State winners were selected based on the facility's proper design, storage and handling procedures in the physical plant, proper application methods, leadership in environmental "activism," and concern for stewardship and safety among employees, customers and the community.

An Environmental Respect Awards selection committee, made up of industry experts and past winners, reviewed the field of top dealer entries and selected the 30 state winners, reviewed the field of top dealer entries and selected the 30 state winners at a two-day meeting in St. Louis in April. The Environmental Respect Awards program was established in 1991, and is sponsored by Du Pont Agricultural Products.

"This awards program is designed to motivate increased stewardship by recognizing dealers for their excellence," says Bill Kirk, vice-president and general manager for Du Pont Agricultural Products. "Du Pont enjoys honoring ag chemical retailers who, like itself, make an effort to preserve the environment for future generations."

The program also has the mission of sharing the winner's stories with the general public.

"Getting positive news out about agriculture's commitment to environmental respect is probably the most exciting part of this program," says K. Elliott Nowels, associate publisher of Dealer Progress magazine.

Each state winner will receive a crystal trophy and Environmental Respect jackets for all its employees. The state winners will also compete for eight regional awards worth $2,500 each, which will be announced in June. These top eight winners will then be honored at a special reception at the U.S. Capitol in late July.

DEXTER'S COMMUNITY BAND will present a varied concert Saturday, May 22 in Pierce Park beginning at 3 p.m. The 45-piece band was cited this past year as being an "exemplary community education" program by the State of Michigan. Several members of the band are from Chelsea.

Dexter Community Band Will Present Saturday Concert Here

On Saturday, May 22, the Dexter Community Band under the baton of Dr. David Angus will travel to Chelsea to perform a concert in Pierce Park at 3 p.m.

The band will be coming to Chelsea after a 12 noon performance in Hell, Mich., where they are one of the musical groups performing for Hell's "Buzard Festival."

The band is sponsored by Dexter Community Education. This year the band was cited as an "exemplary" community education program by the State of Michigan.

Saturday the band will perform a variety of music. Their selections will range from marches to traditional band repertoire "Second Suite for Military Band in F Major" by Gustav Holst. "Selections from Cole Porter" will honor many Cole Porter songs. The band's trombone section will be featured in "The Trombone Rag" by John Higgins.

Members of the band possess many talents. "Happy Thoughts, a Fantasia" arranged by Al Townsend one of band's baritonists will be performed by Eric Starnal one of the band's versatile tuba players.

The band's ever popular dixieland group will entertain with toe tapping music.

The 45-piece traveling band is comprised of members from Dexter and surrounding communities. Members of the group from Chelsea include Bill Adams (percussion), Lou Scovill (trombone) and Milford and Michael Wolpoff (clarinetists).

Michigan State University this spring will begin building a state of the art National Food Safety and Toxicology Center. The center will focus on research and teaching and is designed to help farmers, food processors and the government ensure the safety of all foods for consumers.

CATS was the special subject of interest for South school fourth grader Nicole Kieber in the Enrichment Triad Program this year. She learned about all sorts of cats, including many of those belonging to her classmates, whom she surveyed as part of her project. Her information about felines was included in her hand-made "interest center" last Thursday at the annual Chelsea's Children, Celebrate Live! program.

BETSY RUHLIG decided to study cigarettes for her project in the Enrichment Triad Program at South school this year. The third grader had a relative die from a smoking-related illness so the topic became even more personal to her. She studied cigarette advertising, how to quit smoking, and other related topics. Her "interest center" was on display at Chelsea's Children, Celebrate Live! last Thursday.

Who Is Your Long-Distance Phone Company?

Do you know who your long-distance company is? Are you sure? Many Michigan customers have been surprised to learn that their "long-distance company" wasn't really their long-distance company. "Slamming" occurs when a customer is switched to a different long-distance service without knowing it. Customers are sometimes pressured into changing their long-distance company. Also, companies have been known to obtain personal facts from the customer and use it to verify the switch.

To protect yourself against slamming, it is important to know the following:

- Contact your local telephone company to advise them not to change your long-distance company unless they first contact you to verify any switch;

- Several regulated long-distance companies and independent resellers are known to have slammed customers;

- Never give out personal information over the telephone;

- Be wary of high pressure sales talk. Unethical resellers may claim to represent a regulated company to establish credibility with a customer;

- Ask for a written agreement. It should include an authorization postcard or letter which you must sign and return to the company;

- Make sure you understand the agreement before you okay the switch of your long-distance company;

- If you wish to change your long-distance company, make the first move: Call your local telephone company and get a complete listing of all long-distance companies serving your area; and

- If you have been slammed or become a victim of slamming, call your local telephone company and the long-distance company. Inform both that you wish to be changed back to your previous company. It is current practice by Michigan companies to return you to your original long-distance company, at no charge, and refund any charges you may have originally incurred.

Problems and complaints should be reported to the Michigan Public Service Commission, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing 48909, toll free 1-800-292-9555 or to the Federal Communications Commission, Enforcement Division, 2025 M Street N.W., Room 6202, Washington, D.C. 20554, (202) 632-7553.

"The day most wholly lost is the one on which one does not laugh"

—Nicolas Chamfort

There are few natural tonics more potent than a hearty laugh. It takes a finely-tuned sense of humor to see the funny side of every situation, but the ability to find things to laugh about can be developed through practice.

Learn to laugh, especially if you feel you have little to laugh about. Look for the bright side and you will have a more positive impact among your friends and acquaintances... you'll even enjoy your own company more, too!

Prudent people select a funeral director well in advance of need, just as they select a doctor or a lawyer. We suggest that you contact us for a get-acquainted visit.

FORMER DEXTER BAKERY BAKERS Kevin Owen and Bill Marx recently opened their own bakery on Jackson Rd. They will be having their grand opening Memorial Day week-end.

Former Dexter Bakery Bakers Open Elite Bakery on Jackson Rd.

Kevin Owen and Bill Marx, former bakers at Dexter Bakery, have left the nest to fly on their own.

The two have opened Elite Bakery in the Jackson Centre at 3915 Jackson Rd. With a combined 17 years of experience, the two feel they will do fine, centrally located between Dexter and Ann Arbor.

Their two-man operation brings youth and enthusiasm to a once empty bakery, abandoned by its former owners. Marx and Owen decided to keep the name Elite but have brought their recipes from the Dexter Bakery. The renowned apple fritters, soft pretzels and custom breads that the two once baked for Dexter Bakery are reappearing in their own shop. But, they have also introduced a number of specialty pastries including fruit flans, raspberry sponge cake rolls, chocolate tortes and cream cheese brownies. They also make special occasion cakes.

Marx boasts about their salt rising bread, which he says is hard to find. "It's pretty popular with the older generation," he said. The bread takes two to three days to make, but is worth it to have great tasting bread, he says. Owen brags about their English muffin bread, which is also popular muffed.

Just in the early stage, both bakers don't have some of the amenities they'd like. For instance, they aren't able to offer coffee, juice or milk until they line-up a distributor, which they expect to do within the next month. For now, customers are welcomed to enjoy one of their pastries at an Up-Town Coney Island booth and order a beverage from one of their servers.

It's not inconvenient either, because Up-Town and Elite are adjoining businesses. They also offer a large parking area and an air conditioned facility.

Marx stands by the quality of his baked goods. He said both he and Owen are "high on quality control." "Our rolls are baked daily to maintain a quality standard," Owen explained. In fact, the two donate day-old baked goods to charity organizations, most recently to Peace Neighborhood Center in Ann Arbor. "We stand behind our quality 100 percent," he said. If a customer isn't completely satisfied with anything purchased at the bakery, Owen said they will exchange the item for a refund.

Elite Bakery's grand opening is scheduled for Memorial Day week-end, May 29-30.

Five Michigan Cities Ranked Nationally As Most Affordable

Five cities in Michigan have been ranked as the most affordable metropolitan areas in the nation, according to the National Association of Home Builders Economics and Housing Policy Division in Washington, D.C.

The five most affordable metro cities in Michigan include: Battle Creek; ranked fourth in the nation; Jackson; ranked sixth in the nation; Saginaw - Bay City - Midland areas; ranked ninth in the nation; Lansing - East Lansing; ranked 15th in the nation; Grand Rapids; ranked 16th in the nation.

"With the economy beginning to turn the corner, extremely competitive home prices in Michigan and historically low interest rates, this is an opportune time for first-time home buyers who have been waiting for the right moment to purchase their home," says Mike Hofer of Clarkston, 1993 president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders (MAHB).

Construction starts in Michigan include 38,240 residential units from January through December of 1992, a 12.6 percent increase from the same period in 1991.

The result in Michigan: an increase with 30,914 new residential projects underway as compared to 28,892 projects in 1991.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

'If It Ain't Broke, Don't Fix It'

From visionary reformers to radical revolutionaries, there always have been people among us who would change things to suit themselves—including now the United States Constitution. But conservative constitutionalists in effect are insisting: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it!"

By Philip C. Clarke

At 206 years, it's the world's oldest written constitution. Regarded by most historians as a creative miracle, it still serves as a model for many of the world's emerging nations. Yet, there are influential forces at work in Washington to convene a constitutional convention for the purpose of rewriting that historic document. And to this end, they seek to use the Constitution itself, specifically Article 5.

Article 5 provides for the enactment of constitutional amendments by a vote of two-thirds of both Houses of Congress, "or on the application of two-thirds of the several states, (Congress) shall call a convention for proposing amendments..." Any such amendments would then be subject to ratification by a three-fourths vote of the State legislatures or State conventions held for that purpose.

Including adoption of the first 10 amendments, known as the Bill of Rights, in 1791, Congress itself has enacted 27 constitutional amendments. But other than the Philadelphia convention of 1787—at which the Founding Fathers framed the Constitution after discarding the Continental Congress' earlier "Articles of Confederation"—there was no organized movement for a new constitutional convention until the mid-1970s.

Since then, however, proponents have come within two States of the necessary two-thirds approval by 34 States. After bitter opposition, a handful of States have rescinded their approval. But, at last count, just over 30 State legislatures are still on record in favor of a constitutional convention and the fight is far from over.

Supporters base their latest pro-convention drive on the need for a constitutional amendment mandating a balanced federal budget, arguing that only the States can push it through. But opposition forces warn that however much a balanced budget is needed, the convening of a constitutional convention would open the door to any number of special interests, many of whom would make every effort to throw out the present Constitution in favor of a whole new form of government radically different from today's republican system.

Addressing a New Jersey Senate committee considering that State's position on the issue, Robert Morris, chairman of America's Future and former chief counsel of the U.S. Senate's Judiciary Subcommittee on Internal Security, warned of the many dangers involved. Any open convention on amending the Constitution, he testified, would have "no set rules and no limitations on what changes it might consider. We don't even know if the agenda could be restricted."

In his statement, Morris cited the 1988 opinion of Warren Burger, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. Replying to an inquiry from Phyllis Schlafly, whose Eagle Forum organization strongly defends the original Constitution, Justice Burger said any new convention would not be worth the risks. It could, he added, "plunge our Nation into constitutional confusion and confrontation at every turn, with no assurance that focus would be on the subjects needing attention..."

Morris also cited a 1921 Supreme Court decision holding that changes in the Constitution should be based on a "contemporaneous consensus." He pointed out that the movement for a State-called constitutional convention began some 18 years ago, hardly a "contemporaneous" action.

Morris said one of the leading pro-convention lobbying groups—the Committee on the Constitutional System—has made no secret of its "dissatisfaction with our Constitution." He said the Committee has published a 334-page book titled, "Reforming American Government." On its back cover is a message from Committee member Robert S. McNamara, who served as U.S. Defense Secretary in the 1960s and later as president of the World Bank. "It is tempting to believe," said McNamara's message, "that our constitutional system, having survived for over 200 years, can handle the daunting challenges it now confronts. But common sense warns that it may not be so."

Robert Morris takes issue with such revisionism. "Our Constitution, which has served us well for more than two centuries, should be preserved," he told New Jersey legislators. "It is our first line of defense against the creation of a so-called 'New World Order' under which America's voice would be lost forever in a sea of alien forces..."

Sarah Pruess Wins District 'Speak for Yourself' Contest

Sarah Pruess of Chelsea was named a district winner in the fifth annual RespecTeen "Speak for Yourself" letter writing contest.

Pruess, a 12-year-old seventh grader at Beach Middle School, was one of 12,000 students from across the country who wrote letters to their U.S.

representatives to state their views on youth-related public policy issues.

Pruess, daughter of David and Barbara Pruess of Chelsea, wrote a letter to Rep. Bob Carr concerning the funding of education. The winning letters were judged on quality, clarity of thought, argument, supporting data, expression, sincerity, and originality.

Among district winners, one letter-writer was selected from each state and the District of Columbia to attend the RespecTeen National Youth Forum in Washington, D.C. in April.

The "Speak for Yourself" curriculum was distributed to social studies teachers in October. The curriculum is sponsored by Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal society.

Pruess' letter follows.

Dear Representative Carr: I feel that improving the American educational system should be the number one priority of the national government.

Today we hear that the performance of our young adults is inferior to the performance of those who are schooled in Europe and Japan. We also hear about employers having to re-educate their employees because they graduate unprepared for the world of work.

I feel that the government should re-direct funds from other areas to upgrade education nation-wide. Since former President Bush failed to follow Bulldogs!

Chelsea Softball Team Ends Unbeaten in SEC

Chelsea Bulldogs softball team completed their second consecutive undefeated Southeastern Conference regular season last Thursday with a sweep of the Pinckney Pirates in Pinckney.

The Bulldogs head into Saturday's SEC Tournament here as the number one seed. They'll get a first round bye, then play the winner of the Dexter-Tecumseh game at 12:30 p.m. at the high school field. The championship game follows at 3 p.m. at the high school.

Sophomore Carey Schiller pitched the Bulldogs to a 6-3 victory in the first Pinckney game, and freshman Lisa Beard picked up the victory in the nightcap, 16-12.

"What a mess," is the way coach Joe Beard described the Pinckney double-header.

"We didn't play badly in the first game, but the second game was one of the craziest games of the last two years. Everything that could have gone wrong, did."

Schiller struck out five and walked one and allowed seven hits.

Chelsea scored one run in the first and five in the fifth to take a 6-0 lead.

A wild pitch scored Lisa Beard in the first inning.

In the fifth, four walks and singles by Theresa Hurst and Liz Sager did most of the damage.

The Bulldogs played uncharacteristically sloppy defense in the second game, committing 12 errors. Lisa Beard also surrendered a season-high 10 hits.

Nevertheless, Chelsea was able to rally from a 3-0 deficit in the first inning to take a big lead and hold on.

In the top of the second, a double by Nancy Pidd and single by Schiller tied the game at 3-3. The Bulldogs took the lead for good in the third as Jacki Crawford's double drove in two of Chelsea's three runs.

Ahead 6-4 after three, Chelsea struck for six runs in the fourth as a triple by Sager and singles by Gretchen Knutsen and Pidd were the big blows.

Pinckney rallied for two runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth to pull within 12-9.

Heather McConeghy drove in two runs with a single in the sixth, before Pinckney scored three in the bottom of the inning to cut Chelsea's lead to 14-12.

Crawford finished the Chelsea scoring in the seventh with a two-run double.

"I can laugh now, but it was a long game," Beard said.

"Everyone is entitled to have one game like this. Our seniors waited until their final league game to have it."

Chelsea had 17 hits for the game.

In a week-end tournament at St. Joseph, Chelsea finished 2-1, good for second place.

The Bulldogs lost the first game, 5-2, to class A Lakeshore.

Schiller's record dropped to 10-2 in her six-hit, five-strikeout performance.

"Lakeshore was one of the best team's we've seen," Beard said.

"We don't see faster pitching like that around here very much. It was a good experience."

Chelsea gave up two runs in each the first and third innings. They scored two in the fifth on three hits, a walk, and a ground out.

The Bulldogs rebounded from their shoddy defense against Pinckney for an errorless game.

Sophomore Lauren Zuehlke pitched Chelsea to a 14-4 victory in the second game over host St. Joseph.

ground out by Hurst, a sacrifice fly by Knutsen, and a walk. At the end of the inning, Chelsea led 4-2.

Five more Bulldogs scored in the fourth on a sacrifice fly by Hurst, ground out by Sager, two-run single by Pidd, and a passed ball.

A single by Hurst and four walks produced five more runs in the fifth. St. Joseph surrendered 14 walks and hit three batters.

Chelsea won the final game against Comstock, 2-1, as Lisa Beard gave up two hits and struck out five batters.

Comstock took a 1-0 lead in the second. But Chelsea rallied in the bottom of the inning on walks to Erin Knott and Knutsen, an infield single by Piasecki, and a sacrifice fly by Crawford.

The winning run scored in the fifth. McConeghy reached on an error, stole second, and move to third on a sacrifice fly by Lisa Beard. Hurst followed with a squib single through the infield.

Strong Chelsea defense snuffed a sixth inning threat. With a runner at third and one out, Lisa Beard knocked down a line drive and threw the runner out at the plate.

After last week the Bulldogs had a 22-5 record.

TIM WESCOTT waits for the throw as a Detroit County Pirates runner slides into second on a stolen base. Chelsea had a tough time on Saturday and suffered a double-header loss. They'll play the Lincoln Railsplitters in the opening round of the Southeastern Conference Tournament this Saturday.

Chelsea Baseball Team Takes Fourth in League

Chelsea Bulldogs baseball team split a double-header with the Pinckney Pirates last Thursday in the final Southeastern Conference regular-season games of the season.

Chelsea finished the season with an even 5-5 mark, good for fourth place. They'll face the Lincoln Railsplitters in the opening round of the SEC tournament next Saturday at Lincoln at 10 a.m.

In the first Pinckney game, Chelsea starter Ken Slane suffered a 4-3 loss. He allowed eight hits, struck out four, and didn't walk a batter.

"Kenny pitched well," said Chelsea coach Wayne Welton.

"He was around the plate all day. Our defense was okay behind him."

Three Pirates solo homers did most of the damage. Chelsea had a chance to tie in the top of the seventh with two on and no out. However, a line drive to the third baseman resulted in an inning-ending double play.

The Bulldogs had the early lead. In the top of the first, Chris Dunham singled and stole second. Colt White's single drove in a run and Nick McCalla's sacrifice drove in a second run.

By the third inning Chelsea fell behind 4-2.

In the sixth, Steve Grau's single drove home the third Chelsea run. Dunham and White each had two hits.

In the second game, the Bulldogs jumped out to a big early lead for pitcher Jason McVittie.

Chelsea scored five runs in the first on the strength of an RBI double by Tim Wescott and a two-run homer by White.

A four-run fourth inning included a double by McCalla and singles by Grau, Casey Schiller, Dunham, and Wescott.

Wescott and McCalla each had (Continued on page 12)

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

Having just turned 40, I'm beginning to understand all those jokes about life going downhill from here. It's not so much that physical deterioration sets in. It's that everything begins speeding up.

Seems like yesterday that a thousand of us or so were watching a Chelsea basketball game at Willow Run. Here we are at the end of the SEC spring sports season. Tomorrow the district tournament starts, the day after that will be the fair, followed the next day by Christmas.

It doesn't help that the spring sports season is so short, especially compared to, say, basketball. You can just about fit two high school baseball seasons into one basketball season. The softball season is about as long as two rounds of the NBA play-offs. Imagine, the NBA season is nearly as long as the entire school year.

So, before I sneeze and it's the Fourth of July, here's what's happened so far this spring.

Another undefeated SEC regular season for the softball team. Coach Joe Beard has somehow come up with two youngsters, sophomore Carey Schiller, and his own freshman daughter, Lisa, who are pitching as well as most seniors in the area, and certainly the league. His senior infield of Theresa Hurst at third, Gretchen Knutsen at short, Heather McConnelly at second, and Erin Knot at first, along with catcher Liz Sager, just doesn't make many mistakes and makes all the routine plays. They are the perfect complement to the young but talented pitching staff. Beard's offense has also been sound. The girls came up with the key extra base hits but they're also patient enough to draw plenty of walks. They run the bases with authority. In short, the team doesn't have many weaknesses.

My one concern about the softball team is whether they've been challenged enough. The league seemed pretty weak this year. The Bulldogs passed a tough test with class A Plymouth-Canton a couple of weeks ago, and another last week-end against Comstock.

I'm sure Beard won't let his girls take the SEC tournament for granted this week-end, although the Bulldogs should be a shoo-in for the finals. If they don't win both their games, it would have to be considered a major upset. A bigger test may come in the district tournament, although the Bulldogs have already beaten almost everyone in the district, the exception being Willow Run, whom they haven't played.

The girls track team is having another spectacular season, maybe the best in Senior Lisa Monti's four sensational years. The Bulldogs have won every single meet this season, including all those big, competitive invitationals. Can't do much better than that. Coach Bill Bainton has a team that can score in virtually every event and he has depth just about everywhere, from the hurdles to the distance events. The sad part is the girls are all through at home this season.

Sadder still is Monti has run her last race here, which to me is about as depressing as it gets in Chelsea sports. Few athletes, here or anywhere else, have been as dominant as she has. She has been the epitome of grace on the cross-country course and on the track. She has been the epitome of consistency throughout her four years. And through it all she has taken it all in stride and been about as humble as any athlete I can remember. Quite a young lady. Seems like just yesterday that the gangly freshman with braces was outrunning everybody at the state cross country meet.

Elsewhere, the boys track team is consistently in the middle of the pack in the large invitationals, which is about 10 steps up from where they were three years ago. It's hard to overstate the job Pat Clarke has done with that program in the space of a few years.

Baseball? Maybe the biggest mystery of the entire year. Actually, it's no mystery to coach Wayne Welton as to what has caused his team to finish fourth in the league. Inconsistent defense. Take last week-end. Twenty-one errors in a double-header. Not that his team doesn't know how to field because they've shown they can make some dazzling plays. The mystery to me is the team is loaded with fine athletes who are not new to baseball. It's got to be frustrating for everyone because the team has enough pitching, hitting, and team speed to compete with anyone. If the boys begin to make the routine plays, they could make some noise in the post-season. They are entirely capable of winning the SEC tournament this week-end.

This year, incidentally, is the first time in the last 10 seasons that Welton's team has not finished first or second in the SEC in the regular season—quite a remarkable record in what is traditionally a tough baseball league.

All in all, a pretty fine spring sports season. On to the post-season.

Girls Track Team
Beats Dexter, Tecumseh

Bulldogs girls track team ran its SEC record to 5-0 this week by defeating Dexter 101 to 27 and Tecumseh 87 to 41.

Lisa Monti, Theresa Royce and Keri Kentala set the pace against Dexter as they each won two events and ran legs on winning relays. Laura Paton, Beth Bell, and Erin Schiller each won one individual event and ran legs on two winning relays.

Monti took the 1600 and 3200 runs in 5:23.6 and 12:12.5 and combined with Bell, Sarah Henry, and Val Bullock to win the 3200 relay in 10:13.6.

Royce led a Chelsea sweep in the long jump at 14'8" with Katie Spink second and Monica Hansen third, the 200 in :27.2 and combined with Paton, Spink, and Schiller to win the 800 relay in 1:52.3.

Kentala ran her best times of the season in winning both hurdle races. She won the 100 hurdles in :16.6 and the 300 hurdles in :49.4.

Chelsea swept the 100 race with Monica Hansen second and Jill McKinnon third and added a third from Andrea Ludwig in the 300s.

Kentala also ran with Schiller, Sara Schick, and Megan MacDonald to win the 400 relay in :53.7.

Schiller's individual win came with a jump of 4'8" in the high jump. Courtney Thompson was second in that event.

Paton ran her best time of the season in winning the 400 in 1:01.9 with Sarah Henry second. Bell took the 800 in 2:29.1 with Melissa Hand right behind in 2:30.1, both season's best. Paton, Bell, Hand, and Katie Spink combined for a 4:24.4 to win the 1600 relay. Spink also was third in the 200.

Other Bulldogs scoring were Mara Smith who won the discus with 98'2" and was second in the shot at 30'2 1/2". Jessica Flintoft third in the discus, Wendy Bristle third in the shot, and Sarah Schick second in the 100.

Molly Griebel ran her best times of the season finishing third in the 1600 at 5:50 and second in the 3200 at 12:57.0.

The Tecumseh meet figured to be close, but the Bulldogs took a big lead in the field events and built on that the entire meet.

"We had hoped we could stay even in the field events but everything went our way. We felt we could outscore them in the running events but having the lead took the pressure off," said coach Bainton.

Topping the performances in the field was an outstanding jump of 15'10 1/4" from Theresa Royce to win the long jump. Monica Hansen was third with 14'4 1/4" her season's best. They defeated Tecumseh's Angela Feldkamp, the defending SEC champion.

The Bulldogs also had sweeps in the shot and discus. Mara Smith won both with throws of 29'8 1/4" and 90'10". Jessica Flintoft added a second in the discus and third in the shot while Heidi Wehrwein was second in the shot and third in the discus.

Erin Schiller won the high jump at 4'10" with Keri Kentala and Monica Hansen tying for third. Chelsea held a 30-6 advantage in the field events.

The teams split the races with Chelsea winning 7 and Tecumseh 5, with each winning two relays, but the Bulldogs had a big edge in second places.

The 3200 relay of Melissa Hand, Sarah Henry, Val Bullock, and Lisa Monti raced to an outstanding time of 9:58.5 to win that race. Monti also took the 1600 in 5:44.6 with Molly Griebel second, and the 3200 in a season best of 11:45.1 with Griebel again second.

Hand won the 800 in 2:38.5. Keri Kentala won the 100 hurdles with Monica Hansen third and the 300 hurdles with Hansen taking second with her season's best, :51.0. Theresa Royce was second in the 100 in :13.0 with Sarah Schick third, and Royce was second in the 200 in :27.0 with Erin Schiller third.

The Bulldogs won the 400 relay as CHELSEA'S Laura Paton, left, tries to pass Tecumseh's Nicole Randolph in the 400 run. Randolph set a school record to win and Paton finished second.

the team of Schick, Megan MacDonald, Schiller, and Kentala ran a :53.8.

Although Tecumseh's Nicole Randolph won the 400 in :59.5, a school record, Chelsea had strong races from Laura Paton who was second in 1:02.0 and Sarah Henry third in 1:03.8.

The Bulldogs ran at Pinckney yesterday to complete the SEC dual season. The Pirates went into the week in second with a 4-1 SEC record. Saturday Chelsea runs in the regional at Perry.

Chelsea Girls Win
Northwest Relays

Chelsea high school girls track team won the Jackson Northwest relays Saturday, scoring 114 points. Tecumseh was second with 72, and Northwest third with 70 in the 10-team field. It is the fourth consecutive season the Bulldogs have won the meet.

Chelsea had five firsts and four seconds in the 12 events.

Taking first were the shuttle hurdle relay of Monica Hansen, Keri Kentala, Jill McKinnon and Andrea Ludwig in 1:11.8, the 3200 relay of Melissa Hand, Sarah Henry, Val Bullock, and Lisa Monti in 10:09.7, the discus relay of Mara Smith, Heidi Wehrwein, and Jessica Flintoft who threw a combined 253'4", the long jump team of Theresa Royce, Katie Spink, and Hansen who combined for 42'1", and the 1600 relay of Laura Paton, Spink, Monti, and Henry who won in 4:16.7 as Henry held off Tecumseh's Nicole Randolph with a fine stretch run.

Taking seconds for the Bulldogs were the 400 relay of Sarah Schick, Megan MacDonald, Erin Schiller, and Theresa Royce in :53.1, the five-person team of Schick, Keri Kentala, Royce, Sarah Henry, and Laura Paton, in 4:16.7, the middle distance relay of Val Bullock, Jill McKinnon, three hits, and White and Schiller chipped in with two each. McVittie went the distance, struck out two, walked two, and gave up five hits.

In SEC games last Monday, May 10, the Bulldogs beat the Tecumseh Indians, 6-5, but the second game ended in a 6-6 tie.

White pitched the first game, allowed two hits, and struck out eight over the first five innings.

Chelsea had a 5-0 lead before they allowed fourth runs in the sixth on three errors and two hits. Tecumseh tied the game in the seventh.

In the bottom of the seventh, Dunham reached on an error, and moved to third on a sacrifice and a wild pitch. An attempted squeeze failed, but Pat Steele eventually scored on a wild pitch.

In the second game, Matt Powell's second grand slam of the season gave Chelsea a 5-0 lead in the first inning and pitcher Grau appeared to be on his way to a victory.

However, Tecumseh eventually rallied to tie and the game was called in the sixth inning.

Grau allowed eight hits, struck out six, and walked five.

McCalla was 3-3 and Dunham picked up two hits.

Scientists hope that a fat loss forecast might help dieters set realistic goals and avoid the traps of yo-yo diets and crash diets that aren't nutritionally sound.

JV Softball Team Pushes Over-all Record to 20-2

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity softball team won seven more games last week to improve their record to 20-2.

Chelsea started the week with 8-4 and 9-6 victories over the Tecumseh Indians on Monday, May 10.

In the first game, the teams battled to a 3-3 tie after the first two innings before the Bulldogs pulled ahead for good in the fifth on bunts by Nikki Lane and Martha Merkel.

Melissa Schulz was the winning pitcher as she struck out six batters and allowed four hits.

Chelsea put the second game away early with six runs in the top of the first on five walks and a single by Merkel.

Chelsea pitchers Sara Petty and Schulz gave up eight hits and four earned runs.

The Bulldogs split a double-header with Brighton on Tuesday, May 11, losing the first, 11-10, and winning the second, 16-6.

Brighton took an 8-4 lead after two innings of the first game. Chelsea had four errors in the first inning which helped Brighton to six runs.

"Our pitching was on but errors lost this game in the first inning," said coach Kim Eder.

Chelsea pitchers Petty and Schulz allowed just three earned runs.

The second game, Chelsea jumped out to a 7-3 lead after two innings as they capitalized on numerous walks. Brighton ended up issuing 17 walks for the game.

Chelsea also had 14 stolen bases out of 15 attempts.

On Thursday the Bulldogs swept Pinckney in a double-header, 11-0 and 16-6.

In the first game, Pinckney picked up where Brighton left off by walking 15 batters.

The story of the game, however, was the pitching of Schulz, who allowed only one baserunner in a no-hitter. "Melissa looked great, she was throwing hard and keeping the ball down at the knees," Eder said.

Charlotte Ziegler had two hits for Chelsea.

Pinckney walked 19 batters in the second game as Chelsea won the five-inning game.

Ziegler, Shannon Shemansky, and Chrissy Vargo each had a hit.

Petty gave up four hits.

On Saturday at Dexter, Chelsea beat the Dreadnaughts, 21-0 and 29-2.

Dexter gave up 13 walks and 11 errors in the first game and 23 walks in the second game.

Danielle Longe pitched a one-hitter in the first game as she struck out 11.

Tina Richardson, Katie Morse, Longe, Melissa Messner, Lindsay Gaken, Kyle Kentala, and Lane each had at least two hits.

In the second game, Petty faced 20 batters in five innings.

Unusual Twist Offered for SEC Championship Softball Game

The Southeastern Conference Softball Tournament championship game next Saturday in Chelsea could be music to Chelsea coach Joe Beard's ears in more ways than one.

Fox Theatre organist Don Haller, friend of a Chelsea softball parent, has agreed to play between innings of the game. Haller has played for magician David Copperfield and has worked on cruise ships, among other engagements.

Haller will use, weather permitting, a portable organ. The game is scheduled to be played on the high school varsity field, next to the gym, at 3 p.m.

Barring a major upset, the Bulldogs should be in the title game. They walked through the SEC regular season with a 12-0 record, including a number of mercy-rule wins.

If you've ever wondered what the Chelsea fight song sounds like on an organ, Saturday may be the time to find out.

JV Baseball Team Sweeps Pinckney in SEC Finale

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity baseball team lost a double-header to the Tecumseh Indians on Monday, May 12, 3-2 and 11-1, but swept Pinckney in a double-header on Thursday, May 13, 8-5 and 7-4.

"We just weren't ready to play offensively," Chelsea coach Jim Ticknor said of the Tecumseh games. Both Chelsea runs in the first game scored on a two-out error.

Chelsea pitcher Jeff Branch struck out six and gave up six hits. In the second game, Tecumseh scored five runs in the first and three more in the second to put the game away.

Tom Payne's fourth-inning single produced the only Chelsea run.

In the first Pinckney game, Chelsea fell behind 5-3 after four innings.

However, the Bulldogs tied the game in the fifth on a two-run triple by Ed Greenleaf. Three more runs scored in the bottom of the sixth on singles by Dirk Wales and Branch.

"We kept plugging away and were able to win a close game," Ticknor said.

"Our pitching was great," Branch struck out 14 batters and allowed just four hits.

Wales had three hits and Jamie Courdway and Greenleaf each had two hits.

In the second game, two Pinckney errors and a wild pitch gave Chelsea a 4-1 lead in the first.

The Bulldogs scored two more in the second and one in the fourth to take a 7-1 lead.

Ryan Wagner and Craig Leonard each singled in a run.

Mozart Program Set At St. Paul Church

A special program featuring the music of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart will be presented by the Chancel Choir and instrumentalists of St. Paul United Church of Christ in Chelsea on May 23 during the morning worship service at 10:30 a.m.

The concert is in honor of the approaching retirement of the Rev. Erwin R. Koch from active ministry. Pastor Koch is a devout Mozart fan. The Chancel Choir will perform selections from Mozart's "Solemn Vespers" and the "Twelfth Mass." Instrumentalists Sarah Henry, Rebecca Flintoft and Jessica Flintoft, with guest soloist Timothy Kopf, will present several movements from "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik." The program is co-ordinated by St. Paul organist and choir director, Kathy Robinson.

Guest soloists for this Mozart program include Naomi Gurt and Timothy Kopf. Ms. Gurt, a coloratura soprano, is a vocal performance graduate from the University of Michigan. She will sing Mozart's "Alleluia" from "Exsultate Jubilate" and the "Laudamus te" from the "Solemn Vespers." Kopf, a violinist and doctoral candidate in music education at the U. of M., will accompany the choir and perform Mozart's "Rondo in G."

Amateur Hour Presented at CRC

Many of the staff and residents performed in an Amateur Hour at the Chelsea Retirement Community in the chapel on Wednesday evening, May 12 and again on Thursday in K-2 Dining Room. These programs were all presented in the spirit of fun, as a part of the celebration of National Nursing Home Week, starting May 9.

A brief outline of the programs follows:

On our Wednesday program, our administrator, Greg Hughes, was emcee. He began with and inserted between acts, anecdotes, card tricks and some graceful gyrations. On the Thursday program, Greg pleaded illness or something and Seneca Foote, president of our corporation, did the honors. Honestly, we voted for a draw. Thank you guys.

Nine members of the social service staff entertained with a "Kazoophany." (Song or music?) Marion Martin shared a light-hearted version of life in the Home for the last 11 years.

The CRC Chimes group of a dozen residents had several selections, ending with the song "Retirement Lament."

Mrs. Winnifred Cooley, long-time resident, gave one of her many poems.

The Rev. Bob Bededict played two numbers on the synthesizer. Bob, now a resident, was editor of our newsletter many years ago. Next, Rev. Bob accompanied Rev. George Jones in a solo, "How Great Thou Art."

Rev. Bob also has a son Bob, who is an expert on the "bones." He played a fine number in sync with a recorded tape.

The Rev. Charles Cookingham sang his version of "Kentucky Babe" with Arley Lake on the piano.

Arley Lake, one of our organists, played a solo on the piano, "Bridge Over Troubled Waters."

In the Thursday program, Florence Wheaton and Gordon Schleicher presented a puppet skit, starring "Juneau" the bear, who was picked up in Alaska.

Our lovely Alice Jewell played a couple of numbers on the auto harp. She got the audience in on her act, which was the closing one each day.

Dave Dravecky has known the thrill of playing major league baseball. He pitched in the All-Star Game, the National League Championship Series, and the World Series. Yet, his greatest victories have been won over rivals that never stepped on a baseball diamond—personal rivals that played by their own rules.

When doctors removed a large growth from his upper arm, they told him his pitching days were over. What the doctors didn't know was how God and a loving family would give him the courage and grace to mount one of the most amazing comebacks the world of sports has ever witnessed!

Dravecky: A Story of Courage and Grace is much more than a baseball film—it's the story of a family's struggle to overcome incredible obstacles through tenacity and faith. Baseball fan or not, you will hear the clear uncompromising testimony of Dave and Janice Dravecky as they relive their experiences and share their reliance on Christ to meet life's challenges.

You will discover the difference that an unshakable faith can make in the midst of life's unfolding drama. And you will be challenged to trust God when your toughest opponents "step up to the plate."

World's First U-Pick Morel Mushroom Farm Opening Soon

Erwin Orchards of South Lyon in conjunction with Morel Mountain have "planted" an idea which may be the first of its kind in the world: A "U-Pick" morel mushroom farm.

Bill Erwin, co-owner of a third generation family-owned apple orchard, came up with the novel idea. "I was at the Outdoorama show in March and saw the Morel Mountain booth where they sell the soil used to grow morels in the plant and thought it would be a great concept to introduce to my orchards."

Scott Lorenz of Morel Mountain said that Erwin's idea was intriguing and made arrangements for him to purchase large quantities of the soil.

The "U-Pick" morel farm is a first for Michigan and should generate tourism in Michigan," said Lorenz. Charles Budd of the Michigan Travel Bureau, said: "This concept is totally new and has never been done anywhere."

Erwin said his orchard "will charge by the ounce and that morel season should begin about May 15."

Morel Mountain, owns the landmark patent to grow and distribute morels world-wide. It was originally developed by MSU scientist Gary Mills, now of Morel Mountain.

Erwin Orchards is located at 61019 Silver Lake Rd., at Pontiac Trail in South Lyon. For more information call (313) 437-0150.

College Week Slated In June on MSU Campus

By Terry Jones, Extension Home Economist

College Week, a four-day, live-and-learn educational program sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service Home Economics Program, will take place June 21-24 on the MSU campus in East Lansing.

"The more than 50 classes, workshops, tours and evening programs are designed to enlighten, energize and entertain you while you experience the atmosphere and lifestyle of a college campus and meet some friendly people," says Joan Witter, College Week co-ordinator.

The classes deal with current issues and concerns in the areas of parenting, financial planning for the '90s, food and nutrition, health issues, public policy issues, leadership, personal development and housing. Classes will be taught by Extension staff members, MSU faculty members and resource specialists from around the state.

Keynoting the program is Leah Cox Hooper, who will help you invent future options for yourself through an adventure in music, images and interaction. The Pashami Dancers will entertain with African music, song and dance on Monday evening. And the Michigan Opera Theater will present a Broadway revue on Wednesday.

For 65 years, College Week participants of all ages and backgrounds have come to the MSU campus each year for four days of education and enjoyment.

"This year close to 800 participants are expected to attend," Witter says.

The cost of the program is $185, which includes 10 meals, three nights lodging, all registration fees and class materials. Participants live and dine in a university residence hall. A number of extracurricular events are planned, including a theater trip and local tours.

Persons who wish to attend College Week and commute each day may do so for a conference fee of $80, which includes lunch each day. People may also choose to attend College Week for one day. The one-day fee is $35 and includes lunch. This year, one-day participants may take advantage of a special bed and breakfast package and for $65 spend the night before or after their classes in the residence hall.

Employer Training Grant Awarded for Six Saline Firms

The Michigan Department of Education has awarded Washtenaw Community College a $79,880 Adult Education Alternative Training Grant for the current fiscal year.

The grant, which expires Sept. 30, will allow the college to offer specialized training to enhance and upgrade the skills and employability of production and clerical workers at six Saline area manufacturers: Crescive Die and Tool, R & B Machine Tool Co., American Soy Products, Xycorn, McNaughton & Gunn, and Com 2. Classes begin in May and will end in September.

The program provides training in electronics, statistical process control, blueprint reading, computerized spread sheets and word processing software, as well as skill enhancement coursework in reading and mathematics, communication, problem solving and team building.

The grant is part of a $25 million funding pool earmarked specifically for alternative training. It is not known if this funding will be available in next year's budget.

The college, which operates an educational extension center in Brighton, is also involved in a similar training project with 13 employers in the Livingston County area. This $250,000 grant-funded training effort was initiated by the Livingston Higher Education Network, a consortium of educators from Cleary College, the Livingston Intermediate School District, superintendents from the five school districts of Livingston county, and WCC. Classes began April 5.

"TAKES A GIRL TO WORK": State Representative Mary Schroer (D-Ann Arbor) participated in the nationally recognized "Take Our Daughters To Work Day," on Wednesday, April 28. Rep. Schroer invited Kase Ruhlig, of Chelsea, to spend the day in Lansing with her. Miss Ruhlig, 13, is an eighth grader at Beach Middle School in Chelsea. Kase spent the day accompanying Ms. Schroer to committee meetings, legislative session, staff meetings, and a tour of the State Capitol building. She and Ms. Schroer also joined other state legislators and young girls from across the state for lunch. "I think asking young women to spend a day with us at work is a very simple way of telling them they're important, they matter, and they can achieve great things," Schroer said. "We send young women too many mixed messages and I think this one day is a small way we can build their self esteem." "Take Our Daughters to Work Day" was sponsored by the Ms. Foundation and observed all across the United States.

Railroad Enthusiasts To Meet Friday in Grass Lake Depot

The May meeting of the Ann Arbor Train and Trolley Watchers, an informal group of railroad enthusiasts founded in 1969, will be at 8 p.m. on Friday evening, May 21 in the recently rebuilt Michigan Central depot in Grass Lake.

The evening will feature slide and movie presentations of steam locomotive operation on the Michigan Central railroad and depot types and architecture. There is no charge for admission.

Ruined by a mysterious fire in June 1974 with only its fieldstone walls remaining, the 1887 building was restored to use as a community center by the Whistlestop Park Association of Grass Lake, and rededicated last September. At the May 21 meeting Dr. Richard Rabeler of the Association will give an introductory talk about the community's efforts to reconstruct the building.

For more information, call Dr. Rabeler at (517) 522-4231, or Sam Breck at (313) 668-7703.

Adrian & Blissfield Railroad Restores Real Steam Engine

The Adrian & Blissfield Railroad, home of the world's only full sized locomotive has announced an addition, a 57' long, 60-ton, coal fired 1911 Pacific 4-6-2 steam engine. This restored steam engine is the only steam engine currently pulling passengers along Michigan rails.

This steam engine joins vintage passenger coaches that are also genuine antiques that date back to 1937. Passengers ride in climate controlled comfort along "The Old Road," a segment of the Erie and Kalamazoo Railroad, which began operations in 1836, making it the first railroad west of the Allegheny Mountains.

VDTs AND YOUR EYES

We are hearing an increasing number of complaints about eyestrain from working at computer stations. Many people are concerned that the VDTs (video display terminals) may give off radiation which could permanently damage their eyes.

Fortunately, these fears are groundless. VDTs do not emit harmful radiation, and they release less ultraviolet light than the fluorescent lights in your office.

Nevertheless, the eye fatigue, burning red, or watery eye, headaches and neckaches are real problems. Generally these problems can be attributed to the nearness of the VDT, its position, glare from other lights, or the amount of time spent in a relatively still position.

Ideally, the VDT is positioned at or below eye level, and other material is positioned near the screen for convenience. Overhead lighting should not reflect off the screen and should not be too bright. Many people will need to get special glasses focused at the working distance of the VDT, especially if they work for extended times or if they already wear bifocals or trifocals. Special eyeglass tints have been recommended, depending on the color print of the VDT.

Occasional rest breaks are important to allow the eyes to relax their focusing mechanism.

If blurring, redness or other symptoms persist, an eye examination is in order.

Ann Arbor Author Publishes Humorous Book on Small Towns

"It's A Small Town If..." a lighthearted look at the social and physical characteristics of small towns has just been published by Heartland Press, an imprint of NorthWord Press, Inc., Minocqua, Wis.

First self-published by Ann Arbor author/photographer, Sam Breck, the book sold out through two printings before Heartland Press was given the opportunity for publication and nationwide sales. "It's A Small Town If..." will be exhibited by NorthWord Press at the American Booksellers' Association show May 29-June 1 as well as other book and gift shows this spring.

In a photo-essay style, Breck's words and pictures humorously show that small town life is alive and thriving and brings smiles and memories to those who have lived in what the author calls "little places" as well as those who would like to live in a small town. Most of the photographs in the 72-page paperback edition were made in Michigan and nearby states during what Breck describes as "odysseys through the commonplace along the state roads and the county backroads."

In Breck's introduction to "It's A Small Town If..." he writes that "the small town is as alive as any place. It simply lacks the exhaust, the noise and the squeeze-and-shove lifestyles that are epidemic in larger places. Just because there's no interstate exit at its door doesn't mean a town is ready to be donated to the archaeologists. In fact, its isolation probably ensures its health."

Previously, Breck wrote and illustrated a whimsical book about life in Ann Arbor titled "Holier Than Thou."

"It's A Small Town If..." is stocked in Chelsea at The Village Shoppe.

CLEANERS

A MOCK TRIAL was staged by fifth graders in Jean Meconi's class at North school on Friday, April 30. Mr. Wiley (played by Andrew McGuire, not pictured) said that he had lived in his house for 20 years and never had any trouble until March 12, when Toni Oakway (played by Lindsay Powers, above left) was throwing rocks and broke his window. The prosecution (played by David Stieber and Jeff Kolodica, above right) had a lot of evidence and witnesses. The defense (played by Shawn Dyer, Lindsay Powers, Laura Saarinen, and Elly Wheeler, below right) showed that there was really no evidence to prove that Toni did it. Below left, Toni's principal, Jon Miller (played by Brian Phillips) testifies in her behalf. The judge was played by Mr. Meconi.

Green Thumb Specialist

Among other skills, we know Jim Turner for his green thumb, looking after the plants and flowers in the courtyard. This extends to plants in his room on M-2. He showed me a great big amaryllis plant the other day, which he can be justly proud of. I went over the next day and we measured it. It is in a medium sized pot sitting on a chair. There are two stalks each having blooms on them reaching up 41 inches from the bottom of the pot. Also there have been other stalks which have been pruned away, which had many blooms. Jim says there will be at least a total of 15 blooms before it quits bearing.

Beginning Tuesday, May 4 through June 1, Greg Hughes, our administrator, will lead us in a series of talks on the Lord's Prayer. The Prayer Fellowship meets every Tuesday from 8:30 to 9 a.m. in the Town Hall. Come and hear Greg's message and a time to reflect on prayer and fellowship.

Thursday, May 6, is the annual National Day of Prayer. We are encouraged to set aside time for concentrated prayer at work, school, home or church. As Americans pray together, we will find new strength and guidance from God—both as individuals and as a nation. The Chapel will be open all day for those who would like to join in this special day of prayer.

Have you shared your story about survival in the Great Depression? Where were you during the FDR presidency? These are some of the fun sharings we do in the Saturday afternoon discussion. We meet each Saturday at 3:00 except when there is a "Library Adventure" program. We meet in the Library.

We are happy to report that the Old Fashioned Style Show and Luncheon out on at the C.R.C. raised $996 for the C.A.T.S. bus. Greg Hughes presented a check to Paula Scherdt as the picture was shown in The Chelsea Standard. Gloria Mitchell and Susan Morey helped in organizing the show.

As a sequel to the above story, the R.C. resident council voted on April 13 to send C.A.T.S. another $1,000. This is a little like "going the extra mile." We appreciate having the bus available when we need it.

A good deal of interest has been shown in the Tuesday night presentations of the Readers Theater and Play cting. About 25 to 30 people show up and those who want to, take part in the acting. In the play, "Waiting for the bus" by Ramon Delgado, given on April 20, the following took part: Kearney Kirkby, Bernice Frederick, Marion Martin and Ruth Williams.

Healthful Benefits of Walking for Seniors

By Carolyn Darling
Exercise. It doesn't have to be difficult. It can be as simple as putting one foot in front of the other. Walking is a very natural form of exercise for the human body. It can be the foundation of a good health maintenance program. All you need is a pair of good, comfortable shoes.
Some facts that affect seniors:
• get your doctor's okay;
• walking is basically injury free;
• walking increases circulation and improves cardiovascular function;
• walking can tone many muscle groups in the arms and legs;
• walking can help in a weight control program;
• the key to preventing osteoporosis is keeping the bones strong. Weight bearing exercises such as walking can help.

Air...

AIR: Let's KEEP IT CLEAN. It contains one of the most vital elements necessary to all forms of life. It's oxygen, and I am breathing it as I write this. Without it I would be dead within a few minutes.

Think of the awesome power of the wind. We have an example in the recent high speed movement of air, called Hurricane Andrew. This terrible storm spread itself over many states and did an estimated $20 billion worth of damage in a few hours.

Do we have as much air now as we did in the beginning? Scientists, through study of data learned by space exploration, are trying to find the answer. By knowing more about the upper ozone layer, mankind may be closer to an answer.

My mind is getting all boggled up. Air must have been in the master plan in the beginning.

—Curt Large.

More About Air

How miraculous is life! Without air, however, life is impossible. Space exploration has shown that other planets have no life because there is no atmosphere. Human beings as well as fish and fowl require air for living. All plant life depends on it also. Thanks to God for air!

—Vernelle Voss.

Air on the Lighter Side

AIR—That substance we use and take for granted. Besides needing it to live, think of the innumerable ways we use air.

There is politicians' "hot air," air conditioning, air brakes, inflated tires. Consider music: pump and mouth organs, brass horns, reeds and flutes, accordians and bag pipes.

Gas engines have needed oxygen for a hundred years to run cars, tractors, airplanes and lawn mowers. Thank God for the wonderful creation of AIR.

—Arley Lake.

Wanted—Fresh Air

Walking—Sitting—Sleeping
Always breathing precious air,
All our lives ever needing,
In our day activities, always there.
At times we do suffer
When the air is not pure,
Then our breath is a puffer,
Not the usual, that's for sure.

Oh! That our air was totally clean,
And smoke and fumes are no more;
That all nature's colors are easily seen
From ground to sky, and shore to shore.

—Sid White.

Lucille's AIR-Plane View

We hardly ever notice the air unless we are hit by an offensive odor or smothering smoke or smog. On a trip from California to Arizona, we first circled over the Pacific. The view was breathtaking. Turning back, the view changed. The buildings could hardly be seen. Smog had spread a heavy green and black layer over everything. Gaining altitude the view was much better because of the cleaner air.

As we passed over the Grand Canyon the air was so clear that all the beautiful colors and the river could be seen. When we arrived in Phoenix it was very clear and also warm. I was glad to be away from the smog.

—Lucille Olson.

Finally—AIR

Air, a mixture of oxygen, nitrogen and other gases which surrounds the earth and forms the atmosphere. The oxygen promotes life, is compressed and used in welding metal. The nitrogen is compressed to a liquid and used in agriculture and medicine. Air is necessary even in sports.

A school football game did not start on time. The reason was no air. No air you ask? Yes no air. The football was flat and the Coach had lost the air pump. No air, no ball; and no ball, no game.

Air runs our cars, planes and trains and keeps us alive. Many adjectives describe it: good, bad, clean, dirty cold, warm, wet, dry, and yes, there is hot air like that from Washington and

Fireworks Show Planned Again

Chelsea 1995 will once again sponsor a July 4 fireworks display in the village.

Rain date will be Monday, July 5. Village council authorized the display at their May 11 meeting. The village, and the Chelsea Community Fair, are always covered under the required policy.

As usual, fireworks will be launched from the fairgrounds. Wagner also said the Chelsea Rotary Club will sponsor another Ice Cream Social.

I am writing to commend the efforts of the Village

ing an accessible pathway, paying attention to safety details, placing lights onto the structure, and much more. The village workers should be applauded for providing enthusiastic and knowl-

our parks safer and more fun. Sincerely,
Lynn Swan, Coordinator
Pierce Park Playground.

will be held in said governmental unit on for the purpose of voting on the following proposals:

PROPOSAL A

A PROPOSAL TO LIMIT ANNUAL INCREASES IN ALL PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS. REDUCE MAXIMUM SCHOOL OPERATING TAXES, INCREASE THE STATE SALES AND USE TAX RATES
FROM 4% TO 6%. CONSTITUTIONALLY DEDICATE FUNDS FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS AND SET A PER-PUPIL FUNDING GUARAN-TEE

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

- 1) Limit for each property parcel (excluding new construction) annual assessment increase to 5% or the inflation rate, whichever is less. When property is sold or transferred, adjust assessment according to current market value.
- 2) Reduce maximum school operating taxes to 18 non-voted mills. Permit districts to levy up to 9 additional voted mills.
- 3) Reduce 50-mill maximum property tax limit to 40 mills.
- 4) Increase state sales and use tax rates to 6%. Dedicate this additional revenue and lottery proceeds to schools.
- 5) Establish a minimum state/local per-pupil funding guarantee, annually adjusted for revenue changes. Provide a minimum 3% per-pupil funding increase in 1993-1994.

Employer Training Grant Awarded for Six Saline Firms

The Michigan Department of Education has awarded Washtenaw Community College a $79,880 Adult Education Alternative Training Grant for the current fiscal year.

The grant, which expires Sept. 30, will allow the college to offer specialized training to enhance and upgrade the skills and employability of production and clerical workers at six Saline area manufacturers: Crescive Die and Tool, R & B Machine Tool Co., American Soy Products, Xycom, McNaughton & Gunn, and Com 2. Classes begin in May and will end in September.

The program provides training in electronics, statistical process control, blueprint reading, computerized spread sheets and word processing software, as well as skill enhancement coursework in reading and mathematics, communication, problem solving and team building.

The grant is part of a $25 million funding pool earmarked specifically for alternative training. It is not known if this funding will be available in next year's budget.

The college, which operates an educational extension center in Brighton, is also involved in a similar training project with 13 employers in the Livingston County area. This $250,000 grant-funded training effort was initiated by the Livingston Higher Education Network, a consortium of educators from Cleary College, the Livingston Intermediate School District, superintendents from the five school districts of Livingston county, and WCC. Classes began April 5.

Baccalaureate Set For CHS Graduates

This year's Baccalaureate Service for Chelsea High school's Class of '93 will be held at 7:30 p.m., June 2, at St. Mary's Parish Center on Congdon St.

This marks the first time in a number of years that the service has not been held at Chelsea High school. Because of recent rulings by the U.S. Supreme Court, the Chelsea School District has turned over sponsorship of the service completely to the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship.

Co-ordinator of this year's service, pastor Sarah Groesser of the Chelsea Full Gospel church, has planned a service designed to appeal to the graduates. Contemporary Christian music will be used with youth pastor Nathan Perkins of the Chelsea Free Methodist church serving as song leader. Several solos are planned by Perkins and CHS students as tributes. In addition, several graduating seniors will present passages of scriptures that they have chosen as meaningful to them. The message will be presented by pastor Groesser.

After the service, local church volunteers will provide refreshments for the graduates and their families. All graduates and their families are invited as well as others interested in celebrating the achievements and future of the Class of '93.

"Chelsea is my hospital."

Karine Burke and daughter Leah with family physician John Zettlmaier, MD.

"Dr. Zettlmaier is the first family doctor I've had since I moved to Michigan from France two years ago. When we bought a home on Ann Arbor's west side this year, I thought, 'Why not get settled with a family doctor, too?' I'm so glad we did, because when my husband and I got sick this winter, we got in to see our doctor the same day we called. I'm also seeing Dr. Zettlmaier for allergy treatment, one of his special areas of interest. My first impression of the office was a good one, and the staff has been just wonderful when I call with questions. I chose ArborScio because of its convenient location, and I've stayed here because of the great care. We made two good moves this year!"

High School Faculty Planning Teacher-Student Advisory Group

Chelsea High school students will find a pleasant addition to their normal week when school begins again in the fall. After much discussion in their Monday morning meetings, teachers have decided to put in place teacher-student "advisory" groups. Each teacher will be assigned a group of about 16 students—four from each grade—with whom they will meet each week for the four years students are at the high school.

The advisory groups will have a number of purposes, but the main purpose is that each student will have at least one adult in school who will get to know him or her well over the four-year period. Teachers want students to feel that they may go to their advising teacher for help in a number of areas. These include basic help with scheduling classes, advice on portfolio work required for graduation and some monitoring of grades and academic performance.

The meeting time—30 minutes once a week—will also give groups a chance to discuss organizational and study skills as well as appropriate social skills in various school settings. For example, appropriate group behavior will be discussed before assemblies and pep rallies. In addition, some time may be devoted to "housekeeping" tasks, such as major weekly announcements, Student Council news and report-card distribution.

Teachers hope the groups will give students more of a sense of belonging to their school and increase school and community spirit. They would like to see students work more cooperatively with teachers and with each other, taking pride in their work as well as their school.

Also discussed was the need to provide more time for students to meet with teachers outside of class to do make-up work and to receive individualized instruction. Teachers would like to see the zero hour, from 7:35 to 8:20 a.m., used more to help students. Preliminary discussion focused on clearing at least two zero hours each week of all meetings and advertising these open zero hours to parents.

In their final meeting next Monday teachers hope to put the finishing touches on the advisory group plan. They also plan to continue discussions begun earlier about increasing student-centered classroom activities such as co-operative learning, using exhibits to demonstrate completion in a subject area and individualizing learning schedules for mastery of knowledge. They will also continue work on a plan for next year where they will begin to share with one another the successful use of these methods in their classes.

Proper Conditioning Will Help Prevent Injuries in Soccer

Soccer is one of the most popular sports in the world, for people of all ages. It is a much safer sport than football, but injuries do still occur.

According to James Carpenter, M.D., at MedSport, the University of Michigan Medical Center's sports medicine clinic, proper conditioning can help reduce or eliminate soccer injuries. "Conditioning should occur in three different areas—flexibility, endurance and strength," says Dr. Carpenter.

Increased flexibility will improve the range of motion. A brief warm-up followed by slow stretches held for 20-30 seconds will help improve flexibility. One should never bounce while stretching.

"It is also important to build up endurance before the season begins," says Dr. Carpenter. "A strong aerobic capacity will help make playing much easier. The player will be able to concentrate more on developing his or her skills rather than on just keeping up with the team."

dance and acting; Adults ages 18-60 must call and sign up for an audition slot between 8:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. To sign up for an audition slot, call 475-8011. To volunteer to help with the set, costumes or publicity, call 475-6434.

CAP is very excited about this summer's production, which will run July 23, 24, 25 and 29, 30, 31.
