ROBIN MELTON, left, a bus driver for the Chelsea School District since 1987, will become the new district transportation supervisor beginning July 1. She will take the place of Sally Proctor, right, who is retiring. The transportation department not only takes care of all the school buses, but the vans and other vehicles owned by the district. Melton will also be supervising the district's bus drivers.

Village Waits on Money State Owes for Clean-up

The village has finished the demolition and clean-up of the former electric and water building on North St., but it may be quite some time before any promised state money arrives here.

The Traverse Group, the consulting company hired by the village to clean up the site contaminated by leaky underground gasoline storage tanks, tore down part of the building, excavated contaminated soils, pumped out contaminated water, and backfilled the hole.

Contamination apparently wasn't as

Fire Starts When Man Falls Asleep With Lit Cigarette

A fire over the Village Bakery on W. Middle St. on early Saturday morning, June 12 was apparently caused when the tenant fell asleep with a lit cigarette.

Chelsea police said a passerby smelled and saw smoke in the area and immediately went across Main St. to the police station at about 2:09 a.m. After the fire department was dispatched to the scene, the tenant also showed up at the department to report the blaze.

The tenant said he was awakened by the fire, which caused extensive damage to the apartment. An investigation showed the fire apparently started on a couch in the apartment.

extensive as the village first feared, but the entire project cost about $286,000. All but $10,000 is supposed to be paid by the state's Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance (MUSTFA) fund on a reimbursement basis.

However, the village has been notified that the MUSTFA program is in trouble. In late May the state House voted to abolish MUSTFA and issue bonds to pay off reimbursement requests. The program has been criticized for overbilling by contractors, inefficient methods of cleaning spill sites, and lax financial accounting and program administration. The program was funded by a 7/8 cent motor fuel tax, which brought in about $150,000,000 annually.

State auditors told a House committee that a lack of communication between the Michigan State Police, which registers the tanks, the Department of Management and Budget, which oversees the MUSTFA program, and the Department of Natural Resources, which administers the environmental clean-up, made it easy for contractors to bill for more work than was needed or work that wasn't performed.

The village has been advised by the Michigan Municipal League Environmental Affairs Service to "be patient" when it comes to receiving reimbursement from the state. According to MML Environmental Affairs Advisor Donald Stypula, municipalities "could be in for a long wait, but the claims will be honored."

The village filed its first claim with MUSTFA, for $56,000, in December, but the claim hasn't been paid.

Village manager Jack Myers said the enterprise funds for each department that used the tanks will be used to pay the bill until the state money is secured. The electric fund, which for many years was used to solve similar financial problems, is probably "out as a source," Myers said.

Village Council Discusses Financing Of Various Projects

Village council was scheduled to hold a work session last night to consider how to pay for a list of expensive projects.

Council was scheduled to meet after their regular meeting in a "committee of the whole" to discuss ways to pay for closure of the landfill—which village manager Jack Myers calls the number one priority—as well as a new water tower, a new municipal building, and a trash transfer station. Together the projects could run more than $2 million.

The landfill is the top priority because the closure is mandated by law and will take place next month. Myers expects that to cost between $200,000 and $250,000.

A water tower, pending the results of a recent inspection, may also become a top priority. Myers said he would like to purchase a used tower, but the cost is not known.

A transfer station is at least a year away. Council has not said much publicly about how urgent the need is for a municipal building.

Council has a variety of options, including millage dedicated for solid waste programs, and bond issues. Bond attorney Don Keim was scheduled to be in attendance.

Fire Department Makes 42 Runs During May

Chelsea Fire Department made 42 runs in May, according to chief Bud Hankerd's monthly report to village council.

As of the end of May, the department had made 28 more runs than last year at the same time.

Thirteen runs were made in the (Continued on page three)

Omaha-Based Department Store Negotiating Lease For Shopping Center Space

An Omaha, Neb.-based department store chain is expected to lease the space at Chelsea Shopping Center vacated earlier this year by Ames Department Store.

Pamida, Inc., which has about 180 general merchandise stores primarily in the midwest and Rocky Mountain regions, is negotiating the final details of a lease to open a 57,000-square-foot store similar to Ames by the end of the summer. It would reportedly be the chain's first Michigan store.

The company, according to shopping center developer Rene Papo, has already taken over several other Ames stores that were closed as part of the company's bankruptcy reorganization.

"They like small-town markets," Papo said.

Pamida plans a grand opening on Aug. 30. Little work has to be done to the interior of the store.

The Chelsea store would be one of the largest in the chain whose average store size is 42,000 square feet.

The publicly-traded company calls itself a general merchandise chain. Papo said he first contacted Pamida last December after learning that Ames would be leaving town. The company has signed a 10-year lease, Papo said.

Company spokesman Bob Ellison declined comment on the chain or the store until the lease has been signed. However, he said he expected the deal to be closed by the end of the week.

Ames had gross sales of approximately $6 million in Chelsea for 1992. The store, an original tenant of the shopping center, opened in November of 1988.

Village Plans To Close Landfill Cell in July

The village plans to begin closing the landfill portion of the Chelsea Solid Waste Facility on Werkner Rd. beginning July 5.

The facility will continue to take trash from the area, which will be hauled to another landfill in roll-off bins.

Village manager Jack Myers has informed the Department of Natural Resources that it will begin capping the landfill according to plans its engineers developed unless DNR comments by the end of next week.

Myers said he has tried for quite some time to get DNR to respond to the closure plans. The plans call for a two-foot layer of clay, plus a layer of topsoil, to be applied to the three-acre mound of garbage. The hill would also be seeded to help prevent soil erosion.

The clay has to pass certain non-permeability standards. Myers said it is estimated that 11,000 tons will be needed to finish the job.

Village employees will handle the closure work. Myers said he plans to rent a bulldozer and other heavy equipment needed to do the job. Bids will be sought for the clay and equipment.

The job could be completed in about two months, Myers said, although the law allows three months.

Myers said he anticipates the village can save between $75,000 and $150,000 by doing the work in-house. Total cost is expected to be between $200,000 and $250,000.

How the village will pay for the closure has not been determined. Unlike with the previous landfill cell, the village will get no help from the surrounding townships.

In other landfill news, the village has not gotten a ruling from the DNR on its remediation plans for the previous landfill cell. The plan outlines how the site will be monitored for any possible groundwater contamination, and how groundwater would be cleaned up, using a filter system, and dumped into the adjoining wetlands.

The village will pay 70 percent of the long-term costs and Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships will split the other 30 percent, according to an agreement hammered out last year.

Sandor and Lazzlo Slomovits, the twin-brother musical act known as "Gemini," will be the featured performers at Thursday night's Concert in the Park in Pierce Park. Their performance, called "Growing Up Together—A Musical Celebration for the Whole Family," will start at 7:30 p.m. and run until 8:30 p.m.

With the exception of the major modification of the salary schedule, the Chelsea School District's new contract with the Chelsea Education Association, the teachers union, has few significant changes.

Due to increased load on its electrical system, the village will spend about $70,000 to $80,000 to upgrade its substation on Garfield St. Village council voted Tuesday, June 20 to spend $29,610 on equipment for the improvement. The rest will be spent on installation, which will be bid out. The work will probably be undertaken next spring. Consumer's Power Co. has also told the village it will upgrade its substation next spring.

Chelsea School District administrative salaries were increased a minimum of seven percent for the 1989-90 school year, according to superintendent Joe Piasecki. Piasecki said that some administrators were given larger raises to bring them more in line with administrators in comparable school districts.

Village of Chelsea had decided to pursue a formal written agreement with attorney Peter Flinto considering legal services that have been performed for many years on an informal basis. Flinto was never officially appointed the village attorney but has handled the bulk of the village's legal work in recent years. The agreement, according to village manager Robert Stalker, would detail what is considered to be a conflict of interest and when the village would seek its legal services from another firm.

Finding a permanent site for Chelsea area senior citizens to meet has frustrated local community groups. As one Chelsea Kiwanian put it, "Anyone will give us an acre out in the country," but seniors who no longer drive wouldn't be able to get there. Chelsea Kiwanis Club recently leased a centrally located house on W. Middle St. from the village, but the village's purchase agreement on the house stipulates it must be torn down for a parking lot in five years. Although the house has several large open rooms on the first floor and a kitchen, the second floor space cannot be utilized as well, because the stairwell to it is long and steep.

Flower box, alternated to prevent a regimented look, and trees cleverly placed to cover utility connections have completed the facelift of the alley between Main St. and the municipal parking lot. New cement has replaced the crumbling concrete and new lights installed. Funds for improvements came from the Downtown Merchants Association and proceeds from the former hospitality sign on I-94.

Chelsea school board, which recently voted to dismiss a Cassidy Lake Technical school teacher, and the prison school are re-evaluating their relationship. State law now says only school districts may receive state aid. Chelsea has been claiming the prison school's students for the past four years and hiring teachers for Cassidy Lake with the state aid it receives for the extra pupils. But the recent dismissal of a teacher at the prison school consumed a lot of time the Chelsea board would rather use on school district issues.

★ Washington Should Kick the Mandate Habit

By Michael D. LaFaive
and Lawrence W. Reed

Unfunded mandates from Washington pose a substantial challenge to both the budgets and the fiscal sovereignty of the 50 states. This report examines that challenge and presents data which illustrate the problem for state government in Michigan. It does not address that other vast arena of federal mandates—those imposed on private enterprise, from parental leave to plant closing laws—though in great measure, the critical appraisal presented here would undoubtedly apply there as well.

A mandate is a command—a requirement that the subject cannot ignore without penalty. When Congress imposes a mandate upon state governments and does not provide the resources to carry it out, the mandate is unfunded. State governments must then raise taxes, reduce other spending, or borrow—in every event, the mandate pre-empted and redirects state resources to satisfy the wishes of Congress.

The use of mandates at the federal level has increased markedly in recent years. Facing a chronic budget deficit and yet wanting to see new programs of government enacted or existing ones expanded, Congress has discovered that it can simply foist programs or policies upon the states and let them worry about the bills. By one count, there are currently more than 400 federal mandates in a broad range of policy areas—from health and safety to the environment.

The last two years have produced an explosion in mandates. In the 102nd Congress, which expired in December 1992, no fewer than 244 bills containing mandates were proposed. Fortunately, not all of them made their way into law, but by any measure, this problem is growing worse with each passing year.

Arizona Governor Fife Symington, in his State of the State Address in January 1993, had this to say on the matter: [The State of Arizona] "will continue to press the case that mandates from the federal government have stripped us of our fiscal sovereignty . . . and have stripped the people of their right to representative government at the state level."

President Clinton, as Arkansas Governor in February 1991, expressed similar sentiments when he said, "We need to get a handle on Medicaid mandates or else some of us are going to go broke."

Congress adopts mandates typically with little or no accurate estimates of their costs. The Congressional Budget Office, which is charged with calculating such costs, is hampered by ambiguous language in the mandates themselves, as well as time constraints that often prevent a thorough analysis. Congress has shown little concern for the impact of its directives on states and state government budgets.

Medicaid—the public sector health care program for the poor funded jointly by federal and state governments—provides a case study of the impact of federal mandates in Michigan. As part of Medicaid, Congress has imposed a growing list of unfunded requirements: to provide coverage of nurse-midwife services, to provide ambulatory services to children and prenatal and delivery services to pregnant women, and to establish preadmission screening programs for mentally ill and retarded citizens, to name a few from a lengthy list. Because of these mandates, state government has fewer resources to devote to matters it might regard as more pressing.

Among the findings this report reveals in the area of Medicaid mandates alone are these:

- In 1993, $95.3 million—the equivalent of 30 percent of Michigan state government's revenue growth—will be consumed by the cost of Medicaid mandates.

- That $95.3 million figure is larger than the combined General Fund appropriations for five entire state departments: Civil Rights, Civil Service, State, Attorney General, and Agriculture.

- In Michigan, the cost of existing federal Medicaid mandates will grow at an annual rate of 49.1 percent through 1995, while the General Fund will likely grow at something close to its historic rate of 5.5 percent.

The problem with unfunded federal mandates goes beyond their burdensome expense to strike at the very heart of the state-federal relationship. The concept of federalism, a pillar of the U.S. Constitution, left to the states the lion's share of government powers and responsibilities. The gradual shift in recent years toward greater involvement by Washington in nearly all areas of public policy flouts the federalist spirit and threatens to make vassals of the 50 states. In one area after another, it has produced inferior policy results as well.

Action is needed to reverse this disturbing habit of the federal legislature. Among the several recommendations this report makes are these:

- A mandate ombudsman—Michigan should create the nation's first official mandate ombudsman to track, forecast and disseminate information regarding mandates for the purpose of educating legislators and the general public.

- A mandate database—To complement the work of the ombudsman, the Michigan Department of Management and Budget should create a com-

Middle-Aged Women Healthier With Moderate Exercise

As women enter middle age, their risks for coronary heart disease rise, especially after menopause. In the past, most of the research on heart disease risks, as on many other health conditions, was done on men. But the "Healthy Women Study" found that one way to lower women's risk of heart disease is to build more exercise into daily life. Even a moderate increase in exercise—such as taking three 20 minute brisk walks every week—seems to help lower risk factors.

This finding emerges from a three year study of 500 women who were from 42 to 50 years old when the study began.

The women who increased their physical activity showed the lowest weight gains over the three years, as well as the smallest decreases in HDL (high density lipoprotein, the "good cholesterol carrier, so-called because it is associated with reduced risk of heart disease).

puter database that would permit the generation of up-to-date cost estimates.

- A state resolution—The Michigan Legislature should ask our state's federal representatives in Congress to appear annually before the legislature to explain and justify the mandates Congress is imposing on the state.

- A renewed recognition on the part of all legislators—state and federal—of the proper roles and interrelationships of state and local governments.

Washington, ultimately, must step up to its responsibilities and kick the expensive and dangerous habit of foisting mandates upon the states.

(The authors of Washington Should Kick the Mandate Habit: The Fiscal Impact of Federal Mandates on Michigan are Michael D. LaFaive, an Adjunct Scholar with The Mackinac Center for Public Policy, and Lawrence W. Reed, President of the Center.)

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Use to, Clem Webster told the fellows at the country store Saturday night, editors of country papers and farm magazines said they wrote for folks that move their lips when they read. That day is long past and good riddance, Clem said, and the level of education is getting higher and more uniform all over the country. He said this came to mind when he saw a survey recent that showed newspaper readers are getting smarter and demanding more from their papers.

For sure, Clem said, this could just as easily mean that only smart people read nowadays, and the rest depend on television for everything they think they need to know. But Clem said he rather think that all the folks are becoming more aware of their world and what they need to get along in it. He reported that the survey said the average news reader now is close to a high school graduate, which is 18 years old, instead of the 12 year old education level of 25 years ago. Everything is tied to the market, Clem complained, so the survey said the findings show that owners of papers and news magazines need to gear their ads to a "more discerning reader."

That may be whatever it means, Clem said, but to his mind the smarter reader wants smarter news. He's after the stories behind the headlines and the 6 o'clock news, and he wants to know what it all means to him and his personal situation. On the other hand, they could do the survey all wrong and called people on the phone to ask about their reading habits. The smarter folks get the less likely they are to talk to salesmen and pollsters on the phone, was Clem's words.

Practical speaking, Bug Hookum said, smart ain't always better, and you don't have to look further than telephone technology that keeps reinventing a wheel nobody wants. The picturephone was going to be as popular as TV when it came along 25 years ago, Bug said, and now it's getting a reception just as cold. When will smart folks learn they can't sell a product just because they can invent it, Bug ask.

Furthermore, ordinary folks can get to smart for their own good. Bug read where a psychiatrist claims that most of the stress in this country is caused by people that "blow $10 worth of energy on a 10-cent problem." In the first place, most problems will work themselves out if we leave them alone, and in the second place there's no use to worry about the problem in the first place. For instance, Bug read where families actual fall out over what medical school grandpa will his body to. The big name schools have got more carcasses give to them than they can use, Bug said, while students studying medicine at little schools ain't got nobody to practice on. It must be that all the smart people have invested $10 worth of energy to decide they want to tell their children grandpa died and went to Harvard instead of Podunk when it don't make a dime's worth of difference, were Bug's words.

Personal, the discussion thought me of the saying that people are at their fiscal best at 16 and their mental sharpest at 20, and after that they just get sicker and dumber. That had to be said by somebody under 30, and it makes you take another look at age groups used that reader education survey.

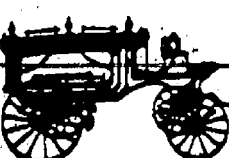

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Afraid of Breast Cancer?

Breast cancer is often called the disease women fear most. One in eight American women will get breast cancer in her lifetime. However, if breast cancer is detected early and has not spread beyond the breast, up to 90 percent of women can be treated successfully.

Washtenaw County Public Health Division spokesperson, Nancy Maddox reports that 5,859 women were diagnosed with breast cancer in Michigan in 1990. More than 1,600 women died of the disease the same year.

Maddox estimates that one-third of breast cancer deaths can be prevented through yearly screening and appropriate treatment.

The American Cancer Society recommends that all women age 40 and over should have a mammogram every other year and then every year after the age of 50. Maddox encourages women to call their doctor, or if they need a free or low-cost mammogram, arrangements can be made through the Washtenaw County Public Health Division.

Wedding presents to the happy couple included a goat. Ruth Schrader portrayed the bride and wore a gown and veil made of ruffled curtains. After the ceremony, the groom couldn't be found, so the bride and best man (Ardea Wahl) took off on a wedding trip in a two-seater pulled by a team of donkeys.

Fuzzy Farmers, a Brothers of the Brush chapter, learned not to give a 2-1 tug-of-war advantage to Jews of Jerusalem, a Chelsea-Belles chapter. Five Fuzzy Farmers ended up in the creek at Veterans Park during Saturday's challenge tug.

Chelsea's anniversary parade Saturday will be the biggest the village has ever had, 84 entries including 34 floats.

NEWS OF MEDICINE

By Thomas C. Payne, MD, President
Michigan State Medical Society

★ Physician-Assisted Suicide: There Are Alternatives

Most people when asked, know someone—a relative, friend, acquaintance, or co-worker—who is dying of a terminal illness. Often those deaths are lingering and painful.

What to do for these people is an agonizing dilemma for physicians, who are trained to help people overcome illness. And it is exactly this dilemma which makes the idea of physician-assisted suicide so complex.

It's one thing for some to say that assisted suicide is a natural next step for those terminally ill people who want it. But it's quite another to carry it out. For that reason, the Michigan State Medical Society holds firm in its conviction that assisted suicide is an emerging societal issue that must be discussed by all segments of our population. We believe a society-wide consensus must be sought. This is not simply a physician issue, but an ethical, moral, philosophical and religious issue requiring considerable dialogue.

The Michigan State Medical Society is working to advance that dialogue as quickly as possible. Our Committee on Bioethics has held eight forums on assisted suicide since December 1991, and more are planned. Representatives from various groups including Right to Life of Michigan, the Michigan Hemlock Society, Hospice of Michigan, the State Bar of Michigan, and the American Civil Liberties Union have attended, as well as state legislators, physicians and ethicists.

Nobody knows where the issue will end, or when any conclusions will be reached. Until some kind of consensus is reached by all segments of society and not just physicians, we've asked for a moratorium on any physician-assisted suicide in Michigan.

However, we have placed no moratorium on compassionate care. Physicians do know that those who are terminally ill and in pain need compassionate care right now. To help physicians better provide that care, our Committee on Bioethics has developed three recommendations for physicians that the Michigan State Medical Society is putting into action.

The first is to help educate physicians about up-to-date methods of symptom and pain control when treating terminally ill patients. We've already organized a half-day course for physicians who attend the Michigan State Medical Society's Annual Scientific Meeting each November in Dearborn. On Nov. 18, Michael Frederick, MD, medical director of Hospice of Southern Illinois, spoke to physicians about the medical, ethical and political aspects of assisted suicide. And we're planning other seminars on the topic, too.

The second recommendation of our Committee on Bioethics is to help physicians educate patients and family members about the distinctions between withdrawing and withholding treatment while assuring patients that their wishes will be followed in all decisions to use or forego medical treatment.

The third is to promote the use of the new Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care forms that allow any adult to appoint a "patient advocate" to make treatment decisions for them if they become incapacitated.

In the meantime, as I mentioned, we plan to continue as a catalyst in bringing various groups together to talk about assisted suicide. Our next forum is set for Dec. 11. Conclusions from those forums will be forwarded to the Michigan State Medical Society Board of Directors for consideration in its own deliberations on this complex issue.

"Happiness grows at our own firesides, and it is not to be picked in strangers' gardens."

—Douglas Jerrold

We tend to look far afield for happiness, disregarding the vast potential close to home. We sometimes find it more difficult to recognize sources of happiness in familiar surroundings. For some reason, we may overlook the immeasurable satisfaction provided by the peace, security and contentment of our own homes.

Happiness is seldom far beyond our reach. We are most apt to find it in the close-at-hand, commonplace things at our own firesides, which are all too often taken for granted.

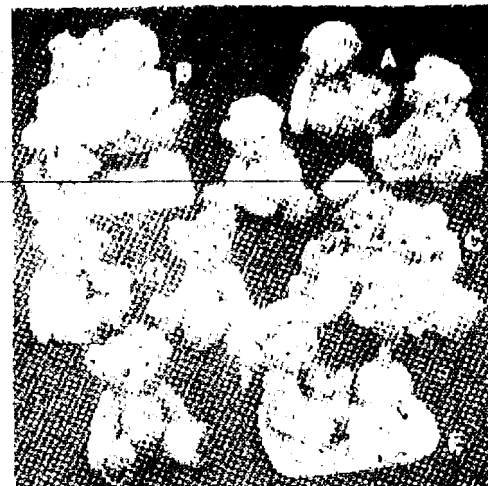

Please look upon us as your friend in need, always available to serve you and to provide guidance in your own best interests to the best of our ability.

Geoffery Ostling Returns from Navy Duty in Persian Gulf

Navy Fireman Apprentice Geoffery M. Ostling, son of Daniel J. and Julie A. Ostling of 13405 Old US-12, Chelsea, recently returned aboard the destroyer USS Hewitt, forward deployed to Yokosuka, Japan from a six-month deployment to the Persian Gulf.

During the deployment, USS Hewitt served as flagship for Commander Destroyer Squadron 25 and supported the United Nations-imposed "no fly" zone in Southern Iraq. The destroyer also supported the coalition air-strikes and executed a co-ordinated Tomahawk missile strike against targets inside Iraq. The strike, conducted with the cruiser USS Cowpens, and destroyers USS Stump and USS Caron, marked the first co-ordinated use of Tomahawk cruise missiles as the sole weapon in an attack.

The destroyer also participated in Gulfex-16, an exercise with British and French naval forces which featured the first-ever shallow water anti-submarine warfare exercise in the Persian Gulf.

Additionally, USS Hewitt participated in training exercise Red Reef IV, where it worked closely with five friendly Gulf nations during live missile-firing exercises. The USS Hewitt joined Russian, French and British ships during Gulfex-17, and tested a broad spectrum of warfare capabilities including the first-ever dry run of an underway replenishment between Russian and U.S. ships.

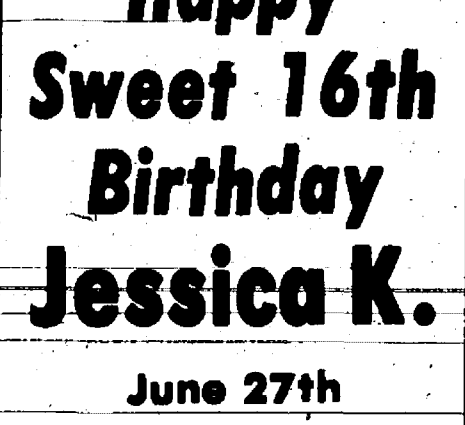

During the deployment, USS Hewitt visited Hong Kong, Singapore, Thailand, the United Arab Emirates, and spent Christmas in Bahrain.

The 1991 graduate of Chelsea High school joined the Navy in July, 1991.

SEC Schools Vote Against Willow Run

Southeastern Conference members voted not to admit Willow Run as the eighth conference district during a Monday meeting at the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

Dexter and Lincoln voted in favor of admitting the Ypsilanti-area school, while Chelsea, Milan, Saline, Pinckney, and Tecumseh voted against it. Two "no" votes were enough to keep Willow Run out.

SEC president Ron Mead, who is also principal of Chelsea High school, said the majority of schools were concerned about the condition of Willow Run's athletic programs, particularly girls sports, sub-varsity sports, and middle school sports. For example, Willow Run has no cross country or golf programs, and has poor participation in girls and middle school

Ag Workers Act Reform Would Hurt Farm Employers

Michigan farm employers are concerned about a bill (H.R.1173) introduced in the U. S. House that would eliminate the family farm and small farmer exemption under the Migrant and Seasonal Agricultural Workers Protection Act. "The current Act is already the broadest labor contract in the country, and now the reform is even going further," said Howard Kelly, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. "This law does protect the worker's rights, but also gives farm worker advocates too many opportunities for litigation and other forms of harassment."

Kelly said another major problem with the measure is that it would give farm workers a private right of action to sue employers for safety and health violations. "Farm workers would be able to get workers compensation and still sue their employers. No other workers in the country have that," he said.

The Michigan House and Senate recently passed House Concurrent Resolution (H.C.R.)139, which asks Congress to reject H.R.1173. "The needlessly expanded legal rights and changes in employment status and requirements raise questions as to whether small farm and businesses could survive financially," said Rep. Carl Gnodtke (R-Sawyer), a co-sponsor of H.C.R.139. Other co-sponsors were Rep. Gary Randall (R-Elwell) and Rep. Bob Bender (R-Middleville).

Oil Change Business Granted Special Use Permit By Village

Chelsea Village Planning Commission granted a special use permit and approved site plans for a quick oil change company that wants to build on S. Main St. opposite Pierce Park.

The commission voted 5-2 to give the permit to Victory Lane Oil Change, which has service centers in Ann Arbor and Saline.

Commission member Doug Denison argued against the permit, questioning the compatibility of the business with the area, noting Pierce Park in particular. Customers of the business have drive-in oil changes. There were also questions about the possibility of contamination.

Zoning inspector Rosemary Harook said the compatibility issue would not stand up in court.

Site plans were approved with a number of contingencies.

The small building on the site now rented by Village VCR will be demolished. Village VCR plans to move to Chelsea Shopping Center.

CHELSEA AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE has a new office on the street-level floor of the Sylvan Building on Main St. Ann Feeney previously ran the office from the Chelsea Depot. The new quarters are more centrally located and are more appropriate for office space than the cavernous depot.

High Speed Train To Pass Through Area Twice Today

Area residents will have an opportunity to glimpse the future of high speed rail service between Detroit and Chicago when the European X-2000 high speed train travels through Chelsea and Dexter today.

The train is scheduled to leave Ann Arbor this morning at 9:50 a.m. on its way to Battle Creek. So shortly after that the train should travel through the downtown Chelsea crossing.

The train will make a return trip this afternoon. Between 1:10, when it arrives in Jackson, and 2:10, when it is scheduled to arrive in Ann Arbor, the train will pass the Chelsea Depot.

The X-2000 is designed for high speed operations along upgraded conventional rail lines, much like the Detroit-Chicago corridor. It features a radial, self-steering truck and computer controlled hydraulic tilting system enabling it to lean into curves without reducing speed.

When introduced between Stockholm and Gothenberg, Sweden, a line almost identical in length to the Detroit-Chicago corridor, the trip was reduced from four hours, 30 minutes to just under three hours.

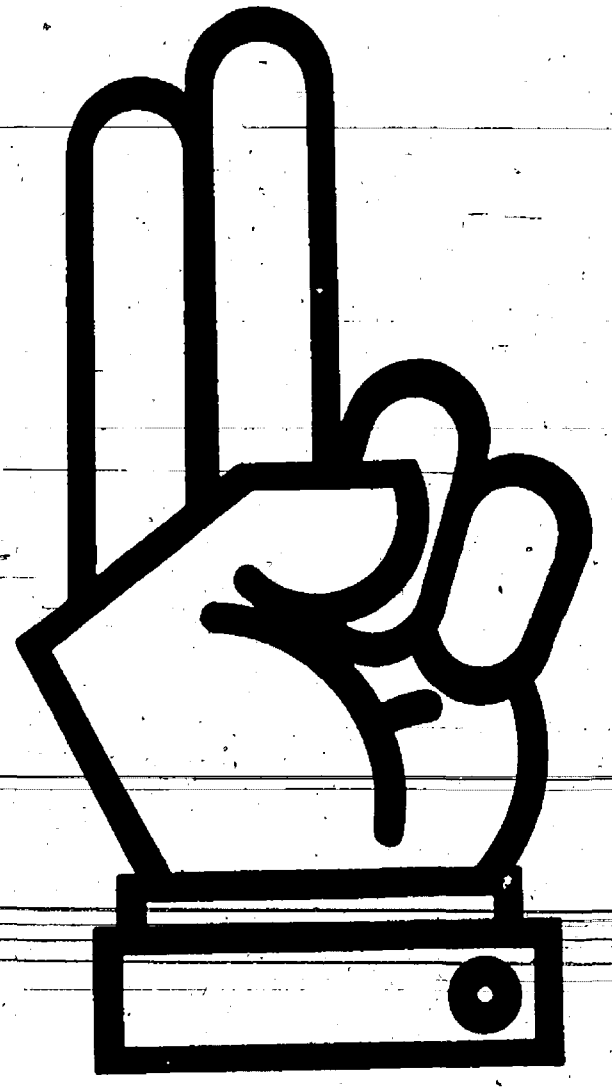

The train will be open for free inspection on Thursday, June 24 from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Greenfield Village.

The Detroit-Chicago corridor has been designated as a high speed rail corridor by the federal government.

Let's Go
Bulldogs!

McConeghy, Hurst Named MVPs of Softball Team

Seniors Heather McConeghy and Theresa Hurst were named co-winners of the Most Valuable Player award for the Chelsea Bulldogs softball team.

McConeghy, a three-year varsity member, played second base. She hit .363, scored 40 runs, knocked in 21 runs, and hit seven doubles and eight triples. She also had a .940 fielding percentage. She was named to All-Southeastern Conference First Team and the All-District Team.

"She always gave us everything she had," said Chelsea coach Joe Beard.

"She could certainly play college ball if she wants to."

Hurst was a three-year letter-winner at third base. She hit .373 with six doubles and two triples, scored 46 runs, and had 29 RBI. She had an .829 fielding percentage. She made the All-SEC Second Team.

"Theresa was a good clutch hitter and played a solid third base," Beard said.

Senior Erin Knott earned the second annual Coach's Leadership Award.

"Erin really epitomized team play," Beard said.

"She worked hard all winter to pitch, then made the switch to first base when we thought she could help us there more."

Knott hit .257 with 28 RBI and 34 runs scored. She had a .967 fielding percentage.

Senior catcher Liz Sager and senior shortstop Gretchen Knutsen were co-winners of the Kim Boyd Award, which goes to the all-around player and student whom the coaches feel grew the most as a result of her affiliation with the softball program.

Sager, a three-year varsity player, hit .391 with 29 RBI and 37 runs scored. She hit nine doubles, two triples, and a home run. She also made the All-SEC First Team and the All-District Team. She plans to play at Spring Arbor College next year.

Knutsen hit .324 with 30 RBI, 37 runs scored, four doubles and one triple. She made the All-SEC Second team. She plans to play at the College of Charleston next year.

Junior Jackie Crawford, a center fielder, won the team's Most Improved Player award.

"Her hitting has really improved and she has developed a college-type arm," Beard said.

Crawford hit .322 with 16 RBI, 22 runs scored, and four doubles. She was also one of the quickest Bulldogs. She was named to the All-SEC First Team, and All-District Team.

Junior Nicki Piasecki won the first

Tenth "Man" Award for versatility. She caught, played the outfield, was the designated hitter, and even warmed up infielders and pitchers.

"She was always there when we needed her," Beard said.

"Every coach wants someone like her on the team."

Piasecki, in 40 at bats, hit .300, scored 18 runs and had 12 RBI.

Among other starters, sophomore Carey Schiller "would have won our Rookie of the Year Award if we had one," Beard said. Schiller finished with a 14-4 mound record, which landed her on the All-SEC First Team and the All-District Team. She also hit .386, scored 29 runs, had 24 RBI, and hit four doubles and five triples.

Sophomore right fielder Nancy Pidd hit .329 with 26 runs scored, 18 RBI, five doubles, and one triple.

*Mozzarella on Pizza Without the Guilt

By Bruce Kinzel
A steaming piece of pizza tempts the diet-conscious eater—but, what about all the calories in that layer of mozzarella cheese?
Well, a new type of mozzarella developed by U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists lowers the fat—and salt—in the cheese. So pizza using this chewy cheese in the future will be easier on calorie-counting diets.
"Our low-fat mozzarella has about 10 percent fat, compared with 17 percent fat in part-skim mozzarella and 23 percent in full-fat mozzarella," said Edyth L. Malin of USDA's Agricultural Research Service.
Another plus for the new cheese: It has about half the salt content of mozzarella now on the market.
Malin and fellow chemists Virginia H. Holsinger and Michael H. Tunick developed the low-fat mozzarella at the ARS Eastern Regional Research Center in Philadelphia.

Low-fat mozzarella currently on the market and the ARS cheese are both made with part-skim milk. Malin said the main changes in cheese processing for the new mozzarella involve lower temperatures for cooking the curd and refrigerated storage at 39 degrees F. for at least three weeks.
To prepare Italian cheeses like mozzarella, the dense cheese curd usually is cooked at about 110 degrees F. But, Malin found that a cooking temperature of 94 degrees F. increases the normal breakdown of milk proteins in the curd.
This reaction results in a softer cheese that melts well and provides "the same eating consistency as full-fat mozzarella cheese," she said. That makes it well suited for use on pizza.
At a junior high school in Philadelphia, Malin found that students agree. They gave approval to low-fat mozzarella covered pizza as part of a test to see if the cheese will be used in the USDA's federal school lunch program.
Malin said consumption of Italian-type cheese has increased six-fold since 1970. In 1991 Americans consumed mozzarella at the rate of seven pounds per person per year—second only in popularity to cheddar.

AN OPEN LETTER TO SHARON TOWNSHIP HOUSEHOLD RESIDENTS:

Public Act 641 and the Washtenaw County Solid Waste Plan requires each unit of government to reduce their solid waste by 30% by 1995.

The best way to accomplish this goal is to re-use or recycle everything possible.

RECYCLING WILL HELP SAVE THE ENVIRONMENT FOR OUR CHILDREN AND FUTURE GENERATIONS; WILL USE OUR NATURAL RESOURCES MORE EFFECTIVELY; AND, IN SIMPLE TERMS, WILL SAVE TAX DOLLARS. RECYCLING WILL ALSO SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCE OUR INDIVIDUAL HOUSEHOLD WASTE DISPOSAL COSTS.

The Sharon Township Board is happy to announce an expanded recycling program starting July 1, 1993.

Michigan Log Cabin Day Set for Sunday, June 27

Take a drive in the country, go log cabin hunting on June 27. You'll know where to go by contacting the Log Cabin Society of Michigan. They put out a brochure of more than 50 places in the state with directions and map, activities planned, and all sorts of ideas for a new experience, unique to Michigan.

How about a Log Cabin Day picnic under a tent with hot air balloon rides? That's what the Jesse Besser Museum at Alpena is planning, along with spinners inside the log cabin, sheep and lambs, a Tom Carty concert, the Huron Muzzle Loaders, and 19th century games.

Traveling along the beautiful Lake Huron shoreline north or south at other places is just as memorable a trip. At the Bad Axe Pioneer Log Village with six restored log cabins, they have some of the best fiddlers in the state, along with the traditional hymn sing in the chapel and music of autoharp and bones, the gentle donkey and other animals.

Then southeast to Port Sanilac where the 1882 log cabin will have lively reenactments such as Civil War 10th Infantry Enlistment Camp, spinners and quilters, Indian tepee and crafts, and musicians; and further south to Port Huron, to the Museum of Arts and History, where a Log Home Kitchen Garden Tour will be featured along with local craftsmen and musicians.

Or go way up north to Cheboygan at the corner of Court and Huron Sts. for an Indian Village log cabin; into the U. P. at Au Train for the 1884 Paulson House in the Hiawatha Folk Craft and Art Center; the Hanka Homestead Museum at Baraga, with a demonstration of Finnish crafts at the 10 structures built around 1896.

For nature lovers, take a trip around Southwestern Michigan. At Holland there is a log cabin at the DeGraaf Nature Trail and spinning, quilting, rug braiding going on at the cabin; throughout Berrien county there are more than 100 log cabins and homes, with a log building demonstration going on at Gallen by Dale Campbell and his 10-year-old son, Forrest.

And don't forget the Cassopolis Pioneer Log Cabin Museum where the first Log Cabin Day was held in 1923 for its grand opening. It's got a collection of stuffed 19th century birds and animals including a passenger pigeon and buffalo head, along with furnishings and artifacts of the early pioneers.

For a brochure, send $1 along with a SASE to the Log Cabin Society of Michigan, 3503 Edwards Rd., Sodus, MI 49128; phone (616) 944-5719.

Ann Arbor Bike Club Plans Ride to Hell And Back on July 10

Ann Arbor Bicycle Touring Society is once again hosting the One Helluva Ride bicycle tour. This year's ride will take place Saturday, July 10.

There are five different routes. The 37-mile, 52-mile, 70-mile, and 100-mile routes start at the Chelsea Fairgrounds in Chelsea, and go straight to Hell (Michigan, that is). The fifth route, a 15-mile Fun Ride for families and beginning riders, is new this year. This ride starts at Portage Lake State Park.

Each rider will get a detailed map showing the routes and rest stops, and the route will be marked to help riders find their way. Sag wagons will patrol the routes throughout the day to help riders with problems.

The registration fee for the Fun Ride is $11 before June 28 and $15 the day of the ride. The fee for all other routes is $13 before June 1, $18 before June 28, and $22 the day of the ride. The fee includes a buffet lunch and fresh fruit and beverages at two other stops.

The ride will be limited to the first 2,000 applicants. To get an application, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to One Helluva Ride, Ann Arbor Bicycle Touring Society, P.O. Box 1585, Ann Arbor 48106.

Eye Care

Cheryl Huey, M.D.

Ophthalmologist - Eye Physician and Surgeon

IS MY CATARACT "RIPE"?

Dear Doctor: I've been told I have a cataract. When should I have surgery? Do I have to wait until my cataract is ripe?

Answer: We no longer use the term "ripe" to describe a cataract - the term goes back quite a few years when surgical techniques required that a cataract reach a certain stage of development before it could be removed. With modern surgical methods, surgery can be performed whenever the cataract is blurring vision enough to interfere with everyday activities such as reading, driving, hobbies or occupational needs.

How long to wait before having surgery depends on the individual's needs, symptoms from the cataract and vision of the other eye. People who need sharp vision in both eyes for occupational needs, especially driving, will need surgery sooner than a sedentary person. Some people are bothered greatly by blurred vision from one eye, while others don't mind it. Some cataracts cause severe glare or reflection in sunlight, causing near-blindness on sunny days even though the patient may see fairly well indoors.

After a thorough examination and recommendation by your ophthalmologist, the decision to perform cataract surgery is made by you.

County Deputies Report Fraud, Drunk Driving, Juvenile Mischief, Theft

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated a number of incidents in Dexter, Dexter township, Scio township, Lima township, Lyndon township and Sharon township June 7-18.

On June 7, domestic assault and battery was reported in the 100 block of Island Lake Rd., Lyndon township. A 14-year-old boy said his father hit him after becoming enraged over his son's haircut and bad grades in school. The boy also said his father hits him whenever he becomes upset. The boy's father said he "disciplined" his son that evening and was only using "force necessary to control his son," according to a deputy's report.

On June 8, credit card fraud was reported in the 8000 block of Main St., Dexter. A 32-year-old Monroe woman reported a 28-year-old employee of the store was working the night when 13 credit card customers were double billed. In turn, $198 in cash was taken from the cash register, replaced by the fraudulent credit card receipts to cover the crime. The Monroe woman checked the credit card receipts after receiving complaints of double billing from two credit card customers in February.

On June 10, a Michigan certificate of title was found in the mailbox at the sheriff's substation in Dexter. The owner is a Pinckney man. The case remains open until the man picks up his certificate of title.

Domestic assault and battery was reported in the 18000 block of Walker Rd., Sharon township. An 18-year-old girl said her mother slapped her several times and chased her around the house after an argument over the phone. The girl's mother said she slapped her daughter because she wanted to get her attention, according to a deputy's report. She also said her daughter tends to over react. The case has been sent to the prosecutor for review.

A 44-year-old woman reported being bitten by an English Springer spaniel in the parking lot at Dexter High school on Baker Rd. She said when she tried to pet the dog it bit her left hand's middle finger.

A 29-year-old Ypsilanti woman reported someone in a 1988 Toyota Celica shot a paint ball at her vehicle while she was traveling down Wagner Rd. near Jackson Plaza. She was able to get the license plate number of the vehicle and deputies are looking for the suspects.

On June 11, a men's Schwinn 10-speed bicycle was found in the 8000 block of Main St., Dexter. No serial number was found on the bicycle, which is worth $50.

On June 12, juvenile mischief was reported in Walkabout Creek, Dexter. A 39-year-old Dexter woman, who works for the high school, said kids 13- to 18-years-old have been verbally abusing her. She also suspects they are guilty of throwing eggs on her garage door and breaking the garage door handle.

A 33-year-old Scio township man was ticketed for open intoxication in a motor vehicle on Jackson Rd. near Metty Rd., Scio township. He was a passenger in a vehicle driven by a 28-year-old Manchester man. A deputy stopped the two after the driver committed a traffic violation. He saw suspicious movement in the vehicle and searched the car after seeing a six-pack of beer inside of it. The deputy found an open bottle of beer after the two denied having open liquor in the vehicle.

Stacy W. Rose, 20, a Taylor man, was arrested on a warrant for a probation violation after questioned on Silver Hill Rd. near Dexter Town Hall Rd., Dexter township. Deputies were dispatched to the area for a complaint about a man firing a pellet gun at people from a canoe. A 16in check revealed Rose was wanted on a felony warrant. He was transported to Washtenaw county jail.

On June 14, verbal abuse was reported in the 8800 block of Flemming Rd., Dexter township. A 36-year-old woman told deputies her ex-husband has become verbally abusive since she has contacted a lawyer about child support and custody issues. She only filed the report for informational purposes.

Larceny was reported on Baker Rd. near Jackson Rd., Scio township. The 24-year-old manager of a local business reported $257 in cash stolen after the night manager forgot to lock the cash in a safe. The night manager said he accidentally left the money on a table in the office. It was reported several employees have access to the office.

Breaking and entering was reported in the 13000 block of Jerusalem Rd., Lima township. A 39-year-old resident said someone entered his home between 10 a.m. and noon, through an unlocked door, stealing several items including cash, binoculars, jewelry, compact discs, a TV, VCR and camera. He said his daughters left around 10 a.m. and returned around noon to discover the door open. They called WCCSD and their parents. Two suspicious vehicles were reported in the area at the time of the theft, including a van with an Ohio license plate and a red 4x4 pick-up truck.

On June 15, Albert F. Newman, 39, of Gregory was arrested on a warrant from the Ann Arbor Police Department on Hadley Rd. near North Territorial Rd., Dexter township. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest after he failed to satisfy a judgment for disorderly conduct. He was transported to the Ann Arbor Police Department.

A 21-year-old Gregory man was arrested for window peeping/disorderly conduct for an incident that occurred in the 13000 block of North Territorial Rd., Dexter township. An 11-year-old girl said she saw the man looking in her bedroom window. She said she recognized him because he lives in the neighborhood. The girl's father found the ladder the man was using and turned it over to sheriff's deputies. The incident happened in April, but deputies were unable to locate the man until this month.

On June 16, a 28-year-old Garden City woman was arrested for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor after she lost control of her car and hit a house on Central St. The incident occurred when the woman was leaving a get-together in which she admitted to drinking. She said she lost control of her 1984 Mercury Cougar after the brakes failed. The investigating deputy reported he tested the brakes and they were working properly. The only damage was to her car after it hit a stone porch. The woman was transported to the Ann Arbor Police Department for a breath test after she failed to perform a preliminary breath test properly for deputies. Afterward, she was lodged in Washtenaw county jail, her car was impounded and her driver's license was destroyed.

CONSTRUCTION is underway for the Lakes Community Physicians and Urgent Care Center just east of the Village of Pinckney. Chelsea Community Hospital is building the center to serve the Pinckney-Lakeland-Hamburg area, which is expanding rapidly.

Chelsea Hospital Begins Construction in Pinckney

Construction is well underway for Chelsea Community Hospital's first facility outside Washtenaw county. The 4,000-square-foot Lakes Community Physicians and Urgent Care Center in Pinckney is scheduled to open late this summer on M-36, just east of the Village of Pinckney.

The center will provide general medical services, as well as "urgent care" for broken bones, cuts, and illnesses when a patient's usual physician is not available. It will not be equipped to handle life-threatening emergencies. Recreational and worksite injuries would be typical cases.

The center will have two staff "primary care" physicians. One, Dr. Bruce Clone, an internist, has been hired. A second is being recruited. There will also be specialists in pediatrics, general surgery, gynecology, and orthopedics.

There are no similar centers in the Pinckney area, although the general area, including Hamburg and Lakeland, is more heavily populated than Chelsea. According to Ruth Schanz of Chelsea Community Hospital, a study several years ago showed that people in need of medical attention go to Howell, Ann Arbor, or Chelsea, almost in equal numbers.

Schanz said it appears the center will benefit from any health reform package likely to be approved in Washington because its focus is on primary care.

The move into Pinckney comes on the heels of a major expansion at Chelsea Community Hospital, most of which has been completed. New surgery, recovery, laboratory, and diagnostics areas have been completed and are in use. Pre-operation and staff rooms have yet to be completed.

Veterans Park Pool To Host Re-Opening Of Renovated Facility

Ann Arbor Department of Parks and Recreation plans to celebrate the re-opening of Veterans Park Swimming Pool on Tuesday evening, June 29, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The project also included renovation of the ice skating rink earlier this year. The facility is now barrier-free.

Funding for the project was through a State of Michigan Quality of Life Bond and the Parks and Recreation Rehabilitation and Development Millage.

Festivities for the Grand Re-Opening feature free swimming (including the 125-foot water slide), free refreshments, music, compliments of WIOB, and gifts for the first 200 guests who arrive.

Chaplain Beaumont Receives Service Award

Chaplain Lt. Colonel Jerrold Foster Beaumont, Deputy Wing Chaplain has been awarded the Meritorious Service Award for meritorious service.

In addition to his many duties at Michigan Wing Headquarters which include recruitment and retention of chaplains for the Wing, he undertook a special project.

Based upon his experience of service with both the Royal Canadian Air Force during World War II and his subsequent work with Cadet Programs in both Canada and the United States, he began a program designed to improve relationships, sports competition and training between the USAF/CAP and the Royal Canadian Air Cadets.

In early 1992 Chaplain Beaumont established contact and held meetings with officers of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets. The discussions resulting from these meetings led to joint planning sessions for co-operative ventures between the two organizations. This has produced a viable and important relationship.

In January, 1993 a Tri-Service Sports Competition took place in Windsor, Ontario, Canada, in which USAF/CAP Cadets competed and spent the day with their Canadian counterparts. This summer plans are being developed to invite Canadians to attend American Summer Encampment and for American Cadets to attend theirs.

The outstanding contributions Chaplain Beaumont has made and continues to make in this area brings international recognition to both the Michigan Wing and to the USAF/CAP as a whole. The continuing of these co-operative ventures will bring many and varied benefits to all involved.

Chaplain Beaumont is a vital part of Michigan Wing which gains many benefits from his skills, knowledge, dedication to duty and deep interest in youth. His contacts with the Canadian Armed forces and his many other accomplishments have brought great credit upon himself, Michigan Wing and all of the USAF/CAP.

Spectacular fireworks will begin at 10 p.m. over the Chelsea Fairgrounds with parking and viewing from the Chelsea Shopping Center Parking Lot. questions regarding the Fireworks event, please contact John Wagner at (313) 475-8570.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
I am writing on behalf of the board of directors of Neighborhood Senior Services to say "Thank you so much!" to all those who made the "Dine Out To Help Out" effort so successful. The enthusiasm of the owners, management and waitstaff of the four restaurants; the co-operation of all the banks and other organizations that distributed the tokens and cards; the positive response by area newspapers, radio stations and Community Access TV; and, of course, the participation of a wide variety of lunchers and diners—combined to produce not only financial benefit to NSS, but a host of new friends for the restaurants, as well as new supporters and volunteers for our organization!

Inquiries received by NSS make it clear that its goal of helping elderly area people pursue dignified lives in situations of their own choosing speaks to a concern near the hearts of many in Washtenaw county, and it gives us great satisfaction to be involved with such a vital, community-based organization.

To the Editor,
Regarding your May 5 story by John Hood of the Mackinac Center for Public Policy regarding Head Start programs, I wish to point out several flaws.

The Mackinac Center claims that no evidence exists that Head Start works over the long term. Knowing that the High/Scope Foundation's Perry Preschool Project directly contradicts that assertion, Mr. Hood then proceeds to attack that project. He calls it "idiosyncratic" and "atypical" because of its emphasis on parental involvement, its quality staff, and its funding.

It is these same "idiosyncracies" of the Perry project, however, which gives us the best lessons we currently have on how to use early childhood programs to prevent social problems (and their associated costs) later in life. In fact, the most recent Perry study specifically notes that parental involvement and well-trained staff are among the essential elements which such programs need to be effective.

Since the High/Scope researchers agree with Mr. Hood on the importance of these elements, the only issue on which they disagree is funding. Mr. Hood, incredibly, concludes that because the Perry project was successful with adequate funding, we should scrap Head Start because inadequate funding dooms it to failure. Another approach makes much more sense: improve the quality of all Head Start programs. If only an adequately funded program promises return on public investment, we should provide that funding. We know it costs far less to save a child than to imprison an adult.

In the Perry project, the 123 at-risk children were chosen for study in the early sixties. They were divided into a program group, which was placed in a high quality, active learning preschool program, and a control group, which was not. High/Scope then periodically checked on these people later in life to see what differences existed between the groups. In the most recent compilation of data, it compared the total extra social costs per child incurred by the control group to the cost of providing the Perry program.

The most recent study was conducted when the children had grown to age 27. It turned out that the extra costs incurred by the non-preschool group have so far totalled $7.16 (mainly welfare costs, increased education costs, lost taxes because of lower earnings, and costs to the criminal justice system and to crime victims) for every dollar spent on the program.

Mr. Hood vaguely refers to "evidence" supporting his suggestion that school vouchers would be a better way to spend Head Start money. Very little literature exists on the effects of school vouchers, and none has revealed a result which can even compare to the Perry results. It is difficult to take seriously Mr. Hood's demand for scientific evidence when this suggestion appears in the same article.

Michigan currently runs over 300 state-funded early childhood education programs (separate from Head Start). I have proposed allowing state grant monies to be used for training and ongoing evaluation in this area, providing some of the tools to ensure that the money we spend goes for programs which will really work.

Head Start is not a unified program. The approach, quality, and outcome of the programs under the Head Start umbrella vary greatly. What we need to do is provide high quality programs like Perry for all children whose parents wish to give them this head start.

About one quarter of current Head Start programs use the Perry approach. All Head Start programs spend, on average, $4,100 per child annually. High/Scope estimates that programs containing the essential elements of the Perry one could be run for about $5,000 per child. While this is not pocket change, it is little compared to what we spend on other programs which do not produce nearly the same benefits.

If we choose not to spend this money now, we will in effect be choosing to spend it later, in much higher amounts, with no hope of return, and at great additional cost in human terms.

State Senator.

BIRTHDAYS HONORED: Approximately 65 friends and relatives gathered at the home of George and Donna Palmer to celebrate the 90th birthday of Lois Stokoe Palmer and Lola Stokoe. The "twins" were born May 21, 1903 in Middleville, to Fred and Stella Stokoe. After high school graduation, the girls attended Western Michigan University and EMU, and arrived in Chelsea in 1925. Lola taught kindergarten and Lois taught third grade. In 1928

Lois retired to marry L. G. Palmer and raise two children, George and Mary. Lola left Chelsea in 1928 to accept a position in the Pontiac school system where she taught until her retirement in 1988. Today Lois makes her home at Cavanaugh Lake, and Lola is a resident of the Chelsea Retirement Community. Among the guests were Lois' two children, three grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.
