ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-SECOND YEAR—No. 13

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1993

CHELSEA FIRE DEPARTMENT'S ladder truck came in handy last Friday morning in downtown Dexter when a fire began at Sportsman's Bar and quickly spread into adjacent buildings. Firefighters Bill Paul and Cliff

Blackford were up in the bucket to aim the hose down onto the rooftops. Chelsea was one of seven departments on the scene. The truck was purchased used and was entirely paid for with private donations.

School Board, Village, Townships Officials Meet For Broad Conversation

Chelsea Board of Education and district administrators met with townships and village officials Monday night to discuss issues of common interest.

The meeting, the first of its kind, was described by board president Jane Diesing as an attempt to make all parties "more efficient and effective," with an eye toward providing expanded services. It served primarily as a forum for an exchange of information but in the long run may be remembered more as the beginning of regular, active communication among the governmental entities.

There were no particular issues on the agenda—anything was open for discussion.

Dexter township supervisor Jim Drollet, Lyndon township supervisor John Francis, village president Richard Steele, and village manager Jack Myers were all in attendance. Sylvan and Lima townships, the school district's closest neighbors, and Sharon township were all invited but did not send representatives.

Much of the conversation focused on two topics—computerization and growth in the townships and village, both issues of vital interest to the district as it decides what shape a facilities bond issue should take next year.

The school district may well decide to include a large expenditure for a district-wide computer network when it decides to seek approval for a bond issue. It appeared at least some board members would like to see the system used beyond the confines of the school district.

Superintendent Joe Piasecki suggested that village government may want to hook into such a network to take advantage of courses on employee training, for example. The village is planning to update its computer system with the installation of a network.

Francis suggested that the district talk to the Washtenaw County Road Commission, which apparently is interested in forming a large computer network.

In development issues, Francis said Lyndon township is growing slowly, at a pace of about 20 houses per year. The township, he said, is fighting any commercial development. He said there is some interest from condominium builders. A 100-acre parcel could be developed into 40 houses, but nothing is imminent.

Dexter township "has five subdivisions on the drawing board," Drollet said, in which a total of 115 homes could be built. However, he said it's likely the construction would take place over at least 10 years.

Quicker development could take place at North Lake, Half Moon Lake and Silver Lake if a proposed sewer project is built. He said another 70 or 80 homes could be built in those areas.

"A lot of land could be re-zoned," Drollet said.

"But I have a strong feeling that we'll rein in some of the agricultural land and not let it be developed."

Commercial development, Drollet said, is something the township doesn't need because it is surrounded by Chelsea, Dexter, and Pinckney.

Other topics of discussion included the following:

- Mayer Dr. The district would like the village to take over maintenance.
- Steele said the village would consider it once the road meets village specifications.

Chelsea Community Fair Begins 56th Season Next Tuesday Afternoon

The community's largest event of the year, the Chelsea Community Fair, begins next Tuesday with the traditional children's parade and ends Saturday with the livestock raffle drawing.

In between, there's plenty to do for the whole family, especially for anyone who loves farm animals, vehicles of all types, and carnival rides, games and food.

Format and major events of the fair, the largest community fair in the state, remain essentially the same as they have been for years.

If the weather co-operates, more than 40,000 people should pass through the gates Aug. 24-28.

Last year the fair suffered one of its worst draws in many years due to the horrible weather. Children's Day on Tuesday was a mess and Thursday's motorcross was rained out. Women at Friday's Ladies Day program were bundled up in overcoats.

Perhaps the biggest change this year is ticket prices have been raised for the first time in nine years. Daily passes are $4, ladies get in on Friday for $3, and senior citizens get in free on Thursday. Season passes are $7 for senior citizens, $8 for high school students, and $12 for everyone else. Kids 12 and under enter free.

Once again, Pugh Shows will run the midway rides and games. There are always plenty of rides for the timid and adventurous.

Ginny and Shelley Wheaton are operating the Fair Kitchen in the Service Center and will serve from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Free parking is available south of the fairgrounds off Old Manchester Rd.

Various civic organizations will sell food and beverages or operate games, or manage ticket booths as one of their major fundraisers of the year. Virtually all the proceeds from those operations go back into community projects.

Merchants and civic displays will again take up two full buildings next to the service center. They always have plenty of items to hand out free of charge.

Although the fair officially gets underway on Tuesday, activity begins Sunday, when home economics exhibits may be entered between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

A complete list of activities by day follows.

Monday, Aug. 23

8 a.m. to noon: exhibits entered in floriculture and home economics.

8 a.m. to 6 p.m.: exhibits entered in agriculture, antiques, and hobbies.

4 p.m. to 9 p.m.: exhibits entered in truck farmer, market gardener, and roadside stand class.

5 p.m. to 8 p.m.: horses stabled in the horse barn must be entered.

7 p.m.: pre-judging of the fair queen contestants in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Tuesday, Aug. 23

8 a.m. to noon: exhibits entered in cut flowers.

8 a.m. to 1 p.m.: exhibits entered in baked goods.

8 a.m. to noon: exhibits entered in truck farmer, market gardener, roadside stand class.

11 a.m.: Judging of poultry. Noon: draft horse and mule show in main arena.

1 p.m.: Judging of rabbits. 5:30 p.m.: Children's Parade, followed by Kids Day events at the main arena.

7 p.m.: Judging of sheep. 7:30 p.m.: Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby.

Wednesday, Aug. 25

9 a.m.: Judging of goats; horse show, halter and showmanship.

1 p.m.: Judging of beef. 6 p.m.: Small Livestock Auction.

Children's Parade Opens Fair Tuesday

Tuesday, Aug. 24 is devoted to children at the Chelsea Community Fair.

The Children's Parade, the traditional opening event of the fair, features children and their bicycles, tricycles, wagons, and other non-motorized transportation, all decorated according to the whims of the children.

Participants will be judged for their originality in their decorations. First, second, and third prizes will be awarded in three age categories, as well as a mixed-ages category.

No more than three participants will be allowed per group. No horses are allowed.

Children who wish to take part should be in the new parking lot behind the courthouse at 5 p.m.

After the parade, Children's Day festivities begin at the main arena at the fairgrounds.

A tricycle pull, sponsored by the Chelsea Children's Co-operative, Inc. will be held for children age 3-5. A ribbon and ride ticket will be given to each child who participates.

Other activities for the youngsters include a penny hunt for children age 4-5, three-legged race for children age 8-10, and sack races for children age 4-10. Awards consist of ride tickets.

Chelsea Youth Saves Drowning Saline Boy

The quick actions of a 14-year-old Chelsea boy helped save the life of a Saline youth at the Huron High school pool last month.

Kevin Bollinger, 14, who will be a freshman at Chelsea High school this fall, attended the Concordia Basketball Camp. One of the activities included a visit to the Huron pool.

Bollinger and Aaron Elliott, also 14 and a camp member, were playing around in the pool when Elliott wondered aloud whether he could swim three lengths of the pool underwater.

"He came up to the edge and pushed himself up, so I thought he was OK," Bollinger said.

But the next time Bollinger saw him, Elliott was at the bottom of the deep end.

When the figure at the bottom didn't move, Bollinger called the lifeguard, who apparently didn't hear him. Bollinger dove to the bottom, put Elliott over his shoulder, and carried him to the edge of the pool.

"About half-way back up I wasn't sure I'd make it," Bollinger said.

"He's a lot bigger than I am," Bollinger weighs about 105 and Elliott about 140.

Bollinger got some help getting Elliott out of the water and the lifeguard performed mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

"I was tired, my heart was beating fast, and I was shaking," Bollinger recalled.

For his actions, Bollinger received a letter of commendation from the Ann Arbor Fire Department as well as the gratitude of Elliott's family.

And the boys had a nice telephone conversation, about basketball, of course.

Bollinger is the son of Richard and Marcy Bollinger. He has a brother, Grant.

School Lunch Prices Rise Slightly for 1993-94 Year

Chelsea School District students and staff will pay a little more for lunches and milk this year.

Monday night the Board of Education voted to raise hot lunch prices from $1.50 to $1.75 for students and from $2.10 to $2.35 for staff. Milk prices were increased from $.25 to $.30. It's the first increase in prices in five years.

The board approved a bid of $37,680 to re-roof the high school home economics building. AFC Roofing is the contractor.

The board also acted to correct an addition error in the approved millage. The board had previously approved a millage of 37.0275 but the correct number should have been 37.0285.

YOUNG NICHOLAS PRUETT couldn't quite get into the country music spirit Saturday at Pierce Park so he decided to take a nap instead in this somewhat awkward position.

A record crowd of more than 35,000 people attended the 1989 Chelsea Community Fair, thanks in large part to almost perfect weather over the five-day event. "It was a very successful fair and we're very pleased," said fair board secretary Maryann Guenther. "We had tremendous support from the community. Plus, I can't remember a fair when we've had fewer problems." The previous attendance mark was 33,000. Guenther said. The final attendance mark for 1989 won't be known for a while.

The village's application for a new landfill operating license has finally been ruled administratively complete by the Department of Natural Resources, according to village president Jerry Satterthwaite. That is about the most positive news in an otherwise unsettled situation. It has been nearly two years since the village first applied for the new license, and several applications were turned down by the DNR. DNR now has 90 days to review the application.

Holly Koscielniak was crowned the 1989 Chelsea Community Fair Queen last Friday night in the covered arena. Koscielniak, 15, the Chelsea High school sophomore class candidate, beat out six other contenders. She gave a dramatic performance of "The Tramp Story" by Will Carlton, which also won her the Talent Award. CHS senior class candidate Debbie Gerstler was named the runner-up and Key Club candidate Tammy Browning was named Miss Congeniality.

The new Domino's Pizza store in Chelsea will have the same 30-minute delivery guarantee as other stores in the chain, according to store owner Gene Belknap. Village officials expressed concern about delivery policies since the automobile accident that killed high school student Joe Beaudoin this summer.

Chelsea schools opened on schedule after a marathon round of bargaining on a new teacher contract that carried through the Labor Day week-end and beyond. Teachers had threatened to strike if an agreement had not been reached and ratified prior to the first day of school. However, all but five showed up for work upon receiving news of a tentative accord.

The board of education slashed $143,305 from the operating budget to make ends meet after voters turned down a request for additional millage. Cuts were made primarily in the areas of capital outlay and supplies.

Head football coach Gene LaFave, starting his first season at Chelsea High school, promised that the Bulldogs will have "a new look" this fall, emphasizing quickness and deception instead of sheer power.

Chelsea cross country coach Pat Clarke is confident the girls team will be improved, thanks to the addition of freshman Sandra Frame.

★ Sales Tax on Services Is A Bad Idea

By Lawrence W. Reed
Should Michigan extend its sales tax to services? In the wake of the failure in June of Proposal A, some lawmakers see taxing services as a way to finance property tax reductions that may emerge as part of a new school finance reform package.

The message from Proposal A's demise, reinforced by widespread millage defeats two weeks later, would seem to suggest that Michiganians are leery of tax shifts and probably downright hostile to any net tax increases. As a whole, they have become rightly disdainful of the notion that the problem with public education is that it doesn't spend enough. They're tired of seeing government grow faster than their own incomes. Extending the sales tax to services will be a tough sell, no doubt about it.

As heavy industry declined, the Michigan economy's service sector grew during the 1980s. Nationally, service industries accounted for as much as 80 percent of the more than 18 million new jobs created between 1982 and 1990. This broad range of productive activities encompasses everything from finance to advertising to recreation to lawn mowing to legal advice.

Expanding the sales tax base, which presently excludes food and medicine, to include services is a tempting plum for legislators longing for those heady days when money flowed into Lansing like water. The trouble is, Michigan hit its "tax wall" in the 1980s—the point at which taxes began to shut down businesses and drive out people—and the Engler years of tax and spending cuts were long overdue. If lawmakers can convince the citizenry that bowling alleys, dry cleaners and barbers aren't "paying their fair share," then maybe the money spigot will be turned on again.

Even if revenue from taxing services went to property tax reduction dollar for dollar, however, this is still an idea that carries substantial baggage.

When the State of Florida extended its 5 percent sales levy in 1987 to most services, 240 new full-time enforcement positions had to be created. Massive and expensive "education" programs were planned to dispel confusion and raise the expected first-year compliance rate of only 65 percent. But the unworkable tax never made it to its first anniversary. It was killed by an outraged citizenry, a chastened legislature and a thoroughly embarrassed governor. That experience is a major reason why you can count on one hand the number of states which levy a broad-based and comprehensive sales tax on services.

Taxing services in Michigan would have especially detrimental effects on small businesses, which routinely contract out for bookkeeping, accounting, office equipment repair, janitorial, legal, computer and a host of other service activities. A large competitor can often provide such things in-house, thereby avoiding a sales tax on them. This should concern us, since at least three-quarters of new jobs are created by small businesses.

Economists have shown that sales tax collection and compliance costs rise as the size of the business decreases. Small, family-run firms experience compliance costs that can be four to five times greater than those incurred by their big competitors.

A 1987 study by the American Legislative Exchange Council pointed out that the regressive impact of the sales tax on low income people would be further magnified with its application to services. It would show up in their medical, dental, and legal bills, for instance. Taxes on construction services would surely price some of them out of the housing market.

Adding Michigan's service firms to the sales tax rolls would dramatically boost the state's own administrative costs. Florida's short-lived tax instantly increased the total number of registered vendors by 75 percent. In Iowa, the figure was 60 percent. Inevitably, the normally high rate of delinquency and audit costs that all states incur when they deal with smaller firms would only worsen.

Michigan already has sales taxes on more than a dozen services, including airport parking, telephone calls, shoe repair, equipment rentals, even funerals. On top of that, the Single Business Tax operates much like a sales tax on many service businesses. The voters are saying loud and clear that they don't want tax-raising schemes; they prefer things like a straightforward property tax cut, education reform that brings less bureaucracy and more bang for the bucks, and continued restraint on state spending.

Lansing lawmakers would do us all a favor if they would pronounce the sales tax on services idea "dead on arrival."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

By the end of the season at the country store Saturday night the fellows were full agreed that short-cuts have gone a long way toward making this country what it is. Bug Hookum read a clip where television now has a show called "Talk Soup" and the discussion took off in all directions.

Bug said "Talk Soup" stirs all the talk shows in one pot and boils them down for viewers that don't want to take time to learn much about anything, but want to know something about everything. It is TV's answer to Soap Opera Digest. Bug noted there are folks out there that actual believe they have read enough Reader's Digest articles on health to practice medicine. Bug allowed, and now we'll have a new class that think they know all that's worth knowing about all the talk shows. Praying for instant patience is as American as apple pie before all the preservatives messed it up, was Bug's words.

On balance, Bug said, looking for the better way has done us a heap more good than harm, but now and again we get carried away. If one ox pulling a plow was good, two mules pulling a bigger plow was better. Build on that, Bug said, and you get the most efficient and most productive farmers the world has ever known. Put that same idea to work in our factories and offices and you get the same results.

Right now, Bug went on, newspapers are looking to the day when they'll offer news without paper. He saw a piece where we got the technology to put a paperless paper in ever home. It's called a tablet because it's about the size of a school notebook. Subscribers plug it in a jack like a telephone, dial the paper and load it with the latest edition. Then, the reader touches the screen to call up pages of news and ads he can read at his own pace. Customers can use the same system to put ads and news in the paper.

The fellows showed strong interest in Bug's report, but Ed Doolittle said he's to old a dog to learn more tricks. Unless computer tablet news items can be clipped and saved he said he'll stick with paper and ink. Farthermore, Ed wanted to know what a woman is going to do at the grocery store without all the coupons she culls from the Sunday paper.

Serious, Ed went on, he understands that the papers have to change to survive, but all the past obits of newspapers proved to be greatly exaggerated. To his mind, Ed said, there'll always be a place for words on paper, and for people who put them there.

Zeke Grubb got the floor to tell Ed we can't stop looking for shortcuts, but we got to have a little patience. Parents natural want to give their children a leg up on life, Zeke said, but some of them won't take time to let their kids be kids. It's good, Zeke said, that folks have the means to send children to camp all summer, but some reasons for spending them are bad.

We got computer camps for pre schoolers, and law professors are running law camps for 12 year olds because their parents want to make sure they're in with the right schools when they get out of college.

Zeke said pregnant wimmen that play classical music so their baby will be ready for violin lessons put the stopper in the patience jug.

Your truly,
Uncle Lew.

Dawn Farm Plans 20th Anniversary Jamboree Celebration

Dawn Farm, the acclaimed residential treatment program for young people with drug and alcohol problems, will host a 20th Anniversary Jamboree celebration on Sunday, Sept. 12. This annual reception is open to the public from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. The event includes live jazz and bluegrass music, hayrides, pony rides and tours of the 74-acre farm.

There are live and silent auctions of donated goods and services, and an activity tent for children operated by the Ann Arbor Jaycees. Food and beverages will be available at a nominal cost.

"We welcome the entire community to share our anniversary," said Dawn Farm board chairperson Robert R. Tisch. "Twenty years of caring for young people is a great accomplishment, and we hope everyone will join us for the festivities."

A 2 p.m. ceremony will include the presentation of awards to community leaders, including the late Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Muer.

Tisch notes that Dawn Farm is one of the last non-profit treatment programs in the area to treat those who lack money or insurance, and funds raised from this event will help defray treatment costs for individuals who have no other resources.

Interested individuals may call 485-8725 for more information.

In Memory of
MICHAEL B. CONNELL

I can't begin to express my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation to all of you who came to give our family support and to say your final goodbyes to my son, Michael Connell. Those he played baseball with, worked with, his friends and their parents, Target Directories Softball Team, relatives, everyone. It was an extremely difficult time for all of us—but I will always remember and cherish the sincere hugs of compassion and support you gave to us. Even now in my deepest times of darkness, when I feel I can't possibly go on another hour—I can still feel those hugs, and it helps to sustain me. And to those of you who have lost your own children and yet came to give us support—I know how difficult it had to be for you and I can't tell you how much it meant to us.

Those who brought food, sent beautiful flower arrangements, cards and prayers, and donated to the Chelsea Athletic Fund in memory of Michael, words simply cannot begin to express my heartfelt thanks to all of you. A special hug and thank you to Sandy Peace who held things together at the house, arranged the food and helped us to keep up our strength. Thank you to the Coles, Dr. Peggs, Pastor Giebel, Deacon Richard Shaneyfelt and Clyde Connell, Dan Bowling and Brett Paddock, and Betty Lambert for the words of remembrance in the eulogy.

Michael touched many people. Even though he could be full of mischief (you could see it in his big brown eyes) he had a smile that could melt ice. He was a very caring and loving person who was really very sensitive inside. He would always just give me a hug and tell me he loved me—for no special reason—just because.

I thank God that Michael and I always told each other we loved each other. Even in a phone call, we'd end with "love you" and "I love you, too." My heartfelt thanks to all of you who gave us support—all I ask is that you TELL your children TODAY how much you love them—tomorrow may be too late.

Sincerely and forever grateful:
Vicki Connell Geiss and the families of Michael Connell

Farmers Begin Developing State Farm Bureau Policy

County Farm Bureau leaders can learn more about the challenges facing the agricultural industry by attending one of the Michigan Farm Bureau District Policy Development Meetings.

"These discussions can help county Farm Bureaus develop policy recommendations to consider at their annual meetings this fall," said Wayne Wood, vice-president of the Michigan Farm Bureau and chairman of the MFB State Policy Development Committee. "Issues farmers are likely to discuss include school finance reform and the implications for P.A. 116 (Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act), private property rights and health care reform."

Meetings in this area were held Aug. 9, 8 p.m. Washtenaw County Farm Bureau office in Ann Arbor; Aug. 10, 8 p.m. Jackson County Farm Bureau office in Jackson.

Appointees Sought for County Mental Health Advisory Board

Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners is accepting applications for the purpose of appointing individuals to the Washtenaw County Community Mental Health Advisory Committee at the Sept. 8 session of the Board at 7:15 p.m. in the Board Room, Administration Building. The position would require the commitment of at least one meeting per month. Members of this Board must be residents of Washtenaw county.

The Community Mental Health Advisory Committee assists the Community Mental Health Board by eliciting citizen input on the services provided. A major focus is assuring a comprehensive continuum of services for children and the continuing development of community based services for adults with a developmental disability or mental illness.

If you are interested in appointment, please submit your letter of interest and a one-page resume to Tammy Richards, County Administrator's Office, P.O. Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48197. If you wish to apply by fax, please fax to Tammy Richards, (313) 994-2592. Those resumes received by Aug. 27 will be submitted to the Board of Commissioners for its consideration at the meeting on Sept. 8.

For additional information, please contact Tammy Richards, County Administrator's Office, (313) 994-1825.

The Department of Agriculture says foreign holdings represent only slightly more than one percent of all privately owned U.S. farmland. That figure is relatively unchanged since 1981.

Discussion Held

• Chelsea Rod & Gun Club. There were questions about the tax-exempt status of the organization, which got that way primarily by providing hunter safety courses. The school district and Lyndon township have to support the status.
• Bringing land in north central Lyndon township into the Chelsea School District. Now there is an island of land in the Stockbridge district, and Francis said he has had inquiries. However, assistant superintendent Fred Mills said the switch is unlikely because, among many reasons, Stockbridge would have to approve it and no district wants to lose tax base.
• An elementary school in the North Lake area. Mills said it's unlikely unless municipal sewer and water systems are in place. He said there are also problems with how the maintenance staff would be used and how teachers would be shared.
• Expanded recreational and exercise opportunities, especially for senior citizens.
• The deteriorating state of some bridges, which makes busing students more difficult.

WCC Offers New Courses in Federal, State Tax Returns

ANN ARBOR—Individuals and small business owners interested in learning more about federal, state, and local income taxes will benefit from two new 15-week credit courses offered at Washtenaw Community College this fall.

These courses will emphasize hands-on experience preparing tax returns, experience in the use of computer software, tax information for small business owners, and training for those seeking employment in the tax field.

Before enrolling in each course, a student must have completed WCC's ACC 200 course, Tax Preparation: Personal and Small Business. If course work was taken elsewhere or experience was gained in preparing tax returns, an individual must get consent from the instructor to enroll.

"Advanced Federal Income Taxes for Individuals and Small Business Owners" (TAX 102) is a three-credit course scheduled for Mondays, from 6:55 p.m. in LA 106. This is an advanced course in federal taxes which provides practical experience in tax return preparation, both manually and on a computer. It also covers business deductions, depreciation/amortization, sales and disposition of business assets, deferred compensation, and pension plans.

"Michigan and Local Income Taxes for Individual and Small Businesses" (TAX 103) is a three-credit course that will meet Wednesdays, from 6:55 p.m. in LA 106. This course provides instruction in the preparation of the Michigan Individual Income Tax Return, Michigan Intangibles Tax Return, and Michigan Single Business Tax Return as it pertains to sole proprietorships and employment taxes.

For more information, contact Instructor Cheryl Gracie at (313) 973-3481.

Ladies Day at Fair Features Cruise Giveaway

A Caribbean cruise for two will be given away at this year's Ladies Day Program at the Chelsea Community Fair next Friday, Aug. 27.

This year's theme is, appropriately enough, "Cruisin' Thru the Fair." The covered arena will be decorated in a cruise atmosphere and will include a photo booth where instant prints can be purchased for $1, a typical amenity on a cruise ship.

The program will include an appearance by Stacey Gail Heisler, Miss Michigan 1993.

Local disc jockey Jerry Martell will lead the audience in a karaoke contest.

A Hawaiian dancer will perform and show a few volunteers how to hoola.

Representatives from several hair styling businesses will pick volunteers from the audience to have a dramatic hair style change.

Chelsea High school senior and forensics student David Seitz will be the emcee for the morning.

The program runs from 8:30 a.m. to noon. Registration begins at 8 a.m. Admission to the fair for women is at the reduced rate of $3.

MOTHERS AGAINST DRUNK DRIVING presented the Chelsea Police Department $4,445 toward the purchase of a video camera system and another $500 toward the purchase of a breath test machine last week. The department has installed a video system on both of its squad cars, designed partly to eliminate disagreements as to what happens during traffic stops. Chief Lenard McDoggall accepted the money from MADD president Tom Gerlach.

Community Fair Seeks Volunteers For Kitchen

Chelsea Community Fair Kitchen in the service center building will again be run by Ginny and Shelley Wheaton.

Volunteers are being sought to help out in the kitchen. Small and large time commitments are available.

The kitchen will be open for breakfast at 7 a.m. and will stay open until 10 p.m. Lunch will start at 11 a.m. and dinner at 4 p.m.

Breakfast will include eggs, French toast, pancakes, sausage, bacon, fries, and biscuits and gravy.

Lunch specials include hot roast beef sandwich on Tuesday, cabbage roll casserole on Wednesday, scalloped potatoes and ham on Thursday, chicken and biscuits on Friday, and meatloaf on Saturday.

Dinner specials, which include potato, vegetable, roll, and side salad, are lasagna on Tuesday, baked chicken on Wednesday, Swiss steak on Thursday, spaghetti on Friday, and roast pork on Saturday.

Other daily items are available as well.

Anyone who would like to volunteer is asked to call Shelley Wheaton at 475-9767.

Red Cross Sponsoring Water Safety Program

Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross and Hunt Club apartments are co-sponsoring a water safety workshop for children, W.H.A.L.E. (Water Habits Are Learned Early) Tales. The event will be Saturday, Aug. 21 from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Hunt Club Apartments Clubhouse, 4885 Hunt Club Dr., Ypsilanti.

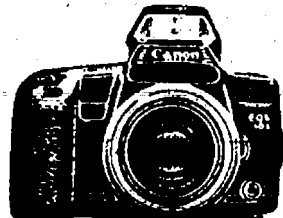

Children ages five to 12 are eligible to participate and will receive certificate and a water safety activities book that includes crossword puzzles, dot-to-dot and space for coloring.

Admission is free and open to the public; however, pre-registration is required.

To register or for more information, call Health and Safety at the American Red Cross at (313) 971-5300.

By the year 2000, the job squeeze among middle-aged workers may become more intense. The large increase in the numbers of middle-aged workers may collide with corporate efforts to reduce middle-management or to reduce vulnerability to demographic non-competitiveness, according to "Workforce 2000," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

TV NEWS REPORTERS get the scoop on Friday's fire in downtown Dexter from Washtenaw County Sheriff deputy Skip Davis. They arrived in Dexter as the fire was just about extinguished. Destroyed in its wake were Sportsman's Bar and the building which formerly housed Loreen's Village Cafe. Great Lakes Bancorp and an art gallery and attorney's offices suffered smoke and water damages.

Demolition Derby Is Fair Highlight

Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby is scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 24-25, at 7:30 p.m. at the Chelsea Community Fair.

Each night there will be three heats, followed by a feature, which contains winners and runners-up from the previous heats. Wednesday night also includes a Powder Puff heat for women, who traditionally fare well in the final feature. Over the years,

Fair Entries Have To Remain Until Sunday

All display entries at the Chelsea Community Fair, whether livestock, hobbies, or exhibits, have to remain on the fairgrounds until 9 a.m., Sunday, Aug. 29.

All entries must be removed between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. that Sunday. Fair organizers implemented the rule several years ago for safety reasons. Some participants tried to remove their displays while the fair was still in progress, causing jam-ups on the grounds.

women have proven to be just as adept as men at driving in the derby. Only American-made, hard-top cars are allowed, and the engine must be in front.

There are numerous rules for the derby, most of which are aimed at keeping the event as safe as possible for the drivers. Cars have to be modified somewhat. For example, original gas tanks must be replaced according to specifications. Doors must be fastened shut by wire, straps, or welding. Ornaments and glass, including the windshield, must be removed.

Entry forms are available at the fair office at the Fair Service Center. It's advisable to arrive early as the stands tend to fill up quickly. The derby is annually one of the most popular events.

Chelsea Fair Queen Candidates

MELISSA SMITH, 16, daughter of Dr. Michael and Clara Smith, is being sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital in this year's Chelsea Community Fair Queen Program. Her sister, Michelle, was a runner-up for fair queen. She has another sister, Melody, 13. Melissa will be a junior at Chelsea High school. Last year she was named Outstanding Algebra II Student, Outstanding Sophomore in Computer Applications, and Most Outstanding French IV Student. She has won an academic letter, a Golden Poet Award, and was in the top 15 at Miss Junior America in 1990. At school she has been a member of the Washington Street Show Choir, student council (class treasurer), Flag Corps, Marching Band, and was student director for the CHS productions of "Grease" and "Man of La Mancha." She is secretary and vice-president of Christian Youth Fellowship, is active in Chelsea Area Players, where she has had numerous roles. At the fair she has been grand champion and champion winner in antiques, home economics, floriculture, crafts, and hobbies in the last five years. She has won the Junior Homemaker Award and was runner-up another year. Her hobbies include singing, dancing, tennis, acting, modeling, playing the oboe, and collecting stuffed animals. Members of her court are Melissa Schulz and Jessica Flintoft.

JENNY ELLISON, 14, is being sponsored by the Chelsea High School Freshman Class in her bid to become the 1993 Chelsea Community Fair Queen. She is the daughter of Polly and Michael Ellison of Chelsea, and sister of Aimee, Brian, and Jimmy. Last year at Beach Middle school she won an award for perfect attendance and a certificate of merit in French. She was a cheerleader, member of the A.D. Mayer Show Choir, Teen Issues Group, and has taken part in holiday band parades. In fourth and fifth grade she was active in 4-H and showed horses. Her hobbies include singing, dancing, and cheerleading. Members of her court include Monica Zeltz and Angie Pratt.

KRISTEN FECKER, 16, is being sponsored by Merkel's Home Furnishings in this year's Chelsea Community Fair Queen Program. She is the daughter of Anthony and Caroline Fecker of Dexter and sister of Jennifer and Marc. At Dexter High school, Kristen has received awards in basketball, volleyball, track, and swimming. She's a four-year honor student, has received the Student Council President Award, Outstanding Student Award, Extra-Curricular Involvement Award, President's Academic Fitness Award, and awards in art, science, math, and the martial arts. She's Co-Dram Major for the high school marching band, and a member of student council. She plans to enter many crafts and projects in the fair. Her hobbies include Tae Kwon Do, reading, and jazz dancing. Members of her court are Jennifer Murphy and Michelle Krull.

Village To Start Testing Groundwater At Landfill Cell

Long-term monitoring and testing at the old Chelsea landfill cell on Werkner Rd. is about to start.

The first step is for groundwater samples to be taken to determine the normal ranges for elements in the water.

From there, consultants and the Department of Natural Resources will decide whether any clean-up is needed. The village is obligated to monitor the site for 30 years.

Cost of the remediation program will be paid by the village (70 percent) and Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, and Dexter townships (30 percent). Individual township shares include 10.5 percent for Dexter, 6.75 percent for each Sylvan and Lyndon, and 6 percent for Lima.

Oil Change Business Plans To Start Building Next Month

Construction should begin next month on the new Victory Lane oil change business in Chelsea opposite Pierce Park.

Owner Derrick Oxender said he is awaiting a few final construction bids, most of which are coming from local contractors, he said.

The business was a controversial one for the village planning commission, primarily because of where it will be located. Some people were worried about possible pollution at the park. Others were worried that a business that is essentially in a two-bay garage would ruin the entry from the south to the older part of the village. Others were worried about traffic congestion.

Oxender said he believes he has addressed most of those concerns. The oil will be in a containment system, called "double-walling," in the basement, which will allow quick detection of any leaks. The building will have a hip roof rather than a flat roof, a characteristic of the other 21 stores in the chain. The building is also being set far to the back of the lot and trees will be planted near the front for screening. The size of the store's sign has also been scaled back, Oxender said. Other stores typically have awnings, but the Chelsea store won't.

Oxender has purchased the lot from Martin Merkel on a land contract, he said. The Chelsea store will be the seventh Oxender owns personally. The rest are franchised businesses. He said he expects the Chelsea location should service 35-40 vehicles per day. To pay the bills, he said he needs a minimum of 20.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Experienced, Talented Bulldogs Hope To Top Last Year's Successes

How good can the Chelsea Bulldogs football team be this year?

Well, how about a season-ending game for the state championship in the Silverdome?

In years past, that would have been an almost laughable idea, especially in the preseason. This year, it's no joke. Remote, maybe, but no joke.

If the Bulldogs play up to their capability and get a break now and then, the play-offs are well within reach for the second year in a row. And once the play-offs start, anything is possible. Just ask Jackson Lumen Christi.

Last year was the best season in Chelsea history. A 9-0 mark in the regular season. A victory in the first round of the play-offs and a 10-1 record.

And the Bulldogs have almost everyone back.

However, head coach Gene LaFave is busy trying not to let expectations over-run the team before the season even begins.

"For us to achieve what we achieved last year, we'll have to play 20, 25 percent better than we did last year," LaFave says.

"Because we'll be the target range. Everyone will be out to get us. If you go back and look at the history of our league, you'll find it's extremely difficult to repeat. Saline was the last to do it in 1984-85."

The Bulldogs are loaded with senior experience, skill, and speed. There are 17 seniors, and all are expected to start in LaFave's new two-platoon system, which may be the biggest change Chelsea fans will see this year. Senior receiver/defensive back Colby Skelton is the only Bulldog who will play both ways regularly. A few will play both ways in special situations.

The new system is in part a hangover from last year's meeting with Jackson Lumen Christi in the play-offs. The Titans only had one two-way player, which kept their starters fresh and their hands warm. Chelsea quarterback Pat Steele played both ways and the cold took a toll on the passing game.

LaFave also sees the system as the best way—although something of a gamble—for his team to make the next step into the state's elite. Kids have more of a chance to specialize. They get more individual attention at only one position. They get to play far more in practice. Coaches will be able to instruct and make adjustments during games rather than wait until half-time.

The risk is the best athletes may not be on the field at all times.

LaFave believes it's a good, calculated risk, however, because he has so many good athletes. And they are athletes who can run. The rest should help them use their speed. Nearly 10 run the 40-yard-dash in under five seconds.

Under the system, LaFave says, the defense was able to draft whomever they wanted, with the exception of Steele.

"The team that has led the league in defense has won the league 13 of the last 15 times," LaFave says.

Senior Ed Greenleaf will anchor the defensive line at noseguard, and junior Adam Skyles will be his back-up. Senior David Brock and sophomore Jordan Dyer are the favorites to start at tackle, although sophomores Tom Barkman and Kent Young, and junior Dan Watson are all in the battle.

Defensive end is one question mark

as mainstays Colt White and Casey Schiller have graduated. Seniors Aric Dougherty and Rob Frost have the inside track, although sophomore Sam Morseau and junior Josh Inwood could play. Dougherty and Frost both run the 40 in 4.7 seconds.

Senior Matt Montange and junior Casey McCalla are the likely linebackers, and again Morseau and Inwood are providing some depth.

Skelton gets the nod at free safety, senior Tim Westcott will start at strong safety, and senior Don Poppenger will play cornerback. Juniors Joe Lussier, Jeremy Ziegler, and Steve Straub are in a battle for the other defensive back position.

The offense, known mostly for the Steele-to-Skelton combination, will be dominated by a veteran offensive line. Inwood is probably the number one center, although Brock may get a shot, seniors Matt Seitz and Randy Hurst are the guards, and seniors Barry Anttila and Matt Dymond are the tackles. Senior Adam Bragg is a back-up guard. Senior Paul Lopez will be the tight end.

LaFave has more than half a dozen running backs. Senior Gabe Bernhard and Jay Westcott are the likely starters, but Skelton, Montange, Ziegler, Morseau, Dyer, and sophomore Jorge Rosario could all step in.

Steele, who set several school passing records last season, will have plenty of targets. Colby Skelton has no equal in the area and is being recruited heavily. His brother, Bryndon, a junior, and Pat Lynch, another junior, all figure to catch a few passes. Poppenger may also fill in.

Lynch is also the back-up quarterback.

The kicking game should be solid. Westcott is accurate from inside 40 yards on field goals and has added distance to his kick-offs. He's also the likely punter, although Morseau or Dougherty may turn into the regular.

The question marks are whether anyone will step forward to take charge of the team the way all-stater

Tom Poulter did last year; whether LaFave ends up with two solid players at defensive end and another at outside linebacker; and whether Steele and other integral parts of the machine can stay healthy.

"We have a lot of quality players on this team," LaFave says.

"We have experience, team speed, and many skilled people. This team has to develop its own personality, and if it does, and it is very positive, this team has tremendous potential."

LaFave sees big challenges coming from Pinckney, last year's Southeastern Conference runner-up, and Saline, with Milan and Tecumseh more than able to knock off anyone in any given week.

"Saline and Pinckney all have a lot of people back," LaFave says. "Pinckney has won 30 straight JV games."

Picture Day, Blue/Gold Game Set Saturday

Saturday is the annual Chelsea High school football picture day, followed by the annual Blue/Gold game at the high school field.

Players will be in uniform at 5 p.m. on the field for pictures. The game follows at 7 p.m.

This year's game will feature the first team offense against the first team defense. The defense will have a chance to score points based on turnovers, stops, and other criteria.

There is no charge for admission and anyone is welcome to bring a camera.

Selmanovic Signs To Play Basketball At Concordia

Former Chelsea High school basketball player Aleksander Selmanovic has signed to play basketball at Concordia College in Ann Arbor.

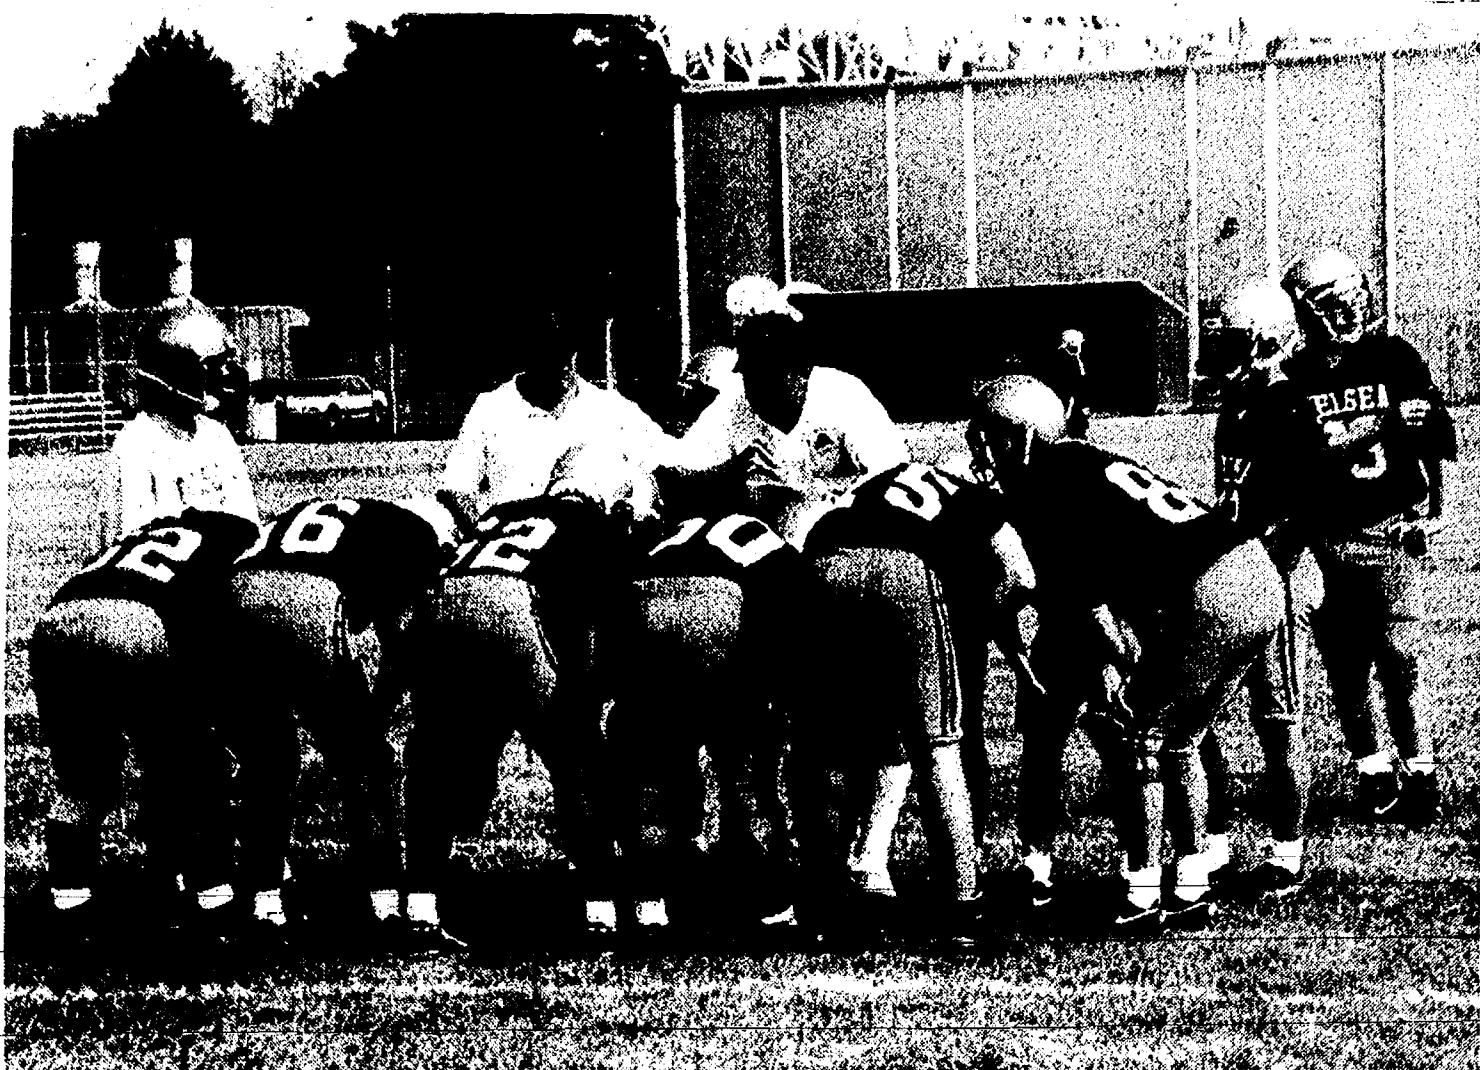

Coach Larry Desimpelare said the 6'5" Selmanovic would likely see a lot of varsity action this season and envisions Selmanovic as a swing man, although he says guard his Selmanovic's natural position.

Selmanovic is waiting word from the U.S. Embassy as to when he can return here from his home in Dubrovnik, Croatia.

COACH GENE LaFAVE discusses play selection with his number one offense during last week's official opening of fall practice. The Bulldogs open the season Sept. 3 against Mason at home. The Blue/Gold Game is this Saturday at 7 p.m.

CHELSEA BULLDOGS run through the paces during the first week of football practice last week. The team has 17 returning seniors and all are likely starters in coach Gene LaFave's new two-platoon system this season. Chelsea fans can catch the first glimpse of this year's team on Saturday at 7 p.m. at the annual Blue/Gold Game.

Chelsea 9-10 Stars Win Saline Tournament

A group of age 9-10 baseball players from the Chelsea Willy Mays Baseball League took first place in the B division of the Saline Area Youth Tournament July 31 and Aug. 1.

Chelsea finished with a 4-1 record. They defeated the Ypsilanti Bombers, 17-7, Ann Arbor Vipers, 15-5, Tecumseh, 15-9, and Ann Arbor in the finals, 8-7. Their only loss was to Ann Arbor, 15-1.

In the finals, Zack Miller got a one-out single in the bottom of the sixth, Chris Cooper followed with a walk, then Tim Bentley lined what looked to be the winning hit but was denied by a diving catch by the Ann Arbor shortstop. With two outs, Chris Brigham sent a single up the middle for the game-winning hit.

Leading hitters for Chelsea for the tournament were Matthew Moffett with a .636 average, including seven hits and nine runs scored; Brigham with a .462 average, including six hits with a homer; Bentley with five hits and seven runs scored; Cooper with four hits and eight runs scored; and Randy Peace with five hits, including two triples and a double. Miller and Sam Norton played well on defense and Joey Tripodi, Mike Vargo, and Jimmy Baker also had a good tournament.

Meeting Slated For Beach Gridders

Beach Middle school seventh and eighth graders who plan to play football this fall should plan to attend a meeting on Monday, Aug. 30 at 3:30 p.m. in the Beach gym.

All players should have had a physical examination by that meeting.

Wetlands Issues Worry Farmers, Other Landowners

American Farm Bureau Federation told a wetlands task force that agriculture has serious problems with current federal wetlands regulations. The interagency wetlands group was appointed by President Clinton, at the urging of several Southern senators who told the president such an effort was needed to help build a consensus with Congress and the public on federal wetlands policy. The group will prepare a report by late July.

Al Almy, director of public affairs for Michigan Farm Bureau, said that current wetland regulations are confusing, with four different federal agencies responsible for enforcement. "It's time for Congress to legislatively develop a common-sense definition of a wetland that the average citizen can understand without the need for scientific expertise," he said. "There is also a critical need for wetlands to be classified according to importance and for prospective landowners to be notified if wetlands are identified on property they are about to purchase."

He also emphasized the need for compensation when property owners lose the use of their land. "In areas where land use is set aside because of wetlands designation, if it is in the public interest it must be a public cost," according to Almy. "The government should not take away the use of the land without compensating for it."

Farm Bureau also supports giving the Soil Conservation Service sole responsibility for identifying and regulating wetlands on agricultural property.

CHELSEA SCHOOL DISTRICT BUS TRANSPORTATION SCHEDULE

The Transportation Department of Chelsea School District operates with 22 regular bus routes and 6 Special Education routes. There are seven Kindergarten routes that transport these students home from the morning Kindergarten classes or into the elementary schools for afternoon classes.

The buses are equipped with two-way radios which provide communication between the buses and the bus garage. We are always informed when a bus is having mechanical difficulty, or is delayed. If the bus your child rides is late, you can call the bus garage and we are able to let you know approximately when your child will arrive home. In case of mechanical problems, a substitute bus may be used and will be on the route immediately. In any event, the entire route will be completed. The two-way radio has been very helpful in providing a means to locate a student who could possibly have boarded the wrong bus. If you are concerned about your child please call the bus garage and we can help you with your questions.

The Chelsea Transportation Department follows the laws of the State of Michigan, and policies of the Board of Education. The bus drivers conduct evacuation drills three times during the school year. The drivers attend inservices during the school year. They receive on the road training by a certified trainer and attend 16 hours of classroom education. Prior to the four year expiration, each driver receives a "refresher training". The transportation staff is certified in CPR and First Aid. The Supervisor and bus mechanics are updated on changing laws and policies and also attend frequent inservices to assure our procedures are up to date. The safety and well-being of your child is our number one concern. Each family will receive a copy of the bus rules during the first week of school. It is important that these rules are followed to assure a safe bus ride for our students. Please sign and return the bottom portion of the rule sheet to the bus driver. This enables us to contact you if we have a question about your child. The bus fleet is in operation at times when the office staff at the schools are not available (before 8:00 a.m. and after 4:00 p.m.) and there are times when we can not reach anyone at the student's home.

We encourage and welcome new families that move into the rural areas of Chelsea School District to call the bus garage for information about transportation. The telephone number is 475-7647.

Robin C. Melton, Supervisor
Transportation Department

KINDERGARTEN BUS INFORMATION

Transportation for Kindergarteners will begin on Tues., Sept. 7, Aug. 31 through Sept. 3 morning students may ride the regular a.m. bus to school and parents are to pick them up at 11:00 a.m. Children will need transportation to school for the afternoon session which begins at 12:10 p.m. They may ride the regular afternoon bus home. Additional staff will be available at the Middle school for the regular bus transfer at 8:00 a.m. and 2:45 p.m. For the first semester the South School students will be transported to North School where they will board their kindergarten buses home. Please be sure your child has a tag which states their name, address and school. The tags will assist the transportation staff if your child needs assistance during the beginning weeks of school. The Kindergarten bus routes are listed with approximate times. Additional enrollments can increase times. Roads listed without times are roads traveled. Roads with a time designation are roads that have students being picked up and dropped off. The beginning days of school, times may vary from those listed until drivers become familiar with routes and children. If you need additional information concerning the transportation of your Kindergarten student please call the Elmer Lindow Service Center at 475-7647.

SPIDERS

By Nathan Montano—Morning Kindergarten

Last time I saw a spider climb on me I was scared. I thought he was going to try to get into my mouth. I thought he was going to make a spider web there. Don't you hate it when spiders do that? My mom got the spider off me.

TREE SNAKES

By Shawn Bergman—Morning Kindergarten

He slithers on the ground and he loves going in trees because he's a tree snake. He's poisonous. With his long tail he can wrap around someone's foot and pull him down to the ground. He loves eating leaves - green ones and red ones. That's all.

CHRIS' FUN IN THE SNOW

By Christopher Vacek—Morning Kindergarten

I have a blue sled. It's fun to go down the big hill at my house. I climb back up the top and go down the hill again. I only go in when my hands get cold. I have ice cream and chocolate when I come inside.

THE BEAR

By Lucas McCoy—Morning Kindergarten

There once was a bear who ate porridge. He went for a walk one day, and he roared around in the mud and got dirty. Then he went back to eat his porridge. When he finished eating, he jumped into his bathtub, washed himself and went back outside to play.

MY DOG JENNY

By Brad Tyler—Afternoon Kindergarten

She likes to wrestle. I take her outside. I take her places. I take her for a walk. She is my best friend.

THE LITTLE APPLE AND ORANGE FRIENDS

By Lisa Locker—Afternoon Kindergarten

Once upon a time there lived an apple and an orange. They were good friends. But there was one problem: they wanted to be the same color. They started thinking what color they wanted to be. "I know," said the orange. "I'll stay orange, and you find some way to get orange." "I know," said the apple. "My tooth is going to fall out in a few weeks. I can ask the tooth fairy to turn me into an orange like you."

THE KITTENS

By Ann Gordenier—Afternoon Kindergarten

We sold our kittens to a farm. One was black and white, and the other was gray and white. Then we went to see our kittens. We saw racing horses. They put one boy horse outside, inside the fence. They let the mom horses just walk around and eat.

We saw two litters of baby kittens. Three were black, and the others were different colors. The black ones were teeny tiny and could bite you. I got to hold all of the ones that had their eyes open. They felt pretty good, and I kept pulling them back in their cage because they were running out and I did not want them to get lost.

MARVIN

By Alex Rabitt—Afternoon Kindergarten

Once upon a time someone said, "You can go by foot, or you can go by cow. But Marvin, will you please go now." So Marvin went to the farm. He went on everything. He went five times on everything. He didn't get sick. He didn't get scared. Then he went home and went to bed. And he dreamed about everything that he went on five times.

THE FOX

By Nathan Taylor—Morning Kindergarten

The fox chases cats all around, all day long. One cat plays more with the fox than the other cats. He (the cat) hides on the fox in the hay. The cat also hides with the cows so that the fox can not find him. The fox keeps trying to get into the barn to find the cat. The fox found the cat in the barn, and he almost caught the cat. The cat ran through a hole and escaped.

They went around some trees a little bit. The fox ran back into the barn, and he was tired so he slept in the hay. The fox woke up and all the cats got together with him and played.

THINGS I LIKE

By Ann Gordenier—Afternoon Kindergarten

I like to learn about alligators so I don't get eaten up. I like to play with my friends. I like to play outside with my friends. And I like to learn about bears so I don't get eaten up. I like to tie my shoes sometimes - and maybe not. The candle in Beauty and the Beast says something. The Beast says, "maybe" and then the candle says "maybe not." I like to go to gym. I like to go to music. I like to watch people play guitar. I like to take a walk by myself. And I like to learn about tigers so I don't get eaten up.

MY SPRING KITE

By Ashley Godbury—First Grade

I will make a kite with my sister. It will have unicorns on it. I can't wait to fly my kite!

IF CURIOUS GEORGE...

By Lucy Abernathy—First Grade

If Curious George visited North School, he would go into the office and talk to the speaker and say to go home. Oh, George, I didn't know that you knew how to tell time. What a smart monkey!

TURTLES

By John Weber—First Grade

Turtles live in the wetlands. He has a hard shell to protect him. He swims in the water. They eat bugs and stuff. You can have turtles for pets. They have flat feet and soft bellies. When it rains he tucks his head in his shell.

MY BUTTERFLY

By Mia Lancelotti—First Grade

One day I saw the most beautiful butterfly I ever saw. He landed on a rock. I put my finger out. He flew on my finger. I was so surprised. The next day I woke up. He was on my bed. We became friends. We did everything together. Even though he was smaller, I still liked him. He was very bright. I picked flowers so he could have nectar. It was fun having a pet butterfly. We went to the zoo and on hot days went to the beach. I loved him. We were best friends.

MY SCARY DRAGON KITE

By Jason Kalmbach—First Grade

I'm flying a kite up in the sky. It flies real high. It has a dragon on it and it scares the birds away.

VACATION

By Talasha Moore—First Grade

We always go to Ponderosa on vacation. We're going to California next year. We've been to Missouri where my Grandma lives. We went to Bobo when I was a baby. I like to go on vacation. I can't wait until next summer. My papa will take us fishing.

INDIANS

By Randi Weddon—First Grade

If I were a Native American, I would play with corn dolls. I would live in a teepee.

THE FUN SNOWMAN

By Jacob Holton—Second Grade

One day Barry and Josh went outside. It was a cold winter day. But they had lots of snow! They decided to build a snowman. He was tall and had eyes of coal and a carrot nose. He had big branch arms, and a very dark red and green scarf. But then, Barry said, "I think we are in for something." And they were. Barry went inside and got into the closet. He pulled out a tall black hat. Barry ran back out. He placed the hat on the snowman. All at once, he came alive! They played lots of games together. It was fun!

THE MONSTERS FIND A NEW CAVE

By Carly Daniels and Erin Byrne—Second Grade

Once upon a time there lived six monsters. Their names were Ghostly, Bule's Blooms, Spile, Cyclops, Griedy and Baluka. They needed a new cave to live in. One day they were walking out in the woods trying to find a new cave. They saw one! They thought the outside was great. It had lots of spiderwebs and stones. So, they moved right in. They added dust and more spiders so it made the place really seem like home.

MY FAVORITE TEAM

By Matt Holmes—Second Grade

The Lions are my favorite team in the NFL. One reason is they have Barry Sanders, one of the fastest running backs in the NFL. Another reason is that Detroit is the closest NFL team to Chelsea. Another reason is they have Jerry Ball, a good middle guard. My favorite play is when they run Barry Sanders. I feel bad when they lose, but I watch them anyway.

LUZ

By Lucy Allbaugh—Second Grade

She's very nice and she's playful. She's an understanding friend. She likes me and I like her. She always shares her things, and I like playing with her because she isn't mean. When I get hurt she helps me. When she gets hurt, I help her.

THE ADVENTURES OF SUPER FLOWER

By Anna Arend—Second Grade

Once there was a dog. Her name was Flower. But not when there was trouble. Flower lived in the dump. When there was trouble Flower went into her dog house and changed into Super Flower. A man found her in the dump. He built the dog house for her. And he brought scraps for her every morning.

One day Flower saw her worst enemy. His name was Big Mack. Big Mack had very evil powers. Flower had very good powers. But Big Mack was destroying the earth. Big Mack was forming a tornado. It was going to be a bad one. So Flower quickly went into her dog house and then came out as Super Flower. Big Mack was gone. So Super Flower had to clear it up fast. Then finally it was finished. But Big Mack was making the volcano erupt. And all the houses were coming to the houses. So Super Flower lifted a giant rock and put it in the hole to block the lava. Then she quickly flew down to the houses and blew as hard as she could to freeze up the lava. Super Flower's job was done for the day. But she was sure to face Big Mack again.

THE MAILFROG

By Troy Huettnerman—Third Grade

Once a long time ago a frog delivered mail. Every day he brings the mail. It was weird because the post office was a frog office. The frogmail had weird stamps too. They had frogs on them. The door is weird because it is round on top and flat on the bottom. The sides are straight. A frog mailman leaps to doors and gives the mail. A few times frogmail delivered love letters to other frogs. Once a letter was sent to a house that wasn't there.

I AM SICK

By Michael Drexler—Third Grade

I am sick. I chipped my tooth on a toothpick.

My rat got out and now I have rabies.

My mom had one hundred babies.

Cable broke and now I am bored.

All I do is look at the cord.

I stepped on my cat.

Then I ripped my 49er hat.

I hid because my mom called me Lindow.

I was so mad I threw my brother out the window.

STORMS

By Allison Williams—Third Grade

In a storm you can hear. The rain pitter-patter pitter-patter. If sounds as if someone was walking on the roof. You also hear thunder as if someone was bowling and getting strike after strike. You also see lightning as if someone was playing with the lights. You do not see the wind, but sometimes you hear it. It sounds as if a ghost was chasing you!

PHANTOM IN THE NIGHT

A Haiku Poem

By Miriam Robinovitz—Third Grade

Phantom in the night.
Phantom your voice is pretty.
Phantom in the dark.

THE BIG MIX-UP!

By Sara Eisenberg—Third Grade

Susie and Dand always took their cat, Muffin, to their treehouse, after school, rain or shine. One day Susie saw a hunter shoot down a mama bird. She heard a chirping. She looked out the window and saw a nest. "It must be that mama's nest." She studied birds so she knew. She called Muffin to the window, and showed Muffin the nest. Muffin nodded and stuck out her claws, winked, and climbed to the nest. The birds were afraid Muffin would eat them, but she bent her head and picked up the nest and backed down the tree. After a while she climbed in the window of the treehouse with the nest still in her teeth. "Good job!" Susie said. Muffin was proud! But Susie said, "What should we do with them?"

Muffin set down the nest and leaped down the ladder and brought Susie's canary, Sunshine. "Yeah!" said Susie. "Those are golden canaries too! She could be an adopted mother!" Muffin nodded.

JEALOUS

By Sarah Maynard—Third Grade

Diane is very talented. It all started like this. One day we were walking to school together on our way to our classrooms. While we were in our school we saw a poster. It asked something like this:

SIGN UP FOR THE SCHOOL SHOW

Which meant coming up there was a school talent show. Diane loves to show people her talents. So, of course she said, "I'm definitely going to be in it!"

I said, "Diane, you are always in it, this year I want to be in it too. Please tell me what to do." "Well," said Diane, "What are you going to do in it?"

"Well," I said, "I was thinking maybe you would be willing to be in it with me, maybe you could teach me something?"

"Well I would love to. That way, we could show off our talent together!" "Great!" I said. Well, we survived the rest of the school day. The next day we went to school and that day a new girl moved in to our class. Time went on. We were getting better and better at dancing. (That's what we were doing in the talent show.) Then it was the day of the tryouts. The new girl was trying out too. She was by herself. It was our turn. I panicked.

"I hope I do well!" I whispered. We did the dance, we didn't mess up at all. Plus we got a 10! I was so happy! But the new girl wasn't. She paid no attention to me, or Diane. Finally I got brave enough to go up to her and see what was wrong. "I wish I could be in the talent show with you guys!" She sighed. "Well, I said, 'You can!' I checked with everyone, we have tryouts again today! We will do great together!"

MY FRIEND MARTY

By Tim Bentley—Fourth Grade

It was a stormy night. I was awakened by a big bang. I went outside to see what it was. I was so surprised to see a spaceship that I fainted. When I woke up, a little red martian with green curly hair was standing on my chest. He was only about 3 inches tall. I shook my head to see if I was really awake.

I asked him what he was doing in my backyard and how he got there. He told me his little spaceship hit a star and knocked him off course. That's how he ended up here. You could tell by looking at the ship that it was damaged. He decided that he would sleep with me that night and we would figure out what to do in the morning. He slept in my pocket the rest of the night.

In the morning I told my mom and dad about the martian. I decided to call him Marty for short. Dad said to get the spaceship. Marty rode to school in the front pocket of my backpack. I was so excited for all my friends to meet him. When I got to school I put Marty in my desk. He was my good luck charm. He helped me pay attention to the teacher. We went out for recess. I put him on the swing. I pushed him and when he got to the top he fell in a puddle of water. He laughed, so did we. After recess we had a math test and he told me all the answers. I got an A+. After the test we went to gym. We had to do pull-ups. Marty did 100 pull-ups, and hit 100 home runs in kickball. Everyone liked him, everybody on my team anyway.

When school let out we went to the Big Dipper. He thought the Big Dipper was in the sky. We thought really hard about that. When we got home, Dad had already fixed the spaceship. Marty left immediately. He started to miss his family anyway. Time to go home, 10,9,8,7,6,5,4,3,2,1. Blastoff! Bye!

THE FROG WHO SWAM IN LAKE SUPERIOR

By Brian Sayers—Fourth Grade

Once there was a frog named Rubber. He was a good swimmer in his own stream. He was a curious frog. He wanted to one day go into the biggest lake in the United States of America that Lake Superior located north of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, east of Minnesota.

So one day in the summer, there was a time for him to swim in Lake Superior. He had to go from Lake Erie through Lake Huron and through the locks into Lake Superior. "It is wonderful!" Rubber said. Then he saw a glass coming toward him. He hopped in and rode it all day.

SEARCH FOR THE SUN

By Tod Schlegelmilch—Fourth Grade

I went to search for the Sun.
The hot, hot, hot, hot, hot.
I got in the rocket and plugged in the socket.
I went to look for the Sun.

There goes Mars, there goes Mars.

I bought 100 candy bars.

There goes Mercury, there goes Mercury.

And right now there's the planet Zerpul.

I went to look for the Sun.

I went to look for the Sun.

I saw a Martain, then I screamed.

Now I'm back home, and my heartbeat's extreme.

THE MAGICAL TELEPHONE

By Lindsey Baker—Fourth Grade

Once upon a time, there was a girl named Kelly. One day while her dad was sitting on the couch watching T.V., Kelly went in and asked her mom if she could get a new telephone. Her mom said she could. They got ready and left for the store. On the way Kelly said, "Mom, look at all those new stores." "I can't wait until they open," Mom said. Kelly said, "I know." When they got to the store, Kelly saw the telephone she wanted. It was raspberry. When they got back Kelly went up to her room and plugged in the telephone. Suddenly the telephone began to talk. Kelly was very surprised to hear the telephone talk. Kelly asked, "What's your name?" "My name is Fred," Telephone Fred. Fred asked, "What's your name?" "My name is Kelly," said Kelly. They talked while longer. After that, Kelly ate dinner and then she went to bed. She had a dream that she and Fred would become best friends. It's true, they did become best friends and are definitely going to have tons of crazy and fun adventures after that, for sure.

TYRANNOSAURUS REX

By Mike Winter—Fourth Grade

Tyrannosaurus Rex was Mighty and Mean. It's got ball brain was very lean. Beat of terror was his nickname. In Montana you can find it's remains. 70 million years ago it traveled this land. Sometimes Tyrannosaurus would run in the sand.

GOOD LUCK - BAD LUCK!

By Nicole Walz—Fourth Grade

Good luck is getting teeth in.

Bad luck is getting yours pulled.

Good luck is having fun.

Bad luck is not.

Good luck is getting work done.

Bad luck is not getting work done.

Good luck is roller skating.

Bad luck is falling.

THE DAY THE DIORAMA CAME TO LIFE

By Nathan Zeliger—Fourth Grade

I was in class showing my diorama on dinosaurs. All of a sudden, this thing started growing out of my diorama. When it was full grown, most of its body was through the roof—it was a full-grown Brontosaurus! Someone set off the fire drill and everyone left the school. By now, 18 dinosaurs were through the roof and the school looked like a tropical rainforest with a 5,000 foot volcano behind it! All of a sudden the volcano shot lava out. The lava hit my diorama and caused everything to be sucked into the diorama. Then I heard my teacher say, "Nathan, what is the answer to number 3?"

I looked up. I was in my classroom. Everything I had just been through was a big dream!

A DIPLODOCUS IN SPACE

By Caitlin Bladron—Fourth Grade

One Monday afternoon everybody was all excited, but why? Well, I went outside and saw an advertisement on a telephone pole that I read. It said, "Four astronauts going to Mars! Come and watch them Monday afternoon at 4:00 in the back parking lot of the Space Museum." I raced back into my house and told my brother to tell my mom or dad I was going to the space museum to watch four astronauts take off and go to Mars.

I got my bike out of the garage and raced to the space museum. Right when I got there they started to count down from ten. I could hear the speaker and the crowd counting. Ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, BLAST OFF!

They were gone and everybody clapped. I rode my bike home with the crowd on the way back. Later that night I was listening to the radio and I heard, "The four astronauts have found a diplodocus, a kind of dinosaur in space, on Mars." I practically fell over after hearing that!

After I thought about it for a while, I said to myself, "What are they going to do with that dinosaur they found?" (I didn't know that I was going to find out the very next morning.) After that I went to bed.

The next morning I got up and got ready for the day. The radio was already on. I heard more about the diplodocus in space. They said they were going to bring him back to Earth with them. Boy, was that neat! And they did. They let him down into the water with a parachute and let him swim back to land. Boy, is it neat having a dinosaur in your own town.

CONVERSATION

By Molly Harris—Fifth Grade

The sound of the seagulls shook Paul out of his daze. The clouds still hung low, and the sea was steel grey. Paul heard footsteps on the lighthouse stairs.

"It's me, Paul," said the familiar voice of his friend, Samuel. "Oh, hello Samuel," said Paul, turning around. "I wasn't expecting you today."

"I decided to come over after that big hurricane," said Samuel. Both grew silent. They saw a ship which was sailing quite swiftly. Paul walked over and started to trim the wicks. Samuel got a rag and started to polish the reflectors. In the distance, a ship grew smaller and smaller and disappeared from view.

"I think Martha's making tea," said Paul. "Yes, you're right," said Samuel.

The two walked downstairs, arm in arm. Outside, the ocean roared as it came up to the shore.

TASMANIAN DEVIL

By Katie Metz—Fifth Grade

If a swirling Tasmanian Devil... Whirls by reaching a certain level... He'll jump over rocks... And knock off your socks... So beware of a high level devil.

SEA TURTLE

By Dennis Price—Fifth Grade

There once was a sea turtle. So big and so free. And then came man. Tried to put an end to this breed. We should all try to stop them. From killing this breed. What right does man have To decide who is free?

IF I WERE THE SNOW

By Sarah Skyles—Fifth Grade

If I were the snow... I'd blow where no snow has blown before. I would blow to the desert to see the interesting things. Or I would blow to Egypt to see the pyramids. But I won't want to blow my nice clean snow to New York where you would be dirty like that. Or the ocean because you would get all smelly, and you might get eaten by mistake. That's what I would do if I were the snow.

WARM FEELINGS

By Andrew McGuire—Fifth Grade

Petals of a million roses. Warm sun of a summer's eve. The glow of a baby's laugh. These are the things that make me warm inside.

The glitter in a pup's eye. And there I sit and wonder why. Why does the sun set and rise? Why does my heart soar high?

CONVERSATION

By Owen Anderson—Fifth Grade

"G'morning, Bob." "G'morning, Alfred, how's the lighthouse?" "Fine, except the catwalk broke." "How'd that happen?" "Fat lady sat on it." "Bet she were 'ure wife." "Nati!" "Yep!" "Ya wanna fight?" "All right!" "SMACK! POW! SOCK! SLAP! BAM! YIPET! LAGI!"

"Wait a ding-dong minute." "Who's dat lady?" "It's the fat lady!" "Lez go talk tuh her." "Hello boys." "We'd like to talk to yuh." "All right. Right here in the lamp room." "Now sit... OUCH! Dem reflectors shore shine!" "And I have to trim dem wicks 'ere dere." "So why'd you wanna talk boys?" "You broke our catwalk... see?" "So?" "

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Meeting Tuesday, July 27, 1993

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele.
Present: President Steele, Deputy Clerk Beeman, Village Manager Myers, Assistant Village Manager Pindzia.

Trustees Present: Hammer, Dorer, Cashman, Rigg and Merkel. Daut (arriving at 7:35 p.m.)

Others Present: C. Clouse, Amy Bohon, D. Rosentreter, B. Shepherd, Glenn Burkhardt representing McNamee, Porter & Seelye, B. Roberts and B. Hamilton.

The first order of business was public participation and there was none.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Hammer, to approve the Consent Agenda. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Department Head Reports:

Cecil Clouse, Superintendent of the Solid Waste Facility, updated the council the landfill closure work being done.

Brad Roberts, Superintendent of the Wastewater Treatment Plant, reported that his department have received their medical exams as required by MIOSHA for the Scott Air Pumps.

Bob Shepherd, Superintendent of the Electric Department, thanked Village Council for the recognition given to his department at the recently held employee appreciation picnic.

Dan Rosentreter, Superintendent of Water Department, updated Council on the pumps at the pump station.

Committee Reports:

Trustee Dorer of the Farmers Market Committee expressed desire of the committee to have banners displayed along the Park Street fence of the Municipal Parking lot on Farmer's Market days. Council approved the permanent installation of brackets on the fence and to display of the banners during Farmer's Market Saturdays (during the hours of 8:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m.).

Trustee Rigg of the Library Board updated Council on the repairs being planned for the McKune Memorial Library.

Trustee Hammer of the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority informed Council of the meeting of the Authority to be held on Wednesday, July 28, 1993 beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Sylvan Township Hall.

Unfinished Business

Motion by Dorer, supported by Hammer, to remove the Cat Ordinance from the table for further discussion.

Village Manager Myers gave update to Council on the research done by his office of State regulations and/or requirements. The State now has before them proposed changes to the House Bill 4846 (Dog Law of 1919) which will also address the regulation of cats.

Deputy Clerk Beeman read a letter from Village resident, Joseph Steele, Jr., thanking the Council for their time to gather information regarding this issue.

Motion by Hammer, and supported by Daut, to take no further issue on the Cat Ordinance issue until we see in which direction the State House Bill 4846 will be developed, and to instruct Village Manager Myers to keep the Council informed of any action on this Bill. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Bruce Pindzia, Assistant Village Manager, gave an update on the Landfill Cover and that the contract was awarded to Kilik Excavating to provide the clay material for fill at a price of $2.75 per ton. Assistant Manager Pindzia indicated that the project is at the half way point and one foot of the total two feet of clay has been applied. Two feet of topsoil will be added to the top of the clay for finish grade. The project should be completed by the end of August.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to allocate $6,000.00 from monies that will be secured from a bond issue to provide a space needs study for the Municipal Building. Roll call vote: Hammer, Cashman, Daut, Dorer, Rigg, Merkel and Steele. All Ayes. Motion carried.

New Business:

Village Manager Myers gave a report on the interviews held by Brad Roberts, Bruce Pindzia and himself of the five engineering firms for the Wastewater Treatment Plant. It was the recommendation of the committee to secure the firm of McNamee, Porter & Seelye to provide engineering services for the Wastewater Treatment Plant. Mr. Glenn Burkhardt of McNamee, Porter & Seelye answered questions from the Council regarding work that needs completed at the Treatment Plant.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Daut, to confirm the recommendation of the committee to secure the services of McNamee, Porter & Seelye as the engineering firm for the Wastewater Treatment Plant. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Village Manager Myers shared with the Council the need to dispose of a baler that is being stored at the DPW Garage. This baler is taking up needed space at the DPW Garage and since the development of the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority is no longer being used.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Hammer, to donate this baler to the Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority for their use. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Amy Bohon, resident, addressed the Council on her desire to request a variance on the Bed and Breakfast Ordinance.

Trustee Hammer informed Ms. Bohon and Council of the intent of this Bed and Breakfast Ordinance by Planning Commission and its Consultant.

Zoning Inspector Harook indicated that Ms. Bohon should be seeking a revision of the Bed and Breakfast Ordinance not a variance, as a variance must show hardship, and there is no hardship in this case.

Trustee Daut shared with Council his concerns regarding the Bed and Breakfast Ordinance revision request.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Daut, to return the Bed and Breakfast Ordinance to the Planning Ordinance Revision Committee for their review. Ayes: Cashman, Hammer, Daut, Dorer, Merkel, Nay: Rigg. Motion carried.

Trustee Hammer mentioned that the next meeting of the Planning Ordinance Revision Committee will take place August 18, 1993. Council asked for a report back to them at their August 24, 1993 meeting regarding the Bed and Breakfast Ordinance.

Chelsea Community Fair Board has requested a waiver in the site plan review fee.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Cashman to approve the waiver of a site plan review fee for the Chelsea Community Fair and requesting the Chelsea Community Fair Board pay for actual consultant fee costs incurred for their site plan review. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Trustee Hammer addressed the Council on the proposed Corridor District Regulations Ordinance. Trustee Hammer expressed a concern from Rene Pape who indicated he was not aware of a Public Hearing that was held on this Ordinance with the Planning Commission. Mr. Pape had three concerns regarding this Ordinance: 1) Roof Design; 2) Outside Storage; 3) Ordinance does not provide for cobra lighting.

Motion by Daut supported by Dorer, to approve the Corridor District Regulations Ordinance with wording changes to address the lights, sidewalks and roof design in said District. (Ordinance attached as appendix A.)

Village Manager Myers shared with Council his meetings and conversations with Belser Estates Developer regarding water tap connection fees.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Hammer, to table this item until Village Manager Myers and Zoning Inspector Harook can secure additional necessary figures regarding what water tap connection fees have been paid by the Developer to date. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer supported by Cashman, to appoint Barbara Fredette, Administrative Assistant as the Officer Delegate and Tom Dorer as Alternate Delegate to the Municipal Employees' Retirement System 1993 Annual Meeting to be held September 28 and 29, 1993. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Cashman, to cast a unanimous vote for the six Board of Trustees running for the Michigan Municipal Worker's Compensation Fund Governing Board. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Assistant Village Manager Bruce Pindzia requested Council consider extending the street re-surfacing project an additional 800 feet from Flanders Street east to the Chelsea High School driveway on Washington Street. He has secured a bid of $25,000 from the firm of Thompson-McCully Asphalt Paving Company who is doing the 1993 street paving project. Assistant Village Manager Pindzia shared with Council that due to the fact that the 1993 street paving project bids were so low, we were able to have additional funds in the budget to handle this added portion of work.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Merkel, to approve the additional expenditure of $25,000.00 to re-surface the 800 feet of Washington Street from Flanders Street east to the Chelsea High School drive as part of the 1993 Street Paving Project. Roll call vote: All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Daut, supported by Hammer, to adjourn regular session. All Ayes. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 9:18 p.m.

Notes: Committee of the Whole

Motion by Daut, and supported by Hammer, to enter into a Committee of the Whole for thirty minutes (beginning at 9:15 p.m.).

Tom Dorer was appointed as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

Trustee Dorer acted as Chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

The Committee of the Whole discussed financing matters as they related to a Solid Waste Transfer Station.

Trustee Merkel moved that the Committee Rise. Seconded: Cashman.

Respectfully submitted,

Georgia M. Beeman, Deputy Clerk.

SKYE HILLMAN, 4, who lives "in a green house in Chelsea," took part in some of the activities offered by the Chelsea Children's Co-op at last Saturday's Concert in the Park in Pierce Park. The co-op offered children the chance to color, make colorful macaroni necklaces, and, as Skye discovered, play in cardboard boxes.

Early Enrollment Urged for Pupils New to School

Parents who will be residing in the Chelsea School District are urged to enroll their children early for the 1993-94 school year. All Chelsea students will begin the 1993-94 school year on Tuesday, Aug. 31; elementary at 8:30, middle school at 8:30, and high school at 8:25.

All new entrants must comply with Michigan law regarding immunizations, and must provide the school with a record verifying that proper vaccines have been obtained.

ELEMENTARY—All school district kindergarten students should register at North school. Parents will need health immunization forms and the child's birth certificate to register their child for kindergarten. All other elementary-age students can register at either North or South school on Aug. 18, 19, 20 from 9 to 11 and 1 to 3. Elementary children who will be riding a bus will be placed in either North or South school depending on present student enrollments. Walkers will attend their appropriate neighborhood school, and those parents should register their children at that school. Both North and South schools will be hosting an orientation program to welcome new students.

South school will be hosting an orientation program on Aug. 24, and North school will have its orientation on Aug. 25. The time schedules for kindergarten orientations are: kindergarten to grade 2, 9:30 to 10:15 a.m.; grades 3 to 5, from 10:15 to 11 a.m.

MIDDLE SCHOOL—Sixth-grade students should plan to report directly to the school cafeteria, where they will be introduced to their first-hour teachers who will, in turn, escort them to their classrooms. Seventh and eighth-grade students will pick up their class schedules and then report to their first-hour classes. Students should plan to arrive at school between 8:15 and 8:25 a.m. First-hour classes will begin at 8:30 a.m.

Families new to the Chelsea School District may wish to enroll their middle-school students on Aug. 18, 19 and 20 from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m., and from 1 p.m. until 3 p.m. Susan West will be available to answer questions and to register new students at Beach school.

The middle school principal will review the parent/student handbook on the first few days of school. A copy of the handbook will be sent home with policies and operational procedures at Beach school.

HIGH SCHOOL—Parents and students are asked to report to the high school office to pick up and complete registration forms and scheduling information as soon as possible so that records can be requested from the former school. All new students must meet with a counselor on Aug. 18, 19 or 20 to establish a schedule for the 1993-94 school year. Please call on Aug. 18 or 17 to set up an appointment. After Aug. 17, counseling appointments may be arranged through the counseling office secretary, Jan Sweet.

Any new student interested in athletics should be aware that fall practice begins Aug. 16. Likewise, new students interested in band should be aware that band camp will be held from Aug. 24 through Aug. 27.

The first day of school for all students will be Tuesday, Aug. 31. All high school students should report to the gym by 8:25 for a brief orientation before reporting to classes. All current students will be receiving a letter with more detailed information.

ASCS Accepts Late-Filed Crop Reports

Susan DeVoe, CEO of the Washtenaw-Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said late-filed crop and land use acreage reports will be accepted as long as the producer pays the cost of verifying the acreage report, and there is physical evidence of the crop or land's use.

She said some farmers have not reported their 1993 planted acres this year, and the crop reporting deadline was July 1.

For farm program participants, the report is mandatory. The report governs the level at which farmers are eligible for program payments and other benefits. "Without it, farmers are not eligible for these benefits," DeVoe said.

Preliminary certification results indicate that of the farm operators in Washtenaw 850 and in Wayne county 100 have reported their acreage and are eligible for 1993 farm program benefits.

ASCS uses crop reports to determine program compliance and to document crop acreage bases. Before receiving price support loans, deficiency payments and other farm program benefits, producers are required to report crops and acreage planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and the number of cropland acres devoted to conservation uses.

"Farmers who fail to submit a crop report will be credited with zero plantings for their future crop acreage base," ASCS official DeVoe said.

THE AMOUNT OF WATER USED to fight Friday's blaze in downtown Dexter is unknown. However, Dexter Fire Chief Schmid said firefighters squeezed as much as they could from the village system, beside drawing water from Mill Pond to use. Firefighters are pictured near the top apartment of the building which used to house Loreen's Village Cafe. Cafe owner Loreen McCalla moved across the street just in time to miss the personal devastation.

GLORIA MILLER, owner of La Jolla Shoppe in the Sylvan building, works on a sterling silver scarf pendant as a door prize for the Ladies Day Program at the Chelsea Community Fair.

La Jolla Shop Opens, Makes Custom Jewelry

Gloria Miller of Portage Lake near Dexter has opened La Jolla Shoppe, a fine jewelry design store, in the Sylvan building in downtown Chelsea.
The store, named after the California city of the same name, was previously located in Dexter opposite the post office.
The new store shares a space on the main floor of the building with the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, which is subleasing the space to Miller.
Miller was born in San Antonio, Tex., and grew up in Muncie, Ind., where her family owned a mosaic tile business. She later went back to Texas to work as an apprentice for a master craftsman in El Paso. After seven years she returned to Muncie to open Montezuma Jewelers, which is now being run by her brother. Her son, Curtis Gough, has a similar store in Boca Raton, Fla.
"My family has always been business oriented," Miller says. "I come from a family of entrepreneurs."
Miller and her husband, Robert, owned the building in Dexter where La Jolla was located as well as RM Sales, Robert's business. They sold the building to Boyce Chiropractic.
Miller designs and creates all sorts of jewelry, usually one-of-a-kind pieces according to the individual needs of her customers, which explains why she has a limited number of items on display compared to a typical jewelry store. She works with gold and silver, as well as many kinds of stone, which she cuts herself. Pieces she makes on a whim may sell from about $50 to $10,000. She cuts the stone first and works around it. She's partial, she says, to Australian opals because of the intensity of their color and the characteristics of the stone. She calls her work "upscale modern."

Miller has customers all over the world, some of whom first saw her work while on business trips. One of her best known customers is her son-in-law, professional bowler Brian Voss (married to her daughter, Andrea), who wears a good-luck pendant she created. Country music star John Anderson also likes her work.
"Meeting people is my favorite part," Miller says.
"It's always a pleasure working with them individually on a one-to-one basis. Once we make contact, they are customers forever."
An open house will be held at the store this Friday, Aug. 20 from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Hors d'oeuvres and refreshments will be served.

Here's How To Keep Your Mail Coming When You Move

The phone has been disconnected, the boxes are packed and the movers are loading the truck. How do you make sure your mail follows you to your new home? It's easy! All you need to do is fill out a Form 3575, Change of Address (COA) Card at the United States Postal Service. These cards are available at your local post office or can be delivered upon request by your letter carrier.

Nationally, customers file nearly 37 million Change of Address forms each year. This service is provided free of charge.

The process begins when customers fill out the form indicating their old and new addresses. Post offices send the forms to their respective Computer Forwarding Sites (CFS), where an operator keys in the information and an address. Special codings are used for post office boxes and rural routes.

After the change is on file, carriers sort out mail addressed to the former locations and send it to the local Computer Forwarding Site, where an operator keys in the special code which generates a yellow forwarding label bearing the new address and a bar code. The mail is then sent on to the customer at their new residence.

First-Class Mail is forwarded for 12 months. Second-class mail (magazines, newspapers, etc.) is forwarded for 60 days. After the 60-day forwarding period, the USPS will notify the publishers of the new address. The computer will also record the name of the publications that have been notified for each customer so duplicate corrections are not made. Third-class (advertising) mail is not forwarded unless the mailer has endorsed their piece with the words, "Forwarding and Return Postage Guaranteed." Fourth-class mail (parcels, etc.) is forwarded free locally, or postage due if the customer has moved to a different city. Address corrections are provided by the USPS if a mailer has requested this service. In addition, if you are not moving but plan to be away from your residence for an extended period of time, the Postal Service recommends putting a "hold" on your mail. The holding of your mail must be requested in writing with forms that are available at your local post office. This is done free-of-charge and helps prevent mail from building up in your mail box and provides additional security for your mail.

Weather-Related Crop Losses Could Affect Meat Prices

Crop yields affected by the Midwest flooding and the Southeast drought and extreme heat will show up most prominently in meat prices, according to a Farm Bureau analysis.

"The initial effect may be for prices to decline as farmers sell off animals to avoid paying higher feed costs, but eventually the smaller supplies coming to market will force meat prices higher," said Ken Nye, director of commodity activities and research for Michigan Farm Bureau. "The major crop impacts will be on corn, soybeans, oats and hay. The wheat crop prospects remain quite favorable, but corn and soybean yields will be severely reduced, with the total effect depending on the weather for the remainder of the growing season and the outcome of the surviving crops," he said.

Nye said the nation's corn output will be reduced at least to 7.25 billion bushels, 12 percent below what was expected prior to the weather problems. He estimated a soybean crop of 1.81 billion bushels, down 305 million bushels from normal expectations. "However, if trends established in the first two to three months persist over the next couple of months, the yield reductions could be even greater," he said.

MEMBERS of the Washtenaw County Underwater Rescue Team gave an overview of their activities at Monday's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. They also presented a certificate of appreciation to the club for its financial support. From left are divers Tim White and Randy Layher, who made the presentation to club treasurer Blake Thomson.

Romines Sole Owners of Chelsea's Tower Mart Store

A recent re-organization has left the Romine family of Dexter as the sole owners and operators of Chelsea's Tower Mart convenience store on N. Main St.

Mary Romine, who bought the business and had intended to sell a partial interest to a former employee, has taken a year's leave of absence from her regular job as a counselor of foreign students at Washtenaw Community College in order to get the business running the way she wants it to.

Mary's son, Michael, and her daughter, Julie McDonald, will manage the business. Her three other children and their families will also help out. Mary and all her children all live in the Dexter area.

The other children include sons Bob and Matt, and daughter Janice Jones.

The Romines plan to open a full delicatessen in the store this fall. They may also eventually provide a grocery delivery service.

A grand opening is planned Wednesday, Sept. 1. Specials are planned on many items. Store hours are 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Friday, 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday, and 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Sunday.

Mary's late husband, Donald, was owner of Washtenaw Farmers Oil Co. Mary is a former Cottage Inn franchise owner.

Great Lakes' Dexter Branch Damaged in Fire

Great Lakes' Dexter office suffered smoke and water damage Aug. 13 from a fire that started in the adjoining Sportsman's Bar. The fire began around 10 a.m. just as Dexter's annual Dexter Daze week-end festivities were getting under way.

The bank office is closed and Great Lakes expects to resume business in Dexter at a temporary location, possibly by the end of this week.

All transactions made at the Dexter branch that morning were recorded in Great Lakes' main computer system, which remained fully operational. Mortgage loan files and consumer loan documents have been taken to the main office in Ann Arbor. Main office mortgage staff will contact customers to reschedule appointments and closings.

Customers can use the Dexter Hop-In Convenience store at the Shell Station for cash transactions, and the Chelsea branch at 1135 S. Main St., in Chelsea. The nearest Ann Arbor branch is at E. Stadium and Pauline.

Calls for the Dexter office have been routed to Great Lakes' main office in Ann Arbor. Customers with questions may call 769-8300 and ask for extension 3456.

Health Care Issues Are High Priority

Legislation to allow the self-employed full deductibility of health care premiums on federal income tax returns is a high priority of Farm Bureau.

"Such a deduction is the bare minimum of change needed," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. "A better approach is a tax credit against federal income taxes owed for all individuals equal to 15-25 percent of the premium cost of the health plan premiums."

Creation of medical savings accounts that would also qualify for the tax credit would allow individuals to set aside money in anticipation of future health care needs, and to pay for small health care bills directly out-of-pocket, said Laurie. "Individuals could then choose the right mix of insurance and out-of-pocket payments based on their current and expected future economic needs rather than on tax policy incentives."

Also needed are increased efforts by medical schools to train physicians who will practice in rural areas, economic inducements at state and local levels to encourage doctors to practice in rural areas, restoration of equitable Medicare payments to rural hospitals/physicians and the adoption of telecommunication technology to better serve rural areas, according to Laurie.

Farm Bureau also supports greater use of non-physician providers such as physicians' assistants, nurse practitioners and midwives to help improve distribution of health care in rural areas.

Manchester Woman Leads Police On Chase to Stockbridge

A 35-year-old Manchester woman led Chelsea police on a high-speed and occasionally unpredictable chase from the M-52/Old US-12 intersection all the way to Stockbridge last Thursday, Aug. 12 shortly after 2 a.m.

According to police, Debra S. Crandall turned her car north onto M-52 and nearly hit a lamppost near Pierce Park. She continued north, at times reaching 65 miles per hour, and crossed the center line several times.

Just south of Stockbridge, Crandall suddenly turned left on M-106 and nearly struck a police cruiser. Just as suddenly, she turned back around and nearly struck a second police cruiser.

The car continued north on M-52, went through a ditch in front of Bob's Ford, then turned onto Vernal St. A parked car blocked Crandall's, forcing Crandall to stop. A Chelsea police officer got out of his car and as he attempted to reach inside Crandall's car, Crandall drove off again and eventually turned into a driveway. There, the Chelsea officer was able to reach inside the Crandall's car and put it in park gear.

Police said Crandall was belligerent and had to be handcuffed. They said she refused a chemical test.

Police said Crandall had four outstanding warrants, including one for drunk driving.
