School Board Begins Planning Project for Bond Issue Next Fall

Implementation of the recently completed technology report is apparently a high priority for the Chelsea School District as it tries to decide what to include in a new bond issue.

Chelsea Board of Education met in a work session last Wednesday to try to figure out a list of priorities for a new project, which may be included in a bond issue by next fall. Two years ago, voters soundly defeated a proposed $25 million bond issue that would have funded a new elementary school, as well as substantial renovations at North and South schools, renovations at Beach Middle school, and renovations and new construction at Chelsea High school.

The board has made no decision about what to include, said superintendent Joe Plasecki. However, significant updates in technology, as well as the construction of a new elementary school and renovations at North and South schools, appear to be the highest priorities, he said.

The technology proposal called for the installation of a fiber optic network to connect the entire district. Schools would be able to take advantage of satellite technology. Computers and telephones would be installed in every room. The computers would also be hooked to on-line information services such as Internet. The technology could be used for all kinds of information and instruction sharing and information retrieval, which the committee believes is vital for preparing students for functioning in a modern workforce. Cost of the program was estimated at about $4.4 million.

"I believe the technology plan will be the headline of the bond issue," Plasecki said.

"We need a large influx of money to do what we want to do. Taking $75,000 out of our operating budget each year (which the school district is doing this year) won't work very well."

No decisions have been made as to what grades the new building would house. The defeated proposal called for an early elementary building for pre-school through first grade. The next proposal may call for a building for fourth and fifth graders.

Renovations at North and South schools are also seen as a high priority.

Traffic Study Authorized for South Area

The village has agreed to spend $1,000 for a study of traffic patterns around South Elementary school. Council took the action last Tuesday.

The area is regarded as a hazard for drivers and pedestrians alike. The village and PTS organization recently split the cost of construction of a sidewalk along the west side of Grant St.

The study will consider whether one-way streets would help the problem, among other factors. It is also scheduled to make recommendations about vehicle circulation, drop-off and pick-up zones, and signs.

Midwestern Consulting, Inc. will perform the study.

Fall Festival of Choirs Scheduled At High School

Monday, Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m. will be the annual Fall Festival of Choirs at the George Prinzing auditorium at Chelsea High school.

The concert will include music performed by the Beach Middle School Choir, the Concert Choir, the Madrigal Singers and the Washington Street Show Choir. Everyone is invited to attend.

ty. As one example, classrooms don't have enough electrical outlets to handle even the small amount of video and computer equipment the schools have. The district wants to improve plumbing and mechanical systems.

Plasecki said he "guesses" that improvements to athletic facilities, which helped sink the last bond issue, will not be included this time.

"But everything is so preliminary, I'd hate to say anything is out," Plasecki said.

The shape of the bond issue somewhat depends on how the state sorts out proposed school finance reforms.

Gov. John Engler's proposal does not provide money for school districts to receive extra money to operate new buildings. They simply receive funds based on how many students they have. If his proposal passes, Chelsea could build a new school but then be forced to operate five buildings with the same resources it has for four. There are no provisions for raising extra money through a local millage.

Festival of Lights Committee Will Light Downtown Trees

"There are Christmas candles on the Main Street trees!" Not candles but lights!

The Festival of Lights Committee has undertaken the task of raising money to pay for Christmas lights for all of the newly-planted trees on Main Street, Middle, Park, and South Streets in memory of former downtown merchants and leaders in business and industry. Some longtime merchants, now retired, will also be honored.

The Village has offered their help and co-operation, and will assume the physical job of stringing the lights in the trees. The lights on Main, Middle, Park and South Streets will be white and the evergreen trees in the parking lot between South and West Middle Streets will be blue.

Now the Festival of Lights Committee has the job of raising $800 to defray the cost of the lights. They are hoping that friends, relatives, village and area residents and current business people will contribute to the "Memory Lights" fund.

Donations may be made at the Chamber of Commerce office located in the Sylvan Building during regular hours, or by mail to "Festival of Lights—Memory Tree Lights," c/o Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 94, Chelsea, Mich. 48118. Please be sure to name the business person being remembered.

A list of former downtown business merchants and leaders in business and industry may be found on page four of The Chelsea Standard. If you know of a former business person who was inadvertently omitted, please, call Ann Feeney at the Chamber office (475-1145) or Donna Palmer at 475-8531.

A list of business persons and donors will be published in a December edition of The Chelsea Standard.

Ameritech Telephone Books May Be Recycled in November

Western Washtenaw Recycling Authority (WWRA) is joining a county-wide effort this month to recycle old telephone books.

However, unlike the county program, for technical reasons WWRA will only accept Ameritech directories, according to manager Jerry Satterthwaite.

Ameritech directories can be put out for regular curbside pick-ups in Chelsea and Manchester villages or they can be deposited in the newspaper section of the remote bins in Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon, Dexter, Bridgewater, and Manchester townships.

The directories will be accepted by WWRA until the end of November. For more information call 475-6160.

School Board Embraces Technology Plan, Votes To Start Athletics Study

Chelsea Board of Education Monday night accepted the Instructional Technology Plan as a basis for formal planning.

The plan, which had been issued as a report in March, had never been as formally accepted.

"It now becomes a strategy and report of the district," said superintendent Joe Plasecki. Technology will become a high priority.

The $4.4 million plan calls for a fiber optic network to be installed, along with a host of equipment, including up to six computer workstations in each room, a new centralized telephone system with a telephone in every room, televisions in every room, and special laboratories in the buildings.

For this year, the board has decided to allow teachers to write grant proposals as a way of spreading around the $75,000 available for technology in the general fund. It's likely the district will include the entire project in a bond issue next year.

The board also voted to proceed with the establishment of an Athletic Task Force to examine facilities, funding, and programs.

The committee will be led by athletic director Wayne Welton and include a board member, member of the administration, a representative of the Chelsea Athletic Boosters, three or four coaches representing different programs, up to seven community members, and a student.

The committee will study all aspects of funding, from gate receipts to pay-to-play to sponsorship. It will also recommend a process for adding new sports or teams, as well as deleting them.

Recommendations will be ready before Sept. 1, although the report will be somewhat dependent on what happens with state school funding issues.

The board is also considering refinancing a 1974 bond issue that was used, among other reasons, for the construction of Cameron Pool and the 400 building at Chelsea High school.

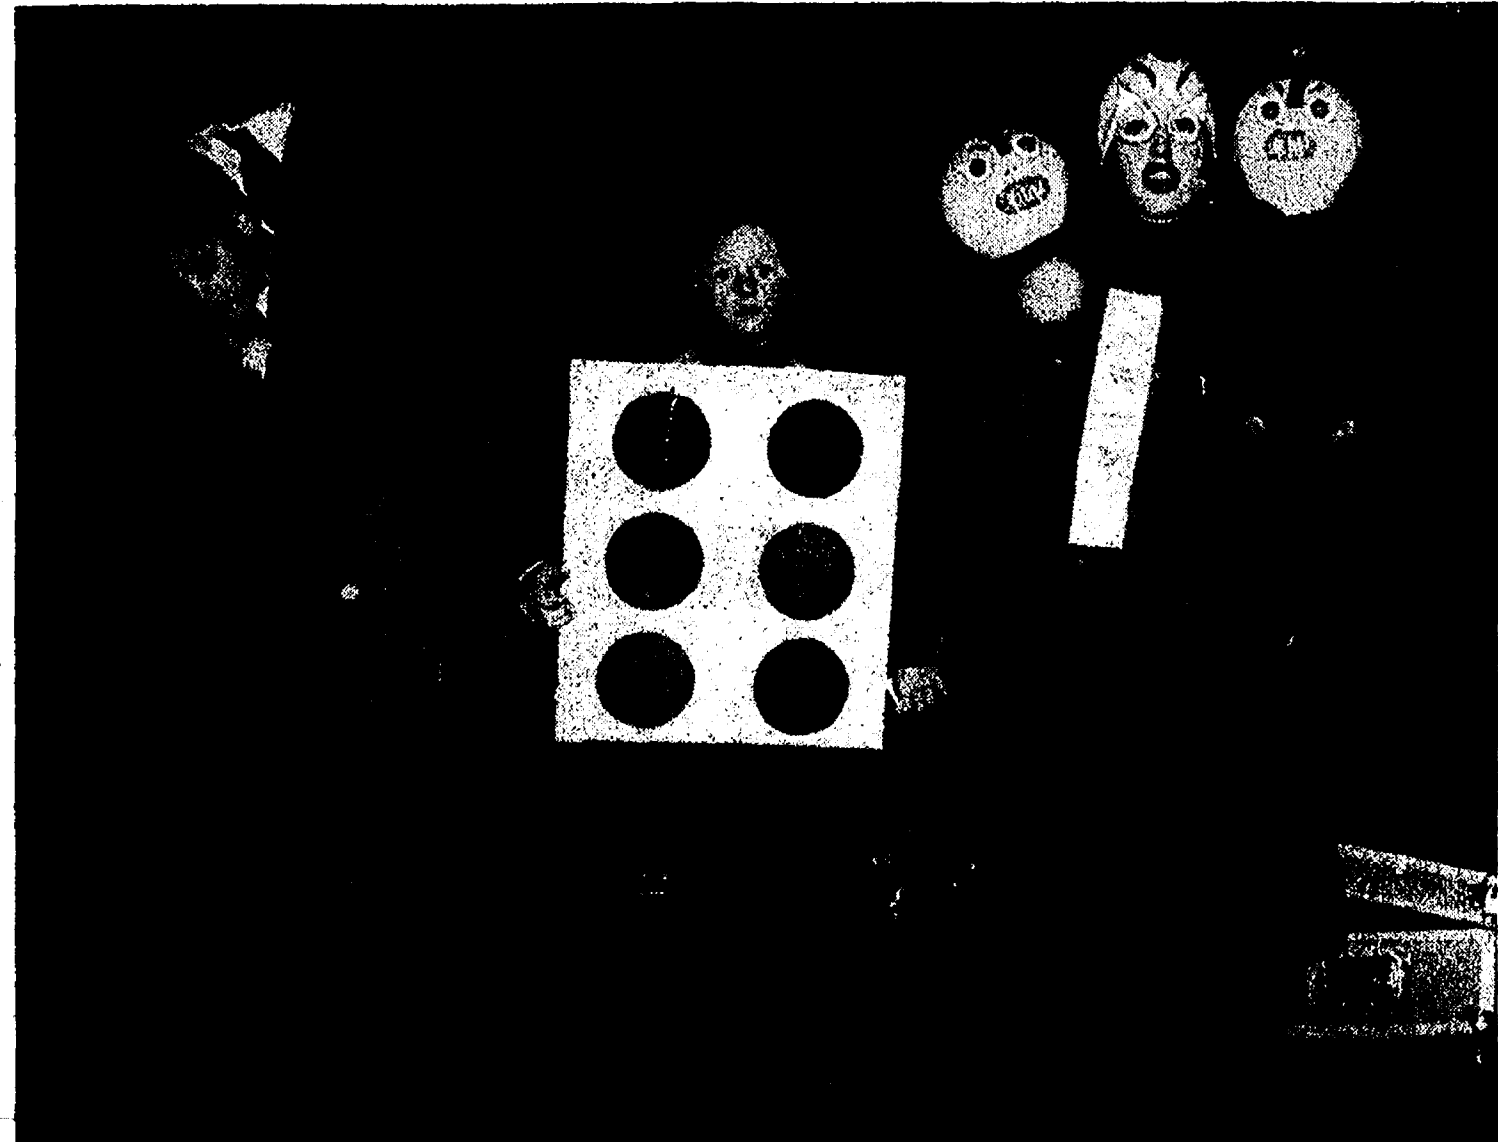

District taxpayers may be able to save about $65,000 over the next 10 years. The bonds, which average about 5.85 percent, are callable in May.

Ex-Prisoner Has Extra Charges

A Cassidy Lake Boot Camp inmate who was about to be released on Tuesday, Oct. 28 was found to have three outstanding warrants.

The man was wanted for driving with a revoked driver's license, failure to stop, and "felonious fishing" without a license.

The man was released on bond.

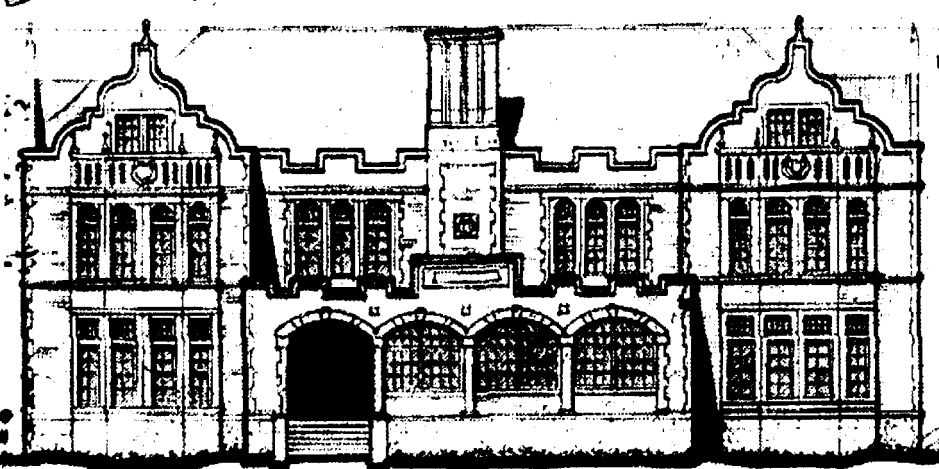

MOST ORIGINAL COSTUMES in the 8-9 age group of the Kiwanis Halloween Costume Contest were by, from left, 1. Griffin Biedron as a man holding his head in his hand; 2. Kirsty Marris as a di; 3. Brian Livengood as a three-headed man.

SAM KLEBER was a model prisoner during the South school Halloween Parade last Friday afternoon.

Wednesday, Nov. 15, 1989—

Chelsea and Dexter-area voters overwhelmingly voted against both school finance reform proposals in a special election last Tuesday, Nov. 7. The measures failed by a wide margin state-wide. Adoption of Proposal A would have raised the state sales tax by 1/2 cent on the dollar. Adoption of Proposal B would have increased state sales tax by two cents on the dollar and rolled back property taxes an average of 38 percent.

A circuit court judge refused to dismiss a lawsuit against the Village of Chelsea last month after the village attorney argued that the court did not have the power to force the village to tear down a resident's fence. The suit filed by Wilkinson St. resident Betty and George Navin against the village and their neighbor Leonard French has been scheduled for a non-jury trial in court of Judge Ross Campbell on Jan. 16.

It wasn't exactly the sort of response a girl expects when she lets a helium-filled balloon go with a message attached to it. But it couldn't have been more perfect or appropriate. Joanna Lang, who was among 15 children in the First Assembly of God church who launched balloons, received a letter from Jerusalem, Israel. The letter-writer, a 15-year-old Shomrit Siran, said the balloon landed in a tree in his/her back yard, about 6,000 miles from its launch point. Chelsea Village Council granted a variance to allow a sign to promote recycling to be displayed on the McKune Memorial Library lawn until the end of the school year. The sign, which will say "Fantastic Plastic," is designed to promote the recycling of plastic milk jugs, a project in the Chelsea School District this year.

★ Real-Life Stories Show Need for School Choice

By Lawrence W. Reed

In the fall of 1989, Al Jones "lost" his mother in a way that should touch all of us. She didn't pass away. Rather, she gave up most of her parental rights. Al's new guardian was a family friend in whose home Al would go to live for the next two years.

Dorothy Jones did what she thought was best for Al, but it didn't come easily. Having moved from within the Bullock Creek school district to the Meridian school district—both within Midland county—she had to make a decision. She could either transfer Al from one high school to another or secure the Meridian school board's permission to allow Al to finish his junior and senior years at Bullock Creek. Al had his heart set on staying where he was.

Dorothy first asked the Meridian school board to release her son for academic and emotional reasons. Meridian didn't have the advanced classes Al had been taking at Bullock Creek. A psychologist sent a letter to the board in her support, arguing that Al was severely depressed because of the impending switch in schools.

"We wanted to pay tuition. We had a way to get him there. They have the academic classes there that he needs," she told The Midland Daily News. No matter. The Meridian school board denied the request twice. "If you live here, you go to school here," said one school board member who obviously has a thing or two to learn about customer service.

So Dorothy took the only route left open to her. She convinced the Midland county probate judge to transfer guardianship to her friend who lives in the Bullock Creek district. The new guardian was given all rights except consent of adoption and marriage. Al was "ecstatic" about being able to attend the school of his choice. "It's a shame that I had to do this, but what else could I do?" his mother asked.

Two years later, Roger and Kay Pettipas faced a similar situation. Their son Rory, a second grader in Meridian Elementary, had tested off the scale in reading comprehension and placed in the "gifted" category in math skills and IQ. Meridian didn't have a program for such promising children, and Rory was not being challenged to achieve his fullest potential. He was becoming frustrated and bored. Kay and Roger decided to enroll him in another public school with a gifted program. Handley Elementary, in a nearby district, then seek Meridian's approval so that state aid could follow Rory there.

The board refused. Kay and Roger pleaded, arguing that their low income would make it difficult to come up with the $1,800 Handley would have to charge them if state aid didn't apply. They advised the board that Rory was already enrolled at the other school, and that he would not be in attendance at Meridian for the annual "Fourth Friday" count. Somehow, they said, they would manage to pay the cost of keeping Rory at Handley, which meant that Meridian wouldn't receive state aid anyway.

So, with nothing to lose, do you suppose the board did the Pettipas family a favor and approved the release? It did not. In the end, private donors came to Rory's rescue so that he could attend the school of his choice.

These two, real-life stories dramatize the harm that the absence of choice in schools can do to real, live children. Though both cases happen to emanate from just one of Michigan's 524 K-12 school districts, they have many counterparts every year and from all corners of the state.

When Wayne State University, for instance, opened its new "charter public school" this fall, more than 5,000 applications came flooding in from all over Detroit for only 330 seats. As hundreds were given the disappointing news, there were voices from within the public school establishment opposing even this limited opportunity for the beleaguered children of Detroit.

What kind of an educational system is it that preaches the virtues of parental involvement but seeks to penalize those parents who want the best for their children? What kind of people behave as though the system were more important than the kids? Why, when the school of choice is willing to accept a child, should parents have to grovel before a board of local politicians for permission to do the right thing for their child?

No responsible, accountable, and customer-oriented provider of a service in a competitive market would ever think of behaving like a petty dictator. But it happens in public education because the system is built on monopoly and bureaucracy. It gets subsidized whether or not its clients are pleased with the product.

The argument for choice reduces to a basic parental right, a right exercised now only by rich people who can afford private schools and school boards who sometimes want state money more than they want kids to be educated.

The Legislature will soon consider whether or not it should liberate parents with the right of educational choice. Some opponents will argue that it's messy, that some parents might not make the right choice, that it otherwise threatens the "stability" of the status quo.

Let's hope that when all is said and done, the Legislature understands that educational choice is not just a theory or a luxury or a fad. It represents real hope for some very real kids out there.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb brings a lingering case of the mulligrubs to the country store Saturday night, and he spent most of the session trying to start a epidemic. He told the fellows a headline he saw last week got him to thinking that most news these days is nothing but reminders that somebody or somepon new is out to get you.

What set Zeke off was a headline that said "your lifestyle is slowly killing you." The more he thought of that, Zeke said, the less he thought of it. The plain fact is, he allowed, your life is killing you. Nobody gets out of this world alive, Zeke went on, but that don't mean we got to set and mope about it, or be reminded of it ever time we pick up a paper.

It has got so that reading is like bobbing for french fries, Zeke said. He got blistered last week by a pamphlet called "Bankruptcy 1985." It is a speech give by Harry Figgie that wrote a book by the same name last year. If he is right, Zeke said, the United States will self destruct in two years when what the Federal Government owes will be more than the whole country produces in a year.

Everywhere you look the message is the same, Zeke declared. Changing our ways is the only thing that can save us, but we show no sign of taking the warning serious. No sooner do we cut back on smoking to live longer, than we see where President Clinton wants to put a 75 cent a pack tax on cigarettes. If we smoke to keep the country alive we kill ourselves, and if tobacco companies keep pushing sales overseas we're eat up with guilt for peddling poison all over the world.

Meanwhile, Zeke went on, we got armed camps of every stripe. Wimmen hire men to show them how to shoot their new pistols to protect them from men. Our jails are so full that crooks pick prison over probation because they don't serve any time and they don't have to report to anybody. Texas wants to make parents of young crooks pay room and board for them in private run juvenile jails. Even the do gooders are bad, Zeke said. He read where a boy in Florida took pizzas to homeless men in a park, and then shot one man dead because he took two slices instead of one.

Final, Zeke stopped to catch his breath and Clem Webster got the floor. Clem said one more hazard to our health is all the Chicken Littles that say anything to get attention. Clem recalled that 10 years ago Newsweek magazine had a cover story that told how we would suck the world bone dry of oil in seven years. Three years later we were supposed to run out we are glutted with oil with no end in sight, was Clem's words.

For years, Clem went on, we were told the North Pole hole in the ozone was getting bigger fast and we had to quit using aerosol cans or the sun would fry us sure. Recent, he saw where the hole is closing up, so we can go back to worrying about the sun burning out in another 90 million years or so. No sooner do we read where energy used and pollution caused in recycling paper is more than the savings over cutting more trees than we see we still are growing trees faster than we're using them, and tree farming cleans the air in the bargain.

For more good news, Clem saw where easy open pill bottles is back. This time around, they come with a warning to keep em from children that old folks had to call on to open child proof bottles.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Michigan Farm Bureau Proposes Tax Options

The complexities of a proposed state-wide property tax can be boiled down to an either-or proposition, according to the state's largest farm organization.

Michigan Farm Bureau favors either of two taxing options. Option number one: if homesteads and all farmlands are exempt from the 16 mill property tax, then Farm Bureau will support a four percent property transfer tax. Or, option number two: if all properties, including homesteads, are subject to the 16 mill property tax, then Farm Bureau will oppose the property transfer tax.

The Farm Bureau proposal simplifies the question as to whether farmland should be included in the homestead that Gov. Engler proposes to exempt from the 16 mill property tax. "We believe that current law indicates there could be technical problems in trying to include farmland within the the definition of a homestead," said Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau. "For example, if I own farmland separate from my home or I live in town and own a farm, is that farm a homestead? Probably not. So encompassing farmland within the traditional definition of a homestead would probably create confusion and inequities."

Spinners' Flock Holiday Fair Set at Botanical Gardens

The fifth annual Holiday Fair, sponsored by the Spinners' Flock, will be held Saturday, Nov. 27 at Matthaei Botanical Gardens on Dixboro Rd., Ann Arbor. Visitors are invited to attend mini-workshops offered by members and to shop for unique garments, accessories, yarns, and gifts at this annual handspunners' event. Admission is free to all. Doors are open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A door prize, selected from the collection of articles hand-made by members of the Flock, will be awarded to one lucky visitor. Working with natural fibers, both domestic and exotic, these handspunners fashion their yarns into one-of-a-kind heirlooms, such as knitted garments, woven rugs, and whimsical felted ornaments. Practical items, including comforters and pelt rugs are also produced.

Half-hour mini-workshops will be conducted for all interested visitors attending the Holiday Fair. At 11 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m., three topics will be repeated: Spinning on the Drop Spindle; Introduction to Knitting; and Determining Knitting Gauge and Yarn Quantity for Hand-spun Yarn.

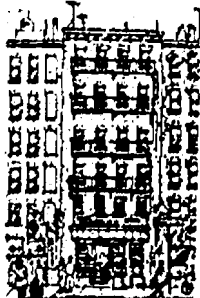

The Holiday Fair collection features an impressive variety of articles utilizing local wool, an abundant, renewable, biodegradable resource. Some members of the Flock raise sheep that provide the specialty wools used by spinners all over lower Michigan. The Fair celebrates the end of the yearly wool cycle for the Flock. After a brief pause over the holidays, the cycle will begin again with late winter shearing, just before the arrival of new lambs. Spinners will choose their favorite fresh fleeces and start to process the wool into next year's finished goods.

Raw, greasy wool is sorted, then gently handwashed and often dyed with natural or commercial dyes. It is carded, and perhaps blended with silk, or locally grown angora or mohair. The prepared fiber inspires wondrous designer yarns. As the handspinning progresses, plans for finished projects take form. Family needs and next year's gift list are reviewed.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I have heard the pros and cons about Halloween all my life but never expected to see this tradition so hastily dismantled. Having Halloween on Saturday instead of Sunday because it is "God's Day" is at best utterly ridiculous. Halloween's original purpose was to chase evil not to praise it! Halloween falling on a Sunday was a blessing to many parents who would have finally been able to share this event with their children rather than missing out due to work. Halloween should be a celebrated tradition, not a tool for pushing any certain form of religion!

If I am wrong then how do we justify having our children celebrate on "Devil's Night" rather than on "God's Day!" I can not help but feel that the originator of this fiasco had a Sunday afternoon mass that he/she did not want to see disrupted. Separation of church and state is provided in the constitution and no one has the right to disregard it. Halloween always been a tradition and by definition of the word, once a tradition has been altered it ceases to be! What's next?

Dave J. Hammel.

"The greatest success comes not from money, power or fame but from a happy marriage, a happy family and a happy home..."
—Robert Elkington Wood

Success is a relative term. It may be measured by the opinions others have of us or by our own level of satisfaction with ourselves.

People may spend their lives in pursuit of money, power or fame and achieve "success" in the eyes of their contemporaries, yet fail to find happiness. The same effort spent in building a happy home around a happy marriage is probably a more certain route to success in terms of personal satisfaction.

Our first consideration is always for the bereaved family we serve. Every family receives our most compassionate treatment.

Children Collect Funds for UNICEF

Sunday, Oct. 24, children from the First Congregational Church of Chelsea visited several neighborhoods in the Village of Chelsea collecting funds for UNICEF (United Nations International Childrens Emergency Fund).

The funds collected amounting to $86.49 were dedicated during the church service on Oct. 31 and sent to the UN for distribution.

After the collection the children returned to the church for cider and donuts and some games.

Thursday, Nov. 28, 1959—

This year's Christmas season in Chelsea will officially begin Saturday, Nov. 28, when Santa Claus will arrive here for his first visit. In keeping with Chelsea's 125th anniversary year, he plans to come in from the north riding in an old fashioned horse and buggy.

In a renewed attempt to reach the 1960 goal of $15,667, the board of directors of the Chelsea Community Chest last week voted to extend the fund-raising campaign closing date to Dec. 18.

Friday night Chelsea Jaycees will conduct an official tree-lighting ceremony at the Municipal Christmas tree erected on the post office lawn.

This evening, Protestant churches of the community are holding their annual united service at the Methodist Home Chapel in observance of Thanksgiving.

Col. Charles Scott, Iranian Hostage, Coming to Ann Arbor

Colonel Charles W. Scott, held hostage by Iranian terrorists for 444 days, is one of the nation's most inspiring and motivating speakers.

Colonel Scott has been called by the Pentagon, the best qualified Middle East expert in the Army. Since his retirement, he serves as a consultant for a number of corporations and has written an award-winning book, "Pieces of the Game."

As a noted counter-terrorism strategist, he was Chief of the Defense Liaison Office when the terrorists overran the U.S. Embassy in Tehran. He will tell stories that are terrifying in their reality—stories of people whose lives were shattered by captivity and torture, and stories of others who found within themselves an inner strength that sustained them.

Few have endured the stress of 444 days' knowledge that each day may be the last. The techniques that Colonel Scott mastered in that Iranian prison can help you manage your stress in whatever you do.

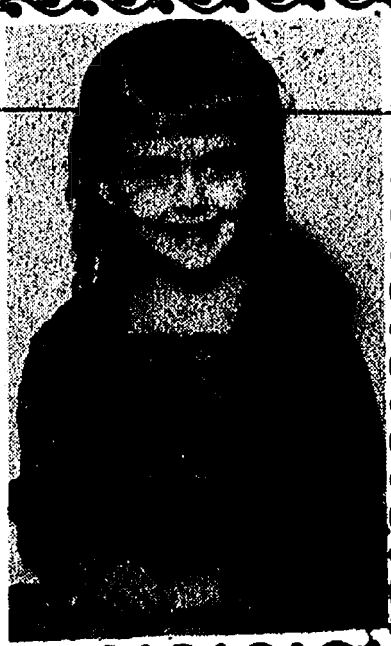

This is a "must see"—Wednesday, Nov. 3, 10:30 a.m., at Lydia Mendelssohn theater, Ann Arbor. For tickets call Vicki Panko, 996-8207.

Pinckney Area Man Returns from Navy Duty in Mediterranean

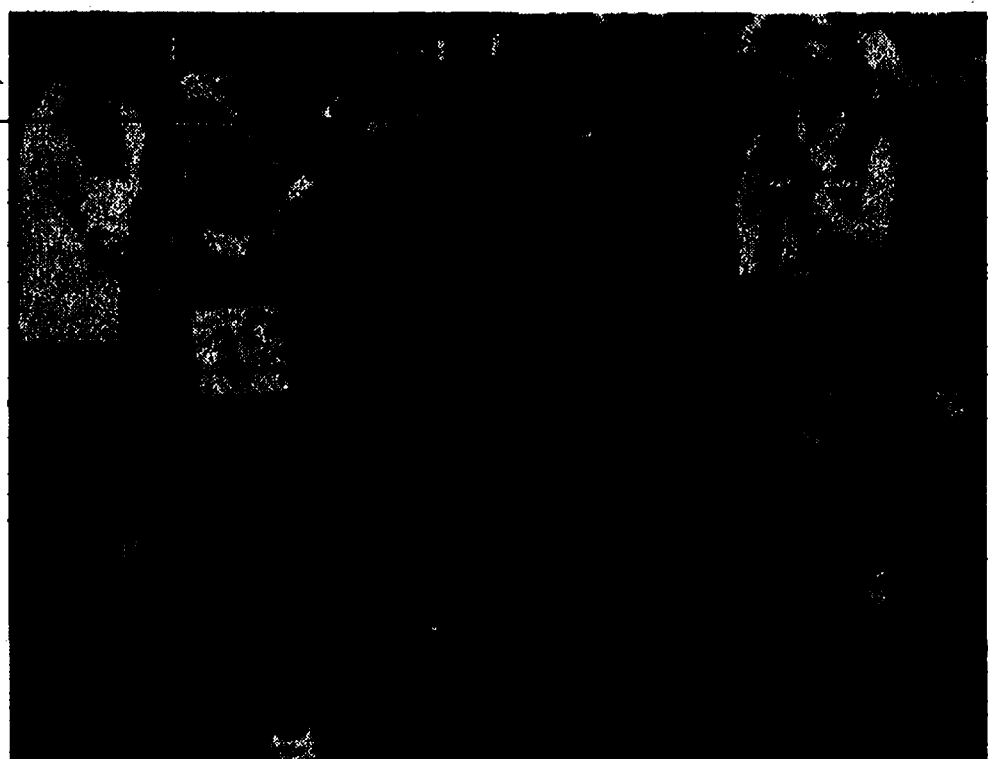

Navy Airman Apprentice Jason M. Placinto, son of Ralph E. and Diane C. Placinto of 171 Knollwood, Pinckney, recently returned from a six-month Mediterranean and Red Sea deployment aboard the aircraft carrier USS Theodore Roosevelt, homeported in Norfolk, Va., the lead ship in its battle group.

The ship, with its 5,200-man crew and embarked air wing personnel, as well as its Special Purpose Marine Air Ground Task Force of 600 Marines, supported Operation Deny Flight, enforcing the U.N. sanctioned "no-fly" zone over Bosnia Herzegovina. Aircraft from USS Roosevelt also supported Operation Provide Promise by monitoring humanitarian air-drop missions into the troubled former Yugoslavia.

Additionally, the aircraft carrier demonstrated its value as a tool of foreign policy following a U.S. missile attack on the Iraqi intelligence-gathering facilities. The ship transited on short notice from the Adriatic into the Red Sea to assist in Operations Southern Watch, enforcing yet another "no-fly" zone over Southern Iraq.

Since departing Norfolk in March, the carrier spent 165 of 183 days at sea.

AVOIDING PROBATE

How a Living Trust can immediately transfer your assets to your heirs - without probate!

Q. WHAT IS "PROBATE" AND WHY SHOULD I AVOID IT?

A. Probate is the court procedure used to transfer property from the name of a deceased person to that person's heirs. This process should be very simple. But it is not always that way.

The court proceedings can take years to complete. In most cases, the heirs must wait until the estate is "closed" to receive their inheritance. In the meantime attorney fees may continue to accumulate. The process can be complex, costly and lengthy.

Q. I ALREADY HAVE A WILL. DOESN'T THAT SOLVE THE PROBLEM?

A. No. A will does not avoid probate. A will is just your written instructions to the court as to who gets your property and how. In order for your wishes to be carried out the will must be probated.

Q. IS PROBATE ALWAYS NECESSARY WHEN SOMEONE DIES?

A. No. The purpose of the probate court is to transfer property from the name of the deceased to the names of the heirs. If the deceased had no property solely in his or her name then no probate is required since there is nothing for the probate court to transfer.

Q. SO HOW DO I AVOID PROBATE?

A. There are three ways:
1. Transfer all your property before you die. Most people do not use this choice since they lose control of the property prematurely. They may also be liable for substantial gift tax.

2. Own all your property jointly with right of survivorship. This works well as between a husband and wife provided the estate is not over $600,000 but the surviving spouse's estate would still have to be probated. Joint ownership can also create a serious tax liability for a non-spouse co-owner.

3. The best solution is the Revocable Living Trust. This allows immediate transfer of your assets to your heirs upon your death while avoiding probate court and allows you to control your assets during your lifetime.

Q. JUST WHAT IS A REVOCABLE LIVING TRUST?

A. Quite simply, it is a separate legal entity owned by you which owns your assets. It is much like a family business and you are the business owner and manager (trustee). The trust owns your property and you own the trust.

As the creator of the trust you decide, in writing, how the trust will operate and what will happen to your property after you die. You can add to or subtract from the trust assets during your lifetime, change the trust terms, sell trust property, even revoke the trust if you wish. In fact you can do anything with your property after you make the trust that you could do before.

After you die there is no probate because there is nothing in your separate name for the court to transfer. The trust is still in existence and still owns your property. Now the successor trustee takes over. The trust has a new manager. In your trust rules you appointed the successor trustee and instructed him or her as to how you wanted the trust property distributed after your death.

The successor trustee must follow your written directions to the letter. But the trustee does not need any court's permission to follow your instructions. The property can immediately be distributed.

Q. WHAT ABOUT ESTATE TAXES?

A. Generally there is no tax in the small to medium size estate. But if your total estate, including the face amount of your life insurance, exceeds $600,000, it is very important that you have a trust since you can dramatically decrease the amount of estate taxes paid. For example, a married couple with $800,000 in assets would pay $75,000 in estate taxes without a trust and no estate taxes with trusts.

Q. ISN'T MAKING A TRUST COMPLICATED AND EXPENSIVE? I THOUGHT ONLY THE WEALTHY DID THIS KIND OF THING.

A. Creating a trust is very simple and inexpensive compared to going through probate and for those with larger estates the tax savings can be substantial. You generally see the trust attorney once for the initial interview and again when you sign the "paperwork". The cost depends upon the nature of your circumstances and the type of property that you own.

The preceding information is provided for informational purposes only and is not intended as legal advice. If you wish to discuss a revocable living trust call for an immediate appointment.

Methodist Retirement Communities Honored By National Association

United Methodist Retirement Communities, with offices at 809 W. Middle St., has been granted EAGLE designation by the United Methodist Association of Health and Welfare Ministries.

United Methodist Retirement Communities is comprised of Chelsea Retirement Community, a 385-resident retirement community in Chelsea and Boulevard Temple Retirement Community, a 206-resident retirement complex located at 2567 W. Grand Boulevard in Detroit.

The EAGLE is an acronym for Educational Assessment Guidelines Leading toward Excellence, a service quality enhancement program developed by the United Methodist Association of Health and Welfare Ministries which is a nation-wide association of United Methodist related geriatric, hospital, community center and child and family service organizations. This special designation was granted during the Association's Board of Directors meeting, Oct. 22-23, in San Diego, Calif.

The Educational Assessment Guidelines Leading toward Excellence is a dual-thrust, self-assessment and peer review program. It was created to encourage and recognize excellence in Christian mission and ministry, in keeping with the rich, historical, Wesleyan traditions and practices of the United Methodist denomination.

Monitored annually by the Association's EAGLE Committee, designation is effective for a period of five years. Formal presentation of the EAGLE plaque of recognition will take place during the Association's 54th National Convention at Williamsburg, Va., in March, 1994.

The United Methodist Association of Health and Welfare Ministries is comprised of nearly 300 member organizations. As of May 1, these members included 92 retirement and long term care organizations; 45 child treatment and family service agencies; 20 hospitals; 13 community centers; 1 local congregation; 39 annual conference health and welfare units of The United Methodist Church and a number of individual members interested in quality health care and human services.

Village Seals Landfill for Less Than Estimates

The village spent $207,301 to close the last landfill cell, approximately $63,000 less than a consulting engineer's estimate, according to a report to village council.

According to village manager Jack Myers' report, the savings was slightly less than anticipated because more clay was needed than estimated. The previous landfill cell cost $350,000 to close, Myers' report said. The largest cost was the hauling of 28,385 tons of clay by Klink Excavating Co. for $80,739. Engineering and lab work cost $45,881. Village labor and equipment leasing cost $38,703.

The village expects to recover the costs in a bond issue next year, which would also be used for the construction of a trash transfer station at the Chelsea Solid Waste Facility.

THE DONALD IRWIN FARM on Grass Lake Rd. in land in 1838 for $1.25 per acre. Don is the fourth generation Sharon township has been designated an official Centennial Farm by the state. James Irwin bought the original

Donald Irwin Farm Certified as Centennial Farm by Historical Group

A Chelsea-area farm started by James Irwin in 1837 has been recognized by the Michigan Historical Commission as a Centennial Farm.

Donald Irwin, 82, great-grandson of James, is the owner of the farm at 16880 Grass Lake Rd., where he lives with his wife, Hedwig.

The farm has been expanded from its original 120 acres to 334 acres. Irwin plants corn, wheat, oats, and hay and raises 90 head-of-sheep and 50 head of cattle.

"I do very little work anymore," says Irwin, who bought the farm from his father, Max, in 1938.

"My son, Richard, and I work together," Richard, who works for 3-D Sales and Service, lives next door.

The Centennial Farm Program was begun by the Michigan Historical Commission in 1948, with support from Detroit Edison, Consumers Power Co., local electrical co-operatives and farm groups. It is intended to recognize farms that have remained in the same family for generations. The Irwin farm is the oldest of the 23 newly-certified farms. The other 22 are outside Washtenaw county.

James Irwin came from Penan, N.Y., where he had been a blacksmith's apprentice. He was told he could continue on as an apprentice for two more years or go to the Michigan Territory and start his own business, Donald says.

"He went to Saline and there he married one of the five Hunter girls," Don says.

James eventually purchased the original 120 acres for $1.25 an acre and "he had to walk to Detroit to pay for it," Don says. The original land grant was authorized by President Martin Van Buren, and Don still has the original parchment paperwork.

James built a log cabin and set up a blacksmith shop. James would remove an old horseshoe, re-shape it, cut the horse's hoof, and re-nail the shoe, with hand-made nails, all for 25 cents. He also sold eggs to a hotel in Manchester—"he'd run through the short hills," Don says—and use the money to purchase salt, soda, and baking powder. The short hills is the area from approximately Sylvan and Grass Lake Rds. to Manchester.

When he had time, James would clear the land and plant wheat, and later, corn.

James lived there until the Civil War. When his son, John, came home from the war, James built another home on 60 acres he purchased from the Clark estate, opposite what is now St. Louis Center on Old US-12. James moved and John took over the farm operations. John's other son, Leeman, was killed in the war at Petersburg.

John had two sons, Max, Don's dad, took over the farm in 1906 after returning from Bay City, where he was a civil engineer for the Bay City Shipbuilding Co. Max's brother, Fred, had no interest in farming and eventually headed the chemistry department at the old Central High school in Detroit, which many years later became Wayne State University.

Max also had two sons. Don's brother, Frederick, went to work for the John Deere Co. Max built the current homestead in 1910, the year before Don was born, for "$800, basement and all," Don says.

Don is a member of the Chelsea High School Class of 1931, graduating with such local notables as Howard and Dudley Holmes of Chelsea Milling Co. He met Hedwig at a local dance at the Aura Inn on Pleasant Lake Rd., where he and his brother were musicians in a band. Don played trumpet and piano and Frederick "was a great fiddle player." Don and Hedwig had four children, including daughters Beth, Nancy, and Barbara. Hedwig recently had an eye transplant.

Don slowly added acreage to the farm, the largest additional parcel being 100 acres. Mostly it was 10 or 20 acres at a time.

The log cabin is long since gone but many of the rest of the original out-buildings are still intact. The main barn burned down in the 1950s but was replaced by a barn that was moved from another farm.

Practical Points of Asthma Management Topic in Final Meet

The final meeting in the four part 1993 Family Asthma Series will address the issue of "Practical Asthma Management—Infants Through Adolescents." This meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 17, from 7:30 to 9 p.m., at the Kellogg Eye Center (auditorium) located at 1000 Wall St., Ann Arbor. Julie Konkle, RN, BSN, will be the guest speaker. Abbey Foster will provide refreshments.

This free series, which is co-sponsored by the American Lung Association of Michigan and the University of Michigan Medical Center Division of Pediatric Pulmonary Medicine, is an educational and support program for parents of asthmatic children. Family members and a child care providers are encouraged to attend.

Let's Go

Bulldogs Finish Another Undeclared Grid Season

Two weeks ago the Chelsea Bulldogs made it "Back 2 Back" Southeastern Conference football championships. Last Friday they put the finishing touches on an even more remarkable accomplishment—two consecutive undefeated regular seasons.

Chelsea routed the class A Garden City Cougars on the road, 43-6, to head into this Saturday's play-off game against the Marshall Redskins at 9-0.

The Bulldogs scored on every possession but one, and that drive just ran out of time. They didn't have to think about punting.

The offense was as balanced as it's been all season. Quarterback Pat Steele was 14-24 for 176 yards, while six runners, led by senior Gabe Bernhard (13-73) combined for 180 yards on the ground.

The Chelsea defense held the Cougars to 106 total yards, including 84 rushing and 82 passing on 7-13 attempts. The defense had just one poor series, which resulted in the Cougars' 23-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter. Garden City didn't come close to the goal line the rest of the game.

"It was a good performance, especially since I think the kids were looking ahead a little bit to the playoffs," said Chelsea assistant Roger Cox.

"But they were pretty focused and we were pleased with their performance. We had impressive balance offensively and we played well defensively except for one series."

Matt Dymond and Randy Hurst were the top offensive linemen, while defensive back Don Poppenger and end Rob Frost were the defensive players of the week, Cox said.

Steele and receiver Colby Skelton accounted for the first four Chelsea touchdowns.

After stopping the Cougars on downs, Chelsea drove 49 yards, capped by a 10-yard touchdown pass to Skelton over the middle.

Chelsea forced the Cougars to punt on their next series and Steele wasted no time putting the ball in the air. He hit split end Don Poppenger, who made a leaping catch, for 28 yards, then passed 23 yards and 19 yards to Skelton to the Cougars' three. There Steele kept the ball for the Bulldogs' second touchdown.

The Bulldogs got the ball back at their own 48. Steele ran 12 yards, and found tight end Matt Seitz for five yards. Bernhard broke off runs of 10, 10, 4, and 1 yards before Steele again hit Skelton over the middle for the touchdown. With 5:09 left in the half, Chelsea held a 21-0 advantage.

The lead was increased on the first drive of the second half as the Bulldogs drove 56 yards. A quarterback draw moved the ball to the Cougars' 37. Steele passed to Poppenger for eight yards to the 29, before Bernhard ran 22 yards to the seven. Skelton caught a pinpoint, eight-yard pass in the left corner of the end zone for the fourth touchdown.

Garden City's only score came with 2:50 left in the third quarter as quarterback Mike Marlowe passed to split end Steve Krisko. The conversion was no good and Chelsea led 28-6.

The Bulldogs went on to get an eight-yard touchdown run from Bernhard, a 25-yard field goal from Tim Wescott, and a 13-yard touchdown pass to Seitz to finish out the game.

In the fourth quarter, junior varsity runners Mike Thayer and Jorge Rosario made their first appearances of the season. Thayer gained 18 yards on six carries, while Rosario picked up 20 yards on two carries. Both boys may see spot duty in the play-offs.

Skelton caught nine passes for 118 yards. Poppenger had two receptions for 36 and Seitz had three for 22 yards.

Steele had seven carries for 45 yards and was the Bulldogs' second-leading runner.

QUARTERBACK Pat Steele finds a lot of running room during Friday's game at Garden City. The senior had another fine passing game as well.

CHELSEA'S GABE BERNHARD gets pulled down at Chelsea ground games this season. The Bulldogs host the sidelines after a long gain during last Friday night's Marshall Saturday afternoon in the first round of the play-off game at Garden City. Bernhard led one of the best offs.

Chelsea Girls Qualify For State Meet Saturday

Chelsea sophomore Melissa Hand and junior Molly Griebel made all-region as the Bulldogs qualified for the state cross country meet this Saturday in Grand Rapids with a second-place finish in last Saturday's regionals in Jackson.

Chelsea finished behind Southeastern Conference rival Saline, 98-106, but well ahead of third place Jackson Lumen Christi with 157 points.

"The girls ran an outstanding race," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

Hand ran a life-time best of 19:50 to place sixth. Junior Molly Griebel ran well, despite being ill, to place 11th. Sophomore Katie Spink, junior Erika Leiter, and freshman Jenny Space all ran personal bests.

Hand out-ran Dexter all-stater Jenny McCalla over the last half-mile to beat her by two seconds.

Other Chelsea places and times included: 11. Griebel, 20:08; 22. Spink, 20:57; 28. Leiter, 21:10; 39. Space, 21:27; 49. Sarah Henry, 21:43; 55. Beth Bell, 21:58. It was Bell's first race in several weeks as the team captain was trying to recover from illness.

Chelsea took second place in the Southeastern Conference with a second-place finish in the league meet last Tuesday, Oct. 26 at Hudson Mills Golf Course.

The Bulldogs were edged out by the Saline Hornets, 47-49, as the Bulldogs were missing top senior runner Bell, who was out with illness.

"We had three all-league runners in junior Molly Griebel, sophomore Melissa Hand, and sophomore Katie Spink," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"All the girls ran with great heart but they came up just a little short. Junior Erika Leiter ran a great race, cutting her best time on the Hudson Mills course by 32 seconds and just missing all-league. We missed our senior leader, Beth Bell, but the girls were just magnificent."

Griebel took fourth place over-all and first for the Bulldogs in 20:27. Hand was fifth in 20:31.8 and Spink placed eighth in 21:03.8. Other results were: 11. Leiter, 21:20.8; 21. Space, 21:37.7; 32. Williams, 22:44.36; 35. Henry, 22:56.7.

Saline's Rita Arndt won the race in 19:53.7.

Other team results included 3. Pinckney, 78; 4. Tecumseh, 83; 5. Dexter, 99; 6. Milan, 171; 7. Lincoln (did not finish).

The Department of Agriculture says that farm banks are "among the strongest institutions in the banking system." A study shows a farm bank return on equity at mid-year of 11.4 percent, compared with small non-agricultural banks a 10.4 percent. Only 10 farm banks failed last year.

Bulldogs Host Marshall Saturday in Play-Offs

Chelsea Bulldogs will host the Marshall Redskins Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the first round of the region three class BB football play-offs.

The Bulldogs and Monroe Jefferson, each with 9-0 records, tied for the top spot in the region, based on the state's complex points system. However, Chelsea—lost the tiebreaker—opponents' victories—which threw the Bulldogs into second place for seeding purposes.

Jefferson plays Fenton in the opposite bracket. The winners will meet next week-end. Chelsea could have the home field again if Fenton upsets Jefferson.

Marshall's only loss came in overtime to class A Battle Creek Lakeview, 24-21. The Redskins feature a huge offensive line. Junior center Jason Stealy is 6-4, 310 pounds, and the line averages about 250 pounds. They are not necessarily doughboys, either.

"Our tackles are going to be in for the time of their lives," Cox said Monday.

"They're not just big, but quick, too. We'll have to use good schemes and good technique to beat them."

Marshall has a solid left-handed quarterback in 5-11 senior Jack Ross. When the Redskins pass, which is not often, 5-10 senior speedster Mike Bocanegra is Ross's favorite target.

The Redskins like a punishing running game out of the veer behind senior tailback Chad Wheeler, a quick, deceptive runner at 5-11, 150. Wheeler closed the regular season with a 267-yard performance against the Tecumseh Indians. His running mates senior fullback Travis Dopp, a 6-0, 190-pound senior.

Marshall won the Twin Valley Conference with a 7-1 record.

Becca Flintoft, Tracy Haas Named Tennis Team MVPs

Becca Flintoft and Tracy Haas were named the Most Valuable Players on the Chelsea Bulldogs tennis team this fall.

Flintoft and Haas finished with a 10-8 record at first doubles.

Anne Frederick was named Most Improved Player.

Seniors who received third-year awards were Flintoft, Haas, and Sara Smith.

Second-year awards went to Liz Holdsworth and Elizabeth McLaughlin.

First-year awards were received by Laura Hurst, Frederick, Autumn Allen, Anna Daigle, Casey White, Jodi Weiss, and Julie Flynn.

Chelsea may have the services of senior running back Jay Westcott, who has been out most of the season with a knee injury. That would give the improving Chelsea running game another weapon.

Senior noseguard Ed Greenleaf, who saw extended playing time last Friday against Garden City for the first time in several weeks, should also be stronger.

Advance Ticket Sales Start

Senior plaques went to Flintoft, Haas, Smith, White, McLaughlin, Weiss, and Flynn. All 13 players received pins.

Junior varsity awards were given to Kim Schmell, Brooke McArthur, Becki Gordon, Amy Oake, Sarah Walters, and Gretchen Erskine.

The team presented coach Terri Curtis with a new varsity coaching jacket during the program held last Tuesday at the Hurst home.

Advance Ticket Sales Start

Advance sale of tickets for Saturday's home football play-off game against the Marshall Redskins will begin today, Wednesday, at the Chelsea High school athletic office during regular school hours.

Tickets are $3 each and everyone must have a ticket to enter, including young children.

Chelsea JV Gridders Drop

Season Finale to Garden City

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity football team lost to Garden City, 13-0, last Thursday to finish the season.

The game was scoreless at half-time as turnovers stopped drives for each team, and the Chelsea defense held Garden City deep in their own territory.

Defenses again kept the game scoreless in the third quarter.

However, Garden City put together a 75-yard, 14-play drive using about six minutes of the fourth quarter to take a 7-0 lead. They scored again less than a minute later on a 25-yard interception return.

Peter Straub gained 75 yards in 15 carries for Chelsea and Tom Irwin had his best game of the season, picking up 39 yards on 10 carries.

Linebackers Damon McLaughlin and John Beeman led the defense with 11 and 12 tackles, respectively.

Chelsea combined their freshman and JV teams for the game and according to coach Bill Bainton, "It worked pretty well. We were able to

Dog Cagers Continue Winning Ways in SEC

Chelsea Bulldogs varsity basketball team pushed their record to 8-0 in the Southeastern Conference with a 54-35 victory over the Lincoln Railsplitters at home last Tuesday.

Chelsea pulled ahead 10-3 after the first quarter and was never seriously challenged.

Center Annie Terpstra provided most of the Chelsea offense in the first half as she scored eight points in the first quarter and five in the second period to stake her team to a 25-15 lead.

"Annie kept us in the game early," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller.

"She scored and dominated the boards," Terpstra had a team-high 13 rebounds.

The Bulldogs stretched their lead by two points to 37-25 after three quarters.

Other Chelsea scorers included Courtney Thompson 10, Charlotte Ziegler 8, Laura Carty 8, and Erin Schiller 6.

In a non-league game on Thursday at home against Brooklyn Columbia Central, the Bulldogs outscored Central 14-2 in the third quarter to break the game open and take a 49-28 win. Central had a 12-3 record going into the game.

Chelsea was down 9-8 after the first quarter but led at half-time, 18-18.

"They just went cold in the third quarter," Waller said.

"Courtney intimidated their big kid."

The Bulldogs had one of their best shooting nights of the season and one of their most balanced attacks as Thompson scored 11 points and Terpstra and Jessica Flintoff each had nine. Other scorers were Carty 8, Ziegler 4, Kate Steele 4, Schiller 2, Lori Ritter 2, and Laura Hodgson 2.

Thompson added 11 rebounds and nine blocked shots, and Terpstra had six rebounds.

"It was probably Courtney's best game of the season," Waller said.

The Bulldogs get back into the heart of the SEC schedule. They host the Pinckney Pirates next Tuesday in what could be the championship game.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

There are three outstanding sports events involving Chelsea High kids this Saturday, and they're all at the same time. Just another instance when I need three of me, although everyone else is probably just as happy there's only one.

Saturday afternoon, the football team is hosting Marshall in the first round of the BB play-offs. The girls cross country team, plus Cory Brown from the boys team, is in the state cross country meet all the way over in lovely Grand Rapids. And the Southeastern Conference swimming championships are being held at Chelsea's Cameron pool.

Athletic director Wayne Welton tried hard to have the play-off game in the usual time slot for football—Friday night. State rules say that if the teams disagree about having the game on Friday, then it is automatically on Saturday, which I suppose is the same as saying the game will be played on Saturday unless the teams agree to have it on Friday, which they didn't. Nevertheless, Welton enjoys devoting every waking minute to Chelsea sports as much as I do, so naturally he wishes he could be out all Friday night watching football and engaging in crowd control at the porta-johns, then follow it up with a visit to the Cameron steam baths on Saturday. What a tragedy!

Chelsea assistant coach Roger Cox believes the failure to agree on Friday is partly due to mind games by Marshall. The theory is, they need to find some way to disrupt Chelsea's advantage of playing at home. That advantage comes largely from keeping the normal routine in familiar surroundings. My opinion is, Marshall probably hopes the Chelsea kids keep their usual Friday night traditions and are still in bed at 1:30 Saturday. My sources tell me the Marshall staff plans to lock their team in the home economics room with one Sega and a copy of Mortal Kombat, a video of "The French Lieutenant's Woman," and 10 copies of "Great Expectations." A strategy sure to turn them into killers by morning!

However, the real reason we ended up in this predicament is what happened last Friday. All the Bulldogs needed was a victory by Pinckney, Dexter, Mason, or Lincoln, to secure the top spot in the region, and they all lost. Instead, Monroe Jefferson, by virtue of the tie-breaker, was seeded number one in the region. And guess what? They're playing Friday night against Fenton.

This almost smacks of conspiracy. You got to figure one of those teams, just by a fluke, would win. Especially those Pirates. They lost to Hartland! Hartland was 1-7 going into the game. Dexter could have beaten Columbia Central despite their 1-7 record. Both Pinckney and Dexter were shut out! They rolled over and died! It's the only measure of revenge Pinckney coach Tim Cogswell and Dexter coach Rich Grannis could have extracted from the Bulldogs this season. The SEC commissioner should investigate!

The second real reason we ended up in this situation was the sorry records of Chelsea opponents this season. The tie-breaker was the total number of victories by opponents. The Bulldog's eight opponents won 33 games, while Jefferson's won 39. The average Chelsea opponent had a record of 4-5, while the average Jefferson foe was 5-4.

So, now we have all this stuff jammed up or once.

The extra day may help the Bulldogs in a couple of ways. Coach Gene Lafave, fresh out of the hospital after a bout of pneumonia, will have the extra day to recover some of that natural football enthusiasm. Talk about a guy who looked like the walking dead last Friday at Garden City. He couldn't have yelled at the officials if he had wanted to. He sat in the press box. I'll bet he hasn't seen one of his varsity teams from that vantage point in 15 years.

Noseguard Ed Greenleaf and running back Jay Westcott will have an extra day to get stronger. A healthy Greenleaf and Westcott could make the difference. And I have to believe the Chelsea passing game will be even better in daylight.

But it doesn't do a thing for Chelsea fans who wanted to see it all. Maybe next year.

Saturday's game looks to be a battle of opposites. Marshall relies on the run behind a huge offensive line. Chelsea relies on the pass behind a small, quick, skilled line.

The Marshall line is anchored by a 6-4, 310-pound center. But you can't tell me a kid with those dimensions is all muscle, unless he's spent some time in the World Wrestling Federation. The other kids are big, too, but not that big. Many of them also play defense.

On the other hand, Chelsea probably has two linemen who add up to 310 pounds. Once again, the Bulldogs look a lot more in size like a JV team than a varsity team. But it sure hasn't hurt them any. They have used speed, quickness, skill, and desire to get the job done this year.

Marshall probably has the better running game. One guy gained 267 yards against Tecumseh last week. Their quarterback, lefty Jack Ross, supposedly has a good arm. My source at the Marshall Chronicle tells me Ross doesn't throw much. But Cox was quoted a couple of days ago as saying he throws quite a bit. We'll see.

No matter how Marshall throws, Chelsea has the better passing game. Quarterback Pat Steele and receiver Calby Skelton are two of the most talented and intense athletes Chelsea has ever seen. Receiver Don Poppenger also has a penchant for the big play. Steele has been passing more to tight-end Matt Seitz lately. Marshall will need a big game to shut them down.

From a fan's standpoint, I look for a lot of short passing to Skelton with an occasional bomb to Skelton and Poppenger. I look for Steele to run the ball off the option more than usual. Maybe it's time to resurrect the old "sleeper" play. There are certainly enough good Chelsea receivers around. I also expect at least one unsung hero—maybe receiver Bryndon Skelton. Or running backs Mike Thayer or Jorge Rosario, who looked pretty good in their first varsity appearance last Friday. I also expect kicker Tim Westcott to have a big impact, especially if Chelsea scores first.

Weather could be a big factor. Wet conditions favor the Redskins. So here's this week's fearless forecast. I like skill, speed, and senior intensity over power. Marshall may put four guys on Skelton, but that won't help. I also like Chelsea's stifling defense, which has averaged less than a five-point yield. Chelsea 31, Marshall 13.

Good luck to the Chelsea girls at the state cross country meet. And good luck to Cory Brown.

It was a pleasure to watch both Chelsea teams last Saturday at the regionals. Brown had one of the best kicks you'll ever see to finish third in a photo finish. Melissa Hand had another outstanding race to beat Dexter all-stater Jenny McColla at the wire.

Chelsea Boy Runners Win SEC, Miss State Meet at Regional

Chelsea Bulldogs boys cross country team won their second consecutive Southeastern Conference title last Tuesday with a first-place finish in the league meet at Hudson Mills Golf Course.

The Bulldogs placed four runners in the top 10 to take a 41-55 victory over second-place Pinckney.

Chelsea was led by senior Cory Brown, who placed second over-all in 16:28, and junior Ryan Schultz, who was third in 16:30. Other Chelsea results were: 8. Scott Hawley, 17:10; 9. Chad Brown, 17:17; 19. Josh Metzler, 17:53; 20. Tim Lawrence, 17:53; 24. Chris Leatham, 18:18.

"Juniors Scott Hawley and Ryan Schultz, and freshman Tim Lawrence ran their best races of the season," said Chelsea coach Pat Clarke.

"Chad and Cory Brown had solid performances, as did senior Chris Leatham and junior Josh Metzler. We had to run well to beat a fine Pinckney team."

Other team results were: 3. Lincoln, 77; 4. Saline, 80; 5. Tecumseh 134; 6. Milan, 172; 7. Dexter, 174.

Pinckney's Chris Wehrman was the over-all winner in 16:08.

Chelsea missed qualifying for the state meet by two points with a fourth place finish at the regional meet in Jackson last Saturday.

Chelsea, with 122 points, was edged by Albion, with 120. Coldwater won the meet with 72 points while Jackson Lumen Christi was second with 114.

Chelsea senior Cory Brown finished third over-all in 16:23 to earn all-region honors. He will run in the individual state meet.

"Cory ran a fine race," Clarke said. "Junior Ryan Schultz was running a fine race with half a mile to go when a severe cramp dropped him from fifth to 30th place. Junior Scott Hawley was bothered by a case of the flu. It was one of those days when everything that could go wrong did go wrong. But we had a fine season, winning three invitational, the SEC title, and going 6-0 in dual meets." Dan Wehrwein was one bright spot for Chelsea. The junior ran his best time of the season to finish 52nd in 18:12.

Other Chelsea times and places included: 26. Hawley, 17:27; 29. Chad Brown, 17:32; 30. Schultz, 17:33; 39. Metzler, 17:47; 48. Leatham, 18:05.

CORY BROWN qualified as an individual for Saturday's state meet by finishing third at last Saturday's regional in Jackson.

BED AND BREAKFAST ORDINANCE

Article 5.10

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CHELSEA VILLAGE ZONING ORDINANCE No. 79, TO ADOPT AND ESTABLISH SUPPLEMENTARY REGULATIONS ALLOWING BED AND BREAKFAST OPERATIONS, WHERE PERMITTED, AS A SPECIAL LAND USE IN THE RESPECTIVE ZONING DISTRICTS OF THE VILLAGE OF CHELSEA AND TO SET FORTH REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE SAME.

The Village of Chelsea Ordains:

Section 1. The Chelsea Village Zoning Ordinance, Ordinance No. 79 is hereby amended by the addition thereto of the following supplementary regulations.

SECTION 5.10. BED AND BREAKFAST OPERATIONS

A. A bed and breakfast operation shall be permitted only in a single-family detached dwelling unit that is the principal dwelling unit on the property. A dwelling unit containing a bed and breakfast operation shall be the principal residence of the operator, and the operator shall live in the principal dwelling unit during the time the bed and breakfast operation is active.

B. A dwelling unit containing a bed and breakfast operation shall comply with State of Michigan regulations for bed and breakfast operations, and applicable fire safety regulations, and shall be regularly maintained so as to remain in compliance with all applicable codes and regulations. The applicant for a special use permit shall provide written evidence of inspection and compliance with applicable codes and regulations to the Village of Chelsea Zoning Department before a certificate of occupancy is granted.

C. A dwelling to be used for a bed and breakfast operation shall have a minimum floor area of 1,600 square feet, excluding basement and garage floor areas. Each sleeping room shall have a minimum floor area of 150 square feet and shall not have more than two occupants. Not more than six (6) rooms shall be provided for bed and breakfast operations in one single-family detached dwelling. If the applicant cannot comply with off-street parking, as required by Subsection M, and the other provisions of the zoning ordinance, the number of rooms for bed and breakfast operations shall be reduced to that number which is served by off-street parking. The commission may reduce the number of rooms under this Subsection if it determines that the use of the site for off-street parking to meet the requirements of this Section would adversely affect the residential character of the site within the particular zoning district.

D. Lavatories, toilets, and bathing facilities shall be available within the principal structure to all persons using the bed and breakfast operation in that structure. One (1) bathroom, containing a lavatory, toilet, and a bathtub or shower shall be provided for each two (2) sleeping rooms. Each such bathroom shall be physically separated from the living quarters of the resident family. Bathrooms required under this subsection for guests shall be in addition to the facilities utilized by the resident family. Sharing of bathrooms between guests and the resident family shall not be permitted.

E. A single-family detached dwelling unit that contains a bed and breakfast operation shall not have, or be converted to, more rental rooms than the number of bedrooms that existed on the date of adoption of this amendment. Any addition to a dwelling for the purpose of increasing the number of bed and breakfast rooms shall be prohibited. For purpose of application of this subsection, bedrooms shall include rooms used on a regular basis for sleeping by the inhabitants prior to the conversion of the single-family detached dwelling to bed and breakfast operations, such rooms which have dual purposes as bedrooms are sometimes known or used as dens/bedrooms, studies/bedrooms, libraries/bedrooms.

F. No kitchen or other food preparation area or facilities shall be provided in or available to the rooms in a bed and breakfast operation. Cooking facilities in a dwelling containing a bed and breakfast operation shall be limited to the residential kitchen.

G. No meals or food service shall be provided to a guest except the following: breakfast, snacks, coffee and tea service, provided there shall be no separate or extra charge for these services.

H. Service of alcoholic beverages in a bed and breakfast operation shall be prohibited.

I. One (1) sign, not more than three (3) square feet in area, shall be permitted for each bed and breakfast operation. The sign shall be wall mounted and shall meet all applicable regulations of Article 6, Sign Regulations, herein.

J. A single-family detached dwelling unit containing a bed and breakfast operation shall have no outside appearance of the presence of the operation, except the sign permitted herein.

K. Bed and Breakfast facilities shall not be used for reception weddings and similar celebrations and parties.

L. The maximum length of stay for any occupant of a bed and breakfast operation shall be twenty-three (23) days in any period of ninety (90) consecutive days.

M. One (1) off-street parking space shall be provided for each bedroom in a bed and breakfast operation. Parking spaces for bed and breakfast registrants shall be in addition to spaces required for the dwelling unit and shall comply with the regulations of Article 7, Off-street Parking and Loading Regulations, herein.

N. A property survey, drawn to scale, with dimensions, and showing property lines and all structures and other improvements shall be submitted with the application for a special use permit. If the proposed use involved changes to the site outside the building, the Planning Commission may require that the applicant submit a final site plan, as required in Article 9, Site Plan Review, or portions of a final site plan that are applicable to the proposed changes and be reviewed and approved by the Planning Commission before the special use permit may be issued.

O. An approved special land use permit for a bed and breakfast operation shall not become effective, and a bed and breakfast operation shall not be opened for business, until all licenses required therefor have been issued in accordance with the Chelsea Village Code.

Section 2. Any provisions of the Chelsea Zoning Ordinance, or any amendment thereto, inconsistent with the within amendment is hereby set aside and repealed.

Section 3. The within ordinance amendment shall be effective twenty (20) days after adoption and publication as provided by law.

I, Suzanne C. Morrison, Clerk of the Village of Chelsea, hereby certify that the within Ordinance was adopted by the Village Council of the Village of Chelsea and advertised in The Chelsea Standard. The Amendment was adopted at a regular meeting of the Chelsea Village Council held on the 28th of October, 1993. Notice of said meeting was given in accordance with the Open Meetings Act, with a vote of adoption by roll call was: Ayes—Trustee Hammer, Daut, Cashman, Merkel, Dorer, Rigg and President Steele. Nays—None.

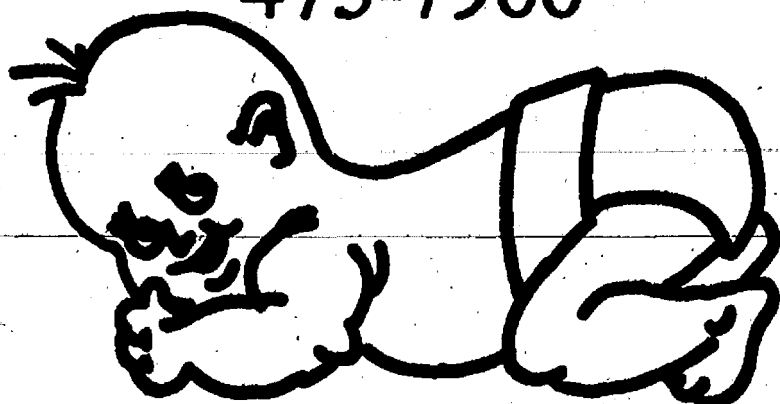

I further certify that on the 3rd day of November, 1993, I caused a true copy of the within Amendment to be published in The Chelsea Standard, a newspaper circulated in the Village of Chelsea, and that said Ordinance and the proof of publication was duly recorded in the Book of Ordinances of the Village of Chelsea.

Winter Travel Guide, Calendar of Events Is Now Available

Before cabin fever sets in, get your copy of the new Michigan Winter Travel Guide and Calendar of Events, available now from the Michigan Travel Bureau.

More than 600 listings of festivals, events, and winterfests should provide the remedy for the winter doldrums. Look for concerts, theatrical productions, holiday parades, cross-country ski races, snowmobile rallies, dog-sled races, fishing derbies, and hundreds of other events from November through March.

For a free copy of the Michigan Winter Travel Guide and Calendar of Events, write the Michigan Travel Bureau at P.O. Box 3393, Livonia 48151-3393; or call toll-free (800) 543-YES, from any place in the United States and Canada, or (800) 722-8191 for the hearing impaired.

Beginning Nov. 1, travelers may call (800) MI-4-SNOW (644-7669) in the United States and Canada for a recorded Michigan snow conditions reports.

BEST LOOKING costumes in the 4-5 age group at the Kiwanis Halloween Costume Contest last Saturday in the Municipal Parking Lot were, from left, 1. Nicki Hastings as Batwoman; 2. Samantha Heydlauff as Catwoman; 3. Madeline Salatka as a spider.

December Pheasant Hunt Season OK'd

To introduce more Michigan hunters to pheasant hunting, DNR Director Roland Harnes has approved an experimental pheasant hunting season for Dec. 1-5, with a daily bag limit of one bird. The hunt will be in an area east of US-131, south of M-57, west of US-23, and north of the Ohio-Indiana/Michigan border.

"Because many young hunters grew up during a time when pheasant population figures were low, we have a whole generation that has never experienced pheasant hunting in Michigan," Harnes said. "With this December pheasant season, we hope to give more Michigan hunters an opportunity to try pheasant hunting for the first time."

Michigan pheasant numbers have increased significantly throughout the pheasant range since the extremely low-population years of 1984-85. Pheasant population indexes, hunter contacts, and field observations over the past four to five years suggest that the combination of mild winters, the Conservation Reserve Program (a coordinated habitat development program for private lands), and the introduction of Sichuan pheasants have all led to a dramatic increase in pheasant numbers throughout most of the pheasant range. Pheasants are more available to the average small game hunter than they have been for more than 25 years.

For more information on pheasants and pheasant hunting, contact Pete Squibb at (515) 373-1263.

Turkey Hunting Regulations Changed

Hunting hours are changed to reflect a uniform opening time, but otherwise remain the same as indicated in the 1993-94 Michigan Hunting and Trapping Guide. Under the new regulations, two new turkey management units have been added, and four existing units have been expanded. The new regulations also prohibit the unsportsmanlike practice of shooting a turkey when it is in a tree.

For more information on the turkey hunting season and related issues, contact John Urban at (517) 373-1263.

State Park User Fees Updated

Increases in certain state park user fees will take effect Jan. 1, 1994. The state park day use fee has been increased from $3.50 to $4 per day, state park mini-cabin fees have been increased from $25 to $30 per night, and boat anchoring fees at Snail Harbor at Fayette State Park have been increased from $6 to $9 per night. Selected off-season discounted fees in effect at some state campgrounds have been replaced with the normal fees. For more information on these and other state park user fee changes, contact Hank zurBurg at (517) 373-1272.

THE UNITED STATES was the topic of a program at North school last Thursday evening put together by fifth graders. Each student studied a particular state or topic and created a display. Jennifer Minnick, left, studied Alabama, and included a photograph of the governor, a picture of the state bird, and depicted the world's largest tire and rubber plant, among other features. Right, David Jedele studied Virginia and included information about the Hampton Space Center, Norfolk Naval Base, and the state tree, with other facts.

Pollution Studies Continue At Village's Former Facility

Village of Chelsea has contracted with The Traverse Group of Ann Arbor to determine the extent of additional soil contamination at the village's former electric and water building on North St.

A major portion of the site has already been cleaned up. Part of the building was also demolished.

However, more contamination has been detected under the portion of the building that remains.

Cost of the study is $12,460. The village expects most of the money will be reimbursed through the state's Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance Fund (MUSTFA).

The tests will include soil borings and the installation of two monitoring wells. The company will also deal with the Department of Natural Resources on behalf of the village.

RESOLUTION

RE: Unfunded Mandates

WHEREAS, unfunded mandates on state and local governments have increased significantly in recent years;

WHEREAS, federal mandates require cities and towns to perform duties without consideration of local circumstances, costs, or capacity and subject municipalities to civil or criminal penalties for noncompliance;

WHEREAS, federal mandates require compliance regardless of other pressing local needs and priorities affecting the health, welfare, and safety of municipal citizens;

WHEREAS, excessive federal burdens on local governments force some combination of higher local taxes and fees and/or reduced local services on citizens and local taxpayers;

WHEREAS, federal mandates are too often inflexible, one-size-fits-all requirements that impose unrealistic time frames and specify procedures or facilities where less costly alternatives might be just as effective;

WHEREAS, existing mandates impose harsh pressures on local budgets and the federal government has imposed a freeze upon funding to help compensate for any new mandates;

WHEREAS, the cumulative impact of these legislative and regulatory actions directly affect the citizens of our cities and towns; and

WHEREAS, the National League of Cities, in conjunction with other state and local government representatives, has begun a national public education campaign to help citizens understand and then reduce the burden and inflexibility of unfunded mandates, beginning with a Nation Unfunded Mandates Day on October 27, 1993;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea endorses the efforts of the National League of Cities and supports working with the NLC to fully inform our citizens about the impact of federal mandates on our government and the pocketbooks of our citizens;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea endorses organizing and participating in events to begin this process on October 27th; and finally

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Village of Chelsea resolves to redouble our efforts to inform and work with members of our Congressional delegation to educate them about the impact of federal mandates and actions necessary to reduce their burden on our citizens.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Rigg, to adopt the above Resolution. All Ayes. Absent: Cashman. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Rigg, to adjourn regular session. All Ayes. Absent: Cashman. Motion carried. Meeting Adjourned—Time: 9:22 p.m.

Red Cross, M-Care Team Up To Offer CPR Training

Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross and M-Care have teamed up to offer M-Care members the opportunity to take CPR classes at a reduced rate. The discount is available to all M-Care members regardless of their coverage plan.

Under the program, M-Care will pay half of the Red Cross class fee, up to $25, provided the class contains instruction on CPR for infants or children. The following Red Cross courses would be included in the discount offer: Infant/Child CPR, Community CPR, Community First Aid and Safety, Basic Life Support for the Professional and all instructor level courses.

"As an HMO, one of our goals is prevention. M-Care has many members who are trained in CPR, but we want to encourage more to learn," said Nancy Quaerna-Valline, health promotion co-ordinator for M-Care's Apple A Day Club. "We chose to focus on infant/child CPR, since family health is a priority with M-CARE."

The discount applies only to Red Cross classes taken through the Washtenaw County Chapter. The fee reduction will be done at the time an M-Care member registers for a class. Members are required to have their number with them when registering.

PANEL DISCUSSION on Gov. John Engler's Plan To Reform Michigan Schools was held last Thursday in the George Prinzling Auditorium at Chelsea High school. The panelists included, from left, Dr. Phillip Kearney of the University of Michigan School of Education; Gleaves Whitney, a speech writer for Engler; state Rep. Mary Schroer; Dr. Steven Cooke of the Michigan Education Association, the state-wide teachers union; and Chelsea superintendent Joe Piasecki.

School Reform Discussion Features Many Opinions

Nearly 200 people attended an occasionally lively panel discussion on Gov. John Engler's school reform plan last Thursday evening at Chelsea High school.

The discussion, hosted by the Chelsea Education Foundation, drew Dr. Phillip Kearney of the University of Michigan School of Education, Gleaves Whitney, a speech writer for Engler, state Rep. Mary Schroer, Dr. Steven Cooke, secretary treasurer of the Michigan Education Association, and Joe Piasecki, Chelsea superintendent.

Each panelist spoke for five minutes, and a question-and-answer session followed.

Kearney offered information about the history of taxation for school financing, as well as the inequities in the current system.

Whitney served essentially as a spokesman for Engler, while Schroer offered her own views as a Democratic member of the House.

Cooke presented the union's views, and Piasecki gave his interpretation as to how Chelsea would be affected.

Judging from the sporadic applause to various points made, some people liked the governor's idea of schools of choice but most preferred a less radical approach. However, there were many teachers in the crowd who were more likely to support the MEA's positions, which run counter to Engler's. It also appeared that many in the audience had already made up their minds about the proposal.

Kearney said that Michigan has run counter to the national trend of providing more education financing from the state and less on local sources. He said local taxes contributed 66 percent of school funds while state taxes make up the rest. He said per-pupil spending ranges from $3,000 to $10,000 depending on the district, and local millage rates run from 8 mills to 47 mills.

Before Engler was elected, Kearney said, Michigan tried to shift school taxes nine times, and every effort failed. The two efforts during Engler's term have also failed.

The three major issues regarding Engler's proposal, Kearney said, are the quality of education ("Will we see stunning improvements?"), how revenues will be replaced since property taxes have been eliminated, and once revenues are replaced, how will they be allocated in a way to address the inequities.

Whitney said the "three cornerstones" to the governor's plan were: 1. empowering students and readying them for the global marketplace; 2. empowering parents and families by giving them choice about where to attend school; and 3. empowering teachers who "are at the front lines of education." He remarked that diplomas essentially measure attendance and textbooks have been "dumbed down."

Schroer spoke of her fears that the reforms are moving too fast. "It is on a very fast track and it is very frightening," she said.

She described the political process as "everyone with an ax to grind with their first grade teacher" is speaking out. She said that she did not vote for Senate Bill 1, which eliminated property taxes, and that she expects the final proposal won't "resemble anything close to what the governor is proposing." She said she opposes the proposed four percent tax on home sales. She also said she would prefer the funding questions would be addressed before the quality issues. She anticipates that some form of property tax will be reinstated.

Cooke appeared to prefer the status quo, in terms of the make-up of schools, but more of it. He emphasized that MEA believes in the "mission and spirit of public education. He spoke against choice and competition because "it implies winners and losers." He pushed for a "stable funding source" and meaningful parental involvement in the schools. He spoke on behalf of equal opportunities for all students in every school. He called for smaller class sizes and more counselors.

Piasecki spoke about the financial implications as they relate to Chelsea.

He said Engler's proposal, which will give Chelsea one percent more money next year than this year, is "another shell game," and will result in less money next year. He said growing districts will be penalized because there is no provision to give them more money to operate additional facilities.

Under the proposal, Piasecki said, "Dexter will have trouble finding money to operate" the new schools they recently approved in a bond issue. The proposal calls for funding to be based on per-pupil amounts.

He also noted that the Chelsea district, with no summer tax collections, could find itself with no money at the start of school. The district typically borrows funds in anticipation of winter tax collections, but with no school property taxes, there will be nothing to borrow against. The first state payment is not scheduled until October.

Piasecki noted that educators "have been kept out of the [reform] process." He said he would like to see an educational summit, particularly on quality issues.

Later in the evening Piasecki said "we have to establish credibility between state government and local government." He said that when busing was first implemented, it was done under the assumption that 75 percent of expenditures would be reimbursed. This year the figure is 13 percent of a $974,000 transportation budget.

"There are always reductions," he said.

The issue of education reform, not finance reform, seemed to draw the most heated responses during the question-and-answer session.

Whitney contended that any school reform has to have parental involvement. Schroer countered by saying that "puts the burden on the people who can least handle it." Cooke said "parents do care, but they don't know how to get involved."

Kearney said "choice and charter schools are not necessarily the same thing," and urged giving charter schools a try "in some instances."

Kearney also noted a practical problem with the governor's proposal concerning the establishment of Education Bank Accounts. That proposal would allow students to accrue savings in an account, which could be used for college expenses, should they decide to attend a cheaper school.

"There's no information system in Michigan that's capable of handling that sort of thing," he said.

Warren McArthur, a former teacher and owner of Chelsea Cleaners, said it's "pie in the sky" to believe that all schools can teach all subjects equally.

The mother of a special education student expressed skepticism about the adequacy of funding for special education after Whitney said funding levels would remain the same.

"It feels like pulling teeth just to ask for the simplest thing," she said. She said current funding is not enough.

In 1987, graduates with bachelor's degrees in economics, engineering, mathematics, and business had the highest earnings, and graduates in home economics, education, English/journalism, and liberal arts had the lowest, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Occupational Outlook Quarterly.
