INTERIM SUPERINTENDENT Howard Oesterling of Clinton (second from right) toured the school district Monday morning. Here he has the chance to meet some of the staff and students at North school. Adults, from left, are teacher Marcia Hansen, secretary Pat Musolf, Oesterling, and principal Bill Wescott.

THE REV. DR. LYNN SPITZ-NAHEL is the new leader of the congregation at St. Paul United Church of Christ in Chelsea. He comes from Illinois. He served as a social psychiatric worker at Ypsilanti State Hospital in the early 1980s.

The Rev. Dr. Lynn Spitz-Nagel Takes the Helm at St. Paul UCC

A former psychiatric social worker at Ypsilanti State Hospital started last week as the new minister at St. Paul United Church of Christ.

It's been an unusual road for the Rev. Dr. Lynn Spitz-Nagel, a Rochester, N.Y. native, since he served at the hospital from 1963-71. There he started out in the geriatric unit and ended as director of social work for one of the adult units. He eventually became director of mental health services for Allegheny county in Pennsylvania before making the career change.

"I've always been in the ministry in some way," Spitz-Nagel said.

"It brings another kind of dimension to counseling. It gives me the opportunity to be with people in the totality of their lives, during the hard times and the struggles, and to celebrate weddings and children and the successes they have—the whole scope of what it means to be human. A faith in God gives people the ability to deal with life in creative and powerful ways."

Spitz-Nagel met his wife—also named Lynn—while a student at Kalamazoo College. He went on to finish his master's degree in social work at Michigan State University.

After his time in UPsilahti and Pennsylvania, Spitz-Nagel attended Eden Theological Seminary in St. Louis, where he earned a master of divinity degree. He initially served a church in Northport, Mich., in the tip of the Leelanau peninsula. From there he went to Faith United Church of Christ in Matteson, Ill., where he spent the last 11 years and completed a doctor of ministry degree at the Graduate Theological Foundation.

One of the reasons he wanted to come here, Spitz-Nagel said, was his fond memories of the area.

"Things have changed drastically since we were here," he said.

The other Lynn Spitz-Nagel (The hyphenated name is the original. It is not a combination of names.) is an artist. She's a weaver and a fiber artist and specializes in three-dimensional, whimsical sculptures made of dog hair, wool, and other materials. Her works are displayed in galleries in Northville, Chicago, and on the west coast. She is also a violinist, who has played for orchestras in Chicago.

The couple, both avid runners, have two sons. Eric is a writer and playwright and works for Second City in Chicago. Mark works for the Board of Trade.

Spitz-Nagel takes the place of the Rev. Erwin Koch, who retired recently.

Chelsea City Committee Begins Process of Change

The re-formed Chelsea City Study Committee has had four meetings since the end of December in an effort to begin the process of transforming the village to a home rule city.

In deciding what the new boundaries of the city should be—one of the first steps in the process—the committee has adopted four basic rules.

- The boundary should be sufficient to allow for normal growth of residential, commercial, industrial, and recreational purposes for 20 years.
- The population density of the city should not greatly exceed current village densities.
- Undeveloped areas incorporated should be where the probability of development is high and it is practical to supply municipal utilities.
- The boundary should take into account natural boundaries and drainage basins.

It's possible the new boundaries would include a substantial amount of new land to the south, although the proposed golf course and housing development to the south of Old US-12 behind Polly's Market will probably be annexed to the village this year. The boundaries could go south of I-94, which is considered a likely area for development.

Land to the north near Vogel's Party Store may also be included, as well as land east in Lima township (including an area north of Dexter-Chelsea Rd. which has been proposed for a large development of inexpensive housing) and west in Sylvan township (including Chelsea Lumber Co. and the adjacent industrial park).

Committee member Ann Feeney said some landowners have asked to have their parcels included in the boundaries.

Data from the county, as well as SEMCOG (Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments) will be considered as boundaries are devised.

The process of converting to a city includes creating a petition which must be approved by the State Boundary Commission; circulation of the petition, which must be signed by five percent of voters; allowing the citizens the opportunity to request a referendum within 45 days; public hearings; election of a Charter Commission if there is no referendum; writing of the charter; and a referendum for approval of the charter.

Oesterling Arrives Here With Much To Accomplish As Interim Superintendent

Monday may be remembered as the day the Chelsea School District began to look ahead rather than dwell on recent history.

Interim superintendent Howard Oesterling of Clinton toured the school district Monday on his first day of work. He spent much of the morning shaking hands and introducing himself, with the help of assistant superintendent Fred Mills, to the staff at all four schools.

Oesterling, the out-going and personable retired superintendent of Whitmore Lake School District, will be formally hired next Monday when the school board approves a contract. He had planned to offer his services to the district even before the board announced it would seek an interim. He knew the late Joe Plasecki through his involvement in the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

"Joe was somebody who would listen to a lot of discussion and when he said something, people would listen because it would be a different idea or a new twist," Oesterling said.

Oesterling has a big job ahead of him. He'll be active in the search for a permanent superintendent, and he'll probably wade right in to union negotiations. The district's contract with the Chelsea Education Association, the teachers' union, expires June 30. And sometime before summer, the trial of Stephen Leith, the man accused of the murder of superintendent Joe Plasecki and making the hiring of Oesterling necessary, could begin to further complicate life.

The first order of business, he said, is to meet individually with school board members to see how they feel and what they expect.

"I will do anything I can to get the district ready for the next superintendent," Oesterling said.

"Anything I can do to help that process is why I'm here. This is an all-out commitment. When I leave, I want to look back and have the feeling that things are in good hands."

Oesterling will probably be here until at least July 1. That date is the board's goal for having a new superintendent in place. However, they also say it's an ambitious goal and Oesterling may be needed into the summer.

Oesterling has never served as an interim superintendent. He held the top job in Whitmore Lake from 1985 to 1993 after serving as principal of Clinton High school for 14 years.

However, he has worked as a consultant for Austin, Goldhammer, & Howard, which helps districts recruit superintendents. He said he'll start talking with the board next week about the process, which includes gathering as much information as possible from community organizations and residents about what qualities they'd like to see in the new school chief.

The district may also begin putting a new bond issue together for construction of an elementary school, renovation at the other schools, and implementation of the district's Technology Plan. Whitmore Lake was the first school system in the state to be hooked up with the TI-IN Interactive Satellite Program, which students use to take classes not offered in the district.

Oesterling, a former Teacher of the Year in Lenawee county, said coaching was initially his motivation for entering education. He was a football player, wrestler, and trackman at Adrian College and was eventually nominated for the school's Athletic Hall of Fame.

"Once I was in, I wasn't coaching for long," he said.

He started as a teacher in Adrian Public Schools, then moved on to

Nominating Petitions Due Feb. 7 For Annual Village Elections

Nominating petitions for the annual March village elections are due Monday, Feb. 7 at 4 p.m. at the village offices.

Voters will select a village president, treasurer, three village trustees, and two McKune Memorial Library Board members.

Available village government seats are held by president Richard Steele, trustees Richard Bigg, Joe Merkel, and Frank Hammer, and treasurer Katie Chapman. All incumbents, except Chapman, are expected to run again. All seats are for two years. Library board seats are for three years.

Council To Consider Options for Village Hall

Village council may decide whether to build a new village hall, renovate the current one, or some combination of both at their Feb. 8 meeting.

Village president Richard Steele asked council members to comment on the report at the next meeting.

Although no vote has been taken, recent discussion has focused on renovating the current building for the police department and building a new, smaller complex on Park St. for the village offices. Steele said the option of moving either department into another existing building has been all but ruled out as impractical.

Renovation for the police department would still be extensive, although most of the department could be contained on the first floor. The building would have to be handicap accessible, and it's still likely a small elevator would be installed. However, much of the upstairs could be used for storage.

There has been talk over the years of the village providing contracted police service to some of the townships, and the building would have room for expanding the force. In addition, Michigan State Police are looking for a place for a permanent post in Chelsea, and the building would be a logical site.

Hatch Stamping Gets Tax Abatement

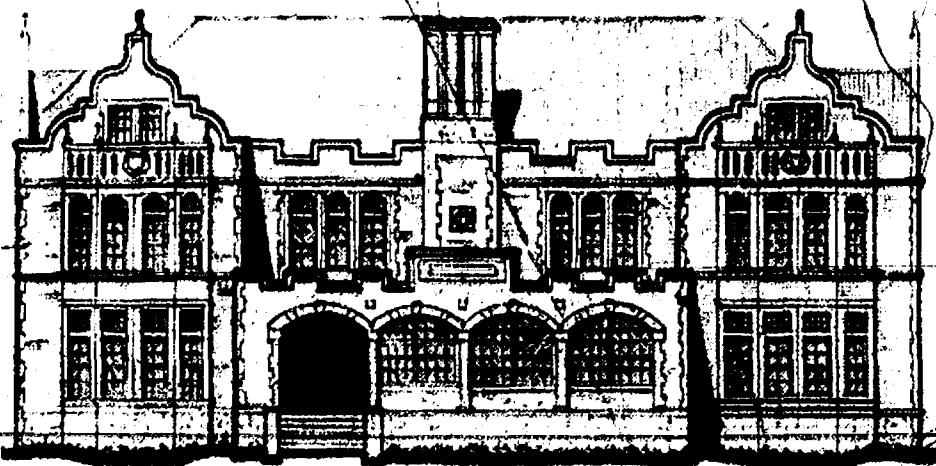

Hatch Stamping Co. has been granted a tax abatement on $1.5 million in new equipment for their Chelsea Industrial Park facility.

Company spokesman Ed Horadecki told village council last week that by 1997 the company will need to expand at the park. He said the current facility is already out of parking space because it has grown to 151 employees. He said economic conditions are favorable for growth over the next several years.

Hatch Stamping is an automotive supplier.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Coming: The 'Health Care Police'

President Clinton claims his health care reform proposal will create jobs. Critics are in agreement—at least in one area. They say it will create plenty of jobs for the "health care police" needed to enforce the reforms.

By Philip C. Clarke

The Administration routinely describes its health care reform plan as using market forces to reform health care while preserving freedom of choice among patients and physicians. However, a careful reading of the plan suggests something else is afoot. Actually, the Clinton health care plan is riddled with fines, fees, and even jail terms for those who transgress some of the numerous new rules and regulations.

As Bradley Smith, an assistant professor at Capital University Law School in Columbus, O., wrote recently in the Wall Street Journal: "These new crimes and penalties both raise significant issues in their own right and belie the Administration's claims that its plan relies on market incentives and choice." Adds Smith: "This plan is based on coercion, pure and simple, and lots of it."

According to Dr. Jane Orient, executive director of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, the Clinton health plan includes the word "mandatory" 24 times, "prohibit" 51 times, "penalty" 59 times, "obligation" 62 times, "enforce" 90 times, and "limit" 239 times.

Grace-Marie Arnett, president of Arnett & Co., a health care consulting firm, has produced a lengthy list of such crimes and punishments. Writing in the Washington Post, Arnett notes, for example, that the bill obliges all Americans to sign up with the newly created regional health alliances. These alliances, under the plan, contract with three or more health plans and offer those plans to residents living within the alliance area. Under the Clinton proposal, she adds, everybody is required to buy health insurance whether they want to or not. "Individuals, families or employers must pay their required premiums. Failure to pay can result in a fine of $5,000 or three times the amount owed, whichever is greater."

On the other hand, health plans are forbidden from cancelling coverage for those individuals or companies who fail to pay their premiums. Drug companies that do not provide cost information to Uncle Sam can be fined $10,000 for each offense. If the government finds an error in the numbers, the company can get fined $100,000 for each offense. Similarly, Professor Smith says, a self-insured employer can be fined up to $100,000 merely for failing to report financial information on a timely basis.

Private practice physicians also face new and cumbersome burdens under the Clinton plan. For example, state governments can determine what these doctors will be paid for any service they provide. If doctors don't like the payment they get, they are forbidden from withholding treatment, according to Arnett, the health care consultant. The plan, she says, treats this as a boycott and prohibits doctors from engaging in such a practice.

Under the plan, Arnett continues, paying a doctor for better health care becomes a crime punishable by fines and prison terms of up to 15 years. The Clintons, by the way, regard paying doctors directly for health care services as "bribery."

Further, if doctors fail to tell the government about every procedure they administer, or about every patient they see, the doctors can be fined up to $10,000 for each violation. And the health plan would make it a federal offense to engage in fraudulent activity against a health plan, with penalties ranging up to life in prison!

The plan also provides a new weapon for the health care police—asset forfeiture. Under the plan, any property related to any new health care "crime" can be seized by the federal government. Such asset forfeiture laws already on the books are proving troublesome, critics say. They cite examples of innocent citizens who have had their property seized for crimes they never committed. The money raised under the health care asset forfeiture rules can be used to expand investigations. This, Arnett and others say, would give those policemen an incredibly strong incentive to seize lots of property.

As Smith concludes: "Civil libertarians should be concerned about an act that provides direct budgetary incentives for prosecutors and investigators to pursue maximum asset forfeitures, and to bring marginal or even baseless charges in the hope of extracting quick settlements from defendants."

Why such draconian penalties in the Clinton health plan? According to Dr. Jane Orient: "Sick people can be desperate. Strong deterrents are needed to keep them from obtaining extra medical care." This is a scary thought that's certain to be raised when Congress debates the Administration's Health Security Act.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The sad fact is, Clem Webster told the fellows at the country store Saturday night, there's no end to it. It will grow worse as long as our court system puts up with it. In a county in Eastern Maryland the other day, Clem said, a farmer was sued by a man that dumped garbage in the farmer's land.

The farmer got tired of folks using woods close to the road as a trash dump. He made a sign that said "No Dumping Violators Will Be Persecuted" and put it up. There was some letup, but this one fellow kept leaving his garbage twice a week regular. So the farmer went through the stuff, found his name on a receipt, went to his house and told him to quit.

They had some hard words that led to the farmer indicting the fellow for littering and trespass. The fellow got a lawyer that found a loophole. The farmer's sign was "misleading to the point of encouraging" the use of his land for a dump. Wherefore, the party of the second part, to wit the farmer, was at fault, and he ought to pay the fellow for the mental anguish and embarrassment he suffered.

However this case came out, Clem said, education will be the loser. Somewhere in the proceedings, somebody will say the whole unpleasant business could have been avoided if the farmer had punctuated his sign proper. If anything is as certain as piddling lawsuits clogging the courts, he allowed, it is the conviction that education can fix whatever is broke in American life.

The fellows were agreed that schools are expected to deal with more social problems than they can handle. But Ed Doolittle pointed out that doesn't excuse some of the flap in the papers. For instant, Ed saw where a math teacher in Delaware was fired because she failed to many students. The administration policy in public education is push the people through the system, Ed said, so you're bound to have chickens coming home to roost.

And come they do, he went on. He had a clip where the University of Virginia is trying to stop a company from selling notes to classes for $75 a set. Some of the classes have 1,000 students, and attendance is not required. Give the choice, Ed ask, will a student skip class or hit his folks up for the cost of the notes. Instead of helping the students, he said, the university is fighting a lawsuit by the notes company that says bad publicity is keeping it from expanding all over the country.

Practical speaking, declared Zeke Grubb, the court system, public education and Government are scapegoats of our making. The truth is, we go out of our way to confuse one another up and down the line for business, personal or other reasons, and then we pass the blame to somebody or somepun else. For instant, Zeke saw recent where "negative option billing" has been challenged in court by a housewife in Denver that figured it out. Unless a customer specific refuses a service he doesn't even know is an option, he will get it and be billed for it by his telephone and cable TV companies.

At least when you look at the sticker on the car window, Zeke said, you know what is extra, even if everything but the shell and four wheels is.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Modern Mothers Receive Tip on Decorating, Cooking

On Jan. 11, members of Modern Mothers Study Club met at "Changes" of E. Middle St. The owners, Tara Gembarski and Colleen Miller, provided an introduction to the world of interior decorating and the role of themselves when working with a homeowner. Many tips, particularly window treatments, were garnered by the members.

Following the presentation, a business meeting chaired by president-elect Katrina Thiel was held at "Allie's." Members enjoyed beverages and desserts while discussing agenda items. Details of the annual auction were given by treasurer Patty Roberts who noted the auction was again a successful fund-raiser. Hostesses were Lisele Bowers and Barbara Pruess.

Jack Wang of "Chinese Tonite" demonstrated three forms of dumplings at the Jan. 25 meeting, hosted by Debbie Weirauch, Colleen Weddon, and Terry Pirrong at Beach Middle school.

Following the lively presentation, there was an informal business meeting when the group was informed of upcoming changes in current officers due to a leave of absence request for the president and a change in status of the president-elect. It was determined that the Feb. 8 meeting will be geared to discussing the future of the club including meeting frequency, attendance requirements, fund-raising efforts, etc. Members are encouraged to attend.

Washington Street Show Choir Preparing for Sold Out Concert

The Washington Street Show Choir will play host to show choirs from Niles and Grosse Pointe, this Saturday evening at Show Case '94.

This marks the third annual performance of Show Case and it promises to delight the capacity audience. Director Steven P. Hinz remarks, "We feel very honored to have such appreciative audiences here in Chelsea. The support for the Choir has been wonderful and it makes us want, just that much more, to put on a spectacular show for everyone. And while it's always great to perform to a sold-out house, we're investigating other options for next year so that everyone who wishes to can come to see us."

The Washington Street Show Choir is in its fourth year, having been founded by Hinz, vocal director for Chelsea Schools, in 1990. As anyone who has seen the Choir perform can attest, they are a high-energy song and dance group. That energy and sound is provided by the 35 singers and dancers who practice their vocals and the intricate choreography tirelessly. But it takes more than performers to have a show, so the sound control, lighting and props are handled by the seven tech. crew members and technical director Brian Myers. Lisa Hinz-Johnson is the group's accompanist and leader of the three member band.

The Choir is an extra-curricular activity that requires approximately four to six after-school hours each week for the 45 high school students involved.

On Feb. 11 and 12, the Washington Street Show Choir will be travelling to Mooresville, Ind., to take part in their first Show Choir competition. Approximately 40 Chelsea parents will be in the audience at the competition to cheer on their children. Says Hinz, "The competition is an all-day performance with 32 choirs participating and the atmosphere is absolutely electric. These are high caliber choirs performing for each other and in this way they share their talents and learn from one another. The opportunities available there are unique to festivals and competitions such as this one."

Additional upcoming musical events include the Middle School and High School Choir Concert on March 17, CHS's spring musical "The Boyfriend," directed by Roxy Kring, on April 21, 22, and 23, the Washington Street Show Choir's "Cabaret" on May 13 and 14 and the High School Music Concert on May 28.

Howard Oesterling

Maurice Spear Campus, a school for juvenile delinquents in Lenawee county. During his time there, he completed advanced degrees in public school administration at Eastern Michigan University.

In 1971 he became principal at Clinton High school. Chelsea High principal Ron Mead vaguely remembers interviewing with Oesterling while he was looking for his first job.

Monday night, Oesterling attended a meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea. He was a Kiwanian while in Whitmore Lake, where the chapter held some kind of event almost monthly. He's also been active in the United Way, Clinton United Methodist church, Clinton Rotary Club, Lenawee County Sheriff's Posse (Mounted Division), and hunter education for the state. He's an avid hunter.

Although he's officially retired, Oesterling has spent much of his time recently renovating the former Peerless Gear Union Hall in Clinton, which he purchased. He plans to rent it out for wedding receptions and other events. So far, 21 couples will celebrate there this year after saying, "I do."

Oesterling and his wife, Betty, an elementary school teacher in Clinton, have two daughters, Kim and Tara.

Despite concerns about foreigners buying up U.S. farmland, foreign holdings have remained steady for the last decade at about 1 percent of total privately owned agricultural land. The Department of Agriculture says that about half of the reported foreign holdings is actually land owned by U.S. corporations, who must register their landholdings as foreign if as little as 10 percent of their stock is held by foreign investors.

Council Helps Cable Station To Expand Services

Chelsea cable access television channel 22 will soon have equipment that will allow key agencies to communicate the latest information of general interest.

Village council agreed to pay for an additional telephone line for the station, which is set up in the back of Serendipity Books on Park St.

That, combined with custom software provided by station operator Alex Weddon, will allow agencies, such as the Chelsea School District or Chelsea Police Department, to enter their latest information.

The system could have come in handy last week. Once the decision was made to close school, that information could have been relayed almost instantly to television via a modem at the school. The police department could enter information about road conditions, for example.

The way the system operates now, Weddon has to enter everything at the computer terminal in town.

The upgraded system has plenty of potential, especially for the school district, where organizations or groups could provide a host of information.

Girl Scouts

DAISY TROOP NO. 82

At the January meetings, the troop began learning about the world around them and understanding relationship concepts.

On Jan. 10, treats were brought by Amy Newland and the girls drew pictures of themselves as one idea of what they could be as an adult: Jessica Fedele and Lindsey Kindt envisioned themselves as teachers, Sara Iverson and Amy Newland drew themselves as policewomen, and the idea of being a cow-milking person intrigued Lizzie Wilkinson.

At the Jan. 24 meeting, the Scouts discussed healthy foods and read together a topical Berenstain Bear book. Height measurements of girls present were taken and will be retaken and compared at year end. Daisies also traced each other's outlines for coloring at the next meeting. Lizzie Wilkinson provided the snack.

Village Hall

The new building for the village offices could probably be held to two floors (counting the basement), and it would include a council chambers. Council now meets at Sylvan Town Hall.

As of last week's council meeting, only one person had stopped in to examine the Space Needs Study recently completed by architect Lincoln Poley. The report concluded that the village would be better off if it does not try to renovate the current building for both the police department and village offices.

"Happiness and misery depend not upon how high up or low down you are. They depend on the direction in which you are tending."
 —Samuel Butler

Our happiness or lack of it does not depend on the level we have reached in the social or economic structure. What really matters is the direction in which we are moving.

The down-and-out derelict who sobers up long enough to realize how he is wasting his life and to resolve to change his ways, is tending upward. The realization may make him very happy. The highly placed politician who accepts his first bribe is tending down. He cannot deceive himself, and he should be miserable. The secret of happiness is to be sure we are always tending upward.

We can arrange for a religious ceremony even for those who have no regular church affiliation.

TEACHER ERIC SMITH'S ROOM at North Elementary school is well-known for having plenty of objects to touch, read, and examine. Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
I would like to tell the Girl Scouts in the Chelsea area how much their Community Work was appreciated by an elderly shut-in.

After my hospital stay I had home meals delivered, at Thanksgiving and Christmas time included were colorful place mats made by the Girl Scouts. The place mats added a bit of cheer to my meals. Thank You to the troops who made them, they were much appreciated.

Kathleen (Katie) Chapman.

To the Editor,

On Valentine's Day, and throughout the week of Feb. 13-19, the Ann Arbor Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Medical Center, in conjunction with the 170 other VA facilities, will celebrate the National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans. On behalf of our entire VA staff, I invite our Ann Arbor neighbors and the residents of the surrounding Washtenaw, Wayne, Livingston, Monroe, Jackson and Lenawee county communities to celebrate with us.

We have scheduled a variety of activities designed to honor our veteran patients' service and sacrifice. Your readers can join in this observance by visiting with hospitalized veterans, many of whom are elderly or far from home, family or friends.

The purpose of the National Salute is to recognize these hospitalized veterans for their contributions to the Nation, and to show our neighbors what a difference they can make as volunteers at the medical center. A wide variety of vital work is being done by volunteers at the Ann Arbor VA Medical Center and its Nursing Home Care Units.

We hope that your readers will make this Valentine's Day special by bringing a personal thank-you, or by sending a Valentine card (mailed to: Staff Assistant to the Director (00A), VA Medical Center, 2215 Fuller Rd., Ann Arbor 48106).

For further information or to schedule a visit, we ask that readers contact Voluntary Service at (313) 769-7100, extension 5880.

Edward L. Gamache,
Director.

Transfer Station Closer As Council Takes Action

Village council last week took another step toward the construction of a trash transfer station at the Chelsea Solid Waste Facility.

Council voted unanimously to pay a $16,500 application fee to the Washtenaw County Department of Public Works, which will be used for county review of the project, as well as advertising for several public hearings, the first of which is scheduled this Monday at Sylvan Town Hall. Village manager Jack Myers said it's likely not all of the money will be used.

Council also passed a resolution to establish a building authority for the project.

Solid Waste Committee Chair Frank Hammer said three townships—Lyndon, Dexter, and Lima—have given their blessing to the project. One or more of them are likely to join the authority.

Hammer outlined last Tuesday how the village is likely to make at least $26,000 annually with its own transfer station. He also presented figures to show how a proposal from private hauler, Mr. Rubbish would not be economical in the long run.

The Mr. Rubbish proposal calls for the installation of a scaled-down facility with a compactor that would only handle uncompacted trash. That means the village would have to haul trash from the weekly village pick-up to the Mr. Rubbish facility near Whitmore Lake.

Hammer concluded after analyzing the numbers that the village would lose anywhere from $84,000 to $93,000 annually depending on the details of the agreement with Mr. Rubbish. However, the village would not have an annual bond payment to make, which would total about $52,000.

With a village-owned station, Hammer estimated total annual expenses of $194,000 and revenues of $168,000, based on handling 14,000 yards household trash. Those figures do not include the annual bond payments for 15 years. A millage will be levied to pay off the bonds.

Council has authorized a bond issue not to exceed $525,000. Construction may be able to begin in April.

into new, larger quarters in the old recreation building of the Glazier Stover Co., which has been occupied by Chelsea Grinding Co. The move will triple the office and shop space available to the paper, and also provide ample storage. The Standard could not expand in its E. Middle St. location.

Leon Shutes has withdrawn from his nomination for village president by the Independent Party caucus, leaving People's party incumbent Donald Alber unopposed for reelection.

Alan Conklin, head football coach, has accepted the trophy which symbolizes Chelsea's grid championship in the Washtenaw Conference and presented it to his team. Co-captains Roger Herman and David Rowe accepted the emblem on behalf of the squad, which had a 6-0 mark in league play.

Chelsea Hospital Sponsoring Dance for Heart Fitness Event

Chelsea Community Hospital's fitness instructors are busy planning for the Hospital's first annual Dance for Heart event which will take place Feb. 13 in the Chelsea High School Gym from 2 to 4 p.m. The dance-exercise extravaganza is sponsored by Chelsea Community Hospital to raise funds for the American Heart Association's cardiovascular research and education programs.

Dance for Heart demonstrates dance-exercise as a benefit to cardiovascular health and the AHA. According to local Dance for Heart chairman, Julie Vorus (Chelsea Community Hospital fitness co-ordinator), "Dance-exercise is a popular activity because it emphasizes fun and fitness. Participation isn't limited by age, sex, or shape so anyone can try it. Through Dance for Heart, we have the opportunity to help in the fight against heart and blood vessel diseases, as well as show that dance-exercise is fun, easy, and heart-healthy."

Dancers collect donations from friends, family and co-workers. Each dancer can win prizes based on the amount of money collected. Event participants are also encouraged to bring canned goods to be used as hand-held weights during Dance for Heart. These canned goods will be donated to Faith in Action.

During the event intermission, attendees will be treated to a demonstration by "Heart Beats."

Michelle Engler To Address Republican Lincoln Day Dinner

Washtenaw county Republican chair David Fantera has announced Michigan's First Lady, Michelle Engler, will address the county party's annual Lincoln Day Dinner. The dinner will be held Tuesday, Feb. 22 at Weber's Inn beginning at 7 p.m.

"Michelle is coming to Washtenaw county to discuss 'promises made, promises kept,' the record of accomplishment of the first three years of the Engler administration," said Fantera.

As First Lady, Engler has chaired the Michigan Community Service Commission. This commission, created by the Governor, encourages community service and volunteerism across Michigan. The 21-member panel is currently developing a plan to encourage young people in Michigan to make personal commitments to human service.

Additionally, Engler has taken a leading role in promoting the Michigan Harvest Gathering. This is a collaborative effort between the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the private sector to support the Food Bank Council of Michigan. During its first two years, the Harvest Gathering helped collect 700 tons of food and raise over $500,000 to help those in need in Michigan.

Engler's other activities include, spokesperson for the Children's Trust Fund, Board of Directors of the Michigan Campaign for Volunteerism, and the Michigan Caring Program.

Mrs. Engler recently received the Northwood Distinguished Women's Award at a ceremony in Houston, Tex. The award is presented by the Board of Trustees of Northwood University to women of "outstanding leadership and achievement" from across the nation.

Since her marriage to then Governor-elect John Engler in December of 1990, Mrs. Engler has joined the law firm of Varnum, Rider, Schmidt & Howlett part-time in their Lansing office. Michelle Engler is Michigan's first First Lady to hold a law degree which she received from the University of Texas School of Law.

ESTATE PLANNING

By Ronald Sharp, BBA, J.D.

Estate planning is the process of arranging your personal affairs so that upon your death your heirs will have the fewest possible expenses for taxes and attorney fees and the least possible court involvement so that your assets can be transferred as quickly and easily as possible.

For most people a simple will is the extent of their estate planning. But having a will does not always save time or money in an estate. Having a will does not avoid probate. A will is simply your written instructions to the probate court as to who will get your property and in what manner.

A complete estate plan will include analysis of joint ownership, beneficiary designations, a properly prepared will, powers of attorney and most likely a Revocable Living Trust.

A trust allows you total control of your property during your lifetime and unlike a will, immediate transfer of your assets to your heirs at your death - with no court involvement. The cost and time savings can be substantial. Additionally, for a married couple, a simple trust can save thousands of dollars in estate taxes, depending upon the amount of life insurance and other assets.

A trust is a useful planning device for anyone who has property to leave to heirs. The cost to set one up is small in comparison to the benefits derived.

Presented by Ronald Sharp, Attorney, Specializing in Trusts, Probate, and Estate Planning. Call for appointment 426-0420. 8099 Main Street, Dexter

Final Preparations Are Underway for 'Godspell'

Chelsea Area Players continue to be hard at work to bring out another great production. "Godspell" will be presented Feb. 9, 10, 11, and 12, at St. Mary's School at 8 p.m. Since the seating is general admission for this show, CAP will open the house doors at 7:30 p.m.

The rehearsal schedule has been grueling for this show with the cast being required to practice for hours each and every day, including weekends.

It is amazing how a group of people can come together without knowing each other and put on such a performance, according to publicist Mark

Nelson. "A real sense of family develops very quickly among the cast and all the work becomes worth it when you hear the applause."

Aside from the actual scenes and lines which are rehearsed over and over, there is the music. Music for "Godspell" is very upbeat, lively and moving. Many songs will be recognized from this musical. Orchestral/music director Steve Dedoes has done a wonderful job of blending the vocal parts into ensembles that promise to really move the audience.

Tickets are still available for most performances at Chelsea Pharmacy or by calling Cindy Gaken at 475-0754.

WISD Administrator Leaves for Nashville

Washtenaw Intermediate School District's (WISD) Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Associate Superintendent for Business and Support Services John Dietz, effective Feb. 9.

He is leaving the district to become the Director of Business Services for the Metropolitan Nashville Public Schools. In his new position, Dietz will work for another former school administrator from the area, Dick Benjamin, the former superintendent of the Nashville Schools for about a year.

Dietz leaves WISD after 16 years of service. He began his WISD career in 1978 as the Administrative Assistant for Special Education Planning, Monitoring and Data Collection. He was named Assistant Superintendent for Personnel and Business Operations in 1984 and Associate Superintendent for Business and Support Services in 1993. He begins his new job on Feb. 15.

To fill the void left by Dietz's departure, the WISD Board is seeking a Director of Business Services. In a cost cutting measure, the new director will assume the business office and building and grounds duties previously carried out by the associate superintendent. The remaining duties from the associate superintendent's office will be redistributed among existing administrators. This realignment follows WISD procedures requiring review of all vacant WISD positions to determine if they should be refilled. WISD is a regional, education service agency that works with the school districts of Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Lincoln, Manchester, Milan, Saline, Whitmore Lake, Willow Run, and Ypsilanti. Its goals are to help these schools deliver the best possible education for learners through leadership, cooperation, and quality educational programming.

ICE STORM last Thursday made roads treacherous in the area. However, Chelsea Fire Department didn't have a single call to a major crash. However, school was cancelled for both Thursday and Friday as buses couldn't handle many of the dirt roads.

EVERYTHING was glazed over by a sheet of ice last Thursday after an ice storm went through the area. It made conditions treacherous for pedestrians all over town. This is the sidewalk next to the Chelsea Depot.

Let's Go Bulldogs!

Varsity Cagers Lose To Hot-Shooting Saline

The Bulldogs took a ride on a roller-coaster last week as they were at the height of their game last Tuesday against the Lincoln Railsplitters but sank to the depths on Friday in a key Southeastern Conference game against the Saline Hornets.

First, the bottom.

The Bulldogs, tied with the Hornets for the league lead going into Friday's contest, were thoroughly whipped at Saline by the emotional Hornets, 71-49. The loss moves the Bulldogs into a second-place tie with Tecumseh. Saline plays at Tecumseh this Friday. The Bulldogs play there later this season.

At the outset, Friday, there was no clue as to what would eventually transpire. Chelsea jumped out to an 8-2 lead on the strength of two three-pointers by Pat Steele, but the teams were tied at 17 at the end of the first quarter. It was a tight, well-played game by two first-place teams.

Then the coaster cars began their descent in a hurry. Turnovers, fouls, and some torrid Saline shooting enabled the Hornets to out-score the Dogs 27-9 in the second quarter. For the quarter, the Hornets were 9-12 from the field and 8-11 from the line.

"It was a big game for them at their place," said Chelsea coach Robin Raymond.

"Their inside game made the difference. The first time we played (a 67-59 Chelsea win) we dominated them inside. Bill Gladhill had three points." This time Gladhill had 20 points and scored several times off offensive rebounds. Saline had 20 offensive rebounds.

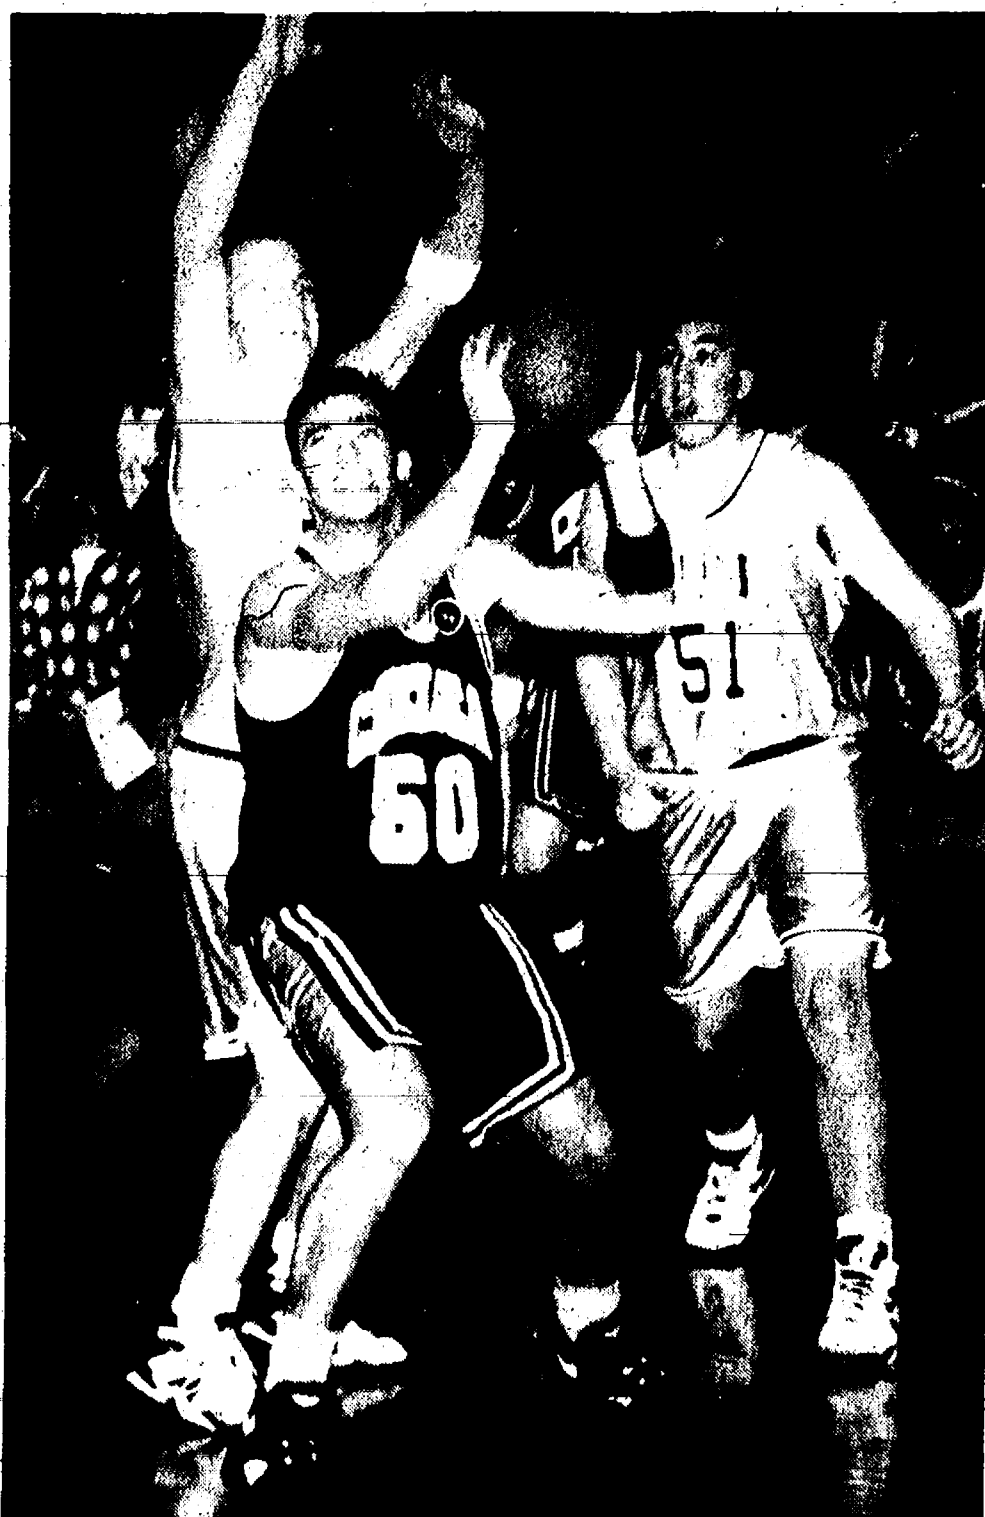

Two defensive changes—one for each team—were major factors. Raymond moved senior Pat Steele out to guard high-scoring guard Jay Haselschwerdt rather than keep him underneath against Gladhill, where he was the previous game. It's a move, Raymond said, in retrospect he would not make again.

"I thought that if we could handle the (Haselschwerdt) twins out front, that we'd be able to control Gladhill," Raymond said.

The other problem was Saline played a zone defense, the first the Bulldogs have seen all year.

"We work on them in practice, but until you see one in a game against good players, you don't know how you'll do. Our high-low game was non-existent and we couldn't penetrate. Part of it was my fault. I don't think we made the right adjustments."

The Bulldogs looked like they might make a run in the second half. They scored six straight unanswered points in the first two and a half minutes to cut the Saline lead to 12. That, however, ended the scoring for Chelsea for the quarter.

SCOTT COLVIN makes a strong move inside against the Saline Hornets last Friday.

In the fourth period, the Hornets used their ball handlers to spread out the court and take time off the clock.

Steele was the only Bulldog in double figures with 18 points, the first game all season everyone else failed to score at least 10. Rob Davis had seven points, Cory Brown six, Colby Skelton and Scott Colvin five each, and Case McCalla and David Stimpson four each.

Jay Haselschwerdt led all scorers with 22 points, while brother, Lee, had 20.

Chelsea shot 18-50 (36 percent) from the field and 8-18 (44 percent) from the line. Saline was 25-59 (42 percent) from the floor and 18-23 (78 percent) from the line. Saline had a 48-30 rebound advantage.

In Tuesday's game at Lincoln, the Bulldogs moved ahead early and continued to build their lead throughout before winning 71-51.

"We played a very consistent, steady game," Raymond said.

"Our defense was solid, we shot well, and played a good, all-around game."

The Bulldogs held the Railsplitters to 33 points through three quarters.

Skelton played an aggressive inside game, connecting on 8-9 field goal tries. Chelsea also converted many of their 24 steals and Lincoln's 31 turnovers into easy baskets. The Bulldogs had 22 assists.

All 11 Bulldogs scored as Steele again was high with 18 points, Davis had 13, and Skelton 12. McCalla and Stimpson had six points each, Colvin and Dan Wehrwein four each, and James Diesing, Nick Brink, Chad Brown and Cory Brown each had two points.

Chad Brown had eight assists, and Cory Brown had five. McCalla had a team-high nine rebounds and Steele had seven.

Chelsea shot 51 percent from the field and made all eight free throws. Lincoln was 36 percent from the field and 8-18 from the line.

The Bulldogs were scheduled to play at Stockbridge last night. They end their long stretch of road games this Friday at Milan and will have only one more league game on the road the rest of the season.

8th Grade Spikers Lose to Saline

Beach Middle school eighth grade volleyball team lost to Saline in their only match last week, 6-11, 8-11, 11-8, 8-11.

Hilary Spooner led Chelsea with 10 service points. Brandi Berg followed with six, Angie Carpenter five, Emily Arend four, and Cindy Richard three.

Spooner had six assists, Arend had four, and Sarah Pruess, Amanda Warren, and Leslee Parker had three each.

The team had 23 attacks, including four each by Colleen Brown and Berg, and three each by Sarah Edman and Richard.

PAT STEELE drives hard down the lane during last Friday's game at Saline. The senior was the only Bulldog in double figures in a generally dismal game for Chelsea fans.

Wrestlers Whip Lincoln

Chelsea Bulldogs wrestling team easily defeated the Lincoln Railsplitters last Tuesday, 49-19.

Thursday's Dexter match was postponed until last night due to the weather.

Assistant coach Mike Young, who handled the team in coach Kerry Kargel's absence, said, "we could have been in trouble the way we were wrestling." Kargel, after watching videotape of his team's performance, said "we looked a little sloppy and missed a lot of good opportunities to score."

Lincoln forfeited four weight classes, 140, 160, 189, and heavyweight, while the Bulldogs forfeited at 125, their problem weight class all season.

Zac Ersten of Chelsea lost to John Bacon, 9-2, at 103 pounds.

At 112 pounds, Ray Hatch of Chelsea won by injury default over John Greg. Chelsea's Dan Alber won his match at 119 pounds over Jeff Straub, 7-4.

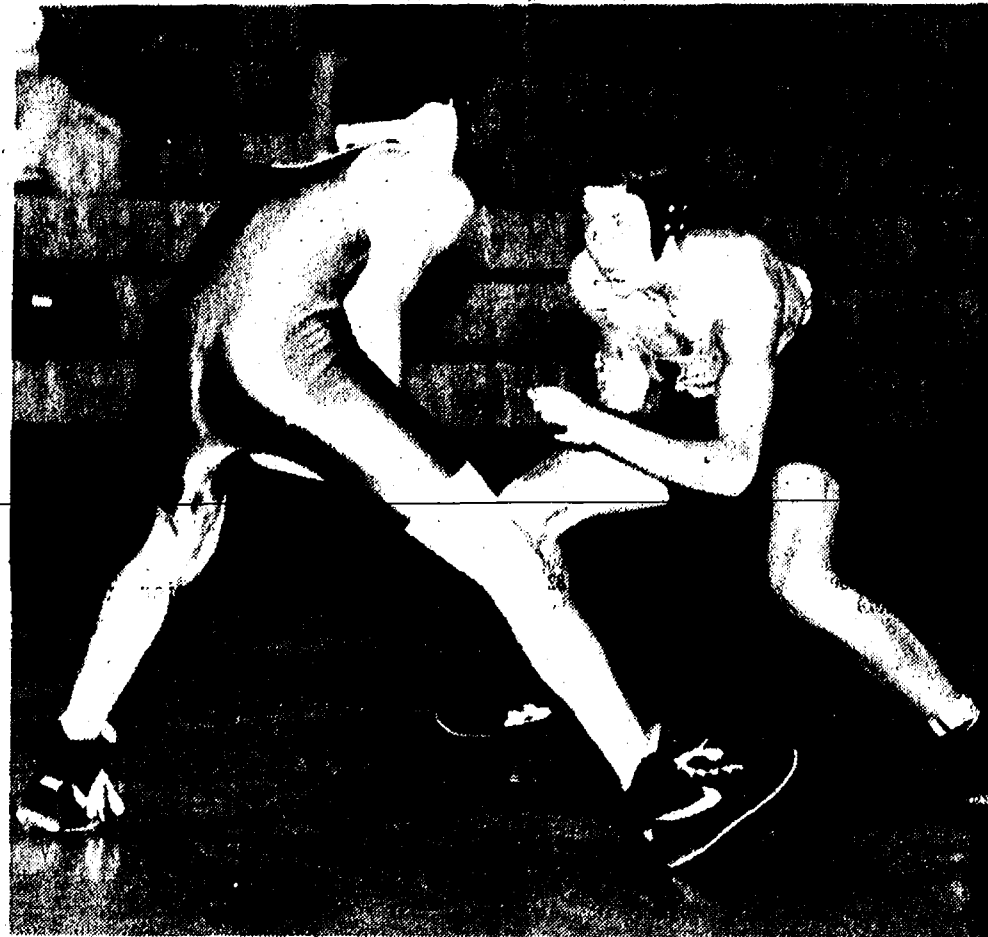

Ben O'Connor of Chelsea was pinned by Chris White in 1:11 at 130 pounds.

Ryan Ludwig of Chelsea beat Jamie Lafleur, 14-6, at 135 pounds.

Andy Kargel of Chelsea lost to Sean Beaton, 12-3, at 145 pounds.

At 152 pounds, Mike Thayer of Chelsea pinned Robert Couch in 4:59.

Chelsea's Paul Taylor, wrestling in his first match of the season, pinned Justin Young in :57 at 171 pounds.

RAY HATCH of Chelsea won by injury default over his opponent from Lincoln last Tuesday.

Chelsea JVs Drop Two Games in Week

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team lost games to the Saline Hornets and Lincoln Railspitters last week.

On Friday at Saline, the Hornets out-scored Chelsea 24-10 in the third quarter and won 67-52.

Saline dominated the boards and shot 53 percent from the field.

"The key to the game was rebounding again," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

"Saline ended up with a lot of easy shots off offensive rebounds. Once again, we got behind by 20, then played some basketball."

Sam Morseau and Josh Bernhard shared scoring honors for Chelsea with 10 points each. Other Chelsea scorers were Dan Johnson 9, Jeff Sarna 8, Shane Miller 7, Mark Hand 5, Damon McLaughlin 2, and Kevin Holmes 1.

Saline out-rebounded the Dogs, 35-22.

Bernhard, Miller, and Sarna each had four rebounds.

Sarna, Bernhard, and Mark Hand continued their improved play, Quilter said.

In a re-scheduled game last Tuesday, the Bulldogs lost at Lincoln, 87-58.

Chelsea fell behind, 41-20, by half-time, but pulled to within 10 points after three quarters.

"It was like two different games," Quilter said.

"We were totally out-played in the first half and turned the ball over an unbelievable 20 times. The second half we out-played Lincoln even though we only had seven able players."

Miller paced Chelsea with 23 points and Johnson had 10. Other scorers were Morseau 7, Hand 6, Sarna 4, Cross 4, and Bernhard 4.

Morseau had eight rebounds and Cross grabbed six.

The Bulldogs are still looking for their first victory of the season.

7th Grade Spikers Topple Saline

Beach Middle school seventh grade volleyball team beat Saline on the road in three sets last week, 11-0, 11-2, 12-10.

In the first game, Angie White led Chelsea with five service points. Meghan Holefska and Celeste Bycraft each served three points.

In the second game, Ingrid Biedron served nine consecutive points. Top servers in the last game were Allison Knight and Sarah Riecks, who each served four points.

Safety belt use is currently 52 percent in Michigan. An estimated 250-300 lives would be saved each year with 70 percent safety belt use.

CHAD BROWN watches the ball during a fast break all night long as the Bulldogs fell into a second-place tie last Friday night at Saline. The Chelsea offense sputtered with the Tecumseh Indians.

SPORTS NOTES

BY BRIAN HAMILTON

That Dexter loss a few weeks ago is starting to loom pretty big these days. After Friday's thumping at Saline—and it was quite a thumping—about the best the Bulldogs basketball team can realistically hope for is a tie for the league title. Saline Hornets have the upper hand with only one loss, Chelsea and Tecumseh each have two losses.

The Hornets, who beat Tecumseh at home back in December, have to play the Indians this Friday in Tecumseh. The Hornets are in great shape and barring a collapse they should win at least a share of the title. After Friday, most of their remaining opponents are struggling to reach .500. If Tecumseh wins, there's a three-way tie, and the Chelsea-Tecumseh game later this month will probably decide who the league co-champion is. I can't see Saline losing two more conference games, although stranger things have happened in the SEC.

Saline killed the Bulldogs inside Friday, something I never would have envisioned. The Haselschwerdt boys got their points as usual from the perimeter but center Bill Gladhill matched them point for point as no one boxed him out on the defensive boards. I kept wondering "where is everybody" everytime Gladhill went inside virtually untouched.

That should not happen this Friday when Saline plays in Tecumseh. Gladhill should be no match for the Indians' Brian Puffer or Brad Allen, who equal him in height and surpass him in weight. Saline will need big performances from The Twins as their big advantage is on the perimeter. If Tecumseh can hold them to their average or less, and have a decent shooting night themselves, they should win. The Indians should come out fired up. It will be their last chance to get back in the league race. Their fans will be geeked, the gym will be loud and raucous. Saline will need an emotional game to win and it remains to be seen whether they can do it two Fridays in a row.

Which brings us back to the Bulldogs. The losses to Dexter and Saline, Chelsea's two biggest rivals, shows a few things. Chelsea is every team's biggest game of the season. It made the Dreadnaughts' season to win, since the Bulldogs hadn't lost to them since 1989. And if you were at the Saline contest, the Hornets were reacting as though it were the state play-offs. They were making all sorts of gestures to their fans and there was a lot of fist-raising after baskets. I remember watching one of the Hornets after he made a particularly big basket. He had the look of Rowdy Roddy Piper after he throws an opponent out of the ring and stands and looks at the crowd with a smirk.

Second, more than anything else the Bulldogs miss the bruising inside defense of Tom Puffer. If they could have any one attribute of last year's team, that would be it. He was not afraid of anyone and made maximum use of his bulk, strength and intelligence. Pat Steele is capable of handling anyone inside, but he needs some help.

Third, the officials can have a big impact on the outcome. I'm not talking about bad calls or good calls, but their style. Officials who call a tight game as they did Friday night (they were the same guys who officiated the Dexter game, by the way) can take the Bulldogs out of their pressure-oriented defense. By half-time, the Bulldogs had out fouled the Hornets 13-6. Saline went to the free throw line 11 times in the second quarter alone. That's the quarter the Bulldogs got blitzed 27-9. Maybe that's why Saline played a zone defense, who knows?

I look for the Bulldogs to go undefeated in the league until at least the Tecumseh game. If that contest decides the co-champion of the SEC, it could be the best game of the season.

There's still a lot of ball left, but the Bulldogs need some help if they are going to hold on to their share of the league title.

I never thought I'd say it but, "Go, Tecumseh."

Chelsea Spikers Topple Milan

After suffering a close loss to Pinckney on Monday, Jan. 17, the Chelsea Bulldogs varsity volleyball team bounced back to win its home opener against Milan on Monday, Jan. 24, 15-13, 4-15, 15-9.

The Milan game was filled with errors by both teams, said Chelsea coach Dan Montgomery.

Amy Petty led the Chelsea attack on offense, recording eight kills on 15 spike attempts. Kori White had four kills, Jamie Collinsworth tipped for two kills, and Jayna Spears, Heidi Wehrwein, and Erin Montgomery each recorded one kill.

White and Petty each contributed one stiff block.

Tracy Patrick served a perfect 4 for 4 with two aces. Carrie Buss was also 4 for 4 with an ace, and Cindy Tripp, Sara Petty, and Collinsworth all served with no errors.

Wehrwein had five service aces,

Amy Petty had three, and White and Montgomery each had two.

In the Pinckney game, Chelsea was forced to play without seniors. The Bulldogs won the first game, 15-13, but dropped the next two, 10-15 and 12-15.

The Bulldogs stuff blocked 11 Pirate spike attempts, led by Christie Lonskey, Amy Petty, and Wehrwein with three each, and Erin Baird with two.

White led the Chelsea attack with 15 spikes on 15 attempts, resulting in six kills, followed by Amy Petty with five kills. Wehrwein had four kills, Lonskey and Spears each had two kills, and Baird and Buss each had one kill.

White served a perfect 11 of 11 with two aces. Lonskey went 10 of 11 with two aces, Sara Petty went 10 of 11 with one ace, and Amy Petty had four aces. Buss and Montgomery also served with no errors.

Tripp and Jessica Knight played strong defense the entire match, Montgomery said.

Chelsea JV Spikers Beat Saline, Win Brighton Tourney

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity volleyball team beat the Saline Hornets on Monday, 15-7 and 15-6.

Chelsea never trailed in the first game as the serving of Melissa Carty, Tracy Dufek, and Jessica Inwood gave them a big lead.

"Our serving caused Saline a lot of trouble," said Chelsea coach Rainey Bassemier.

"When they did attack, Heidi Kemnitz blocked them at the net."

In the second game, it was more of the same, Bassemier said.

"Heidi has played real well at the net for us all season," he said.

The team also won the Brighton JV Invitational last Saturday.

The Bulldogs are 11-3-2 for the season and 4-1 in the Southeastern Conference.

Tax Questions Answered on PBS

Answers to the most commonly asked tax questions will be the highlight of "Taxbreak '94," a special telecast on Saturday, Feb. 6 at 3 p.m. on Public Broadcasting Stations WTVS Ch. 56 and WKAR Ch. 23.

The show will be hosted by NBC News' Today show weather reporter Willard Scott, and will highlight what's new this year, free taxpayer services, and how to get a refund quickly.

Other topics featured will be the earned income credit and new filing options.

Segments of the show will profile various taxpayers, including a senior citizen, a nanny, a homeowner and a young, single taxpayer. Their situations are analyzed by the experts who advise viewers of the quickest way to file tax returns. Viewers can have their own tax questions answered by IRS assistants during the program and for one hour afterwards.

The IRS, which is encouraging taxpayers to "make taxes less taxing" by filing early and accurately, said that this program will clarify questions about the forms, as well as provide other timely information about federal income taxes.

National FFA Week Will Be Celebrated

Nearly 5,500 Michigan members of the FFA will celebrate National FFA Week, Feb. 19-23.

This year's theme, "FFA - Leadership for America," will be seen in communities across the state through promotional efforts of local members. FFA activities and agriculture classes emphasize leadership skills, analytical thinking and the application of both to the industry of agriculture.

"The FFA is an outstanding program that has helped tens of thousands of young people across the state build their self-esteem, confidence and leadership skills," said Jack Laurie, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau and a member of the board of directors of the Michigan FFA Foundation. "Not only has the FFA provided opportunities for young people in rural areas, it has also offered professional and personal development growth for teens in urban Michigan through several Detroit-area chapters.

"Agriculture is Michigan's second largest industry, contributing nearly $37 billion a year to the state's economy. Our industry will need strong leaders for the future, and the FFA encourages that leadership growth through its premier personal growth and career success activities," he said.

The Michigan FFA Foundation is a non-profit organization that offers support to FFA members and chapters for educational activities. Contributions to Michigan State University, designated for the Michigan FFA Foundation, are tax deductible.

Card of Thanks 19

CARD OF THANKS
We cannot express in words the deep, heartfelt thanks we wish to convey to friends, neighbors and relatives for the kindness and caring extended to us during the long illness and ultimate passing of our father and husband, Donald Houle. A very special thank you to Dr. Gleespan for his help and who was always there for him. Dad had such confidence and faith in him. To all the nurses at Chelsea Hospital, Cardiac Pulmonary, Emergency room staff. A special thanks to Chaplain Kathryn Batell whom Dad shared prayers with so often. Also the therapists, to Rosemary Young our dear friend, and home nurse who was so efficient and who was a great help through the final week in helping us care for Dad day and night. Our thanks goes to the Don Coles for their compassion and professional dignity. To Fr. Dupuis for his love and special words for Dad. To Fathers Fortunato, Weber, Joseph, Enzo and Germano of St. Louis school for their kind visits and prayers. To all the special people in our dear father's life who had reached out and touched him as he had touched them in his own and special way. We heartfully extend our gratitude and extend our loving thoughts and prayers to all. Sincerely,
The Don Houle family.

Farmland Property Tax Unfair Says State Farm Bureau

Michigan Farm Bureau members are calling on state lawmakers to rectify an inequity in the school finance reform package.

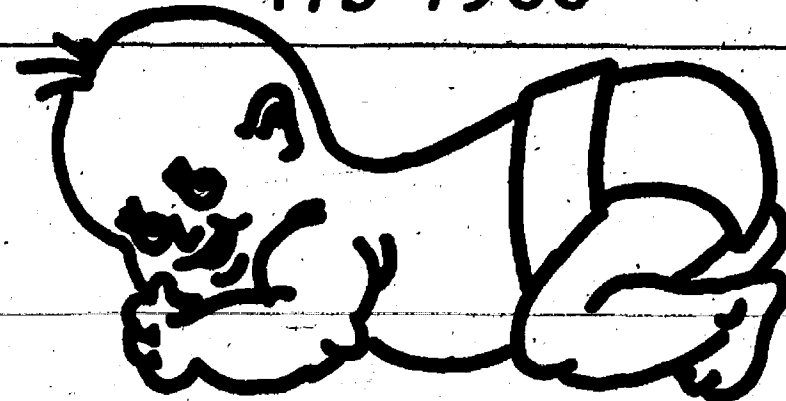

"It is clearly unfair that landowners will be taxed at 24 mills on farmland that is rented or leased when other farmland is taxed at the lower, homestead millage rate just because of a different ownership pattern," said Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"In both the ballot proposal and backup statutory plan, there needs to be a single definition of farmland for property tax purposes that doesn't depend on location of the land or where the owner lives. We believe the legislature should amend the law so that all property classified as farmland is taxed at the same millage rate as homesteads."

Nelson said initial estimates show that the net cost of the reduction in tax revenues will be under $30 million a year. "That may sound like a lot of money, but farmers feel it is a small price to pay to provide equity, uniformity and fairness in taxation of Michigan farmland," he said. "Having one millage rate for all Michigan farmland will be less confusing to landowners and be much easier for officials to administer."

Half of the cropland in Michigan is rented or leased, according to Nelson.
