TRIO OF HUNTERS each bagged a buck on the opening day of the deer firearms season on Monday. John Steele, right, got his four-pointer at 10:15, Bob Koenigter, left, got his eight-pointer at 12:30, and Don Koenigter, center, got his nine-pointer sometime between the other two. They were hunting near cornfields seven miles south of the village.

Electric Rates Drop For Village Industries, Others Stay The Same

In an effort to attract more industries to the village and to its electrical system, Village of Chelsea has lowered its industrial power rates by approximately 11 percent.

Village council took the action last Tuesday at its regular meeting.

Residential and commercial rates were not changed.

"These changes will be attractive to existing and potential industrial customers served by the village distribution system," reads an Electric Rate Study by consulting engineers Cummins and Barnard, Inc.

Industries will pay $8 per kilowatt for demand and 3.4 cents per kilowatt hour for energy, down from $9 and 4 cents.

The new rate comes with a new graduated penalty for inefficient commercial and industrial power users, a common practice among electric utilities, according to village manager Jack Myers. Current commercial and industrial users will be retrofitted with new meters that measure efficiency.

Despite the amount of industry in the village, few are hooked up to the village system. Hatch Stamping Co. and BookCrafters, Inc. in the industrial park are the major customers. Chelsea Industries, Inc., Chelsea Milling Co., Federal Screw Works, W.A. Thomas, and BookCrafters, Inc. main office are served by Consumers Power Co.

According to the study, under the new rates an industry that now has a $38,955 bill with Consumers Power would pay $38,250 to the village.

The study estimates that revenue from industrial power sales will drop 13 to 14 percent, or about about $75,000 under current conditions.

The study also showed that village commercial businesses pay about one percent less for electricity than businesses served by Consumers Power. However, those who use the least electricity in the village, about 500 kilowatt hours, pay five percent more than Consumers customers. Those who use about 1,000 kilowatt hours pay nine percent less.

Village Renews Contract For Local Bus Service

Unlike past years, Village of Chelsea's contract with the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority for round-trip bus service was approved with little discussion.

The one-year contract calls for a payment of $3,956. The village will pay $2,706, while Sylvan township has agreed to pay $800 and Lima township $450. This is the second year the townships have subsidized the contract.

The total local payment dropped

18.1 percent from last year's $4,830 payment.

According to the AATA, the drop in costs is due to the anticipation of increased ridership in Scio township along Jackson Rd. A route change was made in August to take the bus down the Jackson Rd. business corridor rather than Dexter-Ann Arbor Rd.

"We are picking up a lot more people," said Chris White of AATA.

"It made sense to put the bus where the people are."

Scio township, unlike all the other municipalities in the route, has not agreed to contribute to the contract cost. AATA is continuing discussions but White wouldn't speculate whether the township might ultimately contribute.

The bus serves Chelsea 10 times each weekday, with the first bus leaving Polly's Market at 6:43 a.m. and the last bus arriving at the Chelsea Depot at 7:20.

Chamber Begins Major Fundraiser

A $35,000 house package is the top prize in "A House Party" fundraiser for the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce in September.

The chamber plans to sell 1,000, $100 tickets, and clear about $33,000 when it's all over. The budget is $67,000, including prizes and promotions.

Each $100 ticket will admit two people to what is being billed as "A House Party" Sept. 23 at the Chelsea Community Fairgrounds. The party, in the planning stages since March, will feature entertainment, dancing, dinner, and Monte Carlo. Additional prizes include a large screen television, a VCR, and a cellular telephone.

The party and raffle are being presented without any contributions from the business community. Proceeds will be distributed in Chelsea for chamber endeavors.

Tickets are on sale at Cleary's Pub, Allie's Cafe, Chelsea Pharmacy, Palmer Ford-Mercury, Chelsea State Bank, Dayspring Gifts, Common Grill, Gina's Cafe, Arbor Nook Gift Shop, Knights of Columbus, Merkel Home Furnishings, Chelsea Lumber Co., Parts Peddler, North Lake Store, Uniglobe-Chelsea, and Faist-Morrow Buick, Olds, Chevrolet.

Tickets may be purchased by anyone, but only people age 21 and over will be admitted to the party.

The raffle winner may choose cash instead of house plans and materials. Advance drawings from a Chelsea shopping spree will be held Feb. 1, April 1, and June 1. Winners of the advance drawings will still be eligible for the grand prize.

For more information, call the chamber office at 475-1145.

School Board Tables Final Approval of Athletic Committee

The only item on Monday's Chelsea Board of Education agenda for formal approval was tabled.

The board withheld approval of the establishment of an Athletic Task Force when two members of the board were not present.

The task force will be an ad hoc advisory committee that will study athletic funding, facilities, and sports.

The meeting included discussion of the auditor's report, which showed no significant problems, and a general discussion of the district's substance abuse program.

Another discussion item included a comparison of school finance proposals by Gov. John Engler and state Sen. Debbie Stabenow.

Village OKs Tax Abatement

Hatch Stamping Co. of Chelsea has been granted a seven-year tax abatement for a new $967,000 stamping press.

Village council took the action last Tuesday.

The press will allow the company, which makes stampings and sub-assemblies for every major automobile company, to attract new business, according to company vice-president Ed Horodecki. It will also lead to 6-8 new jobs, he said.

Investigator on Hot Seat In Trial of Church Deacon

The Jackson county trial of Mark R. Foeller on child sexual abuse charges continued last week with accusations of police mishandling and this week with testimony by the church pastor.

In addition, one charge was dropped on grounds of insufficient evidence.

Foeller is accused of raping three boys at North Sharon Baptist church and on camping trips. He is a former church deacon.

Defense attorney Brian Thiede grilled Michigan State Police Det. Norman Maxwell about his testimony during the trial. Maxwell was asked why his testimony matched that of one of the boys but was different from Maxwell's report last year.

Thiede asked whether Maxwell was "just kind of making this up" so the stories would match.

Maxwell, one of two main investigating officers in the case, beginning in the summer of 1992, testified that two 10-year-old boys told him that Foeller raped them. Maxwell said one boy told him he was raped in 1991 in a bathroom of the church, and the other claimed Foeller raped him during a camping trip to Wolf Lake in Jackson county.

Maxwell also testified that one boy said the other witnessed his assault in the bathroom. But Thiede noted that the police report does not state that the boy mentioned a witness.

The boy testified earlier that the other boy witnessed the attack.

Thiede implied that Maxwell lied to make the boy's testimony more credible when he said the boy had told police earlier of the witness.

Maxwell defended his testimony.

Maxwell was also accused of failing to file a report on a child witness whose story contradicted one of the alleged victims. However, he said he thought a report would be made by a Jackson county sheriff's deputy since the boy lives in Jackson county.

Thiede also questioned Maxwell's credentials as an investigator. Maxwell has been a police investigator for eight years and has attended several seminars on investigating molestation cases.

The prosecution wound up its case with testimony by Clyde Owens, medical director of the Child Protection Team at the University of Michigan Medical Center, and Mary Gloria Gillespie, a Berrien county counselor who is a member of the state-wide task force on child sexual abuse.

Owens, who examined one of the boys several months after the alleged assault, said the boy's rectum looked normal. However, he also said damage to the rectum heals sometimes in as little as one week.

Gillespie said children are often reluctant to speak out about abuse and that they often given information slowly after several interviews.

However, she also said children can be coerced by adults to make false accusations, and that most often happens in child custody cases.

Monday, the Rev. Bill Winingar of North Sharon Baptist church testified during the first day of defense testimony.

Winingar noted that some accusations have the alleged crimes occurring in a basement bathroom in the junior church. However, the church's bathrooms are on the first floor. He said he tried to tell Maxwell on several occasions that what Maxwell was telling him was impossible. Winingar said that if he had evidence that would put Foeller in jail, he would turn it over to police. He also said he generally saw Foeller sitting in the same place during Sunday school and the service that followed.

Under cross examination, Winingar also testified that he once saw Foeller drying the underwear of a child in the men's restroom. He said Foeller told him the boy had an accident on the Fire Chief Asks Village To Consider Establishing Code

Chelsea fire chief Bud Hankerd has asked village council to consider adopting a local fire code so his department can make more thorough fire inspections.

The Chelsea department can make inspections under state law but can't enforce them. The state fire marshal has that power.

Hankerd told council that there are two hydrants at Village Plaza that he can't use because the couplings don't match up with his equipment. In addition, one hydrant is so low to the ground that it would be impossible to attach to it even with the proper fittings, he said.

Part of the problem is the department is not asked to approve building plans in the review process. The department only looks at site plans, which show the locations of hydrants. Building plans have precise specifications.

Another problem, Hankerd said later, is that the Chelsea Fire Department has equipment that is unique among departments in the county.

With a local fire code, builders would have to build to local standards, which could be enforced locally.

Village manager Jack Myers is gathering sample codes from other villages and cities.

Hunter Shot Early Monday as Deer Firearms Season Begins

A 32-year-old South Rockford man was shot Monday during the opening of the deer firearms season.

Scott Warrington was hunting on Bush Rd., one-quarter mile west of Pierce Rd., when he was shot by someone in his own hunting party at approximately 7 a.m. He was reported to have buckshot in his legs, stomach, and rear end. Warrington drove himself to the hospital.

Police said the shooting occurred in an area of high hunter density.

Fire Dept. To Purchase New Truck

Chelsea Fire Department plans to purchase a new fire engine for $215,995 from 4 Guys Co.

The village agreed to pay $109,433 up front in order to save $1,933 off the purchase price.

The truck, which will replace an old, similar vehicle, is scheduled to be delivered next summer.

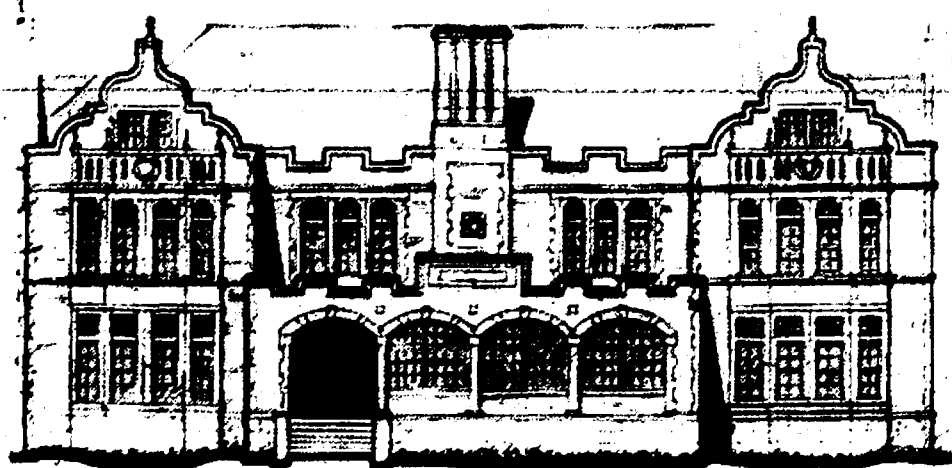

All governments within the Chelsea fire service area contribute to an equipment fund, which is used to purchase the new vehicles.

A wastewater treatment plant capacity study performed for the village says the village can increase its current flow by about 50 percent before the plant will be fully utilized. The study, performed by Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, was requested in October at the same time village council placed a six-month moratorium on annexing additional land. The study contains major policy implications as to how the village controls its short and long-term growth. The study, which by its nature has to make a number of assumptions, says enough capacity exists to serve all planned and proposed projects, including the entire industrial park, without expansion of the plant.

A proposal to raise village electricity charges by about 15 percent was tabled by village council at their regular Tuesday, Nov. 21 meeting. The proposal was contained in a study conducted by the Ann Arbor engineering firm of Cummins & Barnard, Inc. for the village. It was tabled after several members of council questioned whether the rate increase could be phased in over several years rather than hitting residents and businesses all at once. They cited recent large hikes in water, sewer and trash collection fees.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Why Our Children Fail in Reading

The U.S. Department of Education is catching on. A new report card says more than two-thirds of our school-kids fail in classroom reading and that—Surprise! Surprise!—it's because too many watch too much TV.

By Philip C. Clarke

The latest bad news followed earlier reports that few U.S. students can solve math problems requiring more than an educated guess, and that nearly half of all adult Americans can barely read or write. Now, we are told, two of every five fourth-graders, nearly a third of eighth-graders and fully one quarter of all high school seniors read too poorly to understand what they're assigned to read.

"If I have one message to parents today," said Education Secretary Richard Riley, "it is this: Slow down the pace of your lives to help your children grow." If parents will turn off their television sets, he added, "we will transform this nation." Now he's talking! As the Education Department's nation-wide reading-comprehension test of nearly 150,000 public school students revealed, those who scored the lowest watched up to six hours or more of TV every day. The children who scored the best watched three hours or less of TV daily. But the younger the kids, the more they sit glued to the "tube."

Some 20% of 4th graders said they watched TV six hours or more a day, as did 14% of 8th graders and 8% of 12th graders. Which may go a long way toward explaining why so many youngsters carry guns or knives to school and why there's so much teenage violence.

Studies have shown that by the time the average child graduates from elementary school, he or she will have seen more than 100,000 acts of violence on TV, including at least 8,000 murders. And a typical teenager watching TV sees nearly 14,000 sexual encounters each year. Likewise, graphic scenes of violence saturate the movies, the lyrics of top-of-the-chart rap music and even today's video games. There's no longer any doubt that all this exposure to violence is showing up in the nation's ever-rising crime rate. In his so-called Index of Leading Cultural Indicators, former Education Secretary William J. Bennett found that since 1960, violent crime has increased by 560%, illegitimate births by 419%, divorce rates by 400%, and that the rate of teenage suicide has gone up by some 200%.

Such shocking statistics explain why America is such a troubled society, and why attempts at reform are so painfully difficult. In Cambridge, Mass., not long ago, a 15-year-old was charged with murdering a college student during a mugging. After his arraignment in court, a reporter asked two of the teenager's classmates what they thought the punishment should be. One suggested "counseling." The other classmate, a girl, replied, "What's the big deal? People die all the time. So what?"

Such reactions are all too common. Among today's young people, says Boston College professor of education, William Kilpatrick, many have difficulty seeing any moral dimension to their actions or those of others. Kilpatrick, author of the book, Why Johnny Can't Tell Right from Wrong, traces this chilling attitude to a failed school system that some 25 years ago replaced "character education" and traditional moral values with what's called "decision-making." This, he adds, tells children to decide for themselves what is right and what is wrong. "It is time," says Kilpatrick, "to consign the fads of 'decision-making' and 'non-judgmentalism' to the ash heap of failed policies and return to the proved method of character education . . . Teaching right from wrong has as much bearing on a culture's survival as teaching, writing and science. Teachers do have the right—and duty—to teach basic morality."

Worth goals, indeed, but agonizingly difficult to reach in today's violence-drenched environment. The Education Department's report card found that students who did better on the tests had teachers who emphasized actually reading literature over doing standard workbook exercises. Students also had higher reading scores if they had at least weekly discussions with friends and family. Sound practices, to be sure. But for too many of today's public school youngsters, especially in the inner city neighborhoods, family life is non-existent.

Portage, Baseline Lake Water Level Being Lowered

Water level at Portage and Baseline Lakes is being lowered 12 to 15 inches beginning Nov. 14, according to Janis A. Bobrin, Washtenaw county drain commissioner.

Bobrin said that each winter, the lake level is lowered to reduce frost damage and erosion at the lake. In the winter homeowners in the Portage and Baseline Lakes areas are cautioned to prepare for the lowering of the lake level, which is co-ordinated with the closing of the MDNR boat launch facility.

church bus about an hour earlier.

Winger said that after the allegations were publicized, the number of children riding the bus dropped from 250 to about 60.

One of 12 charges was dropped by Circuit Court Judge Chad Schmucker after he ruled there was insufficient evidence to say a crime was committed. Foeller was accused of forcing one of the victims of engaging in oral sex.

The trial is expected to last up to two months.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle opened the session at the country store Saturday night with a reminder that it's never safe to assume everything that can be researched has been. He had a clip where a professor of medicine at the University of Kansas has weighed in with his study on halitosis in the work place. Specific, he reported on what bad breath has to do with job performances and promotions.

And, specific, Ed told the fellows, the doctor's findings kill the old line about halitosis being better than no breath at all. If your breath is bad enough, Ed said, and you want to get ahead bad enough, you're probable better off dead.

Serious, Ed went on, the reserch reported in the Journal of General Internal Medicine took note that bad breath was ground for divorce for Jews in Bible times, and it found that today's American Army that wants you to be everything you can be turns down people because of bad breath. It told of one high ranking company official that was forced to take early retirement because he refused to get help for his "breath malodor." What it all means, Ed said, is that we got a new persecuted group we might call the respiratory disadvantaged, and before this grows to a civil rights issue we got to do reserch on them that can't help it and need help and them that cause it and don't.

General, the fellows took Ed's report with a grain of salt, but Clem Webster agreed that Americans must be the most studied, reserched and analyzed people of all time, including the Old Testament's Chosen People. Clem said for all the money spent, the surveys took, the tests made and predictions worked out, he doubts that one of us is better off for any of it.

For instant, Clem recalled years ago when a study that included a survey of dentists showed that children of all future generations would suffer malocclusion, which means their front teeth would turn in from laying on the floor and propping their hands under their chins to watch television. Clem said he is yet to hear of a TV malocclusion, so he natural calls to question some of the other horrors caused by TV. He's waiting for the study of dental records of kids that burn houses and lay down in front of cars on the interstate because it looked like fun in a TV cartoon. If they include their IQ and how much attention they get at home he might put some truck in it, was Clem's words.

For sure, Bug Hookum added, our brains and our blood, our social and sex lives, our hearts and our habits have been studied top to bottom, in and out up one side and down the other, Bug said, and all it has got us is more things to worry about being or going wrong with us. The only one that made him better, Bug went on, was a Gallup poll that found 70 percent of Americans say watching golf on TV makes them sleepy. For onct, Bug said, he's in the majority.

But, Bug said, if the reserchers are picked at us they're letting the plants and animals rest. He saw where a scientist in England studied the sex life of spiders and found they showed "definite immoral tendencies." Bug took this to mean they wander in the wrong webs sometimes, but, with all our old and new worries, he saw it as a matter best settled among the spiders.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Parents of the bride are Wayne and Vikki Johnson of Dexter and David and Robin Vontom of Dexter. Parents of the bridegroom are Norm and the late Judy Farley of Chelsea.

Karen Vontom, sister of the bride, sang "There is Love."

The bride wore a mermaid style alencon lace with beaded bodice with off-the-shoulder puff sleeves and skirt and train of tulle. Her pearl and bow headpiece was made by her aunt, Linda Laraway. The bride carried a bouquet of white daisies and springeri.

Matron of honor, Diane Laraway-Reisinger of Dexter wore a royal blue, portrait collar sheath in a bangline. Her bouquet was freshly picked wild flowers wrapped in white satin and blue ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Sherri Johnson of Dexter, sister of the bride and Amy Nantell of Dexter. Emily Vontom of Dexter, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. Their gowns matched that of the matron of honor.

The bride's mother wore a Victorian style, off-white cotton and lace gown with pink flower accents.

Kimberly Vontom of Dexter, sister of the bride, served as flower girl and Austin Herter of Chelsea, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer.

Best man was Norm Farley of Chelsea, father of the bridegroom. Rob Long of Manchester, Jim Toon of Ann Arbor, the bride's brother, Dave Vontom of Dexter, and the bridegroom's cousins, Jerry Asher of Cumberland Gap, Tenn. and Art Farley of Chelsea served as ushers.

The bridegroom's aunt, Maxine Asher stood in for his mother in lighting the mother candle. She is from Cumberland Gap, Tenn.

A dinner reception was held at Romanoff's Hall in Ann Arbor. About 200 guests attended the reception given by the bride's mother and father.

The couple's honeymoon was held in the Smokey Mountains and Nashville, Tenn. They reside in Chelsea.

Amy is a 1990 Dexter High school graduate and Brian is a 1985 Chelsea High school graduate.

Additional Parking Spaces Available For Lake Access

Fisherman, hunters and other recreational users will enjoy eight newly constructed or improved parking areas in the Waterloo Recreation Area. These areas were graded, had six inches of processed road gravel added and compacted, and sloped to aid water run-off. Four of these parking areas include a swing gate for machinery access.

Three of the sites are located on Topith Rd., two are on Mt. Hope Rd., with others located on Reithmiller Rd., Waterloo-Munith Rd., and Morrisey Rd.

These sites were upgraded thanks to the Recreational Bond issue approved by voters in 1988. The work was completed by two local contractors in August and September 1993.

This improved access will make Little Portage Lake as well as thousands of acres of wooded land available to more people.

For additional information contact the Waterloo Wildlife Office at (517) 822-4097.

Bridge Marathon Play Continues at Chelsea Hospital

The Nov. 7 meeting of the Couples (Pairs) Bridge Marathon for the benefit of the Chelsea Community Hospital was held in the Woodlands Room of the Chelsea Community Hospital on Sunday evening at 6 p.m. Thirteen couples participated.

Winners for the evening's play were Joyce and Angelo Angelocci of Base Lake (Dexter) with a score of 4,110 for the 20 hands played. Larry and Eric Wiedmayer, of Grass Lake, were second with a score of 3,860; and in third were Dwight and Roberta Barstow, of Base Lake (Dexter) with a score of 3,800. Refreshments were brought by Loyal and Marian Joos, of Chelsea. The hospital donates the coffee and tea.

The same format will be followed as last year, using four scores to qualify for year-end prizes in this marathon event. A donation of $2.75 is contributed each evening they play, and a quarter is also added to be used for prizes for the night's play. Of course, the amount given to the hospital is tax deductible. Mixed pairs may play, so think about a partner for the coming season and give us a call for any further information: Marlene Rademacher (475-5121) or Roberta Barstow (428-3887).

The next meeting will be Sunday evening, Dec. 5, at 6 p.m. in the Woodlands Room of the Chelsea Community Hospital.

WINANS JEWELRY

TOO GOOD TO BEE TRUE. At least for one lucky beekeeper. Curt Winans decided to clean out an old beehive that had lodged upstairs in the ceiling over Vogel's and Foster's downtown. Employees noticed honeybees in the store during the summer but the activity had stopped. Curt found what he estimated to be about 100 pounds of honey-stuffed comb in the ceiling, as well as a lot of dead bees. When Curt came downstairs with honey in his hair and described what was happening, an alert shopper had the perfect solution—she'd get her beekeeper husband to come and take it away. He happened to bring his camera as well. Here, Curt poses with the sweet, and very sticky, cache.

JASON MIDA, a Beach Middle school eighth grader, helped out with last Saturday's First Annual Family Science Night at North school. Mida, a Boy Scout, worked in the biology area and showed off a number of skulls and bones. The evening, designed to promote science to youngsters, was sponsored by the PTN organization.

DANIEL ROBERTS experiments with a magnet and can lid during last Saturday night's first Family Science Night at North school. Roberts, a third grader, was among the many children who had the chance to explore the various branches of science through hands-on activities that were designed to demonstrate scientific principles.

Michigan Parents Helping Parents Now Meeting in Chelsea

Michigan Parents Helping Parents is now holding weekly meetings in Chelsea. The Jackson based organization is a peer support group for parents with acting out teens or pre-teens, which currently serves over 200 families in the Jackson area.

Chelsea meetings are held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. every Tuesday in the Faith in Action House.

Although the Chelsea meetings are being held at the request of the Chelsea School District Student Advisory Board, parents from all school districts are welcome.

MPHP provides a non-blaming environment where parents can begin to focus on and deal with their children's inappropriate behaviors. Parents at the meetings share child management and parenting ideas, and provide positive support for each other in their efforts to deal with difficult children. Parents are encouraged to set limits, impose consequences, and allow their children to take responsibility for their own actions.

In spite of all the drug education and the "just say no messages" delivered in our schools and by the media, over two thirds of our youth DON'T say no to drugs and alcohol.

Therefore, MPHP also helps parents recognize inappropriate adolescent behaviors resulting from the abuse of alcohol and other drugs. Parents who have successfully dealt with their own chemically dependent children are there to give incoming parents help and share their experiences.

For those parents unable to attend on Tuesdays, Parents Helping Parents also meets on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium room of Foote Hospital's North Building on E. Michigan Ave., Jackson.

There are no fees or dues at meetings, but free-will donations are accepted. Michigan Parents Helping Parents is a not for profit organization.

THE CHILDREN COULDN'T BELIEVE Brian Hickey could freeze inner-tube rubber so solid that it could shatter, but that's exactly what they saw at North school last Saturday night. It was all part of the school's first Family Science Night in which displays were set up depicting chemistry, physics, biology, and earth and space.

"Do not attempt to do a thing unless you are sure of yourself; but do not relinquish it simply because someone else is not sure of you . . ."

—Stewart E. White

We admire the man who approaches a task with quiet self-assurance. He may not always be certain of complete success but he is sure that he can give a creditable performance.

This should be our attitude toward the projects we face. Jobs that are too big, that demand skills or experience that we do not have, should not be attempted. But, once satisfied in our own minds that we can do the job, let no skeptic dissuade us with his unfounded doubts about our ability.

Arrangements in advance of need can be made calmly on the basis of factual information and unaffected by emotional stress. Let us explain the benefits to you.

Two Area Hunters Win Elk Permits

Two area men have been randomly chosen to participate in the state's elk hunt Dec. 7-14. Bryan Clay of Pinckney and Stanley Parr of Manchester were among the 185 Michigan residents who were chosen by computer for the hunt from among 41,420 applicants. Certified letters were mailed to all successful applicants.

Fifty-four of the hunters will be allowed to take either an antlered or antlerless elk, while 141 may take only an elk without antlers. Hunters have been notified which type of elk they may take.

This year's hunting area includes Emmet, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Otsego, Montmorency, Presque Isle, and Alpena counties. During three September elk hunts, 164 hunters took 120 elk.

Conference To Address Educating Kids with ADHD

Nationally recognized authorities will discuss how parents and educators can work together to ensure that children with ADHD have productive school experiences.

Bonnie Fell, immediate past president of the parent support group Children with Attention Deficit Disorder, will be the keynote speaker. In the late afternoon, Dr. Melvin Levine, M.D., nationally recognized authority on learning difficulties, will be explaining "Schools Atune," a program for training teachers to work with children who have learning difficulties. Also, Dr. Richard Baldwin, the Michigan Director of Special Education, will be speaking on the state's plan for educating children with ADHD.

Parents and professionals are invited to attend. A registration fee is required by Nov. 24. A continental breakfast and box lunch will be provided.

To register or for more information contact the WISD's staff development service at 994-8100, extension 1130.

By the year 2000, the aging workforce may increase the rigidity of the economy. An older, more stable workforce may adapt poorly to a rapidly changing economy. As the baby boomers reach their middle years, their willingness to pull up stakes in response to new opportunities will decline, according to "Workforce 2000," a U.S. Labor Department publication.

WATERLOO FARM MUSEUM: On two week-ends in September, members and friends of the Waterloo Area Historical Society gathered around Ted Micka for instructions, then spread out around the old barn at the farm museum to dig trenches, haul and wash stone, and mix cement. The result will be a true stone foundation when the work is completed next spring. Joe Hanna, WAHS board member, co-ordinated the effort. Micka, of Brooklyn, specializes in the renovation and restoration of older homes and barns. The patience, good humor, and skill of Ted and his wife, June, made the project a unique learning experience.

LIFE AFTER CATARACT SURGERY

Every patient who is faced with the possibility of undergoing cataract surgery is full of questions about what to expect after surgery. What are my chances of seeing well again? Will I have to change my glasses? I've heard that I won't be allowed to bend over or lift anything after surgery - is that true?

These are all good questions, and it's common to face cataract surgery with some apprehension. After all, your sight is at stake!

Cataract surgery has undergone remarkable improvements in recent years, and each patient has a high probability of recovering normal vision. An intraocular lens implant is usually placed inside the eye at the time of cataract surgery, replacing the cataractous human lens, so it's likely that your glasses will need to be changed after surgery. Most patients will wear glasses at least part of the time after cataract surgery.

Modern cataract surgery is much safer than that of a decade ago, and the risk of complications is much less. While there may be some minor restrictions placed on your activities in the early healing stages, most patients will be returning to their normal lifestyle very soon after surgery.

Local Man Recovering After Accident

A newlywed Dexter man involved in a Nov. 2 car accident is slowly recovering after surgery.

Mark Whitley of Dexter, who was married about a month ago to Laura Anderson of Chelsea, suffered serious injury when a car hit him from behind near his place of employment in Saline. The vehicle that hit his truck from behind was traveling 55 mph. Upon impact, Whitley's truck was pushed into an oncoming van which was turned upside down at the time of the collision, according to Whitley's father-in-law, John Anderson.

Anderson said Whitley and the driver of the van were rushed to University of Michigan Hospital. Whitley endured surgery in which a steel rod was inserted in his thigh to reinforce his femur. Anderson said the woman driver of the van is still listed in critical condition. Whitley's hospital stay lasted a week. He returned home Nov. 9.

The driver of the vehicle that rear-ended Whitley's truck was ticketed for careless driving. He received no injuries, Anderson said.

Whitley's mother, Garnet Whitley is taking care of her son while he recuperates. Anderson said Whitley will be incapacitated for at least eight weeks.

RESTAURATEUR Craig Common of The Common Grill presents a check to Donna Palmer, left, and Laurie Gravelyn, of the Festival of Lights Committee to cover the cost of holiday lights for the evergreen trees in the parking lot behind the restaurant. The trees will be lighted in blue in memory of merchants who were in business in the buildings now occupied by the restaurant. Those merchants include W.P. and John Schenk of Schenk's Department Store, John Glick of Glick's Store, M.J. "Andy" Anderson of Anderson's, and Henry Fenn and Lida Guthrie of Fenn's Drug Store.

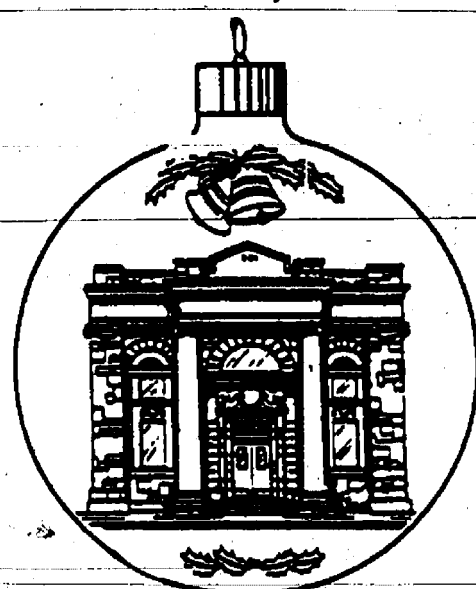

Chamber of Commerce Offers Limited Edition Ornaments

Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce is offering a second annual Village of Chelsea tree ornament. Proceeds from the ornament sale help to fund the annual Chelsea Festival of Lights. This year's Festival will be Friday, Dec. 3.

"Local merchants and service clubs have provided most of the funding for the past Festivals of Light," said Chamber director Ann Feeney. "But as the Festival grows, we need another source of revenue to finance the many activities that people can enjoy. When somebody buys an ornament, they are supporting our village, and they have a wonderful keepsake to show for it."

This year's ornament features a sketch of the 14th District Courthouse Building on the corner of Main and South Sts. It is a limited edition, and will not be offered again. There are also a few 1992 ornaments available with a sketch of the Clock Tower. Ornaments are on sale at Dayspring Gifts, Harper Shoes, and the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce office in the Sylvan Hotel.

Bulldogs Girls Finish Second in SEC Basketball

Chelsea Bulldogs girls basketball team finished second in the Southeastern Conference with a 10-2 record after beating the Saline Hornets and losing to the Pinckney Pirates last week.

The Bulldogs and Pirates were tied for the conference lead before last Tuesday. The Pirates had lost to the Bulldogs and Chelsea had lost to Tecumseh.

This time, however, Pirate Nicole Cushing put on a show in the second half to lead her team to a 41-25 victory.

Chelsea had a 20-17 half-time lead before Cushing took charge and scored 15 of her 23 points.

"We played a great first half, but Cushing came out and beat us in the second half," said Chelsea coach Charlie Waller.

She took the ball the first three times and scored. Once she decided to start driving to the basket, it was over.

Waller said the Pirates decided to apply defense pressure on the wings, which kept the Bulldogs from pushing the ball inside. The Bulldogs had just two baskets in the second half.

Meanwhile, Chelsea was called for numerous fouls in the second half as they tried to keep the Pirates from driving. Chelsea ended up 3-5 from the line for the night while the Pirates were 18-23.

Courtney Thompson had seven points to lead the Bulldogs, while Kate Steele and Annie Terpstra each had six. Laura Carty, Erin Schiller, and Mara Smith each had two.

"Kate had one of her best games and had a great first half," Waller said.

"She was really the difference." Friday evening at Saline Middle school the Bulldogs used dominant play inside by Terpstra to take a 46-31 victory.

"They were shorter than we were," Waller said.

"Annie had 21 points and they had no one to match up with her."

Chelsea took a 21-8 lead by half-time. The Bulldogs broke the press in the second half and got the ball inside to Terpstra.

Annie had an outstanding game and the rest of the team played good defense but offensively they didn't have much luck," Waller said.

Schiller had nine points, Steele six, and Charlotte Ziegler, Laura Carty, Jessica Inwood, Thompson, and Martha Merkel each had two. Thompson had eight rebounds and six blocked shots.

Chelsea finished the regular season with a 14-6 over-all record.

Chelsea bowed out of the district basketball tournament Monday night with a 45-42 loss in overtime to Brooklyn Columbia Central.

The Bulldogs, who beat the Golden Eagles during the regular season, scored just four points in the last seven minutes of the game, including the three-minute overtime period.

Thompson's field goal tied the game at 38 with 4:08 left. From there, turnovers and missed shots plagued both teams.

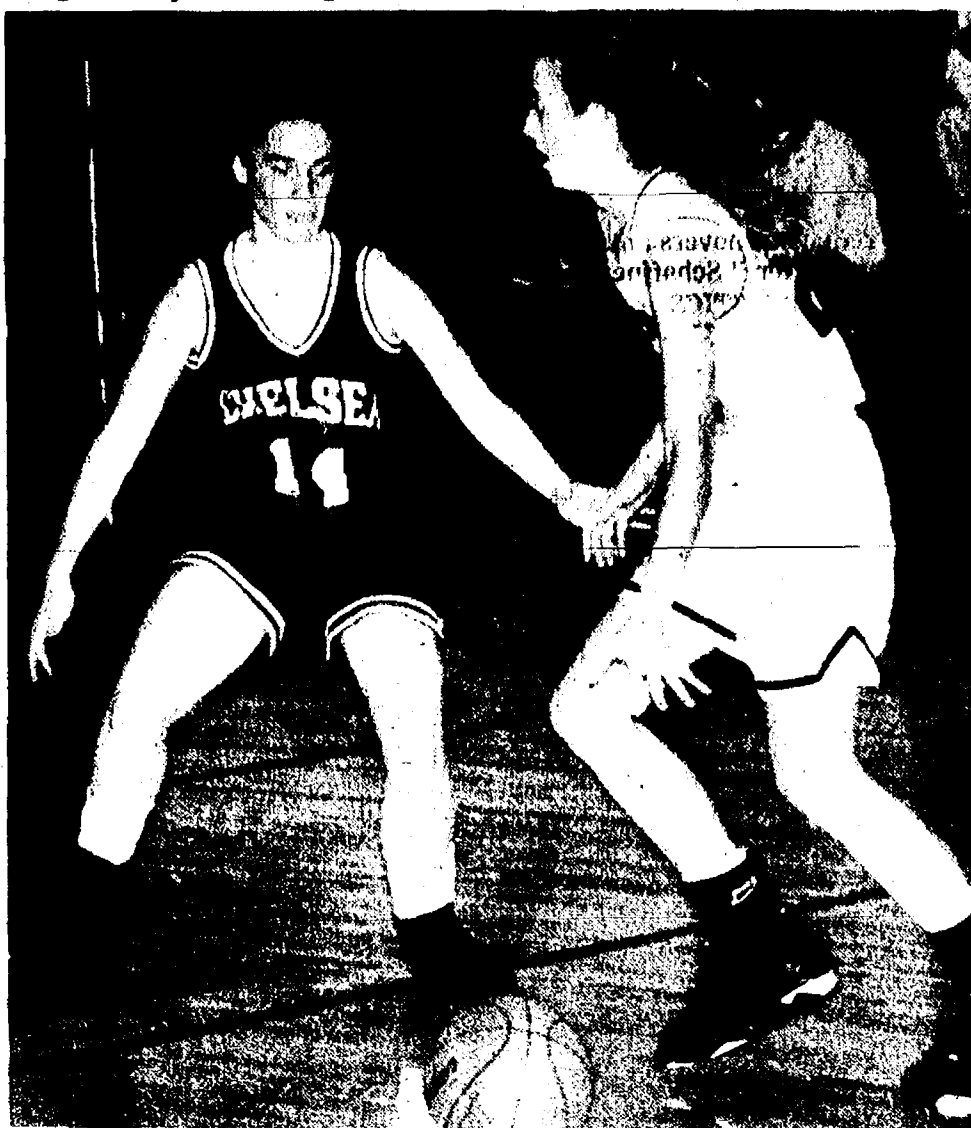

Central's Julie Slusher hit a three-point shot to put the Eagles up 41-38.

Thompson made one of two free throws to put Chelsea within two points.

The Bulldogs had a chance to tie but missed the front end of a one-and-one. On the other end, Lisa Green sank two free throws to put the Eagles up by four, 43-39.

LAURA CARTY drives toward the basket after making a steal near half court. Carty scored 14 points for the Bulldogs Monday night but it wasn't enough to keep the Bulldogs in the district tournament.

Carty then hit a dramatic three pointer from the wing to pull the Bulldogs within 43-42, but the Eagles' Bambi Carpenter sank two free throws, giving Chelsea one last desperation shot, which bounced off the rim.

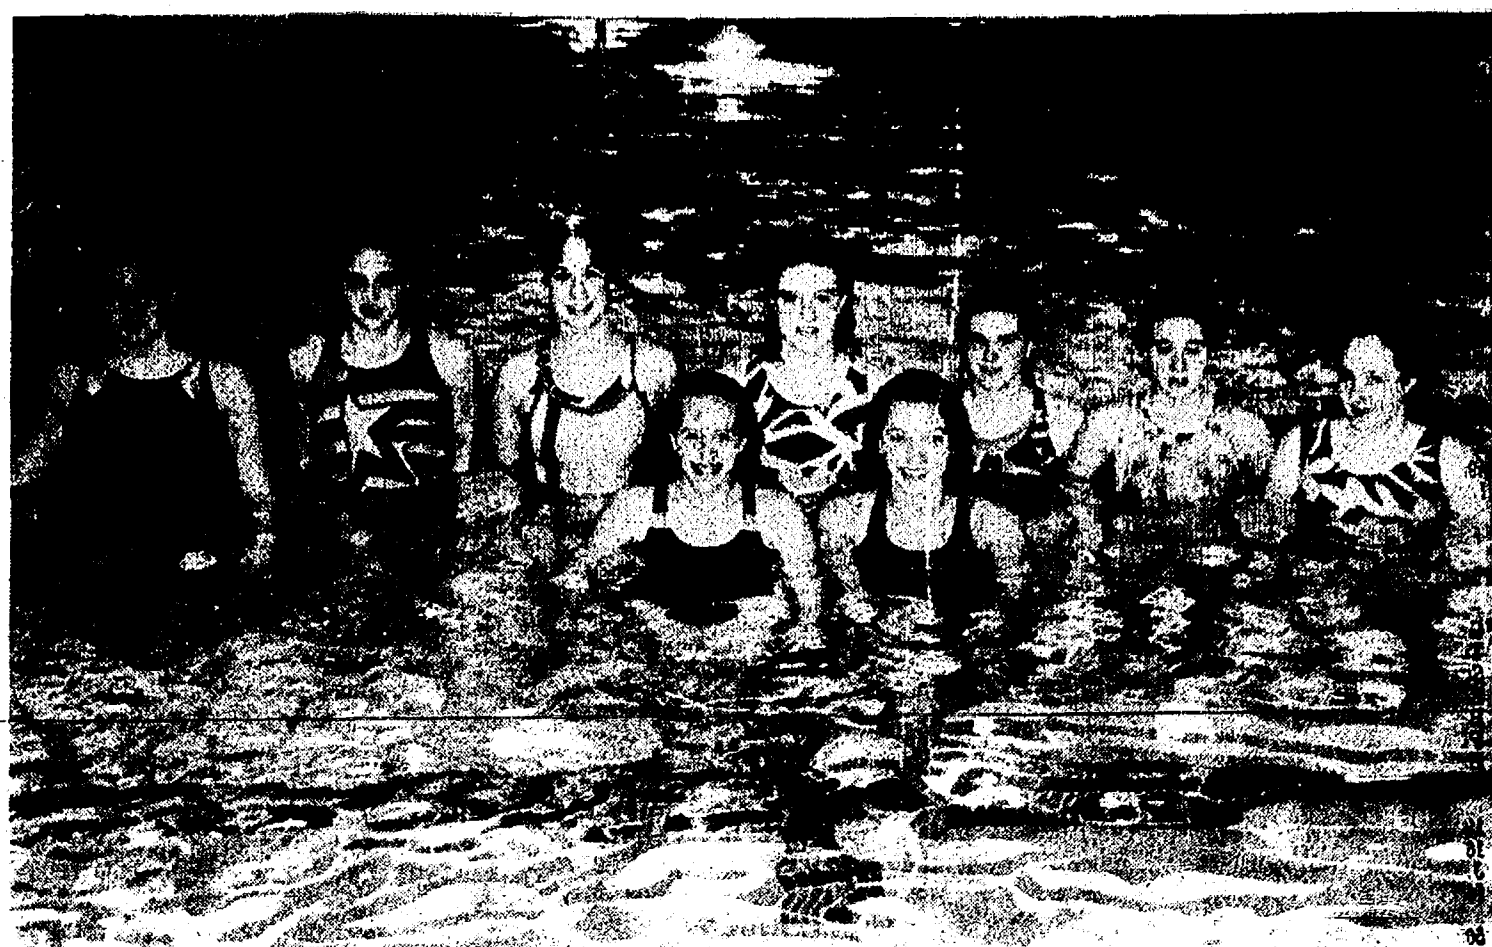

"Neither team out there was very good tonight," Waller said. "Defensively, they choked us off out front and stopped us from getting the ball inside. We couldn't design anything to take the pressure off our guards."

Waller said the youth and inexperience of his team showed and "the pressure really got to us. Our kids were not ready to play that kind of game. We came unglued."

Carty, Waller said, "played the game of her life, a sensational game." She had a team-high 14 points, including a pair of three-pointers. Terpstra scored 12 points, Schiller had six, Thompson four, Merkel four, and Ziegler two.

Chelsea finished the season with a 14-7 record.

The Golden Eagles will go on to play Tecumseh tonight in the semi-finals. Dexter plays Saline in the other semi-final. Both games are in Chelsea.

and Christie Lonskey, from right, were scheduled to compete last night at the diving regionals and could qualify as well. The meet is this week-end at Michigan State University.

Nine Chelsea Swimmers To Compete at State Meet

Nine members of the Chelsea Bulldogs girls swimming team will be competing at the state meet at Michigan State University this Friday.

Sophomore Erin Baird qualified in her first individual event, the 500 freestyle, at the Dexter Second Chance Shave Invitational last Wednesday with a time of 5:46.62.

Freshman Alicia Vogel qualified for the regional diving meet with her third place finish at the Dexter invitational.

"This meet was held to give girls a second chance to qualify for the state meet," said Chelsea coach Dave Brinklow.

"Erin just missed the state cut in

8th Grade Cagers Lose First Game

Beach Middle school eighth grade boys basketball team opened their season last Friday with a 42-24 loss to Saline.

Both teams played well the first quarter. Chelsea scored six quick points and ran their offense well. However, Saline kept pace and scored with precision passing to the inside.

Chelsea began to turn the ball over on offense and failed to stop the post move. They trailed 15-8 by the end of the first quarter.

The Bulldogs defense held Saline to seven points in the second quarter, but the offense couldn't take advantage and scored just two points.

"The third and fourth quarters were a repeat of the first and second with our defense allowing too many passes to key players inside and our offense not capitalizing on their opportunities," said Chelsea coach Jim Tallman.

Chelsea scorers were Ron Reilly 9, Chris Herter 4, Scott Basar 4, Justin Kivi 3, Bob Cooper 2, Mike Kolesar 1, Mike Pidd 1.

Other members of the team include Jake Bell, Chris Hatch, Luke Deikis, Rob Ellis, Sean Stickney, Joe Frost, Matt Adams, Nate Cooper, and Ryan Hubbard.

the Southeastern Conference meet, so I wanted to give her another shot at qualifying. She made it, and we ended up with Alicia qualifying for regionals as well."

Junior Betsy Schmunk will be competing in the 200 and 500 freestyle events and freshman Erin Hack will swim the 100 freestyle.

Schmunk, Hack, Baird, and sophomore Kelly Bowers will combine for the 200 and 400 freestyle relays. Junior Christie Lonskey will dive at the regional meet and will also be an alternate on the relays. Other alternates are freshman Cara Heitman, sophomore Stephanie Wesolowski, and junior Angie Wilson.

JV Cagers Win Conference After Two Victories Last Week

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team finished the season with victories over Pinckney and Saline to capture the Southeastern Conference championship.

The Bulldogs got revenge last Tuesday over Pinckney, 37-18, as Chelsea out-scored the Pirates 28-11 in the second half.

"We were able to shut down their offense," said Chelsea coach Paul Terpstra.

Chelsea scorers included Heidi Wehrwein 15, Kasie Ruhlig 8, Jessica Inwood 6, Michelle Lucas 4, Mellisa Carty 2, and Laurie Schiller 2.

In Friday's 50-27 win over Saline, Chelsea's pressure defense forced numerous turnovers. The Bulldogs out-scored Saline 27-12 during the second and third quarters.

Chelsea was led by Inwood with 16 points (8-12 shooting) and Wehrwein with 14. Other scorers were Schiller 6, Ruhlig 5, Carty 2, Lucas 2, Chrissy Hodgson 2, and Heidi Kémnitz 1.

The Bulldogs finished with a 15-5 record.

State's Young People Encouraged To Seek Career in Agriculture

Ask most people what they think is agriculture's most important resource, and they'll probably answer that it's water, soil, equipment or capital. In fact, qualified, well-trained young people are the farming industry's most important—and increasingly coveted—resource.

"One of things we hope to accomplish by holding our MFB Annual Meeting in Detroit Nov. 28-Dec. 1 is to encourage young people in southeast Michigan to look at agriculture and natural resources as viable career fields," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau. "Our Showcase of Agriculture will have many displays and resource people to explain the opportunities available in the future."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said that college graduates with expertise in food, agricultural and natural resources disciplines will experience a strong employment market through the middle of the decade. There is expected to be an 11 percent shortfall in qualified graduates for the available jobs. Marketing, merchandising and technical sales positions will be the most difficult to fill. Also needed will be qualified graduates in science, engineering and related specialties.

"Modern agriculture is more than just production farming," said Laurie. "It's a tremendously diverse and exciting industry that can offer dynamic opportunities to young people."

WORKING FOR AMERICA.

A pilot with the skill to land a jet on a rolling deck. A computer specialist who can fix a complex navigational system while hundreds of miles at sea. A cook who can prepare a delicious meal for 500 hungry sailors. These people aren't just good, they're the best. And it means more to them because they're doing it for their country. They're Navy people, working hard for America. And that makes us proud.

Winter tomatoes are often condemned for being mushy and tasteless. But it's not all the farmers' fault. The Florida Tomato Committee says those green winter tomatoes need to be treated with tender loving care and not be refrigerated until given time to ripen properly.

Sugar Concerns Allayed By Recent NAFTA Amendments

Michigan sugar producers no longer have to worry that the proposed North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) would allow Mexican sugar producers to have unlimited access to the U.S. sugar market. Michigan Farm Bureau said that concern has been eliminated thanks to the NAFTA sugar agreement with Mexico announced recently by the U.S. Trade Representative's office.

"The inclusion of corn sweeteners into the formula used to calculate whether Mexico would have complete access to the U.S. market allays the concerns of Michigan sugar producers," said Bob Boehm, commodity specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau (MFB).

Amendments have been incorporated into the NAFTA implementing legislation recently introduced in the House and Senate, according to Boehm. Under the "fast track" rules of debate over NAFTA, no other changes can be made in the legislation now that it has been introduced.

The House is scheduled to vote on NAFTA on Nov. 17. "We strongly support ratification of NAFTA," said MFB President Lack Laurie. "Farm Bureau has been joined by 13 other Michigan agricultural organizations, along with the Michigan Commission of Agriculture, in asking our congressional delegation to approve this historic agreement. We believe enactment of NAFTA will be a tremendous benefit to agriculture, Michigan's second largest industry," Laurie said.

Local Collectors Club To Organize

Area collectors will meet to organize a local collecting club. Dayspring Gifts located at 115 S. Main in Chelsea, is the club's sponsor. The organizational meeting which is open to the public, will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday Nov. 18 at the Common Grill. Refreshments will be served, and club guidelines will be established.

According to Veretta Whitaker, the club is being formed to bring together people who share a love for collecting and to provide a forum for them to share their joy in collecting with one another.

Membership benefits will include social and educational opportunities, a close link to Dayspring Gifts and to the collectible companies, and much more.

For additional information on the upcoming meeting, please contact Veretta, Carolyn, Michelle or Laurie at 475-7501.

Prohibition Exhibition Opens At Dossin Great Lakes Museum

During the Prohibition era, rumrunners loaded with contraband liquor faced across the Detroit River, often with federal, state or local law enforcement agencies in hot pursuit.

To commemorate the 60th anniversary of the repeal of Prohibition, Rumrunners & Michigan's Prohibition Navy, a special exhibition focusing on the work of federal, state and local law enforcement agencies as they tried to stop the flood of illegal liquor and beer across Michigan's waters, opens at Dossin Great Lakes Museum on Nov. 21.

When Prohibition went into effect in Michigan on April 30, 1918, and nationally in 1920, Detroit became a major hub for bootlegging efforts because of the relatively easy access to Canadian liquor via the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair. While the U.S. Coast Guard and Customs, Michigan State Police, Detroit Police Department and Prohibition Border

Patrol combed the waterways to stop rumrunning boats and ships, they could not prevent the extraordinary efforts made to import liquor.

Demand for liquor was high. The Detroit News estimated that in 1928 there were 12,000 Blind Pigs and 4,000 saloons operating in the Detroit metropolitan area, and that the size of Detroit's illegal liquor industry was 1/8 the size of the automotive industry.

Detroit was the center of a network of routes utilized by organized crime to transport liquor to Chicago, Toledo, Sault Ste. Marie and beyond; the growth of Detroit's notorious Purple Gang, the first Tommy gun murder in Detroit in 1927, and the 1931 Collingwood Massacre were directly related to the importation of illegal liquor. Competition within the organized crime syndicate was fierce. The hijack of a liquor shipment in Detroit by members of Chicago gangster Bugs Moran's gang led to the famous St. Valentine's Day Massacre in Chicago.

The "Rumrunners" exhibit is a lively and interesting study of the often ingenious efforts of illegal importers and the often futile efforts of law enforcement during the Prohibition era.

For more information, contact the Dossin Great Lakes Museum, 100 Strand Dr., on Belle Isle, at (313) 287-6440. Dossin is part of the Detroit Historical Museums, which include the Detroit Historical Museum, Historic Fort Wayne, and Historic Moross House.

Scholarship Available To High School Senior

Reston, Va.—High school seniors can compete for $149,000 in college scholarships, including a top award of $10,000, in Century III Leaders. Entry deadline is Dec. 10.

High school seniors in public, private, and parochial schools are eligible to enter Century III Leaders, which is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) and Sylvan Learning Centers.

Competition begins at the school level where students must complete an application stressing their community and school service and scholastic achievement, take a current events exam, and write a two-paragraph description identifying a challenge facing America in its third century.

School winners, named Sylvan Scholars, are eligible to compete at the state level. Two winners each earn $1,000 college scholarships and all-expense paid trips to the Century III National Conference in Baltimore, Md., this spring. A state alternate receives a $500 scholarship. Scholarships are provided by Sylvan Learning Centers.

"The 102 state winners have a tremendous opportunity at the national meeting," said Dale Hawley, director of NASSP's Division of Student Activities.

"They spend five days with some of America's top government, education and business leaders, discuss the challenges facing this nation, and make recommendations to solve those problems. It's a rare opportunity."

America's top student leader is also named at the national conference, receiving an additional $10,000 college scholarship. Nine national finalists each win additional $500 scholarships. "These high school leaders are some of our nation's best and brightest young people," indicated Douglas Becker, president and CEO, Sylvan Learning Systems, Inc. "When you meet the Sylvan Scholars, you know America will be in good hands."

Schools will receive entry materials by Nov. 22. Interested students should contact their school principals or guidance counselor.

Card of Thanks 19

THANK YOU
 Many thanks to the individuals who contributed to the Scott Hinderer fund. Lutheran Brotherhood's Friends in Fellowship Branch 8881, of Washtenaw County, organized this fund drive to help the family defray the expenses of a bone marrow search and transplant for Scott, to be performed at Detroit Harper Hospital. With the addition of Lutheran Brotherhood's matching funds, to this date the fund totals $11,167. Lutheran Brotherhood is a fraternal benefit society serving Lutheran families and communities nation-wide. Friends in Fellowship Branch is one of about 850 branches across the nation, which provides the network for promoting the spirit of volunteerism and for distributing funds for various programs and projects.

As a special invitation to experience our new "Grand Cafe" we're offering you the attached certificate good for dinner for two for just $20.

A REAL, LIVE SLOTH came to visit Suzanne DeVries' fourth grade class at North school on Monday. Steve Marsh (center) of the Species Survival Center, brought the sloth, as well as a python, to the class as part of a

Chelsea Music Students To Play In Michigan Youth Concert Monday

Six Chelsea students have been chosen to participate in the Michigan Youth Organization's Chamber Singers and Symphony Orchestra on Monday, Nov. 22 at 7 p.m. at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

The students passed a rigorous audition. They will be part of a 90-member orchestra and 50-member chorus consisting of the top performers in the state.

Tracy Dufek has been singing in the Chamber Singers under conductor Jerry Blackstone. The group will sing a wide variety of songs, including a modern but melodious "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson, several Scottish folksongs and a speaking chorus number by Ernst Toch.

Barney Culver, Ben Culver, Becca Flintoft, Sylvia Jorgensen, and Mark Wallace are members of the Michigan Youth Symphony, conducted by Michael Webster.

Webster has been a guest artist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Boston Pops, and the Boston Symphony.

The orchestra will play the Ninth Symphony of Czech composer Antonin Dvorak, often known as the New World Symphony. Dvorak often used folk themes of different countries in his music, and the New World theme echoes the American spiritual song, "Goin' Home."

It is considered an honor to play or sing with one of the Michigan youth groups, and the large Chelsea representation reflects well on the Chelsea music program.

The concert is free of charge and open to the public.
