RESTAURATEUR Craig Common has begun the expansion of his Common Grill into the building next door, formerly the site of Dayspring Gifts. The Jaxon Soap sign was uncovered when plaster was taken off the walls.

Craig Common Begins Expansion Of Popular Downtown Restaurant

If you've been frustrated at having to wait sometimes more than an hour to get a table at The Common Grill in Chelsea, owner Craig Common may have the solution.

Common has purchased the building next door, the former home of Dayspring Gifts (and in 1897 the site of a chicken coop), and is adding about 36 seats to bring the total to 140.

"It's because of all the waiting," Common says of the addition.

"Hopefully it will reduce the wait."

Common says he had expected it would take several years for the restaurant to become as popular as it is now. There is no sign that business is about to die down.

"Every month has been better than the last," he says.

Common is also expanding his takeout business with the establishment of the Grill's Back Door Takeout Market in the back of the new space. It will have a separate entrance in the back but will also be accessible through the main restaurant.

The takeout business will feature all the food from The Common Grill, along with bottled wine, dried pastas, salad dressings, the restaurant's popular dinner rolls, and desserts.

Common has to ruin the wall mural depicting roof line of downtown buildings and the Jiffy Mix towers in order to install an archway leading into the new dining area. The former front door of the gift shop will become an emergency entrance.

However, the mural will be recreated by Plymouth artist Barney Judge on a wall in the new area. When plaster was pulled off the opposite wall, Common discovered an original sign, "Jaxon Milk," painted on the brick, which will become part of the decor.

The face of the new building will be changed to match the larger restaurant. Common hired local stained glass expert Bill Darwin to match the glass that is now over the main entrance. That glass came from an old building in Jackson that was demolished. A picture window will be the focal point of the addition.

Common hopes the whole project will be complete by the Fourth of July week-end.

County Hires Architect For Area Golf Course

A prominent golf course designer has been hired by the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Department to design an 18-hole golf course on 200 acres around Pierce Lake off Old US-12.

Harry Bowers of South Lyon, who designed The Rock golf course on Drummond Island for Tom Monaghan, and Sylvan Treetops, and has been a senior designer for Robert Trent Jones, will design the course to be built on land behind Polk's Market now owned by Arcus Corp.

"This is one of the top design firms in the state and we should end up with something very nice," said parks department director Fred Barkley.

"It's also an unbelievably beautiful piece of land."

Johnson, Johnson & Roy has been hired to handle the environmental analysis of the site, and analyze the recreational opportunities and where to locate facilities. They will work with Bowers in a team effort.

The facility will be designed for year-around use. The lake will be available for ice skating, for example, and there will be plenty of space for cross country skiers. A clubhouse, containing a small snack bar, will be built.

It is not known whether the main entrance will be off Old US-12 or M-52, Barkley said, or whether the village will be asked to annex the property to provide sewer service. Arcus owns 307 acres, or virtually all the vacant land, in the rectangle bordered by M-52 on the west, I-94 on the south, Freer Rd. (Continued on page four)

Voters To Decide Fate Of Proposal A June 2 In Special Election

Voters will determine the fate of the state-wide property-tax-relief and school-funding proposal in a special election next Wednesday, June 2.

Proposal A, which has bipartisan backing in Lansing and is supported by a long list of business and public organizations, including virtually every state-wide association connected with education, is the first serious attempt in many years to provide property tax relief and alter the way schools are funded.

Gov. John Engler has campaigned vigorously for the proposal. State Sen. Lana Pollack has called it "regressive" and voted against it. No well-organized opposition has materialized.

If approved, Proposal A would amend the state constitution to provide property tax relief in exchange for a two-cent increase in the state sales tax, from four cents to six cents. Food and drugs would still be exempted. The constitution would guarantee that all proceeds from the sales tax increase, as well as all lottery revenues, would be dedicated to funding schools.

Chelsea Board of Education has decided not to take a stand on it. Chelsea superintendent Joe Plasecki says he supports the initiative, although he would prefer an income tax hike to a sales tax hike.

"I'm not a cheerleader for [Proposal A], it's just the best thing out there now for property tax relief and school finance reform," says assistant superintendent Fred Mills.

"There's been talk about this for the 27 years I've been here and it's the first proposal that has bipartisan support and business support. I support it and I'll vote for it because we have to do something for property tax relief."

Mills predicts "some tough sledding ahead" for all school districts if the proposal fails and says "we might see 25 Kalkas next spring," referring to the district that recently declared itself bankrupt after repeated attempts for millage increases failed.

The proposal would roll back most school operating millages to 18 mills. SEV would also be rolled back to 1992 levels, so most of this year's property assessments would have to be changed. In the Chelsea area, many property assessments were increased 15 percent or more due to the lifting of the state-wide assessment freeze imposed the year before.

The proposal would also limit annual assessment increases to the inflation rate or five percent, whichever is less. Headlee rollbacks should be history.

Chelsea School District millage would also be rolled back to 18 mills, but without additional millage, the district will face a deficit of about $1.77 million, about 13 percent of the total budget. Consequently, if Proposal A passes, Chelsea voters will be asked on June 14 to approve an additional 5.6 mills for one year to raise the total operating millage to 23.6 mills.

Proposal A would set a ceiling of 27 mills for school operating budgets, leaving Chelsea with about 3.4 mills of headroom. Millage to cover bond issues would not be part of the total.

If voters approve the additional 5.6 mills, school operating millage would be rolled back 14.1 mills from this year's millage of 37.7, a drop of 37 percent.

The proposal guarantees that each district would receive at least $4,800 per student, although districts spending far less than that now would receive a 10 percent increase per year until they reach it. Chelsea would receive $2,380 from local taxes and $2,420 from the state.

According to state figures, Chelsea is spending $5,173 per student this year or $12.8 million, which includes $11.5 million from local property taxes and $1.3 million from the state.

In order to reach the base of $5,173 plus three percent ($5,328) allowed under the formula, Chelsea would need an additional 4 mills. If Chelsea's base millage had not expired this year, the district could have levied 22 mills next year automatically. However, the district still would have needed 23.6 mills in order to retain the current program.

However, part of the Proposal A agreement, which will not appear on the ballot, calls for the state to quit paying teacher social security and retirement costs, which for Chelsea amounts to $1.3 million. That expense would be shifted to the local districts, which is a major reason why Chelsea would be faced with such a large deficit if the proposal passes.

The proposal also limits local millage elections to twice per year.

The constitutional amendment could cause problems for many districts if inflation picks up considerably. For example, should the inflation rate return to double digits, district revenues could fall way behind if they are limited to five percent increases.

"There's no ability to bridge those gaps, other than fund equity," Mills said.

The district's fund equity is about $700,000 and Mills is adamant about saving that money for one-time emergency expenses.

Memorial Day Services To Be Held Monday in Oak Grove Cemetery

Memorial Day activities to honor deceased war veterans will be held in Chelsea next Monday, May 31 beginning at 10 a.m.

In a break from recent tradition, this year's featured speaker will be Chelsea High school senior Tom Poulter, who will attend the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis next fall.

Poulter is a CHS cum laude graduate. He is a three-sport athlete and earned all-state honors in football last fall. He was also captain of the basketball team and led the Bulldogs to their first-ever appearance in the state tournament. In track he throws the shot put and discus.

Poulter plans to play football for Navy, and eventually become a pilot.

The annual parade will begin at 10 a.m. in the Municipal Parking Lot, led by members of the Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of the American Legion. All American war veterans, regardless of affiliation, are invited to join the march. Parade participants are asked to be in the lot by 9:30 a.m.

The parade will move from E. Middle St. to Main St. to Park St. to East St. to E. Middle St. to Oak Grove Cemetery. Included will be the Chelsea High school and Beach Middle school marching bands, as well as veterans groups and scouting and other organizations.

Parade marshal will be Pat Merkel. Memorial Day services will be conducted by the Rev. Franklin Giebel of Our Savior Lutheran church. Jim Knott will be master of ceremonies.

Services in the cemetery will be concluded with a salute from a firing squad, taps, and the playing of the national anthem.

From noon to 3 p.m., Chelsea's Historic American Flag Display at Beach Middle school will be open for viewing. The display features, among others, replicas of the Grand Union Flag, which flew from George Washington's headquarters on Jan. 1, 1776 and the Battle of Bennington. The first flag of the American Revolution.

The display, containing nine flags, is scheduled to be dedicated earlier in the day in a private ceremony featuring Gen. Dwight Beach.

The display is located in the large group instruction room, perhaps most commonly known to the public as the voting area for school elections.

Hunter Harassment Convictions Overturned

Three anti-hunting activists who were convicted of harassing deer hunters in the Pinckney Recreation Area last fall had their convictions overturned by 14th District Court Judge Kenneth Bronson last Wednesday when he ruled the hunters were hunting illegally.

Bronson threw out his March 26 convictions when he acted on a motion filed by defense attorney Cynthia Bostwick, which was joined by Washtenaw County Assistant Prosecutor Allison Bates.

Bostwick contended that the hunters the activists were protesting against were in the park before the official 8 a.m. opening. Consequently, Bronson ruled, the hunters were hunting illegally and their right to hunt deer was not impeded.

The activists were Joseph Taksei of Pennsylvania, Patricia Dodson, 44, of Auburn Hills, and Jodi Louth, 23, of Ann Arbor.

In another trial on April 6, Bronson dismissed charges against five other activists, who were in the park at the same time, after Department of Natural Resources officials couldn't decide whether 8 a.m. was the official opening time. Eventually it was decided that 8 a.m. is the official opening time but the time was not enforced by state conservation officers.

Several hunters admitted to hunting as early as 6:30, which Bronson said was illegal.

CHELSEA ATHLETIC BOOSTERS concession stand and press box building project got a big lift last week when Ron Hatch, left, of Hatch Stamping Co., donated $5,000 toward the project. Boosters president Rod Payne was on hand to accept the donation. "From the business leaders I know, most of their support goes toward the kids because they know it's the best investment they can make," Hatch said. "It's one of the reasons Chelsea is such a great place to live." Payne said the project is likely to cost about $50,000. The raffle of a car will raise $22,000 if all tickets are sold. Payne said a number of area contractors have offered to donate their services. He hopes the project can break ground next month and be completed in time for football season.

LAURIE LOUISE BOOS, 17, of Gregory, was killed in a head-on collision on M-52 last Wednesday, May 19. Boos was believed to have died instantly in the crash when her car crossed the center line and struck another car driven by an Owosso man.

Crash Kills Gregory Girl

A 17-year-old Gregory girl was killed last Wednesday, May 19 in a two-car crash on M-52 near Roepke Rd.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Laurie Louise Boos, 18740 Dexter Trail Rd., was driving south at 5:03 p.m. at a high rate of speed when she lost control of her car and drove across the center line, colliding with a car driven by Harry W. Taphouse, 32, of Owosso. Another car, immediately ahead of Taphouse, was forced off the road and avoided the crash. The passengers were uninjured.

Police said it was not clear why Boos lost control of her car. Alcohol was not a factor. They said it appeared Boos died instantly. She was wearing a seatbelt.

Taphouse, whose car's airbag deployed, suffered serious injuries and was taken by Survival Flight to University of Michigan Hospital. A passenger in Taphouse's car, William M. Hoover of Lansing, was also seriously injured. He was taken by Huron Valley Ambulance to Chelsea Community Hospital, then transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Both Taphouse and Hoover were wearing seatbelts.

It was the second fatal crash in the Chelsea area within three days.

Life-long Chelsea resident and former Chelsea Village Manager Frederick "Fritz" Weber died at his home after a long illness. He was 58. Weber, who served as village manager from 1969 until shortly before his death, was the village's first manager.

Chelsea Village Planning Commission has recommended that the village raise its zoning violation fines and adopt another ordinance governing what are called site condominium projects. The Commission took action at its regular meeting last Tuesday.

The 159 members of Chelsea High School Class of 1989 will officially graduate this Sunday, June 4 in the high school gymnasium. Commencement is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. with the processional, Pomp and Circumstance. Pastor Franklin H. Giebel of Our Savior Lutheran church is scheduled to give the invocation. Sarah Schaffer and William Coelius are the scheduled class speakers.

Started in April of 1988, Chelsea's new office building opened for its first tenant five months later. Now, just eight months after completion, the Middle Square Building has filled all but 800 of its total 8,700 square feet.

At commencement ceremonies Sunday evening at the athletic field, 185 seniors will graduate from Chelsea High School. At Class Night yesterday, awards and scholarships were presented. Tonight 15 will graduate in Chelsea Adult High School's first commencement.

A large aluminum flag pole at Chelsea High School was cut down last week-end by unknown persons wielding a hacksaw in what was apparently a senior class prank. The pole was cut two feet from the base and didn't damage anything when it fell. It has since been welded back on its pedestal.

A joint meeting on the needs of older adults in the community was recently held by representatives from the school district, Chelsea Community Hospital, Chelsea Kiwanis Club and the Village. Jaclyn Rogers, director of Community Education, will meet with senior citizen groups to plan activities and programs.

Lyndon Township Planning Commission may recommend changes in the recently enacted zoning ordinance in the face of a petition requiring a referendum on it. Minimum acreage required for a house in an agricultural zone may change from 10 acres to two. The commission had set the 10-acre minimum to slow urban sprawl, the trend of houses lining secondary streets with undeveloped land between them.

Both serious and humorous festivities have begun for graduation of Chelsea High school's class of 1969. Monday was "senior skip day" when seniors didn't have to go to school. Yesterday was "Class Day," with the reading of the Senior Class Will and History. Baccalaureate will be Sunday; Class Night, when awards and scholarships are announced, June 11, and graduation, June 13.

★ The Most Promising Health Care Reform

By Lawrence W. Reed

Leading up to the unveiling of the Clinton administration's health care reform plan, proposals that would impose price controls, rationing, and huge tax increases have dominated the national dialogue.

That's unfortunate, because such intrusive methods have yet to produce satisfactory results in any country where they have been attempted. Moreover, there are many innovative and workable solutions to the problem that would not burden Americans with more government. The most promising is the concept of Medical Savings Accounts (MSAs), patterned after Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs).

The idea behind Medical Savings Accounts is to empower individuals to pay their smaller medical bills from their own pockets, thereby avoiding third-party payers like insurance companies and the government, with all their expensive red tape and paperwork. If people could do that, low-cost insurance policies with high deductibles would take care of their more expensive health problems. High deductibles are a surefire way to sharply cut health insurance premiums.

Of course, there's nothing that prevents anyone now from drawing from personal savings to pay medical expenses. The problem is, current law discourages it immensely. The biggest obstacle is the U.S. tax code, which encourages health insurance premiums paid by an employer but taxes dollars destined for savings to pay for such things as medical expenses or insurance. If an employer buys a high-deductible policy and tries to pass the savings on in the form of higher wages, or to place the money directly into a savings account, up to half of the "saved" amount goes to taxes.

Current law thereby promotes low-deductible, employer-paid health insurance, even though that's the most expensive way of handling smaller medical bills. A $50 physician's fee typically becomes $100 in total costs when third-party payment is involved and all the administrative expenses are accounted for.

Employers now pay, on average, nearly $4,500 annually per worker for employee health plans. Here's how Medical Savings Accounts could change the current system for the better: The employer could put $3,000 annually into each employee's personal MSA, which the employee would use himself to pay the first $3,000 of his medical costs. For about $1,500, the employer could purchase an insurance policy that would take care of medical expenses above $3,000. Funds in the MSA would be allowed to grow taxfree, and employees could withdraw them to pay for any medical expenses recognized by the IRS (preventive care, dental or eye care, annual physicals, minor surgery, etc.).

The MSA would be the private property of the account holder, so it would be portable if the individual changed jobs. At the end of each year, the individual could let any unspent money accumulate for future use including for long-term care. Or he could use it to purchase additional medical insurance for himself or his family, or roll it into his IRA or pension fund. He could also choose to take the money out, pay taxes on it and spend it as he wishes. MSAs could be established by self-employed individuals as well, and would work essentially the same way.

Other advantages are numerous: MSAs provide consumers with a built-in incentive to control health care spending because they benefit directly from their own thrift. The incentives to purchase preventive care to stay healthy and to become more prudent health care shoppers are strong too. Especially helped are the poor, who often forego preventive care when it is not covered by their insurance. Administrative costs are dramatically lower because small claims are paid directly by the individual instead of a third-party. Freedom to choose one's doctor is preserved, a feature which may be sacrificed in a government-imposed plan.

According to a Blue Cross/Blue Shield study, 70 percent of America's 37 million uninsured are without insurance for 12 months or less, often during the period when they are between jobs. Because MSAs are portable and provide tax-free money to continue health insurance coverage for such contingencies, they would reduce the number of uninsured Americans.

A September 1992 study from the Mackinac Center for Public Policy suggested that widespread application of the MSA idea could shave as much as $200 billion off America's $900 billion annual health bill.

Surely, a comprehensive formula for health care reform must contain policies to address a broad range of current problems, including malpractice liability, state mandated coverages, and pre-existing conditions, to name just three. Medical Savings Accounts do not by themselves address every problem, but they could go a great distance in resolving health care problems if given the chance.

Before we ask the same outfit that's already $4 trillion in debt to get more deeply involved in health care, why don't we consider promising private options like Medical Savings Accounts?

(Lawrence W. Reed is president of The Mackinac Center for Public Policy, a Midland-based research and educational organization.)

In 1778 journeymen printers of New York City combined to demand an increase in wages. After the increase was granted, the organization was abandoned, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's "Important Events in American Labor History."

Individualized Hospice Starts Training Sessions For Volunteer Helpers

Individualized Hospice, a service of Individualized Home Nursing Care, is seeking volunteers. Training sessions will begin on Tuesday, May 25 at 7 p.m. The office is located at 3003 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, just west of Huron Parkway.

Hospice volunteers are an important part of a team which offers physical, emotional and spiritual support to terminally ill people and their families. There are a variety of opportunities for volunteers in the homes of the families served and in the office. The time commitment is flexible and no medical skill is necessary. Men and women of all ages are needed throughout Washtenaw county. Qualifications include a caring heart and the willingness to help others.

For further information or to register for the training, please contact Rebecca Knorp, co-ordinator of volunteer and bereavement services, at 971-0444 by May 21.

ENGAGED: Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Hemlin of Jackson, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Krista Jo, of Jackson, formerly of Stockbridge, to Anthony Michael Papakonstantinou of Jackson. Miss Hemlin is a 1990 graduate of Stockbridge High school and is currently a student at Jackson Community College majoring in economics. Mr. Papakonstantinou is the son of Charles and Beverly Cahill of Jackson and Kathy Morano of Chicago, Ill. He is a 1986 graduate of East Jackson High school and is employed by Michigan Industrial Holdings in Jackson. A July 3 wedding is planned at Myer's Gardens in Stockbridge.

VOLUNTEERS HONORED: For 20 years of continuous volunteer service, Mary Agnes Guinan, right, and Gertrude O'Dell will be honored at Washtenaw County Retired Senior Volunteer Program's 20th Anniversary Recognition Luncheon today, May 28.

VFW Ladies Auxiliary Notes

Ladies Auxiliary VFW No. 4078 held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday, May 12.

Diane Spear was present for initiation into the Auxiliary. Memorial services were conducted for all departed members which now number 59 who have died while members in good standing.

Hospital chairman Lois Spear reported hospital volunteers were honored at Weber's. She also reported on the hospital party held at the VA Hospital on April 17, serving 57 patients. Volunteers are needed at the hospital.

The goal of the patriotic organizations and hospital officials, is to raise funds and install bedside TV for each patient.

VFW National Home chairman Bessie Sharp announced Michigan Day is set for July 11. She also reported UPC symbols from Spartan stores are being collected and two cents for each one turned in is to aid the home funds. Anyone who has such labels can present them to Bessie Sharp or Lois Spear.

Under Americanism, Lena Benke announced some Auxiliary members plan to join in the Memorial Day parade. She also reported on Poppy Days for May 14 and 15, and stated she would have "proper etiquette for our American Flag" printed locally before Memorial Day.

The Auxiliary and Post will be hosting a picnic for the VA Hospital patients on June 18, more details later.

It was announced installation of officers for the Auxiliary and Post members was set for May 15, following the monthly pot-luck supper at 6 p.m.

Members are to watch for times to bring in items for the Auxiliary's rummage sale which will be held June 4 and 5, at the VFW Hall.

A $20 donation was allowed towards the funds of the National Home, and the Auxiliary voted to send a child to the VFW Camp Trotter this season, more details later.

Auxiliary flags and markers are to be placed on deceased members' graves by the chaplain of the Auxiliary, Mildred Fish. She will be assisted by Lois Spear, Gertrude O'Dell and Goldie Hoover.

The next regular meeting is set for June 9, at 7:30 p.m. The Department Convention will be held in Flint, June 24-27.

The average American household watches TV for seven hours and two minutes a day according to A.C. Nielson reports.

New Golf Course

on the east, and Old US-12 on the north. The land is in both Sylvan and Lima townships.

The location of the eastern edge of the golf course will depend on the design, Barkley said.

Approximately 107 acres in the Pierce Lake parcel will not be part of the project and Barkley assumes it will be ideal for development into housing.

The county has not entered a sales contract with Arcus, but has an agreement, Barkley said. Final cost of the land will depend on how much land is needed for the project.

Barkley hopes construction can begin next spring, with the first round of golf available in August of 1995. Winter activities would be available in the winter of 1995.

"This should be a wonderful asset to the community," Barkley said.

"What we like about it is that we're developing a year-around facility rather than an eight-month facility."

The Pierce Lake course would be the furthest west in the county. Reddeman Farms Golf Course is southeast of the village a few miles in Lima township. Inverness Golf Course is a few miles northeast of the village in Dexter township. The course would likely be included in the boundaries of the City of Chelsea should that process continue. Area officials anticipate that the course could help numerous Chelsea businesses simply by bringing more people into the area.

Theft of Hubcaps Tried in Lot

A Chelsea High school employee told Chelsea police that someone tried to pry the hubcaps off her car while it was parked at the school on Wednesday, May 12.

The plastic hubcaps were damaged in the attempt.

Should you vote YES or NO on "PROPOSAL A"?

The school finance and property tax reform issue facing Michigan voters on June 2nd is complex and confusing. It could have a radical effect on the way we pay for public education and, in the absence of a subsequent increase in school millage, this effect could be catastrophic.

You should not assume that property tax roll-backs will automatically save you money. While you will have to pay 6% instead of 4% in sales tax, you will certainly pay less in real estate tax. However, this decrease will result in a smaller federal income tax deduction, meaning more money paid to the IRS on April 15th. In addition, you could see a reduction in the Homestead Tax Credit you may be claiming on your Michigan income tax return. Your expected property tax savings may be more than offset by your tax increases in other areas.

Your benefits from Proposal A depend on your household income, the SEV of your property, and, of course, your spending habits. The typical Chelsea family will likely break even. High income—high SEV households will come out ahead.

Seniors and renters will probably end up paying more. Do your arithmetic before you decide.

Examples of what Proposal A will mean in dollars and cents for Chelsea School District families of various economic profiles are available from Senator Lana Pollack's office. You can call locally at 688-6066 to request a copy.

GENEALOGY was the subject of interest to North school third grader Jon Wagenschutz this year in the Enrichment Triad Program. Jon studied his own family extensively while learning about the subject. The special project was part of the Enrichment Triad Program at the school. His "interest center" showing exactly what he had learned was on display at Chelsea's Children, Celebrate Live! at the school last Tuesday.

Proposal A

The amendment may leave less room for teacher contract negotiations since revenue sources will be less flexible.

Local governmental units could be losers under the proposal since local tax revenue increases would be limited to five percent. Village of Chelsea's new budget is based on an SEV increase of nine percent, although a Headlee rollback will take back some of that increase.

In addition, village residents could receive their summer tax bills late since all assessments will have to be changed and the new assessments will have to be sent to the county for processing.

Although this may sound like a school election, voters should report to their township polling places between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Backyard Birdwatchers Sought for 1993 Survey

Washtenaw county residents are being asked to participate in a national survey of backyard birds conducted by the Home Habitat Society.

Those who participate in the Annual Bird List will be asked to complete a questionnaire concerning the habitat surrounding their home. They will also be provided with a checklist of birds, on which they will record which species visit their yard each season and the relative frequency of sightings.

Richard Van Vleck, the Society's director, says anyone can participate in the survey. All that is needed is access to a field guide to bird identification, which may be found in all libraries and bookstores, and an interest in birds.

Homeowners from both rural and residential areas are needed to participate in this survey. Property size can vary from the smallest yard to an entire farm. Participants will be sent the 1993 forms, to be returned at the end of the year. They will then receive a summary of the survey, including recognition of those who have the greatest number of species for various size yards in each state. The survey results are also printed in the Society's journal, Home Ground. To take part in the Annual Bird List, send $3 registration fee to The Home Habitat Society, PO Box 412, Taneytown, Md., 21787.

FIFTEEN STUDENTS completed the DNR Hunter Safety Program conducted at the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club April 24-25. Students learn firearm safety, hunting ethics, map reading, first aid and participate on the rifle and trap ranges. As of 1987 the State of Michigan requires anyone born after 1960 obtain a Hunter Safety certificate in order to purchase a hunting license. The minimum age requirement set by the state for taking the Hunter Safety class is 12 years. Classes are free and pre-registration is required through Chelsea Community Education, 475-9830. The next Hunter Safety classes will be Sept. 11-12, Sept. 25-26 and Oct. 9-10. The following students were awarded certificates: Gordon Ash, Marc Curtiss, Dan Dault, Jay Demski, Lynn Demski, John Goss, John Goss, III, Steven Harris, David Johns, Matt Johns, Justin Leiter, Steven Leiter, William Paul, Geoff Thomas, Geoff M. Thomas. Instructors were Don Bell, George Carter, Jeff Gunnis, Stu Kenewell, Jim Moomey and Ron Shelton.

Cool, Wet Summer, Says Expert

Ann Arbor—The hot, steamy dog days of summer may again skip Michigan this year. A University of Michigan atmospheric scientist predicts that this summer's weather may not be much different from last summer's cool, wet weather.

Empirical evidence collected by Peter J. Sousounis, U-M assistant professor of atmospheric, oceanic and space sciences, suggests a 55 percent to 80 percent chance of last summer's weather repeating itself. Sousounis' prediction is based on his study of the conditions necessary for a drought to occur in the Great Lakes region.

Sousounis has identified five weather factors that he says point to another cool summer:

—A greater-than-normal intensity trough over the West Coast. "A trough is a region in the atmosphere where the wind changes direction somewhat abruptly in a counterclockwise direction in the Northern Hemisphere," Sousounis says. "The trough region tends to be associated with cloudiness, precipitation and enhanced humidity."

—A greater-than-normal intensity trough over Hudson Bay.

—Weaker-than-normal air flow from the dry Mexican plains.

—A weaker-than-normal or more eastwardly located Bermuda High.

—Higher-than-normal amount of moisture in the soil.

Sousounis says this last factor is possibly the most important. "If there is a lot of moisture availability in the ground, then a lot of that solar energy is going to go purely into evaporating the water. That's going to actually cool the ground. In other words, the ground is not going to warm up as much." The wet spring Michigan has had so far, Sousounis says, is an extension of a winter-like weather pattern that has affected the entire nation.

The five factors outlined by Sousounis are also being influenced by a current oceanographic event and a past geologic event.

An El Niño, characterized by warmer water from the western Pacific Ocean moving east toward South America, is presently occurring. Sousounis says El Niño has caused greater rainfall throughout the United States, and Michigan is no exception. Scientists expect El Niño to keep its current intensity for the near future which, Sousounis says, enhances Michigan's possibility for precipitation, therefore, maintaining a high moisture availability in Michigan's soil.

Sousounis also says that scientists have attributed part of last summer's cool weather to the 1990 eruption of the Mt. Pinatubo volcano in the Philippines. He says dust particles from the eruption that occurred nearly three years ago remain in Earth's atmosphere, preventing a small portion of sunlight from reaching the planet's surface and leading to an approximate two degree average decrease in global temperature.

Any warm-up could be intensified when the El Niño ends.

Labeling of BST Milk Not Backed By Scientific Evidence

Labeling of milk from cows receiving supplements of bovine somatotropin (BST) would raise unfounded food safety fears to the detriment of consumers and producers, according to the Michigan Farm Bureau.

"Based on the many studies and large amount of research that has been done, it is obvious that labeling of milk from cows receiving supplemental BST will not provide information on health or nutrition, since their milk and milk products are indistinguishable from any other milk or milk products," said Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau. "Raising unfounded food safety fears should never be the role of government regulatory activity. If the Food and Drug Administration requires any labeling regarding BST, the agency would be creating a standard that is not scientifically verifiable."

Almy said Farm Bureau has no direct policy interest either pro or con in the approval of BST. "Farm Bureau policy, however, does support the development and acceptance of new technology as long as it does not lessen the quality of the product and is found to be safe for humans, animals and environment," he said.

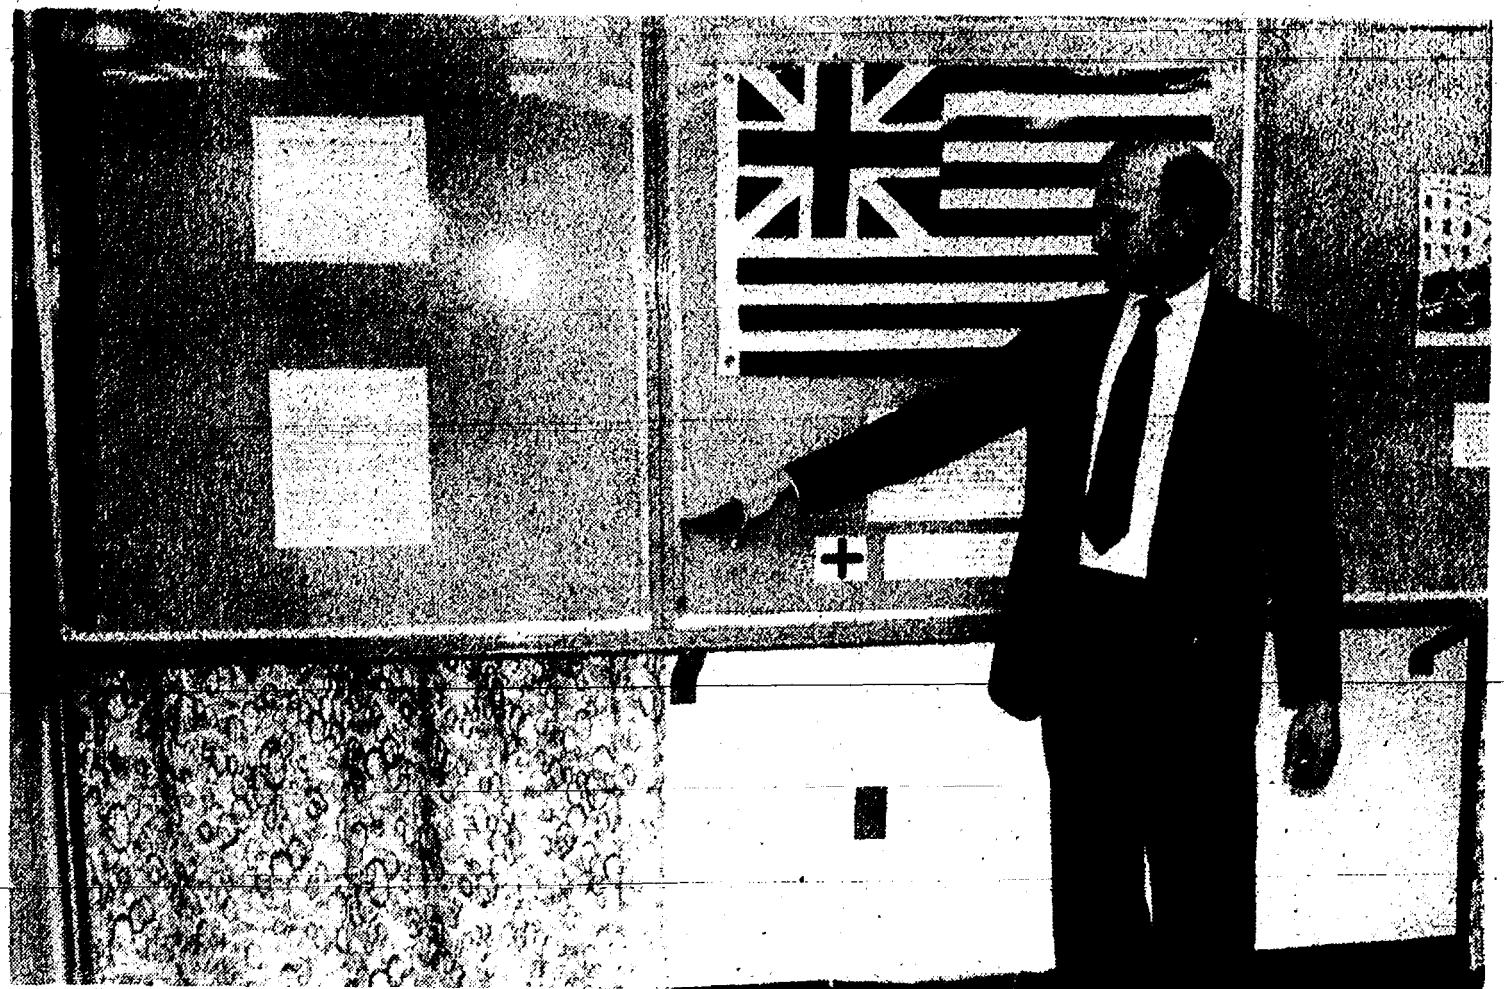

Almy said that labeling mandated according to how a product is produced, rather than on its safety for humans and animals, would set a confusing precedent.

PRINCIPAL DARCIO STIELSTRA admires the sturdy Unistruct framework specified by Architect Arthur Lindauer. The metal framework makes the Historic Flag Display an integral part of the Beach Middle school building.

Historic American Flag Display Opening May 31

At noon on Memorial Day, May 31, the Historic American Flag Display will be open for the first time to the public. On that afternoon it will remain open until 3 p.m., and a visiting schedule for future dates will be available. The principal of the Dwight E. Beach Middle School, Darcio Stielstra, will be on hand to greet guests as they arrive at the Group Education Room.

The Flag Display is a gift to the school by Chelsea posts of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Eighteen panels display numerous American Flag designs dating from 1776. Design of the display resulted from two years of research by Will Connelly in more than a dozen museums, libraries and institutions. Financing was entirely local—the Civic Foundation, Chelsea Milling Co. and BookCrafters, plus scores of individuals.

D. Patrick Merkel and William Coltre did the meticulous job of assembling the flags, pictures and captions based on a display plan by architect Arthur Lindauer. Other individuals who made important contribution included painting by Norm's Body Shop, typography by Typographic Insight and precise cutting of Plexiglas panels by John Yelsik. Chelsea Cleaners charged nothing for pressing all the American flags which were shipped folded by the flag maker.

A private meeting, held before the Memorial Day Parade will involve members of the sponsors' organizations—the Legion, the VFW and its Auxiliary. They will be addressed by Chelsea's own four-star general, Dwight E. Beach. His speech will be reported in the June 2 Standard.

The Chelsea Historic Flag Display is a non-profit organization under the leadership of the Chelsea School District, Community Education Department headed by Jeff Rohrer.

Middle School Orientation for Parents Planned

Beach Middle school will host an evening of middle school orientation for parents of current fifth graders in the district on Thursday, June 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Parents will be taken on a 10-stop tour of the school to begin the program, so it is important that parents arrive promptly at 7:30 p.m.

At each stop of the tour, sixth grade staff will give a brief explanation of the program the students will encounter next school year.

Following the tour, parents will meet in the cafeteria for refreshments and a question-and-answer session with principal Darcy Stielstra.

Theft from Locker At CHS Reported

Cash, jewelry, and sunglasses were stolen from a girl's locker at Chelsea High school on Monday, May 17, the girl told Chelsea police.

The girl also told police that other students had items stolen at approximately the same time, between 4 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Girls Win a Thriller For Region Track Title

Chelsea Bulldogs girls track team won their second consecutive regional title in thrilling fashion Saturday at Perry as they came from behind to overtake Eaton Rapids in the final two events.

Chelsea had 96 points to 87½ for Eaton Rapids, who led the 17-team field most of the day.

The Bulldogs had state-meet qualifiers in nine events, including all four relays. It's the first time Chelsea has ever had all relays qualify.

Erin Schiller was Chelsea's lone placer in the field events as she took fourth in the high jump and qualified for the state with a jump of 5' 3", equalling her career best.

Courtney Thompson also qualified for state in the high jump by clearing 5', also a career best. The effort didn't place.

The Bulldogs got a good start by winning the first race, the 3200. Beth Bell, Sarah Henry, Val Bullock, and Lisa Monti ran a season-best 9:51.5.

Keri Kentala followed with a fourth place in the 100 hurdles in 1:17.1, and Sarah Schick was sixth in the 100 in 1:13.6.

However, Eaton Rapids led after the first three races, 30-16.

Chelsea used first places in the next three races to cut the Eaton Rapids lead.

The 800 relay of Laura Paton, Katie Spink, Erin Schiller, and Theresa Royce turned in their best time of the season at 1:49.6 for first place.

Monti won the 1600 in 5:15.1.

The 400 relay of Schick, Kentala, Schiller, and Theresa Royce won in :54.4, another season best. Chelsea had not qualified a 400 relay since 1976.

Paton finished fourth in the 400 in 1:01.8, a state-qualifying time. Henry also qualified with a 1:02.9, good for seventh place.

Kentala added a third in the 300 hurdles in :49.5.

Bell became the fourth individual qualifier as she placed third in the 800 with a season-best time of 2:24.9.

Royce was fourth in the 200 in :27.6, but Eaton Rapids took first and fifth to pick up 12 points. The Greyhounds held an 85½ to 70 lead with two events to go.

Monti won the 3200 in 11:36.4 and sophomore Molly Griebel, who earlier had run her best 1600 ever but didn't place, ran a 12:26 to place third. That put Chelsea within striking distance. An Eaton Rapids fifth place made the score 87½ to 86 going into the final event, the 1600 relay, where the Bulldogs were the top-seeded team.

The Chelsea team of Paton, Henry, Monti, and Bell went on to win the 1600 relay convincingly in 4:10.7, while the Greyhounds didn't place.

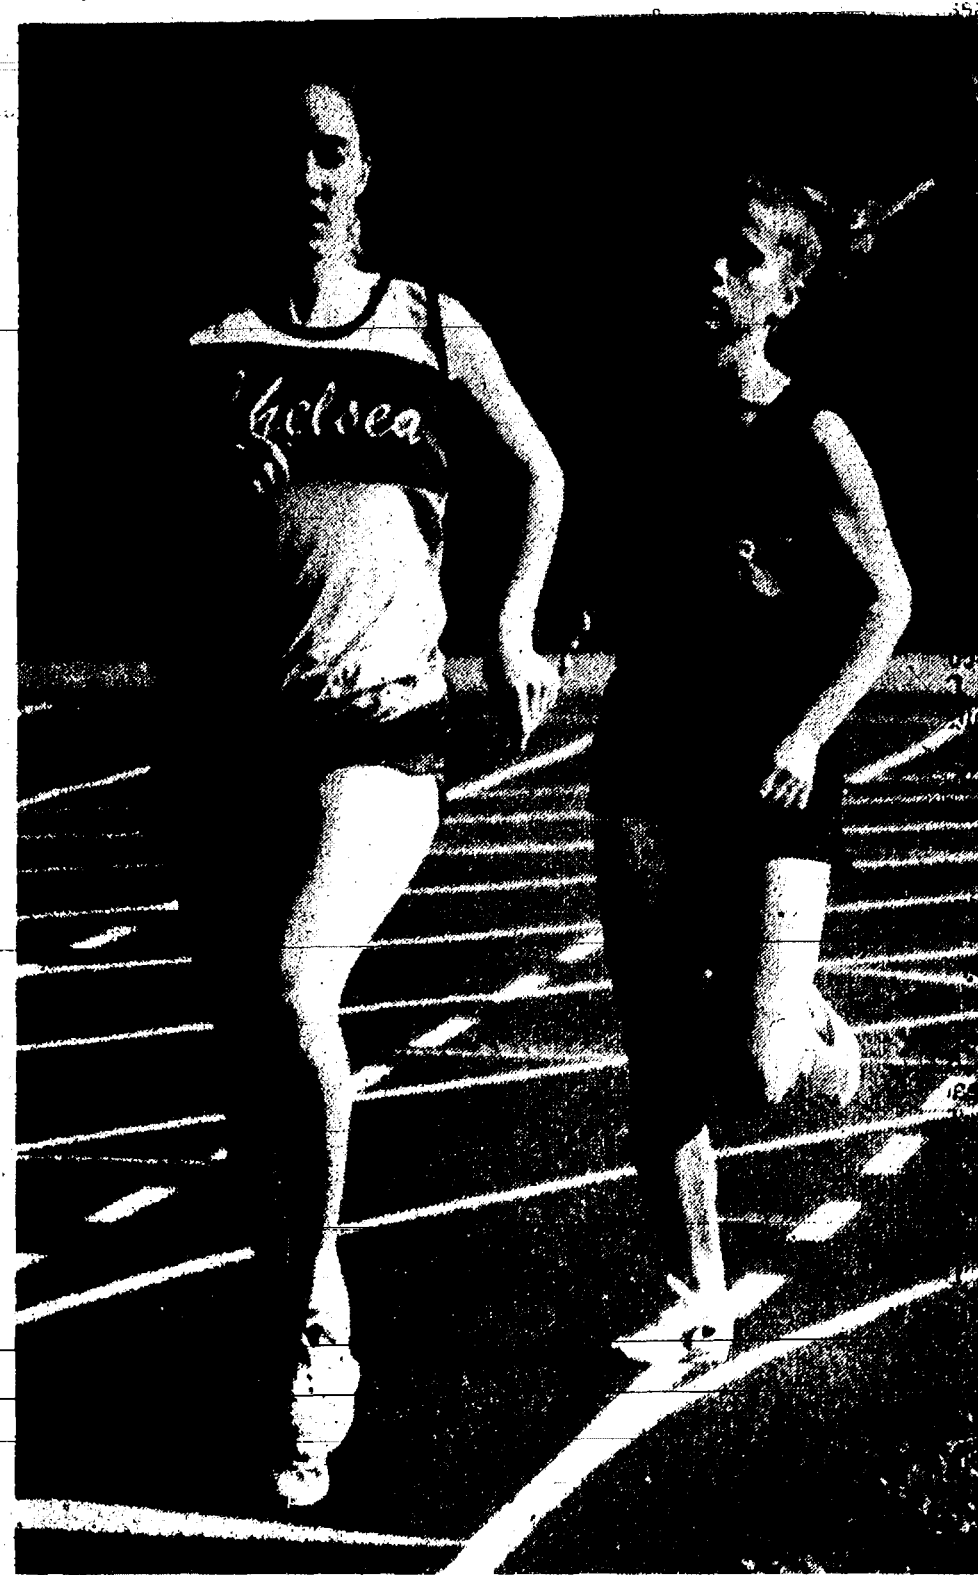

"We felt Eaton Rapids was probably the team to beat," said Chelsea coach Bill Bainton.

"We do a lot of research for meets like this and coach Bert Kruse always lets the girls know what to expect from the other teams. They were well prepared and responded very well. It was a hard-earned and very satisfying victory."

The Bulldogs' state qualifiers are the 3200, 1600, 800, and 400 relays. Monti in the 1600 and 3200, Bell in the 800, Paton and Henry in the 400, and Schiller and Thompson in the high jump.

The state meet will be held Saturday, June 5 in Grand Rapids at Wyoming Park High school.

Chelsea finished the season undefeated and won their 28th consecutive dual meet with a 75-53 victory over Pinckney last Tuesday.

SENIOR LISA MONTI of Chelsea won both the 1600 and 3200 runs at the regional track meet last Saturday.

The winning streak dates back to the final dual meet of the 1990 season. The victory also gives the Bulldogs their third consecutive SEC dual meet title.

Royce provided an early highlight with a career best in the long jump at 16'½ for first place, just ½" short of the school record. Royce also placed second in the 100, won the 200, and ran on the winning 800 relay with Paton, Katie Spink, and Schiller.

Spink also had her season best in the long jump with a third-place effort of 14' 2½".

Paton won the 400 in 1:01.9. Monti and Kentala were also double winners.

Monti ran her best 1600 of the season, before the regional, with a winning time of 5:16.2. She also won the 3200 in 11:55.9. Griebel was third in each event at 5:51.2 and 12:33.9.

Kentala took both hurdle races with a :16.8 in the 100 hurdles and :51.1 in the 300 hurdles. Monica Hansen was second in the 100 hurdles and third in the 300.

Bell and Melissa Hand were first and third in the 200 at 2:27.4 and 2:30.9, respectively.

Bell, Hand, Henry, and Bullock won the 3200 relay in 10:33.7.

Schick was third in the 100, Wendy Bristle was second in the shot, Mara

Smith was third in both the shot put and discus, and Thompson was second in the high jump.

The SEC Meet is today (Wednesday) at Saline.

Dogs Stop Indians, Saline For SEC Softball Title

After a shaky first three innings in their opening game of the Southeastern Conference tournament last Saturday, the Chelsea Bulldogs went on to beat the Tecumseh Indians, 8-5, and the Saline Hornets, 6-3, for the SEC title.

The Bulldogs committed six errors in the first three innings against Tecumseh, when the Indians scored all their runs. Three of Tecumseh's five runs were unearned.

"The girls put themselves under a lot of pressure," said Chelsea coach Joe Beard, who thought his team was a little nervous at the outset.

"They played well last year and there were a lot of expectations this year. Once they played over the errors, they played pretty well the rest of the day."

Tecumseh took a 3-0 lead in the top of the first. But the Bulldogs answered in the bottom of the inning as Heather McConeghy singled, Lisa Beard walked, and Theresa Hurst drove them in with a single after a double steal.

The Indians took the lead back in the second, 3-2, but again Chelsea responded in the bottom of the inning to take a 4-3 lead. Lisa Beard doubled, Hurst singled, Liz Sager hit a sacrifice fly, and Erin Knott had an RBI single.

Again, Tecumseh took the lead back in the top of the third, 5-4.

Chelsea rallied for two runs in the bottom of the fourth for a 6-5 lead as Jackie Crawford singled, McConeghy doubled, and Hurst singled.

Knott provided some cushion in the bottom of the sixth with a two-run single.

Freshman Lisa Beard, who normally pitches the second game of a double-header, got the call for the first game. She struck out three, allowed three hits, and walked one.

"I just felt more comfortable going with Lisa first," Joe Beard said.

"Sometimes I just get these inclinations." Sophomore Carey Schiller got the victory in the second game as she allowed seven hits and struck out nine.

Beard played another hunch in the championship game against Saline, installing junior Nicki Piasecki as his designated hitter for the first time this season. Piasecki responded with a two-run single in the third inning to give Chelsea a 6-2 lead.

GRETCHEN KNUTSEN drops down a bunt during the Southeastern Conference semi-final game with the Tecumseh Indians. The Bulldogs went on to win the game and the tournament for the SEC title.

Like Tecumseh, Saline took a 2-0 lead in the top of the first. And like the first game, Chelsea rallied for two runs in the bottom of the inning. Lisa Beard singled, Hurst reached on an error, and Knott drove them in with a single.

Chelsea completed their scoring in the third as Lisa Beard walked, Sager doubled, Knott and Knutsen singled, Pidd reached on an error, and Piasecki singled.

Saline picked up one more run in the fourth inning.

The victories gave Lisa Beard a 10-2 record and Schiller an 11-3 mark.

It was the third consecutive SEC Tournament title and over-all league title.

In a rarity for the Bulldogs, Chelsea was swept in a double-header last Monday at Jackson Northwest, 4-3 and 4-2.

The first game ended in the bottom of the seventh on a solo home run by Northwest's number nine hitter.

"There was nothing cheap about it," Joe Beard said.

She drove it over third base. By the time we picked the ball up, she was touching third."

Chelsea fell behind 3-0 but chipped away with single runs in the fifth, sixth, and seventh innings.

In the second game, Chelsea had a defensive lapse and committed five errors and gave up four runs in the first three innings.

However, a single by Pidd in the fourth scored Knutsen, and a single by Hurst in the fifth scored Schiller.

In the seventh, Chelsea had runners on second and third and two outs. Hurst hit a line drive that was snagged by the shortstop.

"They were two good games," Beard said.

"We had the chance to face quicker pitching than we normally see."

LISA BEARD prepares to fire toward the plate during the Southeastern Conference Tournament semi-finals last Saturday in Chelsea. Beard, a freshman, is the youngest, and one of the winningest, pitchers in the league.

Junior Varsity Baseball Team Wins Four of Five Games

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity baseball team broke above the .500 mark for the first time this season by sweeping Jackson Northwest and Webberville last week. Chelsea is 12-10 over-all.

Chelsea knocked off Northwest, 4-3 and 4-2, last Monday at home.

In the first game, Ryan Ludwig's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the eighth inning scored Ryan Wagner for the winning run.

Chelsea had rallied to tie the game in the bottom of the seventh on a double by Sam Morseau and single by Dirk Wales.

Wales had three hits for the game and Jamie Courdway had two.

Jeff Branch was the winning pitcher. He struck out six and allowed five hits.

In the shortened second game, Greg Richard and Wales each hit RBI singles in the bottom of the fourth to give the Bulldogs a 4-2 lead.

Ed Greenleaf had knocked in two runs in the first inning.

Wales, Greenleaf, and Morseau each had two hits.

In the only loss of the week, the Bulldogs fell to Ann Arbor Pioneer on Tuesday, 14-2.

Wagner had the only RBI of the game for Chelsea, in the first inning.

In the first Webberville game last Thursday, Craig Leonard singled home a run in the second and Courdway drove in another on an out in the inning as Chelsea took a 2-1 win.

Wales had two hits for Chelsea. Branch was the winning pitcher.

Chelsea took a 3-0 win in the second game. In the second inning, Branch scored on a double steal and Ludwig went home when Courdway was hit by a pitch to give Chelsea a 2-0 lead. The final run scored in the third when Greenleaf raced home from third on a steal play.

Branch had two hits. Morseau was the winning pitcher.

Golf Outing To Raise Funds for Diabetes

Brookside Golf Course in Saline will host the seventh annual "Swing Away for the A.D.A." event. Over the past six years this outing has raised more than $46,000 to help fund diabetes research programs, including those at the University of Michigan.

A few spots are still available for the event on Saturday, June 12. A $75 donation includes 18 holes of golf, a steak cookout and prizes. Reservations may be made by calling 1-800-525-9292.

PERFORMANCE

Finally... advanced technology comes to farm fuel at a reasonable price!

Alert farm operators can now use the advantages of these superior fuel characteristics to better manage equipment life and fuel expense.

More power, cleaner injectors, improved fuel economy, reduced smoke, no lube or water, optimum cetane and extended storage. All work to reduce your gallons-per-acre expense.

AGRI-DIESEL PREMIUM

We are one of the most respected specialized fuel brands in the nation — serving farm co-ops, fuel distributors, and the trucking industry. We're also the largest selling truckstop-premium diesel brand coast-to-coast! Now your local fuel distributor can offer you the double advantages of Agri-Diesel economy and performance.

Everybody's Science

★ Sensors 'Tell' When Dairy Cows Are Sick

Dairy cows of the future will send out radio signals to alert a farmer when an animal is sick.

A tiny sensor in the cow takes temperature readings that will be transmitted every 15 minutes to a computer operating on the dairy farm. "We put together a 'health watch' system for dairy cows that can be built using off-the-shelf equipment," says Alan M. Lefcourt, a U.S. Department of Agriculture animal scientist.

"Changes in a cow's temperature patterns can signal the onset of diseases," he says. "Our electronic system is so sensitive it can sense a problem in the absence of a detectable temperature rise or other clinical symptoms."

Lefcourt says the system has monitored 12 cows daily for two years and has been successful in catching the slightest blip in temperatures. He is talking to feedlot operators and dairy farmers about doing field tests on full-size herds to verify his studies at Beltsville, Md.

An early alert of sick cows "would reduce the farmer's cost of treatment and increase the cure rate," says Lefcourt, a biomedical engineer for USDA's Agricultural Research Service. He says the system's cost could be repaid in savings on medical bills and returns on milk production.

A dairy farmer also could install an alarm that would automatically warn the farmer of an abrupt, relatively high rise in a cow's temperature. "This could mean an attack of life-threatening acute mastitis that needs to be treated immediately," he explains.

Lefcourt originally designed the computer-based system to detect mastitis, an infection of a cow's udder. Mastitis costs U.S. dairy farmers $2 billion annually for treatment and lost milk production.

A cow's temperature also can be monitored to detect when a cow is in heat, or estrous, and is ready to be bred. "Currently, dairy farmers miss detecting estrous about half the time," he says. "This mistake costs farmers over $200 million annually."

JOHN, LINDA AND CALEB DAMBACHER

Christian Fellowship Has New Pastors Team

John and Linda Dambacher became the new pastors at Chelsea Christian Fellowship on March 15. John attended Bible college in Baton Rouge, La., for four years where he graduated with a B.A. in Evangelism. Of course, Linda "put hubby through" by teaching in a Christian school the entire four years. They have been married six years and have one son, Caleb, who is now three. John and Linda are committed to and excited about serving God in the Chelsea area. They live at 402 Dale in Chelsea and may be reached at 475-8305.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I am writing this letter as a parent and assistant coach of one of the 1182-year-old traveling baseball teams.

Band a majority of parents on all the traveling teams have a major concern with the way the Chelsea Recreation Council has treated its own residents as well as out of town guests.

We realize there is a great need for field time and not enough baseball diamonds. A large number of coaches representing all age groups went to the Rec Council to better understand the use of Chelsea's public fields. Rec Council informed us that, the Council wanted to set up their own All Star League where everyone had a chance to tryout. The Rec Council was under the impression that our teams were selected by invitation only, and that the coaches were telling the kids not to get involved with the Rec baseball program. Both of these issues were not correctly understood by those on the Rec Council that oppose the Travel baseball teams. My son as well as others did in fact join both "Travel" and "Rec Baseball" last year. At no time did any of the coaches ever tell their players they shouldn't join the "Rec Baseball" teams. Our "Travel Team" had over 30 kids 11 years old try out, demonstrating the need for a higher level of competitive baseball for the Chelsea area.

Most of the coaches volunteered to help Rec Council organize this need. Rec Council asked us for help in repairing the diamonds at South school for our use. There were many volunteers who did just that. The diamonds at South school still need pitcher's mounds, which Rec Council informed us we couldn't build because the fields may be used for softball.

When we were scheduled to use South school diamonds for two double-header games with Marshall on a Sunday afternoon, we were dismayed that no Port-A-Johns were made available. The people of Marshall were very upset and so were we. The Rec Council informed us that because we were not part of Rec Baseball they would not provide the Port-A-Johns until Rec Baseball started.

Is this the kind of treatment we want to give visitors who spend money in our restaurants and stores? We had to pay for our own Port-A-John.

Last year the travel teams used Dana Park fields for both practice and hosting games. When we applied for their use this year we were told they wouldn't let us because they were "over-booked" with softball teams, possibly from Ann Arbor and Stockbridge. When the Monday Night League cancelled their use of Dana Field and we applied for its use, we were informed they were going to be used for practices and pick-up games. The Rec Council it appears, is trying very hard to make it very difficult for our young kids to have an opportunity to have fun and have equal opportunity for using Chelsea's resources.

We as taxpayers in this community should have equal access of any of Chelsea's recreation facilities. (Certainly Chelsea residents should have first choice to use our own tax supported resources over Ann Arbor or Stockbridge residents.) The Recreation Council's obligation, is to maintain, and schedule the use of these facilities without prejudice. If this is not the case then please publish who can and cannot use these facilities and for what purposes they can be used.
Roger A. Dymond.

To the Editor,
It is spring in Michigan and time to remind pet owners that a responsible pet owner will confine both cats and dogs to their own property. This is the law. There are baby birds and many other small animals which are easy prey for pets who are allowed to roam.

I was dismayed this week to see a pair of sandhill cranes lose their nestlings to a pair of dogs. What a pity! Those of us who choose to have pets need to remember that neighbors who have chosen not to keep them should not have to protect their property and their wildlife or persons from dogs and cats that are allowed to wander.

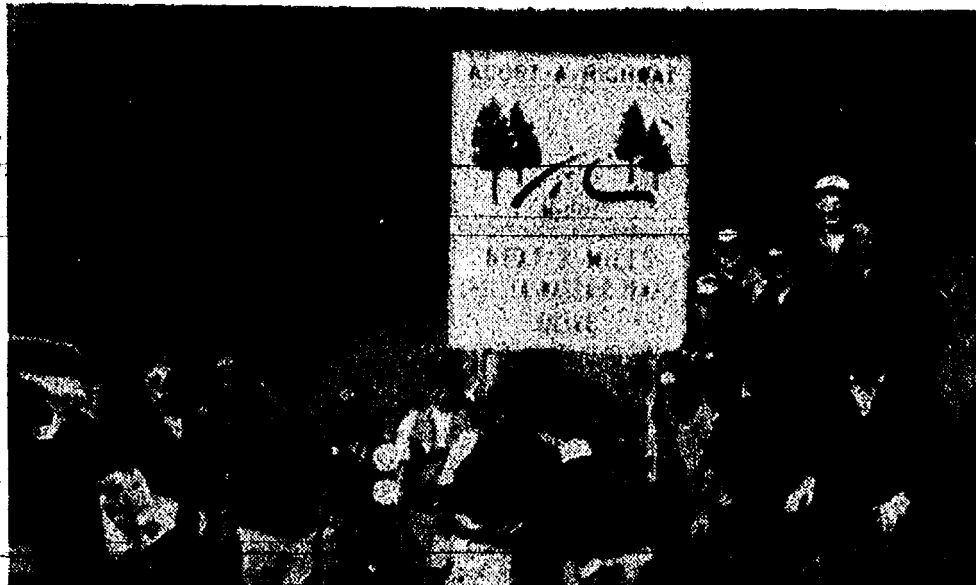

Responsible pet owners also should be reminded to neuter their pets. There are clinics which are held to help do this at a reasonable cost.

Thank you for being a caring neighbor.

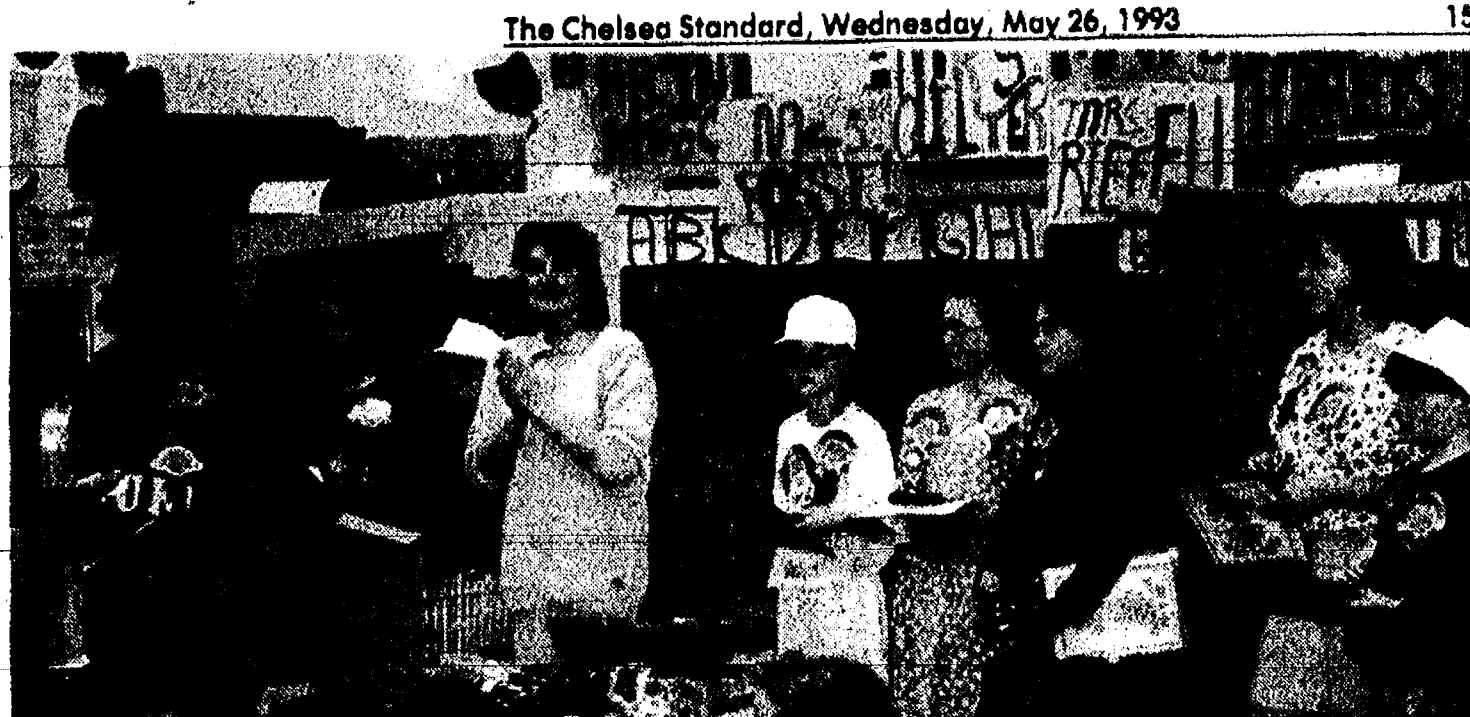

Pat Stoll.

MASONS HELP CLEAN-UP I-94: Members of the Chelsea Masonic Olive Lodge No. 156 F&M have been cleaning up three miles on I-94 with the Adopt-A-Highway plan for two years. Their area to clean is from Clear Lake Rd. to Mt. Hope Rd. in Jackson county. They have just signed up for two more years. On May 1 the following members and some wives did the first clean-up for 1993: Bob and Virginia Schaffer, Art and Pat Stoll, Jim and Alice Tift, John and Tina Tickner, Martin and Sandy Hass, Clare Knickerbocker, Jim Nicola, Walt Howath, Don O'Dell, Dick Clark, Ismael Picklesimer, Carl Sanderson, Bill Smith, and Jerry Wenk. Since the lodge has been in the program, they have had six pickups and collected 390 bags of trash.

NORTH SCHOOL EXPOSURES television programs were put together for cable access channel 22 this year by students in the Enrichment Triad Program at the school. The tapes feature the talents and interests of students in grades K-5 and are designed to spread the word about North school. Last Tuesday, the producers of the programs gave a live demonstration of the May program at the Chelsea's Children, Celebrate Live! program. From left are Ryan Braidwood, Amber Swanson, Molly Edman, Katie Mets, teacher Ruth Stielstra, Chad Schwartzberger, Lisa Clement, Steven Erakine, Emily Rose, and Elly Wheeler.

Education News & Views

By Robert E. Schiller
Superintendent of Public Instruction
Michigan Department of Education

★ What My Job Means for Your Kids

As the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the state of Michigan, I serve as the chief advocate for all kids in the state—all 561 school districts, 3,500 buildings, in K-12, as well as the private schools, the universities and colleges and the community colleges. Even with a job this big, my task is clear. We need to do what's right for Michigan, which in the long run is good for all kids, kids in Dearborn, in Grand Rapids, Flint, Adrian, Bloomfield Hills, Houghton, Charlevoix, Detroit and Pontiac.

The most important priority in my job is to enhance student learning. Our students need not only a substantial knowledge base, but also such skills as the ability to communicate effectively in writing, speaking, and in visual presentations. They must be creative and explore ideas, analyze and solve complex problems, identify order and find direction in an uncertain environment, and think and reason abstractly. They must also value and engage in learning throughout their lifetime. If they do not, they will simply fall behind.

We cannot tolerate or allow a mismatch between the skills of the work force and the skill demands of the work place. Consequently, the demand on schools must be to increase the proportion of students who graduate and to improve the intellectual capabilities of graduates.

It is imperative that we enhance student outcomes so that students can:

- Be ready for the work place so industry does not have to invest billions of dollars re-educating both students and workers.
- Be ready for the post-secondary system so that they can successfully move from where they are to the next level on the platform.
- Improve the quality of life for all those who live in Michigan and the U.S.

One of the most immediate goals in my job is to help ensure the passage of school finance reform. This school financing structure and school funding formula will reshape school finance to support equity, reduced disparities among districts, and improved performance. On June 2, you'll be going to the polls to vote on this issue. The school-financing proposal would cut school property taxes, limit assessment increases and raise the sales tax by 2 cents. It also would create a $4,800 per-pupil foundation. I believe that these changes are important first steps on the road to educational excellence in the state of Michigan, and I ask for your vote on June 2.

Our society has for too long been profit-centered and self-centered. It is time we become child-centered. If education succeeds, Michigan and America succeed; if education fails, you and I and America fail. We're here to make sure that education, Michigan and America succeed. With your help, we can make the dreams of the future come true.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

U. N. Treaty Threatens Parental Rights

It boggles the mind. As if we Americans don't have trouble enough raising our kids in these disorderly times, a gaggle of left-wing social "reformers" is pushing for adoption of a U.N. treaty that would weaken or preempt what remains of our parental authority.

By Phillip C. Clarke
The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child, as it's called, was adopted unanimously by the U.N. General Assembly and signed in January, 1990, by representatives of more than 100 member nations—but thus far not the United States.

The Convention, or Treaty, has the stated purpose of protecting children world-wide from tyranny and exploitation. That's all to the good, especially as it applies to Third World COMPLETES TRAINING: Airman Theresa M. Uphaus has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations. She is the daughter of Sammy L. and Carla D. Uphaus of 3377 W. M-36, Pinckney, and is a 1992 graduate of Pinckney High School.

CHRISTOPHER R. WIDDOCK has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. During the six weeks of training the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations. The airman is the son of Claudia A. Widdock of Pinckney and is a 1988 graduate of Pinckney High School.

dictatorships and helpless young war victims. But several of the document's 54 Articles—it's lengthier than the U.S. Constitution—would severely undermine or completely abolish the rights and prerogatives traditionally held by parents in most advanced countries.

In the considered opinion of Phyllis Schlafly, president of the pro-family Eagle Forum, the U.N. Treaty would "dictate how American parents must raise their children, and spell out the areas where the government (or the U.N.) must step in to replace parents." This is no exaggeration. Article 12, for example, gives children the right to express their views freely "in all matters." Article 13 grants the right to receive information of all kinds through "media of the child's choice." (Including the "Playboy" channel?) Article 14 guarantees children freedom of "thought, conscience and religion" of their own choosing. Parents would be prohibited from interfering.

There's more. Article 15 denies any restriction on a child's freedom of association, "except as necessary for national security, public safety or order, public health or morals or to protect the rights and freedoms of others." There is no mention of parental rights to oppose a child's possible undesirable relationships, say, with a street gang or a fanatical cult. Article 16 guarantees the absolute right of privacy to any child—even from their own parents. Article 24 requires governments to develop family planning services, such as those provided by Planned Parenthood. Article 31 guarantees children the right to "rest and leisure."

As Mrs. Schlafly asks, "What do all these rights mean? How would they be enforced, and against whom? The parents? For example, would it mean a child could refuse to do his homework and household chores because it would interfere with his right to rest, leisure and TV viewing? Does it mean a child could assert the right to say anything he or she wanted to say at the family dinner table? The questions are endless.

Other provisions prescribe standards for day-care centers and for school curricula in a number of sensitive areas. Article 28, for instance, includes a controversial rule that governments "shall take all appropriate measures to ensure that school discipline is administered in a manner consistent with the child's human dignity." One can only imagine how this would play among our many independent-minded local school districts, let alone the parents! Although the Rights of the Child Treaty has now been enacted into law by most of the signatory nations, President Bush declined to send the document to Congress, as requested by both Houses, pending further study. But there's reason to believe President Clinton, perhaps urged on by the First Lady, Hillary, and other liberal advocates, may well submit the treaty to the Senate for ratification when the timing seems favorable. And under our constitution, all treaties once ratified become "law of the land."

If the treaty does reach Congress, it won't be all smooth sailing, however. Among the relatively few lawmakers who have studied the document and now warn of its dangers is Rep. Thomas J. Bliley, Jr., of Virginia, the ranking Republican member of the House Select Committee on Children, Youth and Families. He calls the treaty "fundamentally flawed (because) it's based on the belief that all rights come from government." He's also dubious about the bureaucratic apparatus in charge of compliance. Under the treaty terms, a committee of 10 "experts" will be chosen from candidates nominated by the signatory nations. The U.N. Secretary-General will provide the necessary staff and facilities to help monitor and report on compliance.

Should the treaty be ratified, says Bliley, "hundreds of Judges will be left to interpret the Convention as they please and will have all power to supersede state laws." And this doesn't include the horde of child-advocacy lawyers who would get into the act, presumably by suing parents!

As Congressman Bliley concludes: "It finally becomes clear. Ratification is not about children; it is about (political) power. . . . It is a potential threat to some of our most precious freedoms, civil liberties and our form of government."

Can Pharmacist's discovery help food lovers lose weight?

WASHINGTON --- "Depriving yourself of the foods you love to eat is no way to lose weight," says pharmacist Dr. William Morris, Director of National Dietary Research. Food lovers must learn that the secret to meaningful weight loss is not in decreasing the amount of food you eat, but in eliminating hidden fats. NDR has introduced a publication and low fat, compact, chewable food tablet that help you to lose weight without giving up all your favorite foods. The publication is free when you purchase FOOD SOURCE ONE, an NDR breakthrough in nutritional weight control. FOOD SOURCE ONE is a nutritious and delicious pre-meal snack that can replace the high fat portion of your meals.

Although individual weight loss varies, some people are experiencing extra-ordinary results with FOOD SOURCE ONE. A Niagara Falls, New York woman lost 75 pounds without giving up pizza, chocolate and chicken wings which are her favorite foods.

'National Anthems' Run Extended Through June 5

Purple Rose Theatre Company will continue its current production, National Anthems by Dennis McIntyre, for an additional two weeks of performances through Saturday, June 5. The original three-member cast of National Anthems, featuring Barbara Coven as Leslie Reed, Leon Flagg as Arthur Reed and Phil Locker as Ben Cook, will continue their roles for the extension.

Performances will be held Wednesday through Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. with a Sunday Matinee at 2 p.m. All performances are at the Purple Rose Theatre Company's Garage Theatre, 137 Park St., Chelsea.

Set in a luxury home in the Detroit suburb of Birmingham, National Anthems examines the lifestyle of Arthur and Leslie Reed, a pair of affluent Yuppies. Imported furniture, Rolex watches and a Japanese garden are all staples of this Oakland county household. As the Reeds finish a house-warming party with their friends, a neighbor, Ben Cook, unexpectedly arrives at their door. Ben, an inner city Detroit firefighter who has lived in Birmingham for 17 years, welcomes the Reeds to the neighborhood and invites himself into their home. Laughs, tears, Detroit anecdotes and plenty of drinks fill the remainder of the early morning hours. The stark differences between these suburbanites become clear while the alcohol clouds their senses, distorts their reality and reveals their true personalities.

National Anthems was written by Dennis McIntyre, a Detroit native who was educated at the University of Michigan and Carnegie-Mellon University. Despite the play's Michigan setting and the distinct Detroit themes, topics and references, National Anthems had never before been produced in the state of Michigan.

The Purple Rose Theatre Company production of National Anthems began previews on Thursday, April 1 and the public demand for tickets sold out most of the original eight weeks of performances.

Tickets for National Anthems are available at the box office. Reservations are recommended due to the limited capacity and may be obtained by calling the Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office at (313) 475-7902. The Purple Rose Theatre Company Box Office is open Monday through Friday from 12 noon to 6 p.m. and one hour prior to curtain on days of scheduled shows.

Nature Events Slated At Area Metroparks

Two nature events will be held at Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter.

"Children's Goodnight Walk," an opportunity for children 4 years and older and an adult companion to explore the twilight world and experience day's end in the outdoors, will begin at the Oak Meadows Picnic Area Friday, May 28 at 8 p.m. There is a small fee of .50 cents per child. Bring a blanket to sit on; insect repellent is recommended.

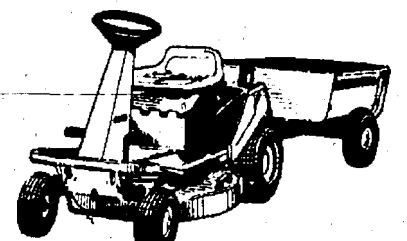

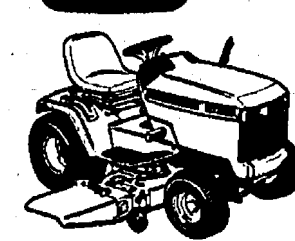

"Who Lives Here?" a hike to look for animal homes of all sizes and discuss the "homebuilders" who live in them, will be held Saturday, May 29 at 1 p.m.

"Walk With a Naturalist." Explore the trails with a naturalist to discover what's happening in the world of nature in mid-spring, will be held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford/Brighton on Monday, May 31 at 2 p.m.

"Harnessing A Horse's Power," a chance to learn about the farm's draft horses by observing the horses being groomed and harnessed to a hay-wagon; and by taking a brief hayride, will be held at the Farm Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford/Brighton on Saturday, May 29 at 10 a.m.

"DIET! I hated the word. After years of trying I was back again to my original weight! But my Doctor told me my health was suffering. 'Diabetes' he said, 'heart disease.' But this time I would adopt a pattern of eating that would improve my health while losing the weight. I vowed, no more starvation, I'm too important, my health is too important."

If you want off the diet rollercoaster. If you're ready for a change. If you're serious about improving your overall health and increasing your energy levels through weight loss, gain or maintenance, let's sit down and talk.

Card of Thanks 19

THANK YOU

I want to thank all of my friends for their many acts of kindness when I was in the hospital and now that I am home. The visits, prayers, cards and flowers are very much appreciated. A special thank you to Fr.
Dupuis and the Christian
Service Committee of St.
Mary's Church. Sincerely,
Abbie Hanson.

THANK YOU

Thanks to all the people
at Chelsea Community Hospital, my relatives, friends and neighbors. St.
Mary's Church, Washtenaw Dairy and Boone & Darr
for their care, cards, calls and visits.

Card of Thanks 19

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Luther A.
Hale wish to express our sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness which were extended to us, during our recent bereavement.

To the nurses and doctors of the Chelsea Hospital ICC unit for their care and kindness. To Staffan-Mitchell
Home, who made a sorrowful occasion, more abidable.

To Father Philip Dupuis,
Deacon Dick Shanyfelt and Nadine Koch for all the words of wisdom, prayers and condolences.

To Carol Gallas and Pat
Aeschliman for the beautiful hymns. To all the ladies of St. Mary's, who served or furnished food for the delicious luncheon.

To everyone who sent the beautiful flowers, contributions for the Chelsea Hospital ICC unit and mass cards, especially your prayers.

To the Military honors, under the auspice of the American Legion Post No.
31.

To the "family" who have been with us for the last three years, and with me now.

To the "family" who were there for me, in every way, I thank you.

To special friends Gaye
Lynn and Calvin Poe, what you accomplished was miraculous.

God Bless All of You,

Evelyn Hale

DELEGATION from the Village of Romeo in northern Macomb county came to Chelsea as part of the annual Mayor Exchange Day last Friday. Their tour included area businesses, such as BookCrafters, Inc. and the Chrysler Proving Grounds, and village facilities, including the wastewater treatment plant. Romeo, with a population of about 3,500, is similar to Chelsea in many ways. It has the Ford Proving Grounds on its outskirts, is bordered by rural townships, and a downtown development authority has begun a streetscape project. From left are Chelsea village trustees Richard Rigg and Joe Merkel, Paul Hansen, Romeo village president, Del DeRees, Romeo trustee, Marilyn and John Foltz, a Romeo trustee and his wife, Chelsea village treasurer Katie Chapman, and Chelsea village manager Jack Myers.

CHELSEA POLICE searched the wooded area near the village industrial park last Thursday for a prisoner who escaped from Cassidy Lake Boot Camp. Alfonso Ayala, serving time for retail fraud, was captured the next morning on Park St. as he tried to use a pay telephone.

CHS Baccalaureate Slated for June 2

Baccalaureate Service for the Chelsea High School Class of 1993 will be held on Wednesday, June 2 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Parish Center on Congdon St.

The service will feature contemporary Christian music and scripture readings by seniors and underclassmen.

"We wanted to prepare a service that would be both meaningful and enjoyable for the graduates and their guests," said Pastor Sarah Groesser, co-ordinator of the event.

Under the sponsorship of the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship, Groesser has recruited CHS students from a number of local churches to participate in the program. In addition, area church volunteers will provide refreshments immediately following the service.

Bookcrafters Names Employee of Month

Julie Smith is BookCrafters' Michigan Division Employee of the Month for May.

Having worked at BookCrafters for nine years, Julie has become increasingly valuable. Presently working as a folder operator, Julie is also proficient on the collator, tipper, and stitcher.

Julie's co-workers are impressed with her service to BookCrafters as shown by their comments made at her nomination.

Julie and her husband, Morgan, live in Stockbridge. She has two stepchildren—Jennifer, 6, and Cameron, 8, who live in Richmond, Va. Outside work, Julie and her husband enjoy golfing and downhill skiing together.

SHORTWAVE RADIO BROADCASTING was studied by North school fourth grader Christopher House in the Enrichment Triad Program this year at North school. He studied all about the uses of radio communications in everyday life and presented all his information at his "interest center" last Tuesday at the Chelsea's Children, Celebrate Live! program at the school.

DEMOLITION of the former village electric and water building on North St. began last week. Contamination, caused by leaky underground gasoline storage tanks, was found several years ago. The Department of Natural Resources determined that the western end of the building had to be demolished and dirt and groundwater beneath it cleaned up. The project is being funded, less a deductible, by the Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance fund.
