Cold Weathers Causes Higher Utility Bills

Village residents should expect a jump of between 10 and 50 percent in their electric bills this month due to the recent cold weather.

Most increases will be in the 10-15 percent range, said electric department superintendent Bob Shepherd.

The bills will be higher even in homes with natural gas because furnace fans, big users of electricity, run more often.

MARLENE PIASECKI was presented a special award from the Chelsea United Way in honor of the contributions during the last four years of her late husband, Joe. John Rutherford, president of the Chelsea United Way, made the presentation last week.

School District Offers Early Retirement for Up to 10 Employees

As many as 10 Chelsea teachers or other staff members with at least 15 years of service will be able to take advantage of an early retirement program at the end of the school year.

The Chelsea Board of Education approved the plan Monday night as a way to save about $50,000 in salaries next year, $200,000 the second year, and declining amounts thereafter. The district is anticipating tight finances in the wake of proposed school finance reform.

The district's hope is that 10 master's-degree-level teachers, who make about $50,000, will take advantage of the program. They would be replaced by first-year teachers, who make about $30,000.

The district will purchase two years of retirement credit, or give equivalent amount in annuities or cash, for each teacher in the program. Cost will be about $15,000 per teacher, although the amounts will vary by age of the applicant and other factors.

To qualify, a teacher has to notify the district by April 8, resign the position by the end of the school year, and apply for state retirement benefits. Applications are being accepted on a first-come, first-served basis beginning today.

Assistant superintendent Fred Mills said the program had to be limited to 10 employees because the benefits have to be paid this school year. He said the district's fund equity, where the payment would come from, is too low to allow more early retirements.

As part of the application form, the employee acknowledges that it is a voluntary retirement and that he or she can't sue for age discrimination.

In order to qualify for state retirement benefits, employees need 30 years of service or be over age 60.

Mills said 21 district teachers meet the criteria, but he expects about eight to take advantage of the program.

In other business Monday, the board approved a contract with interim superintendent Howard Oesterling, effective Jan. 31.

Oesterling will be paid $200 per day for days worked and 25 cents per mile for school business. He is working as an independent contractor and will bill the district for his services. He is not being offered insurance or other benefits.

As part of the search for a new permanent superintendent, the board agreed to have two representatives from the Michigan Association of School Boards conduct interviews March 7 of district employees and business leaders. The idea is to find out what qualities they want in the new person. There would also be an opportunity for district residents to express their opinions.

The representatives would report back to the school board that night during the regular meeting.

The vacant superintendent's job has been posted at state universities. Oesterling said 10 candidates have already contacted the district.

Applications will be in by Friday, March 18. Interviews will begin shortly after spring break.

Oesterling said he has begun to make contacts all over the state to let administrators know the job is available.

The board also approved a formal job description.

At the urging of board members Sandra Merkel and Conrad Knutsen, the board agreed to study "win-win negotiations," also called "mutual gains," before entering formal contract negotiations with the Chelsea Education Association. The current contract expires June 30.

The new approach—a specifically-applied process—would be non-confrontational. Both sides would be reaching for a goal rather than merely representing their own interests.

CEA representative Joe Beard told the board the union would be "more than willing to be part of that."

Negotiations will probably change this year because the district will have less control of school finances under either proposed state funding plan.

Merkel said she hoped the "win-win" concepts could be applied by district employees in their daily lives.

Incumbents Get Challenge In March Village Elections

Village president Richard Steele faces a challenge from his most vocal tormentor of late as he seeks his third term this March.

Jim Machnik, who has loudly led the charge to have Gene Dr. improved, filed his nominating petition for president by the Monday 4 p.m. deadline.

All candidates have until Thursday to withdraw.

Incumbent village trustees Joe Merkel, Frank Hammer, and Richard Rigg face a challenge from Harry Thurkow, who ran unsuccessfully for council two years ago.

Thurkow, like Machnik, owns property on Gene Dr. He has also been active in the Gene Dr. negotiations since late last year.

No one filed to run for treasurer. Incumbent Katie Chapman is not running for health reasons.

Incumbent Dan Kaminsky and newcomer Dayle Wright have filed for two three-year seats on the McKune Memorial Library Board.

Steele and Machnik have often bumped heads during council meetings over the last few months. The typical scenario is Machnik makes a number of points about Gene Dr. and how the village has treated its residents, and Steele remains non-committal. Machnik has spent time studying how the village has dealt with other roads in the village and how those situations apply to Gene Dr.

The seats on village council are for two years.

Machnik, of 1231 Gertrude Dr., owns a landscaping business.

Steele, 211 Lincoln St., has been on council longer than anyone except Merkel. He started as a trustee, then ousted president Jerry Satterthwaite in 1990. He has since survived challenges by Satterthwaite and former village president Charles Ritter. He works at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Regular Dialogue With Superintendent Planned Thursday

Dialogue with the Superintendent will be held Thursday, Feb. 10 at 9:30 a.m. at Beach Middle school with interim superintendent Howard Oesterling.

Oesterling will talk about issues regarding education and the Chelsea School District.

The meeting will be held in the media center.

Electronics Taken

Three VCRs and a video camera were stolen from Heydlauff's last week.

Police said the equipment, in the display room, was last seen in the late afternoon of Wednesday, Feb. 2. It was reported missing the next day.

Police speculated the equipment, valued from $200 to $800, may have been taken out the back door.

Merkel, of Taylor St., served on council throughout the 1980s and usually receives more votes than any other candidate. He is owner of Wolverine Food & Spirits.

Hammer, 521 East St., is a chemist at the National Sanitation Foundation in Ann Arbor. He will be seeking his third term.

Rigg, 143 E. Middle St., was first elected last year to fill out the remaining year of a term.

Thurkow, 206 Wilkinson St., owns a hearing aid business in town.

It's possible the March 14 elections may be changed to March 15 to coincide with the state-wide referendum on school financing.

School District Voters May Face Election in April

Chelsea School District voters will probably face a millage election in late April, assistant superintendent Fred Mills told the school board Monday night.

The problem, Mills said, is cash flow. Every year the district has to borrow funds in May to meet the June payroll because about $2 million in delinquent taxes are still outstanding. The borrowed money is paid back from delinquent taxes collected by the county, which the district receives at the end of June.

However, the district's entire millage runs out this year, so there's nothing to borrow against.

A further complicating factor is the election has to be advertised before the March 15 state-wide school finance reform election takes place, which means two ballots will have to be written to take into account what happens March 15.

School board member Joe Redding offered the possibility that the electorate could become confused and vote the millage down.

That, Mills said, could force the entire school district to be laid off since there would be no money to meet payroll.

Mills said the Chelsea district isn't the only one in this situation but "we may be the first to hold an election."

Library Continues With District Plans

McKune Memorial Library Board wants to continue with their plans to try to convert the library to a district library.

Board member Gary Zenz said he plans to make another presentation to village council either later this month or in March.

The board approached council last year about the idea, but heirs of Catherine McKune objected to the plan, saying the library should remain a village library.

The board wants to begin an initial study of district library status. The village and townships would each have several representatives on a study committee. Zenz said the study would take at least a year.

District library status would give the library a larger tax base, as well as a larger pool of people to serve on the board. Village property owners are the primary financial supporters of the library through their millage and only village residents are eligible to serve on the board. Township residents are not taxed, but some give voluntary donations. Townships also make contributions.

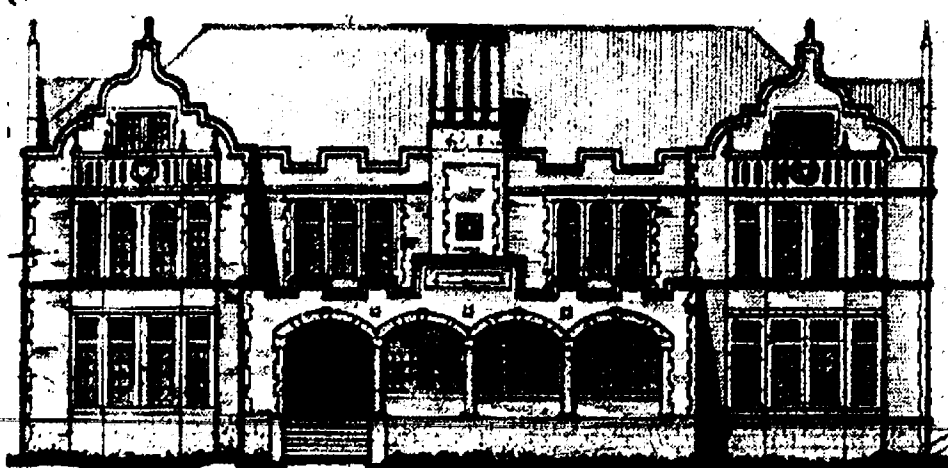

The library wants to expand on the vacant lot next door. However, the site still has contamination problems which have not been resolved.

Beef Dinner Fundraiser Set To Benefit Washington Trip

Beach Middle school eighth graders who are planning to take the annual trip to Washington, D.C. this spring are holding a roast beef dinner fundraiser at Wolverine Food & Spirits.

The dinner, with the co-operation of restaurant owner Joe Merkel, is this Sunday, Feb. 13 from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The trip is scheduled April 13-17. The students will make a stop in Gettysburg on the way. While in Washington, they will tour the Smithsonian Museums, Capitol, Supreme Court, FBI, Mt. Vernon, Holocaust Museum, White House, and many other places.

Chelsea Village Council president Jerry Satterthwaite, who three weeks ago said he wouldn't seek a fourth term, changed his mind and filed a nominating petition by the Monday deadline. Satterthwaite, who said he was pressured into running by two Chelsea businessmen who were concerned about the possibility of three or four new people on council, will face village trustee Richard Steele in the battle for president. The two squared off in the last presidential election in 1988, which Satterthwaite won, 219-180.

Chelsea resident Jeff Layher has purchased the Chelsea Parts Peddler store from Dick Kolander, who will continue to operate the Dexter store. Layher has worked for the store for 15 years, including two years when it was located on E. Middle St. and was known as Boyer Automotive.

United Methodist Retirement Home in Chelsea has successfully completed a multi-million dollar campaign to raise capital for the renovation and expansion of their facilities. Seven million dollars was raised to help finance a three-phase $20 million building project that will be completed by summer 1991.

The curriculum of the Chelsea School District was the single item that drew both the most praise and most criticism among respondents in the Project Outreach survey conducted by the district in November. In answer to the open-ended question, "In what ways are the Chelsea schools particularly good?" 31 percent of all respondents mentioned the curriculum while 40 percent of parents with children in the schools answered the same way. However, when asked "What don't you like about the local public schools?" 13 percent of all voters said weakness in curriculum, while the rate among parents was 18 percent.

Alert Chelsea police patrolmen Richard Foster and Jack Orr arrested a trio of Ypsilanti youths wanted by four law enforcement agencies for crimes during a two-day spree, ranging from burglary to assault with intent to murder. The village policemen spotted the three suspects standing on Main St. gawking at a medical emergency rescue, noted their appearances matched descriptions put out in a sheriff's department radio message and made arrests.

Chelsea's boy swimmers ended their season with a most impressive 13-1 record. Their only defeat came at the hands of Class A Adrian.

No contests are on tap in next week's village election. The Independent Party has fielded a full slate of candidates, none of whom has any opposition.

Getting to Chelsea High school will be easier, thanks to the efforts of the school's Key Club, which has purchased five street signs to direct traffic to the building. Ken Larson is faculty advisor to the club and suggested the project.

Chelsea High has qualified four wrestlers for the state meet, and one of them, Karsten Kargel, is seeded no. 1 at 185 pounds. Karsten Kargel is the son of Bulldog wrestling coach Kerry Kargel.

BEHIND THE HEADLINES:

Is Social Security Going Broke?

To most politicians, the Social Security system is an untouchable public entitlement. But to the Baby Boom generation, the system may turn out to be a bust.

By Philip C. Clarke

For just about every working American, the bloom is off the rose of Social Security. Recent surveys indicate that more than half of the workforce believes that the federal government's retirement program is not a particularly good deal. In fact, 7 in 10 workers believe that they will get less than half of what they've paid into the system when they retire.

The real story may be even worse. For example, a report of the trustees of the Social Security system predicts that the program will go bankrupt by the year 2036, or just when most of today's 25-year-olds are ready to retire. In addition, the system is even in sicker financial shape than this diagnosis. The trustees report that the program will start losing money much earlier—in the year 2016 by pessimistic estimates. In other words, when today's 34-year-olds are ready to retire.

With this impending bankruptcy, the conventional wisdom says that politicians are faced with two choices—either cut benefits or raise taxes. Consider what probably would happen if Congress announced it was cutting benefits. When Republicans talked about reforming Social Security in 1982 and 1983, the Democrats clobbered them in the media, charging that the GOP wanted to throw old people out into the streets. In the next two congressional election years, Republicans lost seats in both the House and the Senate, and by 1986, the Republican-controlled Senate switched back to Democratic control just as in the House. And Most Republican lawmakers who lost said the Social Security issue had hurt them badly.

And what about the other option of raising taxes? Politicians can live up to remember back to 1990 and the budget deal between President Bush and Congress which raised taxes. President Clinton enjoys his current position in part because of that tax increase, especially since his predecessor had pledged not to raise them. And when you consider how much Social Security taxes would have to be raised to keep the system viable, this option is a political non-starter.

According to the Social Security trustees, keeping the system solvent through the year 2070 would require tax hikes up to 52% of payroll! In simpler terms, just over half of anyone's paycheck would go to pay for Social Security. However, due to the support the program enjoys among the elderly, few politicians are willing to talk about "reform," which leaves the task to academics and think tank policy analysts.

Fortunately, a few such thinkers have offered a solution that is a winner in both economic and political terms—namely privatize the system. In economic terms, it's very easy to see how the private sector would outperform the government. Consider, for example, the Dow Jones Industrial Average. Between 1980 and today, the D.J. average more than quadrupled. That means if you invested $1,000 in 1980 in the stocks making up the index, your investment would total $3,260 today. Or take another yardstick, the Standard & Poors average. In 1983, the S&P average stood at 10. Today, it's 468, representing a price increase almost five times the rate of inflation.

By contrast, consider the rates of return on the Social Security program. According to an analysis by Peter Ferrara for the National Chamber Foundation, a think tank of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, most Americans who began work in 1965 will lose as much as 3% on their Social Security "investments." Translated, this means that if a typical worker contributed a total of $100,000 over the course of his or her lifetime, Social Security would pay on average only $97,000. On the other hand, if the stock market maintained its historical growth trends, that same $100,000 if invested privately, would return close to $4 million.

Politicians should take note. Privatizing Social Security could be a real political winner. Above all, future generations would not be faced with crippling payroll taxes or shrinking benefits.

There's another compelling reason for reforms. As explained by Dorcas Hardy, former U.S. Commissioner of Social Security, the billions of dollars in payroll taxes now going into the system's Trust Fund are by law invested in special issue government bonds. And because the government is in deficit, these bonds are used to finance current government operations. Thus, the Social Security Trust Funds, or reserves, are in effect "merely a growing stack of IOUs that will need to be redeemed in the future in order to meet program obligations."

"The sums of money involved are astronomical," says Hardy, writing in an "Issue analysis" of the United Seniors Association. "Unless the Trust Fund IOUs are redeemed by much higher taxes, the program will be forced to decrease or even default on promised benefits. Many observers fear this will happen."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows that hang around the country store don't full agree on much, but to a man they say all they know is what they read in the papers and farm journals. So ever now and again the discussions get around to the folks that write the news and decide what kind and how much of it we get to see.

Bug Hookum got the subject on the agenda Saturday night when he read a clip where a young fellow making his first run for public office called a news conference to announce the big name guests he had invited to a dinner to raise money for his campaign for Congress. Bug said a former President, two former Governors and three former members of Congress were on the list. Bug told the fellows you don't have to look for a follow up report to know that only members of his family and his Jaycee chapter showed up.

Big name invites is about the oldest trick in the politics book, Bug allowed, and if a big name actual knows who invited him and wants to play the game he can send word why he couldn't make it to be read at the meeting. For their part, the papers go along in hopes of giving everybody a fair shake, but sometimes they trip up. Bug recalled the big city reporter following a fellow running for Congress in a farm district to get the flavor of country politics.

At every stop, Bug said, when the candidate introduced himself he put "MD" after his name. The reporter called in his story that told how the doctor was weak on issues, but strong on handshakes and on a first name base with everybody. That night he ask the candidate how he could spend so much time away from his medical practice. The fellow said he didn't have anything to do with doctoring. He said all the farmers in four counties know he's a mule dealer, but he figured it didn't hurt to put in a plug wherever he could.

Speaking of mules, Zeke Grubb said he heard once that a newspaper editor has to have a mule's endurance, the sun's dependability, a rhino's hide, an elephant's memory and a diplomat's tact. Zeke said he doesn't know who make that list, but it's a mighty tall order. For sure, he said, editors have to be long on tact because wind blows at them from so many ways. Zeke recalled years back when he read a social item where "Miss Norma Smith, a bell of 20 summers, is visiting her twin brother James, who is celebrating his 30th birthday with a dance tonight at the community house."

Practical speaking, Clem Webster said, not many editors can live up to that saying, but most do a real service by holding our politicians feet to the fire. Clem recalled where a Congressman claimed questions about his fact finding trips to overseas resorts was a stink made up by the papers. One editor ask him if he had ever seen a skunk holding his own nose. When the Congressman said his conscience was clear, another editor allowed he had stretched it so thin he could see through it.

Furthermore, Clem said, the papers can be forgive for leaning over backward to be fair because they usual lean just as far to do us favors. For instant, he read where this one paper runs free ads for folks looking for jobs and them wanting to give somepunaway. The editor said a man never needs friends more than when he's out of work or has a litter of pups.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

High School Choir Members Sing At Western Michigan Honors Event

Four Chelsea High school choir students participated in the Western Michigan University Choral Honors Festival held Saturday, Jan. 29, in Kalamazoo. Under the direction of Steven P. Hinz, four students were selected to represent the Chelsea High School Concert Choir in the day-long festivities. Junior Corrie Schoenberg, freshman Bekah Knight, junior Ray Weiner, and senior Rob Frost, formed the quartet which traveled to Kalamazoo to join voices with 60 other talented singers from throughout the state of Michigan.

Dr. Craig Arnold, director of choirs at Western Michigan University, conducted the festival which included a full day of choral rehearsal for young singers. The singers also had the opportunity to participate in a multi-round solo competition, judged by the voice faculty at the University.

Three finalists were chosen from two rounds of elimination, with the two winners performing in the evening concert. Corrie Schoenberg and Bekah Knight each sang prepared solos and received highest honors, winning a place in the evening concert.

Dr. Arnold singled out the Chelsea Vocal Music program as being outstanding, with two of the three solo winners hailing from Chelsea. Corrie Schoenberg was again featured as a soloist in a choral selection later in the evening. Steve Hinz was very pleased by the festival and stated, "It's really been a tremendous opportunity for these young singers. The festival was well-organized and provided a lot of insight into the performance and study of choral music."

As director of the Chelsea High School Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus, Hinz also directs the Beach Middle School choir, the A.D. Mayer Show Choir, and the Washington Street Show Choir. "I want to provide my choral students with a multitude of musical experiences. The expansion of the vocal music program has been really exciting and I look forward to even more growth in the upcoming years."

Hinz further stated that this is the second year that Chelsea has participated in the Kalamazoo festival and he plans to make it an annual event.

Happy Valentine's Day to you . . .

Watch out for little chubby cupids. A cupid usually has a bow and arrow. An old Roman myth declares that anyone struck in the heart by one of cupid's arrows will fall in love.

Whether you've been struck by that arrow 50 years ago or as recently as last week, if you are looking for the perfect way to let your loved one know, that you are still very much in love, let Winans suggest a memorable gift.

The selection of heart jewelry is at its greatest now—rings, earrings, bracelets and pins. Nothing brings a sweeter memory, than receiving personal jewelry as a gift.

DAISY TROOP NO. 719—

Daisy Troop 719 meets each Thursday at 8:30 under the leadership of Peggy Cashman and co-leader Diana Mida. Feb. 3 the girls explored The World of Arts by sharing their collections with each other. They ended their meeting by playing Daisy to Daisy.

On Feb. 10 the troop will be using their imagination to tell stories. Future plans include attending the Father-Daughter Banquet, Thinking Day, and Scouting for Food in April.

As a community service project, the troop sponsored a family through Faith In Action at Christmas time. This type of project teaches the girls to be concerned with, and help others. The troop sponsor, Little Red Caboose Daycare, provided funds for the service project.

State Treasurer Urges Support for Proposal A

By State Treasurer Douglas B. Roberts

Are you confused about the ballot vote on March 15? You are not alone! I hope the following will help clarify at least one question for you—what's the fairest way to pay for our schools?

When you go into the voting booth to vote on Proposal A, you will be making a decision that will affect how we pay for education in Michigan into the next century. And—unlike all previous ballot proposals—you will be choosing not between a new plan and the status quo, but between two entirely new plans.

If you vote "Yes" on Proposal A you will be supporting a 2 percent increase in the sales tax, lower property taxes, lower income taxes, lower single business taxes, and a limit on property assessment increases beginning in 1995.

If you vote "No" on Proposal A you will be supporting an increase in the income tax to 6%, higher property taxes, higher single business taxes and no limit on assessment increases.

This vote will determine how fair our tax system is in funding schools. I believe that using an increase in the sales tax to fund schools is more fair than using an increase in the income tax. Let me explain.

The sales tax is a tax on consumption. It is a tax that you have some control over because you have control over what you purchase. You have no choice in paying the income tax, except to not earn as much money.

In Michigan, we further protect citizens from excessive sales tax by exempting food, housing, prescription drugs, medical expenses, and services from the sales tax. Thus, the sales tax is paid only on those items which individuals purchase by choice, not because they need them to survive.

Another reason the sales tax is a better way to fund schools is that not all the funds will come from Michigan residents. Tourists will make contributions to our schools every time they pay for a hotel room or eat a restaurant meal. While this may not seem like much, we need to remember that Michigan is one of the premier travel destinations in the mid-west and our state attracts visitors for both business and pleasure.

If Proposal A passes, taxpayers will also see lower property taxes and an income tax rate of 4.4% instead of the 4.6% we pay now or the 6.0% that we will pay if the proposal fails.

If Proposal A is defeated the income tax will increase significantly and, I believe we will effectively slow down, or stop, Michigan's significant economic recovery. By increasing the income tax to 6%, Michigan will have the highest flat rate income tax in the nation. It means we will be taxing incomes, investments, and savings at a higher flat rate than anywhere else in the country.

Instead of additionally taxing what you spend on durable goods through the sales tax, an income tax increase will tax at a higher rate the money you put into your savings account and what you take home in your paycheck.

Business will look long and hard at a state that taxes growth and investment. If we are serious about continuing our economic recovery, we should not seek to put up barriers to growth. It could be less jobs or the loss of jobs we already have because business will seek more competitive environments for its investment.

Whether Proposal A passes or not, schools will receive the same funding; the issue is how Michigan taxpayers want to pay for schools.

Under Michigan's new school financing plan, every child in the state will receive funding at no less than $4,200 per pupil. For those that already receive more than $4,200, the funding formula guarantees an increase for next year that is at least $100-per-pupil-over this year's funding. One of the most important provisions in Proposal A is a guarantee that no student will have less funding in future years than they have this year. There will be no guarantee if the ballot proposal fails.

Over the next seven weeks, you will read and hear much about this proposal. The issues are complicated and are confusing. Ultimately, though, the issue comes down to fairness in our tax system. I believe that the passage of Proposal A will bring more equity to the way we fund our schools for the following reasons: Everyone who benefits from public education will share in its support; and a sales tax increase will not affect our economic recovery. An income tax hike will.

One final note: For homeowners, it is important to understand that school operating millage rates for their homesteads will depend on whether Proposal A passes or fails.

If Proposal A fails, the homestead millage rate will be 12 mills. If it passes, the school operating millage rate will be 6 mills, a further property tax cut from 1993 millage rates.

Deputies Report Assaults, Theft, Property Damage

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies investigated a number of incidents in Scio, Webster, Sylvan, Lima and Dexter townships and Dexter Village, Jan. 26- Feb. 2.

Sylvan Township

Assault and battery was reported in the 800 block of Lowery Rd., Jan. 30, at 2:17 a.m. Deputies were dispatched to a residence where a fight was in progress. They met with the homeowner who said he threw a party and a fight started in the livingroom. He said the fight started when some of the male partygoers tried to dance with the girlfriends of others. Several people were injured during the fight, but many had left before police arrived. A witness reported one person was hit with a baseball bat and another with a chain. Deputies went to Chelsea Hospital where they took a statement from the victim hit with a chain. The 21-year-old Scio township man said he was hit as he tried to leave the party. He said he doesn't know who the attacker was. The case is open pending suspect identification.

Lima Township

A suspicious incident was reported on Fletcher Rd. near Scio Church Rd., Jan. 30. A pizza delivery driver with Chelsea Cottage Inn, an 18-year-old woman, told police she was delivering a pizza in the area around 11 p.m., Jan. 29, when she made a turn around and a vehicle approached her and flashed its bright lights. Then, the vehicle went in front of her and stopped in the roadway. A passenger jumped out and tried to open her passenger side door and yelled "Give me my pizza." Luckily, she said, the driver was locked. Afterward, another car pulled behind her. She fled back to the store and called police.

Dexter Township

Breaking and entering was reported in the 9500 block of Portage Lake Ave., Jan. 27. A 39-year-old township woman told police someone stole the garage opener out of her vehicle parked in the garage. Her husband discovered the break-in at approximately 8 a.m., Jan. 28. He noticed the garage door partially open and footprints outside, but didn't think anything was missing. When the woman left later that day she discovered the garage door opener missing.

An 83-year-old township man reported livestock kill in the 11600 block of North Territorial Rd., Jan. 27. The incident happened between 6 p.m. Jan. 26 and 9 a.m. Jan. 27. He found 10 of his sheep severely injured and one dead. He suspects area dogs of the attack. The sheep are valued at $750.

A vehicle fire was reported in the 8700 block of Harris Rd., Jan. 30. A 20-year-old township man told police the Plymouth Sundance he was driving caught on fire after he parked outside his garage around 7 p.m. that evening. While he was in the house, his mother saw flames coming from underneath the car's hood. The fire department was called while the man threw snow on it until they arrived. Damage to the engine compartment, carburetor and wiring amounts to $1,500. The fire was reported as an accidental electrical fire by the sheriff's department. The owner is a 26-year-old area woman.

Violation of a restraining order was reported in the 5000 block of Stoffer Rd., Feb. 1. A 37-year-old township woman told police she asked her ex-husband to come over to discuss their son. The conversation turned argumentative and she said she asked him to leave. He continued yelling, so she said she called police. He told police that she began telling him about all the repairs he needed to make on the house. He said it wasn't his responsibility and she began yelling. Afterward, he said he left. The investigating officer examined their restraining order, which states neither may have phone or in-person contact. He advised them they were both in violation of the court order.

Dexter Village

Larceny from an automobile was reported in the 2400 block of Don Gara Dr. in Walkabout Creek apartments, Feb. 1. A 22-year-old resident told police $80 worth of compact discs were stolen from her unlocked vehicle. She said she looked outside and saw her car's dome light on. She went outside and discovered the door partially open and her discs missing. The incident occurred between 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. that evening.

and D junior bands participated in the first annual district band festival held at Chelsea High school.

Support generated by a caravan of more than 100 cars that traveled to Saline wasn't enough as red-hot Hornet team defeated the Bulldogs, 65-48. The victory made Saline champions of the Washtenaw Conference.

Winter wasn't over yet. The worst snowstorm of the season struck the area late last week. The village council commended public works crews who succeeded in keeping traffic moving through the heavy, wet snow that totalled more than a foot over two days.

More than 200 persons attended the annual Washtenaw county beef tour, and 300 turned out for the evening banquet.

Plans are going ahead for a community-sponsored minstrel show in April. Proceeds will benefit a public service project which has not yet been decided upon.

Corn-Laced Foam Could Help Future Crops

By Sandy Miller Hays

Vegetable and flower seeds, started indoors, could get the water they need in a foam made from yesterday's corn crops.

U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists have found a way to use large amounts of corn by-products in a new water-absorbing foam. One of the foam's potential uses is as bedding material for sprouting seedlings indoors.

R. Leo Cunningham and colleagues have added up to 50 percent corn starch or corn flour to flexible polyurethane foam.

"These spongy foams absorb and retain water, so they are ideal for starting seedlings," said Cunningham, a chemist at the National Center for Agricultural Utilization Research, operated at Peoria, Ill., by USDA's Agricultural Research Service.

Peoria scientists also have experimented with cooking the corn by-products into a gel, then mixing up a polyurethane foam that's 16 percent gelled corn material. "Tests indicate the gel-mixed foams absorb water faster and drain better than regular polyurethane foams, but water retention was not as good," said Cunningham.

Cornstarch and corn flour might also be added to sponges, napkins, disposable diapers and similar products, he added. He and co-researchers are seeking a patent on the corn-laced, water-absorbing material.

No-Till Farming Gains In Popularity Each Year

Corn, soybeans and several other crops were established on more than 1.3 million acres of Michigan's farmland in 1993 without first plowing or otherwise preparing the land for planting, according to a recently released Soil Conservation Service survey.

The 293,263 acres, or 29 percent increase from 1992 to 1993, is the 16th consecutive year no-till farming has increased in Michigan.

There were approximately 20,000 acres of corn, 8,000 acres of soybeans, 4,250 acres of small grains, and 975 acres of hay planted in Washtenaw county using the no-till system in the 1993 growing season, a total of over 33,225 acres of no-till.

"The continuing growth of no-till is evidence that no-till is becoming the system of choice for farmers in the '90s," said Steve Olds, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service in Washtenaw county.

"Farmers are continuing to adopt no-till because they see the savings that are available with this practice—savings in tillage costs and savings in time," the conservationist added.

No-till is a planting method in which crops are planted through the residue left after the previous crop is harvested. Runoff and soil erosion are nearly eliminated when the no-till system is used. This assures the sustainability of crop (food) production and protects water quality.

"There was an increase of soybeans planted no-till, to 8,000 acres in 1993," reported Olds. He explained that many farmers who are first getting into no-till farming start with no-till soybeans. No-till soybeans are the easiest crop to establish in previous year's crop residue and the most profitable to grow using the no-till system.

Futurist Predicts Bright Future for Agricultural Industry

A futurist told farmers attending the American Farm Bureau Federation's 75th Annual Meeting in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., that they will not recognize the world as they know it today in the next century.

Dr. Lowell Catlett, an agriculture futurist and professor at New Mexico State University, attributed some of the advances that he foresees to "dual technologies," the sharing of secret military advances. "Over the years, this wonderful country has literally spent trillions of dollars on national defense," Catlett said. "Now we are going to open up those coffers and we are going to share that technology with you."

Virtual reality computer programs will change both the methods of farming and all life experiences in the future, according to Catlett. Today's farmers utilize global positioning satellite (GPS) technology to assist them in the applications of inputs, mapping fields and planting crops. Through a mix of virtual reality technology and GPS systems, Catlett said farmers who participate in AFBF's 150th annual meeting will run their farms from that meeting hall.

Catlett said urban populations will begin to long for the rural lifestyles their relatives once lived.

Potential Property Tax Exemption Hinges on March 1 Deadline Date

By the time voters are given the opportunity to decide the tax reform ballot proposal on March 15, many taxpayers may have already missed a critical tax exemption deadline, reports the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

March 1 is the last day to file Form T-1056, an Affidavit for Homestead Exemption, with your local tax assessor. The form allows taxpayers to obtain "homestead" status for their principal residence and avoid higher school property tax rates.

Taxpayers who fail to submit the form by the deadline could pay four times more in school property taxes. For example, a homeowner whose house is worth $200,000 would pay an additional $1,800 in 1994. The form may also apply to some local taxes.

Cagers in Title Race With Win at Milan

The Southeastern Conference race tightened up last Friday as the Chelsea Bulldog, Saline Hornets, and Tecumseh Indians found themselves in what amounts to a three-way tie for the top spot with two losses each.

After a tight game early, the Bulldogs pulled away from the Milan Big Reds to win 86-65 on the road. But the big game of the night was in Tecumseh, where the Indians knocked the Hornets down a rung on the league ladder with a one-point win, 56-55.

That could set up a re-match with the Indians for first place late this month. If Saline loses—possible but unlikely—along the way, the Chelsea-Tecumseh game could be for the outright title. It's more likely to decide a co-champion.

"It was one of those games when we got the ball out and we were shooting well," Chelsea coach Robin Raymond said about Friday's game.

"We got a lot of easy shots off the break. Our pressure away from the basket was good."

Although the game was closer than the first time the teams met, the Bulldogs had few problems handling the Big Reds after the first few minutes. Senior center Rob Davis was more active inside than he has been all year and he finished with a season-high 24 points and tie for the team lead in rebounds with eight. Eleven Bulldogs scored as the team had a season-high 75 shots and 52-37 rebound advantage.

Point guards Cory and Chad Brown combined for most of the team's 19 assists and they had one turnover between them. As a team, Chelsea had 11 turnovers, "a good number for that kind of game," Raymond said.

The most glaring weakness for Chelsea was at the free throw line, where they made 17 of 30 shots.

Dave Bogan led the Big Reds with 19 points, 14 in the second half as Raymond used his bench.

"We didn't let them have many runs to get back in the game," Raymond said.

Seniors Pat Steele and Colby Skelton also scored in double figures with 19 and 13 points, respectively. Cory Brown had eight points, Bryndon Skelton seven, David Stimpson six, Chad Brown, Nick Brink, Dan Wehrwein and Case McCalla had two each, and Scott Colvin had one point and seven rebounds. Steele tied Davis with eight rebounds.

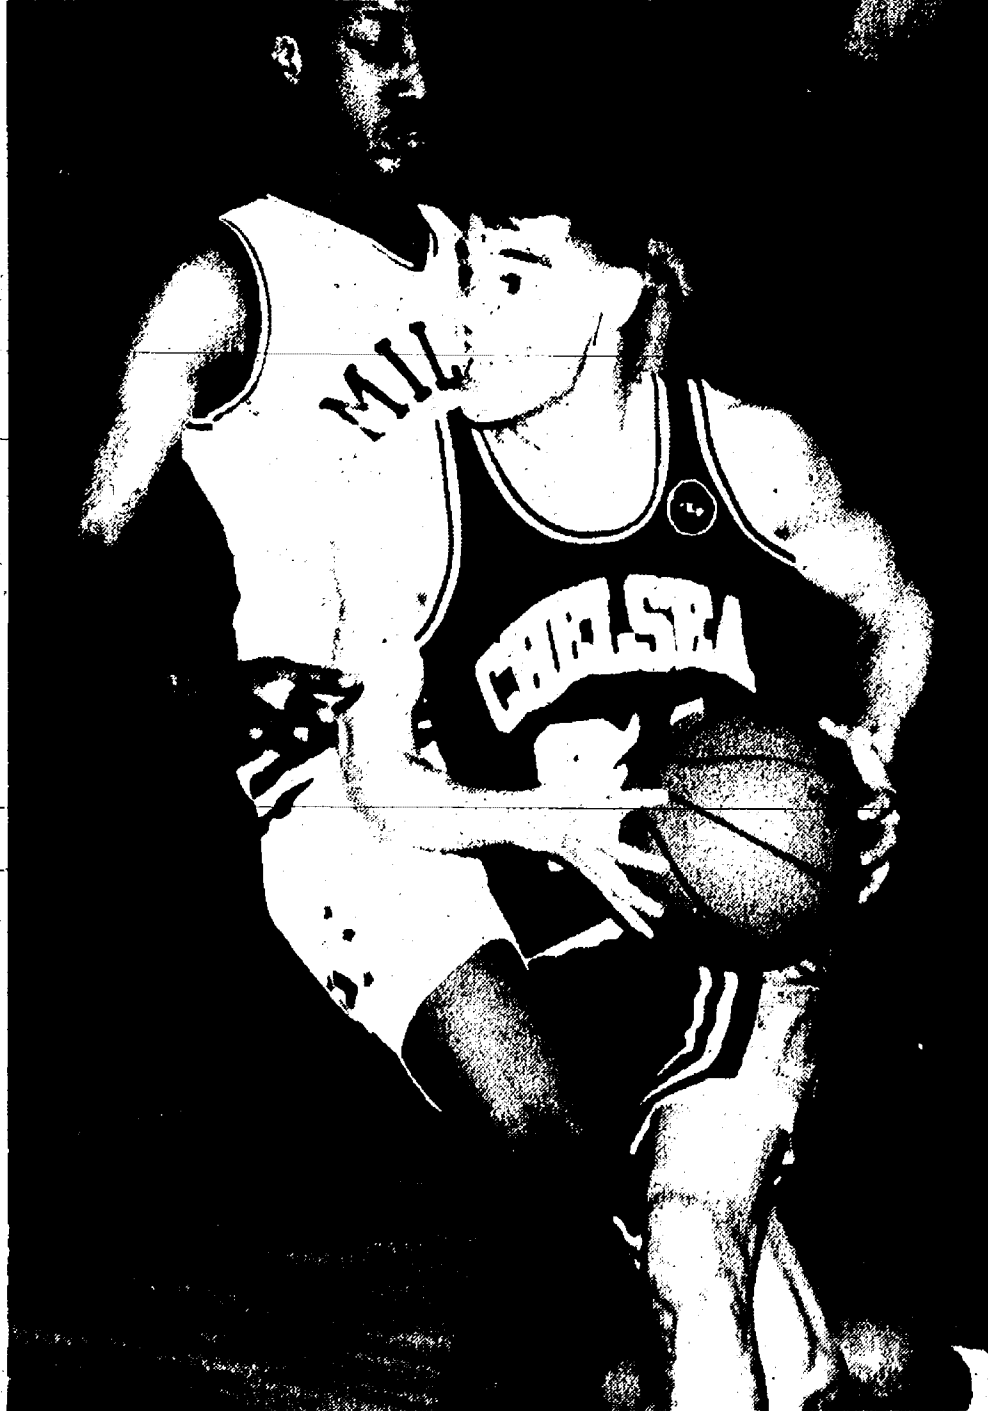

Chelsea shot 43 percent from the field to Milan's 44 percent.

In a non-conference game at Stockbridge on Tuesday, the Bulldogs handled the Panthers, 80-69, after trailing 36-28 at half-time.

Raymond said the Bulldogs struggled with a Stockbridge zone defense in the first half but made the adjustments. Stockbridge put 6-5 Tom Clark at the point. Clark, still recovering from an injury last year, couldn't handle the speed of Brown and Brown.

"We played about as well as we can play in the second half," Raymond said.

"We couldn't penetrate at all in the first half but at half-time we talked about penetrating off the dribble. We came out in the second half and it was completely different." The Bulldogs scored a season-best 52 points in the second half, including 30 in the third quarter, led by Colby Skelton's 23 points on the night.

Clark was high for Stockbridge with 26 points.

"He's a good player, but he would be a dominant player if he were healthy," Raymond said.

Steele scored 16 points, Davis 10, Cory Brown and McCalla nine each, Chad Brown six, Colvin five, and Brink two.

Chelsea was 31-66 from the field (47 percent) and 17-19 from the line (89 percent), while Stockbridge shot 44 and 57 per cent, respectively.

Chelsea rebound leaders were Davis with nine, Steele eight, and McCalla seven.

The Bulldogs are 11-2 over-all and 6-2 in the league. They were scheduled to host the Lincoln Railspitters last night. They have a non-conference game Friday at Brooklyn Columbia Central.

JV Cagers Nearly Get First Victory

Chelsea Bulldogs junior varsity basketball team lost to the Milan Big Reds last Friday, 59-57, after a frantic comeback in the final minute fell short.

The statistics were just about even except at the free throw line. The Big Reds were 21-32 while Chelsea was 5-18.

"We had our opportunities at the line," said Chelsea coach Dave Quilter.

Sam Morseau, who hit a key three-pointer down the stretch, led Chelsea with 20 points. Other scorers were Jamie Courdway 8, Kevin Cross 7, Dan Johnson 3, Mark Hand 2, and Kevin Holmes 2.

Morseau and Cross had eight and seven rebounds, respectively.

The Bulldogs had a much rougher time at Stockbridge on Tuesday, suffering a 77-37 loss.

"There was not a single aspect of the game that we did well," Quilter said.

"What is hard to take is turning the ball over as much as we did. We've been hurt all year by turnovers."

Chelsea had 32 turnovers. The Bulldogs shot 30 percent from the field and 47 percent from the line, while the Panthers hit 49 percent and 70 percent.

Jeff Sarna paced the Dogs with 12 points, Johnson, Cross, and Holmes had five each, Shawn Miller and Hand had four each, and Damon McLaughlin had two.

The Bulldogs are 0-13 over-all and 0-8 in the Southeastern Conference.

Wrestlers Whip Tecumseh But Defeated by Dexter

Chelsea Bulldogs wrestlers whipped Tecumseh Indians last Thursday but lost to the Dexter Dreadnaughts on Tuesday as they moved to 3-1 in the Southeastern Conference.

Chelsea coach Kerry Kargel said he was impressed with his team's performance at Tecumseh in a 48-18 win after a sluggish effort at home Tuesday against the league-leading Dreadnaughts.

"The kids came out fired up against Tecumseh," Kargel said.

"I thought it might be a close match, but it wasn't."

Zac Ersten at 103 pounds gave the Bulldogs an early lift with a major decision, 13-4, over Will Bishop. Teammate Ray Hatch pinned Greg Stoddard in 1:11 at 112 pounds, and Chelsea's Dan Alber folded over with a pin of Joe Johnston in 1:12 at 119 pounds. That put the Bulldogs up 17-0.

At 126 pounds, Chelsea's Glenn Wright was pinned by Zac Stuckey in 1:31. Bulldog Ben O'Connor was pinned by Zac Van Sickle in 3:29 at 130 pounds.

Ryan Ludwig of Chelsea won a 4-1 decision over Matt Baker at 135 pounds, and teammate Mike Alber kept the pressure on with a pin of Ryan Miller in 1:36 at 140 pounds.

At 145 pounds, Chelsea's Jamie Holzhausen was pinned by Scot Stafford in 3:20. Mike Thayer of Chelsea followed with a pin of T. J. Hunt in 1:48 at 152 pounds.

John Bobo won by forfeit at 160 pounds.

Chelsea's Paul Taylor pinned Greg English in :45 at 171 pounds, followed by teammate Jordan Dyer's 14-3 major decision over Ben Malloy.

Tom Barkman of Chelsea was pinned by Jason Mensing in :44.

"If I had to pick a wrestler of the night it would have been Zac Ersten," Kargel said.

"He wrestled extremely well against a kid who has been around and has placed in tournaments."

The Bulldogs, who lost 40-18 to Dexter, might have had a closer match with the Dreadnaughts, Kargel said.

"They hit us where we thought they'd hit us, but there were a couple of close matches that could have gone either way," Kargel said.

"I thought we wrestled a little sluggish. We were not crisp."

Hwy: Tom Barkman (C) was pinned by Jacob Even, :43.

Saturday the Bulldogs hosted the Chelsea Quad as Belleville, Jackson Lumen Christi, and Manchester came to town. And all beat the Bulldogs in close matches.

"We wrestled really flat," Kargel said.

"Our kids seem to wrestle better in someone else's gym. However, I saw some good things out there."

Chelsea lost to Belleville, 39-27; Lumen Christi, 32-31, and Manchester, 34-30.

ROB DAVIS drives for two of his team-high 24 points against the Milan Big Reds last Friday. With the win, the Bulldogs find themselves in a virtual three-way tie in the league with Saline and Tecumseh.

SCOTT COLVIN of Chelsea splits two Milan Big Reds on his drive toward the basket.

Chelsea Bulldogs lost a close meet to the Milan Big Reds, the state's number one ranked team, last Friday night, 104-82.

"Milan proved they deserved the number one ranking," said Chelsea coach Dave Jolly.

Also last week, Chelsea beat Haslett, 117-52, and Pinckney, 110-78. The Milan meet was the focus of the week, and many state qualifying times were set, Jolly said.

Chelsea began the Milan meet with second and third-place finishes in the 200 medley relay. Matt McVittie, Kevin Kolodica, Matt Fischer, and David Brock combined for a 1:44.65, while Steve Straub, Peter Straub, Aaron Heaven, and Jim Bergman recorded a 1:49.46.

Justin Roush had his best meet of the year, Jolly said. Roush was third in the 200 freestyle in 1:56.40. Brock was fourth in 1:58.88.

McVittie gave the Bulldogs their first victory with a time of 2:01.30 in the 200 individual medley. The time ranks him first in the state in class B-C-D. Steve Straub qualified for the state meet with his season-best time of 2:10.97.

Kolodica was third in the 50 freestyle in :24.13, while Peter Straub was fifth at :24.85.

Matt Fischer continued his dominance of the 100 butterfly with a time of :56.73. Heaven had his best time of the season at 1:02.49. Chris Grossman was fifth at 1:03.88.

In the 400 freestyle relay, Chris Frayer, Grossman, Broshar, and Hack combined for first place.

Matt Adams dropped two seconds in the 200 freestyle from the preliminaries to the finals, Kim Grossman dropped a second in the 100 freestyle, and Sarah Broshar dropped three seconds in the 100 breaststroke, all of which helped cushion our lead over Dexter. Chris Frayer had an outstanding day, as did Matt Kolodica, and, of course, seventh grader Josh Hack, who was a double winner individually."

Sheriff's Community Relations Board Elects Officers for '94

At the meeting of the Sheriff's Community Relations Advisory Board, which was held Jan. 20, the board elected its 1994 officers and established its meeting schedule for the year. Elected as chair is Albert Cruickshank of Ann Arbor; 1st vice-chair is Ms. Suzanne Shaw of Ypsilanti; and the Rev. Nathaniel Ligons of Ypsilanti, is 2nd vice-chair.

The Sheriff's Community Relations Advisory Board was established by Sheriff Ronald J. Schebil on May 1, 1991, in an effort to enhance community relations and provide the best possible law enforcement services to the citizens of Washtenaw county. Along with Sheriff Schebil, the board consists of 12 members, including two Washtenaw county commissioners, Michael DuRussel and Richard DeLong.

The board will meet every fourth Thursday of every other month,

All meetings are held at 5:30 p.m. in the Administration conference room of the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department, at 2201 Hogback Rd., Ann Arbor.

Sheriff Schebil encourages Washtenaw county residents to contact any of the board members to share their concerns and/or comments regarding law enforcement issues.

If any member of the community wishes to address the board at one of the regularly scheduled meetings, they should contact the chair, Albert Cruickshank at 996-4986, or the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department, at 971-4978, to be placed on the agenda.

Chelsea Village Council Proceedings

Regular Meeting Tuesday, January 11, 1994
The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Steele.
Present: President Steele, Clerk Morrison, Village Manager Myers, Assistant Village Manager Pindzia.

Trustees Present: Hammer, Dorer, Rigg, Daut, Merkel, Cashman.
Other Present: D. Bulson, K. Kleitsch, A. Thompson, C. Clouse, B. Shepherd, R. Burg, H. Thurkow, S. Dawdy, S. Allen, P. Simon, L. Simon, W. VanRiper, D. Rosentreter, B. Hamilton, M. Wonderly, P. Flintoft, A. Robinowitz, L. Poley, D. McLaughlin.

The first order of business was public participation and Mr. Jim Machnik requested that the minutes indicate that President Steele had denied Mr. Machnik's request to video tape the meeting for Channel 22.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Hammer, to approve the Consent Agenda. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Lenard McDougall, Police Chief, submitted his monthly report for December 1993.

Paul Hankerd, Fire Chief, submitted his monthly report for December 1993. President Steele, on behalf of the Village and the Village Council, presented Police Chief McDougall and the Police Staff a Certificate of Appreciation for outstanding professional service to the community in times of crisis.

Assistant Village Manager Pindzia reported that the engineering activities for the Gene Drive issue were substantially completed. Initial cost estimates have been revised. He feels the Village Council's Gene Drive Committee needs to review the estimates and drawing and then discuss the resulting facts with the resident members of the Gene Drive Committee.

Trustee Dorer agreed with Assistant Village Manager Pindzia and he felt the Gene Drive Committee would be getting together in the next three weeks or so.

Mr. Harry Thurkow requested that the meeting be held sooner. Trustee Dorer and President Steele indicated that it would not be possible to meet sooner. Mr. Scott Allen, Gene Drive resident, asked President Steele if the Gene Drive issue was a goal of the President's in 1994. He asked President Steele and the Council whether they felt they were bargaining in good faith when, in fact, the Council had failed to tell the Gene Drive residents the Village would not be performing snow removal activities as per a previous conversation. Mr. Allen also questioned why brush had not been picked up. President Steele indicated that the brush should have been removed.

Mr. & Mrs. Paul Simon, Gene Drive residents for 22 years, questioned the length of time when requesting action over the last 22 years from the Council and President Steele's quick resolution to brush removal indicated above.

Trustee Merkel requested information from the Gene Drive residents in attendance regarding initial promises made to them. He mentioned that currently if an area is not up to specification, it is the homeowner/builder associations that are responsible. Trustee Merkel also suggested that the Gene Drive Committee meet with Mr. & Mrs. Robert Robbins, homeowners that purchased from the original property owners.

Mr. Al Thompson, Gene Drive property owner, addressed the Council regarding the impact of property line changes that are being discussed as part of Chelsea becoming a City. President Steele informed Mr. Thompson that there are currently no drawings.

Mr. Jim Machnik explained that his father felt he had an agreement with the Village regarding sewer, water, and streets, and he feels that the Village has never held up its end of the agreement. Additionally, Mr. Machnik mentioned that Taylor Lane was handled completely differently than Gene Drive and he felt the Council should resolve this conflict in a similar manner.

President Steele asked that Mr. Machnik limit the rest of his comments to a two minute time frame. Mr. Machnik felt that many of the other property owners had ample time to state their problems and he requested that the minutes indicate that he disputed the amount of time that was allocated to him. Mr. Lincoln Poley presented the space use study final report performed on the Village offices. Mr. Poley entertained questions. President Steele indicated that there would be copies of the report available, in the Village office, for residents review and that the Council would slot time during the next meeting to answer questions.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Merkel, to accept the space use study final report. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Merkel, supported by Daut, to accept the South School Traffic Study. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Daut, supported by Hammer, to accept Risk Management Authority's quote for liability insurance based on pro-rated fees plus an additional year. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Village Manager Myers reported that he had met with members of the Downtown Development Committee and they felt that the Committee would have enough funds if the 2% sales tax is approved and they do not receive TIFA funds from the schools.

The Village Council discussed the request from Mr. David McLaughlin regarding a sewer extension request: The Council directed Village Manager Myers to research the costs of condemnation, required easement from center needed, the cost of sewer line on the east side of McKinley Street, and the location of the Walz north property line.

The Village Council requested that Mr. Peter Flintoft, Village Attorney, contact Mr. Walz on behalf of the Council regarding this matter.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Rigg, to table the McKinley Street sewer extension request made by Mr. David McLaughlin. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to set a public hearing for Hatch Stamping for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate request on January 25, 1994, during the regularly scheduled meeting. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to approve a Resolution Declaring Intent to Proceed with Transfer Station Financing and to Reimburse for Expenditures and Authorizing Filing with Treasury. Roll Call Vote. Ayes: Cashman, Hammer, Daut, Dorer, Steele. Nays: Rigg, Merkel. Motion carried. (Resolution Attached as Appendix A).

Information from Mr. Rubbish on transfer station alternatives was presented by Mr. Steve Dawdy. Trustee Cashman asked for a comparison of all inclusive costs in order for the Council to make a more informed decision.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to authorize McNamee, Porter and Seeley to review/update the Village's sanitary sewer master plan and the economics of the proposed sewer connection on the south of Old US-12 and west of Freer Road and the resulting costs of the plan will be placed into a Special Assessment District Fund. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Dorer, supported by Merkel, to move the March 22, 1994 meeting to March 29, 1994. All Ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by Hammer, supported by Dorer, to adjourn regular session. All Ayes. Motion carried. Meeting Adjourned — Time: 9:55 p.m.

Girl Scouts Will Observe Thinking Day World-Wide

Most people think of Girl-Scouting as something that happens next door or right around the corner, because that is where the Girl Scouts we know hold their weekly meetings. But one day a year, on Feb. 22, Girl Scouts in every troop, in every town, in every state of the U.S.A., pay homage to the international character of Girl-Scouting. That one day is called "Thinking Day." On this occasion Girl Scouts think beyond their own local communities to other countries where Girl Scouts and Girl Guides share a sisterhood of love and friendship.

But Thinking Day has its active side. The more than three million Girl Scouts nation-wide make contributions to a Thinking Day Fund, which helps to create global understanding. The fund gives girls a chance to participate in international experiences and helps other members of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (WAGGGS) to extend and strengthen the movement around the world.

International beneficiaries of this fund have included Honduras, where there was need to help develop a campsite; Panama, where the fund purchased handbooks; and Madagascar, where the local project was building a school canteen.

Now, with all the political changes in Eastern Europe, this international organization of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides will be giving support to help reestablish the movement in Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary.

On Thinking Day Girl Scouts will learn more, not only about world geography, but about the values and outlooks of people who live half a world away.

Juliette Gordon Low, the founder of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., was a citizen of the world. She had an on-going vision of the international sisterhood that is represented by WAGGGS. Therefore, it is very suitable that, in the United States, contributions to the Thinking Day Fund are given through the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund.

Experts Will Discuss Farm Outlook for 90's

"Farming in the 90's: Keeping A Step Ahead," a meeting for farmers, co-sponsored by the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District and Washtenaw County MSU Extension will be held Thursday, March 3, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds, Ann Arbor-Saline Rd., Ann Arbor. Reservations are needed to attend the meeting.

"New legislation, environmental concerns and new methods of crop nutrient management are just some of the many issues farmers must be aware of to farm successfully today. This meeting will give farmers a chance to hear about these issues and get some insight into where farming is going in the 90's," said Steve Solowczuk, Soil Conservation District chairman.

According to Bill Ames, MSU extension agriculture agent, the meeting agenda includes a presentation by Jim LeCureux, extension agriculture agent from Huron county, on what is happening in the Saginaw Bay area through the Saginaw Bay National Watershed Initiative. Total nutrient management, soil and nitrogen testing, water quality and agronomics—a combination of economics, agronomics and the environment, are a few of the topics to be discussed.

Dr. Howard Person, extension agriculture engineer from Michigan State University, will discuss managing organic resources—manure, composting, sludge and septage. "He will help farmers understand where we are now and where we are going in the future," said Ames.

Cost for "Farming in the 90's: Keeping A Step Ahead" is $5 which covers lunch and program handouts. The reservation deadline is Feb. 22. To obtain a reservation form and for more information, contact either the Soil Conservation District, phone (313) 761-6721 or MSU Extension, phone (313) 971-0079.

How Are We Doing? Please Let Us Know

By Sheriff Ronald J. Schebil

At the Sheriff Department we use many methods to measure our performance, both quantitatively and qualitatively. On the quantitative side, we study the number of police runs handled per deputy, reports written, arrests made, public relations contacts made, etc. The intent here is to assess the efficiency and effectiveness of our performance.

With less emphasis on pure statistics, we meet regularly with neighborhood watch, our contracting municipalities, other criminal justice agencies, public officials, and groups or individuals in other service areas such as domestic violence and fire safety. The emphasis of these contacts is qualitative. They provide us with the feedback we need to assure that we are meeting the most important needs of those we serve as we carry out our statutory and contractual duties.

One of the most important ways we evaluate and improve our performance is through contact with you, our citizenry. In general, we have three methods of receiving feedback from the public. The first is through surveys that we periodically mail to citizens who have called upon the Sheriff's Department for assistance. We ask survey recipients to rate our response time, professionalism, appearance, courtesy and performance. When we detect a problem via the surveys, we try to correct it.

The second method of receiving feedback is through the Sheriff's Community Relations Advisory Board (SCRAB). This group is comprised of citizens from throughout Washtenaw county and serves as an advisory body and as a conduit of information between the Sheriff Department and the community. For example, a citizen who is uncomfortable bringing an issue directly to the department may contact a member of the SCRAB for assistance in expressing his or her concerns.

The third and most common method of citizen evaluation is direct contact from a citizen (or family member or friend). We often receive letters of praise thanking a deputy or group of deputies for a job well done on a case, for helping a stranded motorist or for visiting a church, school or other community group. We appreciate receiving these letters and it reminds us that our employers, the members of the public, do care about how we do our jobs.

Unfortunately, we occasionally make mistakes and we receive direct feedback then, as well. Citizens dissatisfied with our service or the manner in which we conduct our services can call a supervisor, write to me, or visit one of the stations to file what we refer to as Service Complaints.

Service Complaints generally fall into two categories. First, a policy or operating procedure of the Sheriff's Department or Washtenaw Central Dispatch may be objectionable to an individual who contacts us to express his or her dissatisfaction. Second, a citizen may have a problem with the way he or she was treated by an employee, or with the way the employee handled a request for service.

In the first instance, we will evaluate the policy or practice in light of the complaint. Our intention is to determine if a change in policy or more clarification for our employees is how to properly implement a policy or department practice is required. Often, we find that a better explanation of our practice and the rationale behind it is sufficient to alleviate a citizen's concerns. Other times, we determine that a policy or practice requires change, and we do so.

In the second instance, a complaint about an employee, we will conduct an inquiry to determine exactly what happened and whether the employee acted properly. In many cases, we discover a misunderstanding that is cleared up after both the complaining citizen and the employee are consulted.

Unfortunately, people sometimes complain about a deputy in order to avoid paying a ticket or answering to a criminal charge. When this happens, we immediately separate the issues so that one case is not used as leverage to affect the status or outcome of the other.

Other times, we find that an employee has made a mistake or has acted improperly. In these instances, we apologize and take corrective action which may require a policy change, additional training and occasionally, discipline.

In all instances our primary purpose is to provide the best in public safety services. If you have a compliment, a complaint or a suggestion to better your Sheriff Department please let me know. As our purpose is to serve you, your input is essential to assure that we are fulfilling our mission: "To provide leadership to our community to prevent unlawful activity, ensure individual rights, and promote a safe and secure environment."

Special Points of Contact at the Sheriff's Department include: Sheriff Ron Schebil, 971-7054; Law Enforcement Commander Mark Ptaszek, 971-4978; Jail Commander Marvin P. Wusthoff, 971-4978.

Michigan Natural Resources Magazine Back on Newsstands

Michigan Natural Resources Magazine, Michigan's largest-circulation outdoor publication, is returning to newsstands throughout the state beginning with the March/April issue.

Along with special articles such as "Blue Ribbon Trout Streams" and "The Art of the Long Rod," this issue will feature the last manuscript by Robert Traver entitled "Tales My Trout-Lings Taught Me." Traver is the name of deceased Michigan Supreme Court Justice John D. Voelker who also was a renowned angler and skilled fly fisherman. His first literary success was the novel, "Anatomy of a Murder."

Published by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the magazine was privatized in June 1993. Newsstand sales were suspended in 1991 as the magazine struggled to comply with a legislative mandate to be completely self-supporting.

"We are pleased with the magazine's smooth transition to the private sector," DNR Director Roland Harmes said. "Returning to the newsstands will continue to expand the magazine's readership and will increase public awareness of DNR programs and appreciation for the unique natural resources for which this state is known."

Since becoming publisher of Michigan Natural Resources Magazine last summer, Kolka & Robb, Inc., a women-owned publishing company in Bingham Farms, has increased circulation from 85,000 to 115,000.

"The readers have been very responsive to the new, updated look we've given the magazine in our first four issues," publisher Vicki Robb said. "Putting the magazine back out on the newsstands will allow us to showcase Michigan Natural Resources Magazine to a wider audience."

To the Chelsea Community;

January, February and March have traditionally been the months for the Chelsea Education Foundation's Annual Fundraising Campaign. These efforts have been delayed in respect for Joe Piasecki and his family. As you may be aware, Joe was a driving force behind the formation of the Foundation and an enthusiastic supporter of its purposes and ideals. In order to pursue Joe's visions for the Foundation, our fundraising campaign must continue. We feel that Joe would not want it any other way.

All funds designated in memory of Joe Piasecki have been kept separate and will be used specifically in his memory. All funds received not so designated will help support the numerous educational programs the Foundation has been and will be sponsoring.

The Board of Directors of the Chelsea Education Foundation thank you for your consideration and understanding of this most sensitive situation.

The Chelsea Education Foundation

The Chelsea Education Foundation is a non-profit organization founded in 1990. The Foundation is dedicated to enriching the educational experiences available to all members of the Chelsea community. Friends and supporters organized the Foundation because of the importance of education to the future of our community. The Chelsea Education Foundation has funded and supported the development of programs such as:

WRAP: The Waterloo Recreation Area Program is a summer environmental education program for elementary school students. WRAP has included over 250 Chelsea area children since it began in 1990.

GIRLS IN SCIENCE: The Foundation, in cooperation with the University of Michigan Department of Aerospace Engineering, has sponsored the participation of almost 100 students in this hands-on science program.

COMMUNITY FORUMS: Beginning in 1993, the Foundation is sponsoring community forums on educational topics.

SCHOLARSHIPS: The foundation annually funds scholarships for a graduating senior and an adult returning to school.

MINI-GRANTS: Each year the Foundation funds small grants to local organizations to support educational programs and events. In the past grants have been given to the McKune Memorial Library, the Enrichment Triad program, and to sponsor students to attend the Presidential Inauguration.

The Foundation is interested in a wide range of educational projects, both in and outside of schools, that benefit the Chelsea community. The Foundation is supported solely by donations from the community. Your support is needed. The Foundation is a non-profit, 501(c)3 organization. All donations to the Chelsea Education Foundation are tax-deductible.

The decision on how to utilize the funds donated in memory of Joseph Piasecki will be announced at the Foundation's Fund-Raiser at the Common Grill February 28. An announcement will be in The Chelsea Standard on March 2, 1994.

CARD OF THANKS
Our heartfelt thanks to the relatives and friends who have shown their care

ways for our mother, sister prayers, visits, flowers and

"goodies" during the past few years have been great-thanks you for the many acts of kindness shown to us since her passing. We would especially thank Dr.

Krausse for her care, the Chelsea Retirement Com-

Child Passenger Safety Should Be Checked Out

Feb. 13 through 19 is Michigan Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week. Despite good intentions, too many parents and care providers continue to risk their children's lives every time they travel, according to Michigan State Safety Commission members. State Police records show that last year, 31 children ages 15 and under who were not wearing a safety belt or in a child safety seat, died in traffic crashes.

"Of first importance," said Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, and commission chair, "is that every child is properly buckled up, or in a correctly installed, approved child safety seat, whenever they travel—no matter how short the distance."

Under Michigan law:

- Babies less than one-year-old must be in a child safety seat, regardless of where seated.

- Children under age four in the front, must be in an approved child safety seat.

- Children up to age 16 in the back seat must wear a safety belt.

- Michigan law also requires that driver and front seat passengers be properly buckled up at all times.

Nationally, only 59 out of every 100 children is in a child safety seat during potentially fatal crashes, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). Of the 59 percent used, 20 percent are seriously misused with as many as 75 percent misused to some extent.

"This is a problem that needs to be corrected," states Colonel Michael D. Robinson, director of the Michigan State Police. "When correctly used, child safety seats are estimated to be 71 percent effective in preventing fatalities and 87 percent effective in reducing injuries requiring hospitalization."

During 1992, 61 children ages 1-15 were killed, with another 7,301 injured as a result of traffic crashes on Michigan roadways.

There are a number of "do's and don'ts" for parents and care providers.

- DO check that child safety seats are in good working condition.

- DO correctly anchor the seat in the vehicle.

- DO buckle children correctly in to the safety seat.

- DO contact the Auto Safety hotline number (1-800-424-9393) to check on safety seat recalls. Of the current recall efforts, less than 20 percent of the seats have been reported as corrected, far below the levels of automobile safety recalls.

DON'T purchase, use, safety seats. While they may be low-priced, new owners have no history about the seat. If it was previously involved in a crash, the safety seat integrity may be destroyed, and may not protect a child in a second, even low-speed, crash.

- DON'T use rear-facing infant safety seats in the front seat of cars equipped with an air bag on the passenger side. Rear-facing infant seats are positioned too close to the air bag, and in the event of deployment, the inflating air bag can strike the seat with a force powerful enough to seriously injure an infant.

- DON'T use infant carriers in place of a certified car seat. Infant carriers are not designed to protect a child in a crash, so note if the label on the seat says, "not for use as a car seat."

- DON'T place a belt harness behind the child's back or belt the child in the seat, but not the seat in the vehicle. These are invitations to disaster during even a low speed crash.

Most crashes still occur within 25 miles of home, and the majority of fatal crashes occur at speeds less than 45 miles per hour, based on University of Michigan Transportation Research Institute data.

"Living Proof" posters, showing State Police officers kneeling over a child survivor, still in her safety seat, are available at no charge from the Michigan Department of State, as well as brochures Safety Belts and Safety Seats for Young People. "Building Conditions for Community Success"

DERRICK OXENDER, who founded Victory Lane Oil Change with his wife, Jane, is co-owner of the Chelsea franchise with local resident Martin Merkel. The store opened this winter.

Victory Lane Oil Change Chain Opens 21st Store on Main St.

Derrick Oxender quit work as the manager of a Cottage Inn-Pizza store in 1979 to open the first Victory Lane Oil Change. The Chelsea Victory Lane, which opened last month, is the 21st store in the family-owned business.

A relative had seen a story in the Wall Street Journal about a new up-and-coming industry called the quick oil change business and showed it to Derrick. He had always loved working on his own cars, but wanted to own a restaurant.

Derrick decided to abandon the pizza business. He persuaded his wife, Jane, to walk away from her real estate job, calling it an opportunity to be their own boss. They bought an old building to set up shop.

Jane changed the fluids up top and Derrick got into the pit and drained the oil, changed the filter and lubricated the chassis. Jane was a novice in car repair, so for the first two weeks they changed the oil in her car every day to give her some practice.

"She learned pretty quick," Derrick says.

"The first year was real rough because we had to work out a good system. It took a while to get the system down."

They didn't have many filters at first, so they spent a lot of time running out to an auto parts store. However, by the end of the second month, they were doing 15 or more cars per day.

They began by buying cases of oil and eventually graduated to 55-gallon drums. Now, tanker trucks bring 1,000 gallons at a time.

If they couldn't service a customer's car, the customer received a coupon for a pizza from Derrick's old restaurant.

A year-and-a-half later Derrick and Jane opened their second store in Brighton. Derrick was the operator, and Jane stayed at the original store. Within four years they opened their third store in Plymouth, and they hired their first manager.

Of the 21 stores, seven are company-owned and 14 are franchises. The Chelsea store is a franchise Derrick purchased with Chelsea resident Martin Merkel, who owned the land where the business sits, opposite Pierce Park on Main St. Most of the stores are in southeastern Michigan.

Franchises are sold to owner-operators, not pure investors. Derrick is the owner-operator here.

The stores are equipped to work on all cars, including exotic ones like Ferraris. The system and equipment have been substantially upgraded since the early days, and most customers can be out in about 10 minutes.

Derrick wanted to open a store here three years ago but a demographic study conducted by an oil company advised against it. However, a study by the same company two years later gave it the go-ahead.

"They couldn't believe the change here in just two years," Derrick says. Derrick says the Chelsea store cost about $30,000 more than any other store in the chain. The village required a hip roof rather than the standard flat roof, as well as plenty of landscaping (15-20 oak and maple trees will be installed this spring), and a stormwater retention pond.

New EPA requirements also specified a more elaborate oil containment system that will be able to keep an oil spill on site from spreading. The six employees, all local men, had to be trained in how to handle a spill.

The Oxenders have turned down several offers from Mobil Oil Co. and Valvoline to buy the entire business. They could retire without a financial worry.

However, Derrick says they love what they are doing and want to continue. Jane has given up oil under her fingernails for a job at the home office, where she handles most of the promotions and advertising.

Added Expense Halts Two-Tier Bus System

A computerized study of the Chelsea School District bus system has shown that it will cost more money to switch to a two-tier system.

The district was considering a two-tier system (two runs each morning and afternoon) to save money, shorten the length of bus runs, and keep secondary and elementary students on different buses. The latter two have prompted complaints from some parents. In addition, some parents don't want their young children outside early in the morning in the winter waiting for buses. Elementary kids would be picked up later.

The study was made on the premise that no bus run would last more than an hour and that all students eligible to ride the bus would be riding. The time constraint is what made the change too costly, according to Dr. Henry DeYoung, who is overseeing district transportation in the wake of temporary administrative reorganization.

The district makes 22 bus runs each morning and afternoon. In order to hold the runs to an hour, the district would need about 17 to 19 runs in each tier, or 34 to 38 runs each morning and afternoon.

"We just can't afford to do that," DeYoung said.

In addition, elementary and secondary starting times would have to be about 75 minutes apart.

The major problem is the district encompasses about 125 square miles, DeYoung said.

DeYoung said the only way to save money would be to lengthen routes dramatically or eliminate the afternoon kindergarten run and have all-day kindergarten.

"I don't think we're prepared to do that," DeYoung said.

The district plans to improve the current system by shortening a few of the runs and lengthening some of the shortest ones, DeYoung said. The goal will be to have no runs more than an hour long.

DON'T BUY YOUR NEXT CHAIN SAW WHERE YOU BOUGHT YOUR LAST TOASTER.

A big advantage of buying a chain saw from a Stihl dealer instead of a discount store is the information that you can get.

Because, although most chain saws look alike, they're not. We can show you why. And show you our Stihl 009 and 021 chain saws that are designed and priced for homeowners.

So if you're looking for a toaster, don't come to Stihl. But if you're looking for a chain saw, don't go anywhere else.
